Court rejects limit on local group ho

By Scott Adle staff writer

The Michigan Court of Appeals ruled Monday that there is no limit on the number of group homes for the mentally ill the state can establish in a community

The ruling reversed a 1982 decision by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum, who ruled that it was unlawful to place the mentally ill in such group homes

Baum's ruling had been in favor of Canton Township in one of the points of its lawsuit against the state Department of Social Services (DSS)

The lawsuit, filed by Canton in 1981 said the township was unhappy with the number of group homes being established in township subdivisons, particularly those containing the mentally ill.

Monday's ruling was a unanimous decision from a three-ju ge panel that included Myron Wahls, Roman Gribbs and visiting judge Meyer Warshawsky. Canton Supervisor James Poole said in a prepared statement that he was 'very disappointed with the decision."

After talking with attorneys, Poole said Canton can appeal the decision to the Michigan Supreme Court. Poole said he will take this to the township board of trus tees meeting Tuesday.

day's paper

'It will be expensive (to appeal), but it does seem that Canton has a disproportionate amount of these homes.'

Until then. Poole said he would "continue to work with Sen. (William) Faust (D-Westland) on the bill to kimit the number (of group homes) in each community

These homes, which are subsidized by the DSS, can house up to six persons who are aged, developmentally disabled, physically handicapped, emo-tionally disabled or mentally ill. Group homes hope to give individualized care to patients and help ease them back into the community.

Canton officials said that the township had 10 foster care homes and applications for another five, while other surrounding communities had less.

The panel said Canton did not show 'that the facilities would, by virtue of their allegedly 'exorbitant' number, overburden the community's resources or cause undue harm to its population.

The appeals court also pointed out that 15 group homes would make up .09 percent of all Canton households, and their residents, which would number 90, would make up only 0.19 percent of the local population.

Township clerk John Flodin said that he was disappointed by the decision and "to an extent" surprised.

"The law is a funny thing," he said. 'I don't know (if Canton will appeal the decision). I certainly think the board has to make that decision. It will be expensive, but it does seem that Canton has a disproportionate amount of these homes.

Antonio Sieira of the Michigan Department of Mental Health said he was pleased with the appeals court ruling. "Anything that confirms the right of an individual to live where he so chooses, I'm for," he said. In Baum's decision in favor of Canton, Baum wrote that it was "unlawful to use such homes for persons who are mentally ill.

The homes being used are in areas zoned for single-family residences

Trying to stem the rising tide of auto thefts, the Automobile Club of Michigan (AAA) started a multi-faceted program of action this week.

The program includes etching vehicle identification numbers (VINS) on auto glass, operating theft tip lines, offering rewards for arrests involving auto thefts, and requiring VINS for parts and higher value cars

"Stolen car claims for the auto club skyrocketed 50 percent last year over 1981, with our members losing 14,289 vehicles," said Thomas Mulcahey, AAA Plymouth manager.

'Lemon'car owners squeeze the dealers

By Tim Richard staff writer

"There's no incentive for a car dealer to settle with you if you have a 'lemon' or a warranty problem," says former lemon owner Chris Andrews.

His new line of work is to help lemon owners give auto dealers that incentive. From his Southfield home, Andrews runs a non-profit group called Aid for Lemon Owners (ALO), teaching clients how to persuade dealers to give them satisfaction.

The client learns from Andrews' experience. It was bitter experience. "TWO YEARS AGO I bought a new car and had problems from the day one," he said. "Three months out of the six I had it, it was in the shop - and I was making payments. "I was with Century Insurance. When you're in sales and don't have a car, ou lose sales, your productivity goes down, and you lose a job." On one of his trips to the dealer, Andrews recalled, he asked for all the work orders on his car. "They inadvert ently gave me the work orders done on the car before I bought it," he said hose work orders showed his lemon had had $600 worth of body work, two or three coats of paint on different parts of the body and different locks. And yet it had been sold to him as a new car.

He went to the state attorney gener al, the secretary of state and other agencies without success before conluding: "There's no place to contact." Andrews' lawsuit was settled out of plaint "If you don't get a response, there's a ist of 33 agencies to which you can send copies. You might as well let the dealer know you're telling the whole world.

Andrews calculates that once the dealer sees the customer knows what to do and is willing to do it, the dealer will settle in order to avoid the hassle. That is the dealer's incentive. War sto-

A man who bought a used car for $4,000 was told two weeks later it needed $1,000 worth of work. The mileage on the car hadn't been noted at the time of sale - a violation of state law by the dealer. Three telephone calls later, the man got his purchase price back.

 A mother and daughter purchased a new car late one afternoon, but a different car was delivered to them next day. The dealer made a correction.

A man spent $20,000 on a new car court two months ago. He figures he's dealer 30 times for the same problem oil leaks. The dealer offered him LAST JANUARY he formed ALO, $10,000 to settle. The man painted a formation which took him many near the dealership. His final settlement was the purchase price minus depreciation - considerably better than

St. Joe's decision spells defeat for Canton

INEPTNESS IN the front office is about to cost Canton Township yet another disastrous defeat in the marketplace.

St. Joseph's Hospital three years ago began combing the Plymouth-Canton area for a site for a $2 million outpatient/family care clinic

A downtown Plymouth location has long been classified as the "main site" according to St. Joe officials. Sweetening the deal is a $1 million parking deck the city has proposed to build through its Downtown Development Authority.

Though parcels of land remain to be purchased and several details to be worked out, it would be a surprise if Plymouth weren't tapped on the back when St. Joe makes its final decision.

IT WOULD have been interesting to note the outcome if Canton Township Supervisor James Poole had done a better job prioritizing things. Strategically located, with a population of 50,000 and growing. with plenty of room for surface parking and new office space. Canton would seem attractive to a

The recent opening of Oakwood Canton Center's medical facility "has been a godsend — it's an asset to the community and it's cut down tremendously on time. It's meant a big manpower savings as well," says Paulun.

Oakwood - the only such facility in Canton - is not staffed with surgeons, however. Patients who are severely injured or who appear to need an operation must be transported to a major hospital. Canton needs a hospital

It also needs the jobs a hospital or outpatient linic could provide tion, something that is as yet unclear, it would supply tax dollars PLYMOUTH CITY Manager Henry Graper came out the victor despite Plymouth's important disadvantages. The proposed site sits atop a flood plain Because the city already is heavily developed, Plymouth has only limited space for spin-off medical offices. Graper, largely responsible for establishing the Downtown Development Authority to ensure a healthy commercial base, seizes opportunities. Unlike Canton's supervisor, Graper jumped at a big chance, employing the business savvy and salesmanship required to downplay the minuses.

St. Joe officials weren't left to tour Plymouth on their own. They had only to board a bus and be escorted to the proposed sites on a trip Graper organized

"We were searching, and the city was enthusias tic to have us there," said a St. Joe's spokesman. It's true that Plymouth, with a well-established downtown, easy access and high visibility, offers many pluses. "Real estate people emphasize three things - location, location and location," said the hospital spokesman

CANTON PRESENTS drawbacks to corporations looking to expand. Some drawbacks can be remedied in order to court businesses and industries that come calling in the future.

Because it's still a township, Canton is unable to apply for grants available to many cities. However, it may sell low interest bonds through its economic development corporation. To its credit, the EDC has sold $11.5 million in bonds since 1978

Canton also can do something about its unpaved roads - mentioned by St. Joe officials as weighing heavily against the township. The Canton sites considered by St. Joe are along the paved Joy Road corridor

If Canton is to learn from its mistakes, what transpired with St. Joe's will be studied so that mistakes will not be repeated. All Canton-residents would benefit if even a little bit of the professionalism, aggressiveness and polished salesmanship recently exercised by Plymouth's city manager rubbed off

Chrysler turns corner, and we all feel relieved

HE'S A suburban father trying to support a fam. ly of seven on a weekly salary from Chrysler. It asn't been an easy life Many times the children have gone without extras like vacations and have worn clothes purchased at the resale shop. He had been transferred several times. At one point, he even had to work in a town 100 miles away from his family

For all of the problems, he always knew there would be food on the table. All he would have to do is keep working for Chrysler

In 1978-79 he began to change. His shoulders became a little stooped. The aging process accelerated. For the first time, he had fear on his face.

THIS SUBURBAN man was not alone in his worries during 1978-79. In terms of numbers, Chrysler employs 34,600 persons in the Detroit metropolitan area. In addition, it uses a network of 11,000 sup pliers. Its collapse would have been devastating to many persons and businesses in this suburban area.

The difficulties faced by the families of Chrysler workers, such as the suburban father, would only be the beginning. What about those who make a living providing goods and services to Chrysler? What about those who earn a living by catering to the Chrysler employees? What about the economic loss to this entire area?

During 1979 Chrysler was on the brink. It had recorded a loss of $204.6 million for 1978, and the next year was worse. For the second quarter, it reported an astounding loss of $207.1 million

That's why all of us who lived through those times had to smile last week. Chairman Lee Jacocca announced Chrysler would repay $800 million of its federally guaranteed loan by September, or seven years ahead of schedule.

It had been a long, hard struggle. But it looks as though Chrysler has been saved.

All this is not to say that the problems of Chrysler are over. Many critical issues still remain. It still is in debt to Michigan, Delaware, Illinois and Indiana for $205.5 million in state-secured loans. During

The Spreen situation deteriorates

THIS ISN'T the kind of column I enjoy writing. Political and economic issues are my usual fare. Personalities are normally the grist of the hatchet boys downtown

But it has become too painful to listen to and write about Oakland County Sheriff Johannes Spreen. Yet the man has such fantastic name recognition that he will be difficult to defeat in 1984.

And so the opposition Republicans need to be encouraged, right now, to select their best possible candidate, raise a hefty war chest and perform their civic duty. County Executive Dan Murphy and every incumbent officeholder will have to use their coattails to put their candidate in.

WE IN THE newspaper and broadcasting business make Spreen look good. Indeed, he once was good. He has a powerful brain and humane instincts. He spots problems and designs programs to solve them. But we newspeople quote his major ideas, his best lines, and give the impression he has his act together. In a straight news story or 10-second video clip. the emotional flavor of his' thinking fails to show

Take his performance last week before the Board of Commissioners. There is something of the flavor of the Dead Sea

Scrolls in a Spreen speech - the battle between the Sons of Light and the Sons of Darkness. The difference is that there is only one Son of Light: Spreen timself, the self-described "professional" with 40 years of experience.

THE SONS OF Darkness consist of most of the 200 Nick 1.2 Sharkey 15 cutbacks, it damaged its design and engineering staffs - which will hurt in the years ahead. The United Auto Workers is now demanding pay raises for its members.

BUT AT LEAST the wolf is away from the door. If the nation's economy continues to improve, Chrysler should make it

Are there lessons to be learned from Chrysler by this state as its struggles for its survival? I think so. Chrysler originally asked the federal government for a direct grant. It argued that because of Chrysler's importance to the nation's economy, it should receive a handout But the government didn'T buy. It required that sacrifices be made by the company, employees, pankers and suppliers before the government would It was this mandated cooperation which restored

Chrysler to life. All parties had to work together to make the loan agreement work.

Now, consider this state. It is racked by everincreasing expenses and a shrinking economic base. Many groups are battling over a smaller revenue

Michigan will not be bailed out by an outside source. It will take cooperation (yep, even sacrifice) on the part of government, labor, industry and the public at large to get the state moving again. So far, there's been much rhetoric about cooperation, but ittle action

Chrysler couldn't have done it alone, just as our state government can't turn Michigan around by itself. If you're looking for a model for Michigan to follow, you don't have to go far

He missed mail carrier spelling test

IN THE MAIL the other morning came a letter from an old friend back home that caused The Stroller to enjoy a hearty chuckle,

In his usual friendly manner, he wrote there would be little thought of strangeness if a visit were made to the old hometown in the Dutch country of Pennsylvania - that things in many ways would be just as they were almost 60 years ago.

Enclosed was a clipping from the newspaper re-' porting that a poll of the Dutch country had been made, and that Lehigh County was the only area in the entire state that still used the old Dutch method of expression, a method that has caused many a laugh down through the years.

YOU DON'T HEAR much about them since the late Arthur Godfrey, on his radio and television shows, reminded us in song of the time he attended a Dutch dance and his female partner cautioned, "Dance me loose." What she meant was that she didn't want to be held tightly, as most girls were being held, as they stepped around the floor. Other famous expressions came to mind as the letter was read: "Throw the horse over the fence some hay." This always caused a chuckle when we were youngsters always caused a chuckle when we were youngsters going to school. "Tie the dog loose," our neighbor would call to her son. It meant allowing the dog to run.

Another incident came to mind when The Stroller was starting his career as a sports writer and "Punch" Christmas, manager of the Macungie team-and a real old-time Dutchman, brought in his score on a Sunday evening. As he explained the outcome of the game, he said, "We beat them in everything but runs. We had more errors, more men left on bases, and more strikeouts, but we lost." As he read the letter, The Stroller wondered if the old-time streetcar conductors used the same Dutch twists in calling the rides. In the old days, we used to gather at Sixth and Hamilton streets in Allentown just to hear the conductor call out, "All aboard for Besslem, Bass and Nasarass" - meaning Bethlehem, Bath and Nazareth

BUT WITH ALL the laughs, The Stroller has a fond memory of one incident in his life when he took the examination for an opening in the post office when our little town got free delivery.

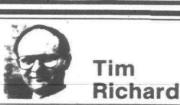

At the time, he figured a job in the post office would be ideal. It wouldn't be difficult, and after so many years, he could retire. After looking over the others attending the exams, he felt certain of victo-

He got the shock of his life when the final results came in and he didn't win. He missed in spelling -one of his long suits, for he never lost a school spell-

He had missed on the word "beseige." It so happens that in the Dutch language, there is no hard "g" sound. So when the examiner gave out the word, he pronounced it "beseech," and that is the way The Stroller spelled it.

Now as he looks back, he laughs just to think that he had spelled "besiege" correctly, he might now be a retired mail carrier back home in the Dutch country, just watching the evening train go by instead of enjoying his visit with you in his colu No wonder he laughed when he read his friend's rest of the world: "self-serving politicians, selfserving chiefs of police, self-serving media." all hell-bent on "effectively destroying and totaling demoralizing" Spreen's department.

The specific cause of his wrath was that the Jail Study Committee had adopted "my plan with one deletion." He didn't say what the deletion was, but it was serious enough that he was threatening to sue. He didn't say what grounds he would sue on, and he didn't say what relief he would ask. He gave me the name of his attorney, but his attorney was out of town until July 25.

He denounced "politics" though he himself is a consummate politician, even to the point of bringing along his own cheering gallery. You think that is a joke? They were in the front row of the audience

After this threat of a suit, after the bitter denunciations of everyone, after this grotesque display, Spreen offered to "work together" for a solution.

OAKLAND, unlike most large counties, has no one city dominating the county. Indeed, no city has as much as 10 percent of the total county population. Oakland is highly decentralized. The Oakland County Ethic is that cities, townships, county government, executives, legislators, judges all must work cooperatively in a self-effacing way.

There is just no place in Oakland government for a man who insists his plan must be adopted without amendment. There is just no place for a man who sees only himself as a "professional" and everyone else as a "self-serving politician." There is just no place for a man who only lectures and can neither hear nor respect any other point of view.

I don't and can't hate the man. It's upsetting to have to write these words, but it goes with the job. Spreen was long an outstanding cop, but that was some time back. The situation has deteriorated intolerably, and he must be replaced.

It is the first federal housing pro- ed, 205-217, an attempt to deny federal Reagan Administration. Its backers munities that have rent-control ordi said it renews the federal commitment to decent shelter for all. In part, the bill calls for construction of an estimated 200,000 units for poor and moderate-income occupants, extends the Community Development Block Grant and Urban Development Action Grant programs, and funds rural housing, urban homesteading and t-subsidy programs. The Senate is working on a counterpart bill. Supporter Charles Schumer, D-N.Y. well as cyclical changes in the econo- said "the Reagan Administration record is one of devastation of lower income housing programs."

Opponent Chalmers Wylie, R-Ohio, called the bill too expensive and said "the prospect of a federal budget deficit of $200 billion constitutes our greatest threat to affordable housing."

Members voting yes supported the $15.6 billion housing bill. Voting yes: Hertel, Ford and Levin. Voting no: Pursell and Broomfield

RENT CONTROL: The House reject-

gram approved by the House during the aid for multi-family housing to comnances. The vote occurred during debate on HR 1 (see preceding issue). Supporter Toby Roth, R-Wis., said "there is nothing that is a greater impediment to adequate housing in this country today than are rent controls." Opponent Fernand St. Germain, D-R.I., said the attempt to roll back rent ontrol is "too much interference" in local affairs. Members voting yes were opposed to nunicipal rent control laws. Voting yes: Pursell and Broomfield. Voting no: Hertel, Ford and Levin. SENATE

NERVE GAS: The Senate approved, 50-49 against, a $130 million outlay to enable the United States to resume production of nerve gas weaponry after a 14-year moratorium

The vote tabled (killed) an amendment to block the expenditure as part of the $200 billion defense authorization bill for fiscal 1984. After senators deadlocked at 49. Vice President Bush cast the deciding vote in favor of

Supporter Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala., said a -replenished nerve gas arsenal will encourage the Soviets to negotiate arms reductions and discourage their use of chemical weapons against NATO

Opponent Davoid Pryor, D-Ark., said renewed production would not enhace U.S. military prowess but "could mark the beginning of a new kind of arms bill $6.2 billion for the first purchases $20 billion to $40 billion on a tempo race.

Senators voting yes wanted the U.S. arsenal to once again include nerve terim weapon between the aged B-52's B-1 bomber project. Michigan's Democratic senators Carl Levin and Donald Riegle, both voted no.

SECURITY: By a vote of 44-53, the Senate failed to table (kill) an amendment prohibiting the military from using private firms for firefighting and security services at U.S. bases. The Pentagon wants to contract privately for such services, but this vote blocked if from doing so for two years. The vote occurred during debate on the fiscal 1984 military authorization bill (S 675: see preceding issue)."

State house gives support to solar energy legislation

By Penny Wright special writer

Solar energy supporters received a boost when the state House of Representatives recently month approved an extension of the state's solar tax credit by a vote of 88-12.

House Bill 4622 survived a class struggle in the House, however, and faces an uncertain future in the state Senate during the fall session.

Its sponsor, Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, defended it by saying solar heating is not "a toy for the rich."

But Rep. Alma Stallworth, D-Detroit, called the $20 million to $30 million in lost income tax revenue excessive. "With multiple energy demands," she said in an interview, "the cost to subsidize solar energy is beyond our capability."

DAN SHARP, an aide to Bullard, said the conflict was between supporters of "renewables" (such as solar) and conservationists.

"The only resistance that has developed is the belief that if this money doesn't go into solar, it will go into conservation for the poor," Sharp said in an terview

Due to expire this Dec. 31, the present solar tax credit allows homeowners to deduct from their state income taxes 10 percent of the first $2,000 of a system's costs and 5 percent of the next $8,000 a maximum credit of $600.

Bullard's bill would raise the credit to 20 percent of the first $10,000 spent on a solar, wind or water energy conservation device - a maximum of $2,000. The credit may be claimed only once per device.

Owners of rental housing may claim 10 percent of the first $2,000 and 5 percent of the next $13,000 - a total of $850 - as a credit against their income tax bills.

Bullard's bill allows a flat 20-percent credit against the first $18,000 spent on such a device - a maximum of $3,600.

The bill also would make solar devices subject to the sales tax. Under the current law, they are exempt from sales taxes.

STALLWORTH PREFERS that the state concentrate on more traditional energy programs such as weatherization for low-income families and stopping gas shut-offs.

The Detroit lawmaker contends that "the costs of Bullard also noted a trend toward lower-cost s lar systems over the past two years, a sign that tax credits are going to more affordable energy systerns. BOTH SIDES predict a struggle when the bill reaches the Senate floor. It goes first to the finace committee. Stallworth who heads the Hous committee and is working on energy legislation, said the bill will "probably experience a difficult time."

Sharp, Bullard's aide, believes passage is likely, but it will take work. "The support for solar is a mile wide and an inch deep," he said. "People know it works, but don't see that it will generate money for the state.

Sharp contends that job creation and economic activity generated by the solar industry actually will produce revenue for the state.

And if consumers spend less on energy imported from other states, he said, they will have more to spend here

Marge Johnston works full-time as a real estate agent to support her three children — (from left) Tina, 13, Terry, 16, and Del, 15. She also leads a group of women trying to change the child support system to insure that their ex-husbands pay regularly. (At right) she serves milk and pie to her family.

Her story

Several months ago, Marge Johnston stopped griping about the $5,000 in child support payments she says her ex-husband owes. She stopped worrying about the fact that her three teen-agers didn't have as many luxuries as other neighborhood children.

Johnston directed every ounce of her energy toward beating the child support system.

She's no richer than she was a year ago, but she's a lot happier. -

"If you don't learn how the system works, you feel like you're beating your head against the wall," the Southfield resident said. "I wanted to do some(Aid to Dependent Children). "He pays irregularly — sometimes we'll get two checks in a row, and then we don't get any for weeks," the mother of three said.

"I don't make enough money to be self-sufficient. That's why I've relied on my family for (financial and emotional) support."

SINCE HER divorce in 1978, Johnston said she's appeared before the Friend of the Court — the government agency which administers support payments — dozens of times to force her husband to pay. She claims he still owes $5,000. He contends the amount is closer to $2,000. "So far the Friend of the Court has been lenient on him," she said. "I never thought of getting an arrest warrant because it's self-defeating. He wouldn't be making any money to pay child support if he were in jail." situation," she said. "It's been difficult for me to get wage assignments (have his wages diverted into-child support) because he runs his own business, and they can't determine his exact salary.

"But even if I don't get any personal returns from it, I'm happy knowing that I may be helping my friends or family. For all I know, one of my kids may be divorced someday."

Delvin Johnston is angry and frustrated. Neither the Friend of the Court nor his ex-wife understand the bind he's in.

His story

According to his estimates, he's behind $1,900 in child support payments. The Friend of Court attorney and his ex-wife, Marge, claim he owes nearly $5,000.

Johnston, a Westland resident, says he's just beginning to get on solid financial ground for the first time in years. He contends he's been a good father who faithfully visits his children and makes payments regularly - except when times are tough.

BUT NOBODY SEEMS to care about his side of the story, he says. His ex-wife and the Friend of the Court apparently want to make him pay in more ways than one.

"I'm filled with so much rage over what's happened," Johnston said. "I think it's very unfair that some women are pointing the finger at us when we're trying to be good fathers."

To Johnston, the typical scenario

"I love my kids and that's why I didn't leave town," he added. "But I'm being lumped in the same group because these women are bound and determined to make a cause. It's kind of a lynch mob psychology."

JOHNSTON, WHO OPERATES his own car leasing business, ran into money problems shortly after the couple's divorce in 1978.

During 1979, he worked at a bank, earning $15,600 a year. His child support payments — $99 per week — gobbled up about a third of his weekly paycheck.

Over the next three years Inheston's thing progressive instead of sitting back and complaining."

So she organized and later became president of the Detroit area chapter of KINDER (Kids In Need Deserve Equal Rights). KINDER was founded last year by two divorced Flint women.

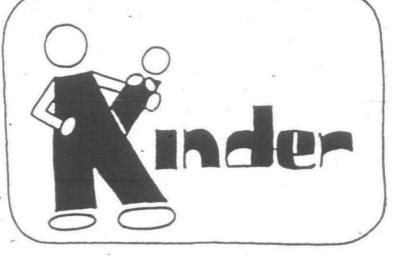

Working mothers like Johnston — a real estate agent in Redford — "walk a tightrope between self-sufficiency and poverty."

WHILE THEIR weekly paycheck barely covers living expenses in many cases, child support payments are used for other necessities such as doctor bills and clothing. When ex-husbands continue to fall behind in paying child support, their ex-wives face borderline poverty. Some resort to collecting ADC Johnston doesn't hold a grudge or feel bitter. "I'm not angry about it," she said. "I'm just disappointed that he doesn't feel as responsible as I do.

"He visits the children regularly, but he doesn't contribute his share of support."

WHEN SHE joined KINDER, Johnston didn't expect the group to solve her financial problems.

"I know the group can't change my goes something like this: "She (the exwife) paints a picture that the kids are starving and makes the Friend of the Court investigator feel bad. By the time he (the ex-husband) gets in to talk to the investigator, he's already made up his mind. All he has to say is 'OK, you rat, pay up.'"

JOHNSTON RESENTS HIS ex-wife for being an outspoken leader of KIND-ER (Kids in Need Deserve Equal Rights), even though he believes some of the group's goals — fighting for legislative changes — are worthwhile.

"She's recruiting many women who are on ADC (Aid to Dependent Children) because their husbands (skip) town or rarely pay child support and don't visit their kids. luck fluctuated from good to bad, leaving him with the feeling that he was on an emotional rollercoaster ride.

Just when he thought he was finally keeping his head above water, he was fired from his job at a car dealership. The economic and emotional pressures had reached a breaking point.

"I TRIED TO get a job. I sent out over 100 resumes, but didn't have any luck.

"Up to that time, I had managed to keep things going by scrounging around and borrowing," he said.

Johnston began leasing cars for companies, but the business venture didn't take off for several months.

Divorced mothers protest before Congress

For the first time in recent history, divorced mothers are taking their case out of the courts and into the committee rooms of Congress.

A small group of Michigan mothers appeared before the U.S. Senate Finance Committee in Washington, D.C., last month to endorse child support reforms in the Economic Equity Act.

The package of 12 bills, sponsored by the Congressional Caucus on Women's Issues, calls for enforcement of child support and alimony laws, gives tax breaks to employers who provide child care and hire displaced homemakers and corrects discriminatory pension, insurance and tax law.

"We're making progress," said a relieved Marge Johnston. The Southfield woman is president of the Detroit area chapter of KINDER (Kids in Need Deserve Equal Rights), an activist group pushing to change the child support system on a national level. "The legislature's really concerned," Johnston added. "We're hoping that things will change in the near future."

For millions of divorced mothers, child support is "the lifeline enabling them to be self-supporting and productive," Patricia Kelly told the Senate committee. The Flint mother to-founded KINDER last year.

CURRENTLY, one out of five American children is being supported through social programs, Kelly told the senators.

"One quarter to one third of the absent fathers never pay a dime in child support and some government officials estimate that only one out of 10 absent fathers pays on time in full," she said.

Kelly and other divorced mothers contend the system encourages welfare dependence.

Working mothers not on AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children) find very little help in collecting child support while women on welfare see stepped up enforcement," she said. "The federal government offers

"The federal government offers many financial incentives to each state to encourage offsetting welfare costs but few to encourage non-AFDC collections.

"This policy literally forces millions of women and children onto welfare and 'Uncle Sam' becomes the child supporter unnecessarily," Kelly stressed. "In many cases, if child support payments were received regularly, the family would not even qualify for government aid."

Some divorced fathers agree. Bill Sweeney of Detroit, who joined KIND-ER with his second wife, claims federal and state laws now on the books hinder the Friend of the Court — the government ägency which administers support payments — from doing a "proner ich."

"proper job." "I joined KINDER because I hope they can change some of the laws," Sweeney said. "But most men are turned off by the

"But most men are turned off by the group because the only angle they hear about is enforcing child support payments."

Sweeney, who first joined Fathers for Equal Rights before turning to KINDER, said he empathizes with fathers who fall behind in child support payments because they're laid off. But, he added, "the other ones (working fathers) are just trying to get out of paying."

NEW LAWS introduced under the Economic Equity Act would remedy the situation by:

• Ensuring that every state set up a child support clearing house, such as the Friend of the Court system in Michigan counties.

• Diverting wages of divorced parents who fall two months behind on child support payments. (This provision went into effect in Michigan on July 1. After 1985, the grace period will be shortened to four weeks.)

 Providing a procedure for imposing liens against property and estates for amounts of past-due child support.

 Withholding state income tax refunds when parents fall behind in payments.

• Establishing specific procedures for determining paternity such as scientific testing. Imposing a bond or another type of guarantee to secure payments from parents who repeatedly fall behind in payments. Setting up voluntary wage assignments for child support obligations.

In Michigan, recently-enacted legislation also calls for mediators to resolve disputes over child custody, visitation and support. Parents' visitation orders will be enforced under the new state law.

The five-bill package allows county Friend of the Court offices to recommend modified support orders when a parent is out of work or otherwise unable to pay, or when a child's financial needs or conditions change.

The legislation reduces the maximum jail term for violating a support or visitation order from the current one year to 90 days. First offenders would be jailed for no more than 45 days. Unemployed parents would qualify for work release programs.

Why it's our trusty Canton Soccer Club! Yes sir, I've got the final, final report on this season's great group of players, parents, coaches, referees and officers who made this season of soccer one to be remembered for a long time to come. This spring season saw 90 teams, with approximatly 15 players to each team, play a minimum of one game per week from mid-April until June 27. Now that's soooommmme soccer playing!

Believe you me that took some organizing and team work on the part of everybody from officers right on through to the players on the field. This devotion was not wasted either, as anyone who had the opportunity to catch a game or two already knows.

Have a fling Even the Smithsonian approves of this flying saucer

O&E Thursday, July 21, 1983

The summer picnic gear would hardly be complete without it. You wouldn't think of not seeing one at the beach. And it's not enough that people play with them; dogs are into the act too The Frisbee has come a long way from .

Just as no one fully understands what makes a Frisbee fly, no one is sure of its origins. Many claim the origin of the Frisbee is the Frisbie Pie Co. of Bridgeport, Conn. Shortly after World War II, so the story goes, Yale University students are said to have tossed empty pie tins across the campus, yelling "Frisbie" in an attempt to warn fellow students of the pie tin's path.

Other stories link the first flying disc to Elihu Frisbee, another Yalie, who, in 1827, flung a collection plate across campus to protest compulsory chapel attendance.

The toy as we know it today was developed in the early 1950s by inventors around the country who were experimenting with a new synthetic material plastic. One inventor, a building inspector named Fred Morrison, designed and produced the Pipco Flyin' Saucer in his basement.

Morrison sold his discs on the county fair circuit Actually he sold "invisible strings" and discs were slid along the "string" to prove its existence. When someone bought a "string," the disc was thrown in as a bonus

In 1957, Morrison sold his saucer to the Wham-O Manufacturing Co., which also began to market another plastic toy - the Hula Hoop. Within a few months, the "Pluto Platter," a flying disc complete with cupola, portholes and the names of the planets inscribed around the rim, appeared on the toy scene. In 1958, the "Sailing Satellite" emerged coincidentally that was the year in which the United States lauched its own satellite, Explorer I.

IN 1959, Frisbee became a registered trademark of Wham-O, but like NASA's space program, Frisbees did not really take off until the mid-1960s. The International Frisbee Disc Association was formed in 1967 to promote appreciation of the Frisbee at all levels - from recreation to competition - and, in the early 1970s, organized competitions for field events began.

The Frisbee earned its greatest respect in 1977 when the venerable Smithsonian Institution began its annual Frisbee Disc Festival, the world's largest non-competitive disc event. That year, the festival opened with former astronaut Michael Collins, the director of the National Air and Space Museum, flinging out the first Frisbee.

Held each Labor Day weekend, the festival is more than just a massive fling. Featured during the five-hour festivities are workshops and exhibitions of disc tricks and moves by disc champions - both human and canine. It's a day when young and old, novice and expert, can learn or perfect the tosses and catches that make Frisbee play one of Ameri ca's favorite pastimes. The festival was suggested by Bill Good, a member of the museum's art department staff and a Frisbee enthusiast "The Smithsonian was already holding annual kite and boomerang festivals," Good said. "I thought the Frisbee Disc Festival would be an appropriate addition. And as for the air and space onnection, a disc is really a combination of an airplane wing and a gyroscope.'

"A disc has an airfoil shape - slightly rounded on the top and flat on the bottom. The shape gives it lift when it's moving, the rotation keeps it stable and the angle at which it is thrown gives it direc-

SOUNDS SIMPLE ENOUGH, but there's more to disc-flipping than meets the uninitiated eye. "The faster the forward motion of a Frisbee and the greater its attitude (the angle at which it flies), the greater the lift and the longer the flight," Frisbee xperts Mark Danna and Dan Poynter wrote in the 'Frisbee Players' Handbook" published in 1978. 'It's the same principle as an airplane's wing When the leading edge of a forward moving wing is tilted upward, air is compressed underneath it. When the speed of a frisbee disc slows down, the disc levels out because the air pressure above and below it becomes the same." A vocabulary has developed to describe some of the nuances of Frisbee aerodynamics, but even the experts admit that the precise aerodynamic basis f why a disc can "fly" has yet to be explained.

But Frisbee aficionados don't worry about physics and aerodynamics as they practice perfecting their disc skills at the festival's workshops. The beginner workshops concentrate on the basic toss and catch skills, which, once mastered, are used to perform more advanced moves. Intermediate and advanced workshops focus on "fancy tricks." including "nail delays," where the disc spins on the nail of index finger, and "chest rolls," which involve rolling the disc from one hand across the body, down the other arm and into the opposite hand. The object of all these maneuvers, of course, is to keep the disc spinning, and all advanced moves are guaranteed to impress any audience a disc spinner can

WHEN THE WORKSHOPS break, everyone's off to find a prime spot on the Mall for viewing the freestyle and canine exhibitions - the most popular events at the festival. The freestyle portion features World Class Frisbee Disc Champions, who combine dance steps with disc moves to create a performance of grace, style and Frisbee expertise. In a typical routine, a performer reels a disc in close to the body and releases it with a quick snap of the wrist - from behind the head or under the leg. Or a Frisbee may be released upside down when the performer is in mid-air. The Frisbee silently sails through the summer air only to be "finger-tipped," "air brushed" and "toe-jammed" - all special tricks - before it is caught and quickly sent spinning away to a partner who will spontaneously perform a totally new set of

Breakdown of family unit may be accelerated by the absence of community

Is the family in trouble? Is the family, the backbone of our society and nation, experienceing difficult times?

Many would say yes. Rising divorce statistics, increasing cases of spouse abuse and child abuse, a decline in the number of couples getting married and the increase of couples living together without marriage, and the new demands for female liberation all have been used to support the claim that the family is in serious trouble.

The statistics are irrefutable. The number of divorces and decline of marriages, and the increasing incidence of abuse cannot be denied. The statistics do not tell us the whole story of the family crisis, but surely we can agree that all is not well.

THE CAUSE for our family crisis, may however, lie outside the family. The breakdown of our family units may well have occurred because the pressure from outside the family became more than the family could withstand.

The family may not have collapsed from internal weaknesses or a flawed structure. The family may simple have been crushed by pressures outside and beyond its control Instead of being preoccupied primarily with the pathology of family breakdowns, we ought to recognize the declining strength and support of traditional forms and patterns of community life that once worked hand-in-glove with family life in mid-state Illinois, there was virtually nothing I could do that would not be either noted or reported to my family. This included those experiences of significant accomplishments as well as those actions stemming from a momentary lack of good judgement. truly lived in a community, and my family was nutured and supported in that community It's not likely today that people make it a practice to call parents to praise their offspring or to offer any support in a nurturing discipline. Commending people and taking time to correct and counsel them is at best infrequent.

OBVIOUSLY, the family crisis will not be resolved by only having people take their responsibility and care for one another more seriously. We have other patterns of life and institutions that need to be more care-full and sensitive to human needs as well. Something as simple as the recognition of the women's contribution to the whole financial support of a family would be one small step for all nonfemales and a giant step for families.

The family is in trouble. We need to be grateful for its continued resiliency in the face of current pressures, and we need to take more seriously the failure of institutions and patterns of life that should aid and abet the family.

Noah's ark sails again

Children who attended the vacation church school held recently at St. Paul United Presbyterian Church in Livonia didn't have to get their feet wet when they portrayed the heroes of the Bible. Thanks to two cardboard cartons that once housed refrigerators, colored paper, crayons and imagination, the children were able to build an ark and animals for use in the dramatization of the story of Nosh. The children who performed in the skit included Colleen Manseau (above left), Nicholas and Cassandra Johnson, Sue Stirling, David Stirling (behind the pig's mask), Chris Caruso (behind the dog), an unidentified boy and John Liebertz (kneeling). The children also acted out the stories of Moses, David and Joseph and learned a new song each day. Two unidentified 3-year-olds (left) clap their hands as they sing one of the songs they learned to a last-day audience composed of parents.

Account straightened out

Taking charge of a charge card

Thanks for your response to the Letter Writer column. Please write to me at 41711 Joy Road, Canton 48187, tell me your dilemma and I will compose and print your solution letter. The next column will appear on Aug. 4. Drop me a line today.

> Sincerely Ginny Eades The Letter Writer

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN TOLD THAT YOU COULDN'T USE YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNT? Dear Letter Writer:

I was living with a friend and we had a joint account at a department store. When my friend and I split up, I went to the department store and asked them to please remove his name and address from the account and send all the bills to me. I just got a letter from the store saying that the account was overdue and that I couldn't charge anymore. This isn't fair. Sincerely

Ms. Smith

During the first part of June, I went, personally, to the Department Store at Westland, Mich. I, at that time, signed a form accepting full responsibility for the balance of the above-referenced account (which is presently in the amount of $58.77). I also requested that inasmuch as there has been a separation between Mr. Jones and myself I would appreciate his name being removed from the account referenced-above.

Enclosed is my check in the amount of $25.00, which I understand to be the requisite payment. I recently received a letter from you stating that a "hold" would be placed on my account until it was paid in full. I do not accept the position you are taking as, in spite of my personal request, you have not sent the statement to my address nd I have, therefore, not received it and could not pay it. Please reinstate my charge privileges.

Sincerely Ms. Smith

RESOLUTION: The Department Store corrected the billing address and reinstated Ms. Smith's charge privileges.

THE FRIEND OF THE COURT IS YOUR FRIEND - YOU MUST SIMPLY ASK FOR HELP. lear Letter Writer

I have been divorced since Sept. 5, 1980 and I have never received child support from my ex-husband. What can I do? I can't afford a lawyer and everything is so complicated.

Dear Friend of the Court:

to resolution

arbara Chan and Mary McFalls..

Dear Department Store:

This letter is written to request an Immediate Enforcement of the child support awarded in the Default Judgment of Divorce of Sept. 5, 1980, in the above-referenced matter. As your files will reflect, the child support ordered was $150, per week, per child. There are three minor children at issue. I have, as of July 5, 1983, received NO child support whatsoever from the Defendant. Inasmuch as 146 weeks have elapsed and the total amount now owed to me is $65,700.00, I desperately need your help in Enforcing the Divorce Judgment. The Defendant presently resides at 1111 Brown Street, Brown, Mich.

In addition, as of July 5, 1983, the Defendant has not provided nedical/health insurance for any of the minor children nor has he borne any of the cost of medical/health expenditures. I am in the process of determining those amounts paid by me to date and will provide you with the same, when available Sincerely

Ms.

RESOLUTION: On July 14, 1983 (nine days later), Ms. P received a response from the Washtenaw Country Friend of the Court ask-ing her to fill out and sign an "Application for Child Support Enforcement Service" form pursuant to Title IV-D of the Social Security Act. This form essentially grants Washtenaw County Circuit Court authorization to monitor and enforce the support obligation for her children as established by the county circuit court. L will keep readers informed as this problem goes through the steps

SOMETIMES SIMPLY ASSUMING THE BEST AND BEING NICE DOES THE TRICK. Dear Letter Writer:

I am the vendor in a land contract involving several people. I was supposed to receive a principal payment on June 20, 1982, but I didn't.

I asked a lawyer to help me in July, 1982, but so far, the lawyer hasn't done anything. I thought maybe a letter would help. Sincerely

Dear Land Contract Vendees

Pursuant to the Agreement, dated Aug. 9, 1979, between ourselves, there is presently due and owing to me a principal payment (balloon) in the amount of $10,000. This payment was due on June 20, 1982. Having not heard from you, I assume that you have overlooked satisfying this requirement of the Agreement. I would very much appreciate hearing from you, either by telephone or written communication, with respect to your intentions, on or before Friday, Nov. 12, 1982.

RESOLUTION: This letter was mailed on Nov. 9, 1982 and the $10,000 payment was in Ms. C's hands on Nov. 12, 1982. It was an oversight or perhaps an ignored situation because Ms. C didn't pursue it. In this case, "nice" worked well.

Alarm OK'd for ice arena

The City Commissio approved the purchase of an alarm system for the Plymouth Cultural Center Monday night.

The system, expected to cost between $5,000 and $6,000, is needed due to the increasing number of break-ins at the building, according to City Manager Henry Graper

In the past four months there have been two break-ins which "caused an extensive amount of damage," Graper said.

"They don't get that much, but they do do a lot of damage. We're afraid that one day we'll go in there and find that they've shut off the ice compressor or something in that area," he said.

The building, with 21 entrances, has received more than $3,000 worth of damage during the

A long wait ended West goes north for a glimpse of midnight sun

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

Earl West finally has achieved the goal he has longed for since he and his brother, Joe, sold their automobile dealership on Forest Avenue 13 years ago

He has longed through all these years for a look at the midnight sun, out of curiosity to be where it is daylight 24 hours a day

During the past several weeks he and wife Kloe have enjoyd a tour to Norway, Sweden and the other countries in

"A funny thing, after waiting all these years for the sight of it, the sun was so bright we just couldn't look right at it. It was much like we have it over here - on the days when the sun is too bright to look at.

"It was exciting and very intersting and we remained up for about an hour and a half and then retired in broad daylight

"OF COURSE we had dark shades well as every room and lobby in the hotel.

"It just seemed a bit odd to retire right after seeing the bright sun. But the miles of travel and the long wait to see it were worthwhile." West said that although it was odd to retire in daylight, it would seem most unusual to be over there the other six months of the year when it is darkness 24 hours a day

For three days they saw the midnight sun and were fortunate that the usual cloudiness was absent. "We had a good clear yiew on each of the three davs.

They flew from Copenhagen to Kirina, the northermost point in Sweden and had an enjoyable time in that north country above the North Pole. One of the fond memors the Wests have is attending a dance at the ballroom of the hotel in Kiruni. "It was a fine hotel, but we noticed that our rented car was one of the few in the parking lot. Upon asking about it, the clerk called attention to the fact that most of the young men reporting for the dance arrived in taxis.

'You are not allowed more than one beer to drive a car," the clerk told us. "So most folks come in taxis when some may imbibe too freely, their friends send them home in taxis. So we have very little trouble with drunk driving.

THE WESTS were part of a tour group of 26 persons and they spent two weeks aboard ship. And while the scenery was most wonderful the Wests agreed that the food was even better.

They have traveled extensively dur ing the past few years, but the trip to allow West the thrill of seeing the midnight sun is the one that they will-long remember.

For contrast, they were home just long enough to get their home footing again when they left for their cottage in Northern Michigan where the scenery is wooded areas and wild animals

IS VOICE, resonant, resounds throughout my most cherished memories. His is truly the voice of summer.

"Well, this big crowd here is ready to break loose. Three men on, two men out. Game tied 1-1 in the ninth inning. McDaniel checkin' his sign with Jake Gibbs. The tall righthander ready to go to work again — wind up, and the pitch . . . He swings, line shot, base hit rightfield! The Tigers win it! Here comes Kaline to score and it's ALL OVER! Don Wert singles, the Tigers mob Don. Kaline has scored, the fans are streaming onto the field, and the Tigers have won their first pennant since Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Five. (Sounds of ecstacy audible in the background.) Let's listen to the bedlam at Tiger Stadium."

I was 10 years old when Ernie Harwell described the scene at Tiger Stadium that hot and glorious night in 1968. It was one of the happiest nights of my life. The memory of that night, and Harwell's description, are indelibly etched in my mind.

Who can't remember the joyous summer of 1968? Who of my age group can't remember listening to the radio during school? Why did the teachers let us get away with that?

REMEMBER WHEN Denny McLain won his 30th game? They were losing 4-3 in the ninth to Oakland. Reggie Jackson had hit two homers off him. Things looked bad, but 1968 was magic. The Tigers tied the score. And then . . .

"Man on first, man on third. One man down. Two-two the count on Willie Horton. Here's the set by Segui, the pitch — swung on, a drive to left! That'll be the ballgame! It's over the head of Gosger. McLain wins his 30th. Here comes Stanley into score . . . Denny McLain is one of the first out of the dugout racing out and Horton is mobbed as the Tigers come from behind . . ."

Great stuff. To this day, goose bumps don my arm and tingles race down my spine when I rehear those memories.

I finally met the man who owns the voice in all my memories. It was last Wednesday at Tiger Stadium, the place where most of my memories are generated.

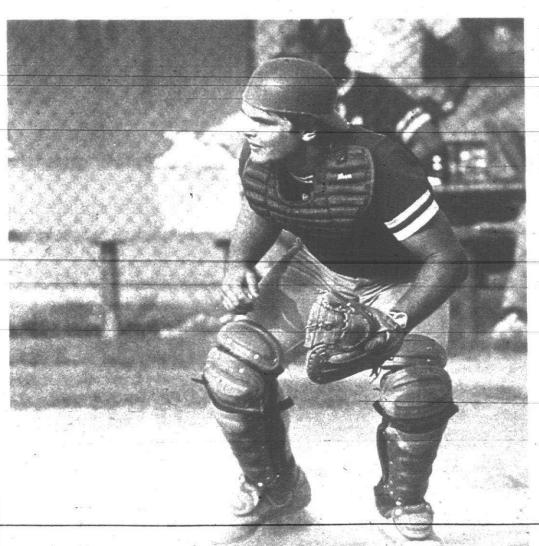

THE MAN IS a member of the baseball Hall of Fame. He resides in Farmington Hills. He's making a movie. Those were the professional reasons' for doing the interview.

He is the voice of my memories. He has been an integral part of my summer routine for my entire life. I just flat-out wanted to sit and talk baseball with him. Those were the real reasons for doing the interview.

Ernle Harwell is the type of person who you want to count among your friends though you've never really met him. It seems like you've known him all your life because he's always been a part of your life.

And I think he's aware of this. I've not interviewed too many "celebreties." Of those I have interviewed, none have made me feel as relaxed and at ease as Harwell. He acted as if he had known me all his life.

We talked about the movie, "Tiger Town." It seems my fondness for 1968 is shared by movie

Mizzou bound Slavin decides on Missouri

By Brad Emons staff writer

The Big Eight Conference, rich in baseball tradition, added another outstanding ballplayer last week when Plymouth Salem All-State catcher Dave Slavin signed a letter of intent with the University of Missouri.

"It was a tough decision," Slavin said. "I brought it down between U-D (University of Detroit) and Missouri.

"I liked the coaches at both schools and U-D will have a heck of a team, but I visited Missouri and I liked the weather and the atmosphere. And they said they're not afraid to use freshmen."

Slavin, who batted .519 and drove in 45 runs as a senior, also entertained offers from Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan and New Mexico. "I talked it over with my mom and dad," said Slavin. "I heard that Missouri is a good baseball school. Everything they do is first class all the way. They fly for all of their trips. They make two big trips. Next year they're going to Hawaii."

MISSOURI COACH Gene McArtor, who just finished his 11th season, was looking for a catcher after starter Bill Hance signed a pro contract. Slavin was contacted by the Missouri coaching staff late in the season upon the recommendation of alumni and pro scouts.

"We recruited a catcher because that's where we have a need," he said. "We lost six or seven players. We feel he (Slavin) has an opportunity in our program. He's the type of player we like to have."

Powerful pitching puts Canton on top

The Canton Elks moved into first place in the Redford-Adray Connie Mack baseball league with an 8-1 victory Tuesday over the rival Salem Elks.

Coach Dave Racer's team is now 15-3 with three league games remaining. Salem fell to 10-4 and second place in the eight-team circuit.

"We've been getting wonderful pitching and the kids are playing good ball right now," said Canton coach Dave Racer.

Pitchers Bucky Blake and Mike Battaglia combined on a one-hitter in the triumph over Salem.

Blake hurled the first three innings before leaving the game with a pulled muscle. Battaglia then took over and and preserved the victory, allowing only a sixth inning single by Dan Carlson.

Rick Berberet, the Salem starter, suffered the loss.

Jeff Olson brought home two Canton runs with a double in the second inning. Dan Martin then squeezed him home with a bunt.

Tim Michalik gave Canton another run in the fifth with a solo homer. Martin and Bryan Capnerhurst led the winners with two hits each.

Blake, who has allowed just two hits in his last 17 innings, struck out 14 and walked five in claiming his third victory of the season.

Mike Scarpello led the Canton hitting attack by going 3-for-4. He finished with five hits on the day. Teammate Marty McCarthy, the winning pitcher in the second game, added a three-run homer in the first inning. The Elks trimmed Ypsi in the

Oasis wins mount in drive to 2nd title

Oasis Golf Center continued on course toward its second consecutive Livonia Women's Fast-pitch softball crown with a 9-0 triumph last week over the Plymouth Vivians. It was seventh straight win in league play for Oasis. The winners scored often and early, tallying at least one run in every inning with the exception of the fourth. In the first inning, Oasis loaded the bases on singles by Joanne Pachiva and Oasis added another run in the second when pitcher Shelley Larned singled, moved to third on a hit by Cole and scored on a sacrifice fly by Linda Jimenez.

IN THE THIRD, Oasis made it 5-0 when Kiselica, Morris and Sommerville all singled to load the bases. That was followed by a Vickie Forest sacrifice fly.

Morris and Sommerville started the fifth with back-to-back singles. Forest then walked to load the bases.

Morris scored on an infield error and Sommerville crossed home on Cole's sacrifice fly to increase the lead to 7-0.

Oasis scored its final two runs in the sixth. Kiselica and Stafford both singled. Three straight walks to Sommerville, Forest and Cole completed the scoring.

Oasis batters collected 14 hits. Sommerville led with three. Cole, Pachiva, Kiselica and Morris added two each.

writer and director Alan Shapiro. He has written a fictitious movie based on the thrills of 1968 and the life of Al Kaline. Shapiro, by the way, is a native of Bloomfield Hills and a graduate of Andover High School.

AND AS WELL they should, Harwell, along with his 1968 broadcasting partner Ray Lane, will do play-by-play and interview scenes in the movie

"The hero is based on Kaline's baseball career. I'm the announcer," said Harwell. "Alan Shapiro was a fan back in 1968, and he knew I was the announcer back in those days."

So, he asked if he and Lane would take part in the movie. Harwell's play by play will serve to move the movie along from scene to scene. He will also be seen interviewing Billy Young, the Kaline-like hero portrayed by Roy Scheider.

"I've really enjoyed it. It's been fun. I've met actors before but I've never really done a scene with any," Harwell said.

The voice of Harwell is not a stranger, to the cinema. It was Harwell's voice you heard announcing the 1963 World Series in the movie "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." Harwell's voice also played a major role in the made-for-television drama "Aunt Mary."

HE ADMITS that "Tiger Town" is a little special.

"I feel gratified by the fact that they picked me (to be in the movie). It's nice to be included in something that celebrates the Tiger '68 team which it is, in a sense, though it's fictionalized. It's a tribute to the Tigers. It's a great thing to go back and remember," he said.

For many years, Harwell lived in Florida during the off-season. He's not fond of basking in the limelight. "I sort of just like to stay home and relax," he said.

Two years ago he bought a house in Farmington Hills and lives there now year-round. "I love it. I came back because my kids and "I love it. I came back because my kids and grandchildren are here. We missed them. And I feel more a part of the community living here all year," he said.

Harwell, the voice of summer and Hall-of-Fame broadcaster, said he plans to live and work in Michigan as long as he's wanted.

Up-and-down week leaves DiPonio 2-3

Plymouth Salem DiPonio's Mickey Mantle League baseball team experienced more ups and downs last week than if they'd been riding on the Boblo Island roller coaster.

In a five-games-in-seven-days stretch that started last Monday (July 12) and ended Sunday, DiPonio lost at home to Wayne Ford II, 11-10; beat the Wayne team at home Wednesday, 6-5; dropped a 7-4 decision at Allen Park Thursday, outslugged Brighton/Pinckney, 10-8, in a road win Saturday; and on Sunday, lost at Howell, 9-3.

IN THE LOSS to Howell Sunday, Mike McKenney provided the offense for DiPonio with three hits and three runs batted in. Chris Belhart and Tim Robinson also contributed two hits apiece.

Saturday's win over Brighton/Pinckney was sparked by Curt White's 3-for-4 performance at the plate, which included three runs scored and a two-run homer to right-center field. Belhart added three hits and Rob Adams had a pair. McKenney went the distance for the mound victory.

Doug Kirkpatrick knocked in a pair of runs with two hits, and Adams chipped in with two hits in four trips, but it wasn't enough in Thursday's setback at Allen Park.

ON WEDNESDAY, Wayne was victimized by a superb all-around performance by DiPonio's Tim Halmekangus, who was tough when he had to be on the mound in the one-run victory. Halmekangus also was a big contributor at the plate, driving in three runs with two hits. ~ McKenney scored three times and had two hits, Robinson had two hits, including a home run, and White slashed a pair of safeties.

The Salem team scored eight runs in the last three innings of its game against Wayne July 12, but it wasn't enough in the defeat. Robinson slammed a two-run homer to left-center field, added another hit and scored three times. White went 2-for-4, driving in a pair, and Brian Tiller was 2-for-3.

QUALITY CLAIMS PEE WEE TITLE

Quality Construction lived up to its name last weekend, building a Pee Wee Reese B Division championship team with a Little Caesar's Amateur Baseball Federation (LCABF) mark of 17-1 and an overall record of 21-1.

The title qualified Quality for the regional tournament in Sterling Heights Thursday through Sunday, July 28-31. Teams from Michigan and Canada will compete there for a trip to the Pee Wee Reese World Series in Atlanta.

First, however, there's the overall LCABF championship to decide. Quality will play the A Division winner this weekend to determine the overall winner in the 19-team loop.

Quality team members are Peter Bidolli, Kurt Bloomhuff, Dan Boyle, Mike Culver, Tracey Ewald, Bob Files, Andy Gee, Mike Gee, Tom Hill, Chris Johnston, Marc Martinkowski, Jeff Maxwell, Tim Pilut, Ken Plonka and Joe Roney.

Slavin is currently playing for Adray Appliance in the Detroit Adray Baseball League. Last summer. Slavin was one of the leading hitters on a Livonia Adray squad which finished third in the prestigious All-American Amateur Baseball Asso ciation (AAABA) tournament (in Johnstown, Pa.).

A four-year starter, Slavin was highly instrumer tal in Salem's success. He led the Rocks to a Class A semifinal berth before losing to eventual state champion West Bloomfield, 4-1. Salem was 40-13 during the past two seasons.

SLAVIN was also an accomplished football player. He earned All-Observer honors this season as a linebacker and turned down a football scholarship to Eastern Michigan.

He was twice selected All-Area in baseball and was named to the Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association (MHSBCA) Class A All-State souad.

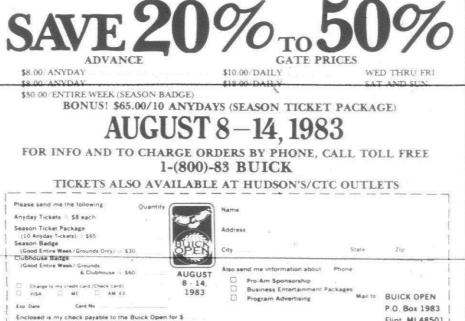

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound catcher is the second player from the Plymouth-Canton area to receive a scholarship from Missouri. He follows ex-Canton infielder Scott Collins, a three-year starter for the Tigers, to Columbia Armand Vigna is getting an early start on the 1983 prep football season. The Livonia Franklin coach has the responsibility of coordinating the East squad offense for the third annual Michigan High School East-West All-Star football game Saturday, Aug. 6, at Spartan Stadium on the Michigan State campus. (Game time is 1:30 p.m.).

"I'm not sure how I was selected," he said. "I guess it's because we had a good season." Franklin went 8-1 last fall, just missing the state playoffs, using a high-powered offense.

"Our philosophy is that we plan to throw the ball as much as we run," Vigna promised. The head coach for the East is Mike Boyd of Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes. He will be in charge of the defense along with his assistant Dick Oliver and John Dean of Detroit Northern. Vigna, meanwhile, is putting together the offense along with one of his assistants, Gerry Cullin, and Rick Bye of Sterling Heights Stevenson. "WE'VE BEEN meeting once a month since April," Vigna said. "We've spent two or three hours session and I've done some work at home.

"You have to design an offensive that you think you can install in eight days. We had to come to an agreement on what we wanted to run - and what terminology to use. And wanted things simple '

Players report July 28. The All-Stars will not wear pads during the first three days of practice.

The East squad has several players from the Observer & Eccentric coverage area. The offense includes Brian Munson, Bloomfield Hills Lahser, running back: Rich Popp, Franklin and Ken Kish, Farmington Harrison, quarterbacks; Dave Houle, Plymouth Salem and Bob Stebbins

Livonia Franklin, tight ends; Bob Martz, Lasher ineman and Dave Blackmer Harrison kicker The East defense features are standouts Jack Valker, Westland John Glenn and Mark Nichols, mingham Brother Rice, linemen, and Jeff Gatt, Redford Catholic Central, back.

"WE'LL RUN the I-Formation and try to confuse the defense by using different formations for the receivers," said Vigna

The Franklin coach added that "rule changes primarily are on the defensive side." They want to have a scoring game," he said. "The defense will have to use a five-man front and they cannot stunt. 'You can use any coverage in the secondary, bu not bump-and-run. The linemen, though, are allowed to slant. It breaks down to a game of technique. It will be who can out-execute the other."

Vigna likes another rule change. "When a team scores and they're nine or more points down - they get the ball back," he contin-

Mary Mohacsi, the former Livonia school teacher who is reigning as the Detroit bowling queen for the seventh time, reached the high point of her bowling career last week in Milwaukee when she qualified for the United States team that will bowl for the world title in October in Venezuela.

Bowling in the qualifying round she posted a 6,536 count for the 20 games and but for a pulled muscle in her back during the final game that dropped her to a 180 she would have finished in third place. Instead she finished sixth, the last qualifying place and regards it as the high point of her career.

The other qualifiers included Cathy Almeida of Massachussetts with 6,795, Janine Ditch of California with 6,606, Yzovne Dowland of California with 6,594, Marion Brisk of New York with 6,544 and Dixie Kick of Illinois with 6.538

On her return Sunday from Milwaukee, Mohacsi bowled a practice game to test her back at Merri-Bowl, then rolled a four-game total of 881 to pace the trio league Monday night at. With that count she voiced the opinior that she was ready to make a real bid for the world team title in Venezuela. ### Replica of '999' racer

A replica of the racing machine known as the "999," designed and built by Henry Ford in 1902, will be on display Friday through Friday, July 29, at Westland Center's Penney Court. Barney Oldfield won his first race on the Yoke-steered "999" and went on to lower the world's one-mile record with it on five different occasions. The "999" had one of the largest four-cylinder engines ever put into an automobile. It set a world's record of 92 miles per hour on ice on Lake St. Clair the winter of 1902.

Ouintet travels abroad

The Contemporary Jazz Quintet departed Detroit last week via Northwest Airlines from Metro Airport, to perform at two prestigious European jazz festivals.

The ensemble, recognized by jazz critics as a major force in Detroit's modern jazz legacy, is reunited after an eight-year hiatus and is representng the city and the Montreux Detroit Kool Jazz Festival at the Pori International Jazz Festival in Finland and the Montreux International Jazz Festival n Switzerland.

The ensemble includes leader and pianist Kenn Cox, drummer Danny Spencer, trumpeter Charles Moore, sax player Leon Henderson and bassist Bob Jurst. All but Hurst were part of the original Contemporary Jazz Quintet, which gained national and international recognition in the '70s with its recordings on the Bluenote label.

CJQ gave three performances in Pori last week. The group is traveling to Switzerland for an appearance today at the Casino in Montreux on the same bill with James Blood Ulmer.

The ensemble was honored with a send-off testimonial resolution from Detroit's Common Council last week and Cox responded with a promise to carry "a real sense of Detroit's jazz history and the 'Spirit of Detroit'" to the international audiences in Pori and Montreux

what's at the movies

ATOR (PG). Epic adventure of myth, legend and magic starring Miles O'Keefe in the title role, with Sabrina Siani and Ritza Brown.

- CLASS (R). Romantic comedy about a young man who has an affair with an older woman who turns out to be his best friend's mother. Jacqueline Bisset, Cliff Robertson and Rob Lowe star.
- COUP DE TORCHON (A CLEAN SLATE). Academy-Award nominee for best foreign-language film. Bertrand Tavernier directed comedy starring Philippe Noiret and Isabell Huppert.
- FLASHDANCE (R). A determined young woman works as a welder by day and a dancer by night. Movie doesn't make too much sense but the dancing makes a terrific impact.
- OCTOPUSSY (PG). Roger Moore is again the dapper Agent 007 as he goes to India to crack an international jewel-smuggling oper-ation in this 13th James Bond adventure. Also with Maud Adams.
- PORKY'S THE NEXT DAY (R). Raunchy gang members from Angel Beach High School tangle with school administrators, corrupt officials and their own active libidos.
- PSYCHO II (R). After 22 years in a mental hospital, Norman Bates (Anthony Perkins) returns to re-open the Bates Motel. Vera Miles, of the original cast, also returns in this sequel to Hitchcock's chiller
- RETURN OF THE JEDI (PG). Third chapter in the middle section of George Lucas' "Star Wars" trilogy. With Luke Skywalker, Hans Solo, Princess Leia and other characters from the previous films as the Rebel Alliance battles Darth Vader and the forces of the Empire.
- SNOW WHITE (G). Disney's classic animated feature about a princess, a magic mirror, seven dwarfs, a witch and a prince. The 1938 film still ranks as one of the best, perhaps the best, animated features ever made. Every child deserves to see this and adults should treat themselves to a repeat viewing based on a photograph of the artist Marcel Duchamp. The music, which is colorfully descriptive in nature, sounds very much like film music. While it does not match, in my opinion, the depth of the more established classical masters, it does have some pleasing effects.

One noteworthy phenomenon was the fact that a passing airplane, which usually proves to be quite disruptive, seemed to blend perfectly with the music in this instance.

NEXT ITEM on the program was the violin concerto No. 3 by Saint-Saens. Saint-Saens, of course, had his respectable share of his own exotic adventures, which included trips to Africa and the Orient, in addition to visits to more conventional countries, like our OWD.

His third violin concerto, while not ranked as high as the more popular Brahms concerto (to be performed this week), is nevertheless a charming and melodious composition, and I find it a refreshing diversion from the steady

Local artists delight in

Joel Durand of Livonia has been painting professionally for 18 years now, 10 years longer than Plymouth resident John Krieger. But both local artists feel "lucky" and "excited" about their participation in this year's four-day Ann Arbor Art Fair, Wednesday-Saturday, July 20-23.

"I've been rather lucky to be accepted this year," said Durand, who has a gallery in Southfield and a studio in his home. "It's a highly juried show and very difficult to get into the show. It's very popular." "It's one of the better fairs in the country," Krieger added. "It's excit-

Some 400,000 people are expected to attend what is really three distinct art fairs - the Ann Arbor Art Fair the State Street Art Fair and the Summer Arts Festival

The Ann Arbor Art Fair is the oldest and the "original juried fair." The State Street Art Fair is a small, juried event of 150 artists sponsored by the State Street Area Association.

THE SUMMER Arts Festival. sponsored by the University of Michigan Artists and Craftsmen Guild, displays the work of 600 artists with all levels of experience.

Together, they make one of the biggest events of the year for both artists and visitors. Thousands of items in all media will be displayed Visitors this year may see Durand's acrylic paintings, which he describes as "contemporary." He attended the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit. "I had some friends that were into it," Durand said, explaining how he became interested in art.

Since Durand began painting in 1965, he has had one-man shows in Miami and Milwaukee and gathered a number of awards. His paintings are in more than 2,000 private and institutional collections.

be on display in Ann Arbor. Krieger got into painting professionally eight years ago, after he worked as a car designer for the Ford Motor Company "I paint some automobiles now," he said. 'I've been painting a few bridge structures that have been successful nationally."

Krieger received a degree with honors from the Center for Creative Studies School of Art and Design. He has participated in national exhibitions and art shows and received awards.

In addition at the fair, demonstrations of art techniques will be given, and visitors will be offered continuous entertainment.

Musical groups, theatrical groups dance ensembles, even magic and tumbling acts will perform from opening to closing each day on the state on East University Avenue under the Graceful Arch, a fabric structure first introduced at the 1977 fair. All performances are open to the public free.

FAIR HOURS are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Fair visitors are encouraged park in outlying shopping centers and other areas and take the shuttle buses to the fair.

Visitors entering Ann Arbor on the major expressways will see signs on the exit ramps directing them to Briarwood Mall and Pioneer High School where they will be able to park free. Two shuttle busses will serve these parking areas and take visitors to the two major fair locations.

There will be an information booth set up at Briarwood Mall's parking lot - on the southeast corner, just off the Sears loading dock.

There will be a 60-cent fee for the shuttle service each way.

Failures are forgotten with a few successes

and didn't get an A.

The point is, however, that if you experiment, you should expect a few successes and many, many failures. But the spontaneity and excitement of those few successes dulls the memory of those many, many failures.

So now that you have done some pen and ink drawings, how about something new? Pen and ink on colored paper or colored mat board is very nice, especially if you color in your drawings with colored pencils. The only colored pencils that I recommend for this is Berol Prisimacolor or Faber Castell Spectracolor. I like their rich opaque color and they go on dark colors well, especially on black mat board.

Colored mat board is my favorite, but if your drawing. So if you have a relatively 'tight" pen and ink drawing with a "loose water color washed over it you will probably have a very nice picture.

This type of picture in a show or on the wall brings out the psychoanalytical part of 'art critics" who would probably say, "the pen and ink is so very tight and structured that I believe it speaks of his need for order and structure in life. The looseness and fluidiy of the colors exemplfy his desire to be free and to cross over established boundries. If they analyzed my artwork like that, I probably would say something intelligent like. "er. . nuh . . . yeah, that's exactly what I meant.'

scratchboard that is coated black and the scratchpoint produces a white line on a solid black background. I will cover this technique in more detail later.

Pen and ink on glass is always a treat. This tecnhique offers the "cleaness" of pen and ink and the versatility of scratch board. Plus the transparency of glass is unique, to add a colored board for the background gives it a beautiful finished touch. The best ink for adhering to glass is Higgens Black Magic. When you use a scratchpoint this ink will not blister or "pop" off the glass. The best way to frame ink on glass is to reverse it. This protects the ink from damage. Sometimes this is a problem, especially if there is lettering in your drawing, because you have to letter reversed. Other times your drawing just doesn't look good reversed. If you can't reverse it, then just add another piece of glass over the top of your original.

When I was in college I was introduced to many media basic to the arts. But what really fascinated me was the mixing of media. Taking the established ways of drawing and painting and changing them a bit. Usually my instructors enjoyed the variety, or the fact that I was experimenting on my own.

Once, in a charcoal drawing class, I airbrushed in black ink, one of our assignments. The teacher loved it, and gave me an A. On the other hand I tried experiment in a painting class and my teacher didn't like it at all.

TRY A PEN and ink drawing on illustration board (hot press is smooth and cold press is rough) or you could also try water color paper. Erase your pencil lines, then wash in rich colors in water color. Mix your colors a little bright because when they dry they "flatten out" or "dull down."

Also be very loose with your color. By that I mean let the colors flow together and don't be too concerned with staying in the lines of

Ex-Livonia dentist has own photo show

A one-man photography exhibit by George Slagon, who practiced dentistry in Livonia for 27 years, continues through the end of the month at the Henry Ford Hospital West Bloomfield Center on Maple.

The show features 20 color and black-and-white landscapes by the 59-year-old photographer. Many of the pictures reflect Slagon's interest in the photography of Ansel Adams.

"I'm into the Ansel Adams bit, the dreamy stuff, the pictures you can spend half an hour with," said Slagon, who is now retired and living in Orchard Lake.

His landscapes vary in locale from the West to Florida, "to Pontiac Trail and the Presbyterian Church down the street," Slagon said.

Slagon, a University of Michigan graduate, started in slide photography 30 years ago. But for the last five or six years he has photographed landscapes and still lifes with a 4-by-5 Linhoff camera, utilizing the zone photography approach popularized by Adams. The oversized negatives from the 4-by-5 format, Slagon said, enhance the quality of the final print. Slagon develops, mounts and frames all his black-and-white work.

Slagon, who is hegotiating with area galleries for future exhibitions of his work, lives with wife Helene in their home on Cass Lake

Former Livonia dentist George Slagon took this pho tograph near Pontiac Trail with a 4-by-5 Linhoff camera, using Royal Pan sheet film. The print has been archival treated and Seliman toner applied.

Don't shudder. this contest is a real snap

Area amateur photographers are busy shooting color slides and submitting entries in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers' color photo contest.

Don't miss out on the action.

The theme of the contest is "Nature in the Suburbs." The idea is to capture the color of nature through your lens.

All you need to enter is a camera, color slide film and a "nature" subject that you believe properly typifies our theme. The photo may be taken in your own backyard, in a field, at a park or any place where you find nature.

Other rules include:

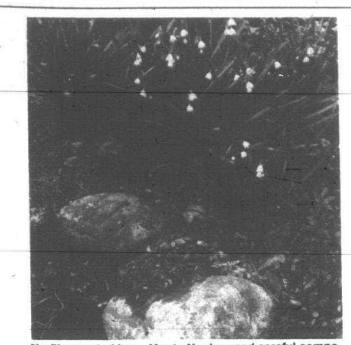

· Contestants must be amateur photographers. Observer & Eccentric employees and their immediate families are not eligible

• Deadline for entry is Friday, July 29 Color slides must have been taken after July 29, 1982 and before July 29, 1983. Each contestant may enter one or two color slides.

No film wasted here. Monte Nagler used careful composition and exposure to capture snowbells at Cranbrook.

Be prudent with film In an unpredictable economy, we're all searching for bargain prices on cameras, lenses and other photo-

Next time, request that only a proof sheet be made when your film is processed. Then select just the ones that are your favorites and have enlarge nents made from these.

• Use the slowest speed film that ighting conditions will allow. In other words, don't always use fast film. Fast film not only costs more, but colors are not as vivid and grain is more pronounced.

 Consider using slide film as your color alternative. The cost of process-ing a roll of slide film is considerably won't use it all up before it expires, less than that of a roll of color negative film.

· Even consider doing some work in black and white. Black and white film and processing is much less expensive than color. Black and white you are at the correct synchronization can enhance the aesthetics of many ubjects and can possibly motivate into doing your own darkroon
