Residents show strong preferences

Census figures released

By RICHARD GOLD

Although it's officially labeled the Canton mid-decade census, a more apt name would be "Everything you always wanted to know about Canton that the enumerator wasn't afraid to ask."

The township's 1975 census is a plethora of information for township officials, planners, merchants and residents.

Not only does it chart the astronomical growth of the township since 1970, and the stock demographic information included in federal censuses, but it provides an insight into the opinions of Canton's 26,000 residents on topics such as land use, budgetary preferences and satisfaction with current public services (see graphs below).

Field work on the census was completed last summer, and although only part of the information has been analyzed, township officials released the results late last week.

SINCE 1970, Canton has ranked among the top communities in population expansion, going from 11,026 in 1970 to 25,978 in 1975.

The growth rate would have been even greater, according to census enumerator Bruce Phillips, if apartment vacancies had been filled.

According to the survey results, almost 600 apartments were vacant during the summer months when the field work was conducted, and had they been filled by the average number of people per unit (2.96), the township's total population would have soared to almost 29,000, nearly tripling in the last five years.

Along with the increase in population came a shift in housing patterns. More Canton residents moved into apartments, and fewer relocated to houses in the township.

Townhouses and other multiple dwellings also showed a large increase.

In 1970 more than 61 per cent of the population was in houses, while in 1975, 50 per cent lived in single family dwellings.

Apartment dwellers increased by 10 per cent over 1970, while the number of people living in other multiple dwellings increased from seven to 13 per cent.

The rapid growth also brought a shift in population, with younger, more affluent people moving into the township.

Almost half of the township population fell between the ages of 18-44, and almost two-thirds of the households in township reported incomes of $10,000-$25,000.

AVERAGE WORTH of homes also increased. More than 60 per cent of the houses in Canton are now worth more than $35,000.

More than a quarter fall in the $45,000-$50,000 range.

In the preference survey, an optional part of the census answered by about 40 per cent of those questioned, Canton resident showed strong opinions.

Almost all of the residents favored fewer multiples, saving of agricultural land, and larger minimum lot sizes.

Residents who answered also said that fire protection, police service, and street conditions were adequate.

Residents seemed most pleased with fire protection, as two of every three found current service sufficient, possibly dashing any hope of a successful fire millage this year.

In funding preferences, recreation and senior citizens tied for first with parks running a strong second.

SUPERVISOR Robert Greenstein commented on the preference part of the survey. "It's really amazing the way the people answered. The beliefs I had along with other members of the administration were borne out in the census. People are against more multiples, in favor of agricultural land and larger lots.

"The master land use plan will reflect many of these preferences and I think based on the census, the people will be behind us 95 per cent.

"Most people who move in the suburbs expect more housing, here the people want farm land."

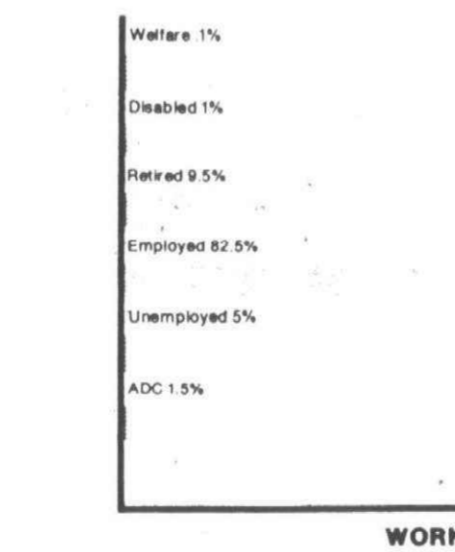

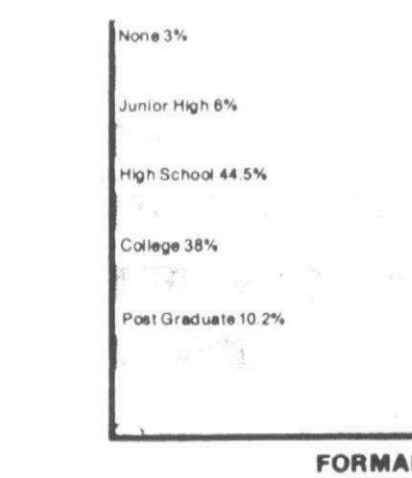

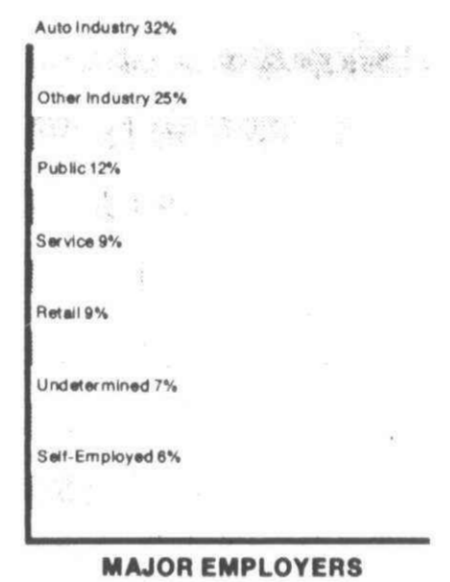

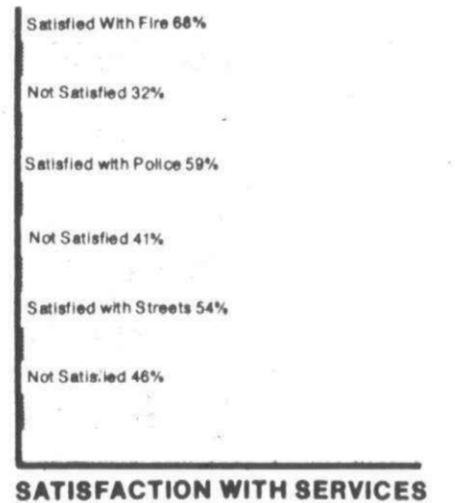

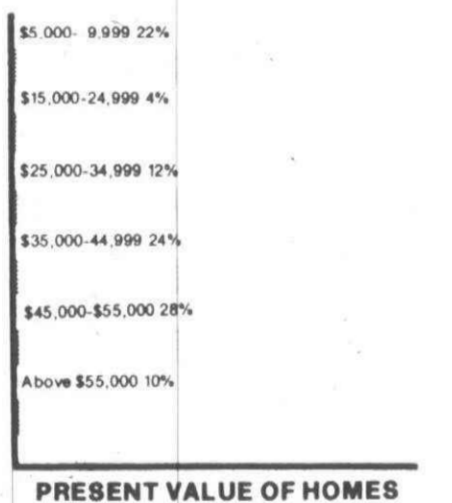

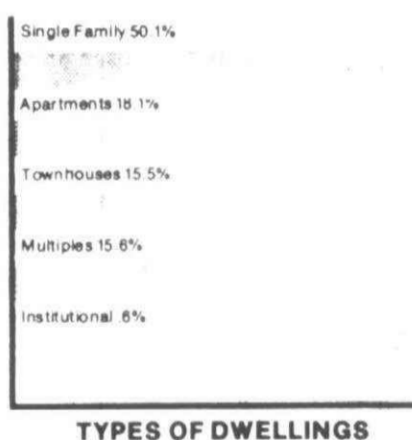

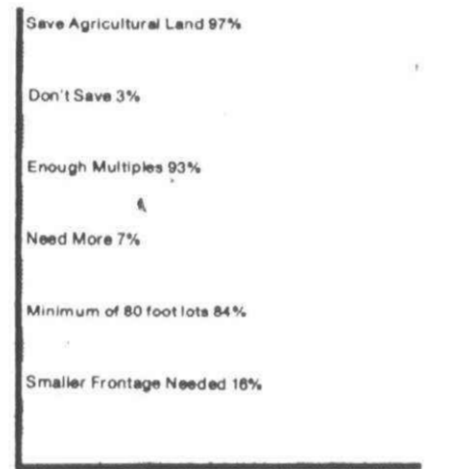

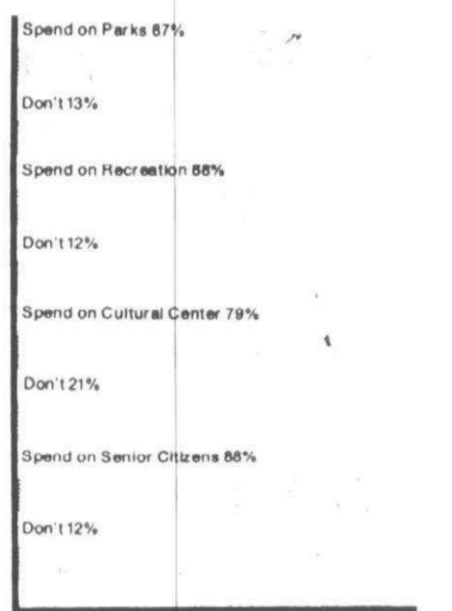

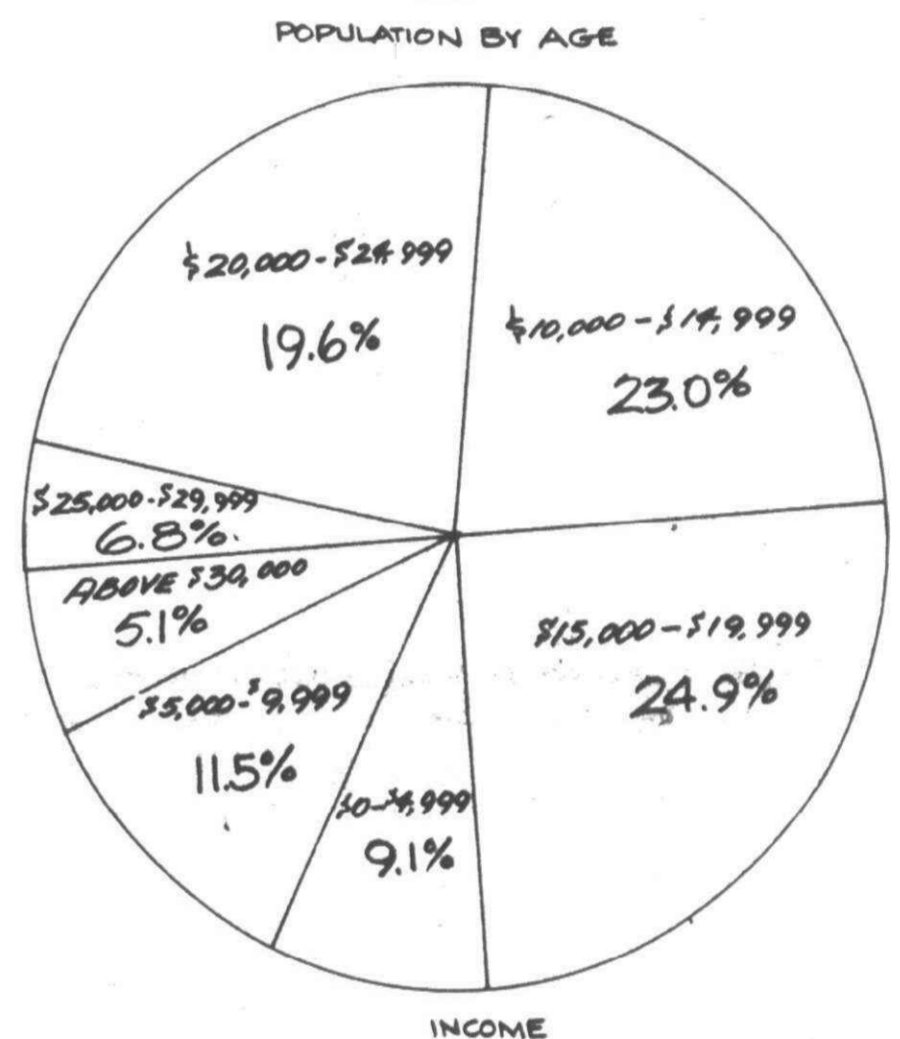

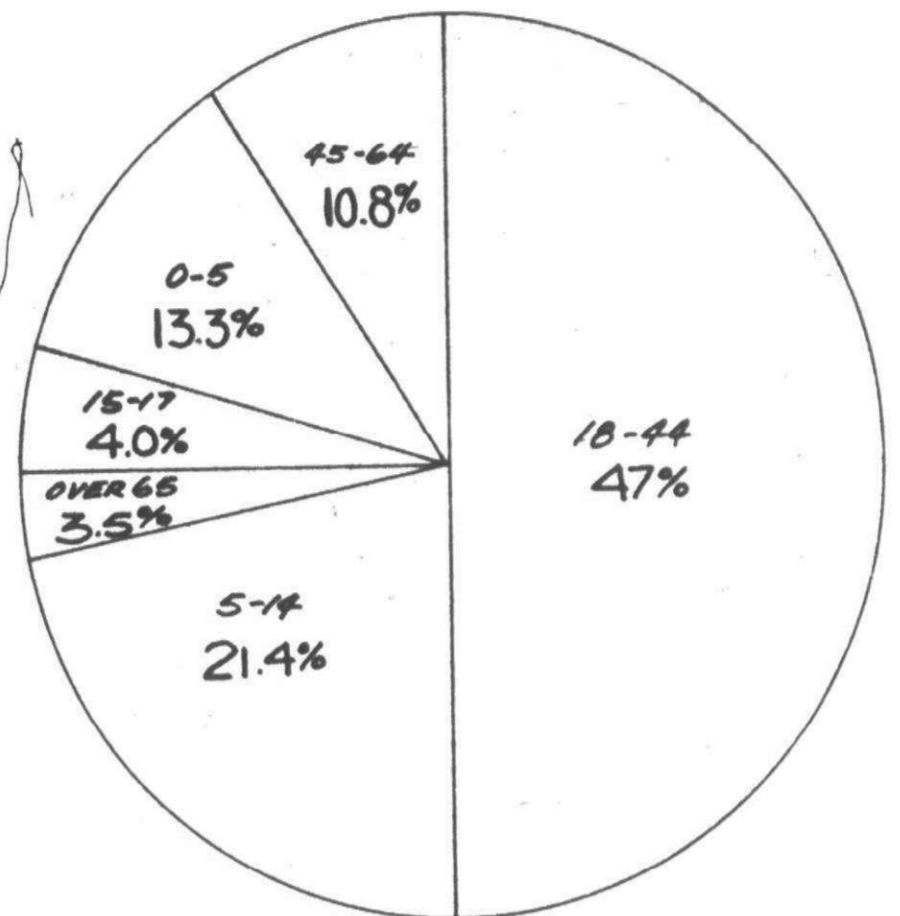

Full interpretation and publication of the census is some time off, according to Phillips, who organized and supervised the field work.

Much of the work was slowed down when Van Buren Township subpoenaed the results for a court case, and further work has been prevented because the computer firm handling the raw data, Wade and Trim, has been tied up with other projects.

Phillips said he hoped the census could be completed in the near future.

"I think it will be published in a separate booklet, although the planners have indicated they may use it as part of their annual report.

"Right now, there's still quite a bit of work to be done with the raw data and it's not clear when it will be published."

Board of education to appoint trustee

The Plymouth Board of Education is expected to make an appointment tonight (Monday) to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Gary Mirto.

Other decisions expected to be made are the naming of two new elementary schools and the approval of a list of budget cuts to eliminate a fund imbalance of some $321,000.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High School, on Canton Center Road south of Joy.

THE SIX remaining trustees have set tonight's meeting as the deadline to appoint a person to fill Mirto's vacancy. Some nine residents have applied for the vacancy.

If the board is unable to decide upon a candidate by its Feb. 2 meeting, the appointment by state law will be made by the superintendent of the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Reports circulating indicate that the board hasn't yet made a decision on who to appoint. In fact, the decision may not be reached during Monday's public proceedings. It is said the board has narrowed its choices down to about four nominees.

The nine who have applied for the board vacancy are: William L. Brown, a sergeant for the Michigan State Police; Rev. David L. Cox, pastor of Plymouth Wesleyan Church;

Earl J. Demel, attorney in Plymouth; Ms. E.A. "Betty" Hamann, co-leader of Total Citizens Power in Canton;

Kenneth S. Nelson of Plymouth Township, a junior high assistant principal for Taylor School District; Lawrence A. Schendel of Plymouth Township, a staff attorney for the Wayne County Road Commission; Flossie Tonda, Canton planning commissioner and chairman of the school district's safety committee; and Mrs. Billie Whiteley, a candidate for the school board in 1974.

All have submitted biographical summaries and reasons why they would like to serve on the board, and the nine have had personal interviews with trustees.

THE BOARD also is expected to select names for two of the elementary schools. A decision has already been made by a previous board to name the third new elementary school after Estler Hulsing.

Names nominated by a citizens committee, from which the board will select, are Mildred Field, Ruth Erikson, Elizabeth "Betsy" Sheldon and Marie Cox.

Tonight's meeting also has been set as the deadline for the board to approve a number of budget cuts to balance the operating accounts.

Hopes for an area hospital dashed

There apparently is little chance that an inpatient hospital facility could be located in the Plymouth-Canton area in the near future, but there is still hope for a local emergency facility.

That was the report made Wednesday night to the Intragovernmental Committee by Plymouth-Canton trustee Richard Gornick and Plymouth school trustee Thomas Yack.

Yack and Gornick are serving as a subcommittee of the Intragovernmental Committee to explore the hospital and medical needs for this area and the chances to locate a hospital in the general Plymouth-Canton vicinity.

THE TWO first met with a representative of the Greater Detroit Hospital Council, which has a great deal of influence in deciding where hospitals will be located in the metropolitan Detroit area.

The hospital council told Gornick and Yack there was little chance in the near future for a full inpatient hospital to be located in this area. Hospital costs are increasing 20 per cent a year, said Joyce Kelley of the council, and the aim now is to make sure existing hospitals are operating at capacity before any new facilities are constructed.

The hospitals in this area are now at 80-90 per cent capacity and medical planners foresee a hospital bed surplus developing within the next few years.

Mrs. Kelley said Plymouth-Canton is considered to be in the service area of St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, which is now experiencing a 90 per cent utilization rate that is expected to decline.

As long as existing hospitals aren't operating at capacity, Mrs. Kelley said, the medical authorities would frown on proposals for any new hospitals.

One reason for the surplus beds, Gornick explained, is a trend in medical care to shorten the hospital stay period for surgery and pregnancy cases with patients being sent home for therapy and recuperation.

"The hospital council would rather expand existing facilities than start new ones," explained Gornick. "An important consideration is that a 500-bed hospital will attract more qualified doctors, staff and practitioners, and have better equipment, than a 100-bed hospital would."

GORNICK REPORTED that the hospital council had some sympathy for the health needs of Plymouth-Canton because of the distance which must be traveled for emergency needs and because of the large numbers of new residents who are having trouble finding specialists—such as dermatologists or neurologists—who now have long waiting lists.

Gornick reported there was some hope, however, for having an emergency facility located in the Plymouth-Canton area which also might include specialists who would be present a several days a week.

This has been made possible, he said, by the recent trend among doctors to organize into professional corporations. Once such corporation now provides emergency service to St. Mary Hospital on a contractual basis.

The hospital council has reported if the community provides a building, Gornick said, there is the chance that a doctors' professional corporation might submit a bid to provide staff and equipment for emergency medical care. The contract also could provide for specialists to be on-hand a couple days a week.

Norb Battermann, Plymouth City commissioner, commented that an emergency facility was the primary need for this area and that this approach should be looked into further.

ANOTHER POSSIBILITY explored was the idea that Henry Ford Hospital might be convinced to locate a satellite hospital in Plymouth-Canton area as it has in West Bloomfield and Dearborn.

"The hospital council might be open to another Henry Ford Hospital satellite," said Gornick, "but it would like us to first meet with St. Mary and St. Joseph hospital officials to explore the idea of an emergency facility staffed by a professional corporation. If nothing develops, the alternative might be to approach Henry Ford Hospital which, if they would locate a satellite here, would build the facility and provide staff and equipment."

Yack and Gornick now plan to meet with hospital officials from St. Mary, with persons familiar with emergency care at St. Joseph's, and with local doctors before submitting a further report to the Intragovernmental Committee for study.

Family life group lauds George Bowles

George E. Bowles, recently retired Wayne circuit judge, has been presented an "award of merit for outstanding leadership toward strengthening family life."

The presentation was made last week by the Michigan Inter-Professional Association on Marriage, Divorce and the Family Inc. The association's members are 200 social workers, psychologists, teachers, lawyers, doctors and other professionals involved with family problems.

Bowles of Plymouth was founder and first president of the group.

Making the presentation, Wayne Circuit Judge Victor Baum of Livonia said Bowles' altruism and religious background got him into politics at the same time as a generation of post-World War II liberals—State Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams, U.S. Sen. Philip Hart and Wayne Circuit Judge Horace Gilmore.

Baum revealed that Bowles, while serving as a one-man grand juror, had his life threatened. "The mob's not so smart. The threats boomeranged," Baum said.

Baum credited Bowles, as a newly appointed judge, with fighting to save the Wayne County marriage counseling service, then the target of budget cutters in a financial crisis. Leading the assault was Supervisor (and Dearborn Mayor) Orville Hubbard. "whose machine was worth 8,000 to 10,000 votes," Baum said.

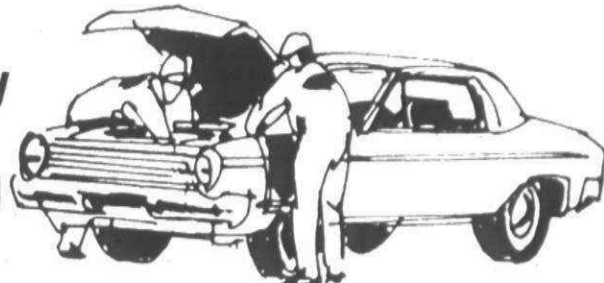

Another Bowles achievement, Baum said, was drafting the wage assignment act, which allows judges to order employers to deduct child support payments of fathers who are behind in their payments.

A day in the life of Canton's finest

Cadet Gary Sovo handles the dispatch chores.

Firefighting and rescue runs are only one part of the job

Fireman Paul Paulun and Sergeant Larry Longwish make sure the equipment is clean and ready to go.

It isn't all watching television or reading. There is a lot more for an on-duty fireman to do between alarms that just "sit around."

The neat, well kept fire stations don't just happen. The men who call the station their second home have many chores to keep them busy while on duty.

Canton Township Fire Chief Mel Paulun said his 22-man staff has plenty to do.

"We have seven men per shift, each shift on duty 24 hours at a time. When the men report for duty some are assigned to the trucks, some to the ambulance."

The chief said the men get a different schedule each day.

"In addition to maintaining their own quarters, men are assigned to shovel snow, or cut the grass, depending upon the season.

"ONE DAY IS set aside for maintaining equipment, another for sweeping and mopping the floors and washing down the vehicles."

Paulun said the men also set aside periods for study and keeping up to date on the expanding streets and subdivisions in Canton.

"It's essential that each man know every inch of the 36-square mile Canton area," Paulun added.

Five years ago Canton had one subdivision and some 45 streets Paulun said.

"Today there are 354 streets in the area and we have to know where they are and how to get to a location in the shortest possible time in the event of a fire or emergency."

The men take turns cooking the meals which always brings out some wisecracks aimed at the men who is cook for the day. As one man said, "When some of these guys cook, we have more smoke coming from the stove or oven than we get from some fires." Laughter of agreement greeted his remark.

THE CANTON FIRE department averages 80 to 90 alarms a month with approximately two-thirds of these runs calling for the rescue unit.

Canton's firemen have saved the township a great deal in tax money too.

"We build our own ambulances," Paulun said. "All we do is purchase the truck and the men go to work making an ambulance out of it, both inside and out."

The chief said to purchase a fully equipped ambulance, would cost the township between $14,000 and $16,000 apiece.

"It costs about $5,000 to build the ambulance ourselves," the chief explained.

Periodic training sessions are held in the station. In addition, new firemen are required to take special training. Three are presently learning paramedics at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

OF COURSE it isn't all work. Putting in a 56-hour week, as each man does, leaves some time for watching television, reading or playing cards. And then there is time to sleep—a sleep that may be for the night or may be interrupted by the sound of the ever-present alarm.

Canton's fire department is well equipped, has fairly modern trucks. But as Paulun and his men point out, the township is badly in need of a second fire station.

"With the area growing at such a rapid pace and with the increase in traffic on Canton's streets, the department's speed in getting to a fire some distance away is slowed down," Paulun said.

And as one man added, "There is always the chance we will get held up at a railroad crossing."

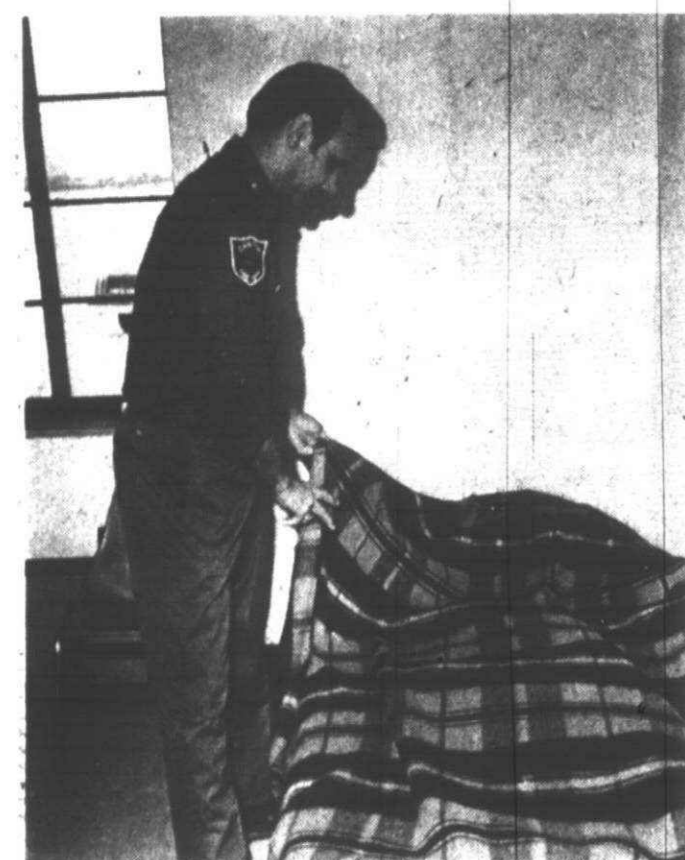

Claude Gersky keeps the locker room spotless.

Townships decline to join '911' plan

The chances are dim that a "911" emergency phone service will be instituted for the Plymouth-Canton community.

But the possibility remains open that the City of Plymouth might initiate the 911 system on its own without the cooperation of Canton and Plymouth townships.

The 911 system is a procedure devised by Michigan Bell Telephone whereby residents can dial the numerals nine-one-one (911) when they are in need of emergency fire or police service instead of having to look up the phone number.

It is possible that residents in the city and both townships could use the "911" system for emergencies, except for the two-thirds of Canton Township which isn't on Plymouth's telephone exchange.

The Intragovernmental Committee had been hopeful that local governments could get behind a program to institute 911 as a service for all residents. But that hope fell through when governmental units met recently with officials from Michigan Bell.

Attending that meeting were representatives from the City of Plymouth, Westland, Canton, Plymouth and Northville townships.

Canton Township declined to join in because in a couple of years the township expects to get its own telephone exchange. Canton is now served by the Plymouth, Wayne and Belleville telephone exchanges.

Canton's position now is that it would be better to wait until it gets its new phone exchange and then institute a 911 program instead of joining on the Plymouth phone exchange now and having to switch later.

Plymouth Township has expressed reluctance to join now because of the cost. The city has said it could handle emergency calls from township residents if the township would pay the expense to hire the additional dispatcher that would be needed. The city estimates the cost to expand its dispatch department in the police force would be about $60,000.

Richard Gornick, Plymouth Township trustee, says the township wants to wait for the city to begin the 911 service to see if it is successful. If there aren't any serious problems, he added, and the system proves to be valuable, the township will re-evaluate its position at that time.

"At this point, 911 is inconclusive and controversial," Gornick said. "Plymouth Township would like to see how the system operates for the city for six months to a year and if it works good we'll take another look."

As things now stand, if 911 is instituted it will be at the city's initiative with the possibility open for surrounding townships to join at a later date. "It sounds like time will dictate what will happen," concluded Tom Yack, Plymouth school trustee.

Semi-annual tax idea is still alive

The question of whether local municipalities should collect school taxes twice a year for the Plymouth Community School District isn't dead yet.

The pros and cons of semi-annual tax collections for the schools is still being studied by the Intragovernmental Committee which consists of representatives from the school district, City of Plymouth, Canton, Plymouth, Salem and Superior townships.

Marda Benson, school board president, first put the idea before the Intragovernmental Committee on the basis that the district wouldn't have to borrow millions of dollars each year to meet its payrolls until school taxes are collected in December by the city and townships.

NORB BATTERMANN, Plymouth City Commissioner, said Wednesday night he wasn't convinced yet of the wisdom of the proposal. If it were done, the school district should either reduce its tax levy by almost half a mill or offer more in services because of the money it would gain by not having to pay interest on the tax anticipation loans, he said.

Tom Yack of the Plymouth Board of Education said he had surveyed a number of mortgage companies and the majority opinion was that semi-annual tax collections wouldn't have any effect on the house payments of mortgagors.

He added that the school district's auditors are now making a study to determine the amounts of interest the district pays for loans to meet expenses until local taxes are collected and for loans to meet expenses until state aid payments arrive.

Battermann argued that for those persons who paid their taxes in a lump sum, instead of through escrow accounts with mortgage companies, semi-annual tax collections would mean a loss of savings deposit interest for a six-month period. "If that interest income is going to be taken away from people, it should be returned to them in the form of reduced millage or in added services. Those paying in a lump sum would lose in interest the equivalent of 0.358 of a mill."

The schools, by his analysis, would gain added income equivalent to 0.43 of a mill from interest it would earn on semi-annual tax collections and loans which provided money to be invested before it had to be spent. "This gain in revenue would be realized without a vote of the people."

YACK COMMENTED that the issue of semi-annual tax collections could be put to a vote of the people with a referendum.

Richard Gornick, Plymouth Township trustee, said Plymouth Township was willing to go along with the idea if the district would reimburse it for the added expense of collecting taxes twice a year and if it were for the best interest of the community.

Yack pointed out that the vast majority of residents in the school district do pay their taxes through escrow accounts and that only the banks earn interest on that money.

"Although semi-annual collections might reduce some money for some taxpayers, it would benefit the majority of taxpayers and that's how all taxes work," Yack added.

Richard Innes, Superior Township supervisor, commented that the school district isn't an entity by itself but is a collection of taxpayers in the community. "I think the question is whether residents want to give up the opportunity of earning 5 1/2 per cent interest so they can avoid paying nine per cent interest on loans, because when the school district has to borrow money it's really the taxpayers who are taking out the loan."

It was decided that the next step would be to approach the township treasurers to determine what the cost of collections would be if done semi-annually and to determine how many residents pay taxes through an escrow account.

Skyjacked pilot is honored

The Westland helicopter pilot, who was the victim of a skyjacking last year from Mettetal Airport in Canton to Jackson State Prison, has received a civilian citation from the Michigan State Police.

Richard Jackson of Westland received the honor for his actions in the Canton to Jackson skyjacking. Also honored by the State Police were Alfred and Michael Tait of Plymouth.

Jackson was honored for helping police locate and arrest persons involved in the breakout at Jackson State Prison. He was hired for a flight starting from Mettetal and was forced to fly to Jackson for the escape plan.

Through Jackson's cooperation, the escapee was eventually arrested and returned to Jackson State Prison. Jackson continues to make commercial helicopter flights from Mettetal and, in fact, had an important assignment in December when he transported Santa Claus to Deer Creek Apartments on Joy Road in Canton.

The Taites were honored for apprehending two burglary suspects last May in a home near their's in Plymouth.

Jackson and the Taites were among 13 state troopers, eight civilians and seven officers of other agencies recently cited for special services by the department board of awards at East Lansing.

Twelve Year Effort Ends With Unprecedented Flavor In Low Tar Smoke.

New 'Enriched Flavor' discovery for 9 mg. tar MERIT achieves taste of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

---

The greatest challenge to cigarette makers in the last two decades has been how to make a low tar cigarette that wasn't "low" in taste.

It seemed impossible.

Until today.

After twelve long, hard, often frustrating years, Philip Morris has developed the way to do it.

The cigarette is called MERIT. It

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

delivers only 9 mg. of tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Yet MERIT delivers astounding flavor.

If you're looking to become a low tar smoker, or don't particularly enjoy the taste of the low tar brand you smoke now—you'll be interested.

Low Tar, Good Taste: Filters Fall Short

Like most everyone else, we tried to design special "low tar, good taste" filters. Special filters that would somehow allow taste through but not tar.

Like others, we experienced the same general kind of results: the lower the tar, the lower the taste.

So for flavor, we concentrated on the business end of smoking. The tobacco end.

And decided if we wanted more flavor to come through, we'd just have to find a way to start with more.

Smoke Cracked:

'Enriched Flavor' Discovery

So we began an exhaustive research program in cigarette smoke analysis and the ingredients that actually comprise cigarette taste.

By using a very sensitive instrument called an Analytical Fractometer, we were able to "crack" cigarette smoke down into its various ingredients.

We found there are over 2000 separate ingredients in smoke.

Each was isolated and analyzed, one by one.

What we discovered was startling: there are ingredients in tobacco—"key" basic flavor units—that deliver taste way out-of-proportion to tar.

Breakthrough.

By fortifying tobacco with these natural flavor essentials, we're now able to pack flavor—extraordinary flavor—into a cigarette without the usual increase in tar.

The discovery is called 'Enriched Flavor.' It's extra flavor. Flavor that can't burn out, can't fade out, can't do anything but come through for you.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. Smokers of filter cigarettes like yourself, all tested at home*.

The results were conclusive:

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly, too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now you've got the cigarette. MERIT.

Incredible smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

A hot hand from the floor in the first half and a tenacious zone press defense powered Canton's surging Chiefs to an easy 77-59 Western Six victory over Walled Lake Western Friday night.

The Chiefs, combating a miserable season start, showed again what team play and aggressive defense can do.

The Chiefs jumped out to an early 21-11 lead in the first quarter, an edge that was never relinquished as they pumped in 58 per cent of their shots from the floor.

More of the same followed in the second quarter, as Canton's balanced attack kept pouring it on, outscoring the Warrior's overmatched legions, 21-12, in the second period.

At the half, it was 42-23, and the Chiefs coasted to victory from there.

With the reserves handling most of the action in the second half, the Chiefs actually increased their lead in the third quarter, banging home 17 points to Western's 15.

Only in the last quarter were they outscored, and by then the outcome of the game was no longer subject to question.

THE VICTORY, Canton's third in five league contests, kept the Chiefs right in the middle of the Western Six conference pennant chase, despite the fact that Canton is only 4-7 overall.

Western is winless after five league starts.

Again Friday, the Chiefs displayed the virtue of balanced scoring as 11 men cracked the scoring column, with three turning in double digit performances.

Mike Albright paced the attack with 20 points and 14 rebounds—not bad for an evening's performance let alone a half, while Keith Osborne and Rob Mandle equalled his performance together, each chipping in 10 points.

Tom Close, Bill Parson and Larry Dely added nine, eight and six points, respectively.

Coach Casey Cavell attributed much of the evening's success to a ballhawking defense and strong shooting performance.

Rocks power past Dearborn

By FRED DeLANO

A little heralded statistic stood out with neon clarity Friday night when Plymouth Salem's unbeaten Rocks methodically rolled to their 13th successive victory of the basketball season, 76-52, in the barn-like atmosphere of the Dearborn High School gymnasium.

Salem is a team which disdains the bounce pass which was favored by the fathers and grandfathers of these 1975-76 cage zealots, and in their quest for perfection (and the state Class A championship) the Rocks fly the ball from man to man with swift, fingertip perfection in mid-air.

In the hundreds of such exchanges, only four times at Dearborn did Plymouth lose possession of the ball through errant aim—or the receiver not getting to the spot he was supposed to be with split-second timing. The game previously, at Westland John Glenn, only two such passes went awry—and so it has gone all season long.

While the tactic flirts with disaster in the hands of the untrained, it inevitably coaxes the foe into error when used properly. This the Rocks seem able to do.

SEVEN ASSISTS by Bob Evans, six by Howard Inch and four by Brian Wolcott are accompanying statistics of note from the win at Dearborn, as is the fact that Mike Primeau led the team in rebounds with 10.

It's habit forming to record the fact that mighty Jim Ellinghausen sat out more than a quarter and still poured 33 points through the nets, but that he did to run his production for 13 starts to exactly 400 points. Wolcott's 17 on eight outside buckets and a free throw added to Dearborn's consternation.

It was a 15-2, five minute scoring spurt for Plymouth in the third period which put the game out of reach for the host Pioneers, a swift, hard driving lot who look to be better than their 4-9 record would indicate.

After Ellinghausen, Wolcott, Evans and Primeau had combined to give Salem a 23-12 first period edge, the Rocks relaxed to a 16-16 standoff in the second stanza.

"OUR KIDS were pretty disgusted with themselves at halftime and decided to take it to 'em," reflected Coach Fred Thomann after victory No. 13 overall and No. 7 in the Suburban Eight had become a matter of record.

After goals by Frank Fuja and Don McCathney had brought Dearborn within nine at 41-32 in the early moments of the second half, the Rocks went on their binge.

Inch popped in two in a row. Wolcott tipped in a beauty, Ellinghausen reached from under the bucket to score on an impossible try and then added a free throw. Inch came back with another swisher, Eli was deadly on a turnaround jumper from the line, and Evans canned two charity tosses. Only a sneaker by Fuja interrupted that 15-point spree which made it 56-34.

From there the Rocks romped to a 70-46 margin with three minutes left when Thomann turned it over to the shock troops.

The Rocks won't get a shot at No. 14 until next Saturday night when they will be at home against Redford Union, a 79-70 victim at RU Dec. 5.

from our readers

Guest viewpoint

Homeowner protest—a matter of economics

Editor's note: It is the policy of this newspaper to print only signed letters that are no more than 300 words in length.

However, because this particular letter seems to be representative of most of the calls and letters we have received in the past week in answer to an editorial that ran on Thursday, Jan. 19, titled "Snobbery rears its ugly head in Canton," we have stretched the rule.

We urge our readers in the future to restrict their comments to 300 typewritten words. Thank you.

We are writing this letter in response to the editorial comments expressed by you in the Jan. 19, 1976 edition of the Canton Observer & Eccentric.

First of all, we are residents of Camelot West Subdivision and therefore I presume that, at least according to your article, that qualifies us as "snobs." We feel that the three subdivisions involved have been extremely misrepresented and mistreated by your newspaper.

Our main concern when this whole thing began was the fact that the homes which we are living in were in danger of being devalued because homes which did not conform to the standards that our homes were built by and were of much less value were being brought into our subdivision.

Besides the fact that 16 of these homes were to be built in the subdivision, they were going to be built one right after the other and you must agree that there is certainly nothing attractive about row housing. Even though the builders did not exactly follow the rules when building our homes, they were supposed to stagger the homes being built so that no two homes exactly alike would be next door to each other.

This makes for a much more appealing and attractive neighborhood.

LET'S FACE IT, a home is definitely one of the biggest investments any one person will make in a lifetime. Naturally if anything should attempt to jeopardize such a large investment, you would take steps to protect it, just as you would protect your own family.

Nothing was ever said or meant by any resident that was to be taken that we were against certain types of people moving into our subdivision or that they had to make any set amount of money per year to move in.

You're the only person who we have heard of who refers to people who can't afford $45,000 homes as the "creeping crud of society." In case you haven't looked around the township, there are several nice areas which consist of lower priced homes and they aren't exactly in "some dark corner of the township surrounded by barbed wire and fenced off."

A point should be made that no matter whether the home shown on Ford and Morrison (called the Mt. Vernon) was being sold for $35,000 or $50,000 the styling and the looks of the house do not fit in with the other homes in the immediate area and is not considered a comparable model to those which we purchased our homes from. When we moved into this neighborhood we took great pride in the fact that we could first of all even afford to buy a new house.

We looked at several different areas in Canton and decided on Camelot West as our choice. At the time we signed the papers, our salesman assured us there would be all single family homes in the subdivision and that there was a regulation that all homes be bricked and have two-car attached garages.

This was, as he pointed out, a very good thing to keep in mind for the purpose of future resale value. This may have been as was stated in your editorial "a case where the salesman took license with the truth" for the purpose of making a sale.

However, it still remains a fact that we took it as honest truth and we're the ones who stand to lose money on our homes as far as resale goes, should this neighborhood be infiltrated with this type of home.

OBVIOUSLY, Mr. Gold, you do not own a home or perhaps you don't happen to take pride in your investments. Everyone who has ever bought a home can realize how important it is to protect their investment. Whether it be through the purchase of fire insurance or risking your life to go out in a blizzard to a meeting for the purpose of defending your property.

If this then can be construed as snobbery, Mr. Gold, we are guilty. However, so is everyone else who has had to work for a living, because I don't think anyone would stand by and watch something they've worked for as hard as a home, be threatened without at least trying to fight to protect it.

Give us the opportunity to tell all the readers how we feel. Please print our letter in answer to your editorial comments.

MR. & MRS. TIMOTHY LaGROW
Canton Township

Snobbery has nothing to do with it

Editor:

I live in Camelot West and consider myself to be a true Christian and a good citizen, and no matter what you or anyone else says, the "Mt. Vernon" is an ugly model and an eyesore.

Even my visiting friends and relatives have commented on how ugly it is.

When I read your editorial of Jan. 19, I didn't know whether to laugh or cry. It is frustrating to read lies, you know. Then I realized that every article I read regarding our little dispute seemed to paint such a pathetic picture of the builder and a rather nasty picture of the residents.

Makes one wonder why, doesn't it?

I would like to know your true reasons for misrepresenting the residents and for blowing this whole thing out of proportion.

After all, if you as a tax-paying resident cannot voice your opinion about a structure within your vicinity, then why rave about democracy, it's evidently become extinct.

AS FOR CANTON, you know as well as I that Canton consists of people from many different backgrounds including race, jobs, religion, etc., as well as a variety of housing from ADC, lower moderate and high income.

I myself would have loved a $50,000 colonial, but could only afford a $36,000 tri-level.

I am happy with my home and my neighborhood, for the homes compliment each other, with the exception of the "Mt. Vernon."

Before purchasing my home, I and my husband checked out the surrounding homes first to see if we like the area. It's kind of like dressing, only a more expensive investment—would you wear sneakers with a suit?

Further, I resent your insinuation that I am a snob and a bigot.

IT HAS BEEN my observation that those people who speak out loudest regarding "suppressed" or minority groups are the ones with either a political goal, or a guilty conscience.

It may have sounded good enough a few years ago, but today, we the public, are tired of the politicians and the press (news) media trying to create trouble where none exists.

Why don't you get down off your soap box and tend to more important matters, like bringing people closer together in a common goal for the good of the country, rather than throwing around ignorant insulting lies about a group of people exercising their just rights.

A faithful train watcher

Editor:

I am a train watcher too and have now noted some 63 different freight cars. Those listed on the "WAITO" game in a recent edition of the Observer & Eccentric are elementary. Your aficionados of this pastime should look for some of the rarer ones, notably:

Chicago, West Pullman & Southern; Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Delaware & Hudson; Toledo, Peoria & Western; The Pickens (SC) Line; Cunchfield; Nickel Plate; Raritan River RR; Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac.

I have noted all these on the C & O in Plymouth. (One midwest line, once common, that I have never noted is The Monow Route.)

This pastime beats collecting matchbook covers and is almost as absorbing as collecting shells.

Where are complainers?

Editor:

Conspicuous by their absence from the list of applicants for the vacant seat on the Plymouth school board are members of the "Concerned Parents."

This is typical of those who are critical of the establishment but fail to come forth and participate when the opportunity arises. If they have the answer to better education, why not get on the board and work for the change they seek instead of merely pointing up the problems and letting others find the solutions.

Local Realtor teaches class

Realtor Laurence Martin of Century 21 in Plymouth is the instructor for "Real Estate Business I" to be offered by the Real Estate Program of the University of Michigan Extension Service and Graduate School of Business Administration.

The introductory course in real estate fundamentals, which will also feature a series of guest lecturers, offers a practical approach to problems arising in day-to-day real estate transactions and introduces the student to all facets of the real estate business.

Primary objective is to present points of law and real estate principles useful to the salesperson and broker alike. For those not already licensed as salespersons, however, the course provides more than adequate preparation for writing the state licensing examination.

Topics to be discussed include organized real estate, code of ethics, state real estate law, legal aspects, arranging financing, construction, economics, urban growth and securities, process and pricing of listings, marketing, and successful salesmanship. Battery-operated calculators are recommended for use in this course.

Daily Interest Statement Savings lets you make deposits, withdrawals, and earn daily interest—all without a passbook.

The convenient, modern way to bank is with a Daily Interest Statement Savings account at Detroit Bank & Trust.

It's convenient, because there is no passbook to bother with. You don't have to have one with you to make deposits or withdrawals. And you never have to worry about losing it.

It's modern, because you get a detailed, computerized statement of your account's activities every interest quarter—deposits, withdrawals, interest earned and current balance. It's all there in easy-to-read form. And it's mailed to your home. And Daily Interest Statement Savings is smart to have because you earn daily interest on your savings. Your money is compounded and paid quarterly at a 5% annual interest rate, earning interest from day of deposit to day of withdrawal.

To start your Daily Interest Statement Savings account, just tell your DETROIT BANK-er you want to sign up. Of course, your account is insured to $40,000 by the FDIC.

For daily interest and the convenience of a statement account...it pays to know a DETROIT BANK-er better.

Plymouth LIFE

Monday, January 26, 1976

(P.C.) 1B

Lin Wright (left) and Pat McDonald of East Elementary make namasu, sliced cucumbers prepared the Indian way.

Nutrition can be fun

Plymouth teachers assumed the roles of their students in a nutrition workshop in the CASTLES Center last week. Nancy Jones and Diane Winnie, program directors for the Dairy Council of Michigan, were the teachers.

Participants were divided into two classes, kindergarten through third grade, and fourth through sixth, with programs aimed at each age group.

Purpose of the "Big Ideas" workshop was to make nutrition fun for students.

Games were suggested to introduce the smell, texture, and taste of new foods to the children.

One of these was the mystery box game. A sock, minus the foot, is placed over a milk carton, coffee can or oatmeal box which contains an unknown food. The child reaches in and feels the food.

QUESTIONS may be "What do you notice?" "Is it hard or soft?" "Is it rough or smooth?" "What is the shape?" "How big is it?" and "Can you smell it?"

Social studies were combined with the study of food and nutrition in a section on how man's environment influences his food choices.

The objective was to demonstrate that food choices around the world vary. However, food from all cultures and countries may be classified into four food groups to meet man's basic needs.

It was noted that staple foods of West Africa may include cassava, a root vegetable, rice, corn, yams, plantain and millet. Okra, peanuts, hot peppers, and dried beans and peas are an important part of the diet and also might be considered staple foods.

One group prepared Nigerian rice cakes. The little cakes tasted like rice pudding with a crisp crust.

The Mexican group prepared gaucamole, champurrado and tacos.

The champurrado, or Mexican hot chocolate, was made by combining two squares of unsweetened chocolate,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of sugar, a pinch of salt, one teaspoon of cinnamon with a quart of milk. This was heated slowly in a saucepan until the chocolate was melted, with occasional stirring to prevent sticking. It was removed from the heat and whipped until foamy.

GAUCAMOLE was used as a dip with corn chips. The recipe was: two ripe avocados, peeled, pitted and cut into chunks, one tablespoon grated onion, two tablespoons lemon juice,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, and one teaspoon chili powder placed in a blender and mixed until smooth.

For an additional learning experience, it was suggested that the students sprout and grow the avocado pit, leave a piece of the avocado exposed to the air to see what happened, and dip another piece in lemon juice before it is exposed to the air. Is the reaction the same?

Namasu, a Japanese cucumber salad, received nods of approval. The addition of powdered ginger to the sugar and vinegar mixture poured over thin slices of cucumber added a piquant flavor. The cucumber slices had been salted and allowed to stand for 15 minutes, then patted dry with paper towels before the vinegar solution was added.

INDIVIDUAL batches of ice cream were concocted in orange juice cans with cut-off milk cartons holding the ice and salt for freezing.

It takes about 20 minutes of stirring with a tongue depressor to produce the ice cream.

The directors pointed out that there is more to creating an individual serving of ice cream than the thrill of seeing the solution thicken.

New words may be added to the student's vocabulary—crystals, mixture, vanilla and ratio.

Math physics and chemistry join the study of nutrition when students:

•Make a bar graph illustrating the nutrients in ice cream.

•Take and record temperatures of ice cream mixture and ice-salt mixture at regular intervals. Draw a line graph.

•Experiment to find freezing temperatures of other elements.

•Discuss why salt is used and why ice cream freezes.

•Experiment to discover what would happen if ice cream is not stirred.

•Plan an ice cream party for another class, parents, grandparents or senior citizens.

The workshop was the first in which all Plymouth school district elementary teachers were invited to participate. Each received a learning packet of suggestions for spreading the gospel of the basic four and nutrition to their students.

Miles Barnett, teacher at East Elementary, and Nancy Jones of the Dairy Council try the champurrado and tacos.

Mary Ellen Johnson demonstrated the mystery box game. She decided she liked the tortilla after she tasted it.

Sandy Lestock, home economics teacher at East Middle School, shows some of the equipment needed for preparing ice cream.

Newcomers Club sample wines

The Plymouth Newcomers Club will have a wine-tasting party Thursday, Feb. 5 in the Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Road. Members will gather for a hospitality session at noon. The wine-tasting program is scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m.

The party is open to ex-Newcomers, prospective members and guests as well as the regular members.

The program is being arranged by a distributor. Foreign and domestic wines will be sampled. They will be complemented by a variety of hors d'oeuvres and cheeses.

Reservations, at $5 per person, may be made by contacting Mrs. Gerald Lollo, 1767 Nantucket. Reservations and cancellations should be in by noon, Monday, Feb. 2.

Babysitting is available by calling Mrs. William Merchant, 15075 Finch.

Economical entertaining is topic

Members of the Canton Township Newcomers Club will receive tips on trimming their entertainment budgets at their Feb. 4 meeting.

Patricia Holden, residential consumer service advisor at Detroit Edison, will advise the group on easy and economical entertaining. Miss Holden will prepare several dishes and demonstrate the uses of new convenience appliances.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

in Pioneer Middle School, 48061 W. Ann Arbor Road.

President Sue O'Donnell says, "Any woman new to the Canton area is cordially invited to attend and join the club if she chooses."

Plymouth homemaker

Tailor makes them clothes horses

By MARGARET MILLER

The only formal sewing instruction Cindy Tripp had was back in the eighth grade, but that doesn't keep her from sewing up a storm for the guys in her family.

This young Plymouth homemaker has tailored suits Reed, also of Plymouth, to say nothing of a hooded jacket and matching pants for her baby son, now 10 months.

And she'll get going soon on a new plaid suit for her husband, and then is considering increasing her dad's wardrobe again soon.

CINDY'S EXPERIENCE with the sewing machine and needle had been a matter of turning out some school clothes and a prom dress before she and John were married in the summer of 1974.

Then, in October, they were invited to a wedding, and John thought it would be nice to have a new suit, but the budget just wouldn't stretch to cover it.

"A friend of his had an $80 suit he liked and it fit him perfectly," Cindy said, "so I decided to see if I could copy it."

Some creamy beige material was purchased, and Cindy found a pattern she could use for the basic cutting. She was planning to copy the other suit in the way detailing was worked out.

THEN A MILD case of panic set in as Cindy looked at the material and finished suit.

"At first I thought I could never get it done," she recalled, "and John said I should just forget it. But I decided the worst I could do would be to ruin $20 worth of material, so I went ahead and got it done."

The suit was completed with a day or so to spare before the October wedding, and John's friend wore his suit to the event, too.

"He couldn't believe it—they were so much alike," Cindy said.

HER FATHER admired the suit, so that gave Cindy the idea for a Christmas present and her next project.

She chose chocolate brown material and a complete pattern this time, and finished it in time to put under the Christmas tree.

The major sewing projects then came to a halt for a while, because Cindy had to whip up a few maternity clothes.

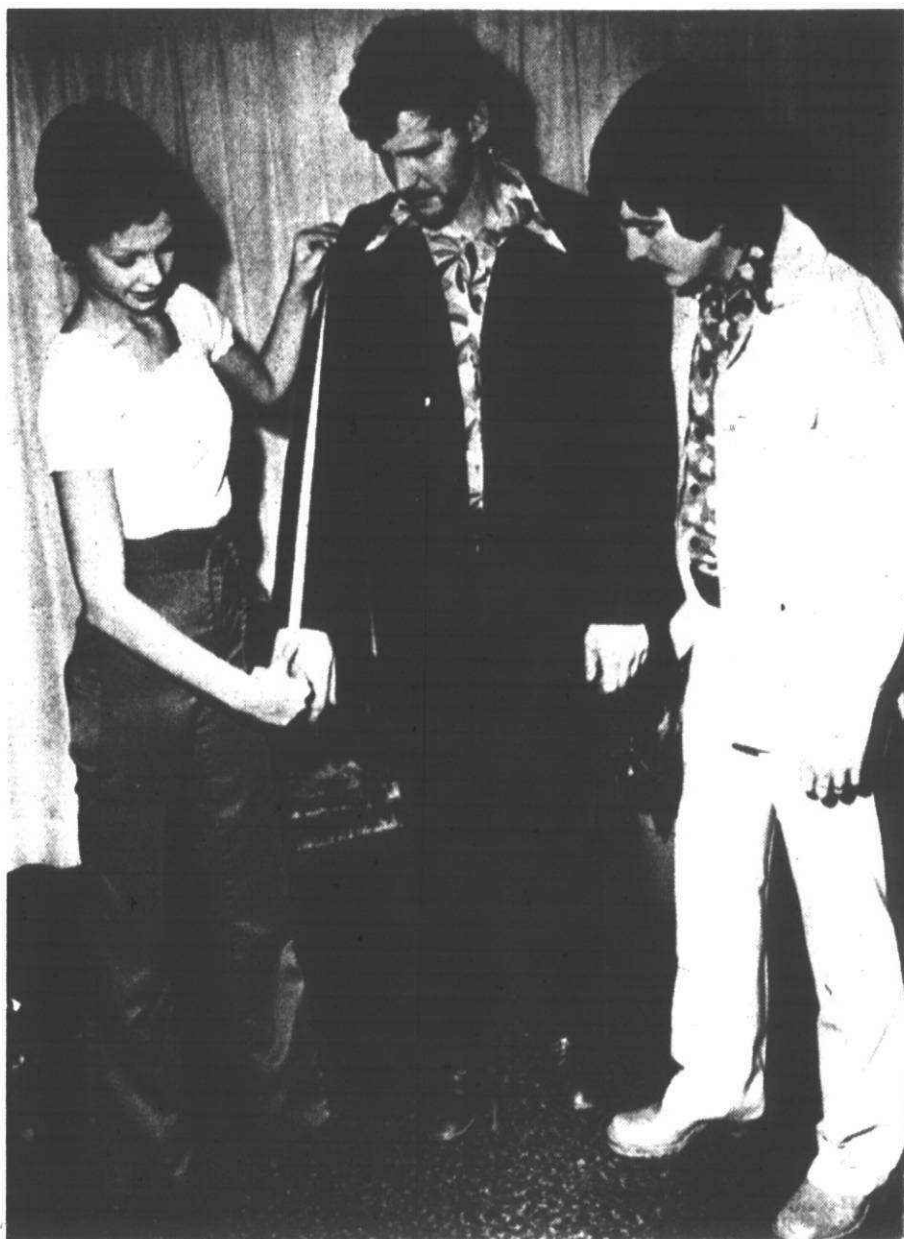

"And after I had the baby I went back to work for a while, because John was laid off," she related. She made herself some pant suits for her office job, and found some heavy sweatshirt material that she turned into a warm jacket and pants for John Jr.

NOW CINDY'S job has come to an end and John is back at Hydramatic, so the sewing machine should start whirring again.

John has another friend with a sharp plaid suit, and Cindy thinks that would be interesting to copy.

It has a shorter jacket and some different detailing, so it should be another good challenge.

"And then I'll make another suit for my dad for his birthday," she said, "only I'll have to find a pattern with a longer coat. I just found out he doesn't like the short ones."

Cindy Tripp checks the sleeve length on the suit she made for her father, Bill Reed. Looking on is her husband, John, wearing the suit she also sewed for him. (Staff photo by Maurie Walker)

Dieterle-Kozlowski

Ivankovich-Landoll

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dieterle of Saline announce the engagement of their daughter, Sue Ann, to Ronald Alan Kozlowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kozlowski of Redford Township. The bride-elect is a senior at Michigan State University. Her fiancé graduated from Bishop Borgess High School in 1971 and from MSU in 1975 and is employed as an engineer by Federal Mogul in Southfield. A June 26 wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ivankovich of Westland announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Lee, to Henry Landoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landoll of Norwalk, Ohio. The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Stevenson High School and employed by Hixon-Costigan Construction of Southfield as a secretary. Her fiancé graduated in 1972 from Bowling Green University and is associated with the marketing division of Ralston-Purina. They plan a May wedding.

Political coffee

Coffee and politics are a truly democratic couple. A political coffee party is a tried-and-true means of getting the constituency to meet the candidate. The '76 campaigner might state his individuality by serving one of the new flavored coffees like cafe au chocolate, dashed with sweet chocolate or coffee accented with mint, cinnamon or anisette.

Mills-Mason

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mills of Cambridge Place, West Bloomfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilee, to Richard P. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Mason of Meadowbrook Street, Livonia. Both are seniors at Michigan State University. The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of Harrison High School in Farmington and her fiancé graduated in 1972 from Churchill High School in Livonia. No wedding date has been set.

Kilbourns live in Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey Kilbourn have a home in Country Club Hills, Ill., following their marriage in Alumni Memorial Chapel on the campus of Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Mrs. Kilbourn is the former Nancy Anne Borg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Borg of Romeo. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kilbourn of Garfield Street, Redford Township.

The Rev. Robert L. Miller officiated.

The bride wore an A-line empire gown and long veil and carried white and coral roses on a Bible.

Her sister, Deborah Borg, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Katherine Toteky, Sherryl Buck and Susan Kilbourn. Attending the bridegroom were Charles Lloyd, best man, James Harper, Gary Black and Michael Wren, groomsmen, and Daniel Freye and Tim Brousseau, ushers.

The reception was held in the Albert Pick Hotel in East Lansing and the couple honeymooned on Mackinac Island.

The new Mrs. Kilbourn graduated from Michigan State in 1975 with an honors degree in chemical engineering. She is employed by Atlantic-Richfield in Chicago.

Her husband is completing work in the ROTC program at MSU, and upon graduation in June will be a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force.

Passing the parts

A national network of replacement parts is maintained to supply the new Chevette. The Livonia GM Parts Distribution Center, Schoolcraft and Levan, is one of 27 such centers tied to larger dealerships via computer. Parts manager Jim Penrod is looking up the part number for a headlamp bezel. Operating the computer terminal is Debbie Kiajda.
