NEED A HAIRCUT? If so, you may want to join in the cut-a-thon Sunday, August 28 at Hair Safari in Canton, across from Meijer's Thrifty Acres, 45152 Ford. Proceeds donated by those getting their hair cut between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. that day will be donated to muscular dystrophy research. For more information, call 459-0109.

ANDY PANDA took a bow at last week's Canton Township Board meeting. The hotel manager received the July award for landscaping excellence at the Knight's Inn which "helps maintain and accentuate the quality of life offered in our community." The inn is on Ford Road near Haggerty off I-275.

MEL PAULUN, Canton's fire chief, was caught by surprise at the same meeting when he was honored for 20 years of "outstanding and dedicated service, and selfless devotion to duty." Paulun, who was instrumental in his department's conversion from a volunteer to a full-time force, said he was flattered, and hopes "that the next 20 years are just as much fun."

EVER WONDER what planet rules you? A Michigan Astrological Association representative will visit the Canton Public Library meeting room at 7 p.m. August 25 to discuss sun signs, love signs and astrological wisdom. Find out what your sign is, what planet governs you and how you relate to others, for free. If you're 12 years old or older, you may register today in person or by phone. For more information, call 397-0999.

THE CANTON CHAMBER of Commerce annual golf outing begins with a shotgun start at 10:30 a.m. September 7. Golfers who sign up before Saturday will be charged $35. Thereafter, the price — which includes 18 holes of golf, cart, dinner, refreshments and prizes — will be $42.50. For more information or to sign up, call Robert Malek at 421-8200, Ext. 216 or the chamber office at 453-4040. P.S. For the first time, business will be able to sponsor golf holes during the outing.

CANTONITES Terrance Hallett and Julie Shipman have been elected to the Board of Directors of the Detroit Chapter of the National Association of Accountants. Hallett is employed by Detroit Edison and Shipman by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

SENIOR CITIZENS can get down and party with the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, August 11, at the Plymouth Elks Lodge. About 250 seniors are expected to enjoy a cash bar and chuckwagon dinner, bingo (with prizes winners) dancing and live entertainment. For more information, call 459-0022.

CANTON Township Trustee Steve Larson was designated by the township board to serve as its representative on the Plymouth-Canton community's newly established cable-TV consortium. The group will work with Omnicom and study programming and operating policies.

Sect rift denied in murder's wake

By Ariene Funke
staff writer

An Islamic sect will "pick up the pieces" following last week's murder of one of its leaders, a Canton physician.

Muzaffar Ahmed, 36, was gunned down last Monday in his home on Courtland. Ahmed, an anesthesiologist at Wayne County General Hospital, was secretary of the Ahmadiyya Movement, an Islamic sect with about 100 adherents in the Detroit area.

Ahmed's murder was linked to the unsuccessful firebombing of another sect officer's home in Clinton Township and the torching of the sect's mosque-community center in Detroit.

Two men died of smoke inhalation when they were apparently trapped after setting fire to the mosque. Police believe the three events, which occurred last Monday, stem from an Islamic feud or power struggle.

BUT NASIR MALIK of Canton disputes reports of a battle for power. Malik, a 33-year-old engineer, is president of the local group, or "community."

"There is no rift within the community," said Malik, interviewed late last week in his home on Ryegate.

"Nobody wants to get power," he added. "Of course, we are going to pick up the pieces."

Malik was composed as he explained his sect's beliefs and the attacks on its members. His house was full of family members, children and sect members from Ohio and Illinois.

Many Ahmadiyya members came for a convention last weekend at Oakland University, but permission to use

'There is no rift within the community. Nobody wants to get power. Of course, we are going to pick up the pieces.'

the facility was rescinded because of security fears.

THE FEDERAL Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is checking the possibility that the recent events were sparked by feuds between rival sects. The FBI also is probing whether Middle Eastern religious or terrorist grounds are giving financial aid for such a fight.

"We are peace-loving," Malik countered. "War needs two parties. We are not a party (to war). We have our own beliefs."

There are around 72 Islamic sects in the world, Malik said. The Ahmadiyya Movement, headquartered in Pakistan, has several million members worldwide, but only 25 families locally.

Many Detroit-area members are highly educated doctors and engineers of Pakistani heritage. Malik came from Pakistan in the mid-1970s and bought his Ryegate home about two years ago, family members said.

The slain Ahmed, also from Pakistan, bought his home on Courtland in mid-June.

Sectarian violence — common elsewhere — is "new to the United States," said Malik, who believes members are being persecuted for their beliefs.

"And we believe it is the last time it will happen," Malik added. He blamed the attacks on "ignorance."

"Religious-minded people are emotional and very strong about their faith," Malik said. "There might be somebody who might have a fight. We believe religion teaches love and peace."

AS EXPLAINED by Malik and other members, the Ahmadiyya

Movement places highest faith in the teaching of the prophet Mohammed and the Koran, Islam's holy book. All members must live according to the faith, preach, study and "spread the word," they say.

Trio charged in botched armed robbery

A Wayne County Circuit Court jury last week found Dolores Federico innocent of murder, but guilty of assault with intent to commit armed robbery.

Federico, a 26-year-old admitted drug dealer from Canton, was convicted of assault in connection with the shooting death last October of a 27-year-old Ann Arbor man during a botched armed robbery.

Canton police charged that Federico, formerly of Plymouth, formulated the robbery plan with Ricki Sparks, 31, and George McCue, 25, both of Canton. The intended robbery victim, Jess Brown, died of a gunshot wound to the head.

Federico testified she met with the men to sell them drugs but became frightened that they would rob her. She said she grabbed McCue's gun and that during a scuffle with McCue and Sparks, the gun went off, killing Brown.

The jury also convicted Federico of possessing a firearm while committing a felony. She was acquitted of second-degree murder and felony murder charges.

Felony murder is defined as a killing which occurs during a felonious act.

THE VERDICT came Thursday, after a week-long trial before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Thomas Foley. The jury deliberated almost two full days.

Sentencing is scheduled for Aug. 23. Federico could receive up to life imprisonment on the assault charge. The firearms charge carries a minimum two-year imprisonment.

Judge Charles Kaufman Friday sentenced McCue to 4½-15 years in prison on a similar assault with intent to rob charge, police reported.

Sparks is to be sentenced Monday. Both men pleaded guilty to lower assault charges, in exchange for testifying against Federico.

ACCORDING to other testimony by McCue and Sparks, the following took place:

McCue and Sparks owed money to Federico. The three decided to rob Brown — described as a long-time friend of McCue's — and use the money to pay off the debt.

Arrangements were made to meet Brown on Lotz Road, where Brown often purchased marijuana. Federico was to flag Brown down on the pretext of car trouble, while McCue and Sparks hid nearby.

After Brown was shot, McCue, Sparks and Federico fled.

Police arrested McCue and Sparks within hours, but were unable to locate Federico. The police department conducted an intensive search for her and she finally surrendered in early December.

Supersewer

Grand plan washing away

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Plans to build the $296-million Supersewer system could be all over except for the burial.

Recently 10 of the 14 Supersewer communities voted to ask the Wayne County Department of Public Works to amend its grant application to provide for a scaled down version of Supersewer, which excludes the northwestern suburbs.

The so-called "split system" proposes an expansion of sewer lines to the Detroit treatment plant to handle sewage increases from the northwestern suburbs.

The vote to request the split system came during a meeting of the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System (Supersewer) Rate Review Committee.

Included in the four communities which voted no, or abstained from voting, were Plymouth and Canton Townships. The split system drew the support of the southern tier of western Wayne County — communities which are included in the scaled-down Supersewer plan.

SUPERSEWER'S DEMISE began recently when the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) voiced objections to the size of the system and the possible effects it could have on Detroit's treatment plant.

The northern suburbs are tied into the Detroit sewage system and Detroit officials argue that the current contracts to treat the sewage are exclusive.

In what some are calling a political bait-out, the DNR has supported the split and said it will guarantee grants to construct additional sewage lines from the northern area to the Detroit plant.

"At the end it all became very political and apparently somebody in Lansing owed Detroit a favor," said State Representative Gerald Law (R-Plymouth Township).

'Now they're telling me that it is $10 million cheaper to go to Detroit. I didn't have to spend $600,000 to find out what the DNR just told me.'

"I'm very interested in finding out how the northern communities stand on Supersewer," Law said last week.

He plans to look into the issue this week to determine if Supersewer is actually "dead," and how the northern communities are supposed to handle increased sewage in the future.

Law plans to talk with DNR officials about financing sewer lines to Detroit.

"I HAVE BEEN verbally assured that the DNR has applied for, and received a grant for, up to $500,000 to evaluate and design parallel interceptors (sewer lines) to Detroit," said Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen.

That verbal assurance came from Richard Hinshon, acting chief of the DNR's community assistance division, Breen said. Hinshon was unavailable for comment Friday.

The $500,000 grant represents 5 percent of the anticipated cost for construction of the Detroit sewage lines.

"I was told a worst-possible-case cost study was done to determine the construction costs. They said the worst case was $160 million. I tried to get copies of their study, but couldn't get them," Breen said.

However, excluding the northern communities from Supersewer won't be that easy, according to Breen and

Motorist gets jail sentence

A Westland man will spend up to two years in prison for violating probation on a negligent homicide charge.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman last week sentenced William Glenn Matney, 26, to prison for violating a stipulation that Matney drive only to and from work.

Matney had been free on five years' probation after recently being convicted of the homicide charge in an alcohol related accident which killed 34-year-old Madonna Tharp of Canton last December.

Last July 10, only 34 days after being placed on probation, Matney was arrested in Canton for drunk driving and driving on a suspended license.

Matney now is in Wayne County Jail awaiting his Aug. 22 trial before 35th District Court Judge James Garber on the latest drunk-driving charge.

This was Matney's fourth alcohol-related violation, and his driver's license could be permanently revoked because of the previous violations, according to Garber.

Mother injured in I-275 accident

A 38-year-old Belleville driver was listed in critical condition in Wayne County General Hospital Friday, following a head-on crash on I-275 freeway.

Police said Joan Logan's car, traveling southbound near Cherry Hill, crossed the median and struck a northbound vehicle. She suffered head injuries and internal bleeding, police said. The mishap occurred about 9:45 p.m.

Thursday, Police are investigating the cause of the crash.

The driver of the northbound vehicle, 33-year-old Gary Russo of Southfield, was treated for a knee injury at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, said Canton police Lt. Dennis Joker.

Neither driver was wearing a seat belt. Russo's wife and two toddler children were not injured, Joker said. The tots were wearing restraints.

Host families are needed

Host families still are needed for foreign exchange students coming to the Plymouth-Canton area.

In less than two months, foreign exchange students will begin landing in the U.S. to spend a year with American families.

For at least four students expecting to spend the year in the Plymouth-Canton-Northville area, uncertainty clouds their visit because host families for them have not yet been found.

Youth for Understanding is appealing to local families with an openness to new ideas to consider inviting one of the students into their lives and homes for the year during this difficult family-finding climate, says Henrietta McDonald of Canton, area representative for Youth for Understanding.

FAMILIES WITH or without children may be eligible to host and are encouraged to apply. Host families are volunteers who provide room and board for the student and offer the same guidance and love they give their own children.

The four European boys Youth For Understanding is sponsoring, who are expected to arrive in August, are:

Baehr Ulrich of Munich, Germany, enjoys reading, drawing, macrophotography, cross-country skiing and swimming.

Hamalaunen Petri of Helsinki, Finland, hopes to study law, hobbies include fishing, racquetball, music and reading.

Schwencke Marcel of the Netherlands has traveled throughout Europe and enjoys music, particularly jazz and soul, and the beach.

Hanssens Henning of Oslo, Norway, is interested in pursuing a career in data processing and is active in sports.

Families interested in hosting one of the four boys should call McDonald at 981-2680.

Michigan Lt. Gov. Martha Griffiths (left) paid her first visit ever to Wayne County 4-H Fair Thursday. She toured exhibits and chatted with the festival-goers. Concessionaire Priscilla Nerswick (center) and her son complained they cannot do business at Michigan county fairs.

First crack at prime spots goes to outstate concessionaires who use non-Michigan products, they say. Griffiths suggested the Belleville residents contact their state representative.

Dems' grand lady visits county fair

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Time out was called during the goat milking contest, watermelon eating competition and livestock auction Thursday afternoon when Michigan Lt. Gov. Martha Griffiths paid a special visit to the 37th annual Wayne County 4-H Fair in Belleville.

At the invitation of state Rep. Edward Mahalak, D-Romulus, — a fixture at the fair — the 71-year-old Griffiths presented an award, toured exhibits and chatted with 4-H organizers and participants during her hour-long stay. An entourage of police, press people, friends, and admirers accompanied her through the crowded cattle barn, swine exhibit area, old engine building, goat and small animal buildings.

She had a chance to meet 4-H queen April Polzin of Canton, and Sandy Dear, rabbit superintendent of Plymouth's Lucky Bunnies organization. Griffiths inspected some of the county's finest livestock specimens and cuddled a 12-pound French Lop rabbit.

Elected to office as Gov. James Blanchard's running mate in November, Griffiths is in the twilight of a political career that took off in 1948 when voters sent her to Lansing as a state representative. From 1954-1974, she served as congresswoman in the old 17th district in northwest Detroit. Chief sponsor of the equal rights amendment, Griffiths was talked about as a prime candidate for the U.S. Supreme Court during the Nixon years.

THE PERSONABLE politician was impressed with the diversity of the 4-H county fair. "I loved seeing all the goats, rabbits, cattle, crops, displays and handiwork of the women in the community. I do. Like fairs that are just one big commercial outfit," said Griffiths, who with her husband Hicks lives on a large farm in Romeo.

The afternoon revived a few memories for Griffiths.

"My mother used to win first prize at 4-H fairs for her cakes, salad dressing and bread," she said. Upon viewing a family of geese taking an afternoon dip, Griffiths was reminded of her spouse.

"He's crazy about geese — so that rules out having poodles on the farm."

A NATIONAL club, 4-H offers young people the chance to learn about and compete in 150 projects areas ranging from food and animal care to gardening, rocketry, home repair and bicycles. Members pledge their "head to clearer thinking, heart to greater loyalty, hands to larger service and health to better living."

It's one of the best clubs for young people because it provides an outlet for their boundless energy, Griffiths said. They get the chance to learn about animals and crops and work on yearlong projects, she said.

Looking at agriculture from a broader perspective, Griffiths said the biggest challenge facing Michigan farmers "is to get everyone to eat more."

"We produce more food than we can possibly eat," she said.

Potentially, farmers can play a major role in improving Michigan's economic climate, she added. If expanded, the food processing industry has every chance of becoming a vital part of our economy.

"We grow 80 percent of the country's beans, yet we don't have even a single processing plant," Griffiths said. "Michigan Secretary of Commerce Ralph Gerson is working hard to find markets for our crops and to increase the amount of in-state food processing. I think he'll prevail in his efforts."

Perhaps no one enjoyed Griffiths' visit more than Canton's Pam Polzin won first place for stall decorations. Polzin competed as a member of the Canton Ridge Riders.

Westland's Frank Stachowski, 8, has become good pals with his goats.

Board approves millage ceiling

For Canton taxpayers, the news was good and bad at Tuesday's Township Board meeting.

No increases are projected for the general fund and fire millages. However a jump from 3.4 to 4.57 mills is proposed for the police fund.

The general fund millage will remain at 2.24 and the fire fund at 3.06.

The board acted only to establish ceilings for the millages. Board members said they hope that as the budget is worked out reductions can be made.

For the owners of a $30,000 home in Canton, the police millage hike means about a $38 increase in taxes. Necessitating the raise are:

- a 6 percent wage increase;
- a $36,000 expenditure for dispatchers;
- cost of building the proposed police facility; and
- salary for a staff services supervisor ($29,000).

CANTON FINANCE Director Michael Gorman said that despite the increase, Cantonites will pay less taxes than in previous years because of the recent reassessment of residential property which lowered property values.

The township is budgeting more state revenue into the general fund than in the past "because we have to," said Supervisor James Poole. Township revenue will be down due to the property reassessment and a 35th District Court debt of between $75,000 and $100,000, he added.

A surplus is projected in the fire fund, Gorman said.

The finance director recommended that next year the budget process begin in April rather than in July so that board members can study budget information before establishing ceilings for millages. Copies of the proposed 1984 budget won't be delivered to them until September 1.

Mike Lustig

Mike Lustig, 13, of Canton, has been selected as the Canton Observer's Carrier of the Month.

Lustig has delivered the paper to residents on Bannockburn, Hanford and Runnymede streets in Carriage Hills subdivision since October, 1981.

A B student at Pioneer, Lustig is the son of Ronald and Noel and the brother of Kathy, 15. His favorite subjects include math, science and special reading and he enjoys horseback riding and swimming.

Lustig is a member of the Hickory Grove Riding School. He has earned six ribbons for his work with horses and collected Red Cross swimming certificates.

Lustig plans to attend college and pursue a career in law enforcement.

Murder theory denied

Police said Ahmed was planning to run for president of the local group. According to Malik, the "community" elects its president, secretary and treasurer. Elections must be approved by the sect's U.S. headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Office-holders have no power, because the work is unpaid and voluntary, Malik said.

Police have named Joseph Cain, 27, of Akron as the man who shot and killed Dr. Ahmed. Cain and Calvin Jones, 30, of Detroit died in the fire at the Ahmadiyya center which they allegedly set.

Investigators have linked Cain to another Islamic sect, with centers in Akron and Detroit.

Cain had visited Dr. Ahmed in his home at least once before the night of the murder, police said. Reportedly, the two had dined and discussed religion.

Muhammad Afzal Mizra, 31, was in the Ahmed house when the shooting took place. Mizra of Chicago was visiting for the convention.

The shooting occurred moments after a man, later identified as Cain, came to talk with Dr. Ahmed.

"He (Cain) left his cap there a few days earlier," Mizra said. "He didn't talk about religion. The person who came in — I saw a kind of coolness and arrogance."

"It just took a few seconds," Mizra added. "I heard four shots continuously. I was so upset, so scared."

Mizra praised Ahmed as a man who "made sacrifices for the community and the movement. He had no enemies. He was so humble."

Sewer plans dashed

Canton Supervisor James Poole.

Those two communities want the Supersewer engineering and planning study money refunded — $600,000 for Canton and $275,000 for Plymouth Township.

"They got over $600,000 of our money into the planning. If they think I'm going to build an outhouse for them, they're wrong," Poole said.

He said he believes the DNR has completely changed its tune in regards to Supersewer. Both Plymouth and Canton townships have DNR letters on file which support Supersewer and threaten to cut off development in the communities if they don't participate in the project.

"NOW THEY'RE telling me that it is $10 million cheaper to go to Detroit. I didn't have to spend $600,000 to find out what the DNR just told me," Poole said.

"I will try to get the $600,000 back. If I didn't try I wouldn't be doing my job — even if it means that none of these southern communities get a sewer," he said.

er," he said.

"I said give me my money back or give me a credit with the Detroit system so I don't have to pay another $600,000 for engineering studies with them."

Likewise, Breen said his community would expect reimbursement for the engineering studies.

"I told them I didn't plan to put any more money into planning another system," Breen said. "We still feel they wasted a lot of money along the way."

The $500,000 grant the DNR has promised Breen will be used to explore the construction of new sewage lines to Detroit for the northern Supersewer area.

"One would presume that with all the money that's been eaten up, and with all the reports that have been made, $500,000 should produce something," he said.

Breen will ask the Plymouth Township board Tuesday night for authorization to proceed with the grant application. Poole said he will announce his plans to recoup the engineering to the Canton Township Board.

Sneaker contest a smelly success

Staffers of the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department smelled success from the beginning, and the township's 5th Annual Rotten Sneaker contest met the stinkiest of expectations.

Despite the rain that greeted participants at the New Towne Plaza Shopping Center July 30, all ages and foot sizes were represented before judges Gene Smith, Connie Flynn and Cheryl Eberwein.

Brian Hendrickson stole top honors with the worst pair of sneakers in Canton. Defending champion Ted Barker, Rob Truskowski, and Jeff Bochy presented the judging panel with nosefuls of odoriferous enough to receive a can of foot powder. A trophy and gift certificate for a new pair of tennis shoes went to the winners.

The recreation department encourages prospective competitors to "save your sneakers for another year and you may end up with a new pair."

TAKING THE SIZZLE OUT OF SUMMER

Love hot, fresh coffee? For a delicious summertime change of pace, try it on ice! That same full-bodied, rich flavor can be yours, whether you prepare it plain and simple or enjoy the special variations offered here. Coffee on ice is just right for perking up sweltering summer spirits and because it is so quick and easy to make, you can have your coffee...and activities, too!

GETTING DOWN TO BASICS

Cold, refreshing coffee on ice is one of summer's sublime pleasures. To make it rich and robust from ground coffee, brew the coffee double strength to compensate for the melting of ice. That means using two tablespoons of your favorite brand coffee — and $\frac{3}{4}$ measuring cup (6 fl. oz.) of fresh, cold water for each serving. Simply pour the hot coffee into tall, ice-filled glasses and add cream and sugar, if you like. Waist watchers take note: "basic black" coffee on ice is also low in calories!

For delicious instant coffee on ice, use slightly more coffee than you would for hot coffee. Simply place one rounded teaspoon of instant coffee in the bottom of a tall glass. Add a small amount from one cup of cold water, and dissolve the instant coffee. Then gradually add the remaining water, stirring well. Add ice and cream and sugar, if you prefer. It couldn't be simpler...or more refreshing.

MAKE IT SPECIAL FOR ANY OCCASION

These delicious variations build on the basic brewed coffee on ice recipe. Friends and family, alike, will relish this exotic array of beverages which take minutes to prepare. Since each begins with hot, fresh coffee brewed double strength, you can serve a variety of drinks to satisfy individual preferences. Ice cream, chocolate, liqueurs and spices all complement coffee's rich, hearty flavor and make these beverages a refreshing alternative to heavy desserts. If you want to serve a little something along with the beverages, how about a platter of fresh, seasonal fruit? Use your creativity and present a colorful arrangement of cut-up melon, pineapple and grapes.

MEXICAN COFFEE FLOAT

- 2 cups double strength brewed decaffeinated coffee
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups cold milk
- Vanilla or chocolate ice cream

Combine coffee, sugar and vanilla. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Add milk. Chill, if necessary. Pour into tall glasses. Top with a scoop of ice cream. Garnish with maraschino cherry and mint leaf, if desired. Makes about 4 cups or 4 servings.

ICED COFFEE ISLANDER

- 3 cups double strength brewed decaffeinated coffee
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup coffee liqueur
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup light rum
- Ice cubes

Combine coffee, coffee liqueur and rum; pour at once over ice cubes in glass. Garnish with pineapple wedge and strawberry, if desired. Makes about 4 cups or 4 to 5 servings.

ICED BRAZILIAN CHOCOLATE

- 2 cups double strength brewed Yuban or Sanka brand decaffeinated coffee
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chocolate syrup
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- Dash of nutmeg
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups cold milk
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons vanilla
- Ice cubes

Combine coffee, chocolate syrup, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir with wire whisk until blended. Gradually stir in milk. Add vanilla. Pour over ice cubes and serve. Garnish with prepared whipped topping and chocolate shavings, if desired. Makes about 4 cups or 4 servings.

ICED SPICED COFFEE

(not photographed)

- 3 cups double strength brewed decaffeinated coffee
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cinnamon
- $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon ground cloves
- $\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon allspice
- Ice cubes

Combine coffee, sugar and spices. Stir until sugar is dissolved and spices blended. Pour over ice and serve. Makes 3 cups or 4 servings.

ICED ALMOND COFFEE

(not photographed)

- 3 cups double strength brewed decaffeinated coffee
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup almond liqueur
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup creme de cacao liqueur
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup light cream or half and half
- Ice cubes

Combine coffee and liqueurs. Stir in cream and pour over ice. Makes 4- $\frac{1}{4}$ cups or 4 to 5 servings.

Update your leftover roast beef by putting it in chic French croissants

The Americanization of the French croissant has been one of this year's most fun and delicious food trends. Since Americans have adopted this flaky French delicacy, it's been turning up in a variety of interesting places, even at picnics.

To sample what a delicious new dimension croissants can give to a picnic menu, try French Picnic Beef Sandwiches. They're simple yet impressive, easy-to-make yet elegant.

This slices of cooked roast beef are sandwiched between split croissants which can be bought frozen or from your favorite bakery. Boston or bibb lettuce leaves offer crisp texture contrast while whipped cream cheese accented with horseradish makes a most flavorful spread. If traveling a distance to the picnic site, for safety sake, you'll need to wrap the sandwiches well and pack them in a cooler with ice to keep them chilled.

While these sandwiches may look and taste expensive, they won't upset the budget when made with leftover roast beef. Cost-conscious cooks know that making good use of leftovers is an excellent way to stretch the food dollar. Leftover beef from a roast is especially valuable for it is so flavorful and can be served in so many first-class ways. Or if you prefer, buy thinly sliced roast beef at your favorite delicatessen.

A variety of beef roasts, including rib, rib eye, top round, tip round and chuck eye, are excellent sources for roast meals. For leftover beef of the highest quality, cook the beef on a rack in an open roasting pan in a slow oven to the degree of doneness desired as indicated on a roast meat thermometer. Remember when cooking ahead for the croissant sandwiches that the chilled beef will be more tender and flavorful if cooked just to rare or medium.

To preserve the quality of the cooked beef, proper storage is a must. The beef should be securely wrapped and promptly refrigerated or frozen. The beef will store better if left in large pieces and not sliced until you're ready to make the sandwiches. Cooked beef stored in the refrigerator should be used within four to five days while frozen beef can be stored for up to three to four months.

FRENCH PICNIC BEEF SANDWICHES
1 pound thinly sliced cooked beef
1 container (4 ounces) whipped cream cheese
1 tbsp prepared horseradish
8 Boston or bibb lettuce leaves
4 large croissants, split lengthwise

Thoroughly combine whipped cream cheese and horseradish. To assemble sandwiches, spread cut side of each croissant with an equal amount of the cream cheese mixture. Place two lettuce leaves on bottom half of each croissant. Arrange an equal portion of sliced beef over lettuce. Close sandwich with croissant top. Yield: 4 sandwiches.

A creamy pasta salad with sliced carrots and chopped broccoli will go well with the beef croissants as will an array of crisp relishes. For a continental dessert, pass a tray of fresh fruits and cheese.

For a special picnic, tuck slices of roast beef between split croissants spread with cream cheese.

Taste of RenCen offers food and fun

A tasty sampling of summer foods, from ham and cheese croissants to almond mousse, will be featured at "Taste of Renaissance." The food bazaar, scheduled from 4:30-8:30 p.m. Thursday, will be held on the west outdoor podium of the Westin Hotel. Admission is free.

Participating restaurants and specialty food stores will offer selected items at prices ranging from 50 cents to $2 each. Beer will be served at $1 per glass, wine and mixed drinks $1.50 each.

Nick Arama of WOMC Radio will emcee the event, and commentate an "Informal Fall Fashions" presentation by the World of Shops. For the sports enthusiasts, there is a putting green and a chance to win prizes, including golf balls and dinner for two at one of the Center's restaurants.

Entertainment will be provided by the Joe DeLuca Quartet. A contemporary jazz musician, DeLuca recently won an Emmy for composing the theme music for "PBS Late Night," the WTVS talk show.

Throughout the evening, lunches, dinners and brunches for two will be given away.

Cooking demonstrations by Kyoto, "The Art of Preparing Sushi," and Clancy's Place, "The Art of Fine Garnishing," are scheduled.

Free parking is available in Renaissance Center's Lot C.

When preparing this pepper steak, you must keep the ingredients moving

I first prepared pepper steak using a recipe from a friend who attended law school when I was an undergraduate at the University of Miami.

Dominic Koo had three claims to fame: He won a bunch of money on the old "$64,000 Question" television show, became a judge and was an excellent cook.

He used two ingredients only found in Oriental specialty stores, but offered substitutes available on any grocer's shelf.

Catsup can take the place of oyster sauce. Several drops of Tabasco sauce and a sprinkling of garlic powder can stand in for chili paste with garlic.

Dominic also had two key cooking tips:

Test the oil with a slice of onion; if it sizzles, the oil is hot enough.

Keep the ingredients in motion as much as possible so they cook fast and evenly.

I recently tried another version, which was adequate, and served it over toast. But I prefer Dominic's recipe.

DOMINIC KOO'S PEPPER STEAK
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 lb. lean boneless beef, cut in 1/4-inch chunks
1 large white onion, quartered and separated in layers
1 large green pepper, cut in 1/4-inch pieces
2 large tomatoes, cut in eighths
2 tsp. oyster sauce
1 tsp. chili paste with garlic
1 tsp. soy sauce
1 tsp. dry sherry
1 tsp. cornstarch

In large skillet or wok, let oil get hot on high heat 30 seconds. Place beef and onion in oil, stir and toss with spatula and spoon. Thoroughly brown beef and remove. Sauté green pepper and tomatoes until green pepper softens and tomatoes start to break down. Return beef and add oyster sauce, chili paste, soy sauce and sherry combined with cornstarch. Stir and toss to mix, cover and turn off heat. Allow to sit 90 seconds to 2 minutes. Serves 3-4.

AMERICAN PEPPER STEAK
1 tsp. cooking oil
1 lb. boneless sirloin steak, cut in 3 pieces
1/4 tsp. salt
1 large onion, chopped
1/2 cup beef broth
3 tsp. soy sauce
1 garlic clove, minced

Heat oil in large skillet, thoroughly brown meat on medium heat on one side, turn and sprinkle on 1/4 teaspoon salt; repeat browning and seasoning.

Push meat to side, add onion and cook until tender, stirring. Stir in broth, soy sauce and garlic. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Add green pepper, cover and cook 5 minutes. Blend cornstarch and water, gradually stir into mixture, then constantly stir until mixture thickens and comes to boil, allowing to boil 1 minute. Add tomatoes and heat through. Serve over cooked rice or toast. Serves 3.

TRY TELLING THESE PEOPLE THAT CANCER IS UNBEATABLE

Everyone in this picture shares something in common. They've all had cancer, and are leading happy, normal lives.

Through progress in treatment, knowing the risks and early detection, over two million individuals have survived cancer.

But most people don't know that. They still think cancer is unbeatable.

A fact which over two million people would like to dispute.

How you live may save your life.

O'Hair denounced

Commissioner blisters counsel on hospital veto

Two suburban Wayne County commissioners who voted to adopt a controversial hospital ordinance are talking differently about it the following week.

Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, is reinforcing the line of County Executive William Lucas that "we must get control of employee costs." Lucas vetoed the ordinance last week.

But Kay Beard, D-Inkster, issued a blistering denunciation of the legal ethics of corporation counsel John O'Hair, who urged Lucas to veto the ordinance.

The ordinance Lucas vetoed retained Wayne County General Hospital as a county institution and gave the County Commission broad authority to nominate the hospital's board and budget.

Unless Lucas changes some minds, the 15-member commission has the 10 votes to override his veto. Both Dumas and Beard were in the majority when the ordinance was adopted 11-2.

DUMAS SAID the hospital, located in Westland, "has become one of the major battlegrounds between the executive and commissioners."

Speaking to Livonia Rotarians, the five-term commissioner said "we can't afford to pay hospital employees one-third more than private hospitals do. That means the hospital administration must render timely bills for medical services performed and vigorously pursue collections."

"The recent audit of the hospital indicates $11 million of the ($14 million) deficit is from bad debts, some of which ought to be collectible."

"The state Legislature must allow the county to place a limit on the amount of money spent on medical care per indigent patient."

In addition, private hospitals must begin to accept their responsibility for the care of the medical indigent. They contracted to do so when they accepted construction funds from the federal government under the Hill-Burton Act," Dumas said.

Lucas contends that labor costs are so high that unless employees accept major cuts, the county should get out of the hospital business by selling or leasing the facility.

BEARD SAID she was "outraged" at Corporation Counsel John O'Hair's siding with Lucas by providing him arguments for vetoing the ordinance.

"He (O'Hair) recently assured us that he would not take sides on disputed issues," Beard said in a statement from her office. "His opinion on the hospital ordinance calls into grave question the ethics of his action."

Until 1982, the corporation counsel was appointed by the Board of Commissioners. Under the new home-rule charter, the corporation counsel is appointed by the executive.

Beard complained that O'Hair, a former circuit judge, has shown "a constant allegiance to the executive and against the commission."

The author of the ordinance and chairwoman of the board's human resources committee, Beard said O'Hair "exaggerates the extent of which executive control over the hospital is curtailed."

She said the ordinance "simply incorporates the standards of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. If we lose accreditation, we will also face a crippling loss of reimbursements. It would be foolish to risk that kind of loss."

Beard, in whose district the hospital is located and many of its employees reside, said O'Hair failed to note that "state, federal and third-party carriers sharply curtail the discretion which one many exercise in operating a hospital."

LUCAS WAS criticized again for failure to become involved in drafting the ordinance.

"At one point in the process," Beard said, "the consideration of the ordinance was passed for the day at the executive's request, for three weeks, to allow him to have input — which was never received."

During the six-month process, she said, the board held four public hearings and much rewriting, but Lucas "chose not to become involved until the 11th hour."

SC, Madonna join in '2 plus 2' deal

Under a "two plus two" agreement, students will be able to take two years of a metallurgical technology program at Schoolcraft College, then transfer to Madonna College to complete a bachelor of science degree — all without loss of credit.

Schoolcraft is a public two-year college in Livonia serving northwestern Wayne County. It grants associate degrees. Madonna is a four-year, coeducational college operated by the Felician Sisters.

"If A STUDENT follows the set curriculum requirements for the associate degree in this program by Schoolcraft, he is admitted to the natural science division at Madonna for completion of the bachelor of science degree," said Louis Brohl, Madonna's admissions director.

"This normally would take four years, although some students accelerate by attending year-round."

The program is open to those who have already completed the associate degree and wish to transfer credit for entry at the junior level at Madonna.

An agreement between two-year community colleges and four-year colleges in Michigan allows students to enroll in "senior" colleges without loss of credit earned at "junior" colleges.

MADONNA ALSO announced a consortium agreement with the University of Detroit for engineering students.

"Most of the pre-engineering courses would likely be taken on the Madonna campus," said Sister Rose Marie Kujawa, Madonna's academic dean. "The major engineering courses would be attended at the U-D College of Engineering and Science."

The consortium agreement would provide students a tuition savings. Students could pay Madonna's lower rate but attend U-D on a "guest" basis.

The Consortium of Catholic Colleges in metropolitan Detroit includes Madonna, U-D, Mercy, Marygrove, Sacred Heart and St. Mary.

PLYMOUTH High School class of 1934 already is at work planning the 50th-class reunion.

The date, time and place are set for June 30, 1984 at the Plymouth Elks Lodge on Ann Arbor Road. Members of the planning committee are Oscar Luttermoser of Howell, Harold Stevens of Clinton, Molly Zielasko Murphy of Hudson and Robert Champ, Fred Hetler, Evelyn Rorabacher Cash and Delite Taylor McAllister of Plymouth.

They are trying to find addresses for classmates Ruth Meurin, Mary June Nash (Mrs. George Powers), Charles Smith and Merna Van Tassel (Mrs. Buck Nadeau). If you have any clues to their whereabouts, please call Evelyn, 459-5915, or Delite, 453-3366.

BOB THAMS of Plymouth was among the more than 100 participants in the presentation of a working Ford Model A station wagon to Greenfield Village.

Individuals, companies and car clubs were involved in putting the car together. They donated parts, replica parts and funds to purchase materials. These were assembled by the Model A Restorers Club, creating the newest Model A wagon in the country. Actual years of production for the Model As were 1928 to 1931.

Actual presentation was made to Sheila Ford Hampp, great granddaughter of Henry Ford and a trustee of the village and Henry Ford Museum. The wagon will be used in the village to provide the experience of a vintage ride to visitors.

DONALD KELLER of Ross Street, Plymouth has been selected for inclusion in the 1983 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America. The men were selected from nominations from senators, congressmen, governors, mayors, state legislators, university and college presidents and deans as well as civic groups.

CARL PETERS had high scores two consecutive Thursdays in the party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Helen Krupa came in second Aug. 4 and Walter Hoops was runner-up last Thursday. The games begin shortly after noon and are open to the public.

MRS. ROBERT Willoughby of Plymouth was installed as an officer in the Elizabeth Patch Chapter of the Colonial Dames XVII Century. Chapter president, Mrs. Ovis Henke of Northville, installed the officers at the annual meeting at Lochmoor Country Club. Mrs. Willoughby's position as curator will extend through 1985.

ANTJE WOLF and husband Richard of Canton Township celebrated New Year's Eve a little early. They attended the party in Loews Anatole Hotel, Dallas, Texas. Antje earned the weekend for two because of her salesmanship, in a three-month period, of needlecraft kits manufactured by Winners Circle.

ROCKINGHAM or Bennington? Visitors to the Plymouth Historical Museum will be able to settle which is which. Examples of both types of pottery are in a special exhibit at the museum on Main Street at Church.

Barbara Saunders, museum director, explains that all pottery made of a common yellow clay with an added glaze of magnesium and umber was called Rockingham pottery. The pottery was manufactured between 1835 and 1885. Only the pottery made in Bennington, Vt. could be called Bennington.

The glaze was applied in various ways — it could be dipped, brushed, plattered — depending on the mood of the glazer on that day.

Some of the rare pieces on display at the museum are a whiskey bottle dated 1849, a seated Toby mug, a pitcher with a frog inside, dated 1890, a teapot with a scene of Rebecca at the well, and a pitcher with a hunting scene.

Hours are 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for 13-17-year-olds, and 25 cents for children 5-11.

THE KNIGHTS of Columbus will have their 10th annual or roast Labor Day 1-5 p.m. on the council grounds over on Fair Street.

Splashy bag lady!

By Marie McGee
staff writer

SPLASHING paint around is making a name for Livonia artist Cynthia Wayne Gaffield in the gutsy world of high fashion.

What started it all was an elegant line of evening bags she created that feature designs she paints on. No two designs are alike and the varying shapes and sizes add another interesting dimension.

It all began last September when Gaffield decided to give her sister a bag for her birthday. Since Gaffield sews and designs her own clothes, she decided to make the gift, borrowing an idea she had seen by another artist in the Chicago area.

The result was friends soon wanted Gaffield to "make me one."

The requests kept multiplying until Gaffield decided to show the line at arts and crafts festival. They went so well, she said, she placed them in area boutiques and in Chicago and New York.

Right now, they are at Patti Smith in Royal Oak, Maggie and Me in Plymouth, Tressa's Boutique in the Joseph Xavier Salon in Southfield, J. Lushon inside Rhodike's in Southfield, Invitation in Blume in West Bloomfield, Leona's in Tally Hall in Farmington Hills, Kay North in Birmingham, and Antia's in Southfield.

The bags range in price from $10 for wallets - to $85. In that category is a stunning extra large over-the-shoulder canvas bag that is her newest creation.

Success has also prompted her to expand her efforts. In addition to the hand bags, she will do other accessories, including belts and scarves. Her latest project involves T-shirts and spa attire. She'll even coordinate tennies to complement your favorite pair of "sweats."

So far, the whole area has been a lot of fun for the tall, tanned-haired former commercial artist who gave up working full-time to free-lance after her marriage to photographer Craig Gaffield and the arrival of their son, Benson.

"Playing with paints" is how she characterizes her efforts.

It's a big insight into the designer's personal feelings about art. Art should be fun, she believes, and it should never be in the realm of unobtainable. Rather, it should be used. In her case, it means being able to wear it.

She does all the work on the bags herself now. In the beginning, she had a woman who sewed the bags under her direction. Now she does it all herself.

It's also a lot of fun for her son. Her favorite spot to paint - on her hands and knees - is out on the deck floor behind the couple's ranch home on Doris in Livonia. On the family room floor. He plays nearby and

Something to Crowe about — a state crown

Superb pitching helped. So did the timely hitting. And some solid defense. Bill Haynes' turned in a pair of outstanding mound performances, but Crowe coach Paul Hunt couldn't single him out as the outstanding player on a team that last Thursday clinched the Connie Mack state championship with a 6-3 victory over Lansing at Livonia's Ford Field.

"They all played extremely well," Hunt said of his players. "The pitching was great, the hitting was timely and everybody did their job."

"We used everybody on the team, and it took everybody to win it."

PITCHING CERTAINLY WAS top-

grade throughout Crowe's three games, allowing just one earned run. And it was Haynes that led the mound corps. After Crowe's opening 1-0 victory over Sterling Heights, Haynes went to the mound in Thursday's first game and hurled a gem — a three-hit, 10-strikeout, 2-0 shutout over Dearborn.

Crowe got both its runs in the sixth inning. Jim Prokes singled to start the uprising. He then stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Jim Lasota's suicide squeeze bunt scored what proved to be the game-winning run. Prokes was safe on the play and stole second and third. Mike Johnson singled him home for the insurance run. Lasota collected two of Crowe's seven hits.

LATER THAT DAY, Crowe met Lansing for the championship and, behind the combined effort of four pitchers, limited their opponents to five hits in the title victory.

John Williams started but got into trouble in the second, when Lansing loaded the bases with one out. Enter Haynes, who induced the first batter to face to ground into an rally-killing double play.

Haynes ran out of allowable innings (pitchers are limited to a specified number of innings) after 1 1/2, so John Briggs relieved. Briggs ran out two runs and John Steslicki's fielder's choice scored another.

Hunt summoned Mark Ziomek. One run scored on a ground out, but Ziomek got the next two to end the inning with Crowe safely in front by a 6-2 margin.

THE CHAMPS got on the board in the first inning on Johnson's double that scored Lasota. They added three in the second on singles by Gary Hilton and Tim Ford, a sacrifice by John Walsh and a walk to Pat Schneider that loaded the bases. An error by the shortstop on a Prokes' grounder scored two runs and John Steslicki's fielder's choice scored another.

In the fourth, Schneider walked, Prokes singled, Steslicki laid down a sacrifice bunt and Lasota clubbed a two-run single to make it 6-0, Crowe. Prokes and Ford each had two hits, with the winners getting eight in the game. Haynes earned the victory, his second of the day for Crowe, which finished its season with a 15-5 record — and a state title.

Conteras' second hit of the contest, a bunt single in the eighth, moved Dave Riley to third with the potential game-winning run. A suicide squeeze play with Fraser at the plate proved unnecessary, as the Sterling Heights pitcher uncorked a wild pitch that allowed Riley to reach home.

Conteras scored Eagle's first run in the first inning, singling to center, stealing second, taking third on a groundout and scoring on Fraser's sacrifice fly. Fraser had Eagle's only other hit, a single in the sixth.

John Fraser's powerful pitching and Miguel Contreras' key hitting ignited Eagle 15-5 to a 2-1 victory over Sterling Heights in the opening round of a four-team Connie Mack Inter-City Tournament in Warren Tuesday.

Fraser was nearly untouchable, firing a brilliant one-hitter while fanning 17 of the 21 batters retired. The only run scored against him was unearned.

Explosive Adray blasts into nationals again, 15-8

By Tom Henderson staff writer

Powerful Livonia Adray, down by two runs and capable of just two hits entering the sixth inning, erupted with a nine-run explosion that blinded the visitors from Pittsburgh Friday night and eliminated them, 15-8, in the finals of the AAABA regional at Ford Field.

Adray, unbeaten in the three-team, double-elimination tournament, sent 14 men to the plate in the top of the sixth to wrap up the regional championship and advance to the national championship in Johnston, Pa., for the second straight season. Livonia, unbeaten in 21 straight games, was third a year ago.

The 16-team tournament begins today and includes Adray Sound, a Detroit team made up primarily of players from the University of Michigan.

"AFTER WE got down, we had a little session," explained victorious coach Ron Heller. "We weren't hitting the curve, so I had them move up in the box."

"We have more depth than ever and more defense," he added, looking ahead to Johnston. "Every position is covered. We have nine pitchers, whereas last year we had only seven. What we have to find is a third starter." Shortstop Randy Baringer, who was 9-for-16 over three games, was named the Most Valuable Player. "I felt confident and the whole team played well during the playoffs. I think we're a good defensive team. I'm thrilled to go. I've never been to a national tournament."

"We just ran out of pitching," complained Pittsburgh coach Lou Gaetano Sr. He had reason to complain. His best pitcher, Harry Kramer, who was 10-0, had to leave the tournament early to report for football practice at Duquesne University.

Prior to the explosion, Adray had been lucky, but not very good. Pittsburgh jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, on a two-run double by Lou Gaetano Jr. Adray quickly struck back, scoring four runs in the second on three walks, a sacrifice fly, two errors on an infield chopper and absolutely no hits.

Pittsburgh came right back in the third, taking advantage of an error, an infield single and two walks to score the tying runs before Mike Wilkins could come in to put out the fire.

Put it out he did. The way the flame died, it looked like a fire hydrant opened up on a match. Wilkins pitched six complete innings, giving up six hits, only one of them on any consequence, that a two-run home run by Ed Hartman in the fifth to give his team a brief lead.

How brief? About two minutes worth. Adray, which boosted its season record to 35-5, batted around and then some in the next half inning, getting single RBI on hits by Baringer, Don Dombey, and Pete Rose; a two-run single by John Judge; and a three-run double by Kevin Stanley.

Wilkins, who will be just a senior at Franklin, was relieved by John Recker in the eighth, got the win. Dan McNabb took the loss. Five years ago, Wilkins' brother Mark, also a pitcher, was the No. 1 draft pick of the Chicago Cubs.

ADRAY began its trip to the finals with a two-day, two-city game against Pittsburgh.

It began Wednesday night at Ford Field in Livonia, was delayed because of rain after 1 1/2 innings and resumed Thursday afternoon at Eastern Michigan in Ypsilanti. (Ford Field was committed Thursday to the Connie Mack playoffs.)

Mike MacDonald started on the mound for Livonia Wednesday night and tried to go again Thursday. But he was replaced by Greg Everson, who got the win with four innings of one-run ball.

Randy Baringer dives back to first base safely during Wednesday's game against Pittsburgh.

Baringer, the Livonia Adray shortstop, was voted the tourney MVP.

Adray jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the fourth, made it 3-0 in the fifth, 6-0 in the seventh and held off a late surge to win it, 6-4. Center fielder John DePillo was 2-for-5 with a home run in the seventh, and third baseman Dombey was 2-for-3 with a fifth-inning homer.

PITTSBURGH THEN beat Cleveland in the second game Thursday. In the third game, Adray held off another surge to eliminate Cleveland, 7-6.

Adray trailed by 3-0 going into the bottom of the second, but scored two in the second and one in the sixth to tie it and four in the seventh to go ahead. Cleveland tallied three in the ninth, but

S'craft sports new coach, team

By C.J. Rieck staff writer

Calm yourselves, all ye followers of Schoolcraft sports. The local community college is not cancelling its athletic programs.

Indeed, the school's sports ledger is growing, not shrinking. Come this fall, girls' soccer will be added as a club sport.

Many of the area's folk wandered around back of the school, took one look at the knee-high grass and figured Schoolcraft had dropped athletics.

Adding confusion to the "growing" problem was an unfounded rumor that, since cross country coach Steve Montgomery wasn't returning, that sport was certainly cancelled. That, they figured, was why the jogging trail that runs through the back acreage of the college was now overgrown with weeds.

Athletic director Marv Gans nixed all those rumors. The back yards have not been cut since June because, well, the administration apparently doesn't want to have them cut.

NONE OF WHICH will stop Schoolcraft sports. The school was the first community college in the state to have a boys' soccer team. Now it will be the first to field a girls' squad.

"We were approached by several girls about it," Gans said. "With our commitment to girls' athletics, and since we have all the facilities, we decided it would be a good idea."

What the idea needs now is some players to carry it out. The sport is on the club level, and it will compete against similar teams from Michigan State and Ferris State, as well as other local colleges and some schools from Ohio.

Ed Dudek, who compiled a 55-20-4 record in a five-year stint at Livonia Churchill, including the state's top ranking in 1982 and an appearance in the state regional finals in 1983, is the team's coach.

First practice is at 10 a.m. tomorrow (Tuesday, Aug. 16) at the Ocelot's soccer fields. Any interested players are urged to attend. If unable, call Dudek (591-2423) or the athletic office (591-4490 Ext. 480).

IN CROSS COUNTRY, John Dunn

has been hired to replace Montgomery, and he brings with him some impressive credentials. A Michigan High School Athletic Association-registered official in track and cross country for the past 10 years, Dunn:

- coached boys' and girls' track at Royal Oak Shrine in 1982;
- coached both girls' cross country and track at Birmingham Marian in 1980-81;
- coached Plymouth Canton girls' track and served as an assistant for the University of Michigan's cross country team in 1978;
- coached girls' cross country and track at Redford Bishop Borgess from 1974-78.

Gans is certain Dunn has qualifications enough to fill the men's and women's cross country coaching position. Any interested runners should contact the Schoolcraft athletic office (591-6400 Ext. 480) as soon as possible. The season opens Sept. 7.

Certainly, Schoolcraft sports are on the move. Now, if only someone would only get moving and cut that grass.

Roth fails to cut it

By Tom Henderson staff writer

Jeff Roth got his first taste of the PGA tour last week and it was bitter-sweet.

Roth, a local golfer (Plymouth-Salem grad, assistant pro at Wabek Country Club in Bloomfield Hills) who dreams of playing on the national tour, choked up on the early holes of the Buick Open Thursday and nearly blew himself out of it before his heart had a chance to slow down. Then, after a day of fine driving Friday, he double-bogeyed the last hole when it seemed he still had a chance to make the cut.

As it was, he was 4-75-149, good only for an early exit from the tourney and the weekend off. It took 144, even par, to qualify for the last two rounds.

STILL, Roth played well in stretches over the Warwick Hills course in Flint, shot the fairways better than expected, and on the first round beat out the two pros he was paired with.

"I played better today (Friday) than I did yesterday," said Roth after his round of 75, "but I just couldn't score. I played a lot better than a 75, I really did. I feel disappointed. Even though it was my first (tour) tournament, I expected to do better."

"I was a little nervous (Thursday) ... I was four over after five holes, then I settled down and played as well as anyone. I definitely know I can play with those guys. I was nervous, I won't deny that, and it cost me strokes at the beginning."

It's not exactly back-to-the-drawing-board time, not after his recent course record of 64 at Wabek, but it is back to the real world of assistant pro-ing. The next step for Roth as far as becoming a touring pro is to decide whether to enroll in the PGA's tour school in November.

Rowdies earn rave reviews

Things were resolved in the next day, with Pan Am footing the extra expense.

Very little else went wrong for the Rowdies during their Swedish stay.

"The people were fantastic to us," said Rowdies' coach Dave Lussier. "We had between 400 and 500 fans come to our games. Really, they treated us like celebrities. After games some of the Swedish kids came up and asked our players for autographs."

"It was a great experience. From a soccer standpoint, the girls were very successful."

BEFORE DEPARTING for Sweden, Lussier confessed he didn't know what to expect. He did know this was a major Swedish tournament, but he knew nothing regarding caliber of talent.

What he discovered was that the Rowdies matched up very nicely. Almost too nicely.

The squad arrived in Stockholm and played their first game of the trip there — on gravel. That is the all-weather surface Swedes play on. It didn't hurt the Rowdies much; they won anyway, 8-0.

After that, it was on to Borlange and the Dalecarlia Cup tourney. On opening night, they discovered how well they would match up with Swedish junior talent, winning 8-0.

Next, a look at Whispering Willows Golf Course and what holes might provide big breaks.

THEIR SECOND GAME followed suit in a 5-0 victory. The Rowdies' third contest was against the team they would eventually meet in the finals, Brage. The FLIP team again prevailed, 3-1.

All through the tournament the two cultures studied each other's differences, both on and off the field.

"One of their headlines read something like, 'Come see the Americans perform both on and off the field,'" Lussier said. "They had never seen players openly cheer for each other like we do, and they weren't used to my yelling instructions from the sideline."

FOR THEIR PART, what surprised the Rowdies was an apparently ever-changing roster.

"The Brage team we played in the championship game wasn't the same team we played earlier," Lussier explained. "But I guess that's the way they do things over there, as I understand it."

What the Brage team did was call some players from its parent club, a Division I team, to play against the Rowdies. Most of the additions were in their early 20s, Lussier said.

"We made up our minds that we were going to put 11 girls out there and we were going to play them," the FLIP coach said. "Once we accepted that we were fine."

Fine meant a 1-0 victory and the championship. Kim Paterson, from Livonia Bentley, scored the game's only goal with just two minutes remaining. Doreen Beagle of Livonia Stevenson provided shutout goaltending.

Earlier tourney games included an 8-0 win Wednesday that put the Rowdies into the finals and a 3-1 setback Thursday, the Rowdies' only loss on the trip. The FLIP team almost played the Brage Division I team, but the game was canceled because the championship contest would have been the morning after.

At VAXJO, the Rowdies rolled to 6-2, 7-1 and 7-1 consecutive triumphs. One of their 7-1 wins came against Ostervens, a team that was third in the country in under 18 age group play.

Everything considered, it was an enjoyable trip as well as a successful one. Players were housed by local Swedish townfolk and developed some close ties.

"They felt like everyone was watching them, like they were the center of attention, something special," Lussier said of his players. "And they all conducted themselves very well."

Those who made the trip were forwards Shelley Staszel of Plymouth Salem, Lisa Ristad of Livonia Bentley, Anna Glendening of Kalamazoo Central and Paterson; midfielders Annette Ruggiero of Farmington Mercy, Kim Reeves, Lori Engel and Lisa Russell of Plymouth Canton; and Lori Hilden and Terri Groat of Livonia Churchill; defenders Chris Lussier of Livonia Churchill, Cheryl Galindo of Livonia Stevenson, Colleen O'Connor of Plymouth Salem and Margie Wangschol of Plymouth Canton; and goalies Jenny Gans of Northville and Beagle.

Have team, will travel

Nazelli helps put local sport squads all over the map

By Tom Henderson
Staff writer

When Dennis Nazelli took his first youth basketball team to Sweden, one last April and the second in June, he thought that was the culmination of all his efforts. Now, though, it looks as if those trips were just the beginning.

"The sort of spiraled into a full-blown organization," says Nazelli. The organization has a name (Young Athletics Abroad), official T-shirts, business cards, letterhead paper, the right kind of overseas contacts, and enough interest and local support to plan two more trips to Europe next year (at least six teams are scheduled, two of them girls).

"My philosophy is that I love to travel with a purpose," says Nazelli, a 37-year-old Livonian with a bachelor's degree in linguistics (he speaks German and Russian). "I've lived abroad (during his army years), and I've studied abroad, and I think there's so much to be learned from the experience, seeing different places and cultures."

"The kids we took in June played basketball for one week for what was called the Stockholm Basketball Cup. We didn't win any games, but we won more friends than anyone else. We became everyone's favorite team, the one they all rooted for."

inside sports

"The second week, the kids stayed with Swedish families. When the kids came back, you'd have thought the basketball would have been the highlight of the trip. But they surprise you by saying it was staying with their Swedish families. They came back different people."

NAZELLI KNEW a good thing when he saw one. So did the Europeans.

"They're very excited in Europe over American teams," explains Nazelli. The Stockholm tourney drew 125 teams from 25 countries, but just five of the squads were from the U.S. "They have a mystique about American teams being the best."

Though arrangements for Europeans asking for $500. I had to leave the room while they voted. They brought me back in and said, 'Mr. Nazelli, we can't give you the $500. But we can give you $750.' That's the kind of help we got."

THOUGH HE is expanding the program, Nazelli, who accompanies the teams to Europe, claims the organization isn't out to make money. "Absolutely not. We can attract sponsors easier if we're non-profit. I want to keep it the way it is as much as possible. It offers an opportunity for me to get out and explore the world, but that's it."

Anyone interested in more information about Young Athletics Abroad — whether you're a curious parent or player looking for a team to join — call Nazelli at 477-9009 from 3-10 p.m.

While in Europe, Nazelli says he received invitations from four different clubs in Sweden and Finland to bring more teams back. In fact, Pentti Wilberg, the director of the Helsinki Basketball Club, arrives in Livonia Wednesday to firm up tentative arrangements for Nazelli and at least one local team to play for the Volvo Cup next spring.

So far, Nazelli says it has cost about $780 a player to send the teams overseas. That money has been raised by parent donations (one father, a carpenter, built shelves for the kids to sell, fund-raising candy sales, car washes, raffles) and local sponsors.

"The Livonia Jaycees were particularly kind to us," explains Nazelli. "I went before them and made a proposal oral quarrel

Sparked by the recent shooting death of a Canton resident, Oral Quarrel last week asked: HOW SHOULD THE SALE OF HANDGUNS BE RESTRICTED TO ENSURE THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC? OR, WHY SHOULDN'T THE SALE OF HANDGUNS BE RESTRICTED? The answers of our readers follow:

"Yes, you should not restrict the sale of handguns because it would serve no purpose. The criminal can always get a handgun. He can buy it under the table, black market, off the streets, any old way, steal it or whatever. You're taking the protection away from the law-abiding citizen if you take the handgun out of his hand if he knows how to use it and is licensed and registered properly. Therefore, I'd say let the handgun not be restricted. The police will still carry them and the decent people won't have any."

"The problem is not so much why they should or should not be restricted. I believe the constitution guarantees us the right to bear arms as long as it's lawful and legal. The problem is that we don't enforce the laws we have against those who violate gun laws. Criminals caught with guns, criminals who commit criminal acts with guns — those people should be severely taken to task. Two years for the commission of a felony with a handgun — that is a joke when the original felony itself could be a life felony. Thank you."

"(This is a continuation of the call I just made.) Severe penalties for those who violate the gun laws. Unregistered gun carriers should be placed in jail for five years. Persons who use a handgun in the commission of a felony should get the full penalty of that offense. Armed robbery is a life felony. Let it be life just as murder is. Thank you."

"I think the handgun shouldn't be restricted because it would make our society more communicative by keeping the handguns away from us."

"The constitution allows us to bear arms and if a handgun is taken away from him, he might have been able to ward off the attack. So I don't think that handguns — the sale of — should be restricted because if guns are outlawed, only outlaws will have guns."

Thank you."

"Well I feel that it shouldn't be restricted for the simple fact that if you start restricting the sale of handguns, only the criminals will be able to get them because they'll get them illegally through a type of black market."

"Handguns should be sold indeed to people willing to go through screening tests to be sure they have no prison record and are only interested in protecting their family and themselves from people who murder other people and abuse firearms to get what they want to endanger other's lives."

"I feel that the sale of handguns should definitely be restricted. They should not be so easily obtainable. Only the people who work at jobs where their life is threatened should be permitted to own a gun and it should be registered. No mail ordering of guns and also limit the number of places where guns are sold. Thank you."

"Handguns shouldn't be restricted from sale to the general public because handgun control is not crime control. It never has been. Honest law-abiding citizens that have guns and do hunting and target shooting don't go around killing people. And most criminals, if they need to get a gun to do a crime or something, will find a gun or make a gun to commit their crime. So there's no reason that handguns should be restricted or the sale or the use of law-abiding citizens. They shouldn't be restricted at all. Thank you."

"I don't believe there should be any more controls because the controls are too much now. If anybody tried to get a gun, just check it out and see how hard it is to get one. That's about all I have to say but I don't think that controls should be any more. The controls will get a gun regardless of whatever. Thank you."

"Handguns should not be restricted because people should live and let die."

"If handguns were restricted only outlaws would have guns, just like drugs. If Ahmed had had a handgun he would not have shot first instead of him getting killed."

"Yes, I feel that handguns should be restricted so that nobody has handguns. Handguns are very dangerous for the public to use. Handguns also should not be used to kill people."

Smelly suitcase tells all

HAVE YOU EVER unpacked an 8-year-old suitcase after he has returned from five days at Cub Scout camp? It's an experience that gives new definition to the word "pungent."

It makes one shudder when you consider the complete lack of hygiene that, no doubt, prevailed during those five days at camp. Eight-year-olds are seldom noted for their interest in personal cleanliness. Especially mine.

As I was gingerly unpacking (afraid of what I might find), I came across his camp shirt. It was covered with a wide variety of stains — some of them of an unspeakable nature. "Be sure and wash that one, Mom. I liked it so much that I wore it for three days."

No kidding. I would have guessed more like three weeks.

After that comment, I started doing a little mental math and figured out that, since he took no pajamas (preferring to sleep in his clothes), that meant he probably wore the same entire outfit for three days AND nights. Pshaw.

Concert help draws thanks

To the editor:

On behalf of the Canton Parks and Recreation Department and the entire Canton Community, we would like to express our sincere thanks to the Canton Chamber of Commerce for their outstanding efforts in bringing the Executive Band to Canton for our Open Air Concert held Friday, Aug. 5. The Big Band Music was enjoyed by all ages along with the beautiful weather.

We hope to expand this outdoor concert series next summer with various types of music to help celebrate Canton's "Sequentennial."

The chamber's enthusiastic support of this concert helped make it a successful and enjoyable evening for everyone at Canton and Salem High Schools. As a result of their interest in presenting an anyone involved.

Nancy Walls Smith

incredibly bored without that kid that he "hates" around to play with.

Finally, when the day for him to come home arrived, I waited in excited anticipation. When he pulled up in the car with his dad, I ran out to greet him. He kissed and hugged the dog for about five minutes then turned to me and said, "Hi, Mom. Can I go play now?" So much for emotional reunions.

"But tell me what you did at camp?" I asked.

"Oh, we did a lot of things. Can I go play now?"

"Did you have a good time?"

"Yeah. It was O.K. Do you need me around here anymore?"

Why is it that my kid has to be a "doer" and not a "talker" when I'm a mother who wants DETAILS?

Oh well, I can pretty much figure it out by the contents of his suitcase. He had fun — lots of dirty, dirty fun.

OH. Sorry I asked — though he did seem

Now I have to figure out how to aerate a suitcase. I don't dare close it and store it away for fear that the next time we take a trip we'll all end up smelling like a bunch of odoriferous Cub Scouts. I figure I should be able to shut it maybe by Christmas.

I must admit that it was hard for me to send "my baby" off to camp. It was his first time away from home on his own. Mothers are entitled to shed a tear or two over that, aren't they?

Well, I did anyway. Of course, I'm one of those people who cry over poignant commercials. I bet I've wept at least 50 or 60 times over that one that starts out: "Joey called today. I got a lump in my throat just thinking about it. Dang that phone company!"

Those five days without our son passed ever so slowly for me. I asked his 7-year-old brother, "Do you miss Jason?" "Nope," was his reply. "I hate him."

'Star Chamber' overdoes story of judges' battle

Swimming against the summer tide of escapist film fare is "Star Chamber" (R). Don't let the title fool you; it's not another space adventure. The title refers to a special court that meets secretly, without a jury, to deal out its own arbitrary sentences.

The star chamber of this movie is a group of Los Angeles Superior Court judges who have joined together to counteract an overweight legal system that is often tipped in favor of the criminals. The argument is that criminals are being set free because of loopholes in the laws.

The movie begins with grim realism as we follow two cases to court. Both cases are geared to extract maximum indignation from an audience. One involves the murder of elderly women for their social security checks, the other concerns a vicious child-pornography ring that doles out torture and murder.

Both cases rest on evidence obtained under circumstances which are ruled to be an invasion of privacy. Consequently, the cases are dismissed and the defendants are released.

Michael Douglas stars as the judge who hears these cases and is tormented by the knowledge that he is releasing killers to kill again. Yet, he has no choice because he knows that if he did not dismiss the cases, they would be overturned in a higher court because of the way the evidence was obtained.

SCRIPTWRITERS Peter Hyams (who also directed) and Roderick Taylor are determined to arouse our anger and emotions, but their script is as flawed and full of loopholes as the legal system they attack.

A judge who is about to be given a major civic award shoots himself. This is never tied into other events in the movie. A detective (Yaphet Kotto) suspects that the two men accused of the child-pornography murders are not the real culprits, but the movie doesn't give us a clue as to why he thinks they are innocent.

He knows the two men are hanging out at an abandoned warehouse, but he's not curious enough to see what's going on there. Most improbable and incredible of all, the script has Douglas, the judge, independently going out to deal with criminals. The character is a complete ninny.

The editing of this movie is atrocious. The action is disjointed and difficult to follow. There is nothing but confusion as the film bounces back and forth from the street to the courtroom to the judge's home to a police squadroom to a chase in a parking garage.

Douglas is wooden in his role. He puts his hands to his head to indicate concern and that's about it. Hal Holbrook, as an older judge and mentor who recruits Douglas for the star chamber, relies on his "folksy" routine.

THERE ARE BRIGHT performances from Sharon Gless as the judge's intelligent, understanding wife and DeWayne Jessie as a nervous car thief. They are the exceptions, not the rule.

"Star Chamber" may have set out to be a socially meaningful movie, but it doesn't come close to developing its early promise. However, as a vehicle trading on public fear and agitation about our criminal justice system, it may find an audience.

what's at the movies

CLASS (R). Romantic comedy about a young man who has an affair with an older woman who turns out to be his best friend's mother. Jacqueline Bisset, Cliff Robertson and Rob Lowe star.

CUJO (R). Suspenseful film based on story by Stephen King. Stars Dee Wallace, Christopher Stone and Ed Lauter.

FLASHDANCE (R). A determined young woman works as a welder by day and a dancer by night. Movie doesn't make too much sense but the dancing makes a terrific impact.

GETTING IT ON (R). Two boys with active imaginations and overactive glands indulge in crazy capers on campus. Martin Yost and Heather Kennedy star in comedy written and directed by William Olsen.

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S VACATION (R). Walley World, the world's greatest theme park, is the destination in this cross-country comedy starring Chevy Chase, Beverly D'Angelo, Imogene Coca and Christie Brinkley.

OCTOPUSSY (PG). Roger Moore is again the dapper Agent 007 as he goes to India to crack an international jewel-smuggling operation in this 13th James Bond adventure. Also with Maud Adams.

RETURN OF MARTIN GUERRE. Winner of three French Academy Awards, romantic mystery is about man who returns from war after nine years. Gerard Philipe stars.

RETURN OF THE JEDI (PG). Third chapter in the middle section of George Lucas' "Star Wars" trilogy. With Luke Skywalker, Hans Solo, Princess Leia and other characters from the previous films as the Rebel Alliance battles Darth Vader and the forces of the Empire.

Dixieland band magnetizes crowd

By Robin Gaines
special writer

At the turn of the century, a style of music emerged in New Orleans that was simple, satisfying and direct. Its hypnotic rhythm lured people to street parades, saloons, riverboats and even funeral marches.

Recently, at Meadow Brook Music Festival's Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus near Rochester, a capacity crowd witnessed a magnetic performance by the masters of the enticing New Orleans style jazz, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

With just a black curtain backdrop and white stage lights, the seven-man band — whose members are mostly in their 70s — played the uncomplicated arrangements with warmth and enthusiasm for two full hours.

Although the audience was unusually subdued for the first hour of the show, during the second half the Meadow Brook crowd was clapping along and tapping its toes to the loose, relaxed beat.

WHILE THE entire band easily captured the cakewalk, march and rag-based pieces, the individual solos lacked a certain pitch because of an inadequate sound system.

With an assortment of such classics as "Hindustan," "Basin Street" and "St. Louis Woman," the band's saucy renditions gave the warm humid evening a truly festive flavor.

From the fast stomp of "Little Liza Jane" to the slow saunter of "Closer Walk," the Preservation Hall Jazz Band's unique talents were eloquently expressed in its skilled delivery. The band clearly had a good time playing to the Meadow Brook audience.

Banjoist Narvin Henry Kimball displayed his exceptional ability, in the sad and gentle song "Memories," Kimball's melodic banjo-pickin' and his throaty, but clear vocals brought him the strongest cheers of the evening.

The audience applauded with delight when clarinetist Willie Humphrey, Jr., did a little dance across one end of the stage, while Willie's brother, trumpet player Percy Humphrey, growled like a jungle cat on the snappy tune "Hold That Tiger."

Film theater offers 'La Nuit'

"La Nuit de Varennes," 1963 French comedy-drama directed by Ettore Scola, will play first-run at the Detroit Film Theatre, with two showings, at 7 and 9:30 p.m., Friday-Saturday at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

General admission is $2.25 or one DFT discount coupon. Tickets and discount coupon books may be purchased through the museum ticket office and at the door.

For ticket information and a free DFT weekend movie schedule through Dec. 18, call 832-2730, seven days a week.

"La Nuit" stars Marcello Mastroianni as Casanova caught up in a comic run-for-your-life chase out of town during the fall of Louis XVI. The film also stars Harvey Keitel, Hanna Schygulla and Jean-Louis Trintignant.

HIGHLIGHT OF the evening came during the band's final song, "When the Saints Go Marching In." Willie Humphrey, tuba player Allan Jaffe and banjoist Kimball stepped off the stage and marched single file across the pavilion and up a long flight of steps to the lawn area.

Gathering hundreds of people behind them, the three-piece marching band led the bunny-hopping audience back through the pavilion and up on stage for the final chorus of the song.

The Preservation Hall Jazz Band is made up of an impressive list of musicians. Some of the band's musical backgrounds read like a Jazz Who's Who encyclopedia.

Percy Humphrey, on trumpet, has been a professional since the early '20s and had his own dance band as early as 1925. Marvin Henry Kimball, on banjo, performed with jazz immortal Louis Armstrong in 1947.

Self-taught on piano, Sing Miller got his first job at the Okeh Lounge in New Orleans — soon after he joined Kid Howard's band.

Cle Frazier, on drums, was a professional playing with the Bush Hall Gold-ep Rule Band by 1924. In 1919, Willie Humphrey, on clarinet, went first to St. Louis, then to Chicago where he played with King Oliver and Freddie Keppard.

The band took its name from the historic Preservation Hall in New Orleans — renowned French Quarter where the band plays when not on tour.

Barbara Mandrell will perform at the Grandstand, while Ricky Skaggs is among entertainers appearing at the Bandshell at the Michigan State Fair.

Stars to perform at state fair

Country star Barbara Mandrell will lead off the major paid entertainment in the Grandstand at this year's Michigan State Fair, which runs Friday, Aug. 26, through Monday, Sept. 5, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit. Mandrell will appear Friday, Aug. 26, with ticket prices at $14, $12 and $10. Superstar Willie Nelson plays Tuesday, Aug. 30, and tickets are $14, $13 and $12. The Greg Kihn Band performs for rock fans Saturday, Aug. 27, with tickets priced at $11, $10 and $9.

Singer/composer Luther Vandross plays Monday, Aug. 29, with tickets at $11, $10 and $9. Advance tickets with reserved seating in the Grandstand may be purchased by calling 368-9347. Paid entertainment tickets include discount admission to the fair. Free daily concerts in the Bandshell will feature Rickie Skaggs, the Thrasher Brothers, Doc Severinsen and the Look, O'Bryan, Terri Gibbs and the Rev. James Cleveland Gospel Show.

Comic Book Show scheduled

Comix Tree and Sports Collectables will present a one-day Comic Book Show 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday at the VFW Post 2645, 24222 W. Nine Mile, just west of Telegraph, Southfield. Admission charge will be $1.50. Featured will be comic-book artists Butch Guice and Mike Vosburg. Guice currently is drawing "The Micronauts" and Vosburg is working on "G.I. Joe." Nostalgia dealers from throughout the Midwest will present collectable comics and related items for purchase. For further information, contact Comix Tree and Sports Collectables in Ann Arbor, phone 662-6675.

'Motown 25th' show coming

The Motown 25th Anniversary show, starring the Temptations, the Four Tops and Mary Wells, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 27, at Cobo Theatre in Detroit. Tickets are $15, $12.50 and $10. Def Leppard, with special guest Krokus, will perform at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday-Wednesday, Aug. 30-31, at the Joe Louis Arena in Detroit. Tickets are $11 and $10.

Festival readied in Hamtramck

The Hamtramck Festival, one of the largest festivals in Michigan, is getting ready for a half-million people to crowd the streets of Hamtramck over the Labor Day weekend. More than 100 booths operated by community and church organizations will line a half-mile of the city's major thoroughfare, Joseph Campau, for the three-and-a-half-day event. Now in its fourth year, the Hamtramck Festival offers free admission and parking, plus continuous ethnic music from three bandstands and a wide selection of food, beverages and amusement rides. Hours will be 6-11 p.m. Friday, Sept. 2, and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday-Monday, Sept. 3-5. The Annual Polish Day Parade on Labor Day will start this year at noon from Holbrook and move north on Joseph Campau to the reviewing stand in the festival area. Marching groups participating in the two-hour parade are the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps, Hamtramck High School Band, Utica High School Band, Windsor Police Pipe Band and the 1st Marine Band from Howell.

Museum theater offers comedy

"The Man from Home," a New York stage hit from the turn of the century, is being presented through Saturday, Sept. 10, by the Greenfield Village Players at Henry Ford Museum Theater at Greenfield Village in Dearborn. Performances are at 8:30 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays. All seats are reserved. Tickets at $4.75 each are available daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the entrance to Greenfield Village or at the Museum Theater box office one hour before each performance.

A combination package of dinner in the museum's Heritage Hall and theater tickets is available to groups and individuals. For additional information and reservations, call 271-1620, ext. 415. The comedy, written by Booth Tarkington with Harry Leon Wilson, was a favorite of Henry Ford. It is being staged for the first time at the museum theater in honor of the 120th anniversary of Ford's birth.

Actors Alliance tells season

The Actors Alliance Theatre Company will open the 1983-84 season with the Michigan premiere of Paula Cizmar's "Madonna of the Powder Room."

Friday, Oct. 7, marks the beginning of the professional company's second season, in residence at Lycee International in Southfield.

All productions last season were staged for theater-in-the-round. This season shows will be presented on an adaptable arena stage.

Moliere's "Scapin" will open Friday, Nov. 18, followed by Tom Ewen's "Why Hanna's Skirt Won't Stay Down," opening Feb. 3.

Noel Coward's comedy "Fallen Angels" opens March 16. For the final production of the season, Jeff Nahan, artistic director, is seeking a new script to present as a world premiere April 27.

Season subscriptions and group rates are available by calling the box office at 642-1326.

Comedy Jam features 3 comics

Birmingham comic Mike Binder will be one of three comics performing in the first "Detroit Comedy Jam" on Thursday, Aug. 25, at the Premier Center in Sterling Heights. Heading the trio of funnymen is Howie Mandel, Dr. Wayne Fiscus of the TV series "St. Elsewhere." Mandel also hosts the syndicated comedy series "Laugh Traxx." He has just completed a national college tour with Binder and Steve Wright. Mandel is a frequent guest on the "Tonight Show" and "Late Night with David Letterman."

Performing with Mandel will be Binder and another comic from the Detroit area, Dave Coulter. Binder has just completed filming a leading role in Barry Levinson's pilot version of the movie "Diner." Coulter, a favorite at the Comedy Castle in Royal Oak, has guest-starred on the NBC series "Family Ties" and has appeared in Cheech and Chong's movie "Things Are Tough All Over." He also has made guest appearances on WXYZ-TV's "Kelly & Company."
