Citizens crush bond proposal, OK present tax

By EMORY DANIELS

Plymouth-Canton school trustees will only have to trim $1.7 million from its operating budget now instead of $2.8 million.

The budget-cutting task was made a bit easier Monday when voters approved Proposal I - a request to levy the current authorized levy

Further budget relief was not forthcoming though, as residents, by a wide margin, rejected an $11-million bond

The bond issue, aimed at accommodating new student growth, had included some items which now must be obtained with operating funds.

If Proposal I had been defeated, as it almost was, the district would have been forced to reduce its operating levy by 1.26 mills because of the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment.

But district wide voters approved the tax continuation measure by 46 votes — 3,147 voting "yes," and 3,101 voting "no.

Proposal II, the bond issue, was defeated by some 875 votes as 3,550 residents voted "no" and 2,675 voted "yes."

The voter turnout was very low Monday despite clearing skies during the afternoon and evening. Of the 44,171 residents registered to vote in school elections as of Jan. 31, 1980, only 6,289 (14 percent) cast their ballots Monday.

That turnout compares to almost 17 percent in the March 1980 special election and 16 percent for June 1979.

THE DEFEAT OF Proposal II most likely marks the last time residents will be voting on a bond issue in 1980.

Monday night Tom Yack, president of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education, said he was fairly certain the board would not ask voter approval of another bond issue this year.

Tuesday morning Superintendent John M. Hoben also said he doubted if another bond proposal would come before voters this year. "We will have to take another look at some kind of bond proposal, but I don't see one coming before voters until the spring of 1981 at the earliest.'

Last March two bond issues were rejected by voters - one for $14 million and a second for $7 million. The $11 million rejected Monday was very similar to the $14 million request last

The $14 million issue in March, however, was defeated by only 555 votes with 1,100 more residents voting compared to the 875-vote margin of defeat for the $11 million issue Monday.

"I am pleased that voters saw fit to restore to us the millage we would have lost because of Headlee," said Hoben. "That gives us about $1 million that we would have lost from an already severe budget deficit.

"But with the economic conditions being what they are, I am very thankful the voters provided us with some measure of support and fiscal relief."

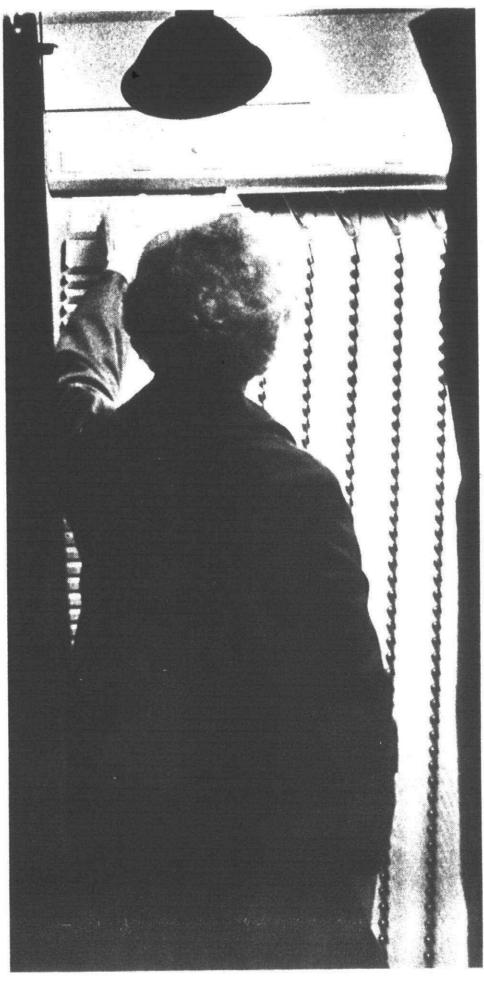

Hoben added that his real concern was for the 1980-81 school year. "We need to expand Extended School Year (ESY) in '80-81 and don't have the funds to do so. And we need to equip Lowell Junior High. We are renting Lowell, but right now, all we have is an empty, building."

PROPOSAL I (tax continuation) received a favorable vote in exactly half of the district's precincts as eight of the 16, including the absentee voter counting board, produced a majority of "yes" votes on the issue.

Of the eight favorable precincts, six were in Canton and two (Isbister and West) were in Plymouth Township. The Canton precincts backing Proposal I were Fiegel, Miller, Hulsing, Eriksson, Field and Canton High.

Precincts voting strongest agasinst Proposal I were Central Middle in the city, Starkweather in Old Village, and Allen (also in the city).

On the bond issue, only two precincts (Field and Canton High) respnded with a favorable vote, although Proposal II was defeatesd by only seven votes at West Middle School.

Only about 14 percent of Plymouth-Canton Schools' registered voters bothered to step into the voting booth on Monday. (Staff photo by

"We would hope every retail merchant in Canton participates," said Lori Roberts of the business community's first township-wide promotion.

Mrs. Roberts said at least 20 widelyscattered stores will participate officially by flying pennants specifically ordered for the event.

She hopes many more businesses will sponsor sales. "There will be some people who won't want to get into it," she said.

"But that will only hurt them.

The hours of the promotion will overlap the time of the Canton Jaycee Fair, scheduled for this Wednesday through Sunday at Ford and Lilley. Store owners hope to attract consumers on their way to and from the fair.

An "unexpected" interest in the Wayne County Charter Commission race has prompted Harold Stein to withdrew his candidacy for a 27th Dis-

Schroeder tops Arlen in race; Tonda re-elected

Voters never had a doubt about whom they wanted on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

In both Plymouth and Canton, residents cast their votes across the board for incumbent Flossie Tonda and challenger Glenn Schroeder.

Tonda of Canton led the field easily with 2,826 with Schroeder of Plymouth Township winning the second four-year term with 2,484 votes.

Trailing in a distant third was incumbent Richard Arlen of the city of Plymouth with 1,608 votes — out of the running by 732 votes.

The next two finishers were close, but James Sinclair of Plymouth Township ended up in fourth with 1,447 votes with James Steffen of Canton only 24 votes away in fifth at 1,423.

Closing out the field were Emil Hagopian of Canton at 365 votes and Dennie Holyoak of Plymouth Township with 304 votes.

THE VOTE for the two winners followed geographical lines as Tonda ran strong in Canton precincts and Schroeder ran equally well in Plymouth precincts.

Tonda placed first in 11 of the 15 voting precincts including the absentee ballot counting board while Schroeder of Plymouth Township with no repreran first in four

All four of Schroder's precincts are primarily Plymouth strongholds while eight of Tonda's 11 strong precincts are pockets of Canton voters

Arlen, who served as board vicepresident this year, had placed third in 11 of the 15 precincts without regard to geography. Sinclair placed third in one Plymouth precinct and in two Canton precincts while Steffen placed third in three Canton precincts. Superintendent John M. Hoben commented Tuesday that he will miss Arlen on the school board because of the contributions he had made to the district as a trustee.

"He was the main gun for better management control. He was very much involved in the improvement of the business functions of reporting to the board, in encouraging planning, and in tightening controls on evaluations and hiring practices.

The make-up of the new board will be four females and three males, three residents of Canton and four residents sentation from the city of Plymouth

Work on park frugally OK'd

The immediate plans for the development of Flodin Park won't make the site a showplace for the community. But the estimated 75 residents who attended Tuesday's Township Board of Commissioners meeting applauded with gusto when minimal plans for development were approved. The board's authorization for a $79,000 expenditure will grade and seed a 17-acre portion of the park. The money will finance construction of a storm sewer and gravel parking area for 50 cars.

Recreation superintendent Michael Gouin had hoped the board would authorize an estimated $145,000 expenditure for phase one development of the park on Saltz east of Sheldon.

That amount would have financed construction of two tennis courts, a baseball field, a soccer field, landscaping and other items in addition to the preliminary work. But Gouin appeared as pleased as other recreation enthusiasts when the board approved plans for development.

Residents said grading the park will allow its use for softball and other ac-

THE AUTHORIZATION to advertise for grading, sewer and parking lot bids was approved by a 4-3 board vote. Trustee Robert Greenstein was joined by Trustee Steve Larson and Treasurer Jim Donahue in his vehement opposition to any recreation expenditures in depressed economic "I'm not against recreation," Greenstein insisted. "But there has to be priorities. Recreation, in 'my mind, ranks below police, fire, DPW and other services which we have to pro-"If we spend the money today, we won't have it tomorrow no matter what we should buy. If our economy wor sens, you're going to see police and firemen faced with the possibility of layoffs," Greenstein predicted.

The trustee noted that the economic slump already has sliced the building department staff by 40 percent. Greenstein convinced the board last winter to partially renege on a Nov. 20 decision to set aside $91,300 for the park's development. The money includes $78,800 for preliminary construction work and a $12,500 fee for architectural plans.

When the economy worsened last winter, the board ruled that further authorization would be needed before spending the money

On Tuesday, the board unanimously approved payment of the $12,500 bill from the architectural firm of Anderson, Lesniak & Associates.

SUPERVISOR NOEL Culbert insist ed on Tuesday that Greenstein "was misrepresenting the facts" of Canton's financial troubles. "No police or fire layoffs are pre dicted," he said. Culbert said state revenue-sharing money and other funds are available for recreation expenditures. One resident, who works as a management employee for Chrysler Corp. said recreational lands are needed now more than ever. He has worked only 20 of the last 40 weeks and cited a short age of economical entertainment

Representatives of area Little League and soccer associations said hundreds of children and adults have been turned away from their leagues because of a shortage of playing fields. Griffin Park in the geographical center of the township currently represents Canton's only developed park.

15th District picks 'Mrs. GOP'

In predominantly Democratic Westland, Deloris Newell, a Reagan delegate to next month's Republican National Convention, has been known for years as "Mrs. Republican."

"And that shows you how few Republicans there are," she said, referring to the largely blue collar western Wayne County suburb.

MRS. NEWELL of 325 Carlson was elected one of three national convention delgates from the 15th Congressional District last week. In 1976 she was an alternate Reagan delegate at the GOP convention in Kansas City.

The other two 15th District delegates - district chairwoman Patricia Ganzberger of Southgate and Gerald Pauzus, a Taylor contractor - are committed to George Bush, who ended his presidential nomination bid shortly after defeating frontrunner Ronald Reagan in last month's Michigan pri-

Mrs. Newell, who works with the Westland Information Service Extension (WISE) as a state government liaison, is used to being in the "minority" as a Republican in Westland.

However, she believes Reagan, who will be the GOP presidential nominee as soon as the counting is over next month, may be a shoo-in next fall.

"I STRONGLY see him winning," she

"Much of the population is dissatisfied with Jimmy Carter. They are going to have to make a choice. People we have talked with do not want Jimmy Carter another four years."

But, she added, people in her area are "not sure" about voting for the former California goverrnor.

Illinois Republican Congressman John Anderson, who will run as an independent for president this fall, "is going to have some influence," Mrs. Newell predicted.

ALTERNATE DELEGATES from the 15th, which includes Westland, Garden City and Canton Township, are, for Bush: Karen Mazo, Woodhaven city clerk, and Robert Brooks of Dearborn Heights, part of Ford Motor Co. management; for Reagan: former district chairman Ernest Fackler, a business consultant from Dearborn Heights.

Surgery promises tiptop sight

By MICHELE JASINSKI

Dr. William Myers of Canton gave one of his patients a very special birthday recently.

Dr. Myers hopes that Bill Csabi will enjoy a lifetime of perfect vision without the aid of glasses or contact lenses.

Csabi underwent a revolutionary new surgical procedure called radial keratatomy - Radial K for short that corrects vision through small incisions on the eyeball. The shape of the eve is flattened, so that light bounces to the optic nerve to the retina and back,

Myers performs the surgery on patients who have been extensively tested and then accepted for the operation. Myers, a cataract surgeon, has successfully performed over 200 of the special eve operations in the past year and a

The actual surgery takes a half-hour to 45 minutes to complete, although the patient first must be tested for eye curvature, cornea thickness and other factors. The only persons excluded from Radial K are those who with diseased corneas or those under

The process involves making eight to 16 incisions in the center of the eye with a small blade. A saline solution is applied during surgery to lubricate the eyeball and aid healing.

This is all done with nearly no pain to the patient, who is under a local anesthetic. The eye is then patched, and the patient spends an hour or so in recovery. The next day, a follow-up exam is held and the patch is removed.

Only one eye can be surgically corrected at one time. The stronger of MYERS STUDIED under Dr. dominant eye is usually done last. The 200 cases is zero, he said, because antibiotics are prescribed as part of the

The Soviet doctor went on to develop far greater than from having this type of surgery," Myers said.

Csabi learned about the surgery from two friends who had been through

"I'm overjoyed with the results,"he said, "and I highly recommend it."

A sports-minded fellow, Csabi opted to have the surgery because he "wanted to be able to feel what it's like to have perfect vision.'

He said he felt no pain, and added that he noticed improvement in his sight the very next day.

"It took a couple of weeks until my vision was totally restored. But after the first eye was done, I could drive and do most everything without my contact lenses," Csabi said.

RADIAL K is not for everyone, though, Myers said.

"It depends on one's lifestyle," said the doctor. "It is for pilots, law enforcement (personnel) and others whose careers are affected by wearing glasses. Within another year, it should be available to everyone by going to es is remarkable, Myers believes.

"Eighty per cent of all the people who have undergone the Radial K surgery no longer need visual aids of any kind," he said. The remaining 20 per cent have visual improvements that enable them to do without glasses or contacts most of the time.

One controversial issue involved in the procedure is whether insurance companies will pick up the $750 to $1,500 price tag that accompanies each eye surgery. According to Myers, most insurance companies are covering much of the cost.

Myers and his partner, Dr. Dennis Weber, operate offices on Canton Center Road and on Telegraph in South-

But Csabi's surgery was performed in the West Oakland Ambulatory Care Center in Commerce Township.

The clinic soon will begin using pigs eyes, which most closely resemble human eyes, to do more research on Radial K procedures, according to Dr. A.T. Zaydeh, director of the center.

Myers will be conducting seminars across the country to educate more doctors about the Radial K surgical

Radial K surgery is still relatively new. Data on the long-term effectiveness of the procedure is hard to come

Police work has changed a great deal since Plymouth Chief Tim Ford donned the blue uniform several dec-

"But it is different now, much different, and there seems to be no end to the paper work that is required.

As an example, he showed an oldtime form of report card. It was a simple 5 x 7 card and contained questions to be answered. Today, that single card has been replaced by six report sheets that are almost triple the size.

The first task an officer faces today is to fill out a report in writing. Then this report must be typed and sent out to the entire system. Next comes a report that must be made to the Michigan State Statiscal Bureau.

"Would you believe it?," he asked, "that I filled out only four reports in my three years as a patrolman?"

If present plans succeed, this mountain of paper work will be reduced.

Chief Ford confided that work has been going on for three years to try to bring about a change.

Unity surfaced at state GOP convention

By TOM LONERGAN

"When Brooks Patterson and I stand on the same side of an issue, there's a good chance of party unity," former U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin told about 1,920 delegates at last week's Republican State Convention in Pontiac.

John Gnau of Bloomfield Hills - the choice of Griffin and Oakland County Proscutor L. Brooks Patterson for national committeeman from Michi-

Nevertheless, a "unity" theme appeared to prevail between party moderates, who had backed George Bush's unsuccessful presidential bid, and conservative Reagan supporters, a minority in the state GOP delegation due to Bush's Michigan primary victory last month.

Ronald Reagan, former California governor, is considered a shoo-in for the Republican presidential nod at the July 14-18 national convention in State Republicans last week selected 82 national convention delegates - 53 pledged to Bush and 29 to Reagan - besides electing a national committeeman and committeewoman.

GNAU, VICE chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission and Reagan's state campaign coordinator, was defeated, 1,017-886, for committeeman by Grand Rapids businessman Peter Secchia, a self-styled independent. Both ran without Gov. William Milliken's endorsement.

Secchia, who backed former Texas Gov. John Connally's short-lived presidential campaign earlier this year, is president of Universal Companies Inc., of Grand Rapids and owner or part owner of a number of western Michigan restaurants. An ally of former President Gerald Ford, Secchia will replace Peter B. Fletcher of Ypsilanti on the Republican National Committee.

GNAU'S SUPPORT of Nancy Gadola, a conservative Genesee County commissioner who lost the national committeewoman's race to Millikenbacked Ranny Riecker of Midland, apparently cost him the governor's backing in the committeeman

"The fact that I hung in for Nancy Gadola did not help me in some of the districts," Gnau said Saturday. He said he could have had Milliken's support had he backed Ms. Riecker, committeewoman for

"I felt obligated to Nancy Gadola," Gnau said, because of her early support for Reagan.

Milliken said Saturday that Ms. Gadola's election "could have been very divisive."

Ms. Riecker defeated Ms. Gadola, 1,051-858, carrying 13 of 19 congressional districts. Suburban dis tricts generally backed Ms. Riecker - including the 19th Congressional District in Oakland County, the 17th in Oakland and Wayne, the 15th in western Wayne, and the 2nd in northwest Wayne, Washtenaw and Monroe.

Ms. Gadola won District 12, which is predominantly Macomb County, but includes the city of Rochester and half of Avon Township in Oakland County Secchia won 10 of 19 congressional districts, including the 2nd, which covers Plymouth and Livonia; the 15th, including Westland, Garden City and Canton Township and the 17th (Southfield, the Farmington area and Redford Township).

Gnau won by a big margin in the 19th, his home district which includes Birmingham-Bloomfield, West Bloomfield and western Avon Township. He was a one-vote winner in the 18th, which includes Troy and southeast Oakland County, and a 2-1 winner in the 12th.

The candidates's styles are a lesson in political tactics. Secchia's nominating speeches were made by men and women, with one by a 20-year-old, from the Upper Peninsula to southern Wayne County. Gnau's speakers were all males in their 40s and 50s. Two, Patterson and state Sen. Donald Bishop, R-Rochester, were from his home county of Oak-

Heading the 10 at-large Ronald Reagan delegates are the former Califonia governor's state campaign chief, John Gnau of Bloomfield Hills; Robert J. Chambers, a Bloomfield Hills businessman; Max. M. Fisher, Franklin financier, and former U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin of Traverse City.

ALSO AMONG the Reagan delegates is Halina

Saul Anuzis, Detroiter who is student government president at University of Michigan-Dearborn, will also attend the convention as a Bush delegate.

Farmington Hills Attorney Harriet Rotter was elected an alternate Bush delegate, while Robert H. ш Fredericks of Troy, chief deputy drain commissioner for Oakland County, will be a Reagan alternate.

Vacated auto building may find a new life

One of the older buildings on Ann Arbor Road, the building which has been used as an automobile show room since it was built in 1946, is due to undergo a change soon.

The building recently was bought by Jim and Kal Jabara, who in turn have sold it to Conway Pools of Ann Arbor, who will take over in a short time.

For years, the building has been a landmark and has undergone three major changes to accomodate the growing demand for more showroom space as the Plymouth community grew and there was a greater demand for auto-

The building was last used by Bob Jeannotte, the Pontiac dealer. Jeannotte outgrew the location and moved to Sheldon Road south of Five Mile near M-14 and started what he hopes will be another automobile row.

The structure was built by Ross Berry, grandfather of inspector Carl Berry of the Plymouth Police Department. BERRY LATER sold it to Bruce

Craig, who became a leader in the auto sales business and helped develop the business district along Ann Arbor Road corridor.

The building was occupied in recent years by Don Massey Cadillac before he moved to a new dealership near I-275 and Ann Arbor Road further west.

The building became occupied by Jeanotte after he bought the Pontiac dealership from Craig.

Since Jeannotte left, the building has been vacant until the Jabara brothers, who have been major developers in the city, went into action.

Ken Way, city assessor, says that the building has been enlarged three times.

Break-in hits pizza parlor

Wayne County Sheriff deputies are investigating a break-in at the Ann Arbor Road Pizza Hut where some $300 was taken from a floor safe early Monday morning.

Deputies report the break-in occurred sometime between 1:45 and 9 a.m. Monday at the restaurant on 1425 W. Ann Arbor Road.

The first addition came in 1950, and three years later the large addition was built in the rear. In 1964, the west side addition was built.

The 1964 addition made it one of the largest show room areas in the area the largest being Massey's latest dealership near I-275.

WITH THE coming of the Conway firm, there will be an entirely new look to the area. The Conways are rated among the top dealers in swimming pools and patio furniture along with other items having to do with summer relaxation.

Entry was gained through a side door where the door glass was broken.

Investigators have no suspects as yet but are looking for at least two people as two different sets of footprints were found in the building.

The safe in the kitchen was not forced open and deputies believe someone either knew the combination or it was not properly locked.

Suburbs ask halt of charter vote

A coalition of local governments in 16-11 majority on the county board. suburban Wayne County filed suit this week to prevent a county charter referendum from appearing on the Aug. 5 primary election ballot.

Circuit Judge Susan D. Borman will hear the suit, filed by the Wayne County Communities for Equal Representation, a coalition of 39 suburban cities and townships.

THE SUIT demands that:

 A referendum — proposing that county voters create a charter commission and nominate Democratic and Republican charter commission candidates — be removed from the ballot. · The 1970 census be declared "unconstitutional" for the purposes of drawing charter commission districts. The court order the county apportionment commission to draft new charter districts.

The apportionment group last month let a 1972 apportionment plan, based on the '70 census, remain in place for charter districts. That plan is identical to the current county commissioner troit and central city communities a (like a city manager).

Use of the 10-year-old census, the suburban group argues, would give Detroit more seats on the charter commission than it's entitled to, because the census does not reflect population shifts out of Detroit.

The suburban group wants the 1980 census used to draw charter districts. The new census would likely give the suburban communities the same number of seats as Detroit.

A SHOW cause hearing has been scheduled for 2 p.m. June 13 before Judge Borman.

Named as defendants in the suit were the five members of the county apportionment commission.

Plaintiffs are the equal representation group and Plymouth Township Supervisor Thomas G. Notebaert.

If approved by voters, a charter commission would propose county government reforms. The charter group is required by law to eventually give voters a choice of whether the county should be led by an elected county executive (much like a strong city mayor) district apportionment which gives De- or a county board-appointed manager

Bus fare can be cut for jobless

Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) representatives will be meeting with local officials throughout June to urge their participation in a half-fare program for the unemployed.

The seven-county transportation authority's board of directors recently approved a six-month demonstration program to grant the unemployed halffares during "off-peak" ridership hours Monday through Friday (9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 6 a.m.) and all day Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

The program will begin July 1, the same day bus fare increases take effect. Full fares will be 60 cents base fare and 20 cents per zone.

THE PROGRAM, however, is contingent on participation from cities, villages and townships in SEMTA's service area, said General Manager Larry

SEMTA wants to sell half-fare passes for $10 each to each local government that decides to participate in the

The municipality has the option of selling the passes or distributing them free. Residents have to show proof of unemployment to obtain or buy a pass. The pass will allow a person to ride any SEMTA bus for half-fare during the month the pass is purchased.

Should a local government distribute the passes free, SEMTA says it can recover the cost through a year-old municipal tax credit program.

Local governments are eligible for a credit equivalent to 20 percent of regional mass transit tax revenues raised in their county.

Residents in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties pay an extra fee for license plates and vehicle title transfers. The revenue provides a portion of SEMTA's operating funds.

The amount of each municipality's credit is based on its population share of the county. The credit amount is to be used by local governments to improve transit service within its bounda-

Rising gas prices altering business

By W.W. EDGAR

The oil crisis and the spiraling economy that has brought about the high price of gasoline, has caused a change in the delivery programs for business-

From the highest to the lowest, the high price is being felt and at least one business, Colonial Pizza in Plymouth's Old Village, has closed its doors. The reason given is the fact that the pizza parlor no longer could continue its policy of home delivery.

The biggest change, however, is new programming of the United Parcel Service whose business is built on delivery of all types of packages and other commodities.

The UPS division, based in Livonia and serving an area from Birmingham to South Lyon, has been forced to adopt an entirely different system.

Under the new plan, the trucks leave Livonia in the morning and go to the farthest point. Once there, they turn and complete a loop. In reality, it is going up one side of the street and coming back on the other with an occassional stop on one of the side streets.

The UPS officials who worked out the new plan claim that it means a savings of at least five gallons of gasoline a day for each delivery truck.

Noting that 145 trucks work out of the Livonia headquarters, it means a savings of more than 700 gallons of gasoline a day.

The Kroger Company, another of the large firms whose trucks are on the road morning and night, has not changed its program because of the odd conditions of its business. The officials, when pressed with the question about making changes to consere gasoline, explained that the Kroger Company has been business conscious for years. So there is no need to change now.

They pointed out that, at times, many of their trucks go out with only a half load and possibly would be criticized. But they explained that their warehouse in Livonia was there to serve its stores in the area and they had to go out on the road when a request was made for delivery of foodstuffs.

Target's Nov. 4 ballot Campaign for lowered drinking age

With three weeks to go before the filing deadline, a petition campaign to lower the legal drinking age in Michigan to 19 has half of its goal of 350,000 signatures.

To qualify as a referendum on the Nov. 4 ballot, the petition campaign needs 280,000 signatures from registered voters. If the referendum qualifies, voters would be asked to drop the legal drinking age from 21.

Two years ago, voters raised the drinking age from 18.

"WE'RE IN pretty fair shape," said William McMaster, whose Troy public relations firm was hired by campaign organizers, including the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association and the state Bowling Proprietors Association.

McMaster said $95,000 has been raised for the campaign, which began in March. He said the bulk of the money has come from "independent and small businessmen throughout the state."

The licensed beverage association has been circulating petitions through its member tavern owners. In addition, said McMaster, "we've been concentrating to some degree on college campuses.

Despite the voter sanctioned increase in the drinking age two years ago, McMaster said lower age proponents think once their referendum is on the ballot, "it will pass."

HE CITED the presidential contest on the fall ballot, which will likely mean a higher voter turn-out than in 1978 and "no decrease" in drinking among 19-21-year-olds as a result of the 21-year-old

"What has changed is where they drink," said McMaster, adding that the car has become a popular spot for young drinkers.

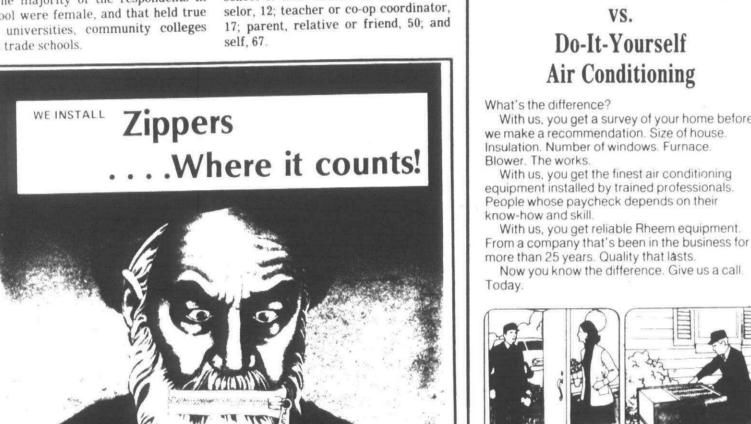

The 18-year-old drinking law passed with 57 percent of the vote in November, 1978. It was opposed by voters in Washtenaw and Ingham counties, home of the University of Michiganand Michigan State University, respectively, but won with 58 percent of the vote in the tri-countymetropolitan Detroit area.

Even though campus communities have been targeted for petition signatures, McMaster says the referendum, if it qualifies, "doesn't neccessarily require a heavy vote on the part of young

Since 18-year-olds were granted the right to vote in the early 1970s, the turn-out among the 18-25-year-old age group has been

McMaster noted that one of the leading organizers of raising the age two years ago - the Rev. Alan Rice of Lansing - is not opposing the petition drive to lower the age but has said he'll oppose it if it gets on the ballot.

The filing deadline for signatures is July 7.

Traffic weary guard tells drivers, 'Cool it'

As a Canton resident and the crossing guard at Eriksson Elementary School, located on Haggerty, between Ford and Cherry Hill, I would like to bring to your attention a problem that could easily become a tragedy.

What I am referring to is the drivers' unconcern for the crosswalk signs and my stop sign. The speed limit on Haggerty is posted at 40 mph. Evidently, people don't realize that in a school zone the speed limit is 25 mph. More than once, I have almost been run down while in the street trying to cross the kids. They keep crawling toward you, trying to force you out of the road.

I wonder if those drivers know how it feels to have children's safety in your hands and a car crawling up your back. How much longer would it take these people to get to their destinations if they would slow down and let me get these children safely across the street? I am sure another minute or so wouldn't kill them. But if they don't slow down, it might be me or, God forbid, a child that gets killed.

If I was to ever accidently hit a child, I would feel like dying. I am sure everyone feels the same way. So please slow down and help make my job easi-

Campaign deserves close voter scrutiny

It's a long way to November.

The politicking that always goes on in a presidential election year may be tiring some citizens already. Several state, county and federal jobs are up for grabs in addition to the nation's top executive

Now, a record number of 26 candidates has jumped into the race for seven seats on the Canton Board of Trustees

It would be easy to brush off the local campaign as too unwieldy to handle. Too much bombardment from politicians or government can shell-shock any

BUT TAKING that attitude toward this year's Canton election would be a shame.

The voter tallies next November could shape the township's future more than any other in the past. For the first time, all seven Township Board seats expire concurrently.

A new state law will give all successful candidates a four-year term.

An almost totally new board could be elected, theoretically, by voters. Clerk John Flodin is the only present board member who will run unop-

It's true that many of Canton's hottest political issues have cooled off in the past few years.

After years of work, a new zoning ordinance was approved last winter.

The document settled the controversial question of saving farmland, at least in part. Some 6,000 acres west of Canton Center was zoned for agricultural-industrial use.

Complaints over shoddy workmanship in new homes have died down.

The need to place a lid on Canton's mushrooming population has diminished with the depressed state of the home construction industry.

BUT OTHER, equally important issues must be addressed by the Township Board during the next four years.

The need for an industrial tax base will need more than lip service to keep medium-income residents in Canton Township.

Ways must be found to finance the estimated $16 to $20 million cost of purchasing farmers' development rights.

With so many candidates on the horizon, voters will have to make an extra effort to insure election of a well-qualified board.

Five candidates are seeking the supervisor's position alone. Five have jumped into the treasurer's race, and 15 are seeking four trustee positions.

Hopefully, the candidates will veer from tradition and keep dirty name-calling out of the race.

Sticking to the issues is more important than ever because of the large number of candidates.

Most important of all is voter interest in the race. The successful candidates will be around for the

Snickering vandals 'just having fun'

Editor's note: Littering and petty vandalism are a pair of the most common problems in today's high schools, according to many student newspapers. What happened at North Farmington last week could have happened almost

The senseless destruction, burning and looting are the worst these suburbs have seen in some years.

But a larger problem, with far deeper ramifications, can be seen by those who examine the situation more closely

After the Sunday night/Monday morning graduation "celebration," many students made light of the situation. One young student, driving a sparkling new automobile, stopped to comment:

Why is everybody making such a big deal out of this? We were just having fun.

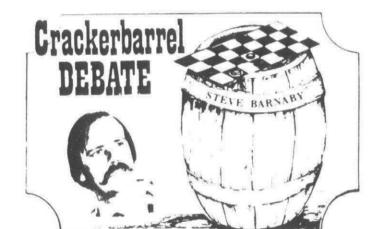

And after a shared snicker with her companion, she said, "We're going to do it again before gradua-

"How much do you think this cost?" I queried. "Oh, not much - probably $1,000," she replied.

HER ATTITUDE was typical of many students'. No big deal

And while the damage was much more than $1,000, the monetary damage hardly is the point. The destruction in a facility proudly built to educate young residents demonstrates a reckless disregard for the fabric of this society. And that attitude is learned in only one place - the home. It's absorbed from parents who foster the same kind of disregard.

Oh, it's subtle, to be sure.

No right-minded middle class suburban parent would go out and tell a kid to set the school on fire, throw eggs on the gymnasium floor, steal signs or throw a television through the window.

One can only wonder about parental concern when students are free to run rampant en masse in the middle of the night.

And don't kid yourself. These weren't a few "burnouts" raising hell. These were more than 100 of the offspring and heirs of the most affluent and welleducated parents in the school district.

SOME OF THESE parents called, outraged that the paper "smeared the reputation" of the school.

One parent actually admitted being at the scene

during the destruction.

Another parent wondered if the paper would be printing the story about what a fine job the students did in fixing up the school — the restitution which the teachers demanded if graduation activities were to receive their endorsement.

The Farmington Observer did print that story. But the story was printed for its news value, not to demonstrate what a bunch of good kids go to North Farmington.

They were expected to repair the damage they did to the school building. Praise for this action is unwarranted. They owed it.

IRONICALLY, THE the evening after the destruction, the school board considered whether to mandate humanities education for students. One teacher after another got up and argued for free-

"It's a choice that should be made between students and parents," one teacher said. "Parents know what's best for their children.

After the North Farmington vandalism incident, that contention certainly is open to debate.

Hopefully, parents in all school districts will learn from this incident. Hopefully, they will learn that being a parent takes more than giving your kid a car to drive to school and a wad of money to three to four hours. Mahler used to write some extremely long symphonies, and Wagner some extremely long operas, but few persons except die-hards listen to them. discover

Some unsung heroes of modern society

According to an old saying, folks laughed at the man who made the first umbrella.

Nowhere in the pages of history is his name mentioned. Neither is there a date given when this first protection against the rain and sun made its debut. So, naturally, the inventor of the umbrella must be listed as an unsung hero. The Stroller never has seen the offical list. He doesn't even know where it is kept. But whereever it is, he would like add a few names. HEADING THE LIST of unsung heroes would be the man who invented indoor plumbing. Next he would offer the man who gave us the zipper for our modern wearing apparel. And, third, he would like to honor the man who conceived the idea of calling the slit in front of men's trousers a "fly." While The Stroller would like to pay the highest tribute to the man who gave us indoor plumbing with its water faucets, levers, bathtubs and basins, the honor would go much further. You see, indoor plumbing shoved the time-honored "out house" into the limbo of forgotten things for the present generation. And unless you were around when these little buildings with the star and cresent on the door were in vogue, you can't realize what a chore it was in the wee hours of the morning to jump out of bed, stomp though the snow and brave the icy winds to get there and answer nature's call.

It was even worse when one of your grandparents had a call from nature and needed help. You had to bundle up "Grandpy" in a shawl and take him by the arm to the little building where Mother always planted her sweet peas each spring because she claimed the ground was richer. What was worse, you had to stand outside and wait while Grandpy shuddered while sitting on the cold seat.

So, you can imagine what a comfort it was when indoor plumbing eliminated the Saturday night bath in a wooden tub in the kitchen.

IT WAS MUCH the same with the zipper. When it came into being, many older men were afraid to use it instead of buttons on their trousers. They feared bodily harm if the zipper were pulled too quickly.

This fear, however, was nothing to compare with the real embarrassment of losing a button when you were at a public function such as the annual Valentine Day dance. In many cases, the loss of a button or two forced a fellow to cancel his dancing for the rest of the evening. So the zipper was a godsend.

Unfortunately, the name of the inventor never has been known. So, he rightfully belongs on the list of unsung heroes.

THEN THERE WAS the fellow who first called the slit in the front of men's trousers a "fly."

In books of odd information at the public library and in dictionaries, the "fly" is explained as a fold in the front of men's trousers. But nowhere is the name of the inventor mentioned.

It's too bad. The persons who gave us indoor plumbing, eliminating the out house, who invented the zipper and the man who coined the term "fly" certainly should be honored.

Did you know that one of the few artists in the nation engaged in making his own paper is located in a studio on the Huron River in Ann Arbor? Carolyn Sellman of Plymouth and Max M. Fisher of Franklin have something in common besides being delegates to next month's Republican National Convention in Detroit.

They're both organizers, but they use different tools.

Hers is the telephone. His is money. Mrs. Sellman is one of two George Bush delegates from the 2nd Congressional District, which includes Livonia, Plymouth and Northville. The Redford Township resident, elected a Bush national convention delegate from the 17th last week, says Reagan, sure to be the GOP presidential nominee, needs Bush to win such industrial, blue-collar states as Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Active in the Republican Party since 1956, Lewis, 56, is a plant manager for a Detroit company. This will be his first convention as a delegate.

LEWIS SAID, "I see no problems" supporting Reagan's presidential bid. But the other Bush delegate, Shirley Stadler of Farmington Hills, said she "wants to review what Mr. Reagan's stands are

Mrs. Stadler, a homemaker active in Farmington area civic affairs, wants to see moderate Republicans "have adequate representation in (convention) platform discussions."

She expects a "strong push" to influence GOP positions from anti-abortion groups. Abortion foes want a constitutional amendment banning federally funded abortions, a position Reagan has said he'll support. "I don't think that's the way to handle it," said Mrs. Stadler, who also is at odds with Reagan over the Equal Rights Amendment. An active Republican for more than 10 years, Mrs. Stadler will be attending

SUE AND SCOTT Dodge, former Plymouth residents who now live in La-Jolla, Calif., recently were in England. One of their stops was in Plymouth, England and they went around to the city hall to check on the four trees presented by Plymouth, Mich.

The Dodges report that the trees are alive and well. They also visited the Mayflower Hotel and said the city and the hotel were much different than they had imagined. Scott said he really would have enjoyed much more a visit to his hometown. They do admit to occasional homesickness.

They picked up a map of Plymouth (England) and sent it back here along with an open invitation to attend the Drake 400 Commemorative Festival which began May 10 and will run through Sept. 28. The people of Plymouth, England are celebrating Francis Drake's "epic voyage around the world exactly 400 years ago by playing host to Britain's biggest and most exciting programme of entertainment and revelry.

Anyone interested may write to Plymouth City Entertainments, Royal Building, St. Andrew's Cross, Plymouth, Devon, England.

IT WAS 10 YEARS ago that a group of voyagers set forth from Plymouth, Mich. to visit Plymouth, England. They departed July 13, 1970.

Survivors of that expedition are planning an anniversry party which will be Saturday, July 12 in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel.

Doris and Bruce Richard hosted a meeting to set plans in motion. Those who attended were Dunbar Davis, Scott and Yvonne Lorenz, Eddie and Leona Edgar and Randy Lorenz.

They appointed a committee of Scott and Mabel Lorenz, Leona Edgar and Dunbar Davis to plan the event.

That trip to Plymouth set a precedent that resulted in a friendly exchange between the two cities which still exists.

JANE DREWNIAK and Elsie Jeffery were winners at the Thursday afternoon party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

STEVE JONES is touring Europe, taking a few weeks off before starting to work later this month with the Arthur B. Andresen international accounting firm.

Steve is a recent graduate of Texas A&M University. Graduating summa cum laude with a dgree in finance, he received the Thomas S. Cartwright Award for outstanding academic excellence. Other special honors were the W. Duke Walser Honorary Scholarship, election to Beta gamma Sigma and Phi Kappa Phi honorary societies and selection in 1979 as the outstanding junior in the College of Business.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jones of Amesbury Drive, Plymouth.

MORE THAN 3,000 French students are coming to United States this summer to live with American families. Evelyn and Julian Prince of West Bloomfield are area coordinators for the North Atlantic Cultural Exchange League (NACEL) and they are trying to place some of the 90 French students who are coming to Michigan.

The visitors will be here for four weeks, July 6 to Aug. 3. They are 16 and 17 years of age and each has had four to eight years of English language study. The French parents supply their children with pocket money and pay for their transportation and insurance.

"You don't have to speak French or have a teenager at home to be a host family, but we do ask families to introduce their guests to teenagers," said

The organizers match students with prospective families according to general interests and special activities in which they would like to participate. Some families take their guests on trips; others stay home.

In the reciprocal program, the teenagers from host families will be offered the chance to spend four weeks

"A large proportion of our families have requested girls," Mrs. Prince said emphasizing the need for homes for boys. "French boys also are interested in coming here to learn about our language and lifestyle. Many boys realize that a visit can help to prepare them for the adult world of business, where they will probably come in contact with Americans and other Englishspeaking people."

Strawberry pickers head for the farm

Michigan strawberries should reach their glorious best this weekend if the rains hold off and the sun shines. The season is a short one — it's usually all over by the Fourth of July - so suburban families will be heading for the berry patches to stock up on the luscious fruit.

For persons who enjoy picking their own, there are acres of strawberries in Plymouth and Canton townships. There is the Wilkin farm, 49060 Proctor Road, Canton, 495-0565; the Roy Schultz farm, Lilley Road, Canton, between Joy and Warren roads; the Warren Tillotson farm, 6355 Lilley Road, Canton, between Warren and Ford roads, 453-4321; and the Bob Blessed farm, 49601 Powell Road, Plymouth Township, 453-6439

Strawberry picking begins at 8 a.m. in all three patches and continues until the crop runs out, usually about noon. Pickers prefer the cool of the morning to the heat of an afternoon.

15 acres of strawberries. They have been in business since 1961 and have seen the price of strawberry plants go from $15 a thousand to $45 a thousand.

Blessed says a patch lasts about three years "before the weeds take over." He said they planted some new Guardians but the majority are their own plants. The mother plant sends out runners which root to begin a new plants. They transplant these to begin a new patch.

The Blesseds do not use chemical weed killers. They do a lot of hoeing and pulling weeds by hand. Weeds are the greatest destroyers of a strawberry patch and because the vines spread, mechanical cultivation with a tractor is impossible in a mature patch.

WHAT DOES ONE wear for berry picking?

With the mosquitoes hatching in droves, the first requirement is an insect repellant. The Blesseds keep spray cans at their shed for the unprepared.

Slacks are better than shorts and the Job skill training at Growth Works

Young adults, 18 to 24 years of age, can earn as they learn in the Michigan Employment Program (MEP).

Growth Works Inc. is now recruiting participants for the program which trains unemployed, low-income youth in job-hunting skills and assists them in finding full-time, permanent employ-

More than 80 persons from Wayne County have been assisted by MEP since Growth Works started the program in April 1979.

Program participants are paid for 30 hours a week during their maximum four-week training period at Growth Works. Training includes such skills as how to fill out applications, write resumes, and handle job interviews to the applicant's best advantage. Effective job behavior and conflict resolution are some of the interpersonal skills also stressed in the program.

CANTON TOWNSHIP and Plymouth employers have hired MEP participants. Employers are offered a 50 percent wage subsidy for three months after hiring a trainee. They also may qualify for an IRS tax credit.

Employment placements have included tool and die, heating and cooling, landscaping, retail sales, restaurant work, store management, maintenance, shipping and receiving, and clerical work.

Any young adult interested in the program should call Growth Works as soon as possible.

Employers with job openings who would like to interview one or more trainees also are encouraged to call.

For information about MEP, call Ann Bieri, Jimi Cooper or Jan Ziegelman between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at 455-4094 ground usually is wet in the morning so pickers are advised to don suitable footwear. A wide-brimmed hat is recommended for persons not used to being out in the sun as is a sun screen cream or lotion.

The Wilkins have a new two-acre patch. They supply a four-quart basket for pickers and charge $3 a basket for the berries. The Schultzes have 20 acres of berries. They furnish the sixquart basket to pickers and charge 50 cents a pound for the berries

The Blesseds supply one-quart baskets with carriers to the pickers. When they return to the shed, the berries are transferred to the pickers' containers. Bob Blessed suggests shallow containers as opposed to a pail which could result in crushed berries. Smaller plastic containers or a dishpan are recommended.

Some growers recommend a row for picking. Blessed scouts the patch early in the morning and places golf-type flags in the heavy bearing areas. "But the pickers like to find their own spots," he added.

New this year at the Blessed farm is a free flyer with recipes for traditional strawberry jam, freezer strawberry jam, and suggestions for preserving GROWERS in the Belleville-Ypsilanti area have their own Strawberry Grower's Association. They have 125 acres under cultivation and maintains a Strawberry Hotline, 699-2088, which gives up-to-the-minute picking information 24 hours a day.

All the community organizations in Belleville cooperate each year in sponsoring a three-day strawberry festival.

Festivities open at 4 p.m. Friday, June 20 with strawberry treats, hot dogs and sloppy joes at the Presbyterian Church; a strawberry bakery and restaurant at Trinity Church; games, rides, food, clowns, skits, a rolled cabbage dinner (from 5-8 p.m.), craft demonstrations, Strawberry Queen Contest (at 6:30 p.m.) and polka dancing from 8-11 p.m. at St. Anthony Church. There will be square dancing 6-9 p.m. at Trinity Church.

Saturday will be a big day. There will be one-, four- and six-mile runs beginning at 8:30 a.m. at Belleville High School. The Rotary Club will serve a pancake breakfast at the high school from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The big parade starts at the high school at 11 a.m.

The churches will continue serving food and sponsoring other activities with a strawberry shortcake eating contest at 2 p.m. at St. Anthony. The annual Belleville bicycle race will begin at 1 p.m. at the Old Township Hall. This will be preceded by the Jaycees tricycle race at 12:15 p.m. There will be dances going on St. Anthony and Trinity churches and in downtown Belleville Saturday evening.

SUNDAY WILL begin with a lakeside church services at 8 a.m. and a pancake breakfast at the Methodist Church. The day will be filled with fun, games, music and food at the Presbyterian, St. Anthony and Trinity churches.

The chicken barbecue at St. Anthony will run from noon to 7 p.m.

The whole thing is coordinated by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce which urges everyone to go out and pick strawberries while they're not at the festival. Brochures with maps will be provided to out-of-towners so they can keep track of the activities and where they are.

The annual event attracts strawberry lovers and festival lovers from all over the state.

The "Help Wanted" signs that normally appear in store windows this time of year are nowhere to be

And the outlook for high school students seeking summer employment appears to be bleak.

"It's very gloomy - I say that sincerely," said Ed Dowling, branch manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) office on Joy Road in Plymouth.

"Some jobs are available, but it doesn't look good. The lack of employers calling the MESC office with job openings is causing the drop in employment opportunities, Dowling said.

"We will place some students, but it won't be like when things are good." According to Don Chumbley, a career counselor at Plymouth Canton High School, the job outlook is "dim." Chumbley works in the school's job placement office.

"We've had some students in obtaining work permits, which means some are finding jobs," Chumbley said. "But the job market is down and we're not getting the calls from employers.

THE MONTHS of May and June are normally large placement months, he said. However, place ment is now practically non-existent, he added.

"Job orders are few and far between." Dowling said jobs paying the minimum hourly wage of $3.10 are available, but some students often want a higher paying job.

The MESC office has been finding students jobs in the areas of landscaping, fast-food restaurants. waitresses and busboys, he said.

Both Dowling and Chumbley advised students not to rely on one source, such as the MESC or job placement offices, for summer employment. "They should make their own rounds and fill out applications," Dowling said.

Persistence can be helpful if finding employment, Chumbley said, "Leave an application, then call again in a week. There may be the risk of being too forward, but often employers like to see that. Plymouth Canton and Plymouth

Cantonites (of all ages) on the go

It seems to be the time of year for field trips, and there have been many interesting ones. Brownie Troop 458 lead by Shannon Monro and Carol Korinek recently toured the Observer plant on Schoolcraft in Livonia.

The Brownie troop prints its own newsletter, so they were very interested to see how a newspaper is put together from start to finish. The girls enjoyed a tour of the advertising department, and especially enjoyed seeing the presses in action. The mothers were amazed at the number of papers printed at the one location.

The Brownie troop is made up of girls in grades 1-3. Girls who enjoyed the trip included Kathy Alterman, April, Breen, Kim Diefenbach, Nicole Gillig, and Lisa and Laura Korinek. Jennifer McGrath, Sara Monro, Becky and Bonnie Place, Lisa Pomeranski, Patti and Jeanne Ragan

Helping moms for the trip were Sandy Gillig, Pam Ragan, and Joyce McGrath

LINDA AND MORRIS Darga just celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary. They planned a getaway weekend in the UP. The first stop was near Mackinaw City to leave daughters Rebecca and Christine with their grandparents. Then it was on to Manistique, where Linda and Morris spent the weekend.

While in the UP they enjoyed both Upper and Lower Tahquamenon Falls. They also went to Kitch-Iti-Ki-Pi Springs. (Honest, I didn't make those names up. Maybe Linda did, but I didn't.)

She added that this is the first time Michigan has been included in the NA-CEL program. "It offers area families the opportunity to have a lively, interesting, educational summer and their teenagers a super way to visit France."

Families interested in hosting a French boy should write the Princes at 3452 Buckingham Trail, West Bloomfield Mich 48033 or call 626-6641 as soon as possible.

gan, or haven't been to the UP, Linda told me a little about Kitch-Iti-Ki-Pi Springs. She said it is a beautiful clear pool or pond about 45 feet deep. It is so clear that one can see the springs bubbling up from the bottom, and the fish swimming around.

Linda also said that a good time was definitely had by all.

ONE OF THE Canton Newcomer's Club's second Friday bridge groups just celebrated its fourth season together.

Carol and Jim Zuber, Janet and Don Lauchner, Nancy and Ron Clauer, and Marge and John Mogelnicki went dining and dancing at Bob's Hideaway to mark the occasion. They plan to start their fifth season in September. Sometimes my partners think more in terms of celebrating the end of four hands with me.

KATHY AND BOB Spencer held a dinner party with a very unusual format. Guests were seated as if in a restaurant, and were presented with the 'Spencer's Din-Din Menu." The "Din-Din" consisted of three courses. Diners could choose up to six of the 17 items on the menu for each course.

Menu selections consisted of such delicacies as Driver's Dilemma (a fork), Spare Time (a roll), Sexy Pin-Up (cheese cake), Flavored Wedgewood (toothpick), and Toe Jams (wine).

If those didn't tempt your palate, how about Resting Relatives (napkins), Taxidermist's Roots (stuffed potatoes), Juiced Gourd (pickle), Butcher's Pride (knife), Celebrity Complaint (roast beef), or a Big Dipper (spoon).

Some diners choose only one item for the first course, and therefore ended up with only a knife or fork. Another ended up with Popeye's Favorite (an olive), Resting Relatives (napkin), and a Sexy

Pin-Up. Nothing like a well-balanced Diane and Bill Soules served as waiter and waitress for this fun din-din. After the fun of unscrambling this crazy menu, the Spencer's served a delicious roast beef dinner. Friends who enjoyed the evening included Diane and Bill Soules, Sandy and Hank Naasko, Sue and Art Lawrence, Carol and Bob Shaw, Mary and Sherm Moore, Bobbie and Mike Ryan, Pat and Mickey Spencer, and Carol and Bob Koesel.

As if the craziness of the evening wasn't occasion enough for a party, the Spencers actually planned the dinner party to celebrate his promotion to major in the Army Reserves.

SHARLENE AND CY Totten and children Debbie and Rob just returned from a vacation to Orlando and Tampa, Florida. After fighting off problems with their the entire trip south, and driving the last five miles at five mph, they were able to find a qualified garage to install a new transmission.

With those problems behind them, they enjoyed Disneyworld, lying in the sun, swimming, and golf. They took a side trip to Melbourne Beach and went seashell hunting at 6 a.m.

4 to be ordained to diaconate

A professor, an engineer, a fire inspector and a railway clerk will be ordained Saturday by Cardinal John Dearden of the Detroit Archdiocese to the office of permanent deacon for service in area par-

All will take vows that enable them to serve as assistants to parish priests and fill many clergy functions.

Those entering the Catholic Church's permanent diaconate are Edward D. Meyer of Livonia, associate professor and assistant to the president of Madonna College; James R. Baughman of Plymouth, a manufacturing development engineering employed by the Ford Motor Co.; Raymond L. Kunik of Detroit, an inspector in the Detroit Fire Dept. and Robert D. Rowland of Dearborn, employed by Consolidated Rail Corp. of Detroit.

The ordination will take place in the Blessed Sacrament Cathedral in Detroit and parishes where each will serve will be assigned at that time.

All the men receiving ordination are all husbands and fathers and in their late 30s. All have completed 21/2 years of study at Sacred Heard Seminary in subjects including Christian doctrine, liturgy, sociology and psychology, and all have served internships under parish priests during the last six months of their courses.

"THE DEACON lives his ministry at home, at work, in the community and at the parish," said Baughman," describing the way he sees his new work. "The married deacon's family share his min-parish under the Rev. Kenneth MacKinnon. He has degrees from the University of Michigan-Dearborn and Wayne State University and is affiliated with Sigma Iota Epsilon and Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

"Ministry, to me, means meeting the needs of people where they are," said Baughman. "It is being there to offer support in times of crisis.

"It is being there to share in times of joy. It is being there to support and encourage the divorced, the widowed, those who don't fit into the mainstream of life's flow.

"Ministry means being able to listen with a charitable ear and to share in emotional times of crisis.

Ministry is to be a servant as Jesus was a servant. "Ministry is also sharing in the sacramental life of the people, at Mass, marriage, baptsm, all the special times.

MEYER, WHO TEACHES biology at Madonna, is a member of St. Michael parish in Livonia. He interned in St. Bernardine of Siena parish in Westland under the Rev. Richard McGarry

He and his wife, Sherry Anne, have four children, Stefani Jo, 15; Joseph E., 14; Lisa A., 12 and Erik Jon, 3. Mrs. Meyer is involved in varied service projects in their parish.

The new deacon is a graduate of the University of Arizona at Tucson and a member of the American Society for Microbiology, the American Assosiation for the Advancement of Science, the American Institute of Biological Science and Sigma Xi

"I look forward to the opportunity to serve Christ and his church in the ministry of a permanent deacon, " Meyer said, "and I pray the the Holy Spirit will foster in me the strength and wisdom to bring credit to this ministry no matter where I am

ROWLAND IS a member of St. Clement parish in Dearborn and served his internship at St. Mel of Dearborn Heights under the Rev. Richard Stieber.

His wife, Fe' Divinagracia, is active in campus ministry and orientation and education of Cambodian and Laotian boat people. They are parents of Gina Marie, 9; Robert Paul, 7, and Eric Scot, 5.

Rowland is a member of the 300th Military Police command in the Army Reserves, Livonia, and a third degree member of the Knights of Columbus, Bishop Foley Council, Dearborn.

He said he sees ministry as "a multifaceted word that encompases many types of service.'

"My vision of ministry is serving the needs of others in whatever way possible, but more importantly to be there when needed," he added

Kunik, a member of St. Agatha parish in Redford Township, is a 1976 graduate of Madonna College and has been interning in St. Christine parish, Detroit.

He and his wife, Sandra, have three children, Raymond Jr., 11; Susan, 10; and Sharon, 8.

By JIM WINDELL

Thirty-one-year-old Livonia native John Katalenic is quiet and sensitive, given more to composing music than sounding off. But when it comes to writing scores for bands, his feelings show through.

And as an arranger and composer of music for both the Larry Nozero Quartet and the Katalenic-Kwik Band, he is gaining a reputation as a musical

"Most of the time when you go to see a big band like a Woody Herman, a Maynard Ferguson or a Buddy Rich, they are like blastissimo. Their whole thing seems to be to come out there and blow everyone out of their seats. I like harmonies that are simple and sensitive," Katalenic said.

His sensitivity may have come from his position in a family of seven children. Katalenic is the oldest of the seven, five of whom are girls.

"THERE'S ALWAYS that sharing and the awareness of other people around me," he said. "I try to be sensitive in my writing to whomever I'm writing for, whether band, singer or artist.

and sent me on my way to be a writer."

ANOTHER THING Berklee did was to introduce him to a fellow student named Allen Zivod, a pianist who had worked with Maynard Ferguson. Zivod became an influence on the piano-playing side of Katalenic.

"I took private lessons from him, and although we were both students he showed me a lot about playing the piano; he was a great inspiration to me," "I went there with the desire to write Katalenic said.

Following Berklee, Katalenic returned home to more seriously engage in writing and arranging music. He now lives on Detroit's northwest side.

He met and began to work with jazz saxophone player Larry Nozero, with whom he feels very close. "The first time I ever met him, I said to him, 'I know you from somewhere'," Katalenic said. Ever since, he and Nozero have been like brothers.

He also met Gary Kwik. About a year ago, the two formed a band as an outlet for Kwik's desire to lead a band and Katalenic's need for a big band that would play his music.

After six months of weekly rehearsals, they debuted in a lunch-hour concert at the Edison Plaza in Detroit last September. They have since performed at the Royal Oak Music Theatre.

Relics go from factory to mansion

By KATHY PARRISH

Each time Dodge Main was renovated for new car production, parts of the Hamtramck assembly plant disappeared into workers' offices and family

Now many of those historic items have been brought to Meadow Brook, the Avon Township estate once owned by car pioneer John F. Dodge.

"Workers had been collecting things here and there over the years. They didn't want to see them destroyed," explained James Birch, who presented the items to Meadow Brook Hall's John Dodge Archives on behalf of Chrysler

"Then, when we found a place to store them, they all generously came forward with their little goodies."

auditions

 The Canton Singers will hold auditions this month to fill a limited number of openings. The group sings contemporary mnusic, from ballads to easy rock.

Tryouts will be held at Plymouth-Canton High School. Harmony experience is required. For more information, call business manager Heather McLean at 455-2745.

 Detroit Disco Dance Company, a female dance group, is looking for dancers aged 17-28. The group will train. For a tryout, call Sue Topolewski at 531-4884 by June 14.

The Hamtramck Assembly Plant, which produced its first models in 1914, became part of Chrysler Corp. in 1925.

Birch said 20 to 30 employees "dug around in their corners" to put together the collection, which was accepted enthusiastically by the Meadow Brook Hall staff.

Catherine Light, archives committee chairman, said the items are valuable additions to the room.

"There are no duplications. That's why this is so thrilling," said Mrs. Light. "They've come home. This is where they belong."

DONATED to the archives by Chrysler Corp. were a wooden model of the Dodge plant in 1925 with additional pieces for plant changes up to 1940; a brass emblem taken from the main gate when the plant was shut down in 1979; and handcuffs given to John Dodge and his brother Horace by the Detroit Police Department.

Also added to the room were a 1922 Dodge plant badge which belonged to press operator John C. Mangrum; a three-foot fire nozzle; and a plant protection and fire box device with Dodge Brothers' ID.

Photos donated were a tortoiseframed protrait of the Dodge brothers, a photo of a 1917 Dodge truck converted to a Red Cross ambulance and an aerial view of the plant.

Birch, who works on a problem-solving task force based in Highland Park, said employees began saving items on it was a shame to throw them out. So when office areas were moved to production and production to office they held onto some things."

After a management party in 1977, he and other employees visited Meadow Brook Hall and discovered the archives. "We were thrilled to find a place existed where people could come and see the items," he recalled.

BUT GETTING the items turned over to Meadow Brook wasn't an easy

"They weren't productive material; they weren't useful. The hardest job was finding an avenue and means of paperwork," said Birch.

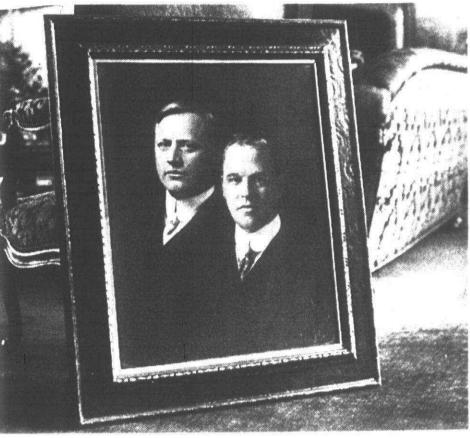

By working with the engineer in charge of plant deactivation and their own several years ago. "They felt Chrysler's Highland Park Historical Library, they were able to get the items released. On hand for the presentation was Roger Monast of Rochester, a Chrysler staff executive and historical administrator.

> "Other things are happening to Chrysler that are more important than this," said Birch.

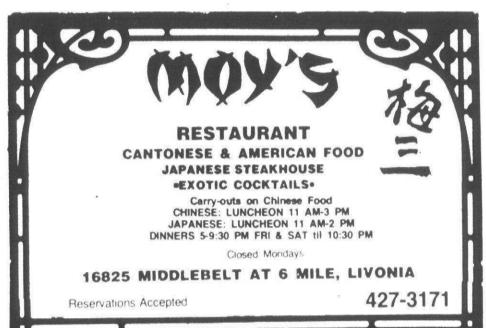

As other historical Dodge Main items turn up, they will also be given to the archives. "We appreciate Meadow Brook giving us an opportunity to have a place to put them," said Birch, who only regrets that more items weren't

"A terrible number of things were lost. It's just a shame," said the Roseville resident. "If we had begun a couple years earlier we would have had so much more."

SAVE THE GAMMON

A gammon occurs if your opponent fails to bear off at least one checker when you have completed bearing off.

Although playing for the gammon is a critical part of backgammon, saving the gammon is also very important if you are the underdog. Being gammoned would cost you more points, or twice the cube value.

In the example, white has rolled a five-four. Select a move that is best for white at this stage of the game. Initially, one must learn the importance of making a proper crossover from one quadrant to the next, ulitizing the correct dice to correspond with the move. This is a critical point in the game, which, given the "right" dice, could save or cost you a gammon.

Obviously, black has a minimum of three rolls to complete bearing off. Should he roll a three, he will need four rolls. But don't bank on it.

BEST OVERALE MOVE . . .

First appearance may mislead you into bringing both checkers home from the 10 and 11 point.

A more effective move would be to bring the 9-point checker to white's 12 point with the four roll, making a proper crossover, and taking the 11-point checker home with the five roll — utilizing the full roll of the dice.

Now white has an excellent chance to save the gammon. On the next roll, he will probably bring home another checker and move the 12-point checker forward just enough to hop home and bear off one checker on his last roll.

For more information and instructions, contact the American Backgammon Club at Box 599, Plymouth MI 48170, or call 459-5776.

Stewardess diet not realistic

Another diet is floating around. This one is the TWA Stewardess Diet in which you are supposed to lose 10 pounds in four days.

"This diet works on a chemical breakdown and is proven," says the postscript. A sensible warning to the dieter is not to stay on the diet any longer than four days at a time. Anyone looking at the daily meal schedule can see that the diet is grossly lacking in essential nutrients.

What baffles me about this regimen is that there are certain foods which are unrestricted in amount. For example, the first day's lunch allotment allows broiled steak in whatever quantity is desired. Yet on another day, only two eggs are allowed for

THE CALORIE COUNT of the two foods are vastly different. The steak, if one chooses the standard 4 oz. serving, equals 552 calories, while the two boiled eggs contain only 150. One dinner allotment calls for as much squash, cauliflower, green beans and applesauce as one desires. Considering that a person can eat only so much of these vegetables, it is conceivable their calorie allotment for dinner that day will not exceed 200 calories.

This is undoubtedly an inconsistent, poorly thought out, radical, dull diet and the average person will quickly tire of it (thank heavens!)

It doesn't make sense to claim that this "proven" diet will guarantee a 10-pound loss in four days regardless of the number of calories a person eats while on it. If you gorge yourself on the steak allotment you are setting yourself up for failure.

And even if you lose the 10 pounds, previous studies have demonstrated that the dieter will regain at least half of the lost pounds within the first week after resuming regular eating patterns. This will discourage the dieter and could result in the "diet and regain" pattern so common with crash dieting.

AND WHILE WE are talking about diets, we might consider the subject of diet props or aids. A bulletin recently released by the Harvard Medical School addresses the issue of certain types of diet mints during a medical meeting. One of them had consumed 12 of these mints. About 30 minutes later he developed a severe case of abdominal distress (cramps, gas, and diarrhea).

In a separate incident, a patient, who had also eaten a quantity of these mints required hospitalization. Investigation into the matter revealed that the mints contained sorbitol, an artifical sweetener.

Sorbitol, says the Harvard newsletter, is a nondigestible sugar alcohol, which means it sits in the intestines to be fermented by bacteria. This fermentation process causes the abdominal distress.

Sorbitol by nature, requires large amounts to achieve the desired sweetening effect in foods. Thus, large quantities are contained in the mints or other diet aids. Harvard thus advises you to check the labels to see if the product contains sorbitol. You can thus avoid a great deal of discomfort.

Youth rules All-Observer girls' track squad

Gorecki, Meixner make 2nd team

By BRAD EMONS and DOUG FUNKE

Livonia Stevenson and Ladywood, two of the area's powers, dominate this year's All-Area girls' track squad.

Stevenson, Inter-Lakes League and Class A regional runnersup at Churchill, placed four individuals and two relay squads on the first team. The Spartans are coached by Paul Holmberg.

Ladywood, coached by Paul York, made a tremendous improvement this season, winning the Catholic League and Class B regional titles. York's squad also captured the Oscoda Invitational and capped a fine season by placing fifth in Class B.

Three Ladywood runners and one relay squad grabbed first-team honors.

Area coaches, who gathered recently to vote and select the top three girls in each event, generally agreed that Westland John Glenn's Kelly Graham was the outstanding female competitor for 1980. Coaches marveled that Graham, a medal winner in two state final events, was only a sophomore.

Following are the first three All-Observer teams as chosen by area coaches. Girls were limited to one individual per event for All-Area recognition.

FIRST TEAM

Leigh Feenstra, Livonia Churchill, shot put. The Charger senior went undefeated in dual meets won the Class A regional shot put crown.

A three-year regular, Feenstra also performed well in the discus. Her best throw in the shot was was 36-8, first in the area.

Feenstra was also a three-year standout in volleyball.

Katy Donovan, Livonia Stevenson, discus. The Spartan senior was consistently over the 100-foot mark all season long.

She went undefeated in dual meet competition and captured Inter-Lakes League and Class A regional crowns.

Donovan topped the area with a best throw of 114-6.

"Katy works as hard at her event as any kid I've ever seen," said her coach, Paul Holmberg. "The results showed. She was a very consistent competitor."

Kathy Finn, Livonia Stevenson, long jump. Only a sophomore, Finn had the best jump in the area with a leap of 17-9, a school record.

She also holds Spartan marks in the 110- and 220-yard hurdles and is a member of the championship 880-yard relay team.

Finn won the long jump at the Stafford and Honorary Relays. The Spartan sophomore was Inter-Lakes League champ in four events. She grabbed first in the regional and just missed placing in the state finals with a leap of 17-1.

Karen Kelley, Livonia Stevenson, high jump. Kelley had the best jump in the area at 5-3, tying a school record.

The Spartan junior did particularly well in the big meets. She placed fifth in the MSU Spartan Relays and gained third in the West Bloomfield Invitation-

Jane Bowman, Livonia Bentley, 110yard hurdles. A three-year regular, Bowman was an extremely dedicated, hard-working athlete, according to coach Bev Dale.

"Jane is a very coachable young lady," said Dale. "She put in many extra hours practicing on the weekend."

Bowman's best time in the 110-yard hurdles was 15.5. She qualified for the state meet in both the 110- and 220yard hurdles.

Kelly Graham, Westland John Glenn, 220-yard hurdles. Area coaches voted the Glenn sophomore "Track Woman of the Year" based on her outstanding showing the the state girls' track finals in Grand Rapids.

She placed second in Class A with a time of 28.9 (best in the area) in the 220-yard hurdles.

Graham captured four individual Northwest Suburban League crowns -100, 220, 110 hurdles and 220 dash.

She anchored Glenn's 880-yard relay team and high jumped 5-0 during a dual meet.

Anita Brown, Livonia Ladywood, two-mile run. Her best time was 11:30.1 in the two mile. She placed second in the Class B regional and was Catholic League champ.

Brown capped an outstanding senior year with a fifth-place finish in the two mile during the state finals. She had the second-fastest area time

"In my opinion, Kelly is the best freshman miler in the state," said coach Paul York.

Champagne was also a standout in the 880-yard run with a best clocking of 2:23.8. She was Class B regional champ in the 880 and ran an 11:44.4 in the two mile during the regular season.

Ryan conquers Fellows Creek in tourney victory

Bad weather doesn't affect Kevin 76 during Saturday's rain-delayed first 75 and 79 for a 154 total. Jeff Harrison Ryan's performance on the golf course.

Battling rain, stiff winds and cold temperatures, Ryan captured the championship flight of the first annual Canton's Men's Open Golf Championship last weekend.

Ryan fired a spectacular par 72 on Sunday morning at Fellows Creek to gain a six-stroke win over runner-up

The winner carded a four-over par round to give him a 148 total.

Ryan's brilliant rounds featured two eagles on the par-five No. 3 and 13 holes. His score of 34 was also the low nine-hole round of the tournament. He did not have a double-bogey for the entire 36 holes of play.

The 19-year-old's showing was even more remarkable because he has only been playing golf for three years.

and Terry Lemieux were close on Wiley's heels with a totals of 156 and 161 respectively.

Harrison carded a 76 during the first round and came back with an 80 on Sunday. Lemieux, who opened with an 84, came back to shoot a 77.

Lemieux won the closest to the pin contest when his four-wood shot landed six inches from the hole on No. 15.

WILEY took the longest drive honors on No. 6, out-distancing first flight champ Rick Francis.

A second round count of 78 enabled Francis to take home first-place honors. He shot an 85 on the first day, but recovered to post a 163 total. Dawson followed closely with an 84-81 for a

Thomas Odorcich won a playoff for third place over 14-year-old Nunzio Marino. Odorcich bogeyed No. 11 while Marino, a student at Plymouth Salem, got mixed up with a tree and settled for Rick Nadeau, 170 a double bogey.

Marino missed a golden opportunity on the first extra hole (No. 10) when he failed to convert a short par putt. Bob Koers captured the second flight crown with a 94-86 for a 180 total. Roba 91-92 - 183. Ed Drerup finished a strong third with a 185 total.

Other championship flight totals included Bob Lemon, 164; Michael Vaught, 164; Phillip Smith, 166; and

First flight players scoring well included Edward Mayer Jr., 167; Butch Recto, 167; Paul Massimilla, 171; John Pauloweit, 171; and Gary Kamin, 181.

Silver Streaks nip Saints, 3-2

The Plymouth-Canton Saints were defeated by the Detroit Silver Streaks, 3-2, in a Great Lakes Women's Soccer League game Sunday morning.

The Saints, coached by John Snyder, trailed the entire game before rallying for a 2-2 tie. Chris Trombley scored the Saints' first goal.

Tuya Hassinen then tallied the equalizer. The deadlock did not last long, however, as Plymouth-Canton was called for a hand-ball infraction within the penalty area. That resulted in a game-winning penalty kick goal for Detroit.

Plymouth-Canton, now 1-1 overall in Great Lakes play, will meet Flint America at 11 a.m. Sunday at East Middle School.

Hines plan changes parking & driving

That's the suggestion being considered by a special subcommittee of Wayne County's safety and judiciary committee. The suggestion is one of several being considered as heavy park use again this year has caused severe traffic congestion and law enforcement problems along the 17.5-mile parkway.

Concurring with a suggestion for more off-road parking came from Edwin Mika, head of the parks division of the Wayne County Road Commission.

"We eliminated parking on one side of the road so park users wouldn't be parrallel with the congestion," Mika told a meeting of the special subcommittee last Wednesday. "We did allow for some parking along shoulders in the area of the ball diamonds

"Maybe we need to eliminate all roadside parking," he added. "It would be unfair to outlaw on-shoulder parking until other places to park are developed.

Parking has been a problem, especially in the Elm Grove area of the park, according to Lt. Harrett, who heads the Wayne County Sheriff's Hines Park division

"There are two ball diamonds in that area, and that's also a place where the kids like to gather to drink," he said. "Ball players had no (legal) place to park one night because the kids had already taken all the places.

"We felt we couldn't tell them (ball players) to go a mile down the road to park and then to walk back. So we allowed some people with families who

commissioner Kay Beard of Dearborn

"This is a public park. People are entitled to play and to use it where they want to," he said.

THE COMMITTEE ALSO is asking the Wayne County Road Commission and Sheriff's Department for reports on the advisability of off-road parking sites and for comment on a proposal from commissioner Thomas Presnell of Westland to divide Hines into a series of smaller parks. A report is expected from them in 30 days.

"Traffic is the problem to begin with," said Presnell. "If we saw the road up, we break up traffic flow."

Sheriff's deputies expressed concern, according to Presnell, that deputies could become trapped in the park if there was only one entrance site. They suggested a one-way park in which users could enter, for example, at Merriman and exit at Ann Arbor Trail. Users would have to travel back to Merriman to return to another section

Andy Spisak, assistant to Westland Mayor Thomas Taylor, also said that city is concerned about whether the county would want to turn control and maintenance of the smaller parks back to the cities in which they were located.

"Our intention wasn't to turn the parks over," said Presnell, who chairs the special subcommittee. "We know this plan could create some problems. That's why we wanted communities to comment on this."

Presnell said his committee also would be looking for ways to test the plan with temporary blockades before spending a lot of money."

WESTLAND POLICE CHIEF William Rechlin suggested that the road commission plant "briar bushes right up along the park."

"One of the complaints I'm getting is that kids are walking up into backyards to urinate. In some areas, even a lot of underbrush keeps them out," added Rechlin. Briar bushes are low maintenance. They don't have to be mowed or Maintenance has been a problem for the parks division of the road commis-

"We've already lost a lot of the noparking signs, so everyone wonders where they can park," said Harrett. "The road commission will have to continue to replenish the signs, but they're still trying to get all the way through the park."

REchlin said that conditions are improving in the park.

"IT was at the point (over the Memorial Day weekend) where families could go down and use the park," he

Harrett said that the most heavily used section of the park is still the three-mile strip from Merriman to Ann Arbor Trail in Westland. Deputies wrote 325 tickets in that area during an eight-day period which ended last Commissioner Mary Dumas from Livonia suggested that the commission try to get some of the revenue from tickets and court costs to pay for the off-road parking. Harrett said that 75 per cent of the arrests are processed through Westland's 18th District Court.

1052 ROOSEVELT, CITY OF PLYMOUTH! East off S. Main street just south of Farmer Jack. Our directional signs will introduce a long admired Cape Cod on a tree-draped street that will be forever held in high esteem. 3 bedrooms, 11/2 baths, a 25 ft. living room with fireplace and bookcases, formal dining room, finished recreation room, and a large 21/2 car garage. A new roof and an extra large setting with carefully developed landscaping. Be sure and set aside part of Sunday afternoon. $86,900. 453-8200

PLYMOUTH! The passing of time has greatly beautified the landscaping surrounding this handsome brick Cape Cod. Lush and healthy trees and shrubs do so much for creating privacy and beauty. The interior of this home is exceedingly clean and well presented. There are 4 bedrooms, 21/2 baths, formal dining room, family room with wood-burning fireplace, full basement, and 21/2 car attached garage. A patio that will truly please you. Location is important here too. $110,000. 453-8200

RANKING HIGH IN EVERY CATEGORY is this exceptionally well appointed Colonial with an enviable court location in "Beacon Hill". There are 4 spacious bedrooms, 21/2 baths, a beamed and sloped-ceiling study, an open stairwell, formal dining room, an exciting kitchen you'll agree, family room with fireplace, first floor laundry, and oversized 21/2 car side entrance garage. Central Air and an extravagant brick patio are added summer pleasures. An easily assumable mortgage! $159,900. 453-8200

FIRST OFFERING! PLYMOUTH! A country two acre setting of great beauty enhanced by a sand bottom, spring fed pond. While its restful setting is without equal, its interior boasts 4 bedrooms, 21/2 baths, a study, formal dining room, first floor laundry, family room with fireplace, full basement, and 21/2 car garage. Further, there is a sun-filled garden room and a welcoming wood terrace. A home you'll easily grow fond of! $129,900. 453-8200

DREAM HOMES CAN TAKE MANY FORMS and this Historic Plymouth example is placed among beautiful trees on over an Acre. There are 3 bedrooms, 21/2 baths (master too), a formal dining room, a re-modeled kitchen with a splendid rear yard view, family room, full basement, and 21/2 car garage with opener. The living room is of noble size (25 x 16) with a handsome fireplace. A small barn with 2 box stalls, electricity, and water charms the setting. Impeccably maintained! $129,500. 453-8200

NEVER BEFORE OFFERED! Plymouth Colony Farms.....introduces a decidedly custom built one story brick ranch with a fully exposed walk-out lower level. A court location providing the best of country-side views. 3 spacious bedrooms, 2 full baths, formal dining room, a large entrance foyer, family room and living room (2) fireplaces, first floor laundry, and 31/2 car attached garage. An alternate family room and full bath is easily created in the sun-filled lower level space yet to be developed. Pella windows, underground sprinklers, and a host of costly extra's make this a refreshing departure from the ordinary. $144,900.453-8200 time-honored example of that style tucked away on a court within walking distance to schools and all conveniences. There are 4 bedrooms, 21/2 baths, formal dining room, a study, family room with fireplace, first floor laundry, full basement, and 21/2 car attached garage with opener. There landscaping would be difficult to improve upon. With central air conditioning, this home represents an extraordinary value at $108,900. 453-8200.
