The Canton Connection

TAX COUNSELING for senior citizens and handicapped people is available — by appointment only — from 12:30-1:30 p.m. Mondays and 9:30-11:30 a.m. Wednesdays at the Canton Recreation Center, on the corner of Sheldon and Michigan Avenue. This free service is offered through February, sponsored by the Canton Township senior citizens and the Plymouth Association of Retired Persons (AARP). Trained volunteers from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will offer the counseling. Call 397-1000, ext. 278, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays, for an appointment.

CANTON ROTARIANS voiced displeasure over the new Canton postal facility that will open later this month in Harvard Square shopping center. The Rotarians will send letters to various officials requesting that Canton receives a full-service post office. The new facility will sell stamps and take care of packages, but mail still will be delivered from the Wayne-Westland offices.

BOB CARD of McDonald restaurants on Ford Road and Michigan Avenue honored Canton's Jaycee, Jaycette and Jayteen members last week with formal letters of recognition for community service.

STORYTIME SESSIONS for pre-school children at the Canton Public Library will begin Feb. 14. Various sessions will be scheduled for both day and evening periods. Parents must remain in the library during storytime. Separate story-craft sessions will be scheduled for children attending kindergarten. For registration information, call the library at 397-0999.

IF ART is your child's cup of tea, the library has scheduled a workshop in origami — the art of Japanese paper folding. The workshop for children in grades 1-3 is from 10-11:30 a.m. Jan. 29. Registration begins Tuesday at 10 a.m. A Mardi Gras celebration for children will be from 2-3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, at the library. There will be games, creative dramatics and a craft. Registration begins at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 1.

A BUSINESS SECURITY survey program is offered to Canton businesses to minimize risk of burglary, robbery, theft, shoplifting and fraud. The crime-prevention officer of the Canton police department will do the survey on an appointment basis. There is no charge for the service and all details are held in confidence. For information, call crime-prevention officer Cpl. Bob vanLith at 397-3000, ext. 320.

GROUNDHOGS DAY Classic, the fourth annual slo-pitch softball tournament sponsored by Canton's recreation department, takes place all day Saturday at two softball diamonds at Griffin Park, on Canton Center just north of Cherry Hill. Last year's event saw 13 teams struggle through deep, deep snow, hitting a 16-inch orange-colored softball. This year, snow may not bother players, but the temperature is sure to be below freezing. Cost is $30 per team. Anyone interested in playing should call the recreation department (397-1000) for more information.

THE TOWNSHIP Board regularly meets on the first, second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Meetings begin at 7 p.m. at Township Hall, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill. The board of education regularly meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. at 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth. The public is invited to attend all government meetings.

Anyone interested in submitting information about Canton Township for "The Canton Connection," may send items to Canton editor Dennis O'Connor, 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170. We ask that you type or print the information and include your name and phone number in case we have any questions. The column runs every Monday.

Supervisor ranks 16th on salary list

By Ariene Funke
staff writer

Fifteen township employees — most of them firefighters — earn more than Canton's chief elected official.

A 1982 year-end earning study indicates Township Supervisor James Poole ranks 16th with his annual salary of $32,500.

Treasurer Maria Sterlini and Township Clerk John Flodin tied for 29th, each earning $30,000.

The study is part of a packet of information prepared by Personnel Director Dan Durack, to be presented to the Township Board. The trustees will consider the issue of salaries for 11 non-union department heads and a few employees with separate contracts at Tuesday's regular meeting.

Most of Canton's 120 full-time employees belong to various bargaining units, or unions, with contracts covering all members.

But the Township Board sets the individual salaries of the non-union department heads and deputies. The merit commission, an advisory body for the non-union employees, is recommending an 8 percent across-the-board raise for the department heads, Durack said.

"Basically, this study is to compare how non-union employees compare with union employees (on compensation)," Durack said.

Base salaries range from $21,300 for the recreation supervisor, to $28,900 for the superintendent of parks and recreation. Several earn $23,000-$25,000. A few are in the $30,000 range.

Firefighters, under terms of a recently-negotiated contract, are earning 7 percent more this year. The pact calls for increases of 6 percent in the second and third years of the contract.

Negotiations are unsettled for the police patrol and command officers' unions.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT accounts for 20 of the top 30 earners among township employees, according to the survey.

For example, the base salary of a firefighter is $24,469. Several firefighters have garnered substantial amounts of overtime and holiday pay, placing their total 1982 earnings in the $34,000-$35,000 range, the study indicates.

The high figures are caused by minimum manning guidelines and vacancies in the department, Harry Harrison, secretary-treasurer of the firefighters' union, said.

Nine firefighters cover two stations each 24-hour shift, Harrison said.

One lieutenant was off several months recuperating from a heart attack, and others have retired. Men have been working overtime to replace those workers, Harrison added.

Other factors boosting total earnings are longevity pay, uniform and food allowances, Durack said.

Also earning approximately $34,000-$35,000 are two police lieutenants (base $26,442), and a fire department lieutenant and sergeant.

Others in the top 30 are the superintendent of the department of public works, the police and fire chiefs, the finance director, and the personnel director.

School radio station seeks outside funding

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Will Plymouth-Canton Community Schools give WSDP-FM one last chance to survive?

Station manager Andy Melin believes his newly-developed underwriting program "eventually" can generate enough money to keep WSDP on the air.

But no one knows if the high-school radio station can avoid the budget ax for one more year.

Melin's project, which started this month, focuses on raising contributions from individuals and businesses to support the public station (88.1 on the FM dial). In turn, WSDP offers "donor announcements," letting the listening audience know which business sponsors each program.

"We can't really bill (as in advertising) because it's based on contributions," Melin explained. "So we are going to have to stay in contact (with supporters)."

"I have a lot of faith in what the radio station can do for the businesses."

"The reason this program was developed," added Melin, "is because there is a need to generate funds outside the district to help support WSDP."

THE SCHOOL administration is probing various budget-cutting measures to handle a projected $3.5-million deficit. Recommendations will go to the board in mid-March.

Hotel arson suspect bound over for trial

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

A 34-year-old Livonia man will stand trial on murder, arson and assault charges stemming from the Jan. 5 fire at the Old Village Inn in Plymouth.

Gary Lee Cook was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court Thursday, following completion of a preliminary examination in 35th District Court.

Judge Dunbar Davis ordered Cook to be held without bond in the Wayne County Jail, pending a Feb. 3 circuit court arraignment.

Davis heard another day of testimony in the case Thursday, before rendering his decision to have Cook stand trial on the charges.

Cook is charged with deliberately setting fire to the Old Village Inn, 886 N. Mill, first degree murder of 61-year-old Clifford Bearden, who died in the fire; and assault with the intent to kill hotel resident Joe Thomas.

Trial set for hotel arson suspect

Court-appointed defense attorney Robert Delaney of Plymouth objected to the binding-over motion.

"I object to the binding over, but I'm not going to make any arguments," Delaney said.

"I didn't want to argue it and embarrass anyone at this point," Delaney said outside the courtroom.

THOMAS, 57, testified that he woke up and found his bed, floor and chair on fire after a visit with Cook the day of the fire.

Cook came to Thomas' room about 4 or 4:30 p.m., said Thomas, a five-year resident of the hotel.

Cook had "a bottle and sat down in my chair," Thomas said. Thomas observed Cook drinking from the bottle, but said Cook "wasn't drunk" and walked steadily.

The two talked for almost two hours before Thomas decided to go to bed.

"I told him, 'Gee, you know you're not even supposed to be on this property. If Eugene (LaBlanc, hotel owner) catches you here, you know what's going to happen,'" Thomas said.

Cook told him, "I'd like to see this place go down," Thomas said.

LaBlanc earlier testified Cook, a former resident of the hotel, had been asked to permanently leave the premises last April.

Thomas said he went to bed and woke up about 6:30 p.m. However, he later testified Cook left at 6:30 p.m.

In cross-examination, Thomas told Delaney he decided to take a nap at 6 p.m. and asked Cook to leave at that time.

"I didn't want him to get in trouble with Eugene," said Thomas. He then said he wasn't certain if Cook left.

"The whole foot of my bed was on fire when I woke up," Thomas said. "I couldn't get my wooden leg on."

Thomas crawled to the room across from his and that tenant carried him to safety.

DELANEY ASKED THOMAS if he had been drinking the day of the fire.

"I might have had a couple of drinks that day," Thomas replied.

Thomas said he had spent the morning with fire-victim Bearden.

Bearden hadn't been drinking the day of the fire, he said.

"He was the same old Cliff. He was no different than he was any time," he said.

A Wayne County Medical Examiner's report was entered as evidence by Assistant County Prosecutor Mike Gurskin. Delaney noted that the report said Bearden had a blood/alcohol content of .37 (10 is considered legally drunk in Michigan).

Michigan State Police laboratory scientist Jurgen Switalski testified about the findings of evidence from the fire which he processed.

By use of a chromatogram, Switalski said Bearden was able to determine a medium petroleum distillate was used to accelerate the fire.

A medium petroleum distillate would include such products as charcoal-lighters and paint thinners.

BREAK-IN REPORTS: Someone pried open a door and broke into a Hillary home Jan. 12.

According to a report, the burglar lifted the door out of its track and pried open the storm door. Reported stolen in the incident were $45 in cash, gold jewelry valued at $225 and an $80 radio.

A break-in was reported on South Lilley Jan. 12 in which the burglar kicked or forced open a door. The house was ransacked, according to the report. Items reported stolen were sterling silver flatware worth $1,000, a digital clock valued at $20, a 12-gauge shotgun worth $100, and a quantity of loose change.

An Edmonston resident reported a burglary Jan. 13, in which entry was gained through a sliding window. Among the stolen items were a $380 television, stereo equipment valued at $480 and an ON-TV converter at $50.

BRIEFCASE CAPER: It was a bad move for Mark Capaldi of New Hudson when he grabbed a briefcase from a car in the Center Stage parking lot Jan. 7.

The car was a marked police vehicle. The briefcase belonged to an officer investigating an unrelated larceny complaint.

According to reports, the 21-year-old Capaldi grabbed the briefcase and fled in his car. A witness noted the car license number. Capaldi was arrested an hour later by a Michigan State Police trooper, and reports indicate the briefcase was in Capaldi's car.

Capaldi originally was charged with breaking-and-entering a vehicle, a felony. Capaldi pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of larceny under $100 Jan. 13, and made restitution, according to reports.

Radio needs funds

WSPD's budget is $28,400 annually, according to Melin. The station will operate through the end of this school year, but its future — along with other programs and services — remains in limbo.

The goal of the underwriting program is to generate $12,000 by June, 1984 to cover the minimum operating expenses to keep the station on the air next school year, Melin said. He added that the school district should still pay his salary ($17,900 this year) because the station is part of the high school curriculum.

Melin admits he wants the district also to pay for part of the operating cost, but understands that money must come from outside sources.

"If they don't give me a cent — except for my salary — I'll be ready for it," said Melin, who signed an 11-month contract last September to head the station.

"I feel if the school district pays my salary, the underwriting program can generate the operating funds that the station needs — plus generate the needed capital to further develop the station."

"You give the program enough time to work — I'm convinced in my mind that the station can be self-supportive," he added.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES at the station this school year include expanded broadcasting hours, an easy-listening music format and more local newscasts, Melin said. The station's newscasts are about one-third local and two-thirds state and national news from a United Press International wire-service machine.

"We've done a good job developing local news," said the 1978 graduate from Plymouth Salem High School.

Roller skate for diabetes

Area skaters are invited to join the annual "Skate to Beat Diabetes" Sunday at the Skatin' Station in Canton.

Ten roller rinks in the tri-county area will participate in the fund-raiser at various times during the weekend. Hours for the Skatin' Station are 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

The annual event raises funds for the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate programs of research, education and summer camp for children with diabetes. The funding also supports statewide testing for diabetes each November, in cooperation with hospitals and health departments.

money for each mile skated (each hour skated counts as eight miles). Skaters also may obtain an admission sponsor to pay, in advance, the $3 entrance fee to the rink. Skate rental fee is $1.

The four grand prizes awarded to the top fund raisers will be Atari 2600 video games. The other top fund raisers at each rink will receive a pair of roller skates and a radio.

Entry forms are available at participating roller rinks, or may be obtained by calling the American Diabetes Association at 553-0480.

The Skatin' Station is on Ronda off Joy Road, west of Haggerty, in Canton. In case of a blizzard, the skate-a-thon will be rescheduled for Sunday, Feb. 6.

Officials face deadline

Many local public office holders have an expensive deadline staring them in the face, according to Wayne County Clerk James Killeen.

"On Jan. 31 campaign finance statements and office holder expense account reports are due," said Killeen, estimating that only 20 percent of elected officials have filed them so far. Killeen's office is on the second floor of the City-County Building in Detroit.

The law applies to county commissioners, mayors and city council members, township board members and education board members, he said.

"Also, all 1982 unsuccessful primary candidates must file their campaign statements," he said. "Failure to file in a timely fashion can result in a fine of $10 for every working day it's late."

State legislators must file their reports with the secretary of state in Lansing. Members of Congress file under federal statutes.

X-RAYED DENTISTRY

The x-ray in dentistry has nothing to do with x-ray movies. The picture the dentist takes with his x-ray machine is one of the most essential tools he has in treating dental problems. It is always used with the greatest concern for your safety. In fact, the exposure takes less than a second and is less than you receive from everyday living from the rays of the sun or from natural radiation in rocks and other materials.

It's the x-ray picture that reveals hidden cavities or early signs of gum disease. It can also save a life by detecting certain kinds of oral cancer in its early stages, when it's curable.

Without his x-ray machine, the dentist would not be able to spot a cavity that may be lurking under an old filling. Unnoticed, it may destroy the pulp of the tooth, causing severe pain. By then it might be too late to save the tooth.

The x-ray is a super sleuth. It can apprehend abscessed teeth and other culprits, such as extra teeth, crooked roots, and broken root tips or damaged bone structure.

Judge asked to reconsider

District Court Judge Dunbar Davis is being asked to reconsider his decision in the assault and battery case against a Central Middle School teacher.

Scott Kurtz, 30, of Wayne was found guilty of the charges last December. Davis fined Kurtz $135 and postponed execution of the sentence until this month.

"We filed a motion for reconsideration," said Charles Bokus, Kurtz' attorney. Bokus disagrees with the judge's reasoning for the verdict.

On Feb. 4 Davis will reconsider the verdict, which was based on the question of supervision of the student Kurtz physically disciplined last fall.

"He does not deserve to be found guilty," said Bokus.

"We supplied the court with some things it should look at, and highlighted some testimony," he said. "It is the job of the prosecution to prove the issue of supervision," Bokus said.

Meanwhile, a second session of tenure hearing testimony was taken Thursday by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education. The school board has charged Kurtz with using capricious and impulsive action against the student.

THE TENURE hearing testimony is expected to be completed at a Jan. 31 session.

Superintendent Dr. John Hoban expects the board to make a decision on the charges shortly after the testimony is completed.

Depositor Protection Accounts

Depositor protection accounts are represented by the sum of the capital, debt and reserves of the company which are all subordinate to depositors claims and therefore provide a measure of financial strength and security.
Michigan National Corporation continues to maintain a very strong position in this measure of financial strength relative to that of many competing financial institutions which have allowed this important ratio to deteriorate to as low as 3 to 5 percent of total assets. At December 31, 1982 Michigan National's depositor protection accounts, which are summarized to the right, represented 7.2 percent of total assets.
Total common shareholders' equity	$335,730,000
Redeemable preferred stock	10,000,000
Long-term debt of parent company invested in capital of subsidiary banks	56,361,000

Deferred tax and valuation portion components of the reserve for possible loan losses	53,425,000
Total Depositor Protection Accounts	$468,101,000

An unexpected switch

Schoolcraft College went 'student hunting' in '72

(Part XXXVII)
In March 1972 Schoolcraft College president Dr. C. Nelson Grote told the press that additional classroom space at the college was a "dire need."
He said the institution anticipated an 8 percent increase in enrollment in the following year to 6,000 students on a campus built to accommodate 5,000.
An addition to the vocational-technical building was to be completed in 1973, but classroom space was needed by August 1972. When the millage lost in September 1971, the administration and trustees had not been able to plan additional permanent facilities with the limited money in the college's dwindling building and site fund.
In May it was announced that a satellite campus was being considered, with the former Plymouth High School, a Clarenceville junior high, or a Garden City elementary school as possible locations.
But by November the situation had changed.
Instead of talking about the college's past and present

growing pains, Grote informed the press that he was "student hunting." On Nov. 2, 1972, he told Robert S. Wisler of the Detroit News that the college was in a financial crunch brought on by a decline of 7 percent in student enrollment and a drop of 8 percent in the average number of credit hours taken by students compared with budget estimates.
This decline in enrollment was in sharp contrast to the situation a year earlier when it was announced that Schoolcraft had grown to be the 8th largest of the state's 29 community colleges and that its 6,071 student enrollment was triple that of the 2,081 admitted to the college seven years earlier.
ON THE ONE HAND, revenues were down and on the other it was difficult to cut costs.
Because of the reduced enrollment and fewer credit hours, the college would get about $380,000 less than anticipated in tuition and state aid.
Our salaries account for 85 percent of the budget," said Grote. "We can't trim staff on other fixed costs since they are set up at the beginning of the school year."
Grote told the News that he had appointed a 10-man task force, headed by vice president Edward McNally, to address the problem of attracting at least 200 additional student during the school year. He said one of the approaches being considered was a to advertise in newspapers, radio and television. "Colleges and universities have usually considered such things as advertising as being a little commercial," he said.
During this period, when the college was having budget and enrollment problems, it lost one of its best-known department heads and a key administrator. In September 1971 Wayne Dunlap, who had joined Schoolcraft as head of the music department in 1964, left to the similar position at Grand Valley State College west of Grand Rapids.
Dunlap, who had been conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra for 20 years, had started Schoolcraft's summer music program which included a series of outdoor chamber concerts. He also had been instrumental in persuading the Ford Foundation to give funds to the college to maintain a composer-in-residence.
The administrator was Norman E. Dunn. In May, Dunn announced that he was retiring as registrar effective June 30. Dunn, who was 62, had been registrar since 1963. He was one of the small cadre of administrators who had got the college off to a good start during its formative years.
DURING THE FIRST half of 1972 Schoolcraft established, with Wayne County Community College, a curriculum for child care workers.
April brought Governor William G. Milliken to the campus as speaker at the 7th annual commencement exercises.
May saw ground-breaking for a $1.1 million addition to the Applied Sciences building. And in June Schoolcraft started, through the Federal Manpower Training Act, a training program for Detroit House of Correction prisoners.
There were several announcements in November.
Citizens who resided in the college district lost their status as preferential students in class registrations as a result of state legislative action.
The college, with the Institute of Gerontology of the University of Michigan, published a report on the needs of senior citizens in the college district.
And 28 evening credit classes were begun during the winter semester in Garden City where the college also opened a permanent office to serve the southern area of the district.
During the same month, a statewide agreement, believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, was reached between community colleges and universities in Michigan. Under the agreement, community college graduates would be able to transfer to four-year colleges without losing general education credits.
At about the same time, Schoolcraft college trustees awarded $173,550 in contracts for the construction of an additional to the liberal arts building.
Near the end of 1972 (in December) Dr. Robert Geake, who had just been elected to a seat in the state legislature, announced his resignation from the board of trustees on which he had served since 1968, and which he had chaired for the preceding 14 months.

Piechura remembers news career highlights

Before I go there are a lot of people I'd like to thank and a few I'd like to boo.
Jan. 14 was my last day in more than eight years working for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. I'll still be writing, but it'll be for another company in another department. Advertising — working as a copywriter for the W.B. Doner Co. of Southfield — beckons. I know advertising is something I swore I'd never stoop to, but it was so much older than I, I'm younger than that now.
Because I always swore advertising was just a way of getting people to buy things they don't need for reasons they shouldn't succumb to, I'm finding my fair share of ribbing and ridicule from co-workers. They're a clever bunch.
CALLING ME Darren Stevens and asking if I'll be working for Larry like the bimbo on the old "Bewitched" TV series. Actually, I'm kinda hoping the job will be more like "The Dick Van Dyke Show." You know, where they paid Rob Petrie to sit around the office and swap jokes with Buddy and Rose Marie and make fun of Mel's bald head.
Besides, the job sounds like a lot of fun — even more enjoyable than covering a sanitary sewer special assessment district public hearing at city hall. No longer will I write the word "easement" or "ingress and egress."
I'll be selling copy Colt 45 Malt Liquor and the like. Hey, I buy beer, and no longer believe the government will provide it to the huddled masses, so I'll help the private sector get the word out.
I leave this company and journalism with many indelible images in my mind.

Craig Piechura

of losing his house but not his dream despite the big brush-off.
Then there was the woman who wrote a new national anthem to the tune of "America the Beautiful." Her song was "Oh, Beautiful America." She wrote the anthem to tell the world how good America made her feel — "like peach cobbler with vanilla ice cream on top."
The retired doctor recovering from a debilitating stroke who became the inventor of a better septic tank system with the motto "Scum is the culprit!"
THERE WERE the weird-but-true stories like the avowed witch from Canton Township found guilty of bilking a Belleville believer out of a house trailer. Sick racoons dramatically dying in droves on doorsteps a la Jimmy Cagney because they got distemper from the family dog.
Mysterious bundles of money under motel beds claimed by a couple of people, including the tourist from Kansas who said he picked the accommodations because the motel was close enough to Greenfield Village and far enough from the city of Detroit.
I won't forget the former Southfield police sergeant who said job stress caused him to blindfold a prisoner in Northland shopping center, lead him to a stall in the john, tell the guy his time was up, and then pop a paper bag next to the man's ear for comic relief.
Or, the Redford deputy police chief, now chief, who was relieved of duty pending a drawn-out, hush-hush internal investigation over some unnamed "conduct unbecoming of a police officer." Ended up that the guy was accused of taking coins from the office coffee all. Was it worth all the ink we spilled over the affair in the newspaper or "grounds for dismissal" as the headline punned? I think not, but still very interesting.
This is the last time in a long while you're going to read how much this reporter hates to write about himself as he does it for the umpteenth time. I say bye-bye to those I've written about, those I've written for, and all the people with whom I've written and worked. If that last sentence sounds a bit awkward it's because it's grammatically correct. That's another benefit of the new job. Nobody's going to make me write that Winston tastes well as a cigarette should. Reporters, put that in your easement and smoke it. Lest I digress, I'm headed for the agency.

Are We Printing a Paper in Poland!?

No, our staff photographer, Art Emanuele, had a little fun on his vacation and handed a paper to cab driver in downtown Warsaw.

We've always left the national and international newsgathering to the metropolitan papers and weekly news magazines and delivered good solid coverage of what's happening where you live. We give you sports, club activities, civic situations and neighborhood news in depth so that you know each week just what's happening in your hometown. We print local advertising so that you are able to save by shopping close to home.

So thanks for the Polish joke, Art, but we know where our newspapers belong.

Commission lashes Lucas on jail 'crisis'

By Tim Richard
staff writer

County Executive William Lucas had to be satisfied with one-third of a loaf and a sharp warning. Asking the County Commission for $158,000 for three months of extra jail staffing, Lucas on Thursday was voted $56,000 for one month and given a bawling out because he failed to suggest where the money might be found.

"To add, you must subtract," said Commissioner Richard Manning, D-Redford.

The vote was 12-0, with three abstentions, for Lucas's request for 15 police officers to staff the fourth floor of the jail annex in Westland for the month of February.

Abstaining were Manning; Kay Beard, D-Inkster, and Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit. Among supporters were Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, and Milton Mack, D-Wayne.

THE COMPROMISE of a one-month extension was proposed by Dumas, who warned:

"The county executive and sheriff (Loren Pittman) have an obligation to give us a source of funds. Meanwhile, this gives the jail funds and does not devastate the budget."

Lucas forwarded to the board Pittman's letter saying current funding for the 15 officers would run out Jan. 31 and saying they would be needed for three more months because the jail population continues to top the 900 mark.

"In my opinion, the population will remain high for the next several months," added Pittman.

A Lucas staff member told commissioners that if they didn't approve the funding, existing staff would be put on overtime at an even higher cost.

Freshman Commissioner Mack, who has emerged as a strong Lucas supporter, said, "We are facing an immediate crisis in the jail. We have to give the county executive a chance to undo the mess. We need these police officers at this time."

The crisis remarks angered Manning.

"IN MY 12 years on the board, I cannot recall a time when there was not a 'dire emergency,'" said Manning. "It is always an unforeseen emergency."

"As a result of these emergencies, we are now $20 million, $60 million or $150 million in debt."

"Responsibility is clear in the charter that the executive figure out how we can get $56,000 from someplace," said Manning. He declared the commission was violating state law and the charter by appropriating the funds without taking them from another line item in the budget.

"I can understand in the past the problem of getting consensus from three auditors or 27 commissioners," he said, referring to the three-member Board of Auditors which was replaced by the executive and to the old Board of Commissioners. "But not any more."

ADDED EDWARD Plawewski Jr., D-Dearborn Heights: "I am very disappointed the executive has put us in this position without giving us any funding source."

"I would be hesitant to take action not in conformance with the charter," said Beard, who joined Manning in abstaining. "I would favor a special meeting. The county executive merely calls for additional funding. We need to ask him to provide us with a source."

Samuel Turner, D-Detroit, who went along with the compromise, said, "The executive has two ways to go: Reduce expenditures or increase in revenue. I think we can give him 30 days."

LUCAS GOT a second bawling out, though not as extensive, when the board gave him 13-2 approval to spend $48,000 on professional services for a Lansing lobbyist.

Beard complained that although the budget adopted Dec. 1 allocates Lucas's office $622,000, the executive has yet to present a line-item budget on how he intends to spend it. Beard asked for an executive office budget "as soon as possible."

The lobbying money was supported by Beard, Dumas, Mack and Manning. Opposed were two suburban commissioners — John Hertel, D-Harper Woods, and Joseph Jurkiewicz, D-Taylor.

Commissioners are scheduled to meet Tuesday to take up Step 2 in Lucas's proposal to reorganize county departments. The charter, which went into full effect Jan. 1, gives the commission 90 days to approve or reject the executive's plans to reorganize the myriad of departments which previously reported to the old 27-member Board of Commissioners.

Szalay to close landfill on Feb. 11

After operating the landfill at Schoolcraft and Haggerty in Plymouth Township for 25 years, Joe Szalay has decided he has seen enough garbage and is going out of business Feb. 1.

Over the past quarter of a century he has served the people in Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Livonia and now is directing his customers to a new site at Six Mile Road and Napier.

He plans to remain at his building but will limit his business to snow removal.

He opened the dump business when he was discharged from the Army. He had served in a special branch in Bavaria. He likes to recall that he started with one small truck and now boasts nine.

"I live in Salem Township, and this has been my main source of income. But I now have sold 10 acres and will take it easy."

MAKE A DATE WITH GOOD NUTRITION

One of the best ways to a healthier, happier family is to make everyday dishes prettier and tastier by adding ingredients that make them more nutritious.

Fresh California dates are an exciting way to accomplish just that. They are the highest of all fresh fruits in potassium, iron and niacin. They also contain protein, calcium, phosphorus, thiamine, riboflavin and essential trace minerals. They are very low in sodium and fat, two items of concern to many people on special diets. Add to this the natural sugars which are available for conversion to quick energy and you have quite a package!

Contrary to popular belief, California dates are fresh fruit—not dried. A prune was once a plum, a raisin was once a grape, but a date has always been a date! They are picked fresh from the stately date palms, sized, graded and packaged and held in refrigerated storage. The date is a very stable fruit and may be stored for many months without losing its wealth of food value.

Nutritionally speaking, we must have foods from all the basic four groups every day—meats, milk and dairy products, bread and grains, and fruits and vegetables. They're all represented in this collection of recipes and fresh California dates add an extra boost.

When you are yearning for a quick pick-up in the morning or during a busy day, try the "Quick Energy Pickup" instead of the coffee and roll routine. It'll help your figure and give you a lot more stamina.

Pork roast can be pretty ordinary, but when you take the few extra minutes to make date-currant glaze, everyone will be back for seconds. Pork provides body-building protein, iron and the B vitamins in abundance—thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, B<sub>6</sub> and B<sub>12</sub>.

Satisfy that urge for delicious hot breads and add super-nutrition, too. Orange juice, orange peel and dates make muffins a treat to be remembered.

California compote is an "anytime" sort of dish. It's wonderful served at any meal and a perfect way to showcase fresh fruits in season.

To satisfy that sweet-tooth, Date Lime Chiffon Pie is a smooth frothy dessert that you'll want to repeat frequently. The addition of Creme de Menthe gives an elusive and exquisite flavor.

When you're planning your meals around the basic four, just remember that it's somewhat like planning a wardrobe. You have to have the basics, but it's the accessories that make it interesting.

DATE LIME CHIFFON PIE

- 1 package lime gelatin
- 2 teaspoons Creme de Menthe
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1 cup fresh dates, finely chopped
- Baked pastry shell

Prepare gelatin according to directions. Chill until almost set. Stir in Creme de Menthe. Beat with electric mixer until gelatin will stand in soft peaks. Whip cream and fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in dates. Refrigerate until mixture will mound on a spoon. Spoon into baked pie shell and return to refrigerator for several hours or until firm. Garnish with date halves and a sprig of mint.

PORK LOIN ROAST WITH DATE GLAZE

This unusual glaze is equally good on any pork roast, but a rolled pork loin is elegant for guests and easy to carve.

- 1 boned and rolled pork loin
- 1 8 ounce jar red currant jelly
- 1 cup chopped dates
- 2 tablespoons wine vinegar
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Place pork loin in shallow roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer in center. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and roast in 325° oven uncovered for 1-1/2 hours. Prepare date-currant glaze. Remove meat from oven and baste generously with glaze. Return to the oven and continue roasting for 30 minutes, or until thermometer reaches 180°. Baste occasionally with additional glaze.

DATE CURRANT GLAZE

Heat currant jelly over low flame until it liquefies. Add remaining ingredients and cook 3 to 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Use as glaze for pork roast.

CALIFORNIA DATE ORANGE MUFFINS

- 2 cups sifted all purpose flour
- 3 teaspoons double acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup grated orange peel
- 1/4 cup melted shortening
- 1 cup chopped dates

Preheat oven to 425°. Grease twelve 2-1/2 inch muffin pans. Sift dry ingredients. Beat egg until frothy and add remaining ingredients. Make a well in flour mixture and add milk mixture all at once. Stir quickly—don't beat—until barely mixed. Fill muffin cups 2/3 full. Bake 25 minutes or until cake tester or toothpick comes out clean when inserted in center.

QUICK ENERGY PICK UP

- 1 egg
- 6 fresh dates, halved
- 1 cup orange juice

Put egg and dates in blender and process until almost smooth. Add orange juice and process until slightly frothy. Pour into glass and garnish with a strip of orange peel.

CALIFORNIA COMPOTE

- Fresh dates
- Orange sections
- Grapefruit sections
- Strawberries or raspberries in season

Arrange fruits in individual glasses or in a large compote. It is not only a beautiful dessert but can also be served as an appetizer. A sprinkling of Kirsch or Curacao adds elegance.

Greg Melikov

Stop fighting, make burgers

Today's Shopping Cart brings a new feature that will be found nowhere else in this space. "Pilot Light" is written by Greg Melikov, a newspaper copy editor in Miami, Fla. Melikov began doing the grocery shopping for his mother who was ill when he was 10 years old. He began cooking while in college and continued to cook and grocery shop after his marriage nearly 20 years ago because his wife didn't enjoy either task. Melikov will welcome your comments, suggestions and problems. Write him in care of this newspaper.

The Burger War has had an impact on the home front. My wife took two youngsters to lunch the other day and they wanted to go to McDonald's. All three had Big Macs.

That night, Anita observed, "I think the Big Mac is a little bigger since those TV ads."

"But the commercials belong to Burger King," I reminded her. "McDonald's burgers are supposed to be 20-percent smaller."

On the TV front, the prime contender in the Burger War has mounted an offensive that has me seeing stars. On the legal front, two of the Burger Empire struck back with counter attacks.

From the home front, my advice to all is simple: Make better burgers, not war.

I can't pinpoint the last time I tried to digest one of those fast-food sandwiches, but I recall having difficulty locating the tomato. Frankly, the tomato or onion or burger always looks 40-percent thicker on TV than in person.

I really don't care if Burger King's patties weigh more or taste better than McDonald's or Wendy's because Melikov's burgers are good enough for me.

That's why I didn't relish hearing the Burger King Story through Christmas every time I turned the TV dial.

I feel sorry for Wendy's because it doesn't figure to move up from No. 3 after the smoke clears. At least Burger King has the Whopper and McDonald's has the Big Mac. Wendy's has the Single - not your most alluring moniker.

Besides, I figure if God wanted us to eat square burgers He would have created square tomatoes and square onions.

McDonald's may be top dog, but if it

Buyers want convenience

Most consumers are paying more for their food these days, but many are doing so by choice, at least in part. For many shoppers are selecting convenience over economy, says the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Using convenience products, shopping at convenience stores and eating out cost the consumer more. Processed convenience foods make up 13 percent of supermarket sales and most of them cost more than if their basic ingredients were bought in the supermarket and prepared at home.

Rising incomes, increased education levels, more one-person households and more women in the work force are all factors contributing to the increasing demands for convenience in eating.

is all that serious about burgers, how come the spokesman is a clown named Ronald who doesn't have sense enough to get out of an elevator at the right floor?

I'm not overjoyed about Burger King's spokesperson. For sure, she shouldn't be teaching math to adults.

DEVILED PORK BURGERS
1 pound ground pork
1 large carrot, shredded
1 egg
2 tsp chili sauce
2 tsp Dijon mustard
1/2 tsp salt
1/2 tsp black pepper

Combine all ingredients, shape into 4 patties and refrigerate 45 minutes. Broil on rack in oven or fry in non-stick skillet until desired doneness but cook well. Serve on buns with desired trimmings.

MUSTARD BURGERS

1 tsp instant minced onion
1 tsp celery salt
1/2 tsp black pepper
3 tsp hot mustard sauce
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 tsp cooking oil

Combine meat and seasonings, then blend in mustard sauce and egg, shape into 4 patties and refrigerate 30 minutes. Fry in hot oil on medium heat until desired doneness. Serve on buns with desired trimmings.

BEF AND RICE VENETO
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 cans (8 oz. each) low sodium cocktail vegetable juice or tomato juice
3 medium tomatoes, peeled and chopped
2 tsp Italian seasoning
2 tsp sugar
2 tsp red wine vinegar
1/2 tsp black pepper
1/2 tsp Tabasco pepper sauce
Salt substitute to taste, optional
1 cup sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 1/2 tsp cornstarch
3 cups hot cooked rice

Cook beef, onion and garlic in a 4-quart Dutch oven until meat is no longer pink. Stir to crumble meat. Pour in vegetable juice. Add tomato, onion, green pepper, salt substitute, Tabasco, and seasonings. Simmer 15 minutes. Stir in mushrooms and rice. Cook 5 minutes. Not recommended for diabetics.

No-salt food can still have flavor

People talk about using less salt, but nothing causes them to act quite as quickly as when the doctor issues his ultimatum to stop procrastinating and do it.

Actually, the experience isn't as bad as so many imagine. Out of the low-sodium diet experimenting can come some very appealing new taste treats from the kitchen - enough to impress even the most cynical.

Two examples: a ground beef stew and an herb chicken with orange - both low-sodium recipes, both tasty as a result of such ingredients as wine, herbs, fruits and vegetables. Carefully blended, they provide flavor without the traditional salt.

The most important feature of both recipes, however, is that they're served over rice. Uncooked rice contains only 2 to 9 milligrams of sodium per serving. (The sodium content of the water in which the rice is cooked can add additional sodium, since rice does absorb water as it cooks.)

ORANGE HERBED CHICKEN AND RICE
12 choice chicken pieces (3 to 3 1/2 pounds)
1 1/2 cups orange juice
1/4 cup dry white wine
2 tsp oregano leaves
1/2 tsp garlic powder
1/2 tsp sage leaves, crumbled
1/2 tsp rosemary leaves, crumbled
1/2 tsp thyme leaves
1/2 tsp ground black pepper
Paprika
1/4 cup orange marmalade
1 tsp cornstarch
3 cups hot cooked rice

Place chicken in 13x9-inch baking dish, skin side down. Combine juice, wine and seasonings. Pour over chicken. Sprinkle with paprika. Cover and bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Turn chicken; sprinkle with paprika. Bake, uncovered, 30 to 40 minutes longer, or until chicken is tender. Pour pan juices into saucepan; skim fat. Add marmalade and cornstarch dissolved in 2 tsp water; cook, stirring, until sauce is clear and thickened. Serve chicken and sauce over beds of fluffy rice. Garnish with orange slices, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

A ceremony for royalty

When the sun tolled the day and the dawn broke on Tonquish Plain, the elders said it was a good omen for their new chief.

Now it is early December 1819 and long past the time when the winter hunt should begin. But today Toga's clan, with some friendly Indians from neighboring clans, a number of cross-cousins from Cass County and Walpole Island, and a few invited white guests from the trading post will celebrate the installation of Telonga, their new chief.

IT IS EARLY dawn and three young Tonquish braves are wrestling with a huge snake near the base of Plymouth Mound.

The braves are dressed in colorful, ceremonial garb including elaborate head feathers, silver earrings, leggings tinkling with a hundred tin bells. On their feet are jeweled moccasins ornamented with beads, tufts of deer's hair, and porcupine quills.

The rock snake is to be in two pieces. One is a fire pot. The larger piece, the pot's base, is a solid rock of hammered stone. Intricately carved around its perimeter is a winding snake — symbol of life and power. In the background is a large sun and a number of stars. Scattered among the stars are symbols of fertility and faith.

The favorite symbol of the Potowatomi is the decorated fire-pot itself. It will hold what they believe to be the immortal fire of the Gods. It has been said that the word Potowatomi means "keepers of the fire." Nowhere in their nation, so it was believed, does the fire ever die out. This is their sacred altar, shrouded in the mystery of Plymouth Mound.

At nearby Tonquish Creek the braves find their Indian pony. They tie him with a makeshift halter and bring him to the stone. With his help they are able to load it on a flatbed sledge which the pony drags to the top of the Mound.

While the young braves are struggling with this project, the squaws are cooking the meat which the hunting braves had killed. All week long the older hunters have searched for game. They brought fresh salmon from the river near Ft. Detroit, and their arrows found plenty of venison and buffalo meat, many squirrels and other small game. The old hunters now are resting while the squaws prepare the feast.

THE WOMEN HAVE worked half the night at the task.

Helen Gilbert

They have filled three large brass kettles and several iron ones with their good cooking. But, like housewives everywhere, they are worrying if they have enough.

Their menu consists of boiled jerky, fish, baked salmon, stewed, spiced squirrel, roasted venison, and roast buffalo meat. In one large pot they have green corn, some of it cut from the cob, mixed with beans into a kind of succotash. And there are dozens of baked squashes and fresh roasted pumpkins.

The squaws are bustling about in their party finery, disregarding the possibility of damage or stain. Their colorful calico shirts extend about six inches below the waist and are fastened at the bosom with silver brooches. They are wrapped on a full skirt held by an ornate girdle. Their leggings are Indian stockings sewed to fit the leg perfectly, and their moccasins are elaborately ornamented with beaded ribbons and porcupine quills.

Each squaw's basic costume is about the same — the difference is in the ornamentation. All the young, and the middle-aged women too, are passionately fond of ornaments. Their silver brooches are status symbols, and among the leading elder's wives were many silver bracelets and elaborate earrings. All wore fancy borders on the bottom of their skirts and these were edged with beads of various colors. Most of them displayed tinkling ornaments made from tufts of deer's hair, dyed red, and placed in small pieces of the pony drags to the top of the Mound.

While the young braves are struggling with this project, the squaws are cooking the meat which the hunting braves had killed. All week long the older hunters have searched for game. They brought fresh salmon from the river near Ft. Detroit, and their arrows found plenty of venison and buffalo meat, many squirrels and other small game. The old hunters now are resting while the squaws prepare the feast.

MOST OF THE bread was made with cornmeal in the usual way, but today they also are baking a special bread made of green corn.

The green corn has been cut from the cob, and pounded in a mortar until it's as thick as whipped cream. Lightly salted, they have poured it onto some corn leaves in a long oblong mold. It is baking in the ashes of the fire — a gourmet's delight.

Dinner will be served in wooden bowls or on wooden slabs, according to the guest's preference and their availability. Each guest will use his own knife to cut the meat which he will hold in his fingers. There are a few pewter spoons which the hostesses will give to the party of chiefs and elders. In their structured society the honored guests will sit directly in front of the fire altar which is on a high mound in the center of this natural Plymouth amphitheater. The squaws know that some guests will have their own spoons. They also have provided small wooden spoons for the children. Before dawn they brought several kegs of rum and one large barrel of whiskey which they have taken great pains to conceal from their guests until after the feast.

LOOKING AROUND the assembly hall we can see several Ottawa wrapped in their gaudy blankets. Under the pine is a group of half-naked Ojibwa with their brightly-painted-to-the-drum which is softly signalling the beginning of the feast.

In spite of the varied costumes, all these people know they are Algonkian. They understand each other's dialect and read the same totem. They share the same traditions; worship the same Great Spirit. Among the Potowatomi are many cross-cousins who have never denied their kinship to the others. The researcher finds many interesting affiliations, but they are difficult to trace. For example, these proud half-naked Ojibwa call themselves "Anishinabe" which roughly translated means "first man" or "original man." Perhaps they were the first of their kind! The "Pots" call them Ojibwa. The French at the Fort called them Chippewa.

The Ojibwa were camped along the river north of the Fort since time immemorial. Independent, proud, very tall, different looking — a race apart. They were not easily approached, even by the white missionaries. Somehow they have the look of eagles. It is as though they remember a long flight — another time — another world. And it is a fact that the Ojibwa had a different way of measuring time and space.

A Riverworld dweller (Nancy Tucker of Ann Arbor) attends a masquerade ball at a previous science fiction gathering.

Mugatu (Tom Dows of Plymouth) attends an earlier science fiction convention at the Plymouth Hilton.

Science fiction confab is slated at the Hilton

Science fiction and fantasy enthusiasts of all persuasions will be filling up the halls of the Plymouth Hilton Inn for ConFusion 101 — a major regional science fiction convention.

The convention will be held Friday through Sunday at the Hilton, 14707 Northville Road at 5 Mile.

The convention, sponsored annually by the Ann Arbor Science Fiction Association Inc., in cooperation with the University of Michigan science fiction club (the Stilyagi Air Corps), will feature a variety of activities ranging from serious panel discussions and seminars to a masquerade ball and a snow creature contest.

About 700 persons from all over the U.S. and southeastern Canada are expected to attend the conference. C.J. Cherry, author of the 1982 Hugo award-winning novel, "Downbelow Station," will be the convention's special guest.

Ann Arbor writer Ted Reynolds, whose short fiction frequently appears in magazines such as Isaac Asimov's Science Fiction Magazine, will serve as toastmaster.

A number of other well-known science fiction writers will attend.

AMONG THE activities and events featured at ConFusion 101 will be a performance by Ann Arbor musician Mike Gould and the Gene Poof Band. Other events include a science fiction art show and auction, science fiction and fantasy movie showings, a book dealers' room, the premiere of several new tapes by Ann Arbor video artist Larry Tucker of Tucker Video, a computer room, and contests for the best knowledge of science fiction trivia, best snow creature (weather permitting) and best short-short science fiction story.

A highlight of the weekend will be the Saturday night masquerade ball. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes based on ingenuity, ability to remain in character through an evening of dancing and partying, and other criteria.

Launching party for club is planned for Feb. 15 at Jamie's on 7, 29703 Seven Mile Road, Livonia. There'll be cocktails at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7.

Congratulations to Lou Mair, Joann Doyle and Gene Kafila for their part in organizing this newest of service clubs in the community.

INSPIRED BY the educational programs at the Plymouth Historical Museum, the Ypsilanti public schools have a new project under way.

Dr. Judy White, director of instruction for the Ypsilanti public schools, said they are planning to have a children's hands-on museum in the old Towne House. The house was built in 1837 and the museum will be developed following the lines of Great-Grandmother's Attic and other educational programs instituted by Marge Mitchell at the Plymouth museum.

Teachers in the Ypsilanti schools visited the museum under a special grant and were enthusiastic about the program.

Marge and Betty Childs recently had 64 Arabic-speaking children from Dearborn at the museum. Marge said that it was interesting trying to compare the two civilizations — one so very old, and this country so new by comparison.

LINDY THOMPSON of Plymouth and On the Money, her 6-year-old gray gelding, were awarded the American Quarter Horse Association youth champion title.

Word from the association in Amarillo, Texas, announced the new champion. The award-winning team compiled 18 halter and 448 performance class points in five competitions. In order to be named AQHA youth champion, the team must have won a total of 35 points during official show competition.

The points must be won in five or more shows or contests under five or more different judges.

The AQHA is the world's largest equine breeder association with more than 130,000 members. Lindy lives on North Territorial Road. She is the daughter of Jan and Richard Thompson.

IT WILL BE music in the big-band style Feb. 6 at the Plymouth Hilton Inn. These first-Sunday-of-the-month dances attract the nostalgia-minded as well as a younger crowd.

At Townsend and his Ambassadors, a 17-piece band, play music from the '40s to the '80s. Doug Kerr of Plymouth is the vocalist. The party begins at 7 p.m. and lasts until 10:30. Admission is $6, and there is a cash bar. Tickets may be ordered in advance by calling 459-2061, or purchased at the door.

THE VETERAN Motor Car Club of America publishes a quarterly magazine called Bulb Horn, and the July-September issue is of local interest. On the cover, in full color, is a picture of Fred Faust's Model 136 Packard touring car. The beautiful photograph is the work of Robert Webber of Plymouth, who took the picture in front of the old church in Northville's Mill Race Village.

Lead story in the magazine was written by Fred and tells how he restored the 1924 Packard. The five-page article includes 12 black-and-white shots of the interior and exterior of the car, also taken by Bob.

The latter will have a display of photographs at the Feb. 6 Plymouth Symphony Orchestra concert at Plymouth Salem High School. The show will include more than 100 color and black-and-white photographs of such subjects as Brazil, national parks, New York's 1964 World's Fair, Canadian Rockies, Expo '67 in Montreal, Detroit, Mexico City, Toronto, roses and others.

Bob has a variety of slide shows suitable for clubs, fund-raisers or other occasions.

Candidates for scholarship

Applications are coming in to the Woman's Club of Plymouth from candidates for its 90th anniversary scholarship. The scholarship will be presented at a ball March 11 in the Mayflower Meeting House. The gala event will honor outstanding senior high school women at a banquet and dance. Among the candidates are Jill Wheaton (left) and Lynne Gamache. Wheaton, a senior at Plymouth Canton High School, is the daughter of Robert and Sandra Wheaton of Plymouth. She is president of the student council and a member of the National Honor Society.

She hopes to attend the University of Michigan and plans a career in law. Gamache, Plymouth Salem High School senior, is the daughter of Thomas and Suzanne Gamache of Canton Township. She is secretary of her class and a National Honor Society member. She was a member of the varsity softball team. She will attend General Motors Institute with a degree in engineering as her goal. The Woman's Club will accept applications through Feb. 15. For information call the club president, Linda Pawling, 420-2094, or K.C. Mueller, 455-0075.

Forum series focuses on aging parents.

"You and Your Aging Parents" will be explored in four open forums arranged by the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College.

People are living longer and society is confronted with new challenges in family relationships. The series is planned to help families deal with these concerns and present suggestions along with possible solutions.

All forums will be from 7-9 p.m. on Wednesdays in Room B400, Liberal Arts Building on the Schoolcraft Campus. There is no fee, but interested people are requested to make telephone reservations for each session. Call the resource center, 591-6400, Ext. 430.

SERIES BEGINS Feb. 16 with "The New Generation Gap." The forum will address the subject of adult children faced with aging parents who need increasing support to remain independent. The psychological and physical changes and needs of the elderly, as well as some of those of the adult children, will be explored.

"Adult Day Care Centers and Other Alternatives" on Feb. 23 will introduce some options for dealing with parents who can no longer remain independent. Day care centers, adult foster homes and residential facilities will be discussed.

"When Love is not enough" on March 2, will help caring relatives to recognize when full-time nursing care is necessary. Learning how to judge nursing homes and how to choose one will be the focus of this forum.

"Mutual Emotional Support" on March 9, is designed to help those who have found it necessary to put a loved one in a nursing home.

AARP helps seniors file tax returns

Senior citizens are invited to take advantage of the free tax counseling service provided by the Plymouth, Northville chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons. The program is aimed at helping those over 60.

But younger people will not be turned away," says Mildred Kinney, a member of the tax assistance team.

Tax forms will be completed at no cost. People are reminded to bring last year's tax return with them.

In some cases, where the return is unusually complicated, the person will be referred to the nearest IRS office," Kinney said.

As a homeowner you may qualify for a MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK EQUI-LOAN

WHAT IS AN EQUI-LOAN?
An Equi-Loan is a second mortgage secured by the equity in your home. By using your home equity, you can borrow $3,000 or more with liberal repayment terms at simple interest rates. An Equi-Loan is not a remortgage, but a second mortgage; it will therefore not alter your present mortgage or its rate.

The amount of equity in your home, by the way, is the difference between its appraised value and your first mortgage (if any). This equity provides the basis for borrowing a large amount of money at established simple interest rates with the maximum amount of the loan being determined by the size of your equity.

WITH A SIMPLE INTEREST EQUI-LOAN YOU HAVE THE OPTION OF SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCING THE AMOUNT OF INTEREST YOU PAY.

The earlier you pay back a simple interest loan, the less you'll pay in interest charges. So every time you make an early payment, or an additional payment, you are actually reducing the amount of interest you pay for your loan.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE OF THE AMOUNT YOU CAN EXPECT TO BORROW.

Each mortgage is different and subject to credit approval, however, we are flexible in our lending policy. In general, you can expect that the total of your first and second mortgage will amount to 70% of our valuation of your home. For Example:

Appraised Value	$50,000
1st Mortgage	$35,000
Total Loan Value	$35,000
Available for 2nd Mortgage	$125,000

HERE'S HOW TO APPLY FOR AN EQUI-LOAN.

The procedure is much the same as it is for a personal loan. Simply take this ad to the installment loan department at Michigan National Bank West Metro. Or you can phone us at 421-4990 and discuss your plans with a trained loan executive. An appointment can be made if you like.

Fact sheet explains Reye's syndrome

Reye's syndrome is a rare, acute condition that can be fatal. The Food and Drug Administration reports that some studies show an association between children under the age of 16 taking aspirin for viral conditions, such as influenza and chicken pox, and their developing Reye's syndrome.

So if your children should come down with flu or chicken pox, don't give them aspirin or aspirin containing products unless you have first checked with your doctor.

To help parents know what Reye's (pronounced "rise") syndrome is, what the symptoms are, and what emergency treatment may be necessary, the FDA has a factsheet called "Reye Syndrome." For your free copy write to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 509L, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Reye's syndrome involves swelling of the brain, liver malfunction, and blood chemistry disorders. Symptoms include sudden vomiting, violent headaches, and unusual behavior in children who appear to be recovering from an often mild viral illness. The child may be sleepy and lethargic, but still responsive. Within half a day, the child can become disoriented, comatose and delirious. If untreated, the child can go into a coma and die. If these symptoms are present, take your child for immediate diagnosis.

ADMISSION TO A hospital is required so emergency care can be provided. In the hospital the child can receive blood, and body fluids can be monitored and corrected; a respirator is available if breathing is failing, and if necessary surgery can be performed to relieve pressure on the brain.

In treating Reye's syndrome, the usual hospital stay is three to 10 days. The patient must be closely watched and will likely be in an intensive care unit. The patient is considered out of danger when blood chemistry, respiration, and other signs have been stable for 48 hours.

Because Reye's syndrome is connected with viral illnesses, parents should be most on guard during the flu season, October through March. For other childhood illnesses, your doctor is the best person to decide when medication is needed. If you have any other questions about Reye's syndrome, send for this free booklet and/or check with your child's doctor.

When you order "Reye Syndrome" (free) you'll also receive a free copy of the "Consumer Information Catalog." Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the free catalog lists over 200 selected free and moderate cost federal government consumer booklets.

Wine facts

Wine has been interwoven in all the known civilizations of the world. Here are some facts about it you might not know:

● No one knows who the first winemakers were. Wine's origins have been traced to the days of the early Egyptians.

● Poets have sung the praises of wine. Omar Khayyam immortalized the drink in his verse "A Jug of Wine, a Loaf of Bread, and Thou." Homer, Pliny and Shakespeare all wrote of the friendliness of wine.

● The Bible makes many references to wine and it has come down through the ages as part of religious celebrations such as the Roman Catholic mass, Jewish ceremonies and some Protestant Communion services.

Jamie Riegal of Canton strains but can't avoid getting pinned by Salem's Rick Vershave in the 100-pound match Thursday. Referee Dale Collier gets a good look at the action.

Rocks rule Canton matmen

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

What was billed as a cross-town showdown for league supremacy fizzled. A better description would be no-show instead of showdown, what with the injuries and illnesses sidelining many of the best Canton and Salem wrestlers in Thursday's dual meet.

How much of a difference would it have made? Salem still may have won, but perhaps not by such an outlandish margin, 47-16, at Salem.

"I was not pleased that we had people out and (Canton coach Dan Chrenko) had people out," said Salem coach Ron Krueger. "Now people might say we won because they had all their kids out."

"I'd rather have had us both at our best and at full-strength."

SALEM, OF COURSE, will gladly take the victory, which makes the Rocks the only unbeaten team in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) at 6-0. Canton is 5-1 in dual meets.

Canton's troubles actually began Saturday, when five wrestlers — Tim Collins, Todd Bartlett, Todd Gattoni, Jamie Riegal and John Allmand — were involved in an auto accident before the North Farmington Invitational.

Canton wins 2nd straight; Salem spoils Central bid

Well, this is more like it. After a week in which Plymouth Canton's basketball team suffered a pair of setbacks that set it back further in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Western Division standings, the Chiefs got things rolling their way with a pair of victories.

Canton capped its week with another impressive (if one-sided) victory, topping hapless Walled Lake Western, 54-39.

The win followed a 67-55 Chiefs triumph at Farmington Harrison last Tuesday. Even though Harrison and Western are among the WLAA's weakest squads, the victories were important for Canton for several reasons.

FIRST, BOTH came against Western Division foes. Second, it kept the Chiefs (3-4 in the WLAA) within striking distance of second-place Northville (4-3) and Livonia Churchill (6-1), the Western Division front-runners.

And, what may be even more important, it was the first time all season that Canton was able to win two games consecutively.

Unlike the Harrison game, in which they had to rally in the second half to win, the Chiefs were in control all the way against Western.

"The kids played well," said Canton coach Dave

Van Wagoner. "They jumped out to a 10-0 lead. We had a lot of fast-break layups, that's the reason we shot so well. We rebounded and really ran the break."

What must have delighted Van Wagoner was Western's defense. "They played man-to-man and pressed us the whole game," the Chief coach said. "We haven't had trouble against the press all year."

THAT WAS EFFECTIVELY reflected in Canton's shooting percentage, as the Chiefs got easy shots off their break. They were 8-of-9 from the floor in the first quarter, six of eight in the second and six of nine in the third. For the game, they shot 70 percent.

Ron Rienas topped Canton with 17 points. Mark Bennett and Jim Schlicker had eight apiece, with Schlicker grabbing seven rebounds. Mike Jennings added six points and eight rebounds and Pat Mur-

Local icers top Swedes

A 3,000-mile road trip wasn't enough to throw the Plymouth-Canton Pee Wee "A" hockey club off its game.

The team, sponsored by Super 6 Akron Tire and coached by Bob Hodge and Tom Bryans, traveled to Stenungsund, Sweden, for 10 days and played in the Koppers Kup Special Tournament. While the team spread good will off the ice, on it the Pee Wees were terrors in rolling to the tournament championship.

The final game was a classic. Plymouth-Canton was an easy winner in its opener, beating Koppers IF No. 2, 8-1. George Arnold sparked the local Pee Wee squad in its second contest, blanking Demonerna, 4-0.

That placed Plymouth-Canton in the finals against Hisinger Vik. The Pee Wee team sped to a 3-1 lead, but Hisinger Vik fought back to tie it at the end of regulation time.

THE TEAMS played a pair of scoreless 2 1/2-minute sudden death periods, forcing a showdown shootout (teams take turns, with one player from each club taking a shot at the opposing goaltender until the tie is broken).

Plymouth-Canton won the coin toss and selected to shoot first. J.P. LaRoche drove to the Hisinger Vik net, faked right, then went left and tucked the puck into the net behind his Swedish opponent. Arnold took his chance in the net against the Hisinger Vik shooter and stopped him, lifting the Pee Wee team to a 4-3 triumph.

In its 10-day Swedish trip, the Plymouth-Canton team played five games, winning four. Its only loss came against a team of Pee Wee and Bantam All-Stars, which won by a 3-1 margin.

On the road again

Busy skating master keeps program moving

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

In 1978, Jim Milns tired of the ice skating show tour grind and left, opting to use his talents to teach. After a few stops on a teaching tour, he settled in Plymouth, agreeing to help build the community's skating program.

And, of course, to relax. After all, since he and partner Colleen O'Connor first won the national ice dancing championship in 1974, they had been on the go.

The pair defended their national title the next two years and won a World silver medal in 1975 and a World bronze in 1976 before capping their careers with a bronze medal in the 1976 Olympics.

FOLLOWING THAT came an amateur tour through Canada and parts of the United States at the end of 1976 and then Broadway and movies in 1977. They appeared in the CBS-TV film "Champions."

By that time, Milns recalled, "The only place I hadn't visited was the Far East."

Two years ago, Milns joined the Plymouth program. He has been living here ever since, the longest stint he's spent in one place since his college days at the University of Illinois more than a decade ago.

That is, if you can refer to his schedule as "living in one place."

In addition to running the skating program at the Plymouth Cultural Center, a full-time job, Milns spends two days a week at Bowling Green University in Ohio, where he is working on a master's degree in computer sciences.

That would fill just about every hour in anyone's schedule. But not Milns, with his busy background. In March, he goes on a weekend mini-tour across Canada. Appearing with him will be his partner, O'Connor, and other skating greats like Dorothy Hamill, Peggy Fleming and Robin Cousins.

"Everybody in it is basically a champion," he said.

MILNS CERTAINLY deserves his champion's rating — not only for skating, but for his ability in budgeting his time.

It isn't as if he's neglected his duties. The Plymouth skating program increased its gross revenues by 70 percent in Milns' first year, and it is still growing this year.

"Last year, we went after the competitive skaters in the area," Milns explained. "They were forced to go to other communities to fill their needs."

"We wanted to allow skaters to pursue the goals they wanted in skating, to make room for skaters to train here."

That objective is well on its way to completion, Milns said. There are "several skaters who have turned in very good competitive records — I can think of five or six right now in our program that could be nationally ranked (in the future)."

THERE ARE still several tasks ahead for the 34-year-old Milns. Improving the basic and intermediate programs are next on his agenda.

WLAA's best? Looks like unbeaten Salem

All suffered minor injuries and missed the North Farmington event. Collins and Ringel recovered sufficiently to compete against Salem, but Gattion, Bartlett and Allmand missed the Salem match.

With two top wrestlers sidelined, Canton found itself in a hole from the start, not an enviable position to be in against the Rocks. Salem took quick advantage, sweeping to a 2-0 lead by winning the first four matches on pins.

RICK VERSHAFF (100-pound weight class) nailed Riegal in 4:53 to get Salem started. Kevin Freeman, a freshman substituting for injured Salem regular Jeff Vojcek in the 107 class, pinned Gattion replacement Steve Broderick, another freshman, in 4:35.

The Rocks' Bill Hall (114) followed with a pin of Smith, who was in for Bartlett, in 54 and John Jeannotte (121) got Jim Parks, Allmand's sub, in 3:01.

Canton never did recoup. Collins (128) topped Steve Cryan, 2-2, for the Rocks' first points and Tom Frigge followed with a pin of Salem's Bob Hurst in 3:26.

The Rocks' John Beaudoin (140) halted the Canton surge by pinning Bob Parks in 2:55, but Larry Janiger (147) got the Chiefs some more points by blanking Jeff Davis, 12-0.

Salem's John Wochuk (157) and

wrestling

Canton's Marty Heaton battled to a 3-3 tie, and that was it for the Chiefs. Salem wrestlers won the final four matches to secure the triumph.

JOE WARD (169) topped Wain Young, 10-6. Harry Walkley (187) pinned Ernie Krumm in 1:33. Scott Corrunder (200) beat Don Page, 8-5; and Kevin Vanotter (heavyweight) edged Paul Fletcher, 1-0.

With five starters out at North Farmington, Canton predictably did poorly, finishing last in the 10-team tournament. Salem placed six wrestlers in the finals but didn't capitalize on enough of its chances to overtake Wayne Memorial, as the Rocks finished second.

Wayne tallied 163 points to finish first. Salem had 147, with Walled Lake Western third (111½), Milford fourth (83), West Bloomfield fifth (73), Southfield-Lathrup sixth (68½), Dearborn Heights Ann Arbor seventh (62), North Farmington eighth (49½), Farmington ninth (37½) and Canton 10th (28½).

Salem had two tournament champions. Beaudoin (140) was a winner on criteria in overtime over Chris Parent of Southfield-Lathrup, and Walkley (187), who pinned Milford's Eric Azzoli in 5:16.

SECURING SECONDS for Salem were Vanotter (heavyweight), who lost to Milford's Chris Sobbe, 11-2, in the finals; Vershave (100), who lost to Dave Davis of Wayne, 14-2; Vojcek (107), who dropped a narrow 8-7 decision to Wayne's T.J. Harris; and Wochuk, who fell 7-1 to West Bloomfield's Bob Petrillo.

Other Rock point scorers were Corrunder (200), who placed third, and Joe Ward (169) and John Jeannotte (121), who each finished fourth.

Salem has a tri-meet Tuesday at fourth-ranked Temperance-Bedford, with top-ranked Hazel Park also competing. Canton hosts Farmington Thursday while Salem travels to Northville.

Betty Kingsbury, meanwhile, scored her first 600 series on games of 184, 196 and 220. Frank Essa took over the lead in the Men's League with a closing 265 in 552 series. At Woodland Lanes, Mark Shenke was high man in the Wednesday loop with a 677, made possible by an opening game of 244.

In the Invitational Doubles at Merri-Bowl, Debbie Shirley was high with a 638 series. And in the Senior House circuit, Bob Miller showed the way with a 256 in 676, while Al Wier was high man in the Youth League at Garden Lanes with a 645.

MARGE BROTHERS had a great week as she rolled consecutive 600 series in House Leagues on successive nights. She posted a 623 on her home lanes at Super Bowl in Canton Township and followed that with a 604 at Westland Bowl the next night.

In other good performances, Mike Langlois, who carries a 143 average, rolled a 238 in a 565 at Westland Bowl in the Monday Morning Men's League. It was his season best.

Workers create their own prison in 'Moonlighting'

by Louise Snider

"Moonlighting" (PG) is a powerful film that draws its strength from intense simplicity and understatement. It concentrates on the situation of four Polish construction workers temporarily stranded in London when martial law was declared in Poland in December 1981.

They were sent to England by their bureaucratic boss who wanted his London refuge completely remodeled. By illegally sending Polish workers to do the job and paying them in zlotys, not pounds, he could save nearly 75 percent of what it would have cost him to hire English labor.

Of the workmen, only Nowak, the foreman, speaks English. The role is a marked change for Jeremy Irons (last seen as an English gentleman in "The French Lieutenant's Woman" and "Brideshead Revisited") and further confirms his immense sensitivity and ability as an actor.

The three actors who appear with Irons as his crew are all Polish, and one of them actually was stranded in England when he arrived with a tourist group in December 1981. They contribute impressively to the film's strong sense of reality and surprising burst of rough humor.

THE CREATIVE FORCE behind "Moonlighting" was Jerzy Skolimowski, who moved to England after beginning his film career in Warsaw. In writing the script and directing the film, he drew upon his own experiences as a Polish emigrant.

The dialogue is sparse, and every word is important. A similar provocative economy is evident in the camera work of Tony Roberts, who photographed the television series "Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy." He captures the actions and gestures which are most revealing: the angry pace at which a man attacks his work, the long draw he takes on a cigarette, the way he lingers exhausted in a bathtub.

When we see the men stare wide-eyed at supermarket shelves laden with food or duck behind a car when they hear a police siren, we learn nearly everything we need to know about them.

We learn that they are willing to put up with intolerable conditions. They sleep on the floor of the cold house they are remodeling. They eat meager rations from tin cans. They work 18 to 21 hours a day, seven days a week. Their only break is Christmas day and Sunday mornings when they go to church. Nowak begrudges them even that. He would prefer they never leave the house until they are ready to return home.

They readily accept these miserable conditions and their confinement. Why are they so uncomplaining? Is democracy a state of mind as well as a form of government? In England, they live as if in a hostile environment, and Nowak, their supervisor, becomes their dictator.

HE IS THE MOST educated, the most skilled and the most affected by the experience abroad. Suspicious and fears that he already harbors are intensified. He becomes paranoid. He becomes a shopkeeper and a thief in order to stretch the inadequate funds he was given for expenses.

And in the age-old rationale of authoritarians, he decides that he knows what is best for his men. Thus he hides from them knowledge about the military coup that has taken place in their absence and the declaration of martial law.

The men return to their own country, richer in goods but not in spirit, having managed to build their own prison while abroad.

"Moonlighting" will be shown at Detroit Film Theatre at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday-Saturday and 6 and 8:30 p.m. Sunday at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium. For ticket information, call 832-2730.

Skating success

"Now, we're getting to the beginners and intermediate levels to attract more people, to keep people here more interested and to move them along faster," he said.

To accomplish that, he plans on upgrading his staff, which he described as a very good one and which includes 23 persons, some part-time and several independent vendors.

He would also like to work further with the hockey skaters and set up programs for them.

"As good as the opportunities are for this community, we really should be turning out good hockey players, but we aren't," Milns said. "In Canada, they teach the kids to skate first, to skate with a stick second, and then throw a puck on the ice. We don't do that here."

"I WOULD LIKE to see a concurrent enrollment in a hockey skating class while the kids are in the junior hockey program."

The skating program has grown so that it now attracts "about 2,000 people a week," Milns estimated, and "holds its own" in the money column. Milns' job still is far from done, he said.

He plans on taking the Plymouth show on the road, in a manner of speaking, to local schools to reach the kids and tell them just what is being offered at the skating rink.

Milns has had to make some sacrifices. He teaches less, opting for the management and administrative end of the program. He gives 25 skaters private lessons and does some group work.

HIS GOAL is simple: "Make skating part of the community, to develop it to such a level that they would want to build another skating rink. I want to take the city from being second or third best in the state (as rated) to one of the best in the Midwest."

As for putting on his traveling shoes again, Milns doesn't plan on it. "I've got 22 years in ice arenas. I've managed for five years, but I've never worked with more conscientious or nicer people than I have here. I don't have to work here, but I enjoy it, and I want to."

Sounds like a valid reason to settle down.

Chiefs enjoy 2-win week

physically hauled down eight boards. Mike Cullen was high scorer for Western with 13.

Canton outbounded Western 35-24, keeping alive its streak of winning every time it outbounds its opponent.

The Chiefs are now 4-6 overall, with non-league Livonia Franklin next on the schedule tomorrow and then a rematch with Salem Friday.

SALEM 60
W.L. CENTRAL 56

Plymouth Salem had more talent and size than Walled Lake Central, but that didn't make it easy for the Rocks to win at Central Friday night.

It was a struggle all the way for Salem, but the Rocks finally did succeed in stopping the Vikings to improve their record to 8-2 overall and 6-1 in the WLAA's Lakes Division.

"The whole game was tight," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We knew they would go inside and knew their guard (Dean Terpertra) could shoot well."

"We kind of eased it out the door. We led most of the way and would get up by six, then they would cut it back to two. We were ahead but never in control."

Salem had a two-point lead and went into a 75-second offense with 1:15 left. The Rocks made it work, holding off the Vikings. A 10-for-10 performance from the free-throw line helped Salem claim the victory.

"They have limited basketball ability, but they're good athletes," said Thomann of Central. "And they compete really, really hard."

Glen Medalle pumped in 14 points to top Salem. Dave Houle added 11. Brian Hartnett had 10 and Jeff Arnold nine. Jim Kreutzer notched 17 for Central, with Terpertra adding 16 and Clark Bok 12.

CHOOSING AN ACCOUNTANT
Who'll prepare your tax return this year? It's time to start choosing a professional, and to undertake the planning that may help you shelter some of your income from taxes.
If your income is fairly straightforward and deductible expenses minimal, you might satisfactorily use a short-form return and do it yourself or with the help of a tax preparer. But with more income, and more deductions, as the return becomes more complicated, you're going to want a tax professional.
Why? Because it's worth the difference to put your tax return in the hands of someone with the knowledge to find every likely loophole, and the experience to know which are acceptable. And as you reach the higher brackets, you'll get the advice you need on sheltering some income from taxes.
Some free help is available from the IRS. Revenue employees will answer your questions (but the tax court has challenged some of their answers) and prepare the simplest returns. There are also independent and chain tax preparers who pop up at tax season. Their workers may not be experienced enough to catch all legal deductions.
A certified public accountant can handle most complex returns and are familiar with shelters and investing. His or her tax know-how can save you more than the fee.
How do you choose a professional? Recommendations from satisfied clientele are one way, as are referrals from lawyers. Once a relationship is entered, the client will find the accountant helpful in making financial decisions all year round.

Eugene Lipski (left), Jeremy Irons, Eugeniusz Haczekiewicz and Jiri Stanislav appear in "Moonlighting," which strongly details the plight of four Polish construction workers in England.

the movies

by Louise Snider

"Moonlighting" (PG) is a powerful film that draws its strength from intense simplicity and understatement. It concentrates on the situation of four Polish construction workers temporarily stranded in London when martial law was declared in Poland in December 1981.

They were sent to England by their bureaucratic boss who wanted his London refuge completely remodeled. By illegally sending Polish workers to do the job and paying them in zlotys, not pounds, he could save nearly 75 percent of what it would have cost him to hire English labor.

Of the workmen, only Nowak, the foreman, speaks English. The role is a marked change for Jeremy Irons (last seen as an English gentleman in "The French Lieutenant's Woman" and "Brideshead Revisited") and further confirms his immense sensitivity and ability as an actor.

The three actors who appear with Irons as his crew are all Polish, and one of them actually was stranded in England when he arrived with a tourist group in December 1981. They contribute impressively to the film's strong sense of reality and surprising burst of rough humor.

THE CREATIVE FORCE behind "Moonlighting" was Jerzy Skolimowski, who moved to England after beginning his film career in Warsaw. In writing the script and directing the film, he drew upon his own experiences as a Polish emigrant.

The dialogue is sparse, and every word is important. A similar provocative economy is evident in the camera work of Tony Roberts, who photographed the television series "Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy." He captures the actions and gestures which are most revealing: the angry pace at which a man attacks his work, the long draw he takes on a cigarette, the way he lingers exhausted in a bathtub.

When we see the men stare wide-eyed at supermarket shelves laden with food or duck behind a car when they hear a police siren, we learn nearly everything we need to know about them.

We learn that they are willing to put up with intolerable conditions. They sleep on the floor of the cold house they are remodeling. They eat meager rations from tin cans. They work 18 to 21 hours a day, seven days a week. Their only break is Christmas day and Sunday mornings when they go to church. Nowak begrudges them even that. He would prefer they never leave the house until they are ready to return home.

They readily accept these miserable conditions and their confinement. Why are they so uncomplaining? Is democracy a state of mind as well as a form of government? In England, they live as if in a hostile environment, and Nowak, their supervisor, becomes their dictator.

HE IS THE MOST educated, the most skilled and the most affected by the experience abroad. Suspicious and fears that he already harbors are intensified. He becomes paranoid. He becomes a shopkeeper and a thief in order to stretch the inadequate funds he was given for expenses.

And in the age-old rationale of authoritarians, he decides that he knows what is best for his men. Thus he hides from them knowledge about the military coup that has taken place in their absence and the declaration of martial law.

The men return to their own country, richer in goods but not in spirit, having managed to build their own prison while abroad.

"Moonlighting" will be shown at Detroit Film Theatre at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday-Saturday and 6 and 8:30 p.m. Sunday at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium. For ticket information, call 832-2730.

Jimmy Lifton cuts a rock recording

By Ethel Simmons staff writer

Rock singer Jimmy Lifton, former resident now living in Los Angeles, is talking up the new 12-inch single record of his song "I Wanna Talk to You."

The disc, packaged in an "album" cover bearing his name, is available to radio stations and soon will be offered for the general public. It's on the Orphan Records label.

"The 12-inch single is a new format that a lot of record companies are going to, instead of 45s. The sound is better, and it's easier for DJs to handle," the dark-haired, 28-year-old performer explained.

The tune was recorded in Los Angeles, where Lifton has lived for the last two years. One side of the record is a three-minute version of the song. The flip side is a five-minute dance mix.

LIFTON EXPECTS his career will be moving right ahead. "I've got people in the music industry behind me," he said.

"In the studio we recorded an album's worth of songs, from tapes, and pressed this one. We wanted to pursue radio airplay."

Lifton said the record has been getting good crossover play, on rock stations and also rhythm-and-blues stations.

Asked to describe his kind of music, he said, "All my material is different. It all has that Jimmy Lifton sound."

He said his style has been called "urban rock" but admits, "I'm not even sure what that means.

Career keeps moving for 'lucky actress'

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

Dark-haired beauty Patricia Morison considers herself a lucky woman.

The actress, co-starring as the mother in the courtroom drama "Nuts" at the Birmingham Theatre, said early on in the interview backstage in her dressing room:

"I've been a very fortunate woman and still am."

As a young girl she wanted to be an artist, then decided to become an actress instead. After an early break on Broadway, she went into the movies. She was unhappy with her film roles and decided to take up singing.

This led to her winning the role of Kate in the Cole Porter musical "Kiss Me, Kate." Broadway stardom followed and so did other roles in stage musicals, including replacing Gertrude Lawrence in "The King and I."

YOU'D THINK that someone whose Hollywood career ran from 1938-48 and Broadway fame began shortly thereafter would have to look back for her laurels.

"Kiss Me, Kate" remains her best-known role. But Morison still has the looks, voice and energy that enable her not only to play new roles but to repeat her two most famous musical ones each year in summer stock. Two years ago she was invited to England by the

Birmingham Repertory to star in "Kiss Me, Kate."

Morison thinks she is "pretty damn lucky." It was a huge success.

The dramatic role as Rose Kirk in "Nuts" is a change of pace for the musical-comedy-oriented star. She plays the mother, "a lady who might be from Birmingham. She's a wealthy suburban lady," Morison said.

The plot involves the daughter—who has become a prostitute and is on trial for murdering one of her clients—both the mother and the stepfather want to have her judged incompetent, but the daughter wants to prove she is in her right mind.

GIULIA PAGANO co-stars as the daughter, Claudia Faith Draper. "I predict she's going to be one of the big stars," Morison said. "She's an incredible actress."

She didn't want to give away the surprise elements of the plot, but the drama does hinge on the stepfather's relationship with the daughter.

"You can look at Donahue every day and see this. There's nothing shocking," Morison said, when asked how she thought theater audiences would react to the startling story.

The play by Tom Topor is filled with revelations by the family, in the courtroom. "It's an exaggeration somewhat. I don't think people would expose themselves on the stand," she said.

She continued, "It's almost like a Greek tragedy. It has that scope."

The play ran in Los Angeles for a year and a half, as well as on Broadway. "The daughter in New York was nominated for a Tony," Morison said. The show received several nominations for Tony awards.

TALKING about her own career, Morison said, "I'm so much associated with musical theater, but I was a straight dramatic actress before being a singer."

In Hollywood, "I was in a lot of films, most of them on the 'late, late show.' Then I started studying singing seriously."

The lucky actress made a lot of her own luck.

Michigan players made a strong showing in the Novice Division with Al Wilson (no relation to Jim) of Essex, Ontario, beating Larry Wisniewski of Southfield in the finals, while countryman Paul Anstett of Hamilton, Ontario, slipped by George Parah Jr. of Flint in the consolation, and Lauren Underwood of Warren looked up the last chance.

So much for plaudits. Now on to the position in the diagram. You are Jim Wilson-playing white in the Championship final. You throw the dice and one comes to rest showing a 6 while the other spins crazily in the center of the board and finally stops on — you guessed it, a 1.

You bear the man on your 6 point and smoothly play the 1 from your 3 point to your 2 point. Your opponent proceeds to take off two men on his roll and on the last roll of the game you throw double 2s to take off your last three men and chalk up the victory.

"Yup," you say, "when you're hot, you're hot."

IT IS A FACT that luck plays a large part in backgammon, and every player has an ample store of hard-luck tales and this might well be one for Lowell Cushman. But on the other hand, by his adroit play of his single pip on the 6-1 roll, Jim allowed the fates every chance to smile on him.

If he had played any other 1 he would not have been able to take off his last three men with dual disaster. If he had moved his 1 either from the 4 point to the 3 point or from the 2 point to the 1 point, he would have needed double 3 or better to win the game.

It is occasionally the case that the play of a 1 in a bear off makes a big difference in the outcome of a game. In this instance, white is a distinct underdog when he rolls his 6-1 with winning prospects in the neighborhood of 10 percent.

Actually, depending on whether white makes his best play or not, his equity is either 11.5 percent or 9.25 percent. Under the pressures of tournament play, especially when faced with a desperate position, we are all likely to play haphazardly, but it is the mark of a champion to give himself every chance, even if that amounts to only an extra 2.25 percent.
