Debate heavy on Mettetal purchase

CANTON—Close to 275 persons jammed the Plymouth Canton High School Little Theater Wednesday to voice gripes and words of approval over Canton Townships proposal to purchase and expand Mettetal Airport.

A total of 52 persons took turns at the auditorium's microphone during the course of the five-hour public hearing with opponents of the proposal slightly outnumbering proponents of the plan.

Supervisor Robert Greenstein said the board of trustees will study reactions of residents, pilots and businessmen toward the airport purchase and possibly make a decision at the board's June 10 meeting.

Some township officials have indicated, however, that the township will probably not purchase the airport because of residential opposition.

RESIDENTS of Canton Township, particularly those from Mettetal's neighboring Pickwick Village and Pickwick Farms subdivisions, packed the hearing with nearly unanimous cries of opposition, as did residents from the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

The hearing drew numerous pilots and residents from Livonia, Westland and Garden City, who use Mettetal for business purposes and voiced favorable reactions toward the township's plan.

Residents objected to the environmental impact on an expanded Mettetal, while businessmen maintained the airport would attract and maintain existing industry in the area.

At one point during the hearing, Greenstein asked residents if they would prefer a referendum at the polls to an immediate township board vote on the matter. His question was greeted by a thunderous round of applause.

Unless the township purchases Mettetal, some businessmen and officials fear the airport will be sold for some other type of development. Private airports, unlike those owned by units of government, are not eligible for state and federal funding.

According to township officials, owners of the now privately-owned facility are asking $1.2 million for the airport. In order to receive state and federal funds to finance a portion of the purchase and operating costs, the township must expand the current 2,600-foot runway to 3,800 feet.

According to a financial study, conducted by R. Dixon and Speas Associates, state and federal funds would cover all but $525,000 of the purchase cost if the runway is expanded. The report estimates the township cost of expansion at $675,000 and suggests that general obligation and revenue bonds be floated to finance purchase and expansion costs.

AS AN ALTERNATIVE to a township purchase agreement, Greenstein asked businessmen, who benefit most from the airport, if they could purchase the airport as a group.

"If the township or the private sector does not support the airport, it will probably go down," Greenstein said. It might be wise if a private group could purchase it. Perhaps the township would be able to give you some type of tax break or exemption. I'm quite sure the township would give serious consideration to that, and I hope you think about it."

Since private airports are not eligible for state or federal funds, there would be little reason to expand the runway. Expansion is a major gripe of residents, who say a longer runway would mean larger aircraft and more noise.

"The noise is atrocious, and the traffic is atrocious," said one resident of Canton's Pickwick Village. "I fear for my family's life if the runway is expanded."

Another resident, who lives in the City of Plymouth, added, "The noise is annoying, and I hate to see it expanded. The aircraft interfere with radio and television waves. I like to listen to classical music, and it's annoying when the soprano starts to yodel. The TV is severely disturbed by those airwaves."

Other residents fear expansion would decrease their property value.

"If the township does purchase and expand this airport, we will ask for a tax decrease because of decreased property value," said Bill Vitti, a resident of Pickwick Village Subdivision. "The time is long past to expand the airport."

"It seems some aircraft owners are asking the township to subsidize them," Vitti added. "This is something we as taxpayers cannot afford."

NUMEROUS residents came prepared with slide presentations, showing low-flying aircraft over their homes and comparison sheets of the Candidates debate the issues

PLYMOUTH—Shaping the nature in which Plymouth schools will handle continuing growth in a tight economic period is the task envisioned by five candidates for the Plymouth Board of Education.

Answering questions before a group of close to 50 school district residents, five of the six candidates for two four-year seats on the board were present for a "Meet the Candidates Night" sponsored jointly by the Plymouth-Canton League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

With candidate Jack Wiegand absent, the remaining five candidates presented four-minute presentations on their positions and goals if elected, and later answered a series of questions from the audience.

All five candidates favor passage of both the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 mill increase for operating funds in the district.

ALL NOTED concern with the possibility of overbuilding during the heavy growth period the district is currently experiencing and offered possible solutions to overcrowding without overbuilding.

At many points, candidates were asked their opinions on the 45-15 program, with three candidates favoring a reconsideration of the program and two voicing favor with the board's stand to begin the program in July.

Candidates feeling the program should be reconsidered included Joseph Gray, Flossie Tonda, and Elden Thomas, while Leslie Cavell, and incumbent Thomas Yack felt the action not to reconsider was proper.

"I supported the program one year ago when I was on the board," said Gray, "but after seeing an attitude change on the part of many parents and seeing administrators jump back and forth in their positions, I think more time is needed to consider the program."

"We need the full cooperation of the staff and have a majority of parents who want the program in order for it to succeed," Gray said.

Mrs. Tonda echoed Gray's comments and said she had also favored the program a year ago, but added, "If I had been on the board I would have definitely voted to reconsider, giving the people one more chance to go over it."

IN VOICING his desire to see the program reconsidered, Thomas said the educational advantages have been considered for the above average student, "but nobody has brought up the problem of the slow learner." He said he felt the readjustment to the inter- sessions between each of the nine-week sessions would be harmful to the progress of the slower students.

Lending support to the 45-15 program, Cavell said he was "wholeheartedly in favor of 45-15" adding, "and I support the program down the line."

Yack said his position has not changed since late February when he voted to begin the 45-15 program at Miller School this summer. "I concur with the committee on maximum utilization of school buildings, which recommended the 45-15 program. Even if we bus 70 kids out of the school, Miller will still be 130 students over capacity when we open in the fall."

When asked what cuts should be made if both millage proposals fail, the candidates were split in their choices.

Thomas suggested that the amount of busing in the district be reduced, while Gray said he feared that 25 per cent of the programs in the schools would have to be dropped.

"WE WOULD have to throw out a lot of safety measures for students and it would mean the elimination of many extracurricular programs for all students. We might have to go to just the minimal requirements by the state in order to balance the budget."

Cavell suggested that all cuts be made "across the board" and Mrs. Tonda said she would favor cuts that would least hurt the child. She disagreed with cuts in transportation which Thomas suggested, adding "I have a strong feeling that we can't forget the safety of the children."

Yack said he would rely on recommendations from the administration before he would make cuts and said he would favor cuts that would not affect educational programs. "I wouldn't cut transportation either," Yack said, "because it is one of the few programs that is reimbursable by the state."

LOOKING AT what was considered the most important policy decision to face the next board, Yack said it would be "casting a vote to adopt the budget, because the budget truly affects one's priorities."

Gray said he thought the next year's toughest decision would be determining the amount of millage needed to staff the three new elementary schools which will open in September 1976.

Cavell said the board must set up a policy "which is fiscally sound and see that we run a trim ship," while Mrs. Tonda said the budget was the most important, in addition to "best serving the community and attempting to satisfy all parents."

Thomas said financing was most important but added his concerns again for solutions to overcrowding and about the "open classroom" setting in some schools.

A QUESTION was raised earlier in the evening about the value of the "open classroom" in comparison with a "traditional" approach.

Thomas said he thought slower learners should be left in a traditional setting, because of discipline problems, and said he thought the choice of the two options should be made available to parents.

Mrs. Tonda agreed with Thomas and said she felt the options should also be offered to teachers on whether to teach in open or traditional classrooms.

Canton negotiates option on acreage

CANTON—The township may soon own an additional 68 acres of land.

The board of trustees last week unanimously empowered Supervisor Robert Greenstein, Treasurer Carl Parsell and Clerk John Flodin to negotiate and execute an option on 68 acres of land.

Although Greenstein refused to disclose the name of the owner or the location of the land while negotiations are under way, he said purchase terms are "excellent."

The owner, he said, has agreed to sell the land for $300,000. Terms are 29 per cent down at 7½ per cent interest with three years to pay.

The township could eventually use the land to construct a civic center, with a township hall, a library, a senior citizen activity center and other municipal buildings, Greenstein said.

Township officials had originally planned to construct the civic center on 20 acres near the township firehall, the supervisor explained. That land is covered with Detroit Edison power lines.

"The attitude is to pick land not hampered with Edison lines," he said. "We could keep the land near the fire hall or exchange it for something else. I don't believe this township can possibly acquire too much land."

Greenstein had asked board members to empower the township's administration to negotiate a purchase agreement instead of an option, under which the township could opt out of the purchase plan.

"The terms are as good as we'll ever get," the supervisor told board members. "It seems to me there should be more faith in the officers of this board. We're going to need more cooperation. Otherwise I'm going to quit trying, and Canton can pay $30,000 an acre."

Trustee James Poole responded, "It's not a lack of faith, but I don't want to make a $300,000 purchase, just like that."

Canton man charged in assault

PLYMOUTH—A Canton Township man is being held by police in lieu of $100,000 bond, charged with criminal sexual conduct, first degree.

Awaiting pretrial examination June 5 is Lawrence Stone Franklin Jr., 32, of 7631 Kingsbridge, vice president of Windsor Park Civic Association.

Police say the suspect was arrested at his home Wednesday night following a complaint by a Westland woman who said she was forced at gunpoint to commit a sexual act in the creek area near McKinley and Ann Arbor Roads early Sunday morning. She parked her car on McKinley because she had trouble turning off the car's interior lights.

POLICE SAY the woman was approached by a man who asked her what the trouble was. At that point, the man pulled a gun, shoved it into her side saying, "I've got a gun. You're not going anywhere."

He forced her to the ground. When a car drove past, he ordered her "not to make a sound" and grabbed her by the throat.

He then forced her to the bridge where the alleged sexual act took place, police said.

He is then reported to have gone back to the woman's car saying, "OK, I'll try to fix it." In the attempt to repair the lights, the man broke his ignition key in the car's fuse holder. He left on foot saying, "I'll see you later."

THE VICTIM ran to a house and called police.

Chief Timothy Ford said thorough investigation by a task force was headed up of Det. Robert Commire and officer Ralph White of the Plymouth police, along with Det. Sgt. James Collins and Trooper Charles Hoover of the Michigan State Police, led to the arrest.

Ford said through the investigation certain items of evidence were recovered by the task force allowing police to obtain a warrant against Franklin.

SC drafts $9 million budget

The Schoolcraft College administration will have to trim nearly $124,000 from its proposed 1975-76 budget of $9 million to present a balanced budget to trustees at the next budget review Wednesday, June 4.

"I don't feel bad about the over-requests because there will be considerable adjusting and trimming between now and June 4," said Dr. Nelson Grote, Schoolcraft president, at the first budget session May 28.

A public hearing will be held Wednesday, June 18 at 8 p.m. in the board conference room, at which time trustees will consider adopting the proposed budget.

INCLUDED IN the proposed budget is a $20,000 site improvement request to move Schoolcraft's Garden City Instructional Center from its present location at 29205 Florence to Harrison Elementary School, 6701 N. Harrison.

"Harrison would provide more space and improved facilities, and is a better location," said Grote.

Several trustees questioned the need for relocation, pointing out that the college has already spent $12,000 to improve parking facilities at the Florence site.

"It bothers me that there has been so much work done on the parking lot," said Trustee Rosina Raymond. "We were able to get the funds and now we're moving to another place to start all over."

Grote noted that funds for the parking lot were obtained through a state grant.

"If we stay in the present center we would have to cap our enrollment. If we have the space we could accept about 1,000 more students," explained Grote.

Trustee Arch Vallier accepted the relocation but asked who would take advantage of the completed parking lot. "I have no quarrel about moving, but we should be negotiating for the money we put into the center."

GROTE explained that Schoolcraft will recoup the parking lot investment in a new long-term lease, which is now being negotiated with members of the Garden City School District.

He also noted that, other than for the parking lot, the college has made "practically no other investment in the Florence location."

Schoolcraft officially opened the Garden City center in the last half of the 1972 fall semester. The college used classrooms in Garden City West High School for a brief time in fall 1972, and moved to the Florence location in November 1972. The Garden City facility reached full operation in fall 1973.

Schoolcraft has completed two years of a three-year lease with the school district.

IN OTHER BUDGET discussion, Fred Petersen, manager of business services, explained that in order to adjust the preliminary budget figures the administration needed the board's feedback on the status of special funds.

Trustees were asked to consider adding $100,000 to the present $160,000 balance in the special maintenance fund.

Petersen also requested the funds be earmarked for modifications of existing facilities, which include the health and safety of staff, students and visitors; protection of property, building, and equipment; and also to improve college operations.

He noted that modifications would be minor and not exceed $10,000 per project. The special maintenance fund is restricted to payments for the cost of repairing plant facilities and replacing equipment.

THE ADMINISTRATION also requested $150,000 to establish a special equipment fund. The fund would be created for purchasing new and replacing old equipment for on-going programs, and meeting matching grants such as the vocational education act grant. The money would be allocated as part of the 1.77 voted millage of the Schoolcraft district.

In a brief outline of the 1975-76 proposed budget, Petersen noted that a substantial increase is needed in physical plant funds because of increased utility costs.

IN OTHER ACTION at the board's regular meeting.

Trustees voted 7-0 to accept a manpower training grant to recruit veterans. The subcontract will cover two full time position for 90 days, subject to extension. The program is provided by the Emergency Jobs Program under Title VI CETA.

Appointed Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone as general legal counsel through July 1977.

Voted to recognize and support International Women's Year 1975.

Out-county backs court decision

By SHELLY GUGGENHEIM

WAYNE COUNTY—Out-county commissioners are girding forces for a fight Thursday, June 5, with Detroit commissioners on a recent court decision relieving the county of its obligation to pay about two-thirds of Detroit Recorder's Court judges' salaries.

Recorders Court is the criminal court for the jurisdiction of City of Detroit only.

Area commissioners Mary Dumas (R-Livonia), John Barr (D-Dearborn Heights), Royce Smith (D-Belle Isle) and Tom Taylor (D-Westland) said they will oppose appealing the May 29 Michigan Court of Appeals decision. Commissioner Richard Manning (D-Redford) was out of town.

The battle Thursday will be on an advisory vote to instruct County Corporation Counsel Aloysius Suchy on whether the county, which was a defendant in the 1973 suit brought by Commissioner George Hart (D-Dearborn), should appeal the decision against it.

Detroit commissioners hold a one-vote majority on the board and are expected to push for appeal. If the vote fails, Detroit may be expected to pick up the $601,611 annual tab for the 23 judges' salaries. With an allowance of 35 per cent for fringe benefits, the bill jumps to $812,174.

SMITH, whose district includes Plymouth and Canton Township, said the vote will probably boil down to Detroit against the out-county. "The out-county has better attendance at the board meetings" and that may determine the outcome, Smith said.

Taylor, who says he has never voted in favor of any Recorders Court financing, said the vote's determination is unclear. "Some of those Detroit commissioners are very independent." Taylor's district includes Garden City and part of Westland.

The commissioner whose district includes most of Livonia, Mrs. Dumas, quipped: "It may force Detroit commissioners to a trade-off" on the oft-defeated out-county circuit court branches.

THE THREE-JUDGE appeals court panel—S. Jerome Bronson, Louis D. McGregor and Michael Carlin—ordered the county to immediately stop paying $26,157 of each judge's annual salary of $40,157, the remainder of which is paid by Detroit.

The judges—with the exception of Carlin who was ill and did not participate in the opinion—determined that because out-county residents cannot run or vote for Recorder's judges, they shouldn't be required to pay for them through county funding.

The county's payment constitutes "taxation without representation," the judges stated, which strikes at the very foundations of the democratic system.

The panel based its decision on a 1919 state act which allowed county financing of the court if approved by voters in all of Wayne County. A referendum was held that year for Detroit residents only, thus voiding the law, the judges said.

FRIDAY Detroit attorneys were considering an application this week to the State Court of Appeals for a rehearing.

John Cross, a city attorney working on the case, said the court may be asked to reconsider whether its decision was to strike the entire act or only the section pertaining to the judge's salaries.

"If the whole act is void, then we have to do something to preserve the status of the court,"

Cross said that under any circumstances Detroit does not consider itself responsible for the salaries—the state would have to pay under the law.

Cross said he saw the appeals court decision as one which would foster the idea of a single court system for the state.

At present, Recorder's Court, while it tries cases occurring in Detroit only, handles more than half the criminal cases in the whole state. It tries both misdemeanors, like district courts in the rest of the state, and high misdemeanors and felonies, which circuit courts have jurisdiction over.

SHOULD DETROIT have to absorb the $812,000 salary cost, Robert Pisor, the Detroit mayor's press secretary, said the only way the city could handle the cost would be by further service cuts or layoffs.

Additional taxes would be impossible, he said, because Detroit residents are making the greatest tax effort permissible under the law.

The $812,000 is only part of what Detroit might have to absorb. Barr also suggested that under the appeals court opinion the county may not have to pay for housing and furnishing the court and providing its probation department. This would amount to an additional $4 million to $5 million savings, he estimated.

Cross disputed Barr's contention saying it is the county's responsibility under the general laws of the state.

Wayne-Westland candidates air their views

Agnes Greene

James Dupree

WESTLAND—School board candidate Agnes Greene feels there are obligations that must be met by both sides of the teacher contract bargaining table.

Mrs. Greene, 68, a retired teacher, says, "It's not just the teachers. Board members, too, have an obligation to get the schools open on time."

"I think teachers have reached a low ebb in terms of respect, mainly because of the strike issue. But the board, too, has a moral obligation. They control the purse strings, and they have to be aware of what's going on."

SHE ADVOCATES better communication and more honesty between teachers and the school board but, with only a few exceptions, feels that Wayne-Westland schools are generally run well.

Referring to school strikes, she states: "We (Wayne-Westland) taxpayers pay the highest millage in the state. I'm on limited income myself, and I question what's being done with every tax dollar. The taxpayers have backed us (the board) in the past, but I think that now they've had it up to the teeth."

She says she is "disgusted at what's being done at the state level" to prevent teacher contract disputes, claiming that under proposed legislation teachers would simply wait a while and then go out on strike.

Mrs. Greene, who has taught in the system since 1946 at Wayne Memorial High School, describes herself as "a joiner and a doer." She says she has become bored with her routine of senior citizen activities and that, because of her experience, knowledge of the community and background, she is making a run for the Wayne-Westland board.

"When I became a teacher, teachers had a real desire to teach," she says. "They only earned $1,400 to $1,600, but teaching then was one of the finest professions."

She says when young couples move into the area, they pay the "top dollar" for education and expect the best; generally, the system provides a high caliber of education, she feels, and that parents could be cheated if their children were bused to another neighborhood.

"I wouldn't want anybody to have to ride two hours even to go to an all-white school. When you buy a home, you buy a neighborhood school. Why should they ride a bus, just to see a black face?"

She advocates a more "natural" approach to integration. "Franklin is about 35 per cent black now and if more blacks move into the area, we can get more black teachers and eventually we'll have more black communities. But why dump black children on a bus and take them where they're not wanted?"

THOUGH SHE IS PLEASED with the system's special education programs, she thinks more can be done in the area of vocational education because only 35-40 per cent go on to college. "But we have an outstanding overall curriculum—one of the finest in the state."

On accountability: "Sure, teachers should be accountable, but how do you measure it? We have good, average and poor teachers and the problem under the tenure system is to make the poor better. Teachers make an important impression on students, but we have no true instrument of measurement."

Teachers' duties, she says, have increased in recent years, with teachers taking on some responsibilities that formerly belonged to parents. Setting "parameters" will be an obligation of the school board.

"Principals," says Mrs. Greene, "ought to teach at least one day a month to learn something about the challenge that teachers face each day."

WESTLAND—Expanded individualized education and a district with something to offer residents of all ages are goals sought by James Dupree, candidate for the Wayne-Westland School Board.

Dupree, 29, would like to see the district expand its scope and offer more educational opportunities to pre-schoolers and senior citizens, alike.

"District resources should be used to benefit the whole community. Education isn't just reserved for kindergarten through the twelfth grade," says Dupree.

SENIOR CITIZENS, he says, have been neglected by the community. Use of school facilities would give them a chance to remain active residents.

"Too many times in our community the elderly have been dumped. They have to be allowed to use their hands and minds or they will become stagnant," he says.

Because the district's enrollment is declining, the open classrooms should be used to benefit pre-schoolers, he says.

"These open classrooms should be used for day care centers. Our community is changing ethnically and economically. More and more both parents have to work. Facilities should be made available to take care of their children."

Vocational education should be made available to veterans through school facilities, he says, as well as expanding the vocational education program, generally. Dupree is in support of the $28 million bond issue also appearing on the June 9 ballot.

"It used to be everyone 'had' to go to college. But not everyone is designed to go. We're going to have to pay for improved facilities, if we want an improved school system," he says.

Dupree believes too much emphasis is put on the grading system and says administrators should spend more time in implementing individualized education programs.

"The grading system puts too much pressure on the students. It takes the emphasis off of education. Individualized education makes both teachers and students more responsible," he says.

He denies the argument that individualized education is a room for chaos, saying instead, that it gives children an opportunity to learn from teachers and one another.

ALTHOUGH NOT ENTHUSED over the prospect of further teachers' strikes, Dupree believes the educators should have the right to strike. Teachers and the district both should be financially penalized if a strike situation occurs, he says.

"The negotiation process should be made fair and equitable. I like the idea of binding arbitration where the arbiter would have to take one side or the other. By doing this the negotiators would make more realistic offers," he says.

School board trustees, he believes, should partake in negotiations so they understand "firsthand" what is transpiring.

Cross-district busing, he says, is unnecessary for children to learn and understand about other ethnic groups, races or cultures.

"If a situation is created in the community where various groups can get housing, education shouldn't be a problem. Facilities should be provided where a comfortable atmosphere can be created for a variety of persons," he says.

He doesn't believe that minority students should be either pampered or abused, but they should be accepted and understood. Teachers' training, he says, should include learning about various cultural groups so they may better understand and teach about minorities.

Debate heavy on Mettetal airport purchase

1975 Mettetal study and another conducted in 1968.

The 1968 study, conducted before subdivisions surrounded the airport site, said expansion of the airport should take place in a non-residential area because of increased noise and aircraft traffic. That study, noted township officials, proposed a longer runway than that outlined in the 1975 report in order to accommodate small corporate jets.

"If you vote in favor of this airport, each of you will be named co-defendants in a class action suit filed by the people of Canton Township," one resident told board members. "The basis of this will be the 1968 report."

"It seems incredible to me that every seven years the township uses taxpayers' money to study this. It reminds me of the seven-year locusts. When you vote on this, I hope you remember the desire of your constituency, who elected you to office."

TWO CERTIFIED public accountants, hired by an anonymous group of Canton residents, criticized R. Dixon and Speas Associates' financial report and said the township purchase of the airport would be a financially unsound venture.

One Canton resident showed a map of Mettetal and its traffic pattern on an overhead projector. Aircraft approaching or leaving the expanded runway would fly 30 feet over the roof-top of a Plymouth Township apartment building, he said.

Pilots disagreed and noted the danger of flying that low.

"I'm just as concerned as these residents about some of the idiots who fly aircraft," responded Ken Spencer, a pilot who lives in Livonia. "If a plane flies low over your house, get his number and call the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration)."

Maynard Smith, a pilot who lives in Garden City, added, "I've learned more tonight about flying from non-pilots than I've ever heard. Airports generate money, and there are plants in this area that have been built because of Mettetal. Many people don't realize that many of us who fly out of there don't fly just because of recreation."

Added another pilot who lives in Plymouth Township, "The airplanes come directly over my house, and, you know it's funny, I don't hear the noise these other people are hearing. I brought myself from Southfield and moved right under the air traffic pattern."

ONE CANTON resident, who owns an airplane, agreed.

"I have to say with all honesty that the dogs in our neighborhood make more noise than the aircraft," he said. "Speaking as a pilot, this small expansion would make the airport safer and decrease the noise level at the northern end of the runway. Canton should take over the airport."

The airport provides pilot-training services, other pilots noted, and strengthens the tax base of the community.

"If the airport is lost, you'll never be able to buy property for another airport again," said Bill Brown, a Canton businessman who plans to buy a house in Pickwick Village.

One Canton resident replied, "If you take the interests of a few pilots above ours who vote for you, then I wonder what favors you're getting."

Her husband continued, "When a government no longer represents the people, it's time for the people to replace that government."

Another resident advised board members, "Your decision should be based on facts, not just emotional things. You must evaluate all the facts and take everything into consideration."

TEAMING UP for the fight against muscular dystrophy Tuesday are Kathy and Donald Fulkerson and MD poster child, Brian Morrison. The borderer and sister team will lead the fight in Plymouth during the four-hour drive.

Muscular dystrophy leaders are named

PLYMOUTH—Two Plymouth residents, Kathy and Donald Fulkerson, have been named area chairpersons for the 1975 Muscular Dystrophy Drive to be held from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, June 3.

An appeal for volunteers to join in the house-to-house solicitation has been issued by the chairpersons. Persons wishing to assist in the drive are asked to call MD's volunteer headquarters at 272-0061.

Proceeds from the four-hour drive will support medical research and patient services for victims of muscular dystrophy. The disease, as yet incurable, primarily attacks children and is nearly always fatal.

Local MD patients receive free diagnosis, lab tests, physical and occupational therapy, braces, wheelchairs, and social services at Detroit's Muscular Dystrophy Clinic. The clinic, supported annually by the house-to-house campaign, is free of charge to all patients in Michigan.

Local decisions assured by HUD for block grant

Assurance that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, (HUD), recognizes federally funded block grant program decisions be made at the local level, has been given to Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor).

Esch said he had received a written response to his letter to David Meeker, assistant secretary for community planning and development of HUD, concerning the applications submitted by various Wayne County communities.

"Although the answers I have received are not completely satisfactory, HUD does recognize that the congressional intent of the legislation is to allow for maximum decision making at the local level," Esch said.

City of Plymouth and the townships of Plymouth and Canton would receive $33,000 this year for improvements of recreational and neighborhood facilities.

Fear that local control over the funds would be taken away from them had bothered many communities.

Esch said he was keeping on eye on the program to help allay fears of any "strings" being attached to the federal program.

"I will continue to work with local community officials on this matter and to insist that the bureaucrats in HUD do not subvert the congressional intent of allowing decision making at the local level. In this regard, I shall maintain a continuing dialog with HUD officials," the congressman said.

To receive the federal funds, communities with populations of less than 50,000 must join together to reach the required 200,000 population count needed for eligibility.

Nineteen communities are joining with Wayne county in their application to HUD for the money.

Absentee ballots are available

PLYMOUTH—Plymouth voters who are unable to vote in person in the school election June 9 can pick up absentee ballots at the Plymouth School's administrative offices, 454 S. Harvey.

Regular office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Information may be obtained by calling 453-0200, extension 19, 20 or 21.

On Saturday, June 7, the last day prior to the election, the school offices will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. to accommodate residents whose plans change at the last minute.

'Y' offers fitness class

Perhaps if one of the things you've added over the winter is a few pounds here and there, you can join the Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA's summer women's fitness class designed to get and keep you slim and trim for the summer.

Classes will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays, June 17 through July 24, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church, Main and Church streets, Plymouth. The fee is $10 for 'Y' members and $14 for non-members. A babysitter will be available at 50 cents per child.

Plymouth school board candidates air views

In an effort to inform voters of positions of the six candidates seeking election to two four-year terms on the Plymouth Community Board of Education, the Observer & Eccentric prepared a questionnaire seeking opinions of the candidates on a variety of issues.

Candidates were asked to provide brief biographical information and answer the following questions:

1. Do you favor the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 additional operating levy that will be on the June 9 ballot?

2. What type of program do you endorse for handling the rapid growth in the school district? What can be done to insure that buildings constructed today will not have empty classrooms in the future?

3. Should school board trustees be more concerned with curriculum or finance? Why?

4. What would you propose to solve the problems of teacher strikes? Binding arbitration? Jail teachers? Jail school board members?

5. What makes you think your service on the board would improve education in the district?

Candidates were asked to limit their responses to two type-written pages on double spaced copy. Their responses follow:

Leslie C. Cavell
1281 Carol St.
Plymouth

1. I do favor the 5.15 mill renewal, and the .46 operating levy on the June 9 ballot.

2. In the Plymouth Community School District, it would appear that present plans for 45-15 should result in not overbuilding. Many areas are overcrowded, and would be also with the 45-15. I would support 45-15 efforts, to keep buildings to a minimum.

3. Both curriculum and finance are too closely allied to consider that a school board should be more concerned with one than the other. The concern of the board should be how best to serve the needs of the pupils in the district. This should determine the curriculum and financing needed.

4. Teacher strikes should be unnecessary if sincerity in negotiations were practiced. A district should be able to solve its own problems. Binding arbitration could settle the problem if fiscal responsibility were practiced.

It would seem futile to resolve a problem of a contract, then have to revise educational concepts because funds were not available except with increased millage, not always provided. Jail is a ridiculous assessment of the solution to this problem.

5. Schools are big business. I believe that my years in industry could prove effective by providing another viewpoint not now in evidence on the present board.

Biographical Information: Leslie C. Cavell, age 53, a total of 16 years in Plymouth School District. Graduate of Central High School, Flint, Mich., attended University of Michigan and Iowa State University. Superintendent of Maintenance, Fisher Body Division, General Motors Corporation, Livonia. Married, father of six children.

Elden Thomas
44112 LeeAnn
Canton Township

Elden J. Thomas is a married resident of Canton with three children attending school in the Plymouth schools system. He is the son of a retired Detroit police officer now living in Phoenix, Ariz. For the past 22 years he has been employed as a body designer for Chrysler Corp. and is a commissioned warrant officer in the Marine Corps Reserve.

He attended Chrysler Institute of Engineering, Wayne State Applied Management and Technology Center, Chrysler Computer Center and Florida University Instructor Training. Completed Basic and Advanced Aircraft Electronics Schools and instructed math, physics and drafting at the Naval Air Technical Training Center.

He is a member of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and is Commandant of the Marine Corps League's Northwest Detachment. He represents the Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program and the National Band Association Awards to outstanding band members in the Plymouth area.

1. I am in favor of the millage renewal and the additional operating levy because the school board must meet the increased cost of educational expenses.

2. At this time I believe the school board would have a more successful and less costly program if they utilized portable class rooms to cope with the overcrowded conditions. Building must be planned in new areas only where there is no other school available to meet the enrollment.

3. A school board trustee must be concerned with finance because almost all of the programs he is to approve depend on the shape of the budget and its priorities.

4. I do not believe there is an absolute solution to solving teacher strikes. This problem can only be avoided by sincere bargaining from both sides.

5. The board needs someone that is not a politician or a professional educator to help make decisions without ignoring the rights and welfare of the average citizen and taxpayer. The best possible education for our children can only be insured by the teachers, administrators and parents working together to increase community support in future educational programs.

Flossie Tonda
39846 John Dr.
Canton Township

1. I am in support of the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 additional operating levy as this millage would continue providing the school board and administration funds to retain the existing programs. It was just learned that the balancing factor of the SEV would benefit the taxpayer as he would have a tax reduction of .41 mills if both propositions were passed by the voters.

2. Year-round school, multi-age grouping and transporting students to empty classrooms would be the programs I would endorse for handling the rapid growth in the Plymouth Schools. To insure the citizens that in the future there would be no empty classrooms, I would keep an up to date record of all occupancy permits issued by the local unit of government.

Presently we are counting empty basements and building permits, this is of no use to the schools until families occupy these homes. We must also keep a record of all housing developments being approved by our local unit of government.

3. School board trustees should be concerned with finance and curriculum but of the two I would like to see the trustees be more concerned with finance. We must have confidence in our administration to implement the best quality curriculum for our children.

Excellent education can be provided to students in schools where budgets are relatively small as well as in schools where the budgets are large.

4. My solution to the problems of teacher strikes is as follows: A law that would guarantee a minimum of 180 days of instruction before the third Friday of June. A compulsory negotiation timetable. Negotiations to start at any time the board and teachers agree on. If no settlement 10 days before the 180-day deadline, fact-finding by MERC.

Their report or recommendation to the negotiation teams be made to the public. Five days before deadline, court-ordered compulsory arbitration. Deadline, if no settlement last best offer is automatically accepted by teachers and school board.

5. For the past five years I have served, and chaired for three years, the districtwide Safety Committee and worked very closely with administration. This experience has brought me into the problems of millage, budget and funding. Being president of the Plymouth Community Council this year has enabled me to have an excellent rapport with the parent-teacher groups in our school district.

I understand their problems and concerns about our educational policies. I am the present group organizational representative for the Camp Fire Girls in the Plymouth-Northville area, and give orientation to all new leaders in the area. I received the National Shawnequa award last year for my work in the last five years with the Camp Fire Girls programs.

I am secretary for the Canton Township Planning Commission which enables me to be more aware of the growth in the Canton area and how it affects the schools. In the past five years I have worked with the board, administration, teachers, parents and the children, I am aware of their problems, and concerns and can voice these concerns as I vote on the school board if I am elected.

For five years, employed as domestic relations investigator, Oakland County Friend of the Court, helping to superintend the welfare of children who are wards of the court by operation of law following divorce of their parents.

1. Yes, I am satisfied that passage of both proposals will help the district. The money is needed and will be well spent. Also, the interplay of other factors will keep the tax structure basically unchanged even if both proposals pass.

2. The year-round school is the answer to student population growth of about 1000 per year. The "45-15" plan is good since it results in a saving of 25 per cent of space and eliminates double sessions. We need to know more about other plans such as "concept 6" where as many as one-third of students enrolled may be on vacation at a given time. This offers the possibility of gaining one classroom free for each two new ones that are built.

3. With a view toward exercising general superintending control, school board trustees must be interested, and concerned, with everything in the district touching education.

4. Binding arbitration is unpopular, but I think it is the answer. We need state legislation similar to New York's "Taylor Law," establishing compulsory arbitration when disputes cannot be otherwise settled. It should be patterned after the Michigan Police-Firemen arbitration law recently extended. Both sides to the dispute set forth two final proposals. The arbitrator selects one of these proposals and his decision is binding on both sides.

Arbitration has been successful in helping to clear court dockets of civil disputes in Wayne County and metropolitan areas throughout the nation. I realize the tremendous shortcomings, yet I think it is the best alternative solution available.

5. I offer myself as a thinking person, capable of making reasoned decisions.

1. Yes, I favor the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 additional operating levy. The district finds itself in an economic squeeze. Costs are rising rapidly in the areas of plant operation, capital outlay, transportation and instruction. As a result of the state equal yield formula, Plymouth receives very little revenue for our rapid increase in SEV. In fact, the district receives only $1,500 per $1 million rise in SEV.

Couple this with an ever increasing student population and it spells trouble. The board has pledged to levy only that portion of the millage which is necessary to maintain the present program and plan for improvement.

2. I endorse the solutions to the rapid growth of student population outlined by the 1973 Citizens Committee on Maximum Utilization of Buildings. (Considerable time and public input went into this study. It is important that their findings be considered carefully). In rank order they are (1) extended school year (2) build necessary schools (3) rent inside district.

3. All too often board trustees have concerned themselves with finance to the exclusion of curriculum. And all too often this narrowness has led to poor curriculum decisions. Funds could be more wisely disbursed if board members were more knowledgeable of present program and the future program needs of the district. After all program/curriculum is what education is all about.

4. The bargaining process has disintegrated to the point where change must be made. The difficulty is what kind of change. The points listed here are, I believe, in the best interests of teachers, administrators, and citizens. They have been rejected by both the Michigan School Board Association and the Michigan Education Association.

It is my belief that the "right legislation" will be that which is unacceptable to both sides. The elements to be included are: negotiations timetable, provision for fact-finding, mediation, and arbitration, calendar that protects the extended school year, arbitration open to the public, and last best total offer binding arbitration.

5. I believe I have demonstrated through action that I possess the skills required to bring about an improved educational program. I feel I am in the rather unique position of having the ability to look at issues from at least two viewpoints, having served as a teacher and administrator. My one year term could best be characterized by the statements below:

- devoted a tremendous amount of time and energy to board activities
- brought to the board a unique viewpoint
- demonstrated an ability to work with teachers, administration, and board members
- high interest in finance and curriculum

Summer job prospects up

By STEVE BARNABY

WESTLAND—Although the unemployment picture in Wayne County remains dim, personnel in the Wayne-Westland School District are optimistic over summer employment for youth.

Because of money made available through the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) and a slight upswing in local business request for student employees, the Youth Employment Service is hopeful.

Youth Employment Director Alma Kelly says the agency has about 1,600 applications on file for job requests during the summer months.

"Recently, we contacted all 700 businesses in Westland," says Mrs. Kelly. "We also remain in contact with businesses in the City of Wayne and other surrounding communities."

NOW IN ITS FOURTH year, the service is a fulltime operation.

"Because of the number of programs available, we are able to cover a wide range of age groups. The job situation isn't as good as last year, but it is better than the first two years," says Mrs. Kelly.

As the agency becomes better known, she says, more business persons call for aid. All businesses that have shown an interest in the past for youth employment are kept on file for future reference.

"In the last month things have picked up in areas like restaurants and party stores where clerks, cashiers and stockboys are needed. The businessmen seem willing to hire for summer employment."

Although run by the school district, the agency handles employment for persons from 14-years-old through college age. While older students are directed towards business employment, the younger students have domestic-type work made available to them.

Domestic work includes things like mowing lawns and cleaning up areas.

"I've been in contact with local businessmen in attempts to get students jobs cleaning up around their areas."

Recently, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners approved a $1.5 million summer employment program for out-county youth, which also should help the employment picture, says Mrs. Kelly.

Among the projects included under the funding is the Wayne County Intermediate School District (WCISD) for disadvantaged children which is expected to employ 1,400 between 14-18 years-old. Those under the program would be paid $2.10 an hour.

To qualify, youngsters must meet federal Office of Economic Opportunity poverty guidelines.

Applicants must live outside of Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia to qualify.

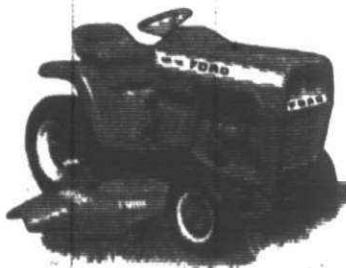

COMPILING A WINNING record of 6-2, the Plymouth Canton girls' volleyball team captured the first championship in the school's short history. The girls took the 1975 Western Six title and the trophy will be displayed at the

Winemaking hobby attracts couple to tastings

By SUE ROSIEK

The West Detroit Chapter of the American Wine Society (AWS) is looking for people who are interested in wines. If you would like to learn the difference between a Burgundy and Beaujolais the AWS can offer that experience and many more.

"We have about 13 members presently," Mrs. Lukacs explains, "but we'd like to increase our number to 50. I know there are many other wine lovers throughout this area, and I want to let them know we are here."

The West Detroit Chapter includes Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Canton townships, Dearborn and a portion of northwest Detroit.

Mrs. Lukacs adds that the west chapter has enjoyed wine tastings and dinners with several other chapters, including the Bloomfield Hills Chapter.

The Lukacs joined the AWS about two years ago, "primarily interested in learning how to make wine," Paul Lukacs says. Since then the Lukacs' wine cellar has been stocked with such homemade varieties as elderberry, oloroso, dandelion and several types of sherry.

Winemaking in the Lukacs home has definitely been a family affair. Mrs. Lukacs and daughter, Theresa, offered foot service to chief winemaker Paul, by stomping grapes last year.

One would normally use a wine press to crush the grapes," Lukacs says, "but I don't make large quantities of wine and a press is an expensive piece of equipment. Besides, the foot stomping was fun!"

Lukacs' other winemaking equipment includes a hydrometer, to measure the sugar content; an acid testing kit, and a vinometer to test the alcoholic content of the product.

Not only do the Lukacs make wine, but they have started their own mini-vineyard in the backyard. Five grape vines, a combination of Fredonia and Aurora varieties, are beginning to develop.

It'll take about two to three years before the vines produce a substantial crop," Lukacs says. "However, we do expect some grapes this year."

Winemaking takes a certain amount of time—preparation and fermentation—luck and expense.

"It's worth the price, however, if you enjoy wine," Mrs. Lukacs says.

Lukacs is the first to admit all his attempts have not been successful.

"It takes a certain amount of experimentation. You find a recipe you like and hope that conditions remain the same everytime you make wine."

One of the most consistent recipes is for dandelion wine.

The Lukacses are currently enjoying the last bottles of the dandelion wine made last year. Family and friends gathered early last spring to pick the otherwise pesty yellow blossoms from a golf course near the Lukacs home.

The prime time for picking the dandelions has already passed but Lukacs offers his wine recipe for future use:

- DANDELION WINE
4 quarts dandelion blossoms
4 quarts boiling water
Rind of 1 orange and 1 lemon and 3 pounds granulated sugar
1-inch piece of whole gingered candy

- ½ cake yeast moistened with ¼ table-spoon of water
1 piece of toast

In a six-quart bowl pour boiling water over dandelions and let soak for three days, after which time you strain all rinds of lemon and orange in fine strips. Boil concoction for ½ hour. Add sugar, gingered candy, then spread yeast on toast and add to liquid. Cover with cheesecloth. Keep in a dark place for four weeks.

Lukacs says the wine must ferment for at least six months.

Membership in the AWS also offers the opportunity to attend dinners and take vineyard tours through some six Michigan wineries. Also attend cooking demonstrations, films, lectures, tours; receive technical bulletins and quarterly magazines, and attend regional meetings.

An annual conference is held in the AWS president's home state. This year the convention is to be held in November in Cleveland.

Dues are $12.50 per person or per couple and, "You can meet as often or as little as you like," Mrs. Lukacs says.

Anyone interested in joining the West Detroit Chapter should call Mrs. Lukacs, 31429 Sheridan, Garden City 48135.

Persons who join before July 1 will be invited to a wine picnic to be held with the Bloomfield Hills Chapter.

Paul and Judy Lukacs of Garden City propose a toast with homemade dandelion wine. (Staff photos by Bob Woodring).

Home winemaker Lukacs labels his own products.

editorial opinion

It's a bargain you can't refuse

Here's a bargain that voters in the Plymouth School District can't afford to pass up.

On June 9, voters can renew an operating levy of 5.15 mills and add .46 mills for the same purpose without raising their tax bills.

In fact, with approval of the measures, a tax rate cut of .41 mills will be in store for property owners.

It's not often that a voter can increase the amount spent for education and still find taxes being lowered. And that's the good news.

INCREASED total property value in the district has brought a reduction of the amount needed to pay off bonded debt—that money which is used to build and equip new schools and make major repairs on older ones. The state has lowered the debt levy to 6.59 mills from this year's total of 7.06. That amounts to .47 mills that won't be levied.

Add to that a .40 mill safety millage that will not be levied for next year and you have a savings of .87 mills.

WHAT THE DISTRICT is asking for is to take .46 mills of the savings to residents and plug it into the operating funds for the district. Operating funds are kept separately from the money needed for bonded debt. Operating money is used for salaries, textbooks, supplies and other day-to-day expenses.

The 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 mills in additional operating funds will still leave a savings of .41 mills for residents. By voting yes on both measures, you can provide more than $2.5 million for day-to-day operations and still save money.

At the same time, however, the growth in the district's tax base, which has lowered the amount needed to pay off bonded debt, has reduced the amount the school district will receive in state aid. That growth in the tax base has also meant a growth in the student population, meaning that the new dollars will be spent without significant increases in program for students of the district.

According to the district's financial picture, costs this year will increase by $2.5 million, while anticipated revenues are expected to increase by only $2.3 million, including both millage proposals.

WHILE THE DIFFERENCE is only a matter of one per cent of the district's projected $17.8 million budget, school officials are quick to point out that both millage proposals are desperately needed to maintain current programs.

We heartily agree and urge a yes vote on both the 5.15 mill renewal and the .46 addition to the operating funds. It's really a bargain that voters can't afford to pass up.

The Stroller A business lesson

In the mail the other day came a very attractive looking brochure in full color from one of the leading correspondence schools in the East.

With it came an invitation to enlist in the business program as a means of keeping up with the many changes in the commercial world with the advent of computers and such things to make the way of doing business much simpler.

"There still is room for humans," it stated, "and our course will help keep you abreast of things."

If that innocent person who sent the brochure only knew. The Stroller got a real education in business — and he got it the hard way — for it wasn't learned in school.

Years ago, when The Stroller was a mere youth, his father, had opened what he called a lunch counter in our little town in foothills of the Blue Mountains in Pennsylvania. It was only a six stool lunch counter. But it sufficed to keep our little family together.

EACH DAY, before and after school, The Stroller did all the odd jobs like running errands, sweeping the place in the morning and then graduating into the back room to learn the trick of opening oysters and clams in their seasons. And if you think opening oysters is easy, just try it some time. There are many more vocations more pleasant to follow than being an oyster "shucker".

So, it wasn't long until The Stroller was moved "up front" to help serve the customers. And it was here that he received his first lessons in business — lessons that left an indelible impression that has lasted through the years.

It so happened that our home was only a city block away from the lunch counter and father liked to take a trip home in the late afternoon hours.

On this particular day he called the Stroller to one side and asked him if he knew the prices of the various brands of cigarettes and the food. When he nodded that he did, he was surprised to hear his father say, "I am going to go home for about an hour and you will be in charge!"

Father hadn't been gone very long when one of our regular customers came in and asked for a package of Piedmont cigarettes. They were popular at the time and came 10 in a package for a nickel.

AS THE CUSTOMER attempted to put the cigarettes in his pocket, he said, "Gad, I have a package of them. Will you take the package back and give me a piece of pie instead? The pie also was a nickel a slice."

It was a fair offer, so the pie was placed on the counter and the cigarettes put back on the shelf. In a few moments the customer arose from the counter and started for the door.

"You haven't paid me for the pie," the young Stroller said.

"I traded you the cigarettes for the pie," he answered.

"But you didn't pay for the cigarettes!"

"I gave them back to you, didn't I?"

Just at that moment The Stroller's father returned and both he and the customer burst into laughter. For they had conceived the idea to teach the young lad a lesson in business. They did. It never has been forgotten.

On another occasion when he was left alone to run the "shop" The Stroller served a customer a plate of oyster soup. This was only a dime in those days and the cost included the crackers.

The customer broke the crackers into the soup and started eating. Shortly he said, "I've got too many crackers, could you give me a little more broth."

ANYTHING TO please a customer. "Now I have too much broth," the customer stated, "Could I have a few more crackers?"

The young Stroller was about to serve the extra crackers a fourth time when his father walked in again and both he and the customer started laughing again.

It was another of their ideas to teach a young fellow the trickeries of the business world.

The Stroller has carried the memories of those two incidents with him all these years. They served as a real course in business.

The poor innocent fellow who sent the brochure had no way of knowing that. But the receipt of the multi-colored brochure brought back many memories — and he decided to keep it.

Thrift stores are gaining on shopping scene

BY SHERRY KAHAN

They used to call her Secondhand Rose.

But today she's more likely to be known as Saving Sally or Ecological Emily as she makes her way through the various thrift stores in the area.

For not only is she saving money, she is also recycling clothing, dishes and other household products. Thus a business that once was regarded as only for the poor and those fond of shifting the contents of one attic to another is now taken seriously.

It is a necessity to many and popular with all.

In this area there are two main types of stores that deal in used household articles. The Goodwill and Salvation Army shops are one kind. Clothing and a large variety of other items are donated to them free and are sold on behalf of a useful cause.

The other type involves businesses that accept used clothing, furniture and other articles on consignment. These articles are then sold for the mutual profit of the former owner and the store.

BILL EBERT, branch manager of the Goodwill Industries Retail Store, 27436 Michigan, Inkster, has noted an upsurge of business in the store.

"I think the increase is due to the times," he says. "People are looking for bargains. A lot of our customers—about 75 per cent—come in from the senior citizen twin towers here in Inkster. They are looking for clothing and furniture."

The proceeds from the sale of these objects plus jewelry, purses, electrical appliances, dishes, and pots and pans are used to pay the people who pick up the articles and prepare them for marketing.

"Most of these people are handicapped," says Russell Albrecht, president of League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries. "In our sheltered workshops the items are sorted, processed and then sent out to our stores."

"Today people want this kind of merchandise more than ever, so our sales are improving. However, things are dropping off at the other end.

PEOPLE AREN'T emptying their closets as much as they used to. As a result we've been forced to lay off handicapped people and put others on a 25-hour week. Before the recession we had about 1,000 people in our handicapped program. We had to lay off about 300 in December. However, a few have returned."

Sales since November have risen 22 per cent, he notes, but they are beginning to drop because supplies are dwindling. Goodwill had to close one store already in order to keep the others full.

"Anything made of cloth we can use," says Albrecht. "We sell shirts for from 25 to 50 cents, dresses from 79 cents to $1.79. You can get children's clothes from us for 25-50 cents, far less than they cost in stores."

"If the clothing is not in good shape we can sell it for recycling, although lately that market has gone somewhat to pot."

Albrecht explains that Goodwill employs refinish antiquities that have sold for $100-$200. "We are also one of the few places in the area where chair

caning is done. All the upholstery and mattresses we sell are sterilized before being sold."

THE SALVATION ARMY maintains three Red Shield stores in the western suburbs. One of the is at 28982 Ford, Garden City; another at 33800 Goddard, Romulus, and the third at 3518 S. Wayne, Wayne.

Like Albrecht, the business managers of these stores, report a big increase in customers recently.

"We're having a hard time keeping up with it," reports Donald McKee of Livonia, business manager for the Salvation Army Romulus division, which also maintains stores at Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

"Usually we receive most of our clothing in the spring and fall, and store it for our winter sales," he says. "But now our storage supplies have already gone. This is the first time in six years we haven't had any backlog. The clothing is really moving."

McKEE OBSERVES that the mainstays of the stores in the past were repeat customers who came in every week. "But within the past six months we've had a lot of new faces."

Forty-nine drop boxes in western Wayne County and eastern Washtenaw County receive much of the merchandise funneled into Red Shield stores.

"However, there has been a lot of pilferage of these boxes lately," notes McKee. "We would prefer to have people call our headquarters in Romulus and ask for a pickup."

Proceeds from these five enterprises are used to maintain the Salvation Army Men's Social Service Center, located next to the Romulus store.

The center can house, clothe and feed 160 homeless men, who have no other place to live.

DAISIES DON'T TELL and Hidden Treasures are the intriguing names of two thrift stores that accept clothing and other articles on consignment.

Selling women's and children's clothing and jewelry, Daisies Don't Tell, 8130 N. Canton Center Road, Canton Township, has been in the area for three years under the proprietorship of Vera Batt.

A relatively new arrival on the scene, Hidden Treasures has set up shop at 849 Penniman, Plymouth. Its boss is Gloria Reinhold who decided to make a profession of what she had been doing for eight years as volunteer manager of her church rummage sales.

"With the economy the way it is, I decided to take the plunge," says Mrs. Reinhold, who sells jewelry, clothes and such household articles as lamps, sewing machines, fireplace accessories and baskets.

"Most women have lovely things in their closets which no longer suit them," she adds. "They think they are too good to give away. Since they have invested a good deal of money in them, they bring them here to earn back some of the money."

"On the other side of the coin, every woman loves bargains. If she can find something attractive and stylish that looks new but costs a fraction of the original price, she'll buy it."

MRS. REINHOLD suggested that individuals wishing to sell clothes that are in good condition call her for an appointment. She will give the owner 60 per cent of the selling price.

She charges a $1 registration fee, which entitles a seller to bring in articles for a year on consignment.

"I drop in almost every day," says Mrs. Catherine Murphy of Plymouth. "I want to see if Mrs. Reinhold has anything I didn't see yesterday. I like the prices here. The clothes are nice and it's economical."

4-year scholarship

Livonians win big in teen sewing contest

By MARGARET MILLER

Bonnie Moore, senior at Livonia's Churchill High School, invested about $30 and more hours she can count in making a one-of-a-kind suit with patchwork shirt and matching clog shoes.

It was a worthwhile investment.

Bonnie's originality and impeccable stitching won her a four-year scholarship to Eastern Michigan University, the school she had already picked to attend for studies in home economics.

Her suit was judged best of the entries from 135 high schools in Michigan and northeast Ohio. Only one entry per school was permitted in the annual Teen Sew-in sponsored by the J.L. Hudson Co.

LIVONIANS WON both the senior and junior high divisions in the competition. Chris Boris, Riley Junior High student, stitched up a peach trenchcoat that took top honors among the younger seamstresses.

Chris' prize, an Elna sewing machine, and Bonnie's scholarship certificate were presented by television star, Marlo Thomas, who recently joined the McCall pattern Co., in a special program in the downtown Hudson's store.

Ellen Heikkinen of Redford Union High School placed fifth in the senior high division.

BONNIE'S WINNING SUIT was made by combining three patterns with a lot of ingenuity and even more meticulous work.

Asked by her teacher, Mrs. Darlene Marohnic, to be Churchill's representative in the competition, she started shortly after Christmas to look around for material and ideas.

"I saw material printed in patchwork squares and that gave me the idea to make the patchwork shirt," she said. She chose shades of red, gold, green and lavender to go with the navy skirt and lined jacket.

After the patches were sewn together, each was outlined with stitching in matching thread. Bonnie then cut the parts of the shirt from the patchwork material she had made. Her shirt isn't lined, but the inside is as beautiful as the outside—every patchwork square is outlined with a zig-zag stitch in matching thread.

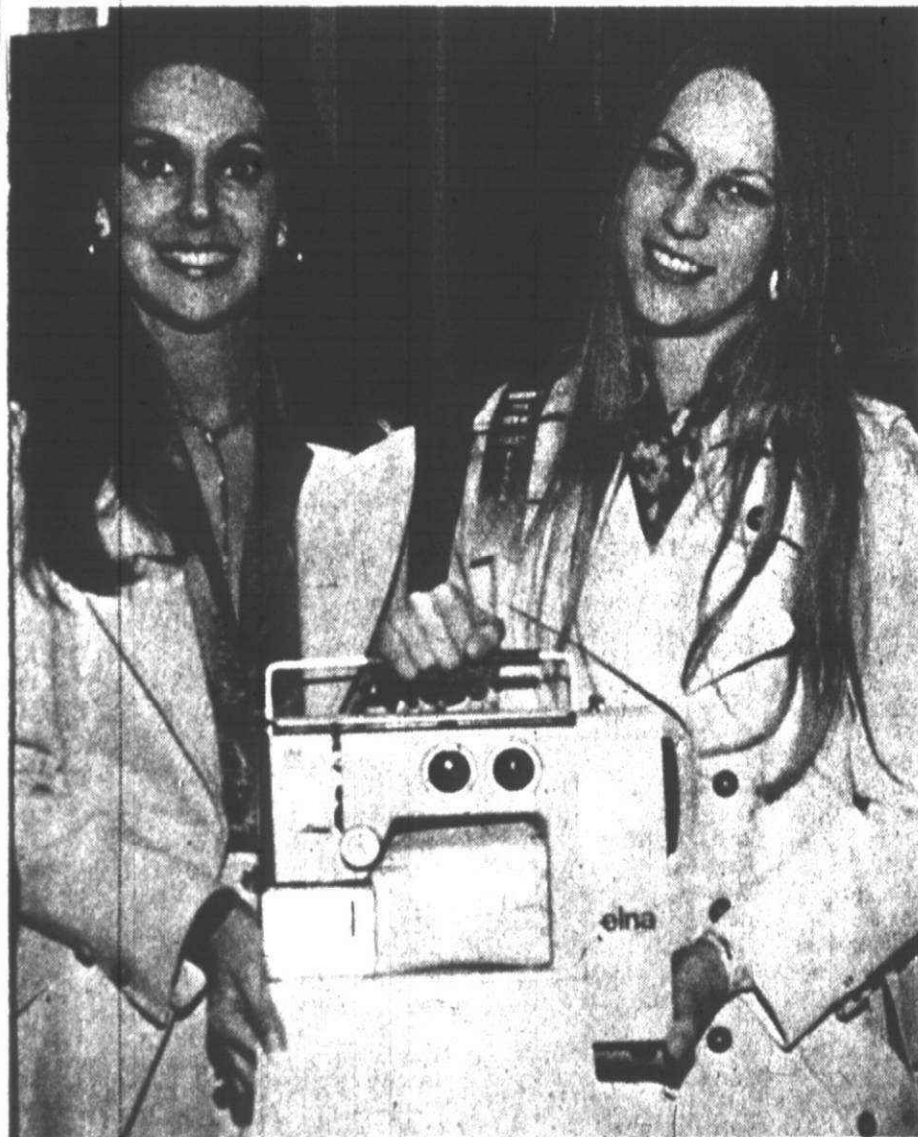

The shoes, made of patchwork strips attached to wooden soles stained blue, made a final touch to the outfit.

THIS YOUNG seamstress, who has taken every sewing course Churchill offers and now is learning about commercial sewing machines at Bentley High, hasn't decided on a career yet. "But I'm sure it will be something connected with sewing—probably not teaching," she said.

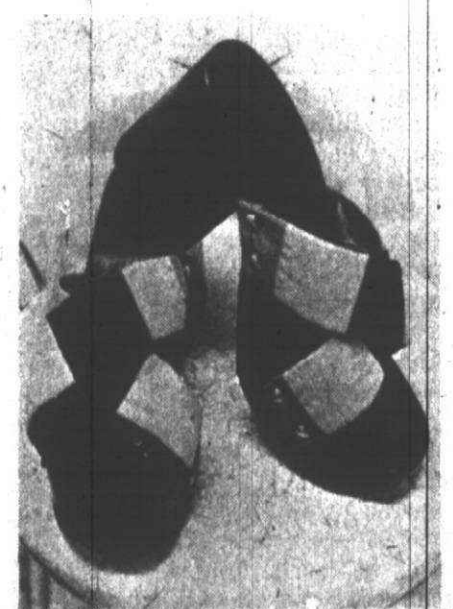

She makes all her own clothes, has turned out a few shirts and vests for her two brothers and last year was commissioned to make a wedding dress for a friend.

But she doesn't always put as many hours into a project as she did into her scholarship-winning suit.

Just a few days before the Churchill prom, she confessed she really had to get started on the dress she'd be wearing.

CHRIS BORIS (right) receives from TV star Marlo Thomas the sewing machine that was first prize in the junior high division. Chris is wearing the trenchcoat she made.

Salem 6th, Bentley 8th in Sub 8 meet

Redford Union's Jim Lalonde set a league record in the 440 yard run and the Panthers went on to capture third place in last Wednesday's Suburban Eight track and field meet. Dearborn won the meet with 84 points and Edsel Ford was second with 75.

Other team scores were: Redford Union (68), Trenton (43), Belleville (41), Plymouth Salem (37), Allen Park (26), and Livonia Bentley (15).

Lalonde ran his quarter mile in 49.4 seconds to take the record and edge Plymouth Salem's Mark DeMeritt. DeMeritt also took a second in the 220 dash.

Redford Union took a total of four firsts in the meet with the victorious relay teams and Brad Ross coming through in the shot put along with Lalonde's effort.

Ross, who has rounded into the area's top shot putter, had a mark of 55 feet, one-quarter inch. Ross had gone over 56 feet earlier this year. Salem's Ted Burton finished second in that event.

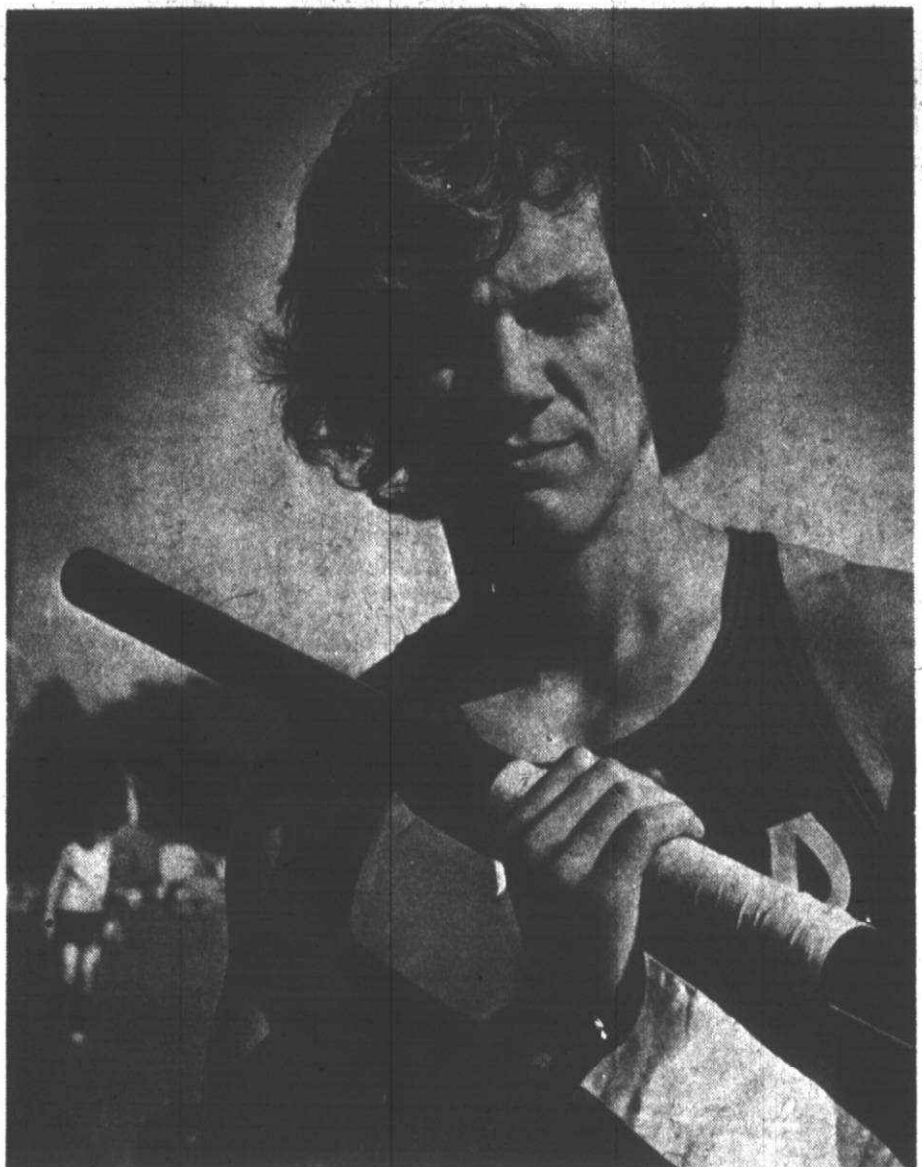

Salem's Kim Woody bypassed the early rounds of the pole vault and then went on to win the event with a vault of 12-6 to capture the Rocks' only first for the day.

Livonia Bentley speedster Rick Hammil highlighted action for the Bulldogs with thirds in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Pats lose to Thurston

Redford Thurston closed out its baseball season on an encouraging note Wednesday, nipping Livonia Franklin 2-1.

"This is a very young team. We have only five seniors on our 16 man roster," said Eagle coach Emil Majeski.

Thurston closed the season with a 15-8 record and placed second behind Garden City East in the Northwest Suburban race with an 11-4 record.

Thurston struck first in the game in the second inning when Mitch Drozdowski tripled and came home on Brian D'Ascenzo's base hit.

The Patriots tied things in the third when Joe Pollard's hard drive to center got by the Eagle centerfielder and Pollard raced all the way home.

Thurston scored the deciding run in the sixth. Jeff Trachsel singled, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on Dan Hunter's double to right-centerfield.

Randy Rodriguez wound up his prep career by going the distance for Thurston, allowing four hits, walking two and striking out five.

Mike Flood took the loss for Franklin.
