The Canton Connection

A CANTON COUPLE are enjoying peace of mind about their infant son, thanks to the police department.

It all began when the 10-week-old boy's mother compared two sets of palm prints taken at the hospital for identification. The prints didn't match. The mother was worried about a baby mix-up at the hospital.

According to police, the hospital is supposed to take two sets of a baby's palm. Instead of taking two prints of the same hand, the hospital apparently printed each hand.

Worries were put to rest after Canton police took a new set of the infant's palm prints and secured additional verification from the Michigan State Police. Happily, the baby boy is in his rightful home.

COOL OFF by taking in the Robert Redford movie, "Downhill Racer," at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Canton Public Library.

The film, about a skier, is part of the library's free classic film series. The library is on the third floor of Township Hall on Canton Center Road near Proctor.

CHRISTOPHER VANDERWEEK of Canton recently attended the United States Space Camp at the Alabama Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville, Ala. The weeklong camp teaches youths about science and the space program.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce asks businesses to cooperate with chamber policy when requested for a charitable contribution.

Merchants should call the chamber office to make sure the solicitor has been given a letter of approval or ask to see the letter. The policy is designed to protect merchants and residents from non-approved or phony solicitation.

MARY KAY PAVOL of Canton is enjoying her summer on a five-week cultural exchange program in Ireland. She is one of 135 students from 25 states taking part in the project.

JEANNINE F. GLEESON of Canton recently received a scholarship from the University of Detroit Law School to cover her final year of study beginning next fall.

THE AMERICAN Red Cross is looking for blood donations this summer. Blood can be donated by anyone between the ages of 17-65 who is in general good health and weighs at least 110 pounds. Call 422-2820 for information or an appointment.

PHILIP LA JOY and other members of the Canton Soccer Club recently received the thanks of the Township Board for planning a safe and successful soccer tournament, held recently in Canton.

Anyone interested in submitting information to the Canton Connection column should send the item to Canton editor MaryBeth Dillon Ward, 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170. Please type or print the information, and include your name and phone number in case we have any questions. Column items should be received at least 10 days before publication date. ## Few fired up over street-light plan

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Township officials are puzzled over the poor response to a proposal to install street lights in subdivisions.

Only about 25 residents showed up last week for the first round of public hearings about the proposal for Cavalier Village north, south and west subdivisions, and the Century Farms sub.

Only two residents favored the project, which will be paid by the property owners. All the others strongly objected, mostly on the grounds of cost.

"Frankly, I'm surprised at the lack of turnout from four subdivisions," said trustee Steve Larson.

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS recently decided they would install street lights in those subdivisions where people want them. The hearings give residents an opportunity to express their views.

Clerk John Flodin, who spearheaded the hearings, said many residents have requested lights as a deterrent to burglaries. Flodin expressed disappointment at the sparse turnout.

"I'm at a loss," Flodin said. "What about the people who were upset about break-ins? I have spent hours talking with them."

Notices of public hearing were sent to residents. People were given the option of speaking their opinions during the two-hour public hearing or responding in writing.

Residents who failed to respond

John Flodin
Canton clerk

would waive their rights to object, under public hearing guidelines.

Members of the Township Board said they want to satisfy the wishes of the majority and not force residents to accept street lights if they don't want them.

"We are not selling street lights," said Supervisor James Poole. "We are not sales people for Detroit Edison."

"We really want to know," Poole added. "The overwhelming response I have gotten since it hit the newspapers and the mailboxes has been no, no, no."

RESIDENTS CRITICIZED the hearing notices, saying they were unclear. Flodin said he will discuss the issue with the township's attorney, who helped draft the language of the letter.

The board is to make its decision on the first four subdivisions Tuesday. Future public hearings will consider other subdivisions.

As of late last week, most of the residents of the Cavalier Village and Century Farms subdivisions failed to respond — for or against — the street light notice, Flodin said.

Among the replies received, not predominated over yeses in Cavalier Village north and west, and Century Farms. A tie vote (20 each) was recorded for Cavalier Village south.

Only a few letters were returned for lack of delivery, Flodin said.

"The fact that those large numbers didn't respond makes me think it's indifference, neglect," Flodin said. "Or do they want street lights? I'm kind of in a quandry."

OPPONENTS WHO did attend the

Next hearing Tuesday

Residents of four subdivisions in southern Canton will have a chance to voice their opinions about street lights beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Township Hall.

The second of a series of public hearings will cover Canton Country Acres, Cherry Hill Oaks, Cherry Hill Orchards and Cherry Hill Pines subdivisions. Homeowners are encouraged to attend the hearing and express their views.

Township officials are considering the installation of lights in subdivisions which now are without illumination. Each subdivision will be evaluated and decided upon separately. If more than 50 percent respond in the affirmative, the lights will go in.

The cost will be jointly shared by homeowners in the affected areas.

Plans call for 30-foot-high lights to be installed at intervals of approximately 200 feet.

ACCORDING TO Clerk John Flodin, Detroit Edison estimates each light costs about $245 per year to operate. The cost is divided among all property owners, "the theory being each resident receives the benefit," Flodin said.

Estimated annual cost per homeowner currently is pegged at $44-55, with variations based on number of lots, curbs, ditches and other factors, Flodin said.

Costs, which are determined by the Michigan Public Service Commission, would be paid by residents in the annual property tax bill from the township.

Woman recalls 2-hour kidnapping ordeal

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Editor's note: A woman who entered Plymouth's Fourth of July run was kidnapped for two hours after dropping out midway through the race Monday. Luckily she escaped unharmed. This account reflects her desire to help others avoid fall- ing prey to a similar life-threatening attack. The names used in the story are not real.

Her energy waning, muscles cramping and damp skin salty with sweat, 32-year-old Kelly Golata was in no mood to finish the Plymouth Jaycees' five-mile race in Monday morning's steamy heat.

At the halfway mark, on Edward Hines Drive between Wilcox and Northville roads, she slowed to a walk, turned around and headed back to the starting line.

All the runners had passed her by the time she noticed a lone, disheveled-looking man walking towards her. No sooner did he pass her than he grabbed her in a headlock and held a blade to her throat.

"Don't scream or I'll cut your throat," he said.

"Let me go," Kelly screamed, struggling to free herself.

THE MAN WRESTLED the still-screaming Kelly to the ground, but she succeeded in fighting him off and staggered to her feet.

Not for long. He dragged her into a brown car parked nearby, and threw her through the driver's side door onto the seat.

"I was on my back on the seat kicking him and screaming," Kelly said. "I was so mad I think I just forgot about the knife."

Cops seize Livonia man in Hines Park incident

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

A Livonia man has been arrested in connection with one of nine attacks on women in western Wayne County's Edward Hines Park.

But, Wayne County Sheriff's deputies believe the man they arrested Wednesday is responsible for only one of the sexual attacks which started on May 12.

Deputies still are searching for two men they believe are responsible for the other attacks, Detective Larry Patterson said Friday.

Lawrence A. Schleger, 31, was arraigned Thursday in 35th District Court on three charges stemming from a July 4 kidnapping.

AN INNOCENT plea was entered for Schleger on charges of kidnapping, felonious assault, and assault with the intent to commit criminal sexual conduct (rape). Upon conviction the charges carry maximum prison penalties of life, four years, and 10 years respectively.

Judge James Garber postponed a preliminary examination until Schleger completes a forensic exam to determine his mental ability to be tried on the charges. A $50,000 cash bond was set.

Schleger is accused of kidnapping a 32-year-old Plymouth woman at knife point along Hines Drive between Wilcox and Northville roads. He then allegedly drove her around in his car for two hours.

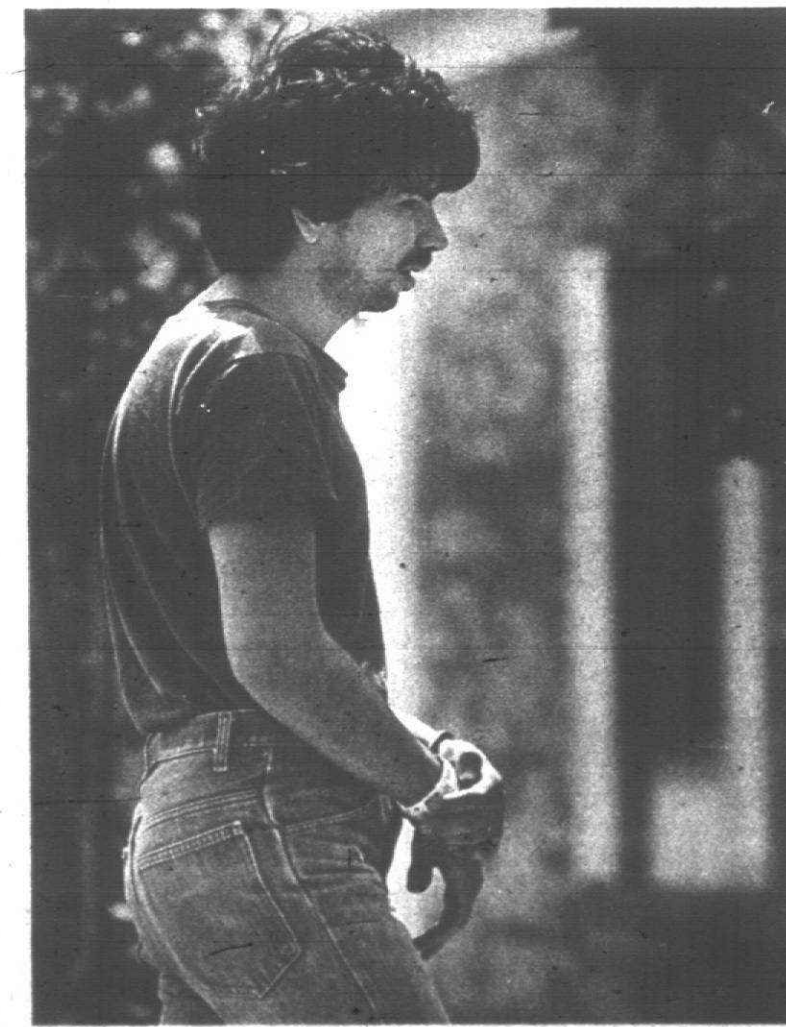

The woman, who had dropped out of Plymouth's July 4 five-mile run, escaped unharmed after the man momentarily left his car.

Most likely the woman was uninjured because she decided to quit fighting the man and talk with him while he drove around, Patterson said.

"We think the kidnapping was an isolated incident. We have two suspects for the other incidents," Patterson said. "At this point we have two separate descriptions, an older man and a younger man, for the other eight."

The other eight attacks, between May 12 and June 17, involve men attempting to grab and rape women or exposing their bodies.

THE INCIDENTS happened in locations throughout the park, including Cass Bend in Northville Township, Woods Drive and the I-275 viaduct over

Lawrence Schleger was accused of kidnapping and assault charges. He is accused of abducting a woman at knife point along Hines Drive July 4.

Youths lose jobs in flap with union

About 70 young people in Plymouth-Canton lost their summer jobs with the school district Friday as a result of an objection made by the maintenance union.

The group was terminated as of Friday because of a grievance filed by the executive committee of Michigan Education School Personnel No. 1 (MESPA) against the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The young workers were employed under the Summer Youth Employment Program funded by the federal government. Federal rules require agreement from any union involved if summer youth workers are to be retained.

The regulations provide that if any union files an objection the matter must be taken to mediation. If mediation fails to resolve the issue, the employer must terminate the jobs of the young people employed.

This year the school district hired youth for the summer under both the federal youth program and under the Michigan Youth Corps Program.

Although the federally funded youth jobs must be terminated because of the union grievance, school officials were unsure Friday whether those hired under the state program would have to be let go.

"I was hopeful that these young people would be allowed to continue their employment for the remainder of the summer but the executive committee of the union has stated by letter to me that they feel these young people would jeopardize jobs of their members," said Byron Richardson, regional manager of the Summer Youth Employment Program.

"I DO not personally feel employment of these young people would jeopardize union positions. However, the required program

MEET THE NEW DOCTOR IN TOWN!
Hi, I'm Dr. Clifton J. McLellan
Did you know that being certified as a chiropractor requires a minimum of six years of highly specialized college training?
Today's Doctor of Chiropractic must complete 4,428 hours of classroom instruction and a rigid chiropractic board examination in most states, continuing educational seminars must be completed for annual license renewal.
In addition, I have completed courses in X-ray Diagnosis, and Orthopedic and Neurologic evaluation. I hold degrees in Biology from Humboldt State University and Doctor of Chiropractic from Palmer College of Chiropractic. Post graduate studies include two years as an intern at the famed Five Points Chiropractic Clinic of Davenport, Iowa.
While in college, I was included in "Who's Who, Among American College Students," and most recently was nominated to Outstanding Young Americans. To further my continuing education, I have recently received special training in the Gonstead Technique, and Spinal Thermography from Mt. Horeb, Wisconsin.
This is the kind of training and professionalism I offer you. If you have hesitated visiting a chiropractor, perhaps you didn't know that some chiropractors go to such great lengths to continue their education and provide you with the latest techniques and the most qualified service. So you see, what you don't know, can't help you. Call me today and let me help you.

Those who visit the Indian arts and crafts classes Tuesdays and Thursday's at Plymouth's American Indian Heritage Center behind Central Middle School may have met first grader Roger Crain, a Cree Indian from Canada. His adoptive mother, Audrey Crain (left), lends him some assistance during class.

Students at Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' American Indian Heritage Center have learned to duplicate works of art once made by their great-grandparents.

Plymouth alive with Indian culture

By W.W. Edgar staff writer
Virtually hidden in a portable building behind Central Middle School is one of the most interesting classrooms in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.
There is no identification on the building and nothing about it on the exterior that stands it apart from other portable units on the edge of the big parking lot.
But inside of the first unit is what is officially known as the American Indian Heritage Center for students with some trace of Indian ancestry. They gather each day during study hour of the regular school day to learn more of the traditions of their forefathers.
They are taught such things as bead work, pottery painting, arts and crafts, and other activities which their grandparents and great-grandparents engaged in when the Indian tribes roamed the Plymouth-Canton area.
" We have about 125 students here," said Rick Smith, center director, "and each day we have 30 or 40, with at least 125 students each week.
" Our enrollment is down a bit in the past two years because the government has altered some of its rules, but the interest is just as keen."
Some of the students who are enrolled at the center are more than one-half Indian and others as little as one-quarter.

THE CENTER is primarily financed with federal funds but the school district also helps to keep this unusual school in operation.
On a recent afternoon there were students at the center who traced their ancestry to the Cherokee tribe which originated in Oklahoma and West Virginia. With them were representatives of the Chippewas who settled years ago in Michigan, of the Wappas, and of the Sac and Fox tribes.
Ray Fowler represented both the Wappas and the Sac and Fox tribes and his forebears lived on the farm where the present high schools are located at Canton Center and Joy Roads.
At the helm of the school is Smith, who came to Plymouth-Canton two years ago from Walled Lake. At times he is assisted by Frederica Rossi whose forebears were from the Mohawk tribe. She is a certified art teacher.
At other times Barbara Bunyee of the Bunyee Farm on Powell Road, Plymouth Township, joins in teaching the students.
The one-room school is filled with Indian works of art, pottery, beaded work, and other things which help keep alive the traditions of the students' families.
" It is difficult for a child with Indian blood to learn of the traditions of the tribes which roamed the country long before the Pilgrims landed," said Smith. " The city is more sophisticated and there is little thought of these traditions. But the students with Indian blood are eager to learn and each day is a new experience."

To make the visits to the Indian Center more attractive the students are given half an academic credit.

Woman recalls 2-hour kidnapping ordeal

At 4 foot 11 and 95 pounds, Kelly was pushed by the assailant she guessed to be 5 foot 11, 145 pounds. When he pushed her farther into the car, hopped in and closed his door, Kelly decided to reach for the passenger door and jump out.

Panic gripped her when she realized the door's handle was missing.

She spotted a runner about to bypass the car and screamed as loud as she could.

The runner jogged by.

"I just knew then I was trapped — that I wasn't going to fight him any more. I had to stop screaming and talk and plead my way out of it," she said Tuesday morning.

"I pleaded with him so much — I said, 'Please don't hurt me, I'm 32 years old and have two children. If you need money, I'll give you money. Just drive me to my car, and I'll get it,'" added the three-time marathoner, who never before has encountered any trouble while running.

"He told me, 'I'm just lonely. I just want to talk.' He drove past my car and headed west on Ann Arbor Road.

"I think he was going to rape me — he put his hand on my knee and started jiggling with his pants. I just kept talking about anything I could think of. I wanted him to think I wanted to talk to him. I thought, 'This is what he wants,'" Kelly said.

AS THE FRIGHTENING two-hour ordeal crept by — the kidnapper driving halfway to Ann Arbor before turning around and circling the Plymouth-Northville area — he told Kelly his wife had moved out with their little girl because he killed his brother-in-law in a scuffle.

He himself had been shot 17 times and was in intensive care in the struggle, he told her. He said he was being able to see his little girl, Kelly said.

"I told him it was a miracle he even came out of it (the gunfight), and told him 'God watches you, and what you do.'"

"I wanted to stay away from subjects that'd irritate and rile him," said the petite blonde, who to no avail tried talking the attacker, into stopping the car and taking a walk.

"I think if I would have gone berserk, sworn and made him mad that something would have happened," she added. "I tried to look at him in the eyes. If you do that I don't think they're as likely to think of you as a victim."

"Something took over. It was like I had a guardian angel. It still hasn't bit me. I keep wondering when I'm going to crack up.

"I kept thinking about where I should have him drop me off. He told me, 'You're just great. I'm sorry I scared you. I can't believe I did what I did to you. You're a beautiful person.'"

"I said, 'You don't have to do this to have someone to talk to,' and I told him, 'You'd never want to upset your little girl like you upset me, would you?'" added Kelly, who's employed by an Oakland County accounting firm.

WHEN SHE summoned the courage to ask to be dropped off, the man said, "no, I'm going to go to my mom's house to get some money. I'm buying an old police car tomorrow, and she's got the Hines Drive in Plymouth, the Newburgh Point area and Lakeview Drive in Livonia, and Inkster Road at Hines in Westland.

All but the first incident happened to women by themselves, Patterson said.

The exception — May 12 at Cass Bend — involved a man claiming to have a gun forcing three women to watch as he masturbated.

Besides the July 4 kidnapping — believed to be unrelated — the attacks stopped after June 17.

"We have gone down in the park and interviewed a lot of people and done quite a bit of surveillance," Patterson said.

"Very possibly we talked to the people responsible, or they got word we were closing in on them."

Although the attacks have stopped, Patterson said they are continuing the investigation.

WAYNE COUNTY Sheriff Robert Ficano believes the park still is a safe place to go.

"Our investigation has really put the damper on it. There is no reason to be afraid," Ficano said.

Through cooperative efforts with the local police departments law enforcement officers are "turning the park back into a family place," he said.

Cooperation between the deputies and local officers is "better than it has been in past years," he said.

Ficano is placing more deputies in the park later this month when the mounted patrol is reinstated. The action is made possible by private donations and a $10,000 grant from the Hudson-Webber Foundation.

Currently deputies are completing screening for the positions in cooperation with the Detroit Police Department, he said.

The mounted patrol will be housed in the Hines Park Mini-Station at Hines Drive and Newburgh Road.

The situation in the park is under control, but people should use caution and common sense, Ficano said.

JCs thank Fourth helpers

To the editor: The Plymouth Jaycees appreciate all the supporters of our annual Fourth of July activities.

Whether it is the 5 Mile Run, Bike Decorating, the Parade, or the Fireworks, there always is the feeling that everyone genuinely supports us and is having a good time.

With all the individuals and businesses who help, monetarily and in spirit, the only list that would be complete would be the Plymouth area phone book.

Host families are needed

Host families still are needed for foreign exchange students coming to the Plymouth-Canton area.

In less than two months, foreign exchange students will begin landing in the U.S. to spend a year with American families.

Baseball fan, 84, recalls old Tigers

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

"I remember Ty Cobb. Why not? He was the greatest baseball player who ever lived. And I can still see him walk to the plate with three bats in his hands — the only player who ever did that.

William Frazee

"I now live out in Lomita, California," he said, "and see the Tigers every time they come to Anaheim. And every time I see them I am reminded of the days I lived in Detroit and worked at the lumber company across Trumbull Avenue from Tiger Stadium."

He had asked to meet the writer whom he remembered as a baseball writer on the Detroit Free Press so that he could discuss some of the "old days."

that he could discuss some of the "old days."

Few fans can remember the days of 50 and more years ago, but the elder Frazee rattles off the names of the greats and how he rates them.

"He doesn't have much praise for the present day players whom he says, 'don't play the game like they did when Ty Cobb was an idol.'

"The Babe didn't have to wait for a favorite pitch. He would reach out and hit them — high or low. Then he'd run the bases on those spindly legs. There never will be another like him, but in my mind he can't replace Cobb."

Since he moved from Detroit to California, the elder Frazee has adopted the Los Angeles Angels as his team.

But when the Tigers come West to play, he says he has the time of his life on those afternoons.

"If they get up there to play for the pennant, I am going to have a difficult time of it," the veteran fan said, "but when it comes down to the real I still think I'll be sort of rooting for the Tigers."

The kindly gent, who will be 85 years old in October, has a kind word for the writers of the old days, too.

oral quarrel

Today's Oral Quarrel question was: Are you satisfied with the Observer? What are we doing that you like and what are we doing that you don't like? The answers of our readers follow:

I think it would be advisable to give information and publicity to the drownings by Newburgh Lake to make the citizens of this community aware of the dangers of Newburgh Lake and the undertow there. Nothing has been said in your paper about these drownings to warn these kids that are out of the school for summer in relationship to the hazards of this lake. I think it would be advisable to inform the community what the problem is and make the parents aware and advise their youngsters not to go swimming as it is prohibited by law. However, I have read no comments in the paper about these hazards.

Obviously we are not quite at the level of the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News, but among the three local papers the Observer is definitely number one. Their coverage of local Canton affairs is by far superior to that of the other two competitors, the Crier and the Eagle. Good work — keep it up. Thank you.

One thing I don't like, I was disappointed with your coverage of the Canton Festival and the Canton Parade. I am an avid reader of your newspaper and a longtime resident. I was displeased on very little coverage of probably one of the biggest community events in Canton — the Canton Parade and, of course, the festival. Your Monday and Thursday newspaper editions one week before the festival should have had first-page headlines, advertise the dates, and the events and happenings, but it didn't. It had nothing. I was very displeased. If some residents didn't see the signs around the expressway areas, they wouldn't have known about the event. I would appreciate next year more coverage of the Canton Parade and Festival on the front page to let everybody know what's happening in our community. That's important.

I pretty well like the Plymouth Observer. At one time they had back-garmon problems in it and I would like to see that feature returned. Thank you very much.

I'd like to comment on the fact that the Observer does not share a lot of the things the parochial schools in our area are doing and their activities and their accomplishments. They are a big part of our community and more and more parents are choosing that alternative. I'd just like to see more write-ups about the good things and the activities of the parochial schools in our area. Thank you.

You do a nice job covering township affairs and Plymouth going-on, but it would be nice if you would cover more extensively the clubs, organizations, public school activities in Canton, and the Canton Country Festival activities so people would know what they could do in their own community. Thank you.

In some ways your paper is pretty good, in some ways it's not. You're in a 97-percent district here that is all Republican. I think Tim Richard is getting a pay-off from the Democratic Party.

Yes I'd like to have you next year advertise and publicize more of the Canton Festival and Canton Parade.

There is hardly any information in your paper. Also, more importantly, one week before the event you should advertise events and times, which I'd see and I didn't even know about it. Thank you.

I just went shopping at K mart and this guy was out there trying to have a petition signed for Blanchard recall and Voter's Choice and I signed them both. He also gave me an article written by Tim Richard. Now what good is business if the people in Michigan can't afford to buy the product that they have? I don't know about your paper and Tim Richard.

Yes I'd like to make a complaint about the newspaper coverage on last month's Canton Festival and Parade. The festival being the biggest summer event had very little publicity. You being the city's home newspaper should have had front-page headlines of the events. The mistake you made was not publishing it the week before the parade and the festival. You have to let the community know of such big events the week before so people will not forget. That's about it. Thank you.

I think that the community events such as the Canton Parade and Festival should be better publicized in your paper. There was absolutely no mention or headlines of the festival a week before the event. If you don't let the community know what's going on within the boundaries of the community, they'll soon forget you. Thanks much.

I just read an article by Tim Richard from the Observer and I would like to know how he expresses the fact that Blanchard is going to spare the economy when people can't even afford their houses in Canton Township? How are businesses going to survive because of taxes?

Tell Tim Richards to keep his political views to himself. He's just doing more harm to your paper than any good.

Workers lose jobs

guidelines dictate that such a dispute, if not resolved by mediation, would result in these young people being terminated from the positions working with maintenance and custodial personnel.

A school administrator noted that the federal summer job program has been in place in the district for 10 years and the union, until this year, had not objected. The union presently is negotiating a contract with the school board.

The school administration has obtained from the teacher's union and from the secretarial union a waiver of their ability to object.

The attempt at mediation was made Thursday and failed.

hearing said a greater effort should be made to reach the people.

"Did you walk the streets to find out how people think?" asked one man.

Street lights should be installed when homes are constructed so people would have an option, argued a woman. Another resident said the plan "isn't affordable," noting rates probably will rise.

Street lights don't deter crime, said a man active in Cavalier Village north Neighborhood Watch crime-prevention program. Porch or yard lights are more effective and less costly, he contended.

But the police department's crime-prevention officer believes street lights would help cut crime.

"We have no way of polling all potential burglars or thieves," said police Cpl. Robert vanLith. "It [lights] has to be a positive step, otherwise, why do burglars operate at night?"

Street lights would help the patrol officer, vanLith said.

Resident promoted at UM-D

Dr. Michael J. Schneider of Canton has been appointed chairman of the department of natural sciences at the University of Michigan-Dearborn for a three-year term, beginning Thursday, Sept. 1.

U-M Regents approved the appointment at their June meeting.

Schneider joined the UM-D faculty as an associate professor of biology in 1973 and was promoted to professor in 1977. He was chairman of the department for two terms from 1975 to 1981.

After receiving a doctorate from the University of Chicago, Schneider was an assistant professor of biology at Columbia University in New York.

His research, which has been concerned with plant pigment, phytochrome, has been awarded numerous grants totaling almost $90,000.

Active in service to the entire campus, Schneider has served as the first chairman of the new Campus Program Priority and Review Committee.

Canton woman raped in S' field parking lot

A Canton woman, 21, was sexually assaulted in Southfield early Saturday morning by a man who forced her to drive to a parking lot near the Holiday Inn.

After a brief struggle, the man forced the woman into her car and verbally threatened her, ordering her to drive to a nearby parking lot, where she said she was raped, said Southfield police spokesman Steve Zultowski. The man wasn't armed.

At 1:40 a.m. Saturday, the woman noticed a small white car follow her to the Holiday Inn on Telegraph and 11 Mile, she told Southfield police.

The man is described as black, about 20, 5-feet-10-inches tall, 185 pounds and having a short, full beard.

Lucas puts county hospital on the selling block

By Tim Richard staff writer

County Executive William Lucas already has begun negotiating to sell or lease Wayne County General Hospital (WCGH), citing high deficits which he said even good management will be unable to correct.

Lucas' announcement came only a day after the Wayne County Commission defeated an ordinance proposal by Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster, that would have set up a commission-controlled board to operate the hospital in Westland.

"Kay Beard keeps talking as if the hospital would be closed if the county stops running it," said Dennis Nystrom, Lucas' chief of staff. While saying a complete closure is possible, Nystrom said it would be cheaper to keep the hospital operating at a deficit than to close it and absorb huge pension benefit payments.

NYSTROM TOLD a news briefing several parties are interested — "some are enthused" — about acquiring WCGH, whose depreciated book value is $15 million.

The Lucas Administration is confident it can sell or lease the hospital without approval of the County Commission. A spokesman acknowledged the county has a charter obligation to provide hospital "facilities" and service, but not necessarily to run a hospital.

"The best option is to sell," said Nystrom, adding, "It will create tax base for Wayne County, the city of Westland and the school district (Wayne-Westland)."

An audit report by Touche Ross & Co. said WCGH revenues are running $14 million less than its $64 million expenses while hospitals of similar size normally have operating surpluses of $1.3 million or more.

"SOME FACTORS can be controlled by hospital management while other factors are not controllable because they are governed by county policies or by agreements with labor unions," said the administrator's summary of the Touche Ross report.

The auditors put heavy emphasis on WCGH's labor costs, which it said were 50 percent per employee higher than at other area hospitals.

WCGH employs approximately 1,125 persons, nearly one-third of Wayne County general government's 3,500. Any buyer or tenant, said Nystrom, will need staff and would probably hire many of the current hospital employees.

He added that one prospective purchaser already said it could operate the program with 300 fewer staff members.

The Lucas Administration's decision to negotiate sale or lease had been preceded for months by statements that the county would have to cease operating the hospital unless major contract concessions were made by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), which represents about 900 of the staff. No concessions were made.

A MAJOR reason cited by commissioners for continued county operation was care of the indigent (persons with neither insurance, government programs nor cash to pay their bills).

But Nystrom underscored a Touche Ross finding that "only 6.2 percent of all inpatients treated at WCGH are indigent. . . . In most cases, it is likely that these patients could receive treatment at other hospitals covered under the Wayne County T-82 program or other medical assistance programs.

Bill Bliss

This is Bill Bliss for after dark. Fashion that takes its cue from the subtler shapes of day, then is elevated by Bliss to the wonder of night! His night-sweater — just a simple shrug of chenille, really — that becomes all an evening top should ever be. Sleek, sensuous, body-aware, with just a glimmer of black sequins to lead you on to the dazzle that reigns below: the all-sequined stark-straight skirt. The line of it... what could be more unassuming. The brilliance of it... what could be more riveting! Needless to say — hurry sundown! The sweater of rayon and silk chenille; the skirt of rayon. For sizes 4 to 14. 1960. In the Bill Bliss Boutique, Third Floor. Wednesday through Thursday in Troy, Friday and Saturday in Fairlane. Our special representative will present a trunk showing of the Bill Bliss collection for fall/winter '83.

We invite you to attend for "A Touch of Bliss", a gala dinner party and fashion show to benefit the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts on Tuesday, July 12th from 6:30 pm to 12:30 am in Somerset Mall, Troy. Tickets are $75.00 each. Call 833-7969 for information.

Alcohol series to be offered

A six-part series on alcohol and alcoholism will be offered beginning Wednesday, July 20, by Plymouth Family Service.

Topics will include attitudes, physiological effects of alcohol, and the symptoms, phases of alcoholism, with special emphasis on alcohol and the family.

The family emphasis will stress what happens to family members, spouse and children who are caught up in an alcoholic family system and how to get help.

There also will be a discussion at the end of the series on what is needed to help the substance abuser.

The series will be presented through diagrams, films, discussion and lecture. Anyone who is or has been concerned or uncomfortable with their own drinking or that of a family member would benefit from attending the series, says Director David Breeden, as well as anyone who grew up in a home where there was a problematic alcohol use.

Cost of the series is $15 per person and $20 for a couple or per family. Anyone interested or wanting more information may call Plymouth Family Service at 453-0890.

Enrollment is limited. Plymouth Family Service, besides offering the alcohol awareness series, also provides on-going individual, marital and family counseling.

Feldkamp assumes Rotary presidency

Dr. Lee Feldkamp has assumed the presidency of the Rotary Club of Plymouth.

Feldkamp was among the new officers for the 1983-84 year installed at the club's annual State of the Club Banquet held recently in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Other officers installed were: Kenneth Hulsing, vice president; C. Gordon Shaw, secretary; and Don Morgan, treasurer.

The directors of Plymouth Rotary include Gerald Farrell, Charles Olson, John F. Vos III, Russell F. Hoisington, Dr. James Carney, and immediate past president Gerard Loiselle. Robert J. Sincok is executive secretary.

The Rotary Club of Plymouth, which meets each Friday at noon in the Meeting House, was founded in 1924 and is in District 640 of Rotary International.

FELDKAMP WAS born on a centennial farm near Ypsilanti and spent his early life in Saline and Ypsilanti, graduating from Ypsilanti High School 50 years ago and from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1940.

Throughout high school and college,

Feldkamp was active in music and was a member of the U-M Marching Band and concert band.

After graduation, his hospital training was at Grace Hospital in Detroit followed by a tour of military duty as a medical reserve officer serving in the United States and in the European theater of war until returning to civilian life as a major in 1946. He was the recipient of the Bronze Star for meritorious service.

Since 1946, Feldkamp has been active in family practice, beginning in Detroit and moving his office to Plymouth in 1954. He is a charter fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians and has served as president of the Michigan chapter and director of the national organization. He is a staff member of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Married to Rita, president of the Rotary Anns, the two have 10 children and 11 grandchildren. A member of Plymouth Rotary since 1966, he completed 17 years of perfect attendance last month and is a Paul Harris Fellow.

LET'S STEP OUTSIDE!

A short trip, perhaps, to partake of sun, fresh air and a made-ahead dinner of charm and elegance

Before the time of balconies on city co-ops and suburban condos, and tiny patios attached to garden apartments, outdoor eating was a different scene.

It had mainly to do with backyards, camp sites and beaches, charcoal grills, hamburgers and franks.

No more. The scenario has changed. More specifically, there has been an evolutionary expansion in al fresco eating. People coming home from work, or even from the golf course to their leisure retirement complexes, aren't that much interested in starting a fire. Sure, they want to eat outside. But differently. More to their taste, in both senses of the word.

The meal is ready. It has been prepared ahead of time—even, perhaps, the night before—in a small kitchen. Quickly, efficiently, with products that are readily available and easily handled. It's a delicious, and, yes, elegant, dinner that can be set out in a relaxed manner before four or six old friends or potential new ones from the next concrete slab or brick patio.

If only one special person is there to share the air and the ambiance, the dishes pictured here can be prepared for two (see recipes below). With the exception, that is, of the sensational cookie-cake. And no need to worry about what's left over from that. It won't be left for long.

To start the meal there's a frozen appetizer cubed out from the freezer tray where it had been "setting." It sets the tone for what's to come. First a pre-dinner Angostura Iced Tea is offered, a sprightly version of an old favorite... low calorie, low sodium, aromatic and refreshing. Angostura aromatic bitters, as almost everyone knows, is a blend of many different rare herbs and spices that is used to make drinks and foods taste better.

The main dish is a South African rock lobster tail salad, with the flavorful rock lobster meat mixture piled back into the bright red shells and held, ready for service, in the refrigerator. The meat is tender, sweet and juicy because this succulent seafood comes from the ice-cold waters off the southwest coast of South Africa.

A green salad, of course. But then comes dessert! Packaged cookies from the supermarket are transformed without the need of a heated oven into an extraordinary cookie-cake that is as beautiful to look at as it is almost sinfully luxurious to taste.

At such an outdoor event, iced tea is a before, during and after dinner refreshment and extraordinary libation. On a fragrant summer evening, everyone wants to start right and prolong the pleasure as indefinitely as possible. Offer another glass in the cool of the evening when everybody is satiated with good food but doesn't really want to leave. Or make the drink Iced Tea Angostura again; it will not be dull, any more than the company and conversation will be.

FROZEN TOMATO APPETIZER

- 3 cups tomato juice
- 1-1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon Angostura aromatic bitters
- 1 small onion, sliced
- 1 stalk celery, minced
- 1-1/2 teaspoons minced parsley
- 1-1/2 teaspoons chili sauce
- 1-1/2 teaspoons horseradish
- Scallion brushes, garnish

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan except scallion brushes; heat 5 minutes. Strain and pour tomato mixture into an 8-inch square baking pan. Freeze 4 to 6 hours, stirring frequently, until mixture resembles sherbet. Press firmly into pan; cover and freeze until solid. To serve, cut tomato mixture into 1/2-inch cubes; spoon into stemmed glasses and garnish with scallion brushes. Makes 6 servings.

FOR TWO SERVINGS: use 1 cup tomato juice, 1/2 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1 bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoon Angostura bitters, 1/2 small onion, sliced, 1 stalk celery, minced, and season in proportion with remaining ingredients.

SOUTH AFRICAN ROCK LOBSTER TAIL SALAD

- 6 frozen South African Rock Lobster Tails (4 ounces each)
- 1 bay leaf
- 4 whole peppercorns
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup plain whole milk yogurt
- 1-1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped pimiento
- 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed celery seed

Drop frozen South African Rock Lobster Tails, bay leaf and peppercorn into boiling salted water. When water reboils, cook for 5 minutes. Drain, discard bay leaf and peppercorns; drench lobster tails with cold water and cut away underside membrane. Remove meat and reserve shells; chill and dice meat. Mix remaining ingredients together and stir in lobster meat. Spoon back into shells; chill thoroughly. Makes 6 servings.

FOR TWO SERVINGS: use 2 frozen rock lobster tails, 1 bay leaf, 2 whole peppercorns, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup plain yogurt and season in proportion with remaining ingredients.

ICED TEA ANGOSTURA

- 2 quarts iced tea
- 2 cans (6-oz.) each frozen orange juice concentrate
- 2 tablespoons Angostura aromatic bitters
- Lemon slices

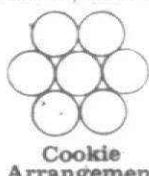

Combine iced tea, orange juice concentrate and bitters. Blend well. Pour over ice cubes and garnish with lemon slices. Makes about 12 servings. Recipe may be halved.

CINNAMON CHOCOLATE MOUSSE CAKE

- 5-1/2 squares (5-1/2 ounces) semi-sweet baking chocolate
- 6-1/2 tablespoons butter, cut into small pieces
- 3 large egg yolks
- 3 large egg whites
- 5 teaspoons sugar
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 2 packages (7-1/4 ounces each) Cinnamon Sugar Cookies
- 1/2 cup non-dairy whipped topping or whipped cream (optional for garnish)
- 6 Pepperidge Farm Chocolate-laced pirouettes (optional for garnish)

To make chocolate mousse: Melt chocolate in the top of a double boiler over simmering water. Remove from heat and stir in butter until melted; beat in egg yolks, one at a time, until mixture is smooth and creamy. Transfer to a large bowl. Using an electric mixer, beat egg whites at high speed until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar and beat until stiff. Add egg whites to chocolate mixture. Beat heavy cream with electric mixer until stiff. Add to chocolate mixture and fold in until mixture is smooth.

To assemble cake: Arrange 7 cookies on a serving platter in a flower shape, using some chocolate mousse to "glue" them to the platter. (See diagram) Spread cookies with about 1/2 to 3/4 cup mousse; top with another layer of cookies. Repeat until four layers of cookies have been used for cake (there will be two cookies left over). Frost top and sides of cake with remaining mousse. Cover and chill cake for 12 to 18 hours or until cookies have softened to a cake-like consistency. To serve, pipe cream around top edge of cake and press pirouettes vertically between flower petals. Makes 1 cake, 8 servings.

Cookie Arrangement

ICED TEA—THREE EASY WAYS

The Traditional Way (with boiling water): Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and immediately add 1/3 cup loose tea or 15 teabags. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water. To serve, pour into ice-filled glasses.

The Overnight Way (with cold water): Fill a quart jar or container with freshly drawn cold water. Add 8 to 10 teabags, removing the tags. Cover and let stand at room temperature or in the refrigerator at least 6 hours or overnight. Remove bags, squeezing against side of container. To serve, pour over ice.

The Instant Way (with instant tea or the iced tea mixes): Follow directions on jar or envelope. In general, use 2 rounded tablespoons of instant tea powder for each quart of cold water. Or 1/2 cup (or 2 small envelopes) of lemon-flavored iced tea mix to a quart of cold water.

Crab meat is a delicious way to extend menus.

Try versatile crab meat

Crab meat may seem expensive, but this delicious seafood lends itself to use as an extender item in many recipes, which keeps your cost per serving economical. You can combine crab meat with other foods to make omelettes, crepes, pasties, casseroles, sandwich spreads, salads and quiches, to name just a few.

In Virginia, the state which provides about one-third of the nation's blue crab meat, blue crabs are in season from spring through fall. However, you can find fresh refrigerated crab meat in stores year-round, thanks to a pasteurization process that keeps crab meat in fresh quality condition for about six months.

Pasteurized crab meat is pre-cooked and ready to eat because the meat is picked from crabs that have been thoroughly steamed. Cold from the refrigerator, blue crab meat is a perfect extender item in salads, such as in the recipe below. It's also a fine extender item in heated dishes, as in this Virginia recipe for a blue crab meat quiche.

Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat. Combine mayonnaise, flour, beaten eggs and milk; mix until blended. Stir in crab meat, cheese and onions. Pour filling into pie crust. Bake at 350 until set, approximately 40-45 minutes.

BLUE CRAB MEAT QUICHE
 1 lb. blue crab meat
 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 2 tbs. flour
 2 beaten eggs
 1/2 cup milk
 8 oz. Swiss cheese, grated
 1/2 cup onion, chopped or sliced
 8-inch prepared pie crust

Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat. Combine mayonnaise, flour, beaten eggs and milk; mix until blended. Stir in crab meat, cheese and onions. Pour filling into pie crust. Bake at 350 until set, approximately 40-45 minutes.

CRAB MEAT SALAD
 (6 servings)
 1 lb. fresh crab meat
 1 medium green pepper, chopped
 1/2 tsp. celery seed
 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 1 tbs. mustard
 1 tsp. seafood seasoning
 1 tsp. vinegar
 1 tsp. sugar
 Dash hot sauce
 Garnishes: parsley, tomato

Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat. Combine all ingredients, mix well. Shape mixture in a mound on serving dish, garnish with parsley and tomato, and serve.

Grilled steak doesn't have to be expensive

Mmmmm — steak on the grill! This is truly one of the joys of the cookout season. Fortunately for the food budget, there are a number of steaks that are great on the grill, yet inexpensively priced.

One of the best cookout buys in the meat case is beef blade steak. While this steak is from the less tender chuck section, it can be broiled with tender results when first marinated in a liquid containing an acid food such as lemon juice, vinegar or wine. For tenderness sake, it is also best if the steak is cooked just to rare or medium.

For a gourmet approach to marinated blade steak on the grill, try Peppery Beef Steak, inspired by the French classic Steak au Poivre.

PEPPERY BEEF STEAK
 2 beef blade steaks, cut 1/4 inch thick
 1/2 cup brandy
 1/4 cup water

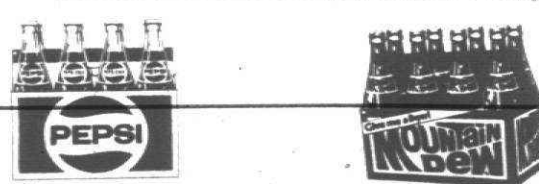

Combine brandy, water, lemon juice, oil, sugar, onion salt and salt. Place steaks in utility dish or plastic bag; add marinade, turning to coat. Cover dish and marinate in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours (or overnight), turning at least once. Remove steaks from marinade and press crushed peppercorns into surface of both sides. Place steaks on grill over ash-covered coals (or on rack on broiler pan) so surface of meat is 4 inches from heat. Broil at moderate temperature 7 to 10 minutes on each side, depending on degree of doneness desired (rare or medium). 6 servings.

To save your recipes, you just jot them down

"Your article on Waldorf salad prompted this letter," writes Dorothy Farland of Southfield. "There is an answer to your problem of saving recipes, called The Jot-It Cookbook."

Dorothy refers to a column earlier this year when I finally put down for posterity the recipe my wife seemed to misplace everytime she wanted to prepare the salad.

"This notebook is just what its name implies — a place to jot recipes," explains the retired school teacher who was a cook in the WACS during World War II. "(The) recipe book... eliminates yellowing notes and tiny, hard-to-read recipe cards. The fill-in pages... make a 'do-it-yourself' cookbook."

THE JOT-IT is divided into snacks and beverages; bread and rolls; soups, hot and cold; casseroles; meat, poultry, fish and eggs; salads, fruit, vegetable and molded.

The ingredients are printed; there are spaces to fill in the quantity. There is plenty of room to jot down the instructions.

There were several preprinted recipes in The Jot-It Dorothy sent me. She also loves to cook and eat, she confided.

"I bet she has a room full of Jot-Its — filled.

THE PLYMOUTH Waterball Team brought home the trophy after the big waterball fight in Northville July 4. The battle was fought on the grounds of the Ford plant after the Northville Fourth of July Parade.

Members of the Plymouth team, all volunteer firefighters, are Bob Steinebach, Dave Tabacca, Bob Johns and Dave Pelley with Bruce (the terrible) Burup up front as nozzlemaster. Bob Steinebach said he adds "the terrible" to instill fear in their opponents.

The home team feels the trophy belongs here. After all, the special fire extinguisher award was donated originally by Bruce's father-in-law, Paul Sanders. Sandy was a captain in the Plymouth Fire Department before his retirement.

MINA PAREKH was pleased with the turnout for the grand opening of her new shop in Forest Place. Traffic has been constant in Her Closet 'n' Gifts with its wide variety of women's clothing imported from India.

Fabrics are colorful Indian cottons and silks with some very interesting batik skirts and scarves. She also has bed spreads, mats and gift items.

Mina, a Canton Township resident, says the carved shell rings that retail for $1 actually come from Florida. But the rest of her merchandise is made in India.

MARY ELLEN Kenyon had high score at the June 20 party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street. Carl Peters came in second.

FRED AND OLGA Delano were in Dowagiac for Fred's 50th year high school class reunion. Fred said it was his first high school reunion — the first he had attended, that is. He had gone to class reunions at the University of Michigan but by comparison, he said, there is something very special about a small-town high school reunion.

"Olga enjoyed it, too," he said. "And she hadn't met any of them before the party."

COLONY SWIM Club will have a luau-pig roast the evening of Friday, July 22 for members and guests. Pam Anderson, social director of the swim club, is planning what is referred to as "a deliciously catered event."

Al's Bar-B-Q is catering the luau. They will begin roasting the pig Friday afternoon at the club — to have it ready for the 7:30 p.m. feast. If the weather is bad, the luau will move to the Colony Farms barn, which has been reserved for the evening.

More than 80 reservations have been accepted so far, and they are expecting the number to reach 100. Cost is $20 per couple.

A GROUP OF journalists from Brussels, Belgium was in town last week. They had been touring Michigan as part of the "Say Yes to Michigan" program. The Mayflower Hotel hosted visitors for their overnight stay in Plymouth and arranged a cocktail reception for them. This was the last leg of their tour of the state, which they said was beautiful. From here they were going to Greenfield Village and then home.

Two Ontario tour buses brought their passengers to Plymouth for the July 4th weekend. The Canadians love the parody on their money deal at the hotel and in participating shops.

IT COULD BE referred to as "The Case of the Unwanted Incinerator."

Jay and Pat McDonald tried to sell their incinerator at their yard sale, but there were no buyers. They left it out in their front yard with a $5 price tag on it. No one was interested. So, they put it out by the road, hoping someone would just take a free incinerator in good working order.

Finally, on the Fourth of July, while Jay and the older children were at the parade, someone picked up the incinerator.

So, what's the problem, you may ask.

They took the incinerator and replaced it with an old one, full of unburned trash. The McDonalds were not exactly enthusiastic about the exchange.

They were relieved Thursday morning when the trash collectors picked it up, ending their session with the unwanted incinerator.

John Hopkins (left) and Demetrios Papatriantafyllou of the New Hellas Cafe take a spin around Greektown with Rocky.

Greek Town welcomes John and Rocky

Greektown and Bricktown are old hat to Rocky now. After six weekends in downtown Detroit, the 14-year-old chestnut carriage horse takes it all in stride. John Hopkins, owner of Banbury Cross and Rocky, says the only horse-drawn carriage in Detroit has been kept very busy. He wishes he had one or two more.

"Rocky has settled down. He looks around and checks it out," said Hopkins.

He did get off to a rather rocky start. Banbury Cross tours began Grand Prix weekend. Hopkins was harnessing Rocky and in the press of the crowd, someone took his buggy whip. Later in the evening, Hopkins spotted the culprit standing on a corner. He jumped out of the surrey and retrieved it before the man realized what was happening.

A group of street players — fire-eaters and jugglers — were performing on the corner of St. Antoine and Monroe. The crowd's applause at the end of the act startled Rocky. He reared up and backed the buggy into a parked car. The rubber tires did no damage so no harm was done.

Rocky is now equally at home on the streets of Plymouth and Detroit.

THE GREEK and Bricktown tours are available 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Hopkins gives a running description of the area to his passengers. "One couple took the tour three times one evening. They were back last weekend for another one."

He said 99 percent the people are "really nice." The less agreeable show up around 1 a.m.

When a couple from Montreal, Quebec engaged the surrey, Hopkins gave his first lesson in French. He taught French in the Plymouth Canton Schools for many years. In fact, it was a trip to Quebec City with some of his French students, that was responsible for him founding Banbury Cross.

On Grand Prix weekend, a group of Germans in town for the race, took the tour in the surrey. When children are among passengers, he lets them take the reins for awhile.

Rocky and John have become a familiar part of the Greektown scene. Gus Anton and Demetrios Papatriantafyllou of the New Hellas restaurant treated Hopkins to lunch when he celebrated his 50th birthday.

INTEREST in the horse-drawn surrey has been responsible for Hopkins' appearance on Martini Turner and John Kelly's "Good Afternoon, Detroit" television show.

J.P. McCarthy has helped spread the word on his morning radio show. In appreciation, Hopkins presented a check to J.P.'s favorite charity, the Police Athletic League. The $100 was the result of a special P.A.L. Day benefit arranged by Hopkins and Banbury Cross.

Hopkins started the carriage business in Plymouth with rides for brunch guests at the Mayflower Meeting House. He has several types of carriages and these still are available for weddings, wedding anniversaries, parties and special events.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young was a passenger last July when he was transported from the City-County Building to a dedication of the Mary Tronk House on East Jefferson in Detroit. At that time, Hopkins discussed the possibility of carriage rides in Greektown. The mayor said it was a good idea.

Hopkins credits Jack Kelly, Detroit councilman, and Esther Shapiro, director of the Department of Consumer Affairs, with being very helpful in solving the bureaucratic problems involved in establishing the tours.

Alvin Folger completes 3-year Nissan assignment

With the successful launch of the Job 1 truck at the Nissan Motor Manufacturing Corp., U.S.A., Alvin G. Folger is making plans to complete his three-year assignment. Folger is vice president for engineering of the Japanese-owned company in Smyrna, Tenn.

The former Plymouth resident joined Nissan Oct. 1, 1980 immediately following his retirement from Ford Motor Co. His responsibilities with Nissan include design, construction and equipping the 3.2-million-square-foot facility. The Smyrna plant is considered to be the most technologically advanced automotive facility in the world with state-of-the-art computer, communications and robot systems.

FOLGER BEGAN his automotive career in 1947 with Ford's Atlanta, Ga. assembly plant. He had served in World War II as a pilot, spending 1 1/2 years in the U.S. Air Force in Japan.

He went from Atlanta to management posts with Ford in Georgia, Texas and Michigan, including positions as plant manager and chief engineer of truck assembly.

His most recent post, before joining Nissan, was director of plant engineering, with corporate responsibility for Ford's construction and other plant-engineering activities worldwide.

Folger received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Georgia Institute of Technology after graduating from North Georgia College, Dahlonega.

HE HAS been an active member of the construction activities committee of the Engineering Society of Detroit. He has served as group chairman of the United Foundation of Detroit and is a member of the Tennessee Technological University Board of Engineering advisers and the Nashville West End Methodist Church Administrative Board.

Born in Sparta, N.C., Folger is married to the former Elizabeth ("Betty") King of Fort Gaines, Ga. They have three children: A. Gray Folger Jr., research scientist, Solar Energy Research Institute, Golden, Colo.; Caroline Logsdon, teacher, George Peabody College for Teachers of Vanderbilt University; and William Paul Folger, manager, financial analyst, American Airlines, Dallas, Texas.

The Folgers also have a 3-year-old grandson, Nathan Gray Logsdon.

Surrey rides near Ren-Cen

INSPECTOR Patrick Muscat, head of the mounted division of the Detroit Police Department, also helped pave the way. He gave Rocky and Hopkins their driver's test and approved the special license.

Sometimes, Hopkins wishes he had five more carriages.

"We've been super busy. People get tired waiting and become frustrated and leave before we return. I'm waiting for a harness for Flair to spell off Rocky. It's being made in Indiana."

Sea Flair is a Morgan, Rocky, named for the Plymouth Rocks, is a pacer. His real name is Moon Star's Glory Boy.

Hopkins has hopes of finding stable space in the Ren-Cen area. He and Rocky have been commuting from Plymouth to Detroit. He also would like to have the tour tickets on sale at several shops or restaurants in the Bricktown/Greektown area.

"Angelo Plakas and John Thomas introduced me to Greektown years ago when we were teaching. They made a Greek out of me and I've loved the food ever since," said Hopkins. Now he and Rocky are adding to the color of the most popular section of old Detroit.

The Canton Connection

A CANTON COUPLE are enjoying peace of mind about their infant son, thanks to the police department.

It all began when the 10-week-old boy's mother compared two sets of palm prints taken at the hospital for identification. The prints didn't match. The mother was worried about a baby mix-up at the hospital.

According to police, the hospital is supposed to take two sets of a baby's palm. Instead of taking two prints of the same hand, the hospital apparently printed each hand.

Worries were put to rest after Canton police took a new set of the infant's palm prints and secured additional verification from the Michigan State Police. Happily, the baby boy is in his rightful home.

Few fired up over street-light plan

By Ariene Funke
staff writer

Township officials are puzzled over the poor response to a proposal to install street lights in subdivisions.

Only about 25 residents showed up last week for the first round of public hearings about the proposal for Cavalier Village north, south and west subdivisions, and the Century Farms sub.

Only two residents favored the project, which will be paid by the property owners. All the others strongly objected, mostly on the grounds of cost.

"Frankly, I'm surprised at the lack of turnout from four subdivisions," said trustee Steve Larson.

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS recently decided they would install street lights in those subdivisions where people want them. The hearings give residents an opportunity to express their views.

Clerk John Flodin, who spearheaded the hearings, said many residents have requested lights as a deterrent to burglaries. Flodin expressed disappointment at the sparse turnout.

"I'm at a loss," Flodin said. "What about the people who were upset about break-ins? I have spent hours talking with them."

Notices of public hearing were sent to residents. People were given the option of speaking their opinions during the two-hour public hearing or responding in writing.

Residents who failed to respond

John Flodin
Canton clerk

would waive their rights to object, under public hearing guidelines.

Members of the Township Board said they want to satisfy the wishes of the majority and not force residents to accept street lights if they don't want them.

"We are not selling street lights," said Supervisor James Poole. "We are not sales people for Detroit Edison."

"We really want to know," Poole added. "The overwhelming response I have gotten since it hit the newspapers and the mailboxes has been no, no, no."

RESIDENTS CRITICIZED the hearing notices, saying they were unclear. Flodin said he will discuss the issue with the township's attorney, who helped draft the language of the letter.

The board is to make its decision on the first four subdivisions Tuesday. Future public hearings will consider other subdivisions.

As of late last week, most of the residents of the Cavalier Village and Century Farms subdivisions failed to respond — for or against — the street light notice, Flodin said.

Among the replies received, no predominated over yeses in Cavalier Village north and west, and Century Farms. A tie vote (20 each) was recorded for Cavalier Village south.

Only a few letters were returned for lack of delivery, Flodin said.

"The fact that those large numbers didn't respond makes me think it's indifference, neglect," Flodin said. "Or do they want street lights? I'm kind of in a quandry."

OPPONENTS WHO did attend the

Next hearing Tuesday

Residents of four subdivisions in southern Canton will have a chance to voice their opinions about street lights beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Township Hall.

The second of a series of public hearings will cover Canton Country Acres, Cherry Hill Oaks, Cherry Hill Orchards and Cherry Hill Pines subdivisions. Homeowners are encouraged to attend the hearing and express their views.

Township officials are considering the installation of lights in subdivisions which now are without illumination. Each subdivision will be evaluated and decided upon separately. If more than 50 percent respond in the affirmative, the lights will go in.

The cost will be jointly shared by homeowners in the affected areas.

Plans call for 30-foot-high lights to be installed at intervals of approximately 200 feet.

ACCORDING TO Clerk John Flodin, Detroit Edison estimates each light costs about $245 per year to operate. The cost is divided among all property owners, "the theory being each resident receives the benefit," Flodin said.

Estimated annual cost per homeowner currently is pegged at $44-55, with variations based on number of lots, curbs, ditches and other factors, Flodin said.

Costs, which are determined by the Michigan Public Service Commission, would be paid by residents in the annual property tax bill from the township.

Woman recalls 2-hour kidnapping ordeal

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Editor's note: A woman who entered Plymouth's Fourth of July run was kidnapped for two hours after dropping out midway through the race Monday. Luckily she escaped unharmed. This account reflects her desire to help others avoid fall- ing prey to a similar life-threatening attack. The names used in the story are not real.

Her energy waning, muscles cramping and damp skin salty with sweat, 32-year-old Kelly Golata was in no mood to finish the Plymouth Jaycees' five-mile race in Monday morning's steamy heat.

At the halfway mark, on Edward Hines Drive between Wilcox and Northville roads, she slowed to a walk, turned around and headed back to the starting line.

All the runners had passed her by the time she noticed a lone, disheveled-looking man walking towards her. No sooner did he pass her than he grabbed her in a headlock and held a blade to her throat.

"Don't scream or I'll cut your throat," he said.

"Let me go," Kelly screamed, struggling to free herself.

THE MAN WRESTLED the still-screaming Kelly to the ground, but she succeeded in fighting him off and staggered to his feet.

Not for long. He dragged her into a brown car parked nearby, and threw her through the driver's side door onto the seat.

"I was on my back on the seat kicking him and screaming," Kelly said. "I was so mad I think I just forgot about the knife."

Cops seize Livonia man in Hines Park incident

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

A Livonia man has been arrested in connection with one of nine attacks on women in western Wayne County's Edward Hines Park.

But, Wayne County Sheriff's deputies believe the man they arrested Wednesday is responsible for only one of the sexual attacks which started on May 12.

Deputies still are searching for two men they believe are responsible for the other attacks, Detective Larry Patterson said Friday.

Lawrence A. Schleger, 31, was arraigned Thursday in 35th District Court on three charges stemming from a July 4 kidnapping.

AN INNOCENT plea was entered for Schleger on charges of kidnapping, felonious assault, and assault with the intent to commit criminal sexual conduct (rape). Upon conviction the charges carry maximum prison penalties of life, four years, and 10 years respectively.

Judge James Garber postponed a preliminary examination until Schleger completes a forensic exam to determine his mental ability to be tried on the charges. A $50,000 cash bond was set.

Schleger is accused of kidnapping a 32-year-old Plymouth woman at knife point along Hines Drive between Wilcox and Northville roads. He then allegedly drove her around in his car for two hours.

The woman, who had dropped out of Plymouth's July 4 five-mile run, escaped unharmed after the man momentarily left his car.

"Most likely the woman was uninjured because she decided to quit fighting the man and talk with him while he drove around, Patterson said.

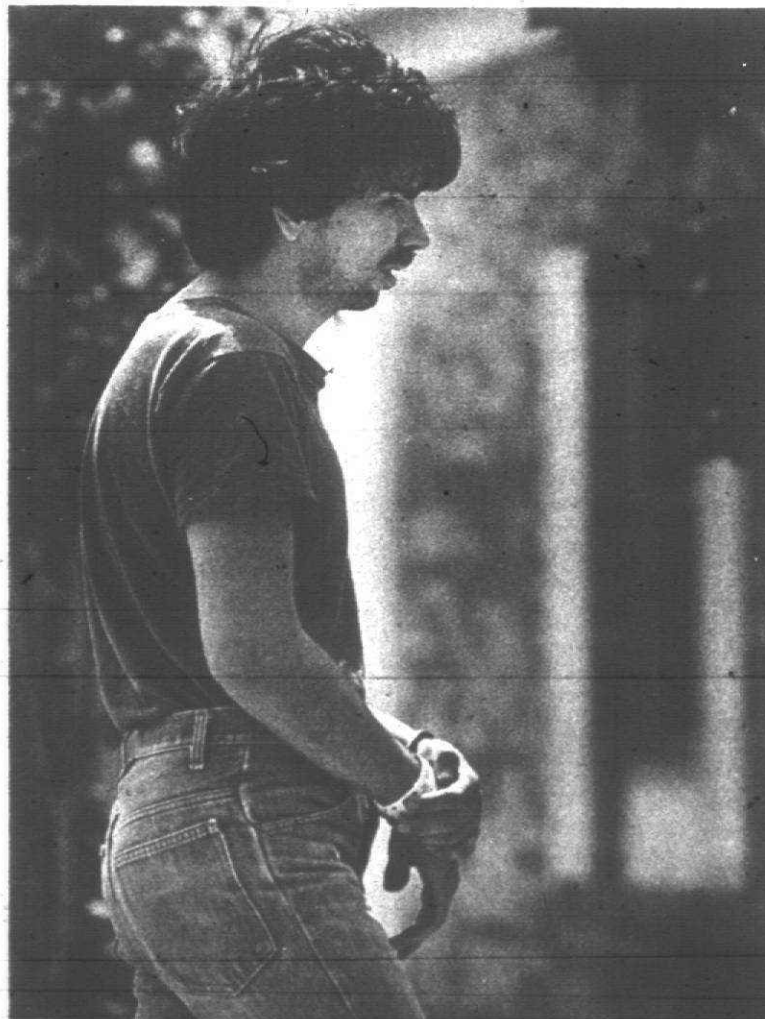

"We think the kidnapping was an isolated incident. We have two suspects for the other incidents," Patterson said.

"At this point we have two separate descriptions, an older man and a younger man, for the other eight."

The other eight attacks, between May 12 and June 17, involve men attempting to grab and rape women or exposing their bodies.

THE INCIDENTS happened in locations throughout the park, including Cass Bend in Northville Township, Woods Drive and the I-275 viaduct over

Youths lose jobs in flap with union

About 70 young people in Plymouth-Canton lost their summer jobs with the school district Friday as a result of an objection made by the maintenance union.

The group was terminated as of Friday because of a grievance filed by the executive committee of Michigan Education School Personnel No. 1 (MESPA) against the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

The young workers were employed under the Summer Youth Employment Program funded by the federal government. Federal rules require agreement from any union involved if summer youth workers are to be retained.

The regulations provide that if any union files an objection the matter must be taken to mediation. If mediation fails to resolve the issue, the employer must terminate the jobs of the young people employed.

This year the school district hired youth for the summer under both the federal youth program and under the Michigan Youth Corps Program.

Although the federally funded youth jobs must be terminated because of the union grievance, school officials were unsure Friday whether those hired under the state program would have to be let go.

"I was hopeful that these young people would be allowed to continue their employment for the remainder of the summer but the executive committee of the union has stated by letter to me that they feel these young people would jeopardize jobs of their members," said Byron Richardson, regional manager of the Summer Youth Employment Program.

"I DO not personally feel employment of these young people would jeopardize union positions. However, the required program

Those who visit the Indian arts and crafts classes Tuesdays and Thursdays at Plymouth's American Indian Heritage Center behind Central Middle School may have met first grader Roger Crain, a Cree Indian from Canada. His adoptive mother, Audrey Crain (left), lends him some assistance during class.

Students at Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' American Indian Heritage Center have learned to duplicate works of art once made by their great-grandparents.

Plymouth alive with Indian culture

THE CENTER is primarily financed with federal funds but the school district also helps to keep this unusual school in operation.
On a recent afternoon there were students at the center who traced their ancestry to the Cherokee tribe which originated in Oklahoma and West Virginia. With them were representatives of the Chipewas who settled years ago in Michigan, of the Wappas, and of the Sac and Fox tribes.
Ray Fowler represented both the Wappas and the Sac and Fox tribes and his forebears lived on the farm where the present high schools are located at Canton Center and Joy Roads.
At the helm of the school is Smith, who came to Plymouth-Canton two years ago from Walled Lake. At times he is assisted by Frederica Roast, whose forebears were from the Mohawk tribe. She is a certified art teacher.
At other times Barbara Bunyea of the Bunyea Farm on Powell Road, Plymouth Township, joins in teaching the students.
The one-room school is filled with Indian works of art, pottery, beaded work, and other things which help keep alive the traditions of the students' families.
'It is difficult for a child with Indian blood to learn of the traditions of the tribes which roamed the country long before the Pilgrims landed,' said Smith. 'The city is more sophisticated and there is little thought of these traditions. But the students with Indian blood are eager to learn and each day is a new experience.'

Woman recalls 2-hour kidnapping ordeal

At 4 foot 11 and 95 pounds, Kelly was outzipped by the assailant she guessed to be 5 foot 11, 145 pounds. When he pushed her farther into the car, hopped in and closed his door, Kelly decided to reach for the passenger door and jump out.

Panic gripped her when she realized the door's handle was missing.

She spotted a runner about to bypass the car and screamed as loud as she could.

The runner jogged by.

"I just knew then I was trapped — that I wasn't going to fight him any more. I had to stop screaming and talk and plead my way out of it," she said Tuesday morning.

"I pleaded with him so much — I said, 'Please don't hurt me, I'm 32 years old and have two children. If you need money, I'll give you money. Just drive me to my car, and I'll get it,' added the three-time marathoner, who never before has encountered any trouble while running.

"He told me, 'I'm just lonely. I just want to talk.' He drove past my car and headed west on Ann Arbor Road.

"I think he was going to rape me — he put his hand on my knee and started jiggling with his pants. I just kept talking about anything I could think of. I wanted him to think I wanted to talk to him. I thought, 'This is what he wants,'" Kelly said.

AS THE FRIGHTENING two-hour ordeal crept by — the kidnapper driving halfway to Ann Arbor before turning around and circling the Plymouth-Northville area — he told Kelly his wife had moved out with their little girl because he killed his brother-in-law in a scuffle.

He himself had been shot 17 times and was in intensive care in the struggle, he told her. He said he was against women and was bitter about not being able to see his little girl, Kelly said.

"I told him it was a miracle he even came out of it (the gunfight), and told him 'God watches you, and what you do.'"

"I wanted to stay away from subjects that'd irritate and rile him," said the petite blonde, who to no avail tried talking the attacker, into stopping the car and taking a walk.

"I think if I would have gone berserk, swore and made him mad that something would have happened," she added. "I tried to look at him in the eyes. If you do that I don't think they're as likely to think of you as a victim."

"Something took over. It was like I had a guardian angel. It still hasn't hit me. I keep wondering when I'm going to crack up."

"I kept thinking about where I should have him drop me off. He told me, 'You're just great. I'm sorry I scared you. I can't believe I did what I did to you. You're a beautiful person.'"

"I said, 'You don't have to do this to have someone to talk to,' and I told him, 'You'd never want to upset your little girl like you upset me, would you?'" added Kelly, who's employed by an Oakland County accounting firm.

WHEN SHE summoned the courage to ask to be dropped off, the man said, "no, I'm going to go to my mom's house to get some money. I'm buying an old police car tomorrow, and she's got the my (race) number in my hand. I can't believe I had it in my hand all that time. I called some friends in Canton, and by the time they got there, his car was gone, and they took me home.

"I'm so lucky to be here right now. I'm mad. And I keep seeing this happening again to someone else. With that door handle being gone I'm almost positive that he's done this before and will do it again," Kelly said.

"I know I'm not going to go out there again, but other people are, and I want to do all I can to stop it."

"I know I'm not going to go out there again, but other people are, and I want to do all I can to stop it."

JCs thank Fourth helpers

To the editor: The Plymouth Jaycees appreciate all the supporters of our annual Fourth of July activities.

Whether it is the 5 Mile Run, Bike Decorating, the Parade, or the Fireworks, there always is the feeling that everyone genuinely supports us and is having a good time.

With all the individuals and businesses who help, monetarily and in spirit, the only list that would be complete would be the Plymouth area phone book.

The Community Crier and Plymouth Observer for their tremendous press coverage, not only on the Fourth itself but also coverage of activities and progress leading up to the Fourth.

Both the city of Plymouth and township of Plymouth for their outstanding cooperation and support and the various municipal departments (police, fire, DPW) who helped with traffic routing and control, street closing and other precautions. Special thanks to the police and fire departments who made special sacrifices so the parade could be conducted as it was.

Special thanks to Mayor Eldon Martin, City Manager Henry Graep and Township Supervisor Maurice Breen for their unflinching support and enthusiasm for our project.

The following businesses co-sponsored the 5 Mile Run Community Crier, Comma Graphics, Plymouth Hilton, Krogers, Four Season's Square, Plymouth Trading Post, and Vic Tanny's.

Special thanks to the judges, Bill Ventola, Edward Wendover, John Hopkins, Jim Peckrol, and Louise Tritton, and to Burroughs Corporation for use of their parking areas.

Special thanks to Robyn Ellison for understanding why her Daddy was not home for those many nights.

And special thanks to the growing list of contributors to this project. Whether it was a $5 check or the sponsorship of an entire band, without you the parade would not have been and Plymouth would not be Plymouth.

In closing, I wish to apologize to any individuals who were inconvenienced due to any of our activities or errors we may have made.

Opinions are to be shared

Opinions and ideas are most fertile when shared with others.

That's why the Observer encourages its readers to share their views with others by making use of the From Our Readers column.

While the Observer expresses its opinions on the editorial page, we always leave space open for our readers to express their ideas.

Submitting a letter to the editor for publication is easy. We ask that letters be typewritten or printed legibly and kept to 300 words or less.

Names will be withheld only for the best of reasons, and the decision to do so will be made by the editor.

Letters may be mailed or hand-delivered to our news office at 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

Baseball fan, 84, recalls old Tigers

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

"I remember Ty Cobb. Why not? He was the greatest baseball player who ever lived. And I can still see him walk to the plate with three bats in his hands — the only player who ever did that.

William Frazee

"I now live out in Lomita, California," he said, "and see the Tigers every time they come to Anaheim. And every time I see them I am reminded of the days I lived in Detroit and worked at the lumber company across Trumbull Avenue from Tiger Stadium."

that he could discuss some of the "old days."

Few fans can remember the days of 50 and more years ago, but the elder Frazee rattles off the names of the greats and how he rates them.

He doesn't have much praise for the present day players whom he says "don't play the game like they did when Ty Cobb was an idol."

"Why they even use gloves big as baskets to catch balls hit to the outfield."

One of his fondest memories of Cobb is the day he circled the bases on a bunt — the only player ever to accomplish that.

"In those days Mr. Navin, then the owner of the Tigers (and I still call the ballpark Navin Field) used to let the fans in for nothing after four and one-half innings were played. I worked right across the street and many days raced over there just to watch Cobb."

He had other heroes, among them Babe Ruth, who always will be remembered as the Home Run King of Baseball.

"The Babe didn't have to wait for a favorite pitch. He would reach out and hit them — high or low. Then he'd run the bases on those spindly legs. There never will be another like him, but in my mind he can't replace Cobb."

Since he moved from Detroit to California, the elder Frazee has adopted the Los Angeles Angels as his team. But when the Tigers come West to play, he says he has the time of his life on those afternoons.

"If they get up there to play for the pennant, I am going to have a difficult time of it," the veteran fan said, "but when it comes down to the me I still will be sort of rooting for the Tigers."

The kindly gent, who will be 85 years old in October, has a kind word for the writers of the old days, too.

Host families are needed

Host families still are needed for foreign exchange students coming to the Plymouth-Canton area.

In less than two months, foreign exchange students will begin landing in the U.S. to spend a year with American families.

Families interested in hosting one of the four boys should call McDonald at 981-2680.

oral quarrel

Today's Oral Quarrel question was: Are you satisfied with the Observer? What are you doing that you like and what are you doing that you don't like? The answers of our readers follow:

I think it would be advisable to give information and publicity to the drownings by Newburgh Lake to make the citizens of this community aware of the dangers of Newburgh Lake and the undertow there. Nothing has been said in your paper about these drownings to warn these kids that are out of the

Continued from Page 1 guidelines dictate that such a dispute, if not resolved by mediation, would result in these young people being terminated from the positions working with maintenance and custodial personnel.

A school administrator noted that the federal summer job program has been in place in the district for 10 years and the union, until this year, had not objected. The union presently is negotiating a contract with the school board.

The school administration has obtained from the teacher's union and from the secretarial union a waiver of their ability to object.

The attempt at mediation was made Thursday and failed.

school for summer in relationship to the hazards of this lake. I think it would be advisable to inform the community what the problem is and make the parents aware and advise their youngsters not to go swimming as it is prohibited by law. However, I have had no comments in the paper about these hazards.

Obviously we are not quite at the level of the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News, but amongst the three local papers the Observer is definitely number one. Their coverage of local Canton affairs is by far superior to that of the other two competitors, the Crier and the Eagle. Good work - keep it up. Thank you.

One thing I don't like, I was disappointed with your coverage of the Canton Festival and the Canton Parade. I am an avid reader of your newspaper and a longtime resident. I was disappointed on very little coverage of probably one of the biggest community our area are doing and their activities and their accomplishments. They are a big part of our community and more and more parents are choosing that alternative. I'd just like to see more write-ups about the good things and the activities of the parochial schools in our area. Thank you.

You do a nice job covering township affairs and Plymouth goings-on, but it would be nice if you would cover more extensively the clubs, organizations, public school activities in Canton, and the Canton Country Festival activities so people would know what they could do in their own community. Thank you.

In some ways your paper is pretty good, in some ways it's not. You're in a 97-percent district here that is all Republican. I think Tim Richards is getting a pay-off from the Democratic Party.

Yes I'd like to have you next year advertise and publicize more of the Canton Festival and Canton Parade.

Street-light proposal mullied

"Did you walk the streets to find out how people think?" asked one man.

Street lights should be installed when homes are constructed so people would have an option, argued a woman. Another resident said the plan "isn't affordable," noting rates probably will rise.

Street lights don't deter crime, said a man active in Cavalier Village north Neighborhood Watch crime-prevention program. Porch or yard lights are more effective and less costly, he contended.

But the police department's crime-prevention officer believes street lights would help cut crime.

"We have no way of polling all potential burglars or thieves," said police Cpl. Robert vanLith. "It (lights) has to be a positive step, otherwise, why do burglars operate at night?"

Street lights would help the patrol officer, vanLith said.

Resident promoted at UM-D

Dr. Michael J. Schneider of Canton has been appointed chairman of the department of natural sciences at the University of Michigan-Dearborn for a three-year term, beginning Thursday, Sept. 1.

U-M Regents approved the appointment at their June meeting.

Schneider joined the UM-D faculty as an associate professor of biology in 1973 and was promoted to professor in 1977. He was chairman of the department for two terms from 1975 to 1981.

Schneider is active in the entire campus. He has served as the first chairman of the new Campus Program Priority and Review Committee.

After receiving a doctorate from the University of Chicago, Schneider was an assistant professor of biology at Columbia University in New York. His research, which has been concerned with plant pigment, phytochrome, has been awarded numerous grants totaling almost $90,000.

Active in service to the entire campus, Schneider has served as the first chairman of the new Campus Program Priority and Review Committee.

Canton woman raped in S'field parking lot

A Canton woman, 21, was sexually assaulted in Southfield early Saturday morning by a man who forced her to drive to a parking lot near the Holiday Inn.

At 1:40 a.m. Saturday, the woman noticed a small white car follow her to the Holiday Inn on Telegraph and 11 Mile, she told Southfield police.

The woman parked her car in the Holiday Inn lot. As she was walking to the motel, a man approached her and grabbed her from behind.

After a brief struggle, the man forced the woman into her car and verbally threatened her, ordering her to drive to a nearby parking lot where she said she was raped, said Southfield police spokesman Steve Zultowski. The man wasn't armed.

She was then told to drive to Swanson and Franklin Road where the man got out.

The man is described as black, about 20, 5-feet-10-inches tall, 185 pounds and having a short, full beard.

There is hardly any information in your paper. Also, more importantly, one week before the event you should advertise events and times, which I'd see and I didn't even know about it. Thank you.

I just went shopping at K mart and this guy was out there trying to have a petition signed for Bianchard and Voter's Choice and I signed them both. He also gave me an article written by Tim Richards. Now what good is business if the people in Michigan can't afford to buy the product that they have? I don't know about your paper and Tim Richards.

I just read an article by Tim Richards from the Observer and I would like to know how he expresses the fact that Bianchard is going to spare the economy when people can't even afford their houses in Canton Township? How are businesses going to survive because of taxes?

Tell Tim Richards to keep his political views to himself. He's just doing more harm to your paper than a good.

Lucas puts county hospital on the selling block

By Tim Richard staff writer

County Executive William Lucas already has begun negotiating to sell or lease Wayne County General Hospital (WCGH), citing high deficits which he said even good management will be unable to correct.

Lucas' announcement came only a day after the Wayne County Commission defeated an ordinance proposal by Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster, that would have set up a commission-controlled board to operate the hospital in Westland.

"Kay Beard keeps talking as if the hospital would be closed if the county stops running it," said Dennis Nystrom, Lucas' chief of staff. While saying a complete closure is possible, Nystrom said it would be cheaper to keep the hospital operating at a deficit than to close it and absorb huge pension benefit payments.

NYSTROM TOLD a news briefing several parties are interested — "some are enthused" — about acquiring WCGH, whose depreciated book value is $15 million. The Lucas Administration is confident it can sell or lease the hospital without approval of the County Commission. A spokesman acknowledged the county has a charter obligation to provide hospital "facilities" and service, but not necessarily to run a hospital.

"The best option is to sell," said Nystrom, adding, "It will create tax base for Wayne County, the city of Westland and the school district (Wayne-Westland)."

An audit report by Touche Ross & Co. said WCGH revenues are running $14 million less than its $64 million expenses while hospitals of similar size normally have operating surpluses of $1.3 million or more.

"SOME FACTORS can be controlled by hospital management while other factors are not controllable because they are governed by county policies or by agreements with labor unions," said the administration's summary of the Touche Ross report.

The auditors put heavy emphasis on WCGH's labor costs, which it said were 50 percent per employee higher than at other area hospitals.

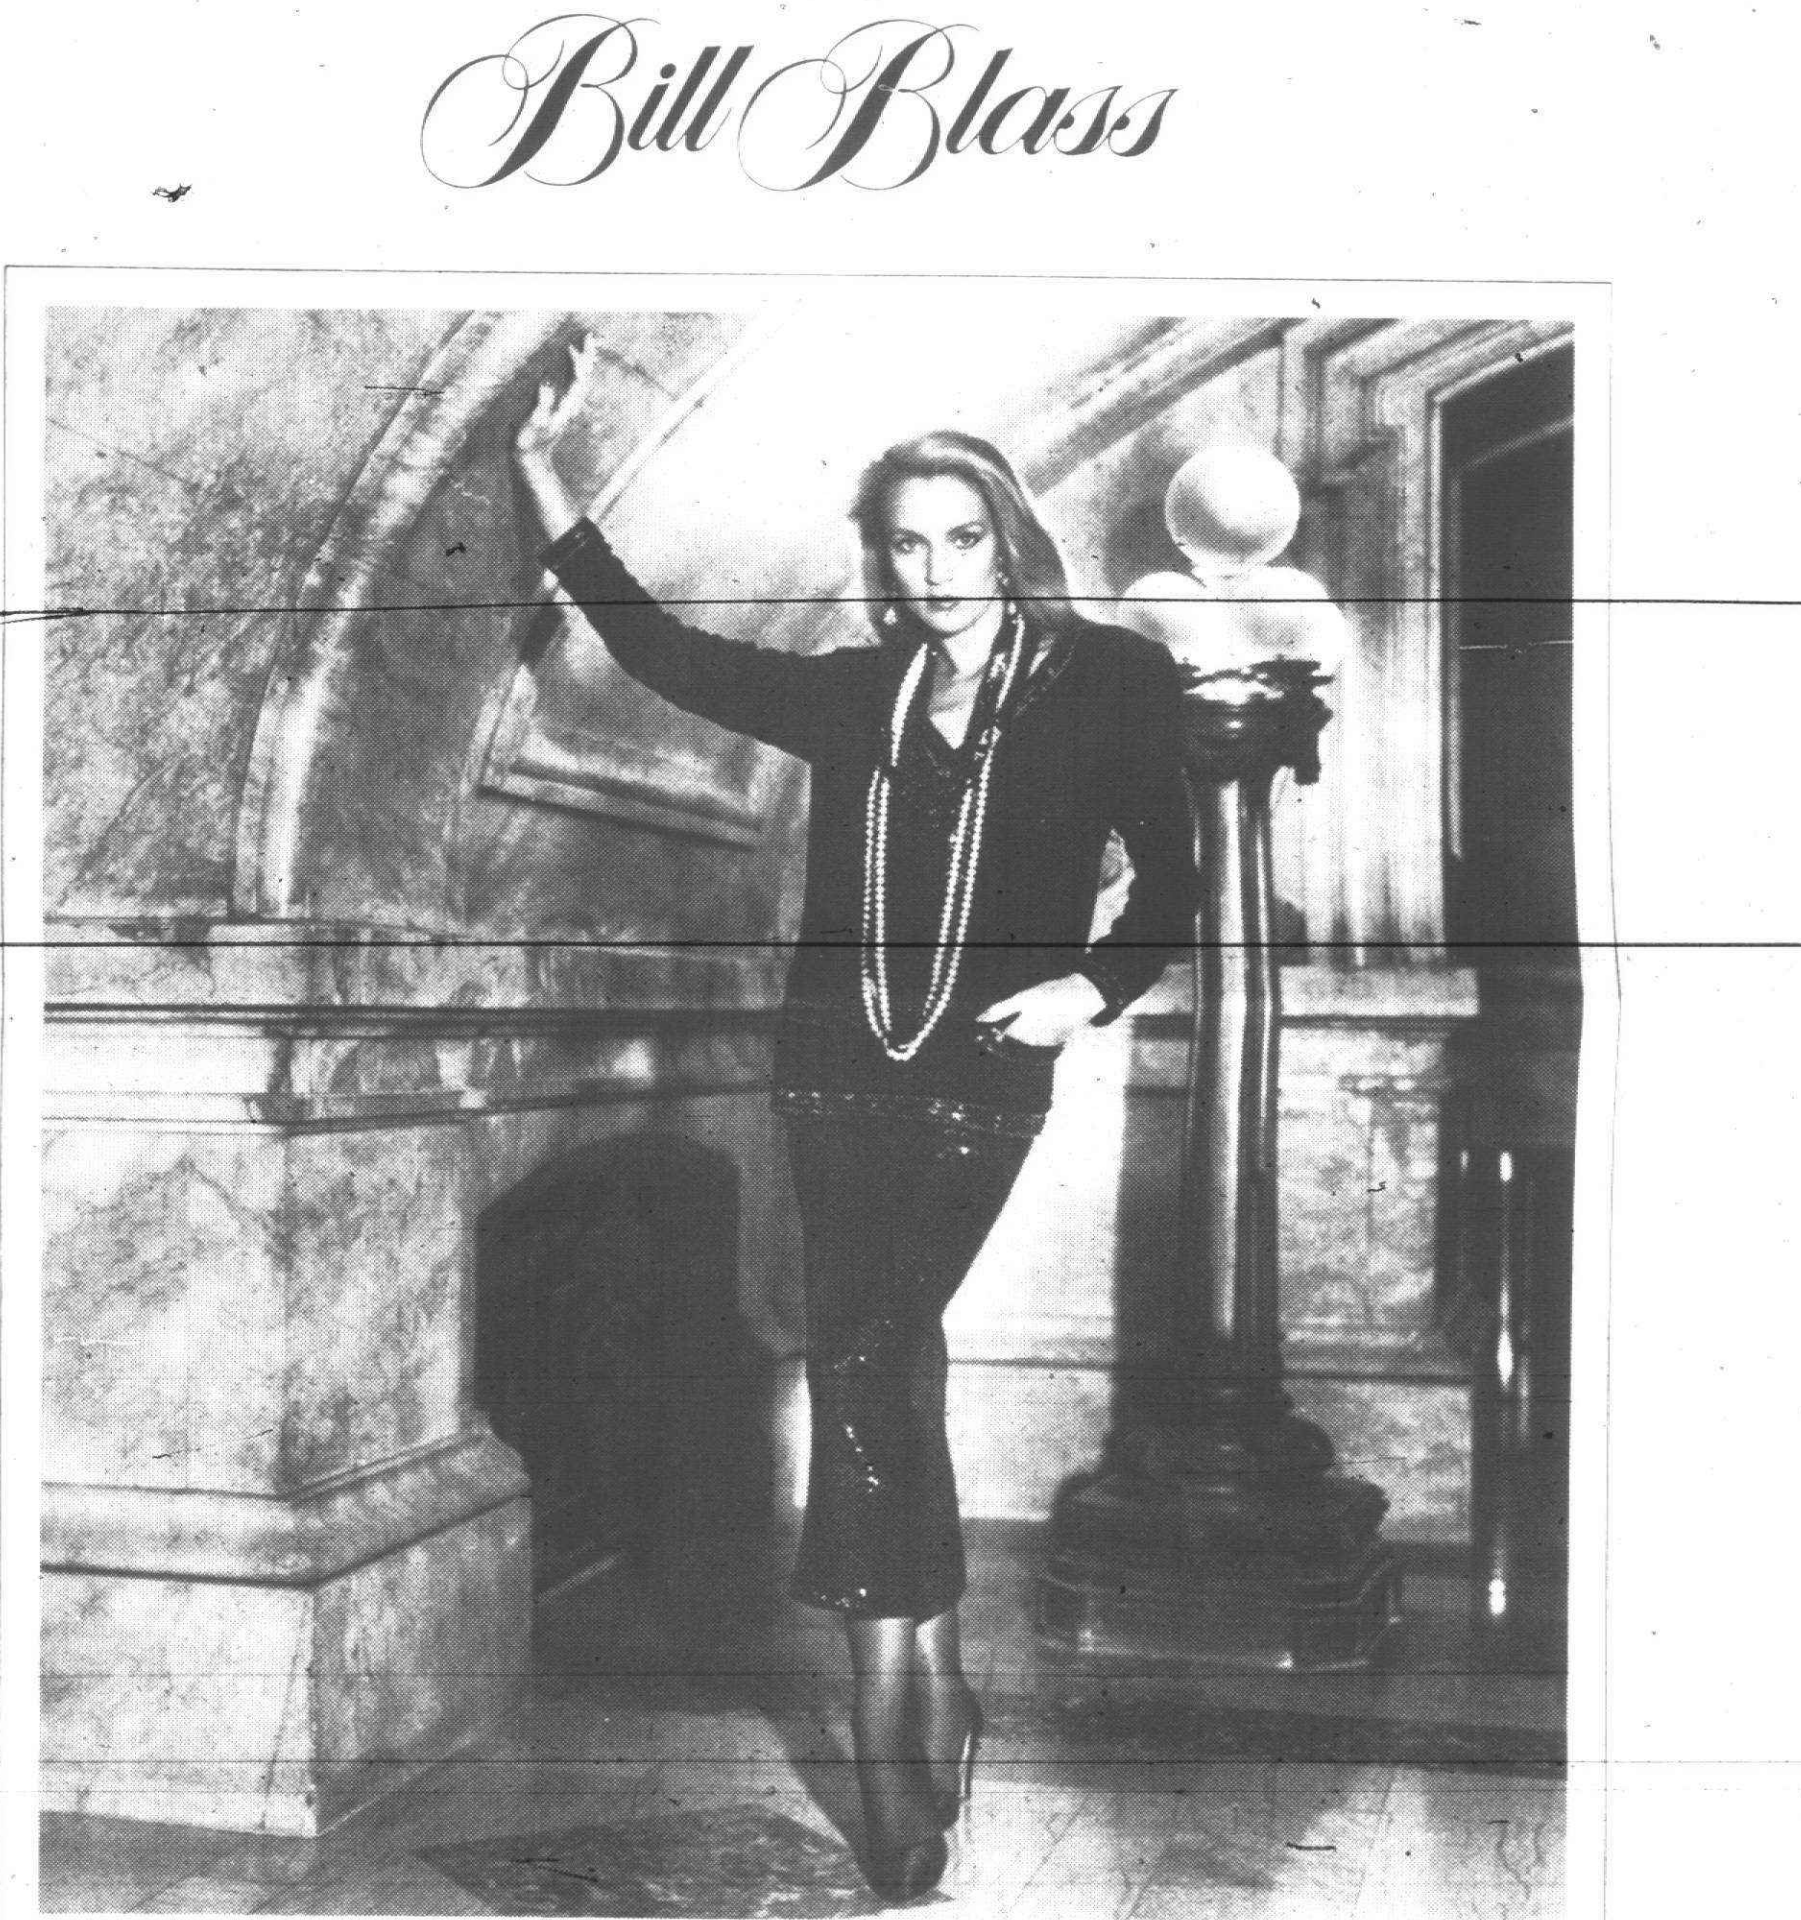

WCGH employs approximately 1,125 persons, nearly one-third of Wayne County general government's 3,500. Any buyer or tenant, said Nystrom, will need staff and would probably hire many of the current hospital employees.

He added that one prospective purchaser already said it could operate the program with 300 fewer staff members.

The Lucas Administration's decision to negotiate sale or lease had been preceded for months by statements that the county would have to cease operating the hospital unless major contract concessions were made by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), which represents about 800 of the staff. No concessions were made.

A MAJOR reason cited by commissioners for continued county operation was care of the indigent (persons with neither insurance, government programs nor cash to pay their bills).

But Nystrom underscored a Touche Ross finding that "only 6.2 percent of all indigents treated at WCGH are indigent." In most cases, it is likely that these patients could receive treatment at other hospitals covered under the Wayne County T-82 program or other medical assistance programs.

Alcohol series to be offered

A six-part series on alcohol and alcoholism will be offered beginning Wednesday, July 20, by Plymouth Family Service.

Topics will include attitudes, physiological effects of alcohol, and the symptoms, phases of alcoholism, with special emphasis on alcohol and the family.

The family emphasis will stress what happens to family members, spouse and children who are caught up in an alcoholic family system and how to get help.

There also will be a discussion at the end of the series on what is needed to help the substance abuser.

The series will be presented through diagrams, films, discussion and lecture.

Anyone who is or has been concerned or uncomfortable with their own drinking or that of a family member would benefit from attending the series, says Director David Breeden, as well as anyone who grew up in a home where there was a problematic alcohol use.

Cost of the series is $15 per person and $20 for a couple or per family. Anyone interested or wanting more information may call Plymouth Family Service at 453-0890.

Enrollment is limited.

Plymouth Family Service, besides offering the alcohol awareness series, also provides on-going individual, marital and family counseling.

Feldkamp assumes Rotary presidency

Dr. Lee Feldkamp has assumed the presidency of the Rotary Club of Plymouth.

Feldkamp was among the new officers for the 1983-84 year installed at the club's annual State of the Club Banquet held recently in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Other officers installed were: Kenneth Hulsing, vice president; C. Gordon Shaw, secretary, and Don Morgan, treasurer.

The directors of Plymouth Rotary include Gerald Farrell, Charles Olson, John F. Vos III, Russell F. Hoisington, Dr. James Carney, and immediate past president Gerard Loiselle. Robert J. Sincoc is executive secretary.

The Rotary Club of Plymouth, which meets each Friday at noon in the Meeting House, was founded in 1924 and is in District 640 of Rotary International.

FELDKAMP WAS born on a centennial farm near Ypsilanti and spent his early life in Saline and Ypsilanti, graduating from Ypsilanti High School 50 years ago and from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1940.

Throughout high school and college,

Feldkamp was active in music and was a member of the U-M Marching Band and concert band.

After graduation, his hospital training was at Grace Hospital in Detroit followed by a tour of military duty as a medical reserve officer serving in the United States and in the European theater of war until returning to civilian life as a major in 1946. He was the recipient of the Bronze Star for meritorious service.

Since 1946, Feldkamp has been active in family practice, beginning in Detroit and moving his office to Plymouth in 1954. He is a charter fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians and has served as president of the Michigan chapter and director of the national organization. He is a staff member of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Married to Rita, president of the Rotary Anns, the two have 10 children and 11 grandchildren. A member of Plymouth Rotary since 1966, he completed 17 years of perfect attendance last month and is a Paul Harris Fellow.

LET'S STEP OUTSIDE!

A short trip, perhaps, to partake of sun, fresh air and a made-ahead dinner of charm and elegance

Before the time of balconies on city co-ops and suburban condos, and tiny patios attached to garden apartments, outdoor eating was a different scene.

It had mainly to do with backyards, camp sites and beaches, charcoal grills, hamburgers and franks.

No more. The scenario has changed. More specifically, there has been an evolutionary expansion in al fresco eating. People coming home from work, or even from the golf course to their leisure retirement complexes, aren't that much interested in starting a fire. Sure, they want to eat outside. But differently. More to their taste, in both senses of the word.

The meal is ready. It has been prepared ahead of time—even, perhaps, the night before—in a small kitchen. Quickly, efficiently, with products that are readily available and easily handled. It's a delicious, and, yes, elegant, dinner that can be set out in a relaxed manner before four or six old friends or potential new ones from the next concrete slab or brick patio.

If only one special person is there to share the air and the ambiance, the dishes pictured here can be prepared for two (see recipes below). With the exception, that is, of the sensational cookie-cake. And no need to worry about what's left over from that. It won't be left for long.

To start the meal there's a frozen appetizer cubed out from the freezer tray where it had been "setting." It sets the tone for what's to come. First a pre-dinner Angostura Iced Tea is offered, a sprightly version of an old favorite... low calorie, low sodium, aromatic and refreshing. Angostura aromatic bitters, as almost everyone knows, is a blend of many different rare herbs and spices that is used to make drinks and foods taste better.

The main dish is a South African rock lobster tail salad, with the flavorful rock lobster meat mixture piled back into the bright red shells and held, ready for service, in the refrigerator. The meat is tender, sweet and juicy because this succulent seafood comes from the ice-cold waters off the southwest coast of South Africa.

A green salad, of course. But then comes a dessert! Packaged cookies are transformed without the need of a heated oven into an extraordinary cookie-cake that is as beautiful to look at as it is almost sinfully luxurious to taste.

Before an outdoor event, iced tea is a favorite, during and after dinner refreshment and extraordinary libation. On a fragrant summer evening, everyone wants to start right and prolong the pleasure as indefinitely as possible. Offer another glass in the cool of the evening when everybody is satiated with good food but doesn't really want to leave. Or make the drink Iced Tea Angostura again; it will not be dull, any more than the company and conversation will be.

SOUTH AFRICAN ROCK LOBSTER TAIL SALAD

- 6 frozen South African Rock Lobster Tails (4 ounces each)
- 1 bay leaf
- 4 whole peppercorns
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup plain whole milk yogurt
- 1-1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped pimiento
- 1 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed celery seed

Drop frozen South African Rock Lobster Tails, bay leaf and peppercorn into boiling salted water. When water boils, cook for 5 minutes. Drain, discard bay leaf and peppercorns; drench lobster tails with cold water and cut away underside membrane. Remove meat and reserve shells; chill and dice meat. Mix remaining ingredients together and stir in lobster meat. Spoon back into shells; chill thoroughly. Makes 6 servings.

FOR TWO SERVINGS: use 2 frozen rock lobster tails, 1 bay leaf, 2 whole peppercorns, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup plain yogurt and season in proportion with remaining ingredients.

ICED TEA ANGOSTURA

- 2 quarts iced tea
- 2 cans (6-oz.) each frozen orange juice concentrate
- 2 tablespoons Angostura aromatic bitters
- Lemon slices

Combine iced tea, orange juice concentrate and bitters. Blend well. Pour over ice cubes and garnish with lemon slices. Makes about 12 servings. Recipe may be halved.

CINNAMON CHOCOLATE MOUSSE CAKE

- 5-1/2 squares (5-1/2 ounces) semi-sweet baking chocolate
- 6-1/2 tablespoons butter, cut into small pieces
- 3 large egg yolks
- 3 large egg whites
- 5 teaspoons sugar
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 2 packages (7-1/4 ounces each) Cinnamon Sugar Cookies
- 1/2 cup non-dairy whipped topping or whipped cream (optional for garnish)
- 6 Pepperidge Farm Chocolate-laced pirouettes (optional for garnish)

To make chocolate mousse:

Melt chocolate in the top of a double boiler over simmering water. Remove from heat and stir in butter until melted; beat in egg yolks, one at a time, until mixture is smooth and creamy. Transfer to a large bowl. Using an electric mixer, beat egg whites at high speed until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar and beat until stiff. Add egg whites to chocolate mixture. Beat heavy cream with electric mixer until stiff. Add to chocolate mixture and fold in until mixture is smooth.

To assemble cake:

Arrange 7 cookies on a serving platter in a flower shape, using some chocolate mousse to "glue" them to the platter. (See diagram) Spread cookies with about 1/2 to 3/4 cup mousse; top with another layer of cookies. Repeat until four layers of cookies have been used for cake (there will be two cookies left over). Frost top and sides of cake with remaining mousse. Cover and chill cake for 12 to 18 hours or until cookies have softened to a cake-like consistency. To serve, pipe cream around top edge of cake and press pirouettes vertically between flower petals. Makes 1 cake, 8 servings.

ICED TEA — THREE EASY WAYS

The Traditional Way (with boiling water): Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and immediately add 1/3 cup loose tea or 15 teabags. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Strain again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water. To serve, pour into ice-filled glasses.

The Overnight Way (with cold water): Fill a quart jar or container with freshly drawn cold water. Add 8 to 10 teabags, removing the tags. Cover and let stand at room temperature or in the refrigerator at least 6 hours or overnight. Remove bags, squeezing against side of container. To serve, pour over ice.

The Instant Way (with instant tea or the iced tea mixes): Follow directions on jar or envelope. In general, use 2 rounded tablespoons of instant tea powder for each quart of cold water. Or 1/2 cup (or 2 small envelopes) of lemon-flavored iced tea mix to a quart of cold water.

FROZEN TOMATO APPETIZER

- 3 cups tomato juice
- 1-1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon Angostura aromatic bitters
- 1 small onion, sliced
- 1 stalk celery, minced
- 1-1/2 teaspoons minced parsley
- 1-1/2 teaspoons chili sauce
- 1-1/2 teaspoons horseradish
- Scallion brushes, garnish

Combine all ingredients in a saucepan except scallion brushes; heat 5 minutes. Strain and pour tomato mixture into an 8-inch square baking pan. Freeze 4 to 6 hours, stirring frequently, until mixture resembles sherbet. Press firmly into pan; cover and freeze until solid. To serve, cut tomato mixture into 1/2-inch cubes; spoon into stemmed glasses and garnish with scallion brushes. Makes 6 servings.

FOR TWO SERVINGS: use 1 cup tomato juice, 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1 bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoon Angostura bitters, 1/2 small onion, sliced, 1 stalk celery, minced, and season in proportion with remaining ingredients.

Crab meat is a delicious way to extend menus.

Try versatile crab meat

Crab meat may seem expensive, but this delicious seafood lends itself to use as an extender item in many recipes, which keeps your cost per serving economical. You can combine crab meat with other foods to make omelettes, crepes, patties, casseroles, sandwich spreads, salads and quiches, to name just a few.

In Virginia, the state which provides about one-third of the nation's blue crab meat, blue crabs are in season from spring through fall. However, you can find fresh refrigerated crab meat in stores year-round, thanks to a pasteurization process that keeps crab meat in fresh quality condition for about six months. Pasteurized crab meat is pre-cooked and ready to eat because the meat is picked from crabs that have been thoroughly steamed. Cold from the refrigerator, blue crab meat is a perfect extender item in salads, such as in the recipe below. It's also a fine extender item in heated dishes, as in this Virginia recipe for a blue crab meat quiche.

BLUE CRAB MEAT QUICHE

- 1 lb. blue crab meat
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tbs. flour
- 2 beaten eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 8 oz. Swiss cheese, grated
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped or sliced
- 9-inch prepared pie crust

Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat. Combine mayonnaise, flour, beaten eggs and milk until blended. Stir in crab meat, cheese and onions. Pour filling into pie crust. Bake at 350 until set, approximately 40-45 minutes.

CRAB MEAT SALAD

- (6 servings)
- 1 lb. fresh crab meat
- 1 medium green pepper, chopped
- 1/2 cup celery seed
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tbs. mustard
- 1 tsp. seafood seasoning
- 1 tsp. vinegar
- 1 tsp. sugar
- Dash hot sauce
- Garnishes: parsley, tomato

Remove any shell or cartilage from crab meat. Combine all ingredients, mix well. Shape mixture in a mound on serving dish, garnish with parsley and tomato, and serve.

Grilled steak doesn't have to be expensive

Mmmmm — steak on the grill! This is truly one of the joys of the cookout season. Fortunately for the food budget, there are a number of steaks that are great on the grill, yet inexpensively priced.

One of the best cookout buys in the meat case is beef blade steak. While this steak is from the less tender chuck section, it can be broiled with tender results when first marinated in a liquid containing an acid food such as lemon juice, vinegar or wine. For tenderness sake, it is also best if the steak is cooked just to rare or medium.

For a gourmet approach to marinated blade steak on the grill, try Peppery Beef Steak, inspired by the French classic Steak au Poivre.

PEPPERY BEEF STEAK
 2 beef blade steaks, cut 1/4 inch thick
 1/2 cup brandy
 1/4 cup water

1/4 cup lemon juice
 1/4 cup salad oil
 2 tbs. sugar
 1 tsp. onion salt
 1 tsp. salt
 2 tbs. crushed black peppercorns

Combine brandy, water, lemon juice, oil, sugar, onion salt and salt. Place steaks in utility dish or plastic bag; add marinade, turning to coat. Cover dish and marinate in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours (or overnight), turning at least once. Remove steaks from marinade and press crushed peppercorns into surface of both sides. Place steaks on grill over ash-covered coals (or on rack on broiler pan) so surface of meat is 4 inches from heat. Broil at moderate temperature 7 to 10 minutes on each side, depending on degree of doneness desired (rare or medium). 6 servings.

To save your recipes, you just jot them down

"Your article (on Waldorf salad) prompted this letter," writes Dorothy Farland of Southfield. "There is an answer to your problem of saving recipes, called The Jot-It Cookbook." Dorothy refers to a column earlier this year when I finally put down for posterity the recipe my wife seemed to misplace everytime she wanted to prepare the salad.

"This notebook is just what its name implies — a place to 'jot' recipes..." explains the retired school teacher who was a cook in the WACs during World War II. "The recipeless cookbook... eliminates yellowing notes and tiny, hard-to-read recipe cards. The fill-in pages... make a 'do-it-yourself' cookbook."

1/2 cup cold water
 2 cups pineapple juice, heated
 1/4 cup orange juice
 1 cup grenadine
 1/2 cup lemon juice
 8 pear halves
 Lettuce leaves
 Sour cream dressing

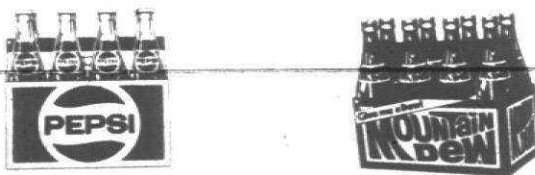

Dissolve gelatin in cold water and add to hot pineapple juice. Add orange juice, grenadine and lemon juice, let cool. Pour liquid over pears in mold and chill. Unmold on lettuce leaves and serve with sour cream dressing. Serves 4.

THE PLYMOUTH
Waterball Team brought home the trophy after the big waterball fight in Northville July 4. The battle was fought on the grounds of the Ford plant after the Northville Fourth of July Parade.

Members of the Plymouth team, all volunteer firefighters, are Bob Steinebach, Dave Tabacca, Bob Johns and Dave Pelley with Bruce (the terrible) Burrow up front as nozzlemaster. Bob Steinebach said he adds "the terrible" to instill fear in their opponents.

The home team feels the trophy belongs here. After all, the special fire extinguisher award was donated originally by Bruce's father-in-law, Paul Sanders. Sandy was a captain in the Plymouth Fire Department before his retirement.

MINA PAREKH was pleased with the turnout for the grand opening of her new shop in Forest Place. Traffic has been constant in Her Closet 'n' Gifs with its wide variety of women's clothing imported from India. Fabrics are colorful Indian cottons and silks with some very interesting batik skirts and scarves. She also has bed spreads, mats and gift items.

Mina, a Canton Township resident, says the carved shell rings that retail for $1 actually come from Florida. But the rest of her merchandise is made in India.

MARY ELLEN Kenyon had high score at the June 20 party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street. Carl Peters came in second.

FRED AND OLGA Delano were in Dowagiac for Fred's 50th year high school class reunion. Fred said it was his first high school reunion - the first he had attended, that is. He had gone to class reunions at the University of Michigan but by comparison, he said, there is something very special about a small-town high school reunion.

"Olga enjoyed it, too," he said. "And she hadn't met any of them before the party."

COLONY SWIM Club will have a luau-pig roast the evening of Friday, July 22 for members and guests. Pam Anderson, social director of the swim club, is planning what is referred to as "a deliciously catered event."

Al's Bar-B-Q is catering the luau. They will begin roasting the pig Friday afternoon at the club - to have it ready for the 7:30 p.m. feast. If the weather is bad, the luau will move to the Colony Farms barn, which has been reserved for the evening.

More than 80 reservations have been accepted so far, and they are expecting the number to reach 100. Cost is $20 per couple.

A GROUP OF journalists from Brussels, Belgium was in town last week. They had been touring Michigan as part of the "Say Yes to Michigan" program. The Mayflower Hotel hosted visitors for their overnight stay in Plymouth and arranged a cocktail reception for them. This was the last leg of their tour of the state, which they said was beautiful. From here they were going to Greenfield Village and then home.

Two Ontario tour buses brought their passengers to Plymouth for the July 4th weekend. The Canadians love the parody on their money deal at the hotel and in participating shops.

IT COULD BE referred to as "The Case of the Unwanted Incinerator."

Jay and Pat McDonald tried to sell their incinerator to Plymouth for the July 4th weekend. The Canadians love the parody on their money deal at the hotel and in participating shops.

With the successful launch of the Job 1 truck at the Nissan Motor Manufacturing Corp., U.S.A., Alvin G. Folger is making plans to complete his three-year assignment. Folger is vice president in engineering of the Japanese-owned company in Smyrna, Tenn.

The former Plymouth resident joined Nissan Oct. 1, 1980 immediately following his retirement from Ford Motor Co. His responsibilities with Nissan include design, construction and equipping the 3.2-million-square-foot facility. The Smyrna plant is considered to be the most technologically advanced automotive facility in the world with state-of-the-art computer, communications and robot systems.

FOLGER BEGAN his automotive career in 1947 with Ford's Atlanta, Ga. assembly plant. He had served in World War II as pilot, spending 1 1/2 years in the U.S. Air Force in Japan.

He went from Atlanta to management posts with Ford in Georgia, Texas and Michigan, including positions as plant manager and chief engineer of truck assembly.

His most recent post, before joining Nissan,

John Hopkins (left) and Demetrios Papatriantafyllou of the New Helias Cafe take a spin around Greektown with Rocky.

Greek Town welcomes John and Rocky

Greektown and Bricktown are old hat to Rocky now. After six weekends in downtown Detroit, the 14-year-old chestnut carriage horse takes it all in stride. John Hopkins, owner of Banbury Cross and Rocky, says the only horse-drawn cab in Detroit has been kept very busy. He wishes he had one or two more.

"Rocky has settled down. He looks around and checks it out," said Hopkins.

He did get off to a rather rocky start. Banbury Cross tours began Grand Prix weekend. Hopkins was harnessing Rocky and in the press of the crowd, someone took his buggy whip. Later in the evening, Hopkins spotted the culprit standing on a corner. He jumped out of the surrey and retrieved it before the man realized what was happening.

A group of street players - fire-eaters and jugglers - were performing on the corner of St. Antoine and Monroe. The crowd's applause at the end of the act startled Rocky. He reared up and backed the buggy into a parked car. The rubber tires did no damage so no harm was done.

Rocky is now equally at home on the streets of Plymouth and Detroit.

THE GREEK and Bricktown tours are available 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Hopkins gives a running description of the area to his passengers. "One couple took the tour three times one evening. They were back last weekend for another one."

He said 99 percent of the people are "really nice." The less agreeable show up around 1 a.m.

When a couple from Montreal, Quebec engaged the surrey, Hopkins gave his first tour in French. He taught French in the Plymouth Canton Schools for many years. In fact, it was a trip to Quebec City with some of his French students, that was responsible for him founding Banbury Cross.

On Grand Prix weekend, a group of Germans in town for the race, took the tour in the surrey. When children are among passengers, he lets them take the reins for awhile.

Rocky and John have become a familiar part of the Greektown scene. Gus Anton and Demetrios Papatriantafyllou of the New Helias restaurant treated Hopkins to lunch when he celebrated his 50th birthday.

INTEREST in the horse-drawn surrey has been responsible for Hopkins' appearance on Marilyn Turner and John Kelly's "Good Afternoon, Detroit" television show.

J.P. McCarthy has helped spread the word on his morning radio show. In appreciation, Hopkins presented a check to J.P.'s favorite charity, the Police Athletic League. The $100 was the result of a special P.A.L. Day benefit arranged by Hopkins and Banbury Cross.

Hopkins started the carriage business in Plymouth with rides for brunch guests at the Mayflower Meeting House. He has several types of carriages and these still are available for weddings, wedding anniversaries, parties and special events.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young was a passenger last July when he was transported from the City-County Building to a dedication of the Mary Trowbridge House on East Jefferson in Detroit. At that time, Hopkins discussed the possibility of carriage rides in Greektown. The mayor said it was a good idea.

Hopkins credits Jack Kelly, Detroit councilman, and Esther Shapiro, director of the Department of Consumer Affairs, with being very helpful in solving the bureaucratic problems involved in establishing the tours.

He went from Atlanta to management posts with Ford in Georgia, Texas and Michigan, including positions as plant manager and chief engineer of truck assembly.

His most recent post, before joining Nissan, was, director of plant engineering, with corporate responsibility for Ford's construction and other plant-engineering activities worldwide.

Folger received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Georgia Institute of Technology after graduating from North Georgia College, Dahlonega.

HE HAS been an active member of the construction activities committee of the Engineering Society of Detroit. He has served as group chairman of the United Foundation of Detroit and is a member of the Tennessee Technological University Board of Engineering advisers and the Nashville West End Methodist Church Administrative Board.

Born in Sparta, N.C., Folger is married to the former Elizabeth ("Beth") King of Fort Gaines, Ga. They have three children: A. Gray Folger Jr., research scientist, Solar Energy Research Institute, Golden, Colo.; Caroline Logsdon, teacher, George Peabody College for Teachers of Vanderbilt University; and William Paul Folger, manager, financial analyst, American Airlines, Dallas, Texas.

The Folgers also have a 3-year-old grandson, Nathan Gray Logsdon.

Surrey rides near Ren-Cen

INSPECTOR Patrick Muscat, head of the mounted division of the Detroit Police Department, also helped pave the way. He gave Rocky and Hopkins their driver's test and approved the special license.

Sometimes, Hopkins wishes he had five more carriages.

"We've been super busy. People get tired waiting and become frustrated and leave before we return. I'm waiting for a harness for Flair to spell off Rocky. It's being made in Indiana."

Sea Flair is a Morgan, Rocky, named for the Plymouth Rocks, is a pacer. His real name is Moon Star's Glory Boy.

Hopkins has hopes of finding stable space in the Ren-Cen area. He and Rocky have been commuting from Plymouth to Detroit. He also would like to have the tour tickets on sale at several shops or restaurants in the Bricktown/Greektown area.

"Angelo Plakas and John Thomas introduced me to Greektown years ago when we were teaching. They made a Greek out of me and I've loved the food ever since," said Hopkins. Now he and Rocky are adding to the color of the most popular section of old Detroit.

Potent Wayne stars top Oakland

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

MIDWAY THROUGH the second half of Saturday's first-ever Observer & Eccentric Girls' All-Star Soccer Classic, Jennifer Huegli laughed as she described the goal scored just minutes before.

"You were on the ground, then the next thing I know the ball's in the net," Huegli said. "My God, what've you got — six legs?"

The tall, lean player Huegli was speaking to was sitting on the bench next to her, hot but still smiling after nearly 50 minutes of soccer in 85-degree mugginess against the best prep players in Oakland County.

Mary Kay Hussey, a modest sophomore from Livonia Stevenson, had much to smile about. Her Wayne County All-Star team had just blown its Oakland County counterparts apart. A four-goal burst in a seven-minute stretch early in the second half was the clincher in a 7-1 triumph before a crowd of 302 at Stevenson.

HUSSEY, FOR her part, filled the role Huegli described quite well. Her "six legs" came in handy, since she played every position on the field except goalie. Where she was most effective, however, was around the Oakland net.

The star from the state champion Stevenson squad poured in three of the four goals and assisted on the other in the second-half surge as Wayne pulled away from a 2-0 halftime lead to a 6-0 advantage.

Her exploits earned her the game's Most Valuable Player honors. She finished with three goals and three assists.

"They're all good," Oakland coach Mike Ruddy said of the Wayne stars. "But (Hussey) may be the best. She can do a lot of stuff well. She can play any position, and she's big, strong and fast."

It was a description that could readily fit any of the stars from either team. If there was a key difference between the two squads in this game, it was in finishing the play. Wayne converted most of its chances. Oakland didn't.

THE NUMBER of scoring opportunities made a difference too. Wayne was forever pressuring, and that eventually, paid off.

Lisa Rigstad got the game's first goal on a superb pass from Hussey that split the Oakland defenders. Rigstad dribbled in alone and buried the ball in the net behind Oakland goalkeeper Cheryl Kusza of Troy Athens 16:00 into the first half. Livonia Churchill's Dorene Dudek also drew an assist.

Three minutes later, Hussey again popped the ball over the Oakland defense, and Shelly Staszal converted it into a goal for a 2-0 Wayne lead.

Throughout the opening half the pressure kept mounting, much of it coming from Staszal at her wing position. The Plymouth Salem junior's crossing passes to the net gave her teammates lots of scoring chances, and in the second half they started cashing in.

"One of our problems is that we don't have a true sweeperback on the team," Ruddy said during the game. "They're geared to attack, while our game is more balanced. But that's probably something we should have worked on more — defending the crosses."

THREE OF WAYNE'S five goals in the second half were set up by Staszal crossing passes from the corner. Hussey scored at 42 minutes on a Staszal pass, then Karen Felts of Garden City punched in a rebound with Hussey and Stevenson senior Andrea Bokos, assisting at 45:00.

Hussey then got two rapid-fire goals, the first at 47:00 on a great pass from Staszal and the second two minutes later on a fine play set up by Bokos.

"And she wasn't good enough to make All-State," was all Wayne coach Norene Divens would say about Hussey.

Staszal got another assist after sending a pass across to Stevenson's Leasa Kliz, who booted it in at 61:00 for a 7-0 lead.

WHILE THE WAYNE offense pressured, its defense thwarted nearly all the Oakland scoring chances. Farmington Harrison's Sue Ferguson must have felt snake bit — a goal was taken from her in the first half when referees ruled the ball hit the football crossbar above the net and was out of bounds before it rebounded to her.

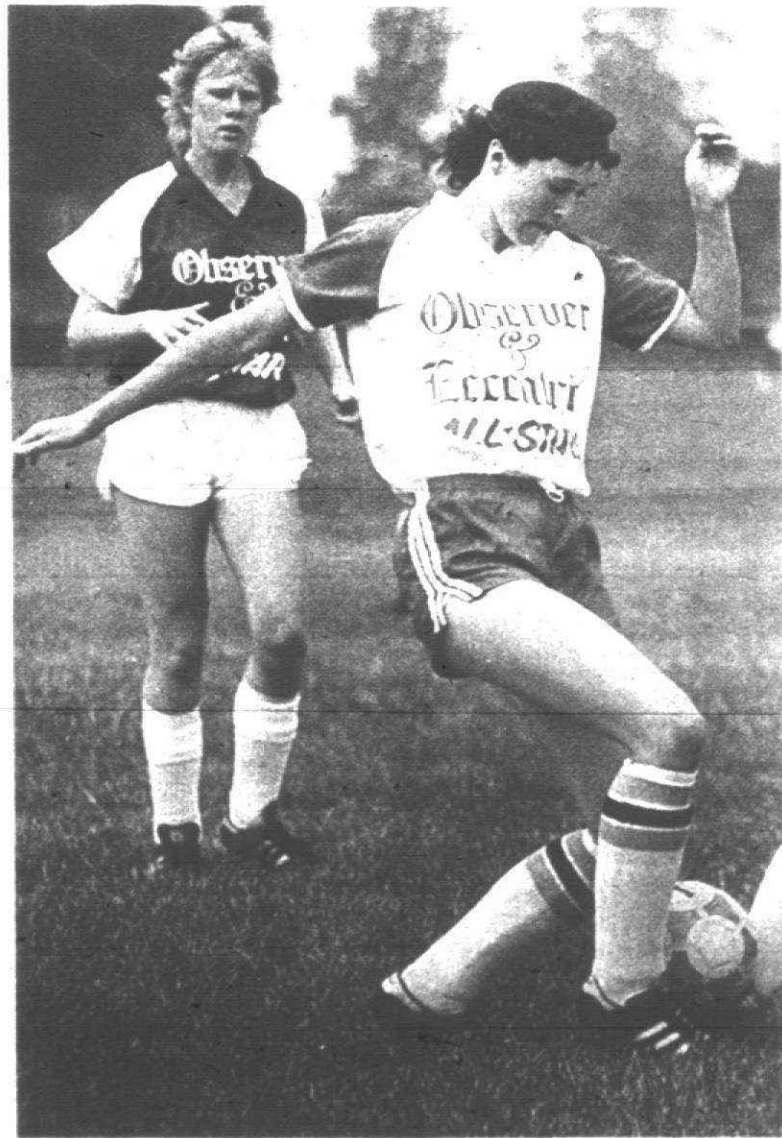

In the second half, it wasn't a crossbar that kept Ferguson from scoring. It was Wayne goalie Cathy Greig, a Livonia Bentley sophomore. Three times Ferguson unleashed solid shots at the Wayne net, and three times Greig made super saves.

Ferguson finally did get the ball past Greig, scoring at 69:00 after taking a pass from Troy's Ericka Johnson and dribbling past three Wayne defenders.

But it wasn't enough. In this match, anyway, it was the Wayne stars that sparkled brightest.

The look of anguish on Jennifer Huegli's face was replaced by smiles and cheers later on as Wayne dismantled Oakland, 7-1, in the first-ever Observer & Eccentric All-Star Girls' Soccer Classic Saturday.

The Wolverine IV Soccer Tournament at Schoolcraft College attracted teams from all over the country. The action was fast and furious in the boys 19 and under division with Gus Flores (top) of fourth place Kansas City (Mo.) Juventus hurling Queen City Rocket (Ohio) defender Dave Lang.

Red-hot local squads cool Wolverine foes

By C.J. Rieck
staff writer

Talk about intense. That describes the fourth annual Wolverine Invitational Soccer Tournament, played last weekend at Schoolcraft College and Livonia's Bicentennial and Jaycee parks. The competition, the weather and the play of four particular local teams were at a peak during the three-day event.

Those four teams — the 14 and under WSSL Livonia Spartans girls, 19 and under FLIP Rowdies girls, 13 and under Livonia Arsenal boys and 14 and under Division II WSSL Livonia Kick boys — all claimed division championships during the 1983-team tournament.

THE WSSL SPARTANS earned their title by beating a rival Livonia and Bonanza Express Soccer League (BESL) squad, the Hawks, 4-2 in the finals.

The Spartans trailed, 2-1, with 10 minutes to play after the Hawks' Jenny Flowers punched home two straight goals. But Kristy McMinn, who scored the Spartans' first goal, tied it and Lori Green got the game-winner with five minutes left. Shelly Virva added an insurance tally with two minutes remaining.

The Spartans advanced to the finals after beating the Troy Lightning, 5-2, in the semis, with McMinn again scoring twice. Meanwhile, the Hawks snipped the Troy Metics, 2-1 in overtime. The Metics were BESL division champs, finishing ahead of both the Spartans and the Hawks.

THE FLIP ROWDIES — a team of girls from Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth — got superb goaltending from Doreen Beagle and clutch scoring from Doreen Dudek in the final two games to win their division.

The FLIP Rowdies blanked the Warren Rowdies in the semifinals, 2-0, with Dudek and Jenny Gans netting goals. In the finals, the local squad prevailed by a 4-1 margin over the Phidippides from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dudek poured in a pair of goals in the title contest, with Shelly Staszal and Lisa Rigstad each adding single tallies.

FOR THE LIVONIA Arsenal, it was a battle all the way, but they emerged with top honors. The Arsenal slipped past the Central Ohio Wings in the title contest, 2-1, in an overtime shootout.

Scott Ryan scored Arsenal's goal in regulation and, after a scoreless overtime period, Michael Schroer got the game-winning goal in the shootout. Jim Harkins was superb in the net for the Arsenal, with help from defenders John Bailey, Rob Keller, Mark Thomas Jr., Andre Monstar, David Probst, Billy Parks and Mike Patlach.

The semifinal game was another tight victory for the Arsenal, with Kevin Zaschak's goal late in the second half the only score of a 1-0 triumph over the Windsor (Ontario) United Police.

THE WSSL KICKS claimed the 14 and under Division II boys championship by beating the Livonia Diamonds in the finals.

Other division winners were, for the boys: Major Atom from London, Ontario, in 10 and under; Troy Tornado in 14 and under; Division I Blue Water Blast from Sarnia, Ontario, in 16 and under; and Northville Arsenal in 19 and under.

For the girls, winners were: Lakota (Ohio) All-Stars in 10 and under; Kuummerling Tree Service from Dayton, Ohio, in 12 and under; and the Wheaton (Maryland) Panthers in 16 and under.

League leader rallies in Collegiate deadlock

"It was our worst game of the year by far," said Rodger George, manager of Redford-Westland Adray.

But Livonia Collegiate Baseball League (LCBL) leaders didn't lose, nor did they win. A two-run homer by Kevin Stanisz in the bottom of the seventh inning enabled RWA to gain a 6-6 tie with Ann Arbor Wendy's in a game played Wednesday at Capitol Park.

The game was halted after seven innings because of a time limit.

RWA out-hit Wendy's 14-6, but left 11 runners stranded.

Both Stanisz and Carl Ruffino each had two hits. Jim Zentgraf and John Hetkowski added two apiece.

Mickey Madsen paced Wendy's by going 2-for-4.

Jámie Chilcoff, the starter for Wendy's, went all the way Charlie Johnson, who struck out 12 in six innings, and John Paz worked for RWA.

LIVONIA ADRAY moved into second place ahead of Wendy's with a 4-2 win over Walter's Appliance on Wednesday at Ford Field.

Livonia, which collected only two hits off losing pitcher Jack Ford, used a pair of double steals to post the victory.

Crystal Gallery reopens for 'Sunday Afternoon'

"Sunday Afternoon" has reopened the Detroit Institute of Arts' newly restored Crystal Gallery from 1-4 p.m. Sunday and continues each Sunday, year round, excepting holidays.

Area pianist Bess Bonnier performs light classics and jazz, as well as current popular music and the best of Broadway, at the antique grand piano especially selected for Crystal Gallery.

Loni Anderson is a virtuous Sunday-school teacher, who draws the attentions of racy race-car driver Stroker Ace.

Comedy misfires in 'Stroker Ace'

There was a time when Burt Reynolds showed a flair for light comedy. Judging from "Stroker Ace" (PG), that flair for light comedy has turned into a passion for porno activity.

IN A RASH MOMENT, Stroker signs a contract with Beatty, who becomes his sponsor in stock-car races. The catch is that Stroker is obligated to various humiliating and humiliating experiences.

Reynolds and Needham seem to have grown complacent with their previous successes. Just get the gang together, they must figure, let Reynolds hop into a souped-up car, drive around a track a few times and, bingo, there's a movie. No way.

"Stroker Ace" has nothing going for it. The plot is slight, the characters are obnoxious, and the comedy is almost up to the level of a picture post card of an outburst. It's actually an embarrassment to see a fine actor like Ned Beatty making a jackass of himself in this movie.

ALTHOUGH I HAVE never been a great fan of the "Smookey" movies, at least they were entertaining. They had some memorable characterizations, especially Jackie Gleason's sheriff, and they had Sally Field as a woman with enough intelligence to make the relationship with Reynolds interesting.

In "Stroker Ace," Reynolds and Anderson are both dim bulbs, a fact which dampens interest in that relationship. This also is a movie which puts down women at every opportunity. One of the running jokes is that Stroker doesn't remember the names of any of "his women."

Stroker is just not a character that merits our attention. Whether or not he gets out of his contract with Torkle or continues to race wearing a chicken suit aren't elements of tension or suspense. That leaves Stroker and his Chicken Pits sitting high on the dung heap of dumb movies.

These wineries excel in California

People who are relatively neutral in the wine business, i.e., writers and merchants, are frequently asked about their favorite wines or wineries.

After all, if either has done some homework, he or she is in a position to offer some decent opinions. Both should attempt to maintain a breadth of scope and knowledge that the typical consumer cannot. It is a responsibility to do so.

THE WHITES are as clean and forthright as the reds tend to be complex. Especially recommended in whites are the several chardonnays issued each vintage and its pinot blanc.

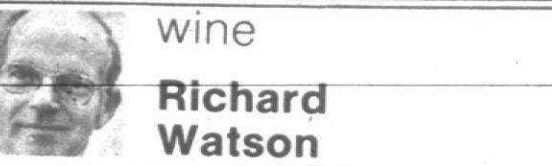

Firststone Vineyard (Santa Ynez Valley, Santa Barbara) - A sleeper. Always exciting chardonnay, gewurztraminer and riesling issues are increasingly being supported by complex cabernets and superior merlots.

BURGESS Cellars (Napa) - Always excellent releases of cabernet, chardonnay and zinfandel. Not cheap, but excellent for that special bottle.

Concannon Vineyards (Livermore) - Recently acquired by a parent company. Time will tell if it maintains its past stability and value.

Redford (location to be announced). The band will play three more admission-type programs this summer at Meadow Brook Music Festival on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

Free birthday cake and a riverfront band concert, beginning at 6 p.m., will highlight the festivities. Free guarded parking is available. For further information, call 297-9360.

Richard Watson wine

del is quite dependable and honest. It is one of the few to make a sylvaner (called franken) riesling.

Kenwood Vineyards (Sonoma) - Another renaissance story, it has always been known especially for red wines. Recent issues of cabernet (Jack Loo-banck and some excellent, complex gewurztraminer as well.

Memorable evenings begin at the French Colony

Continental Cuisine. Impeccable Service... The French Colony enhances any evening with gourmet dining, impeccable service, and an intimate atmosphere.

Allowing for something here for everyone. At less than $4 for a 1.5-liter bottle, it is tough to beat in the value-per-dollar column.

HMR Vineyard (San Luis Obispo) - Recently extracted from financial disaster via external purchase, it is hoped the new owners will maintain previous levels of excellence, backed by fair prices.
