Cops get tough on drunk-driver issue

By Ariene Funke
staff writer

Canton scored high last year in both drunk-driving arrests and alcohol-related fatalities.

According to a study covering January-August 1982, Canton ranked 10th highest among Wayne County communities in the number of drunk driving arrests.

But more sobering: Canton had three fatal traffic accidents last year. All were alcohol-related, said Canton police Lt. Dennis Joker. Alcohol was a factor in at least two fatalities so far this year, police said.

Joker, who heads the police department's uniformed division, is boning up for a tougher drunk-driving law which takes effect March 30. Joker's goal is to increase awareness of the problems caused by drunk drivers and to seek moral and financial support from the community and from officials.

"Canton ranked 10th in the entire county for (drunk-driving) arrests," Joker said. "That is raw numbers. We have no traffic bureau. That's without people assigned (specifically) to traffic."

THE STATE POLICE compiled statistics from local police reports on accidents and drunk-driving arrests during January-August 1982. Figures show Canton was higher than the state average during that period for both alcohol-related accidents and alcohol-related fatalities.

For example, figures show:

- Canton officers made 185 drunk-driving arrests, mostly on Ford Road, Michigan Avenue and Cherry Hill. State police and sheriff's patrols — mostly covering freeways — arrested an additional 90 people in Canton.
- Most arrests occur because of routine traffic stops, not accidents.

See related story and pictures on page 3A.

- The number of alcohol-related accidents is 19 percent for Canton, compared to 16 percent for the state and 15 percent for Wayne County. The figure is 25 percent for Michigan Avenue.
- Most alcohol-related accidents occur between midnight and 3 a.m., Wednesday through Sunday.

- Statewide, alcohol was a factor in 56 percent of the fatal accidents. Canton had three fatalities in 1982. All were alcohol-related, Joker said.

"I think we happen to have roads that are used by people who drink and drive," Joker said. "Because Michigan Avenue is such a main artery (with heavy traffic), that drives up the totals for Canton."

IT BECOMES easier to notice drunk drivers in the evening hours, Joker said. Drunk drivers make confusing movements, straddle lanes, make improper turns, and drive with their bright lights on.

A driver is considered legally drunk with a blood-alcohol reading of 0.10. Under the new law, patrol cars will carry portable breath-testing equipment. Officers can determine — on the spot — if a driver is intoxicated.

A more extensive Breathalyzer test at the station can verify the readings.

The average Breathalyzer reading in Canton is 0.16, statistics show. That's comparable to readings in Northville, Plymouth, Redford and Livonia.

Fatigue, medication and other factors can affect a driver, and an officer faces a "fine line" about making a drunk-driving arrest at the borderline levels, Joker said.

"What we're doing is bringing in the worst ones," Joker added. "I feel we will be getting the people who aren't so obviously intoxicated. They are still out there causing accidents."

Township officials, judges, prosecutors and other officials attended a seminar in Allen Park last week, Joker said.

"Our goal was to make judges, prosecutors, and administrators more aware of the (enforcement) problem," Joker said. "The people who have control of the township funding — to make them aware of the problem, to make them sympathize with us, or at least make them aware of what we're trying to do."

Group looks for honoree in business

Do you know a Canton business person who has worked hard to overcome problems, or who has contributed greatly to the community?

Maybe you are aware of a manager who has made great strides in hiring handicapped or disadvantaged workers, or in creating new jobs.

The Canton Chamber of Commerce is looking for nominees for Small Business Person of the Year.

The "small" refers to the size of the business. The Small Business Administration (SBA) defines a small business as one which employs 250 people or less.

Deadline for submitting nominations is April 22. The local winner will be announced at a Canton Chamber of Commerce membership meeting May 11 and receive a plaque.

Four runners-up also will be named, said project chairman Frank McMurray.

"(NOMINEES) DON'T have to be a business owner," McMurray said. "They can be managers or in charge of the operation."

"The winner need not be a resident nor a member of the Canton chamber.

The intersection of Ford and Lilley topped the list for frequency of traffic accidents, according to a recent police study.

Ford-Lilley corner tops accident list

Have you ever wondered which intersections in Canton have the highest number of traffic accidents?

The corner of Ford and Lilley wins that dubious distinction, according to police statistics.

There were 33 accidents at that corner between January August 1982, the period included in recent police traffic studies.

The studies have focused largely on Ford Road and Michigan Avenue, because those roadways carry the bulk of traffic in Canton, according to police Lt. Dennis Joker. Figures were compiled from accident reports and include both major and minor collisions.

The intersections listed encompass reported collisions 50 feet in each direction, Joker said. There is no indication how many are alcohol-related accidents.

The Ford-Lilley intersection is a two-lane east-west roadway, with right turn lanes. It is a heavily-traveled area with both commercial and residential development nearby.

COMING IN second for the designated period was the Ford-Haggerty corner, with 24 reported accidents. Next is Ford and Sheldon, with 20 accidents, according to reports.

"Traditionally, at traffic lights, you're going to have rear-end and angle (hit) accidents," Joker said.

Other intersections with high accident rates were Ford Road and I-275, with 14 reports, and Michigan Avenue and Haggerty with 11.

Nine collisions occurred where Michigan Avenue meets Canton Center and Belleville roads, according to the report.

Four accidents each were reported at Michigan Avenue and I-275 and at Michigan Avenue and Washburn, near a popular Canton tavern. Three accidents were reported at Ford Road and Canton Center during the designated period of the study.

Picketers launch drive to protect children

By Sandra Armbruster
staff writer

About 25 members of a group protesting child molesting picketed Westland's 18th District Court last week. The group, In Michigan — Protect America's Children Today (IM-P.A.C.T.), hoped to draw attention to a case involving the alleged sexual assault of a 10-year-old girl.

The group's leaders said they were upset about the handling of a case involving a 32-year-old Westland man who has been charged with criminal sexual conduct in the first degree.

"This is the kind of thing IM-P.A.C.T.

will not allow," said Jack Dockham, an Oxford resident who said he is an investigator for the group. "We want to raise public interest in battered children the only way we can."

Dockham said this is the first time the group, which now has only one chapter in Michigan, has picketed. Dockham said he expects other chapters to be formed in Michigan and throughout the country.

"Our next protest will have more clout. We'll be 10 times stronger," said Dockham, explaining that IM-P.A.C.T. decided only recently to picket when family members requested the group's help.

Johnny L. Holloway has been charged with assaulting the girl last June 20 after a breakfast outing following a service at First Freewill Baptist Church in Plymouth.

HOLLOWAY, a member of a religious vocal group called the Holloway Family Singers, was first charged in December when the girl told her mother of the alleged incident.

Westland Police Officer Laura Moore said that 18th District Court Judge Evan Callanan granted a request of Holloway's attorney to quash the warrant on the grounds that it was issued erroneously.

The warrant accused Holloway of actions which the girl allegedly reported to her mother and her mother reported to police.

Moore explained that a recent Supreme Court ruling recently made it more difficult to prosecute such cases. Hearsay testimony — something that a witness has heard someone else say about an act — is not admissible as evidence or as the basis for warrants.

Previously, there was an exception — the "tender years" exception — which allowed that adults to testify to statements made to them by young children. The Supreme Court court struck down this provision and now the young children involved must make the statement.

A NEW WARRANT for Holloway's arrest was subsequently issued based on the youngster's statement, according to Moore.

Judge Thomas Smith adjourned a pretrial examination in the case March 7 and ordered that Holloway take a polygraph test to test his claim of innocence.

During the picketing, Smith invited several members of the group into his office to answer their questions. Picketers included Rev. Jack Hughes, Holloway's father-in-law and pastor of the church, Holloway's wife, who is suing him for divorce, and the parents of the child.

Asked why he had ordered a polygraph test, Smith said the results could help him determine whether Holloway will be bound over for trial.

He said under law he must determine if a crime was committed on June 20. He said that while the child remembers that it was Father's Day and appeared to be a "sharp little girl," other witnesses said the 10-year-old wasn't even on the outing.

SMITH SAID that if Holloway flunks the lie detector test, which was scheduled for Tuesday, the results wouldn't be admissible in court, but the results might convince him that the case should be bound over to Circuit Court.

Smith also said he wanted to make sure the 10-year-old girl did not have to go through testimony unnecessarily.

He noted that he was told the girl was upset by delays in the case and "so I insisted that his attorney come in and hear that (the child's) side of the case."

Under questioning by Dockham, Smith said polygraph tests have an accuracy rate of 90-95 percent.

The girl's mother was critical of Wayne County assistant prosecutor Richard Whitney for not allowing her and others to testify in court as to the girl being on the church outing. Whitney was unable to be reached for comment.

Smith said that he would allow others to testify at the next hearing, to be scheduled when the polygraph tests are completed.

SMITH LATER said that the court gets "a lot of these cases" that are made more difficult because of the "tender years" ruling by the Supreme Court.

The deadline is Friday for nominating an outstanding youth for U.S. Rep. William Ford's Congressional Medal of Merit award.

The award will be given to recognize heroism, leadership, volunteerism, artistic or public service activities, chairman Doug Ritter of Canton said.

Eligible are youths living in the 15th Congressional District, which includes Canton, Garden City, Romulus, Wayne, Westland, Livonia, and several other western and downriver communities.

ACCORDING TO Ritter, nominations should not be based solely on scholarship, athletic ability or organizational membership, nor should they be something for which the nominee has received financial payment.

Nomination forms may be obtained from Ford's district office in the Wayne Federal Building, Wayne 48184, phone 722-1411 or from Ritter. For more information, call Ritter at 981-2224 or 635-6233.

These drunks
escaped arrest

By Pat Waurzyniak
staff writer

Paul Pavloff climbed behind the wheel of the Pontiac LeMans, took aim at the row of orange pylons and jammed the accelerator to the floor. Seconds later, he lurched out of the car to survey the results of driving under the influence of liquor.

Pavloff, a 26-year-old Plymouth firefighter, volunteered as one of six guinea pigs for a drinking and driving test. The test was organized by the Downriver and Western Wayne Traffic Officials' Association at Allen Park City Hall last week.

What he saw on the parking lot course wasn't reassuring.

"This is going to change my mind, that's for sure," said an intoxicated Pavloff after imbibing 10 ounces of Canadian Club whiskey, enough to register a 0.13 percent blood alcohol content (BAC).

"I'll admit it, I've reformed," he said. "I never really thought about it before — but I'm going to now."

Joining Pavloff in a 9:45 a.m. drinking bout were Plymouth residents Peggy Aneiros, Bob Ray and Cathy Richardson. Larry Moraco of Westland and Rosanne Wenczak of Livonia. All six drank enough liquor in two hours to reach a BAC (blood alcohol content) of more than 0.10 percent, the level considered legally drunk under Michigan law. New testing procedures and tougher drunk-driving penalties will take effect March 30.

SLURRED SPEECH, inability to concentrate and slowed physical reactions typified the volunteer "drunks" during a seminar which included field sobriety tests and a drive on a short course.

Ray, a non-drinker, was unable to participate after passing out with a 0.12 percent BAC prior to the road test. While the volunteers sampled gin, vodka, rum or whiskey during their drinking hour, police Breathalyzer operators measured their BAC three times.

Meanwhile, Lt. Thomas Garvale of the Michigan State Police post at Northville put each through standard tests routinely administered by officers to suspects prior to arrests for drunk driving. Each participant was asked to touch his or her nose, walk a straight line, recite the alphabet and count backward from 100.

Afterward, Plymouth Police Officer Bob Henry accompanied the drivers on the course designed to show the impaired reactions of a drunk driver.

Although the volunteers managed the slow 25 mph forward speeds, all had difficulty backing up. Each driver knocked over several pylons.

Public Acts 309, 310 and 311, Michigan's legislation passed last September to help nail drunk drivers, allows police to administer roadside checks of drivers' BAC with a portable breathalyzer test (PBT) device. That legislation includes the new "per se" law, which determines that a driver is intoxicated at 0.10 percent BAC whether or not he appears impaired.

Increasing public outcry over traffic fatalities, more than half caused by drunk drivers, helped push the bills through the Legislature late last year. Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD) continues to raise public consciousness of problems caused by drinking drivers.

FOR EXAMPLE, five alcohol-related fatalities in the Plymouth-Canton area over the past four months spurred the Rev. Kenneth Gruebel of Geneva United Presbyterian Church in Canton to organize a MADD group.

"Our primary concern is getting drunk drivers off the road, stripping them of their licenses," Gruebel said. "We're trying to change the way the public and the courts are handling these cases."

The six volunteers couldn't agree more after the drinking and driving program before an estimated 200 law enforcement officials from 37 communities in the western Wayne County and downriver area.

"I'm losing a day's pay," Ray, an employee at Rock Tool & Machine on Five Mile, said before he started drinking. "I thought it was worthwhile, and I'm glad to see the law is being changed." Aneiros, a part-time Plymouth Police Department dispatcher, summed it up best immediately after her unsuccessful attempt to negotiate the course while being the most intoxicated (0.14 percent BAC) of the five drivers.

"I'm an intelligent drunk — that's the worst kind," Aneiros said. "If you've survived in the past, you've been lucky. Yeah, I learned a lesson out there."

POTENT PARTY: A party on Hyde Road ended unhappily for two men who were hit in the face with bottles outside the house. The incident was reported March 12.

Reporting injuries were two 18-year-old men — one from Canton and the other from Plymouth. The Canton man required stitches on his lip. The Plymouth resident said he suffered three broken bones in his face.

Police arrested a 19-year-old Madison Heights man in connection with the complaints.

BITE ON BUTTOCKS: An eight-year-old Old Bridge boy was bitten on the buttocks by a neighbor's dog March 13.

The incident occurred on Wagon Wheel, when the youth ran across the neighbor's lawn, according to reports.

but should be doing business in Canton," McMurray said.

McMurray, an insurance agent, actively promotes small business interests. McMurray is chairman of the Small Business Advisory Council for the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, and is a member of the Advocacy Council for the Michigan Department of Commerce.

He was appointed to the advocacy council by former Gov. William Milliken.

The Canton chamber's nomination of a Small Business Person will tie in to a similar SBA designation at the national level, McMurray said.

Criteria for nominees include growth of employees, innovativeness of product or service; response to adversity; contributions to the community; and initiative in hiring handicapped or disadvantaged, energy conservation, environmental improvement or creating new jobs.

Judges will be selected from people involved in business curriculum at Schoolcraft and Wayne County Community colleges, and from Eastern Michigan University.

Applications may be obtained at Plymouth Construction Equipment, 41889 Ford, Dave Nicholson, Economic Development Coordinator, Canton Township Hall, Canton Chamber of Commerce, 8130 Canton Center, and State Farm Insurance, 5773 Canton Center.

They must be returned by April 22 to McMurray at 5773 Canton Center, Canton 48187. For information, call 455-7272.

Due to an error, it was incorrectly reported that Jesse Perkins, 40, of Marlowe, Canton, was in Wayne County Jail with gunshot wounds to both legs. The story should have said Perkins was in Wayne County General Hospital.

Correction

In the March 14 edition of the Observer, it was reported that Timothy Marrs of Old Michigan Avenue was charged with assault with intent to murder in the alleged shooting of a friend after a poker game March 11.

Parents fight abuse woes

"At one time in Michigan, if a person told her mother what happened, say a week or two later, the mother could testify what was told to her," explained Smith. Now a mother's testimony can "only be used if there was an excited utterance, if the child went immediately to her mother."

"In this case, it was six months (after the alleged assault)."

Moore called the Supreme Court ruling a "travesty of justice."

"If a year-old baby is raped, who's going to testify?" she said. "It's ludicrous, that's my opinion. It's created real difficulties in prosecuting."

DOCKHAM ALSO hopes that his group will be able to get laws affecting children changed.

"We hope to help kids a little bit. Incest and child molestation have been ignored and accepted for too long," said Dockham who has three sons and three grandchildren.

table of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, held in the headquarters of K Mart Corp. in Troy.

● THEIR GUESSES of bipartisan support came only a day after Senate Republican Leader John Engler of Mt. Pleasant announced a majority of the 18 Republicans would support a scaled-down version of the Democratic governor's plan. The GOP would:

● Increase the state personal income tax by 1 percent for nine months — from last Jan. 1 to the end of the fiscal year Sept. 30. (Blanchard asked a temporary debt retirement increase of 0.25 percent and a permanent operating increase of 1.5 percent.) The current rate is 4.6 percent.

● Make "improvements" in the single business tax (SBT), which is essentially a payroll tax. Posthumus gave three examples: taking workers' compensation charges out of the tax base, taking unemployment comp. taxes out of the base and allowing a credit for low-profit firms. He did not elaborate. (Blanchard's plan does not address the SBT.)

Posthumus said Republicans are concerned that the tax be levied only as a 1990 million current year deficit on an economy that sells eight million autos, a zero increase in the gross national product and an unemployment rate of 16.5 percent.

But the Senate Fiscal Agency, a staff arm of the Senate, forecasts a $656 million deficit, 8.9 million auto sales, a 1.6 percent increase in the GNP and an unemployment rate dropping to 15 percent, according to Republicans.

Senators agree

2-party tax compromise shapes up

By Tim Richard
staff writer

A State Senate committee later today is expected to report out an income tax increase bill smaller than Gov. James J. Blanchard is asking but with bipartisan support.

"A one percent increase for no more than 18 months could get a majority of both party caucuses," said Sen. Richard Posthumus, R-Livonia, minority vice-chairman of the tax writing Senate Finance Committee.

"We will make sufficient adjustments to get some Republican support," added Sen. Philip Mastin, D-Pontiac, majority vice-chairman of the key committee. "We may not get 15 or even 10 Republican votes. Maybe four or five."

If they are correct, a bipartisan Senate vote for a tax increase would be in stark contrast to the House of Representatives, which on March 2 supported one by 59-51, with all 47 Republicans opposing it.

In the Senate, Democrats have a bare 20-18 majority, but at least two Democrats would likely oppose Blanchard's proposal. Thus, any tax increase will need support from both parties.

The first-term senators Friday addressed a government relations round table of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, held in the headquarters of K Mart Corp. in Troy.

THEIR GUESSES of bipartisan support came only a day after Senate Republican Leader John Engler of Mt. Pleasant announced a majority of the 18 Republicans would support a scaled-down version of the Democratic governor's plan. The GOP would:

● Increase the state personal income tax by 1 percent for nine months — from last Jan. 1 to the end of the fiscal year Sept. 30. (Blanchard asked a temporary debt retirement increase of 0.25 percent and a permanent operating increase of 1.5 percent.) The current rate is 4.6 percent.

● Make "improvements" in the single business tax (SBT), which is essentially a payroll tax. Posthumus gave three examples: taking workers' compensation charges out of the tax base, taking unemployment comp. taxes out of the base and allowing a credit for low-profit firms. He did not elaborate. (Blanchard's plan does not address the SBT.)

Posthumus said Republicans are concerned that the tax be levied only as a 1990 million current year deficit on an economy that sells eight million autos, a zero increase in the gross national product and an unemployment rate of 16.5 percent.

But the Senate Fiscal Agency, a staff arm of the Senate, forecasts a $656 million deficit, 8.9 million auto sales, a 1.6 percent increase in the GNP and an unemployment rate dropping to 15 percent, according to Republicans.

er whether the tax needed extension.

THE ECONOMIC outlook divided the Democratic and Republican tax spokesmen more than their tax views. Said Democrat Mastin, a three-term state representative and Pontiac city manager before his victory over incumbent Donald Bishop last year:

"Sen. Engler supported a short-term (six months) tax last year. It may be Sen. Engler is incapable of learning from past mistakes. . . . There has been a consistent overestimation of revenue and underestimation of expenses. We have a tradition of guessing wrong. Every time. I tend to be pessimistic about the immediate economic future."

Said Republican Posthumus, who carried a "conservative Dutch" agricultural district east of Grand Rapids: "It would disfigure significantly. State Treasurer Bob Bowman is the only one predicting a billion-dollar deficit. He's out there by himself. We don't believe the deficit is as bad as Treasurer Bowman says."

BLANCHARD'S Office of Management and Budget bases its prediction of a $900 million current year deficit on an economy that sells eight million autos, a zero increase in the gross national product and an unemployment rate of 16.5 percent.

But the Senate Fiscal Agency, a staff arm of the Senate, forecasts a $656 million deficit, 8.9 million auto sales, a 1.6 percent increase in the GNP and an unemployment rate dropping to 15 percent, according to Republicans.

U-M's Shapiro calls tax hike 'courageous'

University of Michigan President Harold T. Shapiro expressed increasing concern at the proposed continuation of the deferral of state payments to state colleges and universities.

The proposal was made last week by state Treasurer Robert Bowman. "We have received no state payments since Jan. 1," Shapiro said. "If the March payment is now added to the January and February deferrals, the university's general fund will have had to borrow more than $45 million simply to carry on the day-to-day operations of the university."

"This will cost the university nearly one-half million dollars per month in interest earnings alone. Further, it makes planning almost impossible."

Earlier, Shapiro praised the state House of Representatives for passage of the income tax increase as the necessary first step in solving the state's fiscal crisis.

"In my opinion, House Speaker Gary Owen and his colleagues have taken a courageous action in adopting this measure," Shapiro said. "While I personally favored Gov. Blanchard's proposal for a permanent tax increase, using a decrease in the unemployment rate to trigger a decrease in the income tax is a creative solution to this problem."

"This new round of deferrals now makes quick action on the tax proposal by the Michigan Senate absolutely imperative. We are running out of time."

Safety patrollers joining food drive

Safety patrollers at 28 metropolitan area schools will collect food donated by their classmates for "Operation: Food Basket," an Automobile Club of Michigan program developed in response to the state's record unemployment levels.

"By involving safety patrollers in 'Operation: Food Basket,' we are broadening the scope of their school and community service and expanding the number of collection points for food," said Robert Cullen, Auto Club's safety and traffic engineering manager.

More than 800 safety patrollers will ask for donations March 21-25 from fellow students at public and parochial schools. Collection points are Greenfield School in Birmingham, Larkshire in Farmington, Jane Addams in Redford Township, Hull in Livonia and St. Damien in Westland.

FOOD COLLECTED in the tri-county area will be distributed to families through the Detroit Neighborhood Services Department, the Wayne Metro Community Services Agency, the Macomb County Department of Social Services, and the Agency Council for County Emergency Services in Oakland County.

Donations also may be made at 500 Operation: Food Basket collection sites, including the Auto Club's offices and claim centers.

Western Wayne County sites are in Livonia, Plymouth, Wayne-Westland and the west side of Detroit.

Oakland County offices are in Birmingham, Farmington, Lathrup Village, Southfield and Troy-Rochester.

As of March 1, more than 101,000 pounds of food have been collected at Auto Club offices.

O&E 'Heart to heart' service begins today

Beginning with today's edition, the Observer & Eccentric introduces "Heart to Heart." This service is designed for suburbanities who wish to meet new people.

It will appear as part of the classified advertising section of every Monday's edition.

Here's how it will work.

A person will compose a message to appear in the newspaper for a basic charge. The Observer & Eccentric will keep the name and telephone number of that person confidential. A box number will help to identify those who respond to the message.

The Observer & Eccentric will then put the responses in a special "Heart to Heart" reply box. All responses will be handled in strict confidence.

Replies will then be mailed to the person putting the message in the newspaper.

In addition, if someone wishes to respond confidentially to a "Heart to Heart" message, a private reply box may be rented at the newspaper.

The first "Heart to Heart" can be found in today's classified advertising section.

Sci-fi fans to convene tend.

Sponsored by the student organization Order of Leibowitz, the convention will be held from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. March 26 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 27.

Displays, movies, animation features, a masquerade ball and demonstrations are planned.

Lab trooper to be sergeant

A Michigan State Police trooper from the Northville laboratory has been promoted.

Jon L. Stanton, 33, becomes a specialist sergeant III effective March 27.

A native of Owosso, he is assigned to the firearms, explosives and toolmarks unit at the Northville laboratory. He joined the State Police in 1972.

Cable class at MSU center

A class on "Cable Communications" will be offered 6-10 p.m. Tuesdays, March 29 to May 31, at Michigan State University's Southeast Regional Center, 20500 13 Mile, Birmingham.

The four-credit class will be taught by Thomas Baldwin, MSU professor of telecommunications.

Baldwin will examine technical, political and commercial aspects of the cable industry. He will also assess the impact of the latest advances — direct broadcast satellites, low power TV and home computers.

Registration continues through March 24 at the southeast regional center. Office hours are from 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays. Registration information is available at 645-5410.

COOK UP SOME MAGIC

...with the Younger Set

Like the mischievous white rabbit who led Alice into Wonderland, parents can lead their children into the magical world of cooking. Given half a chance, boys and girls from toddlerhood on will make marvelous messes. Most youngsters can't wait to get their hands in the flour.

Teaching kids to cook not only provides the fun and satisfaction of putting things together, but also answers a very real need for working moms who need help in the kitchen. Children ranging from eight or nine (if already kitchen-handy) to fourteen are at the ideal age to share some responsibility for dinner.

The key to raising your own chef de cuisine is to involve the younger set early, at three or four years of age, in simple tasks which meld with their relatively short attention spans.

To keep up the enthusiasm, try a variety of dishes that can be associated with familiar and favorite stories like the fanciful Alice in Wonderland tea party.

The presentation of these treats is delightfully childlike. And the story can be woven into the cooking lesson and used as a diversion if you sense the young chef is becoming frustrated with a certain project.

No doubt Heritage Shortcake and Sesame Cookies would have been included in the Wonderful tea party had the Mad Hatter and the March Hare known how these treats excited young children like Alice.

Leave the magic of the Heritage Shortcake to your young chef by guiding him or her in filling and topping the shortcake with the fruit and marshmallow creme mixture.

Meanwhile, the Sesame Cookies provide the opportunity for the novice to shape dough into balls, roll them in sesame seeds, and place them on the cookie sheet as Mom and Dad fills the cookie centers with preserves.

Cakes are what made Alice grow very, very tall in Wonderland. That can be the topic as you prepare the Angel Mallow frosting for the Cupcakes With Petite Daisies. Explain to your child the magic of watching the beaten egg whites form soft peaks. Frost the cupcakes together.

Lastly, to appease the Queen of Hearts, try the Finale Fruit Tarts. Once the shells and filling have been prepared, invite your young chef to assist in filling the tarts and garnish with strawberries and bananas.

The Moral of the Story for success with your growing chefs is: maintain flexibility. Specifically,

- Don't overwhelm them with long lists of rules.
- Know in advance that when youngsters help cook, total cleanliness is next to impossible and that the final clean-up chores may well be yours alone.
- Avoid the temptation to take over and do everything yourself.
- And, above all: Always enthusiastically eat what your young chefs help cook!!

Plain old ham stars in party-special entree

Fortunately, elegant entertaining doesn't have to take a lot of time or money. Ham and Artichokes Deluxe is a delicious example of a company-special entree that's compatible with the budgets and hectic time schedules of today's hostesses.

HAM AND ARTICHOKE DELUXE
1/2 to 1 lb. cooked smoked ham, sliced
1/2 inch thick
Pastry Shells*
2 cups (8 oz.) mushrooms, halved
1/2 cup sliced green onions
2 tbsp. butter
1/2 cup flour
2 cups milk
1/2 cup shredded Gruyere cheese
1 pkg. (9 oz.) frozen artichoke hearts, defrosted

Prepare Pastry Shells. Cut ham into strips 1/2-inch wide. Cook mushrooms and onions in butter in large skillet 2 to 3 minutes; stir in flour. Gradually stir in milk and cook slowly until thickened, stirring occasionally. Add Gruyere cheese and continue cooking, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Stir in ham strips and artichoke hearts; continue cooking until heated through. Spoon into Pastry Shells. 4 servings.

PASTRY SHELLS
1/2 of a 17 1/2-oz. pkg. frozen puff pastry sheets (1 sheet)

Thaw puff pastry 20 minutes; unfold. On lightly floured board, roll out sheet to 13 x 13-inch square. Cut out 4 circles, 6 inches in diameter. Shape pastry rounds over four 10-ounce inverted custard cups, making pleats so pastry will fit closely. Prick thoroughly with fork to prevent puffing. Place inverted custard cups on baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (400°) 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Carefully remove shells from cups. Cool on rack. Yield: 4 pastry shells.

Variations on a French-toast theme

When I was a youngster I made French toast many a Sunday. It was simple: white bread dipped in a mixture of egg and milk, then fried in butter.

That was when I enjoyed eating, more than cooking. Times have changed. Today I find more satisfaction in preparing a dish enjoyed by others.

If there ever was an original French toast, it probably was born in New Orleans. Pain perdu (lost bread) is economical as well as elegant. It's a tasty way to dispose of French bread left over from dinner.

The batter can be spiked with brandy, but a little vanilla extract will suffice. Shortening and bacon drippings replace butter. But I used the drippings from link sausage I prepared one morning to go with the French toast, then melted the shortening in the already hot skillet. I humbly accepted the sitting applause.

I tried a Puerto Rican recipe that received rave notices at the breakfast table, too.

The batter is composed of egg and orange juice. Instead of using vanilla, I crushed about 30 vanilla wafers and dredged the batter-coated bread in them. I used raisin bread and added a little margarine to the skillet each time I fried a batch.

French toast, whether it's made the New Orleans style or the Puerto Rican way, is a mouth-watering treat.

NEW ORLEANS FRENCH TOAST

2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 tsp vanilla
2 tsp sugar
1/2 tsp salt
6 slices day-old French bread, 1-inch thick
1 tsp link sausage or bacon drippings
2 tsp shortening

Slightly beat eggs in soup bowl, gradually add milk, then vanilla, sugar and salt and beat to combine. Soak bread on both sides in egg mixture. Heat drippings and let shortening melt in large non-stick skillet and fry bread on both sides on medium heat until golden brown. Sprinkle on confectioeners sugar and serve with syrup or honey. Serves 3.

PUERTO RICAN ORANGE FRENCH TOAST

2 eggs
1 cup orange juice
1 1/2 cups finely crushed vanilla wafers
10 slices raisin bread
Margarine

Slightly beat eggs in soup bowl, gradually add orange juice and beat to combine. Place crushed wafers in another soup bowl. Dip bread on both sides in egg mixture, then dredge in wafers. Melt 1 tablespoon margarine in large non-stick skillet and fry bread on both sides on medium heat until golden brown. Use 1 tablespoon margarine each time bread is added to skillet. Serve with syrup. Serves 5.

If you're afraid of cancer, you're not alone. But some people are so afraid that they won't go to the doctor when they suspect something's wrong. They're afraid the doctor might "find something" that kind of fear can prevent them from discovering cancer in the early stages when it is most often curable. These people run the risk of letting cancer scare them to death.

the view

IT WAS GREAT weather to be outdoors, just wandering around town.

A good day to peer in the windows of the former Terry's Bake Shop and wonder how Maggie Laforest would redecorate. She'll be making changes before she moves her Maggie and Me originals from her present shop on the corner of Main and Union.

It was a day for strolling, for reading plaques on the city hall lawn. There's the one for former Mayor Mary Childs, "Because she cared," the plaque under the sugar maple donated by the Lions Club; the gorgeous flowering crab donated by the Woman's Club; and the clump of trees given as a thank you from the Massachusetts delegation to the Republican Convention in Detroit in 1980. They were to replace trees damaged by the big storm that swept through the area while the delegates were in residence here.

Curiosity led to the old Violette Riess house on Harvey, which Howard Hamerind is having converted to a dental clinic. The neighborhood boys had been fascinated by the old bones unearthed in the back yard. Just one bone was visible, and it seemed best not to imagine its origin.

And on the way, there had to be a stop at Folkways, Emma's and Book World Volume II. Gary Beglinger and cohorts had been working all weekend making changes. Just watch for more. When Gary goes on one of her creative binges, the results always are amazing — and pleasing. Can see why Emma's is a popular choice for showers and rehearsal dinners.

A BELATED HAPPY birthday to Warren Wood, who celebrated his 90th birthday last Friday. He was born March 18, 1893 in Hastings, Mich., and he and his wife, Mabel, have been married 69 years.

Daughter Fran Kerr and son-in-law Doug hosted a birthday party for Warren with cocktails and dinner for 18 people at their home in Plymouth Township.

He was a tool and die maker who retired at 65. He maintains a very busy and active pace.

FINALLY saw a robin Friday morning, had been hearing them for weeks. Virgil Norgrove reported a robin sighting more than three weeks ago, over on Virginia. Christie Newland reported the first Canton sighting more than a week ago.

KATHY THOMAS, a 1978 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, has been inducted into Michigan State University's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Academic excellence in liberal arts and sciences earned the honor of being selected for the nation's oldest honorary. Kathy is a senior majoring in sociology.

ANDREA BELL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bell of Sussex Court, Canton Township, has been initiated into Kappa Delta sorority at MSU. Andrea graduated from Plymouth Salem High School. She is a sophomore majoring in merchandising management.

HATS OFF to Lark Samouelian for orchestrating one of the most entertaining fashion shows on record. Her "Falling in Love" production in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium raised $1,700 for the Multiple Sclerosis Society, and donations still are coming in.

Members of the audience and those who participated are asking when she's going to do another one. Jo Agosta won the grand prize, two round-trip tickets to Orlando, Fla. John Peters won the half-day at the Great Shape Spa. Kathy Kricunian won a half-day at Great Shape. Lois Stuart won the Mayflower & Co. cut and style, and Theresa Favone won 10 weeks at Lark's Personalized Trim 'n' Tone.

MARGARET Hynick and Phil Wyeys had high scores at Thursday's party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center. There were eight tables in play.

THE SYMPHONY League's annual Whale of a Sale opens at 9 a.m. Friday in the Plymouth Grade Hall, 273 Union Street. It will run until 5 p.m. This is the sale of sales for those inveterate bargain hunters. Lynn Lyon and Patsy Rollins are chairing the sale.

Mark Cassel finds the old iron pot is heavy even when it is empty.

The students give rapt attention to the tales of life on the frontier.

Steve Bahlow tries on a carrying yoke with the help of Andrea Dubrinsky.

At historical museum

A child's life on the frontier

The students heft a large iron pot. They try on an old carrying yoke and sniff a bar of homemade soap. They examine a twig broom and a basket made of twigs. And they learn to make spills for lighting a fire.

It's all part of the Frontier Family educational program available at the Plymouth Historical Museum.

Some of the old words are new to the students' vocabulary. But at the end of the session, they have a good understanding of a child's life on the frontier 125-150 years ago.

Marge Mitchell, who developed the education programs at the museum, said the presentation is geared to the age of the children. The hands-on history lesson is individualized for each group.

THEY LEARN that wood ashes from the fire were used in the making of soap. They are shown an old wash tub and the batter, a stick used to pound the dirt out of the clothes. The tub, they are told, also was used as a bath tub by members of the frontier family.

A canvas square soaked in wax served as a handy carrier, or, folded properly, it became a leak-proof drinking cup.

A touch of humor adds to the students' enjoyment of their journey to the past. Mitchell said she found the story of the traveler on the old Chicago Pike in several diaries and journals.

She uses it to illustrate the condition of the roads in the 1800s.

According to the story, a traveler on the old Army road saw a perfectly good hat floating on a puddle. As he picked it up, a voice said, "Let go of my hat."

"What are you doing down there?" Do you need help?" asked the traveler.

"No, I've got a good horse under me," was the response.

THE STUDENTS are given a word picture of the frontier with its great forests. They learn that the early settlers considered trees a nuisance and felled them as fast as they could to clear fields for planting.

The children are asked, "What did they do with all that wood?" They said it was used for heating their homes, for cooking and for making furniture.

They discover wood was used for just about everything. They look at spigots, whittled by the men; an old fishing rod made of three kinds of wood; the twig baskets and brooms. It seemed all their tools and implements were made of wood.

FRONTIER Family is the latest of several educational programs offered by the Plymouth Historical Museum. Planned for groups of children, they include Grandmother's Attic, a segment on Indians, a trip to the old general store and a day in the life of a pioneer child.

Reservations for groups may be made in advance by calling the museum, 455-8940. The evening and colonial Kiwanis Clubs of Plymouth will pay the costs for students in the Plymouth-Canton area.

The majority of the classes which take advantage of the museum programs are from surrounding communities. Some teachers have brought their classes to all of the programs. The museum staff enjoys seeing the students act as museum guides when they return with their parents.

Terry Compeleo enjoys the story of the traveler on the old pike road.

Schoolcraft lost 2 millage elections in 1979

(Part XLV)

In March 1979, after three straight millage losses at the polls, Schoolcraft College trustees decided to try another tack.

They held a special election to insure that Schoolcraft's needs would have the voter's undivided attention. During the preceding seven years, college millage proposals had experienced competition from school district millage requests on the same ballot.

They also tried to soft-pedal the election by avoiding advertising and not seeking media coverage. Efforts were concentrated on getting out the "yes" vote by mounting a volunteer telephone campaign designed to alert former students and known friends of the college.

As a result of these tactics, voter turnout hit a record low. The number of voters who turned out (7,821) was less than the student enrollment of the college, and practically all of the students were old enough to vote. The number was less than the 9,295 voters who turned out in October 1961 when the college was created, and there were only four communities in the college district in that year.

Not only was the turnout low, the effort to get only the "yes" vote people confused. The request for a property tax increase of one mill for five years was opposed by 58 percent of those who voted. The tally was 4,252 for and 3,029 against.

Not one of the school districts approved the proposal. Livonia, which had six trustees on the board, gave it the least support with only 40 percent of those who voted saying yes.

One can only speculate on the result had the election been given widespread publicity and the "no" voters attracted to the polls.

IN APRIL it was announced that The Campus Globe, the student newspaper at the college, had won eight awards among papers at two-year Michigan colleges.

Faculty adviser Doug Johnson said he was particularly pleased with the firsts in news writing and feature writing. First place awards were won by students Diane Boides, Jim Watson, and Rich Asher.

The college's 14th annual commencement exercises were held in May. There were 764 graduates. The speaker was Dr. John W. Porter, Michigan's superintendent of public instruction. Porter, the youngest man and the first black ever to head a state education department, is now president of Eastern Michigan University.

On June 11 the trustees went back to the voters in an effort to obtain approval of two property tax proposals totaling one mill. One-half mill was asked to complete financing of a culinary arts addition to the Waterman Campus Center, another half-mill for major maintenance and equipment purchases.

Police aide extravagant?

The editor:
In financially troubled times how can the city of Plymouth justify hiring additional help for the police department?

A police chief should be able to handle his workload — others before him did — and police Hines Park as well. The city now has two on the payroll.

doing the work formerly done by one man. Soon we can expect the new administrative assistant to request a secretary since he is an ex-aircraft mechanic.

Better yet the city should have brought back the laid-off building inspector or some other laid-off person from the city ranks. Poor judgment was used to hire someone in the first place, secondly, a qualified person should have been hired who needed a job, not a retired double-dipper.

Local farmers help to feed, clothe poor

Local farmers are working through the Wayne County Farm Bureau to help provide food and clothing to needy persons.

Dennis Wilkin, a farmer in Canton Township, is working closely with George Carpenter of Romulus and Elsie Fulford of Wayne on the project.

Carpenter and Fulford are coordinators of Project AIM for the Farm Bureau. AIM is an acronym for Agriculture Involved in Michigan.

Wilkins recently sold a truckful of shelled corn and used the money received from the sale as a donation to Wayne County Farm Bureau's Project AIM.

Wayne County is not a large farming county anymore, Fulford said, but Farm Bureau members are trying to help through Project AIM, with cash donations to help local soup kitchens and food closets to feed the hungry and needy in this time of need.

The coordinators and Farm Bureau board members have been urging each member to solicit cash donations or food items to help feed the hungry.

Anyone wishing to help this project can mail a check, made payable to Wayne County Farm Bureau — Project AIM, to Wayne County Farm Bureau at 35613 Michigan Avenue, Wayne 48184.

Free service, less taxes too?

To the editor:

I've just finished reading Tom Baer's column in the Observer. "Is Winning at all costs worth the sacrifice?" is an excellent piece of work.

What really caught my eye was the second part regarding physical education in the schools. A woman becomes concerned because her daughter becomes exhausted after one trip down a basketball court, and she blames the schools! She even wants principals to teach physical education to her daughter.

I'll bet the mom wants her child bused to school or drives her there herself — right up to the front door, too. In these difficult economic times, why is it people want less taxes, more "free" services, and are so willing to tell others what everyone else should be doing? Why doesn't this woman walk, or better yet jog, with her daughter to and from school and save everybody time and money?

Enjoyed column on supermarket

To the editor:

Just a little note to tell you how much I have enjoyed reading W.W. Edgar's column, "The Stroller," in the Observer.

It is one column that has been followed faithfully since living out here from our move from Dearborn Heights. The Stroller's down-memory-lane stories are delightful and especially the March 14 column regarding supermarkets. It is frustrating, but one must feed the body — your columns feed and delight the mind.

Soup report is appreciated

To the editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to commend reporter Pat Waurzyniak for the article "Groups join to help jobless" published in the Plymouth Observer on March 7, 1983.

We are very grateful that he included not only the name of the service agencies that participated in our Bread and Soup Supper, but also the phone numbers.

It was important to our Christian Service Commission that anyone reading an account of the program would have access to this information for their own use or to pass on to a friend or neighbor. The reporter accomplished this. For that and the entire article we give him a standing ovation.

GREATEST CAUSE OF TOOTH LOSS

Lack of cavities do not necessarily indicate a healthy mouth. In fact, you can lose all your teeth while never having a cavity. How? From "periodontal disease" - the greatest single cause of tooth loss in adults!

Periodontal disease is a condition involving gums, the tissues around the teeth, and even the supporting bone in advanced cases. Some of the symptoms are loosening of teeth, or bleeding, red, flabby or swelling gums.

In most cases, there is little or no pain at first, making it easy to convince yourself that there is nothing really wrong. Be aware of a passive attitude. It is estimated that 95% of the population has some kind of gum disease at some time in life, mostly after age 35.

There are home care regimens to prevent periodontal disease and dental treatments to stop it. But there is only one way to catch the problem. Get treatment in time - before serious damage is done.

Rocks slide in regionals, lose to Detroit Western

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

An equation for success on a basketball court: Force your opponent to make mistakes.

Then capitalize on them.

Plymouth Salem got the first part right. The Rocks forced Detroit Western to commit 25 miscues in their first-round state regional tournament game Thursday at Eastern Michigan University. But Salem failed to take advantage of enough of those opportunities.

Summation: A 53-49 Western victory.

The season-ending loss left the Rocks with a sparkling 21-3 mark. Western was 16-6 going into Saturday's regional final against Antoine Joubert and Detroit Southwestern.

After falling behind early, Salem stormed back to within four at the start of the fourth quarter but never overtook the Cowboys. And, ultimately, the Rocks' inability to cash in on several scoring opportunities in that last quarter cost them the victory.

IT WAS A GUTTY final-game performance for Salem. Playing away from home for the first time in eight games, the Rocks came out tight, and, as coach Fred Thomann admitted, it took them awhile to adjust defensively.

The Cowboys scored six points before Salem got a shot at the basket and led, 18-10, after one quarter.

A blowout was clearly a possibility after Western outpointed the Rocks, 9-3, in the first 3½ minutes of the second quarter to take a 14-point advantage. But Salem bolted back with a 12-1 rush before the half and trailed by just three, 28-25, at the intermission.

It was at that point that it appeared Salem would take control of the game. But it never happened.

"OUR KIDS ARE battlers," Thomann said of the second-quarter comeback. "They don't know how to pack it up."

"Two years in a row we got to that game (regional opener) and were in a situation where a team could blow us out. But we made it close. That says a lot for our kids and the way they deal with adversity."

"It would be fantastic if we could win that game, but we didn't."

What momentum Salem gained with its second-quarter flurry was lost in the first four minutes of the third. The Rocks didn't score a point until John Cohen's basket with 3:40 left in the period.

Still, they trailed by just 37-33 entering the fourth quarter. What Thomann called "a coaching mistake — it was my fault" cost the Rocks a basket in the early moments, as Western's Richard Hunter grabbed the ball off the tip and layed it in for a 39-33 Cowboy lead.

"SOMEONE IS supposed to guard against that," Thomann said. "But I didn't designate who to do it. It was my fault."

But Salem opportunities came. Western scored its last field goal of the game with 6:05 remaining. The rest of its points came at the free-throw line.

On three straight possessions, the Cowboys turned the ball over. Salem scored nary a point.

Matt Broderick pilfered two passes but missed short jumpers. Dave Houle picked off another pass but had his layup blocked. Erich Hartnett nabbed an offensive rebound; later he made a clean steal. Both times he allowed the ball to dribble off his hands and out of bounds.

All isolated instances, but together they proved catastrophic.

JOHN COHEN turned in another superlative effort off the Salem bench. The 6-foot-4 senior poured in 19 points, hitting eight of 12 chances from the floor.

But Salem did not shoot consistently — next highest scorers were Marvin Zurek and Houle with eight apiece. The Rocks were 22 of 51 for the game (43 percent), including a dismal 10 of 26 in the second half (38.5 percent).

Western built its first-half lead behind a hot-shooting performance from the floor. The Cowboys were 13 of 19 in the first two quarters (68.4 percent) be-

Trio of state champions lead area mat squad

A championship team and three state champions headline the 1982-83 All-Observer wrestling team.

Redford Catholic Central, coached by Mike Rodriguez, grabbed its sixth Class A title two weeks ago in Lansing as Jeff Alcala and Matt Raedle ruled their respective weight divisions.

As a team, CC also captured numerous invitational titles in addition to the Catholic League and district crowns.

Two other CC wrestlers join Alcala and Raedle on this year's first team. The Shamrocks also landed six grapplers on the second team.

Plymouth Salem, a 10th-place state finisher, put three wrestlers on the first team including two-time state champ John Beaudoin. The Western Lakes champs had one other team member on the second team.

Westland John Glenn, Northwest Suburban League champs (NSL), placed two on the first team and one on the second.

Four other schools also are represented.

Here are the best wrestlers by weight class as selected recently by area coaches:

FIRST TEAM

Kevin Richardson, Garden City,

heavyweight. A two-time state qualifier, Richardson reached the finals in his division before losing.

He compiled a 44-7 record as a senior and was first in four invitational tournaments, first in the NSL and second at the regional.

Richardson recorded 30 falls, 21 coming in the first period while going undefeated in dual meets.

Rick Vershave, Plymouth Salem, 98 pounds. The Salem junior won 31 matches and pinned 11 opponents.

He was most impressive in tournaments, winning the Western-Lakes, placing second in the district and gaining fourth in the regional.

Vershave was fourth or better in 10 tournaments.

Tom Gibson, Westland John Glenn, 105. Gibson closed out his career with 99 wins after going 34-7-1 this season.

A two-year state qualifier, Gibson won two invitationals, captured the NSL title, grabbed second in the tough Temperance-Bedford District and placed third at the regional.

This is Gibson's second All-Area honor of the year. He was a standout in cross country.

Mike Palajac, Redford Catholic Central, 112. The senior co-captain was a heavy contributor to CC's state title run.
