The Canton Connection

WANT TO learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation, but haven't gotten around to it? Two-day CPR classes are being offered at Canton High School, Room 242, through the American Red Cross and Plymouth-Canton Community Education.

While instruction is free, there is a $4.25 book fee.

Eligible are residents age 14 and older. The eight-hour classes, slated for 6-10 p.m. for five different weeks, will be held tonight and Wednesday, Tuesday, Oct. 18, and Thursday, Oct. 20; Monday, Oct. 24, and Wednesday, Oct. 26; Tuesday, Nov. 8, and Thursday, Nov. 10, and Monday, Nov. 14, and Wednesday, Nov. 16.

Graduates will receive certificates. For more information, call 459-1180.

SOLAR ENERGY enthusiasts are invited to tonight's 7:30 workshop at the Sunflower subdivision clubhouse. Solar experts will discuss ways to "beat the high costs of utilities and take advantage of large tax credits before they're gone."

The clubhouse, north of Warren and west of Canton Center Road, is at 45956 Gansborough. For more information, call Donna at 459-6867.

SMALL BUSINESS will be spotlighted at the Canton Chamber of Commerce monthly board meeting at noon Wednesday at the Roman Forum Restaurant in Canton.

A film entitled "Small Business — the Last Frontier," reserved months in advance by the chamber due to its popularity, will be shown. Guests are welcome. For more information call 453-4040.

The chamber's well-attended Sept. 19 membership dinner saw Bill Tesen, past chamber executive board member, roasted and toasted for "making outstanding and unselfish contributions" to the chamber and Canton.

SELF DEFENSE for women will be addressed in a free Oakwood Hospital Canton Center class at 7 p.m. Tuesday by Canton Police Cpl. Robert van Lih.

A film, lecture and question-and-answer session are slated. To register, and for more information call Oakwood at 459-7030, or stop by the facility at 7300 Canton Center Road near Warren.

ALL EMPLOYERS are welcome to use the free job-placement service of Plymouth-Canton Adult Education. Both current and former students, diversely skilled and with a desire to work, have been carefully screened and are ready for referral for full, part-time and temporary work. For more information call Sharon at 459-1180.

DR. JACK FALVO of Canton heard from his township supervisor recently. Falvo and his co-workers were thanked in a letter signed by James Poole for raising $1,800 for muscular dystrophy as a result of a softball tournament at Griffin Park. In the last six years, the group has raised more than $20,000 for sufferers of the disease. "In a time when we seem to be surrounded by bad news and negative attitudes, hearing about caring people that are willing to give of themselves for others, certainly boosts my faith in our society," Poole wrote.

REAL ESTATE — from listing and purchase agreements, land contracts and mortgages to tax and investment factors — will be discussed by attorney Richard Thomas at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 12, at the Canton Public Library. Registration begins today. Call 397-0999.

Schools closed as employees strike

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Administrators, substitute teachers and volunteers — despite their efforts to keep schools open — were forced by 9:30 a.m. to dismiss the few students who showed up for classes Friday, the first day of a strike staged by about 1,200 teachers and support personnel in the Plymouth-Canton Community school district.

As early as 6 a.m., picketers, toting signs reading "The board lacks honesty," "You get what you pay for" and "An equitable contract for all," blocked entrances to 20 school buildings. No incidents of violence or injuries were reported.

Less than 100 of the 3,487 Centennial Educational Park students showed up for class. Most were transported by parents, as buses weren't running.

School administrators announced via a phone newsline (453-0271) Friday afternoon that school buildings would be closed to students, but open to staff on Monday. They announced that community education classes "will be operated as possible, but to check for changes."

Though strikers staffing the unions' crisis center Friday afternoon said they're "never without hope," the outlook for a quick settlement was grim. Both sides claimed "we're willing to meet at any time," but no hearings or contract talks had been scheduled. It was expected that district negotiator Tom Schwarze, a Detroit attorney, would contact Richard Strichartz, appointed factfinder for the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, today to set up a hearing. Nothing on the school board's agenda for tonight's 7:30 meeting relates to the labor dispute.

NO TEACHERS reported to work at Canton High School, while only two Sa-lem teachers came to work, as far as

Pupils ask for talks

Many of the 15,867 students in the Plymouth-Canton Community school district took advantage of Friday's strike and summer-like weather by riding bikes, playing video games, and visiting parks, fast food restaurants, 7-Eleven and Quik-Pik stores.

But unhappy high school seniors spent the unexpected vacation day voicing their dissatisfaction with the lack of progress in contract talks between the administration and employee groups.

By 9:30 a.m. Friday, every school in the district had dismissed its students, as teachers, teacher aides, secretaries, bus drivers, custodians and cafeteria

Only a few students showed up for high school classes Friday morning. For these students at Plymouth Canton High the school day ended almost before it started as they arrived in the fog and are shown here going home with fog still hovering in the parking lot.

Federal funds denied Canton loses housing bid

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

There is no senior-citizen apartment complex in Canton's immediate future. Officials of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) have rejected a bid by Canton officials to build a 118-unit senior citizen apartment at Ford and Sheldon.

Township officials several months ago applied to HUD. Supervisor James Poole recently made a "top secret" trip to Washington, D.C., in hopes of bolstering Canton's chances.

"There just wasn't enough money (available)," said grants coordinator Terry Carroll. "We're on the down side of funding. The competition has become quite keen."

ALTHOUGH THE township would not be involved in the financing, construction or operation of the project, Poole believes a senior-citizen apartment would greatly enhance Canton's identity.

"Nobody deserves that more than this community," said a disappointed Poole. "We're going after it again. It's a perfect location."

Word of the denial came Sept. 23 through Sen. Carl Levin's office, according to Carroll.

Application was filed several months ago under a HUD program, in which the senior citizen pays up to 30 percent of his or her monthly income in rent. The federal government subsidizes the remainder, to the fair market rental value, Carroll said.

According to Carroll, Poole had taken an active part in finding a non-profit organization to serve as mortgagor, required by HUD. A real estate division of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-

Residents, officials fume over open basements

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Debra Prasad is tired of looking out her window and seeing a dangerous eyesore.

Prasad lives on Courtland, in the Pickwick Village subdivision near Ford and Lilley. Adjacent to her property are two open basements — homes started but never finished.

According to Prasad, trees and weeds are growing in the open basements. Animals rummage through weeds and debris. Rainwater collects, creating a nuisance and danger for pets and children.

There are four uncapped basements in Prasad's subdivision. Neighbors are frustrated, worrying about their children's safety.

"This problem has been going on for 4½ years," Prasad said. "Reasonable people would agree it's a danger. There are a lot of small children in this area."

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS have promised to take action on the problem — which results from the housing slump — within 60 days.

Construction of the homes began in the late 1970s, at the tail end of Canton's housing boom. Basements were dug and foundations poured.

Then the housing market plunged.

Many builders went out of business. Basements were left open and unintended, becoming unsightly and annoying neighbors.

Prasad thinks township officials haven't done enough to fight the problem of uncapped basements. She and several neighbors last week took their complaints to the Township Board.

Supervisor James Poole said new measures are being considered.

"Something is being considered as far as lawsuits, if these (owners) don't cap or fill the basements," Poole said.

Legal processes must be followed, added Clerk John Flodin.

"I regret we can't do this more quickly, but we get into fundamental rights of the judicial system in this country," Flodin said.

THE ISSUE has cropped up periodically in various parts of the township. Over the years, many property-owners complied by capping basements or erecting protective fences. But children frequently get past the fencing and caps.

Township officials say progress has been made. In May 1982, a new crack-down began after children set fire to straw and debris in an open basement on Brunswick Drive, near Canton Cen-

Strike halts classes; outlook for settlement grim

Dave Seemann, Canton building chairman and English instructor, could determine. In front of Salem High School, eight or 10 students were picketing along with 80-100 strikers.

Bus drivers, secretaries, maintenance workers have worked without a contract for more than one year. Their chief bargainer, Charles "Trav" Griffin, set a settlement deadline for Sept. 30, or "fourth Friday" earlier in the month.

TEACHERS VOTED 349-225 to join fellow workers on picket lines after the board's negotiator failed to show for a fact-finding hearing Wednesday.

While Schwarze was notified at 11 a.m. that day of a fact-finding hearing scheduled for 1 p.m. Wednesday by MERC, he was unable to attend.

Schwarze sent a representative in his place, an action union leaders termed "intolerable arrogance and insensitivity" at a Thursday press conference.

Teachers, whose two-year contract (effective through 1983-84) contains a no-strike clause, and teacher aides have yet to settle on a wage re-opener with the district. Most employees accepted a wage freeze last year.

"School was dismissed by 8 a.m. (at CEP) that was our objective," said Seemann.

"Today was a showdown situation. The board felt the teachers weren't solid enough to hold out. But we had all the support we needed and then some." Picketers intend to resume their posts at 5 a.m. today (Monday), he added.

While one administrator "drove-in" (to Canton High School) too fast, we saw no deliberate provocation" on the picket lines, Seemann said. "You think of what happens when people are driving in the dark, and you expect some nervousness and aggression. But people were civilized."

Tom Cotner (chief bargainer for the Plymouth-Canton Education Association) said it all, "said another teacher/building chairman who asked not to be identified.

"WE ALL voted (Aug. 29) not to strike. Since then there's been no indication the board is willing to go any further. We've been pushed and pushed.

When they didn't show at the fact-finding hearing, that was the straw that broke the camel's back. We'd like to make the point to the community that we're not being dealt with fairly."

"We're not being dealt with at all," said another.

Teachers debated whether to strike "on both ethical and legal grounds," said Seemann, who by mid-morning Friday had received no word of court orders or mass firings.

While the teacher's contract prohibits a strike, "no one has the right to put a clause in a contract superceding state law. If we get fired, it'll be because we're breaking state law," he said.

"We — and the Michigan Education Association — could be sued for breaking a contract, but we're not going to be jailed."

School administrators were planning no legal action against striking workers Friday, according to Dick Egli, community relations director for the district.

"On ethical grounds, two wrongs don't make a right, but we decided that since they're not fighting with ethics, maybe we should go ahead," added Seemann.

"I think teachers basically are honorable, upstanding citizens who want to do things right."

Disgruntled maintenance workers picketing Salem favor a straight dollar raise vs. a percent adjustment.

"To give a 5-percent raise to the guy who makes $30,000, and the same thing to someone who makes $15,000 isn't fair. Their cost of living is the same. The rich get richer, and the other guy has to keep shining shoes," said a custodian.

Table talk ended as school employees walked out

Charles "Trav" Griffin, chief negotiator for several employee groups, said the board has not delivered on its promise of an equitable contract even though it is not in dire financial straits.

The following figures were compiled by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education

- | BOARD'S OFFER TO TEACHERS   | TEACHERS' OFFER TO BOARD   |
| 1. A 3 percent increase for 1983-84 for $32,703 maximum salary. 5 percent increase for 1984-85 for $34,338 maximum salary.  | 1. A 3 percent increase, plus a 3-5 percent cost of living adjustment for the 1983-84 school year for a maximum salary of $34,338. 3 percent increase, plus a 3-5 percent COLA for the 1984-85 school year for a maximum of $37,137. |
| 2. Percentage raise over two years ranges from an 8.2 percent raise for the most junior teachers to 25.8 percent for the most senior. The percentages work out to raises between $2,587 and $5,484 over two years.  | 2. Percentage raise over two years range from a low of 17 percent for the most junior teachers, to a high of 36 percent for the most senior. It translates to a salary adjustment range between $5,387 and $8,284.                   |
| 3. Including the adjustments 53 percent of teachers receive based on seniority, the majority of teachers would get greater than a 20 percent increase in pay.   | 3. The majority of teachers, over two years, would receive an increase of more than 30 percent.  |
| 4. The average teacher salary in the 1983-84 school year would be $28,474. Average salary the following year would be $30,569. The average increase over two years would be $3,687.  | 4. The average teacher salary for 1983-84 would become $33,897, and in 1984-85 $38,188. The average teacher salary increase over two years would be $6,181.   |
| 5. The board's offer would place Plymouth-Canton pay between eight and 11 among the 36 Wayne County school districts — an improvement by at least two positions. Considering "in-formula" districts only, Plymouth-Canton would rank between three and five among 15 districts. | 5. Plymouth-Canton would rank fifth out of the 36 Wayne County school districts — an improvement in ranking by at least eight positions. Considering "in-formula" districts only, Plymouth-Canton would rank third among 15.           |
| 6. Based on the board's latest projections, its offer would result in a $544,000 deficit at the end of the 1984-85 school year. Assuming a wage freeze in the 1985-86 school year, the debt would hover at $2 million.  | 6. The teachers' offer would place the district $691,000 in debt by June 1984, jumping to $4.1 million a year later. Assuming a wage freeze in the 1985-86 school year, the deficit would climb to nearly $8 million.               |
- Teachers figures are based on a 5 percent increase in COLA for the next two school years — "a safe assumption supported by the experts."
- The administration estimates salary adjustments based on seniority at a total annual cost of about $500,000.

At a press conference called by school employees' unions Thursday, chief bargainer Tom Cotner said "the fact that the other side didn't attend (Wednesday's) fact-finding hearing showed things were rapidly deteriorating."

Seniors concerned; want talks scheduled

Only a handful of students show for classes

workers walked picket lines at Plymouth-Canton school board offices and buildings.

Attendance among students and staff throughout the district was down tremendously. School was dismissed by 9:30 despite administrators' efforts.

The fact that "students haven't come to school today" was interpreted by picketers as a sign of their strong support.

The strike "is not the kind of thing that's appropriate to talk about in class, but it's been the topic all week around here," said one teacher, who added that eight or more students picketed with strikers at Salem High School.

"I know some kids were very upset. This wasn't settled before school started. For others, it's 'goody, there's no school,'" he added.

The latter seemed to be the attitude among middle school and elementary school students.

High school students, however, were taking things more seriously. Seniors Pat Mullen, Linda Sarafian, Pam Anderson and Catherine Uhl distributed flyers at football games, theater and shopping center parking lots. Flyers urging students and parents to call the Board of Education and ask that negotiations be scheduled. The four were planning a petition drive and a mass meeting for students and parents.

"We believe this strike will continue for an unnecessary amount of time and create inconveniences that could be avoided through negotiations," said their open letter.

"People don't realize how much this affects us. Students and parents, who are the taxpayers, should be able to have their say," they said.

A long strike could prove costly for seniors, as plans for summer school, jobs and entrance into college would be disrupted.

"I just wish they'd hurry this up. It delays everything," said Anderson.

"NO TEACHERS have tried to indicate it's a good situation, but the kids seem interested in seeing both sides satisfied," he added.

"We're very aware of how our actions affect kids," said David Seemann, building chairman and an English teacher at Canton High School.

Student athletes and fans were relieved to learn the strike would have no effect on Canton's Friday night homecoming game or the undefeated Salem squad's clash with Northville.

Canton football Coach Rich Barr, who was walking the picket line Friday, said the board assured him the team would have access to locker rooms and school facilities.

day Saints (Mormon) agreed, according to Carroll.

Forest City Dillon Construction, the "premier builders of assisted elderly housing," was to construct the building, Carroll said.

BUT THERE was too much competition for the funding, Carroll said. Federal and state programs for assisted housing have declined, he added.

One year ago a private developer was turned down for a senior citizen apartment at Ford and Sheldon under the Michigan State Housing Development Authority, Carroll said.

State-wide, this latest federal program granted approval for 439 apartment units (individual apartments, not buildings), Carroll said. Locally, gaining approval were plans for Clinton Township, Belleville and Lake Orion.

Canton already has several family-assisted housing complexes, including Canton Commons, Lincolnshire, Pelows Creek and Canton Mews, Carroll said.

Canton may file again next year for senior-citizen housing, provided a non-profit sponsor can be found, Carroll said. Indications are that the federal budget for housing assistance will be at the same level next year, he added.

"We have 12 times the norm for assisted housing (units) we have for elderly housing," Carroll said. "Now that we have performed in assisted family, we would like some consideration in new construction of elderly housing."

aid Hemming, attorney for the township. "We have to show there is a public nuisance."

Property-owners could be cited for misdemeanor violations of the township's building and land-use ordinance or the anti-blight ordinance, Hemming said. New letters are going out to the violators, he added.

The district court sets punishment — either a fine or 90-day jail sentence. But the township would have to file a lawsuit in Wayne County Circuit Court to force compliance.

ter and Warren Road.

At that time, there were 32 open basements, according to township records. There now are 14 uncapped ones. But there are limitations on the township's powers, officials say.

"If we cap the basements (without property-owner's permission) we could become liable," Poole said. "I don't know that I want the taxpayers to be liable for kids who are tearing the caps."

Learn to skate

Autumn's onslaught got you down? Why not take up roller skating?

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department is offering an eight-week class beginning Friday, Oct. 11. Comprised of half an hour of instruction and an hour of free skating, the classes are slated for 5-6:30 p.m. Cost is $20 per person for eight weeks, plus a $5 skate rental charge if needed.

Taught at the Canton Skatin' Station, the eight-week beginner course will be followed by an intermediate course. Skaters of all ages are welcome. Skatin' Station staffers will instruct all students.

Interested persons may register by mail or in person by contacting the rec department at 1150 S. Canton Center Road 48188.

Let's return to bargaining table

To the editor:
We, the students of the Plymouth Canton Community, wish to see changes occur dealing with the board of education.

We would like the negotiations to take place. We believe this strike will continue for an unnecessary amount of time and create inconveniences that could be avoided through negotiations that are made.

If you, too, are concerned about the education in our community, please take action by calling this number: 453-3100.

Canton's recreation walk a raving success

To the editor:
The first Annual Canton "Walk for Recreation," sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Department and the Recreation Advisory Committee, held on Saturday, Sept. 24, was a huge success with approximately $3,000 being raised and 125 participants enjoying the beautiful fall day.

On behalf of the Parks and Recreation Department, we would like to thank everyone involved in making the first "Walk" such a success. Special mention should be made of Recreation

Advisory Committee Members John Premecky, chairman, Dr. Jack Falvo, Ralph Brickman, Ron Hays, Jerry Gibbons, Steve Kozlko, Ron Berglund, Helen Wesner and Susan Wrenbeck. Also to be commended are all the walkers whose pledges made this event such a success. The Canton businesses who joined in to support our "Walk" include McDonald's of Canton, Willow Creek Dental Clinic, The Canton Chamber of Commerce, Easy Rider Bike Shop, Canton Rotary Club, Canton Business and Professional Women Association, Michigan National Bank, Community Federal Credit Union, K-Mart, Plymouth Equipment Rental, Glassware Emporium, Dominic Cirino Associates, Fellows Creek Golf Course, Domino's Pizza, Wayne Bank, Mr. Steak, Chuck E. Cheese Pizza Theatre, House of Woot and a special thanks to the Canton Soccer Club.

An event such as this could not go on without countless volunteers and we thank all of them who helped make this day so special.
Finally, we always rely on our local newspaper to help us publicize any event and again we received tremendous cooperation from the Canton Observer, Community Crier and the Canton Eagle.
We are already looking forward to Canton's Sesquicentennial year of 1984 and our second annual "Walk for Recreation" in May.

Superintendent

Recreation Supervisor

A man who suffered in silence

He never had a pair of boxing gloves. He never had a bat in his hand to swing at a baseball and he was a stranger to football. Marathon running to him was rather silly activity and hockey was nothing more than the grown up version of the childhood game of "shiny" that he never played.

He raised tomatoes and melons at the corner of Wayne Road and Ann Arbor Trail and spent his vacations in the mountains of the west looking for precious stones with which to make all sorts of jewelry.

But he was the gamest man The Stroller ever met on his long journey along the journalistic trail. He was enduring all sorts of body punishment, but it was a secret he kept to himself until the very end.

Our first meeting came more than 30 years ago when the drive was on to incorporate the Township of Livonia into a home rule city.

When the group gathered to set up preliminary plans, The Stroller was told that one of the men who could help a great deal was Ray Grim, the tomato and melon farmer. And when he attended his first meeting he came the stroller

W.W. Edgar

He was named to the charter commission and later to the first city council. And he was a shrewd individual in both positions.

He was entrusted with getting out the farmer vote. And it was his help that played a major part in the successful campaign to incorporate into a city. He was named to the charter commission and later to the first city council. And he was a shrewd individual in both positions.

HE HAD lost his wife through death and he attempted to carry on. To relieve the loneliness, he built, singlehandedly, a large home in Plymouth Township and had what could pass for a jewelry store in the basement.

He finally gave in to loneliness and married again because he needed constant care.

One day he gathered sufficient strength to attend a Rotary Club meeting in Plymouth and sat beside The Stroller.

During the meeting when he was asked how he was getting along he answered, "I am having an enjoyable time. It is a wonderful thing to sit at home in a big easy chair in the evening and watch my body deteriorate. It is just wonderful how Mother Nature works."

Imagine that, watching himself dying with pain, but he never complained. He was just interested in watching himself pass from this world.

Talk about game guys, the sports world never produced anyone to match. He was a hero in the lives of those who knew him best — game to the very last breath.

Ideas most fertile when shared

Opinions and ideas are most fertile when shared with others.
That's why the Observer encourages its readers to share their views with others by making use of the From Our Readers column.

While the Observer expresses its opinions on the editorial page, we always leave space open for our readers to express their ideas.
Submitting a letter to the editor for publication is easy. We ask that letters be typewritten or printed legibly and kept to 300 words or less. They must be signed and include the address of the sender.

Names will be withheld only for the best of reasons, and the decision to do so will be made by the editor.
Letters may be mailed or hand-delivered to our news office at 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

A FEAST OF BEAUJOLAIS

"Beaujolais brings laughter to the table." A fitting description of the wine, the people, the generous spirit of the region, one of the best-known wine producing areas of France. And more and more American wine-lovers agree. They are discovering that these fruity, charming red wines are refreshing to drink, adapt to any occasion and to a wide variety of foods.

In Beaujolais, which is located in southern Burgundy, vineyards roller-coaster up and down gentle hills, interrupted only by small villages each marked by a church steeple. From this bucolic little paradise comes what is possibly the most famous red wine in the world. There is plain and simple Beaujolais, Beaujolais Supérieur (containing one degree more alcohol), Beaujolais Villages (from 39 specific villages) and the nobility — the nine crus. Their names roll off the tongue with a magical cadence: Brouilly, Chénas, Chiroubles, Côte de Brouilly, Fleurie, Julienas, Morgon, Moulin-à-Vent, Saint-Amour.

Magic abounds in Beaujolais. For example, their life-style, unhurried and hospitable, quickly beguiles the visitor. Inhabitants are always ready to uncork a bottle of their Beaujolais, often as not slightly chilled. Whatever the Beaujolais, it takes no more than one glass for the visitor to realize that the Gamay grape — the heart and soul of the wine — has singularly blessed this region.

It is also blessed gastronomically, thanks to the rich harvest from field and stream and forest. All this bounty is of course prepared with a lacing of wine. And the remarkable versatility of Beaujolais means that it complements fine food beautifully. Red meat, white meat, fish, shellfish, vegetables, fruit, cheese.

One fares well on the talents of Beaujolais chefs. Happily, the regional cuisine can be adapted to American menus, as this party fare deliciously illustrates. When friends are invited, treat them to a feast of Beaujolais. The recipes are easy on the hostess and the simple ingredient of Beaujolais in the bottle and in the recipes will guarantee a memorable occasion.

Begin with a cold chicken soup which is basically a creamy purée of the poaching liquid (vegetables, herbs, Beaujolais) in which a plump roaster has been cooked. The chicken itself is cut into thin slices and serves as a cold main course. Piquant Oeufs Dijonnaise — the gentle fire and inimitable flavor of authentic Dijon mustard parks up an American favorite, deviled eggs — are an excellent middle-course for this feast.

Adapted from a traditional Beaujolais recipe is Gratin de Poireaux, a gratin of leeks. The vegetables are braised in a Beaujolais-herb mixture and then come to the table with a creamy-cheese topping. Beaujolais Spring Salad's tempting combination of garden-fresh vegetables, topped with sautéed chicken livers and dressed with classic vinaigrette — Dijon mustard, French wine vinegar and French extra-virgin olive oil. An original combination, a salad that can also stand on its own as a luncheon dish.

The feast's finale — as it would be in Beaujolais — is a magnificent French cheese selection. The "marriage" of wine and cheese is a tried-and-true love story. Fromage is as much a French staple as wine and no meal would be complete without either. Beaujolais — as we've said, fresh, fruity and versatile — brings out the best in cheese and vice versa. For this feast the selection includes Piprot Cream, a creamy blue-veined gem made from cow's milk; Reblochon, a nutty-flavored specialty from the French Alps; two chevres (goat's milk cheese), Montrachet, dusted with vine-ash and made in Burgundy, and Pyramide which originates in the Loire Valley, and the exquisite example of Normandy's cheese-making genius, Camembert.

A feast to share with friends. When there is not a crumb left, no drop in the glass, we feel sure hosts and guests alike will agree with this typical Beaujolais word to the wise: it is better to put your nose into a glass of Beaujolais than into other people's affairs. The more one drinks Beaujolais, the lovelier one's wife becomes, friends more loyal, the future more encouraging.

COLD CHICKEN SOUP, BEAUJOLAIS STYLE

(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- |                                  |                                     |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1 roasting chicken, about 6 lbs. | 2 tsp. Herbes de Provence           |
| Salt and pepper                  | 4 carrots, sliced                   |
| 1 bottle Beaujolais              | 2 parsnips, peeled and sliced       |
| 6 cups chicken broth             | 1 celery heart, chopped             |
| 1 T. salt                        | 2 leeks, trimmed, washed and sliced |
| 1 1/4 tsp. pepper                | 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream         |

Sprinkle chicken inside and out with salt and pepper. Place in large kettle. Add remaining ingredients, except cream. Cover and simmer gently for 2 hours. Remove chicken and cool. Purée broth and vegetables. Pour into bowl and stir in cream. Adjust seasoning with salt and pepper. Chill for several hours before serving. Skin and bone chicken, cut into thin slices, cover and chill until ready to serve.

OEUFS DIJONNAISE

(Makes 12 servings)

- |                    |                  |
|--------------------|------------------|
| 6 hard-cooked eggs | 2 T. heavy cream |
| 2 T. Dijon mustard | Salt             |

Cut eggs into halves lengthwise and remove egg yolks. Place into bowl and mash until finely crumbled. Beat in mustard and cream. Season to taste with salt. Use mixture to stuff egg white halves. Chill until ready to serve. Garnish with cherry tomatoes or thinly sliced cornichons. (French midget gherkins.)

GRATIN DE POIREAUX (Gratin of Leeks)

(Makes about 4 servings)

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 12 leeks, washed well                            | 1 1/4 cup butter   |
| 4 shallots, minced                               | Salt and pepper  |
| 1 cup Beaujolais                                 | 1 cup (4 oz.) grated French semi-soft cheese, e.g., St. Paulin |
| 1 bay leaf                                       |  |
| 1 1/2 tsp. thyme                                 |  |
| 1 1/2 cups chicken broth mixed with 2 tsp. flour |  |

Trim roots and green ends from leeks. Poach in boiling salted water to cover for 5 minutes. Drain and cut each leek in half lengthwise. Place shallots on bottom of ovenproof dish. Top with leeks. Add wine, bay leaf and thyme. Cover with buttered parchment. Bake in preheated hot oven (400°F) for 15 to 20 minutes. Drain leeks and keep warm. Pour juices into sauté pan and boil until reduced to half its original volume. Stir in chicken broth mixed with flour and cook until thickened. Remove from heat and stir in butter, one tablespoon at a time. Adjust seasoning with salt and pepper. Pour sauce over leeks. Serve topped with grated cheese.

BEAUJOLAIS SPRING SALAD

(Makes about 6 servings)

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 6 cups bite-size pieces assorted salad greens (Boston lettuce, watercress, Bibb lettuce) | 1 tsp. Dijon mustard                   |
| 1 cup julienne strips celery   | 1 tsp. salt                            |
| 1 cup julienne strips boiled ham   | 1 1/4 tsp. freshly ground black pepper |
| 1 cup julienne green beans (parboiled 5 minutes)   | 2 T. butter                            |
| 1 cup cooked asparagus tips  | 2 lbs. chicken livers                  |
| 3/4 cup French olive oil   | 1/2 cup Beaujolais                     |
| 1 1/4 cup French-red wine vinegar  | 1/4 cup French red wine-vinegar        |
|  | 1 1/4 tsp. fines herbes                |

Wash and drain greens and store until cold and crisp. Mix celery, ham, green beans, asparagus. Beat oil with vinegar, Dijon mustard, salt and pepper until thick. Pour over plienne mixture and marinate in refrigerator for several hours. When ready to serve, heat butter in skillet and sauté chicken livers for 10 to 15 minutes or until brown outside and slightly pink inside. Add Beaujolais, vinegar and fines herbes. Simmer for 5 to 6 minutes or until pan juices have reduced and thickened slightly. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Toss salad greens with marinated ham mixture until all greens are coated with dressing. Top salad with chicken livers.

Learn seasonal or meatless cooking

Adventurous cooks who enjoy learning new styles of cooking will find several classes being offered this fall.

For instance, beginning today at the Metropolitan S.D.A. Church Community Room, 15585 Haggerty, Plymouth, a seminar in meatless cooking will be held.

Topics include: "Adequacy of Proteins and Meal Planning," "Cholesterol, Free Dishes," "Exciting ways with Vegetables," "Facts and Fallacies about Fats," "Low Sugar Desserts" and "Nutritional Balanced Meals."

The seminar will be Monday (today), Thursday, Monday, Oct. 10 and Tuesday, Oct. 11 at 7 p.m.

Instructors include Dr. Arthur Weaver, associate professor of surgery at Wayne State; Natalie Weaver and Sheryl Swanson, certified cooking school instructors, and John Swanson, health education specialist and program coordinator for Better Living Seminars.

For registration call 459-2028 or 459-0894. A suggested $5 nightly donation covers expenses.

BEGINNING Wednesday, Oct. 12, and continuing through the next three consecutive weeks, 6:30-9 p.m., a seasonal cooking series will be offered at the Wayne County 4-H office, 5454 Venoy, Wayne.

The classes will be Oct. 12, 19, 26, apple treats. The cost is $20 for the series.

In conjunction with the holiday season a second series will begin Nov. 9 and continue Wednesdays through the 23rd. This series will offer classes in cookies, candies and breads and quick breads. The cost is $20.

Preregistration is required with limited enrollment. To register for Series 1, deadline is Oct. 7 and for Series 11, Nov. 4. For more information, call 4-H at 721-6576.

Hot dogs can be used as subs or as snacks

Hot dogs can be much more versatile than just meat on a bun. Here are two interesting recipes to try.

The first can substitute hot dogs for corned beef when a Reuben is what you want but there is no corned beef on hand. The second puts cream cheese and raisins to work under the broiler for a tasty snack or main dish.

REUBEN'S FAVORITE
1 1/2-oz. can sauer-kraut, drained
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. caraway seed

Citrus cocktail - thanks to friends

Dave Malone and Diane Margolin don't know each other, but they have one thing in common: me.

Dave is a college chum who sits in the cockpit of jetliners for a living and resides in Virginia. In 1973, he was aboard the chartered airline that flew the Washington Redskins to California for their Super Bowl clash with the Miami Dolphins.

Dave gave me a call and I helped him get a ticket to the game. He later phoned me and said everything worked out except the final score - the Redskins lost.

Ten years later, when the two teams met in the Super Bowl in California, I phoned Dave and bet him a box of Florida citrus against a Virginia ham that the Dolphins would win.

He graciously called me after the game and said his family was particularly fond of tangerines. Unfortunately, the bushel of citrus I sent him had only grapefruit and oranges.

The recipe is simple enough, but sectioning the citrus threw me for a loop. I believe the skin was too thick. But frankly I hadn't peeled a grapefruit or orange in a decade.

I ended up cutting the grapefruit like I was going to have them for breakfast. I had the citrus cocktail for dessert.

CITRUS COCKTAIL
2 cups grapefruit segments
2 cups orange segments
1/4 cup white raisins
1 cup Cream White Concord wine

Place grapefruit and orange segments with juices in bowl. Add raisins. Pour on wine. Cover and refrigerate at least 12 hours. Serves 4-6.

ORANGE-WATERCRESS SALAD
2 oranges, peeled and sliced in rounds
1 small bunch watercress, washed and trimmed
1/4 cup sour cream
2 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. dried dill weed

Arrange orange slices and watercress on 4 salad plates. Combine sour cream, lemon juice and dill weed and serve as dressing.

GEORGE AND Diana Sibel of Redford, Mich., were very thoughtful - they wanted to help out Anita.

"Read your article regarding your wife and her diet problems," they wrote. "Shaklee Corp. has recently made available a healthy yet effective Weight Management Drink. We've included some literature and two packets of slim drinks for Anita.

At least my wife felt slim for two meals. She had tried Shaklee products before and was pleased with them. However, Anita goes through diet plans like fullback Jim Brown once ran through defenses. Most of the time it is not a reflection on the plans or products, it's simply Anita's lack of staying power."

Woody Allen is Zelig, a chameleon-like character who takes on the guise of people with whom he comes in contact.

Woody Allen's back with comedy gem, starring in 'Zelig'

After some fitful meanderings these last few years, Woody Allen is back on track with a winner. "Zelig" (PG) is as original and innovative a comedy as any moviegoer could hope to see.

Allen's last couple of films did arouse suspicion that he may have lost his touch, but that dreadful thought can be laid to rest. It appears that touch was only off course, not lost.

"Zelig" is the proof. It integrates the zany energy of his early comedies, like "Sleepers," with the sweet-sad humor of his later, more personal movies like "Stardust Memories." The combination has produced an exciting mutation, more daring and inventive than anything he's done before.

Just the technical accomplishments of this film could provide ample material for serious dissertations. These special effects are startling. More than that, they constitute an important and integral part of the movie's content and format.

"ZELIG" IS ABOUT a fictional character, Leonard Zelig (Allen), but it is presented in the factual style of a documentary. There are vintage black-and-white film clips, a narrator and interviews with real people who are supposed to have known Zelig or taken an interest in his peculiar case.

These interviews are a witty broadside reference to Warren Beatty's "Witnesses" in "Rings." Allen adopts the technique for comic purposes. He uses real people, including such intellectual and literary heavyweights as Susan Sontag, Irving Howe and Bruno Bettelheim, to talk about an invented character and his strange malady.

Zelig's problem is an overwhelming identity crisis. The identity crisis suffered by the protagonists of other Allen movies were nothing compared with this — the ultimate identity crisis. Zelig is a man so lacking in self that he takes on the characteristics, physical and mental, of whomever he is with. Among Chinese people, he looks Chinese. With a black jazz band, he becomes a black trumpeter. Interviewed by psychiatrists, he becomes a psychiatrist himself as he explains his differences with Freudian theories.

Known as the "Human Chameleon," he becomes the sensation of the floating '20s newspapers titillate the public with his continuing metamorphoses. He might pop up anywhere, with anyone, from Lou Gehrig to Adolph Hitler. To spot him requires that the audience pay attention and participate. Find the Zelig among the real-life historical figures.

ALLEN'S CINEMATOGRAPHER, Gordon Willis, has done a remarkable job of matching old and new film footage and doing some very tricky things in the process. Zelig turns up at every noteworthy event of the era.

The impact of the technique is mind-boggling, equally so are content. The movie runs the gamut of humor from slapstick to metaphysical. All the while Allen takes pot shots at psychoanalysis, art, journalism, dance fads, and even himself.

The cynicism, however, is tempered by a healthy affirmation on the power of love and understanding. Zelig, after all, is saved by a woman's love, determination and courage. Mia Farrow, as Dr. Fletcher, is the woman who becomes Zelig's defender, therapist and lover.

If Leonard Zelig is the most extreme case in Allen's gallery of neurotics, he also proves to be the most salvageable. And "Zelig" the film proves to be another triumph for Woody Allen, America's comic genius of filmmaking.

Mia Farrow is Dr. Fletcher, the therapist who becomes Zelig's lover.

Ellie Graham

TOWN HALL begins its second annual series at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Penn Theater. Mike Whorf will open the season with his program, "American on Parade."
Those who are not season ticket holders may buy individual tickets for the program Wednesday morning at the Penn. Admission to a single lecture is $7.50.
Jan McKeivley, who is in charge of ticket sales, says season tickets for the four-lecture series will be available before the lecture.
Regular are $25 and patron are $35. Plymouth's first Town Hall is arranged by the Friends of the Y, with proceeds going to the Plymouth Community Family YMCA's building fund.
Teri John chairs the Friends of the Y group. Doris Chatterley, Gae McCord, Carol Davis, Teri John and Janet Luce are on the hospitality and selection committee. Clara Camp, assisted by Carol Lewis and Sherri Lewis, looks after the referrals.
The only requirement for members is a touchtone telephone for punching in their identification code. McKendrick said.
"It's an easy and interesting way to meet new singles that you might otherwise never have the opportunity to become acquainted with, either for sharing common interests or for developing a more personal relationship."
With the identification code, comparable to a membership card number, members can check for any new singles that the computer has matched them up with on their profile forms. They can send a message through the electronic mailbox to any referrals that interest them. Or they can check their own electronic mailbox for a message from another member.

Electronic mailbox in operation for singles

By Loraine McClisch
staff writer
FOR THE FIRST week of Tel-Intro-Comp's operation, all of the calls that have come in have been run off on a computer print-out.
This is in part to reply to the calls that leave an address for the introductory letter which spells out the concept of the service. And in part, McKendrick says, "to let me know where I'm at here; let me know how it's working and what kind of members I'm getting."
Computations to date lists "every member, I mean 100 percent of them, as professionals, and the salary range they've given seems to bear this out, and about 80 percent of them are in their early '30s. What this is telling me is that I'm answering some kind of a need here," he said.
One of the reasons McKendrick designed Tel-Intro-Comp was his own disappointment with a dating service he joined, coupled with being "fed up with the single bar scene," he said.
He suspects the dating service he paid for was too high a fee for a woman of his age bracket to meet, so the referrals he did get averaged out to a pretty big figure.
"There had to be another way," he said. "Reasonable cost, complete confidentiality, lots of options."
"I come in every night now to check on the calls that come in during the day, but I wouldn't have to be here at all. The computer acts as the go-between. The members can call, or choose to wait to be called."

McKendrick describes himself as a workaholic who graduated from high school 10 years after his contemporaries "because my mind was every other place except school."
At the time he dropped out of school he was caught up in learning his trade of wood pattern making. After that he got caught up in writing classical music. Then he studied art in Brazil.
He graduated from Livonia's Churchill High School last year, "just to see how good I'd be back in school," he said, about the same time he bought his first computer.
"I knew what I wanted when I started programming the service; something that had never been done before and I have it because I've checked them all, at least in this area," he said.
After the programming was completed he had to build his own made-to-order desk and woodwork to accommodate all of the various components needed to complete Tel-Intro-Comp.
"The beauty of this is that there is no set number of referrals that any member may receive. Members will receive any number of referrals that match, just by calling in every day," he said.
The letter that introduces the technology that enables singles to meet one another through the electronic mailbox will be mailed by calling Tel-Intro-Comp, 471-1141.

New members will get a one month free introductory offer through October.

'I come in every night now to check on the calls that come in during the day, but I wouldn't have to be here at all. The computer acts as the go-between. The members can call, or choose to wait to be called.'

Successful Aging series for seniors

A fall health education series, "Successful Aging," will be presented in Plymouth by Cindy Beel-Bates and Sr. Paula Chermide of the Catherine McAuley Health Center of Health Promotion, Ann Arbor. The series will be presented in Plymouth Creek Manor beginning Tuesday, Oct. 11.
The first session is entitled "What is Successful Aging?" Normal Body Changes with Age. Beel-Bates and Chermide will present a Concept Media filmstrip/cassette, "Physiology of Aging." The program will run 10-11:30 a.m. Hypertension screenings will be available between 9:30 and 10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Participants also may have hearing screenings in the center's health promotion van between 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The sessions and the screenings are free.

wise medication use will be the topic of the second session, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. They will show the film, "Wise Medication Use." The senior citizens are asked to bring all the drugs they use for information about drug interactions and side effects. The health promotion van will be at Plymouth Creek Manor with a "Brown Bag Drug Review" by registered pharmacists from the health center.
The program will be 10-11:30 a.m. but hypertension screenings will be given before and after the program, 9:30-10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
"You and Your Physician" with speaker Cindy Beel-Bates will be the subject for the Tuesday, Oct. 25 session. She will use a cassette tape, "Talking with your Doctor," and lead a discussion with questions and answers. Hypertension screenings in the health van will be before and after the program.
"GETTING THROUGH Red Tape" on Tuesday, Nov. 1 will deal with tips on how to use the health care system. A panel of five specialists will present the program. Those on the panel will be Elizabeth Murtagh of Blue Cross Blue Shield, Ron Eggleston and Toni Horzberger of Department of Social Services, Medicaid Policy Division, Marilyn Olympic of the Social Security Administration, and Chris Schwartz of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital patient accounts.

The hypertension screenings are available before and after the program.

new voices

Debra and Richard Wilkins, former Plymouth residents, announce the birth of their son, James Richard Wilkins, Sept. 21 in Greenfield, Ind. They have a daughter, Jennifer, 10, and a son, Jeffrey, 6.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wilkins of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Downey, formerly of Plymouth and now living in Fern Park, Fla.

Jerald and Sharon Grisus of Livonia announce the birth of their son, Robert Richard Grisus, Sept. 15 in Mt. Sinai Hospital, Detroit. Sharon is a third grade teacher at Piegoff Elementary School, Plymouth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grisus of Redford Township and Mr. and Mrs. George Teahan, formerly of Plymouth and now living in Hale, Mich.

Aging seminar planned

Session 5, Tuesday, Nov. 8, will have Bates and Chermiside as speakers. They will discuss "What is Stress?" and use a stress cassette tape with a tremendous amount of information on subjects dealing with the elderly. Each session at Tongush Creek Manor on Sheridan Street, Plymouth is on a Tuesday and begins at 10 a.m.

Chermiside and Beel-Bates both have had extensive experience with similar programs and have a tremendous amount of information on subjects dealing with the elderly. Each session at Tongush Creek Manor on Sheridan Street, Plymouth is on a Tuesday and begins at 10 a.m.

THE FINAL session, "Turning Distress into Less Stress" will be Tuesday, Nov. 15. Speakers Mary Beth Wright, Skip Barry and Colleen Conklin will explain how to develop healthy coping skills.

Cable TV expands its local programs

A number of improvements have been made in the programming schedule for both Channel 8 and 15 of Omnicon Cablevision.

"Because we have so many programs underway or about to be launched," said Suzanne Skubick, community affairs and program director for Omnicon, "we have a new program lineup for both of our channels."

In the past the station would air regular shows on Channel 15, usually twice, and once more on Channel 8. Now the station will have one set of program to air on Channel 8 twice weekly and another set of regular programs to air on Channel 15. The only exceptions will be the weekly sports programs which will continue to air twice on 15 and 8. Some specials also will be aired on both channels.

Among the new fall programs are: "Kids Round Town," a show by and about young people and how their activities, such as performing in band or modeling, affects their lives; "Lou Michaels Sportview America," discussion with area sports figures and writers; "Gospel Stars of Tomorrow," young gospel singers from the Hamtramck area; "Chef Bui-Carb," a light and humorous program; "Hometown Highlights," a program on happenings in Northville city and township.

"TODAY'S WOMAN" is a program developed locally for the woman in the "prime of her life" seeking to fulfill her career goals and develop herself more, fully, both physically and emotionally. The hosts are May Arvo, a local TV hostess, narrator and producer, and Bernadette Strickland, owner/director of the Plymouth Modelling and Finishing Academy at 496 Ann Arbor Trail.

There also will be a couple of additions to the Friday night "imports" on Channel 15. "Lifestyle," which starts next week, is a talk show with guests such as psychics and exotic dancers. "Box Score Preview," which starts the second week in October, is a program about college football games.

Omnicon also is airing shows for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, Canton Township government, and the Northville Schools. Plymouth-Canton Schools have added two new shows to their regular feature of "Ricky and Wicky." The NASA series will be at 7 p.m. and the "Park Lecture Series" at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Canton Township Board meetings will be on Canton Channel 10 each Wednesday at 8 p.m. and at 6 p.m. Friday and on Saturday.

"We are pleased to be bringing more and better programs to our subscribers," said Skubick. "This week alone we have 30 hours of original programming and when you add repeats, we are providing 72 hours of viewing between channels 15 and 8."

from our readers

Radio station treated poorly

To the editor:
I feel a need to inform our community of a negative aspect of the recent Fall Festival.

This is not a sour grapes story, but a sincere concern I have for some of Plymouth's community leaders.

portunity for WSDP-FM to broadcast on a remote basis from downtown Plymouth.

I requested a booth for this purpose with the understanding no fund raising would be done.

I stated WSDP felt it important to become a visible part of the Festival and of the community.

I was told there would be discussion on my request in private session. I then left the meeting.

On May 11 I read a published article in the Crier, "the board voted to waive the standard $125 participation fee for WSDP."

I never was contacted by a Festival Board member, but felt I would be contacted if necessary regarding further action on my part.

By late August, I had not received correspondence from the Festival Board. I called Grace Light, vice president and entertainment chairperson, because WSDP wanted to begin promoting the Festival and WSDP's involvement.

I asked Ms. Light about WSDP's booth and was told to report to the Festival trailer office for location when I arrived Thursday (Sept. 8).

On my arrival, I reported to the trailer and met Festival President Eleanor Shevlin. She informed me there was no booth reserved for WSDP. She informed me I had not filled out an application.

How do you fill out an application when you are not informed there is a need to do so?

She was uncooperative and unwilling to admit an oversight on the Festival's behalf.

After leaving the site, I informed certain individuals of what had transpired.

On Friday morning, Mrs. Shevlin called to tell me a space (not booth) was available.

WSDP's student directors decided to set up a table and distribute information, but not to set up remote broadcasting equipment. There was no shelter or roped-off area. WSDP did broadcast from its studios Saturday and Sunday which is an extension of its usual broadcast hours.

WSDP had received commitments from 15 students and extensively planned a total involvement for the entire Festival, only to become an unwanted obstacle.

To culminate this experience, on Sunday, Sept. 11, I arrived to find our location occupied by Chicken Barbecue activities. I was never informed.

I wonder if a popular commercial station would have received the same treatment.

I have lived in Plymouth, my entire life, with the exception of four years at Michigan State, and have always felt proud to call Plymouth my home.

Since becoming station manager of WSDP last September, one of my primary objectives has been to make WSDP more involved and recognized in the Plymouth-Canton area.

I was dealt a major setback by the commercial-oriented Fall Festival. — I wonder if our community knows how fortunate it is to have a 200-watt FM radio station — the most powerful high school station in Michigan, and perhaps in the country.

WSDP has existed for more than 11 years and has prepared countless individuals for successful pursuits in the communication field.

If our community leaders can't take WSDP seriously, maybe it's time to re-evaluate the need for a high school radio station.

After all, I know many other communities which would love to take over.

Andrew T. Melin
Station Manager

Rocks win a thriller, 30-29

By Brad Emons, staff writer

Spectators who witnessed Plymouth's 30-29 football win Friday night over Livonia Churchill certainly got more than their usual $2 worth.

It was one of the wildest and most entertaining games in years, with the Chargers coming up short on a two-point conversion pass that could have won the game with only eight seconds remaining.

Churchill came into the game a decided underdog against the unbeaten Rocks, who seemed to have control of things, only to have the never-say-die Chargers rally behind the passing of John Stotsiadis.

The junior quarterback passed for 212 yards (10 of 24) and rushed for 68 more. He marched the Chargers 50 yards in the final minute, capped by his own scoring run of six yards to pull his team to within one.

The drive was set up when Salem failed on a fourth-down-and-one play at midfield, giving Churchill the ball.

Instead of going for the tie and kicking the extra point, Churchill coach Ken Kaestner elected to go for two, faking on the play. Stotsiadis' pass was tipped and caught, but out of the end zone.

"WE WENT for it and it was my decision," said Kaestner. "It was out of character for me. I feel bad for the kids because we played a great football game."

Salem coach Tom Moshimer said his team was fortunate to win.

"It was a super game for the spectators, but not for me," said the relieved coach. "Churchill is a good team and that kid (Stotsiadis) can throw."

"That was a terrible coaching mistake I made on fourth down. We tried to fool them, but they closed the gap (on a quarterback sneak)."

Churchill had taken the lead with 6:42 left in the final quarter on a 42-yard dash up the middle by Erwin Anderson-Smith. Matt Wiljanen's extra point made it 23-22.

But on the first play of the next possession, Salem quarterback Mark Tindall backed up only two steps and fired a short pass to Mike Galliers, standing all alone just off the line of scrimmage, and raced for a 72-yard TD pass. Scott Jurek then ran in for the two-point conversion, making the score 30-23.

"THAT PLAY broke our heart," Kaestner said. "It may have been a busted coverage. I won't know until we see the films."

Churchill, sparked by a junior-laden offensive line, dominated things in the first half.

Sophomore Greg Bond, recently called up from the JV squad, dashed five yards for a TD with 5:03 to play in the first quarter. The extra point kick failed.

Salem then pulled off a flea-flicker play with 3:56 to go in the half when Tindall pitched the ball to back-up QB Steve Sobditch, who threw back to Tindall for a 64-yard scoring play. Salem then faked the extra point as Chris Raymond ran in for the two-point to make it 8-6.

Earlier in the half, Churchill had the ball twice inside the Salem 10, but came up empty handed. The Chargers, however, scored on the final play of the half when Wiljanen booted a 20-yard field goal giving his team a one-point lead.

"I THINK that's the worst half we've ever played," Moshimer said. "But I told the Churchill coaches after the game that their offensive and defensive lines dominated the line of scrimmage."

Salem, behind Tindall and Jurek, got the ball moving in the second half.

The Rocks went ahead 16-9 midway through the third period on a 30-yard pass from Tindall to Craig Morton. Salem scored again only three minutes later when Jurek romped 39 yards for a TD, making the count 22-9.

But Churchill's Bob Foust ripped through the middle on the ensuing kick-off, racing 81 yards down to the Salem 10.

Stotsiadis then completed a big fourth down pass to John Fraser from four yards out to give Churchill a TD with 1:31 to play in the third period.

JUREK FINISHED with 84 yards in 16 carries, while Tindall hit four of six passes for 128 yards.

Anderson-Smith, a 5-foot-7, 150-pound senior, made six catches for 134 yards. Most of his grabs occurred in heavy traffic with Salem defenders draped all over him. He took a vicious hit on the final Churchill scoring drive, but held on for a key 34-yard pass.

Buzzer shot goes, Rocks fall in OT

By Brad Emons, staff writer

Everybody in the gym figured who was going to get the ball with six seconds to play and the game on the line.

Plymouth Salem coach Fred Thomann knew. So did Livonia Bentley coach Tom Lang. There was little discussion in the huddle about who should handle it.

Senior forward Laurie Day took an inbound pass from teammate Sheri Wolfe, dribbled through a maze of defenders and sank a 30-foot bank shot at the buzzer to give the Bulldogs a heart-stopping 40-38 overtime girls' basketball victory over Western Lakes Conference nemesis Plymouth Salem.

It was another typical Bentley-Salem showdown — played right down the wire.

"We told Laurie to go as far as you can or take it to one of the corners where we had two girls set up," Lang explained. "We were taking the ball under our own basket. I told Sheri to make sure you get a good inbound pass. But that's why we always have her there because she's an exceptional passer."

THOMANN, whose team fell to 6-2 overall, explained his defensive strategy on the final play. "We wanted her to take the full six seconds and trap her near mid-court. I never thought she could make that shot. The problem was we couldn't respond."

Day and hard-working Lonnie Payne each scored 12 points for Bentley, now 7-1 overall.

Dawn Johnson led Salem with 14, while steady Pam McBride and hard-driving Fran Whittaker added 11 each.

The Rocks had final possession of the ball during regulation play but failed to pull off the game-winner.

Wolfe scored the first four points of the overtime, but Salem answered with four straight points on a short jumper by McBride followed by two Johnson free throws.

BENTLEY then turned the ball over with 25 seconds to play when Terri Lesniak stole a pass, giving Salem an opportunity to win it.

Salem got off a good baseline shot with 10 seconds remaining, but the ball failed to drop.

"We got some great opportunities at the end of the game," Thomann said. "For us to win we've got to make the big play. We did make some tonight, but not the last one. It's one of those kind of games where you don't feel you lost it — we just got beat."

The Bulldogs jumped out to an 8-1 lead early behind the shooting of Bridget Nicol, but Salem stormed back, outscoring Bentley 11-6 in the second period and 11-8 in the third quarter.

The Rocks enjoyed their biggest lead of the night (28-21) with 1:53 remaining in the third period on a drive basket by Whittaker.

BENTLEY CLAWED back into it on six straight points by Payne followed by Day's outside jumper with 2:14 remaining in regulation time, making the count 34-34.

During the spurt, Salem made two crucial turnovers.

"At times we played like marshmallows," Lang said. "Our defense was too soft. We needed to get there and deny the pass — play tight."

"If we hadn't gotten those two turnovers and scored, we might have been blown out."

Thomann also noticed the turning point.

"We had the game spread six or eight points, and we needed to score one more time," he said. "We had a couple of turnovers at mid-court that hurt us."

THE TWO TEAMS, which have battled for league bragging rights for years, play again Tuesday, Oct. 25, at Salem.

"You couldn't ask for a better played game," said Lang. "It was a struggle for both teams. The intensity on both sides was great."

"This is a tough group of kids," said Thomann. "They're disappointed by losing, but they'll bounce back."

Chiefs sink Hawks

Ah, now that's more like it.

After three dispiriting losses in a row, the Plymouth Canton Chiefs rediscovered their winning formula, pummeling lowly Farmington Harrison, 57-16.

It took a pretty good tongue-lashing from coach Phyllis Cunningham Mulroy to get the Chiefs untracked.

"We sat down and had a little talk," Mulroy said. "We had to look at what we've done and where we were going. We were not fired up. There was no hunger, no aggressiveness."

MULROY SAID her Chiefs had to work harder on defense and on trying to be more patient on offense. As a result of the brief heart-to-heart talk, the Chiefs went out Thursday and played their best game of the season.

"Everybody contributed. Everybody played and played well," Mulroy said.

Tami Budlong fired in nine points to pace Canton, while three others contributed eight. Nancy Gray, Laura Darby, and Sue Opatry all had eight Margaret Gilligan, wearing the Chiefs' war paint, was one of three double-event winners against Salem Thursday night.

If the truth be told, it wasn't even close.

The Plymouth Canton girls swim team used double-event victories by Margaret Gilligan, Ginny Johnson and Lynn Massey to sink the Plymouth Salem tankers Thursday night, 92-80.

Johnson qualified for the state meet in the 100-yard butterfly, and Kim Elliott and Massey established new varsity records.

The only first place captured by Salem was in the 400-yard freestyle relay. Shelly Mullen, Ellen Foley, B.J. Bing, and Laura Shaffer swam a 4:12.52 to win it.

Shaffer earned two second-place finishes in the 200-individual medley and the 100-free.

Other than that, it was all Canton.

GILLIGAN TOOK firsts in the 200-free with a time of 2:07.43, and in the 100-free with a 58.89.

Johnson won the 200-IM with a time of 2:20.6 and the 100-butterfly with a 1:02.29.

Massey won the 50- and 500-freestyle events with times of 26.34 (new varsity record) and 6:01.14 respectively.

Cindy Sherwood and Shawn Neville took first and second, respectively, in the diving competition. Sherwood amassed 193.25 points and Neville, 185.03.

Canton's 200-medley relay team of Kelly Kirk, Kim Elliott, Johnson and Massey won easily with a 1:59.7.

Kirk took the 100-backstroke with a 1:09.10, and Elliott captured the 100-breaststroke with a 1:13.67, which broke her own varsity mark. Elliott also took a close second behind Massey in the 50-free with a 27.93.

Salem, who has yet to win a meet this year, lost on Tuesday to Brighton, 100-72. Lindsay Olson was the Rocks' only first place winner. She swam a 1:19.4 to take the 100-breast

Wendy Gilles beaten in Slims bid

By Chris McCosky, staff writer

The first round of the 32-player Virginia Slims qualifier began Friday at the Beverly Hills Racquet Club. There were some local surprises, but no local victories.

Plymouth's Wendy Gilles was supposed to be the only local junior amateur player in the qualifier. However, because several touring pros had to back out of the tourney because of injury, illness, or previous commitment, Chris Gilles' sister Wendy and Farmington Harrison junior Kelly Davidson got unexpected, last-second berths.

Chris Gilles had her match delayed until Saturday because her opponent, No. 7 seed Pilar Vasquez, was playing in another tourney in Bakersfield, Calif.

Wendy drew the qualifier's No. 6 seed, Susan Leo of Australia, fated No. 6 in Australia, came out aggressively attacking the net. Her tactics caught Wendy off guard.

"I'VE NEVER SEEN her play before," Wendy said after "If I play her again I'll know what to do."

But, this match belonged exclusively to the Aussie. Leo won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-0.

Gilles made one run at her in the first set. Down 0-3 and looking totally frustrated, Gilles began firing forehand winners, taking the net away. She won three out of the next four games to make the set 4-3 in favor of Leo. Then in the middle of the eighth game, there was a five-minute delay while tournament officials discussed a rule with Leo and the net judge.

After the rump, won by Leo, Gilles lost the next seven games and the match.

"I wasn't really into it," Gilles said. "I was so nervous I couldn't concentrate. Sometimes I made great shots, then other times I was dogging it."

DAVIDSON PLAYED immediately after Gilles. She, too, suffered from nervousness.

"When I get nervous, I blow my forehead. That's the story of this match," she said.

Davidson lost to Canada's Mary Ann Grote, 4-6, 2-6. Grote was this year's runner-up to Colleen Bassett in the Canadian Nationals.

Davidson fell behind 0-3, then 1-4 in the first set. Then she started to really play. Her ferocious two-handed backhand brought loud ovations from a sparse crowd comprised mostly of other tennis players, both amateur and professional. Her backhands also brought her back into the match, 4-5.

Just when her volley game was coming on, her serve deserted her. Grote, an imperturbable performer, steadily regained control of the match.

Grote broke Davidson's serve in the final game of the first set, and again in the fourth and sixth games of the second set.

Only four players will emerge from the qualifier and join the others in the 32-player Virginia Slims' field. The Slims tourney will take place Oct. 3-9 at Cobo Arena and will feature such stars as Chris Evert-Lloyd and Lisa Bonder.

Spartans win 2, Chiefs beat Harrison, 3-2

By Paul King
special writer

Livonia Stevenson brought out the heavy artillery last week with a pair of soccer wins.

The Spartan boys routed winless North Farmington on Friday, 9-1, as Eric Pence scored the hat trick to raise his season goal total to 13.

John Gelmsi added his 12th and 13th goals as Stevenson raised its season goal to 7-2.

Goalie Terry Harshfield scored on a penalty kick, while Joe Novak, Dave Barnas and Bob Costanza rounded out the goal brigade.

The Spartans also trampled Livonia Churchill, 5-1, Wednesday at home before 600 fans in a replay of last year's state Class A title game.

Gelmsi and Pence each had two goals and an assist. Barnas had the other goal.

Punchless Chiefs lose to Northville

One would have thought the Canton offense was on strike instead of the school employees.

Everything the Plymouth Canton Chiefs football team tried against Northville failed — except one play.

Trailing 20-0 late in the fourth quarter, quarterback Jody Spitz, who didn't start the game, threw a pass to David Knapp who in turn pitched it to Rodney Williams who scampered in for the Chiefs' lone score. The play covered 35 yards.

It was hardly enough to keep the homecoming day crowd from going a little crazy.

"We DIDN'T play well at all," said coach Rich Barr. "The offense didn't move the ball. Harrison aren't getting any blocking. We were lucky to score at all."

Canton could muster just 63 yards rushing and 64 yards passing against a large Northville defense.

Sophomore Tony Aiken started his first game at quarterback in place of Spitz. He completed five of eight passes for 43 yards, but couldn't move the Chiefs in for a score. Spitz entered the game in the final quarter.

John Quinn, pet Northville on the board first on a 3-yard run. Quarterback Dave Longridge made it 12-0 after his 2-yard run. He then threw to Quinn for a two-point conversion.

Northville's final score came in the second quarter, on a 34-yard pass from Longridge to Brian Jennings.

Canton is now 0-4 and hopes of a first-ever 500 season are slowly slipping away.

Canton beats lowly Hawks

points. Opatry, a 5-10 senior center, pulled down 10 rebounds to lead the team.

Beth Frigge contributed six points from her point guard position.

ALSO AIDING the Chiefs' cause was some horrendous shooting by the Hawks. Harrison could hit on just four of 42 shots from the floor.

The game was decided early. Canton raced ahead 14-3 after one quarter and built up a 30-9 advantage by halftime. The Chiefs proceeded to run the Hawks out of the gym in the third quarter with a 17-2 spurt.

Mulroy said that her team still needed work on rebounding and they still weren't being patient enough on offense.

"They saw, even though they played a weak team, that they can play a strong game. They saw that they were capable of winning and that is important," she said.

Injured Lou Ann Hamblin is about at 80 percent, according to Mulroy. Hamblin, who injured her ankle before the season opener, played about a quarter against the Hawks. She is still visibly slowed by the ankle.

Diana Knickerbocker will still be out at least another three weeks with her knee injury. Mulroy hopes to have her back in time for the district playoffs.

Plymouth Christian ousted

Try as they might, Plymouth Christian could not upend highly-touted Detroit Bethesda Friday night.

The Eagles got 16 points from Debbie Van Hoesen and eight a piece from Kim Allen and Colleen Carroll, but still lost 43-33.

"We played real well in the second quarter and at the end. We played good defense, too. They've been scoring a lot of points. But, we can't score four points in a quarter and expect to win," said Jeff Cook, Eagles coach.

After trailing 18-15 at half, Plymouth Christian tallied just four in the third.

Christian falls to 4-3 (2-2 in league play), while Bethesda ups its record to 5-1.

Mike Duckworth scored from 20 yards out on a direct free kick for Churchill to make it 1-1 in the first half.

Stevenson outshot the Chargers, 29-8.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 6, BISHOP BORGESS 6: Andy Rama, C.J. Wendt and Jim Kowalski each scored twice Friday to lead the Shamrocks past Borgess in the Central Division game played at Redford's Bell Creek Park.

Rama, the area leader with 19 goals, assisted on both of Wendt's scores.

Goalie Bob Sinnavee posted his first shutout behind the defensive play of Brett Wasik, Bob Tartaglia and Rob Abramson.

CC is now 5-1-1 overall, while Borgess fell to 0-7-2.

Goalie Dino Cacciola was instrumental Wednesday in Borgess' 0-0 deadlock with Birmingham Brother Rice.

GARDEN CITY 9, YPSILANTI 1: The Cougars won their eighth straight Friday at the expense of host Ypsilanti. Paul Punmill scored three times for the winners, raising his season goal total to 17. Andy Muglia added two goals, while Bill Trombley, Jeff Early, Dave Bunka and Mike Cassar rounded out the scoring.

BENTLEY 0, SALEM 0: It was a defensive struggle all the way in a Western Lakes Conference game played Thursday.

Salem, which stayed unbeaten, got fine defensive play from Bob Bowling.

Jeff Neschich and Steve Moran.

Goalie Joe Kneori, who made six saves, posted his fourth shutout of the year.

Bentley, spurred by the defensive play of the Police brothers (Tony, Gene and Gino), gave goalie Jeff Wilkinson his fifth shutout. He made 14 saves.

Bentley's record is now 5-1-2.

CANTON 3, HARRISON 2: Tom Wright scored a goal and added an assist Thursday as the host Chiefs raised their season record to 3-4-0.

Wright's 11th goal came at the 18-minute mark of the first half. Brad Nebill then added another Canton goal just a minute later to give the Chiefs a 2-0 halftime lead.

The Chiefs then made it 3-0 on Brian Whiteley's goal (from Steve Pedlow, 13 minutes into the second half).

Harrison (2-4-1) made it close as Eric Reed (unassisted) and Wasim Babura (from John Sepety's score at the 65- and 74-minute marks).

Dave Hawkins was the winning goalie, while Kelly Burningham took the loss.

HURON VALLEY 3, PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 2: The Eagles failed to hold onto a 2-1 halftime advantage as Lutheran's John Mitchell scored the game-winner with only three minutes remaining.

Rod Winkle scored both Plymouth goals, one assisted by freshman brother Steve.

Rock runners fall to Livonia in close races

"If it's possible to learn something from a loss, then we did today. This was a great race."

Plymouth Salem Cross country coach Tom Williams is not usually pleased after a double loss, but things were different last Thursday.

Salem's boys' team lost to Livonia Churchill 26-29 and the girls fell 27-28, but nobody went away feeling like losers.

"I was really excited by the way we ran today," Williams said. "We are not slowed by these losses at all. These were two excellent races."

CHURCHILL'S Don Miller was the first to cross the finish line with a time of 16:38. Salem's Scott Steiner was second with a 16:42.

The Charger's captured third, fifth, seventh and ninth place, while Salem ran four, six, eight and nine.

The Rocks' runners, in order, were Phil Madis (17:17), Eric Pedersen (17:32), Bill Morley and Tony Atwell (17:45).

The Chargers' runners, in order, were Doug Plachta (17:15), Paul Schwartz (17:28), Scott Sinclair (17:38), and Steve Weiss (18:15).

Churchill's Julie Recla outlasted Amy Miyasaki in the girls' race. Recla ran the course in 19:32, while Miyasaki ran a 20:54. Shelly Simons placed third for Salem with a 21:16.

Heidi Dupret ran sixth with a 21:50 for the Rocks.

Trish Donnelly, who normally is the Rocks' No. 1 runner, was ill and managed an eighth-place finish. Her sister Michelle was ninth.

"Trish got sick after about a mile, but she still gutted it out. It was a courageous performance on her part," Williams said.

Kristen Schultz and Jill Calmotto placed fourth and fifth respectively and Amy Mastenak took seventh.

A PAIN IN THE NECK CAN MAKE YOU A PAIN IN THE NECK
If you're feeling irritable and argumentative, if you snap at someone and later wonder why, it could be caused by that slight pain you feel in your neck. It's the sign of a pinched nerve. Feelings of irritability, depression and being tired, even after a good night's sleep. This condition is treated daily by chiropractic. Left untreated, you may suffer from headaches, shoulder pains, arm pains, and an overall lack of energy. If you are experiencing any of these symptoms, I urge you to have a chiropractic examination. To encourage you to do this (and to improve your disposition) please take advantage of this offer: COMPLIMENTARY SPINAL EXAMINATION Through This Friday Only This examination normally costs $35.00. This examination will include an orthopedic test, a neurological test, a spinal adjustment check, an examination for restricted or excess motion in the spine, a muscle strength test and a private consultation with the doctor to discuss the results. There is absolutely no obligation on your part. FOR AN APPOINTMENT CALL 455-7560 McLellan's Chiropractic Office 9325 Haggerty Rd. Plymouth

WORKERS' COMPENSATION Employees who lose wages as a result of work related injuries or diseases, may be entitled to weekly benefits equal to eighty percent of the employee's after-tax average weekly wage, as well as medical care for the work related injury or disease, and even vocational rehabilitation. Amendments, effective in 1982, to the Workers' Disability Compensation Act, have significantly changed the law, particularly affecting other benefits to which an employee may be entitled. If you need advice regarding an issue of workers' compensation, call for an appointment. There is no charge for the initial consultation. Let's discuss your questions completely, thoroughly, and confidentially. (313)348-5900 CALL COLLECT LAW OFFICES OF WILLIAM L.
