Officials hope Cantonites borrow books here

Canton, Michigan

By DARLENE STINSON In 1979, Canton Township paid $46,000 to the Dunning-Hough Library in Plymouth.

James Gillig, treasurer of the Canton Library Board, expects the contribution will rise to $54,000 by the end of this year.

With the opening of Canton's own public library next Monday, Gillig is hoping that fewer residents will travel to Plymouth to borrow a book.

He hopes the contribution, which is based on user statistics, will drop to nothing by 1983.

Current statistics show that 40 percent of the patrons who use Dunning-Hough live in Canton. Another 40 percent live in Plymouth Township, while only 20 percent reside in the city of Plymouth - the municipality where Dunning-Hough is located.

According to Gillig, Canton's contribution to Dunning-Hough represents 40 percent of the library's operating budget. Municipalities typically contribute to a library's operation if 10 percent of the facility's customers reside in that community.

Gillig said a recent attorney general's opinion appears to legally exempt communities from the obligation to contribute.

"But as far as we're concerned, we will continue to compensate them," said Gillig. "It's a very strong moral obligation.

THE NEW CANTON Public Library will officially open to the public next Monday with a "starter" collection of 20,000 books.

Library officials hope to lure Canton residents from Dunning-Hough to the new, 11,000 square-foot facility on the third floor of the Canton administration building.

Pat Thomas, head librarian at Dunning-Hough, said staffers there will encourage Canton residents to use the new facility despite the financial impact on the Plymouth library.

She agrees with Gillig's projection that Canton's use of Dunning-Hough will taper below 10 percent by 1983. She estimates that Plymouth Township will pay 66 percent of the library's operating cost and Plymouth 33 percent when Canton drops out of the financial

Ms. Thomas said officials in Plymouth and Plymouth Township are aware of the finacial consequences of the Canton library start-up.

"All the communities have been aware for at least the last five years that Canton would eventually establish its own library," said Ms. Thomas. "As a result, we put a lid on library operations. We're not anticipating any cutbrary.)

Ms. Thomas said Dunning-Hough has one of the highest usage rates in the Wayne-Oakland Federated Library System. But the staff is one of the smallest.

SHE CITED "pressure" on the Dunning-Hough Library as a result of the population boom in Canton. The township's population has grown from 11,000 to 48,000 in the last decade.

The library owns a children's picture book collection of 4,000 to 5,000 books, she cited as an example. But at times,

> "The early reading selection (for children) is sometimes even worse. In that area, it's mainly Canton pressure. There aren't that many young families in Plymouth and Plymouth Township."

> Deborah O'Connor, head librarian of the new Canton library, said the collection there includes a wide selection of children's books.

Gillig expects residents from other communities will use the Canton facility. But he doubts that non-resident usage ever will total 10 percent - the figure at which communities kick in financial support.

A Wayne County Health Department supervisor is miffed over the township's handling of recent lab tests of some homeowners' tap water.

The official also believes those earlier tests - which showed that two homeowners on Washborn have "unsafe" drinking water - are inconclusive. Residents on that street have wells.

Furthermore, the county health department - not the township - has authority to test water and to determine if it is safe.

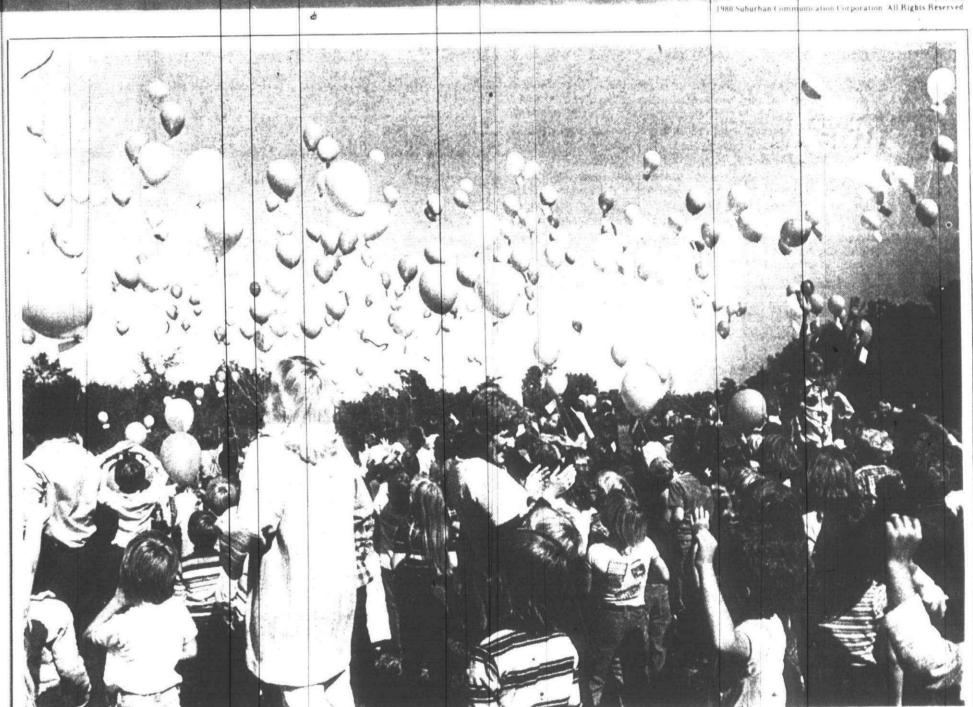

That's the contention of Michael Prybyla, a public health district supervisor for the Wayne County Health Department. His jurisdiction includes Canton Township

"IF THERE is any contamination, we will ask (the homeowners) to chlorinate their pump and well," said Pryby-

"We will send instructions on how to do it," he added. "I think we can consider it safe until proven otherwise."

Washborn is in a sparsely-populated, 40-acre subdivision south of Michigan and east of Sheldon. The township plans, over the next three-four years, to use federal funds to buy the land parcels in the sub.

Some 18 homeowners would be relocated, and the area turned into an industrial park. Some water and sewer lines would have to be installed.

Prybyla said the health department, which was bypassed by the township on the first batch of tests, will do its own lab analysis this week.

About two weeks ago, reports surfaced that about four homeowners on Washborn were carting water from a public tap on Geddes. They said their tap water was dark, cloudy and unpleasant.

Schools adopt operating budget

An operating budget approaching $40 million was approved Monday night by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education

The budget is for the current fiscal year which ends June 30, 1981. By state law, the budget must be adopted by Nov. 1, 1980.

With adoption out of the way, the central administration now is beginning work on the 1981-82 operating budget with a goal of final approval before July 1, 1981.

The '80-'81 operating budget totals $38.6 million in expenses and $37.8 million in revenues for a deficit of $830,000 which will be made up by reducing the fund equity of $2.2 million down to $1.3 million by the end of the fiscal year.

Ray Hoedel, administrative assistant for business, said the budget still is not a final document as the Michigan Legislature still hasn't passed the state aid bill which probably won't be approved until December or January.

Carol Davis, board president, noted that $2 million already has been cut from the first budget drawn up last spring and very likely the budget will have to be cut again before next June.

"Everybody's dreams are not in here," she said, "but this is a guidepost by which we will operate during this year.'

Graduation will stay at CEP

The Class of '81 will, after all, have its graduation ceremonies held at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP)

The graduation site was confirmed Monday night when the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education voted 7-0 to continue holding commencement at the CEP.

The board had been asked by administrators to move graduation to an out-of-town location such as Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor, Bowen Field House in Ypsilanti or in the Ford Auditorium, Detroit.

The central administration had asked the CEP administrators for a recommendation after a number of parents complained last June about the cold, rainy weather accompanying Plymouth Salem High's graduation.

KELLY HUBERT, speaking on behalf of the Student Council and National Honor Society at Plymouth Salem High, urged trustees to keep ceremonies in the community.

"Graduation is an important event that we'll remember all of our life. We hope you will decide to leave it at the Park where it belongs.

"If we attend school here for four years, why go to another city to graduate?

"I feel sorry about the complaints the principals had to hear last year, but I feel people will complain no matter what is done. They'll complain if it's held outdoors and the weather's bad; they'll complain if it's held indoors and attendance is limited; and they'll complain if you move graduation out-oftown.'

She also noted that moving graduation out-of-town would require both high schools to graduate on the same day with one ceremony beginning at 4:30 p.m. and the other at 7:30 p.m. "It would be hard to arrange work schedules because most work until 6 p.m."

, Trustee Stephen Harper said he was moved by the students' presentation, especially by the argument that complaints would be heard no matter what alternative was chosen.

KENT BUIKEMA, principal of Plymouth Canton High, told the board that after the problem at Salem last June, Salem Principal Bill Brown and he were directed by central administration to look for an alternative to the CEP site.

The principals merely looked at the options and made a recommendation as asked, added Buikema, who objected to being placed in a position of having the principals look like "the bad guys."

In response to a question, Brown noted that about 4,000 persons attend graduation when its held on the football field and only 2,000 can attend if it must be held in the Salem gym.

"The problem is when grandma comes up from Naples, Fla., for graduation," said Buikema. "If weather's bad and graduation is moved inside, and only two can attend, the family will have a lot of hassle deciding if the parents or grandma attend.

During recent years, Brown added, ceremonies were held indoors only once

By ARLENE FUNKE

Will discontent continue to rumble among business owners at Harvard Square shopping center at Ford and Sheldon?

Or does an aggressive new spruce-up and promotion mean brighter days are around the corner?

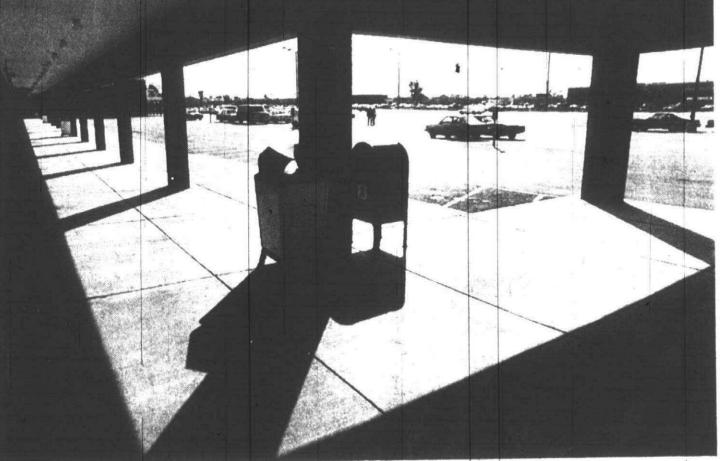

Some merchants at the shopping center are complaining about a "ghost town" atmosphere as several stores stand empty

Others say there aren't enough retail shops to attract large numbers of buyers. A restaurant owner believes there is some unfair competition from another eatery.

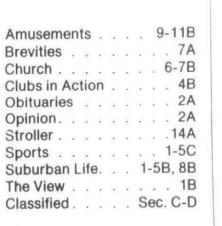

HARVARD SQUARE was developed around 1975 and currently is owned by Equitable Life Assurance Society of America, headquartered in New York.

The center contains suites for about 36 shops and business offices running south from Ford along Shel-

Thousands of metropolitan area residents who believe they were the targets of illegal Michigan State Police spying during the past 30 years will soon be able to obtain their police files. A six-year-old continuing law suit, filed on behalf of about a dozen Detroit-area consumer, civil rights, anti-Vietnam war and welfare rights activists, could lead to the release of an estimated 38,000 individual files and 400 organization files kept by a state police

"Sometime in October," according to Pat Murphy, a spokesman for the attorney general's office, letters will be sent to those individuals whom files were kept on.'

The letters will tell the person how he or she can obtain the file from the state police. In order to get the file, a request must be made. Murphy said ads will be placed in the two major Detroit daily newspapers notifying the public of the release of the files and public service announcement time will be requested from television stations. The state won't charge for the files, Murphy said.

*THE REASON you move into a shopping center is traffic (shoppers)," said Bob Lancaster, of the Peacock Room hair styling salon

"That's something we don't have," added Lancaster. "People come in and are so disappointed with the shopping center."

Hazen Duclo of Harvard Books noted that there used to be a merchants' association at the center, but it folded.

"Everybody has left," said Duclo. "The auto parts store wanted more space. The camera store turned over a couple of times."

Duclo and Lancaster said merchants often had to wait long periods of time for building or parking lot repairs.

Roy Brock, manager of Flowers by Margie Rae, said his business has remained about the same since he moved in a little more than a year ago. He said most of his business comes from telephone inquiries, rather than from the shopping center.

"HALF OF the store fronts are empty," added Brock. "It looks like a ghost town.'

Merchants praised the efforts of Hayman Management, which has spearheaded improvements including a new shopping center sign (one had been missing for months), lighting and landscaping and daily cleanup of the parking lot.

Rayman also is promoting the center by splitting advertising costs with the merchants. Next Tuesday, Detroit Lions punter Ed Murray will visit Harvard Square from 6-8 p.m.

"We're attempting to rent the vacant space," added Alan Hayman of the management company."We ( want) a desirable tenant mix so that people will come to the center and will be able to spend hours and visit a variety of stores."

Herman Ahrens, co-owner with his wife Dorothy of Cambridge Furniture, said the advertising campaign already is starting to pay off.

Ahrens said he achieved an advertising cost of three percent of sales on a recent ad. A general rule of thumb is five percent, said Ahrens.

"UNFORTUNATELY, we have had some people who couldn't weather the economy." said Ahrens. "Really, I hope you don't put anything in that's negative about the center."

Health officials to test water

CANTON'S ordinance officers subsequently took samples from the faucets of two homeowners to the Canton Analytical Laboratory, located in Pittsfield Township near Ypsilanti.

The lab test showed an excessive amount of chloride and organic carbohs. There also was a trace of nitrate and coliform bacteria.

Chloride often is associated with road salts, while organic carbons could include a variety of substances, including dissolved gases. Nitrate is found in fertilizers, while coliform bacteria is associated with well-water contamina-Prybyla explained that accuration. cy depends on following specific procedures and storing the water sample in a sterile container. "I don't know what their motive is -I'm baffled," said Prybyla. "They didn't want us to get involved in the first place. We could have had (the test) it taken for free.'

Woman reunited with natural mom after long search

By MAURIE WALKER

It was a long and frustrating 33 years for Beverly Acosta, but her determination has paid off.

Mrs. Acosta, 51, has been looking for her natural mother since she was 18. Her dream has now come true.

Mrs. Acosta recently flew to Orlando, Fla., to meet her natural mother, Mary McEachern, Saturday. It was the first time the two have seen each other since Mrs. McEachern gave her daughter up for adoption 51 years ago.

"I didn't learn I was adopted until after my adopted mother died in 1947," said Mrs. Acosta, of Garden City. "Since then I haven't given up in my search.

Her adopted father died in 1955. "I can't believe it's true," Mrs. Acosta said. "It all came about in such a strange way

"I LEARNED my mother has been looking for me too. She was forced to give me up for adoption since she was only 16 and unwed," Mrs. Acosta said.

Mrs. Acosta said she had made hundreds of telephone calls, written numerous letters, talked to dozens of people in her search.

One problem was that she was given an inaccurate spelling of her original family name

She had been told her family name was Olson when it was really was Holson

"This threw me off for some time. But then one day I went to the family minister who told me I had been adopted from the Luthern Children's Home in Bay City.

This led her to Standish, Mich., where she looked through family records, telephone books, utility company records and the church directory in an unsuccessful attempt to find the Holson name

"I gave up for a while.

The lady at the fire department Mrs. Acosta there was a Holson who had moved to Florida. The lady then contacted Mrs. Acosta's stepfather in Florida. He called a relative in Detroit -Mrs. Donald Champagne who was Mrs. McEachern's sister, thus Mrs. Acosta's aunt.

"My aunt called me wanting to know what I wanted. Of course, she didn't know for certain who I was. She asked me several questions about the family and I had all the answers. She told me how to contact my mother in Orlando."

BECAUSE OF the nature of the calls all the parties moved cautiously and it was six months between the time Mrs. Acosta called Sterling and the time that the aunt called her back. Finally, the aunt gave her the telephone of her natural mother. "When my mother answered the phone in Orlando and I told her who I was, there was dead silence. My stepfather came on the phone and asked me to wait a minute to allow my mother to recover from the shock. It was wonderful. Before long we were talking as though we had been together all our lives.

She said her mother had never seen her and was originally told her baby had been stillborn.

"Later, when she learned I was alive, she wanted to keep me but my grandfather decided I should be adopted.

"My mother said she had been attempting to locate me since she was 18 years old."

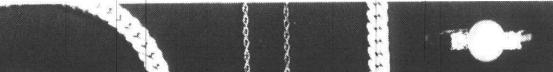

MRS. ACOSTA said she invited her aunt and uncle to her house where she, SEVERAL YEARS later, "I was her husband, Fernando, their six children and five grandchildren, had a tion and children trying to find their Thanksgiving dinner "with a turkey

New radio network hikes cops' efficiency

Five communities, including Canton, are joining together in a central police dispatch system.

Police officers are being trained on new radio equipment which is expected to free up manpower and speed service, according to Canton Police Chief Jerry Cox.

Participating in the system are Van Buren, Sumpter, Huron and Canton townships, and the city of Belleville.

Of those five, only Canton has a fulltime, 24-hour-a-day police department. The other communities are assisted by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

"THE ADVANTAGE is saving of manpower," explained Cox. "Each community saves manpower.

"Each community will continue to use its own local police department number and will be dispatched from that center," added Cox. "All (five communities) will be on the same radio frequency and we can provide more enficient service.'

Cox said there are no plans for crosscommunity police patrols.

The main dispatching area will be located in Belleville. A similar backup system will be in the Canton police station, according to Cox.

According to Cox, equipment for the system was purchased with a $108,000 grant through a state-administered criminal justice program.

The funds come from the federal and state governments, said Cox. The five communities filed a joint application in 1977, one year before Canton formed a full-time police department.

"The advantages (of the plan) were much greater than they are today," conceded Cox. "(But) we stand to gain 80 percent of one person's time (for other duties)."

Canton residents who need emergency police service should call 397-3350. All other calls should be placed through 397-3000.

Board approves budget

Flossie Tonda, trustee, commented that although the total taxbase is increasing in the school district the schools are not receiving that much more income because as state equalized valuation (SEV) rises there is a corresponding decrease in state aid payments.

The current budget shows an actual decline from '79-'80 in state aid per pupil, Hoedel said.

The result is that while local revenues are increasing by $5 million or 20.6 percent payments from the state is dropping by 30 percent.

Of the $4 million increase in expenses over '79-'80, Hoedel said, about 69 percent, or $2.8 million, is for negotiated wage increases and 10 percent, or $411,000, is for increases in employee fringe benefits.

Major capital items budgeted for include $328,500 for replacement of buses, $114,000 for replacing typewriters at the high schools, $300,000 for roof repair and replacement.

The district's taxbase (SEV) totals some $835 million with about 46 percent generated by Canton, 35 percent by Plymouth Township, and 14 percent by the city of Plymouth.

For '80-'81 the district will levy a total of 38.38 mills compared to 38.9 mills levied in '79-'80. The difference is a reduction of six-tenths of a mill for debt retirement.

Of the districts total funds, some 81 percent comes from local sources and 16 percent from the state. Last year the district almost 26 percent of its income from the state and 71 percent from local sources.

Officials hope residents will sample new library

Canton residents are paying one mill ($1 per $1,000 assessed property valuation) in support of the library. Voters approved a levy of up to one mill in May 1979.

Gillig suspects that the rate will be cut below one mill in 1984 - as long as the Tisch Amendment is not passed

"Obviously, the first two or three years we'll need the full millage," said Gillig in reference to the library's start-up costs.

THE LIBRARY BOARD already has spent about $300,000 for equipment, books and the remodeling of Township Hall's third floor.

Gillig said that amount covers almost all the capital expenditures needed by the new library. He plans to allocate about $25,000 to $30,000 in the library's 1981 budget for the purchase of additional audio-visual equipment.

The library board also hopes to expand the book collection to 55,000 during the next few years.

This year, the library board borrowed about $155,000 in tax anticipation notes to supplement the $322,000 raised by one mill. The loan, which carries an 8 percent interest rate, must be repaid in one year.

Gillig anticipates borrowing another $121,000 next year and investing money not immediately needed in high-interest-bearing time certificates.

"We felt we'd rather borrow early and get everything in the library in order to male it a tip-top institution," he said.

Official explains Smith-Bullard tax shift plan

By MSU News Service

Michigan voters will go the the polls in November to decide on three new tax proposals or to retain the present tax system.

Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service staff members have been studying the propsals. Lynn R. Harvey, district Extension agent in public policy, explains Proposal A, the Smith-Bullard School Financing Tax Shift.

PROPOSAL A is designed to change the current method of financing public elementary and secondary education. The proposal's intent is to transfer a greater share of the financing of local K-12 education to the state by placing new limits on the use of ad valorem (property) taxation for operating purposes and by moving to an equal perstudent method of support.

To accomplish these goals, the amendment proposes to:

• Eliminate the current 15/50-mill limitation in the Michigan Constitution, eliminate county tax-allocation boards, and establish a new 24.5-mill limit (13 allocated plus 11.5 extra voted) on millage levied by local units of government for operational purposes.

· Establish a new fixed millage allocation for operational purposes of these various units of government. The county would receive 7 allocated mills, 1 extra voted; townships, 2 allocated, 2 extra voted; and community colleges, 1 allocated, 1.5 extra voted. Public schools would get no allocated mills, vocational education 1 allocated, special education 1.5 allocated and intermediate school district .5 allocated. These four groups combined could receive a total of 7 extra voted mills. THe current 15 allocated mills are distributed among the county, townships, intermediate school district and local

K-12 district.
Provide for a voter-approved local income tax option of up to 1 percent in lieu of all or part of the 7 mills extra voted for education (see above point).

• Permit the legislature to levy up to 30.5 mills on all taxable property, except homesteads and family-ownedand-operated farms, for the support of public elementary and secondary schools.

• Require the legislature to establish a program of general state taxation and a method of distributing funds to ensure equal per-pupil financial support for school districts' general operating purposes.

· Provide for a five-year phase-in period for a school-financing program which would ensure that, in the first year of operation, each district receives an amount from the state which, when combined with a local tax levy of 7 mills, will not be less than the amount received by the district on the effective date of the amendment. After the five-year phase-in period, no distrct would receive less than the amount received by the higher districts during the phase-in period.

• Provide up to a $25,000 state-equalized value (SEV) exemption on homesteads of retired persons 65 years of age and older (indexed).

• Allow a $140 renter's state income tax credit (indexed). The credit is provided by law.

· Exclude funds distributed to local units for 65-and-over exemption from calculation in the state spending requirement under Section 30, Article 9, of the Constitution (Headlee).

• Apply millage rollbacks required under Section 31, Article 9, to each class of property separately.

HARVEY SAYS the proposal would provide some property-tax relief for residential and agricultural property owners but would also mean an increase in some of the state taxes.

The most likely increase would occur in the personal income tax rate. He estimates the increase would range from the current 4.6-percent rate to possible 6-10 percent, depending on legislative action.

That decision would be influenced by the possibility of the legislature's levying part or all of the 30.5-mill state levy on property other than homesteads and farms and increasing other state taxes, and by the local school district's levying the 7-mill extra voted tax or a 1 percent income tax.

"It costs about $4 billion to finance K-12 education in the state," Harvey said. "Currently about 47 percent comes from local property taxes, another 47 percent from state aid and the balance from federal grants."

If Proposal A passes, the state would have to pick up a portion of the local share, which would amount to an additional $1.6 billion to $2 billion, and funnel it into the state school-aid fund."

THE EXTENSION agent predicts many K-12 schools which now have low

the possibility of the legislature's levying part or all of the 30.5-mill state levy on property other than homesage of Proposal A.

(P,C)9A

- GX # 1 - A + 1

Districts with high per-pupil support could lose revenue in real income and purchasing power because of inflation and the requirement that the legislature fund minimum support levels.

Harvey says senior citizens would get a break, with the $25,000 SEV credit. Renters would generally pay more net taxes because the increase in state taxes would probably more than offset the $140 credit renters would receive.

The proposal's effect on business and commercial firms and industries would depend on the legislature's structuring of the 30.5-mill levy on all taxable property, excluding residential property and family-owned farms.

WHAT MAKES fall color? Greg Patchen of the Oakland County cooperative extension service explains:

"Cool weather slows the flow of nutrients from tree to leaf. The manufacture of green chlorophyl ceases, and other chemicals surface.

"These chemicals, carotin and xanthophyll, contain the yellow pigment.

"The more flamboyant red leaves appear only in trees containing sugar. A combination of warm days and nights cooling to below 45 is necessary to produce the red coloring. Sugar forms in the leaf during the warm day. The rapidly cooling evening temperature traps it there. It combines with other chemicals to produce the red pigment." Now you know.

Seniors tie into service with hot-line

A senior citizen hot line will be operational next week in western Wayne County.

Elderly residents in 34 out-county communities will be able to dial the toll-free number -1-800-462-8666 — to information about services, as well as individual help the new network of referral services. The phone service will be operational after Oct. 18.

A $73,000 federal grant for Senior Citizen Information and Referral awarded by the Out County Area Agency on Aging will fund the hot line and accompanying referral service.

The grant was awarded to Redford Township Senior Citizens department, the Downriver Citizens Office and Roznulus Help Center. The Downriver office will supervise the program at the Redford and Romulus locations.

The Redford Center, at 12121 Hemingway, will serve senior citizens in Redford, Livonia, Garden City, Westland, Wayne, Plymouth, Northville, Dearborn, and Dearborn Heights.

THE NETWORK concept allows for the pooling of expertise, staff and resources of each participating agency, according to Faye Ross, Redford Senior Citizens director. Senior citizens using the hot line will be able to receive information about services for them throughout the area, as well as help on individual problems. It is hoped that the referral program will help senior citizens take advantage of the various programs offered throughout the county. In addition, staff personnel will be able to direct elderly persons with problems to the agency best equipped to handle the problem.

"In the past, DCO, Redford and Romulus have concentrated on health and welfare programs such as nutrition, minor home repair and services and tax assistance for seniors," said Ms. Ross.

"Under this expansion of services, we will also be able to refer seniors to hobby and craft groups, travel opportunities, community garden plot programs and social groups, for example."

The funding also will allow all three agencies to provide more printed materials for the elderly and to do more "outreach" work by sending staffers to senior citizen functions to answer questions and help with problems, she said.

The network agency can be reached by calling the Redford Center at 422-1052.

No hazardous waste policy until after polls close

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the days before the current recess.

HOUSE

HAZARDOUS WASTES - The House rejected, 162 247, a bill to set a federal policy governing the transportation of hazardous wastes over the nation's highways. The bill has been passed by the Senate. The most disputed provision would delay for six months - until mid-1981 - Department of Transportation rules setting forth specific routes over which radioactive wastes from nuclear power plants can be transported. Most members voting against the bill wanted those rules to go into effect next January.

Rep. Geraldine Ferraro, D-N.Y., a supporter, said the DOT rules should be delayed so that the new Congress can consider the issue. She feared that without the delay her New York City constituency might be jeopardized by waste shipments.

Rep. James Broyhill, R-N.C., said "it would not be in the public interest to delay . . . these regulations which, of course, do have the purpose of increasing the safety in transporting these hazardous waste materials.

Members voting yea favored passage of the bill coupled with a six-months delay in implementing the DOT rules.

Reps. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, David Bonior, D-Mt. Clemens, James Blanchard, D-Pleasant Ridge, voted yea.

Rep. William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, voted nav

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE – By a vote of 276-117, the House adopted and sent to the Senate the conference report on a bill to help victims of domestic violence. The bill would cost $65 million over three years. In part, it would fund shelters for battered spouses and children and underwrite counseling to curb violence in the home. Rep. Hepry Hyde, R-III., a supporter, said the bill "will not set up a huge federal bureaucracy" because it would funnel money through state governments and help to sustain programs already in existence.

Rep. Ken Kramer, R-Colo., an opponent, said the bill represents "a dangerous trend" of "federal involvement in areas traditionally reserved as family matters to state and local jurisdictions.

Members voting yea favored enactment of a new domestic violence program at the federal level.

The coming of cool fall weather sends many animals scurrying to find a cozy place to spend the winter. For some homeowners, this scramble for winter shelter means a host of unwelcome houseguests.

Glenn Dudderar, extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University, says the most common animals to enter homes looking for winter shelter are squirrels, bats, rats and mice.

AN OPENING doesn't have to be very large for a mouse to squeeze through, he points out. Even a rat needs only a half-inch opening, and a bat can squirm through a 11/2-inch hole.

An opening that's letting animals into the house is also letting heated or cooled air out, he noted. To keep the animals out and to save energy, seal up those openings.

But first, he advised getting rid of those that have already entered to avoid sealing the critters inside.

Bats are probably the least critical problem but the one that most people are least likely to tolerate, simply because they tend to be afraid of bats. Bats wintering in an attic or the top of a garage won't do much damage. Their drippings and urine can make a smelly mess, however, and bats sometimes carry disease organisms.

CONTROLLING RODENTS in the home is a three-step process.

First, eliminate all possible food sources. This means cleaning up food spills in storage areas, placing all foods in cans or glass jars, putting pet food away as soon as the pet has eaten, cleaning plates and washing dishes immediately after meals, removing all garbage from the kitchen, and so on Strict sanitation is necessary for the second step to succeed, Dudderar said.

'No rat that can eat people food out of the wastebasket is going to go for rat bait," he said."But if there's nothing else for him to eat, he'll have to either leave or go after the bait."

TWO GENERAL CLASSES of poison baits are available - single-dose, highly toxic materials that kill the animal at once, and multiple-dose anticoagulants.

In the home, the multiple-dose poisons are the safer choice, because one accidental consumption by a human or a pet is not likely to be lethal. The single-dose poisons can kill any warm-blooded animal, including a human being, that consumes them.

The relative safety of the anticoagulant baits doesn't mean you should use them carelessly, Dudderar said. Place the baits where only the rodents can get to them - behind appliances, in the back corners of cupboards, inside cold air ducts, wherever you have reason to believe the rodents lurk or run.

Bear in mind that most dogs and cats are great scroungers. Even if well fed, they'll eat anything they come upon that strikes them as edible. Like-

If voters approve proposal

Tisch plan would force state budget cuts

By MSU News Service

Now that the Tisch tax cut amendment to the Michigan Constitution is securely on the November ballot, state voters will be in a position to vote themselves about a 60 percent cut in property taxes.

The resulting loss in revenue to state and local governments, however, would require them to do some drastic cutting back of programs.

State-supported higher education would become much more expensive as colleges and universities would be forced to charge higher fees. Some public services would have to be eliminated, most human services would be cut by 50 percent.

And because of reduced deductions for state property taxes, most property owners would have to pay more federal income taxes

ACCORDING TO Al House, Extension specialist in agricultureal economics at Michigan State University, the aspect of the Tisch amendment that has caught the voter's interest is the rollback in property valuation and the resulting slashing of property taxes.

The proposed amendment would assess property taxes on 25 percent of true cash value (rather than the current 50 percent), based on 1978 valuations. On the average, this would cut property taxes by about 60 percent.

The amendment would further reduce by half the property tax liability of householders with annual taxable incomes less than $10,500 but more than $5,000. Householders with annual taxable income below $5,000 would pay no property tax. And householders 62

Renters would not be directly benefited by the general cut in the valuation, but he proposed amendment would require the Michigan Legislature to provide "comparable relief" to renter with incomes less than $10,500. and to renters age 62 or older.

TO EASE the burden on schools and local governmental units, the state would be required by the Tisch amendment to appropriate amounts equal to years of age or older would be exempt the tax revenue lost because of tax relief for low-income and elderly householders. The reduced yields of the property tax after all cuts would be matched by the state.

The state would also be required to assist local school districts through the state aid formula in effect for fiscal year 1980-81. Schools would not lose much the first year, but under the limitations of the Tisch proposal, they could not expect revenue increases to match cost increase in subsequent years.

House predicts that state appropriations to institutions of higher education and funding for social services - including welfare, income programs, mental and public health and Medicaid woud be cut deeply to make up these payouts to school districts and local governments.

BECAUSE OF the rollback in property tax assessments to 1978 levels, however, local governments would still end up with a net loss in revenues, House points out.

Combined property tax revenues and state replacement revenues would be about 10 percent lower than the property tax without Tisch cuts.

Constraining local governments from inventing new taxes or increasing existing ones to make up for these losses is the Headlee amendment. Passed in 1978, it require locals local governments to get the approval of a majority of voters on new taxes or increases in existing ones.

This, combined with the broad definition of "tax" under the Tisch proposal. would require votes on fees and assessments, which might be used to replace the property tax.

Thursday, October 16, 1980

Like local governments, the state legislature would be prohibited from imposing any new tax or increasing the rate of any tax in effect in 1978 without getting the approval of voters, in this case, a 60 percent majority.

THE TIME-HONORED tactic of increasing property tax revenues by raising the assessed value of property would be halted by a Tisch provision that limits to 2 percent the annual increase in assessed value of residential and agricultural property.

House explains that the 2 percent increase would be figured on the basis of classes of property and state average valuations. Some areas of the state, such as Detroit would actually lose tax base

"After a few years under the provisions of the Tisch amendment, property taxes on homes and farms in real dollars would be essentially repealed, presuming inflation continues," House savs

"Personal income tax and a business taxes would have to carry the whole load. This wouldn't make the state very attractive to new business and industry, and it would put an unproportionately heavy burden on certain economic sectors.

Quarrel over lunch grant leaves a bad taste

The hot lunch program for out-Wayne County senior citizens has bureaucrats lining up allies in a skirmish which has all the makings of a political fiasco.

At stake are more than $1 million, jobs, more than 500,000 hot meals annually for elderly residents — and public trust.

Two county groups are vying for the funds to provide meals for senior citizens downriver and in western Wayne County.

One is the Out-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging, which Canton and Plymouth joined last spring under the leadership of Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara. The other is the Wayne County Area Agency on Aging, headed by Dante DiVitto.

The out-county group includes 34 suburbs. The communities formed the group because of longsimmering dissatisfaction with DiVitto's group and its delivery of services to seniors.

McNamara saw a chance to straighten out and improve some programs which he said were being mismanaged. Although his motives were sincere, in the zeal to take over the programs the out-county agency might have been too exuberant and made a mistake in judgement.

HERE IS the background.

The out-county group was formed last spring when Detroit split from the Wayne County Area Agency on Aging.

Detroit got the go-ahead to form its own agency and took with it Hamtramck, Harper Woods, Highland Park and the Grosse Pointes.

Tisch plan would wreck majority rule

Much has been written charging that Proposal D the so-called Tisch amendment — would wreck state government. That's not the worst thing about the Tisch amendment.

The out-county and downriver suburbs then decided to pick up the rest of the county. After much political pressure, the out-county agency got the right to allocate state and federal funds to whichever agencies it chose to deliver senior services.

ROUND TWO came in early September.

The out-county group awarded grants for senior services totaling more than $1 million to member communities and agencies.

The program included the 500,000 meals per year nutrition program as well as home repair, adult day care and information and referral programs.

That move, in effect, dissolved the agency which DiVitto had been in charge of for the past seven years.

DiVitto's office had applied for the five grants awarded to these same communities. The out-county agency's board of directors summarily rejected DiVitto's grant requests stating they were invalid because they had been improperly signed and not authorized. The grant applications were signed by DiVitto who, on one or more applications, signed himself as "chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.'

The out-county group maintained that a full vote of the county commissioners (DiVitto's boss) is needed to approve the applications. The out-county group used a legal opinion from George Cross, attorney for the county board of commissioners, to justify its action.

JUDGE BEER, WHEN WE SAY YOU'RE TOO OLD

YOU'RE TOO

The move, however, backfired. Cross recanted his opinion and said DiVitto did not need prior approval of the full board to apply for a grant. Cross also said a committee of the commissioners had approved the grant application and this was sufficient. He also said the full board had given DiVitto's office such perogatives seven years ago.

DiVITTO PROTESTED the out-county group's decision all the way to court and won. The judge ordered the out-county group to give DiVitto's office funds to operate a portion of the program.

The judge also allowed DiVitto to appeal his requests to the out-county agency and the state office on aging in order to have his office considered for full funding of all the programs. After that, the outcounty grants committee recommended that funds for the nutrition program be divided between the two groups. The court will review any decision.

In the meantime, seniors in Plymouth, Canton and surrounding communities are getting their meals.

However:

• The program is fragmented. · That fragmentation could hamper any expansion or improvements in service.

 Program employees are placed in a tenuous and stressful position, not knowing what to expect.

And any decisions face court review.

If the applications were to be rejected, they should have been on the basis of proof of inferior and incompetent previous administration. This charge has been made by Commissioner R. Thus there may be reasons of substance for rejecting the DiVitto application. The contention, however, that the signatures were wrong was too convenient and flimsy.

Ourtopcourt puts down the elderly

The worst thing is that Tisch would give us minority rule on taxes. Throughout history, tax increases, tax cuts and bond issues have been voted by a majority — 50 percent plus one.

Even the Tisch amendment itself could be passed Nov. 4 by 50 percent plus one.

But the Tisch amendment would require future tax measures to receive a 60 percent vote for passage. And any legislative attempt to touch an existing tax credit or rebate would require an 80 percent majority.

It's grimly ironic. Tisch would get what he wants with 50 percent plus one, but he would require the other guy to get 60 to 80 percent.

That's terrible constitutional law. It would be tyranny by the minority. It's blatantly unfair.

That provision alone is enough to prompt our editorial board to urge an emphatic "no" vote on Proposal D.

PROPOSAL D is being billed as a tax slash. But when you turn over the rock, creepy things crawl out

It would require that governmental fees, as well as taxes, be subject to voter referendums. If that sounds pretty, think again.

We'd have to vote on tuition increases at colleges. We'd have to vote on hunting licenses . . . fishing licenses . . . driver's licenses . . . building permits incorporation fees. . . marriage licenses . . . and even dog licenses.

Some communities are pondering cat licenses. We'd have to vote on that, too.

So besides being unfair, the Tisch amendment deserves ridicule for its pettiness.

PROPOSAL D is aimed at cutting property assessments by about 60 percent. It would require the state government to make up that lost revenue about $2 billion — to local units without raising taxes.

The voter could get confused listening to Gov. William G. Milliken say it would rip 55 percent of the state budget and Drain Commissioner Robert Tisch say it would cut only 14 percent.

Who's telling the truth? Here are the plain facts: The state takes in $14 billion, and $2 billion is 14 percent of that. But that's not the whole story.

Some $2.5 billion of that is "pass-through" money which the federal government grants for sewer construction, law enforcement assistance and welfare. It can't be touched.

Another $3 billion-plus is guaranteed to local government under the 1978 Headlee tax limitation amendment. Untouchable.

Nearly $1 billion must go to retire bonds and into retirement funds. Also untouchable.

The highway fund is supposed to be untouchable, but the pressure to raid it would be immense.

When the earmarked funds are all pared away, the state's general fund is only $3.7 billion. The Tisch amendment would cut that by $2 billion, nearly 55 percent.

Who's telling the truth? Milliken, not Tisch.

PROPOSAL D really would cripple state government - colleges, mental health facilities, the school for the blind, the school for the deaf, most of our state police, nearly all of our state parks, meat inspection, the national guard . . . and so on.

In the name of a tax cut, it would destroy state services and reduce our future ballots to the level of

Great careers, pitiful ends

It was with mixed emotions that The Stroller sat in his big easy chair looking at the pitiful picture of the once-proud Muhammad Ali, now beaten and battered, sitting in his corner unable to resume his quest of the heavyweight championship.

The Stroller's feelings were mixed. He was rather pleased that the most egotistical champion who ever held the title at last was silenced. And yet, as he looked at the broken idol of thousands sitting there conquered, he had to feel sorry that the end had come in such a brutal manner.

As a follower of the fight game for years, The Stroller has witnessed the rise and fall of many champions in what the sports world calls the squared circle. But none went out the way Ali did. He was forced to quit while sitting in a chair.

Gone was the pompous, boasting, shouting individual who never stopped trying to convince the world that he was the greatest. Now he was a beaten hulk, and the picture of his last hurrah will live long in the minds of those who saw it.

AS HE SAT THERE, The Stroller couldn't help recalling the sight of Joe Louis, curled up on the ring floor in Madison Square Garden, being counted out after taking a solid blow on the jaw from Rocky Marciano. That was a finish that was not at all necessary. It, too, was the result of a former champi-`on's egó.

What happened to these two great champions in

So you're 70 years old, feel great and wonder where the years have gone.

Don't get too uppity — at least if you're standing around talking with a U.S. Supreme Court justice. Those guys don't take kindly to old folks. Just ask Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer.

This country's chief magistrates recently refused to hear a plea by Beer to allow him to run for reelection. Beer was protesting a clause in the Michigan Constitution which prohibits anyone 70 years or older from running for election as a judge. Beer is 71.

THE ENTIRE MATTER is ludicrous, really. Five of the high court justices are 70 or older. But they're protected. The U.S. Constitution mandates that a U.S. Supreme Court justice can serve for eternity if he so chooses.

The logic escapes me.

What is perfectly evident is that once again America's elderly have been told they are something less than full citizens.

No matter how you paint it, the prejudices which this country has fostered, indeed treasured, still exist when it comes to the elderly.

If you doubt it, just listen to the words of Michigan's 55-year-old Attorney General Frank Kelley. who argued the state's case.

"THE PEOPLE OF the state of Michigan have a legitimate state interest in requiring the highest possible standards for members of the judiciary by minimizing, as far as possible, the threat of an obviously disabled judge continuing to preside.

In short, if you're 70 you're a candidate to become "disabled." The sorry aspect is that now the U.S. Supreme Court has given its stamp of approval to such age discrimination.

Forget all the lip service about the rights of the elderly. This youth-fixated society still associates aging with drooling, stroke-ridden senility

It's a cruel hoax which has caused us to waste a valuable resource in our society - experience.

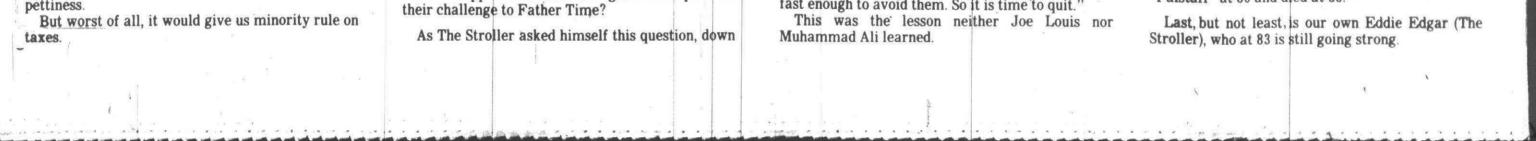

Beer, for instance, is being forced to shelve 21 years of judicial experience.

PLENTY OF examples prove this age prejudice incorrect. Colleague Tim Richard and I sat down for about three minutes the other day and came up with more than a dozen names of those who have served society after age 70 while resisting the urge to spit up on the tablecloth.

Take actor George Burns, for instance. A man in his 80s, he has entertained generations, from my great-grandmother to my 5-year-old daughter. What a shame if he would have been forced to retire at 70.

Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1953 for his sixvolume study on World War II. He was 74 when he began the project, 80 when it was completed.

There are plenty more to remember: pianist Artur Rubinstein, 91, still living; American jurist Oliver Wendell Holmes, 94; Michigan statesman Lewis Cass, 84; Prime Minister Clement Attlee, 84; and operatic composer Giuseppe Verdi, who wrote "Falstaff" at 80 and died at 88.

Michigan taxes: A fair system has evolved

By MSU News Service

Michigan voters will have three state tax proposals on the Nov. 4 general election ballot: the Smith-Bullard School Financing Tax Shift (Proposal A); the Executive-Legislative Tax Shift Plan (Proposal C) and the Tisch Tax Cut (Proposal D).

In this interview, Garland Wood, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service state and local government specialist, talks about the main policy points of the current and proposed tax system.

Q. What is wrong with the tax system as it now exists?

WOOD. The current system is an evolving one, which in my opinion, is a constructive way of making changes. The system we had in the 1960s was quite unwieldy and, in some areas, unjust. For instance, it had eight business taxes that overlapped and were oppressive to Michigan firms.

Then came the Single Business Tax (SBT) which consolidated these and made the system more equitable and fair. There have been many other changes in the current tax system as it is amended so as to tax people according to their ability to pay.

The income tax was enacted in 1967 to make our system more equitable; i.e. taxed according to ability to pay. Food and drugs were exempted from the sales and use tax.

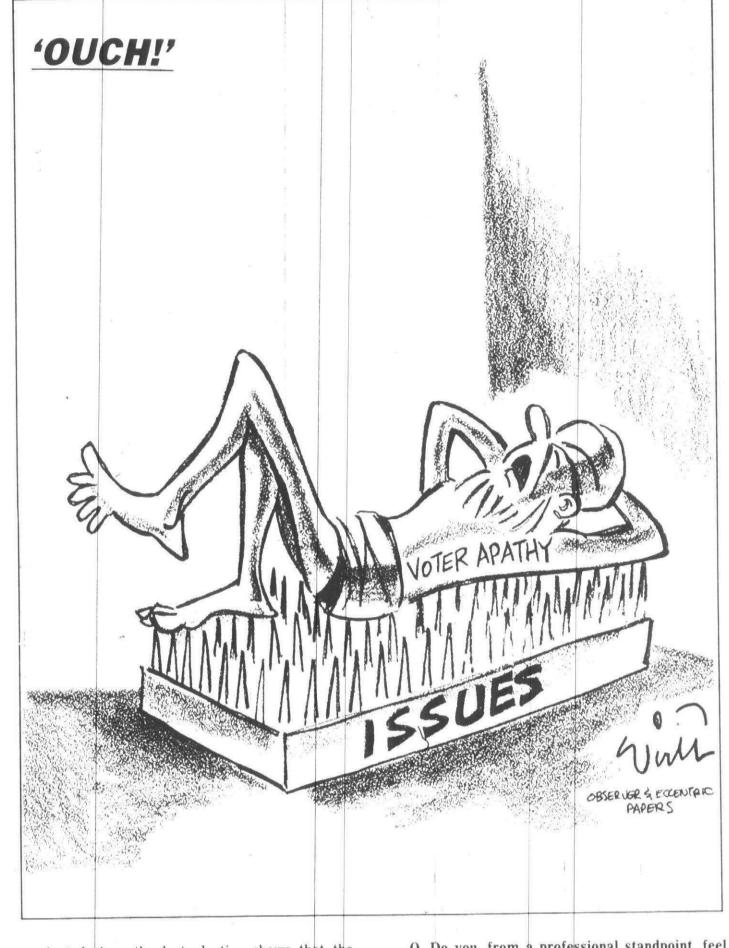

Changes were made in the property tax, which had tended to be quite burdensome to low-income persons. These types of burdens were all alleviated through a variety of "circuit breakers" that now exist in the current system. In addition to the circuit breakers" that now exist in the current system there are nearly 100 exemptions that apply to agriculture, business, senior citizens, renters, and the economically disadvantaged.

Q. The system must have stagnated — why else the ballot proposals?

WOOD: Quite the contrary, the present system is a dynamic one, constantly subject to improvement. For instance, this year the legislature drafted measures that would provide further breaks for those who find their taxation unreasonable, but they have been shelved since the present tax proposlas have come on the ballot. I think they'll be reviewed again when the election is over.

Q. How Does Michigan's taxation system compare with that of other states?

WOOD. A 1978 national study rated Michigan's system as being the second-best in the nation in terms of fairness and equitability. Another study conducted since the last election shows that the Michigan taxation system does not become regressive until an income level of $25,000 is reached. Q. Do you, from a professional standpoint, feel the present system should be retained?

WOOD. I think it should be seriously considered in the light of whether or not the ballot proposals will improve the current tax system.

Q. What is the main policy point of Porposal A?

WOOD. It would give equal financial support to every student in the state's K-12 system. It would do away with the local tax allocation board. It would reduce property taxes but likely would increase personal income taxes.

When you limit the amount the local school district can collect and place that obligation in the hands of the state, it means the state will have to find an additional $1.6 billion to funnel into the school aid system. Actually, the proposal doesn't specify where the legislature will get the additional funds.

If the proposal passes, it would be a shift in policy that would transfer more control from the local school district to the state because the entity that controls the pursestrings can and in large measure will determine how the money is spent for local programming.

Q. What about Proposal C?

WOOD. The Executive-Legislative coalition proposal is essentially a further modification of our present tax system. it contains additional tax breaks for property owners. But it would shift that break to other areas — sales taxes would rise from 4 to 5.5 percent, for instance. The middle-income citizen would pay in extra sales tax an amount roughly equivalent to the property tax benefit. Low-income persons would gain some net benefits.

Q. What is the primary policy change under Proposal D?

WOOD. This represents a major shift in tax policy. The Tisch Tax cut would minimize property tax as a major source of local government revenues. It would also limit the increase in assessed property valuations to a maximum of 2 percent per year. If economic and inflationary pressures continue, the property tax would be a minor loxal tax in the near future.

This shift in revenue sources would mean the state would have the responsibility of trying to make up the loss of revenue. It therefore transfers more power to the state over how the monies will be spent. Furthermore, the limitations set by the Headlee Amendment limit the amount the state can collect. There would be a drastic change in service provided by the state and local government, because the money would not be available.

Q. How would a voter express preference for retaining the present tax system over any changes?

WOOD. By voting "no" on the three state proposals, A, C and D.

Tax plan benefits seniors the most

By MSU News Service

16A(P,C)

Homeowners, partricularly low-income seniors who own property, would benefit the most from Proposal C, a tax cutting proposal on the Nov. 4 ballot, says a Michigan State University tax expert.

Renters would probably benefit the least, says Collette Moser, Cooperative Extension Service specialist and a member of a special team at MSU which has researched the upcoming tax proposals on the ballot.

Proposal C is supported by a coalition group, including the governor and members of the House and Senate, which voted to place the proposal on the November ballot in response to Shiawassee Drain Commissioner Robert Tisch's more severe tax cutting proposal.

THESE ARE the main points of Proposal C:

· It would cut the assessments on residences by $7,100. If the market value of a home is $40,000 and its assessment is $20,000, or half that amount, the new assessment for taxing purposes would be $20,000, minus $7,100 or $12,900.

. To make up for that loss in revenue, the sales tax would be raised from 4 percent to 5.5 percent, starting in 1981.

• In addition to the $7,100 reduction in property assessment, senior citizens over 65 and earning less than $10,000 would be exempt from $1,200 in property taxation. This exemption would be a credit on the individual's state income tax.

• The current property tax credit programs would continue to apply to everyone except those low-income senior receiving the $1,200 credit.

• Renters would be entitled to a $140 credit on their state income tax.

• The dollar amount as well as the $1,500 per person state income tax exemption, would in this proposal, be adjusted for inflation.

ACCORDING to Moser, the combination of the assessment reduction and the $1,200 property tax exemption would mean that many low-income senior citizens would receive a credit for their entire tax bill.

Other homeowners would also see large decreases in their total tax bills under this proposal, because it calls for using the original property tax bill before the $7,100 is subtracted - to figure the indivdual's homestead tax credit. The Tisch and Smith Bullard proposals use the reduced tax assessment to figure homestead tax credit.

Homestead credits are given on state income tax, she explains. An individual is refunded 60 percent of the amount that the property tax bill exceeds 3.5 percent of household income.

CONTRACTOR STORES

Renters whose incomes are $20,000 or above could end up paying more in sales tax increases than the $140 credit they would receive, Moser says.

ABOUT 25 percent of a person's income goes to pay for taxable goods, she says. A person with a $20,000 income spends about $5,000 on taxable goods. At 4 percent the tax is $200; 5.5 percent, $275. For those with a $15,000 income, the sales tax would jump from about $150 to $200.

The funds generated by the increase in sales tax would be placed in a special fund and used to reimburse local units of government. If there was not enough money, the funds would be distributed on a proportional basis based on the prior year.

There is one small hitch in the lowering of the property tax assessment by $7,100, Moser explains. It applies only to taxes for operating funds, not debt retirement funds used to pay off indebtedness on buildings like schools.

THE ARTS COUNCIL is hoping for a full house at 8 p.m. Saturday when Karl Haas makes a personal appearance in Plymouth Canton High School's Little Theater. The intimate Little Theater seats just 300 persons and will be an ideal setting for an "Adventure in Good Music" with Dr. Haas.

Tickets are available at the door. They can be purchased in advance at Me and Mr. Jones, Ann Arbor Trail at Main Street. Donation of $3 includes the reception which will be immediately after the program.

In the past, Haas has conducted his "Adventures in Good Music" live from New York's Carnegie Hall and the Museum of Art in New York. For his local appearance, he will follow the format used on his WJR radio afternoon show which is syndicated nationally over 80 stations and worldwide over 320 stations of the Armed Forces Radio and Television Services.

The musician, commentator and author has been honored by the the French and West German governments for his promotion of culture. He has received six honorary doctorates in music, fine arts and humanities from American universities and colleges. He served as chairman of the Michigan Council for the Arts under four governors.

His Oct. 18 appearance will mark the end of Plymouth Symphony Week in the community.

THE THEATRE Guild is in need of backers. For $50 the donor can achieve "Angel" status and receive four season tickets to Plymouth Theatre Guild productions.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra has had good seasons, and it has had mediocre seasons. This season's start Sunday was spectacular.

Johan van der Merwe's debut as permanent conductor caused some consternation in the orchestra ramks, we heard, when he revealed he would audition all players from scratch.

The fact that so many old faces are back in familiar spots attests to a) the selections made by Wayne Dunlap, conductor until 1979; b) van der Merwe's own taste, and c) the quality of the players.

IN THE OPENING work, Beethoven's familiar Leonore Overture No. 3, I watched the violins like a hawk. If there were to be any problems, that is where they would show up.

The violins' posture was excellent the best I've seen in Plymouth. You must have good posture to get good tone. There can be no slouching and twisting. Concertmaster Kathryn Stepulla and van der Merwe had rehearsed the strings well. The bowing was even in unison.

The solo performance was an unusual choice — a trumpet concerto of Johann Hummel, a pupil of Mozart and pal of Haydn, Beethoven and Goethe. It is a lightweight work, compared to the Beethoven and the Brahms' symphony. For some reason, composers quit writing concertoes for the trumpet during the romantic era.

Soloist Armando Ghitalla treated us to a virtuoso display of trills and dexterity. The classical trumpet is a different kind of trumpet compared to what you hear from Al Hirt or the Michigan Marching Band, a delightful change of pace.

Ghitalla, an old pro from the Boston Pops and the major leagues, had the orchestra take two bows with him, a gentlemanly touch. I would like to have seen oboeist Kristy Meretta accorded a bow of her own for the duet she played with Ghitalla in the slow movement a treasure.

TO CLOSE, van der Merwe chose the Brahms Symphony No. 2. Not many community orchestras tackle a Brahms symphony, and this selection was a measure of the respect the new conductor has for his orchestra.

I don't know this symphony well enough to comment on his interpretation. So I used the 40 minutes to continue an inventory of the orchestra. The Plymouth-Salem auditorium is far and away the best high school auditorium I have ever been in, and we need to remind ourselves of that every so often. What is especially nice is that one can pick out a group of instruments, or even a single instrument, and hear it with great clarity.

Sonority — that's the word for the viola and cello sections, particularly in the first movement. It was like buckwheat honey, as robust as it was sweet.

The seven-member cello section could use two or three more instruments, mostly for the sake of safety, though the quality is certainly all there I was disappointed Doug McNames, one of the best performers in a hundred miles, couldn't return to the cello sec-(Continued on Page 2B)

The guild is one of the oldest community theaters in the state. It has gained a reputation of being one of the finest with actors of professional stature.

The theater guild is about the same age as the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra but it has never seemed to receive the same support from the community. The orchestra is in its 35th season and the guild in its 34th. I called Effie Kuisel, charter member of the guild, for the date.

She told of a group which preceded the guild. She recalled their production of "Wuthering Heights," an outdoor performance on the lawn of a house at Church and Adams streets. Effie, in the role of Isobel, was screaming, "He's going to kill him."

Her realistic performance caused a Mrs. Partridge, who lived on the corner of Church and Adams, to call the Plymouth Police station to report a murder in progress. Miss Oceola Pooler, a drama teacher from Detroit was their first coach. Later, a drama student from Marygrove College helped them out.

Effie says it was Ralph Johnson, head of adult education for the local schools, who suggested the formation of the Theatre Guild.

They had many meetings — some people said that was all they did — before they finally became organized. They decided they needed a sponsor and the Plymouth Kiwanis Club agreed to serve in that capacity. The club was involved in building a cabin for the local Girl Scouts off Plymouth Road above the banks of the Rouge River.

The Kiwanians paid expenses, took care of advertising and ticket sales. I don't know whether or not the club received proceeds from the admissions to the plays for their efforts.

The first play was "John Love" Mary" and it was in the old high school auditorium, now Central Middle School. Effie, Mabel Dicks, Lillian Birchall and other members of the original group became charter members of the new guild. They did two plays a year and later three. The Kiwanis Club continued its support through the 1956-57 season. During those early years, Bill and Martha Merrill of Willoway Playhouse, directed the guild's plays.

First performance of the current season will be the musical comedy "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," Nov. 7, 8, 14 and 15. Most of the guild members are Canton and Plymouth residents and it would be encouraging to see the community back their thespians. Names of angel, patron and sustaining backers will be listed on play programs, unless a backer requests otherwise.

cert of the season attracted about 300 people to the Plymouth Historical Museum. Four serving tables had been arranged with hors d'oeuvres provided by Larry Janes. Each had a theme and each had special food with costumed servers. The Williamsburg table was arranged by Mary Weed and Barbara Brewer, Victorian by Judy Dahlberg and Sharon Davy, patrithe 1920s by Janet Brass and Janet Gerish. The champagne gala was arranged by the Plymouth Symphony League and chaired by Mary Kehoe. She was assisted by Judy Moore, Ann Shearer, Virginia Cox, Barbara King, Ruth McMahon, Clara Camp and Bobbie Abbott.

Patriotic table on the lower level of the museum was arranged by Linda Gasparott, (from left) and Eleanor Shevlin who admired their handiwork along with Deanna Gasparott, Lori Winters and navy Commander Joseph Shevlin.

A STRONG feature was those delicate passages in the middle movements featuring four players in the middle of the orchestra: oboeists Kristy Meretta and Michael Chiumento and flautists Glennis Stout and Allen Warner. What a gem to have that little ensemble introduce a theme.

Van der Merwe's programming is fairly conservative: overture, concerto, symphony for most concerts, "Messiah" at Christmastime. We won't be hearing some of the 20th century French works Dunlap used to slip in on us. I found those works a challenge to listen to, but many PSO fans didn't care for them. Well, that was the first of six concerts. Van der Merwe's adrenal was up, the orchestra's adrenal was up, the audience's adrenal was up Question: What will happen at the second concert? Can they keep it up?

"I think I am over the hump of being panicky I used to panic when kids invited Bryan over to play, over for dinner, or when his class went on a field trip. There was a time when I used to go on all the field trips."

The Millers have been through a lot and they've learned a lot. That is why they have been instrumental in forming PAACT (Parents of Asthmatic and Allergic Children Talking) which arracted 30 area parents to its first meeting in June.

A second meeting is planned for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28 in the media center of Field Elementary School on Haggerty Road south of Cherry Hill.

"Michael learned at 3 which medication he needed at a particular time. It will be a self-help group. Hopefully we'll have a hotline so persons can talk when they're feeling very low. Just being able to call someone and have them understand "and reassure them with a 'Hey, hang in there.'

She added, "We're doing this on a shoestring." She and her husband are financing the organization.

THEIR FIRST step was asking permission to display a poster in the office waiting room of their doctors, David Seaman and Martin Hurtwitz, in the Professional Building on Canton Center Road.

The poster had sign-up space for interested parents and it attracted 30 signatures. This was the beginning. The June meeting was well-attended and Dr. Hurtwitz organized a summer camp for asthmatic children. One mother who attended that first meeting had a daughter who could eat only 12 foods.

Sunday morning breakfast in a restaurant held promise of a happy family outing. By taking along the children's breakfasts with their own cereal and milk (they could order orange juice) it seemed a safe change of pace.

Once when Byran was in the hospital, a few bites of a normally permissable hamburger made him violently ill. A check with the kitchen dietian explained the attack. Eggs had been added to extend the meat.

THE MILLERS have had the experience, time after time, that people who are supposed to be knowledgeable make mistakes, foolish errors that have resulted in three days in an oxygen tent with intravenous feedings.

"You have to learn to fight for your kids," said Annette Miller.

When the Millers leave on a vacation trip, an observer could get the impression that they are moving out of town. Besides their clothing, they have to take along a supply of milk, cereals and other foods for the boys. It is not unusual for Michael to have to be hospitalized twice on a single vacation. "When you're awake all night and have no sleep for four days, your whole world falls apart."

She explained another pitfall to be avoided. "Don't make them into hothouse tomatoes." Constant concern can make this the easy answer. She said you have to try to make life as normal as possible.

The new organization is an opportunity for parents with asthmatic and/or allergic children to help each other. Persons wishing more information can call Mrs. Miller at 397-0343.

Roy Pranschke, who helped organize the church a quarter-century ago, and the Rev. Glenn Kopper, his new associate. (Staff photo by Bill Bresler)

Hosanna-Tabor 25 years old

Looking forward to the 1980s and back to historic beginnings, Hosanna-Tabor Lutheran Church of Redford Township will mark its 25th anniversary Sunday.

The church represents a merger of two congregations.

One began in Redford in 1948 when a young pastor, the Rev. Roy G. Pranschke, canvassed door to door to see if there was interest among Lutherans for formation of a mission church. There was, and under his leadership, Hosanna Church came into being.

Later, it joined the 40-year-old inner city Tabor Church.

The flourishing congregation is celebrating a quarter-century of ministry with the Rev. Pranschke still leading the flock.

Special worship services are planned at 9 and 11 a.m., with the Rev. Bernard Kube, former pastor, as speaker and Harlan Heideman, former teacher, as guest organist.

Choir renditions and instrumentalists the leadership of music director Leon Beckendorf.

The altar guild will decorate the church with red roses, white mums and palms, said Madelynn Ott, head of the anniversary committee.

A banner will be hung as a flag of joy. Designed by Tracey Nikolas, the banner was inspired by the leaded stained glass windows of the Hosanna-Tabor sanctuary. It depicts rays for the jubilation felt by the ccongregation, a Kyro for the church and small figures representing the membership.

A HISTORICAL synopsis booklet, dompiled by Ralph Berlin, will be distributed. After the services, there will be a 1:30 p.m. congregational banquet of celebration at Lutheran High West. The event of fellowship and entertainment is being planned by Doris Rosenau.

William Miller, president of the congregation, has invited former church members and students to join the present congregation in the celebration. In-will be featured at both services under vitations had been sent to many formerly associated with the church, said Marge Emminger, head of publicity.

To mark the anniversary, the congregation is buying commemorative chimes that can be used automatically or played manually on the organ keyboard. The new system may be amplified on an audio loudspeaker to call to worship or chim on the quarter hour.

A special education celebration service was held Sept. 21 to honor the Hosanna-Tabor Christian School.

The Rev. John Herzob was guest speaker, and Robert Schultz, school principal, was in charge of the program. A highlight was installation of new teacher Gregg Pinick.

THE REV. PRANSCHKE began Hosanna Church's history the same summer he was ordained. His survey located 17 people interested in forming a mission church. They began meeting in the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Twork.

In March 1949, the group moved into post.

its first church home, on Plymouth Road and Sioux. The dedication of that building was held in May of that year with 37 charter members present.

Tabor Lutheran Church organized in 1916 at Beechwood and Milfred, Detroit with the Rev. G.E. Nelson as pastor. In 1917, the Rev. H.A. Quitmeyer was installed, and he was succeeded in 1934 by the Rev. George P. Hildner. Under Hildner's leadership, a church building at Tireman and Burnette was completed.

The two congregations merged July 17, 1955, and began worship with Pastors Pranschke and Hildner.

About a year later, new facilities for church and school were dedicated at the present location, 9600 Leverne. The three-acre plot had been bought earlier by the Hosanna congregation.

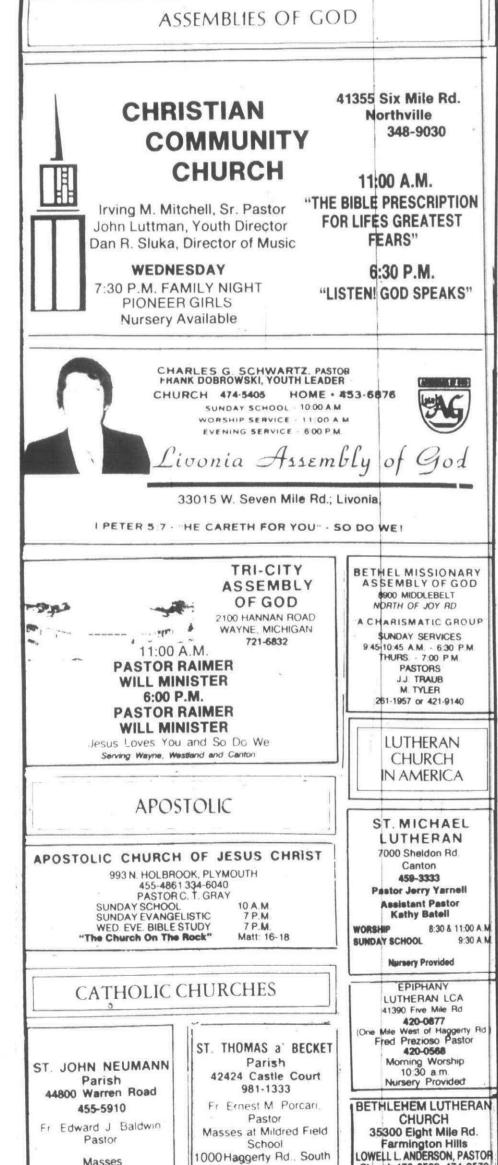

The two pastors served together until Hildner's retirement in 1961. He was succeeded by the Rev. E.M. Hadwiger and then by Kube. Recently, the Rev Glenn Kopper assumed the associate Pepper Adams is from Detroit, a city that has provided many of the bop stalwarts of jazz. People like Kenny Burrell, Donald Byrd, Milt Jackson, Elvin Jones and Thad Jones were Detroit contemporaries of baritone saxophonist Pepper Adams.

Adams, who has returned for an engagement through Sunday at Baker's Keyboard Lounge in Detroit, is now a busy freelance musician in New York.

"I was born in Detroit, but I traveled a lot during the late '30s and '40s," he said from his home. "My family was extremely poor and we went pretty much where we could get something to eat. I consequently spent time in some strange places.

"After my father's death, my mother moved back to Detroit where she had friends. I was about 16 then and I enrolled in Wayne College. I only had about two years of high school, but I took the entrance exam and was accepted.'

In the late 1940s and into the 1950s. Pepper Adams began to meet some of the movers in the burgeoning Detroit jazz scene.

"Yusef Lateef and I worked together with Little John and his Merry Men. (Continued on Page 10B)

• DOUBLING IN MATCH PLAY

Winning a backgammon match depends largely on the use of the doubling cube.

Choosing a precise time to double the cube should force your opponent out of the game and give you a one-point win. Knowing when to "pass" a double, or back out, can save you a lot of points and sometimes the match This position arrived during the finals in the last chance tournament. The score is 5-5 in a seven-point match.

White doubles the cube to 2. Should black accept or pass the double? Should white have doubled?

If one was counting pips (the number of spaces all remaining checkers must move in order to catch up with your opponent), it would be a good take. Black is behind only 11 pips, but white is on roll and could be further ahead in the race, depending on the roll

Although many professional players contend this position is a "fair take," one must consider the score in match play.

If I were black, I don't think I would play for the match in this position because the score is tied. Either player needs two points to win the tournament. Black is forced to roll a large double to save the game. In tournament match play, to hope for or rely on a double 6 or double 5 to steal the lead is a long shot

AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDI

The pressure is not on white but on black to perform. Was white correct to double? Absolutely, Black should have refused the double, take the onepoint loss and play another game.

IN THE TOURNAMENT

White doubled. Black accepted. White then rolled a 6-1. Black rolled double 6.

White was worried, but soon rolled a double 6 in the bear-off to win the game and match.

If the score had been different and black was behind 5-3 or 5-4 after rolling the 6-6, he could have redoubled the cube to 4 and it probably would not have been taken.

But that didn't happen and I won. That's backgammon.

If you have a backgammon situation you'd like to see explained in a future column, write to the American Backgammon Club at Box 599, Plymouth 48170, or call 459-5776.

In addition to Thad Jones, Adams had played 'around Detroit with drummer Elvin Jones, guitarist Kenny Burrell ("We had been friends since we were kids. We once worked together in Lucky Thompson's band. I was 16, Kenny was 17 and our piano player, Tommy Flanagan, was 17 too.") and several other jazz musicians who have since made names for themselves in the jazz field. He and Thad Jones were to meet up again in the most important and influential band of the '60s and '70s, the Thad Jones-Mel Lewis Orchestra.

There were a few trips back to Detroit as a member of the Jones-Lewis Orchestra until Adams left the band in 1977, a few months before the orchestra itself was disbanded when Jones left to take up residence in Denmark. In the last three years, Adams has been busy, but each year has spent a week at Baker's back in Detroit.

Closing an engagement at the New York club Fat Tuesdays on Sunday night, Adams arrived in Detroit Monday to open at Baker's.

Salem's outside shooting kept Franklin honest. Junior forward Jan MacKenzie did the most damage. She finished with seven field goals and 15 points.

"Jan stroked those two baseline shots at the beginning of the fourth quarter, said Blohm, "and that helped her confidence.

The Chiefs, now 9-4 overall, won all seven matches against the Corsairs in straight sets. Northville leads the league with a 9-0 record.

Ann O'Connell and Barb Rupprecht, a pair of Canton seniors, continued their domination at No. 3 doubles with an easy 6-1, 6-0 triumph. It was the 12th win in a row for the defending league champs and the ninth straight this fall for Rupprecht.

At No. 1 doubles, Julie Swain and Sheryl Smith teamed up to post a 6-1, 6-3 victory while teammates Heather Hawkins and Kris Harrison came through, 6-1, 6-1, at No. 2 doubles.

Plymouth Canton raised its Western Canton's Lisa Schlotz beat Julie Tezet in a lopsided match at the No. 4 spot, 6-0, 6-0.

CANTON-YPSILANTI

The Chiefs did not score a point in singles, losing to Ypsilanti last week in a non-league dual match, 5-2.

Canton's two wins came at the No. 2 and 3 doubles matches.

Rupprecht and O'Connell posted a 6-2 6-2 victory while Hawkins and Schlotz were also victorious, 6-2, 6-3.

44-34

Salem is now 9-1 overall while Franklin, a team dominated by talented juniors, dropped to 6-4.

The Rocks won the game up front, dominating the tempo in the second half and causing a rash of Patriot turnovers down the stretch.

"I'm really happy with a 10-point win here," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "Livonia Franklin is as good as any team we've faced this season.

"We came back and played better in the second half. Give our kids credit. We proved we can come back after a tough loss to Bentley."

defeat with a dismal first-half showing against the Pats.

The Rocks had trouble with Franklin's zone defense and went into intermission, trailing, 21-16.

Salem's pressure man-to-man defense, however, began to wear down Franklin in the second half. Guards Carol Ross, Eileen Moore and Jacque Merrifield took charge as the Rocks closed the gap to 28-26 heading into the final quarter.

Ross, who finished with 12 points, hit three straight curbside jumpers in the third quarter. She was also a terror defensively.

Two layups in the fourth quarter by Ross gave Salem the lead for good. Salem forced Franklin into a catch-up situation with four mintues to go. The Rocks then spread out the Pats' defense and began stretch their lead.

BLOHM'S TROOPS outscored Franklin 18-7 in the decisive fourth period.

"To me," said Franklin coach Chuck Hebestreit, "we looked like we got tired.

"In the beginning our passes were sharp. We threw the ball away too

Mary Kay McNall, Franklin's 6-foot-3 center, had 13 points but didn't see the ball much in the second half because her teammates had trouble getting past mid-court. Guard Julie Wilga notched 10 and 6-0 forward Anna Collins added eight. Daun Bradley, a 5-11 junior forward, was the only other Patriot to score.

A long jumper by Wilga at the outset of the third quarter gave Franklin its biggest lead of the night, 23-16. It was all downhill after that.

Eileen McGlinn, Canton's No. 1 singles player, defeated Melissa Bachman, 6-1, 6-0. Teammate Lori Smith downed Colleen Boyle of Mott at No. 2 singles, 6-2, 6-2.

At No. 3 singles, Marianne Pink increased her league record to 7-2 with a 6-0, 6-2 win over Kathy Pitts.

Won state title in 1973 Salem seeks Class A golf crown

By BRAD EMONS

Plymouth Salem added another trophy to its case Monday, winning the Suburban Eight League boys' golf crown at Salem Hills.

The Rocks have now won the title three of the last four years.

"I think they did a great, great job considering how cold and wet is was." said Salem coach Bob Waters.

"When you have three finish in the top 10 and one being medalist," he said, "you've got to be pleased."

John Pauloweit led all scorers with 7-over-par 79.

Salem, which went into the meet tied with Trenton, edged Dearborn and a surprising Livonia Bentley team by three strokes.

"Bentley did a real good job," Waters said. "They were the surprise of the day."

Salem's four-player total was 335. Bentley and Dearborn registered 338. Trenton, which posted a 4-1 league dual mark along with Salem, settled for fourth with a 342. Dearborn Edsel Ford and Allen Park took fifth and sixth with 359 and 386, respectively.

Placing behind Salem's Pauloweit were Kevin Hornauer, Trenton, second, 80; Bill Monteith, Dearborn, third, 80; Dan Andrusaik, Edsel Ford, fourth, 84; Kirk Osler, Bentley, fifth, 84. All five golfers were named first-team All-Suburban Eight.

Rounding out the top 10 were John Thomas, Dearborn, sixth, 84; Ken Mac, Bentley, seventh, 84; Pete Mitroff, Salem, eighth, 84; Jeff Trim, Salem, ninth, 85; Curt Boyea, Bentley, 10th, 85.

Paulowet, Trim, John Vives and John Uekert will team up for the Class A state finals beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday at Merryfield Country Club near Battle Creek. The four Salem golfers qualified to compete in the state meet after finishing third in last week's regional.

year. "It's a one-day deal and anyone can win it.

"If we can all play the way these kids are capable of and get a few breaks, I expect we could finish in the top five. "These guys have worked hard over the summer and proved they can win the thing as far as I'm concerned."

Salem will head for Battle Creek Thursday and "walk" the course sometime Friday. The team will then tune up at Binder Park.

"This has been a great team to coach," reflected Waters, who guided Salem to the state title in 1973. "One of our plus things is that they all participated and came through at certain times of the season.

"We haven't had one attitude problem."

Before the season, Trim was one of two players returning with varsity experience. The other player, Butch Recto, moved to Oregon.

"Guaranteed," said Waters, "this team has gone beyond my expectations, expecially with the loss of Recto

With seniors Trim, Pauloweit, Vives and Uekert leading the way, Salem posted a 12-1 dual record and finished second in the Plymouth Best Ball tournament

Mitroff, Nunzio Marino, Rob Rowland, Bill Ickes, Rob Zigler and Mike Moore have also made valuable contributions to the Rocks' success.

TRIM HAS been Salem's most consistent player this fall. His nine-hole average is 37.5.

"Jeff has done a great job for us," said Waters. "He's bridged the gap between the coach and his players. He's just a wonderful playing example."

Waters expects Ypsilanti, Temperance-Bedford and Detroit Catholic Central to seriously challenge for the title.

"Ypsilanti is one of the hottest teams right now," warned Waters, "and Temperance-Bedford has an up-and-

The 32-year-old golfer, who began playing the game this year, carded an ace on the 125-yard 16th hole at Whispering Willows with a 9-iron.

The Canton resident, incidentally, recorded a score of 104 for 18 holes.

Ypsilanti zips past Cruiser swimmers

The Plymouth-Canton Swim Club dropped its meet opener last week to Ypsilanti, 275-233.

The Cruisers, however, won eight relay races and placed first in four individual events.

Chris Elliot captured the boys' 9 and under 25-yard freestyle specialty event (17.0) and teamed up with Matt Wisniewski, Scott Cox and Patrick Vesnaugh to gain first in the 100-yard medley relay with a time of 1:41.4.

Tracy Meszaros, competing in the girls' 9-10 age division, won the 50-yard freestyle (34.9) and was a member of the winning 200-yard medley relay squad along with Katie Vesnaugh, Erin

In the 200-yard medley relay for boys 13-14, the quintet of Mike Harwood, Eric Kleinsmith, Jim Dillon and Bob Bowling placed first with a clocking of 2:03.0.

Bowling, Kleinsmith, Harwood and Dan Martin finished first in the 200yard freestyle relay.

Theresa Shaffer, Kim Elliott, Laura Wochna and Kara Stella combined to win the 200-yard medley relay (2:18.6) and 200-yard freestyle relay (2:03.8).

Plymouth-Canton's Cindy Elliott, Debbie Kelley, Lori Shaffer and Kathy Kennedy won the 200-freestyle relay for girls 11-12 with a time of 2:06.5.

Kennedy hit the wall first in the 50ard freestyle for girls 11-12 with a clocking of 30.6. Elliott was third (31.6). Bowling and Harwood finished 1-2 in the 50-yard freestyle for boys 13-14.

Rocks could become spoiler

Plymouth Salem's football team can become a spoiler in the next three weeks.

The Rocks, who played their best game of the season last week against Belleville, according to coach Tom Moshimer, face a severe test in an away game at 7:30 p.m. Friday against Lincoln Park, a member of Great Lakes Eight Conference.

Moshimer's team beat Belleville in a Suburban Eight League game last week, 21-14, and is now 4-2 overall. Lincoln Park is 5-1, having lost to Wayne Memorial last Friday, 13-6.

"I think our two leagues are comparable," said Moshimer, "although I think there is more strength at the bottom of ours.

"This should be a real test for us. We should know exactly where we stand." Salem will host playoff contender

Trenton, Oct. 24, and then wrap up the season against unbeaten Farmington Harrison, the state's No. 3 ranked Class B team, Saturday Nov, 1 on the road,

The Rocks must try to contain a pair of "hard backs" from Lincoln Park, according to Moshimer.

"They have good size and are quick," said the Salem coach. "They don't do anything fancy offensively although they do a lot of different things off their multiple formations.

"They're a very aggressive football team and I think overall they are probably stronger than we are." Wayne Craig, a 210-pound fullback, and Scott Lowry, a tailback, are the men the Rocks must try to stop.

"Lincoln Park really doesn't like to throw," said the Salem coach. "They are a power team and play good, sound football."

SALEM'S DEFENSE has been given a lift by the return of senior Rob Hanschu, a 6-foot-3, 230-pound tackle-nose guard. He sat out the first five games with an ankle injury. The return of Brian Lewandowski in the defensive backfield also helped in Salem's win over Belleville.

"We had a lot of bumps and bruises last week," said Moshimer, "and we got beat up pretty good."

Salem, however, appears to be at full strength for the first time all year. The Rocks, who may possibly start junior Jeff Hubert at quarterback, must stay away from mistakes to win the last three games.

The Salem-Lincoln Park duel is the first meeting between the two teams.

Canton, meanwhile, will try to regain its offense at home Friday against winless Waterford Mott (0-6). The Chiefs have been shut out the last two weeks and will be gunning to stay out of the Western Six League cellar.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Centennial Educational Park.

Secondary key to U-M hopes

By W.W. EDGAR

How far can a football team go in the Big 10 race without a good pass defense?

This question is being asked all along the conference front, and it is centered on the University of Michigan's chances of being a contender in the race for the title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The big reason for the question is the Wolverines' showing in the past two games. A look at the statistics reveals that South Carolina gained 288 yards through the air in beating Michigan. And only last Saturday, Michigan State piled up 231 yards and gave Michigan a good scare before eking out a 27 to 24 win.

The weak pass defense is puzzling ardent University of Michigan followers. It is puzzling because it was known well in advance that both of these teams boasted good passers.

"Why couldn't Bo Schembechler (the Michigan coach) set up the kind of defense needed to stop the attack from the air?" was the question being asked even by the veterans in the press box.

The poor defense against the pass is the Achille's Heel of the Michigan team and may prove its undoing over the rest of the way.

Saturday's game against State was a good example. The Spartans had just come off a hard game against Notre Dame, and it was thought that they would be emotionally spent.

The old timers who are keen students of the game figured that no coach could keep his team at a high pitch two weeks in a row.

But that's just what the Spartans did. They kept up their high pitch. and crafty old Muddy Waters, the venerable coach of of Michigan State, turned his young quarterback. John Leister, loose and almost pulled out the victory.

2C(P,C)

Olson and Julie Shimmel Tracy Stewart, Nicole Hiflinger, Kellie Adamczak and Kelly Rische won the girls' 8 and under 100-yard medley relay (1:46.0).

Adamczak and Nancy Brewer posted times of 19.9 and 22.4, respectivly, grabbing second and third in the 25yard freestyle.

While Detroit's best bowlers have been rolling 700 series in record numbers this season, they will have to bow to the Sillia's team of Cleveland for the top score in the nation.

In the regular league appearance last week, the Ohio team rolled a 3799. This is the second highest team total in the history of bowling, and has been bettered only by the Budweiser team of St. Louis that bowled 3858 several years ago.

One of the features of the Ohioan's big count was the fact that John Germone, the low man on the team, rolled a 729.

Imagine that! Rolling a 729 and being the low man.

THE SHARPSHOOTERS were in top form in the Westland Bowl mixed classic last Friday. When they ceased firing at the pins, they had registered six series that exceeded the 700 barrier.

Topping the list were Dick Beattie and Gary Zarich, both posting 769. It was the first time this season that a 769 had to share the lead.

Beattie got his count by linking games of 223, 257 and 289, while Zarich opened with 257, added a 266 and closed with 246.)

Behind this pair came Chuck Powell with 725, which included a 279 game; Ken Lang with 705; and Tom Gredell and Bob Goike Jr., who tied at 702.

In the ladies invitational doubles, Jane Martin finished in front with a 659, on games of 203, 223 and 233.

range at Farmington Lanes and paced the Monday men's league with a 671 series that included a 265 game. His closest competitors were Tom Murphy (650), Bud Demarious (646), and Bud Londo (642).

MARION HEATH made the most of a 132 spot to win the weekly competition in the Livonia Ladies classic. She rolled a 480 series and the spot gave her a 612.

In the individual games, Doris Ma corkindale took the first with 170-38-208. Peg Eizemzei took the second with 175-41-216 and Dollie O'Brien captured the third with 166-55-221.

OTHER GOOD performances included Tom Domoliske's 267 game in the St. John Boscoe league at Garden Lanes. This was 100 pins over his average. Stanley Filitawski paced the St. Linus league with 614 and Lloyd Runaud showed the way to the Livonia Men with a 662, while Virginia Singer showed the way in the ladies classic with 634. At Merri-bowl, Carol Topic had a 244 in 654 in the bowlerettes loop

In the men's trio at Woodland Lanes, Reggie Temple was top man with 258 in 652 and Sandy Carpenter was high in the hits and misses league with a 205 in 502

League boys' golf title Monday at Godwin Glen with a five-player stroke total of 411

Mott's first-place finish in the league meet gave the Corsair undisputed rights on the Western Six trophy.

Placing behind Mott in the league meet were: Northville, second, 420; Farmington Harrison, third, 455; Livonia Churchill, fourth, 456; Plymouth Canton, fifth, 463; Walled Lake Western, sixth, no score available.

Based on the league meet and dualmeet season. Mott finished in first with RAY VANDERWILL found the the Plaza Lanes bowlers when he posted a 663 series and beat Don Andrews by 23 pins in the pile drivers league, while Ron Eidsan rolled 630 to take top honors in the Super Bowl classic.

Ladywood strengthens position

John Glenn vaults into hot spot

What's going on?

It's becoming more difficult for the experts to find a No. 1 ranked girls basketball team in Class A after all the upsets last week.

Livonia Bentley appeared to have a stranglehold on the No. 1 spot after beating No. 2 ranked Plymouth $alem in a thriller, 41-40. The Bulldogs, however, ranked No. 1 since the opening week, fell to Redford Union Tuesday night by seven points. In the first encounter between the two teams, Bentley won by 19.

The general consensus is that Westland John Glenn deserves the spot at the top. The Rockets' have scored impressive wins of late over Livonia Franklin and Redford Union. Glenn's only loss this season is to Plymouth Canton, now a winner of eight straight. The Rockets, who flattened Churchill

basketball rankings

Tuesday night, rely on the inside play of 6-foot center Geri Pizzuti and 5-9 forward Kim Cesarz. Both are threeyear regulars. Coach George Sommerman also has a strong supporting cast. Glenn currently leads the highly competitive Northwest Suburban League.

The Observer sports panel decided to leave Plymouth Sahem in the No. 2 spot because of their strong effort against Bentley last week. The Rocks had the game won until the final 12 seconds.

Canton, a junior-laden team coached by Mike McCauley, has not been tested since a win over Livonia Stevenson some three weeks ago. The Chiefs, however, are running up some impressive margins of victory and have now won 37 straight in the Western Six League.

The Class A districts will certainly indicate the comparative strengths of each team. Salem, Glenn and Canton will compete in the same district.

Redford Thurston, moves into the No. 7 spot with an 8-3 mark, replacing Livonia Franklin, which fell to 6-4 after losing to Salem.

In Class B-C-D, Livonia Ladywood scored a revenge win over Royal Oak Shrine Tuesday and is currently ranked No. 2 in the state 'B' rankings. Redford St. Agatha lost its chance to replace Ladywood after a close loss to Detroit Holy Redeemer, who incidentally is ranked No. 1 by the Michigan Coaches' Poll in Class C.

The Observer poll of experts expects more changes next week. These teams can't seem to avoid each other.

Redford Union gains revenge against Bentley girls

Redford Union, with a big surge during the third quarter, defeated Livonia Bentley 55-49 Tuesday in a non-league girls' basketball confrontation.

RU's victory avenged a 19-point loss to the Bulldogs earlier in the season.

"We had a very good third quarter," said Ken Dersey, coach of the Panthers. "Our girls scored well from the field. I would say we shot real well. We moved the ball well, looked for the open person and moved around well."

Bentley led led 29-25 at the half, but RU held the upper hand 44-36 going into the final quarter.

Julie Tacolla led RU with 18 points. She made eight-of-nine foul shots, sixof-seven during the fourth period.

Cathi Hengy and Pam Drury each scored nine points for RU, while Lori Pastula added eight points and grabbed 17 rebounds.

"The girls played with a lot of enthusiasm and showed a lot of confidence." Dersey said.

Tina Ostach scored 15 points for Bentley. Kim Archer and Carla Campbell each added 10.

Bentley coach Tom lang said he did not feel his team experienced a letdown after a thrilling one-point victory over Plymouth Salem in its last outing.

"We just didn't play well. We let them go to the free-throw line too many times," he said. "We had 21 field goals. Usually that's enough to win."

basketball

Bentley won the JV game 38-35.

LIVONIA STEVENSON played sluggishly during the first half, but held Walled Lake Western scoreless during the third guarter en route to a 42-25 non-league win.

"We had a pretty poor first half, offensively," said Jim George, coach of the Spartans. "It just wouldn't go in.

"We came in off two intense wins (Inkster and Pontiac Northern). I was the second time this season that Glenn expecting a letdown and didn't know how to stop it," George added.

Karen Kelley and Wendy Jenkins scored 14 and 10 points, respectively, for Stevenson.

The Spartans won the JV game 52-31

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN had no trouble disposing of Livonia Churchill 69-26 in a non-conference game. It was has defeated the Chargers.

"I think Churchill played well in the first half. We just overwhelmed them in the second half," said George Sommerman, coach of the Rockets. "We were kind of slow in the first half and could have done better."

Glenn held quarter leads of 14-6, 30-12, 51-20 and 69-26.

Kim Cesarz and Geri Pizzuti each scored 14 points for the Rockets. Teri Chapo and Lynda Carlson each netted

Julie Steadman led Churchill with 14

Glenn won the JV preliminary 35-14.

REDFORD THURSTON out-pointed Farmington every quarter on the way to a 52-30 non-league win.

Wendy VanDeSande tossed in 20 points, Laurie Mack 15 and Sandy Nissen nine for the victorious Eagles.

Farmington's Stacy Green, 6-3, scored 11 points and blocked eight shots. Lisa Borchanian, who has been scoring in double figures this season for the Falcons, did not play due to a knee injury.

Thurston forged a 13-6 lead during the first quarter and extended its advantage to 30-13 at the half.

The Eagles won the JV game 57-25

Eagle gridders still in quest of 1st victory

Livonia Franklin took advantage of good field position to score the bulk of its points last weekend during its 28-0 Northwest Suburban League football conquest of Redford Thurston.

Coach Armand Vigna and his Patriots can't revel in the victory too long, though. North Farmington, with a 6-0 season record, looms as the opponent this weekend.

"I hope it turns into one of those games we've had in the past," Vigna said. "We've had some close games. I hope we can stay with 'em."

The victory was the second in a row for the Patriots after they had lost their first four games of the season. The Eagles are still winless in six outings

Franklin capitalized on a short Thurston punt to score its initial touchdown midway through the first quarter.

Ron Gunter scampered 9 yards up the middle on a dive play. The Patriots advanced 43 yards in six plays for the TD and were aided in the drive by a 15-yard face-mask penalty.

Bill Check followed the touchdown by kicking the first of his four extra points.

Mike Minielly intercepted a pass of Tim Soucey during Thurston's next possession to give Franklin the ball at the Eagles' 48-yard line.

Chris Panzl threw a 14-yard touchdown pass to Check at 9:23 of the first guarter.

Mike Antal pick d off a pass to set up Franklin's third touchdown. The Patriots started that drive at Thurston's 38 and needed 10 plays to cover the yardage.

Panzl completed a 5-yard scoring pass to Gunter early in the second quarter for Franklin's third TD. The Patriots used a turnover - a fumble-recov-- as a springboard to their final touchdown. It took Franklin only seven plays to move the ball from its 27-yard line into the Eagles' end zone.

John Waling scored on a 14-yard dive play. Waling gained 38 yards earlier in the drive with the very same play.

Thurston threatened Franklin's goal twice during the game

The Eagles advanced to the Patriots' 3-yard line only to lose the ball on downs at the nine late in the second quarter

Thurston had first and goal at the four, but was foiled by three incomplete passes and a sack of the guarterback

Charles Dziadzio caught a 13-yard pass during that march

The Eagles also used a passing attack to get the ball to Franklin's 15-yard line during the fourth quarter, but Check ended the threat by intercepting a pass

During that drive, Thurston completed passes which gained 22, 21, 18 and 13 yards.

Franklin collected 245 yards total offense, all but 30 on the ground. Waling carried 10 times for 92 yards, Gunter 17 times for 70 yards.

Thurston accumulated 95 yards through the air and 52 on the ground.

Borgess suffers lopsided defeat

Rice finally got its ground game rolling Saturday against Bishop Borgess.

The Warriors have, of late, taken to the air on the arm of junior guarterback Dave Yarema.

But Rice rolled up 308 yards rushing Saturday and 84 yards passing for 402 total yards and a 49-8 win over Borgess.

There was no single dominant rusher for Rice despite the large yardage figure. Brad Cochran led the Warriors with 80 yards.

And he got all of those yards on a single touchdown jaunt to start the second half.

Rice moved out to a 21-0 lead in the first half. Yarema teamed up with Paul Jokisch on the opening drive with a 35-yard touchdown pass at 9:39 of the first quarter. Jim Ostrowksi added the extra point.

Yarema kept if for himself on Rice's second touchdown, scoring from two yards out to cap a 12play, 72-yard drive. Ostrowski kicked the extra point.

Ostrowksi ended with seven points as he kicked extra points after each Rice touchdown.

YAREMA CLOSED out the first half scoring, hitting Greg Kaiser with a 14-yard touchdown pass with 24 seconds left in the second quarter. Greg Dingens set up the touchdown by recovering a Bor-"gess fumble on the 14.

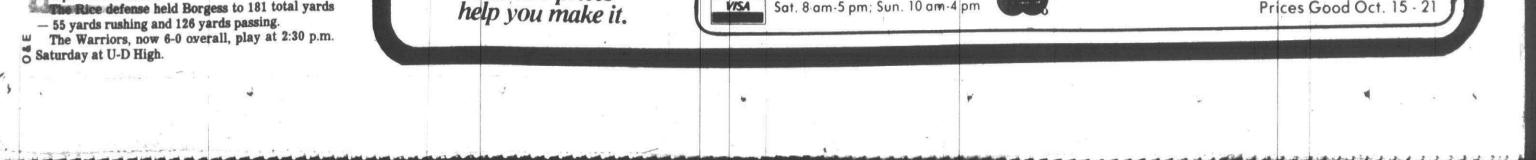

Cochran raced down the sideline for his touchdown at 9:11 of the third quarter. Matt Chiodo also scored in the third quarter, going six yards after Jim Cherocci set up Rice on the Borgess 10 with a blocked punt.

Mike Boroski scored at 9:05 of the fourth quarter, and Jim Caverly scored at 4:12.

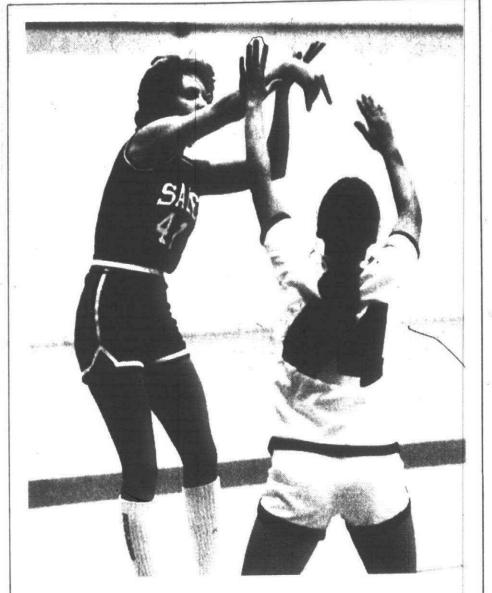

Borgess did not get on the scoreboard until Rice had finished piling up points. Jim Ward scored late in the game on a nine-yard pass from Brendan McCarthy.

McCarthy hit Jim McDonald with a pass for the two-point conversion.

Rice defense held Borgess to 181 total yards

'Characters' mold Tartar squad

(First of two parts) By E. DALE LEE

The cast of characters is priceless a cola fiend, a silent leader, an incurable cut-up and an irrepressible laugher.

These four characters comprise the foundation of Wayne State University's rapidly improving women's volleyball program. All have local ties, as does Tom Teeters, the second-year coach.

The indomitable cast consists of Tracy Drever, Lisa Redford, Kathy Higgins and Denise Breslin.

All but Higgins were part of last year's Great Lakes Conference cochampionship team, which improved from a 2-19 record in 1978 to 36-18 during Teeters' first campaign as coach.

"Kathy's the practical joker of the team. You might say she's very high strung," Teeters quips.

Higgins, who has been bantering with one of the team trainers, has a quick response to that. "I like Teeters because he has nice legs. Why else would I be here?'

Higgins, 23, is a professed Teeters follower

Although she started her college career on the JV team at Central Michigan and later played at Eastern Michigan, Higgins has spent three seasons under Teeters' tutelage - her junior and senior years at Clarenceville High School and one year at Schoolcraft Col-

Higgins has also coached in recent years at Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

WHILE SUGAR Ray Leonard and other famous athletes may be "turning 7-Up," Dreyer prefers the darker drink. "Tracy is always running around drinking Coca Cola or Pepsi," Teeters said. "She really loves the stuff."

"Yeah," Breslin added. "Whenever we go somewhere to eat, she always has to have a Pepsi and hamburger. She loves hamburgers. In fact, Tracy even orders a hamburger when she goes to a really nice restaurant."

Dreyer, a sophomore who graduated from Livonia Bentley, has found a niche as an outside setter. Teeters has

WHY PAY MORE

"I'd like to convert her to spiker because she has outstanding leaping ability. She's our best all-around player," he said.

Teeters also said that the 5-5 Dreyer is the most spirited player on the team. "She screams like crazy when she spikes the ball," Teeters said. "She's a very hyperactive girl. We're trying to calm her down."

BRESLIN, also a sophomore and a Bentley grad, is one person who could keep anybody's spirits up.

"Sometimes we have to stop practice for a few minutes because Denise is laughing so hard at something." Teeters said of the center-blocker. "She's usually the first and the last to laugh at something funny.

Breslin, a co-captain of the team, exploded with an ear-to-ear smile. She seemed surprised at Teeters' words, which received approval from the other players.

"I'm sorry if I do that," Breslin said with a giggle.

Breslin, chosen last season as WSU's Most Valuable Athlete by the school's newspaper, is no dummy. She takes chemistry and calculus while majoring in liberal arts.

While she's getting smarter by the day in the classroom, Teeters sees a big improvement in her play on the court. "Last season, she was a little intimidated by her opponents," Teeters said. "This year, I'm hoping she'll become much more aggressive and develop into a leader."

Teeters believes there is no limit for Beslin's talents. "Denise has an excellent chance to be an all-stater this year and an outside shot at being a Division I All-American," Teeters said. "She should have been all-conference last year."

REDFORD, a sophomore who played for Teeters three years at Clarenceville, is a veteran at receiving honors.

At Clarenceville, Redford was selected for the all-Observer team her sophomore, junior and senior years, all-Metro West Conference two years and

High School All-American her senior vear

"Lisa is definitely a leader and a winner," Teeters said. "Players like her lead by example. She has played more volleyball than anyone on the team.

"I think her potential is very high," Teeters continued. "I don't think she can work any harder. So far, Lisa has given the team her all. She can be great if things just click for her."

Things haven't been clicking of late, however. Redford injured an ankle last summer and it's still weak.

"Mentally, I'm at 100 percent and physically I'm at 95 percent," Redford said. "I have some mobility. I should be able to play right away."

WITH THREE of the four Livonians just sophomores, Teeters may have a dynasty on his hands. "Our team would fall apart without these girls," he said. "They are our nucleus."

Two other players with local ties are also members of the volleyball team.

Rita Serra, a 5-81/2 junior spiker is co-captain along with Breslin. Serra is a Redford Union graduate.

Nancy Williams, a 5-9 freshman spiker, graduated from Birmingham Marian. She resides in Redford.

(Next - Teeters and his team.)

Ladywood reverses basketball defeat

By DOUG FUNKE

Ladywood made up for its only basketball defeat of the season Tuesday, paying back Royal Oak Shrine 71-59.

The Blazers led the entire game, but really pulled away with 12 unanswered points during a stretch of the second quarter.

Ladywood had another run three minutes into the fourth quarter after Shrine pulled within nine points 58-49. Shrine had been trailing 57-39 going into the final eight minutes.

The Blazers missed their first seven shots from the field and committed four turnovers during the first 21/2 minutes of the final period, by far their sloppiest stretch of the game.

But it's not unusual for Ladywood to play well, rest on its laurels, then come to life again, according to coach Ed Kavanaugh

"We have a tendency to do that get up big then let down," Kavanaugh said.

"Overall, I was pleased. Inconsistency I was not pleased with. We'll have to overcome that to do well the rest of the season," he added.

The Blazers had a versatile offensive attack. Ronna Greenberg scored 20 points, Meg White 17, Leslie Nadeau 14 and Geri Petrik 12.

"We had good balance and got scoring from everyone on the floor when we needed it," Kavavanaugh said. "Our point guard (White) played one of her best games of the year.

Arts planning underway today

A team representing the Plymouth-Canton community begins meeting today to discuss ways of integrating arts into the community.

6C(P,C)

The Institute for Comprehensive Arts Planning (ICAP), a project to improve arts education programs in Michigan schools, will be held today through Saturday in the Hoyt Conference Center at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

The institute's purpose is to help school districts make the arts an integral part of general education in their elementary and secondary schools.

Some 20 teams of arts educators. community arts agency leaders, concerned citizens, community leaders, and public officials from communities around the state will participate in the institute.

The five-to-eight-member teams will learn how to examine the quality of arts education programs in their schools and how to analyze community arts resources which might supplement school programs.

from PREWAY

The Plymouth-Canton team was organized by Cathy Sibert, teacher at Miller Elementary in Canton. Other team members include:

U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell of Plymouth; Mary B. The institute is a joint program of the Michigan Alliance fo Arts Education and the Michigan Association of Community Arts Agencies.

Aiding the effort are the Michigan Department of Education, the Michigan Council for the Arts, Eastern Michigan University, and the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation which granted $15,000 to the MAAE for partial funding of the project.

Featured speakers for the program include Dr. Eugene T. Paslov, deputy superintendent of the Michigan Department of Education; Dr. Walter L. Marks, superintendent of schools in Montclair, N.J. where a successful comprehensive arts plan exists; and Mary Snow of New York, an author and educational consultant.

Following the conference, each community team will meet with one or two other teams to exchange experiences, discuss strategies, and strengthen their sense of purpose.

Editor:

We are the parents of one child in Farrand Elementary School and of one child in the middle school.

We have just found out that it is very probable that Farrand will be going on Extended School Year (ESY) beginning next year (September 1981).

We feel this decision, which we parents had no say in, is an invasion of the unity of the family - with two children attending two different tracks, it would seem to be almost impossible to ever take a family vacation - a time of relaxation, closeness and togetherness that is an absolute necessity in these days of diverse schedules and commitments.

As a working mother, with a job which coincides perfectly with the children's school schedules now, I feel this job would be in jeopardy if ESY would go into effect in Farrand - no employer would put up with 45 days of work, then 15 days off work! The loss of this job would put a serious financial strain on our family in view of the rising cost of living and inflation.

We are sure that we are not alone in our distress at the proposed ESY at Farrand. We speak for many concerned parents of Farrand students when we ask that this decision be reconsidered at this time.
