The Canton Connection

TODDLER STORYTIME comes back to the Canton Library Oct. 12. The four-week program will introduce a 2-year-old and an accompanying adult to both the library and the world of children's books.

Attendance for the program is limited. Registration begins at 10 a.m. next Monday in person at the library or by phone only for those who have not participated in any prior storytime program.

Sessions will start at 10:30 a.m. or 1:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 12. The child must be 2-years-old by registration date and may not turn 3 during the running of the program.

The Canton Library is on the third floor of Township Hall, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill. Call 397-0999 for more information.

CANTON'S CHAMBER of Commerce will hold its membership-dinner meeting Sept. 28 at the Roman Forum restaurant on Ford east of Lilley. Cocktails are at 6 p.m., followed by a buffet dinner at 7 p.m.

Supervisor James Poole will be the guest speaker. He will speak on the sign ordinance.

The price is $7.50 per person. For reservations, call the chamber office at 453-4040.

MARIA FALKIEWICZ, township treasurer, is attending a 10-day seminar in Lansing, sponsored by the Michigan chapter of the Municipal Treasurers Association. The educational forum includes speakers from all over the United States.

SHARON BILL and Kelly Jean Hubert, both of Canton, were among 15 students recently honored with scholarships from the H.T. Ewald Foundation.

Ms. Bill, a graduate of Plymouth Canton, attends Eastern Michigan University. Ms. Hubert, a Plymouth Salem graduate, attends Miami (Ohio) University.

The Ewald Foundation was established in 1929 to help develop promising students through higher education.

THE KRAZEL triplets of Canton, members of Boy Scout Troop 898, have been busy this summer with Scott Fossitt, mowing lawns and trimming bushes for Canton senior citizens. The Krazel triplets are Brian, Jim and Robert. Barry and Dawn Fossitt are the troup leaders.

THERESA DELMOTTE of Canton recently was promoted by Eastern Michigan University. Ms. Delmotte now is the senior secretary to administrative secretary in the Associate Vice President for Administration's office.

THE TOWNSHIP Board's regular meeting takes place at 7 p.m. tomorrow night at Township Hall. Canton's Board of Trustees meets on the first, second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Continued discussion on the possibility of hiring an industrial coordinator, as part of a Township Hall reorganization plan, highlights this week's agenda.

LARRY STEWART, a Canton police lieutenant, has been accepted for a prestigious course at the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy in Quantico, Va.

Stewart — the first Canton officer to be selected for the course — will be in Quantico from Jan. 10 to March 26. His studies will include management, communications and behavioral sciences.

"It's pretty heady," said Stewart, who has applied about once a year for the past 10 years. "There are 240 to 250 in each class, from all over the world."

The federal government will pay for Stewart's training and lodging. The township has allocated money for plane fare so he can make two trips back to visit his family.

Officials ponder Haggerty paving

Issue: Investing versus spending

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Spending vs. investing — those were the alternatives discussed for more than two hours Tuesday night at a Canton board of trustees special meeting called to discuss whether or not to pave Haggerty Road.

The original question centered on the cost of paving Haggerty, between Joy and Ford, to help attract industry to the area. Township officials decided to further investigate the cost of paving two different segments on Haggerty — Warren to Ford, and Koppernick to Ford.

The subject will be brought before the board at a later date. The decision to further investigate these two possibilities was passed 6-1 with Trustee Carol Bodenmiller dissenting.

Two other paving proposals were also discussed. The Joy-to-Ford proposal did not receive support becasue the board felt it was too expensive. The Joy-to-Warren paving proposal, the cheapest of the projects, only received support from Mrs. Bodenmiller. Other

Voters face farmland question again

Canton residents soon will be asked to authorize a bond proposal to acquire development rights on agricultural land. In this article, an Observer reporter outlines the history of farmland preservation. Future articles in the series will focus on other aspects of the issue.

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Is farmland preservation in Canton going to become a reality?

Or are officials going to have to come up with another plan for the farming areas of western half of the township?

On Nov. 3, voters will be asked to decide "once and for all" if they're willing to pay for development rights for 5,000 acres.

A ballot question will ask voters to give the township permission to issue and sell bonds to acquire development rights. If approved, bonds not exceeding $7 million would be sold and millage levied on residents to retire the debt over a five-year period.

IF THE QUESTION is approved, funds will be used to pay farmers in western Canton the difference between the agricultural value of their property and the potential market value for development. In exchange, the landowner must preserve the land for farming, whether it's sold or kept.

Preserving farmland

"I think it's a sound land-use policy," said James Kosteva, township planner.

"I think it has the prospect of making Canton a more balanced community," he added. "It shapes a local culture with roots in subdivisions and in semi-rural areas."

And if the ballot question fails?

Kosteva speculated township officials could draw up a new plan, but he thinks the more likely option would be for the Township Board to direct the planning commission to revise the master zoning plan to consider other options for western Canton.

This is the second time this question has come up in the past three years. A proposal to increase taxes by four mills to finance development rights was defeated by 500 votes in 1978.

Ripoff scam baffles police

Police are frustrated over what could be called a "small" crime wave in Canton stores.

Canton police believe a Ypsilanti couple are sending their 6-year-old son into a store to shoplift video equipment. The plan calls for the parents — who wait in the parking lot — to go back into the store and try to obtain a refund for the stolen item.

The bizarre plan was thwarted at Meijer Thrifty Acres and at Kmart, said Lt. Larry Stewart. Unsuccessful attempts were reported at the stores on Sept. 13 and 15.

THE MOST RECENT incident occurred at Meijer, said Stewart. Ford Road store employees spotted a small boy trying to walk out of the store with a video-game console, worth $150.

They took the console from the boy. About 35 minutes later, the youth was seen again with video equipment, according to police. The child told store security persons and police that his

Senior chores plan denied more money

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Senior citizens, hoping for increased chore services from Plymouth-Canton-Northville, will be in for a shock this winter and next summer.

Officials from Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township, Northville and Northville Township, who form a "cluster" to provide services to senior citizens, lost an appeal last week to get more money for their program. The cluster wanted more money from the Out-Wayne County Area Agency for Aging, the organization that allocates federal aid to municipalities.

That means starting Oct. 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, the local cluster will operate on $20,500 — $12,000 for outdoor work on the chores plan and $8,500 for indoor work on the homemakers plan.

This is the same amount of money the program received last year from the agency for aging. But last year's farmland

Ballot question faces voters

A farmland retention committee recently estimated the 1981 program will cost the typical Canton homeowner about $25 to $30 a year, over a 20-year period.

THE HISTORY of the project dates back to the mid-1970s, when Canton was experiencing a tremendous housing boom, primarily in the eastern portion of the township.

A National Agricultural Lands Study, prepared in 1978 by Allen K. Montgomery and Lawrence Libby of the North Central Regional Center for Rural Development, states that Canton's population jumped 136 percent between 1970 and 1975.

In 1980, according to the study, the population of eastern Canton was about 45,000 persons. The western half of the township continued to be predominately agricultural.

However, speculative pressures had driven the price of land to several times its value for agricultural use. Farmers' taxes had increased, because of higher assessments and services in the eastern half, according to the study.

Since about 1975, efforts to preserve existing farmland in Canton have ranged from zoning to making unsuccessful bids for grants to finance development rights. Committees have been set up and studies commissioned.

POLITICS intervened, delaying or causing plans to be scrapped. For example, there were three supervisors between 1974 and 1980.

Robert Greenstein, Harold Stein and Noel Culbert each served single, two-year terms as township supervisor.

Changes in the township's master land use plan and zoning ordinance resulted in the creation of an agricultural-indsutrial zone. It encompasses 5,600 acres in the western half of the township, with minimum lot size set at 40 acres.

In 1980, a previous township board passed a resolution supporting an agricultural preservation program. The resolution specified that the issue be placed on the ballot.

IN THE MEANTIME, studies by research firms and by farmland committees have indicated it would be less costly to preserve existing farmland than to allow development in western Canton.

"When you begin to develop an area, there are services that have to be, or should be provided," explained Mike Manore, head of Impact, a planning division of Wade, Trim and Associates.

Wade, Trim is an engineering firm which give consultation services to Canton.

Manore said there would be an immediate cost to taxpayers because of the development rights plan.

"But as time went on, you wouldn't have to add services such as roads, schools, fire stations and parks," he added.

"There would be a point in which the residents would get back everything they paid into the farmland plan, and begin to save money," said Manore.

In the next few weeks, brochures and flyers will be distributed in Canton, explaining various costs and long-range implications of farmland preservation. There also will be a forum so residents may ask questions.

parents had told him to take the item.

Stewart said he had received a report of a similar incident a couple of days earlier at a Kmart at Ford and Sheldon. That attempt also was thwarted.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's Office refused to issue a warrant for the parents' arrest on a charge of conspiracy to commit larceny, Stewart said.

Robert Sage, out-Wayne County prosecutor, said the child's age and his living with his parents "don't lend themselves to a good criminal case.

"It isn't closed," said Sage. "If they (Canton police) come up with anything further, we will be glad to reconsider."

IN A SEPARATE larceny case, a 30-year-old Inkster man faces a charge that he stole 13 cartons of cigarettes from Meijer on Sept. 15.

Ulyssee Moore of Pierce in Inkster was arraigned Sept. 17 before 35th District Judge James Garber on a felony charge of larceny in a building. Maximum penalty upon conviction is four years in prison.

Moore stood mute, and the court entered a plea of innocent on his behalf. He was sent to Wayne County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

A preliminary examination in district court has been set for Sept. 24.

POLICE SAY a store security officer stopped Moore as he tried to leave Meijer with cigarettes valued at $68.

The $68 value normally would result in a less-punitive misdemeanor charge, Stewart said. However, Moore has been convicted of seven larcenies and three armed robberies, Steward said.

Osborne sands an almost completed piece of work.

Futuristic?

Craftsman carves tree trunks

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Some people look at Melvin Osborne's sleek, curving end tables and pronounce them "futuristic."

Others call the tables — fashioned from tree trunks — "conversation pieces." Osborne, of Canton, simply calls them "weird and challenging."

Osborne, 51, is a Wayne County Sheriff's Department deputy who has never had any formal training in wood-working. He learns by reading books and experimenting.

Osborne has helped build a couple or three houses, and more garages than he can count. He has made loads of shelves and cabinets, toy boxes and cedar chests.

Recently, he took up making wall clocks from pieces of tree trunks. About three months ago, Osborne began experimenting with end tables.

"It's just a free-form tree trunk," said Osborne, a man who can look at a tree and see hand-crafted tables, lamps and other useful or decorative objects.

HIS TECHNIQUE with the end tables is to fashion a swirled base of plywood. He tops that with a slice of tree trunk.

'It's real difficult. This isn't the kind of thing the average person wants to tackle.'

— Melvin Osborne woodcarver

The process, which includes sanding, filing, chiseling and varnishing, takes about 20 hours.

"It's real difficult," said Osborne. "This isn't the kind of thing the average person wants to tackle."

Osborne had made a couple of tables and has orders for two more. He sells them for about $175, mostly to friends and co-workers.

He thinks the tables are "weird enough" to appeal to many persons.

"One lady wants a walnut stain," said Osborne. "The others are going to use them as conversaiton pieces like a decorative item. I don't think anybody would come (into a room) without noticing it."

OSBORNE lives on Westminster Way with his wife Helen, a secretary at Cody High School in Detroit. Their youngest child, a 14-year-old boy, lives with them.

Lately, Osborne has been working 12-hour shifts at the Wayne County Jail annex in Westland. He hasn't had much time for his woodworking hobby.

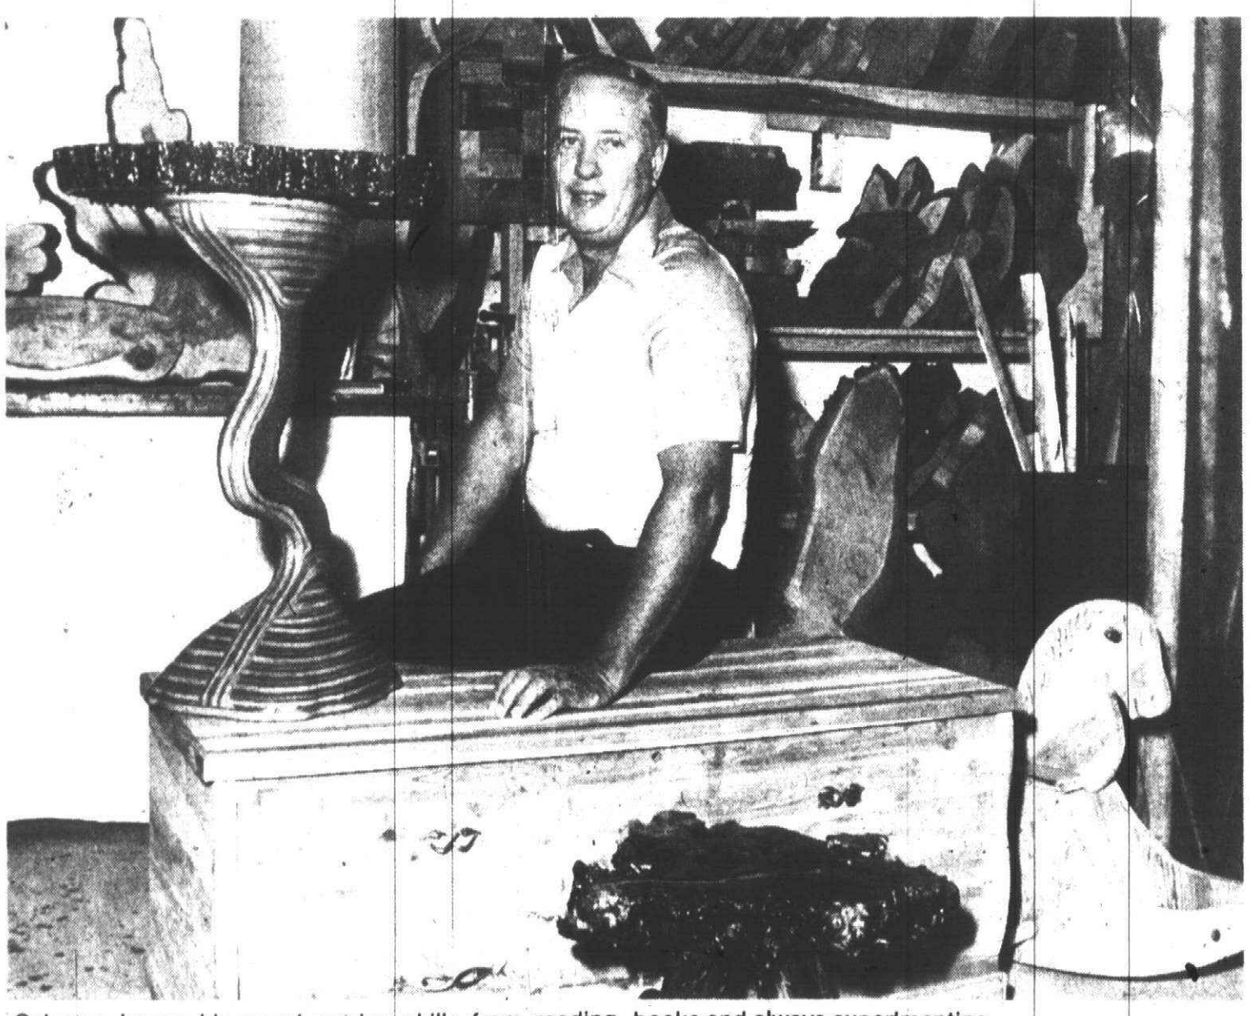
The basement workshop is filled with the tangy fragrance of aromatic cedar, which he buys from Tennessee. Throughout the shop are pieces of driftwood, cactus and various other pieces of tree trunks — all destined for new lives as clocks, end tables, storage chests and other items.

Working with wood is a challenge, said Osborne. Each piece is weathered, or warped, in a different way.

"IN FREE-FORM, each piece is a separate challenge," he added. "I get a great feeling of accomplishment when I finish."

Osborne's next goal is to develop wall murals, using different pieces of wood to form shapes.

"It would be expensive, but it would be beautiful," he said.



Osborne learns his wood-carving skills from reading books and always experimenting.

Headlee may seek governor's position

By Mary Lou Callaway
special writer

If the situation is right, Richard Headlee says he will run for governor next year.

"But I don't lust for public office," said the author of the tax limitation amendment passed in 1978 which bears his name.

Headlee denies his group of Republican big name conservatives, known as Michigan Citizens Supporting the President, is a stalking horse for his own possible gubinatorial campaign.

If that were the case, Headlee told a group of West Bloomfield Republican Club members last week, he "would form a Dick Headlee for Governor Committee."

THE UNSPOKEN "if" for all possible candidates is whether William G. Milliken, governor since 1969, decides by January to seek a fourth term.

Headlee's statewide name recognition ranks as high as Milliken's or tax-cut crusader Robert Tisch because of the passage of the Headlee tax limitation amendment three years ago.

But Headlee claims, "Tisch could win the 1982 Democratic primary (for governor) and we Republicans can beat him. He's a different kind of guy. He could give those guys (Democrats) a problem."

HEADLEE'S SOFT-spoken, evangelistic appeal to the local Republicans was punctuated with poetry and quotations from Cicero and Thomas Jefferson.

A Mormon, Headlee has twice been a church bishop. He's a former chairman of the national Jaycees and presently chairman and chief executive officer of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in Farmington Hills. He also chairs the Oakland University Board of Trustees and Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

"Send (Sen.) Don Riegle back to reprogramming," Headlee told the group of local Republicans in urging them to work for GOP candidates for governor, be they Milliken, state Sen. John Welborn of Kalamazoo, or Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson. Welborn and Patterson have already announced for governor.

"Riegle is the answer to the Moral Majority's prayers. He's immoral. He wants power. He's dangerous. He is a demagogue playing on the fears of the elderly.

"Reagan is not to blame for current economic conditions. This is only the second inning. We didn't win the whole ballgame in November. Reagan's economic policy doesn't even go into effect until Oct. 1. He will turn the economy around slowly. The score is 2-0. We won the (federal) tax cuts and the budget cuts," Headlee said.

"I DON'T VIEW myself as the conservatives' conservative. I'm moderate to conservative," he added while admitting most of his views are shared by the conservative wing of the party.

He agrees with the Moral Majority on keeping pornography away from children, in opposing the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution and in withholding Medicaid for abortion.

"Abortion is a right or wrong issue. I believe in God. To create life is the Lord's dominion. I don't want my tax money used to destroy life."

On his opposition to ratification of the ERA, Headlee said "we don't want to turn women into men. We exalt women. They are superior."

Headlee, father of nine children and grandfather of 14, wants to see the Social Security system revamped.

"Give our senior citizens help if they need it. But if they can crochet a doily, why give them money for sitting around? Does that sound like a politician?"

He said the Headlee amendment is working better than most people perceive because it is limiting state spending. "There have been rollbacks of about $200 million. It requires state government to return 41 percent of the revenues to local governments."

That's "one unexpected blessing" of the amendment, he maintained.

"WE BELIEVE you are going to have to squeeze more and more fat out of government at the local and state level," he said.

Headlee's slogan for the Republican Party would be: "A statesman is he who can preserve the best and build the rest."

"I'm a firm believer you have to build on the past. George Romney was a great governor and Gov. Milliken has made his own great contributions," Headlee said.

Officials ponder Haggerty paving project

board members felt this proposal wouldn't be enough in the township's effort to attract industry.

THE BOARD refused to consider the township staff's recommendation of placing the paving proposal on a ballot requesting authorization to sell general obligation bonds for the purpose of raising money to fund the project.

Township voters already will be asked to approve a bond issue for farmland preservation on the Nov. 3 ballot.

The board is looking at spending from from the general fund and the water and sewer fund to help pay for the project.

Industrial property owners who front on Haggerty would pay special assessments totaling about 70 percent of the paving cost, according to Township Planner James Kosteva. The township would pay for the rest.

Finance Director Mike Gorman said it would cost about $1.5 million from the general fund and $1.4 million from the water fund to pay for either the Warren-to-Ford or Koppernick-to-Ford projects.

Gorman said he expects $2 million in the general fund by the end of 1982, and said there currently is $3 million in the water fund, making the monies available for the Haggerty paving.

Haggerty, a county road, presently is gravel, but Wayne County doesn't have any plans to pave it.

TRUSTEE ROBERT PADGET, a strong advocate of attracting industry to Canton, felt paving Haggerty was an important step in the township's future.

"If we pave Haggerty, we can attract industry — businesses will come in," Padget said. "The theory is that we can develop lands that, in the long run, the township can sell and get their money back."

The township owns 126 acres along Haggerty, between Joy and Ford. Paving the entire stretch of Haggerty would open up nearly 700 acres for new industrial use.

Trustee Steve Larson supported Padget, saying the township board had the responsibility to develop the potential for new businesses and jobs to come to Canton.

"Having those jobs in Canton makes the project worth it," Larson said. "By not developing this land, we are, in essence making Canton a "bedroom community."

Mrs. Bodenmiller questioned whether industry would come to Canton, if the paving project took place. She said business was moving out of Michigan — not coming in.

"We have a nation and a state making budget cuts, and here in Canton we're spending money," Mrs. Bodenmiller said. "Two years ago, I'd say this idea is worth a serious look. Right now, it scares me to death that we're going to borrow from the water fund on the gamble that industry is going to come to Canton."

Padget insisted the gamble was sound, saying the township should look to increase its tax base by attracting new industry.

"When this thing (the low economy) turns around, we have to be a community that's ready," Padget said. "And we will doom ourselves as a community with rising costs and services without additional tax base."

Supervisor James Poole said investing sometimes is more expensive than spending, if it's a bad investment. He also didn't like the idea of the township borrowing money from its own fund.

"I don't think the market (for attracting industry) is there for this," Poole said. "I think the tax payers have a legitimate question if we take money from any fund."

Senior chores program won't get more money

cluster included only Plymouth and Northville. Canton was added last June, in hopes of gaining more money for the program.

"WE JUST EXPLAINED that we couldn't give the same services with the money we got," said Traci Johnson, senior citizens and activities coordinator for the city of Plymouth, where the program is administered.

The appeal approach to the Area Agency for Aging included a "catch a fly with sugar and not vinegar" philosophy, she said. The committee hoped the appeals board would be sympathetic to the communities' needs.

"They said that they understood (the problem) completely, but there was only so much money for all the communities," Ms. Johnson said. "They said we would be first priority if any (more) money came, but I'll believe it when the money comes."

The local cluster met after the appeal denial, she said. The cluster decided to limit the kinds of services available through the chores program.

Snow removal, lawn cutting and screen-to-storm window replacement would be top priority items, Ms. Johnson said. Raking leaves, trimming bushes and cleaning gutters of houses would be low-priority items, she said.

The cluster also agreed to split its money into quarterly fiscal periods so all the money wouldn't be spent in the first part of the year.

"WE'LL GIVE services as long as the money lasts, but when the money's gone, the services are gone."

Community organizations and other social service groups may be asked to help aid the senior citizens, she said.

"We're going to encourage people to go elsewhere before coming to us. And we will encourage donations (to our program)."

The program helped 143 seniors in Plymouth and Plymouth Township and 45 more in Northville Township, as of Jan. 30, she said.

Canton residents were helped by the Municipal Services Bureau through February. Under Municipal Services, 23 Canton senior citizens received services on 86 calls. Municipal Services also aids Wayne-Westland and Garden City.

A Special Offer...For One Week Only

Aren't you tired of going from doctor to doctor looking for relief, trying to find someone or something to ease your pain and suffering? Have you been told your pain is just in your head and caused by your nerves (but YOU know it's real)? Why not try chiropractic care.

Chiropractic is the natural health science. Chiropractors realize that when your body suffers from aches, pains and discomforts these symptoms are actually warning signals of your declining health and not the central underlying problem. Chiropractors are "cause doctors" and seek to locate and correct the cause of your health problems and thereby eliminate your symptoms.

This one week only offer gives you the unique opportunity to find out if your health problem is due to a pinched nerve.

Why be sick when you can be well.

● RENEWING LOVE

A nondenominational Bible Study for women takes place on Thursday, Sept. 24 and Wednesday, Sept. 30. The classes tell how to apply scriptural principles in practical, day-to-day situations.

Thursday's session is from 9-11:30 a.m. at the Lady of Victory Church in Northville. Call Betty Wilderer at 348-0975 for more information.

The Wednesday, Sept. 30, session takes place from 12:30-3 p.m. at 12085 Arrowhead Court in Plymouth. Baby sitting is provided. Call Fran Crain at 455-5069 for more information.

● PARENTS-WITHOUT-PARTNERS

The Plymouth-Canton Chapter of Parents without Partners takes place at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 25, in the UAW Hall on Eckles, one block north of Plymouth Road.

Following the general meeting, there will be an orientation for all newcomers, including disc-jockey entertainment. All single parents are welcome. Call 981-4466 for more information.

● KARATE CLASSES

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department sponsors instructions in karate for persons 8 years old and older. No previous karate experience is necessary. Beginners are welcome.

Classes last 10 weeks, meeting twice a week. Instructions are given by Sam Santilli, a third-degree black belt. Cost is $30.

Classes meet at 8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays. For more information, call the Canton recreation department at 397-1000.

● EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

Sept. 21 — The Parent Support group, an organization to improve communication with children and other adults, will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Jackson Center, 32025 Lyndon, Livonia.

Speaker Mary Hernandez will talk about "active listening" — listening so someone will talk to you.

● CUB SCOUTS

Sept. 24 — This date has been set aside by Gov. William Milliken as "school night for Cub Scouts" so boys aged 8-10 may sign up for Cub Scouting.

Several elementary schools, including Bird Elementary, 220 Sheldon Road, Plymouth, will hold meetings for new recruits, who should be 8 years old or in the third grade. Sign-up begins at 7:30 p.m.

● BABY CLOTHES SALE

Sept. 26 — The Western Wayne County Mothers of Twins Club will hold its semi-annual sale 2-4 p.m. at St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Venoy Road north of Ford in Westland.

Items for sale will be infants and children's clothes, toys, baby items, furniture, etc. Bake sale items also will be available.

For information about the sale, call 261-0608.

● OPEN HOUSE

Sept. 27 — The Plymouth Housing Commission will hold an open house 2-5 p.m. to dedicate a 48-unit addition to Tonquish Creek Manor senior citizen complex.

Parent blasts school board

To the editor:

This letter is to publicly admit to the foolish appearance, we the parents, made at the most recent School Board meeting on Sept. 14, regarding the safety busing issue.

We were prepared to deal with professional caring people, interested in facts, and willing listeners.

How wrong we were.

We were not prepared to deal with deceit, lies, edited minutes of public meetings and expert manipulation. The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education openly refused to sit down and hear our pleas at an informal meeting. It would only hear us under its strictly inforced rules in which we are entitled only five minutes to speak.

The school board chose to use only the safety studies that are favorable to its decision. No safety studies have been done of the wooded walkways at Field and Eriksson by professionals, such as the police.

Canton Plice Chief Jerry Cox publicly stated at the Canton Township board meeting Sept. 1, that busing should be reinstated until the condition is safe, and primarily the walkway is of valid concern.

The school board chose to use only an AAA traffic study, which trustee Flossie Tonda pointed out could be questionable.

The school board keeps saying they are being "fair and equal" across the district. How can they even use that statement, when there are no other schools in this district with the combined hazardous condition of elementary age children crossing a 45 m.p.h. road and walking ½ mile wooded walkway?

The school board, also, only did the AAA study after taking the busing away, when parent asked what they were basing their decisions on.

Our school board holds in its hands a dangerous power when they would not even consider reinstating busing of kindergarten children, only one way, at the suggestion of board trustee Elaine Kirchgatter.

Maybe our numbers attending these meetings are not impressive enough to the board, but many of us have responsibilities to jobs and have to pay baby-sitters to attend these meetings.

We are not paid $30 a meeting to plead for the lives of our children who are defenseless against an administartion such as ours.

Peggy Ellenwood

Ball parent makes appeal

To the editor:

This is an open letter to the parents whose children have been involved in the Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League (PCJBL).

For the past two years, our children have been playing with inadequate equipment and some teams, lack of proper uniforms. Some children had to purchase their own uniforms because the league did not have the proper sizes. (These were not overweight or too tall or too small kids). These were the average kids in the age group.

If you think back, how many tournaments have been held in the Plymouth-Canton community in the past few years. I can tell you — none. The reason being the fields are in poor condition.

Where there is a balance of $18,220.86 left over, I think it is about time we let the people know that are running the program that we want this money to be utilized.

There is an election of officers at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 14 in Plymouth Canton High School. I urge all concerned to be there and voice your opinion.

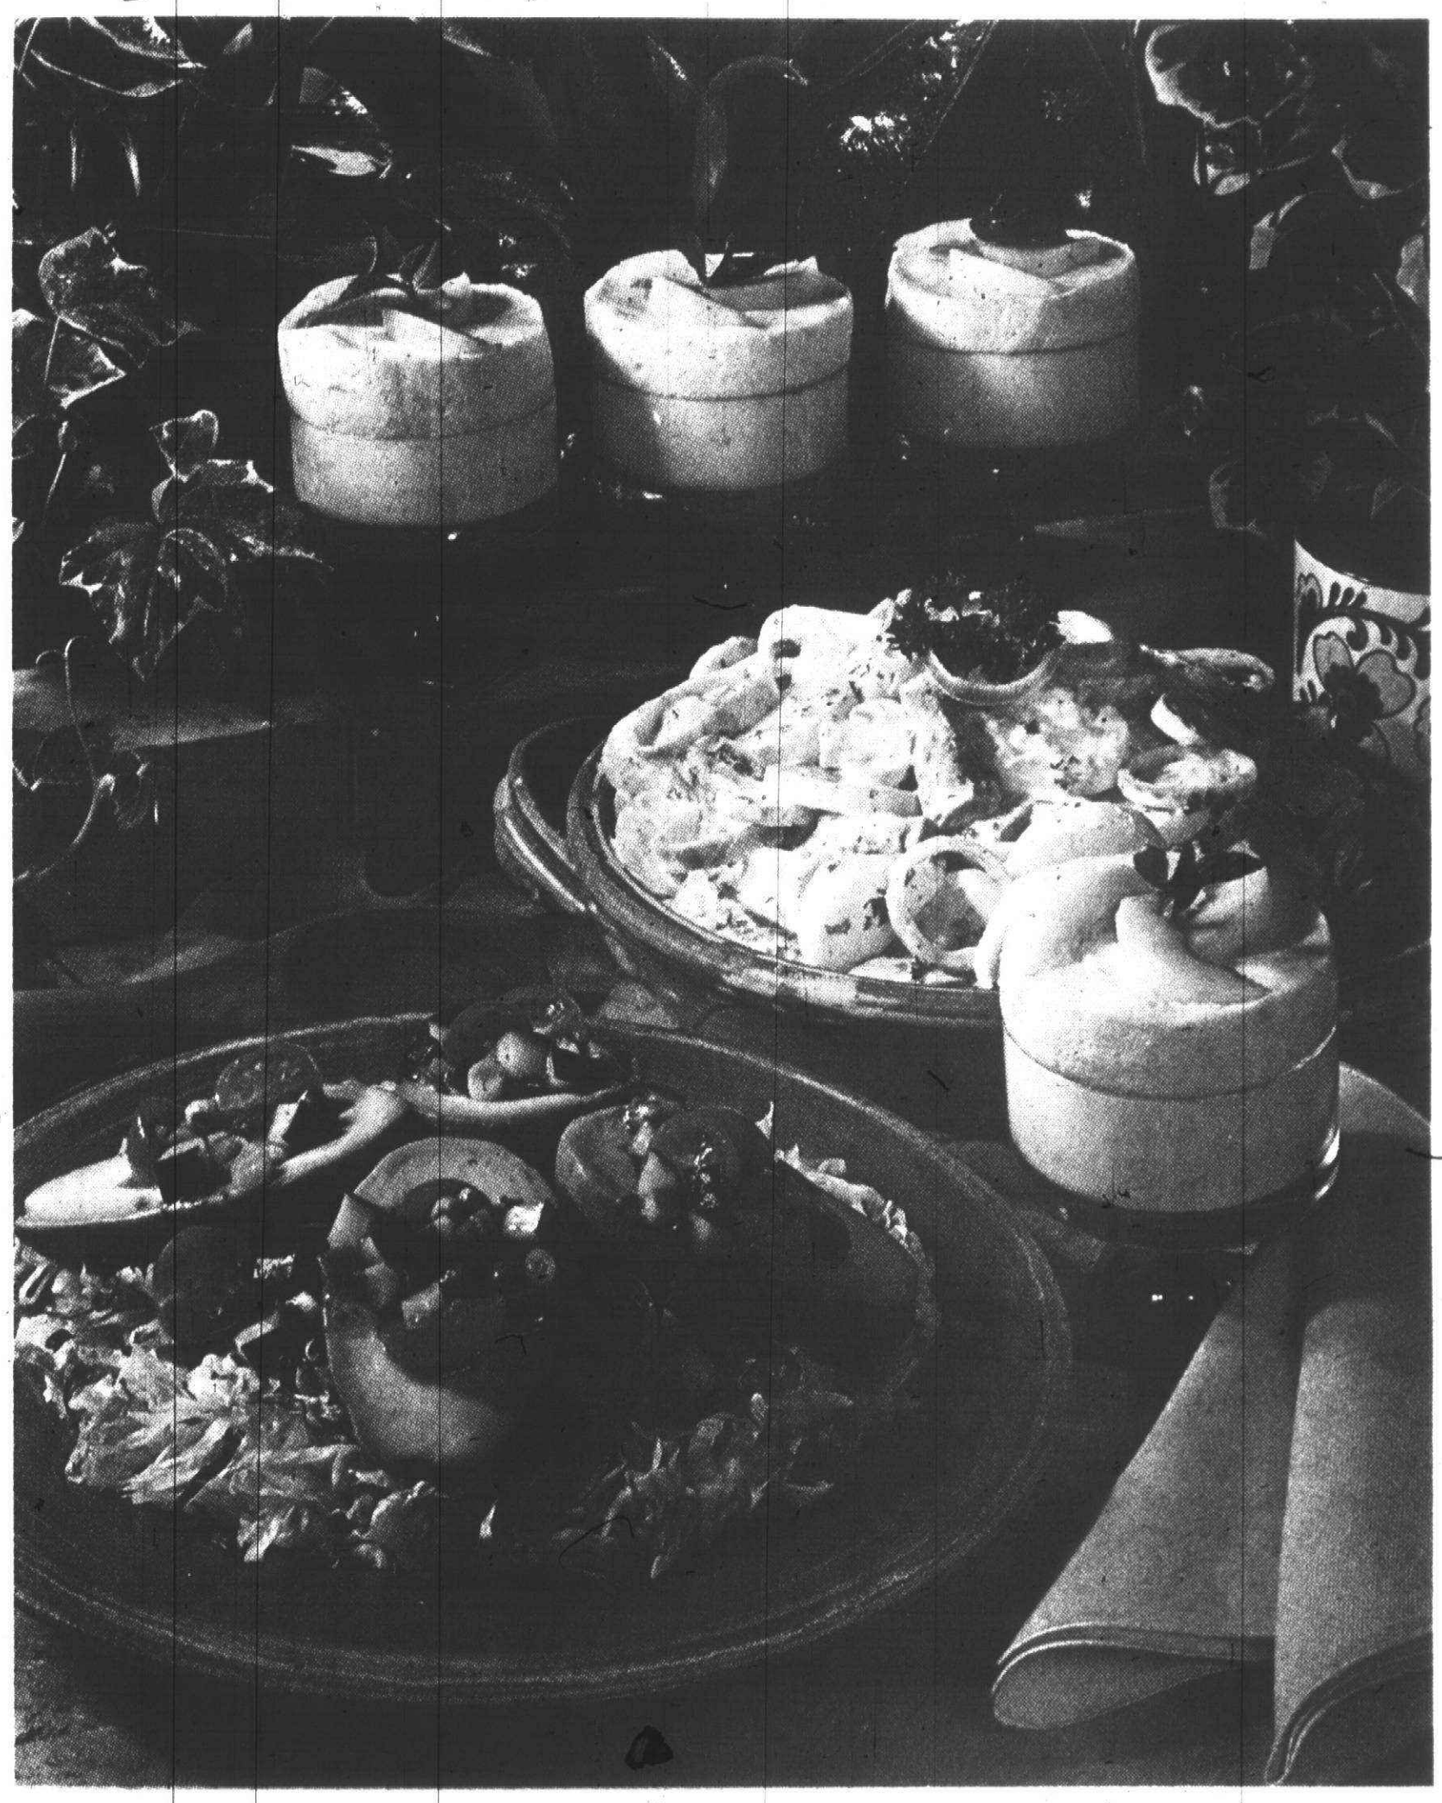
Salad Days are Here



Variety is the spice of life, so they say. If that holds true in the kitchen, then the most well-seasoned menus include salads. Since the days of the Caesars, salads have been crafted to please palates the world over. But whether it's an international bowl or just your garden variety, there's no end to the luscious combinations a little creativity can fashion. All it takes is an imaginative mix of fruits, vegetables and salad dressings.

From creamy bananas to crunchy lettuce, from green avocados to white potatoes, produce comes fresh from Mother Nature in all shapes, colors and flavors. Combine a host of these harvested delectables for an eye-appealing salad that tastes as good as it looks. Then transform the produce potpourri into a gourmet delight with salad dressing. Prepared dressings provide a handy mixture of herbs and spices that blend and enhance the various flavors. They add a distinct character all their own, too. Use them to marinate an antipasto, flavor a potato salad or crown a plate of greens.

PANHANDLE POTATO SALAD

1 quart cooked potato slices
2 cups cooked beef strips
1 cup mushroom slices
1 cup red onion rings
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup Salad Dressing
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Combine potatoes, beef, mushrooms, onion and parsley. Add salad dressing blended with sour cream and seasonings; toss lightly. Chill. Add additional salad dressing and garnish with onion rings and parsley, if desired. 4 to 6 servings.

PEACH SOUFFLE SALAD

2 3-oz. pkgs. orange flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 cup gingerale
2/3 cup Real Mayonnaise
2 egg whites
2 cups finely chopped peaches

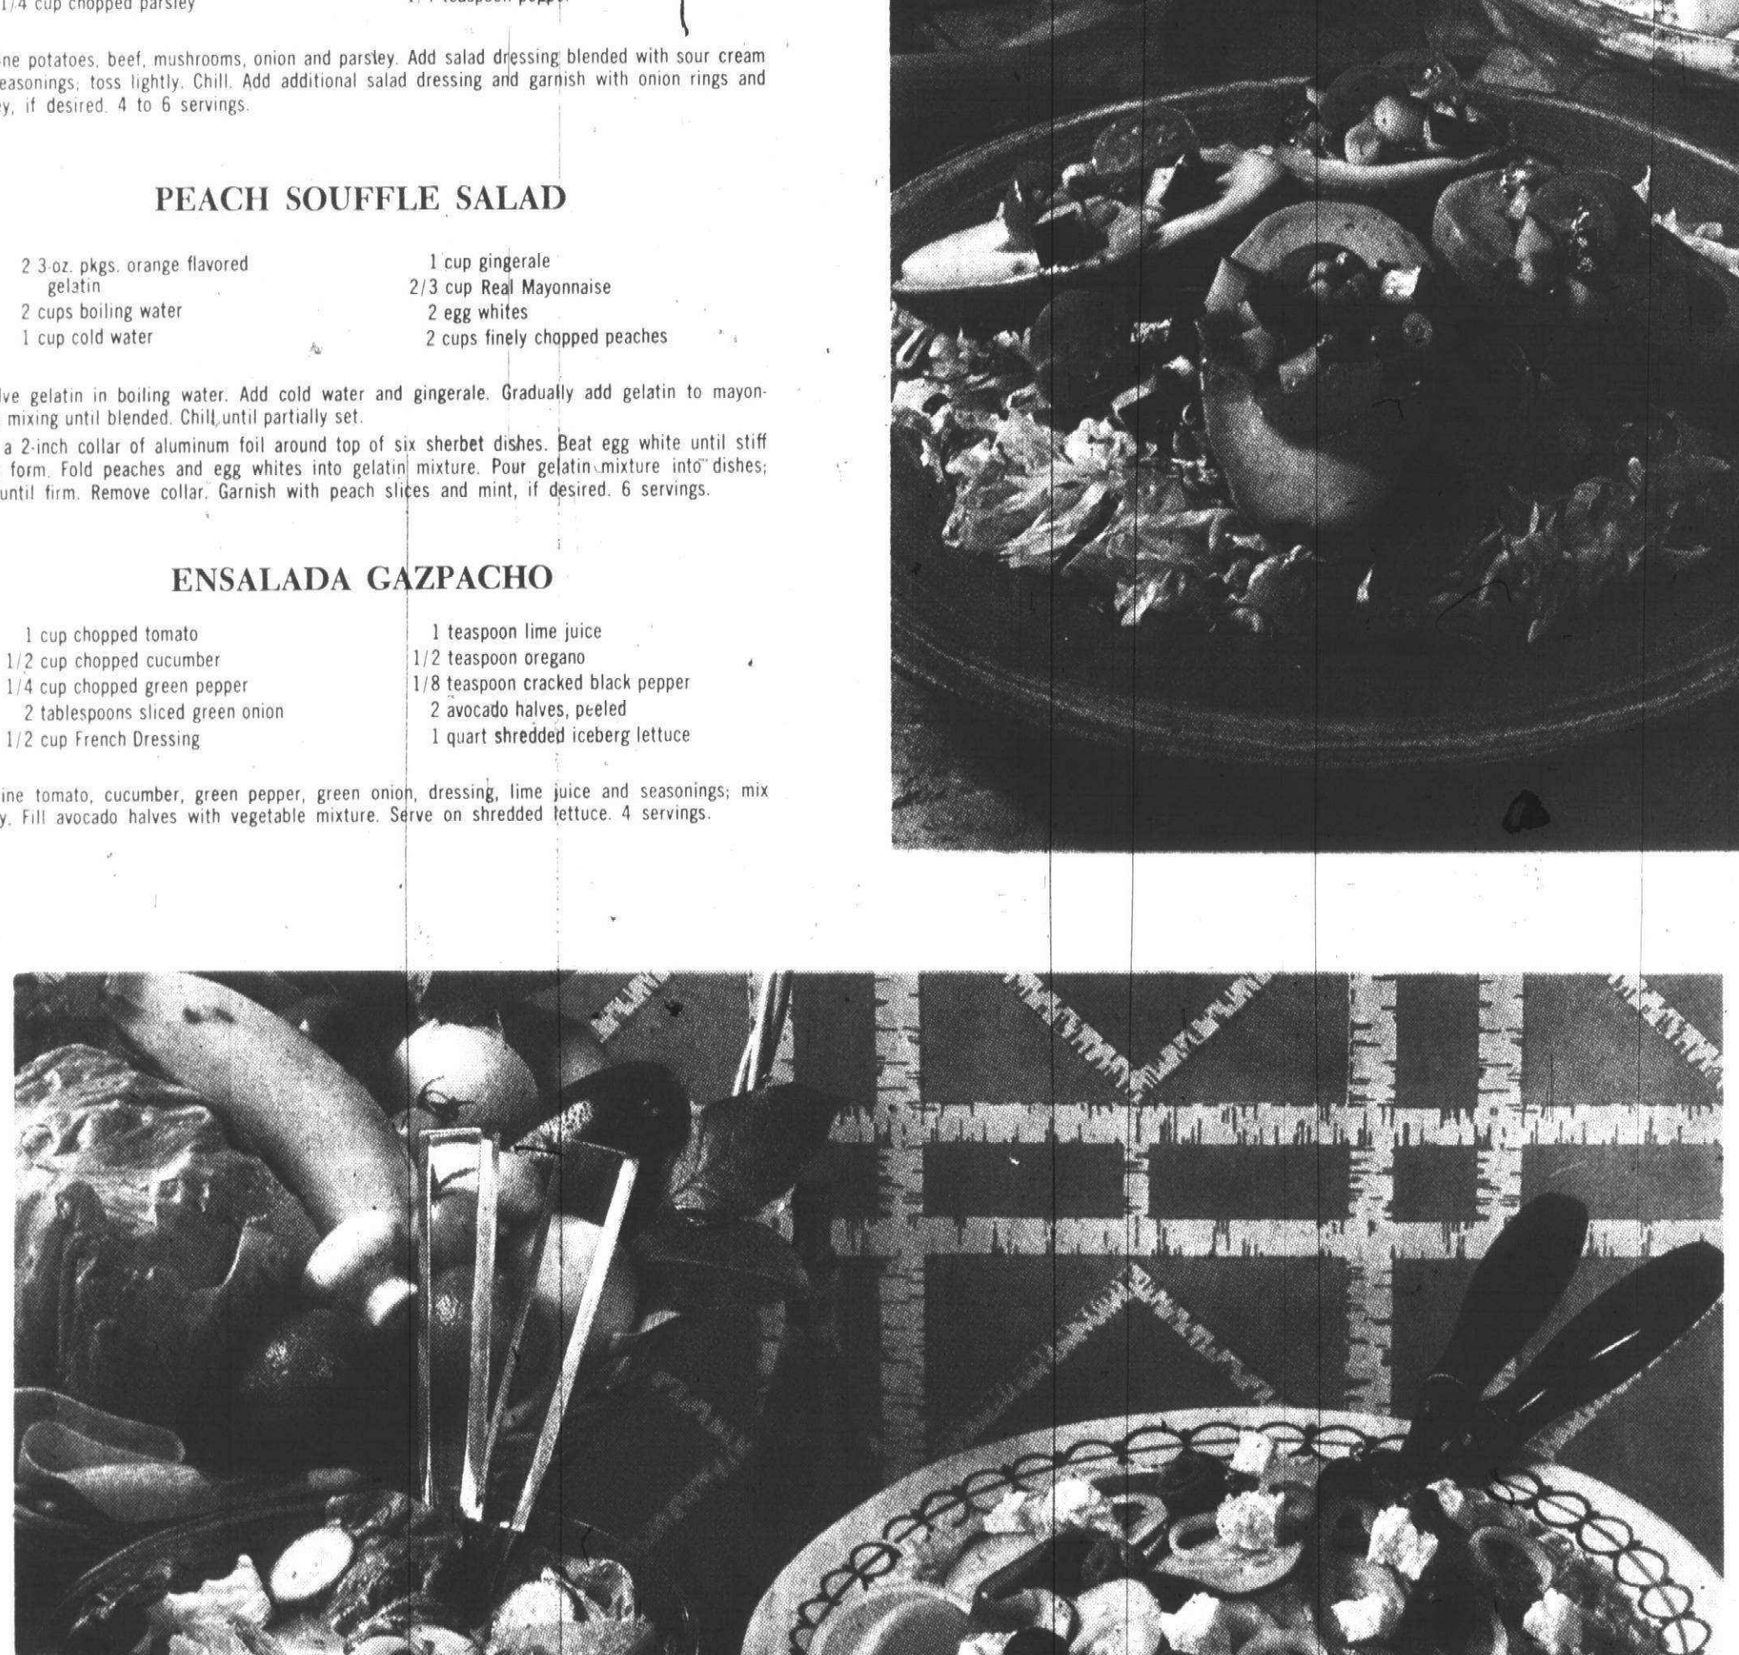
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and gingerale. Gradually add gelatin to mayonnaise; mixing until blended. Chill until partially set.

Wrap a 2-inch collar of aluminum foil around top of six sherbet dishes. Beat egg white until stiff peaks form. Fold peaches and egg whites into gelatin mixture. Pour gelatin mixture into dishes; chill until firm. Remove collar. Garnish with peach slices and mint, if desired. 6 servings.

ENSALADA GAZPACHO

1 cup chopped tomato
1/2 cup chopped cucumber
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons sliced green onion
1/2 cup French Dressing
1 teaspoon lime juice
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/8 teaspoon cracked black pepper
2 avocado halves, peeled
1 quart shredded iceberg lettuce

Combine tomato, cucumber, green pepper, green onion, dressing, lime juice and seasonings; mix lightly. Fill avocado halves with vegetable mixture. Serve on shredded lettuce. 4 servings.



ANTIPASTO NAPOLI

2 cups tomato wedges
2 cups mushroom slices
8-ozs. summer sausage, cut into strips
1 8-1/2-oz. can artichoke-hearts, drained, quartered
1 cup zucchini slices
1 cup Italian Dressing
2 quarts torn assorted greens

Combine tomato, mushroom, summer sausage, artichoke hearts and zucchini; add dressing. Cover; marinate in refrigerator 2 hours. Drain, reserving marinade. Toss vegetables with assorted greens. Serve with reserved marinade. Sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese, if desired. 4 to 6 servings.

MOUNT OLYMPUS SALAD

1 6-oz. can pitted ripe olives, drained
2 cups cucumber slices
1 cup onion rings
1 cup green pepper strips
1 8-oz. bottle Caesar Dressing
1 qt. shredded iceberg lettuce
1 2-oz. can rolled anchovy fillets
1 cup (2-ozs.) crumbled Feta cheese

Combine olives, cucumber, onion and green peppers; add dressing. Cover; marinate in refrigerator 2 hours. Drain, reserving marinade. Arrange marinated vegetables, anchovy fillets and cheese on lettuce-covered platter. Serve with reserved marinade. Garnish with lemon wedges, if desired. 4 to 6 servings.

SANTO DOMINGO FRUIT SALAD

1 pineapple
2 bananas, sliced
1 papaya, chopped
1 cup honeydew melon balls
1/2 cup lime slices
1/2 cup toasted macadamia nuts or almonds

1/2 cup Salad Dressing
2 teaspoons lime juice
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
1/4 teaspoon rum flavoring
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Cut pineapple into quarters lengthwise through crown. Remove fruit, leaving shell intact. Core and chunk fruit, toss lightly with bananas, papaya, melon, lime and nuts. Chill.

Combine salad dressing, lime juice, lime rind and rum flavoring, mixing well; fold in whipped cream. Chill.

Spoon fruit into pineapple shells; top with dressing mixture. Garnish with additional grated lime rind, if desired. 4 servings.

With this edition of Shopping Cart, Kathe and Bill Ross begin their column Paring Up, sharing with readers of the Observer & Eccentric their experiences in the gastronomic delight department. Kathe, 29, is an East Detroiter who graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in dental hygiene. Bill, 31, is from Beaver Falls, Pa. He, too, graduated from U-M, and completed his master's degree work in business administration at the University of Pittsburg. The couple, who have been boning up on things edible for the past seven years, are residents of Canton.

We welcome your comments or suggestions. Please send them along to the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

ICH. The kitchen detail.

How many of you women love to enter that gourmet kitchen of yours, stocked with all the nifty handy-dandy gadgets on the market to make cooking a breeze and the copper pots hanging from the beamed ceiling, to start creating a fabulous feast for your hard-working man and loving children?

Dream on. Somehow I visualize only a few heads nodding vigorously in reply. More likely the response is a groan — "Ich! Kitchen detail!"

More and more families are sharing the kitchen detail. They are cooperating when everyone arrives home from a grueling day in the outside world, and dividing jobs among themselves, from the menial such as peeling the spud to the creative task of combining fresh garden vegetables for a tossed salad.

Well, my husband Bill and I have discovered that the daily chore of preparing meals is much more fun if we share the duties whenever it's possible. Besides Bill is a great cook, probably due to batching it during those football-playing college years at Michigan and living with his buddies at the University of Pittsburgh whose schedule were completely different from his own (oh, how I've heard of the masterpieces that he can create with a pound of hamburger, spices, and little else besides a box of hamburger helper).

He's come a long way from those good ol' days and does himself proud in the kitchen. At times it's his expertise that whips up a great pot of chili for those post-football parties or even his scrumptious lasagna for my parents' dinner party or my friend's bridal shower. I often boast of his abilities as a chef (and at times, he does too). I always thought I was fortunate to have gotten more than I bargained for when I married him. But my friends tell me I was downright LUCKY and few men like Bill exist who are willing to pitch in around the house and help in the kitchen to boot.

So when a friend of a friend called to ask if she knew of any couple who puttered around the kitchen together, our names popped up. A few months later, after a few letters and phone interviews, we were thrilled to find ourselves featured in May's issue of "Redbook" in an article titled "Couples who share the cooking."

I guess we added dimension to the article since we were the only couple featured with a newborn son (Brent celebrated his first birthday last month) to alter our lifestyle. After seven years together as a twosome, there were more than a few changes to be made. For example, the 50-50 arrangement of preparing dinner has dwindled as I spend more and more time in the kitchen alone (disregarding my son being underfoot). Bill, now a financial analyst with Ford Parts and Service, used to be a salesman and usually arrived home before I had escaped from the office. In those glorious days of yore, dinner was bubbling away on the stove and the aromas filled my nostrils as I walked in the door. Now if I'm organized and Brent cooperates by entertaining himself (which doesn't happen often) dinner may be started when Bill arrives home.

We will adapt, however. Sharing and building on our family customs are important to us. We would like to pass them on to our son. As often as we can, therefore, we try to recall my German-English and Bill's Italian background that gave us our heritage and made our childhood loving and special. I guess one way we do that is by using some of the family recipes acquired from our parents and grandparents.

Probably one of our favorite meat casseroles is my grandmother's veal-mushroom dish. This is fairly easy to fix beforehand (during naptimes I get so much accomplished). The browning of the meat and preparing the casserole can be finished and placed in the oven with scrubbed potatoes and I have approximately one hour to tidy the house and finish a few loose ends before Bill comes home.

Two other casseroles (they're accredited to my mother) which allow me the same freedom also follow. One, chocked full of nutrients, is a sausage-and-bean medley with a tomato sauce. It has all the ingredients for a balanced meal in the one casserole dish and is great served on a cool evening with some warmed hard-crusted rolls. The second is basically an oven-baked dish of browned chicken thighs with a wine-vinegar sauce. Enough sauce remains after baking to serve on baked or mashed potatoes, whichever is prefered.

GRANDMA'S VEAL-MUSHROOM CASSEROLE

1 large egg
¾ cup milk
1½ cup saltine crackers
½ tsp. pepper
1½ lbs. veal stew meat
¼ cup vegetable oil or shortening
1 can (10¾ oz.) of cream of mushroom soup

In a small bowl beat egg and ¼ cup milk together. With rolling pin cursh the saltine crackers until fine. Add to them the pepper. Then dip the meat in the egg-milk mixture and coat them with crumbs. In a large skillet, brown the meat in the vegetable oil and then remove the pices to a 2-quart casserole dish. Repeat with the remaining meat. Mix the remaining ½ cup of milk with the undiluted soup and pour this mixture over the meat. Cover and bake in a 350-degree oven one hour. Uncover and bake another 15 minutes, until lightly browned on the surface. Serves 5 people.

MOM'S LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE

1 lb. link sausage
1 large onion
3 stalks celery
1 green pepper
1 can of tomato soup (10½ oz.)
1 can of tomato paste (8 oz.)
Dash of Worcestershire sauce
1 can of baby lima beans
1 can of buttered beans

In large skillet, cook and brown the sausage according to the package directions. While sausage is browning, peel and chop onion, core and chop pepper (may be slivered for variance), and chop celery. Set aside. Remove links and place in a 9-by-13-inch casserole dish. Add chopped vegetables to reserve fat. Simmer until the onion becomes transparent, about 5 minutes. Drain the canned beans and add to skillet. Then stir in the sauce and soup, adding the worchestershire sauce, too. This skillet mixture should then be added to the sausage in the casserole. Bake in a 350-degree oven until heated through, about 45 minutes.

BARBECUED CHICKEN THIGHS

8-12 chicken thighs
Salt and pepper
3 tbsp. margarine
h of paprika
tbsp. of reserved fat
½ cup wine vinegar
½ cup water
1 tbsp. dry mustard
2 tsp. brown sugar
2 tsp. worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. hot pepper sauce

Salt and pepper meat to taste. In frying skillet, melt margarine and brown chicken on both sides. Remove chicken from skillet and place in casserole dish. Sprinkle poultry with paprika. Remove all but 2 tablespoons of fat from the skillet. Add the vinegar, water, dry mustard, brown sugar, worcestershire sauce, and sauce. Heat and stir well. Pour over chicken and bake uncovered for 45 minutes in a 325-degree oven. Baste several times. Serves 4 or 5 people.

How sweet it is

Sweet, fresh-pressed cider, carmel apples and sugary doughnuts still warm from the oven are just a few of the fall treats in store for visitors to southern Michigan's cider mills, says the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Besides sipping cider, visitors also can pick apples or Halloween pumpkins, buy fresh preserves, listen to country music shows, hunt for antiques or go on wagon rides at many of the mills," says Auto Club Travel Operations manager James Drury.

Mills listed on Auto Clubs's 1981 guide are open now and vary from modern, stainless steel operations, to century-old clapboard buildings with creakeing gold presses stained dark from many seasons of use.

Community chorus seeks fresh talent

By Anne Harter Jones
special writer

The Plymouth Community Chorus will sponsor a Choral Workshop Oct. 2-3 in Plymouth Salem High School.

The workshop, based on the techniques of Fred Waring, will be conducted by two of his staff members — Len Thomas and Fritz Mountford.

It is open to anyone with an interest in fine choral singing, from high school singers to church, school and community choral directors.

MIKE GROSS is director of the Plymouth Community Chorus. He attended a two-week session at Pennsylvania State University last August along with his accompanist Carol Chen and chorus member Vicky Morrissey.

"It was a phenomenal experience," said Gross. "Waring is the genius of 20th century choral music."

To share the insights gained, Gross invited the who he believes are the two best directors on the staff to come to Plymouth and lead a workshop.

"Len Thomas understands better than anyone else what Waring is trying to do. Working with him is as close as you can come to working with Waring."

Gross said he wished everyone could afford to spend the two weeks at the Pennsylvania workshop where Waring himself directs the evening sessions after participants have worked all day with his assistants. But at age 81, Waring no longer leaves the state.

"I would like to establish a scholarship fund to send our young people to his workshops. It's something you don't get in college, but it is part of American history.

"Because of his personal friendships with some of America's greatest composers — Irving Berlin, Cole Porter, George Gershwin, Jerome Kern and Rogers and Hammerstein, to name but a few — Waring understands how the composer wants his songs performed."

TO UNDERSTAND Waring, Gross belives it is important to know a little about his past.

"He was born in 1900 in Tyrone, Pa., and his first musical group was called the Waring-McClintock Snap Orchestra.

"His first big success story came in Michigan. Students at the University of Michigan had heard about Waring's novelty orchestra, which consisted of two banjos, piano and drums. They invited them to be the 'third' band at their junior prom."

It turned out that Waring was the major attraction, he said.

"They went on to theater appearances in the Detroit area and got their first break on radio at WWJ in Detroit.

"It also suprises people when they discover that the food blender that they have in their kitchen was perfected, developed and marketed by Fred Waring.

"Waring began working on television in 1949 for General Electric. His program became the mainstay of Sunday night television."

As a result of his background, said Gross, Waring understands what an audience wants and works to satisfy their desire to be entertained.

Waring's philosophy, simply stated, is: "To sing all the beauty to all the sounds of all the syllables of all the words."

He has worked out a unique system of diction that results in 100 percent understanding of the words, Gross said. But the technique cannot be learned only by reading or talking about it but by participation. This is why Gross believes it is important to bring the workshop to Plymouth.

"The most exciting thing about the workshop is that you will learn the Waring techniques by doing them. This will not be a two-day seminar on taking notes. Instead, you will learn by actually singing the music, and learn by experience."

THE TWO DIRECTORS Gross has invited to lead the workshop in Plymouth have strong musical backgrounds and a long association with Waring.

Thomas is choral director for the Waring's group, the Pennsylvanians, and also the accompanist. He is an arranger and is the force behind the success of "Today's Pennsylvanians."

Thomas earned a bacelor of science degree in music education from Muskingum College and a master of arts degree in church music from Boston University. He was for many years a professional educator in New York and has worked with the Waring organization for 10 years.

Mountford, besides being a former Pennsylvanian, is a graduate of Hastings College in Nebraska. He has been a junior high and high school choral music teacher and is the former director of the "Waring Blenders."

He also is a choral arranger and is a popular festival director and clinician. Mountford earned a master of arts degree from the University of Miami and has been a member of the Waring Workshop staff for six years.

Gross said he hopes the Plymouth workshop will be as much of an inspiration to those who attend as his experience in Pennsylvania was to him.

"It opened my eyes and heart and made me aware that the love of music can be one of the most powerful driving forces in life.

The $30 price of the workshop includes the cost of all the music, which will be supplied each participant.

The Friday, Oct. 2, session will be from 7-10 p.m. Saturday's session will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Enrollment is limited to 100.

For application forms, write to Diane Cuper, workshop coordinator, Plymouth Community Chorus, 45774 Gainsborough, Canton 48187 or call her at 453-3532.

Plymouth Salem High is on Joy immediately west of Canton Center Road in Canton.

Council sets schedule

The Plymouth Community Arts Council has released its fall schedule for adult craft and children's art classes.

A variety of interesting and useful craft classes will give students an opportunity to learn skills or polish their talents.

Adult craft classes include bandbox, basketry, calligraphy, children's needlepoint, photography, quilting, stenciling and rugbraiding.

Special Christmas classes involving ornament design and manufacture are included. Classes range from one to five weeks and cost varies from $5 to $20.

Classes for children varying in age from 4 to 15 include drawing, painting, photography and motion picture making. Classes cost from $15 to $24 and are five weeks long.

All classes are held in the PCAC office, 332 S. Main Street, Plymouth. For information or to register for classes call 455260, Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Rally Day

Barbara Collins (left) helped members of her Sunday-school class, Holly Bailey, Jeremy Johnson, Kristy Malone and Jennifer Moe, get ready for the big balloon lift-off Sunday morning as Raymond Malone watched. It was Rally Day at First Baptist Church on North Territorial with clowns and excitement for the youngsters. The helium-filled balloons carried the message, "Get all excited about Jesus Christ." In past years, the balloons have been found as far away as eastern Pennsylvania.

Indian-A-Rama

A place for parents and kids

By David Schwab
staff writer

The Plymouth Community Family YMCA is launching a recruitment drive to entice new members into its expanding parent-child Indian program.

The introduction to the program, known as an Indian-A-Rama, will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Al okbj len Elementary School Gym, 11100 Haggerty Rd. The meeting will include speakers, a slide show presentation and refreshments.

The YMCA's indian program is a parent-child activity that provides an opportunity for adults and their children to get together and relate to one another on a one-to-one basis in meaningful settings.

Program activities are many and varied. Parent-child tandems engage in crafts, games, meetings, parades and Indian Lore. Outdoor activities of all sorts are a regular and integral part of the program. Campouts, horseback riding, hiking, canoeing and sportsmanship are just a few of the many activities engaged in.

Active and vital participation by parents in the program is one of its unique features, and one that sets it apart from other programs of its type.

HANK DAWSON,a leader of one of the 4-6 parent-child sub-groups within the organization known as a tribe, believes that the YMCA Indian program helps parents to better communicate with their children and helps builds companionship.

"The YMCA Indian program is not like the programs of some other organizations where parents drop their children off with someone else and never actually get involved," Dawson said. "The rewards of the program are great. I can see that my son is proud to be a part of all the activities we engage in while being together."

The YMCA affiliated Indian program has been in existence since 1926 when it was begun by Harold S. Keltner, a St. Louis YMCA director with the aid of his friend, an Ojibway Indian. The program was developed in a deliberate way to support fathers' iln their vital family roles as teachers and friends to their children. Native Americans, who believe that the family organization is sacred, were models for the program.

The Plymouth YMCA Indian program has been in existence since 1962. Today the group has swelled to include upwards of 400 members. The program serves Plymouth, Canton and Northville areas.

ONE OF the more appealing aspects of the program is its inexpensive cost. The cost of group membership for an entire family for one year is only $25.

The YMCA Indian group is expanding each year, and a group spokesperson said the organization could accomodate perhaps as many as 100 new parent-child groups this year.

Interested parties can find out more about the program by attending the introductory meeting on Sept. 23 or by calling the Plymouth YMCA at 453-2904.

Lamaze examined

Follow-up classes for couples having taken Lamaze natural birth instruction within the last 2½ years are being offered by the Professional Associates in Childbirth Education.

Classes will be held at the Plymouth Cultural Center starting Wednesday, Oct. 7.

Courses are designed to refresh the memories of those using natural childbirth and will be conducted in two week mini-series formats. These abbreviated programs are designed to eliminate babysitting costs for couples interested in brushing up on chilbirth techniques.

A broader seven-week Lamaze series will also be offered in addition to classes in cesarean childbirth, pregnancy fitness, prenatal exercise and newborn care.

Pregnancy fitness instruction will begin Monday, Oct. 12, and will also be held at the Plymouth Cultural Center. A registered physical therapist will teach expectant mothers cardiovascular fitness, muscle strengthening, relaxation and comfort techniques during six-week sessions.

For information or to register call Annelle Hill at 425-3750 or 827-8750.

Merchant opens world of cakes

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

Almost from the day he was born 22 years ago, Eugene VanZandt has lived in a world of fancy — the wedding variety, the tall birthday beauties, and other special designs.

So it's not suprising he now has opened The Cake World shop in Pinetree Plaza on Joy Road west of John Hix in Canton and is prepared to furnish any style cake requested.

"I have worked with both my mother and father," he says, "and later with my sister in her Detroit store. So I think I have enough experience to start out on my own."

IN HIS YOUNGER years, VanZandt marvelled at the manner in which his parents built their cakes. And he still has visions of doing as well as his sister when it comes to special, attractive specimens.

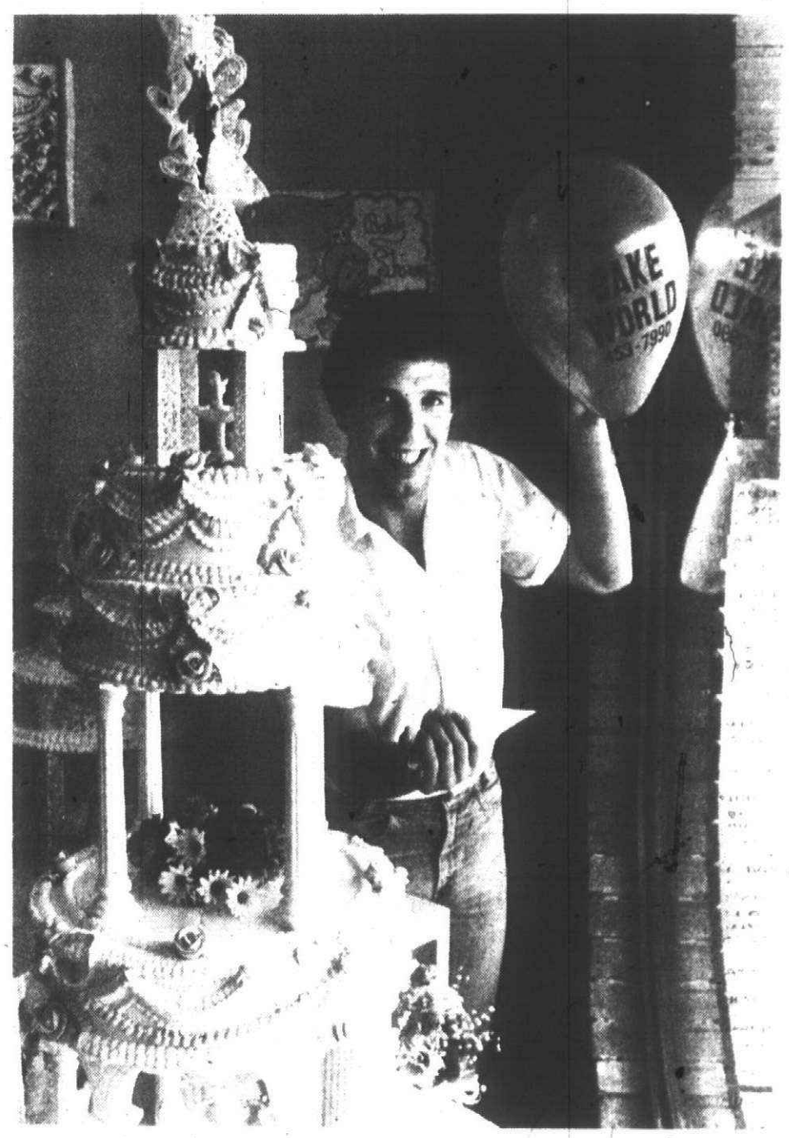
"You might notice, this is strictly a cake shop. You won't see doughnuts or cobblers or various types of bread here. We specialize in cakes and intended to rise or fall on our dream."

A graduate of Thurson High in Redford, VanZandt attended the culinary school at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Here he extended his knowledge of putting together eye-opening wedding cakes.

Unsatisified, he then enrolled at Whirton School in Chicago to learn the art of decorating.

Unlike some businessmen who attempt to sell their ideas of what is best for the customer, VanZandt goes to the other extreme.

"You give us your idea of what you want and we will bake it for you. And we don't care what it is."



Eugene Van Zandt displays one of his special wedding cakes at the Cake World, a store he has opened in the New Pinetree Plaza in Canton. Van Zandt is ready to furnish cakes made to order.

IRRIGATING DEVICES

Recently, the water pick or oral irrigating device has become popular. How do they work? The water pick cleans teeth by irrigation with tiny jets of pulsating water which clean around the gums, between the teeth and under bridges where the toothbrush and even floss sometimes cannot reach. The pulsating water jets flush out food particles from difficult-to-reach spots where food collects.

The dental irrigator is not recommended for small children, but for children over 12 years with orthodontic bands, the device is invaluable for flushing out food particles.

Some dentists have reservations about the use of a water pick depending on the condition of your teeth and gums, so it might be wise to check with your dentist who is familiar with your particular condition before buying one. In any case, remember that water picks do not remove plaque - only food. So it is to be used as a part - not as your whole cleaning process.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN
ORDINANCE NO. (75)LXXV

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR HANDICAPPER PARKING SPACES IN ALL PUBLIC PARKING LOTS TO REGULATE THE NUMBER OF SPACES NEEDED AND PROVISIONS FOR PENALTY TO THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH HEREBY ORDAINS

Section 1. Short Title. This Ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the "Handicappers Parking Ordinance."

Section 2. Purpose. The Charter Township of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan, by and through its Board of Trustees, enacts this Ordinance for the purpose of providing handicapped parking areas for the handicapped (handicappers) in order to improve the quality of their lives; to comply with Public Act 88 of 1978, being Michigan Compiled Laws 257.942a which mandates that each municipality provide by Ordinance certain handicapper parking facilities and to provide penalties for the violation of its provisions.

Section 3. Definitions.

A. "Shopping Center" shall mean a minimum area of three (3) acres of land on which there is located one or more stores or business establishments, and where there is provided a parking area.

B. "Handicapper" is a person who, for the purposes of this act, has a physical characteristic categorized as a handicap, which limits ambulation, or necessitates the use of a wheelchair for mobility, or a person who is blind.

C. "Handicapper parking space" shall mean a parking space 12 feet wide marked off in "Blue" paint. A sign located approximately 6 feet above grade inscribed with the international wheelchair symbol or a reasonable facsimile thereof shall identify the handicapper space.

Section 4. General Requirements

A. There shall be handicapper parking facilities as specified in this Ordinance in all parking areas of shopping centers.

Section 5. Handicapper Parking Space Required. Each shopping center shall provide handicapper parking spaces in numbers to conform with the following table

TOTAL PARKING IN LOT	REQUIRED NUMBER OF ACCESSIBLE SPACES
Up to 25	1
26 to 50	2
51 to 75	3
76 to 100	4
101 to 150	5
151 to 200	6
201 to 300	7
301 to 400	8
401 to 500	9
501 to 1,000	2% of the total
Over 1,000	20 plus 1 for each 100 over 1,000

Parking spaces for the physically handicapped shall be located as close as possible to elevators, ramps, walkways, and entrances. Parking spaces should be locafed so that the physically handicapped persons are not compoelled to wheel or walk behind parked cars to reach entrances, ramps, walkways and elevators.

Where a curb exists between a parking lot surface and a sidewalk surface an inclined curb approach or a curb cut with a gradient of not more than one (1) foot in twelve (12) feet and a width of not less than four (4) feet shall be provided for wheelchair access.

Section 6. Handicapper Parking Space - Restricted Use. No driver shall be permitted to use a handicapper parking space except those vehicles which display a certificate issued by the Michigan Department of State under the provisions of M.C.L.A. 257.675 (5) or who displays special registration plates pursuant to M.C.L.A. 257.803 (D).

Section 7. Severability. This Ordinance and its various paragraphs, parts, sections, sentences, and clause of the Ordinance is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid, it is hereby provided that the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby and shall be given effect without such invaljd part of parts.

Section 8. Violations, Penalties. Unauthorized use of handicapper parking space by a vehicle not identified as required under Section 6 of this Ordinance shall be subject to towing away and impoundment at the owner's expense and liability. Violations of this Ordinancee shall be processed in the same manner as a civil infraction under Act No. 300 of Public Acts of 1949, amended, being sections 257.1 et seq. of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

Section 9. Repeal. All other Ordinances inconsistent with the provision of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistencies, hereby repealed.

ection 10. Publication. The Township Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

Section 11. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication thereof.

This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth at its Special meeting called and held on the 15th day of September, A.D., 1981, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Lucas ends case a pathetic figure

Tim Richard

Reading Judge Harvey Moes' opinion in the Wayne County sheriff's case, a gnawing impression grew that Sheriff William Lucas himself wasn't the big loser, or even the central figure in this years-long battle of the budget.

The picture of Lucas as a tall figure of urbanity and dignity faded. In its place appeared the picture of a pathetic bureaucrat, inordinately influenced by his department's unions. And as much as Lucas lost in prestige, the unions lost more.

Moes, the visiting judge from Hillsdale County, wrote one opinion to cover no less than eight lawsuits which have been filed since the Wayne County Board of Commissioners attempted to cover a $20 million deficit, in part by eliminating the sheriff's patrol and investigation (P&I) division.

Lucas

The tall, urbane, dignified sheriff acted as the unions' front man.

The names of Local 502 of the National Union of Police Officers and Local 1917 representing sergeants, lieutenants and inspectors crop up more often in the case titles than the name of William Lucas. And the arguments Moes dealt with were more often union arguments than the arguments of the sheriff.

We ended up with, not lofty arguments over how much police protection the sheriff's department is obliged to provide, but two unions battling like the devil to hang onto 250 jobs. The tall, urbane, dignified sheriff acted as their front man.

The ultimate question before Moes was: Who's in control of Wayne County finances — the elected 27-member Board of Commissioners or the sheriff and the unions. Moes' answer: the Board of Commissioners.

The sheriff and the unions claimed that state statutes creating the sheriff's department oblige the sheriff to protect the public of Wayne County with an adequate level of police protection. An arbitrator had ruled that this provision in state law enabled the sheriff to keep P&I deputies working, to protect the public, despite the budget cuts.

Moes ruled that the arbitrator had exceeded his authority. The judge noted, "There is a statute of the State of Michigan whereby Wayne County is not allowed to engage in deficit spending."

The county board had, after a very careful and deliberate budget review, chosen to eliminate the P&I division and cut expenses by $5 million. Moes said it was an action that "is so fundamentally a policy decision in the management of county affairs that it should not and cannot be interfered with or usurped."

THE UNIONS and the sheriff really begin to look bad when Moes moved to their claim that the department is mandated by state law to perform 50 duties.

Duplication and triplication — the theme pops up on page after page.

Items:

- Detective bureau — "Not mandated. . .a substitution or support service simply because it is available. The Michigan State Police also has a complete detective bureau and crime laboratory available."
- Secondary road patrol — "not mandated and may be eliminated."
- Hines Park patrol — "an overlapping service. . . not mandated."
- Airport patrol — Some 45 sheriff's department personnel ($1.9 million a year). The Road Commission, which runs the airport, has its own security people. Again, "nothing mandatory."
- Metro squad, defined as an undercover unit — "Other agencies in Wayne County . . . have metro units . . . duplicate and not necessary to serviceability.
- Marine unit — "This is in addition to a 13-man Michigan State Police diving team and the availability of the Detroit harbormaster . . . not mandatory."
- Munitions and explosives unit — "a duplication of the City of Detroit, Michigan State Police and Dearborn bomb squads, all of whom are physically better equipped."

A lot of jobs were at stake, and one can understand the unions' desire to hang onto them.

But why William Lucas would front for such an effort, why he would help Wayne County go broke in order to preserve his 750-man empire — well, those are the acts of a pathetic bureaucrat.

Give us this day, our daily pancakes

I sympathize with people who write letters to newspapers warning readers not to start dangerous habits. Don't start smoking, drinking, gambling, fooling around, or whatever, they warn.

Once you start a dangerous habit, it can ruin your life, they say. I know what they mean. I have a problem with pancakes. I also wish to warn readers: If you haven't started a pancake habit, don't, they'll take over your life.

You'll find yourself, as I have done, sneaking out of the house to eat more pancakes, lying about how many pancakes you have eaten, and eating alone so that you can eat more without scornful advice from a dining companion.

IT STARTED innocently enough. I used to eat for breakfast eggs, bacon or sausage, hash browns and whole wheat toast (my concession to good health).

Then I started worrying about cholesterol and eating too many eggs.I decided to switch breakfast food. I opted for healthy cereal which tasted like sawdust with milk on top and healthy bran toast with little or no butter.

But why go to restaurant to get overcharged for a meal like that? It's no fun being served a breakfast which saves you practically no labor, nor the discomfort of toiling over a hot stove. Might as well eat at home.

Home just wasn't the same. Nobody there. Lonliness. At the restaurants, at least, the waitresses were glad to see me. In fact, they often seemed like the only ones who were glad to see me, for days at a stretch. Here comes a tip.

On good days there was nothing like solitude, time to ruminate and read the paper while being served breakfast and cup after cup of coffee.

What to eat was the problem. I didn't want to worry about eggs, but I wanted more than cereal or toast. Joan, the waitress, suggested I try pancakes. She told me she ate them every day. I ordered them. They were delicious.

I SOON found myself ordering them several days a week, then every day. It got to be a joke. Joan would say, "the usual?" and conceal a snicker as she eyed my waistline.

I would nod, not wishing to talk about it. Let me tell you, I began to believe there was nothing like pancakes loaded with great dollops of syrup and butter. This went on month after month. My 32-inch waistline changed. I kept looking for pant sales so that I could find pants which were comfortable.

People made jokes. I merely said that everyone knows one's metabolism changes after one has stopped smoking.

The worst part was the pretense.

I would walk into a restuarant where people knew me and study the menu as if I couldn't decide on which of many dishes to order. I would ask about hot cinnamon rolls or if Special K was available, to throw them off track. Then, as if I had finally came to a difficult decision, I would say, "I think I will have an order of pancakes, with link sausages, grilled." The waitress and anyone nearby who knew me would laugh behind their hands.

IN THE END, I resigned myself to my fate. I went each day to the same restaurant where I started my shameful habit. I sat in the corner, a solitary figure, my stomach enjoying itself immensely while I kept telling myself, "I can stop anytime I want to, I just don't want to, not yet."

Then I tried to stop. I would stay away for days, even weeks, but the craving got the best of me. Each morning when I awoke, the first thing I thought of was, I had to hurry, to shower, shave and dress, to get to the restaurant before the pancakes went off the special price.

I don't know the anwer yet, but I have talked to other people with addictions. People who go to Weight Watchers, alcoholics anonymous, gamblers anonymous. I have met other pancakeaholics. We have formulated a plan.

We will follow a 12-step program, patterned after other programs. The first step is to admit to others that we are powerless over pancakes — that our waistlines have become unmanageable.

The last step involves carrying the message to other addicts. If anyone is interested, we will hold a meeting every Thursday morning at the Golden Lantern restaurant. Dry toast and soggy cereal will be served. We will look the pancakes in the eye and defeat them.

Craig Piechura

Help us save our noble institutions

The contest was a search for the young geezers of America.

Sponsored by a National Public Radio news program, "All Things Considered," the contest asked listeners to submit exasperating examples of changes that cause even our optimistic youth to grumble, gripe and yearn for the good ol' days.

One listener lamented the fate of the paperback book. A copy of "The Catcher in the Rye" cost 75 cents in 1968 and now costs just under $3.

Mind you, young geezers aren't the same as people who think Guy Lombardo led the last good music group. Those are old geezers.

Young geezers might listen to the Rolling Stones loud but need some continuity in our constantly changing world.

THERE ARE more reasons than mere nostalgia to join the ranks of young geezers. Even the most dyed-in-the-wool nonconformist holds some traditions sacred and will mourn the passing of some institutions.

I, myself, am hung up on Detroit Tiger theme song and saving the penny.

In the fight to save the Tiger radio theme song, I found that I had an important ally.

The ballgame broadcasts always played the familiar Tiger theme song, the beloved and familiar "Ba dadda, da dum, dum, dadda da dum." About a year ago it was replaced by a blasphemous tune, a disco variation of the old chestnut "Hold That Tiger."

And then, after nine straight Tiger victories, Frank Beckman, WJR sports director, abruptly yanked the disco theme and played the right one again.

This young geezer took telephone in hand and assured Beckman that true Tiger fans, like myself, were behind the move back to the "Ba dadda, da dum, dum, dadda da dum" theme. Later, on the airwaves, Beckman said he was deluged by calls from right-thinking persons such as myself supporting the young geezer stance.

THE IMPORTANT thing about the old, familiar and beloved theme song is that nearly everyone can hum the dumb thing.

As for the lowly, Lincoln-head penny, a lot of you potential young geezers out there probably didn't even know that it was threatened.

No less an influence on national custom, convention and political consequence than The New York Times is calling for the abolition of the one-cent piece.

Before the copper-based penny converts to zinc, the Times says the whole coin should be scrapped and go the way of the half-pence.

The Times editorial said we can eliminate the penny in sales tax by rounding sales up or down to the nearest nickel. Guess which direction stores will round?

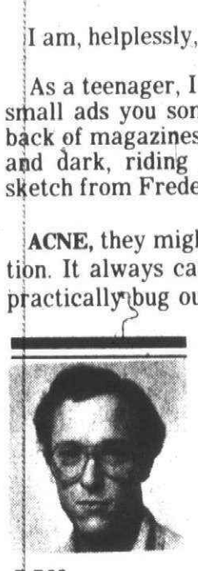
"What does the modern penny, worth a third of a 1967 cent symbolize to our children?" the Times wrote. "Thrift? No, quite the contrary. They see how their parents regard pennies: as a nuisance dropped nightly in the jar on the dresser because they aren't worth carrying around."

We young geezers plan to save the penny's reputation before it ends up in the currency graveyard.

We will keep the penny alive by using pennies more. By flattening them out on railroad tracks. By putting them in State Fair medallions. By sticking them in penny loafer slots. By handing out handfuls of them this Halloween when we run out of Butterfingers.

Join the ranks of the young geezers and save the penny. Use and spend it, so that we can go back to the practice of young people putting pennies in jars and learning thrift. Save the penny and you won't see juvenile delinquents turning up like bad pennies. Save the penny. Stick with the "ba dadda da dum."

Tools and money don't mix



Mike Scanlon

I am, helplessly, a geegaw geek.

As a teenager, I studied with interest those small ads you sometimes find buried in the back of magazines. Usually the ads are squat and dark, riding just below some alluring sketch from Frederick's of Hollywood.

ACNE, they might say, to catch your attention. It always caught mine. My eyes would practically bug out of my face, and it didn't really have much to do with the Frederick's ad.

As a part-time candy store clerk, I was desperately doing battle with what the ads called facial blemishes, my first exposure to an occupational hazard. But my fascination didn't have much to do with that, either.

What I was interested in were the devices, the tiny, plastic, needleless syringes that were supposed to make life a joy once more.

As any geegaw geek can testify, all virtually useless knick-knacks exist only to make life a joy.

THE MAIN ATTRACTIONS, the things that bring my checkbook out of my pocket like a feat of magician's legerdemain, are tools. I have more tools than you can shake a drop-forged, chrome-steel, 17-millimeter stick at.

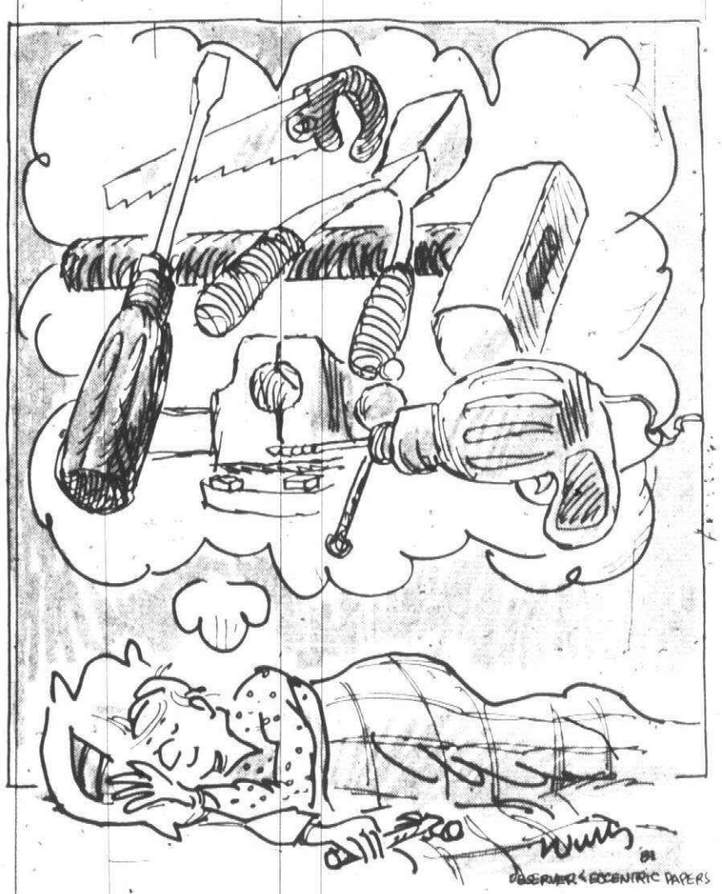
I have a broad definition of tools. A lot of them are very weird-looking, especially the kind you turn up in Army surplus catalogues trucked out by the thousands from some array of Quonset huts in south Texas.

Who could help ordering MP-402, Oct. 1951, Garment, Protective, Gas Attack, Individual? I kept that for five years before I needed it to spray insecticide on an apple tree last spring.

The troublesome thing with tools, at least with large accumulations of tools, is what to do with them all. Generally speaking, unless you get a whole mess of tools from some relative who dies, you gather tools one or two at a time. At no single point does it seem worthwhile to shell out $150 for a really good, multi-drawer toolbox on wheels.

So at the moment I have four tool boxes full of tools.

Since one of the folk-wisdom hallmarks of a good mechanic is that all he needs to fix a car is a screwdriver and an adjustable wrench, you also should be able to figure just adept I am at using all these tools.



A couple weeks ago I was tuning up a car and I dropped a small screw inside the distributor. That happened to me once four years ago and it ruined my whole day. I had to take the whole distributor out of the car and turn it upside down to get the screw out. It took two hours.

NO PROBLEM now, though. After that ugly incident, I bought a pick-up tool with a mirror and a tiny set of tongs at the end. Six months after that, thinking I might need extra help, I bought a pick-up tool with a magnet at the end. Later I bought a screwdriver with a set of magnetic tips.

It took me 30 minutes to find one of those tools, five minutes to retrieve the screw, and 45 minutes to locate the other two tools and put the set of three in the same box.

Then there's the problem of friends who want to borrow tools. The handy thing about writing this column is that it gives me a chance to tell Frank he still has my 13-mm offset wrench. Remember Frank — check under the hood before starting the car.

Things were different when Stroller went to school

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

Many years ago when The Stroller still was in knee britches, one of the popular ditties of the day ran:

"School days, school days,
Dear old golden rule days,
Reading, writing and 'rithmitic,
Taught to the tune of the hickory stick."

We got to talking about those days in the office of Dale Goby, director of transportation for the Plymouth-Canton school district, the other afternoon. And it all started when we looked out of the window at the parking lot filled with the yellow buses that transport the students to school and back.

As he looked at them, The Stroller commented that things have changed a lot since he went to school — that he had to walk to and from the school building to his home regardless of the weather. Now the youngsters are picked up by bus, taken to their school and then deiivered back home.

Goby just smiled, then said cheerily, "I came from a small town, too. And I often wonder if we haven't been raising spoiled generations."

With that, he explained that the school district has a fleet of 15 buses, and each of them travels about 15,000 miles a year. There was no such cost in the old days. When one considered the need for drivers, maintenance men, the cost of fuel and the wear and tear of the vehicles, it comes to what old folks call "a pretty penny."

Busing the students is not the only change from what folks refer to as "the good old days."

Goby went on recall that in his days in school — and he is much younger than The Stroller — such courses as home economics and arts and crafts were taugh tat home.

Mothers took charge of their daughters and gave them many a good lesson in the kitchen, not only in preparing food, but also in watching the budget and keeping the house clean and presentable. Now, most of this is taught in school.

It was the same with arts and crafts, Goby said. There were few mothers who didn't teach their daughters to knit and crochet. Now, that is taught in the schools, too.

It is the same with the male students. In the old days, if they were athletically inclined, they had to buy their own uniforms. What's more, they had to lay out their own baseball diamonds.

Many of them were in the cow pastures at the edge of town. And most of the teams were "pick up teams' with each group having its own combinations.

Between us, we recalled that we had no such things as coaches, and we learned to play simply by joining the group and taking any position that was open.

the movies

Louise Snider

'The Last Metro' playfully captures thespians at work

Even during their serious moments, there is something about most movies by Francois Truffaut that call to mind a child's sense of play. His latest movie, "The Last Metro," which he directed and co-authored with Suzanne Schiffman, especially has this quality.

Set in Paris during the Nazi occupation of World War II, it tells the story of a theater owner, Marion Steiner (Catherine Deneuve), and a group of actors trying to put on a play and maintain some semblence of normalcy during the repressive years of 1942-44.

The title refers to the curfew and the importance of catching the last subway of the night. It is symbolic of the oppressive German presence even while outwardly life appears to go on as usual.

But life does not go on as usual. Marion, an actress, has been forced to assume the role of theater manager because her husband Lucas (Heinz Bennent), the theater's manager and director, is a Jew and had to leave the country.

INITIALLY, Deneuve appears to be cast once again as an aloof beauty. One of the twists in "The Last Metro," however, is that we discover the cold, businesslike attitude she maintains is used to mask deception.

Her husband has not fled; he is living in the basement of the theater where Marion visits him each night and brings him food and news of the productions.

Through a conduit from the stage to the basement, Lucas listens to the rehearsals. He tells Marion his suggestions for changes, and she passes them on (as if they were hers) to the director who has taken Lucas' place.

While Marion is trying to keep the theater going and her husband safe, she has become attracted to her leading man, Bernard (Gerard Depardieu), a new member of the company.

The complications that ensue — the love triangle, the threat of Lucas being discovered, the ominous warnings of the anti-Semitic theater critic, the individual problems of cast members — are sufficient to keep an audience in a continual state of attentiveness.

TO A LESSER degree, "The Last Metro" does for the stage what Truffaut's "Day for Night" did for the movies. Scenes cut and weave between the theater and real life, and illusion becomes as important as reality.

This is where the director's wonderfully childlike sense of play becomes important. He engages us in his make-believe games, sometimes catching us up in the play within the movie, then jolting us back to the "reality" of the movie.

This game which provides such pleasant moments also raises a question about the historical relevancy of Truffaut's movie. For a story set duing such dark days of history, it manages to be surprisingly devoid of passionate involvement or commitment.

Take Truffaut's Nazis, for example. They spout terrible propaganda, but they are not such terrible people. After all, they do flock to the theater eager to absorb French culture.

It's very gracious to Truffaut to be so fair-minded, but depicting the most babaric era in modern times as a period of unpleasantness is an absurd extension of good manners.

Hot stuff

(Above) John Belushi as Ernie, a Chicago newspaper columnist, and Blair Brown as Nell, an ornithologist, get romantic in a comic love story, "Continental Divide." Location shooting was done in Colorado and Chicago. (Below) Kathleen Turner as Matty Walker involves William Hurt as attorney Ned Racine in a plot to murder her walthy husband in the mystery "Body Heat." Both films opened Friday at metropolitan-Detroit theaters.

what's at the movies

AMERICAN WEREWOLF IN LONDON (R). Strange happenings in London and on the moors in this macabre spoof of horror flicks.

ARTHUR (PG). Dudley Moore is a playboy millionaire in love with Liza Minnelli in this contemporary comedy.

BLOWOUT (R). John Travolta and Nancy Allen star in Brian DePalma's murder mystery centering around the accidental recording of a murder and the cover-up attempts that follow.

CHU CHU AND THE PHILLY FLASH (PG). Most of the laughs are provoked by the costumes in this caper with Alan Arkin and Carol Burnett as two eccentric down-and-outers who find a briefcase with valuable documents.

COMIN' AT YA (R). A Western with a new-old twist — 3-D. Put on the specs and have flaming arrows, bats and rats comin' at ya.

ENDLESS LOVE (R). Brooke Shields and Martin Hewitt are two passionate teenagers who become so obsessed with one another that it drives them to acts beyond reason.

EYE OF THE NEEDLE (R). Adapted from the best-selling novel, this suspense thriller and love story stars Donald Sutherland as "the Needle," the code name for Hitler's top agent in England.

Canadian directs 'Othello' at Meadow Brook opener

Canadian Director Arif Hasnain will stage Shakespeare's "Othello," which opens Meadow Brook Theatre's 16th season at 8:30 p.m. Oct. 8 on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

The announcement was made by Terence Kilburn, director of the professional theater.

Stratford Festival fans may remember Hasnain's staging of Ibsen's "Ghosts" in 1977 which starred Margaret Tyzak, Nicholas Pennell and William Hutt. Hasnain was associate director of the Stratford Shakespeare Festival during the 1977 and 1978 seasons.

As artistic director of the Manitoba Theatre Center from 1976-80, Hasnain staged Shakespeare's "Measure for Measure" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream," as well as many other modern and classical plays including "The Sea Gull" and "The Crucible." He also directed at the Vancouver Playhouse and at the Performing Theatre Company of Toronto. Hasnain's only other directorial assignment in the United States was at the Cricket Theatre of Minneapolis where he staged a production of "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder?" in 1976.

"Othello" is the first play by William Shakespeare produced at Meadow Brook since the 1978 production of "The Tempest."

Information about the 1981-82 Meadow Brook Theatre season may be obtained by calling the box office, 377-3300.

Hlohinec settles O&E golf tournament claim

By Brad Emons
staff writer

John Hlohinec was surprised by it all.

The 26-year-old insurance claims adjuster secured his first Observer & Eccentric men's golf title Sunday at Whispering Willows with a two-shot victory over Mark Goad of Redford.

"I didn't expect to win," he said, "but I thought I'd fair OK — maybe in the top five or 10.

"This is great. I haven't done anything like this in three years."

Hlohinec, a native of Northville who plays weekly in Publix matches, won the championship trophy with a 36-hole total of 148. He carded a 73 during Saturday's first round and came back yesterday to fire a 75.

For his efforts, Hlohinec also received a $120 gift certificate.

"I haven't played here in five years," Hlohinec said. "The greens were in real good shape. I three-putted only once. I drove well and played consistent. No double-bogeys."

The new champ, who sports a 10 handicap, played two seasons for Michigan State. Earlier this summer he captured the Chemung Invitational in Howell.

Goad, who also shot 73 the first round, tallied a 6-over-par 77 Sunday to settle for the second place trophy.

Ken Alberti of Redford, who had a chance to win it but faltered on the final few holes, finished tied for third place at 151 with George Malis, Robert Jamrog, Andy Lawrence and Tom Rudzinski. Rudzinski carded an even-par 71 to lead all 210 competitors after the first round.

DAVID PROVINE captured the first flight championship with a 77-76 for a 153. He won the same crown three years ago.

The 40-year-old Livonian with a Kentucky accent was pleased with his play.

"The course was in good shape," he said. "I played pretty good. I three-putted one hole in two days."

Steve Hochberger, who shot a 74 Saturday, settled for second place at 155. He was followed by Rick Eaton (157) and Lawrence Anderson (159).

In the second flight, Mike Warren of Rochester won comfortably with a six-stroke edge over Richard Wilson.

The third flight title went to Bloomfield Hills' Vern Swindler, a high school basketball and volleyball referee, who carded a 183.

Peter Nathan, last year's champ, finished second with 192.

Last year's championship flight champ, John Lyons, a graduate of Livonia Franklin High School and resident of Southfield, did not return to defend his crown.

Defense, Simms' jaunts power Canton grid win

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Richard Barr didn't need No-Doze Friday night.

The Canton coach slept comfortably well after his football team wiped out Dearborn Heights Annapolis Friday afternoon 21-0.

It was the Chiefs' first shutout since 1978 and only their second victory in three years.

Barr was relieved and also elated with his team's performance.

"It felt good," he said. "It took a long time coming for that second one."

Behind a relentless defense and the crafty running of senior David Simms, the Chiefs dominated the entire four quarters of play.

"I knew we would play well defensively because we'd played well the week before (14-7 loss to Bentley)," said the second-year coach. "And today we finally put some points on the board."

Simms, a 5-foot-9, 155-pound speedster, took every advantage of daylight.

He finished the day with 159 yards on just 12 carries. He put the game away for Canton with 1:56 left in the third quarter on an electrifying 50 yard TD jaunt.

"David had one heck of a game," said Barr. "His touchdown plus the other long runs really opened things up. That's what we hoped he could do before the season started."

THE DEFENSE was equally up to the task, bottling up Annapolis' ground and air attack.

"This is the best Plymouth Canton team I've seen in five years," said Annapolis coach Jack Newingham. "They beat us in every phase of the game."

Annapolis threatened late in the first quarter, recovering a fumble on an attempted pitch play at the Canton 33 yard line. But the Chiefs got the ball right back with six second lefts in the period when Dennis O'Flynn, a standout all afternoon defensively, recovered an errant backfield hand-off.

Claude Davis set up Canton's first score when he pounced on a loose ball at the Annapolis 33.

Eight plays later, quarterback Chris Susock, faced with a fourth down and goal situation, fought off a final tackle and barely crossed the goal line from five yards out. O'Flynn's extra point made it 7-0.

Trenton scampers past Salem in Sub 8 opener

Defending Suburban Eight League champ Trenton handed visiting Plymouth Salem a 14-3 loss Friday night.

Trenton, a 13-7 winner last week over Wyandotte, is now 2-0 overall. Salem, which defeated Livonia Franklin in its opener, slipped to 1-1.

Salem got on the board first early in the second quarter on a 30-yard field goal by Mark Blaesser.

Trenton, however, came back on a touchdown by fullback Jeff Whiteside just minutes later.

The Trojans added another score in the third quarter on a short TD run by Jimmy Manns.

The Rocks hurt themselves with 85 yards in penalties, a majority coming the offensive side.

"I'm not displeased," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "I felt we played hard. Our intensity was still there.

"We're green and if we eliminate those mistakes, we'll be all right.

Two Salem drives in the fourth quarter were halted by penalties.

SALEM WILL play Dearborn Edsel Ford Friday in the Rocks' homecoming game. The Thunderbirds administered a 31-7 lashing last year at Edsel Ford.

The Thunderbirds lost their entire backfield of quarterback Dan Betz, Rami Fakhoury and Matt Mattern.

Edsel Ford won its second straight with a 16-0 victory over Livonia Bentley.

Quarterback Rick Wyka, who replaced Betz, scored the game winner on a two-yard run early in the first quarter. Tim Webster added another TD in the third quarter and Craig Hampton kicked a 30-yard field goal.

Moore, Merrifield lead way

Rock cagers stay spotless

Chalk up another victory for the Salem girls' basketball team.

The Rocks won their Suburban Eight League opener and fourth game overall without a loss by trouncing Trenton Thursday night 63-41.

Salem trailed at the half 29-28, but exploded in the final two quarters to win going away.

Eileen Moore, Salem's crafty senior guard, led all scorers with 19 points and eight assists. Junior Jacque Merrifield added 14. Carol Ross and Pam McBride tallied nine each.

Trenton, which battled Salem down to the wire in last year's Class A quarterfinals before losing, scored 18 points in the second period to take the slim one-point halftime advantage.

"I can't remember anyone scoring 18 points against us in one quarter," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "They came out as us hard. Their defense was super the first 10 minutes and they did an excellent job of offensive rebounding.

"We also played hard, but we seemed to make the critical turnover."

In the third quarter, however, Salem took command, outscoring the Trojans 16-5.

"The first two minutes of the third quarter was the key for us," said Blohm. "We had the same (man-to-man) defensive pressure, but I think they got a little tired.

"WE DID a great job in the second half. Eileen was just outstanding and Ross and Merrifield did a great job on their guards. "Glomski (Ann), Johnson (Dawn) and Evans (Sara) did a nice job for us inside off the bench. I'm pleased with all my players.

The Rocks pulled away in the final quarter with a 19-7 outburst.

Salem will travel Tuesday to meet Allen Park in a Suburban Eight League game.

Spartan swimmers sink Chiefs

Powerful Livonia Stevenson routed Plymouth Canton Thursday night in a girls' swim meet, 118-47.

It was Canton's second straight loss of the young season. Stevenson is unbeaten.

Cindy Sherwood was the Chiefs' lone first place finisher. She captured the diving event with 144.75 points. Teammate Shawn Neville was second with 137.0.

Canton's only other second place finisher was Kathy Stern in the 50 yard freestyle. She was clocked in 30.19.

The Chiefs will travel Tuesday to meet Redford Thurston.

YPSILANTI 98
SALEM 73

Plymouth Salem took six first-place finishes but it wasn't enough as Ypsilanti came away with a 98-73 girls' swim triumph Thursday.

"They (Ypsi) were pretty solid all the way around," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "We had a lot of first-places, but also a lot of fifths."

Terri Eudy of Salem won both the 200 yard individual medley (2:20.2) and 500 freestyle (5:47.7).

Other first place finishers for the Rocks included Cindy McSurely, diving, 200.15; Amy Dunn, 100 freestyle, 59.6; and Corinne Cabadas, 100 breaststroke, 1:15.3.

Cabadas, Debbie Darlington, B.J. Bing and Renee Rudin combined to win the 200 medley relay in 2:08.7.

Kathy Kubiske of Ypsi was victorious in the 50 freestyle (26.1) and 100 butterfly (1:05.0). Teammate Lee Wallerstedt took the 200 freestyle (2:10.1) and 100 backstroke (1:10.8).

Salem swimmers gaining second place spots included Darlington, 100 backstroke, 1:11.8; Bing, 100 butterfly, 1:09.3, and 200 IM, 2:33.2.

Rudin, Kim Leesch, Ellen Wall and Lisa Trahey gained second in the 400 freestyle relay with a clocking of 4:29.6.

Salem, 1-1 in dual meets, will host Redford Union Tuesday.

Prep soccer opener goes to Farmington

Plymouth Canton coach Tony Lonigro had no complaints despite his team's loss on opening day.

Host Farmington ruined the first Canton soccer game in history with a 3-1 victory Friday afternoon.

The winners took a 3-0 halftime lead and held on the for the victory.

Tom Wright, a center-forward, scored Canton's only goal in the second half on a nice individual effort.

"I'm very pleased for the first game," said Lonigro. "Both teams played a good game.

"We had plenty of shots on goal but their goalie always seemed to make the plays."

The Chiefs will return to action Tuesday at Schoolcraft when they meet Northville. Game time is 4 p.m.

Football coach hails club

In the third quarter, Simms ripped off a 28-yard run and Chuck Davis took it in from five yards out to give Canton a two-touchdown advantage.

On the very next series, Canton scored again on Simms' run to put the game out of reach.

In the second half, Canton's defense became even more active, holding the Cougars to just 14 total yards.

LINEBACKERS Fred Rumberger, Dan Smith and Jeff Cousino swarmed the Annapolis ball carriers, which had rushed for over 200 yards the previous week in a win over Inkster. They also got plenty of help up front from Mike Fifer (two sacks), Dan Schacht, Marty McCarthy and O'Flynn.

"We've been trying to eliminate those silly errors," said Barr. "I've got through to the kids finally that we can't do that and expect to win.

"This is our best defensive effort since so far (in two years). I guess it has to be when you shut somebody out."

Newingham pinned the blame on himself.

"We did not do a good job as a coaching staff," he said. "We lacked crispness in our tackling and we weren't holding our blocks.

"Any time there's confusion, it's the coaches' fault. We had them well scouted and we knew what was coming on every play. We just didn't execute."

Hudgins chairs boards as Chief girls triumph

Senior center Robyn Hudgins pumped in 16 points and grabbed 14 rebounds to lift Plymouth Canton to a 59-50 non-league girls' cage victory over Westland John Glenn Thursday night.

The Chiefs are 3-1 overall. Glenn suffered its first loss in three starts.

"Robyn played a fine game for us inside," said Canton coach Mike McCauley.

"This is the first time we clicked together as a team defensively. We're trying to play help-side, ball-side and it was about 50 percent there tonight. It's coming. It's been better every game.

Senior forward Reggie Ruggiero added 14 points.

Pearly Cunningham, who went 10-for-10 and set a school field goal percentage record last week against Thurston, chipped in with 10 points and five rebounds.

Mary Lou Jaskoski paced the Glenn scoring attack with 16. Kathy Wenzel added 10.

Canton held a 29-22 halftime lead, but Glenn cut the margin to four points entering the final period.

"IT WAS an up-and-down game," said the Canton coach. "I think they're (Glenn) are better than last year. Their guards are better and they're quicker as a team."

The Chiefs hit well from outside for the second straight game (24 for 49).

Rocks hit golf skid

Plymouth Salem is off to one of its slowest prep golf starts in years.

The Salem boys' team, which has won the Suburban Eight title the past three seasons, lost its fourth match of the young season Thursday to league rival Trenton, 204-216, in a match played at Brae Burn.

Mike Morrick's 2-over-par 37 claimed medalist honors for Trenton. Nunzio Marino paced Salem with a 40.

Rounding out the Salem scoring were Greg Trim, 41; Pete Mitroff, 43; Todd Riedel, 45, and Rob Ziegler, 47.

"We've had a tough start," said Bob Waters, who coached the Rocks to a state Class A title in 1973. "We've been disappointed in the play of our seniors.

"We seem to be up-tight right now and our lack of experience is starting to show."

Earlier in the week, North Farmington won a match at Brae Burn, the Rocks' home course, 228-231.

Rick MacIntosh of North Farmington took medalist honors with a 40. Mitroff paced Salem with a 44. Other Salem scores included Marino, 46; Rob Rowland, 48, and Trim, 49.

SALEM OPENED the season at the Brighton triangular meet at Burroughs Farms. Brighton was first with 324 followed by Salem (334) and Dearborn (338). Redford Union also beat the Rocks in a non-league dual, 205-210.

Harrier team loses

Walled Lake Western swept the first six places Thursday as the Warriors downed Plymouth Canton in a cross country meet 15-48.

Kyle Chura won the three-mile race with a time of 16:47.

Dan Henry paced Canton, now 0-3 in dual meets, with a time of 18:08, good enough for seventh place.

Other Canton finishers included Tim Collins, eighth, 18:13; Tom Pasley, ninth, 18:34; Todd Gattoni, 12th, 18:52; Brian Lee, 13th, 18:57; Chris Albaugh, 19:19, and Kevin Czapla, 20:10.

Hardware and Software Development Engineers
Rapid growth at BNR, Inc., in Ann Arbor, Michigan has created the opportunities for ambitious people to participate in the development of advanced data processing systems and their integration with telecommunications networks. Our reputation continues to grow and so do the opportunities for talented engineers and programmers. Begin now to build your career with one of the largest research and development organizations in North America. The following positions are available immediately.

Design Engineer - Hardware Product Test
Openings available for individuals with BSEE/BSCS or equivalent related experience in environmental testing of hardware systems. Duties include preparation and execution of hardware product test plans for all new product developments.

Product Safety/EMC Technician
Seeking individual familiar with UL, CSA and international standards. Knowledge desired in FCC and VDE EMC requirements. Duties to involve testing and documentation of equipment for compliance to above standards. Qualified candidate will have technical background with a minimum of 2 years related experience.

Design Engineer - Diagnostics
BSEE or BSCS with 1-4 years of experience in assembly language and/or microprocessors. Should have a good mix of hardware and software with a strong interest in testing of processor units and associated peripherals.

Data Communications
Immediate openings for systems programmers with one to four years experience in the areas of operating systems and communications systems. Familiarity with microprocessors or minicomputers is helpful. Experience with X.25 networks, SNA development or multi-tasking operating systems is highly desired.

Senior Computer Development Engineers
Desire a BSEE or MSEE with a minimum of 4 years experience in system and logic design of microprocessor-based, distributed data processing systems. Position requires analytical and implementation experience in the areas of computer architecture and/or communications systems. Applicant must be a self-motivated individual and oriented towards cost effective development solutions.

Technician - Computer Development
Immediate opening exists for a technician in BNR's Product Development Laboratory. Applicant should have an Associate's degree in digital logic design, and have experience in prototyping and debugging logic based systems.

Operating Systems/Utilities
Entry level programmers needed in the area of operating systems and utilities. A Bachelor's degree in computer science is required with coursework in one or more of the following: operating systems design, compiler design, or systems programming.

On-Line Systems
Openings exist for system programmers in Compatible Products Group. Familiarity with BSC, SNA/SDLC or local channel communication protocols is highly desirable. Experience with communications systems would be helpful.

Our salaries are competitive and our benefit package is excellent. For immediate consideration, please forward resume with salary requirements to: BNR Inc., C. Williams, Manager, Human Resources, Mail Stop #5, 100 Phoenix Drive, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48106, (313) 973-4711.

Ms. Rose Stemmermann
The Observer & Eccentric
36251 Schoolcraft Road
Livonia, Michigan 48150

Dear Rose:

The recent slump in auto sales has forced us to be more aware of where our advertising dollars are most effectively spent. Presently, we are overstocked with cars, including Escorts and EXPs and need to make people aware that these cars are not hard to get. At the same time, we can not afford large expenditures with no results.

That's why we continue to advertise regularly in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. Your strong circulation in Livonia and surrounding areas helps us better reach those car buyers right in our own community without spending a fortune to do so. By running ads that catch the eye with prices that are always competitive we have been able to let prospective customers know how much we have to offer.

Bill Brown Ford has been a regular advertiser in the Observer & Eccentric for many years and we are optimistic that, with your help, we will have continued successes in the future.

Sincerely,

M. J. Schrieber

New Cutlass

Oldsmobile's rear-wheel-drive Cutlass series offers six cars: the Cutlass coupe and sedan, Cutlass Supreme Brougham coupe and sedan, Cutlass Calais coupe and Cutlass Cruiser wagon. The Cutlass Supreme Brougham (above) has as its standard engine a 3.8-liter V-6 with optional powertrains including the 4.3-liter V-8 and 5.7-liter V-8 diesel. The V-6 is lighter than its V-8 predecessor and is expected to deliver mileage in the mid 20s.

Federal government pushing wise driving

The federal government has issued guidelines to careful (read thrifty) drivers in the pamphlet How to Save Gasoline . . . and Money.

The guidelines give a number of suggestions and the reasons a driver can save money by following them.

If you are a typical driver, your car:

- Travels more than 11,000 miles per year.
- Consumes nearly 800 gallons of gasoline annually (slightly more than two gallons of gasoline a day).
- Costs you more than $1,000 per year for gasoline alone (more than eight cents per mile).

These figures assume that you are driving a private automobile in an urban area. Yet, even if you have a long commute, use your car for business, drive a light truck or for some other reason exceed those averages, the relative impact of gasoline costs on the pocketbook remains the same.

By driving more efficiently, you could easily:

- Cut gasoline consumption by 40-80 gallons per car, probably without eliminating any necessary travel and without inconvenience or sacrifice.
- Save $50-$100 or more per year.

To drive more efficiently:

- Drive at a moderate speed. The most efficient range usually is 35-45 miles per hour. On the highway, where you may need to maintain a higher speed, stay at 55 mph. Most automobiles get 18 percent better mileage on the highway at 50 than at 65 mph, and 20 percent better mileage at 55 than at 70 mph.
- Drive at a smooth and steady pace. Press lightly but steadily on the accelerator so that you flow smoothly through traffic. Avoid tailgating, unnecessary accelerating and braking.
- Drive defensively. Anticipate traffic flow 10-12 seconds ahead. Maintain two or three seconds of buffer space between your car and the others around. This is calculated by noting when the car ahead passes a fixed point and counting the seconds until you reach that point.
- Don't idle the engine for longer than 30 seconds. An idling car gets zero miles to the gallon. Driving slowly for the first few minutes is a much more efficient way to warm the engine than excessive idling, even after the car has stood overnight. Also, turn off the ignition any time you expect to wait more than 30 seconds or so. Restarting will take less gasoline than idling.
- Keep windows closed when driving at highway speeds. Open windows increase wind resistance by creating drag. If the weather's reasonable, use the floor or dashboard vents. If heating or cooling is needed, use a moderate setting.
