How residents feel about Canton identity

By DARLENE STINSON

What's in a name and mailing address?

Not much, say most Canton residents surveyed by the Observer & Eccentric, who have adopted a "don't care" attitude toward a postal decision giving the township its own zip code and mailing address.

But, to other residents, the municipal name appearing on checks and magazine subscriptions is an important feature of community life.

Some prefer mail stamped "Canton Township," giving their hometown an identity of its own. Others, particularly those living within the Plymouth postal area, wish to maintain an identity with their northern neighbor.

BEGINNING in January or February, postal authorities will stamp Canton mail, now addressed to Plymouth, Belleville, Ypsilanti or Wayne, with the township's own zip code and municipal mailing address.

Canton officials must decide on a name for mailing to Joseph J. Loukotka, district director of the U.S.Postal Services' customer service division.

Although township officials herald the zip code as a victory for the township, some fear the name change will upset some of Canton's residents who have an allegiance over the years toward Plymouth, Wayne, Belleville or Ypsilanti.

"I'm an optimist by nature," said Clerk John Flodin, "and, hopefully, there'll be a solution acceptable to everyone in the township.

"But, whether we like it or not, there is a division in the township with alliances to different communities. Some feel they're part of Plymouth and want to stay that way. Others feel they're part of Wayne, Belleville or Ypsilanti."

ABOUT 70 per cent of Canton's residents live within the northern segment of the township, now served by the Plymouth Post Office, Flodin estimates. The remainder are served by Wayne or Belleville postal authorities, with a small percentage served by the Ypsilanti post.

"Plymouth" now appears on the mail of Canton resident Helen Shelanskey on the southern side of Joy Road. Mrs. Shelanskey is among residents who favor the zip code's status quo.

"I'd rather stay with Plymouth," said Mrs. Shelanskey. "I don't want to be a Cantonite. We live just outside Plymouth, and we feel very strong ties to that community.

"When we moved into this house, we were told we'd have a Plymouth address," Mrs. Shelanskey said. "We looked at houses on both sides of Joy Road. We probably would have moved into the other house in Plymouth Township if we had known about this."

Judith Casemore, 41623 Bedford, lives within the Plymouth postal area and expressed similar views.

"I would just as soon stay with Plymouth," Miss Casemore said. "You tell people you live in Canton, and they say, 'Where's that?' I think there's more prestige in Plymouth rather than the unknown area of Canton."

ACCORDING to views of township officials and many Canton residents, a township zip code and mailing address would publicize the community and glue a Canton identity on the four sections of the township.

One member of that camp is Victoria Morgan of 42966 Arlington, a resident of the Plymouth postal area.

"I'm 100 per cent for it," Mrs. Morgan emphasized. "Plymouth is Plymouth, and Canton is Canton. I think it's about time they created an identity for us."

Herb Wilson of 1334 Lotz feels a change in his mailing address from Wayne to Canton Township is inevitable.

"They're going to do it eventually, the way Canton's growing. I don't object as long as it won't interfere with the mail."

Pat Prater of 5010 Belleville Road feels a change in her address from Belleville to Canton will ease some confusion over the location of her home. Persons often search for her home on the other end of Belleville Road because of her Belleville address.

"I'm used to Belleville, but a change might eliminate some of the confusion," she said. "It really wouldn't make too much difference to me, but, if they change it to Canton, that's fine."

Other residents object to the inconvenience involved in a mailing address change. Addresses on credit cards, checking accounts, magazine subscriptions and friends' Christmas card lists will have to be changed.

"We've very transient," said Gretchen Hutchinson of 6118 New England Lane. "The hassle of changing addresses after moving a year ago is not pleasant at all."

But, according to Loukotka, Canton residents could take up to two years to change their mailing addresses, before action is taken against postal procrastinators. About two years are needed to list new zip codes in the national zip code directory, he explained.

THE MAJORITY of residents questioned by the Observer & Eccentric adopted a "don't care" attitude.

Earl Dasher, who lives at 2306 Hannan in the Wayne postal area and across the road from Westland, summed up the views of those residents.

"It doesn't make much difference to me," Dasher said of the mailing switches. "As long as I get my mail, I really don't care."

Businessmen cite goals, expectations

Growth of Canton Township's business community is closely intertwined with the township's population boom.

That was the apparent feeling of businessmen, at last week's Canton Chamber of Commerce breakfast meeting, who cited the township's population growth, a lack of competition and the proposed I-275 freeway as major reasons for locating within the township limits.

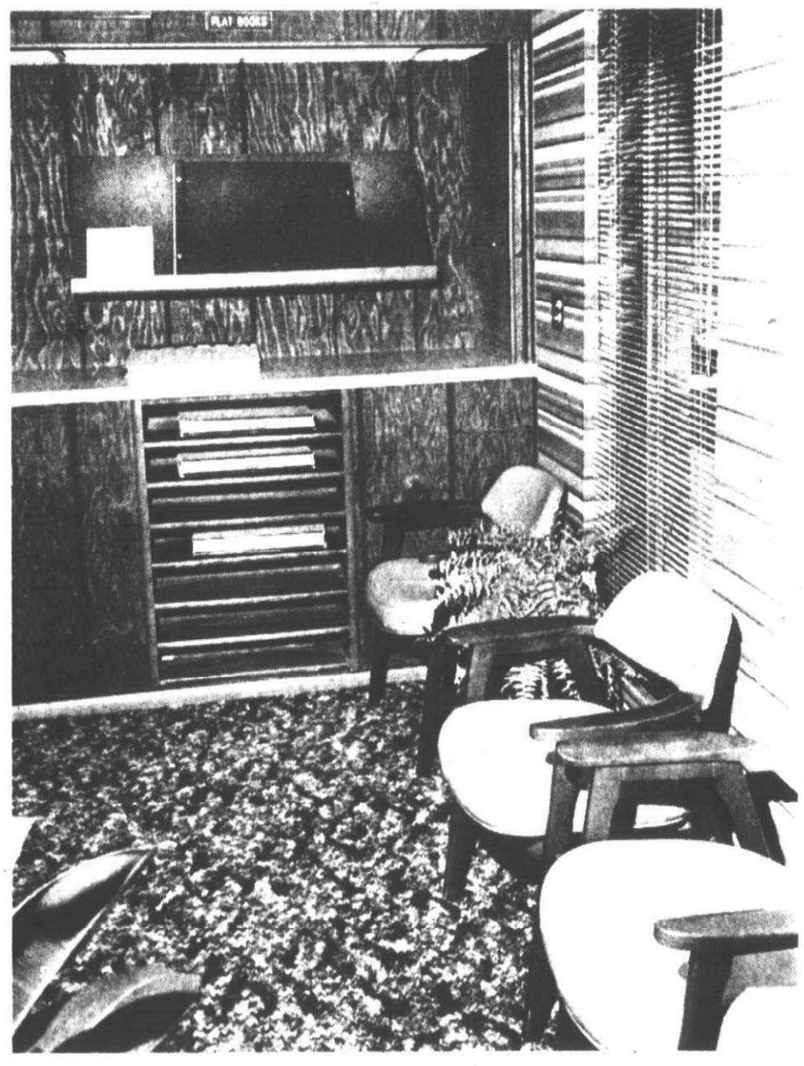
Businessmen cited adequate police protection as a major expectation from township government and the opening of "infomative" lines of communication as an expectation of the Chamber.

The meeting, the first session of a three-part breakfast series sponsored by the Chamber, was scheduled to reap businessmen's feelings toward Canton and their reasons for locating there.

Two more sessions are scheduled for Wednesdays, Nov. 12 and Nov. 19, from 7:30 to 9 a.m. at the Harvard Restaurant, located in the Harvard Square Shopping Center at Ford and Sheldon Roads.

Businessmen will discuss their operations and expections at the Nov. 12 meeting. Township officials are expected to air their views and outlook for Canton at the Nov. 19 session.

Persons wishing to attend the meeting should contact the Canton Chamber.



The reception area has been dressed up with new chairs, plantings, carpet, wallpaper and a new ceiling, and a better shelving arrangment to handle township plat books and other records.

Open house slated to show off hall

Canton Township residents will have an opportunity next week to view renovation and redecorating projects undertaken at township hall.

Township officials have proclaimed Nov. 17-21 "Canton Township Week" with an open house slated every day at township hall, 44508 Geddes. Hours of the open house are set from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Additional hours will be scheduled for Wednesday evening.

Total cost of the township hall renovation project is set at $24,000, according to Treasurer Carl Parsell. Township officials spent about $11,000 of that amount to bring the building up to code and repair the roof, furnace and insulation problems.

A carpenter, hired at a non-union, hourly rate, has transformed the former senior citizen recreational room into an expansive office facility, substantially enlarging the building's total office space.

Senior citizens and the township's recreation department have moved into the rented recreational hall across the street, renovated with $26,000 in federal funds.

The redecorated township hall, according to Canton's administration, is now able to serve the township, until its population grows beyond the 50,000 or 60,000 mark.

Young but daring

A 25-year-old man has been given the challenge of manang-ing a multi-million dollar business in the Plymouth area. What he does and how he got there is reported on P2A.

Enjoying Aesop

A number of elementary pupils this week enjoyed Aesop Fables via a puppet show brought to town by the Plymouth Community Arts Council and Michigan Youth Theatre. P3A.

Young manager accepts awesome challenge

By MAURIE WALKER

A man who just 10 years ago was busing dishes in a hotel in Clearwater, Fla., is today general manager of an $8 million complex.

While this may not be an unusual situation in many instances, it is quite an accomplishment in the case of Don Harrill, who is only 25 years old.

HARILL WAS recently named general manager of the Plymouth Hilton Hotel, a 195-room facility located on Northville Road in Plymouth township.

His career started in 1965 while attending high school.

Harrill, through his older brother, got a job with the Jack Tar Hotel, busing and washing dishes after school.

"This really got me interested in the business, gave me some on-the-job training," he said.

Upon graduation from high school, Harrill enrolled in a hotel- motel management course at St. Petersburgh Junior College.

In 1970 he became assistant manager of Hilton Inn South in Orlando, Fla. Three months later he was named manager.

Remaining in the Hilton chain, Harrill, in 1972, was named resident manager of the St. Petersburgh Hilton, which is owned by the same persons who own the Hilton Inn at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport.

Harrill was appointed general manager of the Hilton at Metropolitan Airport in June, 1974, where he remained until given his present position last June.

A resident of Florida 23 years, where his parents still live, Harrill met and married his wife, Judy in January, 1972. The couple are expecting their first child in a few months.

ALTHOUGH THE hotel business has occupied 10 years of his life, Harrill could have been a mechanic.

"I helped my father repair some engines on his boats while still a kid; but somehow the hotel business got into my blood," he smiled.

Harrill's responsibilities as general manager include, the guest rooms, two restaurants, health club facilities and a banquet area accommodating up to 1,100 persons. Within three weeks, the hotel's Jolly Miller restaurant and lounge will be open for business, Harrill added.

Moving into this job before the Plymouth Hilton was ready to open put an added burden on the new general manager.

"There were times when we were really worried about whether or not we would be ready for our target date of Oct. 31," Harrill said. "Shipments of equipment, including the carpeting, were slow in arriving, but somehow it all fell into place."

Aesop visits Fiegel School

By DARLENE STINSON

Storybook characters sprang to life at Fiegel and Isbister elementary schools last week, as Dr. Aesop, the famous fable spinner, presented his cast of characters on a black-curtained puppet stage.

The boy who cried wolf was there, and so were the tortoise and the hare who competed in that world-famous race. A tiny mouse freed his friend, the lion, from the hunter's snare, while a red-furred fox turned down a bunch of hanging grapes.

SPONSORED BY the Plymouth Community Arts Council, the puppets wriggled and laughed, and joked and played over the hidden hands of Mel Biske, a member of the Chicago-based Melikin Puppet Theatre.

"It amazes me how much you resemble the children of my day," said the balding, pink-faced Mr. Aesop, as he peered into the audience from the lighted puppet stage. "And I go back a long time—even before the days of television.

"I was born 2,500 years ago as a slave on an island off the coast of Greece. I used talking animals in my stories, so I could talk about people without hurting their feelings."

"My stories aren't really stories though," he said. "They're fables. Fables are a way of telling stories, so you can learn a lesson."

WITH THAT a flaxen-haired farm girl appeared on stage with a basket of eggs in hand and cited the dresses and hats she'd buy with the funds from hatched chicks. But a slip, a fall and a batch of broken eggs ruined the well-planned scheme.

"I guess Patty has learned a good lesson—you don't count your chicks before they're hatched," said Mr. Aesop over the farm girl's wails. "I wrote that fable more than 2,500 years ago, and it's still strong today."

More furry, beloved animals appeared on the well-lighted stage, ensnaring the attention of students for the duration of the show.

"I liked the slow turtle because he won," said first grader Jerry Jewett. Other students chimed in. "I liked the lion." "I liked the rabbit. I liked the whole thing."

The performances, a program from the Detroit Youtheatre Show on the Road of the Detroit Institute of Arts, was sponsored by the PCAC and a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Governments balk on bottle control

"It's not a dead issue. I believe in it," said Marda Benson, chairperson of the Intergovernmental Committee. This was inspite of an apparent balkiness on the part of local governments to support the committee's push to ban non-returnable bottles.

None of the areas in the Plymouth Community School District represented by the intergovernmental unit is exactly enthusiastic about the project.

Richard Gornick, Plymouth Township trustee, told the committee his board agreed "a local ordinance is not the way to go," and turned down the suggestion by a 5-2 vote. He added, "They can't enforce what they have on the books now."

A choice is available in Plymouth Township according to Gornick. Wrigley's offers beverages in both returnable and non-returnable bottles.

RICHARD INNES said Superior Township was not interested in a local ordinance but favored joint support for a state ban.

Norbert Battermann, reporting for the City of Plymouth, said the carry-over commission following last week's general election showed a2-2 split on the issue.

Battermann said City Attorney Charles Lowe had reviewed the legal aspects of a local ordinance and found there could be no control over bottles containing alcoholic beverages. He said, at this point, he could not predict how the new city commission would respond to the proposal.

Committee members noted recent newspaper articles which indicated a strong lobby was under way by the bottling and beverage companies to maintain the status quo in the industry.

Students continuing archeological dig

Archeologists are sifting through the earth near East Middle School these days in quest of "ancient" remains from the mid-20th century.

Equipped with spades and shovels and screens for sifting, the workers are methodically covering the site of a recently demolished home and recording their treasures on charts in grams.

The "archeologists," fifth grade students in Carol Welsh's class at Allen Elementary School, are visiting the archeological site in shifts as part of their study of ancient civilizations.

WITH WORK underway for about two weeks now, failure to uncover a skeleton of Neanderthal man or other ancient remains has not discouraged the students a bit.

After all, they note, their treasures now include a 1941 penny and a bracelet from a mid-century jewelry box.

The project, according to Ms. Welsh, is giving pupils a peek at methods of archeological research and stimulating their interest in school.

"They're interested," she said with a sweeping gesture toward a shelf of archeological books. "They've read all these books they normally wouldn't have. I think if you get them interested, they'll learn anything."

Ms. Welsh credits fifth grader David Schelling with conception of the archeological dig idea. David, she explained, discovered a fish fossil, formed 600 million years ago, on the school playground one day.

"I found the fossil, and my friend and I looked it up to see what it was," David explained. "I asked Ms. Welsh if we could get permission to do a dig. You find things that tell about the past, and you can know what happenned millions of years ago."

David's idea caught like fire among fifth graders in Ms. Welsh's classroom. They decided on the site near East Middle School where a house had recently stood. The site, pupils reasoned, should contain artifacts used by residents of the house.

STUDENTS, WHO have already dug 10 to 50 inches into the ground, have so far uncovered two pennies from the 1940s, a bracelet, a ring, a remnant from a garage and numerous fossils.

"My partner and I were digging and found a fossil," confided fifth grader Craig Hancock with excitement. "We like going out there. Being an archeologist would be fun. If you were lucky, you could discover remains of a city or a bone or something."

Cindy McSurely cited some disappointment in her classmates' findings.

"I like to dig," she said, "but I was hoping to find Hoffa or something."

I wish to thank you for the excellent picture story in the Observer & Eccentric on Thursday, Oct. 2., concerning our multiple sclerosis group in the Plymouth area.

One of our primary objectives is to get people suffering from MS out of the house. Stories like yours will encourage other MS people to become active.

DeHoCo donates apples

Seventy-five needy groups in the metropolitan Detroit area were the recipients recently of 50,000 apples grown by the Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo) on a 60-acre orchard in Plymouth Township. From left are: William Rucks, director of the corrections department; Forest Holman, deputy director of Neighborhood Services Department which distributed the apples; Chuck Anderson of the Cass Corridor Safety for Seniors; and Edward Johnson, chairman of Concerned Citizens at Franklin Wright Settlement. Earlier this year, DeHoCo inmates harvested five tons of cabbage and 13,000 ears of corn for the needy and canned apples, peaches and cherries for use at DeHoCo.

Drop-out figures released

During the 1973-74 school year, 7.75 per cent of the students in grades nine to 12 in Plymouth Community School District dropped out of school.

That finding was reported in a study released last week by the Michigan Department of Education which annually publishes a statistical report on dropouts from public high schools in Michigan.

The percentage at the Centennial Educational Park includes those students who dropped out at the end of the school year by not enrolling again in September, 1974.

IN PLYMOUTH, most of the dropouts were in the senior year (92) with 80 dropping out in their junior year, 50 in their sophomore year, and none in their freshman year.

Divided by sex, 62 male and 30 female seniors dropped out, 40 male and 40 female juniors, 30 male and 20 female sophomores.

The 7.75 per cent drop-out rate at the CEP in Plymouth compares as follows to these districts: Allen Park, 3.9 per cent; Cherry Hill, 10.45 per cent; Dearborn, 5.5 per cent; Detroit, 14.8 per cent; Melvindale, 7.4 per cent; Garden City, 7 per cent; Grosse Pointe, 1.05 per cent; Highland Park, 19.9 per cent; Lincoln Park, 7.6 per cent; Livonia, 3.05; Redford Union, 8.2 per cent; South Redford, 2.61 per cent; River Rouge, 12.3 per cent; Wayne-Westland, 5.9 per cent; Crestwood, 7.8 per cent; Northville, 3.05 per cent; and Van Buren, 9.7 per cent.

THE STATE defines dropouts as all students removed from the school membership before graduation for any reason other than cases such as transfers to other schools, student deaths, illness or injury affecting attendance through the end of school.

The drop-out rate was obtained by dividing the total drop-out figures for grades nine to 12 by the total membership and multiplying by 100 to obtain the per cent.

The dropout numbers are reported at the grade lvel in which the student was enrolled at the time the drop out occurred.

Students learn about research opportunities

Students will get a peek at the future when General Motors national assembly programs, Previews of Progress, appears today (Monday) at Plymouth Canton High and Pioneer Middle School.

The non-commercial show "seeks to inspire more student interest in science, engineering, and related technical and vocational careers to provide the trained talent America needs to keep pace with the promise of the future," explains GM President Elliott M. Estes.

Previews of Progress demonstrations depict work being done today in America's research laboratories and point out the contributions of research to modern living. A two-man team narrates the live show in non-technical language.

MORE THAN 30 million students and adults in the U.S. have seen Previews since 1946. Millions more have seen the show in Canada and 15 foreign countries, including special presentations made overseas at the request of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Featured is explanation and demonstration of a catalytic converter, a device used to reduce automobile related exhaust pollutants.

Based on extensive research and engineering, GM believes the catalytic converter is the best choice of alternatives at this time for meeting federal requirements because it reduces emissions of pollutants while also permitting improvements in fuel economy and driveability of automobiles.

ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION uses a laser beam to translate the sounds we hear into visual patterns of light.

In all, students will see nine live eramples of research-in-action.

Previews has received acclaim from educators and civic organizations for its efforts in encouraging more student interest in science, engineering, and related careers.

The program originated in May of 1937 to combat the widespread feeling then that continuing technological advancement was limited.

Canton asks for traffic light

Motorists traveling on Haggerty near Ford Road may no longer have to dart between oncoming cars to cross the Haggerty-Ford interchange.

At the request of the Bedford Villa Association, members of the Canton Board of Trustees have agreed to forward a resolution to the Wayne County Road Commission and the Michigan State Highway Department, requesting installation of a traffic light at the intersection.

Representatives of the State Highway Department recently agreed to conduct a study of the corner and submit a recommendation on the requested traffic light, according to Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

If the highway department favors installation of the traffic light, township officials will ask the Wayne County Road Commission to pave a portion of Haggerty, Greenstein said. The state requires a 200-foot stretch of pavement on all four sides of a traffic light.

Bedford Villa residents have complained about the dangers of crossing the intersection during rush hour, the supervisor explained. One resident cited long lines of cars and a five to 15-minute wait required to cross the intersection each morning.

Signs of winter

A reminder that winter is just around the corner is given motorists driving down Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth with this suggestion to order snowblowers now before snow piles up too heavy on the driveways. (Staff photo)

Father, son team testing eyes

Dr. Richard Kenzie, the optometrist who has been practicing his profession in Plymouth for the past 16 years, is realizing a hope that comes to few fathers.

Ever since his son, Paul, was born 24 years ago, the doctor has been looking forward to the day when the young lad may join him in business. He realized through the years that not too many fathers enjoy the partnerships of their sons in business—let alone a profession.

But the desire was fulfilled during the past month when the son, a graduate of the Illinois School of Optometry, his dad's alma mater, joined him in the office on Forest Avenue.

"It's almost like starting over," the elder said. "Paul is bringing with him some of the modern ideas and helping me to remember many of the things I had almost forgotten. And between the two of us we are able to acquire some of the latest equipment to provide better service for the community."

Among the new pieces of equipment is a machine for testing for glaucoma. This is a machine that tests the pressure on the eye and is said to be the last word in modern optometry.

The second piece is for testing conditions for the use of bifocal contact. It is a complicated procedure, but it literally takes a picture of the eye and this camera like action provides the basis for bifocal contact lenses.

Dr. Kenzie, proud as all fathers would be, said that the acquisition of his son as a partner and the equipment have given him a fresh outlook.

Talking of new twist in his career Dr. Kenzie, a graduate the Illinois College of Optometry and a former student at Michigan State, recalled that he started his practice in Redfored 26 years ago . He also smiled in stating that his two daughters also in much the same profession. Kathy has a masters degree and Diane is an assistant to an opthomologist in Cleveland, Ohio.

East struggles past West in two overtimes

Garden City East continued its jinx over crosstown rival West Friday night as the Panthers took a pulse-pounding, 33-27, victory in two overtimes before a packed East High stadium crowd.

It was the ninth consecutive year of frustration for the Tigers as East coach Gary Humphrey hasn't lost to West in that span of time, winning eight and tying one.

Defensive halfback Jim Riley made the game-breaking play in the second overtime as he picked off Tom Poole's pass on his own five yard line and raced down the left sidelines 95 yards with the deciding touchdown to give East a 5-3-1 record. West finished 5-4.

The annual intra-city rivalry, which is one of the most emotional in the area, brought a overflow crowd to witness the exciting game which saw East's Panthers dominate the first half.

With the injured quaterback Wally Krol back in action, East once again looked like it had earlier in the year. The two teams sparred back and forth for field position in the first quarter, but the Panthers, under the guidance of Krol, moved 68 yards in 11 yards to take a 7-0 lead.

Fullback Bob Hudson, who also caught key passes while playing tight end, bulled his way through several tacklers for an eight-yard the touchdown and Rob Taraskavage added the point.

Terry Bradley, who scored two touchdowns, carried the first three West plays and netted 10 yards and a first down, the only one West picked up in the first quarter. However, after East scored its first TD, John Stupyra, who played a tremendous game for West, gathered in the ensuing kickoff on his 20 yard line and raced up the middle 80 yards for a touchdown and his extra point tied it at 7-all.

Mike Thomas, who gained 102 yards in 27 carries, his finest performance of the year, set up Korl's one-yard TD as East led at half, 13-7.

Thomas continued his fine play and fullback Keith Sieczkowski, who scampered 78 yards in 16 rushes, ran the final 18 yards to put East ahead, 20-7, when Taraskavage added the PAT.

Just when things looked bleak for West, Poole came out firing and hit end Bob Samples with an 18-yard first-down pass. Then Poole lofted a 40-yard aerial that Bradley pulled in on the sidelines and he raced all the way to the Panther four.

Bradley knifed off guard four yards on the next play and Stupyra added the point after as East led, 20-14.

After West stopped East, Poole generated a 62-yard drive in 10 plays to tie the game at 20-20. First he zeroed in on John Stupyra, whose brother Dale also played a good game in the secondary, with a 24-yard pass.

Then Poole pitched 15 yards to end Shawn Dunnigan for another first down. Samples grabbed an eight-yard pass in the left corner of the endzone for the tying touchdown but Stupyra's extra point attempt was wide.

East threatened in the fourth quarter but a 40-yard field goal attempt with five seconds left was no good.

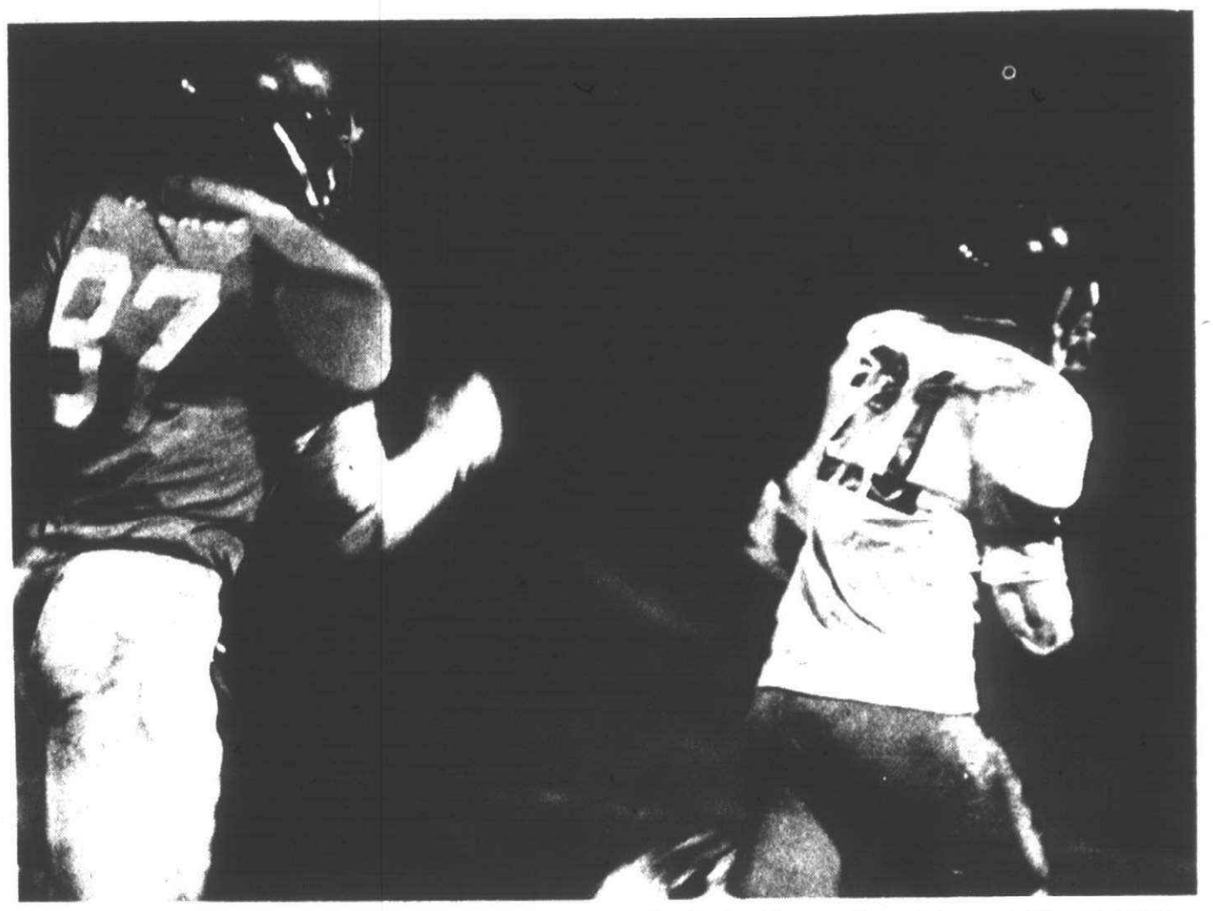
In the first overtime period, West won the toss and went on defense. Krol promptly fired a "look-in" pass to lanky 6-foot-4 end Greg Emery for a touchdown on the first play and the kick was good as the crowd roared.

West, trailing 27-20, got a first down on the five when an East defender interferred with Bradley on a pass pattern. Bradley then carried three straight times, lunging the final yard for the score and Stupyra knotted it, 27-27.

IN THE SECOND OVERTIME, West went first and Bradley was again pushed on a pass pattern for a firtst down at the four. Bradley ran around his left end into the endzone on the next play, but two West players were in motion and five yards were marked off against the Tigers.

That set the stage for Jim Riley to become the final hero of a game that had many heroes on both sides. On third-and-nine, Riley raced in, picked off Poole's pass and raced 95 gleeful yards for the meciding TD which kept the nine-year unbeaten streak alive.

"I thought Krol played an outstanding game as did Poole and Bradley," said Humphrey. "It was a whale of a game and could have gone either way. West gave an all-out effort but I'm naturally happy for our boys who worked so hard to pull out the victory."



Breaking away with this 40-yard pass completion is Garden City West halfback Terry Bradley who carried the ball to the four-yard line. Bradley scored two touchdowns in East's 33-27 double overtime victory which extended the Panthers' unbeaten streak against the Tigers to nine consecutive years. Giving chase is defender Dave McCall (87). (Staff photo)

Tigers 2nd in Tri-River

Although Garden City West's overall won-lost record was not overly impressive, coach Bill Pinnell's cross country team finished the season on a high note by placing second to powerful Cherry Hill in the Tri-River League meet.

"We were basically an inexperienced squad," Pinnell pointed out, "but many of the runners constantly improved with experience and we feel we have a nucleus returning next year that will really help us."

The Tigers' second place league meet finish, along with their 5-2 dual meet record earned them a second place for the season.

Pinnell also pointed out that West's first place finish in its own invitational was a source of pride and felt the Tigers' 28-29 dual meet victory over Dearborn Heights Riverside was one of the most satisfying and exciting times of the year.

Leading the Tiger harriers all season was senior, Mike Cundiff, who earned various awards at many of the invitationals as well as all-league recognition for the second year in a row. Cundiff also was named to the Observer & Eccentric second team all-area.

Other top scorers were junior Mark Boyd, who missed a position on the all-league team by one spot when he finished eighth in the league meet.

Tied for third in scoring were senior co-captain Vic Janis Keith Cox, a promising sophomore.

"I feel the runners got valuable experience running in the various meets and that next year that experience will help us continue to build a winning team," Pinnell said.

However, Inkster Cherry Hill, which hasn't lost a dual meet in two years, has won 19 consecutive dual victories and placed four runners in the first seven finishers in the Tri-River League race.

"Cherry Hill is plenty tough, but we hope to work with our boys and give them some real competition next season," Pinnell said.

The veteran track and cross country coach, who is also athletic director at Garden City West, said he had several boys he's counting on next year.

Among the ones Pinnell said he was counting on were Curt Bastianelli, Greg Fergerson, Al Brackett, Doug Chamberlain, Glen Branham, Lewis Lance, Eugene Maggioncalda and Luis Resto.

"These and a few new runners should make West a strong contender next year," Pinnell said.

Chargers down Spartans

By TOM SCHRAM

The stage was set and the proceedings began right on the 8 p.m. cue. Livonia Stevenson was to upend Livonia Churchill, champions of the Western Six League and lay claim to a city championship with an earlier victory over Northwest Suburban titlist Livonia Franklin.

But someone got the lines mixed up, the villian ran away with the girl, the hero got stuck at the train station and Churchill took a come-from-behind 20-14 football victory over the Spartans Friday.

Not that it was easy.

The much-heralded Charger defense bent and broke the first two times Stevenson had the ball as the Spartans ran up a 14-7 lead after one quarter.

But Churchill took over the momentum from that point and two second half interceptions led to touchdowns which proved the difference.

IT WAS A sad conclusion to the season for Stevenson coach Jack Reardon and his Spartan team.

It was the ability of the Churchill defense to cope with Spartan quarterback Jim Dolmetsch that proved the difference.

Dolmetch's passing set up the first Spartan score and accounted for the second. But in the second half, the junior signal caller completed only one of 17 attempts for 11 yards.

Churchill took the opening kickoff and marched to a score.

On the fifth play of the drive, Mike Streicher hit Scott Shephard with a look-in pass over the middle and Shepard shrugged off a tackler and hustled 50 yards for the score.

But the Spartans struck right back. Going 67 yards in six plays, co-captain John Lokar scrambled the final 19 yards to knot the game. Dolmetsch's aerial to Jim Holycross for 31 yards paved the way for Lokar's run.

CHURCHILL STALLED following the ensuing kickoff and Stevenson took over on the 50. This time it took the Spartans 10 plays to hit paydirt with a Dolmetsch pass to Mike Sims for 24 yards setting things up and one to Ron Colone for six yards putting it over. Bill Rowley booted his second conversion and the 14-7 score stood up until halftime.

Both teams stalled on their first drives following intermission and Dolmetsch threw his second interception of the night on third down on the Spartans' second series.

Matt Foster made the grab to give Churchill the ball at midfield. Five plays later, Streicher threw a pass which diving defender Rowley tipped into the hands of John Curran and, with Rowley sprawled behind him, it was a simple 29-yard jaunt to paydirt for Curran.

Foster's conversion tied things at 14-14.

Early in the fourth quarter, a long Charger punt pinned Stevenson deep in its own territory. Operating out of a shotgun, Dolmetsch was thrown for a loss and on third and 16 from his own two, his pass over the middle was intercepted by Scott Shepard who returned the ball to the Spartan four.

On the next play Bill Coyle covered that distance over left tackle for the deciding points.

Two 15-yard penalties helped Stevenson on its next possession march to the Charger 29 yardline where Dolmetsch missed on four passes.

Stevenson never threatened again.

"We knew we were in for a tough game and we weren't all that surprised when Stevenson scored the first two times they had the ball. But after that, our line controlled the game," said Churchill coach Ken Kaestner.

"But the credit for this win goes to the assistant coaches Bob Armstrong and Roger Frayer and to the seniors on this team and, in particular to Matt Foster who I think is the best football player in the state," Kaestner added.

Stevenson coach Jack Reardon considered the year a success despite the loss.

"As a whole, the team played much better than I expected them to this season. John Lokar played exceptionally well, especially tonight. We lost our poise a little in the second half but we started four sophomores. In all, I was very pleased with this season, though," he said.

Churchill finished the year with a 7-2 mark while Stevenson bowed out at 6-3.

Clarenceville romps for 5th season win

Clarenceville traveled all the way to Ortonville Friday night to wind up its season on a winning note, 29-14.

The Trojans, under coach Ralph Weddle, built up a 29-0 lead before substituting freely against Brandon High School and permitting the latter to close the gap.

The Trojans scored in every period and ran up 22 first downs to Ortonville Brandon's seven. They were paced by quarterback George Scholes' passing, the the running of backs Rick Canady, who gained 110 yards in 16 carries, Rob Reed and Don Heidelberg.

It was Reed who tallied first on a six-yard run from his fullback position to cap a 13-play, 70-yard drive. Reed then ran the two point conversion for a 8-0 lead.

Canady's turn was next and the speedy tailback churned 19 yards on an off-tackle slant to race to paydirt. When Reed ran the two-point conversion, the visitors led, 16-0, at the half.

Clarenceville, which totaled 278 yards to Brandon's 267, upped its lead to 23-0 when Don Heidelberg took the second half kickoff and raced up the middle 76 yards for a touchdown. Jeff Garrison added the extra point.

Scholes, who hit five-of-nine passes for 52 yards, connected with Canady on a 21-yard screen pass for the final Clarenceville score before the host squad scored a pair of touchdowns against the substitutes.

Split end Tim McCammitt was triple-teamed, which helped the Trojan running game go better, but still pulled in three passes for 29 yards. The Trojans, which shared the Metro West League title with Oak Park and Dearborn Heights Annapolis, finished with a 5-4 season record.

Salem blitzes RU for Sub 8 title

Plymouth Salem's girls basketball squad blitzed Redford Union with a 24-4 fourth quarter scoring explosion to bury the visiting Pantherettes, 66-52, and claim the Suburban Eight championship.

Coach Ken Dersey's RU girls led all the way until Salem's relentless man-to-man defense wore down the talented visitors and made the comeback possible.

The Pantherettes led at the quarter breaks by scores of 14-12, 31-26 and 48-42 before a burst of 17 consecutive points by the Rocks put the game on ice.

"I'm thrilled to death that a team with a man-to-man defense won this ball game," said a delighted Debbie Hatcher, now in her third year as Salem coach. "For some reason we play better when we're behind and sometimes have a hard time getting rolling. But when we get hot, we usually finish with a flourish."

Redford Union, sporting a scintillating 11-2 mark, invaded Salem's gym Thursday night, fully intent on avenging an earlier, 53-49, setback at the hands of Salem on its home court.

And for three quarters the Pantherettes, behind the scoring punch of guard Cindy Rossi and forwards Lori Slack and Sue Pastula, kept the lead. Rossi fired in 13 points and played a good floor game while forwards Slack and Pastula had 11 and 10 points and usually high-scoring guard Barb Brown also added 10.

Junior Salem forward Peggy Moore was a tiger on the boards, hauling in 12 rebounds as well as canning a game-high 21 points in leading the Rock resurgence. Freshman Diane Goodrich had 17 points and 10 rebounds, sophomore Kathy Dillon contributed 14 points, and senior center Linda Agardy led the defense with 13 rebounds and dropped in eight points.

Leading the floor game was sophomore guard Carol Crissey, who collected eight assists and grabbed four steals as well as playing strong defense.

Coach Hatcher attributed the fouling out of Redford Union's two big girls, Linda Kosovac and Lori Slack, as the turning point, but credited her team's tenacious defense for forcing the issue.

Salem, which ran its league mark to 9-0 and 13-2 overall, was out-rebounded 23-21 in the first half but turned the game around by snaring 22 caroms in the second half to RU's 11, for a 43-34 game edge.

"Our desire is very great," coach Hatcher emphasized, "and we trailed at one point, 39-26, after RU sank eight straight points to start the second half. But we just don't quit and I'm thrilled to death with the way the girls came through."

STEVENSON—PONTIAC NORTHERN

Livonia Stevenson continued to roll in the Inter-Lakes League with a 41-16 trouncing of Pontiac Northern behind a balanced team scoring effort.

In running their record to 8-0 in league play and 12-3 overall, the Spartans got 10 points from center Jeri Isanhart.

Senior forward Jane Thomas paced the team in rebounds with 11 and tossed in seven points as teammate Carolyn Booth helped on the boards with 10 rebounds.

Stevenson's floor game was put in gear by guard Dawn Klann, who had five points and three assists, and guard Elaine Jeffreys' four steals.

The Spartans host Walled Lake Central Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in another league contest.

Deluca's kick defeats Wayne

Westland John Glenn posted the winningest season in the school's 10-year history when it rode Todd Deluca's fourth quarter 30-yard field goal to a 3-0 over archrival Wayne Memorial Friday night for the Rockets' eighth win in nine games.

The winning three-pointer came with just 2:18 left in the fiercely contested intra-city rivalry that was played before the largest crowd since the grid series started.

"It was the greatest high school game I've ever been a part of," said coach Lloyd Carr, now in his third year as head of the Rockets, who were 2-6 in 1973 and 5-3 last year.

Glenn's only loss this year was a 20-13 decision to Livonia Franklin.

Glenn ran up 230 total yards to just 70 total net yards for the host team. The Rockets' front wall held Zebra runners to just 10 yards net rushing the entire game.

However, Wayne had two chances to score after a Glenn third quarter fumble and also after a long pass completion and 15-yard subsequent penalty late in the game.

After a scoreless first half, Glenn fumbled the second half kickoff on its 20 yard line and Wayne Memorial had good field position the entire 24 minutes. However, the Zebras' TD thrust was blunted by Terry Bixler's pass interception in the endzone.

The team's battled back and forth and Wayne's Pat Sheridan punted one kick of 60 yards and another of more than 50 to keep Glenn bottled up.

The Rockets got the ball with 6:30 left in the game on their own 30, and moved 70 yards for the deciding field goal. Key play in the drive was on a third-and-11 situation when sophomore back Jerry Cook sprinted 19 yards on a counter play.

When the drive stalled on the Wayne 21 yard line, Deluca booted the field goal from the right hash mark and the ball barely sailed over the crossbar for the winning points.

Wayne made one last-gasp effort when it completed a 50-yard pass play with two minutes left on a fourth-and-20 play that carried to the Glenn 13 yard line with the help of a 15-yard penalty.

However, a sack of the quarterback by middle guard Mark Grabowski and a blocked field goal attempt by tackle Jeff Cuddeback sealed Wayne's defeat.

St. Agatha romps

Senior halfback Gerard Trujillo scored on runs of 20 and 28 yards the first two times St. Agatha had possession of the ball ball and the Aggies went on to take a 38-0 season concluding football victory over Hamtramck Immaculate Conception Friday.

The victory gave St. Agatha a 6-3 final mark, up from 5-3 last year.

Trujillo's runs capped drives of 66 and 58 yards and got the Aggies off to a roaring start. Imaculate Conception dug in and held the Aggies scoreless for the rest of the half, but the roof caved in after that.

Dennis Wright started the second-half fireworks when he went three yards on a quarterback sneak in the third quarter.

Wright then hit Kevin Murphy for a two-point conversion to make it 22-0.

Early in the fourth quarter, Jim Petriches went five yards on a sweep to remove all doubt and give St. Agatha a 28-point margin.

Wright improved that by two more when he went over for the conversion.

The final Aggy score came with six minutes left when Paul Churches intercepted a pass and ran it back 11 yards for a touchdown. Wright again hit for two points on the conversion when he tossed to Murphy.

St. Agatha piled up 308 yards total offense and tallied 13 first downs while limiting their opponents to just four first downs.

Everyone played for the Aggies with substitution starting in the second quarter.

Trujillo took rushing honors with 114 yards in 13 carries while Mully added 85 yards, all in the first half.

Salem rallies, but stolen pass seals doom

By BILL COLLINS

The Farmington Harrison Hawks came up with timely scoring, and supported by an obstinate defense, downed the Plymouth Salem Rocks 17-7, in the annual season finale between the clubs at Plymouth's Centennial Park Stadium Friday night.

Harrison, runner-up in the Western Six conference, ran 14 rushing plays en route to its first score. The Hawks took possession of the opening kickoff from their own 40-yard line and used six minutes moving the 60 yards for the game's initial score.

Junior fullback John Payne climaxed the drive on a one-yard dive. Paul Rogind's conversion gave Harrison a 7-0 lead. Harrison held the Rocks on their series and drove to Salem's 34 before fumbling the ball away.

Harrison was unable to get the wheels of their offensive machine in gear.

Quarterback Jeff Thorne threw four passes in the first half for the Hawks, three of his aerials being intercepted by the alert Salem secondary.

Senior cornerback Joe Scott, safety Dick Bradburn, and Kevin Grahn pilfered Thorne's passes which forced the offense to keep on the ground.

Although Harrison held the upper hand in total yardage in the first half, 119 to 23, and in first downs nine to one, the halftime score saw the Hawks lead by a touchdown, 7-0.

The third quarter was indicative of the solid defensive play that both teams displayed.

Salem was unable to make a first down, while Harrison could gain only one against a Salem defense which tightened up considerably after the Hawks' scoring drive.

Harrison padded their margin midway through the final stanza. The running tandem of Paul Rogind and Mike Bowden gained big chunks of yardage to keep this drive alive. Greg White's 25-yard catch set up a field goal attempt for Rogind at the Salem 27 yard line.

Rogind split the uprights from 42 yards out to put Harrison up 10-0 with 7:23 left in the game. What momentum Harrison might've accumulated after Rogind's kick diminished on Salem's next series.

On their first play from scrimmage after the kickoff the Rocks quickly closed the deficit to three points. Quarterback Ben Wilcox, who completed four of nine passes for 101 yards, found fullback Charlie Johnson with a pass on a slant pattern over the middle.

Johnson muscled his way out of the grasp of three Harrison defenders to complete a 76-yard scoring play to make matters more exciting. Rick Doherty's conversion made it 10-7 with 6:55 remaining in the game.

On Salem's next series Harrisaon iced the victorty when Tim Harsha returned an intercepted pass 65 yards for a touchdown. That score made the final Farmington Harrison 17, Plymouth Salem 7.

Plymouth Salem mustered 197 total yards, 96 on the ground while passing for 101 yards. Harrison counted 163 net yards with 114 being accomplished between the running of Rogind, Bowden and Payne.

Canton 'graph' ends at bottom

By BILL COLLINS

If you put Plymouth Canton's football season on a graph the figure would resemble the structure of a roller coaster. Friday afternoon the Chiefs completed their third season of interscholastic competition by falling to the Dearborn Pioneers, 33-0.

Canton's topsy-turvy season ended on a low ebb as Dearborn struck for three touchdowns in the first quarter to put the game out of reach in its opening moments.

Senior halfback Greg Tarpinian opened the scoring in the contest with a 59-yard run to send the Pioneers on their way. Tarpinian came back for an encore on the next series as he scampered 69 yards for his second touchdown of the game. Steve Wallace added the conversion to make the score, 13-0.

Dearborn increased its margin by seven after a Pioneer drive ended in the Canton end zone with Rob Nagel scoring from five yards out to make it 20-0.

"They just overpowered us," said coach Jim Muneio. "Dearborn is a good ball club and it was one of their better days," said the Canton coach after the loss.

Dearborn made it 27-0 when linebacker Greg Erickson picked off a Tom Close pass and returned the interception 51 yards for a touchdown.

The Pioneers closed out the scoring when Dearborn signal caller Frank Fuja connected with flanker Lee Capatina for a 42-yard touchdown pass to make the final Deaborn 33, Plymouth Canton 0.

The Chiefs loss set their overall record at 3-6, including a 1-4 record in the Western Six conference.

"With the injuries we did have, I think the team did a respectable job," said Muneio. "I said at the beginning of the season we would have a good year, barring injuries. It was an unfortunate situation when some of our key players got hurt. These are things you just don't count on happening."

Canton finished last year with a 3-6 mark, but this year's schedule saw the Chiefs play some solid football teams. Muneio pilosophized, "I think you become a better ball club if you're scheduled with the tougher teams."

Canton will look forward to next season with definite hopes on improving its record. The Chiefs will be getting some players from the junior varsity squad. Next fall will be the first year the varsity will get players from the junior squad.

Daniels Den

By EMORY DANIELS

What happened?

How did it happen so fast? November is already here and I still haven't finished my planning for October. Guess my notes on things not done can go into a file for 11 months from now for reconsideration.

October started out as a nice, quite autumn month. Then came homecoming at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools. Homecomings are fun, but they require more planning and coordination by a newspaper than many other events.

No sooner were the homecomings over then it was Halloween time, election eve for the City of Plymouth, and then somehow it was no longer October. I look at my calendar and it says Nov. 5. What happened to Nov. 1, 2, 3 and 4?

THIS MIGHT WELL be the last time I look at my calendar until Jan. 1, 1976, because from here on out the days are going to blend together and the rush will begin toward the year's end.

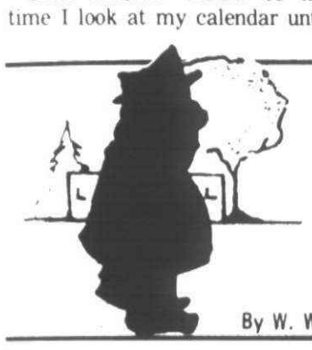
First will come a round of family birthdays when everyone will bemoan the fact they are one year older but will celebrate anyhow. Then Thanksgiving, when we'll make plans not to go to so much fuss this year and then do it.

And after Thanksgiving, there is no escape. Christmas will be rushing upon us as we squeeze in shopping trips—all of which should have been made before Dec. 1 but weren't because I threw my calendar away.

THESE ARE good times ahead, don't get me wrong. But it seems that whenever you're having a good time, the piper's got his hand out.

I don't mind getting older so much, but it is disturbing when a new month arrives unnoticed. Like the father who walks his daughter down the church aisle toward marital bliss, I still haven't figured out whether I've lost an October or gained a November.

You might think this doesn't matter much. But for someone who gears his work-week to two deadlines and each week wages a war against time, it's almost inconceivable that a month can sneak up on me like this. But it did, so bring on the Buckeyes and let's live up November to the hilt.



The Stroller . . .

What's next?

By W. W. EDGAR

What next?

Is there no limit to American ingenuity?

The Stroller was forced to ask himself these questions on a recent morning when he, innocently, praised the appearance of a new flagpole being erected at one of our area banks.

"You think this is a dandy," the workman replied, "You should see our new one--it's automatic."

Many times during his career The Stroller has been taken for a "hayseeder," a country boy in the city, but never by a fellow who was assembling a 30-foot aluminum flagpole.

"What do you mean, automatic?" The Stroller asked. Then he was given a real surprise of seeing a picture of a pole in the company catalogue that is controlled by daylight.

This pole works on the same principle that our street lights now are turned on and off by the advent of darkness and daylight. At the base of the pole is a box containing a motor and a compartment for a folded flag.

ACCORDING TO THE designers or inventors, the arrival of daylight sets the motor in action.

The door to the flag compartment opens and the flag slowly is raised to the top of the pole. And when dusk reaches a certain point, the action is reversed. The flag comes down and is folded and stored for the night without a hand offering any kind of help.

Imagine anything like that.

But don't forget they laughed at the man who came up with the first umbrella.

It is an invention of this sort that leads a fellow to ask, "Is there no limit to man 's ingenuity?"

In the old days, inventions often tended to be stumbled upon. Now we live at such a fast pace we no longer wait for the Fords, Edisons, Eli Whitneys or the Alexander Graham Bells to come along with the products of their fertile minds.

In today's world inventions, for the most part, are ordered in the major industries to get a job done. And invariably it is done.

This is a far cry from the manner in which penicillin was given to the public. If you recall, it came about when the I.G. Farben's chemists were fussing around with dyes. A fellow named Alexander Fleming forgot to wash his Peri plates and the resultant mold created a bacteria free circle around itself. He had stumbled upon what he named penicillin, a valuable drug that helped save the lives of many.

AND DON'T FORGET that Benjamin Franklin discovered electricity while flying a kite. And often it has been asked, facetiously of course, what the world would be like today if Mrs. Franklin hadn't told Ben to "go fly a kite."

In recent times events proved the truth of the old adage that "necessity is the mother of invention."

It is not too long ago that the game of bowling, in which more than nine million persons engage, was headed for oblivion due to the inability to obtain pinboys.

It was then old Charlie Schmidt came out of northern New York with a pinsetter that saved the game. The other companies demanded machines and in a short space there were three on the market. It was the great need that brought them about.

Now we come to the automatic flagpole. There hasn't been a great demand, but the fertile minds of men work on with unresistable foresight.

With the bicentennal upon us, there'll be a great need for flagpoles. So why not make it easy? Remove the necessity of raising and lowering the flag manually each day.

So why not an automatic flagpole? It could be the most unusual product of the bicentennial.

How the ancient gods influence today's language

By SANDY ALDRICH
Special Writer

(The following column examining the classical influence upon much of today's society was written by Sandry Aldrich of Plymouth who teaches mythology and English at Garden City East High.)

Every morning millions of Americans who include a quick breakfast in their daily routine, choose one of several cereals.

The cereal may be cold or hot, dry or cooked, instant or old-fashioned; but the term "cereal" is still applied. Why that particular name?

The Roman, whose influence we readily see in our system of government, worshipped an ancient goddess of the earth whose main purpose was to insure the growth and harvest of all crops, chief of which was grain.

This goddess of grain was originally known to the ancient Greeks as "Demeter," but to the Romans who invaded Greece and absorbed many of their religious and cultural ideas, she became "Ceres"—thus the word "cereal."

CERES IS also found in the scientific world because of Giuseppi Piazzi's 1801 naming of a newly discovered planetoid which followed an orbit between Mars and Jupiter.

Piazzi was a Sicilian astronomer who thought he could best honor his native country for its grain-growing importance in both Greek and Roman times by suggesting the new planetoid carry the name of this goddess.

Because it was also from Sicily, according to ancient mythology, that Ceres daughter was stolen, the suggestion met with the approval of the naming committee.

WITHIN TWO YEARS, Ceres then entered the table of elements because of the suggestion of Martin Heinrich Klaproth, a German chemist, that a new element be named after the new planet. Thus "cerium" joined the list.

The myth of Ceres also contains ancient man's explanation for the change of seasons. Because her story began with the Greeks, her original name of "Demeter" will be used in the re-telling of it.

This generous Demeter who gave to all mankind a bountiful harvest had a lovely daughter, Persephone, who was unwillingly carried to the dark realm of death by Hades, the Greek god of the underworld.

With her daughter gone, Demeter fell into deepest mourning and resolved that the earth wouldn't produce vegetation until Persephone could be restored to her.

The Greek poet Homer, in one of his seventh century BC poems, pointed out that the green and fruitful earth then became icebound and lifeless. (Some scholars see this statement as the ancient mind's explanation of the Ice Age.).

Mankind was doomed to die unless the situation was quickly corrected.

ZEUS, the Greek's highest ranking god, finally decided that he would have to deal with this family matter if the human beings were to be rescued.

Thus he appealed to his brother Hades to return the lovely daughter of their elder sister Demeter. Hades grudgingly gave in but insisted that his homesick bride eat four pomegranate seeds before bidding her farewell.

Persephone and Demeter were delighted to be united again; but when the mother heard of the four seeds that had been innocently eaten, she was saddened by the knowledge that her beloved daughter must return to Hades for four months each year.

It was during these four months that she again experienced the sharp loneliness and sat in despair as her concern for her sun-loving daughter overshadowed her concern for the crops needed by man.

But when the four months of winter had ended and Persephone was allowed to once again step into the sun, the earth bountifully celebrated her coming.

Think of the weeping Demeter preparing for her lonely vigil as you see the trees slowly shed their beautiful foliage.

SEMCOG leaders sway vote against Detroit

By TIM RICHARD

Led by Schoolcraft College's Arch Vallier and Southfield Councilman John Marcosky, the general assembly of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments has in effect voted disapproval of a tripartite agreement to give the City of Detroit a greater voice in the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

The tripartite agreement was made by Gov. William Milliken, Detroit mayor Coleman Young and SEMTA. It calls for Young to appoint five Detroiters, SEMCOG to appoint five suburbanites, and Milliken to appoint three others subject to the approval of six of the other 10 SEMTA board members.

At present, SEMCOG's general assembly appoints six SEMTA board members, and the governor three.

The tripartite agreement would have been acceptable to SEMCOG's executive committee under a resolution passed in October.

BUT THE GENERAL assembly, the final policymaking body, nixed the idea last week. With only one dissent (from Washtenaw County), the general assembly approved Marcosky's resolution which said in part:

"Since SEMCOG's general assembly, composed of local elected officials, has adopted a policy position in support of appointments by the general assembly to the boards of single-purpose authorities, we strongly urge that the SEMTA board continue to include SEMCOG's general assembly as the majority appointing authority and that one unit of government shall not have a majority vote on the SEMTA board."

Vallier, a Schoolcraft College trustee and SEMCOG delegate, started the long debate with his successful bid to table the executive committee resolution, which had asked only that SEMCOG be "an" appointing authority.

He was quickly joined by Livonia Councilman Jerry Raymond, who said the executive committee's resolution "addresses itself to nothing. It says, 'When decisions are made, we hope you'll remember we exist.'

"If there is to be regionalism," Raymond went on, "it must be all-over regionalism. This (SEMCOG general assembly) is where the authority belongs."

Plymouth Mayor Beverly McAninch added her objections to the tripartite agreement: "Let's not let SEMCOG be put into a position of representing only the suburbs."

Delbert Hoffman, a Monroe County delegate (and 2nd District candidate for congress), said, "The SEMTA board should stay the same."

AFTER THE executive committee resolution was denounced and tabled, Marcosky, reelected to the Southfield City Council two days earlier, rose as the meeting was about to end, and reopened the discussion.

Larry Pernick, Oakland County commissioner from Southfield, urged the SEMCOG assembly to act promptly because it meets only every three months and the problem is current.

"If the legislature is to act (on implementing the tripartite agreement), it must act before the end of the year," said Pernick. "We have a unique organization here (in SEMCOG). We have 105 different governments talking about a common problem."

Bloomfield Hills School District Supt. C. Henry Haberkorn offered a simple motion to express disapproval of the tripartite agreement and reorganization of the SEMTA board, but it was voted down as "negative," in the words of Fred Houghten, Oakland County commissioner from Rochester.

Marcosky then introduced his resolution, the preamble of which argued the case for SEMCOG's involvement in SEMTA:

"SEMCOG recognizes the strong link that must continue to exist betwen the citizens of the region, the regional planning agency (SEMCOG) and the regional public transportation agency (SEMTA) if the people of southeast Michigan are to have an effective public transit system . . .

"SEMCOG is the only vehicle in the region which has representation from all levels of government . . . SEMCOG has served as an appointing authority since the passage of Act 204 (creating SEMTA) in 1967, and has done so in a fair and open manner which has increased governmental acceptability . . . ."

Detroiter named to SEMTA seat

Walter E. Douglas, the personal choice of Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, was unanimously appointed to the board of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority last week.

The appointment was made by the general assembly of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. In an informal version of the "one person, one vote" principle, SEMCOG had allocated this SEMTA seat to a Detroiter, as it does with other localities.

The selection is thought by some to represent a victory for Young, who with Gov. William Milliken has been seeking to change a state law to give the Detroit mayor five appointments to a restructured 13-member SEMTA board.

At present, SEMCOG is the appointing authority for six SEMTA posts, with the governor naming three. SEMCOG opposes the kind of change Milliken and Young want to make (see related story in this edition).

The Observer & Eccentric learned that a half-dozen names were submitted by various sources to the SEMCOG executive director, Michael Glusac, and all were turned over to Young, who made the final nomination.

When SEMCOG's general assembly delegates opened their packets of materials last week, Walter Douglas' was the only name before them.

Douglas, 43, succeeds Mattie Meyers, who vacated the post automatically on pleading guilty in federal court to financial mismanagement on another project.

Douglas is a vice president of New Detroit, Inc., where he is responsible for programs in employment, community development, minority economic development and community relations.

A native of North Carolina, he has been an instructor and public relations officer for a Florida college, a teacher at Tuskegee Institute in Alabama and assistant director of the Internal Revenue Service data center in Michigan. He is an accountant.

U-M engineers offer tune-up clinic

The University of Michigan Student Chapter of the Society of Automotive Engineers is sponsoring its 12th auto emission tune-up clinic.

Consisting of a free public classroom session for car owners on Nov. 13 and a tune-up workshop for 35 selected cars on Nov. 15, the clinic will be presented in cooperation with AC-Delco Division of General Motors Corp. and A&L Auto Parts of Ann Arbor.

The tune-up classroom session will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Auditorium B, Angell Hall, on U-M's central campus. The workshop will be conducted at the Automotive Engineering Laboratory on U-M's North Campus.

"In view of our current economic problems, the clinic becomes especially timely for two reasons: participants can save money by learning to tune their cars themselves, and a properly tuned car cuts consumption of costly fuel," says tune-up clinic director David Parta, senior in mechanical engineering at U-M. He adds that last spring's clinic resulted in significant reductions in hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions of the cars qualifying for tune-ups.

Topics for the Nov. 13 classroom session include engine components involved in a tune-up and how to adjust or replace them. The session will be conducted by Clyde Cook, a tune-up specialist from AC-Delco Division of GM.

The 35 persons attending the classroom session will be eligible to participate in the 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. workshop on Nov. 15. However, cars selected may not be equipped with dual exhausts. Only one car per family will be permitted, and a fee of $5 will be charged for participation in the workshop, $6 if the car has air-conditioning.

Specialists from AC and U-M mechanical engineering students will be on hand to assist novice mechanics. Equipment available for use at the North Campus Auto Lab includes five diagnostic units. Provided through the courtesy of A&L Auto Parts of Ann Arbor and AC, these machines can pinpoint parts needing attention. A&L is also supplying forms available at the classroom session which qualify holders for a ten per cent discount on tune-up parts.

The U-M students sponsoring the clinic will make before-and-after emission checks on each car tuned during the workshop.

Great Lakes bottomland bill passes House

A hotly-debated bill to protect historical artifacts on Great Lakes bottomland has passed the State House of Representatives, 71-29, with strong local support. It goes next to the Senate.

The bill would give the state first claim on artifacts salvaged by divers if the state deems them of historic imbortance. The state would set the price paid to the finder.

"I sorta felt this was taking away another privilege we have," said Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti), whose district includes most of Plymouth. "What incentive is there to go scuba diving? It's more regulating, more control."

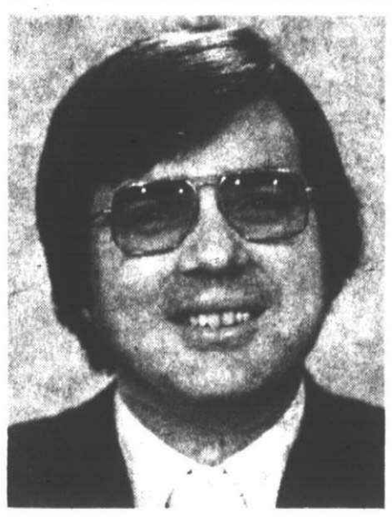
Smith was the only area representative to oppose the bill. Supporting it were Reps. John Bennett (D-Redford), Thomas Brown (D-Westland), Robert Geake (R-Northville) and John Markes (D-Westland). Absent was Rep. William Keith (D-Garden City).

Geake, who supported it, said the State Department of Natural Resources has designated 10 spots in the Great Lakes and Lake St. Clair as historic bottomlands, but this bill would apply to all bottomlands in those lakes.

Grants for gifted approved by state

Gifted students within the Livonia School District will benefit by the continuation of state funding for 12 projects for gifted and talented students throughout the state.

A total of $200,000 has been approved by the State Board of Education for projects in Livonia and 11 other districts.



McCluskey replaces Barringer

Donald J. McCluskey, soon to be of Livonia, has been named manager of Purdential Insurance Co.'s Livonia district office, replacing Elmer C. Barringer, who is retiring after nearly 28 years of service. Barringer joined Prudential as an agent in 1947 and became manager of the Livonia district office in 1956.

Awrey cited as unsanitary

Awrey Bakeries, Inc., of Livonia has been found guilty of unsanitary conditions in a wholesale bakery.

District Judge James R. McCann levied a $100 fine plus court costs on Oct. 15.

Plymouth C-C gala at Hilton

Plymouth, city and township, turned out for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce annual dinner-dance and meeting at the new Plymouth Hilton.

Guests took advantage of intermission for informal tours of the inn which offers convention and banquet facilities for up to 1,000 persons. They visited the Park, an eating and swimming area modeled on the inner court design of an atrium in an early Roman home. It rises three stories and contains a swimming pool, sauna and whirlpool, as well as the coffee and snack shop which seats 120 persons.

The Jolly Miller restaurant has an adjacent supper club which offers dance band entertainment.

Construction of the inn was begun in November 1974 after the purchase of the old Thunderbird Inn by Deane Baker from the Investors Diversified Mortgage Company.

Baker and his wife, Marilyn, city and township government representatives, local businessmen and their wives attended the gala.

Baker is well-known in the area as a member of the University of Michigan Board of Regents, director of the Detroit Rotary Club, Ann Arbor Citizens Guild, Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce and the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The Deane Baker Company is developer of Plymouth Park North, a 242-acre industrial park.

Executive Chef Gaudet supervisors inn cuisine

By W.W. EDGAR

John Gaudet, a squat little French lad who was born 47 years ago in the heart of the lobster country near Bangor, Me., traveled an unusual route to become executive chef at the new Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Road.

He laughs about it now when he recalls he started working as an electrician and planned on advancing that career when he entered the U.S. Army.

"Instead, they put me on kitchen duty," he chuckles. "That's where I learned to cook. And I've been at it ever since."

During his years in the service, Gaudet served with the U.S. troops in Salzburg, Austria, and later in Stutgart, Germany, where he was a special chef for the generals.

"I also had some experience as a mess sergeant, too," he adds.

Catching the attention of the generals he was selected to attend a five-week seminar in Paris. It was there he made up his mind to make a career as a chef.

Since his return from the service, Gaudet, who now lives in Garden City, has served in many top eating establishments in the east and midwest.

He had the thrill of starting in his hometown at the Oronka Club and remained there for five years. He was chef at the Westwood Inn, back in the days when the Westwood Gardens were popular. He also is remembered for his three years of service at Bonnie Brook Golf Club and lately at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport.

Like any lad born in the lobster country, Gaudet confides he likes to prepare lobster more than any other dish. All the while he speaks of the delicious seafood his eyes sparkle. He, like many of the customers, only wishes that the cost of the delicacy was more in keeping with the middle man's purse.

Over the years he has been wearing the high white hat, Gaudet has seen many changes in the public's eating habits.

"People today are more conscious of their weight," he says, "and there has been a falling off of fatty foods. They want fancy dishes but without many calories.

As the executive chef at the new Hilton, Gaudet is designing the major kitchen and hopes to have at least six cooks working under him when the large, new dining room is opened later this month.

While he is looking forward to his new position, he only wishes there would be more lovers of seafood besides those who like lobster.

"There are a lot of good seafood items," he says, "but the general public in this part of the country doesn't know about them. Maybe I can win them over with new dishes."

The troop is also planning on going to Wayne County General to decorate the hospital wards and to present the gifts in person.

Among the items needed for men are: hankies, socks, combs, shaving lotion, playing cards, neckties, small packages of Kleenex; pens; stationary; pocket novels; emory boards; tooth brushes; bags of chocolate kisses.

Items needed for women are: hankies, Kleenex, clip earrings, playing cards, socks, panties (Large-X, large cotton), pens, stationary, sample perfume, emory boards, tooth brushes, combs, sachets for their drawers, bags of chocolate kisses.

Items should be new except for: socks, clean and not worn; pocket novels, in good repair; neckties, clean and not worn; hankies, clean and not worn; clip earrings, any jewelry you would wear. Other items are personal ones and must be new for sanitary reasons.

BRIDGE

The rules of duplicate bridge have always included a requirement that one's opponents must be fully enlightened about bidding conventions.

The modern policy for tournament play is that all unusual calls, calls that might be misunderstood, be brought to the attention of the oposition when they are made.

West led the seven of diamonds.

In the bidding shown with the hand in the diagram, the importance becomes apparent. West's two club overcall could be either a strong or a weak bid.

As examination of the hands show, it is a weak take-out for the unbid suits. When South bids, he promises little strength and it becomes quite important that North be able to evaluate West's call.

Actually South is not too strong, but assurance that West does not have a huge hand is enough to allow North to encourage South to take aggressive action.

Despite the balance of high cards nothing can defeat the slam, but East and West should have been able to use the same information to sacrifice in hearts.

Helen Gilbert to describe historic walk

The November meeting of the Plymouth Historical Society will feature Helen Gilbert, society member as speaker. Miss Gilbert recently took part in the 200th anniversary re-enactment of the Arnold expedition to Quebec, known as the Wilderness Walk.

The 1,200-mile march through the wilds to Quebec was made in the fall of 1775 during the Revolutionary War. An ancestor of Miss Gilbert, William Goodrich, served as a captain in the march.

The recent re-enactment was a major part of the bicentennial observance in Maine.

Miss Gilbert, an amateur genealogist, will show slides and descibe both the original march and the one in which she took part.

The meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 13 at 6:30 p.m. in the Dunning memorial Building. A potluck supper will precede the program.

LWV plans wine and cheese party

Mrs. Walter Kouse who lives on Edenberry in Northville is opening her historic home for the League of Women Voters third annual wine and cheese party from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Nov. 2. Mrs. Kouse, although not a league member, has been a financial supporter of the group over the years.

Mrs. Harold Wright of Northville is accepting reservations until Nov. 14. Area legislators have been invited to the affair and Heide Crissey of Northville, chairman of the party, says all league members, prospective league members, supporters and their husbands are invited. The donation per person is $6.50.

Joyce Silber, LWV member, has hand-printed invitations to the affair which proved a social and financial success for the past two years. Fran DeMott was hostess for the first wine and cheese party and Esther Hulsing had last year's party.

"It seems to be the only time our husbands are included in league activities on a purely festive basis," said Lisa Buckland. "Last year there were about 40 couples and most of our legislators came."

The Wine and Cheese Bar in Northville Square is arranging the wine and cheese combinations and variations for the event

What feelings are 'abnormal' for a widow?

BY SHERRY KAHAN

Am I abnormal?

This question from a widow at the conference on widowhood at Schoolcraft College was the kind that keynote speaker, Dr. Phyllis Silverman had come all the way from the Harvard Medical School in Boston to answer.

The questioner first noted that her husband had died three months before and that she seemed to feel nothing. She spent her time "running 24 hours a day- the house seems so empty."

"Is that abnormal?"

Dr. Silverman responded: "Abnormal? What has that got to do with feeling lousy?

"How else could you do it? People are numbed by the experience. They have to lift out gradually, and activities like these allow you to keep going. If you let all your feelings out at once, you could literally fall to pieces. This numbness helps you take it in.

Dr. Phyllis Silverman (right) has a word with Estelle McBrady of Plymouth following her lecture at the widowhood seminar. (Staff photo)

"It would be unrealistic at three months to expect you to be any better. Many think that in six weeks a widow is back to normal. Ha. Ha. It takes two years maybe."

This is not the time to sedate people, she declared. "I argue with doctors about this. The widow has to cope with her children, decide if they should attend the funeral, get them off to school and confront other realities."

ABOUT 225 ATTENDED the day-long conference planned by the community services department and Newman Center at the college. It was designed to reassure widows about the emotional aspects of bereavement and to point them toward forming self-help groups of widows in their communities.

Dr. Silverman, originator of the widow-to-widow program, noted in her speech that "if a widow wants to begin to shift gears, another widow is the most helpful person to talk to.

"Friends and relatives of a widow will rally round for about a month. But then when you are about to talk, who can you talk to? At this time you have to find psychiatric help or find another widowed person, or flounder."

Reaching out to other widows is being done all over the country, she observed.

The western suburbs may be no exception. According to Peggy Price, one of the conference planners, "there was tremendous respons. from women at the seminar who expressed interest in forming groups in their own communities."

Her statistics indicated that the conferees came from 36 Michigan cities or towns and two Ohio cities. More than half were widows, the rest being ministers, social workers or other professionals interested in the problems of widowhood.

"The next thing to do is to provide training ideas for people ready to begin programs using widow volunteers," said Mrs. Price.

QUESTIONS FROM members of the audience evolved around many subjects including dating. "If you don't want sex, don't do it," she advised. "You have to feel comfortable and live by your own standards."

She added: "I wouldn't get that kind of question in Boston."

Another question concerning selling property.

"Don't move precipitously to sell your house.

How about children who want their widowed mother to stay home and babysit for them.

"Tell them to live their own lives and you'll live yours," said Dr. Silverman to loud murmurs of approval from the audience.

She also suggested that widowed people share their feelings with their children, telling about a child who accused his father of not caring that Mommy died because he didn't cry. He cried alone.

"Kids grieve," she said. "But their bereavement is not always expressed in tears. They are confused. The younger they are the harder it is for them to understand the reality of the situation.

"Young children need an enormous amount of comforting. Sometimes they are afraid to leave the house for fear the other parent may die.

"The worst thing is to have no discussion about it."

OURS IS a death-avoiding society in the speaker's opinion. We want people to act as if it didn't happen. We want them to get over their grief quickly and get back to normal.

"But bereavement is a normal process," she claimed. "If you don't grieve you're not alive. You've never been involved.

"I don't know any widows who don't have nightmares in which their husband is usually alive, and then they wake up and he's gone."

She finds it very exciting to work with widowed people.

"You are helping to build something new out of adversity and pain. You help them find new resources and strengths in themselves to build on for tomorrow. They are on the threshold of something new."

Visitors to Plymouth

Twenty youngsters from Detroit Country Day School in Birmingham were in Plymouth recently to see historic and other sites. They visited the Plymouth Rock by Kellogg Park, the Mayflower Hotel, an antique car restoration shop, Cloverdale Ice Cream, and to Wilcox Lake for a sack lunch. The kindergarten class tour of Plymouth was arranged by the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric. (Staff photo)

Volunteers needed to assist in blood pressure program

When Sally Belding and her family moved to Holly Drive from Cleveland this summer, it was their eighth move in 12 years. Within a week of their arrival, Mrs. Belding was on the phone, looking for "things for the children and me to get involved in."

The Plymouth-Canton YMCA was a natural starting point because in Cleveland she had been on two 'Y' committees and on the board of management.

She volunteered to help out in the Plymouth office occasionally and perhaps to teach a class in crocheting.

YMCA program director Janet E. Luce had bigger things in mind. She placed her in charge of organizing, staffing and running the Y's new community-wide hypertension clinic.

Mrs. Belding doesn't feel like a stranger here any longer.

"We need lots of volunteers—both nurses to take the blood pressure readings and other individuals to see that the accompanying forms are filled out and to make follow-up phone calls to those who are advised to see their doctors," she explains.

Initially, Mrs. Belding is contacting area organizations, arranging for their members to have free blood pressure check-ups during their regular meetings.

"The procedure only takes a minute. The participant will receive a card stating whether his or her blood pressure is high, borderline or normal. Those who aren't 'normal' will then hopefully consult their physicians about treatment."

SIMPLE, but it can save lives.

High blood pressure (hypertension) is the underlying cause of more than 1.5 million heart attacks and strokes each year in the U.S.—60,000 of which are fatal.

Some 23 million Americans, or one in six adults, has hypertension, according to the American Heart Association. Only half of these are aware of their condition, one-fourth receive therapy and one-eighth get adequate control.

The blood pressure readings are important, Mrs. Belding adds, because there are no other symptoms associated with the disease. Despite its name, hypertension isn't characterized by tension or nervousness.

The treatment is relatively simple, however, and can be administered by any physician, trained nurse, or allied health personnel.

"We are hoping to enlist volunteers within each organization to check the forms and to make the follow-up phone calls. Sometimes it helps to have a friend call and remind you to see your doctor."

The clinics will be launched with three older people's organizations—the American Association of Retired Persons, 60-plus, and the Senior Citizens Club.

"However, these persons already see their physicians regularly. What we're really after are the middle-aged businessmen and women—the prime targets for heart disease."

Persons may obtain more information about the hypertension clinics from the YMCA whose offices are in a small upstairs office at 173 N. Main.

JV Rocks win defensive game

By THOMAS ZAIBEK
Special Writer

John Lewelling scampered 65 yards for a touchdown in the third period and Bob Waite's extra point was the difference as the Plymouth Salem JVs defeated Belleville 7-6.

It was a tough bruising game with the only threat of scoring in the first half coming on the last play. Tony Vitale intercepted a Belleville pass on their seven-yard line but was caught from behind on the two.

Belleville scored on the first play from scrimage after Lewelling's run and missed the conversion.

Quarterback Rich Hewlett made numerous crucial offensive plays with his hard running.

Brent Eckler and Mike Hassen led the defensive unit.

The Rocks have won five games against two losses and will close the season today (Thursday) at home against Bloomfield Hills at 4 p.m.

WSU, Garden club

Book offers holiday fare

By ETHEL SIMMONS

Tis the season to buy cookbooks, feed everybody and make them jolly.

To help pursue the season cause, and to raise money, a couple of new cookbooks have been published by women's groups including the Faculty Wives' Club Cookbook, from wives of Wayne State University faculty members, and "Garden Clubs Bicentennial Great Canapes," from Birmingham-Bloomfield area garden clubs.

The WSU cookbook proceeds will go toward scholarships. The garden clubs are raising money for an outdoor reading garden being built at the Bloomfield Township Library.

The faculty wives' cookbook was put together over the summer by Lorraine Cheney, chairman, and her committee.

Club president Natalie Nagwekar explained, "We wanted it to be ready in time for Christmas gifts."

CLUB MEMBERS selected the cookbook project. Mrs. Nagwekar said, "because we have potluck dinners every November, and we're always praising each other's cooking."

Mrs. Nagwekar, of Southfield, is the wife of J. B. Nagwekar, a professor in the School of Pharmacy. He is Indian, and she cooks a lot of Indian food.

"When I learned to cook Indian food, I was in paradise. We have Indian food three or four times weekly."

She contributed an Indian recipe to the cookbook, which also includes recipes from other faculty wives from India. More ethnic recipes are Chinese, Armenian, Greek, German, Italian and French.

"It's (the cookbook) a mixture of family meals, easy recipes and some a little more involved. It's a good cross section of cooking," said Mrs. Nagwekar.

Following is one of the recipes she contributed:

SHRIMP BIRIYANI

Cooking oil (enough to cover bottom of skillet)
1 teaspoon red pepper
¼ teaspoon turmeric
¾ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon cumin
½ teaspoon coriander, powdered
½ teaspoon garlic powder
½ teaspoon garum Masala
3 onions, chopped
1 cup long grain rice, cooked
½ pound shrimp, cooked, cleaned (medium size)

Stir all spices in slightly heated oil, add onions; allow them to become soft (5 minutes). Stir in rice and shrimp, while still hot. The dish is ready to serve immediately. Spices may be slightly increased or decreased according to your liking for spicy dishes. Serves 4-5.

The cookbook's cover design is by Berta Leone, whose husband, Leonard, directs the Hilberry Theatre. Copies of the book have been placed in faculty lounges and various departments on campus.

"Sales have been going rather well," Mrs. Nagwekar said.

Mail orders for the 150-page, spiral-bound book of 400 recipes can be sent to: Wayne State University Faculty Wives' Club, Detroit, 48202. Send a check for $3.95 plus 40 cents postage and packing charge.

THE BICENTENNIAL Garden Club Cookbook is a salute to the nation's 200th birthday, with contributions from 22 local groups. The tiny book, measuring 5½ by 4½ inches, is simply stapled together.

Volunteers cut, folded and stapled the cookbook, which was assembled at the lowest possible cost so most proceeds from the sale price of $1 would be profit for the township library's reading garden.

Bobbi Femmel, editor of the cookbook, also designed the cover. Inside are recipes in categories of Bacon, Liver & Sausage; Breads & Bread sticks; Cheeses; Dips, and Seafood.

All the recipes have historical names, starting with Bunker Hill Bacon Crisps and winding up with 4th of July Shrimp-Zucchini Rounds. Other tempting though hardly authentic titles are Lexington Little Pizza, Green Mountain Boys' Hot Dogs, Yorktown Macadamia Nut Cheese Biscuit, and Anthony Wayne's Doritos Dip.

Oakland YW sets holiday workshops

The Oakland Branch YWCA will offer several pre-holiday workshops in November. Gift and home decorating ideas will be offered.

Advanced and bargello needlepoint classes will begin in mid-November in four-lesson classes each. The advanced class begins Thursday, Nov. 13 at 9:15 a.m. and the bargello class starts Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 1 p.m. Previous experience is required.

It pays to know a DETROIT BANK-er better.
"You can actually write yourself a loan by writing a check."

One of life's more frustrating moments occurs when your checkbook balance is insufficient to cover a planned purchase. Now there's a way to write yourself a loan by simply writing a check as we learned by talking with Mike Robinson, Manager of the Grand River-Middlebelt office of Detroit Bank & Trust.

How can I write myself a loan?
"With Ultra/Chek at Detroit Bank & Trust, you simply write a check for the full amount you need to make a particular purchase or to give yourself extra money whenever you need it. Ultra/Chek is a personal line of credit of at least $500 which you can use by intentionally or accidentally overdrawing your Detroit Bank & Trust checking account by $5 or more. With Ultra/Chek, your checks are good regardless of the balance in your checkbook as long as you don't exceed your line of credit."

Can Ultra/Chek keep my checks from "bouncing?"
"Yes. Many people use Ultra/Chek not only to make planned purchases, but to protect against "bouncing" a check. Of course, we encourage our customers to keep their checkbook in balance, but anytime you write a check that overdraws your account, Ultra/Chek will cover it up to your line of credit."

How much does Ultra/Chek cost?
"There are no charges whatsoever until you actually use your Ultra/Chek line of credit. Once you do the finance charge is lower than many installment loan plans or charge card transactions. Once you activate your Ultra/Chek line of credit, you'll receive a statement each month showing the amount borrowed, interest charged, total owed, minimum payment due and the amount of credit still available to you."

How can I get Ultra/Chek?
"Sit down with any DETROIT BANK-er at Detroit Bank & Trust and fill out an Ultra/Chek application. Easy-to-use, convenient Ultra/Chek protection for your checking account is another reason why you ought to know a DETROIT BANK-er better."

Tune-ups important

A well-maintained car won't need winterizing

Motorists who have followed the regularly scheduled program of car care prescribed in the owner's manual can forget about winterizing, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"While fall tune-ups are fine for your car's ignition and fuel systems," said Auto Club Emergency Road Service Manager Robert M. Smith, "they do nothing for the car's cooling system, battery, exhaust system or many other key components.

"Most 'can't start' calls for assistance are the result of vehicle neglect rather than vehicle failure," Smith said. "Poorly tuned engines and weak batteries are responsible for 80 percent all wintertime emergency road service calls."

Having maintenance work done as recommedded by the vehicle manufacturer rather than seasonal tune-ups is economical because it eliminates costly repairs which occur through neglect.

For vehicle owners who have not followed the detailed maintenance instructions in their car owner's manual, Smith offers this 10-point chekc list for keeping a car in peak operating condition, once it is properly tuned:

1. Check plugs and points regularly. Dirty or worn plugs waste gas and put an added strain on the battery because they require more electiricity than clean plugs. If points are worn, they cannot deliver peak power to plugs.

2. Have car's automatic choke cleaned and adjusted. If automatic choke doesn't cut down when engine is warmed up, gasoline is wated.

3. Inspect the colling system. Hoses, radiator, pressure cap and thermostat as well as the antifreeze level should be checked regularly.

4. Make sure car battery is fully charged, with terminals clean and secure and watjr covering battery plates. Battery should be free from cracks or corrosion. Periodic inspections will assure that battery is properly charged.

5. Check voltage regulator. An undercharged battery will fail and an overcharged battery will buckle its cover and bulge the sides, causing leaks.

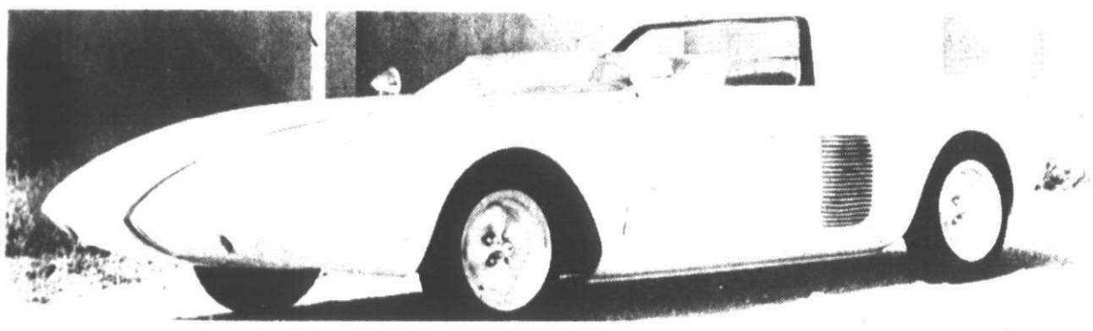
6. Is the exhaust system noisy? A rusty or leaky muffler or exhaust manifold is a carbon monozide hazard.

7. Check windshield wipers and washers for proper operation. Worn or poorly functioning wiper blades cut visibility and should be replaced. Wate rin the windshield washer reservoir should have an added solvent all year long. It not only prevents freeizing, but helps wipers remove slush or accumulation foir better visibility.

8. Make sure defrosters and heater are working properly. Defrosters help keep windshield clear and the heater will take the chill off winter morning.

9. Check fan belt and other belts for proper adjustment and replace them if worn. A slipping belt affects the alternator and operation a car air conditioner.

10. Have a periodic general safety check made every 10,000 miles, including inspection of brakes, headlights, hoses, turn signals, back-up lights and tires. Check brake and transmission fluid levels and fluid level in the rear axle.



Experiment donated

The experimental car of the 1960s, the Mustang I, is being donated to the Edison Institute of Greenfield Village. The fully operational vehicle was displayed around the country to measure public reaction to the car's unusual features. The production Mustang was introduced in April, 1964.
