HUD complex developer sues over denial

By DARLENE STINSON

A firm which owns land near the Pickwick subdivision is seeking an order in Wayne County Circuit Court that would force township approval of a low-income apartment complex on the site.

The lawsuit, filed by Forest City, Inc. charges that the Canton board denied site plans for the complex last July "to exclude persons of low and moderate income and minority group members from Canton."

The suit maintains that an alleged violation of the Pickwick Planned Unit Development (PUD) agreement had been used by the township board as an excuse to deny the site plans.

A show cause hearing on Forest City's request for court-ordered site plan approval was held late Friday afternoon before Wayne County Circuit Judge John Kirwan.

Canton attorney Bert Burgoyne would only say that township officials were not surprised the litigation had been filed.

"We feel we have a reasonably sound legal position," Burgoyne said.

Township Supervisor Noel Culbert said Canton would appeal the decision if Kirwan rules in favor of Forest City. He said an appeal could delay construction of the complex for years.

TOWNSHIP BOARD members promised irate Pickwick residents last spring that they would do everything possible to stop construction of the low-income apartment complex proposed for the 15-acre parcel south of Warren and east of Lilley.

They based their unanimous decision on the premise that the Pickwick PUD agreement had been broken. Single-family homes in the development were built before apartments, contrary to the sequence of construction outlined in the agreement.

Board members said the proper use of the land therefore reverted to single-family residential — the parcel's zoning before the 1971 PUD agreement was signed. The land was no longer appropriate for apartment construction, they said.

But in their brief to the court, Forest City attorneys maintain that the township never objected to the manner in which the Pickwick subdivision was built until low-income apartments were proposed for the multiple-zoned parcel.

They said Forest City purchased the land from the subdivision's original developer in 1971 with the understanding that the land was zoned for apartment use.

Amurcon Corp., a Southfield-based development firm, subsequently agreed to purchase the land with the stipulation that the zoning remain multiple.

Amurcon proposed building the Pickwick apartment complex after receiving approval for federally subsidized rent from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Forest City attorneys said in their brief that the Cleveland-based firm will suffer "immediate and irreparable injury" if Judge Kirwan does not order Canton Township to approve the apartment site plans.

HUD's commitment for rental assistance expires Friday.

Ronald Ratner, vice president of Forest City, said financial damages are not being sought from Canton Township at this time. He said Amurcon chose not to participate in the lawsuit.

CANTON SUPERVISOR Culbert expressed concern over the short notice township officials received of the hearing scheduled before Judge Kirwan on Friday.

A practicing attorney, Culbert said the short notice could hamper the ability of township lawyers to prepare for the hearing.

Treasurer Jim Donahue and Trustee Stephen Larson were served with court summons late Wednesday night. Other township board members did not receive their summons until Thursday.

According to Culbert, defendants in a lawsuit are usually notified of an initial hearing at least four days in advance.

"This is a serious case, and that's dirty pool," he said. "We were expecting the lawsuit. But I didn't expect a one-day notice."

Amurcon — the developer of the proposed Pickwick apartments — is building another low-income apartment complex near Joy and Canton Center. The former township board approved site plans for that complex, which is under construction in the Forest Trails PUD.

Township officials maintain that they were unaware of HUD-authorized rent subsidies for the Forest Trails complex and the proposed Pickwick project until last spring.

Township grant coordinator Terry Carroll Canton said Canton holds 12 times the number of subsidized rental units than exists in surrounding communities.

Learning with eyes of handicapped

By TERI BANAS

Today classroom teachers are finding more children who are handicapped among their students than ever before.

The trend to mainstream — placing handicapped students in regular classrooms — has increased in the past five years. But administrators are finding it's not enough that the students themselves are prepared.

In the Plymouth-Canton School District last week the mainstreaming spotlight was on the regular classroom teachers at a seminar headed by Dr. Edward Polak, a Canadian professional consultant on children with learning disabilities.

"Mainstreaming is not an impossible task — but it is a difficult one," he said. "If school boards help to improve teachers' skills to help these kids, then it could work."

It would be "irresponsible" for teachers to accept handicapped students in their classrooms unless they received this instruction, he added.

According to Dr. Edwin Page, Plymouth-Canton's director of special education programs, mainstreaming has become a stronger issue since federal legislation was passed five years ago requiring "the least restrictive education" available to handicapped children.

"UP UNTIL 1971 the philosophy was — get the children out into special classes," he said.

But a regular classroom setting is not the only answer for a handicapped student unless he or she could benefit from it, he said.

One district elementary schoolteacher said mainstreaming was a "worthwhile experience."

She said it taught her students about compassion and tolerance after a fourth-grader with a learning impairment was brought into her class for half the day.

But six years ago, the same teacher felt differently about it, although the handicapped child involved was "exceptionally bright" and caught on to instruction.

"I was told a deaf youngster was coming into my class and he had to sit in the front row. So I spent most of the day standing right in front of him. It was terribly difficult on me and the other 26 children."

THE SEMINAR began with a focus on children with learning disabilities.

This is a broad category that includes children who can't learn because of various neurological problems in processing information. Often a child's frustration is so great he tunes out or becomes a discipline problem.

Polak attempted to recreate this feeling in teachers by directing them in an exercise that appeared simple. The frustration broke out in groans and then laughter when teachers attempted to write their names while twirling one foot.

"ALMOST ALL REGULAR classroom teachers here are getting more kids with such special needs," Polak said.

"It's a difficult task. The teacher must identify the uniqueness of each student and accommodate it. It doesn't mean they'll be successful in every case but it can be done by facilitating the right atmosphere in the classroom."

The right atmosphere, he said, has to be nurtured by preparing the students and teachers.

"Mainstreaming doesn't mean return to the regular classroom, but it means the student should be placed in the least restrictive setting where he can experience a certain measure of success every day."

According to Page, handicapped children fall into two settings in Plymouth-Canton Schools. There are those who are in self-contained classrooms fulltime and those who spend part of the day in special class and the rest in the regular classroom.

Last year some 1,224 children in the district were classified as handicapped but only 120 spent the entire day in a self-contained class.

Asked how regular classroom teachers responded to the mainstreaming of handicapped children, Page said, "It was excellent."

"Ironically, however, we're seeing some reluctance on the part of the special education staff to give up these children."

TO HELP HANDICAPPED children in a regular classroom, Polak suggested several tips to teachers:

- Individualize the program — "Although I'm tired of hearing the word — individualize." For example, all children should not be required to perform the same amount of work before they understand the presented concept, he said.

- Children should not be stigmatized for making mistakes. "Children should be allowed to make mistakes but shouldn't be allowed to fail."

- "The worst thing a teacher could be is boring," he said. Polak suggests teachers strive for a "interesting, mysterious and even provocative" approach to any subject.

Trustees fill 2 ZBA seats

Two men who are active in their subdivision homeowner associations have been appointed to three-year terms on the Canton Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

The appointments of Tom Stillings and Jim Kronberg were made by the township board of trustees with 6-1 votes for each new ZBA member. Trustee Eugene Daley cast the sole no vote.

The appointments followed a clash of opinions between board members at last Thursday's special meeting.

Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert originally recommended the re-appointment of the two ZBA members now holding the seats, Cathy Prince and Gary Sands.

Trustee Robert Greenstein recommended Stillings and Kronberg saying "it's about time we get some table pounders."

Greenstein said he did not have particular objections to the voting records of Ms. Prince and Sands, but said he believed his nominees would be better able to convince other ZBA members to share their stands.

According to Greenstein, the majority of ZBA members (the others are Eugene Daley, Robert Padgett and William Gilmore) usually take a pro-growth position. The trustee said Ms. Prince and Sands tended to make the opposing votes on issues but were not convincing enough to sway the other ZBA members to their point of view.

After several township board votes were taken, Stillings and Kronberg won the appointments.

Stillings is president of the Pickwick subdivision homeowners' association. He was a key figure in the subdivision's fight to prevent a HUD-financed, rent-subsidized apartment complex from being built close to Pickwick.

Kronberg is a member of the Westbrook Manor homeowners' association. He has been active in a drive to establish a neighborhood watch crime prevention program in his subdivision.

W-W schools offer adult ed

"From A to Z, from antiques to yoga, we offer them in Westland."

That could be the slogan of the Wayne-Westland Continuing Education program, according to Pam Ruppel, who works on the staff of Dr. James Lombard, principal of continuing education.

Between 800 and 900 students are expected to begin adult education classes this week, working towards high school completion certificates. A large number of students will begin "leisure time" courses the first week in October.

Students will range in age from six months on up...and up.

The six-monthers will be offered swimming classes; older students will have some 300 courses to choose from.

A group of at least 150 residents, mostly senior citizens, will be taking an active part in Westland's VIP (Very Important Person) program, in which older volunteers tutor children. Another 150 VI-ers will take a less active part.

CONTINUING EDUCATION registrations are up this year from last year's 700, reports director Bill Richardson. And there is still time for more to register.

Every effort is being made to ensure that everyone has an opportunity to finish high school. Classes are free and aren't restricted to Wayne-Westland residents. Classes are offered during the day at Nankin Mills, 33300 Cowan, and four nights a week at Wayne Memorial High School, Glenwood and Fourth.

New this year will be Saturday classes at both locations. These will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"We've had a lot of calls on this," said Ms. Ruppel, who pointed out that veterans who attend these classes may be reimbursed by the Veterans Administration for completing their educations.

Having a child or two is no excuse for not completing high school. Babysitting services are offered for the daytime sessions. There is a charge for this, but the children learn, too, according to Ms. Ruppel. They enjoy visiting the Nature Center there.

Interested persons may register through the end of this week by calling 422-8566.

Short Takes

Mascot Mike

Mike Mlot's favorite football team is the Pittsburgh Steelers. But on Sunday, Sept. 30, the 9-year-old will be decked out as a lion to cheer on the home team at the Silverdome. Mike, a fourth grader at Isbister Elementary School, was selected as a mascot for the Detroit Lions' game against the Minnesota Vikings in a contest sponsored by Crowley Department Stores. Mike simply filled out a card and dropped it into a box at the Westland Shopping Center store. As mascot, Mike will ride a cart around the stadium, sit on the players' bench and visit the Lions' locker room. His dad, Michael Mlot Sr., says his son is an avid football fan. He even plays with the Plymouth Steelers.

Getting together

Canton Township has agreed to join a coalition of governments being formed in western Wayne County. Township grant coordinator Terry Carroll recommended joining the group for the purpose of making joint grant applications and administering programs that are financed by grants. He said more money can be used for running programs for senior citizens and other groups if the programs are regionalized and administrative costs are cut down. The Western Wayne County Coalition of Local Governments has asked several communities to join, including Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Redford and Northville.

Avoiding the inevitable

Members of the Canton Township Board of Trustees were strangely hard to find last Thursday, as process servers and reporters alike discovered. The process servers were attempting to deliver summonses calling the officials to a court hearing on Friday. Clerk John Flodin was watching the Tonight Show shortly after midnight when a knock came at the door. Flodin knew something was up, so his wife answered the door and told the process server her husband was out getting drunk. She had one of their larger German shepherds to back her up. Supervisor Noel Culbert was out of his office all day. Trustee Steve Larson didn't have time to hide. The server came to his door and thrust what was purported to be "township stuff" in his hands. Trustee Robert Greenstein was available in his office, declaring that it was silly to hide from the process server, but was not served. Flodin said he just "wanted to give them a hard time."

CEP bands merge fund-raising booster groups

Parents of various bands in Plymouth-Canton have joined to form a single booster organization.

The newly-formed PCEP Band Boosters is a merger of the marching band boosters and parents of all bands at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (PCEP), including the symphony band.

The purpose of the new group is to have a single organization to support all the bands at the high schools in time of need.

Jerry Hotchkin, president, reports that there still is more than $1,500 owed on the new marching band competition uniforms.

To raise money for the uniforms and to defray expenses for the upcoming symphony band trip, the group is planning to hold combined money-raising events.

That decision was made at a recent meeting of band parents in the band room at Plymouth Canton High School.

Another meeting for all interested band parents will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Canton Phase III band room. Discussed will be several ideas for money-raising events in the near future.

ONE OF THE events will be a tag sale for all CEP bands on Nov. 3.

The tag sale, chaired by Doris Rorabacher, will be an all-day, all community event aimed at raising more than $10,000 through the sale of decal-type tags.

Residents and businesses in the Plymouth-Canton area will be canvassed. Checks for donations, which are tax deductible, should be made payable to PCEP Bands.

Besides the balance due on the marching band uniforms, the boosters club also hopes to defray costs of about $450 per person ($350 air fare plus rooms and meals) for the symphony band's trip to California in January.

The group would like to earn enough to deduct $100 from each student's individual cost.

Part of this cost will be raised by the boosters' second annual dinner dance to be held in February. The club also hopes service organizations will make donations to support the bands.

THE NEW competition-type blouses, flags for colorguards, and hats were purchased strictly for competition events.

Therefore, at this time, no date has been set to use the new uniforms at any home performances at the CEP.

But for those who didn't see the marching band perform at the Sept. 15

MSU Band Day, the outfits are on display at Lee Hoesy's Health Shoppe, 930 W. Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth, next to the Gourmet Gallerie.

Residents also are invited and encouraged to attend any of the following competitions: Saturday, Oct. 6, Marching Bands of America Invitational, Toledo University Stadium; Saturday, Oct. 13, Durand Invitational at Durand High School; and Saturday, Oct. 20, the Bridgeport Invitational at Bridgeport High School.

Spectator tickets for the above competitions may be obtained from Hoesy's Health Shoppe, or from any PCEP Marching Band student within the next week. Seats are reserved and prices range from $2 to $4.

THE 82-MEMBER PCEP Symphony Band and chaperones will leave Detroit Metropolitan Airport on Jan. 18 for a whirlwind trip to San Jose. The band will return Jan. 21.

The musicians have been invited to perform at the Western Invitational Band Clinic held in the San Jose Convention Center on Jan. 19. The trip also will include two days of sight-seeing.

Jim Griffith, band director, still is hoping to find housing in the San Jose area to defray some of the costs per individual.

Fair promotes more empathy

It was a fair exchange.

In a festive atmosphere at Holy Cross Lutheran Church of Westland, those who are institutionalized and those who are in the community had a chance to get acquainted and touch on each other's common humanity.

The occasion was a carnival sponsored by the church and several service groups for about 160 residents of the Northville Residential Training Center, an institution that is working on finding community homes for its retarded people.

The Rev. Richard Schultz, Holy Cross pastor, and Mary Rose Cartwright, a member of the congregation, worked with the training center's Volunteer Advisory Board to set up the carnival.

Joining in to supply equipment, balloons, food and volunteers were groups like Rotary, the Knights of Columbus, the Farmington Senior Citizen Center, the UAW Community Action Program, Michigan Bell Parent Group, and the NRTC parent group.

The center residents who arrived by bus had plenty of hot dogs, popcorn, chips, potato salad and McDonald's orange drink to enjoy.

They also received balloons and participated in assorted games, helped along by volunteers.

And before the busy afternoon was over, there was just a bit more understanding and recognition of individuality than there had been before.

James K. Hunt, director of the training center on W. Seven Mile in Northville, said the carnival was planned specifically to give the residents and community "a chance to meet and mingle in an informal but secure setting."

This objective has become imperative because of the mandate from the Michigan Department of Mental Health to place institutionalized retarded in community settings.

"It is important that our residents have experience and exposure in the community in order to learn appropriate social behavior," he said. He added then that the situation represents a two-way street and that there is a need for those in the community to meet retarded so that fears are allayed through personal encounters.

That's the kind of thing that began to happen at the carnival.

Denise Rosinski, a center resident, had fun bowling. The occasion also included chances to mingle and plenty of food for all.

Jacobson's

Judges issue plan for court merger

By TOM LONERGAN

The principal judges favoring Wayne County Circuit Court reorganization don't want the restructuring tied to future state funding.

But with Gov. William Milliken as adamant about the court reorganization as he is on reorganizing Wayne County government, it's unlikely $8.5 million in state funds will be released — at least until the Michigan Legislature approves the merger of the county circuit and Detroit Recorders court.

The merger was reviewed last week at a public hearing before the Wayne County Board of Commissioners special subcommittee on court reorganization.

BOTH CHIEF Circuit Judge Richard Dunn and Chief Recorders Court Judge Samuel Gardner support a plan that will add six new judges to an expanded, state-funded Wayne County Circuit Court. The plan also is backed by Milliken, the Michigan Supreme Court and the State Bar Association.

The six new judges would join the existing 23 Recorders Court and 35 Circuit Court judges.

The new court would hear both criminal and civil cases, as circuit court does at present. Recorders court now hears only felonies in the city, while circuit court hears civil cases involving $10,000 or more and all felonies outside Detroit. The merged court's criminal jurisdiction would be the entire county.

The merger proposes that circuit judges be elected from three election districts in the county. Twenty-three judges would be elected from a Detroit-only district. The same number would be elected from the out-county, and 18 judges would be elected county-wide.

The state supreme court may review the legality of the plan, a compromise reached between Detroit and Wayne circuit judges earlier this year.

RECORDERS Court judges want electoral districts that will insure racial equality and not dilute the power of the black voting bloc in Detroit. Fifteen of the 23 Recorders judges are black compared with two of the 35 circuit judges.

"The history of election of black judges to Wayne County Circuit Court is dismal," Gardner said last week.

"There has never been a black lawyer elected to a county-wide judgeship." The two black judges now on the circuit bench were appointed before they ran for election.

Gardner and Judge Dunn opposed a separate Detroit circuit court, which would require two separate counties: Splitting the county in two has been proposed by State Rep. Thomas Brown, D-Westland.

Splitting the counties would create a black court system surrounded by a white court, Gardner said.

"A court has to appear to be fair," he said. "With that kind of situation, we'd have a court system that does not look fair. It would look like a segregated court system."

Dunn said he was "dead set against" two counties. "If we are to avoid polarization, there has to be merger (of the county and city court)."

Estimating that court facilities would cost a new county of western and downriver suburbs up to $200 million, Dunn asked: "You tell me, where are people in the out-county area going to come up with those kinds of funds?"

Circuit Court has a two-year backlog of civil cases, which merger proponents say could be eliminated with an expanded court. But Dunn said his court has "made no study on efficiency of a merger."

COMMON PLEAS court officials and County Clerk James Killen opposed court reorganization.

It's not known if common pleas court would keep its countywide jurisdiction since it would be reorganized as a district court in Detroit.

And Killen, who is also circuit court clerk, would lose some power if court clerk employees in his office become employees of the state as proposed.

"We have added judges here, and the backlog stays essentially the same," Killen said last week. "We don't need any more judges."

The common pleas court, which hears both city and out-county civil suits under $10,000 and landlord-tenant cases, would be abolished.

Part of its district court responsibilities would include taking over the city traffic court and its massive backlog of unpaid parking tickets. Whether the new court would continue to have county-wide jurisdiction on small civil cases and landlord-tenant matters is up to the Michigan Legislature.

W-W offers adult ed classes

THERE ARE BASIC education classes for adults who have had very little or no formal schooling. There is a class for those who don't speak English, called English as a Second Language, and also a class entitled "Preparing for Citizenship."

Again, these are offered both day-times and evenings.

Classes run 15 weeks and most run two hours each.

Brochures listing the leisure-time classes went out at the end of August to all in Westland, and to residents of other areas who have asked to be put on the mailing list. In the latter case, there is no extra charge for these classes.

If a Westland resident did not receive a brochure, Mrs. Ruppel suggests checking first with the mail carrier, then with the Post Office, and finally with the continuing education offices, 595-2246.

Although 300 courses are offered, not all will be given, because in some cases there won't be sufficient registration. But the aim is to please, and registrations are on a first-come, first-served basis.

One which will be quickly filled will be a course in data processing. Class size is limited to eight. For those who want to take part in a physical fitness class, there should be room. Up to 60 persons can be taught to bend and stretch at the same time.

The price of most courses ranges between $12 and $15, reports Ms. Ruppel. The most expensive are pilot ground school training at $60 and driver's education at $75.

Some classes are free, such as one in cardiopulmonary resuscitation. The Red Cross also has free classes.

The deadline for mail-in registrations has now passed, but prospective students may still register from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday through Oct. 4 at Wayne Memorial High School. Registration must be in person.

A VIP ORIENTATION program will be held at Nankin Mills at 10 a.m., Thursday, Sept. 27. This program was begun three years ago in Washington School with five volunteers.

Rep. Law urges residents to oppose proposed tax bill

State Rep. Robert Law, R-Livonia-Westland, announced in Plymouth last week he is organizing an effort to oppose a special tax bill recently introduced into the Michigan Legislature.

Law, speaking to a citizens gathering at Allen Elementary School, strongly opposed House Bill 4712 which would put a 10-cent tax on all checks and other negotiable instruments cashed in the state.

The law would not only be unwise, said Law, but extremely hard to justify to the public in light of the Headlee tax limitation amendment and the inflationary pressures citizens are feeling today.

The program to defeat the tax will include notification of all major groups in western Wayne County, said Law, to encourage a letter writing campaign to Gov. Milliken, House Speaker Bobby Crim (the bill's sponsor), Taxation Chairman George Montgomery and area legislators, asking them to oppose the bill.

Representative Montgomery, a 25-year member of the Legislature, introduced HB 4712. Because of Montgomery's stature, Law said, the bill may have a better chance of passage than it otherwise would.

Efforts of local residents, Law added, could be very fruitful in an attempt to defeat the bill.

With that hope, the lawmaker has been speaking to numerous groups in western Wayne County to alert them of the problems entailed in the bill and the impact it would have on the economy.

LAW EMPHASIZED that senior citizens and middle-income families would suffer the most if the Legislature enacted the proposed 10-cent tax.

These groups are the only ones which transact most of their business by check and negotiable instruments, he said, and would be the ones to pay heavily if the measure passed.

Supporters say the tax would provide funding for home heating assistance programs. Law said it will generate close to $150-$175 million in tax revenues for the state.

"While I strongly support the home heating assistance program and will work to fund it in the current fiscal year, I don't believe we need to pass a tax-raising $175 million to fund a program which only cost the state $35 million last year."

Law urges residents to write Gov. Milliken at the Capitol Building, Lansing 48909, as well as other legislative leaders in Lansing.

The Stroller Close to home

By W. W. EDGAR

Now that the leaves are starting to turn and the stage is being set for Mother Nature's annual color show, scarcely a day passes that The Stroller's mail box isn't filled with all sorts of literature telling where to go to best enjoy the scenery.

Through the years he has traveled up and down the state to take in the color show. He has been up to Copper Harbor and up through the Cadillac area. The sights were wonderful. It was the same when he ventured down through the Irish Hills. And one of his real surprises was a short trip just west of Port Huron to an area called "The Canyon" that is a treat to see at this time of year.

As he traveled these areas he recalled the many fine fall scenes he had enjoyed in his younger days in the foothills of the mountains of Pennsylvania, along such places as the Tomahawk and Susquehanna Trails.

But strangely, as he pages through the latest books and tour pamphlets, he can find no reference to one of the most colorful of all sights in the fall and it is only an hour or two from home.

He has been looking for some reference to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University stadiums that offer the best one-day color shows of the entire season.

Anyone who ever has sat in the Wolverine sports arena on Band Day, or any other football Saturday, could never forget the sight.

Just imagine more than 100,000 persons filling every seat in the stadium and the entire playing field filled with high school bands from all sections of the state, each band with different high school colors and you get some idea of the multi-color show. It is a sight to behold.

And what happens in Ann Arbor Michigan is duplicated to a lesser degree at Michigan State where the stadium seats only slightly more than 70,000. But the Spartan show is a worthy one, even though it is smaller in numbers.

Perhaps The Stroller is a 'softie' when it comes to such things but is almost moved to tears of joy when he sits in the press box at Michigan and looks down on the gathering of the old-time alumni when the colorful U-M band concludes its pre-game program and then lines up to play the alma mater.

It is an unforgettable sight when he looks down on the men and women of the alumni singing "The Yellow and Blue." Some are the midst of tears. Others are overjoyed, but they twirl their colorful banners and the stands take on colors in the bright sun that no artists could paint.

The Stroller has been looking on this scene for years and it seems more colorful each year. Even though his home is in the edge of a wooded area where he can enjoy Mother Nature's fall show, he still looks upon the football stadium shows as the best.

And the strange part of it is the fact that these color shows are not mentioned in the pamphlets dealing with the color season in Michigan.

Where else could you find 300 bands on the field all playing at the same time? That's what is going to happen on "Band Day" next Saturday at the University of Michigan.

It will be a color show that should be a lasting memory — for it will be the largest the Michigan athletic department ever has scheduled.

And, incidentally, the Slippery Rock team, famed in song and story, will be there, too.

Talk about color — it will be all over the place.

The Flip Side by craig piechura

A swipe at a guttural snipe

Ever wonder how you would react to things in this city if you were a tourist — or worse yet — a conventioning Republican?

If I was a tourist, I'd probably be back home complaining about the rude treatment I received recently at the information desk of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Vacationing last week at home, I decided to view a free silent film one afternoon at the art institute in Detroit.

The free film that week was a 1927 silent movie by F.W. Murnau called "Nosferatu" that has deservedly been deemed a classic. Nosferatu is a vampire who also goes by the name Dracula and spends his days sleeping in Transylvanian dirt.

On the Thursday I went to see the film, an art history class was using the same auditorium in which the films are shown. Thinking the movie would be shown in another room, I asked a lady at the information desk where "Nosferatu" was showing.

The lady didn't understand my request and asked me to repeat my query. I again asked her where the movie "Nosferatu" was showing. Again, she gave me a puzzled look.

She questioned another employee nearby who told her it was a German film that would be shown the next day and during the weekend but not that day due to the class.

EVEN THOUGH the film was scheduled to be shown that day, I wouldn't have minded the minor inconvenience if the uninformed information lady would have left it at that.

But, NOOOO, as John Belushi would say. This woman lashed out at me instead.

"Oh, it's a German film," she said. "Well, no wonder I couldn't understand him. He pronounced it like it was just another American word. If he had given it a German pronunciation I might have known what he was talking about."

Well, Excuse me! There I stood listening to this rude patron of the arts talk about me to her friend like I was an invisible untouchable. Granted, I was wearing a promotional T-shirt, but I was on vacation.

Maybe I'm at fault. It's just that I always thought public cultural institutions were open to anybody and not just linguistic experts. However, I noticed the woman never attempted to pronounce the film herself, lest she get her come-uppance from the upper crust.

I didn't dare attend the film theater's Sept. 8 showing of the German film "Kamaradschaft" fearing that my ticket request would be denied because it wasn't guttural enough.

This bugged me for days. Nobody likes to be publicly berated as a cinema slob. Finally, I called Elliot Wilhelm, director of the Institute of Arts Detroit Film Theatre (DFT). I gave him the same pronunciation of the word "Nosferatu" that I gave to the lady at the information desk.

Mr. Wilhelm told me I pronounced the word perfectly. So, "Nyah, nyah" information lady and may the curse of King Tut descend upon your cultured coiffure.

Wilhelm profusely apologized for the treatment I received and explained that the museum employs many volunteers who work for free and are often worth every penny.

"THERE ARE rude people everywhere, but especially in an organization that uses as many volunteers as this one," Wilhelm said. "Art institutes tend to attract that kind of snobbery."

That kind of rudeness would not be tolerated from the people who are employed in the performing arts department, Wilhelm said.

"Ideally, I'd love to control every aspect of the film series," he added.

Understand, I'm not angling for free tickets to the film series as reparation for rudeness. My point is that museums already are too haughty, too high-brow and too intimidating for many. Even if I would've butchered the pronunciation of the movie title, so what?

What makes it worse is that the film series usually is above such arrogance. Movies with mass appeal like "The Godfather," "The Wizard of Oz," Charles Chaplin's "Modern Times" and Walt Disney's "Pinocchio" have played to large crowds.

Films that would never play Detroit movie-houses — such as Ingmar Bergman's "The Seventh Seal" or David Lynch's weird "Eraserhead" — are shown regularly to an appreciative Detroit-area audience. And that's the same audience that film distributors feel can subsist entirely on Clint Eastwood shoot-em-ups and disaster epics.

Under Wilhelm's direction, the series is in its sixth year and is self-sustaining through box office receipts.

Prints shown on weekends are usually in top condition and a benefit performance of "The Deer Hunter" in Southfield last winter paid for the Dolby stereo sound system installed in the DFT's 1,150-seat auditorium. Some of the finest films from around the world are shown for $2, well below commercial box office prices.

I harbor no hard feelings against the DFT, just the information lady, you little guttural snipe.

Daniel's Den

By Emory Daniels

5 words spark doubts in mainstreaming law

The word "mainstreaming" is a two-sided coin for almost all parties involved.

Mainstreaming is a word coined to describe the practice of moving handicapped children from special education classes to the general classroom.

In its extreme form, the student is taken entirely out of the special education classroom and placed fulltime into the general classroom.

But most of the time, mainstreaming involves leaving the student in the special class, with only one or two periods in the regular classroom.

THE GOAL of mainstreaming has been controversial ever since enactment of a federal law requiring it whenever the student will benefit.

Like many other laws, though, the statutory requirement is written in vague, general terms and has been interpreted differently by lawmakers, educational administrators, teachers and parents.

The law requires that students be placed "in the least restrictive environment."

Those five words alone sparked the mainstreaming controversy.

The intent of the law is to insure that all special education students who can function in a regular classroom, should be so placed.

Placement in a general classroom may restrict the child's opportunity to learn and advance, some educators say.

But on the other hand, a student in special education may have advanced to the point where learning opportunities would increase if the student could interact with non-special education students.

The "least restrictive environment," then, could be simply a placement in a regular classroom, while receiving supportive services from specialists.

For another student, the "least restrictive environment" might be a special education class with an hour or so in regular classes. In other cases, "least restrictive" would mean spending the entire day in a special class.

THE MAINSTREAMING requirement of federal law has left some teachers uncomfortable and leary of further implementation.

That's why Plymouth-Canton Community Schools held an inservice training workshop for both special and general teachers last week at Plymouth Canton High.

The classroom teachers face some discomfort because they were not trained in college in the techniques of instructing special education students.

Classroom teachers also feel a primary obligation to all students assigned them and are unwilling to devote too much extra time to the special needs of a handicapped child.

Almost all educators are in agreement that if mainstreaming is to work, the classroom teachers must receive enough training and help so they will feel comfortable in coping with this added challenge. Thus, workshops on the topic are vital.

The special education teachers also have some problems when mainstreaming is instituted. Because of their specialized training, they use their own vocabulary, making communication with classroom teachers difficult.

Another problem is that, like any other specialist, the special education teacher may assume something is general knowledge, and fail to give important tips to the classroom educator.

And special ed teachers also feel the pressure of the mainstreaming requirement. While the goal is a worthy one, a heavy burden is placed on those who must recommend which particular child is ready to interact with students outside the protected environment of a special education classroom.

A SIMILAR dual pressure is placed on administrators who are caught up in the issue of mainstreaming.

On one hand, administrators want special education students, as well as other students, to be given the best possible opportunity for advancement.

But the law requires that decisions on placement be shared with parents, so unilateral decisions are not permitted.

Add to this a law without specific guidelines, and the result is a large challenge to administrators. Administrators must reach agreement with teachers, specialists and parents on what is the "least restrictive environment."

Financial considerations are involved as well. Accelerated mainstreaming can reduce the cost of special education teachers and specialists.

The law does not recognize financial considerations as a motive to speed up or slow down mainstreaming. But, nationwide, the change in federal law has resulted in a decrease in the number of students classified as handicapped.

THE REQUIREMENT is relatively new, as the law was enacted in 1975. So some false starts have been made in mainstreaming attempts.

An early assumption, still held by some, was that the best way to start mainstreaming would be into art, music and physical education classes.

But for many handicapped children, those were probably the worst class they could have taken.

For example, suppose child has perceptual or motor coordination problems. One of the worst places he could be is with about 40 other children, where he is asked to do tumbling exercises, or jumping jacks. Yet the first mainstreaming attempts were often into gym classes where the handicapped child was in an impossible situation.

The decision was made on the basis of expediency because the placement was supposedly less disruptive to others.

Likewise, an art class can be difficult for a student who cannot grasp normal-sized crayons or pencils and does not have the eye coordination to draw a line from one point to another.

BECAUSE OF questionable placements and the financial pressures to reduce the number of special education certified students, many parents have mixed feelings about mainstreaming.

Parents of handicapped students who have the potential to improve and advance towards normalcy tend to favor mainstreaming.

Yet the parents' desire to have their child pronounced "cured" and placed in a regular classroom is counter-acted by a fear of false placement. The wrong decision could destroy the child's self-image and confidence.

Thus many parents react with great caution when the word "mainstreaming" is mentioned, because the wrong placement or a placement made too early could wipe out the hard-won progress made in the special education classroom.

And reports of administrators playing the numbers game to ease budget pressures, gives parents added reason to view mainstreaming with alarm.

Yet the same parents concerned about the abuses of mainstreaming would be among the first to object if an effort was made to change the law's mandate.

All involved, though, would welcome clarification and specific guidelines. And all welcome the kinds of insight gained at last week's inservice session.

Voters misled on millage

Editor:

Our 1980 property taxes are increasing dramatically this January. Wayne County revaluation is 8 percent more; 1½ mills more for schools; one mill more for library; ½ mill more for Canton general fund; and now 3.25 mills more for police.

This will be a great strain for people on fixed incomes as well as middle incomes.

At least three of the elected township board members promised in their political literature, that if elected, they would "stop spending and increasing our taxes;" "cut taxes without affecting present services;" and "live within budget." I believe the board is losing its credibility and has moral, if not legal, obligation to citizens residing in Canton in 1979 to allow them the right to vote on any new increases on their 1980 taxes.

The Headlee Amendment, passed overwhelmingly by voters in 1978, was supposed to "Limit taxes without crippling services."

The 1977 ballot proposal for police protection was not clear. It referred to an old 1951 public act that I believe should be stricken from the books. This proposal did not tell the voter, in black and white, that taxes could go "up to 10 mills" or, in fact, be increased at all. Although the people probably wanted a local police department, I can't believe they understood the proposal since schools which are also necessary have a hard time getting one mill passed.

The newspapers at that time were reporting that the Board promised to levy under two mills, but did not emphasize "only for that year." One paper stated, "If voters pass the referendum, then a subsequent election will be held to vote on specific amount for millage."

Actually voters shouldn't have to rely on the papers for this information. It should have been clearly stated on the ballot. We are not all lawyers and do not have access to Public Act 181. The proposal passed by a mere 73 votes, with an extremely low voter turnout (about one-sixth of registered voters). Summer special elections are notorious for low turnout and do not reflect true majority voter feeling.

Since many Cantonites tend to be transient, these same 1977 voters may not live here now. I don't believe 1980 taxpayers should have to pay increased taxes they did not vote for.

In 1977, the Canton Police Officer's Association (union) campaigned for passage of the proposal on the premise that they could give us 24-hour, four-car protection for under 2 mills (worth $440,000 in 1977) as the board pledged.

After only 15 months (full-time service started eight months after we started paying two mills), they are saying even four mills (worth $1,320,000 - more than triple the original amount) is not enough. The value of two mills is up to $660,000 today.

Police Chief MacGregor said, "If the millage passes, we'd start small and increase with demand but always stay within the budget." (Observer 8-11-77).

In 1976-77, the Greenstein administration's certified reserve department gave residents excellent police visibility without increasing our taxes. After two mills were levied, the patrol cars were only visible in the Ford Road business area or speed trap situations (which bring added revenue). One headline for CPOA's campaign to increase millage was "Police Mount Slick Campaign with funds from businesses" (Observer 8-22-77). Could this be the reason they get better police service than residents?

The police chiefs' and board's attitude at the 'so-called' hearing leaves no doubt in my mind that they will be back every year for millage increases.

It just proves "The only way to cut government spending is not to give the government so much money in the first place." (Observer 6-22-78). "Taxpayers attribute inflationary rise to unbridled government spending" (Observer 6-22-78).

In order for the board to restore its credibility, I believe that all proposed tax increases should be voted on by the people.

Miracles seen in woodcraft

By W.W. EDGAR

Far off the beaten path in Old Village in a weather-worn building, two Plymouth High School alumni are performing what antique buffs are referring to as modern miracles in wood.

The two are Cary Skoglund and Jay Densmore who, along with Cynthia Trugino, a native of Detroit's east side, are the main workers in the firm doing business as Furniture Rejuvenation.

And said Skoglund, "We like nothing better than to take an old piece of furniture, no matter how far gone it may be, and bring it back to life."

SKOGLUND, who is 29, has been interested in woodcraft for the past 15 years and is a fond believer in doing things the old-fashioned way. That's why most of his work is done by hand.

Densmore also is a wood worker at heart. They met Miss Trugino, an artist, in a gift shop in Old Village and she does all the artistic drawings.

One of their prize pieces at the moment is an old desk, once used by a dentist and reputed to be more than 100-years-old. It was found at an antique sale in South Lyon.

It is an outstanding piece because it has semi-circle drawers with small notches on the edges to hold a dentist's tools. It even has space for teeth — if necessary.

"Picked it up for a song," said Densmore, "and when we are finished it will be worth a lot of money."

Another piece they are proud to show is a child's wooden sled from the turn of the century. It appears only in fair shape, but the two "miracle" workers figure it will be a choice piece when finished.

Since the young wood workers started the firm five years ago, they have experienced outstanding success.

"We started with only 500 square feet of working space," said Skoglund, "and now we are up to 3,000 and still are crowded."

He speaks with pride when he reveals that much of their work comes in boxes containing old pieces of furniture that have been broken or pulled apart.

Some of it necessitates a study of old-time furniture in the antique journals. This done, Miss Trugino then draws the type of pieces needed and the "miracle" is on its way.

ASKED WHAT their biggest job has been, the wood workers quickly answered:

"We did a lot of the work at the Mayflower Hotel. There we rejuvenated the big refrigerator which stood in the lobby for a long time. And we have done most of the other work that has helped give the Mayflower the old English touch."

Another of their choice pieces is a large corner cupboard which dates back to the 1890s. But, here and there, throughout the plant at 882 N. Holbrook, there are all sorts of pieces which will become priceless heirlooms.

Cary Skoglund of Plymouth shows an oak piece of furniture which has been rejuvenated. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Salvation Army, Red Cross are poised for human tragedy

Bad news and human tragedy. That's what people usually associate with the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army because when tragedy strikes they tend to be first on the scene providing massive relief efforts by supplying victims with food, clothing and shelter.

The Salvation Army renders emergency aid to individuals in the form of fuel, rent and transportation, as well as counseling, referral and home visits.

At Christmas, Salvation Army volunteers visited more than 1,900 persons, and delivered food baskets, orders of toys, clothing and checks to 298 local people.

The League of Mercy, a group of volunteers who visit and work with shut-ins, made monthly visits to 1,760 individuals in six local institutions and distributed gifts at Christmas.

But the organization does not limit its programs to people with hardships. Some examples are "Sunbeams," a scouting-type program for girls aged 6-12, a recreation and craft "kids club," and a social and service club for teenagers.

The Salvation Army also sponsors local mothers and their children to residential summer camp and summer day camp at the Corps.

A free drop-in nursery school at the Army's headquarters, at 290 Fairground, continues to thrive. Preschoolers attend the two-hour morning sessions, while mothers take turns lending assistance. The program affords some free mornings to the mothers while boosting the children's learning and social skills before they start kindergarten.

The Plymouth Corps also is able to refer people to area-wide services of the metropolitan Salvation Army. The newly opened Evangeline Family Shelter is such a service offered to residents of the tri-county area.

WHILE THE Salvation Army collects food and clothing for the needy, the Red Cross solicits another important human resource: blood.

Blood drives are one of the Red Cross' largest ongoing efforts, with collection sites scheduled periodically at area schools, businesses and commercial establishments throughout the year. The agency has been appointed the sole supplier of blood and blood products in southeastern Michigan.

Locally, disaster services such as shelter and food were offered during the 1978 blizzard and 1979 flooding.

The agency also offers some of the country's most active and comprehensive instruction programs in water safety, small craft handling and first aid.

Smith welcomes parents

Smith Elementary School's Parents Faculty Organization will greet Smith parents, students and friends at the school's annual open house from 7-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9. During the open house, members of the Smith community will have the chance to meet the teachers and visit classrooms. Refreshments will

Resource people needed for Indian culture center

A parent advisory committee to the Native American Center of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is scouting around for applicants to two resource positions for the center.

Phil Radant, the center's project director, says federal funding provides for one full-time researcher and one part-time worker.

Applicants should have a "significant" knowledge of Indian history and culture, a good rapport with children all of ages, and experience in organizing instructional materials.

Applications are taken at the district's personnel department.

The parents committee completed job descriptions for these positions at its September meeting.

In other business, the group elected new officers. They are Gloria Booth, president; Margaret Leichtweiss, vice president; and Pamela Howard, secretary-treasurer.

Planned activities this year include a Fall Feast at Oakland Community College Oct. 13. The event will include a sunrise ceremony, La Crosse games and pow-wow dancing.

The Indian Heritage Center is located in a portable building behind Central Middle School. It is open 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on week days. All children are welcome to view Indian exhibits and learn about Indian crafts.

The Bottom Line Rules on rentals

By DANIEL HERRIMAN

Quite often, people purchase vacation homes as much for their value as investments as for the enjoyment they can derive from using the property.

Many of these investors rent the property for part of the year. They expect a valuable tax deduction because of the rental loss resulting from deducting part of the cost of the building each year, as well as the operating expenses, interest, and real estate taxes.

All of these are good reasons for purchasing vacation homes. But the Tax Reform Act of 1976 established strict rules concerning tax deductions resulting from rental of vacation homes. Careful tax planning is required to protect this deduction.

CURRENT LAW divides vacation home rentals into three situations depending on the number of days rented compared to the number of days used personally by the owner.

Each situation is handled differently for tax purposes. The three situations are:

1. The property is rented for 14 days or less. In this case no deduction can be taken except the itemized deduction for interest and real estate taxes. But the rent received does not have to be included as taxable income.

2. The property is rented 15 days or more (or 10 percent of the days rented if greater). Still, no loss can be deducted on the rental property. The rents received must be included in taxable income, reduced by the rental percentage of the interest and taxes.

The rental percentage of other maintenance expenses is deducted next, followed by the rental percentage of depreciation. But only enough expenses can be deducted to reduce net income to zero.

If interest and real estate taxes exceed rents received, the excess can be included as an itemized deduction. But any other excess expenses will not be deductible.

Any day during which the property was used by the taxpayer, certain relatives, individuals with whom he swaps use of vacation property, or anyone who does not pay a fair rental, is considered a day of personal use.

Grass fire burns 50 acres in township

DeHoCo property came close to going up in smoke last Thursday in what was called "the biggest grass fire" in Plymouth Township this year.

According to Township Fire Chief Larry Groth, four fire departments responded to a massive grass fire that originated in Plymouth Township about 4:30 p.m. and threatened to ignite a hay barn on the property in the township's northwest section.

Groth said the fires started along side the Chessie Railroad tracks near Beck Road after a train heading west flung chunks of hot carbon from its smoke stacks.

Before the train reached Northville and Salem Townships, more than 50 acres of dry grass burned off in Plymouth Township.

"A southwest wind helped to keep it going, and then it was extremely dry," Groth said.

He said there weren't any homes or businesses along the fire route that could have been affected except for the DeHoCo barn. Also, the fire was contained before it reached residences at Five Mile Road.

Firefighters responded from Plymouth, Northville and Salem Townships as well as DeHoCo in the three-hour battle. Firefighters used water-filled backpacks to extinguish the blaze because the property was not accessible to vehicles, Groth said.

According to a railroad official, train smoke stacks are covered with wire meshed spark resistors which are designed to contain flying sparks.

Salem golfers continue match streak

A combination of team balance and the recent great form of senior co-captain Blake Lundberg have powered Plymouth Salem to a 7-0 mark after the first two weeks of the prep golf season.

Lundberg fired a par-35 at the Brae Burn Golf Course Friday to lead Salem over Plymouth Canton, 156-166.

"I'm tickled to death with my kids so far," said Salem coach Bob Waters.

"Lundberg is the key to our program. He's in the fairway all the time. He plays it shot for shot. He doesn't lose his composure."

Salem's Butch Recto was right behind Lundberg with a 39. Canton's John Matthews fired a 38. He was followed by teammates Dave Visser, 42, Scott Adler, 43, and Kirk Rasmussen.

For Salem, Rob Jarvis had a 40 and freshman Nunzio Marino a 42. "I expected it to be closer," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "We didn't play as well. You can't take anything away from Salem."

Both Salem and Canton will compete Tuesday in the 25-team Plymouth Best Ball Tournament.

Ypsilanti is the defending champion. Teams likely to fight out the finish include West Bloomfield, Livonia Stevenson, Salem, Northville and Redford Union.

Salem-Northville

Plymouth Salem notched its sixth win by defeating Northville in a non-league meet, 156-164, Wednesday afternoon.

Lundberg was medalist with a 37 at Brae Burn. Jarvis was next with a 38, Recto had a 40 and Jeff Trim carded a 41.

"We've had a lot of balance this year," said Waters. "Five of our top six kids have been medalists."

Salem-Bentley

Salem scored its fifth win Monday at Idylwild in Livonia by downing Bentley in a Suburban Eight League opener, 160-167.

Paul Worley of the Bulldogs was medalist with a 37. Recto paced Salem with a 39.

Canton-Walled Lake Western

Plymouth Canton slipped to 2-4 overall and 1-3 in the Western Six League after losing to Walled Lake Western Thursday at Brae Burn, 210-217.

Visser and Moffatt each fired 42's for the Chiefs. Scott Hand and John Matthews had 44's.

"We lost mostly because of our putting," said Cavell. "Our short play was erratic. I think our kids are losing concentration."

"The younger kids have been steady. As a team we usually shoot around 205."

Salem notches 2nd league win

Error-free Rocks blitz Dearborn

By BRAD EMONS

An error-free Plymouth Salem football team means trouble for the opposition.

And on Friday afternoon Dearborn ran up against a Salem team which played up to its potential. The Rocks upped their Suburban Eight League mark with a convincing 27-6 triumph over the Pioneers.

"I think we made only a couple of errors," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer after the game.

"In practice this week we had two goals in mind — eliminate the penalties and get good execution."

"I thought we were much, much better with that today."

It was Dearborn which made the mistakes, most coming against swarming Salem defense. The Pioneers racked up 105 yards in penalties and lost three fumbles.

On the other side, Salem lost only one fumble (when the game was out of reach), drew one penalty, and lost possession on an interception.

Both teams failed to move the ball in the first quarter, but Salem struck for a touchdown late in the first half when safety Julian Martinez intercepted Craig Wilcox's pass and returned it to the Dearborn 25-yard line.

Three plays later, Salem quarterback Jim Anderson turned a broken play into a 13-yard touchdown jaunt with 1:13 left in the half to give the Rocks a 6-0 lead.

ANDERSON slipped after receiving the snap from center and appeared to be thrown for a loss. But he wormed out of danger and made a good cut to score. The extra point attempt was blocked, and Salem went into the locker room leading, 6-0.

With Dearborn deep in its own territory to start the third quarter, Salem took advantage of a Pioneer fumble to score its second touchdown.

On a reverse play at :58, middle guard Ken Czaplak pounced on the fumble at the six-yard line, giving the Rocks an excellent chance.

Senior halfback Craig Stack, who sat out the first half, promptly scored from six yards out on a counter play, increasing Salem's lead to 12-0. Salem's attempt for a two-pointer was way short.

"Craig has a minor injury and missed a couple of practices," said Moshimer. "We decided to give somebody else a start."

After Salem made it 12-0 at 10:33, another Dearborn fumble, just 21 seconds later, set up another touchdown. Tackle Stan Snider made the recovery at the Dearborn 42.

On the second play of the series, Anderson raced 35 yards down to the Dearborn five but the run was nullified by a holding penalty.

Two plays later Anderson teamed up with senior fullback Phil Anderson on a 21-yard screen pass, giving the Rocks a vital first down.

WITH 3:12 to play in the third period, Stack scored his second touchdown on a 14-yard run, increasing Salem's lead to 18-0. On the two-point conversion, holder Martinez faked the kick and threw to reserve halfback Otto Luttman, who was all alone in the end zone as the Rocks padded their lead, 20-0.

"We showed a lot of character in that series," said the Salem coach. "I thought that was the turning point. We drove right down the field after the penalty."

In the fourth quarter, Salem substituted freely as every member of the team got to play.

"We're starting to rotate more kids," he said. "Our young people are getting better. They've gotten their feet wet."

"It helps to get more kids in the game. Everybody is a lot happier."

Moshimer said his offensive line, led by center Jeff Powers and Snider, performed well with their blocking assignments.

"In the first game we had a lack of concentration," said Moshimer of the 12-9 loss to Livonia Franklin. "Against Bentley (a 24-8 victory) we executed better but had too many penalties."

"Today everything fell into place."

Salem got its final touchdown in the fourth quarter when junior Dave Skone raced into the end zone from seven yards out at 7:33, increasing the Rocks' advantage to 26-0. Brian Lewandowski's extra point was good.

With seven seconds left in the game, Dearborn got on the score board when reserve quarterback Scott Mills found the end zone on a three-yard bootleg play.

Salem will play its fourth-straight game on the road Friday at Utica Eisenhower. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Jim Anderson scores Salem's first touchdown on a broken play. The senior quarterback led the Rocks' rushing attack with 64 yards. Salem outgained Dearborn in total yardage, 171-143. Anderson hit three of six passes. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Fast-breaking Salem girls triumph

By BRAD EMONS

Plymouth Salem unleashed its potent fast break right from the opening tap and went on to post an easy 54-39 Suburban Eight League victory over Dearborn Thursday night.

The win upped Salem's overall mark to 4-0. Dearborn slipped to 1-1 overall.

"We handled the ball at a high rate of speed tonight," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "Our big people released the ball and our cutters were at the right spots."

Salem jumped out to a 16-3 first quarter lead as senior guard Nan Horwood scored six of her 12 total points in the first three minutes.

Dearborn got its first point at 5:15 of the opening period when guard Sharon Scala hit a free throw.

"We started out in our basic man-to-man defense," explained Blohm. "I thought everybody was involved to-night on both ends."

"I thought we attacked their zone and got the ball inside. We went to our quick, power game early."

"Everything went wrong," said Dearborn coach Liz Bacso. "We weren't patient and our zone broke down."

"We went with the zone because we have just eight people and I was afraid of foul trouble and endurance in the second half."

"WE KNEW we couldn't get the ball inside. Plus, Salem is a fast and aggressive team."

Poor free throw shooting however put Dearborn out of the game in the first half. The Pioneers hit 17 of 32 shots for a game-total percentage of 53 percent. Dearborn hit only 7 of 15 in the first half.

"We usually shoot better than that," said Bacso. "We shot 57 percent from the floor against Fordson and 61 percent from the line."

"We were cold and tight from the start."

Cheryl Sobkow, a 5-foot-9 senior forward, was a terror on the boards in the first half for Salem. She scored six of her 10 total points in the first 16 minutes.

Her basket off a missed shot with 5:46 to play in the first half gave Salem a commanding 24-3 lead as Blohm began to use his entire bench.

Bulldogs post 65-51 victory

Unbeaten Bentley bombs Chiefs

By SCOTT ADLER

The Livonia Bentley girls' basketball team remained undefeated after disposing of a turnover-prone Plymouth Canton squad 65-51.

And the Chiefs' defense was "horrible" too, according to coach Mike McCauley.

"We played terribly on defense tonight," McCauley said. "We have to get our concentration and timing down or we're in for a long year."

The Bulldogs controlled the game early, jumping out to a 16-9 first quarter lead thanks to the fine floor game of sophomore Carla Campbell.

The bigger Bentley squad controlled the boards were also much quicker than McCauley expected.

"They've got a real good team," said

McCauley, "and it's a good thing they shot poorly from the free throw line or we would have lost a lot worse."

Both teams had a hard time from the charity stripe, Bentley hitting only 15 of 36 and the Chiefs, who have struggled from the free throw line all year, 17 of 29.

"I think we played too sloppy tonight," said Bulldog coach Tom Lang. "We didn't try anything new, just get the ball of the boards and run."

Canton fell behind 33-17 at the half, mainly because the full court press being used by the Chiefs looked like more like a Swiss cheese as basket after basket was scored by the slick passing Bentley offense.

With the Chiefs trailing by 30 points, 53-23, heading into the final quarter, Canton put on a furious fourth quarter rally, easily their best quarter of the year with full court attack stymying the Bulldogs for the final five minutes.

"The last five minutes were our best all year," said McCauley, whose team is 2-2 overall. "We need work on our foul shooting badly."

Jill Pedersen led the Chiefs with 12 points. Jean Timlin added eight.

The Bentley scoring was nicely balanced, with Shelia DeGrazia leading the way with 18 points followed by Carla Campbell with 13. Kim Plachta added 10.

The Chiefs will try to avenge the loss at home against Livonia Stevenson Tuesday.

Northville harriers get scare

Northville, winner of the recent Schoolcraft Invitational, defeated Plymouth Canton in a Western Six League cross country opener Thursday, 23-32.

Scott Dayton of the Mustangs was the overall winner. He recorded a time of 16:50.

Canton's junior standout Mike Talaga, who led the race for two miles, placed third with a clocking of 17:09. Teammate Dan Inloes was fourth with a time of 17:16.

Other Canton finishers included Steve West, seventh, 17:49; Randy Hennels, eighth, 17:51; Dan McGlinn, 10th, 18:27; George Kacsic, 13th, 20:09; Barron Smith, 14th, 20:12.

Northville completed without its No. 1 runner, Harry Couyoumjan, a second-place finisher in the Schoolcraft meet.

"I thought our kids did a real good job," said Canton coach Jim Hayes. "We're coming right along."

"We wanted Talaga to stay out in front for at least two miles and he accomplished that and lowered his time by seven seconds."

"Inloes also ran his best time of the year."

Canton will face Livonia Bentley Tuesday in a 4 p.m. meet at Cass Benton Park.

Fox Hills golf loop ends in tie

Gary Rehberg and Dan Riggs tied Paul Oberhelman and Mike Mattingly in the final standings of the Canton Township Fox Hills Men's Golf League after eight weeks of play.

Both teams recorded 27 points in the league sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department.

In the last week of play, Rehberg and Riggs took three of a possible five points against Jim and Keith Logsdon.

Oberhelman and Mattingly also grabbed three away from Dennis Stuebben and Harry Ackley.

Rehberg and Riggs were awarded the first-place trophy because they beat Oberhelman and Mattingly in an earlier season match.

Tony Valenti turned in the best round last week as he posted a round of 39. Mike Ryan's 40 and Rehberg's 41 were the other top scores.

Ross, Eudy power Salem swimmers past Ypsi

In a close meet all the way, Plymouth Salem recorded its second girls' swim victory of the season by defeating Ypsilanti on the road Thursday night, 87-84.

The Rocks, 2-1 overall, had two double winners — co-captain Sharon Ross and Terri Eudy.

Ross won the 200-yard individual medley (2:26.4) and 500-yard freestyle (5:42.0). She is unbeaten in the latter event.

Eudy captured the 200-yard freestyle (2:07.3) and 100-yard freestyle (57.4). Eudy has not lost in the 100-yard event.

Salem's other first-place finish was earned by diver Natalie McClumpha, who totaled 191.4 points.

In the 400-yard medley relay, Linda Wochna, Corinne Cabadas, Sue Evans and Julie Cabadas posted a second-place time of 2:10.3.

Corinne was also second in the 50-yard freestyle (28.6) and 100-yard breaststroke (1:21.6). Wochna placed second in the 0-yard backstroke (1:11.2).

In the 400-yard freestyle relay, Nancy Lazarus, Eudy, Renne Lakatos and Ross teamed up to place second (4:12.1).

Gaining third place spots included Kelly Brandt, 200-yard freestyle, 2:21.6; Lakatos, 50-yard freestyle, :29.4; Evans, 100-yard butterfly, 1:16.3.

"We won a lot of seconds, thirds and fourths," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "We were only beaten badly in one event."

"At one point, we had a nine-point lead. It was a good meet. We're still swimming a lot of freshman and sophomores, but for our first meet away from home, it wasn't too bad."

"You'll never know how they'll react to a different pool. The lights could be different, even the depth of the water."

"Hopefully, our times will drop next week."

Salem travels to Redford Union Tuesday in a non-league meet scheduled to start at 7 p.m.

Canton its second straight loss.

Foreign exchange student Tarja Tuominen from Finland was the only Canton swimmer to crack the Stevenson domination as she placed first in the 100-yard butterfly and 200-yard freestyle.

"All the kids did real well this week," said Canton coach Mark Griffith. "What more can I ask?"

"They've all done their best times already by four or five seconds. It looks good for the future."

Canton has just one senior on the squad.

In the 500-yard freestyle and 200-yard individual medley, Canton's Kim Massey took second place.

In diving, Canton's Chris Wennerberg and Ellie Wagner finished second and third respectively.

Missy McMurray of the Chiefs posted her best time ever in gaining third place in the 0-yard freestyle.

Canton will travel the Redford Thurston Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Cunningham takes Schoolcraft job

Phyllis Cunningham, junior varsity girls' basketball coach at Plymouth Canton, has accepted a similar position at Schoolcraft College.

Cunningham, 23, is a graduate of Alma College and is presently completing her teacher certification work at Eastern Michigan University.

The Plymouth Salem graduate will be assisted by Karen Beers, 21, a former Schoolcraft student and Divine Child graduate.

Cunningham will retain her present position as a coach on Mike McCauley's Canton staff. The naming of Cunningham to the Schoolcraft position makes her one of the youngest college coaches in the country.

"We'll be starting heavy practices at the end of the high school season," said Cunningham. "The two jobs overlap somewhat. I'll just have to go double sessions for a while."

"I believe Schoolcraft is committed fully to a girls' basketball program. The Athletic Director, Marv Gans, is behind it 100 percent."

"I believe we can build a program here because of the excellent facilities and the number of good athletes in the area."

"I think the people want to come to us, but we have to let them know."

Cunningham, who turned down a post to become the girls' coach at Eureka College (Ill.) earlier this fall, said she was recommended for the job by McCauley after he turned it down.

THE CANTON coach was first offered the job after Jeannette Bowman, who coached the past two years, resigned for personal reasons.

"It was nice to be offered the job," said McCauley. "It gave a boost to my ego. I had to turn it down because I have just too many things going at the moment, but I'd like to coach in college some day."

"I'm starting classes at U-M and I had to take my family into consideration. The month overlap in the two seasons was also a drawback. I'd be coaching two teams at the same time."

"Schoolcraft has a great facility and needs an exciting program."

Schoolcraft's roster showed only six players last season, but Cunningham knows of 10 players this year ready to take the floor.

Expected to compete for the Ocelots this season are Canton's Kim Tripplet, Livonia Stevenson's Wendy Tipton and Livonia Churchill's Linda Mix.

"We've already started recruiting procedures," said Cunningham. "Karen is going out and talking to some people in the school who are enrolled right now. Our roster is not definite yet."

"My main emphasis is to reach players in this area. We have some fine talent around. We really can't recruit outside the area, because Schoolcraft is a commuter school."

The Ocelot schedule has been beefed up from 12 to 21 games. Henry Ford Community College has traditionally been the power in women's basketball in Michigan. Schoolcraft and Henry Ford are members of the same league.

Rock girls upset Huron

Vickie Sterling and Carol Gillespie downed

Maai Kaplan and Susie Farrhat, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4, in an exciting match to lift Plymouth Salem to a 4-3 girls' tennis win over Ann Arbor Huron Friday afternoon.

Sterling and Gillespie won their match at No. 1 doubles after the other six matches had already been completed with both teams tied 3-3.

At No. 1 singles, Salem's Kathy Horton upset Kelly Lazar, 6-2, 6-4.

Renee Braun triumphed at No. 4 singles for the Rocks, defeating Carol Payne, 6-0, 6-2.

Sandra and Lynn Hathaway defeated Pat Maloney and Kim Shaffran at No. 3 doubles, 6-0,

6-2, for Salem's fourth victory.

Farrah Maugh of Huron demolished Carol Hathaway at No. 2 singles, 6-0, 6-1, while Sue Carry breezed past Salem's Betsy Moon at No. 3 singles, 6-0, 6-2.

At No. 2 doubles, Kathy Weber and Beth Baker fell to Karin Lorch and Monte Borcherts, 6-4, 6-0.

"I knew Huron would be a tough team," said Salem coach Judy Braun, whose team upped its record to 4-1.

Salem-Dearborn

Braun was surprised with the way her team beat Dearborn on Wednesday, 7-0, in a Suburban Eight League match.

"I suspected that they would be tougher," said Braun. "It was a complete surprise."

Horton won her match at No. 1 singles, 6-1, 6-2, against Jody Klask.

In doubles, Hathaway and Weber finally beat Natalie Ashker and Carol Verderbar in a long match, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

The victory gave Canton a 2-0 mark in the league and a 3-2 record overall. The victory gives the lady Chiefs their most victories ever in the school's history.

"This is the first time we've ever beaten Harrison," said Canton coach Cindi Burnstein. "This the first time we've ever beaten anybody 7-0."

Joan Keiser of Canton won easily at No. 1 singles, topping Joanne Gorte, 6-2, 6-2. Teammate Cheryl Smith did likewise at No. 2 singles, 6-4, 6-0, over Daren Trevas. Lori

At No. 3 doubles, Barb Rupprecht and Ann O'Connell whipped Lisa Goldstein and Sue Gorte, 6-1, 6-1.

Canton will travel to Waterford Mott Monday for another Western Six League match.

A new challenger has come to the fore in the Ladies All Star leagues to make a bid for top honors against the longtime leaders.

For the second week in a row, Terry Grant of Pontiac set the pace in the Ladies Major at Beech Lanes last Wednesday when she posted a high game of 266 and a 663 series.

Ironically, she is a member of Cora Fiebig's Luxury Lanes team and Cora is one of the leaders she is planning to conquer.

While Terry has been taking the singles honors, Penny Behn and her Bonanza team again are making a bid to walk away with the championship. This past week the team set the pace with a 2,869 series that included a 1,020 game.

SOMETHING UNUSUAL happened at Wonderland Lanes. The top sharpshooters in the classic who have been averaging at least one 700 series a week, failed to reach that peak Tuesday night.

The closest anyone came to breaking the barrier was Bill Fite who put together games of 203, 258 and 222 for 686. Behind him came Lew Ansara, who linked 232, 215 and 222 for 674.

The team honors went to to Mal Maragesian's Don Rovin group with a 3,084.

JOANNE WARNER had one of the biggest weeks of her career as she took top scoring honors in two classics miles apart.

First, she rolled a 666 to show the way in the Wonderland Ladies Classic on Tuesday night and then came back with a 277 game in a 613 series to take high single in the Ladies Classic at Westland.

The big game was not enough to give her the series scoring honors, which went to Kim Jones with a 652 that included a middle game of 231.

CINDI EDWARDS is continuing her winning ways at Westland, too. But her effort this past week was one of her most unusual series.

She started with a 256 and followed with a 245. That gave her a 501 going into the final where she needed a 199 to reach the 700 goal. But the pressure was too much. She finished with a 166 for 667.

Meanwhile, in the Wednesday mixed, Mai Hawkins rolled the high single when she posted a 245.

AT GARDEN LANES Bob Lamont paced the senior house league with a 641. His closest rivals were Tracy Dunn with 608 and Robe Stackwski with 606. And Carol Siwula, a 157 average bowler, posted a 529 series.

THE LOW AVERAGE bowlers had a great time at Woodland Lanes. Kathy Tamleev, with a 130 average, hit a 172 in 482 in the Keglerettes league and Kathy Hay, with a 102 average, rolled a 207 game.

In the junior house league Gerry Swathell, with a 172 average, found the range for a 597 series on games of 191, 192 and 214. Next to him came Dave Shade, a 140 bowler, with a 220 in a 550 series.

In the men's trio loop, Willie Egner, a 181 bowler, hit a high single of 255 and Irv Watson, with a 193 average, had a 233 in 666.

WHEREAS, the Authority proposes, in accordance with the authorization contained in said Act 31, as amended, to provide at this time for the issuance of bonds of the Authority in the aggregate principal sum of Five Hundred Eighty-five Thousand Dollars ($585,000) in anticipation of the full faith and credit general obligation contractual commitments of the City under said Contract of Lease to finance the cost of said project; and

The Bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates to be determined upon public sale thereof, not exceeding ten percent (10%) per annum, payable on October 1, 1979, and semiannually thereafter. Both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at a bank or trust company qualified to act as paying agent, located in the State of Michigan, to be designated by the manager of the account purchasing the Bonds and approved by the Authority. A co-paying agent similarly qualified and approved, but located either within or without the State of Michigan, may also be designated.

The Bonds shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity as set forth in the bond form contained in this resolution.

Section 6. Execution of Bonds. The Chairman and Secretary of the Commission are hereby authorized and directed to execute said Bonds when issued and sold for and on behalf of the Authority and affix the seal of the Authority thereto, and the Chairman of the Commission is hereby authorized and directed to execute the interest coupons to be attached to said Bonds by causing his facsimile signature to be affixed thereto. Upon the execution of said Bonds and the attached coupons the same shall be delivered to the Treasurer of the Commission or such other officer as shall be designated by the Commission, who is hereby authorized and directed to deliver said Bonds and the attached coupons to the purchaser thereof as hereafter determined by the Commission upon receipt of the purchase price therefor.

Section 7. Security for Bonds; Lien. The Bonds and the attached coupons shall be issued in anticipation of and payable from the Cash Rentals received by the Authority from the City pursuant to the Contract, which Cash Rentals are general obligations of the City for the payment of which the City in the Contract has pledged its full faith and credit pursuant to the provisions of the Act. The City has further covenanted and agreed that each year it will levy ad valorem taxes upon all taxable property within its boundaries in amounts which, taking into consideration estimated delinquencies in tax collections, will be sufficient to pay the Cash Rentals under the Contract becoming due before the time of the following year's tax collections. Such taxes, by virtue of Article IX, Section 6 of the Michigan Constitution and the Act, must be levied by the City without limitation as to rate or amount and in addition to any other taxes which the City may otherwise be authorized to levy, to the extent necessary to pay such Cash Rentals, provided that if at the time of making any annual tax levy there shall be funds on hand earmarked and set aside for the payment of said Cash Rentals becoming due prior to the next tax collection period, then such annual tax levy may be reduced by such amount. To secure the payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds, all such Cash Rentals are hereby pledged solely and only for the payment of the Bonds, and a statutory first lien is hereby established upon and against such Cash Rentals for such purpose.

Section 8. Remedies. The holder or holders of said Bonds representing in the aggregate not less than twenty percent (20%) of the entire issue then outstanding may, by suit, action, or other proceedings, protect and enforce the aforesaid statutory lien and enforce and compel the performance of all duties of the officials of the Authority, including, but not limited to, compelling the City by proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction or other appropriate forum to make the Cash Rental payments required to be made by the Contract and requiring the City to certify, levy and collect appropriate taxes as herein authorized and as may be required by the Contract to be so certified, levied and collected by the City for the payment of Cash Rentals required to be paid by the Contract.

Section 9. Operation of Project. Pursuant to the terms of the Contract, the operation, maintenance and management of the Project and all costs and expenses with respect thereto shall be the obligation of the City.

Section 10. Operating Year. The Project shall be operated on the basis of a fiscal year corresponding with that of the City.

Section 11. Cash Rentals. The Cash Rental as provided in Section 3 of the Contract is hereby established and fixed as the Cash Rental authorized by the Act to be charged to the City for the use of the Project. Said Cash Rental shall be entirely net to the Authority and is estimated to be sufficient to provide for the payment of the interest upon and the principal of all the Bonds as and when the same become due and payable. Such Cash Rental shall not be reduced until such time as all Bonds and the interest thereon are paid in full or sufficient funds for their payment in full have been provided. Such Cash Rental may be increased by the Authority, as provided in the Contract.

Section 12. Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. There shall be established and maintained with such bank or trust company where the principal of and interest on the Bonds are primarily payable, a separate depository account designated BUILDING AUTHORITY BONDS (1978 SERIES) BOND AND INTEREST REDEMPTION FUND (hereinafter sometimes called the "Bond and Interest Redemption Fund"). The Cash Rentals paid to the Authority shall be deposited as received into said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund, together with any premium or accrued interest received upon delivery of the Bonds, any advance payments of Cash Rentals made by the City under the Contract, any unexpended balance of Bond proceeds credited to debt service, and any other moneys attributable to Bond payment. All sums held in said Bond and Interest Redemption Fund shall be used solely and only for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds herein authorized, together with any call premiums thereon.

The Commission may establish such other funds and accounts and provide for deposits thereto as it shall from time to time deem appropriate and necessary.

Section 13. Proceeds of Bond Sale. The proceeds of sale of the Bonds shall be deposited in an account with a bank or trust company to be designated by the Commission, designated 1978 CONSTRUCTION FUND, except that from the proceeds of sale of the Bonds, upon receipt thereof, a sum equal to the accrued interest and any premium on the Bonds, shall be deposited into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund. Said moneys in said Construction Fund shall be used solely and only to pay costs of the Project and any engineering, architectural, legal, financing or other expenses incident thereto on authorization of the Commission of the Authority in accordance with the provisions of the Contract. Any unexpended balance of the proceeds of the sale of Bonds remaining after completion of the Project may be used for the improvements or enlargement of the Project or for other projects of the Authority leased to the City if such use be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission and the City. Any remaining balance shall be paid into the Bond and Interest Redemption Fund and the City shall receive a credit for the amount of such balance against the Cash Rentals next due.

Section 14. Investment of Funds. Moneys in any funds and accounts of the Authority may be invested by the Authority in United States government obligations or obligations the principal of and interest on which are guaranteed by the United States government or in interest-bearing time deposits as shall from time to time be determined by the Commission. In the event such investments are made, the securities representing the same shall be kept on deposit with the depository or depositories of the fund or funds from which such investments are made, and such securities and the income therefrom shall become a part of such funds.

Section 15. Covenants of Authority. The Authority covenants and agrees with the successive holders of the Bonds and coupons that so long as any of the Bonds remain outstanding and unpaid as to either principal or interest.

(a) The Authority will punctually perform all of its obligations and duties under this Resolution and the Contract, and will collect, segregate and apply the Cash Rentals and all other rentals, payments and other funds to be received thereunder in the manner required under this Resolution and the Contract.

(b) The Authority will maintain and keep proper books of record and account relating to the operation of the Project and all rentals and payments received therefrom pursuant to the Contract. Not later than three (3) months after the close of each operating year the Commission will cause to be prepared a statement, in reasonable detail, sworn to by its chief accounting officer, showing the cash receipts and disbursements during such operating year, the assets and liabilities of the Project at the beginning and close of the operating year, and such other information as may be necessary to enable any taxpayer of the City or any holder or owner of the Bonds, or anyone acting in their behalf, to be fully informed as to all matters pertaining to the financial operation of the Project during such year. A certified copy of said statement shall be filed with the City Clerk and a copy shall also be sent to the manager or managers of the account purchasing the Bonds. The Commission shall also cause an annual audit of such books of record and account for the preceding operating year to be made by a recognized independent certified public accountant, and shall mail such audit to the manager of the syndicate or account purchasing the Bonds. At the option of the Authority, the aforesaid audit may be submitted in place of the aforesaid statement required above.

(c) The Authority will not sell or otherwise dispose of any substantial portion of the Project in a manner which might impair the security for the Bonds until all of the Bonds have been paid in full, both as to principal and interest, or until such full payment has been duly provided for, and will not do or suffer to be done any act which would affect the Project in such a way as to impair or affect unfavorably the security of the Bonds.

Section 16. Additional Bonds. Nothing contained in this Resolution shall be construed to prevent the Authority from issuing additional bonds pursuant to the Act, in anticipation of either full faith and credit general obligation contract payments or revenue contract payments, to finance the construction of additions to the Project or any new buildings or projects within the scope of its corporate powers, but said bonds shall be payable out of, and have a first lien on, the rentals or payments contracted for in connection with such new projects, and shall in no way have any lien on or be payable out of any of the Cash Rentals pledged to the payment of the Bonds of this authorized issue or any additional bonds issued to complete, repair or alter the Project in accordance with the authorization provided in the Contract. The Authority shall have power to issue additional Bonds to complete, repair or alter the Project as authorized in the Contract.

Section 17. Contract with Bondholders. The provisions of this Resolution, together with the Contract herein referred to, shall constitute a Contract between the Authority and the holder or holders of the Bonds from time to time, and after the issuance of any of such Bonds, no change, variation or alteration of the provisions of this Resolution or the Contract may be made which would lessen the security for the Bonds. The provisions of this Resolution and the Contract shall be enforceable by appropriate proceedings taken by such holder or holders, either at law or in equity.

Section 18. Bond and Coupon Form. Said Bonds and coupons shall be in substantial form by the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF MICHIGAN
COUNTY OF WAYNE
CITY OF PLYMOUTH MUNICIPAL BUILDING AUTHORITY
BUILDING AUTHORITY BOND, 1978 SERIES

No. _____ $5,000

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH MUNICIPAL BUILDING AUTHORITY, a public corporation of the State of Michigan, for value received, hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof, or if registered holder, the sum of

on the first day of October, A.D. 19____, with interest thereon from the date hereof until paid at the rate of _____ percent (____%) per annum, payable on October 1, 1979, and semiannually thereafter upon presentation and surrender of the proper interest coupons hereto annexed as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the principal office of _____

The bonds of this issue are issued in anticipation of and are payable from the proceeds of certain cash rentals required to be paid to the Authority by the City of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan, pursuant to a certain Full Faith and Credit General Obligation Contract of Lease dated _____, 1978, between said City and said Authority, whereby the City has leased certain building and site improvements to be acquired by said Authority in accordance with the provisions of Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended. Said cash rentals are full faith and credit general obligations of the City payable from ad valorem taxes which must be levied by the City without limitation as to rate or amount to the extent necessary to make such payment. The Authority has irrevocably pledged to the payment of the bonds the cash rental payable by the City, as set forth in said Contract, the total of said cash rental payments being sufficient in amount to pay promptly, when due, the principal of and interest on the bonds of this issue, and a statutory first lien on such cash rentals has been created by the bond authorizing resolution for such payment.

This bond is one of a total authorized issue of one hundred seventeen (117) bonds of even date and like tenor, except as to rate of interest and date of maturity, aggregating the principal sum of $585,000, numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards, issued under and in full compliance with the Constitution and statutes of the State of Michigan, including specifically Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended, and pursuant to a certain resolution duly adopted by the Commission of the Authority on _____, 1978, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring, constructing, furnishing and equipping the aforesaid facility.

Bonds maturing in the years 1979 through 1989, inclusive, will not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

Bonds maturing in the years 1990 through 2003, inclusive, shall be subject to redemption, at the option of the Authority, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after October 1, 1989, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium, as follows:

3% of the par value of each Bond called for redemption prior to October 1, 1994;

2% of the par value of each Bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1994, but prior to October 1, 1997;

1% of the par value of each Bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1997, but prior to October 1, 2000.

No premium shall be paid on bonds called for redemption on or after October 1, 2000.

Thirty days notice of the call of any bonds for redemption shall be given by publication in a paper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds, thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem said bonds.

For a complete statement of the funds from which and the conditions under which this bond is payable and the general covenants and provisions pursuant to which this bond is issued, reference is made to the above-described resolution and contract.

This bond may be registered as to principal only in the name of the holder on the books of the paying agent and such registration noted on the back hereof by said paying agent, after which no transfer shall be valid unless made on the books and noted hereon in like manner, but transferability by delivery may be restored by registration to bearer. Such registration shall not affect the negotiability of the interest coupons.

It is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by law precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the series of bonds of which this is one have been done and performed in regular and due time and form, as required by law.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Municipal Building Authority of Plymouth, by its Commission, has caused this bond to be signed in its name by the Chairman and Secretary of said Commission and its corporate seal to be hereunto affixed and has caused the annexed interest coupons to be executed by the facsimile signature of the Chairman of said Commission, all as of the twentieth day of December, A.D. 1978.

TRAVEL LOG of Iris Jones

Every travel experience takes its own direction, despite everything you do to control it. Trips have their own personality, so to speak. You can prepare for them, organize them, but then you must let them go their own way.

I've been thinking about that as I prepare for a late fall trip to the big island of Hawaii. It brought back memories of my first overseas flight, when we were transferred by the Ford Motor Co. to Australia. In my mind, I call it "Champagne and Diapers at 30,000 feet."

WE WERE YOUNG marrieds with a 13-month-old baby and this was to be the biggest romantic adventure of our then young lives. We bought new clothes we couldn't afford, and our first stop, on a company expense account, was a beautiful high-rise hotel on Waikiki Beach, Honolulu.

I can see us now, standing at the airport surrounded by friends. I was carrying a squirming child, a huge diaper bag, a purse full of all the things we needed to survive (or so we thought) and one of the family camera bags, when a friend arrived with five pounds of chocolates as a farewell gift.

Gifts like that were designed for an age of train and sea travel, when you could hire three men to carry your metal trunks aboard. But try saying no to such a gift when you are about to kiss your friends and family goodbye for a year or two.

THE FLIGHT ACROSS country to San Francisco was exciting and new to me, especially after the stewardess assured me that those flames were supposed to be coming out of the engine. The kid met everybody on the plane and left his sticky fingerprints on all the seats. Nobody complained.

In San Francisco, fate took over. We didn't know it at the time but that was the very place where our luggage went astray, being sent to Alaska or Texas or some other place in the wrong direction. We didn't see it again until a week after we got to Australia. Of course, we didn't know anything was amiss until we landed in wonderful Honolulu at 6 a.m. with a wet baby and no clean diapers.

My romantic picture of Hawaii included hula girls and leis, both of which were at the airport. It did not include the sights I saw on the way to that romantic hotel in Waikiki, sights like Sam's Used Car Lot and the great Hawaiian hamburger joint.

The new clothes, in which we were to dazzle and dazzle the resort world of the Pacific, were, of course, gone. We spent half of our precious 24-hour stay buying baby clothes, in Sears Roebuck.

BY EARLY AFTERNOON, another problem developed. The baby had been given a second smallpox vaccination, because the first one didn't register. By 1 p.m. he developed a slight fever that would eventually send us back to the airport via the local hospital, but fortunately we didn't know then.

All we really knew was that we wanted to reclaim a brief few hours of our romantic Hawaiian interlude. We hired a baby sitter through the hotel, and went off in our now-grubby clothes for a night on the town.

We had run in a pineapple shell at Don the Beachcombers and then we set out to find the real Hawaii. A taxi driver took us to a small nightclub where only Hawaiians go. As we walked down the stairs towards the smoky dance floor, it was clear that we were the only tourists present.

The stage curtains parted and a hula girl with flower leis around her neck stood side-by-side with a man in a Hawaiian shirt. He had a guitar around his neck. We were all set for the lilting music of the islands.

They played all the "old stuff" with a vengeance: "Man, man is for a woman made, and woman is made for man..." And they played all the new stuff, in decibels that would break any eardrum in any mainland music center.

When the waiter came for our drink, I wailed: "why don't they play Hawaiian music?" and he replied, with disdain, "This is Hawaiian music. You want that old-fashioned hok-e-y-pokey you go to a hotel on Waikiki Beach."

WE DID JUST THAT, staggering a little. We hadn't had enough alcohol to justify the staggers, but we computed the time change and discovered that we had been up exactly 24 hours — 2 a.m. in Hawaii is early breakfast time in Detroit.

We staggered back to our hotel, where the baby was now burning a 102-degree fever. We caught a few hours sleep, took him to the emergency hospital for doctoring and boarded the plane for Australia, still wearing the warm-weather clothes in which we landed in Hawaii and with an Australian winter ahead of us.

By then, the whole romantic adventure was getting to be hilarious, so funny in fact that we couldn't stop laughing long enough to explain things to the stewardess when she brought the champagne bottle down the aisle.

The baby was fretting. His pants were wet. I was trying to change his diapers and drink champagne at the same time. Nobody had told me travel would be like that.

Philadelphia The historical American grandstand

Story and photos:
DORIS SCHARFENBERG

Squarely in the middle of Philadelphia sits a stately, towered city hall, the governing landmark and a good place for surveying the scene before you start your tour here.

Mayor Frank Rizzo's domain is not your average municipal building. It's a quadrangle, part French chateau and part castle, with four enormous arches facing in each direction. Arches and inner court echo steadily with the cross traffic of walking Philadelphians.

The free trip up the tower takes you to a breezy deck just under the 37-foot statue of Founding Father William Penn. A Philly tradition says that no building is to go higher than the statue's hat, which accounts for the city's rather modest skyline.

On a clear day, the tower visitor can see for 40 miles and observe that the streets, 480 feet below, are wider than the concrete canyons of most cities. Penn says how narrow streets made fire fighting nearly impossible in London and insisted on wide, straight avenues.

Radiating out from city hall like the big hand on the clock is the Benjamin Franklin Parkway, Philadelphia's answer to the Champs Elysees. You might call it Museum Row. There's the Ben Franklin Institute, a see-and-work-it-yourself place for exploring the physical sciences; the Academy of Natural Sciences; the Rodin Museum; the Free Library, a Franklin "Invention;" and the massive Greco-Roman Museum of Art.

THE PARKWAY IS a favorite site for festivals and fairs, jogging and bench-warming. At the near end, sometimes watered down by a wind-blown fountain, a piece of Robert Indiana's artwork spells LOVE in bright red letters.

Looking north-to-east from City Hall, you'll see the blue Ben Franklin Bridge arching toward New Jersey, just beyond Chinatown and Franklin Square. East and slightly south, Independence Hall, Penn's landing, and the Society Hill area are hidden from view by Wannamakers a pioneer in big, beautiful department stores, and the flashy Gallery Mall, an avant-garde shopping center.

It's all enough to make you want to hurry down and start hiking, but first check out the clothes pin. That's right, a giant, brown clothes pin (the spring-held kind) by Oldenbert. It stands opposite City Hall, five stories high. At ground level it resembles an armless Martian; from the tower it almost looks normal.

A city ordinance requires 1 percent of the cost of new construction to be contributed to outdoor art. Things like giant clothes pins — and graceful fountains — result.

The Visitor's Center, hardly a block west on Kennedy Boulevard, should be your next stop. They have sacksful of information, maps, transportation advice, tour suggestions, help for the undecided. Would you like to visit the U.S. Mint for a free look at your packet change being stamped out at the rate of more than a million coins per hour? The Normand Rockwell Museum or the site of Franklin's home? This sightseeing list is a thick catalog but there are certain absolute musts:

The Society Hill area, otherwise known as Washington Square East, covers about 25 square blocks with one of the most exemplary urban renewal projects in the land. Scrubbed, polished, painted colonial townhouses display their loaded charms next to modern condominiums that blend and enhance the feeling of a historic preserve. The name comes from the Society of Traders and the district is a sheer delight.

The Independence Park district, close to Society Hill, is where the nation was born. Independence Hall, which Henry Ford copied right down to the construction errors for his Ford Museum, will look familiar to friends of Greenfield Village. On the ground floor of the original, however, is a court room plus the blue-gray legislative chamber where independence was declared.

The chamber has two huge fireplaces, of desks and a guide from the National Park Service to recount past events. You can almost see the ghosts of those who faced hanging if their revolution did not succeed, or chaos if this new freedom didn't function well.

A few steps away a steady line of Japanese families and travelers from Italy, Iran and Indiana streams past the Liberty Bell, housed in its own pavilion since the Bicentennial.

The Observation Deck of the Penn Mutual Tower offers an ideal spot for photographing the Independence Hall area. A museum is up there, too.

In Franklin Court, two blocks over, a steel outline marks the spot where Ben's house once stood. The original structure is long gone, although parts of the foundation can be seen through glassed-in viewing points. The length to which historians have gone to be sure than an X marks every spot can be fully appreciated when you step across a cement disc in the pavement marked Benjamin Franklin's Privy Pit.

At this point you're not far from Elfreth's Alley, thought to be the oldest continuously occupied residential street in America and the house where Betsy Ross's probably didn't live — but it comes close. Penn's Landing, the Atwater Kent Historical Collection, the Museum of Jewish History, the Chinese Cultural Center and treasures like old Christ Church tell you much about the neighborhood.

HOTEL RATES in Philadelphia are not nearly as scary as they are in New York. The Penn Center Inn or Sharraton will put up a single in the heart of town for about $30 a day.

The restaurant guide given out at the Visitor's Center is lengthy, but you can't go wrong at the Commissary, Bookbinder's Seafood House or the French favorite, La Camargue, at 1119 Walnut St.

For more information write to Philadelphia Convention and Visitors Bureau, 1525 John F. Kennedy Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19102.

Philadelphia's city hall is set squarely in the middle of the city and towers above the fountains and surrounding structures. A Philly tradition says that no building is to go higher than the hat on the statue atop the building.

Schuler's celebrating with wine and discounts

"Do as the Romans do," said Dwight Newell as he unfurled the red, white and green bunting in preparation for an Italian Wine Festival at the Ann Arbor Win Schuler's now through the 30th.

The festival will feature a wine tasting for the public at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the restaurant in the Marriott Inn. Assisting with the program is Dr. Lucio Caputo of the Italian Wine Promotion Center, one of the world's leading authorities on Italian wine.

While wines will have the main spotlight during the week, the restaurant will also feature a number of Italian food specialties to complement the beverages. Wine brands and varieties to be offered at the tasting include Biondi Bellagio, Oppici Chianti, Antonino Gattinara, Bertani Soave, Valpolicella Classico, Asti Spumante and Gancia Red Spumante.

AT SCHULER'S MARSHALL restaurant, the launching balloon today will mark the opening of a four-day celebration highlighting the rejuvenation of Win Schuler's original flagship restaurant and the observance of the company's 70 years in business.

The huge balloon will signal the start of festivities at 5 p.m.

Other events during the week include an antique auto display at the restaurant, a wine and cheese tasting party, an official ribbon-cutting ceremony, street dance, and fun run marathon to benefit the Marshall United Way.

The hot air balloon will be launched in the parking lot across from the restaurant on Eagle Street. It will remain tethered so as to allow the balloonist to give passenger rides. Company spokesmen said there will be no charge for the rides. Balloon rides will continue until dusk.

At 6 p.m. today, there will be a ribbon-cutting officially opening the renovated restaurant. The project included the addition of a new room known as the Courtyard, and the updating of the former Dickens Room, now called the Inner Circle.

Vintage autos will be on display from 5-9 p.m. Tuesday. The cars will be furnished by the Fort Wayne Old Car Club and the Cord-Duesenberg Museum in Auburn, Ind. Inside Win Schuler's, also starting at 5 p.m., will be a wine-and-cheese-tasting party. The event will be held in the restaurant's Heritage banquet rooms. Wineries participating will be Bronte, Tabor Hills, Warner and St. Julian. There will be a nominal charge to those attending.

On Wednesday, Schuler's will hold a Marshall street dance from 5-9 p.m. in front of the restaurant. There will be music, vocal groups, popcorn, candy cotton and hot dogs.

Thursday has been set aside for the benefit fun-run to raise money for the Marshall United Way. Entrants will make a $1 contribution. The course will take the runners to the Calhoun County Fairgrounds and back to the restaurant. Registration will be in front of the restaurant. Prizes will be T-shirts and a trophy for the first finisher.

The biggest promotion of the four-day celebration will be the distribution of half-price coupons. Anyone ordering dinner from the regular menu at any Win Schuler's restaurant will receive a coupon good for a 50 percent discount on dinner at any Schuler's restaurant between Oct. 1 and Dec. 24.

Win Schuler's restaurants are in Ann Arbor, East Lansing, Flint, Jackson, Marshall, Rochester, St. Joseph and West Bloomfield.

Question column resumes

Should the legislature outlaw both adult and student smoking in the state's public schools?

Residents will have the chance to respond to that question 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday during the Question of the Week, a program sponsored by three area legislators.

The community involvement program was started last winter by State Representatives Robert Law (R-Livonia, Westland), Tom Brown (D-Westland) whose district includes Canton and part of Plymouth Township; Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville); Roy Smith (R-Ann Arbor) whose district includes the city of Plymouth; and Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) whose district includes Plymouth Township.

Question responses will be taken by calling 422-0750.

The program is resuming after the legislators' summer recess.

"The most effective way to make government responsive is to be aware of the peoples' views," Law said.

"We can't assume that wisdom is the sole province of those who have arrived in Lansing. The program is our attempt to keep in close touch with the people we represent and to seek out their views on all sorts of issues," Law added.

Know your lawmakers

Want to express your views about pending legislation, or about legislation you think should be pending. Send a letter or postcard to your local legislator, who may be responsive to suggestions from citizens. Following is a listing of lawmakers representing the Plymouth-Canton area:

Lawn fertilizers work best in fall

The best time to fertilize lawns in the Detroit area for next year is early next spring, right?

Wrong. The best time to fertilize is during the fall and early winter, according to turfgrass scientists. An excellent fertilizer is one containing IBDU, a relatively new controlled release nitrogen source.

"Dormant turfgrass plants continue to produce rhizomes and roots, even though vertical top growth has stopped," says Robert E. Rehbert, head agronomist for Vigoro lawn and garden products. "During this time nitrogen should be made available to the turfgrass plant as carbohydrates are naturally accumulating during the fall and early winter months."

IBDU is ideally suited for dormant nitrogen fertilization. Because of its slow release characteristics based on moisture, IBDU releases nitrogen later in the fall and earlier in the spring, promoting better rhizome and root growth.

IBDU is a patented, trade-marked nitrogen source, found only in Vigoro lawn fertilizers. It is extremely low in water solubility, in fact about 1,000 times less soluble than urea, a commonly used fast release nitrogen fertilizer. Also, slow releasing nitrogens other than IBDU depend on erratic factors such as decomposition by microbial attack, and are therefore ineffective at lower temperature ranges.

Because of its limited dependence on temperature for nitrogen release, a fall application of Vigoro with IBDU will provide an excellent turf during late fall and early spring.

Even though Labor Day has passed, don't put the lawn spreader away just yet. At least not until you've fertilized your lawn. And if you fertilize with a dependable product your grass will pay you back in beauty next spring.

Leave it alone

Plans by environmentalists to fight any future development at Grand Canyon National Park may be in the spirit of an early fan of the canyon. In 1903 President Theodore Roosevelt saluted the Grand Canyon, exhorting:

"Leave it as it is. You cannot improve on it. The ages have been at work on it and man can only mar it. What you can do is keep it for your children, your children's children, and for all who come after you, as one of the great sights which every American should see."

Stop Your Suffering . . .

A game of checkers takes a lot of thought and consideration as to which move to make next.

The decision you make may result in winning or losing the game.

Every day you have to make decisions. The wrong move may cause unhappiness to yourself or others.

These are the moves we all have to make for better living conditions, easier work, and fullest enjoyment of our lives.

These are the luxuries we all want and can have if we can afford the price.

But, the greatest luxury we can possess is good health.

In all the activities of life, in everything we do, health is an ever present consideration.

Yet few of us give any thought to the intricate functions of our bodily machinery, or do we realize the importance of the nervous system as a controlling factor.

Every part of your body depends upon the nervous system to produce the power and strength to function properly.

Interference with nerve transmission by a displaced vertebra somewhere in the spinal column causes one or more organs of the body to cease functioning properly.

Good health results from proper regulation of body function in its nervous system. If the organ is not receiving the normal quantity of nerve power inside, it cannot function efficiently.

The inside power must express itself in a normal and natural manner.

The important factor in maintaining that healthy, happy feeling is giving nature an opportunity to heal.

All matter has a breaking point, it can withstand just so much force without breaking down. So it is with the human body. Its component parts can take just so much abuse and no more.

Back of every ailment is a fundamental cause. In the correction of this cause, it is essential to utilize the method which will be most effective.

The chiropractor is specially trained to locate and remove dangerous nerve pressure. He is an expert at correcting displaced vertebra and releasing nerve pressure in the spinal column.

The spinal factor warrants thoughtful consideration, especially if other methods have proven ineffective.

I was in awful pain and suffered for a long time before I thought about going to a chiropractor. My husband and I read some ads in the local papers for Dr. Grassam's clinic and decided to give it a try.

Even though I was afraid, I thought anything would be better than the pain I was experiencing.

I was hurting because I had injured my back some time back and my first visit to Dr. Grassam was difficult.

Within one week I was doing all of the things I had done previously. And that included making the beds, which I used to make on my hands and knees.

Now if I have a problem I go straight to Dr. Grassam and within days I am feeling much better.

I am anxious to recommend chiropractic to everyone I meet who is in pain.

Thank you!

SGT. RALPH White of the Plymouth Police returned recently from 12 weeks at the FBI National Academy at Quantico, Va.

A good deal of his time was devoted to academic studies in classrooms at the University of Virginia. Their university instructors all were FBI agents. There was a physical side to the course with hours of running, skipping and jumping.

Ralph had to lose 30 pounds to be eligible for the training. He put on five pounds at the academy. "But somehow the weight has been redistributed," he said.

There were 250 persons participating in the course and they came from all over the world. There was a brigadier general from Egypt, a ranking police officer from Singapore, sheriffs, chiefs of police and veteran police officers.

by

cers from throughout the United States and Canada.

"Our spokesman was superintendent of the Hampshire District Constabulary of England. Incidentally, his name was Raymond White," said Ralph White. The course's main thrust was police management and candidates had to be recommended or nominated as candidates.

Ralph said, "It was amazing to talk to them. The exchange of ideas was a very important part of being there. They went through our Criminal Code and were very interested in the Miranda decision and civil rights."

The law enforcement officers lived on campus in dormitories with meals catered by Marriott's.

"It was a part of college life I had missed," said Ralph who has been with the Plymouth Police for 11 years. "I also picked up quite a few college credits."

SATURDAY, SEPT. 22, was Fred Richter Day.

Never heard of it? I hadn't either until last Friday and it was the best thing that happened to me all day.

It all has to do with the Western Wayne County Master Plumbers Association. Back in 1963, a master plumber named Fred Richter was instrumental in starting a community goodwill project. Each year, the owners of plumbing businesses who belonged to the association would contribute a day to help elderly or needy people.

When he died in 1970, members of the association decided to make the day a memorial to Fred Richter. Each year, two members of the club receive the assignment of finding the beneficiaries for the annual work day.

Jack England of Plymouth served in that capacity this year and he found two deserving families right in his own hometown.

The plumbers have spent the day in Livonia, Redford, Westland Farmington and other communities. Dan Bergstrom of Redford Township and president of the association, said, "Sometimes we have a hard time finding someone to help."

The owners of the plumbing companies get out of their business suits and into their coveralls for a day. With cigars in one hand and pipe wrenches in the other, they have a good time learning to work with tools again.

On Saturday, they had two jobs. At one, they installed new sewer lines and new water lines from the street; put in a new hot water heater, a new kitchen faucet and a new toilet.

At the other, they broke up the basement floor, put in new drains, new laundry tubs, a new hot water heater, then re-cemented the basement floor. They started at 8:30 a.m. and completed the jobs in late afternoon.

"We pick up all the cost," said Bergstrom. "Sometimes our suppliers will donate something. But if they don't the association pays for it. And usually the cities cooperate by waiving the permit fees. It's a goodwill gesture and we feel we owe it to the communities."

"That would be a heck of a payroll," was one comment. "They are cream of the crop."

WINNERS OF the five-week tournament at the Thursday afternoon party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center have been announced. They are Carl Peters, first; Ruth Sherman, second; and John Drewniak, third.

Gordon Sherman had high score two weeks in a row, Sept. 13 and Sept. 20. Bernice Rooks was co-winner one week and Lydia LaCombe shared the honors last week.

MARGARET SWARTZ tells me I gave "too much credit to the Detroit police" in relating the story of Margaret's mugging.

It was not the police who gathered up the stolen purses and their contents. A family who lives on LaSalle Boulevard, Detroit, saw the muggers throw away the purses. The couple went out and gathered up everything. Using the information on a credit card or other

A bloomin' party

Mary O'Connell and Florence Turner (right) show off the bright centerpieces and bulb packages that will be featured in Trailwood I Garden Club's "Bloomin' Party" which will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Pioneer Middle School. There will be dessert, prizes, cards or games and hundreds of bulbs to ensure color in springtime gardens. The party will be open to the public. For more information or for reservations, call Mary O'Connell, 459-1999, or Florence Turner, 459-5352. The club is a branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Fair Lane to host international tea

Garden clubbers from across the state will congregate Wednesday at Fair Lane, the 56-room Scottish baronial mansion in Dearborn that was the home of Henry and Clara Bryant Ford. The Dearborn branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will host the Michigan Division's 26th annual International Tea.

Clara Ford was a gracious hostess. She was involved in WNF&GA for many years as a founding member of the Dearborn branch and as national president from 1927-1935. Fair Lane was the scene of many Farm and Garden events as Mrs. Ford opened her home and gardens to one of her "very favorite organizations."

Sharon Palise, president of the Apple Run branch of Canton Township is the tea table hostess chairperson for the event. She has asked several local women to serve as tea hostesses.

They are: Mrs. Henry Pierce and Mrs. Charles Wolfe of the Plymouth branch; Mrs. Martin Stiglich and Mrs. Kenneth Gribble of the Lake Pointe branch; Mrs. A.L. Stuck and Mrs. Randall Silye of the Tonquish Creek branch; Mrs. Ray Ankofski, Mrs. Fred Reid, Mrs. James Wachlarz and Mrs. Larry Plopan of Apple Run; and Mrs. Robert Dehoff and Mrs. Don Kimery of Northville's Country Girls branch.

FAIR LANE was completed in 1915 at the cost of about $2 million. Built facing the Rouge River in the center of Dearborn, the estate was an island of privacy for the Fords. The beautiful but simple gardens were planned by Jens Jensen, a world renowned landscape architect.

Following Mrs. Ford's death in 1950, Fair Lane's furnishings were sold and the mansion and a portion of the estate were sold to the University of Michigan for its Dearborn Campus. Recognizing the historical importance of the mansion and the estate, the university set aside the home and 70 acres of gardens and woods from its physical development plans.

Portions of them are being restored through private gifts and revenues from tours, conferences and catered functions. Fair Lane of today continues to provide a haven of natural serenity in the midst of a bustling city and university campus.

FARM AND GARDEN members and their guests at the tea will be able to walk in the two restored gardens adjacent to the mansion, stroll down Jensen's Meadow to the Hidden Lake, or take a short guided tour along the Braille nature trail that was constructed by U-M students.

During the afternoon, there will be a variety of ethnic music and dancing in the Sisson Room, the large music room that opens to the patio. It provides a spacious view of the tree-lined Jensen's Meadow.

At 2 p.m. and again at 3, a Scottish bagpiper will walk through the meadow playing his pipes. He will come to the music room before returning slowly to Hidden Lake.

Members and their guests have been asked to dress in ethnic costumes to add color to the international theme of the tea.

PROCEEDS FROM the tea benefit the International Farm Youth Exchange, a Michigan 4-H Foundation project. The Michigan Division WNF&GA has been the principal state sponsor of the youth exchange since 1948. Donations for tickets for the tea are $5.50 and tickets must be purchased in advance by members and their guests.

Mrs. William Milliken, Michigan's first lady, is an honorary member of the Michigan Division and has been invited to attend. Mrs. Parker Rockwell, national WNF&GA president will be an honored guest. State president, Mrs. H. James Renaud of East Lansing, will head the receiving line.

Guests will have an opportunity to meet 4-H students who traditionally are honored guests at the autumn event.

Green and white WNF&GA flags will guide visitors through the campus to the mansion and parking facilities across the road from Fair Lane. International flags will line the circular drive in front of the mansion.

Charles Burr (left) and Dennis Cockrum, both of Plymouth, spent the summer working in professional theater.

Burr, Cockrum perform in professional theater

When most college students finish their summer jobs, they just return to school, having earned some money but usually little else from their employment.

But Dennis Cockrum of Plymouth isn't like most college students. For one thing, he worked this summer as an actor at the Court Theatre in Chicago.

For another, he was nominated for a Jeff Award, the Chicago equivalent of Broadway's Tony Award, for his summer performance. For yet another, he has been hired to perform in another play in Chicago which will open in October.

PLYMOUTH NATIVE Charles Burr, like Cockrum a student at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, also worked in a repertory theater this summer.

Burr worked as an acting intern at the Boars Head Theatre in Lansing, performing in three shows while serving as assistant director for one play.

Cockrum, who has been a graduate student at Eastern, played the same character in two different plays. He was cast as Guildenstern in Shakespeare's "Hamlet" and Tom Stoppard's modern play "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead."

Cockrum was nominated for the Jeff Award for his performance in the Stoppard play.

Burr, who recently graduated from Eastern, performed in "Harvey," "Man of La Mancha," and "George M!"

Before setting off on the audition trail for professional work, both actors gained valuable experience at Eastern. Cockrum performed in 18 or 19 mainstage shows, five lab shows and directed a lab show while at Eastern. Burr also has an extensive performance background from Eastern, having major roles in such plays as "Hamlet," "Abelard and Heloise," and "Tuscaloosa's Calling Me But I'm Not Going."

In addition to Cockrum and Burr, seven other Eastern students worked in summer repertory theaters this year. Ken Stevens, an assistant professor in the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts at Eastern, said he believes so many Eastern students got jobs because they were better prepared than other persons auditioning.

STEVENS, who also serves as associate producer during the summer at the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City, took a group of EMU students to auditions in March. Eight producers from theaters in Michigan were present.

"I was very pleased to receive so many compliments from the other producers who were there," Stevens said. "It got to be almost a little bit embarrassing because all our students auditioned right after one another, and at one point one of the producers leaned over and said, 'When I look at my call-back list here, I don't have anybody on it except Eastern people.'"

The Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts at Eastern has instituted several programs to help students get summer theater jobs, Stevens said. These include pre-audition screening, criticism of auditions by faculty in the department and helping students arrange audition sessions.

In addition, David Juare, a casting director for New Dramatists in New York, served a residency on campus and conducted classes to help students with their auditioning techniques.

NOW members to review Phil Donahue TV show

The first fall meeting of the Northwest County Chapter of the National Organization for Women will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 26. New location for membership meetings is the Jackson Community Center, Lyndon and Hubbard streets, Livonia.

Glenna Davis of Northville, who chairs the program committee, announced that the September meeting titled "ERA Debates Re-visited," will focus on a review of the Phil Donahue Show and a recent Sonya Friedman "Saturday Evening" production.

The chapter solicits members from Northville, Novi, Farmington, Redford, Livonia, Westland, Garden City, Plymouth and Canton Township. Membership meetings will be at the Jackson Community Center the last Wednesday of each month.

Here come the clowns

"The Clown Meeting," a fun-filled, action-packed, three ring theater event, will be presented at 4:30 and 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27 in the Power Center, Ann Arbor.

"The Clown Meeting" will be presented by the Living Room Theater of Boston, a professional adult troupe which has toured the United States with its plays. The group recently played to standing-room-only houses at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. Last year they toured Michigan through the Detroit Institute of Art's Show on the Road program.

The five actors in "Meeting" will appear in costumes and makeup with sets. They will introduce various styles of clowning to the audience. These will include Charlie Chaplin's tramp everyman, the slapstick and fire-eating circus clown, and the juggling medieval jester.

The show encourages audience participation and is designed for young people of all ages. The performers' skits emphasize the interdependency of people, the ambiguity of life and the wonderful element of surprise.

Sponsored by the Young People's Theater, the show focuses on the special relationship between the clown and the child. The clown is all trust and innocence — he has the enormous tenacious ability to bounce back from adversity — he chooses to follow his heart.

Tickets for the "Clown Meeting" are on sale at the Tix-Info in Jacobson's J. Shop, State Street, Ann Arbor from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Youth prices (under 18 years) are from $1 to $3; adults from $2.50 to $5.50.

For information, group orders, and teacher materials for class groups, call Young People's Theater at 996-3888.

The exhibit in the Rackham Building on Washington Street, Ann Arbor, will be open to the public through Oct. 5. Ruth Inglehart, art critic for the Ann Arbor News, was juror. Her criteria for judging the artwork were the basic structure of the painting (composition), interesting use of positive and negative space, content (not necessarily realistic subject matter), and color.

Dittrich

Fur Trade-in Spectacular

(EXTENDED THRU SATURDAY)

CAN YOU FACE ANOTHER WINTER WITH A FUR YOU NO LONGER LIKE?

It doesn't matter what condition your old fur is in, we'll give you a trade-in allowance so "BIG" you won't believe it.

Your old fur need not have been purchased from us. There's no limit on its age. It will be put to retirement far, far away.

Right now the trade-in value is at its highest peak, and you'll be buying early enough to get ahead of soaring prices and anticipated fur scarcities.

So take advantage of this marvelous once-a-year opportunity and abandon that tired old fur, during Dittrich's Fur Trade-In Spectacular.

Be the first to choose from our smashing '79 designer collection... It's the most dazzling and magnificent in our history.

P.S. The Dittrich's may even give an allowance on cloth or leather coats.

Do your own shocks

If your car needs new shocks, you may be able to install them yourself.

The front units may take a bit longer than the rear ones, because of possible clearance problems and the necessity of working under the front fender.

If you have MacPherson strut type suspension, have the installation done by professional shock absorber installers.

To install new shocks, you will need sockets, wrenches, pliers, screwdrivers, vise grips and a can of penetrating oil. Penetrating oil may be needed for the upper and lower mounting nuts and bolts.

All you need is a little patience. Be sure to read carefully the instruction sheets enclosed with your new shocks.

If any jacking of the vehicle is to be done, read and follow instructions in the manual supplied by the vehicle manufacturer.

Do not "hang" the rear wheels on cars with coil springs. On these cars, the shock absorber limits the movement of the axle assembly. The axle must be supported to prevent putting strain on the brake line and keep the spring in its proper position.

Note the positions of the old shock absorbers and locations of all mounting parts. You might want to make a rough sketch.

Don't twist the ends off mounting pins or studs. Apply penetrating oil to threads, especially if the nuts are rusted.

Make sure that all new mounting parts needed are on hand. Do not use the old nuts on the new shocks you are installing if new parts are supplied.

Hold each new shock in a vertical position and pump it up and down several times to "prime" it and work any air out of the operating chambers.

To remove the front shocks, locate the shock absorbers. They are under the hood, near the wheel well. If they are MacPherson strut shocks, don't try to replace them yourself.

Hold upper stem of shock so it does not turn, then remove the upper stem retaining nut, retainer and rubber cushion. Note: On units without dirt shields, the stem end has been machined to allow you to hold the stem when removing the nut.

With the vehicle raised, remove the two bolts that hold the lower shock absorber pivot to the lower control arm, and pull the shock absorber out from the bottom. (On some vehicles, shocks are removed from the top.)

To remove rear shocks, locate them. They are near the rear axle and springs.

Raise the vehicle and support the rear axle.

Disconnect the upper mountings first, then the lower mountings. Note: When installing the new rear shocks, connect the upper mountings first.

When installing front shocks, place inner retainer and power rubber cushion on stem and insert shock up through lower control arm into hole in lower control arm. Place upper cushion outer retainer and nut on shock absorber upper stem. Install lower mounting bolts to control arm.

In some cases, when installing extra-heavy-duty shock absorbers or front stabilizing units, it may be necessary to slightly enlarge the hole in the lower control arm to insert the unit. This can be done by reaming the hole or by filing or grinding it. Enlarge hole just enough to allow unit to pass through.

Do make sure all nuts and bolts are securely tightened.

Do not overtighten stem mountings. The rubber cushions should not bulge outside of the washers.

Do not reuse mountings parts that are severely rusted or otherwise damaged. If new parts are needed that are not supplied, they must be of equal size, grade, thread pitch and strength.

Do not grip the polished piston rod with any tool. A small pick or scratch can cut the seal during operation and cause rapid failure.

Do not damage the shock or its mountings.

When installing extra-heavy-duty rear shocks or rear stabilizing units, make sure that hydraulic brake lines, fuel lines and tail pipes are clear of the unit. All clearances must be checked with the car body both up and down (with wheels hanging and the body pushed down). When necessary, move lines and tail pipe to insure clearance.

Check your installation when you think you are done. If locators are supplied with stem mountings for use in the mounting bracket holes, check to make sure they are correctly installed in the bracket holes AFTER the car weight is on the tires.

Check the instruction sheet again to be sure they are right, because trouble will develop very rapidly if they are not correct.

Make sure that the new units clear all close chassis parts. Check brake and fuel lines to make sure they are okay and will not interfere during operation. Also check tail pipe, muffler and any other close part.

Check pressure in all tires . . . make sure they are inflated to the manufacturers recommendations.
