Homes stay on market as buyers disappear

By DARLENE STINSON

A Canton man may turn down a job promotion in Minneapolis because he can't sell his home.

A Plymouth woman, whose youngest daughter will start college in the fall, has her eye on a condominium to alleviate expected aches of the empty-house syndrome.

"But if we can't sell, we'll just have to look at the good points of staying here," she said of her ranch-style home in Plymouth.

The attitudes of area home sellers is pessimistic on the whole.

But a hopeful tone noticeably creeps into their voices when they speak of last week's plunge in mortgage interest rates.

Three major lenders — Detroit Federal Savings, First Federal Savings and Standard Federal Savings — slashed interest rates on 30-year mortgages with 20 percent downpayments from 15 to 12½ percent. A few weeks ago, interest rates hit a record-high 17 percent.

The downward spiral means a drastic reduction in the mortgage payments of would-be home buyers.

At 17 percent interest, a $50,000 mortgage would carry monthly payments of $712 excluding taxes and insurance. The same mortgage at 12½ percent carries payments of $533 a month for principal and interest only.

"It makes me feel a bit better that interest rates are down," says a Canton woman, whose husband has been transferred to Philadelphia. "But the economy is still bad, and there's so many homes on the market."

KEN DIVIDOCK, owner of a Century 21 office on Ford Road, says approximately 275 Canton homes are normally on the market at this time of year — typically the busiest time for realtors. This year, however, 383 are listed.

The picture in Plymouth and Plymouth and Plymouth Township is similar. Realtors count approximately 200 homes on the market compared to the usual average of 125, according to Plymouth broker Jim McKeon.

The realtors report more inquires from would-be home buyers since interest rates plunged last week.

"But there's no big flurry yet," said Dividock.

The lowered interest rates have raised the optimism of Plymouth Township resident Pat Graney, whose ranch-style home has been listed since March. Her husband was transferred to Illinois four months ago. Ms. Graney has stayed behind with her three children in an effort to sell the family's home.

"It's no fun," she said of her family's present situation.

"I think people will start looking more now that the interest rates have come now. But they've down for about four days now," she said Monday. "No one's come through our house yet."

Realtors are hopeful that lowered interest rates will wield an impact on the housing market within the next few weeks.

Last weekend — the first since interest rates came down — is a typically slow one for realtors because of Mother's Day, says McKeon.

"IT'S BEEN 'Pay your overhead and eat hot dogs and beans,' " Dividock said of realtors' personal finances.

"There's a demand for housing. But the interest rates have forced people out of the market."

Dividock said the market is glutted with sellers, like the Graneys, who must move because of a job transfer.

Approximately one-third of the sellers are considering short-term land contract sales, Dividock estimates. Under those terms, sellers may charge a maximum 11 percent interest. But they are usually unable to recoup all the equity in their homes until the land contract expires.

Many sellers need the equity in order to purchase new housing, Dividock said.

He believes that the lowered interest rates will change many sellers' minds about land contract terms.

Nellie Nordstrom said she and her husband may consider land contract terms in order to sell their colonial home in Canton's Pickwick subdivision. But they need the money in order to buy a comparable home near Lapeer, where Mrs. Nordstrom's husband has been transferred.

She estimates that only seven prospective buyers have toured her home since it was listed with realtors six months ago. Her husband has been living in a motel near Lapeer during that time and commuting home on weekends.

"It's just too far for him to drive to work," Mrs. Nordstrom said. "But it certainly doesn't make for a very good home life."

SELLERS REPORT the personal inconveniences of keeping a house spic and span for the unexpected arrival of a would-be buyer and an interrupted home life when a job transfer is involved.

"We've been through moves before," said a Canton woman, whose Carriage Hills quad-level has been listed for five months. "But this involves the uncertainty of not knowing whether we're moving or not."

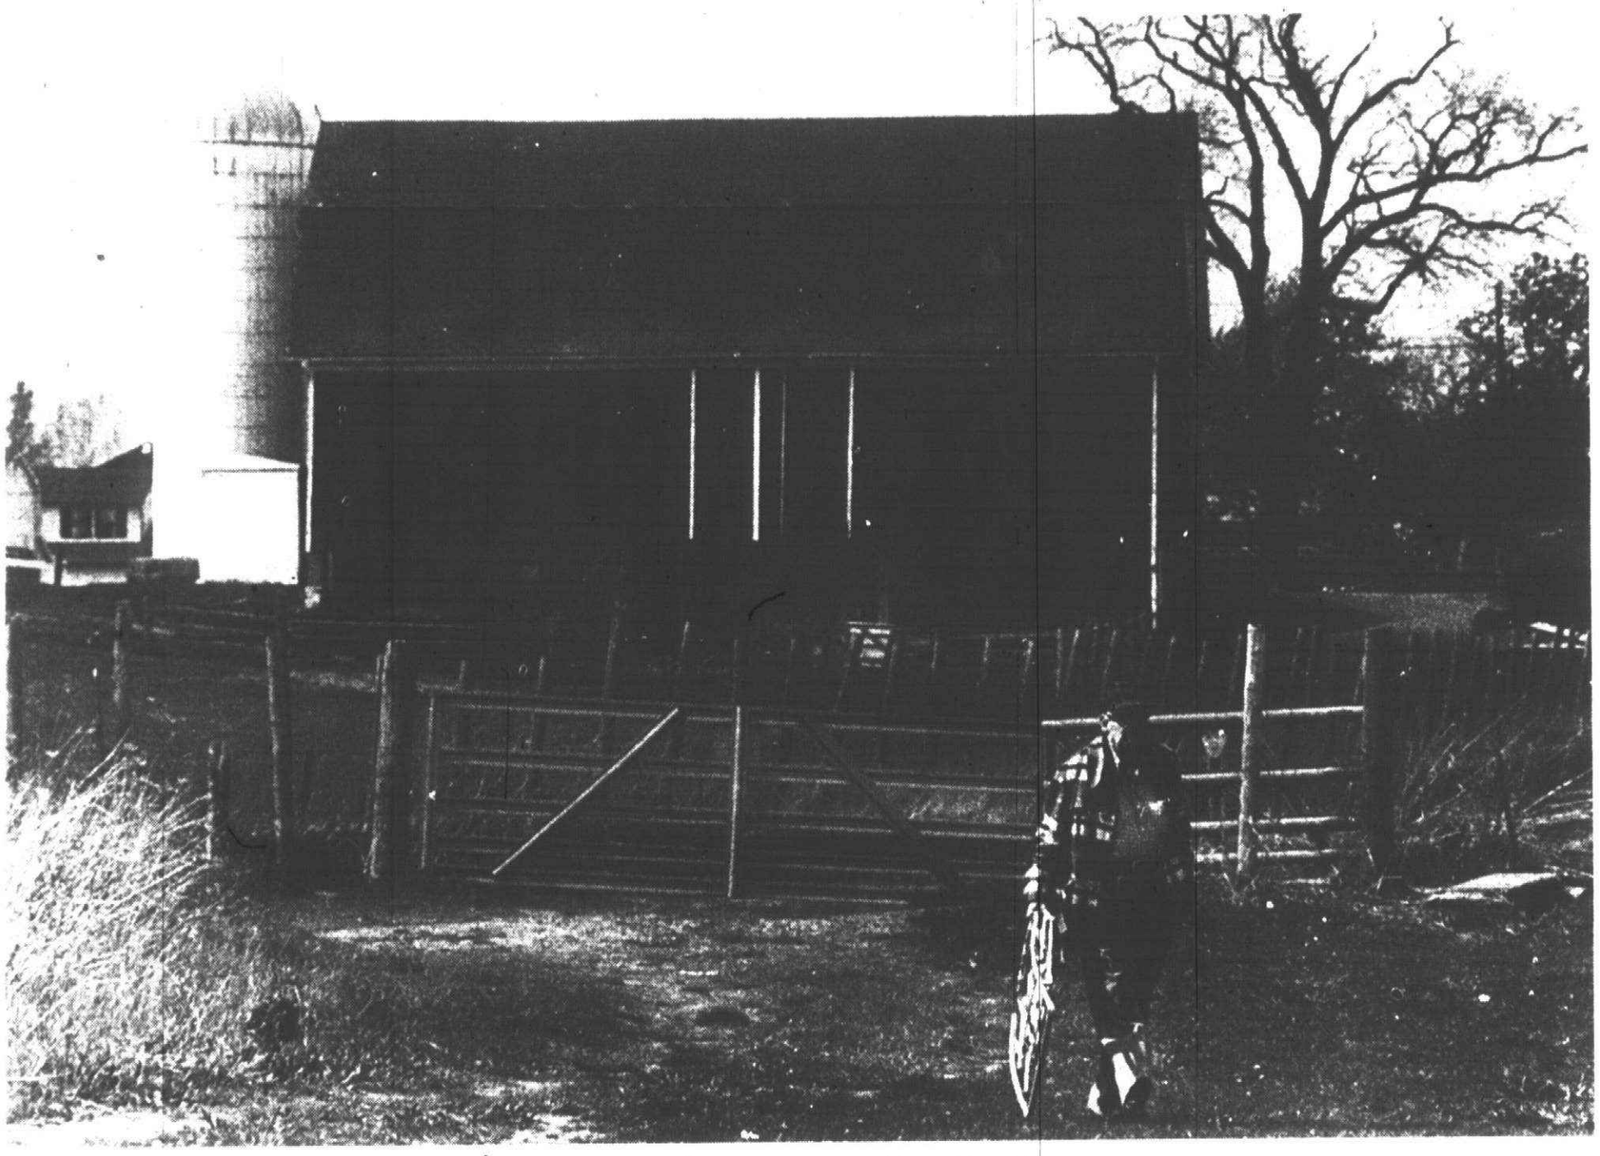

The woman, who asked to remain unidentified, said her husband has been offered a higher-paying job in Minneapolis. He has decided to turn down the promotion, however, unless his company agrees to compensate the couple financially for their inability to sell their house.

Board agrees to purchase new chassis

The $42,000 purchase of two new ambulance chassis is just one of the steps taken by the Canton Township Board following anonymous charges of poor vehicle maintenance in the fire department.

"There's almost $1 million in equipment down there that's ready to fall apart," resident Tim Orbacki told the Township board Tuesday night.

Orbacki, a professional mechanic, served on a committee that investigated the condition of fire department vehicles last week.

The committee was formed after Trustee Robert Greenstein received an anonymous letter charging poor vehicle maintenance. The author claimed that oil in many of the vehicles, including a rescue unit in which an engine recently blew, had not been changed in two years.

Committee members included Orbacki, Supervisor Noel Culbert, Clerk John Flodin and Greenstein.

Fire Chief Mel Paulun clains that the vehicles have been maintained better than the author of the letter charges. He admits to lax record-keeping on vehicle repairs.

But Culbert said the oil in many of the vehicles "appeared very dirty.

"There is no documentation whatsoever when the oil was changed last," he said.

THE COMMITTEE said many of the vehicles are severely rusted. None of the vehicles, except a recently-purchased fire truck, has been rustproofed.

Citing the extremely poor condition of two rescue units, the committee recommended the immediate purchase of new chassis for the vehicles. The board unanimously approved the request and agreed to use $42,000 of federal revenue sharing funds for the purchase.

Other committee recommendations approved by the Canton board include:

- Promotion of Capt. Art Winkle to the position of chief of operations. Winkle will assume responsibilities for maintenance of the vehicles and offer administrative assistance to the fire chief.
- Immediate rustproofing of all fire department vehicles.
- A directive to Paulun for the adoption of a new record-keeping policy on the maintenance of vehicles.
- A complete report on the condition of all vehicles in the fire department.

Board members recognized the need for the immediate hiring of a full-time mechanic for the fire department. A part-time mechanic is assigned currently to the department.

Big budget cuts in store for P-C school district

The bad news keeps getting worse.

A budget deficit for next year once at $2.5 million now is exceeding $3 million and tomorrow doesn't look much brighter.

Some additional bad news was given Monday night to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The school board learned that the millage rollback required by the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment actually will be 1.69 mills rather than the 1.32 mills expected earlier.

The expected loss of 1.69 mills will result in a loss in revenue of about $1.4 million.

The larger rollback resulted when county officials collected more information on the tax base in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Based on the latest state equalized valuation (SEV) figures, the total tax base has increased more than was known previously and so the district's total millage must be rolled back (reduced) by an additional 0.37 of a mill.

The school administration already is anticipating a loss in state aid of about $1.5 million based on the state aid proposals now before the Legislature.

The district also expects an executive order cutback from Gov. Milliken to come in August which will slash revenues by another $340,000. The money lost from these three sources (rollback, state aid and governor's cutback) totals some $3.2 million.

RAY HOEDEL, assistant superintendent for business, reports that school year 1980-81 expenses will total some $40 million.

One of the proposals in the June 9 election is a request to levy the current authorized millage. This proposal, in effect, would allow the school district to levy the millage which otherwise would have to be rolled back because of the Headlee Amendment.

Earlier administrators had figured this ballot proposal would restore 1.32 mills. Based on the latest information from the Wayne County Allocation Board, the proposal actually will restore about 1.69 mills or reverse a projected loss of $1.4 million in income.

Hoedel also points out that the $11 million bond issue on the June 9 ballot also includes some projects which now are budgeted for in the '80-81 operating budget.

If the bond proposal is approved, Hoedel added, then some $600,000 in the operating budget can be taken out. That $600,000 shift, in effect, would help the district balance its operating funds for the coming school year.

BECAUSE THE ECONOMY is in bad shape now, Superintendent John M. Hoben has instructed central administration to come up with plans to cut budget in case both ballot proposals fail.

Even if both ballot proposals are approved, report ed Dr. Hoben, the operating budget will have to be cut by some $600,000 to $800,000.

If the millage is approved but the bond issue is defeated, said Hoben, then some $1.2 to $1.4 million would have to be cut to balance the budget.

If the millage were defeated but the bond proposal was approved, added Hoben, then the $1.7 to $1.9 million in cuts would have to be made.

If both proposals failed than the cuts needed would be between $2.3 to $2.5 million.

The difference between $2.5 million and the expected deficit of $3.2 million could be made up by spending some $700,000 now available in fund equity.

The central administrative team came up with some suggested cuts and Monday night presented the school board with an explanation of the process to be used in making cuts.

Although some trustees disagreed on some of the specific cuts proposed, most favored the process used and agreed that cuts ranging from half-million dollars to $2.5 million will be made depending on the outcome of the June 9 election.

Some of the programs which would be cut first, based on the administration's recommendations, are: cheerleaders and pom pon, library substitutes, board seminar expense, management development, CEP intermural, negotiation expenses, WSDP radio, after-school activities, legal services, warehouse deliveries, drivers education, Growth Works, TAG programs, transportation, co-op programs.

Some trustees disagreed about making cuts for Growth Works and driver education.

Areas which the administration did not want to cut, and would be among the last to be slashed, included: librarians K-12, K-5 reading teachers, K-12 unified arts teachers, block grants, general aides, added teachers to stay even with student growth, building cleaning supplies, custodial staff and health services.

Hoben said the administration has determined that, at this point, it won't be necessary to pink slip (lay off) any certified employees.

Dr. Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction, stressed that the while cuts may be made in school year '80-81 that conditions will get worse and budget year '81-82 will see total elimination of many programs unless relief is given.

DURING A DISCUSSION on the June 9 election, Florence Beier, administrative assistant for community relations, stated the campaign would focus on getting the "yes" out to the polls.

She identified as potential "yes" groups the following: school employees; elementary parents; special education parents; and parents of students in the Talented and Gifted (TAG) programs.

The citizens working on the campaign say that budget areas which parents don't want cut include: classroom size, supplies, transportation, safe buildings, supervision, and energy saving activities which have a definite payback.

Employees lose car-use fringe

A fringe benefit has been yanked from four township employees as part of the Canton board's effort to conserve money.

The four supervisory personnel will not be allowed to drive township automobiles home at the end of a four-month period.

The township board made that decision Tuesday night while establishing a policy for the use of township vehicles. Excluded from the policy are heads of the township's "emergency" departments—the DPW, the fire department and the police force.

Currently, only four "non-emergency" supervisors are allowed personal use of township automobiles under an informal, long-standing practice. They are Finance Director Mike Gorman, Ordinance Director Bruce Phillips, Aaron Machnik, of the building office, and Gary Barnette, deputy building official.

Gorman estimated that it costs the township $110 annually in gasoline costs for the four township employees to drive the vehicles to and from work.

Township Board members have established a no-frills spending policy to conserve funds in a recession. They said the current practice discriminates against department heads who are not allowed personal use of township cars.

The new policy will not take effect for the four employees until September, however. Board members said the supervisors need that amount of time to purchase a second family car, if necessary.

During that time, the supervisors will reimburse the township for gasoline costs at the rate of 20 cents a mile.

Gorman said the policy will force his family to purchase another car. The finance director and his wife currently own one automobile.

"Personally, I'm sorry to see it go," Gorman said of the fringe benefit. "But I'm not going to quit over it."

The policy established by the board Tuesday night allows township employees to take automobile homes for special purposes with the written permission of Canton's elected supervisor.

Gorman said the township owns 19 vehicles for the business-related use of employees at township hall.

Treasurer Jim Donahue, Clerk John Flodin and Supervisor Noel Culbert voted against the no-car policy.

School board buys vans; bus purchase is conditional

Purchase of buses was approved Monday night by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The board voted to buy four vans and one wheelchair bus to be used for busing special education students.

These five vehicles are considered necessary enough that they will be purchased regardless of the outcome of the June 9 election.

Approval of other vehicles, though, on Monday night was made conditional upon what happens to the ballot proposals in the June 9 election.

The board voted to buy 12 full-size buses if both ballot proposals are approved.

If the millage proposal is approved and the bond issue defeated, however, the district would buy nine full-size buses.

If the bond issue is approved and the millage proposal defeated, then the district would buy only two full-size buses.

The vans will cost about $97,000 while the 12 full-size buses will cost about $306,000.

Originally the district had hoped to buy 16 buses if the bond issue had been approved in March. That bond issue had included some $500,000 to buy buses.

The delay so far in purchasing the full-size buses has cost the district about $37,500, according to Dale Goby, director of transportation. If the board had waited until next fall to buy the buses, Goby added, the additional cost would be $60,000.

If the decision were delayed until fall, Goby argued, the district would be at the replacement stage where it would be buying buses for August 1981 and could then be looking at a total bus order of $750,000.

Goby added that the district still is waiting for delivery on some of the buses ordered a year ago and that these buses will not be delivered until December 1980 or January 1981.

Goby added that it costs about seven cents a mile in maintenance for the district's 1977 buses, about 15 cents a mile to maintain the 1975 buses, and 45 cents a mile in maintenance for 1972 buses.

Trustee Richard Arlen, however, suggested it might be better to spend $7,000 a year in maintenance than to spend $25,000 in one year to buy a new vehicle.

Arlen added that the real issue was a $500,000 loss in cash flow from buying buses vs. the maintenance cost as a trade-off — something that needed to be looked at in light of a potential $3.2 million deficit in the coming year.

Why is this woman smiling?

The first step of the makeover was a facial involving the use of various lotions to clean the pores and make the skin glow.

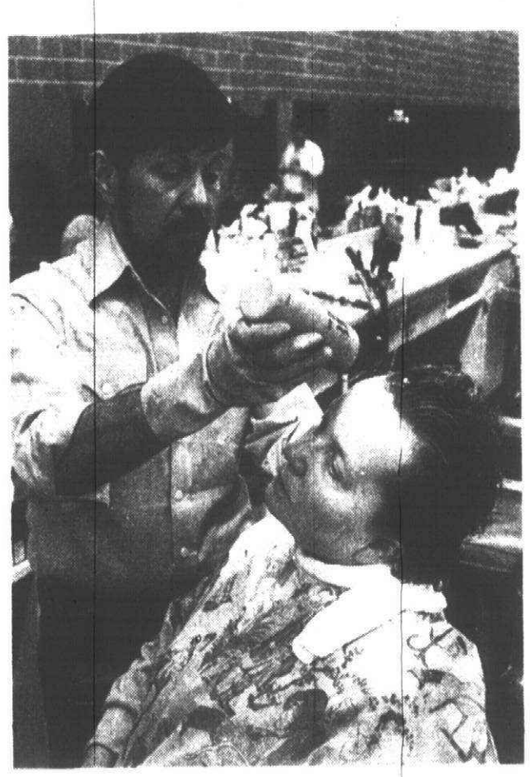

Marie Lister wanted to have a brand new look for her upcoming trip to Disney World in Florida with her daughter and grandson.

"I wanted to have nice pictures for later years," she says of her decision to enter a contest sponsored by radio station WCAR in Garden City.

The contest was part of the "Brand New Day" radio program hosted by Princess Harris. The prize for the woman who wrote the best letter saying why she would like a beauty makeover was a day of pampering at the Peacock Room beauty salon in Canton. Mrs. Lister and Florence Sopierski of Detroit were both named winners of the contest.

The process took most of the day, but for all concerned, the results were judged excellent.

Sellers' outlook brightens a bit

"We're disappointed, because we were looking forward to the move," she said. "It meant more money, more house and so on.

"But we've been happy here. We're at the point now where we really don't care anymore. We just want to know one way or another."

THE PROGNOSIS for the housing market's immediate future is unclear.

McKeon believes that mortgage interest rates will inch downward a trifle more, then stabilize. Dividock believes that interest rates will leap after next November's election.

Both realtors expressed surprise that interest rates plummeted so quickly last week.

Dividock pointed to one sunny spot in the housing market, from the sellers' point of view.

Despite a sparse demand for houses and a relatively large supply, Dividock said he has seen no one "give their homes away." Home prices have stabilized after years of rampant appreciation.

Dividock said realistically-priced homes should sell in about 60 days, particularly if land contract terms or a low mortgage assumption is available.

He admitted, however, that many homes have been "sitting for months."

"The activity has picked up a bit (because of the lowered interest rates)," Dividock said. "But if you compare it to the last two years, it's still like day and night."

Bella less flamboyant, still feisty

By LOUISE OKRUTSKY

Her representatives like to point out she has a new, toned-down image.

Gone are the flamboyantly flowered hats which were as much a Bella Abzug trademark as the strong, husky voice asking for equal pay and equal rights.

But once she begins to speak, the effect of the conservative straw hat and soft hairstyle fade as the familiar persona emerges from the new package.

In Farmington Hills to speak before the Sisterhood of Adat Shalom, Ms. Abzug blasted President Jimmy Carter as a "liar" who sacrificed community programs affecting women, children and the elderly for his own political ambitions.

While denouncing the Carter administration for its handling of domestic and foreign issues, Ms. Abzug predicted that those three groups will overcome political neglect.

The '80's will be a good decade for women and for Sen. Ted Kennedy, according to Ms. Abzug.

Showing her support for Kennedy, Ms. Abzug appeared confident that he would win the nomination despite the fact that the senator trails Carter in the number of delegates committed to him.

"I THINK Kennedy has a chance. By the time July comes around, the administration will have unraveled the economic situation to the point where it would be impossible to elect Carter," she said.

The president has bungled foreign and domestic crisis and out of this leadership crisis comes a growing frustration, she said.

"People are really frustrated," she said. They've tuned out a bit. There's a desperate need for open, honest and fresh leadership."

Such leadership would be faced with an issue which the former U.S. representative from New York sees as a failure for the Carter administration.

"Inflation has confirmed the failure of the president on domestic and foreign issues. We've been misled a great deal about what the real issues are.

"The real issue for the public is the economy."

Instead of decontrolling the price of oil, Ms. Abzug believes that Carter should impose controls. Rising oil prices are a cause of inflation, she maintains.

Controls on profits and wages would be more effective than the drive to balance the budget, she said.

"Cutting the federal budget has less than one-tenth of 1 percent impact on inflation."

THESE CUTS affect programs for the elderly, the cities, women and children, according to Ms. Abzug.

Middle income, working persons, the poor elderly and women are sacrificing their needs for a balanced budget.

"No sacrifice is being asked of the oil companies. They're making their largest profit in history," she said.

"The reverse of what should be happening is happening. People are not aware they're following false leaders in Mr. Carter and Mr. Reagan."

Moving on to foreign affairs, she lambasted Carter for accepting the Shah of Iran into the U.S.

"It was a mistake," she said.

"He knew that hostages would be taken if he allowed the Shah entry and he was warned."

"His actions were political and dangerous. He has been extremely reckless. He has been deceiving the American people."

She charges Carter with allowing the U.S. delegate to the United Nations to vote against Israel. Denials of such a plan, she says are a "plain, ordinary lie and a political move."

Board examines fire dept. vehicles

The full-time mechanic's position was created by the board about six months ago. But the merit commission did not fill the position until late last month. The mechanic was subsequently fired for incompetence.

Orbacki criticized the Township Board for setting the salary of the mechanic at $20,000 annually. He said diesel mechanics normally receive $19,500 to $27,000.

"A salary of $20,000 won't get you a good man," Orbacki said.

BOARD MEMBERS indicated that disciplinary action may be taken against someone in the fire department for the poor condition of the vehicles.

Several board members pointed an accusing finger at Paulun and cited the chief's responsiblities for the over-all operation of his department.

Plan to move students OK'd

A plan has been approved to change school attendance patterns somewhat to house students during the 1980-81 school year.

A report on moving some students to other schools was approved Monday night by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The changes are being made to take care of student overflow situations which otherwise would occur next year at individual schools, explained Dr. John M. Hoben, superintendent of schools.

The schools facing overflow in enrollment include Smith, Fiegel, Gallimore, Hulsing elementaries, East and Pioneer middle schools.

In making the adjustments an attempt was made, as much as possible, to move new students coming into the district rather than students now living here, explained Hoben.

Hoben added that the administration tried, to the extent possible, to match up families to year-round and nine-month school calendars.

The growth requiring these changes is coming from developments such as Lincolnshire, Hampton Court, Forest Trails, Mayfair, Sunflower III, and the housing units under construction at Lotz and Cherry Hill Roads.

THE ELEMENTARY school changes will include:

- Continuing to send overflow students from Smith tp Bird and Starkweather elementaries.
- Transporting the apartment/condominium complex students at Cherry Hill and Lotz in southern Canton to Allen Elementary in Plymouth Township. This will allow Fiegel to remain on a nine-month calendar for the coming year. If kindergarten enrollment reaches a fifth class, however, a portable classroom likely would be added to the site.
- When Gallimore reaches capacity, excess students would be transported to Miller Elementary. This would include new students moving into Lincolnshire, Hampton Courts, Forest Trails.
- When Hulsing reaches capacity, the new students from Mayfair and Sunflower III would be transported to Allen.

MIDDLE SCHOOL changes will include:

- Some 66 students originally scheduled for East will attend West Middle. The affected students, now in the Fiegel area, would be from Brookside, Holiday Park, Timberlea Farms and the condo complex at Cherry Hill/Lotz.
- Some 30 students from Honeytree and Stoneybrook apartments in Canton in the Tanger area, originally scheduled for East, will attend Central Middle.
- Some 80 students in the Eriksson area originally scheduled for Pioneer instead will attend West Middle.

Hoben summarized that most of the shifts involved the overflows at Fiegel going to Allen, at Gallimore going to Miller, at East going to West, and at Pioneer going to Central.

Trustee Flossie Tonda objected that some of the moves at East involved families who lived in the district for 10 years who now will be moved to West for one year and then face a move to another school the following year when major boundary adjustments are made.

Hoben agreed that major boundary changes are forthcoming in another year but that these changes involved leaving the boundaries unchanged and moving groups of students because of specific overflow problems at individual schools.

"Something has to give."

ANDY PRUNER

Pruner files for trustee

Wayne County Sheriff Andy Pruner, 41, has become the first official challenger in the primary race for a spot on the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees.

Pruner, a resident of the township since 1972, announced his bid for a trustee positon last Friday. It is not his first try at an elected local post, however. He ran unsuccessfully in 1976 against incumbents Lee Fidge and Maurice Breen.

Pruner is a registered Republican and is also running unopposed for precinct delegate from the Wayne County 2nd District.

He has been a member of the sheriff's department for 10 years, working at the county's main jail and most recently on secondary roads in western Wayne County.

"I thought I'd give it another shot," he said in explaining his political motivation. "I attend most if not all of the township board meetings, and I think I've proved that I'm more concerned than the average citizen in the running of the Plymouth Township community."

A resident of the Bradburry Park Homeowners Association, Pruner also is a member of the Southeastern Homeowners Association and the League of Women Voters.

Norman Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations, said the agreement provides for a 9 percent increase in salary for the first year, 7 percent in the second, and 7 percent in the third year.

The agreement also includes improvements in longevity pay and in dental insurance coverage.

The board district has reached tentative agreements with bus drivers but a ratification vote hasn't been taken yet by the union.

The only other union without a signed contract to date is the teachers' union. That tentative now is awaiting a trial date in Wayne Circuit Court and before an administrative law judge of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC).

Teachers are working without a signed contract because of a disagreement over cost-of-living provisions in the contract tentatively agreed to by both sides.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER SELECTION

A member of a board of education assumes one of the most important responsibilities that can be assigned to any citizen - that of managing public education.

The Plymouth-Canton Education Association (teacher's association), in an attempt to inform the public on current educational issues, would like to pose some questions for you to consider before making your decision at the Plymouth-Canton School Board Election on Monday, June 9th.

- MOTIVATION
  What are the reasons his, her name was submitted for candidacy?
- COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT
  How has the candidate been involved in community activities and/or organizations?
- VOTING RECORD
  Has the candidate shown a consistent voting record on school issues?
- BOARD MEETINGS
  Is the candidate familiar with school board meetings and how often has he/she been in attendance?
- EXPERIENCE - MANAGEMENT/FINANCIAL
  What is the candidate's level of experience with budget issues and finance?
- CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS
  How would the candidate expedite the negotiations process?
- CHANGE
  What are the major concerns facing the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and how would the candidate seek improvement of these issues?

WE URGE ALL PLYMOUTH-CANTON RESIDENTS TO BECOME AWARE OF THE ISSUES AND CANDIDATES.

Help for Madonna

Madonna College in Livonia received a boost recently in the form of a check for $10,400 from Western Electric in Plymouth. The donation was made to Madonna through the Michigan Colleges Foundation (MCF), an association of 16 independent colleges and universities in the state that appeal to business and industry for funds. The MCF each year raises about $20 million from almost 22,000 contributors. Shown leaving Western Electric after accepting the donation is Sister Lauriana, vice president of Madonna College, who is helped down the steps by John Lore, executive director of the MCF. In the background are Jim Boyce (left) and Jim McGettigan of Western Electric. (Staff photo)

Salem High announces its graduation activities

Next Thursday night will be the first happening in a string of major graduation activities for seniors at Plymouth Salem High School.

The senior honors convocation will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 22, in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High at 46181 Joy just west of Canton Center Road.

The awards and recognition ceremony is arranged by the senior class honors committee, guidance department and faculty.

Parents of students to be honored will be receiving special invitations this week.

THE SENIOR PROM will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight Thursday, June 5, in Lovett Hall at Greenfield Village, Dearborn.

Tickets for the senior prom now are on sale at $10 per couple.

On Sunday, June 15, the individual churches in the Plymouth-Canton community will hold a recognition Sunday in honor of the graduation classes of Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools. Recognition Sunday replaces the more traditional baccalaureate.

The senior banquet will begin 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 11, in the Mayflower Meeting House. Arranged by the senior banquet committee, this event will include presentation of "mock" awards to students receiving the most votes in "special" categories.

Tickets for the senior banquet go on sale Monday, May 19, at $9.50 per person in front of the general office.

Because it's a reserved dinner, tickets will not be available at the door. The menu will include steak, baked potato, salad, fresh fruit or melon, and ice cream.

GRADUATION ceremonies will be held beginning 8 p.m. Thursday, June 19, at the football stadium of Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP).

In case of bad weather the graduation exercises will be moved inside to the gymnasium of Salem.

Each senior will be issued 10 tickets of which only five will be honored in case the ceremonies must be held inside.

Rehearsal for graduation will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, June 19, at the CEP football stadium or in the Salem gym if the weather is bad.

The senior party will be held immediately following graduation in the Salem physical education facility.

Prepared by the parents of Salem seniors, the party is open only to 1980 Salem graduates. Tickets are $7 per student if purchased in advance or $9 at the door.

The last full day of classes for seniors only is Wednesday, June 11.

How to sell an invention

The luncheon meeting will begin at noon in the Hillside Inn.

The guest speaker, Jerry Holden of Plymouth, will talk on "selling inventions."

Also on the program will be this month's "Local Focal" — Otto Durr. Local Focal is a new feature added last month to the program, which affords those present a chance to hear a brief presentation from a member of the local industrial/manufacturing community.

To make reservations for the May 20 luncheon, call the Chamber office at 453-1540.

RESTORE YOUR FADED PREFINISHED PERMANENT SIDING WITH THE POWER TEAM!

RESTORE LUSTER WITHOUT PAINT!

Permanent siding was designed to give years and years of maintenance-free service; but like painted surfaces it is subject to staining, mildew, surface soiling and degradation which result in chalking; and in the loss of some of its original luster and attractiveness.

Come in and see a demonstration!

about 1/2 the cost of painting!

The combined Power Team performance of AMINCO TACKLE Cleaner and AMINCO GUARD Clear Coating results in a completely revitalized exterior. Chalked paint as well as most other soils and stains vanish with the application of AMINCO TACKLE Cleaner. Once cleaning is complete, an application of AMINCO GUARD Clear Coating produces the sparkling bright look of new siding.

2 Junior Achievers are being honored

Plymouth Junior Achievers Rosemary McGettigan and Pauline Doohan will be representing Southeastern Michigan this August at the National Association Junior Achievement conference in Bloomington, Ind.

The two young women were found to be the best in their respective areas through contests held during the JA business year.

McGettigan was proclaimed "president of the year" and "outstanding young businesswoman of the year." The "secretary for the year" award went to Doohan. Both girls won for their work on "companies" sponsored by Burroughs Corp.

The companies are part of Junior Achievement's "learn-by-doing career economic education program. The young men and women that participate in this program form their own company and, in the process, they get a chance to experience every step in the development of a corporate business structure.

The achievers do everything from selling stock to raise capital to liquidating the company and preparing a report that will be issued to every shareholder.

Major corporations in the area "sponsor" the JA companies by providing advisors that offer assistance for the first few weeks of the 28 week program.

This year, Plymouth JA companies manufactured such items as trivets, jumper cables, Christmas wreaths and lamps made out of pay phones.

During a typical school year, there are more than 250 JA companies operating in 23 southeastern Michigan business centers. It is from these centers that the winners are chosen.

McGettigan and Doohan, both seniors from Ladywood High School, will be able to attend the conference in Bloomington on a special scholarship that was given to all 13 winners from Southeastern Michigan.

At the conference, more than 3,500 Junior Achievers from all over the world will meet each other, have caucuses and hold elections to find out who is the best in their category.

Altogether, Plymouth will have six to eight young men and women attending the conference this August. According to Dave Mayberry, program manager of the Plymouth office, this is a very good turn out.

The image of CEP guards is slobbish

Editor:

On Monday, May 5, the Plymouth Observer printed a large picture of Jerry Vettese, a security guard at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP). I am writing to tell you that I thought the picture was extremely offensive and in very poor taste.

If you did not have a picture better than this to print on your front page, it would have been much better to print nothing. I think this was a great insult to the people of our community and the Special Olympics.

It has long been my contention that the security people at the high schools are extremely improperly dressed, and equally inadequately groomed. I have seen them in the area of the schools on official occasions such as graduation ceremonies.

We, as taxpayers, are paying the wages for these security people to keep our schools safe. How can we honestly expect the students to have respect for these unkempt individuals who are such sorry examples?

I have written to the school and suggested perhaps uniforms for our security people would create a better image. Although Dr. John Hoben, superintendent, agreed with this, I see nothing has been done to correct the situation.

I certainly hope the Plymouth Observer will show more good taste in future editions.

Goal reached

Editor:

I'd like to take this opportunity to commend the students of WSDP and their advisors, John Seidelman, Jeffrey Cardinal, Kathy Allen and Paul Sincock on the success of their first annual auction.

Not only did they exceed their goal of $3,000, but they also realized some excellent publicity for WSDP and Centennial Educational Park. What a great learning experience!

My thanks to all of the area merchants and citizens who contributed so generously to the auction. Your support is appreciated.

Thanks from church

Editor:

I'm just writing to thank you for your fine articles about our Easter services. We appreciate working with you.

When you edit releases we bring you, you never fail to improve and enhance them. That has not been our experience with all the newspapers with which we have worked.

We have set our groundbreaking date. Because of a conflict with Mother's Day, we have decided to make it May 18. You will be hearing from us with regard to it.

Coverage helped

Editor:

On behalf of the Plymouth Registered Nurses Association, I want to thank you for your newspaper coverage on our recent seminar "Neighborhood Triage."

We had 135 in attendance and feel that your article enticed many of these to attend.

It is only with help such as yours that our organization continues to be a success.

Proper maintenance of fire vehicles is a must

At least one good thing has come out of the controversy over whether Canton fire department vehicles have been properly maintained.

If the vehicles weren't taken care of previously, they will be now — and there will be records to prove it.

The charge, made last week in an unsigned letter to Trustee Robert Greenstein, is that oil in a rescue vehicle recently put out of commission with a blown engine had not been changed for two years.

Further investigation of maintenance records failed to disprove the claim and showed no indication that oil in any of the rescue vehicles had been changed during an almost two-year span.

Fire Chief Mel Paulun says the charges are untrue. He may be right, but he doesn't have the records at hand to dispel the claim once and for all.

Canton resident Tim Orbacki, one member of a committee investigating the charges, says he believes the vehicles are in deplorable shape. According to Orbacki, the vehicles are often inoperable and have serious rust problems.

WHETHER THE anonymous charges are true or not, there does indeed seem to be a problem with the vehicles that can mean the difference between life and death for a resident.

Just two weekends ago, two of the three rescue units were apparently out of service, leaving only one available for emergencies.

This is an intolerable situation. Those vehicles should be maintained, even if Paulun has to take them to a commercial outlet and charge the cost to his budget.

As chief, he is entrusted with care of the vehicles, and he should make sure he has records of such care.

In return, the Canton Township Board should do everything possible to ensure that a mechanic is available to do the work on the rescue units, fire trucks and other vehicles.

But the main point is that it is important not to waste time sitting around pointing the finger of blame in various directions.

Rather than worry about who is at fault, officials should repair or replace rescue units at once and establish a maintenance schedule.

There may still be necessary to chastize those responsible if the charges of negligence prove true.

Fire trucks and rescue units must be kept in working order. Lives depend on their reliability.

A MEMO FROM Supervisor Noel Culbert to Paulun outlines a maintenance and training procedures program.

The program requires that each vehicle be inspected daily with a checklist that will then be signed by the person inspecting the equipment. That checklist will go to the shift commander, who is responsible for tending to any problems. Vehicles will also bear a sticker listing the date and mileage at the last oil check.

These are good procedures, ones that should have existed all along.

The community is too dependent upon the services of fire department vehicles to allow laxity in their care.

Perhaps residents can breathe a little easier knowing that the vehicles will be maintained in the future and that the problem will be resolved before serious consequences arise — providing, of course, that the program is followed.

Did you know there is a poultry house on the southern part of the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing that has its own solar heating system? It maintains the inside temperature of the 5,000-bird laying house in the 65-75° range in winter. It also provides an economical, pollution-free means of getting rid of poultry manure during the summer.

Surviving depressions

Bleak? It could be worse

Almost half a century has gone by since the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who had just taken over the presidency, uttered the famous words: "We have nothing to fear but fear itself."

When he took over the White House, we were in a deep depression, and there was fear everywhere that we might never come out of it.

It was then that we took to the airways and, in an effort to boost the spirit of the people despite the "hard times," he spoke the words that gave them a ray of hope.

And now, every time The Stroller hears folks complaining about our present economic condition and wondering just what lies ahead, those words come ringing back through the years.

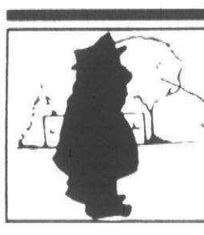

What was true in Roosevelt's day is true today, for we have nothing to fear. The world isn't going to come to an end just because our economy is out of whack at the moment. We will survive. At least we always have.

IT HAS been The Stroller's good fortune to have lived through four depressions, and he is none the worse for wear. And, if anything, this experience has helped him to take a brighter look at life and count his blessings.

Well he remembers the great depression after World War I. He had been working in the machine shop of the Bethleham Steel Co., making the howitzers used in the battles across the seas.

With the signing of the armistice, we were laid off and jobs were just about as scarce as hen's teeth. There seemed to be a dark cloud hanging over all of us, and the fear of what lay ahead overcome the joy of the war's end.

It was then that The Stroller paid his now-famous visit to the little newspaper office in his home town to visit a friend and wound up taking his first steps along the journalistic trail. So that depression has fond memories for him.

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

THEN, BACK in 1929 when the crash came and the banks closed, things looked dark again. But in that bleak economy The Stoller took a wife.

It was a rather bold move, but it has left some memories, too. We had just returned from our honeymoon and deposited our meager funds ($300) in the bank. The next day the banks closed.

In fact, things got so bad that we suffered three 10 percent salary cuts in a period of seven days at the Detroit Free Press. To make matters worse, half of what we were paid was in scrip with the hope that some day it would be negotiable.

Even in at darkness there was a bit of humor. It was in that year that H.G. Salsinger, the sports editor of the Detroit News, sent out Christmas greetings that read "Yuletide Greetings with 10 percent off."

Somehow or other, we all survived even though it was a strange sight to see some of the city's top executives standing on street corners downtown selling apples.

True, depressions and recessions are not the pleasantest times — we have to make adjustments and sacrifices. But somehow or other, we always survive.

And we will again.

In these mess, The Stroller likes to recall the old Pennsylvania Dutch approach, "There is nothing so bad that it couldn't be worse."

The auditors make a crude proposal

A couple of years ago I covered a public hearing on whether Wayne County should adopt a county executive form of government. It was sparsely attended.

So you noticed it when several groups of persons hooted anyone who favored a county executive and cheered any speaker opposing it.

Someone knowledgeable about the personalities around 2 Woodward Avenue pointed to the groups after an outburst and said, "See them? They're all employees of the Board of Auditors."

The Board of Auditors was opposing creation of a county executive because an executive would cut into its powers. It's like that among county employees. The goal is not good government but saving your job and raising your own pay.

THE INCIDENT came to mind last week as I read Tom Lonergan's yarn about the machinations of the County Tax Allocation Board.

The Tax Allocation Board wants to put a proposal on the Aug. 5 ballot to raise the county-school-township 15 mill property tax to 18 mills.

Given the recession, given the countywide increase in assessments of 10 percent (more for some homeowners), given the sorry performance of county government, and given the anti-tax mood of the public, the proposal has less than a snowball's chance in hell of being approved.

Roughly, in the wild event it were approved, county government would get 1.2 mills more and the schools most of the rest.

And who on the Tax Allocation Board was leading the charge?

THAT AUG. 5 date for the three-mill tax hike is doubly significant.

"I'd like to see them (county board of commissioners) put it on the ballot at the same time they're running for election. It would be wonderful," gloated Kelly. The board of commissioners is 25-2 Democratic and likely to stay that way in November, so the Aug. 5 primary is the important election.

The plot is thick, and now it thickens.

We are also due to vote Aug. 5 on a proposal to create a charter commission to write a county home rule charter. The plain aim of those who want reform is to create a county executive.

So let's say an extremely unpopular millage proposal is on the ballot. And let's say a charter proposal aiming at an executive is on the same ballot. Isn't it likely the first will drag down the second?

Yes, it's very likely the millage would kill the charter.

And the Board of Auditors would gloat.

THE SCHOOL districts are being cynically manipulated in all of this.

"If this thing is going to be sold . . . it's because the schools are going to be behind it and selling it," said George McEachran, director of the county bureau of taxation.

In other words, the schools are to marshall the sob story, and county government is to reap 40 percent of the reward, if any.

But the millage proposal is unlikely to pass. It's calculated to do as much harm as possible to home rule, a county executive, a responsible administration and balanced budgeting.

Slow film needs more light, gives greater detail

A lot of photographers think that a film's ASA number is something you set on the camera and then forget about. Well, there's much more to a film's ASA rating than most people think.

A knowledge of ASA can give you valuable information and, if your camera meter should ever break down, can even be a lifesaver.

To begin with, ASA is short for the American Standards Association. The ASA number is a measure of the relative sensitivity of the film to light.

The ASA rating is always indicated both on the outside of the film box and on the film cassette itself.

FILMS WITH A LOW ASA number react slowly to light and a longer exposure is often necessary.

Kodachrome 25 is an example of a very "slow" speed film, the ASA being, naturally 25. On the other hand, Ektachrome 400 (ASA 400) is a very "fast" film in that it reacts quickly to requiring far less exposure than Kodachrome 25.

Of course, you must always remember to "program" the ASA rating into your camera so that the exposure meter will "know" what speed film you're using.

There is a direct mathematical relationship between ASA ratings. A film that is rated at "50" requires half as much as much light for correct exposure than a film of "25." Similarly, a film of "400" requires half the light than that of a film of "200."

You can see that a doubling of the ASA requires half the light input. In other words, you can get by with one less f-stop in your exposure.

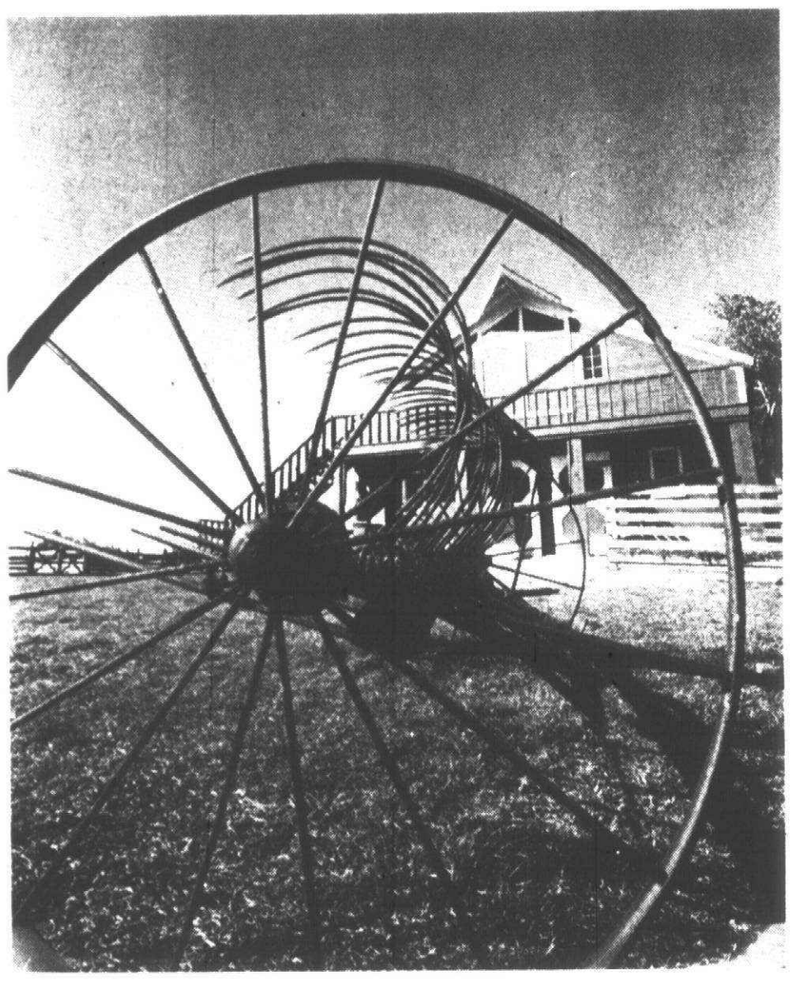

A given scene that needs, for example, an exposure of f-4 with ASA 25 film will need f-8 at ASA 100 and f-16 at ASA 400, assuming the shutter speed remains fixed. With the aperture remaining fixed, a 400 speed film will require a shutter speed twice as fast as a 200 speed film.

WHEN DO YOU SELECT slows speed versus fast speed films?

First, you must consider the degree of enlargment. Slow films are very fine grained and very crisp, big enlargments can be obtained. Fast films possess grain, and super sharp enlargments are not possible.

Second, you must consider the situation you are shooting. If you're at the automobile races and you want to "freeze" the action, you'll most likely need a fast film to enable you to shoot with a fast shutter speed. If you're shooting scenery where nothing is in motion, use a slow speed film.

Can you set your camera to a different ASA rating than the film calls for? Sure, if you're careful and understand what you are doing.

A slow film, with a low ASA rating, gave this Monte Nagler photo tremendous detail, softer contrast and no visible graininess.

A high-speed film catches the water spray at this Cranbrook fountain, and the moving water won't be a blur. But fast film gives you higher contrast pictures and some "grain" in the sky tone.

If you're in a limited light situation and even that fast Ektachrome 400 can't give you an exposure, you can "push" the film. "Pushing" means shooting at a much higher ASA rating, in this case at 800, and then requesting special processing from your photo dealer to compensate for the "push."

Contrast and grain will be increased somewhat, but at least you'll get your pictures. Newspaper and sports photographers do this often. When necessary, they'll shoot Tri-X film (black and white 400) at 1600 ASA or more and then special develop the film to get printable photos.

IF YOUR CAMERA meter should ever malfunction, a knowledge of ASA can be a lifesaver.

A neat little rule to learn is that, on a sunny day, the shutter speed closest to the ASA of the film in your camera will give a near perfect exposure at f-16. For example, with Kodachrome 64 and a sunny day, set your camera at 1/60 second at f-16 and you'll get a perfect shot. If it's hazy, open up one additional stop; if it's bright overcast, open up two.

Always carry a couple rolls of high speed film with you in case you run into any low light or fast shutter speed picture occasions.

Also, always remember to set the ASA control on your camera, and then don't forget to change it if you should switch to a different speed film.

Giver of Maybasket had to hide quickly

From April 30 to May 1 is the time of the ancient festival of Beltane, the beginning of the second half of the Celtic year.

Our ancestors celebrated the day in an elaborate ceremony observing the union of spring and summer.

One of the lovliest customs of that festival in the past was the rite of "bringing home the May."

YOUNG PEOPLE would rise at the crack of dawn, gather wild flowers and bring them home as a symbol of rebirth.

These flowers were put in little baskets, decorated with bright ribbons and hung on the doorknobs or placed on the porches of loved ones.

The giver would knock on the door or ring the bell, then quickly run and hide, so that when the recipient opened the door, he or she would find a surprise gift of flowers.

One especially nice thing about all this was that it was a totally unselfish act because the giver always remained anonymous.

Wouldn't you have felt great if, when you opened the door on Mayday morning, you had found a lovely little bouquet waiting for you as a symbol of life and love? Wouldn't you feel extra happy all day, knowing that one of your friends had gone to the trouble to do this nice thing for you?

A MAY BASKET is a simple thing. It needn't cost any money. And any time in May is a good time to give one.

In the past, they were made from paper, woven straw, or even little cloth pockets. But in this modern day, why not use a plastic bleach bottle or margarine tub?

Decorate it with any scraps of colorful cloth, ribbon or paper you have handy.

Even if you live in the city, you can find some sprigs of forsythia or a budding, flowery twig from a maple tree. With luck, you might even find a dandelion, and who wouldn't welcome the sign and smell of this lovely yellow flower after a long, gray winter?

But remember that the whole idea of a May basket is that it's a nice thing to do without expecting anything in return. You must not even let anyone know that you were the one who gave it.

Geake against late bar hours

State Senator Robert Geake, R-Northville, recently expressed strong opposition to legislation that would extend the bar-closing time in Michigan to 4 a.m.

"I don't think there is any need for it, and based upon the many letters and telephone calls I have received, the people in my district don't think it's necessary either," said Geake, whose district includes Plymouth.

"In fact, I haven't heard from any of the bar owners in the area supporting the bill."

Geake thinks the bill could even be detrimental to some area. "Possibly if the legislation is passed, it would provide a hardship on bar owners in small communities, because the people would go to the larger cites to drink."

The measure would allow any county in Michigan to permit a 4 a.m. closing time if the county contributes $2,500 to a state-recognized convention bureau and the individual bar owner meets other specified regulations. The measure has passed the House and is now before the Senate.

Geake said the problems such legislation would create far outweigh any advantages.

"Over half the traffic fatalities in Michigan are caused by drivers who had been drinking before they got behind the wheel. This legislation would cause additional traffic hazards because of the increased amount of drinking and the additional motorists on the highways between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m. driving to and from communities that have the later drinking hours."

Geake thinks people are using the Republican convention as an excuse to get the bill passed.

"It's an attempt to shift attention away from the real reason the bill was introduced . . . Special interest groups saw this as an opportunity to get longer drinking hours in the state and put the blame on the Republicans.

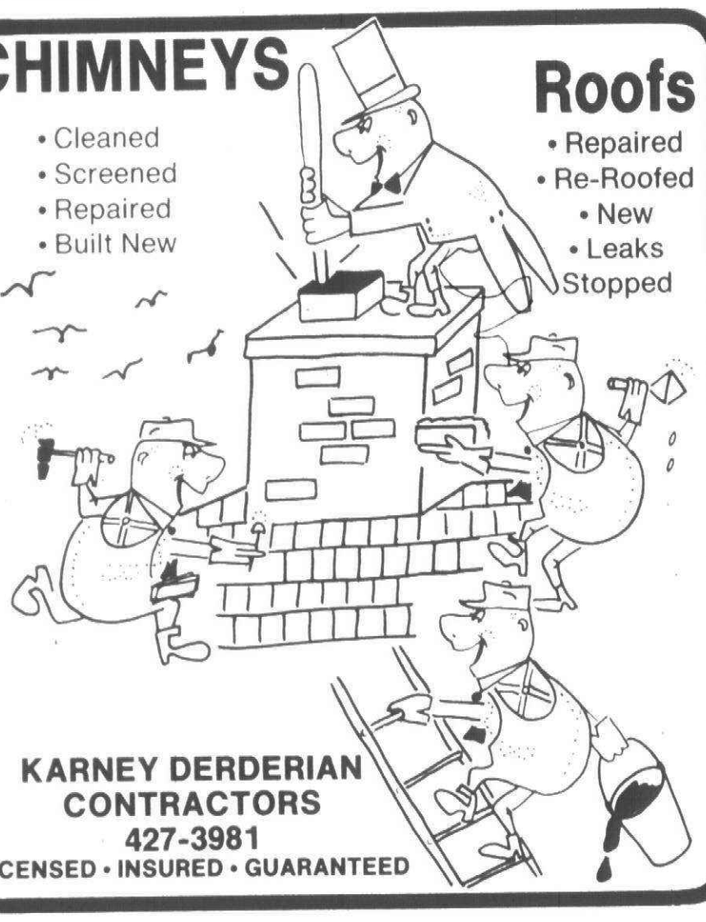

"This legislation will only increase the profits of bar owners who sell alcoholic beverages to persons who can ill afford the price, and the State of Michigan which will derive increased tax revenue from the additional sales."

Geake does not believe that Michigan will lose important convention business if the drinking hours aren't extended.

"No one has been able to show me that organizations select the location of their convention sites based on whether they can drink until 4 a.m."

Canton hosts 12-bout card

Boxing brothers hit spotlight

By BRAD EMONS

Brian and Eric Cole have a lot at stake Saturday night.

The boxing brothers of Plymouth will headline a 12-bout exhibition card sponsored by the Plymouth Boosters Club and sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

Action gets underway at 7:30 p.m. at Canton High School. Tickets, priced at $5 for adults and $4 for students, can be purchased at the door or by calling Club President Cindy Merrifield at 453-6511.

This is the first time area fans will be able to catch a glimpse at the talented Cole brothers.

Brian, 16, a student at Plymouth Salem, recently captured the Golden Gloves crown in the novice 156-pound weight class. Brother Eric is a AAU Junior Olympics champ who will compete for the first time next year in the open class of the Golden Gloves.

"They both have tough bouts," said their coach Stacy McKinley, who runs the Ann Arbor Boxing Club where the Plymouth brothers train.

"They won't have easy fights," he said. "It could go either way. Their opponents are rough."

In preparation for the bouts, McKinley has arranged for the brothers to train with "special sparring partners."

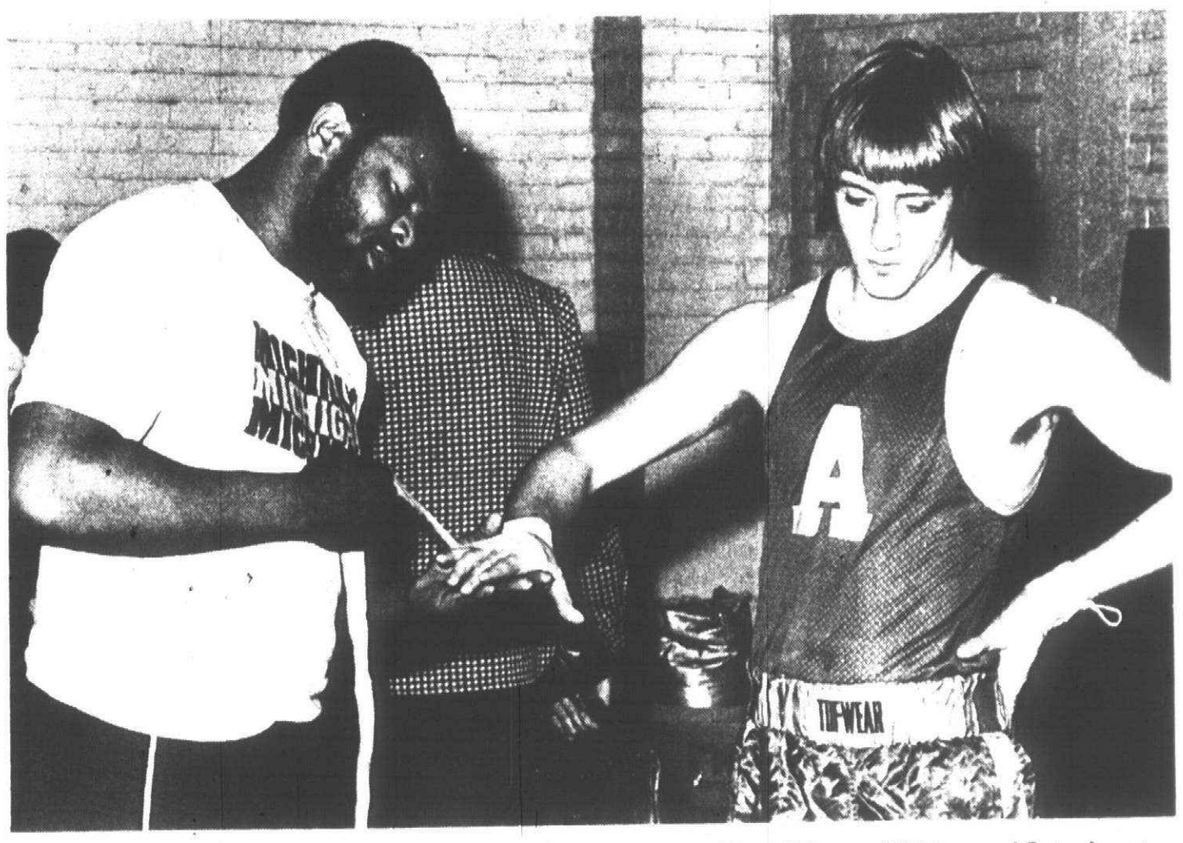

McKINLEY believes in competitive bouts. Last fall he outlasted the 64-man field at the Pontiac Silverdome in the "Toughman Contest."

The Cole brothers will face opponents from Detroit. Also lined up for the card are the Lally brothers, Bradd and Brett, of Westland, who work out of the Livonia Boxing Club. Bradd lost a controversial decision last month in the Golden Gloves finals at Cobo Arena against a boxer from Detroit Kronk. Brett, another up-and-coming fighter, will also share the spotlight.

Middleweight Golden Gloves champ Mickey Womack of Detroit will also perform at Canton.

Eric Cole is presently training under McKinley in preparation for the district rounds of AAU Junior Olympics, May 22-23 at Detroit's Jack Adams Arena.

Brian will continue to train after Saturday. He will box in an exhibition card July 18 at Ann Arbor's Holiday Inn.

Russian basketball is characteristically team orientated.

And such was the case Saturday night at Schoolcraft College when a group of touring Soviet Juniors whipped the Michigan Prep All-Stars, 94-87, before a crowd of 1,600.

An individual star, however, rose above all the rest in the leading the Russians to victory.

Viktor Kuzmin, a fluid 6-foot-8-inch forward, stole the show as he rammed home 37 points. He displayed an uncanny ability at hitting the perimeter jumper.

"He's (Kuzmin) been playing well in all the games," said senior coach Yuriy Gomelskiy, who was questioned by reporters after the game through an interpreter.

"Viktor has not scored like that before, but he's always played well," Gomelskiy said.

The Russian coach, who has drilled the 15 top 19-year-olds from his country for the past four months, hinted that in the future some Soviet players could "participate in clinics and maybe play at American universities."

The Michigan stars, coached by Rocky Watkins, opened up the game in a zone. Russia, though, shredded the defense with its deadly outside shooting.

Oleg Kryzhanoviskiy's slam dunk with 10:14 left in the first half staked the Soviets to a 27-14 advantage.

MICHIGAN charged back at the end of the half behind the play of Catholic Central's Barry Spencer and Detroit Central's Mike Thomas.

The Michigan All-Stars trailed at halftime, 48-40.

In the second half, Russia outscored the Michigan squad 30-14 in the first 10 minutes to put the game virtually away.

Led by Spencer and Ypsilanti's Fred Cofield, Michigan made a last-ditch rally in the final five minutes with a full-court press. A basket by Ann Arbor Huron's Dean Hopson cut the margin to eight with 51 seconds remaining. Spencer then stole inbounds pass, but the Michigan stars failed to convert on the other end.

Spencer paced all Michigan scorers with 20 points. Thomas, a muscular 6-6 forward, headed for a junior college, added 15.

Michigan was hurt by the absence of three players. Tim McCormick, a 6-10 center, had to sit out because of sore knees. Grand Rapids Creston's Anthony Scott was also out because of a knee operation. Howard Monk, Plymouth Salem's 6-6 center, dressed but did not play because of a bad back.

The victory lifted the Soviets' overall mark on the tour to 6-1. A team from New York handed Russia its only loss, 100-99.

After the game, Gomelskiy said it's beneficial to play against the Americans "because they have good individual technique."

"WE EXPECT them to play like that," he said. "Their style is not a surprise. We always learn a lot from this."

The Russian coach said his team shoots between 180 and 200 jumpers each practice session which is held twice daily.

"They (Russia) play a very physical game," said Grand Rapids Catholic's M.C. "Tony" Burton. "Tonight they had an advantage in the shooting department. A few times I'm sure we went a little individual. We've only had four practices. I think if we worked out more, we'd beat them."

Gomelskiy said he had viewed that afternoon game 3 of the NBA series between Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

"We try to see as many games as possible," he said. "They (Philly and LA) are the best in the world. Someday maybe we'll have to play the top teams like in ice hockey."

Canton batters sweep CC, Rice

By SCOTT ADLER

Plymouth Canton defeated Birmingham Brother Rice, 10-5, in the final of the Windsor Tournament Saturday to take home the championship trophy.

The Chiefs downed defending Class A state champs Detroit Catholic Central, 7-3, in the semi-final game.

Canton opened up with two runs in the first inning against Rice to take a 2-0 lead on Jeff Stemberger's two-run double that scored Keith Stone and sophomore Bill Hanis.

But with Stemberger on second and Dave Meador on first, Rice pulled a miracle out of its hat. Guy Kananen hit a hard line drive right back to the mound. Pitcher John Godere relayed the ball to first for the second out, and Stemberger, who had stumbled trying to get back to second, was nailed to complete a triple play.

The Warriors scored once in the second to close the gap to 2-1, only to have Canton erupt with a three- run lead (4-1) after four.

The Chiefs got their two runs in the fourth on an RBI single by Paul Dobry and an RBI double by Hanis.

"I'm very pleased with Billy Hanis," said a happy Canton coach Fred Crissey. "He has stepped right in and played very well." Hanis had two RBIs in the final.

CANTON BLEW THE game open in the fifth inning, exploding for six runs to take a commanding 10-1 lead.

Steve Gray laid down a bases-loaded suicide squeeze bunt past the charging first baseman that bounded over the bag and drove in two runs. Meador promptly followed with a two-RBI single that put the game away.

The Chiefs were aided by four walks issued by losing pitcherr Paul Jockish.

"We played really well," said Crissey. "Anytime you can beat those two teams (Catholic Central and Brother Rice) in one day — I mean those guys have talent coming out their ears — now that's something."

Sophomore Dan Smith pitched six innings and allowed only one run and four hits while picking up the victory. He also struck out seven.

In the opener, Canton jumped out to a 6-0 lead before anyone was out in the first inning and coasted to a 7-3 victory over Catholic Central.

The Shamrock starter, John Evans, was rocked out of the box by the booming Chief bats in the first. Greg Wendt came in and held Canton in check the rest of the way. Wendt, a tall (6-foot 6) southpaw who helped pitch Catholic Central to a state championship last year, struck out seven.

In the opening inning, Stemberger, Meador, Gray and Smith all drove in runs for Canton. John Matthews drove home the other run for the Chiefs with a sacrifice fly in the sixth.

Al Lipinski got the win for Canton. It was his fourth victory against no defeats.

"We played superbly," said Crissey. "Just outstanding."

Rock thinclads improve

Plymouth Salem gained seventh place overall in the 16-team Livonia Stevenson Invitational Track Relays held last Friday.

Coach Gary Balconi was pleased with several performances from the Rock boys.

Ann Arbor Pioneer took the team title with 43 points. Stevenson finished second.

"The entire team had a good night," said Balconi. "Even in cases where we didn't score.

"The kids improved their times and had a fun night."

Junior Bob Pittaway came through with another outstanding performance in the discus to remain unbeaten. He took first with a toss of 156 feet. Teammate John Froozan reached the finals but did not score.

In the high jump, school record holder Rob Neu tied for third place with a leap of 6-0.

Pole vaulter Mike Perkowski of Salem, a sophomore, captured third at 12-6. Teammate Dave Skone placed fifth also at 12-6.

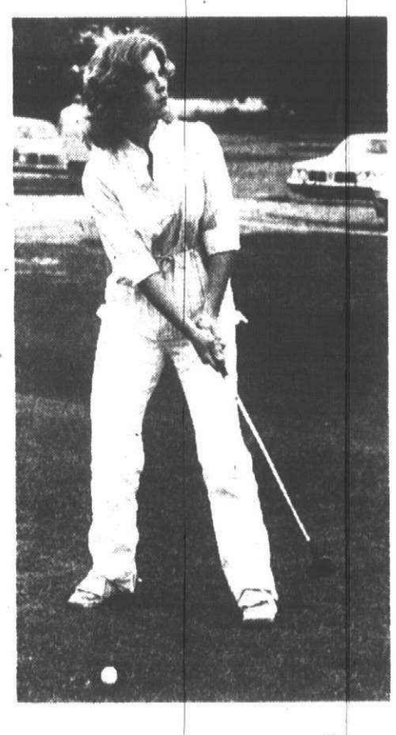

Salem broke a team record in the sprint medley relay with a time of 2:30.3 and in the process placed third. Leigh Langkabel and Pittaway ran 440-yard legs. Pittaway, the anchor, overhauled Stevenson's talented Dave Hall to gain third. Greg Lipka and Scott Bublin rounded out the squad covering 220 yards apiece.

LIPKA, PITTAWAY, Bublin and Jim Spooner recorded their best time this year in the 440-yard relay (44.9). The Rock quartet was edged out at the finish line by Belleville, settling for a third-place finish.

Balconi was encouraged by the showing of three distance runners.

In the open two mile run, senior tri-captain Paul Hess turned in his best time this year (10:11) as did Frank Brosnan (10:46) and Todd Curtis.

The Rocks failed to place in the mile relay, but Balconi applauded the effort of Pat Tortorra and Mike Sharp.

Record broken in golf match

The Plymouth Salem girls' golf team fired a school record Thursday in downing cross-campus rival Plymouth Canton, 184-205, for the second time in less than a week.

The Rocks earlier whipped the Chiefs 201-226. Both matches were played at Hilltop Golf Course.

"I had to shoot my mouth off before the match," laughed Salem coach Jim Stevens. "I told the girls if they broke the old record (185), I would buy them breakfast and the next thing I know they did it."

Freshman Lisa Marino was medalist once again for the Rocks with a 43. Nancy Stevens shot a 47 as did her teammates Carol Ross and Meg McGee.

Cindy Sochacki led Canton with a 46 followed by Janis McGlone at 51. Debbie Nurmi and Karen Mullen fired 53 and 55, respectively.

"Both teams played very well," said Stevens. "Our putting and chipping are much improved. I'm very pleased."

The win lifts Salem's overall record to 7-1.

A PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL
Flashback

After a winless 1974 season, the Plymouth Salem Rocks mid-May dual meet track victory over Livonia Bentley 84-69 ended a 2 year dual meet drought for the Rocks. Coach Gary Balconi was understandably enthused by the win which boosted the club's 1975 mark to 1-4 in the Suburban Eight. Mark DeBolt recorded victories in the 220 and 440 yard runs while Kim Woody won the pole vault at 10-6. Salem swept the shotput competition thanks to performances by Ted Burton, Mark Barclay and Rick Gladstone.

Hurdler sets new mark

Walled Lake Western handed Plymouth Canton an 87-46 boys' track defeat Tuesday afternoon.

The loss dropped Canton to 2-5 overall and 1-3 in the Western Six League.

Senior Dan McGlinn, however, brightened Canton's effort with a school record performance in the 120-yard high hurdles. He posted a time of 15.3 in capturing second place. He was edged out for first place in the 330-yard low hurdles (40.4). Teammate Dan Malin was third (43.4).

The Chiefs finished first and second in the 880-yard run. Scott Hand won it with a time of 2:07.0. Dan Inloes was right behind (2:09.0). Jay Malin took fourth for Canton and set a freshman record with a clocking of 2:12.0.

Canton's Mark Kowalczyk gained first in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.7. He placed second in the 220-yard event (24.3).

The team of John Tarr, Kowalczyk, Ken Jayroe and McGlinn settled for second in the 880-yard relay, but set a season low (1:34.1).

Canton was held down in the field events.

Pole vaulter Randy Lee, however, took first place with a leap of 10-6. Ted Toll of Canton finished third in both the shot put (41-1) and discus (121-6). McGlinn managed third in the high jump (5-8). Tarr also gained third — long jump (18-7).

In the mile run, Steve West placed second (4:51.2) with teammate Dan Henry grabbing third (4:59.0).

Jack Pacente and Barron Smith placed second and third respectively in the two-mile run.

Canton's Mike Swisher gained second in the 440-yard run (54.7).

"We had some good efforts even though we lost," said Canton coach Mike Spitz. "Walled Lake Western is a very strong team."

Fielders hurt in collision

Error-prone Chiefs battered, 7-2

By BRAD EMONS

Just call it an all around bad day for Plymouth Canton's baseball team.

The Chiefs made errors, suffered injuries and failed to come up with the key hit in losing to Livonia Churchill Monday afternoon in a Western Six League game, 5-2.

The loss dropped Canton to 3-2 in the league and 9-7 overall. Churchill upped its league mark to 2-3.

"We couldn't have played any worse," said Canton coach Fred Crissey. "You can't excuse the way we played. We're really hurting."

Canton's five errors were overshadowed by injuries to two more players.

In the fourth inning with Canton trailing, 4-2, first baseman Dave Meador and right fielder John Matthews collided going after a pop fly.

Meador made a miraculous catch on the play, but bumped heads with the hard-charging Matthews. Both players left the game and were taken to the hospital with possible concussions.

"They were really shaken up," said Crissey. "I don't know how long they will be out."

With Meador's bat out of the lineup, Canton was unable to rally in the last three innings.

CHURCHILL pitcher Bill Gavin, a sophomore, limited Canton to just five hits. He struck out five and walked six.

The Chargers took a 2-1 lead in the first inning on two Canton infield miscues.

Canton scored in the top half of the inning when Meador singled home Keith Stone.

Churchill, now 4-8 overall, tallied an unearned run in the second when Barry Mai singled home Bill Keller.

Ron Schueneman, Churchill's outstanding senior third baseman, scored the Chargers' final two runs. He singled in the fourth and came around on two more Canton errors.

In the fifth he stretched a single into a double and raced home on Chris Harvath's two-out double.

"Our pitching was fine," said Crissey. "(Dan) Funkhouser deserved a better fate."

The Canton lefty hurled the first five innings and suffered the loss. He was relieved by Al Lipinski in the sixth.

Canton runners were thrown out twice trying to advance an extra base. Another runner was picked off first.

Sophomore second baseman Billy Hanis had two of Canton's five hits. He scored the Chiefs' second run in the third inning.

In the seventh, Canton got singles from Hanis and Lipinski, but couldn't score.

Rock girls 12th at Honorary tilt

Ann Arbor Pioneer scampered off with the bulk of the honors and the team championship last weekend during the Honorary Girls' Track and Field Relays at Livonia Stevenson.

Pioneer finished first in six events — high jump, two-mile relay, 880 relay, sprint medley relay, 440 relay and mile relay — to total 72 points.

Plymouth Salem, whose highest finish occurred in the high jump, placed 12th in the 16-team field.

The trio of Diane Perpich, Janene Gray and Cindy McSurely cleared an aggregate height of 14-1 to place fourth for the Rocks in high jump.

Stevenson, which hosted the fourth annual meet, was second in the team standings with 61 points.

Other area squads which competed were Westland John Glenn, which landed fifth with 27 points, Livonia Bentley sixth with 23, and Redford Bishop Borgess eighth with 17.

Redford Union tied for 10th place with 11 points, Garden City West tied for 13th with four, Livonia Franklin finished 15th with two and Livonia Churchill did not score.

Stevenson won three events.

Gail Kornegger, Julie Jacobites and Kathy Finn leaped an aggregate distance of 49 feet, 5½ inches in the long jump. That effort set a new meet record.

The Spartans also triumphed in the shuttle hurdle relay, 1:06.5, with the quartet of Kim DeBoer, Karen Kelley, Kornegger and Finn and the distance medley relay in 13:22.7 with the foursome of Polly Ostrander, Sally Rozman, Nancy Zielinski and Lori Bennett.

Stevenson accumulated second-place points in the two-mile relay, 10:15.9, the 880 relay, 1:47.2, and the high jump, 14-7.

Glenn placed second in both throwing events.

Michelle Crimboli, Darlene Quinlan and Kelly Graham totalled 287-0 in the discus. Sandy Martinez, Crimboli and Quinlan had an aggregate distance of 87-11 in the shot put.

Bentley finished third in the high jump, 14-2, the shuttle hurdle relay, 1:10.7, and the distance medley relay 13:46.8.

Borgess placed third in both the discus, 281-8, and the shot put, 87-9.

Redford Union had a third-place effort in the two-mile relay, 10:16.1.

Garden City West scored its only points by finishing fourth in the distance medley, 13:52.6. Franklin placed sixth in both the 880 relay, 1:50.3, and in the distance medley, 14:07.1.

The honorary relays were dedicated to Karen Dzyacky, an assistant principal at Grand Ledge High School and current president of the Michigan Interscholastic Coaches Association.

Practicing hard

Plymouth's Brian Cole strains during a workout against his coach Roosevelt "Stacy" McKinley. The Cole brothers will be featured in a 12-bout card Saturday at Canton. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Chief girls club league opponent

Marianne Pink tossed a two-hit shutout as Plymouth Canton defeated Livonia Churchill in a Western Six League softball game Monday afternoon, 5-0.

Canton is now 8-1 overall and 5-0 in the league.

"Marianne pitched her strongest game of the year," said Canton coach Max Sommerville. "She looked good. It was her best game as far as control."

Pink struck out three and walked five in seven innings of work.

The Chiefs scored the winning run in the third as Vicki Skeen single and scored on a Churchill error.

In the fifth, Canton exploded for four runs.

Marlene McKinley led off with a single. Janet Nostrant and Skeen loaded the bases on second and third Churchill errors. Vicky Cavallaro followed with a single, driving home McKinley and Nostrant.

Joni Sommerville and Cindy Stevens drove home the final two Canton runs with consecutive sacrifice flies.

The Chiefs collected six hits and made three errors.

"We were a little dozy," said Sommerville, "but we made the plays when we had to. We made some mental errors."

CANTON-STEVENSON

A driving thunderstrom prevented Canton from earning its ninth softball win of the season.

Umpires halted the game in the bottom of the fifth inning with the Chiefs leading Stevenson, 13-4.

"We were just three outs away," said Sommerville.

Leading 6-4 after four innings, Canton tallied seven runs in the top of the fifth.

Pink had three hits in the game. Catcher Pam Schipani added two. Cindy Sovine pitched for Canton. She allowed all four runs and three hits.

SALEM-BENTLEY

Kim Archer had two doubles and two RBI's to lift Livonia Bentley to a 7-2 Suburban Eight League softball win over Plymouth Salem.

The Bulldogs, 11-2 overall and 6-2 in the league, collected nine hits. Salem was limited to three.

Salem, 6-2 in the league and 7-3 overall, took a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Bentley broke the game wide open in the fourth with four runs.

The growing ranks of the unemployed, plus daylight saving time and the usual competition from golf and racquetball, have caused a decline in summer bowling. But the decline is not nearly as much as had been expected.

In a survey taken earlier in the week it was revealed that most of the decline is in the daytime hours where the housewives usually took up much of the time. Now, the housewife, curtailed somewhat by economic conditions, is confining her bowling to the many mixed leagues with her husband.

The one area where there is little decline is among the senior citizens. They will be as strong as ever during the summer. In some cases they have set up special programs whereby they will make a club house out of the bowling center and play cards after their stint on the lanes.

There was a time when the bowling establishments were closed for the summer. But that day is gone, and now there is some form of league play in most places.

One of the largest summer programs is slated at Merri-Bowl where 25 leagues are scheduled. It is here, too, that special attention will be given the seniors and their card playing members.

Westland Bowl also will have a program that is just a bit down from last summer. And one of the leagues with 18 teams already is under way.

THE FUN SEASON opens officially this Thursday evening at Thunderbowl in Allen Park when 20 members of the staff at Radio Station WJR engages a group of amateurs in a three-game match, with all of the porceeds going to charity.

The winner of the WJR staff will grant $1,000 to his favorite charity. The amateur among the opponents will be awarded a TV set. But it is all in fun and it usually attracts a capacity crowd.

OUT OF TOWN bowlers walked away with all of top honors in the State VFW tournament that concluded at Plaza Lanes.

The team title went to Madison Heights Post 9505 with a count of 3051. The doubles title was taken by William Buzonowski and Bob Bruce of Romanowski Post with 1315, and the singles crown was taken by Dave Kelly, of Post 5661 in Flushing with a 693.

THE FIRST of the summer leagues started its onslaught on the pins Tuesday night at Westland Bowl, and Burt Shepherd was high man with 645. Next in line came Don Plichta with 603 and Steve Cotter with 602. One of the late comers was Jim Bowm with a 235 in in a 627 series.

DON ROUSSEAU came within a single pin of breaking the 700 barrier at Plaza Lanes. He opened with a 288, followed with 177 and closed with 234 for 699.

Meanwhile, Plaza Lanes was host to the senior citizens annual banquet at Lee Wright's on Wayne Road. More than 100 of the old-timers were there to get their rewards.

Area baseball statistics

Area prep baseball coaches are urged to call in top hitting and pitching performances to Livonia Stevenson coach Larry Ruzsas from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. each Monday at 422-3070 (ext. 0).

Canton netters blank Churchill

Plymouth Canton rolled to its second straight 7-0 boys' tennis win Monday afternoon over Livonia Churchill.

Canton is now 8-4 overall and 4-3 in the Western Six League.

Kreg Kinnel, sporting the best individual mark on the team, was impressive in a 6-0, 6-0 triumph over Pete Diamond at No. 2 singles.

Teammate Bob Young wasted little time in beating Churchill's Dean Nascimbin at No. 1 singles, 6-3, 6-1.

At No. 3 singles, junior Kevin Johnston posted a 6-2, 6-2 victory over Tim Irons. Bob Adams of Canton downed Kenn Laberroche at No. 4 singles, 6-1, 6-1.

Coach Jim Hayes altered his lineup slightly in doubles and the result was three wins.

The team of Pete Lee and Mark Roberts bested Craig Bramble and Paul Gothard at No. 1 doubles, 6-1, 6-3.

Dreew Hosey and John Hurley played the longest match of the day. The Canton duo got past Dan Yanske and Ed Brambs at No. 2 doubles, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

At No. 3 doubles, Tom Pasley and Grant Crago of Canton whipped Chris Flaherty and Jeff Myers, 6-0, 6-0.

A week ago (May 8), Canton downed Livonia Bentley, 5-2.

Silver Cricket grabs softball win

Mike Eves had a perfect day at the plate to lead McMurray Insurance to a 19-11 Class A men's softball win last week in the Canton Township Parks and Recreation action.

Eves blasted two triples and a homer in four trips to the plate. He drove home five runs in the victory over Canton Sports.

Larry Normand's two homers and five RBI's propelled Silver Cricket to a 20-4 triumph over GM Truck Collision.

IN CLASS C games, Larry Gates' homer was not enough as Brugllrov beat Pellegrios, 5-4.

George Saffron had a single and two round trippers in vain as Denny's whipped Statewide Aluminum, 9-3.

Beckets Buckets kicked St. Michael, 9-2, in Division IV play, while Attilla Wagner and Walt Chupton each had two hits in pacing the Canton Jaycees to a 10-5 victory over Beer Steinhaus.

In other Division IV play, Richard Kocan's three hits were not enough as Bonanza Roads lost to Maaco. The Roverman was outstanding in the field with an over-the-shoulder catch in the fourth inning.

Salem ties; thwarted in final inning

Only one out away from victory, Plymouth Salem's baseball squad settled for a 4-4 tie with Livonia Bentley Tuesday afternoon in a Suburban Eight League game.

A driving thunderstorm stopped play after five complete innings.

Salem, the league leaders, appeared to have the game in command going into the bottom of the fifth with a 4-1 advantage.

With two outs, Bentley rallied with the aid of an infield error, an errant pick-off play and a passed ball to score three unearned runs off Salem starter Pat McNamara.

"It was frustrating," said Salem coach Brian Gilles. "We had it wrapped up and then almost lost it."

McNamara was able to get the final out of the inning, but the damage had been done as umpires called the game.

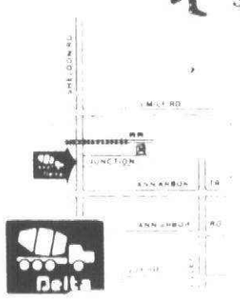

The schools' athletic directors determined Wednesday afternoon, according to league rules, that the game would be counted in the standings as a tie.

Salem took a 3-0 lead in the first inning as Dave Slavin drove home two runs and Jim Anderson doubled home another.

Bentley scored one in the second and Salem tallied its final run in the fourth as Greg Etienne drove home Brian Lewandowski with a single.

YOUR CHOICE
USE A SNAPPER AS A "MULCHING" MOWER OR A SUPERIOR "BAGGING" MOWER.

When you add an inexpensive Mulcherizer to a SNAPPER, you convert it to a "mulching" mower. It chews up cuttings so fine they become lawn food and you don't have to rake or bag. But, unlike one-function "mulching" mowers, you can remove the Mulcherizer and use your SNAPPER as a superior "bagging" mower when grass gets too tall or lush for mulching. Choice of 21", or lightweight 19" models.
Before you buy a mower, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more. And its price is competitive with other quality mowers.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM
Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, FEMA.
ACTION: Proposed rule.
SUMMARY:

Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the nation. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES:

The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in each community.

ADDRESSES:

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Robert G. Chappell
National Flood Insurance Program
(202) 426-1460 or Toll Free Line (800) 424-8872
(In Alaska and Hawaii call Toll Free Line (800) 424-9080)
Room 5150
451 Seventh Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20410.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations in the nation, in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 67.4 (a) (presently appearing at its former title 24, chapter 10, part 1917.4 (a)).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by section 60.3 (formerly Section 1910.3) of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State or Regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The VIEW from CANTON CENTER

IT'S OFFICIAL, Ted Strasser of WJR radio will MC the Plymouth Community Chorus spring concert Sunday evening at the Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. He'll be there for the dress rehearsal Saturday night and again Sunday. As of Wednesday, 950 tickets ($2 for adults and $1 for students and senior citizens) had been sold, but they will have some available at the door.

Ted's "Patterns in Music" has become an institution for Sunday listeners of WJR.

BY THE TIME this paper is off the press, the Illinois Legislature will have voted either for or against the Equal Rights Amendment. Whatever the result, a group of area women did their part in supporting ERA in Illinois.

They were the members of the National Organization of Women who joined the national march and rally in Chicago on Saturday.

Among the Plymouth women who attended were Betty Kelley, Lois Norman, Mary Ann Pinkerton, Sally Posthill, Loretta Ross, Kathie Urda, Irene Duffey and Irene Piccone, who lives in Northville but practices law in Plymouth.

All the officers of the Northwest Wayne County chapter of NOW were there: Noreen Dinnebeil of Wayne, president; Janet Evans of Farmington Hills, vice president; Glenna Davis of Northville, second vice president; Mary Jo Durivage of Westland, treasurer; Irene Duffey of Plymouth, recording secretary; and Kathie Urda of Canton Township, corresponding secretary.

IRENE WAS in the group that took the 7 p.m. bus out of Ann Arbor Friday. They stayed in a motel on Lakeshore Drive and were down on Columbus Drive by 9:30 a.m. Saturday to join the march.

The march was arranged by state in alphabetical order, beginning with Alaska. It was noon before the Michigan marchers filed into place.

"It started out cool and rainy," said Irene, "but it warmed up and we took off our sweaters. There was a beautiful rainbow, which we believed to be a good omen, and the weather was nice for the next three hours.

"There were 100,000 marchers, all dressed in white with touches of green, some wore the green NOW T-shirts. We were pleased with large number of men who marched. It was very exciting and there were no disturbances."

The march ended at Grant Park where everyone gathered at the old band shell for the rally.

Peter, Paul and Mary opened the program. Marlo Thomas, Phil Donahue, Valerie Harper, Joan Hackett and Charlotte Rae were there.

Mayor Jane Byrnes of Chicago spoke "and some local politicians that we didn't recognize. The Rev. Jesse Jackson, Betty Friedan, Gloria Steinem, Bela Azbug and Ellie Smeal, national president of NOW, and a lot of union leaders were there."

Irene and her contingent returned Saturday evening by bus. Some of the women who drove, stayed over Saturday night and came home on Sunday.

"It missed by two votes last time," said Irene. "We all felt encouraged after the march and rally that this time it will pass."

CONGRATULATIONS to Linda Baskins who was among the 31 graduates who received diplomas May 9 from Mercy Central School of Nursing in Grand Rapids. Bishop Joseph M. Breitenbeck welcomed the graduates at the evening ceremonies in Saint Andrew's Cathedral.

When she completes her state licensing exams, Linda will become a full-fledged registered nurse.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baskins of Rocker Street in Plymouth Township.

COLLEEN O'HARA is coordinating an unusual fashion show along with Keith Randazzo of Plymouth and Bob Rojas of Ypsilanti.

Colleen, daughter of Russ and Bev Hoisington, is now director of Auston's of Southfield.

Festivities will begin at 9 p.m. Wednesday, May 21 in Napoleon's, Forest Street, Plymouth. Colleen says Teena Hammonds, who was named Miss Michigan March 23, will be there, along with Arthur Murray Dancers, and singer Chuck Singleton.

Spring and summer fashions will feature casual, evening and beachwear.

Admission will be $7 and Colleen will take reservations at 453-6000.

MONDAY WAS opening day for Bill Micol's Collector's Shop in the Forest Place Mall. It's sharing space with Al Larson's Frameworks in the mall.

Bill's shop was one of the victim's of the Penniman Avenue Shops fire in mid-February. He has some great new Brumm birds made of slices of agate and metal, beautifully painted ducks (I love ducks) and some antique Chinese thingamajigs that are quite fascinating.

Symphony league adds a surprise bonus of $5,000

The Plymouth Symphony League wrapped up its most successful season — a $5,000 bonus to the Symphony Society — with plans for even greater things for 1980-81.

The annual league luncheon in the Mayflower Meeting House was a time for reviewing the past season and electing new officers. The 91 members who attended the party also had an opportunity to meet Johan van der Merwe, the new conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

Looking ahead to the orchestra's 34th season, the women have circled Sunday, Oct. 12, on their calendars. The opening concert will be followed by an elegant reception in the Plymouth Historical Museum. The event will offically open Symphony Week; it will be a welcoming party for the new maestro, his wife, Barbara, and their daughter, Brenda; and, there will be a special exhibit, "The History of Music," in the museum. A late supper will be catered by Larry Janes.

CLARA CAMP, retiring league president, presented long-stemmed red roses to the members of her board as she thanked them for their contributions.

Janet Repp, vice president, was cited for opening her home for a membership tea which netted 27 new members; for chairing the successful pop concert; and for her help in revising the constitution; and arranging a workshop for the group chairpersons.

"Most of all, we are grateful for Janet's enthusiasm," said Mrs. Camp.

Secretary Ruth McMahon, who will remain on the board as secretary, "not only served in her quiet, efficient way, but did alll our typing and mailing, and took care of arranging for the Girl Scouts' baby sitting service during the concerts."

Treasurer Barbara King, another holdover on the board, managed the league's money matters and chaired the food committee for "Interior Trends," the spring luncheon.

Millie Ferrari supervised the serving of refreshments to the orchestra members at rehearsals and the coffee at concert intermissions.

Sharron Davy handled publicity, kept the league scrapbooks, and served on the dealer committee for the antique mart.

Past president, Jan Quick, served on the reorganization committee and chaired the Christmas concert for children, an innovation this season which was highly successful.

THE LEAGUE is divided into five groups, each responsible for one or more major projects. Mrs. Camp honored the group chairpersons, listing the fund-raisers and social events that netted the league's $6,000 pledge to the Symphony Society and the surprise bonus of $5,000.

Everyone works on the annual Antique Mart. Chaired by Judy Dahlberg and Judy Morgan, the three-day mart during the Plymouth Fall Festival, showed a profit of $3,344. It was the league's biggest fund-raiser and topped all past mart records.

Mary Kehoe and the members of the Crescendo group were responsible for "Interior Trends" which added $2,340 to the league coffers. Mrs. Kehoe also organized league participation in the Fowl Festival. Her husband provided the antique fire engine, which transported the members and their chicken race entry in the pre-race parade.

Peggy Jennings chaired the Nightengales. Their project was the round-robin bridge which earned more than $800 under the chairmanship of Jean Sigmon and Joyce Kelly. The Nightengales shared responsibility for the spring luncheon with Pat Centofanti co-chairing the project.

Louise Hall and Kathy Rea were co-leaders of the Staccato group. Janet Repp chaired their project, the May pop concert.

Elinor Chelian headed the Vivaces who planned the fall fashion show and luncheon. Fran Lang chaired the event which earned about $1,000.

Adding to the year's receipts were a bake sale at a concert, plant sales at the antique mart and the bowling league, which was chaired by Wilma Post.

RALPH ATCHLEY, president of the Symphony Society, accepted the bonus check from the league.

"I am overwhelmed," said Atchley. "It is a perpetual truth that without you, the Plymouth Symphony Society and orchestra would not exist. The pop concert was beautifully done. And the Children's concert, initiated by the league — you pushed for it and you supported it — was tremendous."

He also thanked Fran Lang, crediting her with arranging the concert season, and finding the guest conductors and soloists.

Janet Repp was elected president with Judy Morgan as vice president. Added to the board this season are four new positions, a result of the constitution changes. Newsletter editors are Judy Dahlberg and Sharron Davy; Michigan Orchestra Women's Association representative is Peggy Jennings; Symphony Week chairperson is Mary Kehoe; and Fall Festival Committee representative, Eleanor Shevlin.

Carole Brandt will handle league publicity and Clara Camp will serve on the board as past president.

Group chairpersons are: Allegro, Mary Bozell and Carole Brandt; Crescendo, Ann Shearer; Nightengal, Pat Centofanti; Staccato, Judy Moore; and Vivace, Fran Lang, Linda Pawling and Eleanor Shevlin.

A membership tea is being planned for October with hopes of a adding to the league.

Grants add joy to learning at Isbister

Hammering can be creative. So can gettiang your hands nice and sticky with paste.

With the help of grants from the Plymouth Community Arts Council, students at Isbister School are finding this out for themselves.

The hammering is being done by boys and girls at a workbench designed by Pam Hoadley, the art teacher, and built with a $250 grant from the PCAC.

Also with assistance from the PCAC, students in Robert Shurmur's fourth grade classes are putting together relief maps of the continents, and Carolyn Kleinsmith's kindergarten students have been making a photographic diary of their activities.

Ms. Hoadley wanted the workshop so her students could learn to build things themselves. The bench is on wheels and can be moved from classroom to classroom. It has a top hard enough to drill or pound on, which helps save desk tops.

It's also got a lip for vises, a drawer for supplies and a cabinet in which to hang saws and hammers.

So far, students have been working on their own projects, but Ms. Hoadley plans to have them make hand looms.

OVER THE past few months, 12 of Shurmur's students have learned a lot about Antarctica, as they crumpled newspapers, mixed paste and plaster of paris and brushed on acryllic paints to produce their graphic relief map of that continent.

Shurmur's students previously had completed maps of the U.S., and the North American Continent with the help of funds from the school's Parent-Teacher Group.

They're planning to do four more with help of a PCAC grant of $225. Each is permanently mounted on ¾-inch plywood, and costs $40 to $45 to make. Although they are hung on a wall

Jaycees, Jaycettes plan Walk for Mankind

Canton Chatter

By SAM NICHOLS 397-0429

I must begin this column by doing some "setting the record straight." Let me say that when I goof, I really goof. I jump right in with both feet in my mouth.

Last week I wrote about a party in honor of Dave Schmitt and Charlie Freece. Through sheer bumbling, I failed to mention Dave's wife, Barb. (Barb Schmitt, if you're still reading my column, please forgive me.)

Those who know Barb know she can tackle any task and make it seem effortless. Well, she did it again. Not only did I omit her name name, but also the fact that she was in on the planning and makings of this party from its conception to its finish. As her husband, Dave, and her friends know, everything Barb does, she does well. And this party was no exception.

Much to my dismay, I discovered Barb was not alone in anomynity. My son, Kirk, came home from school with the assignment of bringing back two interesting newspaper articles. After he told me about the assignment, he asked, "Mom, do you ever write anything interesting?"

SINCE MY HUSBAND was about to go into cardiac arrest from laughing, I had to point out that I had written about Kirk's birthday party, and wouldn't that be an "interesting" article for him to take to school?

After I found the column and gave it to him, he asked, "But where's my name?"

It seems I had named every child who attended the party except the guest of honor. What's his name? Oh, yes, . . . Kirk.

THE CANTON Jaycees and Jaycettes are very involved with Project Concern, an international, non-profit, medical and dental assistance program.

It helps people in United States and the developing countries assume responsibility for their own health care through nutrition and paramedic training, public health education and curative medicine. Each year project concern helps more then 1.5 million persons.

Project Concern is supported almost totally by private contributions. Three-fourths of these donations are generated by the Walk for Mankind, which is sponsored by the United States Jaycees and Dr. Pepper.

The plan is simple.

Persons of all ages walk a 30-kilometer (18 miles) route through the community. Each walker enlists sponsors who agree to donate a certain amount for each kilometer completed.

The Walk for Mankind is one of the most vibrant youth involvement programs in the United States.

The walk provides an opportunity for each participant to make a significant, lifesaving contribution in alleviating the suffering of mankind.

Saturday, June 7, is the date of the Walk for Mankind.

The Canton route will begin at Plymouth Salem High School. Registration will begin that day at 7:30 a.m. and end at 9:30 a.m.

Jaycee Steve Foley said they would like walkers to pre-register if possible. For more information and pre-registration call Keith Davey, 965-0535, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. From 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., call Terri Bennett, 459-0227.

DISCOUNT COUPON booklets worth more than $15 will be given to all participants in the walk. Also, groups may pre-register and earn 10 percent of the money pledged to their group.

This would be an excellent opportunity for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc., to earn some money for their own groups while helping in a very worthwhile project. Interested groups should get in touch with either Keith Davey or Terri Bennett at the above numbers.

Groups must pre-register in order to earn the 10 percent for their own organization.

The walk will June 7, rain or shine. Walkers should take along the following items: money for a telephone call, a sack lunch, lightweight rainwear, extra socks and their sponsor sheets.

The cooperation of the police, National Guard, ham radio operators and others is arranged to insure safety of the walkers and smooth-running of the project. The Jaycees said they want their walk to be both enjoyable and safe.

Remember the date, June 7. Call the Canton Jaycees to make arrangements to walk or to pledge money to a walker.

The Boating Bargain.
A whole weekend of fun on 10 gallons of gas or less.

The next time you pump 20 gallons of gasoline into your car for a day's drive, think about this.

Just think about how little gasoline it takes for a weekend of water skiing, skin diving, sunning, swimming, secluded beaches, starlight nights.

We'll put it another way. Just a couple of gas cans filled up at your local pump can keep you on the water for the whole weekend.

And, if you think getting into boating is expensive, think again. Boats are investments which often increase in value. Boat loan interest is tax deductible and loans are easy to arrange at most Michigan Marine Dealers Association member showrooms. A small initial investment and you're under way. Come on in. We'll show you how you and your family can enjoy a full summer's worth of fun for about the same price as a two week vacation for two in Hawaii.

Bring in the coupon below to a participating Michigan Marine Dealers Association member and you could win a boat, motor and trailer or boating accessory. There is no obligation and nothing to buy.

INSTRUCTIONS & OFFICIAL RULES
1. To enter the contest, complete the entry blank or a reasonable facsimile and bring it to a participating Michigan Marine Dealers Association member.
2. Winners will be determined in random drawings conducted by the Michigan Marine Dealers Association which is solely responsible for its completion and delivery of prizes.
3. All winners will be contacted by the Michigan Marine Dealers Association and given all the information they require to claim their prizes. Michigan Marine Dealers Association decisions will be final. Prizes will be as stated—cash or alternatives will not be offered.
4. The grand prize will be a boat, motor, trailer combination. There will be one (1) grand prize winner.
5. The contest is open to all residents of the U.S., 18 years or older except employees of the Michigan Marine Dealers Association and those of participating members.
6. Void where prohibited by law. Subject to all federal, state and local laws and regulations. Winners are solely responsible for any applicable taxes.
7. The drawing will be held on or about 6-15-80. One prize per family. The odds of winning depend upon the number of entries received.
8. For a list of winners, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Michigan Marine Dealers Association Contest, 33750 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150.
9. Entries must be received on or before 6-15-80. Entries must be taken prior before 6-1-80.
10. No purchase necessary.

New federation chief installed at banquet

Cathy Fillion placed an Indian headdress on daughter, Casey, at installation ceremonies.

The Indian Maidens and their mothers dined on spaghetti, ravioli, lasagne and shrimp - amenu with an Italian flair. The occasion was the Plymouth/Canton YMCA Indian Maidens and Trailettes banquet in the Roman Forum Restaurant on Ford Road, Canton Township.

The YMCA program is an organization of mothers and daughters, 5 years of age and older, participating together in a variety of activities. The membership is divided into groups (tribes) of six to nine mothers and daughters. Meetings are in members' home on a rotating basis, usually twice a month.

The mother-daughter teams serve together as officers. Retiring federation Chief Marge Stacy and daughter, Ann, 10. have been active members since 1975. They served as chief from 1978 through 1980. Mary Gavigan and daughter, Becky, 8, retired from the post of assistant federation chief. They also had a two-year term in office having joined the federation in 1976.

CATHY FILLION and daughter Casey, 5, were inducted as new chief. They joined the group last year. The Fillions have been Canton Township residents since 1972, before Casey was born.

Willen Miller and daughter, Shannon, 5, who joined the Indian Maidens when they moved to Canton last year, are the new assistant chief.

Special guests at the induction banquet were Janet Luce, director of Plymouth/Canton YMCA and Dan Volkas, a psychic investigator who was guest speaker.

Volkas told of his personal experiences with ghosts and then had a question and answer session about ghosts.

He described each maiden's and mother's personality and made one guess about the future of each member.

MRS. FILLION described upcoming events which would involve the Indian Guides, Maidens, Trailblazers, Princesses and Trailettes in the federation.

They will be flying kites May 18 and will have a track meet, May 21. The spring campout will be June 13-15.

The group was told that the Y again would have float in the Plymouth July 4 parade.

Mothers and daughters wishing more information about the organization can call Mrs. Fillion, 455-7181.

Wrap skirts are easy to make and wear.

Skirting inflation a new, fun pastime

Three top quality garments for the price of one, and each one ideally fitted to your individual needs. Sound like a fantasy? Actually, this is custom-made inflation fighting that is possible only with sew it yourself skills.

Almost 60 percent of all American households have a sewing machine. The problem is getting family members to use it. Teen-agers are the ones who have the time and the best opportunity not only to learn, but to practice sewing skills.

Clothing for the young must be up-to-the-minute, "right on," and it helps if it is also economical, easy to care for and easier still to make. With the comeback of skirts, the easy to fit wrap skirt is very popular. Velour and knitted terry textures plus single knits make great tops.

One of the most frustrating aspects of sewing appears to be complicated pattern instructions, and custom fitting. In a fun, six-week course starting May 19, Montgomery Ward will offer a variety of programs guaranteed to solve any sewing problems. Students will also sew a complete garment in the classroom, with no homework on the outside.

Students will be enrolled, based on previous experience, in basic classes which emphasize pattern adjustment, layout, on-grain cutting, marking, machine skills, zipper, waistbands, hems, easy to fit sleeve styles, basic facings, collars and pockets.

Or, students can be assigned to an intermediate class which stresses fitting, pattern alterations, professionally smooth convertible collars and set-in sleeves for dresses and jackets. Button holes, lines pockets, and other details will also be featured in these classes. Each class is under the guidance of a professional instructor.

To register or for information call the sewing department of any Montgomery Ward store.

Boy Scout troop formed

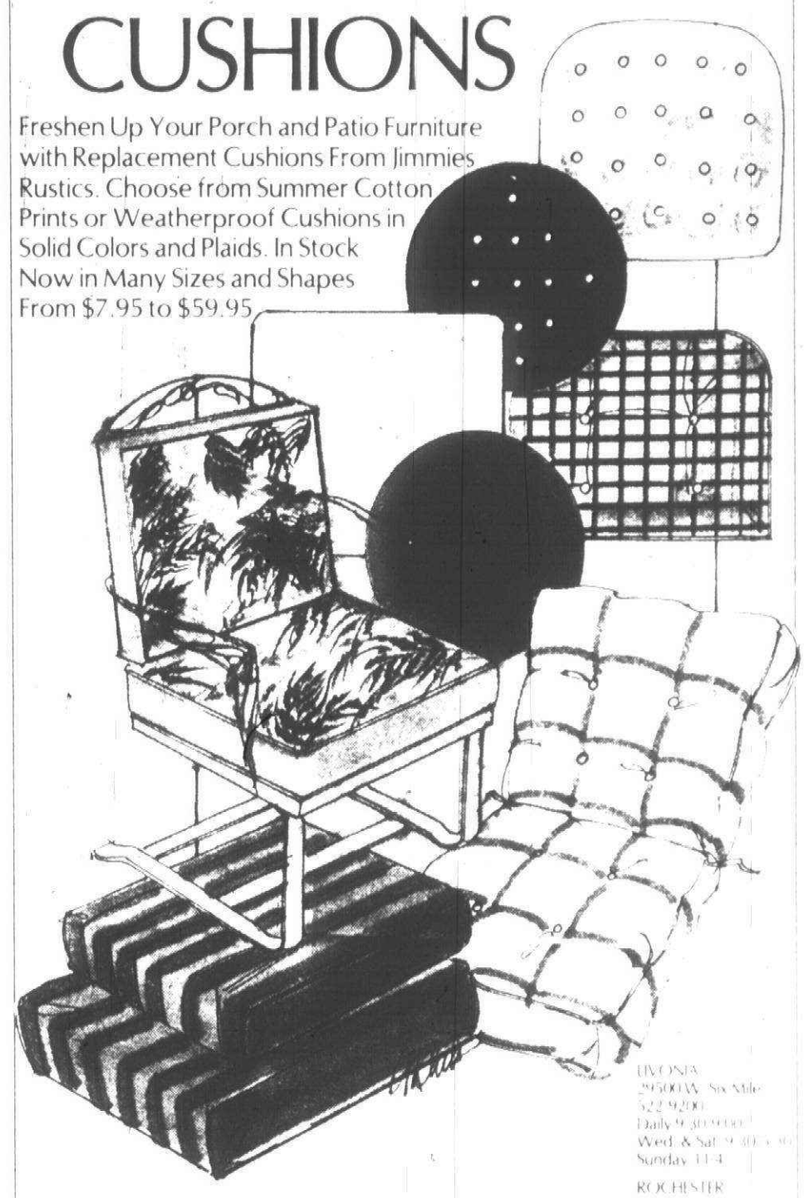

The organization of Boy Scout Troop 781 has been announced by Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, Plymouth and the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Rev. James Jagielski of OLGC said John Chriswell will be scoutmaster of the new troop. Eric LaPointe and John Caloia will be assistant scoutmasters.

Richard McGuire, Robert Caloia, Joseph Caloia, George Stopper, James Shields, Ronald Ziemba and George Frenley are on the troop committee which will meet in May to complete the assignment of committee responsibilities.

The church and the troop leaders have opened membership in the troop to all boys 11 years old or are completing fifth grade to become members of the troop.. They can call the church for more information.

Place your valuables in a safe deposit box today...and have pleasant dreams tonight.

You'll rest a lot easier when you have the 24-hour protection of a safe deposit box for your valuables. And this protection is available now at most DETROITBANK Corporation neighborhood locations.

Is your home really the safest place for your valuables?

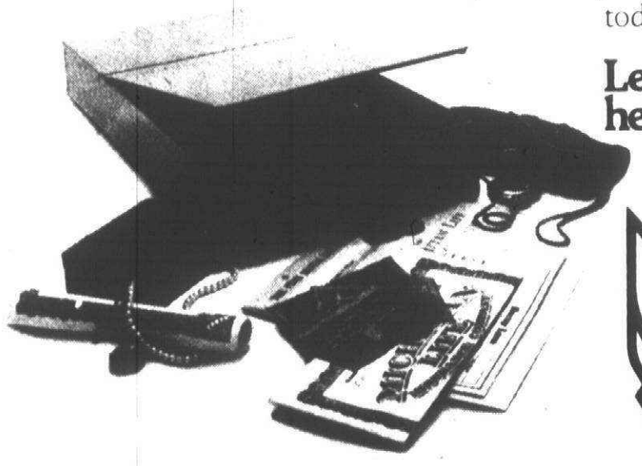

Valuables kept at home are often lost or destroyed by fire, theft or damage. For just pennies a day, you can rent a safe deposit box from us. Prices start at $14 a year - about 4 cents a day - and your valuables are locked in our vault and protected by our alarms. Compare that to the protection you get at home.

Protection as well as peace of mind.

You'll still want insurance on your precious metals, gems or any other valuable possessions. But for some items, nothing could replace their real value to you once they're gone.

The cost of a safe deposit box can be tax deductible.

When you maintain income-producing items in your safe deposit box such as savings certificates, stocks or savings bonds, the cost is tax deductible as long as you itemize your federal income tax return. Safe deposit boxes are available right now at very modest prices. Move your valuables to better security today. And have pleasant dreams tonight.

Let your DETROIT BANK-er help you manage your money.

Assistant scoutmaster Darell Saunders handed out the merit badges to: Mark Belding, rowing; Brian Crum, first aid and swimming; Bob Gates, Indian lore and archery; Chris Knierim, small boat sailing, pottery, archery and canoeing; Travis Saunders, first aid; Adam Wilkinson, first aid; and John Ahrens, basketry.

IN MS. KLEINSMITH'S kindergarten class, looking at the album they've "written" themselves helps students recall special events of the year. Mothers enjoy it too.

Mrs. Kleinsmith received funds from the PCAC for an instant-picture camera and film. She takes the pictures of the children, and they tell her what happened, building a story of their activities around the pictures.

"Jennetee is painting costumes. We made brownies for our mothers. We had a play for our mothers. We sang for our mothers. We made May baskets for our moms."

Birthdays also go into the album, and it's been useful to help new students become acquainted more quickly.

Pastor marks 30th anniversary

A pastor's 30 years of service will be acknowledged by his congregation Saturday.

The Rev. Jacob J. Traub, pastor at the Bethel Missionary Assembly of God Church, will be honored with a dinner Saturday.

A buffet potluck dinner to honor the pastor and his wife, Margaret, is planned at 6:30 p.m. in the church's Bethel Acts Building. The building is one of the structures on the Livonia property at Joy and Middlebelt that have come into being in the 30 years of the ministry.

The Rev. Jacob Traub has been minister of Bethel Missionary Assembly of God for 30 years. (Staff photo by Art Emanuele)

Pastor Traub came first to the church when only a basement unit was at Joy Road and Middlebelt. He preached his first sermon there on Mother's Day 1950.

This Mother's Day, still going strong with a congregation that numbers 200 most Sundays, he asked those assembled in the Bethel sanctuary to consider "Have You Blessed Your Mother?"

THE BRICK AND mortar of "Let's see, three additions to the church building," as well as the multi-purpose building and a parsonage are rated by this clergyman as important accomplishments, but not so important as Bethel's outreach.

"During the 30 years I have been here, 30 young people went out from our local church to mission work," he said.

"The Lord has blessed our ministry here by calling others from our church into ministry."

In addition, the church (which he describes as "missionary-oriented") gives support to 28 couples in mission work. A world map hanging at the rear of the sanctuary has bright-colored strings extending from pins in the spot marked Livonia to several continents.

The outreach for Pastor and Mrs. Traub also is a family thing. The list of 30 young people from the congregation in ministry includes their son, Ronald, who is pastor of the First Assembly of God at Collinsville, Ill.

Two of their four daughters, Donna McCullough and Bonnie Tyler, are married to Assembly of God ministers.

JACOB TRAUB came to Bethel by way of three other pastorates and some blue-collar work.

"I didn't go to Bible college," he said. "I felt the call to minister and responded. Then I took some correspondence courses."

He served two years as pastor of the Assembly of God church at Harbor Beach and three years each as assistant to the Rev. M.D. Beal of Bethesda Missionary Temple of Detroit and pastor of Tabor Tabernacle, another Detroit church.

While in the Livonia church he has instituted a program that includes three services Sundays, Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., worship at 11 and an evangelistic service — "for reaching people who have not experienced the call of the Lord" — at 6:30 p.m.

Family meeting services are held Thursday evenings, and there are three youth groups, the Royal Rangers for boys, the Missionettes for girls and the Christ Ambassadors, encompassing young people 13 through 35. That program is led by the youth, with the assistance of the Rev. Ed Bradley, youth minister for Bethel.

PASTOR TRAUB has his denomination in various capacities, as presbyter for the southeast Detroit district for 18 years and earlier as youth director for metropolitan Detroit.

He said he sees his long ministry here as "a real privilege to minister the gospel of Jesus Christ to this community."

Has he seen major changes in his long stay? Not really, said this clergyman.

"Times change, but the gospel and the Bible remain the same," is how he summed it up.

Fellowship hosts singers

Charles Baker, former farmer of Portage, Ind., will be the principal speaker at the May 16 dinner of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship to be held in the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

He will be accompanied by his wife and three teenage daughters, who will sing.

Following 10 years of farming in central Illinois, Baker quit to study the Bible, eventually becoming an ordained minister. He pastored in the Methodist church for several years and then joined Gospel Crusades, a traveling ministry.

Additional music on the program will be furnished by tenor Bob Tuitte of Plymouth, who is a gospel singer at Brightmoor Tabernacle.

Dinner is at 7 p.m. at a cost of $8 plus a 15 percent gratuity. Both the dinner and the performance are open to the public. Reservation checks payable to FGBMF may be sent by May 14 to PO Box 5332, Northville 48167.

Rev Wager honored

Retiring after 42 years in the United Methodist ministry, the Rev. William G. Wager will be honored at a special service at 11 a.m. Sunday in Aldersgate UMC, 10000 Beech Daly, Redford.

REV. WILLIAM G. WAGER

Bishop Edsel Ammons of the Detroit Conference will preach and the Rev. Al Bamsey, district superintendent, will lead the worship.

Wager has been senior pastor at the Redford church for 14 years and earlier served at Trinity Methodist of Flint. Earlier ministries were in Riley Center-West Berlin; Dryden-Leonard-Elkton and Detroit St. Mark.

Besides being a United Methodist minister he has worked in several Michigan school systems and directed a pilot program in high school psychology for the W.K. Kellogg Foundation. He serves as Protestant representatives at the Shapero School of Nursing, Sinai Hospital.

Development of an effective lay leadership he considers a major achievement of his ministry at Aldersgate during the last few years. Recently he and the church's director of evangelism presented that program for a convocation at Dana College in Blair, Neb.

Rev. and Mrs. Wager will live in their home on Lake Huron after retirement.

Rothaar earns degree

The Rev. Michael Rothaar of Garden City, pastor of Christus Victor Lutheran Church in Dearborn Heights, will be honored by the congregation at a church reception at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

He will be congratulated for earning a doctor of ministry degree, which will be conferred on him May 17 by Drew University in Madison, N.J.

Rev. Rothaar has served Christus Victor since 1974. He has a master of science degree in psychology from St. Francis College in Fort Wayne, Ind. Recently he served as convention planning committee chairman and workshop leader for the Michigan District of the American Lutheran Church. He is southern Michigan area director for the Seminary Appeal, a fund-raising effort of the national church.

He and his wife, Linda, have three children.

Cherris named fund coordinator

Robert Cherris of St. Theodore Catholic Church, Westland, has been named lay coordinator for the 1980 Archdiocesan Development Fund for churches in the Western Wayne Vicariate of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

The fund provides for religious, educational and charitible projects in six counties, Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Lapeer and St. Clair.

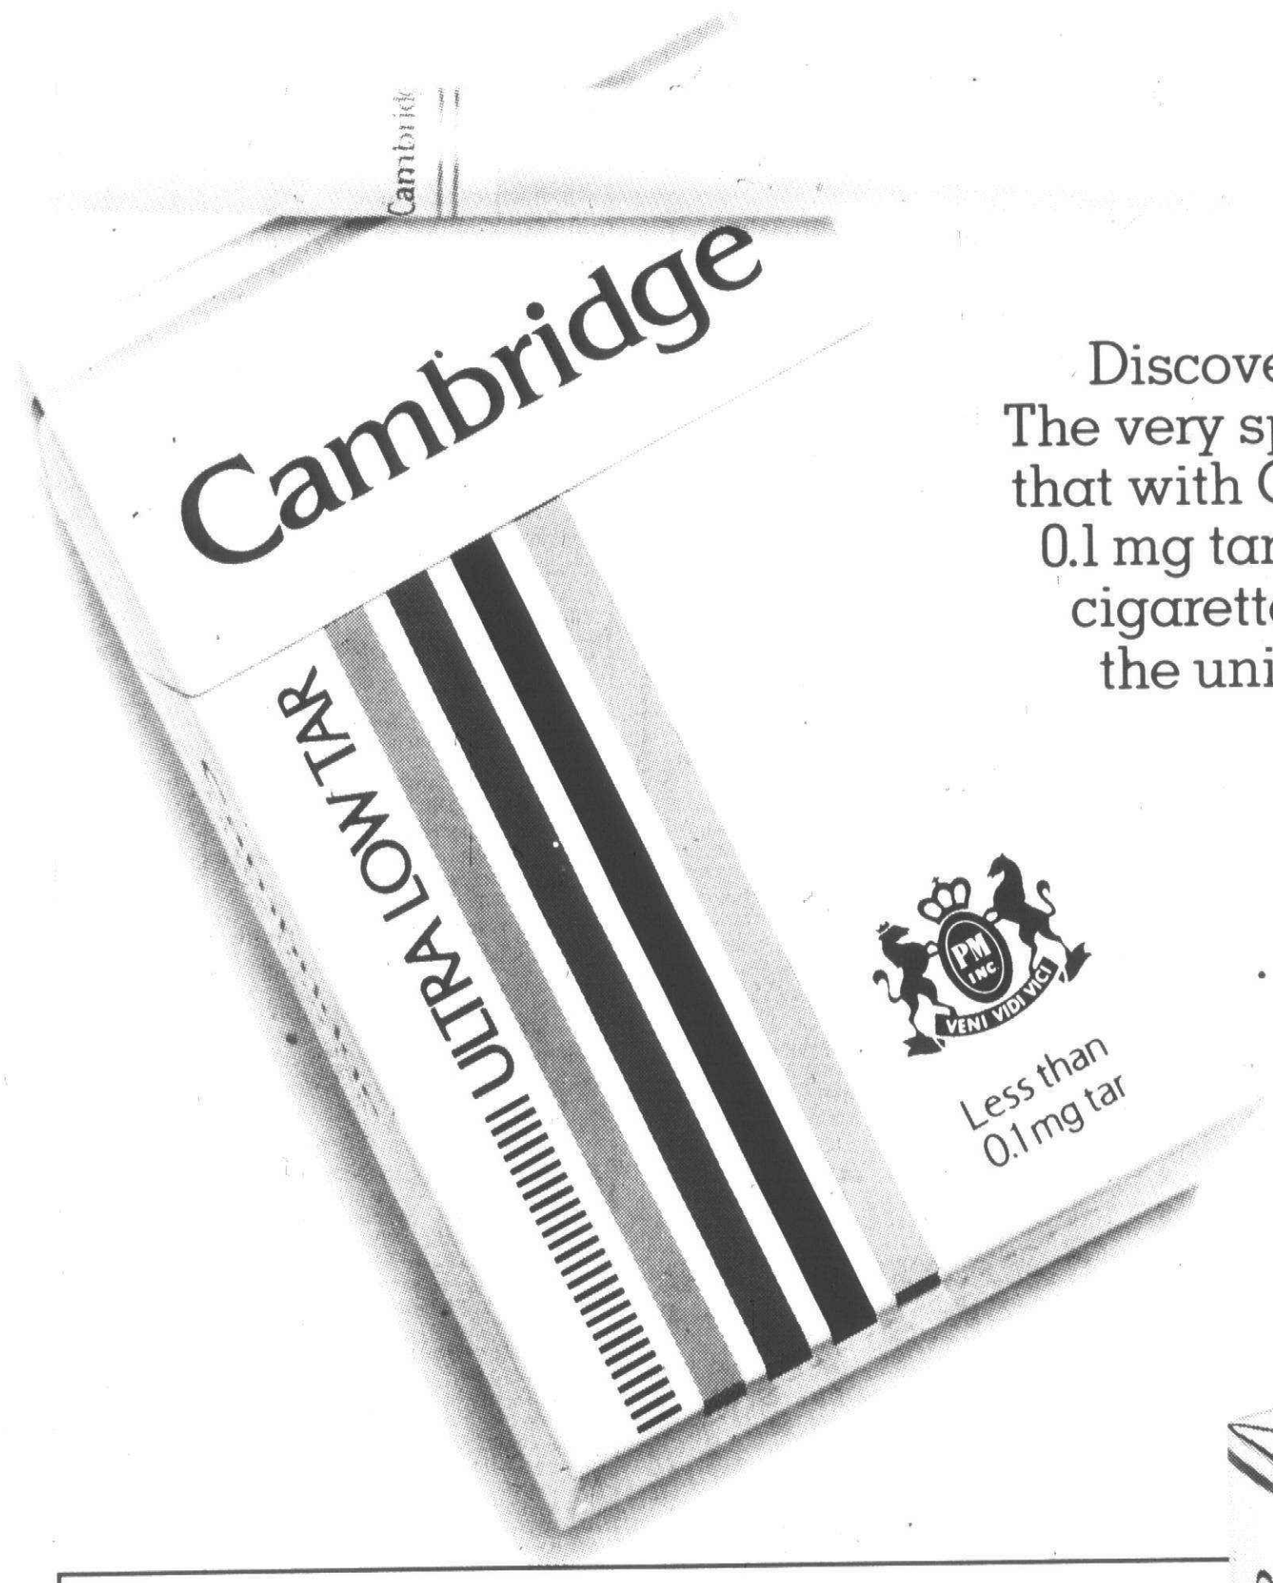

The goal for 1980 is $2.5 million, with $78,079 of that amount allocated to the Western Wayne Vicariate.

By W.W. EDGAR

There is no telling to what extremes some persons will go to escape boredom in their retirement years.

Take the case of Lou Norman, the well-known excavator who worked throughout Plymouth Township and still lives in the old Centennial Farm on Ann Arbor Trail.

Forced to retire a half dozen years ago for physical reasons, he now "tinkers" about in his workshop behind his home. This year he came up with his prize — turkey decoys.

WORKING ON them most of the winter, he used them recently on a turkey hunt on his property near Mio and had a great time watching the birds veer toward the decoys after he gave the turkey call.

"My biggest moment on the hunt," he said, "was the day I put out the decoys and then gave the call. In almost no time, the birds came running. There were eight of them, seven hens and a gobbler. I never shoot at hens and they stuck so close to the gobbler that I didn't get a shot at him either."

Most of his life Norman has been a great hunter and fisherman, but never bothered with such things as duck decoys. Then one evening, as he tells it, he was rummaging through a book of wild life pictures and noted one by John James Audubon, the famed naturalist.

"I liked that picture," Norman says, "and it wasn't long until I drew a picture of it on a drawing board.

"Once I had the drawing, I used Styrofoam for the body; and it turned out to be quite a job. I had to use special material for the liquid. Regular paint would have eaten the foam. When I had it finished, I used buttons for eyes, copper wire for the pupils and horse hair for the whiskers on its chest."

INASMUCH as he usually goes hunting and fishing with Elmer Horvath, Norman made two turkey decoys. He also confided that the wild turkeys in Audubon's day were much smaller than the turkeys now found.

"In the old days the hen turkey measured only 31 inches from beak to tail. Today they go well beyond that."

Norman is proud of the fact that he was approved for a turkey hunting license two years ago and that it was renewed because, as he says, they are difficult to get.

That he failed to get a bird this year doesn't bother Norman. What does perplex him is the practice of auto owners driving close to the hunting grounds at Mio with hunting dogs. They give the turkey cry, and when they hear the gobble in return, they send the dogs after the birds.

"They chased us right out of our hunting trip again. This is the second year in a row — and the practice goes on. Those fellows aren't hunters, but they ruin it for others."

BEFORE HE retired, Norman was one of the best known of the excavators in the entire area. He proudly relates that he dug all the basements in Lake Pointe and many other subdivisions throughout the township.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM
Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, FEMA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY:
Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the nation. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES:
The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in each community.

ADDRESSES:

Room 5150
451 Seventh Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20410.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:
The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations in the nation, in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 67.4 (a) (presently appearing at its former title 24, chapter 10, part 1917.4 (a)).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by section 60.3 (formerly Section 1910.3) of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State or Regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

Home help is available for the aged

Help with minor home maintenance and repairs is available for Plymouth senior citizens through the Skill Bank program sponsored by the Plymouth Community Council on Aging Inc.

The program offers such services as painting, carpentry, plumbing, electrical, lawn work and odd jobs to retired senior citzens (age 60 and older) at reasonable charges.

The work is performed by retired tradesmen and handymen who desire to earn some additional income while helping their fellow man.

Any skilled handyman can register with the council office by calling the telephone communications center at 455-4907 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Senior citizens desiring the help can call the same number from 10-2 Monday through Thursday.

When retired homemakers call, they will be put in touch with a job performer who will negotiate directly with him on charges for the job.

Finding jobs to be done is not a serious problem, says Walter Fletcher, chairman of the Skill Bank program, but more handymen and tradesmen are needed.

Interior cleaning also has been requested so any women who can do this cleaning at reasonable fees also are invited to register.

The Plymouth Community Council on Aging is an independent non-profit organization of volunteers who are advocates for needed services for the elderly, and are funded by local benefactors.

Paul Williams and his music: 'If people like it, that's great. If they don't, that's great too.'

By NICK CHARLES

"I never told people I was a songwriter," said accomplished composer, pianist, scriptwriter, actor and comedian Paul Williams.

"To this very day I've never defended my songwriting. If people like it, that's great. If they don't, that's great too."

Williams recently entertained at the Hyatt Regency's db's Club in Dearborn.

He opened the show with "Old Fashion Love Song" recorded years ago by rock group Three Dog Night.

As Williams sang, he picked an imaginary rose and handed it to a woman in the front row.

He didn't let that mood slip away as he shared his favorite toast with the audience: "Will the day bring you the warmth of the sun and the peacefulness of the sunset."

WHEN THE audience wasn't totally wrapped up in an emotional ballad, it was laughing at Williams' jokes.

"I just want to be your own erotic teddy bear," he said.

Williams joked about his height: "When it rains, we're the last to get wet and the first to drown."

Even though Williams is best known for his song writing, it turns out his real love is acting.

"In 1961 I was given a card from Actor's Equity and on it, it said 'actor' and that's what I did for a living. From that point on I said, 'O.K. I don't sack groceries. I don't park cars. I don't work for a title insurance company. I am an actor and that broadens to include writing'."

PAUL WILLIAMS first went to Hollywood when he was 21 years old, looking to make a name for himself in acting.

"John Wayne kicked in doors," he said. "I just kept leaning on them."

Williams did get roles, but they weren't always for the leading man.

"In 'The Loved One' in 1963 I was 23 playing a 14-year-old. It was bizarre because when I was trying to work as an actor I was always getting cast as a kid. I looked like a kid until you put me next to real kids. Then I looked like a kid with a hangover."

Williams has just finished the sequel to one of his movies, called "Smokey and the Bandit, Part Two."

Another major project at this time is a movie called "The Wizard of Id" in which he plays the king.

What happens when the acting career and the music career overlap?

"EVERY GIG that I do has a built-in motion picture clause. In other words, the gig can be postponed or canceled for a film," he said.

Sometimes Williams gets to mix his love for movies with his love for music. For instance, one of the songs he performed during the show was "Another Fine Mess," the theme song from the Burt Reynolds/Sally Field movie "The End."

"What I'm most proud of in the whole picture 'A Star is Born' is the way Kristofferson's theme song, "Watch Closely Now," works at the end after "With One More Look At You."

"When Kenny (Ascher) and I found it, what I call breaking the back of a song, when you know where you want to go, it was so exhilarating. We're both real emotional. We're both sobbing. We're real self-indulgent and tears are rolling down our cheeks. And then she goes 'I want one more look. Are you watching me now?' and then we start laughing at each other."

THERE IS no doubt that Williams is known for his talent now, but people weren't always begging him to write songs for them.

"Everytime I'd write a song for somebody, it was almost a guarantee they wouldn't do it," he said. "Almost everything that Three Dog Night had a hit with, I think Glen Campbell turned down, like "Family of Man," "Out in the Country," "Old Fashioned Love Song."

'When I was trying to work as an actor I was always getting cast as a kid. I looked like a kid until you put me next to real kids. Then I looked like a kid with a hangover.'

— Paul Williams

Toward the beginning of his career, one of Williams' biggest hits, "We've Only Just Begun," got its start as a commercial.

"The first two verses had all the romantic beginnings of a bank commercial," he said.

"This guy called us from an ad agency and said 'What we're going to do is show a young couple getting married and there's not going to be any voice or anything. What we'd like to do is put a song with it. It would be like a little 58-second movie.'"

"So we wrote, 'We've only just begun to live / white lace and promises,' and we thought why not have a bridge and a third verse to have a full song and we finished it."

How does the man responsible for so many hits create this magic?

"It's hard to describe how that comes down," said Williams of his songwriting. "I just hear the words and music."

THE MULTI-TALENTED Williams is as exciting offstage as he is onstage.

"I love to drive," he said. "I've been racing for the last couple of years. I like high-speed sports. I started sky diving in 1960 and made 44 jumps, then quit and started up again a few years ago.

"I was asked to jump with the Golden Knights, which is the military free fall exhibition team. I think I'm the only civilian that's ever jumped with the army."

New rule for fish derby — lures legal

Young anglers in the annual Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher fishing derby will have a new rule this year that should result in bigger fish.

They may use artificial lures — flies, poppers, plastic worms, plugs and spoons.

In the previous 13 years of the contest, the 6-16-year-old anglers had been restricted to live bait.

The contest is scheduled for the morning of June 14 on the shores of Newburgh Lake. Co-sponsors are the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and the parks departments of Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Westland, Dearborn Heights and the two Farmingtons.

"Last year we had a pike entered for the first time in nine years," said Hank Chruscial, contest chairman of the conservation club. He cited reports of large northern pike being taken through the ice last winter as additional reasons for changing the rules to enable more large predator fish to be caught.

Pike will hit live minnows, but they are most frequently caught on such artificial lures as spoons and plugs. Bass, too, can be caught on live worms, but the lunkers are usually caught on plastic crawlers and plugs.

"Parents will have to supervise their youngsters more carefully if there is a lot of casting going on," Chruscial added.

He said an expanded list of prizes will be announced as soon as all donations have been received.

Bike path capital celebrates Saturday at I-275 ceremony

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors writer

Formal dedication of an I-275 bike path next weekend will draw public attention to the fact that western Wayne County is the two-wheel capital of Michigan.

Ceremonies begin at 10 a.m. Saturday at the rest stop on northbound I-275 between Palmer and Cherry Hill roads.

State Rep. Edward Mahalak, D-Romulus, who claims credit for a 1974 enabling bill, said the brief ribbon-cutting ceremony will be followed by entertainment and refreshments. The new path is a Michigan Department of Transportation project.

Bicyclists can travel the length of I-275 and part of I-96 in Novi.

In addition, some 17 miles of Edward Hines Drive are served by a bicycle path. Hines Drive parallels the Middle Rouge River in a county park.

And if you travel west on Eight Mile Road to Mayberry State Park near the county line, you'll find even more bicycle paths.

The Mayberry bike paths are in rolling hills, but the I-275 and Hines paths are mainly on flat ground.

BLUEGILLS and crappies in many lakes are in shallow water for spawning, the state Department of Natural Resources says.

My party checked out Newburgh Lake last weekend, but failed to find them spawning, though they were moving into shallower water.

Panfish look for sandy bottoms in which to make saucer-shaped nests in which to lay their eggs. Bluegills, in particular, are good parents who guard the nests ferociously while the eggs are incubating in the warm sun.

The annual May bird count will be held at 8 a.m. Saturday at the nature center of Kensington Metropark. All interested birders are invited to participate as long as they choose.

The count is an all-day census of the park's birds. Participants should bring binoculars, a lunch and proper footwear. Lemonade will be available.

Advance registration is required by calling the nature center at 685-1561.

I've often seen 'gills attack a popper, not because they were hungry, but because they feared it was a big bug which might have designs on their eggs.

It's easy to "kill" a bunch of 'gills when they're spawning. A considerate fisherman doesn't take too many spawning gills from one spot.

Belleville Lake is a good spot for crappies. Many near-limit catches are reported, though the seven-inch average size isn't spectacular. Crappies relish minnows.

Lots of canoes are on the Huron River below Proud Lake, Wixom. If you're planning to catch trout there, go early in the morning or late in the evening. The artificial flies-only rule has expired, and you may now use worms, spinners or whatever suits your fancy.

THE SIERRA Club Detroit group's next meeting is designed for lovers of high adventure. Barbara Sorenson will show slides of canoeing down the Yukon River and backpacking up the Chilkoot Pass in northwest Canada.

'Star Wars' cabaret Sunday in Westland

Do you like to munch on cheese and sip wine or beer? Are you a science-fiction freak?

If so, a Sunday cabaret concert in Westland might be just the ticket.

The concert, dubbed "Dimensions in Time and Space," will be at 3:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose arena south of Hunter on Wildwood (east of Wayne Road). Admission is $2 for adults, and $1 for youths and senior citizens.

"It will be cabaret style, with booths where people can buy beer, wine, cheese and other refreshments," says Chuck Pickering, deputy director of the Westland Parks and Recreation Department, which is sponsoring the concert.

The Westland Concert Band, directed by Randolph Blouse, will present musical selections from such movies as "Star Wars" and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind."

Other works include compositions by Johann Sebastian Bach and Henry Mancini.

Opera week coming up; 3 shows already sold out

Three performances during Metropolitan Opera Week in Detroit, May 26-31, are already sold out.

Sponsored by the Detroit Grand Opera Association, all performances are held in the Masonic Auditorium in Detroit. This is one of only seven cities included in the Met's annual tour.

The schedule is: "Un Ballo in Maschera," 8:30 p.m. May 26; "Billy Budd," 8 p.m. May 27; "Eugene Onegin," 8 p.m. May 28; "Carmen," 8 p.m. May 29; "Aida," 8 p.m. May 30; "Hansel and Gretel," 1:30 p.m. May 31; and "L'Elisir D'Amore," 8 p.m. May 31.

Performances already sold out are "UnBallo in Maschera," "Carmen" and "Aida." Standing room or obstructed view seats are sometimes available at $3 each and a few scattered singles.

For information on tickets, call the Detroit Grand Opera office at 832-5200.

This is the 22nd consecutive year that Detroit Grand Opera Association has brought the Met to this city. The association also sponsors opera education courses, media programs, opening night benefit dinner party and other fund-raisers along with the yearly scholarship auditions.

● LOOK OUT

"Invasion of the Body Snatchers," (original version) 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Channel 20.

Dehumanization is a strain of science fiction as old as Greek mythology. In film, German expressionist Fritz Lang's "Metropolis" (1926) dealt with a computerized, automated society. Don Siegel's "Dawn of the Dead" (1979) depicted the zombie-like, mechanical behavior of the dead who rise again to devour human flesh.

Dehumanization can take many forms, but perhaps none so frightening as the sort presented in "Invasion of the Body Snatchers." In this 1956 Siegel film, things that resemble seedpods take over human bodies and turn them into emotionless, mindless entities.

"Invasion" came on the heels of the Korean War, when it was widely feared that American prisoners of war had been brainwashed by the North Koreans. "The Manchurian Candidate" (1962) is one of the best films on that topic.

The mid-'50s also marked the McCarthy era in American politics. And it's entirely possible to read Sen. Joe McCarthy into every seedpod that would suspend individual freedom, moral judgment and political identity.

So "Invasion" operates on a few levels, not the least of which is simple suspense. Kevin McCarthy plays the doctor who fights the seedpods, and his constant dilemma is wondering who can he trust. It's a great scene when McCarthy realizes that his fiancee, played by Dana Wynter, has become one of them.

Interestingly, "Invasion" was remade recently and the ending was changed. In the '78 version, Donald Sutherland (in Kevin McCarthy's role) loses his battle for non-conformity, while it seems likely at the end of the original that the seedpods will be repelled.

Have we really come that far?

● LOOK IN

"Anatomy of a Murder," 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Royal Oak Public Library, 222 E. 11 Mile, phone 541-1470, free.

More like a George Bernard Shaw play than genuine jurisprudence, "Anatomy" banks on long, emotional courtroom debates for its action sequences and the subject of rape as a draw.

Otto Preminger, who directed, was considered controversial in the '50s for such films as "The Moon is Blue," "The Man with the Golden Arm" and "Anatomy," which dealt openly with sex, drug abuse and rape.

A bit heavy-handed, but worth seeing. Set in northern Michigan and made in 1959 with Jimmy Stewart, Lee Remick, Ben Gazzara and George C. Scott.

"Cocoanuts," 12:30 Thursday night, Channel 50.

The Marx Brothers' first movie, made in 1929. They filmed it in New York during the day, then at night did the same play on stage. And it's hard to tell the two apart, because the camera nevers moves in the film. Seeing it is like seeing the play. Static but very funny.

"Best Boy," 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward (enter from John R), phone 832-2730, $2.

One of only three films they're devoting two days to at the DIT (the others were "The Tree of Wooden Clogs" and "Orchestra Rehearsal"). A documentary portrait of filmmaker Ira Wohl's 52-year-old retarded cousin and his successful attempt to gain independence from the sheltered world of his parents' home. Academy Award-winner as best documentary, three years in the making. Director Wohl will be present to discuss the film after each showing.

"Strangers on a Train," 12:30 Tuesday night, Channel 50.

Tennis-playing Farley Granger meets psychotic Robert Walker and they plot the deaths of relatives. Odd how rich, popular Granger comes out smelling like a rose and engaged to a senator's daughter while Walker lies crushed under a merry-go-round. Is Hitchcock playing with a double standard, or is he just naive? Made in 1951, with Ruth Roman and Leo G. Carroll.

Ballet on tour

Carol Rheiner and Lance James perform in "Spectre De La Rose" with the Oakland Ballet Company, through Sunday at the Music Hall in Detroit. Half of the program is devoted to works of Aaron Copland including "Billy the Kid." Evening shows are at 8:30 p.m. through Saturday, 6:30 p.m. Sunday, with 2 p.m. matinees Saturday and Sunday. Tickets are $3.50 to $12.50, available by calling the box office at 963-7680.

SUN., MON. & TUES.

Chateaubriand is not a fine wine.
It's an extraordinary entree served for two. A center cut of beef tenderloin amid a bouquetiere of vegetables, Sauce Bearnaise. Carved at your table.
But like a vintage wine, Chateaubriand is at its best when shared.

Home for the weekend

Amy Beth Beer and Tom Spiroff are among the dozen members of Movin' Theater, a touring company of Wayne State University theater students. They'll give three performances of their narrated program of dance and stagé movement at 8:30 p.m. tonight through Saturday in their home base, the Studio Theater on campus. Two children's shows will be given at 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Saturday. For tickets, call 577-2972.

Meet the author

Detroit author Robert Wilson will autograph copies of his new book "Crooked Tree" 5-8 p.m. May 21 in Galerie de Boicourt, 315 Fisher Building. The novel is about a northern Michigan forest where usually shy black bears become hunters and people are the prey. Wilson, 29, is an assistant Wayne County prosecutor.

Legal rights for artists is seminar topic

A one-day seminar for visual and performing artists will be held at the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association, 8:15 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Sponsored by the State Bar of Michigan section on the arts in coopefation with Michigan Council for the Arts, it will deal with a variety of subjects which concern artists from tax problems and contracts to business organization and copyright laws.

Two local attorneys who have been working on organizing the seminar are Leonard F. Charla and Jo Ann B. Russu. Charla is vice chairman of the state bar section on the arts and Ms. Russu is chairman of the section on the arts.

Both are closely involved in legal questions about the arts as members volunteer members of non-profit organizations and Charla teaches several classes on the subject, one for young artists at the Center for Creative Studies.

Charla said the state bar's section on the arts was formed about a year ago. While this isn't unique among state bars, it is still a rarity. Charla said the Bar Association of the city of New York started the idea with an artists service organization and soon after a similar group was formed in San Francisco.

There is a group in Chicago which is called Lawyers for the Creative Arts.

Charla credited Jim Renfrew, Oxford attorney, with being responsible for the formation for the Michigan Bar Association's section on the arts.

"There are 80 members of the section," Charla said, "and any member of the state bar may elect to become a member of this section."

He said about the Saturday program which he was instrumental in planning, "We wanted to have a program for visual and performing artists to whom we could give legal imput. We want to reach both visual and performing artists with this program."

THE THREE lawyers who have also worked on the program committee for the seminar are Lawrence Katkowsky, chairman, Lawrence Jordan and John Scherbath. Several of the planners are musicians by avocation.

Ms. Russu will make the opening remarks at the seminar and Charla, the closing ones. In between there will be eight sessions and lunch. Some of the morning sessions necessitate making choices, so not all in attendance will be able to attend all eight sessions.

Charla also pointed out that the committee has had close contact with gallery owners who have made many helpful suggestions.

He added that many performing artists, musicians and composers who have had to sign contracts and work out live performance and recording details, have more familiarity with attorneys and the law than visual artists.

Ms. Russu said, "Most artists don't know how to deal with a gallery — what a sales contract is and what consignment means. People who are geared for the arts are not necessarily business people."

SHE AND CHARLA agreed this may be due to the fact that few of them had any courses or training in this aspect of their profession.

She added: "Many artists don't know the simple things like making a copyright sign or about selling or giving away original plates. They don't realize the value of these things. Most artists out on the street have a very loose kind of arrangement with a gallery. If there is no written contract, the artist doesn't know what the gallery is going to do for them."

The fee for the seminar is $10. Those who wish to register should call 644-8174.

CONTROL OF THE OUTSIDE

White rolls a six-three. What is the most effective play?

At this point in the game, white doesn't seem to be doing too well. Although he is holding the 1 and 5 points in black's home board, white would be in a much better position with a point in black's outer board because of black's three back checkers.

White should move a checker from the 1 point to black's 7 point (bar point) and slot a checker on his own 3 point. This move serves three functions:

- Slotting on the 3 point allows white to land another checker there on the next roll. The stronger the inner board, the more aggressively white can play. Always contemplate hitting or at least having the opportunity to hit.
- Having one checker on the 7 point may prohibit black from safely moving one of the three back checkers. If black fails to hit white on the 7 point, white has excellent prospects of making that point to further intimidate black's movement.
- By owning the 7 point, white will be in total control of the outer board. Inevitably, black will be leaving a shot. Also, if white can maintain the 1 and 5 points, black will run out of safe moves.

When you force your opponent to play awkwardly, sooner or later he will have no alternative but to leave you a shot. Applying the right pressure at the proper time and correct place should assure you of a very interesting game.

For more information and instructions, contact the American Backgammon Club at Box 599, Plymouth, MI 48170, or call 459-5776.

All-American look includes many cultures

Gloria Cohen

Consider the American look. Visualize an old wood-plank floor, polished and gleaming, a lean, straight-back Shaker chair, a poised and perfect Louis reproduction, a plush and slightly pompous Victorian love seat, an Oriental rug and a Navajo blanket, a bentweed rocker, baked ceramics, scrubbed marble steps — all are part of the American Look.

It's an old, rich and wonderful look — mostly an inherited one. And it's a look that evolves from a country young enough to still be a conglomeration of every other culture in the world.

There is a United States look, for example, that is purely technological, strictly modern. For every plank floor, there is a resilient tile counterpart. And for each spare Shaker chair, there's a lavish foam lounger. For every poised Louis, there's a wonderful wire-frame stand-in that is perfect for reclining. There are slick sofa beds, area rugs that are machine washable, thermal bed throws, plastic pottery, push-button electronic furniture. We have "Pop" art and sculpture, vinyl wallcoverings and glass houses.

THE WAY TO "look American" isn't to make a choice on the basis of any one tradition but, rather, to take your choice of all of them.

Of the more enduring United States looks to choose from, several are neither primly period nor unharmoniously hodgepodge. Instead, they are a blend of colors and textures, designs and technologies.

Among the most exciting looks, are three:

THE COUNTRY LOOK, brick or wood paneling or white plaster walls, oak-beam ceilings, bare, polished floors, shuttered or plain, uncurtained windows, fresh wild flowers in profusion, and perhaps a Shaker settee. Very simple, yet elegant;

THE ORIENTAL LOOK for Americans brings us lacquered and inlaid chests and desks, palm trees, carved teak screens and beaded curtains. Opulent, yet serene;

THE FORMAL LOOK of white marble floors, white on white, flocked paper walls, black and white print curtains or draperies, boldly colored satin upholstery, striped or solid, a glass chandelier, grandfather's clock, Louis XV desk and chairs and you have it. Precise, yet quite comfortable.

To understand this harmonious blending of elements, one must have a little knowlege of our background. We Americans are tremendously gregarious. More than any other society we have always been eager to welcome ideas from foreign culures. We are also terrific innovators. We take the ideas of others and turn them around. We continue to borrow and improve the designs of other countries. However, for modern demands on seating and socializing, there is no antique, no reproduction, no technology we might draw from that would be the equivalent of indigenous United States design.

OUR DESIGN BEARS no resemblance to those of other cultures. There is nothing immoral about borrowing, but today's United States designers simply don't want to. They look around at the many natural materials available in this country, study the living habits of the people and then create style out of function.

American designers take function, purpose and atmosphere into consideration. We know that our style of living is reflected by the furnishings with which we surround ourselves.

It is exciting to know that this is only the 20th Century and though we have come so far, we are just beginning to go somewhere else.

We are at the brink of discovering our own culture, and though it is clearly a distillation of an overwhelming number of other influences, it is expressed in a manner that is uniquely our own.

It is fun to have many elements of other periods and styles around us. I'd never recommend that an entire home be dedicated to a single look. Our furnishings need to reflect the way we live, and we happen to live with enormous freedom and a strong sense of individuality. Use it, embellish it and appreciate our resources.
