Murray kicks off autograph session

By ARLENE FUNKE

Judging by the excitement, Detroit Lions kicker Eddie Murray's visit to Canton Tuesday could be called a roaring success.

In fact, Murray seemed to be getting a kick out of the visit. He said he likes to meet new people.

For a couple of hours Tuesday evening, Murray signed autographs and talked to fans at Harvard Square shopping center at Ford and Sheldon. His visit was part of a promotion for the shopping center's Roaring Sale.

"THEY'RE FLOCKING IN — they had to sell all the furniture," joked Murray, as he signed autographs in an empty storefront.

"The visit generates good will," said Harvey Blavin of Retail-Detail, the firm handling advertising and promotion for Harvard Square.

Outside the store, Dave Hinske of Canton hawks blue-and-silver "Another one bites the dust" bumper stickers for $1 each. Hinske has a screen printing business in Ann Arbor.

Murray, 24, appears soft-spoken and easy-going. He wears a gray sweater and beige pants.

Waiting nearby is Murray's wife, Lynda, and their son, Robbie, 2 months old. The family live in Lake Orion.

During the two-hour appearance, people arrive in groups of three and four. Most are autograph-seeking boys and girls. Parents, mostly fathers, play the role of Tuesday evening quarterbacks.

THERE ARE lots of Christophers and Kristas, Bobs and Jims.

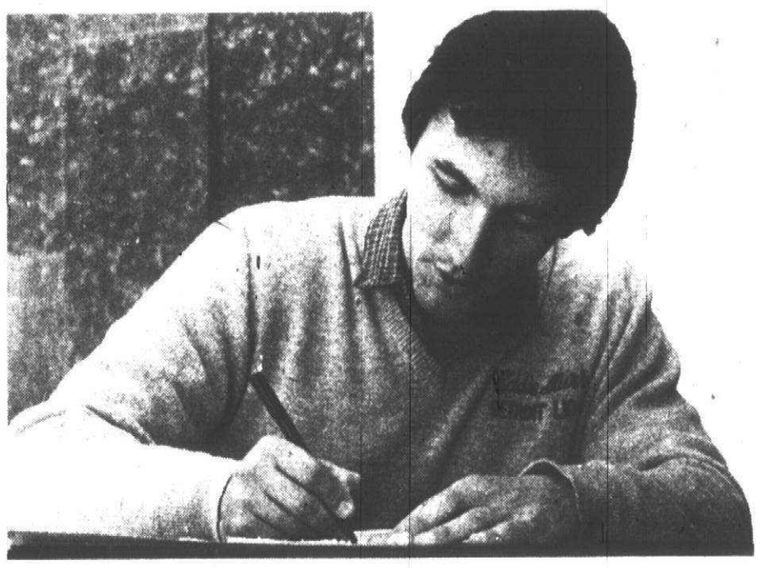

Sheila is blond. Jody is bashful. Wesley is wide-eyed.

Bob Eskie, 33, of Canton, figures he might as well take an autograph for himself. He brought his son, Jim, 11, to get Murray's signature.

Jack Blumenshine of Canton, accompanied by his son, Christopher, 10, spends several minutes chatting about last Sunday's football game which the Lions lost to the Chicago Bears.

Karen Myers of Plymouth asks Murray to read into a recorder a poem which a member of her family

Policy would nix store requests for special signs

A policy proposed by Canton's ordinance director and Chamber of Commerce president could slam the door on business requests for "special event" signs.

At least six requests for township-declared special events have come from business owners since last spring, according to ordinance director Bruce Phillips.

With the declarations, businesses may erect banners, streamers and other promotional material otherwise prohibited by Canton's strict sign ordinance.

Phillips said the requests were handled inconsistently by the Township Board.

At the board's direction, Phillips and Chamber of Commerce Frank McMurray have proposed guidelines to define special events. Their recommendation would limit use of the term to community-wide events of non-profit civic organizations, societies or clubs, such as the Canton Jaycee Fair or Canton Country Festival.

Phillips expects to present the recommendations to the board within the next month.

"PEOPLE ARE TRYING to find loopholes in the existing sign ordinance," McMurray said of business owners' requests for the special event signs.

"But the only solution is to change the sign ordinance," he maintains.

Strict sign regulations have sparked vehement protests from the business community since 1975, when freestanding signs were banned from the township. In 1979, the ordinance was amended to allow freestanding signs of 18 square feet in area or 25 square feet if natural materials were used.

Business owners maintain that allowable signs still are too small.

Business owner Gary Roberts, who has asked for a special event declaration three times, maintains that businesses "need special events to advertise their goods."

Last spring, Roberts succeeded in winning a special event declaration

Health officials find well at fault

By ARLENE FUNKE

At least one homeowner on Washborn has problems with drinking water because of an improper well.

The Wayne County Health Department has condemned one homeowner's well after examining it recently. And more Washborn wells also may be checked, said Michael Prybyla, a district supervisor for the health department.

FOUR RESIDENTS live on Washborn, in a sparsely populated area south of Michigan and east of Sheldon. The houses have wells.

Washborn is part of a 40-acre subdivision that the township plans to convert into an industrial park during the next 2-3 years. A total of 18 homeowners in the area will have to be relocated, and water and sewer lines will have to be expanded.

Some of the Washborn residents have been complaining that their water is "bad" and that they have to go to a public tap on Geddes to draw water.

The one Washborn well which already has been checked was situated in a pit of undrained water, said Prybyla. In addition, he said the pump had been

Poole, Culbert debate goals

This is the first part of a two-part series on Canton's supervisor candidates. The second part will appear in Monday's edition of the Canton Observer.

Canton's two supervisor candidates — Noel Culbert and James Poole — visited the news office of the Canton Observer this week for a one-on-one debate.

Both men hope to win a four-year reign as Canton's chief elected official on Nov. 4. The supervisor is the chief administrator of Canton Township and also acts as chairman of the Township Board with full voting power.

Culbert, 33, is the incumbent. He worked as an attorney before winning the supervisor's chair in 1978. He now is seeking re-election as a Democrat.

Poole, 50, a Republican, served as township trustee from 1972 to 1976. He is a retired Air Force major and currently works part-time as a real estate agent.

Both candidates were given three minutes to respond to each of the five questions posed by the Observer staff. Each was given an additional three minutes to rebut the other's views.

The following are their responses. Some of the answers have been edited for purposes of conserving space:

QUESTION: NAME YOUR PRIORITIES AS SUPERVISOR DURING THE NEXT FOUR YEARS.

CULBERT: "My number-one priority is to continue with industrial development. Right now my priority is to keep pressure on the Wayne County Road Commission for the paving under special assessment of Haggerty Road. We have people ready to buy our property and develop. It's all for naught if that road isn't paved. It was supposed to be paved this year with federal funds. I want to proceed with that. I think that is the key to Canton's future and whatever we're going to do with industry. We've done a lot of ground work for that with the additional water and sewer capacity, which is why we went with Super Sewer.

"The second goal — and there's a proviso on this that there's money available — is to continue park development. We were just informed by the State of Michigan that a grant we applied for has passed the first hurdle. It's a matching grant for passive park sites. I can't say where, because it's confidential. There's some areas the schools and township are dickering on that are good locations. I would like to continue with that, provided we have the money. That's priority number two.

"Some of the things we set as priorities earlier are finally being accomplished — the computer systems and police computer, which may be purchased in 30 to 60 days.

"I'd like to continue with the training for fire and police. We have more programs for them.

"There's some additional cultural developments I want to introduce. A cultural commission is just getting ready to get organized."

POOLE: "Developing a growth control program, for one. Stop the growth of government.

"In 1970, and this is absolutely confounding, we had one township employee for every 1,100 residents. We now have 3 township employees for every 1,000 residents. In the last 2½ years, we've gone from 74 to 136 employees — 80 percent growth. That's an awful rapid growth.

"I want to keep the taxes from spiralling like they have been, partially by encouraging revenue- and job-pro-

Candidates air views on 'manager'

Last spring, a citizens' group suggested the establishment of a township manager form of government.

The manager, appointed by the Township Board, would oversee day-to-day operations which are now the responsibility of the elected supervisor.

In August, Republican supervisor candidate James Poole asked for an advisory question on the November ballot regarding the manager form of government. The Township Board took no action on his request.

QUESTION: DO YOU BELIEVE THE SUPERVISOR FORM OF GOVERNMENT IS THE BEST WAY TO ADMINISTER CANTON TOWNSHIP? DO YOU BELIEVE OTHER WAYS SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED?

CULBERT: "As to part one, I don't like township form of government, frankly. I don't think the supervisor has as much authority as the city manager. Ultimately, I would like to see the statutory job of supervisor changed into a clearer separation of powers.

"I don't have any objections, frankly, to investigating other forms of government, in other words, township superintendent or township manager. But I think the investigation should be done impartially without any political motives."

POOLE: "As far as the authority of the township supervisor, he has all the authority he needs. His job by law is defined by making recommendations to the board. He also has the right to vote.

"No, I don't think it (the supervisor) is the most efficient form of government. I think other forms should be explored. I asked that the board put on the November ballot a question of whether you favor forming a committee to study the feasibility for a superintendent. If people are in favor of it, you pursue it. If they're not, you drop it. Ultimately, you're supposed to be doing what the people want to do. Unfortunately, that's not always the case.

"I've never advocated a superintendent, per se. I only asked for an advisory vote. I've been accused of wanting a superintendent. That isn't the case at all. It's the most efficient form of govern-

Plymouth-Canton OBITUARIES

DORIS E. EATON

Funeral services for Mrs. Eaton, 63, of North Canton Center Road, Canton Township, were held recently in Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth with burial at Riverside Cemetery. Officiating was the Rev. Philip Rodgers Magee. Memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Mrs. Eaton, who died Oct. 19 in Superior Township, was a retired bus driver from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. She was born in Redford Township.

Survivors include: husband, Claude; daughter, Nancy of Grand Rapids; brother, Ivan Campbell of Plymouth; and sister, Irene Smith of Plymouth.

JAMES OBERSTADT

Funeral services for Mr. Oberstadt, 44, of Detroit were held recently in Schrader Funeral Home with burial at Parkview Memorial Gardens. Officiating was Dr. Bartlett L. Hess.

Mr. Oberstadt, who died Oct. 17 in Westland, was an awning installer. Survivors include: sons, Wayne of Canton and James of Plymouth; daughter, Sharlene of Plymouth; brothers, William of Redford and Robert of Luzerne, Mich.; sisters, Agnes Martin of Zephyrhills, Fla., Betty Duff of Garden City, Barbara McKerracher of Livonia; and one grandchild.

Profitable shopping

Doug Moffatt helps Patti Lute and Tracy, 2, with groceries. Booster clubs from Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools recently held a fundraiser at Great Scott at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road. Unofficial tallies show the clubs raised $3,000, which will be used to benefit sports. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Hopefuls answer questions

(The following candidate guide was prepared by the League of Women Voters for the contest in the Wayne County Commission 27th District which includes Plymouth, Northville, Canton, Westland and Belleville.)

Candidates for Wayne County Commissioner in the 27th District include Republican challenger Darrell F. Kress, 38, of Belleville and Democratic incumbent R. William Joyner, 30, of Plymouth.

Each candidate supplied biographical information and answered a question asked by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi.

JOYNER, is past executive vice-president Michigan Jaycees. Past Lt. Gov. Michigan District Optimist International. Received Distinguished Service Award Plymouth community 1978 by Plymouth Jaycees. Served Wayne County Board of Commissioners three years. Married to Paula. Son Paul 3 years old.

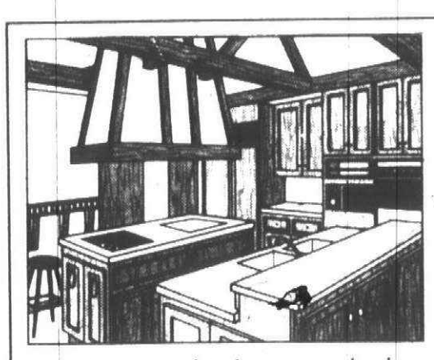

KRESS born Jan. 11, 1942. Lived over most of Michigan, went to Henry Ford High School & Chadsey. Work Ford Motor Co. 15 years. Married 10 years, 3 children 7, 8, 4. Attends Faithway Baptist Church. Went to Faithway Baptist Bible Inst. two years.

Q. What measures would you favor to make the Wayne County Board of Commissioners more effective?

KRESS: Reduce property taxes, reduce number of departments and agencies which the county now supports. Increase local control work against federal program to replace county.

JOYNER: Immediate implementation of a county executive with full day-to-day administrative control over county. Elimination of Board of Auditors. Develop ability to let Wayne County residents know some positive facts — we have cut $80 million in budget in two years; we have negotiated a new contract calling for no pay raise. Cut board size down to 13 or 17 positions.

Bookworms burrow into volumes

By ARLENE FUNKE

Kelly Darin, 3, is selecting "A Woggle of Witches" from a special children's display of Halloween books in the new Canton Township library.

Michael Jones, 8, a third grade student at Field Elementary, is signing up for a Halloween party to be held at the library at 4 p.m. Oct. 30.

Scary stories and movies, pumpkins and costumes will be the order of the day for that party, which is geared toward ages 6-11.

Clearly, Halloween is big stuff at the library. Over in the adult section, best-sellers are being snapped up.

And reference librarian Rebecca Havenstein answers questions about famine in Africa.

IN A WORD, business is brisk at the brand-new library.

The library, which is located on the third floor of Township Hall on Canton Center Road, opened last Monday.

Canton residents are paying one mill ($1 per $1,000 assessed property valuation) in support of the library. Voters approved a levy of up to one mill in May 1979.

The decor is bright orange and yellow, with a definite fragrance of newness. Pictures of monkeys and chipmunks adorn the walls in the children's section.

Head librarian Deborah O'Connor said she and her staff finished getting all the books on the shelves by 10 p.m. Saturday. They had been working until midnight in recent weeks.

ALSO giving assistance had been the Canton Jaycees, who worked several Saturdays. The Canton Rotary Club had chipped in with a projector and draperies for a community meeting room, said Ms. O'Connor.

Supportive members of the library board — which administers the library operations — called or stopped by to see how things were going on opening day, she added.

"People were waiting in line to get in (an hour before opening)," said Clara Bohrer, the children's librarian.

"Three hundred people called in for the preschool story hour," added Ms. Bohrer, a Canton resident. "We had openings for 120.

"We're booked (for the story hour) until February," she continued. "Those that didn't get in this time will have first chance (then)."

The 11,000-square-foot library has 14,000-15,000 adult books and 5,000-6,000 children's volumes. There also is an extensive magazine collection, reference books and a full-time reference librarian.

THE children's area includes a nook where the younger set can lounge or lie on the carpeted floor and read.

Available to parents and teachers are books and reference materials on child development and reading needs because "we realize there are so many young people in Canton," explained Ms. O'Connor.

During Children's National Book Week (Nov. 16-23), events will include puppet shows, magic tricks and story periods. Beginning in January, people will be able to check out children's toys, puppets and cassette book collections, said Ms. Bohrer.

"WE want to be approachable," added Ms. O'Connor. "We do have individual study (booths). We are going to make sure people stay quiet there."

Canton's library is part of the Wayne-Oakland Federated Library System. Nearby branches of that system are Plymouth, Northville, Garden City, Belleville and Wayne-Westland.

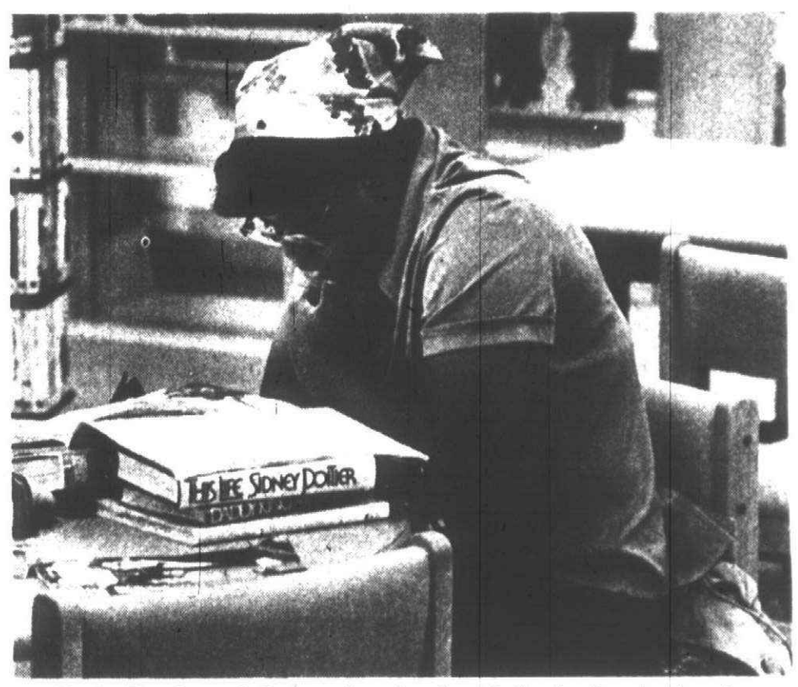

Residents who live in areas served by the system may check out and return books to any of the member libraries, said Ms. O'Connor.

The Canton library is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

For more information about library services, call 397-0999.

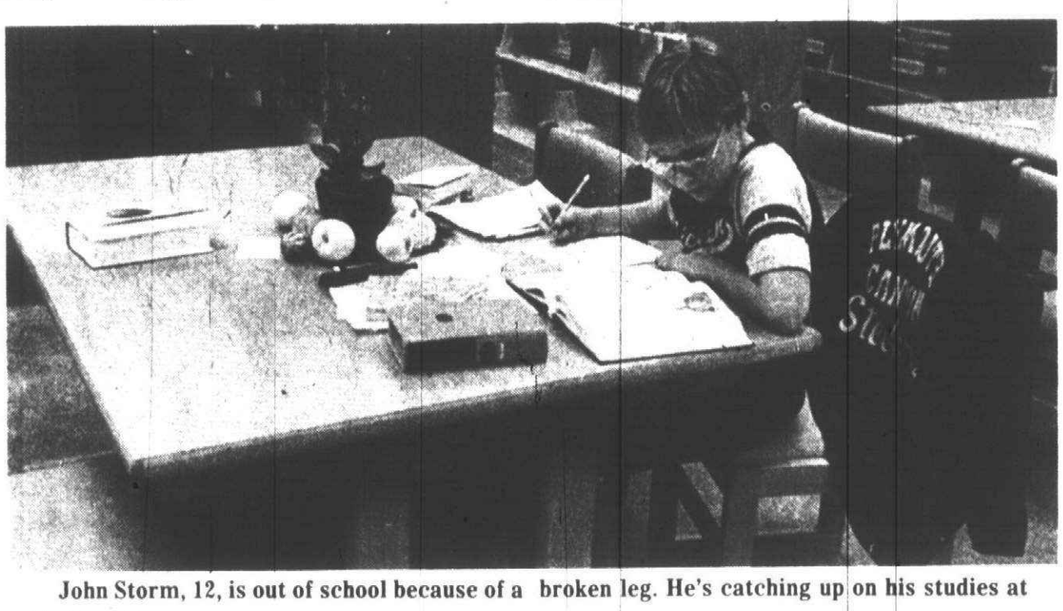

Ready to pass through the library's security system are Julie and Phil Jose with Jennie, 4, and P.J., 2. The children are taking out their first books.

Gloria Prather of Canton found a lot of the books she has been wanting to read at the Canton library.

John Storm, 12, is out of school because of a broken leg. He's catching up on his studies at the library.

Checking out a stack of books is Carol Micksch of Canton. Assisting her is head librarian Deborah O'Connor.

from the Township Board for a weekend of township-wide business promotions. He failed in winning the board's permission for similar requests on two occasions earlier this month and last summer.

Peter Korey, owner of the Big Boy restaurant on Ford Road, last week requested a township-declared "grand opening" for his business. The restaurant opened a number of years ago. But Korey maintained that a new salad bar in the establishment should warrant the "grand opening" declaration.

Board approval of the request would have allowed Korey to erect a banner on the outside of his building to advertise the salad bar. Board members, in effect, denied the request.

According to Phillips, other business owners have forwarded similar requests to the ordinance department. Some never appeared before the Township Board.

PHILLIPS SAID the existing sign ordinance provides for special events, but fails to establish guidelines or definitions.

The proposed guidelines were based on ordinances of surrounding communities.

According to Phillips, the planning commission is now reviewing the sign ordinance. He has suggested a revision in the ratio requirements to allow signs of all shapes.

"The ratio requirement now makes them all rectangular," said Phillips.

"But I wasn't going to be so bold as suggesting an increase in the square footage."

Burglar robs shops

Police are investigating roof breakins at six Canton Township businesses.

Lt. Larry Stewart said the first incident, which involves five businesses under a single roof, occurred sometime during the night of Oct. 18 at Warren and Sheldon roads.

Stewart said a person or persons entered through a vent in the roof, allowing access to several business suites. Hit in that break-in were Budget Auto Parts, Create-a-Cake, Canton Ceramics, Beaute Craft and Head Start.

Candidates air 'manager' idea

ment in the United States today. Look at it very honestly. Jim Poole, Harold Stein, Noel Culbert, whoever you want — they can't possibly be fully qualified and have all the expertise of a superintendent. You don't get the expertise all in one person. I think it should definitely be considered."

CULBERT: "Number one, if Mr. Poole recommended this put on the ballot, it was late.

"Number two, I never said I was in favor of the superintendent form of government. I have said that I have no objections of studying the issue at a future date.

"We disagree on the concept of what a supervisor or manager should be. Traditionally, a city manager is in a small community and has a variety of skills. He does a variety of things. I believe — and I think all my department heads believe — that Canton Township is bigger than that. All the functions that a city manager would do are done by department heads. The work in Canton is really enormous. I really think you have to look at the role of supervisor, who in essence, is the manager of the managers.

"I don't have any objections at looking at these things in the future. But I don't think we should proceed hastily, because anything like this is a radical change in government and could affect the people."

POOLE REBUTTAL: "The township department heads will have a job whether it's a supervisor, mayor or Mongolian donkey. I think if you get a superintendent you're going to get a much-better-qualified administrator. It's not a radical change. It's the fastest growing form of government in the country today."

ducing businesses to come into the township. At the same time, putting everyone on the tax rolls who aren't on the tax rolls right now. In one case, a muti-million dollar business is on the tax rolls assessed at $18,000. Hell, that's less than our houses are assessed at. That's ridiculous. "I would like to see Warren Avenue paved. and I'm going to push Wayne County for it.

"I want to have joint conferences and work fulltime or as much as possible with the Plymouth-Canton Community School Board on this growth control and proper utilization of schools. We did this at one time, but it was dropped by the wayside. I think too many people wanted to be king of the castle. But there's got to be cross talk between us and other community services around here, such as the school board and the other administrations. We've got to work together.

"That's why I intend to be a full-time supervisor, which Noel can't be right now. I think he should address himself to that. We need a full-time administrator down there."

CULBERT REBUTTAL: "I'm spending long hours in the township, averaging over 50 hours per week. To imply that I'm not (fulltime) is thoroughly incorrect. A 40-hour week in this job is a vacation as far I'm concerned.

"There's one final thing I want to pursue. With a new administration and board members, I'd like to review our ordinances and how ordinances how handled. I'd like to reevaluate and modify the number of ordinances where applicable. I don't want things to sound like a police state, because we have an ordinance for this and an ordinance for that."

POOLE REBUTTAL: "I think a review of all ordinances, all responsibilities and work is necessary. Who has a car at a certain time, where did they go, how much miles did they put on — all of this with the idea of saving money. Obviously, some of the objections to the sign ordinance are justified. Some of them are just political rhetoric.

"What I do think is crucial is that the supervisor be available."

improperly installed.

"Water could have been collected and (become) contaminated," said Prybyla. "We think the well is deep enough but the pump is improperly installed. We couldn't take any (water) samples because the well is improperly constructed."

Prybyla said he has drafted a letter of instructions to be sent to the resident. He said the pump may be able to be cleaned with a household disinfectant, but it will have to be moved to a different location.

The pit will also have to be drained, said Prybyla.

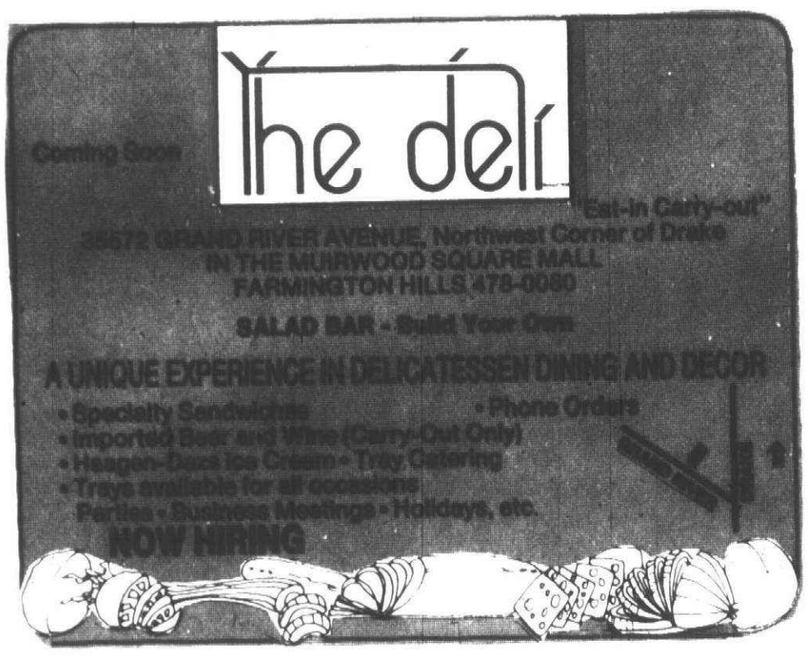

"We try to make it understood that it's for their (homeowners) benefit, not for our benefit," added Prybyla.

THE COUNTY health department recently began checking wells on Washborn. Previously, Canton Township officials had taken water samples from two residents and forwarded them to a private laboratory for analysis.

The lab test indicated there was evidence of organic carbons, chloride, coliform bacteria and nitrate in the water. Chloride is often associated with road salt, while organic carbons are found in many things, including dissolved gases.

Nitrate is found in fertilizers, while coliform bacteria is associated with water contamination.

Township officials said the water was unsafe according to health department guidelines.

Meet Michael Doulton; see the unique Royal Doulton Library of Character Jugs Exhibition

Michael Doulton, fifth generation descendant of the founder of the Doulton Company, is hosting an elaborate exhibition at Northland on October 25 through October 31, of the famous and popular hand-painted Character and Toby Jugs. Among the 125, valued at approximately a quarter of a million dollars, are examples of some of Royal Doulton's most famous and rare masterpieces, all direct descendants of the Staffordshire Toby Jugs of the 18th Century. Here, we show three from our collection: large Beefeater, $65. Captain Ahab, $45. Sairey Gamp, 27.95. In Hudson's Gifts.

Meet Michael Doulton. Have him sign your Doulton purchases; own a real keepsake.

The dining table you want hasn't been made.

You want a special dining table which suits your taste and fits your home. You want a piece that is constructed of solid hardwood with the finest craftsmanship.

You want your table to be formal, casual or somewhere in between. To be square, round, rectangular, obround, or a special shape. Extendable or one-piece. In a common or uncommon size. With crisp, sharp corners or friendly, rounded edges and corners.

You want your choice of nine solid hardwoods. And a natural finish that stands up to spills and everyday use.

You want your table to be affordably priced, yet built to last a lifetime.

You want to skip over the middleman and do business directly with a company which makes what it sells and stands behind what it makes.

We don't think you want too much. Visit our downtown Ann Arbor showroom, tell us what you want, and in 3 to 5 weeks, we'll call you to tell you that the dining table you want has just been made.

Guess who's coming to Christmas dinner

The coming of cool fall weather sends many animals scurrying to find a cozy place to spend the winter. For some homeowners, this scramble for winter shelter means a host of unwelcome houseguests.

Glenn Dudderar, extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University, says the most common animals to enter homes looking for winter shelter are squirrels, bats, rats and mice.

AN OPENING doesn't have to be very large for a mouse to squeeze through, he points out. Even a rat needs only a half-inch opening, and a bat can squirm through a 1½-inch hole.

An opening that's letting animals into the house is also letting heated or cooled air out, he noted. To keep the animals out and to save energy, seal up those openings.

But first, he advised getting rid of those that have already entered to avoid sealing the critters inside.

Bats are probably the least critical problem but the one that most people are least likely to tolerate, simply because they tend to be afraid of bats. Bats wintering in an attic or the top of a garage won't do much damage. Their drippings and urine can make a smelly mess, however, and bats sometimes carry disease organisms.

CONTROLLING RODENTS in the home is a three-step process.

First, eliminate all possible food sources. This means cleaning up food spills in storage areas, placing all foods in cans or glass jars, putting pet food away as soon as the pet has eaten, cleaning plates and washing dishes immediately after meals, removing all garbage from the kitchen, and so on.

Strict sanitation is necessary for the second step to succeed, Dudderar said.

"No rat that can eat people food out of the wastebasket is going to go for rat bait," he said. "But if there's nothing else for him to eat, he'll have to either leave or go after the bait."

TWO GENERAL CLASSES of poison baits are available — single-dose, highly toxic materials that kill the animal at once, and multiple-dose anticoagulants.

In the home, the multiple-dose poisons are the safer choice, because one accidental consumption by a human or a pet is not likely to be lethal. The single-dose poisons can kill any warm-blooded animal, including a human being, that consumes them.

The relative safety of the anticoagulant baits doesn't mean you should use them carelessly, Dudderar said. Place the baits where only the rodents can get to them — behind appliances, in the back corners of cupboards, inside cold air ducts, wherever you have reason to believe the rodents lurk or run.

Bear in mind that most dogs and cats are great scroungers. Even if well fed, they'll eat anything they come upon that strikes them as edible.

Red oak: a tree for all seasons

One of the most common native trees in Michigan is also one of the most beautiful at this time of year. It's the northern red oak, which turns from rich green to russet or ruby red in the fall.

According to Harold Davieson, extension horticulturist at Michigan State University, the red oak makes an excellent landscape tree.

Though it grows best on well-drained loam and sandy loam soils, it is adaptable to a wide range of soil conditions. It transplants well at small sizes (under 5-inch trunk diameter), tolerates urban growing conditions and grows fairly rapidly. It is generally free of serious insect or disease problems.

In southern portions of Michigan, red oaks may reach 90 feet in height, with trunk diameters of 3 feet or more. Farther north, where red oaks may be the dominant species in logged-off or burned-over forestlands, they tend to be somewhat smaller.

The red oak generally has a single, straight trunk and a broad crown. Injuries to the leader when a tree is young, however, may result in a mature tree with many upright stems and a more rounded silhouette.

The many-lobed leaves of the red oak are fairly large — up to 7 inches long — and arranged alternately along the stem. The lobes are pointed, often bristle-tipped.

A number of closely related red oaks are desirable as landscape trees.

The pin oak has a pyramidal growth habit; older branches tend to droop. The pin oak is less tolerant of alkaline soils.

The black oak is very similar to red oak. The leaf stems are a bit longer on the black oak, and the kernel of the acorn is yellow rather than white. The black oak is commonly found growing on dry, gravelly sites.

Tisch plan would cut fat

Editor:

The Libertarian Party of Michigan endorses Proposal "D," the Tisch Tax Cut Amendment, and is the only political party to endorse this proposal. Libertarians feel it is about time to "cut the fat" and waste out of big state government and return more money to the overburdened taxpayers of Michigan.

California's Proposition 13, which passed in 1978, was the best thing that ever happened to the California economy. Five hundred thousand new jobs were created in the private sector. Unemployment in California dropped below the national average, inflation dropped below the national average, and $14 billion that formerly had gone for taxes was retained by the taxpayers of the state of California annually. And California's $5 billion budget surplus became a $2.5 billion surplus after Proposition 13. Therefore, the "fat" was cut out of California state government, and without harming essential government services.

The same thing will occur in Michigan with the passage of the Tisch Amendment, Proposal "D." In contrast, Proposals "A" and "C" will only reshuffle the tax structure and will not decrease any taxes whatsoever. In fact, with today's inflation Propsals "A" and "C" will actually be large tax increases within the next 24 months. Two years ago, the Headlee Amendment — intended to give us (the taxpayers) some tax relief — was passed. Once the state legislature got their hands on it, however, the Headlee Amendment was "watered down" until it offered no tax breaks at all. The Tisch Amendment, specifically worded to keep it out of the deceitful hands of these people, will not allow this to happen.

If you are a truly concerned taxpayer, you will vote for Proposal "D," the Tisch Tax Cut Amendment, and against Proposals "A" and "C" on Nov. 4. This may be our last chance to reduce the tremendous burden of taxation we face as taxpayers in the state of Michigan.

Residents laud marching band

Editor:

We are so proud of our band that we had to let them and the community know how terrific they are.

The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Marching Band has recently completed an extremely grueling weekend and has come home with top honors.

On Saturday, Oct. 4, they left PCEP at 6:15 a.m. to participate in the Marching Bands of America Northern Regional Championship Competition at Toledo and returned the following morning at 1, having performed twice and placing sixth out of 25 competing bands from five states.

Early Sunday afternoon, they traveled to Flint to take part in the Michigan Invitational. There they competed with fourteen other bands and walked away with five of the top awards: brass and winds, percussion, general effect, first place in the open class, and the governor's trophy for overall excellence.

Our kids have worked so hard for this that we cannot let it pass by without saying congratulations and thanks to the entire marching band, director James R. Griffith, associate director Carl Battishill, and all those who have worked with the band at camp and at the after-school practices that are held each day.

It is our opinion that the general public has no idea how much effort and how many hours (regardless of weather conditions) go into the preparation of a performance. These same kids come out every Friday night and some Saturday nights to provide the half-time entertainment at the football games. We wish they could get the support, recognition, and accolades that the athletic teams get because they work just as hard and deserve it.

On their trips, they represent the Plymouth-Canton community in a most respectable way. They are a group of really good kids, we are proud of them, and to us they are winners in every way each time they step onto the field of competition.

Michelle battles pain through biofeedback treatment

By ARLENE FUNKE

Michelle Splatt, 15, walks into her 1 p.m. psychology class at Plymouth Canton High School where she is a 10th-grader.

Michelle has had a headache that has been bothering her on and off for two days.

She has pain above her right eye. She talks about her weekly (horse) riding lesson, which always seems to bring on a headache.

BUT HELP has arrived in the form of Laura Nicolato, a technician at the Michigan Headache and Neurological Institute. The institute is a private clinic in Ann Arbor which specializes in treating persons with chronic headaches.

Ms. Nicolato, a Canton resident, is visiting the class at the request of team teachers Michael McCauley and James Martin.

Her assignment is to demonstrate a process called "biofeedback," in which persons develop voluntary control over biological processes involved in pain, discomfort and disease.

Under this process, the person is connected to a machine which records the body's response to stress. The person then is taught ways to relax to reduce the stress or pain.

MICHELLE has volunteered to be the headache "patient" for Ms. Nicolato's demonstration. Through biofeedback, Michelle will become an active participant in treating her own headache.

"We want to make this (class) very real instead of abstract," explained teacher McCauley. Eventually, the teachers hope to obtain $5,000-$10,000 from the school district or from private sources to develop a psychology lab at the school.

Electrodes are attached to Michelle Splatt's head to monitor stress. The 15-year-old high school student has been troubled by recurring headaches and experts believe biofeedback treatment may cure her problem. (Photo by Gary Caskey)

"We want to give the students hands-on experience," added McCauley. "Biofeedback is an alternative to Valium and other drugs."

MS. NICOLATO explained that headaches can be caused by stress, loud noises, odors and many other things.

An institute pamphlet explains that changes take place in the body — usually without the person's awareness. Teeth clench or grind. Frown lines appear on the forehead.

Muscles in the head or neck may tighten. Blood vessels in the head expand, and pulses of the heart send waves of pressure or pain.

"About 95 percent of all people have headaches at one time or another," said Ms. Nicolato. "They are triggered by many things — they are really tricky to diagnose.

"WE TRY to individualize our treatment," she added.

Treatment at the Ann Arbor institute is covered by most insurance plans, said Ms. Nicolato. On staff are a physician, psychologists, nurses and technicians.

Staff members explain how headaches are caused. Patients have about five biofeedback sessions and also may be referred to a psychologist to learn ways of managing stress and coping with pain.

"The goal of biofeedback is to leave your body out of stress and anxiety," explained Ms. Nicolato. "Biofeedback and medication can be — and is — used to treat people.

"It's very effective," she added.

During Ms. Nicolato's biofeedback demonstration, Michelle is seated in a comfortable, tilt-back chair. Ms. Nicolato places suction cups on Michelle's forehead and attaches electrodes which are hooked to the biofeedback machine.

Electrodes attached to her fingers will record changes in body temperature. The machine emits a flat sound which intensifies to a bong-bong or siren-like pitch when Michelle frowns or raises her eyebrows.

Those sounds are "feeding back" or giving Michelle a message how her body is responding. Later, by using relaxation techniques, Michelle is able to bring these responses under voluntary control.

A TAPE is played. A hypnotic, fatherly voice suggests that the patient (Michelle) is becoming relaxed, very relaxed and finally, totally relaxed.

Michelle's eyes are closed. She seems to be dozing. Ms. Nicolato reports that a gauge on the machine indicates Michelle is quite relaxed.

Ms. Nicolato tells Michelle to think of a happy experience and to focus on details. For Michelle, it's a vacation trip to the mountains.

However, when Michelle raises her eyebrows or thinks about something unpleasant — perhaps a quarrel — the biofeedback machine emits a bong-bong sound.

Later, Michelle said she felt relaxed, as though she "weighed a thousand tons" during the demonstration.

"I get headaches when I take my riding lesson," said Michelle. "I bite down on my jaw and I frown."

Biofeedback is a tool, not a cure, said Ms. Nicolato.

"It isn't a miracle," she added. "It's tuning people in (to their bodies) and helping them become an active participant in their treatment."

Despite costs, mainstream drivers avoid car, van pools

By RICHARD LECH

Despite the gas crunch, most drivers continue to make the trip to work alone.

But would more drivers participate in car pools and van pools if they had the chance?

Recently, employees at 17 firms in the Big Beaver Corridor in Troy were asked that question in a survey by the Oakland County Road Commission. Close to 700 of the 7,000 employees surveyed said they were interested in some form of ridesharing.

At a Rochester firm, Computer Peripherals Inc., one-fourth of the employees said they would like to give ridesharing a try.

In both cases, the employees are in the process of setting up car pools and van pools.

These efforts, and others like them in southeastern Michigan, are being coordinated by the new RideMatch program of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

The program has been in existence six months. So far some 100 firms and 2,300 individuals have participated, said Sandy Wigent, SEMCOG's ridesharing technical coordinator.

UNDER THE program, SEMCOG supplies ridesharing information and applications and helps set up ridesharing organizational meetings for companies and groups of companies. SEMCOG computers match potential poolmates for car pools and van pools.

"In a large sense, we're doing this for the good of the community," Ms. Wigent said. "Ridesharing reduces gas consumption, air pollution and traffic congestion."

It also saves the driver money, she said. The U.S. Department of Transporation recently estimated that switching from driving to van pooling can save a commuter from $250 to $1,000 a year in gasoline and expenses.

Then, too, ridesharing also has its pleasant side benefits. Leaving the driving to others gives plenty of opportunity for "a lot of sleeping, a lot of reading the paper and a lot of coffee-drinking," Ms. Wigent said.

But studies show that 70 percent of drivers still make the trek to work solo. One reason for that could be the drivers' reluctance to give up the independence and personal autonomy they have when behind the wheel of their own car.

"Definitely, I think that's a big factor," Ms. Wigent said. "That's something we accordingly address when we talk to big groups. Especially in the Detroit area, because the auto is so very important here."

A DRAWBACK to the use of company-owned vans has been employer worries about the cost of the van and insurance liability. James Barbaresso, Oakland County Road Commission planner in charge of the Big Beaver Road project, said that project was first proposed two years ago with the Kmart Corp. as the only participant. Kmart was selected for this test project because, with more than 3,000 employees, it is the largest employer in the area.

"Kmart's basic fear was one common among most employers — administrative time and cost involved, and also liability problems with company-owned vans," Barbaresso said. "They (Kmart) preferred to wait until something became available that better suited their needs."

The breakthrough, Barbaresso said, came earlier this year with the inauguration of RideMatch as well as the MichiVan statewide vanpooling program formed by the Michigan Department of Transportation. MichiVan, with vans provided by Chrysler Corp.'s Van Pool Services Inc., covers the insurance liability as a third-party between the company and the employees.

Since employees operate the van themselves (the driver rides for free, and gets use of the van on nights and weekends), the company has little in the way of administrative costs. RideMatch provided the applications and computer match-up to get the poolings started.

The road commission expanded its program to include not only Kmart but 17 other firms in the Big Beaver Road area, including Sperry Vickers Division Sperry Rand Corp., Kelly Services, Rockwell International, the city of Troy, the Budd Company, Ex-Cell-O Corp., St. Paul Insurance and St. Paul Title, and Sperry Univac.

Barbaresso concedes he was a little disappointed in the response. Only slightly more than 8 percent of those surveyed expressed an interest in ridesharing.

"But with almost 600, we have a very, very good base for a ridesharing program," Barbaresso said. "We should be able to pull some matches out of that. Once people start car pools and van pools — especially van pools because they're so visible — and others become interested, it can only snowball, especially if the price of gasoline continues to escalate."

Recently the road commission got a $20,000 Michigan Energy Administration grant to pay the salary of a full-time ridesharing technician for one year. The commission is in the process of hiring the technician.

"It's now turning into a full-scale program," Barbaresso said. "We're going to explore other areas, such as Southfield and Walled Lake. We're getting some response, especially from the Tel-Twelve area. We hope to have the Troy program completed this month.

"We have all surveys in the process of being completed. We have the match lists to the employees. Eventually we'll have a telephone survey to see the response of the program, to see if people are actually car-pooling because of it."

ONE OF THE biggest turnouts so far for RideMatch was at Rochester's Computer Peripherals Inc. Of more than 700 employees, 174 — close to 25 percent — filled out ridesharing applications, said M.J. LeBaron, the firm's personnel administrator in charge of the ridesharing program.

"We had seen it (RideMatch) advertised on TV, and I called them the next day because we had been planning something like that," LeBaron said. "We're a division of Control Data Corp. of Minnesota. They asked all divisions to do something like this for employees, so the timing was just right."

Companies or individuals interested in participating in RideMatch can call Ms. Wigent's office at 961-4266. James Barbaresso is also willing to help any Oakland County businesses interested in ridesharing. His number is 645-2000.

In addition to helping set up ridesharing, the RideMatch program also encourages drivers to use already-existing mass transportation where possible, Ms. Wigent said.

Reforming friend of court 'could improve kids' lives'

By JACKIE KLEIN

The John Smiths were recently divorced. Now it's up to the Friend of the Court to enforce child support for Suzie and Jimmy Smith. But will the court follow through?

That's one of the questions covered in a 20-page report recently released by Kay McGowan, special projects director for the Southfield-based Michigan Citizens Lobby (MCL).

After five years of investigation, Ms. McGowan maintains the Friend of the Court system is failing and needs overhauling.

"Reform is a project whose time has finally come," Ms. McGowan said. "We owe children the best we can give now and in the future. Reforming the court should change children's lives for the better and maybe start a precedent across the country."

One in every 2.56 marriages in Michigan ends in divorce, the MCL report says. When the Friend of the Court fails to respond to problems, it affects every Michigan taxpayer who foots the bills for families on ADC and men who are jailed for failing to support their children, according to the study.

"THE WORD 'FRIEND' seems to imply that we're ready and able to assist with all problems," said Kim Bateman, assistant Oakland County Friend of the Court. "We handle specific areas of domestic relations cases heard by Oakland County Circuit Court."

Bateman, in consultation with John J. Houghton, Friend of the Court, and his staff published a handbook explaining the county agency's function. It's also designed to help couples through the difficult course of divorce proceedings, according to Bateman.

"Don't fall into the trap of making private arrangements for child support," Bateman advised in the handbook. "The Friend of the Court enforces orders even if there are no complaints. But we welcome complaints to alert us of cases needing attention."

Smith of Southfield is required to pay 30 percent of his income to support Jimmy, 4, and Suzie, 6. Support will continue until Jimmy is 18. Smith makes payments to the Friend of the Court. All payments are recorded so disputes about whether they're current can be resolved quickly, Bateman contends.

Only about 25 percent of single female parents in America get any form of child-support payments, according to a study released by the U.S. Census Bureau. The average payment is less than $1,500 a year.

MS. McGOWAN said in interviewing people in the past five years, she has heard stories of emotional upheaval caused by the Friend of the Court system.

When a father called the Friend of the Court to say he was afraid his children were being neglected, he was asked if his salary had been raised so he could pay more child support, Ms. McGowan reported.

The father tried to explain that wasn't the point of his call and the Friend of the Court said, "We don't handle complaints of that kind," according to Ms. McGowan.

An epileptic mother of three was living on $330 a month social security disability, the MCL study says. Her former husband earned $26,000 but paid no child support. The mother was unable to drive because of seizures. Friend of the Court won't take complaints over the phone, according to the report.

A prominent Detroit psychiatrist has an annual income of $150,000, the MCL study claims. His former wife, a social worker, earns $14,000 a year. The psychiatrist refuses to pay child support and the Friend of the Court doesn't automatically enforce a court order, the report maintains.

Friend of the Court investigations are triggered by defendants who dispute custody or the amount of support, Bateman said. To enforce a temporary order, a complaint may be made in person. A letter of complaint can be written to the Friend identifying both parties and their court case number, he said.

THE SMITHS were mailed an interview form and were scheduled for an appointment with the agency. They were told to bring information which would help the agency make recommendations about support, custody and visiting rights.

The judgment of divorce, which can be amended, covers custody, child support, visitation, alimony and property settlement clauses. The Friend of the Court doesn't hear appeals or represent either party.

Ms. McGowan cites many cases in which, she maintains, the Friend of the Court fails to enforce child support orders. In one instance, the judge ordered a father to pay $90 a week for two children. That was in 1974, and the woman has never received child support.

Fox prints

This acrylic painting of a red fox and blue jay was judged the best of nearly 90 paintings entered in Michigan's first "Wildlife of the Year" competition. The artist is Gijsbert van Frankenhuyzen of Bath, Mich. The Michigan United Conservation Club has issued 750 prints of the painting, signed and numbered by the artist, which are for sale at $30 each until Dec. 1, after which time the price will be $45. Orders may be placed by writing Box 30235, Lansing 48909. Proceeds will be used for conservation and environmental programs

Metroparks present monsters and myths

By LEM MESEE
Outdoors writer

Lake Erie Metropark is beginning to take shape.

J.D. Armstrong Construction Co. of Fraser has a $259,000 contract to pave an entrance roadway to the 10th Huron-Clinton Metropark.

The 1,500-acre project is open to limited use on the shore of Lake Erie, south of Gibraltar in Wayne County.

William E. Kreger, HCMA commissioner representing Wayne County, said the work includes 1.7 miles of park road and widening along Jefferson (also known as River Road) at the park entrance.

Superintendent Kenneth M. Smith said Lake Erie Metropark has been open since July for shore fishing and picnicking. It has parking lots and comfort stations.

HUNTING is slow in Wayne County, state DNR officers report.

The few waterfowl taken have been mostly mallards and wood ducks, along with a few teal, widgeon, geese, redheads and some scaup.

Squirrel hunting is slow.

In Monroe County, duck hunting has dropped off. A few gunners have taken their limits, but most report only one or two ducks. Erie State Game Area is having little pressure and little success.

Duck success is poor on the Detroit River and Lake Erie. A few scaup are being taken.

In northwest Oakland County, waterfowl and duck conditions were excellent this week. Hunter pressure has been light to moderate.

Deer are plentiful, but Holly area archers have had no success.

"THE MONSTERS and Myths of Halloween" is the title of one of the metroparks' most exciting nature center programs of the year.

Kensington, on I-96 in western Oakland County, will have one Friday, Oct. 24. Oakwoods, near Flat Rock, will have its show next Tuesday, Oct. 28.

In the same way the elves live for Christmas, the nature center people live for this Halloween monsters program. It's not recommended for youngsters under 7 or persons with weak hearts. The program goes on rain or shine, so dress for the weather.

To register, call the Kensington nature center at 685-1561 or the Oakwoods nature center at 782-1255. There is a $1 per person charge on top of the vehicle permit.

FOUR NATURE programs are coming up this weekend at Kensington Metropark. To register for any of them, call the park office at 685-1561.

• "A Canada goose's world" — 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 25. Naturalist Bob Hotaling will lead 90 minutes of slides, discussion and observation of the park's favorite feathered visitor.

• "A coot cruise" — 9 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 26. The excursion boat will leave from the west shore boat rental, and Hotaling will point out the coot, a funny-looking waterbird who prefers to flap across the water rather than fly. Charge is $1.50.

• "From hunting to herding" — 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 26. Meet at the Farm Center in the north part of the park, where interpreter Lori Anerson will lead a look at farm animals and tell how they were domesticated.

• "Autumn walk" — 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 26. Meet at the nature center, where Gordon Lonie lead a two-hour walk to see late fall plants, animals and birds.

In prosecutor's race

Challenger faces uphill battle against 'media star'

By TOM LONERGAN

There will be an election for Oakland County prosecutor Nov. 4, although Democratic candidate Martin Krohner thinks the news media has done next to nothing in letting people know about it.

Krohner, of Farmington Hills, faces the uphill task of unseating two-term Republican incumbent L. Brooks Patterson, who is known statewide. In the Aug. 5 primary, Patterson received more than 41,000 votes running unopposed. Krohner, unopposed on the Democratic side, tallied 17,121 votes.

Patterson says his campaign time has been largely spent stumping for GOP presidential candidate Ronald Reagan and plugging his petition drive to put a capital punishment referendum before state voters in 1982.

"We're not going out to pick any fights," said Patterson in a recent interview. "We're not going to give my opponent any exposure by picking a fight with him."

KROHNER, an assistant prosecutor in Wayne County, is making his first bid for public office. Asked recently what issues he was raising in the campaign, Krohner responded, "How many hours do you have?"

Krohner calls Patterson "a full-time media star." Referring to the frequent press conferences called by the prosecutor on welfare fraud cases, charges brought by the controversial Organized Crime Strike Force and other issues, Krohner asks: "Is he doing it merely to promote himself or to be informative?"

The prosecutor's office, says Krohner, has been lax in enforcing the state's mandatory gun law, which carries a minimum two-year jail sentence for those using a weapon in committing a crime. And Krohner is critical of a Patterson policy change regarding those charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

FBI statistics showed a 9 percent increase in felony crimes last year in Oakland County, compared with a 6 percent increase in Wayne County, said Krohner, who acknowledged a lower volume in the northern county.

PATTERSON CALLED the criticisms, particularly regarding the county's crime rate, "simplistic." He said Oakland has maintained a lower rate of major crimes than neighboring Wayne or Macomb County.

His office doesn't plea bargain gun handling or gun sale cases, said Patterson. Those charged in drug, armed robbery, breaking and entering, involuntary manslaughter and repeat offenders "must go on trial or plead guilty," Patterson said.

He said a policy of no plea bargaining on carrying concealed weapons charges was changed last year because some arrested "did not deserve a five-year felony (sentence).

"What I was getting was college kids with a brother's pistol under the seat," said Patterson. "That's not what I was going after."

KROHNER SAYS the media has created a "misconception" that Patterson's office doesn't plea bargain sentences, which he calls "a necessary evil."

"If we had enough judges and prosecutors to try every case, we wouldn't have to do it," Krohner said.

Regarding the death penalty, Krohner said, "I don't think it's a deterrent. It hasn't stopped the murders down south where it's very prevalent.

"Basically, it's a revenge thing. The appeals (of death penalty sentences) cost millions. Compared to what appeals cost, it would probably be cheaper to keep them in jail the rest of their lives."

Referring to Patterson's promotion of the death penalty referendum, Krohner asked, "What does that have to do with with the job of the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office?

Patterson, who started the capital punishment petition drive a year ago, said he "never intended to get involved" in the issue, but changed his mind after several violent murders in the county, including what he described as a "thrill killing" of a 20-year-old Clarkston woman a year ago.

KROHNER SAID he would keep the prosecutor's organized crime strike force that Patterson set up.

But the Democratic challenger said the controversial three-year-old special investigation unit has become a police force under Patterson, a charge often leveled by Sheriff Johannes Spreen, the only countywide elected Democrat.

The strike force's first investigation of a numbers racket in Pontiac pitted Spreen and former Pontiac Police Chief William Hanger against Patterson. They said Patterson was using the strike force for political purposes.

Patterson said the strike force has critics "because we're doing something." He said the 13-man unit — which includes seven county investigators and four state police detectives — is supported by "most local (police) departments who don't have the time or skills" to investigate like the strike force.

"Really, the open critic is the sheriff," said Patterson.

PATTERSON has a much larger campaign treasury than Krohner.

According to campaign finance reports filed with the county clerk after the Aug. 5 primary, Patterson's commitee reported a balance of $13,737, to Krohner's $776.

As of early September, Krohner had raised $1,811 for the election, compared with Patterson's $57,297.

Krohner's main contributor has been the United Auto Workers ($1,500) and the county Democratic party which made an "in-kind" contribution of $613 by printing literature cards and bumper stickers.

Patterson reported cumulative campaign expenses totaling $43,792 following the Aug. 5 primary. He also reported a campaign debt of $10,000.

Major contributors during the current election year, according to Patterson's latest campaign finance report, include Walt Baumgardner, a Southfield attorney, $1,000; Richard Bohan, attorney, St. Clair Shores, $700; Gary Crake, owner of the 300 Bowl in Pontiac, $765; Emmet Denha, a Warren supermarket owner, $500; Neil Fink, a Detroit attorney, $1,720.

MARTIN KROHNER

Krohner charges the prosecutor's office has been lax in enforcing the state's mandatory gun law, which carries a minimum two-year jail sentence for those using a weapon in committing a crime. He is critical of a Patterson policy change regarding those charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

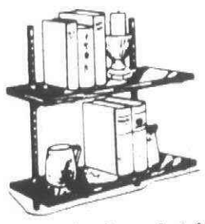

L. BROOKS PATTERSON

Patterson countered, saying his office doesn't plea bargain gun handling or gun sale cases. Those charged in drug, armed robbery, breaking and entering, involuntary manslaughter and repeat offenders 'must go on trial or plead guilty.' He said a policy of no plea bargaining on carrying concealed weapons charges was changed last year because some arrested 'did not deserve a five-year felony (sentence).'

Voters can reject all 3 state tax plans

"I don't like any of these tax proposals," said the caller, "and I'm puzzled. Which one should I vote for?"

The answer is that you don't have to vote for any of the three tax proposals on the Nov. 4 ballot. You can vote against all three — A, C and D — if you wish.

That's the recommendation of the editorial board of this newspaper. Vote "no" on A, C and D.

Two of the proposals — A (Smith-Bullard) and C (the Coalition) — are essentially responses to D (Tisch), and D is essentially a reactionary provision for minority rule on taxes.

All three are extremely long, proposing to amend the Michigan Constitution by thousands of words. All three, as a Western Michigan University reading expert pointed out, are written too poorly for the average citizen to figure out. All three are being sold with sloganeering and gimmickry.

Proposals A and C have good points. But again, they are so long and complex that their many fishhooks might be overlooked. The voter has no opportunity to pick and choose between the various sections.

The voter must vote "yes" or "no" on an entire proposal. The voter must take it or leave it.

The editorial board has spent many dozens of hours listening to the proponents of each plan, reading lengthy analyses, talking to local officials, listening to economic decision makers and reading your letters.

And we conclude it would be best to say "no" to all three. Here's why:

A Smith-Bullard unnecessary and a double tax shift

Proposal A, the Smith-Bullard plan, has been called a tax shift, not a tax cut. Actually, it would be a double tax shift.

First, it would eliminate property taxes on homes and farms for K-12 school operations and replace the lost local revenue with an increase in the state income tax of at least 1.2 percent — perhaps higher down the road.

Second, it would be a massive shifting of funds from the metropolitan areas to the rural parts of the state.

The economic fact of life is that it costs more to live in a metropolitan area, and wage scales are higher here. Our local schools must spend more per pupil than outstate schools.

Thus, the Smith-Bullard notion of "equalizing" educational funding is not only unnecessary, but it could wind up costing us more.

UNDER PROPOSAL A, property taxes on factories, shopping centers, offices and corporate headquarters would be collected statewide — from Troy to Tecumseh, from Livonia to Luther. That would spread metropolitan money across the state.

Property taxes would be eliminated not only on farm homesteads but on the entire food producing part of farms. So rural areas would get a big break and give up nothing in return. There would be no sharing.

To face the economic facts of life, we in the metropolitan area could have to vote "enrichment" taxes under Smith-Bullard. Big deal.

Even more worrisome would be the long-range effect Proposal A would have on how school employees are paid. With total state financing of K-12 education, teachers, bus drivers and administrators would be virtually state employees. The ominous next step: state teacher bargaining and a statewide strike.

THE MICHIGAN State Chamber of Commerce came to this grim conclusion after studying Proposal A:

"The Smith-Bullard plan shifts the burden of the support of education to the state level, which could lead to more state control over local education, bring about statewide teacher bargaining and dramatically increase the cost of education."

And who is the chief supporter of Proposal A? The Michigan Education Association, parent organization of the teachers unions and one of the most potent lobbying groups in Lansing.

Smith-Bullard is not the worst plan on the ballot. It has merit in seeking to help poor school districts (which could be better helped by the state appropriation formula and consolidation), and it does look to the income tax.

But it's not an overall tax cut. And it could be an expensive change in a direction that will only hurt school districts in this area.

Vote "no" on Proposal A.

C The 'Coalition' camel juggles but doesn't reform

Proposal C is a compromise of the executive and legislative branches of government. It's dubbed the "Coalition" plan.

Many say it's a reactive answer to Proposal D (Tisch). This is true.

But Proposal C is also supposed to be an answer to Proposal A (Smith-Bullard).

And that's about all Proposal C accomplishes — it's an alternative to A and D. Our Leaders didn't just decide to sit down and redesign the tax system because it seemed like a good idea.

NOT WANTING to cut property taxes in half, the Coalition would reduce each homestead and farm assessments by $7,100. (In this area, a house with a market value of $70,000 would be assessed at $35,000. An assessment reduction of $7,100 would be a cut in property taxes of one-fifth.) Proposals A and D would cut property taxes far more.

Not wanting to increase the income tax, as Proposal A would, the Coalition opted for an increase in the sales tax, from 4 cents to 5.5 cents per dollar (after exempting utility bills).

Our objection is that the sales tax is essentially regressive and not based on ability to pay. Where is the sense in paying people Social Security benefits, pensions, unemployment benefits, workers compensation, Trade Readjustment Act benefits, ADC or welfare and then turning around and taxing the people who were supposed to be helped?

We've been told Proposal C would dip into tourists' pockets through the sales tax hike. Maybe. But we notice tourism dropping as gasoline prices rise. And we notice many Michiganians in border counties already shopping in Toledo, South Bend, Michigan City and Marinette.

Proposal C would earmark all state lottery money for education. This bit of political appeasement only takes money from one pocket and puts it into another.

THE "COALITION" supporting Proposal C includes voices from government, business, labor, agriculture, education, civic groups, Democrats and Republicans.

And that may explain why Proposal C would provide so little basic reform. To win support from such divergent groups, the proposal was watered down, whittled away and compromised.

It reminds us of the old definition of a camel: a horse designed by a committee.

There's no major tax reform in Proposal C, and it warrants a "no" vote.

D Middle class will be poorer if Tisch is inflicted

We pointed out last week that Proposal D, billed as the Tisch tax cut, is terrible constitutional law because it would require future tax changes to get a 60 percent vote of the people.

The American idea of a majority is 50 percent plus one. We can amend the Michigan constitution with a vote of 50 percent plus one.

By requiring a 60 percent "yes" vote on taxes, Tisch would give taxing powers to a 41 percent minority of the voters.

The Michigan Legislature can approve an amendment to the U.S. Constitution with a vote of 50 percent plus one. Under Proposal D, it would need 80 percent to change tax exemptions, credits, rebates or school aid payments.

A negative minority of 21 percent could control the Legislature.

We say "no" to that nonsense and "no" to Proposal D.

THE MIDDLE CLASS of Michiganians would suffer most from the kind of state budget cuts Proposal D would inflict.

Proposal D would cut property taxes an estimated 60 percent or $2 billion, but require the state general fund ($3.7 billion) to make up the difference.

Proposal D requires the state to reimburse local units of government for their lost property tax revenue based on — get this — 1978 assessments. It means local government would not break even but suffer a 20 percent revenue loss from that source.

Do you like the idea of being safe on our freeways at night because the state police are around? Under Proosal D, three-fourths of the uniformed state police troopers would have to be axed.

Did you go to a state college? Are your children or grandchildren college-bound? State aid to colleges would be cut 60 percent. Many would probably have to be closed down if D passes.

Our 84 state parks are grand, but they are technically "non-essential." All but eight would have to be closed.

Do you like the idea of the Judicial Tenure Commission throwing out drunken and incompetent judges? Well, the Judicial Tenure Commission would have to go if Proposal D passes.

During the 1970s, state game wardens tripled the number of arrests of poachers. Say good-bye to the game wardens — and the game — if Proposal D passes.

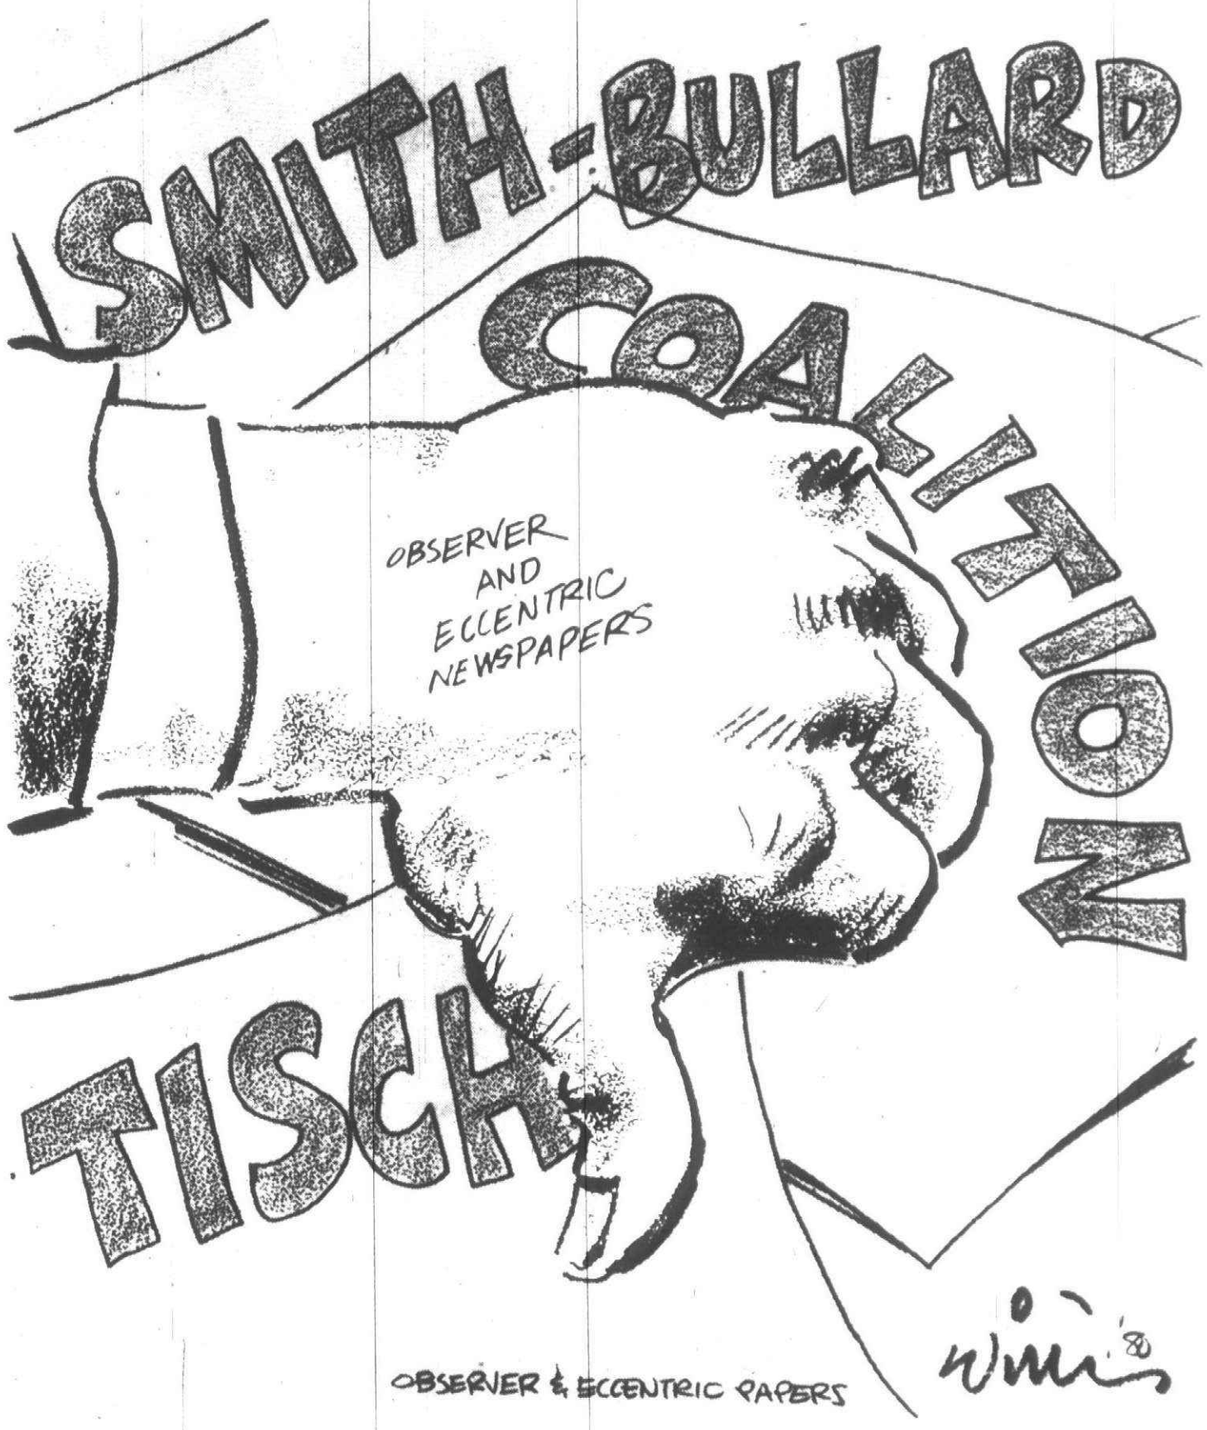

ISN'T IT GOOD when state auditors peer over the shoulders of local government and nail crooked officials? Look for reductions in the auditing staff if D passes. Get ready for more crookedness

The kids who get specialized training at the School for the Blind in Lansing and the School for the Deaf in Flint will have to attend classes in the local districts. The state schools will be closed. Is your district prepared to pick up the load?

Do you benefit from state inspection of meat, grocers' scales and gasoline pumps? We'll be relying on federal inspectors if D passes.

Threats? No. The state can't spend $2 billion it doesn't have if D passes. And the middle class would be the poorer for it.

To all three!

Why we back drinking, prison, legislative plans

If state Proposals A, C and D are complex and full of fishhooks, four other proposals on the Nov. 4 ballot are free of those faults.

Proposals B, E, G and H are straightforward. Each is aimed at a single purpose. Each would make some improvement in society.

The editorial board recommends "yes" votes on Proposals B, E, G and H. (There is no proposal F.)

PROPOSAL B would lower the age for purchase and consumption of alcoholic beverages from 21 to 19.

In 1972, the Age of Majority Act reformed a mish-mash of laws governing the ages at which persons could work, be licensed for various occupations, vote, drink, own property — a whole series of rights and responsibilities.

The new age of majority was placed at 18.

From the start, there was a campaign by enemies of the drinking provision to produce hokey drinking-driving statistics. Every trick in the book was used: selective enforcement, selective choice of arrests, the equating of "involvement" with guilt, and so on.

The tricks worked. In 1978, the voters violated the spirit of the Age of Majority Act and raised the drinking age to 21. It didn't stop young adults from drinking, of course; just made it a little more bothersome.

Proposal B proposes to lower the drinking age not to 18 but to 19. The reason: School officials insisted, with some logic, that younger kids would be less likely to get their hands on the stuff if 18-year-old seniors couldn't purchase it.

Proposal B would right a wrong that was done to 19- and 20-year-olds. It's an honorable compromise. Proposal B should be passed.

PROPOSAL E calls for the construction of four new regional prisons, other prison changes and an increase in the state income tax rate from 4.6 percent to 4.7 percent to pay for it.

The increase of one-tenth of one percent would last five years.

The proposal makes sense because Michigan's prison population has virtually doubled since 1973.

Prison terms are longer now, a judicial response to the increase in crimes against people and property.

In 1978 Michigan voters approved a law prohibiting early paroles for persons convicted of certain violent crimes. That, too, made prison terms longer and increased the prison population.

The public wanted a war on crime. We called the tune. Now it is time to pay the piper. Proposal E should be approved.

PROPOSAL G would end the immunity from civil arrest that state legislators have long enjoyed during sessions of the Michigan Legislature.

Immunity made sense in 1837, when the legislature met only a few weeks a year. It prevented harassment of our lawmakers.

Today, however, the legislature is at least technically in session from early in January to Dec. 31. And now that some traffic violations are civil offenses, legislators are virtually immune from those charges, too.

Times change. The legislature has changed. The state constitution should be changed accordingly by ending legislative immunity. Proposal E should be passed.

PROPOSAL H is similar to an amendment to the U.S. Constitution allowing appointment of a vice president when a vacancy occurs.

Proposal H would: a) allow the governor to appoint a lieutenant governor, subject to ratification by a majority of the legislature; b) allow an incumbent legislator to be eligible for such an appointment; and c) eliminate the provision making the lieutenant governor the presiding officer of the senate.

The senate is quite capable of electing its own presiding officer, as the house does. The lieutenant governor's tie-breaking vote in the senate is used so rarely as to be inconsequential.

Lt. Gov. James Brickley, who has held the job six years, is for Proposal H. Legislators of both parties are for it.

No harm and some good will be accomplished with passage of Proposal H.

Businessman's response surprises: he's for 'D'

His answer really surprised me. In fact, it startled me.

But I should have been prepared. This guy is your bona fide independent thinker.

The question was sort of tongue-in-cheek: "You casually told me a week ago that you were going to vote for the Tisch ammendment. I kind of thought you were kidding. Now I'm asking, are you really going to vote for Tisch?"

"Yes," he replied. And he wasn't being flip.

That simple reply brewed a bevy of questions in my mind, and I couldn't wait to get his responses. So the bowl of chili and glass of milk in front of me were quickly forgotten, and I forged ahead.

It had been an offbeat noon — 30 minutes of racquetball, then lunch. Sitting across from me at Herc's on Plymouth Road was a successful industrialist, 55, with a firm in Livonia doing nearly $30 million in annual sales in 48 states.

WE AGREED I would not use his name, which you probably would quickly recognize. He was raised in Detroit. During his first marriage, he lived in Birmingham. He took over the family business shortly after finishing college nearly 30 years ago.

It has flourished under his leadership, just as it did under his dad and his grandfather.

But this isn't a business story. Rather it's what one businessman thinks about the state of financial affairs Michigan and our nation have gotten themselves into.

"Tisch (Proposal D) is extreme," he said, "It would hit (state) services. But things have gone to such an extreme that we must do this to check government spending. It's like the old analogy, 'Hit the donkey with a two-by-four to get his attention.' That's about what is required.

"A political system precludes correcting itself. We have to go to extremes." Voting for Propoisal D is the only way, he feels.

THIS FELLOW IS no newcomer to the concept of tax reform. In 1976 and '78, he worked with forces supporting the Headlee tax limitation amendment. That legislation tried hard, but didn't fully do the job, he said.

Then his conversation turned to heavyweight economists: Milton Friedman, Paul McCracken, William E. Simon. "(They) all feel that the one basic cause of inflation is government spending more than it takes in."

If this cycle isn't stopped, he said, in 12 to 15 years the monetary system of the U.S. will collapse or suffer a painful reorganization.

My friend suggests citizens read "A Time for Truth" by Simon, who says such things as:

"Federal spending had flown out of control. It had increased 232 percent from 1961 to 1975 . . . grown faster by far in the past 20 years than the private economy that supported it, rising nearly 400 percent. State and local spending had mushroomed 520 percent."

SO NOW WE HAVE the opportunity to act, my racquetball and luncheon partner said.

"What about the result of passing Tisch? Won't that eventually mean more taxes on business, on you?" I asked.

"Yes," he said, "but if Tisch doesn't pass, in the long run business would be in a lot worse situation unless steps are taken to change things, to put a curb on state spending. In the short term, business will get it in the neck."

So there you have one businessman's opinion.

Tax reform and better schools in one package

Lynn Orr

For decades, complaints about property tax have been more common than complaints about Michigan winters.

And lately, complaints about the quality of public school education have been epidemic.

Yet this year, when voters have a chance to dramatically remedy the system of financing public schools, very few want to consider the cure.

Proposal A on the Nov. 4 ballot would cut property taxes on homes and shift much of the burden of school financing to the income tax.

Tagged the Smith-Bullard proposal — for its legislative backers, state Reps. Roy Smith and Perry Bullard — it essentially proposes a minimum financial standard for districts across the state.

In other words, the proposal's backers seek to establish a minimum standard for school expenses. The proposal also provides an option for local taxpayers to vote separate millage for enrichment.

THE PROPOSAL'S goal is one that has been talked about for years —— equal funding in education.

School financing under the property tax system penalizes school districts which lack a lucrative industrial and commercial tax base and/or expensive residences. Districts lacking a high tax base per pupil either have poorer school systems or extraordinary taxes for a good system.

The result is a wide discrepancy in school financing, as much as a $1,500 per-pupil difference between school districts. Granted, districts in outstate areas, particularly in the Upper Peninsula, pay lower salaries in areas where the cost of living is lower.

But for the most part, it's easy to see that wealthy districts, such as Livonia's with a large industrial base, or Bloomfield Hills with high residential property values, have more to offer their students. That "more" translates into special classes, better equipment and often smaller class sizes than poorer districts.

The districts without such amenities must plead for increases in property tax rates with residents who often cannot afford to pay more for their schools.

PROPOSAL A would change that. It would providing a statewide minimum per-pupil expenditure to be distributed through the state. And there's the rub.

School officials who have bemoaned their financial fates for years all of a sudden decided that they prefer "local" funding and "local control" and they "like things the way they are."

Those same officials never have mentioned local control when they went to Lansing for state aid for 40 years.

They didn't scream about local control when they went to Washington, D.C. to ask President Carter to create a new cabinet-level Department of Education.

Their response to Proposal A is a short-sighted vision of losing local control.

Behind the Smith-Bullard critics lurks another motive for opposition — each school district and municipality wants to protect its own. When the bottom line is drawn, each government is in there battling for its own turf. Suddenly no one wants to talk about equal education for children.

When a change is offered, they start talking about how the property tax system is "equitable." By failing to support true tax reform, they're forcing disgruntled taxpayers into the enemy Tisch's camp.

DISGRUNTLED TAXPAYERS are fed up with soaring property taxes on the their homes. They're fed up with both state and local officials who have failed to come up with an answer to their problem.

They seem to prefer the answer proposed by Shiawassee County Drain Commissioner Robert Tisch — slash property taxes in half and let the state cut programs to assure local school funding.

Officials worried about local control might consider: The higher education system in Michigan will be gutted if the Tisch proposal is adopted.

Proposal A can solve another problem that the Headlee tax limitation amendment failed to address. Assessments on houses are rising faster than assessments on business property simply because houses change hands oftener and can be reassessed. When a tax rate rollback is calculated under Headlee, it applies to an entire community. In a community with a mixture of houses and businesses, the homeowner gets no benefit.

Proposal A would equalize property by class — homes in one group, businesses in others. When an inflationary housing market kicks up house prices and assessments, the homeowner would get a break on his property tax rate — the kind of break Headlee intended but failed to achieve.

PROPOSAL A has many supporters — the League of Women Voters, the Michigan State Police Troopers Association, the Inter-Faith Information and Action Council, the Public Interest Research Group in Michigan, the Michigan Townships Association (MTA) and the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

MTA is backing the proposal because it has something in it for them — the potential to increase township millage without a vote. School millage competes with township millage, and shifting to income tax is another positive attribute for townships.

If Michigan as a state is to move forward and provide equally for its residents, Proposal A is a step in the right direction.

It's a chance to begin tax reform that will strive for an equal educational opportunity for all children and place a more nearly equal burden on those who must pay the bill.

Monte Nagler: 'It's never too late'

Ansel Adams, 78, remains active in photography and an energetic inspiration to Monte Nagler, who took this picture.

At age 76, Anna Mary Robertson's worsening arthritis forced her to give up the embroidering that had occupied her leisure time for many years.

She decided, however, that her hands were steady enough for painting. By the time she died at age 101, some 25 years after she began her new career, Anna was a famous artist with a world-wide reputation.

Anna Robertson, popularly known as Grandma Moses, delighted the world with her primitive style American images.

James Michener, one of our grandest storytellers, didn't have his first book published until he was 40 years of age. And even then, "Tales of the South Pacific" was not well received. Years passed until Michener gained his reputation.

IT DOESN'T follow we should all strive to the levels of Grandma Moses and James Michener. The point is that it's never too late to begin a new endeavor or take up a new avocation.

People today are working less and retiring earlier. With an abundance of available leisure hours, the opportunity has never been so readily at hand to begin a new and exciting challenge.

Photography could be just the thing for you. Photography offers the opportunity of keeping active and busy even in the later years of life when other activities have to be curtailed.

Photography can not only be an emotionally satisfying hobby, but it can be an excellent way of expressing yourself and your perception of the important things in your life, no matter what your age.

THERE IS AN abundance of camera clubs and nature groups in the area with members ranging in age from their teens through their senior citizen years.

You'll find the interaction and camaraderie between photographers of all ages stimulating.

There is an assortment of ages and backgrounds among students in my classes, and I get a particular thrill when an elderly person signs up and begins photography as a hobby.

Ansel Adams, who will soon turn 79, remains highly active in photography. Currently, he is revising his "Basic Photo Series" books. It consists of five volumes, and he still finds plenty of time to shoot, print, teach and lecture.

I believe the major reasons Adams remains so young at heart and full of energy are his love of photography and his devotion to promoting the medium.

It's never too late to begin something new. Photography is a creative and satisfying outlet which allows you to advance to whatever level you wish to achieve.

1980 by Monte Nagler. The writer is an area businessman, West Bloomfield resident and president of the Greater Detroit Camera Clubs Council.

- "The Age of the Automobile" is the subject of a theme photo contest at Twelve Oaks Mall, Novi Road north of I-96. Pictures must be taken at the mall's exhibit of classic and antique autos Oct. 24 to Nov. 2. Informal modeling sessions will be held from 9-11 a.m. Saturday; 7-9 p.m. Tuesday; and 7-9 p.m. Oct. 30. Photos may be either in color or black and white. Entry forms will be avilable there.
- "Nature and a Simple Camera" will be the topic of a photo workshop at 2 p.m. Sunday at the nature center of Stony Creek Metropark northeast of Rochester. Naturalist Bill Thomas will teach how to take good nature photos with simple equipment. Bring your camera to try some of the techniques in the field. The workshop is free, but you need to register in advance by calling the nature center at 781-4621. There is a vehicle admission to the park.
- Monte Nagler will teach a basic photography class at the Farmington Community Center, Farmington Road north of Ten Mile, on Wednesday evenings beginning Oct. 29. Call the center at 477-8404 for details.

The VIEW from CANTON CENTER

THE PRESIDENTIAL election has evoked interest in the area elementary schools. Out at Tanger elementary on Five Mile Road, the fifth-graders in Gail Nikolics' class have their candidates ready for their Nov. 3 election. Everyone in the school will have an opportunity to vote.

David Watts (yes, he's the son of Jane and Price Watts) will represent Ronald Reagan. Matthew Lively will represent President Carter. And John Anderson will represent John Anderson.

John is a real find. According to Ms. Nikolics, he is a towhead. His hair is almost as white as real candidate's. He doesn't wear glasses, but his mother is going to produce some horned rimmed spectacles to make him a little more authentic.

The students have been making posters and politicking. They will have a general assembly the morning of the election when the hopefuls will have a last opportunity to address their constituents.

Then it will be off to the polls.

In the meantime, the fifth-graders are learning all about the Electoral College and the political process. Ms. Nikolics promises it will be a clean campaign.

DENNIS AND CHERYL Cassady, who live on Coronation Drive in Canton Township, would like to form a wine tasters club for the Plymouth/Canton community. They have set the date of Saturday, Nov. 22, for the first tasting. Anyone interested in joining can call either Dennis or Cheryl at 397-1784.

TAKE YOUR binoculars along Saturday to the University of Michigan-Illinois football game in Ann Arbor. You may be able to recognize some of the members of the Plymouth Community Band who will take the field at halftime.

It is homecoming game and members of the Michigan Band Alumni Association will be performing.

Among the oldtimers — they refer to the student band as the "junior band" — will be Bill Upton, Jack Wells and Doug McLeod.

All three are former members of the U-M marching band who now are regulars in the Community Band. Bill plays trumpet and cornet; Jack plays saxophone. Both are longtime members of the alumni association and members of the board of directors. Jack and Bill are responsible for the publication of the association's mid-year newsletter.

Another former Plymouth resident, Bob Chute, usually shows up with his saxophone at the homecoming game. Bob and Bill played in the 1948 Rose Bowl Band. Before that, they played together in a dance band at Plymouth High School.

IT'S A LONG DAY for the band alumni. They meet at the William D. Revelli Band Hall. Before having lunch in the hall, they get organized and march as a group over to play a few rousers at the Michigan Alumni Association luncheon.

After the game, there is a get-together in the band hall for talk, cider and doughnuts.

Grandmother's wedding gown rejuvenated

"The bride wore her grandmother's wedding gown" always adds a sentimental touch to a wedding announcement. For those starry-eyed young women with visions of taking grandma's gown out of its tissue paper wrapping and floating down the aisle, it isn't all that simple.

When Julie Nyhus and Kim Bauer were married Oct. 11 in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, her grandmother, Marion Bernash, must have had some flashbacks in memory. Marion Severance wore the same dress June 1, 1935 when she and Allen Bernash were married in Our Lady of Good Counsel.

The crepe-backed satin gown had spent most of the last 45 years in a plastic bag in the Bernashes' attic. When Julie tried on the dress, it was perfect, although she is slightly taller than her grandmother. They took it to an expert to see what could be done.

Geneva Salyer suggested a tulip overlay of silk organza embroidered with lilies of the valley. Because the sleeves were too snug, an oval insert of of the organza could be used ease the fit.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bernash posed for their wedding photograph on June 1, 1935.

MRS. SALYER went to work.

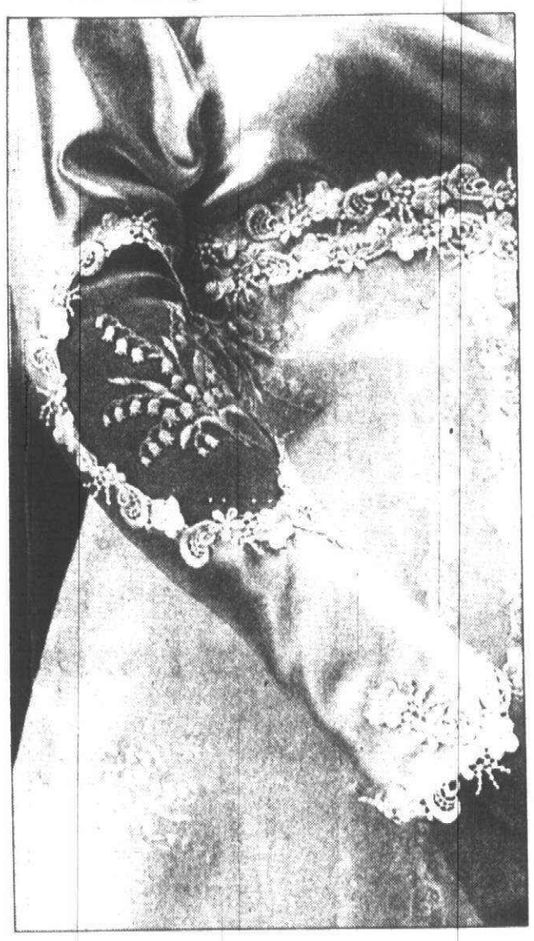

She took the dress apart at the waist and changed it to an empire style. She inserted the new tulip overlay skirt which fell into a chapel-length train. The skirt was edged in ruching to give it the needed extra length. Venice lace was added to the waistline to emphasize the empire lines and to the sleeves.

The original satin-covered buttons remained, as good as new.

Mrs. Bernash had paid $17 for her wedding gown. After 25-30 hours of handiwork, the renovation was much more expensive than the original. But the result was all they had hoped for.

Mrs. Salyer said the 45-year-old wedding gown was in excellent condition. She also had a suggestion for the preservation of wedding gowns.

"There are dry cleaners or other services which offer heirlooming," said the owner of Geneva's bridal salon. "Dirt, starches or other fabric treatments are removed and the dress is stored in an air-free container. Air and dirt cause fabric damage."

The venice silk lace and the embroidered silk organza over-skirt and sleeve insert were added to the original crepe-backed satin gown.

Marion Bernash and her granddaughter, Julie Nyhus, wore the same wedding gown. Mrs. Bernash wore it 45 years ago. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Annual PPOA dinner dance Friday night

Traditionally one of the community's more elegant events, the Plymouth Police Officers Association will have its 11th annual dinner dance Friday evening at the Plymouth Hilton Inn. Although dress for the ball is optional, each woman in attendance will receive a corsage.

Admission is $35 per couple and tickets still are available from any Plymouth police officer. Those attending the party will dine on prime rib roast at the formal dinner. Dancing will follow to the music of the Eddie Santini Band. There will be a cash bar.

The dinner dance is being chaired by Mike Gardner, president of the PPOA with the assistance of Barbara Carpenter. Persons wishing more information can call 455-4799.

THE ANNUAL ball is the association's only social event of the year.

The group is involved in community affairs and over the years has made donations to many projects, concentrating on youth organizations.

The PPOA is a regular supporter of boys' and girls' basketball and baseball programs at both Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools. Contributions have been made to Growth Works, the Special Olympics, the muscular dystrophy drive and the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

The members bought a uniform for the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps; contributed to the Fourth of July Parade organized by the Jaycees; and made donations to the Centennial Educational Park National Honors Societies.

The party begins at 8 p.m. in the Hilton on Northville Road and dancing will continue until 1 a.m.

3 generations of scholars

Katie Crissey, 3, (from left) Jan Crissey and Mary Pierson Richardson represent three generations of one family which attended the little red schoolhouse on the corner of Warren and Haggerty roads in Canton Township. For preschooler Katie, it is the Plymouth Children's Nursery Inc. as it was for her mother, Jan Crissey. When Katie's grandmother, Mrs. Richardson, went to the school in 1942-43, it was Hough Elementary School. She said the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades sat in rows and Mary Hauk taught them all. She recalls the barn odors on the shoes of the youngsters who did farm chores before coming to school and listening in on the other grades' lessons. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

'High Society'

Stars come out for fashion benefit

Frank Sinatra won't be singing "What a Swell Party This Is," but the Redford Suburban League's annual Ways and Means celebrity fashion show promises a touch of "High Society" nonetheless.

Channel 2 anchorwoman Robbie Timmons and weathercaster Sonny Eliot will host the High Society show, as local celebrities model fashions on the runway during the Nov. 5 show to benefit retarded children.

The 250 volunteers of the Redford Suburban League are hoping for a sell-out show this year. A boutique featuring hand-crafted items will kick off activities at 10 a.m. at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn. Lunch at noon will be followed by the 1 p.m. fashion show featuring men's and women's fashions by Alvin's of Birmingham and Osmun's of Tel-Twelve Mall.

Johnny Trudell's orchestra will accompany the parade of fashions, guiding the celebrity models through their steps. Media personalities included among the models are Channel 7's Bill Bonds, Diana Lewis, Jack McCarthy and Doris Biscoe; Channel 2's Beverly Payne Harry Gallagher, Lorrie Kapp, Ronnie Clemmer and Jim Price; newswoman Sandi Drew; Marty Schaefer; Jo Jo Shutty; Bryon McGregor; and Bob and Margie Allison.

Other models will be Chef Duglass-Duglass; state Sen. Robert Geake; Tiger pitcher Milt Wilcox and his wife, Laguanda; Dollie Cole; Mrs. Michigan, Mabel Arvo; and Ardis Kenealy.

Ivy Austin, Cheryl Howard and Connie Gould, from the Fisher Theatre production of "They're Playing Our Song," also will be modeling.

THE WRAP-UP of the show will be a donation event offering gifts. Tickets are $15 and may be purchased by calling 478-9359, 9-10 a.m. weekdays.

Last year's show drew about 1,200 guests and raised nearly $9,000. The funds were donated to the Northwest Communities Association for retarded citizens, Penrickton Center for Blind Children, Northwestern Guidance Clinic, Methodist Children's Home, Goodfellows Christmas fund, Redford Information and Counseling Center, the adolescent day treatment program of Redford Union Schools, Redford's Care-Ring program, the Boy's Club of Redford, Community Opportunity Center of Livonia, South Redford School District for special education students, and Redford Union School for the Special Olympics for retarded children.

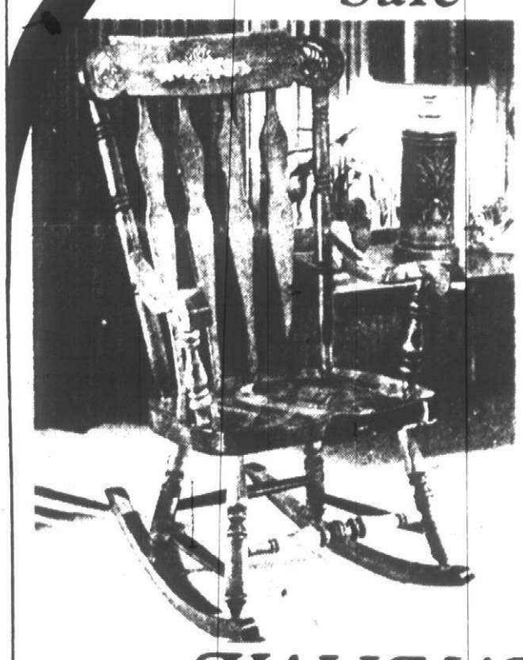

New hope for sickle cell

Improved treatment of patients with sickle cell anemia by combining two existing drugs in a new way was reported by medical researchers at The University of Michigan.

George J. Brewer, M.D., U-M professor of internal medicine and human genetics, told fellow scientists at a research meeting that the effects of zinc, a known drug against the disease, have been imporoved at the U-M by combining it with dosages of a potent tranquilizer, phenothiazine.

The combined drugs, in trials at the U-M Hospital, caused large numbers of abnormal sickle shaped cells to resume a normal round shape, which may avoid painful, life-threatening crises in which the sickle-shaped cells jam up in small blood vessels cutting off circulation.

Soccer league result of dedication

Canton Chatter

By KATHY FREECE 981-2027

Soccer is by far the most popular field sport in the world. The growth and awareness of this game in our community is due largely to the unending dedicication of several people.

In the spring of 1978, Ken and Kim Johnson, Dave and Beryl Monk, and Ed and Joyce Liuzzo broke ground in the rear of Canton High School to begin the fulfillment of their dream: that our small township should have a soccer league of its own.

Through the cooperation of John Sandmann and Paul Cummings, program directors at the high school, a field was provided. The field was knee high in weeds, so the men and women knew that they had to lay out the field, haul in dirt for the low areas, erect goal posts, and maintain the area once it was in proper shape.

Since then, new fields have been constructed at Griffin Park, Miller School, in front of the high school, and most recently, Hulsing School. All the above playing areas are mowed, chalked, and maintained by the parents of the children in the existing league. The dedication and concern of many hard-working people have made the teams representing Canton very noteworthy adversaries. We are a part of the Great Lakes Soccer League, and we play nearby communities such as Redford, Livonia, Garden City, Novi, Dearborn, and Dearborn Heights.

SOCCER HAS touched our headlines a number of times in past weeks because of its entry into the high school curriculum. This came about due to the extensive efforts of Dave Monk. He also made it possible for the smaller youngsters to grow to enjoy the game as much as he does.

At the present time, there is a Dave Monk Cup, a playoff trophy awarded to the season's under 12 division winner. The team which wins the championship has its name inscribed on the cup and gets to keep it for a year. There is a Ken Johnson Cup for the under 10 division winner each season.

I am sure there will be an Ed Liuzzo Cup in the near future.

The acting officers of this year's league are Brian Murray, president; Ray Widdick, vice president; Bob Carey, treasurer; Ed Liuzzo, head coach; Steve Kozusko, equipment manager; and Ed O'Donnell, secretary. The demanding job of referee scheduling is handled by Ken Johnson.

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT the coaches be given credit for their time at practice, and all important reassuring influence at game time. The under-8 (Pee Wees) are coached by Rick Wears, Bud Nielson, Beth Liuzzo, Dave Blanzy, Bill Stewart, Bob Cary, Kathy Freece, Wes Shasko, Ron Martinez and Tom Tomas. There are 166 players in this group and they are involved in an instructional, no pressure evironment.

I can not say the same for the remainder of the 480 participants who range in age from 8 to 19. The men and women who coach these age groups are involved in a never ending battle between referees and parents. They deserve recognition, too.

The under-10 groups are coached by Terry Brozik, Ron Berglund, Jerry Gibbons, Dean Adamian, Bill Power, Phil LaJoy, Russ Baker, Mike Barretta, Gayle Young, Jim Garrow, and Steve Gutiettez.

Boys and girls under 12 are guided by Steve Kozusko, Brian Murray, Kirk Campbell, Joe Kuchmay, Ray Widdick, Chuck Delbeke, Dennis Kansier, Terry Foster, Tony Lonigro, Gerry Grady, and Linda Meldrum.

Bill Onopa, Ed Liuzzo, Tony Shiner, Pete Cundari, Kay Campbell, Eric Jensen, Ed O'Donnell, and Jack Balcom direct the players in the remaining age divisions.

Thanks to all of you it's working!

FOR THOSE READERS who do not know me, I am Kathy Freece. I have taken over the job of writing about the people and activities in the city. I hope to provide both light-hearted and controversial information about Canton residents.

Hopefully, you will contact me with your news and views to share with our readers. I have already been told that many people looked forward to Sam Nichols' column each week.

Speaking of Sam, during her last week in town, she and Rex had a party to thank the people who gave them a going-away party. They really wanted to empty their liquor closet because the movers told them that they would not move any opened bottles.

What would you do with 15 slightly empty bottles? There are some things that can only be shared with good friends!

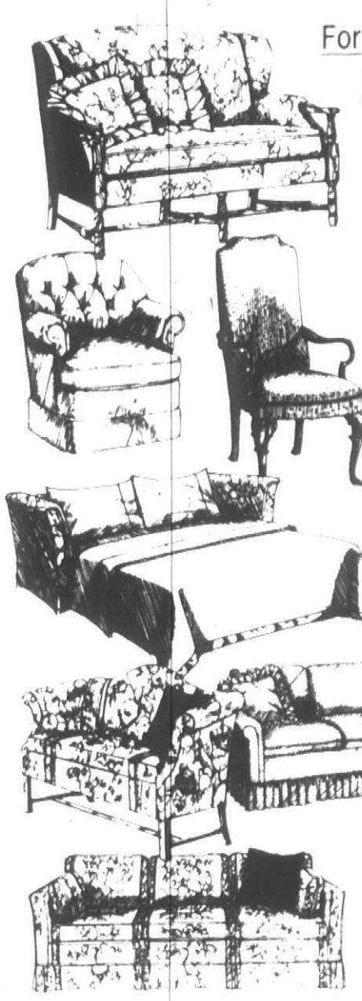

Book teaches sign language

A new book, "Intermediate Sign Language," studies this language, which ranks third in usage in this country as a non-English language.

The book includes 370 signs, an index and a glossary of symbols for transcribing sign language. It also has lessons on negatives, and on relating dialogue, poetry and songs.

The book costs $17.95, and can be ordered from Joyce Media, 8753 Shirley, PO Box 458, Northridge, Calif. 91328; 800-423-5413.

Teachers' tea

Retired teachers from the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools were guests of honor recently at an afternoon tea. It was the third annual tea planned by members of the Beta Xi chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, an educational sorority. Adina Rice (left) chaired the event in the library of East Middle School. She was assisted by Betty Ervine, Lorraine Raymer and Ellen Gross. Seated at one table were (from left) Clara Isbister with retired teachers Leah Stormont, Peggy Anderson and Lucille Finkbeiner. Eighteen former teachers attended the tea. One of them, William Grimmer, former teacher of vocal music at East, was back on his old stand. The chorus at East was slated to perform at the tea. When their director, Diane Brady, was unable to attend, Grimmer took baton in hand and directed the group. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

Tulips to bloom in the spring

Members of the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association were out in the Point Park last week planting tulip bulbs. Mrs. Robert Erdelyi, club's civic chairwoman, (right) said they planted all red tulips — early, middle and late bloomers — which promise about six weeks of blooms in the spring. Mrs. Henry Pierce (from left, below) Mrs. Bruce Richard and Mrs. Robert Schultz were on the planting crew. (Staff photos by Gary Caskey)

What happens if someone collects my rare coins and silverware?

They may not be covered under the homeowners policy you have now.
Valuables like furs, silverware and musical instruments deserve, and often require, extra coverage.
We'll be happy to analyze your homeowners policy to see if your valuables are adequately protected. And if not, we can recommend a special Auto-Owners "Personal Articles Floater" that will keep them covered.

Orthodox prelate visits area

St. Mary Antiochan Orthodox Church of Livonia will roll out red carpet this weekend for the head of its denomination, the Most Rev. Metropolitan Philip Saliba.

METROPOLITAN PHILIP SALIBA

The visiting prelate, primate of the Antochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese of North America, will celebrate the divine liturgy at 10:30 a.m. Sunday in the church at 18100 Merriman.

Later he will be speaker for a 6 p.m. banquet ar Roma Hall of West Bloomfield, a sellout with 600 tickets purchased at $150 per couple. Funds raised will be used by St. Mary church, which draws from a wide area, for construction of the church's new community center at the Merriman site.

The church, founded in 1972, welcomed Metropolitan Philip when it dedicated its sanctuary in 1976.

"We are very happy to have him coming back to us," said the Rev. George Shahoub, pastor of the 150-family local church.

"His presence always brings good things to us. He is a very warm person who has worked all his life for the poor and the needy."

THE METROPOLITAN, it was noted by the local priest, is a native of Lebanon who includes Wayne State University among the schools where he has studied and been awarded degrees.

As a WSU student, he was president of the Arab Student Foundation, and he graduated with a bachelor degree in 1959. Ordained the same year, he was elevated to the archdiocese's highest office in 1966. Nine years later he effected with Archbishop Michael Shaheen of Toledo a union of two North American Antiochian archdioceses.

Fr. Shahoub said the metropolitan has played an important role in seeking peace in the Middle East.

Since the outbreak of Israli-Arab conflice in 1967, he said, the prelate has visited United States presidents Lyndon Johnson, Dwight Eisenhower, Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter and also has had an audience with Pope Paul VI.

In 1968 he established a $100,000 endowment fund in Beirut to provide financial grants for the education of Arab refugees in the fields of science, medicine, economics and technology, and three years ago he established an endowment of $500,000 for the Balamand Orthodox Academy in Lebanon.

"THE FIRST Christians came from Antioch — you find that in the book of the Acts," said Fr. Shahoub, "and our metropolitan is an example of a fine Christian Arab.

"He is for a just settlement for the Palestinian problem, because he feels that unless it is solved, the Middle East will never see a day of peace, no matter what the superpowers do.

"He feels the church must speak out about the plight of the refugees in Syria and Egypt and on the West Bank."

St. Mary church, one of some 150 Antiochian congregations in North America, held services in Mt. Hope Congregational Church when it first was established in Livonia.

The move to the Merriman location came in 1975. This year the congregation, led by Parish Council Chairman Naim Kawwas, completed a five-classroom addition to the original sanctuary building.

The proposed center, said Fr. Shahoub, "will accommodate the needs of the congregation and the community for social and spiritual events."

Joy celebration planned at Ward

A 25-year Detroit-area ministry, most of it in Livonia, will be noted for Dr. and Mrs. Bartlett L. Hess in a celebration in Ward Presbyterian Church this weekend.

"Celebration of Joy" is the title given two banquets, programs following each of them and special morning and evening services Sunday.

Bartlett and Margaret Hess first came to Detroit in 1955 when a call was extended by Ward Memorial Presbyterian Church in the northwest part of the city. A few months later the the mission that was to become the huge Livonia church had its beginnings.

The Hesses remember coming to this community in 1956, looking west from the land purchased at Farmington Road and Six Mile, and seeing only land with a few farmhouses.

"The Lord gave us the faith to believe that a church would rise on this spot," Dr. Hess reflected years later. "However, I never though that the church would continue to grow as it has or we would have selected 25 acres rather than eight."

THE HESS MINISTRY will be honored by Ward members and friends with banquets tonight and tomorrow night. Reservations are required for these; no tickets will be sold at the door. Call the church office, 422-1150, for reservations.

Each banquet will be followed at 8 p.m. by a program free and open to the public. The programs will be held in the sanctuary.

Dr. Hess will preach at 8, 10 and 11:30 a.m. Sunday on the topic "Our 25 Years in Detroit."

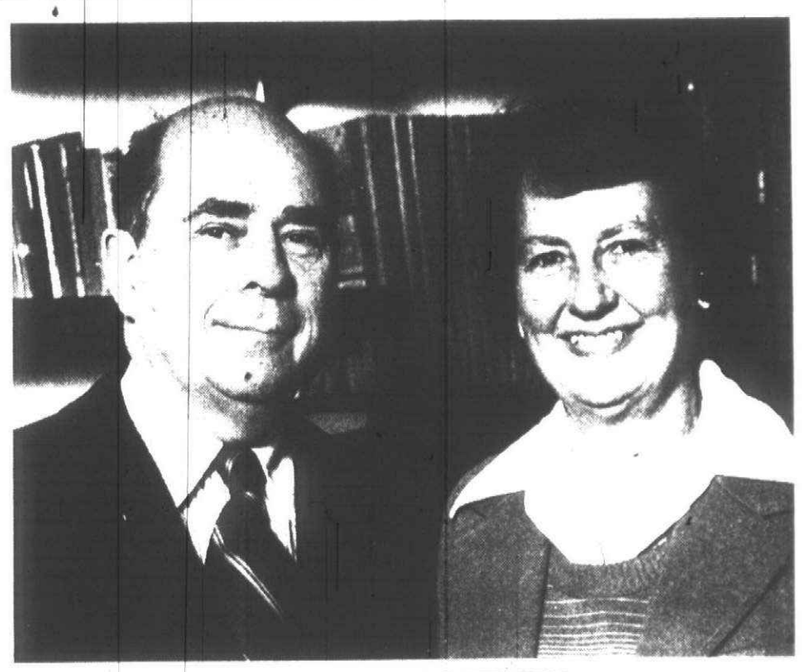

The celebration will conclude with a service of music and testimony at 7 p.m. Sunday. The service and the reception to be held afterwards in Knox Hall also will be open to the public.

WARD CHURCH in Livonia held its first services in Lincoln School in the Coventry Gardens section. The first chapel unit was built in 1960.

On Dec. 1, 1968, the Livonia congregation organized as a separate church and installed Dr. Hess as its first pastor.

For some years, as the congregation began the growth that has brought it to a membership count of 3,400, Dr. Hess preached in both churches Sunday mornings.

His Sunday stint now involves three services for some 2,000 worshipers in the morning and occasional preaching at evening worship.

DR. AND MRS. BARTLETT HESS

Recently the Livonia congregation began its own mission church. Trinity Chapel was organized in Superior Township in March 1979, and in June of this year its 250 members became an autonomous church.

In another momentous event last June, Dr. Hess led Ward members in a decisive vote to leave the United Presbyterian Church in a dispute over doctrine and other matters.

BESIDES LEADING the church in tremendous growth, Dr. and Mrs. Hess have co-authored two books, "How to Have a Giving Church," and "The Power of a Loving Church."

Mrs. Hess, teacher of community Bible classes in Livonia and Birmingham during most of the ministry, has written two books, "Love Knows No Barriers," the story of the biblical book of Ruth, and "Esther," also based on the Bible book.

Looking back over the quarter-century ministry, Dr. Hess stated: "The Lord has sent us a lot of wonderful people wo have joined hands to build our church to the glory of God and for the winning of people to Jesus Christ."

church bulletin

PILGRIM MISSION CHURCH, 5737 Middlebelt, Garden City, will present the Rev. Nadine K. Fetterman, in a series of revival meeting for young people Oct. 22 through Nov. 1.

There will be specialsinging and music foreach service, and all in the area are welcome.

LIVONIA WESLEYAN CHURCH, 14560 Merriman, is conducting special services each night this weekwith the Rev. R.G. Humble, campus pastor of God's Bible School in Cincinati. The visitor has been an evangelist in the Church of Christ in Christian Union for several year.

Services are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. week days and at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday.

LAKE POINTE BIBLE CHAPEL, 42150 Schoolcraft, Plymouth, will begin a 10-episode documentary film, "How Should We Then Live," with two 30-minute segments begining at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. The series will continue through Nov. 23.

The films were written by Dr. Francis Schaeffer and narrated by him. They trace the rise and decline of Western though and culture, finishing with his conclusion thatman's only hope is to return to truth as revealed through the scriptures.

ST. PAUL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Five Mile west of Inkster, will present the Rev. Donald Lester, executive of the Presbytery of Detroit, in a talk for its Adult Forum at 11 a.m. Sunday.

REV. NADINE FETTERMAN

REV. R.G. HUMBLE

ST. MARTIN EPISCOPAL CHURCH, 24699 Grand River, Detroit, will serve an autumn dinner beginning at 6 p.m. Saturday. An auction will follow at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $4 and available at the door.

Vicarate meet views family

"Living and Growing with the Changes Affecting Family Life" is the theme of a general assembly of the Western Wayne Vicarate, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in St. Raphael school, Merriman north of Ford, Garden City.

Marge and Charles Sears, a couple involved in the Family Life ministry at St. Gerard Catholic Church of Detroit, will be the speakers.

They will discuss changes affecting families that have occurred in this generation, what individual families need in order to cope with these changes and the ways that parish churches could help.

After their presentation, the participants will form three groups to consider political issues that impact family life, special education for the mentally handicapped and support groups for leaders.

The host church will serve refreshments.

The vicarate is a grouping of 17 Catholic churches located in Canton, Garden City, Wayne, Westland, Belleville, Inkster, New Boston and Romulus. It coordinates activities in ministries for member churches.

The current vicar is the Rev. Joseph A. Gagnon of St. Richard Church, Westland.

Religious humanists convene

Rabbi Sherwin Wine will be the keynote speaker for "Conference for the Fellowship of Religious Humanists" scheduled for Friday through Sunday, Oct. 24-26.

The conference is hosted by Birmingham Temple and Birmingham Unitarian Church.

Theme of the conference is "A Scular Religion, How do We Create It," with the aim of bringing together humanists, secularists and naturalists from all walks of life to explore and plan for a new secular relgion.

"The greatest danger in America today is the fundamentalist mood of America's right," said Rabbi Wine. "We who stand opposed to this ideology must provide an equally dynamic commitment."

The $20 fee includes lunch on Saturday.

Registrations and inquiries will be taken by calling the temple office, 474-1410.

Youth collect for UNICEF

The junior high fellowship of Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church will sponsor a Trick or Treat for UNICEF event 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

The young people will canvas the church's Livonia neighborhood during the early part of the afternoon with canisters for the United Nations Children's Fund. Halloween is a traditional time for collecting for the international organization.

Later they will return to the church for games and refreshments. All interested in participating are invited to join the church group.

Money collected will be forwarded to UNICEF in New York for distribution throughout the world. The organization concerns itself with the essential needs and problems of children, especially those in the developing nations.

Long life: Abstinence or a shot a day?

"To what do you attribute your old age?" the gentleman is asked on his 100th birthday.

"Abstinence and clean living," goes the proverbial reply. But in another version, it's "a shot of whiskey every day of my life."

The old story illustrates some of the myths about the drinking of the elderly, says Edith Lisensky Gomberg, University of Michigan professor of social work, and how much of the information that exists is contradictory and inconclusive.

GOMBERG SUMMARIZES the literature on older people's abstinence, social drinking and drinking problems in "Drinking and Problem Drinking Among the Elderly," recently published by the Institute of Gerontology at U-M.

"The scarcity of information is hardly surprising considering that we are combining two complex areas in which there are more disagreements than facts," she notes. "Social scientists differ on how to define 'alcoholism' and on what chronological age constitutes 'older' or 'elderly.'

"There is a consensus, however, that from the age of 50 on, the percentage of people in the population who engage in any drinking, infrequent to heavy, decreases."

Reasons for the decline include reduced income, the changing metabolism of alcohol that comes with aging, and changes in social life style, she explains.

"Interestingly, the dramatic drop in the incidence of heavy drinking comes at about age 50 for women and age 65 for men. The proportion of women heavy drinkers reaches a peak of 10 percent during the years 45-49," Gomberg says. "At age 50, heavy drinkers drop below 2 percent.

"For men, the proportion of heavy drinkers falls from 24 percent in the 60-64 age bracket to 7 percent after age 65.

"There has been much talk about retirement as a stress which precipitates problem drinking," she notes, "but it may be that for some, retirement lessens job stresses and frustrations related to heavy drinking. It also removes workplace companions as a social drinking group."

AS HEAVY DRINKING decreases, abstinence increases — from 36 to 51 percent for women as they reach age 50 and from 30 to 38 percent for men at age 65, the U-M researcher reports.

Do patterns of heavy drinking or abstinence relate to gender, social class, ethnic group or religious affiliation?

Much needs to be learned about why certain subgroups of American society follow certain drinking patterns, Gomberg says.

"The higher the social status of any particular group under study, the smaller the difference in the proportions of men and women who drink," Gomber adds.

"A 1969 study shows that 83 percent of the highest status women report drinking compared to 37 percent of those in the lowest class, an indication that social drinking is more sanctioned among upper income people.

"THE 'HEAVY DRINKER' is more likely to be found among lower income, lower status wome, however. As one goes down the socioeconomic scale in all age groups, there is a smaller proportion of women who drink, but of that number, a higher proportion of heavy drinkers."

" 'Heavy drinking' may be objectively defined in a scientific survey, but more often it is defined by spouses and other relatives. The woman who never joins her husband for business lunches may be alarmed by the martinis he mixes at noon. The elderly woman who rarely took a cocktail now disturbs her grown children by taking a 'nightcap' before bedtime.

"In these instances, is drinking a problem to the individual involved or to members of the family? What needs study is people's perceptions of how older persons ought to behave," Gomberg says.

One difficulty with estimating the extent of drinking problems among the elderly is that the group "probably underutilizes alcohol treatment centers, just as they underutilize mental health resources in general," she explains.

"Outreach is difficult but there is general agreement that retired widowers and other elderly men living alone are among the most vulnerable.

"It is all very well to say that stress, loneliness, losses and society's attitudes toward aging contribute to problem drinking among the elderly, but we cannot quickly put an end to these conditions.

"Thus we would recommend prevention campaigns, focused on senior centers and housing developments and incorporated within preretirement education programs.

"Since the best data we have about elderly alcoholics indicates a high number of accidents and problems with family and police, the outreach programs should be pinpointed to relatives of older persons, the police, emergency room staff, visiting nurses and other health care personnel."

THE OTHER SIDE of the issue, Gomberg notes, is the positive aspects of alcoholic beverages.

"One study of older residents in Manhattan suggests that moderate drinking is a concommitant of good health and social adjustment, and other research suggests that in controlled, moderate quantities, alcoholic beverages often benefit geriatric ward patients.

"Social science and medical science move slowly in the accumulation of information, and 'breakthroughs' are rare. We know that alcoholism among older persons exists and needs to be addressed. Ohter studies indicate this is a population that would be very responsive to treatment programs."

S'craft forum on ballot questions

The four less publicized state referendums on the Nov. 4 ballot will be reviewed at an 8 p.m. Wednesday forum sponsored by the Schoolcraft College community services division.

The meeting will be in Room 200 of the Liberal Arts Building.

Speakers will review Proposal B — lowering the drinking age to 19; Proposal E — a five-year income tax increase for prison construction; Proposal G — to remove state legislators immunity from civil arrest during state legislative sessions; and Proposal H — regarding the powers of the lieutenant governor and filling a vacancy in that position.

The program is free.

INTRODUCING THE CHECKING ACCOUNT THAT PAYS INTEREST

On December 31, your present checking account at your bank becomes obsolete. Because on that day First Federal Savings of Detroit will begin offering a new concept in money management—the First Federal interest-earning checking account.

5¼% INTEREST

You'll use this new type of account like any traditional checking account. But it will do something no checking account ever did before. It will pay you interest like a savings account—5¼% per year, daily interest, paid and compounded quarterly. Even when you write a check, the amount of that check keeps earning interest until the day the check is deducted from your account.

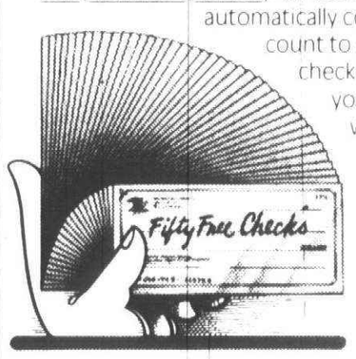

$300 LOW MINIMUM BALANCE

Your First Federal interest-earning checking account will require a low minimum balance of just $300. And as long as you maintain this balance, there is no monthly service charge. First Federal's low minimum balance requirement frees up more of your money for other needs.

OVERDRAFT PROTECTION

This optional feature of your interest-earning checking account helps protect you from the inconvenience of accidentally overdrawing the account. It provides you with peace of mind. Be sure to apply separately for this service. When accepted, you'll have a pre-approved line of credit available.

You can sign up for your account right now with a minimum deposit of $300. For making this early deposit, you'll be entitled to 50 free personalized checks which will be sent to you after December 30, 1980. In addition, we'll put that deposit in a regular savings account for you until December 31, earning 5½% per year, daily interest, paid and compounded quarterly. On December 31, we'll automatically convert your account to an interest-earning checking account. And you'll be able to start writing checks and earning 5¼% annual interest, the highest rate of return allowed by law on interest-earning checking accounts.

First Federal's more than 60 offices mean you can have your interest-earning checking account close to where you live, work, or shop—whichever is most convenient for you.

Adding to this convenience are 15 Night Owl Windows (our 24-hour automatic teller machines) in key offices. With them you can transact almost all your First Federal business any time of the day or night, seven days a week.

OVER 60 OFFICES

15 NIGHT OWL WINDOWS

It all adds up—a checking account that pays interest, requires a low minimum balance, offers overdraft protection and 50 free checks. And, of course, each month we will return your cancelled checks along with your detailed statement. Apply for your account by sending in the coupon below. Or visit any office of First Federal Savings of Detroit. Your Center for Family Financial Matters.

Under Federal law, interest-earning checking accounts cannot be used until December 31, 1980. This service is available for individuals, single proprietorships, and some nonprofit organizations.

Canton coach praises effort

By BRAD EMONS

Northville, getting solid performances from its No. 4 and 5 runners, came away with the Western Six League boys' cross country title Tuesday afternoon at Cass Benton Park.

The Mustangs, who return their top five harriers next season, edged season-long nemisis Plymouth Canton for the crown. Northville, now winner of four straight league titles, totaled 31 points. The Chiefs, coached by Jim Hayes, scored 38.

"I knew it would be that close," said Northville first-year coach Ed Gabrys. "Even closer the second time around."

Northville, which edged Canton in a dual meet earlier in the season, 27-30, grabbed three of the top four spots.

Junior Clark Couyoumjian won the three-mile race under sunny skies and cool temperatures with a time of 15:42. He was followed by teammate Scott Dayton in second place (16:02). Canton senior standout Steve West was third (16:17) while Northville's Dave Malinkowski gained fourth.

It was the performance of Seth Swallow and Jim Williams, however, that clinched the championship for Northville.

"Our strategy was that we knew our front runners would be right in there," explained Gabrys. "We wanted our fourth and fifth runners under 17 minutes."

Swallow responded by finishing 11th with a clocking of 16:50 while Williams grabbed 13th place with a time of 16:54.

"This is by far our best team performance of the year," Gabrys said.

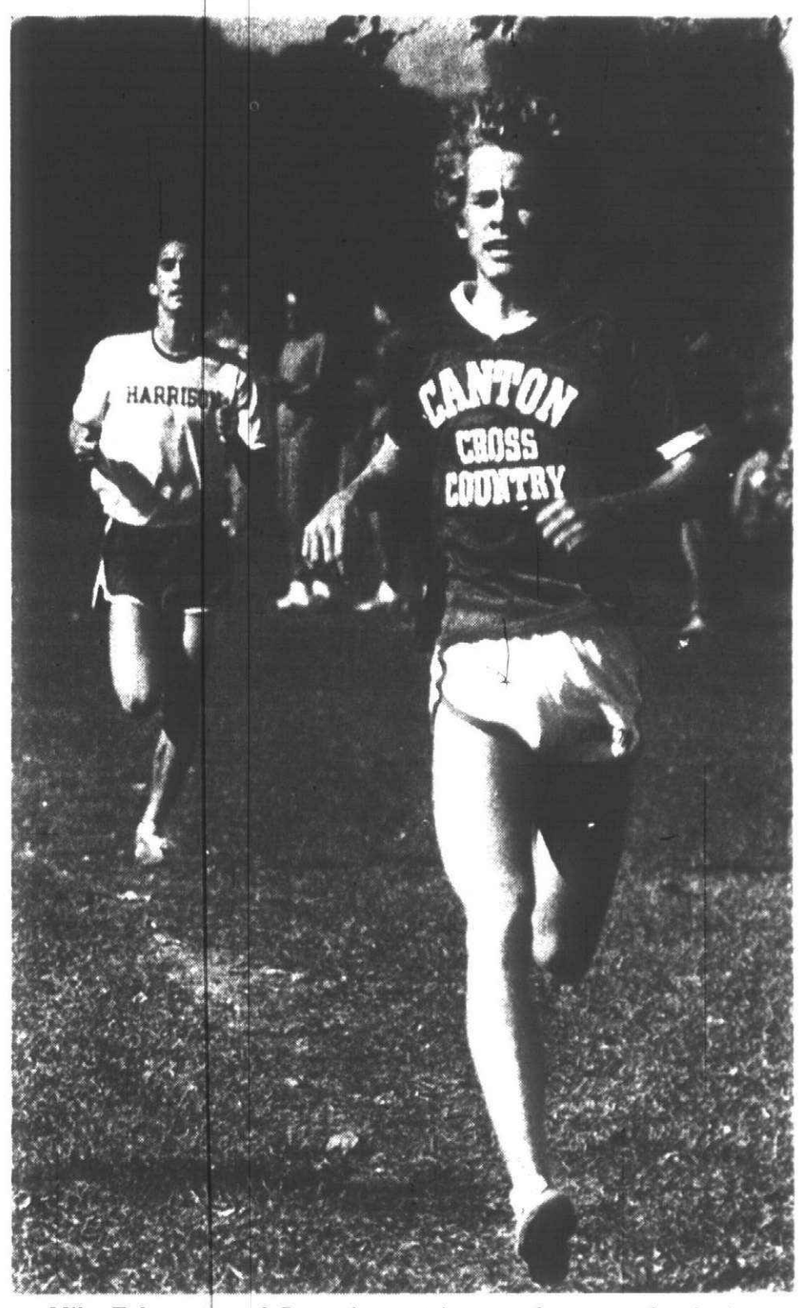

IT WAS also a gallant effort by the 1980 edition of the Chiefs, who have the distinction of being the best club in the school's eight-year history.

"They all did a good job," said Canton coach Jim Hayes. "They've gotten better every time out. That's all I can ask.

"They're just a bunch of good kids."

Senior Mike Talaga finished fifth for Canton followed by Jack Pacente, eighth; Scott Hand, 10th; Dan Inloes, 12th; and Dan Henry, 18th. Dave Bennett, Canton's No. 7 man, finished 24th.f

Canton was hurt by the absense of freshman Brian Jones, who is still recovering from a leg injury.

Mike Talaga, one of Canton's most improved runners, heads down the home stretch. He held off Farmington Harrison's Dave Tremonti to gain fifth place.

Dave Tremonti of Farmington Harrison and Bill Dobson of Livonia Churchill finished sixth and seventh, respectively, to nail down the final All-Western Six League berths.

Senior Marc Blais was Churchill's next best finisher in 14th spot with a time of 16:56.

"We've had a lot of sickness all year," said Churchill coach Dave Westover, "but that's not to be used as an excuse.

"This is the first time we've been able to run our top five guys since the city meet.

IN THE junior varsity race, Canton senior Mark Anderson took first with a time of 17:45. Churchill's Eric Claus was fourth.

Judy Yuhn posted a first-place time of 18:36 to lead Walled Lake Western to the unofficial girls' title.

Castignola low key about Salem

Brad Emons

Jack Castignola doesn't get very excited these days.

Despite his team's 7-0 record and a possible spot in the playoffs, the veteran Trenton coach is very low key when he talks about his team. He's coached some great players over the years. The 1980 edition of the Trojans did not get the proper respect until this week. The major dailies in town finally recognized that Trenton is top 10 material after its 26-19 win last week over previously unbeaten Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Only two teams stand in the way of a perfect regular season for the Trojans — Plymouth Salem and Monroe.

The Rocks, now 4-3 after a 14-9 loss to Lincoln Park, will test Trenton, but Castignola shrugs it off as just another game. His team will invade Centennial Educational Park at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The veteran Trenton coach is sort of the Bear Bryant of downriver football. He's just about seen it all.

He now leaves the scouting up to his subordinates, the freshman and junior varsity coaches.

"I haven't seen Salem myself," said Castignola. "I know Tom Moshimer (Salem's coach) does a good job with them. They're always good.

"They run that wishbone and we have to go after it. We have to stop the quarterback."

Salem traveled down to "Castignola-land" last year and came away with a hard-fought 7-0 victory. The Trojans had the ball deep in Salem territory several times, but could not score.

"The difference this year is that we haven't been making mistakes," he said. "and we have only 12 seniors on this team."

TRENTON'S QUARTERBACK is 6-foot-3, 188-pound senior Kevin Kolcheff. He's demonstrated he can throw as evidenced by two touchdown passes last week.

"We had one dropped, too," added Castignola. "We throw when the defense gives us the opportunity."

You can guess that Trenton will test the Salem secondary. The Trojans are confident they can run also with the likes of running back Jimmy Mans.

My conversation with Castignola did not take an upbeat note until I mentioned Trenton's standout senior lineman John Ghindia, who plays both ways.

"No question in my mind he's as good as any player we've had," said the awakened Trojan coach. "He's about 6-3, 225 pounds, and rates with the best we've had."

A lack of respect in the polls won't even get a rise out of Castignola.

"I have nothing against those people," he said. "I'm not mad at the Free Press or the News."

If Trenton goes 9-0, Castignola knows it doesn't mean an automatic playoff berth. His 1975 squad, which went unbeaten and sent several players to NCAA Division I schools, did not accumulate enough points on the computer to qualify. That's when just four schools were eligible.

This fall, his team is fighting for its playoff life in Region II with East Lansing. Dearborn Fordson currently is way out in front.

His 1978 team, however, qualified and was eliminated in the semifinals.

Jack just can't get enthused until he goes to the Silverdome. But I get the impression he's holding something back.

Braun hopes for 'state' rebound

tennis

Plymouth Salem girls' tennis coach Judy Braun had mixed emotions about her team's performance in the Class A regional last weekend at Ann Arbor Huron.

She was delighted at the fact that her team qualified and will be making a return trip to the state finals starting Friday at Kalamazoo College. Braun, however, was somewhat disappointed with her team's second place finish at the regional, which concluded Monday under less than ideal weather.

"We had some upsets that we didn't count on," said the second-year Rock coach. "It was a big disappointment for the team. We really had high hopes to take the No. 1 spot."

Host Huron won the team title with 26 points. Salem and Ann Arbor Pioneer tied for second with 18 each.

The Rocks reached the finals in five flights, but came up empty handed. The tournament, which was slated to begin last Friday, was postponed one day because of rain and cold temperatures.

At No. 1 singles, Huron's Lisa Bonder, considered a threat to go all the way, won the regional crown by ousting Salem freshman Chris Gilles, 6-0, 6-2. Gilles, who now sports a 22-3 record, reached the finals on two defaults and a win over Charlene Kaya of Pioneer.

Bonder reached won her semifinal match over Livonia Stevenson's Peggi Pfeffer. Salem's other singles finalist was Carol Hathaway (No. 3), who was downed by Sarah Maugh of Huron, 6-3, 7-5. Maugh beat Hathaway last year in the final, too.

At No. 1 doubles, Salem's Betsy Moon and Renee Braun, winners of the Huron Invitational earlier in the season, fell in the finals to Carol Payne and Sara Zurwich of Huron, 7-6, 2-6, 6-4.

Braun and Moon reached the finals with wins over teams from Jackson Parkside, Northville and Westland John Glenn.

THE SALEM pair now sport a 23-3 record.

The same thing happened to the Rocks at No. 2 and 3 doubles.

Vickie Sterling and Lisa Maggio won three rounds and then lost to Sarah Fingerlee and Lynn Bouchers of Huron in the finals, 6-4, 6-3.

In the second round, Sterling and Maggio downed Canton's Heather Hawkins and Lisa Schlotz.

Beth Baker and Lynn Hathaway, the latter a regional finalist last year, failed in their bid to win the No. 3 doubles crown, absorbing a three-set defeat.

At No. 2 singles, Carol Gillespie of Salem was eliminated in the third round by the eventual champ, Kelly Lazar of Huron, 6-4, 7-5. Gillespie scored two wins during her run.

And at No. 4 singles, Salem's Sue Dobel beat Tina Drahser of Glenn in the first round, 6-1, 6-3, and then was eliminated by Ypsilanti's Joan Fox, 6-2, 7-6.

"It was a good performance," said Braun, "but deep, down inside we feel we could have done better."

Salem gets another chance to make amends this weekend at Kalamazoo. Grosse Pointe South and Huron will be favored.

Plymouth Canton gains 2nd in league tennis

Host Plymouth Canton came within two points of winning its first ever Western Six League girls' tennis title.

Northville, however, the regular season dual-meet champs, won the title outright with 15 points. Canton and Walled Lake Western finished second and third, respectively, with 13 and 12.

Canton, 9-4 during the regular season, captured two singles titles and one doubles crown.

Ann O'Connell and Barb Rupprecht, Canton's No. 3 doubles team, concluded a perfect season in the Western Six with a straight set win in the finals over Lisa Sejoff and Kathy Montgomery.

At No. 2 singles, Lori Smith of Canton came away with the title, besting Walled Lake's Holly Spencer in straight sets.

In one of the biggest upsets of the tournament, Canton senior Marianne Pink, who switched over from the basketball court this fall after three years, downed Marnie Dillow of Northville in a three-set final.

Jane Neville, a transfer from Bloomfield Hills Kingswood, romped to the No. 1 singles title with an easy 6-1, 6-1 victory over Northville's Holly Sixth. The Walled Lake netter did not lose a league singles match this fall.

Northville won crowns at No. 4 singles, No. 1 doubles and No. 2 doubles.

Farmington Harrison, Livonia Churchill and Waterford Mott did not place in any flight finals.

Defense sparkles as Salem cagers romp

Salem's man-to-man defense continued to smother Suburban Eight League foes Tuesday night. This time Allen Park was the victim, 48-18.

The Rocks remained one game behind Livonia Bentley in the Suburban Eight League girls' basketball race with a 6-1 mark. Salem is now 11-1 overall.

Coach Bob Blohm's squad held Allen Park scoreless in the final quarter and allowed only one basket the entire second half.

"I don't ever remember that happening before," said Blohm. "Allen Park played a terrific first half. They got the ball to the open player.

"In the second half their shooters did not get the ball."

Salem jumped out to a 23-16 halftime advantage and then put the Jaguars away with a 12-2 third quarter outburst.

"I thought we really played consistent defense tonight," said the third-year Salem coach. "Offensively we got some good shots and hit the open player.

"We need to work more on our offensive rebounding. We did not get real good position in the first half."

Junior forward Eileen Moore paced the Rocks and all scorers with 13 points. Jan MacKenzie and Cheryl Sobkow added 10 and eight, respectively, for the winners.

Teri Silsbe led Allen Park with seven.

"This team's strength overall is that they know defensively what they have to do in dealing with the other team," said Blohm. "At times tonight we didn't react, but we played hard."

BLOHM CALLED Salem's 37-24 triumph a week ago Thursday over Trenton a "great game for us."

"I was just elated with that victory," he said.

Salem led at halftime, 19-15, and controlled the ball the final four minutes the first half after Sobkow and Moore got into foul trouble.

The Rocks won it in the third quarter with a 11-2 charge. They forced the taller Trojans into four turnovers at the start of the period.

"Our defense was just super in the quarter," Blohm said.

The Rocks held 6-foot-3 Trenton center Kim Nash to four points, well below her average.

Meanwhile, MacKenzie pumped in 13 and Moore added 10. Sophomore guard Jacque Merrifield had a season high eight.

INTEREST ON CHECKING?

NOT UNTIL JANUARY 1st. BUT RIGHT NOW, YOU CAN GET "INVESTMENT CHECKING" FROM CNB: EVERY CENT YOU DEPOSIT AUTOMATICALLY EARNS 5¼% INTEREST. WHEN YOU WRITE CHECKS, WE WITHDRAW JUST ENOUGH TO COVER THEM. ASK ABOUT IT AT ANY CNB OFFICE.

The Talking Bank means business.

Starting January 1, 1981, checking accounts that pay interest can be legally offered here in Michigan. But you don't have to wait until then to have every cent you deposit in the bank earn interest if you have a CNB "Investment Checking" account. It means you write the checks you want, while all the money you don't need to cover them keeps on earning 5¼% — which we'll continuously compound to give you an effective annual yield of 5.467%. What's more, if you keep a minimum of $1500 in your account, you won't have to pay the $5 monthly service fee or any charges for checking or statements. It's as close right now as you can get to interest on checking . . . and it's as close as CNB!

Weekend turns sour for Rock golf coach

It just wasn't the kind of weekend Bob Waters, the coach, had planned on.

His Plymouth Salem boys' golf team had qualified for the state Class A finals at Battle Creek after qualifying the week before with a third-place finish in the regional.

Waters had high hopes of finishing in the top five, but he was even lucky to physically make it out Saturday to the Merrywood Country Club course. Salem finished 24th of 25 teams with a four-man total of 373. Bloomfield Hills Andover won it with 333.

"I attended strictly on will power," said the Salem coach, who contracted a sore back (disc problem) on Wednesday.

"I shouldn't have gone at all," he said. "The kids were more concerned about my welfare. Emotionally it kind of broke their spirit.

"I wish I could have felt better. I tried not to be down. I walked around with a cane. It was amazing how it transferred to the kids."

Andover's Bill Ammerman shot a 5-over-par 77 to lead his team to its first state title ever. Ypsilanti, which placed second at 339, was led by medalist Dan Roberts. He fired a 75.

Waterford placed third at 340. Birmingham Groves, Jackson Parkside, Midland and Owosso tied for fourth at 341. Walled Lake Central shot 344 to gain ninth.

John Pauloweit, the Suburban Eight League champ, was Salem's top player with an 88. He was followed by Jeff Trim (91), John Uekert (95) and John Vives (99).

"Between their concern for me and the way we played," said Waters, "it was not the type of weekend we had hoped for.

"We had an excellent season, though. It was just a great, great year for us. We had some real super individual efforts as a team."

Salem finished the year with a 12-1 dual mark, a second-place finish in the Plymouth Best Invitational and another Suburban Eight League title.

"We'll be back," said Waters, whose team won the Class A title in 1973 and was ranked No. 1 by the Michigan High School Golf Coaches' Association in 1978.

Dearborn sprints to title; Salem improves clockings

Bill Courtney led Dearborn to the Suburban Eight League boys' cross country title Tuesday at Cass Benton with a first-place time of 15:36.

Dearborn edged rival Dearborn Edsel Ford in the team standings, 29-34.

Plymouth Salem, which went into the meet with a 3-3 dual-meet mark, finished fourth overall with 130 points. Livonia Bentley was a distant sixth with 167.

Bentley's Craig Allen was the area's top finisher (11th) with a time of 16:30.

Senior captain Chris Whittaker paced Salem in 22nd spot with a clocking of 16:55.

Sophomore Frank Brosnan and senior Chris Kopach were right behind in 23rd and 24th places. Brosnan's time was 16:56 while Kopach recorded 16:58.

It was the third straight fourth place league finish for Salem under coach Scott Dunson.

"This is the first time we've had three guys under 17 minutes," said Dunson. "That's been our goal for the past two weeks.

"Now they have one more shot. I'm real pleased because we ran well. The times were excellent."

Other Salem finishers included Brad Haertel, 29th, 17:38; Skip Whittaker, 32nd, 17:51; Ken LeGault, 36th, 18:32; and Marvin Zurek, 38th, 18:42.

Brent Bocson was Salem's top finisher in the junior varsity race with a clocking of 18:35.

Salem's Lori Grissom, who finished eighth overall in the girls' race, recorded a time of 23:17.

Chief girls cage Waterford Mott

basketball

The battle for first place in the Western Six League rang a familiar tune Tuesday night.

Plymouth Canton and Waterford Mott went into the girls' basketball showdown with unblemished league marks. A tight duel never materialized as Canton made the Corsairs its 38th straight Western Six victim with a 59-46 win.

Senior forward Jean Timlin powered the Chiefs with 15 points. Junior Reggie Ruggiero added 14 while Pearl Cunningham and Jean Timlin each tallied eight.

Bridget Brennan had 10 for Mott.

Canton is now 5-0 in the league and has won 10 in a row.

Coach Mike McCauley's Chiefs enjoyed a 27-20 halftime lead and led by 10 going into the final quarter.

Canton hit 17 of 23 free throw for 73 percent.

"Free throws were the key," said McCauley. "Our team played fairly decent defense, but we didn't do a good job on the boards.

"In the first half we shot about 35 percent from the field. We shot around 50 in the second half. We just have to play more competition."

Mott, although not as quick as the Chiefs, gave Canton problems with its size and strength.

Canton will travel to Northville Thursday for another Western Six League encounter.

The Chiefs won the last meeting between the two teams, 71-44, with another balanced scoring attack. The Mustangs are currently in mired in the bottom of the league along with Livonia Churchill and Walled Lake Western. Jacque Nixon is Northville's leading scorer and made second team All-Western Six League last season.

Skaters blank Jackson

The Plymouth Junior 'C' hockey team skated past Jackson Monday, 2-0, at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

"We played our finest game of the season," said Plymouth coach Mike Donnelly.

Stalwart performances by defensemen Dave Brass and Don Ost held the mid-Michigan club scoreless.

Plymouth also received solid goaltending from Pat Donnelly, who turned away 26 shots.

The winners tallied the game's only goals in the first period.

Richard Kelps connected on the first score at 10:13 on a backhand pass from Joe Humphries. Ost scored the second goal unassisted at 12:01.

The Plymouth Juniors will travel to Taylor Thursday and then will return to the Cultural Center at 10 a.m. Monday to take on Garden City.

Area girls' teams stay on hold

It's been all quiet on the western Wayne County girls' basketball front since the ratings came out a week ago.

A major development occurred last week when Redford St. Agatha, ranked No. 2 in the Class B-C-D poll, fell to Allen Park Cabrini. It was only the Aggies' second loss of the year. Agatha had beaten Cabrini in a showdown earlier in the season.

Westland John Glenn retains its No. 1 spot in Class A despite a narrow four-point win Tuesday night over Redford Thurston in a Northwest Suburban League battle.

Thurston, sporting a 9-4 mark, retains its No. 7 ranking because of its two-point win last week over Livonia Franklin.

basketball rankings

Defense continues to be the key for No. 2 Plymouth Salem. The Rocks handed Trenton its second loss of the year with a 37-24 win in a Suburban Eight League game. Coach Bob Blohm's squad held Allen Park to just two points in the second half during Tuesday night's 48-18 victory.

Livonia Bentley and Plymouth Canton also recorded two wins each. The latter team currently has the longest winning streak in the area (10) after lopsided victories over Garden City East (85-41) and Waterford Mott (59-46). The Chiefs have now won 38 straight games in the Western Six League.

Redford Union and Livonia Stevenson kept pace with two victories apiece.

Key matchups for tonight include Stevenson at Farmington, Redford Union at Livonia Franklin, and Dearborn at Plymouth Salem.

Here's one for the books.

Bowling in the Industrial Park league at Drakeshire Lanes in Farmington, Kathi Kecich delivered her first ball in the eighth frame of her first game.

It struck the head pin in about the middle and left six pins standing, including the four pins in the back row.

You might think this is impossible.

But here is how it happened.

You see, Kathi rolls what is called a "slider," and it stopped just about at the No. 5 pin, leaving the back row intact.

When the ball stopped sliding, the momentum started it toward the pins, and it slid far enough to topple the No. 1, 2, 3 and 5. And, when it stopped, it was resting on the thumb hole.

But it was a sight that puzzled the bowlers when the four pins in the back row had not been touched.

MICHIGAM BOWLERS continue to rewrite the American Bowling Congress record book.

Last week in the Michigan Majors tournament at Bay City, Tom Honaker of Flint and Dave Chappel of Oak Park were pitted against each other in match play, and each bowled a perfect game.

It is the first time any such deadlock has been reported. The closest was a pair of 290's bowled in 1974. Honaker went on to win the tournament.

Penny Behn and her Bonanza team set the pace with a 1110. The Mr. F. team was next with 1040, Jac-Ro added a 1025, and the Luxury Lanes combination joined the group with 1001.

Carol Goike was the top sorer with a 662, and Cheryl Stipock had a 259 for high single.

THE PINS were flying again at Westland Bowl. When the firing ceased, Dan Emmett and Jim Robinson each had broken the 700 barrier. Emmett narrowly missed a perfect game when he left up the 4-7 for a middle game of 298 in his 727 count.

Robinson was a bit different. He dipped to 226 in his middle game after opening with 242 and then closed with 243 for 711.

In the ladies invitational doubles, Jane Martin again showed the way with a 267 opener in a 665 series, and in the ladies league Leandra Stawski had a middle 242 in 671.

swimming

Area high school girls' swim coaches are encouraged to contact Plymouth Salem coach Chuck Olson, who is compiling the best performances of the season. Results can be phoned in from 7:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each Friday or Monday at 453-3100 (ext. 290). Ask for Mrs. Van Boven.

Artist takes a challenge

600 paintings — for free

Marilyn Schneider (left) took on a challenge in art. Each of her 600 pieces is related but different. If the embossing relief looks familiar (above), that's because it is — a plastic floor mat was used. (Staff photos by Dick Kelley)

By CORINNE ABATT

Doing 600 paintings at one crack would boggle the mind of most people, but the task was a fascinating challenge to Marilyn Schechter.

A contemporary artist from West Bloomfield with a studio in Farmington, Mrs. Schechter treasures the experience of making 600 7-by-7-inch paintings last summer.

They were done free of charge to be included as a part of a subscription art package which The Alternative Press of Grindstone City sends out three times a year for $15.

Mrs. Schechter volunteered to do the paintings after she heard a program by publishers Ken and Ann Mikolowski at the Detroit Library. She was impressed with their award-winning and select ventures into creative publications

"THERE WAS no pay for it," Mrs Schecter said, "I just did it because, professionally, it was a very exciting thing to have done. Besides, 500 people are going to receive one of my paintings. I was glad to contribute to it and I believe what they're doing is a wonderful, unique thing."

Mrs. Schechter painted the extra 100 for herself to give to special clients and friends.

She works in a contemporary style. The experiences she had while working for her master's in print-making at Wayne State University have stayed with her. She still is fascinated with paper even though she is now essentially a painter.

Each piece of paper used to make the hundreds of prints for distribution in the packets was embossed in her press. That design already established in the paper itself served as a inspiration on how the rest of each painting would go. Each was done with acrylic paint, color pencil and rolled pieces of glazed clay.

Oakway has DSO quartet on Sunday

Oakway Symphony Orchestra's second concert of the 1980 season features the Detroit Symphony Wind Quartet and guest conductor Ernest A. Jones at 3 p.m. Sunday in Groves High School, 13 Mile and Evergreen in Birmingham.

The program will feature a rarely performed work of Mozart, the Konzertantes Quartet, and Tchaikovsky's Music to Swan Lake. The program also includes selections from Stravinsky's Firebird and Prokofiev's The Love of Three Oranges.

Tickets are $5 ($2 for students and senior citizens), available at the door and at Hudson's Westland, Madonna College and Hammel Music in Livonia.

Making up the Detroit Symphony Wind Quartet are oboist Donald Baker, clarinetest Paul Schaller, bassoonist Robert Williams and Eugene Wade on French Horn. They are all principals with the DSO.

Baker joined the symphony in 1973. Prior to that, he was first chair with the Dallas Symphony.

Schaller, a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra since 1957, holds first chair in the orchestra. He started his study of the clarinet with his father and has attended both Tanglewood and Juilliard. An assistant professor at Wayne State University, he was principal clarinetist with the Pittsburgh and New Orleans symphonies.

Wade, who joined the DSO in 1972 after serving with the Minnesota Orchestra, is principal horn with the orchestra. He also is a member of the faculty at WSU.

Williams, first bassoonist, has been a member of the symphony since 1974. He has held the first chair in the Tucson Symphony, Winnipeg Symphony, CBC Orchestra, Minnesota Orchestra and the Colorado Philharmonic.

Flushing out all the facts

The evolution of modern toilets, the influence of hotel design on the American bathroom and a look at a modern sewage facility are all part of "The Natural History of the Water Closet," a humorous documentary at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday on Channel 56.

"Because the subject is semi-taboo, the form of the film was chosen very carefully," says producer Samuel Hudson. "The audience is invited to laugh about the way the meterial is presented.

"We did not resort to a single bathroom joke."

Will the real Ronnie Reagan please stand up

"Sante Fe Trail" (1940), 2 p.m. Wednesday on Ch. 62. Originally 110 minutes.

It's a little-known fact, but presidential contender Ronald Reagan has campaigned for U.S. military superiority ever since savages outnumbered white men 4-to-1 at the Battle of the Little Bighorn in 1876.

Although Ronnie isn't quite old enough to have witnessed the battle in the creeping, ashen flesh, he did play Gen. George Armstrong Custer in "Sante Fe Trail," a 1940 film directed by Michael Curtiz. Helping put the wagons in a circle are co-stars Errol Flynn and Olivia De Havilland.

The battle scenes in "Sante Fe Trail" are as close as Ron has ever come to the smell of war. All of his fighting during World War II, for example, was done on Hollywood backlots and with former wife Jane Wyman, whom Robert Stack always forgets to mention in those "biographical" Reagan for President commercials.

Ronnie did his share of backstabbing fellow actors before the House UnAmerican Activities Committee in the early '50s, but that hardly counts as real fighting — not the kind generals are made of, anyway.

Most of Reagan's films were of the hurry-up variety. Before the war, he averaged one picture every seven weeks for five years. As Reagan has said, "They didn't want them good, they wanted them Tuesday."

REAGAN MADE 54 films in a 27-year career, culminating with Don Siegel's "The Killers" (1964). Two years later, Ronnie was expressing support for the Equal Rights Amendment, signing into law pro-abortion bills and raising taxes astronomically while cutting services as governor of California.

Most of his films were of the hurry-up variety. Before the war, he averaged one picture every seven weeks for five years. As Reagan has said, "They didn't want them good, they wanted them Tuesday."

But a few good films fell from the heap: "Brother Rat" (1938), "Knute Rockne, All American" (1940) and "She's Working Her Way Through College" (1952), though Ron had a lead role only in the latter.

Republicans have said much about their candidate's union involvement with the Screen Actors Guild in the 1950s, but his participation was as much a matter of expediency as idealism. Afterall, the every-mother's-son roles were evaporating for Ronnie, who was already in his 40s, and the acting jobs — even the bad ones — were fewer and farther between.

Reagan needed work, and he found it in the union until a better offer came along — a PR job pitching hands-off-industry catch phrases for General Electric.

"SANTE FE TRAIL" is one of the better pictures in which Ronald Reagan appeared, but the film belongs to the dashing Errol Flynn. As in most of Ronnie's films, someone other than he was the star.

Flynn again outshone the former governor in "Desperate Journey" (1942), Shirley Temple charmed audiences in "That Hagan Girl" (1947) and a chimp stole Ronnie's thunder in "Bedtime for Bonzo" (1951).

In sum, Ronnie's two careers rank with the likes of Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, Bruce Cabot, George Murphy and Bozo the Clown. Ron Reagan truly is a man for all seasons . . . if you happen to live in the Antarctic.

"The History of Animation," 7:30 Friday at Detroit Film Theatre in the Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward, phone 832-2730, $2.

Film scholar Leonard Matlin presents a history of film animation in this special program preparatory to next week's "14th International Tournee of Animation." Matlin is an author and special program consultant for the Museum of Modern Art in New York City. His presentation will include rare film clips from his own collection.

"The Phantom of the Opera" (1925), 8 p.m. Friday at the Michigan Theatre, 603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor, at the center of the U-M campus, phone 668-8480, $4, $5 and $6.

The Motor City Theatre Organ Society Inc. presents the original phantom, Lon Chaney, in his haunts beneath the Paris Opera House. Chaney plays the disfigured, embittered composer who kidnaps a young singer and keeps her as his protege. "The Man of a Thousand Faces" achieved his grotesque appearance in the film mainly by muscle contortion and without makeup.

Dennis James will be at the console of a Barton Theatre Organ accompanying "Phantom," being shown complete with its original color-tinted sequences.

● Southfield Repertory Theater will hold dance auditions Saturday and Sunday for its December production of Nutcracker Suite. Rehearsals begin Nov. 3; some principal dancers will receive stipends.

Auditions times for both days are 12:30-1:30 p.m. for children; 2-3 p.m. for teens; 3:30-4 p.m. for adults; and 4:15-5 p.m. for dancers with training in classical, modern or jazz techniques and gymnasts and acrobats. Tryouts will be held at the Southfield parks and recreation building, Evergreen at 10½ Mile.

For more information, call 354-9603.

MOT Pub Crawl Oct. 30

The Michigan Opera Theatre will hold its popular Pub Crawl, traveling to 14 Detroit night spots, on Oct. 30.

"Costumes are optional, although we will have MOT artist interns and chorus members in costume hosting the evening," said Michigan Opera Guild President Roberta Starkweather.

Pub crawlers will pay $5 each for a button entitling them to unlimited rides on a fleet of buses that goes among the bars between 6 p.m. and midnight. The bars will offer a wide range of entertainment.

Buttons for the Pub Crawl are on sale 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Music Hall, 350 Madison in downtown Detroit, at the Michigan Opera Boutique in Tower One of the Renaissance Center and at all participating bars.

She makes original art, in large quantity

The addition of the clay, giving the small paintings a three-dimensional quality, marks the latest direction which Mrs. Schechter's work is taking.

"MY WORK IS pushing out," she said. "My paintings are almost reliefs."

She doesn't foresee the time when sculpture will take the place of painting with her, however.

"Paper is part of me," she said. "I haven't turned to sculpture yet, because I don't want to give up paper."

She gave up etchings and print-making about five years ago, switched her whole effort to painting. The limitations of print-making had begun to close in on her.

"I had to start painting," she said. "I just knew it was the right thing for me to do."

But knowing it was right didn't mean that she was immediately pleased with her output. The five years have been a developing time for her, she said. And just recently has she felt comfortable showing her work.

Now that the 600 small paintings are completed and ready to be distributed, she said she has a great urge to do a large, maybe huge painting. She tends to like to work large, but the one she anticipates may be the largest of all.

SEVERAL THINGS immediately came to light once she began her work on the 600 paintings. She would work on many at the same time, but in different phases to avoid a production-line feeling.

"I worked on different aspects of all of them at the same time," she said. "I threw out 50. You see the exciting thing to me is that everything feeds into everything else."

She said the began with a clear idea of her approach to the work and what the paintings would look like and quickly changed her mind.

"These are completely different than what I envisioned."

Another revelation was the joy and excitement she found in working with clay. Even the glazing became an exciting part of the total project.

No date has been set on when Mrs. Schecter's paintings will be distributed.

The Alternative Press has in the past distributed works by Philip Guston, Faye Kicknosway, Gary Snyder, Allen Ginsberg, Carol Steen and Brenda Goodman in its packets.

It is located at 3090 Copeland Road, Grindstone City, Mich. 48467.

The B-52s, doing whatever they do, will be at Masonic on Saturday.

The B-52s: indescribable

By NICK CHARLES

preview

A B-52 is not only Southern slang for a smooth, large, high bouffant hairdo, and the name of a famous mega-vitamin. It's also the name of the band that brought you the songs "Rock Lobster" and "Private Idaho."

The B-52s, who played at Harpo's in September, were so well received that they decided to come back to Detroit. The place is the Masonic Temple, the day is Saturday, and the sound is so unique that it can only belong to the B-52s.

The band, now on tour with music from their second album, "Wild Planet," includes three men and two women. The women are Kate Pierson, who sings and plays organ, keyboards, guitar and bass, and Cindy Wilson, who takes care of guitar, percussion and vocals.

Everybody in the band contributes their idea of lyrics or music, but most of the writing is done by vocalist/pianist Fred Schnieder, guitarist Ricky Wilson and drummer Keith Strickland.

They all will be on hand Saturday to lead the wild crowd in pogoing practice.

backgammon

Michael Kloian

of the American Backgammon Club

Kloian competed in the recent 1980 Black & White Chicago Classic tournament. For the next couple of weeks, he will review moves which arose there.

● TO HIT OR NOT TO HIT

During a quarter-final game in a 17-point match, this position popped up. The score is white 14, black 15. Two points will win the match for black and two points will give white the lead.

White has ownership of the doubling cube at 2 and has a 4-2 roll to play. The game appears close, but black has a slight edge since he has a free running checker on the 12 point. The correct move for white could definitely turn the game around.

What is your suggested move for the 4-2?

There appears to be only one obvious move: hitting black on the 2 point with checkers from the 6 and 4 points, closing the 2 point. But there is another consideration.

Although this move offers white a hit and a six-point prime (which makes it impossible for black to pass), white is also stuck behind a prime and needs an immediate 4 roll to move forward.

Black is in no immediate danger of losing, whether or not he is hit (unless, of course, white immediately rolls a double 4) since he has a free-running checker on the white 12 point. Also, black may freely move the two checkers on the 8 point (which is not part of the blocking prime).

It appears that black has good timing.

THE MOVE

White hit black on the 2 point with a checker from the 6 and 4 points for a full six-point prime.

Black stayed on the bar one roll before re-entering on the 1 point. White was soon forced to break open his prime, since he did not roll a 4.

Black eventually won the game and match. What went wrong?

I felt white had misplayed the original 4-2 move. Although timing was not on white's side, the doubling cube was.

THE SUGGESTED PLAY

Instead of closing the 2 point with the 4-2, white should have slot-hit black with the 2 roll, and moved a checker from the 1 to the 5 point with the 4 roll.

There is little danger in slotting the checker on the 2 point. The only numbers that work for black is any 2 or double 1s. The advantage of this move allows white to escape from the backfield.

Even if white was hit on the 2 point, he could have returned from the bar with a 1 or 5 roll. Black would still be stuck behind a 5-point prime while white easily escapes.

If black stayed on the bar just one roll (which he did), white would have been in a winning poisition and could have easily redoubled the cube to 4. With the score being 15-14, black may have accpeted the cube and played the game out for the match.

With three points needed to win the match, white had nothing to lose. If black declined the cube, white would then take the lead, 16-15.

The American Backgammon Club will hold a tournament Saturday night in the banquet room of the Holiday Inn on Plymouth Road in Livonia. Registration is at 6 p.m.

For more information on the tournament or on the game, contact the club at 459-5776, or write to Box 599, Plymouth 48170.

On stage

Elaine Brooks stars in "Ladies at the Alamo," a comedy about the backstage intrigue at a famous theater, running at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Sunday, through Nov. 8 at the Fourth Street Playhouse, 301 W. Fourth in Royal Oak. For ticket info, call 543-3666.

SALVATORE'S
Salvatore's slashes prices!!
Salvatore's restaurant in Garden City celebrates its 25th anniversary by cutting prices across the board permanently - every entree reduced in price, but not in portion. Here's just a taste of Salvatore's Special Savings:

	Old Price	New Price
Spaghetti	5.50	4.50
Homemade Lasagna	6.95	5.45
Veal Parmigiana	8.95	7.95

All Dinners Served with Hot Homemade Bread and Butter, Soup or Salad

HOW DID SALVATORE'S DO IT?!
Simple. We eliminated expensive items from the menu which no one (including Salvatore's) can reasonably afford. Good-bye crab legs. Hello low prices!!

FISH, FOWL & ROAST BEEF, NATURALLY AT 20% SAVING
Eating out costs very little more than eating at home, when you dine at Sign of the Beefcarver, naturally. Every dish is baked or roasted, NEVER FRIED, to keep the natural goodness.
Real roast beef with natural au jus, boneless fish filet, boneless chicken breast, and many other cooked-on-the-spot dishes, plus your favorite salads, vegetable and dessert pleasures.
A delicious meal is about $3.95 and with the coupons below it's better than-ever value now.
Come in for lunch, dinner or snack and taste why wise folks have enjoyed The Beefcarver for nearly 25 years.

We Welcome Applications From Qualified Minority and Female Candidates

The medical world looks to Detroit for the most innovative idea in better health care.

How can we provide the finest, most comprehensive medical care possible, and yet somehow hold the line on soaring medical costs?

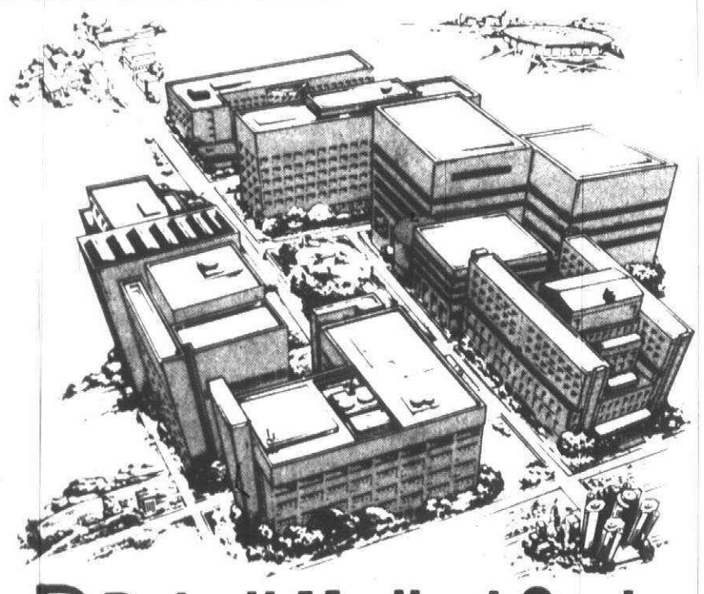

This is the critical question facing every major health care facility in the country and the world today.

The answer is best exemplified by the innovative, unique complex in the heart of the Renaissance City: The Detroit Medical Center.

Through a cooperative effort, each member institution has immediate access to the newest, most technically advanced diagnostic and treatment facilities. By sharing personnel and sharing services, each institution can concentrate on its specialties–without having to make major capital expenditures for auxiliary equipment and resources.

Each institution maintains its own character. Each institution continues to perform important clinical research in its fields.

But each institution is committed. To each other. And to the finest medical care possible.

Build At Today's Prices
Borrow At Next Year's Lower Rates

Come to our Open House and find out about Capp Homes remarkable financing program that lets you stop waiting and start building the home you want today. The Capp Financing Program enables qualified buyers to build at today's low prices and obtain a mortgage next year when experts predict interest rates will be lower. Find out the entire story at the Capp Homes Open House this weekend.

This Open House is probably different than others you've attended, because this home is not completed. This way you can see the quality materials and workmanship that Capp builds into every custom home. You'll find out how our unique home building program lets you manage or finish yourself, the completion of your new home to save a bundle. And by building today and mortgaging at next year's interest rates, you'll be getting a great home building combination – the home you want now, without waiting, and next year's lower mortgage interest rates.

So come out this weekend rain or shine. Stop in and get your free copy of our full color Capp Home Planning Guide and discover how you can buy the custom home of your dreams today!

ROBERT BAKE ~ Realtor
1005 W. Ann Arbor Trail
Plymouth 453-8200

NEW ON THE MARKET! CITY OF PLYMOUTH! A splendid autumn offering . . . handsomely located on one of the best streets off Penniman Ave., substantially built, and extensively up-dated. You'll find 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, a formal dining room, a spacious living room with fireplace, a cozy den, a recently modernized kitchen, a screened porch, full basement, and 1½ car garage. Wet plaster, a full brick exterior, and an assumable 9¾% mortgage are important features of THIS PAMPERED FAMILY HOME. $77,900. 453-8200.

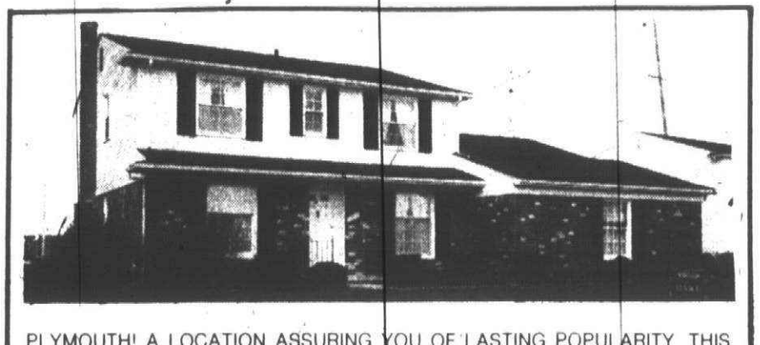

NORTHVILLE! NEARLY TWO ACRES OF MATURE LANDSCAPING ON A HILLTOP SETTING ADJOINING the 14th Green of Meadowbrook Country Club provides the owner with unrestricted views and privacy. Paved street and city utilities combined with an architecturally designed home that was built with a "SPARE-NO-EXPENSE" attitude. Imposing room sizes, superb detailing, fine materials, and an internal floor plan that is both efficient and refreshing. Among the many rooms are 4 bedrooms, 3½ baths, formal dining room, (2) fireplaces in the living and family rooms, a Garden Room, a study, and an attached dog kennel suite with posh appointments. A PROMINENT HOME WITH LAND CONTRACT TERMS. ASKING $188,000. 453-8200.

FIRST OFFERING! NORTHVILLE! THIS FIVE YEAR OLD WHITE BRICK COLONIAL has a professionally landscaped setting complimented by the right street location . . . appealingly quiet with well groomed neighboring homes. You'll easily grow fond of its fine interior featuring 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, a formal dining room, 1st floor laundry, family room with wood-burning fireplace, full basement, and 2½ car garage with opener. Central air, sophisticated carpet selections, underground sprinklers, and a well conveived patio are among the pleasures of THIS ATTRACTIVE HOME. $114,900. 453-8200.

NEVER BEFORE OFFERED! PLYMOUTH! The full brick front exterior of this welcoming Williamsburg Colonial is just the first page in a wonderful story of a well developed interior with appreciated extras. You'll encounter a spacious quarry tile entry hall and a random width pegged floor in the family room. There are 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, a formal dining room, a study, family room with fireplace, 1st floor laundry, full basement, and attached 2½ car garage. Baked enamel storms over insulated wood windows provide a triple glazing effect, and its quiet court location means an end to obtrusive car traffic. YOU'LL BE PARTICULARLY PLEASED AT $119,900. 453-8200.

NEVER BEFORE OFFERED! PLYMOUTH! EXCEEDINGLY WELL DONE, THIS ORIGINAL OWNER one story brick ranch sets new standards in good taste . . . both in its interior and exterior. There are 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, formal dining area, family room with fireplace, fully-tiled basement, and 2 car attached garage. An enclosed rear yard, and lovely patio, and so much more. Please don't delay for this caliber of housing is not easily found. $72, 500. 453-8200.

NEW ON THE MARKET! PLYMOUTH. A COZY APPEARING TRADITIONAL COLONIAL with a fine combination of features: 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, a country kitchen, a lovely family room with special lighting and fireplace, full basement, and 2 car attached garage. The rear yard is beautifully treed and an important feature you'll agree. Central air too. $69,900 IS VERY WELL PRICED! 453-8200.

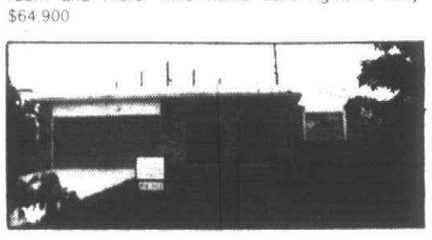

PLYMOUTH! A LOCATION ASSURING YOU OF LASTING POPULARITY, THIS ATTRACTIVELY PRICED COLONIAL MAY BE FOUND ON A QUIET COURT MOMENTS FROM SCHOOLS AND SHOPPING. Seven years old with 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, formal dining room, 1st floor laundry, a study, full basement, and oversized side entrance 2½ car garage. Its family room is uncommonly large with a full brick wall fireplace. An important room for summer enjoyment is its glass enclosed porch so thoroughly inviting from the breakfast area. Central air and UNDERGROUND SPRINKLERS TOO. $113,700. 453-8200.

GRAND OPENING
In West Bloomfield

Extraordinary 1, 2 and 3 bedroom rental residences that feature up to 2,800 square feet in a community of exceptional character and charm.
Thru-unit design of all of these terrace and towne homes provides private entry, double or triple exposures, kitchens with window views, in-unit storage and private laundry rooms, patios and balconies.
Each of the 8 different Aldingbrooke plans is distinguished by the unexpected; a one bedroom with 2 baths and a great room/den for example, a two bedroom 2 bath with a private dining room that is elegantly separated from the living room; a three bedroom with 2½ or 3 baths with a great room and den or with a great room and fireplace. A great deal from which to choose!
Attached garages, monitored gate house, club house, swimming pool and tennis courts.
Rentals from $425/mo.
Aldingbrooke
Aldingbrooke is on Drake Rd. bet. Maple and Walnut Lake Roads. Models open 11-6 pm. everyday and by appointment.
