Canton adopts Supersewer contract

staff writer

The proposed construction of Supersewer, expected to cost Canton Township $39 million and Plymouth Township $6.1 million, is inching closer to reality. Both communities last week voted to adopt the dogeared contract, which once again has been amended.

The federally funded, $298 million sewer project calls for the building of a treatment plant and a 60-mile massive sewer interceptor system. Designed to wind through more than 15 western and downriver Detroit suburbs, it would become the largest such project in the Midwest.

All communities must commit to the project if it is to materialize.

Supersewer's construction jected for completion by 1988 - would employ some 3,000 people beginning in and Plymouth Township $270,000 to finance exploratory engineering and development studies

Federal funds will finance 75 per-

Huron Valley Wastewater Control System. State revenue will cover 5 percent of the cost, while local governments will finance the remainder

Water, sewer hike expected

Canton residents before long are likely to see their water and sewer rates raised. The Canton Township Board is due to consider an increase which would raise water bills from $1.85 to $2.54 per 1,000 gallons.

Currently, residents are paying rates close to those of 1978.

'Since then. Detroit has raised us 57 cents. We've only passed on two cents of that," said Supervisor James Poole at Tuesday's board meeting

'Our DPW repair fund has been depleted from $6 million to $2.5 million as a result, and no one's going to say

The average Cantonite each year now uses 130,000 gallons of water at a cost of $330 per year, estimates Trustee Carol Bodenmiller

Using the proposed Supersewer system - viewed by a majority of the township board as the most cost-ef-fective alternative — the annual cost would jump to $538 a year

How much individual users will pay in rate increases is as yet undetermined.

Currently, Plymouth and Canton Townships use Detroit's deteriorating Rouge facility.

Supersewer, to service both Wayne and Oakland county municipalities, was conceived because it is "immediately necessary and imperative for the public health, safety and welfare of residents," according to the contract.

LAUNCHING THE project has been fraught with political snags at the township, city, county and state levels. The latter was addressed by Michael Hechtman of Canton Township at Tuesday's special meeting

'The (Michigan) Department of Natural Resources tried to scuttle this (Supersewer) for a year. This is their (the DNR's) attempt to stall the project.

Board expected to adopt budget

By Scott Adle

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education tonight is expected to pass the proposed budget for the 1983-84 school year. The new budget calls for a 1.1percent decrease in projected expenditures over the previous year.

Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business, said he is confident the board will approve the budget for the upcoming school year because he met with the board in forming the budget recommendations, which include project drop in spending of $426,992 from last year.

The proposed budget totals $40,250,000 as opposed to $40,676,000 one year ago. The decrease resulted from the implementation of $655,000 in cutbacks and the enactment of a dual tax collection which is projected to save about $700,000.

The financial picture for the Plym outh-Canton schools is "much improved" over 1982-83, Hoedel said, because of the anticipation that Gov. Blanchard's state aid bill will pass the Legislature. Blanchard's proposed bill, if passed, will greatly improve state funding over the previous year.

Some of the other factors aiding in the proposed budget decrease is the expected decline in the number of fourth Friday students by 3.1 percent, or 499 students. The total number of students for the 1983-84 budget is projected at 15,800. The extended school year will be discontinued at the end of this school year. Field and Eriksson elementary schools will be completing the 1982-83 school year in August.

There are still some budget uncertainties, Hoedel said, besides the state aid, including the exact number of de-

Districts seek new uses for closed schools

ting move by the city.

staff writer

One suburban school official, who has spent the last few years dealing with school closings, sighed when he recalled how he first got started in public

"Back when I was studying school administration," he said, "they never taught us how to close a school. They just told us how to build them." But, oh how times have changed.

Since the mid-1970s, enrollment declines have led to school closings in growing numbers. Buildings once designed for the teaching of children have become new problems for school districts and neighporhoods. And those involved are left to deal with the question of finding alternate uses.

And some have been found.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON Community Schools, a growing school district throughout the '70s, will close its first school (Starkweather Elementary) because of declining enrollment in June 1984. School officials say they will turn it into a media center or adult education center or put it up for sale. In addition to closing a building, the Extended School Year (ESY), which had some students attending classes year-round to accommodate the increase in student population, is being dropped this year. And, the district, which has a five-year lease with Livonia Public Schools on Lowell Middle School, doesn't expect to renew the lease when it expires in another three years, according to Dick Egli, administrative assistant for community rela-

Although the district is experiencing declining enrollment as a whole there still are a couple of pockets which are experiencing heavy growth. As a result the district is buying a couple of portable buildings which it will locate this summer at Eriksson Elementary in southern Canton.

IN THE WAYNE-WESTLAND School District, which includes part of Canton. three more elementary schools closed down in June 1983. Five other elemen tary schools already have been closed.

Wayne-Westland Schools has made rious attempts to unload property by doing such things as "offering real estate agents a 5-percent commission if they came up with a buyer," said that district's executive director for purchasing, Manuel L. Lentine Jr. 'If there's no interest soon," he said, ctive summer days packed with swimming, boating and other great outdoor adventures are sure to rouse the appetite. And, the fun doesn't have to stop just because you are the family chef. Serving up delicious outdoor fare can be as invigorating for the cook as for the hungry crew.

The lack of kitchen conveniences at waterside doesn't have to be a problem for the chef. Surprise hungry guests with these easy, make-ahead recipes that offer an appetite pleasing change from traditional sandwiches and chips

What better way to call everyone to dinner than with the aroma of Spicy Ribs barbecuing on a portable hibachi. This simple marinated main course is started the day before so the meat is flavored and tenderized by the zesty pepper sauce. When marinating, use a rigid, tight sealed container so the ribs can be easily turned every

Curlicue Pasta Salad is a hearty side dish that can be prepared ahead and carried to the picnic in its own sealed plastic bowl. Sliced mushrooms, zucchini, red pepper and scallions add colorful accents to the neutral pasta which can be any shape. The vinaigrette dressing, applied the day before, will enhance the flavors of this tasty salad

Sweet 'N Sour Fruit is a spicy side dish prepared in a tangy vinegar sauce that is also made ahead and transportable. All foods, including the rich Double Treat Brownies, should be protected. Tupperware Educational Services Department suggests that food containers should be kept out of the sun and remain sealed until serving time to keep food safe from the elements and insects.

With these make-ahead dishes that minimize site preparation and maximize taste, dining in the great outdoors can be a memorable experience for everyone.

TIPS FOR A BETTER PICNIC

- 1. Select food for your picnic that can withstand a hot day - no cream - or mayonnaise-based dishes
- Place food in air- and liquid-tight sealed plastic containers before packing them in your ice chest. This will prevent water from melting ice from seeping into food containers.
- 3. Loose ice melts faster than block ice. Freeze water in a large square, round or rectangular plastic container. When frozen unmold and place in ice chest
- 4. For delicious but messy eating foods such as ribs or corn, bring dish towels for each guest instead of napkins.
- 5. On the boat, store food and valuables such as wallets, jewelry, keys and camera lenses in tight-sealed plastic containers. Items will stay dry and floatable in an emergency.
- 6. Put a broomstick through the handles of the picnic hamper so two people can tote the heavy load with ease.
- 7. Always bring a confainer of cold water no matter what other beverages you carry
- 8. For a day at the beach, pack towels, suntan oil and bathing suits in a large sealed container. On the way home; all wet suits and towels go back into the container - keeping the car dry and free from sand.
- 9. Use a handled, giant canister to carry nonfood necessities like insect repellent, first aid kit, matches, eating and cooking utensils.

what he would call the post office destined for the village at the end of the South Florida peninsula, he replied: "I'd name it after these pretty birds that we have around here - Flamingo.

A half-dozen families, including Brady's, lived in stilt houses surrounded by mangroves and waterways, where the long-legged pink birds waded. A decade later, flamingos quit flocking to the area from their nesting places in Cuba, the Bahamas and other nearby islands. In the early 1920s, the post office was closed when a road was opened o Florida City, a dozen miles to the northeast. In 1947, when Everglades National Park took over Flamingo, the picturesque shacks on stilts were Today, you can watch roseate spoonbills, reddish egrets, great white herons, brown pelicans, sandhill cranes, southern bald eagles, short-tailed hawks and water turkeys. Even flamingos have been spotted standing in the shallow flats of Florida Bay.

But Flamingo isn't just for the birds - it's a sherman's paradise with all the conveniences of

ALTHOUGH MY fishing exploits are limited once snagged a potato sack containing seven bass from a Texas lake - I couldn't resist the invitation to join a party of three adults and two eager boys ed by Felix, boater and angler extraordinary.

Our car pulled a 22-foot inboard with twin engines the 75 miles from Miami to Flamingo. We paid $2 for a permit that got us past the visitor center entrance to the park. Our destination was 38 miles south at the end of a two-lane road that winds hrough African-like grasslands.

The boat ramps at Flamingo are free and you can purchase fuel, ice, bait and other supplies at the marina, which has a grocery store. If you don't have a boat, you can fish from the seawall or rent a skiff and motor for as little as $38 for a full day daylight to 5 p.m.; $25 for half a day, daylight to noon or noon to 5 p.m.

It is advised not to venture too far into Florida Bay unless you are accompanied by an experienced poater or guide, who can be hired at the marina. But within 10 miles of shore there are plenty of snapper, redfish, bluefish, jack, seatrout, mackerel, sheepshead, ladyfish, snook and other varieties. lewspapers and television stations regularly re-

We were after grouper and Felix knew where they were plentiful - 50 miles west along an eightfanthom curve in the Gulf of Mexico. I wasn't overjoyed at spending another hour or so "on the road," ut the beer was cold and I saw my first porpoise in the wild break the calm waters with that familiar

I OPTED for a rod and reel while the others used a Cuban yo-yo, a large spool with line that you drop overboard and wind up when a fish is hooked. Felix bagged the first grouper; his father the next. Both youngsters pulled in a pair. Everyone caught several fish before I switched to the "spoolie." Just that quick I caught a foot-long grouper. In less than five hours, we hooked more than 100 grouper and several snapper. We used other fish as bait. As we caught the grouper, we tossed them into a special ooler that was partially filled with ice.

I ended up with a dozen fish. I also ended up with the worst sunburn in my 47 years and learned a esson: You can't sit all day under the Florida sun on clear, blue water and not expect the back of your hands and thighs to peel later. We returned to Flamingo as it was getting dark.

When it started to rain, we had to pack up in a hurry to get on the road. It would have been more pleasant to spend the night at Flamingo Inn, which is expanding this winter season to 89 motel rooms and 24 cottages in 12

CHECK OUT the stats of this year's All-Observer baseball squad. The low-est batting average of the 17 non-pitchers selected to the two teams by the area's coaches was .324. The four pitchers combined for a 24-5 record, an earned run average under 1.50 and 242 strikeouts in 221 1/3 innings.

profiles. As important as stats are, they aren't the whole story. A pitcher is only as good as the fielders behind him, and a player's batting average is as impressive as the opposition he faces:

This year, with the combining of three leagues into the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA), coaches had a better chance to see each other's talent first-hand. That contributed heavily in choosing the area's best.

Nine teams landed players on the first two teams, led by state semifinalist Plymouth Salem with five. Here's how the coaches called it - the 1983 All-Observer baseball team.

FIRST TEAM

Pitchers

Joe Taraskavage, Garden City, senior — Taraskavage was literally a one-man show for the Cougars, leading them not only on the mound but at the plate and in the dugout.

Taraskavage was team co-captain and a four-year letterman. The southpaw used a good fastball and curve to post a 7-1 record with a 1.36 ERA. He struck out 95 batters in just 67 innings.

His contributions carried over at the plate. Taraskavage, playing first base, led Garden City with a .448 batting average, knocking in 24 runs. He was an All-Northwest Suburban League (NSL) selection and will graduate in the top 10 scholastically in his class.

Don McGinlay, Livonia Stevenson, senior — Stevenson coach Jim George called McGinlay "very intense, aggressive" when it came to baseball. McGinlay proved that by blanking Farming-ton Harrison and beating a tough Plymouth Salem team, 2-1.

McGinlay was 5-1 with a 1.44 ERA, striking out 38 in 43 innings. Perhaps his best asset was his control - he walked just six. According to George, McGinlay, Stevenson's MVP, was the main reason why we were able to win the Lakes Division championship this season in the WLAA." McGinlay was an All-WLAA pick.

Dave Slavin, Plymouth Salem, senior Slavin simply would have been a first-team selection in anyone's book.

He committed three errors during the season and led a Salem team that hit 337 with a 519 average. Slavin drove in 45 runs and blasted six homers. The four-year starter was named to All-League, as well as All-Area, teams both his junior and senior

His ability was recognized on a statewide scale when he was named co-captain of the Michigan All-Star team.

Tim Filary, Westland John Glenn, senior — Filary, a first baseman, topped the Observerland hitting scale and set four Glenn records in a superlative senior season. The All-NSL pick also was named to the All-State second

And with good reason. Filary batted 537 with two homers and 18 RBIs. He was even better in NSL play, hitting a lofty .610. In one streak he went 10-for-10. He finished his three-year career with a .387 mark. His NSL, season and career batting averages and his 10game streak are all Glenn records.

Mick Madsen, Plymouth Salem, senior - This All-Area stuff is old hat to

A three-year starter, Madsen played shortstop this season and was chosen to the All-Observer team for the third straight year. Speed was Madsen's greatest attribute to the Salem team together with a .423 batting average.

Madsen made nine errors during the season (.905 fielding average) and was an All-Lakes Division selection. He stole eight bases for the Rocks.

Don Taylor, Redford Union, junior -Taylor topped RU in lots of offensive categories: batting average (.444), hits (24) and both on-base and slugging percentages

His talent didn't end there. Playing econd base, he also had the team's best fielding average. An All-NSL selection, Taylor, a two-year starter, also excelled in the classroom with a 3.2 grade point average.

Paul Krol, Garden City, junior -Krol's arm and range at shortstop helped the Cougars to an exceptional season in the NSL. Krol collected 31 hits in 77 at-bats, a .403 average, driving in 18 runs and scoring 23.

Krol is not a new discovery - he's been an All-NSL choice in each of the past two seasons

Outfielders

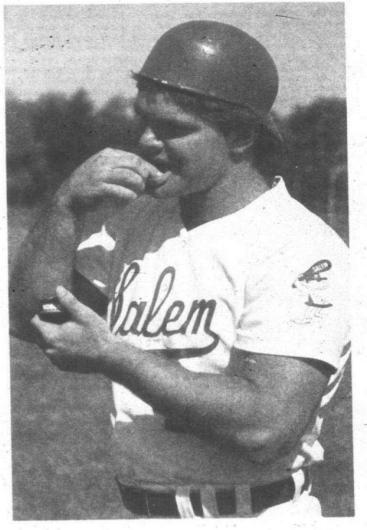

Bryan Capnerhurst, Plymouth Canton, senior — Capnerhurst has lettered for three years on the potent Canton squad, and this season combined outstanding fielding with clutch hitting and excellent power at the plate. An All-WLAA pick, Capnerhurst batted 368 with 25 RBIs. His baseball days are far from over — he'll take his talent to either Moorehead State or Crowder (Missouri) Junior College this Jeff Gatt, Redford Catholic Central, senior - Gatt was the offensive heart of the Catholic Central baseball team.

The senior center fielder was errorless during the season and was the Shamrocks' top hitter with a .333 average. Gatt collected 30 hits and 16 RBIs,

It wasn't just tobacco Salem's Dave Slavin chomped on this season. The senior catcher chewed up the opposition for a .519 aver-

Slavin: 2 hitters in 1

"He hits enough for two people." The remark by Plymouth Salem baseball coach Brian Gilles was not intended to shock. It was not a boast. It was simple fact.

Dave Slavin does hit enough for two. Slavin, the Salem catcher for the past four seasons, hit .519 for the Rocks this season. But his run production was even more impressive. The sturdy backstop drove in 45 runs nearly twice as many as anyone else in the Observer coverage area. Those figures were the reason that Slavin was the unanimous choice for first team all-area catcher. No other player was so honored by the area's coaches. Slavin was out of town last week, playing for the Michigan All-Stars in a game against the Illinois All-Stars. He was also a recent choice to the Michigan coaches' All-State first team coach smile - as long as Slavin were on his side. Besides his impressive offensive abilities, he also committed just three errors for a .982 fielding average (going into the state semifinals).

SLAVIN'S STATS would make any

"When he got up to bat, you could see something was going to happen," Gilles said. "I gave him the hit sign even when it was 3-0. When guys were on base, he was that much more intense.

Although his talent is immense, Slavin "worked very hard to get where he is," Gilles said.

"He's very coachable. He started for us for four years, and I-don't remember him ever coming out and giving less than 100 percent."

Slavin's baseball future is still undetermined. He was drafted by the Cincinnati Reds organization, but college baseball is a possibility.

"Besides being a great player, he's a great kid," Gilles said. "He's the kind that always has a smile on his face.

To opposing pitchers, that smile almost always spelled disaster.

The victory improved Adray's record to 8-2-1, while Garden City remained winless through its first 12 games.

John Judge did much of the damage for Adray, knocking in five runs with a three-for-four performance. Randy Baringer and Greg Everson each had two hits, Everson driving in a run, and Mike MacDonald slammed a two-run homer in the third. The mercy rule was invoked after the sixth inning.

Michigan National Bank scored a run in the fourth on Dale Vaquera's single and added another in the sixth on John Bolen's base hit.

The win lifted RWA to 9-0-2. Michigan National Bank is 5-3-2.

SUNDAY (JUNE 19), RWA swept a pair from Garden City, winning the opener, 10-2, and the nightcap, 2-1, at Capitol Park.

Mike Williamson drove in three RWA runs with three hits. Zentgraf, the league's RBI leader, added two more to his total on one hit. Carl Ruffino collected three hits. Tony DeMare and

Jeff Valdez had two apiece. Bob Milligan's two-run homer in the fifth accounted for both Garden City runs. Paul Krol had two hits for the Charlie Johnson went all the way for the pitching victory.

The second game was a different story, as RWA scraped for two runs in the fifth to win it. Kevin Schwanz was safe on an error. DeMare singled him to third. DeMare stole second before Phil Shailer's ground out scored one run. John Skinner followed with a single, bringing home the game-winner.

Spree boxers spout talent

They weren't quite Craig Paynes, but a new crop of Livonia Boxing Club fighters showed promise at the Spree 33 amateur boxing show Wednesday night at Edgar Arena.

The crowd, estimated at 400, was certainly entertained by the 17-bout card. The most notable absence, however, was Payne, Livonia's superheavyweight who has pleased boxing fans in past shows.

Payne is in Colorado Springs prepar-ing for this weekend's National Sports Festival. The Olympic hopeful won the gold medal last year.

"For a lot of these kids it was their first fight," said LBC coach Paul Soucy. "They went in there and took the heat and some found out it's not a picnic. Some will have to go back and train a little more seriously.

Soucy's club won five of 11 bouts.

MIKE DARDING of the LBC, who has national experience, won his bout at

125 pounds, decisioning Joe Lowe, one of three brothers from Sarnia, Ontario, on the card. Other LBC winners included Ed Mer-lo (80 pounds), who decisioned Allie Khalie of Dearborn; Craig Wilson (139), a split decision over Michael Williams of Detroit Continental; Sanjay Batra (147), a major decision over Jim Ayers of Detroit Eight Street Gym; and Gary Villemont (156), who decisioned a taller Willie Smith of Detroit Johnson.

"I thought Batra fought a nice fight," Soucy said, "and Mike Dardini looked good and had an excellent fight.

"And Gary Villemont, for a 30-yearold man, fought a nice fight for only the second time out. He showed a lot of heart and showed age is not always against you."

DROPPING DECISIONS from the LBC were Kevin Tripodi, 95 pounds; Jeff Zebly, 139, John Gargaro, 165, John Larkin, 160, Jeff Paciak, 136, and Hugh Larkin, heavyweight.

"We tested some new kids knowing that we would lose our share," Soucy said. "I'm not disappointed at all."

Larkin, for instance, competed in only his second heavyweight bout. (He lost a desision to Arthur Jewell of Johnson Recreation). Larkin, who attended Birmingham Brother Rice, plays Junior A hockey in Windsor and was a fifth round draft pick two years ago of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

A bout which drew a few sparks on the hot evening occurred late on the card when Brandon Lowe (of Sarnia) took on Eighth Street's Tim McCalvin at 125 pounds.

McCALVIN appeared to hold a wide lead for the first two rounds, but Lowe, despite his nose bleeding profusely, battled back and finished with a flurry of combinations During the third round, friends and families of the two combatants tried to hold their own Spree near ringside. A shouting match between the two parties suddenly erupted into a skirmish, but Spree boxing security personnel quickly quelled the disturbance. Lowe, incidentally, was annot the winner on a split decision.

Champs hold off challenge to retain title

It was no easy feat, but John Domka, Gary Palis and Mike Schwindeman successfully defended their championship last week in the annual Canton Festival Golf Tournament at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

The winning trio combined for a 62 in the scrambles competition, nipping three teams that shot 63.

Paul Deedler and Lowell and Murray Hole carded a 63, finishing second according to the tie-breaking system. Terry and Tim O'Neil and Jamie Stuart had a 63 and earned third, while Noel Culbert, Norm Kinzel and David Carroll placed fourth with their 63.

Stuart won the closest-to-the-pin contest. Bill Smith smacked the longest drive.

Then, Lester tries to evoke laughs by resorting to quotes from other films. There's a repeat of the James Cagney/Mae Marsh grapefruit-in-the-face routine and a spoof on "Patton" with Richard Pryor dressed as the general. Pryor, as computer wizard Gus Gorman, is the best thing that happened to this movie. What little zip and spunkiness "Superman possesses comes from Pryor, who always invests his characters with much more than scripts dictate.

At the beginning of the film he is among the rag-tag unem ployed. He has just run out of benefits. He impulsively signs up for computer-programming course and discovers his true genius. His inspired manipulations with the payroll gets him an expense check for more than $80,000 and brings him to the attention of the corporation's scheming president, Ross Webster. Webster then en-
