Is honesty his only reward?

By CRAIG PIECHURA

When Diogenes scoured the countryside with a lantern looking for one honest man, he must have missed Hay Springs, Neb., the home of Dale and Lorna Christoffersen.

The couple proved their chivalry Sept 1 when they decided to spend the night in Willo-Acres Motel in Canton Township looking forward to a visit to Greenfield Village the next day.

"It was the first AAA-rated motel we came to and we didn't want to get too close to Detroit." Christoffersen said in a telephone interview with the Observer Thursday

In the morning they were all set to check out of the room when Mrs. Christoffersen thought she'd look under the bed "too see if maybe we dropped a sock or anything under

Instead, she found a newspaper wrapped around nearly $900 in loose

But the Christoffersens didn't celebrate their new-found windfall with a bottle of champagne. They called the Wayne County Sheriff's Department

THE MONEY was counted by Wavne County Sheriff's Deputy Donald Twitchchell at the motel. The total:

Following the law on claiming lost property. Christoffersen has paid Canton Township Clerk John Flodin a 25 cent filing fee Flodin clerk must advertise the discovery at the motel. 40139 Michigan Ave Anvone who has a valid claim to the money should contact the clerk at 44500 Geddes Road.

not found, half of the amount will go the base where he stopped in what was automatically to the township. The Christoffersens already have competion for the other half-R.J. Peterson, owner of the motel.

Asked if the money belonged to the owner of the motel. Peterson's son. Robert Jr., replied. "It was at our place. So, we put in the claim for it."

The vounger Peterson refused to say who rented Room 16 before the Christoffersens. "I wouldn't tell you that if I knew," he said.

Christoffersen, who farms 170 acres of corn in Hay Springs, said his first impression was that he had found stolen money from a robberv

"BUT THE MOTEL owner later later said he hadn't rented the room to anybody for some time." Christoffersen said. "We don't know what to think now.

One thing Christoffersen didn't count on was that he'd have to turn the money over to Wayne County authorities who put it in the county treasury for 12 months

"I thought it was our obiigation just to report it, not turn it over." Christoffersen said

If the rightful owner hasn't surfaced after 12 months and the Wayne County Board of Auditors can't decide whether to award the money to Christoffersen or the motel owner, the two will have to take the matter to court. according to George Cross, county corporation counsel.

Legal precedent indicates that for Christoffersen, honest may be its own-or only-reward. Cross told of an incident tew years ago in which a If the lawful owner of the money is Greyhound bus over found $17,000 in then Romulus Township. He turned the money in to his terminal manager. who gave it to county authorities. The bus driver and the terminal manager put in a claim for the money, along with the bus company, Romulus and the City of Detroit. Detroit claimed they had a right to half of the money because the bus had started its journey in Detroit. A judge awarded half of the money to Greyhound and the other half to Romulus, Cross said.

BECAUSE THE MONEY was found in his motel. Cross said, the motel owner "may have a strong claim."

Barring the appearance of the person who left the wad of bills under their bed by next Sept. 2. the Christoffersens-or Peterson- will pocket $437.75 and Canton Township's general fund will get the rest

And the rest of us will have to be content to find tiny bars of soap and a Gideon's Bible in our motel rooms.

Judge stops zoning board

The off-again, on-again Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) in Canton Township is off again, due to a tempofrom the zoning body last February.

Wavne County Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald granted the temporary injunction Tuesday after Attorney Daniel Burress argued that one member of the old board in particular, Robert Miller, was removed "without show of cause.

"The township's attorney (William Sempliner) acknowledged in court that Mr. Miller had done nothing wrong.' Burress said. "But the new appointments didn't include him. In addition. we will be making a challenge on a couple of other members of the board.

Until the circuit court "resolves the issue of the proper membership of the zoning board of appeals of the Charter Township of Canton." Fitzgerald said no ZBA meetings can be scheduled. The most recent board met only once. Sept. 6, to hear zoning variance cases.

The judge never ruled on which of the two zoning boards was legal when the case came before him last May. His previous ruling was that neither of the two zoning boards - the one appointed Sept. 28 by former Supervisor Robert Greenstein or the one appointed this year by present Supervisor Harold Stein — was legal.

Both boards were illegally appointed. Fitzgerald said, because the township's zoning ordinance was after a public hearing." not amended properly in either case.

State law made it mandatory for communities of more than 5.000 persons to appoint at least five persons to rary injunction obtained by a lawyer serve on the local zoning body. The for five people who were removed state-wide law become effective in summer of 1976 but Canton didn't deal with the issue until the last meeting of Supervisor Greenstein's term

So, thinking they were following the law to the letter. Canton trustees voted on Aug. 23, 1977 to re-appoint the five people who were appointed in February to replace Greenstein and his four other appointees.

But, the injunction asks for a hearing on why ZBA member Miller was removed. Township law states that one member of the planning commission must also sit on the ZBA. Miller is still a member of the Canton Planning Commission and joined the ZBA February of 1976.

State will decide if chief of police lost certification

Did Canton Police Chief Walter Mac-Gregor lose his police certification two months before he was picked to head Canton's force?

The question will come up at an Oct. 13 meeting of Michigan's Law Enforcement Officers Training Council (LEOTC) and MacGregor said unequivocally Friday that he'll resign if the council rules he was out of police work too long to retain his certification

Certification is granted when an officer completes 240 hours of police schooling and weapons training. An uncertified officer in Michigan cannot make an arrest unless he is under the direction of a certified officer. Mac-Gregor asked the LEOTC to review his certification status after Trustee Robert Myers raised the issue

MacGregor resigned as chief of police from the City of Wayne July 11. 1975 after 30 years' service. He was hired in Canton last month on Aug 8 A police officer with five years' experience loses certification if he or she is out of police work more than two

MacGregor already was testing for the Canton chief position on the twoyear anniversary of his "premature retirement." Realizing that the certification deadline was approaching, on July 1 MacGregor signed up on the Wavne auxiliary police roster

HE NEVER served on active duty in Wayne's reserve force and was never paid But MacGregor says he's still on the list in the event an emergency

Wesley Hoes, LEOTC deputy secretary, says in a letter to Canton Supervisor Harold Stein that the decision will be based on MacGregor's "status as an auxiliary" in Wayne

"In the case of Walter MacGregor, the facts are, as I see them:

"He was appointed chief of Canton Township in excess of two years from his retirement date. However, he was appointed a police auxiliary of Wayne within the two-year period. The real issue concerns his status as an auxiliary. "In his capacity as an auxiliary, was his employment scheduled on a regular basis? His contract of employment would also be relevant: that is, by whom was he actually employed, to whom was he responsible, in what manner was he paid, by whom was he paid, and were there any other special terms or conditions of his employment?

"In addition, was he responsible for the prevention and detection of crime and the enforcement of the general criminal laws of this state?

By state law, any officer who loses certification must go back to police training school for a minimum of 440 hours of schooling.

Did Police Chief Walter Mac-Gregor lose his certification during his 25-month absence from active police work? (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

MacGregor believes his certification still stands because of "footnote iv" in the LEOTC act, which says the twoyear requirement may be waived if "the person is a member of a sheriff's posse or police auxiliary.

But, if the LEOTC decides his certification expired, will MacGregor

"Absolutely." MacGregor said. "No question about it. I stated that before and I still mean it. If I'm not certified I will resign

"I never did anything underhanded except hoodwink a burn when I was a police officer. If I'm trying to catch a crook. I'll use the legal framework. But I'm not going to try anything funny to keep my job "

Schools to cut high budget School administrators expect to have a balanced budget by Oct. 3. But at what cost is the concern shared by members of the Plymouth-Canton

Board of Education. The school board has set a target of Oct. 10 to adopt the operating budget for the 1977-78 school year. A progress report on how the draft budget is being balanced will be given at tonight's meeting of the school board.

RAY HOEDELL, assistant superintendent for business, presented a draft budget at a workshop Sept. 19 which should a deficit of almost $500,000.

The school board, at that time. directed Hoedell to take necessary steps to balance the budget and report back. That report will be given tonight. More discussion on the budget will be held Monday, Oct. 3. as part of another workshop on goal-based cur-

The draft budget presented Sept. 19 pegged expenses at almost $26 million and estimated revenues at about $251/2 million-leaving a deficit of almost a 1/2-million dollars. While this represented a 141/2 per cent increase in revenues, the document estimated expenses at 24 per cent higher then the previous year

Hoedell had suggested balancing the budget by drawing $500,000 from the fund equity (surplus), which stood at $1.8 million as of July 1, 1977. Trustee George Lawton, however, argued that use of equity to balance would lead to requests for additional operating millage in the near future. If the equity fund is disturbed, argues Lawton, the operating budget could be $1 million in the red for the next fiscal year. Lawton argued instead that some $800,000 in cuts should be made in this year's budget. SUPT. JOHN M. HOBEN cautions board members that there are risks in holding the proposed budget in line.

If student growth continues, he explains, staff will have to be added which will increase salary expenses. Hoben adds that there still isn't any settlement for administrative and secretarial contracts. Hoben says, at this point, the only way he knows to balance the budget is to cut programs, ask for additional millage, or go into fund equity. MAJOR REASONS given by Hoedell

Sempliner said Friday he will argue that Miller has no right to be on the ZBA at this time because he is no longer the chairman of the planning commission, but merely a member.

To make matters even muddier. township law now states that any member of the planning commission can be appointed to the ZBA. At the time of the disputed re-appointment of Miller, only the chairman could sit on the ZBA, said Sempliner

Sunflower school sought

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education will be asked tonight to approve a land contract to purchase a 16-acre site for a future new school to serve the Sunflower subdivision attendance area in Canton

The site is located south of Warren Road about halfway between Beck and Canton Center Roads

In other action, the school board is expected to vote on increasing pay for school trustees, on an education program for nursing homes, and policies on censorship and minimum requirements for graduation.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater of Plymouth Canton High School PRESENT PLANS are to construct a 900-pupil elementary school in the future on the Sunflower site. There would be two buildings with each housing 450 students to make it easier to convert to a middle school when needed.

"It is apparent that the projected growth within Sunflower could potentially fill a school of this size." says Supt. John M. Hoben. "It also is anticipated by administration that the need for construction of this school will be upon us in the next two to four years as the alternative to the Extended School Year won't totally statisfy the projected growth.

The district has been negotiating with Richard Lewiston, developer of Sunflower, to buy the 16-acre site and has agreed on a purchase price of $120,000 with a downpayment of $20,000 Hoben says the land can be paid off within four years

Ray Hoedell, assistant superintendent for business, says the price of $7,500 per acre is fair as land in the area is selling at $9.000 to $10.000 an

The proposed school site is surrounded by about 1.700 single-family homes-693 lots north of Warren and 990 lots south of Warren Road

THE BOARD ALSO is expected to act on whether to raise compensation for school trustees to $30 per meeting for a maximum of 52 meetings a year Trustees now receive about $286 per

The board has discussed the matter since a change in state law allows the $30 per meeting renumeration. Two public hearings scantly attended. have been held on the proposal.

Supt Hoben recommends the $30 per meeting as it is in line with what legislators receive in neighboring governmental units

The board also will be asked to approve an agreement with Livonia School District to provide adult basic education classes to senior citizens in the Hendry Nursing Home and West Trail Nursing Home

Also to be considered are proposed policies on censorship of student newspapers and a proposed increase in minimum graduation requirements.

Foul play is suspected in Kami Kazi's demise

By PATRICK TOUHEY

Plymouth suffered its first Fowl Festival fatality with the death of Kami Kaze, which died by its own claw last week. The capon was to have represented the Penniman Avenue Shops in the Oct. 2 race

The bird's trainer ha gone on record saving the untimely demise was a "training accident" According to that version Kaze developed wing trouble during a routine practice flight from the top of the building and pitched head first into the central

But a knowledgeable source inside the retail conglomerate says the fowl did away with itself because it couldn't stand the rigorous pressures of its preflight workouts

'The way they drove that little creature it's no wonder he didaway with himself." said the source, who wished to remain unidentified "It had been withdrawn for days and was not eating well. It even stopped watching its favorite television shows.

THE MOURNERS TURNED out in droves Thursday to pay their last respects to the plucky little pullet. The corpse was on display in the Reflections shop on the lower level of the Penniman Avenue stores

And judging from the black dresses and profuse outpouring of tears, the bird may be gone but it's not forgotten Stretched out in its little makeshift casket (a roasting pan) and surrounded by funeral wreaths. Kazi had a dignity in death that he most certainly did not have in life

"It looks so much like him." sobbed one mourner from underneath her black veil as the lid was lifted from

Between the muffled sobs and wailing there could be heard the gentle and melodius strains of "Swing Low

Sweet Chariot" and "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen.'

With the unpleasantness out of the way, the ex-co-owners of the contestant were quick to look ahead to find a replacement to pit against the two large shopping malls they challenged to battle on the main street of

"Kami's not with us anymore-but his spirit is still alive." commented a determined Joan Gerigk of the Alphabet Gallery, and who, it is whispered. has a rather large share in bringing Plymouth the annual Fowl Festival craziness

LAST YEAR, FOR those of you who can't remember, the chicken race started as more or less a lark. The retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce came up with the idea of racing chickens down Main Street for Anyone who was around for the two weeks preceding the competition. hardly needs to be reminded of what happened. Sheer madness.

Grown men and women-most of them solid citizens and pillars of the community-tossed their mundane day-to-day cares to one side and threw themselves into outdoing one another in creating zany fantasies about their particular fowls.

Some went farther than others. They know who they are. Even now that the exploits of one. the Phantom Bantam. are legend, only a very few can even guess at the creatures' true identity for species, whatever the case may

That foul denizen of the dark baffled the best law enforcement minds of the city when it broke into the heavilyguarded First National Bank of Plymouth and "napped" Silver Pullet. the bank's champion flyer.

Two nights later the fiend hit again.

this time to place a live chicken in the office of Mayflower Hotel owner Ralph

However, and fortunately for the community, most of those who were swept away by the hysteria deported themselves in a more civilized man-

Sure, there were some harsh words spoken and taunts bandied about as one retail merchant challenged another, as bank challenged bank, and brother challenged brother. But as one participant said. "What the heck, I'm not doing anything else, anyway."

And the day of the race was worse. Thousands upon thousands lined the streets of our fair burg and watched chickens of every imaginable size and color arrive at the starting chute.

Some were driven in limousines. others came in wagons cars. Brinks trucks and moving vans. The pre-race parade of chickens and owners took a full two hours and halted traffic in a 50-mile radius.

WITH ONE YEAR'S experience -under its belt, the Chamber's retail committee is doing its best to anticipate the frivolity and frenzy that will more than likely occur.

The race is expected to draw people from the entire state. And already a number of far-flung gauntlets have been thrown down.

The Penniman Avenue Shops have challenged both Twelve Oaks and the Fairlane center. Larry Janes. of the newly-opend Gourmet Gallery, has asked Tom Schoenith of the Roostertail to pit a fowl against his.

The Mayflower Hotel tossed out a blanket challenge to the Plymouth Hilton, the Side Street Pub and Northville Charley's.

And the Chamber office reports that new entries are pouring in at a rapid rate, indeed

Anybody who has not vet entered has only to go to the Chamber offices on the corner of Forest and Wing Streets, pay their $35—which includes a chicken-and then settle back and wait for the big day

But for those not familiar with the fine points of chicken racing, a word of advice might be helpful. It's tough and mean. Definitely not for the weak of heart or stomach. The competition is

Last year's winner, a red, banty rooster named Dumb Cluck, hit 62 feet on the wing and took home the bacon for Boy Scout Troop P-6 of Smith School. No one knows for sure whether the champion will be back to defend

But who cares one way or the other. As one long-time Plymouth resident commented. "Hev. it's a small town. What are you gonna do?"

Area Methodist celebrate bounty

Canton's Cherry Hill United Methodist Church, 321 S. Ridge Road, celebrated its annual Harvest Festival of Worship Sept. 18 with a fruitful abundance

The festival has become a local tradition and dates back nearly 25 years when two transplanted English women, Mrs. Clare Dorev and Mrs. Annie Dunstan, told their Sunday School class about similar fall religious festivals in England

The 95-year-old church was awash with the multi-colors of autumn Fruits, vegetables and flowers from the field and garden were banked around the chancel and altar. The sills of the old stained glass windows were decorated with arrangements of tomatoes, peppers, and trailing vine Music sang by the choir was in praise of this year's abundant harvest

Located in what once was Canton's farming hub, the Cherry Hill United Methodist Church is a local landmark and draws people from Ypsilanti. Ann Arbor. Westland and many other surrounding communities

At the service, Sunday School students were promoted. Bibles were given to the third graders and children sang special songs for the occasion Kav Voss sang a solo when Mr and Mrs Kenneth Truesdell of Petoskev presented their daughter. Sarah for baptism New minister of the church. the Rev Bert Hosking preached on "The Discovery of Peter

Community Fund needs volunteers

Volunteers are needed to aid in the annual residential fund-raising campaign of the Plymouth Community Fund

The door-to-door canvass will begin Oct. 1. This year the fund hopes to raise a total of $250,000, with the residential sector to raise $8.000. An increased coverage of the community is planned as a second goal of the

ANYONE WHO would like to volunteer and wants to learn more about the Community Fund is urged to attend a special presentation 8 a.m. Thursday in the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

The 15 agencies which receive money from the Community Fund are joining for an hour-long presentation on how the funds are spent and who benefits. Each agency representative will be given a three-minute limit to explain what the agency does and how it uses Community Fund allocations.

THIS YEAR, the bellringers (residential canvassers) will be visiting newly-built areas in Plymouth Township and apartment complexes

This, along with a re-distribution of some older areas, will mean volunteers will be covering a slightly larger area than in years past

An attempt to have bellringers work in their own neighborhoods still will be made. It is expected that each of the areas will take about two hours to cover. Bellringers will have the entire month of October to complete their

Anyone interested in becoming a bellringer for 1977 should contact Dale Yagiela, the residential drive chairman, as soon as possible. Yagiela would like as many as possible to attend the 8 a.m. training session at the Hilton Sept. 29. An alternate evening session also will be scheduled at a later date

Volunteers should call Growth Works. Inc. at 455-4095 or 455-4090 between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. to sign up Yagiela or one of the drive co-chair persons will answer questions

Pupils sold on need to buckle

You've probably heard the slogan "Somebody Needs You" on TV and radio commercials promoting the use of auto safety belts.

The organization behind the safety campaign. Motorists Information Inc., came to Miller Elementary School in Canton Township last week as part of a statewide program to convince parents and their children to buckle up.

Although practically every previous effort to get people to fasten their seat belts has failed, the "Somebody Needs You" campaign has so far produced significant results, according to Sydney Terry, MII spokesman.

By using TV, radio, outdoor posters and newspaper advertising, the safety program appeals to people to wear seat belts because "Somebody Needs You", and then adds facts on how lives would be saved and injuries avoided if everyone wore their belt.

At Miller School, representatives such fallacies as:

from MII lectured parents and their children on the importance of buckling up. One speaker was Alan Stuart of Plymouth. They sought to undermine ·Safety belts should be worn at highway speeds, not in town

·Safety belts by themselves can cause injuries to the pelvis and ·Pregnant women should not wear safety belts.

·Safety belts can trap you in the event of fire or the car going underwater

ALL THE CLAIMS are unsubstantiated, according to MII leaflets, which predict if everyone wore safety belts, there would be more than 16,000 lives saved and 900,000 injuries prevented annually in the U.S.

MII is a non-profit corporation funded by automobile manufacturers to conduct information and education programs on public issues related to the motor vehicle. The safety belt campaign is the first project undertaken by the new corporation which was formed in December.

Two additional safety features were presented to Miller parents and students last week. A pair of Michigan state troopers discussed procedures children should take when approached by strangers and ways to avoid walk ing long distances alone

State to purchase DeHoCo for jail?

A bill has been introduced in the state legislature to invest $6 million to acquire and renovate the Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo) in Plymouth Township for conversion to a medium security state penitentiary.

The prison, operated by the City of Detroit, covers about 1,100 acres in Plymouth Township with all but 100 acres used for farming.

State Rep. Richard Fessler, vicechairman of the House Judiciary Committee, is the sponsor of the bill to acquire DeHoCo from Detroit.

Fessler, who spearheaded the effort to convert Kincheloe Air Force Base into a prison, requested the legislation after meeting with representatives of Detroit Mayor Coleman Young's office and touring the DeHoCo facility

Fessler's bill would appropriate $41/2 million to acquire DeHoCo buildings and land, and another $11/2 million for renovation

Some 400 beds at DeHoCo were vacated last month when the women's division was moved to the new prison in Ypsilanti. The capacity of the men's division, notes Fessler, is 850 but can be increased to 1,000 if necessary. "The prison has existed since 1928 and business and residential development has grown accordingly," says Fessler. "The site also fulfills Perry Johnson's, state prison director, requirement that prisons be in easy access of the families of the convicts."

The large acreage surrounding DeHoCo could support additional construction and complementary development, adds Fessler.

Of the 1,000 acres now used for farming, a lot is used to raise fruit and vegetables to feed to inmates. The land also is used to raise feed for animals in the Detroit Zoo and to feed the mounted horse division of the Detroit Police Department.

Dangerous to very young

A serious incident in which three young children suffered heat exposure while left unattended in a car in a hospital parking lot prompted a U-M pediatrician to warn about the dangers of extreme weather for children.

"Very hot or very cold weather can have serious or even fatal consequences for unprotected children, especially if they are trapped inside closed cars," said Dr. H. Mark Hildebrandt, clinical associate professor of pediatrics.

"Any citizen who comes across children in this predicament should seek assistance for them.

He noted that the children, left in a Univesity Hospital lot, were spotted by an attendant who called police. Dr. Hildebrandt said that when the officers opened the car, a 3-month-old infant was found to be suffering from heat prostration. Two sisters, 21/2 and 31/2 years of age, were less affected.

Taken to University Hospital's pediatric clinic, the infant was found to have a temperature of 104 degrees, Dr. Hildebrandt said. All three children responded to treatment, how ever, and recovered.

PLUS preschoolers look ahead to 'golden year of learning'

Educators believe 4 is the golden age of learning and anyone who has observed the year-long metamorphosis of a child from his fourth to fifth birthday parties will agree. But instructors in the Pupils Learning Useful Skills (PLUS) program have the statistics to prove it.

Four-year-olds in PLUS are tested before they join the program and again at the end of the school year. Their progress is documented. PLUS gives the children a two-fold advantage-teachers and parents work together to reveal an interesting new vista of words, games, skills, expression and judgment.

PLUS is a preschool program for 4year-olds and their parents sponsored by the Plymouth-Canton Community School District and Title I ESEA.

This year PLUS classrooms are in Central Middle School Mary Fritz is director of the program. Roxanne Sparkman and Sue Steele are teachers and Marilyn Anason is secretary and

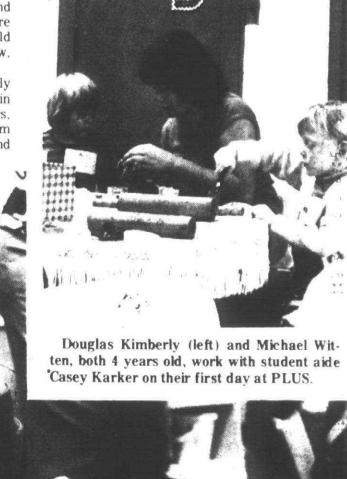

THE TITLE I funding which makes PLUS possible limits enrollment to 4year-olds from Field, Eriksson and Starkweather elementary school

Parents and children meet in once-aweek sessions at the school or neighborhood homes.

Pretesting began last week at Central and parents received their copy of "And Now We Are 4." a booklet full of interesting projects for parent and

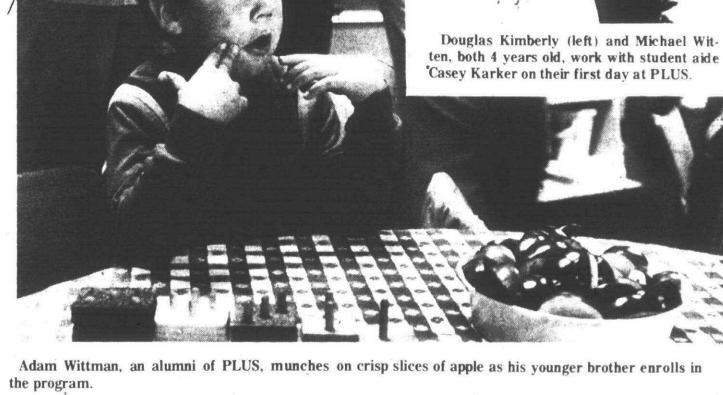

The booklet stresses that learning is a constant process. A trip to a supermarket can, with proper direction, be a source of expanded vocabulary and experience. Community resources are listed as well as simple household chores, simple recipes, things to grow, and eye-hand coordination activities.

Youngsters who attend the weekly sessions at Central will be creating in one room while their fathers, mothers, or babysitters are in the next room being briefed on how to expand and add to the day's experience.

League entertains new members and accepts PCAC challenge

Mary Weed opened her Beacon Hill home last week for a tea to encourage women to join the Plymouth Symphony League.

The league is one of the prime supporters of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. Membership is divided into smaller groups which rotate projects on a yearly basis and often come up with new fundraisers.

It is a working organization but in meeting its annual pledge to the Symphony Society it contributes also to the social life of the community.

Time-proven events are the threeday antique mart during the Plymouth Fall Festival, the Symphony Ball early in December which ushers in the holiday season, and the round robin bridge

There is a golf league in summer and a bowling league in winter. The fashion show at Meadowbrook Country Club was a sellout last fall and next month's luncheon and show promises to be as successful.

The individual groups, each bearing a musical name, sometimes join forces for a large project and they always cooperate.

Members of the symphony are fervent in their gratitude to the league for serving refreshments at each Monday night rehearsal during the concert season. Some of the musicians come to rehearsal directly from work with no time for dinner.

The food and drink provided by league members at the 9 p.m. rehearsal break is almost a lifesaver for some orchestra members. The league began the custom of serving coffee at concert intermissions a few years ago. Audience and orchestra were so appreciative, it has become a regular serv-

A challenge from the Plymouth Community Arts Council last week met with immediate response from the Symphony League.

With the whole community caught up in fall madness & the Plymouth Foul Festival, the PCAC ladies said. "Our chicken can beat your chicken in the great Oct. 2 chicken race.'

Busy season starts for involved women

Some of us lead quiet lives while others tend to be more actively involved in the community. There is a third category to which Camille Zornow of Baywood Drive in Plymouth Township is a member and few can match her pace.

During the past week she has been hostess for three different organizations on three separate evenings. Each meeting required advance preparation and cooking and she has been in her new home less than a month.

On Monday, Sept. 19, members of the Plymouth Cooperative Nursery's ways and means committee met in Camille's home to discuss the arrangements for their annual Masterpiece Auction to be held in the fall.

As chairwoman of this committee. . Camille is being assisted by co-workers Ginny Braidwood of Plymouth Township, Rose Bien of Canton and Carol Green of Plymouth.

Last Tuesday was the date for her monthly pinochle club. The evening's winners were Sally Barnard, Roberta Zander and Claudette Fountain.

... On Wednesday, Camille again took the role of hostess, this time for members of the craft interest group in the American Association of University Women. She is crafts chairwoman and planned attractive and useful dust dolls as the first project of the season.

The evening was well attended by AAUW members Lois Oldfield, Carol Mathews, Kathie Gornick, Claudette Fountain, Suzanne Coker, Gail Conte, Laura Kolb, Cindy Zajac, Marlene Lloyd, Deanna Huff and Arlene Jen-

Others cutting yarn and felt were, Sharon Flower, Liz Gribble, May Theodore, Pat Dunbeck, Amy Raffel and Mary Thomas.

AAUW HAD ITS first meeting of the 1977-78 season Thursday, Sept. 15 at West Middle School. Women as Agents of Change is this year's theme and study group chairpersons discussed how each will deal with the topic.

Introducing the evening's presentation was Carol Davis, first vice presiedent in charge of program development. Her goal for each member is to be able to say, "I am aware, I decide. I act.

Digging our roots! A new book tells all 1825: Marcus Swift, a pioneer from the east, is slicing his way through the thick green underbrush in what is today Garden City. The spot is W. Warren near Sunset Drive, at that time about one day by horseback from Detroit, that sleepy town on the river.

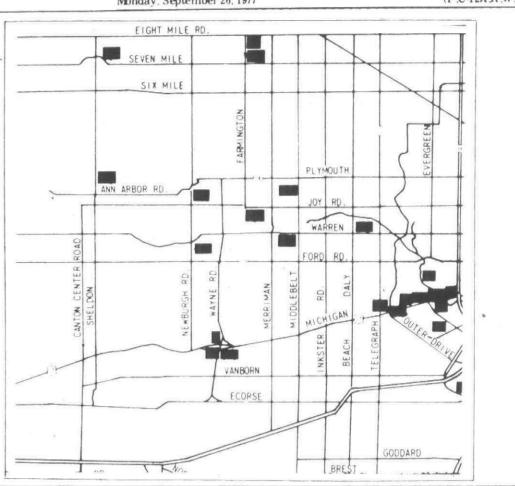

Marcus is long gone today. So is his cabin. But persons with a bit of imagination can stand at that corner and conjure up the scene upon which Marcus feasted his weary eyes over 150 years ago

History buffs often have imagination to spare. They can describe things like the smell of death in the air that day in 1819 when the Indian chief Tonguish and his son were swiftly dispatched to the happy hunting grounds. That spot is in Westland today

BUT EVEN history buffs need help. Help is here, thanks to a group from the Detroit Historical Society. They have whipped up a tasty 48-page booklet entitled "Historic Places around Detroit." It's a guide to 330 metropolitan area spots where history was made. As the introduction says: "The Guide is a much-needed, up-to-date, comprehensive catalog of local history as expressed through tangible things such as buildings, markers, and the like." The guide lists the spots, gives their location, and tells a bit about each one. There's also several maps. The price: $2.00.

As the introduction continues: "It should prove especially valuable to people who care about the community's enrichment from the past.'

WESTERN WAYNE COUNTY contains several places where history was made. They're marked by the black spots on the map above. Can you name them? If not, maybe this new booklet is just what the doctor ordered.

It's a massacre! Rocks drub Tigers, 35-0

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Three second-quarter touchdowns were all the Plymouth Salem football team needed to turn its third striaght victory into a laugher. But the Rocks scored a lot more than that.

In fact, all the Rocks really needed was the first touchdown to beat the meager challenge of the Belleville Tigers. But one didn't expect the Rocks powerful wishbone offense to stop after only one score

Salem put everything together in its massacre of the Tigers, scoring an explosive and equally impressive 35-0 shutout over the weak sisters of the Suburban Eight League

The victory marked the second straight week in which Salem has mounted a 35-point score. It was the Rocks' third triumph of the season.

keeping their perfect record intact at the one-third mark of the season

For the Tigers, it was another disappointing offensive showing, as the potent Rock defense was the third straight team to hold Belleville scoreless this year.

Both teams remained in a scoreless deadlock after the first quarter before Salem's attack began to explode—with the help of some costly Belleville turn-

Salem added single six-pointers in the third and fourth quarters to finish

"BELLEVILLE did a nice job in the first quarter but all we had to do was adjust to their defense and attack." said Rock head coach Tom Moshimer

"We adjusted well and executed well. And the defense did a super job Hev, we must have done something right." the Salem mentor said as he looked at the scoreboard after the Moshimer said he expected a tougher game from Belleville but the breaks all went Salem's way. The Rocks' rushing attack was up to par, totaling massive vardage with the wishbone against a bewildered Tiger

And the Rocks actually showed signs of having a passing attack, as junior quarterbacks Rich Hewlett and Paul Dillon combined for five completions in nine attemps for 51 yards. Two of Hewlett's strikes went for touchdowns.

The nine Salem passing attempts were three more than the Rocks totaled in the first two games combined Defensively the Rocks defensive line charged into Belleville's backfield almost at will, limiting the Tigers star runner Kelvin Patterson to minimal vardage in crucial situations.

And the Rocks defensive backfield which looked spotty at times against Allen Park last week, rose to the occasion against a weak Belleville passing attack. limiting the Tigers to only two completions in six attempts for 16 vards

And three of the Belleville aerials were intercepted-two by Scott Kappler and one by reserve Jim Thomas in the last minute of the game

ONCE AGAIN it was the excellent guidance by Hewlett that sparked the Rocks awesome running attack.

After a 10-vard Belleville punt late in the first quarter. Salem took the for a two point conversion to make it ball on the Tiger 35-vard line and drove to the end zone six plays later on a five-yard run by Chris Ritchev Dave Basierbe converted on his first of three extra point kicks (he missed one) to make the score 7-0 at the 10:39 mark of the second period

Bruce Piper recovered a Belleville fumble on the second play from scrim mage after the kickoff, and three minutes later. Salem raised its lead to 13-0 on a four-yard bootleg pass from Hewlett to Curt Lewis

The Rocks third score of the period came on their next possession sparked by a 43-yard run by Hewlett Jim Booker, playing his first game of the season after an injury, scored on a 10-vard option run to make it 19-0 Ritchev ran the ball over the goal line 21-0 at the half

The Rocks punted after their first possession of the third quarter, but Patterson fumbled the punt return and Salem's Lewis recovered the ball on the Tiger 13 yard line

Two plays later. Hewlett hit John Broderick with a 10-yard pass and Basierbe converted to raise the margin to 28-0 with 6:35 left in the third period

Kappler's second interception set up Salem's fainal touchdown earlier in the fourth quarter

Blocked punt costs Canton a victory, 7-0

By KEN VOYLES

'We'll take it." said Livonia Churchill coach Ken Kaestner after his squad out lasted Plymouth Canton Priday in a Western Six League football clash. The final score was 7-0,

The only touchdown during the contest came in the second quarter on a blocked punt. The rest of the game was basically a back-and-forth defen-Sive fight

During the first quarter, the Chargers repeatedly drove down the field only to be stopped by penalties and the Canton defense. Canton on the other hand never got its offense going during the first 12 minutes.

. The second quarter was much the same until very late when the Chiefs received a Churchill punt and moved slowly down the field. But then two quick penalties forced Canton back into a punting situation.

The Chargers blasted through the Canton line and blocked the punt. which was picked up by Mike Devlin The team from Wayne High School and carried it into the endzone. The extra point kick was good and, with 45 seconds left in the half, the Chargers were out front with the only touchdown of the game

In the second half, neither team put together a real offensive attack. The Chargers came close on two occasions but were stopped by Canton's defense. Both opportunities were the direct result of Canton fumbles.

The key to the game was that we didn't adjust to their defensive line and as a result we were not blocking well." said Canton coach Dave Schuele, who added that a misconduct penalty charged to his team was a bad call on the referee's part.

What happened was the Chiefs had a player injured, and two Canton trainers ran onto the field to help him. The referees called a misconduct foul on the team and marked off 15 yards. The Chiefs were then forced into the punting situation on which the Chargers scored.

"Our defense played well and our offense had some chances to score but couldn't. We had to many mental breakdowns." said Kaestner. "Rick Coppola played well in his first start as our quarterback.

A 13th place finish out of 22 teams went to the Plymouth Salem cross country team recently at the Schoolcraft Invitational.

Rock runners finished strong out of the 126 runners. Tom Rubadue placed 38th, Paul Hess 41st, Jeff Econom 61st, Bob Stiffler 80th, and Dave Trusdall 85th.

placed first in the invitational with a total of 80 points and Northville took second with 101. The Rocks finished last in a double-duel meet against both Livonia Stevenson and Northville last Tuesday. The Rocks score between Northville was Salem 40 and Northville 19. Against Stevenson, the Rocks scored 38 points to the Spartens 21. Northville placed with 21 points against Stevenson's 34 between those two schools Salem's Tom Rubadue came in sixth in that meet with a time of 16:49. Paul Hess came in with 16:53 and Bob Stiff-

All three runners set new personal bests during the double duel. Rubadue improved his record by 23 seconds, Hess by 18 and Stiffler by 30 seconds. Dave Trusdall, who ran a time of 18:24, tied his best time and Keith Wit-taker, who ran a 19:11, knocked seven seconds off his best. Tod Curtis shaved eight seconds off of his record with a time of 19:26 Salem coach Fred Thomann said the team ran well and was pleased with the times his runners accomplished.

Netters lose one

The big match which the Plymouth Salem girls tennis team had been waiting for all season turned into a big disappointment when the Rocks fell to Trenton 5-2 Wednesday afternoon at the Centennial Park courts.

Trenton defeated the Rocks last year 4-3 to win the Suburban Eight League crown. Many thought this year's duel match would once again decide which team was best in the conference.

The majority of the matches were good matches," said Salem coach Jan Lawson: "We have nothing to be ashamed of. We're still a young team. Trenton was just too strong for us.

The only winners in the Trenton match were third-singles sophomore Kathy Horton and fourth-singles freshman Betsy Moon.

These victories marked the fourth straight triumph for both girls. Moon and Horton have not lost a match yet this season.

The Rocks overall record is 3-1 and 1-1 in league competition.

Salem's initial league victory was a 7-0 whitewash of Livonia Bentley last Monday afternoon. Becky Crespo. Courtney Warrick, Horton and Moon were the singles victors.

Chiefs cream Chargers

The Plymouth Canton girls' varsity basketball squad had another easy time last Thursday, as it completely outplayed Livonia Churchill, 65-15, at the Canton athletic facility, keeping its perfect record intact

The Chiefs opened the game with a slow offensive tempo, utilizing a four-corner attack which opened many lanes to the basket, and took a 10-2 lead at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Churchill just couldn't generate any offense, which was attributed to a very tough Canton defense, as the Chiefs led at halftime, 29-4 All four Churchill Charger points came from the free-throw line. Canton's domination told the story in the first half, and the second half was no different. Churchilf, however, managed to score eight points in the third period, making it a 53-12 game Everyone saw action in the fourth stanza, as the Chiefs continued to execute well offensively, as the game ended with Canton a 50-point winner

Co-captain Sue Rekuc led the Chief scoring attack with 12 points. She was followed by Kathie Peck, who added 11. Kelly Heaton scored 10 points for Canton, and also had a good rebounding night

Kathy Sochacki and Pam Schipani each added

"Our hustle and defense really did the job for us tonight." said Chief coach Mike McCauley "I was very pleased with our performance offensively as well." he added

Canton's record now stands at 4-0

The Chief junior varsity squad was also succussful as it downed the Chargers. 44-26, increasing their record to 3-1.

Canton will host Livonia Stevenson tomorrow night at the Canton gvm beginning at 6:30 p.m. for the junior varsity squad, with the varsity contest immediately following

Salem cagers trip Bentley

By ANDY MELIN

"It's the best I've seen these girls play in a long That's what a jubilant Plymouth Salem girls' varsity basketball coach Debbie Hatcher expressed after the Rocks defeated Livonia Bentlev. 59.44, at the Bulldog gym last Thursday night. "We beat them in the first half." commented

Hatcher Salem led at the end of the first quarter, 15-9. and continued that trend with a 32-18 halftime lead.

Bentley, which was heavily favored to be a contender for the Suburban Eight League title this year, couldn't gain ground in either the third or fourth periods. Salem took a 45-33 lead at the end of the third quarter, ending up a 15-point victor. The Bulldogs committed numerous fouls, and the Rocks took advantage of this by making 53 per w cent of their free throws. Bentley's 6-2 center Krista Prav fouled out in the fourth quarter, leaving the game with 19 points.

The Rocks shot 46 per cent from the field, led by Debbie Pitera and Kathy Dillon, each with 15

Doris Hoelscher added 13 points, and Nan Horwood chipped in with 10. Horwood, a sophomore, also made five steals.

Junior Peggy Somers contributed six points and eight rebounds to the Rock attack Pitera, Dillon and Hoelscher, all seniors, each had six rebounds Even though Bentley's tallest girls fouled out of the game, the Bulldogs terrific height advantage really hurt Salem's rebounding efforts.

The Rocks played excellent defense throughout the game and didn't commit as many personal fouls as in earlier games this season. Salem's record is now 3-1 overall. and 2-1 in Suburban Eight League play.

The Rock junior varsity squad remained undefeated with its 48-18 victory.

Canton tankers nip Churchill

Plymouth Canton's swim team won a close meet against Churchill, 87-85, last week in the new Canton facility.

"It was a pleasant surprise," said coach Ann Massey. "I was not expecting us to take this one.

Mcelmeel took a second in the 50vard freestyle with a 29.2 finish. Jamie Zuverink placed first in diving with a 142.9 point total. Piethe ended up second in the 100-yard butterfly.

"This one was down to the last relay, it was either them or us, and we pulled it out," said Massey.

Freshman Kim Massey placed first in the 500-yard freestyle with a 5:45.3 time, breaking her old record and qualifying her for state. Shelansky ended first in the 100-yard backstroke with a 1:07.8 finishing time. Toor placed third, swimming the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:24.3. And the 400-4:26.2 finishing time.

A week of bad weather does nothing for high school athletics. Due to rain last week, the Plymouth Salem varsity golf team had to cancel its match against Allen Park and then came up with a loss on Wednesday against Farmington Harrison on wet and muddy fairways.

The Rocks, however, got back into the swing of things this past Thursday afternoon when Salem beat Redford Union 163-166.

Salem's loss against Harrison was an extremely-close 200-201 Harrison's victory gave the Rocks their second loss of the season.

Medalist honors were shared between Salem's Jim Ross, one of the senior members of the team, and Harrison's Dave Hawthorne. The rivals both shot 38s on the Brae Burn course.

Salem's Brian Briggs and Craig Stevens both added excellent scores of 40. and Jim VanBoven added a 41. Senior captain Ted Kuhns added a 42 to the Rocks' final score of 201 Ross Gerrish helped Harrison with a

Other scores for Redford Union were a 41 from Tom Henry, a 42 from Jason Hatjioannou and a 44 from brother Jeff Hatjioannou

The Rocks will try to keep their average low and add another win to their record in the Plymouth Best Ball Tournament Tuesday at Brae Burn golf course.

Unpredictable

If the Plymouth Canton golf team proves anything this year, it will be the Chiefs' unpredictability

The Chiefs certainly showed this last week, tying Westland John Glenn, 200-200, and losing to Western Six League opponent Farmington Harrison, 203-

What was so unusual about the Glenn tie? Simple. Glenn is one of the top 20 teams in the state and was playing on its home course.

Harrison, a much weaker opponent, competed at Canton's home course, Brae Burn.

"It was a well-played match, and I'm very proud of everybody," Canton coach John Crosson said about the Glenn match.

The Stroller

An editor's greatest thrill

By W. W. EDGAR -

On the morning he retired as editor of the Detroit News several months ago, Martin Hayden was asked what exciting memories he would carry into his leisure hours

Without a moment's hesitation he answered. "We used to put out

These words came back to The Stroller the other afternoon while chatting with one of the trainees on the staff who confided that he was attracted to journalism because it seemed so exciting to get the news before it is printed.

While listening to the young lad and admiring his enthusiasm, The Stroller couldn't help wondering how the newcomer would have felt in the days before television and radio when the major dailies published "extras" at every opportunity and it was common to hear the newsboys shouting "Extra, extra" while racing up and down the streets in the downtown areas and in the neighborhoods.

THOSE WHERE GREAT days along the river of printers ink. The readers never knew it, but there always was a race among the three dailies-The Free Press. The News and the now defunct Times-to be first on the street with the exciting news.

These were not just occasional races. They were daily competitions, especially during the baseball season. And you can get some idea of the speed with which the news was taken to the readers by sitting in the second deck at Tiger Stadium. No matter where you sat and remained for the final out you could not beat the paper to the corner of Michigan and Trumbull with the final score.

Talk about excitement in journalism, there was nothing that compared with putting out these "extras." It was teamwork at the highest level.

MOST OF THE excitement came on the night of a big prize fight with the titles at stake. At the time Detroit was considered the best fight town in the country and fight news always was popular among the readers. •

It seems almost impossible now when a fellow looks back and recalls that his alma mater, the Detroit Free Press, held the record for speed with a fight "extra". On the night the record was set, one of the agents sent out to check bought a Free Press at the Statler Hotel on Washington Boulevard five minutes and 30 seconds after the news was received in the office.

Can you imagine that? Buying a paper with the news in it just a bit over five minutes after it happened.

Talk about excitement. We sure had it that night.

How was the record accomplished? It was very simple. When The Stroller reported for work that afternoon he was assigned to write bulletins on every possible manner in which the fight would be decided. He immediately wrote two bulletins, one for each of the men winning by a knockout. Then another pair with each of them winning by decision. And a fifth bulletin had the fight ending in a draw.

These were set in type and placed out on the form in the composing room in mid-afternoon. Next came the writing of the headlines to match the bulle-

With the type and the headlines set they were placed next to the form to await the early stories from ringside.

These stories told of the crowd and the weather, if it was a fight. These were followed by news from the ringside as the minor fight progressed.

Then, once the title fight started, a man was placed at the door of the incoming newsroom. He was to get the news and yell it to another fellow standing at the door of the composing room, who would relay it to the printer at the forms.

When the flash came telling the the way to the press.

There never was a second lost. People wondered just how the paper could be be printed so fast. Gar Wood, the speedboat king, happened in the lows come to me to talk about speed."

It's too bad our young trainer wasn't around in those days. He would see what excitement in journalism was all about.

The board, last June, voted unanimously to refuse to accept any such requests until Oct 1. At the same time it charged the planning commission with the task of re-evaluating the township's growth and development

It was the trustees' feeling that too much growth was taking place too rapidly, and the township did not have a good idea of where it all would end

They thought the moratorium would give them a "breather" to take stock of "what we are doing and where we are going

However, the job proved to be big ger than anticipated, and the planning commission has not yet finished with the master plan.

2 million said goodbye to sweaty palms

By ARLENE VANDERLEUN

What do Chuck Fugate of Livonia, Sam Poma of Redford Township and Julia Deaton of Westland have in common with Denver Broncos coach John Ralston and the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower

They are all graduates of the Dale Carnegie human relations and effective speaking course, where they learn techniques for living happier. more successful, worry-free lives. In the 65 years of its existence, some two million graduates, ranging from housewives to business people, politicians and corporation presidents. have tapped their potential

Julia Deaton, a nurse, took the course because she wanted to overcome her fear of speaking in public. about it, she apears calm and poised.

"Most people are shy and afraid of other people," noted instructor John Czubaj (pronounced Shoe-by), a Canton Township resident. "Parents pass their fears along to their children.

Indeed, the 45 or so class members are visibly ill at ease in the early sessions of the 14-week course, held at the Plymouth Hilton Hotel. There is a lot of nervous laughter, sweaty palms and tense body language such as tight ly folded arms and downcast eyes. Some will be so uncomfortable that they drop out.

The number one fear is speaking before other people." said Czubaj. "This often holds people back. People who aren't afraid will advance.

IF ENTHUSIASM could be bottled and sold. Czubaj would hold the franchise for western Wayne County. His energy never wanes as he encourages, cajoles and prods his class members to step out of their familiar, oldshoe habits and "expand their comfort zone" as they reach out for personal growth.

"Sometimes a new pair of shoes will pinch at first," said Czubaj. "New expriences are like that, too."

He is aided in class sessions by several volunteer graduate assistant. Warm-up exercises may include such seemingly silly stunts as reciting nursery ghymes in an exaggerated, theatrical style, or doing simple calisthenics, but they seem to relax the nerves. To overcome the fear of public speaking, class members give twoor three-minute talks on familiar topics such as jobs, family, pet peeves and future plans.

Speeches can be highly emotional, Though she says she's still nervous as people lay bare their feelings. The best speeches are rewarded with a pen or pencil, or a book autographed by all the class members. These awards are especially coveted.

> Leadership is confidence in oneself and then taking an interest in other people, according to Czubaj, "When people become sensitive to other people's feelings and needs, it feels like all their pores are open," he explained. "They become sharp."

Slowly, camaraderie develops as fears and barriers drop. Loud clapping, laughter and encouraging shouts of, "You can do it," greet the speak-

Here's your schedule for the SC Women's Festival

Talks, panels, movies and free child care

Final arrangements are completed for the Women's Festival scheduled 9 am to 4:30 p.m. in the Liberal Arts Building of Schoolcraft College, Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile.

Twenty-five separate programs, including talks, workshops, and panels, along with a continuous showing of films, exhibits and a free child care center open all day will feature the festival planned by the SC Women's Resources Center.

Celebrating the current Women's Decade, the festival will offer five programs each in the general topic headings of Parenting and Education. Homemaking, Health, Legislation and Changing Roles These are listed, complete with room numbers, in the accompanying schedule

Donna Hamilton-Kurtz, heading the festival, said the aim was to provide a variety of experiences for all who attend the event

"We've worked hard on setting up these varied programs." she said. "and even within the topic headings we have tried to offer different points

Child care will be in the Newman

House, the white house on Haggerty located closest to Six Mile. "It's a good spot." said Ms. Hamilton-Kurtz. "because it is separate from the workshops and has a backyard so the children can have noisy fun but their parents can be located quickly if necessary.'

She emphasized that the child care is free, so mothers can enjoy the festival as long as they wish. A lunch should be provided by the mothers for children who stay all day.

Films of special interest to women will be shown continuously in room B250. A number of organizations are providing exhibits and free literature on a wide variety of topics.

Jean Christensen, who heads the Women's Resource Center, said volunteers from the center would serve as guides "to make it easier for our new guests by helping them find workshops.

"The coffeepot will be on all day." said Ms. Hamilton-Kurtz. "We're hoping folks will enjoy a cup of coffee with conversation with longtime and new friends. They should have plenty to talk about.

The symbol of International Women's Year, which includes a woman, an equality sign and a dove, will be in evidence for the festival gathering on the Schoolcraft College campus Thursday.

Our nifty 2-door Chevette Hatchback just got a lot niftier. Because we've added eighteen new standard features.

Features that most people want in a car. Like a quality-built Delco AM radio, a larger 1.6 Litre engine, white stripe tires and wheel trim rings. Even swing-out rear windows.

All things considered, the new '78 2-door Chevette Hatchback is considerably more car.

And a very considerable value.

New standard features on the '78 2-door Chevette Hatchback

- Delco AM radio
- 1.6 Litre engine
- Swing-out rear windows
- Reclining front bucket seats
- White stripe tires
- Sport steering wheel
- Console
- Wheel trim rings
- Bumper rub stripsProtective body side moldings
- Cigarette lighter
- Cigarette lighter
 Color-keyed instrument panel
- Glove compartment lock
- Deluxe grille ... and more ...
 18 new features in all.
- Some early production Chevettes in dealer inventory won't have reclining seats. The suggested base price will be reduced accordingly.

The '78 2-door Chevette Hatchback is Now here's the really good news.

We added those 18 items to the 1978 2-door Chevette Hatchback, yet, based on a comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail prices, we still kept the price $282 below what last year's model would have cost with the same equipment.

More Chevette for less money. Amazing and true. And now there's a brand-new Chevette, too. A 4-door Hatchback with two more doors, a roomy back seat and all the new standard features, except swingout rear windows. In fact, it has more rear seat leg room than the 1977 Toyota Corolla or Datsun B-210 4-door sedans. Even the 1977 Honda Civic Wagon.

For 1978, Chevette's a lot of car for your money.

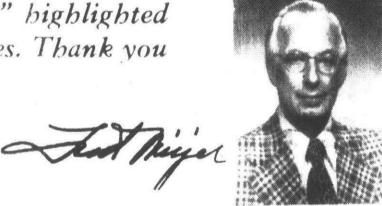

SEE WHAT'S NEW TODAY IN A CHEVROLET.

products you purchase. The UPC symbol is the product's "finger print". Like any other "finger-

THE CASHIER passes your merchandise with a UPC symbol over a device known as a scanner, which is in the checkout lane The cash register automatically records the price of the item toward the total purchase and prints both a description of the product and its price

THE PRICE and description comes from a small computer which is located in the store and is connected to the cash register by a cable similar to a telephone line. The whole process takes less than a fraction of a second. You are invited to try scanning yourself at a demonstration

THERE ARE A LOT of potential benefits of scanning equipment. Our tests will look at these benefits. It's all part of our interest to remain informed regarding any new equipment that should be much faster - the items with the UPC label do not need to be manually rung up on the cash register. They are just pulled over the scanner and placed in your grocery bag.

STUDIES CONDUCTED find that a dishwasher uses less hot water than washing dishes by hand. However, further savings can be made in the way you operate your dishwasher.

· Always wait until you have a full load before you run the dish-

• Use the "short cycle" or "light wash" if your dishwasher is equipped with one.

 Save energy by air drying the dishes. Turn the dishwasher off when the wash and rinse portion of a cycle is finished.

WHEN BUYING a dishwasher keep these energysaving ideas in mind.

 Consider a dishwasher with a Switch to turn the heating element off during the dry cycle.

· Consider a dishwasher with a "short cycle" or "light wash" selection. This can be used for most dishes and uses less hot
