Teachers OK proposed contract — by only 2 votes

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Plymouth-Canton teachers gave tentative approval — by only two votes — to a new two-year contract with the Board of Education.

Formal ratification should come within two weeks. The contract runs through August, 1984.

About three-quarters of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA) membership came to a Monday afternoon meeting to vote on the proposed agreement, according to Candi Reece, the union's chief negotiator.

Teachers approved the contract by a more than 2-to-1 margin, 375-181, Reece said. Union rules call for at least 373 (one vote more than half of the 745 membership) votes to give tentative approval to a new contract.

Board members were briefed on the proposed settlement at a 7 a.m. meeting Friday. Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for personnel, said he believes the board will ratify the agreement at its first regular meeting in February.

TENTATIVE AGREEMENT was reached last week with the help of state mediator Ed Phillips. Both sides exhibited movement under mediation.

Teachers settled for less money than originally proposed, but maintained the same contract language as in the previous agreement.

The pact includes a wage freeze this year and an open-ended agreement to bargain for salary changes in the second year. The freeze does not apply to wage-scale increments built into the contract. About 38 percent of PCEA's membership is at the top of the scale and will be frozen at a $31,750 annual salary.

The freeze-increment package was the original — and only — salary proposal offered by the board.

"I know a lot of people at the top (of the scale) were upset, but others were not," Reece said. "I think they've heard enough from the community and are willing to do their part to help for one year."

"That doesn't mean we will do it for two years, however," Reece said.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are faced with a projected $3.5-million budget deficit for 1983-84.

A 1-percent wage increase for district employees represents approximately $300,000, school officials said.

'I know a lot of people at the top were upset, but others were not. I think they've heard enough from the community and are willing to do their part to help for one year. That doesn't mean we will do it for two years, however.'

Candi Reece
PCEA chief negotiator

The board wanted — but didn't get — revisions in current contract language for more flexibility in assigning teachers and adjusting the school day, Kee said.

"I'm concerned that we didn't get the language changes that we needed in order to operate in the future," Kee said, "but we'll just have to live with it."

Kee stressed that the same contract language will not hamper possible board decisions to increase class size or shorten class days because of budget constraints.

A MISUNDERSTANDING concerning the teachers' school calendar surfaced over the weekend — after the board met and discussed terms of the proposed settlement.

The board was under the impression that teachers would work 185 days this year (two less than the last contract), but go back to a 187-day calendar in 1983-84. PCEA officials thought the agreement called for a 185-day schedule for both years.

At the union's tentative agreement meeting, it was decided that teachers would approve the 185-day calendar this year and bargain the calendar — with salaries — next year.

Kee said the board would accept this "middle-of-the-road" calendar proposal.

"We don't see any problem with that," Kee said.

Students attend class for 180 days and will not be affected by the teacher calendar changes.

"I really believe it was a misunderstanding on both sides," Reece said.

New Chamber president wants membership boost

By Dennis O'Connor
editor

Canton's Chamber of Commerce wants more businesses to join its organization.

The Chamber hopes to attract a larger membership in 1983 — that's its No. 1 goal, according to newly elected president Jack Koers.

Koers, owner of Plymouth Construction and Equipment Co., was installed as the Chamber's new leader at the organization's 11th annual dinner-meeting Monday night at the Roman Forum restaurant.

Some 90 people attended the event, highlighted by guest entertainer Eileen Miller who makes and plays her own instruments.

Membership in the Chamber only increased from 157 to 159 — less than one-half of the businesses in Canton — during 1982, according to out-going president John Schwartz, who served as head of the Chamber for two years. Besides membership, Koers wants businesses to increase promotional ef-orts so residents will shop in Canton. Chamber members should support each other's businesses during these hard economic times, Koers said in his opening remarks.

The Chamber's active role in working with township officials to revise sign-ordinance guidelines was one of the group's greatest accomplishments in 1982, Schwartz said.

Koers said that he hopes the Chamber continues its communication with the Township Board. He wants the Chamber to get involved in helping attract new business and industry to Canton.

Everyone must work together to act as "salesmen" for Canton, Koers said.

OTHER OFFICERS elected to the Chamber include: Bill Tesen (Wayne Bank), first vice president; Al Zelek (London Sweep), second vice president; Gary McCombs, (Certified Public Accountant), secretary and Catherine Foege (Country Place), treasurer.

The Chamber also changed its office during the past year. It's at 8130 Canton Center, just south of Joy. Anyone interested in Chamber activities should call 453-4040 for more information.

Police, citizens honored for outstanding service

Several Canton police officers and citizens recently were honored for exemplary service and bravery.

Various certificates, citations and letters of commendation were presented during a special awards dinner last month at the Cyprus Gardens restaurant.

Standards for the awards were developed by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police. They include recognition for bravery, life-saving and outstanding police work between 1978-81.

POLICE CHIEF Jerry Cox expressed the appreciation of the department for good service. Officials hope the awards will become an annual event.

Civilians honored were John Correll, who saved a baby from a burning house in 1981; Bob Card of McDonald's Restaurants in Canton, who provides emergency food on occasion; and Gerald Niezgoda, who has helped the police department develop its computer system.

According to Lt. Larry Stewart, the cases prompting awards to police officers included two barricaded gunman incidents; a case in which officers rescued a woman who had been kidnapped and assaulted; a cocaine investigation; and an in-depth probe which solved several home break-in cases.

SEVERAL OFFICERS received awards for saving victims of heart attack, drug overdose and carbon monoxide poisoning. Included in this category were Canton officers Bruce Roderick, Davey LeBlanc, Daniel Antieau and John Sherwin.

Also receiving a life-saving award was Off. Kenneth Brooks of Van Buren Township police, who assisted in one rescue effort.

Among officers receiving citations, certificates of merit and commendations for exemplary police work were lieutenants Larry Stewart and Dennis Joker; sergeants William Lenaghan, Gary Griffith and Alex Wilson; and officers Roger Pearsall, John MacDiarmid, Daniel Antieau, Davey LeBlanc, Rob Cripe and Gordon L. Stevens.

Also awarded were officers Fred Py-

Fire destroys house, no one hurt

A blaze which destroyed a house on Cherry Hill Tuesday is being blamed on a faulty hot-water heater. The fire, on Cherry Hill between Sheldon and Canton Center, was reported at 7:06 a.m. by a passer-by, said Fire Chief Mel Paulun. The occupants of the single-family, frame home were away. "The house was totaled — better than 50 percent destroyed," Paulun said. "It spread rather rapidly because nobody was home. It looks like the fire was caused by a malfunctioning hot-water heater." Fire Lt. Bill Grady suffered a swollen lip when he was struck by a loose board, reports said.

MORE BATTERIES The state Department of Transportation office on Van Born has had a hard time keeping up with car batteries in recent weeks.

Someone stole three batteries from pickup trucks parked adjacent to the building. The next day, a grill was stolen from another vehicle, according to police reports. Several such incidents were reported in the past several weeks.

ARSON Someone broke into a house on Metairie Jan. 5, setting a fire inside a kitchen drawer, police reports said. The break-in and fire were reported by a next-door neighbor.

Reports said someone pulled hard on the door's lock which was defective. The home vacant was for a few days after the previous tenants moved.

Apparently, the fire was extinguished, and damage was noted to the kitchen cabinet, drawer and rug. Police found a bottle containing water, which may have been used to put out the fire. In addition, paint was scattered on a basement wall, according to the report.

SNOWBLOWERS STOLEN: Snowblowers were reported stolen from a utility shed on Abbey Court Jan. 5, and from a garage on Kingsbridge Jan. 6.

Ritter named to awards committee

Douglas Ritter of Canton Township was named by U.S. Rep. William D. Ford to the seventh annual Congressional Medal of Merit Awards program for outstanding youth.

An analyst with General Motors, Ritter served on last year's 17-member award selection panel.

He is charged with enlisting community leaders to represent each of the municipalities and townships in the 15th District to select young people who have made special contributions to their community, performed unusual heroic acts and/or have given significant humanitarian aid.

"I originally made the congressional medal of merit awards in 1976 in recognition of the nation's bicentennial celebration. I found that the Downriver community was so enthusiastic about recognizing its promising youth that I decided to continue the program on an annual basis," Ritter said.

"Too often there is a tendency to be critical of our young people. Through this program we pay tribute to the wealth of understanding, conscientious and well-meaning young adults," he said.

Accomplishments for which a nominee has received financial payment don't qualify.

Applications must be postmarked no later than March 25.

Thieves nab load of steaks and lobster

Canton police are investigating the theft of an oversteak's dream — $20,000 worth of steaks and lobster in a truck at the Knight's Inn motel.

A truck driver from Columbus, Ohio, had left his partially filled refrigerated trailer on the I-75 expressway service drive near the motel around 10:45 p.m. Thursday, reports said.

"The DRIVER, who was staying at the motel, reported the truck missing about 7 a.m. Friday. The vehicle had been left locked with the motor running — a fairly common practice for large rigs during cold weather," said Canton police Lt. Larry Stewart.

"He (the trucker) was making deliveries at several Red Lobster restaurants in the area," Stewart explained.

Someone broke a window, opened the door and drove the vehicle away, according to the report. The truck — minus the food — was found Friday afternoon parked along Carpenter, south of Ypsilanti, Stewart said.

Cable talks continue on quality of service

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

While Omnicom reports cable service is being "enhanced" — following a settlement with Canton Township — Plymouth Township officials appear unimpressed.

"As we continue to enhance our service to our subscribers, we will keep you informed of our activities," said Betsy Seeley, Omnicom vice president and general manager.

Seeley provided Plymouth Township officials with a report of the company's 1982 activities last week. Included in the report were outlines of marketing and programming activities for 1983.

After threats of revocation last fall, Omnicom reached an agreement for service improvement in Canton Township. Those improvements will be passed on to all five of the communities the company services.

Some of the improvements and changes scheduled, or already implemented, for the 2,599 subscribers in Plymouth Township include:

- Relocation of the sales office to a site in Plymouth's Westchester Square complex on Forest.
- Replacement of the CBS Cable channel with a 24-hour weather variety channel.
- Dropping of station WOR due to new copyright laws which require Omnicom to pay more for the service. A replacement service hasn't been scheduled.
- Mailing of a monthly program guide and planned addition of a program-guide channel.

Board waits for better building offer

The Wayne-Westland school board has received two offers for the Norria School site, but it decided last week to wait for a better one.

The site, on Palmer Road just west of Merriman, contains 5.31 acres in an irregularly shaped parcel of land with about 917 feet of frontage on Palmer.

On the property are a two-story, 5,390-square-foot building built in 1930 and a one-story, 11,954-square-foot addition.

One offer to purchase the site came from Costa Wills Gresham, the president of which is Dr. T. Cortez Spann, who offered $125,000.

Another offer came from the Kahan Co., which offered $135,000. Both offered an 11-percent interest rate.

Wayne-Westland School District

The district serves southeast Canton

Spann is seeking the site for a semi-rural and church while Kahan would use the property for an activities workshop for developmentally disabled persons.

Manuel L. Lentine Jr., executive director for purchasing for the school district, said an appraiser had recommended the district wait for a higher offer since both proposals received were below market value.

The board, in approving the recommendation to wait, said the two potential buyers can come back with a counter offer should they want.

Lentine said that while the two offers were "quite similar, there are some substantial differences in the offering price, down payment and commission to be paid."

"It should also be pointed out that these are merely offers to purchase and nothing more," Lentine said.

"Any or all of the specific items may be negotiated," he added.

BOTH FIRMS had proposed a seven-year term. Spann's firm offered a down payment of $15,000; Kahan Company, $27,000.

Asked by the board if he would recommend waiting for a higher offer, Lentine said, "I'd be amiss if I didn't."

Last April the school district received an offer of $175,000 for the site from the Seventh Day Adventist Church-School with $50,000 down and the balance to be paid on a seven-year land contract at 11-percent interest.

"The Michigan Conference of Seventh Day Adventists' governing board decided not to proceed with the purchase at that time, but rather attempt to work out the details for a lease or lease-purchase agreement," Lentine said.

support it. Occasionally AI is criticized for leaning against one country too much. For example, the Soviets think that AI is an arm of the American government that is out to hurt it, he said.

"EACH SIDE thinks we're working for the other side," Mika explained.

Amnesty International is headquartered in London where it began 1961. At any one time, the organization is trying to help 5,000 prisoners. Since 1961, 13,000 prisoners of conscience have been freed worldwide, Mika said. In 1977, AI received the Nobel Peace Prize for its efforts.

"But, there are thousands more who need our help," he added.

Amnesty International monitors 110 countries for possible human rights violations. It watches all countries that have the death penalty, including the U.S. It opposes the death penalty and torture. However, it is not against imprisonment, Mika said, when it is for a valid reason.

Membership in a local AI group costs nothing save for one letter written per month on behalf of a prisoner. Anyone interested in AI can find out more by calling Mika at 459-1987 or Moore at 261-2364.

'Did well' last winter

How SEMTA will deal with snow

Michigan is gearing up for another harsh winter, but travelers on the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) lines can expect to ride out any storm again this year.

SEMTA has devised an emergency plan designed to schedule buses and trains in a way that will help commuters reach their destinations safely and as quickly as possible in a snow emergency situation.

SEMTA constantly monitors weather conditions. It moves its snow emergency plans into action when forecasts predict imminent snowstorms or blizzards.

IN SPITE of the severe weather in the winter of 1981-2, snow emergencies were called only three times, according to SEMTA spokesman John Probst. He said commuters may have to wait a little longer in an emergency, but all of them would be provided for.

"We were successful in that we got all of our people home by 8 p.m. in the emergencies last year," Probst said. "We did quite well under the circumstances."

In the event of a daytime snowfall, which would affect the afternoon rush hour, passengers who work in the Detroit central business district will be directed to specific pick-up points in the downtown area for outbound bus service.

The pick-up points will be keyed to geographical areas. Each point will have a SEMTA official dressed in a poncho or wearing an identification badge who will be responsible for directing waiting passengers to correct buses.

THE ON-STREET SEMTA coordinator will be equipped with a radio and will have access to SEMTA offices for up-to-the-minute details on available services.

Riders waiting for outbound buses at pick-up points without a SEMTA shelter will be able to wait inside parked buses that will be used as temporary shelters.

In an afternoon rush hour emergency, SEMTA will try to maintain regular outbound routes. Bus routes may be detoured to avoid snowbound areas.

In the event of an overnight snow emergency that would affect morning rush hour schedules, SEMTA will operate bus service on major routes only. Commuters can learn which major routes are in service by listening to radio and television weather emergency bulletins or by calling the SEMTA Customer Information Centers.

SEMTA'S SNOW emergency plan will go into effect when a storm or a blizzard reaches such serious proportions that a state of emergency is declared by local and/or state government.

SEMTA may declare an emergency traffic situation itself and put the storm emergency schedules into effect.

If it is necessary to put the SEMTA snow emergency plan into effect, commuters will be informed through service announcements on major radio and television stations. Up-to-the-minute information will be available from SEMTA's Customer Information Center.

A brochure illustrating details of the plan and snow emergency bus routes can be obtained by calling the SEMTA Customer Information Center at 962-5515.

Gorsuch aide says

'Gash & slash' at EPA? Not so

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is alive and well, despite misleading impressions from the news media, an EPA official said.

The media incorrectly took recent "streamlining" of the agency to mean EPA programs were being cut or abandoned, according to Kathleen M. Bennett, assistant administrator of the EPA for air, noise and radiation. She spoke to a meeting of the Women's Economic Club Friday in the Westin Hotel.

And she said the Clean Air Act, first passed by Congress in 1970, must be updated in order to better focus on environmental concerns and to end unnecessary fighting between federal and state government.

"The Clean Air Act has to be a tool to the end, not an obstacle in the path," she said.

Students from Franklin High School in Livonia were among the more than 570 persons in attendance at the luncheon meeting. Bennett spoke in place of controversial EPA Administrator Anne Gorsuch, who was ill and unable to attend.

"YOU'VE HEARD the reaction that we got about the 'gash and slash' approach," she said. "If the president had intended to dismantle the agency, he wouldn't have chosen Anne Gorsuch as his administrator, and he would have been up front in saying that was his goal."

Bennett said that under the previous administration, EPA couldn't meet deadlines and had massive backlogs of work. The Reagan Administration has established priorities, seen duties carried out and reduced the processing time, she said.

Law gets assignment

State Rep. Gerald H. Law, R-Plymouth, has been selected vice chairman of the house Committee on City Government for the next two years.

Law, 38, also received assignments on the State Affairs, Urban Affairs and Insurance committees. He represents the 36th District which includes all of Plymouth and Plymouth Township and part of Canton.

"As I represent a suburban area," said Law, "it was important for me to have a voice on the committees which will discuss urban and suburban issues."

Two predominant issues facing the 82nd Legislature, said Law, will be the state's estimated $700-million deficit and its 17-percent unemployment rate. "There are going to be a lot of difficult decisions made in Lansing during the first few months of 1983. Unprecedented budget cuts, perhaps the elimination of entire state programs, may be necessary for us to have a balanced budget."

Compounding this problem is the desperate plight of about 700,000 unemployed Michigan residents. Getting these people back to work is a necessity if our state is to once again be economically healthy.

As a homeowner you may qualify for a MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK EQUI-LOAN

WHAT IS AN EQUI-LOAN?

An Equi-Loan is a second mortgage secured by the equity in your home. By using your home equity, you can borrow $3,000 or more with liberal repayment terms at simple interest rates. An Equi-Loan is not a remortgage, but a second mortgage; it will therefore not alter your present mortgage or its rate.

The amount of equity in your home, by the way, is the difference between its appraised value and your first mortgage (if any). This equity provides the basis for borrowing a large amount of money at established simple interest rates with the maximum amount of the loan being determined by the size of your equity.

WITH A SIMPLE INTEREST EQUI-LOAN YOU HAVE THE OPTION OF SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCING THE AMOUNT OF INTEREST YOU PAY.

The earlier you pay back a simple interest loan, the less you'll pay in interest charges. So every time you make an early payment or an additional payment, you are actually reducing the amount of interest you pay for your loan.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE OF THE AMOUNT YOU CAN EXPECT TO BORROW.

Each transaction is different and subject to credit approval. However, we are flexible in our lending policy. In general, you can expect that the total of your first and second mortgage will amount to 70% of our valuation of your home. For Example:

Appraised Valuation $50,000
70%
Total Loan Value $35,000
1st Mortgage Bal. $25,000
Available for 2nd Mortgage $10,000

HERE'S HOW TO APPLY FOR AN EQUI-LOAN.

The procedure is much the same as it is for a personal loan. Simply take this ad to the installment loan department at Michigan National Bank West Metro. Or you can phone us at 421-4990 and discuss your plans with a trained loan executive. An appointment can be made if you like.

Agee: 'Intelligent' mergers create jobs, research

Bendix Corp. has benefited from its long — and sometimes controversial — history of acquisitions, said William M. Agee, board chairman of the Southfield-based Bendix Corp.

After a speech Monday to the Economic Club of Detroit, Agee, who was involved last year in the corporate takeover battle of the decade, was asked his response to criticisms that such battles absorb hundreds of millions of dollars of bank credit that could better be used by builders and small firms seeking to expand.

"The Bendix organization is made up of over 100 acquisitions through the history of our company," he said. "I believe that these are profitable kinds of ventures. In time, they create jobs, more research and development and add to productivity of American industry."

"WE BELIEVE strongly, just as has been the case of 200 years of history in this country, that mergers and acquisitions, when intelligently done — and ours is — create jobs, more research and development and enhance the economic viability of this country."

Agee did not respond directly to the question of use of bank credit for acquisitions, which is at the heart of much criticism from house builders, congressmen and public commentators.

Besides the Bendix/Martin-Marietta donnybrook, 1982 witnessed a rash of corporate takeovers: Schlitz by Stroh's, Ciba Service by Occidental Petroleum, Conoco by duPont, Marathon by U.S. Steel after a fight with Mobil, Columbia Pictures by Coca-Cola.

AGEE, WHO will become president of Bendix's new parent company, Allied Corp., on Jan. 31, also declined to define his new duties. He would say only that his role "will be very busy" and he will divide his time between Southfield and Allied's headquarters in Morristown, N.J.

To a question about speculation of a massive reduction in Bendix's automotive business, Agee answered, "We don't anticipate any major business areas being liquidated."

Agee became a center of national controversy last fall when he sought to purchase control of Martin-Marietta Corp., an aerospace and defense contractor. Martin-Marietta borrowed heavily, seeking to buy control of Bendix. Agee ended the matter by agreeing to a Bendix-Allied merger, emerging as president of the combined company.

Agee contended the merger did not weaken both companies financially. "We're in a strong financial position today and will be in an even stronger one the next six to 12 months," he said.

NONE OF Bendix's major business areas will be liquidated to help pay off debts incurred in the merger, Agee said.

He added there will be no significant reduction in the work force at Bendix headquarters.

Asked by a Canadian reporter about the multi-national firm moving jobs out of North America, Agee said there is a "natural evolution in Bendix over 20-40 years. We're constantly changing locations of certain products and emphasizing certain others.

"I don't see a trend toward shifting products offshore because we are an international company. We're constantly bringing jobs here and taking jobs there. I don't think our international operations have increased at all, on balance. We've added jobs in the United States and North America, for that matter."

IN HIS SPEECH, Agee called for a "change in attitude characterized by a new spirit of cooperation" between government, business and labor. He listed several proposals to achieve that cooperation.

Businesses should be given tax credits to encourage their participation in a jobs retraining program that could be "structured along the lines of the GI Bill," he said, adding:

"These efforts must be based on a policy of backing our winners, rather than supporting our losers."

"We need to examine tax incentives that will encourage people to start new and promising ventures, and enable existing businesses to modernize and expand," Agee said.

Agee added he believes Allied "would strongly support" such a program. "We would be very sympathetic to doing our fair share plus," he said.

HE ADVOCATED formation of a high-level commission of business, labor and government officials to "recommend programs for revitalizing mature industries and re-directing our efforts toward more promising sectors of our economy, such as high technology and agriculture."

Economic recovery depends, in part, on shifting the emphasis of industry from smokesacks to high technology, agricultural and human services," he said.

The United States must "greatly expand and accelerate efforts to increase exports," he said.

"BEYOND THIS, we should begin to think of manufacturing units which are smaller, more adaptable," Agee added.

"I'm not suggesting a return to cottage industry, but we must recognize that some huge plants employing upwards of 10,000 workers and costing hundreds of millions of dollars may be on the way to becoming the dinosaurs of industry."

"We are finding that smaller factories, perhaps employing only 200-500 or so, when economies of scale are not an issue, are more efficient in an age of rapidly changing markets and economic turbulence."

The real problem (lies in) entitlement programs such as Social Security, Medicare and military pensions. That's where the large dollars are, and we should have the courage to step up to them."

"Clearly (the National Commission on Social Security Reform's) proposed solution, which principally focuses on raising taxes, is only a short-term solution and does not address itself to fundamental causes," he added.

Agee believes the automotive industry "has serious difficulties in recovering to its former strength."

He added that many industries, including the automotive industry, "need to place greater reliance on a healthy supply sector, whose special strengths are creativity, the ability to respond quickly to special needs and intense competition which produces a high level of efficiency."

"While a child might be engrossed in the game and playing aggressively," he said, "it might not elicit any hostile impulses. I'd guess that for most kids, it's simply a distraction from their cares and woes, a game that tests their perceptual motor coordination or taps a desire for challenge or mastery."

Of course, it may indicate hostility for a few," Stollak said. "In their minds, they might think That's my mother over there, and I'm shooting laser beams at her."

According to Stollak, parents shouldn't worry about children who spend a small part of their time in front of video screens, as long as that activity doesn't dominate their daily life.

"I'd urge parents to ask themselves: What else is my child doing between 6 in the morning and 10 at night?"

Video game addict may be hostile

Playing video games in moderation is no more harmful for most children than other diversions, but video "addiction" can cause problems, a Michigan State University psychologist said.

"There is no scientific evidence that video play increases violent or aggressive behavior in children," said Gary Stollak, professor of psychology at MSU.

"Neither would I argue that reading Stephen King horror novel necessarily arouses violence, or participation in or observation of football arouses hateful and vengeful feelings."

Stollak said it's up to parents to "sculpt and mold" their children's day

"If children are having fun with friends, developing their physical skills, enjoying creative activities and gratifying needs through diverse interests, then I'd be relaxed."

"BUT IF THEY'RE playing video games several hours a day, four or more days a week," he said, "I'd be concerned. It means they're not engaging in other important activities from peer relationships to confronting problems with family and school."

Stollak said it's up to parents to "sculpt and mold" their children's day to prevent video "addiction."

"If permitted, a child with personal problems might play video games so often that the games can become a total distraction from confronting those problems."

"The nature of video games makes them so demanding of your total motor skills and concentration that you can't think about your troubles with your parents, with your sister, or with geography at school."

AN ADDICT, he said, is hooked on distraction, and if unchecked, one addiction might lead to another.

"I would argue that a contributor to alcoholism and drug addiction is the inability to find a socially acceptable activity that is totally distracting," he said.

"Children who engage in repetitive, habitual, compulsive activities in middle childhood (ages 7-12) could be the same ones who will abuse alcohol and drugs in their late teens because their strategy of dealing with conflict is still escape."

Edison sues 2 state agencies over coal ruling

Detroit Edison Co. has filed a lawsuit in Ingham County Circuit Court against the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission (MAPCC) and the state Department of Natural Resources.

The suit contends that the MAPCC granted Detroit Edison a license to burn 1.9-percent, low-sulfur coal at the company's Monroe power plant at the Commission's Sept. 21 meeting and then improperly attempted to revoke that license at its meeting on Nov. 29.

Detroit Edison maintains that switching to 1-percent, low-sulfur coal from current levels would cost its customers an additional $630 million for the years 1985-1990 and create an unnecessary burden on the people of Southeastern Michigan without commensurate environmental benefits.

The company maintains that all federal air-quality standards for sulfur dioxide are being met within the state of Michigan, even with the Monroe

Power Plant now burning 2.3-percent, medium-sulfur coal. (Coal with a sulfur content above 4 percent is considered high-sulfur coal.)

Michigan air-quality rules allow the burning of fuels with a sulfur content greater than 1 percent as long as the public health is protected.

Edison counts 80 years of blessings

It's 1903. The population of southeastern Michigan is about 313,000.

Detroit is a leading producer of marine engines, wagons, carriage works and lumber. Henry Ford leaves his job as engineer for the Edison Illuminating Co. in Detroit and goes to work on a newfangled device called an automobile.

And the Detroit Edison Co. is incorporated — after absorbing the Edison Illuminating Co. and another small electric company — on Jan. 17, 1903.

AS DETROIT Edison observes its 80th anniversary, it finds the face of southeastern Michigan transformed.

The area is known worldwide as an industrial center, particularly automobile production. Detroit Edison's second president, Alex Dow, might be given some credit for that development, too. He introduced Ford to budding inventor Thomas Edison, and the rest is history.

The area's population has mushroomed to more than 4.5 million. And massive changes have occurred in the scope of Detroit Edison's operation: its service area, the size of its customer base, and the amount of electricity that customers use.

Walter J. McCarthy Jr., company board chairman and chief executive officer, said, "Despite the current economic climate, we are here to stay. We are tied to the area and committed to it."

A current and major effort of Detroit Edison is to help revive and diversify Michigan's economy. That's our corporate benefit, of course, but it also is to the benefit of all the people in all the communities we serve."

SOME COMPARISONS between electricity use at the turn of the century and at the turn of the '80s follow.

• The number of Detroit Edison customers has grown almost 400 times since 1903 — from about 4,600 to 1.7 million.

• Kilowatt-hour (kWh) sales have increased 4,480 times in 80 years: from about 7,150,000 kWh in 1903 to 32,032,944,000 kWh for the 12 months ended in November.

• Annual kilowatt-hour use for the average residential customer has increased from 348 in 1910 to 6,117 in 1982 — a factor of 17.5 times.

• The average annual bill paid by a residential customer has increased by a factor of 19 — from $20.84 in 1910 to $401.36 for the year ended November 1982.

Budget cuts? Don't forget our survey

This is a farce! The Plymouth-Canton School Board does not do as the public suggests; it does it pleases—as (Superintendent) John Hoben pleases. And we all know it. So don't waste our time with a "survey" which merely gets the board off the hook and which no one will pay any attention to anyway.

THIS IS JUST one of some 1,600 colorful responses to last year's Observer readership survey. The objective of our informal, unscientific poll was to guide the Board of Education and administration on how to handle sensitive budget-cutting decisions.

This reader was wrong when he/she said no one would pay any attention to the survey, the overwhelming response represented about 9 percent of our total circulation in Plymouth and Canton.

Better than any readership survey in the history of the Observer Newspapers.

But was this reader correct about comments directed at the board and the superintendent? Only time will tell.

Almost one year has passed since the Observer initiated this survey. At that time, school officials faced a projected $2.5-million deficit, although it nearly shifted $1.6 million from an emergency reserve fund to avoid any major reductions or eliminations of programs.

This year that deficit is projected at $3.5 million—with no emergency fund to shift around. State aid remains minimal because of fiscal problems in Lansing.

It will be impossible to balance the district's $41 million budget without drastically reducing or eliminating some school services.

CURRENTLY, the administration is examining different budget-cutting alternatives. Its recommendations will come to the board in March. The 1983-84 school year budget must be balanced by the end of June, according to state law.

What will be the budget recommendations from the administration? How will the board act on these suggestions?

Let us analyze the responses from last year's survey (pictured next to this story) to remind board members and administration how readers feel about the district's financial problems.

Our survey revealed that readers believed school employees should go without raises. Readers also rejected the thought of increased taxes and wanted to return to a traditional nine-month school schedule.

It is interesting to note that administrators' salaries are frozen, and the teachers' union this week tentatively agreed on a contract calling for a one-year wage freeze for 38 percent of its members.

A tax rate renewal (not increase) was passed by Plymouth-Canton voters last December, but many school officials don't believe a tax increase will get the same voter approval.

Extended School Year (ESY), ranked No. 2 by readers as a feasible budget reduction, probably will be completely eliminated by the fall.

AN AREA OF SCHOOL spending that continues to be defended by the administration is administration—the No. 1 item readers want to see trimmed.

It is understandable—but debatable—that respondents want to see administration cut because they don't see direct educational benefit from personnel in the Harvey Street office.

But many readers also pointed to assistant principals at middle schools and area coordinators at the high schools as other possible areas to cut.

I still don't understand why the administration defends the outdated structure of area coordinators at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP). Students and teachers receive minimal benefit from this type of administrative structure at the two high schools.

The board should examine it. Our survey also indicated that larger class sizes are preferred to shortened classroom days. Readers want to preserve athletics, other after-school activities, special education, and elementary art, music and physical education programs.

Items ranked in the middle of the scale include reduction of clerical and custodial services, the elimination of the Talented and Gifted program, lunch services, and safety buses.

The next few months will be difficult for students, parents, teachers, administrators and the board. Many sensitive budget decisions must be made.

We hope the board uses our survey as a guideline for these decisions—and not regard it as a farce.

—Dennis O'Connor

Canton community. Here's how readers set priorities for school budget cuts.

Stroller recalls when schools didn't pay for sports

WHILE WAITING his turn in the barber shop the other day, a customer tossed aside the morning paper in disgust and was heard to say, "Well, there goes the sports program—and I wonder what the kids will do now."

He had just read the headlines which told Michiganders that Gov. James Blanchard had ordered a delay in the payment of school aid, adding the hint that the "delay" may be permanent.

It was his first bold step to reduce the state's impending huge deficit, and the fact that he hinted of the permanency of his order is sure to cause some dire feelings among the school people.

But as The Stroller sat there listening, he couldn't help recalling that when he was a youth, the schools didn't have such a thing as a sports program. But we played baseball, we had a football team, and the high school had a basketball court. And all this was at no cost to the schools.

And if the sports program is cut from the schools now, there will be no need to worry. The young people will be playing baseball, football, soccer and basketball just the same.

IN OUR LITTLE town, we had a pasture at the borderline with the farmland. It was there we laid out a baseball diamond and played there almost every day, even though we had to wait sometimes until the cows departed.

It was there, too, that we lined out a football field. Through the good graces of the town lumber yard, we received wood for the goal posts.

True, we didn't play under the school colors and didn't carry the high-school name. But we had a team and played a full schedule with like teams from other communities. We played under the name of the Boy Scouts, and the rivalries were just as keen as though we represented our school.

It was the same with football. We enlisted all those who would have reported for a high-school squad. Taking the name of the Majestics, we also worked out a schedule with neighboring towns and enjoyed the game as much as though he had high-school backing.

THE LONE difference was that many of us had to leave school and go to work. So we reported for the team, though we couldn't practice in the afternoon.

That didn't stop us. We practiced under the lights at the street intersection. And it was a gravel intersection at that.

That mattered little. It was the game we were interested in, and nothing like a bit of gravel would stop us.

Then came the basketball season, and the question arose, "Where can we play?"

The schools came into the situation—in a queer way, by today's standards. We were told we could have half the basement of the new school if we furnished it ourselves.

WE ORGANIZED teams of solicitors and obtained enough lumber to build a wall about four feet high around the playing area. It was the same with wire netting. The good merchants in the town came through with that, and before we knew it, we had a basketball court.

There was one drawback: We didn't have bleachers and could accommodate only about 100 spectators. But we had a basketball program.

So even if Gov. Blanchard makes the state aid cuts permanent, don't worry. The boys and girls will be playing their favorite sports.

And they won't need the lighted fields we have now.

Housing market ends hibernation

After a three-year hibernation, the market for existing houses is being awakened by lower mortgage interest rates.

The Western Wayne Oakland Board of Realtors (WWOBR) report 564 sales by members in December—a 42.4 percent gain over the 396 reported in December 1981.

Sales for the August-December period were 3,681 compared to 3,157 in the same period of 1981.

That 16.5-percent gain helped counter the 24.3 percent market loss recorded in the first seven months, said WWOBR. The year-end total was 8,468 houses, 10.7 percent below the 9,487 sales posted in 1981.

"THERE IS NO doubt that the reduction in interest rates is the factor bringing buyers back into the market," said Thomas Duke Jr., president of the real estate board.

In December, conventional, FHA and VA financing was used in 42.2 percent of sales compared to only 14.4 percent in 1981.

"The use of assumed mortgages and land contracts, which aided 18 percent of sales by our members a year ago, has slipped to 53.4 percent and seemed destined to drop still farther."

Renewed activity also appears ready to reverse a downward trend in average selling prices. The average price for a house reported by WWOBR in December was $58,156, a drop of 1.2 percent from December of 1981.

The average price in '82 was down 3.65 percent from $1.

AMONG THE most active markets in the western Wayne-Oakland area and their year-to-year increases were:

- Northville community—up 46.7 percent.
- Westland, 32.8 percent.
- Livonia, 28.8 percent.
- West Bloomfield Orchard Lake, 24.8 percent.
- The Farmington community, 24.1 percent.
- Birmingham, 20.9 percent.
- Northwest Detroit, 19.5 percent.

"We think the rising trend in the housing market will continue into 1983 as buyers financially able to move weight the advantages of further declines in interest rates," said Duke.

THE SCHOOLCRAFT course uses a format by Jeppesen Aviation Co. "They go back as far as flying dogs, just

Local officials must report costs

Many local public office holders have an expensive deadline starting them in the face, according to Wayne County Clerk James Killen.

"On Jan. 31 campaign finance statements and office holder expense account reports are due," said Killen, estimating that only 20 percent of elected officials have filed them so far. Killen's office is on the second floor of the City-County Building in Detroit.

The law applies to county commissioners, mayors and city council members, township board members and education board members, he said.

"Also, all 1982 unsuccessful primary candidates must file their campaign statements," he said. "Failure to file in a timely fashion can result in a fine of $10 for every working day it's late."

State legislators must file their reports with the secretary of state in Lansing. Members of Congress file under federal statutes.

Ground school helps 'em take off

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

One course at Schoolcraft College really has been "taking off" since it began.

It is private pilot ground school, which stresses areas covered by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) private pilot exams.

"These are people that are in their 50s contemplating a lifelong dream, or in their late teens and early 20s thinking of starting a career," said Dino DiNatale, who will instruct the eight-week course starting in February. "It doesn't matter what your purpose is."

THE SCHOOLCRAFT course uses a format by Jeppesen Aviation Co. "They go back as far as flying dogs, just about," DiNatale said.

Teaching operations, procedures and regulations of aviation is not a new idea to community colleges. "Just about every community college has one," DiNatale said. "It's a very economic and complete way to find out whether they want to continue."

"There are always people who dreamed about it."

Ronald Griffith, Schoolcraft's dean of continuing education/community services, said the pilot ground school began there some 11 years ago "out of my own interests. There didn't seem to be any FAA-approved pilot course (in the area)," he said. "Ours is one of the few that is FAA approved, which means we have to meet a certain standard of quality."

The Schoolcraft course covers meteorology, aerodynamics, the internal combustion engine and navigation. Students obtain a kit which contains a workbook, textbook, test sheet and circular slide rule, among other items.

"We can't guarantee you'll pass, but there's no reason why you shouldn't," he said. "The success rate is really quite good."

ALMOST ANYONE can become a pilot, said DiNatale.

STUDENTS ARE also encouraged to take a flying lesson at the airport of their choice. DiNatale said such lessons help them.

"The vocabulary we are talking about in the first lesson, all of this, is grasped better if they get some hands-on reinforcement," he said.

"They should have quite a few questions popping up in their minds. Midway through, they can answer these questions, and demonstrate things that we were talking about."

Three hours of flight training could help a student with the FAA exam, according to DiNatale.

"When you take somebody who has been flying for years, we jump in the airplane like you jump in your car. We think about it a little more, and we tend to make sure we're a little more careful starting out," he commented.

"On Sunday morning, we just enjoy ourselves and have breakfast in a unique way. We just enjoy the thrills of flying."

Now everything you've always wanted for less... is less.

Our Annual Sale—December 26 to January 31 when almost everything is 10% to 40% off regular prices.

At Workbench, we don't have lots of storewide sales. Just one a year. But it's a dilly. Because we mark down all our best stuff. Not just a few things. Not even just a lot of things. But almost everything.

And, unlike a lot of other places, we don't bring in so-called specials. At Workbench we just go through the store with our red pencil and slash prices. Which means that right now you'll find 10% to 40% off on butcher block tables, upholstery, storage systems, bookcases, cars, music benches, desks and chair after chair and chair. Even the already reduced "Foreign Policy" prices on most of our imports have been further price cut for this sale.

Of course, there are a few things currently overstocked that we can't put on sale. Is there a catch? Only time. Because our storewide sale lasts only until January 31. So hurry.

Plymouth joins Canton in challenging cable service

The cable television game has jumped courts—from Canton to Plymouth Township.

And as the "video-ball" takes that bounce, I question if Omnicom is ready to play in Plymouth Township—a team that will undoubtedly play for keeps.

Don't get me wrong—I think the Canton team played with a good offense, but Omnicom's defense kept the scoring down.

Plymouth Township, led and "coached" by Supervisor Maurice Breen, is expected to come out with a strong offense—the likes of which I doubt Omnicom's defense is prepared to play with.

Canton officials appeared to have a good game plan when they started talking about revocation. Somehow that term really got Omnicom's attention. But, like a basketball team that gets the ball and moves into scoring position and fails, they just didn't quite put it through the hoop.

Canton, like Plymouth Township, wasn't satisfied with the cable company's performance—it appeared more had been promised than was produced.

Although I wasn't around when Omnicom made its pitch for the cable franchises in this area—I'm told the company did some pretty big talking.

That's not surprising. Lots of cable companies make some big promises before a franchise is awarded—it's all part of salesmanship.

One of the promises, which came back to haunt Omnicom, is that any services, payments, equipment or other benefits given to one community would be given to all communities.

A result of that promise is the recent battle for upfront cash payments subsequent to Omnicom's $200,000 payment to Canton when the contract was awarded.

Getting back to the big talk, Canton officials started their revocation plans because Omnicom apparently wasn't living up to all the promises made to that community.

Although Canton scored some points, Omnicom's defense kept the talks from becoming a total romp.

What did the company concede? Increasing the local programming staff, increased local programming (six hours worth), 60-channel converters for better basic service, additional portable cameras and equipment for live programming and home security systems (originally promised with the contract).

Sounds good, right? Wrong.

In a position paper on citizen advisory committees, Omnicom said it hopes these committee members will become involved in teaching people how to use public access equipment.

Somehow I thought that was the job of the increased programming staff—maybe even sending the staff out to do some filming for residents wanting to use public access.

The citizen committees are given their task by the body or official appointing them. The Plymouth Township cable task force won't be learning how to operate cameras, but looking into Omnicom's compliance with the cable contract—a big difference.

A great majority of the increased local programming is in the planning stages. Consider these excerpts from Omnicom's programming report to township officials:

"We hope to involve area school journalism students in this production. . . . At the latest this could probably be under way sometime next spring. . . . We have some hosts in mind (for this show). . . . We have had some interest from WCZY DJ Tom Dean on doing a show. . . . In order to properly prepare program and touch base with all appropriate media, this show probably won't start until 3/83."

I get the feeling the new program list is little more than ideas which haven't been worked out. Why aren't the plans firm? Why haven't the appropriate people been contacted?

The 60-channel converters and "better basic service" leaves a bit to be desired.

CBS Cable, which went out of business, is being replaced with a weather channel. Omnicom already provides weather radar.

Sports fan wants
WOR on cable

To the editor:
After having read your editorial of Jan. 13, I think your readers will be surprised to know a few more things about Omnicom — our "penny-pinching" cable company.

I talked with Betsy Seeley (general manager of Omnicom) at her office on Jan. 6 about the recent dropping of superstation WOR from New York. When I asked her what rule she used to determine what station Omnicom would drop I was informed that the company had taken a survey. This survey consisted of them calling 50 of their customers.

Omnicom has 12,000 customers. This figures out to about four out of 1,000 of their total customers. Based on this percentage Omnicom took off WOR.

I must confess that I am a sports fan, and WOR has a better sports line up than WGN (Chicago). Checking this week's cable guide we find that WGN had two sport programs on and WOR had six programs on.

When I asked Seeley what the numbers were on the survey, she said that WTBS was most widely known superstation followed by WOR and WGN.

WGN had a couple of points more recognition than WOR. The rest of the percentages were the same.

I called Wayne Cable Company to see what they did about dropping a superstation. They dropped WGN Chicago. When I asked what they were going to replace it with they told me the "health channel." I asked them if this was a pay service, and they said that it was part of their basic service at no additional charge.

If you want the health channel on Omnicom you must have the satellite tier, which is a premium-pay group.

Omnicom replaced WOR with a PBS station from Flint, Channel 28 WMUF, which shows the same shows that Channel 56 does, at the same time. WMUF is only a 12-hour station, while WOR was a 24-hour station.

We are getting short-changed again.

I would like Omnicom's customers to know about the satellite tier. During the cable hearings (at Canton's Township Hall), it was brought out that the cost to Omnicom, per customer, for the satellite tier was 10 cents. They charge $6.95 or $7.95. That isn't all. Big-hearted Omnicom took HTN-plus out of the satellite tier and offered it to their customers for their cost $3.95, but it didn't reduce the price of the satellite tier.

We have now lost another entertainment channel. WHIT, Ann Arbor, became 24-hour "IT" television. This is replaced with a cable guide, which just happens to have advertising between each segment. I am a paying customer that would like to hear from other paying customers that think Omnicom should put WOR back on.

The "bring back WOR" petition number is 459-5380. Let's hear from all you sports fans out there that weren't contacted in the survey — all 11,950 of you.

One final thought — a special thank you to the Canton Cable Committee. They made a great start. Now I hope that Plymouth Township has the same luck. Then, maybe we will get what we were promised three years ago.

I've had enough of ESY & TSY

To the editor:

We longtime residents of Canton remember the good old days when almost everyone went to Gallimore Elementary School from September to June.

I have one child leaving at 7 a.m. and three children leaving at 8 a.m., one child returning at noon, one at 3 p.m., and two at 4 p.m. — part of the time.

One child is on Traditional School Year (TSY) and three are on Extended School Year (ESY). Three are in-school and one out, or one in and three out, and sometimes four are in.

I need an ESY calendar, a regular calendar, a clock and sometimes a stopwatch. So any decision the school board makes has to be an improvement — it couldn't get any worse.

My main concern, however, is not ESY or TSY. It is all the shuffling of our children. My oldest child started school at Isbister. He was switched to Eriksson. I started to write this letter last year when my children were switched to Miller. However, I was promised my subdivision would not be moved again. This year we're back at Eriksson.

When we made the move to Miller my children were on track D. They finished the school year on Friday and on that Friday evening we received a hand-delivered letter stating we would be switched to track A — starting a new school year on the following Monday at a new school. This year we are on track C.

I went to the Thursday night meeting at Eriksson and was absolutely assured my subdivision was not being considered for a move. We were told that all these moves in the past were due to new subdivisions being completed.

This is almost funny to me.

My subdivision is over 30 years old. I have lived here over 30 years. Yet, my children have been to three different elementary schools and one of them twice. And we have been on every track. Last year, three streets in a row were on three different tracks.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!

Let's bring back the good old days and have some permanent boundaries and stop all this shuffling of our children.

Penny Parrish
Canton

Here's a vote to drop ESY

To the editor:

As the parent of four children enrolled in Eriksson Elementary School and one at East Middle School, I applaud the long-overdue opportunity to go off Extended School Year (ESY).

For two years now, our children only have had four weeks of vacation each year that coincided with the usual two weeks at Christmas that everyone has, plus two weeks in late August. I feel as though our family life and activities are perpetually on hold.

Rail bypass
step backwards?

To the editor:

What a joke and a step backwards: (the proposed Mill Street/Ann Arbor Trail bypass).

1. The dangerous situation of emergency equipment being able to respond quickly from the west side to the east side is still not alleviated.

2. The city would rather displace one major business and several smaller businesses while complaining about our declining industrial/business taxbase.

3. The K of C would lose a good portion of its parking facilities.

4. Possibly a couple of private residences would be affected.

Learning how money's earned

To the editor:

I don't always believe what I read in the newspapers but I do believe in what Eddie Edgar says so the story must be true.

Our Plymouth City Manager, Henry Graper, was talking about spending $500,000 plus acquiring property to build a new road that would allow motorists coming off I-275 to get to Kellogg Park without being held up by a train.

Henry says it's free because the new 5-cent federal gas tax would provide the $500,000. Isn't that just Ducky-Wucky? Yesterday I came off I-275, drove west to Main Street, turned north and arrived at Kellogg Park and I didn't go over any tracks. Why should we spend $500,000 to $1 million when you can get there now on the present roads?

For this brilliant idea we pay our city manager $49,000 plus and where does he get the idea that it is free? It is going to cost me 5 cents for every gallon of gas I buy.

It seems government knows how to spend but nothing about how money is earned.

Plans court fight

Road executive pays union dues

A high-ranking Wayne County Road Commission administrator, who earlier had refused to join a controversial management union, signed a union card Tuesday to keep his $52,000-a-year job.

Thomas Fidge Jr. of Plymouth Township, who was dismissed as assistant director of administration with responsibilities for road right-of-ways last month because he had shunned union membership, was granted a temporary restraining order in Wayne County Circuit Court at 4:25 p.m., less than a half-hour after he signed the card. The card authorizes the deduction of a service charge from his paycheck, equal to union dues.

The restraining order prevents the WCRC from firing Fidge. A hearing is set Friday before Judge James Mies in Circuit Court.

"I didn't like signing the union card," said Fidge. "But it was better to sign it (than lose the job)."

ALTHOUGH FIDGE signed the card just before his firing became effective at 4 p.m., he still plans to fight the case in court.

"I'm going to fight it anyway," said Fidge. "I'd rather fight it being paid than not being paid. Who knows how long this thing is going to drag out?"

Carole Levitte, Fidge's attorney, said they will request a preliminary injunction at Friday's hearing. If granted, the injunction would bar the Road Commission from taking any further action until a full hearing on the case, she said.

Fidge has filed a lawsuit against the commission for breach of contract.

"He's been an employee of the commission for 27 years, and they wanted (to fire) him for failing to join the union," said Levitte.

"But if the courts find this union is illegal under provisions of the new charter, then he can't be forced to join."

LOU SUGO, a spokesman for the road commission and the managers' union, said, "Fidge has done what we asked him to do. He was given notice by our board (in a letter dated Dec. 18) — either you belong as a dues-paying member or you'll be terminated."

The Road Commission's three-member governing board dismissed Fidge last month at the request of the union because he refused to join, Sugo said.

Levitte said Fidge had refused to join the union when it was formed last spring because it would have presented a conflict of interest with his job as labor negotiator for the commission.

Critics contend the 73-member Association of County Road Managers, which represents top executives and professionals of the Road Commission, was formed in an attempt to get around provisions in the new county charter.

THE FORENSICS class at the high schools is planning a filibuster. There's nothing political about this extended speech-making endeavor — the kids simply need some extra cash.

Forensics and debate are extra-curricular activities at the Centennial Educational Park. Those students involved meet after regular classes. Their forensics coach, Betty Baier, is a substitute teacher. The debate teams at Plymouth Salem and Canton high schools were combined two years ago. Forensics were combined last year. Both have limited budgets.

The debate season is over and forensics begins March 1. They have enough money in their treasury for entry fees to two tournaments, "if one is very cheap," qualified Steve Ragan, a senior at Plymouth Canton.

He explained that there are entry fees for each competitor and the team is responsible for providing one judge for every five in an invitational tournament.

So they are planning a 24-hour speakathon as a fund raiser. The event will be in the Salem High School cafeteria Feb. 4 and 5. About 25 students will participate in the marathon, which will start after school hours on the Friday. They will sign up sponsors — both merchants and individuals — for a straight donation to the cause. Residents who would like to encourage the class in its efforts can send a donation to Betty Baier, at Plymouth Salem High School, 46181 Joy Road, Canton 48187.

As Steve Ragan says, debate and forensics are very inexpensive when it comes to tax dollars. Last year the class produced two state finalists. But debate and forensics are low on the totem pole when it comes to priorities.

It's a far cry from the days when the band was out to meet the Plymouth High School debate team at the railroad station when it returned from competition.

HELEN WRACON and Rene LaCombe had high scores at the Jan. 6 party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

Po Liang and Walter Hoops came in one-two last week. There were eight tables in play. The group lost one of its charter members with the death of Elsie Jeffery. They started out with two tables — four couples. Of the eight originals, just five are left: Carl and Francis Peters, Charlie Swithers, Steve Jeffery and Margaret Swartz.

AND WE'RE WAY behind in announcing the winners of $100 cash awarded each week by the Big 50-50 fund raiser at Plymouth Salem High School. The drawing is run by the Athletic Boosters Club.

Winners, going back into December, were Debbie Starr, Jim Martin, Tom Weidman, Ron Rydell, and John and Cindy Merrifield. There are four more weeks to go in the 20-week series.

CAROL BALL of Plymouth has been awarded a scholarship from the Michigan Office of Substance Abuse Services. She attended the Midwest Institute of Alcohol Studies last week at the Kalamazoo Hilton Inn.

Carol was one of 100 Michigan residents who received Midwest Institute scholarships. More than 350 people from four states participated in studies at the institute.

MEMBERS OF THE Calorie Burners, a trimming and toning group, ended up with soggy bottoms after their first class. Under the direction of Lark Samouelian, the class attempts to burn off calories by going through a routine of exercises and aerobic movements.

The action takes place beside the swimming pool at the Plymouth Hilton. Denny Campbell of Cablevision Channel 13 suggested Bob Harter of H&B Gallery of Fine Carpets might solve their problem. Bob came to the rescue with 35 squares of carpeting for the grateful calorie burners.

THE PLYMOUTH Community Band will take part in a band festival Jan. 30 at Twelve Oaks Mall. The band will perform at 1:15 p.m. in the festival arranged by the Farmington Community Band. The Northville and Birmingham community bands also will perform.

There will be a sing-along at 2 p.m. with the massed bands providing the music. Special guest artist is Robert (Fat Bob the Singing Plumber) Taylor.

Civitan Club announces essay competition theme

The Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club has announced the theme for its third annual essay contest.

Joe Henshaw, contest chairman, said high school juniors and seniors have until March 15 to submit essays on the topic, "Does Our Nation's Future Depend on Nuclear Energy?"

Entries should be typewritten on white paper, 8 1/2 x 11 inches, and contain between 500 and 1,200 words. A cover sheet must include the essay's title and the writer's name and address.

More specific information and a descriptive pamphlet is available from Plymouth Salem and Canton high school English teachers or Henshaw, Canton Science Department, Ext. 321.

The local Civitan Club will present cash awards to the winners — first place, $100; second place, $50 and third place, $25.

HENSHAW SAID, "Hopefully, our contest participants and any parents or friends who may assist them in some way in this effort will consider some of the benefits to be obtained from purposeful assertion of one's view, thoughts or emotions."

He cited the competition as a means to develop self-confidence or at least an improved self-image.

The Civitan clubs throughout the nation support the local, district and national competition in the hope that student participation will improve the student's ability to correlate thoughts and concepts while at the same time maintaining continuity.

'Mimes for '83' to open Friday

The pantomime class at the Centennial Educational Park will present its annual show, "Mimes for '83," at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

The audience will see 32 pantomimes, each written, directed and acted by the students. Gloria Logan, mime teacher, said the two-hour show will leave the audience smiling.

"It is a relaxed show, lighter and more frivolous than usual. There are just two serious skits, but none are tragic. One is very tender."

In more than 10 years at the CEP, Logan has seen the mime show reflect the times and the students' interests and feelings. She said the shows were very serious in the early '70s. She said that it is surprising that bad economic times spark humor in stage and song writing.

BLACK LIGHT is being used for the first time in a CEP mime show.

"It will be used in an E.T. production and another," said Logan. "And there is a running E.T. gag throughout the show."

She said the students are ingenious in their productions. In one, the pantomimists will be shredded wheat biscuits.

"There will be a doctor segment, that's a traditional choice, and there's one called 'Lovers Knot,' a magic one, Christmas, and the circus. Most of the themes are based on daily living. There's one about glasses — eye glasses."

The $1 admission charge will help them break even on the cost of putting on the show, Logan said. Optimistically, they may even make a little extra.

Celia Stuart portrays a skater in "Lover's Knot."

Wealth of free tax help available

Author Matthew Lesko estimates that each year taxpayers spend hundreds of millions of dollars on tax preparation services, tax tips and manuals when they could be getting much of the same information free by availing themselves of information and services offered by the Internal Revenue Service and IRS-sponsored organizations.

Lesko is in the midst of a nationwide tour to promote his latest book, "How to Get Free Tax Help" (Bantam Books, $2.95), a guide to all the free services that can be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service.

Due to budget restrictions, said Lesko, IRS and volunteer organizations have little money to advertise their free services. In "How to Get Free Tax Help," Lesko includes services and sources that may not provide all the answers to all tax problems, "but," said Lesko, "it would be a pity not to try them, at least. After all, your tax dollars are paying for them."

Morrison-Bidock

Katherine Jean Bidock and John Keith Morrison exchanged marriage vows Nov. 27 in First Baptist Church of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Jerry and Gertrude Bidock, of Dearborn Heights. Bob and Carolyn Morrison of Leighwood Street, Plymouth are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's gown had a Queen Anne neckline, a pleated skirt and cathedral train, both edged in lace. She carried white roses.

Her attendants Kelly Killen and Pamela Morrison wore long-sleeved lavender gowns with lace jackets. Their flowers were lavender and beige.

Mark Parker and James Bidock were groomsmen. After a wedding reception at St. Clements, the couple went to Florida for their wedding trip. They are living in Plymouth.

Both are students at Schoolcraft College and employees of Kroger Co. The bride graduated from Dearborn Heights Riverside High School. Her husband is a graduate of Plymouth Canton High School.

Trails around

South Dakota is a skiers' haven

Ask cross country skiers to specify their favorite spot in South Dakota, and you get a multiplicity of answers.

The Black Hills have many spectacular areas, and there are numerous advocates of the parks and recreation areas in eastern South Dakota.

The result is an enviable situation, with cross country skiers reaping the benefits all across the state.

The Black Hills, with more than 200 kilometers of marked trails, offers uncrowded, challenging terrain. Cross country skiers cite the Hills as having some of the most ideal land in the nation for winter recreation. The Hills have easy grades for touring, yet are true mountains, with magnificent scenic qualities.

Black Hills trails offer easy access to thousands of acres of meadowland and pristine forest. Some of the best touring in the Black Hills is off-trail, where you blaze your own way to discovery.

Ski season in the Hills generally runs into mid-March. Late-season snows often will extend the season in the high country into April. Marked and maintained trails are concentrated in the northern Black Hills between Spearfish and Deadwood/Lead and in the south-central Hills between Hill and Custer west of U.S. Highway 385.

The downhill ski areas of Deer Mountain and Terry Peak, west of Lead, both maintain cross country trails, and there are 30 kilometers of groomed trails at Big Hill, southwest of Spearfish. Many areas in the Black Hills have abandoned railroad beds and old logging roads which make excellent trails.

Cross country outfitters are located in Rapid City, Spearfish, Deadwood and Lead with rental equipment and complete retail lines. Some of the outfitters also offer guide services, and a guide service is available in Custer.

From the Missouri River east in South Dakota, cross country skiing is a burgeoning winter activity. The terrain here varies considerably from that in the Black Hills. Eastern South Dakota ski areas tend to roll, wooded hills and valleys, and frequently incorporate lakeshore and riverbank country.

There are 19 state parks and recreation areas east of the Missouri open to cross country skiing, with a total of 8,160 acres of public land.

Eight of the state areas are in the northeast Glacial Lakes region; eight more are in the southeast corner of the state, and park areas at Selby, Redfield and Pierre accommodate cross country skiers. A 400-acre private facility, Pleasant Valley Ski Slopes, operates near Gary.

Tall mountain once sat underwater

Even those who have traveled throughout the United States may not be aware of some of the many obscure, yet interesting, facts about this country's geography. For example:

- California's Mount Whitney, the highest point in the Continental United States (14,495), is believed to have once been under water.
- Minnesota, "Land of Sky Blue Waters," has more than 15,000 lakes — 156 of which are named Long Lake.
- With more than one million head of sheep and cattle and one-half million people, Wyoming has more livestock than citizens.
- America's first space capital was Huntsville, Ala.

RETIRE TO HILTON HEAD AND MAKE IT YOUR ISLAND.
At Hilton Head Plantation, we make one basic assumption about the people who choose to retire here: they deserve only the best.
And the best is what they get.
Year round golf on three great courses. Tennis on our clay courts. Pleasure boating and sailing out of the marina. Fishing for everything from speckled trout to blue marlin. Riding stables. Wooded nature trails. And two miles of some of the most scenic stretches of beach anywhere. Not to mention all the wonderful things to do and see on Hilton Head Island just off the coast of South Carolina. Known throughout the world for its natural beauty and temperate climate.
But Hilton Head Plantation is more than a place to play. It's a place to live. In a residential community of beautiful homes, architecturally designed to blend with the seaside landscape of live oak, pine and grassy dunes.
And custom built homes from the outside in, to your particular taste.
Most homes are priced beginning at $105,000 including land. With lot mortgages at interest rates below prevailing rates.
There are also residential waterfront condominiums available, with prices beginning at $175,000.

Numbers don't equate to human factors
Every January the congregation I serve as pastor, has its annual meeting. I write a summary report of the activities, responsibilities and opportunities assigned to my care. The operational committees of the parish write summary reports of their work. And an accounting is made of funds received and funds expended. It is a process that is repeated many, many times over across the ecclesiastical landscape this month, as well as in countless other organizations.

Salem holds off Bentley rally

Plymouth Salem's basketball team took control of its game with Livonia Bentley with a third-quarter surge, then nearly lost it in the fourth as the Bulldogs fought back from a 17-point deficit to within three with 1:11 to play.

But the Rocks withstood the challenge to record their fifth Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) win in six games, 58-49, Tuesday at Salem.

Salem led by five, 23-18, at the half and pulled away with a 20-12 third quarter.

"WE HAD A REAL fine third quarter," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "It was just a matter of our defense playing really well, and we got some decent break opportunities off of it."

Senior center Dave Houle led the Rock rally, scoring eight of his 12 points in the quarter.

In the final period, Salem stretched its advantage to 17 before Bentley stormed back. Glenn Medalle and Rick Berberet kept the Rocks in control, however, netting six and five points, respectively, in the period.

"Glenn had a real good defensive game guarding (Bentley's Jim) Thorderson," Thomann said. "He and Berberet made the buckets down the stretch for us."

Berberet topped Salem with 18 points, while Medalle finished with 14.

Phil Graczyk was high scorer for Bentley with 19. Medalle limited Thorderson to eight. John Turner and John White also netted eight each.

Salem is now 7-2 overall, while Bentley fell to 4-5, 2-4 in the WLAA.

Rocks' depth makes the difference in win

Plymouth Salem swim coach Chuck Olson called it "by far the best meet we've swum so far."

And it came against an old rival — Trenton. The Rocks swept the top two spots in the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, to snap a 56-56 tie and propel them to a 68-58 victory Tuesday at Salem.

The meet didn't carry the same significance as it did in the past because Trenton remains a member of the Suburban Eight League while Salem has switched from the Sub 8 to the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA).

But it would be difficult to convince Salem swim fans of that. "That's probably the first time we've beaten them in five years," Olson said of the win.

The Rocks did it with depth, which is quickly emerging as a team trademark. They captured only five firsts but swept the top two places in three events.

THE 400 FREE RELAY sweep was the biggest for Salem. Tom Shaw, Mike Harwood, Scott Anderson and Erik Kleinsmith combined to take first (3:30.4) and Jeff Neschich, Greg Wolff, Mark Roehrig and Tim Harwood teamed to take second (3:37.0).

swimming

Other sweeps came in the 50 free, as Bob Bowling earned top honors (23.6) while teammate Tim Harwood finished second (23.8), and in the 100 free, with Kleinsmith first (51.8) and Bowling second (52.5).

Anderson splashed to a first in the 200 free for the Rocks (1:53.2) and Wolff captured the 500 free (5:21.1).

Seconds were taken by Kleinsmith in the 200 individual medley (2:12.9), Todd Riedel in the diving (197.25 points), Roehrig in the 100 butterfly (58.8), Ashley Long in the 100 breaststroke (1:07.1) and the 200 medley relay team of Mike Harwood, Long, Roehrig and Bowling (1:48.5).

The win was Salem's third in four meets. The Rocks risk their 1-0 WLAA record at Farmington tonight, a team Olson termed as one of the league favorites (together with Livonia Stevenson and Salem).

Chief tumblers fall

Northville's Kathy Heitert proved dominant Monday in leading the Mustangs over Plymouth Canton's gymnasts, 111.7-103.25, at Northville.

Heitert won three of four events and placed third in another to claim all-around honors.

The Chiefs' Linda Beale finished second three times, scoring 7.65 in the vault, 7.8 in the uneven parallel bars and 7.85 in the balance beam. She was third in the floor exercise (7.3) to place second in the all-around competition (30.6).

Annette Bryce captured second for Canton in the floor exercise (7.45) and finished fourth in the vaulting (7.4) and sixth in the uneven parallel bars (6.4).

Heitert's wins were in the bars (8.1), beam (8.05) and floor exercise (7.8).

THE CHIEFS traveled to the Dearborn Invitational last weekend and placed 10th in the 14-team tournament.

Troy, the favorite to win the state Class A title, won with 131.35 points. Freeland was second (127.85), Ann Arbor Pioneer was third (125.05), North Farmington fourth (124.50), Ludington fifth (123.45) and Adrian sixth (122.30). Canton scored 106.60.

Top placers for the Chiefs were Beale, ninth in the vault (8.4), 10th in the beam (7.5), 11th in the bars (7.9) and 12th in the all-around (31.55), and Bryce, who placed 12th in the vault (8.2) and 15th in the all-around (29.55).

Canton, now 1-1 in dual meets, travels to Wayne Memorial for a meet Monday.

Transition game

Cagers adept at adapting

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

What an experience! After two years of college, Howard Monk and Dave Visser discovered that they had to go back to the ABCs: Adapt to a new Basketball Coach.

There's nothing to fear, however. In their two-plus years at Wayne State University, both have earned 'A's in Adaptability.

And that is indeed a valuable talent, for them and the team. Their adaptability has helped the Tartars make a smooth transition from last year's coach, Vern Payne, to the new man in charge, Charlie Parker.

The change must be somewhat reciprocal, of course. Parker did not come into the program and decide to dismantle it, making wholesale reforms. Nor did he have to.

As Monk described it for Visser and himself: "We've both been accepted by the new coach. Our roles haven't changed that much. I think he looked at the stats and saw what we could do."

people in sports

valuable 6th man

AND, CERTAINLY, those stats might be convincing enough. When Payne left to take over the head coaching job at Western Michigan University, he did not leave a program in disarray.

Quite the opposite. WSU enjoyed its best basketball campaign since 1968 last year, compiling a 15-9 record, including a 10-6 mark in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) that was good for third place.

Monk, a 1980 Plymouth Salem graduate, started 18 of 21 games he appeared in last year and averaged 11.5 points a game. In his first two years at WSU, he started all but four games and averaged 12 points per contest.

Visser, who graduated from Plymouth Canton in 1980, had 15 starts in 24 games in 1981-82, scoring 6.2 points and grabbing four rebounds per game. He started 24 of 25 games his freshman year and had an 8.1 points per game scoring average.

MONK'S ROLE has not changed much. The team's top returning scorer from a year ago, the 6-foot-6, 200-pound forward still starts, averaging around 10 points a game while hitting close to 60 percent of his shots.

Visser has had to make a greater transition. The 6-5 forward, who describes himself as "basically a perimeter player," now comes off the bench as the sixth man. He is averaging close to five points per game.

Neither player is bucking the system.

"If someone's not having a good night, someone else will come in and do it," Visser said. "I think we've had nine or 10 guys score in double figures sometime this year."

Monk added, "It's more of a family unit. At the beginning of the year, it

Local radio ignores prep sporting events

It was a cold and snowy night. Static crackled and whistled from the speaker of my Sony Litematic Digimatic clock radio.

Michigan's high school basketball tournament was raging full force on this particular Saturday last March. There were interesting regional finals being played all over the state.

Tuning carefully, I hoped to pick up a play-by-play broadcast of one of them, or at least gather in a few scores. But no such luck. Not with the Michigan teams, anyway.

What I heard instead was a stirring account of the Plymouth, Ind., High School team beating somebody in that state's tournament over WOWO, Ft. Wayne. And later a girls' state semifinal game involving Mercy and Marshall County, two Kentucky high schools, came booming in over WHAS, Louisville.

As a true sports junkie, I listened in and enjoyed every minute. But why, I wondered at the time, did I have to tune out of state to hear some high school basketball? Why were there no broadcasts of Michigan games on stations that could be received in the Detroit area?

It wasn't always thus. In the mid-1970s, two very hearable stations, WPON in Pontiac and WBRB (now WWHK) in Mt. Clemens, made local high school football and basketball a regular part of their Friday night programming.

I remember hearing Kurt Schneider, then WPON's sports director, call North Farmington's stunning upset of Birmingham Brother Rice in the 1978 Class A football semifinals. Rice beat Utica Henry Ford in a 1977 classic basketball regional aired on the old WBRB station.

And outstate, away from metropolitan Detroit's tar and cement and lots to do on Friday nights, local sports are all over the dial.

A colleague, remembering his college days at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, said of the local radio: "On Friday night, you'd jump in your car, and it seemed like you could pick up a high school game on just about any spot on the dial you'd touch."

SO WHAT HAPPENED to the Detroit-area stuff?

Well, very little English is spoken around WPON these days. The station has undergone a couple of recent "format" changes, switching from middle-of-the-road to country music and finally to its present ethnic programming under new ownership. A lot of foreign-language broadcasts are featured.

In its middle-of-the-road days, WPON broadcast some Oakland University basketball games as well as Pontiac-area high school games.

"We still do local sports in the sense that we report the scores and things like that," said David Lee Harper, WPON's news and sports director. "But we haven't done any play-by-play for about a year."

"We were negotiating to get OU basketball back on the air, but with the new owners and all, other things take priority, unfortunately."

Foul problems cost Ocelots

Winless Kellogg isn't winless any longer

Things went from bad to worse last week for the slumping Schoolcraft men's basketball team.

The Ocelots, who fell Friday at home to Kellogg Community College, 88-86, have now dropped three of their last four games.

Ironically, it was Kellogg's first victory of the season while Schoolcraft slipped to 14-4 overall.

Schoolcraft got off to an ignominious start just before the annual jump ball toss. The Ocelots were assessed a technical foul because newcomer Mike Cavichio's name wasn't entered in the official book by scorekeeper Gary Cooper.

"We had new uniform numbers so I had everybody lined up in front of the table before the game," said Schoolcraft coach Rocky Watkins. "We're playing 14 people right now and Mike is new. The whole thing shouldn't have happened."

Larry Bentz went to the line and sank the technical foul shot, giving Kellogg a lead before the game even got underway.

Kellogg jumped out to a 52-38 half-time lead and held on for the victory as Bentz pumped in 27 points.

George Merrifield tallied 19 in a losing cause with Carlos Briggs and Ricky Johnson contributing 18 and 16, respectively.

SCHOOLCRAFT was in foul trouble most of the night. Merrifield, Briggs and Bill Keyes all fouled out. Tom Niergarth and center Scott Conrad were saddled with four fouls apiece.

Briggs, the nation's leading scorer, did not start the game. He was benched for the start of the game because of a disciplinary problem earlier in the week.

"We shot 63 percent from the floor and that's normally good enough to win," Watkins said. "But we committed 34 personal fouls and that's been a problem of late."

"I've been making our guys play man-to-man (defense) and they're reaching and doing bad things with their feet. We're trying to make them play the passing lanes and that's one of the reasons we're fouling a lot."

Watkins, however, vowed his team is ready to regain its winning form for the second half of the season.

"The guys haven't given up on themselves and I haven't given up on them," he said. "We've got to use some things like the man-to-man because we'll need it for the stretch drive."

"We've just had a bad four-game stretch."

Kathy Peck scored the game-winner in the final seconds Saturday as the Schoolcraft women's team raised their season record to 6-4.

Schoolcraft led 32-30 at intermission, but Delta sent the game into overtime after the two teams battled to a 68-68 draw in regulation play.

Peck, a Plymouth Canton graduate, finished with 19 points. Teammate Deborah Johnson also had a big game, pouring in 25 points to go along with 12 rebounds.

Cathi Hengy and Cheryl Sobkow added 14 and 12 points, respectively, for the Lady Ocelots.

Rice revolts, upsets CC

By C.J. Rieak staff writer

Geez, this must have been for the state championship!

No? Well then, surely a league title must have been at stake.

Wrong again, quiz kid. It was just another Catholic League regular season basketball game.

Well, maybe not just another Catholic League game. It's never just a game when Detroit Catholic Central and Birmingham Brother Rice meet — it's a battle. This one wasn't decided until Ray Wheelock came off the bench to ignite Rice with eight fourth-quarter points, lifting the Warriors to a 59-54 triumph at CC Tuesday.

Fans of both schools were packed and stacked into the tiny CC gym, right up to the edge of the court. When a CC student moved off with the Rice flag and started pounding it on the floor during a fourth-quarter timeout, the rowdiness spilled out of the stands and onto the court in a fist-throwing melee.

ORDER TO THE COURT was soon returned, but not to CC's game, which disintegrated after the third quarter. The Shamrocks were up a basket going into the final eight minutes, but then Wheelock, a 6-foot-4 junior forward, went to work.

basketball

Banished to the bench for the first three quarters, Wheelock quickly made his presence felt. He scored the tying basket with 6:03 to play. A Stan Heath (18 points for the game) free throw and a Mike Maleske (10 points) bucket put CC up by three before two straight Wheelock baskets put Rice ahead for good, 53-52.

Andy Kolp, who topped the Warriors with 22 points, hit a jumper with 3:09 left to make it a three-point lead. Heath narrowed it to one but Wheelock hit again on a short turnaround jumper and B.J. Armstrong, who finished with 14 points, canned a pair of free throws to ice it with 25 seconds remaining.

"THEY'RE MISTAKE," Rice coach Nick Conti told his players after the game. "They thought they announced that CC was the home of the Catholic League football champions."

"They forgot one thing — who the Catholic League basketball champions are."

That, of course, is Rice, which won the title last season. CC was 8-0 coming into Tuesday's game to 5-4 for the Warriors.

riors, but now both teams are tied in the Central Division with a 4-1 mark.

"Our rebounding was very bad," a dejected CC coach Bernie Holowicki analyzed. "That's been our weak spot all year. The boards and our outside shooting was pathetic."

"We just didn't play aggressive enough. They took the game to us on our own court."

Warrior misuses kept them behind most of the way. Rice turned the ball over six times in the second quarter as CC overcame a 21-17 first-quarter deficit to take a 38-34 halftime lead. Kevin Kral and Heath triggered the rally. Heath driving to the basket, then dish- ing out to Kral for an easy layup.

KRAL NOTCHED 12 points in the game, all in the first half, with eight coming in the second quarter. Rice stayed close thanks to the sharp outside shooting of Kolp, who bagged 16 points in the first half (12 in the first quarter).

The Shamrocks pulled out to a six-point lead in the third quarter, but that evaporated in the final two minutes because of six straight free throws, which narrowed it to a pair going into the last period.

Which set it up for Wheelock and his heroics. "I felt they were extending their zone," Conti said in explaining why he inserted Wheelock. "He's the one guy we have who can flash inside, get the ball and shoot it."

He shot it and he made it. The result is a tighter Central Division race.

And that can only mean the rowdy crowds will keep cranking into the crackerjack Catholic League gyms to do everything in their power to urge their team to victory.

After all, that's what fans are for.

Stars adapt to college style

wasn't like that. Everyone was battling for one of the starting positions. That is no longer the case. After losing their first three games of the year, the Tartars have won nine of 11 and are currently tied for first in the GLIAC with Saginaw Valley, Ferris State and Northwood. All are 3-1.

AND NO ONE will argue when a team is winning.

Both players describe the adjustments they've had to make this season "minor" and "no big deal." Visser, who went from a full-time starter as a freshman to part-time a year ago to sixth man this year, said it was "a little different coming off the bench, but once I got used to it, it was OK."

Coaching philosophies are certainly different. Payne was a disciplinarian who stressed defense. Parker has concentrated more on offense. "Maybe because he hasn't had to stress defense that much," Monk said with the team running a patterned attack about 75 percent of the time.

"Last year, we set picks and roamed around, looking for the open shot," Monk recalled.

Although last season's squad was a good one, both players feel this year's Tartar edition could be even better. Any mention of the five losses on their record is accompanied by a "that's a game we never should have lost" remark.

"AS A WHOLE, I think (this) team is better because everybody contributes," Monk said with Visser adding, "There is definitely more of a team contribution."

Adapting to a new coach isn't the only adjustment the two players have had to make. Neither was looking forward to this weekend's lengthy road trip. The bus left Wednesday morning for tonight's game with Michigan Tech. After that, the team was to take another drive to Lake Superior State for a game Saturday.

"It's a long drive," Visser said. Monk agreed, saying that "you miss three days of classes and that can kill you for the semester."

Then there's the crowds, a unique situation at WSU. At Canton and at Salem, at least some games attracted large numbers of supporters. At WSU that seldom happens. College sports is supposed to be a big business, but according to Monk and Visser the only sizable crowds that turn out for their games are on the road.

"I'VE ALWAYS HEARD a winner brings in people, but I don't see that happening here," Visser said. "I think there are people who go to school here that don't even know there is a basketball team."

"If you take away the relatives of the players who come to the games, we'd have about 20 or 30 fans, tops," Monk added.

Lack of fan support, seemingly endless bus rides, a new coach: both players have weathered the changes from prep to college basketball smoothly. Of course, they learned to adapt early in their collegiate careers.

For nearly three years now, the two have been roommates. That's right — a Canton grad and a Salem alum sharing an apartment.

Now that's adapting.

"If you play well and you play poised, we'll win," Van Wagoner assured them.

It worked. Canton, trailing by eight at the intermission, surged back behind a 23-12 third-quarter to sink Harrison at Harrison.

"Our fast break started cooking after halftime," Van Wagoner said. "We played a real fine half-court man-to-man defense."

The win was Canton's second in six WLA games. The Chiefs are 3-6 overall Harrison slipped to 2-5 in the WLA.

Rebounding played a key role for the Chiefs, who have outboarded their opponents in all three of their wins. Against Harrison, they held a 30-19 edge.

Three players reached double figures in scoring for Canton. Mark Bennett was the pacesetter with 20, followed by Ron Ruelas with 17 and Pat Murphy with 13. Wes Jones topped the Hawks with 14.

The Chiefs' third-quarter comeback put them in command, 50-47. Their 17-8 scoring advantage in the final quarter ended it for Harrison.

Over at WBBR — ooops, make that WWHK — the sounds of the big bands are floating on the airwaves that once carried the exploits of high school teams.

"There was a lot of cost involved with what with the equipment, the travel and paying someone to broadcast the games," said office manager Debra Krystyniak, explaining the station's decision to drop local sports. "And advertising response just wasn't that good."

Any plans to revive school sports coverage? "To tell you the truth, I don't think so," Krystyniak said. "We're really going good with our music now, and we want to emphasize that."

BUT THINGS are different up in Mt. Pleasant where WCEN (almost certainly one of the stations my colleague "touched" during his college days) is happy to broadcast football and basketball from two high schools and CMU.

"It's an important part of our programming," said WCEN news director James Hughes, "because the local people are listening... their children are playing. We seem to have a big listenership for all three schools."

Would Hughes care to venture an opinion about why it seems to work so well in Mt. Pleasant and not around Detroit?

"I don't know... unless it's just that the station is willing to get involved in the first place," Hughes answered.

Ocelot gymnasts fall despite record

There were numerous bright spots for Schoolcraft coach Cecil Woodruff despite a 249.3-188.9 men's gymnastics loss Saturday at Kent State (Ohio) University. It was Schoolcraft's opener.

"Although we were out of our league our guys didn't embarrass themselves," said Woodruff. "We had clean routines and good scores. And we also set a team record (188.9)."

Six of Woodruff's gymnasts are from Ionia.

"We sort of have a northern connection," Woodruff said. "Jerry Rieghard, who was a gymnast here in 1971-72 and later went on to Central Michigan. He's now the coach of Ionia and he's doing a good job of recruiting for us."

Schoolcraft's captain, Bruce Schafer, a sophomore from Ionia, scored an 8.1 on floor exercise to gain fourth place. He also had an outstanding vault, scoring 8.7 to place sixth which also pleased Woodruff.

Another Ionia grad, Karl Schneider, came through with a nice routine on the horizontal bars despite a fall and scored a 6.6 from the judges.

Glenn matmen stay perfect

Westland John Glenn's state-ranked wrestling team continues to burn up the mats.

The Rockets, coached by Tom Bucklew, ran their season dual record to 12-0 with four victories last week.

The latest win came against Saginaw, 48-15. Glenn captured 10 of 13 matches with Rick Gillies (98 pounds), Mike Rossi (119), Jeff Chicky (132), Tom Forchione (138) and Don Forchione (155) scoring pins.

Glenn also blanked Warren Cousino, taking five matches on walkovers and scoring seven pins. Rossi had the fastest pin, taking just 23 seconds to beat opponent Bruce Scarsella.

Glenn's 47-0 victory over Warren Lincoln was highlighted by Chicky's 23-second pin of Eric Reemer.

Other Glenn winners included Tom Gibson (105), Dan Gibson (112), Rossi (119), Mike Proffitt (126), Robb Paciocco (145), Don Forchione (155), Bryan Dye (185) and Tom Allosi (198).

The Rockets made it two straight in the Northwest Suburban League with a 47-19 triumph over North Farmington in a match closer than the final score indicates.

Scoring victories for Glenn were: Tom Gibson, a pin in 1:55 over Mike Zoretic; Dan Gibson, a 12-3 decision against Todd Brown; Paciocco, a pin in 2:40 versus Dave Goldberg; Don Forchione, a pin in 1:23 over Mark Narkas; Vaughn Viar (167) decisioned Jeff Kirkendall, 4-2; Allosi, a pin against Dan Eaton in 49 seconds; and heavyweight Kurt Potulski, who pinned Greg Cotter in 36 seconds.

At 98 pounds, Gillies and North's Terry Donovan battled to a 2-2 tie. And at 185, Dye and North's Brian Hood fought to a 3-3 deadlock.

REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS and Woodhaven battled to a 36-36 tie Tuesday night.

Borgess is now 4-10-1 overall.

Sophomore-heavyweight John Ketchum ran his season record to 22-7 on the year with a pin in 1:23 against Mike Pashene.

Other Borgess winners were: Mark Anderson (98), who pinned Darren Johnson in 4:29; Ken Freeman (105), who pinned John Mierni in 5:55; Joe Lunk (112), a 4-0 decision against Todd Metzger; Brian Smeardon (145), a 8-6 decision over Pat Curry; Mike Graczyk (155), a pin in 4:20 versus Dan Wilson; John Ward (167), a pin in 3:58 against Bob Carroll.

In a Catholic League Central Division dual last week, Birmingham Brother Rice handed the Spartans a 54-16 defeat.

Freeman, sporting a 19-9 mark, pinned Ramsey Kizy in 2:48. Ward, who is 6-0 since returning from an injury, decisioned Allen Sparks, 10-2. Borgess' other win was registered by Ketchum, who pinned David Baskir in 55 seconds.

CC MAT INVITATIONAL

Five of the state's top teams will be on hand Saturday for the annual Detroit Catholic Central wrestling tournament.

Preliminary action gets underway at 11 a.m. with the finals slated for 7 p.m. Admission is $2 per session.

Temperance-Bedford, last year's Class A state champion, will return to defend its CC Mat Invitational crown. Other Class A powers include Grandville, Lansing Eastern, Wayne Memorial and host CC.

Rounding out the 16-team field are Redford, Taylor City, Birmingham Brother Rice, Bay City Western, Lansing Sexton, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Grand Lodge, Warren Lincoln, Mt. Clemens, East Kentwood, Pontiac Northern and Warren Cousino.

Second runs

Tom Panzenhagen

"His Girl Friday" (1940). 1 p.m. Saturday at Canton Township Hall, Canton Center Road south of Cherry Hill, phone 397-0999. Free. Running time 92 minutes.

Howard Hawks' women have never fared well. Look at most of this director's "men's films" and you'll often find no major roles for women, very masculine women, or one-dimensional female characters. Joanne Dru, for instance, is given laughably bad direction in the otherwise fine, John Wayne film "Red River." Rosalind Russell, however, is the best of Hawks' women. In "His Girl Friday" she competes as a reporter in a man's world while remaining femininely alluring to co-star Cary Grant and the audience. The script is far-fetched, but Hawks' screwball-comedy pacing keeps your mind far from reality.

Rating: $3.10

"The Razor's Edge" (1961). 1 p.m. today on Ch. 50. Originally 99 minutes.

Gary Cooper was 60 when he made this, his last film, and he looks every bit his age in it. It's often good cinema, though, with a well-established actor playing a part that's contrary to his image, and "Razor's Edge," in which Cooper may be out to kill his wife, is no exception. Deborah Kerr also stars.

Rating: $2.85

"Seven Days in May" (1964). 1 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 50. Originally 118 minutes.

Journeyman director John Frankenheimer overcomes a mediocre script and makes the most of fine performances from Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, Edmond O'Brien and John Houseman in this curious suspense story. Curious because the storyline is far-fetched, the character of the president (played by Fredric March) frightfully ill-conceived, and the character played by Ava Gardner nothing more than a screenwriter's afterthought, yet "Seven Days" is full of suspense right until its terribly anti-climactic ending. Half of this film is very, very good — but only half.

Rating: $2.75

Acting succeeds but script falters

review

By Cathie Breidenbach
special writer

Eight women are caught in a web of trouble in the Actors Alliance Theatre Company production of Nancy Beckert's "The Women Here Are No Different." They hole up in a house that's a refuge for battered women while they try to sort out their lives. To its credit, the play isn't sentimental or vindictively feminist, and it refuses to dish up simplistic solutions. The eight women in the cast turn in strong and sometimes outstanding performances, but flaws in focus and structure detract from the solid action in the play.

There's no clear climax in the action, just a zigzag of emotional ups and downs leading nowhere in particular. The focus seems to shift at random with monologues from one character, then another. If the strength of a play depends on how well it succeeds in making the audience believe in and care about its characters, then "The Women Here Are No Different" only partially succeeds, and the problem is not in the acting.

We learn enough about each woman's past but are left hungry for plot about what happens at the shelter. The plot, what there is of it, wobbles without clear direction and is too skimpy to satisfy.

TO THE PLAY'S credit, there's not a paper-dolly character in the bunch, no cardboard women. From Ruth, the frumpy farm wife played with stoic strength by Divina Cook, to Dorothy, the earthy black woman played superbly by Sakula Delaney, these women are strong even when they're most vulnerable. They quiver on the web of circumstances, trapped by love and sometimes hate for the men who abuse them, immobilized by habit and dependency. Whether they're prim, split-level matrons like Annette DePetris' Theresa and Laurie Logan's Jeanette, or women from working class backgrounds like Clair and Laurie, played by Val McKenna and Beverly Hainault, they share more than being abused by men.

They share the turmoil of women caught in the cross fire of a society whose ideas about being female are changing. They share being trapped on a web of living and having to haul around the emotional baggage of their pasts as they try to fight their way to independence. They share a resilient strength. They're no different from other women.

Thank goodness the play is not a feminist diatribe. Although we never see any of the men who sent these women on the run, we sense that the men are as much victims of their own frustrations as they are violent brutes.

"The Women Here Are No Different" explores the psychology and sociology of battered women without going overboard. Pat, played by Paula Kline, and Tina, played by Cooki Winborn, are social workers who counsel the women at the shelter.

THEY MUST JUGGLE time and money when there's never enough of either, and they must do battle with institutions even as they try to sort through personal confusions.

"The Women Here Are No Different" explores a hot current topic: battered women — without overdoing it, and it presents valid dilemmas of modern life with strong acting and competent directing by Jeff Naham. It is a good, eight-faceted character study, but it is not particularly strong as a play.

Marcy Walker, who plays Lisa Colby in "All My Children," will make a personal appearance Saturday at Westland Center.

Wholesalers competing for newest in products

In Michigan, there are nearly 20 businesses licensed as wine wholesalers. It is a very competitive business, and most of them continually contend for new product lines. Because of this competition, consumers are the winners, as it means we have helped build here one of the best selections of imported and California wines in the United States. (Recently, for example, the Red Wagon in Rochester had more than 160 different California wine labels on the shelves.) Here is a look at some of the newer ones.

Most notable of the recent entries is Newton Vineyard, the beautiful western Napa property owned by Peter Newton and Ric Forman. The latter, of course, has long been esteemed as one of the finest of all California winemakers, and his association with Newton goes back to their days at Sterling Vineyards.

THEIR WINES WILL all be estate-bottled once their plantings bear. For now they must use purchased grapes, but Forman is to be trusted for his judgment in this. Very little of this initial release was made, and we are privileged to be one of very few markets for it. Indeed, it is hard to find here (Red Wagon has it), and it is not cheap, but it is Ric Forman's wine and so worth trying.

There is a deep, rich, complex merlot, a fine sauvignon blanc and a chardonnay that almost balances out its fruit and oak. Given time, it will (but it will all be drunk by then, unfortunately). Waiting in the wings is a cabernet sauvignon, to be released within the year. Almost as prestigious is Dr. William Casey's St. Clement Vineyards, recently available in Michigan. On the property formerly used to make Spring Mountain, Casey opened St. Clement in the late 1970s and has since added to the property as a signal that he intends to stay in business for the long haul. Sauvignon blanc and cabernet are featured.
