Canton to host grant meeting

Canton's enrollment in the federally funded bloc grant program last year should begin to pay handsome dividends in 1976.

Last year, the township received more than $32,000 from the department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) via Wayne County, and this year there is good reason to expect the figure may double, according to Supervisor Robert Greenstein.

"Our understanding is the money could be doubled," he said "and that we may receive between $64,000 and $65,000. There's an outside chance we may get as much as $75,000."

Most of last year's funds went towards renovating a building on Michigan Avenue across from the township hall that now houses the recreation department and is used by the senior citizens groups in the township.

A small percentage of the 1975 monies also went towards improving the recreation park next to the fire hall on Cherry Hill and Canton Center Roads.

Use of this year's money has yet to be determined. "We really haven't had time to study the matter," said Greenstein. "We've turned it over to the township planner for recommendation. He's more familiar with the various needs of the community and we'd like to see what we have to say."

GREENSTEIN SAID the most immediate problem facing the township was making sure Canton got its share of the money.

"Although the word is the money will be doubled," said the supervisor,

"we're not sure it will be allocated the same way. We have to make sure the proportions stay the same between the various communities."

Canton is one of 20 municipalities in Wayne County with a population of less than 50,000 that applied with the county last year for the money.

An advisory board, composed of 10 representatives from the various communities and the county, was formed and charged with determining how to allocate the money.

Greenstein chaired the committee and was one of several who fought to give more money to the various municipalities rather than the county.

Canton will host the organizational meeting this year for the advisory committee, and it is Greenstein's hope that the township gets a representative on the committee.

"THERE'S ONLY 10 spots and there are 20 jurisdictions so I'd like to see that we're represented on the advisory body."

The meeting is scheduled for Feb. 4 at the township firehall and the township has until Feb. 13 to respond to the county which must in turn forward the applications to HUD.

The money can go to any of several projects according to HUD guidelines, including housing, recreation, water and sewer projects, neighborhood improvement and housing rehabilitation.

Other projects the money can go to include public services such as child care, health, community development planning, and facilities for senior citizens and the handicapped.

There was a big rush after New Year's Day in the Plymouth Post Office as residents jammed the facility to order large numbers of three-cent stamps to match up with their surplus supply of ten-centers a rush caused by an announcement postage would go to 13 cents for first class letters effective Jan. 1. (Staff photo)

Buying rush inundates post office

Lineups in the Plymouth Post Office have a pre-Christmas look as the big run on three-cent stamps is under way.

Postmaster Arthur Mulligan says they anticipated the rush and sales probably will hit the 200,000 mark before things even out.

"We may have a run on 10-cent stamps," said Mulligan. "People can't have that many on hand."

REMEMBER when you could mail a letter first class for just a three-cent stamp?

According to philatelist Gil Camp of Plymouth, one of the last three-cent commemorative stamps honored the Mackinac Bridge opening. The bridge opened in 1957 and stamp was issued in 1958.

First four-cent stamp was issued in August of that year. Last commemorative four-center was the Wilson Homer which came out in December 1962. The price went up to five cents in January 1963 and held until '70 when the six-centers were issued.

The next jump was to eight cents in May of '71. The Missouri Sesquicentennial was an eight-cent commemorative.

Another two-cent hike in 1973 brought the 10-cent stamp which has been valid until the beginning of the new year. The three-cent jump is the largest in U.S. postal history.

Two types of 13-cent stamps are available at the local post office said Mulligan. There is one with the American flag and another with an eagle.

Officials offer mixed bag of predictions for '76

In most respects, the year 1975 was nothing to write home about. Inflation, continued high unemployment, and a general depression of the Detroit area and the suburbs made for a gloomy economic picture in 1975.

In Canton, however, there were some bright spots as the new administration went to work.

The township continued to grow at fast pace, and a flurry of legislation by the Canton board resulted in ordinances for signs, trees, and a police reserve force.

The mid-decade census was completed, the Mocerri dispute was settled, and the master land use plan was finally completed in the waning moments of the year.

For the schools, it was a rough year. Following strikes by members of the Wayne-Westland and Plymouth Education Associations in late 1974, there was a renewed threat of strikes by both associations in January of 1975, following the firing of 207 teachers in the Crestwood School District.

The year ended on a sour note, as state aid was cut for the second time. The schools suffered a 2.7 per cent cut in December on the heels of a 0.6 cut in October.

Matters were made worse in Wayne-Westland, as voters turned down a school bond issue late in the year.

But things were not as good as chamber president Bart Berg predicted, nor as dire as Supervisor Robert Greenstein guessed.

Greenstein looked for 25-35 per cent inflation in 1975, while Berg said 1975 would be a good year, although not a "banner year."

This year again, we asked officials from the chamber, Canton, and the schools to don their swami caps and look into their crystal balls for 1976.

Here then are their predictions.

Canton Clerk John Flodin is the dean of the township board and one of two holdovers from previous administrations.

The Bicentennial year will be a very important year for Canton Township.

The adoption and implementation of the proposed master land use plan will have a lasting effect on the future growth and development of the township. A great deal of time has been spent on the plan by the Planning Commission, Township Board, and professional people.

Public hearings will be held early in 1976, and township residents will be given the opportunity to view the plan and express themselves.

There will be at least three elections in 1976. The presidential primary election will be held on May 18. The primary for other offices will be held on Aug. 3, and the general election will be held on Nov. 2. Election year is always interesting, and the clerk's office will be very busy during that time.

The question of building a new fire station must be considered. The growth of the community requires a continuing expansion of the fire department, and a study must be conducted on the degree of expansion, and a means of financing the purchase of buildings and equipment, as well as operating expense.

I THINK IT is time that the township addresses itself to the problem of senior citizens housing. A study should be made to see if a need does exist, and if a program should be started to fill that void.

The recreation program is expanding in an orderly manner, and plans have been made so that more people can participate in the 1976 program. The township has been very fortunate in getting enthusiastic volunteer help for the recreation department.

I am pleased to have had a part in the garden program. It has been very successful and should be expanded.

Last year was again a year of exceptional growth. There were 810 building permits issued for single family homes, which was an increase over the 751 issued in 1974. The construction of commercial and industrial is beginning to accelerate, and that is most desirable. There must be value here to attract all these people to Canton Township. New churches are being built which is also a sign of a community coming into maturity.

There is a great future for Canton Township. This community can be as good as we want it to be. I would urge all residents to get involved, and participate in all community affairs.

Earl Hogan, deputy superintendent of the Plymouth Community Schools is author of several books on education and he serves as curriculum advisor for Plymouth schools.

The year 1976 will present the severest financial crunch that the Plymouth Community Schools have experienced in many ways. This financial situation is compounded by executive order cuts by the governor long after the financial planning for and expenditures of the 1975-76 fiscal year had begun. Even further reductions of revenue to schools from the state have been announced as forthcoming early in 1976.

This has caused the school district great difficulty in making adjustments in the budget since expenditures are contracted obligations made on a school year basis.

The latter half of 1976 is expected to bring even further sharp reductions in state support for the public schools as well as other governmental programs. The state legislature has also passed restrictive legislation which prevents the local districts from going to the voters to make up this lost revenue through local property taxes.

THESE FINANCIAL problems will have a direct effect upon the level of educational services in this school district. The only positive aspect of the financial picture is the fact that more time will be available to plan the necessary reductions in educational pro-

Salem graduate leads dance class

A young lady raised in Plymouth will be the instructor of three new dance classes being offered for the winter program of the Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA beginning the week of Jan. 26.

Pam Carlson, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Carlson, will be the instructor for creative movement for preschoolers, ballet for grade school, and creative dance for adults.

The preschool class will be eight weeks from Jan. 26 to March 15 at $14 for members and $20 for non-members. The classes will be in the Plymouth Community Credit Union from 9:30 to 10:15 a.m. for 3-4-year-olds and 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. for 4-5-year-olds—both on Mondays.

Creative dance-adults will meet Tuesdays from Jan. 27 to March 16 from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Starkweather School gym. Fee is $10 for members and $15 for non-members.

Youth ballet is one Saturdays from Jan. 31 to April 10 in the credit union. Times are 9:15 to 10 a.m. for 6-8-year-olds, 10 to 10:45 for 9-11-year-olds, and 10:45 to 11:30 a.m. for advanced beginning. Fees are $8 for members and $12 for non-members.

MISS CARLSON, a 1974 graduate of Plymouth Salem High, has been dancing since age five and has been a dance instructor for the past six years.

Last year she worked with the Plymouth Community Fine Arts Council in arranging dance programs for elementary schools in the Plymouth Community School District. She also gives private lessons for children and adults.

She is now attending the Sevro School of Ballet in Highland Park and is studying modern dance at the Ranzazzo Studio in Ypsilanti.

She took dance lessons from Milly Trumbal of Northville and was a member of the Suzanne Russel Dancers in Jackson. Miss Carlson is a freshman at Eastern Michigan University where she is majoring in dance, and upon graduation hopes to become a dance teacher to instruct persons interested in being professional dancers.

While a student at Salem she was a cheerleader and a member of a gymnastic team in Plymouth.

THE PRESCHOOL class is a preliminary introduction to dance—an introduction to all dance forms—and other physical activities, she explains.

"We'll work with rhythm, and exercises to work with their coordination so they will be able to make their body do what it wants to do."

"A lot of emphasis will be on creativity. The children will be encouraged to use their imaginations instead of being given pre-programmed methods of instruction. They will pretend they are different animals or characters and use hats, masks, balloons and other props to get in the mood."

"A child might, for instance, make his own mask. Then I'd ask, what would you do if you were a clown?"

THE BALLET classes for grade school youngsters will feature classical ballet.

"This class is for pupils who are interested in dance to give them the chance to learn basic ballet—movements and steps."

Creative dance for adults will feature modern and jazz primarily with a little bit of ballet intermixed. "This class attracts a wide age span, from young adult to senior citizens. Mostly members attend for fun and exercise. It is also a good refresher class for those who had dance instruction when they were younger and want to brush up."

Museum picks new curator

By W.W. EDGAR

"My top priority will be to have the museum opened in February!" This was the pledge made Friday by Mark A. Hunt, the 26-year-old native of Topeka, Kan., who had just been named the new director of the Historical Museum in the Dunning Memorial Building.

he said, "and I am certain that it could be opened some time next month. And when it is opened, it will be something of which the people of Plymouth can be proud."

IN TAKING over the directorship, Hunt succeeds Phillip Mroczkowski, who left several weeks ago with the mutual consent of all concerned. "There are so many interesting cir-facts and exhibits in the museum now," the new director declared, "that it shouldn't be too much trouble having them presentable for an opening."

The new director has an exciting month ahead because he also plans to take a bride in Ft. Lauderdale, in February, and then hustle back here for what he hopes will be the long-awaited opening.

rolled at the famed institute in Cooperstown, N.Y.

He spent 12 months in the Cooperstown Graduate Program and was given a degree in American folk culture and historical museum work.

It was here that he found his niche and was honored by being one of five persons selected for internship in Nashville, Tenn., with the American Association of State and Local History.

He spent a year in Nashville working with the professional people whose main objective is the directing the operation of historical museums.

IN SIGNING Hunt as the new director, Miss Dunning explained that he was obtained through an ad in the Nashville institution and that he comes here highly recommended.

If the new director makes good his pledge to open the museum during the month of February, he will be accepted wholeheartedly by the people of Plymouth—and especially the members of the Historical Society—who have been waiting for more than two years to see what is behind the walls of the colonial style building Miss Dunning had built in memory of her parents.

"You'll find that it isn't difficult to get a plane that will bring both of you back," Margaret Dunning, donor of the Memorial Building, told him, "and with a wife to help there should be the big day for which we have been waiting."

THE NEW DIRECTOR brings an unusual record with him to the new task—even though it will be his first assignment as the top man in the museum.

He is a graduate of Washburn University in Topeka where he received his BA degree. He studied law for one semester and then, on the advice of a friend and fellow student, he turned to museum educational work and en-

Where are the babies?

After checking with area hospitals we at the Plymouth and Canton Observer & Eccentric would like to know where the babies are.

As is tradition at this time of year, we are given to calling about, looking for the first newborn in the community for the new year. It makes for a nice picture and story.

Well, we tried on Friday, and much to our chagrin, we couldn't find a little one. Area mothers just didn't seem to be delivering in 1976.

We're still looking, so if you know of a 1976 newborn, give us a call at the Plymouth office at 459-2700, or drop us a line at 461 South Main.

Beginning folk guitar will be taught by Karen Chapin for eight weeks from Jan. 26 to March 15 from 4-5 p.m. in West Middle School, 4401 W. Ann Arbor Trail. Fee is $8 for YMCA members and $12 for non-members. (Brian Watkins photos)

No need for winter doldrums: let the YMCA fill your week

Preschool Kreativities gives youngsters group experience in art, crafts and games from Jan. 28 to March 17 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the Plymouth Community Credit Union, 500 S. Harvey.

The Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA has the largest offering of classes in its history for its winter 1976 program.

Classes begin the week of Jan. 26 and residents may register by phoning the 'Y' or visiting its office at 271 S. Main, Plymouth.

Throughout the daytime there will be classes for preschoolers and adults, with babysitting facilities available for children.

After school, the 'Y' has a large variety of afternoon classes for students and in the evening something for everyone.

THE YOUTH classes being offered include:

Beginning French, Scottish folk dancing, guitar, afternoon gym, basketball skills, GRA-Y, ballet, karate, beginning art and nature, photography and ballet.

Preschool classes include creative movement and Kreatives (arts, crafts and games).

Adult classes include: women's slim and trim, aerobic dancing, French, racketball and paddleball, an evening greenhouse class, evening men's gym, evening creative dance, quilting, yoga, flower arranging, crafts, soft sculpture, crocheting and self awareness.

Fees are lower for YMCA members. Membership in the 'Y' is $7 for individual membership, $12 for family membership, $25 for sustaining membership, $50 for meritorious membership, $100 Century Club, $200 Second Century Club, and $20 for those joining the Y-sponsored Indian Guides, Maidens and Trailblazers. All gifts are tax deductible.

AEROBIC DANCING, a new class this term, is an exercise technique where the participant keeps time to music while tuning up the heart and lungs. It has the same benefits as jogging or swimming, says instructor Lynne Kurtz, but is a lot more fun.

The self awareness class is for eight weeks. The goal is the acquisition of self-knowledge through understanding of interpersonal transactions. Instructor Fanchette Stewart will discuss Transactional Analysis, Gestalt therapy concepts, intuition, para-psychology, Eastern and Western Philosophy.

The instructor is presently working as a therapist using TA and Gestalt techniques. "If we become aware of what we are doing and of how we set it up, we can learn to make the necessary changes which can guarantee us a richer life," she explains. "Many people do not take responsibility for their life because, literally, they are strangers unto themselves."

Brian Watkins, who took the photographs appearing on this page, will be the instructor for a class in beginning photography. The greenhouse class, taught by Sharon Rucinski, will meet for five weeks in the Plymouth Salem High greenhouse.

The art of quilting, taught by Linda Geng, began earlier than the 17th century when nuns saved strips of paper cut from manuscripts and rolled them around a feathered quill to make designs.

A complete listing of classes, times, locations and fees is available in the YMCA office. Ask for Janet Luce, program director.

Villains star in WSU course

A course on "Shakespeare's Villains" will be offered by Wayne State University's English department during the winter quarter.

Classes begin Jan. 12. Other English department offerings will include special interest courses in women's studies, folklore, popular culture and the weird and strange in literature.

The dried flower class, taught by Shirley Neu, is a three-week mini-class with four sessions--the first beginning Jan. 29. The class meets from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in art room of West Middle School.

This is a sample of the items made in the craft variety classes. Instructor is Sharon Rucinski and cost is $10 for members and $15 for non-members.

At a meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals to be held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Thursday, January 8, 1976, at 7:30 P.M., a public hearing will be held to consider the following:

APPEAL NO. 76-1 - TONY PICCIRILLI (Master Collision Inc.), 300 Industrial Drive, Plymouth, Michigan, requesting permission to install an identification sign at the front of the property located at 800 Plymouth Road (corner of Industrial Drive, owned by Intaglio Service Corporation), located in an I-1 (Light Industrial District) zoning, which is in conflict with Section 5.202(2)(a) of Article XV - GENERAL PROVISIONS, Chapter 52, Zoning, of the Plymouth City Code.

Section 5.202(2)(a) provides, in part, that signs erected in any use district shall pertain to the sale, rental, or use of the premises on which located, or to goods sold or activities conducted thereon. Said sign is proposed to be placed on the property of a nearby business establishment.

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing and, at the close of said hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Zoning Board of Appeals, prior to rendering its decision.

Sam Hudson to address historians

Dr. Sam Hudson of Plymouth, author of the weekly "Plymouth Past and Present" column in the Observer & Eccentric, will speak at the January meeting of the Plymouth Historical Society on the writing of his forthcoming book on the history of Plymouth.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 8, in the Dunning Memorial Building.

Hudson will relate some of his experiences, tell of the sources he used, and some of the interesting persons he has interviewed.

Hudson, a member of the Historical Society, had earlier published a pictorial history book of the Plymouth community which will soon be available again in an enlarged edition along with his new hard-cover history.

Schools may get Indian program funds

The Plymouth Community School District may be eligible for receiving monies to have a program to serve the needs of children who are at least 1-16th American Indian.

In September, the school district requested information concerning the American Indian descent of children in the district. Through the replies received, the district learned it may be eligible for federal funds.

To begin planning for submitting a proposal to the U.S. Office of Education, a new survey has been prepared for the parents of Indian children who reside in the PCSD.

The survey, which doesn't require the names of parents or children, asks the parents to indicate the areas they feel would be most beneficial to their child or children.

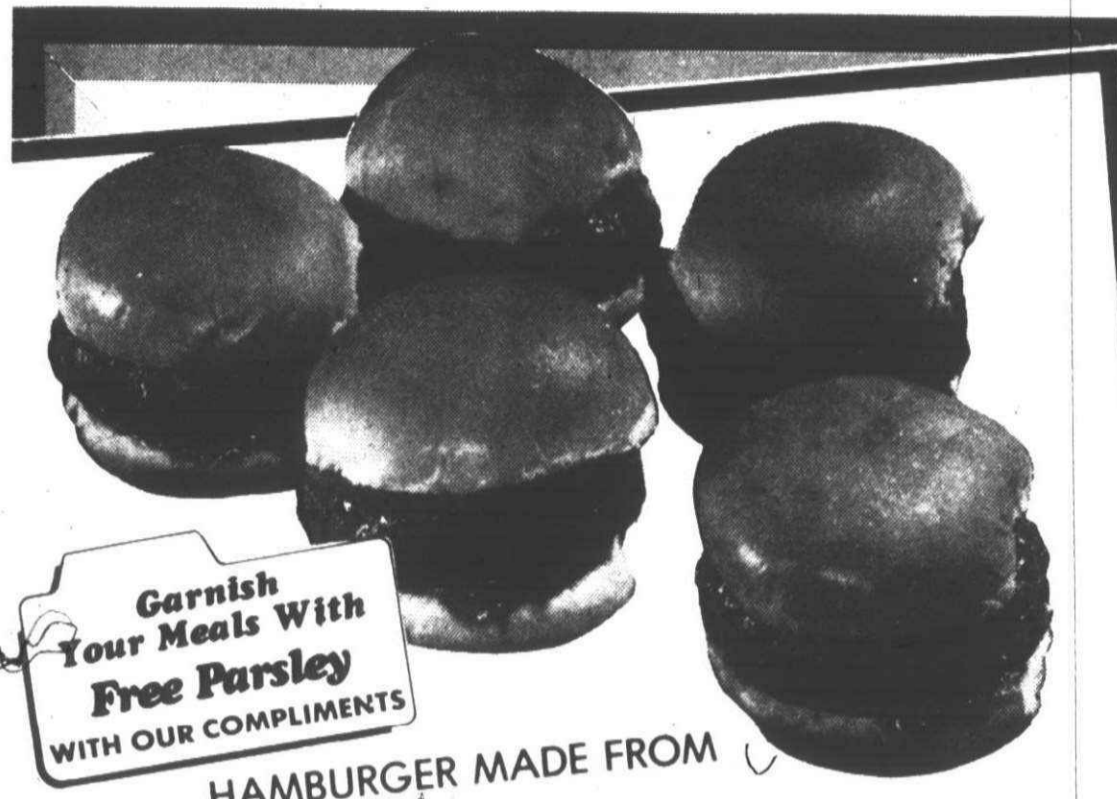

Areas include: assistance or tutoring in reading or math; home and-or family counseling; arts and crafts of the American Indian; heritage-customs-beliefs-and-culture of American Indians; or job placement of students. The parents also are invited to list any other areas they feel would be beneficial.

The surveys are being sent home with the oldest elementary child in the family. If your children qualify-being 1-16th or more American Indian-and you haven't received a survey by Wednesday, Jan. 7, please contact your child's school office or call the administration building on S. Harvey and a survey will be sent to you.

In Orange Bowl

Why no short passes?

By DOUG FUNKE
Sports Editor

Now that the 1976 Orange Bowl, the first post-season game in which a Big Ten team appeared other than the Rose Bowl, is over, pundits will likely debate whether the University of Michigan came up flat or played up to potential in a 14-6 loss to Oklahoma.

The contest definitely was not the best of the holiday fare from the standpoints of action and excitement, unless one measures by turnovers. The Wolverines threw three passes which were intercepted and the Sooners coughed up the pigskin three times on fumbles.

Perhaps the biggest puzzle of the evening was Michigan's inability to connect on the forward pass. The Wolverines were headed for a record in futility when, for the initial 59 minutes of the game, not one of their more than dozen passing attempts was completed.

It is all too easy to second guess the strategy of a team when situated away from the heat of battle. Then, too, everyone's hindsight is 20-20.

Yet, the thought occurs that almost every one of the passes attempted by Rick Leach and Mark Elzinga were more than 20 yards down field and consistently overthrown.

With the speedy and elusive Gordon Bell and the bull Rob Lytle in the backfield, one wonders why the Wolverines did not attempt any short passes to the pair until the final minute.

In the last 60 seconds, Michigan needed the long bomb, so the short connections virtually went for naught.

It may be argued that Michigan's offensive line could not hold out the likes of Oklahoma's Selmon brothers, and that the backs were needed to provide additional pass protection.

However, it doesn't take all that long to throw a short pass and, additionally, the Michigan quarterbacks appeared to have plenty of time on the majority of their airborne attempts.

The Orange Bowl and the Ohio State game before that, perhaps best illustrated the need for Michigan to develop a screen pass, something that has not been seen during the reign of Bo Schembechler.

Two single plays during the course of the Orange Bowl, the halfback option with Gordon Bell throwing an interception in the Oklahoma endzone and Michigan's decision to try a two-point conversion after its touchdown with 7:30 to play, also will be much discussed.

Bell's option, which worked for a TD against Ohio State, appeared to be a bad play selection against the Sooners.

The two coaches had exchanged game films after the season, and one has to believe that Oklahoma may have been looking for the play when Bell took a pitchout and started running to the short side of the field near the goal line.

The decision to go for two seemed to be a good one, although there are valid arguments both pro and con. On the positive side, if the Wolverines would have capitalized, another touchdown would have virtually insured a victory.

Then, too, if Michigan would have kicked for the one, there would have been immense pressure on a two-point attempt in the very late stages, if Michigan were to get within a 14-13 deficit.

In fact, who knows for certain Bo would have gone for two at a later time, with the knowledge that Ohio State had lost and the Wolverines still had a remote shot at the national title if they did not lose, assuming they were down 14-13 with very little time remaining.

Most people have their own thoughts on the propriety of Michigan's strategy, but that's what makes college football so exciting and fills stadiums throughout the country every Saturday.

It appears from this quarter, that the Wolverines gave their best shot in Miami, with the exception of not calling for more short passes. The better team won the Orange Bowl.

Track offers speaker

The Detroit Race Course, although closed for the next several months, is now offering an entertaining complimentary sports program to area groups for daytime or evening meetings. Earl Flora, DRC public relations director, heads the newly-formed group program activity.

The presentations are designed to show the excitement of both thoroughbred and harness racing and to educate the public in the finer points of the two sports. The programs will be augmented by current racing films.

Few area speakers are as ideally prepared as Flora to present the many sides of modern horse racing.

A native of Columbus, Ohio and an Ohio State graduate, Flora joined the DRC in March, 1972, as public relations and publicity director. He has also served on the Pompano Park (Fla.) public relations staff during the winter harness race meetings.

Before joining the DRC, Flora served 11 years as public relations director of the United States Trotting Association, the governing body of national harness racing in Columbus. He also is a featured columnist in Hoofbeats, the official publication of the USTA.

From 1951 to 1961, Flora was sports editor of the Ohio State Journal, while at the same time, served as sports director of WBNS-TV.

Organizations in the area which are interested in scheduling a free noon or evening program on the varied aspects of horse racing may contact Flora at 421-7173, or Jacoby and Company at 965-5636.

Area roundball teams face crucial contests

Take down the tree and put away the decorations, for the rituals of pleasure have been completed. Most area basketball teams have concluded the majority of their nonleague schedules and have even wet their feet with a couple conference tussles.

Now, though, the conclusion of the holiday break signals the end of the early season experimentation period, and the point at which most squads begin their big push for league laurels and the state championship.

Several area teams jump directly into the heat of battle this week in games which will have much impact not only on conference standings, but also on area rankings.

Garden City West, currently riding atop the Tri-River League loop with a 3-0 mark, 7-0 overall, hosts Garden City East, defending Northwest Suburban co-champ sporting a 4-2 season record, tomorrow (Tuesday) in the annual grudge match for bragging rights in town.

A pair of excellent individual matchups—West's center Mike Susko and East's Greg Emery and the Tigers' Dave Niles and Jim Riley of the Panthers—highlights the script.

East faces another tough test three nights later when conference foe North Farmington, which last year finished in the basement but this season shows a 2-0 record, visits the Panthers' den in what shapes up as a big game for East.

The Panthers have been upset by Redford Thurston in their only taste of league competition this year.

Redford Bishop Borgess, meanwhile, appears to be at the crossroads as far as its 1975-76 Catholic League First Division season is concerned.

The Spartans, 1-1 in league action, travel to U-D High tomorrow and host Birmingham Brother Rice Friday (Jan. 9).

Both Borgess' foes also stand at 1-1, and with the Spartans soon scheduled to face league-leading Detroit Catholic Central, administrators of an earlier 61-40 beating of the Spartans, it almost seems essential that Borgess sweep both games this week if it entertains any hopes of league championship.

Plymouth Salem, 3-0 and the only unbeaten team in the Suburban Eight League, faces a stern test when it meets Belleville on the road Friday in what should be one of the most action-packed games of the season.

The Rocks are 8-0 overall and champion of the recent Plymouth Christmas Tournament, while the Tigers, at 2-1 in conference play and 7-1 overall, recently took the Western Wayne Invitational basketball crown.

Both teams like to run, so if there are few fouls and turnovers, this game could be over in a hurry.

Friday appears to be a good night for connoisseurs of basketball, as two other games featuring area teams share the spotlight with the Salem-Belleville scramble.

Livonia Stevenson and Pontiac Northern, which finished one-two last year in the Inter-Lakes League and which are the only unbeaten teams in the circuit this season, square off in their first meeting of the campaign.

Stevenson coach George Van Wagener recently saw his charges make an excellent comeback against Salem, only to lose by six points.

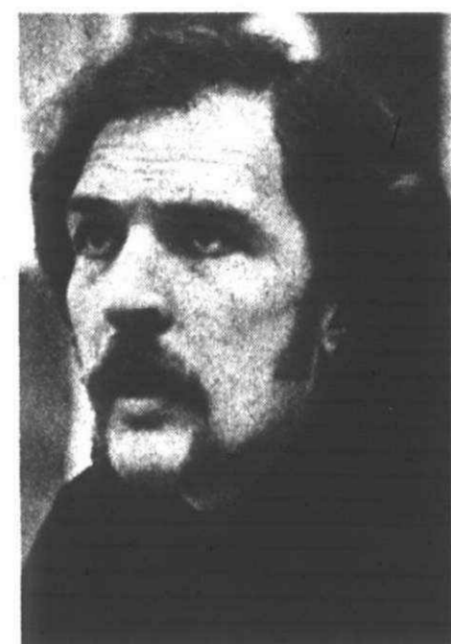

However, that effort may have been just the tonic needed to give the Spartans confidence to carry them through the rough spots of their schedule.

Livonia Churchill finished in the basement of the Western Six League last season and Farmington Harrison finished in the middle of the pack. However, both teams are currently deadlocked for the top spot with 2-0 records.

Something must give Friday night when coach Pat Montagano and the Chargers travel to Farmington for a key clash of the conference unbeaten.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

There was no blowing of horns and ringing of bells, but an unusual anniversary was celebrated in the area's bowling establishments over the holiday period. As a matter of fact, it was 25 years ago that Clarence Hoffman, then one of the owners of Livonia Lanes, conceived the idea of senior citizens league bowling—and it has been flourishing ever since.

The City of Livonia had just been incorporated and a home set aside for senior citizens, with Hoffman as chairman of the recreation department.

On Christmas Day of 1950, while standing behind the counter, he wondered what the senior citizens were doing for the holiday. He didn't tarry. He called the group and invited them to watch the bowling. They accepted. What's more they enjoyed it so much they wanted to try it.

Before the New Year was celebrated, they had formed teams and a league. With this, it wasn't long until they became ambitious and helped the elders in other houses to organize. It followed that a league was in the making.

Today there are senior citizens leagues in almost every bowling establishment in the area and more seniors than ever are bowling.

Thanks to Mr. Hoffman, it is now part of their life.

WHILE NO OFFICIAL records are kept, there was a feeling among the area proprietors that there was more open bowling during the holidays than in any other year.

"Don't bother me, I'm flooded with bowlers," George Bashara owner of Wonderland Lanes, confided Friday afternoon. "I haven't seen anything like this. And of all things, I'm having machine trouble."

At Garden Lanes it was the same story. Ann Setlock, the day manager, said the 32 lanes were jammed and they had a waiting list—and a wait of more than an hour for lanes.

Not only was the holiday period the reason for the turnout, but it was the school youngsters last day of vacation. They made the most of it on the bowling lanes.

Most every establishment reported record business insofar as bowling was concerned. But they reported a dropping off in sales of equipment such as shoes, balls and bags. "We had that at the start of the season," one proprietor explained, "and you don't buy a ball or shoes every three months. But it was a big holiday for bowling."

THE HOLIDAY period also brought the news that one of the Detroit all-star teams, had rolled the highest single game of the year in the nation. It was a 1074 game rolled by Anita Cantaline's Jac-Ro team in the Bowlerettes League.

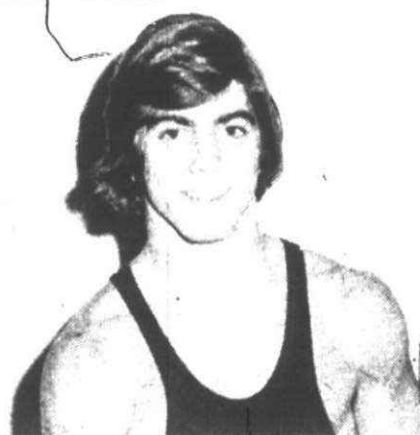

THE STAGE is being set for the area's most prestigious tournament—The Masters, sponsored by the Great Detroit Bowling Association.

It will be held at Denby Lanes, 11525 Whittier in Detroit, on Jan. 24 and 25. Tom McKay, secretary, sounds the warning that only the first 160 entries will be allowed in the competition.

This is modelled after the ABC Masters and draws the "cream of the crop" each year.

One of the unusual features is that in the history of the event that dates back 13 years, no champion ever has repeated.

GREG MICORSE waited until the last bowling night of the year 1975 to hit the top perch in the Wonderland Lanes Classic.

EMU leader

Peter Beck, who prepped at Livonia Bentley and now is a junior at Eastern Michigan University, has been selected co-captain of this year's EMU wrestling team. Beck, who grapples in the 126-pound class, currently sports an 8-2 individual mark through six meets this season.

He put together games of 244, 214 and 235 for a 693.

Policies are for public; keep meetings open

Bob Greenstein said so himself. The Canton Township Board is holding secret meetings on a number of subjects.

The Canton Township supervisor of one year was talking to the State House Towns and Counties Committee public hearing on "open meetings" legislation. He said the township board listens to everyone who wants to talk, tries to make information available freely, but still feels it needs to close the doors once in a while.

A chief example was the budget. "We've set up a study session. We have the administration and the CPA in. But our board is brand new, and these men would be embarrassed if they had to ask their questions in public. I'm not sure we shouldn't have these (secret) meetings," said Greenstein.

THE SUPERVISOR is correct that Canton runs a relatively open operation. The direction of township government—its new sensitivity to homeowners—is new and refreshing. Greenstein frankly deserves a lot of credit.

One of the other speakers had to point out that a township board is making public policy for the benefit of the public. Therefore, the meeting should be held in the open for the public's benefit.

Tim Richard writes

and not in private for the board members' benefit.

Too much, we fear, is being made of a freshman trustee's discomfort at asking questions that will reveal his innocence of the intricacies of township government. In fact, the general public is often just as uninformed on these matters as the new trustee. A freshman trustee might ask the kind of "dumb" questions that will most help the public.

LOOK AT IT another way: This year the Canton board has secret budget meetings because there are some new members. What will the excuse be next year?

The sad fact is that a governmental board can get so used to secrecy that it gets hooked on it. Existing case law lists several kinds of topics that a board can discuss in secret.

In practice, a board gets into the bad habit of closing the doors to discuss topics A, B and C and then decides it might as well discuss D, E, F, etc. in secret, too.

GREENSTEIN MADE a point about real estate negotiations needing to be carried on in secret: "We are inundated with realtors, speculators and quick-buck artists. The moment they found out (a piece of property was being considered), they'd be out trying to double the price and buying land around it."

Rep. David Hollister, a former county board chairman from the Lansing area and author of one "open meetings" bill, had the answer:

"It's strange, the way that information gets out anyway. What happens (with secret meetings) is that the only ones who don't know are the public. The realtors know; the speculators know; the quick-buck artists know; and the bankers have a pretty good idea."

The proper atmosphere is one of openness, trust and free-spirited but gentlemanly debate. Canton Township government has been moving in that direction. It should keep moving.

CASE NO. U-4985

NOTICE OF MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION INQUIRY AND PUBLIC HEARINGS INTO CENTRAL METERING AND RESELLING OF GAS AND ELECTRIC SERVICE

TO
CENTRALLY METERED GAS OR ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS AND RESELLING CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY AND THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

AND TO
ULTIMATE CONSUMERS; TENANTS; MOBILE HOME OWNERS; CONDOMINIUM OWNERS; ASSOCIATIONS OF MOBILE HOME OWNERS; MOBILE HOME PARK OWNERS, CONDOMINIUM OWNERS, LANDLORDS AND TENANTS; GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES AND OTHERS WHO MAY BE INTERESTED OR THINK THEY WOULD BE AFFECTED

On December 8, 1975, in Case No. U-4985, the Michigan Public Service Commission initiated a general inquiry into the regulations and procedures of gas and electric utilities pertaining to centrally metered customers, including reselling customers, and to provide for appropriate service standards and rate classifications for centrally metered gas and electric utility service.

The Commission desires to fully explore problems and complaints associated with centrally metered and resale service to apartments, condominiums, cooperatives or mobile home parks, including problems with rates, from the standpoint of the reselling or centrally metered customer of the utility, the ultimate consumer of the gas or electric service, and utilities. The Commission is interested in developing equitable and workable standards, rules and regulatory policies related to these matters.

Phase I of the inquiry is for soliciting comments and submissions about these problems from the public. Phase II will consider data which the Commission has required utilities to file, submissions by parties intervening in the proceedings pursuant to Commission rules, and recommendations by the Commission's Staff. Phase III will cover proposed remedies for problems considered in Phases I and II as applicable to individual utilities.

PHASE I PUBLIC HEARINGS WILL BE HELD:

- (1) On the Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland County Community College, "J" Building, Room 293, 27055 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills on January 22, 1976 commencing at 1:30 PM and 7:30 PM.
- (2) In the 1st floor auditorium of the Law Building at 525 W. Ottawa Street in Lansing on January 26, 1976 commencing at 1:30 PM and 7:30 PM.
- (3) In the City Council Chambers, City Hall, 1101 South Saginaw, Flint, on January 27, 1976 commencing at 1:30 PM and 7:30 PM.
- (4) In the City Commission Chambers, 9th Floor, City Hall, 300 Monroe Street, NW, Grand Rapids, on January 28, 1976 commencing at 1:30 PM and 7:30 PM.

At Phase I public hearings the Commission is interested in receiving submissions or comments limited solely to the following subjects:

1. The appropriate rate under which service should be rendered to centrally metered customers where the ultimate consumption is for residential use.
Note: This would concern the rate charged by the utility for service to apartments, condominiums, cooperatives, or mobile home parks where gas or electricity is either included in the rent as an incident of tenancy or is resold by the landlord, association or park owner to the tenants.
2. Problems related to requirements that reselling customers sell utility service to ultimate consumers at the same rate applicable to customers of the same class who are direct customers of the utilities.
Note: Reselling customers who sell to residential users are generally required to resell at the utility's residential rates and reselling customers who resell to commercial users at the utility's commercial rates.
3. The revenue impacts on utilities of any revision of current rate patterns for centrally metered or resale service.
Note: A utility's rates to all of its customers generally assume the continuation of established rate patterns. Changing one rate may require changes to others.
4. Problems related to enforcement by utilities of standards of service requirements on reselling customers which are conditions of service to such customers.
Note: Primarily, enforcement of service standards is presently limited to discontinuance of service to landlords which would result in loss of service to tenants.
5. Means of providing for continuity of service to tenants of reselling customers where a reselling customer may be in violation of Commission rule, Commission-approved utility rule or the Michigan Gas Safety Code.
6. Tenant service continuity problems and possible financial consequences to utilities in case of abandonment of utility service distribution systems by centrally metered or reselling customers.
Note: It has been suggested by the Commission Staff that all resale service be prohibited in the future and that all existing resale customers (landlords, associations, park owners, etc) be required to agree to uniform service, billing, customer relations, meter testing and auditing standards as a condition to continuing as a resale customer. Further, some landlords or park owners may, for financial reasons or due to enforcement action, seek to abandon service to their tenants, jeopardizing the tenants' gas or electric service, or expect the utilities to bear the cost of making repairs, replacements or improvements necessary to serve tenants directly.

7. Rights and obligations of reselling customers and their tenants and extent of Commission jurisdiction, if any, related thereto.

Note: Primarily concerned here is the question of extending the Commission's Consumer Standards and Billing Practices, which are available to a utility's residential customers, to the reselling customer's tenants.

PHASE II PUBLIC HEARINGS

The Commission has determined that the utilities shall file certain information with it to aid in its general inquiry. This information is scheduled to be filed on January 30, 1976, and a public hearing to receive and cross-examine this evidence and testimony is scheduled in Lansing at the Commission's offices in the Law Building at 525 W. Ottawa for 9:30 AM on February 17, 1976. Further hearing dates will be scheduled by the presiding Administrative Law Judge as necessary.

Persons, other than the utilities and the Commission Staff, who wish to participate in the Phase II public hearings as a formal intervenor pursuant to Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure of the Commission should file with the Public Service Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913 at least five (5) days prior to February 17, 1976, an original and twelve (12) copies of a petition to intervene conforming to the requirements of Rule 11. A copy should also be mailed (First Class) to Consumers Power Company, Legal Department, 212 West Michigan Avenue, Jackson, Michigan 49201; and to The Detroit Edison Company, Legal Department, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

PHASE III PUBLIC HEARINGS

It may be necessary for the Commission to hold evidentiary or administrative-type hearings for the purpose of adopting rules, regulations, service standards or rate changes as a result of the determinations made by the Commission in Phases I and II. These would be the subject of a separate notice and future hearings.

Copies of the order of the Michigan Public Service Commission in Case No. U-4985 can be obtained from the Public Service Commission's Executive Secretary, 5th Floor Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913 and are available for inspection at Consumers Power Company's Division offices in the cities of Alma, Battle Creek, Bay City, Pontiac, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Muskegon, Saginaw, Traverse City, East Detroit, Royal Oak and Livonia; and are also available at Detroit Edison's Division offices.

The Michigan Public Service Commission emphasizes that it has formed no conclusions relative to the issues raised in its order initiating this inquiry. The final outcome of the inquiry will result from the relevant evidence presented to the Commission in as full and complete record as possible.

Jurisdiction in this matter is pursuant to Act 106, P.A. 1909, as amended, MCLA 460.551 et seq; Section 22 of Act 300, P.A. 1909, as amended, MCLA 462.22; Act 419, P.A. 1919, as amended, MCLA 460.51 et seq; Act 3, P.A. 1939, as amended, MCLA 460.1 et seq; Act 165, P.A. 1969, as amended, MCLA 483.151 et seq; Act 306, P.A. 1969, as amended, MCLA 24.201 et seq; and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Michigan Administrative Code, Supplement No. 54, R 460.11 et seq.

The Stroller

An historic oversight

By W. W. EDGAR

In all the din of horn blowing, bell ringing and whistle tooting to usher in the new year, one of the most significant events of the bicentennial was overlooked.

As The Stroller curled up in his chair listening to the "sweetest music this side of heaven" played by Guy Lombardo and awaiting the dropping of the red ball in Times Square while the rain-soaked crowd looked on, he shuddered at the thought that only a few miles away the famed Liberty Bell was being moved to a new home in Philadelphia. He shuddered even more when the cameras continued to focus on the Times Square scene instead of shifting to Independence Hall for the moving of the bell promptly at midnight.

There has been a close affinity between The Stroller and the 23-year-old bell ever since his childhood and the very thought of it being taken out of its favorite room means that Independence Hall never again will have the continuity of appeal and thrills of the meeting rooms and the sacred home of the bell.

WHY WAS the bell moved?

The Stroller kept asking himself this question until he later read that it was the decision of the bicentennial committee.

It was the feeling of the committee, so it was said, that the placing of the bell in a glass case across the street would allow more people to see it.

Maybe so. But one of the great thrills in The Stroller's life as a youth, came on a July 4th morning when, in company of his Aunt Fanny, who long since has gone to her reward, he saw the bell for the first time.

As we entered the room to see the bell she held her fingers over her mouth as a warning to keep still. To her this was a sacred room. There should be no disturbance.

When we got as close to the bell as we could she leaned down and whispered: "Place your hand on the bell and say a prayer for our country."

It was a sacred moment and one that was repeated every year Aunt Fanny took her nieces and nephews through Independence Hall for a lesson in history.

She'd trace every move of the Founding Fathers, even to the rack where Benjamin Franklin and his colleagues hung their hats and coats during the writing of the Declaration of Independence. Lessons like that are never forgotten. The Stroller, after all these years, still can visualize all the scenes on the way to the Liberty Bell.

NOW IT IS GONE—not far away. It has been moved directly across the street. But to protect it from weather and possible vandalism the bell has been placed in a glass case.

No longer will a young fellow, such as The Stroller in his youth, be able to place his hand on the bell, bow his head, and offer a prayer.

More than that, there will be a void in Independence Hall to break up the continuity of the visit. Through the years one could start in the lobby of Independence Hall and wend his way through the rooms where the Continental Congress met and then on into the sacred room and the bell.

There it stood, resting on a cradle, made more glamorous because of the big crack. It was the great symbol of the liberty and independence for which the Continental Congress strived so long. The chain is now broken and will have to cross the street and then look at the bell as one would look at a gold fish or a live lobster in a bowl.

To The Stroller's knowledge, this is only the second time the bell has been moved. And where do you think it was taken the first time?

Years ago, it was taken to The Stroller's home grounds and hidden in the basement of Christ Church on Hamilton Street in the business district of Allentown, Pa.

EACH TIME he goes home for a visit, The Stroller makes certain of one visit—a trip to the old church to read again the words on the bronze tablet telling that the bell was hidden on this site during the war.

So, you see, there is a close affinity with the Liberty Bell for years. No wonder he was shocked when its historic moving was overlooked in the ushering in of the new year.

Should teachers be nonpartisan?

How teachers should approach politics in the classroom is a question to be examined in a special workshop on Thursday, Jan. 8.

The workshop will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the CASTLES inservice training headquarters of the Plymouth Community School District. The CASTLES headquarters is located on Mill Street halfway between Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail. The public is welcome.

State Sen. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) will lead a discussion on the issues surrounding the central question of whether a teachers' attitudes to the body of knowledge they transmit to their pupils must be impartial.

"When teachers are told of their need to be the impartial observers of the classroom," says Gordan Hill, CASTLES co-director, "they are effectively instructed to exclude political opinion and commitment from their teaching.

"They are told that this enables them to be objective and promotes an impartial passage of facts.

"Is it really possible for teachers to be this politically neutered in the classroom," asks Hill, "and yet involved and committed as soon as they leave? Can true objectivity exist or control a classroom without a political perspective?"

"If not—is this a fair burden for teachers? How do they avoid charges of political indoctrination? Clashes with parents and colleagues? Is there a school policy?"

"In 1976—a presidential election year—all teachers must face up to these real questions. Hopefully, the Jan. 8 session will provide a helpful framework."

It pays to know a DETROIT BANK-er better.

"If you make $10,000 or more a year, I can show you how to get a $1,500 income tax deduction and use it to start your own retirement plan."

Recent legislation has made it possible for individuals and self-employed persons to establish their own retirement plan through a special savings account called an Individual Retirement Account. We asked DETROIT BANK-er Robert K. Smith to explain this new service.

Who is eligible for an I.R.A.?
"An Individual Retirement Account, or I.R.A., may be opened by any employed or self-employed person not currently covered by any other retirement plan. Even if you are already enrolled in a retirement plan, but have a working spouse who is not, he or she is eligible."

How does an I.R.A. differ from a regular savings account?
"There are important differences. First, all contributions to your I.R.A. are fully tax deductible. What's more, even the interest earned on this account is exempt from income tax until it is withdrawn. And when you finally begin making withdrawals, you pay taxes only on the amount you withdraw each year. Like savings accounts, however, I.R.A.'s offer a range of plans paying annual interest rates from 5-1/2 to 7-1/2 percent and are insured to $40,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Incidentally, these are the highest interest rates that any bank can pay."

Are there special regulations for I.R.A.'s?
"Yes. Regulations only permit you to save a maximum of $1,500 a year, or 15% of your annual wages, whichever is less. You can open an Individual Retirement Account with just $25, then it's up to you when and how much you want to deposit, in amounts of $25 or more, up to your maximum each year. You can add to your account each payday and when your savings reach $1,000 or more, you can convert them to 6-year 7-1/2% Investment Certificates; or if you make your annual deposit in one lump sum, you can put it into 6-year 7-1/2% Investment Certificates at that time. The money must remain on deposit at least until you reach age 59-1/2, unless you become permanently disabled.

Should you withdraw prior to that, Federal regulations for Investment Certificates require that you pay substantial penalties on the amount withdrawn, and I.R.A. regulations impose further penalties for premature withdrawals."

Being tax-sheltered, savings in an I.R.A. should accumulate much faster, right?
"Amuch so. In fact, here is a chart which shows what you could accumulate if you invested $1,500, before taxes, at the beginning of each year.* The first column shows how your interest accumulates with the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A., the second shows how your interest accumulates without the help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A. and the third shows the difference."

At the end of	7½% Interest with help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.	7½% Interest without help of a tax-sheltered I.R.A.	You gain with an I.R.A.
10 years	$ 23,090	$15,528	$ 7,562
20 years	71,633	42,780	28,853
30 years	173,688	90,603	83,085

*Table assumes taxpayer is in a 25% tax bracket and that the total contribution is deposited at the beginning of each year.

How can I start my Individual Retirement Account?
"It's as easy as opening a savings account. Just let your DETROIT BANK-er know you want to open an I.R.A. and $25 will get you started. Establishing a useful tax-shelter is another good reason why you ought to know a DETROIT BANK-er better."

"Any employed or self-employed person who is not currently covered by any other retirement plan is eligible for an I.R.A."

"All contributions to an I.R.A. are fully tax deductible. Similarly, interest earned is also exempt from income tax until it is withdrawn."

They made a book for their poems

BY SHERRY KAHAN

No mere dreamers, these members of the Livonia Poetry Workshop.

Having written a bookful of poems, they reasoned the practical thing to do next was produce a book in which to put them.

"Rocks and Rills" is the result. It contains 69 pages of the lyrical feelings of eight Livonia and Plymouth poets. Its cover was created by Jan Standish of Plymouth, whose husband, Marc, is a workshop poet. She also drew the inside illustrations.

Some of the poems are small like this haiku by Betty Nelson of Plymouth. She calls it "Freeway."

"Tin-canned passengers insulated from each other pass on the freeway"

THERE ARE ALSO sad poems including those about hospital life by Carol Rembacki of Livonia, a poem by Sue Stevens of Livonia about snowflakes with the lines coming close to taking on the shape of a snowflake.

So encouraged were the new publishers with the reception given their initial effort, they quickly decided to bring out two more books, both of them for children.

These two books can be purchased at area stores including Little Professor book store and Alphabet Gallery in Plymouth, Livonia Book Center, 28489 Five Miel and in Hilda's Boutique, 29214 Ford in Garden City.

"WHAT DO YOU Do When You Go to the Zoo" by Betty Nelson is the name of the workshop's bright yellow book for little people. Jan Standish contributed the drawings.

"The Dee Dum Family" by Dory Stevens of Livonia, with illustrations by Sue Stevens (no relation), is the second effort by the workshop to bring to children the joys of the printed word.

And if things continue as they are, the group may never have time to go back to poetry. A representative from the Toyota Company recently approached them and asked them to publish 1,000 copies of Japanese short stories which have been translated into English.

So taken was he with the "Rocks and Rills" format that he asked that the same style be used for his books.

"WE DID ALL the work ourselves," said Dorothy Aust, one of the prime movers behind the workshop. "We even bought a silk screen mimeo machine."

They also found a 14-pitch typewriter with a 19-inch carriage which they use to squeeze those long lines of imagery onto a page.

"There are very few of these typewriters in the whole country," said Mrs. Aust. "We had to call all over to find it."

Their first publication was cloth-bound and hard-covered. "To make it we tore sheets into strips and tie-dyed them," recalled Mrs. Aust.

Then it was time to learn the realities of the business world, to form a company, the Alura Press, and obtain a copyright and a Library of Congress number.

The group had no need to learn the ins and outs of the retail book business after the first printing of "Rocks and Ripples" because most of the 190 copies were spoken for before publication date.

Schoolcraft College wanted two for its library. Two of its instructors who had taught poetry to the group also put their names down, and other poetry students signed up for copies.

"Whenever I went to buy material for the book, people were interested in having a copy," reported Mrs. Aust, adding the copies were soon gone.

THE ONLY THING to do then was to act like a bigtime publishing company and bring out a second edition. This was in paperback.

"I folded 3,000 sheets of paper for this printing," said Mrs. Aust. "It will sell for $3."

Already the infant Alura Press has amassed enough money to pay for its typewriter. It continues to work at paying off its other machinery.

"It's all been wonderful," laughs Mrs. Aust. "I'm the oldest one in the workshop and I'm so enthused about our young members. It's marvelous to see them doing things like this. We hope to continue to publish things that are decent and can be read by the whole family."

Besides those already mentioned poetry workshop members include Allen C. Wise Jr. of Plymouth and Patti Anne Barnes of Livonia.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS are often interesting to read in books, and they are even more fascinating when placed in a book that is written and produced by the same people.

The authors of "Rocks and Rills" gratefully acknowledged:

"Bob Lancaster, for the use of the sewing machine; Eve Wise, for her help in the typing; George and Betty Nelson, for the use of their abode, and a special thanks to Dorothy Aust, without whom this book would not have been possible."

Betty Nelson of Plymouth looks through a copy of the children's book she wrote and helped manufacture.

Talent contest set for girls -- and boys

Applications are now being accepted for the Miss Michigan Teen Queen Pageant to be held in the Detroit Heritage House March 5-6.

A Little Miss Michigan Talent contest will be held on the same day and in the same location, as will a talent contest for boys.

Judging for the Miss Michigan Teen Queen Pageant will be based on scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance. There is no talent or bathing suit competition.

There will be separate judging and awards for 100-word themes by teen-queen contestants on "Why I Am Proud to be an American."

Contestants must be 13 to 17 years of age.

Contestants for the Little Miss Michigan Talent contest must be five to 12 years old. Categories are baton, voice, instrumental, dance and variety.

Judging will be 75 per cent on artistic ability and 25 per cent on poise, personality and appearance. Winner of the contest last year was Natalie Kozorosky of Westland.

There will be two categories in the boys talent contest, one for those from 5-12, another for those 13-17.

Judging will be based on instrumental, vocal and acrobatic talent.

Those wishing to participate in these events may obtain an application from Talent Town USA Regional Headquarters, PO Box 406, Rockton, Ill. 61072.

Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and specify which competition you wish to enter.

More than $100,000 in scholarships are available to state and national winners in the Teen Queen pageant, and all state winners in each contest receive an expense paid trip to the national finals.

MR. AND MRS. CALVIN WILLIAMS

Open house planned

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Williams of 6404 Oakview, Plymouth, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house from 12 to 5 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 24 in the Main Street Baptist Church, Plymouth.

Williams and the former Virgie Elizabeth Harris were married Jan. 24, 1926 in Clayton, Tenn.

They are the parents of four children, Mrs. Dollias Musselman, Mrs. Mary Bolander and Calvin Williams Jr., all of Plymouth, and Mrs. Roxie Moats of Jackson, Mich. They have 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Williams retired from Ford Motor Co. in 1969, where he was employed for 20 years.

BRIDGE

Many bridge players object to the so-called computer hands. They feel that the human touch produces more normal hands. The hand in the diagram was dealt at the Charity game held last week at the Y.M.C.A. in Birmingham.

West led the seven of hearts. The normal requirement for a slam is at least 33 points. In the hand in the diagram, North-South held little more than half the high card points and reached a slam on optimistic bidding.

Dr. Leonard DiLella held the South cards. He jumped in clubs after his partner, Dr. David Beal responded one spade.

Dr. Beal bid game in no trump, but Dr. DiLella corrected to the club slam. He reasoned that North must have a heart honor and hopefully the ace of clubs. He won the opening heart lead in dummy and played a small club. East played low without hesitation; South finessed the jack. When the ace won, the slam was home.

Recent party bridge winners at the Plymouth Cultural center Thursday afternoon game were Peg Burk and Sue Seline.

New voices

Darlene and Michael Stinson of Shari Drive, Westland, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Taryn Michelle, on Dec. 28 in St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

Taryn's mother has been on the editorial staff of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, most recently assigned to covering Canton news.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.M. LaRock of Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stinson of Birmingham.

Medium eggs are good buy

Medium eggs are often your best buy, says Kathleen Bufton of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service.

Many recipes suggest using large eggs, but dropping down a size and using medium eggs won't affect the quality of the finished product.

Buyers and sellers are "strange" people. Strange to each other, that is. People with lots of different needs and wants, people who need to get together. They need to get together in the quickest, least expensive and most effective way possible—the Observer & Eccentric Want Ads.

Say you need a buyer for a bunch of baby basset hounds, or a really good home for a litter of antiques...How do you meet those unknown admirers with an eye for your special goods? How do you keep track of sellers with garage sales, and owners of autos and pets to trade? It's easy -- when you know where buyers and sellers get together best—the Observer & Eccentric Classifieds.

It's easy to get double buying and selling results, too. Double-Action Ads bring people together from all over Wayne and Oakland Counties. These suburban communities include: Birmingham, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Rochester, Avon Two., Southfield and Troy in Oakland County; Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Twp., Canton Twp., Redford Twp., and Westland in Wayne County. Smart buyers and sellers place a Double Action Family Want Ad (non business) of 15 words or less in two consecutive issues, with no changes in copy and no cancellations -- and they pay only $6. That's a savings of $2.00 off the regular cost of placing an ad in two issues.

When you have something to sell...when you have something to buy...you've got a lot in common in the Observer & Eccentric Classified Want Ads.

Student artist Rick Capraro of Livonia won first place and $50 in the eighth-grade category in the fourth annual Autorama automotive design contest sponsored by the Michigan Hot Rod Association. A junior high school student, Rick drew the car pictured above. His drawing was displayed with other winners at the 1976 Autorama custom car show Friday through Sunday at Cobo Hall.

Drivers like Florida despite cost

It costs more and takes longer this year, but 90 percent of Florida-bound vacationers from Michigan will continue to make the trip behind the wheel of the family car.

Normally, hundreds of thousands of Michiganders visit Florida between December and April, lured by the prospects of warm, sunny days away from the wintry winds of the north.

Last January, February and March, despite an ailing economy and high unemployment, there were more Auto Club member requests for Florida routings from Michigan than in any previous first quarter.

And these routing requests should increase by at least nine percent in 1976's first quarter, according to Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"After two bad years when the energy scare and economic recession discouraged tourism, the trend to vacations in the 'Sunshine State' was re-established dramatically in 1975," Ratke said. "The number of first-quarter Florida routing requests increased only 1.5 percent in 1973, then plunged 43.3 percent in 1974 before rebounding back up by 125 percent last winter."

THIS WINTER'S Florida-bound vacationers will find their travel costs up about 22 percent. Their driving time also has been extended by at least a half-day because of the slower, 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.

A three-day driving trip from Detroit to Orlando, Fla., a distance of 1,200 miles, would cost a couple $207 this season, compared with $170 the previous year.

"Driving 400 miles a day and with the car averaging 13 gallons per mile, the cost of gas and oil would total $60 this winter, $10 more than the previous year," Ratke said.

Meals would be $72 for the three days and lodging would total $75. This is an increase of $12 and $15, respectively, over last winter.

Vacation expenditures depend to a great degree on personal preferences, regions traveled and individual means. Lodging costs would be less in resort areas during the off-season, and travelers who picnic along the way will find their meal costs reduced, he noted.

"FLORIDA-BOUND vacationers are advised to check into package rates offered by many motels and hotels," Ratke said. "They can further shave lodging costs by staying just a few miles away from such popular attractions as Disney World and Miami Beach," he said.

There is plenty to lure sun-seekers from Michigan to Florida—even more than in previous years.
