Blackened timbers of the uncompleted house on lot 413 stand as mute testimony to the damage fire can cause.

Rubble lies strewn about the house on Sheldon in Canton, which was heavily damaged by fire on Labor Day.

Arson destroys house still under construction

Arson is the suspected reason for a fire that caused heavy damage to an unfinished house on Buckingham Avenue early Labor Day morning.

It was the first of two Canton house fires that occurred within 24 hours.

Another house at 7475 Sheldon, which was rented by the Grant McAllister family, also went up in flames Sept. 4, although no foul play is suspected.

There were no injuries caused by either fire.

Canton police found two empty five-gallon gasoline cans at the scene of the house under construction on lot 413 along Buckingham.

Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart of the Canton police department said no suspect has been picked up in connection with the case.

The fire was discovered at 1:43 a.m. in the unfinished house. The building is owned by the Camel Construction Co. of Berkley. No company representatives were available for comment Tuesday.

Although police and fire officials don't know of a motive for arson, they agree that this was a deliberate, planned fire.

The fire department is still investigating possible causes of the house fire on Sheldon.

The McAllisters were home at the time of the fire, but were apparently unaware of it until a passerby stopped and told them their house was on fire shortly before 11 p.m.

The family escaped uninjured.

Fire Chief Mel Paulin said firefighters spent two hours battling the blaze at Sheldon. Two engines, a rescue unit and an ambulance were sent to each fire.

The chief estimated damage to the unfinished house at about $40,000 but hadn't determined the losses caused by the Sheldon fire.

Board approves course

Cop wants hypnotic stare

It's early morning when you're suddenly awakened by a scuffling outside your bedroom window.

As you peer bleary-eyed outside, you see a pair of men streaking toward a parked car with a television set in their hands.

But when the police arrive, you can't remember the color or make of the car or the type of clothes the men were wearing.

Hypnosis—one of the newest tools in police work—could uncover the facts that your conscious mind can't remember.

Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart of the Canton Police Department is going to use hypnosis on consenting crime witnesses and victims in an effort to pry those clues from their minds.

who attended Tuesday's meeting, only Trustee Lynne Goldsmith expressed doubt about the use of hypnosis by the Canton police force.

With Trustee Robert Myers absent, Goldsmith was the only board member who voted against sending Stewart to hypnosis training. She felt the Canton Police Department should use the services of the Michigan State Police.

But Stewart, a former Garden City detective who worked on the Oakland County child slaying task force, said he has seen hypnosis used on witnesses to produce a composite drawing of the suspected child killer.

Stewart says he can remember instances when hypnosis would have been a valuable tool for the Canton police.

"We could have used it a number of times already," the detective said. "We had one woman wake up to witness a break-in. But because she was half-asleep, she couldn't remember anything."

Stewart has never been hypnotized or used the technique on anyone else. He doesn't have the slightest idea how to hypnotize a victim or witness to a crime, but he's anxious to learn.

"I'm trying to think of a word besides excited that describes my feeling about the seminar," Stewart said.

The Atlanta training session is expected to cost the township about $700.

STEWART IS scheduled to attend a four-day seminar sponsored by the Law Enforcement Hypnosis Institute in Atlanta Sept. 21 to 26.

He will learn to hypnotize crime victims and witnesses when investigating Canton Township crimes.

According to Police Chief Walter MacGregor, hypnosis is such a new tool in police work that no local police force is currently using the technique. The Michigan State Police is using hypnosis in its investigation of crimes.

"Hypnosis is such a new thing in police work that I've never had any experience in it," MacGregor told the Canton board Tuesday night when he asked for approval of the training. "But we need any angle we can use to come up with an answer to a crime."

Of the six township board members

P.D. plans to hire 6 officers

There's going to be six additional fulltime patrol officers on Canton streets by the end of this month.

The township board unanimously approved a recommendation of Police Chief Walter MacGregor Tuesday night to promote six of the department's certified part-time patrol officers to fulltime status.

Ten fulltime patrol officers and four fulltime sergeants have been on the department's payroll since June when 24-hour patrol was first established. About 20 certified and uncertified reserves patrol the township's streets on a part-time basis.

According to finance director Mike Gorman, the additional fulltime patrol officers will cost the township $28,000 in the 1978 fiscal year. The money will come from the general fund.

Two weeks ago, the township board voted against an increase in the two-mill police levy ($2 per $1,000 assessed valuation) despite a prediction from Gorman that the police department will show a deficit of $300,000 by the end of the 1979 fiscal year.

The township board will use a portion of the $1 million surplus in the general fund to cover the police department deficit. Board members have indicated that they will hike the police millage rate next year.

Faculty, administration await outcome of binding arbitration

An arbitrator is expected to rule in about two weeks on a complaint of the teachers' union that changes in elementary schedules constitute a contract violation.

The request for binding arbitration is part of a joint agreement between attorneys for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA), sole bargaining agent for teachers.

The attorneys for both sides agreed to arbitrate the dispute after the PCEA started legal action in Wayne County Circuit Court charging the school board had violated four contract provisions.

ON AUG. 30 the attorney for the teachers' union filed brief in circuit court charging the school board with four violations of master agreement:

- Failure to negotiate changes in the school day, including starting and closing times and a shortened lunch period.

- Changing the planning time assignments of the elementary teachers.

- Excessive classes being assigned to elementary art, music and physical education teachers.

- Involuntary transfer.

John Ryder, president of the PCEA, notes that according to contract at least three of the above four items must be negotiated before any changes can be made. Ryder did not specifically say that changes in elementary class size without negotiations constituted a contract violation.

When the union filed its brief in circuit court, it asked for a temporary injunction order barring the school board from any further implementation of the new schedule.

The school board attorney and union's attorney, however, agreed to seek a possible solution out of court by going to arbitration.

An arbitrator from the American Arbitration Association has been agreed upon and a hearing is expected to be scheduled for either Sept. 11 or Sept. 16. The arbitrator has one week after holding the hearing to issue the ruling.

Ryder explained that the union appealed to the courts first to avoid the time-consuming steps in the grievance procedure of the contract.

By starting in the courts, the union obtained the school board's agreement to go directly to arbitration; thereby bypassing entirely the formal grievance procedure spelled out in the contract for alleged contract violations.

Much of the PCEA's allegations stem from budget cutbacks involving elimination of the "unified arts" instruction at the elementary level, which resulted in asking teachers to have their planning period at the beginning of the class day.

That move had an impact on the number of students handled by elementary music, art and physical education instructors as well as on the starting time and planning period.

The cutback also resulted in transfer of unified art instructors to other teaching positions in the district.

Norman Kee, assistant superintendent for personnel, commented that all of the changes made were done so in his opinion without violating any of the contract provisions.

"The starting and closing times were changed for students—not for teachers. While it is true we shortened the lunch hour by 15 minutes, the contract merely provides that teachers will have the same length lunch hour as students."

Kee added that the contract provides that any changes in wages, hours or working conditions must be re-negotiated. In "In our opinion, the changes made do not fall under this clause."

"The contract provides that teachers will report to school and leave a certain amount of time before the students arrive and leave," Kee added.

Price appointed Canton editor

Caroline Price is the new editor of the Canton Observer. Her appointment, which became effective this week, was announced by Thomas A. Riordan, executive editor of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Ms. Price replaces Craig Piechura, who has been transferred to the Southfield Eccentric, another O&E paper.

The new Canton editor joined the O&E as a reporter in 1976, shortly after her graduation from Wayne State University.

Ms. Price is a native of Dowagiac, where she attended high school and also worked on the Dowagiac Daily News.

Immediately prior to her move to Canton, she served as editor of the Redford Observer.

Now's the time to visit Kensington Metropark

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors writer

We returned late from a fishing excursion. My styrofoam minnow bucket was empty, so I set it down outside our rustic cabin, figuring it would be safe.

Now if you know styrofoam minnow buckets, you know those lids can stick pretty tight, kind of like a mild rubber cement.

Next morning, I found the lid of the bucket all chewed up and the bucket tipped over. What happened was pretty clear: a raccoon had smelled minnows and fish and worked mightily to get it open for a midnight snack.

He went hungry, but he knocked the living daylight—perhaps nightlights is the better term—out of my minnow bucket.

CAPT. JOHN Smith, the fellow who was saved by Pocahontas when our relations with the Indians were still good, wrote to the mother country about "a beast they call the aroughcun, much like a badger, but useth to lie in trees as squirrels do."

Aroughcun must have been the Indian name. By the time English tongues got through with it, it was raccoon—or, more simply, 'coon.

Like man, the coon is omnivorous.

At this season of the year, the coon has the same tastes we do and is raiding the farmer's fields for corn. He strips back the husk with his human-like hands and happily gawks at the soft kernels.

KENSINGTON Metropark will be at its loveliest soon, as summer's colors gradually turn. The tenderfeet will have abandoned this park along I-96 in western Oakland County soon, leaving it for those of us who really enjoy nature.

Here's what's coming up in the way of nature center programs in the days ahead:

• Tonight (Thursday) at 6, a two-hour, 10-mile nature bicycle ride will be led by naturalist Dave Moilanen, who will point out summer's last wildflowers, water life and panoramas.

• Tuesday, Sept. 12 at 7 p.m., visit with the "Denizens of the Dark" during a 2½ hour walk that starts at the nature center. Deer, coons, owls and other animals can often be seen or heard along Kensington's nature trails at night. Moilanen will use slides and lead a hike, so bring your flashlight.

As usual, you will need a park pass or $1 to enter the metropark. The hikes are free, but register in advance by calling the park at 685-1561 (long distance to Milford).

Start of school shows expected pupil increase

The beginning of the school year once again finds Plymouth-Canton Community Schools dealing with the advantages and drawbacks of continued student growth.

More students mean that some schools are already out of classroom space and that school schedules and transportation snarls must be worked out.

Budget worries become more pressing.

But, on the other side of the coin, student growth means that top quality new teachers can be hired.

THE FIRST STUDENT count on Sept. 1 indicates that the Fourth Friday official count will find the schools here at about the projected 16,000 figure.

With preschool and community education figures yet to come and Track D of Extended School Year (ESY) schools only estimated, 15,759 students were on hand last Friday. This was an increase of 342 students kindergarten through fifth grade, 114 added students sixth through eighth grades, and 286 more high school students in grades nine through 12.

Eriksson Elementary in southern Canton Township has closed enrollment except for a very few openings. Only Track D has any space at Field Elementary, in the southeast corner of the school district. Overflow students from these two school will be assigned to Miller Elementary in central Canton, which also is on an ESY schedule.

With the hiring of 43 teachers for replacements and additional classes, professional staffing is complete for the present enrollment. New staff members were selected from 5,000 applications.

"This meant that exceptionally qualified personnel could be hired," explained Norman Kee, assistant superintendent. "Many experienced teachers are starting here at the beginning salary level."

"We still need more bus drivers, aides for lockerroom and other assignments, and crossing guards." Applications are available at 454 S. Harvey Street for all positions and bus driver applications also may go to the bus yard at 1024 Mill Street, both locations in Plymouth.

TRAINING FOR bus drivers will take place in mid-October.

Crossing guards must have a four-hour training session. An eight-week program for school aides starts Sept. 28 through Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' community education services.

The three-year contract with the Plymouth-Canton Education Association runs until next year, but negotiations are under way between the school district and the Cafeteria Employees Association as well as with the International Union of Operating Engineers (custodians).

The cafeteria employees are holding regular meetings with the school board negotiators and the custodians are going to fact-finding through state mediation.

Transportation has had a generally smooth start but delays have been caused by the traffic jam at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP), according to Florence Beier, director of community relations.

The corner of Joy and Canton Center Roads, where both high schools are located, has been tied up by parent's and student's cars and by buses in the morning. About eight buses have been late in arriving, and then late in leaving to pick up younger students.

Several solutions to this problem are being considered, adds Ms. Beier—Some adjustments in the bus schedule may be necessary; manual operation of the traffic light at the problem corner also could help the traffic flow.

THE FINANCES OF the school district are a deep concern, according to Supt. John M. Hoben.

"We are using $1.1 million of fund equity to balance our budget this year, after having cut $869,590 due to failure of the 1.5 additional millage last June."

Program cuts following the millage failure included reduction in administrative and support staff, limits on classes available to middle and high school students, and dropping the "unified arts" period from the elementary school day.

Schools agree to arbitration to settle teacher grievances

"Our changes do not violate this requirement."

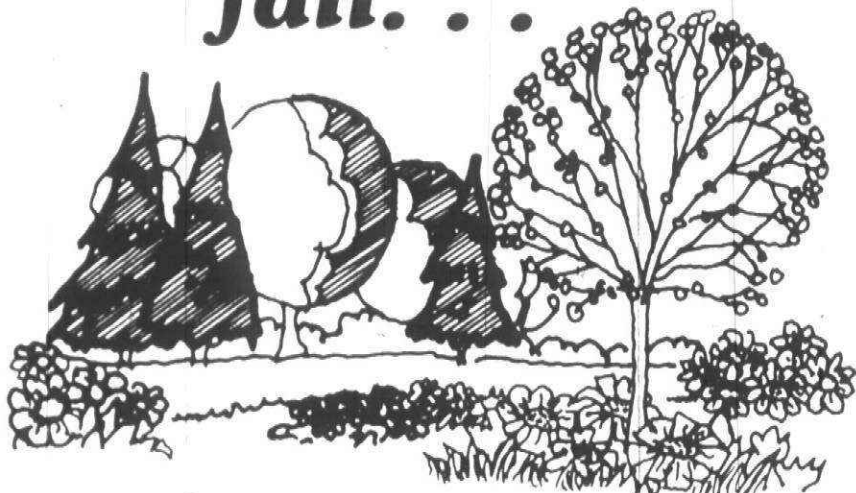

Kee noted that attorneys for both sides had spent about three days in the courtroom of Circuit Judge John O'Hara. "On the second day the union's attorney advised us he would drop his request for injunctive relief and seek arbitration, which we had proposed earlier. And so the court action has been postponed indefinitely."

Kee said he will meet with the school board on Sept. 12 in private session to get trustees' opinion on whether the changes can be made without negotiations. If the school board upholds the administration's position, Kee said, the union will be notified and a request immediately filed for arbitration.

The issue the arbitrator will decide is whether negotiations should have been conducted before the changes were made. "Depending on that decision, we'll either continue with our implementation of those changes or negotiate."

Rebuilt student government expected

By TIM RICHARD

An ad hoc committee of Schoolcraft College students and administrators is studying ways to rebuild student government at the two-year college—and, indeed, whether a traditional student government is even necessary.

The beginning of the end was, October of 1977 when nine of Schoolcraft's 8,300 students went to the polls. The turnout rate, in case you're slow at math, was about one-tenth of one per cent.

Only three of 10 possible student senate seats were filled. As Vice-president for student affairs Edward V. McNally summed it up:

"Their inability to prepare an adequate timely budget, to develop on-campus programs for students, to meet on a regular basis, to maintain harmony within ranks, and to identify students for appointment to standing committees points to the fact that it is time to consider a change."

WITH THAT, on July 14 McNally withdrew college recognition of the student senate.

Simultaneously, he instructed Patrick M. Newman, counselor for student affairs, to pull together active students from clubs and consider what, if anything, to install in the senate's place. Target date is Jan. 1.

Ann Vinnes, of Northville, president of what was left of the student government, protested to the board of trustees about "lack of due process." But McNally's past memos of warnings apparently convinced the board his action was neither reactionary nor hasty.

What happened at Schoolcraft isn't unusual. Nationwide, student governments are in a doldrums. The Vietnam war is no longer an issue. At Schoolcraft, 68 per cent of the students are in career curricula whereas student politicians typically come from the liberal arts area.

Administrators note, too, a return to the thinking of the 1950s, when students identified with the profession they aspired to, thinking of themselves as future engineers and or future lawyers, rather than as professional students as a distinct social class.

"I FIRMLY believe these should be something," McNally says said in an interview. "I am open to any suggestion."

Why student government?

McNally pointed to some practical needs for student input in running the college. Many quasi-judicial decisions and policy suggestions come out of committees composed of administrators, faculty and students. Examples:

- Two students are among six members of the academic probation and dismissal committee. Among other things, this committee is an appeals body for flunked students.

- Two students are among 10 members of the alcoholic beverages committee, which makes rules for the use of wine and beer at campus functions.

- Two students are among 10 members of the building committee, which makes proposals for land use and construction.

The student government is seen as the best way to process applications and appoint students to those committees.

McNally even suggests consideration of reversing the process: Instead of electing a student government to appoint committee members, why not elect committee members directly?

MISS VINNES, however, had a more political idea of how student government should function. Her approach was inherited from her 1976 predecessor, Jeff Stabenau, a student of strong political instincts.

Lobbying was given a high priority. Long-distance telephone calls to Lansing and Washington were a major activity, senate records showed.

A $5,000 budget submitted to McNally by Miss Vinnes contained $2,800 for field trips, conferences and membership in national lobbying organizations. It prompted McNally to question what the senate was doing for the students on campus.

Other major activities Miss Vinnes cited were politically oriented—on-campus voter registration drives and candidate debates.

Stabenau, in his tenure, also renewed a request, not heard on campus since the Vietnam days, of having a student lobbyist, called an "advisor," sit with the board of trustees.

STABENAU'S IMPRINT is evident on the late student government constitution.

Lobbying is expressly defined as a duty of the student senate. Passing resolutions "on issues of the day" to send to "the college, state or nation" is another duty.

"Jeff's constitution," as it is sometimes called on campus, was adopted in 1976 by a 58-20 vote of the student body. That was nearly a one per cent turnout.

Organizationally, the constitution followed fairly conventional lines. All Schoolcraft students were declared part of a student association whose governing board was the senate.

The senate was composed of 10 senators and four administrative officers—president, secretary, vice-president for campus affairs and comptroller.

The administrators were not-voting members of the senate.

The ad hoc committee studying a new form of student government consists of counselor Newman and representatives of Phi Theta Kappa (honor society), members of the old senate, Ski Club (highly active), Sigma Beta (older students) and other interested students.

Other possible participants in the future are representatives of the Christian Fellowship, Gourmet Club, Campus Globe (student newspaper) and Amateur Radio Club.

'Behind the Scenes' coming back

A "Behind the Scenes" course is among the unusual offerings in this fall's program of the Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA.

"This program was a huge success during the summer," says Janet Luce, director of the CNP YMCA. "By popular request, we are planning for the fall to bring it back."

The class is designed to stimulate learning through inter-disciplinary field trips using the YMCA van to such places as Michigan Bell, University of Michigan Botanical Gardens, a cemetery, banks, post office, a restaurant, large grocery store, hospital, and historical museum.

The first session of "Behind the Scenes," geared for Track A of students of year-round school schedule, will be Oct. 2-6. The course will be from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday for one week. Other sessions will be Oct. 23-27, Nov. 6-10 and Dec. 4-8.

OTHER ACTIVITIES included in the YMCA's fall program include after school programs at Eriksson, Smith, Allen, Bird, Farrand, Field, Tanger, Gallimore, Fiegel and Starkweather elementaries.

Four-week programs include flag football, supervised soccer, and a mini-macrame class. Six-week programs include floor hockey, tumbling and baton.

For information on fees and schedules at the individual schools contact the YMCA above Fisher Shoes on Main Street in Plymouth.

A baton class for ages 4-14 will be offered for six weeks on Thursdays beginning Sept. 21 from 5-6 p.m. in Fiegel Elementary School gymnasium with Deborah Gray as instructor.

A pre-ballet course for 5-6-year-olds will be offered for seven weeks on Wednesdays beginning Sept. 20 in Dance Unlimited with Barb Raschke as instructor.

Sam Merrill is the instructor for Football Skills for youngsters six years and older offered four weeks on Saturdays beginning Sept. 23 at Starkweather School playground.

Golf for adults will be offered Wednesday or Friday for four weeks beginning Sept. 20 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. at the Oasis Golf Center.

Guitar for fourth graders and up will be offered Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning Sept. 19 in West Middle School with Dicky Lee as instructor.

A Trim Class for adults will meet seven weeks beginning Sept. 19 in Dance Unlimited. Instructors will be Debbie Chase, Anne Mininberg and Barb Raschke.

Slim & Trim for adults will meet for six weeks on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays or Fridays beginning Sept. 18 in the Northville Presbyterian Church with Peg Kozler as instructor.

Beginning sewing (stretch fabrics) for adults will be offered six weeks on Tuesday or Thursday beginning Sept. 19 in West Middle School with Diane McCann as instructor.

A rug hooking class for adults will be held six weeks on Fridays beginning Sept. 22 in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union's community room with Terese Whitten as instructor.

Racquetball for adults is scheduled for five weeks on Thursdays beginning Sept. 21 at Racquettime on Plymouth Road, Livonia, with Jim Gurke as instructor.

Men's Fitness & Gym is a six-week program on Mondays or Thursdays beginning Sept. 18 with Gurke instructing. Sessions will be at Eriksson gym in Canton on Mondays and at Starkweather gym in Plymouth on Thursdays.

The Kreatives preschool program will be offered Mondays through Fridays for six weeks beginning Sept. 18 in the Credit Union. Instructors are Bonnie Graham and Cathy O'Neil. Kreatives includes group experience in art, crafts, games and creative movement in the form of exercise.

The Larry Christoff Soccer Clinic for persons age seven and older will be offered four weeks on Mondays from 4:40 to 6 p.m. at Starkweather Elementary. The sessions will begin Sept. 18. Instructor is Larry Christoff, All American soccer pro.

Tumbling for youngsters age 3-12 will be offered Saturdays for six weeks beginning Sept. 23 with Maureen Gibbons as instructor.

Holding down inventory holds down costs (for both of us).

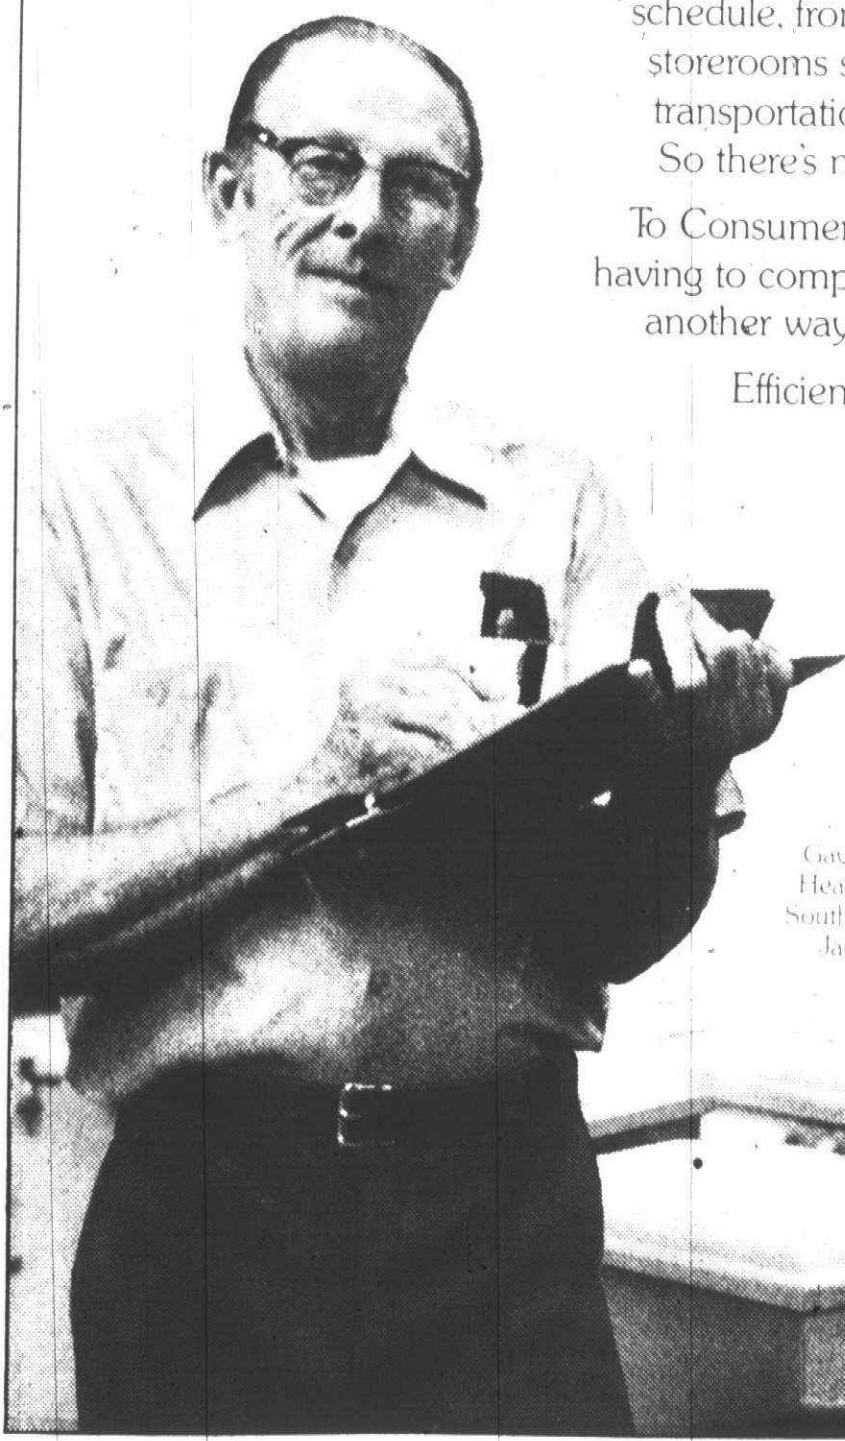

When equipment like a transformer sits on the shelves too long, it gets more than dusty. It gets expensive. Because just sitting there, it's not doing anybody any good.

So at Consumers Power, we developed a system of regional warehousing centers with an integrated transportation service that enables us to reduce material inventory levels. It's called our Material Distribution System.

It means we have our own trucks transporting material, on a regular schedule, from central storerooms to where it's needed. Our region storerooms stock only often-used materials. When needed, this transportation system delivers additional or seldom-used material. So there's no duplication of inventory — or inventory costs.

To Consumers Power, the Material Distribution System means not having to completely stock 50 or 60 individual storerooms. This is still another way that we are holding down energy costs.

Efficiency keeps all our bills down. Yours and mine.

The Plymouth Canton varsity boys' golf team has the potential to be contenders for the Western Six League title this season, according to coach John Crosson.

This year's squad is a blend of youth, experience and desire, with four of its starting six linkers back for another fall season of competition.

The returning starters include Dave Visser, John Matthews, Scott Adler and Kirk Rasmussen. All four golfers are juniors, along with last year's seventh man Dave Ursa.

Crosson feels his team is "capable of having a very fine season. It all depends on how hungry we are."

The Chiefs have their usual 10 conference matches on the schedule this fall, along with two non-league matches, the annual Plymouth Best Ball Tournament and the regional, state, and league matches.

"I'm looking forward to this upcoming season," Crosson said. "All we need is a strong fifth or sixth man and our chances will be much increased."

only one out but failed to push across another run.

"We took them down to the wire, and we impressed a lot of people," said Oasis coach Linda DeWitt.

Oasis outthit the champions, 10-7, in the finale. In the first championship game, Vickie Cavallaro's grand slam homer in the second inning sparked Oasis to the six-run victory. Cavallaro, a Plymouth-Canton High shortstop, smacked four hits and totaled seven runs batted in in the contest.

Jan Boyd, a Plymouth Salem High player, added three hits. Boyd hurled all six games for Oasis during the tournament.

Oasis won its first game, 4-3, in eight innings over Midland Fence, the host team. The local teams' biggest victory came in the second round when they won a mercy rule decision over Abbie's Angels of Eaton Rapids, 20-2. Oasis totaled 21 hits in the game led by Cavallaro's four safeties. See McDowell, Cindrich, and Boyd all added three, while Julie Stafford, Tina Lilla and Annette DiMarco had two apiece. McDowell registered four RBIs and Boyd hurled a one-hitter.

Rock duffers young but talented

By BETTY DeLANO

During the last two weeks more than 100 perspective golfers at Plymouth Salem have tried out for the boys' varsity golf team. Although the final cut has not been made, coach Bob Waters feels the team this year will be a strong contender in both the Suburban Eight League and the state finals, as in past seasons.

In the last six years, the Rocks have placed as one of the top three teams in regional competition and as one of the top 10 teams in the state. Last season, the Salem squad earned a 12-5 win-loss record, a fourth place in the Sub-8 and took third at regionals behind Redford Thurston (first) and Livonia Bentley. The Rocks once again placed 10th at the state tournament.

Senior captain Craig Stevens is the only returning player from last year's team. Losing graduates Ted Kuhns to Eastern Michigan University and Jim Ross to Western Michigan University could hurt the Rocks, but Waters feels the spots will be well filled by players like Stevens, juniors Bob Jarvis and Blake Lundberg and sophomore Bob Recto.

"Jarvis and Lundberg played last year but didn't see much action.

Jarvis played on the junior varsity and has shown a remarkable amount of improvement over the summer," said Waters.

Waters also said the solid play and leadership of Stevens should be the backbone of the team this year with Jarvis, Lundberg and Recto also acting as key players to the team's success.

Waters said he was pleased with the efforts of players like Jarvis and Recto who helped their games by playing in junior tournaments and attending golf camps over the summer months.

"The disaster of losing the players we did (Kuhns and Ross) has turned into tremendous success from what I've seen so far," the Salem mentor said. "After two practice rounds the scores have been two strokes off the school scoring record."

Other players returning from the junior varsity are senior Jeff Ashton and juniors Mark Swanson, Eric Heidt and Ed Thomas.

Besides Kuhns and Ross, Salem also lost Brian Briggs from last year because of a Ford Motor Co. transfer. "Brian has been an outstanding player and would have been one of our strongest players this year," commented Waters.

Basically an inexperienced and young team, the Rocks will need a few matches to get the experience they must have. Waters said the team is incredibly strong fundamentally. He thinks it will have a slow start but will get in a hurry.

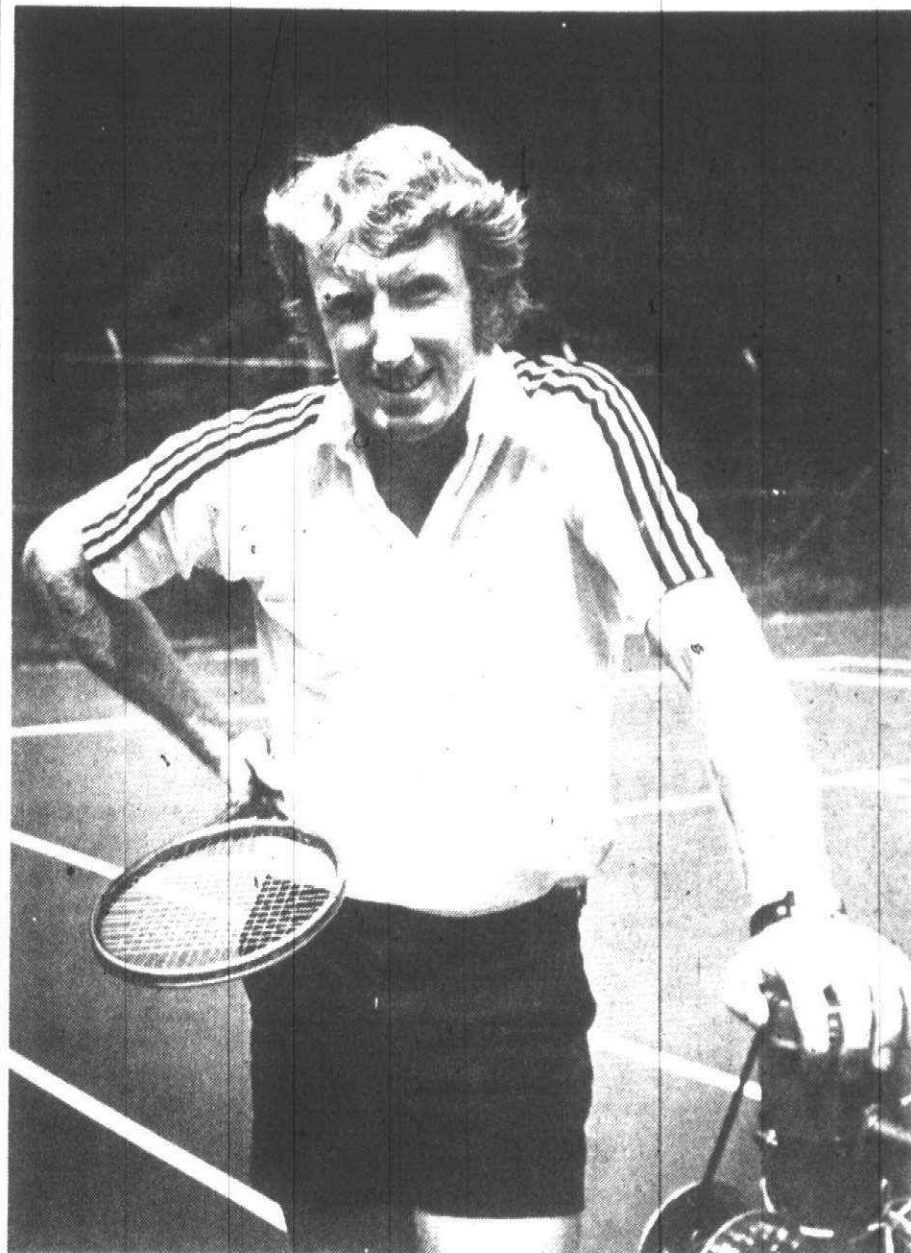

The Salem golfers will face stiff challenges from the Trenton, Livonia Bentley and Dearborn High School squads this fall. All four teams are contenders for the league title.

The first match this year will be the Brighton Quad on Monday. Tee off times are slated to begin at 3 p.m.

Other teams will be Brighton (the host team), Dearborn High School and Dearborn Riverside. Salem has won the event the past two years.

Snook grabs state title

Canton Township's Graham Snook won the men's singles title in the Michigan Open Tennis Championships at the Community Tennis Center in Midland last weekend. Snook, also a Schoolcraft College tournament victor last year, defeated Beeyong Sison of the Philippines in the finale, 6-4, 3-6, 7-6. The Canton resident took the top prize of $1,000 with the dramatic tie-breaking triumph. (Staff photo)

IN THE POCKET

By W. W. EDGAR

They're off and running, as they say at the race track. And if the first week is indicative of things to come, the bowlers in the area are headed for one of their best seasons both numerically and competitively.

A survey of the establishments in the western suburban areas reveals that most of them have full schedules except for a few openings on the 9:30 p.m. shifts. To compensate for this, there is an increasing number of afternoon circuits.

Despite the heavy league rosters, there is a considerable amount of changes in personnel.

Many of the women who bowled a year ago have gone to work. In their places, a new crop of housewives has emerged and the morning and afternoon ranks will be as filled as ever.

There is only one case where the shortage of bowlers may force the cancellation of a league. This possibility cropped up at Wonderland Lanes where the senior house league is short about four teams. If the ranks can't be filled, the league will fold. The drop in the number of teams is blamed on the rich prizes being offered in a northern suburb.

IT DOESN'T SEEM possible, but according to the figures just released by the American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress, there are almost as many sanctioned women bowlers in the country as there are men.

The ABC membership at the close of the 1977-78 season was 4,727,077 and the WIBC list reached 4,201,906.

This is quite a feat, as women at one time were barred from the lanes. When they did get a chance to bowl, they had to stand behind a curtain. Then, in 1916, they got started. This was 13 years after the men and the ABC. But now they are catching up and really proving to be the backbone bowling.

IN ANNOUNCING the membership figures, the ABC also let it be known that Detroit is the leading city with more than 160,000 bowlers and Michigan is fifth among the states with 368,109.

The ABC also answered a lot of questions when it revealed that there are 8,698 bowling centers in the United States, with a total of 151,725 beds or lanes. New York leads in the number of establishments with 795.

AMONG THE MANY CHANGES in team personnel, one of the biggest in the all-star ladies' league will have Ann Setlock, a former bowling queen, and Pat Lisowski rolling for the Firebird team in the ladies major loop. They bowled last year for Miss Lapeer.

PENNY BEHN and the other members of her all-star team who bowled for Bonanza last year in the men's all-star circuit have taken on a new name. They will represent Detroit Express, the soccer team, this year. The name change didn't help much as the team dropped two of its three games on opening night, even though it fired a 2,907 series. The strong Goebel team paced the league with a 3,102 count.

AS THE CAMPAIGN to raise money for the national bowling museum entered its second year, both the Detroit men and the Detroit women did their part by contributing $10,000 each for the building that is to be constructed next year. The site has not yet been selected.

Wolcott stars during summer

Brian Wolcott played a key role in leading Polynesian Pools, Grand Rapids, to a third-place finish in the National NBC Baseball Tournament in Wichita, Kan.

Wolcott, a 1976 Plymouth Salem graduate who currently is the ace of the Michigan State University pitching staff, earned one victory over Bee Jays of Liberal, Kan. in the 38-team double-elimination event. He hurled a total of 12 innings and gave up only two earned runs in the post-season tourney.

Wolcott spent his summer in Grand Rapids, competing for Polynesian Pools, a first-year team which finished with an impressive 45-11 regular-season record. Wolcott, a former prep all-stater, compiled a 6-2 mark during the summer competition.

Franklin faces inexperience

If all of its opponents this fall are in the same shape as Livonia Franklin, then the Patriots should have a reasonably good year in the Northwest Suburban League.

The Patriots' problem stems from a lack of experience. The team has roughly 36 members and less than five of those football players have playing experience.

Franklin coach Armand Vigna doesn't seem overly worried about his situation for the upcoming season. However, his isn't overly optimistic either.

"We are definitely short on experience. We should have all new faces. We're shooting to do at least as good as we did last year but we are going to have a lot of work ahead of us. A lot of work," said Vigna.

Last year, the Patriots finished with a 6-3 overall record and were co-champions in the Northwest Suburban League along with Westland John Glenn.

Don Boka is the team leader in every sense of the word on the 1978 squad. Boka is the captain of the team and has more experience than anyone.

Boka was on the offensive and defensive lines last year and earned a spot on the all-league team. This season he has been switched to linebacker.

Not only does he have that job tied down, but he is also fighting for the quarterback position. Boka also did much of Franklin's place-kicking last fall.

John McCarthy and John Wilson are also competing for the quarterback position. McCarthy is a junior, while Wilson is a senior. As of now, the job is still up in the air.

Jerry Cifor will be Franklin's key player in the backfield. Cifor was an all-league fullback last year. He is in his senior year and has two years of experience.

Ray Singer has no experience as a tailback, according to Vigna, but makes up for that with drive and hard work. Singer is a senior and will start at the tailback position.

"I like the way Ray looks. He has great potential as a runner," Vigna explained.

Tom Zelenka, Joe Chudy, Andrea Mondoux and Jim Turan will hold down Franklin's offensive and defensive lines. All four players are seniors, but none has experience.

Chudy and Turan will work out of tackle positions, while Zelenka will be a guard and Mondoux the team's center.

Karl McQuan, another senior with little or no experience, will start at tight end for the Patriots.

"I think we will have a little something extra on offense. We look strong in that area and our backfield has more experience than any other single part of the team," Vigna said. "Our offense will be far stronger than our defense."

Canton golf results

Tony Valenti and Don Johnson managed only three points from Bruce Watt and Bill Lindley but that was still good enough to move into first place in the Canton Men's Golf League last week.

John Mogelnicki and Sam Natoli, last week's first-place team, lost all five points to Mike Ryan and Bob White, one of the hottest pairs in recent weeks. Ryan shot a 38 and White posted a 39 for their best rounds of the season and the best rounds of the night.

Paul Oberhelman and Mike Mattingly took 3 1/2 points from Frank McGee and Hank Johnson to move into a tie for second place with Natoli and Mogelnicki. Both teams are two points behind the leaders.

IN WOMEN'S ACTION, six golfers are still in contention as one-point separates the competitors with only one week left to play.

Pauline Pryor grabbed five points, while Mary Kay Frey and Bev Green managed four each last week to force a three-way tie for first place. All three leaders have 30 points apiece.

Ginnie Johnson, Tiu Himmelberger and Silvia Dickinson all got four points last week and are tied for second place with 29 points each.

Frey turned in the best round of the week with a 51, two strokes better than Green. Estelle Heidt and Betty Loving both shot their best rounds of the year.

Hilltop Roundup

By Betty DeLano

Now that it is finally September and school has started, all the golfers who tried to play a few holes early in the morning or after work, but couldn't because of leagues, now get their chance.

With the kids back in school, mom spends her mornings packing lunches for the kids and scooting them off to catch their buses instead of sinking a few five-foot putts for par, leaving the course wide open for public play.

If you are one who would like to relax after stepping off the bus from work with a nine-hole round, you know longer have to worry about waiting until 6:30 p.m. The only league still playing at Hilltop is the Wednesday Night Plymouth Businessmen's League and it is off the tee by 5:30 p.m.

After the lawn is cut, all your Saturday chores are done and there is nothing left for Sunday, take that morning to hit the course. The West Chicago league has only one more week left, leaving the tee open all day. Please call 453-9800 for weekend tee times.

Friday nights are open again since the Scotch Doubles League has wrapped it up with Gene and Marion DePriest taking first place in the A flight with 150 points. Jim and Judy Stephens took second at 139 and Charlie and Marguerite Clark placed third with 135 points.

Al Flower and partner Ann Buie took first place honors in B flight with 151 points. Flower and Buie led B flight all season. Gene and Pearl Byrne took second with 133 points and Red and Fran Chavey moved into third place during the last week of competition for a total of 129 points.

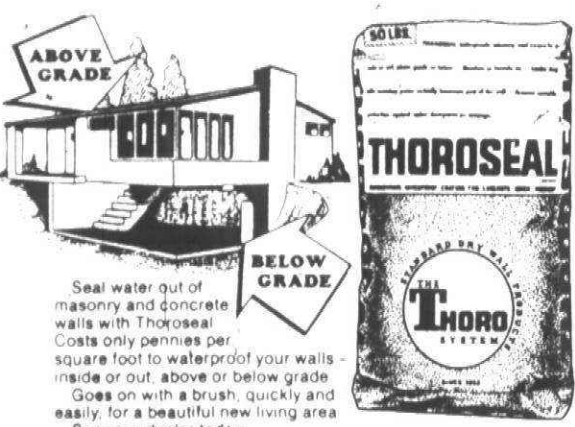

Steve and Diane Scheerhorn held on to first place in C flight the last two weeks to win with 141 points. Jerry and Rita Heath, who held first place earlier, took second at 135 and Irv and Valois Burns captured third at 127.

D flight season leaders Art and Fran Esper closed out the season with 143 points. The Espers were followed by Gary and Leslie Warrow with 131 points and Tom and Pat Micunek at 124.

Anyone who is planning to play a few holes at Fellows Creek in Canton Township this Saturday afternoon should call ahead for a tee time because the Friday night league will be having its year-end outing and the tee will be tied up. Call 728-1300.

Closing the season in first place of the Plymouth Women's League was Mary Jo LaBeau in A flight and Cheryl Yamevich in B flight. Marlene Tipi held on to first place in C flight and Madonna Nadeau was the D flight winner.

November ballot chock full of choices

If you're looking for an interesting list of names, the phone book's a good place to start. If alphabetized lists bore you, though, Michigan's November ballot might be more appealing.

The following is a list, unalphabetized, of those people who'll be seeking election to a variety of offices and boards from U.S. Senate right on through the Wayne State University Board of Governors:

GOVERNOR AND LT. GOVERNOR

(D)William B. Fitzgerald, 36, of Detroit. Elected to the state senate in 1974 and a former majority leader, Fitzgerald represents the 1st District, which includes parts of Detroit and Macomb County.

(D)Olivia (Libby) Maynard, 42, of Midland. Ms. Maynard is the state Democratic Party's vice-chairwoman.

(R)William G. Milliken (incumbent), 56, of Traverse City. Milliken was lieutenant governor and became governor in 1969 upon George Romney's resignation and was elected in 1970 and 1974.

(R)James Brickley, 49, of Detroit. Brickley is now president of Eastern Michigan University. He was Milliken's running mate in 1970 but stepped aside four years later. He was a Detroit councilman and U.S. attorney.

U.S. SENATE

(D)Carl Levin, 42, of Detroit. Levin, an attorney, served on Detroit's city council for eight years, the last four as president.

(R)Robert P. Griffin (incumbent), 54, of Traverse City. Griffin, after an earlier decision to retire, is seeking his third elected term. He was originally appointed to serve the remainder of the late Patrick McNamara's term in May 1966. He won a full six-year term five months later and another in 1972.

SECRETARY OF STATE

(D)Richard H. Austip (incumbent), 65, of Detroit. Austin, elected secretary of state in 1970 and re-elected in 1974, made an unsuccessful bid in 1976 for the U.S. Senate.

(R)Melvin L. Larsen, 41, of Oxford. A member of the Michigan State House, Larsen represents the 61st District, which includes the northern half of Pontiac and the northeast section of Oakland County. Prior to politics, Larsen was principal and football coach for Pontiac Catholic High School.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

(D)Frank J. Kelley (incumbent), 53, of Detroit. Kelley was appointed to the attorney generalship Dec. 28, 1961 and has been a fixture on the Democratic slate ever since. He has won re-election in 1962, '64, '66, '70 and '74.

(R)Steve Barnsdorfer, 48, of Grand Rapids. Barnsdorfer, a newcomer to electioneering, was appointed in 1975 to the state civil service commission. He is now chairman of the commission.

STATE SUPREME COURT

Candidates run on a non-partisan ballot but are nominated by parties.

(D)G. Mennen Williams (incumbent), 67, of Grosse Pointe Farms. Williams was elected to the state's highest court in 1970. He served as governor from 1949 to 1960, assistant secretary of state for African affairs from 1961 to 1966, and ambassador to the Philippines in 1968 and '69.

(D)Gary McDonald, 38, of Saginaw. McDonald currently serves on the Saginaw County Circuit Court bench. He was appointed a district court judge in 1972, won election to a full term later that year and was re-elected in 1974.

(R)James L. Ryan (incumbent), 46, of Redford. Ryan was appointed to the court in 1975 and won election a year later. He began his judicial career as a Redford justice of the peace in 1963.

(R)Alice Gilbert, 46, of Birmingham. Ms. Gilbert was the top vote-getter in the 1976 race for Oakland County Circuit Court. She was previously a district judge.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

(D)Annetta Miller (incumbent), 47, of Huntington Woods. Elected in 1970, she now is vice-president of the board. She also serves on the Oakland County Democratic Party's executive committee.

(D)Malcolm Dade, 47, of Detroit. Dade is Detroit Mayor Coleman Young's executive assistant and has served as a Democratic Party deputy chairman.

(R)Barbara Dumouchelle (incumbent), 46, of Grosse Ile. She was appointed to the state board of education in 1972. She is also a member of the 16th District Republican Committee.

(R)Silvernia Q. Kanoyton, 30, of Lansing. The first black woman to run on the Republican statewide ticket currently is the deputy director of the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation.

U-M BOARD OF REGENTS

(D)James L. Waters (incumbent), 38, of Muskegon. Waters, who was elected to the board of regents in 1970, is a partner in a Muskegon law firm.

(D)Paul W. Brown (incumbent), 43, of Petoskey. Brown, a lawyer, was elected to the board of regents in 1970. He also serves on the North Central Michigan College Board of Trustees.

(R)Gilbert E. Bursley, 65, of Ann Arbor. Bursley, a U-M alumnus, is retiring from the state senate after 14 years in Lansing.

(R)John Aze, 40, of Grosse Pointe Park. He is a Detroit attorney and a member of the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority.

MSU BOARD OF TRUSTEES

(D)Barbara Sawyer, 29, of Menominee. Ms. Sawyer, who is chairwoman of the Menominee County Democratic Party and Menominee County treasurer, is making her first bid for a statewide office. Early in her political career she was a member of the Democratic Party's field staff.

(D)Carole Lick, 37, of Kalamazoo. Mrs. Lick is also making her first bid for statewide office. In addition to her career as a special education teacher in Portage, a Kalamazoo suburb, she is a member of Michigan Democratic Party's central committee and the executive committee of the Kalamazoo Democratic Party.

(R)Paul Gadola, 49, of Swartz Creek. Gadola, a Flint attorney, ran unsuccessfully for the MSU board in 1976 but was the highest Republican vote getter. He has served on the Mott Community College Board of Trustees since 1968.

(R)Mary Sharp, 61, of East Lansing. Ms. Sharp is a hearing referee for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission and is a former member of the East Lansing City Council.

WSU BOARD OF GOVERNORS

(D)Max J. Pincus (incumbent), 55, of Pleasant Ridge. Pincus, president of Hughes & Hatcher, Inc., has served on the board since 1970. Other memberships include the American Civil Liberties Union, Detroit Arts Commission, Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts and the American Jewish Committee.

(D)Leon H. Atchison (incumbent), 50, of Detroit.

In addition to serving on the board of governors for the past eight years, Atchison has served in a number of posts for the City of Detroit.

(R)Laura Reyes Kopack, 28, of Westland. Ms. Reyes holds a doctorate from Wayne State and is currently attending the University of Detroit Law School.

(R)James R. Haley, 51, of Harper Woods. Haley, the former mayor of Harper Woods, still is a member of that city's council. He also is principal of Harper Woods High School.

Sixth sense experiences: Have you ever had one?

George and Violet, a middle-aged couple, were out driving in the country one Sunday afternoon. Their children were all teenagers now and had things to do with their own friends on this pleasant summer day. So George and Violet were alone together, enjoying each other's company.

They had lunch in a quaint little restaurant, bought some fresh vegetables from a roadside stand and were about to stop at a garage sale. Suddenly, Violet felt a terrible, stabbing pain in the side of her head. It was as if someone had struck her a blow.

The pain was so severe that it brought tears to her eyes. George insisted they return home at once so she could see a doctor. The pain continued. They drove directly to the emergency ward at the hospital.

Imagine their surprise to find their 16-year-old daughter there, awaiting treatment. She had been horseback riding and had fallen off the horse, striking her head. She had a mild concussion and required a few stitches.

Even more amazing was that Violet's pain vanished the moment she saw her daughter.

A YOUNG GIRL lay on a blanket, sunning herself in the backyard, believing her fiancé to be miles away in California, and not expecting him to return to Michigan for another week.

Suddenly she jumped up and

rushed into the house to dress and fix her hair. She was noticeably excited.

Her mother asked what was happening. The girl explained she had just "seen" Burton at the corner of Telegraph and Five Mile, driving to their house.

No, she wasn't dreaming, for she had not been asleep. She had just been lying in the sun and suddenly knew (had a vision?) that he was driving past Telegraph and Five Mile and would be at their home in a few moments.

It was true. Shortly thereafter, his car pulled into the drive. When he found that he could leave California sooner than expected, he had not told her because he wanted to surprise her.

EVERYONE I talk to has had unexplainable "sixth sense" happenings like these at one time or another.

If my readers would like to share their experiences of this kind, I would be happy to hear about them and perhaps print some of them in this column. Write to: Gundella, Box 434, Garden City, MI. 48135.

Summer's smooth sailing

Despite what the calendar says, summer is over for the youngsters. The days are shorter, school's started and free time is becoming but a memory. And for Suzanne (left), Al and Ann Rogers that means that rubber raft rides down the Clinton River will have to wait until next year. (Staff photo)

SC buys microscopes, equipment

Schoolcraft College has purchased nearly $38,000 worth of new equipment, including 71 microscopes.

The board of trustees Aug. 23 accepted the low bid of Fisher Scientific Co. of Livonia of $24,711 for 71 American Optical microscopes for laboratory use.

The same number of used microscopes will be advertised for sale by sealed bids under the college's surplus property procedures.

The new microscopes will be paid for from the budgeted special equipment fund.

Nearly $13,000 in equipment for the secretarial science program will be financed by a Title VI-A grant under the U.S. Higher Education Grant.

Fate of cemetery still unsettled

(Part III)

In 1841, Jonathan Shearer, a resident of Plymouth whose wife and daughter are buried in the old cemetery on North Territorial Road, was elected to the Michigan Senate.

He served as Senator for three sessions. The district then comprised the counties of Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Sanilac and Huron. In 1851, he was elected to the House of Representatives where he served two years. Senator Shearer was a close friend of another prominent Plymouthite, Ebenezer J. Penniman. Penniman, the first person from Plymouth to be elected to the U.S. Congress, served in Washington from 1851 to 1853.

SHEARER WAS AMONG those who secured the establishment of the State Normal School, now known as Eastern Michigan University, in Ypsilanti. He died at his home in Plymouth in 1881, age 85.

Although his gravestone was not among those that Dr. Robert Bowen found in 1956, it is possible that he could have been buried near his wife and daughter. Burials were still taking place at the site as late as 1898.

The young daughter of a Plymouth Township highway commissioner was among those buried at the cemetery. Her name was Hattiel. She was only three when she died. Dr. Bowen notes that the high mortality period for people in most societies is the 0-3 years category, and that the people represented by the 21 gravestones he found had a life expectancy of 41 years.

Hattiel was the daughter of J.L. Johnson, highway commissioner in 1889. She was born in 1863 and died August 23, 1866.

In addition to Christina Shearer, at least one other school teacher was buried at the old cemetery on North Territorial Road. Christianna D. Miller, wife of William Miller, whose farm was northwest of what is now Junction Street, taught school at a log school house in Plymouth.

Called the Bradner school, it was located on land adjoining the Charles Bradner farm. Mrs. Miller, born in 1829, died on April 20, 1866, age 37. Her gravestone was among the 21 recorded by Dr. Bowen 22 years ago when he visited the site as a graduate student in anthropology.

I WENT TO VISIT the old cemetery in August of this year. Of those Dr. Bowen had on his list, I found only the gravestones of Mrs. Elizabeth Purdy, M. Gilk, William Blackmar, Daniel Myers, and a fragment of the gravestone of Betsy Shearer. There was another gravestone, but it was buried under a fallen tree.

The trees at the site have grown considerably since 1956, and the ground cover is exceptionally dense. There may be more gravestones at the site, but this is not the best time of the year to hunt for them.

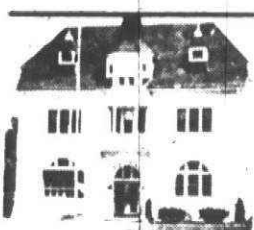

I also found several beer cans, and, in one corner of the lot, a wooden hut apparently erected by boys.

Who is responsible for the little less than an acre of heavily wooded land with its remaining remembrances of citizens prominent in the life of the community during its early days? W.W. Edgar of the Plymouth Observer tried to determine the answer to this question four years ago. He reported the results of his endeavor in an article which appeared in the July 18, 1974 issue of this newspaper.

Eddie was told by an official of the Michigan State Cemetery Commission that the North Territorial Road Cemetery is one of several hundred similar sites around the state once used as family burial plots. Because the state cannot establish who owns the land, these plots are left to the encroachment of weeds and vandals and the ravages of time and the weather.

Plymouth Township officials told Edgar that many unsuccessful attempts have been made to establish ownership of the cemetery. He learned that after the Tibbits passed away, the cemetery was called "the old Shearer Farm Cemetery," and, at another time, "the Lee Farm Cemetery." (One of the names on the gravestones recorded by Dr. Bowen is that of Amanda Lee, wife of Martin Lee. Born in 1803, Mrs. Lee died December 10, 1839.)

If ownership of the old cemetery is ever established, there are those who would like to see the property developed and placed on the township tax rolls.

PLYMOUTH
PRESENT by Sam Hudson

"It sure would make a beautiful building site," a township official told Eddie.

Those who support the view may assume that the remains of those buried at the cemetery have found another sleeping place.

"I can recall helping my father disinter bodies out there," Eddie was told by Plymouth funeral director Edwin (Bud) Schrader. "But don't ask me where they were taken—I just don't remember" it was so long ago.

BOWEN BELIEVES that the cemetery should be permanently set aside as a historic site and protected from possible further desecration.

There is no doubt that the plot has historical significance. We have few such places in the Plymouth area, and, as time goes on, what few we have will acquire greater importance.

The names and dates Dr. Bowen recorded from the gravestones in 1956 are printed below for purposes of historic record. It is possible that a descendant or descendants of some of those buried in the cemetery may recognize their kin. If so, they may have further information which will help to establish ownership of the plot. Or they may have interest in starting a movement to restore what is left of the neglected cemetery.

One final thought. Although the State Cemetery Commission reported that the cemetery was a family plot, not a licensed cemetery as we have today, it is strange that many people other than the Tibbits, the Shearers, and the Lees were buried there.

Perhaps the place was actually declared a public cemetery at one time. (Tibbits is said to have established it in 1832, and the use of detached, that is non-family, cemeteries began in the U.S. as early as 1831). If so, and this could be proven, the law indicates that the community in which such a cemetery is located is responsible for its maintenance.

Wrong relation

Bruce Finding did go on a fishing expedition last week, but not with his two sons and niece.

Monday's Observer included a picture of Finding fishing at Wilcox Lake with three children, identified as his two sons and niece. Actually Robert, 2, and Tracy, 6, are Finding's nephews. Lisa Lyke, 6, was correctly identified as his niece. The error is regretted.

editorial opinion

Enjoy it now; teachers' target is '79

This week, nearly all kids here are back in school. Remember this week in 1978. Next year may be vastly different.

The goal of Michigan Education Association affiliates—the teachers' unions—is to write all collective bargaining contracts so that they expire Aug. 31, 1979.

Meanwhile, the MEA locals are setting up regional bargaining structures. These structures have officers and set bargaining goals, so that all MEA locals are at least trying to get the same things.

If the situation in one school district becomes desperate, then thousands of teachers in neighboring districts can be mobilized. Next year may be The Year.

LOOK AT IT from the teachers' point of view.

The law says they have the power to bargain collectively. The law also says they can't strike, and if they do strike, they may be replaced.

That set of circumstances was brought about by the Crestwood case in Dearborn Heights in 1974. Some 180 striking Crestwood teachers were fired and replaced.

In a small district like Crestwood, it's fairly easy to find 180 teachers who have been laid off from other districts, who are recent college graduates who can't find jobs, who would like to return to work after raising children.

It doesn't automatically follow, the MEA tells us, that if one union strikes, the others will hit the bricks, too. Rather, if a Crestwood-like situation develops, the potential is there. Next year may be The Year.

SCHOOL BOARDS are less than enthusiastic about regional bargaining.

Why, they ask, should kids be without teachers in School District A when the fault lies with four heel-dragging board members in School District B?

The prospect of board members in District A putting the heat on board members in District B is highly possible. Teachers would like that.

An MEA spokesman said, "It's unreasonable to have a $4,000 difference in a master's degree maximum (pay) from one district to another." She's wrong, of course, though her simplistic logic will have a strong appeal to some teachers. Different school districts have different abilities to pay, just as General Motors pays its professionals far more than American Motors, and AMC pays better than Checker or Efcu Tool.

The union will deny it, but a logical outcome of regional bargaining goals and regional unionism could be regional school districts.

Meanwhile, we all remember the built-in advantage the teachers have: The state requires 180 days of schooling a year, and that means pay for 180 days.

When the auto worker hits the bricks, he loses a paycheck. The striking teacher, however, may lose some work temporarily, may have next summer's vacation disrupted, may lose a chance at summer school—but still gets paid for 180 days work a year.

EVEN IF tax limitation is rejected by voters Nov. 7, we have de facto tax limitation: Voters simply are saying "no" to most new taxes and studying others in fine detail before approving them.

Voters will approve new taxes if they think they're getting something they need for the money. If future school tax proposals ask more money for quality paychecks, there will be trouble. Nationally, the economy looks as if it will be taking a dip late this year or early next year. That will hurt tax collections in Michigan.

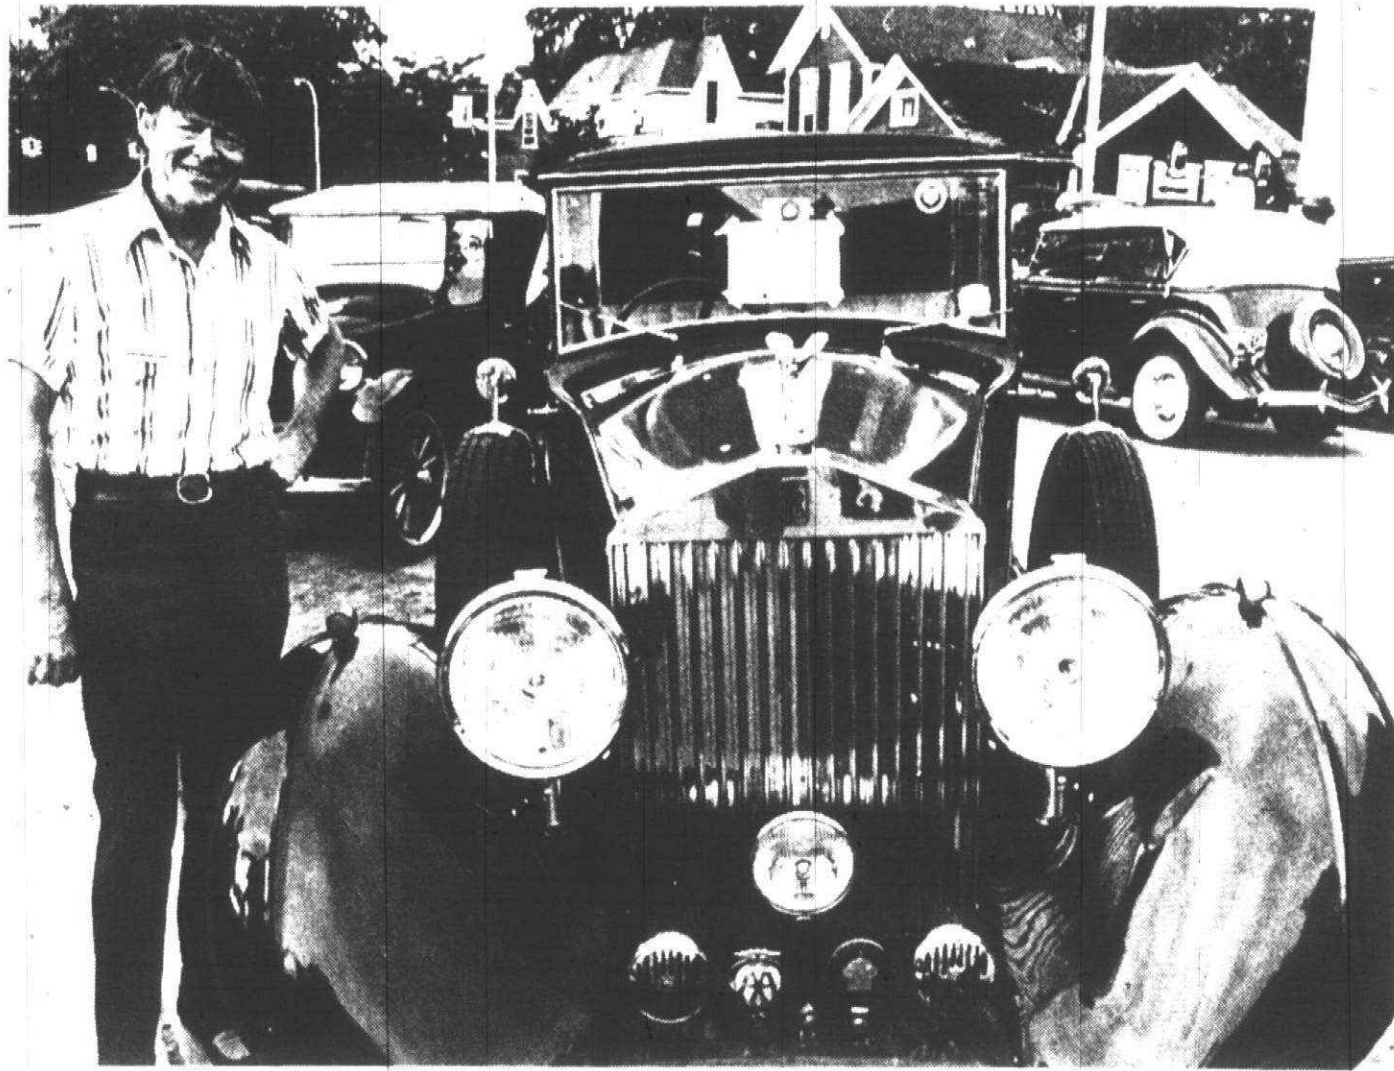

So, 1979 may be the year when militant teachers unions and militant taxpayers square off, with school boards in the middle. Good luck, school boards!

New road hazard

Sleepy-eyed working folks, heading in the morning for office or plant, have a new hazard to watch out for these days. The kids are up and about earlier now because they are on their ways back to school.

In summer the kids got up a little later, and most of their chasing-around activity was in the middle of the day. Conditions are different now. Their high spirits are still up, but their hours of peak activity are when drivers and going to or coming from work.

Very shortly, still another road hazard will be apparent. It will be getting light later, and sunset will be coming earlier. Those dawn and dusk hours can be some of the most dangerous for youngsters on foot, on skateboards, on bikes.

Rolls owners' syndrome: Love of man and machine

Among the many private, ultra-exclusive organizations of which I'm not a member is the international Rolls Royce Owners Club. Until just a few nights ago, this social oversight hadn't bothered me a whit. No more, for instance, than not being married to the Queen of England.

Now that I've viewed one up close—a Rolls that is—I'm wondering where I went wrong and when.

To my friend Bill Maybury of Plymouth, that gleaming 1935 Rolls of his, and all the attendant privileges that seem to be offshoots, are like "Walden" to Thoreau. Heads turn when he and Dottie take it on the road—for, yes, it is a thing of beauty.

When he told me of driving that grand old dame—the Rolls—not Dottie—to Tennessee and back without a single troublesome incident, I couldn't help but ask about those Tennessee troopers whom I find lurk so furtively in the 1-75 weeds with their radar guns.

If I didn't know Bill, a Ford engineer, so well, I'd say his answer was contained in a looking-down-the-nose-at-a-Buick-owner sneer. Words weren't necessary. The look alone let me know that when one is driving a vintage Rolls and police show up, it's only as an escort.

A SECOND FORD engineer, Tony Stica by name, indirectly was responsible for turning my attention to the ways of life of Rolls owners.

Until Tony, who serves in Ford's tractor plant at Troy and lives in Lathrup Village, brought wife Angie to dinner last week, Bill's Rolls and his '56 Bentley and his '48 and '49 Triumphs and his '49 MG were defined in my mind only as an eccentric collector's trinkets.

The succulent ears of Canton Township sweet corn and the barbecued chicken which Mother Goose was nursing so tenderly at the backyard grill were almost ready for serving.

Then, in a pregnant conversational pause which resulted in a culinary abortion, I simply mentioned between drinks that a friend two blocks away had a '35 Rolls polished and ready to roar in his driveway.

Good Lord Almighty!

Off we went. There was naught else to do, wives to the contrary. This was the exaltation of a love affair between a man and a machine, between a devotee of a form of art few understand and the symphonic mechanism which makes it purr as though Eugene Ormandy were on the podium.

After I myself had climbed through, daring only to look—not touch, I stood in envy as these two talked knowingly in their own language, the Rolls Royce language, and caressed this object of affection. But you know what? Thanks to artistry of another sort by the ladies, dinner still turned out great.

MY ORIGINAL reference to ultra-exclusive organizations which are beyond the ken and wallet of such peasants as thee and me stirs a memory. As that memory percolates, it brings back a chuckle. Let me share it.

On the evening of Friday, March 23, 1962, the then governor of Kentucky, Bert Combs, knighted 17 Michigan invaders en masse as Kentucky Colonels during a poolside banquet at Lexington House Hotel. Upon each was bestowed all the rights and privileges as an official member of the Governor's Staff of Kentucky (GSK).

The historic reference is dull, but it sets the stage. Those so knighted included names still

through bifocals

familiar to you, most of them residents of O&E's affluent Oakland County precincts:

Broadcasters J. P. McCarthy, Dave Diles, Bruce Martyn, Ben Johnson, the late Don Watrick, Joe Gentile, John Carroll and Milt Hopwood; newspapermen Al Coffman, Mark Beltaire and two who since have died, Lloyd Northard and Dave Tefft; plus an assortment of chaff that included Attorney Fred Buesser, travel expert George Brooks, advertising account executive Bob Rhein, lobbyist Don Gardner and, yes, the writer.

A semantics venery enthusiast could have done worse than label this group "a strap of jocks."

IT WAS HOPWOOD, who then lived at Walnut Lake in West Bloomfield, who proved a colonelcy carried more value than just an annual invitation to attend the Kentucky Derby banquet and the day-after Colonels' barbecue (at a substantial fee).

Maybe a year or two after the Lexington fete, when Milt had left his job as sports director at CKLW, he accepted a PR promotional assignment that took him to England.

His client arranged booking into one of London's finest clubs where, upon registering, this gleeful product of the University of Illinois appended after his name the initials "GSK."

From then on, no Englishman could do enough. Wherever Hopwood trod, it was upon the proverbial red carpet. Milt's tongue-in-cheek reference to a Kentucky tradition had been interpreted backwards, he reasoned, as "Knight of the Scarlet Garter."

He never learned whether there even is such a noble title, and most of us around Detroit don't know what's happened since last hearing from Milt in Texas. Maybe he adopted "JP" as his symbol. That will get a guy clubbed in any sand trap, any where.

The Stroller

Real gridiron drama

By W.W. EDGAR

Now that another football season is with us, stadiums across the land will be filled each week with thousands of cheering fans. They'll shout their pleasure at such startling plays as long pass completions—especially for winning touchdowns.

It is too bad that while they are shouting during the electrifying moments of open field running or goal line stands, they are being denied the drama which, perhaps, could be the most interesting moments of these glorious autumn afternoons. This is the drama that takes place in the locker rooms before the teams are sent out on the field.

Can you imagine how interesting it would be if you could listen to "Bo" Schembechler, the Michigan coach, as he steps to the front of the locker room and gives the squad its last "fight talk" before a game?

ONE CAN ONLY ponder on the great dramatic moments that took place in Michigan locker rooms when Fielding H. (Hurry-Up) Yost implored the Wolverines in his famed West Virginia twang to fight for dear old "Mee-chee-gan" in those last few moments before a big game.

During his career, The Stroller has been fortunate enough to listen in on the pre-game oratory of several coaches before their big games. And some were just as impressive as Patrick Henry intoning "Give me Liberty or give me death" during the Revolution.

One of the most dramatic scenes he can recall was at Notre Dame when the Irish were being given a bad beating by a rugged Minnesota team. At half time, The Stroller, in company with his close friend Joe Magdisohn, the referee, was making the rounds to tell the coaches it was only two minutes to resumption of play.

The locker room was a sight to behold. The players were sitting on the floor in a big circle. In the center was old Fr. Cavanaugh, one of the favorite priests, saying:

"Boys, you know, Rock likes a fighter. You don't always have to win. Just put up a good fight. If you do that in the second half, maybe we can cause Rock to change his mind."

When the second half started, Rockne didn't sit on the players' bench. He sat in the first row in the stands. But you never saw such a fired-up team. Fighting to get their coach back, the Irish started pushing the huge Gophers all over the field. Before the third quarter was half done, Rock was back on the bench. Talk about drama! This was one of the most dramatic moments in football history.

Tim Richard

Wheel-deal or act of courage?

So I called it wrong

You could have knocked me over with a feather when Democrat Nancie Blatt voted with the three remaining Republicans on the Schoolcraft College board to appoint the non-partisan Richard J. Hayward of Livonia to a vacant seat.

The other three board Democrats stuck with Democrat G.J. (Jack) Bologna. I had calculated it would be 4-3 for Bologna.

So what happened?

THE SCHOOLCRAFT College board is elected on a non-partisan ballot at the same time K-12 boards are elected each June. Voters, however, have enjoyed selecting persons with partisan political backgrounds for community college trustees. Until Republican Ron Cowden resigned, the split had been 4-4.

Mrs. Blatt's fellow Democrats are unhappy with her. Mrs. Blatt didn't show up the following week end for the Democratic State Convention in Lansing. Her name was taken in vain multitudinous times.

The prevailing theory in Democratic circles is that she cut a deal with Harry Greenleaf and the Republican trustees. She would vote for Hayward and next week would be elected vice-chairperson to replace Cowden.

Greenleaf was at the Republican convention. I put the question to him point-blank. He denies there is a deal.

He should know.

GREENLEAF DID predict there would be two candidates for vice-chairperson next week. Mrs. Blatt (now board secretary) and Rosina Raymond a Democrat and former vice-chairperson.

He didn't predict a winner. I won't predict one either. Let's just say the odds favor Nancie Blatt.

So why did Nancie Blatt break ranks and vote for the non-partisan Dick Hayward?

When six candidates were interviewed for the board vacancy, it was pretty clear it was a two-man race. Hayward and Bologna had both run for the board. Both knew a good bit about the college. Both have executive backgrounds. Both were endorsed by this newspaper.

Mrs. Blatt said Hayward made a far better impression, answering questions more directly, arriving on time for the meeting and staying to the end.

She reported she had been under intense pressure to vote for Bologna—25 phone calls and who-can-count-how-many conversations. One call even came from the staff of House Speaker Bobby D. Crim in Lansing. (Mrs. Blatt ran as a Democrat for state representative in 1977.)

The partisan pressure irritated her. She couldn't say whether, if there had been no pressure, she might have voted for Bologna.

Unless I find out someone has been lying, I would have to conclude Nancie Blatt voted her conscience. Politicians have been known to do that. A guy named John F. Kennedy wrote a book about them and called it "Profiles in Courage." It was about members of Congress who voted their consciences and suffered dire consequences. Some were Republicans and some were Democrats.

But enough of this political palaver.

What I really want to say is this: While Republicans and trustees on the board may look bad with their partisan machinations, the people were winners either way. Both Dick Hayward and Jack Bologna are among the best candidates who have ever run for the Schoolcraft College board.

Except for electing board officers, one's party affiliation has little to do with how Schoolcraft the college is governed. It's being run pretty well.

Senate votes to extend CETA

Here's how area senators were recorded on major roll call votes in the days immediately preceding the Senate recess that began Aug. 27. The House was in recess during the reporting period.

THREE Rs—Rejected, 30 for and 62 against, an amendment to kill a proposed program to upgrade the teaching of reading, writing and math in the nation's elementary and secondary schools. The new program would spend $754 million over five years, chiefly in grants to state and local education agencies for initiatives to improve curricula and teaching with respect to the basic skills. The amendment was proposed to HR 15, a bill extending the Elementary and Secondary Education Act for five years at a total cost of $51.5 billion. The bill goes to conference with the House.

Sen. Robert Morgan (D-N.C.), sponsor of the amendment to delete the basic skills program, said "it would inevitably increase federal control over all aspects of our local public school system."

Sen. Claiborne Pell (D-R.I.), an opponent of the amendment, said: "If we cannot do something to make sure that youngsters can read, write and compute, we shall not be too effective in building a structure above that."

Senators voting "nay" favored the new basic skills program.

Sens. Robert Griffin (R), and Donald Riegle (D), voted "nay."

DOUBLE-DIPPING—Failed, 32 for and 58 against, to table stricter limitations on "double-dipping"—the practice of military retirees taking civilian jobs in the federal government and thus getting dual U.S. paychecks. Failure of the tabling motion left intact a $47,500 ceiling proposed on the combined income of most military retirees who take civilian jobs with Uncle Sam. The ceiling is part of S 2640, the Civil Service reform bill later passed (87-1) and sent to the House.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), a supporter of tabling and thus killing the proposed ceiling, said: "I am getting a little sick and tired of hearing the man in uniform kicked around because he has the expertise, he has the know-how, that certain agencies of the government have to have."

Sen. Thomas Eagleton (D-Mo.), an opponent of tabling, said: "I think the reason there is great concern about (double-dipping) is that if we permit this military pension business to linger and mangle, as it has for decades, then one of these days it will bankrupt even the incredible wealthy Pentagon."

Roll Call Report

Senators voting "nay" favored the stricter limitations on double-dipping. Riegle and Griffin voted "nay."

and abuses in local CETA programs nationwide. Sen. Edward Zorinsky (D-Neb.), a

NEW SENATE BUILDING—Voted, 61 for and 11 against, to approve and send to the White House the conference report on a $6.8 billion supplemental appropriations bill (HR 13467). The bill originally contained $4 million to advance construction of the third Senate office building—an edifice labeled a "palace" by its critics but defended as necessary office space by its supporters. With this vote, the Senate reluctantly went along with a House decision to delay any more funding for the controversial structure until after the 1978 congressional elections.

Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.), a supporter of both the bill and the new building, said: "If the House keeps delaying (construction), it might cause the present cost of $101 per square foot... to exceed the $186 per square foot cost of the Rayburn House Office Building."

Sen. Richard Lugar (R-Ind.), an opponent of the bill and the building, said House members voted to kill the $4 million outlay because of constituent pressure, and that "there are a number of our constituents who simply do not want... a substantial new edifice constructed."

Most senators voting "nay" had voted in early August against the $4 million outlay for the third Senate office building.

Riegle voted "yea" and Griffin did not vote.

CETA—Passed, 66 for and 10 against, a bill (S 2570) extending the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) for four years, at a first-year cost of $10.8 billion and potential total cost of more than $40 billion. A companion bill is pending in the House. The current CETA program expires Sept. 30.

CETA is the main government program for putting the unemployed—chiefly the poor—to work. A major thrust of S 2570 is to train the hardcore unemployed while curbing corruption supporter, said that while CETA is "not perfect" it "strives not to foster a dependence on government, but to train men and women to be independent and productive members of society."

Sen. Adlai Stevenson (D-Ill.), an opponent, said it would be "difficult to contrive a more inefficient and politically corrosive means of creating employment than by the public service employment programs of CETA."

Senators voting "yea" favored extending CETA.

Riegle and Griffin voted "yea."

The only reason we went to see "Animal House" was because Tom Hulce was in it. Must admit most of the audience was much younger—but old enough not to be accompanied by a parent.

Sports Editor Dennis O'Connor had seen it the night before and he was still laughing. He warned me, said I wouldn't enjoy it and suggested my generation would not find it amusing.

It was funny—and so was the audience. It was revealing. They laughed at the same things we would have laughed (nervously) at if they had made movies like that 40 years ago. That is a rather involved statement.

The gist of it is, these kids aren't as worldly as they're reputed to be. It was interesting.

Tom's mother, Joann Hulce, saw the sneak preview in Detroit last spring. She said the movie was filmed in Oregon last fall. They had a few difficulties finding a school that would permit the use of its campus for "Animal House." Tom had to go to Hollywood several times for retakes.

His present venture is legitimate theater. The old Pabst Playhouse in Milwaukee had been refurbished and a repertory group is in residence. Professionals have been imported for lead roles.

by
GRAHAM

Tom Hulce will join the company for "Romeo and Juliet." He will play Romeo in the Shakespeare classic.

"It's a beautiful theater," said Joann. "It has tiers of balconies and boxes—like an oldtime opera house."

Romeo is a sensitive role, the type Tom will handle beautifully. Of course, he was pretty sensitive in "Animal House," too.

Tom Hulce was born and raised in Plymouth Township. His classmates and the parents of his classmates have taken a very personal interest in his career. He is now 25 and has starred in "Equus," several movies, and repertory theater, and "Emily, Emily," a Hallmark Hall of Fame television special.

MARY LOU Alwood is feeling blue (black and blue, in fact) about this year's fall festival. She had big plans for her participation in the costume contest and had a dress made especially for the event. Mary Lou and Mary McNamara were going to push old-fashioned wicker prams, adding a colorful touch to all four days of the festival.

Instead, Mrs. Alwood is in St. Mary Hospital. She was up in the attic of her Harvey Street home, looking through old trunks for festival accessories. The telephone rang, she raced to the stairs and fell. The result was a concussion, broken ribs, a collapsed lung and a broken hip.

She hopes to be home for part of the festival, but if she makes it downtown, someone will have to push her in a pram.

The Alwoods returned to Plymouth three years ago after Richard Alwood retired from Burroughs Corp. Mary Lou was a Voohries and her mother was a Nowland. The Nowlands used to live on Harvey Street where the parking lot is now. The Alwoods have loved being in Plymouth. Richard has worked part time in the hobby shop in Forest Place Mall.

Mary Lou can't resist holidays. Christmas displays on their front lawn are always ingenious. She made, and flew, a shamrock flag on St. Patrick's Day. On Mothers Day, there was a carriage and doll in front of the house.

After living on Harvey Street, across from the Central Parking Lot, Richard Alwood said, "I don't know if we'd be satisfied living in a residential neighborhood. We have enjoyed being downtown."

Mary Lou plans to be at the festival with the aid of a walker. Last year, she won third place in the costume contest. This year, she'll deserve a ribbon just for showing up.

LOCAL CAMP Fire Girls are planning a fall kickoff celebration from 2-4 p.m. Sept. 17 in Kellogg Park.

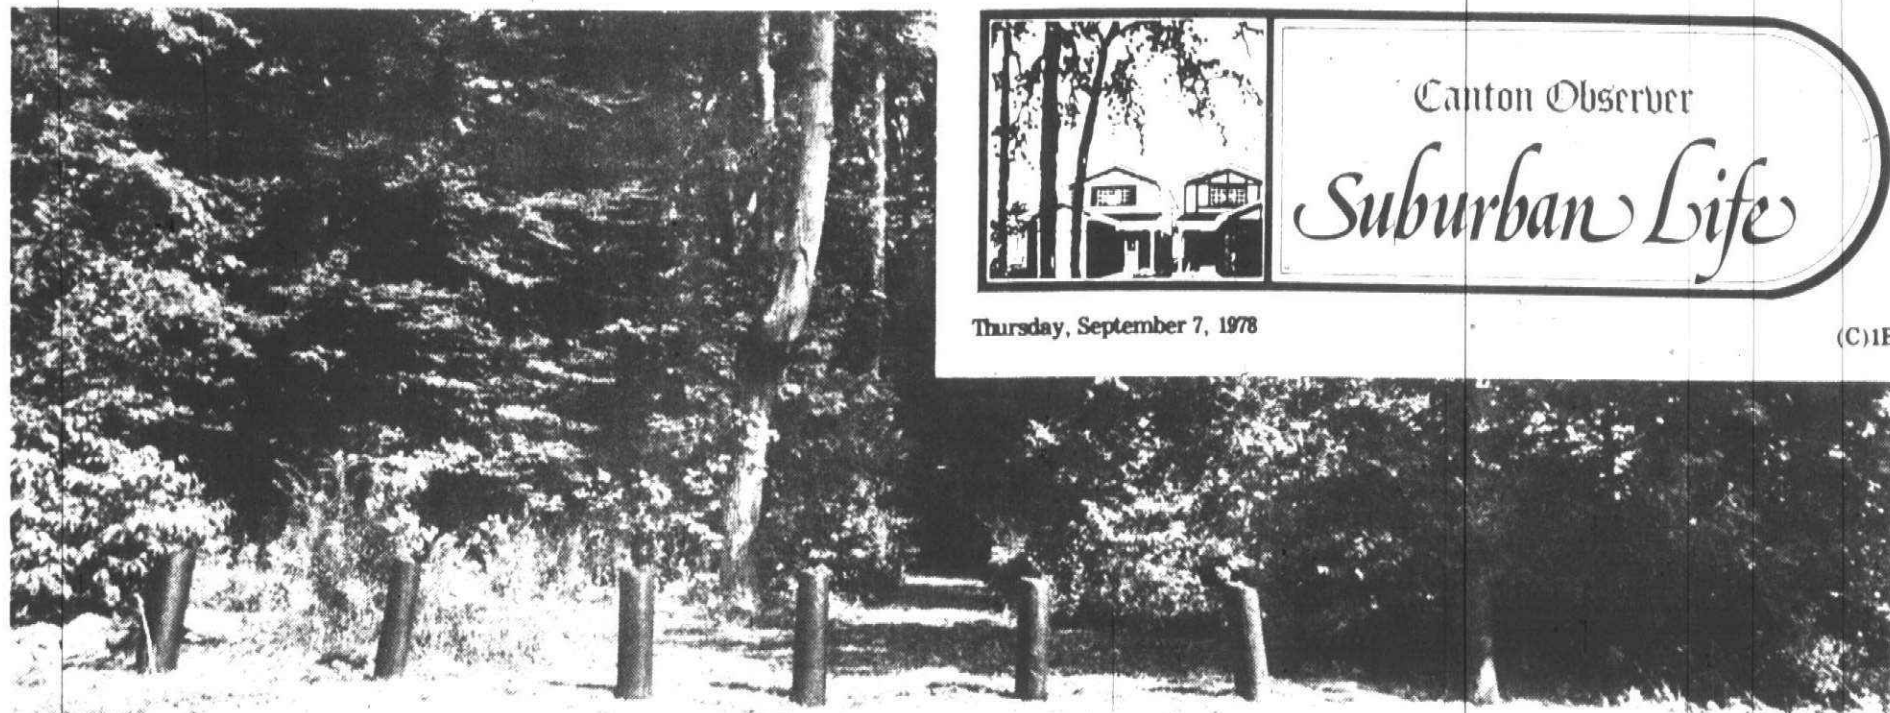

Camp Fire Girls from Plymouth Northville and Canton will set up displays depicting their activities.

GLADYS BOWEN was the recipient of a nice surprise on her birthday. Her son Robert, who had been on a dig in Africa all summer, called from London, England to wish her a happy birthday.

MICHAEL BALL, of the Hands on Leather Shop in the Penniman Avenue Shops, will participate in the Art 'N Apples festival in Rochester Sept. 14-17. The event is sponsored every other year by the Rochester Arts Commission in Rochester Municipal Park.

Along with the arts and crafts, the festival features food, music, children and adult entertainment. Service clubs from the area will operate food booths utilizing a number of apple recipes. There will be folk dancing and among the musical groups will be "The Executives," a group of 17 Birmingham businessmen who collaborate to produce the big band sound.

Michael will be in the fine arts and crafts tent.

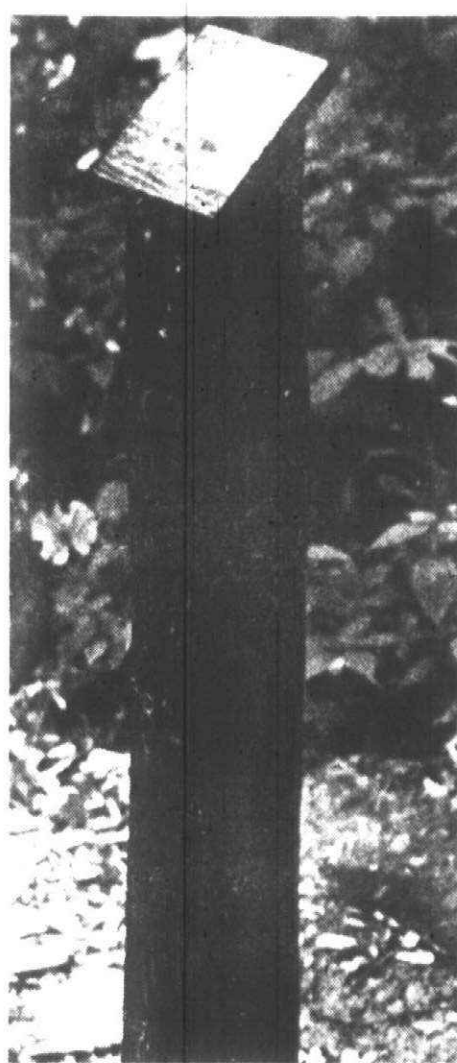

A row of brown posts was set into the ground to discourage dumping trash at the entrance. Post (at right) is one of 14 stations which will be used with maps for self-guided tours.

Miller Woods wears a new look for fall

Something wonderful happened to Miller Woods this summer. The natural forest on Powell Road owned by the Plymouth Canton Community Schools has a new look thanks to a group of young people in the Youth Conservation Corps.

Persons who took part in the spring walks through the woods will marvel at the changes.

The litter was removed — four truckloads of it. The YCC kids hauled it out of the woods and school trucks hauled it to the dump. Besides broken chunks of concrete, rusted appliances and garbage, there were some interesting finds.

They included a porcelain doorknob, a cast iron tractor hub cap, a 1906 milk of magnesia bottle, a 1929 license plate, a 1931 biology notebook, and part of a still.

Rotting logs were left to create soil and the plant and animal life were undisturbed. Teenagers who never had the time or the inclination to observe the ecology of a woods, spent their first paychecks on nature books.

THE YCC EFFORT was funded by Canton Township, the schools and the Department of Natural Resources. The schools and the township matched 30 per cent of the amount to the DNR's 70 per cent.

"One of the best things about this," said John Campbell, director of the project, "was that our share could be in soft funds. For instance, the use of our trucks to haul junk was a monetary contribution."

Campbell teaches biology at Plymouth Salem High School. With a major in forestry, he has a fine appreciation of the woods and the effort to keep it natural. He was assisted by Mark Griffith, biology teacher at Plymouth Canton High School.

Their enthusiasm for Miller Woods is contagious. "There must be some champion trees in there," said Campbell. He added that if they weren't now, they would be in a few years. He was referring to an exceptionally large ironwood and a norbeam. The woods abounds in great sugar maples, tulip trees, muscle wood, oaks, beeches and even a paw paw — rare in these northern latitudes.

THERE ARE hickory and walnut trees, elms and bass woods. And the YCC group became acquainted with all of them.

Once the trash was removed, trails were covered with wood chips. These were provided by a developer who was clearing and surveying land nearby. Campbell said they were high quality chips that would last.

The wood chip trails were edged with slender branches. Walkers can follow the trails deep into the woods where they curve and lead out of the woods at a spot about a 100 yards from the entrance.

Several benches were built along the trail, for those who would enjoy just sitting for a spell. One bridge was constructed over a spot that is wet and marshy in the spring.

A series of posts were set into the ground near the roadside. These were in places that usually were the worst eyesores. People would back in with their cars or trucks and dump everything from old washing machines and mattresses to garbage. The posts were painted dark brown.

Fourteen numbered posts were placed along the trail. These were painted brown and numbers, 1-14, carved on each post. These markers can be used with maps for self-guided tours of the woods. The YCC people made the decisions where each post should be placed.

TOM FRIEDLANDER, an Ann Arbor naturalist who serves as guide during the spring tours, spent some time with the corps. He, along with the Miller Woods Committee, has a deep appreciation of the forest.

"The majority of the kids knew very little about a wood lot when we started. As the eight-week program came to an end, they were asking if they could be tour guides in the spring," said Campbell.

He credited Sam Alsaker, school administrator, and Canton Township Supervisor Harold Stein for making the conservation corps possible. Alsaker applied for the grant and without financial support from Canton Township the terms could not be met.

"The schools own five or six wooded areas — at the high school, Gallimore, Hulsing and this one," Campbell said. "Something has to be set up to protect these areas."

The corps worked on Miller Woods and a site in Canton Township. Those who participated were: Gary Atkinson, Greg Carl, Betty Carrie, Mark Culotta, Judith Freiman, Anna Gots, Veronica Gray, John Graves, Lisa Hapman, Nancy Hill, Jill Hobbs, Michael Horsell, Daniel Howard, Gene Howard, Tisa King, Marc Mosher, Craig Pierson, Judith Purpura, Lisa Richardson, Linda Scruggs, Walter Zeiler and Ralph Zimmerman.

Few had seen Miller Woods in the spring when it is carpeted with masses of hepaticas, spring beauties, blood root, purple violets and trout lilies. They worked through the heat of the summer. In spite of the shade, the thick woods are still, hot and breathless.

They did see the May apples, acorns, beech burs, hickory nuts and dolls eyes begin to mature. And they lived with the chatter of the squirrels and songs and scoldings of the birds as they worked.

When it was all over, Miller Woods had taken on a new appearance. It looked as if someone cared.

Benches were built beside the path while a bridge spanned a low marshy section.

Justice center offers lectures

The Women's Justice Center of Detroit is sponsoring four lectures in two area locations during September and October.

Topics to be discussed in lectures in the Livonia Mall and the Northland Center include women's rights, divorce procedure, rights of battered women and credit.

The talks will be held in the Livonia Mall Monday from 12:30 to 3 p.m. In Northland they will be from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday. The mall series, held in the community room, will begin with a talk on women's rights on Sept. 11. The same lecture will be heard in Northland Sept. 13.

Divorce proceedings will be the topic at the mall on Sept. 18, at the community room in Northland on Sept. 20. Battered women will be considered on Sept. 25 in the mall and on Sept. 27 in Northland.

Credit-the law and your eligibility-is the subject Oct. 2 in the mall and Oct. 4 in Northland.

Postmastectomy program slated

Encore, the postmastectomy rehabilitation program sponsored by the Western Wayne County YWCA will begin at 7:30-9 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 13 in Woodworth Elementary School, Dearborn.

Any woman who has had a mastectomy is eligible to participate provided it is at least three weeks following surgery. She needs written permission from her doctor. Fee is $2 per session.

Encore's aim is to provide physical and emotional rehabilitation through exercise as well as supportive group discussions.

At weekly sessions, the 90-minutes is divided into a half hour of gentle exercises done to soft music, a half hour of swim exercises to redevelop muscles and regain flexibility, and a half hour of discussion. During the latter period, program members will receive practical information and share experiences and feelings.

An advisory committee serves to insure high quality and safety to the nation-wide YWCA program. Representatives of both the Michigan Cancer Foundation and American Cancer Society serve on it along with social workers, doctors and nurses.

For more information, contact Audrey Wasserman at 561-4110.

Festival windows

One of the first shop windows to be decorated for the Plymouth Fall Festival was Me and Mr. Jones, planned and executed by the staff of the Plymouth Historical Museum. The museum will be open Friday evening with its new exhibit of pewter and silver. Craftsmen will be at work at the museum Saturday and Sunday. Special admission rates will be in effect during the festival — 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. (Staff photo)

Clubs in Action

APPLE RUN GARDEN CLUB

Members of the Apple Run Garden Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 12 at the home of Carlie McDonald, 43915 Arlington, Canton Township. The club is a branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Guest speaker will be Rosemary Smith. Her topic will be flower arrangements.

SYMPHONY LEAGUE FASHION SHOW

Tickets for the annual fall fashion at Meadowbrook Country Club sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League will be available at the league's antique mart during the Plymouth Fall Festival. The mart is in the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street at Theodore.

Admission will be $8 per person and will include lunch and fashions from Jacobson's Ann Arbor Store. The event will be Oct. 18.

FALL FASHION PREVIEW

Tonquish Creek branch Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will have a fashion show at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 12 in West Middle School cafeteria.

Models will be garden club members and their children. The preview of fall fashions will be from Claire Kelley of Plymouth and Little Angels shops. Coffee and dessert will be served. The show will be open to the public. Tickets, at $2, are available now from members of the club, at the door, or by calling Susan Silve, 453-9135. Only 200 persons will be admitted.

OKTOBERFEST

Tickets for the Sept. 30 Oktoberfest, sponsored by the German American Club of Plymouth may be purchased during the Plymouth Fall Festival. The club will have a booth at the Odd Fellows' lot on the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Elizabeth Street.

The club's first Oktoberfest will be in the Plymouth Cultural Center. Music will be provided by the Melodias, the German group which played at the spring parties.

ST. KENNETH SENIORS

The first fall meeting of the St. Kenneth's Senior Citizens Club will be at noon Sept. 19 in the church on Haggerty Road south of Five Mile Road.

Members are asked to take a friend to the meeting. Dessert and coffee will be provided. Seniors will take along their own sack lunch. Activities for the new season will be discussed.

PLYMOUTH EX-NEWCOMERS CLUB

Former Plymouth Newcomers are invited to the first general meeting of the Plymouth Ex-Newcomers Club 8 p.m. Sept. 12 in the Plymouth Community Credit Union, 500 S. Harvey Street.

The evening will be spent discussing club activities for the year and signing up for interest groups. Some of these are: Ladies and couples bowling, gourmet, bridge, pinocle, book club, and out-to-lunch.

Refreshments will follow the business meeting and crafts for the October workshop will be shown.

Prospective or active members may call Connie Polonyi, membership chairman, 420-0250, or Marue Biggs, vice president, 455-6682, for information.

PLYMOUTH GARDEN CLUB

The Plymouth Branch Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will meet at noon Sept. 11 in the home of Mrs. Carl Peterson, 12049 Amherst Court.

A preview of coming crafts will be given by Margaret Koeninger, crafts chairman. Diane Mallow will be tea chairman for the meeting.

DAR MEETING

Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet at noon Sept. 18 in the home of Mrs. William Lindhout. There will be a sandwich luncheon.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Walter Fysh, state chairman, whose topic will be the DAR schools.

Canton Chatter

By SHARON STARON

455-5322

Windsor Park Subdivision held its second annual corn roast recently. Fresh corn on the cob, pop, cotton candy and popcorn were furnished by the home association. Residents brought their picnic lunches to park west in the subdivision and made a day of it.

A moonwalk, clowns and antique car rides were all part of the fun. The evening's entertainment included a bonfire, roasted marshmallows and a song fest.

The board members who worked so hard on the annual affair include, Cynthia Betley, Sharon Wiltse, Larry Markiewicz, Jim Maisel and John Burziak.

BETTY AND FLOYD Stehler of Sturbridge entertained relatives from Melbourne, Australia for the last two months. Betty's parents, Margaret and Norman Thompson arrived in Canton June 21.

The Stehler's son, Matthew Norman, who was born May 8 was a real hit with his grandparents. The other Stehler children, Fiona, a first grader at Gallimore and 3-year-old Lyn were thrilled to see their grandparents.

The family traveled upstate taking in all the sights and sounds of Michigan.

Betty, who is originally from Australia, had not seen her parents since she visited them over three years ago when Lyn was just an infant.

The Thompsons returned home last week leaving a tearful daughter behind. The last two months for the reunited family was well worth the terrible farewell scene at the airport. Betty told friends how she always realizes just how far away Australia is whenever she has to say goodbye.

Memories of this two-month stay hopefully will help the Stehlers and Thompsons until their next visit.

SENIOR CITIZENS of Canton are beginning their new season of activities. This Saturday at the Canton Recreation Hall the All Seniors Flea Market will be from noon until 4 p.m. There will be some antiques and baked goods as well as hand crafted items for sale.

Up and coming events for the seniors include an overnight trip to the Paw Paw Winery and Battle Creek on Sept. 13 and 14 and a trip to the Amish Acres and Notre Dame on Oct. 3 and 4. Two mystery trips are planned for Oct. 16 and Oct. 30. These trips are top secret and only Mrs. Dale Hall, coordinator and Delores Edwards, assistant coordinator, know the destination. A card party is planned at the recreation hall Sept. 28.

Canton seniors who meet on Fridays at 12:30 p.m. at the recreation hall, 44237 Michigan Ave., the Zesters who meet at St. Michaels Lutheran Church, Sheldon and Warren Roads on Thursdays at 12:30 p.m. and the Royal Holiday Park Seniors are the three senior groups involved in these activities.

Any resident of Canton over the age of 50 may come to any weekly meeting or call the recreation hall at 397-2777 to get in on the fun.

SEPTEMBER is the month when all the groups and extra activities for Cantonites begin. This is also the month when the cub scouts, brownies, Camp Fire girls and other groups are starting their search for new members and new leaders. When planning your fall schedule please try to include some time to help our children's groups. They can't function without adults. We have such great children in Canton, let's show them how much we care.

Role of the Clergy at the Time of Death

The minister, priest, or rabbi can help greatly in properly comforting and assisting the bereaved—if he is contacted early after the death of the loved one. He can define the differences between the physical (body of the deceased) and the soul (spirit of the deceased). He can further ease the family through the first steps of the grief process.

It is far healthier, emotionally, to allow the minister to help the family work through their grief openly than to permit their sadness to be repressed or concealed.

Clergymen have been trained to assist in times of stress. Their experiences through study and from real life-and-death situations make them invaluable to you—and us. Their many sources of comfort and aid, especially in grief-counseling, can be very beneficial. They are especially anxious to serve their congregations at such times. They would also like to be contacted early so they can be of assistance as soon as it is possible for them to do so.

We welcome your questions—in private or publicly through this column.

Dobbs-Nearing

Marlyn K. Nearing wore an ivory chignon sleeveless gown for her Aug. 19 wedding to Edward J. Dobbs at St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, Saginaw Township. Fr. William Gulas officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alous Nearing of Saginaw Township and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dobbs of Plymouth.

The bride wore a matching chignon hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. Cherie Nearing was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Janet Dobbs, Karen Dickinson, Carol Kershul, Shelley Draper, Elizabeth Case and Kathleen Condon. Carman Montpas was flowergirl. The attendants wore seagray colored gowns with matching jackets. They carried baskets of German statice, daisies and miniature carnations.

Michael Dapkus of Canton Township was best man. Groomsmen were Jerald Dobbs of Plymouth, Mark and Dan Nearing, Richard Saranen, William Joyce and Kim Woody. Ken Woody of Plymouth was ringbearer.

Before departing on a northern Michigan honeymoon, the newlyweds greeted 400 guests at their wedding reception. They will live in Marquette where the bridegroom is a student at Northern Michigan University.

Dziamski-Pallister

Eugene and Sue Dziamski of Indiana Street, Livonia, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter Patricia Ann to Craig Allen Pallister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pallister of Orangelawn Street, Plymouth.

The bride-to-be graduated in 1974 from Churchill High School and in 1976 from Schoolcraft College. She is employed by the Ford Motor Co. Her fiancé graduated from Churchill in 1973 and is employed by General Motors Corp.

They plan a September wedding in St. Michael Catholic Church of Livonia.

Brown-Douglas

Victoria A. Douglas and Jeffrey A. Brown exchanged wedding vows Aug. 11 in St. Peter Lutheran Church, Plymouth. Pastor Leonard Koeniger officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Douglas of Salem Road, Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brown of Hanford Road, Canton Township, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a floor-length white gown with a lace bodice. She carried white daisies, white rosebuds and green ivy. Brenda Gothard, her maid of honor, wore a rose gown with a scoop neckline and train. Attendants Gail Johnson and Lisa Brown wore the same style gowns in a blue material. Flower girl Kathy Brown wore a rose gown.

Steven Stahl was best man and groomsmen were David Goldberg and Chris Kable.

Following a reception in the Finnish Center, Farmington Hills, the couple honeymooned in Toronto. They will live in Plymouth.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School. She is employed by the registrar of deeds in Ann Arbor. Her husband graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1975. He is employed by Central Title Co., Ann Arbor.

Old cars will star at Greenfield Village

The 28th annual Greenfield Village Old Car Festival, scheduled Sept. 9 and 10, will be quite a sight for pampered modern motorists who have never donned dusters or goggles, packed their bags on the running board or sweet talked their cantankerous machines up a steep grade.

Adventurous automotive enthusiasts, many in costumes, will coax more than 300 cars to this event. Each day will include a parade and frpysome competitions, including potato and balloon-tying contests and hand-cranked races. The Wheelmen, the national organization of antique bicycle enthusiasts, will add to the turn-of-the-century atmosphere.

Cars built during the period 1918 through 1925 will be judged on Saturday and those from the period 1896 through 1917 will be judged Sunday. There will be displays of antique automobiles each day.

Special ceremonies will be held Saturday to honor recent donors of antique cars to Henry Ford Museum and Sunday to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the Ford Motor Co.

Visitors can see the four most recent donations of automobiles to Henry Ford Museum on Saturday on the Village Activities Field: a 1929 Packard Speedster Roadster, a 1930 Ford Phaeton, a 1936 Ford Thunderbird and a 1933 Studebaker Avanti.

There is no charge for Old Car Festival beyond the regular Village admission of $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children ages 6 through 12. Children under 6 are admitted free.

Hauk-Noakes

Melissa Noakes and James Kenneth Hauk exchanged wedding vows in Cherry Hill United Methodist Church before the Rev. Burt Hasking. The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Noakes of Napier Road, Canton Township. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hauk of Ridge Road, Canton Township.

The bride wore candlelight chignon gown trimmed with alencon lace and pearl embroidery with a matching veil. Her bouquet was made of dried flowers and peach and ivory silk roses with yellow accents.

James Gulan of Ypsilanti was best man. Groomsmen were Kenneth Wimple, Richard Hauk and Tom Noakes. The couple honeymooned in New Orleans following a reception in Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor. They will live in Canton Township.

Both graduated from Plymouth Salem High School.

He moves from ivory tower to glass darkly

Two years ago, Benjamin Dunlap of "Cinematic Eye" altered his role of university professor to that of television writer, host and producer.

His mission was to develop a college credit series devoted to the art of film. After a trial run on South Carolina ETV, Dunlap admits he was somewhat stuffy.

"Even my mother told me she couldn't understand a word I was saying. I had all sorts of arrogant ideas," Dunlap says with a laugh. "Now I'm 40 and it's really intriguing to be taken out of your area of competency."

Dunlap's "area of competency" is teaching literature and film studies at the University of South Carolina in his native Columbia. A former Rhodes Scholar, Dunlap received a BA from the University of the South, Sewanee, BAs and MAs from Oxford and a Ph.D. from Harvard University.

THE FORMAT Dunlap has devised for the series is simple and effective. His half-hour critical analysis introduces a classic European film from the Janus Collection.

Formidable titles such as "Torment," "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," "M" and "Shoeshine" are included.

In the midst of hosting "Cinematic Eye," Dunlap also is editing the study guide for the series. His idea is to have

Channel 56 to carry 2 new series about film

Two new series which will examine the behind-the-scenes workings of the world of filmmaking will debut on Channel 56 the week of Sept. 17-23. "The Screening Room" (a Wayne State University telecourse) will be seen at midnight Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, beginning Sept. 18. "Cinematic Eye" will be seen at noon Saturdays, starting Sept. 23.

"The Screening Room" is a series of 30, half-hour programs dealing with directors, studios and stars of American film. The shows trace the technical and artistic innovations from the era of the silent film to the post-World War II stage.

The series "The Screening Room" is being offered for undergraduate credit at Wayne State University.

ANOTHER NEW series devoted to the art of film is "Cinematic Eye." Designed to accompany 13 classic European films, "Cinematic Eye" is both serious criticism and entertainment.

The 13 films are from the Janus Collection and include classics like "M" by Fritz Lang, "La Strada" by Federico Fellini and "Jules and Jim" by Francois Truffaut. The movies will be seen immediately following "Cinematic Eye" on Saturdays at 12:30 p.m.

Hosted by Benjamin Dunlap, each program explores the background and technique of the films to be shown afterward.

the guide supply additional information about the background, production and participants in each film. The guide also will contain film assignments and recommended readings. His early thoughts of writing for television have mellowed during the producing of the "Cinematic Eye" series for public television, and Dunlap appreciates the difficulty of merging education with entertainment. That is his primary goal in the 13 shows.

"Realistically, the people who like

"The Flying Nun" won't like 'Cinematic Eye,' predicts Dunlap, "but those viewers accustomed to the quality of PBS programming will. I want each show to be something the viewer will want to watch again and again."

Following are the films, the director and year of release for each of the classic films that will be introduced and analyzed by Dunlap on "Cinematic Eye."

"Torment" Alf Sjöberg (1944)

"The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" Robert Wiene (1919)

"The Battleship Potemkin" Sergei Eisenstein (1925)

"M" Fritz Lang (1931)

"Man of Aran" Robert Flaherty (1934)

"Rules of the Game" Jean Renoir (1939)

"Shoeshine" Vittorio de Sica (1946)

"Beauty and the Beast" Jean Cocteau (1946)

"Hobson's Choice" David Lean (1953)

"La Strada" Federico Fellini (1954)

"Smiles of a Summer Night" Ingmar Bergman (1955)

"L'Avventura" Michelangelo Antonioni (1960)

"Jules and Jim" Francois Truffaut (1961)

EMU conductor

Francesco DiBlasi of Livonia has been appointed conductor of the Eastern Michigan University-Civic Orchestra, replacing Edward Szabo. DiBlasi will conduct eight concerts—six orchestra and two chamber—in the 1978-9 season. He will continue as music director and conductor of Oakway Symphony Orchestra and on the music faculty of Madonna College. DiBlasi has performed with the Detroit Symphony, Metropolitan Opera and Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo orchestras and has been a frequent guest conductor.

Oakway Symphony seeks new members

Oakway Symphony Orchestra is scheduling auditions for all strings, oboe, bassoon, French horn and trumpet players.

Persons with symphonic or equivalent experience, or highly talented high school students, may arrange an audition by calling Conductor Francesco DiBlasi at 425-8618 or writing him at Box 171, Farmington 48024. Regular rehearsals are Monday evenings at 7:30 in Harrison High School, Twelve Mile between Middlebelt and Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills. They begin Sept. 11.

Musicians from throughout Wayne and Oakland counties perform in the Oakway Symphony, now in its sixth season. Copies of the season's program may be obtained by writing to the box number.

Theater guild sets auditions

The Plymouth Theatre Guild has announced auditions for its November production of "Cheaper By the Dozen."

They will be held 7:30-10:30 p.m. Sept. 12 and 13 at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Producer Clemmie Cyburt is also seeking backstage help.

The guild is accepting applications for producer and director for the remainder of the season, which will include "Mary, Mary" by Jean Kerr, "The Lion in Winter" and "Play It Again Sam." Applications can be mailed to the guild at Box 451, Plymouth 48170.

For more information on season tickets, upcoming shows and the auditions, call 453-4140.

• ORGAN SOCIETY: 4 shows mark first series

A fall 1978 series of four shows, featuring the theater pipe organ in combination with varied other acts, including dancers, choir and a harpist, has been announced by the Motor City Theatre Organ Society, Inc.

The announcement of an entire series of programs is a "first" for the society, as is the idea of including other acts in a theater organ program.

The first show in the series is at the Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor on Thursday, Sept. 24, at 8 p.m., and features Walt Strony at the organ. The program also includes a vintage period newsreel, a silent comedy film and a barbershop chorus. The show will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Michigan Theatre.

The second program will be at the Redford Theatre in Detroit, on Friday, Oct. 13, at 8 p.m., and the organist will be Karl Cole, performing at the organ and synthesizer. The program will include a comedy tap team and Rockette-type dancers—Miss Harriet's Sophisticats.

Third in the series will be a Big Band Show, on Saturday, Nov. 11, at 8 p.m., at the Redford Theatre. The artist will be Charlie Balogh at the organ and there also will be a 16-piece professional orchestra called Fine Print which specializes in the big band sound.

THE FOURTH SHOW in the fall series will be a Christmas Show at the Redford Theatre, on Saturday, Dec. 9, at 8 p.m. The organist will be a favorite of Detroiters, Lyn Larsen. The program will include a professional, Detroit-based harpist Nadia Marks, and the 50-voice choir from the Shrine High School.

Tickets for the programs are available two ways—either as a series or for individual shows. If tickets are purchased for the entire series of four programs, four shows may be had for the price of three; there is no discount for tickets for individual shows purchased in advance.

Tickets are available on a reserved seating basis. Tickets and further information are available by calling 537-2560.

The Motor City Theatre Organ Society, Inc., is a non-profit, tax-exempt club, a group of more than 400 area residents dedicated to the preservation of the theater pipe organ and the fostering of its music.

The society owns and operates the Redford Theatre in Detroit, as well as owning the pipe organ in the Royal Oak Theatre and maintaining the organ in the Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor.

Cole Porter cabaret at Schoolcraft

Ursula Walker will sing the lyrics of Cole Porter with the Matt Michaels quartet at 8 p.m. Sept. 18 in the campus center at Schoolcraft College, starting the school's cultural and public affairs series. The $3 admission includes chef Robert Breithaupt's cheese mixture and assorted crackers. Beer, wine and soft drinks will be sold at a cash bar. Tickets are available at the bookstore on campus, 18600 Haggerty in Livonia. For more information, call 591-6400, ext. 410.

• FARMINGTON PLAYERS: Season tickets available

The Farmington Players will present "A Streetcar Named Desire," "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Philadelphia Story" during their 1978-79 season.

Each play will run 10 performances. Last year nine performances of each of the three shows were sold out and an additional night was added to accommodate the demand for tickets to "A Doll's House."

"Streetcar" will run Nov. 3-5, 9-12 and 16-18. "Earnest" will be presented Feb. 16-18, 22-25 and March 1-3. "Philadelphia Story" will be staged May 4-6, 10-13 and 17-19.

Season tickets are now on sale, with a new package available for the first time. That package will permit season ticket holders to mix nights instead of being confined to a particular night for all three shows.

PLAYGOERS WANTING a mixed schedule should call the box office, 477-1066, for rates.

Orders for individual performances will be accepted beginning Oct. 2.

Nancy Harrower will direct "A Streetcar Named Desire." It will be her fourth directing assignment with the players. Her credits include "Come Blow Your Horn," "Death of a Salesman" and "Othello." She has been a director and performer in Detroit-area community theater groups for more than 20 years.

Ralph Rosati, who directed a workshop production of Act III of "Play It Again, Sam" at the players' summer picnic, will direct "The Importance of Being Earnest."

He appeared in "Hay Fever" and "The Bat" during the 1977-78 season. He comes to the Farmington group from the Rosedale Players, where he directed a full-scale production of "Play It Again Sam." He also directed "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at North Rosedale.

Hope Nahstoll, a charter member of the Farmington Players, is back as a director for "The Philadelphia Story." In her more than 25 years with the group she has also directed "Inherit the Wind," "George Washington Slept Here," "Strange Bedfellows," "The Hasty Heart" and many more plays.

She is a past president of the organization and has built the players costume collection into one of the finest in the Detroit area. She was most recently seen onstage as the indomitable Cornelia VanGorder last spring in "The Bat."

• DETROIT SYMPHONY: Dorati returns to the podium

In his second season as music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Antal Dorati, will conduct 16 of the subscription concerts.

He will be at the podium a total of 12 weeks during the season which runs from Sept. 21 to May 21.

Dorati has invited seven conductors to pay a return visit to the Ford Auditorium stage. They are James De Preist, American born and presently music director of L'Orchestre Symphonique de Quebec; Hiroyuki Iwaki, conductor of the Melbourne, Australia, symphony orchestra; Andre Kostelanetz; Max Rudolf, director emeritus of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra; Klaus Tennstedt, director of Hamburg Radio Orchestra; Michael Tilson-Thomas, director of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra; and Aldo Ceccato.

Making debut conducting appearances will be Bernard Klee and Michael Gielen. Klee is a German-born conductor who conducts in opera houses and on the concert stage in Europe. Gielen is principal conductor of the Netherlands Opera.

Two violinists who also conduct will appear at the podium with the Detroit Symphony Chamber Orchestra. They are Rafael Durian and Pinchas Zukerman.

DSO assistant conductor Werner Torkanowsky and conductor-in-residence Paul Freeman also will appear in the regular subscription concert schedule. Principal pops conductor Richard Hayman will be joined by Arthur Fiedler and Henry Mancini for the "Weekender Pops" series.

Andre Segovia, guitarist, will appear in a special recital performance that is part of the chamber orchestra series, and the Jeffrey Ballet is scheduled to appear with the symphony in February.

The subscription ticket books are in 20, 12 or eight concert groupings, from the Thursday and Saturday evening performances.

The pops series will feature six concerts on Friday evenings and Sunday afternoons.

Young People's concerts are offered as a series on four Saturdays with a choice of times, either 11 a.m. or 2 p.m.

• WSU THEATER: 3 stages set 200 performances

Seventeen plays representing five centuries of Western drama from Shakespeare to Edward Bond will be given up to 200 performances in Wayne State University's three theaters—the Hilberry, Bonstelle and Studio—during 1978-79.

The new season, as announced by Leonard Leone, WSU Theatre director, will include the following:

At the Hilberry, (in rotating repertory): Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" (opening Oct. 6) and "Romeo and Juliet" (opening Oct. 13), both held over from last season; a double bill of Moliere's "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" and Sheridan's "The Critic," opening Nov. 15; "Look Homeward, Angel," Ketti Frings' dramatization of Thomas Wolfe's novel, opening Jan. 10; French farce writer Georges Feydeau's "Chemin de Fer," opening Feb. 14; Shakespeare's comedy "Much Ado About Nothing," opening March 21; and John Webster's Jacobean tragedy "The Duchess of Malfi," opening April 25.

AT THE BONSTELLE: Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," Oct. 13-15 and 20-22; Charles Fuller's "The Brownsville Raid," a 1976 New York success with the Negro Ensemble Company, Nov. 24-25 and Dec. 1-3; Shakespeare's "The Two Gentlemen of Verona," Jan. 26-28 and Feb. 2-4; "Ladies in Waiting," by black American actor-playwright Peter DeAnda, March 2-4 and 9-11; "The Eccentricities of a Nightingale," Tennessee Williams' revision of "Summer and Smoke," April 20-22 and 27-29; and the musical "Two by Two," based on Clifford Odets' "The Flowering Peach," with music by Richard Rodgers, lyrics by Martin Charnin and book by Peter Stone, June 1-3, 8-10.

At the Studio Theatre: Tom Stoppard's "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead" and Edward Bond's "The Sea," tentatively scheduled for November and March, both for the benefit of the Don Blakely Scholarship Fund for undergraduates.

ALSO AT THE HILBERRY, the WSU Black Theatre Touring Company will launch its second annual tour of Michigan with two performances of Robert Unger's "Chronicles of Bohikee Creek" on Sept. 29 and 30.

This is the Wayne State University Theatre's 28th season in the Bonstelle Theatre and the 16th season of its graduate repertory company at the Hilberry Theatre. The Studio Theatre, generally reserved for student-directed productions, has presented occasional public performances since 1969.

Brochures with complete information about plays, performances, schedules and tickets will be available later in the summer and may be requested by calling 577-2972 or by writing to: Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, Detroit 48202.

• MUSIC HALL CENTER: 2 jazz series begin

"A Touch of Jazz" comes to Detroit's historic Music Hall Center this fall with a Keyboard Series and a Great Bands Series of five concerts each.

Many of the nation's top musical artists are included in these shows which run October-May. Season tickets are on sale now and offer a savings over single ticket prices.

Pianist Dave Brubeck kicks off the Keyboard Series on Friday, Oct. 13, along with his three sons who together comprise the New Brubeck Quartet.

They will perform an additional concert on Saturday, Oct. 14.

This diverse program offers the touch of Marian McPartland on Nov. 12, the excitement of the Bill Evans Trio with special dancer Carmen deLavallade Dec. 5 and the mastery of Oscar Peterson on Jan. 28.

THE SERIES ends with the world's premiere champion of Bach, organist Virgil Fox. On March 7, Fox joins forces with light show wizard David Snyder for a multi-media experience.

The Great Bands Series begins Jan. 21 with the Buddy Rich Band, featuring Steve Marcus on tenor sax, Maynard Ferguson and his Orchestra appear Feb. 18, followed by the Preservation Hall Jazz Band from New Orleans on March 4.

At the final concerts in the Great Bands Series each band offers two leaders. On April 15, the Thad Jones/Mel Lewis Orchestra demonstrates the skills of its star horn player and drummer and on May 16, the Akiyoshi/Tabackin Big Band arrives with the piano technique of Toshiko Akiyoshi.

Season tickets for either the Keyboard or the Great Bands five-concert series are available for the main floor, for loge (mezzanine), for balcony and for second balcony seats. A special offer for all 10 concerts is available until Oct. 1. For more information or to order by telephone, call the Music Hall season ticket office at 963-6943.

Single tickets for some shows will be available at the Music Hall box office Sept. 25.

U-M space film festival zips to Jupiter on Friday

The outer solar system is the theme of the Astronomical Film Festival's 76th program on Friday at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The program, open to the public free of charge, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Auditorium 3 of the Modern Languages Building, located across Washington from the Rackham Building.

This will be the first of three programs "devoted to the outer solar system to inform the audience of what we already know about it and prepare them for the arrival of Voyagers 1 and 2 at Jupiter and that of Pioneer 11 at Saturn, both of which will happen next year," says Jim Loudon, festival director and staff astronomer of the U-M Exhibit Museum.

The Sept. 8 program will include a lecture by Loudon on Jupiter, the largest planet in the solar system. Also, a film titled "Exploration of the Planets," which Loudon calls "the finest film NASA has ever made," will be on the program. The Astronomical Film Festival is sponsored by the Exhibit Museum and the U-M department of aerospace engineering.

Melba Moore opens Friday in Dearborn

Accomplished actress, recording artist and nightclub entertainer Melba Moore will open in db's Club at the Hyatt Regency, Dearborn, on Friday and continue through Saturday, Sept. 16.

Born into a musically oriented family, Moore began her singing career as a nightclub entertainer in the Catskills. She also worked as a backup vocalist with such greats as Frank Sinatra, Johnny Mathis and Harry Belafonte. Moore joined the company of the Broadway show "Hair" where she progressed from chorus girl to leading lady in the role of Sheila.

In 1970 Moore left "Hair" to co-star in what came to be her award-winning role as Lippie in the Broadway musical "Purlie." Moore won the Tony Award, New York Drama Critics' and Drama Desk Awards for her dazzling performance and went on to establish herself as a consummate actress.

Another dimension of Moore's career is that of recording artist. Her amazing voice, which spans four octaves, displays a variation in singing styles resulting in highly successful record albums including "A Portrait of Melba," "Melba" and "This Is It" which won a Grammy nomination for the tune "Lean On Me."

Moore has just returned from her starring Broadway role as Marsinah in "Timbuktu."

Melba Moore will perform two shows nightly at 8 and 10:30 p.m. Monday-Friday, 9 and 11:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Melba Moore went from chorus of "Hair" to lead in "Purlie."

Tuesday theater benefit includes stars, dancing

An opening night benefit performance of "Les Girls, Les Girls," the Barry Ashton revue which broke all attendance records in Las Vegas, is being sponsored by the Women's Committee of the American Lung Association.

The black-tie benefit of "Les Girls, Les Girls" will be held Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the newly renovated Birmingham Theatre on Woodward in downtown Birmingham.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Following the performance, a buffet supper with flaming desserts will be served in the theater lobby, where there will be an open bar and dancing to the music of Jack Brooks and Bess Bonner.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the evening will feature a disco dance contest with the winning woman being serenaded by Tony Martin and the winning man dancing with Cyd Charisse.

Area persons who will serve as hostesses for the evening include Jackie Gordon, Dollie Cole, Diane Schenck, Shirley Eder, Betsy Caldwell and Anne Spray as well as many Detroit-area radio and TV personalities.

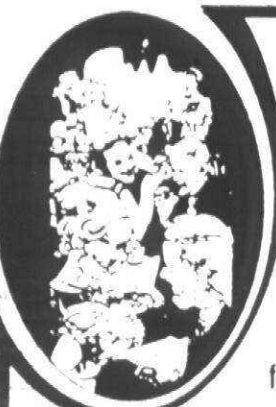

Barry Ashton has been compared by many to the late Florenz Ziegfeld for his lavish presentations with showgirls, elaborate costumes and musical melodies.

This production of "Les Girls, Les Girls" stars Tony Martin, a once-time romantic singing idol.

TICKETS for this evening, which includes valet parking, are $100 per couple (tax deductible). For reservations, call the American Lung Association at 961-1697.

It's Old Car Festival time at Greenfield Village. September 9 and 10. Steam, electric and gasoline autos from the good old days roar into life for your whole family's enjoyment.

The roll call includes more than 250 classic cars from the turn of the century through 1925—with drivers costumed in early motor-ing attire. Parades through the Village, competitive events on the Activities Field—like the Model T Assembly Race, high-wheeled bikes, and Dixieland music round out the Festival. There's Henry Ford Museum to browse through, too.

Fun for all, and all for fun—at the Old Car Festival, September 9 and 10 at Greenfield Village.

CHURCH BULLETIN

MAIN STREET BAPTIST CHURCH, 9451 Main, Plymouth, will present Gary Shoemaker, a deaf evangelist from Denver, in a revival series for the deaf, with services scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Friday through Sunday, Sept. 8-10.

Shoemaker will conduct the meetings in sign language, and their will be reverse interpretation for the hearing persons in attendance. Nursery care will be provided.

The church has conducted a deaf ministry for nearly a decade, currently offering signing interpretation for all its services.

NEWBURGH UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, Ann Arbor Trail at Levan, Livonia, will be the scene of a chicken barbecue under sponsorship of its men's club Sunday, Sept. 10.

Serving will begin at noon following the second of two morning services, scheduled this year at 9:15 and 11 a.m. Meals, including chicken, corn on the cob, cole slaw and rolls, will cost $3.50 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF PLYMOUTH, 701 Church, will return to worship in its sanctuary Sunday, Sept. 10, following a summer of meeting in the Plymouth Masonic Temple while renovation was going on.

Worship hour is 10 a.m.

LUTHERAN CHURCH OF THE RISEN CHRIST, 46250 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, announces a new time schedule beginning Sunday, Sept. 10.

Worship services will be held at 9 and 10:45 a.m., with Sunday School classes for pre-school through fifth grade running concurrently with the 9 a.m. service. Classes for children in grades 6-8 will meet at 6:30 p.m. Wednesdays in the church's fellowship hall.

ST. HILLARY CATHOLIC CHURCH, in Redford Township, will hold its annual Family Fun Fair noon to 9 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 10, on the church grounds.

The fair will feature games for children and adults, bingo, a polka band, dancers, clowns, a baked goods booth and a white elephant sale.

Roast beef dinners priced at $3 will be served from noon to 5 p.m.

SACRED HEART BYZANTINE CATHOLIC CHURCH, 29125 W. Six Mile, Livonia, will present its annual Autumn Festival Friday through Sunday, Sept. 8-10.

The festival, scheduled 6-10 p.m. Friday, 4-10 p.m. Saturday and 1-10 p.m. Sunday, will feature booths selling white elephants, country store items, plants, dolls and baked goods and pastries. There also will be a moon walk and games for children.

Dinners to be served include fish on Friday, spaghetti on Saturday and chicken on Sunday, and ethnic foods including stuffed cabbage, pierogi, kielbasa and sauerkraut will be available.

Proceeds will go toward payment on the mortgage of the church's new activities center.

ST. MATTHEW LUTHERAN CHURCH, 5885 Venoy, Westland, will hold its first hot dog and corn roast 1-4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 10, under the sponsorship of its Athletic Boosters Club.

Tickets will cost $2 for adults and $1.50 for children, and proceeds will go for the needs of the church's various athletic organizations.

Mother Mary Amadeus (right) accepts the woman of the year award from Adele Cieslak, national president of the Orchard Lake Ladies Auxiliary. Mother Mary is Mother General of the Felician Sisters.

Felician mother honored

The Mother General of the Felician Sisters, Mother Mary Amadeus, who lives in Rome, received the woman of the year award from the national president of the Orchard Lake Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. Adele Cieslak, during a special banquet in her honor in Orchard Lake.

In a citation accompanying the award the chancellor of the Orchard Lake schools, Fr. Stanley Milewski pinpointed how Orchard Lake and the Felician Sisters "have most faithfully for almost 100 years served God, church, country and Polonia through spiritual ministrations, academic and education endeavor, community and civic participation, religious leadership and ethnic awareness, thus preserving the precious cultural values of more than 1,000 years of history."

The citation praised Mother Amadeus as an individual who "personifies the essence and the spirit" of Polish-American traits through her life, her talents, as a champion of the best in tradition and a sensitively progressive innovator and in her appreciation and respect for her roots, Christian, Catholic, Polish, American, Felician.

In Livonia, the Felician Sisters maintain a Mother House at Levan and Schoolcraft. They founded and run St. Mary Hospital, Madonna College, Ladywood High School and Maria Nursery School.

Jewish educators plan workshop

"Teaching about God in a Godless World" will be the theme of the fourth annual Teachers' Institute sponsored by the Jewish Educators' Council of Metropolitan Detroit, scheduled at 9 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 10, at Congregation Adat Shalom, 29901 Middlebelt, Farmington Hills.

Participating in the institute will be over 300 teachers representing the Jewish schools of Metropolitan Detroit, Flint and Pontiac.

Emil L. Fackenheim, professor of philosophy of the University of Toronto, will be the keynote speaker. He is a noted lecturer and author of more than 150 articles and reviews on medieval Arabic, Jewish philosophy, modern German philosophy, and Jewish theology.

Rabbi Fackenheim's topic will encompass the theme for the Institute with particular emphasis on God's presence in history and in contemporary Jewish life.

How to submit church news

Information for the church section of The Observer, published each Thursday, should be submitted in writing to Margaret Miller, church editor, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150, by Monday in the week when the notice is to appear.

Notices should be typed or written clearly and should include a telephone number for checking during business hours. Pictures to accompany news items may be submitted for consideration.

Requests for pictures to be taken by Observer staff photographers or suggestions for coverage of church activities or leaders should be made two weeks before desired publication. Call Mrs. Miller at 591-2300, ext. 304.

Focus on Women sets 7 seminars

The Focus on Women program at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn will offer seven seminars during the fall semester designed to meet the needs of women.

A four-hour seminar for adults who are planning to attend college, but may need a review of reading, writing and mathematics skills, will be held 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday Sept. 12. This seminar is open to the public free of charge and will meet in Room

A-11 of the Administration Building. Counseling and diagnostic tests will be available.

An eight-week seminar entitled "Know Yourself" is designed to help women learn more about values clarification, decisionmaking and goal-setting procedures. It will meet 9-10:40 a.m. Monday, Sept. 18 also in A-11. The fee for this seminar is $12.

"Women Alone-Focus on Divorce" is a discussion and support group for divorced and separated women covering personal needs, legal and financial responsibilities, social relationships and single-parent roles.

It will meet, 7-8:40 p.m. Wednesday for eight weeks beginning Sept. 20 in A-11. Social worker Mary Meyer will serve as group leader. The fee for this seminar is $12.

Another seminar focusing on similar needs of the widowed will meet for eight Mondays, beginning Nov. 13 from 1 to 2:40 p.m. in A-15. This seminar is also $12.

Dietician Linda Buck will provide information on weight control through good nutrition in a seminar which will begin Tuesday, Nov. 14. The seminar costs $12 and it will meet from 1-2:40 p.m. in A-15.

A two-day seminar designed to help women conduct a successful job-hunting campaign will be led by HFCC placement officer Richard Brown. It will be held 9:40-11 a.m. on two Tuesdays, Dec. 5 and 12, in room A-11. The fee for this seminar is $3.

For the first time, Assertiveness Training and Transactional Analysis will be offered as classes which earn college credit toward graduation unlike seminars, which offer no college credit.

Enrollment information is available by calling 271-2750, extension 346.

Class Reunions

GARDEN CITY HIGH
CLASS OF 1958

Garden City High School class of 1958 will have its 20th year reunion Sept. 30 at Win Schuler's restaurant in Ann Arbor. Festivities will begin at 6 p.m. There will be dinner and dancing. Reservations should be in by Sept. 16. Donation is $12.50 per person. For more information or for reservations, call 455-3871 or 455-2112.

Brailleists explain their work at tea

Volunteer brailleists and large print typists around the world provide textbooks, recipes, instruction manuals and musical scores for blind and visually impaired persons.

In this area, volunteers are trained in the use of braille machines through the Nardin Park Braille Transcribers, the local unit of the Tri-County Braille Volunteers.

Cara Lynn Pender, a Redford Township resident and new president of the local unit, opens the group's fall sessions with an orientation tea to explain the work of the group to those who have already signed up for classes, and all others who are interested in learning of the work the brailleists perform.

The tea is set for 1 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 13, in Nardin Park United Methodist Church, located on Eleven Mile, west of Middlebelt in Farmington Hills.

Fall classes in braille instruction begin the week of Sept. 25.

A morning class, from 10 a.m. to noon, will be conducted by Marge Griep, of Livonia, who has brailled more than 2,500 pages.

Dee Josaitis, of Farmington Hills, a former president of the group, will conduct either an afternoon or evening Monday class, depending on requests.

THE NARDIN Park brailleists now have about 60 members who produce menus, financial statements, graduation diplomas, and greeting cards, in addition to fiction and non-fiction material.

All materials, whether done in braille by Library of Congress certified brailleists, or typed on large print typewriters, is offered to those who request it without charge.

The non-profit organization is supported by Christmas card sales and tax deductible contributions.

Persons wishing information on the tea, classes, or services offered, may contact Mrs. Pender at 537-0966.

Fran Hoetger, of Farmington, will head up the Christmas card sales this year, and may be contacted by calling 476-4973.

Clubs in Action

Marilyn McBeth, librarian in Garden City, will talk on The Constitution—a Living Document, for members of the John Sackett chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting at noon Saturday in the home of Mrs. Jerry Stewart, 860 Vaughn Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. McBeth, a charter member, also plans to report on the display on the Constitution she will make available at the Garden City library.

Mrs. Harvey Dettler of Livonia will report on the resolutions of the 1978 Continental Congress the DAR held in Washington during April.

Nursery takes applications

Wilson Co-op Nursery is accepting applications for the new school year. It meets in the Cleveland Elementary School, 28030 Cathedral, Livonia.

Children must be three by Dec. 1. Classes are held for two hours Monday and Wednesday afternoons. For information, call Cathy Colline at 427-7342 or Marilyn Leedom at 422-0022.

Rally to highlight joint custody issue

A rally supporting joint custody will be held Friday in front of the Capitol Building in Lansing.

Led by Peter Narsisian of Westland, the rally will call for passage of legislation giving custody of children in divorce proceedings to both the father and mother.

"Too much power and responsibility are given to one parent in divorce cases now," said Narsisian, "and not enough to the other."

He added: "It's lopsided. An irresponsible mother or father can misuse their power. It can be devastating psychologically to the parent without custody."

Narsisian has secured signatures from residents of Westland, Dearborn Heights, Wyandotte and other cities favoring joint legal custody.

He pointed out it could be subject to change at a later time if and when one of the parents doesn't live up to his or her responsibilities as stipulated in the final divorce.

For more information, contact Narsisian at 421-1966.

YW opens busy season

Saturday programs for youth, teens and adults will begin Sept. 18 in the Northwest Branch YWCA, 25940 Grand River, Redford Township.

The programs include ballet, tennis, gym, swimming, cartooning, and arts and crafts for children. For adults there will be tennis, yoga, drivers training, and physical fitness.

Registration for classes begins today and continues until the day classes start. For more information, call the YW at KE7-8500.

Oakwood has new center

A new outpatient center at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn will be featured at an open house from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

The event will feature tours of the center's facilities. Participants will see informative displays from health agencies, hear an explanation about hospital services and have free screening procedures for diabetes and blood pressure.

The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. To make an appointment call the center at 336-3000, ext. 530 or 531.

Offense will spark season openers

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

Rocks-Pats game on Channel 56

If it's offense you like, then you should have no problem enjoying either Plymouth Salem or Plymouth Canton football opener, as the prep grid season kicks off Friday night.

The Rocks, coached by Tom Moshimer, will host Armand Vigna's Livonia Franklin Patriots at the Centennial Park field starting at 8 p.m. Dave Schuele's Canton Chiefs travel to Livonia to face Pat O'Donnell's Bentley Bulldogs beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The nonleague openers feature four squads that have shown formidable offensive attacks in the preseason, while the defenses remain questionable.

THE SALEM-FRANKLIN grid opener marks the second time these squads have met. After last season's thrilling last-second Salem victory, many football fans are expecting an equally tight contest this season.

In fact, the excitement of this opener, which pits two perennial winning football programs, has also stimulated Channel 56 to bring its cameras to the park to capture all the hard hitting this short rivalry is sure to offer.

Any fans unable to see the Rock football opener can catch the action on taped-delay basis beginning at 10 p.m. on the public television network.

Anyone who saw last year's hard-hitting defensive battle, in which the Rocks edged the Patriots 6-3 in the last minute of play, expect a tough game this year.

It also brings back an interesting confrontation between Salem's all-state quarterback Rich Hewlett and powerful Franklin linebacker Don Boka. Last year, Boka hit Hewlett hard on the third play of the game, and the Salem star missed the rest of the action because of a concussion. Hewlett returned the next week and helped the Rocks to a Suburban Eight League championship and undefeated regular season enroute to his post-season awards.

The two face each other Friday night, but it will be under different circumstances, as Salem rebuilds its entire offensive and defensive units around its major-college prospect.

Many of Boka's defensive teammates have also graduated, as the usually defense-oriented Patriots may rely more on their offense this year.

Whatever the situation, Salem coach Tom Moshimer believes his team is the underdog, and he has a lot of respect for the Franklin program.

"I know they (Franklin) want us badly and they've always wanted us badly," the Salem coach said. "That's all I've been hearing."

"We're obviously considered the underdogs, and we'll have to play our best to beat them. They have more experience and are well-coached and aggressive. I have great respect for them."

Once again considered one of the contenders in the Northwest Suburban League, Franklin has many returning lettermen of its offensive unit. The Patriots run the veer-option offense.

Hewlett, the heart of Salem's wishbone-option offense, has looked impressive in the preseason and should help the offense. Salem's defense, however, has had problems stopping the opposition in preseason scrimmages.

THE CANTON-BENTLEY battle should also be a free-scoring affair, just as last year.

The Bulldogs have won all three season-openers these two clubs have competed in. Bentley beat Canton last year on the last play of the game in a dramatic finish to a wild-scoring contest, 26-21.

Even more offense is expected this season as two of the area's worst defenses last season collide again. Canton, 0-9 last year, features a respectable backfield in transfer quarterback Scott Dawson and running backs Rusty Mandle and Joe Malare. Bentley, 2-7 last year in O'Donnell's rookie coaching season, displays Dan Crowther at quarterback and Matt Munn at halfback.

Canton fell to the Bulldogs, 26-21, last year, but it's a sure bet that more than 50 points will appear on the scoreboard tomorrow night.

There is also an interesting family angle to this game. Canton coach Schuele will direct his Chief offense against Bentley's defense—headed by senior linebacker Tim Schuele, son of the Canton coach.

"Timmy knows all our players," the elder Schuele said. "He lifted weights in the off-season with them."

Oasis edged in championship

The never-say-die Oasis women's fast-pitch softball team battled to the end before succumbing 6-4 to Village Car Wash-Pub of Bay City last weekend. It was the championship game of the Class D state tournament and was held in Midland.

Oasis, which features women from the Observer-area, won four games before bowing in the finale of the eight-team double-elimination event. Oasis qualified for the state tournament with a district title two weeks ago.

After winning the first two games, Oasis, member of the Livonia fastpitch league, lost its first game of the tourney, 4-0, to Village Car Wash. Oasis rebounded, however, winning two more games before failing to the Bay City squad again.

Oasis forced Village Car Wash to a second championship battle when it beat the eventual champions, 12-6. The Oasis victory gave the Bay City squad its initial tournament loss, setting the stage for the finale at the Midland stadium.

Oasis was on the short end of a 6-3 count going into the bottom of the seventh inning before centerfielder Cindy Cindrich blasted her second solo home run of the game to close the gap to 6-4. Oasis eventually loaded the bases with

Gridders will lose openers

It's prediction time again.

No, I'm not going to say that Plymouth Canton will finish 0-9 this season. But that is a safer bet than Plymouth Salem ending with another perfect 9-0 year.

It was an unusual year in this area, to say the least, when we saw Salem finish its 1977 season as one of the eight state-playoff teams with its 9-0 mark, while Canton dabbled the season away failing to enjoy one victory.

Before we talk about this week's grid openers, let's examine the two squads as the season approaches.

PLYMOUTH SALEM has 46 new players on a 48-man roster. It also has two new assistant coaches under Tom Moshimer. The Rocks do, however, have Rich Hewlett, whose presence on the gridiron is enough to scare opposing teams.

The all-state wishbone quarterback has looked sharper than ever in the pre-season, as many major colleges continue to hound the prep senior in hopes of landing a superlative athlete.

It's the players around Hewlett, though, who have shown signs of improving but still lack the necessary experience to be a championship squad.

It is for this reason, the lack of experience, especially defensively, which motivates me to predict the Rocks will finish with a 5-4 overall record. I also see three teams, at this time, which have more talent and experience in the Suburban Eight League. I think Salem will finish in fourth place, but there's no team who will stop the Trenton Trojans from capturing the Sub-8 crown.

Moshimer is quite pleased with his team so far this season. I'm sure he's surprised with the progress his kids are making in preparation for the nine-game schedule. But it's too bad these kids are so inexperienced.

The Rocks seem one year away from a league-contending season—with or without Hewlett.

PLYMOUTH CANTON has shown progress so far this year—but it is not hard to see improvement after a winless season in 1977. The attitude of the players is better than I've seen in recent years. The talent, however, still doesn't merit any kind of winning season.

I've said it before—I don't think people realize how important it is for Canton to get off to a good and positive start. The Chiefs have never, in the history of the school, won its opening game of the season.

This failure in the initial contest has affected the Chiefs' performances as the seasons rolled along. This was especially true last season when Canton fell on the final play of the opening game against Bentley, after outplaying the Bulldogs in the second half.

The season was downhill after that. This year, the Chiefs are small. Oh so small. If they beat Bentley and continue to show a positive attitude, they may win three games.

I think Bentley is too tough for the Chiefs, however. As a result, I'm betting Canton will finish with a 1-8 record and last in the Western Six League—again.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

The Salem-Franklin battle will be a beauty. The TV cameras will be there, and Plymouth fans should see a good, close hard-hitting battle at the Centennial Park tomorrow starting at 8 p.m.

Both teams, to put it simply, respect but hate each other. It's one of those classic rivalries which should prove to be one of the best games of the year in the Observerland area.

It will be close all the way but Salem's inexperienced team gives Franklin a slight edge.

Don't be surprised to see the game go into overtime. Franklin by 2.

Points, Points, and more points. The Livonia Bentley scoreboard will get a workout tomorrow night when Canton faces the Bulldogs in a 7:30 p.m. battle.

Expect more than 50 points to be scored between the two teams but Bentley will have the upper hand. The Bulldogs by 12.

Horace—

It's time you learned the facts of life!

Oh, were sure you learned about the birds and bees long ago, but Horace have you heard about 736? That's a Want Ad classification in your home-town newspaper. It works this way Horace.

Remember when you almost went crazy trying to find a solid oak hat stand? How you embarrassed your wife in the antique store because they didn't have one and tried to interest you in a chamber pot instead and you told that sweet little old lady what she could do with it? Remember?

Well, if you had used the Wanted to Buy classification that we have just for this kind of situation, one of our thousands of readers would have called you and your troubles would have been over.

Now, that little bird on top of your head (what's he doing there, anyway?) just told us that you're in the market for a 1938 Chevrolet hood ornament. So here are the facts of life, Horace. Wanted to Buy ads get results—that's a fact. 736, that's a figure. Use them and get results, that's a suggestion.

Have your Master Charge or BankAmericard handy whenever you call.

No major changes

Making playoffs involves luck

By DAVE SAUNDERS

Just how does your favorite football team qualify for the Michigan State High School Athletic Association (MSHSAAA) playoffs this fall?

With a lot of hard work, sweat, dedication, and a little luck. Qualification is based on the number of points a team accumulates during the regular season, but sometimes that's not enough.

There haven't been any major changes in the playoff system," said Lonnie Lowery, assistant director in charge of coordinating the playoffs.

That may sound like a minor change, but not to Al Fracassa, head coach at Brother Rice. Fracassa took the Warriors to the state Class A championship last year, but he was not able to dress his entire team for the big game.

But, with that minor change aside, here is an explanation of how a team can qualify for the state playoffs. This year's championship game will be played at the Silverdome in Pontiac for the third straight year.

According to Lowery, the point system isn't that difficult. First of all, teams compile both playoff and bonus points during a game. Playoff points, however, are the only points a team can earn by itself.

four points are awarded if you defeat a class B team, 32 for a tie. Forty-eight points are awarded upon defeating a class C team, 24 for a tie. And, for defeating a class D team, 32 playoff points are awarded, 16 for a tie.

Bonus points are what a team receives when a team they had defeated scores a win.

For example, if Brother Rice defeated Bloomfield Hills Andover in the first game of the season, the Warriors would accumulate eight bonus points for each team Andover defeats thereafter.

Consequently, if Brother Rice won all nine of its regular-season games against class A teams, it would earn 720 points. In addition, if Andover goes undefeated the remainder of the season, Rice would stockpile 64 more bonus points.

You then add all the points together and divide by number of games played, and you come up with a playoff point total.

In case a team you had defeated ties another team, your team earns four bonus points. One bonus point is also awarded when a team which has defeated your team, wins.

comprises metropolitan Detroit. Region I in class A, for example, has 41 schools, including the Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Traverse City and Upper Peninsula schools.

Regions II, III and IV are centered around Detroit. Region II (46 schools) includes Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Livonia and Garden City; Region III (43 schools) includes the Plymouth area, 10 Detroit schools, Grosse Pointe and the east side of Detroit; Region IV (42 schools) includes the northern part of metro Detroit, Birmingham, Rochester, Royal Oak, Warren, Sterling Heights and Romeo.

Most of the class B, C and D schools are distributed in regions more evenly across Michigan.

The quarterfinals will be conducted on Nov. 10 or 11, depending on when the competing teams can agree.

Sites for the quarterfinals are as follows in Class A:

- Region I, Lansing Sexton.
  - Region II, Livonia Stevenson.
  - Region III, Berkley.
  - Region IV, Birmingham Groves.
- Lansing Sexton will host the Class A region I and II semifinalists, and Groves will host the region III and IV winners. All semifinal games will be played on Nov. 18 at 1:30 p.m. if no other arrangements are made between teams and host.
- Quarterfinal sites for Class B teams are as follows:
- Region I, Kalamazoo Central.
  - Region II, Alma.

- Region III, Hartland.
- Region IV, Riverview.

Class B semifinal action will occur at Grand Rapids' Houseman Field (region I and II winners) and at Brighton High School (region III and IV winners).

Quarterfinal sites for Class C teams are as follows:

- Region I, Grand Rapids Public Schools Houseman Field.
- Region II, Michigan Center High School.
- Region III, Durand.
- Region IV, site will be at Marquette if teams are from upper peninsula. If both teams aren't from the Upper Peninsula the site will be Traverse City.

Class C semifinal action will be at Bay City Central for region I and II winners, and at Mount Pleasant High School for region III and IV winners.

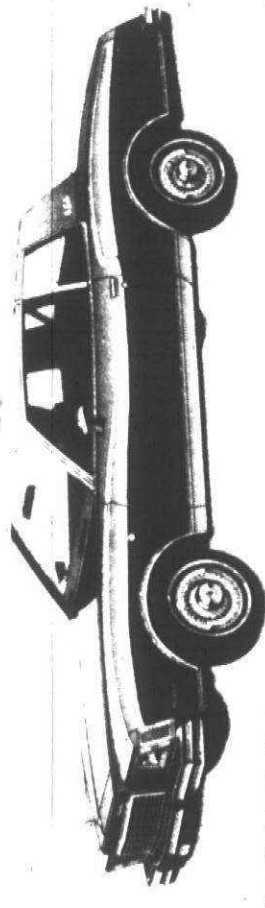

Quarterfinal games for the Class D schools are as follows:

- Region I, Battle Creek Central.
- Region II, St. Johns.
- Region IV, Escanaba if both teams are from the Upper Peninsula. Petoskey if not.

Class D semifinal action will be at Eaton Rapids for region I and II winners, and at Traverse City for region III and IV winners.

There you have it...the sites and how to get there. Some people like it, some don't—especially the 32 teams who went undefeated last year but still failed to make the playoffs.

That's where luck comes in.

SUFFERING NEEDLESSLY?

Millions are turning to chiropractic because they are recognizing the scientific principles of nature that have made spinal adjustments effective for many conditions where other methods have failed.

The chart below shows the lateral view of the spinal column and indicates in section "A" names of the spinal nerves as they branch from the spinal cord and exit through openings between the vertebrae. All tissues, glands and organs supplied with life energy by these nerves are shown in the section marked "B" in the chart. The section marked "C" describes a partial list of the conditions and symptoms that can result when there is an absence of life in the nerves.

STOP SUFFERING START GETTING RELIEF

Millions are finding relief thru Chiropractic care. Chiropractic is the most popular natural health science in America today. Find out for yourself why chiropractic gets such great results. Don't you owe it to yourself and to your family?

Groves, Dondero fight for MSAA title

ford, John Yerge and Randy Reising. Both Yerge and Reising are expected to play in the offensive backfield.

Guthard believes Groves and Dondero will be the teams to beat in the MSAA this season, and expects strong non-league competition from Bloomfield Hills Andover and Fremdale. The Knights will open their league season on Sept. 29 at Troy Athens.

Guthard's first two years of coaching were spent at Tawas, and the last six have been at Lahser. In that time he has accrued a 40-31-1 mark.

Guthard's assistant coaches are Roger Swajek and John Combes.

TROY ATHENS

The Redhawks represented themselves well last fall as a first-year member of the MSAA.

Athens won only one league game, and lost to Dondero, Lathrup and Lahser by a combined total of only 14 points. Its closest game in the league was a 15-13 loss to Lahser.

One of the most exciting players on the Redhawks last year was slippery little Bruce Bentley, who will be back as a senior tailback this fall. One of his main blockers will be offensive tackle Jeff Goedtel.

Athens' senior tri-captains include line-backer Eric Prentiss, defensive end Scott Hartman and linebacker John Kerr. Bob Chailoux will be a defensive tackle, and Jerry Haggerty will be the nose guard.

Athens won three games last year—tripling its output of the previous year. Third-year coach John Walker expects his biggest tests from Lahser and Groves in the league, and Detroit Cooley in the season's non-league opener.

Walker's assistant coaches will be Jeff Keller, Joe Goslin, Keith Dempsey, John Weneley, Steve Larson and trainer Bob Ogier.

ROCHESTER ADAMS

Adams is the other MSAA team which Joe Zelinski, a former junior high school coach, will take over this fall for previous head man Ron Niedzwiecki.

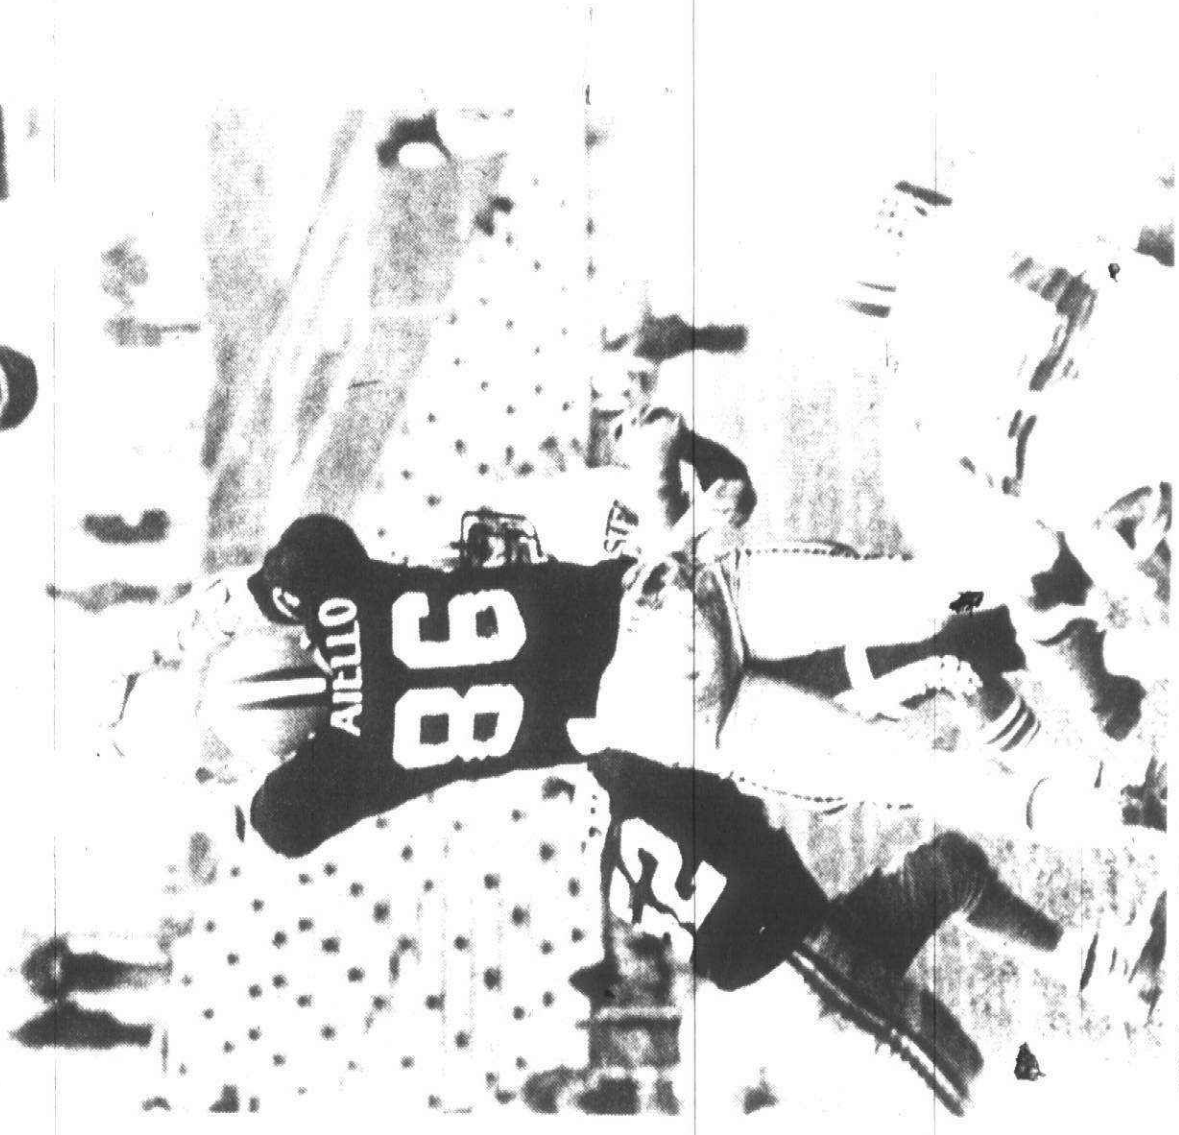

Niedzwiecki remains at Adams as teacher and assistant wrestling coach. Zelinski will have the arduous task of assembling an Adams team which hasn't won a game in two years.

Tom Dillon assumed the quarterback position halfway through last year, and will be at the helm full time this fall. His running backs will most likely be Dan Kwik and Dan Burgess. Steve O'Donnell (5-8, 150) may also see some action in the backfield.

Paul Cracknell, a two-way starter on the line, is another key player for Zelinski. Other starters include defensive nose guard Jack Lawless, defensive end Brian Murphy and linebacker Mitch Aiello.

"In this league (MSAA) everyone is tough," said Zelinski, who coached at Adams as an assistant from 1972 to 1974. "Dondero is always tough, and you go right down the line and there is no weak sister."

Zelinski's assistant coaches are Ron Graham and Matt Nemer-Kaiser.

Rice was a Cinderella champ

By JOHN BOZZO

It was a typically hot, muggy August day one year ago.

After winding up his second practice session of the day, Brother Rice coach Al Fracassa began assessing his team's chances for the upcoming 1977 campaign.

On paper there wasn't much to be optimistic about. There were seven returning lettermen from a team which finished 5-3 overall and 3-2 in Catholic League action.

In addition to the inexperience there was a lack of size. Only one lineman tipped the scales over 200 pounds.

Perhaps it was his training as a player under former Michigan State University head coach Duffy Daugherty who was famous for always building up his team's chances, but instead of making excuses, Fracassa praised his team.

"I like to talk positively," Fracassa said. "Sometimes you become what you think of yourself. If you visualize yourself winning, you'll probably win. We're going to try to win them all."

And win them all they did. Nine consecutive victories, including a Catholic League title. After that there were three state playoff triumphs and a Class A state championship.

FRACASSA ALSO predicted his team would be exciting. He was right about that too.

The leading excitement maker was 6-3, 185-pound quarterback Jon English, who returns for his senior year this fall. English received first team all-state honors for his exploits.

His favorite passing target was Marty Martinez, a 6-2, 155-pound end who returns this fall for his third year as a starter.

They put the ball in the air often, which always creates a lot of excitement. However, after awhile it wasn't the number of passes thrown but when they did the throwing which caused the stir.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's dominated every opponent

By JOHN BOZZO

When Orchard Lake St. Mary's finally reached the Class C State Championship football game, the question wasn't whether they would win, but only by how much would they win.

Orchard Lake's Eagles not only won all 12 games, the Catholic League and Class C state championship, but they won big.

On offense the Eagles averaged 40 points per game. Defensively, Orchard Lake held opponents to an average of six points per game. That's an average winning margin of 34 points.

Looming as the potent force in every victory was everyone's all-state pick, Jim Paciorek. Now on a football scholarship at the University of Michigan, Paciorek played quarterback and defensive safety.

He made Orchard Lake's old-fashioned wing-T offense click. Whenever his teammates in the backfield were stopped, Paciorek would slip around end or power up the middle for a first down.

Paciorek was equally adroit in the air ways, passing whenever he wanted to because the Eagles were never in trouble.

WELL, THERE was just once when the pressure was on. Orchard Lake's only close game was the first of three state playoff games.

Royal Oak Shrine was the heavy favorite to beat St. Mary's. This put the Eagles, under coach Art Paddy, in the underdog role for the first time all season.

Late in the Shrine game, Barry Riddick scored a touchdown from three yards away which gave Orchard Lake a slim 18-13 lead.

Paciorek added two more points to that gap when he completed the crucial points after touchdown pass to Robert Carlini.

Not to be denied, Shrine came back to score a touchdown of its own and trailed 20-19. The Royal Oak team failed in an attempt for the two-point conversion which would have netted them the victory.

Again it was Paciorek, along with teammate Gregory Williamson, who made the big play. They knocked the intended receiver out of bounds.

Paciorek had covered the defensive secondary like a rug. He was in on 15 first hits and kept the ball out of the end zone twice.

At quarterback, Paciorek completed five of six passes for 61 yards and rushed for 42 yards on 13 carries.

PACIOREK'S PERFORMANCE impressed the next Eagles opponent, Lake

Michigan Catholic, in the semi-final game.

"Our scouts came back and said that Polish quarterback of theirs does everything but sell popcorn at halftime," said Lake Michigan Catholic head coach Terry Rose.

Lake Michigan Catholic billed its team as a bunch of "street fighters." There's an old football story about good street fighters who can't play good football. Orchard Lake won in a laugher, 58-8.

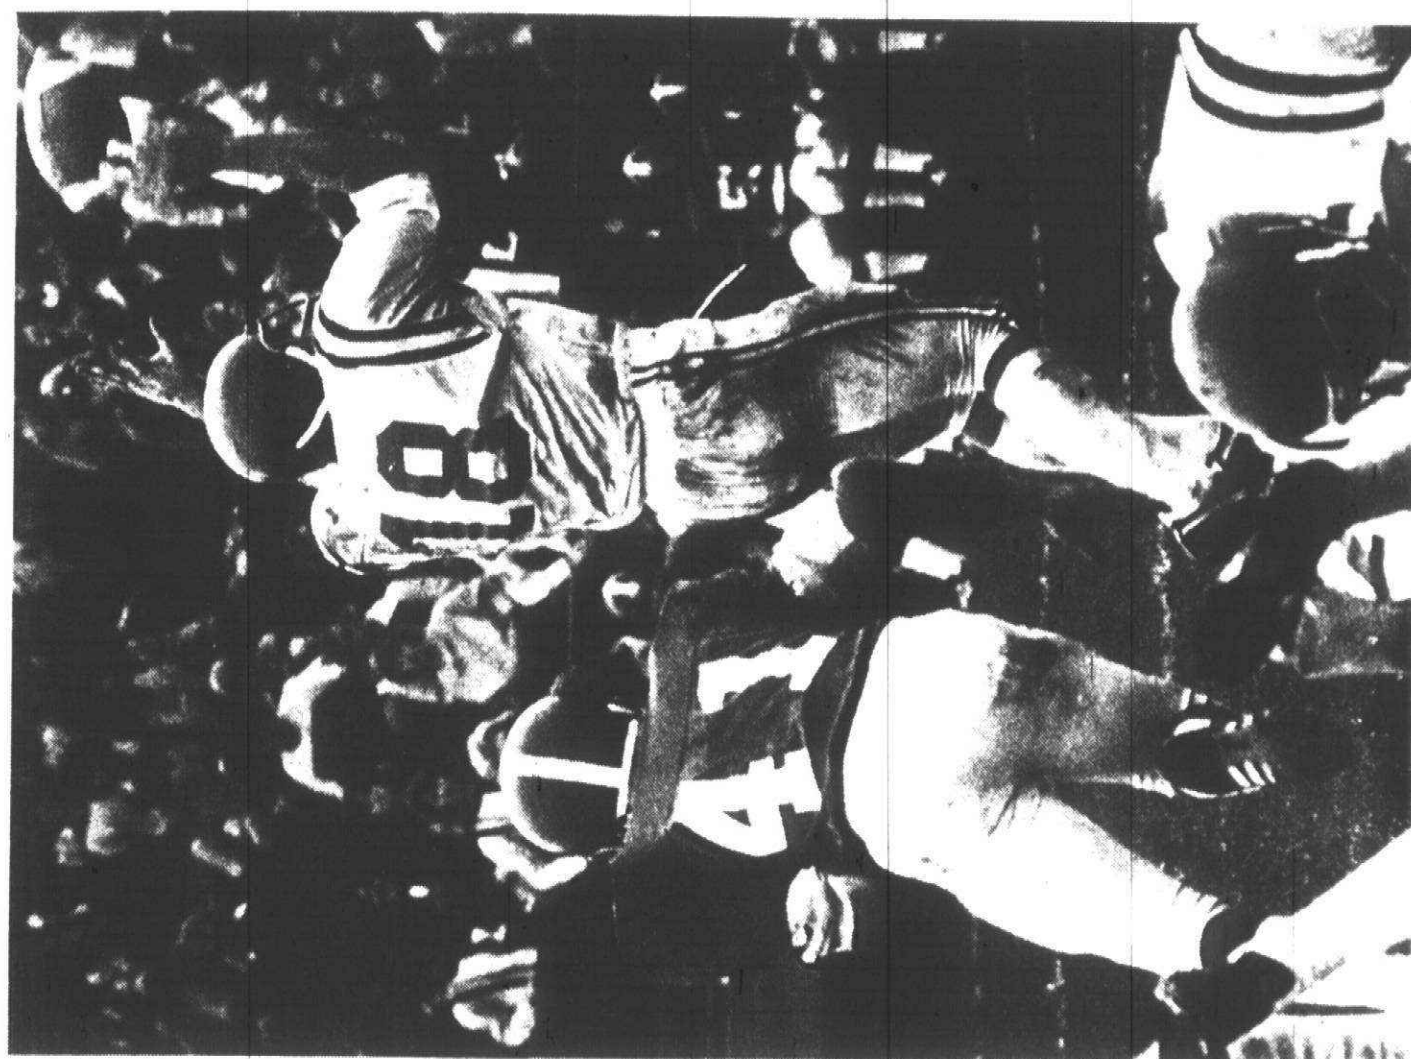

In the championship game, Orchard

Lake humbled Iron River-West Iron County 48-12.

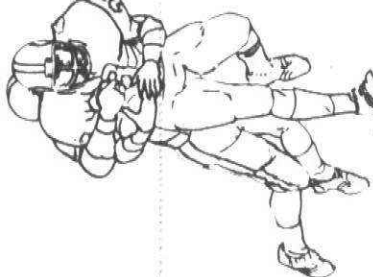

"Orchard Lake's Eagles taught the Lake Michigan Catholic 'street fighters' a lesson in football without the benefit of a scouting report.

After the season Art Paddy resigned from coaching. He indicated then that the turning point in the season was his team's 20-19 win over Royal Oak Shrine.

"We never realized how good we were," Paddy said.

Rice was trailing Lake Shore in the semi-final game when the team came face-to-face with a fourth down with one yard to go for a first down. Fracassa surprised everyone by having English pass to Martinez for five yards and a first down.

"Now," Fracassa said, "no one will know what I'm going to do."

In the quarterfinal game, one week earlier, Michael Haffey made the big plays. Although only a 5-9, 170-pound defensive back, Haffey had two punt returns of 48 and 49 yards respectively. He also intercepted one pass and batted down another less that seemed a sure long-gainer. In addition, Haffey was second on the Rice tackle charts with eight that day.

Showing off a punting game which was as good as the Detroit Lions had last year, Ed Lynch hit punts of 48 and 49 yards in that quarterfinal game.

WHEN THE CHAMPIONSHIP game against Portage Central rolled around, Fracassa pulled out all the stops.

Trailing by one touchdown and faced with a fourth and five at the Portage 49 yard line, Lynch lined up to punt, but he never touched the ball. Matt O'Connor received the snap from center and raced 35 yards for a first down. He scored off tackle on the next play.

A few plays after the fake punt Lynch did get a chance to kick the ball. And kick he did, a 69-yard boot, which Portage coach Bob Knight said took the wind out of his team's sails.

Rice took a 10-7 lead on Brian Swanson's 27-yard field goal. Joe Fontanesi's five yard run made the final score 17-7.

Sill, probably the most exciting game of the season was a 9-6 come-from-behind victory over Detroit Catholic Central in the annual Boys' Bowl trophy game.

Rice trailed 6-0 from the first quarter until the final three minutes of the game. English had engineered a touchdown drive which tied the score, but Rice had failed in a try for the two point conversion.

After forcing Catholic Central to punt, Rice's English led the team on another march. With 19 seconds left to play, Swanson booted a 33-yard field goal off the frozen turf to ice a Warner victory.

There could be more of the same in store for Rice fans this season. The Warrior passing combinations return this fall, as well as the kicking game.

In addition, Rice's freshmen posted an perfect 9-0 record, outscoring opponents 238-26.

Trenton heads Sub-8; others battle for 2d

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

The big question around the Suburban Eight League this fall isn't which team will win the title but rather which will take second place.

Most coaches in the Sub-8 feel that Trenton is the team to beat. The downriver powerhouse finished in the front-half of the league race last season with a junior team and is expected to outdistance all its foes.

The scramble for second place is between last year's champion, Plymouth, Salem, coming off a perfect 9-0 regular season, a rejuvenated Redford Union team, which posted its first winning record last season, and the two Dearborn schools, Edsel Ford and Dearborn High. (The Dearborn teams will only compete if their millage passes tomorrow.)

Livonia, Bentley, Belleville and Allen Park are once again expected to bring up the rear in the league chase this fall.

THE PRESENCE of Rich Hewlett alone has forced many league coaches to still consider Plymouth Salem one of their toughest opponents this year. Many think the Rocks can give Trenton a run for the title.

Hewlett, a 6-0, 195-pound senior quarterback, is one of the most feared runners in the state. The heart of coach Tom Mosher's wishbone offense, Hewlett gained all-state awards as a junior in leading Salem to a Sub-8 championship and a berth in the state playoffs last year.

Along with Hewlett is running back-quarterback Paul Dillon, a senior who showed a lot of promise last year in replacing an injured Hewlett for the final two games of the season.

These two players are the only returning starters for the Rocks, however, and all Plymouth fans have to wonder who can replace the massive interior lines, both offensively and defensively, which helped Salem to its undefeated season.

REDFORD UNION is another team which could challenge for the crown. After many poor seasons in the mid-1970s, the Panthers got back on track last season, posting a 6-3 record under first-year coach Harvey Heitman.

And word has it that Heitman's 1978 contingent is even stronger this season. Junior Jim Sofia will call the signals for RU and will be anchored by junior running back Kirk March and senior wingback Bill LeZotte. The Panthers' interior line will be one of the biggest to handle in the Sub-8 with the likes of seniors Bob Mouch (tackle), Dave Kashian (guard) and Tom Loerlien (guard). The defensive backfield will be led by senior Mario Bravo.

SECOND-YEAR BENTLEY coach Pat O'Donnell is coming off a 2-7 rookie season and hopes for better results this fall.

Despite the loss of quarterback Kevin Schneider and tailback Chuck Roy to graduation, the Bulldogs hope seniors Dan Crowder (quarterback) and Matt Munn (tailback) will lead the offense.

Bentley's defense will feature two fine linebackers in seniors Tim Schuele and Dave Cox. Schuele is the son of Plymouth Canton head football coach Dave Schuele, the Bulldogs' opening-season opponent.

Dearborn needs millage

noon non-league game against Southgate High. Southgate was Dearborn High's original initial foe. The Thunderbards may not play this game, however, since Southgate, a Class B team, would hurt its chances in the state playoff race.

IN THE SUBURBAN Eight League, Redford Union has already signed contracts with other schools in case Edsel Ford and Dearborn don't play football. Plymouth Salem and Livonia Bentley have taken a "wait-and-see" attitude until the millage is decided.

Redford Union has signed contracts with Wayne Memorial and Taylor Center, two Great Lakes Eight teams which were scheduled to play Fordson. If the millage fails, these contracts will be honored as non-league games. If the millage passes, regular league play will continue as originally scheduled.

There has been talk within the Sub-8 of playing teams twice in a season, if the Dearborn schools do not participate. For example, Salem battles Dearborn while Edsel Ford faces Allen Park on the second week of the season. If the Dearborn schools leave, then Salem and Allen Park could compete against each other on that week.

The problem with this kind of set-up finds the regularly-scheduled Allen Park-Salem league game occurring on the third week of the year, meaning the Rocks and the Jaguars would meet twice in a row.

The same situation occurs later in the Salem schedule when the Rocks would face Trenton twice in a row on the sixth and seventh weeks of the season.

Bentley and Salem also have the option of playing non-league games with Great Lakes Eight teams.

Six teams contend for GOAL honors

Brent Hirm (6-1, 205).

The offensive backfield will consist of junior quarterback Al Duff (6-1, 180), who started last year as a sophomore, and full-back Dave Schmidler (6-0, 185). Duff's main receiver will be senior flanker Bud Lenenger (5-11, 185), who was the team's second-leading pass-catcher last year with 18.

A crunching league schedule will be propped up with cross-town foe Waterford, and epilogued with cross-town rival Waterford Township. Both games will be at home.

Peterson's assistant coaches are Ken McLean, Mike Shipman, John Dileggghio and Kirk Reppenhagen.

WEST BLOOMFIELD LAKERS

West Bloomfield was only 2-3 in the league, but won all of its non-league games and finished with a respectable 6-3 mark. Coach Dominic Livedoti hopes to improve that record this year.

The Lakers were a strong defensive team last year. West Bloomfield allowed only 50 points. Two heart-breaking, low-scoring losses were to Clarkston (7-6 in overtime) and Waterford Kettering (7-0).

Some of West Bloomfield's key players this year will be seniors Jeff Cox (halfback), Rob DePohor (end), Joe Griffin (end), Paul Shanbrom (tackle), Jeff Hut-ton (guard) and Kevin Chudler (halfback). The top juniors are Chris Mayone (quarterback), Vince Kenwell (tackle), Rick Mickley (end) and Gary Schroeder (halfback).

The Lakers will also be aided tremendously by senior halfback Jim Kaufman and senior tackle Steve Sudbay, who both missed most of last year due to injuries.

Transfer students Jay Sullivan (quarterback, senior) and Dennis McClure (halfback, senior), will also add too the Laker attack.

ROCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

Rochester is another team which did well outside of GOAL last year.

Despite a deceiving 1-4 league mark, the Falcons finished at 5-4.

Coach Dick Ulrich and his squad won all four non-league games by lopsided margins. The Falcons got by Auburn Heights Avoidale 22-16 in its toughest test, but then breezed by Utica (22-6), Troy Attens (35-6) and intra-city foe Adams (34-0).

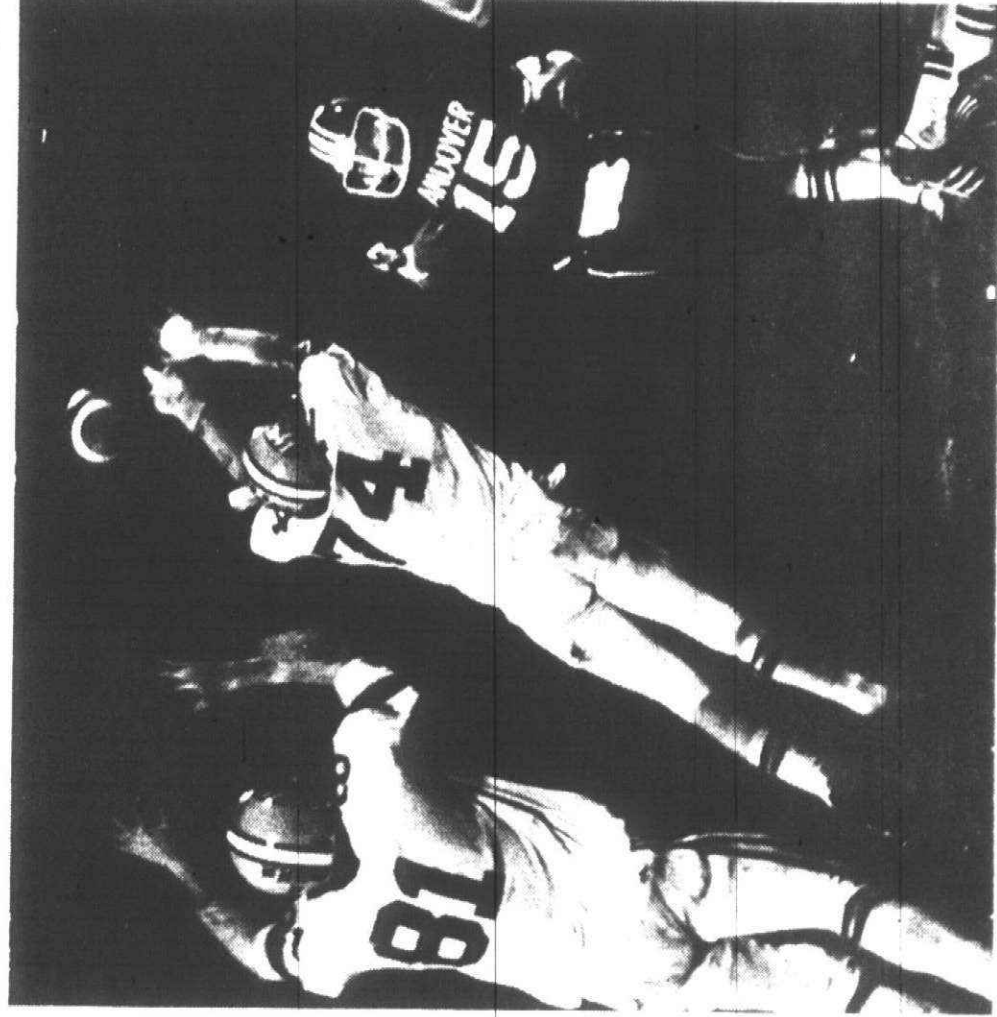

Rochester's problem last year was not offense as the team averaged 18 points a game, scoring 160 points in nine contests. Most of that firepower is back.

The offense revolves around talented quarterback Jim Jagels, who is a running threat as well as a pinpoint passer. Jagels' primary receiver last year was glue-fingered classmate Tom Dietters, who caught 23 passes.

Other important members of that potent offensive unit include the Weathers brothers, tight end Terry and fullback Larry, plus senior tackle Mike Lewis. Len Ham-bly, Chris Ribant, Bill Ebert, and a third Weathers—Jeff—will be top defensemen.

Ulrich's assistant coaches are Bob Kelly and Jerry Murphy.

Balance is strength of 6 GOAL squads

By MARTY BUDNER

One of the most balanced football leagues in the state this year should be the Greater Oakland Activities League (GOAL).

To a man, all six league coaches agree that no one should dominate this fall the way Clarkson did in 1977.

"There's not a bad team in the league this year," said Waterford Kettering coach Melvin Peterson. "It's very well balanced, and I think it's one of the better leagues in the state."

Clarkston did not lose a regularly scheduled game last year. The Wolves pranced to a GOAL title with a 5-0 record, two games ahead of runner-up Bloomfield Hills Andover.

In its only loss of 1977, Clarkson lost in the first round of the Michigan State High School Athletic Association (MSHSA) playoffs to eventual state champion Birmingham Brother Rice, 10-0. For the season, Clarkson scored 191 points, allowed 77 and won by an average score of 19-8.

Things should be different this season. Although still strong, Clarkson graduated most of its starting players, and West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills Andover are eagerly shooting to dethrone the Wolves. Without a doubt, Milford, Rochester and Waterford Kettering will pull some upsets along the way.

Following is a brief preview of each GOAL team (teams previewed in order of finish in 1977):

CLARKSTON WOLVES

After six years of service—climaxing with a state playoff appearance last year—Rob White decided to step down as head football coach at Clarkson. He is now main man at Wayland High School on the south side of Grand Rapids.

His successor is Bill Valasco. At the moment, Valasco's biggest problem is familiarizing his players with a new system.

"We have a new numbering system, and it will take time for the players to learn that new system," said Valasco. "Once we get that down, and gain some consistency in our play, we'll be respectable."

"We have a lot of line players, but so do all the other teams in our league," he said. "This league is very competitive, and every team has a good chance at beating another."

Only three starters among a group of 20 players on last year's state-qualifying team are returning. The trio of veteran players include linebacker and center Ed Eagen (6-3, 210-pound senior), outside linebacker and guard Kevin Drake (6-2, 190-pound senior), and offensive and defensive tackle Ron LePere (5-10, 185-pound senior).

Valasco is counting on two other seniors to help stabilize his ballteam this year. Rich Ortmeier (6-0, 235) is a two-way tackle out for the first time, and Mike Lattimer (5-9, 175) will handle offensive guard and linebacker positions.

Clarkston will begin its season with a test against rugged Grand Blanc and end with Waterford Moti. The Wolves open defense of their league championship against Rochester followed by West Bloomfield. Milford, Waterford Kettering and Andover.

Delasco's assistant coaches include Gordie Richardson, Darrell Marsh, Al Merian, Gary Warner and Kurt Richardson.

ANDOVER BARONS

Andover's Frank Buford is the dean of GOAL coaches. In 20 years of coaching, including terms at Detroit Salesian and University of Detroit, Buford has compiled an overall record of 84-544.

The Barons finished with a respectable 5-4 record in 1977, 3-2 in GOAL. Andover was the only team, besides Clarkson, to finish above 500 in GOAL last year.

Andover scored 192 points in 1977, and allowed 151. A large nucleus of players return from that offense which averaged three touchdowns per game.

Andover's highest-scoring game last year was a 51-15 trouncing of Kettering. It also shut out Berkley 38-0.

Leading the list is senior quarterback Ken Baer, and two competent receivers in Bill Hertle (spread end) and Steve Koch (tight end). The crunching interior line consists of senior veterans Jeff Sherman, Rich Dunlap and Bill Schmidt.

The defensive secondary, anchored by Mark O'Riley (cornerback) and Scott Allen (safety), is also an experienced group. Senior Kirk Harris will be Andover's tailback.

Andover has the distinction of opening the 1978 season against the defending state class 'A' champions Brother Rice.

Andover's assistant coaches are Paul Dain, Steve Price, Bruce Torgeson and Bob Hurdle.

MILFORD REDSKINS

Defense should be the strong part of Milford's lineup.

The Redskins, who were 5-4 overall last year (2-3 in the league), will have a number of returning defensive starters, with a bench full of capable linebackers. The offense, which generated only 96 points last year, is where head coach Bruce Gilbert will "have to fill."

Milford's defensive halfbacks are Joe Westmeier, a 5-11, 155-pound senior, and Tim Orr, a 5-9, 165-pound senior. Last year Orr had two interceptions, one of which he returned for a touchdown.

Another pair of veteran linebackers include seniors Dave Shepard (5-11, 175) and Savit Miller (5-11, 175).

There are two returning offensive starters, running backs Bob Michie and Mike Pickles. Michie (5-11, 175) gained more than 600 yards in seven games last year, and Pickles (5-10, 165) gained close to 500.

Members of the interior line are Mike Strzeleck (6-3, 210)—a two-way starter—Brian Jacoby (5-11, 188) and James Brast (6-2, 195).

Milford opens on the road against Walled Lake Central, and closes at home against rival Milford Lakeland.

The assistant Redskin coaches are Ron Marmucci, Larry Bittinger and Ross Arnold.

KETTERING CAPTAINS

Waterford Kettering won only two games last year, and absorbed thrashing losses to Andover (51-15) and Clarkson (18-0).

It was the worst year in coach Melvin Peterson's five years of coaching.

"Everybody but one person is back on offense, and we'll be plugging to improve this year," said Peterson, who has a career coaching record of 22-24. "We had 12 people hurt at one time or another last year, so if we can stay healthy we should be alright."

Kettering's basic strength will be in its interior line. Senior captain Mark Moody (6-0, 205) will be pitted in the line with classmates Tom Farnum (6-2, 235) and

Stevenson battles for 3d ILL crown

By C.J. RISAK

For most of us, fall is still two weeks away. But to many others, the harvest season has already arrived.

Since the middle of August, prep football players have been preparing for the upcoming season. Getting in shape is never easy, but some players and coaches are finding it tougher than others this year.

Livonia Stevenson's Jack Reardon is one coach who has had few problems during his years as head man. After all, Stevenson has been the power of the Inter-Lakes League over the past 10 years, winning the championship six times, including the last two.

But this season things could be different. Reardon has found himself with an inexperienced squad and a shortage of coaches.

"The failure of the mileage to pass has hurt us," Reardon said. "Last year we had three varsity coaches: Jack Gabel, Tom Bils, and myself. But because of cutbacks, it will be just Jack and me this year."

Reardon wasn't complaining or making excuses; he was simply stating a fact. He is going to have his hands full coaching an inexperienced team short-handed.

But Reardon will have a nucleus to build on. The biggest change for the team will be at quarterback, where Dave Hall will take over. Hall, a junior, was the back-up to Tom Smith last season, but Smith, a senior this year, has been moved to fullback, making room for Hall.

Other players that will be counted on heavily will be Jim Gerniend, who started at slotback a year ago but will be at tailback this season: Matt Shipley, a senior guard who started the last half of the season last year; and Mike Farnick, a senior linebacker and guard who started the third game for Stevenson last year but was forced out with a broken leg.

"We're young and not big or physical," Reardon stated. "Our players will have to improve game by game, gain experience as we go along."

Farmington High School will lack neither size nor experience, according to head coach Hal Beardsley. Returning will be the entire offensive line from last year and five of the defensive starters.

Beardsley and assistant coaches Dave Catherman (backfield) and Clarence Haus (ends and linebackers) biggest problem will be rebuilding the offensive backfield. Lack of depth could also be troublesome for the Falcons.

But the experienced line should help stabilize the situation. Returnees include Jerry Krist at end and defensive back, Scott Hazen at both offensive and defensive tackle. Joe Brown at the guard and linebacking positions. Tom Crane at center and noseguard. Mike Marok at guard and linebacker. Mark Tyler at offensive and defensive tackle, and Chuck Gislis at line-backer and end. All seven are seniors.

In league play, both Beardsley and Reardon picked Waterford to be tough, and each named the other as possible league champs. But, as it is with most coaches, both were mainly concerned with their openers—and with good reason. Farmington starts the season with Farmington Harrison, while Stevenson opens against Redford Union, who are picked to win their league championship.

Seaholm in title chase

By C.J. RISAK

At the start of every prep football season, all coaches are optimistic about their team's chances in the upcoming year.

They'll all tell you the same thing—every team starts out with the same record.

Of course, most coaches agree on who the conference favorites are and what their team has to do if they are to be successful. But, as often as not, once the season begins this information is useless. Some teams fall flat on their face, while others come through with big wins.

The Southeastern Michigan Association conference is no different. Everyone expected Hazel Park and Royal Oak Kimball to be tough last year. But Birmingham Seaholm? It had been years since they had had a winning season, let alone vie for the conference championship. All Seaholm had going for them last year was a new coach, Chuck Skinner.

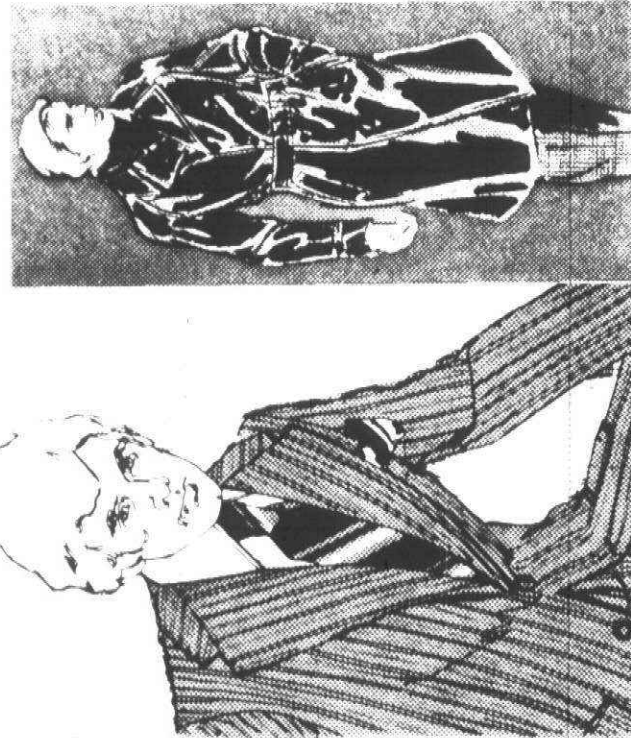

But that new coach was more than enough for the Maples. In his first year at the helm, Skinner took a team that had been 1-8 the previous year to a 6-3 record and kept them in the title race until the final weeks of the season.

Ironically, the team that knocked Seaholm out of the race was Skinner's former school, Hazel Park. Before switching to Seaholm, Skinner had coached for 21 years at Hazel Park, compiling a 110-85-5 record. Whatever formula he used to be successful at Hazel Park, he has restilled in the Seaholm squad as well.

Seaholm again appears to be among the

OAL change: Lamphere creeps...

By MARTY BUDNER

There has been another change in the Oakland Athletic League (OAL) structure for 1978.

Madison Heights Lamphere and Utica high schools have exchanged divisions. Due to an enrollment decline, Lamphere is now classified as a 'B' school and will play with the rest of the class 'B' teams in the South Division.

Utica now advances to the North Division with the rest of the class 'A' schools. The restructuring could have a decisive effect in the outcome of the South Division. Last year Auburn Heights Avondale won the South Division title for the second straight season. Their championship is definitely in jeopardy with the arrival of Lamphere, which finished second as a member of the North Division last year.

The North Division is generally considered the stronger of the two divisions because of the 'A' schools. This strength was verified last year as North Division teams won 19 of 24 non-league games, while South Division schools won only six of 24 non-league games.

Following is a preview of each Oakland Athletic League team, starting with the South Division. Teams will be previewed in the order which they finished last year:

SOUTH DIVISION

AUBURN HEIGHTS AVONDALE

For the third straight season under coach Rick Brewer, the Avondale Yellowjackets finished with a 6-5 record.

Avondale lost two of its first three games in 1977, but rebounded for five straight wins—two shutouts—to capture its second straight South Division title. However, Avondale was punished in the OAL championship game against Romeo 35-0.

A strong group of returning players will head Avondale's option-oriented offense. As a junior dominated team last year, the Yellowjackets scored 190 points for an average of 21 per game.

This year Avondale will attempt to maintain that average with the same backfield which finished the 1977 season. Steve Auger (6-0, 180) quarterbacked in the championship game and will most likely stay there, depending on the pre-season performance of senior classmate John James. The backfield will include speedy running backs Tom Likke (5-8, 165) and Phil Konopitski (6-0, 180).

Other senior starters Brewer hopes will have good seasons include offensive tackle and outside linebacker Larry Parker (6-0, 185), tight end and linebacker Greg Lawski (5-11, 175) and halfback Robbie Jones (5-8, 150).

MADISON HEIGHTS LAMPHERE

Lamphere was also an offensive-minded team last year. In compiling an impressive 7-2 record, the Rams logged 222 points for an average of 25 per game.

Lamphere actually outscored North Division winner Romeo last year in the OAL, even though it lost the Division title to the Bulldogs. Lamphere scored 182 points to Romeo's 157.

Two-year starter Dan Berriman will be back as the tower (6-3½, 240 pounds) on the Lamphere line. The senior linemen is an offensive guard and defensive tackle.

Gary Howe, who started occasionally last year, will be the quarterback, and Jim Anderson (5-11, 185) will be a top receiver. Frank Persichino (5-10, 185) will be a fullback, and Jay Johnson (6-2, 200) will be stationed on the line both offensively and defensively.

Defensive backs include seniors Jeff Linka (5-10, 160), Eric Eggen (5-10, 165), Brad Hobbs (5-8, 150), Dave Fraley (6-0, 170) and Brian Kratkiewicz (6-0, 170). In 12 years as head coach at Lamphere, George Jesko has won six league titles. He is hoping to add to that total this year.

MADISON

Madison has 16 lettermen returning to a team which finished with an overall record of 6-3 last year, 4-2 in the league.

The experienced offensive line consists of seniors Mike Lombardo (center), Tim Robinson (guard), Rondy Conway (guard), Ken Haggerty the fullback, senior Jeff Angelo will be an 'I' back, junior Greg Caele will be a flanker, and Barry Bleski will be an end.

A pair of juniors—Dennis Meyers (6-2, 190) and Ed Minch (5-10, 165)—are feverishly competing for the starting quarterback position. Sophomore Tim Dwyer (5-9, 185) is another player who could start on offense.

The defense will be anchored by seniors Kevin Mooney (6-1, 235) and Don Budnick (6-1, 235), and juniors Steve Burgess (6-1, 225) and Bob Larkin (6-3, 235).

OXFORD

Oxford spent some time during August at a football camp, and coach Bud Rowley hopes it will help his team improve its overall mark of 4-5 last year.

Ever since the league was formed in 1972, Dondero, under coach Ivy Loftin, claimed every possible league crown. Its only blemish was when the Oaks tied for the championship in the first year.

Things were different in 1977. Birmingham Groves fielded an offensive machine (second-highest scoring team in Oakland County), and tied for the league title with Southfield-Lathrup. The Chargers earned their way to a co-championship by beating a stubborn group from Athens in the last league game of the season.

Thus, Lathrup and Groves, which groomed 41 league records, finished one game ahead of Dondero and Bloomfield Hills Lathrup.

But, after a one-year sabbatical, Dondero appears ready to reclaim its championship. On the other hand, Groves is more than prepared to defend its title. Southfield-Lathrup and Lathrup are set to competition with Troy Athens providing stiff upswing with a new coach.

Following is a brief preview of each MSAA team in order of finish last year:

BIRMINGHAM GROVES

Groves scored 180 points in five MSAA games last year—almost double that of Southfield Lathrup, which was the second-best scoring team at 88.

BIRMINGHAM GROVES

After opening its league season at Dondero, Groves will play Adams and Athens.

By MARTY BUDNER

Royal Oak Dondero's domination of the Metro-Suburban Activities Association (MSAA) football league ended last year.

Ever since the league was formed in 1972, Dondero, under coach Ivy Loftin, claimed every possible league crown. Its only blemish was when the Oaks tied for the championship in the first year.

Things were different in 1977. Birmingham Groves fielded an offensive machine (second-highest scoring team in Oakland County), and tied for the league title with Southfield-Lathrup. The Chargers earned their way to a co-championship by beating a stubborn group from Athens in the last league game of the season.

Thus, Lathrup and Groves, which groomed 41 league records, finished one game ahead of Dondero and Bloomfield Hills Lathrup.

But, after a one-year sabbatical, Dondero appears ready to reclaim its championship. On the other hand, Groves is more than prepared to defend its title. Southfield-Lathrup and Lathrup are set to competition with Troy Athens providing stiff upswing with a new coach.

Following is a brief preview of each MSAA team in order of finish last year:

BIRMINGHAM GROVES

Groves scored 180 points in five MSAA games last year—almost double that of Southfield Lathrup, which was the second-best scoring team at 88.

After opening its league season at Dondero, Groves will play Adams and Athens.

However, the team lost a number of outstanding regulars on offense, including running back Les Garrett, who is now playing football at Western Michigan University.

"We lost eight people from our offense, but we have a lot of people back on defense, so we might be a little tougher there this year," said Groves coach Bill Rankin. "Last year we had all the older players on offense, and it certainly showed."

"I think we have them all replaced—at least on paper. You just have to get the right blend of people," he said. "Dondero is going to be tough to beat. We have them in our league opener and it's going to be a backyard fight—one hell of a game."

Three experienced linemen are returning to the Falcon offense. Brian Plachia (6-3, 220) was an all-MSAA defensive end last year. Jeff Hill (6-2½, 220) will be at guard, and Stew Hixon (6-1½, 235) is a strong, two-way tackle.

Other important offensive members are senior co-captains Buddy Pucas and Bill Eberhart. Pucas started last year as an offensive end, but will quarterback the Groves offense this year. Eberhart (5-9, 175) had one of the school's best individual games last year when he accounted for all the team's points by scoring three touchdowns and three extra points against Bloomfield Hills Lathrup.

Safety Tom Shelly (6-3, 180) will head the Falcon defense.

After opening its league season at Dondero, Groves will play Adams and Athens.

Groves, RO Dondero are top contenders for MSAA crown

Lathrup and Lahser. Groves will close its season at home against city rival Seaborn, running back Les Garrett, who is now playing football at Western Michigan University.

"We lost eight people from our offense, but we have a lot of people back on defense, so we might be a little tougher there this year," said Groves coach Bill Rankin. "Last year we had all the older players on offense, and it certainly showed."

"I think we have them all replaced—at least on paper. You just have to get the right blend of people," he said. "Dondero is going to be tough to beat. We have them in our league opener and it's going to be a backyard fight—one hell of a game."

Three experienced linemen are returning to the Falcon offense. Brian Plachia (6-3, 220) was an all-MSAA defensive end last year. Jeff Hill (6-2½, 220) will be at guard, and Stew Hixon (6-1½, 235) is a strong, two-way tackle.

Other important offensive members are senior co-captains Buddy Pucas and Bill Eberhart. Pucas started last year as an offensive end, but will quarterback the Groves offense this year. Eberhart (5-9, 175) had one of the school's best individual games last year when he accounted for all the team's points by scoring three touchdowns and three extra points against Bloomfield Hills Lathrup.

Safety Tom Shelly (6-3, 180) will head the Falcon defense.

After opening its league season at Dondero, Groves will play Adams and Athens.

"Our schedule is one of the toughest in the area," said Marten. "We don't have a breather."

ROYAL OAK DONDERO

The only junior varsity games that the Oaks have lost in the past two seasons have been to Groves. This year's varsity matchup with the Falcons should be a thriller.

Dondero's top returning players are guard and defensive tackle Dave Glick (6-0, 190), fullback and linebacker Wade Gravin (5-10, 165) and halfbacks Kurt Cleary (5-10, 160) and Chris Ray (5-10, 160). Nick Daws will handle a defensive end position, and Mark Combe (6-1, 175) will play a safety spot.

Ivy Loftin, the dean of MSAA coaches, has recorded an overall mark of 120-62-8 in 21 years. He will be assisted this year by Gary Bryce and Fred Fuhr.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS LAHSER

Lahser finished with a 4-5 overall record, 3-2 in the league last year.

The top returning players for coach Ted Gathard's Knights are senior co-captains Mike Stenel, an all-MSAA linebacker, and safety Rick Dauch. John Barto, a senior, will be the quarterback, and classmate Kurt Keigen will play defensive end. Some other key players for the Knights this season will be Toby Smith, Tom Kraw-

BB, Shamrocks test favorite Rice

By JOHN BOZZO

There's a price to being a champion. Al Fracassa, coach of the defending state championship Brother Rice team, talks about it often.

"Every team we play has been working all year for a chance to knock Brother Rice off," Fracassa said. "It would be a great accomplishment."

Rice was also the Catholic League Central Division and First Division champion last fall.

This year two other Catholic League Central Division coaches in the Observer & Eccentric circulation area list Brother Rice as one of the tougher opponents on their schedule.

Catholic Central coach Thomas Mach and Bishop Borgess coach Fred Mushinski both lost to the Warriors last year.

Rice staged a last-second come-from-behind effort to nip Catholic Central 9-6. Borgess fell to the Warriors 31-16.

The Warriors look tough again this year with a long list of returning veterans.

SENIOR QUARTERBACK Jon English will return for his second season as the Rice signal caller. One of his favorite receivers is senior Marty Martinez.

Other players, all seniors, include: Jim Beauregard, linebacker (captain); John Baranska, fullback; John Bosse, guard; Steve Chudo, defensive tackle; Colin Halfey, line backer; Ed Lynch, center; Don Pietrowski, tight end; Brian Swanson, place kicker; Steve Kaiser, safety-end.

Fracassa listed Catholic Central and Notre Dame as his top Central Division foes. On the non-league schedule, he expects Detroit Southwestern and Barberton, Ohio to provide the steepest tests. Rice did not play either team last year.

With last season's 12-0 record, Fracassa lifted his lifetime coaching record to 112-30-7. He has been head varsity coach 18 years, split equally between Brother Rice and Royal Oak Shrine.

BESIDES BROTHER Rice, Catholic Central's Mach lists Ann Arbor Pioneer and Ypsilanti as his toughest opponents. Central lost to Pioneer 18-7 and beat Ypsilanti 13-12.

Mach has been head coach two years at Central, compiling a 12-4 record.

He lists three seniors and one junior as key players for the upcoming campaign: seniors, Joseph Rudzinski, linebacker; David Elwell, defensive back; Randy Larsen, halfback; and junior Michael Lewis, safety-quarterback.

Mach's assistants are: Thomas Luchenbiller, offensive backfield; Richard Coratti, defensive line; Dan Fortune, offensive line; and Dan Mach, defensive backfield.

BORGESS COACH Mushinski has a 33-16 record in eight years as the head Borgess mentor.

In addition to Rice, he lists Redford, Southfield and Catholic Central as his toughest opponents. Central clipped Borgess 14-13 last season. Borgess did not play either Redford or Southfield one year ago.

Mushinski named seven seniors as his key players for 1978: Dean Wiley, tail back-defensive halfback; John Stack, defensive end-tight end; Joe English, nose guard-center; Dave Griffin, linebacker-guard; Joe Lawacki, line back-guard; Dan Malone, fullback-long safety.

DCD rated top pick

By JOHN BOZZO

Detroit Country Day School had a pretty rough beginning and ending of its football season last year.

The Yellow Jackets opened the season by losing to the eventual state champion, ship Class C team, Orchard Lake St. Mary's.

Flint Holy Rosary ended the Country Day season in the first game of the Class D state playoffs on a snow-covered field in Hamland. Holy Rosary went on to win the state Class D title.

In between those two losses, Country Day compiled the best varsity football record in the history of the school.

Under new head coach Joe D'Angelo, Country Day racked up eight victories and the Metro Conference championship. It was Country Day's first Metro Conference grid title.

D'Angelo has been a head varsity coach for 10 years. He was with St. Ambrose and Erie-Mason before going to Country Day. His career coaching mark is 61-39-4.

Three seniors head the list of Country Day hopefuls this fall, center Bill Aliber, fullback Jay Redwood and linebacker Ed Valentine.

Franklin, Glenn also challenge Raiders favored in Northwest Sub.

By DOUG FUNKE

The Northwest Suburban League, known for its keen rivalries and hard-fighting football battles, should serve as a forum for much of the same this season.

Expect Livonia Franklin to field another strong defense, North Farmington to present a powerful running attack and Westland John Glenn to show strength on both sides of the scrimmage line.

Franklin and Glenn reigned as conference co-champions last season with 3-1 records. North, which did not play Garden City East, had a 2-1 slate.

Last year, Franklin defeated Glenn; Glenn defeated North and North defeated Franklin.

Garden City East, which got off to a late start last season due to mileage problems, won one league game and may be stronger this fall if it can develop players in several skill positions.

Redford Thurston, which hasn't won a football contest during the past two years, could step into the winners' circle this season if one of the big three or East takes the Eagles a bit too lightly.

FRANKLIN has lived on defense the past several autumns. That should be the Patriots' trademark again this season.

Key players, according to head coach Armand Vigna, should be Don Boka, middle linebacker; Joe Chudy, tackle, and Tom Zelenka, linebacker.

George Lovich, an assistant coach, usually does an excellent job motivating his defensive unit to swarm over the opposition like ants over a messy picnic.

Boka, in addition to anchoring the defense at middle linebacker, is also expected to quarterback the offense. Jerry Clor returns at fullback.

Many gridders will probably go both ways this autumn. Those prospects include Kurt Hageman, defensive back and offensive slotback; Jim Hendrian, middle guard and fullback; Greg Houfley, defensive back and split end; and Jeff Killingsbeck, linebacker and offensive tackle.

Others named by Gordon are Dale Luke, defensive back and split end; Dan O'Brien, linebacker and offensive tackle; and Andy Pucci, linebacker and tight end.

Tim Ruark, the Rockets' busiest runner last season, is back this year.

Glenn's coaching staff uses a comprehensive set of statistics to keep its offensive, defensive and specialty units sharp.

GARY HUMPHREY, head coach at Garden City East, guided a high school football team in competition for the 100th time in his career when his Panthers routed Garden City West last year in the final game of the season.

His career record now stands at 74-24-2. Humphrey encouraged some of his better prospects to transfer to other schools last summer when it appeared that East's sports program would be cut due to a money crunch.

When the program was reinstituted at the eleventh hour, Humphrey found himself a little short of numbers and talent.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN'S biggest question mark this year centers around quarterback with the graduation of Bill Lee.

However, Chuck Gordon, entering his second season as coach of the Rockets, will probably have a host of candidates from which to cultivate talent.

Rob Suda will get the first crack, Gordon indicated.

Many gridders will probably go both ways this autumn. Those prospects include Kurt Hageman, defensive back and offensive slotback; Jim Hendrian, middle guard and fullback; Greg Houfley, defensive back and split end; and Jeff Killingsbeck, linebacker and offensive tackle.

No football treat would be complete without the band show at halftime

Daily drills help sharpen musicians

By MARGARET MILLER

There's a halftime marching band show saluting sports and one that plays up news of the day, both in store for the fans who attend Livonia Churchill High School football games this fall.

For the games to be played by Troy Athens High School, shows featuring "Saturday Night Fever" and Saturday morning cartoons are in the works.

Southfield-Lathrup High School's band will have ready a spectacular arrangement of "Evergreen," utilizing its flag corps for lots of visual effects.

Those shows represent just three of the musical endeavors that will fill high school stadiums every time the young gridderies jog off the field for halftime respite and encouragement.

And the preparation that hundreds of marching musicians throughout the area put into their football field appearances can easily rival the training of their passing and blocking classmates who perform athletically.

Many band directors take their charges to a band camp just before the schools open in the fall, and most have assorted other appearances that help sharpen formations for the grid performances. All put their bands through their paces daily during the marching band season, either as part of a class or for an hour or more after school. For some, like the Southfield High band directed by Paul Lupa, it's both.

MARCHING BANDS in this area number about 100 musicians, give or take a score, and most have auxiliary groups such as baton-twirlers, flag bearers and pom-pom squads. These too rehearse regularly—both on their own and with the horn-tooters and drum-beaters—and their routines are an integral part of the bands' field performances.

Most of the bands around here prepare a different show for each home game, and sometimes they travel to away games, especially those involving a long-standing rivalry. The football teams of Farmington High and North Farmington traditionally meet at the end of the season, and the bands of those two schools traditionally present a joint show on that Saturday.

Directors in general follow the philosophy of Norman Logan of John Glenn High in Westland. He said he likes to keep music as current as possible but also to work in "good arrangements of old standards." He wants to keep the toe-tapping going for the teens in the stands and their parents, too. Classics also find their way into the shows, and veterans of several marching band seasons get familiar with a wide repertoire. Lincoln Naumoff, director at Redford Union High, claims his students can play for 45 minutes without looking at a score.

WHILE HIGH SCHOOL marching bands long have emulated their big-brother college bands in striving for moving pictorial effects, there now is some move away from that style. "We're going to the semi-corps style more and more," said Tony Auto, director at Southfield Lathrup. "The emphasis is on program and music rather than on movement. We get the visual effects with our flags and twirlers."

A major variation among the bands here is the manner in which rehearsals are set up. Many high schools program marching band into one period of the school day, with those interested signing up for the class. Others schedule after-school practice, making attendance pretty much mandatory.

Paul Barber of Farmington's Harrison High is glad his school uses the second system.

"It takes more of the kids' time and it means they don't get after-school jobs until marching band season is over," he said, "but it also means we get the ones really interested in marching band."

Also, the symphonic band, which meets during the class period, can get going earlier on its music without having to devote all the time to marching in the fall.

But Birmingham Seaholm's Robert Kutcher, whose band has always rehearsed during the school day because the field is busy with sports activities after school, finds that system most satisfactory, too.

He is figuring on a marching band this fall numbering 150; the maximum his band room can hold, and he reports "tremendous enthusiasm for band."

"Most of our students are more musicians than marchers," he added.

HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING bands don't just materialize full-blown on the field when the football teams are ready for their first games. A lot of preparation is already behind them at that point, and they get it in a variety of ways.

For Sandy Urso's Troy Athens aggregation, the big warm-up was an appearance at the Cherry Festival in Traverse City during July. That has been an annual thing for several years.

"In the parades and concerts at Traverse City we learn the music," he said, "and then in the fall we add the routines." The more common route to pre-season conditioning is the band camp before school begins.

Clarenceville High offers free "camp" on the school grounds during the summer, and it's open to junior high and elementary school students as well as the senior high marchers, thus providing some early training.

For many other schools, it's off to camp the week before school starts. All three Farmington schools use the camp routine, with Doug MacQueen of North Farmington taking his troops to Baldwin Wallace camp in Ohio and Farmington High and Harrison going to northern Michigan sites.

About 200 musicians, flag-bearers and counselors from Southfield High go regularly to Camp Mahn-go-tah-see near Hale, Mich., and the Southfield-Lathrup marchers to Camp Tamarack near Flint. Wayne Memorial players go to camp near Kalkaska.

Camp in northern Michigan also is a late summer tradition for the band that comes from Plymouth Canton High Schools under the baton of Jim Griffith.

Camp routine is rigorous, starting with marching, conditioning and getting on to perfecting musicianship through sectional and full band rehearsals. But, as scores of young musicians who have attended the sessions will testify, it's not all work and there is plenty of fun mixed in.

THE COMRADESHIP that develops stands the bandmen in good stead as they head into busy seasons.

Most make assorted appearances in addition to their football field roles. The Plymouth-Canton band has performed in the Rose Bowl and Orange Bowl. Redford Thurston's band was invited to participate in the Thanksgiving Day parade a few years ago. Redford Union sends its band to perform in band days at Eastern Michigan University and at Greenfield Village.

The Livonia Stevenson High band, under the baton of Richard Neal, has performed in Cedar Point parades, and Livonia Franklin's band, directed by Marshall Brown, provided music for the opening of the Jeffries Freeway last November.

The Garden City West band, directed by Richard Kitzman, took a recent trip that included appearances at Disneyland and at the University of Mexico in Mexico City.

THE MUSICIANS on the field are not the only ones working for marching bands.

Most of the bands have booster organizations behind them. Boosters help the Garden City West team get its new black and orange uniforms for this season's schedule. The Garden City East trip also had booster help to travel west to Disneyland. John Glenn's Booster club helps purchase uniforms and other equipment and also passes out hot chocolate to the players during games. An extremely active parent group at Southfield High is well on its way to raising $12,000 so the Southfield band can attend an international music festival at Toronto.

In their own ways, directors, students and boosters of bands throughout the area all are pushing for the goal articulated by Nick Pulice, brand new band director at Farmington High.

"I want the bands to get their share of recognition and support," he said. "I love sports, but there are heroes in music, too."

By ELLIE GRAHAM

The name of Johnny Campbell may not be recorded in any football hall of fame, although his contribution to the color of the game has been a lasting one.

The young University of Minnesota student was not even a member of the football team. But he must have been its most vociferous and loyal fan.

History was made in 1888 when Johnny received the official designation of "yell marshal" for the university. They say his favorite yell was "Rah, rah, rah, Ski-U-Mah, Minnesota." And for 40 years after graduation, Dr. John Campbell attended all his old school's home games, Cow bell in hand, his enthusiasm for THE GAME was unflagging.

As the nation's first "yell marshal" of record, Campbell justly deserves the title of father of today's cheerleading squads.

THOSE EXUBERANT and voluble young people have the stamina of the athletes on the gridiron. They, too, train long hours and attend summer camps in preparation for the season ahead. Their's is a physical sport.

They're out there for the duration, through the balmy weather of the opening game in September to the icy blasts of the last game in November.

They are responsible for pep rallies—keeping the student body enthusiastic about the team. They create the mood and attitude of the spectators and foster good sportsmanship.

Loyal rooters have helped many a second rate team perform beyond its ability. The cheerleaders, with the cooperation of their home fans, encourage this support and add momentum to the drive.

Winning or losing, fair weather or foul, the cheerleaders' enthusiasm never lags. There's no data on the first female to join the ranks. They have been cheering high school teams to victory for many years.

At the college level, it was a different story. The University of Michigan cheerleaders, until recently, were all male gymnasts.

BACK IN 1880, football received a serious setback in the United States.

Officials at both Harvard and Yale banned "the so-called sport of football played with an inflated bladder or saw-dust-filled leather" because it so often ended in riot.

It was revived 12 years later when a game was played on the Boston Commons. Historians credit football's survival and growing popularity to an entirely new behavior pattern. It started about 100 years ago and slowly caught on. A sportsman-like manner became the thing for athletes. With cock-fighting and bear-baiting the main sports in the new republic, no one knew much about being a good loser or a good winner.

Those cheerleaders down on the sidelines aren't just a bunch of exhibitionists. Their purpose, win or lose, is inspiring sportsmanship in their team and the spectators. Those yell marshals do add color to the game.

Penalties and Points

by John Bozzo

Ever since I played football in high school, the whole year seemed to revolve around the gridiron season. Football season was when the greatest amount of effort, concentration and activity took place. The rest of the year was spent in preparation. It wasn't that I looked forward to the start of the season so much, it was just that I dreaded that first day of practice. We would practice twice a day, three hours each session, for three weeks. My junior year we worked out three times a day.

Those few weeks in August, always seemed to be the hottest and muggiest of the year. I knew I was in for a long day when the temperature sign on the bank would show 85 degrees at 8 a.m. as I drove to the first practice session.

From 1966 through 1969 we weren't allowed the extra week of conditioning workouts in shorts and T-shirts that the high school players get now. We wore complete uniforms, including pads, and had contact drills the first day.

No matter how I tried to ignore the calendar, I knew football time was drawing near. My body would tell me. Around late July my knees would begin to ache, my neck would get sore and I would start throwing forearm shivers into walls.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL athletes are probably now going through some of the same things I did prior to the season. On Monday, Aug. 14, football players open with a week of conditioning drills. The other prep sports are sure to begin practice soon.

Many football players are probably watching football exhibition games. Just as many are likely to have ignored the pre-season games trying to keep football out of their mind another week.

I can't explain why I kept going out for football those four years of high school, plus two grade school seasons. The best part of the season came when it was over. There's a lot of suffering and sacrifice that goes into playing sports. During my first five years the only reward I received was splinters.

I sat the bench. I worked as hard as everyone, but I was small. My position was lineman and I was only 120 pounds as a freshman. Each of the next two years I put on 20 pounds so that I was 160 as a junior. My playing time was just enough to keep up my interest. Although discouraged, each fall I would pump myself up with as many "never say die" stories as I knew and then go out and try my best.

Football was THE sport at Lansing Gabriels High School now called Lansing Catholic Central where I was a student. My freshman season I played as a substitute in eight of nine games. We finished the season 9-0-0, allowing only one touchdown.

AFTER THAT STORY BOOK season, half our team went to other schools, leaving me hopeful for more playing time as a sophomore. Instead I played less. Our junior varsity team had another good season, finishing 5-1-2.

Although I had reached 180 pounds as a junior, I was dwarfed by my teammates. It was my first season on the varsity. Our line averaged over 200 pounds. I played only two games that season.

Our team was picked for the league championship my junior year. That 200-pound line was blocking in front of the defending Class B state championship 880-yard relay team. In other words, we were big and fast. The problem was that everyone knew it, our team started bickering and we finished 6-2. (We were probably tired from the three-a-day workouts.)

The following year I gained another 20 pounds. In the summer I worked on a weight machine, ran and played touch football. We were starting our senior year with a new head coach and all I wanted to do was play.

Despite my preparations, that first day of practice was miserable. Six hours in the hot sun and I was still on the second team. That evening I had to take my sister to cheerleading practice. She kept telling me how rough the cheerleading workouts were all the way to school. I almost screamed at her. When I returned home and stepped out of the car, every muscle in my body tensed up so I couldn't move—I had forgotten to take a salt pill.

AFTER A FEW more days and a lot more salt pills I got my chance. Just when I was ready to call it quits rather than spend another year on the bench, I won a starting position.

Our coach collected everyone he thought could play guard and had us battle each other one-on-one. That day I beat everyone. I don't know who was more amazed, me or my teammates.

I couldn't have written a better football season than what happened my senior year. We were unbeaten league champions, had a 7-0-1 record and a high state ranking.

One week we beat a team that was rated second in the state on their homecoming night. That night our team took the second half kickoff and marched 99 yards for a touchdown. The drive lasted more than 10 minutes, which included all of the third quarter.

The next week we threw a flea-flicker pass for a touchdown with six seconds left to play, barely beating a team which had lost its previous 25 games.

I could fill pages explaining all the things I learned through those football experiences. I found out that all the "corny" stuff about never giving up, setting a goal and working hard to achieve it is good advice. At least you know you've tried your best.

However, nothing will explain the feeling I had when the last game ended. I was sitting in a muddy end zone, pulling off my shoes and thinking about how great it was to have been a starter on an undefeated football team.

I HAD KNOWN seven of the other guys on that team since kindergarten. We were all National Honor Society students as well as football players.

One of them, my best friend, played center. We still joke about how he always stepped on my feet when we were pass blocking.

A little boy ran up to me while I was sitting in the mud. He was the brother of the girl I was going to the homecoming dance with that night.

"Can I have your chin strap," he asked. A bunch of other boys were running around, swinging chin straps at each other. "I can't give you the chin strap," I said. "It belongs to the school."

He looked real disappointed and started to walk away. "But I can give you this," I said, pulling off my forearm pad. "It's mine, not the school's."

I don't know if he appreciated the gift. He just ran off and punched one of the kids who was carrying a chin strap.

Scrambles galore in Western-6 league

By DENNIS O'CONNOR

One would need more than the ability of a Sherlock Holmes to figure out which squad will win the Western Six League football race this season.

One of the main reasons for such a wide open chase stems from an expected 'down' year from last season's king Farmington Harrison. Coach John Harrington's Hawks year-in and year-out have been league contenders but things may be different this year with the loss of quarterback Brett Homovec and company to graduation.

However, the Hawks must still be considered in the race, along with Livonia Churchill, as these two teams consistently offer respectable league competition.

Northville and Waterford Matt are also considered as possible league champions, as they enter the scramble which should prove to be an interesting race.

Plymouth Canton and Walled Lake Westem are the only Western-6 squads which are not expected to figure in the chase.

JOHN HERRINGTON has a very respectable 48-25-1 career record in his eight years at Harrison. His record includes a trip to the Silverdome in 1976 where his Hawks lost in the championship game for the Class A state title.

Five seniors are expected to lead the Hawks this season. They include quarterback Drew Norton, tailback Mark Wor-sley, tackle Mark Heppard, swingback and defensive halfback Jon Brancheau and center-linebacker Kurt Stearns.

And, as usual, Harrington is looking forward to his annual non-league rivalry against cross-town opponent North Farmington.

IN ADDITION to its league foes, Livonia Churchill sports one of the toughest non-league schedules in the state with the likes of East Lansing, Livonia Stevenson, Livonia Franklin and Ann Arbor Huron.

Coach Ken Kaestner hopes to rely on seven seniors as the heart of his squad. The offense will feature quarterback Rick Coppola, tailback Doran Mason, tackle Paul Neville and guard Mark Przybelski. The Chargers may sport the toughest defensive secondary in the league thanks to Dave Knick, Larry LaCarter and Ken Kalscher.

IT LOOKS like another uphill climb for the Chiefs of Plymouth Canton, as head coach Dave Schuele looks for any kind of improvement on last year's winless season.

One person who may add some offense to the Chiefs' attack is quarterback Scott Dawson, a transfer player from Inkster Cherry Hill who can throw the football. Senior running back Rusty Mandle will also provide some offensive punch.

Other top prospects include senior guard Charlie Nyhus and senior linebacker Bill Vanhoose.

OL St. Mary's favored to repeat in 2d Division

By JOHN BOZZO

First year head coach Al Dicken has a tough act to follow at Orchard Lake St. Mary's High School.

Dicken, who takes over for Art Paddy, was an assistant coach at West Bloomfield for four years.

Last season Paddy led Orchard Lake's Eagles to a perfect 12-0 record which included the State Class C Catholic League Second Division and Second Division West titles.

Another person with a big pair of shoes to fill is junior quarterback Jim Kinville. He replaces everyone's All-State choice, Jim Paciorek, who is now on scholarship at the University of Michigan.

Dicken probably takes some of his own advice to Kinville for himself.

"We're telling him (Jim Kinville) that Jim Paciorek is gone," Dicken said. "He doesn't have to compare himself to anyone."

Although unfamiliar with all the teams on St. Mary's schedule this season, Dicken said the opening game with Detroit Country Day School will provide as stern a test as his team will face.

ORCHARD LAKE opened last season with a crushing 30-12 victory over Country Day's Yellow Jackets. While the Eagles went on to claim state fame, Country Day just missed the same honors. Country Day was the Metro Conference champion. The Yellow Jacket gridders went undefeated through the rest of the season, but lost their first Class D state playoff game to eventual champion Flint Holy Rosary.

Besides Kinville, Dicken listed five key players for this fall: senior defensive back and offensive running back Dave Kay; senior running back and defensive back Tom Sikora; senior offensive and defensive end Nua Vucina; senior offensive and defensive tackle Frank Zimolzak; and big strapping (6-4, 205 pound) offensive and defensive tackle Matt Martin.

Frank Janosz is Dicken's defensive coordinator. John Becktel is a varsity assistant.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA head coach John Goddard lists St. Mary's as one of his top opponents this season. Redford fell to the Eagles 34-12 one year ago.

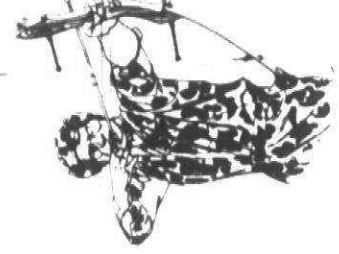

Goddard has a 12-6 record in his two previous seasons. He is also expecting a tough time from Clarenceville, a team that shut out Redford 22-0 last year.

There are two seniors and three juniors who Goddard expects will be his best performers this season. They are senior guard Dennis Rice, senior defensive tackle-offensive end Howard Shmuck, junior halfback Al Jones, junior tackle John Werth, and junior halfback Curtis King.

Kurt Wentzel is the Redford offensive line coach. Tim Lafferty coaches the defensive line. Bill Murphy handles the junior varsity.

SUFFERING NEEDLESSLY?

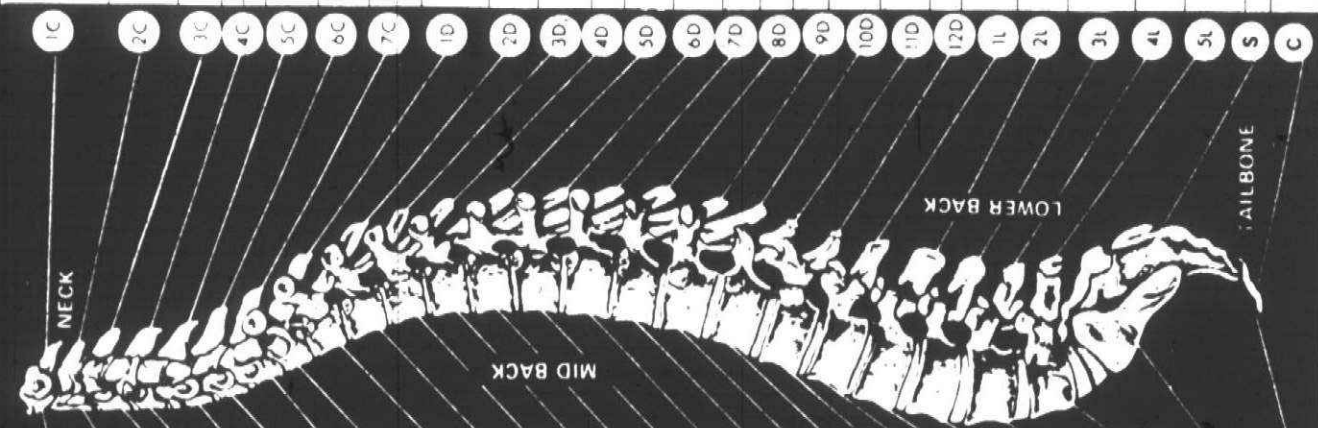

Millions are turning to chiropractic because they are recognizing the scientific principles of nature that have made spinal adjustments effective for many conditions where other methods have failed.

The chart below shows the lateral view of the spinal column and indicates in section "A" names of

B. Area Supplied by Nerves

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Blood supply to the head, the pituitary gland, the scalp, bones of the face, the brain itself, inner and middle ear, the sympathetic nervous system | 1C  |

SPINAL NERVE INVOLVEMENT CAUSES MANY CONDITIONS

The spinal chart shown above is directed especially to those people who have tried to regain their health through methods other than chiropractic, and have failed. That failure should not lead to discouragement, but to greater determination to discover the fundamental cause of all disease.

Since the discovery of chiropractic, no one needs to feel that he or she is destined to be sick all their life. Remember, "Where there is life there is hope and he who has hope has everything."

The Silent Killer

Most people in their lifetime will fall victim to the silent killer—vertebral subluxation. It may manifest itself in many different symptoms such as pain, aches, run down feeling, or an organic disease. The silent killer is the forerunner of many diseases. It is the physical representative of the cause of disease in your body. It is the reason why two people both breathe in rag weed pollen and one has hay fever symptoms while the other is symptom free. It is the reason why two people both come in contact with a virus and one gets sick and the other one resists the disease.

Vertebral subluxation is not exactly a household word. The average person is familiar with words like cancer, arthritis, stroke, etc., but, the silent killer is virtually unknown to most people. Let's take a look at this mysterious term vertebral subluxation. If we break the term down we get vertebra, which is a spinal bone. Subluxation broken down gives us sub meaning less than and luxation meaning dislocation. In other words one of the spinal bones has slipped out of place. This is sometimes improperly referred to as a slipped disc.

The significance of the vertebral subluxation or fixation is that it produces neuronal disturbance (interference with the life force flowing over the nerves). This nerve interference disrupts the control of body processes and produces incoordination in tissues, organs, and glandular function. Nerves are directly and indirectly in control of all body processes; interference with the life messages over the nerves may cause illness in any part of your body.

Instead of trying to conquer the disease or treating the ailment, stop and answer these questions: 1) Why am I sick? 2) What caused sickness in my body and not in someone else? 3) Is the treatment going to correct the cause? (Will it raise my resistance and bring me back to normal function?) Example: cutting out tonsils or a gall bladder doesn't bring back normal function. Covering up symptoms with pills and potions doesn't raise you back to high resistance, it only suppresses symptoms. 4) What are the contraindications or side effects from the treatment?

WHO GETS VERTEBRAL SUBLUXATIONS?

All vertebrate animals including man. This means you and I are susceptible to subluxations. They have been occurring since the beginning of time. Egyptian mummies more than 3500 years old have been examined and found to be showing subluxations, and newborn babies this year have had subluxations. Most people alive today have had or presently have a subluxation.

The vertebral subluxation occurs because of overwhelming stress; external environmental forces, such as excessive heat or cold, wind, falls, jerks, food poisoning, drugs, chemicals, alcohol, and emotional stress (anger, fear, worry, resentment). These forces produce neuromuscular tension, pulling vertebrae out of alignment or locking the bone (fixation) so it cannot move in its normal range.

IS THE SUBLUXATION IMPORTANT?

The subluxation is the SILENT KILLER. It is the physical representative of the CAUSE of most illness. This silent killer interferes with normal flow of nerve impulses (LIFE FORCE) by impinging or irritating nerves. This interference produces incoordination of the various systems and parts of the body. This interference lowers your resistance to bacterial and viral invasion. This incoordination or malfunction over a period of time grows into disease. The type of disease depends upon which nerves are interfered with and other contributing factors which determine the classification or diagnosis.

If one has a disease the chances are high that a vertebral subluxation is present. A subluxation can be present even if you are not presently ill. One of the eleven danger signals may tip you off that you may have a subluxation. These danger signals of the SILENT KILLER are: 1) Depression, 2) Nerve Tension, 3) Headache, 4) Stiff Neck, 5) Anxiety in Chest, 6) Pain Between Shoulders, 7) Restless Nights, 8) Numbness, 9) Stiffness or Pain in the Lower Back, 10) Tired Hips or Legs, 11) Painful Joints.

The safest way to be sure you don't have a vertebral subluxation is to have your spine (LIFELINE) examined regularly. Jars, jolts, exercise and a good night's rest can correct simple subluxations. But, when the vertebra becomes "fixed" in a multidirectional misalignment, it usually needs expert assistance to correct it. The chiropractor is the only person qualified to correct the subluxation (SILENT KILLER). He is THE GUARDIAN OF THE LIFELINE.

A CHIROPRACTIC EXAMINATION MAY BE THE TURNING POINT IN YOUR LIFE!

The chiropractor with the use of spinographic x-rays, nerve tests, instrument analysis, and palpation examination should be able to determine if you have a vertebral subluxation. If you are presently ill, the correction of your subluxation, to allow proper transmission and expression of nerve impulses, may be the only thing that will turn the direction of your illness to complete and lasting recovery.

Once proper nerve transmission and expression has been re-established, the inherent recuperative power that heals cuts, broken bones, and bruises has the ability to heal the ulcer, the cancer, the blood disease, the diabetes, the kidney disease, etc., etc. Let us not forget that NO doctor of any kind, no drug or treatment can heal or cure. Your body heals itself by growing new, healthy tissue cells and this requires a healthy nerve supply.

On the other hand, if you feel well, the correction of a vertebral subluxation may prevent illness. By keeping the body's master control mechanism (the nerve system) free from physical irritation, you may keep your body's resistance at a high level.

NOW BELIEVES IN NATURAL HEALTH CARE

I first came to the Canton Center for Family Chiropractic after receiving a back injury at work. My boss recommended I visit a chiropractor for my problem.

When I came to the CCFC I couldn't stand, lie down or sit down. Once I sat down or laid down, I would need help to get up or turn over. After examination and the necessary chiropractic adjustments, I am now able to walk normally and I am pain free.

As I continued to get better, we started to bring my older son to Dr. Wolfe. He had had trouble with his sinuses and was told there was nothing that could be done.

My whole family is now going to the Canton Center for Family Chiropractic for their health care needs.

CHIROPRACTIC BOOSTER FROM NOW ON!

A friend of mine told me about the Canton Center for Family Chiropractic for my back injury. I am 34 years old and I had hurt my back lifting a box of heavy equipment. I couldn't stand upright or bend and the pain was terrible. I had heard about chiropractic and I decided to give it a try . . .

The next day I went to the Canton Center for Family Chiropractic and was examined thoroughly including X-rays and after one adjustment, I was able to walk out of the clinic with my back straight. After a few adjustments, my spine is progressing nicely and I have no more pain. I also have a nervous stomach and it has responded greatly to chiropractic care.

My wife was experiencing tingling in the back of her head and aching in her spine and I decided to take her to the Canton Center for Family Chiropractic. After having her examination and adjustments, she is feeling much better.

We also have our children going for problems we never knew existed and they too have responded to chiropractic care.

It's amazing what chiropractors can do with all types of conditions.

We recommend men, women and children with problems or no problems to see a chiropractor for a spinal checkup.

You will be amazed with the results.

Mr. Wayne Childers
Dearborn Heights, Michigan

Doctor's Note:

These testimonials do not mean that chiropractic cures or guarantees a cure. They are to prove that, by removing nerve interference, the body heals itself.

SLEEP AT LAST

For eighteen months I suffered nightly back cramps so bad that I got only four hours of sleep a night. I tried other doctors and after several tests and x-rays was referred to another doctor. Again, more x-rays and tests and referred back to the original doctor with no relief. This time the original doctor referred me to a specialist and still no relief. I was ready to give up. Thinking I would suffer with back problems the rest of my life, a friend suggested a chiropractor. I wasn't too convinced since I had never visited a chiropractor. But I could see I wasn't getting any better, so I gave it a try. After two visits with Dr. Wolfe, I finally had relief. I could sleep at night again.

The spinal adjustment Dr. Wolfe gave me brought the relief I thought I would never get.

ENTIRE FAMILY BETTER

Thanks to a friend that asked me to help him lay sod, I found Dr. Wolfe and the Canton Center For Family Chiropractic. A long time back problem came to light when I picked up a piece of sod that broke my back, so to speak. The muscles let loose that were holding the back problem from bothering me and my position changed to the point that the upper part of my body was two to three inches out of line with the bottom. There was no way that I could stand straight. The x-rays were unbelievable.

After only two months of adjustments, and suggested spinal exercises at home, I was back in perfect condition and have remained so with monthly chiropractic care. I feel good and have been in excellent health ever since.

I am now pain free and walking normally. Now if I pick up something too heavy or strain, I can feel it and know enough to stop. In the past, my body did not give me any warning.

Thinking back to my childhood, I can remember bending over a table and after awhile, I could not straighten up for about half an hour. The first clue that something was wrong with my spine or bone alignment. Sure my parents knew it, but it went away, and therefore I never received any chiropractic adjustments. Until you get older and don't use your muscles as much, the muscles get weak — you do something out of the ordinary — you then are in a permanent crippled condition as I was and then you need help.

I chose Chiropractic and Dr. Wolfe and have felt great ever since.

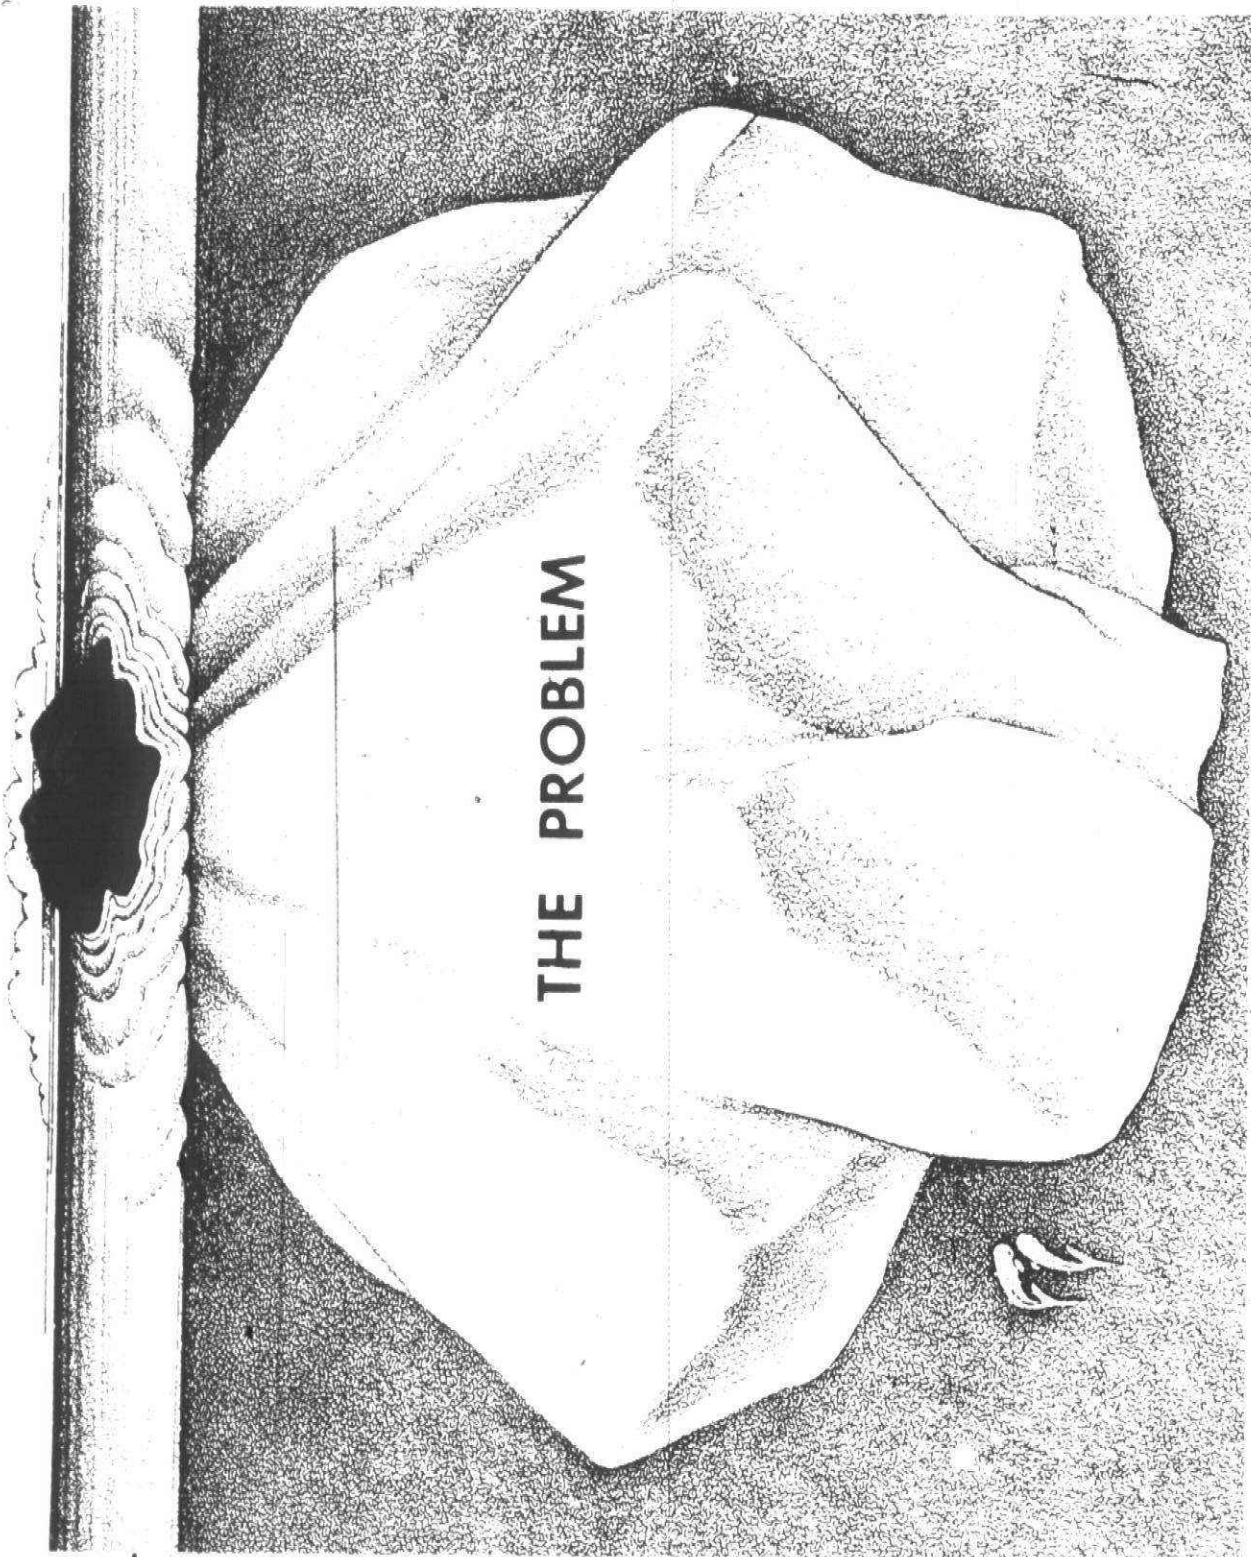

To insure that my childhood problems are not a problem with any member of my family, my wife and two children receive adjustments from Dr. Wolfe and we are convinced that these adjustments have contributed much to my family's good health.

I am sure your children will enjoy Dr. Wolfe as much as mine do.

For the health of your life, I recommend Chiropractic care and especially the Canton Center For Family Chiropractic and Dr. Wolfe.

All statistics used in this chart are based upon studies reported by the Chiropractic Research Foundation of the National Chiropractic Association, the Committee of the International Chiropractors Association, and Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation. The reports represent the results obtained under chiropractic care for a large variety of chronic conditions. The vast majority of these cases had also been previously diagnosed and treated by practitioners other than chiropractors.
