Culbert's competence questioned by peers

By CAROLINE PRICE

All is not well at Canton Township

Hall. And some of Supervisor Noel Culbert's former supporters are saying the reason is because he can't handle

They further charge that other officials have been taking on duties that should be performed by Culbert, and that all attempts to make the supervisor aware of the problem have failed.

Less than six months ago, Culbert (known as Doug to his friends) took his oath of office as supervisor after winning the general election.

He was joined by the newly elected members of the Township Board of Trustees - Treasurer Jim Donahue and Trustees Carol Bodenmiller and Robert Greenstein.

They had supported each other during the election (although they said it wasn't a slate) and promised to pull together to make Canton a better place from Donahue at the end of last week.

But things have changed.

The treasurer, who said he had "no other choice," distributed letters to township department and assistant department heads Friday.

THE LETTER said, in part, "As you well know, I have, since taking office, borne many of the duties of the chief administrator of this Township, a post to which I was not elected.

"It is with deep regret, but with an øverriding sense of obligation, that henceforth I must request that you take all administrative questions and requests for administrative decisions to the office of the supervisor of this Township where those responsibilities properly belong."

Donahue, who occupies a parttime post, said he has been barraged by department heads and other employees who come to him after Culbert allegedly fails to take action or make a decision on their particular problem. "They would be lined up at my door when I come in each afternoon with

The first public statement came problems that are not my job as treasurer to handle.

"I tried to help them, but I was neglecting my own office and making myself sick from trying to do too. much," Donahue said.

Donahue has a full-time job working in his family's business in addition to serving as treasurer.

Donahue said Mrs. Bodenmiller and Deputy Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz have also been forced into serving administrative roles beyond what their jobs should entail.

"THERE IS no direction, no leadership coming from the supervisor's office. I thought about it for a long time before I wrote this letter.

"I didn't want to do this to Doug. But I just couldn't keep it up anymore," Donahue said.

Donahue said Culbert attends few informational meetings held on an administrative level, and leaves those he does attend after a few minutes. He charged that no one ever knew where Culbert was or what he was doing.

He is backed by Trustee Bodenmiller, who said reluctantly that most of Donahue's charges are true.

"I think the problem is that Doug is not an easy man to talk to," Mrs. Bodenmiller said.

"The department heads call me and say they try to talk to him but don't get anywhere. Jim and I have tried to talk to him (Culbert). He doesn't set dates and he doesn't always see the urgency of something unless it's pointed out to

"I've tried to pull back, but I've been innundated by department heads and their problems," she said.

Mrs. Bodenmiller said Culbert has only held a few department head meetings since taking office. "At one time, many department heads were so frustrated they wanted to resign."

THE TRUSTEE said a problem is also surfacing at Township Board

"Jim and Bob (Greenstein) run the meetings. They are dominant personalities, and Doug doesn't always control them. He should be setting a certain tone for the meetings.

Mrs. Bodenmiller has been both Culbert's friend and neighbor. She said she isn't sure what has caused the problem but "doesn't want to see the township fall apart.

The businessman added, however, that the chamber will continue seeking legal advice on the sign issue to "set up the structure for litigation" if a member chooses to test the sign ordinance.

CHAMBER member Gary Roberts has filed a motion in 35th District Court to declare the sign law invalid on the grounds that procedural errors were made when the ordinance was adopted in 1975.

But McMurray said Robert's lawsuit did not influence the chamber's decision to drop its threat of litigation. He said the organization will give moral support to Roberts, but no financial or

Although the township board is currently considering a revised sign ordinance that would allow freestanding signs up to 50 square feet in area, chamber members have said that they are tired of waiting for passage of the proposed law.

McMURRAY INSISTS that chamber members were sincere when they voted last month to consider litigation against the township.

He added that the township board's discussion of the proposed sign law at a series of special meeting sheduled during the last few weeks had no bearing on the chamber's decision to drop discussion of the class-action lawsuit.

Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert said he was "glad to hear" that threats of the lawsuit have been dropped.

"I just hope that the business community and the township administration can enter into an era of peaceful co-existence," he said.

Library millage voted on May 9

The administration building, completed last fall, was designed with a third floor library in mind.

But a similar library millage proposal on the August primary ballot last summer was defeated by voters by an almost 2-1 margin. The amount of millage levied in the first year is expected to decrease as the library gets set up, to the point that only threefifths mill would be required by the third year.

All Township polling places will be open from 7 a.m to 8 p.m.

CANTON EMPLOYEES will soon have to reach into their own pockets for coffee money. After months of grumbling over the practice of providing free coffee to workers, the township board has voted to discontinue support of the employees' expensive caffeine habits. From December to April, the Township spent $2,959 on ccffee - a figure that Trustee Eugene Daley calls "simply ridiculous." Employees of the DPW and building department are the only workers who will continue to drink coffee on house. Township officials fear discontinuing the practice in those departments would violate the workers' union contracts.

IT LOOKS as if Canton merchants aren't going to get the 50square-foot freestanding signs they want. In a special meeting last week, the Township Board took a straw vote on what size signs members preferred during their line-by-line scrutiny of a proposed sign ordinance. The consensus seemed to be for maximum 25-foot signs, with an increase of 40 percent more if the signs were made of natural material (bringing them up to 35 feet). But another meeting on signs is set for 7 p.m. Thursday, with plans to send the whole ordinance back to the planning commission when it gets done. But cheer up merchants.

MEETINGS ABOUND again this week. A special Plymouth-Canton school board session will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday night in the administration office on Harvey in Plymouth. The Canton Township planning commission meets at 8 p.m. the same night in Township Hall. And last, but not least, the Township Board holds a regularly scheduled meeting beginning 7 p.m. Tuesday in Township Hall. Items on the agenda include the resignation of Police Chief Walter MacGregor and possible appointment of a new chief; plus appointment of the township's first personnel director.

"If the athletic provisions under Title IX are taken seriously, it should make life better for all students." That's according to a spokesperson for the National Organization of Women, who addressed an area group on the requirements and status of a federal law banning discrimination in sports programs because of a person's sex.

"Schools have not spent time or money on teaching women to play sports, then they turn around and blame women for not bringing in revenue from spectators, said Marcia Federbush, The story is on Page 3A.

TITLE IX TODAY:

NOW sees a better life for all athletes

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

Equal athletic opportunities for men and women under Title IX may ultimately end much of the "game playing" between the sexes, according to Marcia Federbush, author of some of the first federal regulations concerning sexual equality in sports.

Ms. Federbush spoke recently to members of the Northwest Wayne County Chapter of the National Organization of Women in Livonia.

"If the athletic provisions under Title IX are taken seriously, it should make life better for all students," she said. "It means that all students will have the maximum of opportunity to benefit from a spectrum of athletic programs without regard to sex.

Title IX is the most famous passage in the 1972 Federal Education Act. It prohibits sex discrimination in schools, with the penalty of losing federal funds if a school does not comply.

Title IX specifically includes athletics. It states that equal opportunities, accommodating the interests and abilities of both sexes, must be given in all intramural, interscholastic and intercollegiate athletic programs. Many school have not yet complied, Ms. Federbush said, while some have made half-hearted attempts in a general confusion over interpretation of the regulations. New guidelines on athletics are due from the department of Health Education and Welfare (HEW) in May. But Ms. Federbush said the intention of the athletic regulations under Title IX is

"Title IX means that a school system or the state should not presume that a sport is acceptable for one or the other sex only," she said.

"Under Title IX, schools cannot keep a girl out of an all-male team solely on the basis of sex, and the courts may soon rule that you can't keep a boy out of predominantly female sports solely because of sex either," she said.

Under Title IX, schools must provide two teams for contact sports, such as football, ice hockey or wrestling if there is a need for them, she said. But Ms. Federbush encourages a mix of sexes on teams which do not involve body contact.

"Sex discrimination has been caused by a separation of the sexes in all phases of life," she said. "The school system has maintained traditional sex roles. Boys run the projectors and clap erasers, while girls take the milk money and work in the office.

"Schools instilled in girls a fear of competition. 'But girls, how are you going to keep a man if you can't keep an oven clean?' was their attitude," Ms. Federbush said.

"They argued that girls could not play contact sports because their internal organs were so delicate and might be hurt. Did they even give a thought to boys' delicate external organs?" she asked. Ms. Federbush threw out the traditional argument that female sports don't deserve the same financial backing as male sports because they don't bring in revenue.

It has been proven in many cases, such as tennis, golf, gymnastics; skiing, and increasingly, basketball, that women's sports will draw crowds, she

"But the expectation of failure has kept many girls from even trying a sport," she said. "Schools have not spent time or money on teaching women to play sports, then they turn around and blame women for not bringing in revenue.'

Female athletic programs, poorly funded and meagerly supported, have traditionally centered around competing against oneself, the enjoyment of playing, cooperation and humaneness, Ms. Federbush said.

'But they have been short on things like goals, drive, or the determination to push themselves as far as they can go," she said.

Boys, meanwhile, have placed a premium on the drive toward goals, winning, aggressiveness and discipline, same distances," she said, adding that while coming up short on experiencing the sport for its own pleasure, Ms. Federbush added.

In the initial compliance with Title IX, many systems will go with a "separate but equal" policy, she said. "But why not let both male and female teams go as one team?" she asked the based on sex. All the kids will have a audience, "They can travel together chance," she said. and represent the school together.

"Let both teams go. If both boys' and girls' track teams go together, they will have equal support, share in the school spotlight, and receive the same cheering - and that's important," she said.

Culbert comes under fire

"I don't think it started as a cover up. We were all new to this and were trying to help each other out. It was not done with intent. It just happened," she Department heads were not the only people to receive a copy of Donahue's letter. Culbert saw his copy Friday afternoon and seemed bewildered at the charges.

"Donahue didn't take on any of my duties. He tried to. The only thing that's been delegated to him is control of the supply room," Culbert said.

Culbert said the only person who had ever come to him to talk about problems with department heads was Mrs. Bodenmiller.

"Jim never complained he had too much authority and he never came to me about any of this before he sent the letter. I really don't see what the problem is."

THE SUPERVISOR said he had not held a department head meeting for about a month because things "got too busy." He said he had been holding meetings on a regular basis.

He added there was no way he could get anything done if he sat in meetings

"I will certainly be meeting with all department heads now," Culbert said.

"The department heads are coming to me. That stuff about them standing in line by Donahue's door is bull.

"Some employees did say things were screwed up, but they said things were screwed up before I came in."

Culbert said that he did not have trouble making decisions. "There may be cases where I stall, but I can make decisions

"Even if everything Donahue said in the letter was true, I'd far prefer that he had come and talked to me rather than sending out this memo."

Culbert added, "I think someone's trying to do a smear."

Trustee Lynne Goldsmith suspects the same thing.

"I have seen a lack of administrative ability. There are no administrative staff meetings, and someone should be telling the department heads where they're going to be coming from.

"BUT IT isn't only the fault of Mrs. Goldsmith, who was already in office when the new elected officials joined the board, said she had heard discussions of Culbert's ability - or alleged lack of ability - as an administrator as early as January.

"The groundwork was already being laid. I saw an attempt to discredit Culbert, but I never saw an attempt made to bolster Culbert. I see a drawing back, an alienation from him," she

Mrs. Goldsmith said Donahue, when first coming into office, wanted to direct the recreation department and tried to get direct authority over Canton financial director Mike Gorman.

"The planning director has been publicly chastized. The building official has been publicly chastized. An election is drawing near. Except for next year's election, what is there to gain by all this?" she said.

Mrs. Goldsmith is not alone in speculating whether Donahue's move was a political one. The letter has caused township employees to wonder if another highly visible force on the township board, Robert Greenstein, might be involved in Donahue's decision to distribute the letter.

BOTH GREENSTEIN and Donahue said politics has nothing to do with the problem.

Greenstein said he agrees with Donahue's decision, "but I didn't tell him to do this. Anybody who says this is political is covering up. If any elected officials raised this politics charge, it seems to me they don't give a damn about the township.'

Township employees say they don't want to talk about any such problem because they believe it might jeopordize their jobs.

But one township employee, who asked to reamin anonymous, said, "I don't think Donahue's out to get the supervisor's job. He just has a takecharge personality.

"If department heads are going to Donahue, maybe it's because they haven't taken the time to get an answer from Culbert. He doesn't come up with anything right away.

"Culbert is a strong leader when he does it, but he's never had to boss people before, and he doesn't have any experience as an administrator.

"I think Culbert is a good supervisor. He's learning - but he's only got two years to do it in."

Safe is cracked

Canton police are still investigating a safe robbery that may have been pulled by someone with a key to the burgled safe.

According to Ptl. Gordon Stevens, at least $100 in coins was removed from a safe at the Quick Pik store at 39409 Joy sometime during the early morning hours of April 2.

Stevens said the store closed at 12:15 a.m. The theft was discovered by employees at 7 a.m.

Postal rules to tighten

By W.W. EDGAR

Plymouth residents and the United States Postal Service are on a collision course . . . and D-day is July 15.

Because "sophisticated" Postal Service machines cannot handle odd-sized pieces of mail, and the salaries of service employees are increasing, changes in mail regulations have been adopted.

They will be introduced in Plymouth on July 15 with all small and undersized envelopes, such as social invitations, no longer accepted.

According to Postmaster John Mulligan, all cards and envelopes less than 3.5 inches high and five inches long will be returned to the sender.

And no envelope more than 11/2-inch thick will be accepted. It will be up to the sender to measure his mail before going to the post office.

The new regulations also prohibit flimsy cards. In the future they must be at least seven-thousands (.007) of an inch thick. An official postal card has a thickness of nine-thousandths of an

Asked about the standard cards and the outlets that handle them, James C. Grater, speaking for Mulligan, said that because the envelope and greeting card industries have had more than three years to prepare for the new regulations "there should be no trouble."

The reason for the changes is because odd-sized pieces of mail clog up the machines. They get trapped with other mail and jam the works. As a result, other mail is also damaged.

The new standards also affect oversized and odd-shaped pieces of mail. In order to help eliminate them in first class mail, a surcharge of seven cents will be levied for pieces more than six and one eighth inches long.

In the past, the major concern of both the post office and the sender was weight. Many have a mail scale to weigh the number of ounces of any letter or parcel. Under the new standards, they also should be equipped with the measuring devices that determine the thickness of a letter or envelope and its

So there will be no controversy or guess work at the post office, the government has supplied the Plymouth Post Office (and all others) with templets measured to the legal size. There will be no more guesswork.

These steps are important, postal officials say, because of the volume of mail handled each day and the problems a jammed machine can cause.

The Plymouth Post Office handles an average of 130,000 pieces of mail daily. Last week it handled 722,000 pieces.

ent teams, according to factors such as height, weight and physical fitness," she said. "But each of the teams would receive the same money, facilities and prime-time practice spots," she said.

Finally, Ms. Federbush stressed that athletics give more than just physical benefits.

"The skills learned in competitive interscholastic sports have important psychological consequences," Ms. Federbush said.

She cited recent studies at the University of Michigan which determined that sports-minded students show higher morale, ambition and give a better performance, in school than non-athletic students.

"Other U-M studies show that around the world, in societies where women have no heroes, no share in power, and no strength, there are many more violent crimes," she said.

There is a strong belief that women have not functioned as well in the male business world because they "don't know the rules," and they "can't play the game," she said. "They never learned to work on a team," she said.

She gave the example of football as a sport which gives both excellent and perhaps harmful preparation to boys for later life.

"I don't like what football has become," she said. "The extreme expectations of coaches and parents, the immense pressure put upon the boys, the adulation heaped upon a "chosen few," the excessive monetary support can lead to letdowns and disillusionment for some boys," she said. "At the same time, football teaches things like planning, following strategy, working together as a team, mutual dependence, the drive to work just a bit harder to reach a goal.

"Football teaches boys discipline; how to live by rules, how to play a sport with great expertise, and to experience power on the field.'

Wider mixing in the sports arena between the sexes would tone down some of both extremes, while reinforcing the best values of playing sports, Ms. Federbush said.

"Learning to compete, for instance, is necessary in the business world, and most women feel guilty about competing - especially with men," Ms. Federbush said.

"Women have traditionally only competed against themselves," Mrs. Federbush said. "If you are afraid to compete under any circumstances, that makes you practically unfit to go out of the house.

When girls participate in sports, their skills and confidence increase, she

"They can learn to do their best, press themselves to the limit, to succeed," Ms. Federbush said. "They'll learn to have goals, to have self esteem, to get respect.

"Most of all, they'll learn how to compete without guilt."

Boys, too, will benefit from Title IX, she said, and stop getting the intense pressure at young ages to succeed no matter what the cost.

"Maybe they'll even learn to share disappointments and failures more easily," Ms. Federbush said.

"Hopefully, Title IX will allow kids at an impressionable age to engage in whatever sport they choose and have it be fully acceptable," Ms. Federbush meet track record to 2-2 with a tight 67-65 victory over Trenton Thursday

The Salem are 2-1 in the Suburban Eight League

The Rocks, coached by Gary Balconi, came through with strong performances in the field events.

Senior Dennis Ogden won the pole vault by clearing 14 feet 6 inches. He tried to break Scott Kappler's school record of 14 feet 81/2 inches. Ogden set the standard at 15 feet and just brushed the bar on the way down on his third

Sophomore Dave Skone took second place with a personal best of 12 feet 6 inches

Rob Neu, a junior, won the high jump with a leap of 6 feet. He also placed second in the long jump (20 feet 21/2

"Rob had a good day," said Balconi, "and was really pumped up."

Rich Hanschu went 21 feet 8 inches to capture the jump. He won his second event of the day when he took the 120yard high hurdles (:15.5).

Top shot put and discus thrower John Froozan did not dress for the meet but sophomore Bob Pittaway picked up the day for another Suburban Eight League slack with a first-place toss of 117 feet dual meet.

Plymouth Salem evened its dual 5 inches. Salem teammate Dan Smith finished second (114 feet 3 inches). Another sophomore, Lee Langkabel, won the 220-yard dash (:24.8) while Pittaway gained second (:25.3). Hanschu, a senior co-captain, anchored both Salem's winning 440-yard and 880 relay squads. He teamed with Greg Stevens, Pitta-way and Lankabel to win the 880-yard relay (1:36.6).

HANSCHU, Greg Lipka, Craig Stack and Stevens combined to win the 440yard relay with a clocking of :46.7. Lipka finished second in the 100-yard dash

Paul Hess was the only Salem runner to place first or second in a distance event. He was second in the two-mile run (10:17.9).

"Our distance times will come down because we're getting into the heavy part of our schedule," Balconi said. "We haven't done that much speed work with them.'

Balconi was pleased with Neu, who ran an anohor leg on the mile relay for the first time.

Canton golfers beat Rocks by 1

By BETTY DeLANO

At the start of the golf season, Plymouth Canton coach Ann Buie said that when Plymouth Salem meets Canton, the match could go either way.

The two teams met one another Friday and came as close as possible to having a tie. Buie's squad managed to come out the victor to remain undefeated, 210-211.

The two teams were evenly matched throughout the nine holes played at Hillton Golf Course, which is the home course for both schools.

Cathy Andersen and Beth Maggio, the top players from Canton and Salem, were playing neck and neck from start to finish as were the number-two players Janis McGlone (Canton) and Meg McGee (Salem). Edging Andersen out on the ninth Salem golfers triumph

The Plymouth Canton girls' golf team had no trouble against Saline Thursday, earning an 18-stroke victory, 209-227, on Saline's home course.

Saline is the defending Central Six League champion for the past two years and was hurt by the graduation of three of top six players.

"Even though they weren't as strong as they were last year I think that Saline is a very competitive team and that we played good golf against them," said Canton coach Ann Buie.

Canton rallies for league win

Facing a 4-0 deficit after two innings, the Plymouth Canton varsity softball team came from behind to defeat Walled Lake Western Wednesday afternoon, 9-5, in a Western Six League

Walled Lake got two easy runs in the first inning, scratching together three hits along with a walk issued by Canton senior pitcher Lucy Howe.

Western collected two more runs in the second inning on two singles, a double and a Canton throwing error.

Canton began its comeback in the third inning. First baseman Cindy Stevens led off with a double. She scored when junior catcher Pam Schipani singled her home.

Cathy Campbell and Vickie Cavellaro followed with fly outs. Canton designated hitter MariAnn Pink singled to right field, sending home Schipani. Pink was later thrown out at the plate.

The Chiefs remaining seven runs were all scored in the fourth inning, increasing the lead over Western by three runs.

Schipani started the inning by reaching first base on an error by the Walled Lake pitcher. Campbell sacrificed her to second base and Cavellaro singled to score Schipani.

Pink followed with a walk and Jean Krashovitz tapped a bunt single. Cocaptain Valerie Harbin popped out and co-captain Cathy Peck walked, bringing Cavellaro home.

Sophomore Joni Sommerville continued to lead the assault with a single up the middle, scoring Pink. Stevens then doubled home three more runs as Krashovitz, Peck and Sommerville scored.

Stevens scored the seventh run of the inning when she crossed the plate on Schipani's double down the left field

Western managed to score only one run in the seventh inning, not enough to prevent Canton from notching its third win of the season.

Canton sent 28 players to bat, collected seven singles, rapped four doubles and walked three times.

"Lucy (Howe) pitched an excellent game," said Canton coach Max Sommerville.

"She only had two walks. Walled Lake wasn't that tough. So everybody made good use of the batting practice,'

CANTON'S JUNIOR varsity won both games last week.

The Junior Chiefs rallied on Wednesday to beat Walled Lake Western, 14-11, and smothered Waterford Mott 16-3 on Friday.

"I'm very pleased with the aggressiveness the team has shown on stealing and base running," said Canton reserve coach Cathy Himes.

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDINANCE NO. 47

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ZONING ORDINANCE, PURSUANT TO ACT 184, P.A. 1943, AS AMENDED BY ADDING ARTICLE 32, PLANNED UNIT DEVEL-OPMENT OPTION, TO THE TEXT THEREOF.

THE TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

PART I. The text of the Township of Plymouth Zoning Ordinance No. 47 be, and the same hereby is, amended by the addition of Article 32 as follows:

PURPOSE:

It is intended by the Community that uses of high intensity shall be located in areas which will not adversely impact the orderly development of existing or future residential areas. Commercial, office, research, testing and residential uses in structures beyond two (2) and two and one-half (21/2) stories in height are more urban in nature and, therefore, could be in conflict with a specific development area and the general character of the Township of Plymouth, if not properly regulated in regard to location, relationship to adjacent land uses and development requirements. The Community has provided a MR Mid-Rise District to provide for locations for these higher intensity uses, separately or in combination, in areas which will not impact the existing or future land uses of adjacent properties and the Community as a whole. The Community, however, recognizes that within the C-2 Zoning District there may be sites which because of certain existing and specific factors, could be developed beyond the 2 to 21/2 stories without negatively impacting adjacent properties and the community as a whole.

It is further understood that said developments may be consistent with the planning goals of the community only in specific locations, under specific conditions, related to height, bulk and location of buildings in accordance with sound planning and Site Plan principles. It is therefore, intended that the Planned Unit Development Option is designed to permit flexibility in the regulation of land development, encourage innovation in land use and variety in design, layout and type of structures constructed, achieve economy and efficiency in the use of land, natural resources, energy and the provisions of public services and utilities, encourage useful open space, and provide better housing, employment and shopping opportunities particularly suited to the needs of the residents of the Township of Plymouth in C-2 zoning districts on parcels of five (5) acres or greater where the basic principles set forth in this article are met.

Sec. 32.1 STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES:

The Planned Unit Development (P.U.D.) is an optional method of development which may be permitted only after review and recommendation by the Planning Commission, public hearing, approval of the Township Board of Trustees after having found that the proposed Planned Unit Development reflects the following basic principles:

1. The proposal is in conformity with the spirit and intent of the Planned Unit Development Option as established in the Purpose ection of this

2. The site contains "natural" assets such as large stands of trees, rolling topography, significant views, swale areas, flood plains or wet lands which would be in the best interest of the community to preserve and which would otherwise be substantially destroyed if developed under the specific requirements of the C-2 Zoning District. This determination shall be made by the Planning Commission and Township Board after review of a documented "Site Analysis" to be submitted by the applicant.

3. The site contains certain existing "natural" or manmade features which could, with sound site planning, be incorporated into the project to minimize any negative impact the proposed project might have on adjacent properties and the community as a whole.

4. The proposed uses and the location of said uses on the subject property shall be in harmony with the existing and proposed land patterns of adjacent properties and the general planning area, and shall insure the stability of the orderly development of adjacent lands and the general planning area as indicated by the Future Land Use Plan. 5. The proposed height, bulk, location and character of structures shall be in harmony with the existing and proposed structures of adjacent lands, and the general planning area, and shall insure the stability of the orderly development of adjacent lands and the general planning area as indicated by the Future Land Use Plan. 6. The proposed uses and the location of said uses on the subject property shall be such that traffic to and from the site will not be hazardous or adversely impact abutting properties or conflict with the normal traffic flow of the general area. In reviewing this particular aspect, the Commission and the Board shall consider the following:

A. Conflicts with convenient routes for pedestrian traffic, particularly

B. The relationship of the site to major thoroughfares and street inter-

7. The intensity of uses associated with the proposal and such noises, vibrations, odors, glare, reflection of light, heat, hours of operation or other external effects which would normally be a product of the proposed uses. shall be compatible with the existing land uses of the abutting properties and shall insure the stability of the orderly development of same as indicated in the Future Land Use Plan for the Township.

Sec. 32.2 CHANGE OF DISTRICT:

No application shall be accepted for a use which will require a change in zoning district unless said application is accompanied or preceded by an application for a zoning district amendment.

Application for approval shall be made by the owner or owners of any tract where use of the Planned Unit Development process is contemplated. The application shall be accompanied by a fee to be determined by resolution to the Township Board in each case, and shall cover the cost of evaluating the plan as to the principles and conditions hereinafter set forth. Sec. 32.4 APPLICATION INFORMATION: Application for approval shall contain the following information:

1. A Meets and Bounds Survey of the acreage comprising the proposed Planned Unit Development. 2. Topographic survey including natural and man made features at a scale of 1" = 50' with a contour interval not to exceed two (2) feet. 3. A documented "Site Analysis" which identifies the character, structure and potential of the site as it relates to this article. The analysis shall include the areas adjacent to the subject property and shall include sufficient information about the nearby properties so that a determination can be made by the Planning Commission and Board as to the impact of the proposed Planned Unit Development on the general planning area in which the Planned Unit Development is located. The analysis shall include as a minimum the following:

a) Contiguous Land Uses Indicate type and impact on adjoining lands, direction and distance to community facilities, show public transportation routes related to

b) Topography Indicate basic topography, any unique ground forms, and percent of

A Conceptual Plan which indicates the type of uses proposed, their location, the general building masses to include proposed height and relationship to abutting uses, circulation (vehicular and pedestrian), parking, open space, buffer areas (dimension and general treatment proposed as related to site analysis) and any special features. The concept plan shall convey the general intent and spacial form of the proposal so as to permit the Planning Commission and the Township Board to determine, the acceptability of the project as it relates to the Purpose Section and Statement of Principles section of this article.

In addition to the required plan, additional section sketches and study models should be submitted to permit the Planning Commission and Board to review the project in regards to the Purpose Section and Statement of Principles section of the ordinance.

Sec. 32.5 PUBLIC HEARING REQUIREMENTS: A public hearing shall be held by the Planning Commission on a proposed Planned Unit Development in order to acquaint the public and adjoining property owners with the proposal prior to furnishing of detailed plans and specification by the Applicant. One (1) notice that a request to develop a parcel of land under the P.U.D. Option has been received shall be published in a newspaper which circulates in the Township, and sent by mail or personal delivery to the owners of property for which approval is being considered, to all persons to whom real property is assessed within 300 feet of the boundary of the property in question, and to the occupants of all structures within 300 feet. The notice shall be given not less than 5 nor more than 15 days before the date the application will be considered.

Sec. 32.6 APPROVAL BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION:

Within a reasonable time following the public hearing, the Planning Commission may, after reviewing the factors outlined in this article and the relationship of the proposed P.U.D. to the intent and purpose of the zoning ordinance, its compatibility with adjacent uses of land, natural environment, and the capability of public services and facilities affected by the proposed P.U.D., recommend approval or recommend approval with conditions regarding applying the P.U.D. Sec. 32.10 TOWNSHIP BO'ARD APPROVAL:

Option to the tract of land as described in the Meets and Bounds Survey submitted with the application, it shall prepare a report stating the decision and the basis for the decision. Approval by the Board shall confer approval to develop the subject property under the requirements of the P.U.D. option and the conditions established in the Site Analysis, Concept Plan and General Development Plan. Said approval by the Board shall grant the applicant a period of one (1) year and six (6) months following said approval to file a Final Development Plan and P.U.D. contract to the Planning Commission for Recommendations and Final Approval by the Board. Approval of the Final Development Plan and Contract by the Board being a prerequisite for issuance of a Building Permit by the Department of Building and Code Enforcement. The contract after review by the Planning Commission and approval by the Township Board, shall be entered into between the Township and the applicant. Said contract shall provide:

This analysis will be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptomatology, and levels of spinal tenderness. An analysis of this type can reveal such things as normal and abnormal stress patterns, spinal curvature, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortion, and scollosis.

This analysis, including consultation with the doctor is being offered to the public at a low cost for the next 30 days. Anyone wishing to receive this low cost examination may telephone the participating doctors directly for information or an appointment.

Chief girls cop 1st victory

880-yard Relay

Battling sickness and lack of depth, the Plymouth Canton girls' track team managed its first dual meet victory of the season, nipping Farmington Harrison 62-60 Thursday.

'We won but it was a miracle," said Canton track coach John Dunn. "We had only 13 people. Two were sick.'

Many of the Canton girls had to run three events - not the 100, 220 and 440-yard races, but the 880yard run, the mile and two mile events.

"We just don't have the people, so we have to double and triple up," he said.

Michelle Perrot of Canton won the mile with a time of 6:00. The Chiefs swept the race when Geri Shufeldt and Mary Fideler placed second and third respectively.

Shufeldt captured the two-mile race with a clocking of 13:27. Perrot took third.

Kathy Brophy, not feeling up to par but competing anyhow, won the 880-yard run for Canton with a time of 2:41.3. Shufeldt was third.

Canton had to scratch in the mile relay but came up with a victory in the 440-yard relay.

The team of Liz Gorecki, Charlotte Thomas, Lisa Richardson and Amy Knickerbocker posted a first place time of :58.7 in that relay.

Canton's Diane Durocher "looked good" in the shot put according to Dunn. She placed first with a toss of 30 feet 9 inches.

The Chiefs swept the discus event as Gorecki placed first (83-1) while teammates Brenda Bigelow and Durocher placed second and third respectively. Canton girls who gained second place finishes included Jill Pederson, long jump, 13 feet 9 inches:

Bigelow, high jump, 4 feet 10 inches; Thomas 110yard hurdles, :20.1; Brophy, 440-yard dash, :66.8; Pederson, 220-yard low hurdles, :36.3. Dunn's squad also piled up valuable points with seven, third place finishes.

"The times weren't that good but we really needed that win." he said.

Canton travels to Redford Thurston Tuesday for a 3:30 p.m. non-league dual meet.

Up, up it goes and where it stops nobody knows.

That was the feeling last week of gasoline station owners and managers when gasoline prices reached a new high in the city of Plymouth when the Mobil station on Ann Arbor Road priced its super unleaded fuel at 94.9 cents a gallon.

At the same time Mobil's unleaded product, which most of the new models use, reached 90.9 cents per gallon.

Next in high price came the Shell station at Ann Arbor Road and Sheldon with unleaded gasoline priced at 88.9 cents - the same price charged by the Amoco station at Ann Arbor Trail and

In contrast, the lowest priced gasoline in the city was at the Shell station where regular sold for 77.9 cents a gallon, the same as that charged for regular at the Gulf station on Main Street. Next in line in the lower price range for regular gasoline was the Clark station where the rate was 78.9 cents.

Sunoco had the widest choice for its customers with Regular 200 at 81.9, regular premium at 85.9, super premium at 87.9 and unleaded at 84.9 cents a

Of all the stations in Plymouth only Sunoco and Amoco will be closed Sundays until further notice. The other stations surveyed still are undecided how high the price will go: whether it will hit $1 a gallon this summer, or if they will be closing Sundays.

Breen to chair planning group

Plymouth Township will be taking a look at an extensive capital improvement plan, to be coordinated by Trustee Maurice Breen.

Breen was appointed to head a committee of his own choosing to explore a long-range plan for land purchases and township facilities, including a financial program to fund such plans.

Two weeks ago, township board members voted to abandon an extensive renovation of township hall in favor of pursuing a capital improvement program, as outlined by Breen.

an offer from Plymouth Township. After a half-hour closed session, board members last week voted unanimously to submit an offer to buy 33 acres of land owned by the Amrhein family. The land is located next to the township's nine-hole Hilltop Golf

Earlier estimates of the purchase price were between $8,500 and $9,500 per acre for the undeveloped land. Board members refused to disclose their bid for the property and authorized Supervisor Tom Notebaert to negotiate with the family for the purof Unusual Speciman Plants

If you ignore the litter

Padre Island a sun-kissed haven for people who value solitude

PADRE ISLAND, Tex. — The Blue Heron and the Caspian Tern were here before the Spanish galleons shipwrecked on this wild, sandy shore. They flew like this, in sudden bursts of wing, before the cattle ranchers came and the Texas Rangers rode between the dunes.

The birds are here now, prime tenants of the Padre Island National Seashore, and with only one enemy: litter. On any sunny day, you see a beer can glisten in the sun, but after the high tide the garbage comes in from the merchant ships and it carpets the beach from sealine to dune grass.

Egg cartons, bleach bottles, parts of old ships, rope, shoes, construction hats, more cans, even electric light bulbs. Regulars here say that the beach is "pristine and pure" most of the time, but environmentalists have noted oftener and oftener that the sandpipers pick their way among the litter that comes in with the tide.

PADRE ISLAND has a dramatic history here, off the shore of tropical southern Texas. The Karankawa Indians, known as the Kronks, summered here centuries ago. They were fierce warriors, nomadic fishermen and cannibals.

Twenty Spanish galleons shipwrecked here on the Devil's Elbow in 1553, stranding treasure that still lures local treasure hunters out with shovels and sticks. History books call it the Flight of the 300, because 300 crewmen fled south down the island with fierce Kronk Indians behind. Only one sailor survived.

In the early 1800s, Padre Balli was given the island as a land grant from King Charles IV of Spain, and during the waning days of the Texas Republic, Texas Rangers left horse tracks on the

The only invaders now are tourists, although the natural landscape and the National Park Service limit what we can do to violate the land.

THE NATIONAL SEASHORE is 80.5 miles of this 113-mile-long barrier island that hugs the south Texas coast from Corpus Christi, to Brownsville. Commercial development busies the north and south ends of the island but sand beaches and low dunes form the only skyline along the seashore itself, which ranges from a few hundred yards to three miles in width.

The intercoastal waterway, Laguna Madre, washes the western shore. The Gulf of Mexico whitecaps the eastern shore. Campers and day-tourists can visit the Seashore in various ways, all of them displayed at the park headquarters on the Corpus Christi side of the island causeway to the north, and at the information center on the island itself.

Recreational vehicles can use the ranger station, but they must go to with other ordinary vehicles on the ry year.

first five miles of firm sand beach. Only four-wheel drive vehicles can wheel beyond this point because soft sand and shell beds quickly trap wheels in the beach. Even these are regularly towed out of the sand by rescuers who drive or fly in from the mainland. (You can also drive north about five miles from the park's southern entrance at Port Isabel before you must switch to four-wheel drives.)

This is not a travel experience for those who like their fun wrapped in city streets and music, but it is a haven for those who dream of standing alone in the world with a fishing rod, or sharing the land with the birds.

YOUR FOUR-WHEEL-drive vehi-140-site paved campground near the cle, which can be rented from operators like Jerry Foy of Corpus Christi, Nueces County Park north of the enters the northern Seashore from Seashore or Cameron County Park Malaquite Beach. The first few miles south near Port Isabel for hook-up are smoothed and cleared of debris for facilities. They can be parked or driven the 750,000 visitors who come here eve-

Beyond the 14-mile marker, the Seashore shares a whited world with the birds and a few lone travelers. A 100-yard strip of sand tracks a straight line to the horizon between whitecaps and dunes. Long-legged sandpipers prance the waters edge. Clusters of black-headed Caspian terns rise together if they are startled. A skimmer flies with his lower beak underwater to catch fish. Occasionally, a single great blue heron raises its head to form a skyline along the Snakes are here but seldom seen. Coyotes prowl the sea edge at dawn. A sharp whistle and an airborne chuck of bread brings the gulls, circling and diving for dinner.

During the slow season, October to May, or on weekdays during summer, you can drive for miles with only a camper's lean-to breaking the wilderness or a line of fishing poles stuck hilt-

At the 24-mile marker, wheel tracks turn inland to the rotting corrals where ranches once were worked. Near the 55-mile marker, you can still see the rusted wreck of the Nicaragua, shoaled there in 1912.

Overnight camping is allowed all along this wilderness beach, although foot traffic is not allowed on the dunes. Trampling feet kill the plants that hold the dunes together and protect them from the wind.

The Spaniards called this lovely lonely place Las Islas Blancas, the white islands. If you can get excited about a day or a weekend on the open beach, with the sea running away to the horizon and the seagulls eating bread you throw into the sky, this is the place.

But don't go during or just after afull moon, when the tides are high. The birds have learned to pick their, way among the beer cans and the bleach' bottles, but you probably won't like it a

Shades of '1984'

DALLAS, Tex. — I seldom hear about foreign travelers struggling through the logistics of travel in the U.S. I think about it now as I try to find my way around Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

A modern airport is like a concrete city that spreads to indefinite boundaries. I have this same sensation in Frankfurt, London and Chicago, a sense of walking though a time machine into a world where everything is made of concrete and glass.

Poeple move down passageways into hollow-sounding rooms where they are redirected to other passages, in the spirit of Every airport has its own trap. Here, it is the Air Trans (Airport Transportation), a system of rapid transit that runs in four, color-coded loops between the gates of various airlines.

Imagine a European or an Asian who speaks as little English as I speak German or French. Picture the person trying to find the way from one plane to another.

The Air Trans are one level down by elevator from the main floor. I flew American to Dallas and would fly Braniff to Corpus Christi, but the transfer is not that simple. A sign warns you to consult a posted schedule before you board because there are three different Braniff stops: Braniff A, B or C.

I was going to Braniff C.

I boarded the train with two Texans who also didn't know where they were going. On board was a man who said, "I just did the complete loop and I think I missed my plane."

As we were staring past the gaily colored seats to the tunnel walls outside, a voice came out of the wall, warning us to read the signs on the tunnel walls so that we would know where to get off.

Sounds easy enough if you can understand that wonderful Texas accent, but one nervous-looking foreign traveler sat staring out the window, frowning.

So here I am, checked in at last at Braniff C, and wiser by one more world airport. The moral of the story is not that it is really difficulty to navigate an airport, but that you need time and a sense of humor to figure out where you are going, and how to get

In Los Angeles, you ride endless moving ramps. In Seattle, you ride a horizontal elevator. In Chicago, you change terminals.

And just as you get one small portion of the world figured out, the airport becomes obsolete and they rebuild it.

FROM THE MAILBAG

Mary Schoen of Birmingham has added another place worth visiting to the list of things to see and do while traveling Interstate 75 to Florida.

"Westville is worth a visit," Mary says. "It's on the Andersonville Trail near Plains."

Westville, 20 miles from Plains, Ga., is a collection of original Georgia buildings of the early 1800s. Buildings from early settlements in Georgia were authentically restored, furnished and placed in a village setting.

Tourists can wander through the houses and shops, have lemonade and cookies, and talk to authentically constumed guides about the history represented.

One of the purposes of Westville is to preserve the handicrafts and skills of West Georgia during the mid-19th century, so crafts are usually being practiced at the site.

Westville is just outside the town of Lumpkin, where the restored Bedingfield Inn graces the town square.

Mexico a bargain in the summer

Summer is off-season in Mexico Most of the tourists who travel to Mexico go to forget winter and for obvious reasons would rather do so in December, January and February. However, during the summer the prices are lower, the highways are not as busy and hotel rooms are easier to get.

The so-called rainy season from June to September is somewhat exaggerated. The Mexicans call it so only because the rest of the year is so dry. From June to September, the rainfall is about 17.8 inches, whereas in St. Louis at the same period the precipitation reaches 13.9 inches and in Chicago more than Summer is a particularly good time to visit the small colonial towns or the archaeological treasures of the Yucatan. Many organizations offer summer school programs (in Spanish and especially in archaeology) at moderate prices and with room and board with Mexican families.

Because of the high elevation, it is not as hot on the high plateaus, such as Mexico City (7,500 feet) and Cuernavaca (5,000 feet).

Cuernavaca is located about 50 miles south of Mexico City, and the two cities are joined by a fourlane highway. Its climate is good year-round, neither too warm nor too cool, and it is a good base from which to visit the numerous tourist attactions that area has to offer.

Ontario tax break in effect to 1981

Ontario's 7 percent accommodation retail sales tax will remain suspended until March 31, 1981, according to Larry Grossman, the province's industry and tourism minister.

"Continued suspension of the retail tax on taxable accommodation and meals under the American Plan is aimed at stimulating the province's hospitality industry," he said.

"American tourists will also benefit from the devalued Canadian dollar with the American dollar now favored with an exchange rate of about 15 percent."

Guide to Work, Study and Travel

Ryan O'Neal is a reluctant prize fighter who doesn't want to come out for the next round, despite a shove from his persistent manager, portrayed by Barbra Streisand.

'The Main Event' screwball comedy stars wacky pair

Critic Louise Snider's movie review column will return next week. Following is a production story on the new film comedy "The Main Event," co-starring Ryan O'Neal and Barbra Streisand

When the era of screwball comedy ended in the late '30s, a decline in the free-spirited nuttiness that had dominated this type of film comedy for a decade faded from sight.

Now a new motion picture, "The Main Event" (opening June 22 in Metropolitan Detroit), offers the same comedic battle of the sexes which audiences roared at and applauded in such films as "Bringing Up Baby," "It Happened One Night," "My Man Godfrey" and "His Girl Friday."

Significantly, by the early '70s, screwball comedies had virtually disappeared from Hollywood, with only a few scattered films beng produced to carry on this wild and zany tradition.

In 1972, however, "What's Up Doc?" teamed Barbra Streisand and Ryan O'Neal in a screwball comedy which brought to life this largely forgotten film form. Seven years later, these two stars have re-united for this film adventure.

The new romantic comedy brings together an improbable couple, which, like its predecessors of the '30s, depends on one another for success - and even survival.

MS. STREISAND PORTRAYS a successful perfume manufacturer who finds herself without any tangible assets except for a retired prizefighter, played by O'Neal, who she decides - against his never-ending objections - to manage back into championship contention.

In the motion picture, Ms. Streisand, one of the most gifted screen recomediennes, returns to the kind of comedy role that has won her legions of fans. This time around, she is pitted against the self-retired fighter in an odds-against situation that has hilarious moments both inside and outside the ring.

Well-trained for his on-screen confrontations, O'Neal, a former Golden Gloves boxer himself, has backed fighters and been involved in the sport for years. He comes to his role in the film with a finely-honed sense of his acting craft as well.

Preparations before the film's actual shooting included screening of several old films with similar themes.

"BEFORE THE screenplay was finished, Streisand showed the famous screwball comedies of the past to the screen writers," said producer Jon Peters. "She wanted them to see that we wanted more than just laughs - we wanted it to be funny and real.'

"The Main Event," a Jon Peters Production of a Barwood Film of a First Artists Presentation for Warner Bros. release. It was produced by Jon Peters and Barbra Streisand, and directed by Howard Zieff from a screenplay by Gail Parent and Andrew Smith. Renee Missel and Howard Rosenman served as executive producers.

Monday's Commentary

Professional adventurers must be odd folks

Let me introduce you to Lt. Col. Robert K. Brown. You may not like him, but don't worry - it won't hurt his feelings.

Brown is the founder, editor and publisher of a national magazine called Soldier of Fortune, or SOF as it refers to itself. This, folks, is no Time or

It is subtitled "The Journal of Professional Adventurers." It is about war.

"We've had people say it was a horrible magazine because they didn't like the orientation of the magzine. I say tough s---," said Brown in a telephone interview from the Boulder, Col., magazine head-

"I just felt for a long time that there was really no solid adventure magazine on the market, that True and Argosy were rather tame," he said. He said he had a "gut feeling" a market existed for Such a magazine. This is perhaps an unfortunate choice of words, considering the nature of the publieation, but more on that later.

SO FOUR years ago, with only mail-order bookselling as a publishing background, Brown started SOF with a paid subscription list of 4,400. He says circulation is now about 110,000 and he figures it will continue to grow to "at least a quarter million." The magazine is published monthly.

Brown figures military personnel and old vets comprise most of his readers. While the magazine runs frequent stories about mercenaries - an interview in the June issue centers on a Briton who served under the infamous, executed Col. Callan in Angola — Brown figures actual mercenaries among his readers are in "a very small number.

"But the thing is, people like to read about them. It's got a certain, at least in the eyes of certain numbers of people, glamourous aspect."

Brown's gut feelings about the market were obviously right, but they were helped along by Larry Flynt, the publisher of Hustler magazine.

Nowadays, Flynt has to content himself with making high-performance modifications to his wheelchair — he was gunned down and paralyzed below the waist last year as he prepared to enter a Georgia courtroom to stand trial on obscenity charges. But it wasn't always thus.

Hustler publishes what nearly anybody would call rather revealing photographs of women, hermaphrodites and other living things. Flynt thinks Hustler is okay. He thinks SOF is obscene. To prove it, he printed and mass distributed a photograph lifted from SOF. It was rather revealing itself.

It was a close-up of an African with a hole the size of a subway tunnel where the left half of his forehead should have been. He was identified as a Rhodesian assassinated by terrorists.

If you missed the picture you're still not too late. You can buy a wall poster of it for $2.95 through the magazine. If $2.95 is too rich for your blood, you can get "Nazi Secret Weapon Art Posters" at two bucks even.

YOU CAN buy a lot of other things advertised in the magazine, too. Your everyday guns, your knives, your kits to turn your AR-15 rifle into a full-automatic weapon, your blow guns, your copies of How To Kill, Volumes 1, 2 and 3, your various implements of destruction comprise most of the advertis-

In the classified section of the June issue you will find something called Loompanics from Mason, Mich., offering to the public information on the location of uninhabited islands. Loompanics asks the musical question, "Need a place to hide out? Or a quiet staging area for clandestine operations?"

It's all enough to give Lee Harvey Oswald a wet dream, but surprisingly, Brown reports no trouble from the government.

"Other than the fact that they've questioned me about recruiting," said Brown, 46. He is talking about mercenaries. "We print information, we do not recruit. I know what the law is and I follow it."

THE EDITORIAL content of the magazine isn't anywhere near as lurid as the advertisements. In the June issue, for instance, a story appears that may interest you even if killing isn't your hobby. It's about contingents of the U.S. armed forces who, equipped with captured Soviet equipment, duplicate Russian tactics in war games.

Brown says he was in the army — that's the U.S. Army, by the way — during two separate stints, the first in the '50s, the second from December 1967 to 1970. Fourteen months of that second tour were spent in Vietnam, including a spell as captain of a Special Forces "A Team," or 12-man operational

He got out, he says, because is he isn't "a peacetime soldier," although he is now a lieutenant colonel, both in the Army Reserve and in the staff box in the magazine.

HE HAS never worked as a mercenary himself. but as for the future, "one never knows.

"I've been involved in some anti-Castro operations. Also, in 1966 I was what I would call a peripheral observer of an attempted invasion of Halti: But I wasn't paid."

He defines the magazine's view as "militant conservative." And that, if you were curious, means "we get out and do, if you would.

"Two people on the staff I would characterize as people who go and do" are — or were — George Bacon and Mike Echanis. Bacon was killed in Angola. Echanis was killed in Nicaragua.

Brown didn't say what side they happened to be

Tips for homeowners

My brother has joined the ranks of the Canton annual little weather vaned cupolas you stick on the homeowners and begun the fight against dirt on upstairs white carpeting.

His house is brand spanking new, with a sea of mud for a front yard and a garage with no drive-

Like most new houses in Canton, it will have little furniture at first

Now the whole point to this column is that there are certain things the new Canton homeowner has to learn about being a Canton homeowner. First of all, you have to read the paper so you know if your garbage pick-up date will be changed or if the Township Board is up to something that might affect your property values.

Now if my brother does not read this paper, he will never know if I'm going to say something terrible about him. He will never know if I've revealed his dark secrets to the neighbors.

So he'd better subscribe, and fast, or there's going to be big trouble.

I recommend that the new Canton homeowner make a point of meeting the neighbors. It is wise to maintain a good relationship with the people next door, especially since the houses are so close together that you can see into their family rooms and they can see into yours.

THE PROBLEM' is compounded by the fact that curtains tend to be expensive and are lower in priority than such things as sod.

Neighbors can be trying at times. They hold large, boisterous family reunions that last until dawn in their backyard. They have large dogs that know Master would rather they use your lawn as a potty instead of their own.

They have children who get to play outside until midnight and family fights that draw the cops.

Of course, neighbors find you just as obnoxious as you find them. Should the situation get out of hand and become what is known as a subdivision war, the only solution is a stockade fence which will give your home the look of Fort Apache.

A serious problem for many a Canton homeowner is how to achieve personal identity when every other house in the block is the exact twin of your

Let's face it. The Tara model is still the Tara model no matter what color you do it in or how

You might try for a little personallity by putting a few junk cars and old refrigerators on the front lawn, but neighbors and township ordinance officers

BUT, WHILE you strive to be an individual, remember always that in unity there is strength. That's where your homeowners' association comes in. The members of this group are your neighbors and your peers. They understand about mortgage payments, flooded basements, crummy builders and property values. They are your friends.

Politicians blanch at the sight of a homeowners' association in the heat of anger. These people are taxpayers and voters. They do not stand by quietly and let local officials mess about with their subdivi-

Homeowners' associations have power and can get things done if they sign enough petitions and yell at enough meetings.

It must be pointed out however, that politically minded individuals are often the leaders of homeowners' associations in the hope that they will pave the way to bigger and better offices.

Keep an eye on these people.

If you have children, you will also find schools to be of major concern. You may choose to become a figurehead in your PTO or PTA. In this case, you will serve on countless committees and run paper drives. Once again, subscribing to the newspaper will come in handy.

REMEMBER TOO, that there are no secrets in subdivisions. If a man drives up to visit Mary Doe every morning after John Doe leaves for work, the neighbors will know.

If the trash bags full of liquor bottles pile up too fast, the neighbors will know.

In all fairness, when the chips are down, neighbors do things like take your kids in an emergency and watch your house when you're on vacation. It all seems to even out. And, should I ever win the lottery, I wouldn't mind being a Canton homeowner

To add insult to injury, his own union charges him with embarassing the membership by making "questionable" calls on the playing field.

Moyer was behind the plate April 27 n a game the Detroit Tigers lost to the Minnesota Twins by a score of 5 to 3. Moyer called Tiger batters Steve Kemp and Ron Leflore out on strikes in the ninth inning and neither slugger was happy about the calls.

Leflore was the most outspoken, claiming that the pitch he was called out on was six inches outside.

"Little League umpires could have called a better game than that," Leflore told the press after the game. Moyer said he asked Leflore about the quote and Leflore claimed he was misquoted.

The National Association of Mail Carriers, informally known as the postal workers' union, issued a five-count charge against "Brother Moyer" with deep regret" in a letter signed last week by Norm Brenberger, vice-president of branch 3126 of the union.

COUNT ONE: "On April 7, 1979, while being a member of this union, you did act as a strikebreaker by umpiring a major league baseball game in Tiger Stadium in Detroit while a strike by major league umpires was in COUNT FIVE: "Your actions as described constitute conduct unbecoming of a member of this union and as a result these charges are being preferred against you in an attempt to expel you from membership in this union.'

Moyer has a chance to rebut the charges at a hearing to be scheduled sometime later in the month. A union official said the 415 members of the union could vote to expel Moyer, modify the punishment or dismiss all

IRONICALLY, Moyer says he supports the umpires who are engaged in a holdout. The no-show umpires are seeking an increase from the present minimum salary of $17,500 to $22,500 and an increase at top scale from the current $40,000 maximum to $60,000. Umpires make $108 per game.

Umpires currently earn an average of $22,500 and are asking for an average salary of $37,000.

"Do I support the umps in their demands?" Moyer asked. "Yes, I do. I think they deserve a little more. I understand they want one weekend off a month to see their families. That sounds fair.

ump, spent 11 years in the minor leagues on the Tigers' farm club, but never made the majors. He later umpined college games for 23 years before getting his first job in a uniform albeit a black one — at Tiger Stadium this spring. He says he bets most of his fellow mail carriers would have jumped at the opportunity to officiate in a major league game no matter how strong their union allegiance.

"It's a funny situation because if I don't do it, they'll get somebody else who will," Moyer said. "Because I'm doing the games I don't think it'll prevent them from reaching their demands or keep the ballplayers from playing the game."

Moyer said that in the six games he's officiated, he's never had to cross a picket line and the umpires holdout hasn't kept the ballplayers, who belong to a union, or the organized grounds crew and concession workers off the

Because the holdout isn't an official strike and because the umpire's association isn't officially a union, Moyer says he doesn't think he violated union propriety and will fight expulsion

But he's growing tired of being called a "scab" and worse. "I don't need that kind of harrass-ment," he said.

And he's even more upset about being labeled as an unprofessional judge of balls, strikes and slides into

"Like ballplayers may make mispires do too."

In March of this year I went to the Canton Township Board to object to the use of the old meeting room at Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads by local groups at odd hours of the night. The board was understanding and cooperative in handling this matter.

However, another incident has occured which I think more taxpayers in the township should be aware of. On the evening of May 2, the Canton Jaycees held a meeting in the old meeting hall at the fire station, during which one of the members picked the telephone up on the fire chief's desk and made a phone call on the emergency number.

This emergency number is recorded in case a person calling in an address is mentioned, but Supervisor Noel Culexcited or gets cut off and the fire- bert has informed me this cannot be fighters cannot understand the address. They simply replay the recording until it can be understood. If an emergency call had been made while the Jaycee was on the emergency line, we would still have received it but it would not have been recorded.

Meetings create fire hazard

A person is understandably excited when their house is on fire and not being able to immediately decipher an address could cost someone his life.

As a solution, one might suggest closing the door to the chief's office. This is not possible because his office is now in a wing of the meeting hall and cannot be separated from the meeting area.

Also, the idea of remodeling has been done at this time due to litigation from a former remodeling plan.

One might suggest a reprimand to the guilty party, but that would be a reaction, not a solution. It could happen again as long as outsiders are in the firehouse. After all, no one thought it would happen the first time.

As for myself, I am a firefighter in Canton. More importantly, I am a taxpayer in Canton and I deserve the same protection as everyone else. It could have been my wife calling to say our house was on fire, or it could have been yours. Please, join with me in voicing your concern to your elected officials for preventing further interference with your fire protection

Yesterday, I turned to my husband. Dan, who was watching "Lou Grant" and asked if he minded if I played my Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge

He asked, "Is that the one that Mark and Mari Jose gave you or the one you borrowed from Piera Smith?" I said, "No, that's the one I bought when I went shopping with our sons, Jason Alan and James Keith." "Well," he replied, "I was waiting to see Bill Bonds and John Kelly soon on the 11 o'clock news so why don't you wait until tomorrow and you can even play your Billy Joel album. The noise won't be er me if I'm at work."

Soon after, our phone rang. It was my friend Shirley Vasquez. She was calling to remind me to be sure and watch Hester Prynne win her "A" on "The Scarlet Letter" Saturday night. I promised I would. phone the other day how we never go been too lazy lately to make arrangements to get together with friends."

The next morning I spent several hours catching up on my correspondence. I wrote to my friends Pat Wiltrout in Ohio, Jayne Brown in Texas and Libby Cowan in Syracuse, New York. Afterwards I called my mom, Jessie Seppala, and asked her "What's new?" She told me that my brother, Richard C. Walls, and his lady friend, Betty Finnegan, were celebrating his latest check from "Creem" magazine. They ordered a pizza. "Must have been some check," I muttered.

Dear brother has been writing for "Creem" for more than 10 years and has even become close friends with Rob Tyner, lead singer for the MC5 (but, then, that's name dropping, isn't it?). I said to my mother, "Did I ever tell you about the time I sat next to Rose Marie in a restaurant in San Francisco?" She answered, "Only 50 or 60 times!"

"Oh, never mind," said I, and hung up to go watch "The Phil Donahue Show." I then picked up my morning Free Press to read columns by Jim Fitzgerald, Nicki McWhirter, and Bob Talbert, whom I love, tolerate, and abhor in that order.

After a leisurely session with a cup of coffee and the morning paper (the very best part of the day) I called my friend, Marilyn Craig to find out if she had set the date for her forthcoming wedding. She said, "No, not yet. But oh, Nancy, my fiance, David Sutton, is just so wonderful that you just wouldn't believe it!" I said I believed it, and hung up because it's hard to take such dewyeyed cheerfulness so early in the morn-

I then quickly made a note to myself to talk to Mrs. MacIssac, my son's nursery school teacher, later in the day about his progress in The Messy Arts

After which I sat down to write this column which I will send to Caroline Price, editor of The Canton Observer. who will give it to Emory Daniels, editor of The Plymouth Observer, who, in turn, will give it to Bridget Lucas to retype. And I will have dropped enough names to last at least a year. Now do you see why I don't use many names in my column?

Meet One of Our Best

DONALD W. HENRION

Once a year, we at Aid Association for Lutherans take a moment to recognize some of our best people. You're looking at one of them now.

What does it take to be one of AAL's best? It takes training, experience and dedication, to see that Lutheran families get the best insurance coverage possible. It takes genuine interest in the fraternal and benevolent activities of local AAL branches. And it takes something more - a special kind of caring embodied in our motto: common concern for human worth.

So take another look at the face above. And join us in recognizing that it belongs to one of AAL's best

"I hope to have the opportunity to call on all the established businesses and welcome the newcomers to the business community," said Mary D.

The other Mary, Mary Tortora, is now office manager. Nine chances out of 10 it will be Mary T. who answers the telephone.

"There are times when we get bogged down with work that I'll be there," said Mrs. Dingeldey, daughterin-law of former township supervisor Phil Dingeldey. But she is anticipating closer contact with members of the C-C and other business people.

BART BERG is chairing the committee which is planning a series of four Town Hall meetings in the fall for Canton residents.

He's endeavoring to keep the topics out of the field of politics and welcomes suggestions of subjects that would be of special interest. Although the series is being promoted by the Chamber of Commerce, Bart says the organization has a responsibilty to all residents of the community as well as those who own businesses.

CONGRATULATIONS to Lorene Vives of Kingsbridge in Canton for earning best of show award for her watercolor "Spray."

The Three Cities Art Club juried show closed shop last Saturday afternoon. It attracted a steady flow of visitors during the week.

David Lamb, another Cantonite, received first place in the oil category for his "Ilseford Harbor." David's meticulous paintings always are a joy. He has had no formal training in painting. He started with oils when he was 14. He is now 36 and entered his tirst show just a few years ago. He has won ribbons in every show he has entered since that time.

David has tried acrylics but does not feel at home in that medium. His pen and ink drawings have been confined mostly to sketches of family pets.

He works for a chemical company and painting is "just a hobby," along with gardening and designing a special cactus garden. A trip to Maine last fall was responsible for subject matter in his three entries in the spring show -the harbor scene, the ocean, and an old

He is the son of Harold and Catherine Lamb of Ford Road in Canton and is the only artist in the family. Some of his paintings are in the Eden Gallery on Spring Street in the Old Village section of Plymouth.

IF YOU'RE OVER at Harvard Square you can see the prize-winning dioramas that are the work of three boys from Pioneer Middle School. They now are on display in the Blue Max. Max Bell, owner of the shop, is proud of

"I get more pleasure out of showing kids how to work on models than I do working with adults who have been making them for years," said Max.

First place diorama is a World War II battle scene by Ashley Long. Larry Janiga earned second place honors for his Patton tank. Third place went to Jim Banricko for his field scene with two tanks.

KATHY AND GARY Gavioli of Proctor Road in Canton went to Bermuda during their Easter vacation.

They sailed from New York aboard Home Lines luxury liner, the S.S. Doric. They spent a week on the Doric which docked in Bermuda waters for 31/2 days. While they were there, the ship served as their hotel.

CANTON SENIOR citizens' follies last weekend was a huge success. Only casualty was Laura Setts who collapsed after the show.

She is resting comfortably in St. Mary Hospital, Livonia. Although she is not up to having visitors, cards would be welcome. On the wall, by her bed, is Page 3A of the Monday Observer - a full page of pictures of the follies.

Buddha's birthday is celebrated by Koreans

Korean Buddhists from as far away as Kentucky gathered in Plymouth May 3 to celebrate Buddha's birthday. They met at 761 S. Harvey Street, the Zen Meditation Center of Michigan, which is headed by the Rev. Sak Wha Seo.

Accordion-pleated paper lanterns were strung in front of the temple and in the side yard. Each had a slip of paper with the names of a family or an individual who belongs to the temple.

The actual celebration started at 6 p.m. with the lighting of the candles in the lanterns. It continued until 6 a.m. the following morning.

The gentle, soft spoken Koreans explained that Buddha's birthday was similar to Christmas Day. Instead of the Merry Christmas greeting, they say Seoga moni Bul. The first two words are Buddha's name in Indian and the third is his name in Korean.

The altar was colorfully lighted with capiz shell lamps which were a cherry red. A guilded Buddha sat on red cushions in front of a gilded

Lighted candles, flowers, fruit and food were on the table below. A lower table held a large bowl of rice cake, a basket of wooden beads and

Among the guests were Cho Nyeong Hyun and his brother, Cho Bong Wan, who had come from Korea only a few months ago. Both spoke English well and served as interpreters, as did some of the children and Cho Young How.

Although there was a crowd of people in the temple — babies to senior citizens — all was very subdued. It was a quiet happiness with very well behaved children.

Shoes were removed at the side door and were put on only to go outdoors to check the names on the lanterns. These were in brush writing as was the name of the temple, beside the front door, Sun Guk Sa, it was explained, was the English pronunciation.

The altar was ablaze with color - red cushions, red capiz shell lamps, flowers, fruit and the gold Buddha. (Story and pictures by Elinor Graham)

The Rev. Suk Wha Seo, in gray robe and brown over-wrap, presided.

Jeon Soon Yea of Kentucky, Sam Yea Im of Plymouth, and Bae Hea Im of Farmington Hills awaited 6 p.m. when the celebration would begin.

The children were excited but models of good behavior.

More than 40 persons attended the 90th birthday party of Zella Collins Monday evening in the main dining room of the Mayflower Hotel. The celebration was arranged by Minerva Chaiken of Minerva's Dunnings for her employee who probably is the oldest purchaser and retailer of women's lingerie in the country.

Representatives from three lingerie manufacturers, Bernard Grant from Kayser, Charles Cady from Katz, and Marshall Hecht from Globe Model, were on hand to honor their favorite purchasing agent. The profesion of white and yellow daisies that decorated the tables were a gift from the

AMONG THE guests were Morris Glestein, manager of Minerva's, the sales staff from the Forest Avenue store, and Beulah Brady, Winnifred Crow and Carol Suidia from Minera's Union Lake store.

Bernard Grant presented three letters to Mrs. Collins. One was from U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, congratulating her Women's and Children's Appared Assos on her 90th birthday; the second was from State, Rep. Roy Smith who is proposing a resolution to the legislature to business for more than 50 years. She honor Mrs. Collins as one of the oldest boundaries of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district, the Plymouth Registered Nurses Association is ready and available for action.

Twenty-one members recently were certified by the American Red Cross in disaster nursing. Less than one week after they completed the classes, the nurses were called upon to serve in Northville and Farmington Hills school shelters during the ice storm.

Train wrecks, fires, floods, tornadoes, air crashes - any disaster situation that occurs - there is a specially trained corps of nurses at hand to help cope with the emergency.

Once the association is notified of the need, Joy Wall and Pat Lawrenz will take over with their emergency call list. Chairing the program are Jan Greene and Lois Kilish.

MEMBERS OF THE Plymouth Registered Nurses Association will gather Monday, May 21 to celebrate the 20th anniversary of their organization.

Honored guests at the banquet in Tom Turner and Mrs. Turner, Public Health Officer Dr. Lee Feldkamp and Mrs. Feldkamp. Guest speaker will be Helen Millen RN, director of Kenny-Michigan Rehabilitation Foundation.

A chronological history of the organization recently was compiled by historians Margaret Hall and Ardith Eidson. This will be displayed for the first time at the banquet. The group was formed in 1959 at the request of the Department of Civil Defense and the City of Plymouth. Fortyeight nurses attended the first meeting and 14 members were appointed to a committee to establish guidelines.

In the event of a disaster within the Membership was open to registered nurses living in the local school district. Their purpose was to serve the community as volunteers in any community emergency medical situation.

> During the past year, members have toured area medical facilities, attended lectures dealing with new medical techniques, and an all-day seminar on rehabilitation.

The group meets the first Monday of September, November, January, March and May at 7 p.m. in Plymouth Township Hall, Ann Arbor Road east of Mill Street. Anyone interested in joining the association can call June Somlyo, president, 459-9124.

successful garage sale

It's that time of the year again when you get that Spring Clean-up bug and begin tossing unwanted items out of the house and into the garage. Into the garage! What a good idea for having a garage sale since they're out there anyway!!

Your hometown newspaper can help you to organize some important details that are necessary in having a profitable and successful sale. Here are a few timely tips we've put together for YOU!

WHAT TO SELL:

Anything that still has usability and some value is a good garage sale item. Search both high and low, you'd be surprised at how many articles you will have; old furniture, toys, musical instruments, sewing machines, garden tools and the like.

ADVERTISING:

Obviously the best way to advertise your sales is in the Observer & Eccentric classified advertising section. These ads are read avidly by people looking for bargains. Your ad can be fairly short and still effective by listing the most appealing items separately and then grouping others in categories, such as furniture, clothes, toys, antiques, etc. Of course you will want to place signs in and around the neighborhood—possibly in schools, supermarkets, beauty shops, etc.

PRICING:

Start by listing all items by category on an inventory sheet

Antiques for example, should be listed separately from other items. Clothing should be priced at approximately one-eighth the original cost. Any clothing ten to fifteen years old may have nostalgic appeal and can be priced slightly higher. It might even be placed in the antiques category.

Electrical appliances that work should bring onefourth the original cost. Most prices on articles will be influenced by their condition.

You might want to try color coding your items for easy price recognition.

DOUBLE SALE:

Many people have found it worthwhile to combine their garage sale with that of a friend or neighbor. This saves money on costs of advertising and provides a helpful hand in arranging items, pricing them, dealing with customers, besides providing welcome companionship.

Don't forget to keep separate inventories and different price color coding. Another advantage is a more impressive array of merchandise.

LENGTH OF SALE:

The most productive sales are those that run at least three days. Tests have revealed that Thursday is the best day to advertise, the logical start of a sale would be Friday. This gives you the entire weekend in which to conduct your business.

After a day or two the word will get around and supplement your advertising efforts.

When the most attractive items are gone, you may wish to reconsider and change prices on those articles which have been slow to move.

SETTING UP YOUR SALE:

A few days before your sale go to the bank and get plenty of small bills and various size coins. Set up a headquarters table, here you will keep your change, your adding machine, your inventory lists. Always have someone in attendance. You may want to set up a hat and coat rack and a mirror for use by those who may want to try on garments. Arrange sale items in neat rows and allow plenty of walking room between displays.

DON'T HESITATE TO ASK ADVICE:

Your hometown classified advertising department is always ready to advise you on your garage sale. So, never hesitate to ask one of our friendly ad takers so that your message will have maximum impact on the readers!
