Canton studying adoption of non-returnable can ban

By DARLENE STINSON

The days of the returnable pop bottle with kids collecting bottles for cash may return to the Plymouth-Canton community. With them may vanish some of the litter and trash.

That is the hope of intergovernmental committee members, representing the Plymouth Community School District, the City of Plymouth, and Canton, Plymouth, Salem and Superior townships, who are studying the possible enactment of ordinances to ban the sale of non-returnable bottles and cans.

THE ORDINANCES still in the discussion stage would erase scenes of pop bottles littering city streets and beer cans strewn across rural areas, according to hopes of intergovernmental members. A string of ordinances, enacted in municipalities within the school district could, hopefully, control the litter problem.

The ordinances would impose deposits on soft drink and beer bottles and cans, enticing residents to return the containers to stores. The laws would encourage children to scour neighborhoods for the litter of bottles and cans.

Intergovernmental representatives last week appointed Canton Trustee Robert Myers and Plymouth Township Trustee Richard Gornick to formulate a plan of action for enactment of returnable ordinances.

The two will study bills, introduced and stymied by the Michigan Legislature, that would have imposed deposits on bottles and cans.

Myers may invite a representative of the Public Interest Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM), who has studied the bottle issue, to speak to intergovernmental representatives.

INTERGOVERNMENTAL members, suggested Myers and Plymouth

City Commissioner Norbert Battermann, could send letters concerning the bottle issue to neighboring municipalities, the Michigan Municipal League and the Michigan Township Association.

Intergovernmental representatives last week returned to the committee table with reactions of governing bodies toward the proposed ordinance plan.

Although local officials agree on the desirability of a returnable ordinance, officials disagree on the law's effectiveness at the local level.

Plymouth Township officials, Gornick told intergovernmental members, feel the Michigan Legislature should enact the bottle ordinance. City officials are awaiting township action, according to Battermann.

THE CANTON Board of Trustees, Myers told representatives, would enact a returnable ordinance, if other municipalities did the same.

"The question is what's the most effective way of doing this," Gornick said. "Our board feels the best way is at the state level."

Battermann questioned the legality of imposing deposits on soft drink and beer cans without deposit requirements on soup and vegetable containers.

"A ban on non-returnable bottles would be upheld in court, Battermann said, "but I think you might have a problem with cans. The courts would support the bottles for safety reasons."

Soup and vegetable cans, intergovernmental representatives pointed out, do not constitute a litter problem.

Myers and Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein feel bottle and can ordinances enacted in the Plymouth-Canton community might catch on in other communities.

"You have to start the ball rolling someplace," Myers told intergovernmental members. "If we do it and get ruled out by the courts, then we can blame the state."

Said Greenstein at a recent Canton board meeting: "If a group of municipalities do this, we might ultimately shame the Michigan Legislature into doing the same thing on a statewide basis."

THE PLYMOUTH City Commission, according to Battermann, approved an ordinance requiring bottle deposits in 1971.

Commission members rescinded the ordinance, when Canton and Plymouth townships failed to follow suit.

Commission members, Battermann explained, felt the Plymouth-only law placed an undue stress on city merchants.

Intergovernmental representatives will further discuss the proposed ordinances at their Oct. 15 meeting.

Canton patrols to curb mishaps

By MAURIE WALKER

Termed a high accident area by Michigan State Police, Ford and Plymouth roads, west of Sheldon in Canton Township, has been assigned to a three-car team of troopers to help reduce traffic problems.

Lt. William Tomczyk, post commander in Plymouth, said one car from his post will join with troopers from Flat Rock and Ypsilanti in the accident prevention drive that will extend to the Washtenaw County line starting today (Monday).

"These cars will be regular state police units, fully marked. We are not out there to trap motorists," the lieutenant said. The purpose is to be seen, to let the public know the area is being patrolled in an effort to reduce accidents on these roads."

Sgt. James Echols, of the Detroit post, who is in charge of the team, said the cars are part of a plan started last June by the State Police.

"For a year we have been studying traffic reports from various areas in the state.

"The idea originated in Lansing and went into effect last June.

"We have teams in six districts in the southeast part of the state whose job is to concentrate on reducing accidents," the sergeant said.

ALL THREE CARS will be in one stretch at a time.

"We want persons to know we are there," Echols said. "We had a team on Telegraph Road for the past four months and found accidents were reduced considerably."

The lieutenant said the troopers are not concerned with the insurance or driver's license status of motorists.

"Studies show that while speed is dangerous, the majority of car accidents are caused by several things including tailgating, passing on the shoulder, failure to yield to another motorist, and driving under the influence of alcohol," Tomczyk added.

The sergeant said the cars will patrol three days a week and not necessarily any certain days. The troopers will take their lunch break at the same time and at the same location, again to give exposure, the sergeant added.

"The troopers will give warnings and traffic tickets to motorists violating traffic laws. Their job will be strictly enforce traffic. Of course, they will be called out in the event of an emergency."

THE TROOPERS will stop at all business locations in the patrol area to inform merchants and others of their presence. This will include gasoline stations and fruitstands, the sergeant said.

Echols said a report of troopers in the area shows drunk driving is up in the Canton area.

"Last year there were 18 drunk driving citations issued for the entire 12 months. Through September of this year, there have been 30 drunk drivers ticketed by our troopers."

Following too close to the vehicle in front is another high ticket situation, according to the State Police.

The study made in Lansing covered five counties.

"The high casualty areas in each county were pinpointed for the traffic safety campaign. The number of warnings and tickets issued were not the prime factor. It was the number of accidents that determined the areas to be concentrated on," Echols said. "These were the spots where we thought our program could do the most good."

The State Police had 50 cars on the road over Labor Day weekend. Officials feel this exposure helped reduce the accident figure for that holiday.

Efforts are being rekindled for intragovernmental actions

A dinner and all-day seminar for elected and appointed officials within the Plymouth Community School District should "widen the lines of communication" across municipal boundaries.

That is the hope of intergovernmental council members, representing the school district, the City of Plymouth and Canton, Plymouth, Salem and Superior townships, in planning an areawide dinner and follow-up work seminar.

The intergovernmental dinner, sponsored by the school district during the last two years, this year will become a truly "intergovernmental" affair, hope local officials.

PRELIMINARY dinner plans outline an informal event, hosted by the school district in Plymouth Salem High School, with round table discussions of intergovernmental goals.

Unlike former years when the school district picked up the dinner tab, individual municipalities or participating officials may pay their own bills this year.

Tom Yack, treasurer of the Plymouth school board and an intergovernmental council representative, questioned the school board's willingness to pick up the dinner tab in times of budget tightening.

Intergovernmental member Richard Gornick, a Plymouth Township trustee, said financial contributions for the dinner would add to the cooperative spirit.

"The communities have not been tapped for any major financial contributions so far," Gornick said.

AT THE DINNER, local officials could discuss the need and content of an all-day seminar, intergovernmental members agreed.

The seminar could encourage closer intergovernmental cooperation in specific areas, such as senior citizen activities and purchasing plans, according to Plymouth City Commissioner Norbert Battermann, who suggested the all-day affair.

Appointed to suggest a program for the dinner at the intergovernmental council's next meeting were Marda Benson, chairperson of the intergovernmental council and president of the Plymouth school board; Battermann, and Salem Township Trustee Harvey Barkley.

The dinner, tentatively scheduled for Nov. 19, is slated for elected officials and some planning commission members.

Dabbing finishing touches on Canton Township's first bicentennial fire hydrant is Joe Jahoda, a Windsor Park Subdivision resident who spent hours painting the hydrant red, white and blue. (Staff photo by Maurie Walker.)

Hydrant first to get bicentennial dress

A Windsor Park Subdivision resident has mixed red, white and blue, a dab of imagination and some fun hours of work to create Canton Township's first bicentennial fire hydrant.

The bicentennial display, created by Joe Jahoda in front of his home at 43147 Lombardy, stands as an example of what residents can do to aid the township's bicentennial celebration and hydrant decorating program.

The hydrant, the first to receive bicentennial dress in Canton Township, was created with bright red, white and blue paint and stars and stripes of reflective tape. The project, according to Jahoda, took the spare hours of three or four days to complete.

"I just wanted to do something different," Jahoda explained. "It was all my own idea."

The township board of trustees recently approved the hydrant decorating program at the suggestion of Fire Chief Mel Paulun.

Residents are urged to use red, white and blue paint, follow a bicentennial theme and use their imaginations, according to Clarence Partin of the Canton Bicentennial Commission, the agency charged with supervision of the decorating program.

"We feel our citizens are creative enough to come up with their own ideas," Partin said. "We feel this will be a fun thing to do—just an informal community project."

Residents are asked to contact Canton Township offices, 44508 Geddes, after completing a hydrant painting project. Township officials hope to keep a photo album of all hydrants decorated for the bicentennial.

Need for hospital will be assessed

How does one lure a hospital to a community?

That question faced members of the intergovernmental committee last week as they looked at the growing Plymouth-Canton community and need in the future for additional hospital facilities.

Representing the Plymouth Community School District, the City of Plymouth and Canton, Plymouth, Salem and Superior townships, intergovernmental committee members have placed the hospital question on their list of goals for the 1975-76 year.

Plymouth Township Trustee Richard Gornick, who volunteered to research the procedure used in attracting hospitals to communities, noted a population of about 70,000 persons in the Plymouth School District and a lack of hospital facilities.

Most emergency runs from the City of Plymouth, noted Plymouth City Commissioner Norbert Battermann, take residents to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia or St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

"As Canton grows, the need for a hospital in this area will grow," said school board Treasurer Tom Yack.

The construction of a hospital in the Plymouth-Canton community could comprise a long-range goal of the intergovernmental committee, said chairperson Marda Benson, president of the Plymouth school board.

Cahalan in Plymouth to sell program on deterring crime

Wayne County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan carried his message that certain punishment deters crime to Plymouth Friday to a full-house in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Cahalan was guest speaker for the weekly meeting of the Plymouth Rotary Club and impressed many with his scholarly approach to the emotionally-charged topic of crime.

"CRIME IS the number one domestic issue in the United States and has been for a long time," the prosecutor began. "Sometimes you get to feeling helpless and hopeless."

Cahalan used the premise that the fundamental purpose of law enforcement and criminal justice systems is to deter persons from committing a crime.

"But, our system has deterred few, if anyone, from committing crimes because we aren't using the deterrents we have to deter, or the punishments we have to punish."

"Sentences aren't mandated by the legislature, except for certain maximums. So the courts are reflecting the thoughts of society down through the years."

Backing his point with statistics, Cahalan said two-thirds of persons convicted of felonies never spend a day in jail. If it is a first offense, he added, the odds are 10-1 the convicted person will never see the inside of a correctional institution.

"IN OUR DEMOCRATIC system, we must treat all persons equally and provide due process of law. But the system has even failed to do this."

"Equal protection under the law is also the very basis of the whole system of criminal justice. But at the most critical point in the whole procedure—that point when the sentencing judge decides whether to deprive a convicted person of liberty—it all goes out the window."

"It doesn't depend upon the U.S. Constitution, equal protection, or due process, but depends upon the whim of the sentencing judge who is limited only by the maximums set by law."

This almost totally unchecked sweeping power given to judges, Cahalan added, is terrifying and intolerable for a society which professes to be living in a nation of law.

Studies indicate, he added, that it doesn't much matter what crime you commit, but where it is committed when it's sentencing time. It also depends upon which judge is drawn, he added, pointing to a Los Angeles study which showed one judge in one year sentenced 57 per cent of all convicted persons to jail while another in the same district sentenced only eight per cent.

"In sentencing, the judge has no more training in future human behavior than this podium. He's a lawyer by profession, not a sociologist."

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT was declared unconstitutional, Cahalan explained, not because it was too cruel

but because it was so seldom imposed and when it was it was imposed in a discriminatory fashion. "The same type of ruling can happen in the area of sentencing."

The philosophy of our society for the past couple decades, Cahalan added, was that the person who committed a crime was sick and needed treatment.

"The judge doesn't think about treating the convicted person in such a way as to deter others from committing crime, but thinks about how he can best help rehabilitate this person."

"Well, the idea of rehabilitation has proven to be a total failure. Some 45 per cent charged with crimes in this area last year had a previous felony conviction. It's 85 per cent in Washington, DC."

Speaking on rehabilitation, Cahalan said he had serious questions about whether society had the right to "force" an individual to rehabilitate. "This process is best handled on a voluntary basis. I'm not against rehabilitation, but just don't believe you can force a person to change behavior. He must want to change."

"I suggest the Legislature enact laws defining what acts will be crimes and specifying the penalty that must be imposed, and there'd be no parole or no probation unless parole and probation was given to everyone who committed that crime."

"I DON'T criticize the parole board or the judges for this predicament, because if you give people discretion to predict future human behavior you can expect there will be mistakes. The key is—don't give them the discretion."

"I'm convinced that certainty of punishment is the best deterrent. And I stress that it's certainty of punishment, not severity, that's important. I am also sure that the certainty of no punishment deters no one."

"We would not abandon rehabilitation entirely, but shift the primary emphasis to deterring crime."

"We are in difficult times living in an urban society and in a free society with constitutional democracy and changing times. I get impatient with those who preach about better times in the past, which exists only in their minds."

"We cannot, and must not, despair because we are a nation which has done and will do great things," Cahalan concluded.

He urged the audience to write legislators asking their support of bills to make sentencing mandatory when persons are found guilty of a crime.

Students learn about history by making costumes, jousting

It was a fierce battle between the seven "kingdoms" of East Middle School last week.

Amidst the shouts of kings and queens and common townfolk, the knights braved the jousting tournament with shields of aluminum foil in hand.

KINGDOM "6-6," under the reign of King David Schendel and Queen Patty Dee, emerged as the "best in the land" at the conclusion of the chivalrous event, thanks to knight Todd Smith, "horse" Todd Keeney and squire Brian Miller, who received the title of knight for his participation in the event.

The seven sixth-grade classes at East Middle School last week staged the medieval parade and jousting tournament in the dress of chivalrous times as the fun conclusion of a medieval history unit.

"We thought this was an excellent way to end the unit," said sixth grade teacher Linda Lalonde, who wore a medieval costume of green felt for the event. "We found medieval history was of great interest to the students with the kings and queens and dragons.

"The kids have been looking forward to this since the first day of the unit. They had to research their own costumes. That certainly brought the parents into the educational process."

SIXTH GRADE teachers decided to revive the medieval tournament to perk up the history unit this year. Mrs. Lalonde explained. Former sixth-grade classes staged the event twice before in years gone by.

With throngs of parents and East elementary pupils lined along East Middle School walls, sixth-grade kings and queens and serfs and noblemen filed through the school and into the gymnasium.

Blares of trumpets preceded the introductions of royal families and special presentations performed by three of the sixth grade classes. The jousting tournament, complete with knights mounted on "human" horseback with "weapons" of stockings in hand, provided the finale of the anticipated event.

"I think the things involved are very interesting," said Rob Richards, who took the title "King Richards the Lion-Hearted" for the day. "I like the jousts the best."

Sixth-grader Jeff Darnell took the role of a barbarian for the event.

"They lived in huts, and they destroyed Rome's armies," Jeff explained. "I wanted to be one of them."

Sixth-grader Kevin Lockhart said he learned about medieval dress, while preparing for the tournament.

"I really think this was a good idea," said Kevin, who was dressed as a page. "It gives kids a chance to see how things really were in medieval times."

Kathy Pashukewich, age 11, dons a knight's suit and rides a horse made from cardboard.

Here are just a few examples of medieval costume worn by East Middle School students Friday.

Father delivers child

Gerald and Priscilla Piwowar of Canton Township will have a birthday tale to tell their newborn son, when he gets a little older.

Nathan Wesley Piwowar, the newest resident of 6862 Willow Creek, was born last Monday between the bucket seats of his parents' car with only mom and dad officiating.

THE HECTIC DRIVE and untimely delivery in the driveway of a strangers' home under dad's efficient care are the fabric of the birthday tale, earmarked for many tellings.

"There were times I was scared," admitted Nathans' proud, 25-year-old father, when the self-administered delivery was a past event.

"But most of the time I was so busy, I didn't have time to think about being scared. When I was concentrating on the baby, I couldn't think of anything else."

Last week's story began at 5 a.m. on Monday, when Mrs. Piwowar 23, awoke with labor pains. An early morning rush brought the couple's other son, two-year-old, Todd, to a relatives' home in Plymouth. Then the hectic drive to Ann Arbor began.

"My wife kept saying, 'The baby's coming,' Piwowar recalled of the rush to St. Joseph Hospital. "I just kept telling myself to keep my eyes on the road, but then I felt the baby's head coming."

PIWOWAR spotted a house with its lights aglow and pulled into the driveway.

"I jammed on the brake and laid on the horn, hoping someone would be up. I even forgot to put the car in park for a minute. No one came out, so they don't even know what happened."

Nathan, a six-pound, 15-ounce boy, was born at 6:48 a.m. Piwowar laid his new son on a pillow, laid the bundle in his wife's arms, and drove the remaining seven miles to the hospital.

"We pulled into the emergency entrance, and the baby was already on the pillow," said Piwowar, a draftsman at Detroit Diesel. "I walked into the emergency room and said a newborn baby was in the car. The nurse looked at me like, 'Sure there is.'"

HI! WE'D LIKE TO INTRODUCE OURSELVES

Hearing slated on Smith's bill

Two public hearings have been scheduled on a bill introduced by Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ann Arbor), whose district includes Plymouth, which would require the state to pay money to local governments in lieu of taxes on state-owned lands.

The first hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in the McKenny Union on the Eastern Michigan University campus in Ypsilanti and the second will begin at 2 p.m. in the Ann Arbor City Council chambers in city hall. Both will be held Tuesday, Oct. 7.

The Smith bill requires the state to pay an amount equal to 25 per cent of the amount that would be due in taxes if the land weren't owned by the state. Recreational lands and facilities would be exempt from this requirement.

"These funds are designed to compensate cities and townships for providing essential services such as police and fire protection for state property and buildings," explains Smith. He will be attending both hearings to answer questions on the bill.

SC-WSU won't abandon consortium

By SUE ROSIEK

Schoolcraft College (SC) and Wayne State University (WSU) officials will ask the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for further consideration of the SC-WSU consortium, according to Dr. C. Nelson Grote, SC president.

The consortium, which planned to expand programs at the Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville, had been the county board's favored plan until recently, when the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center submitted a plan to use the facility as an alcoholism treatment center.

Following an emergency meeting Sept. 25, the county board gave the consortium 30 days to come up with an acceptable lease for the center, and apparently the consortium wheels already are moving.

"We may have lost a skirmish, but we haven't lost the war," said Grote, who along with George E. Gullen Jr., WSU president, presently is evaluating the consortium's position.

GROTE WILL present his findings Wednesday to Schoolcraft trustees at an 8 p.m. study session.

Operating under a two-part directive voted by SC trustees on Sept. 24, Grote is working with Gullen, gathering arguments and support to convince the county board of the consortium's benefit to residents in western Wayne County.

"There already has been a number of discussions held," explained Grote. "I have met with President Gullen and other meetings also have been held."

Grote also intends to reveal the results of his investigation of reported opposition to the SC-WSU consortium.

Grote refused to comment on whether he had discovered any opposition. "It will be discussed at the meeting."

GROTE SAID he hopes the county will take another look at the WSU-SC consortium and its long-range benefits.

"The county can't just look at who can relieve overhead expenses at the center in the coming year, but what will be the best use of the facility in 10 to 15 years."

"The consortium would move in gradually. We couldn't occupy all the buildings in one year," added Grote.

"I do think the long-range plan will benefit the residents of western Wayne County, but the county can't, because of its financial condition, or won't see that."

"They (county board) shouldn't allow the present to cloud the future," said Grote.

The SC-WSU consortium plan was one of eight proposals submitted to a special county subcommittee last fall. Complications set in when the consortium had problems negotiating a lease and legislation was passed which prohibits such an agreement without state approval.

The Sacred Heart plan was submitted last summer. Grote and Gullen were invited to a county board meeting in August to hear representatives of Sacred Heart Center review its plan.

"We were still preparing our master plan and lease agreement," explained Grote. "The board invited us to review and become acquainted with the new proposal."

On Aug. 27, Grote and Gullen sent the county board a letter stating that the alcoholism treatment facility was not compatible with the consortium plan.

Schoolcraft trustees did not learn of the proceedings until they met in a regular board meeting Sept. 24. Many expressed surprise and disappointment over news the consortium was in trouble. For most trustees, it was the first they had heard of any problems brewing.

Grote said he felt it was not proper to raise the question to SC trustees before the county board had considered it. The county board was not scheduled to meet until Sept. 25, the day after the SC meeting.

Grote added he sent copies of all correspondences between his office and the county board to Paul Kadish, Schoolcraft board chairman.

"It my job as the president to keep the chairperson advised of the problems of this college," said Grote.

Another park eyed

'Park board safe from take-over'

By TIM RICHARD

"The Cockeyed Archer" took aim at the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) and may have hit its real target: a Detroit riverfront ribbon park.

Under prodding by state legislators, James Clarkson, a member of the HCMA board from Oakland County, promised to have his seven fellow board members consider a series of "people access" points on the Detroit River from Belle Isle southward.

The prodding came from State Rep. Warren Goemaere (D-Roseville), chairman of the House special committee investigating the structure and operations of the five-county HCMA.

Specifically, the committee is considering a bill by Rep. Morris Hood Jr. (D-Detroit) to reappoint the HCMA board to population and to require HCMA to develop a metropark inside the Detroit city limits.

But Goemaere, a veteran of five terms in Lansing, said the Hood bill hasn't a chance of passage. "This is the old 'Cockeyed Archer' technique, where you look in one direction and shoot in another," he chuckled in a conversation following a public hearing Sept. 29 in Pontiac.

OAKLAND COUNTY residents generally supported HCMA's existing board structure (one representative from each county, two named by the governor) and lavishly praised its programs.

But there was sharp criticism of HCMA's plans to develop new metroparks in the outlying reaches of Washtenaw, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Robert (Bud) Slingerland of Lake Orion, regional vice president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), was first to propose a "walking, biking, sitting park along the Detroit River."

Such a ribbon park would utilize unused patches of land that are now slag and rubble heaps. Instead of buying land, he said, officials could negotiate easements from industries that would allow the public access to narrow strips of land along the river.

"It would give fishermen access to the biggest trout stream in the world," said Slingerland, referring to the frequent spottings and occasional catches of chinook salmon in front of Detroit's skyline.

Prodded by Rep. Goemaere to comment, HCMA's Clarkson called it "a very fine idea, if it can be worked out. Back in the 1930s, the theory was to have such an area on the Huron and Clinton rivers," he recalled, noting that the original theory was abandoned in favor of metroparks of 1,000 acres and up.

"I've found our board most receptive to new ideas," said Clarkson, as he promised to start discussion on the idea at the next meeting.

BRIAN BLAESING, a staff member of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, said SEMCOG staff members saw possibilities to the riverfront ribbon park idea, although actual implementation could come from Detroit itself, Wayne County or the state, and not only HCMA.

Blaesing outlined SEMCOG's 1990 parks plan for the seven-county southeast Michigan region which called for an "inner ring" of regional parks closer to the urbanized area than existing Kensington or Stony Creek metroparks.

Henry W. Hoot, an Oakland County commissioner whose district includes Troy and parts of Bloomfield and Avon townships, said the board's general government committee opposed the reapportionment formula in the Hood bill.

"The practical effect would be to give Wayne County and Detroit control of the board," Hoot said.

It pays to know a DETROIT BANK-er better.

"Maybe you can't afford to get the highest interest for your savings."

Everybody wants to get the best return from their savings. But having your money readily available is important, too. To make sure you get the best of both, it pays to talk to a DETROIT BANK-er. Someone like Fred Davis, Officer-in-Charge at the Detroit Bank & Trust main office.

What's the highest annual rate I can get for my savings?
"Our highest annual return is 7-1/2%, but there are these important things to consider. To get this rate, you must leave at least $1,000 on deposit for six full years, and secondly, there are rather stiff penalties imposed by Federal regulations for early withdrawals. This is true for all banks."

So if I came to you with $1,000, what kind of savings account would you recommend?
"We offer six different savings plans at Detroit

Bank & Trust. The one best for you would depend on many things. Whether or not you were married, how long you could afford to leave the money in the bank, and what savings goals you had in mind. You may come in looking for 7-1/2% interest, but may find out that it's the availability of money that you need more than a higher interest rate. You might end up choosing a 5% annual rate on our regular passbook account, but you'll be able to get your hands on your money any time you need it."

What's the best way to start saving?
"You just have to make up your mind that you're going to set aside a certain amount each week or every payday for savings. The amount really isn't as important as regular deposits are."

How can I get that regular savings habit?

"The easiest way I know of is to use Check and Save at Detroit Bank & Trust. That's where you authorize us to take a certain amount from your checking account each month, or bi-monthly, and put it into your savings account. It's very painless."

Why should I get to know you better?
"The better I know you, the more help I can be to you, not only in directing you into the type of savings plan that will best suit your needs, but also helping you with your other banking requirements. As DETROIT BANK-ers, we always try to look out for the best interests of our customers. We're here to serve you."

"The amount you save really isn't as important as regular deposits are."

"Many people who come in looking for the highest possible interest rate often choose a regular passbook savings account because it's more convenient."

"We try to direct people into the type of plan that's going to fit their needs. We always try to look out for the best interests of our customers."

you ought to know a DETROIT BANK-er better

Hats off to work crews who contained emergency

What could have been a major catastrophe was averted by a group of Canton Township employees who handled themselves and a dangerous situation like a team of old pros.

The recent train derailment, which ruptured a gasoline pipeline, resulted in inconvenience for some 1,200 persons uprooted from their apartment homes for nearly 24 hours.

It could have been a different story. With fumes from thousands of gallons of gasoline drifting around the Stonybrook complex, a single spark could have generated a holocaust.

CANTON RELIES on the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for police protection. The township's civil defense coordinator had resigned a few weeks ago.

Who takes over when several thousand residents are sitting on a veritable powder keg? There had been no trial runs—so they improvised.

The Canton Township Fire Department—16 regulars and 16 volunteers—spent 625 man-hours at the scene of the wreck. As metal freight cars were moved, a threat of explosion was ever present.

Chief Mel Paulun brought in the Willow Run Airport spray tanks to cover the area with foam. The chief ripped all the buttons from his uniform when he and firefighter Jim Davison narrowly escaped a toppling boxcar.

MEMBERS OF the Plymouth Township Fire Department were on standby at the apartment complex with a pumper and rescue wagon from 9 a.m. Friday until 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

Sheriff's deputies set up roadblocks and handled traffic tieups.

Coordinating the operation were Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein and DPW Director Jake Dingledey. Just three months ago, radios, spotlights and PA systems were installed in DPW and building department cars. The supervisor's car also had a radio channel to the sheriff's department.

The investment paid off during the emergency with the complete cooperation of all units.

Greenstein and Dingledey were on location from noon Friday until midnight. They were back at 6 a.m. Saturday and stayed until the all clear sounded at 12:30 p.m. When they were away from the scene, they remained in radio contact.

Building department employees spent 146 man-hours on the job. DPW personnel contributed 50 man-hours. Dog Warden John Swalley was there from the beginning, through the night and the next morning.

It was a case of everyone's pitching in and doing what had to be done with no quibbling.

Canton Township came through its state of emergency with flying colors.

Your ideas are welcomed to balance school budget

The Plymouth Community School District has interrupted its budgeting process to schedule two public sessions to solicit suggestions from residents and interested persons on how to trim expenditures to balance the budget with the least harm to educational programs.

The administration and school board have already done a great deal of groundwork studying recommendations to trim expenses. It has been a painful process, and complete agreement has yet to be reached.

The easier choice would have been to keep the budget trimming process within the educational community with complete reliance on professionals for recommendations. Instead, the administration and board have chosen to go to the public in two separate sessions to seek new ideas. They are to be commended for their receptiveness and willingness to take this approach.

THE MEETINGS will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Oct. 7 in West Middle School and Oct. 9 in East Middle School.

It would be great if lots of persons turned out and offered creative, constructive suggestions on how to trim expenses. The community, after all, will be affected by whatever decisions are made, and our input can be helpful.

A word of advice, though, to those attending which will help the sessions be more meaningful. It is quite easy to yell "no, no" about expenditures just because we might be personally against that particular program or item. But what would be more helpful, and harder to do, is to offer a suggestion about how existing programs could continue at less cost.

If the sessions are to be productive, those attending should not merely be against something, but have ideas to offer. There are lots of things which could be cut out which you and 200 people might agree on, but there could be 2,000 people who would take an opposing position.

CUTTING EXPENSES might have to result in programs being reduced or eliminated.

But there is no need yet to panic, yank out the sword, and slash away at programs. It's time to take out the surgeon's knife and gently slice away particles whose removal won't harm the body itself.

Please give this some thought. Come with ideas and don't be afraid to make suggestions. The administration and school board are anxious to hear from you. Don't disappoint them by staying home. OBSERVER & ECCENTRIC

Praise is given for workers who handled train emergency

Editor:

As Supervisor of the Charter Township of Canton, I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank and commend every person who so generously gave of themselves to help out during our recent emergency surrounding the train derailment near Stonybrook Apartments.

Even with all the recent press coverage, it is impossible for the average citizen to comprehend the extreme potential danger surrounding the residents of Stonybrook and, even more so, to all those who worked right in the immediate danger area.

I WAS PERSONALLY on the scene for some 14 hours and was amazed and totally pleased to see "public servants" working together so efficiently and effectively.

Try to imagine the Canton Fire Department, Canton inspectors, Canton DPW, Plymouth Township Fire Department, Wayne County Sheriff, Michigan State Police, Willow Run Airport workers, Ypsilanti Fire Department, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, federal government inspectors, Plymouth Community School District transportation system, four Plymouth school principals, Red Cross and the Canton Township

From our readers

Hall all working together just like clock-work.

Those at the scene were literally walking in pools and streams of highly flammable gasoline which totaled more than 76,000 gallons. As you can well imagine, they not only had to evacuate some 400 endangered apartments, but also had to contain a situation that could very well have been a horrible disaster.

All the immense coordination of this giant effort couldn't have even been attempted had we not had the radios and emergency equipment recently installed in the Canton Township vehicles.

In speaking with the township employees, they are all very thankful this equipment was at hand because without it there would have been mass chaos, no coordination, immense loss of too valuable time possibly resulting in a crisis.

IT IS ONE THING to see your employees working at their daily routine jobs, and then within a minute's notice, see them completely control a crisis situation, following instructions without a second's hesitation or thought of question, and even disregarding thoughts of their own personal safety.

I have directed special letters of thanks be sent to every agency that assisted, and would also like to further my personal gratitude to all the people in Stonybrook as well as the citizens at large for their cooperation in following instructions.

We are always hopeful that this type of situation never happens again, but being a rapidly growing area, the odds increase. We have learned much and will study all the events surrounding the emergency, but thank you to everyone who helped for a performance well done.

Young unites suburbs with McNamara firing

Leonard Poger writes

As with cross-district school busing and Watergate, there seems to be no end to the continuing saga of the Detroit Metropolitan Water Board and its western Wayne County representative, Mayor Edward H. McNamara of Livonia.

McNamara was removed from the board Thursday in a letter from Detroit Mayor Coleman Young who has the power under the new Detroit City Charter to appoint and remove board members to serve at his "will and pleasure."

Apparently McNamara's actions and comments in the past six months have upset Young's political pleasure.

The removal of the Livonia mayor, one of three suburban members of the seven-member board, may give McNamara more time to devote to city problems Monday afternoons instead of driving to downtown Detroit for board sessions.

But the mayor's removal still leaves many unresolved issues on the table and generates a few other interesting political questions.

When all is said and done, it may be that Young did more to unite the suburban interests than anyone since four years ago when the cross-district busing issue began.

The unanswered questions are:
1—How can the majority of Detroit water department customers have a guarantee of board representation when only the Detroit mayor has the authority to appoint and removal members?

2—What voice will a majority of water users have in stopping unjustified water rate increases?

3—How will the metropolitan area, which has 91 cities and townships getting their water from Detroit, have any voice in the operations of the water board, which has a majority of its members from Detroit.

When the controversy was initiated by McNamara last April, the Livonia mayor made it clear that he wasn't opposed to a potential 35 per cent water rate hike for the sake of opposing a rate hike.

McNamara insisted that the budget figures prepared by the water department staff didn't justify a rate hike and that the budget itself was questionable.

In the ensuing controversy, McNamara provided the leadership for suburban officials to discuss the problem and possible solutions.

There were many meetings of suburban leaders in Southfield and Livonia locations and the consensus was that suburban representation on the water board should be guaranteed.

Their argument was sound. Two-thirds of the Detroit water department revenues come from outside of Detroit and those consumers should have a fair share of the water board control.

During the heat of the controversy, State Rep. John Bennett (D-Redford Township) asked for the creation of a special House of Representatives study committee to look into the water department's operations and learn how rates are set.

That committee, which had suburban members in the majority, agreed to have an independent audit of the department's books and records by the state auditor general's office. The House went along with the recommendation but Detroit officials prevented the state from even starting an audit.

In the meantime, the water rate increase was first approved—without suburban board members present—and then rescinded three days later.

The water issue has been dormant since last summer—until Young's removal of McNamara from the board.

That action created a special set of circumstances for McNamara, campaigning for a third two-year term in the Nov. 4 election.

The removal gives McNamara a million dollars worth of free publicity in newspapers, radio and television four weeks before the election. The mayor isn't losing any sleep about his re-election chances since he captured 66.4 per cent of the Sept. 9 primary vote.

There are persistent political rumors that the mayor will run for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. House of Representatives next summer. The congressional seat is now occupied by Marvin Esch, Ann Arbor Republican, who is planning to seek the party's nomination for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Philip Hart, a Democrat, who announced earlier this year he won't seek another term.

If McNamara decides to run for the congressional seat, the water rate exposure in Plymouth, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and other Detroit water customers may prove to be priceless to a candidate trying to get his identity known outside his own community.

Young, who has his own shrewd political instincts, probably realized the dual benefits McNamara would gain if he were removed from the water board at this point.

Young could have waited another month or even a year and then replace McNamara.

But the public will get the obvious impression that McNamara was removed by Young because the Livonian was messing up the Detroit mayor's plans for a rate increase.

It was about this time two years ago that another chief executive, Richard Nixon, fired Archibald Cox for apparently getting too close to the truth on the Watergate investigation.

Cox became an instant martyr and a symbol of political power abused or misused.

McNamara may be in the same situation in the eyes of suburban leaders who feel that Young has ripped them off on the water issue.

YOU'RE SECONDS AWAY FROM BEING A WINNER IN THE INSTANT GAME!

Churchill defense stops Mott, 6-0

By TOM SCHRAM
Sports Editor

You really can't blame Livonia Churchill coach Ken Kaestner for being defensive about his team's chances of winning the Western Six football title.

With an offense such as the Chargers have displayed lately, defense is the only subject worth mentioning at the Newburgh Road school.

More than worth mentioning, though, the Churchill stoppers might deserve a whole book. Friday they showed why as they blotted out everything but the sun from visiting unbeaten Waterford Mott and rolled to a 6-0 victory.

Not only did the Churchill defense account for all the points in the game, the stingy unit stopped Mott on first downs within the Charger five yard-line twice in the first quarter and then held the visitors without a first down in the entire second half.

And despite an offense that stammered and sputtered before an impressive defense of Mott, homecoming turned out to be a happy affair.

THE VICTORY made the Chargers a solid favorite to win honors in the Western Six loop as their record climbed to 3-1 overall and 2-0 in league play.

Defensive end George Bielis made the play of the game on Mott's third attempt at an attempted lateral by Mott quarterback Tim McKay on the Waterford 12 yardline and sauntered in with the game's only score.

The conversion only score was blocked and with the game less than a minute old, the scoring had been completed.

Not that the excitement was over, however. Shortly thereafter, Mott's McKay, now on defense, stepped in front of a Mike Streicher pass and returned the ball to the one-foot line.

Mott took four cracks going inside with McKay trying for the score himself on the final attempt. But the Charger interior line of Pat Fabian, Tim Curran, Mark Dewitt, Bielis, Kurt Pitcher and John Curran, with some healthy pushing from middle linebacker Mike Welsh, was up to the task and the Chargers held.

Later, a Mott drive got the ball down within the Charger five again. Three plays and netted nothing. And a fourth down field goal was wide.

Those two stands seemed to take a lot of steam from the Mott attack. Neither offense generated a serious drive thereafter.

Although Churchill gained yardage consistently on the ground throughout the game, it could never put together a drive of any duration.

Matt Foster, switched this game from slotback to fullback, led the Charger offense with 131 yards in 21 carries. Virtually every millimeter was earned on the inside as Foster powered his way through the trenches.

Junior Bill Coyle added an outside threat, gaining 86 yards on 19 carries, mostly sweeps.

The passing game, however, was non-existent.

"Our game plan called for a lot of passing in the first half," said Charger coach Kaestner. "You just have to credit Mott's secondary."

And Kaestner was about to take no one lightly in conference play including Walled Lake Western, which went into Friday's action with an 0-3 record and which is next on the Churchill schedule.

"The team may think we're going to take it easy after this week's win, but we can't afford a letup," Kaestner said.

THE CHARGER mentor gave credit to his assistants for preparing the team in key areas.

"Line coach Bob Armstrong and defensive coach Roger Frayer just did great jobs."

And for the spasmodic offense?

"Well, I'm the coach of that,"

Kaestner said. "Just as long as the other team has the ball, Churchill has nothing to worry about."

West stays atop league, beats Cherry Hill

Garden City West's defensive unit, led by brothers Dale and John Stupyra, thrilled a large parents' night crowd Friday evening in the Tigers' tough, 14-0, victory over Cherry Hill in Tri-River League play.

While the offense sputtered most of the night, the defense was called upon to do yeoman work in giving Coach Charley Elmquist's squad its third straight Tri-River triumph and a 3-1 overall record.

"We didn't play very well," Elmquist admitted after the game, "but give Cherry Hill credit, they hit hard and never gave up. Our defense turned in its second shutout in a row and we'll just have to get our offense rolling against a big Taylor Kennedy team next week."

Cherry Hill, which suited up only 19 players for the game, gave West all it wanted and more.

After an even first quarter in which neither offense showed much, West finally got clicking and moved 80 yards in nine plays for its only scoring drive. Halfbacks Terry Bradley and Bill Underwood alternated on the ground in the march, Bradley gaining 17 yards in four carries and Underwood 10 yards in two tries. Tom Poole picked up a key first down on a three-yard sneak and hit end Pat McGahan with two vital passes. His first connection started the march and his last to McGahan was a 27-yard scoring aerial that McGahan took on the 10 and squeezed into the left corner of the endzone.

John Stupyra converted and West led, 7-0, with 6:52 left in the half.

West's outstanding defense, which held Cherry Hill to a record 31 yards gained against them, held Riverside to only 86 total yards the week before. Coaches Bill Parker, who became a father this week, and Chuck Howton raved about the fine defensive work.

Some of the luminaries in holding Cherry Hill's offense to a minimal 31 yards were Dale Stupyra, who punted 75 yards to set up West's last TD; John Stupyra, who intercepted a pass; end Tom Parks; tackle Bruce Becker; linebacker Mark Chidester, who recovered another fumble; end Wayne Hard; and linebacker Matt Dunnigan.

The defense sealed the Spartans' fate in the fourth quarter when West's offense bogged down on its own 24-yard line. Dale Stupyra boomed a tremendous punt 75 yards into Cherry Hill's endzone. When the defense held them for two downs and only 30 seconds remaining, safety John Stupyra intercepted a pass on the Spartan 30 and raced it all the way to the two before being tackled with 22 seconds left.

It was a simple matter for quarterback Tom Poole to sneak it over on the first play before John Stupyra added the last point.

Garden City West players wore arm tributes in tribute to Tom Poole's father who died earlier this week and the entire team attended his funeral.

Coach Elmquist, still trying to get some explosive punch in his offense, takes his Tigers to Taylor Kennedy this Friday night for another Tri-River League encounter.

Canton evens record

Alert Chiefs edge Western, 13-0

Plymouth Canton stayed alert and stayed alive in the Western Six grid race Friday, dumping Walled Lake Western 13-0 with some heads 'up play.

The victory, in a game played as a part of a doubleheader at Plymouth's Centennial Park, evened the Chiefs' overall record to 2-2 and made them 1-1 in the Western Six.

"We really got things together this week," said an elated Canton coach Jim Munie after the win.

The smart ballplaying, which got Canton out of a hole and onto the scoreboard, was attributed to line-backer Jerry Simons.

The 5-9, 160 pound Simons was "on the ball" for the Chiefs late in the first half when Western was driving to what might have been a touchdown that would have reversed the whole tenor of the game.

Simons picked up a fumble on the Canton five yardline as time was running out in the first half and raced unmolested 95 yards for the touchdown.

The quick reversal put the Chiefs up by a touchdown instead of down by the same margin when the gun sounded ending the half seconds after the play.

Canton picked up whatever breathing room it needed in the game when the Chiefs made the game's only legiti-mate march midway through the third quarter. Canton went 65 yards in eight plays for the score with Jim Tiller taking the ball the final eight for the tally. The conversion made the final score 13-0.

"We were playing together as a team out there. I thought we contained Western's offense pretty well," said Munie.

The loss dropped hapless Western to 0-4.

Canton will need all the togetherness it can muster next week when it plays early season Western Six favorite Northville at Northville in a battle that will see the loser drop from the race.

Game time on Friday is 8 p.m.

Chief coach Jim Meio gives words of advice to end Ron Craig.

Tigers bite Bulldogs in offensive struggle

It was a case of Belleville's Kevin Barnes' legs against Livonia Bentley's Russ Hodges' arm Friday night in a Suburban Eight football matchup. The Tigers' junior sensation won.

Admittedly, however, there was not much to choose from in the Belleville battle won by Belleville 36-19.

Tailback Barnes riddled the Bulldogs all night as he racked up 207 yards in 18 carries and three touchdowns to pace the Tiger attack.

Bentley countered with Hodges, who hit on 10 of 22 passes for 220 yards and an identical three touchdowns.

The game was closer than the score might indicate as the teams fought to a near standstill in the first half with Belleville emerging with a slight 14-13 advantage.

Belleville scored first as Bentley hurt himself by losing a fumble on its own three yardline in the early going. Two plays later, Tiger quarterback Dan Scripser dove across for the score.

Bentley countered in the first quarter when Hodges hit Mike Robbins from 22 yards out to pull within a point.

The Bulldogs enjoyed a short-lived lead in the second quarter when Hodges connected on a nine-yarder to Rick Shepard, but Belleville took the lead for good moments later when Barnes swept end for a 59-yard scoring jaunt.

A Belleville safety in the third quarter, when the ball was snapped over Mark White's head and he was caught in the endzone, began the downfall of the Bulldogs.

And when Barnes rushed for consecutive touchdowns of 29 and 34 yards, the game was all but over.

Hodges completed his third touchdown pass in the fourth quarter—a 57-yard affair to Robbins, but it was too little and too late. Belleville wrapped up the scoring when it completed its only pass of the night, a 16-yard scoring toss from Scripser to Harold Dennis.

Belleville had 316 yards total offense to 304 for the Bulldogs.

Tim Oakley led all Bentley rushers with a 51 yards on seven carries.

But the inability of Bentley to contain the Belleville sweep gave the Bulldogs their second consecutive loss in the Sub Eight and dropped their overall record to 2-2.

Bentley will host Plymouth Salem next Friday in a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Patriots punish West Bloomfield

Livonia Franklin and the West Bloomfield Lakers battled on almost even terms during the first half of Friday night's nonleague game at West Bloomfield, but the Franklin gridders came back from the halftime intermission in better form, rolling to a 33-0 victory over the winless Lakers.

"We had a tough time in the first half," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna whose Livonia team is coming off of an undefeated 1974 season. "We had a couple of guys (fullback Tim Hollandsworth and tailback Jim Casey) who were hurt and we only played Casey on defense."

That strategy worked well, though, as Casey picked off four Laker passes, including one theft that resulted in a 15-yard interception for Franklin. Another Casey interception led to a Livonia scoring drive late in the third period. Jerry Pollard and Richard Goodaske pilfered the other two West Bloomfield passes for a total of six interceptions.

The first period saw both squads have trouble moving the ball and the defensive highlights included Curt Paul's recovery of a Franklin punt fumbled at the Laker 47 and West Bloomfield's Brian Van Gorder blocked a pass by Livonia's Dave Wilson who, along with Laker starting quarterback Joe Negley, faced a heavy pass rush that resulted in three quarterback sacks in the first period alone.

FRANKLIN TAILBACK Al Acton opened the scoring in the second frame when he swept around left end for a 70-yard touchdown run with 7:02 left in the half. Calvin Beer's extra-point kick made it 7-0 in Livonia's favor at the intermission. The Franklin offense was marching again as the second period came to a close with the Lakers' Kevin Kowalski intercepting a Wilson pass attempt.

The third quarter opened on an ominous note for Franklin when Pollard bobbed the kick off, but Livonia held onto the ball and launched an 83-yard scoring drive that ate up almost four and a half minutes of the period with Casey going over left tackle for the last five yards and a TD. Beer's kick made it 14-0.

West Bloomfield took the ensuing kick and, on the second play, Casey intercepted the Laker 45. Franklin started another march toward the end zone that ended when Kowalski covered a fumble for the West Bloomfield team at the Laker 14. Kowalski then went into the game at quarterback for Coach Dom Livedoti's team and, again on the second play, threw a pass that was picked off by Casey in the right flat and returned for a touchdown. Beer connected for his third conversion of the evening, giving Livonia a 21-0 edge with 3:42 left in the quarter.

THE LAKERS BEGAN a new drive in good field position near the 50 but Casey stepped at midline and picked off a Negley pass at midfield that started Franklin on a scoring drive that was capped on the first play of the fourth quarter when Dennis Smith found Mike Kaseta in the end zone with a 12-yard TD strike for a 27-0 advantage.

West Bloomfield mounted its best offensive attack of the night, aided by three defensive pass interference calls against Franklin, before Pollard stepped in front of a Kowalski pass at the Livonia seven for another interception.

Franklin added its final touchdown with 36 seconds left to play as Dave Smith scampered into the end zone from 17 yards out on the seventh play of a 68-yard drive. The extra-point kick was wide, making the final score 33-0.

THE VICTORY WAS Franklin's third of the season against one loss, while the Lakers suffered their fourth straight defeat and their third shutout of the campaign.

The statistical edge also went to the Livonia squad as Franklin notched 14 first downs to West Bloomfield's nine; 208 yards rushing compared to the Lakers' 39 yards on the ground; and 71 yards passing on four completions in 10 attempts, while West Bloomfield managed 54 yards on eight completions in 19 attempts and the six interceptions.

Acton paced the Franklin ground game with 78 yards—70 of which were marked off on the second-period touchdown run—on four carries and Phil Yuhasz gained 54 on 11 attempts. Craig Casman led the Laker rushers with 37 yards and John Hodgins added 25.

Franklin coach Vigna cited Casey's 15-yard interception touchdown as the turning point of the game, while Laker coach Livedoti praised the play of middle linebacker and captain Mark Tootalian. Apparently the only serious injury during the game was suffered by Van Gorder who hurt his ankle in the third period.

West Bloomfield will travel to Bloomfield Hills Andover (2-2 and 1-0 in the Greater Oakland Activities League) at 8 p.m. Friday for a GOAL game, while Franklin hosts Westland John Glenn on Saturday in a North-west Suburban League match. Livonia is 1-0 in the conference and Glenn was undefeated, as of our press time.

Salem now 1-3

Edsel Ford shows its muscle, Rocks fall

By BILL COLLINS

Dearborn Edsel Ford displayed a devastating passing attack and formidable running strength Friday in walloping the Plymouth Salem Rocks, 34-6.

Dearborn jumped into the lead as quarterback Steve Betz picked apart an inexperienced Salem secondary with crisp passing. Dearborn marched 86 yards to get on the scoreboard first when Betz found Erik Flowers in the clear for a 39-yard touchdown pass.

The extra point attempt was blocked by Dave Fletcher. Bob Dahmen, the Edsel Ford kicker, scuffed the ensuing kickoff.

The ball landed in front of a Salem blocker and took a bounce away right into the arms of Edsel Ford guard Tim Vaughn. Vaughn recovered on the Salem 42 yard line.

Edsel moved to its second touchdown of the quarter in six plays when Flowers caught another Steve Betz pass for a score. An attempt at a two-point conversion went awry, and with 6:27 left in the half Edsel had a 12-0 lead.

Salem was alternating between junior Ben Wilcox and sophomore Doug Agnew at quarterback. Injuries to Steve Maisner and Howard Inch forced the Rocks to reach deep down into the lineup and play some of their youngsters.

Wilcox showed considerable poise in running the option offense for Plymouth picking up 54 yards in rushing individually in the first half.

Salem drove from its own 22 to Edsel Ford's 18 when the Rocks were hurt by an untimely turnover.

On third down and short yardage at the Edsel 19 Salem fumbled and Dearborn defensive end Dave Bazy scooped up the loose ball and rambled 79 yards to pad the T-Birds margin, 18-0.

The two-point conversion was successful and the half ended with Edsel leading 20-0.

Although Edsel held a commanding lead, the halftime score was indicative of Salem's performance.

Plymouth ran more plays than Edsel and held the T-Birds to 14 yards rushing in 13 attempts.

The major factor behind Edsel's success was the ability of Steve Betz to come up with the big passing play when they needed it most. Betz passed for 131 yards in the first half on only six completions.

Dearborn Edsel Ford was first to score in the third stanza as Betz hooked up with Flowers for their third touchdown of the night. The conversion was good to give Edsel a 27-0 lead with 9:19 to go in the third quarter.

Plymouth Salem took over on its own 15 and put together a smooth scoring drive moving 85 yards in 10 plays for their only points of the night.

Charlie Johnson carried the ball for the final yard to lift Salem to within 21, although the Rocks would never seriously threaten Edsel's lead.

The conversion kick fell short of the crossbar and with 3:37 remaining in the third quarter Edsel led 27-6.

The evening's final score came on a 24 yard run by Edsel fullback Dave Piacentini with 1:20 left in the game. Salem drove to the Edsel nine yard line before time ran out.

Plymouth Salem will carry a 1.3 overall record and a 1-2 league record into their game with Livonia Bentley next Friday night at Bentley.

Same old story -RU beats itself again

Like a broken record or an old joke, it was the same story for Redford Union's football team Friday night as the Panthers dropped a 14-0 contest to Allen Park.

Only nobody is laughing any more. The pathetic Panthers beat themselves again Friday and in the process blew what might have been their only chance to get on the positive side of the win-loss column in a season which will probably go by winless now.

Allen Park took advantage of two breaks Friday night to fashion the 14-0 victory and take what may be its only victory of the year, also.

The game was a contest of also-rans. Both teams came into the game with 0-3 records and so the correct term might be never got started rather than also-rans.

In the end it was Allen Park scoring on two 39-yard drives, the first of which was set up by an errant Panther handoff which turned the ball over to Allen Park and the second 0 which saw the Jaguars march following a 12-yard punt.

Allen Park racked up 292 yards total offense to 134 for RU.

The only bright spot for the Panthers was Brian Macek who rushed for 66 yards on 18 carries to pace a Redford ground attack which totaled 101 yards.

Redford Union got to the Jaguar 22 yardline twice in the game only to be turned back both times.

RU will give it another try next week when it hosts Belleville in an 8 p.m. game at Hilbert Junior High School.

Trojans win again

Look out World. Livonia Clarenceville marched to its second consecutive victory Friday and stayed on top of the Metro West League race with a 14-12 victory over Oak Park.

The Redskins rallied for all their points in the final quarter but Clarenceville scored one touchdown of its own in the final period to go with a first-quarter touchdown and two-point conversion to spell the difference in the game.

George Scholes hooked up with Rick Canady in the first quarter for an eight-yard pass to get Clarenceville on the board and Scholes took the ball over for the two-point conversion that meant the difference.

Early in the fourth quarter, Don Heidelberg scampered 35 yards from scrimmage to put the Trojans on top by 14 points and make Scholes' conversion seem superfluous to the cause.

But Oak Park stormed back with an eight-yard scoring run midway through the quarter and a 45-yard pass in the late goings for a second touchdown.

But two two-point conversion attempts failed and Oak Park could not move the ball when it received it in the waning moments.

The victory put Clarenceville at the 2-2 mark for the year and made the Trojans 2-0 in league play.

Bentley girls top Spartans

The Livonia Bentley girls basketball team topped Livonia Stevenson last week, 37-30.

Debbie Pozan led the winners with 17 points while J. Isanhart took game honors with 18 for the Spartans.

NEW (comers) FASHIONS

"Don't turn your cuffs outside your sweater," fashion commentator Emily Murphy told the Renee Fox of the Plymouth Newcomers Club as she strolled down the runway at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

"Cuffs outside was last year. To be 1975 you keep them inside."

Renee obligingly unbuttoned the cuffs of the soft print silk shirt she was modeling with a lacy sweater in a lush espresso shade and matching pants.

The crowd of Newcomers and friends really thought she looked smashing both ways.

RENEE WAS ONE of 17 Newcomer members, husbands and offspring who modeled fall styles from several Plymouth stores in the organization's annual show.

The women attending, besides seeing their friends sporting the latest styles, received a number of up-to-date suggestions for coordinating their own wardrobes. Ms. Murphy, who comes from Harvi's of Plymouth and Farmington, was free with the tips.

"All one color is the new look," she told the women. "But you know, that can be different tones of the same shade. And this is the year of the neutral shade. Greys and beiges are especially good."

She also noted the popularity this year of the varied tones of rust. "They're just as good for men as for women," she noted as an informal rust sweater, white turtleneck and plaid slacks outfit was modeled.

Another new color combination Ms. Murphy recommended was sea green with wine. It was shown in an ultrasuede jacket and skirt with a wine silk shirt.

STORES PARTICIPATING in supplying clothes for the show were Harvi's, John Smith, the Clothes Tree and Little Angels Shoppe.

Hair fashions and makeup for the women models were done by Pat Hann and the staff of the House of Glamour, the Mayflower Beauty Salon and the Classy Lassy Beauty Salon. Mel Bobcean of Mel's Golden Razor did the men's and boys' hair fashions.

Models, in addition to Mrs. Fox, included Shirley Ezzo, Diana Haas, Sharon Koziel, Jacqueline LaChapelle, Carol Lollo, Rosemarie Schroeder and Barbara Staniforth.

The men's styles were shown by Neil Boyle, Jim Gallagher and Michael Murray, and the children participating were Natalie Boyd, Jimmy Gallagher, Johnny Kolb, Gillian Lyon, Mark Mabrey and Amy Mathis.

Cosmetologists' cabaret show aids fight against MS

The hairdressers of this area are so anxious to raise money to fight multiple sclerosis that for their Oct. 8 cabaret show they plan to present a comedian whose theme song is "bald is beautiful."

And Detroit George Young will have plenty of company in helping the West Suburban, Affiliate 39 of the Michigan Cosmetologists Association put on their benefit that will begin at 7 p.m. in the Raleigh House, Southfield.

Also on hand will be Livonia dancers Donna Kirkman and Wendy Lucid; Jeff Lee, the small television star who until just recently lived in Livonia; Rick Underwood and Jim Mulleague, the Garden City men currently popular as 'Laurel and Hardy imitators; Ron Coden, a folk singer, and Lenny Schick of a local morning radio show.

Jeff Green, music director at Dickinson Junior High in Livonia, will be master of ceremonies for the variety show, and there will be dancing to the sounds of The Big Band, a musical group from Garden City.

"ALL THESE PEOPLE are donating their time to help us raise funds for the Multiple Sclerosis Society, said Georgia Gebhard, president of the affiliate that has members in suburban Wayne County as well as Southfield and Farmington.

She explained that each year the organization of area hairdressers picks a different charity and puts on a major event to help fill that charity's coffers.

"Last year," Mrs. Gebhard said, "we had a fashion show and raised $1,724 for the American Cancer Society."

"We want to double or triple that amount this year."

Besides the gratis entertainment, she added, the Raleigh House has donated space in its building for the gathering that will include a buffet and a cash bar. Tickets are $12.50 per person or $20 per couple and may be reserved by calling Mrs. Jerome Gebhard, 14221 Yale, Livonia.

GINGER DANIELS is general chairman for the cabaret show.

The event is a feature of National Beauty Salon Week, being marked Oct. 5 to 11 by hairdressers in 33 affiliates in Michigan and many more across the country.

Mrs. Gebhard explained, "We're trying to show what we mean when we use the theme 'Your Hairdresser Does It Better.'"

Beauty pageant set by county

Beauty will not be the only criterion used by judges of the Ms. Wayne County Bicentennial Beauty Pageant to select a winner.

"Contestants will be judged on poise, personality and appearance," said Edith Furscik of Livonia, coordinator of the pageant. "In addition each girl will have to demonstrate current or prior activity in some form of community or volunteer service."

However, the traditional bathing suit and evening gown competition will also be included.

The purpose of the pageant is to select a young lady who will reign over the county-sponsored bicentennial parade May 2.

The contest is open to any single girl, between the ages of 18 and 29, who is a resident of Wayne County. Among those serving on the pageant committee are George Furscik, Joan O'Brien and Mary Dumas, county commissioner, all of Livonia.

West led the five of hearts. She is an enthusiastic player, works hard behind the scenes to see that other players enjoy tournaments and still finds the time to teach students at The Community House in Birmingham.

The hand in the diagram is not one she gives her students, but she did find it in "real life" earlier this year at a regional tournament in Lansing.

After she opened, North made an aggressive jump shift. East preempted and South showed the spade ace. North couldn't be sure if the call was an ace or suit so she supported the Clubs.

Marie was left without a good call. She departed from the rule about not asking partner for aces with a void. Partner compounded the problem. Her six-diamond call showed one ace and a void.

South had no choice except to bid the grand slam. The heart lead was ruffed and a ruffing finesse was taken against the diamond ace.

Two high clubs drew the opponents trumps and were entries to play two more diamonds. Another heart ruff with dummy's last trump provided the entry to discard the remaining heart and two losing spades.

Sept. 25 party bridge winner at the Plymouth Cultural Center were Frances Peters and Carl Peters.

Overall winners in the duplicate club tournament Sept. 30 in the Plymouth Cultural Center were John Rellias and Leslie Ryder, first; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jarrett, second; and Mitch Laine and Peter Davis, third.

Cancer service questions? Put them to Mildred Dely

Mildred Dely is a font of knowledge about the Michigan Cancer Foundation—its history, services, volunteers.

But ask her why she's been working with the agency, without pay, for over 10 years and she's stuck for an answer. Quitting is something she has never considered.

"You get attached to the people," she explains. "The patients aren't just a list of names, because you get to know their families. You hear about their progress and setbacks. You want to be helpful."

The MCF branch office at 173 N. Dely. She makes certain it is open from 1 to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday as a distribution point for beds, wheelchairs, walkers, dressings and other sickroom supplies. These items are on loan without charge to all area cancer patients because of support from the Plymouth Community Fund.

AFTER HOURS, Mrs. Dely often delivers supplies that can't be called for, and handles telephone inquiries, donations and memorial requests from her home.

She now is preparing for foundation's annual Christmas card sale.

"We serve about 40 patients here, including 24 from the City of Plymouth," she reports. "Last year, the dressings distributed by this office represented a savings of almost $1,500 to area patients. Loan of beds, wheelchairs and other equipment was valued at $3,000."

The costs are held down further through the efforts of about 15 volunteers, who staff the branch office, transport patients and deliver supplies.

Last year volunteers logged 2,100 miles, driving patients to therapy centers. Senior citizens, church and other groups helped prepare more than 3,000 medical dressings.

Sixty volunteers worked in the 1974 and 1975 oral test clinics. Many area physicians and nurses also volunteered their time, saving the 675 participants more than $10,000 in examination fees. One positive cancer was discovered during the pap tests, while 24 abnormalities were found as a result of the oral clinics.

THE MICHIGAN Cancer Foundation is often confused with the American Cancer Society, Mrs. Dely notes. The main difference is that ACS fund-raising efforts, resources and expenditures are spread across the nation, while MCF concentrates its efforts in Michigan.

Money allocated by the Plymouth Community Fund is used directly to help local patients.

The Main Street branch office has an active educational program, including a variety of talks, films and brochures available to clubs and schools. Like the ACF the Michigan organiza-

Payments due some women veterans

Some of Michigan's 9,000 women veterans who served in the armed forces and left service since Feb. 1, 1955 may be eligible for a new special payment from the Veterans Administration.

To receive the approximately $30 a month for each month they were in training on the GI Bill between June 1, 1966 and Oct. 24, 1972, they must have been married at the time.

During that period, women veterans who were married did not receive the increased allowance extended to male veterans who were married.

A recent VA ruling made this eligibility retroactive to June 1, 1966. Those who trained after Oct. 24, 1972 have already been paid on the same basis as their male counterparts.

Women veterans can file claims for the money at the VA regional office, but there is a cutoff date of July 1, 1976. Claims cannot be accepted after that date.

Proof of marriage while in training must be furnished in connection with the claim. The additional amount for husbands cannot be paid to women who trained under the other World War II and Korean conflict GI bills.

tion is actively involved in research and detection. The Meyer L. Prentiss Cancer Center in Detroit offers the most comprehensive service and testing program for breast cancer in the Midwest.

The local agency works closely with other social service programs, referring patients who need counseling, nursing care or financial help. It welcomes all calls from area persons who are, or know of, cancer patients.

The MCF also welcomes volunteers, even if they can donate only an hour or two a month.

Mrs. Dely warns, "Hardly anyone quits once they start here. It's a very rewarding job."

Mowry-Anderson

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Mowry of Ivywood Street, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Jo, to Clyde Randall Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Sheldon Road, Plymouth. The bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Appleton High School in Wisconsin. Her fiance graduated from Plymouth High School in 1972 and is employed by Great Scott supermarkets. Their wedding date is Feb. 21.

win 2 free tickets to see the Detroit Red Wings

An offer you can't refuse---and it's being made to YOU---courtesy of Olympia Stadium and the Observer and Eccentric Newspapers. Now you can win 2 FREE RESERVED SEAT TICKETS to an upcoming DETROIT RED WING HOCKEY GAME! Every Monday and Thursday, free Red Wing tickets will be given away -- 5 pairs every Monday and 5 pairs every Thursday. 20 tickets a week! TO WIN, all you have to do is send us a post card with your name and address. That's all!

In addition to tickets for the Wings every week, selected weeks will offer you a chance to win tickets for other Olympia events, such as the Ice Follies, the Ice Capades, the Harlem Globetrotters, and the Great Lakes Invitational College Hockey Tournament. And, as a bonus to winners of Red Wing tickets, on selected weeks Detroit Junior Red Wing tickets will be given.

For your chance to score a free-ticket goal, all you have to do is send a post card with your name and address, including your zip code, to: RED WING HOCKEY/OLYMPIA EVENTS, The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, Michigan 48150. (Or you may hand deliver your post card entry to any of our Observer & Eccentric offices.)

The Observer & Eccentric will pick names for winners -- 5 Red Wing ticket winners every Monday and 5 every Thursday. And some weeks, additional post card winners will be chosen for other Olympia events. When YOUR name appears as a ticket winner in our Classified Section, call the Promotion Department of the Observer & Eccentric at 261-8600, Ext. 209. Monday winners must call to claim their tickets by 5 P.M. Tuesday; Thursday winners must call to claim their tickets by 5 P.M. Friday. The tickets will then be sent to the winners through the mail -- well in advance of the game. (Sorry, no substitutions.)

Sound easy? It is. And everyone is eligible. Just send in your name and address and start looking for them in the Classified Section of the Observer & Eccentric. (Copies will be available at our offices for the public to look through.) Enter as often as you like. We will begin announcing winners in our October 13th issue.

Exec MBA program names Chrysler man

Franklin L. Bird, a former Chrysler Corp. executive, has been named director of the Michigan State University Advanced Management Program (AMP).

A Birmingham resident, Bird took an early retirement from Chrysler Corp. to join MSU. He will serve as AMP's administrator.

AMP enables executives to earn a master's degree in business administration while continuing to work at their regular jobs. The two-year program is based in Troy at MSU's new Management Education Center, a $4.3 million facility built with private money and turned over to the graduate school of business administration.

The new director received his MBA in 1967 through the Advanced Management Program. In addition, he received his BS degree from Case Institute of Technology and MS in automotive engineering from Chrysler Institute.

He joined Chrysler Corp. in 1941 as a student engineer. After various manufacturing assignments in the DeSoto division, he was appointed division manufacturing manager in 1952.

Bird later served in several managerial capacities in Chrysler's assembly division. In 1972, he was appointed manager of manufacturing engineers services for the U.S. automotive group, a position he held until his retirement.

A member of several professional organizations, including the Society of Automotive Engineers, the Engineering Society of Detroit and Society of Manufacturing Engineers, Bird also has been active in the United Foundation and Boy Scouts.

Car clinic Oct. 7-9

A free automobile diagnostic service clinic will be held Oct. 7, 8 and 9 at Leo Calhoun Ford, Inc., 41001 Plymouth Road, Plymouth.

The clinic will run 6-9 p.m. each night. Technicians will give each car a 16-point under-the-hood check using electronic equipment. The complete test takes about 15 minutes.

If minor adjustments are needed, the dealership will offer these. If major problems are discovered, the dealership will provide both a report of its findings and an accurate estimate of the cost of required repairs.

To take advantage of the diagnostic clinic, call the dealership.
