Road woes spur county audit

Canton will soon find out if it has received its fair share of road funds from the county. Due to constant complaints and new regulations, the state will audit the Wayne County Road Department.

BY VALERIE OLANDER
STAFF WRITER

Repeated complaints from Canton Township over the lack of road maintenance has resulted in a state performance audit of the Wayne County Road Department.

The Michigan auditor general will determine if Canton and other Wayne County communities have been getting their fair share of transportation dollars. Revenue from the state gas and weight tax is allotted to counties, which in turn make the decision on what projects will get funded.

Canton claims it hasn't received any county funding since Beck Road was repaved in two phases from Ford Road to Joy and that was several years ago, according to township engineer Tom Casari.

Two projects expected to be on the county's priority list include Canton Center from Cherry Hill to Ford and Morton Taylor. Both projects were expected to begin this year, but have been pushed back to 1998. Supervisor Tom Yack said the more the township complains about the county, the less funding it receives.

The performance audit came at the request of Senator Loren Bennett (R-Canton Township). It will focus on the $55 million the state allotted to Wayne County in 1995 for road projects. Bennett wants to know exactly how the county divvied up those funds.

"We're going to follow the money and find out where it went. And not all of it went to roads, some of it gets siphoned off," said Bennett. "I know some of it gets skimmed off for administrative functions. In a report I saw recently... it had an overhead of 24 percent. Some of it goes to the sheriff's department and county executive's office."

Over the past three months, Canton Township has requested — four times — similar information regarding the county's dispersement of

Soccer team monopolizes game

Canton Crossfire, an under 11 soccer team, has been busy selling real estate to monopolize on a fund-raiser that will help with equipment and tournament fees.

The "properties" sold by the soccer team are advertising squares for a board game similar to Parker Brothers' Monopoly. Instead of Park Place and Boardwalk, local businesses such as Misty Duck and Canton Center Market will be featured on the game.

"The kids start fund-raisers for school on Tuesday, selling wrapping paper and Sanders. This is something different," said parent Laurie Maltby.

The center of the board will feature various historic landmarks in the township. Canton's Historical Society is providing the sketches. In addition, the first 300 games sold will be personalized with family names printed on the board. The Game of Canton will sell for $20.

As of last week there were only five squares that had yet to be sold to advertisers. The white squares

Students walk out, contract talks continue

BY M.B. DILLON

Despite a student walk-out at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park Friday and impassioned pleas from 34 teachers, students and parents at Tuesday's board of education meeting, little progress was realized in the effort to reach agreement on a teachers' contract last week.

Negotiators for teachers and the board were scheduled to resume bargaining at 2:30 p.m. today, Monday, Sept. 30. A state mediator was expected to be present.

While the state has issued a fact finder for the district, the teachers' union does not consider bargaining to be at an impasse, said Plymouth-Canton Education Association President Chuck Portelli.

Tom Cotner, chief negotiator for the teachers, has requested that the district go to binding arbitration, as it has done in past labor disputes.

However Errol Goldman, assistant superintendent for employee relations and the district's chief negotiator, contends that fact-finding is called for under Public Act 112, the new law governing bargaining for teachers.

Several hundred students took part in a walk-out five minutes into fifth hour Friday afternoon, holding a rally on the Canton High School

Speed limit brings county officials here

BY VALERIE OLANDER
STAFF WRITER

Attorney and former county commissioner Bryan Amann said not only speed, but lack of lighting make the road hazardous.

Wayne County officials will meet with residents demanding a lower speed limit on a residential stretch of Morton Taylor tonight at 7 p.m. in the Canton Township meeting hall.

An attorney representing the family of a 24-year-old bicyclist killed on the road also said the county may be liable for his death.

Residents living on Morton Taylor, between Ford and Saltz roads, want the speed limit reduced from 40 mph to 25 mph. The neighbors met with Canton Township officials three times since Sept. 9 when 24-year-old Jeff Franken was killed by a van driven by Eric Reoch, 17. Franken was bicycling north along the road shortly before 9:30 p.m.

Acting on the request of residents, Public Safety Director John Santomauro asked Wayne County to lower the speed limit. The county has jurisdiction over the road.

The township also obtained a legal opinion to see if it could regain some control over the road, but attorney C. Gerald Hemming of Hemming, Polaczyk and Cronin said the law is clear on the county having authority to maintain the road, its speed and traffic signalization.

The Michigan State Police would conduct an 85 percentile study, meaning they will record the speed of traffic and use 85 percent of those speeds to determine the safe speed. Other factors, such as lighting and the number of residences will be taken into account. The final decision will be made by the executive branch of Wayne County government.

The residents are familiar with the process since other requests have been made to lower the speed limit.

An attorney retained by the Franken family also is familiar with the process, since he was involved with the last request to lower the speed on Morton Taylor. Attorney and former county commissioner Bryan Amann said not only speed, but lack of lighting make the road hazardous.

Police have yet to complete their accident investigation. Charges also have not been brought against Reoch.

According to information Amann said he received from police, the Reoch was driving 36 mph. Howev

Over 100 seniors came to say goodbye to Pat Tanski

In the eyes of more than 100 senior citizens, Pat Tanski is going to be sorely missed at Canton's senior center at the Summit on the Park.

For nearly eight years, Tanski has helped in the planning and facilitating of numerous programs and trips as the center's assistant coordinator. She left the job last week to take a full-time receptionist position at a dentist office. Tanski's job was cut back to 20-hours per week due to township cut backs. She had been working 35 hours per week.

A party was held throughout the day on Wednesday in her honor. Seniors filtered in and out of the senior center, bringing baked goods, well wishes and lots of good memories.

"When I first considered myself to be a senior, and that was a few years ago, Pat was the first person I got to know when I walked in (the senior center). She let me know about the trips and all the different programs that were offered," said Mildred Bartle, vice president of the Canton Senior Singles.

football field.

A flier distributed by students urged "support for fellow students.

"See, it's against the law for the teachers to protest, but yet there ain't a damn thing in the law books that say that students can't," it read.

The hundreds of cheering students who packed the bleachers had their critics. "They think this is going to change something, but it's stupid," said one student, watching in the rain.

"I'm failing chemistry class now, because teachers aren't doing study sessions after school," said Sandy Kelly of Salem High School.

"They might cancel prom and homecoming," said Kris Huston, a Salem sophomore.

Erik Hautly of Canton High School said, "We think this is stupid and pointless. Teachers don't have to do any extracurricular things or write recommendations for college, because it's not in their contract."

A parent who declined to give her name said, "I think it's appalling that kids have to be involved in this. It's going to affect their lives, and we're talking about one of the highest-paid districts in the area. I think it's disgusting."

Teachers addressing the board Tuesday spoke of declining morale, numerous unfair work rule changes, and the high scores of Plymouth-Canton students on standardized tests.

Twenty-two-year teacher John Bulmer told board members, "You will be remembered as the board that presided over the destruction of a once fine and excellent school district. Please accept the offer from Tom Cotner and turn the matter over to binding arbitration."

Teacher Sarah Smith said, "You've let some of our greatest resources move on to other districts. This debilitating power play is an insult to your staff."

Ted Bohlen, a member of the district's finance subcommittee, was the last speaker Tuesday night, and the only one critical of teachers.

"There is a bigger world than just you," he said. "We have 160 districts in Michigan which have more revenue per pupil than Plymouth-Canton, and pay less on average per teacher.

"At the moment, we have a budget of $95.5 million. You remove salaries, benefits and utilities, and $8.8 million is left. That goes for everything else, including textbooks, services, equipment, and bus repair."

road funds under the Freedom of Information Act. In each request the county was unresponsive, either asking for an extension or not providing the correct information, said Yack.

"We can't get an accounting on our own... basically they're ignoring the public's right to know. The only conclusion I can come up with is that there's going to be something embarrassing in this," said Yack.

Russell Gronevelt, assistant county executive and director of public services, said the two Canton projects were pushed back to 1998 because the state cut its allotment to them.

"If an accounting is done, I think Canton will find it was fairly well funded," said Gronevelt. "That cry from Canton about it not getting its fair share is heard throughout every community in the county. There's not enough money to go around."

'There's been a lot of talk about raising the gas tax and I have said I won't under any circumstances vote in favor of it without positively saying that we're using the money we have appropriately.'

Loren Bennett
senator

He claims in 1995, Wayne County widened and paved 20 miles of Canton's primary roads, which is 41 percent of all its roads. Gronevelt also claims that the state audits the county annually under Act 51, which legislates the state's road funding.

However, Bennett said Act 51 requires the county to audit its own fund and then provide a copy to the state. The law also doesn't regulate against the shifting of road money from the Wayne County Road Department to various other county departments, he said.

"There's not enough restrictions on it. We have to know what's going on before we can put a fix on it," Bennett added.

In fact, the state can't perform an audit until the new budget year begins Oct. 1. Legislation dating back to the 1980s prohibited the auditing of counties' road funds, Bennett said. During the Legislature's budget approval this year a provision was added reauthorizing the state to audit the finances, he said.

More legislation is expected next week that would make the auditing of road funds by the state a requirement. It will be part of the Senate's reform package on roads. Adoption is expected Wednesday, Bennett said.

"There's been a lot of talk about raising the gas tax and I have said I won't under any circumstances vote in favor of it without positively saying that we're using the money we have appropriately," he said.

er, the van only had one working headlight, limiting the driver's vision of the bike's reflector to 280 feet. Both headlights would have extended the distance to more than 500 feet, he said. There also was a report that a car was heading south limiting the driver's vision from the glare of the headlights, he added. But Amann said it would have lit up the road. Franken was riding within six-feet of the right line, he said.

"In a letter Eric wrote to the family, he said he didn't see Jeff until after he got out of the van, although he said he saw the friend's reflector," Amann said.

Another bicyclist was with Franken when the accident occurred.

A lawsuit by the Franken family has yet to be filed in Wayne County Circuit Court. They have three years from the time of the accident to do so. The county has been put on notice of a potential claim from the Franken family, Amann said. The attorney said he doubts that the threat of a lawsuit would play a role in the county not changing the speed limit for fear of admitting responsibility.

"No subsequent or remedial actions can be used in a lawsuit, I can't go before a jury and say see they changed the speed limit," he said.

sell for $200. Those already sold are star squares, sold for $250 and corner squares, $350.

Maltby said some advertisers had fun with the idea, such as Century 21's Sherry Paszko (pronounced pass go), who wanted dibs on the starting square. Several merchants also agreed to sell the games in their store. The Game of Canton can be ordered by calling Maltby at 981-6182. It also will be available before Christmas at Cambridge Books, Family Vision and Classic Gold.

"Plymouth has a game and parents there have said that the kids will say as they're going down a street, "There's that store." They know it from playing the game," said Maltby.

"This may be for an individual team, but this is a Canton project," she added.

Canton Crossfire is in its first year of play in the Canton Soccer Club. The 18-member team already won the Romeo Peach-Fest B-Division title over Labor Day weekend.

Marie Gentz, secretary of the Senior Singles, and Helen McClue, Singles' treasurer, shared in Bartle's sentiments.

"She is very easy to talk to and she really did a lot for the singles club," said Gentz.

Tanski said she is having a hard time leaving her job after forming so many friendships over the years.

"She hates to leave and we're desperately sad to see her go," said Senior Center Coordinator Dianne Neihengen.

Rain hardly dampers excitement of Musicfest

So it rained a little.

Downtown Plymouth's last big seasonal event went out with a splash this weekend.

The Plymouth Music Celebration and ARTrageous were held Friday through Sunday in and around downtown Plymouth. The events featured a walk of 11 art galleries and music in Kellogg Park.

Plymouth Music Festival featured Blues in the Park on Friday with the Chisel Brothers with Thornetta Davis. Also, Robert Noll, Baked Potato, Mimi Harris and the Snakes and Mudpuppy.

On Saturday music programs for kids began at noon and the County Music Festival followed at 2:30 p.m. with Debi Samuels, Forbes Brothers, Hot Walker and Storm Rider. Also performance by the Christian group "the Chapels" featuring Plymouth Police Chief Bob Scoggins.

ARTrageous galleries included the Animation Station, Chameleon Gallery, Creative Framing and Gallery, Frameworks, Francis Jewelry, Gabriala's, Native West, Penniman Showcase and Wild Wings.

Special Olympic Torch Run touches heart of marathoner

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

A corrections officer at Plymouth Township's Western Wayne Correctional Facility, Ostrovich joined two dozen fellow employees in Thursday morning's 12th annual Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run. Escorted by Northville Township police officer Matt Mayes and Scott Correctional Facility's Lt. David Clifton, the runners and walkers headed east on Five Mile Road from Western Wayne toward Scott Correctional Facility shortly after 9 a.m.

Sgt. Steve Ostrovich coordinates and participates in the Law Enforcement Torch Run for Michigan Special Olympics because he has an idea of what life is like for a handicapped youngster.

"I have a real close friend who has a child with Downs' Syndrome, and I know a family with an autistic child. That's what makes me do this," said Ostrovich, a marathoner who's completed legs as long as 21 miles in past Torch Runs.

A corrections officer at Plymouth Township's Western Wayne Correctional Facility, Ostrovich joined two dozen fellow employees in Thursday morning's 12th annual Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run.

Escorted by Northville Township police officer Matt Mayes and Scott Correctional Facility's Lt. David Clifton, the runners and walkers headed east on Five Mile Road from Western Wayne toward Scott Correctional Facility shortly after 9 a.m.

Their three-and-a-half-mile route took them north on Beck past Scott to Our Lady of Providence Center where they ran a loop, to Six Mile Road and back.

The volunteers began collecting pledges last April. "Just over $2,000 was raised from Western Wayne; we're above last year," said Ostrovich.

Inmates contributed $500, and the prison's Adopt-a-Family organization matched it, he said.

Clifton estimated Scott's total at $5,000.

The runners and walkers carried a torch saluting the 20,000 Michigan residents with mental retardation and developmental disabilities who train and compete in 21 sports year-round through Special Olympics.

Created by the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation, Special Olympics gives athletes "continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy, and participate in the sharing of gifts, skills and friendships."

"The purpose of the Torch Run, however, is not only to raise funds and create public awareness for Michigan Special Olympics, but for members of law enforcement and correction agencies to build solid community relations," said Jennifer Trombley, of the Central Michigan University-based Special Olympics.

Sue Budlong, who works in personnel at Western Wayne, enters the Torch Run and raises funds for Special Olympics every year. "I'm lucky to have healthy children. I want to help those who aren't as lucky," said Budlong.

"It's a good cause, great exercise and a lot of fun," said her coworker, Heidi Hamilton.

Western Wayne Corrections Officer Carlos Horn ran for the third consecutive year. "I just do it, because I figure you never can give enough for children. I make sure I'm available with my time and money."

Lt. Ardell Garland, a staff trainer who's worked at Western Wayne for 24 years, is unable to run, but "my heart is here anyway." Garland helps out photographing the event because "to give a little time and money isn't going to hurt anyone. I feel we are long overdue to provide adequate treatment for underprivileged people."

Also, Garland said, "together as a group, we forget about some things that might be troubling us with the camaraderie that comes about when you're helping others."

Garland knows of what he speaks. Western Wayne has an active Adopt-a-Family program to help the less fortunate, and assists families during the holidays, donating food, clothing and even beds to the needy.

Clifton says he'd like to see the local Torch Run expand with the participation from local police departments and Torch Run sponsor Ameritech Cellular Services.

If Clifton gets his wish, the recruits will join the 2,000-plus runners, walkers, in-line skaters and cyclists who participate in Michigan's 3,000-mile Torch Run. One of the longest and most successful Torch Runs in the country, the state's event features hundreds of community runs, in addition to the non-stop 700-mile relay that starts in Copper Harbor in the Upper Peninsula and ends in Detroit.

Michigan's Law Enforcement Torch Run raises more than $300,000 every year.

Tickets on sale for annual 'Evening at the Summit'

Come celebrate Canton's heritage at the second annual "An Evening at the Summit" Saturday, Nov. 16, at the Summit on the Park community center.

Tickets for the event at 6:30 p.m. are now available at $45 per person, $80 per couple. The event promises an elegant evening of champagne and hors d'oeuvres, double-entree main course with salad and dessert, as well as a cash bar.

Proceeds from the extravaganza will support restoration projects of the Canton Historical District Commission and the Canton Historical Society.

"This evening will help preserve Canton's history," said Joan Palmer, Canton Historical Society president, co-chair of the 13-member committee which is planning the event.

The evening brings together the efforts of the historical society and the historic district commission. "The district commission's efforts are in preserving buildings and the society is preserving history," said David Artley, district commission member and committee co-chair.

The historic Bartlett-Travis house on Ridge Road, north of Cherry Hill, will benefit from the fundraising event. Proceeds also will help revitalize the Cherry Hill Historic District, said Canton Clerk Terry Bennett, a historic district commissioner.

The evening will be filled with music beginning with pianist Alden Schell during the reception and dinner, followed by a musical program performed by the "Desperate Measures," a 10-member a cappela choice and graduates of the University of Michigan.

As with last year, guests to "An Evening at the Summit" will be treated to Canton Project Art's annual Fine Arts Exhibit, which will also be at the Summit on the Park the same evening.

"We are hoping to sell 350 tickets again this year," said committee ticket chair Cindy Bastion. "Last year at the first event, 364 tickets were sold."

Tickets are available by calling Bastion, 981-5991.

'Somewhere In Time' classic airs on WSDP

On Wednesday, Oct. 2 at 11 a.m., WSDP will begin airing "Somewhere In Time," a show featuring an eclectic mix of Big Band music from the 1940s. The show is hosted by Tom Wilson, an attorney in Detroit, and Sarah Swanson, a 20 year old communications student at the University of Michigan.

Years ago Wilson used to be a "platter pusher" on Detroit Airwaves and has an incredible memory of the Big Band Era and an amazing collection of the music. Sarah Swanson began as an intern on the show and now has strong knowledge of the Big Band music.

"Somewhere in Time," not only has a large listening audience, but guests who regularly appear on the show. Some guests include Richard E. Osgood, the dean of Detroit Radio Personalities. Osgood started on WXYZ in Detroit in 1935 and now does research for the show. Ed McKenzie, who visits the show frequently was once a top D.J. in Detroit during the late 40s and 50s. Bill Kennedy, know as Mr. "Afternoon Movie" in Detroit for 27 years, shares his recollections of Hollywood and the movies of years gone by on the show.

Bill Keith, WSDP Station Manager, says "The show is great fun to listen to. You can tell Sarah and Tom really know their stuff and have funding it." WSDP hopes to continue "Somewhere in Time" in the new year and is looking for businesses to sponsor the show. For more information on "Somewhere in Time" or sponsorships, call (313) 416-7732.

AAUW forum spotlights higher ed candidates

BY TIM RICHARD,
STAFF WRITER

Holding down tuition is the biggest single issue facing the University of Michigan Board of Regents, Republican and Democratic candidates agree.

The four were generally cool to the idea of chartering a public school academy, as Central Michigan University has done. And most saw public interviews under the Open Meetings Act as an impediment to attracting presidential candidates.

They answered questions at a Sept. 26 forum sponsored by the Livonia branch of the American Association of University Women.

They were asked by moderator Yvonne Constas about the escalating cost of post-secondary education.

Mike Bishop (R), the most recent U-M graduate among the candidates: "The cost of tuition is the No. 1 issue. Tuition is rising twice as fast as inflation – 6 percent (versus 3 percent for general inflation). It's incumbent on us to keep costs down. The benefits to unwed couples – that's first on the chopping block

■ Democrats

Olivia (Libby) Maynard, 60, Goodrich; former Democratic Party chair; twice candidate for lieutenant governor; headed Office of Aging in Blanchard Administration; has taught social work.

S. Martin Taylor, 56, Detroit; vice president of Detroit Edison; headed departments for Govs. Milliken and Blanchard.

■ Republicans

Deane Baker, 71, Ann Arbor; three-term (24-year) incumbent; heads construction firm.

Mike Bishop, 29, Rochester; attorney in Waterford; active in Right to Life.

■ The university

Locates in Ann Arbor, it has a $2.3 billion budget, about half of which is for its hospitals. It has 51,000 students, including those at its Dearborn and Flint campuses. The board is looking for a new president.

VOTERS GUIDE

Candidates stress connection with voters

Democratic Congresswoman Lynn Rivers and her Republican challenger Joe Fitzsimmons, vying for the 13th District seat in Congress, both say their backgrounds serve them well.

Rivers, who struggled as a teen parent to make ends meet while she studied for her bachelor's and law degrees, says her background helps her identify with ordinary people.

Fitzsimmons, a retired business executive, says his business experience as CEO at UMI in Ann Arbor makes him qualified to serve as a U.S. representative.

In a race that has resulted in some heated exchanges by press release, Rivers, an Ann Arbor resident and former state representative and school board member, is seeking her second term in Congress in the 13th District, while Fitzsimmons, also an Ann Arbor resident, has been campaigning against her for about a year. This would be his first elected office.

Fitzsimmons' campaign has issued press releases accusing Rivers of many things including being against family values and welfare reform.

Rivers calls the attacks nasty, adding she has supported welfare reform and a balanced budget. "It is very surprising to me. I hadn't expected that from him," she said.

On the issues, Fitzsimmons said he sees the major ones as the economy and education.

The country needs to grow a stronger economy, he said. It is not growing at the rate it needs to grow, and the way to make it grow is to reduce taxes, Fitzsimmons said.

Government spending needs to be controlled as well, he said.

"The only way we can balance the budget is to do both simultaneously," Fitzsimmons said.

Constituents decide the issues, Rivers said, adding that retirees at a picnic she had just attended before stopping for an interview, expressed concerns about the future of Medicare.

People are also interested in balancing the budget, but concerned about the priorities in budgeting, she said.

Rivers said she is interested in proposals that are going to strengthen the middle class and is in favor of raising the minimum wage.

A lot of things proposed in the 104th Congress would make things harder on working families such as a proposal that would have changed the way overtime is handled, an employee could be expected to work an average of 40 hours a week over several weeks meaning it could be 65 hours one week and 15 the next, she said. Or an employee could be forced to accept comp time instead of getting overtime pay, she said.

As someone who at one time depended on her husband's overtime pay to make ends meet, Rivers sees that as "terribly negative" for working families, she said.

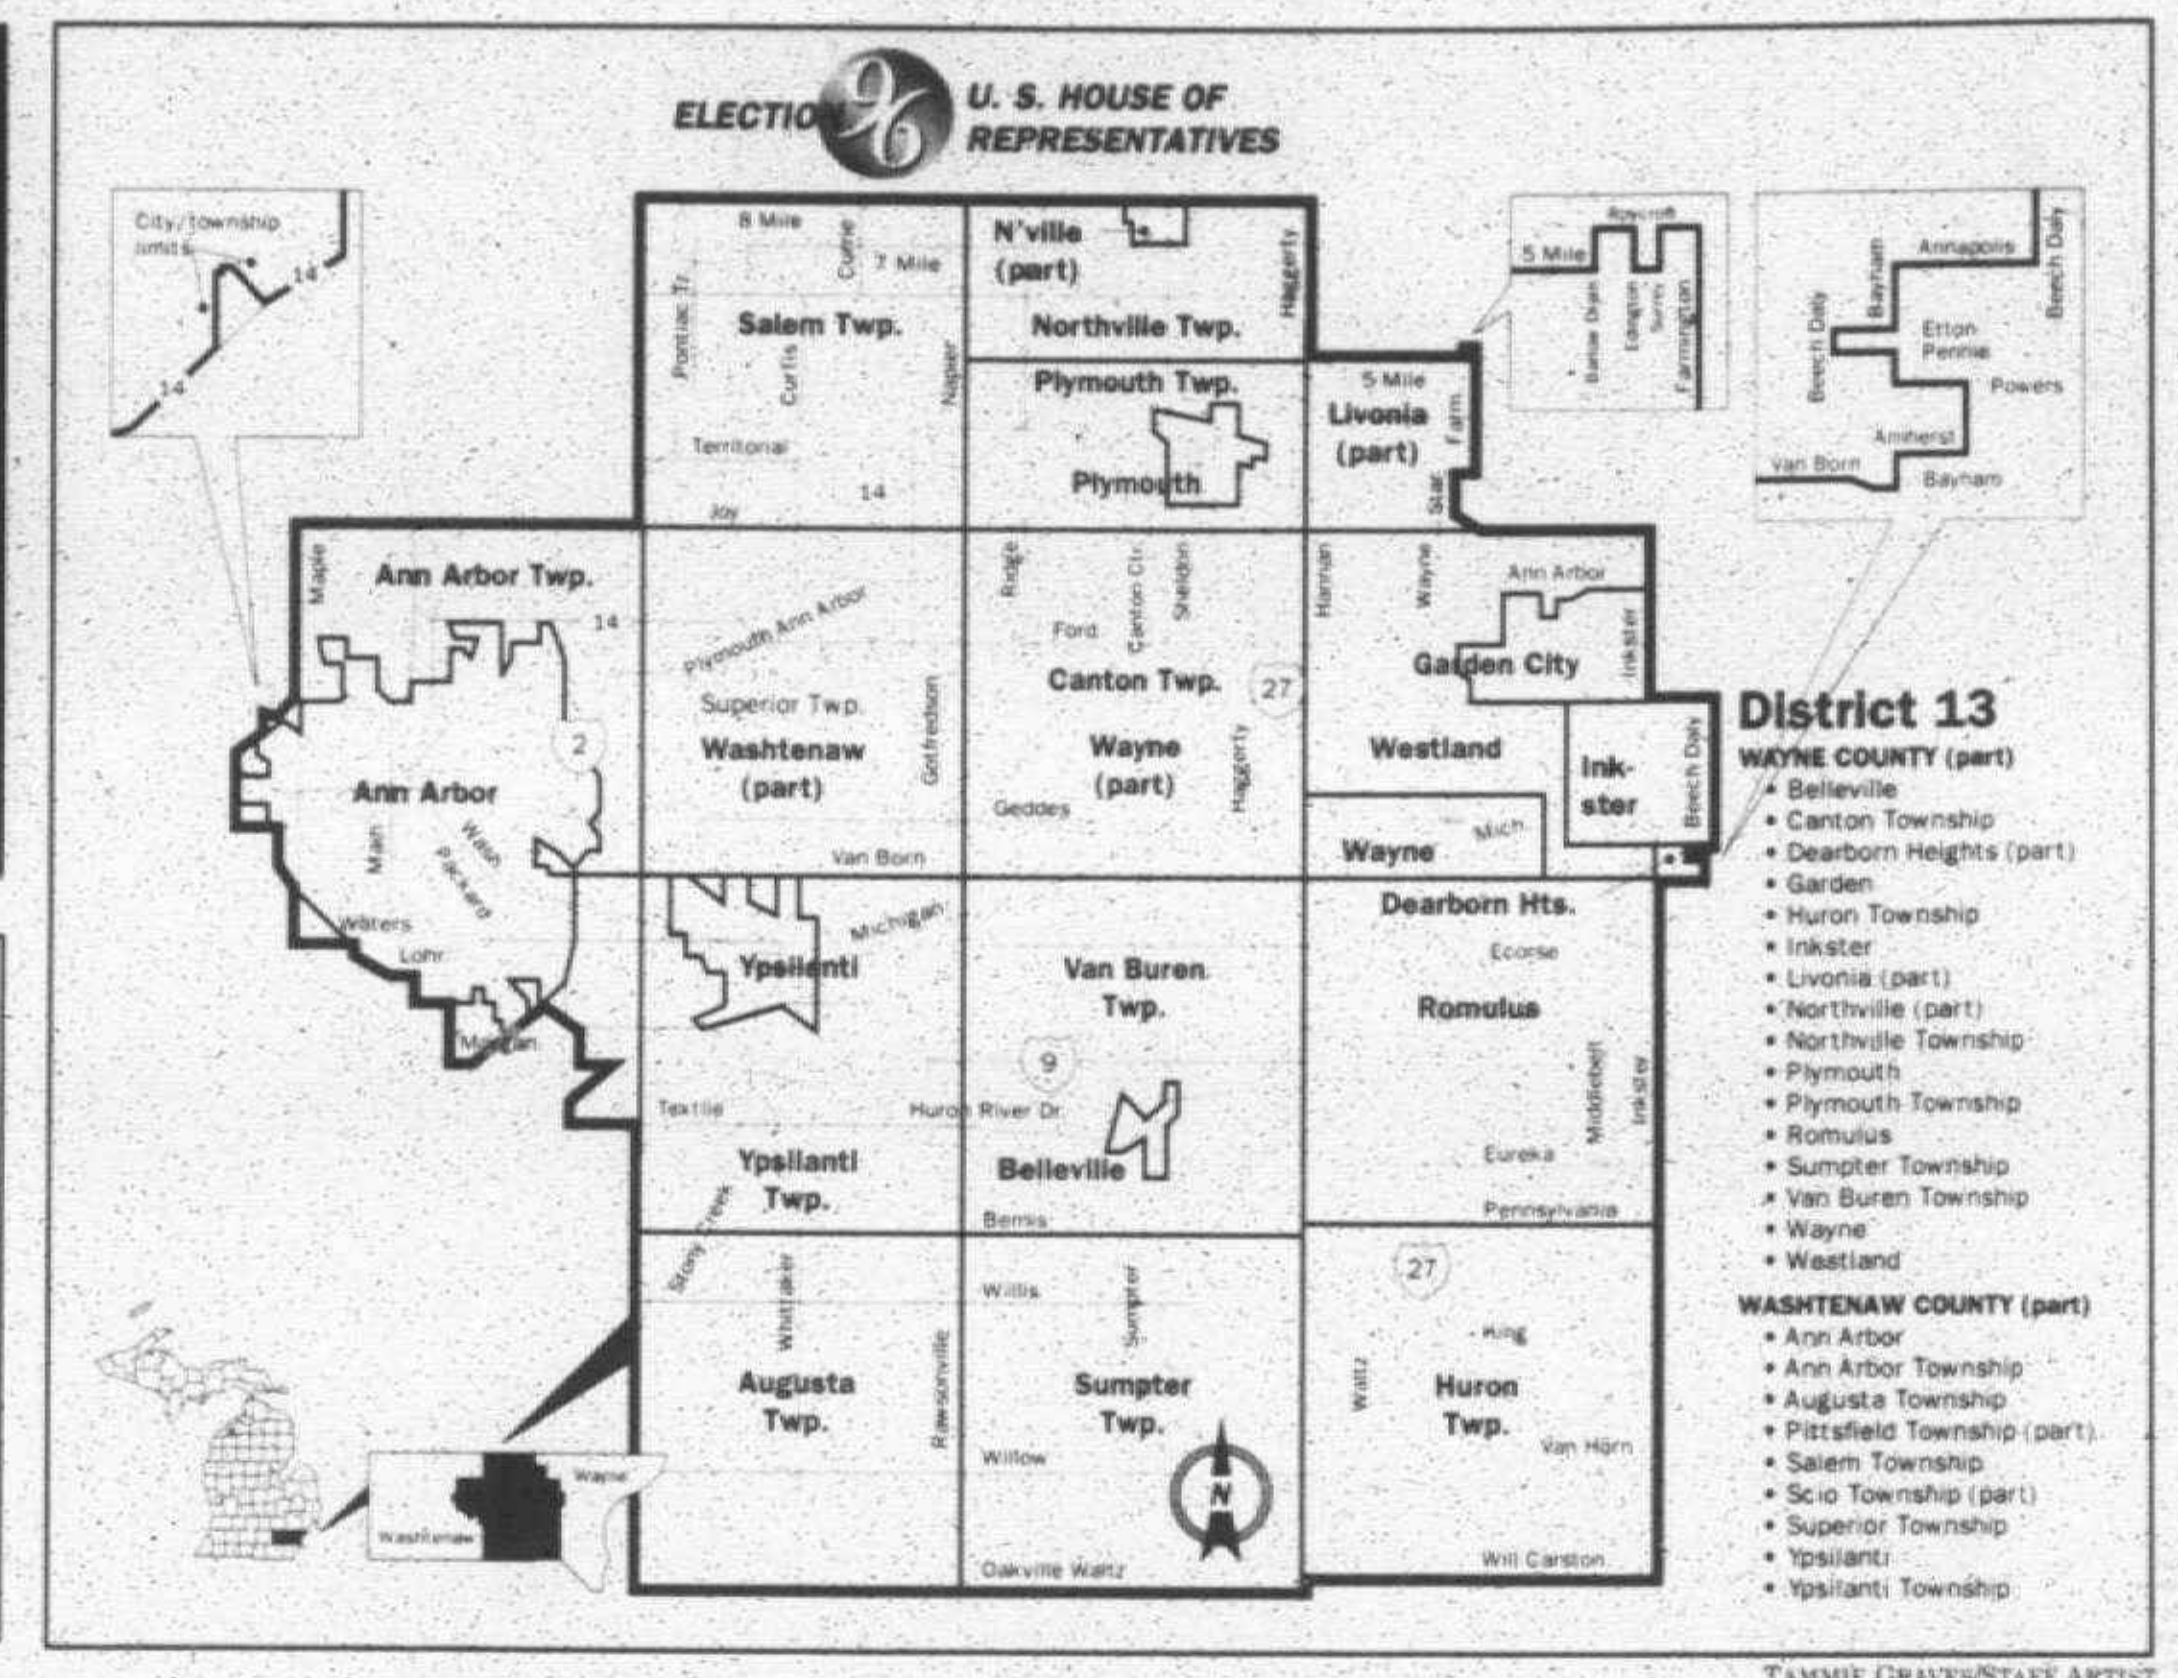
- Ann Arbor resident
- Age: 39
- Education: Bachelor's degree from University of Michigan and law degree from Wayne State University
- Experience: Almost nine years on Ann Arbor School Board and elected to Michigan House of Representatives in 1992, U.S. House in 1994.

Joe Fitzsimmons

- Republican
- Ann Arbor resident
- Age: 61
- Education: Bachelor's degree and master's certificate from Cornell University
- Experience: More than 35 years in library and information industry; retired as chief executive officer of UMI (formerly University Microfilms International) of Ann Arbor in 1995.



TAMMIE GRAVES/STAFF ARTIST

Protection of the environment and whether the government plans to roll back some parts of the environmental laws are also among constituents' top concerns, she said.

Education is a top issue, not only higher education, but kindergarten through 12th grade as well, she said.

Fitzsimmons is also focusing on is education, which he feels goes hand-in-hand with a better economy. If the economy is changed and the budget balanced, interest rates will come down and student loan interest rates will also come down, Fitzsimmons said.

"I want to provide access for everyone who wants to get a good education," he said.

Fitzsimmons said he would look at the education process to allow more local decision making. The education system should be for parents and students and not for bureaucracy, he said. "People in the education system are consumed with red tape," he said.

He would reduce red tape by downsizing the Department of Education to "eliminate interference," he said.

He would fight for more direct funding as opposed to reducing student loans, but accountability is needed, he said.

People need jobs with paychecks that aren't chewed up by taxes, Fitzsimmons said.

"I'm not one to vote to increase taxes," Rivers said. As a state representative she supported very few tax increases, she said.

"I run my office in a very frugal manner," she said, pointing out she returned more than $244,000 to the treasurer from her office budget in 1995.

On the issue of crime, she advocates a system of law enforcement and punishment that deals with criminals quickly, but also backs a prevention program. "We have to have a very integrated system that allows for both," she said.

Fitzsimmons says he is "very tough on crime." A strong economy would help reduce crime, he said. "The best thing in the world you can have is a good job," he said.

On welfare reform, Fitzsimmons says Rivers has voted against it, but she disagrees. She voted in favor of the recent welfare reform proposal that was approved in Congress. "I have always voted in favor of welfare reform," she said.

Rivers said she has fought for changes such as eliminating mass mailing. "I don't do them. They are really campaigning at public expense," she said.

She has done town hall meetings and district meetings in the coffee shops and restaurants. "I spend a lot of time in the community. I put a tremendous emphasis on community service," she said.

Rivers, 39, is married and has two daughters. Fitzsimmons, 61, is divorced with five children and seven grandchildren.

"Because of my background I identify very closely with ordinary people," Rivers said.

"I think that's one thing I bring to Congress. I understand the real problems of people." Many in Congress don't understand what an additional $45 a month on student loan payments can mean to working people, she said.

Fitzsimmons also cites his background as the son of a butcher and a school teacher. "I learned to trim in the fat in my father's store," he says in person and in his campaign literature.

Culinary fest reaps dollars for S'craft students

Job well done: Instrumental in planning this year's Culinary Extravaganza were Alberta Muzzin, event co-chair and a member of the Schoolcraft College Foundation Board and owner of Dynamic People in Livonia and David Brandon, president of Valassis Co. of Livonia. Brandon is a Plymouth Township resident.

More than 800 people spent a recent Sunday afternoon sampling food, wine and desserts from some of metro Detroit's finest eateries on the way to raising more than $100,000 for scholarships at Schoolcraft College.

The fifth annual Culinary Extravaganza featured more than 60 area restaurants, pastry businesses and wine distributors at the Sept. 22 event in the college's Waterman Campus Center.

Honorary chairman of this year's event was Plymouth Township resident David Brandon, president of Valassis Communications Inc. of Livonia. Co-chairs were Alberta Muzzin of Dynamic People, a temporary agency based in Livonia and John Cleveland, chef and owner of the Water Club Seafood Grill in Plymouth.

Scholarship coffers were aided by sponsorships from more than 150 metro area businesses, health care organizations and individuals.

Area residents working on this year's event included Mary Jane Bostick Debbie Burns, Joyce Costanza, Judy Francisco, Kevin Gawronski, Armand and Eleanor Gebert, Bonnie Hartsock, Paul Jacques and Peter Karadjoff.

Also Alice Karsheneski, Debbie Katko, Tim Kelly, Pam Kosteva, Peter LaRosa, Melanie Lovasz, Charlotte Mahoney,

Democrats fall short on minimum wage bill

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

■ STATE NEWS

State Senate Democrats fell three votes short of forcing a minimum wage bill onto the floor for a final vote.

"This bill went through the House like (pause) manure through a goose," said Senate Labor Committee chair Mike Rogers, R-Brighton, who fought the Democratic effort to discharge the bill from his committee.

Replied Senate Democratic leader John Cherry of Clio: "The geese in his district must be constipated. The minimum wage hasn't been increased in 15 years. And this bill has been in the House five years."

When the manure-slinging debate was over, the Senate failed, 17-18 with three absent, to force House Bill 4180 onto the floor Sept. 25, the last session day prior to the election break break.

"You're going to pay for it on election day," warned Democrat Virgil Smith of Detroit.

"It was a political rush to do someone's dirty work," said Republican floor leader Dan DeGrow of Port Huron.

Joining 16 Democrats to vote yes was Doug Carl, R-Macomb County. Seventeen Republicans voted no, and three outstate Republicans were absent. All area senators voted with their parties.

The bill cleared the House Sept. 10, first day of the fall session, by 94-12. It would raise the state minimum wage from the current $4.25 to $4.75 on Oct. 1 this year and to $5.15 on Oct. 1, 1997. It also would reduce the tip deduction for restaurant waiters. The effect would be to bring the state minimum into line with the federal.

The parties drew radically different pictures of the 133,000 workers not in interstate commerce who would be affected.

Democrat Alma Smith of Salem saw the beneficiaries as waitresses supporting families and trying to get off welfare.

Republican Rogers saw them not as heads of families but as "younger, first-time workers."

Democrat Virgil Smith saw them as people trying to get by on minimum wage.

Rogers saw them as waiters collecting tips and averaging $8 an hour.

Democrats argued that staffs in many restaurants pool their tips, so that waiters and waitresses share with bartenders, busboys and bouncers.

Democrat Cherry saw the effects as boosting local economies. "After every minimum wage increase in the past, jobs have increased. Those are high-velocity dollars that go 'round and 'round the economy," he said.

Rogers quoted small business operators taking home $40,000 out of a $300,000 gross who would lay off two or three workers apiece if the minimum wage were raised.

Added Republican Shugars: "A study by President Jimmy Carter's commission showed that every 10 percent increase in the minimum wage causes a 2 to 3 percent reduction in entry-level jobs."

Rogers closed by saying he would heed the requests of such House Republicans as Jim Ryan of Redford to take up the bill in November.

for me."

Libby Maynard (D), recently an adjunct instructor of social work at U-M: "We are committed to help all students. It's an issue the whole state faces."

Deane Baker (R), incumbent regent: For any young person who starts, "the university assures they'll have financial support to continue their education. In 1978 the state provided 80 percent of the general fund budget; today, 38 percent."

S. Martin Taylor (D), Detroit Edison vice president: "It's critical that the university not price itself out of reach of the ordinary person. We have to get the biggest bang for our (budget) dollars. We have to make certain we get our faire share of state aid."

Charter schools?

Unlike Central Michigan University, which has granted dozens of charters for specialized academies, U-M's Board of Regents has granted none.

Baker (R): "There has been only one discussion – an amalgamation arrangement with Wayne State University. Wayne went ahead and did that project themselves."

Taylor (D): "I'm not familiar with the responsibilities toward charter schools. . . whether it would detract from the university's mission. I would reserve a position on that."

Bishop (R): "The charter school act requires that those universities which charter schools become superintending controllers. It's difficult for universities, with many things they have to keep their eye on, to run charter schools. It's good to find different ways to educate our kids, but we don't want to lose our focus on the universities. I have faith in our public schools, and I don't want to scrap them."

Maynard (D): "I'm troubled by the concept of charter schools. I don't want to see the destruction of public schools."

Open meetings?

When the Board of Regents in 1987-8 conducted its search for a president entirely behind closed doors, two newspapers sued and won in the state Supreme Court.

Baker (R): "It presents some very real difficulties. Many competent individuals will not apply without confidential interviews. . . A committee will bring us five candidates."

Bishop (R): The law gives regents "some significant setbacks. Whether we can attract the best candidates. We have to sit down and decide how to attract the most qualified candidates and find a way to satisfy the law."

Taylor (D): "I understand the Open Meetings Act and support its principles. There need to be some exceptions: union negotiations. . . presidential searches. You can't attract top-flight candidates (with open interviews). There should be no negative impact on the public. (Open interviews are) unworkable."

Maynard (D): Open meetings are needed "so the public can know what's going on. I'm confident the regents can live within the law."

S'craft hosts college night

More than 70 colleges and universities will be at Schoolcraft College Wednesday, Oct. 2 for the annual College Night Program.

All area high school students, their families and the community are invited to attend.

The program begins at 6:45 p.m. and continues through 8:50 p.m. A College Fair will be held in the Physical Education Building and some schools will offer individual presentations in other classrooms on campus.

Individual sessions will be repeated three times — at 6:45 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

Participating are many in-state and out-state schools.

Call the Schoolcraft Office of admission at (313) 462-4426. Schoolcraft is at 18600 Haggerty, between Six and Seven Mile roads, just west of I-275.

Dentistry in the 90s

by Herbert M. Gardner, D.D.S. & Martha P. Zinderman, R.N., D.D.S.
DENTAL IMPLANTS TODAY
If you think that dental implants are just in their infancy, you should know that the research that led to today's implant procedures was begun in the 1950s by a Swedish physician. While there may have been some question as to whether implants would work even ten years ago, today the technology has improved to the point where there is a 95% success rate among implants of the mandible (lower jaw) and an 85% success rate among implants of the maxilla (upper jaw). Not only are implants effective in replacing individual natural teeth (avoiding the need for dentures), but they are now being used increasingly to stabilize dentures. Those who have been wearing dentures for decades have likely experienced a loss of bone in their lower jaws, which leads to denture slippage. This problem may be addressed by using two or more implants to secure the dentures.
Rediscover comfort and confidence. Dental implants offer a permanent solution to missing teeth. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, implants, fillings, partial or full dentures, root canals, cosmetic dentistry, and extractions are just some of the services we offer. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we are currently accepting new patients. Please call 478-2110 to schedule an appointment and let us help you maintain a healthy smile. Hrs: Mon, Tue, Thu & Fri 8-5, Wed 'til 9pm. For dentistry without fear we feature "twilight-sleep." Smiles are our business.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Enjoy your garden goodies, savor their flavor

Don't you just love this time of year? Your calls, and letters, indicate you are enjoying the harvest, and looking for ways to cook, and store those summer treats. If your garden is anything like mine, new ideas for garden goodies will always be appreciated.

■ Ann Malesheski of Plymouth wants a good tomato sauce recipe that cans and freezes well. Trust me Ann, it doesn't get any-better than this, and when flavorful summer tomatoes are not available, use canned plum (Roma) tomatoes.

TOMATO SAUCE

- 1/2 cup olive oil, preferably extra virgin
- 1 cup finely chopped onions
- 1 cup finely chopped carrots
- 1 cup finely chopped celery or fennel bulb
- 1 tablespoon minced garlic, or to taste
- 4 cups peeled, seeded and chopped ripe red Roma tomatoes
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste

In a saucepan, heat the oil over medium high heat. Add the onions, carrots and celery and saute until soft and lightly golden, about 8 minutes. Add garlic and saute one minute longer.

Stir in the tomatoes, sugar, salt and pepper and lower heat to a simmer and cook, uncovered, until thick, about 30 minutes. Use immediately, or refrigerate for 4-5 days. Sauce can be canned or frozen. Reheat before using. Makes about 4 cups.

Chef's Secret: I like to make this sauce plain, then, while reheating, add about 2 tablespoons of minced fresh basil and parsley. If you can or freeze it with the herbs, it has a tendency to get a tad bitter.

Recipe source: Janes Gang favorite.

■ Patty from Rochester Hills wants to know where she can purchase Lavash bread. Lavash is a paper-thin, circular-shaped bread made mostly from whole grain. It contains about 90 calories per round, and makes a great roll-up sandwich. Look for it in the bread department of most grocery stores. Shopping Center Markets, Danny's, Meijer's and Kroger sell it. Expect to pay about $1.49 per package.

■ Marcy of Garden City has a load of gorgeous eggplant in her garden, and wants to make the Middle Eastern dish called baba ghannouj. Here's a great recipe:

BABA GHANNOUJ

- 1 (1 pound) eggplant
- 3 tablespoons tahini (sesame seed paste)
- Juice of 1 lemon, (about 1/4 cup)
- 1 clove garlic, peeled and crushed with 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons cold water
- 1/2 teaspoon Hot Hungarian paprika
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Olive oil

Prick the eggplant three or four times with a fork and set in a hot oven or over hot coals and turn as each side becomes black and the flesh very soft.

Meanwhile, place tahini, lemon juice and crushed garlic in a food processor and blend until smooth. Add 3 tablespoons cold water to thin and lighten the mixture. When the eggplant has completely collapsed, remove from heat.

When cool enough to handle, remove the charred skin and any hard seeds. Squeeze the eggplant to remove bitter juices. Mash eggplant with a masher, then add to the tahini mixture in the food processor. Pulse to blend. Place the dip in a shallow bowl and garnish with paprika, parsley and drizzle with olive oil. Serve with pita triangles. Serves 4. Makes about 2 cups.

■ Ann from Canton is looking for Ancho chile powder. Ancho chile powder is made from the dried shell of the Ancho chile pepper, and has a smoky, somewhat fiery taste. The freshest assortment can be found at my favorite Mexican grocer, La Colamena – Honey Bee Market, 2443 Bagley, (at 17th Street), in Detroit, just down the street from Tiger Stadium. You can also buy it at Rafael Spice in the Eastern Market.

NATIONAL HONEY BOARD

Breakfast treat: Combine honey granola, bananas, and low-fat yogurt to make Crunchy Honey-Yogurt Breakfast Parfait. It's pretty to look at, and good to eat.

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Even if we're in a hurry, we'll stop at a gas station on the way to work to fuel our cars, but we won't make time for breakfast.

Cars don't run on empty, and neither do people. We need fuel to start our day.

"Breakfast is brain food," said American Dietetic Association president Doris Derelian, a registered dietitian. "A child who fills his tank in the morning does better in the classroom – he'll perform better on tests and is more likely to remember what is learned in school. After eight to 10 hours without food, the body is essentially a cold furnace, waiting to be stoked."

Contrary to what you might think, skipping meals won't help you lose weight faster. In a study of women, on a 1,200-calorie-a-day diet, researchers at Vanderbilt University discovered those who skipped breakfast lost about 13 pounds each; those who ate breakfast lost 17 to 19 pounds.

We even burn calories when we sleep. "A lot of refueling goes on while you're asleep," said Betty Kriegel a registered dietitian, and clinical manager of food and nutrition services at Crittenton Hospital in Rochester.

"The first meal we eat when we wake up is important to give the body the nutrition it needs for the rest of the day, to help us face the day, and the activities. Our metabolism is raised by eating."

Those few minutes saved by skipping breakfast could cost you later. "When we miss breakfast we get into a slump around 10 or 11 a.m.," said Kriegel. "Then we grab – a pastry, doughnut, or something from the vending machine."

Eating and preparing breakfast doesn't take a lot of time. Kriegel recommends a bowl of whole grain cereal and piece of fruit. Read labels, though, because cereals sometimes contain a lot of sugar and sodium.

According to the American Dietetic Association, one-third of school-aged kids fix their own breakfast. Stock up on several kinds of cereals, raisins, fruit, juice, milk and yogurt, breads, and rice cakes.

"Children are most likely to eat breakfast if their parents eat breakfast," said Kay Sweeney of Southfield, a registered dietitian for Botsford Hospital's Health Development Network in Novi. "Children who don't eat breakfast in the morning become restless, and have trouble concentrating in school."

Adults who skip breakfast often feel irritable and restless by mid-morning because our blood sugar level drops when we don't eat. If we're at work, "we'll grab whatever's readily available, often a doughnut, to satisfy our hunger, and this defeats weight-loss efforts," said Sweeney.

Reviewing research on the effects of breakfast on school performance, Ernesto Pollitt, Ph.D. reported a significant correlation between eating in the morning and test results, recall memory and verbal skills in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association, October 1995. Hungry children just can't do their best work. They're easily distracted and become fidgety, irritable and tired.

Sweeney starts her day by eating a bowl of cereal in the morning – warm cereal (oatmeal) in the winter, and cold cereal with milk and cut-up fruit such as bananas during warmer months.

For grab-and-go breakfasts, she recommends bagels or English muffins. "It doesn't have to be anything fancy."

Parents can learn more about food and nutrition issues by calling the Consumer Nutrition Hot Line of the American Dietetic Association's National Center for Nutrition and Dietetics 1-800-366-1655. Registered dietitians are available to answer nutrition questions or provide referrals to local dietitians weekdays 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Callers can listen to a variety of recorded nutrition messages 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. Messages change every month.

NEW COOKBOOK

Nutritious: Rose Reisman serves up low-fat, high-flavor recipes in her newest book, "Enlightened Home Cooking."

Busy mom makes good food easy to swallow

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Apples, broccoli, and cabbage, are good for you, but they're not as appealing as eclairs, fudge and gingersnaps.

"There's still a negative connotation about light, low-fat eating," said cookbook author Rose Reisman. "Those foods are viewed as second-rate."

In her eighth cookbook, "Rose Reisman's Enlightened Home Cooking," (Robert Rose, Inc., copyright, September 1996, $18.95) she shares recipes for preparing low-fat foods with lots of flavor.

Time-saving tips, and make-ahead suggestions accompany the ten subject chapters in her book, which include appetizers, soups, salads, vegetables, chicken and desserts. Each recipe has a complete nutritional analysis, and there are 16 full-color photographs.

Reisman is an author on a mission. Besides offering nutritious recipes, and meal planning suggestions that help busy families enjoy dinner together, her books benefit the Y-ME National Breast Cancer Organization. A portion of book sales are donated to the non-profit group whose patient advocacy programs have been providing information, hotline counseling, educational programs and self-help meetings for breast cancer patients, their families and friends for more than 15 years.

Research is under way, but there does appear to be an association between a high-fat diet, excessive weight gain and the incidence of breast cancer.

She's the first to admit it's not easy. "People will say 'I get in at 6:30 p.m.,' that's when they turn to pizza delivery. They're still spending time, and money. I set 30 minutes aside for us to eat together, even if it's rushed. I'll give the kids a snack after school, and we might not eat until 7 p.m."

Starting dinner from scratch after work, and school activities is a chore. To save time, Reisman stocks a pantry with canned tomatoes and other frequently used items; makes sauces, Beefaroni and other family favorites on weekends, planning to have leftovers, which she freezes in serving size containers.

Encouraging children to eat nutritious foods takes effort. "Kids are the toughest," she said. "I asked them, 'what foods do you like to eat?' Fast food was their answer." But these foods don't have to be unhealthy.

Potato Wedge Fries, and Honey Coated Crunchy Chicken Fingers, found in the "Kids Favorites" chapter, contain only one gram of fat per serving.

With over 175 recipes to choose from deciding which ones to make is a challenge. "Menus for Everyone," the last chapter of the book, offers suggestions for Family Dinners, Reheatable Family Casseroles, and even Extravagant "Impressive" Dinners, made with recipes featured in the book.

Look for Reisman's book at your favorite bookstore, or call the Y-ME National Breast Cancer Organization, 1-800-221-2141.

CRUNCHY HONEY-YOGURT BREAKFAST PARFAIT

- 1 large banana, sliced and divided
- 1/3 cup honey, divided
- 1/2 cup plain low-fat yogurt, divided
- 1/2 cup Honey Granola (recipe follows)

Reserve several slices of banana for garnish. Layer 1/4 of the sliced banana, 1 tablespoon honey, 2 tablespoons yogurt, 2 tablespoons granola, 1/4 of the sliced banana, 1 tablespoon honey, 2 tablespoons yogurt, and 2 tablespoons granola in parfait glass.

Repeat for second parfait. Garnish with reserved banana and remaining honey. Serves 2.

HONEY GRANOLA

- 4 cups old-fashioned rolled oats
- 3/4 cup coarsely chopped nuts
- 1 cup raisins
- 3/4 cup honey
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 2 egg whites, lightly beaten

In large mixing bowl, combine oats, nuts and raisins; mix well and set aside. Combine remaining ingredients Pour honey mixture over oat mixture and toss until well blended.

Spread on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350° F. for 20 minutes or until lightly browned; stir every 5 minutes. Remove from oven and cool. Crumble and store in airtight container up to 2 weeks. Makes 16 (1/2 cup servings).

CATERPILLARS

- 1/2 cup flake cereal
- 1 tube (11 ounces) refrigerated soft breadstick dough
- Yogurt, fruit, applesauce or cottage cheese

Heat oven to 350° degrees F. Spread a large piece of waxed paper or aluminum foil on the kitchen counter.

Put 1/2 cup of the cereal into a sandwich-size plastic bag. Lightly crush the cereal. One at a time, unravel dough on the waxed paper or foil. Fold dough in half so it's about 6 inches long. Put the dough into the plastic bag and turn it until it is coated with cereal.

Place on an ungreased baking sheet, slightly curving the dough to look like a caterpillar.

Repeat with the remaining pieces of dough. Crush more cereal if you run out. Place the dough pieces about 1 inch apart on the baking sheet.

Bake until light brown, about 15 minutes. Cool 5 minutes, then eat warm.

Good with yogurt, fresh fruit, applesauce or cottage cheese. Serves 8.

BAKED APPLE

- 1 medium baking apple, washed, not peeled
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 6 raisins
- 2 teaspoons butter or margarine
- 1 sprinkle of ground cinnamon
- 1 whole-grain waffle, toasted, quartered

Cut out the core of the apple. With a peeler, pare the skin from around the top of the apple. Put the apple in a small microwave dish. Put the brown sugar and raisins into the center of the apple.

Top with margarine or butter. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon. Cook uncovered in microwave for 2 to 2 1/2 minutes on High, or until the apple is almost tender when stuck with a fork. Let stand 5 minutes. Serve with toasted whole-grain waffle. Serves 1.

Reader-requested recipes include bruschetta

See related Taste Buds column, on Taste front.

■ Ida Baxter of Southfield called to learn more about Bruschetta, a Tuscan-style garlic bread.

To make it, you need Tuscan style bread with a hard crust and chewy center; good olive oil, something imported and "first cold pressed" will work the best; and fresh garlic cloves.

BRUSCHETTA

- 4 large slices Tuscan styled bread
- 2 cloves garlic, peeled and cut in half
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste

Place the bread slices on aluminum foil and place in an oven preheated to 375° degrees F. Toast the bread for about 8 minutes on each side, then rub each side with the cut cloves of garlic while the bread is still warm. Warm the oil gently in a small saucepan and immediately drizzle over the toasted bread on a serving dish. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

■ Cindy from Walled Lake is hoping I might have a recipe for great tasting fry cake doughnuts that can be rolled in powdered sugar, cinnamon sugar or finely chopped nuts.

Well Cindy, my Grandma Lory in Trenton used to make some fry cake doughnuts that to this day, bring back memories. Momma still has the recipe, although it looks a little tattered and splattered. I made them and they tasted just as good as they did 30 years ago!

FRY CAKE DOUGHNUTS

- 4 cups sifted all purpose flour
- 5 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 3 eggs
- 2/3 cup whole milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Oil for deep fat frying

Sift flour, salt, nutmeg, cinnamon and baking powder together. Set aside. Cream together the sugar and the shortening until fluffy.

Blend in the eggs, milk and extract. Beginning and ending with the dry ingredients, alternately add the dry ingredients with the creamed ingredients, blending thoroughly after each addition.

Chill dough for easier handling. Roll out dough 1/2 inch thick and cut with a lightly floured round doughnut cutter.

Fry in hot oil (375° degrees F.) for 1 1/2 minutes on each side, until golden brown, turning only once. Drain on absorbent paper towels. Makes about 24 medium doughnuts.

HONEY COATED CRUNCHY CHICKEN FINGERS

- 1 pound skinless, boneless chicken breasts
- 1/4 cup honey (slightly warmed)
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 cup crushed corn flakes

Preheat oven to 425° F. Cut chicken breasts crosswise into strips 3/4-inch wide. In small bowl combine honey and water. Put corn flakes on a plate.

Dip chicken strips in honey mixture then coat with corn flake crumbs. Put on baking sheet sprayed with vegetable spray. Bake for 10 minutes, or until cooked at center, turning chicken over at halfway point. Serves 6.

Per serving: 174 calories, 18 g protein, 1 g, total fat.

Make ahead: These "fingers" can be coated early in the day and refrigerated.

POTATO WEDGE FRIES

- 3 large baking potatoes
- 2 tablespoons melted margarine
- 1 teaspoon minced garlic
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika

Preheat oven to 375° F. Spray baking sheet with vegetable spray. Scrub potatoes and cut lengthwise into 8 wedges. Put on prepared baking sheet. Combine margarine and garlic in a small bowl. Combine Parmesan and paprika in another small bowl. Brush potato wedges with half of the margarine and cheese mixture. Bake for 20 minutes, turn the wedges, brush with remaining margarine mixture (reheat if necessary). Sprinkle on remaining Parmesan mixture, and bake for another 20 minutes or just until potatoes are tender and crisp. Serves 6.

Per serving: 87 calories, 2 g protein, 1 g fat, saturated.

CLOWN ALLEY GORILLA BANANA BREAD

- 1/2 cup unsalted butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3 very ripe bananas (medium size), mashed
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup chopped honey-roasted peanuts or other nuts
- 1/3 cup semi sweet chocolate chips

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs. Scrape bowl well, then add Gbananas, flour and soda. Mix in nuts and chocolate chips. Pour into a large, well-greased loaf pan. (8 1/2 by 4 1/2 or 9 by 5 inches). Bake at 350° F. for 1 hour. Yield 1 loaf.

CLOWN ALLEY CHICKEN

- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 pounds chicken breasts or thighs
- 2 large sweet onions, cut into 1/2-inch thick slices

For marinade: Mix soy sauce, wine, brown sugar, lemon juice, ginger and pepper. Add chicken. Pierce onion slices several times each with a fork; add to marinade. Marinate 30 minutes. Broil chicken and onions about 15 minutes, or until done, turning once. Serves 4.

Chef Michael Chiarello

Cooking classes inspire shoppers

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

Hudson's Marketplace kicked off its "Time To Get Cooking Classes" at the Somerset Collection in Troy Sept. 21 with Michael Chiarello, executive chef and partner in the award winning Tra Vigne Restaurant set in California's Napa Valley.

Founder and culinary director of the Consorzio line of flavored olive oils and vinegars distributed by Napa Valley Kitchens, Chiarello demonstrated creative recipes using his products. From Porcini Mushroom Flavored Olive Oil ($8.95) to Roasted Garlic Dressing Marinade ($6.50), Consorzio offers many ways to bring pleasure to the palate.

Trained in the tradition of French classical cooking, Chiarello spiced up sauteed chicken by adding his Roasted Garlic Vignette to a sage pan sauce then proceeded to splash Consorzio Roasted Garlic Flavored Olive Oil with oils and essences extracted from fresh garlic ($6.95) in every dish from a parsley pesto sauce to a pastina with dried tomato paste.

I could hardly wait to get home and try it on fresh bread, pasta and in mashed potatoes. But my favorite taste treat was when I drizzled it over hot popcorn.

A chef for 14 years, Chiarello created the Consorzio line five years ago. Since then he has written two cookbooks filled with recipes for cooking with infused oils and flavored vinegars, $12.95 each. Besides Tra Vigne, the 35-year old chef is also a partner in five restaurants in Aspen, San Francisco and Napa Valley and a bakery in Petaluma. He grew up in an Italian home devoted to the heritage of hearty foods. Chiarello began preserving just-picked herbs, vegetables and fruits in oil to retain the flavor in his foods at Tra Vigne (French for between the vines).

"We're the largest producer of virgin olive oil in North America," he boasted. "We farm over 250 acres of fruit and produce more than 40,000 gallons of olive oil a year. I believe that making olive oil is an art, cooking is a craft."

Freshness is key to dishes at Tra Vigne, which on a busy day feeds 1,000 customers.

"We serve simple food you can understand. For our tomato-mozarella salad, tomatoes are picked fresh every morning so the dish smells as good as it tastes. My food is food for your soul," said the recipient of the 1995 Culinary Institute of America Chef of the Year Award.

Health plays an important role with Chiarello who ran seven miles before appearing at Hudson's. While he claims not to be a low-fat freak, he does not eat a lot of meat, opposes adding chemicals and preservatives to foods, and uses kosher instead of table salt because the more than 100 nutrients the body needs are removed during salt processing.

Wendy Williams first saw Chiarello at the Food and Wine festival in Aspen in June. She drove from Ann Arbor to watch Chiarello demonstrate creative ways of using flavored oils and infused vinegars to enhance foods.

"I like the Mango Vignette with berries, and the Tomato Vignette I use like a salad dressing. They just give it a good flavor. The Mango or Passion Fruit Vignette over a fruit salad is really good," she insisted.

Seated next to me were Dorothy and Tony Suchocki of Rochester Hills. They agreed Chiarello put on "quite a show."

"It was entertaining besides being good," said Dorothy Suchocki who loves to cook and especially enjoyed tasting the pastina and sweet potatoes flavored with Consorzio Cilantro Oil.

Marie Burgess, a former home economics teacher from Detroit, and Cecile Vexler of Windsor agreed with the Suchockis.

"The food was wonderful and he presented it with such finesse," said Burgess.

Beverly Sherman of Clinton Township has been attending Hudson's cooking classes three years. She already uses several of Consorzio's flavored oils. She liked the pastina made in risotto style with a pesto sauce "It's very flavorful."

Hudson's Somerset cooking demonstrator Debbie Rogers uses the Five Pepper Oil in summertime pasta salads. "The garlic oil is wonderful in Potatoes O'Brien or for frying chicken breasts in," said the Waterford resident.

According to Hudson's demonstrator Betty Louney, the cooking classes are set to stir up interest in products. She will be using the Passion Fruit Vignette in a Mediterranean salad from 2-3:30 p.m. Oct. 6 at Somerset. Call for a schedule of classes, including ones for cooking for kids, Oct. 5, 2-3 p.m. at Hudson's Westland. Reservations are required for the complimentary classes. Seating is limited. Guests should RSVP to 1-8-265-COOK between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays.

Stress-free and loving it

No pressure: Laurie Freeman demonstrates how easy it is to lose the cares of the day in the Zero-Gravity Chair available at the Relax The Back Store in downtown Birmingham.

New store caters to backs

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

No shopping trip to downtown Birmingham would be complete without sitting in the Zero-Gravity Astronaut Chair (aahhh) or the Judge Ito Chair (oohhh) at the Relax the Back Store, 136 N. Woodward, a few shops north of Maple.

In addition to selling state-of-the-art chairs that "ease stress and eliminate pressure on the neck and spine," the new store has seven different departments stocked with products that promote total well-being.

"We have custom-fit office ergonomic supplies, lumbar pillows, massage chairs, shiatsu machines, back belt supports, bedding, body wedges, exercise videos and equipment, health books, lightweight luggage on wheels, inversion tables and pillows with cervical support," said manager Laurie Freeman.

"Our customers are physical therapists shopping for their patients, patients recovering from back surgery, and students and workers who spend most of the day sitting in front of a computer."

Freeman said Birmingham's Relax The Back Store is the first in Michigan, a franchise of a growing company based in Austin, Texas. Other stores are planned for Ann Arbor and Novi.

"The key to our success is our employee's product knowledge because customers want and need custom service in this very specialized business," Freeman said.

"One of our part-timers is herself a back surgery patient who takes products home to test. We guide customers through the store listening to their needs and showing them products with possibilities of relieving their back pain."

Freeman is so determined that customers be satisfied, she allows even bedding to be returned in special cases.

Freeman said she would like to hook up with Beaumont Hospital to provide seminars through the store that focus on the back and neck.

"Baby boomers are sitting more, working longer hours. The key to their productivity may be the right office chair," she said. "Studies have shown that with the right office chair, people work longer. Their productivity could add up to an extra day a week."

Relax The Back offers a complete line of LifeForm chairs, and other adjustable chairs are priced from $299 to $3,000 with most in the $900-range.

For more information, call the store at (810) 594-1555.

Where can I find?

Eureka! We found some!

From a recent list, two callers informed us that The Vermont Country Store catalog has ladies shoe trees, as well as recliner chair covers available. To receive this catalog full of unique products, call 1-802-362-2400, fax a request to 1-802-362-0285 or write Vermont Country Store, P.O. Box 3000, Manchester Center, Vermont, 05255-3000.

Another reader suggested Meijer Thrifty Acres as a source for recliner covers. "I saw some at the store in Waterford," she reported.

Barry Jensen's plastic playing cards were located by a caller who said she saw some through the Charles Fairmont Company, 1-800-233-0828.

Jean Townsley of Farmington said she found plastic ironing board covers for $8.99 in the Walter Drake catalog, 1-800-525-9291.

* Richard Wright of Livonia can get a copy of The Scarsdale Diet for under $10, at Cambridge Books, Ford and Sheldon, in Canton, according to a caller.

Now we still have these hard-to-find items:

• Ruth Moss of Beverly Hills needs a glass, screw-in bowl for a Kitchen-aid mixer 20 years old.

* Helen Watt wants to buy fresh, field-run stewing chickens for her home-made soup.

•Betty Kampa of Livonia needs a blade replacement for a Faberware Food Processor Model 386.

•Jean Murphy of Detroit is shopping for bed pillows manufactured under the name "Blue Heaven."

•John Jordan of West Bloomfield is hoping to find a pair of suspenders that look like newsprint in either button or clip on.

•Mary Klemic of Birmingham wants to know where she can find typewriter ribbon.

• "Angie" is looking for a shoe bag with a zipper.

• Sandra Cook of Garden City is desperate to locate a 25-watt light bulb with an appliance base.

If you've seen any of these items in your travels, let Malls & Mainstreets know and we'll print the answers. Call (810) 901-2567.

News of special events of interest to shoppers is included in this calendar. Send promotion information to: Mall & Mainstreets, c/oBirmingham Eccentric, 805 East Maple, 48009; or fax (810) 644-1314. The deadline is Wednesday at 5 p.m. for publication on Monday.

Zahn at fashion seminar

More than 400 women arrived for breakfast at Nordstrom's Saturday, Sept. 21, to hear CBS newswoman Paula Zahn discuss her career, and view a fall fashion show.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

If you attended the first of Nordstrom's Fashionable Living Forums, Sept. 21 at the Somerset Collection in Troy, you'd know that. . .

■ Former president George Bush is fit, relaxed, and enjoys fishing in the wilds of Newfoundland two hours out of Goose Bay;

■ Lady Diana Spencer, cast adrift from palace support, wants to "remake herself" using last week's appearance at a benefit for breast cancer research in Washington as the starting point;

■ and Olympic speedskater Dan Jansen's gold medal is full of scratches because his infant daughter Jane uses it as a teething ring.

Paula Zahn

Guest speaker Paula Zahn updated the audience on her recent news coups (she's six months pregnant with her third child) and reflected on past triumphs. She named Katherine Hepburn as her "all-time worst interview," due to Hepburn's outspoken criticism of working mothers. She chose training with the Navy Seals, getting Boris Yeltsin to talk about the baptism of his children, and winning the only interview with Fidel Castro as the highlights of her journalistic career.

"And I consider myself very much a work in progress," Zahn insisted. "I continue to get better at my craft, capturing the facts of a story."

Zahn reached notoriety as co-anchor of CBS This Morning where she worked for six-and-a-half years with Harry Smith. After a controversial shake-up, she left the network. She's since returned to CBS as host of 48 Hours and the evening news on Saturday.

Zahn said she attended college on a music scholarship, but when she discovered her talents as a cellist got her only to "seventh chair," she convinced the college to offer her a double major in music/ journalism.

Nordstrom's Fashionable Living Forum continues Saturday, Oct. 19 at 8 a.m. with Alexandra Stoddard speaking about a balanced life; and Saturday, Nov. 9 at 8 a.m. with CNN style editor Elsa Klench offering trends. Tickets are $10 per person through 810-816-5100, ext. 1690.

RETAIL DETAILS

Gallery Nikko is open Thursday-Saturday 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and by appointment (810) 647-0680.

Michigan magazine features a fashion history piece

The September/October issue of Michigan History Magazine, $2.95, features a history of fashion by Sally Helvenston, "From Feathers To Fashion."

What's the Michigan connection? As secretary of state Candace Miller points out, in 1883 Three Oaks dry-goods merchant Edward Warren invents, patents and produces the featherbone which immediately becomes a staple in manufacturing the hour-glass shaped fashions of the decade.

Warren's invention was a flexible rib made of shredded and bound turkey quills that women stuck in their dress bodices and undergarments to achieve hour-glass figures. The turkey quills replaced the expensive whalebones previously used for the purpose.

Warren was invited to sell his featherbones at all the chic fashion houses in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco and lots of costumed walkers.

If you would like to add your name or ideas to the quickly forming list, call the Livonia Mall management office at (810) 476-1166.

The parade committee includes volunteers from the Livonia's city offices, the chamber of commerce, Schoolcraft College, Madonna University and Comerica Bank.

Awww...Beanie Babies

Ain't they cute?: The latest collectibles craze (reminiscent of the Cabbage Patch Dolls phenomenon) features tiny beanbag animals that elementary school-age children love to plop on their shoulders or heads, collecting and trading with them friends. Each tiny critter is tagged with a name, brief bio and birth-date, a creation of Ty Inc. of Oakbrook, Ill. Beanie babies are available at some Hallmark shops, but the largest selection we've seen is at The Unique Place gift shop, Washington and Sixth in Royal Oak. Owner Jerry Honemann said it's heartwarming to see kids come in with piggy banks and socks full of coins to "adopt" a new baby. Honemann has some 60 different varieties of beanie babies in stock – going fast!

Livonia Mall's parade needs jolly volunteers for annual holiday event

Calling all elves, clowns, and cartoon characters!

The Livonia Mall is looking for volunteers to help with the annual holiday parade, Saturday, Nov. 23, beginning at 9 a.m. at the corner of Six Mile and Middlebelt.

This year's parade is titled "Santa's Spectacular Reindeer" and features floats, inflatables, marching units, school bands

Laurel Park Place hosts symphony's annual benefit

The 8th Annual Livonia Symphony Orchestra Benefit is set for Sunday, Oct. 6 from 6-9 p.m. at the Laurel Park Place shopping center, Six Mile and Newburgh in Livonia.

The evening features a performance by the LSO conducted by Volodymyr Schesiuk; a tribute to Archie Yawn; a silent auction of special gifts and services; and savory samplings from the town's best restaurants.

Tickets are $25 per person in advance, $30 at the door.

Co-chairs Justine Raymond and Patricia Sari welcome music lovers to attend. Advance tickets are available at Jacobson's Customer Service Department or the mall management office.

Record-tying

Mari Hoff, a freshman member of University of Michigan's soccer team from Plymouth Salem, equaled a pair of team records in one week -- a span during which the Wolverines won one and tied two.

Hoff scored four goals in those three games. She tied the U-M record for most goals in a match (2) by scoring the first two goals of her collegiate career in a 5-0 triumph over Toledo Sept. 17.

She kept up her barrage when the Wolverines tied California 2-2 Sept. 20. Marie Spaccarotella (from Livonia Churchill) got the second U-M goal.

On Sept. 22, the Wolverines forged a 2-2 tie with Kentucky, and once again, Hoff scored -- giving her four goals in three games, tying another team record (three-consecutive games scoring a goal).

Hoff ranks second on the team in scoring with eight points. She shares the team lead in goals scored with fellow freshman Amber Berendowsky (Brighton); each have four. Berendowsky's 10 points leads the team. U-M was 3-1-2 through Sept. 25.

Motor City standouts

•John Truskowski, a senior midfielder for Univerity of Detroit Mercy's soccer team, was chosen to the all-tournament team as the Titans repeated as champions of the Motor City Soccer Classic at Titan Field Sept. 21-22.

The Plymouth Salem graduate scored a goal in UDM's 4-1 triumph over Canisius Sunday.

Other Titans with local backgrounds who turned in standout efforts were Dominic Vella (Livonia Churchill), who scored a goal in UDM's 2-0 win over Niagara Sept. 21; Kal Kaliszewski (Churchill), who was in goal for both wins, including his 15th career shutout, and who earned the tournament's Most Valuable Keeper award; sweeper Jeff Thomas (Livonia Stevenson), who was named to the all-tournament team; and forward Michael Giese (Farmington), who had a goal and an assist and earned tourney MVP honors.

•UDM's performance wasn't all that spectacular, but junior Jeff Keith (from Plymouth Canton) turned in one that would qualify as such.

The Titans were 13th out of 26 teams at the National Catholic Meet at Notre Dame University (Ind.). Keith was a major reason they were that good.

Keith finished in 26:41, 12 seconds better than his previous best time. "Jeff Keith has been training hard and with this result, he should gain the confidence necessary to really take off," said UDM coach Guy Murray.

Progressing

Shellye Sills is starting to come on in her freshman season on the University of Toledo volleyball team.

Sills, a 6-foot middle hitter, has carved out a place for herself among the first corps. She's seen action in 42 of 57 games and has 54 kills.

But more impressively, Sills leads the Rockets (who are 8-6 overall, 1-1 in the Mid-American Conference) in blocks per game with a 0.69 average. She's tied for the team lead in solo blocks with six, and leads the squad in block assists with 23 (statistics through Sept. 23).

Canton clubs Churchill

Plymouth Canton's tennis team completely dominated Western Lakes Activities Association rival Livonia Churchill Wednesday in posting a 7-1 dual-meet victory.

The victory improved the Chiefs' record to 3-2-2.

Winners in singles play for Canton were Laura Belisle at No. 1, 6-1, 6-3 over Emily Mitchelle; Mai Lam at No. 2, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 over Ashlee Mehl; Jessica Dumas at No. 3, 6-2, 6-1 over Julia Arciero; and Patty Snook at No. 4, 6-4, 6-0 over Rosie Sennett.

In doubles, Canton winners were Anjali Shah and Jennifer Leonard at No. 2, 6-2, 6-2 over Megan Vollick and Aditi Saxena; Melissa Robbins and Natali Gut at No. 3, 6-2, 6-0 over Lisa Olinger and Rochelle Walley; and Carrie Kovachevich and Lizzie Brown, 6-2, 6-2 at No. 4 over Karrie Bewersdorf and Sarah Gentner.

The Chiefs' No. 1 doubles team of Shreya Shah and Liz Elsner lost to Churchill's Tina Naif and Erin Ritz, 6-3, 6-4.

3-on-3 hoop tourney

Our Lady of Good Counsel will be host to a 3-on-3 basketball tournament, open to boys and girls in three divisions: grades 7 and 8, 5 and 6, and 3 and 4.

The tournament is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18-20, with all games played at the Our Lady of Good Counsel gymnasium in Plymouth.

Cost is $50 per team. Participants are guaranteed three games and will receive a free T-shirt. Trophies will be presented to winners in each division.

Competitors in grades 7 and 8 (both boys and girls) will compete on Friday, Oct. 18; grades 5 and 6 will compete Saturday; and grades 3 and 4 will play Sunday. The schedule is tentative.

Entries close Friday. Call (313) 454-0847 for further details.

Chiefs get 1st victory

On the surface, it may have seemed like a step in the wrong direction -- finishing first in fewer events than in any previous meet.

It wasn't.

Plymouth Canton's girls swim team won only two of 12 events in its dual meet against Farmington Harrison, swum Thursday at North Farmington. But it was enough, when combined with the Chiefs superior depth, to give them a 97-89 victory.

The win was Canton's first dual-meet victory of the season, and it came at a good time: in their first Western Division meet in the Western Lakes Activities Association this year.

"We definitely won on depth," said Canton co-coach Sarah Eubanks. "I figured it would be close. They have a lot of good swimmers, so we knew we were going to have to offset that with our depth."

The Chiefs (now 1-3) only wins came from Lisa Sabina in diving (197.80 points) and Teri Hanson in the 100-yard freestyle (56.50).

There were a couple of other highlights, however: Amy Sonnanstine bettered her best time in the 500 free by more than six seconds, placing second in 5:43.59 (her best was 5:50).

And in the decisive final event, the 400 free relay, Canton was in good enough position to ensure their winning the meet, with the relay's final swimmers in the water, when a power outage left the Harrison natatorium in darkness.

"We did have an exciting finish," said Eubanks.

One that Canton won. The Chiefs have a mixed bag this week, with home dual meets against the state's top-ranked team, Livonia Stevenson, Tuesday and Livonia Franklin Thursday. Both are at 7 p.m.

Salem now 3-0

Rockets' start ruins Rocks

Is the dream over for Salem? The Rocks manuevered their way through the first three weeks of the season undefeated, but last Friday they went against John Glenn.

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK

Only the rain could slow down Westland John Glenn's football team.

Plymouth Salem tried Friday night, but John Glenn scored on its first five possessions to pile up a 31-0 lead only 3:01 from halftime.

The rain took control in the second half and the Rockets had to settle for a 31-14 victory in a battle for first place in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"In the first half we played pretty good," John Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said. "But the weather limits stuff both teams like to do.

"You change with the flow of the game, make adjustments as you go along.

"But Tom (Moshimer, Salem coach) and I have both played golf in worse weather than this."

John Glenn had a nice water bug tailback, 5-foot-8, 170-pound sophomore Reggie Spearmon, which was a good thing considering the spongy Salem/Canton field had enough water to grow rice in spots.

Spearmon flitted over the soggy surface 24 times for 134 yards, including a touchdown run of 21 yards.

The Rockets also got a stout night from 6-foot-6 junior quarterback Justin Berent, who completed 8-of-13 throws for 90 yards including a 35-yard scoring throw to Lou Hartwig on the game's opening possession.

Berent also scored on a one-yard run. Sean Heard recovered a fumble and was rewarded with a one-yard touchdown run and Steve Paling kicked a 25-yard field goal to help John Glenn improve to 4-0.

"That's a great football team," Moshimer said. "They're the best team in our conference. If there's a better one, I hope I don't have to play it.

"They attack you well. They've got a good fullback, a good tailback, good receivers and a quarterback who throws the ball well.

"They're well coached and can pick you apart. That's what they did to us early. Physically, up front, we were not strong enough to handle them."

Salem, suffering its first loss of its four-game season, managed just one first down while John Glenn was piling up its 31-0 lead. The last touchdown came after Jason Reed was stood up and knocked out, fumbling at his own 15 returning a kickoff.

But the Rocks took the next kickoff and got a nice 29-yard gain on a third-down wingback counter by

Harrison defense stops Johnson, Chiefs

BY DAN O'MEARA

FOOTBALL

Good defense will do it every time. Farmington Harrison demonstrated that again Saturday.

The Hawks managed to keep a lid on Plymouth Canton quarterback Rob Johnson and claim a crucial, 20-6 football victory at home.

Harrison's defense pressured and pursued Johnson the whole game, holding the prolific offensive player to minus-23 yards rushing on nine official carries and 58 passing.

Johnson was sacked four times and tackled a total of six for negative yards. He completed six of 14 passes. His longest pass, an 18-yarder to Pat Nilson, came on the first play of the game.

"I was very concerned because they beat Walled Lake Central and played Monroe tough," Harrison coach John Herrington said, "but the key is containing Johnson and we did it.

"On the first series, we had to get accustomed to his scrambling, but then we started to react to it better."

Both teams are 1-1 in the Western Division. The win keeps the Hawks in title contention and brings one of the other contenders down a notch.

"I don't think our kids were ready to play," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "We emphasized the game all week and the importance of it. We did not look very good."

The Hawks (3-1) also rediscovered their offense, recovering from their loss to Walled Lake Western to dominate the statistics against the Chiefs (2-2).

Harrison outgained Canton on the ground 215-25 and in total yards 373-83. Harrison senior quarterback Kevin Bambenek was 9-of-14 passing for 158 yards.

"They came after (Johnson) and did a good job," Khoenle said. "We did a terrible job of blocking. But it was a combination of both."

The Hawks accomplished the victory without a pair of two-way starters. Senior captains Nick Shaieb and Sean Sarsfield are out indefinitely with arm injuries

Junior Chris Ghannam replaced Sarsfield at tailback and rushed for a game-high 96 yards on 25 attempts.

Besides kicking a pair of 22-yard field goals and two extra points, junior Zack Cornwell had eight carries for 39 yards as Shaieb's replacement at fullback. Sophomore tight end Mike Hoad, who caught four passes for 91 yards, also played inside linebacker in place of Shaieb.

Cornwell's first field goal capped a drive on Harrison's first possession. When they got the ball again, the Hawks made it 10-0 as Bambenek passed 15 yards to Ricky Bryant for a touchdown.

Canton got a break early in the second quarter when Johnson recovered a fumbled punt at the Harrison 1, and Byron Miller scored on the next play. The fumble created a debate since Johnson had pushed Bryant into the ball.

"The referee said both were going for the ball, and that was all he saw," Herrington said. "It was a judgment call at that point."

The Hawks came back with a seven-play drive that ended with Ghannam's 3-yard TD run.

Harrison led 17-6 but Canton got another break with 1½ minutes left in the half when the Chiefs recovered a blocked punt at the Harrison 11. But, on fourth-and-4, Chris Burgess sacked Johnson for a 14-yard loss.

"That was the big thing; we should have gotten points out of that," Khoenle said. "There were seven white (Canton) jerseys around the ball (on the block). We should have picked it up and ran it in."

2nd quarter spurs Salem; Chiefs rule

BASKETBALL

Things are looking up again for Plymouth Salem's girls basketball team.

Salem drilled North Farmington, 66-23, in a visit to the Raiders' home territory, using a 21-2 second quarter to break open an 8-6 game.

"I thought we played real, real solid," coach Fred Thomann of Salem said. "Everybody gave a good effort."

The Rocks toyed with the Raiders, 12-10, in the third quarter but a 25-5 finish inflated the final score.

Heather Guerin led Salem with 13 points while Amanda Abraham scored 10 and added eight rebounds.

Nikki Naumann also scored 10 points and Angie Sillmon added eight as well as hauling down 10 rebounds and adding four assists.

Janelle Sterling scored seven points and had four assists, Laurel Weinman scored six and passed for five assists while Andrea Pruett also scored six. The Rocks are 6-2 overall and 2-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Melissa Gratz led North Farmington with eight points. Tricia Traczyk and Kelly Fournier each scored five. The Raiders are now 2-6 overall, 1-2 in the conference.

Salem went to Adrian for a non-league game Saturday and Thomann noted the contest against the undefeated Maples "will give us another little place to measure where we're at."

Canton 42, Churchill 30: It was supposed to be easy.

Plymouth Canton, after all, is always a front-runner. Livonia Churchill is usually fighting just to make the WLAA championship playoffs (open to the top eight of 12 teams).

But the Chargers gave Canton all it could handle Thursday at Plymouth Salem (the Canton gym is nearly finished; it may be open for Thursday's game against Walled Lake Western).

"It was a struggle, I'm telling you," Chiefs' coach Bob Blohm said, his team now 8-1 overall, 3-0 in the WLAA. "They made some shots at key times.

"They made a game out of it. We struggled with their zones, and passing and catching the ball at times. They hung in there good, played us good."

Canton opened up a 12-5 lead after one quarter, but never expanded it until the fourth period. It was 24-17 at the half and 30-24 through three quarters before the Chiefs pulled away with a 12-6 final-quarter spurt.

Kristi Fiorenzi led Canton with 16 points (on 8-of-12 floor shooting) and 10 rebounds. "We just couldn't get her the ball enough," said Blohm. Melissa Marzolf contributed 10 points and Kristin Lukasik had six points and six assists.

Jessie Jenkins topped Churchill with nine points.

The loss dropped the Chargers to 1-2 in the league.

Rocks tie — and still win; Canton improves to 3-0

CROSS COUNTRY

Winning a tie isn't easy, but Plymouth Salem's boys cross country team managed to pull it out.

Salem ran against North Farmington at Oakland Community College on Thursday and the final score was 28-28.

But the Rocks were determined the victor when Theron Stinar outran Andy Karl to the finish line. Stinar was timed in 19:24; Karl in 19:41.

It's the "sixth-man rule" invoked to break ties in Western Lakes Activities Association contests. Salem is now 2-0 in the Lakes Division and 2-1 overall.

The Raiders captured places 1-2-5-9-11, while the Rocks took 3-4-6-7-8.

Top finishers, in order, were: Jon Berman (NF) 18:01; Charlie Stamboulian (NF) 18:11; Justin Draplin (PS) 18:27; Greg Mitchell (PS) 18:31; Chris Smith (NF) 18:40; Andy Briggs (PS) 18:44; Jon Grey (PS) 19:01; Bobby Cushman (PS) 19:22; and Andy Crane (NF) 19:23.

"It was a nice close meet," Salem coach Geoff Baker said. "It was nip and tuck. I wasn't sure who was going to win."

"We ran some pretty good times. It was a course they haven't seen before so they were kind of going in blind. Our first couple of guys went out hard in the first mile. They looked a little tired, but they came back and ran well at the end."

Salem ran Saturday at the Crestwood Invitational at Ford Field in Dearborn. The Rocks have a conference match against Farmington at OCC Wednesday.

Canton cruises

The mid-season break is here for Plymouth Canton's boys team, and they enter it in fine fashion -- unbeaten in WLAA dual meets.

Putting five runners in the top six was dominating enough for the Chiefs to post a 16-45 triumph over Northville Thursday at Cass Benton. "They're coming along," said Canton coach Mike Spitz as his team headed into a weekend off. "I think they're staying sharp mentally."

Shaun Moore paced the Chiefs with a first-place finish (17:18). Sanjay Sharma was second (17:52), Adam DeGiorgio was third (17:57), Jason Diamond was fourth (17:57) and Jason Vergari was sixth (18:28). Other Canton finishers: Bob Mayer, eighth (18:45), and Jerry Reynolds, ninth (18:52).

The win improved the Chiefs' dual-meet record to 3-0 overall, 2-0 in the WLAA.

Next up: a dual-meet against Livonia Churchill at Cass Benton 4 p.m. Thursday.

Canton girls supreme

Like their male counterparts, the Canton girls had last week-end off, and they entered the break with an unblemished record in dual meets.

The Lady Chiefs swept past Northville, 17-44 Thursday at Cass Benton. That gave them a 3-0 overall dual-meet mark, 2-0 in the WLAA.

The previous Saturday, Canton claimed the top spot in their second-consecutive invitational, winning the 10-team Monroe Jefferson Invitational.

Against Northville, Becky Wolfrom finished first (20:18). Beth Knight was second (20:25), Angkana Roy took third (21:18), Lori Schmidt was fifth (21:23) and Christiana Bradford was sixth (21:39). Other Canton finishers: Jamie Vergari, eighth (22:16), and Darcy Crain, ninth (22:16).

At the Monroe Jefferson Invite, Canton scored 35 points to finish well ahead of second-place Livonia Churchill (77). Belleville was third (99).

Wolfrom was third overall (20:06), with Knight fourth (20:13), Roy eighth (20:54), Vergari ninth (20:54), Bradford 11th (20:56), Schmidt 12th (20:59) and Crain 22nd (21:27).

The Chiefs run against Churchill at 4 p.m. Thursday at Cass Benton in a WLAA dual meet.

Salem girls rule

Capturing four of the top five places was enough to propel Plymouth Salem's girls team to a 20-39 victory over WLAA foe North Farmington Thursday at OCC.

The win improved Salem's record to 2-0 in the Lakes Division, 2-1 overall. North is 1-2 in the Lakes, 3-3 overall.

Nicole Bolton led the Rocks, finishing first in 20:02. Kristie Giddings was second (20:14), Evelyn Rahhal was fourth (21:07), Ellen Stemmer was fifth (21:10) and Erin Lang was eight (21:48). Other Salem finishers: Lisa Jasnowski, ninth (22:11), and Vanessa Bodnar, 10th (22:23).

The Rocks have a key divisional meet Wednesday when they run against Farmington at 4 p.m. at OCC.

Harrison, North stumble against the rejuvenated Rocks

GOLF

Plymouth Salem took a step up for the season by winning two boys golf matches last week -- making one a rare road victory.

"We're undefeated at home," Rocks' boys golf coach Rick Wilson said. "We kept that string going. What was great about Thursday's win was we won on the road.

"We had two close matches against (Livonia) Churchill and Stevenson, both on the road. So it was significant to win on the road.

"And also because of the (weather) conditions. I was pleased to see the players manage the weather."

Salem defeated Farmington Hills Harrison, 206-213, Thursday at San Marino. The Rocks are now 5-2-1 while the Hawks slipped to 2-4.

Salem's Brian Fox was the medalist with a 37 in driving rain and wind.

The Rocks' other scorers were Ryan Deschaw 39, Jeff Lear 40, Adam Wilson 45 and Mark Runchey 45.

The Hawks were led by Muhamet Sulejman, who shot a 39. Next were Brian Grohman and Adam Tandon at 41, Jeff Boxman 44 and Chad Hines 48.

"Both of us coaches were talking," Wilson said. "We were thinking about calling it off, but we decided, no, we may encounter more of this weather in the conference, regionals and state meet.

"So we decided to play through it. Let's hope we don't get that kind of weather, but we might as well prepare for it."

Salem drubbed North Farmington, 209-221, Wednesday at Hilltop Golf Course.

Lear medaled with a 38 followed on Salem's team by Runchey at 40, Fox 42, Deschaw 44 and Aaron Pawlowski with a 45.

North Farmington was led by Andrew Wantuck at 41 and Brandon Finkel at 42. Derek Spicer shot 44 while Chris Reading and Nick Pfeifer each shot 47.

North Farmington is now 2-3.

2nd half lifts Crusaders

SOCCER

Siena Heights simply couldn't keep pace with Madonna University's visiting soccer team Thursday.

The Saints kept it close for one half, anyway; the game was tied at 1-all at halftime. But after that the match belonged to the Fighting Crusaders, who poured in four second-half goals to win easily, 5-1.

The triumph improved Madonna's record to 6-2.

The Crusaders got two goals apiece from Christian Emert and Jason Stempien, and one goal from Andy Makins (from Plymouth Salem). Assists went to Scott Emert, Ryan Mollien, Seamus Rustin, Ryan Thomason and Mark Zathey (Livonia Churchill).

Mike Schroeder was in goal for most of the game.

Madonna hosts Michigan Christian College at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at Livonia Ladywood.

SC 1, Macomb CC 0: The game meant more to Schoolcraft College than it did to Macomb CC.

The Ocelots played that way Wednesday, scoring an early goal and then holding off the previously-unbeaten Monarchs to get the victory at SC.

The loss was Macomb's first of the season (now 6-1 overall, 4-1 in Region 12). SC improved to 5-4-2 overall, 4-1 in the region.

Matt Keller pounded home a shot after just three minutes and that, it turned out, was all the Ocelots needed. Travis Miller (Redford Catholic Central) was in goal for the shutout.

"These were outstanding performances in our best defensive effort since our first two matches in New York," according to SC coach Van Dimitriou, were turned in by Billy Krips, Joe Sisko and James Bossieux (both from Canton), Chris Jaskolski (Salem), Mike Minicilli and Pete Lechowicz (Livonia Stevenson), Garrett Maki, Mike Preston and Igli Vokopola.

SC plays at University of Michigan at 5 p.m. Wednesday, then hosts Moraine Valley at noon Saturday.

17th-ranked Madonna rolls past outgunned Concordia

VOLLEYBALL

Quick start -- quick finish.

That's how Madonna University's volleyball team dealt with Concordia College Thursday at Madonna. Efficiently. No time wasted.

Final score was 15-1, 15-8, 15-12. The victory improved Madonna's record to 19-2; Concordia slipped to 6-5.

Julie Martin, a senior from Livonia Stevenson, led the attack for the Lady Crusaders with 19 kills and the defense with eight blocks and four digs. Kelly McCausland, a senior from Redford Union, collected 16 kills on offense and six digs on defense.

McCausland's performance the previous week had earned her NAIA Great Lakes Sectional player of the week honors. At the Tri-State Invitational, she had 64 kills with an attack percentage of .449, 17 blocks and 50 digs, and she was named to the all-tournament team.

Madonna's performance has earned them a No. 17 ranking in the NAIA.

In the win over the Cardinals, Erin Gregoire contributed 11 digs; Meg Paris had 28 assists-to-kills in two games; and Deanne Helsom had 11 assists in two games. Heather Steinhelper had seven digs and three kills, and Erin Comment had seven digs and two kills.

Madonna plays at University of Michigan-Dearborn Tuesday and at Wayne State University Thursday. Both matches are at 7 p.m.

Borgess jolts Marian

BASKETBALL

Redford Bishop Borgess star center Ayisha Smith made three shots from three-point range Thursday night against Birmingham Marian.

She let everyone know that free throws, even with the pressure mounting and the time on the scoreboard clock dwindling, weren't going to be a problem either.

Smith made two free throws with seven seconds left in the second overtime, leading the Redford Bishop Borgess girls basketball team to a 58-57 upset victory over host Marian.

The Spartans, 5-3 overall, improved to 2-0 in the Catholic League Central Division. Marian, one of the top rated teams in Class A, fell to 5-2 overall and 1-1 in the Central Division.

Smith led the Spartans with 18 points, while teammate Tiffany Simon contributed 15. Christina Anderson and Regina Respert, the hero at the end of regulation, added eight each.

Marian was led by Mary Trupiano and Stacey Yankovich with 12 points each.

The Spartans struggled early with Marian's press and trailed 15-7 after one quarter. The Mustangs led 31-22 at halftime and 44-37 after three quarters before the Spartans mounted a comeback.

Borgess outscored Marian, 10-3, in the fourth quarter with the biggest basket coming from Respert, whose three-pointer with three seconds left forced OT tied at 47.

The Spartans showed poise in setting up Respert's heroics. Marian missed the front end of a one-and-one attempt with about 13 seconds left and the Spartans, without a timeout remaining, calmly found Respert for the open three attempt.

"We wanted either Ayisha or Regina to take the three," Borgess coach Dave Mann said.

Both teams scored seven points in the first OT before Borgess was able to outscore Marian, 4-3, in the second extra session.

The Spartans had a four-point lead early in the first OT before allowing the Mustangs to force a second session after Kellie Byers 12-foot shot tied the score at 54 with :03 on the clock.

Marian took its last lead on a shot by sophomore center Nicole Anajiounu with :12 left in the second OT. Borgess inbounded the ball, crossed half-court and called a timeout.

The ball eventually ended up in Smith's hands and she was fouled. She calmly made both free throws for a 58-57 lead. The suspense still wasn't over, however, as Marian's Breean Walas drove the length of the court and her contested layup rolled off the rim.

Victory, finally, for the Spartans.

Charlie Schmidt which put the ball at the Rockets' 35.

Two plays later quarterback Nathan Gray found Mike Rodriguez alone behind the defense and laid a 33-yard touchdown pass in the little guy's arms. That made it 31-7 with 1:25 left in the half.

Salem came out in the second half and on the second play, Gray hit James Chapman with a pass down the left sideline and the wingback outraced the John Glenn defenders to score a 75-yard touchdown.

Gray completed 4-of-14 passes for 116 yards and also ran six times for 22 yards. John Glenn took Salem's ground game away, holding the Rocks to 81 yards rushing.

There were three turnovers for Salem and one for John Glenn but none were blatantly weather related. It rained quite hard in the second half and neither team was able to sustain a drive.

Salem battled to the end, however, which pleased Moshimer.

"I'm proud of that," he said. "You can't ask for any more than that. I feel good about that because we could have packed it in early.

"But we'll go from here. It's a new week and a new opponent."

Right enough. North Farmington for John Glenn and Farmington for Salem.

secutive dual meet triumph, 123-63 over Westland John Glenn Thursday at Salem.

The Rocks won nine of the 12 events in cruising to the victory.

In the 200-yard freestyle relay, Kathy Kelly, Carrie Dzialo, Kellyann Williams and Yvonne Lynn finished first and bettered the Class A state qualifying standard (1:44.31).

In the 200 medley relay, Lynn, Katie Bonner, Williams and Dzialo combined for a first (1:57.73); and in the 400 free relay, Sarah Rogers, Jess Hala, Lori McKay and Lindsay Hartz teammed for a win (4:04.82).

Individual winners for the Rocks were Hala in the 200 free (2:10.76); Rogers in the 200 individual medley (2:31.59); Williams in the 50 free (25.78); McKay in the 100 butterfly (1:08.22); Bonner in the 500 free (5:56.97); and Stephanie Tyler in the 100 backstroke (1:10.99).

Salem swims against Farmington at North Farmington at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Christian Singles Network

Dear Christian Singles Network,
Hi! Just a few lines to let you know, Gary and I were married November 11,1995. We just celebrated our 10th month anniversary. We are very much in love, and enjoying every bit of what the Lord has blessed us with.
We thank God everyday for helping you put Christian Singles Network together so we could finally meet, and spend the rest of our loving lives together until the Lord Jesus Christ calls us home.
We again, thank Christian Singles Network for helping both of us find our soul mates.
God Bless Christian Singles Network and all the men and women out there searching for their soul mate. Just keep the faith!
God Bless

Wow! 1997 BMW Z3 is pure fun

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

BMW's longtime motto has been "The Ultimate Driving Machine."

With the 1997 BMW Z3, ultimate is an understatement.

Get behind the wheel of this finely crafted instrument and start to play with it. Everything is right there, waiting, wanting to be touched. Knobs and controls are large enough that an ape could drive this thing.

Top speed: 140 mph.

My only wish is that I could have driven it on the speed-limitless Autobahn. It begs to be opened up every time you press down on the gas pedal. A license to speed.

From its traditional BMW heritage and distinctive styling to its ease of operation, this roadster is pure, unadulterated fun.

Everyone noticed this "Bond company car" when I drove it. Some poor gentleman riding his bicycle in Royal Oak craned his head a little too long and crashed into a parked car.

Powered by a 1.9-liter 4-cylinder engine mated to a 5-speed manual transmission, the Z3 is the first BMW roadster to hit the States since 1959, when BMW released the 507, and then in 1988 produced the Z1. Both were available only to the affluent and are collector cars today.

In contrast, the Z3 — although just as exotic as its predecessors — is affordable at just $28,750. It's pure BMW engineering at its very best and the Z3 is assembled by American hands in Spartanburg, S.C.

With a wheelbase of just 96.3 inches, the Z3 is 10 inches shorter than BMW's 3-series models. The shorter wheelbase and wide front and rear track immediately give it a tough front stance. The front grille — again, pure BMW — further differentiate it from anything else on the road.

The Z3 is very agile, quick in handling and has a better-than-you-would-expect ride. The front and rear suspension systems are the same as you would find in the 3-series. It's a quiet ride even with the top secured and the windows rolled up.

This open 2-seater has a manual folding top that's very easy to use. Two quick arms release it from the front windshield and it's back there with the flick of the wrist. The entire top can be hidden with a smart-looking and easy-to-install soft cover that matches the interior color. The manual top is also very light, so you don't have to get out of the car to reinstall it.

As for safety — which is a valid concern with roadsters — BMW was mindful to crash-test it in straight frontal and offset barrier crashes. It meets the 1997 standards for side impacts. There are also reinforced windshield pillars to protect the occupants during a rollover accident.

Instrumentation is smartly done, and the speedometer has great graphics with white numbers on a black background. There's also a tachometer and temp and fuel gauges.

The rear trunk is, well, as you would expect it to be — not too practical. There are storage places throughout the car, however, including in the pretty big glovebox, center console, doors, behind the seats and a lockable compartment directly behind the seats.

There's even a power outlet right up front for that cellular phone or radar detector.

The standard equipment list is right up there with the best: Twin-tube gas-pressure shock absorbers, engine-speed-sensitive variable-assist power steering, 4-wheel vacuum-assisted disc brakes, antilock brakes, 16-inch cast alloy wheels, body-color bumpers, power windows, courtesy lights, cruise control, digital clock, 4-way power driver's seat, 2-way power passenger's seat, leather steering wheel, shift knob, handbrake grip and boot, power windows, air conditioning and dual airbags.

Standard is an AM/FM cassette stereo with six speakers. You wouldn't know it. If there's one thing this baby needs it's headrest-mounted speakers. On a freeway, you lose the stereo. Heck, on a busy street, you lose it.

But the car is so cool it's easy to overlook.

One neat feature is the intermittent wipers. When you're driving, they're going full tilt. When you slow speed or come to a stop, the windshield automatically gets intermittent wiping.

The option list is worth mentioning — all-season traction control, automatic transmission, leather upholstery, heated seats, outside mirrors and windshield washer jets, an aero kit, cell phone, CD changer, remote keyless entry and smoker package, just to name a few.

This car is really cool. James Bond drove it. Why shouldn't you?

Many Cold-Weather Car Problems Are Preventable

(AAA) – Basic car care and early preparation are the keys to safe and enjoyable cold-weather driving, according to the American Automobile Association.

"Winter breakdowns are more likely to occur when batteries are weak and when regular maintenance is neglected," said George Giek, managing director of AAA Automotive Services.

Based on a review of 27.5 million calls for emergency road service in 1995, AAA makes the following suggestions for avoiding winter-driving headaches:

- Have your vehicle thoroughly inspected. The engine oil, radiator, tires, battery and ignition system all must be in top condition to perform properly in cold weather. Windshield wipers, brakes, tires and exterior lights also should be checked.
- Prepare a winter survival kit. Suggested items include: a flashlight, blankets, booster cables, a warning device (flares or reflective triangle), a small bag of abrasive material (sand or nonclumping cat litter), cloth or roll of paper towels and a small shovel.
- To prevent fuel line freeze-up and to avoid running out of gas in dangerous, cold conditions, keep your fuel tank at least half full.
- Before attempting to jump-start a vehicle, always consult your owner's manual for hook-up instructions and safety information.
- Consider carrying a cellular phone or CB radio to summon assistance in case of an emergency.

"Vehicle failure is inconvenient any time of year, but roadside breakdowns in winter can quickly turn into dangerous situations," said Giek. "With careful preparation, however, cold-weather driving can be safe and enjoyable."
