

Carl Silvers loses lawsuit

Ruling paves way for full-time cops

By DARLENE STINSON

In dismissing a motion that would have prevented Canton officials from eliminating Police Commander Carl Silver's job, Wayne Circuit Judge Horace Gilmore Wednesday removed a roadblock that has prevented township officials from establishing a 24hour police force.

Township Supervisor Harold Stein said Silver's lawsuit over the township's plans to eliminate the com-Amander post was "the only thing" that impeded board members from hiring four fulltime sergeants.

Silver wanted a guarantee that he would not lose his position of second in command in the transition from the part-time force to a fulltime one. As planned, the fulltime force would not have the position of commander. The only supervisors would be the chief and the four sergeants. Silver has not applied for a job as sergeant.

A suit filed by the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA) over the township board's plans to hire the sergeants outside the ranks of the current police department was thrown out of court by Judge Gilmore last week. The suit was filed by the CPOA on behalf of the department's four part-time ser-

Stein expects township board members will begin establishing a full-time police department at next Tuesday's meeting by hiring the four fulltime sergeants.

The supervisor said the Michigan Municipal League will begin testing the 28 applicants for 10 fulltime patrol officer posts "as soon as possible." All 28 patrol officer applicants are current members of the part-time Canton Police Department.

ALTHOUGH TOWNSHIP officials had planned to implement the 24-hour police force in January, Silvers' outrage at a plan to eliminate his commander's post stymied the expansion

Although township officials have welcomed Silvers to test for one of the sergeants' posts, Silvers has refused 'as a matter of principle.

On Wednesday, Silvers' attorney-Ronald Egnor—asked Gilmore to rule on his motion to prevent the township from hiring anyone but Silvers for the "number two" position Egnor said the number-two slot could be a commander's post or a sergeant's job.

Egnor tried to establish that Silvers holds a "vested right" to the job he has held since 1976. The attorney inferred that the current township administration was attempting to abolish the commander's job for political reasons. Silvers was nominated for the commander's post by former Supervisor Robert Greenstein and appointed by the township board.

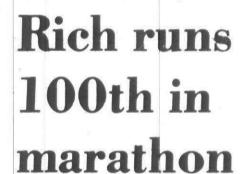

But Judge Gilmore and not accept Egnor's argument that Silvers holds a vested right to the number-two position in the Canton Police Department and dismissed the attorney's motion for an injunction.

"It appears to me there is no contractual basis to grant such an injunction," Gilmore said. "We have a situation here where the township is not restructuring the department but organizing a whole new police department. We're in a different situation than when there are vested rights.'

GILMORE ALSO dismissed a motion made by the township's attorneys-Bert Burgoyne and David Berry-to issue a summary judgment that would have closed the Silvers'

Gilmore's ruling on the summary judgment will allow Silvers to continue his legal battle against the township in circuit court.

Silvers and his attorney said they may ask for a jury trial in Gilmore's courtroom to reinstate Silvers as a supervisor in the police department.

While the number 100 has a special significance in our society, it means even more to long-distance runner Bruce Rich of 637 Corrine, Canton

Rich, who races with the Great Lakes Track Club, came in 100th in the field of 4,674 in the 82d annual Boston Marathon Monday afternoon.

The 19-year-old Rich finished the marathon in a time of two hours, 26 minutes and 57 seconds, about 16 minutes after the winner. Officially, his was the second best performance of Michigan runners. Steve Flanagan of East Lansing finished 37th. The 26 mile, 385-yard race was won by Bill Rodgers of Boston. He finished just six strides ahead of Jeff Wells, a divinity student from Dallas. It was the second win in four attempts for the Bostonian, who completed the grueling course in a time of two hours, 10 minutes and 13 seconds. Because he is only 19, Rich expects to race in the marathon for years.

Bruce Rich spent many months in training, as this winter picture attests, in preparation for the Boston Marathon. It paid off Monday when he finished 100th in a field of

Fire chief finds unsafe practices in high school

By PATRICK TOUHEY An inspection of Plymouth Salem High School this week uncovered numerous violations of the state's school fire safety code.

Det. Sgt. Patrick Garrity of the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal Division, who made an unannounced inspection of the school Monday, said he found the following safety hazards:

•The electrical fire alarm system was not in operation. ·One-fourth to one-third of the wall-mounted fire alarm pulls were broken. Portable fire extinguishers had been removed from glass cases in the hallways and signs had not been put up indicating where they had been •The auxiliary pump for the automatic sprinkling system installed in the ceilings of the second and third floors did not have sufficient pressure to keep water pumping in the case of a major fire. Although Garrity did not issue any citations, he said he told school officials to correct the safety hazards.

"IN CASES LIKE this we prefer to cooperate with the school in solving the problems. If we don't get cooperation, then we go to the prosecutor's ofice," Garrity said.

Garrity made his visit the same day the Observer reported that the fire alarm systems in Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton High Schools were deactivated daily to prevent pranksters from setting them off. It was also reported that the fire extinguishers had been removed from their cases in both schools.

Bill Brown, principal of Plymouth Salem, said in an interview that Garrity had informed him of the violations, and steps were being taken to correct them.

"We hooked up the fire alarm Tuesday morning, and we had two false alarms within a couple hours," he said.

Brown also said that the auxiliary sprinkler pump was repaired Tuesday afternoon. Replacements for the broken wall pulls had been ordered and were "expected sometime this week."

Signs designating the location of portable extinguishers were being prepared, he said.

"I have every intention of coopera-

New church holds services

A new Protestant church that hopes to attract non-church goers of all denominations will holds its second service this Sunday at 10 a.m. in the Plymouth Canton High School cafeteria.

Although the new church is affiliated with the Reformed Church in America, the Rev. Harvey Heneveld says his congregation wants to avoid "being as sectarian as possible.'

The name "People's Church" was deliberately chosen for the new congregation. Heneveld explained.

"We want to offer to all people an opportunity to worship and rejoice together. We're downplaying our denominational affiliation. We're mainly aiming at the people who haven't been going to church."

Heneveld says his congregation hopes to hold services at Plymouth Canton High School until it can afford to construct a church building. The church office is currently located at 153 Corinne in Canton. Persons interested in the church are asked to call Heneveld at 981-0499.

Handicapped get training before school-age years

What might look like play to the untrained eye is a skillfully designed program to help each child develop to their maximum academic, physical and social abilities.

That sentence describes the educa tional program for the pre-school handicapped child who lives within Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The Infant-Preschool Special Education Program is centered at Farrand Elementary School, 41400 Greenbriar Lane in LakePointe subdivision, Plymouth Township.

THE PRE-SCHOOL center, supervised by Mary E. Nutter, conducted a special program just last week which typlifies the kind of services offered to parents of handicapped pre-schoolers.

Rona P. Alexander, Ph.D., appeared to conduct a special workshop on prespeech and communication skills and to demonstrate feeding techniques for children with cerebral palsy.

Alexander earned her bachelor's degree in speech pathology and audiology from Indiana University in 1971, a master's degree in speech pathology from New York University, and a Ph.D. in speech pathology in 1976 from the University of Illinois. She has attending several workshops, seminars and practicums across the U.S. on neurodevelopmental treatment approach to cerebral, voice disorders and speech treatment.

The workshop at Farrand April 11 was attended by parents of handicapped youngsters, other interested parents, and staff members.

THE WORKSHOP with Dr. Alexander is just one of many training, informational and supportive activities offered to parents by the pre-school

Mrs. Nutter stresses that every effort should be made to obtain help for the handicapped child at the earliest convenience, whether it be a minor problem such as a mild hearing loss or speech impairment, or a major disability—a cripping disease, birth defect, or a mental impairment.

"Our program is based at Farrand School and serves children from birth to six years of age. Pre-primary special education services are available for the mentally and emotionally impaired, physically involved, those with hearing and vision difficulities. speech and language impaired, and the learning disabled.'

The staff is made up of a psychologist, speech pathologist, an occupational and physical therapist, nurse, home programmers, and center classroom teacher.

Kings Row burglarized

Teenagers are suspected in Monday morning break-ins at two stores in Canton's Kings Row, a shopping center that has seen more than its share of break-ins recently.

A brick was thrown through the front door of the Pizza Bowl to gain entry sometime between midnight and 5 a.m. Monday morning.

Dick Sroscherser, manager of the Pizza Bowl, said the break-in must have occurred before 5 a.m. because a baker at Holloway Bakery next door discovered the broken window in the door when he reported for work at that

The 7-Eleven store in Kings Row, on Lilley Road, was also broken into during that period by theives who forced their way through a vent on the roof of the store.

Wayne County Sheriff Det. Robert Ankony reports that about $50 plus coins were taken from the pizzeria register while only $10 and some tools were taken from the 7-Eleven. Except What often isn't realized, though, is for the broken door, police said there that the Act insures that no child need was no malicious damage on the prop-

"It appears it was kids in their late teens or early 20s," Ankony said. "We've had a few other other B&E's in that area lately where tools are taken and they bypass really expensive stuff that they could run off with easily. They bypass valuable equipment like electric typewriters that could be easily sold.'

Because of the age of the children

Ankony said that a April 11 break-in at J&K Tools, 9175 General Court. Plymouth Township, was similiar to the recent robberies. Tools worth $3,000 were stolen from J&K, but expensive precision tools were left behind while the thieves tried to make off with 50 lb. marble slabs.

"The stuff they're stealing is real difficult to fence unless someone works specifically in the trade," Ankony said. "But they'll take something heavy and bulky that's worthless and leave precision tools lying right next to it. There's no consistency."

One of the reasons Ankony suspects that young people are involved is that a postage scale was taken which, he theorizes, could be used to weigh marijuana.

Journalists to compete

Public and parochial schools within the Schoolcraft College district have been invited to enter the college's fourth annual high school journalism

Deadline for entries will be 8 p.m. Monday, May 8. Organized and conducted by the college's office of student affairs, the contest honors the best in high school journalism through recognition of newspapers and individual writers.

There are 12 areas of competition including best newspaper. Livonia Stevenson's Spotlight earned top honors in this category out of 18 entries last year. Second place went to North Farmington's Northern Star, and third to Southfield High's Southfield Jay.

Judging is based on a review of three consecutive issues of each entry published during the current academic

Holy hanky won't wipe away sins

If it's true that God works in strange and mysterious ways. He has no stranger a servant than toe mysterious Rev. Al of Fresno, Calif.

Rev. A.L. Wyrick, or just plain Rev. Al to the thousands of people throughout the country on his Health and Happiness Plan mailing list, is president of the United Faith Foundation.

At least once a month Rev. Al mails out a prayer check list to the faithful that usually includes some kind of "prayer blessed" novelty item.

Persons can check off any one of a number of problems facing them, including "poor health," "financial needs," and "trouble in the home." Every day, letters are brought into the chapel where Rev. Al "agrees in prayer" with your specific request, foundation spokesman explained.

The envelopes are checked to see if they include a $5 or larger installment on Rev. Al's Health and Happiness Plan.

One of the people regularly receiving literature and trinkets from Rev. Al is George Capps, former Farmington juvenile delinquent, now a confirmed Detroit derelict.

_TT SHOULD be noted that Mr. Capps is hardly a devout religious person. The only spiritual experience he ever had was induced by the delicate combination of a controlled substances, a six-pack of Molson's Export Ale and a five-pound sack of Pride of Iran brand pistachios.

So how did he get on Rev. Al's mailing list? Well, he has a friend named Jack Mingo who thought Capps might get a sacreligious kick out of receiving the reverend's trinkets. Mingo signed up his friend on Rev. Al's roster under the fictitious name of George Capsize.

And that's the way the computer printout reads when his personalized greeting is delivered.

Over the years Capps has received a multitude a goodies from Rev. Al, who usually informs the faithful, "I am not charging for my prayers, but this ministry does have expenses . . .

Capps especially treasured the home communion kit that he got. It consisted of a cracker and some grape juice in one of those little packets they

He's received a bar of holy soap identical to those teeny-weeny Holiday Inn soap bars, except this one had a religious labeling.

He's received a mustard seed that wouldv'e been planted in the Garden of Olives if Capps had only returned it to Rev. Al along with a $10 check or money order.

Most recently, the mail-order evangelist saw fit to send "Dearest Brother George" a "beautiful and powerful blessing cloth." Specific instructions told him to take this holy hanky to the Masonic Temple in Detroit where Rev. Al would be speaking.

The personalized invitation looked like one of those "You may already be a winner" letters from the Readers Digest and quoted Jeremiah, chapter 33, verse 3: "Call unto Me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things."

Quite cleverly, the invitation capitalized on the bible passage by telling Brother George to "prove God and claim Jeremiah 33:3 by placing $33 inside the special envelope . . . Remember, place $33 exactly, no more, no less, inside the special prayer blessed envelope. There's a reason for this.' No doubt.

But Brother George overslept on the morning of Rev. Al's Detroit visitd. He missed his opportunity to ask Rev. Al in person what was so special about the holy hanky and the holy soap.

Instead, he turned to his journalist friend for help.

After calling Rev. Al's toll-free number and hearing his pre-recorded voice tell me how uptight I've been lately, I slammed the phone down and dialed information to get the regular number of the United Faith Foundation. I asked to speak to Rev. Al himself and was told that he wouldn't be in the rest of the day. I was transferred to an affable public relations person named Ross Collette, who explained that part of his job is talking to people like me who call.

Collette stessed that the soap, cloths and mustard seeds are sent at no cost to the recipient and Rev. Al prays equally hard for everyone who asks for his aid, whether they give a donation or not.

The foundation, Collette said, took a cue from the Catholic faith in "offering items to hold in your hand to focus your faith." St. Paul started the tradition by passing out pieces of Christ's clothing to believers. Collette explained.

And, while the Rev. Al doesn't pretend to be distributing remnants of Christ's wardrobe, the principle remains the same, according to Collette: 'With God all things are possible.'

Collette didn't particularly want to talk about the trinkets the group mails. He wanted to extoll Rev. Al's work in poor countries such as Haiti, where the United Faith Foundation distributes beans and rice to 30 government-licensed orphanages. In fact, he said, the rapport with the Haitian government is so good that Rev. Al is considered a personal friend of that country's dictator, John Claude "Baby Doc" DuVallier.

Figures on Rev. Al's net worth and the amount of money spent on advertising and administration were not at Collette's fingertips. But I didn't press

I don't have time to go to California to examine the foundation's non-profit corporation papers. They are probably operating within the confines of the law. It is not illegal in America for a religious huckster known as Rev. And there's not a goddam thing I can do about it except make jokes about his holy soap and home communion kits in the hope that more people will laugh long and hard at Rev. Al's sanctimonious solicitation.

Despite the violations, Bron maintained that the safety of the high school students was not jeopardized.

"We have done the utmost for student safety," he said. "I defy any school to come up with a more comprehensive plan to protect students than we have."

Specifically, he mentioned a full time security force, a direct phone line to the Canton fire department, a school-wide public address system and two-way phone communication from his office to all the classrooms.

As far as the decision to deactivate the alarm, Brown said he was a man in the middle.

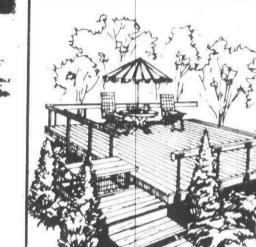

"If the alarm is on, the kids will set it off. If we turn it off I have problems with the community. In spite of what I do somebody is going to be unhappy."

Sgt. Garrity, however, said there were ways of providing maximum fire safety while reducing the chances of vandalism and pranks.

Peanut Spice Cake-An Inviting Dessert

Cake is a natural accompaniment to coffee. Although good quality cakes and pastries can be bought in most bakeries, nothing surpasses' the homemade

"Come for coffee and dessert" is a traditional invitation which has remained popular since colonial times. An evening gathering of friends for coffee and dessert is a pleasant way to extend your hospitality in an All-American way. Invite friends back to your house after a movie or local town event. Serve a special cake for the occasion and brew lots of coffee. Suggested here is Peanut Spice Cake, a moist tube cake laced with peanuts, cinnamon and spice and topped with a luscious Cream Cheese Frosting. A sprinkling of chopped peanuts gives the cake added flavor and texture.

PEANUT SPICE CAKE

2 cups unsifted flour 2-1/2 teaspoons baking powder

1/2 teaspoon baking soda 1/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg 1/4 teaspoon cloves

1/2 cup margarine, softened 1 cup sugar

2 eggs

1/3 cup molasses 1 cup milk 1/2 cup chopped Planters Cocktail Peanuts

Cream Cheese Frosting (recipe below) 2 tablespoons chopped Planters Cocktail

Sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves together. Set aside.

In large bowl, cream margarine and sugar together. Add eggs; beat well. Blend in molasses. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating until well blended. Stir in 1/2 cup peanuts. Pour into greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 375° F. 45 minutes or until done. Cool in pan for 10 minutes. Remove from pan and complete cooling on wire rack. When completely cooled frost top with Cream Cheese Frosting (recipe below) and garnish with 2 tablespoons chopped peanuts. Makes one 10-inch Cream Cheese Frosting: In small mixer bowl cream 1 package (3 ounce) cream cheese, 2 tablespoons margarine and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract together. Gradually add 2 cups confectioners' sugar. Beat until creamy and well blended.

Dreams tell how you feel about your own life

Dear Gundella:

Last night I dreamed I was picking a beautiful bouquet of flowers, but when I went to put them into water, they were all dead in my hands. Can you please tell me the meaning of this dream?

Sonja T., Livonia

Dear Sonja

Of course, I cannot say for sure what your dream means, because I am not aware of what is happening in your life at this time. Only you can provide the exact meaning.

However, I would suspect that the beautiful flowers represent something that you wanted and hoped for, or a goal you wished to achieve.

But something happened to disillusion you, or made it necessary for you to make different plans. Or perhaps you got what you wanted, and then discovered that it wasn't like you thought it would be.

Thus, the flowers wilted and died in your hands.

But don't waste time crying about this spoiled bouquet. Instead, make new plans. Go out and pick a fresh bunch of flowers.

Dear Gundella:

455-2888

I have a recurring nightmare that is driving me crazy. Can you help me understand what is means?

It begins in many different ways. The dream may be about anything at all, but then it always ends the same. For some reason, I look into a mirror. But instead of myself, I see a horrible, ugly distorted face glaring back at me.

Sometimes the dream ends there, and I wake upin fright. Other times, I smash the mirror, and this wakes me John R., Troy

Dear John:

The script for all of our dreams is written by our own subconscious mind. Obviously, there are some flaws in your character which you subconsciously recognize, but are consciously hiding from yourself.

Analyze your waking behavior and see what you don't like about it. Are you rude, selfish, greedy, careless of other peoples' feelings? Are you cruel or indifferent to the people around

If so, admit these shortcomings, and consciously set about to overcome them and change yourself into a nicer person-one you can accept and live with comfortably

Then the face in the mirror will become beautiful.

Note: You may write Gundella at Box 434, Garden City, Mich. 48135. For a personal reply, please enclose a selfaddressed, stamped envelope.

STRAWBERRIES BY THE BARRELFUL

WE'VE GOT THE BARRELS AND THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRIES!

Strawberries are just about everybody's favorite small fruit, yet if you want the real mouth we tering strawberry flavor and true fragrance, you must grow your own. Because only fully ripened strawberries are the real thing. This doesn't mean you need a large garden patch or even several 20 foot rows in order to produce a harvest-you can grow a respectable crop in a very small area. And as a matter of fact, you can grow them in a BARREL OR WOODEN TUB. There is nothing really new about these methods—people have been growing strawberries in barrels for ages in Europe and, to You can even grow a crop on a small apartment terrace, provided you have plenty of sun and water and feed your plants regularly. Early spring is the best time to set in a crop of strawberry plants.

There are some fine new varieties of repeat-cropping strawberries that give more than one harvest a season. Strawberries are perennial plants, so they will last for years. And you can root baby plants that dangle from runners, using them to replace the parents when fruiting declines in a few years. Further, even between harvest, strawberry planters are degorative assets to your garden. BARREL and TUBS: A WOODEN BARREL IS BEST, for a metal one is likely to heat up too much in summer's sun and this is bad for plant roots. You can use an old barrel except one that contained pickles, vinegar or sauerkraut. Old barrels are obtainable in a hardware store or shop catering to home-made wine hobbyists, such as American Hardware. Before you use an old one, scrub out the interior with a stiff scrubbing brush and two or three washings of strong detergent, then rinse well. (Salt or other materials might have been in it that will kill plant roots). Bore a row of 1½ inch holes 6 inches up from the bottom, spacing them 6 to 8 inches apart. Measure first and make a mark where the center of each hole will be, so they will be evenly spaced, for the barrel circumference changes on each row. Make a second row about 6 inches above the first, then a third row, and so on til you reach 4 to 6 inches from the top. Stagger each row of holes so that they center between those of the In the bottom, bore % inch holes for drainage — eight to 16, according to the size of the barrel or tub. Then roll the barrel to its permanent site and set it up on three or four bricks to keep it off the ground. Filled with soil, barrels get too heavy to move easily. Cover the bottom-with a layer of coarse gravel 3 inches deep. On the top of the gravel center a tall 1 pound coffee can with both top and bottom removed and fill it with gravel or sand. Then fill the space around it with soil, gravel or sand. Then fill the space around it with soil, packing it down till it reaches about the center of the first row of holes.

Trim the roots of the strawberry plants (see sketch) and remove all dead or yellowed leaves, leaving three to six healthy ones. Working from inside the barrel, plant one strawberry plant in each hole till the junction of roots and crown barely reaches the inside of the barrel. Place each plant near the top of its hole to allow for settling of the soil. Spread roots fan-wise, pack soil over them till

When the whole row is planted, water the soil gently with a line spray till it is soaked. Let it settle for a few minutes, then with a gentle twisting motion, lift the coffee can until its bottom nearly reaches the level of the soil. Refill the can with sand or gravel, then pack soil around it as before. Plant a row of strawberry plants in the holes at that level. Proceed with planting one row at a time, (ifting the can and filling it. When the can top is level with the barrel top, leave the can in place and do not fill the top 4 to 6 inches with gravel. The sketch of the cut-out barrel shows the column of gravel that has been created through the center of the soil. This will be the place for watering, a kind of "watering column." If you like, you can plant a colorful annual plant in a pot that fits into the can, removing it when watering is needed. Plant a row of strawberries 8 inches apart in the top of the barrel

Plymouth to form enticer of development

Plymouth has taken its first step toward establishing a Economic acquire or lease property, renovate or owners of an industrial building which Development Corporation (EDC) to attract more business and industry.

The city commission voted 7-0 this week to accept an application to organize an EDC and to set a public hearing on the matter for May 15.

An EDC is a non-profit organization authorized by the state to sell municipal bonds to finance commercial, industrial or residential development.

The EDC may use bond proceeds to interest has been expressed by the done Monday night when city commis- which are attractive to buyers because and than hold a public hearing on that construct buildings. The law provides only one EDC may be formed in each municipality, so any group or individual interested in forming one must petition to do so at the May 15 hearing

The last discussion of forming an EDC was about six weeks ago when a presentation was made by Charles Burleigh, attorney from Miller-Canfield-Stone—the city's bond counsel.

Mayor Thomas Turner noted the major advantage of the EDC was its authority to sell municipal bonds,

"There are no specific proposals for using the EDC now, but I am aware of one building in the city which has been vacant for some time, and there's the possibility the owners may use this mechanism to improve the building and find a buyer or tenant."

Yockey said the next step will be to ask bond counsel to draft a resolution and ordinance establishing an EDC

The city manager added there was no legal liability to the city in case of default of a bond issued by the corpo-

Commissioner Beverly McAninch said she realized there wasn't a legal obligation but asked whether the commission shouldn't consider what the city's moral position be in case of default.

Smith seeks clean dining

State Rep. Roy Smith (R-Saline), whose district includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township, has introduced legislation to strengthen state health department sanitary standards.

The bill, if passed, would require busboys, waitresses and janitors to use separate rags or other cleaning devices to wipe off chairs, tables and

Existing state health department regulations don't permit tables to be cleaned with the same rag, sponge or cleaning instrument that a chair or floor has been cleaned with.

"The department doesn't have the manpower to enforce this rule," Smith says, "and, as a result, the sanitary conditions existing in many eating establishments are not up to par.

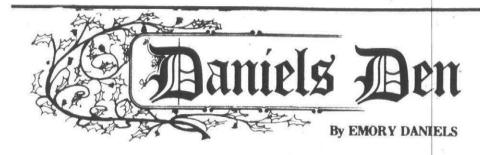

"By making the health department regulation a law, the public will help see that it is enforced.

It's the state's responsibility, Smith said, to assure public dining facilities

Some skills are hard to re-acquire

Discipline is not going fishing today. Or tomorrow, or any day this month. Spring is a time for disciplined people not to do things and for undisciplined people to have a ball.

Not only does good weather allow you to go fishing if you want, but it also allows you to do work outside that you've been putting off all wintereven if you don't want to.

ALTHOUGH I GET the urge this time each year to go fishing, I never

Each spring I successfully repress the urge and work instead. The last spring I went fishing was when I was a young boy, about 20 years ago.

In the country, spring fishing came in two stages. First was early spring when the pike started running in the ditches. Time to get out the spears and (when the fish warden isn't around) the flashlights.

Later in April the fish started running in the Cass River. After the spring floods receded, and the water was still running pretty fast downstream—that's the time to head for the banks with line and hook, and a sand-

Fishing off the river banks isn't as easy as it looks. You have to know how to fix up a rig and weight it properly, according to the strength of the river's current that time of year. You also have to learn how far upstream to throw your line so the weight will settle at the proper spot on the bottom of the riverbed. Otherwise your line will drift downstream, and you'll lose more fish than otherwise because it

Because it has been 20 years or more, I couldn't river fish today if my life depended on it. Besides, my stomach has weakened with age and I just don't have the appetite anymore for suckers, carp and redbellies ain't good to haul fish upstream.

A few years back I took daughter Bridgette to Wilcox Lake to fish off the bank. Fishing off the bank of a lake is a lot easier than river fishing, but I still had no luck. I've lost the touch I had as a kid.

I've only been smelt dipping once, so that variety of spring fishing has no allurance for me.

I just think about going fishingdesire, dream, plot. But I won't go, partly because I've lost the knack and partly because there's so much to do around the house.

INSTEAD I WILL wait until August for a week's fishing in the upper penin-

As a fisherman who doesn't fish' much anymore, I limit myself to boat fishing on a lake. I now drift-fish for walleye which provides sufficient pleasure, recreation and relaxation.

The thing about fishing for walleye is that they don't hit one after another as in panfishing. So you have a lot of time to collect your thoughts about the meaning of life while you wait for the next hit. Often, I have two or three days to contemplate the meaning of existence.

The other nice thing about drift-fishing is drifting. Even if the walleve aren't hitting, it's still nice to roll with the waves and soak in the sunshine

The water has a magic attraction—it induces a hypnotic trance—which can cure almost any ailment. That's why I'm thinking about fishing; I need a cure for a pain in my . . . . .

Dale Hall, senior citizen coordinator, got into the act here in a daring little outfit that caused this make-believe invalid to want to get out his wheelchair.

Not all the acts were outrageous. Elain Keller of Canton proved to be a beautiful singer in the program.

The much-heralded Canton Township Kitchen Bank provided western tunes for a skit that told the tale of sagebrush and saloons. (Staff photo)

It's show time!

Canton seniors put on greasepaint; smiling critics call the skits 'boffo'

This skit told the tale of just what goes on when men go on a convention. A long-winded speech delivered at left, caused the fellow waiting in the wings in a wheelchair to grab a little shut-eye.

Before the production, Jennifer Krist of Plymouth applied makeup to Marie Martell and told her to go out there and knock 'em dead.

Bikers lift their lids. to repeal helmet law

Hundreds of the motorcyclists who rode through Hines Park Sunday were not wearing helmets.

The bareheaded group was returning home from a noon anti-helmet rally held at Detroit's Kennedy Square under the sponsorship of A Brotherhood Against Totalitarian Enactments (ABATE). One thousand riders took part in the demonstration.

ABATE President James Rhoades of Garden City explained at the rally that the cyclists who participated in the protest want more than just the right to let their hair blow in the breeze. Rhoades said the bikers want state legislators to enact mandatory motorcycle education programs to be taken before bikers are given motorcycle Helmets, Rhoades maintains, offer little protection at speeds over 10 miles an hour. Travelling faster than that, Rhoades says riders stand the chance of suffering severe neck injuries in a fall when the spine is pressed against a rigid helmet.

Many bikers at the rally said there are times-"like a traffic jam on 1-94"-when they'd gladly don a helmet. But they resent the fact that the state, requires them to wear one at all times.

A few representatives from the Libertarian Party supported ABATE in its stand that the helmet law is an infringement of civil liberties.

ASIDE FROM a few people relieving themselves on a statue in the middle of Woodward, the crowd was well-behaved. A helmet was burned in protest during the rally.

For the most part, the motorcyclists got down to the task of becoming a suburban, weekend motorcyclists.

political pressure group and spent most of the morning learning who their state legislators were.

"Our motto is, 'Let those who ride decide,' " said Vince Consiglio, a Detroit school teacher who serves as the legislative liaison for ABATE.

"People who choose to wear helmets can do so. But if the state really is sincere in trying to make motorcycles safer, they should become involved in rider education and public awareness of the motorcyclist.

"Somebody applying for a license to ride a motorcycle should be put through a whole series of written and road tests. And automobile drivers have to be taught to share the road with the motorcyclist.

"This could be done by public service announcements or commercials. We'd also like to outlaw blind spots in car mirrors so the motorcyclist stands a better chance of being seen. Statistics show the majority of motorcycle accidents are the fault of car drivers. But that's no consolation to the guy who just got wasted on his motor-

Consiglio said 27 states have already repealed the helmet law. Ohio struck down the helmet requirement last month and on July 1 it will be legal to ride without a "brain bucket" in that state, according to Consiglio.

As legislative liaison person for the anti-helmet lobby, Consiglio said his job consists of telling bikers who their state representative is.

"Some of these guys never even heard of the governor," Consiglio said. On the other hand, he said, the movement is expanding from the clubs and ABATE and is gaining support among

Anglers seek river 'mullet'

By LEM MESEE Outdoors writer

Bass and trout snobs will tilt their noses skyward at the thought of catching suckers, but there are plenty of anglers in Michigan who appreciate the fighting qualities and taste of the "whistlemouth bass.

Suckers are spawning again in area streams, notably some stretches of the Huron and Clinton rivers.

The experts say to try below dams. Other good spots are deep holes on a bend in the river.

The trick to making suckers palatable is the cleaning process. If, after skinning it, you see a brown streak along the tail, use a sharp knife to slice out the brown meat and discard it. The rest is good.

ONE OF THESE days, you may be eating suckers if you buy fish at the market. Let me bring you up to date.

The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission in 1976 gave Michigan State University $97,000 to help develop the market potential for sucker. The ideas: to determine the economic value of the sucker - sometimes called "mullet" - and assess harvestable stocks and processing Dr. Niles R. Kevern, MSU fisheries and wildlife expert, says processing can remove the bones, odor and taste consumers find objectionable.

Suckers have a 15-16 per cent protein content, comparing favorably to beef (21 per cent) and turkey (25 per cent). Suckers are highly digestible. With a minimal fat content, suckers are low in cholesterol and in most chemical contaminants, such as PCBs, which are stored in the fat.

SUCKERS CAN be used "in products from chowder to sausage, frozen make sloppy joes," says Dr. Kevern. When lake trout, whitefish and yellow perch were abundant, commercial fishermen shunned suckers, carp, turbot and sheepshead as "trash" or or canned, and baked or barbecued to

Today the Great Lakes commercial fishery is a severely depressed industry. It's a clear benefit to fishermen and inflation-stricken shoppers to be able to harvest suckers and their

"We have the technology to transform under-utilized fish into good-tasting, edible products, if we can change consumer attitudes. In taste tests where the participants did not know beforehand what fish variety they were eating, under-utilized fish were entirely acceptable," Kevern says.

THE MORAL is that if you call it sucker, it won't sell. But if you call it fish sticks or mullet or Newaygo whale, folks may buy.

Once, when my illustrious bride was ill, it was my duty to make dinner. I skinned a couple of suckers, cleaned them carefully and served them up as northern pike, which can also be pretty boney. Well, to this day, she doesn't suspect, and since she never reads my column, I'm still pretty safe.

Some old-timers like the boiled recipe. You take a big ol' crock and boil potatoes and onions, and maybe some celery and bay leaves, for awhile, then add suckers for the last 12 minutes.

As a fighting fish, the sucker doesn't break water like a rainbow trout or smallmouth bass (though neither does the brook trout or the walleye), but the sucker has plenty of muscle and is good for a battle.

And if the bones bother you, remember the old Pottawatomie Indian saying: "Gitchee Manitou made the sucker boney so that man would be forced to eat it more slowly and savor the meat.'

Blue rate request taking a beating

By MICHAEL MATUSZEWSKI

Blue Cross-Blue Shield's image and its latest rate increase request are taking a beating.

Person after person from across the metropolitan area challenged the Blues' latest request at a state Insurance Commission public hearing earlier this week in Detroit.

Those denouncing the proposed increases, which would primarily be absorbed by senior citizens and single policy holders, were applauded by the more than 100 persons in attendence. Some who testified received partial standing ovations.

Wayne County officials and insurance commission staff members said the Blues have asked for either a straight 30 per cent rate increase for those subscribers in the "non-group or group conversion" categories or approval of a five per cent increase on reduced coverage for those categories.

WAYNE COUNTY Commissioner George Hart (D-Dearborn), who has zealously campaigned against the Blues' proposal, asked, "What will this hike amount to in dollars and cents?"

As an example, he described a 60year-old widow who is "too young to receive medicare, lives on reduced social security and works part-time in a Hamtramck bakery."

"She pays," Hart said, "$574 a year for her policy . . . If the Blues are allowed to have a 30 per cent increase on July 1, this woman will have to pay $746 a year for her coverage."

"That's an immoral rate by anyone's standards," Hart said.

THE BLUES also plan to drop comprehensive medical and hospital coverage for 117,000 non-group subscribers and 150,000 former group members who have converted to individual policies.

As a replacement, the Blues will offer three "new options" to the nongroup and group-conversion policyholders. The options will offer lower benefits and more out-of-pocket costs.

The plan, according to John Burry, executive vice president for financial affairs for the Blues, would give persons who pay for their own insurance, "a chance to reduce costs for that coverage as much as 33 per cent or increase costs to 11.4 percent."

The major points of the three options

*PLAN ONE-The subscriber would pay 20 percent of hospitalization costs and 20 percent of doctors' service charges. He would not pay more than $400 out of his own pocket for hospital costs for each visit.

 PLAN TWO—The subscriber would be required to pay 30 percent of the costs of hospital charges and 30 percent of physicians' charges. He would not pay more than $600 in hospital costs for each hospital visit.

• PLAN THREE, billed the "$30 Room Allowance Plan"-the Blues would pay $30 per day toward hospital room charges and would cover other hospital services, x-rays and lab tests for example in full. The subscriber would pay 30 per cent of all doctors' THE PROPOSALS drew the fire of nearly two dozen persons from around the tri-county area and such affected groups as the United Auto Workers, the United Steel Workers, the Michigan Citizens Lobby and the Detroit Office on Aging.

P. Blaine Marrin, 72, of Rochester, said, "They're going after the old people first. Why? Because they're the most vulnerable.'

Southfield residents George and Dorothy Zuchal, both retirees, joined the chorus opposing the Blues. They said, "We're being picked on. We're just retirees trying to live on a moderate amount of money.'

Burry said the Blues had decided to drop comprehensive coverage for the non-group and group-coversion policyholders because rates had not kept pace with costs. He said the Blues were losing good medical insurance risks-the young who are less likely to use their benefits-tocompeting commercial companies whose rates are not strictly controlled by the insurance commission.

"WITH THIS never-ending spiral of costs going up and better risks dropping out, the price of insurance is going so high that the only people who can afford it are the sick," he said.

Even though the elderly protested the loudest and longest, the Blues were also rapped by younger policyholders.

Yack urges a 'yes' vote

Editor

On April 27 the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education is seeking voter approval of a 4.5 millage proposition (3 mill renewal and 1.5 mill increase) to maintain the school district's present educational program.

Undoubtedly, voters have read or heard some of the reasons why the millage should be approved. They are: •Inflation-we're all painfully aware of rising costs.

•Growth-we continue to enroll more than 800 new students each year. • Extended School Year—a program designed to save us the cost of building new facilities. I suggest a "yes" vote for a more basic reason-a successful millage will allow us to keep our good thing going. It will permit the school district to continue to attempt to meet the needs of all children through a diverse instructional program.

A "YES" VOTE will help us avoid the problems facing our neighbors to the north, south and east-confusion, disruption, reduction and elimination. Their ultimate effect is drastically reduced services for children. Is this the kind of community you want to live in or move to?

A "yes" vote would maintain the quality program we have all education of which we can continue to be proud.

It is my belief that many communities are at a crossroads-some communities will take the path to poor schools and mediocrity, while a few will continue on the path of educational opportunity and excellence. The decision is your's.

editorial opinion

A chance to influence school budget

Next Thursday residents will have the opportunity to vote on the size of the operating budget for the coming fiscal year for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Voters will be asked to approve two ballot propositions—the first for 4½ mills, the second for ½mill. Proposition I includes a 3-mill renewal and a new 11/2-mill levy, each to be levied for five years. Proposition II asks 1/2-mill for 10 years to pay for building maintenance and improvements.

The effect of both propositions is a two-mill increase ($2 per $1,000 state equalized valuation), or $50 a year for the owner of a house worth $50,000

THE MILLAGE PACKAGE is being promoted by the school district as a "maintenance" proposal because almost all the revenue it would produce would be spent on existing programs.

The added two mills won't finance any new programs, except for a possible proposed improvement in school bus service by eliminating doubletripping. The 11/2 mills will be used to pay for the increased costs caused by inflation and by growth-an increase in enrollment this fall of some 850 students. The half-mill for the first year will pay for boilers at two elementaries, and window air-conditioners for four buildings which now are on a year-round school schedule.

For the next fiscal year, which begins July 1, the two mills will generate new income of almost $1.2 million of which about $290,000 will be earmarked for building maintenance.

The three-mill renewal represents some $1.7 million in income which already is being collected. Thus, defeat of the three mills would represent a loss in operating income of almost $2 million.

THE OBSERVER urges its readers to vote "yes" on both ballot propositions.

We believe it makes sense to earmark income for building maintenance to make sure roofs are repaired, faulty boilers replaced, pavement resurfaced, etc. We have watched maintenance items trimmed from the budget, year after year, because it's easier to trim mortar than people. The assets of the school district need to be protected with planned repairs and replacements. The halfmill earmarked levy will make this more likely.

We also believe 11/2 mills are needed to maintain existing programs. It will cost more money when the doors open next fall to 850 additional students. The impact of student growth and inflation is a 14 per cent increase in the operating budget. The 11/2 mills is a reasonable price to pay for growth and

The school district has put together a modest, conservative millage request. That request gives you the opportunity to vote on maintaining good schools and protecting rising house values. You have an investment to maintain in your schools and in your home. We urge you to protect both investments by voting yes Thursday, April 27, on both ballot propositions.

Net cost of tax

The two additional mills being requested by Plymouth-Canton Community Schools won't cost as much as you might think.

That's because you can use get a state income tax credit for your local property tax. The size of that credit varies, according to individual incomes, age, and amount of property tax. But this example is typical for many taxpayers:

Consider the owner of a $50,000 house with a combined household income of $26,000. This year the total property tax was $1,340. If the homeowner is 65 or older, he receives a $430 credit on his income tax. If the homeowner is less than 65 years of age, he receives an income tax credit of

If voters approve the two added mills on April 27, that homeowner would pay $50 more in property tax the first year the millage is levied. But his income tax credit would be $288, or $30 more than if the added two mills weren't levied. Thus, the homeowner only pays a net increase of $20 instead

Think about what you actually will pay, and then vote "yes."

Soccer means continuous action — few timeouts, no delays - and new opportunities for athletes who aren't hulking brutes. (Staff photo)

Soccer, pro and prep, draws new, young crowd

In the old days, a young man aspired to be captain of his high school football team because it was a sign of manhood and there were always many female admirers vying for his attention.

Football, as we know it, is purely an American game, and when people from other countries talk about "football," they really mean soccer.

Soccer has made great strides in our country in the last several years. It's an action game, the rules aren't too complicated, and you don't have to be a big hulk of a brute to play it.

Where several years ago it wasn't even a high school varsity sport, we now have intra-city and inter-city youth soccer leagues, and every year more and more people are playing the game.

Today in some high schools, the captain of the soccer team is a more sought-after position than the captain of the football team.

PROFESSIONAL SOCCER has now come back to Detroit. We had a team a decade ago, but it passed into oblivion because of lack of spectator

The new Detroit Express team opened its home season last Sunday in the Pontiac Silverdome and drew more than 28,000 spectators. Apparently it only takes 15,000 to 18,000 spectators a game to break even, so if the first game is any bellwether of things to come, the team should have a successful future.

For spectators, soccer has a lot of appeal over other professional sports,

The game has two 40-minute halves.

Because there are few timeouts, a regular game doesn't last more than two hours. It is continuous action from the time the starting whistle blows,* with no delays between plays.

The soccer field is a little longer and a little wider than a football field, and it takes a darn good athlete to keep running up and down that field for 40 minutes at a crack. There are very few substitutions in professional soccer.

by HANK HOGAN

It's not as violent as football, and the players look smaller because they are not wearing all the protective equipment that football players have to

IN THE OPENING game Sunday, the audience was different from the normal pro football crowd. It was made up of families with a heavy representation from the younger set. Because it has not been a sport of the older generation, the kids seem to have a better grasp of the game.

The Express had won their first two games on the road, so you would have expected the spectators to be all hepped up. Instead, they were quite quiet. Those 28,000 persons don't make much of a dent in a huge, 80,000-seat stadium, and the quiet was almost spooky.

An organ played throughout the game, which was distracting, and that also covered up the fans' outbursts. It reminded you of a roller skating rink.

Unfortunately, the home team lost a close battle but fielded a fine defensive team. Let's hope the English striker whom the Express has acquired for the latter part of the season will add that offensive spark that will make their first season a win-

Detroit is a great sports town, and it deserves to have all professional sports represented here. But new sports survive only when fans support them.

Study sneezing for a safer America

As far as I know, the sneeze has yet to benefit from a philanthropic; appropriation for scientific research. However, I hope you agree that it's a subject which merits deep consideration, particularly a study of the sneeze as a traffic hazard.

If you're not a chronic sneezer yourself, or if you're not married to one, the ritual of a resounding series of sneezes may be foreign to you.

The real problem is with the person who lets go with a hearty sneeze while behind the wheel of an automobile barreling down the expressway

MOST PEOPLE, so it is said, close their eyes when they kiss. There's a school of thought which says this allows participants to create a better image of those they would rather be with, but damned if I'll believe it.

All people close their eyes when they sneeze. If you don't think so, try keeping 'em open next time you pop out with one of those explosive exha-

This is where the sneeze ties in as a traffic hazard. Scoff if you must, as some police officials do in a chuckling sort of way. But if this study doesn't deserve a federal subsidy (under my direction), what does?

DR. MILES TAYLOR, a clinical professor at Wayne State University's Medical School, told me a few days ago, "There's a half-second or so when a sneezing motorist is almost completely incapacitated."

This, again, is because of that involuntary reflex which causes the eyes to shut.

"If a driver feels a sneeze coming on, he should take some precautionary action," suggested Dr. Taylor, who specializes in nose ailments. His advice is to slow down and grip the wheel firmly, being sure that forward movement is free of obstruction. Most popular methods of inhibiting a sneeze are by pressing a finger against the upper lip, or rubbing the tip of the nose. I've tried both and at best they only delay the inevitable. CHARLES WILMOTH, police chief of Garden City, doesn't know Dr. Taylor from second base. Yet Wilmoth told me, "If I anticipate a sneeze while driving, I'll take my foot off the gas, slow down, and get ready to brake.'

He admits he never has heard of a sneeze being used as an excuse for an accident, but concedes "it probably has happened.'

Rochester Chief Robert Werth had a smile in his voice when he said, "I've heard of plenty of strange situations, but I've never come across that one." The point is, he didn't say it couldn't happen.

Chief Timothy Ford of Plymouth turned scholar, as is his wont, and lost me when he started using words like culpability. After talking about feet per second, time consumed by a sneeze, and what constitutes a voluntary criminal act, he veered to snapping turtles.

It seems that when Tim was chief cop at Gibraltar, these guys were driving home from fishing the Detroit River. A snapping turtle in their catch got loose, crawled into the front seat and wanted the

through bifocals

driver for lunch. Yes, there was an accident.

There are more tales from other police authorities about bee stings, distraction in lighting a cigarette, love-making, et cetera. They all are unspoken votes for a congressional study grant.

IF YOU'RE ONE of those who wonders why you get those sneezing attacks shortly after awakening, Dr. Taylor says you probably are afflicted with vasomotor rhinitis. That means there's a swelling in the hose membrane due to a chemical

Personally, I have a theory that when snoring ceases, sneezing begins. When I mentioned it, Dr. Taylor himself turned scoffer

Then he told me how to bring on a sneeze

Look at a bright light and blink your eyes. That's all. If you feel the urge developing, look at a bright light, blink, and faster than you can say ker-choo, you'll experience the violent expiratory effort

In an 'era when do-it-yourselfism prevails, it can be suggested that automotive sneezers equip themselves with a kit which would include: a) a light bulb; b) a long extension cord; c) an automated forefinger for lip pressing and nose rubbing.

It's this corner's contribution to the cause of highway safety

Child care center idea gets a welcome partner

A few months ago a suggestion was made at a public hearing conducted by the City of Plymouth that federal dollars be used for a child care center in the city.

Specifically, the suggestion was to use Community Development Act (CDA) funds to construct and operate a day care center.

Because of the suggestion, money was "allocated" in the second year of a five-year program for use of CDA revenue. The allocation of the money was exactly that and no more. It did not mean that a single dollar would be spent toward development of a child care center. The allocation merely expressed on paper an indication that the suggestion would be investigated the following

And next year could arrive, and a decision be made to "re-allocate" the money into the third or fourth year, or drop the suggestion entirely.

IT'S NOT THAT nobody in city hall cares about whether a child care center is established, or even studied.

That's just the way the CDA program works. There are many ways to spend the federal dollars, and so the suggestions go onto a shopping list and remain there. The most needed, or the most feasible, projects get off the list first. Other projects stay on the list, though, which are needed and might be feasible. They stay on the list because there's no one with expertise in city hall to convert the idea into a workable project.

This especially is true in the case of the child care center idea. What's needed is someone, or some group, committed to the idea with some expertise to get the suggestion off the shopping

Until now, there hasn't been a group or individual demonstrating an interest in pushing for the child care center. But this month's newsletter of the Plymouth, Northville, Canton League of Women Voters has changed the picture. The newsletter notes that the LWV's Plymouth chapter has agreed to "work toward the use of community development funds for a child care program for very young children."

WITH THE LEAGUE'S involvement, there is a chance the item will get off the shopping list.

The LWV is capable of doing the kind of research which is needed to determine if the need exists in the city, and how great is that need. If the need exists, it also has the potential to draw upon experts in the field to garner enough information to demonstrate whether such a facility is feasible.

So with the league's involvement, the idea of a child care center should move off the shopping list. It could move by becoming a workable project, or move by being dropped because either the need doesn't exist or because there's no practical way to put together such a project.

The Observer congratulates the Plymouth branch of the LWV for taking on the project. We hope it works hard in this endeavor, and be ready in 1979 when the next public hearing is held on how best to spend community development funds.

Transit sense

Eleven years ago, the seven-county $outheastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) was created to consolidate all public and private bus systems into one and to bring to the region some version of rapid transit.

Since then, certain elected politicians have behaved as if they, not SEMTA, were calling the shots, as if SEMTA were their toy

Only after SEMTA itself seemed to be coming apart at the seams did the politicians come to their senses. Last week, Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young, whose bull-headed insistence on as many miles of expensive subway as possible for Detroit alone almost w ecked SEMTA, said, "Let's let the experts do their jobs and not hamper them with political pre-demands."

Young, finally, is absolutely right. We hope those suburban politicians who have bull-headedly opposed any subway will rise to the same level.

Let SEMTA do its job. If its sophisticated, computerized analyses show the region needs one block, one mile or 20 miles of subway, then that is what should be built.

The facts are that downtown Detroit has traffic and construction problems that may require some subway, but a subway costs 10 times as much per mile as surface rail rapid transit. The "political pre-demands," as Young aptly dubbed them, have caused years of city-suburban poison. Enough. Let SEMTA do its job.

READERS' FORUM

School candidates should be questioned

I am in agreement with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson's letter encouraging the Plymouth-Canton community to be informed about the people they vote for to fill the two seats on the school board (a four-year term can be a long

Board members must be accountable to the public. It is their responsibility to represent us. Remember the famous words "but we have more information than you." I ask, why do we employ a community relations person? Get this information you have to us the voters, as you do when you want money. I have the following concerns about our present board members:

· A survey was taken on rotation of tracks for ESY schools that stated the parents did not want to live with a new calendar every year. "D" track parents were included. Elaine Kirchgatter and Carol Davis voted to rotate-is it due to Kirchgatter's children being on track D?

•The principals and Dr. Michael Holmes recommended that there be no modular scheduling at the high schools next year due to increased enrollment and the possibility that students would not receive 900 hours of instructional time, which is a state law. ## Speak up now about Ford Road

Your chance to have a say about future improvements to Ford Road is

The department of state highways and transportation has scheduled a public meeting on the proposed reconstruction of Ford Road between I-275 and Venoy Road. It will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 27 at the John Glenn High School auditorium. As a businessperson or resident of Ford Road, it is most important for you to attend and have input at this public meeting. A good turnout of local people assures the highway department of the need for prompt consideration of the various proposals and timely determination of the final course of action.

The departments has several alternates under consideration. The first afternative is to do nothing other than normal maintenance and some safety improvements at intersections.

There are two other alternate plans. One would widen the road to five lanes, the other to seven lanes. The five-lane project, with right turn lanes at major intersections such as John Hix, Newburgh, Wayne and Venoy roads, would require taking 27 feet from either the north, south or both sides of the existing Ford Road rightof-way except where there already is sufficient right-of-way (between Imperial Highway and Wayne Road and between Linville Road and Carlson

The center lane of the five lanes would be reserved for left turns.

Between 10 and 20 feet of open space would be allowed for safety purposes between the roadway and sidewalks.

The right-of-way required for the seven-lane alternative would be about the same as for five lanes, except there would only be about eight feet of open space between the curb and sidewalk. Additional right turn lanes would not be required.

Both construction plans include an overpass over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad between 1-275 and John Hix with several variations to the type of overpass.

In addition to the 8 p.m. public hearing on April 27, there will be a "prehearing" from 4-8 p.m. April 20 in the council chambers of Westland City Hall (on Ford between Wayne and Newburgh roads). The pre-hearing is an informal walk-through display with department personnel present to answer any questions.

Both the pre-hearing and public hearing have been scheduled during evening hours so that as many persons as possible may attend. All of the Ford Road community will benefit from improvements to the road since I-275 accessibility will be enhanced.

We sincerely urge all who are interested in or would be affected by the reconstruction to take the time to attend the April 20 and (or) April 27 meetings.

HOW TO REDUCE RUST

YOU MAY BE WASHING THE WRONG SIDE OF YOUR CAR.

Spring is a perfect time to do something about rust. Rusting is a year-round problem, and corrosive conditions have become a lot worse in the last five years.

If you live where salt is used to melt ice on the roads. that is speeding up corrosion on your car. If you live in the country, it's the calcium chloride that's spread on dirt roads to hold down dust. And corrosive chemicals in the air are causing rust in every part of America.

We're doing something to help prevent rust on the new cars we're building. Meanwhile, you can do something about reducing rust on your car.

It's important to wash your car often. Use a mild soap and lukewarm or cold water.

Please don't neglect the underside of your car. The worst rusting happens from the inside out. That's because salt, slush, and even mud tend to collect in the crevices underneath the car, in the door creases, and inside the fenders. Moisture gets trapped in those places and causes rust. So try to wash the underside of your car, too. In winter, if you can, and at the first opportunity in spring. Even if it's only a few times a year, that would help some.

If your car gets dented, scratched, or chipped, try to get it repaired as soon as possible. Even a "small" scratch is bad. Because once a car starts to rust, the damage spreads fast. The paint around a dent or scratch can look okay, but rust is spreading underneath. In the long run, it's cheaper to fix the car right away.

A lot of people think that parking a car in a heated garage during the winter will help prevent rust. But it's just the opposite. Cold slows down the rusting process, as it does most chemical reactions.

We're doing more now to protect GM cars from rust. For one thing, we're using more rust-resistant materials, including different types of zinc-coated steel, in places where rust usually occurs. Also, our new paint primers and the way we apply them are designed to provide a thorough finish, even on some parts of the car you can't see.

Our goal is to protect your car so that it lasts longer and gives you the most value. And fighting rust helps.

This advertisement is part of our continuing effort to give cus-tomers useful information about their cars and trucks and the company that builds them.

Left turn lanes are road hazard

It has come to our attention that a hazardous condition exists at the intersections of Ann Arbor Road and Main Street, Ann Arbor Road and Lilley Road, and Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty Road. Namely, left turns from Ann Arbor Road to the other streets. There isn't enough time for the volume of vehicles making left turns.

The obvious solution would appear to be a delayed left turn signal system. A left turn lane does exist at these intersections indicating to motorists that reasonable precaution or planning does exist to effect a safe left turn. Because of the left turn lane there is a high volume of left turning traffic, and the current signal time allows only two to three vehicles to turn left. Usually, the third car makes the turn against crossing traffic.

The Plymouth Community Civitan Inc., a community service club, is interested in not only normal service club improvements but also in better conditions for our citizens. To this end, our entire club membership supports an indepth feasibility study of delayed left turn lights at these intersections.

Please consider this and forward your recommendations to the proper authorities.

Being a homeowner in Canton, I too like a nice home and nice grounds. I do not wish to see my property maliciounly abused by anyone. But like many people in our subdivision I too have small children who fortunately, walk, run and who are very healthy, active kids. Therefore I cannot help it if they should cross my grounds and walk on your property. You need not swear and scream or threaten these kids as if they were dirt.

I relize that some of you are retired and have worked hard for your home. So did we. Did you forget how it was when you had small children of your

When you move into a subdivison you must realize that there are going to be lots of kids of all ages. If you treat them with a little tender, loving care-they will respect you and your property.

WE ALL want to maintain nice homes, and I wouldn't want anyone destroying anyone's property. But, for heavens, sake kids are kids and we can't watch them 24 hours a day.

Think about it. If they play in the streets you holler. If they play on the cul-de-sacs you scream-I pay for culde-sacs too. Even if they play in their own backyards and accidently step on your side of the boundary line, you chase them. This is terrible. Come on, neighbors, have a heart-a human life and health is much more important than that piece of grass.

Where can our kids play?

Being from Sub.6 we do not have a park of our own even though the accosiation makes us pay for one. There is no place for them to go when they are home. They can't go to the school grounds because of 45-15-someone's always there.

Speaking for myself I'll teach my kids to respect (not abuse) your property. So won't you think a little before you scream, swear, threaten or chase my kids? Name witheld by request Canton Township

Figures can bend truth

Editor:

Well, the (Plymouth-Canton) School Board has promised that there will be no tricks played on the taxpayers this

Florence Bier, our p.r. person, has said that the total amount of mills-40.25-asked of the school district residents is considerably low. Whereas in neighboring districts like Livonia, their millage is 46.96 per year, Northville, 45.42, and Wayne-Westland, 44.82

I would like to know how many schools they are keeping in operation and how many students are enrolled in these districts. How are they using their millage in comparison with the Plymouth-Canton district?

As Mr. (John) Hoben (school superintendent) and the school board knows, you can make figures look like anything you want. It's just a matter of how you present them.

That article would certainly lead us to believe that the school board was asking for very little.

THE PLYMOUTH Symphony Orchestra ended its regular season Sunday in high style. There was nothing but raves over the Manhattan Savonyards' performance of "The

In fact, there was so much applause, the performance lasted much longer than usual. It was good to hear members of the professional company say they thoroughly enjoyed working with the Plymouth Symphony. They said it was right there at the right time-a very professional orchestra.

Symphony board members Harriet Randall and George Hudson provided transportation to and from the airport for the company as did Symphony Society President Fran Lang and her husband, Charles

Fran was giving her list of things to do one last check Saturday afternoon when she noticed, for the first time, the notation "two ironers."

She called Jean Sigmon and said, "Bring your ironing board and iron over to the high school." As the Savonyards rehearsed on stage, the two ironed costumes backstage in time to the music from "The Mikado.

There's no doubt about it—the Symphony Society and League are working organizations.

PERSONS WHO did not attend Sunday's concert will have an opportunity to purchase the symphony league's coupon book this Saturday.

Members of the league will set up a stand in the Forest Place Mall, Forest Street, Plymouth.

League members will be there from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. with the books which contain more than $300 worth of coupons for discounts on merchandise and services. All are from area merchants and businessmen.

"It's one of those things you have to see to appreciate," said Jean Sigmon. "When people look at them, they buy them. You can practically save the prioce of the book with one purchase." They are selling for $10 each.

PARENTS who trying to line up a music or art teacher for their children are reminded of the Arts Council's list of qualified taechers. There is no charge for the service. Just call the PCAC office any morning Monday through Thursday. The number is 455-5260.

THE APPLE RUN garden clubbers are planning a big plant boutique just in time for Mothers Day.

Apple Run is a branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. It was formed three years ago in Canton Township and its community activities have blossomed.

The boutique will be from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. May 6 in the Krogers store in Harvard Square shopping center, Ford Road at Sheldon. They will sell special pots, decorated by club members, crafts and bright blooming geraniums.

EACH YEAR, during Michigan Week, two or more area houses achieve the rank of historic landmark. This is due to the efforts of the Plymouth branch, American Association of University Women.

The Landmarks Group of the AAUW does considerable historic research before awarding a landmark plaque. The group is chaired this year by Mrs. Richard Gornick. Kathy will announce the two landmarks to be added this year at tonight's AAUW meeting in West Middle School cafetorium. The owners of the homes have been invited to attend the meeting and any interested persons may attend.

Mrs. Richard Kirchgatter, club president, will give the background on how the Landmarks Study Group originated. Mrs. John O'Reilly will discuss the designated landmarks.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Those interested in the local history will find the meeting particularly rewarding.

MEMBERS OF the Stu Rockafellow Amateur Radio Society, the local ham radio club, are looking ahead to their annual field day in June.

The ham operators have a lot of equipment and a lot of fun. They also come through in times of trouble. They cooperate with police and firefighters and incidents of their lifesaving efforts are legion.

The Stu Rockafellow group has regular meetings the third Tuesday of each month in the Plymouth Community

Federal Credit Union. Jim Macintyre of Simpson Street is president of the club and editor of its publication, Monthly Ham News. Norm Erickson of Canton Township is treasurer. Dan Pressede is typist on the bulletin staff. Those on the meeting staff are: Ken Nowak Jr., meeting log; Ken Zonca, ticket sales: Francis Claerr and Dick Green, brewmasters; and Gil Perry,

One of their members, Richard Hill, was awarded a certificate of appreciation from the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for helping so many people during the blizzard of '78.

Careerists reveal new trend for women

Mary McKeon Gredell, a psychology intern at the Plymouth Center for Human Development, will go on to state competition for the young Career Woman of the Year title.

The Young Career Woman program is sponsored annually by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, Inc. Ms. McKeon Gredell was nominated by the Northville BPW club. A panel of three judges named her district winner Sunday morning at a meeting in Leright's Restaurant, Westland. Connie Fitzner of the Plymouth BPW chaired the district competition.

Other candidates were Police Officers Valerie Sarinopoulos of Livonia and Lisa Dougherty of Garden City. They were nominated by the BPW clubs in the cities where they work and live.

Judges Barbara Geil, director of admissions at Schoolcraft College, Barbara Robb, attorney; and Hazen Wilson, manager, public relations Michigan Bell Telephone Co., said their decision was a difficult one. They would have liked to name all three winners.

THE DISTRICT winner is a graduate of Northville High School. She attended Madonna College, Schoolcraft College and the University of Michigan. She earned her bachelor of science degree in psychology and zoology from U-M in 1976 and an MHSA in public health administration this year.

The Phi Beta Kappa said, "I love my work with the mentally retarded. They have taught me great patience and have given me a great understanding of how to cope with the differences inherent in all of us. "I am proud of being a woman and a mother. I am happy raising my son in a society which is increasingly accepting of women in many sectors of the job market; also in an age where women are allowed to more freely express themselves as individuals.'

In the next 10 years, Mary McKeon Gredell hopes to coordinate and establish programs in the field of mental health. "I have a strong preference for planning such programs for the retarded.

VALERIE Sarinopoulos, the only female police officer in the Livonia Police Department, was runnerup.

She was Livonia's first female police cadet at age 18. She applied for the cadet job before graduating from Livonia Stevenson High School in 1973. Since then, she earned an associate degree in law enforcement from Schoolcraft College where she was on the dean's list. She completed police academy basic training at the Criminal Justice Institute in Detroit. She also completed Army basic training and is a member of the U.S. Army

She attends Mercy College of Detroit where she is a senior majoring in forensic science-crime lab technician. Once she completes her degree requirements as a crime lab technician, she hopes to work in a crime lab and specialize in toolmark and ballistic identification. But those are longrange plans.

She had to wait for her 23rd birthday to become eligible for the police officer job. Her birthday was April 14 and she started her new duties April 17.

"THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS that I am proudest of are becoming Garden City's first female police cadet and then being promoted to police officer.' said Lisa Dougherty "During the past year. I had the opportunity to work with our detective bureau and our ventures were success-

Her main goal at present is to complete the Police Academy, which she will attend for eight weeks. "Another important goal is to finish my college education, as this will be very helpful or advancement in my profession.

"Whatever turns my career takes, I olan to stay in the field of law nforcement

Were you watching the Red Wings last week? What an exciting ame. I was trying to play bridge and watch the game of the year at the same time. It was quite a trick.

Senior recital

Margaret K. Lang will present her senior recital at 8 p.m., April 26, in the recital hall of the University of Michigan school of music. She will be assisted by Jill Reithmiller, violin, Andrew Anderson, piano, and Jeff Lee, harpsichord. The program will include Suite for Viola and Piano by Ernest Bloch, the Symphonia Concertante by Mozart, and music of Antonio Vivaldi. For the past four years, Miss Lang has been principal violist with the U-M Symphony Orchestra and plays with the Toledo Symphony Orchestra. During her high school years, she was a member of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lang of Plymouth Township.

There were mixed feelings among the women in the group about having the hockey game blaring during our intricate bidding. A few showed mild interest while others couldn't care less. Myself and one other hockey fan took turns giving a blow-by-blow account of the happenings at Olympia. Between the two of us we stayed on top of the score and stopped everything else to watch the instant replays.

I started thinking about all the children in the Plymouth-Canton area who got the chance to meet the Wings at the cultural center in February. The team held a practice in town and many children took the day off to meet their idols. It must be great for those kids to watch the Wings win such an important game knowing that in their dresser drawer or underneath their pillows they possess all the players' autographs. Down in my basement, at this very moment, is Jimmy Rutherfords' goalie stick. Aren't you impressed?

When Bill Lochead scored the winning goal two of us in that bridge group were very happy. All play ceased until the clock ran out. Then there was much clapping from two sets of hands. One woman, and I won't mention any names, called to me from the other room, "I don't know anything about hockey. Who is the team that just won?" How uninformed can a person get?

Later in the evening I played with my co-hockey fan. We bid a seven no trump and made it. We came in first and second place for the evening. Which just goes to prove it was a great night for us hockey fans.

SINCE I started writing this column I have come in contact with the people who run clubs, chair projects or are heavily involved in some organization or another. These people are doers and they're usually looking for other doers to help them.

I continue to hear one complaint over and over again from every area or club in town. Everyone seems to have trouble getting people to volunteer their time.

"Where is everybody?" they ask, "Please say we need help," they tell me. Everyone must be very busy.

One elementary school is in the process of making plans for its annual spring fair. The chairwoman for the fair sent notices home asking for volunteers to work for a couple of hours the day of the event. From more than 500 students attending this school, only seven volunteers were recruited.

A CUB SCOUT pack in town has been calling everyone they can think of to find a leader for a Webelo den. This den is going to have to become inactive for the rest of the year because no one can be found.

Now I know we're all very busy people and our time is a valuable commodity. But we all have to give some of it once in a while. We have to remember these organizations we belong to are our clubs, our churches and our children's schools. Every time my children join something I know somewhere along the line I'll have to volunteer for something. If you think 'there's some kind of social clique one must belong to in order to run something just say yes once and you'll have become one of the elite.

I remember during a cub scout committee Imeeting last year Debbie Slater and I both voiced an opinion on how our pack could hold a better pinewood derby.

Barb Dani immediately wrote in the minutes, "Debbie Slater and Sharon Staron will run the pinewood derby this year."

You see it's very easy to become a

Gino D'Alessio, who once played for Toscanini and Stokowski, shares his talents with a charmed audience at the Benchmark Restaurant in Southfield. (Staff pooto by Gary Friedman)

Serenade

A man and his violin are not soon parted

By GWENDOLYN MALECKE

When such notable guest conductors as Arturo Toscanini and Leopold Stokowski ascended to the podium of the Radio Symphony Orchestra in Rome in the 1940s, it was Gino D'Alessio who served as their concertmaster par excellence.

A violinist and impressario in his own right, D'Alessio now delights diners with his "magic violin" at the Benchmark Restaurant in Southfield's Michigan Inn.

"It was always an exciting experience," D'Alessio says as he recalls those days with the noted conductors. "But when it was Toscanini who was conducting, the mounting tension was both electrifying and terrifying at the same time.

"He was so meticulous that prior to each performance he would have any musician suspected of not getting a musical score quite up to his perfectionist standards come forward and play it solo

D'Alessio, better known as Gino and His Magic Violin, has come a long way since those days. But his own beginning is a story in itself.

Born of musical parents in New York's lower Manhattan, he moved with his family to Italy whan he was only 6 years old. Not long afterwards, a carpenter friend gave him an old violin.

BY THE TIME he was seven, young Gennara (his real name) had obtained a book on how to play the violin and was teaching himself. There were no violin teachers in town, but in time a teacher from another town heard him play. Impressed, the teacher paid for D'Alessio's expenses at the Conservatory of St. Cecilia in

There he studied under Franco Antonioni and Mario Corti. Later, he studied as a scholarship student under George Enesco and as a contemporary student of Yehudi Menuhin.

Obviously a child prodigy, his progress was so outstanding that in time he earned doctorate degrees from both the Conservatory of St. Cecilia and that of George Enesco. With his extensive knowledge of the history of music, music appreciation, theory and harmony, arranging orchestration, conducting and composition, he was soon on concert tours to London, Paris, Vienna, Madrid, Monte Carlo, Triest, Bombay and Italy.

When he returned to New York City in the 1950s. he met Josephine D'Anna of Wyandotte, who was studying music. They were later married and in 1962 moved to Wyandotte where they raised two children. She also became an opera singer with the Detroit Opera Company.

CLASSICAL music was always D'Alessio's first love, but he also found himself in Hollywood. There he played background music for such film classics as "Summertime in Venice." "Three Coins in the Fountain" and, more recently, the music of his friend Nino Rota in "The Godfather." He also has played for such stars as Ingrid Berg-

Sap's on! It's syrup time

an Indian squaw was preparing venison in the clear sap from a maple tree. During the cooking process, she allowed the sap to boil down and it formed a sweet syrup which her husband found delicious.

From that time on, the Indians used maple sap and syrup extensively as sweeteners, eventually passing their secret on to the early pioneers.

The legend does not say whether the squaw's tribe was one native to Michigan, but as a result of her discovery Michigan is the fourth leading producer of maple syrup in the United States today.

Maple trees produce sugar during the summer months. Some is used

Once upon a time—as legend has it— " immediately in the growth process and some is stored for use during the winter months. As the days begin to warm, in late winter or early spring, the sap in the trees begins to move. picking up some of the stored sugar along the way.

> THIS IS "harvest season" for Michigan "sugar bush" owners and maple syrup producers.

> The sweet sap is gathered by drilling holes into the trees and inserting a "spile" or spigot which allows the sap to drip freeely into a container attached to the "spile." Sap from the individual tree containers is usaully collected by hand, poured into a gathering tank and transported to the sugarhouse.

There the sap goes into an evaporator where it is boiled down into pure maple syrup. When the sap is running. the collecting and boiling process often goes continuously 24 hours a day

Sap gathering, or maple sugaring season in Michigan, brings with it the promise that spring is on the way. The season usually begins in late March. continuing through April and clima ing with two tasty festivals at Vermontville and at Shepherd (April 28-30) and everybody is welcome.

For more information about other spring happenings in Michigan, write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events from the Travel Bureau, Michigan Dept. of Commerce, Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

Aaron Copland, one of the most influential composers of the century, will participate in a conert-lecture series May 9-12 celebrating Aaron Copland Week at Oakland University.

The week concludes on May 12 with the composer directing the Pontiac-Oakland Symphony in an 8 p.m concert in Varner Rectial Hall. The public is invited to all of the concert-lecture programs.

During a long and distinguished career as composer, teacher, conductor, and author, Copland has won many honors including the 1945 Pulitzer Prize and the New York Music Crites' Circle Award for "Appalachian Spring," an Academy Award, the Gold Medal for Music conferred by the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

Copland has explored almost every facet of composition producing works for films, television, orchestra and chorus, and the ballet stage.

All of the May 9-12 concerts will be presented in Varner Recital Hall. Tickets to the May 9-12 afternoon programs are $2.50 each while the May 12 evening concert is priced at $6 a ticket. For information call 377-2025.

The schedule: May 9, 2:30 p.m.—"Copland in Perspective" with Paul Osterhout analyzing Copland's contributions to American music.

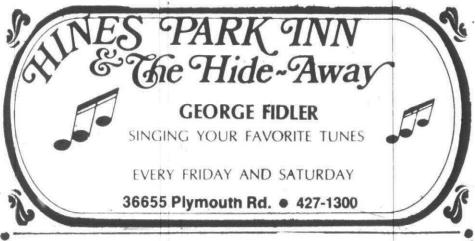

May 10, 2:30 p.m.— Copland on Dance," featuring a performance by the Oakland University Dance Theatre followed by a discussion with Copland on American music and dance.

May 11, 2:30 p.m.— Copland on Voice" with a performance by the Oakland University Singers followed by Copland discussing his opera and choral works.

May 12, 2:30 p.m.— Copland on Piano and Chamber Music" with piano students performing Copland's works followed by a discussion session with the composer.

May 12, 8 p.m.—The Oakland University Singers will perform the Copland works "In the Beginning," "Las Agachadas," and "Stomp Your Foot." Guest artist, soprano Jan Albright, will sing selections from "The Second Hurricane."

Following the intermission, the Pontiac-Oakland Symphony Orchestra will perform Copland's "Symphony for Organ and Orchestra." Copland will conduct this work with Kent McDonald performing on the Kyes organ.

man. Rita Hayworth and for the wedding of Tyrone Power and Linda Christian.

A collector of rare violins, he has 10 of his own, including a 1665 Francesco Ruggeri, a 1741 G.B. Gaudagnini and a 1869 Eugenio Praga. In addition, he owns an old Italian mandolin and a 200-year-old Kimball piano. He also plays guitar and has taught all these instruments in the Wyandotte adult education program and in private music lessons.

His favorite composers include Mozart, Vivaldi,

Bach and Paganini, but he can play almost any kind of music you might request, from classical to pop, from gypsy to show tunes.

No matter what type of music he plays, Gino and his lilting violin are far more than entertaining-for some it may be a spellbinding experience. And he has the charisma to go with it, even kissing the hands of women in the audience in the traditional European manner.

D'Alessio has been the musical director and conductor of the ensemble at the famous Greenbrier Hotel in West Virginia, as well as other leading hotels in Europe and America. He also is violinist with the Windsor Symphony and is making a record entitled "An Evening at the Benchmark with Gino D'Alessio and His Magic Violin.

While some music may sound like little more than noise, Gino continues with the sounds that have never lost an audience. Not surprisingly, he has been held over at the Benchmark by popular demand.

Perhaps it is the "magic" of his virtuoso flare that draws the people. Or maybe audiences recognize something embodied in the motto of one of his former teachers: "Musica est imago animae," or "music is the image of the soul."

Bell heads Canton program

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Craig Bell has been selected as the new PLymouth Canton varsity basketball coach. He replaces Casey Cavell, who resigned last month after starting the Canton program five years ago.

"I am very pleased with the selection," said Canton principal Kent Buikema in his announcement Monday morning. "We are replacing a good coach with another good coach.

"I see a lot of dedication in Craig Bell. He has been waiting for an opportunity to be head coach, and I'm sure he'll hop on this opportunity and

Chiefs take 2 from Borgess

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Plymouth Canton batsmen had no trouble convincing Redford Bishop Borgess they will contend for the top spot in Observerland once again this season. The Chiefs opened the spring season with a doubleheader victory over the Spartans, 4-1 and 12-2, in Saturday afternoon action at Canton High School

It marked the first time the Chiefs played a home game at their new Centennial Park diamond after four years at Central Middle School.

Canton scored three runs in the first inning of the opener but registered only three hits the entire game as it relied on the strong pitching of Doug Smith and junior Brian James.

In the nightcap, however, the Chiefs broke loos at the plate, scoring 12 runs enroute to the easy doubleheader sweep over 1-3 Borgess.

"It was a typical first game," said Canton coach Fred Crissey. "I thought

The physical education teacher in Centennial Park program knows some of the current Canton players through his classes, but admits he will be busy this spring getting to know all the players.

"I know most of the starters who are coming back," Bell said. "I scouted them when I was at Salem. I know all the kids by name and face."

Bell already has plans of competing in the Melvindale Summer League and will plan various "concept nights" during the summer to learn the strengths and capabilities of his new players.

Bell is already talking about a conference title.

"I expect us to be very competitive in the tough Western Six League," Bell said. "My turn has come to be a head coach and I'm ready to put the time into the program to make it success-

BELL WAS selected by a three-man committee which included Buikema, Plymouth Athletic Director John Sandmann, and Plymouth Athletic Liason Paul Cummings. Although they reached their decision Friday afternoon, it wasn't released until Monday

Five other applicants were interviewed for the job-Canton junior varsity basketball coach Wayne Weimer, Canton freshman basketball coach Dave VanWagoner, Canton varsity girls basketball coach Mike McCauley, Salem freshman basketball coach Pat Cunningham, and health education teach Bob Blohm, who assisted Thomann last season.

Although Weimer was upset he didn't get the job, Buikema felt the best man was selected.

Rocks place 2d in tri-meet

By ANDY MELIN

The Plymouth Salem boys' track team has not been blessed with the best weather so far this season and, despite the wet, windy, cold weather conditions Tuesday afternoon, the Rocks finished second in a tri-meet held at Livonia Stevenson.

The Rock thinclads amassed 63 points. Livonia Stevenson won the meet with 72 points, while Northville finished last, recording 33 points.

"The track was hard and fast," said Salem coach Gary Balconi. "We ran very well despite the conditions. It was a good day for us.

The Rocks won two of three relays. The 440-yard relay team of Greg Stevens, Tom Carl, Curt Lewis and Mike Christie took first place honors with a time of :45.6.

The mile relay foursome of Chris Ritchey, Kris Kappler, Tom Rubadue and Greg Davis made a fine showing winning in 3:37.3.

Senior tri-captain Bob Dasher won two individual events. He won the shot put with a toss of 49-71/2, and the discus with a throw of 139-7.

Dennis Ogden finished first in the pole vault with a vault of 12-8. Mark Choma placed second, followed by Dave Bevernitz in fourth.

Rich Hanschu placed second in the high jump with a leap of 5-9. Lewis finished third in the long jump with a 18-3

Ritchey won the 100-yard dash in

:10.46. He also placed third in the discus.

Tom Rubadue had a personal best this season in the 880-yard run with a

Scott Kleam placed second in the two-mile in 10:17.0, also a personal best this season.

Mike Christie took second in both the 330-yard low hurdles and the 120-yard high hurdle events in :40.99 and :16.2, respectively.

Chiefs nipped by Bentley

After losing its opening dual meet by 29 points to Westland John Glenn, the Plymouth Canton girls track team put on a strong comeback, falling to a good Livonia Bentley team by only two points, 69-

67, Monday afternoon. "We had everything in the bag and smoked them in the 440-yard relay but we were disqualified," said Canton coach Ken Zornes. "If we would have won the relay, we would have won the meet." Canton ws disqualified for an illegal batton exchange. The 0-2 Chiefs improved tremendously on their times and distances against Bentley after losing an 821/2-531/2 decision to Glenn last Friday after-

One important factor which kept the Bentley-Canton result close was the absence of the Bulldogs' top thinclad Debbie Mays, who was suspended for this meet. Mays dominates most of the Nonetheless, Canton performed well in the nonleague meet against Bentley, and Zornes is excited about the squad's chances against Western Six League competition.

Against Bentley, Veronica Gary won the high jump with a 4-6 leap and anchored the winning 880yard relay combination, which also included Jenny Tregembo, Katie Heaton, and Kathy Sochacki. The winning relay time was 1:57.0.

The Petersen sisters, Jan and Jill, dominated the 110-yard low hurdles, taking first and third respectively. Jan's winning time was 18 seconds

Kelly Heaton and Melinda Breen placed second and third respectively in the shot put and discus events. Sue Coll and Judy Pupy also placed second and third in the 220-yard dash.

The Chiefs' next meet will be Tuesday at Livonia Franklin beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Rain halts action

Continuous Tuesday afternoon rains postponed a host of Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem

The only squad to compete was the Plymouth Salem boys track teamm which ran a tri-meet at

Among the events that were postponed included Plymouth Salem's varsity baseball, varsity softball, and junior varsity baseball games against Suburban Eight League opponent Allen Park.

The Canton boys track meet against North Farmington, the Salem tennis match at Allen Park, the Salem girls golf match at Brighton, and the Salem junior varsity softball game at Riverview were also postponed.

The rescheduled dates for these events were not known at presstime.

"I was most pleased that we came back and got those runs when they were making a run at us," Crissey

Mandle walked to lead off the Chiefs' rally and with one out first baseman Dale Albright singled Mandle

Collins drove home Mandle with a single and then scored with Albright on Smith's double to rightfield.

Al Weise then singled home Smith with the fourth run of the inning, and

Dreyer knocked home Weise with his second double of the day to complete the rally

The Chiefs scored their final three runs in the fifth inning on another tworun double by Smith and a suicide squeeze bunt by third baseman Craig

Scott Dawson came in for James in the fifth inning to preserve the Canton victory. Dawson was "very impressive" according to Crissey, striking out four and allowing only one hit in the last three innings.

James also pitched in the first game relieving starter Smith. He allowed only one hit in the final two innings of the initial victory. Smith hurled the first five stanzas and allowed only one run on five hits.

Borgess outhit the Chiefs six to three in the first game, but the Chiefs took every advantage of their opportunities. scoring three times in the first inning to take command.

Mandle and Dawson sandwiched Campbell's bunt single with a pair of walks to load the bases in the first inning of the season. Mandle and Campbell both scored on ground outs, while Dawson scored on a double-

The Chiefs scored their last run of the game in the sixth when Collins walked and scored without the benefit of a hit. The Spartans scored their only run of the game in the fourth inning off Smith thanks to a double, wild pitch, and sacrifice fly.

The Chiefs opened their defense of three straight Western Six League titles yesterda at Farmington Harrison.

Salem netters win; Canton loses opener

The Plymouth Salem tennis team defeated Westland John Glenn, 6-1, but the Plymouth Canton netters fell to Livonia Franklin, 5-2, in non-league dual meet action Monday. Rock coach Jim Stevens was pleased with the play of his squad. It was the Rocks' second victory of the young season against no defeats. The Canton setback was a disappointing opener for coach Jim Hayes' crew.

Salem first-singles Kurt Schultz had to go three sets before defeating Glenn's top player Pat McBride, 6-7, 6-1, 7-5. Rock junior Craig Stevens took care of second-singles netter Larry McClure of Glenn, 6-3, 6-1. Bob Braun and freshman Scott Crespo both won the third and fourthsingles matches for the Rocks. Braun's victory was in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, while Crespo breezed, 6-2, 6-0. In doubles action, Jeff Bearup and Ed Thomas won a split-set decision over their Glenn counterparts, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4, in the top doubles' match. The Rocks' second doubles combination of Dick Cook and Bob Jarvis lost the team's only match of the day and the season, for that matter, 6-2, 6-2. Jarvis replaced Mark Thomas who missed the match to attend funeral services.

In the closest match of the day, Salem's third-doubles pair of Craig Baker and Larry Kummer won their match, 7-5, 7-6.

Canton's opening loss at Franklin saw fourth singles Chris Davio win the Chiefs' only singles match of the day. He defeated Patroit Brian Shott in split sets, 7-6, 4-6, 6-4.

The only other Canton victory came at first doubles where Bob Young and Mike Tagge combined for a 7-6, 6-4 victory over Franklin's Jim Thompsett and Paul Parzuchowski.

Canton JV rips, 44-0

The Plymouth Canton junior varsity softball team walloped overmatched Willow Run Monday, 44-0. The game was ended after five innings.

The Chiefs took an 11-0 first inning lead enroute to its first win of the season. In order to win on a mercy ruling, as Canton did, a team must have a ten run lead or more by the fifth inning.

"Willow Run's pitcher slow-pitched instead of fast-pitched and we were able to get some real good hits," said Canton coach Cathy Himes. "Their catcher really couldn't catch that well, and we were able to steal a lot of bases.

The Chiefs pitcher, freshman Marianne Pink, allowed only one hit and walked one.

Canton will play at Ypsilanti today (Thursday) starting at 4 p.m.

Ex-Plymouth resident visits area

Hill sees boom in youth soccer

By CRAIG PIECHURA

Soccer means more to Gordon Hill than just a bunch of men in knee pants booting a ball around the Astroturf with their knees and noggin.

The former Plymouth resident now lives in Clearwater, Fla. and serves as color commentator on WTOG in St. Petersburg on 10 road games played by the Tampa Bay Rowdies.

But, more important, he says, is his role as director of youth and community development in the Tampa Bay organization. Hill has taken it upon himself to promote youth soccer in the state of Florida and, for that matter, the rest of the United States. He believes Americans can be stars in the sport if they are given early support and training

This comes as no surprise to Plymouth residents who remember Hill as an educational consultant in the federally-funded CASTLE programan acronym for the Center for Advanced Studies to make Teaching and Learning Exciting for students. "or something like that," Hill explained.

Hill was also instrumental in introducing youngsters in the fundamentals of soccer through coaching. Hills helped set up the Western Suburban Soccer League with Chuck Skene, director of Plymouth parks and recreation commission.

"In those days I was trying to get soccer introduced to American youth," Hill said Sunday in the broadcasting booth. "And now I come here today and see hundreds of young people playing down on the field in exhibition games held earlier this afternoon. The

tiac last Friday to do color commentary with Tom Keene for the Tampa Bay Rowdies TV network. A former Plymouth resident, Hill

worked in a program called CASTLE that attempted to make learn-response has been tremendous. I see soccer has arrived with a vengeance. Youth soccer is going great guns."

Hills moved to Clearwater, Fla. two years ago when he became a professional referee in the North American Soccer League. Last year, after refereeing a game in Tampa Bay, Hills said he was approaced by the team management and offered a dual job in the organization-color commentator and youth director.

Hills snatched it up quicker than you kick a soccer ball.

He had broadcast experience from his days in English radio. And in the states, Hill kept his hand in media

What was Hill's professional assessment of Sunday's game between the Rowdies and the Detroit Express?

Well, he would have liked to have seen a better game. Detroit lost the game 2-1 after a Detroit player accidentally put the ball in the opposing team's net. "It was a poor game, but you can't plan that can you?" Hill said.

Confident Craig Bell has switched colors

The jokes have already started. Plymouth Canton principal Kent

Buikema said something about having to give Craig Bell, the Chiefs' new varsity basketball coach, a blood transfusion from "blue" to ball coach Fred Thomann quipped about spliting the cost of lunches with his old employee-"50-50, right down the middle" instead of buying them all as in the past.

Plymouth Salem varsity basket-

Even Bell, the former Salem junior varsity basketball coach, said something about dying all his blue clothes a deep, dark red color

All kidding aside, I asked Bell about the switch of colors after his promotion

He didn't hestitate at all. "I am officially a Canton teacher and a Canton coach," Bell said. "I don't have any hang ups about switching colors "I know it's going to be a little hard to sell the idea since I was at Salem-but I feel a total commitment to Canton. I wouldn't have applied for the job if I felt any other

"My main concern is working with a group of young men with good athletic skills. No matter what the color-it's what you put into the program that counts."

I don't think Bell's question of alligence could be answered any better than that.

BELL'S PROFESSIONALISM truly showed when I talked with him early this week about his new

You see, Bell has been a close friend of mine for a number of years, and I remember when he first broke into the Plymouth coaching program back in the early 1970s. He worked his way through the middle school coaching ranks and then made it to junior varsity high school level as a football and basketball coach—at Salem. There was "blue" in Bell from the word go. He worked hard under Moshimer's football program and later quit that position to dedicate himself to basketball in hopes of getting a head coaching job in the future.

Well, Bell's efforts have paid off as he was selected over five other applicants to head the Canton cage

So when it came time for his first meeting with the press, Bell was understandibly a little hestitant about what he said to me.

Doc's Corner

By DENNIS O'CONNOR Sports Editor

'I know it's going to be a little hard to sell the idea since I was at Salem - but I feel a total commitment to Canton, I wouldn't have applied for the job if I felt any other way."

> -New Canton coach Craig Bell

But when the subject of the "switch of colors" came up, Bell didn't hestitate a bit. He wanted everyone in the community to know that he was a Canton teacher and a Canton basketball coach.

That's where Bell showed he was a professional.

After all, Bell has a lot of friends, socially, at Salem-friendships which have developed when he was a coach at the "blue" school. Yet. Bell never hestitated to proclaim his new support for Canton. I think it takes a true professional to separate social life from working life-it sounds like Bell is ready to turn Canton basketball into a winner.

EXPECT TO see a closer relationship between the Salem and Canton basketball programs.

Bell and Thomann have been close friends for a long time and I'm sure many philosophies will continue to be shared by the two men who teach together at the Centennial Park.

Bell has been molded by Thomann's successful program and will bring many of those ideas to Canton.

Buikema put it well when he said. "There has always been a close and beneficial relationship between the two schools when they were sharing facilities-now it will be even better and more helpful to both basketball programs. I have a tremendous amount of respect for Fred Thomann. I see an inherent working relationship (with Bell and Thomann) with them helping each other."

It should be an interesting Christmas this year when Canton plays Salem in the holiday tournament.

Very interesting indeed.

East gals romp; RU falls in 7th

GC EAST-N. FARMINGTON

Experiencing almost unbelievable success at the plate, Garden City East shellacked North Farmington, 36-8, Monday in a Northwest Suburban League softball game.

East rapped 28 hits. Cathy Arsenault smashed six hits and totalled eight RBIs, Sharon Raftery clubbed four hits including a home run, and notched nine RBIs and Cindy Stapleton ripped five hits, including a home run.

"We just couldn't do anything wrong. Everything went our way." said East coach Jo Kistler Sherri Kiselica, the first of three Panther pitchers, was credited with the victory. Sharon Verduzco and Dorothy Boehnlein also worked on the mound.

East didn't have nearly as much success in an earlier outing against Wayne and ended up on the short end of an 11-2 score.

Arsenault knocked in the Panthers' only two runs with a single in the first inning.

East out-hit Wayne, 8-6, but the Zebras were recipients of 12 walks from the combined pitching of Kiselica, Verduzco and Boehlein. Kiselica took the loss.

RU-FARMINGTON

The seventh inning proved to be almost fatal to Redford Union's baseball team last weekend as the Panthers lost both ends of a doubleheader to Farmington in non-league competition, 9-6 and 7-4.

"Both games were the same type of thing. We lost them in the seventh inning. The kids couldn't hold on to the lead," said RU coach Bob Atkins

The Falcons opened the scoring in the first game with three runs in the second inning. RU then scored two runs in the second and one in the third and sixth inning to go in front, 4-3.

In the seventh frame, Farmington scored six runs on five hits to go in front, 9-4. RU came back with two more runs. Cory Drew was the losing pitcher for

RU. He went the distance and gave up 10 hits. Brian Macek collected two of the Panthers' seven hits during the con-

"Errors were our undoing in the first game. We did oursevles in. Atkins said.

Farmington also came on strong in the seventh inning of the second game to win. 7-4

"I do feel very honored to be chosen over some very well-qualified people,"

Bell credits his years in the Salem program as a plus. "My years of coaching with Fred Thoman were tremendous," Bell said. "He has always been one of my best coaching friends-and will remain a

"Certainly, there are things done at Salem which will be done at Canton because they are good, sound basketball philosophies. I'd be very stupid not to use the good things used in Fred's program.'

Bell was quick to add, however, that some things would be different such as certain offensive and defensive sets.

Thomann was happy Bell got the job at Canton and admitted he would be hard to replace in the Salem program.

When accolades are passed out at the conclusion of the league season, a special award should be given to Tom McKay and his Goebel team for its part in one of the most heart warming charities in the area-providing leader dogs for the blind.

Early in the season when the charity plan was conceived, it was felt that, properly presented, the program would provide two dogs, each of which would cost approximately $4,000.

Now, with only two more exhibitions to go, the leader dog fund has reached $11,281, and chances are favorable that it will exceed $12,000 when the team appears in Niles May 6-7, with shows in two different houses bowlers as they opened the metro-Detroit city tournament over the past weekend at Satellite Bowl.

When the final pin had fallen, Howard Britton's team from the Dearborn Elks was out in front with a handicap score of 3,284. This was just nine pins better than Carle Scorali's ABC Trophies rolled.

The Elks team had an actual pin count of 2,828 and the Redford combination fashioned an even 2,900.

Farber shows them all

Even an uncustomary streak of bad luck can't slow down Michigan's champion woman harness horse driver, Bea Farber. Farber, the holder of Wolverine Raceway's track record along with the state of Michigan's fastest mile ever and the world record for a woman's mile, is used to having things go her way, but recently has had to demonstrate her ability to cope with adver-

Farber and her husband-trainer Charlie are in the process of moving from their rented farm in Brighton because the property is being subdivided and a new road has been built right over what used to be their train-

Under normal circumstances there would have been plenty of time to get settled into their new farm near Fowlerville, but the harsh winter and wet spring prevented the Farbers from completing work on their new home and training track.

The result is a pair of trainers with a 19-horse stable who don't have a track to train on. Mechanically-minded Charlie Farber was quick to find a solution.

"I looked around at some of the local tracks and found that they were all in terrible shape, so rather than putting the horses on a bad track I went out and bought an equine treadmill. Our stable has been getting exercised on a machine," he said. In-the-know horsemen scoffed at the idea that such a machine could keep race horses in peak condition. The Farbers were even a bit skeptical at first, but the results have been strik-

In 10 starts to date. Farber has finished first four times, second three times, third twice, and fourth once, a record that no one at Wolverine can come close to matching.

Among her recent string of wins was a 1:59.1 victory with her 6-year-old gelding Quick Candy that currently stands as the fastest mile of the year in Michigan.

Farber is not unfamiliar with such fast times. She has 32 under-two-minute-miles to her credit over a driving career of eight years.

In that short span of time Farber has captured more than a million dollars in purse money and chalked up 355 trips to the winner's circle. She was the first woman to drive a horse under two minutes on a half mile track, with Easy Irv in 1973, and was the first woman ever to win a driver's championship at a major track.
