

'Woonsocket' won't be changed to 'Windsor'

What in the world is a "Woonsocket?"

A group of families building new homes in Canton's Windemere Subdivision think it's a ridiculous name for a street.

They want to save face among family and friends who will visit them at their new address by changing the street's name to plain old Windsor Drive.

Gerald Parent, one of the home buyers on the street, petitioned Canton board members Tuesday night to do away with Woonsocket designation. He came armed with signatures of 10 new-home buyers who object to the street name.

"Just what is it that you have against Woonsocket?" asked Clerk John Flodin amid howls from the audience at mere mention of the name.

Parent had plenty to say about that.

"I just don't want my son to go to school and have his friends laugh at his new address. Some of my friends have already laughed.

"The people who have already bought on this street have all shown disfavor for the name," Parent said. "They love the subdivision. They love the homes. They just don't like the name of the street."

THE PEOPLE in Woonsocket, R.I., however, think it's a beautiful name for a street.

Denise Gotfrin of the Woonsocket Chamber of Commerce said no one in the riverside city of 48,000 has ever objected to the name. The name comes from the Indian word for a waterfall located within the city limits. "Woone" means thunder, she explained, and "suckett" means mist.

But Parent and his future neighbors, who apparently are unaware of the name's origin, simply don't like the sound of Woonsocket.

Trustee Brian Schwall suggested the name "Whatever" for the Windemere Subdivision street, but Parent did not like that name either.

In the end, board members unanimously rejected Parent's name-change request on the grounds that only 10 new-home buyers had signed the petition. Most of the 47 lots on the new subdivision street are still unsold.

Parent was undaunted. Echoing the words of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, he vowed to return.

Youth shift?

The emphasis on youth of the past decade is shifting, noted state Sen. William Faust, Westland Democrat whose district includes Canton, in his remarks to Schoolcraft graduates. For a story on the commencement see Page 2A.

Gun control was the topic at one of the many Law Week forums conducted in Canton High School this week. Leland Bull (left), a life member of the National Rifle Association thought present gun laws should be enforced more rigidly while Rev. Ray Shoulders (right) thought people should lead a more Christian life. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Punishment and paraquat are two Law Week topics

By CRAIG PIECHURA

On May Day in Moscow, tanks and missiles were paraded proudly through Red Square.

That same day, Law Day throughout the United States, State Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) told Canton High School students how to find out if their marijuana was tainted with an American herbicide called paraquat.

Preceding Bullard was a speech by Hugh McMartin, an undercover narcotics officer, who, understandably, took a different tack on the question of decriminalization of marijuana.

Throughout the week students have been listening to speakers debate law and our criminal justice system from both sides of the political and sociological spectrum.

On Tuesday, a group of students gathered to hear Leland Bull, life member of the National Rifle Association (NRA) debate Rev. Ray Shoulders of Detroit, who sat on former Detroit Police Chief Phillip Tannian's task force on gun control.

Shoulders' position on gun control seemed to be that he was in favor of keeping hand guns out of the hands of criminals while allowing "good citizens" to keep them.

"When you've got crime, you've got to be able to defend yourself in your own home, you must apply common sense to gun control."

To cut down on gun-related crime, Shoulders urged everyone to become a member of the church.

"We must move toward absolute love, absolute honesty, absolute unselfishness and absolute purity," Rev. Shoulders told the assembly.

BULL ARGUED that the proposed ban on Saturday Night Specials is vague because it doesn't define a Saturday Night Special. How small? How cheap? What range? Besides, he said, it would discriminate against the poor gun buyer in favor of the person who could afford to buy a more expensive gun. Illegal gun use and sales should be prosecuted to the full extent of existing law, Bull said.

Few students appeared impressed with either speaker's presentation and quizzed them long and hard on their positions.

Following the gun control discussion Tuesday morning was a more spirited debate between Judy Wood, a former Wayne and Washtenaw County public defender, and James Garber, former Wayne County prosecutor. Both individuals are now working as attorneys in private practice.

Ms. Wood took the position that justice in America is grossly disproportionate because the poor are forced to plea bargain through court appointed attorneys "fresh out of law school with little trial experience."

The public defender, as opposed to court-appointed lawyer, usually does a better job in defending indigent clients, Ms. Wood claimed.

But the poor or the disadvantaged stand a much better chance of going to jail than Joe College, she explained.

"If you appear in court in prison greens with a belly chain because you couldn't afford to bail yourself out before the trial, you're probably going to get some time in jail," she said. "If you've got a job are out on bail and come from a family that has money, the judge will have an entirely different approach than if you're on ADC and in jail."

AS ONE OF the court-appointed attorneys Ms. Wood accused of plea-bargaining away the rights of clients, Garber countered that his firm "very seldom pleads a defendant."

But he admitted that his law office isn't overjoyed when asked to defend the indigent. "Economically, it stinks. I might be paid $2,000 for a case I worked 200 hours researching. That's only $10 an hour."

The former prosecutor, though, attacked the Michigan Bar Association for allowing him to practice law in areas such as admiralty (maritime law) where he has no expertise. Many lawyers who can practice criminal law, shouldn't, said Garber.

"In many states you must demonstrate a basic proficiency in different areas of law."

Garber also blasted the courts for conducting business a certain way "just because that's the way it's always been done."

Garber argued that letting judges do the sentencing is bad. They are trained in law, he said, but that does not give them the ability to impose sentences. Because of his prosecutor background, it was surprising to hear Garber state that length of sentences do not deter a crime from happening nor prevent repeat offenders.

Certainty of punishment is the only thing Garber tends to believe is a deterrent.

MS. WOOD THOUGHT judges should continue to sentence prisoners but she wishes judges would stop relying so heavily on the recommendations of the probation office.

"They follow those reports like it was the word of God," said Ms. Wood.

Ms. Garber, who was supposed to be the "liberal" of the debate, thought certainty of punishment was not an effective deterrent to crime.

"People always assume they're not going to be caught," she said. "In Washtenaw County if you commit an armed robbery you get no probation. Yet they do it anyway, just as much as in Wayne County where it's not so stiff."

OTHER SCHEDULED speakers were Trooper Darrell Seering and Ron Grossman, defense lawyer, who debated criminal law and police enforcement; Jerry Hooks, an ex-convict who heads the Washtenaw Community Bail Fund appeared with Mark Maver, chairman of the Michigan Coalition for Prison Alternatives to address the topic, "Prisons: Realities, Expectations and Alternatives."

Today's topic was juvenile justice. Tom Harp, juvenile defender, was scheduled to speak on the issue along with Marge Yokum, Jim White and Barb Borgman.

"12 Angry Men," a movie about a jury's slow deliberation is being shown throughout the week as part of Law Day activities.

Stein files first for supervisor

The first hat was thrown in the ring for a Canton Township board seat this week by current supervisor Harold Stein.

The deadline for filing petitions for either the two open trustee seats, and the office of supervisor, clerk and treasurer is 4 p.m. June 6.

Stein, 47, is the first incumbent to officially announce an intention to run again for office.

No new candidates have filed yet.

In his Monday announcement, Stein made no mention of running on a slate with Treasurer Anne Bradley, as he did in the 1976 election. His third slate-mate Eugene Daley was elected to a four-year term as trustee and will not be on the 1978 township ballot.

Asked why Bradley's name wasn't mentioned in the announcement, Stein said he was speaking for himself in announcing his re-election bid but would "welcome the support of other candidates" in the future.

Bradley is expected to announce that she will run for re-election soon.

The supervisor said the only reason he ran on a slate last election was to defeat former supervisor Robert Greenstein's four-man slate.

Stein said he believes he deserves another two-year term to allow him to build "an open, business-minded, quality government."

During his first term of office, Stein said he can point accomplishments such as a township inventory, lowered fire millage, taped board meetings, Dial-a-Ride, a homeowner protection ordinance, a central dispatch system

A clean-up rage sweeps Canton

First, there's an old tire. Then an abandoned refrigerator with its door ripped off. Further down the road are smashed beer bottles and a pile of rubbish somebody threw out of his car window.

The scene is in a quiet, rural area on Warren Road west of Canton Center. But similar piles of junk and debris mar the landscape in agricultural, business and residential areas throughout Canton Township.

Now that the spring thaw has exposed winter's hidden junk, cleaning enthusiasts are arming themselves with garbage bags and rakes in preparation for the big cleanup.

It's all part of the annual tidy-up effort known as "May Cleanup Month."

ROSE BRETZLAFF, secretary to Supervisor Harold Stein and vice-chairman of the Canton Beautiful Committee, is coordinating this year's cleanup efforts from her desk in township hall.

Mrs. Bretzlaff has already enrolled the help of Boy Scout Troop 84 to help senior citizens and the handicapped tidy up their own residential property.

Girl Scouts have pledged to clean up the Sheldon School area, and homeowner groups have set aside one or two days this month for a mass spring cleaning of their subdivisions. School children have planned to pick up litter on school grounds.

for the police, and a hospital emergency radio system in the fire-rescue department.

Stein also took credit for increasing recreation programs, instituting an economic development corporation and the Canton Beautiful Committee.

"I now seek a second term because I would like to continue to work on the critical development of a comprehensive land-use plan that is compatible with our needs for balanced growth and a broadened tax base from commercial or industrial sources," Stein said in his campaign kick-off letter.

In the announcement Stein refers to himself as a "former private contractor and Jaycee."

Stein and his wife Norma have four children.

But what Mrs. Bretzlaff is worried about are the piles of trash and rubbish that line the township's south end and rural roads.

To make the roads more picturesque for Sunday drivers, Mrs. Bretzlaff would like to enlist the help of service organizations and residents who have access to a truck.

The volunteers will be asked to cart abandoned washing machines and appliances to the township dump and toss litter into garbage bags.

Persons interested in joining the cleanup team are asked to call Mrs. Bretzlaff at township hall, 397-1000.

"I know how bad it gets out there," Mrs. Bretzlaff said. "It's in the rural areas where we need the help."

ALTHOUGH TOWNSHIP officials have set aside May for a voluntary cleanup effort, trouble could be in store for residents and business persons who refuse to pick up trash on their property.

For the first time, the township building department has surveyed all property in the township as a prelude to May Cleanup Month and recorded all cases of blight and litter.

Letters have been sent to all property owners who violate the township blight ordinance. They have been

Worker killed in sewer pipe

A construction worker was killed yesterday morning when a sewer pipe he was working in fell 10 feet into a trench.

Jerome Consiglio, 29, of 22329 Firwood, Detroit, was pronounced dead on arrival from multiple internal injuries at 11:30 a.m. by Wayne County General Hospital authorities.

The accident occurred at 11:10 a.m. near Sheldon and Palmer roads in Canton Township. Consiglio was installing sewer lines for a new subdivision going in at that corner.

According to Wayne County Det. Walter Holowka, Consiglio was fastening the top piece of crock in a sewer pipe manhole when a backhoe operator prematurely lifted two cables.

One of two pins that held the cables to the crock was still locked in when the crane operator hoisted the wires, Holowka explained.

When he brought the cables up, three sections of sewer pipe tilted and fell "about 10 feet" into a trench with Consiglio trapped inside, the detective said.

The backhoe operator, Donald Sheppard, reportedly told police that Consiglio made a hand motion to signify that both pins had been popped and the cables could be removed.

Holowka said Sheppard has 12 years experience with the company and added that the pin left in was on the operator's blind side.

The work crew at the accident site are employees of Western Construction Co. of Utica.

Consiglio is survived by his wife, Patty, and a 3-year-old daughter, Nicole. Funeral arrangements were available at press time.

Youth emphasis shifts—Faust

By TIM RICHARD

What a difference a decade makes. You could see it in the number of grey temples and bifocals among this year's crop of Schoolcraft College graduates at Sunday's 13th annual commencement.

You could hear it in the wry humor of commencement speaker William Faust, State Senate majority leader from Westland.

"Ten years ago, there was a great deal of emphasis on youth. After 30, one was literally over the hill," Faust said.

"A decade later, that all-consuming emphasis on youth has shifted," Faust told 188 persons who had earned degrees in the last year and their families in the college gymnasium.

"HAVING REACHED the age of 29 myself"—much laughter from the crowd—"I totally support this view." Faust, a newspaper editor before he became Nankin Township supervisor and a state senator, named names:

- A grey-haired grandfather, veteran of 2,250 hockey games in 30 years, "Gordie Howe still talks of next year."

- Harper's magazine's list of 10 most beautiful women has no one under 30. Lena Horne is 60, and even the ravishing Farrah Fawcett-Majors is over 30.

- The average age of Schoolcraft students is around 30. "All ages in a community are now seeking to be educated," said Faust, noting that what used to be called "adult education" is now "continuing education."

Michigan colleges have not only responded to the widespread wish of post-teenagers to attend college, Faust said, but community colleges "went a step farther: Bringing college closer to home."

ALTOGETHER, some 800 persons earned associate in arts and associate in applied sciences degrees as well as program certificates, during the past year.

As usual, President C. Nelson Grote pointed out, less than a quarter donned cap and gown for the once-a-year ceremony, many having moved on to four-year colleges or careers elsewhere. (The official list, still in preparation, will be published as soon as it's complete.)

pleted by the college, typically in five weeks.)

The two-year community college serving northwest Wayne County and portions of Oakland and Washtenaw counties has granted degrees to 6,176 since the first commencement in 1966, Grote said. It has enrolled some 81,000 persons—65,000 in "traditional" academic programs and 16,000 in continuing education and community services courses.

"It is indeed a quality institution that sprang up from a cornfield... a people's college," he said.

BESIDES THE earned degrees, there were four honorary degrees for persons who had either helped found the college or helped its advancement in some way.

Faust was honored with an honorary associate in arts degree for his legislative leadership and sponsorship of Senate Bill 344 to establish a statewide library system and cooperative library programs, which he considers his great legislative landmark.

In a surprise award, Clara Rousseau, administrative assistant to Grote and associate secretary of the college's board of trustees, received an honorary associate in applied science degree. Like the master sergeants who really run the Army and Air Force, Mrs. Rousseau has advanced in the college ranks from secretarial work to become the right arm of the administration and board.

Benton Yates, who retired in 1969 after 15 years as superintendent of the Livonia School District, received an honorary associate in arts degree for his work in establishing the college. Yates now lives in retirement in Arizona, and his award was accepted for him by A. Edward Katz, former president of the Livonia Board of Education.

Frances Hensley, "Mrs. Volunteer" in many agencies, received an honorary associate in applied science degree. A native of Wales and 37-year resident of Livonia, Mrs. Hensley helped to establish Bentley High School, the Livonia library system, St. Mary Hospital, and Schoolcraft College—along with helping such groups as Easter Seals, March of Dimes, the YMCA and Red Cross.

How smart is your dog?

Test of canine cunning tells if your elkhound's an Einstein

By CARL STODDARD

Muffin isn't a bright dog, says Kathy Coon. In fact, Muffin is a rather dumb cocker spaniel.

Muffin might not like that assessment. But if Muffin has any smarts at all, she won't argue with the woman known as a leading authority on canine intelligence.

Ms. Coon, a child psychologist in Baton Rouge, La., has written a book called "The Dog Intelligence Test." With the test, says Ms. Coon, you can discover if you own a brilliant beagle or a dim-witted Doberman.

"The test gives you an inexpensive way to spend an evening," she said. "And you can see if you have a Gomer Pyle or an Einstein."

Her own dog, "a potential obedience school dropout" named Daiquiri, was among the first to take the test. Daiquiri, the test revealed, is sort of so-so in the brains department. But even that was better than expected, Ms. Coon said.

Daiquiri was the impetus for "The Dog Intelligence Test." She had done a lot of not-so-bright things around the Coon's house and friends and neighbors had taken to calling Daiquiri "the world's dumbest dog."

SUCH TITLES did not set well with Ms. Coon, so she set out to fashion Daiquiri's brain power. She looked to the local library for help, but found no standardized intelligence tests for dogs.

Determined to disprove Daiquiri's dumbness, Ms. Coon set out to fashion her own intelligence test based on her training as a psychologist. Before she was done, she and her researchers had tested more than 700 dogs. Out of that study, they developed not only the final version of the test that appears in the book, but also a set of scales that will tell you how smart your dog is compared to the general dog population and in comparison to its own breed.

The first five tests are variations on the old shell game, with doggie treats hidden under three cups. These help determine the dogs' memory or attention span. It doesn't take long to administer these tests—for good reason. According to Ms. Coon, the average dog has an attention span of 15-30 seconds.

Our test dog was Muffin, six-week-old Cocker Spaniel. Muffin soundly flunked the first five tests. In test six, which calls for the dog to retrieve a treat from an overturned shoebox, Muffin did better. But test seven, with the shoebox partly closed, Muffin flunked again.

In test eight, a ball is thrown under a desk chair and the dog must figure out where the ball has gone. Muffin figured that one out immediately.

IN TEST nine, a towel was placed across a doorway and Muffin was called to the other side by her owner. Intent of the test was to see how well Muffin could react to a new situation. Muffin reacted swiftly.

The last test was easy. Muffin was wrapped in a towel and then given 15 seconds to escape. Muffin escaped in 14 seconds, proving that she is no Houdini among dogs.

The test is scored on a scale of one to 10. The average dog achieves a score of about 5.7. Muffin was able to chalk up a score of four. You can see how she rated, based on this scale developed by Ms. Coon.

•Zero to two: "Your dog is very dumb."

•Three to four: "Your dog is dumb."

•Five to seven: "Your dog is average."

•Eight: "Your dog is smart."

•Nine: "Your dog is very smart."

•Ten: "Your dog is brilliant."

Don't be surprised if your dog comes out less than brilliant. Less than two per cent of the dogs tested proved to be brilliant. You might also take comfort in knowing that less than two per cent are very dumb.

A NUMBER of interesting facts popped up as a result of the tests. Male dogs tested slightly smarter than females. Ms. Coon said. Mixed breed dogs and pure breeds showed little difference in intelligence.

Differences were found between the various breeds. Chihuahua were found to be very dumb. The smartest breed, according to test results, is the standard poodle. But, says Daiquiri's owner, don't put too much stock in those test results, which were on tests with 20-25 dogs in each breed.

"I was surprised by the variability," she admits, "but I do not at all think it was definitive. I don't want people to take it seriously."

Some chihuahuas may be downright brilliant, she said, while a standard poodle could be as dumb as a sleepily cucumber. What it all amounts to, she said, is that dogs must be judged individually.

Her book sells for $2.95 and is available in the Detroit area.

Kathy Coon holds a relaxed Muffin for 30 seconds (above left) and then releases the dog to search out the treat hidden under one of the plastic cups (above right). Muffin, a young cocker spaniel, failed this portion of the test. But when asked to leap over a towel held across a doorway, Muffin proved to be a champ. The tests are designed by Ms. Coon to determine a dog's memory and ability to adapt to new situations. The entire test can be administered in about 20 minutes and requires only a few easily obtained items. Results of the test may not qualify your dog for a college scholarship, but it may give you a better understanding of your dog's abilities, Ms. Coon said.

Last-chance diet for developers

This newspaper published a special section earlier this week called "Progress."

It chronicled the dramatic increase of commercial and—in particular—residential development of recent years in suburban Detroit.

While there were many examples of civic improvement, if you read between the lines you may have also noticed our greatest flaw. I'm talking about Suburban Sprawl.

More serious than the paunch many of us carry around is the physical condition into which we have allowed our cities and township to fall.

We can't keep leaving old neighborhoods behind like they were a used Impala with a blown transmission. The last chance diet for runaway development may be some type of strict growth control program that preserves open land and keeps small towns intact.

We've seen whites trek farther westward and northward every year. New subdivisions to the west are bumping into Ypsilanti and they're running smack up against Kensington Metro Park in the north.

Once agricultural lands are now sprouting split-level ranches.

This is happening because home buyers have been convinced that they are not living in a house; they are residing, "for the time being," in an investment. And residential developers are only making money when they're building new houses.

WILLIAM SERRIN, former Detroit Free Press labor writer, is presently at work on a book about American housing development. Judging from his remarks in last Thursday's New York Times, developers will not fare well in his final assessment of the housing industry.

Serrin makes the point that while legislators, columnists, and back-fence philosophers cluck about the nation's "urban problem," they ignore the larger issue.

"We have a settlement problem," Serrin writes. "We do not need an urban policy. It is wrong to say the nation has an urban problem."

"Development works like this: We build cities. We then construct in undeveloped areas—suburbs, small towns, woodlands, farm areas—without restraint. These areas become new cities with everything the old cities offered: jobs, stores, symphonies, colleges, cemeteries."

"Periodically, between wars, following riots, when unemployment rises, pressures build to aid cities. Laws are passed. Public housing. Urban renewal. Model cities. Community development.

An unemployment act. All miss the point. The problem is not the cities. The problem is what we call the suburbs."

That's us gang. You can run but you can't hide.

If we are truly sincere when we say we want to save the cities, Mr. Serrin believes we must enact a national development policy that preserves open land and forces development back into cities where there are existing sewers, streets and services.

That doesn't mean that the federal government should cart everyone back behind the confines of Eight Mile or Telegraph. It means that people living in small towns and on family farms will not be forced to sell their land to a developer when the next subdivision and Taco Bell comes through. Because it won't be going through unless the project demonstrates civic responsibility.

It means that citizens in Canton and Commerce townships shouldn't be dismissed by politicians as dreamy-eyed kooks when they attempt to curb new housing development.

Canton Township is currently spending tens of thousands of dollars just to study the concept of buying up farmers' development rights in an effort to save farmland.

In Commerce Township, near Walled Lake in Oakland County, a group of citizens who defeated the M-275 highway project is pushing for a growth limitation ordinance.

I don't know if either plan goes far enough. But it's a start.

The best measure of their potential effectiveness is the howl either proposal evokes from developers. They scream that either approach infringes on a person's right to do whatever he chooses with his property.

Serrin answers the developers with blunt language:

"Developers blackmail us."

As open areas are developed, the developers play township against township, county against county, state against state to gain tax concessions for housing developments, shopping centers, factories. Asked to return to cities, they blackmail us again, saying they need government incentives—in criminal cases this is called a bribe—to develop in cities.

"Government plays the role of conspirator. Incentives are authorized. The people who destroyed us are supposed to save us."

Think about that the next time the word "progress" is used interchangeably with new development.

Parents rally to defense of fired teacher

By GLENN BUNTING

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education refused to renew the contract of one of its probationary teachers Monday night amid charges that school administrators bungled his case.

James Durkin, a special education teacher at Plymouth Salem High School, was one of several teachers who last month were not recommended for tenure. Of those teachers, Durkin was the only one who did not submit his resignation. Instead, he chose to fight for his job.

His efforts to continue teaching at Salem High were squelched when the board voted unanimously not to renew his contract at the end of the school year.

The board, however, did provide Durkin with the right to a formal hearing when it became evident there were conflicting statements regarding his teaching capabilities. As a probationary teacher, Durkin has no contractual right to arbitration concerning the school board's decision.

As of Tuesday, the school district has been unable to deliver the termination notice to Durkin, according to Norman Kee, director of school personnel.

DURKIN LEFT the school administration building before he could be served with the notice and he has not been reached at his home, Kee said. Durkin called in sick on Tuesday morning, the day after the meeting, according to Kee.

"I have an uneasy feeling that we've been conned by the PCEA (Plymouth-Canton Education Association)," Kee said. The PCEA was successful in having Durkin's case delayed one week to Monday night.

If the school board fails to submit a notice to Durkin within 60 days of the last day of school (May 2), he will be considered a satisfactory employee and must be granted tenure under Article II, Section 3 of the Teacher Tenure Act.

"There becomes a question of timeliness of notification," Kee said. "We left a notice at his home. I want to talk to him and see if he got it today (Tuesday)."

Durkin came to Salem in September from the Gibraltar School District. Before that, he worked as a general automotive foreman.

Durkin appealed his case before the board of education Monday night, charging that his superiors filled out improper evaluations.

"WITH ONE EXCEPTION, all of the evaluations were not done properly," Durkin told the board. "They were either completed after the appropriate deadlines or by improper personnel."

Durkin also took offense to the substance of his evaluations.

"I was criticized for not having IEPs (individual education plans used especially for special education students) and accused of not keeping attendance records. Both of those charges are completely false."

In a memo to the board, Kee also noted Durkin's improper use of school stationary and postage and his inability to form positive relationships with staff, administrators and parents as reasons for his dismissal.

The school board also acted on a memo written by Dr. Ed Page, director of special education, listing reasons why Durkin should not be granted tenure. Durkin said he was "very upset" with Page's memo and that it was not worth rebutting in public.

"I have not been given an honest evaluation. People cannot say what I can or cannot do," Durkin said. "I have done an awfully good job. I like it here in Plymouth and I want to do a lot more."

"There have been some gross inconsistencies—things have not been done properly by the administration. I feel I got lost in paperwork shuffle. Is my career to suffer because people have not done their job?"

SOME BOARD MEMBERS were upset because of the great contrast in information given about Durkin.

Clean-up efforts are escalating asked to clean up trash on their property.

Bruce Phillips, head of the township ordinance department, says he will follow up on the building department survey in June. Property owners who have not tidied up their land could be issued a misdemeanor citation.

Mrs. Bretzlaff hopes that won't happen. She says the township is trying to make this year's spring cleaning as light a chore as possible.

For one thing, the township dump on Lilley, south of Michigan, will remain open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. from now until May 31. The dump is normally open only on Wednesdays and Saturdays. Anything—including old appliances—can be deposited at the dump during May.

Senior citizens and other residents who are physically unable to clean up their property can get help by calling Mrs. Bretzlaff at township hall. Boy Scouts armed with garbage bags and brooms will be dispatched to the scene.

The township is also selling garbage bags at cost this year to spur the cleanup effort. Boxes of 100 bags are available at township hall, 44508 Geddes, for $7.75 per box.

MRS. BRETZLAFF hopes this month's tidy-up efforts will trigger a "spring-cleaning fever" that will last the entire year.

The company that picks up garbage from residential areas, for example, will cart away old appliances from homeowners' curbs if residents call township hall to request the service.

For that reason, Mrs. Bretzlaff says, there's never a need to dump old appliances on rural roads.

"We can't possibly do everything this month," she said of the cleanup effort, "so the Canton Beautiful Committee wants to extend May Cleanup Month into a year-long thing."

Older streets getting new tops

The first step toward asphalt resurfacing nine streets in the City of Plymouth has been taken.

The city commission Monday night held a public hearing on necessity and voted 7-0 to proceed with each of the paving projects.

The next step will be for the city assessor to prepare the special assessment rolls, and then for a public hearing on the assessments.

Residents speaking at the public hearing raised questions about the need to resurface Fralick, Main, Starkweather, Burroughs, Adams and Harvey streets.

THE PROPOSAL from the administration is to pave:

Fralick from Harvey to Main; Main from Ann Arbor Trail to Amelia; Penniman Avenue from Main to Union; Starkweather from Main to Mill.

Burroughs from Main to Harding; Church from Harvey to Main; Adams from Church to Farmer; Hartsough from Main to Roosevelt; and Harvey from Penniman to Junction.

The year these streets were last resurfaced: Fralick, 1961; Main, 1955; Penniman Avenue, 1936; Starkweather, 1953; Burroughs, 1943; Church, 1938; Adams, 1960; Hartsough, 1958; and Harvey, 1959.

The estimated assessments to be made to property owners for the resurfacing are: $5 per front foot for residentially-zoned property; $6.50 for non-residential frontage on the narrower streets; and $9 per front foot for non-residential on the wider streets.

The wider streets for which non-residential owners will be assessed more are Fralick, Main, Penniman Avenue and Starkweather.

Much of the opposition to resurfacing came from residents of Harvey who felt their street was in good condition. Engineer Kenneth West reported that Harvey has a good concrete base (concrete was laid in 1938) and a decent surface. But, West cautioned, cracks are beginning to appear on the asphalt surface and these cracks will widen and soon threaten to deteriorate the concrete base.

"If you wait until damage is done to the base it will cost you much more than $5 per foot. The resurfacing will have to be done soon, and it can be done cheaper now," West said.

West added that construction inflation is advancing at a 1B per cent annual rate and that asphalt prices are expected to jump by 25 per cent. Inflation will force paving costs up by $2.70 per foot, West said, and the increase in asphalt prices will increase resurfacing by another $2.30 per foot.

"On these projects the average residential assessment will be $250 for a 50-foot lot. In two years that cost will be at least $300."

By paying over a nine-year period, the cost will average a little more than $25 a year, added Commissioner Mark Wehmeyer.

Piechura Pulls No Punches.

We wanted to introduce you to your hometown newspaper editor, Craig Piechura.

We thought it would be fun to tell you why he chose journalism and, now that he's up to his typewriter keys in it, how he feels about it. So we asked him.

And he told us.

"I watched too many B-movies like 'Front Page Challenge' and 'His Girl Friday' on Bill Kennedy's afternoon movies.

"I'm nosy and I know how to write. I read newspapers voraciously and I think I know what makes an interesting story. Besides, I was a lousy house painter and a worse factory worker.

"Feature stories, such as the couple from Hay Springs, Nebraska who found $900 under their Canton motel bed, are interesting not because the motel is in our backyard, but because the story is offbeat.

"Community journalism should not be synonymous with 'bush league.' The information we print should be more specialized and localized, but no less thorough than the metropolitan dailies."

Candid.

Straightforward.

The kind of coverage you get in each edition of your hometown newspaper.

Aren't you glad its editor was a lousy house painter?

Hines bike days endangered

By TIM RICHARD

Bike days are in trouble.

The trouble is finding overtime money for the Wayne County sheriff's department road patrol.

For the past four years, E.N. Hines Drive in the Middle Rouge River basin has been closed to motor vehicles for four Saturdays. Thousands of bicyclists and many hikers take over in a gasoline-free, 20-mile jaunt inspired by the environmental movement.

This year's first bike day has been scheduled for May 13. Others are to be June 10 (an earlier printed report erroneously made it June 11), Sept. 9 and Oct. 14.

UNLESS THE Wayne County Board of Commissioners can act today (Thursday) on an emergency basis, the first bike day, at least, is in doubt.

It takes 18 votes to consider the sheriff's overtime money as an emergency issue. "I don't think it's got 18 votes," said Commissioner George Killeen, an east side Detroit Democrat who is the new chairman of the public safety committee.

Killeen himself talks skeptically about bike days.

To the request of State Rep. Robert Law (R-Livonia) that the county hold four more bike days this year, Killeen said, "I wonder if the people of his district are willing to spend that kind of money."

"I SEE TWO problems," Killeen said. "Some citizens near Hines park are not so keen about it. And the sheriff will have to take some guff when traffic can't go through."

Commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia) is one of five members of Killeen's public safety committee, which is handling the bike days proposal. Significantly, she notes, she is the only suburban member on that committee.

The bike days issue came to the full board of commissioners in the form of a letter from Rep. Law on April 27. It required 18 votes for immediate consideration.

But Mrs. Dumas said the board voted 14-10 against immediate consideration. That meant it went to the public safety committee.

Killeen was scheduled to take up the question Wednesday in his committee. Then, he said, it would have to go to the board's powerful ways and means committee. Ways and means was to meet briefly today, and Killeen was doubtful it could be pushed through as an emergency item.

Asked what local bikers could do to push their cause, Mrs. Dumas advised: "Don't stir up Killeen."

KILLEEN SAID Sheriff William Lucas already has overtime money in his budget. "Even if we don't approve $5,000 extra, the sheriff could assign it (bike day patrols) as one of his own priorities."

"But the sheriff may have other priorities. The jail. Metro squad."

"The sheriff could assign the overtime now. Then if he runs out of overtime at the end of the year, he would have to come back to us (the board) for a supplemental appropriation."

As Killeen sees it, Lucas is protecting himself politically by going to the board before bike days and asking for overtime money rather than asking for supplemental money at the end of the year.

The public safety chairman said a compromise might be to approve only $1,250 immediately, allowing for at least the May 13 bike day.

Born in Plymouth

Richwine marks 50th year in law

By W.W. EDGAR

It isn't very often that a fellow has a chance to retrace the footsteps of his youth.

This was the pleasant experience of Perry Richwine, well-known Plymouth attorney, who will celebrate his golden anniversary as a lawyer on May 9.

Standing in front of the Mayflower Meeting House, following a meeting of the Plymouth Rotary Club of which he is a long-time member, he looked through the window of the nearby art gallery and confided that it was there he got his certificate in 1928.

A lot of water has gone under the bridge since, but Richwine, who specializes in estates, can recall many of his top cases and how he got started.

AS HE SPOKE, he proudly pointed out that he had been in Plymouth all of his life.

"I was born up on the corner of Pennington Avenue and Main Street where the First Federal Bank now stands and I haven't been very far from it since."

He allowed the calendar to turn as he recalled that his father had a harness shop at the location and that the family lived upstairs.

Through the years, life has been kind to him. He has travelled more than many other individuals and has been around the world once by plane and an almost complete circle of the globe by boat.

As he allowed the memories to return he recalled that after graduating from high school, he attended the Detroit College of Law where he graduated from just prior to his 19th birthday.

"It is a funny thing, but my brother also wanted to be an attorney and couldn't quite make it. So, I took up law just to show him. We started business together as accountants, and had our office in the building next to the Schrader Funeral Home."

"After a year we moved to what is now the Meeting House. In those days it was the Odd Fellows Temple, and once housed eight bowling alleys."

RELIVING THE DAYS of his youth, Richwine pointed out that when he hung his shingle in Plymouth there were only three other attorneys in the city—the late John Dayton, John Crandall and Ford Brooks.

Over the years he admits his profession—and the city—have been good to him.

He has had about 5,000 clients in the half century he has been practicing law. And he manages to add 100 each year.

Aside from his legal work he also has had time to serve the community in other ways. He has served as mayor of the City of Plymouth, has been a municipal judge and has served as the president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Asked if he could recall his most important cases, he quickly revealed that one of the biggest came early in his career when he handled the George H. Fisher estate on Detroit's east side—an estate that included a 390-acre farm.

WHILE WAITING his golden anniversary, Richwine chuckles now when he remembers he once was offered a job in the Plymouth United Savings bank—precursor of the National Bank of Detroit on the corner of Main Street and Pennington Avenue.

"I didn't take it. I wanted to be an attorney. And I have never regretted the choice."

He has no intention of retiring. "What would I do, if I retired? The way it is now I take a certain period of time each year to travel and the rest of the year I work on a job I like."

That philosophy carried him to a goal few men ever reach—50 years at a job he likes.

Perry Richwine, as a young boy in 1907, and at present—an attorney celebrating his 50th year in practice.

Jaycees high school drag meet is May 13

Region K Jaycees will sponsor its seventh annual high school drag meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 13 at Milan Dragway.

Competition is open to all high school students in Wayne County. Each student must have a Michigan driver's license and a 1977-78 high school identification card. Any car, truck, van or motorcycle may be entered if it passes a vehicle safety inspection. For four wheel vehicles, this includes tread on all tires except slicks, brakes and safety belts. Motorcycles must have tread on tires, brakes, and riders must wear helmet, leather jacket, heavy duty shoes or boots and gloves.

The competition will be divided into 10 divisions called ET brackets. Seven brackets are for four wheel vehicles, two brackets for motorcycles and one bracket for women. ET bracket racing allows all competitors an equal chance by giving a slower vehicle a head start over a faster vehicle based on the difference between the two average times in the quarter mile.

The 10 brackets include: Cars, trucks, vans

- Bracket I: 14:50 sec and under
- Bracket II: 14:51-15:50 sec.
- Bracket III: 15:51-16:25 sec.

- Bracket IV: 16:26-17:00 sec.
- Bracket V: 17:01-18:00 sec.
- Bracket VI: 18:01-19:00 sec.
- Bracket VII: 19:01-sec. and over.

Motorcycles

- Bracket VIII: 15:50 sec. and under
- Bracket IX: 15:51 sec. and over
- Women's Division
- Bracket X: All times.

Each bracket winner and runner-up will receive a trophy and merchandise award. The top eliminator and runner-up will also receive a trophy and merchandise award. In addition, there will be a trophy for the best appearing car, truck, van and motorcycle, top speed and low ET.

Entry for racers is $5. Admission for spectators is $3, which includes pit pass.

"Street racing is a problem that exists in varying degrees in all communities," said Marshall Henry, project chairman. "This project has been designed to remove the students from the street and put them on the track, where they belong."

To get to Milan, take I-94 west to I-23 south (Toledo Exit). Take the second Milan exit marked Plank Road. Do not take the exit marked Milan. Follow Plank Road four miles to the drag strip.

Township to auction off two kitchen sinks

The date of Canton's first municipal equipment auction has been moved up a week to 10 a.m. "sharp" Sunday, May 20, to avoid a conflict with Memorial Day vacationers.

The auction was originally scheduled for May 27, but Treasurer Anne Bradley said that the auctioneer recommended the date change to insure a bigger turnout.

The township has hired Rollo Juckette of Dundee to act as auctioneer. For his oratorical efforts, Juckette will receive seven per cent of the selling price of all items sold.

The auctioneer was selected over Jerry Helmer of Saline because his bid was lower. Helmer wanted 10 per cent commission on the selling price of the auctioned items.

Juckette also will be paid between $100 and $150 to advertise the items to be sold in four local papers and the auction bulletin, Farmer's Advance. The auctioneer will be accompanied by a clerk and a cashier who will be paid an additional $70.

TREASURER BRADLEY has compiled a partial list of items that will go on the auction block which includes a 1966 Dodge stake truck, a 1970 Ford pickup, a 1960 Army half-track from the DPW, two Ford tractor cabs, army cots, medical supplies, water meter parts, a tractor fuel tank, electrical wiring, a welder and not one, but two kitchen sinks.

The building department will try to sell four 1973 Plymouths and one 1974 model. Two fork lifts and one engine pump also will go up for grabs.

Fellows Creek Golf Course was bought by the township late last year and township officials are compiling a list of obsolete equipment at that facility to be sold at the auction.

The bidding will take place in the DPW yard located next to the Canton Township business office at 44508 Geddes Road.

Bus-buying moratorium expires

By TIM RICHARD

Transit officials in southeastern Michigan hailed the legislature's passage of a bill which ends a two-year moratorium on new bus purchases.

"I would say it's great news," said Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy, when the legislature passed a bill setting standards for bus equipment for wheelchair lifts.

"There were some inherent problems, but this came as close to being good as anything we're going to have," said state Rep. Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia), who voted for the bill.

The wheelchair lift standards' bill will allow the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority to order 181 large buses for line-haul service and 124 small buses for a dial-a-ride service. A major beneficiary of those orders will be Murphy's OCART, an Oakland County-wide, inter-municipal service.

Oakland County commissioners have threatened to quit SEMTA unless progress is made by Oct. 1 on implementing the OCART plan.

Larry E. Salci, SEMTA general manager, doubts that any of the 42 buses for OCART will be ready before November or December, although "I'm going to do everything in my power to get them."

THE LEGISLATURE placed a moratorium on new bus purchases in November 1976 when handicapped persons raised a civil rights-type issue, contending all vehicles should be accessible to them.

Two or three legislative attempts to set standards failed, Kirksey recalled, including one which fell to Gov. William Milliken's veto.

The bill passed last week requires that:

- All line haul (large) buses be equipped with lifts for wheelchairs. SEMTA officials place the cost of these lifts at $10,000 apiece. Affected will be a total of 181 buses for which SEMTA asked federal and state funds in 1976-77.

Some small buses for dial-a-ride services be equipped with wheelchair devices, though not all. SEMTA must submit a plan, to be approved by the state director of transportation, showing that equal quality service will be available to the handicapped and non-handicapped alike. Cost of equipping small buses will be $3,000 apiece, a SEMTA source said. Some 124 vehicles are affected.

The bill is to have immediate effect, as soon as it reaches Milliken's desk and he signs it, as expected.

THE SENATE passed the bill April 26 on a 27-8 vote. Supporting it was Sen. Daniel Cooper (D-Oak Park), whose district includes Southfield and Farmington.

Opposed were Sens. Donald E. Bishop (R-Rochester), whose district includes Birmingham, northwest Troy and West Bloomfield, and R. Robert Geake (R-Northville), whose district includes Plymouth, Livonia and Redford.

Absent and not voting were Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland), whose district includes Garden City and Canton, and Sen. Bill S. Huffman (D-Madison), whose district includes southeast Troy.

The house passed the bill April 20, 85-8. Supporters included Reps. John Bennett (D-Redford), Thomas Brown (D-Westland), Kirksey, Robert Law (R-Livonia), Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti), Wilbur Brotherton (R-Farmington), James Defebaugh (R-Birmingham), Richard Fessler (R-Union Lake), Ruth McNamee (R-Birmingham) and Sal Rocca (D-Sterling Heights).

Absent were William Keith (D-Garden City) and Joseph Forbes (D-Oak Park). No Observer & Eccentric area representatives opposed the bill.

EXPLAINING his no vote, Geake said the bill "would add $10,000 to the cost of every line haul bus purchased, but it wouldn't solve the problem of the handicapped who can't get from their homes to the bus stops."

EMORY DANIELS

Never help a stranger unless he's a human

There have been some conclusions I've reached by jumping, but one I didn't jump to is my opinion about dogs.

In earlier columns, I have shared with you my personal convictions that dogs aren't good pets, and that Toby lives at my house only as my extreme sacrifice for the members of my family who want a dog for a pet.

But if I were an uncompromising, unloving, insensitive father, there would be no dog in my household. And if I were God, there would be no dog in my neighborhood.

But being mortal, I must learn to adjust to dogs in the neighborhood.

FREUD PROBABLY would trace my dislike for dogs to Blackie, a cocker spaniel who was my dog during my early boyhood years. Blackie, without warning or explanation, died on me.

His replacement ran in front of a car and got killed. The next replacement kept running into the school playground next door to knock little kids over and had to be replaced by another dog, who also got hit by a car.

But I don't think those replacements have anything to do with my dislike for dogs. The main reason is that dogs slobber and drool all over people. Dogs shed hair, sometimes smell peculiar, and will make messes on floors if not let outside on a scheduled basis.

These reasons for disliking dogs have been reinforced by a number of specific incidents in my life relating to dogs, such as the time I was attacked in a junkyard by a German shepherd. A few weeks ago, I wrote in this column about making a fool of myself in public chasing a friend's dog named Jingles.

Now I will give Toby credit for not attacking me and for not running away. In fact, Toby seldom does anything overt to annoy me (he's too stupid).

Actually, I can recall only two times I was annoyed with Toby. The first was when he crawled into my bed and laid his head on the pillow next to mine. I was in the process of waking up, leaned over to kiss my wife good morning, and felt my lips being pressed against a soft, moist, rubbery nose.

I opened my eyes quickly and there was Toby, laying flat on his back. He remained in that position for about two seconds before hitting the floor.

Another time Toby spent the summer jumping through screen windows in a house we just moved into, and that annoyed me. But that adjustment period lasted only 90 days, so Toby survived.

THE REAL PROBLEM is that Toby has spoiled me. I have come to expect other dogs to come when I call them, and I naturally assume other dogs won't bite me in response to a friendly gesture.

Which brings me to another incident regarding me and dogs. Last Saturday morning I was in my backyard digging up dead trees I had planted last year.

(That's a ritual—I plant trees in the spring, they die, and I dig them up the following spring).

While pulling up a dead seedling, I noticed another dog dancing around the backyard playing with Toby. I ignored them until Bobo began to act up. Bobo is a Siberian Husky who is a good dog in most ways, except that he lacks tolerance for other dogs. Three years ago when we first moved to where we're now living, Bobo jumped the fence and attacked Toby a half dozen times—drawing blood three times.

When Bobo leaped over the side fence and began pacing back and forth along my rear fence, I knew he was getting ready to attack this strange dog in my yard. I put Toby inside and went back to work. If Bobo wants to chew up this strange dog, that's OK by me.

Then my daughter came into the backyard and called out to this strange dog: "Hello, Butchie, what are you doing here?" Butchie? Who's Butchie? Come to find out, Butchie is Frank's dog. And Frank is my neighbor a couple blocks away, and a good neighbor at that. That puts a different perspective on things.

If Bobo wants to chew on a dog, let it happen. But I can't let Bobo chew up Frank's dog. I know nothing about Butchie, but Frank's a nice guy.

So I drop the shovel and start calling for Frank's dog to get him inside my house with Toby. "Com'ere, Butchie, com'ere." (What a ridiculous name for a dog!)

Butchie would come running up to me, and then shy away as I reached for his collar. Finally I reached down and grabbed his collar. The moment I did, Butchie half-swallowed my thumb and began chewing on it.

I released the collar and let Butchie run off. I'd rather have Bobo chew up Butchie (Frank or no Frank) than to have Butchie chew on me.

I understand why many people love dogs. Hopefully, you now understand better why my feelings are at the other extreme.

$1,050 in gifts to college

Gifts worth $1,050, including cash, have been received by the Schoolcraft College board of trustees.

An addition to the Michael Bulger scholarship fund of $500 was made by M.A. Barnes, the check being forwarded to the college by Bulger's family.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bulger of Detroit, Michael had completed his first year in Schoolcraft's culinary arts program at the time of his death. His parents started the scholarship fund last December with a $2,500 gift.

Dr. Michael Sucher of Scottsdale, Ariz., donated $300 to be used as an award for excellence in clinical nursing. The sum will provide awards of $75 in each of four years.

Dr. Eric Bradner, Schoolcraft's president emeritus, donated a set of books on the American southwest with a stated value of $150. Bradner has made that kind of contribution in each of the last three years, giving the college library which bears his name an unusually good selection on the southwest's history, culture and people.

Volunteers at the college women's resource center donated $100, which they raised through the sale of T-shirts, sweatshirts and tote bags. The money will go into the center's library fund.

State fire loss down in '77

Statewide fire loss for last year shows a significant decrease over the previous year, according to the state fire marshal.

The estimated fire loss for the state was almost $17 million, or $27 million less than the loss recorded in 1976. The estimated value of property and contents involved in fires was nearly $7 billion.

Fire departments responded to 206,065 alarms, which included 82,297 fires.

Wine Cookery

For generations Europeans have utilized wines not only at mealtime but also as an aperitif (typically sherry) and as a pleasant beverage after the meal (most often port).

As Americans turn increasingly to wine both with meals and in cocktail situations, vineyard owners predict that there will be increased demand for ports and sherries.

Ingenook Vineyards, long a leader in the California wine industry and internationally known for its table wines, also produces outstanding premium aperitif and dessert wines. In fact, two Ingenook wines—Cream Sherry and Tawny Port—captured silver medal awards in the prestigious Club Oenologique competition held recently in London.

"I think, unfortunately, that many Americans are put off by ports and sherries because they believe there is a mystique about them," says Judith Jeanson, the winery's food consultant. "Too often, people are reluctant to offer a sherry before a meal or a port after because they are afraid it is so European that it's pretentious."

"On the other hand, the service of port or sherry to a guest is a gesture to make one welcome and is the antithesis of pretension," she points out.

Americans have also begun to understand the use of ports and sherries in cooking, Ms. Jeanson, a classically-trained French caterer and cooking teacher says.

"Ports and sherries in cooking add a dimension that is not there with table wines. Port and sherry have distinctive tastes and both the color and the flavor is retained in the result. Besides you can use port or sherry in recipes as sophisticated as glazes for various Chinese delicacies as well as simple cheese balls."

Some of Ms. Jeanson's recipes are available without charge from the winery. Just write: Aperitif Recipes, c/o Ingenook Vineyards, P.O. Box 19, Rutherford, California 94573.

The Stroller

Shortage of cows spurs success

By W.W. EDGAR

One of the questions most often asked The Stroller as he strolls along the journalistic trail concerns his presence here along the banks of the Rouge in southeastern Michigan.

Having read of his fondness of the Pennsylvania Dutch Country, with all of its traditions and life styles, they ask:

How did you ever come out here?

It is a good question. But they are just as puzzled when The Stroller tells them that he wouldn't be here if Harry Gangware had not run out of cows.

The answer seems to stun them, but Harry Gangware and his cows—or lack of them—played an important part in The Stroller's career in journalism.

THE QUEER TWIST in the life of the young lad from the Dutch Country started more than a half century ago. And it all came about because of a split in the Democratic Party that left it without a daily paper. In those days, politics and newspapers were linked much more closely than they are today.

It so happened that Harry Gangware was a leader in the Democratic Party and the rich, old type of farmer who usually got what he wanted.

With the need for a newspaper and none available, he decided to organize one. Thus was born the Allentown Record, housed in a residence close to the county courthouse where he was a visitor most every day.

To head the paper, he got his partners in the venture to employ one of the best of the old-time editors who, too, was a staunch Democrat. This old editor, accepted the assignment with the stipulation that he would hire his

Off the Walls

Ziggy-zaggy rimlook

I'm not exactly what one would call an incredibly competent hostess. I think a more apt description of my entertaining technique would be "all-round social klutz."

I have a friend I absolutely adore, who does such clever little things to titillate the palates of her guests. She has been known to cut a cantaloupe in half, scoop out the innards, make the rimlook all ziggy-zaggy and then fill the shell with cubed cantaloupe, watermelon, grapes and all kinds of neat stuff. She places this concoction on the coffee table next to the cheese ball which she has hand-made from scratch all by her very own self. A project such as this would take me the better part of a week, and even then it would probably be my cheese-ball that would come out with the ziggy-zaggy edges.

At my house you're doing good if I point a bowl of potato chips in your direction. If you're really lucky, and I haven't seen you in over a year, well you're in for a real treat. I'll go all out and make my world famous chip dip. One envelope of Mrs. Grass' onion soup mixed with sour cream. That's about as classy as I care to get.

Now please don't get me wrong. I'm not a social klutz by choice. I suspect that it's something one is born with, like frizzy hair and myopic vision. Somewhere, way down deep in my chromosomes there is a missing element which makes it impossible for me to create a canape or mold a mousse.

As for liquid refreshment, when you're talking about wines you can just skip over me when it comes to the "question and answer period." I know there are white wines and I know there are red wines and I know that most of the ones I have encountered of either shade taste fairly good. But I can't tell one wine from another. Am I insulting my guests if I offer them Gallo Hearty Burgundy? How much wine is it proper to pour per dose? Is it impolite to drink out of the bottle?

See what I mean. It's all so complicated. Life is so much simpler if you just toss your guest a beer.

If, by some weird quirk of fate, I am required to serve dinner to anyone outside of my immediate family, I simply panic. You can't bluff your way through a dinner with potato chips and beer. Somehow I always manage to put in at least a week's worth of work, sweat and anxiety to produce a meal that could easily be matched by an afternoon at Burger King. I wonder if Ronald MacDonald caters? A big clown would feel right at home in my kitchen!

own staff and that he wanted no one who ever had been inside of a daily newspaper office. He wanted to train his own.

With a smile from Lady Luck, The Stroller was chosen, and the chance to become a newspaperman gave him the long-awaited opportunity to get out of the muck and grease of the machine shops.

THE NEW PAPER got off to a good start. It so happened that the Democrats were he majority in that section of Pennsylvania, a state which was normally Republican. But after three years of battling the well-financed opposition, The Allentown Record came upon dark days. It finally ran out of funds. Came one evening when we were told that there would be no pay—maybe for a day or two. But we were asked to continue working.

We did. We all wrote our stories. But we put them on a spike and informed the old editor that we would send the copy to the Linotype when we received our pay.

A hurried call was placed to Mr. Gangware, who was treasurer of the infant paper. He hastened to the office. Looking over the situation and seeing that the paper wasn't going to be printed, he acted swiftly.

He placed a call to one of the large beef suppliers in Lehigh County. Reaching the man he wanted, he sold him enough cows to meet the payroll. The checks were made out and we went to work.

That hurdle crossed, Harry Gangware sat back and hoped the big financial storm was ended. It was. But only temporarily.

Several months later, the crisis arose again. This time he repeated his remedy. He called the beef supplier again. With the same result. He sold enough cows to meet the payroll.

When he asked another of his Democratic cronies for financial help, one of them, Johnny Fredericks, remarked in front of the editorial staff: "Harry, I am in the candy business. I can't sell my stock. It isn't big enough to meet the payroll."

So Harry had to call the beef houses again.

BY THIS TIME the reporting staff realized that the days of the Allentown Record were numbered. There then began to a hunt for new positions.

It so happened that Lady Luck smiled on The Stroller again. As the Allentown Record was sinking, Edgar A. Guest, the lovable poet of the Detroit Free Press, came to Allentown for a stop along the Chautauqua circuit, which was equivalent to our Town Hall series of today.

Being a lover of Mr. Guest's poems, The Stroller just couldn't miss the chance to hear him. Following the program, he had the chance to meet the great poet and had an enjoyable chat for more than half an hour.

It wound up with an invitation to join the sports staff of the Free Press and he reported the following Wednesday, Feb. 3, 1924.

On the morning he left home, the rival newspaper carried the story that the Allentown Record had breathed its last.

But if kindly, old Harry Gangware hadn't run out of cows, The Stroller possibly would still be back in the Dutch Country.

Life takes some funny turns.

New buses to be state of the art

By TIM RICHARD

One of these days, a new SEMTA bus will pull up to your stop and "kneel" as you board.

The driver will use a compressed air device that makes the right front end dip several inches to reduce the height boarders have to climb. It will be a boon if you're elderly or arthritic.

Inside, you'll notice the windows are tinted, cutting heat and glare. It will be air-conditioned for summer's heat. Contour seats will extend from the wall, so there will be no legs to trip over.

Such comfort is no pie-in-the-sky dream. This week, 189 new buses—the first redesigned units since 1959—began rolling off the assembly line, one per hour, at GMC Truck and Coach in Pontiac.

THE BUYER is the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, which will keep 78 buses itself and assign 111 to the Detroit Department of Transportation, which SEMTA is destined to absorb.

Not only will the new RTS-2 buses have the aforementioned comfort features; they will also be safer, longer lasting and more efficient than the earlier generation of buses.

Moreover, said GMC plant manager Bob Truxell, they are superior to the "Transbus" prototype being considered as a standard by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

SEMTA General Manager Larry E. Salci and Dan Morrill, his assistant, agree, particularly when it comes to serving wheelchair users. Here's why:

TRANSBUS' ramp is six feet long. The bus floor is 18 inches from the ground. A person in a wheelchair on a six-inch curb would have to ascend 12 inches in travelling up the six-foot ramp.

"That's a one-inch rise for every six inches. I tried it, and it's ha-a-a-a-rd," said Truxell.

The situation gets worse if there is no curb, such as in SEMTA's park-and-ride pickups in Plymouth Townships and Livonia, and along curbside mile roads in the suburbs.

There, the wheelchair user would have to rise 18 inches over the six-foot ramp length, or one inch vertically for every four inches horizontally.

In contrast, GMC's offering will use a hydraulic lift at the rear door. It will have locks to hold the wheelchair in place so that it doesn't roll when the bus is on a hill, said Salci.

"WITH INDIVIDUAL front-end suspension," Truxell went on, "these buses will have a better ride and less maintenance. Everything is very corrosion-resistant."

In addition, vehicles used in Detroit, where city buses carry schoolchildren, will have fiber glass seats that can't be slashed and are virtually graffiti-proof. Acrylic side panels will also resist graffiti, Salci said.

With welds instead of joints, the GMC bus will have fewer, if any, squeaks as it ages. Truxell hesitated about guaranteeing the number of years the new buses would last.

But Salci said he hoped their life would be 15 years. Currently, the federal government funds replacement vehicles when buses reach 12 years.

The GMC buses will cost an average of $91,000 for D-DOT and $96,000 for SEMTA, Salci said. Transbus' price-tag, although the vehicle is not in production, is projected to be between $125,000 and $135,000, he added.

The GMC buses are powered by diesel engines produced in the Detroit Diesel Allison plant in Redford.

ALTOGETHER, the 189 new buses will cost $18.2 million.

Funding is 80 per cent federal, 20 per cent state and local.

SEMTA's contingent of 78 will be divided equally, 26 each, between the western Wayne, Oakland and Macomb division terminals.

The entire group should be on the streets by mid-July. Most will be replacement buses for older buses in the SEMTA fleet.

The first buses will not be equipped with wheelchair lifts, but the final 57 will have them, Salci said. Those will be assigned to the Michigan Avenue and Gratiot lines.

They're the first new SEMTA buses to be received since November of 1975. Controversies over bus standards, at both the federal and state levels, have held up bus production.

"We are well aware," said Salci, "of the frustration of knowing what is needed and being unable to satisfy the demand."

Consumers Power and solar energy.

We believe that solar energy has a great deal of potential "down the road." One of my jobs as an Energy Management Engineer is to study that road and monitor the growing number of solar heating installations and activities here in Michigan and around the country.

Utilities, generally, are learning more about how the sun's energy can power our tomorrows. Nationally, 150 utility companies are sponsoring 486 solar energy projects.

This year, Consumers Power contributed substantially to The Electric Power Research Institute, an organization that studies a variety of energy sources including solar. And we expect this research to pay off.

Consumers Power Company intends to keep up with this developing and promising technology. And we will keep our customers informed of the advancements of solar power as an energy source for homes and industry in Michigan.

Jockeying under way to open bargaining to public at S'craft

By TIM RICHARD

Collective bargaining at Schoolcraft College, like anywhere else, takes place behind closed doors. But there is a lot of jockeying for favor going on in public.

The faculty forum, bargaining agent for instructors, last week invited the elected board of trustees to meet with "forum officers and concerned faculty"; the board politely said no to a meeting but left the door open for communication; and the administration found a list of "basic errors" in the forum's argument that "the administration has obviously given priority to an increase of administrative personnel over an increase in fulltime faculty."

The forum's contract with the two-year community college expires at the end of summer. Negotiations have begun, and the college is seeking some major contract changes.

WILLIAM NICKELS, the probable next president of the forum since he is unopposed on the ballot, has given the board three "position papers" from the forum in recent months.

Last week Nickels requested a full-scale meeting with the board because "the communication has been one-way."

But board chairman Paul Y. Kadish replied, "The time is inappropriate. We're getting into the throes of bargaining. We don't want to undercut our bargaining team."

Kadish added the board could run into problems with the new state Open Meetings Act if it didn't post notice of such a meeting and make the session public.

Trustees Harry Greenleaf, Nancie Blatt, Rosina Raymond and Mark McQuesten indicated they wanted to hear the forum's views. Mrs. Blatt added she was "leery" of such a discussion during bargaining, but McQuesten said "the board should never feel limited to communication with the administration."

PRESIDENT C. Nelson Grote, replying to a forum position paper on alleged administrative growth, told the board the faculty paper had basic errors.

Grote said the forum sought to show a cause and effect relationship between growth of administration and holding the line on fulltime faculty hiring.

The faculty paper said that since 1970 the administrative staff has leaped from 23 to 36 while fulltime faculty positions had remained almost stable, rising from 157 to 162.

The actual growth in administrators, said Grote, has been 24 to 32. Meanwhile, the number of teaching jobs has risen from 215 to 256 when the "full-time equivalent of part-time faculty and fulltime faculty teaching under supplemental contracts" are included, he said.

Thus, while there are 162 fulltime jobs, the number of part-time instructors has increased from the equivalent of 58 fulltimers to 94 fulltimers.

SCHOOLCRAFT has had a policy of hiring holding level the number of fulltime faculty and hiring many part-timers. While the faculty forum has complained about this policy, neither the administration nor the board has said why.

Privately, some trustees revealed the board and union talked about full-time versus part-time jobs during the last round of contract negotiations. Publicly, however, only the faculty is talking about it.

The forum's position papers have been presented by Nickels, a vice-president of the union. In current balloting, Nickels is unopposed for the union presidency. He is a chemistry instructor who has been on the Schoolcraft faculty since 1968.

Nickels will succeed Richard Arlen, an accounting instructor who has been forum president for eight years, the longest tenure of any Michigan Education Association local. Arlen has been a less frequent visitor to college board meetings since being elected to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education two years ago.

Sisters find success in running feed store

By W.W. EDGAR

Just about a year has passed since Catherine Foege and her two married sisters—Mary Perlongo and Rita Thompson—took over the old Feed Store on Canton Center Road in Canton and even they are surprised at what happened.

The ladies came into the management of the landmark business in a most unusual way. Until the death of Charlie Hewer, they never dreamed that they would carry on the tradition. "But our uncle owned the property," Catherine explained, "and the store was empty. So, we took it as a challenge. Not only have we succeeded but we are having a lot of fun."

Neither of the sisters had much experience in business and the venture in the old store was quite a gamble. Catherine had been employed in a flower shop. Mary was employed with the Bethlehem Steel Company, and Rita was a housewife.

GIVEN THE chance to show what they could do, the women set about the task with enthusiasm and decided to revitalize the business.

The three donned blue jeans and set about the task of refurbishing the interior, then attacked the outside and gave it a new look and a new name. It now is the Country Feed Store. But it carries on in the Hewer tradition.

"We've had a lot of pleasant surprises during the year," Mrs. Perlongo said. "Add one of them was the fact that many of Mr. Hewer's customers who had been dealing with him for years came back to deal with us."

"And added to that, we picked up a lot of new customers, some from as far away as Belleville. Our first year has been wonderful and we just hope it keeps going."

SINCE TAKING OVER the women have more than doubled the inventory and now offer seed and feed of all kinds.

And to carry on a tradition, they even have buckwheat pancake mix on the main counter.

"Mr. Hewer always kept the pancake mix in stock," Catherine said, "and we just decided to carry on as he did. And there is quite a demand for it."

The ladies admit that they have learned a lot in the last year—not only about business, but about people in general.

"We just love meeting the people who come here," Mrs. Perlongo confided "and it's so surprising how friendships can be built."

While their shelves are well-stocked, Catherine was quick to point out that their largest sales have been in bird seed and feed for horses. "But we have the right feed for all animals—even both raw and roasted peanuts."

DURING THE 40 YEARS Charlie

Hewer ran the feed store it became a friendly, meeting place. Most every day some of the old "cronies" would drop in for a visit. The old-timers seemed to have a fraternity of their own.

Even that tradition is being carried on. Many of the old friends who called on Hewer now come back to visit and wish the new ones well.

On a recent afternoon Clarence Moore, owner of Plymouth's sheep farm, dropped in "just to say hello."

Mary Perlongo (left) and Catherine Foege discuss their success at business since taking over Hewer's Feed Store in Canton. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey).

EASY TO BUILD
PATIO or POOL DECK

So long, Old Paint
Farewell, Fungus
Take off Termites

America is decking out the out of doors with unpainted wood that's beautiful to look at, yet doesn't need looking after.

It's called lumber-scaping. And it's done with Outdoor Wood—real wood deep treated with Wolman preservatives to keep it handsome, sturdy and worry-free for decades.

What nature does for Tidewater Cypress and Heart Redwood, the Wolman process does for Outdoor Wood. Only cheaper. And you don't have to paint it or stain it, unless you want to.

Build yourself a beautiful backyard deck with Outdoor Wood. Leave it unpainted. Then lay back and watch it blend in naturally with the landscaping.

That's lumber-scaping. And that's living. It's great for pole barns, machine storage buildings, and garages.

Cutting cost of schools is no bargain

Imagine shopping for a new car. You are told you could purchase one for $3,000.

Complete? Well, almost. The car has everything it needs to drive down the street. But it's missing some "options" which you may want. For an additional $1,500 you can add bumpers, windows, hubcaps, power steering, and windshield wipers.

You would resent any salesman offering a deal like that. We expect the price of any commodity to include all the basics for reasonable operation—items like windows, power steering, bumpers.

Most of us wouldn't want to be quoted $3,000 for a car and another $1,500 for options that are practically necessities these days. Elementary marketing principles demand otherwise, and so does common sense. Yet last Thursday, more than 3,600 Plymouth and Canton residents resisted such a common sense approach.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT failed to get voter approval of two property tax propositions—the first for 4½ mills for operation, the second for a ½-mill to be earmarked for building maintenance.

About the only thing heard from critics is that the first proposition should have been split. The 4½ mills included a renewal of three mills and a request for 1½ additional mills. Critics argued the renewal and new millage should have been separated so voters could have made a choice on each. That would have resulted in three ballot proposals—3, 1½ and ½-mill.

The school board's position was that the renewal and additional millages were needed just to maintain existing programs. The added millage would not finance any new programs, but was needed to meet higher expenses caused by inflation and new students moving into the district.

A "yes" vote for the renewal represents a vote to continue programs as now offered. Likewise, a "yes" vote for the 1½ added mills also was a vote to continue programs as now offered. Since both votes give the same direction, the school board reasoned, they should be lumped together.

The question to be answered was: Do you want existing programs continued? If you do, then your "yes" vote would be needed on both millage amounts, regardless of how they are packaged.

The board basically told voters it will cost 4½ mills and didn't try to confuse anyone by saying it will cost 3 mills plus 1½ mills. The decision school trustees made is the same one we expect of the car salesman: Quote us $4,500, not $3,000 plus $1,500.

IN DOING SO, the school board indicated it had faith in the electorate to make a rational decision and not be confused by trying to decide if one amount of millage was more needed than another. Both amounts are equally needed, unless you want to cut programs.

Certainly some residents Thursday were voting for cuts in program, and these residents behaved rationally by voting "no" on either or both proposals. It was the voters who want to continue current programs who behaved irrationally in voting "no" because Proposal I was a package.

If the school board made a mistake, it was an error in assuming voters are rational beings capable of making rational decisions if they have the facts. We don't fault the board for making that error. We, too, start with the assumption that people will behave rationally if they are given all the facts needed to make a decision.

If voters choose to be irrational, then they should be given the opportunity of behaving irrationally—by being allowed to vote on three ballot proposals June 12. The packaging doesn't affect the basic choice, but might be better understood by voters. The point to understand, though, is that the board wasn't trying to "fool" anyone by advertising the purchase price of the complete car at $4,500.

Under the rose

Among educated peoples, the term "sub rosa" has come to mean confidential and secret.

Its origin is ancient. When secret societies of olden times held meetings to plot something, a rose would be affixed above the door to tell members looking for the meeting site that this was the place.

Thus, the secret meeting was held under the rose, or sub rosa.

Modern Michigan is less elegant in its language. Until the new open meetings law went into effect this year, sub rosa meetings were called "executive." Now they are called simply "closed" meetings or "caucuses."

The open meetings law is less than popular with many local government officials throughout the state. So be it. Whether the meeting is called sub rosa or executive or closed, it is still secrecy in deliberations on matters of public interest. By any terminology, elegant or otherwise, it is wrong.

Why some split couples still live together

"Thank God I have such a large living room. Otherwise, there wouldn't be space for his bed," a fair damsel was saying to a companion as I climbed upon a nearby stool for my daily shake and chili.

Cautiously curious, I eavesdropped deliberately in a private eye manner taught me in days of yore by an editor who long ago went to that great press box in the sky.

It soon became apparent that the object of her non-affection was a husband who had been relegated to stewardship of no more than the cutlery.

Yet it was equally obvious they were continuing to share the same abode. Sans sex, of course. At least that seemed an eavesdropper's reasonable assumption.

How now? said I to myself. Then I made a mental note to ask an attorney or two as to the prevalence of couples who are bent upon divorce going on with their lives under the same roof.

FREDERICK G. BUESSER JR. of Birmingham and Maurice M. Breen of Plymouth became my sources, and from them I learned this is not a legal oddity. More often than not, it stems from economic necessity.

Personally, I find it difficult to believe there can be many joys to such an arrangement when, as you and I both know, even happy marriages have their strained moments.

Buesser is a past president of the State Bar of Michigan and without question he and colleagues in the firm he heads are familiar figures in the legal world's major leagues. Breen is a political force in Plymouth Township where he once was elected supervisor and where he still serves on the board of trustees.

Both agreed that some weird circumstances can result when two people involved in a divorce action go on living at the same address.

For instance, Breen recalled a dispute over refrigerator privileges. The couple had agreed that each would have half the cooler. Then the wife asked the court for an enforcing injunction against her husband when she found he had pilfered a ham from her half.

For such reasons do judges grow old early.

CONTINUING LIFE together, yet apart, obviously is compounded by whether there are children. Whether there is adequate financial strength to absorb another set of expenses should either party move out is another area of difficulty.

"Economics, custody of children and the reluctance of one of the partners to have a divorce at all are three of the greatest problems that plague divorce cases," said Buesser who once was said by The Detroit News to have had "legions of famous clients."

Just where does the matter of sex arise when two people who have said "I do" eventually find their marriage is beyond repair, but neither moves out?

Don't forget, it was the comment about having space for a bed in the living room that launched this discussion. We turn now to a highly significant decision by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

IN ONTONAGON COUNTY not long ago, a wife's petition for divorce was denied by a Circuit Court judge on grounds that the parties continued cohabitation after any hope of reconciliation had passed. This constituted condonation (forgiveness), ruled the trial judge. Therefore, divorce was barred.

The Court of Appeals overturned this decision.

It said these were among the established facts: "After plaintiff-wife filed a divorce complaint, the parties continued to reside at the family home and continued periodically to share the matrimonial bed. Even after all hope of reconciliation had passed, there was at least one incident of sexual relation."

It also was established as fact that the husband's excessive drinking and acts of violence had contributed to a breakdown in the relationship, and that there remained no reasonable likelihood the marriage could be preserved.

The Appeals Court held that of itself condonation is not a legally sufficient ground for denying a divorce under Michigan's no-fault divorce law. The court said the trial judge should have considered the other destructive factors.

"A marriage is based on more than just sex," said the court.

"It (the trial court) may not simply label sexual intercourse condonation and deny divorce on the basis thereof since condonation was a fault defense which no longer exists."

There was more verbiage in the ruling than that, but I am going to leave well enough alone and get off the subject.

My suggestion to anyone involved in any such situation would be to work out your own definition of forgiveness, but restrict it to pots and pans.

Hiawatha learns of Hurons' holocaust

As the sun set along the shore of Gitchee Gumee, the big-sea water, young Hiawatha drew closer to the warm fire in front of the wigwam of his grandmother, Nokomis.

"O Nokomis," the bright-eyed lad began, "tell me of the adventures of our brother tribes here in the lands of the sweet waters."

"Yes, I will tell you a tale," said Nokomis, with a sad look in her eye, "but you must understand, O Hiawatha, that not all stories can be happy. I have a story to tell you that is woefully sad, but you must learn it nonetheless."

The boy frowned a moment, but he was determined to learn wisdom and bade Nokomis go on with the tale.

"THE HURONS were a strong but peaceful tribe, wondrous tillers of the soil, in the lands of the east of us," began the crone Nokomis.

"In numbers they were 30,000; in villages, 20 or more. Though not all were pleased, they began learning the religion of the Black Robes, the Jesuit priests sent by the Great White Father, Champlain.

"The Hurons' enemies were the Iroquois, a fierce nation to the south and east. While the Hurons accounted themselves as brave in battle as the Iroquois, the crafty Iroquois had obtained thundersticks from Dutch traders to the east of them."

Nokomis paused to add sticks to the fire, and Hiawatha shuddered with foreboding as his mind guessed at what would come.

"EARLY IN 1649, by the white man's reckoning," Nokomis went on, "an Iroquois war party, numbering at least 1,000, made its way into the heart of Huron country, near what we today call Georgian Bay.

"As the Hurons of a small village were at mass, war whoops rang out, and in a few minutes the people of the village, old and young alike, were slaughtered. Even the Black Robe was not spared, and his body was tossed into the flames of his church.

"Even the Huron villages with palisades could not withstand the onslaughts of the Iroquois. If they surrendered, the Hurons suffered unspeakable tortures with hot coals, hot rocks and sharp sticks. When the Iroquois' blood lust was satisfied, they tied captive Hurons to stakes in their lodges and set the lodges afire.

"Some captives were taken back to Iroquois towns to be slaves, but many were tomahawked along the way.

"Only a few thousand Hurons survived of the once mighty nation of 30,000, and those survivors were scattered to the winds. Some came here, to Gitchee Gumee, but were driven back by the Sioux. The great Black Robe, Marquette, finally came to minister to those who survived at St. Ignace."

HIAWATHA noticed a tear gleaming in old Nokomis' eye. "Do you weep for the dead and suffering?" he asked the crone.

"No," she said, "I lament the ignorance of the living, who will not learn the lessons of unpreparedness and the virtues of human unity.

"Man pays attention to such holocausts" only when they happen to his own tribe. But man ignores the holocausts of other tribes, shrugging, 'it happened to them.'"

"The firelight flickering through my tears gives me a vision. I see many more such holocausts in lands called Germany, Nigeria, Ruanda."

"The sad thing is that man learns these lessons only when harm is inflicted on his own tribe. He doesn't learn from the experiences and suffering of other tribes."

"Even the Indians didn't learn," said Nokomis, dropping her head. "They continue to protest against the white man, all the while forgetting that their fellow Indians are their own most blood-thirsty enemies."

One of the questions most often asked The Stroller as he strolls along the journalistic trail concerns his presence here along the banks of the Rouge in southeastern Michigan.

Having read of his fondness of the Pennsylvania Dutch Country, with all of its traditions and life styles, they ask:

How did you ever come out here?

It is a good question. But they are just as puzzled when The Stroller tells them that he wouldn't be here if Harry Gangeware had not run out of cows.

The answer seems to stun them, but Harry Gangeware and his cows—or lack of them—played an important part in The Stroller's career in journalism.

THE QUEER TWIST in the life of the young lad from the Dutch Country started more than a half century ago. And it all came about because of a split in the Democratic Party that left it without a daily paper. In those days, politics and newspapers were linked much more closely than they are today.

It so happened that Harry Gangeware was a leader in the Democratic Party and the rich, old type of farmer who usually got what he wanted.

With the need for a newspaper and none available, he decided to organize one. Thus was born the Allentown Record, housed in a residence close to the county courthouse where he was a visitor most every day.

To head the paper, he got his partners in the venture to employ one of the best of the old-time editors who, too, was a staunch Democrat. This old editor accepted the assignment with the stipulation that he would hire his own staff and that he wanted no one who ever had been inside of a daily newspaper office. He wanted to train his own.

With a smile from Lady Luck, The Stroller was chosen, and the chance to become a newspaperman gave him the long-awaited opportunity to get out of the muck and grease of the machine shops.

THE NEW PAPER got off to a good start. It so happened that the Democrats were he majority in that section of Pennsylvania, a state which was normally Republican. But after three years of battling the well-financed opposition, The Allentown Record came upon dark days. It finally ran out of funds. Came one evening when we were told that there would be no pay—maybe for a day or two. But we were asked to continue working.

We did. We all wrote our stories. But we put them on a spike and informed the old editor that we would send the copy to the Linotype when we received our pay.

A hurried call was placed to Mr. Gangeware, who was treasurer of the infant paper. He hastened to the office. Looking over the situation and seeing that the paper wasn't going to be printed, he acted swiftly.

He placed a call to one of the large beef suppliers in Lehigh County. Reaching the man he wanted, he sold him enough cows to meet the payroll. The checks were made out and we went to work.

That hurdle crossed, Harry Gangeware sat back and hoped the big financial storm was ended. It was. But only temporarily.

Several months later, the crisis

own staff and that he wanted no one who ever had been inside of a daily newspaper office. He wanted to train his own.

With a smile from Lady Luck, The Stroller was chosen, and the chance to become a newspaperman gave him the long-awaited opportunity to get out of the muck and grease of the machine shops.

That hurdle crossed, Harry Gangeware sat back and hoped the big financial storm was ended. It was. But only temporarily.

Several months later, the crisis

arose again. This time he repeated his remedy. He called the beef supplier again. With the same result. He sold enough cows to meet the payroll.

When he asked another of his Democratic cronies for financial help, one of them, Johnny Fredericks, remarked in front of the editorial staff: "Harry, I am in the candy business. I can't sell my stock. It isn't big enough to meet the payroll."

So Harry had to call the beef houses again.

BY THIS TIME the reporting staff realized that the days of the Allentown Record were numbered. There then began a hunt for new positions.

It so happened that Lady Luck smiled on The Stroller again. As the Allentown Record was sinking, Edgar A. Guest, the lovable poet of the Detroit Free Press, came to Allentown for a stop along the Chautauqua circuit, which was equivalent to our Town Hall series of today.

Being a lover of Mr. Guest's poems, The Stroller just couldn't miss the chance to hear him. Following the program, he had the chance to meet the great poet and had an enjoyable chat for more than half an hour.

It wound up with an invitation to join the sports staff of the Free Press and he reported the following Wednesday, Feb. 3, 1924.

On the morning he left home, the rival newspaper carried the story that the Allentown Record had breathed its last.

But if kindly, old Harry Gangeware hadn't run out of cows, The Stroller possibly would still be back in the Dutch Country.

Life takes some funny turns.

Petitions seek only to get sewers' vote

Editor:

In the April 27 Observer, Loyd Sharland stated in his letter that I "did not tell the whole story" in the Observer article about the current petition drive by the Community Improvement Association of Plymouth Township (April 4, 1978). He then went on to present an excellent historical account of sewer construction and financing in our township since 1963.

It must be noted that Mr. Sharland either failed to realize, or chose to ignore, that our petition drive is not intended to decide whether the sewers are to be built, but to get the issue on the ballot so that all residents can decide. We believe that a decision of such importance should be made by all whose future lives—and pocketbooks—will be affected, not by only a small group of elected officials.

Mr. Sharland concludes by writing that "The policy in Plymouth Township of installing trunk line sewers—with all property owners sharing the cost—was established over 20 years ago." Does that automatically mean that this "policy" is right and good for Plymouth Township today?

Costly double-loop people mover opposed

By MICHAEL MATUSZEWSKI
Oakland County officials are unhappy with a federal proposal to expand downtown Detroit's planned elevated monorail "people mover."

The federal Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) is pressuring the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) to add another loop to the single-rail plan already on the drawing boards.

"It's unnecessary and too expensive," said Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy. "It only takes 10 minutes to travel the entire loop. I just don't see the necessity in adding another loop to speed up travel."

According to UMTA, more people would use an expanded people mover because travel would be easier and faster.

A DOUBLE LOOP system, however, would push costs from $87 million to $150 million.

The proposed route, which EMTA favors, runs from the Renaissance Center west to Cobo Hall and the Riverfront Arena. There it turns north and runs through the Central Business District and returns to the RenCen. UMTA's suggested plan would require the construction of another elevated track along the route.

Even though Detroit Mayor Coleman

Young does not approve of UMTA's latest suggestion, Oakland officials, who had been letting the dust settle after the board of commissioners' decisions to leave and rejoin SEMTA, see the proposal as another effort to deprive the county of its "fair share."

Southeastern Michigan has been promised at least $600 million in federal funds to develop a regional mass transit system.

SEMTA opponents such as Commissioner James Lanni (R-Royal Oak) say the latest proposal, combined with other plans, cuts the suburbs' share of the $600 million.

Need recycling

Editor:

Hats off to Roger Desmarais who is attempting to recycle glass. Instead of asking how the city can make a buck off it, our city manager should give him full support with no demands.

In fact, it would be to our benefit to have separate containers for glass, newspapers, cans and "garbage" for those who wish to recycle instead of filling dump sites. These materials should be recycled in a manner that is convenient for the homeowner.

Parking plan prodded to ease Metro squeeze

Wayne County Commissioner Thomas Presnell, head of a task force formed to deal with the Metropolitan Airport parking problem, has called for full report on plans for increased parking at the airport.

Presnell, who proposed the task force, asked the County Road Commission which operates the facility, to submit a comprehensive report by May 15.

Presnell (D-Westland) said the report is the first step in implementing his resolution requesting that the possibility of providing temporary satellite parking areas for air travelers during the Christmas-Easter travel crunch be studied. He suggested that shuttle bus service be provided from the parking areas which could be located on public or private property.

"We need to know what is being done to prevent a recurrence of the traffic jams which choked the airport last Christmas and Easter," Presnell said.

"For instance," he said, "last December, the sheriff's department ticketed 300 improperly parked cars and ordered 30 cars towed away in just one night. This occurred 'after' the airport opened an additional 1,000-space employees' parking lot to the public.

"The situation is not going to get any better when you consider the increase in low-budget flights and government predictions that by the end of the century the number of air passengers arriving and leaving Metro could climb to 33 million per year."

Currently about eight million people use the airport annually.

Fellow Commissioner and Task Force member R. William Joyner (D-Plymouth) said: "The county must do everything it can to keep up with the trend toward increased use of air travel, especially during peak holiday periods."

The request for the road commission report came out of the first meeting of the intra-agency task force on April 25.

Presnell said he hopes the group can arrive at a comprehensive plan within 90 days.

PLYMOUTH PIANIST Bradley Weage was one of four semi-finalists in the Segvald Thompson Composition Award Competition sponsored by the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra Association of Fargo, N.D.

Brad worked eight to 12 hours a day during the summer of 1977 writing "Insula." It is a 15-minute tone poem for full orchestra and reflects his impressions of a summer on Mackinac Island.

The award was established with the objective of encouraging composers in the 10 states of the upper Midwest area of the United States. Each year the winner is commissioned to write a work to be premiered by the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony during its concert season.

At 22, Brad is the youngest person listed in the Directory of Michigan Composers. The directory identifies serious composers whose homes are in Michigan and list their major compositions.

Brad Weage is working on his master's degree in music composition at Florida State University in Tallahassee. His versatility—he plays everything from ragtime and jazz to the classics—was responsible for his extended engagement at the Park Haus on Northville Road last summer and fall.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Weage of Sunset Avenue, Plymouth.

DINNER THEATER has a special appeal. Good food and legitimate theater make an attractive combination.

The Plymouth Theatre Guild and the Mayflower Meeting House were convinced of this at the end of their trial run. As members of the closing night audience gave personal congratulations to the cast, there was a sense of excitement—this was just a beginning.

Members of the guild and the Mayflower had pioneered dinner theater in this area beginning March 12. Attendance at the six Sunday evening shows increased to the point of almost a full house. The play was the comedy "A Gentleman and a Scoundrel." The cast of three made it ideal for the intimacy of theater-in-the-round. The food was exceptional—soup, salad, hot loaves of squash bread, a choice of two entrees, Indian corn custard, and a delectable chocolate mousse. There was plenty of coffee and a cash bar was available.

by
ELLIE GRAHAM

Sunday's audience had an opportunity to sign cards if they wished to be informed of future shows. It seemed everyone signed a card and it was interesting to see where they lived.

There came from Northville, Livonia, Redford, Ypsilanti, Detroit, Walled Lake, Belleville, Farmington, Birmingham, Ann Arbor and Wyandotte. There were several from Plymouth and Canton, one from Kentucky, and a group of Nifty Fifties from Dearborn.

Tom Hinks played the dual role of mild-mannered Fred Dickson and the brash Rick Laredo, Carole McNulty was his employer, and Michael Nelson was Basil Pronker, credit investigator. Patricia Bray was director and Richard Wilson, guild treasurer, assisted with lights and props.

They agreed they had enjoyed the six dinner theater performances and the audiences had been most appreciative. Richard said he would like to change the lighting positions and added, "Hauling these things up and downstairs should develop muscles—they're heavy."

VELMA ASHTON of Sheldon Road won a cash prize for her rhubarb bread recipe. She is one of more than 18,000 people from the United States and Canada who belong to Western World Avon Collectors. They collect empty Avon figurine bottles.

The rhubarb bread recipe will be published in the club's May-June newsletter, published in San Francisco.

GOWRI RAJ had high score for the ladies in the Thursday afternoon party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

Howard Griffore and Gordon Sherman had tie scores for the men.

THE ART GALLERY Inc., 459 S. Main Street, Plymouth will have a two-man show opening Sunday, May 7.

The exhibit will feature the works of two Michigan artists—Gene Mesco and Rick Burger. Mesco's unusual and utilitarian pottery and Burger's watercolors will be in the gallery until June 1. Both the men are on the General Motors technical design staff.

Northville Town Hall announces new season

George Plimpton, called "the contemporary Walter Mitty," will open Northville Town Hall's 1978-79 season Oct. 12, it was announced at the final program of the current series last Thursday.

He will be followed by party-giver Allison LaLand Nov. 2; Dr. Murray Banks, March 8, and Broadway-television personality Bob Wright, April 12.

When he appears on Northville Town Hall's 17th season, Dr. Banks will have the distinction of being the first repeat lecturer. His talk, "What To Do Until the Psychiatrist Comes," is the second most frequently given talk in the world.

In announcing next season's selections, Florence Booms, chairman, noted that the price for the four lectures remains at $15. They will continue to be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Rd.

SPONSORED BY Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church, the series has become an area-wide event with proceeds shared with charities in Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Farmington, Livonia and South Lyon.

Half of the profits, the Town Hall committee points out, are given to Our Lady of Victory Church Lady's League with the other half donated to charities who apply to the Town Hall Board of Awards.

Deadline for application for an award is May 31 with letters to be sent to Northville Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, 48167, marked, Attention, Board of Awards.

Ticket applications should be sent to the same address with stamped, self-addressed envelope included.

CELEBRITY LUNCHEONS will follow each of the lectures. Unlike the lectures, they may be reserved and paid for individually. They will be $6.50 each or may be pre-paid at $26 for the series. Checks and self-addressed envelopes should be sent to Mrs. Frank Shokaluk, Box 93, Northville, 48165.

Babysitters also are available through Our Lady of Victory School. For information, call Mrs. Robert Hodson, 349-7888.

In announcing the new series, Mrs. Booms called the speakers "both entertaining and informative."

GEORGE PLIMPTON, the season opener, is known for having done a multitude of unlikely things and then writing about them very well. He quarterbacked with the Detroit Lions, pitched to the All-Stars in Yankee Stadium, played bridge with Oswald Jacoby, tennis with Pancho Gonzales and percussion with the New York Philharmonic under the baton of Leonard Bernstein.

Then he wrote about what makes champions tick. His first achievement after Harvard and Cambridge was to be one of the founders of "The Parish Review," a highly esteemed literary magazine.

ALLISON LALAND, who frequently appears on radio and television, gives a complete dimension to the party scene and is known as Washington's "hostess with the mostest."

She attended Greenbriar and Agnes Scott colleges and pursued a career in public relations in Atlanta where she gained a reputation as one of the city's successful hostesses. Her profession and her art took her to San Francisco and the Washington.

She will give helpful hints about entertaining as she relates tales about her own parties.

Hostess LaLand originally made her name as a party-giver with the Nixon people. Last fall, The Washington Star newspaper gave her credit for having "finessed the political changes with style, and the skill of a survivor."

The article mentioned that she had been coached in party giving by the late Perle Mesta, a fellow Christian Scientist, and had been helped in making her mark on Washington by "six inheritances in recent years."

DR. MURRAY BANKS, in addition to being a top platform speaker, is a writer and adjunct professor of psychology at Northwood Institute. He also had been a psychology professor at several other institutions, including University of Memphis and Northern Michigan University. He is a graduate of New York and Columbia universities.

His books include "How to Live With Yourself," "Things My Mother Never Told Me," "How to Overcome an Inferiority Complex."

"He entertains royally while he subtly instructs," says Mrs. Booms.

Bob Wright, star of Broadway stage in "Kiss Me Kate" and "Man of La Mancha", will combine song with wit, humor and stories of backstage life in "Musical Theatre Cavalcade" when he concludes the new season.

He will present musical highlights of hits, including "Beggars' Opera," "Applause" and "My Fair Lady."

He has been entertaining theatre goers for a couple of decades and also is a television favorite, having been seen on Hallmark Hall of Fame, the U.S. Steel Hour, Jack Paar Show and the Mike Douglas show.

The guides promise a whole new batch of wild flowers for Sunday's walks through Miller Woods.

Naturalist Tom Friedlander described a wild black cherry tree. Although not a member of the committee, he acted as a tour guide.

Woods walk attracts 100 nature lovers

"The best thing about it," said one of the Miller Woods walkers, "was the enthusiasm of our guide. He'd say, 'Now you've got to see this.' He'd dig around in the leaves and come up with a wild onion bulb."

"Or he'd say, 'Wait until you see this,' and he'd find a wild ginger blossom. It was contagious. You discovered you were as eager as he was to see the flowers and trees."

The speaker was referring to Tom Friedlander, a naturalist from Ann Arbor, who was one of the guides at last Saturday's spring walk through Miller Woods.

Penny Wright, who chairs the Miller Woods Committee, said they were delighted with the turnout. More than 100 persons took advantage of the opportunity to have a guided tour through the climax forest on Powell Road. They are looking forward to the second walk Sunday, May 7. Guides will be on hand from 1-4 p.m. and many are going back to see the changes in the woods in a week's time.

EACH WALKER received a printed list of plants in the 40-acre woodlot that belongs to the Plymouth Canton Community Schools.

Trees and shrubs on the list are: Sugar maple, American beech, ironwood, blue beech, wild cherry, American elm, Papaw, spice bush and red-berried elder.

Early spring flowers named were: Spring beauty, harbinger of spring, hepatica, blue cohosh, dutchman's breeches, squirrel corn, wild ginger, yellow trout lily, white trillium, nodding trillium, blue phlox, toothwort, bloodroot, wild leek, mandrake or May apple and several species of violets.

There also are many varieties of fungi, ferns, and plants that bloom later in the season.

Members of the Miller Woods Committee who conducted the guided tours were Evelyn and Bill Edgar, Pat Atchinson, Irene Truesdell, Jerry Volrath and Mrs. Wright.

There is no charge for the tours. Miller Woods is on Powell Road at Ridge. Cars can park at the edge of Powell Road adjacent to the woodlot.

Ken Artersey of Plymouth and children Marisa, 5, and Paul, 1, listen to a guide's lecture in the woods.

Symphony scholarships awarded at annual meeting

The usual family atmosphere pervaded Monday night's Plymouth Symphony Society annual meeting and dinner.

Everyone brought a dish to pass and the Symphony League supplied the meat and beverages as members of the orchestra and the society met for state of the orchestra reports.

Fran Lang, president of the society, chaired the meeting.

Orchestra director, Wayne Dunlap, who returned from a three-month sabbatical to conduct the last concert of the season, discussed the orchestra—with emphasis on the string section.

He introduced charter members of the orchestra, Daisy Barnes, Bill Beitner and Edith Duranceau. He had special words for Louise Roth, orchestra librarian. Mrs. Roth reminded the maestro that she had done her part in providing string players for the orchestra. Several of the Roth children have been members of the orchestra.

Dunlap referred to Bill Beitner as "my pilot" and recalled some of their adventures. Beitner has made many trips to Grand Rapids to pick up the director for a concert or rehearsal. He told of the time Mettetal Airport was snowed in and they had to land at Willow Run.

On another occasion, an electrical storm shut off power at the airport during rehearsal. They could not open the hangar door to get the plane.

Dunlap told the gathering that he had written a book during his sabbatical in Arizona. He said "For Ensemble" contains lessons he learned during his 28 years with the Plymouth Symphony and he is dedicating it to the orchestra.

"If you all read it," he added with a smile, "rehearsals will become almost unnecessary."

SCHOLARSHIPS were presented to young musicians from the Plymouth schools.

Recipients were Dorothy Thaxton,

Ingel Dickinson, Christine Bennett, Paul Swantek, Cheri Neal, Wendy Harms, Shannon Townsend, Pam Mallow and Kathy Bomback. The grants are presented annually by the society to further the musical education of talented high school students.

"I guess I've reach the age of anecdotage," said Dunlap. "Most women's associations raise 10 per cent of the orchestra's budget. Here we have 30 per cent of the budget raised by the women's group. It's no wonder other groups throughout the state want to know how they do it."

MARY WEED, president of the Plymouth Symphony League, said membership had increased by 33 per cent.

Thanks to the league's projects—an antique mart, the symphony ball, fashion show and luncheon at Meadowbrook, round robin bridge—they had met their budget. When proceeds from their bowling league, discount book, house tour and the pops concert were in, they would hope to add a sizable bonus check.

Peggy Bunge reported for orchestra personnel. She said musicians in the orchestra come from 26 communities. Paul Miller, timpanist from Flint, and the director from Grand Rapids, travel the farthest for rehearsals and concerts.

Mrs. Bunge thanked league members for serving refreshments at rehearsals and concerts. She thanked Mrs. Roth for her work as librarian. Mrs. Bunge usually quotes poetry to express her feelings in her annual report. She did not disappoint her audience.

DOT BALOGH, family membership chairman, reported a very successful year.

Wayne Dunlap (left) greeted an old friend of Plymouth Symphony pops concert audiences, Bob Taylor, the singing plumber. He will be guest soloist at the Saturday night concert in Pioneer Middle School. Taylor sang the National Anthem on opening day of the baseball season at Tiger Stadium.

Canton Chatter

By SHARON STARON 455-5322

Robert and Cynthia Betley of Lancaster Court will once again be co-chairpersons for Canton Township's Muscular Dystrophy Walk. The national "March Against Time" will be Tuesday, June 6.

The Betleys are looking for volunteers to walk in the march and also subdivision leaders. Canton is a large area to cover and they would like every subdivision to have enough walkers in order to do a good job. There are also canisters that need to be distributed around town.

Anyone wishing to participate in any way can call the Betleys at 459-2528.

JUDY HUMBURGER, summer program director for Canton Parks and Recreation, called to inform us of the many activities being scheduled for its residents.

How would you like to learn to disco dance? Maybe ballroom dancing is more your style. Well the recreation center is offering these classes and more.

Touch, belly, ballroom and beginners disco dance classes will be taught by Nora Neder. There will be six-week sessions on Thursdays from 2-3 and 3-4 p.m. or Saturdays from 2-3 and 3-4 p.m.

Classes will start May 6 for the Saturday sessions and May 11, for Thursday sessions. You choose the dance you want to learn. Ages are 12 and up. The one-hour course is $12. Classes will be at the recreation center on Michigan Ave.

The more the merrier is Ms. Neder's attitude so sign up now and get in on the new dances. You may register at the rec hall or call 397-2777 for more details.

CANTON'S softball season will start May 8 at 6:15 p.m. with the opening pitch thrown by Township Supervisor Harold Stein; with the help of Dale Hall, senior citizen director. Then it's every team for themselves with a fun and competitive time ahead.

There are 35 teams this year in the various leagues. Good luck to you all and remember to swing level, run hard and keep your head down.

MAY IS CLEANUP month for Canton Township. Again this year, Canton will have its annual cleanup month from May 1-31. The township dump will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week.

The Canton Beautiful Committee headed by Stein is getting the children in Canton involved in the cleanup activities.

After showing the children in Canton schools a film on litter prevention they have asked each child to participate in creating a poster on their interpretation of cleaning up litter in Canton.

The best poster in each grade level in each school, will receive a certificate.

Country auction

Everything from five pounds of pistachio nuts to a charming hand-painted child's chair will be auctioned Sunday afternoon in the Mayflower Meeting House, Main Street, Plymouth.

There will be antiques including an Indian doll with a papoose on her back and old brasses. On the auction list are solid step stools, just the right height for toddlers who want to wash their own hands, a Scottish plaid tea cosy, an American flag and a host of other unusual items. The second annual New Morning School auction will feature a salad buffet supper for $4 with hot Mayflower cheese bread and beverages at 4 p.m.

Persons who wish to come just for the auction will be admitted free at 5:30 p.m. All proceeds go to New Morning School, an accredited alternative school serving students kindergarten through middle school from this area. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Festivals abound across Michigan in May

The "bloomin'" month of May brings traditional spring happenings and a bounty of bright things to do in Michigan.

Blossomtime, Michigan's oldest festival, continues through Saturday at Benton Harbor/St. Joseph. Stars of the show are the acres and acres of blossoms that promise the harvest of succulent fruit and berries indigenous to the area.

Culmination of the week-long festivities is the 100-unit grand floral parade scheduled for 1 p.m., Saturday.

The National Mushroom Festival, Michigan's annual number one hunt for the elusive morels, takes place May 13-14 at Boyne City. The town of Mesick will also hold a Mushroom Festival, May 8-14. Although morels are distinctive in shape and appearance, there are related varieties that are poisonous.

SO, IF YOU don't know your mushrooms, the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, suggests that you hunt with someone who does.

Tuliptime, May 17-21, Holland, is Michigan's most renowned spring spectacular. Tulips by the millions, in every color imaginable, provide the breathtaking setting for Holland's celebration of their Dutch heritage. The Klompen (wooden shoes) Dancers delight visitors with their clomping choreography and tours of the tulip farms are a long-remembered experience.

The 70-voice chorale Musicales, traditional street scrubbing ceremonies and children's costume parade are among the numerous scheduled events not to be missed.

Hot on the heels of the wooden shoes come the kilted pipers and tartan dancers who share the legacies of their Scottish ancestry at the Highland Festival and Games, May 27-28, Alma. Traditional pomp and pageantry, pipe band championships and physical dexterity displayed in centuries-old athletic competitions highlight the event.

The Ft. Michilimackinac Pageant

issynonomous with Memorial Day weekend in Michigan (May 27-29, Mackinaw City). Mackinaw City residents re-enact the overthrow of the British garrison by the Indians in 1783. Pre and post-performance activities include muzzle loading events and demonstrations, knife and tomahawk contests.

MICHIGAN HAS and does play a vital role in the nation's growth and economy. Lumberjack Days, May 4-7, Community Center, Bay City, recalls the colorful boom days of tall timber and rowdy lumberjacks.

The best of the good old days can be enjoyed once more, May 11-14, at the Country Fair of Yesteryear, Greenfield Village, Dearborn, and the Frontier Days Festival at Carson City.

The past provides the theme for a number of other interesting activities during the month. They include: The Heritage Hill Home Tour, May 29, Grand Rapids; "Promenade the Past"—a tour of 10 historic buildings circa 19th century—May 20-21, Tecumseh; and Early Michigan Festival Days, May 21-25, Ella Sharp Museum, Jackson.

If you have ever faced the dilemma of buying a gift for someone who has everything, the solution to your problem may well be at hand, May 10-11, at the World's Largest Garage Sale, Cobo Hall, Detroit.

You'll find a veritable treasure-trove of extraordinary items such as: Absolutely authentic seats from Tiger Stadium; English double-decker buses; a dozen gold evening dresses from an auto show; utility pole cross arms; and for the antique lovers, wooden phonebooths. Sale hours are 10 a.m.-9 p.m.

MAY IS premiere month for Michigan's ethnic festivals. In Wyandotte, the Armenian Festival opens the season May 12-14 followed by the Greek Festival, May 19-21, and Mexican Festival, May 26-28. Festivals are held in Yack Arena.

May also is the month when Michigan takes time to take pride in itself. During Michigan Week, May 20-27, communities throughout the state will be showing off their past, present and future.

The list of May activities and events is long and as varied as personalities. Just a few that may tempt you to travel include: The Sweet Adelines Chorus Competition, Troy, and Clyde Brothers Circus, Muskegon, both set for May 5-7; Train Collectors Show, Kalamazoo, May 6; Pashami Dancers, May 9, Lansing; Flower Day, May 21, Eastern Market, Detroit; and a Wine Festival, May 27-28, at the Lakeside Vineyard, Harbort.

It's a great month for getting into the spring of things, in Michigan. For a complete list of what's doing in May, and the warm weather months ahead, write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events from the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

Detroit Repertory production held over to meet demand

"Lost in the Stars," the Kurt Weill-Maxwell Anderson musical at the Detroit Repertory Theatre, has been extended through June 18.

The show is racing along at nearly 100 percent capacity and will soon become the repertory's new box office champion, overtaking "Tobacco Road." According to a Detroit Repertory Theatre spokesperson, "Records are being shattered in every category. Group sales are up, house bookings are up, door sales are up, and advance sales are up."

Artistic director Bruce Millan announced the unprecedented move to extend the run of "Lost in the Stars" six more weeks.

Millan said, "There are no more tickets available within our normal eight-week run and our phones are still jumping off their hooks."

Adapted from Alan Paton's novel about South Africa, "Cry the Beloved Country," the play won lukewarm response when it opened on Broadway in 1949. Critics have attributed the revival's success to greater public awareness of the racial conflict in southern Africa.

The musical play tells the story of a black minister and a white landowner who forge a bond of friendship when both lose their sons and share their sorrow.

Tickets for "Lost in the Stars" may be purchased at all Hudson's stores and the repertory offices. All seats are the same price. Groups of eight or more receive a discount per seat.

Groups wishing to "Own the Repertory for a Night" for a fundraiser should contact the audience development director, Robert Williams, at 868-1347.

The plays runs every Thursday-Sunday until June 18. Curtain is 8:30 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The view, the elevator, the music and the food are still fun at the Plaza

By ETHEL SIMMONS

Conventioneers are probably one step ahead of most metropolitan Detroiters.

Visitors to Detroit have been wining, dining and nightclubbing at the new Detroit Plaza, while many suburbanites have yet to explore nightlife at the spectacular one-year-old hotel in Renaissance Center.

The Detroit Plaza's most acclaimed attraction is the Summit, a tri-level restaurant/cocktail lounge. The Summit's revolving cocktail lounge tops the tower of the 73-floor hotel said to be the tallest in the world.

Many persons who ride the exterior glass-enclosed elevator to the Summit for the first time find themselves pulling back from the window view. But individuals, more intrepid or who are familiar with the ride, boldly gaze at the descending skyline.

A NEW FEATURE of the tri-level complex, which has one level for dining and two for cocktails, is allowing you to reserve your own cocktail pod on the stationary, middle level. If you're going on the town with a crowd, you can arrange for all to be seated together.

On the rooftop, you can enjoy a magnificent revolving view of Detroit and Windsor at the same time you sip cocktails.

Dining at the Summit gives you an opportunity to continue seeing metropolitan landmarks as the restaurant's seating area revolves. On a clear day, visibility may extend as far as the roof of the Pontiac Silverdome.

By night the city lights, ribbons of traffic, familiar buildings, the sky and the river create a breathtaking backdrop for excitement and romance.

The Summit's dinner menu offers nine entrees, ranging from filet of Lake Superior whitefish ($8.50) to individual rack of lamb "Jakarta," the most expensive menu item at $14.50. Entrees start at $7.75.

Two more restaurants for fine dining are open in the Detroit Plaza, along with more informal spots.

These are La Fontaine, with steeper prices and a Continental menu in French with English descriptions, and the Mikado, a Japanese restaurant providing a choice of three styles of eating: Western style plus hibachi, steak table, and tatami room with recessed seating.

The elegant La Fontaine is centered by a white marble fountain area. Seating is at red velvet chairs and banquettes, a red carpet is on the floor, the women are given red roses at dinner.

THE MENU AT La Fontaine includes specialties that range in price from Le Caneton Sevillienne (half roasted duckling, served with a delicate green olive sauce, garnished with artichoke bottoms and wild rice) at $11.50 to Le Faisan Bacchus (stuffed breast of Michigan pheasant, wrapped in tender vineleaves and lardons on buttered croutons served with sauce Bacchus and a timbale of rice) at $16.50.

If you like you can start your meal with appetizers that go all the way to Beluga caviar, served with condiments, Russian vodka and melba toast, at $20.50.

The Mikado restaurant, with Japanese dishes, is doing exceptionally well, said Deborah Hawkins, Detroit Plaza Hotel public relations director. "People who go to Japan say the food here is authentic," she said.

The steak and chicken can be ordered at the steak table, a dining room where each table seats up to seven people and the meal is grilled in front of you by teppan girls who do all the cooking.

A choice of all the menu dishes is offered in the tatami rooms. First you take off your shoes with a fancy shoe-horn before you enter these translucent shoji-screened rooms. You sit on mats, but the floor is recessed, so your feet are touching the floor.

Price range is $6.95 to $13.95 for entrees at the Mikado.

RESERVATIONS ARE suggested for all dining facilities and most particularly for La Fontaine and the Mikado's steak tables.

Centering the semi-circular arrangement of La Fontaine and the Celebration is the Galleria Bar, the only honest-to-goodness bar in the Detroit Plaza.

The Celebration nightclub is notable especially for its policy of continuous entertainment. Two groups—lively though not big-name acts—perform back to back each night.

Symphony plans spring concert

The annual pops concert featuring all three Livonia Youth Symphony Society orchestras will be presented at 7:30 p.m., May 13 following a family supper which will be served 5-6:30 p.m.

Entertainment for the Livonia Youth Symphony pops concert will be augmented by a performance on the steel drums by Marge Glossop of Dearborn Heights. The fundraising event, which provides support for the annual LYSS scholarship competition, will be at Churchill High School, Newburgh at Joy in Livonia.

The fund presents winning members who perform in the annual competition with awards which they are encouraged to use to further their musical abilities. The profits from this activity plus the personal contributions by parents and friends are the main source of income for this fund.

Ticket prices are $3 for adults and $2 for orchestra members and children under 12.

Revue honors John Lennon

Detroit's Greektown Attic Theatre kicks off its summer season with a return of Midnight Theatre. The Attic Theatre will present a revue "Imagine! A Day in the Life of John Lennon!" at midnight Fridays and Saturdays, May 5 through June 3. The best of Beatle John Lennon's songs and writings come to life. Spend a day with Mean Mr. Mustard, Polythene Pam, the Moldy Moldy Man, Araminta Ditch and many others. Produced by K & H Enterprises, information and reservations are available by calling 963-7789.

Hikes open at Cranbrook

Bird walks and bike hikes are offered by Cranbrook Institute of Science during May. Bird enthusiasts, from novice to experienced, can join two birdwalks, cosponsored by the Oakland Audubon Society, at 7 a.m. May 6 and 20. The outings are free, but registration is necessary. To register, call 645-3201. Focus of the birdwalks is on spring migrants, territorial behavior and species identification. Participants should take binoculars and, if desired, field books. Dr. James Wells, Institute of Science botanist, will lead two 15 mile bicycle tours to study local tree species. Preliminary meeting is 7:30-9:30 p.m. May 11; bike tours are 8 a.m.-noon on May 14 and 21. Enrollment is limited to 15 persons who are at least 16 years old. Fee for the three-part program is $6. To register, send check or stamped, self-addressed envelope to Bicycle Tour, Cranbrook Institute of Science, 500 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills 48013. Cranbrook Institute of Science is a natural history museum that conducts research and offers programs and classes for adults and children.

'Funny Girl'

The Broadway hit musical of the 60s that gives a look at the public and private life of Fanny Brice will be presented on stage at the Players Guild of Dearborn starting Friday and running for three consecutive weekends. Rita Haas poses above during rehearsal as Bill Boiczk measures clearance for the scene. Livonia florist Bruce Weber, a working member of the guild for several years, designed and constructed the exotic headaddresses for the production. The guild's playhouse is located at 21730 Madison in Dearborn. For ticket information, call 565-5392.

Pewabic hosts 2 ceramic shows

Two Michigan ceramic shows, both open to the public without charge, continue through May 20 in Michigan State University's Pewabic Pottery, 10125 E. Jefferson, Detroit. "Michigan Ceramics '78," a statewide competition sponsored by the Michigan Potters Association with aid from the Michigan Council for the Arts, is featured in the pottery's first floor gallery. A varied display of contemporary ceramics was selected from some 450 entries by Robert Winokur, Tyler School of Design, Temple University, Philadelphia. On opening day, nearly $1,000 in prizes was awarded to six top potters. The first prize, best of show, $300 went to Tom Phardell of Ann Arbor for a large radu sculpture.

Other prize winners were: Kathy Dambach of Birmingham, $200; Raphael A. Duron, Ann Arbor, $100; James Lutonski, Detroit, $100; Susanne Stephenson, Ann Arbor, $100; and Marie Woo, Birmingham, $150. Also continuing through May 20 is a Michigan Potters Association open pot sale which has 3,000 pots in the pottery's tile loft. An ongoing attraction on the pottery's second floor is the Pewabic Museum, featuring a permanent display of Mary Chase Stratton's work, arranged to illustrate the story of the pottery's founder. Hours are noon to 5 p.m. Monday-Saturday. Individuals, families and adult groups are invited to arrange tours of the historic pottery. Credit and avocational courses are offered in ceramic arts. No experience is required. The summer term begins May 22.

'The Bat' flies in Farmington

"The Bat" by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood will be presented by the Farmington Players, opening May 5 at the Players barn theater. This whodunit builds suspense rapidly as the accusing finger moves from one character to another. Did she do it? Not until the final scene do you know for sure. Performances continue May 6-7, 12-14 and 18-20. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The barn theater is located on Twelve Mile Road, between Farmington Road and Orchard Lake Road. For ticket information, call 477-1066.

Gardens open

Beginning May 6, the 40 acres of gardens and grounds surrounding Cranbrook House will be open from 1-5 p.m. weekends until Memorial Day. Then they will be open 1-5 p.m. daily through Labor Day. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and senior citizens. Guided group tours are available by calling 645-3152. Maintained and, in some cases, originated by Cranbrook House and Gardens Auxiliary volunteers with Cranbrook Gardener Louis Borsheim, are rock, bog and Oriental gardens, rose, English and herb gardens and numerous other plantings. The gardens are part of the estate of Cranbrook founders George and Ellen Scripps Booth. It was purchased at the turn of the century as a picnic spot for the Booths and their five children.

Comedy to open on stage downtown next week

MOLLY PICON

The legendary Molly Picon, who starred in "Milk and Honey" on Broadway, appeared as Yenta the Matchmaker in the movie version of "Fiddler on the Roof" and played Frank Sinatra's mother in the film "Come Blow Your Horn." will open May 9 at Detroit's Music Hall Center in a comedy, "Second Time Around." Miss Picon, who recently celebrated her 80th birthday, has been called one of the most endearing and enduring ladies of the American stage. In "Second Time Around," she portrays Laura Curtis, 64-year-old widow who meets the man of her dreams at the doctor's office. Their whirlwind romance and decision to live together without marrying (to collect maximum Social Security benefits) sets the stage for comedy. The reactions of Laura's well-meaning but henpecked son and her beau's spoiled daughter (married to a neurotic psychiatrist) provide the backdrop for the laughs and tender moments in the show. "SECOND TIME AROUND" was written by Henry Denker, whose talents have produced a variety of plays, novels and screenplays. "Second Time Around" was first produced in 1975 and Miss Picon originated the role of Laura Curtis. "SECOND TIME AROUND" will run at the Music Hall, 350 Madison, Detroit May 9-21 at 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays-Sundays. Matinees are scheduled on Thursdays and Saturdays at 2 p.m. Sunday performances are at 7:30 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the Music Hall box office noon-6 p.m. Monday-Saturday or by telephone 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. by calling 963-7680.

Violinist performs at Brunch with Bach

Violinist Mischa Rachlevsky and pianist Rachel Oliver will perform the music of Kreisler, Paganini and Saint-Saens at Brunch with Bach on Sunday, May 7 at the Detroit Institute of Arts. Two performances will be given at 10 and 11:15 a.m. in the museum's enclosed Renaissance Court. Guests may choose from two menus—for $5.50, a main course, juice, bread and beverage; for $4 two muffins and butter, fruit compote and beverage. Tickets for coffee and concert may be purchased at $2 per person. Advance reservations are necessary. Call the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office at 832-2730.

Fun-filled show

The comedy, "You Can't Take It With You" may have originated the idea of doing your own thing. Students at Catholic Central High School will reveal the comic results when they present the play in the school gym, 6565 W. Outer Dr. at Hubbell, Detroit. Performances will be held at 8 p.m. May 5, 6 and at 7 p.m. May 7. Shown during a rehearsal are (from left) Brad Casemore, Lance Gotko, Rik Joppich, Margaret Michel, Kevin Kresowik, Cheryl Ciokajlo, Tricia Moylan and Tony Madonia.

Cardinal to bless new center

Cardinal John Dearden, archbishop of Detroit, will bestow a blessing for hospitals on the new St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Center of Providence Hospital, Southfield, during dedication ceremonies at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Also participating in the program will be Thomas Burns of Franklin, president of the Providence advisory board; Councilman Steve Hurite of Southfield; Dr. Kenneth Trader of Birmingham, president of the staff, and Sr. Xavier Ballance, hospital administrator.

Following the dedication, participants may tour the center. Public tours will take place between 2 and 4 p.m. Saturday.

The new building is named in honor of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, founder of the Daughters of Charity community in the U.S., and the first native-born American to be canonized a saint by the Catholic church.

The center is built on three levels and contains 52 beds to bring the hospital's total to 458. It has two 12-bed intensive and cardiac care units and two 26-bed stepdown units for patients nearing recovery.

It has outpatient services and an emergency department capable of serving 80,000 patients a year.

Its emergency facilities include a four-bed major trauma unit with technologically advanced life-saving equipment, an eight-bed observation area and 15 treatment rooms.

Other services to be available are respiratory therapy, audiology, EKG-EEG, stress testing, physiology, audiology, a pulmonary function lab, and the stoma clinic.

Diocesan assembly begins in Southfield

Scholar and historian David Marshall Lang of London, England, will accept the Friend of the Armenians award during the Diocesan Assembly that has been scheduled from May 2-7 by St. John Arminian Church of Greater Detroit, 22001 Northwestern Highway, Southfield.

Also to be honored at the Saturday night banquet will be George Bashan of New York City, a community leader.

Lang is the author of two books, "Armenia: Cradle of Civilization" and "The Peoples of the Hills," and many scholarly publications.

Armenian dancing to the music of the Hachig Kazarian Ensemble will follow the award presentation.

Students of the Alex Manoogian School will provide a program of Armenian dancing plus a humorous skit on Sunday evening.

There will be a heritage costume presentation of authentic Armenian clothing Friday evening. Both during and after the display of these costumes, the museum housed near the sanctuary will be open for guests. Artifacts, ancient manuscripts, silver earthenware and rare carpets will be available for viewing.

DAVID LANG

Youth to greet sun May 7

Students from all junior and senior high schools in Livonia have been invited to attend a sunrise service from 10-11:30 a.m. Sunday, May 6 in Rotary Park, on Six Mile between Merriman and Farmington.

The event is sponsored by the Livonia Ministerial Association.

Early twisters are the worst

Tornadoes that develop from storms that occur early in the season have a tendency to be the most intense.

CHURCH BULLETIN

CHURCH OF GOD OF PROPHECY, 2553 Pardo, Garden City, is sponsoring a service called Dial-A-Devotion, which will be in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The number to call is 261-4780.

WARD UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Six Mile and Farmington, Livonia, will be the location of a lecture by David Seipenko, an expert in self-defense techniques, at 7:30 p.m. Friday. He will be sponsored by Single Point, a metropolitan adult Christian singles group.

Seipenko, a member of the Dearborn Heights Police Department, will talk on How Secure is the Single Life? It will involve the techniques single adults, particularly women, can use at home or alone to insure their personal safety.

All singles are welcome without charge.

NEWBURG UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, will hold a rummage sale from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday. A feature item will be a collection of 78 records. Also on sale will be furniture, toys, dishes, clothes, jewelry and men's wear. The major part of the proceeds will be used to help Methodist retirement homes.

ST. DAVID EPISCOPAL CHURCH, 27500 Marquette, near Inkster Road in Garden City, has scheduled its rummage and bake sale from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. If interested in renting a table to sell your rummage, call the church at 427-3820. To be sold are perennial plants, children's clothing, dishes, books and records.

CHRIST THE KING LUTHERAN CHURCH, 9300 Farmington, Livonia, will hold a special "Visit a Friend for Christ" on Sunday. It has been planned by the evangelism committee, which hopes to have half of the people in the congregation visit the other half so that fellow members become better acquainted.

LIVONIA JEWISH CONGREGATION, 31840 Seven Mile, will sponsor an evening of fun and games from 7-10 p.m. Sunday. Donation is $1 per person. If planning to attend, contact Thelma Goldstein at 464-7305.

"Reactions After the Holocaust Program" will be the topic discussed by Rabbi Martin Gordon at a forum Friday.

PARKWAY HEIGHTS CHURCH, 23705 Plymouth, Redford Township, will present its former pastor, the Rev. Leslie Whitehead of Seattle, at the 11 a.m. service. The Rev. Whitehead was active in Redford before his assignment to Burien Free Methodist Church in Seattle.

ST. MEL CATHOLIC CHURCH, 7506 Inkster, Dearborn Heights, has scheduled a talk on parental effectiveness at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Speaking is Sue Ozar, wife, mother of two sons, and a certified instructor of the positive planning and the positive partners courses. She has taught at various grade levels and coordinated religious educational programs at various levels. Donation is $1.

GRAND RIVER BAPTIST CHURCH, 34500 Six Mile, Livonia, has declared Sunday as Friend and Neighbor Day, with a Bible bookmark to be presented to all visitors. The Rev. Wilbert Gough will speak on The Brotherhood of Breaking Bread, prior to communion, and new members will be received.

The chancel choir will sing, and assistant pastor, the Rev. William Bellaire will participate.

For the 7 p.m. Living Christ Hour, the theme is Touch the Master's Hand, and there will be singing. A nursery is available for all services.

WARD UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Six Mile and Farmington, Livonia, will present a vocal and instrumental concert by a brother and sister team, Jerry and Karen Young, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Young has been in full-time Christian service for more than 10 years and his musical ministry has taken him to churches, conferences and rallies throughout the Midwest. He has recorded an album called "Oh Glorious Love."

His sister, a recent Bentley High School graduate, has joined her brother in this musical ministry.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, 36016 Michigan Avenue, Wayne, will present Nancy Houston of Urban, Ill., in a talk at 3 p.m. Sunday. She was a professor of physical education before deciding to devote herself full-time to Christian Science healing 25 years ago.

CHRISTUS VICTOR LUTHERAN

CHURCH, 25535 Ford Road, Dearborn Heights, has scheduled the ordination of Robert Feucht as pastor of the American Lutheran Church at 10:15 worship services Sunday.

OUR MASTER LUTHERAN CHURCH, 821 Inkster Road, Inkster, will celebrate two special occasions Sunday. As a climax of its 25-week silver anniversary celebration, the church will have at its 10:45 a.m. service the Rev. Richard Schlect, president of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod's Michigan District.

Church members also will dedicate their newly installed altar. An informal fellowship and salad luncheon will be held after the service.

ST. JOHN LUTHERAN CHURCH, 135 Mercedes, Redford, will host an appearance by Living Water, a Christian outreach team, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 9. They will present a program of Christian music for people of all ages.

MEMORIAL CHURCH OF CHRIST, 35475 Five Mile, Livonia, has scheduled a concert by the Watchmen at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 10. The 35-voice men's chorus from the Cincinnati Bible Seminary will sing sacred music. At the afterglow following, the chorus will present songs from the "Broadway hit musical, "Mame."

MT. HOPE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, 30330 Schoolcraft, Livonia, will be the scene of a spring fashion show at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 10. It is sponsored by Rebekah Circle, and will be presented by Lilley's Boutique of Westland. Donation is $3.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF PLYMOUTH, 701 W. Church, will host a baby shower at noon Wednesday, May 10. Planning the event is the Women's Association. Mrs. Russel Hartzler will speak. Make luncheon reservations by calling Mrs. William Clarke at 453-4595, or Mrs. John McLaren at 453-7182 by May 8.

Salem outlasts Edsel Ford, 9-6

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

It was one of those high-scoring affairs which Plymouth Salem fans have become accustomed to, as the Rocks streaked to their sixth straight victory with a 9-6 beating of Dearborn Edsel Ford Tuesday afternoon at the Salem diamond.

The Rocks registered 15 hits, and committed six errors, en route to their ninth victory in 12 decisions. The Suburban Eight League triumph kept Salem tied for first place with Redford Union. Both clubs own 5-1 league marks.

Although the Rocks hit the ball extremely well, they didn't make it easy for Bruce Piper, who went all the way on the mound for his sixth victory against no defeats. Piper pitched a strong game, striking out 10 and walking four. He allowed only seven hits and six runs—but three of the runs were unearned thanks to Salem errors.

"At least we're not making the mental errors," Salem coach Brian Gilles said. "We're hitting the ball well and the attitude is good. The physical errors will eventually stop—we've got people who can make the plays."

Flu slows Canton girls

The flu bug turned out to be a worse enemy to the Plymouth Canton girls track team than its dual meet opponent, Walled Lake Central, Tuesday afternoon.

The Chiefs fell victim to sickness and the Vikings. The result was a 78-58 setback in this non-league competition. "We lost all three relays and had two people from those relays out with the flu," said Canton coach Ken Zornes. The Chiefs' strong point all season has been their relay teams but the magic wasn't in the batons this day.

Canton won five of the 14 events. Lynsee Rudolph had the best day, winning the mile run in 6:09 and finishing second in the two-mile at 13:30. Cheri Schfieldt won the two-mile event in 13:26.7.

Veronica Gray continued to improve in the quarter-mile, placing first in 1:07.3. Sue Coll won the 220-yard dash in :29.7, while Kelly Heaton threw the shot-put in 32-0 for the top spot in that event. Jan Petersen placed second in the 110-yard low hurdles, and Brenda Bigelow jumped her highest in 4-8 for second place.

Dawson shines against Mustangs

Canton edges Northville, 3-1

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Plymouth Canton reached its first major plateau of the season when it downed Northville 3-1 Monday afternoon for its 10th straight victory of the years. The undefeated start is the best in the area.

Canton also helped its first-place standing in the Western Six League race, raising its record to 4-0. It wasn't one of Canton's better performances, as the Chiefs registered only four total hits. But the Plymouth squad got another strong pitching performance from junior Scott Dawson.

"We were flat and we didn't hit the ball—but you have to expect those kinds of days," said Canton coach Fred Crissey. "We came off a big doubleheader win over Brother Rice on Saturday."

"We got the good pitching from Scotty (Dawson) and you've got to win—even with days like this—it's a necessity."

Dawson pitched a sparkling four-hitter in going the distance for his fourth victory of the season. He allowed only one unearned run in the very first inning and shutout the Mustangs the rest of the way. He struck out four and walked one.

Dawson was the Chiefs' hitting hero as well when his two-out single in the third inning scored the first two Canton tallies of the game to give the Chiefs a 2-1 lead—an advantage they never lost. Tom Norton and Russ Mandle both walked and moved to second and third base respectively on a passed ball before Dawson's single to rightfield.

The Chiefs loaded the bases in the fifth inning and had the meat of their batting order to the plate with nobody out. But the Chiefs managed only one run in the inning when Dawson's fielder's choice play scored Norton from third. Norton led off the inning with a single, moved to second on a walk to Mandle and went to third on a bunt single by catcher Jeff Campbell.

The Chiefs finished their first round of Western-6 play yesterday (Wednesday) at Livonia Churchill.

First baseman Dale Albright and reverse leftfielder Dave Weise were suspended indefinitely before Northville game for disciplinary reasons. Dave Meador took Albright's place.

Rocks lose 1st; Chief netters fall

The Plymouth Salem boys tennis team lost its first match of the season Tuesday afternoon when it fell by a tough 4-3 decision to Dearborn Edsel Ford. The Rocks defeated Redford Thurston the day before, 7-0.

Salem's overall record for the season is 6-1.

Although Rock coach Jim Stevens was upset about what he termed a "poorly played match" against Edsel Ford, he said his squad was still in the thick of the Suburban Eight league chase since the Thunderbirds lost a dual match before meeting the Rocks.

Salem's first three singles players, Curt Schultz, Craig Stevens, and Bob Braun, all lost their matches. Stevens came the closest to winning with a 6-3, 6-2 setback. Freshman Scott Crespo was the only Salem singles victor as

Salem beats Canton at Mangan meet

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Plymouth Salem boys and girls track teams combined for a 181-112 victory over Plymouth Canton in the second-annual Jeff Mangan Memorial Co-ed Track Meet held Saturday night at the Centennial Park.

The deciding factor in the outcome was the overpowering performance from the Salem boys, who defeated their Canton counterparts 120-38 in dual meet results.

The Canton girls won all three relays enroute to a 74-61 triumph over the Salem girls.

Salem won the overall competition and the team trophy after the two scores were combined.

The Rocks boys, coached by tournament director Gary Balconi, dominated the Chiefs in all but two events. Salem won all three relays and was paced by three individual double winners. Bob Dasher (shot put and discus), Rich Hanschu (long jump and high jump), and Mike Christie (low and high hurdles) were the three double winners.

Canton's lone bright spot was Rich Fleischer who won both the 220-yard dash and the quarter-mile run—the only two events which the Chiefs won all evening.

The girls competition was close all the way as Canton led after the field events 23-21. The score remained close after the first five running events, but Canton's domination in all three relays spelled the difference in the meet.

Salem's freshman sprinter Darlyn Sims was the only double winner for both sides, winning the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes.

Each individual winner for the boys and girls team were awarded medals for their efforts.

The meet is a fund-raising activity for all four track teams at the Centennial Park. The event is run in memory of 1977 Plymouth Salem thincad Jeff Mangan who died from peritonitis last season. The track teams earned $200 on the meet.

Canton softballers rip Hawks; beat by N'ville

Plymouth Canton softballers exploded for 11 runs in the first three innings and went on to defeat Farmington Harrison 13-4 in make-up action Tuesday afternoon.

The Chiefs weren't as fortunate against Northville, however, losing 11-4 Monday afternoon. Canton's record is 1-3 in Western Six League play and 2-3 overall, not including Wednesday's action.

After a scoreless first inning against Harrison, sophomore second-baseman Vickie Cavallaro started the Canton fireworks with a grand slam home run in the second stanza. Kathie Peck continued the rally after the grand slam by singling to center field. She eventually scored along with Pam Schipani and Judy Freiman to give the Chiefs a commanding 7-0 lead.

Peck and Freiman each registered two-run singles in the third inning to give Canton an 11-0 lead. Chris Housden added insult to the injury in the sixth when her two-run triple made the score 13-0.

Winning pitcher Lucy Howe allowed all four Harrison runs in the seventh inning but the outcome had already been decided before the final stanza.

Howe pitched a strong game against the Hawks, striking out six batters. Against Northville, the Chiefs never got within striking distance as a quick Mustang start spelled defeat for the Plymouth squad.

Freiman and Cindy Stevens both paced Canton's attack with three-for-four days at the plate. Howe was the losing pitcher.

Plymouth striders compete in Observerland relays

Area boys' track coaches agree that this Saturday's Observerland Relays could be one of the most closely contested meets in the eight year history of the competition.

Fourteen teams will participate on the cinder track at Hilbert Jr. High, Puritan at Kinloch, in Redford. The school is midway between Five and Six Mile and Inkster and Beech Daly.

Finals in the field events will get underway at 4 p.m. All track finals will begin at 7 p.m. and conclude under the lights.

Admission at the gate is 75 cents for students and $1.50 for adults.

Observerland has become such a popular meet over the years because it is the only time that most area boys' track teams get to compete against all others in head-to-head competition.

The meet is also popular because it allows teams which have lost dual meets earlier in the season a chance to get even.

Many runners and fieldmen on the teams know each other quite well which makes for even more interesting competition.

The lineup includes all four Livonia schools—Churchill, Franklin, Stevenson and Bentley—all three Farmington schools—Harrison, North and Farmington High—and both Plymouth schools—Salem and Canton.

Also competing will be Redford, Thurston, Redford Bishop, Borgess, Redford Union, Garden City East and Northville.

The teams mentioned most prominently as favorites this year are Franklin, Borgess, Stevenson and Churchill.

Salem, one of the most improved teams in the area, looms as a dark-horse threat.

Several coaches said that they expect the winning team to have perhaps the lowest point total in the history of the meet due to the balance and pockets of strength which most squads possess.

The closest finish ever at Observerland occurred in 1973 when Churchill and Stevenson tied with 27 points and Borgess landed third with 26.

Churchill, with 31 points, edged Stevenson by two points for the title last season and Churchill had an 11-point margin over runner-up Franklin in 1976.

The Chargers' chances Saturday, according to coach Fred Price, depends on how well Dave Kieley, one of the premier discus and shot put throwers in the area, can perform on a severely sprained ankle.

Other Churchill standouts are Tobin Jones and Ken Gaskell, distance runners, and Rick Austin, a hurdler and sprinter.

Franklin, champion of the Elks Relays, held two weeks ago, has blue-chip performers in Dave Bowen, a sprinter and long jumper, Don Boka, shot putter and Dave Kmet and Bruce DeNapoli, pole vaulters.

Stevenson, also strong across the board, will be led by Bill Baker and Brian Bowley in the hurdles, Rob Jurczynski in the discus and shot put, Chuck Beane in sprints and John McCormick in distance races.

Borgess also has an outstanding cast which includes Tim Turner, pole vault and sprints, the Krogulecki brothers—Matt and Steve—in the hurdles and sprints, respectively and Charlie Cole in the distances.

The other teams, although not having as much depth as the four favorites, will also field outstanding athletes.

Thurston, with Curt Reynolds and Brian Hess, and East, with Jeff Perrine and Kevin Kitz, will be especially competitive in the middle and long distance relays.

North Farmington should do reasonably well in the sprint relays with the talents of Mike Miller and Art Doran and Farmington has a pair of quality distance men in Hugh Leidlein and Paul McKinnon.

Salem could do well in the pole vault with the trio of Scott Kappler, Mark Choma and Scott Wellman. Chris Ritchey will lead the way in the sprint relays for the Rocks and Bob Dasher will match skills in the shot put and discus.

Andy Lewis will represent Canton in the shot and discus, while Mike Petch, from Redford Union, probably the most accomplished, all-around field performer in the state, will lead the Panthers in the early portion of the competition.

A young Bentley team will be spearheaded by Ed Sulick, a versatile performer in sprints, hurdles and a couple of field events, and Dave Hoesy, a middle distance runner.

All 13 events will be run in relay form. The first five finishers in every event will receive five, four, three, two and one point, respectively.

Both net teams lose

he stayed unbeaten with a 6-0, 6-0 triumph.

Salem's first and third double combinations, Jeff Bearup and Ed Thomas, and Larry Kummer and Craig Baker, were victorious, but it wasn't enough to stop the Thunderbird triumph.

PLYMOUTH CANTON'S record currently stands at 2-3 after its 7-0 loss to Northville Monday afternoon. Last week, the Chiefs lost their third Western Six League decision in four outings with a 6-1 setback to Waterford Mott. In the non-league circuit, the Chiefs shut out Redford Thurston 7-0.

Against Northville, one of the teams favored to win the conference title, the Chiefs were stymied by the excellent Mustang attack. First singles Dan Schmidt of Canton lost to sophomore Bob Oullette of Northville 6-0, 6-0. Oullette is considered one of the top players in the league.

Second singles Dave Keane, third singles Doug Hetu, and fourth-singles Chris Davio also lost their matches. Hetu's result was a close 7-5, 7-6 decision. Hetu has played excellent tennis this season.

It was the same story in doubles action, as Northville dominated all three matches.

Salem, Canton golfers win matches on road

Both Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton girls golf teams won Central Five League matches Tuesday afternoon. The Rocks raised their record to 3-1 for the season with a 198-232 whipping of Willow Run. The Chiefs evened their record at 2-2 with a 217-233 victory over Brighton.

The Rocks' victory total tied a school team record as they burned the visiting course of Green Oaks in Ypsilanti.

Senior captain Betty DeLano paced the Rocks' attack with a 46 score for nine holes. DeLano's round tied a school record previously held only by sophomore Meg McGee.

McGee followed DeLano with a 50, and Beth Mageio and Nancy deBear both shot 51. June DeLaney also played a strong round with a 53.

Salem coach Bob Waters was very pleased with his team's performance.

"We're starting to jell and the scores are down where they are supposed to be," Waters said. "We had five solid scores."

Canton victory over Brighton was played at Faulkwood Shores in Brighton where freshman Janis McGlone surprised the Chiefs with her team-leading 51 score. Linda Nurmi followed with 54, Cathy Anderson added 55, and Peggy Visser shot 57.

Brighton's Beth Williams held medalist honors with a 47.

Canton coach Anne Buie was also pleased with her squad's improvement. She also mentioned the scores of freshmen Karen Mullen (59) and Kim Massey (67), who both golfed for the first time this season.

Chiefs crown Rice twice

Scott Collins showed everyone why he is an all-state shortstop Saturday afternoon.

The Chiefs' senior clean-up hitter not only collected five hits during Canton's doubleheader sweep over Brother Rice, 10-5 and 5-3, but made an outstanding defensive catch in the seventh inning of the nightcap to stop a late Rice surge for victory.

"Scotty had a day I've never seen a high school player have," said Canton coach Fred Crissey, after his Chiefs raised their record to 9-0 this season. "He just had an outstanding day defensively and at the plate. The only time they (Rice) got him out was on a fly ball which carried to the warning track."

Collins fielded every grounder which was hit his way, but more importantly, saved the victory in the second game for pitcher Brian James.

The Chiefs were deadlocked 1-1 most of the nightcap with the Catholic League opponents but finally surged ahead with one run in the fifth and three more in the sixth. But Rice rallied for two runs in the top of the seventh and had a runner on second base with two outs when Collins leaped and grabbed a sure run-scoring line shot to end the game.

Both teams scored one run in the third inning to keep the score tied. Canton's run came on a suicide squeeze bunt by Craig Lee, who Crissey says has been a valuable part of the club with his clutch offensive play and versatility on defense.

Lee knocked home the Chiefs' second run of the game in the fifth inning with a double to left-centerfield that brought Dave Weise home from first.

Canton's final three runs of the game came on one hit, one error and two clutch sacrifice bunts by Doug Smith and Tom Norton. The Chiefs registered only six hits in the game, Collins getting two of the safeties.

James went all the way on the mound for his third victory of the season. It was another impressive outing for the junior right-hander who allowed only three hits, struck out six and hit one batter.

In the first game, the Chiefs' bats were booming as they collected 11 hits to make it easy for Doug Smith to win his fourth game of the year. Smith benefited from two runs in the first inning, five in the third and three more in the fifth to get the triumph.

Smith had only one bad inning all afternoon, giving up three runs in the third inning after the Chiefs gained control of the game. Smith hurled the first six innings and left the game with a 10-3 lead. Sophomore Al Lopinski, the junior varsity's top hurler, got a taste of varsity competition in the final stanza when Rice hit back-to-back solo home runs off the youngster before going down to defeat.

Centerfielder Russ Mandle and Collins led the Chiefs' offense with three hits each. Jeff Campbell also belted two singles and Scott Dawson and Dale Albright each smacked run scoring hits as the top of the Chiefs' batting order continued to produce runs.

Canton thinclads sputter again

By ANDY MELIN

Hurt by a strong wind that slowed times, the Plymouth Canton boys track team lost to Western Six League opponent Walled Lake Western, 88-70 Tuesday afternoon at the Canton track.

The loss dropped the Chiefs' dual-meet record to 0-4 overall and 0-2 in Western-6 league competition.

Rich Fleischer and Brent Eckles were individual Canton standouts in the meet.

Eckles broke the school record in the long jump with a winning leap of 20.94. He also won the 100-yard dash in :10.4 and placed third in the pole vault.

Fleischer won both the 220-yard dash and the 440-yard dash in times of :23.6 and :53.3, respectively. He also took second in the long jump with a leap of 18-6 1/4. It was the first time he had competed in a dual-meet long jump event.

Sophomore Dan McGlinn finished first in the high jump with a 5-8 jump. He also took third and fourth, respectively, in the 220 and 440-yard dashes.

Martin Hinckley won the 330-yard low hurdles in :43.7 and placed fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles. Bryan Pijanowski took third in both the 330-yard low hurdles and 120-yard high hurdles.

Senior tri-captain Andy Lewis won the discus and finished third in the shot put. He also placed fourth in the pole vault.

Freshman Mike Talaga finished fourth in the mile. Dave Spitz placed fourth in the two-mile run in 10:50.0. John Tarr took fourth in the long jump.

The Canton thinclads were without their best distance runner Martin Payotelis, who was stricken with what is believed to be mononucleosis.

The Chief 440-yard relay team of Darryl Ramsear, Da8 Cronin, Tarr and Eckles was victorious in :47.4. The 880-yard relay foursome of Senior tri-captain Mike Keifer, Tarr, McGlinn and Fleischer also won in 1:38.4.

Canton will compete in the Observer relays this Saturday at Redford Union High School.

Exciting baseball this weekend

If you were one of the fortunate people who watched both Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem baseball teams sweep doubleheaders from their opponents last Saturday, then you surely don't want to miss the excitement of this weekend's Plymouth diamond action.

If you weren't one of those lucky people to see the Chiefs and Rocks play two of their best games of the season over Brother Rice and Livonia Franklin, then that's even more reason for you to come and watch the hustle generated by these two great baseball teams.

But this Saturday's action won't be your normal doubleheader. This weekend the Rocks and the Chiefs will play two games, but they will share opponents as Detroit Northwestern and Ann Arbor Pioneer come to the Centennial Park for single games will each Plymouth squad starting at noon.

(Originally, Livonia Stevenson was scheduled to participate in this doubleheader but previous commitments to the City of Livonia baseball tourney resulted in Ann Arbor Pioneer's participation).

With four teams in action, the Plymouth teams will sell program refreshments from each diamond to help raise money for the baseball programs.

This fund-raising event is one of the many activities which the Plymouth-Canton area sports teams have been involved with to help raise money for each athletic program.

The boys and girls track teams combined for a similar activity last weekend at the Mangan Memorial Track Meet where $200 was raised.

Aside from the fund raising, I think the weekend ballgames will be worthwhile for all sport fans to come watch the two Plymouth crews because of the success both teams have had this season.

There is no stopping the Chiefs right now. Up until yesterday's Churchill game, Canton was 10-0. They continue to get great pitching from Doug Smith, Brian James and Scott Dawson.

Canton's offense hasn't been bad either. The first four hitters in the batting orders—Russ Mandle, Jeff Campbell, Dawson and Scott Collins—are ripping the ball consistently. And the hitting is solid right through the lineup.

After a slow start, the Rocks seem to be back on track, winning their last six games to raise their record to 9-3 overall.

Everyone knew the Rocks had hitters—Bob Waite, Sam Merrill, Bubba Wilcox, Matt Etienne and company—but who would have expected Bruce Piper to be 6-0 at this point of the season? Salem's defense must settle down but their pitching has been a pleasant surprise.

COME watch these two clubs in action. Not only will you help their programs financially, but you will also see some good baseball, too.

Salem sweeps 2 from Franklin

Plymouth Salem batsmen continued to play excellent baseball last weekend with a doubleheader sweep over non-league foe Livonia Franklin, 6-3 and 10-7, Saturday afternoon at Salem.

The double victory ended a long eight-day stint which saw the Rocks play nine games. Salem won the last five contests of the stretch to raise its record to 8-3 for the season.

Saturday's performance was another solid outing for the surging Rocks.

"It just feels so good to win," said Salem coach Brian Gilles. "We're playing smart baseball."

The nightcap wasn't as close as the score indicated as Salem settled the issue with a nine-run second inning to pull ahead 10-0.

After catcher Bubba Wilcox scored Sam Merrill with a single in the first inning, the Rocks went crazy with the bats, sending 13 men to the plate in the second stanza.

Matt Etienne led off the fiasco with a solo home run to give the Rocks a 2-0 lead. Then six singles by John Lewelling, Merrill, Bob Waite, Joe Goodsir, Mike Michalek and Etienne, plus the help of two base-on-balls and a hit batsmen, led to eight more Salem runs before the inning was over.

Starting pitcher Doug Holloway allowed Franklin two runs in the third and one in the fifth before leaving the game after five innings as Gilles cleared his bench in the latter innings.

Holloway's reliever, Perry Strauss, couldn't get a Patriot out in the sixth inning, however, as Franklin scored four quick runs to make the score 10-7. Taking no chances, Gilles called Holloway back into the game and put out the fire for victory. Holloway was credited with a complete game for his first triumph of the season. He allowed only four hits, struck out four and walked two.

Waite paced the Rocks huge 13-hit attack with three safeties. Etienne, Wilcox and Merrill also added two each.

In the first game, Bruce Piper had two hits and three runs batted in at the plate, and hurled six innings on the mound to spark the Rock victory. Piper allowed only three hits in his mound stint, giving up one Franklin run in the first inning and two more in the fourth. Barry Owens cleaned up for Piper in the final stanza.

After Franklin's early 1-0 lead in the first, it was all Salem after that as the Rocks scored two runs of their own in the bottom half of the inning on Piper's two-run single.

Salem made it 4-1 in the third on a run-scoring double by Piper and a sacrifice fly by Holloway.

Sam Merrill's ground out scored Paul Dillon from third for Salem's fifth run of the game in the fourth inning. Dillon tripled to lead off the inning.

Salem's final run came in the sixth when senior infielder Billy Kral got his second hit of the day, a single to center field. Kral promptly stole second base and scored on two sacrifice hits by Dillon and Lewelling.

Franklin lost its star catcher, Jim Wilson, in the first game when he suffered a separated shoulder in a collision at home plate with Salem catcher Wilcox. Wilcox was trying to score on the play and was ejected from the game.

Gridder Dasher named All-American lineman

Bob Dasher has finally gained All-American status.

The huge 6-3, 230-pound gridder who led Plymouth Salem to a perfect 9-0 regular season, the Suburban Eight League championship, and a spot in the post-season playoffs, was recently recognized as an All-American football player by Coaches and Athletes magazine.

The senior lineman, who will attend the University of Alabama next fall on a four-year scholarship, was a unanimous All-State selection and the ninth most-sought-after blue chip gridder in the state.

Dasher also finished third in the state in wrestling this past winter and competes in the shot put and discus events on the Rocks track team.

Coaches asked to call Crissey

The Observer sports sections wish to publish the names of the top batters and pitchers in the area.

All boys baseball coaches in the 14-team Observer area are instructed to call their statistics to Plymouth Canton baseball coach Fred Crissey every Monday night 7-9 p.m. starting May 8. Crissey's phone number is 453-7180.

In The Pocket

The bowlers have done it again. This time it was the high school bowlers who heeded the call of Fred Hamlin, owner of Farmington Lanes to engage in a bowling to aid education. More than 150 juniors responded and they raised nearly $3,000. Of this amount, $1,700 was raised by the Grandview and Botsford Schools. The money will be used for special education and aid to those with learning disabilities. The other $1,200 was raised by the students from Gill, Longacre, and Wooddale Schools. It is being turned over to the PTA scholarship fund. Under the plan devised by Hamlin, each bowler was asked to get a sponsor or sponsors, like the format of the March of Dimes walk. Leading the fundraising was Kevin Norris, of Grandview, with $189. Cathy Ross, of Wooddale, raised $147 to lead the girls. "I thought this was a good beginning," Hamlin said. "I sure hope the idea catches on, for the money is used for a worthy cause." BOB GOIKE SR. bowled many an unusual series when he competed as a regular in the all-star leagues, but he had none to compare with the series he bowled in the Little Caesar Classic at Westland Bowl. Showing much of his old form, he started with a 279 game. Then something unexplainable happened. He dropped to 195 in his second game and hit bottom in the third where he posted a 144. He had to settle for a 618 series after a start of 279. While Bob was floundering, Tom Drake took scoring honors with a 690 that came on games of 235, 254 and 254. Randy Ortwin took the runner-up spot with games of 245 and 236 in 673. On the women's side, Mary Mohacsi was high again with a 244 in 613. Cheryl Mertz had high game with a 265 in 538 and Patti Rizzo had a 211. NOW THAT THE SEASON has ended, the Wonderland Classic announced its leaders. Bill Poe topped the average list with 205. Four others—Harry Fill, Dick Wenzel, Hugh

McIlmurray nears milestone

It was 33 years ago that Wally McIlmurray drove his first harness race. Now the veteran reinsman is only two wins away from bringing home his 2,000th career winner at Wolverine Harness Raceway. In the 100-year history of harness racing, only 32 other drivers have ever reached that milestone. McIlmurray is one of the most successful and popular trainer-drivers in Michigan. Known by his fans as "Big Wally" because of his six-foot-six stature, McIlmurray has decorated the harness circuit from the largest raceways to county fairs. In doing so he has piled up purse money winnings of over $3.3 million. The 52-year-old racer, who has sustained broken ankles twice in racing spills, contends that the sport hasn't changed much.

"There are better horses, but I don't think there are better drivers," McIlmurray said. McIlmurray has piloted many good horses in his sulky career. Knight Ensign, Chief Ambro, Ky Creed, The Joker, The Black Widow, and Fleet Alahurst, are just a few. It was a horse named The Big Bear, however, that gave him his biggest win, a 1:58 mile in 1967 at Hollywood Park in California. Since standing at stud, The Big Bear gave McIlmurray another thrill. Hy Wings and Mandy Bear, both sired by The Big Bear, and raised, broken, trained and driven by McIlmurray, took lifetime records of under two minutes in the same week last summer, an accomplishment that McIlmurray points to with pride.

McIlmurray is a member of a well known Michigan racing family. Like many Midwest horsemen, he followed his father into the sport. He was joined in that decision by his brothers, Don, Elwood, and Warren, all active in racing. Currently, McIlmurray is taking his stepson, Johnny, through the phases of becoming a full-fledged horseman. Already his sons Wally Jr., and Arthur are kept busy with a stable of their own and even daughter Lella is employed as an outrider at Windsor Raceway and Hazel Park. Harness racing has been good to McIlmurray and he is quick to agree. "It's a good life, if you work hard, and keep your nose clean," he said.
