Canton landfill controls to save environment

CANTON- The township board is making sure future landfills do not permanently transform areas of Canton into garbage dumps and jeopardize the health, safety and welfare of township residents.

Board members last week unanimously approved a landfill ordinance, designed to control the operation and location of disposal areas. The ordinance, drafted by engineers from Wade, Trim and Associates, will go into effect 30 days after publication.

"This was desperately needed," said Supervisor Robert Greenstein. "This is probably the most all-encompassing landfill ordinance in existence today- at least in this area."

THE TOWNSHIP, Greenstein said, has had a moratorium on landfill application approvals pending the apfills are already located in the town-

The measure is designed to ensure a future alternative use of a landfill

Under the ordinance, the disposal of human wastes, hazardous materials and dead animals is prohibited at a landfill area. Other refuse must be spread in a compacted, two-foot layer

Within one week after the refuse is deposited, the owner of the landfill must cover the disposal site with an additional two feet of earth and seed the area. Within a year, the owner must add four inches of topsoil and seed the area with hardy, perennial grass. The final cover must be main-

The final elevation of the completed disposal area cannot exceed 10 feet of the original elevation. THE ORDINANCE outlines a detailed procedure for landfill site approval. All future disposal areas must be established on minimum 80-acre sites in areas zoned for general indus-

Owners of proposed landfills must submit a detailed preliminary application to the township board. If the application contains sufficient site plan information, the township board will submit the application to the planning commission, township engineer and township planner for their recommendations on approval.

Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum $500 fine, 30 days in jail or both.

Thousands will gather for July Fourth Parade

PLYMOUTH-More than 15,000 area residents are expected to line the streets of downtown Plymouth Friday to watch the Fourth of July Parade and a brief ceremony in front of city hall for the city's sister city. Plymouth, England.

Robert Jarmol and Paul Campbell are co-chairmen for the parade sponsored annually by the Plymouth Jaycees.

MORE THAN 40 units have been lined up thus far for the parade which will begin at 12:30 p.m. at Union and Main Streets and proceed down Main to Middle School East

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will enter a float featuring a replica of the 1776 flag to commemorate the nation's upcoming bicenntennial.

A group from Redford Township, tagged "The New Majority," will enter a float with a 14-foot statue of Uncle Sam seated behind a birthday cake. Its theme will be "America, you are getting older but you are getting

Musical groups in the parade will include the Centennial Educational Park Marching Band, a band from Windsor the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps. Milford High School Band, Taylor High Band, and the Clan MacRae

Grand marshall for this year's parade will be W.W. "Eddie" Edgar of the Observer & Eccentric. Edgar, author of The Stroller and the In the Pocket bowling column, has served as editor of the Plymouth Observer, is a long-time member of the Rotary Club of Plymouth, and has been inducted into the Michigan Amateur Sports Hall of Fame, Detroit Bowling Congress Hall of Fame, and University of Michigan Media Hall of Fame.

THE PARADE will be interrupted for a short period of time for a special service at the stone in front of Plymouth City Hall.

Back in Plymouth, England, city officials on July 4 will hoist the American flag in recognition of America's anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. As a reciprocal gesture, a Union Jack flag will be raised along with Old Glory during the services

Edgar will present a talk on the tradition of Plymouth's sister city, British Consulate J.J. Hyslop will talk, and Plymouth Mayor Beverly McAninch will make a few remarks.

When the short ceremony ends, the parade will begin its procession down Main Street.

THE SISTER CITY tradition began in 1967—the year the City of Plymouth observed its 100th anniversary.

As part of that anniversary, the city sent invitations to some 17 cities in the U.S. which had the name Plymouth and to Plymouth, England, to join in the observance.

None of the 17 Plymouths in Amertea showed up but a representative from Plymouth, England, did and brought with him a stone taken from the dock from which the Mayflower ship sailed from when the Pilgrims left for America.

Plymouth officials got word that the British city was interested in obtaining some Moraine locust trees and obtained some as a gift. The trees went back to England and were planted on the municipal lawn.

Another important event in the sister city tradition was when Plymouth, England, was observing the 350th anniversary of the sailing of the Mayflower. A number of local delegates traveled to England to join the observance and present another tree.

The tradition will continue Friday and is certain to take on added significance when Plymouth and America celebrate its bicentennial next year. It is predictable both Plymouths will also be represented in the parade on July 4, 1976.

RESPECT TO THE American flag is an important part of the patriotism which is exhibited in ceremonies and during the Plymouth Fourth of July Parade.

Miller staff prepped for year-round school

CANTON-While most principals in the Plymouth Community School District last week scurried pens over end-of-the-year paperwork, Shirley Spaniel busily combined two major administrattive tasks-those needed to open and close Miller Elementary

A group of 230 students will return to Miller on July 14 to begin the pilot 45-15 program, while other schools in the district echo with the sounds of summer cleanup work. The remaining 570 children enrolled in the yearround program will return to school on Aug. 4, Aug. 25 or Sept. 15.

"I'M CLOSING" and opening school simultaneously," said Mrs. Spaniel, principal of Miller School, as she gazed at the reams of paperwork surrounding her desk. "We've had to close and get everything ready for the start of school at the same time."

For Mrs. Spaniel and other Miller office workers, the opening of school on July 14 will only mark the beginning of a continuous deluge of paperwork. Starting Sept. 15 when students enrolled on Track A take their first three-week vacation, three tracks of students will continually pack the school. The 45-15 program, under which four tracks or groups of students will attend school for nine weeks and remain home for three, will allow Miller to house 25 per cent more children than under the traditional school calendar year.

FOR MILLER'S administration, that means more work.

"From a management point of view, it's going to be a tremendous task," said Mrs. Spaniel. "There's going to be so many teachers and children coming and going. It's going to be like running four schools at once.

"A lot of the research on 45-15 says the biggest headache is for the princi-

To keep tabs of students, the administration must replace its one record attendance book with four. Testing of students, which traditionally takes place during the first week of classes each fall, must now take place four

Student evaluations must take place 16 times a year, and the school must sponsor eight teacher inservice days instead of two. Four open houses, sponsored by the school's PTO, must be held to accommodate students on all four tracks. A new group of teachers and students will enter the school every three weeks. That means an almost continual influx of kindergarten students during the first portion of the year, and an exodus of fifth graders during the latter. Because of the tight schedule, teachers must use weekend days to pack their belongings at the beginning and end of each nine-week ses-

"DESPITE ALL THIS, the staff is very enthusiastic," Mrs. Spaniel said. "They're excited to try it.

"The teachers feel they'll have a chance to review kids every nine weeks. A three-week period will give them a chance to catch their breaths.'

Numerous parents in the Miller School attendance area have voiced loud criticisms of the 45-15 plan. But, according to Mrs. Spaniel, fewer parents are now objecting than a few months ago.

More than 60 parents had originally decided to pull their children from the 45-15 program and bus them to Allen, East or Fiegel elementary schools. That number has dwindled to about 50.

"I think the administration has tried very hard to accommodate the needs of people.'

Under the terms of the lease, Schoolcraft has the right to sublet for educational purposes and can make any necessary structural alterations with the approval of the Garden City School Board. The board accepted the lease at its June 23 regular meeting.

Trustees also approved the parking lot, contingent on a letter from the engineering firm (Hoyem & Associates) stating there wouldn't be any problems with surface drainage on the lot.

The project was initially estimated at $60,000, but additional asphalt, striping and improved drainage materials increased the price tag by $13,000.

Plans are to replace the concrete portion of the college's central mall, between the administration building, library and Waterman campus center with sidewalks and a grassy area.  Voted to approve a concurring resolution with Wayne State University, in which the two schools will cooperate in providing postsecondary education to persons in the Schoolcraft district. The one-year agreement may be renewed every year for five years.

Under the grant, Schoolcraft will provide $3,000 for equipment the second year of the program.

School-within-school concept is expanded

PLYMOUTH-The name "West Middle Schools" may aptly describe the building at Ann Arbor Trail and Sheldon come next fall.

While the majority of West students sit in more traditional classrooms, a group of 150 sixth, seventh and eighth graders will study in their own wing of the school, under the instruction of a five-teacher team.

WEST'S SCHOOL within-a-school concept, used to some degree at other elementary schools throughout the Plymouth Community School District, is a first for middle schools in the district, according to Jim Leary, assistant superintendent for instruction. According to the teachers who will teach West's "second school," the program stresses individuality, creative thinking, self-direction and the needs of each student. "I'd want my child to be in this program, where he has more room to grow and be creative," said teacher Linda Gratsch. "He has five adult models to emulate and different aged kids to relate to." The program, taught by Mrs. Gratsch, Dolly McMaster, Jim Szczechowski and Tom Williams, is open to 60 sixth graders, 60 seventh graders and 30 eighth graders. In each learning unit, students will be assigned work that teachers think is essential. Students will work at their own individual pace and attend "interest seminars," taught by any of the five teachers, to complete the learning unit.

"In this program, the child has a chance to say, 'I already know this. Can't I do something else?" explained Mrs. McMaster. "We want kids to develop their own interests, but many times they don't know what they want, so we have to push them a

THE STRUCTURE of the program will become looser as time goes on and students become more accustomed to the individual pace, explain the teachers. More seminars and options will be offered toward the end of the year.

The students and their five teachers will occupy a five-classroom wing of West to separate them from the rest of the school. Each teacher will keep records of the educational needs and achievements of 30 students.

The students will mingle among pupils from other grades. An eighth grader may tutor a younger student in a specific subject.

"The tutoring would reinforce a skill that an eighth grader has," said Mrs. McMaster. "A teacher who prepares something to teach really becomes a master of that subject. Tutoring would make a student feel real worth. By being tutored, a sixth grader would have a good model to emulate.' Mrs. McMaster and the other teachers hope to continue the program for at least three years. Next year's sixth graders could remain with the same teachers through ninth grade.

lowed to select the tracks they wanted to teach, and all requests were granted. Students were placed on tracks according to the neighborhoods in which they live, but parental requests for different tracks than those assigned were granted.

A recreational program specifically designed for Miller's 45-15 program will help keep children occupied while taking three-week vacations.

The Plymouth Fine Arts Council will provide arts and crafts classes, and the YMCA is planning a gymnastics program. Field trips will take place this week.

Parents must provide transportation for children enrolled in the recreational program, Mrs. Spaniel said. The cost of the program will be "minimal.

"I'M SURE there are a number of people who are still very skeptical," said Miller's principal. "But once they see the nice recreational schedule-which isn't provided to children in other schools-maybe they'll be more accepting.

"I honestly believe the program will be very successful. It probably will be an inconvenience for some families, and I honestly feel for parents who have children on different schedules. But then I've heard some moms say it would be nice not to have the all the kids home at the same time."

W-W trustee blasts away for farewell

By STEVE BARNABY

WESTLAND-Anne Harbison, defeated Wayne-Westland School Board trustee, has lashed out at colleague Robert Reichard for taking a woman companion along with him to school board conferences.

Mrs. Harbison, who was defeated in the June 9 election, made her statement at last week's school board meeting which was her last. Agnes Greene, Reichard's running mate, will become a board member in July.

Reichard, who is separated from his wife, admitted to taking a woman along with him to four conferences, but protested Mrs. Harbison's statement, saying his personal life wasn't anybody's business.

"When the school district starts paying my companion's way to conferences, then you can tell me who to take. Until that time it is my business," said Reichard.

PRESENTLY, only board members' expenses are paid by the school district when they attend conferences. Persons acompanying trustees must pay their own way, according to district administrators.

tion of being accompanied by a woman to which he is unmarried was inappropriate for a board member. "Integrity is still a word in the dictionary," she said. Reichard said he was proud to accept the blame for Mrs. Harbison's defeat, saying a new board trustee was needed. He also defended his relationship with his lady friend. "When I left my wife, I made no bones about it. As far as making an account for the trips, why didn't you bring that out when you were a board member?" Reichard queried Mrs.

Harbison. He accused Mrs. Harbison of contacting his wife and attempting to get her involved in the campaing against him. His wife refused to become involved, he said. He also accused Mrs. Harbison of trying to get school administrators involved in this issue. They, too, refused, he said.

"I cannot sit back and be made to look like a bad guy," he said. Mrs. Harbison vowed that she would make a comeback. She has served one term as a trustee. "I'm not going to fade away. I still care for kids. I thank the community nity Mrs. Harbison said Reichard's ac- for allowing me to serve," she said.

She defended her action in walking out of negotiations during the teachers' strike last year, an action for which she was criticized during the recent campaign.

"I left the negotiations because there was only one issue left: Would, we pay the teachers to strike? I left after I registered a negative vote!"

REICHARD blasted Mrs. Harbison on that count also, saying her action could have caused an incident which; "made Crestwood look like a a sandbox.'

Concerning school board conferences, Mrs. Harbison recommended: that a policy be adopted limiting. board members' attendance to two conferences a year. She also recommended that board members file a report on what was learned at conferences. These reports, she said, should be read in public.

She defended the accountability survey of her performance sent out before the election, saying she was attempting to set precedent for board members to be rated by the commu-

"People of the Valley" is not just a record of a unique, primitive people, nor of a remarkable adventure, but also, an account of a humanitarian effort which revealed the kinship of people everywhere, no matter how different their way of life.

Jessamyn West. "The Massacre at Fall Creek." In 1824 an explosive event on the American frontier threatened massive and bloody Indian reprisals. The little-known and long-forgotten record tells of the brutal murder of innocent, peaceful Indians, including women and children, by five white men. Hilton requests more parking

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP-Patrons of the Plymouth Hilton Inn, tentatively scheduled for an early fall opening, may have plenty of spaces in which to park come grand opening

The township planning commission last week agreed to recommend the rezoning of a parcel across from the hotel from residential to vehicular parking. The rezoning depends on whether Deane Baker, owner of the hotel and parcel, reaches a satisfactory agreement with adjacent homeowners on Hamill.

The proposed parking lot, across from the hotel on the east side of Northville Road, would give the hotel 50 more parking spaces.

Planning commission members directed Baker to work with the township's planning firm, Norman Dietrich & Associates, and with residents of Hamill, whose properties abut the proposed parking area.

A six-foot masonry wall or six feet of landscaping and screening could be used to buffer the proposed parking area from residential property, the planning commission said.

Doris Ritchie, planning commission secretary, said residents at last week's public hearing did not object to the proposed rezoning but asked that a wall be built to screen their property from the parking lot.

Summer stays at home

By ETHEL SIMMONS

The best part of summer is spent doutdoors, even around home.

You don't have to go far to enjoy all the things that spell warm-weather fun:

•Clothes that are comfortable and relaxing for leisure wear. •Outdoor games for everybody to get together

These were some of the pleasures shown at a Summer Living Open House recently at Jacobson's Store for the Home in Birmingham. At a two-hour session, shoppers browsed among free demonstrations, displays and modeling.

Photographer's model Jutta Schreddy, who has gotten into gourmet cooking taking classes by Charity a hot oil dressing that blended bits of bacon and hard-boiled egg. A marinade salad combined vegetables marinated in vinegar dressing: Tiny Belgian carrots, cold white asparagus. French cut green beans and cauliflour. A conventional summer tossed salad also was demonstrated.

PAMELA SCHAEFFER whipped up the fresh fruit drinks with crushed ice. Fresh pineapple, berries, lemon, lime and orange were combined with white wine and-or soda, like a spritzer.

Homemade ice cream, turned out nice and creamy in an ice-cream machine, was sampled in flavors of chocolate mint, lemon sherbert and fresh fruit.

For summer menus of hot foods, there was cookwear steaming corn on the cob, a crockpot slow-cooking baked beans and a broiler-oven heating hot dogs served with barbecue

Models showed patio and at-home clothes including Ann Fogarty's ging-ham-wrapped apron dress and Bonnie Cashin's caftanin light matte jersey. Lingerie, sportswear and designers fashions offered cool things for summer-lots of cottons and floral prints.

editorial opinion

There's no excuse for board rudeness

The Plymouth Board of Education is generally buite open, as school boards go, in its deliberations and dissemination to the public. But the board fell flat on its face at its last meeting.

The meeting was delayed a few minutes while trustees met in a secret meeting from which the public was barred to discuss "personnel matters." But the delay wasn't too long, and the meeting began, and continued, and continued, and continued - and was continuing until 11:50 p.m. when the board president called for an "executive" session.

Those in attendance for 31/2 hours had to wait 10 minutes for the board while it interrupted its "public" meeting to conduct a second secret session in one night - this time to discuss "proredural questions related to personnel matters."

THERE IS honest disagreement about what items legislators have a right to discuss in sécret and what business must or should be conducted in

School board members, city commissioners and township trustees will usually list a half-dozen items rightfully discussed in secret meetings -'personnel' matters, site acquisition, labor negotiations. The last week in June, a bill was introduced in the Michigan Legislature which would prohibit all state or local government units from holding any meetings in secret.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), is co-sponsored by more than 40 other state representatives from both parties, an indication that there are at least 41 non-journalists who feel public business is best conducted before the public.

Bullard's bill is based on Florida's "Sunshine Act" which requires open meetings without exception. New Mexico has also passed similar legislation during its last session. The subject has been kicked around in Lansing for the past few years and someday a bill will pass.

UNTIL THEN, the Plymouth Board of Education has some legal latitude to conduct public business in secret meetings.

But members should not grant themselves the latitude of interrupting a public meeting to hold a secret session. To stop a meeting, and reassemble behind closed doors, is just plain rude. Good manners dictate that this not be done.

Because it was done, members of the audience not only had to wait until midnight for the meeting to reconvene again but never knew the prob-

Was the secret meeting called because the board was concerned about one or more of the teachers on the list to be approved for hiring? Was the board unhappy because of nepotism, administrative politics, or sloppy screening of applicants? Or was the board meddling in administrative business?

Maybe none of these questions has relevance, but we will never know because the only reason given for recessing the meeting was "to discuss personnel matters.'

Whatever the reason, it is hoped the school board in the future will exhibit enough emphathy towards the audience - and concern for residents - that it will refrain from recessing a public meeting for secret talks.

Harbison's last hurrah attack was disaster for W-W board

Most folks interested in the Wayne-Westland political scene still are picking up themselves from the floor after Anne Harbison's disastrous last hurrah attack on Trustee Bob Reichard.

Mrs. Harbison was defeated in the recent school board election in her bid for a second four year term. Reichard was instrumental in her defeat.

COME ON ANNIE, Wayne-Westland is hardly a Peyton Place. Who cares if Reichard has a girlfriend? As Reichard says, his personal life isn't anyone's business. He forks out the dough from his own pocket to take along his lady friend on the school junkets.

But as Mrs. Harbison discovered, casting stones is dangerous business. You don't mess with Bob Reichard. In a matter of seconds, he adequately bounced a few political stones back her way. His capsule review of Mrs. Harbison's political past must have

Festive Ukranian bread star of party

A huge loaf of sweet bread, the traditional fair of wedding feasts in the Ukraine, surprised Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubchik when they celebrated their 23rd anniversary recently.

The bread, called Korovay, was baked by a friend of Olga Hubchik's mother especially for the party given by Mrs. Jean Fitzsimmons of Livonia, Mrs. Hubchik's sister.

It was covered with roses, all fashioned of dough, and intertwined with myrtle. That's the traditional way to serve the bread, explained Oreste Karalash, Mrs. Fitzsimmons' neighbor who is in charge of a Ukrainian program on FM radio.

The roses, she said, are symbols of love and the myrtle is the vine traditionally used in the wreath held over the heads of the bridal couple.

Candles usually are placed on either side of the wedding bread, Mrs. Kara-

Youth marks All-Area girl's track team

"Youth now flees on feathered tremendous potential, took first-team

Robert Louis Stevenson wasn't really describing the 1975 Observer & Eccentric All-Area girls track team when he said that, but the theme is applicable to this year's squad.

Two freshmen, two sophomores, four juniors and only one senior make up the individual event team, which is as young, and as fleet, as any in memory

The team includes such speedsters as Karen McDougall of Westland John Glenn and Lisa Bowman of Livonia Bentley. Middle distance runners are Salem all-around standout Jackie Croci in the 440 and Pam Beernink of Livonia Bentley in the 880.

First-team distance runners are freshman Sue Jarvis of Livonia Ladywood in the mile and Diane Lozon of Redford Union in the two mile.

Ann Cwik, another freshman with a tremendous potential, took first-team berths in both the hurdles and the long jump, while Carolyn Booth of Stevenson and Kyle Gray of Livonia Churchill round out the field events with first-team postings in the high jump and shot put, respectively.

First-team relay teams were Bishop Borgess (mile), Livonia Stevenson (440) and Plymouth Salem (880).

McDougall took four firsts in every dual meet but one for the Rockets and had an area best time of 11.5 seconds in the 100 yard dash. Only a junior, she probably will specialize in the 440 yard event next season.

BENTLEY'S BOWMAN, one of two Bulldogs on the squad, ran in relay events as well as her specialty, the 220 yard dash for Bentley. Her top area time in the event was 26.1.

Salem's Jackie Croci, the only senior on this year's team, took third place in the 440 yard dash in this year's Class A final meet after placing second in the meet last year. With a 57.9 top clocking, she was undefeated at that distance in dual meet competition. She holds the school record for 440 yards.

All star games slated this week in Livonia

By TOM SCHRAM Sports Editor

The best and brightest of area baseball stars will shine this week as Livonia's Ford Field will be the site of two all-star games involving some of the top high school and college-aged players in the state.

While plans and details of the July 3 Livonia Berry League All-Star game versus the downriver American Legion all stars were still in formulation last weekend, the Livonia Adray League July 4 contest was set.

That Adray team will play Adray all-stars from Detroit in an annual game that will have professional and college scouts out in force.

Both games will be nine-inning affairs and will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the field located just west of Farmington Rd. and just north of Schoolcraft in Livonia.

BOB ATKINS, who coaches the perrenial league champion Redford Adray team, will pilot the 28-man Livonia League team which has split four previous contests with the Detroit team.

"I think this is the hotbed of amateur baseball in the state, and we have comparable talent for a game like this," said Atkins.

Atkins indicated that he will play everyone from the team with each starter going a minimum of three innings and each pitcher throwing a maximum of two innings.

"My philosophy in an all-star game is that if you are picked to the team you are picked to play, not to watch. I would like to win the game and we're going to play the win the game, but not at the cost of my philosophy," said Atkins.

The Livonia League team lost to Detroit last year in a game played at Tiger Stadium and will be looking to break ahead in a series deadlocked 2-

Here's a roster of the Livonia Adray League all-stars. Further game details and rundowns on individual players will appear in this Thursday's Observer & Eccentric sports section. PITCHERS: Kevin Bara, Redford; Bill Stennett, Royal Oak; Kevin Smith, Royal Oak; Jamie Knapp, Livonia Griffin; Mark Falvo, Plymouth Bidwell; Tom Willette, Plymouth Bidwell; Warren Wallis, Livonia Griffin.

CATCHERS: John Broder, Redford Adray; Venius Jordan, Livonia Griffin.

FIRST BASE: Ron Paulos, Garden City Sporting Goods; Mark Yourchock, Redford Adray. SECOND BASE: Kieth Randazzo,

Plymouth Bidwell; Bob Hamilton, Royal Oak. THIRD BASE: Pat Simpson, Royal Oak; Bob Ganzak, Westland Burger

SHORTSTOP: Gary D'Ascenzo, Redford Adray; B.J. LaJoie, Livonia Grif-

OUTFIELD: Ken Robinson, West-

contribution to the team. The fleet junior ran at several distances this year but was at home at 880 yards. She was the area best at that distance by nearly five seconds, with a top time of 2:21.2.

Sue Jarvis was a super runner for Ladywood this year who will keep getting better as her high school career blooms. Only a freshman, she was nearly unbeatable in the mile run this year, where she posted an area best of 5:27.7.

Redford Union's Diane Lozon was unbeaten in 10 meets at two miles. She finished 13th in the state and led the Panthers to a perfect dual meet record. She ran her best time at the distance in RU's final dual meet against Southfield-Lathrup, with a 12:52.4 clocking.

Cwik has all the credentials to be a state champion as early as next year. In the course of the next three years, it is virtually assured that she can be among the states best in several events. Although the freshman had never run competitively before this year, she took sixth in the state in the long jump, fifth in the hurdles and anchored the Spartan mile relay team to a fifth-place finish.

Her area's best were 17-3 in the long jump and 15.3 in the hurdles.

Carolyn Booth took area honors in the high jump with a top jump of 5-1. Her teammate at Livonia Stevenson had a dual meet area high of 5-2, but Booth's superior performance in the state meet gives her the edge.

Sophomore Kyle Gray of Livonia Churchill will be shooting at the 40-foot mark next year in the shot put. She posted an 8-1 dual meet record this season and set league and regional marks. Her best put this year was 37-11.

In The Pocket

The Women's State tournament that closed its long run in Lansing Sunday night has added some more fuel to the fire of resentment for the present handicap system used in many of the major competitions.

The latest complaint came with the showing of the Gene and Joe team that took over first place in the team event with a count of 3212.

The size of the score was enough to cause some eye lifting, but this turned to real criticism when it was learned the team was given a 'spot' of 846. pins. That's more than the team could bowl in a single game by actual

What chance does a regular classic team, or the leaders in many of our regular leagues have against this kind of a system? Not much.

There was a time when the women were given 80 per cent of the difference between their average and 200. Now the limit is being boosted.

INCREASING THEe handicaps several years ago was done to entice more teams into the tournaments. It was said then that the "little" teams had no chance against the more expe-

Now the tide is turning. The higher average bowlers are threatening to stay away because of the large 'spots' given under the system.

The Gene and Joe team was not the only beneficiary of the generous handicaps in the state tournament. A Lansing team, Lee's Quick Shop, was given 816 pins and wound up in fifth place with 3150.

It also has been reported that one of the teams in the city wide handicap tournament being held at Town and Country Lanes refused to take to the lanes when informed that the team with than 1100 pins.

to now the generous handicaps may have served a good purpose. But it is about time that a change was made or it will be a case of killing the goose that laid the golden egg.

NOT MUCH WAS SAID at the time, but when Geraldine Beattie won the singles championship in the recent women's city tournament she became part of what could be one of the strongest doubles teams in the area.

She is the wife of Dick Beattie, one of the area's leading left handers, and she too, is a southpaw. So, this combination should bear watching in the future.

MIKE CHAPMAN didn't do any fooling around in his appearance last week in the Trio Classic at Westland

He put together games of 242, 166, and high marks for the league. His 242 single and the 685 are both the best of the summer season.

Incidently, young David Poshka, son of Midge Poshka, the day manager at Westland Bowl, is doing quite well this summer. In his last outing he had a 232 in a 644 series.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED in such things a fellow named Dick Dewey, has just set a new marathon bowling record in Omaha, Neb. He recently bowled 1,472 games over a period of 1141/2 hours- and he did it all for charity. The proceeds of the exhibition went to the Omaha zoo.

Snyder holds Major Metro lead

Behind a balanced hitting attack, Snyder's Softball Club of Redford swept a doubleheader from PUSH of Detroit last week to retain its onegame lead in the West Division of the Major Metro Travel League.

Snyder's won the opener in convincing fashion, 21-2, then took the second game, 14-8

Dave Rhodes and John Hinds paced the first-game romp. Rhodes hit two homers and batted home six runs while Hinds went 4-for-4, including a home run, and accounted for four

In the nightcap, Doug Gerdes and Larry Elkins each blasted home runs and batted in four runs. Gerdes went 5-for-5 and Elkins 4-for-4. Tom Louria also was 4-for-4 for Snyder's with three RBI The twin victories boosted Snyder's league mark to 21-3, one game ahead of Little Caesar's of Southgate which also won twice last week. The two teams will be matched in a showdown doubleheader Tuesday night at Kennedy Field, Little Caesar's home park in Southgate. Starting time for the first game is 7:45 p.m.

Golf benefit termed success

The third annual Celebrity Golf Classic at Great Oaks Country Club in Rochester was again a success. The outing was to benefit American Leukemia Stricken American Children's (ALSAC) St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis Tennessee; and it did, in fine fashion.

The celebrity tournament brought in more than $20,000.

Tee times started at 7:30 a.m., with Dan Henderson of WXYZ-TV leading his foursome through the 6,900 yard, par 71 course.

The two foursomes finishing play Tuesday were led by Bud Lezell, better known as Mr. Belvedere, and Larry Thompson also known as "Mr. Whoodini.

"The whole day was perfect. We exceeded our goal of $20,000; we saw fine golf- and we even finished before the rains came down," said course pro and Managing Director James R. Dewling.

"Smooth," was the way Mike Bergsma, assistant pro at Great Oaks, summed up the day's activies.

Some of the celebrities involved in the tournament were Channel 2 sports director Ray Lane, ABC's Dave Diles and Bill Bonds, former Tigers Earl Wilson and "Prince Hal" Newhouser. Numerous other radio, television and sports celebrities populated the course during the day's events. Trophies were given to the top 10 teams finishing with the lowest scores while participating in the Texas Scramble, a format that allows all members of a foursome to hit each shot from the best possible lie achieved by any player in the group. Honorary chairman WJR radio personality Marc Avery helped his foursome to 10-under-par 61.

Eight new records set in Metro West meet

Eight meet records were set in the Metro-West Track Club's meet held at Garden City East High School last Wednesday.

Dave Lipinski, of the Warren Track Club, pole-vaulted 15' 8" in the meet's only field event. Brian Murphy of the Metro-West took third, vaulting 12' 6". John Dawe, from Ferris State College, won the 880 in a record 1:55.5.

Doug Sweazy, of the Metro-West was third in 4:35.4. Sue Jarvis, from Livonia, won the women's mile in a strong 5:32.7.

Inkster's Russell Bailey nipped

Oscar Suddarth by a tenth of a second in the 220 yard dash. Bailey ran 22 seconds flat. Cathy Anderson won the women's division of the 220 in 28.5 seconds. Cindy Mellas of Garden City East took second with 29.3.

The Motor City Track Club's foursome of Kim Watts, Robin Collins, Ina Cooper, and Cheryl Gilliam won the women's 880 yard relay with the meet record time of 1:46.7. Motor City also won the men's 880 yard relay with 1:32.5. The members of the winning team were Charles Miles, Lenward Terry, Jose Sadler and Oscar Michigan State graduates took the first two places in the 120 yard high hurdles. John Morrison won with a time of 14.1 seconds, and Dave Martin was second in 14.5.

Open gym program set in Livonia

Price said.

The Livonia Parks and Recreation If it goes well, we'll keep it up," Department and Livonia School District have initiated an open-gym program to provide a recreational outlet for youths and adults.

Gyms at Churchill and Stevenson High School are open two nights each during the week providing such supervised recreation as basketball, volleyball, paddleball and trampoline

"The idea of the program is to make those facilities open during the summer months to kids and adults who might not have them otherwise available," said Fred Price who supervises both gymnasiums for Livonia

In addition to Price, four collegeaged supervisors are on hand to assist the programs.

"We're going to try this out and see what the response is. We have a wait and see attitude and right now it looks as if interest is picking up although we haven't done anything to publicize Addmission to the gymnasiums is $.50. Stevenson, which is located on Six Mile, just west of Farmington, is pen on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 p.m.

Churchill, located on Newburgh Road at Joy is open during the same hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"They've had this kind of a program before during the school year but this is a first during the summer.

Mileage means money

By PATRICK KELLY

Are you in the market for a 1975 automobile? Before you buy, the Federal Energy Administration suggests you compare the various models you are considering in terms of the gas mileage you can expect to receive.

With the increasing price of gasoline, a car with good fuel economy can save its owner several thousand dollars over its useful life period.

To help prospective buyers choose a new car, the Federal Energy Administration, in cooperation with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, has published results of fuel economy tests in a booklet entitled, "1975 Gas Mileage Guide for New Car Buyers."

THE GUIDE lists estimated city and highway miles per gallon ratings for all new cars and light-duty trucks that meet 1975 emission standards and are certified for sale in the United States as of Sept. 15, 1974.

Each vehicle's engine size, number of cylinders and type of fuel system are described. In addition, particular models equipped with catalytic converters are identified

Steering wheels may get big pad

Before the end of this year, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration is likely to move to rewrite the standard automakers use to design car steering assemblies.

A "larger padded hub to spread the impact load over a larger area of the chest" may be required, says agency head James Gregory.

The arm of the Department of Transportation first set safety standards for steering wheels and the columns to which they are attached for cars sold in the U.S. after Jan. 1, 1968.

Those standards require that the steering assembly be able to absorb the impact of a driver being thrown into them in the instants after an accident; earlier, rigid, columns often pierced a driver's chest But recent research indicates that the laboratory conditions under which testing is now done do not really reflect what happens in an actual highway accident.

The coming move to enlarge the contact area in the middle of the steering wheel is one Washington reaction to those results. Another likely change in the standard would make it more clear that the steering mechanism has to be aligned with the way a driver would actually hit it in case of a crash.

While these ratings can help a buyer select a car with good fuel economy, FEA noted that an individual driver will not necessarily attain the identical gas mileage as the test results. Many factors affect the fuel economy of each car, in-

· Individual driving habits. Frequent starts and stops, long periods of idling, and uneven speeds decrease the number of miles per gallon. · Accessories such as air conditioning and automatic transmission. These use more gasoline and increase the car's weight. • The condition of the engine. Keeping the engine tuned will help get the best fuel economy and performance for one's type of driving. If you desire to obtain a copy of the "1975 Mileage Guide" write to: Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

NOTE: Cars intended for sale in California are listed in a separate edition. Buyers should specify the California edition if they are buying a car in that state:

If you want to get multiple copies of the guide, write to: Federal Energy Administration, Room 222B, Communications and Public Affairs, Old Post Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20461, Attention: George Young.

For motorists who want to compare performance levels on brakes, tire reserve load, and acceleration and passing ability for 1975 model passenger cars and motorcycles, the U.S. Department of Transportation has published three consumer booklets that contain this information.

Compiled by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), the booklets are designed to help prospective buyers in comparing certain safety features among the models they may wish to purchase. Data are based on information furnished by domestic and foreign manufac-

Braking performance information is based on the distance in feet required to bring the vehicle to a full stop from a speed of 60 miles per hour.

Best and worst performance involving all 1975 car models range from 164 to 250 feet. Comparable figures for motorcycles range from 130 to 210 feet.

Tire reserve load is a measurement of the safe carrying capacity of a vehicle's tires beyond the full passenger loading. Comparison figures are given as a percentage of the fully loaded vehicle's weight. Figures rank from a best performance of 26 per cent to zero per cent.

Acceleration and passing ability is characterized by the time in seconds and the distance in feet required to pass a 55-foot-long truck that is moving at 50 miles per hour.

All three publications are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. The volume covering brakes costs $1.10, the tire volume is $1.20, and the acceleration and passing volume is $1.35.

HAVEA SAFE SUMMER!!!

DROWNING accidents are the fourth leading cause of accidental death in the United States. Swimming, sailing, canoeing, and other water activities are great fun, but it's a fact that most water-related accidents occur during recreational pastimes. Here's some tips, for safety's sake!

SWIMMING SAFETY

(1) Be extra careful in unfamiliar swimming areas, since they may have strong currents, deep holes, debris, and other hazards. Beware of diving into strange waters.

(2) Never leave a small child alone near water, even for a few seconds. Teach children to swim at an early age.

(3) Swimming alone is dangerous; someone should be available in case of an emergency. Learning artificial respiration, first aid and basic rescues is worth the effort.

(4) Do not swim right after eating, or when overheated or overtired.

(5) Pushing, ducking or holding someone's head under water should be avoided.

(6) Do not let children use tires or inflated toys to float in deep water. Approved life saving devices should be worn by young non-swimmers when near water.

BOATING SAFETY

(1) Learn the nautical rules of the road. Be courteous and remember your wake can hurt others.

(2) Keep a Coast Guard approved personal flotation device for each person on board your boat. In small boats, children and weak swimmers should wear the flotation device at all times.

(3) Don't overload your boat. Follow the boats capacity rating. If you are using an outboard motor, match the motor to the boat.

(4) If your small boat or canoe upsets, it usually floats. Hold on to it for support. And, whenever you are boating leave word with someone on your destination and when you will return.
