Y mulls expanding services

The Plymouth Community Family YMCA has started an investigation into the feasibility of a full-service Y building to serve the Plymouth, Canton and Northville area.

Since 1961, when the YMCA was established in this area, its administrative staff has been located in downtown Plymouth in rented offices, and its classes and activities have been offered in rented and donated facilities such as school buildings and the Oddfellows Hall.

Because of limited space or the unavailability of certain facilities, said executive director Janet Luce, the Y has been able to provide only some of the services and activities needed by the community.

With the Y's own building this situation will be improved, she added, and the Y will offer a full array of services and activities for the members of its service area.

A demographic report and marketing survey have determined that individuals in the Y service area are interested in and would support a full-service Y building, said Al Calille, YMCA Board vice president.

The Y is seeking suitable property in the Plymouth, Canton, Northville area for a building and for outside recreational features.

More specific details will be announced in the near future, Calille said.

At the time those details are known, a fund-raising drive to obtain the necessary money to finance the proposed building will be undertaken.

Luce said Y officials know the people of the service area will support and provide assistance to the Y in this major project because a full-service Y building will be an asset to the Plymouth, Canton and Northville communities.

Board members attack new school drug plan

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

The drafting of a middle school drug policy at last may be over, but debate on the subject is not.

Before approving the first posting of the policy at last week's meeting, members of the Plymouth-Canton School Board locked horns when discussing police intervention.

According to the middle school drug policy — the first ever in the district — students caught using alcohol and/or drugs will face the following:

- On the first offense, a three-day suspension, parental receipt of a letter outlining the drug policy, mandated involvement of parents and students in an intervention program, and optional police involvement.
- The second offense carries a five-day suspension, participation in an intervention program and mandatory police involvement.

- Upon the third offense, the school board would be petitioned to expel the drug user, and law enforcement will be notified.

The recently adopted high school drug policy is similar but doesn't call for mandatory police involvement with drug users.

In an original draft of the middle school policy, police intervention was mandated by the first offense.

Meetings with the substance abuse committee and local law enforcement officers resulted in delaying police involvement until the second offense.

Both that agreement, and the lack of police intervention at the high school level, bother newly re-elected school board trustee Roland Thomas. They signal "a shirking of responsibility" on the part of law enforcement, he said.

"I have a problem with this. If these kids are breaking a law, and if we don't mandate it (police intervention), this community will not learn the extent of the problem."

"You must confront the problem."

Nic Cooper, chairman of the high schools' substance abuse committee, said in defense, "you've got to consider the age of the young people and the viability of what's happening in court with a 16- versus 13-year-old in middle school. (Involving the police) isn't as consequential a move at the high school level as it is for the middle school student."

Sewer project in jeopardy

Suburban officials in western Wayne and Oakland counties were conferring with lawyers this week after the state Department of Natural Resources dealt a body blow to their "super sewer" project.

DNR last week denied $35 million of the $40 million in first-year federal funds to start phase one of the project.

"This was not unanticipated," said a disappointed Duane Egeland, director of the Wayne County Department of Public Works and guiding light of the super sewer project.

Egeland said County Executive William Lucas, corporation counsel John O'Hair and local officials would decide whether to seek an injunction against DNR because of the money they have already pumped into the $298 million total project. Canton and Plymouth townships, in particular, are affected.

Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy was pondering the same question.

SUPER SEWER, officially known as the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System, would wind through 15 Oakland and western Wayne county communities, transporting sewage through 60 miles of interceptors into a massive treatment plant at the mouth of the Huron River in Brownstown Township.

Currently, the city of Plymouth, Canton and Plymouth Townships use Detroit's Rouge interceptor sewer.

Two political factors apparently were to blame for the setback, Egeland said.

Sentencing soon on sex charge

A Pierce Court man will be sentenced July 8 on a charge of attempted criminal sexual conduct in the second degree.

In a plea-bargaining agreement, Vern Francis Stitt, 33, recently pleaded guilty in Wayne County Circuit Court to a reduced charge of attempted criminal sexual conduct in the second degree. He could receive up to 7½ years in prison.

ACCORDING TO Canton police, Stitt undressed in front of two neighbor girls and coaxed them to touch him.

Police earlier had charged Stitt with two counts of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree. The second count was dismissed in the plea-bargain agreement.

The assaults took place in Stitt's apartment in the Fellows Creek complex near Ford and Sheldon during 1981 and '82, but came to light recently, police said.

Both girls are now around 7 years old.

MEANWHILE, THE parents of one of the victims June 20 filed a civil lawsuit in circuit court against Stitt. The lawsuit asks unspecified damages in excess of $10,000.

The lawsuit was confirmed by Jim Dempsey, a claims manager with Michigan Mutual Liability Insurance Co. in Dearborn. Stitt, who has a renter's insurance policy with the firm, is asking Michigan Mutual to represent him in the lawsuit, Dempsey said.

Fidge hurdles membership problem in SEMCOG

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Despite Plymouth Township's departure from the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), Trustee Lee Fidge has been elected to two positions in the organization.

Fidge was surprised at SEMCOG's recent "votes of confidence." She was elected to the organization's Regional Clearinghouse Committee (RCC) and voted to the vice chair position on the Area Wide Quality Board.

"To me they were saying, 'Hey, Lee you've done one hell of a job. No matter what your community has done to you, you're doing good work,'" Fidge said.

Earlier this year the township board voted to discontinue its membership in SEMCOG, thus ending Fidge's role as the township representative to that group.

The RCC is a 14-member committee that evaluates and makes recommendations on projects submitted to federal agencies for grant monies.

However, even though her township isn't a member, Fidge was almost unanimously re-elected to the RCC one week ago - only one representative voted against her.

"It required a clarification of the by-laws for this to happen," Fidge said. SEMCOG officials interpreted the by-laws to mean that RCC members only must be an elected official from their community, with no regard to the community's membership in SEMCOG.

"I was hoping the vote would be a judgment of what I have done in past years. Some members felt my township needed their hands slapped for not joining," she said.

"That was just the frosting on the cake," Fidge said. "They want someone who is knowledgeable on issues and knows the area for that position. I consider it a very high compliment," she said.

The quality board deals with environmental issues such as water, solid waste, facilities planning and ground water contamination. As vice chair Fidge will chair several of the sub-committees she serves on.

"Usually I like the work part of committees, not so much the top chair position. For some reason I just don't like those chair positions."

Fidge's work with the RCC and Area Wide Quality Board is done on a voluntary basis. "Our only pay is a sandwich and beverage at the meeting, because we usually meet during lunch."

Her job with the watershed council is a paying position. "Getting these two positions is quite a vote of confidence, since my township did not rejoin SEMCOG," she said.

Purse snatched from Samaritan

A woman who gave a ride to a disabled motorist was rewarded by having her purse snatched late last week.

An "Ani" woman driving near Ford and Haggerty early Thursday was flagged down by a man who said he had an accident with his car and needed a ride, police said.

The man, who had a cut forehead, got into the victim's car. As they drove south on Haggerty, the man grabbed her purse containing $6, jumped out of the car and ran away, police said.

OFFICERS FOUND a car with a broken windshield in a ditch at Lotz and Warren roads. They subsequently arrested the car's owner, 23-year-old Donald Rambo of Stafford. The purse minus the money — was recovered, police said.

Rambo was arraigned Thursday in 35th District Court on a charge of larceny from a person. Judge James Garber entered a not guilty plea in Rambo's behalf.

Bond was set at $10,000 cash. Preliminary examination in district court will be July 7.

Larceny from a person carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison upon conviction.

Sewer project in jeopardy

Outstate cities saw too much of a short supply of federal funds going into southeastern Michigan, where there are already several treatment plants. DNR's decision to hold back $35 million puts outstate projects on the front burner.

Wayne County and the city of Detroit have a dispute over whether and how much sewage the western communities must send into the Detroit treatment plant. "Detroit claims all sewage must go to Detroit under our contract. Our attorneys interpret it differently. They say we have no obligation to discharge any specific flows to Detroit," Egeland said.

In addition, Samuel Turner, a Wayne County commissioner from Detroit, charged the county commission improperly pledged the county's full faith and credit behind bonds for the project. A decision he said could obligate all county taxpayers if federal funding falls through. Turner is also seeking to halt or scale down sewer sewer.

first-year funding throws a major monkey wrench into the county's plans, said Egeland, who has personally guided the project through many years of governmental hurdles.

Phase one was to include a relief sewer interceptor from Novi to Five Mile Road on the Northville-Plymouth border, he said. But the size of that sewer depends on whether northern communities' sewage will flow through it — and that question is now in the air.

DNR granted only about $5 million in first-year funds, holding $35 million in first-year funds and $36 million in second-year funds, Egeland said. "Without the $2 federal funds, there will not be enough to finish the project. Phases 2 and 3 are in doubt."

Trustees debate drug plan

"At (the high schools), there's a problem with the number of police contacts. (Police intervention) is felt not to be as important as at the middle school level. Individual (high school) administrators still have the flexibility to involve the police at any time."

"It's just a difference of whether it's mandated," Siding with Cooper, Treasurer Glenn Schroeder said. "When you're traveling 1-275, how many people do you see going 55?"

"How are we to deal with the fact that police are to be viewed as friends? When students who use drugs go to Ann Arbor (enroll at the University of Michigan) no one will pay any attention to them," he added.

Ann Arbor's drug ordinance mandates a $5 fine for persons found guilty of marijuana possession.

"We have had difficulty with police getting this far," School Board President Thomas Yack said.

"What happens if we make changes?" The potential exists, answered Dr. Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction, of opening up an issue that's been successfully resolved. I would hesitate to change (the policy) without going back to the committee and the agencies involved."

Outgoing Trustee Sylvia Steiz suggested that the new policies be adopted on an experimental basis.

For those who sell drugs in middle school, the policy now mandates:

• a five-day suspension, a letter sent home, mandatory attendance in an intervention program, and mandatory police involvement upon the first offense;

• upon the second offense, automatic petitioning of the board for expulsion, and mandatory police involvement.

Canton cop shop by Arlene Funke

THE Wayne-Westland school district didn't need to be shocked into action by a report from the National Commission on Excellence in Education, which said the poor quality of education in the United States places this nation at risk.

"We already had initiated changes, so there was no need for a big reaction," explained Dr. Clarice Stafford, assistant superintendent for curriculum in the district, which also includes a portion of Canton Township.

From buying textbooks to reviewing achievement test scores, the Wayne-Westland school community began addressing concerns about educational quality some years ago.

"That concern went beyond books and test scores. First, a task force on elementary education was appointed.

With that project nearing completion, a task force on secondary (junior and senior high) schools was appointed in May 1981.

"We developed a five-year plan, and we've been making good progress in stabilizing and gradually improving what we're doing," Stafford said.

THAT PLAN includes a list of goals and accompanying objectives designed to meet those goals. It was developed after a long series of meetings with staff in schools throughout the district and offers specific suggestions to teachers on how goals can be achieved.

But the plan is just that — a flexible approach to improving education without "lock-step guidelines," Stafford said. She added that completion of the planned goals is two to three years away.

"If you want change — permanent, stable change — count on taking five years," she said.

STOP, THIEF: A 12-year-old Canton youth tried without success to thwart three boys or men running away with a CB radio and battery charger.

The youth yelled when he saw the men going into his parents' garage on Craftsbury Court June 23. The thieves got away with the items.

BUG ZAPPER: Someone stole a $44 electronic bug killer from a porch on Burlington June 23.

STOLEN JEWELRY: A Spinning Wheel couple reported the theft of $2,900 worth of jewelry from their home June 23.

According to a police report, there was no evidence of a forced entry. The items were in a bedroom.

Police are linking a 12-year-old former Canton boy with 26 car thefts in Canton Township and neighboring Washtenaw County.

Canton police are asking juvenile authorities to take action against a Ypsilanti youth in the theft of a 1979 Buick from Stoney Brook Apartments off Joy Road in late June.

The youth, a former Canton resident, has been implicated in the thefts of 26 cars — three from Canton, said officer Eddie Tanner of the Canton police. Other teens were involved, Tanner said.

ACCORDING TO reports, the youths go joy riding in the stolen cars, then strip and sell items from the vehicles such as CB radios. Their activities are centered in the Canton and Washtenaw County areas, Tanner said.

Canton police arrested the youth in a similar theft in May, Tanner said. That case is still pending in juvenile court.

Reaction minimal to educational report

Start with a dream, what you think should be done and set goals. It takes a long time to internalize (the goals), and it's important that all are geared toward working toward the same thing."

DESPITE ALREADY having addressed the need to improve education, Stafford and Superintendent Timothy Dyer took a look at what the national commission had to say.

In their response to the commission's report, they analyze how the district compares with suggestions made in four major areas — content, standards and expectations, time, 22d teaching.

The educators echoed the local commission's call for new high school graduation requirements of four years of English, three years of mathematics, science and social studies, and one-half year of computer science. In addition, for those heading on to college, they recommended two years of foreign language studies.

Wayne-Westland high schools include only grades 10-12, so ninth-grade requirements must be added to the high school ones to compare the district with the commission report. The district revised graduation requirements in February 1982, and meets the report's suggestion in social studies.

However, high school students are required to take one less year in English, mathematics and science than is recommended.

The educators add that next year they will recommend computer literacy as a requirement. Still to be addressed, they said, are the district's foreign language program, time for studies in the expressive arts, electives and increased requirements in the five basics.

STAFFORD and Dyer said the district already has introduced ways of heightening standards and expectations, as suggested in the commission's report.

Wayne-Westland purchased new textbooks in the last four years, which the educators say has "upgraded" the program. A review of texts currently in use in the secondary schools is expected to be completed in August.

Several means have been introduced to measure the progress of education in the district. Students take both the California Achievement Test and the Michigan assessment tests, and an aptitude test being initiated next year is expected to improve planning for students.

A new report card with letter grades was introduced to provide "a more rigorous emphasis on academic achievement," the educators added, and the grading criteria in secondary schools is being established to add validity to letter grades.

"Each teacher must be careful about clarifying what criteria is established and make it known to the kids," Stafford said. "It's really important to communicate that to the parents so there is no big surprise."

Stafford emphasized "that the purpose of grades is learning, not just giving a grade."

RENEWED EMPHASIS on the basics will require "more effective use of the existing school day, a longer school day or a lengthened school year," according to the educators.

That means dealing with the economics of negotiations, but in the meantime, they said that codes of conduct and attendance and criteria for promoting students are firm and consistent.

Particular attention has been paid to classroom management and the organization of the school day. Stafford explained that the less time teachers have to spend on management things like paper work, the more time they have for students.

"There is a significant range from classroom to classroom," she added. "I'm saying I think we can improve."

TEACHERS' evaluations also have been under review in Wayne-Westland. A formal observation and written evaluation every three years is now required, and building administrators are being trained in how to conduct the evaluations.

Charge dropped in assault case over can of oil

Charges have been dropped against a Canton man charged with shooting his nephew over a can of motor oil.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Helene White recently dismissed a felony assault charge against Dennis Spencer of Trails Court when the complaining witness Spencer's nephew failed to appear to testify.

Last March, Canton police charged the 39-year-old Spencer with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

According to police, Spencer had argued with his nephew, Joseph Coleman, 27, over the whereabouts of a can of motor oil. Coleman was treated for a gunshot wound to the arm.

Both Spencer and Coleman lived at the Lincolnshire townhouse complex on Joy Road. Spencer is Coleman's uncle by marriage, police said.

A second charge against Spencer — possessing a firearm in commission of a felony — also was dropped.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in Kellogg Park, Ann Arbor Trail at Main. This Thursday the guest conductor will be George Cavender, former director of the University of Michigan Marching Band.

JONES SPENT his entire business career in advertising, joining MacManus, John & Adams after graduating from U-M with a bachelor's degree in economics. From the agency's production department, he rose through the ranks to become president in 1965 at age 39, chief executive officer in 1966, and chairman of the board in 1968.

Jones was the moving force in a merger with the D'Arcy agency of St. Louis. Upon formation of the international corporation, Jones became chairman of the board in 1971.

His continued interest in music has brought Jones recognition as a conductor. He has conducted the U-M bands in the Michigan Stadium over national networks many times and has conducted at Carnegie Hall and before the Royal College of Music in London.

Jones has appeared in concert with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Oakway Symphony, and with longtime friend Victor Borge. He also has conducted the Miami Beach Symphony, Scandinavian Symphony, and the Midland Symphony. A recording was made of the concert he conducted at Austria's Schwarzenberg Palace with the Vienna Chamber Orchestra.

Jones is chairman of the board of the Cranbrook Academy of Art, board member of Detroit Symphony and Interlochen Center for the Arts, and past president of the Detroit Concert Band. He also headed the successful Michigan delegation to bring the Super Bowl to the Pontiac Silverdome in 1982.

New ambulance setup saves lives

The lives of two persons may have been saved last month thanks to the advanced life support (ALS) ambulance being used in Plymouth.

Starting earlier this year, the ALS ambulance - owned by Botsford Hospital's Community EMS service - started responding to emergency calls along with the fire department ambulance. In most cases the Community EMS ambulance is used for transporting the patients.

Paramedics operate the ambulance, and can perform more advanced medical procedures on patients than the fire department's emergency medical technicians.

The advanced treatment and equipment used by the paramedics can be credited with saving one life last month and probably another, according to Fire Chief Roy Hall.

On JUNE 8, the fire ambulance responded to an emergency call on Coolidge in Plymouth. When the firefighters entered the home, they found that 60-year-old Marie Anderson apparently had suffered a heart attack, and they couldn't find any vital signs, Hall said.

When the Community EMS unit arrived, the paramedics also couldn't find any vital signs and started ALS procedures including starting an IV and using a heart defibrillator, he said.

The paramedics were able to get Anderson's heart to start before transporting her to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, he said.

"Without the ALS, we would have picked up the person and then run to the hospital. With the ALS, we were able to somewhat stabilize the patient before going to the hospital," Hall said.

The paramedics performed the ALS procedures while being in direct communication with a physician at Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills.

On June 23, the fire department and Community EMS responded to another apparent heart attack victim at the Mayflower Hotel in downtown Plymouth.

found Truda Simmons, a Mayflower waitress, on the floor in the kitchen, he said.

"The symptoms indicated she had suffered a heart attack. She was unresponsive to any assistance."

The paramedics stabilized Simmons by starting an IV and inserting an airway before transporting her to St. Mary Hospital, he said.

"She received more assistance than we could have given her," Hall said.

"The evidence would indicate ALS is doing what it is designed to do, which is save lives."

Since starting to use the Community EMS system, the paramedics have used ALS procedures on about 10 emergency calls, Hall said.

Old-fashioned circus coming July 15-16

The circus is coming to Northville. Officially known as the "Old-fashioned Circus Under the Big Top," the performance will be Friday and Saturday, July 15 and 16, at the Northville Downs parking lot at Sheldon and Seven Mile.

The circus is being sponsored by the Northville Community Fund, a recently established coalition of Northville civic and community groups.

The promoters' share of the profits will be allocated for community projects, according to organizer Scott Lapham.

Those projects include wooden street signs for the town and generators for city hall and Allen Terrace.

Tickets for the circus can be obtained from the Northville Chamber of Commerce office on S. Main or at Lapham's Men Store downtown.

The 90-minute show features all the attractions associated with the circus - trapeze and acrobatic acts, a lion tamer, horse and dog show, monkey act, and elephants.

Shows will be at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. each day, with elephant rides offered at intermission.

When public speaks, SEMTA revises plan

THERE'S AN old principle of politics that should give comfort to suburban voters. If you squawk at a public hearing, true nothing may happen this year — but wait until the next time around.

The principle is proving true as SEMTA (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority) prepares for a new round of public hearings next week.

After getting squawks in 1979 that too much emphasis was being placed on Woodward corridor light-rail traffic and too little on "crosstown" suburban movements, the SEMTA board revised its 1990 plan.

The version prepared this year will contain something the 1979 version lacked: a designation of a number of suburban locations — traditional downtowns, major shopping malls and employment centers — as "transit centers." They will be not only bus destinations but major transfer points for the different modes of SEMTA service.

It was what the public was saying, and it represents a major change in SEMTA thinking. No longer are the radial patterns emanating from downtown Detroit the only game in town. Outlying communities are important centers in their own right.

And it lends new emphasis to our notion that the term "suburb" may be obsolete.

THE WOODWARD corridor undergoes some major changes in the revised SEMTA plan. The northern terminus of the light rail has been extended from Royal Oak to Pontiac, and a spur is added to the Pontiac Silverdome. Both changes are realistic and merit applause.

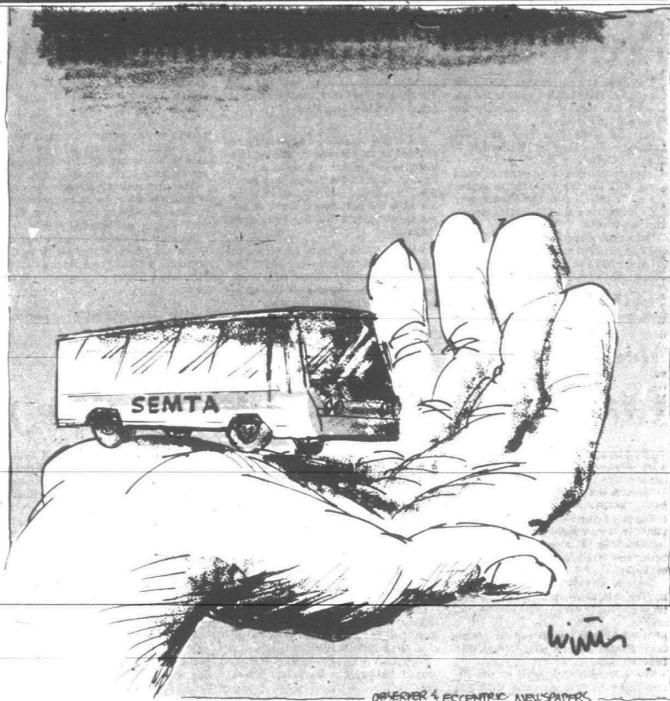

The amount of the Woodward corridor which will go underground has been reduced drastically. Politically, that is a good move because many transit-hating suburbanites had equated "subway" with the name of Detroit Mayor Coleman Young. So be it.

We still believe, however, that the idea of building much of it underground — away from traffic, away from rain and snow, using stations that would have been models for human safety — was the better choice. But we won't whine over the loss of the subway portion if the entire package turns out to be more realistic and more politically acceptable.

AT THE HEARINGS, listed elsewhere in today's edition, you'll have a chance to walk through exhibits that will explain details of how the plan will affect your area.

That will be followed by a brief (underline that word) explanation from SEMTA officials. They learned from earlier hearings that folks don't care for long-winded explanations and slide shows.

Then the public will have its chance to comment. And our experience with SEMTA shows clearly that the public gets heard.

Suburbia is core of effort to recall Blanchard

A GRIZZLED old man stood at the corner of Woodward Avenue and 10 Mile Road on Sunday afternoon and begged motorists to stop and sign a petition for the recall of Gov. James Blanchard. Nothing unusual about this scene except only a few feet away a sign proclaimed, "Welcome to Pleasant Ridge, the home of Gov. James Blanchard." The recall movement had come to the governor's tiny hometown.

Petitioners were out in force over the long Fourth of July holiday weekend. They could be seen at suburban shopping centers and parks. Many were downtown or at the fireworks display on Friday evening.

"We're going to meet the deadline and force a recall election," Shannon Roessler of Livonia said Tuesday. "I think we had a good chance." Roessler is co-chairman of the state campaign to recall Blanchard.

Her committee needs to obtain 760,000 validated signatures by Thursday, July 28. As of last week, Roessler said, about 400,000 signatures had been ob-taind, but "the mail has been pouring in the last few days."

ONLY THE MOST optimistic recall organizers believe they have a reasonable chance of making the July 28 deadline. But that doesn't mean the campaign is not having its effect.

The strongest sentiment in the state for Blanchard's recall is in Wayne and Oakland counties, according to a survey released over the weekend by the Institute of Social Research at the University of Michigan.

Would Abner recognize the ol' ball game?

ON THESE balmy summer evenings while watching the Tigers make a strong bid for leadership in the American League, The Stroller often wonders if Abner Doubleday, the man who invented baseball in the last century, would recognize his game.

Over the years, the game has changed to the extent that only the distances between the bases and from the pitcher's mound to home plate are what Doubleday designed.

Even the ballparks have changed to the point where only a few among them Tiger Stadium — are what could be called "homey" sites.

They've put a "rabbit" in the ball, introduced Astro (artificial) turf and permitted players to use gloves that resemble baskets.

SO GREAT have been the changes that these new, enclosed stadiums keep moving the playing fields further from the spectators. A spectator at Tiger Stadium still can see the batter's face from the stands, but in more modern stadia the batter seems more like an object out there. And it is a long walk from the dugout to home plate.

One of those who mentioned the great change in Charlie Gehring, the legendary second baseman of the Tigers. When asked about the ball now being used, he answered, "In the old days, I never saw Lou Gehrig (Yankees left-handed slugger) hit a ball into left field. Now everybody is doing it."

The newest change that has been bothering The Stroller is the size of the gloves. He shudders every time he sees an outfielder race across the field, hold up his arm and let the ball drop into the glove.

In the old days, if a player attempted a one-handed catch, he was warned by the manager to refrain from "show business" stuff. He would be accused of playing up to the fans. Today it's unusual grouching about the governor. According to the U-M study, only 25 percent of the Oakland and Wayne respondents approve of how Blanchard is handling his job, and 67 percent disapprove. (In contrast, approximately 52 percent outstate and 50 percent in Detroit disapprove of Blanchard.)

Roessler said she recognizes a strong anti-Blanchard feeling when she gets signatures on weekends at places like Livonia Mall.

"I've been working on this campaign since April 30, and I've only met one person who has refused to sign a petition," she said.

Roessler maintains — and the U-M survey agrees — that the major source of dissatisfaction with Blanchard comes from the increase in the state income tax. The state income tax rate was raised from 4.6 to 6.35 percent this year.

"When the man (Blanchard) campaigned, he said jobs first and taxes last," Roessler said. "When you raise taxes in such a depressed area, it makes the people mad."

WHATEVER YOUR personal reaction may be to the recall Blanchard movement, to a certain extent it doesn't matter. I personally think it is dumb and was doomed to failure from the start.

It is having a dramatic effect on state politics. The euphoria the Democrats experienced on Jan. 1 in electing their first governor in 20 years is over.

As Rep. Jack Kirksey, R-Livonia, told the Observer & Eccentric last week, "The threat of recall has had a sobering effect on the Democratic Legislature and the governor. He is no longer bragging about saving the state from financial ruin. He is now on the defensive."

What this means is that Democrats are not going to run roughshod in Lansing merely because we have a Democratic governor and Legislature. That means more compromise and a stronger Republican influence.

The old man getting signatures on a recall petition in Blanchard's hometown will not be successful in removing the governor. But he, and others like him, will be responsible for significant changes in how this state is governed.

Justice system must focus on alcohol abuse

The 19-year-old Westland resident who pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter in the death of a man killed by a bowling ball thrown out a car window was sentenced last week.

There was some speculation beforehand that the 19-year-old, Charles Borg Jr., a Washtenaw Community College student, would receive a probationary sentence with no provision for jail time.

Wayne Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman, who was warned that such a sentence would likely spark a new controversy about sentencing, was not that lenient.

In ordinary times, a long-term probation might have been ordered. But the times have not been ordinary since Kaufman's father, Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman handed down a probation sentence to two men who admitted killing Chinese American Vincent Chin with a baseball bat in a Highland Park street.

THE FACT is that alcohol abuse and dependency have not received much consideration from judges in determining sentences, although the evidence is becoming clearer that they play a role in the majority of crimes, homicides and motor vehicle deaths.

THERE ARE some educated opinions to the effect that more than 50 percent of all prisoners in the Michigan penal system committed the crimes they were sent to prison for while they were under the influence of alcohol or while an alcohol abuser.

The fact that Judge Richard Kaufman's decision received widespread publicity is due in some measure to the furor caused by the sentence in the Chin case. But because it is such a good decision and because it takes into account the problems caused by alcohol, it deserves to be an example in other sentences.

Probationary sentencing which stops law-breakers from relying on behavior-influencing dependency on alcohol could aid significantly in keeping one-time transgressors from becoming repeaters.

Although not well-known, it is a frequent practice for judges to order a certain amount of jail time to be served at the end of a probation period. It is generally understood that the person sentenced

Better service, manager says SEMTA plans crosstown buses

By Tim Richard staff writer

SEMTA's new public transportation plan, due to be unveiled at local hearings next week, emphasizes the crosstown patterns that riders want.

"Since 1979, we've heard nothing but noise on our plan from the communities," confessed Gary Krause, general manager of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

"We looked at the current service maps and the 1990 plan we adopted in 1979, and the only difference was that 1990 was more of the same."

That's bad. What the people were saying was that the region is a bit more complex than that. It's a multitude of centers, like Los Angeles, not like New York."

A suburban Wayne County hearing is scheduled for 1 p.m. Tuesday, July 12, in Dearborn's Henry Ford Centennial Library, 16301 Michigan. Two hearings are scheduled in Detroit — at 1 and 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 14, in the Wayne County Community College downtown campus at 1001 W. Fort.

SOUTHEASTERN Michigan has strong "radial" traffic patterns — the Gratiot, Woodward, Grand River and Michigan Avenue corridors and their corresponding freeways, all built over old Indian trails.

WESTERN WAYNE County will have these "transit centers":

- Livonia Mall, 7 Mile and Middlebelt, Livonia.
• Downtown Detroit, Plymouth and Middlebelt, Livonia.
• Westland Center, Warren and Wayne roads.
• Dearborn's Amtrak station.
• Metropolitan Airport.

These include the Renaissance Center, Cobo Hall, Joe Louis Arena, the Medical Center, the cultural center (Art Institute, Historical Museum, Main Library, Science Center, Wayne State University), the New Center area, the Michigan State Fairgrounds, the Zoo and Silverdome stadium.

Undergraduate rate is $65 per semester hour or $1,560 for two semesters of 12 hours each. Rate in the baccalaureate nursing program will be $90; emergency medical technology, $88; graduate program, $140.

When they're fresh you can taste it — To keep 'em fresh you've got to handle 'em right.

First I use proper netting — no gill nets on my boats. I bring my fish up live and then I bleed, gut and wash 'em right on board. My fish don't stay out in the air. I pack 'em right away with shaved ice so I make sure each fish is surrounded by ice so it stays between 12° - 15°.

My fish are prime. Few fishermen can say that and few restaurants can boast the best. A restaurant like Joe Muer's in Detroit can. Joe insists on the best and is willing to pay for it... and I'm proud to give it to him.

Driving to be the best. At SEMTA's Wayne Terminal, it isn't just a slogan. It's an attitude. And it takes people like this to make it work.

Eliza McClarty, Coach Operator "I try to treat my passengers the way I would like to be treated if I was in their shoes"

Ricardo Seams, Assistant Mechanic "They say the mechanic's best tool is his manual, and mine is always nearby... along with what I already know, it helps me make sure I'm doing the job right"

Josie Hardy, Utility Worker "When it's time for the buses to go I like them to be ready... I check the tires to make sure they're safe, the windows are clean, even the destination sign is clean"

That's what driving to be the best is all about. And that's why at SEMTA we think the best is just around the corner.

MADDness grows out of anger, frustration

By Sherry Kehan
staff writer

THERE IS A crisis sweeping across our land, a storm of tragedy, and it is rocking the boat of this community and thousands of other communities like it. I want to wake someone up, anyone who will help stem the winds and calm the tides, and put an end to this dreadful storm of drinking and driving.

When the Rev. Kenneth F. Gruebel spoke these words to members of his congregation at Geneva United Presbyterian Church in Canton, he was hoping to move them to action.

Certainly he was moved himself as he reminded his listeners of the death of Madonna Tharpe, a Canton resident. She "was killed on Dec. 18 (or murdered would be a better term) by a drunk driver on the corner of Sheldon and Cherry Hill."

Gruebel described Tharpe as a bright attractive, 34-year-old woman, who worked as a licensed practical nurse at Oakwood Hospital.

"She was a happily married mother of two children," he said. "Madonna Tharpe's death will indeed be a senseless, meaningless death, another statistic on a growing list of those killed on our highways by drunk drivers unless something is done."

At the end of his sermon he said, "I beg you to get involved with the MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers).

'One of the big problems in the court system is that when a person is tried, the original charge is reduced. He gets off with a lesser sentence than the law calls for. It's a plea bargaining process to speed cases through the system. In many cases, justice is not done.'

— Ralph Shufeldt

SOMETHING WAS done. A chapter of MADD was started, open not only to members of the congregation, but to men and women in the community as well. The group meets monthly in Geneva United Church.

Not willing to sit still despite sterner MADD-backed laws on the books in Michigan, members of the new branch within a short time were talking about monitoring the courts to check on the kinds of sentences handed out to drunk drivers.

A seminar on court monitoring, taught by attorney Michael Ritenous, soon will be announced. This course is expected to be popular as a result of the sentencing of William Matney for the death of Madonna Tharpe.

Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman recently sentenced Matney to 117 days in the Detroit House of Correction, days that he had already served while awaiting trial. He went free on five years probation.

After the accident, he fled the scene, later to be arrested. He also failed to appear for his preliminary examination. He was then arrested a second time.

"A tragedy like this is an example of why there is a group like MADD," said Gruebel. "That young man was released on probation. It hardly seems fitting justice considering he caused the death of a woman. The courts are not sensitive to the plight of the victim or the victim's family."

HELPING THE FLEDGLING organization get off the ground were Lee and Sue Landis of Livonia. Their son was killed by a drunk driver in 1981. Lee Landis is president of the Wayne County Chapter of MADD.

One of those in the audience was Pat Shinske, a Livonian, who was driving with her daughter when they were hit by a drunk driver running a red light. As she presented it, her case was an example of the many frustrations experienced by parents looking for justice in drunk driving cases.

"It was his second drunk driving offense in 10 months," said Shinske, who thinks the only reason she and her daughter were not killed was that they were wearing safety belts.

"He was tried by Judge James McCann and got a fine of $550, court fees, a two-year probation and a restricting driving license, which doesn't mean a thing. My daughter had a bruised spine and water on the spine. She had never thought of death. She cycled at night and lost sleep. She couldn't leave home.

"The 42-year-old man who hit us said in court to think of his family. What about mine? What makes him so special because he has two kids. I do too. He had no remorse. He looked as though I was a gnat really bothering him.

"I don't want people to go to jail. I think the man's family has been punished enough. But I don't want him to drive. I want him to walk. Or take a bus or taxi."

Canton resident Ralph Shufeldt became hostile to drinking and driving when he was in the service. Driving across the country frequently he came upon many accidents. "Often you could smell the alcohol," he said.

He is now vice president of the western region of the Wayne County MADD.

"Hopefully we will make judges and prosecuting attorneys aware we are in the audience watching and monitoring their final decisions," he said. "One of the big problems in the court system is that when a person is tried, the original charge is reduced. He gets off with a lesser sentence than the law calls for. It's a plea bargaining process to speed cases through the system. In many cases justice is not done."

Prior to having heard about the result in the Tharp case he was optimistic that things were beginning to change for the better in regard to sentencing.

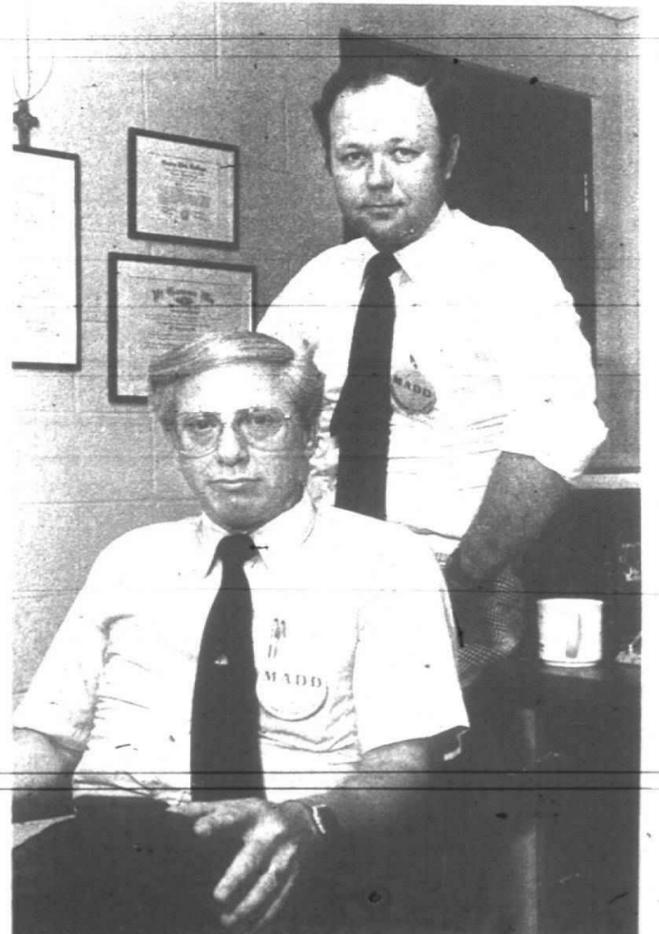

OLGA WELCH believes there should be more publicity about the consequences of killings by drunk drivers.

Carol Palk of Canton, who had come to the meeting because her father-in-law had been killed last December by a drunk driver, hopes "to get some justice for the victims." She added that "a slap on the wrist" given to a drunk driver is no deterrent.

"There must be strict laws so judges don't have much leeway to let them off easily," she said. She also advocates strengthening parental attitudes about enforcing laws already on the books.

"Don't supply them with alcohol until they are of age," she said.

One of Gruebel's roles in the organization will be in relation to the issue raised by Palk. He plans to take the role of a teacher. He hopes to speak to both young people and parents on the sometimes tragic mixture of drinking and driving.

Canton resident Ralph Shufeldt (left) and Rev. Kenneth Gruebel of the Geneva United Presbyterian Church in Canton are behind the local efforts to get more people involved in MADD. Shufeldt, vice president of the western region of Wayne County MADD, wants to monitor judges and prosecuting attorneys to ensure that justice is served on drunk drivers. Gruebel has taken his plea for more support to the pulpit in an effort to stem the "crisis sweeping across our land."

Good old summertime means parties, camp, track stars

The music was loud, the dancing was fun, and the party was a surprise, at least to the guest of honor, Jack Lashbrook.

For his big "Four-O," his wife Karen, and his children, Lisa and Jack, invited some friends over. Friends like Jerri and Rich De Tatta, Dave and Nancy LaRue, Mary and Jerry Lobergan, Dale and Haggi Merritt, Jenny and Bob Najmowicz were there to mention a few. And let me not forget the lady who made it all possible, Jack's mother, Mrs. Lashbrook.

This was, however, no run-of-the-mill birthday party. One of the newest gifts was a shirt honoring the well-known generous spirit of the Lashbrooks, especially when it comes to the use of their pool. Joan and Jerry Brown presented Jack with a shirt identical to the one they gave Karen for her last birthday, with the words "Jack and Karen Swim Club" printed on it.

But alas folks, when Cantonians party, they party. So what can top an already sparkling swimming birthday party with lots of friends? Well, how about your basic Onion delivery of a birthday greeting. Yes sir, that's what Karen ordered for Jack and out came the singing birthday-gram and they quickly dispatched Jack into the pool. After singing his birthday greeting, of course, Happy Birthday, Jack!

I RECEIVED a phone call from a Mrs. Getyina, who wanted to make sure that a certain group from this article be thanked publicly for their generous gift to her son.

It seems she has just recently found out that her young son, only 7 years old to be exact, has diabetes, and the Plymouth Elks Lodge 1786 arranged for Braden to attend a very special summer camp.

At this camp, Braden did all the wonderful things kids always do at camp from yelling and screaming to swimming and trouble making — with one wonderful addition — the children learn how to cope with diabetes.

They learn how to give self injections and to be respectful of their own care in general, because there will be times in their lives when parents won't be around to keep after them. They learned that they are still wonderful little people who have a great deal to give to, and take from, our world.

But first, they must take care of themselves.

The camp is "Camp Midicha," run by the American Diabetes Association and the Plymouth Elks Lodge 1786 sent our own Braden Getyina of Canton to the camp. We all say thank you!

SOME CANTON children were involved in a track and field day sponsored by the Polish Falcons of America. This group does not have a chapter in Canton but you're welcome to join a chapter in another area.

The group is dedicated to physical fitness, especially when directed toward children. The Karpinski family have been members since Mr. Karpinski was young, so his children also joined.

A recent track and field day was held at Orchard Lake St. Marys and I'd like to report the Karpinski gang did Canton proud. The oldest girl, Lori, came in first in shot-put, high-jump and broad-jump! Now how's that for a sweep?

Her younger brother and sister came through for their team! Only 13 years of age took on the high school seniors in shot-put and came in third, and he zoomed in the 440 relay race to take first place.

And last but not least, the youngest Karpinski, Kristen, won first in the 50-yard dash and again in the long jump!

So let's hear it for the Karpinski family bringing all those wins home to Canton. With all the Polish people in Canton I'm surprised we don't have a chapter of this fine family-oriented group here in Canton!

Congratulations, Falcons!

I WANT TO take a moment to mention Jeff Talbott and his "Short Stop" nose.

Jeff and nose are doing fine and doctors don't think he'll need surgery. This was one of those times that has happened before and will happen again when someone catches a ball with something other than his mitt! It seems a hard hit took a bad bounce direct into Jeff's nose and knocked Jeff and his nose flat!

This brought to mind the torment a mother is put through by society when something like this happens to a child. Many people insist the mother sit quietly in the stands and await information on the child's well-being. Well, perhaps a rule of thumb.

If a child still needs his mother's permission to join, and her transportation to get there, then he is not too old for his mother to run onto the field. For when they are too old for this, they will no longer need us to sign for them to enter, or drive them. So we probably won't be there to run onto the field, anyway!

Too many people are trying too hard to make our children grow up too fast, so mothers take heart! Do what comes naturally. Maybe that's why the job of mothering was given to us in the first place!

NOW FOR A non-energetic activity but a great American pastime — The Garage Sale!

Now I know I can't list everybodys garage sales, but this is one of those gigantic subdivision garage sales. That is to say, everyone can have the sale at their own home, it is just suggested that if you want to have a garage sale do it on this day.

And so I bring to you these dates of July 7, 8, and 9 in the Sheldon-Hanford area between Ford and Warren for the Carriage Hills garage sale. Now that's fun, and you don't need a lot of energy, just cash.

I EVEN FOUND a non-active activity for young adults. A continuing series encouraging youth participation at St. John Neumann Church on Warren Rd. will have as guest speaker at 12:30 p.m. July 17 the Rev. Alex Steinmiller. He will encourage the young adults to help each other, and offer some suggestions as to how they may achieve this.

Previous speakers in this series of youth interest have been Pastor Jerry Yarnell from St. Michael Lutheran Church, Canton, and from Sacred Heart Seminary, Fr. Patrick Halpenny. This entire series of special services is an effort to make the church more relative to the lives of young people today.

See you next week — keep calling!

Lions Clubs' project

Scandinavian summer sojourn

Twelve local students are spending six weeks with Scandinavian families as part of Lions Clubs International Youth Exchange program. They are among the 49 Michigan youths who are visiting 14 countries this summer.

As part of the exchange arranged by the Lions clubs, 149 Michigan families are hosting students from abroad.

The group sponsored by the Canton and Plymouth Lions clubs left June 29 for Scandinavia. They flew to Boston and from there to London and Hamburg. They were entertained by the Hamburg Lions Club and taken on a tour of the city. From there, they traveled by train and ferry to their destinations.

Plymouth-Canton students headed for Sweden were Alice Shobe, Eric Shobe, Karen Miller, Carl Heiney and Ishin Weng.

KIM SMITH, Kathleen Benson, Kiyoko Edick, Gail Brandt, Michele Harrison and Steven Harrison went to Finland. Ruthann Trout went to Denmark.

Other Michigan exchange students will spend the summer in France, Italy, Germany, England, Austria, Australia, Switzerland, Belgium, Norway, and South Africa.

Larry Wegryn of London Court, Canton Township, is state chairman for the Lions Youth Exchange program. The cultural exchange program is limited to youths 16-21 years of age. Students are selected on the basis of scholarship, citizenship and behavior for they will act as good-will ambassadors of the United States and the Lions clubs.

THE STUDENTS were provided with packets of data on their home state and their hometowns. They took slides of activities and landmarks in their area. These will be shown when they attend Lions Club meetings in their hosts' community.

They were told that language will be no problem in the Scandinavian countries, where children begin English language lessons at the age of 7. It was suggested they take along a week's supply of clothing so they would have room in their luggage for things they want to bring home.

They took along special gifts for the members of their host families. They also took along cameras and some even tucked in tennis rackets. When they return, they will speak to their local Lions Clubs and show slides of their summer activities.

They'll be home Wednesday, Aug. 10.

High school juniors turn politicians at Girls' State

Three juniors from the Centennial Educational Park participated in the 48th American Legion Auxiliary Girls' State. They were among the more than 500 students at Central Michigan University who gained practical experience in the political and governmental process.

Plymouth Canton High School students were Kandra Dilts, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Plymouth, and Krista Kirchoff, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Pam Pavlisca of Plymouth Salem High School was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Girls' State participants must be high school juniors recommended by their schools and sponsored by a civic organization.

Selection is based on interest, achievement in school and all-round school activities. Participants must be recommended by teachers and counselors.

UPON ARRIVAL, the girls are assigned to a city and to one of the two designated political parties — Federalist or Nationalist. The parties do not correspond in any way to current political groups in Michigan.

The mythical "51st State" of Girls' State has the same laws and constitution as Michigan. The convention system is used throughout the eight-day program to nominate candidates to city, county and state positions.

Kandra Dilts was a member of the Federalist party and served as a member of the State Central Committee and the Convention Subcommittee. She was Pinksbeier City Party Chairwoman and was appointed press secretary to the governor of Girls' State. She was one of 75 Girls' Staters who passed the bar examination and became a member of the State Bar Association.

KRISTA KIRCHOFF was a member of the Federalist party and served as a county commissioner. She worked on the city commission and was an assistant secretary during the Federalist party convention.

Pam Pavlisca, a member of the Nationalist Party, served on the State Central Committee and as chairman of the campaign committee. As a member of the Senate, she was chairman of the Judiciary Committee. She was given a special honor when she was chosen Rhubarb Queen.

Girls' State was established in 1941. Sponsored and directed by the American Legion Auxiliary, it is designed as a practical experience in the problems of self-government.

How to submit news items

News items may be dropped off or mailed to the office at 461 S. Main St., Plymouth 48170. Special forms are available for club news, engagements, weddings and 50th wedding anniversary announcements.

Black and white pictures are preferred as they reproduce more clearly than color photos. A self-addressed, stamped envelope assures return of the pictures, or, they can be picked up at the office a week after they have been published. Mail should be addressed to the attention of Elinor Graham, Suburban Life editor.

Activities of more major scope than regular club meetings may warrant more extensive coverage and a photograph. Call the newspaper, 459-2700.

Culture caravan Madonna group spend month in Europe

By Catherine Bilek
staff writer

A Madonna College staff member, recent graduates and suburban residents are touring Europe's cultural highlights for a month.

The travelers are led by Sister Martin Ann Stamm, head of Madonna College's religious studies department. They will return to Detroit from Amsterdam on July 26.

Students can get up to four college credit hours by arrangement with Madonna College.

This cultural tour includes Frankfurt and Heidelberg, Germany; Tyro, Austria; Venice, Florence and Rome, Italy; and Nice, Avignon and Paris, France.

Other stops will include London, England; Amsterdam, The Netherlands; Monaco and Vatican City for a tour of the artistic treasures of the Vatican museums.

The group is comprised of persons from 18-73.

Tyrone Sally, a May 1983 Madonna graduate with an art major, looks forward to getting a taste of the great art museums and sketching his way through Europe.

"I'll get a chance to see the things I've been reading about," said Sally.

The Rev. Wolfgang Streicher is also on the trip. Streicher was born in Erkfurt, East Germany, and ordained English hospice minister.

Kudlia is the director of Willis House in Willis, Mich., a nursing facility for people over 18.

Robert Schrack is executive director of Robert's Adult Foster Care Inc., which has 11 homes in Michigan and Florida.

Geri Guzik of Canton was given the trip as a 40th birthday surprise. She works for Saga Food Service.

Victoria Biegl of Northville signed up first to go on the trip. Then she invited her mother and father to go, too. Nicola and Beverly Biegl decided to join their daughter on the European tour.

Cathy and Maggie Brennan of Plymouth, sisters, will visit an in London, England.

Sister Bernadine Fabian and her sister, Ester Giffels of Sanford, Mich., are on the trip, as are Emma Sikara from Florida and her sister, Helen Zajac from Dearborn Heights.

There will be three sets of mothers and daughters touring Europe.

Karen Miotowski, a nurse from Warren, signed up to go on her own, then decided to take her 71-year-old mother, Henrietta, along.

Helen and Mary Jo Senevick of Canton Township and Olivia and Camille La France are the other mothers and daughters on the trip.

LED BY RITA Mathers, 10 Windsor residents are on the Madonna tour.

Laura Lastimer, a West Bloomfield sign language studies major, wants to see her knowledge of International Sign Language will facilitate her travels.

Mary Zeppa of Dearborn Heights plans to become acquainted with her relatives in Rome.

After the European trip this summer, Sister Martin Ann has other ambitious plans.

"Three of us, Sister Cecilia Eagen, Dr. Olivia Desautel and myself will go to Ireland for a week after the regular tour," she said.

"I hope to visit County Galway from where my maternal relatives, the Croghan and O'Connors, came over here 100 years ago."

Next year's trip will have staff members and students travel to Israel, Egypt, Greece and Rome.

Enjoying a laugh before jetting to Europe are recent Madonna College graduates Roberta Schrack (left) and Frances Kudlia, R. Martin Ann Stamm. The three are members of the Madonna contingent that is spending a month in Europe. Stamm is heading the group, while Schrack and Kudlia are touring English hospices.

10 Commandments — then, now and forever

(Editor's note: Due to a production error, this column was inadvertently cut when it appeared last week. It appears in its entirety here.)

The greatest statement of moral conduct in the Western World is the Ten Commandments. These fundamental principles have been accepted, taught and transmitted by Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Indeed, they embody the shared moral idealism of Western religions.

In unmodern times, there was little controversy about the validity of the divine commands. True, there were those who rejected God's dictates, but they were prepared to accept the consequences.

Because the Almighty was regarded as the absolute authority, he had the right to command and we abide by his moral code. Did we not accept his sovereignty at Sinai?

THEN THE mood of modern man changed this traditional conception. Sophisticated and educated people questioned whether God, or anyone, for that matter, could issue commands without our veto.

They preferred to replace the Ten Commandments with 10 suggestions. Let the individual decide for himself if he wants to follow the Biblical code, or any code, for that matter.

These modernists brought up their children in the same atmosphere of relativism. They would not command them to do anything. They would only suggest and employ gentle persuasion at best.

These elders remembered only too well that when they were told that God commanded, or when their parents imposed prescribed behavior, they resented the restrictions and promised themselves they would do nothing more than suggest without being authoritative.

They would want their children to enjoy freedom and latitude in making up their own minds on moral issues. This, they believe, is how true respect is gained.

Meanwhile, the statistics on crime and violence continue to mount in all the countries of the free world.

The streets of our major cities are no longer considered safe at night falls. Fear has become a way of life for those who live in the deteriorating sections of American urban centers.

To live in constant dread of authority and its demands can cripple the mind and stand the spirit. By the same token, to live without the fear of external authority, to ignore the consequences of disobedience and normlessness, to establish oneself and one's desires as the sole arbiter for right and wrong can be equally destructive.

These scientists were summoned to request an answer from this giant computer on how to find a solution for peace, for a decrease of violence, for the elimination of corruption, stealing and murder.

After days of assembling the proper material to feed the computer, the moment had come to request an answer that would bring stability to the world. Scientists carefully programmed the information into the computer and waited for the answer.

The vast machine began to sputter and smoke, and the tape gradually eroded. All the scientists gathered around and began to read the print-out message to the assembled world leaders.

"I am the Lord your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt; thou shalt not murder... thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor..."

Stars invade city of champs

Jim Hughes
Just killing time
 What do Chicago's Comiskey Park and Livonia Stevenson High School's soccer field have in common? Both are sites of All-Star games, where a collection of some of the biggest stars in the sport battle in a fun, yet still competitive contest.

Like the Major League Baseball All-Star game scheduled last night in the Windy City, the Observer & Eccentric's Prep Girls' Soccer Classic will feature outstanding talent Saturday morning in the Winning City — Livonia, which houses the reigning boys and girls state champions from Stevenson.

GIRLS REPRESENTING the All-Area teams from Oakland County and Wayne County will meet 11:30 a.m. Saturday at Stevenson (see related story).
 This event is a first of its kind by this newspaper — pitting honor squads from the two counties in the O&E coverage area. It promises to be an exciting game, especially when you consider the brand of soccer played in such cities as Livonia and Troy, just to name two of the perennial powers.

Even if you're only slightly interested in soccer, this is the game you want to see. Every girl who will step on the field is a top-notch player. It should be entertaining, and a good instructional tool for the youngsters.
 See you there.

• Is it my turn to jump on the Michigan Panthers' bandwagon?
 Isn't it nice to have a sports team in this town that nobody boos. Even the Tigers — who have played as well as any team in the league the past month — give reason to stir up the boo-birds occasionally.

Sure, the Panthers are on a roll and winners of the Central Division of the United States Football League. But that's not what has me turned on and tuned in. Win or lose, this new club is simply exciting. They do things offensively their NFL counterparts only think about.

The prime example took place at Chicago in the second-to-last regular season game with the Blitz. After the Panthers built a seemingly insurmountable lead, the Blitz stormed back and pulled to within eight, 27-19, midway through the fourth quarter. In lieu of running the ball in an attempt to eat time off the clock, the Panthers — with quarterback Bobby Hebert firing passes like drills in practice — went back to work. The long drive was culminated on a 32-yard TD pass to Anthony Carter.

That's exciting football.
 In addition to having a team that's fun to watch, we have a winning team that is fun to watch. And the team is run by management which cares for its players and fans. When the team was floundering in the early going, the Panther brass went after players who could turn it around.

So the team turns it around and qualifies for the playoffs by winning the division, and what does team owner Alfred Taubman do? He lowers ticket prices for the playoff game. A nice touch to a nice season.

But the Panthers' season is far from over, so says my top sports source. My private source — "Mike the Spike" — figures the Panthers are 21-point favorites at home against the Oakland Invaders Sunday. Then, assuming Philadelphia takes care of Chicago as "The Spike" predicts, Michigan will beat Philly on a neutral site — Denver's Mile High Stadium.

Now "The Spike" has been wrong before, but he also predicted Leonard over Hearn, the American League over the National League in 1971, Curran over Connors, and Mexico over Lebanon in straight sets in volleyball preliminary action at the World University Games.

Spike, who sat on the 50-yard line in the sweltering Silverdome Sunday, told me beforehand that the Panthers would outdraw the Tigers, which they did, $1,905 to 26,703.

All-Stars match skills

By Jim Hughes
 staff writer
 Talk about a dream matchup — Oakland County vs. Wayne County in a girls' high school soccer game.

Both counties are rich in soccer tradition, and when the conglomeration of all-stars representing the two Observer & Eccentric All-Area teams take the field 11:30 a.m. Saturday at Livonia Stevenson, some of the best talent in the state will be showcased. Of the girls on the two teams, five earned first-team All-State honors while seven others were selected to the second team.

The O&E Prep Girls Soccer Classic, the first of its kind, also will feature two of the best coaches in the state. Noreen Divens, who guided Stevenson to the state championship this spring, will lead the Wayne County team while Mike Ruddy, who took Troy to the state semifinals, will direct the Oakland County squad.

"This is a good idea, and I think it will be a good game," Divens said. "It doesn't matter who you put out there (from the All-Area first and second teams and honorable mention), they are all very good players. We have some very strong players on every line."

"WE SHOULD have a very competitive team," Ruddy said. "I think one of the things that will be different is the style of play between the two teams. We'll try to control the ball, and I think Wayne County will use more strength and power. I have a pretty good idea of what Wayne County has, and if they have an idea of what we have, fine. If not, that's fine, too."

The Wayne County roster is made up of seven first-team players, six second-teamers and a pair of girls who made honorable mention. The players are Lisa Brocardo, Andrea Bokos, Mary Kay Hussey and Leasa Kilx of Stevenson, Dorene Dudek and Jennifer Huegli from Churchill, Kathy Greig and Lisa Rigstad from Bentley, Colleen O'Connor and Shelly Staszal from Plymouth Salem, Margie Wangbichler from Plymouth Canton, Karen Felts and Dawn Sullivan from Garden City, Heather Brda from Franklin, and Shannon Bowler from Ladywood.

Oakland County has seven first-team All-Area players, six second-teamers and one honorable mention. The players are Renee Eickholt, Trish Lally, Lori Nicley and Cheryl Kusza from Athens, Liz Suttie and Ericka Johnson from Troy, Karen Bednark from West Bloomfield, Debbie Wojtaszek and Chris Nagy from Marian, Lisa Leonard from Lahser, Beth Porterfield from Groves, Sue Ferguson from Farmington Harrison, Stephanie Scott from Seahoim, and Ilka Warshawsky from Southfield.

"I'M LOOKING for a very well-played game," Divens said. "I know the girls are looking at it from the aspect of playing and having a good time, but when they go out there, they're going out to win it."
 "It may be more competitive than fun," Ruddy said, "but it should be both. It's an exhibition game, and that's the way it should be. I just want to keep it in the right perspective."

The following is a brief rundown on the first-team All-Area representatives from Wayne County:
 • Brocardo, a sophomore, won all-conference honors and Stevenson's MVP award for her defensive play. She scored six goals and added five assists.
 • O'Connor, a junior defender, was all division and all-league for the second year in a row. A captain for Salem, O'Connor was noted for her tackling skill.

Pitching parade combines for a 3-hitter

All-Star Tony DeMare of Redford-Westland Adray connects for a single during the first inning of play at Tiger Stadium. DeMare, a second baseman, helped the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League defeat the Lansing All-Stars, 2-0, in the annual Adray battle.

By Brad Emons
 staff writer
 It certainly wasn't nervousness so Judge for yourself.

The Livonia Collegiate Baseball League (LCBL) standouts ignored the jitters Tuesday of playing at Tiger Stadium, defeating the Lansing All-Stars, 2-0, in the annual Adray baseball game.
 Catchers John Judge of Livonia Adray and Mike Barger of Ann Arbor Wendy's stood out offensively, combining for four of their team's seven hits as the LCBL won for the first time in seven years.

"When they got on the field they were a little awestruck," said Roger George, manager of the Redford-Westland Adray, currently first in the LCBL. But for Judge, the Catholic Central graduate who spent this spring at Miami-Dade (Fla.) JC, it was old hat.

"I wasn't nervous because I played here in high school (in the Catholic League championships) and have been a bullpen catcher here for a month now," he said. "I've been going out here every day when they (the Tigers) are in town at 3 p.m. with Roger Craig and the pitchers."
 "But it's always a thrill to play here."
 JUDGE, used as a designated hitter in the All-Star game, got a much deserved rest from behind the plate. He catches in two leagues in addition to his Tiger duties.
 Livonia scored twice and collected four hits in the first inning off Lansing starter John Smoltz, threatening to blow the game wide open.
 Livonia Adray's John DePillo led off with a walk and went to third on Tony DeMare's (RWA) single. RWA's Jim Zentgraf then followed with another single, scoring DePillo to make it 1-0. DeMare eventually scored on a wild pitch.
 But that was the extent of the scoring.
 The LCBL, meanwhile, used six pitchers to blank Lansing on three hits.

Moore shocks foe to win Festival gold

By Scott Soucy
 special writer

The fifth-running of the National Sports Festival was as good for Roderick Moore last week as it was bad for Craig Payne.

Moore, a recent graduate of Bishop Borgess High School, boxed his way to a gold medal in the 139-pound class, while Payne, Livonia's super-heavyweight, was upset in a first-round bout against 28-year-old Al Evans of Chicago.

A decided underdog, Moore surprised Cleveland's Henry Hughes, rated No. 1 nationally, in his semifinal bout with a 5-0 decision.

Moore knocked down Hughes briefly in the second round and showed no fear against the favorite.
 Fighting out of the Kronk Gym, Moore went on to win the Gold by decisioning Vincent Webb of St. Louis, Mo., raising his amateur record to 119-15. (Webb reached the final by earning a hard-fought decision over Jerry Page of Columbus, Ohio).

"I didn't like being just an opponent in this tournament," said Moore, the 1983 Golden Gloves champion. "I was rated fourth going into the competition, but now I should be No. 1."
IN THE FINAL, round one was uneventful, Moore using good boxing skills and movement to gain a slight edge.
 The pace picked up somewhat in the second round with Moore becoming the aggressor as both boxers scored well with left jabs.

Moore then scored a standing eight-count over the tiring Webb in the final round, almost stopping his opponent.

Payne, the defending Sports Festival and Golden Gloves champ, was hoping for a rematch with Philadelphia's Tyrell Biggs, who won a controversial decision over him in the 1982 U.S. Championships.
 But 223-pound Payne, who had beaten Evans in three previous encounters, never got there.

Thirty-seconds into the first round, Evans connected with a long right lead to the head of Payne, knocking the Livonia boxer to the canvas for a quick two-count.

PAYNE was up quickly as action resumed, but Evans kept up his charge. He backed Payne into the ropes, unleashing a straight right hand. Payne, however, appeared to avoid the punch, but slipped while throwing his own combinations.

Referee John Holaus of St. Louis, Mo., however, judged that Payne had suffered a severe blow and rushed in, stopping the bout after just 44 seconds of action.
 The crowd disagreed with the decision, but there was nothing the 22-year-old Payne or his corner could reverse.

Both Payne and Moore will compete Aug. 6 in St. Louis in the Pan-Am Game Trials.
 Payne, who boxes out of the Livonia Boxing Club, will have a chance to redeem himself, while Moore, the eight-year veteran, must now defend his No. 1 spot.

Pitchers trade off gems in twin-bill

Do unto others... which is what the Plymouth Canton Elks did to the Plymouth Salem Elks Tuesday in their Connie Mack baseball double-header at Canton.

In the opener, Salem's Rick Berberet handcuffed Canton to just three hits as Salem swept to a 2-0 victory.

But the tables were turned in the nightcap. Canton's Bucky Blake returned the favor, stopping Salem on two hits in an 8-2 triumph.

The split left both teams with two defeats. Canton remains atop the league standings with a 9-2 mark, while Salem is 6-2.

IN THE OPENER, Berberet allowed just one walk while striking out three to collect the victory. Mike Battaglia's mound performance for Canton — one earned run, seven hits, no

Too good a show? Iafrate must decide on Olympics

By Brad Emons staff writer

Decisions, decisions. That's what 17-year-old hockey whiz Al Iafrate must face after making the big cut for the U.S. Olympic hockey team at last week's National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The Livonia defenseman was among 27 players selected to practice with the U.S. squad. He can either take part in the 1984 Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, and risk being one of seven players still to be cut, or play next year with the Belleville Bulls of the Ontario Hockey Association, one of Canada's highly rated Major A leagues.

"Finishing high school and getting a diploma — that will be a factor," said the 5-foot-3, 190-pound Iafrate. "It's going to be a lot tougher decision. I'll have to talk with the people at Belleville."

Considered a top major league prospect, Iafrate most recently decided to forego his senior year at Bentley High School and finish his schooling while playing in Belleville, a small town north of Toronto.

people in sports

BECAUSE HE was drafted by the Bulls and would receive money for his play, Iafrate would forfeit his NCAA eligibility.

"We sat down with Dr. (Ken) Watson, Bentley's principal and he was very open with us," said Iafrate's mother, Alice. "He said that you should pursue your dream."

But a potential Olympic berth has thrown a wrench into his plans.

"I'm surprised he was even asked to play (at the Sports Festival) and I thought he'd just have the experience to skate with older players," admitted Mrs. Iafrate. "I didn't think he'd make it. It makes me nervous for him."

"But it's a thrill of a lifetime and I'm very happy for him."

Eighty of America's top amateur players converged last week on Colorado Springs to make an impression on coach Lou Varso.

Iafrate played on the East squad (one of four teams) and steadily improved during his week of play. Considered an offensive defenseman, Iafrate tallied two goals and added two assists.

"I just came here hoping to make a good showing," said the young Livonian. "At first I was really nervous. The game was more fast-paced, but everybody, even the older players, were nice to me and treated me well."

"I got more comfortable as I played and I found out I could skate with them."

"We're good friends again together on Compuware."

Iafrate said that even if LaFontaine decided to play for the U.S., it wouldn't have a bearing on his decision.

Al Iafrate faces tough decision

ON TUESDAY, Waterford's Pat LaFontaine, drafted third overall in the recent NHL draft by Stanley Cup champion New York Islanders, joined his ex-teammate at the Olympic Training Center.

"We're good friends," said Iafrate. "We played two years ago together on Compuware."

Iafrate said that even if LaFontaine decided to play for the U.S., it wouldn't have a bearing on his decision.

Rolling to gold Skater to shoot for world title

By Brad Emons staff writer

Chuck Jackson, the 22-year-old roller skater from Westland, appreciates the fact that he can win a gold medal around his neck.

The 1979 Franklin High School graduate returned last week from the National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colo. a winner in the 1,000-meter race and runner-up in a pair of relays.

In the 1981 Sports Festival in Syracuse, N.Y., Jackson's best individual finish was fourth.

"It was an accomplishment that I had set high for myself," said Jackson. "I wanted to win one (a gold medal). It means a lot to me."

"I wasn't sure if I could win because the conditions were not ideal. I trained hard, but the floor was different. It was slippery and a slower surface."

Jackson, no stranger to the sport, has competed in the World Championships three consecutive years — 1980, New Zealand; 1981, Belgium, and 1982, Italy — with his best finish being fourth place.

"In the world championships the tracks are banked and are a lot faster," said Jackson, who is ranked third nationally indoors. "Drafting is a big advantage. This should really help."

Jackson was somewhat disheartened when roller speed skating was not accepted as a demonstration sport for the 1984 Summer Olympics.

"It's something that's been talked about the last three or four years," he said. "It was a real disappointment to all the skaters."

14-28 in Caracas, Venezuela. The world championships are this fall in Argentina.

Jackson has made rapid progress in only his sixth year of skating.

He credits his improvement to a strict training regimen.

Three times a week, Jackson travels to Fenton, Mich. to skate with teammates from Rollerama, eight of which competed at the Sports Festival.

He spends additional training time biking — 20 to 75 miles per day. And if that's not enough, he carries a 40-hour-a-week job as a supervisor at the Strat'n Station in Canton.

Chuck Jackson of Westland came home with a gold medal after winning the 1,000 roller speed skating race at the National Sports Festival.

But Jackson is not deterred because of the Olympic setback.

"Roller skating is fast moving," he said. "And it's enjoyable."

The gold even looks more valuable.

Dean remembered as bowling savior

Bowling lost one of its greatest friends last week.

George W. Dean, the former labor commissioner who saved the game back in 1945 with a ruling that permitted the use of 15-year-old boys as pinsetters, died at the age of 94 in Venice, Fla. He was buried last Saturday at Charleville, Mich., in the family plot.

Bowling was experiencing difficult times in the early 40s, with the war on, and young men being inducted into the service. With each passing day the lack of pin boys caused havoc in many of the establishments.

Conditions became so bad several of the major establishments were about to close their doors.

"This was before the coming of the automatic pinsetters. Finally, the proprietors took their case to the labor commissioner and asked the age limit be reduced to age 15."

The commissioner finally worked out a program combining school and work and the game was saved. Thus, Michigan became the first state in the union to have a work program that was copied across the land.

With the program the labor commissioner always was looked upon as the savior of the game.

WHILE THE FINAL tally has not been reached for the finals in the championship tournament that are to be held at Cherry Hill Lanes on July 23-24. If an extra week is needed the days of July 30-31 have been kept open.

Last year the total entry reached 5,880 teams and the prize list exceeded $94,000. It is expected that those figures will be exceeded this time around.

WHILE THIS is a busy time for proprietors trying to plan a full schedule for the fall and winter season, most of the top leagues will keep the lanes held last year. The lone exception will be the Bonanza Thursday Classic that is moving from Orchard Lanes in Pontiac.

Wonderland Lanes and Westland each will have their classic that are rated right behind the all stars and the ladies all star league at Garden Lanes is rated right behind the Bowlerettes and the Ladies Major.

So, it looks like another good season in the offing.

MD softball upcoming

If you've got a Class B or C softball team with a 500 record or worse, there's a place for you, the sixth annual Canton Muscular Dystrophy Softball Tournament Aug. 5-7 at Griffin Park.

The entry fee is $95, all of which will be donated to fighting muscular dystrophy. In the past five years, the tournament has resulted in more than $20,000 collected to find a cure for MD.

Teams must also pay a $5 umpire fee for each game of the double-elimination tourney and supply one ball. Last year, 48 teams competed in both men's and women's play. This year's tournaments for men's teams only.

Robinson's bat sparks DiPonio

Tim Robinson blasted a two-run double to support the stingy pitching of Brian Tiller and Dan Knapp as Plymouth Salem DiPonio stopped Southfield, 5-1, Saturday.

DiPonio suffered a 6-5 setback June 30 at the hands of North Farmington 1, despite another superlative effort by Robinson.

Robinson's long double to left center was all DiPonio needed in its win over Southfield. Rob Adams and Don DeBello contributed two hits apiece in the victory.

Tiller started and got the victory for DiPonio, pitching the first five innings. Knapp relieved in the sixth and hurled the final two frames to pick up the save.

Against North Farmington I, Robinson banged out three hits in four trips and knocked in all five Salem runs, but it wasn't enough to derail North. Mike McKinney went the full seven innings and was saddled with the defeat. McKinney also had two hits at the plate.

ONCE-BEATEN Quality Construction stayed that way — once-beaten — last weekend by posting a pair of victories, 11-5 over Craigton Saturday and 4-2 over Westland Sunday, in Poe Wee Rees League play.

Dan Boyle, Marc Martinkowski and Bob Files combined on the mound to thwart Craig Saturday, with Mike Culver and Andy Gee providing the offense.

On Sunday, Quality avenged its only loss of the season behind the two-hit pitching of Chris Johnston. Boyle, Johnston, Peter Bidichon, Tim Pilon and Ken Plonka led the hitters.

Quality is now 12-1 in league play and 16-1 overall.

Mike MacDonald (Livonia Adray), who hurled the first inning, got credit for the victory, RWA's Ray Kovich, who pitched the final two innings, picked up a save.

IN BETWEEN, Pat Martin (Michigan National Bank), Gary Beggs (RWA), John Recker (Livonia Adray) and Dave Rodriguez (Livonia Adray) each led Lansing scoreless during their one-inning stints.

"All of our pitchers threw very well," said George. "Both he (Kovich) and Beggs showed why they are two of the better pitchers in the league."

Barger, meanwhile, showed some fine defensive skills, throwing out a pair of Lansing base stealers at second.

Roy Hill proudly shows off his Mercury Capri pro stock dragster in front of Jack Roush Engineering in Livonia. Hill, a native of North Carolina, will gun for a title this weekend at the Northern Nationals at Milan Dragway.

Hill climbs to dragster summit

With the help of a Livonia Engineering firm, Roy Hill hopes to drive his Mercury Capri pro stock into the winners circle this weekend at Milan Dragway for the Northern Nationals, one of eight major races on the International Hot Rod Association (IHRA) circuit.

Hill, a furniture dealer from Sophia, N.C., and Livonia's Jack Roush entered a partnership last September with hopes of winning an IHRA title. Currently in fifth place in the overall point standings, Hill is optimistic about his chances at Milan despite the stiff competition which has been lined up.

"We're going all out," said Hill, a veteran of the sport since 1982. "We're not holding back."

Roush, a Livonia resident with 80 employees working under him, specializes in the engine development and testing. He started as a drag racer in 1964 and later formed six different world championship combinations, the latest coming in 1981 with driver Ronnie Sox driving a pro stock.

"ROY IS the crew chief and engineer," said Roush, via telephone from Colorado Springs where he is overseeing a road race. "I've known Roy since 1976, and we've respected each other when he raced Chrysler cars."

"I think there's a lot of potential, and we expect to win at Milan. Roy is as good as any (driver) we've seen."

Hill says he spends $250,000 per year to race on the pro circuit.

Other Hill sponsors include Motorcraft, Lincoln-Mercury, Firestone, Moroso and Rio Airways of Texas.

"Winning is self satisfaction," said Hill. "The more I win, the more endorsements I win. The prize money doesn't pay my expenses, but you've got to have money to survive."

Ford, which dropped out of racing for a time, recently moved back onto the scene, according to Hill.

"Racing sells cars," he said. "It's something you can relate to. Fords get better gas mileage because they're better aerodynamically today and go faster with less drag. They're related to us. We're constantly changing and developing in this business."

HILL'S CLIMB is not easy. He must try to overtake points leader Ricky Smith in his Ford Thunderbird along with veteran circuit dragsters Bob Glidden, Lee Shepherd and Warren Jackson.

"Everybody is going to go all out," Hill added. "The race here in Detroit is big. Everybody wants to do well."

Glidden is one of the top engine builders in the world.

But Hill also has a sound race background.

"I grew up around the Petty brothers," he said. "What I learned from them money can't buy."

The green light, please.

Budding playwrights get their first break

By Carol Azizian staff writer

The young playwright sits in rapt attention as four actors breathe life into the words she has carefully crafted on paper.

As the handful of avid theater-goers alternately laugh, remain silent and applaud, the playwright gets her first insight into how effectively the dialogue works to make her characters believable.

One actress dramatically acts out her lines without the use of props: "Give me a coat hanger. I want a coat hanger. I'm going to rip this baby out of my body and probably kill myself. But as long as you (her husband) don't have to put up with another child, I'm sure it won't matter."

SHE TURNS TO the actors playing the roles of her husband and father-in-law. "Todd, you hold one leg and Norman, you hold the other. Well come on, I don't have all night."

All the performers agree — the lines are convincing.

"The character, Cindy, reacts desperately and frantically after her husband refuses to accept the news that she's pregnant. 'I can't believe it. I really can't,' says the husband. 'Oh, Cindy, how could you do this to me?'"

"Cindy's frantic search for a coat hanger and her decision to tell Todd and Norman to grab her legs are visual images," said Rosaria Cardella, co-founder of the Fourth Street Playhouse in Royal Oak.

"The images (evoke) what women actually go through when they go to a gynecologist."

The 22-year-old former Southfield resident who recently moved to Berkeley said she wrote her first plays when she was a child.

"When I was growing up in Allen Park, I wrote plays and performed them with the neighborhood kids in my garage," Drite said.

Her family later moved to Midland. She abandoned her writing career until her senior year in high school.

"After graduation, I went to New York with my mom and some friends. We saw a few Broadway plays, and that renewed my interest and (inspired) me to write again."

Keith Hindmarsh is both amused and taken aback by Rosaria Cardella's advances. The pair is acting out a scene from Ian Drite's comedy "A Fond Farewell."

THAT'S A KEY to successful playwrighting, said Cardella. She was one of the performers who staged a "reading" of her first Southfield resident Ian Drite's first two plays — "The No Win Game" and "A Fond Farewell."

The Fourth Street's new "Reader's Theatre" provides a forum for budding playwrights to see their works performed on stage for the first time.

The actors simply read through the scripts with minimal props. Both the actors and the audience are encouraged to tell the playwright what they think.

"Staged readings have been around for as long as there have been plays," said Darrell Zink, artistic director. He has staged a mixed bag of contemporary plays since opening the Royal Oak theater three years ago.

"DRAWING HER characters from 'people I see and families I know,' Drite wrote a two-act play, "Face to Face," a few years ago. While holding down two part-time jobs — one bus driving at the Steak and Ale restaurant in Southfield and the other working in the radio programming department at WMIC — she drafted the two one-act plays performed at the Fourth Street.

"I need to take time out and reflect for a while. Then I'll rewrite both of them and hope they're produced somewhere."

Reader's Theatre offers 'Separate Ceremonies'

The Fourth Street Playhouse will present "Separate Ceremonies" by Phyllis Purscell at 8 p.m. Wednesday as part of its ongoing Reader's Theatre program.

The playhouse is at 301 W. Fourth in downtown Royal Oak. Tickets for Reader's Theatre are $3, with a $1 discount for students and senior citizens. For ticket reservations or further information, call the playhouse at 545-3666.

"Separate Ceremonies" is a study of grown-up children trying to face the death of their father and to overcome the distance that has developed among them over the years.

The play has not been produced, but it received two staged readings as part of the Women's Project at the American Place Theatre in New York. Phyllis Purscell lives in New Jersey and has not as yet had a play produced.

The Fourth Street Playhouse Reader's Theatre program presents previously unproduced plays. Each script receives minimal rehearsal, and the reading is designed to assist playwrights in the further development of their plays and to assist the theater in evaluating new scripts for possible future production.

At 16, he's already a pro

Has pen, will design anything

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

When Chris Franchi was in the first grade, he liked to draw superheroes. "There was always something to do," he said. "I would make Batman and Robin paper dolls and my friends would ask for some. I kept trying to draw. I would learn something here and something there."

Franchi is still drawing, and he is well on his way to becoming famous himself. What is almost as remarkable as his artwork is that he is only 16 years old.

Working from a desk in his Livonia home, the young artist has created designs and drawings for items ranging from local school publications to business cards.

IN HIS first full-time job — a position with G.A. Design, at Six Mile and Middlebelt that he started one month ago — Franchi prepares drawings for restaurant menus. He has designed, or is in the process of designing, sketches for the El Matador in Toledo, Anton's in Bloomfield and Tequila Willie's, a chain of 10 restaurants around the country.

"It's a job that I like," Franchi said. "I get to draw and I get paid for doing something that I like. And it helps people at the same time. They need to have the picture for their businesses, and I'm helping them."

Franchi prepares menu sketches after he is told about the particular restaurant. He might draw scenes of a bullfight and a man with a donkey for a Mexican restaurant's menu, for example, while he wouldn't prepare futuristic sketches for a menu at a restaurant with traditional decor.

"They give me the background of the restaurant, and I go from there," Franchi said.

FRANCHI got the job through his art teacher at Churchill High School. Also through the school, Franchi has gotten involved in drawing a mural for a wall in a children's hospital, as well as designing covers for school publications and T-shirts for school plays in the area.

His mother, Fran, encouraged Franchi's interest in art by giving him new art materials and pushing him to draw, Franchi said.

"He was already an artist, we just kept at him," Fran Franchi said. "We knew someday he'd be good and famous, we just didn't know when it would be."

Franchi's future plans include attending the Center for Creative Studies and working in commercial art.

"I always wanted to become an artist," he said. "Whether I could draw good or not, I didn't know."

THE TALENTED young artist has established his credentials. One restaurant was so pleased with his work that it made an exception and credited him, on the back of its menus, for the menu drawings. He won first place in this year's Scholastic Art Awards, and is now preparing drawings for next year's contest.

In addition, Franchi has drawn newspaper ads for the Michigan National

His artwork has appeared in print, on menus and in friends' homes.

'He was already an artist, we just kept at him. We knew someday he'd be good and famous, we just didn't know when it would be.'

— Fran Franchi

Working from his office at home, Chris Franchi prepares artwork for business and pleasure.

Bank, a catalog for Action Sportswear and a cartoon for Cartoons Magazine. He designed a T-shirt for a visiting Irish soccer team, the 2,500-shirt supply of which sold out, and painted a bulldog on a garage door for a friend's mother. He has given his paintings as presents.

"I've never advertised," Franchi said. "People know me through somebody else."

As busy as Franchi is, he still finds time to draw for himself.

"I can complete a final drawing in three days," he said. "I really get into it and I just keep drawing and drawing until it's done."

THE HIGH school student would like to have an exhibition someday, he said.

"I would like to have someone walk into a gallery and hear them say about my paintings, 'Oh, that's nice,'" Franchi said.

Franchi is the only full-time artist in his immediate family. His father, Jerry, and older brother, Dean, work in his father's construction company, while his mother works at Michigan National Bank. Younger sister Gina is in school.

"My husband is very good at drawing, and my father was excellent," Fran said.

Backs symphony orchestra, arts

When Merrill Lynch gives, people listen

By Corinne Abatt
staff writer

Among the things which Merrill Lynch is bullish about is the arts.

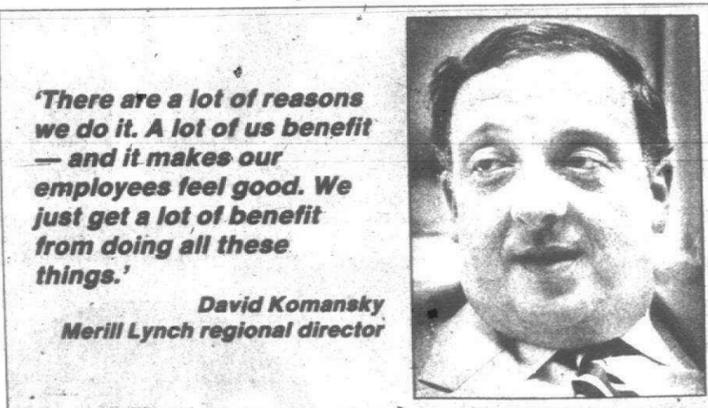

David Komansky, regional director for the widely diversified firm that is best known as a brokerage house, said the company's heavy investment in the arts, in terms of both people and dollars, is good business.

But, it's more than that as he quickly explained, "I feel very strongly that we have to put things back in the community in which we live."

The recent announcement that Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith will sponsor the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's "Weekender Pops" for the 1983-84 season is one in a long list of community projects which they have subsidized.

IN HIS second floor Southfield office, Komansky relaxed in an easy chair and talked readily and enthusiastically about his firm's involvement in everything from Detroit Metropolitan Opera Week, Channel 56, to the mayor's relief fund, multiple sclerosis and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

As he described various projects as examples, it was obvious there are more than pure arts which he and other regional directors

'There are a lot of reasons we do it. A lot of us benefit — and it makes our employees feel good. We just get a lot of benefit from doing all these things.'

David Komansky
Merrill Lynch regional director deem worthy of support.

Komansky aims for more than pure dollar involvement.

"What we're trying to do is get our people involved along with money. It's not enough to throw money. We prefer to perform rather than talk."

He paused and then said positively, "One thing I won't do, I won't say to somebody, 'I'll give you X number of dollars.'"

HE USED the phrase "quid pro quo" as he spoke of the benefits the firm derives from its community participation and questioned why some fund raisers still shy away from working with corporate donors on that kind of a basis — seeing that the corporation gets something in return for its donation.

"Not a bull charging across the stage . . . but, we're in a business. We have to impact a sector of the market."

In the case of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Weekender Pops is now called the Merrill Lynch Weekender Pops — and that means higher visibility.

When Merrill Lynch staffers take leadership roles in local activities, they become a part of community life. They know the people.

They have a stronger identity. And while all that may help business, it also benefits the individual. Those in the company working together on projects develop a common-goal camaraderie among themselves and with the community at large.

"I DON'T want to be the front man for all these things," said Komansky. "My job is to involve the firm, and we try to assign all these different functions to our different managers and they become involved."

Pen and ink drawing needs right detail

By David Messing
special writer

Decisions . . . decisions. All artists must make decisions when drawing. What do you draw and what do you leave out? If you are drawing in the right progression, that is, main shapes first and details last, you usually find yourself ending with a good balance of structure and detail.

It is never advisable to overdraw just a part of a drawing when you have yet to block in the main shapes of the rest of your picture. When you add details to small sections at a time, your total drawing doesn't grow together. Often certain features which are completed at one time are out of proportion to parts of the drawing which have details completed at another time.

Finishing a section also puts pressure on the artist. You end up thinking, "I hope I don't blow this after a great start."

Those who are able to see, or have been taught to see, details have a problem of deciding what to draw and what to leave out. Those who haven't the ability, or haven't learned to see details, are bothered by their inability to render their way to realism.

BOTH KINDS of artists are in trouble. Although those who are able to see details are better suited, their drawings are most often rendered to death and they look like they should be titled "studies in patience."

Now those who cannot see details usually don't spend the time needed to draw a good picture because they simply do not "see" the need. Their drawings float somewhere between gesture drawings and cartoons.

The reason for this lengthy introduction is because I would like to take two articles to cover pen and ink. Pen and ink will quickly and graphically show you if you are an "overlooker" or an "underlooker."

Overlookers sit and watch as their hand systematically adds more and more ink and their drawing slowly approaches a black blob on the paper. While underlookers sit and stare at their almost blank sheet of paper wondering what they left out.

In some media you blend with your fingers or brushes but in pen and ink you have a pen tip that makes a clean black line. So how do you get shades of grey?

CROSSHATCHING is the most common

way of shading. This is merely a drawing lot of lines in one direction which appears to form a gray area. If you need this area darker turn the paper slightly and cross over the same lines. This will shade the area twice as much.

You can repeat this over and over until this area appears to be black with little white dots.

When drawing animals it is important to watch the direction of the hair and feathers and to make sure you follow close to your model or photos. When drawing buildings, barns and shacks, draw in the main shapes then begin shading in the direction of whatever wood grain there may be.

Welcome to the excitement of balloons

The largest ballooning event in Michigan will be held in Plymouth July 8, 9, 10. On the second weekend in July more than 40 colorful hot air balloons will be launched during the third annual Mayflower Hotel Hot Air Balloon Festival.

The festival is sponsored by the Mayflower Hotel in conjunction with Gordon Boring of the Wicker Basket Balloon Center and by more than 40 businesses.

The balloons will ascend from Plymouth Township Park, at McClumpha Road and Ann Arbor Trail, about one-and-a-half miles west of the city of Plymouth.

The ascensions will be at 6 p.m. Friday, July 8, and at 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

DURING THE competitive flights, pilots and sponsors will have opportunities to win trips from British Airways, American Airlines, U.S. Air, Eastern Airlines, New York Air, or win automobiles from Dick Scott Buick, Don Massey Cadillac and Red Holman Pontiac.

Admission to the event is free and a $1 fee for parking will be charged.

On Friday and Saturday evenings, after the launchings, a "Balloon Ball" will be held on the deck of the Mayflower II. Cocktails, food and dancing will be featured with tickets sold at $3 each.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will host a Catfish Dinner at the launch site on Saturday and Sunday. Some 75 shops will be open as early as 6 a.m. on Saturday.

The double-decker bus will depart from the Plymouth Cultural Center one hour before each launching. Cost for transportation to the site will be 25 cents per person, roundtrip.

Tether rides will be available after the launches at $5 each.

On Saturday, there will be an Art in the Park show from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in Kellogg Park to provide entertainment between daylight and dusk launches.

Flying seminar offered

A Hot Air Balloon Seminar will be held in Plymouth at the end of this month.

The seminar will be conducted by Van Stifler, who is associated with Ft. Wayne Ground Schools, at the Mayflower Hotel beginning at 9:15 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, July 23, 24.

Persons completing the two-day course will be eligible to take a written exam to become a licensed hot air balloon pilot by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

The seminar will cover such topics as federal regulations, density, altitude, lifting force, landing, ballooning weather, equipment, vocabulary, aeronautical charts, weather reports, good operating practice and mountain flying.

THE SEMINAR covers the information required for both private and commercial hot air balloons, and free balloon pilot licenses. The tuition of $90 (additional family members $30 each) includes all classroom presentations, handout materials, and loan of an aeronautical chart, circular protractor, and test guides.

Stifler also is a designated written test examiner appointed by the FAA and will administer the written tests upon course completion. Stifler guarantees persons attending the seminar will pass the FAA written examination or tuition will be refunded.

The classes begin at 9:15 a.m. Saturday and Sunday with a lunch break at 11:45 a.m. and afternoon sessions from 1-4 p.m. On Sunday, July 24, the written exams will be given at 1 p.m. and will last about 90 minutes.

Reservations in advance are necessary and may be made by calling the Wicker Basket Balloon Center at 669-4230 or Stifler at 219-747-5533. Payment is due the morning of July 23.

Stifler presented a similar seminar in Plymouth in 1982.

From the inside looking out, the shadow of a crew member is cast on the side of a balloon in the process of being inflated during a Press and Sponsors Party for the festival. The party was held several weeks before the actual festival.

Ballooning has changed over the years

More than a century before the Wright Brothers first took their air "trip" in North Carolina, man flew thousands of feet in the air.

In the springtime of 1783, two Frenchmen made an observation which would speed the coming of man's first flight. Etienne and Joseph Montgolfier noticed that ashes of burning paper rose quickly in the smoke of a fire. They theorized that if they could contain some of this "magical" smoke in a sphere it too would rise into the air.

By building a paper balloon and filling it with smoke from a fire the pair made the first hot air balloon. In their early experiments, the balloons floated over the French countryside and caused quite a stir.

The Montgolfier brothers made a demonstration of their balloon to King Louis XVI and his court at Versailles on Sept. 19, 1783. The balloon used also was made of paper, and below that balloon suspended in a basket were the first passengers ever to leave the surface of the earth — a duck, a rooster, and a sheep.

These farm animals were put in the basket to determine if the air above was fit to breathe. So the experiment was pronounced a success when, after the balloon landed, the animals were found to be healthy.

It was decided that human passengers would ascend next, but there was some discussion on whom they should be. The king suggested two condemned prisoners should go as their lives were "expendable." But Pilatre deRozier and his friend, the Marquis d'Arlandes, objected with the argument that the honor belonged to noblemen, not to prisoners.

Nobility won the argument and on Nov. 21, 1783, they became the first two men to rise above the earth in a balloon.

SIMULTANEOUSLY others were working on balloon technology.

J.A.C. Charles had made some experiments with "flammable air" (later known as hydrogen) in balloon spheres made of animal skins.

His experiments met with similar success, and it was only 10 days after the DeRozier/Arlandes hot-air flight that Charles and M. Robert rose over the rooftops of Paris in a balloon filled with hydrogen. This flight also was successful, and so was born the era of lighter-than-air flight.

Following these flights was a mania for ballooning which would lead into the 20th century. Balloons and balloonists became the most talked-about subject in the civilized world.

When the Wright Brothers flew their heavier-than-air biplane (Kitty Hawk) at Kill Devil Hills, N.C., in 1903, the attention of the public shifted toward what would prove to be more practical devices for flying.

The art of ballooning, however, survived and paralleled the development of other forms of flight without much technological change since the first flights 200 years ago.

The equipment became more refined, but the balloons themselves looked nearly like their earlier counterparts. Balloons even played a role in the Civil War as the Army used them for long-distance surveillance.

IT WASN'T until the early 1960s, though, that hot-air ballooning came back into popular use.

With the introduction of nylon and rayon, and development of propane, a modern hot-air balloon could be which was both safe and practical.

Unlike its hydrogen and helium counterparts, the hot-air balloon of today is a compact unit which can be set up in minutes and be flown for an hour or more at a cost of less than $100 per hour to operate.

Today there are close to 2,000 hot-air balloons in the United States and a few hundred more in other countries. It is one of the fastest-growing air sports in existence, and each year attracts many new pilots and balloon owners.

Observer sponsors photography contest

The Plymouth and Canton Observer Newspapers is sponsoring its third annual Hot Air Balloon Festival Photo Contest this summer. The Observer invites its readers to submit color slides taken of activities during the three-day Mayflower Hot Air Balloon Festival July 8-10.

Winners will be selected by the Observer news staff and announced in August when the first-place winner will be printed in full color on Page 1A of the Plymouth and Canton Observers.
Slides only will be accepted (no prints). The slides must be mounted with the name and phone number of the photographer printed legibly on the slide frame.

BESIDES HAVING his/her entry published in the Observer, the first-place winner also will receive a weekend for two in Mayflower II, and a $50 cash prize. The second-place winner will receive a $25 cash prize plus free passes for four persons to attend the Sunday Brunch at the Mayflower Meeting House.
The third-place winner will receive Sunday dinner for four at the Mayflower Hotel. Honorable mentions will be given out according to the quality of the entries.

To be considered for judging, slides must be submitted no later than 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 12. The entries may be mailed or brought in to the Observer news office at 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

All entries become the property of the Observer Newspapers and will not be returned. Anyone wanting a personal copy should arrange to have an extra copy made before submitting an entry.

THE CONTEST is open only to amateur photographers. Anyone working for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Suburban Communications Corporation or any of its divisions is ineligible.

Anyone with questions may contact Emory Daniels or Marybeth Dillon Ward at 459-2700.

There is no theme for the contest, so photographers have the flexibility to shoot whatever pictures they believe capture the spirit of the Hot Air Balloon Festival.

Judges will give priority to the content of the slide but also will take into consideration the degree of difficulty in taking the picture, technical qualities, and the ability to reproduce for publication.

A HUTTON AMA

A securities account, no matter how you slice it, is no better than the broker who's behind it. E.F. Hutton's Asset Management Account may be the most well thoughtout product of its kind. It is an investment vehicle providing a combination of features no one else is offering. But without the E.F. Hutton Account Executive it is just another nice concept.

Our AMA provides convenient access to your assets through a check-writing privilege at a major bank and worldwide access through the prestigious American Express Gold Card®. (If you prefer, Hutton also offers a similar account without the Gold Card-Asset Reserve Account.)

And, of course, our AMA is a securities margin account, providing flexibility and full service unlike programs offered by insurance companies and banks. Your marginable securities provide additional purchasing power. Enabling you to borrow when needed at competitive brokerage house rates. It also gives you a cogent monthly statement.

Interest, dividends and idle cash are automatically invested at least monthly and possibly more frequently in your choice of three money market funds, so your monetary assets are always working for you.

With an AMA you can put your assets into everything from equities to puts and calls. But a range of opportunities is not enough. A well-structured account is not enough. Many financial institutions give you choices. At E.F. Hutton, we believe you also need ideas. And that's where your E.F. Hutton Account Executive can play a crucial role.
