Police force probed for federal fund misuse

Investigation focuses on cadet program

Canton Township could be forced to refund at least $14,000 in federal money because of possible abuses in pay and jobs performed by police cadets.

The Canton Observer has learned that local and county officials are looking at practices which until recently were taking place within the township's police cadet program. One of those practices includes permitting police cadets - trainees - to do unsupervised patrol work.

In addition, some cadets paid with federal funds may have received wages which exceed mandated guidelines. amount to at least $14,000, likely will intent was to put more law enforce-

Police Chief Jerry Cox would neither confirm nor deny the charges.

"I'm not at liberty to discuss it," Cox said. "It's still an unresolved issue. I'm aware of the issue in general (but) I'm not aware of the specifics."

The Observer also talked with Poole, grants coordinator Terry Carroll and personnel director Dan Durack.

Also interviewed was Arthur Lewis, director of the Wayne County Employment and Training Administration (CETA). That agency administers federal funds from the Department of Labor and monitors its uses by Wayne

Proposals mean $1.2 million dent in school deficit

If both tax proposals on today's ballot are approved, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education still will have a deficit of about $1.2 million.

The ballot in today's annual school election includes Proposal I, which asks an increase of one mill or $1 per $1,000 state equalized valuation (SEV); and Proposal II, which is a request to levy the authorized millage rate.

Residents also will elect one member to the Plymouth-Canton Board of

The polls will open at 7 a.m. People standing in line at 8 p.m. will be allowed to vote.

CANDIDATES for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education include:

Edyth Aninos of Canton, David C. Bone of Canton, Christopher B. Clements of Plymouth, William H. Decker of Plymouth, Stephen G. Harper of Plymouth, Marilyn Rickard of Canton, Ernest Rumsby of Canton and Charles R. Washburn of Plymouth.

Candidates for two six-year terms on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, with terms expiring in 1987, in-Taki J. Anagnostou, Wesley Berry Jr., Richard J. Hayward, Paul Y. Kadish, John J. Pantalone and Laura Toy.

The Plymouth-Canton incumbent is Harper, while the Schoolcraft incumbents are Hayward and Kadish.

THE REQUEST for one additional mill for eight years would produce about $970,000 in operating income for Plymouth-Canton Schools.

The request seeking permission to levy the full authorized millage is worth about $262,000, or almost onethird of a mill (30 cents per $1,000

Proposal II, in effect, would reverse the rollback otherwise required by the Headlee tax amendment and allow the school district to levy the same rate it now does. For that reason, it is similar to a tax renewal request.

At one time, the school administration felt Proposal II was worth about nine-tenths of a mill. But the most recent information on tax base (total SEV in the district) suggests the authorized levy would be reduced only by about one-third of a mill if defeated, explains Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

Canton officials plan to capitalize on a builder's failure to pay property taxes by buying seven subdivision lots from the state of Michigan for $1.

By Darlene Stinson

One or more of the lots on Greenwood will be donated to the Pickwick Village Homeowners' Association for use as a park, Supervisor James Poole said.

The remainder may be sold to the original owner - builder Dominic Moceri - for a still undetermined price.

According to township officials and Moceri, the lots recently were acquired by the state of Michigan because of a delinquent property-tax bill of approximately $4,200. Moceri said he has not received a tax bill for the Pickwick lots

Officials of the Pickwick Village Homeowners' Association have expressed interest in the land for use as park, Kosteva said.

LAST WEEK, Moceri appeared before the Township Board with an assistant and an attorney in an effort to buy back the Pickwick property.

Attorney Gerald J. Carnago called the builder's failure to pay the property taxes "a mutual mistake." Township tax rolls do not name Moceri - or any other person — as the owner of lots two through eight in Pickwick Village subdivision.

But Clerk John Flodin said that the absence of Moceri's names on the tax rolls does not exempt the builder from property-tax payments.

of returning some of the property to Moceri, the resolution did not contain specific language regarding negotiations with the builder.

Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz was absent from the meeting.

After the vote, Carnago would not 'dismiss the possibility of legal action against Canton Township if negotiations do not begin for return of the lots. "I think the courts will protect us. No one loses property because of a mutual mistake.'

Poole said the township probably will return some of the lots to Moceri for a sum in excess of the delinquent tax payments. He added, however, that the amount of returned land will hinge on requests from the Pickwick Village Homeowners' Association for use of the land as a park.

"It all depends on the homeowners.

Poole added, however, that "I think the fairest thing to do is to give (some of the lots) to the guy who lost them."

ACCORDING TO KOSTEVA, residents of the subdivision east of Lilley and north of Ford could use the lots for a small playground area. Measuring 60 feet in width and 130 to 159 feet in depth, the lots back up to Willow Creek. The land's flood-plain location has prevented Moceri from constructing homes on the sites, said Robert Blick, executive assistant for Moceri Management Co. in Flint. Last year, however, Moceri installed $60,000 in drainage improvements in order to build on the lots. Blick said Moceri learned of the state's foreclosure on the lots by acci-

Plans are already in the works for the farm's closing, the first in its 10-year history. In closing the farm, the district is expected to pare down an anticipated deficit by more than $40,000. Farm equipment, as of last week, was stored away. The equipment originally was planned for sale, but a parent group scored a last-minute victory on that point. Called the "Save the School Farm Committee," its members petitioned the school board to shelf the equipment with the hopes it someday might be used again.

administered by the Wayne County Employment and Training Administration (CETA), with the township supplementing a portion of their salaries.

CETA sets a cap of $12,000 per employee for its portion, and federal guidelines limit the township's supplement to $2,400.

Grants coordinator Terry Carroll said there are indications the two cadets paid with federal funds may have exceeded their pay scale because of overtime or "working out of (job) classification," such as the patrol work.

Carroll said CETA has withheld payment of $6,100 to cover the last three months of the cadets' pay. In addition, Canton may have to pay back at least $14,000 in earlier wages and fringe benefits for the two, Carroll said.

"IT'S GOING to involve a pay-back," said Carroll. He said the exact amount hasn't been determined.

"It looks bad for everybody," Carroll said. "My basic goal is to protect the township and to protect the program.

"This serves as an organizational lesson," Carroll added. "Processes have to be controlled."

Arthur Lewis, director of CETA, said an independent monitoring unit of his office has been investigating the case, and he expects a report in about a Personnel director Dan Durack said there may have been more of a tendency to use cadets in higher job functions because many have prior experience and training.

He said that all of the current cadets have completed their police-academy training, as required, and there has been some discussion of upgrading them to regular police officers "more quickly than (the current format) would provide for."

"They are capable of performing as (regular) police officers," Durack said.

Kosteva estimates the market value of each lot at $12,000 to $15,000. According to Poole, sale of the lots at that price would bring little profit to Canton Township. State law requires municipalities to return profits from such land sales to all taxing units, such as the school district and county. That would leave Canton with only 4 percent of the sale, the supervisor said.

KOSTEVA SAID state foreclosure on land because of delinquent taxes is fairly common in Canton Township.

"But it's rare for them to be developable lots," he said. "Generally, they're real small little slivers.'

To the planner's knowledge, township officials never have purchased such land from the state before.

"I think from now on I'll have my recreation people screen these (for possible purchase of park land)," Poole

Ms. Falkiewicz, Canton's treasurer since last November, was on vacation and unavailable for comment on the long-standing absence of Moceri's district's total SEV would be," explains Hoedel. "That guess was based on estimated figures from the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation

"Since then we have received more accurate figures which change the impact of Proposal II request. Even now, though, our figures still are based on what I've been told over the phone. I've received nothing in writing.

"And we still do not know the losses and additions in SEV for the Washtenaw County portion of the school district, although that won't significantly change matters."

Hoedel suggested county tax officials may have expected a much higher increase in SEV because of the equalization by class law, which just went into effect this year.

"What we found, though, was that the law caused residential to increase by quite a bit, but commercial and industrial only slightly, and in some cases it went down," he said. Hoedel said that residential SEV in b Plymouth Township increased by 26 percent while the total SEV increased by 17 percent. "So some classes of preperty must have gone down in evaluation," he added.

Likewise in Canton, residential SEV increased by almost 19 percent while total SEV went up by only 15 percent.

Quality and expense don't always make good partners

Whoever said what the country needs is a good five-cent cigar ought to see what happens when you offer a $1 movie.

Lately, going to the flicks means checking the offerings, the calendar and your watch. Going before 5 p.m. the movies cost one price, but bother to eat your dinner first and it may cost you a couple of dollars more on each ticket.

For those who happen not to work on weekday afternoons, matinees can be an attractive escape.

Right now, movie prices in the area vary from the $1 el cheapo to $4 a head for the first-run film being hyped the loudest. But price does not reflect

After a hard day's work or hard week's work, I usually opt for skipping the $1 offerings because the lines are just too long.

Say what you will, I go to the movies to escape a little, and it's easier to escape when no one's shoving me from behind so we don't miss the titles.

Last week, Jack and I went to the movies twice. Once we went twice in one night, but let me explain. Tuesday evening, one when we both finished work a bit early, we decided we'd go to the 7 p.m. show at the Movies at the Prudential in Southfield

SOPHISTICATED comedy is a favorite with both of us, and "Four Seasons" is supposed to be a good example We left the house in plenty of time, but as we approached the Prudential Town Center, we were faced with a sea of cars. Jack let me off to buy the tickets, but inside was a sea of humanity.

Guess what? The Movies at the Prudential are now a bargain rate $1

It seemed as though 39 percent of all the people I know were in line, either to buy tickets or to get into the theater. Those with tickets mainly had bought them about 5:30 p.m., gone upstairs to eat hamburgers or Oriental food, taken their time, and found themselves just small waves in that same sea.

Not for us. We waved good-bye and drove over to the Maple 1, 2, 3 Theatres where one offering was "Breaker Morant."

We had time to take a stroll in the adjacent shopping center before entering the theater. No crowds, no pushing, we had our choice of seats.

BREAKER MORANT is the name of one character in an Australian film about an incident in the Most of the movie is centered around the simple courtroom in South Africa where three men are being courtmartialed on several very serious charges. (I'm being skimpy not to spoil it for you.)

It is a striking film. The photography and acting are excellent. The story is compelling. Not for one minute did it drag.

But most important, "Breaker Morant" has a nononsense message about war that, for me, seems quite significant in a post Vietnam era. It tells some truths that may need retelling about people and human values.

That first movie Jack and I saw last Saturday was "The Outlands." It cost $4 each for us to see a film touted as a science-fiction, space story. But it wasn't. What an $8 bore.

As for "Breaker Morant" — it cost us double what the $1 bargain would have. But for under $5 including the popcorn, we both agreed it was the best film we'd seen in a long time.

"Superman II," a movie starring Christopher Reeve, will demand top ticket prices in the coming weeks.

But more expensive tickets don't always translate into better movies.

Luck helpful cohort on life's trail

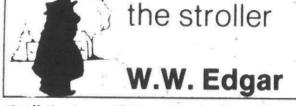

Well, here we are again in the month of June, which heralds the beginning of summer, brings out June brides across the land and brings forth the commencement-day orators, who fill the air with words of wisdom to the graduating classes in institutions of learning.

Never a year goes by that The Stroller doesn't get a laugh as he recalls the commencement-day exercises of his class back home and the words of wisdom spoken by the orator.

The Stroller wasn't among those wearing the cap and gown. He had been forced to leave school his freshman year in high school, but he went back to attend the commencement-day festivities and to listen to the speaker.

For more than a half hour the orator spoke with all the force at his command. He told the graduating class and all those within hearing distance that you need enthusiasm annd inspiration to go out in to the world, a lot of courage and desire. Then he added, "and you will need a helluva lot of luck to suc-

It was this last remark that causes The Stroller to recall the day as if it were yesterday - because he has been the recipient of a lot of luck along the way on his journey through life.

THIS LUCK started one morning when he stopped to visit a friend in the little newspaper office back home.

He had no idea that it was the day the paper was being printed and that he was In the way. His friend was kind enough not to ask him to leave, but gave him a bit of a job to do. Meanwhile, the old flatbed press intrigued him, and the seed was planted for a career in journalism.

At the time The Stroller was working on the night shift in a machine shop and was eager to leave the dirt and muck and grease of the shops behind him.

Then Lady Luck took over. The old editor of the home-town newspaper was asked to start a new paper in the city - four miles away. And, of all things, he invited The Stroller to join him and take over the sports department. What a stroke of luck!

Then came another smile from Lady Luck. Because the time of the annual Muhlenberg College football banquet was changed, he was able to meet Edgar A. Guest, the famed Free Press poet of another day, who was speaking that evening.

This meeting ended in his being invited to come to Detroit and join the Free Press sports staff. It was a big jump, but he made it, and the smiles of Lady Luck followed him all the way.

FOR INSTANCE, there was the day that a new sports editor took over. He didn't like the system in which members of the staff read copy and wrote. He said that under his reign the staff would be di vided into editors and writers.

Then he said, "All those on this side of the office will be editors, and those on the other side will be writers." And you guessed it, The Stroller was on the side designated to be writers.

It was another smile from Lady Luck

All'should bear school problems

To the editor:

This letter is intended for the parents of the other children in Plymouth Township currently attending "the only school in Plymouth or Plymouth Township remaining on ESY," Isbister Ele-

For years we have put up with some problems which the rest of our community refuses to be burdened with. Our community is scheduled around a traditional school calendar, resulting in the following situations for us:

The Youth Enrichment Activities sponsored by our schools are not available to our children. If we would like our children to have an opportunity to learn to swim or learn tennis or golf, or to be on a bowling league, we have to pick them up as soon as school is out and rush them to the activity - if it's even availble to ESY children - after a full day of school.

None of these activities are scheduled on our "breaks." In fact there is very little for our children to do on these "breaks" because there are too few children in our community who are out of school to schedule things for. It is even difficult to get together with friends in the community because our children are in school when their's are out, and vice-versa. Our children cannot attend camp. Cottages, boats, pools and lakes cannot be used on most summer days.

We alone in our community have had these problems, and we have had them for years. That is discriminatory. You may think we can opt out to a TSY school if we choose. I tried that and was told it is only an option in hardship cases. Personally, I'm beginning to feel

I would like the district to take out our air conditioners and install them in each of the other Plymouth schools in turn, for one year each, putting them on ESY. Then ask the parents whether they agree that the whole community should be on ESY or no one should. Ask them if they have enjoyed being out of step with the community in which they own a home and pay taxes, and whether they enjoyed being the only residents of their community penalized for the rapid growth in our school dis-

I know that the residents of Canton have many of the same problems, and I don't mean to imply that this situation is fine for them but not for us. However, it is growth in their community which necessitated ESY scheduling, and all of their children are on it, so their community can plan around it.

I was looking forward to some positive changes in our situation when Bird and Fiegel schools joined us on ESY, but the school board has found an excuse not to inconvenience themselves or the other parents involved.

I know that my suggestion can't be implemented. I also know that if there is an equitable solution to our "community" problem, we will have to come up with it, because everyone else is pleased with the status quo.

Why shouldn't they be? We've let them use us year after year to solve a community problem that should be borne by all of us.

Bus drivers thank helpers

On Saturday, May 23, the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools transportation department held a mini-roadeo in preparation for the Wayne County Schools Bus Roadeo.

The spirit and cooperation were tremendous. The transportation department would like to extend once again its heartfelt thanks to those who judged the competition:

Fred Meier of Plymouth Salem High School, Leonard Schemanski of Canton Police Department, Mike Gardner of Plymouth Police Department, Marvin Mittlestat of Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Russ Lane of the state transportation department, and Fran Robson of the state transportation department. Many thanks also to the scorekeepers, Sally Belding and Loretta Olson, and to the workers who spent many long hard hours measuring and setting up, and to the 21 participants and to all the loyal supporters, families

The representatives for our school district to the Wayne County event were Peggy Haislett, Joanne Rajewski, Shirley Blackman, Grace O'Brien (alternate).

The county bus roadeo was held on Saturday, May 30, at Henry Ford Community College. After the written tests, verbal, timed-inspection tests, and obstacle course were over there was no doubt left in anyone's mind as Plymouth-Canton walked away with top honors that our district transportation department is No. 1.

We won first place in the team award with Peggy Haislett, Joeanne Rajewski and Shirley Blackman combining efforts to earn a total of 1,037

First place in the individual award competition went to Peggy Haislett by demonstrating her poise, self-control and determination. She is truly a winner. The first place alternate winner was Grace O'Brien.

The next step in the competition will find us all in Lansing on Saturday, June 13, for the state competition cheering Peggy on.

All our thanks to our coach, Alice Horstead, and to all the loyal supporters who braved less than ideal weather conditions to cheer for Plymouth-Canton transportation.

LWVtopic

Education will be the topic of the June meeting of the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi.

The meeting will be 7:30-10 p.m. Thursday in the library of Bird Elementary, Sheldon and Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth.

Kathy Mutch, the local LWV education director, and her committee will given an overview presentation of the Plymouth-Canton, Novi and Northville school districts.

The presentation will feature: "Through the Time Machine," a bit of local school history with recognition of special local contributions to education; "Schools in Review," a brief analysis of the problems and some unique solutions developed in each school district; and, a mini-work session with a goal of progress toward consensus on financing of local schools.

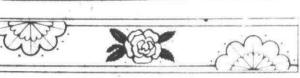

The public is welcome. At the meeting, Elizabeth Giese, state coordinator of the Project on Equal Education (PEER), also will give a report on the "Highlights of the PEER Report.'

Questions need for tax

There is a school election Monday. June 8, and residents should vote.

According to data secured from the Observer Newspapers, these are the

 No increase in pupils are expected for 1982. In fact, the numbers could be as low as 500 less. • The equalized value of the school district has increased by 16.7 percent or by $139 million. • You will be asked to allow the school board to disregard the Headlee Amendment, which restricts taxes to no more than the rate of inflation. This will allow the present millage to be ap-

Views on Dental Health

D.D.S.

What is the world's most prevalent disease? If your answer is the common cold - you're wrong! Tooth decay is the most universal disease in the world. Only a minute fraction of the world's people are free of it. Only 2 percent of the American population has been spared. Earliest cavities show up right after primary teeth erupt. The average 13-year-old already has at least five cavities in permanent teeth. Girls seem to get more cavities than boys; but then, girls get their

WORLD'S MOST PREVALENT DISEASE

A cavity is a hole in a tooth caused by decay which is produced by the combination of plaque and acid. It doesn't take a few days for trouble to develop. Tooth decay can start in less than 15 minutes after eating. All that is needed are three ingredients; a tooth, bacteria (in dental plaque) and sugar. When the bacteria and sugar meet, acid is formed. When the acid and tooth meet, the acid starts etching a hole in the tooth.

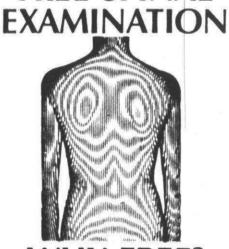

Today's diets, high in refined sugars and carbohydrates, are conducive to decay. But careful and PROMPT oral hygiene procedures after eating will reduce, if not eliminate, the decay-producing activity of the modern diet.

FAVORITES FROM FAR AND NEAR

Every nation has its favorite foods, its own specialties. Some of these dishes are unique to a specific country, while others are common to many lands. For instance, rice is a favorite on all continents of the world. Salmon, too, appears in the cuisine of places as farflung as Alaska and India. A third product that wins world-wide acclaim is tea, as popular in the Soviet Union where they drink it hot and spiced, as it is in our own South where it turns up over tinkling ice cubes.

Some examples of these international recipes are shown here. One is a specialty from Russia, Coulibiac, in which rice and Pacific canned salmon are combined with mushrooms, white wine, chopped eggs and a variety of seasonings. This luscious filling, layered with chopped spinach, is encased in flaky puff pastry. It's an entree splendid enough to grace the most elegant dinner table. Accompany the entree with Russian Tea, a modern adaption of an ethnic recipe made with instant tea, orange-flavored breakfast drink, cinnamon and cloves.

Because it is used so freely in India, curry powder has been called "the salt of the Orient." And it does indeed add a very special touch to the dressing of the Curried Strata Salad. Fluffy white grains of rice are combined with raisins, apple wedges, green onions and celery. On this tasty bed, the flaked canned salmon is arranged and a curried mayonnaise tops it all off. America's gift to the world - iced tea — is the perfect accompaniment to the spicy salad.

Another curried recipe from India, Kedgeree, has become a staple entree in England. The artistry of the French to blend flavors by using wines brings another dimension to the salmon and rice combinations in Saumon Au Sherry.

Salmon...rice...tea: World-wide favorites with taste appeal that surpasses language, oceans, and boundaries.

COULIBIAC

1/2 teaspoon salt

pepper

1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black

1 package (17-1/4 ounces) frozen

2 teaspoons lemon juice

3 cups cooked rice, cooled

puff pastry, thawed

1 tablespoon water

- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen spinach, thawed and well drained
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1 can (15-1/2 ounces) salmon 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3/4 cup sliced mushrooms
- (about 1/4 pound)° 2 tablespoons dry white wine
- 3 tablespoons snipped fresh dill weed " "

Combine spinach and chopped eggs; set aside. Drain and coarsely flake salmon, reserving liquid. Saute onion in butter until soft but not brown. Add mushrooms; cook 3 minutes longer. Stir in salmon liquid, wine, dill weed, salt, pepper and lemon juice. Combine with rice and salmon. On lightly floured surface, roll 1 sheet pastry to a 10 x 12-inch rectangle. Mound half the salmon-rice mixture into a meat loaf shape lengthwise in center of sheet, leaving about three inches on each side. Arrange half the spinach mixture over mound of salmon-rice mixture. Draw long edges of pastry together over filling; pinch to seal. Cut off a triangle from each corner, then fold ends like envelope flaps over covered filling. Place a lightly greased baking sheet, face down, on pastry and invert so that seam side will be down. Repeat with second sheet of pastry. Beat together egg and water; brush over tops of pastry. Cut small fish shapes from pastry trimmings; arrange on top of pastry and brush with egg mixture. Make 2 or 3 slashes on top of each loaf. Bake at 400° for 25 to 30 minutes or until golden brown. Slice each loaf into 4 portions. Serve with clarified butter, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

3/4 cup instant tea°

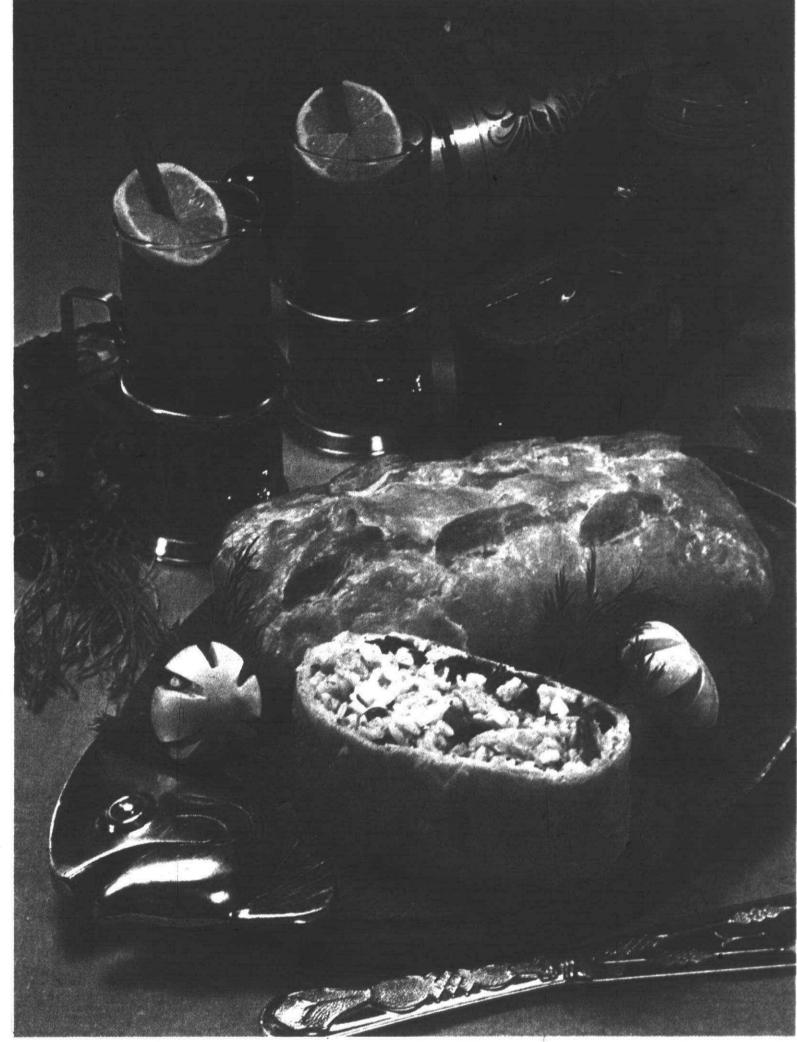

2-1/2 cups (or one 18-ounce jar) orange-flavored instant breakfast drink

1-1/4 cups sugar

1 teaspoon ground cinnamon 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves Dash salt Boiling water

Combine instant tea, instant breakfast drink, sugar, spices and salt. Store in a tightly-covered jar. Makes 4 cups mix. To serve, place 1 well-rounded teaspoon of mix in a cup or glass. Add boiling water; stir until dissolved. Garnish with lemon slice and cinnamon stick, if

Or use lemon-flavored unsweetened instant tea or lemon-flavored instant tea with sugar.

CURRIED STRATA SALAD

3 cups cooked rice

2 tart cooking apples

1 cup diagonally sliced celery

1/2 cup thinly sliced green onions, including tops

1/3 cup seedless raisins, plumped

1 can (15-1/2 ounces) salmon, drained 1/2 cup each mayonnaise and dairy sour cream

1 teaspoon each curry powder and lemon juice

1/4 teaspoon salt

Cool rice. Core apples and slice into thin wedges. Then cut wedges in half. Combine rice, apples, celery onions and raisins. Spoon into serving bowl. Arrange salmon over rice. Combine remaining ingredients. Spoon over salmon. Toss lightly just before serving. If desired, serve with a selection of condiments such as sliced bananas, cashew nuts and chutney. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SALMON KEDGEREE

1 can (15-1/2 ounces) salmon

1 cup chopped onions 1 clove garlic, minced

2 teaspoons curry powder

3 tablespoons butter or margarine Chicken broth

1 cup uncooked rice 1/2 teaspoon salt

Dash ground black pepper 2 hard-cooked eggs

1/2 cup chopped parsley, divided 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Drain salmon, reserving liquid; break into large pieces. Set aside. Cook onions, garlie and curry powder in butter in 2-quart saucepan until soft but not brown. Add enough broth to reserved salmon liquid to equal 2 cups. Pour broth and rice into saucepan; add salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 20 minutes or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Cut eggs in half, remove yolks and grate; chop whites. Gently add salmon, egg whites, 1/3 cup parsley and lemon juice to rice. Cover and heat gently but thoroughly. Mound on serving platter. Garnish with egg yolks and remaining parsley. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

SAUMON AU SHERRY

1 can (15-1/2 ounces) salmon

1/4 cup sliced green onions, including

1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained

2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1/4 cup flour

3/4 teaspoon salt

2 to 3 dashes ground red pepper Half-and-half (cream and milk)

2 tablespoons sherry 1 cup grated Swiss cheese

3 cups hot cooked rice

Parmesan cheese, optional

Drain salmon, reserving liquid; break into large pieces. Set aside. Cook onions and mushrooms in butter in 2-quart saucepan until soft but not brown. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add enough half-and-half to reserved salmon liquid to make 2 cups. Add to saucepan with sherry. Cook, stirring, until smooth and thickened. Gently add Swiss cheese and salmon; heat through. Serve over beds of fluffy rice and sprinkle with Parmesan, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Pecan cake recipe won a blue ribbon

Donna Leeson of New Orleans took top honors in a recent cook book and recipe contest with her Praline Pecan Cake. Her secret ingredient was Praline Liqueur.

PRALINE PECAN CAKE

1 pkg. yellow cake mix 1 pkg. (4 serving size) instant pudding and pie filling mix

4 large eggs (at room temperature)

4 cup cooking oil

4 cup chopped pecans

14 cup liquid brown sugar

34 cup Praline liqueur 1/2 cup Heath's Bits o' Brickle

In large bowl, blend cake mix and instant pudding. Add eggs, oil, liquid brown sugar and liqueur. Beat with electric mixer at low speed until thoroughly mixed, then at medium speed 3-4 minutes. Stir in Bits o' Brickle and pecans.

Bake in well greased 10-inch tube or bundt pan in prheated 350-degree oven for 40-45 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean. Cool in pan, on rack, 10 minutes. Remove cake from pan, cool then glaze and garnish.

14 cups sifted confectioners sugar

2 tbsp. butter, melted 3-6 tbsp. Praline liqueur

In a small bowl, combine sugar and butter. Beat with mixer, adding liqueur gradually to achieve desired consistency. Pour over cake. Garnish with a few chopped peacans and brickle.

Praline pecan cake has a secret ingredient.

Re-educate eating habits to cut food budget

While waiting in line at the grocery store last week, I began to talk with the woman in back of me. It was a familiar conversation.

Over loaded carts we discussed spiraling food prices and our inability to hold the line on grocery budgets. Each week the bill climbs higher despite the elimination of frills such as snack foods, pop, high-priced cuts of meat and convenience foods.

Although frustrated, we both expressed gratitude that we are not on fixed incomes or, worse, virtually no incomes, a situation faced by increasing numbers in our state as unemployment spreads.

As a wrap-up to the discussion, the woman expressed a common sentiment: Perhaps the only way to beat escalating food prices is to become a Unfortunately, vegetarianism is not an inexpensive way to eat, either. Fresh fruits and vegetables, fish, cheese - all have kept pace with increasing meat prices. To put these items on the table can be as expensive as meat - or even more expensive.

IN EITHER case, however, it is possible to scale down. What is required is re-education and a change in comfortable eating patterns. In the case of meat, this can mean learning to cook "variety" cuts of meat. Chicken feet, pigs' ears, and tails, heart, liver, kidneys, brains, alligators, squirrels, rabbits - all can provide the nutritional equivalents of more common and, therefore more expensive, cuts of meat.

The problem goes beyond that of learning new cooking techniques. A bigger obstacle lies in overcoming the anthropomorphic aversion to eating these readily identifiable animal parts or to eating animals we think of as Even worse than eating recognizable body parts is the eating of unrecognizable cuts of meat. Imagination takes free rein. Just try asking any man to identify the source of a piece of meat with a suspiciously nondescript name. I can almost guarantee his answer.

THAT BRINGS US to the advantage of a similar shift for a vegetarian. Again, some re-education is needed, some changes in habit are required.

Sardines, high in protein and calcium, might replace higher-priced fish. Those unaccustomed to eating sardines (not a particular species of fish but a variety of tiny, soft-boned fish; in the United States small herring are used), might start out by trying the spread recipe given below from Prevention Prevention suggests that it be spread on slices of crisp, raw turnip or served as a dip - a healthy snack or an unusual addition to a platter of cold hors d'oeuvres. It also makes a nice changeof-pace sandwich filling.

Here's some good news for those already holding, or about to purchase U.S. Savings Bonds.

The Treasury has announced that effective Nov. 1, 1980, all Series EE Bonds will earn 8% interest if held for 9 years.

Intermediate yields will also rise from 41/2% to 51/2% after one year and to 71/2% after five years.

All outstanding Savings Bonds will also benefit from a 1% increase to their next maturity.

U.S. Savings Bonds are now growing bigger, faster. So they're an even better way to save than they have been over the years. They're still safe, still guaranteed, still easy to buy through the Payroll Savings Plan. But now the interest rate has been improved.

And the maturity is shortened so that you reach that full 8% a lot quicker.

Take another look at Bonds. As a saving instrument. At the tax benefits. At the new interest rates. The shortened maturity. Bonds do make sense. For you and for your country.

JOANIE GERICK did not let her father's 80th birthday go by unnoticed. Of course Joannie could not come up with anything as mundane as a birthday cake.

Her dad, Bill Kommarford, took off for Hazel Park Race Track, just as if June 2 were any day of the week. Joannie, her sister, Mary, brother, Marty, brother, Michael, and his wife, Betsy, also headed for Hazel Park. They took along a rented horse costume, the type that requires two people to activate. Mr. Kommarford did not know Michael and Betsy had come from Kentucky for his birthday.

Once they had spotted their father's position in the grandstand, the kids went into action. They arranged to have "Happy Birthday, Bill" displayed on the tote board. Mike and Betsy got into the horse costume and shuffled down the steps of the grandstand to their dad's seat. They were cheered by race fans along the way, some of whom claimed, "That's the nag I bet on in the second race."

Bill's surprised reaction was everything they had hoped for especially when he saw the two in the horse costume.

They ended up in the winner's circle, having their picture taken by the track photographer.

BELATED congratulations to Bill and Lillian Hartmann who celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary with a family party on June 5.

THE CENTENNIAL Dancers of Plymouth were delighted with the near-capacity crowd that turned out for their first performance in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. They thought ticket sales were going well when they presold 850 seats. The more than 100 sold at the door was an unexpected bonus

Joanne Ygeal of Canton Township deserves much credit for the the success of the recital. The group is sponsored by the Polish National Alliance, and the dancers come from Canton, Plymouth and the surrounding communities. Susan Machowicz and Zachary Drewniak choreographed the ethnic dances. The audience joined the fun with hand clapping and foot stomping.

The young dancers appeared at Tiger Stadium last Friday night. They will participate in the Polish Ethnic Festival in Detroit in August and the Canton Country Festival parade.

The Centennial Dancers also are preparing a float for the Plymouth Fourth of July parade. Look for their colorful authentic Polish costumes, most of them handmade.

"Some of the vests were purchased," said Chris Gniewek, who chairs the publicity committee.

Persons who would like more information about the dancers can call Chris, 459-5696. They are available for performances, and there are openings for young dancers in the organization.

MARGE MITCHELL played host to 30 teachers from the Ypsilanti schools last Tuesday. They came to the Plymouth Historical Museum to pick up some tips on teaching the history of the area. Eastern Michigan University and the Ypsi schools received a National Endowment for the Humanities grant to further the teaching of Ypsilanti history.

Word had spread about the educational programs Marge had initiated at the Plymouth museum, and they wanted to see her in action. The Ypsilanti teachers plan to adapt some of her methods and approaches to their own teaching.

Marge demonstrated her "Grandmother's Trunk" teaching unit which is very popular with visiting classes. She gives the students the feel, mood and even the taste of the early America.

"I try to explain the concepts of the periods, the disciplines, fears, resistance to change," she said. "The sewing machine was about the only innovation that caught on immediately.' Marge said most of the concepts of life in early America come from the elite of the large cities - not rural Midwest.

"It's difficult for even adults to realize that as late as 1870 they still were using teasels to tease the wool in blanket factories around here," she said. She said young people are inclined to be complacent or cynical about history. Marge takes them back in time until they can identify with the children that were to become their

It will be more fun than a circus

By Anne Harter Jones special writer

The circus is the theme and fun the goal when the Plymouth Salem High School class of '81 celebrates at its graduation party June 17.

Billed as "The Circus Rocks Tonight," the title of this year's senior party is a play on words involving the name of their sports teams and the the music of the Ann Arbor rock band "Giveaway," which has been hired for the occasion. The theme will be carried out in the Big Top decorations, the food - there'll be a cotton candy and a popcorn machine - and a real circus cal-

"Someone wanted to rent an elephant, but we decided on the calliope instead," said Ruth McMahon, who is chairing the decorations committee. She explained that this is the air compressor calliope formerly owned by Detroit Edison and featured in past Plymouth Fall Festivals.

ENTHUSIASTIC parents on the party committee are decorating the main hallway, gymnasium and cafeteria of the school for an expected crowd of more than 300 seniors. The courtvard will be available to smokers.

Tickets may be purchased advance for $8 and $10 at the door. The party is limited to Salem seniors only. The admission price includes everything food and refreshments, including tacos and pizza; entertainment; Las Vegas style games; a palm reader and hypnotist; and free Polaroid photographs.

Mary Elizabeth Smith, who is co-chairing the party, is working on on her fifth senior party. Her youngest child is graduating this year.

"We never have any problem getting parents involved. It's been a tradition for about 20 years. It keeps the kids off the streets after the graduation ceremonies and lasts until 4 a.m."

According to Mrs. Smith, before Plymouth Salem was built the parties were at the Ann Arbor Y. With the completion of the new building in 1971, the committee decided, "Why bus the

The party has been in the school ever since. At first, the pool was kept open, but few students took advantage of it so it will not be used this year.

EACH YEAR the parents have constructed extravagant decorations consistent with the particular theme.

Last year, in keeping with the western theme, guests entered through a stockade fence constructed from discarded carpet spools. One year a railroad theme inspired parents to build a massive papier mache and cardboard

Mrs. Smith predicts this year's decor should prove to be the most elaborate

After working on the senior party committee for the fifth time, Mrs. Smith still thinks it's delightful fun. "The kids are so marvelous and appreciative. Every one of the kids can have a good time because there is so much to do. And they do not have to worry about having a date to do it."

Open house can show upside-down view

The Livonia Family Y Twisters gymnastics team will sponsor two open-house sessions this week to show off the gymnastics program that in the season just ending carried a team to second place in a YWCA league.

Events are scheduled from 4:30-6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 9, and Thursday, June 11, at the Family Y building, 14255 Stark, north of Schoolcraft.

Those who attend will get a look at plenty of heads-down, feet-up action as skilled members of this year's team show off their back flips, hand-stands and flips.

They will then be able to return on Wednesday, June 17, for tryouts for a spot on the Twisters team for the coming year.

The team, coached last year by George Olson of Canton, included Mindy Corrie, Andrea Horn, Sherry Jordon, Terri Kinsey, Anne Patterson, Robyn Peralta, Sarah Randall and Paula Sholeen of Livonia.

Others were Debbie and Stacey Skeppstrom and Kathleen Boyle of Plymouth and Donna Livesay of Detroit.

"The girls had a good season and did very well," Olson said. "Most of this group now are moving into advanced skills and will be going on to gymnastics clubs, but the Y will continue its program for those clubs, but the Y will continue its program for those at beginner levels."

Dawn Marstan of Livonia, assistant coach in the season being completed, will take over top coaching chores with the beginning team, Al Panackia of the Family Y staff said.

Panackia said all are welcome to attend the open house and try out for the team. Those who are chosen will then need Y membership to participate.

"The girls develop coordination and agility besides having fun at a beautiful sport," Olson said.

And sometimes they may even be able to practice their sport right side up.

Sherry Jordan of Livonia demonstrates a back walkover on the bar in a practice session for the Livonia Family Y Twisters.

It's not all upside-down work. Mindy Corrie (right) of Livonia is upright doing a split on the bars for Dawn Marstan, who will coach next year's team.

Last Monday, the cattle was sold, including Heather, a docile Holstein that had been a favorite among school children. Although pregnant, the animal didn't have a formal milk record which explains why she went to the meatpackers, said Mrs. Smith.

The Smiths, who have managed the farm for the last four years, admit they find it difficult eliminating the animals and closing the farm.

There are pleasant memories, though, said Mrs. Smith. She remembers many of the thousands of children that visited the farm and their wondering eyes as they took in the sight of the animals. She remembers the curiosity and questions of the youngsters. And there have been humorous moments, like the midnight call from one of the security guards at the neighboring CEP (Centennial Ecducational Park) when a herd of cows decided to take an evening stroll to the high school complex.

ON A BRIGHT summer day last week, one could easily see that activity at the school farm was winding down. The sheep, expected to be sold today, had not been shorn as is the usual practice at this time of year. "It's not worth it now since they're going to market," said Mrs. Smith. The two small pigs, on loan from an area farm, were scheduled to be sent back. Some school children had laid claim to a few of the rabbits. They planned to turn them into pets. The geese, some of which are descendants of the original flock, will also

(In case anyone's interested, Mrs. Smith says the birds make excellent watchdogs. For security reasons, the high schools' drivers' education cars are parked near the geese pen. "They had some security problems over at the park," said Mrs. Smith. "So, that's why the cars are parked here. Between our dogs and the geese, the security's better). According to Smith, about 3,000-4,000 children toured the farm each year. Most were in grades K-2. Some of the district's third graders had started garden plots at the farm site, plots that won't be harvested in the fall.

Smith, as well as members of the Save the Farm Committee, believe the farm would not have been axed this year if it had been run differently.

No doubt about it! Chiefs advance

GARY CASKEY/staff photographer

Temperance runner Dennis Vandercook (back) gets tangled up with Canton infielder Scott Bricker after an attempted pick-off play at second base during Saturday's baseball regional.

By Brad Emons, staff writer

A sign in the bleachers read: "Plymouth Canton baseball fever - Catch it!"

And with only the state Class A championship left to grab, the Chiefs are moving on to bigger and better things after sweeping two games Saturday to claim the regional crown at Wyandotte's Memorial Field.

Coach Fred Crissey's team, now sporting a glittering 28-2 overall record, defeated a tough Temperance-Bedford squad in the final 6-2. Canton reached the championship with a 9-0 victory over Taylor Center. Temperance, which ended the year at 17-6, beat Dearborn Edsel Ford in its opener, 7-4.

The Chiefs, making their second appearance in the semifinals, will meet Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher (29-8) at 4 p.m. Tuesday at Grosse Pointe North. Canton beat Gallagher earlier in the season, 15-8.

Crissey, who has coached Canton since the school opened in 1972, will savor his second regional trophy.

"At no time have they quit on themselves," he said. "They're together on and off the field. They've decided their priority is to be the best we can be.

"We've never won 28 (games). Before it was 26. We're very pleased."

In the final, Canton exploded for six runs in the fourth inning to break a 0-0 deadlock to put the stubborn Mules away.

With the bases loaded and no outs, Scott Bricker walked to give Canton its first run. The Chiefs made it 2-0 when Fred Rumberger's long fly ball to left field was dropped, scoring teammate Bryan Capnerhurst.

Keith Stone then broke it wide open with a three-run triple over dead-centerfield and later scored on Steve Schumacher's single.

TEMPERANCE rallied in the sixth, scoring two runs. The Chiefs, however, snuffed out the Mules' bid when pitcher Dan Smith wheeled to third base and caught Todd Stoner off guard, tagging him out in a rundown. Mark Sexton, trying to advance to third, also was gunned down, getting Canton out of the inning on a double play.

Smith, who raised his personal record to 13-0 by scattering eight hits, has won several games this year with his patented move.

"We were going for it on the second pitch," explained Crissey.
"The runner got off just enough for us to make a play."

Temperance coach Ron Alvarez disputed the play, charging that Smith had balked. He argued vigorously with the umpire and was subsequently ejected.

"Our kid got picked off — no excuse," said Alvarez, "but he made the move to first to home, not third.

"Canton is a very good team with depth and defense. We hit the ball, but not in the right places."

Steve Bowron, a strapping 6-foot-3 pitcher, suffered his first defeat in two years. He allowed four earned runs on five hits.

IN THE OPENER, senior hurler Dave Malek tossed a five-hitter and fanned seven as Canton drilled Taylor, which bowed out, 15-8. Malek, now 8-1, averted danger twice. Center threatened with runners in scoring position in the second, third and fifth innings.

The Canton hurler, though, got out the jams on two pop-ups and a double play.

Crissey, who decided to save Smith for the second game, has complete confidence in Malek.

"It wasn't a gamble," said the Canton coach. "Dave's thrown three shutouts in a row. If we didn't have faith in him, he wouldn't pitch. The kid has pitched great."

Taylor coach Frank Avery cited three costly errors for his team's demise.

"You can't give a good team like that a lot of runs and expect to win," he said. "We got enough hits, but it was a matter of hitting in the clutch.

"Canton is well-coached with a lot of enthusiasm. They're among the best we've played."

"I've said it before but the community has to be proud of these kids," said Crissey. "It's an old cliche that was started by the Pittsburgh Pirates — We are like a family. They're very close to each other." And one step closer to a state title.

Canton shortstop Steve Schumacher (left) has trouble handling the the throw at second base as Taylor Center's Hammer advances on a sacrifice bunt. Hammer failed to score along with the rest of his teammates as Canton won its regional opener 9-0. Plymouth skater reaches dream

She spends endless hours practicing for a sport which gets little or no recognition.

Kathy Donnelly, 17, a junior at Plymouth Salem, recently attained a level few ice dancers achieve.

Before a panel of judges at the Plymouth Cultural Center last month, Donnelly earned a gold medal from the United State Figure Skating Association (USF$A) as she passed her eighth and final test.

"This level is very high quality," said her coach Gene Heffron, who performed during the 1968 Olympics at Grenoble, France, in an ice dancing exhibition. "The judges are kind of picky, otherwise this wouldn't mean much.

"This puts Kathy in about the top two percent of all ice dancers."

To complete the testing, Donnelly performed the Vienese and Westminster waltz with partner Peter Dalby, also her coach and a former British champion. Donnelly has spent the past 18 months working toward the medal. She had to pass 16 different ice dance routines in order to qualify for the award.

"What you're doing is a design on the ice," explained Heffron. "You have to do a certain number of patterns. Two solo patterns last approximately six to eight minutes.

"It's a very short time. If you make any errors, you're dead."

The sport is set to music and involves a strict tempo and timing.

Nancy Meiss, a world class official from Cincinnati; Peg Faulkner, a USFSA judge from Ann Arbor, and Dorothy Eschman, also of Ann Arbor, rated Donnelly in her final test.

THE AWARD was not only satisfying to her coaches, Dalby and Heffron, but also gratifying to Donnelly herself.

"I'm doing it as an individual," said Donnelly. "I mainly want it for a teaching background."

Donnelly began skating at the Cultural Center in Plymouth six years ago.

"My mother (Carol) got me interested," said the gold medalist. "I began taking lessons and liked it."

The Plymouth girl spends three hours a day, six days a week at the rink working ferociously at a sport that her fellow students at Salem know little about. Many of those lessons took place at 5:30 a.m.

"The sport teaches self-discipline and self-reliance," said Heffron. "It's an individual sport which gives you a sense of accomplishment and enjoyment.

"The more background she gets,

"Kathy passed a big test. You have to wait 28 days before you can try again if you fail just one of the Donnelly, who helps defray her skating expenses by working on the Cultural Center's staff, plans to continue ice dancing and hopes to learn more about freestyle skating.

After graduating from high school, Donnelly hopes to further her education at the University of Michigan and work to become a teaching pro.

Gilles sisters rule net event

Plymouth's Chris Gilles pulled off an upset last week en route to the Girls 18 championship at Square Lake Junior Tennis Invitational.

The 14-year-old Gilles defeated No. 1 seeded Liz Wachter of Grosse Pointe 6-1, 6-4 in the semifinals. Wachter, a student at Grosse Pointe South High School, won the state girls' Class A No. 1 singles championship last fall. She has also competed in the Avon Championship Futures tournaments on the pro circuit.

Gilles went on to beat Jill Brandel of Kentwood for the title 6-3, 6-0. The Salem High School student opened with a first round 6-0, 6-0 triumph over Tracy Bologna of Orchard Lake. She then downed Mark Smith of Clarkston 6-2, 6-2.

Chris' sister Wendy, 13, made it a clean sweep for the Gilles family as she won the Girls 16 championship with a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Amy Schmidt, daughter of ex-Detroit Lion football great Joe Schmidt.

Gilles opened first round action with a 6-2, 6-3 win over Clare Slaughter of Birmingham and then blanked Kern Covell of Kentwood 6-0, 6-0.

In the semifinals, Gilles toppled Gay Woas of Grand Haven 6-4, 6-2.

MIM rebounded to thrash Dick Midler Sports Medicine 27-7 and Chase won on a forfeit against Denny's Service-Global Mobile Homes.

Bill Matich batted in three runs as Dick Midler beat Taylord Weatherization 11-2. Denny Saulsbury hit homers in the third and sixth innings as Taylord edged Denny's 9-8.

IN CLASS C Division I action, Barry Imsande had four hits to power Canton Adray to a 10-6 upset victory over first place Stan's Market.

Meanwhile, fourth place Roman Forum lost to Stables Lounge 7-6 and beat K&C Construction 17-7. Second place Oakview Party Store whipped C&M Truck Collision 4-2 as Don Kliest drove home two runs.

Canton Bowling and Trophy and Evans Corp. remained tied for first in Division II after both teams won handily last week.

Division III leader Howell Industries whipped Penny's Pirates 14-0 and Gill Farms 7-6 as Dave Kulisz and James Waugh combined for seven hits. Rick Kuehnel had three hits and four RBIs as Falzon Electric trimmed Maaco 16-2. The Canton Jaycees beat Lynn's Country Bar 17-11 with a 20-hit attack.

St. Michael's Lutheran Church I dropped its first Division IV game of the year to Amoco 5-4 as Robert Scherle had three hits for the winners.

St. Michael's then blanked Welduction 11-0 to remain tied for first with Ventcon, which edged St. Michael's II as Doug George hit a go-ahead basesloaded triple. Ventcon also blasted Geneva Church 22-2.

In other Division IV games, Statewide Aluminum beat St. Michael's II 8-5, but lost to Target Party Store, 13-9, as Craig John gave the winners a lift with four hits.

Geneva Church won its first game of the season with a 26-hit attack in beating Welduction 4-2.

There are a lot of red faces these days in the headquarters office of the American Bowling Congress in Greendale, Wis. - and for a very good reason.

For the past year or two, the ABC officials have looked with considerable suspicion on the high scores being posted around the country.

They conducted investigations. They held sessions on lane conditioning and all manner of things on the theory that the scores weren't real.

 In several cases, they even denied the ABC awards for high scores and caused general confusion around the country.

Then what happens? The scores on the boards at the recent tournament at Memphis were the highest in ABC history. And the bowlers have reason to laugh.

The Milshore team of Milwaukee won the top prize with 3,188, and the top 10 were all above the 3,100 mark.

Jupiter's moon sets eerie scene for standout film

If "Outland" (R) were about a mining camp out West or even a penal colony at some remote location, there would be little to distinguish the story. The movie would be around for a few weeks and leave without much fuss.

But the setting for "Outland" is a mining complex on Io, one of Jupiter's moons, and that makes a world of difference.

This movie is a triumph of artistic design. Nothing that Sean Connery or Peter Boyle do is half as effective as the dark, forbidding mood established by the sets, the lighting and special effects.

The words and actions of the characters carry added weight and impact because of the impressive designs. From the beginning, they establish this titanium mining complex as an ominous and frightening place.

WHERE WE EXPECT automation, we find people who are all too real. Greedy and corrupt, they live in an anti-human, depersonalized environment of metals, plastics and video monitors. Sleeping quarters for the laborers seem no better than cages for laboratory mice: the cages simply are on a larger scale.

Connery is the federal district marshal charged with keeping the peace in this hellhole. A number of mysterious deaths puts him on the track of illegal shipments of potent drugs. The immediate effect of the drugs is to increase temporarily the user's energy level. The drugged person, therefore, works harder, faster and produces more. Continued use, however, produces extreme behavior which, on Io, generally results in suicidal actions. The federal district marshal, in what seems like a reprise of the sheriff's role in "High Noon," has to take on the villains by himself. Except for the gutsy assistance of a woman doctor, he can't count on help from anyone. The workers either "don't want to get involved" or already are involved as part of the drug traffic.

CONNERY BRINGS a convincing strength to his character, and Boyle is menacing as the corrupt general manager of the mining complex.

The story moves quickly and maintains nearly constant tension as it erupts with the kind of gore which has become commonplace in movies. "Outland's" contribution to cinematic violence consists of scenes in which bodies explode as a result of instant decompres-

With or without spacesuits, this is a depressing movie in its projection of a future society grown more callous, more inhumane. Nevertheless, striking imagery, action and suspense compensate for the negativism and mark "Outland" as a sci-fi thriller likely to attract large audiences, as "Alien" did.

Con-Am No. 27 is on lo, volcanic moon of Jupiter, in the suspense film "Outland."

Muer's P'Jazz kicks off 10th year

Forty-five years of big band history come to the poolside terrace at the Hotel Pontchartrain when Woody Herman and his Thundering Herd opens the 10th anniversary season of Chuck Muer's P'Jazz at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

It's Herman's seventh appearance on the series at the downtown Detroit ho-

"Woody Herman's band is always a favorite - a tradition at P'Jazz," said Chuck Muer. "Woody's a personable guy and he loves the atmosphere here and the people, and the people love Woody.'

Herman mingles with the informal, summertime crowds at P'Jazz, chatting with the reserved-seat patrons and the general admission crowd who stand. People listen to the music while snacking on hamburgers and kielbasa, sipping cocktails and soft drinks.

TICKETS FOR the Herman concert are $5.75 general admission and $7.75 reserved. Reserved seats for Wednesday and all subsequent shows are on sale at the Pontch. General admission tickets for all shows are available only on the day of the concert. Doors to the terrace open at 5 p.m.

Information for all shows is available at 965-0200.

Herman is credited by many jazz experts for keeping an open mind on new talent and updated arrangements. His band tours 48 weeks of the year.

The Los Angeles Times called Herman's Herd a prime example of a big band "transcending the age of the singers, the age of bop, and even these years of rock, renewing and extending the big band idea: inspired improvisation within inspired arrangements."

Not only newer sounds will be offered at Wednesday's concerts but standards such as "Woodchopper's Ball" and "Caldonia" that have made Herman and his Herd an enduring favorite.

Like you'll want to decide what to sell and how much to charge for each item . . . and then you'll need price tags so other people will know what you're charging.

And you'll have to be able to make change for all your customers . . . so that means you should have lots of one dollar bills and an assortment of coins.

Then you'll want to advertise your sale to attract that crowd. You can do it with a sign or signs in your neighborhood . . . but you'll want a bigger crowd than that . . . so you'll run an ad in Classified which tells the time and place of your sale to a host of potential buyers.

One more thing . . . get up early the day of your sale! When people read about a Garage Sale in Classified, they shop early.

Have fun with your little business adventure!
