Tax takes a big bite

Canton residents may be somewhat shocked this week when they receive their 1976 tax bills through the mail.

For residents of a $45,000 home who live in the Plymouth Community School District, the bills will show a $200 tax increase over last year's bill.

Residents of the Wayne-Westland School District, who live in homes valuated at $45,000, will pay $94 more in taxes than they did in 1975. Owners of similarly priced homes in the Van Buren School District will pay an additional $169 in taxes.

The increases result from millage hikes approved by voters during the 1976 fiscal year, as well as a five per cent equalization factor attached last spring to Canton property values.

During 1976, voters approved a half mill increase (50 cents per $1,000 state equalized value) for the Wayne County jail and a 1.5-mill increase ($1.50 per $1,000 state equalized value) for Canton fire protection.

Residents of the Plymouth Community School District approved 4.35 ($4.35 per $1,000 state equalized value) additional mills, while residents of the Van Buren School District approved a 1.67-mill hike.

In addition, residents of the Wayne-Westland and Van Buren school districts must pay an additional .08 mills (eight cents per $1,000 state equalized value) for the Wayne County Community College, approved by residents of some Wayne County school districts this year.

Township Treasurer Anne Bradley expects many residents to be upset this week when they receive their tax bills through the mail.

"We know we will be getting a lot of calls because of the increase in taxes," she said. "But, while we are sympathetic with the residents, the township is only responsible for 1.5 mills additional taxes, which the voters approved for fire protection."

According to Mrs. Bradley, only 12 per cent of rpsidents' total tax bill (6.5 mills) goes in township coffers. About 70 per cent goes to local school districts, while 14 per cent (7.07) goes to Wayne County; two per cent (1.09) to the Wayne County Intermediate School District; and about two per cent to Schoolcraft or Wayne County community colleges.

Canton residents who live in the Wayne-Westland School District pay the highest tax rate (60.62 mills), according to Mike Gorman, the township's deputy treasurer. Plymouth School District residents pay 57.24 mills, while residents of the Van Buren School District pay 46.62 mills.

Carl Silvers, Canton's interim police chief, took Observer reporter Patrick Touhey out on a typical night patrol of the Canton Police. During the course of the evening, they helped a man from Garden City who ran out of gas and then went to a local restaurant for a bowl of bean soup. (Staff photo by Patrick Touhey)

Police patrol lacks TV drama

By PATRICK TOUHEY

Canton residents, rest easy—at least between 6 and 11 p.m.—because your police and police reserves are out patroling the roads and ready to serve.

To get some idea of what the reserves do during their five weekday hours and 12 weekend hours of active duty, the Observer spent a portion of Wednesday night riding in the supervision car with Police Chief Carl Silvers and policeman Don Tillman.

The supervision car, unlike the individual scout cars, does not have a specific territory to cover; it has the authority to go anywhere in the township.

It should be noted that while a few hours in a police car is not an in-depth sample, it does present a picture of how the department operates, what it does, and how it see itself.

"Eighty-five per cent of a policeman's job is service," said Silvers. "You can't judge police work by production standards, although there are a lot of people around who would like to.

"We are out here and the community knows we are out here. And that's more than you can say for Wayne County. People have lost faith in the sheriff's department and to some extent in the state police.

"You understand I'm not knocking either one. They do a good job. I'm just saying they don't have the manpower to cover an area as large as Canton the way it should be covered."

AT APPROXIMATELY 7:45 p.m. the supervision car left the station on Geddes Road and headed down Canton Center to Meijer's. After a brief turn through the parking lot and a stop for gas, Tillman, who was driving, started out on patrol.

The snow that had fallen during the day had turned to icy slush, and the traffic moved slowly on Ford Road. "I expect it will be a quiet night," Silvers commented. "It's too cold and slippery for many people to come out."

His prediction turned out to be accurate as the rest of the shift passed without major incident. There were only several breaks in the monotonous routine of driving and watching.

The first of these occured as the car left Meijer's. Tillman noticed that the car in front of him was driving with no lights on. He flashed his to signal the motorist.

The driver didn't respond, and Tillman accelerated in preparation to pull the car over. Just as he was about even with the car, the lights came on, and Tillman dropped back.

"Finally hit 'em," Tillman said.

"Yep," answered Silvers.

Both men lapsed into silence, and the only sounds were the steady crackle of the police radio and the drone of snow tires on the slick pavement.

The first departure from main roads came when the car turned into the Cavalier North subdivision. Tillman slowed down to almost a crawl as he guided the car over the twisting residential streets.

In between the lights of lived-in houses were the dark shells of houses still of being constructed.

"You know," Silvers said, "there used to be all kinds of theft in these neighborhoods. Builders were always complaining that people were stealing wood and supplies.

"But since the force started checking these places out regularly, there have been no thefts. It has saved the building companies a lot of money."

Neighborhood security checks occupied the next 45 minutes as Tillman drove through Canterbury Woods and Brookside.

"Yeah, it's a quiet night," said Silvers to no one in particular.

THE CAR TURNED on Cherry Hill Road and started to pick up speed. Then, at the junction of Cherry Hill and I-275, Tillman noticed a car parked on the side of the road and pulled up behind it.

"Since I out-rank you," Silvers laughed, "you go check it out."

Tillman grabbed a flashlight and went up to the vehicle. No one was inside, so he turned around and came back.

Just then two figures came out of the darkness in front of the parked car.

"I'm sure glad you guys are here. I thought I had enough gas to make it home. I didn't know what I was going to do," one of them said.

Jim Lezotte and his son Jack had come from their home in Garden City to shop at Kmart and didn't have enough gas to make it back.

There was a full two-gallon can of gas in the trunk of the police car, and Silvers gave it to Lezotte.

After the man and his son were on the road again, Silvers suggested a stop at the Egg Palace on Ford Road.

"They serve a great bowl of bean soup there," he said.

Thirty minutes later the car was headed west on Ford Road back toward the hub of the Canton shopping area. Tillman turned into the Harvard Square center and drove slowly around the entire complex. No unusual activity.

Out on to Ford again and up to Meijer's. Tillman steered the car past the main entrance doors. A man came out and motioned for him to stop.

"I'm glad to see you guys here," said Dave Tanis, the assistant store manager. "We have a guy in the store who is drunk and he might cause a scene."

According to Tanis, the man had purchased more than $200 worth of merchandise and paid for it with a check. He then walked directly over to the refund counter and tried to return the merchandise for cash. Store officials had refused, and the man started arguing.

"Get his name and birth date," Silvers told Tanis, "and I'll radio Wayne County and get a check on him."

A few minutes after Silvers gave the information to the dispatcher, the result of the check came back. The man had no record.

In the period of time it took for the information to get back to the police car, a settlement had been negotiated with the customer. The store took back the merchandise and returned the man's check. He left in a taxi a few seconds later.

"You know damn well he was trying larceny by trick," commented Silvers. "But that's hard to prove."

Tanis thanked the officers, and Tillman nosed the car on to Canton Center Road, heading back toward the station.

"As a police officer," Silvers said softly, "I'm glad when it's quiet."

Grade schools' grand opening event is Sunday

Three new elementary schools in Canton Township will be dedicated from 1-4 p.m. this Sunday, Dec. 12.

The ceremonies will be spaced one hour apart to permit dignitaries to attend all three dedications.

At 1 p.m. the Esther and Kenneth Hulsing Elementary School at 8055 Fleet Street will officially be named. Mr. and Mrs. Hulsing will be present to view the program centered on the children who attend the school.

Ruth Eriksson Elementary School at 1275 Haggerty will be dedicated at 2 p.m. Friends and family members will represent the honoree who is unable to attend.

Mildred Field Elementary School at 1000 S. Haggerty will have its dedication program at 3 p.m. Miss Field is traveling from her present residence in South Haven to participate.

LOCAL AND STATE governmental leaders, Parent Teacher Organization presidents, Wayne County educators, and interested citizens have been invited to attend the dedications.

Those who expect to be at all three ceremonies have been asked to contact the school administration which is arranging transportation to the three schools. Official guests will be meeting at 12:30 p.m. at Plymouth Canton High to board a bus.

Plaques for the buildings are being engraved with dedications written by the students from each school. Because the schools were completed in 1976, each has been designated a "Bicentennial School" as part of its official title.

Refreshments will be served at all three schools after the ceremonies by the PTO or the dedication committee.

Anyone interested in attending the dedication ceremonies on Dec. 12 may contact an individual school or the administration building at 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth, telephone 453-0200, ext. 419.

Principals of the new schools are Kathryn Otto at Hulsing, Ronald South at Eriksson, and Larry Miller at Field.

ESTHER AND KENNETH Hulsing both have been leaders in the development of the Plymouth Community School District.

Hulsing was on the Plymouth Board of Education from 1947-53 and served as its president for one year. Mrs. Hulding served 18 years on the school board from 1954-72, and was president for six years.

Ruth Eriksson Holcomb retired in 1971 after 43 years in education. She came to Plymouth in 1939 to teach sixth grade at Central Elementary where she remained for 11 years. When the Smith Elementary opened in 1950, Miss Eriksson became its first principal—a position she held for 21 years.

Mildred Field had devoted 45 years to education before retiring in 1972. For 19 years she was principal of Starkweather Elementary in Plymouth, after a broad range of experience in teaching. Besides her achievements in education, she was active in the First United Methodist Church, Business and Professional Women, Soroptomists, and the YMCA.

Morton Taylor only looks open

By GLENN BUNTING

The addition of new pavement extending Plymouth's Main Street beyond Joy Road was completed last week; and all that bars motorists from entering the passageway—Morton Taylor Road—is a six-foot "Do Not Enter" sign.

But what appears to be an direct route linking downtown Plymouth to Canton Township is merely a half mile stretch of cement running through the new and still incomplete Mayfair subdivision.

It's been on the books since 1925 that Morton Taylor someday would be one continous, major thoroughfare, capable of handling all types of traffic. But a lack of funds and little public outcry for its completion has delayed the project for 51 years.

Named in 1920 after 19th century Canton farmers Charlie Morton and a Taylor whose first name could not be determined, the road is fragmented from Canton to Van Buren Township with various quarter and half mile segments serving a number of neighborhoods.

CANTON'S RISING population and a heavy increase in the number of motorists using area roads is putting pressure on the Wayne County Road Commission to construct a major thoroughfare connecting Plymouth, Canton and Van Buren.

Area residents wishing to travel from Plymouth to Canton must now use Lilley, Sheldon and Canton Center roads, and only Canton Center is paved the length of Canton. County officials concede that extending Morton Taylor might be one solution, but the county doesn't have the money.

"I don't think there's any doubt that we need a major road like the one the Morton Taylor master plan calls for, but there just isn't any money to spend right now," said William Lagosh of the road commission. "I wouldn't want to speculate how long it'll be before something comes up, but I do know there's nothing on the 1977 budget providing for it (Morton Taylor)."

While extension of Morton Taylor might alleviate some traffic congestion along other Canton north-south routes, it would also upset residents in Canton's Windsor Park subdivision, just south of Mayfair. Residents there previously spoke against a main road cutting through their neighborhood.

ACCORDING TO Lagosh, little can be done if the county decides to lengthen Morton Taylor. "Someday there's going to be a major road there. I can see why residents would get upset, but this is no surprise. It's been in writing since the 1920s and they're entitled to the facts before moving there," Lagosh said.

But so far, all that exists of Morton Taylor is several strips of pavement totalling roughly two miles, constructed by developers over the years to allow homeowners safe access to local roads.

New Year's party designed for youngsters

Most people think of New Year's Eve as a night set aside for adult, bacchanalian revelry. But the people at Michigan Young World of Westland child care center have designed an all-night New Year's Eve party for children 2-12 years of age.

The party begins at 7 p.m. Dec. 31 and ends at 11 a.m. Jan. 1.

Games, snacks and a morning breakfast will be provided. Interested parents can contact Connie Pelton at 522-7150.

Michigan Young World of Westland is a non-profit child care center located at 32503 Ann Arbor Trail.

Other holiday programs planned at the center include a holiday package evening program from Dec. 13-17 and a winter wonderland program Dec. 27-31.

Certified officers now write tickets

By CRAIG PIECHURA

Drivers who have been thumbing their noses at the Canton Police because they were not writing tickets had better put their hands back on the steering wheels.

Interim Police Chief Carl Silvers announced that as of Nov. 20, Canton's certified officers are equipped with ticket books and are writing tickets "occasionally."

"We'll write tickets for any traffic violation, but we're mainly concerned with trying to keep the handicapped parking spots clear. Lately, we've seen complete disregard for the handicapped parking space ordinance. I hate to be a prince about it, but we're writing out a lot of tickets for that offense."

People who park in the specially-designated handicapped spots at the Meijer's, Kmart and Harvard Square shopping centers at Sheldon and Ford can expect to pay a $20 fine, according to Silvers.

"I'M NOT ONE for strict traffic enforcement," Silvers admitted. "What concerns me is police service more than anything else.

"I'm instructing my people to give tickets only if there's a serious situation," Silvers said. "The price on a ticket isn't important to us. What's important is to correct bad driving.

"Say we pull over a man who's failed to make a complete stop and had a tail light out. We'd give him the minor job."

Asked to give an exact number of tickets issued, Silvers said "it would be around 80 or 90, and most of them were for parking in handicapped spots."

Silvers said he didn't have the exact number of tickets at the fingertips because the new police department lacks an adequate record system.

Supervisor Harold Stein said he is aware that the police department is issuing tickets and added, "we're trying to be cautious about it. But they won't ignore persuing something that's in the best interests of the township. I'm saying that they're not going to ignore examples of careless driving."

Stein acknowledged that he is concerned about the amount of money that is being spent on payroll for the police officers and reserves and said that there would be an announcement this week about it.

"I'm not ready to release figures today, or get down to specifics," Stein said Friday.

Police Chief Silvers said he will have to work on a new schedule to cut back manpower curb costs.

Yule clothing drive needs contribution

The 47th Annual Ruth Alden Dress Drive has established a goal of providing 13,000 needy children with either a new dress or pair of jeans on Christmas.

Over the years, more than 1 million new dresses and jeans have been distributed by the Ruth Alden Dress Drive.

The Ruth Alden campaign began during the depression when people in the Detroit Free Press city room heard of the plight of a lost child. The story is that the little girl had ventured out to look for Santa Claus because he had not stopped at her home.

Touched by the plight of this poor family, a hat was passed around in the news room and $8 was collected. The little girl had a memorable Christmas after all and a tradition began.

Since that time, thousands of Michigan residents have donated funds to the Ruth Alden Dress Drive. Through a special arrangement with local suppliers, the drive is able to purchase new dresses and jeans for only $4 each.

People who prefer to sew may make and donate dresses in sizes 6X to 14. Dresses should be of a washable material and in a pattern with sleeves, suitable for school wear. Homemade dresses should be delivered to the Detroit Free Press Building, 321 W. Lafeyette, Detroit.

Contributions may be sent to the Ruth Alden Dress Drive, Box 701, Detroit, Mich. 48321.

Election in February

Principals will vote on union

An election will be held in February to decide whether principals and other administrators in the Plymouth Community School District want to be represented by a union.

If a majority of administrators vote yes, the Plymouth Congress of Administrators (PCA) will be organized and join other unions at the bargaining table, such as those for teachers, bus drivers, cafeteria workers, and maintenance employees.

The election has been set for Feb. 7 by the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC), which functions for public employees in much the same manner as the National Labor Relations Board does for private industry.

THE UNION, if formed, will represent some 40 persons who are either principals, assistant principals, area coordinators, directors or certified supervisors.

The PCA would be a local union without any affiliation to any national union or other labor organization.

In recent years, the principals have appointed a committee of representatives to negotiate informally with the superintendent for contracts. The attempt now is to formalize that committee into an official union with legal bargaining status.

It has become a common practice for principals to organize into a union, says Norman Kee, director of personnel for the Plymouth Community School District. Principals are organized in nearby districts such as Wayne-Westland, Livonia and Dearborn. "In fact as many or more are organized as are not," Kee notes.

THE ADMINISTRATORS had petitioned the board last spring for recognition by consent, without a formal election having to be held.

The board declined to grant recognition on a voluntarily basis, fearful of setting a precedent which then might have to be followed if and when other employee groups attempt unionization.

The principals' group then filed petitions with MERC for an election. But MERC delayed calling for an election because of regulations stating a change in bargaining agents or recognition status cannot be accomplished until an existing contract nears expiration.

The principals had negotiated a valid contract which runs through June 30, 1977. The MERC regulations require that a recognition election cannot be held earlier than 120 days before expiration of a current contract, or later than 60 days after.

Because of the confidentiality of the union-organizing process, it is unknown what proportion of the administrators favor formation of the Plymouth Congress of Administrators.

Elderly support program is funded

The federal money the Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA was waiting for to begin its in-home support services program for senior citizens has been granted, and the program is scheduled to begin next month.

Director Janet Luce said she was notified that the Title III funds had been authorized on Dec. 1, and that she is now in the process of arranging administrative matters.

"We will use the rest of this month to get materials together, get forms filled out and hire staff," she said. "I would hope we can start the services on Jan. 1."

The services being provided for by the grant are: an escort service to take seniors on errands or to appointments; a labor service for home maintenance and repair, lawn care, and snow removal; assistance in letter writing and reading; and a telephone well-being service for seniors who live alone.

Mrs. Luce said the services would be available to individuals 60 years and older on a first-come, first-serve basis. She indicated that preference would be given to low-income residents, minority group members and the handicapped.

PLANS FOR THE program have been at the drawing-board stage for some time, but because of uncertainty about the availability of funds, concrete action had to be delayed.

And even now that the money is provided for, Mrs. Luce emphasized that volunteers are still needed for all four services. Those individuals or organizations wishing to offer help can contact the YMCA office at 453-2904.

In addition, seniors who want to sign up for the program are asked to contact the "Y" as soon as possible.

"It is very important for elderly residents who plan to take advantage of one or all of these services to let us know in advance," Mrs. Luce stated. "They need to give us information to become eligible, and we need to know how many people are interested."

This new offering from the YMCA joins a number of other efforts by individuals and groups in the community to assist seniors.

Harold Guenther and a several other concerned citizens have formed a council on aging with the goal of consolidating information and establishing a reference and referral service for senior citizens.

Wayne County is funding a nutrition program for the elderly in Tonquish Creek Manor on Monday through Friday from noon to 1 p.m. and the City of Plymouth has a senior citizen's coordinator who has access to information and is available to help seniors with problems.

Last Friday 75 prisoners awaiting trial were admitted into the new Wayne County Sheriff's Detention Annex on Michigan Ave. and Merriman. The building was formerly used as a psychiatric hospital on the grounds of infamous Eloise.

Sheriff William Lucas (looking at camera) said the most immediate benefit of the jail annex is that local police lock-ups will no longer have to house prisoners indefinitely waiting for the vacancy sign to light up in the Wayne County Jail. # Old Eloise ward opens as jail

The institutional red brick buildings behind the gates of Eloise on Michigan Ave. caused most people to shudder when they drove by and to conjure dark images of a psychiatric snakepit.

Eloise is no longer a psychiatric hospital, one remodeled building on the grounds has taken on a new role as a Wayne County jail annex for 250 men awaiting trial.

Last Friday M Building on the Eloise grounds in Westland opened doors to about 75 prisoners under its new name: "Sheriff's Detention Annex." At the same time, on another floor, Sheriff William Lucas hosted a group of area police officers and newspersons at a press conference.

Lucas said the $1.5 million detention annex will house 250 male inmates on three color-coordinated, dormitory-style floors.

The annex, staffed by 37 civilians and 151 police officers, operates on an annual budget of $4.5 million.

"The most immediate benefit of this facility is that police departments will no longer be required to hold prisoners and they can get back to doing police work," Lucas said.

Wayne County's three-judge panel ruled earlier this year that the county jail could not accept any more than 720 prisoners which resulted in local, overnight lockups housing prisoners for as long as six weeks. In Redford Township, for example, as many as 21 prisoners were kept in its local lockup which is more than double the recommended capacity pPeople arrested on felony charges would have to be held in the local lockups until there was an opening at the Wayne County Jail or the county's 400-man county annex at Plymouth Township's Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo).

Until Friday, another 150 inmates were being held on the ninth floor of Detroit Police Headquarters, waiting for an opening in one of the county facilities.

While the new detention annex should eliminate local police department's problem of keeping prisoners for long periods, no prisoners will be received first at the Westland annex. Departments will still have to drive downtown to the main jail to deliver their prisoners, according to Undersheriff Loren Pittman. From there, the prisoners awaiting trial will be sent to DeHoCo or the new annex.

INSTEAD OF THICK BARBS and individual cells, the annex features muted green or yellow dormitories separated by heavy mesh fencing. Television sets and picnic tables of matching colors are in each of the dorms. The annex administrator said the TV sets will probably be placed outside the screened-in dorms so the prisoners cannot break the antenna off to use as a weapon.

A half-wall gives prisoners a bit of privacy when they use the aluminum toilet facilities at the end of each dorm.

Prisoners are supposed to be under constant observation by deputies who sit in cement-block stations.

The job of converting a psychatric ward into a modern jail was done by the J.A. Ferguson Construction Co. which followed the architectural plans of Wakely Kushner Associates Inc. and Snyder and McLean Inc. of Detroit.

The detention annex was praised by Sheriff Lucas, but he referred to it as "a temporary solution."

"Approximately three years is the projected life span of this facility," Lucas said. "We should break ground for the new jail in April, maybe before, and construction should take 36 months.

"Whether we will continue to operate this annex when the new jail opens depends on the prison population at that time. The Supreme Court is contemplating ordering the circuit and recorder's courts to handle inmates in jails before taking up any civil cases.

"If this order is in effect three years from now, it could level off or decrease the jail population."

Detention of prisoners in suburban police department's "overnight" lock-ups and at Detroit precincts will no longer be necessary, according to Lucas. "DeHoCo goes next," he said. Wayne County is now renting Barracks 14 at DeHoCo from the City of Detroit.

SHERIFF'S FIGURES released Friday state that 1,270 prisoners are presently in the custody of Wayne County.

Still to open at the new detention annex is a small medical facility which will cut down on the number of sheriff's runs necessary when inmates complain of illness.

The jail administrator said it would be another 30 to 60 days before the health services are started at the annex. The county is currently interviewing persons for the medical staff.

Many Westland residents who live near the jail annex have opposed the renovation fearing prisoner escapes.

Undersheriff Pittman said the series of interlocking doors and constant supervision would prevent escapes. He said that the lighted outside grounds will be under constant closed-circuit TV surveillance.

His boss, Sheriff Lucas, said "We tried to make it as secure and humane an institution as we could," Lucas said. "Look at the spaciousness and the bunks are clean."

An interlocking buzzer system on doors permits only one door to be opened at a time at the new jail annex on Michigan Ave. and Merriman. In what sheriff's officials call a "medium security prison," there are no bars or individual cells for the prisoners awaiting trial. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Prisoners in the new jail annex are afforded a rare bit of privacy and dignity with the half walls in the lavatory area of the dormitories.

Pregnant lady OK after crash

A vehicle driven by a pregnant woman Tuesday collided head on with another auto at Canton Center and Palmer, when the woman swerved to avoid a third driver, making an improper left turn.

Members of the Canton Fire Department took Nancy Sue Smith, 26, of Ypsilanti, to Beyer Hospital, where she was treated and later released. The woman is 5½ months pregnant.

According to police, Ms. Smith's 1957 Chevrolet struck a 1974 Ford, driven by Mose Mayes of Detroit, on Canton Center, when Ms. Smith swerved to avoid the third vehicle.

Police say Ms. Smith was at fault in the accident, because her vehicle crossed the road's center line. Mayes' vehicle was not moving when the accident occurred.

Center's now up for grabs

By FRANK BENSON

The former Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville Township is up for grabs following the recent announcement that the Sacred Heart Center for rehabilitation of alcoholics will be unable to take it over.

A spokesman for Sacred Heart, the organization headed by Rev. Vaughan Quinn, said the Detroit-based group failed to get the funds expected from the state and is no longer interested in the site.

The child care center, built in the 1920s, is located at the northeast corner of Five Mile and Sheldon roads. It has been vacant for a several years. It was the object of intense politicking when the Wayne County Board of Commissioners decided to let it be used by a group that could recondition it.

IN NOVEMBER 1975, the Sacred Heart Center's request was approved by the county board's public works committee, defeating 18 other proposals, including one joint bid by Schoolcraft College and Wayne State University.

The Schoolcraft-WSU bid fell through for the same reason Sacred Heart backed out—lack of money.

But Schoolcraft may now be back in the running for the picturesque campus. While no official action has been taken by the two-year community college, it was learned that Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote has sheduled a meeting with Frank Bennett, director of the Wayne County Planning Commission.

EDGAR HARRIS, vice-chairman of the county board's public works committee, said the buildings are being wasted in their current unoccupied state.

"No one knows more than I what a beautiful site it is," said Harris. "It is one heck of a facility, but as of now we have no firm plans to fill it."

John Lesinski, a county commissioner and chairman of the planning commission, said it's imperative the building be filled, preferably by an educational facility.

"WE feel that area could support an educational facility, and Schoolcraft has seemed interested all along," said Lesinski. If Schoolcraft cannot finance the takeover, Lesinski said, the county would look elsewhere for a customer.

"THERE IS A possibility the solar energy people may be interested," Lesinski said.

The Michigan Energy and Research Association had received a grant from the federal government for research on use of energy from the sun. According to Lesinski, the grant was originally supposed to be $50 million but will actually amount to less.

John Mogk of the Michigan Energy and Research Association said cost of expansion into the Five Mile-Sheldon site would be $20-$40 million. But Mogk said he's interested in land across from the former child care center, not in the existing buildings.

"This is one of five sites we are considering," said Mogk. "A final decision will be made in March."

WILLIAM SIMMONS, Wayne Intermediate School District superintendent, wants to see a school on the site but expressed doubt that this would happen.

"No serious group can afford it," said Simmons."

Northville Township residents and officials are wary of yet another facility for treating human misery in the area.

In addition to the former child care center, the township is the site of Northville State Hospital, a mental health facility; Hawthorn Center for emotionally disturbed children; a state police divisional headquarters and Maybury Urban State Park, a former Detroit tuberculosis facility.

Just across the Five Mile boundary in Plymouth Township is a prison, the Detroit House of Correction.

In addition, this summer's drug problems in Cass Benton Woods, along Edward Hines Drive, failed to enhance the area's reputation.

Resident hits $100,000 in lottery

Robert Rogers, a Plymouth Township resident, hit the Michigan State Lottery for $110,000 Thursday night in the Michigame contest. Under the rules of the game, he can keep going back until he's defeated.

But Rogers hasn't let the sudden wealth alter his life-style. Friday morning he got up and went into work at the Ford Motor Co. where he has been employed for the last 21 years. In fact, he won the ticket that qualified him for the Michigame in a company lottery pool.

Before Thursday's bonanza, Rogers had only had three $2 winning tickets, and his wife had one $50 winner.

According to Mrs. Rogers, most of the money will be invested to provide for their children. But she did say that they might spend a protion of it on a small log cabin up north.

When the Observer asked her if there were any travel plans in the near future, she said, "Are you kidding? This morning I asked my husband about a trip to Hawaii, and he said, 'Sure, what are you going to do, the breast-stroke or the crawl?'"

'Amahl' Christmas opera returns to area Dec. 12

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," the first opera specially commissioned for television, will return to Plymouth at 4 p.m. Dec. 12 after an absence of 17 years.

It was Dec. 20, 1959 that the original National Broadcasting Co. cast of Amahl appeared with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra directed by Wayne Dunlap.

Next Sunday's performance in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium will feature two members of that NBC cast—David Aiken in the role of King Melchior, and Rosemary Kuhlmann as the mother.

Libretto and music for the one-act opera were written by Gian Carlo Menotti, the Italian-born composer who has been one of the most successful contemporary composers for operatic stage.

LIFE MAGAZINE hailed "Amahl and the Night Visitors" as "likely to become America's most enduring contribution to Christmas lore since 'A Visit from St. Nicholas'."

It is the story of a little crippled shepherd, Amahl, who lives with his mother, an impoverished widow. Nothing is left to them of the little they ever had, and they are faced with hunger and cold in their empty house.

The setting for the opera is the interior and exterior of their hut. It is a crystal-clear night, and the stars are shining brightly.

Amahl sits outside, playing on his shepherd pipe, while his mother performs household chores inside. Although she repeatedly calls him to come inside and go to bed, Amahl replies that he wants to stay out a little longer, for he has seen a star as big as a window, and it has a tail, and it moves across the sky like a chariot on fire. They finally lie down and go to sleep.

Three wise men, on their way to Bethlehem, stop at the hut and ask to be taken in for the night. Amahl and his mother welcome them as best they can, and are astonished at the splendor of their robes and the wealth of gifts they are carrying with them.

When the mother realizes they are looking for a new-born babe and all the gifts are for him, she becomes bitter and envious. She cannot understand why at least some of these gifts are not given to her own child who is so poor and sickly.

UNDER COVER of darkness, while the three kings are asleep, she steals some of the gold from them—and is caught red-handed.

When she explains to the three kings that she needs this gold to feed her starving child, she is readily forgiven. With great tenderness, they explain to her who this new-born child is, and how much he needs the love of every human being to build his coming kingdom.

Touched by their words, the poor widow not only gives back the stolen gold, but wishes she could add a gift of her own.

Little Amahl comes her rescue. He impulsively offers the three kings his wooden crutch, his most precious possession, which he himself made.

As he starts to lift it and carry it to the three kings, he suddenly discovers he can walk without it. All are amazed at this miracle and hail it as a sign from the Holy Child and from God.

Now that he is cured, Amahl begs to be allowed to go with the three kings and present his crutch to the child in person.

The story ends with Amahl following the kings, playing his pipe with his crutch strapped to his back.

The current production was produced and directed by David Aiken. Amahl is played by Michael Davis. Eugene Davis is King Kaspar who is slightly deaf, Peter Havranek is King Balthazar and Daniel Aiken is the page.

THE FIRST HALF of Sunday's program will feature the Seventh Century Singers from Grand Valley State College.

The singers are a madrigal group performing in conjunction with the Collegium Musicum for the Performing Arts Center of GVSC.

Under the direction of William Beidler, associate professor of music at the college, the Seventh Century Singers present music from the Romanesque through the contemporary period. Their new costumes were designed by Jeffrey A. Leider of the GVSC theater staff.

Tickets for the concert will be available at the door $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for senior citizens and students kindergarten through grade 12. Because of the popularity of the Christmas concert, persons who do not have season tickets through their family memberships to the Plymouth Symphony Society, are advised that Heide's Flowers, Ann Arbor Trail at Harvey; Plymouth Book World in the Forest Place Mall; and Audette's Office Supply, Ann Arbor Road at Sheldon are handling the per-concert sale of tickets.

The program is made possible in part by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts, a donation from Burroughs Corp. and the Plymouth Symphony League.

Rosemary Kuhlmann plays Amahl's mother in Sunday's performance of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. She was in the original NBC cast of the one-act opera. David Aiken will play Amahl, the crippled shepherd boy.

Holidays are hectic at humane society

By JANAN GHANNAM

A boy and his dog—symbol of a part of humanity that hits close to home during the Christmas season.

With more than 2,500 animals sheltered at the Michigan Humane Society's Westland branch, employees are elated during the holiday season because that's when they "empty the shelves."

Ray Sowards, Westland manager, said that normally there are 12 animal adoptions a day. During the holiday season an average of 20 adoptions a day takes place.

"This is the one time of the year we feel good about our job," said Sowards.

The only dogs left after Christmas are stray dogs that must be cared for until they are claimed.

"The primary job of the society is to match an animal adoption with the right person," said Sowards.

"Many times a person adopts a dog and finds out later that the dog can't get used to the household. In those cases, we urge people to return the animal for another."

Sowards stresses that if a person is thinking of buying a dog for a family Christmas gift, he buy it early so the animal will become used to the holiday commotion.

"Dogs need a chance to adjust to their new environment," he said. "Christmas is a hectic time and a new puppy gets held and petted too often."

Persons wanting to buy a dog or cat for a gift can ask for a humane society gift certificate in lieu of the animal.

"It's better to let the person pick out their own dog or cat," said Soward. "There is less chance of incompatibility."

Only one per cent of all adoptions at the humane society are ever returned, he added.

Serving the cities of Westland, Dearborn Heights, Redford, Livonia and Canton Township, the humane society runs a kennel and clinic with a full and part-time veterinarian.

Animals brought into the shelter are given needed shots according to their age. Once they are adopted, it is the responsibility of the owner to see that the animal receives the rest of the shots.

Adoption of animals is open to residents of any city. Cost are $25 for a dog and $16 for a cat or kitten.

With the majority of animal adoptions being made by family groups, Sowards urges a decision to be reached by family members before initial adoption of the animal.

"A lot of times a father wants to buy his 5-year-old son a dog he can't take care of," said Sowards. "Adoption of an animal must be a family responsiblity as well as a family decision."

The Michigan Humane Society Westland branch is at 37255 Marquette east of Newburgh. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mondays through Friday and 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

READERS' FORUM

She defends teacher cares

Editor:

It has become almost commonplace to pick up the newspaper and read anti-teacher editorials which criticize the profession and degrade the organizations that represent teachers. It may not be so commonplace to the replies written by angry teachers attempting to defend themselves—very often they are ignored by editors.

I was disappointed to see the prejudiced piece of journalism that was written by Tim Richard entitled "Teachers Aim to Collect," in the Nov. 18 edition. It would certainly seem that the editors of this newspaper have been chosen because they exhibit a modicum of intelligence, an adequate wit, and a semblance of reason. After reading Mr. Richard's editorial, which hypothesized that the National Educational Association favored one-third federal funding of public education so that teachers could enjoy "yummy" salary increases, I am not so sure that the gentleman in question has any intelligence, wit or reason.

I am the president of a local association of teachers which is affiliated with the National Education Association, and we are acutely aware of the terrible toll that inadequate educational funding has taken upon the schools in our state.

Because the Michigan Legislature and Gov. Milliken have not had high educational priorities, and because individual taxpayers have refused to bear the brunt of educational costs, school districts all across the state have faced massive cutbacks in programs and teachers.

Music, art, and physical education programs have been cut completely out of curriculums in hundreds of schools; extra-curricular activities have been slashed; the very heart of academic requirements have been reduced to "save" the communities money by eliminating teaching positions; the traditional six-hour day has been cut back to a five-hour day for thousands of junior high and high school students in this state—all of this because of inadequate funding and low educational priorities.

And who cares? Are the communities in this state up in arms about their declining public school system? Not on your life!

But the teachers care—the National Educational Association cares—and that is why they are demanding one-third funding of education, Mr. Richard, not because teachers desire "yummy" salary increases.

Resident is named to direct engineering

PATRICK M. GLANCE

Patrick M. Glance has been named manager of engineering for Autodynamics Corp., a Madison Heights-based design and development firm. Glance, a Plymouth resident, holds nine patents ranging from a variable pressure occupant restraining air bag to a bumper assembly.

For 10 years, Glance worked in various departments of Ford Motor Co., including plastics development center, lightweight materials applications department, body engineering office and in advanced research groups.

GLANCE EARNED a BS in mechanical engineering with honors from Wayne State University in 1970. He previously had gained a BA in industrial design from Michigan State University in 1965 and an associate of science from Henry Ford Community College in 1963.

Glance was admitted to Pi Tau Sigma, an honorary mechanical engineering fraternity.

Pierce files suit for vote recount

Dr. Ed Pierce, Ann Arbor Democrat, has carried out his "campaign" promise to go to court to get a recount of the Nov. 2 results of the 2d Congressional District election.

Tom Downs, Pierce's attorney, Friday filed a request for a writ of mandamous in the Michigan Court of Appeals to force the state elections division to hold a recount.

The division the week before refused to hold a recount of the race in which Pierce lost to Plymouth Republican Carl Pursell by only 344 votes.

The state refused Pierce's request because it said state law doesn't specifically allow for a recount in a general congressional election.

The division director also said that a 1974 opinion from Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said that congressional elections are federal votes and not state votes.

GEORGE HASTINGS, Pierce's press secretary, said that the candidate hopes that the appeals court will rule on the recount request by late this week.

He added that Pierce is still evaluating his request for a challenge of Pursell's right to represent the district before the U.S. House of Representatives when it convenes in January.

Pierce last week had filed a "notice of contest" putting the house on notice that the Democrat may challenge Pursell's election victory.

Another route being utilized by the Ann Arbor physician is the possibility of the state legislature changing state election laws to allow a recount and correct the problem cited in Kelley's legal opinion.

CORP eyes 'people-input'

What "people-input" can do for a town is one of the topics to be explored at the next meeting of Citizens for Open and Responsible Planning (CORP).

The session on citizen involvement in planning will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, in the cafeteria of West Middle School.

CORP invites all residents to the slide lecture by John J. Collins, president of the Marshall Historical Society and a member of the Marshall Planning Commission. He will speak on "Community Involvement in Marshall."

The presentation will include discussion of what people-input can do for a town, and what happens to a city when its citizenship-at-large is involved in the planning process.

Collins is a planning manager for Eaton Corporation's fluid power division. He also handles the advertising responsibilities for two Eaton divisions. Earlier in his career, Collins for eight years was a sportswriter and editor for the Boston Herald. He also is secretary and treasurer of the Historical Society of Michigan.

Borowski will exhibit

Obed Borowski of Plymouth will give a background talk on an exhibit about archeological exploration in Israel at the Credit Union beginning 4 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 8.

The extensive exhibit will be displayed at the Credit Union through Dec. 10. It will be shown in the Plymouth Community School District until the middle of January and then will move to the University of Michigan.

Borowski, who participated in the work shown in the exhibit, will show slides and provide information for teachers who wish to use the exhibits for class projects. The program is open to the public.

The Stroller... Come on, winter

By W. W. EDGAR

Woman's intuition is a wonderful thing.

Just the other day the little lady at our house peered out the window and, noticing the gathering of dark clouds, turned to The Stroller and asked, "Are you ready for your visitor?"

Then she added: "The snow man will be here before you know, and if you aren't ready, we'll be in a terrible fix."

Her remarks weren't too surprising. When she expects visitors, she spends several days preparing for their arrival.

She'll see that all the furniture is in its proper place, that all the windows are clean and that the table tops from one end of the house to the other are glistening.

She'll go so far as to wash the dininner plates soon as she gets them down from the shelf. She wants to make sure that everything is as clean as possible.

So there was no peace in the household until The Stroller, heeding her advice, headed for the garage where his partner in fighting the snow had been sitting for months. Uncovering the snow blower he tested the spark plug, checked all the moving parts, then pulled on the starting rope.

Much to his delight the motor started on the first try, and the spiraling knives were going at an even pace. So we were ready for the company.

The big snow blower has been a real friend for the past years,so the sight of snow no longer bothers The Stroller.

But would you believe it—no sooner had the blower been prepared for action than the white flakes started earthward, and there was a broad smile on the lady's face when he returned to the house.

There is a great story behind that mechanical marvel, and it is the wish of all the residents on our street that the inventor's name never be lost to posterity.

Until a few years ago the folks on our street dreaded the coming of the snow man. It was a wooded area, given to heavy drifts, and there were times when we were "snowed in."

At the time The Stroller read about a new fangled machine called a snow blower—a device that blew the snow about a distance of about 15 feet. "That's for me," The Stroller commented, and he immediately envisioned no more snow shoveling.

Never did he dream that the machine would do such a fantastic job. Handling it was so enjoyable that The Stroller and his little helper Johnny blew the snow from all the neighbors driveways—and it proved to be a lot of fun when the neighbors joined in.

The Hitters—Kay and Bill—called it a good neighbor policy and vowed they'd do something in return for the snow removal. They did. They purchased a leaf blower.

But it is the snow blower that has removed the dread of heavy snow falls. And as The Stroller now enjoys the outdoors while taking part in the good neighbor policy, he can't help thinking that no season of the year is met with more mixed emotions than winter.

When you are young, chances are that you look forward to bobsledding and sleigh rides. Back in our town we enjoyed going down the hill "belly bumper." Oftimes we worked all summer building bob sleds that could negotitate the slopes.

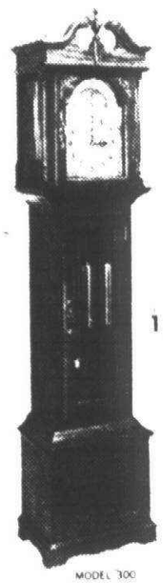

As the years moved along, the bob sleds became things of the past and there began a certain dread of winter until skiing became popular.

Then, as a fellow moved into the ranks of the senior citizens, the snow—or even the very thought of it—was dreaded. As the ground took on its white cover there was a yearning for the coming of spring. At least that's the way it was in our house until the arrival of the snow blower—and the start of the good neighbor policy. Now, with the snow shovel relegated to the limbo of forgotten things the coming of the snow man is looked forward to on our street.

It brings the neighbors together in the out-of-doors,and clearing the driveways is fun.

So, come on winter!

Youth ballet, dance ensemble featured at CEP concert

The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) will present a variety concert Thursday, Dec. 9 in the Plymouth Salem auditorium. The concert will consist of performances by the cadet band, guitar class ensemble and the CEP symphony orchestra, all under the direction of H. Michael Endres.

An additional feature will be the community youth ballet and dance ensemble performmng various dance numbers with the orchestra providing accompaniment.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public at no charge.

The cadet band will start the concert off by performing "An Occasional Suite" from the "Aria Chorus" by Handel and arranged by Osterling, excerpts from the opera "Die Meistersinger" by Wagner, and the "Gallantry March" by Mesang.

In its first performance, the guitar class ensemble will play and sing in unison "King of the Road" by Roger Miller, "Octopus's Garden" by the Beatles, and a John Denver favorite, "Take Me Home Country Roads." Members of the Plymouth Salem vocal department will assist the group with some background harmony.

THE LAST section of the concert will include the symphony orchestra performing "Sounds of Simon and Garfunkel" featuring "Scarborough Fair," "The Sounds of Silence" and "Mrs. Robinson."

The orchestra's next selection will feature the community youth ballet and dance ensemble under the direction of Millie Turnbull dancing to "Piccolo Bolero" by Montovani and to "Waltz of the Flowers" from Tschaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

"Waltz of the Flowers" also will feature Fred Andres on harp.

The orchestra also will perform the "Finale" to Brahms' "Fourth Symphony," "Can-Can" from "La Vie Parisienne" by Offenbach and will close the concert with "Christmas Music for Orchestra," a collection of traditional Christmas carols arranged for orchestra by John Cacavas.

THIS YEAR'S symphony orchestra is made up of violinists Rebecca Nichols (concert mistress), Cheri Neal, Ann Kaziac, Carol Robertson, Jeannine Sobkow, Jean McMinamin, Gail Liberman, Sandy Moran, Jenny Miacham, Chris Rippe, Saruta Narayan, Sandy Stolikn, Annette Fabri, Amanda Tennant, Nancy Regal, Judy Ax, Sandy Byson, Sherri Smith and Sandy Fritsch.

Violas include Brian Lockhart, Donna Jaszcz, Bob Houghton, and Sharon Smith. Tom Dowds, Anne Harrington and Kim Leeper make up the cello section, and string basses are Bill Otto, Bill Sutton, Tom Stevenson, Lori Henry and Ron Bissonnette.

Karen Kan, Carol Petro and Mindy Starky are the flutes of the orchestra and the oboes include Bill Sweeney and Sally Hawkins. Clarinets are Diane Routson and Betty DeLano, and John Huibregtse is on bassoon.

The french horns are Bob Moyer and Joe Sullivan, trombones include Brad Kleiber, John Sullivan and John Upton, and the percussion section consists of Tim Stamper, Jerry Swantek, Brent Tucker and Randy Merritt.

Cellos include Richard Andres, Kathy Donnelly, Susan Clark, and James Steed and Kathy Gutzman on string bass.

Holiday favorites at Pioneer concert

By BETTY DeLANO

A Christmas concert will be presented by the Pioneer Middle School music department at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 8 in the Pioneer gymnasium. Participating will be the Pioneer bands under the direction of Dale Baer and the orchestras, conducted by Nancy Drifmeyer.

Traditional Christmas music like "Silent Night" and "Adeste Fidelis" will begin the concert and will be performed by the training band.

The training orchestra will play Susuki arrangements of "Variations on Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" and "Oh, Come Little Children."

Following that will be the concert band performing "White Christmas" by Berlin, the three movements of "For Children" by Bartok, and "Angels We Have Heard On High" by McLin. The concert orchestra will play "Silver Bells" by Livingston and "Rock-a-bell Jingle" by Hastings.

Pioneer's stage band will play "Watch What Happens" by Legrand, "Free Spirit" by Nestico, and "Proud Mary" by Fogerty.

Pioneer's symphony band includes flute players Cheryl Nowak, Nancy Pierce, Karie Dorsten, Julie Koziski,Cheryl Bertrand, Cindy Grauwickel, Lorie Begin, Erika Odom, Debbie Hartford, Renee Zeleznik, Pam Riffle, Lisa Palise, and Karie Dorsten on piccolo and Kelly Hubert on oboe.

Clarinets are Dawn Angel, Beth Wortz, Bernadette Krochmal, Kris Bouman, Anita Horen, Kary Seelhoff, Caren LaPierre, Jeff Byrne, Michelle Humphrey, Laura Van Hartesveldt, Sue Suddendorf.

Alto saxophonoes include Jan Mackenzie, Tom Pletzke, and Jim Strid all of whom are in the stage band, and Bill Johnston. Brian Preblich, another stage band member, plays tenor saxophone and Lisa Brown, also of the stage band, is on baritone saxophone.

THE CORNET section consists of stage band members Chris Riffle, Robert Sherman, Ken Horen, Brian Azelborn, Ken Moran, and Doug Bulmer and Ken Nielsen. French horns are Doug Kleinsmith Leanne Bouman and Louise Seppi. Stage band members John Darling and Craig Schwartz make up the trombone section.

Darcy Johnson and Jon Finch of the stage band play baritone and Scot Schwandt the tuba. Percussionists include Jean Koziski, Laura Arnold, Jeff Stopa, a stage band member, Mark Funk, Terry Harder, another stage band member, Pat Callan and Dianne Argonis.

Drub Dearborn, 66-57

Rocks bounce back in OT

By FRED DeLANO

The old folks who have been watching high school basketball in Plymouth for years upon end got quite a lesson Friday night. Simply stated, the message tells one that no matter how bad the snowstorm, no matter how slippery the roads, no matter what the score, don't leave the game early.

When some dedicated rooters pulled up stakes with about four minutes left in Plymouth Salem's Suburban Eight opener against Dearborn in the Salem gym it appeared to mark the end of a frustrating evening. At that point the Rocks never had led and still were on the short end by nine points, 41-32.

Those who let a little snowfall keep them away from one of the most exciting cage finishes in years never will know what they missed.

Canton's Rusty Mandle fights to control the ball.

Don't tell them, but with the determination that has brought Salem three Suburban Eight titles in a row, the Rocks came storming down to the wire with a rally that first sent the battle into overtime, 54-54. Then darned if they didn't win it in a breeze, 66-57.

COACH FRED THOMANN can argue all he wants about the value of a big man—and he stands 6-9 himself—but now that the likes of Eric Agardy and Jim Ellinghausen are on the alumni rolls, he can thank his coaching wizardry for bringing up such pesky, gutty guards as Mike Christie and Rich Hewlett.

They're the guys who turned this game around, leaving the Rocks 3-0 overall and in their accustomed tie for first place in the league after one game at 1-0.

But despite their heroics, like miraculous out-of-bounds saves, and cord-burning jumpers from the key, to say nothing of a couple of crucial steals, Christie and Hewlett weren't the whole show.

Tom Ellinghausen, who shared Salem scoring honors with Christie at 19 points each, was the only consistent scorer in the first half which saw Salem trail, 34-26. There was plenty of help from Chris DeBear, Doug Agnew, John Broderick, Bruce Gerish and others.

This is supposed to be Dearborn's best team in years, and possibly is. Anchored by their 6-9 pivot man, Bill Stuky, who also got 19 points, the Pioneers have balance, rebounding strength and speed. But maybe they don't have quickness or quite good enough passing or a sufficiently tenacious defense—and that is where the Rocks shine.

CONSIDER THAT after the Pioneers had stretched their lead to 10 points, 38-28, early in the third quarter, hopes for Salem's 30th home court victory in the last 31 appearances indeed appeared dreary.

But that doesn't reckon with a bucket by Agnew, three points apiece by Ellinghausen and Hewlett and similar theatrics by their teammates. Suddenly Dearborn was in front by only two, 54-52, after Hewlett went all the way on a steal. Then Christie tied it at 54-all with 1:16 left after a contortionist-type save at the sideline.

In the Agardy-Jim Ellinghausen era, the Rocks didn't bother with overtime decisions, but this night the extra session saw Salem overpower their foe, 12-3, Christie getting six of the points, Hewlett four and Agnew two.

DESPITE GIVING away height, Salem outrebounded Dearborn, 28-23. DeBear led the club with six, Ellinghausen, Broderick and Agnew each getting five.

Plymouth's shooting from the floor was atrocious in the first half (seven field goals in 25 tries), but the Rocks found the range for 16 hits in 30 shots after intermission. In assists Agnew was top honcho with exactly half a dozen.

Redford Union will be here Friday night to provide the Rocks their next Suburban Eight competition, and the Panthers still are smarting from a record breaking walloping they were dealt by Salem last winter. It could be another barn burner.

Just don't leave early.

Farmington rallies, 64-60

Canton folds under 'pressure'

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Constant pressure on the basketball court is the key to winning when a team lacks height.

And this kind of pressure was the reason that the Farmington Falcons recorded its first victory of the season, a 64-60 triumph over the Plymouth Canton Chiefs Friday night at the Farmington gym.

After two non-league games this week, the Falcons hold a 1-1 record while Canton remains winless after two tries.

The Falcons trailed by as many as 15 points at one time in the second period but overcame thisdeficit to pull the victory out in the final three minutes of play.

Canton raced to a 17-11 lead after the first quarter and extended that margin in the second quarter. It took a nine-point rally by the Falcons in the final two minutes of the first half to get back into the game.

THE KEY TO that comeback, which pulled Farmington within five points of the Chiefs at half time, was the effectiveness of a full court press and a stingy zone defense that continued to baffle the hapless Chiefs through out the second half.

"They (Canton) came out hustling more than we did in the first half," said Farmington coach Bruce Brown. "I don't know what was wrong with us.

"We are normally a good man-to-man defensive team but we got into foul trouble early and had to go to the zone.

"They out-quicked us in the first half and we had to hustle to get back into it."

Farmington's hustle is exactly what proved to be Canton's downfall.

"We seemed to relax (when we got ahead)," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "The last two minutes set the tempo of the rest of the game and we never did adjust.

"We were doing things that we practice not to do. We made a lot of mistakes.

"You've heard of a team victory before. Well, this was a team loss. Everybody made mistakes."

CANTON CAPTAIN Rob Mandle led the early Chief surge, accounting for 11 first-quarter points. But Mandle was held to only one basket the rest of the game after Farmington went to the zone.

The Falcons' Joel Soronen controlled most of the boards in that first quarter to score seven of his squads' 11 points.

Canton sophomore guards Rusty Mandle and Butch King combined in the second quarter to score 11 of the teams' 17 to pull the Chiefs well ahead.

But with only 1:51 remaining and Canton leading 34-20, Farmington went to that full-court pressure that caused quick three turnovers. That resulted in the nine-point surge before half time. Farmington's Bob Finnell scored nine of his 14 points in that quarter.

Farminton managed to pull ahead by one point early in the third period, but Canton rebounded to get back that five-point margin.

The Chiefs built that lead to nine points, 55-46, after the first three minutes of the final quarter, but the Falcons never quit.

With the Chiefs holding a 56-52 margin and three-and-a-half minutes left, the Falcons proceeded to capitalized on four straight turnovers which turned into eight points and a 60-56 lead in next two minutes.

Farmington then went into a semi-stall offense that iced away the remaining seconds and the victory.

Dick Radatz connected on eight field goals for a game-high of 16 points for the winners. Finnell followed with 14, Rick Milhizer popped in 13 and Soronen added nine.

The Chiefs were led by Rob Mandle and Keith Fuelling with 13 each.

Fuelling played an excellent defensive game as well, leading the Chiefs in rebounding. King pumped in 10 and Rusty Mandle added nine.

FARMINGTON—CANTON

Farmington (64): Finnell 5, 4-5, 14; Milhizer 5, 3-6, 13; Soronen 5, 1-2, 11; Radatz 8, 0-0, 16; Meier 3, 3-5, 9; McKibben 0, 0-0, 0; Springfield 0, 0-1, 0; Spence 0, 1-2, 1. Totals: 26, 12-21, 64.

Plymouth Canton (60): Rob Mandle 6, 1-1, 13; Wendland 0, 0-0, 0; Albright 1, 5-6, 7; Randazzo 2, 0-0, 4; King 5, 0-0, 10; Fuelling 5, 3-6, 13; Russ Mandle 3, 3-4, 9; Rienas 1, 2-3, 4. Totals: 23, 14-20, 60. Fouled Out: Soronen (F), Rob Mandle (C).

Finley qualifies in 2 events

Salem sinks Thurston

The Plymouth Salem swim team opened its dual meet season Thursday night with an easy 100-74 victory over Thurston at the Eagles' pool.

Salem had little problem in this non-league meet, winning eight of the 11 events.

"For having to swim so early in the season, we started out fairly well," said coach Byron Williams.

The Rocks come off last year's season as the top squad in Observerland, and with the performance demonstrated against Thurston, it looks like the Plymouth squad could retain this honor.

Potential all-stater Ron Finley began his senior season in great fashion. Not only did he win the 100 butterfly and 100 back races but he also qualified for the state meet with impressive times.

Finley swam against Thurston's best swimmer, Kurt Kovack, in the 100 fly and won this race with a first place time of 55.1 seconds. That time was one-tenth of a second slower than the Thurston pool record. Kovack also swam a respectable time of 55.9 seconds for second. Salem's Rob Kuebler finished third.

Finley also recorded a quick time in his speciality, the 100 backstroke, with a :56.4 clocking. Thurston's John Blakely and Kevin Stojak placed second and third behind the Rock tanker.

THE OTHER PLYMOUTH double winner was senior Tim Ying who was victorious in the 200 and 500 freestyle races.

Ying headed a Rock sweep of the 500 race which found Bruce Lazarus and Craig Finley also scoring points. Ying swam a 5:19.5 for the winning time. Lazarus came in at 5:25.9 and Finley was third at 5:27.9.

The third place time for the freshman Finley was just one second shy of the freshman record set three years ago by his older brother.

Ying's top 200 time was 1:59.0. Craig Finley was second and Thurston's Jeff Harris placed third.

The Rocks won both relays, opening the meet with a 1:47.5 time in the 200-yard medley. Ron Finley, Jeff Stella, Kuebler and Mike Etienne combined for that time.

The Eagles' Blakely, Larry Janick, Roy Stefanko and Robert Surnick placed second with a 2:09.5 time.

Dave Schoeder, Ying, Etienne and Tom Rubadue combined for Salem's 400 free relay victory in 3:38.5. Thurston's Stefanko, Joe Basler, Louis Milos and Joel Britton came in a close second at 3:42.5.

The Eagles's Kovack dominated the 200 individual medley race with an easy six-second victory at 2:10.0. Salem's Stella broke a freshman record with a second-place finish in the event swimming a 2:16.4. Janick from Thurston finished third.

Rubadue breezed to the 50 free victory with a 24.1 second result. Thurston's Fred Rousseau and Robert Kurnick followed. Etienne won the 100 free with a :52.8 time. Rubadue was second and Blakely third.

The Eagles placed first and second in the breast stroke led by Janick and Janrow. Stella set his second Salem freshman record of the day with a 1:09.0 third place finish.

Jay Render of Thurston easily won the diving competition over Rock senior Doug Hunter. Eagle John Malric was third.

The Rocks host Livonia Stevenson in another non-league dual meet this Thursday night beginning at 7 p.m.

Chiefs chew Cherry Hill

The records continue to fall for the Plymouth Canton wrestlers whose improving varsity won its second straight dual meet with a 65-7 romping of Cherry Hill on Thursday night.

It was the biggest margin and most points ever recorded by a Chief wrestling team in the four-year history of the school. The victory also ties a club record for two consecutive dual meet victories.

"We've got something going, I just hope it stays," said coach Dan Chrenko. "It's a different kind of feeling (to win). "For the first time ever we went into a meet knowing we could win," he said. "The surprising thing was that we won the last four weights which I never thought would happen."

Just three weeks ago, Chrenko had only two wrestlers for those last four upper weight classes.

"We had more people at the meet than Cherry Hill," he said. "We wrestled at Cherry Hill and had 40-45 fans from Canton."

"The enthusiasm is really high now. We had to work for every match but we were better."

"Cherry Hill is a second-year team and they are starting out like we did four years ago.

"We wrest Southfield at home on Thursday and we could be 3-0."

THE FIRST of only two Cherry Hill match wins came in the opening 98-pound duel where Mike King won a major decision over Canton freshman Danny March.

Chief senior captain Bill Heedum got Canton started on its winning ways with a 1:23 pin in the 105-pound match. It was Heedum's seventh consecutive victory—six of which have come by pins.

Matt Major pinned his opponent in the 112 match, while Bartlett did the same in 1:26 of the 119-poiund meeting.

Craig Lee recorded Canton's fourth consecutive first-period pin with a 1:35 triumph in the 126 match. Jeff Rey waited until the third period for his 5:07 pin of Ed Salvetti in 132 competition.

Canton's Terry Cliffton lost the other Canton match of the day at 138, bowing in a 6-5 decision.

Scott Collins won by a pin in the 145 class at 3:31, while Kyle Heaton continued his steady wrestling with a major decision at 155, 13-0.

Pins by Dennis Howell (165), Rich Burger (178) and Scott Caudwell (191), along with a 5-0 victory for heavyweight Chuck Walker, completed the Canton sweep.

The victories for Walker, Caudwell and Burger were the first of the season for each.

Burger is a newcomer who was wrestling in his second match of the year.

Caudwell practiced for the first time the night before this meet but still managed to win. He was one of the top players on the Chieft football team this past fall.

"I can't take any credit for Scott winning," said Chrenko. "All I told him was to go out and be aggressive. He only knew the half (nelson).

"He went out and virtually had the kid of the mat with a football tackle."

CANTON'S JUNIOR VARSITY, under the direction of Dan Riggs, also had an easy time with Cherry Hill, winning 48-15.

Victors in the JV match for the Chiefs were Tom Herald, Steve Penar, Brian Olk, Jay Lee, Rick Svopa, Craig Procter, Dave March, George Hamblin and Mike Snipes.

Dave Durkin, one of the JV leaders, was injured in his match.

Salem minus 3 wrestlers, coach

Glenn whips Rocks, 38-17

The Plymouth Salem wrestling team lost its first dual meet of the young season, falling to a good Westland John Glenn squad 38-17 in a non-league meet held Thursday night at the Plymouth gym.

The Rocks won only five of the 13 individual matches, four by decision and one by a major decision. Salem's record is 1-1.

Salem was hampered throughout the match by the absence of three of its starting wrestlers.

Bob Dasher was injured. Rick Saunders was sick and Mark Ross failed to make weight.

THE ROCKS WERE also without the services of coach Ron Krueger who was attending the funeral of his mother-in-law in Ohio. Krueger was expected to rejoin the team today.

Junior varisty coach Larry Phillips handled the varsity for the Glenn meet and the Allen Park Invitational on Saturday.

Salem's major decision was recorded by Jeff Fidge who won his second straight match without a defeat, 13-4.

Lightweight Renee Leist also remained undefeated after the first week of action with an 8-5 victory over John Canglois.

Karl McNulty ssed he Rocks' first meet of the season because of sickness, but rebounded with his first victory over Glenn's Tom Eisminger by a 12-6 decision.

Senior Bob Zalameni won a close decision over Bob Meyer 7-6. Dave Champion won the last match of the night with an easy 11-2 victory.

The Salem junior varsity also fell victims to an experienced Glenn JV in the preliminary match. All of John Glenn wrestlers compete in a middle school program before coming to the high school.

In The Pocket

By W.W. EDGAR

Aside from furnishing keen competition, the AMF Grand Prix tournament at Thunderbowl that finished last Saturday afternoon, proved several things.

By the crowds it proved that bowling is a spectator sport and that the metropolitan Detroit area still is the bowling capital of the world.

From the opening of the pro-amateur to the TV finals, seating space was at a premium and the bowlers said it was one of the best set-ups they had seen.

The arena in which the pro finals were held is a throwback to 1960 when the attempt was made to organize a national bowling league.

The Detroit franchise holders built the 'theater' in Allen Park. When the attempt failed, George Prybyla and the other members of the firm continued it as a show place for the top events.

It is an asset to the bowling game and sets the area apart. This is as it should be, for most of the early promotion ideas had their birth in Detroit.

HIGH SCORES come from the most unexpected places. The latest example occurred at Mayflower Lanes when Cathy Zimmerman, bowling in the ladies league, posted a 703 series to take top place on the honor roll. It is only the third 700 series posted by a woman in the Detroit area this season.

Mike Barna paced the men for the week with a 671, while the woman's high game was a 268 by Dot Haggard and, for the men, it was Frank Hrutky with a 288.

Other high scores in the ladies league included Kathy Colling with 591, Shirley Yaccick with a 224 in 584, Jane Westenberg with a 201 in 527 and Phyllis Quinn with a 207 in 513.

Pat Markes had the biggest night of his acreer at Merri-Bowl.

With a 139 average he opened with 259, then added games of 179 and 136 for 574.

YOU ALWAYS can depend on the women to do something different.

This week at Country Lanes Ann Bauer came through with a 116 triplicate.

Another who turned in a peak performance was Ray Marchewitz, a 145 average bowler. All he did was roll games of 188, 180 and 159 for 527 to go way over his average.

JACK GAGNON learned the meaning of frustration this week at Plaza Lanes. Bowling in the men's league he got off to a good start only to have the No. 7 pin stand— and he missed— to wind up with a 279 to go with games of 247 and 190 for 706.

Cheer up Jack, you earned membership in the 700 club.

On the women's side of the competition at Plaza, Barbara Krivitz rolled a 180 all spare game to go with counts of 200 and 157 for 537.

At PLYMOUTH BOWL Hazel Griffin topped the senior citizens with a 215. John Hurley paced the Ford Midnite League with 668 on games of 224, 219 and 225. Marlene Tahaney led the parade in the St. Colettes League with a 244 game.

RON SHARPLES finished two pins shy of membership in the 700 Club at Wonderland when he rolled games of 189, 278 and 210 for 698 in the Classic. The Farris Bros. team was high with a 3140 count.

ALTHOUGH SHE carries only a 148 average, Phyllis Wakeford showed her mates how to do it when she rolled a 252 in 581 to lead the classic at Westland.

In the Coffee and Donuts League, Jan Michaels had games of 206, 189 and 2134 for 608, while Gary Perrish stole the show in the junior house league with a 289 in 649.

WITH A BIG middle game of 277, Dean Shiseser moved to the head of the parade in the Bel-Aire Classic. The big game came between counts of 214 and 192 and gave him a 683 series.

Second place went to Don Martell with 654 and Bill Cooper landed third with 636.

In the Thursday mixed league, Lois Le Claire showed the way with a 558 that gave her a 29-pin edge on Eve Lennon, who finished second with a 529. Behind this pair came Rosemary Angott with 523, Bertha Simonsen with 515 and Mary Petross with a 503.

Ladywood advances in regionals

LADYWOOD—AQUINAS

Liz O'Brien, a freshman forward making her first start ever for the Ladywood basketball team, tossed in 19 points and grabbed 14 rebounds last week to ignite her team to a 65-53 victory over Southgate Aquinas in a regional semifinal at Harper Woods Regina.

Despite the outstanding individual performance by O'Brien, Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh said that it was solid team play that produced the win. "That was our best team effort of the year," the coach said.

O'Brien got her big chance to crack into the starting lineup when Jan Pawlak, a regular starter, injured her ankle and was unable to play.

All was not as easy for Ladywood as the final score might have indicated. The Livonia contingent stormed out to a 13-4 opening quarter lead, saw it chipped away to 31-26 at the intermission and even more so after three periods, 43-42.

However, Kavanaugh's cagers out-pointed Aquinas during the last couple of minutes, 14-2, to secure the victory, their fourth in tournament competition at the Class B level.

Ladywood used a one-to-one defense while Aquinas attempted to bring the ball up court during the late stages of the battle and switched to a zone if its foe moved the ball into scoring position.

"We seemed to get some steals, a couple of fast breaks and some outside shooting," Kavanaugh said of the final minutes.

In addition to O'Brien's 19 points, Diane White contributed 15, Marty Wallace, 13, and Carol Crissey, 10. Wallace hauled down 20 rebounds and Crissey and White each counted six assists.

Salem JV cagers win second game

By THOMAS ZAIBEK

Outscoring a tough Livonia Franklin squad 18-6 in the third period enabled the Plymouth Salem junior varsity cagers to win their second non-league contest in as many tries.

The Tuesday night 62-51 victory started as a see-saw battle in the opening period with Plymouth taking a slim 14-9 lead. The Rocks were led by the shooting strength of Greg Tallmen who scored six of his 15 points in that period.

Starting the third quarter with a 30-24 lead, the Rocks went to work. Rob Neu's thievery, Paul Dillon's driving layups, and the rebounding dominance of Kevin Kelliher, Bill Thimm and Tallmen gave Salem a commanding 20-point advantage.

Franklin closed the gap to eight points in the fourth period with the Rock reserves in. Coach Craig Bell then went back to his starting lineup to ice the victory.

Kelliher led all scorers with 16 points. Dillon followed with 11. Bill Thimm added eight and Barry Owens chipped in with six.

Chief JV loses 2d

The Plymouth Canton junior varsity basketball team lost its second straight game of the season with a 49-37 setback to the Farmington Falcons Friday night.

Canton's record this season stands at 0-2.

Coach Wayne Weimer's squad couldn't get things going offensively from the start, trailing 12-5 after the first quarter.

The Chiefs cut that Falcon margin by one after the second period, trailing 23-17 at half time.

Farmington iced the game away in the third quarter with a 15-8 scoring advantage that raised its lead to 38-25.

Canton JV was led by Kurt Herbert who pumped in 10 points. Jay McKinley followed with seven and Mike Leary added six.

Rock cagers named by Observer

Plymouth Salem guards Donna Goodrich and Doris Hoelisher were named to the honorable mention list of the Observerland girls' basketball selections chosen last week by area coaches.

Plymouth Canton's Sue Rekuc and Ellen Doran were also members of the honorable mention list.

HOLIDAY ART CONTEST

Dear Kids,

It's holiday time again, and that means it's time for the annual Observer & Eccentric Holiday Art Contest! If you're a boy or girl in any grade between 1 and 6, and if you live in our newspaper circulation area, then you can enter our Holiday Art Contest and maybe win a prize!! All you have to do is create your own work of art. When you do, try to think about the "holiday" theme. Show us, in your own way, how the holidays make you feel, or what the season and these special times mean to you. Show us in any form you like: drawing, painting, collage, sculpture, mixed media, even 3-dimensional creations. But — there is a size limitation. 2-dimensional (basically flat) works can be as big as 11"x14", and 3-dimensional works can be as large as 16"x16"x16".

PRIZES!!

First prize artists in each category (grade 1-3 and grade 4-6) will win a bicycle. Second prize winners in each category will receive a $25.00 U.S. Savings Bond. All of these prizes will be awarded on the basis of originality, imagination and interpretation. The decisions of the judges are final.

To Enter, print your information on the official entry blank and make sure it is well attached to the back or bottom of your art. Enter now. The deadline is Dec. 10 So get your pens, pencils, crayons and paints, glue, scissors and other stuff to work! Good Luck and happy holidays!

Sincerely,
The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

Damman and panel on tour to receive gripes on SBT

By TIM RICHARD

Suburban business and professional people will be able to bring their gripes—or compliments—about the new state single business tax (SBT) to Lt. Gov. James Damman and a special panel as it tours the state.

Gov. William Milliken's SBT advisory panel, which Damman heads, will hold public hearings:

- In Pontiac Wednesday, Dec. 15 from 1-5 and 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the Oakland County commissioners auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph.
- In Detroit Thursday, Dec. 16 from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1:30-5 p.m. in Room 614 of the Veterans Memorial Building on the riverfront.

SBT HAS BEEN a sore point among "labor intensive" businesses operating from offices and with relatively low capital investments.

The 1975 tax eliminated eight other taxes on business, including the corporate income tax and the local personal property tax on equipment and inventory. It substituted a single 2.35 per cent levy on "value added"—mostly payrolls, profits, interest and some depreciation.

While the governor and most legislators have no intention of repealing SBT, they will listen to ideas for modifying it so that the impact isn't so severe on some firms.

Persons unable to testify at the hearings may write to the advisory group in care of Lt. Gov. Damman, 128 State Capitol Building, Lansing 48909.

ABOUT 20 business and professional people and one school librarian testified at the opening hearing Nov. 16 in Flint, according to John Hagen of Damman's staff.

A business consultant said his small business clients found the forms too complex and had to hire help to complete them. About 60 per cent are paying more tax, the consultant said.

An architect told the panel he was paying three to eight times more state tax and that SBT is a deterrent to labor intensive companies.

A restaurant owner said his taxes are "way up."

A Saginaw school librarian said the revenue loss from repeal of the personal property tax was so severe that the district will need additional millage to recover.

A county treasurer added that his county lost $235 million in tax base.

"EVERYONE WHO wanted to testify had a chance," said Hagen of the Flint meeting.

When testimony didn't take up all the allotted time, Damman and members of the panel fielded questions from those who attended.

Damman was picked for the study panel because he himself is a hardware merchant in southeastern Michigan. He was a city official in Troy and a state representative before being elected in 1974 as Milliken's No. 2 man.

While not all 37 members of the SBT panel will attend every hearing, Hagen said a representative of every general kind of business will attend—from large corporations to professional people to service entrepreneurs.

Speakers will be heard in the order in which they fill out cards at the opening of the session. Unlike many legislative hearings, the SBT panel will not automatically call public officials first.

With the gushing winds and freezing weather here, the sniffles and coughs also have arrived. And, with a young family at home, the sniffles will be coming and going for the next four months.

There is an advantage, though, because the implementation of the sniffle-prevention program helps dad get to work a bit earlier in the morning. Which means I have my second cup of coffee and read the sports section in the office instead of at the kitchen table.

When the temperatures drop and winds pick up, dad crawls out of bed a few minutes earlier, stumbles around the clothes closet, and bumps into the family 30 minutes sooner. And then, after the first cup of coffee, he makes it out to the car to give daughter Bridgette a ride to school. Although it's only about eight blocks, riding in a car instead of walking is good prevention for the sniffles.

BUT EVEN implementation of the anti-sniffle defense doesn't prevent colds from reaching the children, especially son Lyle who attends preschool and picks up all kinds of nasty germs—probably from children whose parents don't give older sisters rides to school.

And when Lyle catches a cold, every effort is made for a quick cure. It's not really humanitarian motivations, you understand. To be honest, the sooner Lyle gets his cure and returns to nursery school, the sooner mom's sanity returns. He's one of those 4 year olds who, somewhere in life, received an overdose of Red Dye No.2.

The first attempt at a quick cure is aspirin and cough syrup. But, more often than not, that doesn't do the job. Then dad steps into the picture and brings out the old reliables—honey and syrup for the cough, and hot lemon tea for all the other germs. I'm not sure why it's so, but hot lemon tea is good for all kinds of ailments except for maybe bursitus.

Now, my wife doesn't have as much faith in hot lemon tea as I do. In fact, she's unsure that it will cure any ailment at all but believes the most it's good for is an upset stomach. But at times she leaves Lyle to the care of his father and, when she does the hot tea is brewed and lemon added as dad turns doctor.

The best case for my treatment that I can come up with is that it relieves the coughing and temporarily dries up the congestion. But I've never been able to prove that it cures. So after my round of medicinal applications is completed, the final cure is used.

WHEN ALL ELSE fails, the vaporizer comes out.

We plug it in at night, fill it up with Vicks, and let it steam all night in the bedroom while Lyle's sleeping. And, after a couple of nights, Lyle is recovered and ready to return to school.

Now you may be thinking that because the vaporizer works so well that we ought to get it going the first night, and forget about the aspirin, cough syrup, lemon and honey, and hot lemon tea.

That is the rational thing to do. I admit. But the trouble is that Vicks stinks so much. None of us can stand the smell and delay using it until it's clear nothing else will work.

Teachers have earned respect

Editor:

When I see a letter to the editor signed "38 Concerned Parents" who refuse to identify themselves it makes me wonder what these parents think the teachers of their children are. I have taught in Plymouth for 20 years and not once have I, or any teacher I have known, ever brought personal or labor problems into our classrooms. To assume that any pressure would be brought to bear on your children because of your views on a public issue is an insult to the many fine teachers you have in your school system.

I think what bothers me the most is that I have spent 20 years of my life doing my best to educate the children of this community and now that I need the support of the parents of these children I don't have it. Why don't some of the parents who think my colleagues and I have done a good job answer our critics?

If you think so little of your teachers' value to this community, why were we hired in the first place? Certification of teachers by the State of Michigan was not easy to come by. First there were four years of college to learn our profession. Then there was an additional 18 hours of work to get a permanent certificate in our chosen field of teaching. After completing two years as successful teachers we then are granted tenure. This means that we are accepted by the state and by our colleagues as professionals. This process takes from six to seven years to complete. Added to this, many of our teachers have a master's degree and beyond in their chosen fields.

I guess what I'm trying to say is that your teachers have earned the right to be respected and paid like the professionals they are.

Thick, hearty soups with thick chunks of Sunshine bread and butter reflect the days when a person could make a nourishing meal from soup kitchen servings.

Betty Stremich dedicated her new '30s era eatery, the Bottom of the Hill, "to those lean lovely years of comradeship and to Jake's postponed dream." (Story and photos by Elinor Graham)

New eatery recalls lean but lonely years

The soup's on at the Bottom of Hill—big black kettles of thick Boston bean, leek, split pea, cream of chicken, tomato and even pumpkin. And if diners discover a 12-ounce mug of the hearty soup isn't quite enough, they can go back for seconds.

Bottom of the Hill is Betty Stremich's new '30s era eatery, complete with bar. It is an offshoot of the 42-year-old Hillside Inn and is at the foot of the hillside restaurant on Plymouth Road west of Haggerty.

The Nov. 20 opening was the culmination of more than a year of planning.

Betty planned the layout. The booths and tables will seat more than 80 persons.

"I've tried to keep it pure," she said. Their carpenters built the tables and booths from scratch. They all are natural wood—no synthetics.

THE INTERIOR is packed with memorabilia of the depression era.

"We borrowed from the Detroit Library and the Walter Reuther Labor Library. Others were found in antique shops from here to Pennsylvania."

The walls are decorated with pictures and newspapers carrying the headlines of the day—sports, politics, labor news, Amelia Earhart and Charles Lindberg.

Betty Stremich consulted with everyone from Lowell Thomas to Plymouth lawyer Perry Richwine to find out what they were seeing and doing during the days of the Hoovervilles and Prohibition.

One section is dedicated to the City of Plymouth. Another has movie stars and sheet music of the day.

BACKGROUND music was carefully selected—Joplin and the big bands, ballads and folk tunes which have become classics.

Being in the breadline holds no stigma of poverty at the Bottom of the Hill.

The six-pound loaves are baked locally and there were six weeks of deliberation before the final choices were made. There are the rich Sunshine loaves and egg, rye, pumpernickel and special onion rolls.

The Syrian bread is used for the Maurice salad sandwiches. Bits of ham, turkey, cheese and greens blended with Maurice's dressing are tucked into the pocket of pieta bread.

There are 25 items—constantly replaced, according to Betty—on the salad bar. Here again, guests may return for refills.

Desserts and sweets are old-fashioned aplee crisp with a scoop of French vanilla ice cream, brown bottom (chocolate brownies with ice cream bathed in thick hot fudge), Dutch apple ice cream, mug sundaes, and generous homemade cookies.

FOOD AND DRINK on the menu are geared to the casual luncheon and after-theater or sporting-event crowd seeking an out-of-the-ordinary meal, but not a six-course dinner. Guests may linger over Corktown coffee served in Depression pottery mugs or a carafe of wine. There are pitchers of martinis, manhattans, bloody marys, beer and the Prohibition Special—nonalcoholic root beer.

There will be no pressures to eat and run. Those in the mood for a quiet game of chess or checkers may ask their purveyor for a board and pieces.

The Bottom is open from 11 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 11 to 1:30 a.m. on Saturdays.

BETTY STREMICH has many fond memories of visiting her uncle Jake at Hillside Inn.

"Coming over here to visit when I was a little girl was just about the most exciting thing that could happen," she said.

A former school teacher with a masters degree in clinical psychology, and an associates degree in hotel and restaurant management, she is enthusiastic about the Bottom of the Hill.

"John King will be the manager. He worked for Bob (Stremich) as a busboy when he was 16. He went into food service and has a hotel and management degree. He's coming back after working in California and Colorado."

A short history of Hillside on the back of the Bottom's menu reveals Betty's feelings and motivation for starting the new eating place:

"IN 1929, Jake Stremich dreamed of opening a little eatery, but with markets crashing and banks closing, lines were forming only at soup kitchens. The wealthy began selling apples on street corners and bootleggers peddled wherever they could. It was the time of West and Fields, Laurel and Hardy, Shirley Temple and Clark Gable.

"Lindberg and Earhart were flying around the world while the Babe was running the bases. People turned to each other and found a new sense of community and relationship. The nation began buying only American, accepting scrip and extending credit. Roosevelt succeeded Hoover with the New Deal and NRA, and after 14 dry years, Prohibition ended.

"On Dec. 6, 1933 crowds drank happily to a new and better time. The Hillside Barbecue, seating 38, soon opened.

"We're dedicating the Bottom of the Hill to those lean lovely years of comradeship, and to Jake's postponed dream. While you're with us, eat hearty, speak easy, and have fun."

UNICEF tally is complete

The trick or treater drive for UNICEF funds was handled locally this year by the American Association of University Women. Judy Morgan coordinated the effort, and has released the final tally of money collected.

Groups and youngsters who went door-to-door in Halloween costumes, asking for contributions for needy children all over the world, collected $872.

Mrs. Morgan said she would like extend the thank you from UNICEF to those who helped.

The list of helpers includes: Cub Scout Pack 293, First United Methodist Church of Plymouth, Geneva Presbyterian Church, First Baptist Church of Plymouth, St. Johns Episcopal Church, Kirk of Our Saviour—Westland, St. Michaels Lutheran, Elaine Kirchgatter and the Canton 4-H club, and Mary Uhl and the Water Waves.

Also Ottawa Tribe Indian Maidens, Brian and Tricia Carney, Michael and David Kavalhuna, Michelle Spencer, Kay Kies and Patchin Elementary School fifth and sixth graders, Scott Hauncher, Shane and Shawn Keough, Kelly Peters, the Whitakers, Wendy and Don Morgan, Todd Pinkstaff, Philip Adzima, and Megan and Erin Holmberg.

Kathleen Lardie honored by WSU

Kathleen Lardie, a pioneer in educational broadcasting, has been selected for a Wayne State University distinguished service award.

Kathleen Lardie, a Plymouth resident for the past two years, will be one of six outstanding alumni of Wayne State University who will be honored Dec. 7 at winter commencement exercises in Cobo Hall.

George E. Gullen Jr., president of WSU, will present the distinguished service awards.

Mrs. Lardie's award will be accompanied by the following commendation:

"Kathleen Lardie is a true pioneer in the field of educational radio and television. Having graduated from Wayne State University in 1933 and having earned her master's degree the following year, she entered radio and broadcasting when radio was added to Detroit school activities in 1934.

"Mrs. Lardie was instrumental in the establishment of WDTR, the schools' FM station, in 1945 and she served as station manager until her retirement in 1963. She was later appointed director of the schools' TV education department and was a leading force in the creation of WTVS (Channel 56), the Detroit Educational TV station.

"DURING HER LONG and distinguished career, Kay Lardie provided leadership in the growth of the broadcasting program. She saw it expand from a handful of programs developed in cooperation with local commercial stations to an extensive operation which involved thousand of students and hundreds of teachers.

"At one point, she was executive producer of 100 radio programs per week and 42 TV programs.

"Her pioneering talents in electronic education have caused her to be in great demand as a speaker at workshops in many other cities across the country. She taught courses at Wayne State University and Northwestern University in the use of radio and TV in the classroom.

"She was the 'Storylady' on WWJ for 17 years and helped produce WJR's 'Youth Forum.'" She also served as a member of the United States National Commission for two years and chaired the UNESCO panel on educational broadcasting from 1949-51.

"In addition to earning two degrees at WSU, Mrs. Lardie did further graduate work at Marygrove, Columbia, and New York Universities as well as the Merrill-Palmer Institute.

"She has been honored previously by WSU with the 'Creative Leadership in Educational Broadcasting' award, by the Michigan Historical Society, and and as woman of the year by Theta Sigma Chi.

"When she retired, someone said to Mrs. Lardie: 'Now you can do what you want to do.' Her reply was: 'I've been doing what I love to do for 30 years.'

"For the great abundance of love and talent that she brought to the world of educational broadcasting, Wayne State University is proud to bestow upon Mrs. Kathleen Lardie this 1976 Alumni Award."

Mrs. Lardie's son-in-law and daughter are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Peck of Robinwood Street.

CEP drama students entertain

Drama students from the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) visited four elementary schools last week to entertain pupils with a presentation of "The Clock That went Meow."

The Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high students visited Allen, Starkweather, Bird and Smith elementaries from Nov. 30 to Dec. 2. Directing the tour was Lane Sabourin, English and speech instructor at Plymouth Canton.

The story is about an old man whose dream is to make the perfect clock to give to the queen. His dreams are shattered when a mischievous cat teaches it to meow. The queen flies into a rage but later finds out the king wants the rare meow clock because it is different.

The moral of the play: "Don't be ashamed to be different, it can mean being special."

The elementary children enjoyed the play because they had a chance to participate by singing and dancing.

Earlier the play also was presented at Isbister, Fiegel and Eriksson elementaries of the Plymouth Community School Districtand at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic School.

Mrs. Sabourin, director, was aided by assistant director Patricia Mrowka and pianist Jan Gusn. Cast members were: Matt Watroba as Mr. Hans; Joni Kubik, Mrs. Dolinka; Lisa Lambert, Belinda; Janet Mills, Brenda; Harry Bott, Timothy; Sherri Morse, Fitzpatric the Cat; Marlu Rountree, gramps; Karen Maxwell, queen; Kim Murray, messenger; Amy, lady in waiting; Sharen Maxwell, orange clock; Margaret Dobrick, green clock; andKaren Parks as the bird.

Artist of the month

The works of Canton Township artist Lee Bartlett are featured this month in a one-man show in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union on Harvey Street. A member of the Three Cities Art Club, Bartlett's paintings have been shown at the Plymouth Art Show, Northville Fair and Old Village Gallery. The Club's Christmas show and sale will be Dec. 10 and 11 in the credit union. (Staff photo By Pat Touhey)

'Red Chief' play tickets on sale in local schools

Tickets for the Plymouth Theatre Guild's production of the "Ransom of the Red Chief" will be available at all elementary and middle schools Tuesday and Wednesday before school.

The tickets, at 75 cents, will be on sale in the school offices.

The guild will present three performances of the play in the Plymouth Cultural Center at 11 a.m., 1:30 p.m., and 3:30 p.m. Dec. 18.

The O. Henry play has a cast of 14 and has been produced by the theatre guild as a special holiday treat for local youngsters.

Tickets also may be purchased at the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street, and Merritt Insurance on Main Street in Plymouth.

Christmas crafts

Plymouth Newcomers Club members are ready for the holidays. Many of their decorations are handmade, the result of tips and instructions received at a series of workshops. Jackie LaChapelle, (from left) Mary Ann Curtis and Shirley Ezzo displayed some of their handiwork. The wreath (upper left) was made by putting two cotton balls in each piece of calico, securing each puff with a florists pick then attaching them to a styrofoam wreath. The bells were potato chip containers covered with material, decorated with gold braid, then tied together with puffy bows. (Staff photo)

Handmade Christmas tree

A baby's breath Christmas tree decorated with strands of pearls and blue and gold balls and bows is flanked by a pair of empire chairs in the living room of Dr. and Mrs. John Stathakis. Their's is one of five Plymouth homes on Friday's Christmas Walk arranged by the Plymouth Branch Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Tickets at $4 are available in the Plymouth Historical Museum, which will be open for the walk, Stitch 'n Tyme, Pick o' the Wick, The Statice Shop, Frame Works, and from club members. Gene "Santa" Reaves is one of Canton Township's good Samaritans.

For the past 40 years, he has been bringing Christmas smiles to the faces of many deserving people.

During November and December, Reaves accepts donations of toys, sweaters, mittens, scarves, stuffed dolls and knitted caps in his mobile home at 39500 Warren Road. Once the gifts have been packaged and tagged, they are delivered to the residents at Northville Center for Human Development, Sheldon Road at Five Mile.

Gene dresses up in his custom-made Santa suit to make the presentations.

This year, he has added 50 new friends to his Christmas list. They are the foster grandparent volunteers at the center. The gift certificates they will receive Dec. 19 will be purchased with monetary contributions collected by Reaves.

Clara Cleland of Lathrup Village is one of Reaves' helpers. She will celebrate her 95th birthday Christmas Day. In the past 40 years, she has knitted an average of 30 sweaters each season for needy families.

Reaves started spreading his Christmas spirit in 1935 as a J.L. Hudson Santa Claus. He accepted the key to the children's hearts for the next 10 years in the annual Thanksgiving Day parade.

HE BECAME Grinnell's first St. Nick in 1946. In addition, he began training department store Santas in the art of working with children.

That love for children grew into a full-time vocation.

Reaves next 10 seasons were spent in a Farmington children's shop during the day and charitable institutions in the evening. All the while, a smiling Santa collected gifts and turned them into Christmas surprises for the little ones.

At 75, Reaves still is very active in his work. The Canton Jaycees have made him an honorary member of their organization. He serves the group well by delivering baskets of food to indigent families the Jaycettes have located in Canton. He also has served the community as constable in the township.

He will don the jolly red suit again this year for the Royal Holiday Park Senior Citizens and their families as part of the Christmas celebration.

Over the years, Reaves has made many famous and some not so famous friends. They all are recorded in his autograph book, the largest of its kind in the world. The book stands four feet high and weighs more than 200 pounds.

He once displayed this vast collection of names on national television when he was a guest on "To Tell the Truth."

If you would like to help Santa Reaves continue his tradition, you can reach him at 453-1072.

THE CANTON FIREFIGHTERS Ladies Auxiliary also are busy helping others.

Each month they meet in a member's home to discuss ongoing projects—the burn closet and contributions to the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

The auxiliary's burn closet contains donations of clothing which are given to families in Canton who have been victims of fire.

Debbie Champagne, Diane Harrison, Doris Kelley, Lois Daley and Connie Draplan sort the clothes into their proper sizes for easier distribution.

Shirley Eaton, president of the auxiliary, and Joan Chakabarty, vice-president, receives names and locations of families requiring assistance from the fire station. Necessary items are delivered by the ladies.

The members have used fundraisers to supplement donations. You may have seen their pizza booth at the Jaycee Fair last summer. That event netted more than $500.

More recently, the group had its first bake sale at Krogers which raised $100 for their cause.

Any clothing or monetary contributions would be appreciated. Numbers to call are 459-0294 or 455-1077.

THE GIRLS OF CADETTE Troop 346 are small in number but mighty in effort. They recently organized that effort toward collecting food for needy families.

A bake sale was held in the lobby of the Kroger store on Sheldon Road at Ford in November. Kathy and Sheila Carson, Lori Bowman and Holly Perski took their turn selling cakes, cookies and pies.

Many shoppers made donations in addition to their purchases, thus helping the troop reach its goal.

They realized $30 from the bake sale. The money was used to purchase butter, milk, sugar and turkeys. The Kroger store manager assisted in the project by contributing a case of assorted vegetables and fruits.

Kristen and Lee Anne Bouman, Karen Mosti, Trina Stephenson and Karen Munroe scoured the community for more edible delights. Some area businesses responded with discount prices on the food.

The top three collectors, Kelly Thomason, Kathy Wilkin and Michelle Yettaw, arrived at the troop meeting laden with containers.

The result was 40 cans of assorted staples.

EVERYTHING WAS equally divided by the girls into three baskets, then decorated.

Two were arranged in the form of harvest cornucopias and the third depicted a fat turkey. When all was in readiness, Christine King, leader, and Linda Wilkin, troop committe member, made the deliveries.

Mrs. King said, "The girls were really fired up for this project. They are still running on momentum—planning new ways to serve the community."

"Although they are only 10 to 12 years old, they accomplished the work of adults," added committee member Pat Mosti.

"We're very proud of them."

Get Rid Of Gray Hair Some Of It Or All Of It
1st day 6th day 12th day 18th day

Time-lapse photographs show how gradual action of Lady Grecian Formula lets you control just how much gray you slowly get rid of - some of it or all of it.
WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (Special)—Thousands of women all over the country are discovering a remarkable new product specially developed and tested for women's hair. It not only takes the guesswork out of hair coloring but also eliminates the gray roots problem that has for years been a thorn in the side of all women who color their hair. Lady Grecian Formula is not a dark messy dye. It is a colorless liquid as easy to use as water. There is no mess, no complicated instructions, no strand tests, no clock watching. Simply brush Lady Grecian Formula through your hair every day and you will see the gray slowly 'fade away.' You are in complete control. You can get rid of as much gray as you want—some of it, or all of it. When your hair reaches just the lovely natural-looking color you want, weekly use thereafter is all that's necessary to keep your hair just the way you want it with no gray roots problem ever. Lady Grecian Formula is available now at:

PARASOLS & Galoshes

By GAE McCORD

"Christmas is coming, the goose is getting fat" and so will you if the mad whirl of parties and gatherings continue at the rate at which they have started. This gloriously mad time of egg nog, punch, ribbons, and aching feet is well under way and gaining momentum with each passing day.

IF YOU'RE TRYING to think of an unusual way to entertain during the holiday season, you might want to copy Minerva Chaiken's plot for the gracious day she planned for her loyal staff and a few special friends. Harvey and Virginia Shaw, Marilyn Boganschuts, and Ginnie McIlhargie were among those who that gathered for the always scrumptious brunch at the Round Table Nov. 28.

After a leisurely meal, Minerva's visiting relatives from Philadelphia, Mrs. Zella Collon, Judy Schugar, Jim and Nellie Tidwell and their daughter, Jeannine, Margaret Dunning and Ireen Waldorf, and the rest of the invited guests headed for the Plymouth Historical Museum. Miss Dunning and museum director Arch Stobie personally conducted a tour of the beautifully decorated building. The lovely Garden Club Christmas decorations had everyone humming carols by the tour's end. If you haven't yet paid a visit to the museum, this holiday season would be the perfect time to take the children for a peek at a Plymouth Christmas in the olden days.

THE GAMUT OF GATHERINGS is running from small intimate groups which meet in a traditional way year after year, to large open houses and new innovations. There are crepes parties and fritter parties, cookie parties and kiddie parties, they're wearing slit skirts and sequins, and velvet and boots. The wreaths are in place, and all signals are go for whatever turns a holly trimmed hostess on.

Joanna and Arch Vallier will have the welcome mat brushed off out in Colony Farms for a Dec. 10 get-together.

The Beacon Hill Home of Jack and Jackie Selle will be open from 5-8 p.m. Dec. 12, and Dec. 19 is the date Ruth and Paul Malbouf have chosen for their annual open house. Paul takes over the decorating duties with a special flair which always delights their friends.

The elders of the Presbyterian Church are annually feted by Don and Judy Morgan, and Dec. 19 is the day this delightful young couple have chosen for their affair.

ANOTHER EAGERLY ANTICIPATED gathering is the Antique Club luncheon and gift exchange. This is the biggy...the one meeting of the year no club member wants to miss. Antiquers spend days locating just the right present and finding original ways to wrap and present their gifts. Clair McCubbrey will hostess this years gathering in the McCubbrey's lovely McKinley Street home.

MRS. BURTON CLAYTON of Windsor was surprised on her 90th birthday when her daughter, Doreen Volpe entertained 36 friends and neighbors at an open house and dinner Nov. 24. People Mrs. Clayton hadn't seen for a number of years arrived from Troy, Windsor, Brighton, and Detroit, to help commemorate the special day with the 90-years-young guest of honor.

THE JOLLY OLD SAINT will have to locate the new chimneys of several Plymouth families this season. Marg and Bill Moon, Sue, Betsy, Missy and Mike will be hanging their stockings on the mantle of the old Hamilton House fireplace. The Moons have moved from the Moon property on Ann Arbor Trail to the old Plymouth landmark on Hamilton.

Lorainne and Bud Gould will move into an apartment in Churchill Manor while they contemplate plans for the new home they hope to build in the spring.

The R.J. Greenlers are in the process of moving from their present home on Elm to their new abode on Maple. How convenient to be able to move a short distance in easy stages rather than the long distance move which brought them to Plymouth.

ENJOY A CHRISTMAS self-indulgence. On that afternoon when you are certain you'll never get every thing done in time for the big day, pour a cup of coffee and dial an old friend in another town. You'll go back to the skirmish with renewed vigor.

The toe of the old galosh to out-of-towners who send annual greetings with no personal messages.

Drive to clothe needy children needs your aid

The 47th Annual Ruth Alden Dress Drive has established a goal of providing 13,000 needy children with either a new dress or pair of jeans on Christmas.

Over the years, more than 1 million new dresses and jeans have been distributed by the Ruth Alden Dress Drive.

The Ruth Alden campaign began during the depression when people in the Detroit Free Press city room heard of the plight of a lost child. The story is that the little girl had ventured out to look for Santa Claus because he had not stopped at her home.

Touched by the plight of this poor family, a hat was passed around in the news room and $8 was collected. The little girl had a memorable Christmas after all and a tradition began.

Since that time, thousands of Michigan residents have donated funds to the Ruth Alden Dress Drive. Through a special arrangement with local suppliers, the drive is able to purchase new dresses and jeans for only $4 each.

People who prefer to sew may make and donate dresses in sizes 6X to 14. Dresses should be of a washable material and in a pattern with sleeves, suitable for school wear. Homemade dresses should be delivered to the Detroit Free Press Building, 321 W. Lafevette, Detroit.

Contributions may be sent to the Ruth Alden Dress Drive, Box 701, Detroit, Mich. 48321.

CHRISTMAS HOME TOUR

Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Plymouth Branch, will have a Christams home tour Dec. 10 involving five area homes and the Plymouth Historical Museum. Tickets for "Dickens of a Christmas" are available now from club members, Stitch 'n Tyme, Frame Works, the Statice Shop and the Historical Museum. Price of tickets is $4 and there will be two tours, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and in the evening from 7-9 p.m.

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY CHORUS

The 25-voice Plymouth Community Chorus, under the direction of William Grimmer, will present Christmas concerts at Fairlane Center Mall at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 1, and in the Westland Center Mall at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 10.

Sarah Humphrey is assistant director, James Wagner is accompanist, and Peter Humphrey is the narrator. Selections will be both familiar and comtemporary.

3 CITIES ART CLUB CHRISTMAS SHOW

Annual Christmas art show and sale featuring the works of Three Cities Art Club members will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Dec. 10, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Dec. 11 in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union on Harvey Street, Plymouth. Original art works and crafts will be for sale, and three originals will be given away. Open to the public with no admission charge.

PLYMOUTH WOMAN'S CLUB

Plymouth Woman's Club will meet at 12:30 p.m. Dec. 10 in St. John's Episcopal Church. Guest speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanger who, with the aid of slides, will describe the lives of women of the American Revolution.

Members are reminded to take their donations of mittens and gloves to the meeting or put them on the mitten tree in the Detroit Edison Office, Main Street at Ann Arbor TRail.

PLYMOUTH EXNEWCOMERS

A different kind of Christmas boutique is planned by the Exnewcomers Club for the Dec. 6 meeting. Each member will donate an item for the Talent Auction—baked goods, a craft project, handmade gift, plant, or even a white elephant. Items may be swapped off at any board member's home between now and the auction. Items also may be brought to the auction in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union on Harvey Street by 7 p.m. the night of the meeting. Auction will begin at 8 p.m. and guests may attend.

You only have until December 31 to reduce your 1976 income taxes by starting your own retirement plan with us.

If you or your spouse (if employed) are not currently enrolled in any other retirement plan, you can open an Individual Retirement Account now to establish your own tax-sheltered retirement plan.

And if you act before December 31, you will get the benefit of an entire year's tax deduction for every dollar you put in your I.R.A. (Individual Retirement Account).

So, a tax-sheltered I.R.A. makes your money worth more now, because each dollar you save is tax deductible.

Here are the facts:
- You can deposit 15% of your income, from $25 up to $1,500 each year in I.R.A. savings, until you reach age 70.
- Anytime after age 59½, you can begin withdrawing your I.R.A. savings for your retirement. And the savings interest you earn in your I.R.A. is not taxable until you withdraw it.
- If you make withdrawals before you reach age 59½, unless you become permanently disabled, you must pay penalties on the amount withdrawn.

It's as easy to start your own Individual Retirement Account as opening a savings account. Just stop in at any office of Detroit Bank & Trust before December 31 and get started toward a money-saving tax deduction for you now, and a positive step for making your future years much more secure.

Woodwind quintet at Schoolcraft

The New York Woodwind Quintet will appear in concert at 8 p.m. Dec. 7 in Waterman Center at Schoolcraft College. They also will conduct a workshop in room 310 of the Forum Building from 3-5 p.m.

Noted both for the individual virtuosity of its players and for its polished ensemble, the Quintet has done much to bring woodwind chamber music before the public and to set the standard for its performances.

Members of the group include Thomas Nyfenger, flute; Ronald Roseman, oboe; David Glazer, clarinet; William Purvis, horn, and Donald MacCourt, bassoon. They have traveled throughout the U.S., Canada, South America, Central America, the U.S.S.R. and were on of the few groups invited to appear at the American Pavilion of the 1958 Brussels' World's Fair.

Many works have been written for the Quintet by American composers. Its list of first performances is impressive, with the most distinguished being a concert series at the Library of Cngress, where the Quintet has presented many world premieres.

Sponsored by Schoolcraft Cultural and Public Affairs, tickets, priced at $2.50 for general admission and $1.50 for SC students, are available at the college bookstore. The workshop is offered at no charge, but reservations must be made by phoning 591-6400, ext. 342.

Schoolcraft is at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Waterman Center is at the north end of campus.

WHY PEOPLE WHO OWN A BMW ENJOY DRIVING MORE THAN YOU DO.

If there is one thing all BMW owners have in common, it is the unabashed enthusiasm each has for his car. An enthusiasm that, contrary to expectations, does not diminish as the years and miles roll by. What causes this rare relationship between man and machine is the caliber of the machine. Rather than a mere collection of gears, axles and random parts, a BMW is a finely tuned, evolutionary car. One so singularly enjoyable to drive that, in Germany, a land of legendary driving machines, BMW sells more high-performance cars than any other manufacturer. A surprising fact? Only to those who have never driven a BMW. If you are tired of owning conventional, boring transportation, call us and we'll arrange a thorough test drive of a BMW.

TOY SAFETY

THE KENT COUNTY Community Coordinated Child Care (4-C) Association urges you to choose children's Christmas toys with care.

BEFORE BUYING a toy you might think about what is a good toy? A good toy is safe and fun. Toys which are suitable to the age and development of the child should be selected. Consider the toy's play value and consider the child. Since individual preferences vary widely, a favorite toy for one child may be a reject for the next.

A GOOD T( f is safe. It is not made out of any material that can easily shatter or splinter. It does not have any sharp edges or points. A good toy does not have any small parts that a child can swallow.

A GOOD TOY is fun. . .fun for the person using it. It may be educational, but if it's not fun - it's not a good toy.

AT MEIJER, we're concerned about toy safety too. Any complaints are checked out in our Quality Control Department. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission is able to provide helpful hints for choosing safe toys. The Commission may be contacted on a "Hotline" at 800-638-2666.

YOUR LOCAL 4-C ASSOCIATION is available to discuss toy safety with interested parents and consumer groups. Check your phone book or call the State of Michigan 4-C Council in Lansing, (517) 373-7961. Community Coordinated Child Care is a United Way Service. In Kent County, the number to call is 241-2626 for more information or to get "For Kids Sake", a pamphlet on toy safety.

AND REMEMBER – More important than all the toys in the world are caring, loving adults.
