FOREST BROOK HOMEOWNERS Association will have a general meeting and election of officers at 7 p.m. today in the meeting room at the Canton Public Library

A FITNESS BIKE RIDE will begin at 10:30 a.m. Saturday along Edward Hines Drive in Plymouth for people 12 years of age and older.

Entry fee is $7. Participants will receive a T-shirt and certificate. Class distance winners will receive medals.

The event is sponsored by Don Massey Cadillac and Growth Works, a youth services organization. For information, call 455-4095.

Canton, a safety patroller at Field Elementary School, will tour the state capitol in Lansing May 24-26

The youth, 10, will be among 107 of the state's top patrollers on the tour, sponsored by the Automobile Club of Michigan. Each patroller participating was selected by his or her school district.

CANTON HAS arrived. Though 1984 will mark its sesquicentiennial, it took until last week for the township of 48,616 people to be placed on the map. Celebrating the event at township hall Monday were Supervisor James Poole state Reps. Edward Mahalak and Gerald Law. The Canton Senior Citizen Kitchen Band entertained, and 1,000 copies of the state's official new map were given away. Canton joins a select group of only three other Michigan townships -Redford, Waterford and Clinton which due to populations at or near 50,000 or more - have earned their ink on the map.

HATS OFF to the volunteers officially recognized last week by the Plymouth Canton School Board. "You all are individuals who have made a decision to give of vourselves to benefit others " School Board President Tom Yack told the gathering at Volunteer Recognition Night last Tuesday. "We wish to formally thank you for your efforts.

in an interview Friday he was "surprised to hear" residents are disgruntled. "I haven't been informed by the police department, the township board or by any citizens that there's been any problem," said Soenen.

"I did call a member of the township board after hearing through a third party that there were residents complaining at a tax review meeting. I was told the problem really related to the tax assessment and why they felt their tax assessments may have been too high Explained Bartz, "We went to the board of review this year because we really got a big raise in our taxes. Center Stage is not an asset to anyone living around here - it's a detriment.

'We feel very much discriminated against. It's beyond me how they can lower taxes in subs where there are brand new houses, and raise them here.

Poole said the matter is "between them (taxpayers) and the board of review. I don't vote on that - I have nothing to do with it."

Shirley Norris, whose bedroom windows face the Center Stage parking lot 350 feet away, says "things have been quiet for the last two weeks" but she still must "put up with the drunks.

'You know how drunks are they're loud. You can't get to sleep until the bar shuts. They're always throwing litter and wrappers all over

A POLICY recently enforced at Center Stage will bar from entry persons under 21, except on specially designated "teen nights." In the past, persons aged 18-20 could patronize Center Stage. Accusations from residents had nothing to do with the policy change.

"It's strictly a business decision to concentrate on the over-21 crowd which is permitted to drink at an establishment," said Soenen

"We're shifting from more basic rock and roll to top 40 because that's the way the market is moving."

Canton police Lt. Larry Stewart said resident complaints have decreased substantially since shortly after Center Stage's opening several years ago when big name entertainment was featured regularly. Increasingly, local groups have performed at the establishment. "Every once in awhile when they have back-to-back shows, there's an overflow crowd," said Stewart.

"We want people (residing near) there to be comfortable and undisturbed. We try to keep some type of

It's pretty much agreed a new Canton police station will be built - prob-ably next to the township's administra-

THE EXISTING Geddes Road police station, originally built for other use, employs portable modular units previously used by the building department. It is cramped and inefficient, Cox maintains.

In addition, the state Department of Corrections has cited the station's prisoner lock-up area for safety deficiencies.

Several plans were drawn up by the Southfield architectural firm of Coquillard, Dolgner, Dundon and Argenta:

• Move the police operations to the basement of Township Hall. That would yield about the same amount of space, at a projected construction cost of $563,000, Gorman said.

 Keep the police station where it is, making some alterations and adding a fire station on the Herbey Road side of the building. The estimated construction cost is $1.9 million.

Embezzlement case delayed

A preliminary examination has been rescheduled to Monday, May 16, for a Plymouth woman charged with embezzling $7,600 from the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) office in Canton.

Henrietta Graye, 60, of Wolf River was charged recently with embezzlement over $100.

At the request of Graye's attorney, C. Charles Bokos, the preliminary examination in 35th District Court was postponed from May 2 to May 16. A preliminary examination determines if there ough evidence for the case to prois en ceed to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial.

ACCORDING TO reports, Graye has been employed by the MESC for about eight years. She works as a restitution clerk in the Canton branch office on Ronda Drive, near Joy and Lilley.

In her position, Graye collected delinquent unemployment payments from employers, Bokos said. Graye is charged with collecting funds, altering receipts and pocketing the difference over a two-year period, police said.

Maureen, 21 and mildly retarded, hadn't spoken for a year. A depressed 83-year-old moved in with her daughter's family, and it wasn't long before tension

The frustration-wrought attempt of two Canton parents to instill discipline and self-esteem in two children was disrupting their marriage. All were listed under "things to do today" on Canton resident Joenne McCoy's desk pad.

McCoy, a psychotherapist who last month opened the Personal Development Center of Plymouth, routinely finds solutions to such problems by "taking the sick connotation out of the title mental health clinic. The 42-year-old makes house calls and gives all non-medical and reminiscent of a colonial-style living room - to fit her philosophy.

"Just coming in and asking for help, people automatically feel like they're in a powerless position, so I make sure the couches and chairs are at the same level

"That way I'm not looking down at them," said McCoy, who's also a consultant for Oakwood Canton Center Hospital, area nursery schools, a hospice association, the Salvation Army and First Step, an agency for victims of spouse abuse. 'In therapy, I try to give power to individuals so they don't feel things are so unmanageable. WHEN SHE HITS an impasse with clients,

McCoy conducts therapy in libraries, restaurants and horsefarms where they feel more at ease. She took an 9-year-old girl, tormented by peers who ostracized her, to feed some horses at a Canton

"I bring people out here when nothing else works," said McCoy to a reporter while sauntering toward a barn on just such a farm in Canton. "We were throwing apples to a group of horses, and there was one in the back who wasn't being fed because the other horses were shoving him away. The child began throwing the food to just that "She didn't realize it, but that was a big breakthrough. She was projecting her troubles onto the horse," said the personable McCoy, illustrating the "play therapy" she often uses. "She talked about the horse as though it was herself, and we worked out her problem. If we had talked about her feelings, that never would have come out.

"Her mom said her behavior's really improved and I don't even see her anymore," added McCoy, who taught in the Livonia, Garden City and Wayne-Westland school districts for nine years before enrolling in U-M's clinical social work program.

Though the going rate for psychotherapy is $60 an hour, a large portion of which insurance compa nies will pick up, McCoy charges clients what they can afford. "I feel that's too much," she said.

"I go according to their ability to pay - whatever works out. People's financial situations change, especially with this economy. People who could have paid are now unemployed, but I still see them," said McCoy, who carries a caseload of 20.

No words can describe the sublime pleasure of homemade ice cream. Real cream and milk, fresh-fruit, chocolate and a few other ingredients effortlessly processed can turn this mixture into a velvety, culinary delight.

PEACH MELBA ICE CREAM Yield: approx. 2 quarts

CHOCOLATE PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM

For even more enjoyment, you can create ice cream combina-tions you've only dreamed about. As the recipes indicate, there's a creamy vanilla sweetened with milk and honey or a peppermint with chocolate, crushed peppermint candy and creme de menthe Black Forest Ice Cream offers a bonanza of favorite flavors — chocolate, cherry pie filling and toasted almonds in a base of milk and whipping cream. Peach Melba? Now you can have this famous dessert in ice cream form, swjrling raspberry sauce into fresh peach ice cream just before ripening.

A two-quart appliance using ice cubes and table salt makes this possible. All you have to do is assemble the ingredients, fill the container, flick it on and soon have one of the real treats of your life.

PROCESSING TIPS

- Have on hand: four trays refrigerator ice cubes, one box table salt and two cups cold water.
- table sait and two cups cold water. Place bucket onto motor and base so drive socket engages with drive shaft. Rotate bucket until it settles in base. Pour chilled ingrédients into cream can. Liquid level should be below "fill" line to allow expansion. Stir mixture with • wooden spoon or rubber or plastic spatula to avoid
- Insert dasher into cream can. See that rounded ball-end of its center fits matching indentation at bottom of cream
- Snap transparent lid over top.
 Place loaded cream can into bucket, making sure it's enaged at bottom. Adjust support arm to fit; lock in place. Fill ice bucket with one cup water and one layer ice. Sprinkle six tablespoons salt over ice.

- Plug in motor, Begin building freezing mixture with re-maining ice and salt to fill bucket. Pour remaining one cup water over top of ice/salt mixture. The processing time is called churn-freezing, i.e. churning
- while mixture freezes. Churn-freezing time varies from 20 to 50 minutes. Motor
- will labor and slow down toward end. Do not process more than 50 minutes.
- · Unplug; remove support arm and bucket. Wipe away ice
- Unpig; remove support arm and outcet, mpe away ice and salt from lid before removing dasher. If desired, remove ice cream and pack into freezer con-tainers; freeze to ripen. During ripening, flavors will blend and develop while ice cream hardens to desired consis-
- More salt than indicated shortens processing time but produces coarser texture. Less salt means slower processing but finer texture.

- 3/4 cup honey 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 tablespoon pure vanilla extract 1 1/2 cups whipping cream
 - Crushed sweetened fresh strawberries

Beat eggs until foamy in a large mixing bowl. Gradually add honey; beat at low speed until well blended. Gradually blend in milk and vanilla. Chill at least 30 minutes. Whip cream until it forms soft peaks; fold into chilled mixture. Churn-freeze, using slightly greater portion of salt to ice than for other ice creams. After freezing, transfer ice cream to a freezer container. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving. Serve topped with crushed strawberries.

BLACK FOREST SWIRL ICE CREAM

Yield: approx. 2 quarts

ICE CREAM:

3 cups milk

2 cups whipping cream

- 3/4 cup sugar

- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract

For ice cream, combine all ingredients in freezer can. Stir until sugar is dissolved, Chill at least 30 minutes. Churn-freeze. While ice cream is churning, combine all ingredients for sauce. Chill. After freezing, transfer ice cream to freezer container alternating layers of ice cream with chilled sauce. Swirl each layer with a spatula for marbled effect. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving.

MELBA SAUCE: (Yield: approx. 1 cup) 1 package (10 oz.) frozen raspberries in

- juice, thawed
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- Dash salt
- 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice

ICE CREAM:

- 1 1/2 cups mashed fresh peaches (blanched and peeled)*
- 1 1/2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice Sugar
 - 2 cups whipping cream
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 3/4 cup sugar
 - 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 4 drops yellow food color, if desired
- 2 drops red food color, if desired

For sauce, drain raspberries, reserving juice. Add water to make 2/3 cup liquid. Combine raspherry liquid, cornstarch and salt in a small saucepan. Heat to boiling, stirring frequently. Cook 2 additional minutes, stirring occasion-ally. Stir in lemon juice. Press raspberries through a sieve. Stir pureed mixture into sauce. (Discard seeds, etc. in sieve). Cool and chill. For ice cream, combine peaches and lemon juice. Sweeten to taste. Combine whipping cream, milk, sugar, extracts and salt in a large mixing bowl. Stir in peaches and food color. Chill about 1 hour. Churn-freeze. After freezing, transfer ice cream to freezer container, alternating layers of ice cream with cooled sauce; swirl each layer with a spatula for marbled effect. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving.

NOTE:

*If fresh peaches are not available, you can substitute 1 1/2 cups mashed frozen sliced unsweetened peaches that have been thawed and drained.

Yield: approx. 2 quarts

- 1 1/3 cups sugar
- 4 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 cups milk
- 3 squares (1-oz. each)
- unsweetened chocolate
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 1/2 cups whipping cream
- 1/4 cup white creme de menthe 1 cup finely crushed
- peppermint candy

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in heavy 2-quart saucepan. Stir in milk until smooth. Add chocolate squares, Bring to boiling over medium heat, stirring frequently. Boil and stir 2 minutes. (Chocolate does not completely dissolve; the mixture looks very speckled. This does not affect the finished product). Stir a small amount of hot mixture into eggs. Return to saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about 1 minute. Do not boil. Remove from heat. Place mixture in a large mixing bowl. Beat on medium speed of mixer until mixture becomes smooth and all the chocolate is dissolved. Mix in whipping cream. Chill several hours or overnight. Stir in creme de menthe. Churn-freeze. When mixture begins to thicken, gradually add peppermint candy through the add-ingredient feature. After freezing, transfer ice cream to a freezer container. Ripen in freezer 2 hours before serving.

968 That Was The Year That Was

The first part of May marks our 15th year in business in the Farmington area. At this time, I would like to personally thank the many customers who helped me grow into the largest office supply in the Farmington area. In 1968, I started with 1,000 square feet. Today we have 14,000 square feet of area to give not only a fine selection of office supplies and office furniture, but good old fashioned service as well.

I thought you might be interested in some 1968 trivia: my children were 7-5-2 years of age; the mayor of Farmington was Wilbur V. Brotherton; coffee was 3 lbs. for $1.49; the governor of the State of Michigan was George Romney; a four bedroom colonial home in Farmington was $36,000; movies were 60°; I had a brush hair cut; my first day sales were $12.22; the Founder's Festival was in its fourth year; Denise Vidusic, my buyer, was in the 8th grade; Federal Department Store just opened; Ed Lane shot par jolf; Farmington road was a two-lane road; the Tigers were World Champions; Joe Schmidt was coach of the Lions; savings accounts earned 4 and ¾%; a 22-inch rotary mower cost $39.88; Pork roast was 48° lb.; a 1968 Mustang cost $1539; an Impala $2398; Katherine Hepburn won an academy award for best actress in "Guess Who's Coming To Dinner'': John Pastor, my driver, was playing in a sand box; my wife, father and former sales manager said I was crazy for going into business...now I wished had listened to their advice; President of the U.S.A. was L. B. Johnson; and, finally, the cost of sending a first class letter was 6*. I am looking forward to continuing service to the Farmington Community. Robert F. Christ

Community Chorus readies for concert

Earl and Gloria Downing are soloists in the Plymouth Community Chorus' Spring Concert this Saturday and Sunday.

By Elinor Graham staff writer

"We're Gonna Make Music" (from the song of the same name) is the title of the Plymouth Community Chorus spring concert. The chorus, directed by Michael Gross, will perform Saturday and Sunday evenings in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School. Curtain time is 7 p.m. for both performances.

Soloists and their numbers are Gayle Lang, "Love is Where You Find It;" Sherry Northway, "Memory" from the Broadway show "Cats;" Vicky Morrissey, "Fools Rush In;" Chris Stopa, Melissa Manchester's "Come in from the Rain;" and Nola Bonandini in "Over the Rainbow.'

Earl and Gloria Downing will com-bine voices for a selection from "Fiddler on the Roof." Dick Schaw will do the baritone solo in the classic "Ol Man River."

GROSS HAS programmed a variety of selections for the concert. As the chorus has grown in voices and quality, its audiences have increased accordingly. Fans demanded two instead of just one performance of the spring and Christmas concerts, filling the auditorium each night. The director's programming skill, as well as his enthusiastic leadership, have built up concert attendance. The chorus will sing the title song, "We're Gonna Make Music," by Don Besig; "Georgia on my Mind," arranged by Kirby Shaw; "Tribute to Louis Armstrong," arranged by Roy Ringwald; the spiritual, "Home on that Rock," arranged by Kirby Shaw, "Over the Rainbow," arranged by Roger Emerson; "Bridge over Troubled Water," arranged by Paul Simon. They will sing a Roger Emerson arrangement of "Aquarius/Let the Sunshine In," and a novelty number, "Please Don't Smoke," by Carl Strom-

Mendelssohn's "He's Watching Over Israel" from Elijah, "Seeds Grow to Plants" by John Rutter, the old favorite "Cheek to Cheek" by Irving Berlin and a stirring arrangement of "Ol' Man River" will complete the program.

THE CHORAL Expression, a 19voice group of singers from the chorus will perform. This small ensemble performs at functions that cannot accommodate the full 125-voice chorus. Margaret Racer is accompanist for Choral

Tuition hikes shock House committee chairman

State Rep. Wilfred Webb, a man who hooses his words carefully, confessed he was "in a state of shock" last week when university presidents told him

"I had hoped we could hold the line or even get reductions," said Webb, D-Hazel Park, whose district includes part of Troy. "That certainly is going to be a goal of mine."

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Rain does funny things to people. Showers come pouring down and most people scurry for cover.

Most people.

Not included in that number are the 17 boys' track teams that braved the elements Saturday in the 13th annual Observerland Relays at Redford Union's Howard Kraft Field. And one team in particular seemed undaunted by the downpour that left much of the cinder track submerged. Indeed, Livonia Churchill appeared to thrive on the rain. The Chargers ignored the weather and created a storm of their own in rampaging to seven firsts in 13 events and winning the Observerland title handily.

IN CLAIMING, ITS fifth outright championship, Churchill amassed an incredible 120 team points. By comparison, Redford Catholic Central's 69 points was the winning total a year ago.

The Shamrocks did better at this Observerland than the last, coach Kevin Kavanaugh said. Their 90-point total verified that. But this year it was worth no more than second place

Put simply, Churchill was just too good. "They just ran super," said a happy but soaked Churchill coach Fred Price of his team's performance. "I didn't think they could perform that well in these conditions."

THERE WERE FEW, if any, times that Churchill was in trouble. Plymouth Salem, the 1981 Observerland winner, rang up a surprising total of 36 points in the field events and was tied with the Chargers going onto the track.

"We thought we'd get 24 points (in the field) and we got 36," said Gary Balconi, Sa-lem's coach. "We had two sophomores (Mike Harwood and Richard Pinko) record personal bests in the pole vault (an event Salem won)." Unfortunately for the Rocks, "the opposite was true on the track," Balconi admitted.

'We didn't do as well as I thought Still, the Salem coach admitted when questioned about Churchill's easy victory that "the only surprise would have been if they didn't win.

CC'S KAVANAUGH agreed. "We couldn't get away from them," he said. "Every event we scored well in, they were right there too. We didn't get any help from anyone."

Winners? Price said he "couldn't pick out any one outstanding performer" on his team. There were just too many.

Erik Hansen, a Danish exchange student and soccer player who only came out for track at the urging of teammate Bill Craw-ford, shocked the crowd when it was announced he won the open 100-yard dash in 9.6 on a puddle-covered track. As it turned out, it was actually a "93 or 94" yard dash, according to meet director John MacKenzie. The rain had confused officials and the event was started at the wrong spot.

WHATEVER, HANSEN was impressive. He also anchored the Chargers' winning 880 relay, with Bob Thomas, Larry Blais and Paul DeFlorio (1:36.3), and the sprint medley, with Thomas, Blais and Crawford (2:37.8).

Other Charger winners included the team of Tim Luch, Dave Mize and Mark Juodawlkis were winners in both the discus (420-3) and shot put (140-3¼) relays.

Also not to be overlooked was the victory of Churchill's Keith Oplach in the open 120 high hurdles (15.3). CC's Marty Hegarty captured the open mile run (4:51.25).

CHURCHILL ALSO won the high jump relay, with Matt Blais, Steve O'Hara and Mike Meehan tying the meet record of 18-6 set in 1981 by Farmington. CC's team of Hegarty, Pat Isom, Steve Shaver and Paul Buchanan was first in the four mile relay (18:57.0).

Salem, which finished fourth behind a latesurging Redford Bishop Borgess, won the long jump relay with Dan Lingg, Jeff Arnold and Mike White (59-0) and the pole vault relay with Lingg, Harwood and Pinko (36-6).

Stevenson Thursday. But they made it close, scoring five times in the opening frame and then holding on for a 5-4 victory that kept them unbeaten in five Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) games.

Some sloppy Spartan play helped Canton's first-inning rally. Lou Ann Hamblin got the only hit of the inning, starting the surge with a single. Three walks forced in two runs, two errors on the shortstop brought in two more and another walk scored the fifth.

But the Chiefs' offense was silent after that. Stevenson got one run back in the bottom of the first and two more in the second. The Spartans pulled to within one with a run in the sixth, but Canton pitcher Janine Carpenter shut them down from there to secure the win.

Carpenter allowed six hits and four walks, striking out one. Hamblin had two of Canton's four hits. Bev Irwin had two hits for Stevenson.

SALEM 16 LIV. BENTLEY 9

Terri Lesniak stepped to the mound in the seventh inning and slammed the door on a potential Livonia Bentley rally as the Rocks whipped Livonia Bentley Wednes-day at Livonia's Ford Field.

The victory was important for Salem and costly for Bentley. Both teams have one loss in Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) play.

Lesniak took over for Salem starter Leslie Etienne after Etienne walked three straight batters to start the seventh inning. On Lesniak's first pitch, Sherry Hamilton sent a line shot to Etienne, who remained in the game at second base. Etienne caught the liner and flipped to first base for a double play

Bentley pitcher Mary Ellen Mauder then ended the game on a ground out.

Neither starter was particularly sharp, issuing a total of 30 walks be-tween them (Mauder 16, Etienne 14). Salem outhit Bentley, 13-8.

The Rocks led the whole game after scoring four runs in the first inning, but Bentley closed to within one, 10-9, with a three-run surge in the bottom of the sixth. Salem retaliated with six runs in the seventh, three scoring on Pam McBride's homer, to pull out to a seven-run advantage.

Debbie Glomski and Cheryl Viele each had three hits for Salem. Sarah McKenna batted in a pair of runs with two hits. Kim Archer slammed a two-run homer in the opening inning for Bentley and later added a single. Laurie Day and Julie Young also had two hits apiece for the Bulldogs.

Janine Carpenter stymied Farmington Harrison on just two hits Wednesday to boost Canton to the WLAA victory at Canton.

Harrison got its only run in the opening inning, but Canton struck ck with four runs in the bottom of the second and coasted from there.

Carpenter started the Chief uprising with a walk, but was eliminated from the basepaths on Kris Harrison's fielder's choice. Marie Krasho-vetz followed with a single and Karen Schulte brought Harrison home with another base hit.

of those duals ended successfully for the Rocks, as they topped Monroe, 60-54, at Monroe Tuesday and then travelled to Livonia Churchill Thursday and came away with a 66-57 win.

"It's going to take awhile for us to work through the soreness of the competition," Salem coach Fred Thomann said last week of the scheduling. "We're going to see how we feel after Saturday. If we're sore we may back some people off in Tuesday's meet (at Farmington).

THE TWO MEETS last week were only the second and third of the season for the Rocks, and they remained unbeaten with the wins.

Against Churchill, Salem collected eight of 15 firsts and added six of 12 point-scoring seconds (second-place relays do not score).

Cindy McSurely and Cheri Muneio

each won a pair of individual events, McSurely capturing the high jump (5-2) and the 100-meter hurdles (15.97) and ond (15-9).

Other winners for the Rocks were Stacy Stojeba in the 100 (13.13), Carol Lindsay in the 300 hurdles (50.87) and the team of Whittaker, Lindsay, Kelly Berniss and Johnson in the 800 relay (203.56).

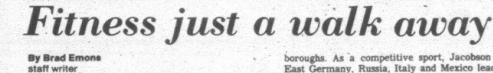

Seconds went to Lori Swearb in the 1,600 (6:03.6), Susie Balconi in the 400 (1:05.37), Shelly Simons in the 800 (2:36.47) and Bemiss in the 200 (27.91).

Johnson won the 220 (27.1) and combined for firsts with Whittaker, Lindsay and Bemiss in the 880 relay (1:51.1) and with Whittaker, Berniss and Stojeba in the 440 relay.

Stojeba raced to top honors in the 100 (12.19). Salem seconds went to McSurely in the 330 hurdles (52.97), Whittaker in the discus (88-61/2), Karen Maciniak in the shot (27-111/2), Simons in the mile (5:46.12) and Bemiss in the 220 (28 32)

Howard Jacobson is no "Sunday Stroller."

But the 52-year-old New Yorker guarantees he can get you in shape, regardless of age, by stepping up your pace through walking. Jacobson, a walking coach to Olympic athletes and consultant to the Metamucil fitness program, was in town last week to promote his booklet. "Keeping Fit Over 50 Years".

"It's a sport and an exercise," Jacobson said. "It's fantastic fitness. You use the upper body much more and it works more muscles and works off the calories, and you have just as high of a heart beat when your done

Jacobson calls walking "safer."

'It's a smooth transfer of weight with no threat of injury," he said. "A runner's foot hits the ground with an impact of 31/2 to 4 times his weight, while a walker touches down with just 11/2 times his weight.

ACCORDING TO Jacobson, a brisk 40-minute walk can burn 300 calories - the same amount used up in 30 minutes of running or swimming.

To supplement his walking program, Jacobson also recommends stepping up the amount and vari-ety of fiber in your diet, while increasing your volume of liquid intake.

The exercise is popular in New York where Jacobson founded the Walkers Club of America. He lists over 1,500 members in New York's four boroughs. As a competitive sport, Jacobson said East Germany, Russia, Italy and Mexico lead the pack.

"We hope our chapter in New York will be a model chapter for others," he said. "We're at the grass roots - kind of like soccer.

"I'm traveling all over doing clinics."

Jacobson still competes as a racewalker. He's the national Masters 30-kilometer champ and has produced at least one Olympic competitor since 1968.

"I'M 6-FEET, 145 pounds - the same weight I was in high school," Jacobson said. "As a competitive sport I like it better. I've always been a fierce competitor. I feel much stronger when I race and it's a personal feeling.

'But I don't urge anyone to race ever. There's a lot of satisfaction that can be gained without competing.'

Jacobson said it's hard to target a particular segment of America which enjoys "healthwalking" the most.

"I would say the people who walk are maybe in the 30 to 50 age bracket," he said. "And I'd say a few more women like it than men.

"I guess men still have to maintain their 'jock image.' This is a sensational exercise for women They tend to gain weight between their waist and knees and walking is great for that problem."

Jacobson, who appeared last week on WXYZ's Kelly and Company, continues to barnstorm for the next month around the U.S., promoting his exercise. And there will be no resting on Sunday.

Walking can be a great form of exercise for anybody, says Howard Jacobson, an expert on the subject.

There were two different girls' soccer games played Thursday at Livonia Bentley. And it was Bentley that got the better of both.

The Bulldogs' Amy Eichhorn slammed home a goal 10 minutes into the first half and the Bentley defense stiffened to thwart Livonia Stevenson. 2-1, in a key Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) game.

The "first game" lasted from the opening whistle until Eichhorn's game- and Colleen McQueen earned the assist vinning goal at the 10 minute mark of the first half. From that point on it was a defensive struggle, with neither team Stevenson goalie Doreen Beagle makscoring again.
