Housing spurt fattens township revenues

staff writer

It's been a while, but saws are whirring and hammers pounding

Construction at a virtual standstill for about three years - is experiencing an upswing again. The new buildings include single-family homes and business shops.

A new shopping plaza also is in the offing, with the recent ground-breaking of the Golden Gate shopping center on Lilley south of Joy.

The township's building department issued 96 single-family home building permits through August, and around 25 more were recently processed, said chief building official Aaron Machnik.

That compares to a total of 14 permits for all of 1982.

"It has been a substantial increase, obviously," Machnik said. 'Last year was very, very poor.'

MACHNIK ATTRIBUTES the building increase to dipping interest rates and more confidence in the economy. A brighter construction picture means more revenues for the township in the form of building permit fees.

"The dollar value of permits construction projects, fences, sheds, business and industry exceeds through June 30, by $1 million the total for '82," Machnik said.

According to Machnik, several businesses - such as Master Lighting - are moving from leased space into their own, free-standing

A laundromat, cleaners and florist shop complex is newly opened on Canton Center north of Ford. A party store is under construction on Sheldon.

"Those are good signs when you see folks getting involved with that type of building," Machnik said, noting the Golden Gate shopping center project was dormant for three years before construction began.

If interest rates jump again, tha could slow the recent construction spurt, Machnik said.

Industrial construction is flat Machnik said. Township officials hope to improve the industrial outlook by paving and improving a portion of Haggerty Road in Canton's northern industrial corridor. Installation of new storm sewer system facilities is under way on Haggerty north of Warren Road.

SEVERAL NEW homes are under construction in Hampton Court West and Sunflower subdivisions off Canton Center south of Joy; Brentwood Estates, off Ford between Lilley and Sheldon; and GreenBrook subdivision at Canton Center and Palmer

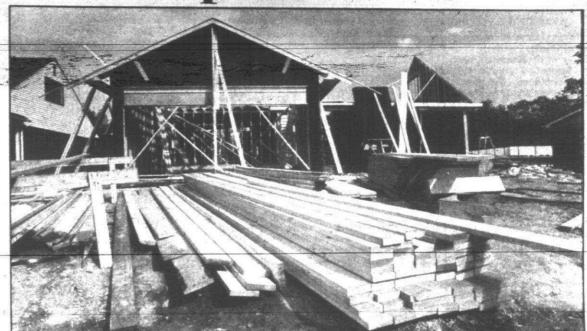

According to Machnik, the Green-Brook model features a 11/2-story, 1,800-square-foot "Cape Cod" styled home popular during World War II and Korean War years. The listed price is $58,900.

Curtis Kime, an architect-builder, has eight homes under construction in Hampton Court West.

'Interest in buying has been pretty steady," Kime said. "There are people out there who want to buy houses, but interest rates affect what people can afford to buy."

Kime, who took over his project in April, offers three-, four- and five-bedroom homes with up to 21/2 baths, with other options. Because Kime is an architect, he says he can offer custom features in a price range around $62,900 to $69,900.

'Seventy-five percent of our buyers already lived in Canton and are just moving up to a different home," Kime said. "They like Can-ton. They live here now and they want to stay here. That says good things for Canton.

Homes and businesses are part of an increase in construction in Canton. This house is being built in the Green Brook subdivision, near Canton

Charged deputy a 'good officer'

By Leonard Poger and M.B. Dillon Ward staff writer

Marc Davis of Canton, a Wayne County sheriff's deputy charged in the shooting death of his sister-in-law and the wounding of his wife and brotherin-law, has been regarded as "a good, cooperative officer and a likeable guy who got along well with everyone."

This was the assessment of Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano and Ed Rasmussen of Canton, a member of Ficano's executive staff.

Ficano, who worked with Davis and other deputies in the sheriff department's marine division, said, "it really saddened me" to learn that Davis had been charged in the shootings.

Everyone in the department was kind of shocked at what took place. It seems unbelievable," said Rasmussen, who worked with Davis in the political campaign last year of Wayne County Executive Willilam Lucas.

Davis, 32, has been charged with first-degree murder in the death of his sister-in-law Kimberly Sue Wilson. He was charged with two counts of assault with intent to murder in the shootings of his estranged wife, Diane, 26, also a sheriff's deputy, and Todd A. Wilson, 25, his sister-in-law's husband.

THE SHOOTINGS took place early Sunday during a family argument at the Wilsons' Garden City home. Mrs. Davis and the couple's two young children were staying with the Wilsons. The dead woman was Mrs. Davis' sis-

Services for Kimberly Wilson, 26, were held yesterday at Garden City's John N. Santeiu & Son Funeral Home. In addition to her husband and sister, she is survived by two daughters, April, 7. and Leta. 6: two sisters. Kathleen Pierce and Annette Cole; two brothers, David Schmitt and Steve Cole; and her parents, Marvin and Lucile Cole.

Todd Wilson and Mrs. Davis were listed in "fair condition" Tuesday. Davis is receiving treatment at University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Wilson is in Wayne County General Hospital in Westland

Davis is being held without bond at the Oakland County Jail. Davis' attorney Marvin Blake asked that he be held in Oakland County, because it would be safer than the Wayne County jail for Davis.

A Sept. 26 pre-trial hearing was set following his arraignment Sunday be fore Garden City District Judge Richard L. Hammer.

HAMMER entered a not guilty plea for Davis, who stood mute.

The Davises, who'd been having marital difficulties, had separated recently, authorities said. Davis moved to Flat Rock some weeks ago, and Ms. Davis and the couple's children had been living with the Wilsons for the past two

Police said Davis had gone to the Wilson home to talk to his wife. A "heated argument" followed, and Davis started to throw his wife's articles out of the house

Kimberly Wilson called Garden City police for help about 12:45 a.m. Sunday but upon arrival, officers said they found that "things were under control.

A neighbor called the police about 2 a.m. shortly after the shooting on the front lawn of the Wilson home. Mrs. Wilson, who was dead when police arrived, and Mrs. Davis were on the Wilson's lawn. Wilson was collapsed on a neighbor's front lawn. Officers said Wilson had been running away to call

Police said Davis had been armed with his service .38-caliber revolver.

The Plymouth-Canton School Board Monday named Ethylene Hazelwood as area coordinator for the Centennial Educational Park replacing Pat Patton, the newly-appointed principal of Lowell Middle School.

Hazelwood, an 18-year veteran of the school district, most recently taught secretarial science and served as office occupation co-op coordinator

As high school area coordinator, Patton was responsible for the counseling, media services, and skills for living programs. She also handled the evaluation and disciplining of teachers in those areas. Whether Hazelwood will assume all her duties is undecided.

School Board President Glenn Schroeder said the district is "extremely fortunate to be able to fill these positions from within its ranks.

'We believe (Hazelwood will) work well with teachers and administrators, and we know she has proven ability to work with students.

Norman Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations, said Hazelwood was among nine in-house candidates considered for the job. All were fine candidates, which speaks well for the district, said Dick Egli, community relations director for the district. "There was agreement that any of

Store inaugurates bulk food plan

If you're like most cooks, your cupboards are full of spices or other food items used only occasionally.

A new bulk foods section at the Meijer Thrifty Acres store in Canton is designed to serve people who want to buy spices and other products in quantities they want.

Customers will be able to buy the exact amount needed of 124 products, saving up to 40 percent over normal packaged items, said David Lukens, coordinator for public and consumer affairs at Meijer headquarters in Grand Rapids. Available are baking items (including cake and muffin mix), spices, coffee beans, soup, jam, snacks, cheese,

By buying these items in bulk, Meijer can pass savings along to the customer, Lukens said. "The customer realizes a savings aspect and convenience," he added. "We have received a number of compliments from senior citizens. It gives them an option to purchase the quantity they desire. Big families can purchase a lot more."

Besides controlling the amount purchased, shoppers will have the advantage of freshness, since many items such as spices lose their potency if they're not used quickly.

"It enhances our one-stop shopping concept," Lukens said. "It gives the customer another option of purchasing products "

CUSTOMERS USE scoops or tongs to place the desired quantity into a bag or container. The package is weighed by a clerk and affixed with a price la-

How are the foods protected from sticky fingers, coughs and colds?

Plastic covers on the bins automatically flap shut, Lukens said. Clerks monitor the department, and there are plenty of signs spelling out the rules.

"We're finding our customers are very conscious of the health situation,' Lukens added. "I think we are going to see customers monitoring."

The bulk food section, located in the produce department, opened in late August. The Canton store was the second in the 31-outlet chain to have a bulk department.

The program now is in four stores, and more expansion is expected, according to Lukens.

Meijer's move into the bulk food market is indicative of a trend that is becoming popular in Detroit-area grocommittees, holds a master of science degree from Eastern Michigan Univer-

Kee described her as a "very quiet, yet efficient person who can be depended on in any circumstance.' IN UNRELATED business, the school board approved a 3 percent raise for district crossing and security guards for the 1983-84 school year, and 6 percent hike for 1984-85. The guards, who took a wage freeze last year, earn roughly between minimum wage and $7 hourly, depending on length of service, and have no union representation.

Similarly, about 20 non-affiliated district employees were given like 3 and 6 percent salary increases. Affected are a wide range of district staffers ranging from executive secretaries to supervisors of accounting and maintenance and community relations department members.

'I know it is the board's feeling that these are loyal employees who've been awaiting this for some time," said Kee "There's really no reason to hold off on these salary increases when a fair and equitable proposal has been offered that is within the district's ability There been no threat of a work stop-

Rape

Self-defense clinic on rape draws capacity crowd

Deborah Stein Sharpe of Plymouth came to learn how not to meet the fate of her close friend who was raped and murdered by an unknown assailant.

In attendance was another young woman who's earned several karate belts since an attacker raped and beat her. "I wasn't born with a face like this," she said bitterly, pointing to a visibly disfigured nose.

A Canton senior citizen who suffers from arthritis and heart trouble came because "there's so much of it (sex crime) all over. (Sex offenders') minds are so sick they'll even rape a 90-yearold lady." The woman was hoping to leave the lecture armed with tips helpful to the elderly. "I'm not very strong anymore," she said.

She personalized herself as much as possible. Playing upon her attacker's sympathies, she told him she was the single parent of two young children who greatly needed her. She talked incessantly about both their interests and steeredaway from subjects that migh agitate him. After a seemingly endless ride, the woman was freed, unhurt.

AMERICAN CANCER

Everyone in this picture shares something in common. They've all had cancer, and are leading happy, normal lives.

Through progress in treatment, knowing the risks and early detection, over two million individuals have survived cancer.

But most people don't know that. They still think cancer is unbeatable.

A fact which over two million people would like to dispute.

How you live may save your life.

want to know how it's being handled. A keystone in the governor's economic re overy program is his Michigan Strategic Fund. It would make and underwrite loans, invest ments and grants with a view to diversifying Michi-

That's what it says in the large type of Blanc-hard's press release. In the small type of Senate Bill 386, however, we ind that the strategic fund's governing board would be exempt from the Open Meetings Act. And its records would be exempt from the Freedom of Information Act (sec. 5 (8))

THERE'S MUCH opportunity for mischief if such a fund is operated in secrecy.

The strategic fund would start with $54 million. We can anticipate all kinds of would-be millionaires and all kinds of inventors lining up to get a share of that finite pile of greenbacks. Some will get money. Others won't

We're not supposed to know. The strategic fund board's meetings and records are to be exempt from the normal Open Meetings and Freedom of Information laws.

THE GOVERNING board of the Michigan Strategic Fund will be political — no question about it. All nine members will be appointees of the gov-ernor. The fund's president and vice president "shall serve without a fixed term at the pleasure of the governor" (sec. 5 (4)).

Among those directors will be the governor's Commerce Department director and the state treasurer. Two other members could be governmental officials. The non-governmental members also could turn out to be political supporters of the

That's all right. The man who won the gubernatorial election is entitled to have his choices in those jobs, assuming they are honest and competent.

And as political appointees, they should also be prepared to operate under the public's eye.

All local governments must hold public hearings on their budgets. They must make copies of the budget available to the public. They must discuss their budgets in open meetings, hear comments in open meetings, make amendments in open meetings, vote in open meetings and make their records

'High tech': no panacea, but no bogeyman either ar different from the 18th and 19th century indus

Our history books told tales of workmen - and they were "workmen," not "workers" - destroying machinery because it would displace them. It would be nearly impossible to do the same thing today, ndustrial security being what it is.

Upton Sinclair in "The Jungle" described the deadening impact of machinery on craftsmanship Where Jurgis worked there was a machine which cut and stamped a certain piece of steel about two square inches in size; the pieces came tumbling out upon a tray, and all that human hands had to do was to pile them in regular rows, and change the tray at intervals. This was done by a single boy. Thirty thousand of these pieces he handled every day, nine or 10 millions every year how many in a lifetime it rested with the gods to

THESE TALES came to mind as Michigan state government under William Milliken committed itself to high technology at the opening of the 1980s. And so when Ronald R. Watcke of Troy proposed a series of articles putting high technology in perspective, I was intrigued. Unlike many prospective columnists who call or write. Watcke had nothing to sell — no dental or law practice to push, no political ax to grind. His academic background is in history and education. He was dean of vocational education at Wayne County Community College because of his administrative background, not engineering; he is currently dean of liberal arts at WCCC

His columns are far from sensational. Truth rarely is. But if you have been following them since Aug. 18, you will have picked up a realistic grasp of what high technology is all about.

It's no bogeyman. It's no panacea for our economic and industrial problems.

THERE ARE high technology industries, such as electric equipment, instruments and transportation. equipment. There are "low tech" industries such as steel and textiles which use high tech processes such as computers and automated factory systems so he pointed out in his first article.

In contrast to the situation described by Upton Sinclair, Watcke points out that "many workers will experience an upgrading of occupational skills and a healthy dose of retraining to keep abreast of the apid technological changes.

High tech employment opportunities are increasng by leaps and bounds — somewhere between 30 and 90 percent by 1990. But you have to consider that these are the leaps and bounds of an infant. High tech's proportion of the total job market increase will be only 8 percent or less by 1990. That was from Watcke's Aug. 25 quiz.

THE NOTION that metropolitan Detroit can become a high tech leader is more than rhetoric. "I believe Detroit has the clear-cut advantage (over Chicago) based on its international reputation as the leading tool manufacturing and metal machine center," Watcke said. Already, 100 to 125 high techfirms are located in a ridge from Troy to Farmingn Hills to Ann Arbor.

On Sept. 22, he uncovered a quote from General Motors Chairman Roger B. Smith: "Every time the cost of labor goes up $1 an hour, 1,000 more robots become economical." American factories have 7,000 robots today. By 1990 there will be 35,000 ro-

One gets the clear impression high tech is neither as frightening nor as much a boon as it's cracked up to be. If you're looking for a picture of either hell or heaven, try another news medium.

Indian Guides give children quality time

A FRIEND called to tell me about a program he and his son had joined. They would both dress up like Indians and go to meetings.

It sounded silly, but my friend was a no-nonsense type, so I asked him for more information. After attending a meeting of about six fathers and sons, I

That was my introduction to Indian Guides, a program designed to foster a close relationship beween one parent and one child.

That year, my son and I attended one meeting a month, went on one outing a month and camped out

Both of us had a good time and I think learned something about each other. That was eight years

When the school year ended, Indian Guides was over. The next school year, there were distractions. I guess you could call me a dropout. I haven't thought much about it since.

ON MONDAY I read in our Farmington newspaper about the start of the new year for Indian Guides. I called Vic Kruppenbacher, program director for the Farmington Y, to find out about the changes in Indian Guides in the past eight years. (Programs are sponsored by Ys.)

As expected, there have been. The idea of promoting better relationships between father and son has expanded. It's now called Indian Family Programs and includes both sexes.

The new programs are: Indian Princess (father, daughter), Indian Maidens (mother/daughter), and Indian Braves (mother/son) "As women have changed their roles, so have our programs," Kruppenbacher said. "Today many mothers are working full time and don't get to spend much time with their children. Some mothers are divorced and looking for ways to spend limited. but quality, time with their children.

Indian Maidens were added in Farmington four years ago. This is the second year for Indian

All of the Indian programs are doing well, according to Kruppenbacher. More than 300 families in the Farmington area participate.

We get many positive comments from the families," Kruppenbacher said. "Most new people join because of recommendations from friends already in Indian Family programs. Also, we get many repeat parents who re-enter with younger children."

BASED ON MY one year's experience, I'd recommend Indian Family programs to any parent. I never changed my mind about a grown man looking silly wearing an Indian headdress and vest. But that's not the point of the program.

It's difficult for a parent to give a child individual attention. The Indian program requires that time be spent together without the normal distractions. Family Ys in your area are signing up new peo ple. Indian programs are for children 5-9. Children ington Y at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Sept. 27. Since leaving Indian Guides, I have had a daughter. Maybe it's time for me to put on that headdress and join a new Indian program.

Going back to the east side: a strange land

MOTHER HAD business on the Detroit's east side, where we used to live. I volunteered to take her. I thought it might be interesting to tour the old neighborhood, see the old house. I hadn't been by that way in many years.

We drove down the freeway and talked about some of the people who lived in the neighborhood. where they all had gone. No one lives there anymore, mother said. She knew a couple who lived on the next street over from her old house. "They stay in the house all the time and keep the doors locked, even in the summer," she said. "Their house has been broken into three times." I got off at Chalmers and made a left at Harper the old main street of my community. I remembered it as a once-thriving shopping area with people walking up and down the street, going into stores, the paper boy hawking the latest edition on the corner. Mom walked my sister and me with her as she made stops at the baker, the butcher, the

THERE'S THE old dime store where my crime career was cut short. I stole a skate key on a dare and was pinched by the store manager. Brought home by the cops, as sad and rueful a 10-year-old as you can imagine. Never again, I vowed. The store is now boarded up.

There's where old John's confectionary used to be. Every Saturday a neighbor boy and I went up to buy a chocolate malted and listen to old John dispense grandfatherly advice. The store sells burglar alarms now. No more butchers, bakers, dime stores, clothing stores, confectionaries in this neighborhood. That was a different age.

Now there are party stores, bars, beauty shops, magic shops, adult books stores, stores that sell betting books. Half the buildings are boarded up. A couple have signs that say "Open," but there is

Turn right, down a few blocks and there's my old street - the neighborhood. Went to elementary school a few blocks down, high school a mile away. All of my early friends lived within a few blocks. We were at each others' houses daily. The houses are the same; I recognize each and every one. Except, for the most part, they're beat up or run down and no one I know lives there anymore There's Georgie's house - boarded up. "They couldn't sell it," mother said. There's Dayeks' house boarded up. Couldn't sell, mother said.

MANY OF the houses look ravaged. A door missing here, a window there. There are yards where the grass is two months long and the bushes overgrown and, yet, there are also many neat trim, recently painted houses and well-tended lawns that people maintain despite the deterioration around them.

Ah. There's the old house. Funny, everything looks smaller. Was the lawn that tiny, the porch that small? The garage is sagging, but not too bad. New door on the house. Looks triple strength. There's the dope house," mother said pointing to a house across the street

Mother moved from the neighborhood six years ago. She was mugged at the grocery store on a Sunday morning after church and decided she wanted to move. "I'm glad I don't live here anymore." mother said. "Me too," I said.

I don't know what I expected, but I thought it would be more nostalgic, that I might yearn for the past, that maybe I would see someone I know walking down Harper and I could honk and wave, stop the car, jabber about old times.

Maybe this is the way it always is with American cities which grow old. I don't know. I only feel that I am no longer a part of it. I was a visitor to a place I once felt a fondness for, but now it seems like an alien land

The growth of robot use has been dramatic. Indusry spent $60 million on robots in 1974, $90 million in '80 and an estimated $130 million in '81. Experts predict the expenditure will soar to $2 billion-a-year

Approximately 7,000 robots are being used in U.S. actories and an estimated 35,000 will be in use by 1990.General Motors now has some 500 robots but expects to have more than 14,000 by 1990. This would be more than twice the number of robots in U.S. factories this year

WHY ROBOTS? GM Chairman Roger B. Smith recently said, "Every time the cost of labor goes up $1 an hour, 1,000 more robots become economical. John Teresko, writing in Industry Week, says: "Robots are magnificent workers. They never tire, never strike nor ask for raises, and they always do things

The matter of reduced labor costs is important. Robots are costly. A simple robot may cost $15,000; a highly sophisticated unit may cost 10 times that amount. The useful life span of an average robot may be eight years, working two shifts. Despite this high cost, robots are cheaper than the handling of poisonous chemicals and radioactive numan labor for some jobs. There have been wild reports of robots taking away anywhere from 100,000 to 1 million jobs by 1990. Many pro-robot supporters have argued there will be no noticeable worker displacement and additional new jobs will be created.

THE TRUTH probably lies somewhere in between. For one things, robots can only be used for certain iobs. It is estimated that robots can perform less than 10 percent and probably less than 5 percent of industry jobs by 1990.

Class size is out of hand

To the editor:

I think it's important in this season of school employee salary increase de-bates and school budget discussions to say something about class size.

My English class sizes at Canton High School have in some cases doubled in the last 11 years. Of course the bigger my classes the more work I take home and the fewer students I get to interact with on a one-to-one basis. In writing classes this is especially bad; evidence shows that writing students fall in achievement when the writing teacher has more than 100 students per day (National Council of Teachers of English). I now have 160 students per

The way class size is treated in this district reminds me of the Emperor's New Clothes: the people in charge think they have something nice going on when really they have little idea of the real consequences of their actions. Certainly the one thing they do know is that there is a lot of money in class size manipulation. If you give each teacher at C.E.P., for example, one more student per day you can eliminate one teacher (saving upwards of $30,000 in some cases). If you give each teacher at C.E.P. just one more student per hour you can eliminate up to five teachers! So the people who get paid a lot of money to "save" money have found this an irresistible source. Of course teachers and students are the least powerful members of the institution so little is done to prevent this from happening.

Actually increasing class size has been like a blank check to the board and administration. They think they've saved money with impunity but actually they've contributed, in my opinion, to the decline of excellence in education; then they join the cry of "teacher mediocrity" as though they've played no role in producing some of the legitimate criticisms of education. Interestingly, in 11 years I've never seen a curriculum administrator in my room (except for my immediate supervisors) to investigate the consequences of increased class size, and we have three highly paid ones in the central adminis-

Within the context of the Gas and Go station, there are some valuable human elements involved. The manager of the station, Butch Alberts, runs Alberts' Automotive, a contributing business and worthwhile service within our community. To our knowledge, Alberts has never been contacted by the city or by Boron Oil Co. about this contemplated sale of property. No consideration has been given to the value of his business and his service to our city.

We must question even the wisdom of placing a hospital facility on this corner. With one facility already located on Canton Center Road in Canton Township, and another being constructed on Main Street in Plymouth, is there even a need for this unit? What about parking? Will the proposed parking deck offer quick and free access to the hospital, and will the structure enhance the beauty of the businesses already located in the area?

It is our hope and prayer that much more thought will be given to this issue before all of the big business deals are

To the editor:

The Plymouth Community Fall Festival Board of Directors wishes to extend a warm thank you to all who visited, participated in, helped, volunteered and made this year's festival a success.

The community service groups help every one in Plymouth. This non-profit fund-raiser does much for the community throughout the year. Families, friends, and co-workers deserve a pat on the back for the work well done on this celebration. The board sends a thank you to one and all.

DORTMUNDER Oktoberfest

Liz and Ernie Bevins, a teacher at Pioneer Middle School, are regulars at the Oktoberfest.

Arnold Durecki (left) served a hitch at dispensing the brew and pretzels at the 1982 Oktoberfest. Horst Buller (above), leader of the Melodias, will be back this year to provide music for dancing.

Club plans Oktoberfest party

Folks who can't get to Munich, Germany or to Kitchener, Ontario for Oktoberfest can get the full flavor of the event at the Plymouth Cultural Center. The German American Club of Plymouth will have its Oktoberfest Saturday, Oct. 8, with beer and wine imported from Germany for the occasion.

All nationalities are invited to join the festivities which begin at 8 p.m. and continue until 1 a.m. Club members don their dirndyl dresses or their lederhosen, costumes native to Bavaria where the festival originated in the early 1800s.

It started as a wedding celebration for the marriage of the Crown Prince of Bavaria (later King Ludwig I) to Princess Theresa of Saxonia-Hildburghausen. The wedding united more than 100 small territories with the old Bavarian lands into one kingdom. A national holiday was declared, and heads of the governments were invited to Munich for the event. Horse races arranged for the wedding were replaced over the years with costume parades, and the festival was moved to the last week in September, although the Oktoberfest name was carried on.

MILLIONS of people from all over the world attend the festival in Munich. The Munich breweries set up beer tents where food and drink are served and entertainment is continuous. The bigger the brewery, the bigger the tent, and some seat 10,000. Some seat only 1,000. Only Munich breweries participate, but visitors are hard pressed to visit all of them in one day.

At the Plymouth version, German food is available, prepared by club members. And there will be large hot pretzels with tartars served at the end of the evening.

The tartars are open-faced sandwiches, with ground steak, seasoned with herbs, on rounds of German rye bread. Chopped scallions may be added, according to taste.

A German band, the Melodias, will provide music for singing and dancing. Entertainment will be by Toledo Schuhplatter, winner of many trophies in dance contests. Joe Gates is "vor platter" or leader of the dancers.

ALL THE CLUB members join in preparing for the Oktoberfest party. Tickets are $4 per person and may be reserved by calling 453-5839 or 420-2259.

The Plymouth Cultural Center is at 525 Farmer Street, Plymouth.

Bob Fitzner, long-time member of the club, wears Bavarian attire for the party.

All nationalities flock to the Plymouth Cultural Center for the annual Oktoberfest at the Plymouth Cultural Center. This shows some of the crowd at last year's party.

The Abolition of Slavery, The Federal Income Tax - have been proposed by a two-thirds vote in each House of Con gress and then ratified by three-fourths of the State Legislatures. This process has allowed careful drafting and full discussion of these fundamental chagnes in our way of life.

No longer content to amend the Constitution by this well-tested method, a highly organized political action group of ultra-conservatives is now seeking to amend the Constitution by a Constitutional Convention.

This option is defined by Article V of the Constitution which provides that Congress "on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the States shall call for a convention for proposing amendments." THE CURRENT proposal calls for a

Where the flying fishermen play

The waiter poured the coffee and we both sat there watching the hot, black liquid fill the cup. Finally, Joyce looked up at me. "For a guy celebrating a nice pay raise, you sure don't seem to be overflowing with joy."
I laughed and shook my head. "Hey, I'm happy abo the raise. Lord knows we can use the extra dough.

After fifteen years of marriage, I knew Joyce was not someone to be put off when she sensed something wrong.

"So why the trapped look in your eye? Is it the work?" Well, it's all right. I feel secure. And I sure studied for it." She just kept looking at me, waiting. So I finally spit it "However, I don't get a great deal of satisfaction from it guess I really don't enjoy it. And yet, the more I make, the I guess I really don't enjoy it. And yet, the more I make, the longer I do it, the harder it will be to ever get out.

She nodded, not surprised at all. "Then why not do something you enjoy?

I shrugged and looked out the window. A small plane was banking into what looked like a final airport approach. I kept watching him as I spoke. "Looking back—I guess I should have joined an airline when I got out of the Air Force. There's nothing I like better than flying—except, well, maybe fishing."

"So start a charter line for fishermen. You know, those rich ones, who can afford to seek out remote fishing spots.

The idea appealed to me a lot. "Yeah, what a dream.

But you need some hard cash to get that going."

She grabbed my hand. "Listen, we've both been buying United States Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan since we started working. How much do we have?" I had the feeling she knew. I had forgotten our cache of Bonds, but they'd been growing for a long time. "I'm not sure... but a lot," "We've got enough to start. Enough for a down payment. I always thought I married an adventurous man. Well, that was two years ago. Now I'm doing what I want to do. Just flew a bunch of businessmen up near the Canadian border for some of the best fishing in the country And Joyce is happy running the business end. Instead of being a secretary, she's hiring one.

But, you know, we both still buy Bonds on a regular schedule, 'cause we know that's the easy way to save for those dreams. Every time I take off, I think: "Bonds helped get this airline off the ground."

Payne's plans true to target

LK IS CHEAP. In boxing, it's priceless meaning it's totally worthless. So it was with a certain degree of doubt that I listened to Livonia super heavyweight Craig Payne a month ago as he laid plans that would take him to an Olympic gold

"I'm not going to lose another amateur fight," he said. He had just lost a controversial decision to Tyrell Biggs in the U.S. trials for the Pan Am

"I'm going to win the North American title next month. That'll earn me a a shot at the World championships in October. After I win that, I'll beat Biggs in the ABF tournament. The only thing left then will be the Olympic games."

HOLD ON a minute, I wanted to say to Craig. After all, he wasn't exactly on a hot streak. Besides losing to Biggs, he had been ruled a knockout victim of Al Evans at the National Festival. He had also lost a few international fights.

That would make anyone doubt such plans. I did. Fighters often spout dreams of grandeur. Most often they go unfulfilled.

Craig Payne seemed different. I wanted to believe him. But facts are facts, and the recent past did not favor Payne's plans.

"I'm going to be like a dog," he said. "These guys won't even recognize me, I'll be so mean. No more Mr. Nice Guy, eh? Well, saying it is one thing, doing it is another. We'll just wait and see SEPT. 15, 1983 — a date Payne will never forget. It was on that day he took a giant leap forward in his boxing career.

But more than that, he proved something unlike most of the Muhammed Ali mimmicks that populate the sport's ranks these days, Payne did not just spout empty promises.

He did just what he said he would What he did was successfully complete the first step of his plan — he won the North American title and earned a berth in the World Tournament. And he did it by soundly beating Teofilo Stevenson.

Stevenson, the boxing legend. The Cuban fighter has won the last three Olympic gold medals. He hadn't lost to a U.S. boxer in a dozen years. Until last Thursday.

"I WAS CONFIDENT the whole time," Payne said of the Stevenson fight Monday. After defeating Stevenson he KO'd Roberto Galan of Guatemala in the second round of Saturday's finals.

"I stuck to my game plan and went right after (Stevenson). I didn't respect him, his right hand or anything. I made him fight my fight."

This was a different Craig Payne speaking. It wasn't the same Craig Payne who had been plagued by Biggs-itis, an ailment that made the Livonian obsessed with whipping Biggs, the nation's No. 1r .ted super heavyweight.

This wasn't the same Craig Payne who, when inally getting his shot at Biggs, let it slip from his

"I was a dog," Payne said Monday. "I let the dog in me come out."

Just like he said he would.

IF THERE IS a turning point in Craig's career, it did not come against Stevenson. It came against Understand, Biggs has received all the hoopla and attention. All the television execs and promoters backed his career.

That tore at Payne. Hey, he said, if Biggs was the best, let him prove it in the ring. Prior to last month, the only time the two had met ended in a controversial decision in Biggs' favor.

To Payne, favor was a word that fit Biggs well as in favoritism. Boxing's manipulators did whatever could be done to keep the two from meeting, Payne felt. Fixing a tourney draw. Favoritism among the judges. Et cetera, et cetera.

The Pan Am trials should have given Payne a chance to prove himself. After all the waiting, he would get his shot at Biggs.

That's when the Biggs psyche out knocked Payne

"IF I'D HAD the desire to win at the Pan Am trials like I had against Stevenson, Biggs would be in retirement right now," Craig said. The problem was he didn't. Boxing big shots had Biggs slotted in for the Pan Am team berth. A press conference was scheduled. All before Payne and Biggs had stepped into the ring. That, more than anything, ended Payne's chances for victory. If they want Biggs on the Pan Am team, let 'em take him, Payne figured. I don't want

Those were his thoughts as he entered the ring. After a close first round, Payne knocked Biggs down twice in the second. One was ruled a slip. He had Biggs beaten. But his concentration waned, and Biggs finished strong, winning the third round.

Payne lost the decision — indeed, he even lost the second round, although he claims Biggs was nearly finished and never threw a punch

"I was so set on Biggs, I forgot what I should have been doing," Payne said Monday, which was just try to win fights, not worry about his rival.

IRONICALLY, FATE and Payne's talent intervened. Biggs, who was knocked out by Stevenson a year ago, lost in his first bout of the Pan Am games to Cuban Jorge Gonzalez.

At Schoolcraft Invitational

Livonia Churchill made it a clean sweep Saturday in the Schoolcraft College cross country invitationals for boys and girls.

The Churchill boys, gaining three of the top 10 places, defended its crown with a score of 119. Northville and Redford Union were second and third, respectively (results appear on page 4c).

Julie Recla's first-place finish spurred the Churchill girls to the team victory over Western Lakes rivals Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Sa-

The 18th annual boys event, drawing competitors from 16 schools, was won by Stevenson senior Ken Dubois, who covered the flat three-mile course in 16:00.

RU's David Adkins was second, 25 seconds behind the leader.

Churchill garnered third (Don Miller), fifth (Doug Plachta) and 10th (Paul Schwartz) spots.

Recla and teammate Dorene Dudek, both seniors, gained first and ninth overall to lead Churchill. Other Churchill finishers included Jill Caimotto and Amy Masternak, 26th and 27, respectively. And freshman Kristen Schultz was 31st.

FOR THE SALEM boys, who placed fifth overall, Scott Steiner earned a berth on the All-Invitational team placing sixth with a time of 16:47. Eric Pedersen and Phil Madis placed in a virtual tie for 21st with a times of 17:31.

For Canton, who placed 10th, Mark Cratty was 16th with a time 17:16. Tim Collins was the Chiefs next finisher, 35th, with a time of 17:51.

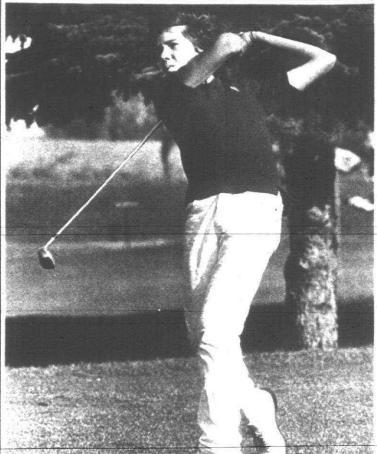

Salem's girls, who placed third, got a 10th place finish from Trish Donnelly. She also earned a berth on the All-Invitational team. Shelly Simons and Amy Mayazaki placed 16th and 17th respectively. Ida Williams was the first Chief runner to cross the line. She placed 43rd. LAST THURSDAY, Canton, Salem and Thurston met in a tri-meet. It ended inb a clean sweep for

Spartans win best ball tourney again

Livonia Stevenson captured the 12th with a 166 annual Plymouth Best Ball Tournament Tuesday at Brae Burn with a four-player score of 141. It was Stevenson's second successive win at the Plymouth tourney.

Harry Youmanns, Jeff Dixson, Don Williams and Craig Szewc comprised the winning team.

Ypsilanti was second with a 143 and Northville third with a 149 in the 25-

Plymouth Canton finished fifth with a 152 and Salem was back in the pack shot an 84.

Youmans and Dixson, Stevenson's A team, fired a 70, which tied them with Ypsi for the individual honors. Ypsi won the sudden-death playoff on the second hole. Canton's A team of Dave Musch and

A seven-point surge at the close of the third quarter powered Plymouth Salem past Livonia Stevenson Tuesday night, 40-36.

Salem trailed the Spartans 20-17 at the half. With less than two minutes left in the third quarter, the Rocks scored seven unanswered points to pull ahead, 29-26. They never trailed after that. Pam McBride led all scorers with 17 points. Fran Whittaker added 12. "Salem played the kind of game we expected them to play," said Stevenson coach Wayne Henry. "I think we proved that we are capable of playing with quality teams. We are just going to have to make less mistakes."

The Rocks, on the other hand, proved they could overcome a height disadvantage. The Spartans were by far the taller team, but Salem hustled and scrapped and got their share of rebounds.

The win ups Salem's record to 4-1.

REDFORD UNION 41 PLYMOUTH CANTON 32

It wasn't enough to lose the game Phyllis Cunningham Mulroy's hard-luck crew lost yet another player to an injury This time it was Diana Knickerbocker, who had been leading the Chiefs in scoring. Knickerbocker, after scoring four points in the first three minutes of the game, sustained ligament damage to her knee. She will be out for at least two to three weeks, Mulroy guessed. "Murphy's law is in effect," she said.

Knickerbocker joins Lou Ann Hamblin on the injured list, though Hamblin is expected back next week. Canton has also been without the services of Tami Budlong for much of the season.

Despite the injury, Canton hung close to RU until the fourth quarter. Trailing 33-29 going into the fourth, Redford outscored Canton 8-3 to ice the win. "We didn't execute at all. We made at least 25 turnovers. We played a pretty good game for about a half to three quarters, but in the fourth we did nothing. We deserved to lose," Mulroy said. Lisa Russell led the Chiefs with 10 points and Marie Krashovetz added six.

"By the end of the season we may have our full team together. The kids will get to experience for the first time what it's like to play with a full team," Mulroy said.

Kellie Szabo and Kelley Kennedy each scored 12 points for Redford.

Canton's record is now 2-3. Redford is 2-2.

Payne outslugs Cuban champ

In a stunning upset, Livonia's Craig Payne did what no other U.S. boxer had done in the last 13 years.

Indeed, what Payne accomplished was something few boxers ever managed - he defeated the top-rated super heavyweight fighter in the world. three-time Olympic gold medalist Teofilo Stevenson of Cuba, in the North American Boxing Championships last Thursday in Houston.

On Saturday Payne, 22, made his vicory complete by stopping Guatemala's Roberto Galan in the second round to capture the North American title and earn a berth in the World Tournament Oct. 17-22 in Rome.

Payne's win over Stevenson was by a right to the body. Both times the Livo-3-2 split decision, although both Payne and coach Paul Soucy of the Livonia Boxing Club felt the Cuban champ never won a round. The fight will be telecast on ABC-TV Saturday.

ACCORDING TO SOUCY, Payne showed no respect for Stevenson, ignor- difficult test for the young boxer.

Men's All-stars

sound warning for new season

There is no question about it now. The all time records in the Detroit area are in danger and the bowling season is only a month old.

The first warning came in the men's all-star clasic when the Stroh team posted a 3532 series at Astro Lanes. Then, the women came to the fore when Cheryl Daniels, bowling with women all stars, came through with a 781 at Luxury Lanes. This is only six pins shy of the record posted last season by Penny Behn. Cheryl also holds fourth place on the all time list with a 773 bowled in the 1981-82 sea-

THE HIGH SCORING predicted before the season opened is showing up with each succeeding week. For example, not a week goes by that several more sharpshooters are admitted to the 700 club. It used to be a great achievement when a bowler fashioned a 700. It is becoming a bit common place

Two more members were admitted this week when Chuck O'Rourke fired a 741 in the men's league at Merri-Bowl and Tim Nippa came through with a 704 at Woodland lanes. O'Rouke had a middle game of 279 and Nippa was helped by an opening 257

GARDEN LANES. Bruno De Nambro missed the coveted 700 club by just three pins while firing in the Parents without Partners league. He had a 268, but couldn't get the last three pins.

Among the other high counts Marvin Stone had a 630 in the Road Commission loop and Mora Via turned in a 595 to pace the women's league.

MERRI-BOWL. While Chuch O'Rouke fired his 741 there were others who did well. Steve Mitchell topped the Saturday night loop with 691 and Brad Lloyd had a 265 single while Randy Smith turned in a 655 with a 278 game in the men's doubles.

WOODLAND LANES. Judy Honhert showed the way in the Early Birds loop with a 243 in 534 and Sharon Barliakos had a 240 for high single.

WESTLAND Bowl Tom Wojnowksi was high man in the all star loop with a 638 and Dave Barnhardt paced the Monday Men with a 605. The best bowling of the week came in the youth ague where Dave Burgo showed the way with 636 and John Berlonggre had high single with 235. OTHER GOOD SHOWINGS. Gladys Siekas took top place for the week in in the Bel-Aire women's classic with a 650. Jack Van Buhler was aided by a 232 middle game to pace the Super Bowlers at the uper Bowl with a 602.

Orchestra invited to Jordan

After the seemingly long summer recess, musical events are about to resume here in full force. This means among other things, that music critics, who might have become rusty during this period of idleness, have to sharpen their pencils again.

The first major event of this season was a special concert presented by the Renaissance City Chamber Orchestra. The turnout was high, with most seats on all floors filled. Tickets were free The one thing that wasn't cheap was the performance.

The event that prompted this special concert was the scheduled trip of this group to Jordan, on Sept. 15. This was made possible by official invitation of the Jordanian government, which is underwriting the expenses. This is indeed remarkable, because this Mid-Eastern Arab country isn't traditionally viewed as a classical music center. The fact that Misha Rachlevsky, the organize of the series, happens to be Jewish, didn't stand in the way of the invitation, which shows that occasionally music can triumph over politics.

THE PROGRAM consisted of three works, two of which are familiar. These were Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," which opened the program, and Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons," which was the concluding work, comprising the second half of the pro-

Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" is performed so frequently that not everybody relishes the prospect of listening to it again. Last season I heard the sequence twice at Orchestra Hall and one of those was with the Renaissance Chamber Orchestra.

At the appropriate moments, the orchestra made room for the sound of the harpsichord, played by Catherine Gordon. This is in contrast to some past performances, when the sound of the harpsichord was virtually inaudible.

Rachlevsky was shining with his expressive skill and impressive technique through most of the demanding four concerti, with the exception of the final movement of the summer concerto, in which he ran into problems with the higher notes.

Wild Wings Gallery Artwork in a 'natural' setting

staff writer

A visitor to the Wild Wings Gallery in Plymouth easily could imagine being in the great outdoors.

Step inside and you are surrounded by ducks and other wildlife fowls, hunt-ing dogs and fish. Many times it takes a second or third glance to realize that the "wildlife" inside the gallery on west Ann Arbor Trail is a sculpture, painting or other type of artwork instead of a live specimen.

The quality of its artwork and its "natural" setting have added to the gallery's success and popularity, according to Wild Wings representatives.

"This is all nature," said Patricia Mosher, gallery director. "It's beautiful to be around. A lot of people come in just to browse all the time. It's a peaceful, relaxing atmosphere. You don't have to be a hunter to appreciate it."

MOSHER GESTURES in a room filled with limited edition and original wildlife art, from stamps to stained glass. Items at the gallery range in price from $4.50 to $200.

Some of the painting prints feature a remarque, a small pencil or watercolor sketch added by the artist at the bottom of the print. Each remarque is applied individually, so no two are exactly alike.

"It's personal and adds to the print," Mosher explained.

State and federal duck stamp prints are also available at the gallery. Artists from around the country compete every year to design the new stamp prints, which are required for hunting

AN UPSTAIRS "originals room" features comfortable chairs along with the displayed works.

People have come 100 miles just to sit in the gallery," said Kal Jabara, Wild Wings owner. "They happen to like wildlife art."

In addition, the gallery offers related gift items, including lamps, jewelry, ties and hand-carved tie tacs, popcorn poppers, books, brochures and information about nature programs. There is even a telephone, encased in a duck sculpture, that "quacks" instead of

"Everybody isn't a collector," Mosher said. "We're not just selling pictures, we're promoting the wildlife, just letting people know what's out

Wild Wings displays the works of some well-known artists, including Larry Hayden. But many of those whose art is exhibited and sold there are art students and teachers from around the area. Artists contact the gallery about exhibiting their works, as did one artist from California who had heard of the Plymouth gallery.

"There are a lot of creative people around," Mosher said.

The artwork must meet certain standards before the gallery will carry

WILD WINGS hosts some three or four showings around the year, according to Mosher. Its last exhibit drew an estimated 1,000 to 1,200 persons.

The next event by the Plymouth gallery is a group artist show scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 15, at the Mayflower Meeting House, one block away. Among those to be featured at the show are Heiner Hertling, who designed the winning 1984 Michigan trout stamp, and Cathy McClung. who placed second in this year's Michigan duck stamp design competition.

Watercolor artist Nita Engle will be at Wild Wings on Sunday, Nov. 6, to show original paintings and limited edition prints. Engle will be the featured Jabara said. "I've had a lot of fun with it (the gallery)."

"Michigan has so much wildlife, so people are very aware of nature and the wildlife," Mosher said. "We get all ages, from the little child who will point and say, 'duck' or 'dog,' to the adult who will appreciate the work.

By David P. Messing special writer

Last week I mentioned that we would cover more uses and techniques with felt tip pens. There are markers for all ages and all man-

You say the smell of markers makes you sick? How about a set of markers that makes you hungry

Mr. Sketch makes an assortment of watercolor markers that is scented in food aromas. Black is licorice, brown is cinnamon, blue is blueberry, orange smells like tangerines and, of course, red is cherry.

The colors and the smells go on and on. Watercolor markers are best suited for children but adults enjoy sniffing these markers as much as the kids do.

I can tell because when they approach the counter to make a purchase, there are tattletale multicolored dots on their nose and upper lip. But aside from being low in calories, they are mostly just for fun.

Speaking of fun, have you ever seen Color Trix by Marvy? This set of markers still amazes me.

About six colors come in the set and two clear color changers. You can, for example, stroke on a paper the blue; then when you cross over the blue with the color changer, it will turn a bright yellow. Every color changes to a new bright color.

These sets are under $3 and come in "wide" "fine" tip assortments. After studying how they work. I am convinced that they are magic

NOW MARVY also makes a watercolor marker that does have some commerical and artistic merits. These markers are fine tipped and range in color assortments from 6 to 60.

One of my customers at the Art Store put me onto their best application. Chris uses them for stipple renderings. Stipple, or pointalism, is merely lots and lots of dots.

Chris does all his renderings on strathmore and Aquarious paper, which is a smooth, nonbuckling watercolor paper. They must be beautiful because he stays busy doing only commissioned drawings.

Be careful, even though both watercolor and permanent markers tend to fade (or are fugitive), watercolors seem to fade the fastest, especially in direct sunlight.

My whole life I wanted a white marker. I thought that would be neat if markers came in opaque, meaning "non-transparent."

they put a man on the moon, inflated cars till they cost as much as a house a marker that issues oil base paint The paint marker nibs are not felt - as a matter of fact I don't know what they are. But I know they work.

Paint markers are available in about 24 colors. They mark on anything and they are truely opaque. Most people are familiar with the gold and silver which ranges from a wide nib to a fine nib (.05), which is about the same line as a ball point pen.

Imagine the trouble I could of gotten into with an oil base permanent opaque marker when I was just a kid.

It used to be that necessity was the mother of invention. But now money breeds invention at a higher rate than necessity. So it is with the marker market. I was once given, at a buyers show, a ceramic tip, fine point marker with a retail cost of $17.95. That might impress someone if you left the price tag on.

My point is that every 10 days there is a new marker on the market. But as far as artwork goes, it is not the marker that is in the hand but the hand that holds the marker.

One of my favorite lessons involves a felt tip pen on colored mat board. First do your drawing on white paper. Once you have perfected your drawing, transfer it to a piece of mat board, preferably a dark or rich colored

Use a graphite stick to coat the back of your original. When you center your original drawn the mat hoard it is to the mat board. But before you tape the original, be sure to make the tape less tacky or it will tear the soft paper which is on mat

To do this simply peel off several pieces of the tape and place them on your pants or shirt. When you peel the tape off, it will be covered with lint, which reduces the tack of your tape. Now you have a corrected and perfected drawing transferred to a piece of colored mat board

From TV news to fine arts photography

By Bob Downes staff writer

While many thousands of television viewers are familiar with Jerry Stanecki's work as the "Newshawk" for WXYZ-TV Channel 7, few know of his skill as a fine arts photographer.

Stanecki, an investigative reporter for six years with WXYZ, left the station in March in order to pursue other interests, one of which is photography. Over the past year he's concentrated his efforts on capturing the rural south and the essence of wildflowers on film.

The result is a one-man show which is a first for both Stanecki and Gallery Birmingham, which is on the second floor of the Merrillwood Building, 251 E. Merrill, Birmingham. The show which opens with a 5-9 p.m. reception Friday will continue through Oct. 15. Stanecki will be on hand at the reception to answer questions about his work.

Stanecki,41, has spent 20 years as a radio and television reporter, but his roots as a photographer go back even further. He started taking pictures at the age of 10 with a box Brownie camera

Although he became increasingly intrigued by photography through the years, his career as a reporter kept him too busy to pursue the art form as much as he wanted

"It was a hobby that was a frustration for me," he said. "I'd get involved with it and then have to stop what I was doing because of my work."

BEFORE coming to Detroit, Stanecki spent five years as an investigative reporter in Oklahoma, where he uncovered stories involving political corruption. He arrived in Detroit as a reporter for WXYZ radio, where he reported on the Teamsters and organized crime. From there he was recruited by Channel 7 as the

His work at Channel 7 was rewarding in terms of the people he helped, but the pressures of the job eventually turned him to other

"I declined to accept a real generous offer from Channel 7 because I wasn't ready to work three more years at that intense pace," he said. "I figured after 20 some years in the business, it was time to give Jerry Stanecki a chance to breathe."

He said it took him a good three months just to wind down from the pressures of the job. Since that time, he's discovered a passion for photography and capturing the beauty of the countryside in impressionistic photographs which rely on strong elements of both color and composition.

Stanecki's exhibition of 40-50 prints is made up of floral photographs as well as images of the rural south. While helping a friend build a sawmill in Alabama this year, he found numerous opportunities to photograph both sub-

His equipment includes a Pentax ME 35mm camera with a 80-200mm zoom lense and Ektachrome 400 film. The majority of his photographs are taken with the lens set at 200mm, a technique which isolates the subject, creating a three-dimensional layered look which imbues them with mysterious shadings of col-

HE SAID he tries to bring out the beauty of flowers and other natural forms by looking at them from a different perspective than is readily apparent.

"A couple of years ago I found myself concentrating on what was around me that people weren't seeing."

A purist, much of Stanecki's work involves watching and waiting with a careful eye. For one picture, "Friends," he waited 2½ hours for two painted lady butterflies to land on a flower top in a Georgia field.

Stanecki said he frames all of his work right in the viewfinder and doesn't allow for enlarging or cropping a photograph. He feels that his mix of rustic and floral photographs appeal to most tastes and contribute a serene touch to rooms in which they are placed.

Print sizes in the exhibition range from 5by-7 to 20-by-24 inches. They are limited to editions of 45 each, with 5 artists' proofs and have been printed by Glen Bouget of Midwest Photo Lab in Redford.

HOW TO

Holding a garage sale is a fun way to do a little business on your own . . . but it takes a bit of planning.

Like you'll want to decide what to sell and how much to charge for each item ... and then you'll need price tags so other people will know what you're charging.

And you'll have to be able to make change for all your customers . . . so that means you should have lots of one dollar bills and an assortment of coins.

Then you'll want to advertise your sale to attract that crowd. You can do it with a sign or signs in your neighborhood . . . but you'll want a bigger crowd than that . . . so you'll run an ad in Classified which tells the time and place of your sale to a host of potential buyers.

One more thing . . . get up early the day of your sale! When people read about a Garage Sale in Classified, they shop early.

Have fun with your little business adventure!

Modulars meet multi needs

HE NEED for more space is the design challenge of the '80s, and modular storage systems seem to he the answer.

Special vertical storage systems designed and made for kitchens and bathrooms have become practical and attractive additions to other rooms as well. These modular units can be stacked to free up floor space for other uses.

Modular units can be used as bookshelves, desks, hutches, china closets, room dividers, stereo cabinets and entertainment centers. Designed to look like conventional furniture, the units often are built to stand up to hard

The versatility of modular cabinets makes it simple for homeowners to arrange them to suit individual needs. They can easily be moved around to accommodate new decorating schemes. They are also widely available in a variety of styles

HENEVER I have bought a new home the first things I redo are the kitchen, the bathroom and my bedroom. The rest can wait for a while. I concentrate on the areas that I love

This is part of the living philosophy of Cathy Hardwick, best known for her fashion collections that feature strong modern lines such as wide shoulders and asymmetric closings. Six years ago she began designing a collection of home ashions for J.C. Penney, which started out as a collection for the bedroom with patterned sheets, then coordinating towels. "I like to surround myself with beautiful things. When I was ARBARA AND Stanley Zydeck's Plymouth Township country colonial home was adapted from a plan in Early American Life magazine.

The spacious living room with its oversize bay window and seat has the first of three fireplaces. Stenciled border on the walls was done by the Itinerant Stencilers of Plymouth.

Barbara used one color scheme throughout the house, navy and rust with beige carpet. The country kitchen has a second fireplace, and the third is in the master bedroom.

Barbara's fascination with country furnishings led to her starting (with a friend) The Salt Box, a shop specializing in furniture and accessories that reflect the warmth of rural living in colonial times.

The stenciled border just under the molding in the country colonial home of Barbara and Stanley Zydeck, was one of the favored decorative art forms of early America. The hearth in the country kitchen, above left, is a gathering place, just as its counterparts were centuries back
