Canvassers certify Canton's election

By CRAIG PIECHURA

Nine days after the election in Canton Township, the board of canvassers has finally certified the outcome.

The four-member board certified the vote tallies Thursday, after meeting two previous times but failing to certify because of complaints from write-in suppor-

"All of us agreed the first night we met that this election should be certified," said Floyd Fulford, chairman of Canton's board of canvassers. "But there was a lot of conflict among people in the community, and we wanted to be as fair as possible. "If we agree with the figures on the machines and the tally books match, then we have no choice but to certify this election." Fulford said. "The law says we must. People's complaints have nothing to do with it.

WRITE-IN SUPPORTERS turned out in great numbers for all three public meetings on certification, telling the board of canvassers they wanted an investigation of votes in two precincts in particular-Precinct 10 and Precinct 9.

Precinct 10 was the large absentee ballot precinct with 12.4 per cent of Canton's 10,637 voters. Thom Carman and Jim Donahue, co-chairmen of the Committee To Re-elect the Greenstein Team, believe that people who marked a straight ticket and also affixed write in stickers on the ballot may have been shortchanged.

They argue that pollworkers could have missed the stickers when they were entering write-in votes on the machines by only looking at the X in the straight party box.

"Because of the physical problems and the increased possibility of human error with absentee ballots, we feel it is very likely that some of the write-in votes were missed," Carman said.

In Precinct 10. Donahue has charged. the precinct chairman disallowed write-in stickers that were crinkled to the point where 50 per cent of the sticker was unreadable. Donahue claims that the machine mangled the stickers and the voters showed a clear intent to vote for the writein candidates. He said the crinkled stickers should have been smoothed out and

Gloria Hammonds, Precinct 9 chairman, refuses to say what the policy was in Precinct 9 on counting crinkled write-in stick-

Carman, spokesman of the write-in group, said Friday that the write-in group was not demoralized by the board of can-learned the investigation of alleged improprieties will not necessarily end just because the local board of canvassers has certified the election vote figures.

"A lot of our people's feelings were that if the board of canvassers certified the election totals then no one else would take a look." Carman said. "Talking to Mr. (Joseph) Martina and Mr. (Orvylle) Tungate. that evidently is not the case. A recount, for example, opens ups any matters to in-

DEPUTY CLERK TUNGATE and Martina, director of elections of Wayne County, appeared at Thursday night's Canton vote certification meeting in Canton.

Tungate explained that there are three methods of election investigation open to write-in supporters, should they wish to press the issue.

"If there are irregularities, there are a number of avenues open to you after vote certification." Tungate said. "The first is to file a criminal complaint with the prosecutor's office. Second, you may file a formal complaint with the secretary of state's office in Lansing The third approach to investigating election complaints is accomplished in the structure of the

You investigate different things in different ways," Carman said. "For example, a complaint about misinformation given out by pollworkers would be handled by the prosecutor if it was just one instance and by the secretary of state if we found it was widespread.

"This election was so damn complex." said Carman. "That's part of the problem to begin with. We had the problem of abwants inspected, and the township would sentee ballots and the physical problem of counting write-in votes. Both those things open up the chance of human error Carman said he expects to meet with Greenstein in the next few days to talk about the possibility of having Greenstein demand a recount.

"The possibility is pretty strong." Carman said. "Honestly, we haven't decided what we're going to do We'll see how Bob (Greenstein) feels and determine whether it's worthwhile.

The nullification vote took place last week-the last official board meeting of the Greenstein administration.

In March 1969, the Canton board approved the building of 98 apartments and 55 townhouses (condominiums) at Windsor Park Because of homeowner opposition to rented apartments, the prior board in February 1972 changed the site plans by asking the second owner (Slavik) to build 90

The vote to nullify the site plan was stein admitted that the board's action greeted by applause from many members could very well be the subject of a lawsuit of the audience who live in Windsor Park.

Gerald T. Odum was not pleased with the reception he got from the homeowners and the majority of the board.

"I left the township meeting two weeks ago hoping to meet with the Windsor Park homeowner group to reach some kind of compromise," Odum said. "I was available, they were not. Finally we set something up. I came prepared to make certain concessions. First, I agreed to build a sixfoot fence when only a five-foot fence is required by code. I offered to increase the height of the fence to seven or eight feet if that was desired and split the cost of any height over six feet with the homeowners.

"Our plans have been revised and revised. I got you greater setback of the buildings in two different cases. ture compromise Chance of teachers striking is slim

By EMORY DANIELS

Teachers in the Plymouth Community School District are now in their 10th week of working without a contract and there's no indication of a settlement between the teachers union and the school board

Negotiations are at a standstill; it appears the stalemate will continue, possibly until the end of the year. But even though progress has stopped at the bargaining table, the possibility of a strike is not im-

Basically, negotiations are in a state of limbo as the teacher union is struggling to find a way to apply pressure for a favorable contract-short of a strike. The school board, knowing the chances of a strike are slim, has drawn the line and has no real motivation to move any further.

The present status is that the school board negotiation team is meeting once a week with the Plymouth Education Association (PEA) team to keep lines of communication open, but there's almost no bargaining occurring.

THE KEY to the current stalemate lies in the decision of the Michigan Court of Appeals upholding the right of the Crestwood School District administration to fire its faculty for striking.

That legal ruling provides that any school district may discharge any striking teacher so long as due process is provided. If a school board holds sufficient hearings on each individual instructor, than all teachers can be fired for going on strike.

The impact of that ruling has been very real for both sides. The school board, armed with clear authority to use dismissal to prevent a strike, is "feeling its oats" and feels more secure in drawing the line at the table because it is fairly confident the ultimate weapon-the strike-

The PEA, likewise, is fearful of the consequences of using the strike as a bargaining weapon because of the possible consequence of teachers being fired. In 1976, more so than any other year, superintendents and school board spokesmen in Wayne and Oakland counties have verbally made known their intentions to fire teachers if a strike occurs. Whether true or not, the teachers union has perceived that school districts in the metropolitan area have decided to use the dismissal threat to stop faculties from calling a strike. It may not be collusion, but superintendents throughout the metropolitan area are speaking the same language and the drum beat sounds much the same.

Thus, a strike is likely to be called only as a measure of last resort-if at all. The PEA, of course, will never admit that it has no intention of striking but the local situation will have to become much worse tration, to be pursued to avert a strike. then it is now before a strike occurs.

The fact is that the strike, traditionally the key bargaining weapon, has been stripped away from teachers as an effective tool. In 1976 the risk of calling a strike is so great that it is almost a useless tool for a single school district.

There is, however, the possibility of a strike in Plymouth of a very limited duration. Because of the mechanics of offering due process before dismissal, teachers could go on strike and remain out until receiving notification of dismissal and then return to work. Thus a strike of about a week could be staged without permanent damage to teachers and the PEA.

AT THE EXTREME end of the range of options for teachers is the possibility of an area-wide strike which would close down a number of school districts simulataneously

The Michigan Education Association (MEA) is at a pivotal stage in labor history. The MEA took a couple beatings when Crestwood teachers were fired and when Garden City teachers were jailed for

The MEA hasn't yet, by any means, forfeited the strike as a bargaining tool. But neither has the MEA in 1976 discovered a means to call a strike without risking catastrophe for its members. If the MEA is to give up the ability to strike, then it will either find its negotiation powers impotent or will have to find very crative ways to

If the MEA feels the strike must be retained as a viable labor device, then it is quite clear that about the only option left this year is to close down large numbers of school districts in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. The idea is to have teachers hit the bricks in sufficient volume so it would be impossible to hire replacements. The intensity would have to be such that about 25,000 teachers go out on strike at the same time.

A regional strike has greater risk and probably won't be called unless the MEA envisions its present condition as being one of survival. Faced with survival as a viable labor unit, then a regional strike becomes less of a risk.

ONE HOPE to which the MEA clings is that the Michigan Legislature in the new session will enact remedial legislation to correct the current nebuluous status of bar-

The MEA is supporting Senate Bill 1365 which would legitimatize a strike but provide for options, such as binding arbi-Last year the MEA put its trust in the courts in hopes that the legal system would sustain its right to strike. Failing that, the union now must turn to the legislature for relief or to the streets.

With the legislature reconvening this month, what might occur is an area-wide escalation of strife between unions and school boards to demonstrate to Lansing the need for timely remedy. Otherwise, legislators are likely to stall on this issue as they did all last year.

IT WOULD BE faulty to assume that the Plymouth Board of Education is insisting that teachers "sell short" because of the board's newly-found authority to be tough

In Plymouth both sides have been bargaining in good faith and the problems at the table are relatively minor compared to incidents which have occurred in other school districts

The prime motivation of the school board is not to make an offer which would require the district to use any part of the additional 4.75 voted mills for operation for teachers' salary. During the millage campaign, the board pledged the added tax would be spent to improve educational programs and would not be used toward teachers salaries. Having made that public pledge, the board is determined to keep that promise.

It appears the board's latest offer, a 30 per cent improvement over three years counting increments and pension contributions, is the highest it can go without using some of the funds generated by the new millage. The PEA, however, is less than sure this is the case.

But the line is drawn at 30 per cent improvement over three years and the board seems resolute that the offer won't be the PEA is the impact inflation will have on their buying power over the next three years. If a one-year pact were in the offing, a settlement might already have been reached. But teachers would like to see some improvement in their buying power during the next three years and have little reason to believe inflation won't drop much below the seven to eight per cent level per vear Another factor is how much of the 30 per cent the PEA is willing to accept as salary improvement. The school board suggests the entire 30 per cent is an improvement because it represents more money in the teachers' pocketbooks at each pay period.

What appears to be the main concern for

The PEA, however, recognizes that the contribution to the pension fund is a requirement of state law and one the board would have to offer regardless of what agreements are reached at the bargaining table. The PEA also does not recognize increment (salary hike based on semority and education) raises as a salary improvement because not all teachers receive increments. From the PEA's standpoint, a contract negotiated needs to include gains for all teachers and any money which all teachers don't receive isn't a negotiated improvement

But the battle over increments is almost a flag waving tactic. Regardless of all the arguments the PEA puts forth against increments it is very likely a settlement would be reached if the total money package was desirable.

But during November there is little likelihood a settlement will be reached. Although the PEA is negotiating for its own local contract, the teacher's team isn't ignorant of the plight of the MEA and neighboring districts. The Plymouth contract status is now in a period of waiting to see if the legislature will act, to see if regional action will be taken, or to see whether the showdown ought to be delayed until September

Symphony concert is Sunday

Keum Ja Kim, the coloratura soprano who drew rave reviews earlier this year when she performed at the pop concert, will be guest soloist at the Nov. 21 concert of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The May concert was a sellout, leaving many disappointed would-be concert-goers. Sunday's concert at 4 p.m. in the Pfymouth Salem High School auditorium has the seating capacity to accommodate a larger audience

The petite soprano-she's 5-foot-2 and weighs barely 100 pounds-has an astonishing voice which fills the hall. She will sing the "Aria" by Mozart. After intermission she will join the orchestra for "Four Last Songs" by Richard Strauss.

MISS KIM sang with the the Children's Choir of Korea as an orphan child. The choir was brought to America by the late Ed Sullivan for a television performance.

With that group, she sang in 28 foreign countries. In time she arrived at the Interlochen Arts Academy and was befriended by another young student. Karen McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McAllister of Plymouth.

She was a houseguest in the McAllister's home many times and was soloist with the choir at First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth on more than one occasion.

Roscoe Bonisteel, Ann Ann Arbor attorney and former University of Michigan regent, took the talented Miss Kim under his wing and helped her through U-M. She has her masters degree and is work-

People wait in long queue to guard against swine flu

As those of you who were still standing in line at Plymouth Salem High School last Wednesday evening when the doors closed know, not everyone who wanted one got a swine flu vaccination.

Although an exact number has not been calculated, Doug Vilnius, vaccine coordinator for Wayne County, said there were many, many people left waiting outside in line at 9 p.m.

According to Vilnius, there are no definite plans for another clinic in the immediate Plymouth area. However, he said there would be a make-up clinic at the Westland Shopping Center Nov. 20 from 10 a.m until 6 p.m. We will be administering both the bivalent and monovalent vaccine at Westland." commented Vilnius. "And anybody who was not innoculated during the regular clinic should plan on coming out to the make-

Bivalent is a mixture of swine flu and "A" Victoria flu vaccines. It will be given to people 60 years of age and older and to people 18 years of age and older who have a chronic disease, such as heart trouble, respiratory illness, or kidney infection. The monovalent vaccine is only for swine flu and will be given to anybody age 18 to 59. Vilnius also said there would be a special clinic for chronically ill children who are between the ages of 3 and 17. It will be held today through Nov. 19 at the Wayne County Health Center on Merriman Road. The hours for each of the five days will be: 9-11 a.m. and 14 p.m.

Bundarin, who has already contacted the Wayne County Sheriff's Department about the incident, said he suspects the dogs may have been stolen.

"I'm not sure what happenned," he said.

"I'm suspicious. The puppies are the second set of Irish setters which have disappeared from Bundarin's home. Another Irish setter, a young adult, disappeared from the Holiday Park home about a year ago, when the dog leaped out Bundarin's front door.

The missing puppies were purchased to replace the run-away.

We got two this time, because we figured they wouldn't be lonely and run away." Bundarin explained. "We've had them since they were four-weeks-old, and they were inseparable. When one went outside, the other went outside, too.

"The kids are upset again," he continued. "They got more attached to these two

"I know a lot of people are wondering why we closed the clinc when we did," remarked Vilnius. "There were several fac-

"I know I don't have to tell you that when people get tired, they make mistakes, and in circumstances like this, the one thing you want to avoid is a mistake.

"So we made the decision to close the doors. I'm sorry that people were inconvenienced, but we had to consider the general welfare," Vilnius concluded.

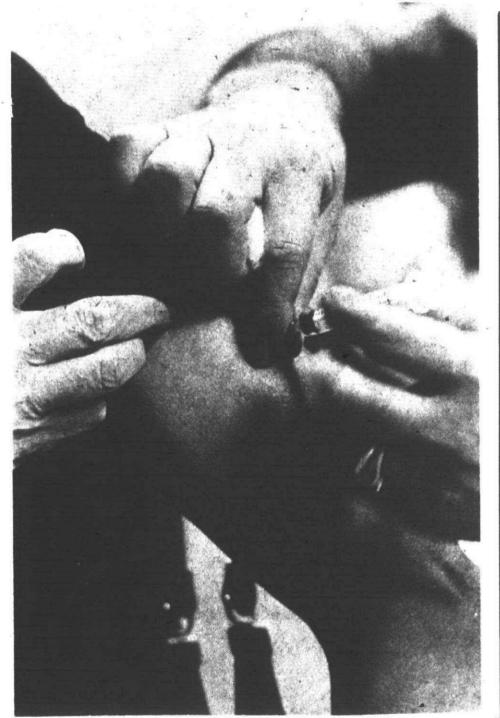

The large turnout came as somewhat of a surprise to health department officials who hope residents will take advantage of the make-up clinic. There is a very slim possibility might hold another clinic in the Plymouth area sometime after Nov. 20," Vilnius speculated. "But right now we don't know if money will be available.

Canton youth get award

Canton residents Carrie Young and Audrey Lynn Hanyi have been named Outstanding Youth of the Bicentennial Era in Michigan's 15th Congressional District.

The two are among 13 residents of the 15th Congressional District who will receive Congressional Medals of Merit from Congressman William D. Ford, sponsor of the award, on the basis of contributions to their communities.

'The purpose of this award is to recognize the accomplishments of our young people," Ford explains. "So often, the activities and accomplishments of our young people go unrewarded."

Winners were selected by a citizens committee, appointed by Ford and composed of representatives of each community within qhe 15th District. Nominations were submitted by service and civic organizations as well as individuals.

Committee members said they chose Miss Young as an award recipient for heractive role in stressing the responsibility and privilege of voting and for her efforts in attempting to restore citizen participation in the governmental process.

Miss Young conducted a door-to-door voter registration campaign of about 1,500 Canton homes before the township's August primary.

Miss Hanyi was chosen for her work on a liver cells research project, work that brought her the grand prize in the Metropolitan Science Fair.

Now that Thanksgiving is near, television commercials again are toting the latest in children's toys. Not only are the number of toy commercials increasing. but so is the variety of toys, games, and

And, sure enough, my son and daughter think they want everything that pops up on the blasted screen. They don't really want them, of course, but are victims of media exposure.

Actually, kids have an inborn ability to entertain themselves with whatever's at hand. And most of the time the last thing they choose for play are toys. It's either mom's pots and pans from the cupboard or dad's tools in the basement, or a pile of newspaper and magazines placed in closets intended to be read later.

THAT'S THE WAY it was before the advent of mass production in the toy industry. Remember when about the only toys boys and girls had were tinker toys. erecto sets, checkers, Old Maid, tin soldiers, wagon, bicycle or sled?

Oh. I'm sure there was a lot more but most of the time we didn't use manufactured toys for entertainment. We used to go out in the fields and cut down a sappling with which to string a bow and arrow. There was a special kind of stick-like weed we'd knock down and strip off the foilage for arrows. All that was needed was some string and the arrows would go sailing above the heights of tall trees.

We would spend hours playing in the sand, and had a couple great natural 'sand boxes." One was an abondoned driveway at the side of our house. We lived on a sandhill and the former driveway had worn down to a depth of about three feet. It provided a great, lengthy expressway on which trucks could be hauled. or another day it would become the famed Mississippi River for Huck Finn to sail a raft upon. The other "sandbox" was a hill which nature had chopped off at one side at the peak. There was a cliff of four to five feet which started an area of sand going downhill towards the wooded area

By EMORY DANIELS

ANOTHER NATURAL feature used for play was a ditch which winded through the fields, back through the woods towards a deep drainage ditch (now called an open drain) running across the back acres. All it took was a scrap piece of board and all of a sudden the Queen Mary was arriving in the port of Boston, or a number of scrap boards and the Seventh Fleet was streaming towards Okinawa.

Or there would be the great drought in the Oklahoma plains as we built a dam with weeds, brush, boards and mud. And then, just when it appeared the entire settlement would famish, the dam would open, water would come gushing down into the valley, and the crops were saved.

The wooded area (none dare call it a forest) was a good setting for playing cowboy and Indians, pioneer settler, hunter or trapper, or Eskimo on huskie-driven sled. There also was an abandoned well out in the woods that our parents didn't know about that provided hours of fun. And there was the schoolhouse woodshed, coal bin and roof which our parents did know about but was great to play in or on as long as we remained out of sight.

The main thing about all of this is that we were entertained by our imaginations or the fields, woods and ditches-not by toys. And children today are just as imaginative as we were. My purely personal prejudice is that a child doesn't need a Dinkle Doris doll that can wet her pants-with imagination, any ole doll can wet her

Cancer patients helped

The office at 173 N. Main in Plymouth is more than an office; it is the home of the Michigan Cancer Foundation (MCF)

It provides medical services and equipment to local cancer patients, conducts educational programs, sponsors free pap and oral test clinics and fields contributions to hospital research.

Volunteers are busy from 1-3 p.m. each weekday distributing gauze, petroleum jelly and other medical dressings to about 40 area patients. Wheelchairs, walkers, hospital beds and other equipment are avail-

VOLUNTEERS ALSO log hundreds of miles each month transporting patients to therapy centers and spend additional hours staffing the periodic testing clinics. They help distribute brochures, films and educational materials to individuals and groups on request. An annual Christmas card sale and other special activities augment the local budget and helps support medical research

But most of the money donated to the MCF through the Plymouth Community Fund is directly channeled to local residents. The Community Fund welcomes donations either by mail to P.O. Box 345, Plymouth, or by payroll deduction. Residents who work in nearby communities are reminded to designate their donation be returned to Plymouth.

The loan closet and medical supplies assist local cancer patients, but other MCF services-the free test clinics, educational programs and medical research-benefit the entire community. They have helped many Plymouth residents detect cancer in its early stages, and obtain treatment which may have saved their lives.

He was asked to kick a field goal from an odd angle that meant the difference between victory and defeat-and a share of the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose

Ohio State Mike missed and it seemed the entire stadium caved in. He later admitted that in thise few moments he was under the heaviest pressure of his career. He hinted, at the time, that even his teammates turned on him and that it was a moment he never would be able to live down.

AS THE CONVERSATION continued The Stroller injected the thought that of all the athletes he has seen in action no one is under more pressure than the boxing

How would you have liked to be Joe Louis in the second fight with Schmeling." The Stroller asked. "He hadn't forgotten the first fight when he suffered his first knockout. But Joe worked his way out of the pressure with one of the most devastating onslaughts of his career. He stopped Schmeling in the first round and laid claim to rating as the best heavyweight champion of all time. He had conquered pressure of worst kind-the pressure of facing an opponent who is bent on doing bodily

All the while the conversation went on The Stroller sat there, chuckling inwardly. at the thought that when it comes to pressure there are few moments that equal those as the copy deadline approaches on a metropolitan daily newspaper, or any other newspaper for that matter.

WELL HE RECALLS the evening in Yankee Stadium in New York when Joe Louis lay on the ring floor being counted out for the first time in his career.

The crowds were screaming and yelling and climbing into the ring to greet the beetle-browed German.

In all that bedlam, the telegraph instrument at the ringside began to click. The operator bent over, listened intently in all that din, and said, "It's a message for you. The office says there is trouble in the mailing room and they must have your complete story in 45 minutes.

Eddie Edgar gets 'icing' on his birthday cake

The Ford Athletic Center at Farmington Road and Lyndon may soon be renamed to honor Eddie Edgar for his contributions to the community and sports. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

W.W. "Eddie" Edgar received an unusual and unexpected birthday gift last week.

The feature writer for the Plymouth Observer, who helped build St. Mary Hospital and incorporate the City of Livonia, will have the Ford athletic center and ice rink at Ford Field in Livonia named after him to honor his longtime contributions to sports in Michigan.

EDGAR, who will be 79 Friday, has been a newspaperman for 56 years-the last 10 as an Observer reporter, editor and columnist and winner of numerous awards for his popular "The Stroller" column.

He also worked for the Detroit Free Press sports department for more than 20 vears and was the newspaper's sports editor in the 1930s and '40s.

Edgar has been active in the Plymouth community for many years serving as a member of the Rotary Club of Plymouth. as former editor of the Plymouth Observer, and providing the leadership for a "sister city" exchange with Plymouth, England, which marked the Michigan Plymouth's 100th anniversary as a city.

LIVONIA city council is expected to discuss tonight the suggestion of Councilman Bob Bishop to rename the athletic center as the "Eddie Edgar Sports Arena." The council will formally take action on the proposal the following week.

Bishop said he first thought of the honor last summer when talking with Edgar about the early days of Livonia's city government, which was organized in 1950 after charter approval. He admitted that he hadn't informed Edgar of his suggestion to rename the Ford athletic center in his honor.

"But I'd tell Eddie to his face that 'we love you and want to express our sincere appreciation for what you've done. What better way to honor him then to be surrounded by the cheers of youngsters."

Edgar has had three careers, two involving sports, during his life. He started out as sports writer and during his career with the Free Press, conducted Detroit's first Golden Gloves boxing tournament. During that same period, he was one of the first to discover Joe Louis who went on to become heavyweight champion of the world, a title he held for 11 years

Edgar became interested in bowling in 1938 and initiated numerous major tourneys which ultimately were copied throughout the nation. He also started a junior bowling program in the Detroit area and organized a youth association which now has 36,000 members. He also started

By W.W. EDGAR

It's been almost two decades since Charlie Langell left Marine City to take residence in Canton Township, but he never lost his love for the ships that cut through the waters of the St. Clair River.

He developed a natural love for ships inasmuch as his grandparents-even his great grandparents-were ship builders in the old days.

No longer at an age when he can take an active part with other sailors in the area. he has turned to carving ships out of wood. He takes keen delight in building ships inside of bottles and light bulbs

But his real masterpiece is a replica of the Mayflower that brought the Pilgrims to America in 1620. The replica, the result of more than 553 hours of labor, is now on display in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel where it was given to innkeeper Ralph Lorenz as a gift on the start of the 50th year of the hotel.

Charlie stood at the table where his latest creation rested and proudly stated it is a real model, built to scale, and exclaimed: "Every plank is nailed down just as in the original ship- and all parts

To assure that it would be an official replica Charlie sent to England for the drawings of the old ship and strangely, he got

Harrison beats mistake-proned Rocks

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

·Farmington Harrison's season-long dream for an undefeated record and a state playoff berth came true Saturday afternoon with a 28-14 victory over the Plymouth Salem Rocks. The Hawks, champions of the Western Six League, had to come from behind to pull the victory out, as Salem mistakes led to three of the Harrison touchdowns.

The statistics showed a totally different ball game, as the Rocks dominated most of the action with 320 yards rushing, to only 137 for Harrison.

The differnce was Harrison's ability to capitalize on two Salem fumbles and a blocked punt for three touchdowns.

"It was an even football game, but you can't expect to win when you make mistakes, said Salem coach Tom Moshimer.

HARRISON'S TOM REYNOLDS started the game with a bang, returning Salem's opening kickoff 89 yards down the left sideline for a touchdown. Brett Homovec converted his first of four extra point kicks. and Harrison had a 7-0 lead after 13 seconds of action

The Rocks came back strong, running a troublesome option offense that led to two touchdowns on their first two possessions.

Salem drove 75 and 41 yards for the two scores, led by a brilliant performance by sophomore quarterback Rich Hewlett.

Hewlett bulled over from two yards out for the first touchdown, and halfback Steve Maisner danced in from thge 11 for the second. Bob Waite kicked both conversions. and the Rocks held a 14-7 margin after eight minutes of play

BUT FROM THAT point, it was all Harrison as the defense tightened and the offense controlled the ball, thanks to their potential all-state tailback, Mike Bowden. The Hawks scored 14 points of their own in the second quarter. Harrison's Jerry Prescott recoveyed a Rock fumble at the Salem 42, and five plays later, the score was tied 14-14 when Bowden crashed over from the two. The Hawks blocked a Salem punt with 1:38 left in the first half, and quarterback Jeff Thorne quickly engineered a six play. 47 yard drive in less than a minute to give Harrison the lead for good.

Bowden pushed his way over the right side from three yards out for the score.

The Hawks stopped Salem on the first possession of the third period and capitalized when the Rocks' punt attempt went only 10 yards because of a fumbled snap.

A clutch catch by Bert Barsch for 28 yards sent the Hawks to Salem's three yard line, where Bowden scored the final touchdown two plays later.

"We controlled the ball better (in the second half) and kept it away from them, said elated Harrison coach John Herring-"We tightened up on defense, but He knows where to attack you.

Bowden was the main force behind the controlled Hawk offense, gaining 128 yards in 27 carries.

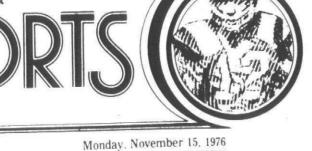

Harrison moves into next Saturday's state playoffs at Wisner Field in Pontiac. while Salem ended the season with a 54 re-

Dearborn demolishes Chiefs

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Another Plymouth Canton football season came to an end Friday night-the same way the past three seasons have

The Chiefs hosted the powerful Dearborn Pioneers at the Centennial Park field and it simply was no contest, as 27 first half Pioneer points marked all the scoring in

And the score would have been worse than the 27-0 count if Dearborn hadn't played flatter than a pancake.

Thank heavens, for Canton's sake, that Dearborn receivers t failed to catch three potential touchdown strikes when they were in the clear. And thank heavens that the Pioneers did not push the ball across the end zone in the second half, despite two different opportunities. And thank heavens Dearborn played its second stringers in the final quarter.

If these factors did not exist, the score could have easily run into the 50s or 60s. "They were as big as Garden City East," said Canton coach Dave Schuele

"I thought if we could go down and hit a quick one and force them to make a mistake (then we'd have a chance).

"I thought they would come in flat but they obviously weren't. They were ready

Canton's offense could not muster a single threat in the whole game, depsite getting the ball deep in the Pioneers' territory on two occasions in the third period.

The Chiefs recorded a meager total of 63 yards on offense the entire game.

We were out-manned." Schuele said. Dearborn scored on each of its four possessions of the first half and controlled the ball for most of the second, despite not put-

The final score of the night came with only 31 seconds left in the first half when the Pioneers punched in one more touchdown on a six-play 35-yard drive. Quarterback Dennis Scula hit Lockwood on a squareout pattern for the 16 yard score.

The Chiefs' two chances in the second half started when Cliff Norris recovered the opening half kickoff on Dearborn's 24. But the Chiefs failed to move farther than the 16, as the drive stalled.

A seven-yard Dearborn punt later in that period set Canton on the Pioneer 22, but two plays later a fumble killed that scoring opportunity Excellent defensive plays by Canton's

THE ARMY CAN HELP YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER SAVE$8100 FOR COLLEGE OVER THE NEXT THREE YEARS.

INTRODUCING A NEW EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.

Starting January 1, 1977, your son or daughter can accumulate up to $8100 for college or vocational-technical school during just 36 months in the Army.

Under this Educational Assistance Program, they can save from $50 to $75 each month, with their savings matched 2 for 1! And that adds up.

FOR EVERY DOLLAR THEY SAVE TOWARD COLLEGE, TWO WILL BE ADDED.

By participating in the new program, a young person gets three dollars back for every dollar saved toward college or vocationaltechnical school - the dollar saved plus the additional two dollars of matching funds.

If the maximum of $75 a month is saved ($2700 over 36 months), $5400 will be added for a total of $8100. If the minimum of $50 a month is saved ($1800 over 36 months), $3600 will be added for a total of $5400.

HOW DO THEY COLLECT?

Assuming your son or daughter has finished the 36-month enlistment in the Army and has deposited, for example, $75 to the educational fund each month, the $8100 accumulated under the program will be paid in monthly installments of $225 for each month of college or vocationaltechnical school completed.

If they decide not to continue schooling after the Army, they get back all the money saved. The matching funds will be paid only if used toward completing up to four years of college or vocational-technical school. The extra $5400 matching amount becomes a strong incentive for a young person to continue with school.

THEY CAN ALSO GO TO COLLEGE WHILE IN THE ARMY AND WE PAY UP TO 75% OF THE TUITION.

If your son or daughter enlists in today's Army, all kinds of educational opportunities are open for earning college or vocationaltechnical credits right on post with the Army paying up to 75% of the tuition. Under Project AHEAD, for example, a young person can enlist in the Army and enroll in college or vocational-technical school at the same time. Over 1400 colleges and universities around the country now participate in Project AHEAD. It's a great chance for a young person to get a jump on the future.

YOUR LOCAL ARMY REPRESENTATIVE IS THE PERSON TO TALK TO NEXT.

This new Educational Assistance Program, along with all of the other educational benefits the Army offers, will help your son or daughter serve their country better as soldiers now, citizens later. There's no better time to start getting that education than now. Your local Army Representative has full details on all the educational and other opportunities for young people in today's Army. Or, if you'd like us to send the information to you, just mail the coupon. Or call 800-431-1976 toll free. In NY, call 800-243-5614.

There's nothing like a new hobby at 82

At 85, Mrs. Pearl Keefer of Plymouth Township is a working woman. Hunched over a dining room table in her granddaughter's home on Beck, Mrs. Keefer carefully strings rows of colored glass, wooden and metallic beads on fine chains of gold and silver mesh.

The jewelry-mostly chokers and ornamental chains-are then distributed to a Westland beauty salon and Gallerie II, a Plymouth arts and crafts shop on Penniman, where they are offered for sale.

Mrs. Keefer's jewlry-making work is not a life-long occupation, but work started when the silver-haired woman was 82.

"I never made jewelry when I was younger," confessed the soft-spoken woman in her granddaughter's beamroofed living room. "I had three kids, and I just didn't have the time.

"Mostly, it's been a hobby since I came to Plymouth-something to pass the time.

Formerly of Detroit, Mrs. Keefer came to live with her granddaughter and her husband, Marilyn and Thomas Husband, three years ago. It was then that Mrs. Husband suggested the jewelry-making art.

So at 82-an age seldom considered as a starting point for a new career-Mrs. Keefer began the jewelry-making business. work that has taken her to arts and crafts shows in Plymouth and Westland and two

Methodist bazaar Friday

Several years ago the women of First United Methodist Church of Plymouth decided to do it the easy way.

Instead of the hours of work and preparation that went into the annual bazaar, they rented table space to local craftsmen. The United Methodist Women kept space for their own bake sale, bazaar items and

If you are over 60 years of age and in need of a helping hand, call the YMCA. The Canton, Plymouth, Northville branch of the Y has been given a federal grant to sponsor a senior citizens program.

It provides a variety of services including escort transportation, labor and maintenance, reading and letter writing, and a well-being telephone check.

According to Kay Johnson, program secretary, the escort service is the most widely utilized offering thus far. In Canton, the vans pick up residents on Thursday and Friday mornings and deliver them to their various appointments.

More volunteers are needed to help with labor and maintenance

"Possibly some of the area scout troops could help us with snow shoveling this winter as one of their good deed projects." suggested Mrs. Johnson.

The well-being telephone check also requires assistance. Calls are made once a day to elderly persons living alone or in ill health Staffing this program is in progress. A coordinator has tentatively been selected and interviews are being conducted for other positions

If you know of someone who would benefit from one or all of these services, call Kay Johnson at 453-2904. Volunteers willing to donate a few hours of muscle or telephone time also should call the Y.

A RECENT MEETING of the Canton Jaycettes was held in the home of Chris Kresta One of the first orders of business was to swear in new member Beverly Halloran.

The Bard returns

Robert Emmet McGill, newest member of the Wayne State University Theatre faculty, will make his directorial debut at the Bonstelle Theatre with William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" at 8:30 p.m.

This is the first Shakespearean play to be presented at the Bonstelle Theatre in three years. It will continue Nov. 27 at 8 30 p.m., Nov 28 at 2 30 p.m., Dec 3-4 at 8 30 p.m. and Dec. 5 at 2:30 p.m.

"Twelfth Night" has been called Shakespeare's most musical play. It is one of his most popular on the stage, enjoying revivals almost every theater season around the world Critic G B. Harrison called it "a perfect play for the stage-each player in turn has his moment and no one over-

Film panorama on screen

Ten films representing the works of America's favorite directors, from Erich von Stroheim to Stanley Kubuick, will be offered free when the Detroit Institute of Arts resumes its American Film Panorama Wednesday Blind Husbands,"the first film written. directed by and starring Erich von Stroheim, opens the series. This stylistic silent film, released in 1918, will be seen at 2 p.m. each day through Nov. 21.

2-act play will open

"When You Comin' Back Ryder?" will have its Michigan debut Nov. 18-21 when the University of Michigan-Dearborn presents four performances of the contemporary adult drama. The two-act play by Mark Medoff is set in the late 1960s in a small "greasy-spoon" diner in southern New Mexico. The UM-Dearborn production will be directed by Susan Flierl, assistant professor of theater arts.

Performances are set for Nov. 18-20 at 8 p.m. and Nov. 21 at 3 p.m. All performances will be held at Bryant Junior High School, located at Cherry Hill and Telegraph, in Dearborn. Admission is priced for UM-D students, faculty and staff and for the general public.

Tickets will be on sale at Hudson's box offices, the Recreation and Organizations Center at UM-D and the UM-D Follet's Bookstore. For further ticket information concerning group sales, call 271-2300, ext.

American Film Panorama is sponsored by the museum's Perfroming Arts department. Curator Audley Grossman comments. "We are providing Detroit area film buffs and casual movie-goers an opportunity to view rarely seen films of historic and artistic importance.

Among the films scheduled are King Vidor's 1925 "La Boheme;" Hitchcock's 1940 "Rebecça." starring Joan Fontaine and Sir Laurence Olivier: "The Lady From Shanghai" (1947) with Rita Havworth and her then-husband, Orson Welles: Elia Kazan's "A Streetcar Named Desire." winner of five 1951 Academy Awards, starring a young Marlon Brando Each film will have a five-day run. Wednesdays through Sundays, excluding holidays, at 2 p.m.

invites you to participate in an Authentic Re-creation of

The First Thanksgiving Dinner

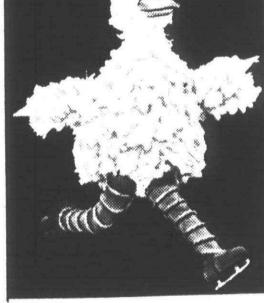

The Pilgrim heritage has long been a tradition not only in Plymouth, Michigan but especially at the Mayflower. To continue this practice, we have meticulously researched the service and preparation of the Pilgrim Fathers' First Thanksgiving Dinner. With certain liberties, the menu is a duplicate of that Thanksgiving Dinner menu used by the Pilgrims in 1621.

'Enriched Flavor' breakthrough ends struggle to bring taste to low tar smoking.

For years, dependency on tar for taste has lowest tar levels in smoking today. created a taste barrier for low tar smoking. Tests Verify Taste

Now that barrier has been broken. Broken for good by a remarkable new cigarette called MERIT.

MERIT is packed with 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

The result of a radical new discovery so successful at boosting flavor, MERIT actually delivers the taste of cigarettes having more tar.

Up to 60% more tar. Yet MERIT has only 9 mg. of tar. One of the 9 mg. 'tar,' 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11

mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as muchor more—taste.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough.

Now smoke the cigarette.

If You Like Running the Show...

A restaurant management career with Burger King, a division of Pillsbury Company, could be for you.

It is a demanding assignment. In some ways...it's like running your own business. There are controls, and guidelines...but you make the decisions. We provide the training and continuing career development program...you provide the leadership ability and the personal effort. The result is an above average income, the responsibility of running a $500,000 + volume profit center and no limit to your growth potential. You'll need 2 years of college and/or supervisory work experience plus a stable work record showing progressive responsibility. We offer a good starting salary, many company benefits and rapid advancement. To arrange a personal interview, call:

Why Do We Have SELF SERVICE MEAT?

SELF SERVICE has many advantages for you, the consumer. And that matters to our Tender Lovin' Meat People at Meijer.

SELF SERVICE means you do not need to wait in line at a crowded meat counter. It also means that YOU can take as much time as you want with YOUR selection without feeling guilty about holding up the next person in line.

SELF SERVICE does not mean no service. If you need help, you may request help from any employee or ring our bell. Meijer employees are ready to help.

Annette King is ready and willing to serve you at the Muskegon Thrifty Acres Meat Counter.

THE MEIJER MEAT LABEL has several features which can help in your selection. Prepackaged meat is always dated so you know the product is fresh. The price per pound, the weight, and the total package price are shown on the label. The kind of meat - beef, pork, lamb, or veal is listed on every label. The primal cut - chuck, rib loin, or round - which tells where the meat comes from on the animal. is also on the meat label. The retail name or specific portion such as pot roast, spare ribs, or loin chops is listed. Even the method of cooking is shown on the label.

PACKAGED MEAT is checked daily to assure full weight to our customers. And - the weight listed is the MEAT only - not any packaging material.

Cindy Pond from the Jackson Thrifty Acres checks the weights daily on a sampling of meat products in the case.

TAKE ADVANTAGE of the SELF SERVICE ADVANTAGES at your Tender Lovin' Meat Counter as part of your 1-stop shopping trip at Meijer.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

Westland, with over 800,000 square feet of stores, shops and completely enclosed malls is a totally unique world of shopping. With Hudson's, Penney's and 87 more stores, it offers one-stop shopping convenience in an environment of fountains, reflecting pools, landscaped courtyards, a giant aviary and an eight-foothigh aquarium. Works of art, ranging from a 170 foot-long stained glass window to a contemporary version of the "Goose That Laid the Golden Egg" sculpture, decorate the malls. The upper and lower levels of the center are reached by a glass elevator. There are four restaurants, many snack shops, and an auditorium (that serves 350 people) available for rental to groups and organizations. There is parking for over 5000 cars at Westland. Easy to reach, with plentiful free parking... easy to shop with the variety and beauty you look for... Westland Center welcomes you!
