Township employes take union vote

CANTON-Township officials currently bargaining with firefighters and DPW employes may have additional negotiating chores this spring and summer if building department workers and office staff employes vote to unionize.

A vote to join the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME, a member of the AFL-CIO) was scheduled yesterday (Wednesday) for both the building department and office workers.

Chief building inspector, Charles Thompson indicated the vote to go union in the building department "would be close and probably hinge on one vote.'

Sources familiar with the office staff indicated the office staff indicated the office employes would probably vote pro-union.

"I CAN'T UNDERSTAND why they would want to go union," said Supervisor Robert Greenstein. In my estimation a union would provide negligible protection for employes since they are the civil service.'

He added, "The civil service commission protects them from being wrongfully fired, adjusts their wage levels and fixes their job categories. That's all a union does, and they don't have to pay dues to the civil service commission."

The supervisor said that if the vote is in favor of joining the union, it will mean more paper work for township

"I just can't see any advantage to them going union." he said. "But whatever they want is what they'll

According to Greenstein, one individual in the building department was interested in unionizing, while "two ested in the union and petitioned for a

He added, "That's a far cry from them voting to go union."

CURRENTLY neither the building department employes nor the office staff have any written or formal contract with the township.

According to the supervisor, five members of the building department and "about 10 girls" in the office will vote on joining AFSCME.

Township Clerk John Flodin, and girls in the office were very inter- negotiating with one AFSCME bargaining unit already representing DPW employes. Those talks have been going on since, October, prior to Parsell's election and Flodin's re-elec-

> Said one irate DPW employe, "They've been giving us the runaround. I think it's because they don't want the office staff and building department 'to join the union."

PARSELL COUNTERED, "They want a very intricate, sophisticated and involved contract. The union has Treasurer Carl Parsell have been convinced them that's what they need. It takes time to work out such a detailed and specific pact.'

He added, "It's easy for them to say we've been stallling them, and I can't really blame them. But the fact of the matter is that the contract they want to work out takes a lot of time.

The treasurer said the office staff and building vote would not affect the township significantly. He said, "We'll talk to them as a union or as a group of employes, it doesn't matter-I just wish we had more time before the vote to show them we are fair. I don't think we've been unfair with anyone.

Reversing its stand of a few weeks ago, the Detroit Metropolitan Water Department has approved a 30 per cent water rate increase effective Sept. 1 and reaction by suburban officials is less than favorable

"I was dumbfounded when I heard it," was Plymouth City Manager Fred Yockey's angry reaction.

"This appears to be a power play on the part of the city of Detroit which will only invite Public Service Commission regulation.

Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein said he thought legal action and legislation are necessary to prevent "this sort of thing. Personally I think it's a tragedy. Detroit has been throwing its weight around for McNamara said he has instructed the legal department of his city to investigate the water and sewer rate boost "to determine if Livonia and other suburban communities have grounds to take legal action to halt the rate hike.'

The mayor said he was "incensed that the four Detroit board members voted for a rate hike in the absence of the three suburban members of the seven-member board."

McNAMARA ADDED that he was A. Young of Detroit who made a "180degree turn" on the water rate issue.

"Just last month. (March 25) Mayor Young met with representatives of 80 suburban communities which purchase Detroit water and told the crowd that no rate increase was necessary at this time,"- McNamara stressed. "Apparently, it appears that he was simply waiting for us to lower

The DMWD also adopted a policy on March 17 which indicated its official procedure was to allow a public hearing prior to any rate increase. Those hearings were proposed to take place at least 60 days prior to the rate

McNamara is hoping for a legal opinion from the city's law office soon on what action could be taken to halt the rate boost. STATE REP. John Bennett (D-Redpersonally upset at Mayor Coleman ford) was also upset by the way the rate boost was approved. Bennett is chairman of a special House of Representatives' committee formed last month to study the Detroit water department's rate structure.

Bennett said he was surprised at the "arrogance of those guys," referring to the four Detroit members of the water board.

He said he asked the state Legislative Service Bureau to research state laws on the water department to see if the state legislature could hold the rate increase in abeyance until the Bennett added that suburban legislators held a caucus to discuss a bill placing the water board under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which sets rates and oversees operations for the gas, telephone, and elect ric utility companies.

"I DON'T THINK this is the way it should go,"Bennett said. "The commission already has too much work to handle-but anything might help to make 'thern pull in thier horns.'

For suburbs receiving water and sewer service from Detroit, the combined rate hike would range from 58 to 74 per cent according to information supplied by the water department

That means an actual bill up to $174 per year, based on a typical family consumption which presently costs

Only three weeks ago, the water department voted against any water rate increase when approving its budget, which takes effect July 1.

Mayor Young said he changed his mind about the increase because the water department board and staff members showed him information which, to him, showed a need for a rate hike.

CANTON- Alan and Judy Prince are angry at Michigan's slow-moving adoption procedure and they're angry at publicized accounts of 1,200 state orphans who are awaiting adoptive par-

But the Canton Township couple plans to do something about the process which, they say, is separating children and couples who long to adopt

The Prince family, which includes the couple's own 5- and 7-year-old sons, has been interested in adopting one, or two, or three children for more than a year now. Their home study, a prerequisite to adopting any child, was completed about three months ago.

THE COUPLE is interested in children traditionally regarded as hard to place- those up to 10-years old with mental, physical or emotional handi-

"We're really open," said Mrs. Prince, as she watched a toddler in her home at 6745 Foxthorn, where she operates a day care center.

"We made our age limit 10, only because I'm 27 and my husband is 29. We're very interested in siblings, because we want a large family, and we're willing to take a handicapped child, as long as he could live a fairly normal life.

But the Prince family is wondering where such children could be.

According to statistics of the Michigan Department of Social Services (DSS), 1,200 state orphans are awaiting adoption, and 291 of them are living in Wayne County foster homes.

Vicki Rector, program manager for adoption at DSS said 750 of those children are legally available for immediate adoption. while 450 are currently undergoing the adoption procedure, About 75 per cent of the children are white between the ages of 5 and 12, while only about one per cent have permanent physical handicaps:

Hundreds more, which DSS statistics do not list, are living in foster homes supervised by private agencies and juvenile courts; Ms. Rector said

SUCH STATISTICS are the cause of the Prince's rage.

Mrs. Prince pointed to a reces newspaper story, in which persons accused Michigan residents of ignoring the state's orphans for the Vietnamese, and became angry.

"That's just not true," she said. "I don't think it's fair for anyone to say we're ignoring our children for the Vietnamese. If there are 1,200 children available, why can't they match them up with the parents who want

'It shouldn't take more than a month or two after the home study is completed to place a child," she said. There seems to be a breakdown

"I would say it took at least 10 phone calls to get an agency to talk to us," Mrs. Prince continued. "Wayne County wouldn't even take my name. because I wasn't black. 'Be patient'- tions they have asked me to submit. Those questions are relevant to their particular outlook," said Greenstein.

They are significant questions, but I don't feel it would be proper for me to disclose them.

McAninch said the questions centered on control of housing and use of the money. She said: "There are a lot of specific questions and they are about control.

Ruttan added: "The communities are worried about local control. They don't know who will be running the program, the federal government, the county, or themselves. They are concerned about who will have to enforce the EPA requirements. They are wondering about the relationship between Title I (money currently being applied for) and Title II (future funds)

"These questions may seem like nitpicking, but they are critical in applying for the grant.'

Added Greenstein: "The questions are significant because we are only getting $24,000 (apiece).

THE COUNTY is handling the application for the funds. The county joined with 19 communities whose populations are less than 50.000. These municipalities are labelled "non-vested" interests and are not eligible to apply for the funds individually. Nonvested communities must band together to apply for the funds, and their aggregate population must exceed 200,000 to be eligible.

Plymouth and Canton townships and the City of Plymouth are among the 19 communities in Wayne County who have joined with the county in applying for the money. Canton and the City of Plymouth have officially joined in the application while Plymouth Township is awaiting the outcome of the Washington trip. The Plymouth Township board has empowered Supervisor J.D. McLaren to withdraw from the grant application at any time.

Dereliction of duty?

Coalition accuses SEMCOG of 'whitewash'

By EMORY DANIELS

DETROIT - The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEM-COG) has been charged with dereliction of duty and with performing a "whitewash" job in reviewing suburban applications for federal funds under the Community Development Act of 1974.

That charge was made by the Coalition for Block Grant Compliance during a press conference held Friday in Detroit.

The coalition has alleged the applications for CDA funds from Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Reford Township do not comply with federal requirements and are indicative of a attern to discriminate against low-income persons.

Plymouth, and Plymouth and Canton townships have filed for CDA funds with Wayne County which was late in getting its application into SEMCOG. The coalition received Wayne County's application Thursday but hasn't analyzed it yet. The application provides total numbers but doesn't specify which communities are included in the application.

THE CHARGES against SEMCOG were first prompted by the regional reviewing agency's refusal to accept the coalition's findings as part of SEM-COG's A-95 review process

But the coalition leaders, Clifford Schrupp and Joe Guggenheim, be came even more upset with SEMCOG the day before the press conference. On Thursday, the coalition got access to the CDA applications filed with the Detroit office of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Earlier, SEMCOG had refused to allow the coalition to study the remarks made on the applications

By use of the federal Freedom of Information Act, coalition officials studied the applications and were disturbed with the lack of attention SEMCOG gave the applications.

Michael Glusec, executive director of SEMCOG, responded Friday: "The charges made are indicative of the coalition's lack of knowledge of SEM-COG's role in the grant block process.

"In defining what our role was, we consulted extensively with HUD and we reviewed existing federal regulations which very clearly specify the role of the clearinghouse. We performed that role."

GUGGENHEIM, executive director of the Michigan Committee on Law and Housing in Detroit, said Friday:

"SEMCOG's response that our comments cannot be part of the A-95 review process is totally unwarranted." He said the coalition sent a telegram to SEMCOG in early March informing that findings would be forwarded to staff officials. The reviews were transmitted by the coalition and received by SEMCOG on April 7." Schrupp is director of the Northwest Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice.

SEMCOG said the comments had to be received within 20 days before the April 15 deadline to submit applications to HUD to become part of its review process.

'SEMCOG had sufficient dialogue before the 20-day deadline to know the coalition wanted to be included in the A-95 review process.

"Our exclusion was totally unwarranted. We do have an alternate channel in HUD to be heard, but we still wanted to be part of SEMCOG's review process.

Under the review process, Glusec answers, the most the coalition could have expected was that its comments would have been attached to each of the 26 applications and forwarded to the applicant suburbs.

"The coalition had already submitted its findings to each of the local suburbs, and passed the information on to HUD, so what purpose would have been served by SEMCOG doing the same?" asked Glusec. "Our denial hasn't prevented the coalition from doing what it wanted to and has indeed done."

WHEN CHECKING the comments made by SEMCOG on the 26 applications, said Guggenheim, "We discovered a dereliction of duty on SEM-COG's part and a whitewash.

"There was a sentence in all 26 applications that SEMCOG found the application consistent with its goals and policies. Yet the applications are not consistent with SEMCOG's goal recoghizing the need for low income housing throughout the region which was adopted in January 1974, by its general assembley.

"We feel there were many flagrant violations of this requirement which were totally overlooked by SEMCOG. "SEMCOG is insensitive and indifferent to the review requirements to see if individual applications are consistent with the Act.

"With SEMCOG, there is no distinguishing between the good and the bad applications. Some suburbs totally ignored the law and SEMCOG has given up and not performed its function of reviewing. The only comments SEMCOG made were technical and intended to give the communities a 'ras tionale' for what they were doing." Schrupp described SEMCOG's review as a "clerical review." "When a zero was on the application line asking for the number of workers expected to reside, SEMCOG advised the community it should justify why the zero was on the line.

"It wa a facilitating-type of action which let the communities know SEM-COG didn't really expect an accurate estimate," Schrupp added. "It was a great shirking of responsibility by SEMCOG."

Guggenheim said while he and Schrupp are in Washington, D.C. this week for the National Conference on Housing they will stop in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget to investigate SEMCOG's responsibility. At a later point, he added, the coalition will determine if SEMCOG has any legal responsibility it has shunned and will then decide whether to take any action against the regional

"We are not looking for any confrontration with SEMCOG but we are concerned about SEMCOG ignoring the civil rights implications in the A-95 review of the CDA grant appli-

Schrupp added that the 20-day deadline is SEMCOG's self-imposed deadline. "With the exception of one municipality (Westland), our detailed comments were provided to SEM-COG, HUD and the individual communities within the 45-day time period alloted in the federal regulations for A-95 review and comment."

GLUSEC COUNTERS that the role of SEMCOG is confined to a determination as to whether the data used by an applicant municipality was "significantly inconsistent" with the data posessed by SEMCOG.

"In addition, we had sent out all the reviews before we learned that the coalition desired its views to be incorporated in our reviews.

"There were some cases where SEMCOG found the data on an application consistent with its data, and the Michigan Civil Rights Commission submitted comments objecting to the application and recommended against

"We didn't find Livonia's data, for instance, inconsistent with ours but mentioned in our letter to the city that there was an attachment from the Michigan Civil Rights Commission recommending against funding.

"When Livonia files with HUD it must file the SEMCOG, Civil Rights Commission, and Wayne County Planning Commission letters. And the direction given from HUD also indicates it must file local comments received, which would include the findings of the coalition."

Glusec added that the responsibility to comply with federal laws and regulations rests with the local govern-

"I must also stress that our regional goal is not a plan," Glusec continued, "but is only a guideline for planners to develop a plan. A housing plan for the region is under consideration now by the staff which will talk about provisions for housing for all income levels, but that hasn't been presented for approval yet."

There were instances, he added, when SEMCOG found data inconsistent with its information. "In those instances, we informed the cities in our comments. But if a local community has taken its own survey to identify needs, the Act says that local survey is appropriate.'

"Our role is to point out to a grantor agency any problems that exist in an application.

DRIVER EDUCATION cars available to Plymouth Community Schools students have been reduced from 16 to six with word that one auto dealer can't afford to participate in the program any longer. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Economy hurts driver ed too

Slumping auto sales and higher interest rates have caused a reduction in the Plymouth School District's driver education fleet. The school district's fleet of 16 cars has been diminished by 10, with the word from auto dealer Clarence DuCharme that be can no longer afford to provide the cars on a gratis basis to the school district DuCharme said that his loan of 10 cars to the district cost him an approximate "$9,000 or $10,000 during this school year" and noted that he could not afford to continue in the program.

Driver Education cordinator Fred Meier, said the loss of the 10 vehicles will not curtail the current driver ed program, but noted that it could have serious implications for the program in the fall

MEIER SAID he will be able to accommodate the current load of approximacely 160 students through the end of the school year with the six remaining cars.

In addition to the 10 that had been supplied by DuCharme, of Fiesta AMC, the district has four cars from Lou LaRiche Chevrolet and two cars from Leo Calhoun Ford.

LaRiche said he will not pull out of the driver ed program, and may add two more cars to the fleet. Calhoun, however, said he was considering cutting back his driver education cars at the end of the school year.

DuCharme explained that dealers receive a rebate from the auto manufacturers for participating in the driver education program. He said, however, that the rebate figure has not changed in a number of years and that interests cost alone on the purchase of the vehicles (which the dealers have to buy themselves) run more than $200 more than the rebate figures.

COUPLING THAT loss with the loss

a dealer takes when selling the oar after it is no longer in the program, DuCharme estimated his cost to be approximately $900 per car.

"We began our involvement in the driver education program because of our interest in the community and a desire to put our best foot forward and help out. We were not looking for any type of remuneration.

"But because of the high cost of money at close to 13 per cent a year, we can't afford the program at the current level. We've reduced our current participation from 10 cars down to none for this school year, and we'll most likely go back to two or three cars per year in the fall."

Schools Supt. John M. Hoben said he was not critical of DuCharme or any other dealer in the state who may be considering reducing or curtailing driver education participation.

"THIS IS a problem that's affecting school districts and car dealers throughout the state, and we're just going to have to look at some alternatives that don't place the whole burden on either the school district or the Meier said he will alter the driver education program to reduce the amount of time devoted to driving on the range set up in the school parking lot. He will add time to actual on-theroad driving and time spent behind driving simulators. He said the program would still meet state requirements, but would require a few more hours of a student's time to complete the course.

Meier said he was also very appreciative of the help offered by the auto dealers thus far. He said attempts to get other area auto dealers to participate in the program have not proved successful.

Airport meeting set for May 1

By DARLENE STINSON

PLYMOUTH-Plans for a new general aviation airport in the Plymouth-Canton area could wind up in the waste paper basket, if local opposition continues to run high.

That's the word from William Gehman, master planning engineer for the Michigan Aeronautics Commission (MAC), who says most local governing bodies have, so far, voiced loud criticism of the airport plan.

An informational meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, May 1, in Plymouth City Hall could determine the fate of the airport and the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) decision to fund an airport study under the auspices of the Wayne County Road Commission, according to Geh-

REPRESENTATIVES of the FAA, Wayne County Road Commission and Michigal State Highway Depart-ment's Bureau of Aeronautics and Bureau of Transportation will attempt next Thursday to clear up confusion concerning the airport, proposed for northwestern Wayne County, northeastern Washtenaw County or southwestern Oakland County.

But, Gehman said, continued opposition at next week's meeting could scrap the entire project.

"I think that meeting will definitely play a role in the decision to go ahead with the study," Gehman said. "Wayne County is the sponsor of the study. If it's apparent to them and to us (MAC) that the overwhelming population is saying, 'No, we don't want an airport,' I'd say the study would stop before the FAA issues the application.

Local opposition to the airport surfaced when the issue was publicly broached at a Feb. 25 hearing in Plymouth City Hall.

An invitation to submit written feelings on the airport issue before April 1 brought numerous letters against the proposal, according to Gehman, but no letters in favor.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP and intergovernmental commission, representing the Plymouth Community School District and Canton, Plymouth. Salem and Superior townships, sent letters opposing the airport. Northville and Salem townships sent opposition letters of their own.

The City of Plymouth did not send a letter in favor or against the proposed airport plan, according to Commissioner Norbert Battermann, because its stand on the issue is "noncommittal."

Gehman said a letter from Oakland County did not indicate support or opposition to the airport plan but indicated a desire for representation on the airport study committee, which would determine a site for the air-

If the airport study, conducted by a consulting firm hired by the Wayne County Road Commission with FAA and Wayne County funds, proceeds as originally planned, a site could be chosen for the airport in the Plymouth-Canton area.

With runways up to 5,000 feet, the airport would accommodate small corporate jets and other privately-owned aircraft.

GEHMAN SAID he does not know the price tag of the airport study. . But if enough units of local government come but point blank against the airport. I would say it would preclude the study "However, we feel a lot of their concerns would be further examined through the course of the study, and we could then make a final determination. Even if the study were to proceed--and that's an if--it doesn't mean an airport would be built."

90 day extension proposed

County votes on road patrol funds

The Ways and Means Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners is meeting this afternoon (Thursday) to discuss funding the Funds for the patrol will expire at the end of April if the extension is not

The County Public Safety and Judiciary Committee met earlier this month and recommended the funding be extended for 90 days, although Circuit Judge Thomas Foley's March 27 ruling says the county is no longer obligated to fund the patrol.

SEVEN TOWNSHIPS will be affected by today's vote: Canton. Plymouth, Northville, Huron, Brownstown, and Van Buren.

Representatives from those communities met Tuesday with a three-man subcommittee from the county's Public Safety and Judiciary Committee to discuss the township's role in paying for the services of the sheriff.

"We stood firm and made it quite clear we don't intend to pay for the sheriff until the courts say it is ultimately our legal obligation." says Sheriff's Road Patrol for an addition-, Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

"The townships have maintained a joint front, and as long as we do, we will be in good shape.

A spokesman for the county said "there were no firm decisions. They discussed much of what has been said before and it will be up to the Ways and Means to decide.

Greenstein commented: "The meeting went surprisingly well and I think they were given to understand the townships won't pay any money until the final verdict is in. They may go back to the board of commissioners and ask that the patrol be funded until the end of the fiscal year (Nov. 30)."

FOLEY'S RULING, which dismissed the township's request for a declaratory judgment outlining the county's responsibility in funding the patrol, is being appealed.

Bert Burgoyne, counsel for the the outcounty police service. seven townships, filed a motion with the Michigan Court of Appeals within the last two weeks.

"We paid our money and filed our appeal with the clerk. We have 60 days to prepare and submit a brief, and the county has 40 days to respond." Burgovne explained.

Burgoyne said a ruling on the appeal would not be rendered for at least three months. "I don't know how long it will take. Right now it's up in the air."

He indicated he would use the maximum time limit to prepare the brief and added the county would also probably use the full time allotted to them to respond to the appeal brief.

"To do a thorough and responsible job takes time, so I don't think we'll be submitting the brief before the 60 days are up.

THE BATTLE over funding of the road patrol has been going on for the. last four years, as the county has become increasingly hesitant to pay for

District Court may vanish from the township map on July 1, when it moves from its facilities behind township hall.

The township board of trustees Tuesday unammously agreed to move the court out of the township to save an additional $20,000 needed to finance the court this year.

THE ACTION was taken after District Court Judge Dunbar Davis, who runs other 35th District courtrooms in the cities of Plymouth and Northville, PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP-The 35th agreed to the move and assured trustees the action was legal.

> Davis assured the board in a written communication that his court would return to the township at board members' request.

Trustee Richard Gornick, who moved to cease court operations on July 1, stipulated that the court be closed only if the City of Plymouth agrees to the action. The city's courtroom, located on the second floor of city hall, would absorb most of the township's case load.

That means increased costs for the city, because the total cost of running the 35th District Court is carrently divided between Plymouth Township and the cities of Plymouth and Northville based on the number of cases each court hears.

CITY MANAGER Fred Yockey Wednesday, said the city budgeted $84,000 for this year's court operations but added that the city would look at Plymouth Township's proposal. 'We're obviously not interested in assuming a deficit." Yockey said. "but I'm not sure a deficit would occur. We'll be glad to review the matter with the judge and the township, If it appears to be beneficial to the community, we'll be glad to do it." .9

Plymouth Township has housed the 35th District Court since 1969 when the district court system was impley mented. Last year's bill for the township court building represented about 24 per cent of the total district court bill, according to Township Clerk Helen Richardson, and came to about

The township this year budgeted $36,700 for court operations, Mrs. Richardson said. The court bill increased $20,000, however, after court employer were awarded a 14 per cent pay hike in their new contract.

According to Mrs. Richardson Davis told township officials the court could not pick up the $20,000 cost increase with revenues.

"We don't like the idea," of moving the court out of the township." said Mrs. Richardson, but economically we have to. There's an advantage in having the court, because you get the prestige."

Gornick's motion to move the court out of the township commends Judge Davis for "his cooperation and eager" ness to serve the township."

Mettetal airport hearing scheduled for May 28

CANTON-A special board meeting to discuss the possible purchase of Mettetal Airport has been set for May 28. at 7:30 p.m. in the Canton Township Fire Hall.

The township board voted unanimously to hold the hearing to present findings of a study on feasibility of the purchase of the airport by the township.

Township officials have been interested in the facility for a number of years, and six months ago hired the firm of R. Dixon and Speas Associates to conduct a financial feasibility study. The cost of the study is $10,000 and is shared equally between the township and the federal government.

Results of the study were received by township officials a month ago and

We have completely open minds about it. and we'll wait until after the public hearing before making any judgments about the advantage of purchasing the airport."

Clerk John Flodin said, "The airport may be an asset to the community, but that has yet to be deter-

According to the financial study, it would cost the township about $500,000 to buy Mettetal. The report suggests that $69,000 in general obligation bonds and $456,000 in revenue bonds be floated to purchase the facility as

The report says annual income from the airport will exceed expenses including bond payoff by $9,000 an-

COST OF EXPANDING the airport runway to 3,000 feet would be approximately $550,000. This expansion would result in a net loss annually of $13,000 "unless building renovation can be accomplished with federal assistance. Then an annual income of about $6,000 will be realized," said the Expansion of the airport runway to its full capacity of 3,800 feet would cost an additional $125,000. Without aid from CETA, the expansion would result in a loss of $5,000 a year. With CETA help, the report concludes that a $14,000 annual profit could be real-

The report says construction of the hangers should be self-supporting but additional bonds might be necessary to cover the immediate construction

Drawing from the financial evaluation, the report's authors state that Canton can own and operate its airport with only "a small cost to the taxpayers.'

IT CONCLUDES, "To achieve such a public facility with its attendant benefit to the economic welfare of the eommunity, and at a small cost, is worthwhile.'

Township residents near Mettetal, particularly from the Pickwick Village and Farms subdivisions have been opposed to both purchase and expansion of the airport. Residents say they would rather see the airport land used for a different purpose.

In a letter sent to the board March 11, three co-chairmen of the Pickwick subdivisions' community goals committee said, "We are prepared to go to any lengths and use any means to stop the Mettetal Airport facility from any expansionist acts. We do not want' our township to throw good dollars into a speculative venture."

WHO'S RETIRED? Certainly not Mrs. Elizabeth "Pinky" Holmes, who quit her longtime post of Plymouth Township treasurer and manager of the water department last fall. She's back in township government again, taking a post in the Northville Township treasurer's office. "Pinky" (right) goes over her new assignments with Deputy Treasurer Mrs. Kay Ratliff. ## Pond may provide safety valve

CANTON- A man-made pond, proposed for the 290-acre Centennial Educational Park site, may soon provide a safety valve for potential flooding problems and an educational facility for students in the Plymouth Community School District.

The schools' rural life committee, headed by school board Trustee George Lawton, is currently investigating three sites for the proposed pond, recommended by the engineering firm of Wade, Trim & Associ-

"The pond is called for because of possible flooding problems resulting from build-up of property north and west of Joy and Beck," Lawton explained. "With this build-up, you have huge amounts of paved land that will no longer absorb moisture."

The Centennial Educational Park, on which Plymouth Salem and Canton high schools are located, drops 26 feet in elevation from its northwest to southeast corners, according to Supt. John Hoben.

The Department of Natural Rehave identified the area as a flood plain. Hoben said, which could flood in a storm, occurring once in every 50 acres.

About four years ago, the Plymouth Community School Board allocated $15,000 from the district's building and site fund for the pond. That action was taken at the recommendation of the district's engineering firm, when Plymouth Canton High School was under construction.

"We've never known the area to flood, but it could," Hoben said. "If a flood did occur, it would flood Canton Center Road."

The pond is proposed for one of three sites near the western edge of the Centennial Educational Park, Lawton said, where a branch of the Tonquish Creek crosses the land.

No matter which site is chosen, a hole would be excavated near the creek, and fed by its waters. A retention mound would control the water

The site, which Wade, Trim & Associates view as the most favorable, would involve some swapping of school land with a Canton Township sources and Wade, Trim & Associates resident, who lives west of the Centennial Educational Park on Joy, Lawton said. The pond would cover about two

Districts soon to receive special education funds

WAYNE COUNTY - Local school districts in this area will soon be receiving the second payment on the one mill ($1 per $1,000 state equalized valuation) special education tax approved by county voters last Aug. 6.

The tax money is collected by the county treasurer for the Wayne County Intermediate School District to be disbursed to local districts under a formula approved by an advisory committee of local school superintendents.

The intermediate district has assured all local districts that any interest earned by the tax money in shortterm investments will also be disbursed on a pro-rated basis.

GARDEN CITY School District will receive almost $400,000 and Livonia School District $765,640.

Plymouth School District will receive $138,820, Redford Union $222,390, South Redford, $130,890, and Wayne-Westland School District will receive

The one mill tax will produce about $13.7 million levied countywide. Half that amount has already been paid out to local school districts. The money is expected this year to pay nearly all the cost of the local district for each special education student.

Special education programs and services, to be reimbursable from intermediate millage, must be coordinated by the special education services staff of the intermediate district.

The responsibility for all special education programs in Wayne County has been placed on the intermediate district by the Mandatory Special Education Act adopted by the Legislature.

Classes for some types of special education students are operated by the intermediate district - others are operated through a contractual agreement with selected school districts.

Social Services revamped

A plan to decentralize the offices of the Wayne County Department of Social Services won the unanimous approval of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners at its April 15 meet-

Although the vote was unanimous, only 15 of the 26 commissioners were on the floor for the roll call and the plan was approved by one vote more than the required 14 for passage.

The board acted in anticipation of a state take-over of the entire cost of general assistance programs and the county's responsibility for housing offices of the state agency.

At present the county is required by law to pay the first $13.5 million of the cost of general assistance. That figure represents the revenue from one mill of the county property tax.

The Milliken administration has proposed to the Legislature that the state assume the entire responsibility for public assistance over a three-year period, beginning July 1. This would be offset by a reduction in the amount of state revenue sharing received by the

The only cost to the county, if the state approves the three-year takeover, would be $827,698 for guards, extermination and janitorial services. This cost would be reimbursed by 45 per cent state and 55 per cent federal

Plans to boost the number of offices from the present eight to 20 include breaking up the three largest offices in Detroit into 10 smaller service centers; consolidating the fragmented Northwest Office, serving western Wayne County residents, into one of fice to serve Westland, Livonia, Plymouth, Northville and Inkster; and remodeling the Holbrook office.

While the number of offices is increased, the size of the offices and the staggering numbers of persons they serve will be decreased to bring services closer to residents and to eliminate present problems

In a move typical of her, Commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia) abstained as the vote was being taken and then assessing the plans' chances of approval switched her vote to aye and explained:

"I am still very concerned with the length of time the Department of Social Services will take to take-over the entire cost. I approve of the concept but am concerned about the cost to the county if the impending legislation does not pass."

Parade route uncertain

WAYNE COUNTY-Western Wayne County community representatives took heart from a Greenfield Village proposal to route the county's bicentennial parade to a finish in front of the Village's Independence Hall rep-

Area spokesmen hope to start the May 2, 1976 parade, billed as the "world's greatest parade," in the Michigan-Merriman area.

Selection of the route remains uncertain and faces staunch opposition from Detroit and eastern county repre-

Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner (R-Grosse Pointe), chairman of the county's Bicentennial Committee, expressed uncertainty about the adequacy of space at Greenfield Village and about parking areas for the parade floats at the Michigan-Merriman location.

Other suggested routes are: · Woodward Avenue from the State

Fairgrounds to the Civic Center in downtown Detroit;

•Telegraph from Dearborn north to Eight Mile; and

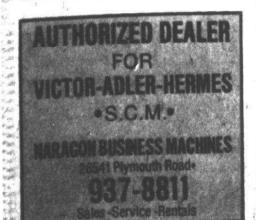

•The I-96 Freeway from Southfield Road to downtown Detroit. "I have no preconceived notions about where the parade should be held," Steiner said. "It will be most important, however, to have sufficient area for parking the 220 floats and perhaps other trucks before the parade

Sheriff William Lucas has agreed to provide traffic control and other police assistance.

As debate developed at the committee's April 15 meeting, Steiner asked the nine-person task force, including Dale Welling, chairman of the Livonia Bicentennial Committee, to meet again and return with a firm recommendation on May 15.

Steiner identified 22 community leaders who have volunteered to coordinate various phases of parade organization and promotion activity. They represent cultural, business and governmental organizations.

"At first deciding what ego state you're in seems artificial," Prezioso said. "But after a while you begin to sort out your behavior. You decide what your behavior will be rather than act out of habit. After a while it becomes a part of you and isn't artificial any more."

PREZIOSO contends that TA isn't a method of faultfinding.

"The basic approach is that you're OK. You may be into some behavior that is not. The object is in deciding which behavior to keep and which behavior to change.

"It's important to keep in mind that significant adults did the best with what they had. It's OK to be resentful or angry with an adult, but if you hang onto that for too long, you're not changing yourself. Blaming someone else is hindering you from changing."

Sharing life's script a poignant experience

tional analysis (TA), can be a painful process for both the person revealing his script and for those sharing it.

During a recent TA session at Schoolcraft College's Newman House, Rita (a fictitious name) volunteered her script. At one point she broke down and cried. During the 30 minute session, TA counselor Fred Prezioso guided the scripting, frequently reminding Rita not to contain her feel-

Prezioso: Be your mother. What's the worst thing she ever said to you? Rita: My mother used to slap me when I was sassy. She never slapped my sister Elaine and I used to wonder Prezioso: As your mother why did you do this? What did she say? Rita: She'd say, "Elaine is just like me and I know how she would take a slap.' Prezioso: Be yourself. What is the message you received? Rita: I thought it was grossly unfair. My mother likes my sister better than she liked me

Prezioso: Be your mother. What would she say? Rita: I'm really right about this and I hope you'll understand. Your sister wouldn't react positively to a slap. Prezioso: As mother, how are you feeling?

Rita: Right but sad. Prezioso: Be Rita. How are feeling when mother says this to you?

RITA: I feel devastated, isolated and let down. Alone. It's scarv.

Prezioso: What do you decide? Rita: I won't feel. I can't love Mom. I can't expect love from her because she loves my sister better.

Prezioso: What's the best thing

Mom ever said to you? Rita: Whenever I did anything good she was pleased at my success.

Prezioso: What was Mom telling Rita: Be successful for me. I didn't get a chance to be a success, so you do it. Prezioso: Be Mom. Put Rita in Rita: My mom was angry at her father. He left her. They came to repossess the carpet and my mom stood in the center of the rug to try to keep them from taking it:

Prezioso: What message did you get from this? Rita: I had to be strong, stronger than a man. I had to make money. Don't depend on a man, my mother was telling me. No one can do it as well as I can.

Prezioso: What's the best thing your father ever said to you? Rita: He never said much, but he preferred me over my sisters.

Prezioso: Be your dad. Rita: He didn't say anything but he let me know he loved me best of all. He said: "I know you love me and I know you're the only one who does."

He feels alone and rejected. Prezioso: Be Rita. How do you feel? Rita: I feel good because he loves me. I have to be strong for Dad. I Rita: A lot of "leave me alone." He liked to read and listen to the radio. Prezioso: How was dad feeling?

Rita: Angry. Prezioso: How did you feel? Rita: Rejected. Sad and alone. Prezioso: What decision did you

Rita: I have to find something he wants to do and share it with him. We used to go to the show a couple of times a week. Just him and me. Not my mother and not Elaine.

For the past three years the Michigan Department of Education conducts a statewide "minimal objective test" in math and reading at the beginning of the school year for fourth and seventh grade students.

THE TEST OBJECTIVES, (which A report which analyzes data and at: fin the fourth grade include skills such as being able to "indicate similiar geometric shapes" or "identify a number less than 100") are skills which educators believe most students should be able to comprehend.

Using the above example "indicating geometric shapes," the test has five questions on it which test a fourth grade student's geometric perception. The child must score four correct answers out of five to get credit, but not a grade, for that desired "minimal" skill.

IF THE STATE average shows that 60 per cent of Michigan's fourth graders got at least four of the five questions right; and only 50 per cent of Wayne-Westland's students got credit for comprehending the concept, the curriculum will probably be revamped to emphasize that weak spot.

Asst. Supt. Warren Spurling said he "has a feeling" the test results will be misinterpreted.

"We can and will make some assumptions about our curriculum based on this additional source of information," Spurlin said. "But it's very tempting to take this one test and try to draw conclusions from it.

"People might look at the title of this test, 'minimal objectives' and think that we're not teaching our students the basic skills if we don't make a certain percentage. On some of these minimal objectives less than one-half the students tested in the state got credit for the objective."

The Michigan Department of Education assessment report says that because of the number of variables that enter into a test like this, results should be thought of as a tool to help discover areas that need improvement and not a "device to place

Vladimir Maximov. "The Seven very much like a detective story in Days of Creation." From the Soviet Union (where it has been denied by all but Underground publication) comes this monumental novel of Twentieth Century Russia, a novel of the greatest importance—for its own immense strength and merit, and for the extreme courage of its author. who in the fall of 1973 was expelled from the Soviet Writers' Union, and in 1974 was finally exiled from his coun-

Moving across the vast Russian landscape, across 70 years and three generations of one family, "The Seven Days of Creation" reveals the ordinary lives of Russia's men and women. Constantly shifting in time from the present back through these seven days-of Creation? of Catastrophe-that encompass the desperate national drama of revolution, war and civil war, dictatorship and persecution, Maximov unfolds his saga of the Brothers Lashkov and their descendants.

Kurt Mendelssohn. "The Riddle of the Pyramids." This story began, as often happens in scientific inquiry. with a chance observation. The author, noted scientist Kurt Mendelssohn, was fully aware of the great riddle of the pyramids-namely, why this immense effort had been made 5,000 years ago—ne did not, at first. realize that his uneasiness about the ruined pyramid at Meidum would possibly lead to the riddle's answer.

But a scientific discovery usually is not, as so many people imagine, a sudden flash of intuition by which the whole truth is revealed; rather it is a slow, and often laborious, process-which the clues have to be patiently assembled, and many false leads eliminated. The ruined state of the pyramid at Meidum led the author through an exciting series of deductions to a surprising new theory about the purpose of the pyramids that is supported by the independent evidence of the parallel development of pyramids in Mesoamerica. The discovery of the main purpose of the pyramids is the subject of this book.

William Harrington. "Scorpio $." Scorpio 5 belonged to Dr. Giovanna Verona, its beautiful designer. When it didn't look as if the company was going to give the credit for Scorpio's success to her, she fell victim to a stranger's suggestion that the program would be worth six figures to another computer company-if she could figure out a way to steal it.

But here she was not so successful, and her free-swinging happy world soon tumbled around her ears. When Tad Putnam, the Yale Law Schooltrained detective began to wonder who had set her up and why, he unraveled a bizarre plot which leads to a confrontation with an elusive and dangerous master criminal.

Shirley Hartman. "The Surgeons". Only a surgeon could have penetrated as intimately as this into the lives and minds of those who make up a big medical complex. The emergency room, the board room, the operating room-we see it all, even to the executive medical committee meeting to resolve the problem of how to suspend a sadistic, morale-destroying staff surgeon whose father is a major contributor to the hospital fund.

The utility has decentralized a number of company functions into six geographic divisions - Wayne, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Macomb, Oakland, and the thumb region.

THIS STEP is the latest in the company's continuing efforts to improve the quality of its service, says Charles M. Heidel who is vice president of the new division organization at Edison.

"In recognition of our customers' needs, we have reorganized the company into smaller units which will be managed geographically closer to the customer. We believe this will provide greater flexibility and speed of response to customer needs."

The reorganization is basically a realignment of management personnel. Heidel emphasizes, because virtually all employes who have been assigned to the divisions are already working in the geographic areas they

The primary change, he said, is they will now report locally to a central point of control (the division manager) rather than to functional department heads located at company headquarters in Detroit.

4 students on dean's list

Western Wayne County students are well represented on the dean's list of Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. Four students from the area were among 63 who earned at least a B average during the first semester.

Bob Jones University is a liberal arts, coeducational, Christian institution.

Garden City residents making the list are: David R. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hart, a senior in the School of Business Administration: and David M. Tharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tharp Jr., a senior in the School of Education.

Others are: Cheri Ann Noe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Noe of Livonia, a sophomore in the College of Arts and Science; and Charlotte J. McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ottis McGuire of Plymouth, a sophomore in the School of Education.

THOMAS F. DAHN of Livonia has been promoted to vice president in the operations division of City National Bank. Dahn, who joined CNB in 1956, has served as manager in the distribution department, assistant cashier, and assistant vice president. His new responsibilities include overall operational supervision of the Demand Deposit Record Center, Time Deposit Record Center, and the distribution functions of the bank. He recently graduated from the National Trade Association's School for Bank Administration at the University of Wisconsin.

3 students pioneer new internship

Three area women who are sociology majors at the University of Michigan - Dearborn (UM-D), are "pioneers" in a new social work internship program which seeks to "erase the barriers between the classroom and the city.'

Linda McGraw is working for the Community Living Centers, Inc. of Farmington, and Jacqueline Ward is working with the 16th District Court of Livonia. Both are Livonia residents. Mary Curtindale, from Redford Township, is also working with the 16th District Court.

THE STUDENTS receive three credit hours for each internship up to a maximum of six credit hours.

Interns spend about six hours a week "on the job". Supervision is provided by the program's director, Dr. Barbara N. Carter, and approved field instructors.

The internship is part of a new three-course sequence in social work begun this semester to prepare students for social work at the preprofessional (bachelor's degree) level or for graduate study.

For most of the students, the internship offers a view of social work they couldn't get in the classroom.

"You can study theory forever, but it's just not the same as getting out into the field," said Ms. Ward who finds that working with real people instead of case studies has changed her perceptions.

"I'm not so wide-eyed and innocent anymore," she explained. "At first, I wanted to believe the story of every juvenile who was brought in-now I'm more skeptical."

DR. CARTER, UM-D assistant professor of sociology, said the new social work sequence and internship program is "in keeping with the university's role as an urban-oriented university serving all the people of Southeastern Michgian.'

Graduates of the current threecourse sequence with a degree in sociology may qualify to work in such areas as neighborhood centers. schools, hospitals, district courts, and child and family services.

LEONARD R. FIELD, Livonia resident and former Detroit teacher, has been appointed a staff representative and union organizer by the Michigan Federation of Jeachers (MFT). His duties include contract and grievance negotiation for MFT-affiliated teachers in the tri-county area. He is a 1967 graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

PARKET PARKET FOR THE FOR THE FOREST STATE FOR THE FOREST PARKET STATES OF THE FOREST STATES

WAYNE COUNTY-Farmers in the Plymouth-Canton area will be eligible for emergency federal loans at low interest to aid their recovery from losses that destroyed more than 50 per cent of some crops last year. Their eligibility results from a resolution declaring the county Board of Commissioners at its April meeting. The board also asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to make the loans available.

The resolution proclaiming the disaster conditions was submitted by Commissioner Richards Manning (D-Redford), whose district includes Livonia.

According to the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ACS) in Wayne County, at least 75 per cent of the 700 farms in the county suffered substantially from a combination of excessive rainfall, summer drought and early September

About $3.5 million worth of corn, soybean and hay crops were lost last years, according to the ACS study. That amounts to two-thirds of the corn crop, nearly one-third of the soybean crop and more than half the hay crop in the county, the reports adds.

When you enroll, the total cost of the energy you use is averaged over a period of a year. Then this cost is divided into twelve equal payments. You pay that amount each month. You always know what your payment will be and can budget for it. May is the final month of the "Equal Payment Year," and at that time your account is adjusted for any overpayment or underpayment. You enjoy the convenience of this extra service at no extra charge.

You can sign up at any time, but your monthly payments will be lowest if you start the Plan in June.

Teacher strike bill still under study

By BOB ERICKSON

Some months ago, a committee of legislators headed by Rep. William Keith (D-Garden City) drafted a bill to curb teacher strikes like those that crippled the Garden City and Crestwood school districts this past year.

That bill, intended as a compromise school employe bargaining measure, pleased few of the parties involved in teacher bargaining as it went into the House Labor Committee. Consequently, it sat there for many weeks while labor and management argud its merits with litle enthusiasm.

LABOR LEADERS all over the state saw the need for immediate action to counter that move, and despite their opposition to several of the Keith bill's provisions, they decided to push for action on the measure as the only alternative to more disastrous school bargaining stalemates this Union leaders and lobbyists for the AFL-CIO, the Michigan Education Association, and the Michigan Federation of Teachers spurred the labor committee to action, and late last week caused a flurry of amendments to the bill to be proposed.

Those amendments, which many observers expect to see adopted before the bill leaves the committee, could the orchestra. And that year, the League held its first geranium sale.

The League has made a substantial strike a "management rights" clause from the bill and delete stringent penalties which could be imposed on striking teachers should the bill retain its present form.

SEVERAL committee members reportedly responded to labor opposition to the bill by indicate that they would support an amending to cut from the bill a provision which impose $50 to $100 daily fines for any striking teacher in defiance of a court

Many laborites say they still oppose the Keith bill, but, one AFL-CIO representative said, "In light of the Supreme Court decision, we believe something has to be done.'

Some union spokesmen have reportedly urged the labor committee to abandon the concept of the Keith bill and push legislative action which would grant the unqualified right to strike to all public employes, but others are apparently willing to settle for a heavily amended version of the

KEITH HIMSELF seems willing to see an amended version of his bill come out of the labor committee. He does not believe that amendments that might be added to the bill would destroy its intent.

"I don't believe the bill would be gutted by these amendments;" Keith said in an interview Friday. "If that (the labor backed amendments) will get it moving and get it out on the floor, that's fine...the basic concept of the bill is to deal with the bargaining impasse-that remains the same.'

Keith indicated amendments to such a controversial bill are to be expected and that it is natural to expect that a labor committee would produce a version of a bill influenced by labor perspective.

With all of that, Keith is encouraged that the bill is moving. "We're going to have to move this bill within the next three or four weeks." he said. "There will be a lot of amendments introduced when it gets to the floor. We often say in the Legislature that if you introduced the Lord's Prayer. when it came out of committee it would look like the Apostle's Creed."

Keith was critical of those groups which assail the Legislature for its inaction on the strike question. He noted that thus far no less than 13 bills have been introduced at the urging of various interest groups and that none of them has got off the ground.

He pointed out that neither the labor representatives nor the spokesmen for school boards can agree on what is needed in the area of teacher bargaining legislation.

While the Keith bill has been sitting in committee, he said, there has been ample time for labor to present its case, but union representatives from such organizations as the MEA, AFT. AFL-CIO, Teamsters, and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME) can't even agree among themselves.

Symphony rehearsed in stable

(Part II)

Paul Wagner soon won the local amateurs over to the idea that they could form a symphony orchestra, but only six musicians showed up at the first rehearsal. Wagner began inviting other musicians, including professionals, to round out the complement. Soon the Groschke home was too small to house the group.

About that time, the Board of Education had acquired a large old house on Main Street, where Central Middle School gymnasium now stands. At the rear of the house was a two-story structure which had once been a stable. The school assigned its music department to the second floor of the the place. By this time, he had induced people from the music school at the University of Michigan to join the group.

REHEARSALS continued under the sloping ceilings of the old stable until the structure was torn down to make room for expansion of the high school more than a year later.

The first formal concert of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra was held in the old high school's combination auditorium/gymnasium/cafeteria on April 20, 1947. Thirty two musicians from Plymouth and surround- award. The recipient was Doris Waldeing communities participated. Among those who played in the first concert was Daisy Barnes, viola, the only musician from that 'original group who still plays with the orchestra. Harold Von Bergen, who also played in the first concert, retired last year; and Fred Beitner retired a few years ago.

The associate conductor of the orchestra at that time was Fred Nelson, well-known director of choral music at Plymouth High School. During the first and subsequent concerts, Nelson directed the Plymouth Civic Chorus in the Messiah portion of the Christmas programs. A graduate of the Duluth branch of the University of Minnesota, Nelson played four years with the Symphony orchestra of Duluth, and was a member of the United States Army Band before coming to Plymouth.

DURING THE 1948-49 season the orchestra was acclaimed in Redford when it appeared in Redford Union

Josef Lazaroff, the orchestra's violin virtuoso and concert master, was the featured soloist, and Ardis Curtiss Long, a member of the violin section, appeared as a vocal soloist.

Wagner, "an enthusiastic, innovative, even a brash conductor," was also an excellent organizer. He also knew what it took to get the symphony orchestra off the ground. Without the knowledge of the members, he hired extra professional musicians to appear at the first concert, paying for them out of his own pocket. Perhaps he thought the collections from the first concert would cover the costs.

They didn't, and it was soon evident that if the young orchestra was to survive it had to have sources of income other than the voluntary contributions made by those who attended the concerts. The Plymouth Symphony Society was formed to meet this need. A non-profit, civic, educational organization, its chief function is to maintain the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. 🖵

THE FIRST BOARD of directorsreally volunteers appointed by Wag-l ner to raise funds in the communityincluded Norma Cassady, Hanna Strassen, Evelyn Nelson, Celeste Brake, James Gallimore, Mrs. Howard Raaflaub, Fred Beitner, who was treasurer, and Mrs. Harry Fischer, who was president.

At the first annual meeting of the Society on Feb. 17, 1948, these appointments were confirmed by the members. The members were any who had previously made a contribution.

Hanna Strassen, who was the Society's second president (1949-50), recalls that during the early years "we never knew if we would make or raise enough money to go on to the next concert." She remembers that the first civic group to support the Society in its efforts to raise funds was Plymouth's Business and Professional Women's Club. After that, the Woman's Club and the Rotary Club lent support.

One of the Society's most popular means of raising funds, the annual Symphony Ball, was first held on Nov. 27, 1948, in the Masonic Temple. More than 100 couples paid $2 per couple to dance to the music of Datus Moore's seven-piece orchestra.

In 1948, the Society established a student group whose purpose was "to stimulate greater interest in good music and to aid in listening intelligently." Mrs. H.W. Kellogg was chairman of the committee to guide the newly-organized group and David Green was chosen its first president. Primarily a listening group, it had 40 members.

IN THE FOLLOWING year, the Society granted its first scholarship

Milliken, Young make bad transit board deal

A man seeking knowledge of statecraft goes into a library, passes up "The Republic" of Plato, ignores "The Federalist Papers" and instead devours "The Autobiography of Boss Tweed."

That is a fair summary of what Gov. William

G. Milliken has done in making a deal with Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young to "restructure" the board of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA).

Maybe you missed this point in the news accounts last week because most public attention was focused on Milliken's desire to get a rapid transit system under construction by mid-1977.

THE DEAL, roughly, is this: SEMTA is governed by a nine-member board; six are appointed by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), an umbrella planning agency, and three by the governor.

Bending to Young's desires to control money and jobs, Milliken proposes that the SEMTA board have 13 members: five appointed by SEM-COG, five by the mayor of Detroit, and three by the governor-except that the governor's appointees are subject to the approval by six of the

In making such a crass deal, Milliken ignored some excellent and well qualified advice from several studies his office has received over the

In 1973, a group called The Option Process (TOP) Task Force said SEMCOG should have budget review authority, planning authority and board appointment power over SEMTA.

The Governor's Special Commission on Local Government recommended the same powers for SEMCOG. Among the high-powered talent signing that report were Mel Ravitz, Detroit Common Council president; Robert FitzPatrick, Wayne County board chairman; Ruth McNamee, former mayor of Birmingham and now a state representative: and Kent Mathewson, president of Metropol-

Tim Richard writes

Last year, "The Regionalist Papers," compiled by Metropolitan Fund, expressed "grave concern" about regional agencies, including SEMTA, "functioning without appropriate coordination at the regional policy level."

THE DIRECTION our region should be moving is to have more multi-county agencies appointed by SEMCOG, not to turn them over to provincial

We need to be thinking in terms of extending SEMCOG's authority to the Detroit Metropolitan Water Department and the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan (parks) Authority), not of balkanizing SEMTA by splitting its control between Detroit and the rest of the region.

SEMTA cannot build a rapid transit line and put together a multi-county bus system by havinga board that reports to three masters. That's sloppy administrative procedure, and it can only lead to trouble.

Gov. Milliken, among chief executives of this state, is in a class by himself for showing interest in metropolitan problems and environmental considerations. He feels-with reason-that Detroit needs a bigger say in the design and operation of a regional transportation authority.

That's fine. But there's a better way to do it: Simply have SEMCOG and the governor himself appoint one or two more Detroiters to the SEMTA board. After all, Coleman Young is only one politician in Detroit; he isn't the living embodiment of Detroit's mind. There's no reason to give one Detroit politician with an extremely narrow point of view such enormous appointive power.

The combination of the prose of Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence and Abe Lincoln's words in the Gettysburg address more or less sum up the American feeling of freedom, liberty and government of, by and for the people.

IT WOULD be well for all of us in the coming bicentennial year to re-read these documents to see what unjust actions are enough to take the gigantic step of revolution for independence.

It is too bad that our Presidents and Secretaries of State over the past decade didn't have time to re-read them because somehow we have gotten off the track.

We are a Republic that believes in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

We believe in self determination of government and the government must operate with the consent of the governed.

Tommy got folks to act

The greatest tribute to the late Tommy Thompson is his own editorials, the last of which was published on the day of his death, "Sports is more than cheap entertainment."

Several of his editorials caused me to phone him and express my views. Some were not necessarily in accord with what he had written.

A few years ago in one of his writings. I assumed he was implying that the public, parents, were apathetic and not willing to actively support the continuation of the athletic programs in Plymouth schools. This was shortly after a millage proposal was voted

I was really hot under the collar, and as my ancestral Irish and Dutch gives me an excuse for some of my actions, I phoned him. As the gentleman, he heard me out, then with a polite chuckle said: "Well, I did get you thinking and to verbalize your feelings. Now what are you going to do about it?"

As the old cliche goes, "Action speaks louder than words," but Mr. Thompson's words many times were the catalyst for "getting some ac-

The intent to call Mr. Thompson and verbally applaud his last editorial cannot be. However, his words were not wasted, and ironically in the same issue of April 14 there is an article about the formation of the "Salem Wrestling Supporters." ## There's an herb or root for love, luck or lucre

A few weeks ago. I wrote a column about herbal teas and their traditional uses. Your response was overwhelming, so I thought you also might enjoy knowing about other herbs believed to have unusual powers.

Unlike teas, however, these herbs are not to be consumed internally. I believe their effect is mostly psychological, but there are witches who disagree with me and say each herb sends out its own vibrations which produce the desired result.

In any case, here is a list of these herbs, roots, gums and so on, and their traditional uses. If you are of a superstitious nature, you may wish to try some. If you do, please let me know how they work for you.

ALTHEA ROOT-It is believed a small sprig of this root concealed in a bridal bouquet insures a happy honeymoon and marital bliss.

FIVE FINGERS GRASS-Sewn into a red flannel bag and hung at the head of your bed, this herb is believed to protect you through the night (from what, I'm not exactly sure!).

MASTER-OF-THE-WOODS- These also are sewn into little red bags to be these are used to heighten the effects carried for physical protection.

ADAM AND EVE ROOT—They are both from the same plant. The Adam root is long and pointed, and the Eve root is round and plump. They are carried, the Eve root by men and the Adam root by women, to help one find a compatible mate. According to tradition, when you find this mate, you crush the root to a fine powder and sprinkle it over the one whose love you desire to win forever.

ORRIS ROOT-Also called Queen Elizabeth root, it is carried whole by virgins who do not wish to remain virginal. Powdered orris root is often called "stay- at-home powder" and is sprinkled between the bedsheets by married women to keep their husbands from straying.

OSSAGE ORANGES-The wrinkled fruit from the bodark tree, they are used in incantations to cause mental confusion in one's enemies.

SALEB or SALEP ROOT-Shaped like a little hand, this root is carried for good luck. If what you want most is love, wear it close to your heart; for adventure, tape it to your shoe; and for money, carry it in your pocket or purse.

One day when I was dining out, I noticed a couple gazing into each other's eyes at a candlelit table. They were obviously in love. The lady recognized me and came to to tell me I had give her one the little roots several months earlier and she had carried it next to her heart. She motioned toward her escort and confided, "Look what it got me!" Then she had second thoughts and added, ."But he hasn't got any money. From now on I'll carry it in my purse."

ASAFOETIDA GUM-A sticky, foulsmelling substance, sometimes called "devil's dung," it is placed over the door and windowsills to keep out unwanted guests, and to protect one's home from evil.

VERVAIN-Also known as verbenum, a bundle of dried stems (one stem for each family member) tied together and hung in the home is bein some way be revealed to you. POWDERED PATCHOULI LEAVES—Also called "graveyard dust" because of their musty odor, of other herbs.

WAHOO BARK-In the past, witches often made a brew by boiling this bark for several hours, then straining the resulting liquid and cooling it. They used it to break curses or evil spells by sprinkling it on the forehead of the afflicted one and calling out "Wahoo" loudly 10 times to drive off evil influences.

This list could go on forever, but time and space must limit it here. I must, however, include one last item:

GARLIC- Everyone has head that garlic worn on a string around the neck protects one from catching colds. I always believed this to be just a silly superstition. Recently, however, I read that scientists have discovered that garlic fumes actually do kill some forms of cold viruses.

Now, I'm not suggesting that you wear a garlic necklace, but if this is true, who knows about the hidden or yet undiscovered qualities of these other things?

For some people, these things would never work. Others will swear by them-I personally wouldn't be without my piece of saleb root-and if they work for you, does it really mat-

2 hearings set on mental code

The State Department of Mental Health (DMH) has scheduled two public hearings on proposed rules for Michigan's new mental health code to begin 9 a.m. Thursday and Friday. April 24 and 25, in the City-County Building auditorium in Detroit.

'This will conclude a series of regional public hearings which have provided citizens an opportunity to make recommendations on the content of the rules before they become effective August 6," said Donald C. Smith. M.D., acting director of the depart-

The proposed rules are intended to implement the code by determining the organization, procedures and practices of the DMH and other providers of mental health services. They will ensure that adequate and appropriate mental health services are available to all citizens throughout the state, and that the legislative intent of the act is fulfilled.

All interested persons will be able to comment on the proposed rules, and those who cannot attend the hearings may submit comments and recommendations in writing to the DMH.

These guidelines will be used at each hearing: All statements should relate only to the proposed rules for Public Act 258 of 1975, the Mental Health Code; all written statements will be entered into the record; oral summaries of written statements should not exceed five minutes; views and arguments should be stated clearly and briefly; and suggested changes to the proposed rules should be presented in draft form.

Jaycee Auxiliaries in this area are planning a bike-a-thon for the Michigan Diabetes Assoication on Saturday, May 3, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. No rider will be admitted to the route after 2:30 p.m.

Bike-a-thon '75 will be on Edward Hines Drive from Haggerty Road south to Outer Drive just below Telegraph.

Check points will be at: 1. Haggerty and Edward Hines Dr.; 2. Nankin Mills, near Joy and Ann Arbor Trail; 3. Helms Haven at Hines and Outer Drive; 4. Parr Knoll near Woodbine Avenue and Hines, just north of Telegraph; and, 5. Merriman Hollow at Merriman Road and Hines Dr.

JC AUXILIARY chapters of District 30 Jaycettes are sponsoring the fundraiser with all money raised going directly to help underwrite the cost of Camp Midicha - a medically-supervised summer camp for children with District 30 includes chapters in Can s n Township, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Westland, Northville and the City of Wayne.

The bike-a-thon this year is being held in conjunction with Bike Day on May 3. For this annual event, Hines Drive is closed to traffic by the Wayne County Road Commission and opened to bikers from Newburgh to Outer Drive.

The Hines will be open to the general public for biking May 3 as well as those bicyclists who are riding to raise funds for the Michigan Diabetes Association.

A RIDER may enter the route at any of the five check points and may finish riding at any of the check

Sponsor sheets, with all necessary information printed on them, including a map and room for pledges, are available at all junior and senior high schools in Garden City, Clarenceville, Wayne-Westland, and Plymouth school districts.

Sponsor sheets may also be picked up at these McDonald restaurants: 14399 Middle Belt, Livonia; 33921 Ford Road, Westland; 1645 S. Wayne Road, Westland; 2205 Middle Belt, Garden City: 14301 Telegraph, Redford Township, 220 W. Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth; and in the AAA offices in Plymouth, Livonia and Westland.

SPONSORS PLEDGE to the rider a designated monetary amount for every mile the rider rides.

When the bicyclist is finished, he is checked out and given credentials verifying his ride so that his sponsors will know how much to pay the rider. The rider collects the pledges and gives the funds to the MDA.

United Way picks Livonian

Gerald G. Burpee of Livonia has been added to the budget committee of the United Way of Michigan

Burpee will be assigned to panels at UWM's annual budget conference to be held April 29-30 in the Kellog Center. Michigan State University.

Each panel will review the budget presentations of two or more UWM member agencies and make recommendations for the funding of the agencies during 1976.

United Way of Michigan has 23 health and social service agencies as members and helps plan programs. provides budgeting services, and financial support for them.

Funds for UWM come from 140 local United Way campaigns throughout the state. The United Foundation is providing $3.4 million for UWM'S member services during 1975.

Burpee, who lives at 29831 MacIntyre, is manager of real estate investments for the Prudential Insurance Company. He has been a budget committee member of both the United Way of Michigan and United Community Services of Detroit since 1974.

Topless trucks' draw complaints

The Senate Highways and Transportation Committee has received results of the Automobile Club of Michigan's "Ban Topless Trucks" campaign.

The Auto Club developed a state map showing the distribution by Senate districts of the more than 120,000 complaints gathered during a fivemonth period last year.

Some 44,410 complaints were received from the 11 Senate districts in Wayne County, including the 14th which covers Livonia, Plymouth and Redford and the 13th District which includes Westland, Garden City and Canton Township. The campaign began in January 1974, and the Auto Club still is receiving 25 to 20 unsolicited cards and letters of complaints about topless trucks from the public each week.

This year bike-a-thons will be held throughout Michigan on May 3, 4. A total of 19 routes have been planned in communities as far north as Traverse City and as far west as Holland. The metropolitan Detroit area will have six routes, including Edward

Canton wins pitchers' duel, ousts Chargers

Plymouth Canton, one of only two teams to beat Livonia Churchill last year, took up right where it left off Monday, edging the defending state Class A champions 2-0 to stay atop the Western Six League.

Bill Parson went the distance to pick up the victory for the Chiefs. Parson scattered three Charger hits, striking out six and walking three.

Warren Wallis held Canton hitless for five innings but tired in the sixth and suffered the loss.

Churchill made its biggest offensive bid in the third inning when B. J. LaJoie was hit by a pitch and brothers Dale and Dennis Slater both singled to load the bases with two out.

Charger second baseman Ron Griffin fanned on five pitches to end the threat, however.

Canton scored the only runs of the game in the sixth inning.

Keith Randazzo led off for the Chiefs with a walk on four Wallis pitches. Tom Close then attempted to sacrifice Randazzo to second. Wallis fielded the ball cleanly but hesitated and Close beat his throw to first for the initial Canton hit of the game.

Visibly shaken by the play, Wallis then threw three straight balls to Chris Martucci. The Chiefs centerfielder then watched two straight strikes before drawing the walk to load the bases with none out.

Chief cleanup batter Mike Verduce then worked the count to 2-1 before he slammed a viscious liner to right center field for the only legitimate Canton hit of the day. Randazzo and Close both scored on the play.

Churchill coach Roger Frayer then pulled Wallis in favor of Dan Bobowski. Brian Stemberger, the first Canton hitter to face Bobowski, attempted to squeeze in Martucci. But he popped it in the air to Charger first baseman Matt Foster and ran down Foster as he was about to ferce Martucci at third. Stemberger was called for interference on the play, ending the Canton rally.

Parson, who seemed to get stronger as the game progressed, struck out the side in the Churchill seventh. Canton is now 4-1 overall and 2-0 in the Western Six. Churchill's league record fell to 0-2.

East wins in Anders, loses in league play

By JIM BRADLEY

Garden City East's baseball squad got some good news and some bad news this week.

The highlight was the Panthers' 10-0 drubbing of North Farmington in their opening round of the Les Anders Tournament Tuesday. The low point was East's 8-2 loss to Thurston in Northwest Suburban League play Monday.

Lanky Greg Emery was brilliant against the Raiders as the sterling southpaw elbowed a two-hit shutout, walked only two and struck out 13. The performance gave him a 2-0 mound mark, upped his strikeouts to 32 in 17 innings and lowered his earned run average to a remarkable 0.41 for the season.

At the plate the Panthers settled the issue early, hammering three Raider hurlers for 10 runs in the first three innings. Jim Peter opened with a walk. home. Wally Krol walked to fill the bases. With one out, Britt Ponte singled home two runs and Lou Willoughby sent home the fifth run on a fielder's choice.

Extra-base power sent home three more runs in the second. Kleinbrook, who's been having a good season at the plate, doubled to open the inning.

double chased them both across the plate.

East wrapped up the scoring with two in the third when Gary Hudson reached first on an error and was sent home on Kleinbrook's double. Kleinbrook took third on a wild pitch and Krol scored him with a long sacrifice fly.

"Emery was really something out there against North Farmington," related coach Billy Joe Young. "in fact, he's been superb each time he's pitched for us so far.'

However, it was a different story against Thurston as Bob (no-hit) Hudson was knocked out of the box in the third inning as the Eagles soared.

Hudsonn who handcuffed city rival West with a no-hitter his last time out, was treated roughly by the visitors. Dennis Litwinczuk singled home Gary Hudson singled him to second the first run in the second inning and and Tod Kleinbrook singled Peter Mitch Drozdowski doubled in two more in the third after Jeff Trachsel's squeeze bunt scored Thurston's first run of that inning

But the big story of the day was Randy Rodriguez who twirled a tough four-hitter against East and also went 3-for-3 at the plate.

The sparkling effort, in which randy fanned 10, lowered his earned run av-

Krol tripled him home and after erage to 0.73, lifted his batting aver-Ponte walked, Willoughby's long age over .600 and gave him a 2-0 mound record, both league wins in the Northwest Suburban.

East couldn't score until the last inning when four walks and Jim Peter's double combined for a pair of runs.

Coach Emil Majeski's Eagles lead the Northwest Suburban League with a 2-0 mark and are 5-1 overall. "Randy (Rodriguez) has been just sensational all year, both hitting and pitching, and really did the job for us against a good East team," Majeski said after the game. "We also had clutch hitting and good defense."

Thurston visits Oak Park Thursday and hosts North Farmington Friday in league games. East, now 1-1 in league play and 4-1 overall, was scheduled to play North' Farmington Wednesday and hosts Livonia Franklin tomorrow

Golden Gloves champs' bout marks Livonia boxing card

The Friday night fights will come to Livonia, tomorrow when 106-pound Golden Gloves champs Danny Marderosian of Livonia and John O'Neill of Westland square off in the five-round main event in Ford Arena.

The feature bout is one of ten being presented by the Escot Boxing Club with the co-operation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation. Boxing begins at 8 p.m. in the Arena located on Lyndon near Farmington Road in Livonia.

O'Neill and Mardersoian both won Golden Gloves titles last month at the State Fairgrounds and both sport excellent amateur records.

O'Neill, who advanced to the national Golden Gloves championship in Kentucky, is rated fifth in amateur boxing by the U.S.A. National Ratings for the flyweight division.

He will be rated a solid favorite over the less experienced Marderosian.

Marderosian will count on his speed and his left-handed style to confuse O'Neill.

O'Neill admitted Marderosian's style, might present certain problems.

"It's difficult for a righthander to fight a lefty because you are always turning into his power. When you throw your left jab it hits his right hand," he said.

'Nevertheless, O'Neill was confident of victory and in top shape Tuesday. "I sparred with Marderosian for three years and so I'm accustomed to him," O'Neill said. O'Neill was more concerned that the crowd in Ford Arena would be heavily pro-Marderosian and stir the Livonia fighter on. "There's going to be a lot of people there pulling for Another factor in the fight is that neither fighter has ever fought more than three rounds in a fight. Provided it goes the distance, neither can be sure exactly what part the fatigue factor will play. "We're both in good shape, though, I know that. I don't think that it will be a problem because a person can push himself a lot further than he thinks he can," O'Neill said. Other events will feature Dan Humdleweight Golden Gloves Champion, Mickey "Sneaky Pea" Goodwin who has scored five knockouts in the last phrey of Southfield, the 1975 mid- two months, and Bernie Bolden, the 1974 National Junior Boxing champ. Tickets will be available at the

'Hitless wonder' Tigers win league pair

Garden City West's "hitless wonders" snapped to life with a bang this League baseball foes and gaining a tie for first place in the process.

Bob Dropp's Tigers could muster only four hits in losing two of their first three nonleague games, suffering two embarrassing no-hitters against them

But when the opening bell rang for Tri-River League play it was a completely different team. West pounded Dearborn Heights Riverside 84 in its opener and then hammered Inkster Cherry Hill, 9-0, behind the one-hit pitching of senior Mark Sutherland.

Hard hitting and tough pitching combined in each victory. Riverside jumped off to a 1-0 lead but a threerun burst in the second inning sent the Tigers ahead. Rick Cweik singled, Tom Poole, West's winning pitcher, was safe on a fielder's choice. Dave Neonan singled home one run and Jim Walliamson's base hit drove home two Riverside took advantage of Poole's wildness and worked the junior southpast week, tripping two Tri-River paw hurler for three more runs and a 4-3 lead. But West again rebounded against losing Riverside pitcher Steve Pilachowski with a pair of runs in the fifth. Noonan's line-drive homer highlighted the outburst and singles by Jim Zoccoli and Doug Plant scored the second.

Terry Bradley hammered a long triple to open the Tigers' three-run clinching sixth frame. Dan McGuire walked before singles by Gene Gorcyzyca, Plant and Sutherland decided the issue.

Poole worked the first four innings, gave up four hits, struck out six and walked five. Bradley was tough in relief as he pitched the last three inningsi permitted two hits and fanned five, including striking out the side inthe last inning.

Mark Sutherland was the story against Cherry Hill Monday. The stocky righthander baffled the Spartans, giving up only a first- inning single to mar his no-hit attempt. "Euds" struck out 12, walked only two and retired the last 12 men to face

West collected 13 hits off three Spartan hurlers, Jim Zoccoli pacing the attack with a triple and single. Matt Shinsky and Bradley each had two singles and Doug Plant had a long double and single with two RBIs. Jeff Summers also singled home two run-

The Tigers were scheduled to tangle with Taylor Kennedy, the pre-season Tri-River title favorite, Wednesday and travel to Crestwood Friday in another Tri-River League clash.

REDFORD UNION - BELLEVILLE

Redford Union kept atop the Suburban Eight League and stretched its overall record to 4-0 Monday, dumping Belleville 7-3.

Dan Bushart drove in one run, scored another and handled the mound chores for RU, scattering three hits to pick up the victory.

The Panthers scored in each inning except the fourth, with the big offensive thrust coming in the third when they pushed across three runs to take a 5-0 lead.

Bushart held the Tigers hitless until the fifth when Belleville recorded a * bloop single. Tiger Dave Dapsi pounded a two-run homer in the sixth for the first good hit off Bushart.

The victory gave the Panters a 3-0 record in the Suburban Eight.

Livonia Stevenson had to go into extra innings Monday to stay perfect in the Inter-Lakes baseball race, defeating Pontiac Northern 3-2.

Tim Murphy went three for three including an eighth inning RBI triple which won the game for the Spartans.

John Kolis picked up the victory for Stevenson, holding Northern to three hits, striking out nine and yielding only one base on balls. The Spartan junior aided his own cause, tripling in the third inning and coming home on Rob Rose's sacrifice fly.

Stevenson scored its other run on Tim Murphy's second inning double and a Northern error.

The Trojans captured a pair of road victories this week to up their record to 4-1 overall and 3-0 in the Inter Lakes league.

Monday the Trojans downed West Bloomfield 5-2 in league competition. Chris Curtis picked up the victory, striking out four and not giving up a walk while scattering six Laker hits.

Clarenceville picked up three runs in the second inning of that game when Mich Lenovich singled with the bases full and Naile Sheena followed with a hit of his own.

The Trojans picked up another run in the third on Jim Hill's double and Rick Beyer's single and Clarenceville closed out the scoring in the fifth on Bever's RBI double.

In all it was a banner day for Beyer. The senior catcher went three for three with two runs batted in. Clarenceville got a no-hit performance out of senior righthander Tim Laird Tuesday to oust Novi in a non-league affair 1-0.

Laird struck out five and allowed only two Novi baserunners-- both via walks.

"He's always thrown the ball hard. but lately his curveball has been working well for him. Tonight he mixed his pitches very well," said Trojan coach Del Cory.

Clarenceville ,needed everything Laird could come up with as it got only four hits for the day.

Sheena and McCammon both singled for the Trojans in the sixth and Sheena scored the only run of the game when Chris Curtis' grounder rolled threw the legs of the Novi third-

One of DRC's current pace-setting jockeys, veteran Donald Holmes, is now less than 50 victories short of the "magic" 2,000-career mark... Seven different party groups, to-talling some 600 people, will take advantage of DRC's package party group plan this Saturday... Included among the party-goers are the Ford Couples-Bowlers Club, the Jolly 16 Vacation Club and the Travelettes, all attracted to the economy package so neatly put together by Sandy Walker, DRC's version of Perle Mesta... DRC's male patrons recaptured some of their fleeing reputation in the track's recent "Handicapping Contest," where in the fans are given the chance to pick as many winners as possible on a 10 race card. Only two of the five prizes went to ladies, Bettie J. Jones of Detroit and Geraldine DesRocher of Livonia, contrasted to 1974 when the first four winners were all feminine handicappers.

DRC's veteran jockey room custodian John Danagher points to such riders as Stanley Low, a Chinese; Larry Kunitake, on Hawaiian, Billy Baird, a French-Indian; Peter Bournias, a full blooded Greek, and Joe Catalano, Arcadian-French, and aptly suggests: "Join the crowds at DRC and see the world." . . . And to join those crowds remember not one, but three easy entrances make it possible . . . off Middlebelt, Schoolcraft and Inkster Roads.

Stevenson took outright firsts in the pole vault relay and the shuttle hurdle relay and took a tie for first in the heavy relay.

Greg Johnson, Bob Broeder and Bill Parks comprised the pole vault team. Paul Lokar, Sheldon Rose Mark Niemchak and Paul Pongor competed for Stevenson in the shuttle hurdle relay.

The heavy relay team was comprised of Mark Lapham, Joe Centers, Aaron Hurd and Dave Bowlby.

Thurston speedster Matt Whitehead took a third in the finals of the 100yard dash and the Eagles took a sixth in the high jump relay.

Redford Union received its points for a second in the distance medley relay, a second in the pole vault relay and a fifth in the shot put relay.

Thirty teams competed in the annual event held in Waterford.

RU stirs controversy in triangular meet

It may be too soon to tell who finished first in a tri meet between Livonia Churchill, Redford Union and Farmington High.

As of Tuesday night, Churchill was the winner with 63 points, Redford Union second with 611/2 and host Farmington third with 311/2. But all that will change if RU coach John MacKenzie has his way. MacKenzie is protesting the meet because of the outcome of the 220yard dash, which a Churchill runner won - even though his time was three-tenths of a second slower than the' RU runner's. The Panthers could have won the meet with a first place in the 220.

Two heats -- fast and slow -- were run in the 220 because of the large number of runners competing. Confusion arose about which runners should go in which heats. The eventual winner of the event was the winner of the first (or fast) heat, even though his time was slower.

DRC shaken after tragic fire

Track vice president Dick Wilson, a veteran of more than 25 years in the sport, look back on the barn fire that killed 36 thoroughbred race horses at Detroit Race Course Monday night and called it "the thing that tracks all over the country worry most about."

"Lots of folks don't realize that it's à sizable 'community' in a track stable area," he said. "Some 1,000 people work there and the horse colony itself numbers between 1,300 and 1.400 head. When you have that much activity there's the normal community risk of something unfortunate happening.

Raising the death toll in what was one of the Detroit area's worst race ning fire was popular DRC trainer track fires was the inborn instinct of a horse to seek the only shelter he knows at a time of danger. Many of the horses which perished had been led out of their stalls by quick acting grooms and horsemen, only to break loose and dash back into blazing barn

Trainer Henry Ramirez, who couldn't hold three of the seven horses he dragged from the fire, said:

"It's the one home they know; they just instinctively try to stay there.'

Wagner, who had been known to nap in one of the barn's tack rooms, first was reported dead by early witnesses at the fire, then "missing" when police and firemen did not find a body. Thirtyacre was one of the most joyful at the scene when Wagner arrived safe and sound after actually being away from the track during the

One of the few other pleasant surprises in the aftermath of the blaze was the revelation early Tuesday morning that the fine Michigan-bred stake horse Fickle Fate was not a victim, as had earlier been reported. Winner at DRC last year of a $25,000 division of the Michigan Futurity for 2year-old homebreds, Fickle Fate it was finally discovered was quartered in another section of the grounds.

Several thoroughbreds well known to Detroit race fans did die. They include Naders Rader, Dublin Deb and Irish Mary M of the Thirtyacre stable; Osiem Osien and Search For Money, trained by Carl Sizemore of Detroit, Sinbad's Wake and Miss Stay Bright, trained by Roy Hutchinson of Milford, and Magic Reward and Rican Run, trained by Virginia Payne, Hot Springs, Ark.

Only two of the dead horses had been scheduled to race on Tuesday. Dee Dee's Dear, a 3-year-old colt trained by Al Spirdione of Detroit, was carded in the first race, while the 6-year-old gelding Osiem Osien was a part of the fifth race field.

Because of the heavy population of horses at DRC, "short fields" did not resuslt from the absence of the fire victims. The first race found eight horses in the starting gate, the fifth race went off with seven.

IDENTIFICATION OF MANY of the dead animals had to wait until lip tattoo numbers could be checked Tuesday morning. On-the-scene rescuers, remembering a barn fire incident at Hazel Park a few years ago. were careful either to tie the rescued horses to hot-walker machines in the stable area or secure them in empty stalls in other barns. Owners and trainers arriving at the track later had to search the grounds to determine if their horses had been among the victims in the large 75-horse barn.

At Hazel Park, rescued horses had been turned loose in the barn area and many injured themselves in the wild confusion.

There was one ironic "in memorium" to the dead animals Tuesday when Brave Blade, one of the 30 horses safely led from the fire, impressively won the fourth race. Over a span of the last four years, it was the 6-year-old thoroughbred's first victory in 71 starts.

DRC pressbox wags, as sorrowful as any over the tragic fire, watched Brave Blade win after 70 straight losses and could not help but comment: "A horse you have to set a fire

In The Pocket.

As the bowlers' parade nears the reviewing stand to close the season, three veterans are in the front line for the top honors.

Last September they began the race to win the average honors in the top leagues and now as the campaign draws to a close, two oldtimers among the men- Dick Preston and Mike Totsky- are in step with Cora Fiebig, another veteran of a few Tadies campaigns, to lead the way.

The most surprising of the trio is Dick Preston, who has been bowling in the various classics for years. While many others have stepped aside and now "just bowl for fun" Dick is finishing the season with a 216 average in the Wonderland Classic. It is. top average among the all-stars in the metropolitan area.

And while Dick has been showing the younger fellows how it is done, Mike Totsky, veteran of the Stroh team, is brandishing a 211 average in the Michigan Open.

AMONG THE OTHERS in the top leagues, Bill Walker is the pacemaker in the Bel-Aire Classic with 208. Bob Garrett has a 207 in the Westland Classic and Rocky Graziani boasts a 205 in the all-star Classic. Over in the ladies divisions this has been Cora Fiebig's year. She is carrying a 193.27 in the Ladies Major that closed its season last Wednesday, and 192.4 in the Bowlerettes that closes this week.

In taking the top honors, Cora shook off the challenges of such young bowlers as Kathy Springs and Penny Behn. And it is almost a certainty that she will be named the 1975 Bowling Queen.

Among the younger bowlers, Fred McClain put up a fight with Dick Preston all the way at Wonderland, but had to yield in the final weeks.

While none of the newcomers broke into the ranks, one or two of them have shown signs of being contenders in another year. In this group is Frank Ashcraft at Westland Bowl. He is finishing the season with a 202 and has been a real 'find' in the last few months of the season.

THE LUST FOR MONEY is bringing about a major change in the men's all star leagues and in the rush for the elusive buck the Michigan Open that has been holding forth at Schafer Lanes, has sung its swan song and now is only a memory.

THIS DEMISE CAME about when the sponsor of the Bonanza Classic at Orchard Lanes on the esst side, agreed to boost the all-star Classic prize fund by $7,500. The bowlers jumped at this chance and next year, the Classic; the oldest of the all-star leagues, will be the Bonanza All-Star Classic.

This league started as the Detroit Times Classic in 1936 and when the Times passed from the newspaper picture, it became the Detroit All-Star Classic. Now, after 40 years, it is changing names again.

LOU LYMAN'S NAME was placed on the Honor Roll at Plymouth Bowl when he put together games of 235, 247 and 249 for a 731-second highest series ever bowled in the house. His big count came in the Monday Industrial League.

Other pacemakers in the house included Gary Aleman who rolled a 274 in 616 in the senior house loop; Don Morrison who had a 693 in the junior house loop and Chris Dieieco who had a 289 in 610 in the same loop.

EVEN WITHOUT HIGH SCORING the Mohacsi family gets into the news. This week it was Mary's son, Mike, who rolled a 175 all-spare game at Merri-Bowl.

Meanwhile Bob Kaiser came through with a 202 triplicate and Dick Hanschett posted the high score with a 264 in 660. Other high counts for the week included Pat Brose with her first 200 as she registered a 203. Pete Hanswer with 257. Ernie Tascar, a 143 average bowler with a 243, Joyce Pike with 244 and Mail Sheene with a 256.

SPLIT CONVERSIONS ARE BE-COMING commonplace at Mayflower Lanes.

This week five more members were added to the club. Lois Garris made the 6-7-10: Ruth Mijal toppled the 4-6-7: Dot Hazzard did the same with the 6-7-10; Clyde Pardee converted the 8-10 and Dot Henderson made the 6-7-

Mike McDonald took high score honors with 577. He beat Jan Lang by three pins while Ruth Brewer had a 224 in 556.

RANDY MIEER had everyone on edge at Farmington Lanes when he piled up eight strikes in a row in the Teen Masters. Then Lady Luck frowned on him. He left up the No. 6, settled for a 264 and 617.

The high score of the week was the work of Tom Hay in the Thursday league with a 230 in 649. Helen Simpson paced the Ladies Classic with a 216 in 606 and Myrna Hille took high game with 234. In the school leagues Bob Krist paced the Ten-Mile group with 194 and Steve Young showed the way for Wooddale with 185.

ONLY TWO PINS kept John Lennon from membership in the 700 club at Bel-Sire. Bowling in the Businessmen's league he posted the 698 and beat Bill Etherington by 14 pins. Ted Kielian with 659 and Sam Lipshy with 630 trailed the leaders.

Tom McCullough was high in the senior house league with a 666 and had a big edge on Andy De Camillo with 642 and Gil Sharnhorst who post-

In the Classic the high man was Ed Miu with 690. George Flagany landed the runner-up spot with 665 and Bela placed third with 660.

To round out the band of pacemakers Ron Enders showed the way in the Thursday mixed league with a 651 while Bob Thiesen had a 614 and Kay Jackson a 599.

BOB CHAMBERLAIN seems to be in a rut. Last week in the Westland Classic he fashioned a 736 on games of 236, 256 and 244.

His closest rivals were John Wodarski with a 680 and Russ Lemkie with a 659.

In 'the women's division Gwen Dasho, a 135 average bowler, posted a 240 opening game, then slumped to 130 and 159.

Bankers eye economy and react prudently

By EMORY DANIELS

Although most area banks reported an increase in net income per share for the first quarter of fiscal 1975, the major banking institutions in metropolitan Detroit are increasing their reserve for possible loan losses because of current economic conditions.

Net income gains have been reported for the first quarter ended March 31 by Manufacturers National Corporation, National Detroit Corporation, DETROITBANK Corporation, Michigan National Corporation, Security Bancorp, Inc., and Northern States Bancorporation.

Manufacturers, National Bank of the Detroit, Michigan National and Detroit Bank & Trust each made a management decision to increase their reserve for possible loan losses.

NATIONAL DETROIT Corporation, holding company parent of National Bank of Detroit, first quarter results reflect an additional loan loss provision of $4 million above the minimum required by bank regulatory accounting rules and based on the bank's most recent five-year loss experience.

Robert M. Surdam, chairman of National Detroit Corporation, says the additional provision was both prudent and appropriate in view of the current state of the economy. No such additional loan loss provision was made in the first quarter of 1974.

Manufacturers during the first quarter fiscal '75 charged to operations $1.4 million as a provision for loan losses as compared to $464,000 in the $134,000.

million and reflects an increase of $1.6 million over March 31, 1974.

Although the entire reserve is available to absorb loan losses, explains provisions are minimal on operating Dean E. Richardson, chairman of the and loan reserves, as subsequent figboard of Manufacturers, any losses ures will indicate, but the charges to charged to the reserve in excess of operating does take away slightly the valuation portion would require an money which might have been availadditional charge to operating ex- able for dividends and the entire re-

Richardson also said the increase in could be available for loans.

the provision was made in recognition of the current economic conditions,

DETROITBANK Corporation, parent company for Detroit Bank & Trust, also provided an excess amount for loan losses. The additional provision of about $1 million was charged against first quarter earnings and also done because of uncertainties in the local and national econ-for loan losses was $27.1 million which was increased to $31 million for 1975.

A MORE detailed explanation of this phenomenon was offered in the 1974 annual report of Michigan National Corporation.

"The provision for loan losses of $3.2 million in 1974 includes a charge to operations of $1 million in excess of the minimum amount required (based on the most recent five-year experience) by regulatory agencies.

"This additional provision was not made in anticipation of larger loan losses, but was simply deemed a prudent move by management in view of the uncertain economic conditions.

"As a result, the valuation portion first quarter of 1974. In 1975, the provi- of the reserve is $1 million larger sion exceeded actual loan losses by than it would have been otherwise. Because the subsidary banks write off The reserve for possible loan losses loans as soon as collection becomes on March 31, 1975, amounted to $26.2 doubtful, management holds the opinion that the portfolio on Dec. 31 was inherently sound."

The effects of increasing loan loss serve locks in money which otherwise

The real significance of these adjustments is the attitude of banking leaders about the current economy. Although increasing loan loss reserves protects the bank's stability, it is an indicator banks will continue to be cautious in extending credit and suggests financial leaders aren't yet convinced an end to stagflation is in the immediate future.

- There are also tax advantages to In 1974, DETROITBANK's reserve charging loan loss provisions against earnings.

> NATIONAL DETROIT Corporation consolidated net income was $13.5 million ($2.27 per share) for the first three months of '75, a 19.5 per cent increase on a per share basis over last year's first quarter results of $11.3 million ($1.90 per share).

> Shareholders' equity in the corporation totaled $397 million on March 31, 1975-an increase of almost $30 million for the last 12 months.

Consolidated assets at March 31, 1975, were $7.3 billion. Total deposits were $6 billion-up $227 million from the year ago level. Loans at March 31, 1975, of $3.7 billion were up $526 million.

MANUFACTURERS National Corporation net income for first quarter '75 was $5.2 million ($1.65 per share) compared to $4.3 million ($1.40 per share) for first quarter 1974. This represents a 17.9 per cent in per share net income for first quarter '75.

On March 31, 1975, the corporation's consolidated total assets were $2.7 billion compared to $2.8 billion at the end of the first quarter 1974. On March 31, 1975 and 1974 respectively, total loans were $1.68 billion and $1.73 billion and total deposits were $2.34 billion and $2.27 billion.

Some of the questions the committee is looking into are whether objectives other than winning are being neglected; whether unreasonable stress on young athletes is resulting from intensive competition programs and whether youth sports could benefit from training programs for coaches and officials.

Salem keeps hopes alive in Suburban 8

Plymouth Salem stayed in contention for Suburban Eight baseball honors this week, taking a pair of league encounters.

Dearborn was the first to go down to the Rocks, falling 4-0 on Monday. Tom Willette continued his fine pitching in blanking the Pioneers on three hits to up his record to 4-1. Salem scored first in the second on Willette's single, a passed ball and an error. The Rocks tallied twice more in the fifth on a walk and RBI safeties from Brian Wolcott and Willette. Kurt Brannock's walk and stolen base and Dan Pierce's RBI double closed the scoring in the Rock sev-

Bill DenHouter was bombed for the second straight outing on Tuesday as he was lifted in the second inning after giving up four runs to Trenton.

Chuck Thomas came on to hold the Trojans scoreless on two hits the rest of the way, however, and the Rocks came back to claim an 8-4 victory.

Howard Inch and Charlie Johnson each had a pair of hits and an RBI to spark Salem. San Moore got a pair of RBI's on a first inning single.

The Rocks continued their running ways in both games, steal 11 bases in 12 attempts.

The victories upped the Salem record to 5-1 overall and 3-1 in the Suburban Eight.

Applications due for SC music school

Applications for Schoolcraft College's ninth annual summer music school and festival are due by April 28, according to Richard T. Saunders, director of fine arts.

The music program begins on June 30. It is offered to college students and high school and junior high school students, and provides an opportunity for talented young musicians to work closely with members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

'These professional musicians, along with in instructors from other orchestras as well as Schoolcraft music faculty, offer classes in chamber music performance, music history and theory, composition and related rehearsal and performance techniques," Saunders says.

STUDENTS enrolled attend classes and rehearsals from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily for four weeks. A typical day begins with a one-hour rehearsal followed by an hour of music history and theory. After a short break students rehearse with faculty in chamber music ensembles until lunch, which is followed by a full symphony orchestra rehearsal.

Each day the schedule is varied slightly to allow for more rehearsal time as needed. The college swimming pool is made available to the for residents of the Schoolcraft Dis-music students exclusively each Wednesday afternoon.

The summer music school will be in session through July 25. The student ensembles will present four informal and three formal concerts.

SAUNDERS says all students wishing to participate will be auditioned in May. Among those accepted will be some selected for scholarships and one selected to solo on the final concert with the symphony orchestra.

The Music Festival, which is held concurrently with the summer music school, provides a series of four Tuesday evening concerts in July. Performances at these concerts are by the music school faculty ensembles and members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

All students attending the music school are given free passes for the entire concert series, which also is open to the public.

In past seasons, artists such as Mischa Mischakoff, the Kenneth Jewell Chorale and the Jones' Consort have been featured. For the current season the Detroit String Quartet, all of whom are former faculty members, have been engaged.

Tuition for the music school is $44

trict and $88 for non-residents. Stu- attending the music school. dents who will have graduated from ceive four hours of college credit for 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The orchestra, under the direction of H. Michael Endres, will play the overture and polka from the opera 'The Bartered Bride" by Friederich Smetana and arranged by A. Winter.

'Much of the music is light, lively and festive," says Endres. "The opera is based on folk melodies. The music was written at a time when nationalism was very much alive in Eu-

Also on the program is "Dance Rhythms, Opus 58" by Wallingford Riegger, a very fresh sounding and contemporary piece for a full symphonic orchestra. Endres says the Riegger composition features the marimba, a Latin-American percussion instrument of African origin, a sort of large xylophone with tuned resonators giving a special effect.

SONATA NO. 3 in A minor by Antonia Vivaldi features Kevin Crudder as cello soloist.

Crudder, a senior at Plymouth-Canton High School, is first chair cello in the Plymouth High School Orhcestra and also plays with the Plymouth Symphony Orhcestra. He plans to study cello performance at the University of Kansas next fall.

The concert will close with a medlev from "The Sound of Music," by Richard Rodgers and arranged by major. Robert Russell Bennett.

Farm exhibit in Dearborn

City folks don't often have the chance to find out what life is really like down on the farm. Butr from now through June 2, a special exhibit at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, promises to give them a glimpse.

Titled "Colonial Agriculture: A Contemporary View," this exhibit turns the clock back to the days when the nation's single most important occupation was farming and the words harrow, hoe and sickle were a part of nearly every American's vocabulary.

One in a series of bicentennial presentations by Henry Ford Museum, the exhibit takes a look at farming as it was practiced when our struggling nation was new. The plowing, sowing, cultivating, harvesting and preserving of food and forage crops in the 18th century are examined through the eyes of one who practiced farming, New Englander Samuel Dean, author of the first comprehensive American work on agriculture.

Dean's work, "New-England Farmer," was published in Worcester, Mass. in 1790. Far from a technical journal, the book was based on the author's 30 years of practical experience, and directed at common men rience, and directed at common men like himself who made their livings to tour Europe off the land.

Deane saw agriculture in several spheres. Moving away from the road, he theorized that each farm had its Visitors approach the agriculture exhibit through an opening in the the type of fence that might have cut across 18th-century farm fields. Just inside, illustrations and quotations introduce them to the times, the place, the book and its author.

Just to the left, the farm begins and visitors may stroll through leisurely as if walking from the road. Past the vegetable garden, then the barn, the fields and finally the woodlot.

In one corner of the exhibit area, a neatly-rowed kitchen garden gets its start. Real seedlings have been moved into the musuem for this display. A butter churn, cheese press, apple mill and other collection items depict early food preservation, while plows and harrows, pitch forks and sickles illustrate tillage and cultiva-

'What Butler Saw' falls short of comedy?

By SUE ROSIEK

The Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford opened a three-weekend run of its 1974-75 season, finale, "What the Butler Saw," recently and unfortunately the play is not characteristic of the group's good taste and excellence in community theater displayed in previous shows.

The Stroller A hero deflated

Thursday, April 24, 1975

By W.W. EDGAR

There are few things more shocking Than to have one of your childhood jdols deflated and turned into an embryonic hero with feet of clay.

This happened to The Stroller several days ago when he read in one of the metropolitan papers that there would be no duplication of the midnight ride of Paul Revere in the celebration of the start of the Revolutionary War in the little towns of Lexingconcord in Massachusetts. "'He wasn't a hero, the paper stated. "and never would have been

"One if by land and two if by sea and I on the other shore shall be.' Well, the present critics claim Revere wasn't even on the other shore when the lanterns were placed in the

IT OFTEN HAS BEEN said that the American people, more than any others, take great delight in building up heroes simply for the pleasure of deflating them later on.

To many people, for instance, when George Washington's name is men-

What's more, the paper stated that Just the other day the papers noted the fact that Gordie Howe, the legendary hockey player who is rated the No. 1 Red Wing of all time, was booed in a game at Cleveland after he set another record.

All great athletes have experienced the moments when the crowd booed. Even Charley Gehringer, who never has spoken above his regular tone during a ball game, has been booed in Tiger Stadium.

vending machines

They're symbolic of the new scene at lunch hour

By MARGARET MILLER

The row of food vending machines stands in the high school corridor or cafeteria, distributing pop or candy or hamburgers or apples as it ingests the students' nickels, dimes and quarters.

And, like the elephant seen at close quarters and described variously as a wall, a tree or a rope, the machine takes on different appearances, depending on where you stand. Mary Wagner, Garden City school district food services director, looks at it from her nutritionist vantage point and finds its wares non-nutrititious competition for the lunches served in the school cafeteria. Nora Grajo, pediatric nutritionist at Wayne County General Hospital, worries about the machine-dispensed bag of potato chips and pop which, she says, constitutes lunch for many chil-

However, Brown also views the machines as litter-breeders and has moved them out of the school's entry

Another view comes from Jack Salvadore, assistant' superintendent in the South Redford district. He views with alarm rising costs of a catered cafeteria program and sees "getting more heavily into vending machines' as a possible salvation from financial

The latter is the only district in this area where every school gets "home cooked" hot lunches

There is another point to be considered-the fact that the machine itself is just that, a machine, and what's in it is what's important.

It may be filled with empty-calorie snack stuff that fill a youngster so that he throws his brown bag lunch into the trash barrel, or it may have inside a sandwich that offers a nutritionally-sound lunch choice.

BUT FROM ANY view, the vending machine in the high school stands as a central figure in a dilemma that has increasingly plagued those who attempt to dispense good nutrition with lunchtime fare in the schools.

That dilemma is simply this: No matter how nourishing the food, it does kids no good if they don't eat it. can't afford to prepare and serve it.

Add to this problem the rising costs of food and labor, the advent of the fast food chains, the economy that has increased brown bag use and more proponents of the philosophy that younger children should go home for lunch, and you have a myriad of changes in the complexion of the school cafeteria. In a series to be published in coming issues, the Observer & Eccentric will take a look at the picture.

We'll note what's happened to the federally-funded and checked Type A lunch and check the way vending machines have moved in as kitchens have slowed down.

Finally, we'll consider possible longrange solutions to everybody's problem-getting the most nutrition into the most students during the school lunch hour.

Waldorf School presentation set

When Catherine Allen of Redford Township and Leslie Terrill of Westland were looking for a school for their children, they selected a private institution called the Waldorf School. located in the Indian Village section of Detroit.

For them the school had a number of strong appeals. German is begun in kindergarten and French is added in the first grade.

Music is begun in first grade with each student playing a recorder. Handicrafts are big and each child knits or crochets his own recorder case. They spin their own wool once a year.

In early grades they make their own textbooks, selecting material from a variety of sources.

"THE SCHOOL really stimulates basic thinking." said Mrs. Allen. "It prepares children for life.

working to interest parents in the western suburbs in the Waldorf idea. They would like to establish such a school in this area.

To do this they are currently running a lecture series at Christus Victor Lutheran Church, 25535 Ford, Dearborn Heights. Teachers from the school in Detroit will discuss both the Waldorf philosophy as well as other more general education subjects.

"Imitation as the Key to a Rich Inner Life" will be the topic to be discussed by Irene Robson, kindergarten teacher Friday, April 25 at 8 p.m.

She will be joined on the platform by Francina Begemann, who specializes in languages and handwork, speaking on how handwork, speech formation and language mold think-

These women just spent 8 weeks in supermarkets to prove something you already knew... Chatham prices are lower.

AND HERE'S PROOF!

THE TEST

An independent survey team compared prices on over 150 items you buy most, such as: meat, eggs, milk, cheese, canned goods, fresh fruits and vegetables, cereal, detergents, juices, paper towels, coffee, frozen foods and others.

Each week, they shopped in the six major chains: A & P, Chatham, Farmer Jack's; Great Scott, Kroger, Wrigley.

THE RESULTS

The survey proved that Chatham prices are lower. Maybe not on every item, but your total weekly food bill should be less at Chatham . . . 31/2% less on the average. And we have the figures to prove it.

THE MORAL

Week in, week out, your total food bill should be less at Chatham than at any other leading supermarket. And we're not the only ones who say so.

t's a wonderful thing when you are inspired to education, as the sisters at Madonna inspired me. It just keeps going on and on."

The speaker is Sister Frances O'Gorman, a Brazilian Felician nun who first came to Madonna College of Livonia in 1968 to earn a degree in sociology so she could work better with the people of her native land.

For her, the "on and on" has been work with a special program designed to help the poor of the Amazon region, and, more recently, another year of study at Michigan State University to learn more ways to extend that program.

Recently she visited her former campus home to tell several classes about her work with the Federation of Organizations for Social and Educational Assistance.

THAT'S A NAME usually shortened to FASE, she said, and it describes a lay program that takes technical assistance to people in some of the poorest of Brazil's villages.

"In some of these areas," Sister O'Gorman said, "the problems seem so overwhelming that for a long time no one tried to touch them.

"But if people get together, they find they can do more than they thought they could. So FASE works with the people in the area, the factory workers, the youth, the mothers, to help them look at their problems. It becomes a matter of value development rather than just projects, and then some solutions begin to become

With training by FASE technicions, she said, one village had been able put a bridge over its troublesome swamp, clean up unsanitary roads, work out a system for better garbage disposal and begin filtering its drinking water

That accomplished, it was ready to begin a literacy campaign and start some eduational and manual training programs.

IT WAS THROUGH her studies at Madonna that Sister O'Gorman was introduced to the FASE program.

A native of Sao Paulo, she had been a teacher for a number of years."I began to realize," she said, "that school teaching of religion is not enough-there has to be complete involvement in the lives of the students to be able to really help them."

That was when she decided to get some advanced education and enrolled at Madonna. "The sisters there opened my eyes to the possibilities for education outside the classroom," she said

Her field work in connection with the degree in sociology took her to the Rev. Edmund Nelson Leising, an American Catholic priest serving in the Amazon area as director of

He had been working for several years with the programs to bring technical assistance to the poor so they could use this knowledge to help them-

In recent years FASE has spread to many areas, and one of the communities to use it recently was a Brazilian leper colony

"Field workers went in and helped the residents improve their living conditions and begin classes in typing. sewing and health knowledge," the visiting nun said. "Now these people have been invited to visit other leper colonies to show them how to work out their own problems."

SISTER O'GORMAN came back to this country in September to begin a year's graduate study in non-formal education at Michigan State under a grant from the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Through her studies here, she hopes to set up teams to pool efforts in the FASE program and thus extend its services and make them more ef-

Madonna to host Livonia Prayer Breakfast May 13

Madonna College will be the setting for the first Livonia Prayer Breakfast, currently being planned a group of civic, business, religious and education leaders.

The event is scheduled Tuesday, May 14, at 7:30 a.m., and will feature Dr. George Gullen, president of Wayne State University, as speaker.

The date was chosen because it falls during Michigan Week and is close to Livonia's 25th anniversary.

Sister Mary Danatha, president of Madonna, suggested the breakfast after attending similar events in the state and national capitals.

She pointed out to community leaders that the prayer breakfast had begun with groups meeting weekly in the United States Senate and House of Representatives.

In 1953, she said, President Dwight D. Eisenhower was invited to attend the Senate gathering for fellowship and prayer, and out of that occasion grew the national and state custom for an annual breakfast.

SERVING AS HONORARY chairman for the committee planning the event in Livonia is Mayor Edward H. McNamara.

Sister Danatha is on the steering

Church women hear Kirksey

Jack Kirksey, probation officer in Livonia and principal of Grant elementary school, will be speaker for the May Fellowship Day breakfast of Church Women United of Livonia Friday, May 2 at 9:15 a.m. in Riverside Park Church of God.

The church is located at 11771 Newburgh, at the corner of Plymouth.

"Open to Live Fully" is the theme of the program.

Reservations should be telephoned no later than Tuesday, April 29, to local church representatives or to Mrs. Jackie Belcher, 11022 Milburn, Livonia. Tickets are $1.

Babysitting is available at the cost of 50 cents per child.

Card party set in home

A spring dessert and card party will be held in St. Vincent and Sarah Fish-Road, Farmington, Saturday, April 26 at 1 p.m.

Donation is $2 with proceeds to be used for the home. Tickets may be er Home, W. Twelve Mile at Inkster purchased from Glendora Karpp, 1600 Antietam, Detroit committee, along with John Dufour, Livonia parks and recreation director, represented by assistant director Ron Reinke; Gene Ehrstin, public safety director with the Livonia police and Dr. George Garver, Livonia school superintendent.

The committee also includes Dan Gilmartin, coordinator of industrial development; Rabbi Martin Gordon of the Livonia Jewish Congregation; Dr. Nelson Grote, president of Schoolcraft College; Dr. Bartlett Hess, pastor of Ward United Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Geraldine Joyner of the Livonia Board of Education; Rudolph R. Kleinert, public safety director in the Livonia Fire Department; and Ray Lech, executive director of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce.

Also serving are Judges James McCann and James Meis of 16th District Court, the Rev. John Smith, pastor of St. Priscilla Catholic Church and vicar of the Northwest Wayne vicariate, and Sister M. Francilene and Sister M. Irene of Madonna.

R.T. Thompson of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers was working with the commmittee until his sudden death April 14.

ADVISOR TO THE GROUP is William Bullard of Ann Arbor, Great Lakes representative of the prayer breakfast movement.

In addition to Dr. Gullen's talk, there will be music by the Bel Canto Choir of Franklin High School, Old and New Testament scripture readings and prayer for the leadership of the city, state and nation.

Ready for tillers

COMMUNITY GARDEN PLOTS will be made available this spring by St. Mark Presbyterian Church, 26701 Joy, Dearborn Heights, and the ground is getting preliminary preparation from Darwin Sandison (left) of Dearborn Heights and Tim Huber of Redford Township. # NOV-OR LAYERS

BUT THERE IS A BRIGHT SIDE. Compared with expenditures on many items, homes offer very good value for the money. And experts agree that a good home is your best hedge against inflation these days because it increases in value an average of 6% a year. So, though the dollar becomes "cheaper," your home value zooms and your payments remain the same. To continue to wait (pay rent) in the hopes of buying a home for less in the future appears the expensive way to cope with today's inflation.

A CREATIVE LOT. Whatever your reasons for buying a home, you want to find the best one for your needs, wants and means: a place that "works" for you and your family. Realtors can be a creative lot when it comes to helping you make that choice. They're professionals who can offer you up-to-the-minute counsel on home values and financing opportunities...counsel which can prove invaluable to you in these confusing economic times. Local realtors are great to use as guides when you're hunting for a home, and can definitely make the home buying process simpler and more pleasant for you.

THE FUTURE. Homes today look good in terms of the future. Home modules and lots in the decades ahead will probably be much smaller, while the possibility of materials shortages continues to loom. And as price tags everywhere carry higher figures, so will the ones on homes. Taking value appreciation, costs and equity into consideration, buying a home today looks like a good idea.

A Luxurious Community of fine homes in the Northville Novi Area

Take your pick of these new 3 and 4 bedroom colonial and ranch models designed and built in the true tradition of Greenspan quality construction that has been the trademark of excellence for nearly half a century

Some models available in 30 to 60 days

The early pioneer life around Northville and Novi is still a charming part of life. And you're also conveniently located - you're almost a neighbor of Ann Arbor, Birmingham and Detroit via 1-96, 1-696 and other freeways. And the new 1-275 freeway is already under construction Residents of NORTH HILLS can look ahead and be certain that this is a most desirable area; a secure, young and growing area to live. And the longer you live in this area, the more reasons you'll find not to leave it.

All homes in North Hills include underground wiring for all utilities, Detroit water, City sanitary and storm sewer system and are on curved paved streets.
