Joint efforts studied for Bicentennial

By DARLENE STINSON

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—The intergovernmental committee started the ball rolling toward an area-wide bicentennial commission at its fourth meeting Wednesday night.

Composed of representatives from the City of Plymouth, the Plymouth Community School District and Canton, Plymouth, Salem and Superior townships, the committee took further steps to establish an area-wide recreational authority and the possible establishment of a semi-annual school tax collection.

Absent from Wednesday's meeting were representatives from Salem Township.

NORBERT BATTERMANN, representing the City of Plymouth, launched the area-wide bicentennial concept.

"The things being proposed by Plymouth's bicentennial committee are to the mutual interests of all communities," Battermann told representatives. "The bid for state funds would be much stronger, if it's a total community effort."

"If you say you represent 60,000 people, you have a stronger argument than if you say you represent 20,000," he said.

State funds for bicentennial projects are available to communities on a matching grant basis. The city, Battermann said, is already preparing its application for state funds.

Battermann first moved that municipalities within the Plymouth Community School District form an intergovernmental bicentennial committee and retain their own.

BUT AT THE prompting of other representatives, Battermann amended his motion to form one integrated bicentennial committee, sanctioned by individual governing bodies.

"I had anticipated we would give up our unique individuality in favor of more integrated activities," said Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

Representatives unanimously agreed to ask their municipalities' bicentennial commissions to meet on an area-wide basis on Wednesday, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the school administration building.

Representatives from Plymouth and Canton townships' bicentennial committees met with the city's committee on Feb. 27. Battermann said, and expressed interest in projects endorsed by the city's bicentennial committee.

Those projects include the production of a 30- to 45-minute video tape, featuring the area's past, present and future, by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women, according to Peggy Fisher, publicity chairperson for the city's bicentennial commission.

THE COMMISSION also hopes to purchase new uniforms for the heritage-oriented fife and drum corps. Mrs. Fisher said.

Battermann told intergovernmental representatives, "I'm sure when the total group gets together, we could bring up other things."

Despite the establishment of an area-wide bicentennial commission, Richard Innes, a representative from Superior Township, pointed out that individual communities could still sponsor their own projects.

School board vice president Marda Benson added, "I think it would be great if we could restore one of the area's old schools to see what it was like 50 or 80 years ago. I would hope there would be one or two projects we could leave for posterity."

In other action, representatives scheduled a meeting for Wednesday, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

REPRESENTATIVES will tour the center and discuss the proposed establishment of an area-wide recreational authority. Under the proposed plan, each participating unit of government would offer a recreational facility for the area's use and possibly contribute funds for a recreation director's salary and the construction of new area-wide facilities.

"I thought a meeting at the Cultural Center would get the ball rolling," explained Battermann.

Representatives also agreed to ask their municipality's treasurers to meet with Raymond Hoedel, the school district's assistant superintendent for business, to discuss the possible establishment of a semi-annual school tax collection.

According to school board treasurer Thomas Yack, the district is forced to borrow money to run the schools each September, since taxes are currently collected in December for the July 1 to June 30 fiscal year.

The district this year had to borrow $4 million in anticipation of the December tax collection, Yack said, a loan that will cost $200,000 in interest.

IF TAXES were collected twice a year, a loan would not be necessary, Yack said, and interest dollars saved could be used for new programs.

"Our office comes to a halt at tax season," Greenstein told representatives. "If the schools would be willing to take that collection off our backs and offer the slightest advantage, we'd probably be willing to go along with you."

Battermann said the schools should demonstrate an advantage to taxpayers before implementing a semi-annual tax collection.

"There are all kinds of things that could be done," Yack said.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING was the story at Livonia Franklin Friday night as the Plymouth Salem Rocks took their first regional basketball award home for the trophy case. Tourney Director George Lovich hands the coveted award over to the Rocks and

Regional tournament crown gives Rocks a niche in history

By R.T. THOMPSON

What a beautiful sight to see almost 2,000 wild-eyed Plymouth basketball fans pouring out of the Livonia Franklin gym after that tremendous victory over Detroit Denby Friday.

It would have to be admitted that although all of the fans were hoping for a Plymouth victory, there were quite a few skeptics. They were the ones who didn't think the Rocks would be able to cut it with the intimidating tactics of the Tars, their tight zone defense, their even tighter full court press and naturally 6-10 Stuart House.

There isn't any question that Plymouth is just now reaching peak form. Everyone of the wildly cheering fans was wondering if the team can keep it up against Pontiac Central in next Thursday's quarterfinals at Ferndale High.

(For more game details see Sports Page 12)

Tickets went on sale today (Monday) at Salem High School. Athletic Director John Sandmann said Friday after the game that he planned to pick up the tickets Monday morning.

JOHN HAD NO idea how many tickets would be allotted to Plymouth but thought the school would be entitled to about half the seating capacity of the huge Ferndale gym which is believed to be about 3,500.

Judging from the way the fans stormed the gates at Franklin, it would be a fair guess to say if you don't have a ticket before going to Ferndale, don't go. Chances are about even the gym will be packed an hour ahead of the starting time and hundreds will be turned away.

That was the situation Friday. The Plymouth stands were practically filled at 7:20 p.m. and Blue rosters just about raised the roof when their favorite team came out for the pre-game workout at 7:30 p.m.

Needless to say, Denby had the court well in advance of that time and gave a demonstration of dunking, something that is forbidden under Michigan high school rules. However, the referees are not required to come out and watch the teams practice until a half-hour before game time.

WHEN THE GENTS in the striped shirts appeared, Denby immediately stopped the shenanigans and went into straight shooting drills. Apparently the players had their moment of glory and made the most of it, but when it came time to settle down, they did.

There were no monkey shines for the Rocks. Coach Fred Thomann had his players keyed up for this one and they acted like it from the very beginning.

This wasn't the same team that played Thurston Wednesday night. That team seemed to sense it had the upper hand and played like it.

No such thing against Denby. The Rocks came roaring out and they never let up. They were on top of the Tars all the way and especially in the final period when Denby switched to a pressing full court defense that was tough to crack. Plymouth made a couple of miscues that led to Denby baskets but quickly regained composure to pull ahead again for the victory.

BIG ERIC Agardy scored the first three points for Plymouth but from then on until the final minute it was anybody's game. The Rocks took the lead midway through the third quarter and stayed in front for the remainder of the time.

Twice Denby was within two points, 49-47, and again at 51-49.

That's when the Blues really went to work. Agardy tapped in a rebound to make it 53-49. Mark Moulton dropped in a pair of free throws and Denby was up again within a couple, 53-51.

Brian Wolcott netted a pair of foul and Plymouth was in front, when he hooked one in from underneath and there you were, the Rocks had the victory in hand, 57-51.

The gym was a madhouse from that moment as the Plymouth rosters realized they had a team in the state quarterfinals for the first time.

PERHAPS IT WAS a good thing there were some Livonia policemen alongside of the court to keep the Plymouthites from rushing on the court before the final whistle.

It was a night to howl and Plymouth did exactly that.

Leaving the gym, one heard high praise for Agardy who turned in his best performance.

For a big man he was all over the court, grabbing rebounds, blocking shots, scoring occasionally, and helping teammates when they ran into trouble with the full court press.

It was a big night for every single one of the players and they received pats on the back from numerous former Plymouth star cagers who were rooting for this team to do something they had never done... a berth in the quarterfinals.

Standing in the entrance to the locker room as the players filed in was Principal Bill Brown. He just had to have the biggest smile you ever saw.

FOR THE MORE than 200 fans who arrived late and couldn't get inside the gym, be advised that fans were seated alongside the court, standing in the ends and along the walls.

Those standing never did get a seat.

It was a victory that will long be remembered in Plymouth, especially by those who played for Plymouth High and still can't understand the complete loss of identity to the community by calling the school Salem High. It sure would be nice to have a school that would get headlines in the metro newspapers referring to Plymouth instead of Salem.

DESPITE A triple team effort by the Denby Tars all evening, Plymouth's 6-10 center Eric Agardy (54) chipped in 17 points and 20 rebounds in the Rock's 57-53 regional tourney victory over Detroit Denby. Agardy's strong performance on defense was coupled with Brian Wolcott's 21 points to lead the Rocks to their first regional tourney championship. (Staff photo by Bob Woodruff)

Kinnick resigns his seat

CANTON—Citing irreconcilable differences, former chairman Joseph R. Kinnick resigned from the township planning commission Wednesday.

Kinnick said, "Some of the actions of the commission, of which the election is part, are hard to condone. I can't in good conscience continue on the commission because the direction they are going is not what I think is right. I have no animosities toward anyone, but I think it's time for me to leave and let them get someone who thinks more like they do."

Kinnick was replaced as head of the planning commission three weeks ago when Gus Matzo was elected new chairman. Kinnick and Commissioner Bob Simmons were absent from the meeting.

Said Kinnick, "I was sick in bed all that week and they voted when everyone wasn't there. I can't continue on the commission and wonder what will happen every time I have to be absent. I can't be looking behind my back all the time."

"I'M NOT CALLING names, that is not worth the hassle. If they want to go a certain direction that is fine and dandy, but I cannot be part of it. I question the things being done and the attitude of the commission."

"I called Bob (Supervisor Greenstein) on Wednesday and told him that I could no longer in good conscience continue. He's free now to put in someone who he thinks can do a better job. I don't think he had any qualms about me and I hope they can get someone who is happy with the situation."

Greenstein commented, "I accepted Mr. Kinnick's resignation with regret. However, I thoroughly understand from personal conversation with him that he is very involved in other activities, especially junior athletics and Little League. He explained that as the summer arrives he will have less time to devote to the planning commission.

"In as much as we are drawing up the master land use plan, I think he showed excellent judgment by allowing someone to take his place before the retreat and the heavy work on the land use plan."

"I WILL ASK the board to select someone Tuesday night (March 10) so we can fill the vacancy his resignation creates. It's important that we do it as soon as possible so we can get someone who is able to participate in the retreat."

Kinnick was appointed to the planning commission in March of 1973. He replaced Lynn Wilson, who quit over a six-month moratorium on multiples and the denial of the township board to rezone 110 acres in Northwest Canton after the planning commission had approved it. George Lawton also quit at that time.

Kinnick had been considered by the board as a replacement for trustee Ray Deeds shortly before he was named to the commission. After Brian Schwall was appointed to the board, Kinnick received the planning commission post.

Teachers must file own appeals

Teachers must file their own appeals under the Teacher Tenure Act and may not delegate their appeal to another teacher or organization.

That's the ruling of the Michigan Teacher Tenure Commission made in a case involving eight Lincoln Park

School District teachers who were among 82 teachers laid off in March 1973.

The commission also ruled it has no authority to enforce collective bargaining agreements.

The Lincoln Park Education Association bargaining unit for teachers, protested to the Lincoln Park School Board its failure to reinstate teachers who had tenure. None of the teachers had initiated an appeal to the Lincoln Park School Board on personal behalf.

The commission ruled alleged violations of teachers' rights must be appealed by the teacher because there is no provision in the Tenure Act for a teacher to delegate this responsibility.

When the eight teachers who were not recalled appealed the local board's decision to the Tenure Commission, the case was dismissed.

The ruling on collective bargaining agreements was made after an appeal by a Center Line elementary school teacher who said she was denied sick leave benefits after being placed on maternity leave of absence without pay in April 1974.

Indian aid drive seeks more food

Collections are going slowly in a drive to collect cans of food for Indians on the western side of the state.

The Western Wayne County Conservation Association's Indian affairs committee is seeking several thousand cans of food by March 24 to distribute to Indian schools and settlements.

Chairman Hank Chruscial, who handles the collection from his home at 19345 Brentwood, Livonia, reported several groups have either aided or promised to aid the effort, but collections are generally slow this year.

Girl Scout Cadet Troop 989 of Garden City is conducting a food drive, and students at Tanger Elementary School in Plymouth have voted to make a collection. Chruscial said.

A Plymouth Cub Scout pack has collected 150 cans, an area woman donated 20 cans and Sanders has contributed some candy.

Twice a year or oftener, the Indian affairs committee, with the aid of ironworkers union members, takes food, toys, clothing and household goods to Indian settlements ranging from Berrien County to the upper peninsula.

How to teach reading is topic

Important issues in teaching reading will be the topic of a workshop at Madonna College in Livonia on Thursday, March 13.

Leading the workshop will be Dr. Carl Smith, professor of education at Indiana University, and his wife, Mary Gardner Smith, a reading consultant to the MacMillan Co.

Teacher and teacher education students are invited to attend the open session at 7 p.m. in the College Science Lecture Hall, 36600 Schoolcraft at Levan.

Smith, recipient of the National Education Association school bell award for service to education through journalism in 1965, has written teachers' texts and instructional materials for children. He is also senior author of a new basic reading program for the MacMillan Publishing Co. and has written a book entitled "Getting People to Read: Volunteer Programs That Work."

Mrs. Smith has been a reading consultant with MacMillan for eight years and has 25 years of classroom teaching experience.

Hartley named to mortgage post

DUANE L. HARTLEY has been promoted to assistant vice president and manager of First Federal Savings and Loan Association's Redford mortgage office.

Hartley has worked in the mortgage department of the association's main office, and the Quakertown and Redford branch offices. He joined the organization in 1955.

SC offers 'Job Ready' workshop

Schoolcraft College has planned a "Job Ready" workshop from 1-3 p.m., March 14 in room 530 of the Forum Building. The session is free.

The workshop is designed for persons who are considering a mid-life career switch or planning to return to work. Individuals who plan to participate should have previously earned 30 or more hours of college credit regardless of where or when they took their coursework.

Dr. Ron Monfette, the college's director of placement, will coordinate the workshop. Resume preparation and interviewing techniques are two areas he plans to cover with a lecture followed by a question and answer period.

No pre-registration is necessary. Further information may be obtained by calling Jean Christensen in the community service office.

OCC offers ad course

An advertising class featuring a number of guest speakers and a tour of a large advertising agency is being offered by the business administration department of the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College.

The class will meet on Tuesday evenings from 7-10 p.m., beginning April 29 and continuing for seven weeks.

Students will discuss what constitutes a good ad; what is deceptive advertising; and various mass media.

Animals suffer from tight economy too

By RICHARD GOLD

WESTLAND—The victims of unemployment and recession are numerous, and often obvious. Long lines and filled parking lots at the Michigan Employment Security Commission offices are testament to worsening economic conditions.

But among those hurt by the slumping economy, some voiceless, go unnoticed.

Among the first to suffer from belt tightening are dogs and cats. Once found in living rooms, they are now on the streets and in animal shelters.

At the Westland branch of the Michigan Humane Society at 37255 Marquette, the no vacancy sign is out. It is a clean and modern facility, but inside exists ample evidence of the burgeoning animal overpopulation problem.

THE HARSH realities of the problem greet the visitor to the animal shelter just past the office door where the din of baying animals saturates the front room. A second door leads to the pens.

Inside that door the animals beg for attention. The puppies, with bodies wriggling, jump up, their eyes begging. The older dogs, perhaps sensing the futility, are more subdued, but their eyes also beseech the passerby. Even the cats, traditionally independent and aloof, poke a paw out between the bars of their pens, also pleading for attention and a new home.

Some of the animals seem to have given up, and sit motionless in the rear of their cages, watching carelessly.

"We don't make any pie in the sky statements about any given animal—we can't and don't promise what will happen to an animal that is brought in to us," says Gary Frazell, executive director of all three branches the society operates. (There are branches in Detroit and Pontiac.)

Statistics verify that promises are hard to make.

LAST YEAR, more than 60,000 animals, primarily dogs and cats, found their way into the three branches of the humane society. Little more than one sixth left, says Frazell.

Frazell estimates that 12,000 animals were placed in 1974. Another 40,000-50,000 were "adopted" by the altitude chamber, a suffocation device used to destroy the unwanted animals.

Of the animals destroyed each year,

Frazell says that many are not adoptable. "We have a veterinarian who checks in all the animals we receive. Many are sick and aged and really would not make good pets."

Ray Sowards, manager of the Westland branch, says that more than 2,000 animals are handled monthly by the facility he manages.

The Westland branch handles animals from Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Redford Township, Westland and starting next month, Canton Township.

"We have an adoption committee of four people, including our veterinarian. It decides which animals stay and which are destroyed," comments Sowards. "If I had to choose by myself, I wouldn't be able to sleep at night. It's hard to play God by yourself."

According to Sowards, the Westland facility has a higher placement percentage than the national average. "We place about 25 per cent of the animals we get each year. About 60 per cent are destroyed here, and the rest are strays that are returned to owners."

WITH THE SLUMPING economy, however, placements are dropping and dogs that are placed are usually smaller. More owners are bringing their animals to the society saying that they can no longer afford to keep them. This puts an even greater pressure on the society because there has been a constant upward trend in the animal overpopulation problem. Says Frazell, "As the human population grows, so does the animal overpopulation. We have an increase every year."

The Westland facility is capable of housing up to 200 animals and they are often full or close to capacity.

"We often ask people to hold onto their animals a few days until we have an opening," says Sowards.

The length of time an animal is housed by the society varies greatly. "It depends on a lot of things," says Frazell, "such as the condition of the dog physically, its age, its temperament, and what kind of population we have here at the time—but the average animal stays with us about five days."

According to Mrs. Dotti Chapoff, an employee at the Westland branch, the society is obligated by state law to hold unlicensed animals for four days and licensed pets for seven days. After that, their stay depends on their "adoptability."

BITE CASES, those animals brought in for biting people, have the least chance, usually, of being adopted. They are held for 10 days to see if they have rabies, after which they are usually destroyed. Adds Mrs. Chapoff, "We are providing pets for people and we really can't afford to adopt most of the bite cases."

The society is a non profit agency and is funded through adoption fees. ($21 for a dog, $16 for a cat) contracts with nearby municipalities, and donations. Last year it had an operating budget of $800,000. "Donations are our greatest source of revenue," says Frazell, "without them we wouldn't be able to operate on the scale we do."

Aside from placing animals, the society also operates clinics for sick animals, and employs an investigator who checks into cruelty complaints. Frazell comments, "We have a great deal of complaints and our investigator is usually overwhelmed."

THE BIGGEST effort the society has undertaken, aside from placing animals, is a program to get pets neutered.

They offer a spaying clinic at their Detroit operation for pet owners who cannot afford the usual $40-$50 it costs to have an animal neutered. They are also rebating half the adoption charge to people who have their animals spayed or castrated after adopting them from the society.

Says Frazell, "Our Detroit clinic cannot handle all the requests we get, so we are forced to pick among the people who can least afford the cost of getting an animal neutered. Our best results have come from the rebate program."

OLD BLUE sits waiting, biding his time in the hopes that he's soon to find a new home. But the odds are against him. Only one-third of the Humane Society's boarders get new homes. The rest must be disposed of. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Airport plan meets opposition

A study that could place a new general aviation airport in the Plymouth-Canton area may stir some hot emotions this week.

Representatives of the intergovernmental committee, who represent the City of Plymouth, the Plymouth Community School District and Canton, Plymouth, and Superior townships, agreed Wednesday to launch the airport issue before their respective governing bodies.

An intergovernmental committee letter, composed of local officials' feelings on the issue, will be drafted by Plymouth Township Trustee Richard Gornick and school board vice president Marda Benson and presented for intergovernmental committee approval on March 26.

The letter will be sent to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), the Environmental Protection Agency and the Wayne County Road Commission in time for the April 1 deadline for recommendations concerning the airport's location.

The FAA, the Michigan Aeronautics Commission and the Wayne County Road Commission will use the letter and reactions from other governing bodies in northwestern Wayne County, southwestern Oakland County and northeastern Washtenaw County to locate a site for a proposed new airport.

"It's basically Wayne County and a narrow strip of land in Oakland and Washtenaw counties that we're considering," said Robert Larson, director of transportation programs for the Wayne County Road Commission, the office in charge of the airport study.

"The airport would be mainly for industrial and commercial purposes plus recreational flying," Larson explained. "If there's enough objections, chances are the FAA would never fund the study. I'm not saying that would happen, but it could."

The road commission will hire a consulting firm to conduct a study on the airport's location, after reactions from local governing bodies are received, Larson explained. The study will last 12 to 15 months.

Environmental evaluation hearings will be held, after the airport site is chosen, Larson said. Financial feasibility studies would then begin.

The Stanford Research Institute recently conducted a statewide

The study outlines a general aviation system goal, under which no person would have to drive more than 30 minutes to reach a general aviation airport.

Larson envisions the airport, proposed for the northwestern Wayne County area, as the equivalent of Pontiac Municipal Airport and Detroit City Airport. With runways up to 5,000 feet, the airport would accommodate small corporate jets and other privately owned aircraft.

But the airport will never be built, if some local officials have their way.

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees has already expressed its opposition to the proposed airport, according to Gornick, who is drafting a letter of opposition on the township's behalf.

The township, Gornick said, objects to the environmental impact the proposed airport would exert and the disturbance it would produce on a residential setting.

Plymouth Township Supervisor J.D. McLaren said a new airport placed near or within the township could stymie the area's residential growth.

"We don't feel we need another airport at this time," McLaren said. "I can think of many reasons. Once the road commission gets into the act, what prevents this from becoming another Metro?"

School board secretary Marcia Borowski stated her opposition at Wednesday's intergovernmental meeting.

"I don't care where the airport is," Mrs. Borowski said. "I say no. I'm astonished that when we're worried about agricultural land, they want to gobble up more miles for an airport."

Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein said the township board will discuss the issue at Tuesday's meeting.

"If they try to put an airport in Canton, they'll have problems," Greenstein said. "I think general aviation is an extremely important part of life. But I think taking vast acreage of land for an airport that should be used for farming is probably not so proper."

"I'm just recognizing that there is a need for general aviation airports," Greenstein said. "But I'm not suggesting we need one in this area."

Norbert Battermann, a Plymouth city commissioner, brought up the airport issue at Wednesday's intergovernmental meeting.

"If we want to take a stand pro or con, then we have a voice that can be heard," Battermann told intergovernmental representatives.

City Manager Fred Yockey said he has not reviewed the study plans for the proposed airport. Such an airport, he said, could attract industry.

"In general, a satellite airport is a desirable feature for industry," Yockey said. "There is more and more aviation as we go on, and more and more business activity at airports."

DONNING COSTUMES AND INSTRUMENTS in preparation for this Saturday's fashion show and concert are (from left in front) Suzy O'Day, 6, Amy Gerish, 8, and Gail Weed, 8, and (from left in back) Bev Raos on violin, Janet Brass, Kryst Draugelis on violin and Lauren Chatterley on piano. The Plymouth Youth Symphony will begin Saturday's event with a 10 a.m. concert at Plymouth Salem High School. A continental breakfast and fashion show, sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League with fashions from Minerva's Dunning's, will follow.

Acting carries Hulce to national TV debut

Too often in recent weeks one has heard the question "What ever became of that golden voiced Hulce boy?"

For those who have been wondering, just turn your television set to Channel 56 Wednesday (March 12) at 8 p.m. and see 21-year-old Tom Hulce perform on the "Theater in America" program. Tom has the role of Frank in "Forget-Me-Not-Lane" by Peter Nichols. It is a production by the Long Wharf Theatre in New Haven, Conn.

Matter of fact, folks in the Plymouth Community may have wondered what happened to the junior high youngster who had starring roles with the U-M Players. They recall he had the role of Oliver in "Oliver" and Tom Warwick in "Camelot." They also remember when he sang a medley of songs in an appearance with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

At the moment he is a standby for Peter Firth in "Equis" a hit on Broadway at the Plymouth Theatre. "Equis" suddenly caught on and has been playing before capacity crowds. Plans are being made to have a road show tour.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulce, 9275 McClumpha, Plymouth, Tom received his high school diploma from the North Carolina School of Arts and then completed his collegiate work at the same institution.

He had training in England under Rose Bruford, at the Interlochen Academy and at Meadowbrook Theatre under John Fernald.

Prior to his current role in "Equis," he appeared at the Williamstown Theatre, Manning St. Theatre in Philadelphia, Boothbay Playhouse in the New England area and the Asolo State Theatre.

He will have a role in a new Maxim Gorky play slated for the American Place Theatre in New York later this month.

That's the story of the golden-voiced youngster who enchanted audiences in Plymouth and Ann Arbor with his singing as a teenager and now is making good on the stage. He always told friends he wanted to be an actor... he appears he's on the way.

ON HIS WAY is Tom Hulce, youthful Plymouth actor, who is shown in the role of young Frank along with Josep Maher, who has the part of the older Frank in the television show slated for Wednesday on Channel 56 at 8 p.m.

After being in a slump for several weeks while working with a new ball she decided to go back to an old one before taking her regular place in the invitational doubles at Merri-Bowl.

This decision proved to be a good one for she rolled games of 245, 210 and 263 for 718. It not only was high for the season in this event, but the highest series rolled by a woman in the area.

Until Mary went on her scoring spree Cora Fiebig was the season leader with a 713 posted in the Bowlerettes League and Bonnie Barnes, of Farmington, was next with 702 in the Ladies Major. But Mary, old ball and all, went to the head of the parade.

ALMOST AS SURPRISING was the showing of Fran Bushey, a 67-year-old woman who turned in a 528 series to help the Red Holman team win the tri-city championship at Wayne Bowl.

This was part of a clean sweep made by the teams from Westland Bowl in the tournament. The winners of the other places were The Swingers and the PDR Motorcycle Club.

To help the Westland sweep all the more satisfying Midge Pashkot, a counter girl, rolled the high single of the tournament with an actual 253. And Ev Hubble, another counter employee, landed second in the all events with 1920.

The "queen," however, was Fran Bushey who still holds her own on a championship team at the age of 67 years.

Tri-River sets all-loop team

Two members of the Garden City West basketball team were named all-league last week by coaches of the Tri-River League.

West, which finished as co-champion, had David Niles and Mike Susko, both juniors, named to the first team.

Niles at 6-4, 170 and Susko at 6-6, 190 are expected to provide the punch for a powerful West team next year.

C'ville opens Jazz Nexus March 13

The New McKinney's Cotton Pickers will perform Thursday, March 13, at 9:30 a.m. in Clarenceville High School, in the first of a five-part Jazz Nexus series, aimed at introducing students and other residents to the history of jazz.

The show is free and open to the public.

The series will feature local musicians demonstrating the variety of sounds including Afro-American, Latin American, big band sounds and geophonic jazz.

Groups playing will include Marcus Bellgrave, Ponchito, Jimmy Wilkins Orchestra and Austin-Moro Band. The one-hour program will be narrated by Gene Elzy, host of WJR's "Music for Moderns."

JAZZ NEXUS is being coordinated by Midge Ellis of Schoolcraft College's cultural and public affairs committee.

It is being funded by Grinnell's, Music Performance Trust Fund and the Detroit Federation of Musicians.

"Using local musicians is an attempt to show students there is a place to play in this area when they've completed high school or college," says Mrs. Ellis.

THE LIVONIA area show will be hosted jointly by Clarenceville and Stevenson high schools. Four concerts will be at Clarenceville and the final show will be at Stevenson.

Seven other high schools in the metropolitan area will host the jazz program including Redford Union High School in Redford Township. The first segment is slated to begin in Redford on April 29.

The western Wayne County schools are three of the 35 schools that voted to bring Jazz Nexus into their communities, and three of the eight selected.

"THIS IS a tremendous opportunity for the community to become acquainted with America's true art form—jazz," adds Mrs. Ellis.

The Dixieland program this Thursday will begin with the origin and development of Dixieland in New Orleans from 1880 through the Rag-time age and into the Roaring '20s.

ANOTHER UNUSUAL happening occurred at Westland when the students from Churchill High School brought their teachers with them to take their turn at the pins.

When the afternoon ended "Hank" Lundy showed the way to the teachers with a 220 in 528 and Mike Rajala posted a 209 and 218 in 546 to pace the students.

HIGH SCORING continued at Wonderland Lanes where John Grinnod rolled a 717 to lead the Redford Bowling Sales team to a 3,308 series. A few lanes away, Fred Dallas and his Mayflower team turned in a 3,220 and Bob Boss opened with a 279 for 739.

THE WOMEN'S STATE tournament that opened last weekend in Lansing, has set an all time record for entries with 3,343 teams. This is one of the largest women's state entries in the country, and shows the rapid growth of the women's ranks.

In 1960, when the event was held in Detroit, it drew 1,236 teams. This jumped to 2,720 in 1971 and now it is among the all time leaders in the country.

ENTRIES FOR THE MEN'S city tournament close this coming weekend.

Secretary Tom McKay is looking for a last minute rush to bring the field up to record proportions when firing starts at Ford Lanes.

BOB BARAN found the range at Garden Lanes this week and then had an unusual time of it. He rolled games of 275 and 198 and then fell back to 132 for a 605— the hard way.

You can save on your income taxes by starting your own retirement plan now.

Your DETROIT BANK-er has information and a FREE brochure about new legislation that makes it possible for you to start your own retirement plan by opening an Individual Retirement Account at Detroit Bank & Trust.

You can save on your income taxes and start saving for retirement at the same time. Here's how the plan works:

You're eligible for an I.R.A. if you're not currently participating in a retirement plan.

Any employed or self-employed person who is not currently covered by any other retirement plan is eligible to open an Individual Retirement Account (I.R.A.). If you are already covered, but have a working spouse who is not, he or she is eligible.

A tax-shelter makes your money worth more now . . . and when you retire.

All contributions to your I.R.A., up to 15% of your earned income (maximum of $1,500 annually), are fully deductible.

Likewise, interest earned on your I.R.A. is exempt from income tax until it is withdrawn. When you finally do begin making withdrawals from your I.R.A., you are taxable only on the amount drawn out each year. And when you retire your effective rate of taxation will probably be lower.

If you invest $1,500 (before taxes) at the beginning of each year, here's what you could accumulate.

At the end of	With the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.	Without the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.

Your Detroit Bank & Trust I.R.A. will be kept current with all present and future requirements of the Internal Revenue Service.

Make deposits as often as you like—up to $1,500 annually.

Regulations permit you to contribute a maximum of $1,500 each year, or 15% of annual wages, whichever is less. Just $25 will open your I.R.A., then it's up to you how much you want to deposit (in amounts of $25 or more) up to the maximum each year. And you can add to your account each payday, or deposit it all in one lump sum.

It only takes a few minutes to put your future in motion.

Opening an Individual Retirement Account is as easy as opening a savings account. Visit any office of Detroit Bank & Trust and ask about an Individual Retirement Account. Just $25 gets you started and your DETROIT BANK-er can set up a Check & Save automatic transfer for you so that you can make regular deposits from your checking account into your I.R.A.

To classroom Welcome, diners

By ETHEL SIMMONS

The menu at the Clipboard restaurant is attached to an ordinary clipboard. At the bottom it reads: "Welcome to our classroom. We're glad you're here."

Part of the Southeast Oakland Vocational Education Center in Royal Oak, the Clipboard is open weekdays to the public for luncheon. Prices are estimated to be 40 percent lower than most other restaurants.

Ben Pearlman, bearded, twinkly-eyed chef instructor, runs the food service program with ease but firm discipline.

The 100 students enrolled are there because they want to learn about cooking, serving, hostessing, managing or owning a food service operation.

THE MIDDLE class-session operates the Clipboard restaurant, and everybody gets a turn to be a waiter or waitress as well as share in meal preparation.

From 80 to 125 persons eat on Mondays through Thursdays at the Clipboard, which seats 60 customers at a time. Fridays, between 125 to 175 customers enjoy the buffet.

Customers come "from Farmington, Warren, Rochester, Detroit," according to Pearlman. They hear about it mostly by "word of mouth."

Menus are mailed out once a month to a list of 400 customers. The standard menu is a varied one, with garden fresh salads, offerings from the sandwich board and from the grill. Side orders and beverages complete the regular menu.

IN ADDITION, there's a "special of the day."

One recent morning, Breast of Chicken Eugenie was taken off the menu when a power blackout in a five-mile area put the morning session (which begins at 8:30 a.m.) two and a half hours behind schedule.

Pearlman adapted, unruffled. "We can serve Chicken Eugenie tomorrow"—along with the next day's special, Lobster Newburg.

Pearlman described Chicken Eugenie as, "Chicken breast dredged in flour, sauteed in butter, placed on a piece of ham, on toast, garnished with a silver dollar mushroom cap, and finished with sauce supreme."

MORE TYPICAL fare is hamburger deluxe—one-quarter pound ground round served with shoestring potatoes, onion rings, cole slaw, lettuce and tomato. The potatoes and onion rings are light, not oily tasting.

Clipboard customers include area school superintendents, teachers and counselors, but the majority of business is from the general public.

Pearlman said many diners are employees of Ford Tractor, Consumers Power and Saks at Somerset Mall. The restaurant is popular with senior citizens, too.

The Clipboard Restaurant isn't out to make a profit.

"Our goal is to break even," Pearlman said. "We make a few dollars a month, and it goes into the school's operating fund."

THE ROYAL OAK School System operates the center, funded by Oakland County. It serves 12 school districts, providing vocational training for some 1,600 students in 29 programs.

If you want to wend your way to the Clipboard, it's at 5055 Delemere between Crooks and Coolidge, north of 14 Mile Road. Hours are 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday.

Another nice thing about the restaurant, from the customer's point of view, the menu says, "no tipping please."

Americans just love 'a good cup of coffee'

By GAY RUBIN

Ever since the Boston Tea Party, Americans have been drinking coffee. It was the patriotic thing to do then, and now it has developed into a matter of love.

Americans love the smell, taste, sight, even the thought of coffee, and are always searching for the perfect cup.

In fact, a whole group of coffee experts exists who have a vocabulary and body of knowledge, much like wine experts. Some will swear that they have found "it" (the perfect coffee bean, the perfect method of brewing) while others are still looking, experimenting, inventing.

There is only one thing that is universally accepted by coffee experts: Freshness is a must.

ALL AGREE THAT it is best to buy the whole roasted beans and have them ground to suit your brewing method (percolator, drip) or even better, grind them at home with a coffee mill (not a grinder that has knives that cut the beans and therefore cut flavor and aroma, but a mill that has a grinding ring).

The longer the ground coffee sits on the shelf, the more flavor escapes, but the whole roasted bean can last almost indefinitely.

"Anywhere from a year to 20 years," one expert estimates.

But which bean to buy? There are a variety—enough to suit every taste bud. They are described by merchants with adjectives like rich, full-bodied, smooth, hearty, mellow, slightly acid, light, and aromatic; the discriminating buyer can decide which might appeal to him.

ONLY A FEW tries will yield the right bean or combination of beans. Experts will tell you certain beans are either "ordinary," "special," "extra special" or "the greatest."

All have exotic names: Jamaica Blue Mountain, for example, is considered "the greatest." A rare coffee, it is expensive, as coffee goes.

"But," says a devotee, "it is worth it. It's hard to find, but when you do, you have paid only a few dollars to experience the world's finest. The ultimate of something."

While that is a rare treat, a popular choice is Mocha-Java, a blend of two coffees roasted together.

WHATEVER THE choice, flavor is what everyone is after. Besides brewing conditions (soil, moisture, air temperature, length of season) that affect taste, there is the all-important roasting process.

European coffees are roasted longer than American and are therefore stronger. Espresso coffee, for example, is made from beans that have been roasted longer than most beans found in America.

That is what makes it "continental." And that is what gives it the heavy, more biting flavor.

The strongest coffee in America—i.e. coffee that has been roasted the longest—is French Roast. It is almost entirely black and is very strong and bitter. It is used mostly as a blend for standard roast coffees to add spice for after-dinner drinks that appeal to some palates.

BUT KNOWING your beans is not all. Besides the bean, there is the method of brewing. Most popular with coffee buffs seems to be the filter method (Melitta and Chemex make good, reasonably priced pots).

The brewing instrument consists of a glass carafe with a funnel-like top into which one places a paper filter. Hot water is poured over the finely ground coffee and drips down into the carafe, producing a very clear (ground-free) cup of coffee.

The principle behind the method is that boiling water is the enemy. Boiling water must never touch the grounds—that was discovered by a chemist about 30 years ago when he invented the Chemex. Heat, he said, releases oils and other elements that make coffee bitter and give you indigestion.

A variation on this theme is found in the French method. Water and coffee are put in the glass pot at the same time. After a few minutes, one pushes the metal filter to the bottom and, voila, a splendid cup of French coffee.

EXPRESSO COFFEE requires a special pot, too. This one works by "explosion." The coffee is forced up through a gismo inside the pot.

Percolating is considered by some as second rate, but experts say there is a way to percolate a good cup of coffee. Use a wide, shallow basket for the coffee. Heat the water in the bottom of the pot just until it starts to boil, reduce the heat and put the coffee basket and pump in. Percolate for five minutes, then remove the coffee basket.

Remember not to use soap and water when cleaning the pot; just rinse it out, so the natural coffee oils will flavor the pot (like with salad bowls) and when the pot is not in use, keep it filled with water so the oils don't get rancid.

For the true experimenter, the newest way to brew coffee is with the Toddy Pot. It has just been invented—or rather, borrowed from ancient Peruvian coffee makers.

TODAY'S VERSION consists of a glass carafe with a white plastic bowl that fits on top. There is also a filter, a rubber plug and a measure. The idea is that if heat is the enemy of good coffee, then cold is the friend. Thus, all brewing is done with cold water.

The optimum temperature the coffee reaches is room temperature, so certain undesirable oils and fuselages that are released at higher temperatures never enter the coffee. (According to some, it is not the caffeine that keeps people awake at night but the fuselages.)

The procedure is simple. Just dump a pound of your favorite ground coffee into the white bowl along with about seven cups of cold water (no stirring). The gloopy mixture sits overnight. In the morning remove the stopper and a thick, syrupy liquid drips into the carafe.

This is coffee concentrate and is used like instant. It yields about 20 to 30 cups of coffee and can be refrigerated indefinitely.

IS IT WORTH IT? There are already some converts who say yes. In fact, there is one man, who takes his concentrate with him on trips. He can't drink anything else now that he has found his cup of coffee.

The Toddy Pot, along with the French, the Espresso, the Chemex, the grinder, and 30 varieties of coffee are available at Adler/Schnee, in Detroit. A resident coffee expert, Ed Schnee, can give all sorts of coffee lore and legends along with advice.

"It all depends on the one who is making the coffee. You've got to experiment," he explains as he demonstrates each utensil.

The Gourmet Shop at the Continental Market in Birmingham, also has a coffee expert, Juanita Hickling, and eight varieties of coffee that come in huge burlap sacks, so you can mix and match as you please.

ONE MAN, who could speak no English, walked in one day, tasted a bean from each sack, then with only hand gestures, he showed just the amount and mixture he wanted. That is the ultimate coffee taster.

Not many coffee lovers have reached that degree of finesse. But in the search for that perfect cup, many are well on their way.

There were many surprises and several unusual happenings along the bowling front during the past week and when the final pin fell Mary Mohaci, the Livonia school teacher, was at the top of the list.

After being in a slump for several weeks while working with a new ball she decided to go back to an old one before taking her regular place in the invitational doubles at Merri-Bowl.

This decision proved to be a good one for she rolled games of 245, 210 and 263 for 718. It not only was high for the season in this event, but the highest series rolled by a woman in the area.

Until Mary went on her scoring spree Cora Fiebig was the season leader with a 713 posted in the Bowlerettes League and Bonnie Barnes, of Farmington, was next with 702 in the Ladies Major. But Mary, old ball and all, went to the head of the parade.

ALMOST AS SURPRISING was the showing of Fran Bushey, a 67-year-old woman who turned in a 528 series to help the Red Holman team win the tri-city championship at Wayne Bowl.

This was part of a clean sweep made by the teams from Westland Bowl in the tournament. The winners of the other places were The Swingers and the FDR Motorcycle Club.

To help the Westland sweep all the more satisfying Midge Pashkot, a counter girl, rolled the high single of the tournament with an actual 253. And Ev Hubble, another counter employee, landed second in the all events with 1920.

The "queen," however, was Fran Bushey who still holds her own on a championship team at the age of 67 years.

ANOTHER UNUSUAL happening occurred at Westland when the students from Churchill High School brought their teachers with them to take their turn at the pins.

When the afternoon ended "Hank" Lundy showed the way to the teachers with a 220 in 528 and Mike Rajala posted a 209 and 218 in 546 to pace the students.

HIGH SCORING continued at Wonderland Lanes where John Grinrod rolled a 717 to lead the Redford Bowling Sales team to a 3,308 series. A few lanes away Fred Dallas and his Mayflower team turned in a 3,220 and Bob Boss opened with a 279 for 739.

THE WOMEN'S STATE tournament that opened last weekend in Lansing, has set an all time record for entries with 3,343 teams. This is one of the largest women's state entries in the country, and shows the rapid growth of the women's ranks.

In 1960, when the event was held in Detroit, it drew 1,236 teams. This jumped to 2,720 in 1971 and now it is among the all time leaders in the country.

ENTRIES FOR THE MEN'S city tournament close this coming weekend.

Secretary Tom McKay is looking for a last minute rush to bring the field up to record proportions when firing starts at Ford Lanes.

BOB BARAN found the range at Garden Lanes this week and then had an unusual time of it. He rolled games of 275 and 198 and then fell back to 132 for a 605- the hard way.

Tri-River sets all-loop team

Two members of the Garden City West basketball team were named all-league last week by coaches of the Tri-River League.

West, which finished as co-champion, had David Niles and Mike Susko, both juniors, named to the first team.

Niles at 6-4, 170 and Susko at 6-6, 190 are expected to provide the punch for a powerful West team next year.

C'ville opens Jazz Nexus March 13

The New McKinney's Cotton Pickers will perform Thursday, March 13, at 9:30 a.m. in Clarenceville High School, in the first of a five-part Jazz Nexus series, aimed at introducing students and other residents to the history of jazz.

The show is free and open to the public.

The series will feature local musicians demonstrating the variety of sounds including Afro-American, Latin American, big band sounds and peophonic jazz.

Groups playing will include Marcus Bellgrave, Ponchito, Jimmy Wilkins Orchestra and Austin-Moro Band. The one-hour program will be narrated by Gene Elzy, host of WJR's "Music for Moderns."

JAZZ NEXUS is being coordinated by Midge Ellis of Schoolcraft College's cultural and public affairs committee.

It is being funded by Grinnell's Music Performance Trust Fund and the Detroit Federation of Musicians.

"Using local musicians is an attempt to show students there is a place to play in this area when they've completed high school or college," says Mrs. Ellis.

THE LIVONIA area show will be hosted jointly by Clarenceville and Stevenson high schools. Four concerts will be at Clarenceville and the final show will be at Stevenson.

Seven other high schools in the metropolitan area will host the jazz program including Redford Union High School in Redford Township. The first segment is slated to begin in Redford on April 29.

The western Wayne County schools are three of the 35 schools that voted to bring Jazz Nexus into their communities, and three of the eight selected.

"THIS IS a tremendous opportunity for the community to become acquainted with America's true art form—jazz," adds Mrs. Ellis.

The Dixieland program this Thursday will begin with the origin and development of Dixieland in New Orleans from 1880 through the Ragtime age and into the Roaring '20s.

You can save on your income taxes by starting your own retirement plan now.

Your DETROIT BANK-er has information and a FREE brochure about new legislation that makes it possible for you to start your own retirement plan by opening an Individual Retirement Account at Detroit Bank & Trust.

You can save on your income taxes and start saving for retirement at the same time. Here's how the plan works:

You're eligible for an I.R.A. if you're not currently participating in a retirement plan. Any employed or self-employed person who is not currently covered by any other retirement plan is eligible to open an Individual Retirement Account (I.R.A.). If you are already covered, but have a working spouse who is not, he or she is eligible.

A tax-shelter makes your money worth more now . . . and when you retire. All contributions to your I.R.A., up to 15% of your earned income (maximum of $1,500 annually), are fully deductible.

Likewise, interest earned on your I.R.A. is exempt from income tax until it is withdrawn. When you finally do begin making withdrawals from your I.R.A., you are taxable only on the amount drawn out each year. And when you retire your effective rate of taxation will probably be lower.

If you invest $1,500 (before taxes) at the beginning of each year, here's what you could accumulate.

At the end of	With the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.	Without the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.

If you make withdrawals before you reach age 59 1/2, unless you become permanently disabled, you must pay penalties on the amount withdrawn. Withdrawals must begin before you reach age 70 1/2. Your Detroit Bank & Trust I.R.A. will be kept current with all present and future requirements of the Internal Revenue Service.

Make deposits as often as you like—up to $1,500 annually.

Regulations permit you to contribute a maximum of $1,500 each year, or 15% of annual wages, whichever is less. Just $25 will open your I.R.A., then it's up to you how much you want to deposit (in amounts of $25 or more) up to the maximum each year. And you can add to your account each payday, or deposit it all in one lump sum.

It only takes a few minutes to put your future in motion.

Opening an Individual Retirement Account is as easy as opening a savings account. Visit any office of Detroit Bank & Trust and ask about an Individual Retirement Account. Just $25 gets you started and your DETROIT BANK-er can set up a Check & Save automatic transfer for you so that you can make regular deposits from your checking account into your I.R.A.

Talk to your DETROIT BANK-er today about an Individual Retirement Account. It's a tax-shelter for you now and a positive step toward securing the uncertain years ahead.

They'll let anyone run for public office

Ostensibly called upon by the Plymouth Community schools to enlighten various representatives at an inter-governmental dinner last week, State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-Westland), proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that anyone can run for office and be elected.

Supposedly limited to a time constraint of 30 minutes, the honorable Mr. Brown took more than an hour to extol the virtues of the last two sessions of the Legislature. At no point did Brown suggest that this was a campaign speech, but it had all the makings of the stock "your man in Lansing" address.

Brown was addressing local governmental officials, people who are in the know and, for the most part, are aware of statewide issues. What they expected to hear was what Lansing was doing for their communities: zoning, master land use plans, improved relationships with the county, and many other matters that are being tossed about.

Brown was invited to speak as the chairman of the Towns and Counties Committee of the House, but with the exception of perhaps five minutes of over-generalized statements about increasing the flow of federal and state revenue to the local level, Rep. Brown failed to communicate anything more than simplistic drivel.

No one in the audience came to hear Brown speak about a rape bill, a state economic advisory council, or Brown's position on a new watered-down version of campaign reform. His particular positions were never made clear, only further compounding the confusion over why he even bothered to show up.

As a representative of Canton Township, he might have done well to do a little bit of homework before he appeared, so that he could have offered something that was truly informative and useful to the local officials present. Instead one was left with the impression that an even greater burden lies on local officials whose communities are represented by men like Tom Brown.

—MIKE ARNHOLT

STATE REP. TOM BROWN

Citizens advisory group requires a broad base

The Canton Township board will soon face the choice of accepting or rejecting a proposal outlining the role, purpose, responsibility, and composition of a new citizens' advisory council.

The plan it must act on is the result of months of work by committed township residents. These residents have met with township planner Mike Manore in an attempt to construct guidelines for a new and viable citizens' advisory council.

Two and a half weeks ago, they arrived at a decision which they presented to the township board on Feb. 25.

THE KEY PART of the plan was the composition of the council. Two definite proposals had been considered, and they varied greatly.

One suggested by Manore and supported by Supervisor Robert Greenstein proposed that the council be composed of representatives from existing organizations in the township, primarily homeowner and civic groups.

It suggested that the committee to form the advisory council would select several nominees from each organization and the township board would choose one for each slot.

The second plan (the one submitted to the board) suggested representatives on the council be selected from the eight voting precincts in the township. The number of representatives from each precinct would be determined by population.

Others would be selected to represent various concerns in the township as members at large.

The committee charged with nominating would select one person for each slot on the council, and the board would be asked to approve those selections.

The board would not be empowered to pick and choose among various candidates, because only one name would be presented for each position. Board power over the positions would be limited to a veto.

THE PURPOSE of an advisory council is to serve as "a medium of communication" between the community at-large and the board. We agree with those who feel it must be autonomous, and free of political pressures and board control.

As the name implies, it is a citizens' organization, not an arm of the township administration.

It is unfortunate that it must be sanctioned by the board at all—but that is necessary for funding. Without township money, the council will not be able to meet its responsibilities.

Sanction and selection, however, are a world apart, and a council that is sanctioned by the board need not be selected by it.

WE FULLY ENDORSE the "citizen" plan submitted to the board. The other plan for selection of the council's members could result in a glorified federation of homeowners—handpicked by the board. As a rubber stamp body, it would promote political indebtedness among the members of the council who were chosen by the board.

The second plan is well conceived and provides for fair representation of all citizens in the township. Its selection process is as free as possible from board tampering.

We strongly recommend the board approve the "citizen" plan submitted to it, the sooner the better.

Criticizes censure

Editor:

The petty vindictiveness of the "Greenstein Gang" towards any who may honestly question their political patronage methods of handling CETA funds was blatantly obvious at Tuesday's (Feb. 24) township meeting. The vote of censure against Brian Schwall was, after all, proposed by Myers, a Greenstein "slate" candidate, and approved by all of those who ran on the Greenstein "slate."

The type of censure voted does not affect Schwall's seat or vote as a trustee; it merely serves as public notice that those who dare voice concern over Greenstein policies will be rebuked—the slate will stick together.

The type of censure voted then was pure and simple political sour grapes, designed to demonstrate just who holds all the cards.

Greenstein's charges that Schwall acted improperly are absurd. Schwall has the right and the obligation to question anything and everything which the Greenstein "slate" does if it doesn't sit right with his own legal and moral opinions. Schwall merely did what was right and proper. To censure a man for availing himself of the existing channels of complaint smacks of totalitarianism.

I grow tired of hearing Greenstein defend hiring his political campaigning friend as "legal." Nowhere is it written that because something is "legal" that it is "moral." CETA funds were designed to aid those in dire economic straits due to economic conditions. The individual hired in this case already has a source of household income—his wife's salary. The Phillips family will now have a combined income of $19,400 per year while someone else goes jobless and subsists on unemployment or welfare.

"Legal?" — maybe.

"Moral?" — I can't see how!

The attempts by the Greenstein "slate" to gag Mr. Schwall, however, are the most appalling events. Mr. Schwall was elected to represent his constituency and he is not only entitled to raise questions, but obligated to do so.

Mr. Schwall deserves all of our support in his attempts to maintain some degree of balance on our "slate-weighted" township board.

MAMSE conference praised

Editor:

Over 755 educators and parents descended upon your community to participate in a statewide conference sponsored by the Michigan Association of Middle School Educators. Although the middle school concept is relatively new, the interest in providing a viable educational program for the pre-adolescent has made great strides both in the state of Michigan and in the nation.

The MAMSE conference was unequivocally the finest in our five years of operation. No conference can be successful unless the educators and the parents within the community are willing to put forth the tremendous effort required of success.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people who helped in bringing about this success. Space would not permit listing all of the personnel, but I would like to thank the board of education and Supt. John M. Hoben for granting their permission to use the Plymouth School facilities and personnel.

Many orchids should go to Gerald Elston, principal of Pioneer Middle School, who was responsible for coordinating the efforts of the many people needed to make this conference a success. He deserves the thanks of everyone.

May I also add another note of congratulations. Dolly McMaster, a teacher in the West Middle School, gave strong leadership in the growth of MAMSE. Her leadership skills were recognized by everyone and she was elected to the position as president of MAMSE.

Again let me thank everyone for a wonderful experience in Plymouth, a community dedicated to quality education for their students.

Variety key to Family Y special interest courses

By MARGARET MILLER

The stars, the good earth and its children are among the short class subjects on the schedule as the Livonia Family Y begins a new term of special-interest courses the week of March 17.

More specifically, the class list includes "Astrology," "The Amateur's Approach to Basic Gardening," and "Baby sitting Know-how."

Or, for those of differing tastes, there will be baton twirling and cheerleading, a new course on planning a wedding, one that involves acting for children, and quilting, knitting, crocheting, macrame, and a "fun club" of varied activities.

Yoga, folk guitar, driver training and oil painting also are on the list, and, for mind-stretching, there will be a course called "Positive Parenting," and one that introduces Transactional Analysis.

A kiddie play school will be offered twice a week.

THE NEW SCHEDULE of classes, said Linda Grandstaff, Family Y program director, is part of a program aimed at providing a variety of subjects in short, relatively-inexpensive classes.

All will be held in the Y building at 14255 Stark, Livonia. Specific information on any of the classes may be obtained by calling the Y. Registration will be Monday, March 10 for members and Tuesday, March 11 for non-members.

Course length ranges from two sessions to 10 weeks, and the costs run from $4 to $18 for members of the Family Y and from $6 to $30 for non-members.

Two courses are priced the same for members and non-members. Driver education is $90 for a seven and a half-week course, and Positive Parenting, running six weeks, is $20 a person or $35 a couple.

TOM PARSONS, a Westland resident who has taught astrology at Schoolcraft College for two and a half years, is bringing his course to the Family Y in 10 sessions Thursdays, from 10 to 12 a.m., beginning March 20.

"My aim," said Parsons, a member of the American Federation of Astrology and the Michigan Astrological Research Society, "is to familiarize people with the basics of astrology and show that it is not a pseudo-science."

"I want to show how there is a pattern to the universe, how everything works in cycles based on mathematical relationships of the planets between each other and with us on earth."

Parsons said his courses usually run 12 weeks so there will be some condensation, but he plans to cover fundamentals, show the relationship between astrology and astronomy, and teach the basics of constructing a natal chart.

"Those who take the course should come out knowing the basics of giving a mild personality analysis," he said. Parsons, formerly a field representative in electronics, has been devoting full time to astrology study and teaching for six years.

THE SURGE OF INTEREST in "inflation gardens" brought Sue Wion of Livonia and her amateur gardening course to the Family Y program.

"A lot of people are gardening now who never have done it before," Mrs. Wion said, "so this course will get down to the real basics."

It will be offered Tuesdays from 9:30 to 11 a.m. beginning March 18.

Mrs. Wion said she'd start with "soil-preparation in X number of easy, back-breaking steps" and continue to selection of seeds and plants.

control of pests, care of plants and cultivation and harvesting and storage tips.

"I'll include some 'head-start' information on beginning seedlings indoors on a window sill—it's a little more economical than buying plants—and also will have some discussion of organic as opposed to inorganic gardening."

"For myself, I've found a combination of the two seems to work best."

GEORGIA GEIGER of Plymouth, teaching baby-sitting at the Y for the second time around, will be working to turn youngsters into "certified" babysitters.

"The class so far has brought kids 11 to 13 years of age," she said. "I'd like this time to get some a little older, too."

A home economist by profession and the mother of two young children, Mrs. Geiger said she is convinced "there is a real need for this sort of course."

"We start with a discussion of the tremendous responsibilities involved in babysitting," she said. "Then during the seven weeks we have some diapering experience with real babies—the girls all seem quite concerned on that point—and a chance to talk with a panel of parents."

Mrs. Geiger also gets into teaching babysitters to entertain their young charges and helps them prepare a kit to take with them on jobs, including in it things like a deck of cards, books, blunt scissors and construction paper.

At the end of the course there is a test, and the students who score 80 per cent or better have their names and home areas posted on the wall of the Family Y nursery. The course will be given Tuesdays from 4 to 5 p.m. beginning March 18.

BARBARA FISCHER, coordinator of a family communications resource program put together by YMCAs in the metropolitan area, will be teacher for Positive Parenting, an informal course for parents who want to gain insights and skill to make family life more enjoyable.

The course is part of a program developed for the National YMCA Family Communications Skill Center by Kenneth Green, director of counseling at California State Polytechnic College.

To be offered for six weeks beginning Tuesday, April 8 from 7 to 9:30 p.m., it will include review of traditional parent attitudes and behavior, improvement of parental skill in discipline, communication and problem solving.

MISS GRANDSTAFF of the Livonia Y will be instructor for the TA course, scheduled March 27 and April 1 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Mary Pulick is teaching knitting and crocheting, Anna Chinn quilting and Joan Lovasz yoga. The kiddie play school program is led by Joanne Bour and Sharon Graham.

By association for retarded

Parent-to-parent help set

In an effort to establish a closer working relationship with physicians and with parents of retarded children, the Northwest Communities Association for Retarded Children has begun a parent counseling service.

Called Parent-to-Parent, the service aims to provide parents of newly identified handicapped children the benefit and knowledge of members of the organization.

Most of them are parents of retarded children.

In a special effort to introduce the program to both doctors and parents, the organization will hold a meeting Tuesday, March 11 at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

Dr. John Churchill, pediatric neurologist, will speak on "Medication and the Retarded." Dr. Churchill is professor of neurology at Wayne State University and affiliated with Beaumont Hospital.

"We are making a special effort to reach doctors, because the physician is the most important counselor at the time a parent is told his child is retarded," said Mrs. Maybelle Munn, president of the association.

"The parents will go through days of stress and fear. But when and if the doctor believes they might benefit from talking to someone who has gone through what they are going through, he could suggest they give us a call."

"We have given much thought to the preparation of our brochures and the names and phone numbers contained therein are those of very carefully selected parents who are capable of such a service."

MEMBERS OF the Northwest Communities Association for Retarded Children prepare a mailing to send to area doctors informing them of their March 11 meeting. From left

Lawyers wives will model fashions

Members of Lawyers Wives of Livonia will model new spring styles at a fashion show Wednesday, March 19 in Meadowbrook Country Club, Northville.

Mrs. James R. McCann, Mrs. Bernard P. McClorey, Mrs. Ernest Grant, Mrs. Jack Burwell and Mrs. Ronald Burke will model clothes provided by Jean Blackburn of Dearborn.

Working on the event with Mrs. Harry M. Smit, president of the organization, are Mrs. Ernest Kuck, Mrs. Michael Katulski, Mrs. Kenneth Morris and Mrs. McClorey.

A cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., with dinner to follow at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the event at $8.50 may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Kuck, 15039 Ellen, Livonia, by March 12.

Proceeds from the event will benefit a Livonia law student.

Here's college knowledge

"Everything You Always Wanted to Know About College, But Were Afraid to Ask" will be the subject of an open house to be held March 12 in the Schoolcraft College Instructional Center, 29205 Florence, Garden City.

Scheduled from 1-7 p.m., the open house will feature media presentations and discussions by resource persons. Babysitting will be provided by Garden City Senior Girl Scout Troop 80.

A film called "Back to School —

Back to Work" will be shown. It presents 10 vignettes about the problems involved in the dual roles of housewife-student and housewife-working woman.

John Witten, a Schoolcraft specialist in career counseling, will be present, as will a number of women who have returned to college.

The event is a project of Schoolcraft women's programs and services. For further information contact Jean Christensen at the college.

Why attitude more important than health while growing old

Growing old successful, says a University of Michigan gerontologist, involves attitudes and values even more than it involves health.

Its differences in ability to adjust to a different kind of life that makes one old person fulfilled and contented and another sour and frustrated, contends James D. Manney Jr.

Manney, staff editor of the University of Michigan-Wayne State University Institute of Gerontology, explores this area of adjustment in a work recently published by the institute and the U-M School of Social Work.

The work is titled "Aging in American Society."

"THE FIRST STEP is admitting that aging involves limitations and gradually relinquishing some of the roles and activities of one's younger years," Manney writes.

"Many old people deny this need and hurl themselves into new projects and activities. Others accept their new limitations, but insist they are slowing down due to illness instead of age.

"For some, it is more socially acceptable to be 'sick' than to be 'old.'"

Manney said aging persons "must find new ways to fulfill physical, emotional and economic needs," and others in the social system need to help them to do this.

"The absence of well-defined social roles for older people is one of the many obstacles to need-fulfillment in old age," he added.

People who are no longer workers, managers or active mothers must find new ways to evaluate themselves. This is difficult, because society offers few standards by which people can measure themselves. They must learn to measure their self-worth by criteria other than by fulfilling productive roles.

"Finally, the old person must find new values and goals. The traits we usually associate with successful aging—wisdom, maturity, humanitarianism, peacefulness—are usually found in people who stiff are actively involved in life; the difference is that their relationships are less competitive."

THOSE WHO FAIL to adjust well to old age, Manney wrote, tend to copy the attitudes of younger persons bent on success and tend to become "competitive, ambitious, acquisitive, sensitive to social standing and jealous of personal independence."

"The well-adjusted," he went on, "tend to adopt a contrary set of values, such as conservation, self-acceptance, cooperation, consideration and a modest level of aspiration."

Manney said adjustment to old age takes some time, so those in their 70s tend to do better than those in their 60s, and he added that "poor health or poverty can make an individual's adjustment efforts nearly impossible."

ATTITUDES TOWARD personal independence are important clues to adjustment, the writer said.

"Well-adjusted old people desire it to avoid inconveniencing others, particularly their children," he explained. "The poorly adjusted are more often motivated by fear and mistrust; no one cares about them, they insist, so they must look after themselves."

Manney also explores attitudes toward old age, on the part of both the young and the old.

"In general, old people in the United States tend to hold negative views toward aging," he said, "and half the old people surveyed in one study perceived only negative attitudes on the part of the young."

"They suspect that young people think the old are backward, old-fashioned and mentally inferior. At best, the young are simply indifferent to the old."

"AGING IN American Society" examines the biological, psychological and socio-economic changes of aging as well as issues of health care, mental disturbances and vulnerability to crime.

It considers problems of unready retirees, the never-married elderly, the aged minority groups, and Manney throughout the book urges a more positive attitude toward aging.

"If the elderly are to make positive contributions to society, we must develop a new viewpoint," he said.

"We must choose to look at the potential of old age along with the liabilities."

Copies of the book are available from Institute of Gerontology Publications, 543 Church, Ann Arbor, 48104. The cost is $3.50, with a 10 per cent discount available if 10 or more copies are ordered.

3 Rocks' bands score straight ones in competition

It isn't in football and basketball alone that Plymouth has had a winner this year.

The unbeaten, untied Plymouth Salem Rocks who won the Michigan High School Athletic Association version of the state Class A grid title, and Salem's championship-thirsty basketball club have throne-room partners in "Coach" James Griffith's varsity, concert and symphony bands. In Michigan Band and Orchestra Association competition last week, all three units from the Centennial Educational Park scored what's known among musical "referees" as "straight ones."

THAT IS absolute perfection and in sports parlance is the equivalent to going unbeaten, untied and unscored on.

The "straight ones" reference stems from the fact that in such a festival each band is judged by three adjudicators on selected concert numbers, and then also on sight reading in the playing of a number the band never has seen before.

Ratings are I, II and III and when they were posted, Plymouth caused scorekeepers to use a minimum of chalk straight across the board.

The three bands include students from both Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools, rather than each school individually. Although Griffith is head coach of instrumental music and personally directs the concert and symphony bands, the varsity unit of relative beginners has this year been under the direction of Robert Burr, a PHS graduate who is doing his student teaching here as a music major at the University of Michigan.

WILLIAM ABNEY, president and owner of the Hammell Music Co. of Livonia, the area's major band equipment supplier, said of the Plymouth feat: "I've never known of such a sweep in all the years I've been in music. It's unheard of and is a marvelous accomplishment."

Vying with the Plymouth symphony bands were units from Wayne Memorial, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Grosse Pointe South, Ann Arbor Huron, Highland Park, Livonia Stevenson, Redford Union, Livonia Bentley, Thurston, John Glenn and Grosse Pointe North.

The concert band was judged in comparison to Southgate Schafer, Clarenceville, John Glenn, Romulus, Southgate, Northville, Riverside, Cherry Hill, Riverview, Ann Arbor Pioneer and Ann Arbor Huron.

Ypsilanti Lincoln and and Summerfield High of Petersburg were included in the varsity band's division.

Put the damper on wasted heat

Don't let heat (and dollars) go up your fireplace chimney. When the fire's out, keep the fireplace damper closed. Seal off other heat wasters by...

- Weather-stripping around doors and windows.
- Caulking cracks.
- Keeping drapes and blinds drawn at night.
- Keeping your thermostat set at the lowest comfortable temperature during daytime and dialing down to at least 65 degrees for sleeping.

Also, check your attic. The greatest heat loss (and costliest for you) is through your roof. Proper insulation... at least six inches, is one of the best ways you can conserve heat — and save money, too.

ERIC AGARDY GOES up and over Denby's Stuart House for two of his 17 points in Salem's 57-53 regional basketball tournament victory over the Detroit school. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

'Super' Salem buries Denby; Quarterfinals next for Rocks

By FRED DeLANO

Fred Thomann, the giant of a man who coaches the Plymouth Salem basketball team, worked his favorite word—"super"—darned near to death Friday night, and with good reason.

His Rocks had just taken the biggest stride in Plymouth basketball history by beating Detroit Denby, 57-53, before a screaming, sellout throng at Livonia Franklin for the regional championship—putting them just three games from the biggest prize of all, the state Class A crown.

Now 21-2 for the season, Plymouth has joined Michigan's elite and will face tournament-wise Pontiac Central at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in one of four Class A quarter-final contests. This one will be played on the neutral 3,500-seat Ferndale High School court. The school is on Pinecrest, just a bit north of Eight Mile and west of Liver-ley, Plymouth outrebounded the Detroit east siders, 43-29. Agardy picked off 20 in a "super" performance and Ellinghausen, only a junior, grabbed 13.

Magnificent defensive play saw House limited to six points, and Watley to two. But the concentration on the big men saw the Tars shake pesky little Vince Rush loose for 10 baskets in a 23-point performance even though Dillon and Inch took turns dogging him to the point of frustration.

Detroit teams have built a reputation of intimidating most suburban clubs into submission, but this time it didn't work.

A tremendous ball game right from the start, the contest saw the Rocks take an 11-10 lead for the first quarter, only to trail 26-23 at the half. Then came the best quarter of basketball Plymouth has played all year.

A goal by Agardy and five straight points from Ellinghausen put the Rocks in front, 30-28, and they never lost the lead from then on. Wolcott got three hoops in the quarter, as did Ellinghausen, and a 17-8 bulge for that eight minutes gave Plymouth a 40-34 margin at the three-quarter pole. Superior board play and several steals aided the cause.

THE ROCKS pushed it to eight at 42-34 as the final stanza started but the pressing Tars cut the margin to two four times on Rush's hot shooting. 48-46, 49-47, 51-49 and 53-51. However, the Rocks weren't about to fold.

Agardy, playing at his all-state best, was five for five from the floor in scoring 10 of his 17 points in that final period, while the frequently fouled Wolcott unerringly added seven free throws in the quarter.

Plymouth made 13 of its 19 second half shots, including eight of 13 in that sizzling third quarter, and wound up at a 47 per cent clip for the night on 24 of 51. Denby was 24 of 57 for 42 per cent.

"I'm on top of the world," smiled Thomann, whose three-year record at Salem now stands at 57-11. "These kids were super, just super—all of them. They kept their poise when we were behind under the greatest pressure we've seen, but now we have another big one facing us. There'll be practice as usual Monday."

PLYMOUTH SALEM (57): Moore 1, 0-1, 2; Dillon 0, 0-0, 0; Wolcott 7, 7-8, 21; Inch 1, 0-0, 2; Ellinghausen 7, 1-2, 15; Agardy 8, 1-3, 17. Totals 24, 9-14, 57.

TICKETS for this battle at $1.50 each went on sale today at Plymouth Salem High School — and if as many fans make that trek as attended at Franklin Friday, the Rocks will practically own the gym.

Thursday's winner will advance to the state semifinals to be played in Michigan State University's Jenison Field House Saturday afternoon. Whether it be Plymouth or Pontiac Central, the foe will come from among these four teams: Flint Northwestern, Saginaw, Muskegon and Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills.

The Class A championship contest will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, March 22 in Crisler Arena at Ann Arbor.

And how did the best basketball team in Plymouth history get this far? As Thomann put it, "by a super, absolutely super, performance by every man" in whipping Denby from the Detroit Public School League.

With their second straight Suburban Eight and district tourney titles already in the bank, the Rocks got 21 points from guard Brian Wolcott, 17 from 6-10 Eric Agardy and 15 from 6-8 Jim Ellinghausen, plus super floor work from the three others who played: Capt. Dan Moore, Tim Dillon and Howard Inch.

MATCHED in height by Denby's 6-10 Stuart House and 6-8 Rudolph Wat-

LIKE A NEW YORK subway during rush hour, it was mighty crowded under the boards during the state tournament Salem-Denby clash. Here Salem's 6-10 center Eric Agardy pulls down a rebound while a trio of Tars and one teammate grab only the air.

Lapse dooms Churchill icers in regional finals

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

Livonia Churchill suffered a defensive let-up in the second period of its state tournament regional hockey game with Trenton Friday night and the lapse proved fatal as the Trojans went on to beat Churchill 8-3.

The Chargers trailed 2-1 after one period of that game and went on to tie the game early in the second period. But Churchill goalie Phil Rose, who played an otherwise brilliant tournament, allowed five goals in a 6½-minute span later in the period as Trenton built an insurmountable lead.

"We just ran into a very fine hockey team tonight. I think this team could win the state championship very easily," said Churchill coach Adam Mitchell.

THE TRENTON TEAM went into the game ranked second in the state and the Chargers were a decided underdog despite their impressive 20-1-1 record.

The Trojans started the scoring early in the first period when senior defenseman Dave Molaski whipped a wicked slap shot past Rose at the 1:58 mark.

Trenton was outskating and outshooting the Churchill team, as it would all night, but the Chargers hung in gamely and Todd Bond scored the equalizer at the 8:07 mark, slapping a rebound of a Kevin Kardos shot past Trenton goalie Mark Miller.

Seconds later, at 8:34, however, Kardos went off for diving and less than one minute later, Brian Veasey accidentally tripped a Trenton attacker and Churchill found itself playing at a 5-3 disadvantage in front of the netminders.

Trenton applied tremendous pressure at that point and at 10:17, Mike Smellie finally scored for the Trojans, making it 2-1 after one period.

THE SECOND PERIOD opened well enough for Churchill. Bond skated in on a breakaway in the opening seconds of the period but his shot was handled by a sprawling Miller in the nets. The rebound, however, came right to Kardos who lifted the puck over the helpless goalie to tie the game at the 0:36 mark.

When Trenton's Steve Dumais went off at 2:28 for tripping, it looked like the momentum would belong to Churchill. At that point, however, the roof started caving in.

Tom Becker scored on a short-handed breakaway at 3:20. Trenton's Garrett Kornacki tallied twice from the right hand side on identical slapshots at 5:53 and 6:24. Becker stole the puck from Rick Ward near mid-ice and beat Rose at 9:08. Jeff Tascott finished the second period barrage with a slapshot at 9:29.

Kardos' second goal of the period off a Bond shot was little consolation as the Chargers went into the dressing room at the two-thirds mark trailing by four goals.

ROSE WAS HIS old self in the third period, stopping numerous Trenton scoring opportunities with acrobatic saves, but the Trenton speed was too much for the Livonia squad.

Rose particularly shined through a 1:55 period when Churchill played two men short early in the final period. The Chargers, playing aggressively, were called for numerous penalties throughout the period and were short most of the time.

The only goal of the period came on a breakaway by Dumais who faked a shot to bring Rose out of the nets and then slid the puck past the Churchill netminder at 13:03.

CHURCHILL HAD ADVANCED to the finals of the tournament by beating a favored Ecorse team 5-1 on Thursday night.

Ecorse boasted a 19-3-3 record and was second division champions of the Michigan Metro Hockey League.

Against an inspired Churchill team, however, they were no match.

Kardos started the scoring in the penalty filled game by taking a drop pass from Dave Bird and nailing the puck home before Ecorse goalie Alan Gourlay had time to react at the 3:42 mark of the opening period.

Churchill made it 2-0 later in the period when Bob Colby banged the puck home following a scramble in front of the Ecorse net just as an Ecorse penalty expired.

Ecorse was again a man short when

Tony Bellono tallied for Churchill at the 0:27 mark of the second period. Bellono's shot from the point went cleanly past a screened Ecorse goalie to give the Chargers a 3-0 lead.

A power play goal by Brian Veasey and a short-handed tally by Kardos rounded out the Charger scoring and gave Churchill a commanding 5-0 lead after two periods.

Ecorse came out swinging in the penalty-laden third period but Churchill kept its head and refused to be intimidated. Playing conservative hockey, the Chargers allowed a goal late in the goings, but the outcome was never in doubt.

Mitchell criticized the Ecorse team after the game, in which 31 penalties were called, 19 of which were against Ecorse.

"I don't know what was the matter with their coach. It was a case of the team running the coach," he said.

Churchill finished the season with a fine 20-2-1 record.

Pioneer takes Ford regional

Ann Arbor is a town long known for good football teams and hospitals and if they would stick to the gridiron and medicine it would make area hockey coaches a lot happier.

Friday night Livonia Stevenson was the second Livonia ice team to get bounced from the inaugural state high school hockey tournament by an Ann Arbor squad, falling 6-4 to Pioneer at the regional played at Livonia's Ford Arena.

Earlier last week, Ann Arbor Huron High School blasted Livonia Bentley 10-3.

TWO ANN ARBOR schools met for the regional championship Saturday with Pioneer edging Huron 3-2 in the finals.

It was little consolation to Stevenson that it was beaten by the tournament champions, but the Spartans gave it a game all the way.

A decided underdog, Stevenson never led, but came back from 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2 deficits to tie the game each time and make things interesting.

Kevin Carlson and Jerry Dirusso each picked up a goal and an assist in the contest but Pioneer put together three goals in a 1½-minute span in the second period to take an insurmountable lead.

Bob Clamache and Bill Finn got the other tallies for the Spartans.

IN THE SATURDAY finals, five different players scored goals as Pioneer edged the River Rats 3-2. Brian Bingel, who had a goal and an assist against Stevenson, scored the deciding goal at 0:58 of the third period to advance Pioneer.

Tournament director George Fefles termed the tournament a success despite rather poor crowds.

"The kids played hockey the way I think it should be played. There were no cheap shots. It would have been helpful in terms of attendance if all four of the Livonia schools had been assigned to this regional," Fefles said.

Rapid start!

RAPID RICHARD, (9) a three-to-one shot, kicked off the 1975 thoroughbred racing season Saturday at Livonia's Detroit Race Course, winning the initial race of the program by 1½ lengths over the closing Mr. Ban (far left). Ridden by Terry McNeerney, the six-year-old gelding won before an opening day crowd in excess of 11,000 at the mile track.

Kraft named to coaches' Hall of Fame

HOWARD KRAFT

Howard Kraft, has received the ultimate tribute from members of his profession.

Athletic director of Redford Union schools the past 25 years, the popular Kraft is one of five men recently named to the Michigan High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame. The five coaches and athletic directors will be inducted at the annual coaches' banquet, 15, at East Lansing during the time between the Class B and Class A basketball semifinals.

IN ADDITION, a plaque bearing Kraft's name and picture will be hung in the Hall of Fame room in the Union Building at Central Michigan University.

Kraft began his career at Redford Union High School in 1938 as basketball coach and assistant football coach. In 1940 he assumed total responsibility for athletics at the high school, which included duties as head football, baseball and track coach as well as heading the basketball squad.

In 1940 he also instructed girls' basketball, which was revived two years ago as an interscholastic sport at Redford Union High.

TEN YEARS later, in 1950, Kraft was named athletic director for all Redford Union schools.

During his 37 years at Redford Union, he served as head cage coach 19 seasons. Recalling his efforts in basketball, football, baseball, track and cross country, Kraft says: "I also sponsored the golf team, but I didn't consider myself a good enough golfer to call myself coach."

An active athlete himself in his younger days, the venerable sports enthusiast played football, basketball and ran track in high school. Later, he played basketball for Michigan State University and captained the squad in the 1937-38 season.

Kraft is active in the Michigan Association of Directors of Physical Education and Athletics and served as president of that group in 1970.

He has represented the southeast section of the state for Class A and Class B schools for four years on the Representative Council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association. In addition, he helped organize and was a member of the National Council of Secondary School Athletic Directors.

THE 45 COACHES on his staff recently honored Kraft at "Feast and Toast" banquet in Livonia's Holiday Inn. Coaches from all RU schools presented a plaque to him at the dinner, inscribed: "For unselfish service to the boys and girls of Redford Union Schools." He was honored as a hard working and dedicated coach and athletic director who gave unselfishly of his time and energy to athletic programs for boys and girls of Redford Union and other schools in the area.

For many years, Kraft has been partially or wholly responsible for conducting annual Christmas basketball tournaments, invitational league and regional cross country runs, boys and girls swim relays, invitational wrestling tournaments, boys track and field relays, junior high track meets and elementary track and field meets.

As an athlete and athletic administrator, Kraft has been interested in all sports and does not believe a specialized attitude in sports is good for most students.

"Our coaches have been cooperative and encouraged the kids to go out for several sports," he explained.

His son, John, was a nine letter winner when he graduated from Redford Union High School in 1959.

It looks like sports ability and the love of athletics runs in the family of Kraft, who has just been named for his most coveted award.

QUALITY-PRESCRIPTIONS FILLED BY QUALIFIED PHARMACISTS

WHERE YOU GET your prescriptions filled can make a big difference. A big difference in price, not quality.

THE FEDERAL FOOD and Drug Administration controls the quality of all prescription products sold in the United States. The State of Michigan licenses every pharmacist who practices here.

EVERY MEIJER PHARMACIST is a graduate of an accredited college of pharmacy who also passed the State Board of Pharmacy examinations.

YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS are filled exactly as your doctor orders, with quality medications. Part of our responsibility to you and your family is to provide health care items, including prescriptions, as reasonably as possible.

LOOK FOR PRESCRIPTION PRICES advertised on page 12 in this Meijer One-Stop Shopping Guide. Meijer firmly believes you have the right to know the price of prescriptions before you buy.

STRETCH....

WHEN YOU FIX DINNER for five, six or even seven people who happen to show up unexpectedly for dinner, it's hard to enjoy yourself when you're worrying about having enough food to feed everyone.

RELAX. DON'T PANIC. There's almost always a way to stretch your dinner to satisfy everyone. Here's a few ways.

- (1) Casseroles, soups or salad can always be mixed with extra vegetables or noodles.
- (2) Single items like pork chops or chicken, instead of served singly, can be cut into cubes or strips. Serve in a sauce and heap onto noodles.
- (3) Make smaller hamburgers. Serve extras such as thick tomato and onion slices.
- (4) Add an appetizer or soup to add bulk. Whip a batch of deviled eggs and serve on a platter with olives, pickles and mushrooms.
- (5) Slice roasts or steaks and serve in an open-face sandwich.
- (6) If the main dish was thin, add on to the dessert. Whip up some packaged whipped topping to add to perhaps smaller portions of dessert.
- (7) If you haven't started cooking, whip up an omelet instead. Add onion, green pepper, cheese or whatever else is available.

IF UNEXPECTED DINNERS are a regular happening at your house, an emergency stock of filler items and a few ideas can avoid panic and apologies and allow you to relax and enjoy your company.

MISSY MATES AND MIGHTY MATES TO REPLACE WOODEN SHOES?

SOMETHING NEW has been added to our fine selection of quality merchandise at Meijer. Due to the many requests we have had for branded children's shoes, we have added the national brand Missy Mates and Mighty Mates girls' and boys' shoes that are usually found only in department and shoe stores at much higher prices.

THESE SHOES feature genuine leather or patent uppers, steel shanks, and sturdy arch supports. All are American made with the latest styling in children's shoes.
