The Canton Connection

CANTON'S HISTORY will take the stage at a homecoming slated for 3 p.m. Sunday at Township Hall. Longtime Canton residents are encouraged to attend to share memories with old friends and the sesquicentennial committee documenting Canton's history. Attendees are asked to bring old photographs or newspaper clippings on local events. Materials will be photocopied and returned immediately. Refreshments will be served.

SUPERVISOR JAMES POOLE already has received congratulations on Canton's upcoming 150th birthday from Canton City, Ga. Poole has written to all 17 Cantons in the country and has learned, among other things, that the Georgia community just celebrated its 150th too.

WINE AND CHEESE will be on the menu Friday, Oct. 28, when the League of Women Voters holds its annual fund-raiser at the Parmenter Cider Mill and Winery in Northville. Hours are 8:30-10:30 p.m. Donation is $7.50 per person. For information, call Billie Whiteley at 453-7381 or Michelle Howard at 453-8542.

A PUMPKIN-PAINTING party will be from noon-4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29 at the Pine Tree Plaza shopping center on Joy between Hix and I-275 freeway. The event is sponsored by the Canton Chamber of Commerce and the Pine Tree Plaza merchants, with pumpkins donated by Bordine's Farm Market. Pumpkins will be painted and auctioned off, with proceeds to the Canton Goodfellows for Christmas food baskets. Trophies will be awarded in age groups up to 14 years. Lots of door prizes, and a costume judging at 2 p.m.

THOMAS R. PALMER, a Canton physician, recently was elected to a two-year term on the board of directors of the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate. Dr. Palmer is a family practice physician affiliated with Oakwood Hospital facilities in Canton and Dearborn.

DR. ESMERALDA C. ESPINO has been recertified as a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice, having passed a recertification examination offered by the ABFP. Her practice is in Canton.

A FREE health screening, including flu shots will be offered Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the senior citizen center at the Whittier Center, 28550 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland. The screening, for persons 60 and older, will be conducted by health professionals from the People's Community Hospital Authority, through a federal grant from the Out-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging.

BETH KING has been named director of the Plymouth Christian Academy pre-school program. The school is on Joy Road in Canton.

The Canton Connection runs each Monday in the Canton Observer. Readers are encouraged to submit items of interest concerning Canton residents or events. Submit items to Marybeth Dillon Ward, editor, Canton Observer, 489 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

About a dozen diehard high school seniors bracing the rain with cellophane-covered signs and garbage bags picketed the Plymouth-Canton school board offices. Across the street were their striking teachers. It seemed a student's sign reading "Stop walking, start talking" was doing the trick as bargaining resumed yesterday.

Talks resume; pressure mounts

By M.B. Dillon Ward and Emory Daniels staff writers

Hopes brightened for a tentative agreement between the Plymouth-Canton school board and its teachers as negotiators returned to the bargaining table yesterday.

State mediator Ed Phillips was to be "immediately available" should his services be needed.

Announcement of yesterday's negotiations came at a school board press conference Friday amidst growing public pressure to end the labor dispute. Concerned parents were circulating petitions and organizing an effort to drop hundreds of children off at board offices this week "for administrators to educate."

In the event of a tentative agreement, school officials said it would be at least a day before school reopened.

Twenty-four hours hopefully would be adequate for contracts to be ratified by union members, parents and students to be notified and schools to be readied.

Teachers, teacher aides, transportation and food service workers, secretaries and custodians walked off the job Sept. 30 after contract and wage reopener talks broke off. Security and crossing guards recently reached agreement with the board on a contract.

IN A major development Thursday, a temporary restraining order prohibiting the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC), teachers and the district from engaging in fact-finding through Oct. 26 was set aside.

The order was granted recently at the request of district chief negotiator Thomas Schwarze, an attorney, by Ingham County Circuit Judge Robert Bell. The Ingham court handles the bulk of state-related cases.

Michigan Education Association attorney Harvey Wax was scheduled to appear before Judge Bell last Thursday to petition to have the order set aside.

"At the last minute, the board, Michigan Attorney General's office and MERC entered into a stipulated agreement that dissolved the restraining order," Wax said.

A corresponding court order was filed in Ingham County Circuit Court and approved by Judge Bell, clearing the way for MERC to reconsider appointing a fact-finder as requested by Plymouth-Canton teachers.

At a meeting Friday morning, however, a three-member commission of MERC said appointment of a fact-finder "would be premature and that the parties should continue to bargain without a fact-finder in efforts to reach an agreement by Monday," Schwarze said.

The meeting was significant from the board's perspective, because "we had a chance to address MERC. We were never allowed to address the commission prior to that," Schwarze said.

The commissioners did not address petitions for fact-finding submitted by the five support personnel unions. The matter was placed on MERC's Oct. 25 agenda.

Under fact-finding, an impartial third party (MERC fact-finder) proposes a non-binding solution after appraising the positions of both sides.

Schwarze refused to disclose details about what the district was prepared to offer, saying only that he "is optimistic" a quick settlement can be reached.

"We have an impartial state mediator who's requested us to meet separately. He'll be available to be immediately here," said Schwarze at the press conference.

THOUGH BOTH sides desire a two-year agreement, "in bargaining we're going to consider anything. We need two years of labor peace," Schwarze said.

The board "is prepared in depth with necessary figures and calculations. The board will present information about what kind of community we have, and

New digs for cops in works

Canton officials are proceeding with plans to build a new police station, despite losing a $500,000 federal grant which would have helped pay for the project.

"The architect is going to proceed (with plans) while we see about the availability of other dollars," said grants coordinator Terry Carroll.

Denial notice came in early October from the Economic Development Administration in Washington, D.C., Carroll said. According to Carroll, there were too many projects competing for a limited amount of funding.

The EDA received 2,800 applications nationwide totaling $1.6 billion, Carroll said. Only $100 million was available for distribution.

CANTON ORIGINALLY had planned to seek a $1 million grant. That was slashed to $500,000 when the available funding dipped, officials said.

Current plans center around a proposed 23,000-square-foot, two-story facility adjacent to Township Hall. Construction costs are estimated at $1.9 million. The building would take one year to complete.

The Township Board has not yet formally approved a specific construction or funding plan. But the board authorized going ahead with drawings, which will eventually form the basis for construction bids.

"We're looking for a target of the end of January for completion of plans," said Dennis Dundon, of the architectural firm of Coquilard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta.

The Southfield architects have designed new police facilities in Southfield, Warren and Novi. They are work-

A few weeks ago, Karen Paulun waded into a creek to rescue a 19-year-old man whose truck had gone off the road.

Despite efforts to help, the driver later died in a hospital. Frustrated, Paulun went home and unburdened her feelings to her husband, Rob Cripe.

"You see a lot of terrible things (in police work)," said Paulun, a soft-spoken, petite woman of 25.

Ulrich needs a home

For seven years, Ulrich Baehr studied English in his hometown of Munich, Germany looking forward to his year in the U.S. as an exchange student.

Things didn't turn out quite like the 17-year-old Plymouth Salem senior anticipated. Because of a personality conflict with his host family, he's searching for a new home in the Plymouth-Canton area.

A non-smoker who likes school "except for chemistry," Ulrich also enjoys photography, speaking English, politics, art, classical music, swimming and cross country skiing. He's a self-described "night owl. I usually get up at 7 a.m., which is too early, I think," he says.

Ulrich is the son of a technical author, Karl Baehr, and a commercial clerk, Benita Baehr. With his parents and brother Mark, Ulrich hikes in the mountains, swims, visits other cities and museums, and "often can't help watching TV."

Any family interested in having Ulrich live with them is asked to contact Youth for Understanding representative Henriette McDonald at 981-2680.

the cost of education within the community," Richard Egli, community relations director for the district, said. The cost of Living Adjustment, long demanded by the teachers' union, "is not an issue" anymore, Schwartze said. Still pending is a threatened lawsuit for financial damages against teachers and teacher aides for violating the no-strike clauses of their contracts. The groups have negotiated wage reopeners in their two-year contracts, effective through the current school year. Striking employees claim alleged unfair labor practices by the board render the strike legal. Charles "Trav" Griffin, chief negotiator for support personnel unions, was expected to be on hand yesterday should agreement be reached with the teachers. The board also was "prepared to stay and perhaps settle with other groups."

ing with Redford, Taylor and Lansing on other plans. TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS are concerned about a costly lawsuit arising from deficiencies in the current, 5,000-square-foot police station. The facility has been cited by the state Department of Corrections for possible safety hazards in the prisoner lockup. Several prisoners have attempted suicide in recent months. A study committee of Police Chief Jerry Cox, Finance Director Mike Gorman and Chief Building Official Aaron Manik has recommended a switch to a new building.

Hearing scheduled on worker's comp appointment appeal

By Tim Richard staff writer

Republican state senators are loaded for bear, and the bruin in this case is Clifford Allo, designated by Gov. James J. Blanchard to head the Workers Compensation Appeals Board. The hunt will start at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the State Capitol. That's when Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, majority leader and chairman of the Senate Administration Committee, opens the hearing on Allo's confirmation.

"The governor continues to talk in glowing terms of how he wants to improve the business climate in Michigan and of how important it is for business, labor and government to work together," said Sen. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, noting that Democrat Blanchard "denies his close ties to the labor movement."

The case against Allo, an attorney and Birmingham resident, is that during the Legislature's 1981 reform of the workers comp system, Allo was "a vociferous opponent of these reforms who fought long and hard to prevent their passage." He then was in the employ of the United Auto Workers union.

Cruce, Sen. R. Robert Geak of Northville and other Republicans have asked Blanchard to withdraw Allo's nomination, threatening to vote against his confirmation.

Whether they will have the chance is problematical.

The deadline for taking the confirmation to a vote is only one session day away from the hearing, according to one GOP staff member. Republicans fear Faust may be able to delay the matter so that confirmation is automatic.

Procedures for a confirmation hearing are "long and involved," according to Faust. "The committee, mostly through my personal work, submits a set of written questions to the appointee. The appointee is then given a time period in which to respond; generally this is two weeks."

"The written responses are then reviewed - again, usually by me - and from the responses, additional questions are asked at the public hearing. This allows the Senate to have a permanent record of a public policy maker's views on important matters."

"Later, these responses can be checked against actual practices, if a senator finds this necessary. Additionally, I would like to point out there is a total of six appointments. While the major emphasis has been on (Allo) as chairman, several senators have asked the other appointees also be considered at a public hearing," said Faust.

The view from picture window

The view from the picture window in the little white house with the green shutters was fascinating.

The squirrels and birds were busy preparing for the long winter and it was interesting to see them battle for the things they would need.

The squirrels raced one another for the nuts that were hidden under the golden autumn leaves that had already fallen while the birds were busy picking up straws and twigs to use in building a warm nest.

And often as they raced for items that caught their eye the birds would fight each other for possession.

As the Stroller looked on this autumn scene on his own front lawn, he was reminded of similar scenes he watched as a boy in the foothills of the Blue Mountains in the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

THE MEMORIES came tumbling back through the years and the Stroller recalled the days when his widowed mother kept all of us children busy as she prepared for the winter.

We had a small garden in which we raised tomatoes and cabbages and other vegetables.

Once the harvest was in, mother put us all to work. The Stroller, being the only boy, drew the job of cutting the cabbage which was to wind up in the earthen crock for sauerkraut.

The girls helped slice tomatoes to prepare them for the making of ketchup.

There was one other job and mother took care of that. It was handling the beef tongue, or cow's tongue as we kids called it.

used to save the best for mother. She would boil it, then slice it cross ways to make portions for sandwiches.

Once this was done she placed the pieces in another earthen crock and started adding all kinds of spices. It was what she called "picklin'". And how we youngsters used to enjoy a pickled tongue sandwich at noon when we came in from school.

The potatoes were another delicacy for us. Mother canned quite a few jars and placed them on a shelf in the cellar.

KETCHUP was another treat. The Stroller can't recall how she did it, but mother's final product was brown in color.

While Paulun has done mostly patrol work, Cripe has worked both on the road and in the detective bureau. He has been trained in accident investigation, breathalyzer, sex crimes, evidence gathering and interviewing techniques.

Paulun often relies on persuasion, rather than brawn, when dealing with a possibly volatile situation, such as a domestic dispute. So-called "lady cops" are still a novelty to some residents, Paulun said.

"I get a lot of people who are impressed with a female officer," she said. "That's what keeps us going. I can do the same job (as a male officer)."

THE GUILT COMES when you stop to think about how dreadfully difficult all those women who work outside the home must have it. When I think of going to work fulltime along with trying to meet all the needs of my home and family, the first word that comes to mind is "exhaustion". Spare time, it would seem, is becoming a luxury of the past.

I'm almost ashamed to admit it, but I like staying at home. I know that confession must ring with connotations of severe laziness and shallowness of character. I'll admit to the severe laziness part, but my character's OK.

In fact, it's not so bad being a domestic dinosaur. The hours are nice, but frankly, the pay stinks!

"Sometimes it bothers you (and talking about it makes you feel better."

THE COUPLE currently live in Garden City, but plan to move to Canton as soon as they can sell their house. They want to live in the community they serve.

Both have grown up with the Canton police department, watching it progress from a tiny, part-time department to a larger, full-time one.

Cripe, a youthful, blue-eyed man of 28, recalls the department's "growing pains."

"We used to handcuff prisoners to a chair," said Cripe. "You can look back and say you were part of that growth."

These officers enjoy the challenge and variety of police work. "I've always wanted to be in police work," said Cripe, who grew up in Plymouth Township.

He and several buddies at the old Plymouth High School used to daydream about becoming policemen. Cripe and four of his classmates did make it into the highly competitive law enforcement field.

CRIPES, WHO started as a reserve officer in 1975, was hired by the Canton police when the department went full time in 1978. Paulun, a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, joined as a reserve in 1979, became a cadet and achieved full-time officer status in 1981. She is one of three women officers on the Canton force.

"My dad (Fire Chief Mel Paulun) encouraged me to try for it," Paulun said.

While Paulun has done mostly patrol work, Cripe has worked both on the road and in the detective bureau. He has been trained in accident investigation, breathalyzer, sex crimes, evidence gathering and interviewing techniques.

Paulun often relies on persuasion, rather than brawn, when dealing with a possibly volatile situation, such as a domestic dispute. So-called "lady cops" are still a novelty to some residents, Paulun said.

"I get a lot of people who are impressed with a female officer," she said. "That's what keeps us going. I can do the same job (as a male officer)."

THE GUILT COMES when you stop to think about how dreadfully difficult all those women who work outside the home must have it. When I think of going to work fulltime along with trying to meet all the needs of my home and family, the first word that comes to mind is "exhaustion". Spare time, it would seem, is becoming a luxury of the past.

I'm almost ashamed to admit it, but I like staying at home. I know that confession must ring with connotations of severe laziness and shallowness of character. I'll admit to the severe laziness part, but my character's OK.

In fact, it's not so bad being a domestic dinosaur. The hours are nice, but frankly, the pay stinks!

Karen Paulun

Every situation is different, and an officer learns to "play it by ear," Paulun said.

Cripe enjoys putting odd pieces of information together to form a solid case or to track down a suspect. Cripe, who enjoys working with people, becomes frustrated when convicted felons are released on probation and quickly return to crime.

"It makes your job seem useless — like you're spinning your wheels," Cripe said.

SALES THE couple work different shifts, they make time to be together. They also must cope with stress caused by danger, a hectic pace and the wide range of job duties.

Cripe and Paulun are sounding boards for each other. But Cripe tries hard to keep his mind off work when he's at home.

Their circle of friends includes many police officers, and they enjoy entertaining. The couple also like to go dancing, work on fitness and take vacations.

"You can't get away from (being a police officer), no matter where you go," Paulun said.

Both plan to continue in their careers. Cripe, currently a corporal, wants to move up through the ranks. His wife wants to work several more years.

"Every day is a new day," Paulun said. "I would like to try everything."

Reader has not had hike

To the editor:

To the striking school employees & school board — economic realities of 1983.

Because of hard economic times, the company I work for has not given a raise in three years (not unusual in Michigan). In May, all salaried employees had a 10 percent salary cut.

So, if the school board has enough money to give a raise that will not raise taxes and leaves enough in the budget for increased costs for next year, then, I say, offer what is affordable.

If an increase in taxes would be necessary to satisfy the striking school employees, I say it's time they look elsewhere for employment. I can't afford it.

Teachers tend to be disenchanted with administrative "vision" that solicits "valuable teacher input" in regard to items such as curriculum revision, for example, in order to lend credence to, or gain support for, an administrative decision in the matter which had already made made prior to the deliberations. Of course, an occurrence such as that must surely be speculative, or an idle remark, since it boggles one's mind to think that this administration, or any other, could possibly be so devious.

On occasion, discipline referrals concerning incidents not witnessed by a third party culminate in administrative discrediting of the teacher's "memory" or "recall" of the specifics of the case. In such instances, the teacher's veracity and integrity are impugned, not to mention any personal or professional embarrassment suffered. I submit that just one such incident is one too many and categorically unconscionable.

Teachers have difficulty demonstrating respect for administrators who see their roles as primarily authoritarian rather than supportive. To the extent that building principals cannot or will not see their primary responsibility as one of "helping teachers teach," including enhancement of learning environment and the provision of basic tools, and that all else is subordinate to that, they might better be counseled to accept another less critical assignment.

Teachers are generally skeptical or discouraged by the current thrust of teacher evaluation methodology which would in the long run contribute to loss of autonomy in the classroom and tend to stifle teacher creativity, initiative, and individuality in attempting to meet individual needs. Large numbers of teachers remained unconvinced that standardized testing is a panacea for ineffective or sub-standard teaching. I fervently hope parents want something more than "teaching the test!"

All segments of the educational community, parents, teachers, administrators, board members alike, share the responsibility for the system's deficiencies, just as we share, and take pride in, its successes or accomplishments. Each member of these groups cannot in good conscience evade the challenge of how large or small the role played. One can "opt out" or "cop out," but in so doing you contribute to maintenance of the status quo and impede the improvement process. Since the human condition is one of imperfection, the two time-tested tools of conciliation and tolerance are surely invaluable here. In the current crisis, the public perception of teachers is often one of aggression and militancy. In this stressful period, teachers may characterize school board members as paternalistic and patronizing, to cite two printable adjectives. Obviously, the descriptions of hands of teachers or which erodes that teacher's positive concept of selfworth will surely hasten the demise of public education as we have come to know it. What are you, the reader, willing to do to help?

Detroit delays sewer advance

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

A sign off from the city of Detroit is the only thing standing in the way of a $3.8 million cash advance to Plymouth Township to design the so-called "Son of Supersewer" project.

The project is an outgrowth of the downsizing of Supersewer and would provide additional sewer capacity to western Wayne County communities dropped from the original Supersewer plans.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) already has given preliminary approval for the money and stands ready to send it if Plymouth Township secures the needed sign offs.

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said last week he has received two of the three sign offs — from Wayne and Oakland counties — and only needs Detroit to sign.

Despite Detroit's delay, Breen has heard rumors the DNR may send the money without the third signature.

THOSE RUMORS may be true, since the DNR last week started soliciting local support for a related project.

The "Son of Supersewer" project calls for building a $110 million sewer interceptor parallel to the existing Rouge Valley interceptors, which run to the Detroit sewage treatment plant.

Reportedly the Rouge Valley interceptors suffer a serious pollution problem caused by leaks and overcapacity, and aggravated during rainfalls.

The DNR reportedly has started encouraging Rouge Valley interceptor communities to consider correcting the pollution problems at the same time the new interceptors are built.

Theoretically the cost for both projects could be decreased if both are done at the same time.

The DNR and Wayne County Department of Public Works sent letters to the Rouge Valley communities last week informing them of the situation.

"By acting immediately, it is possible to construct the $30 million project required to relieve the overloaded Rouge Valley interceptors at a cost to local communities as low as $5 million," the Wayne County letter said.

THE CATCH to the whole issue is that everything — plans, resolutions, and financing — must be in place by next October to secure 75 percent federal funding for the projects.

However, if the work is in place by then, it is very likely the federal funds would be awarded since the DNR announced last week it would place the combined project at a top priority.

The "Son of Supersewer" project supposedly is ranked as the state's number five priority, with the downsized Supersewer project being number one.

Breen said he is now waiting for the city of Detroit or the DNR to make the next move.

RULES OF THE ROAD FOR PATIENTS WITH ARTHRITIS

Today's column will deal with ways that those of you with arthritis or back pain can make your driving more tolerable.

First, use a seat belt. Without them an accident to your car could well result in a serious joint or whiplash injury. You can ill afford such further injury to your skeletal system.

Make use of mechanical aids available to help open car doors and to aid you in getting into or out of a car. If you need information on such devices feel free to call my office staff.

For comfortable sitting, bench seats are preferable to bucket seats. Bench seats are more firm and allow you to sit higher from the floor of the car.

When undertaking a trip of 300-600 miles or more, pace yourself not to travel more than 8 hours per day and plan to stop every hour. Stretching for even a few moments will forestall a later seige of prolonged back and joint stiffness later.

If you are a frequent long distance driver, consider a C.B. radio. It can keep you abreast of local conditions and, in case of emergencies, will allow you to summon help quickly.

Say Yes!

The best is in your own backyard

By Catherine Trainor
staff writer

Consider the potato.

There are those who would say a potato is a potato. Others buy different potatoes for different purposes. For instance, there are those who think the only baking potato is an Idaho — they buy nothing else for that purpose.

But Michigan potato growers and frugal cooks know that the Michigan potato is just as good for baking as that import. Besides the Michigan potato is much more interesting. Idahos all look alike. Michigan potatoes come in all sizes and shapes.

You can buy a 20-pound bag and you've got potatoes for every occasion on hand. The small ones which are hard to peel without skinning your fingers in the process are great for boiling. Eaten with skins on, mashed with your fork and slathered with butter and sour cream, they are just as good as baked and a lot faster.

THE MEDIUM to large potatoes, easily peeled (odd shapes and dents add interest to the peeling process), are fine mashed, au gratin or scalloped. You can save the big ones for baking. Or, if you've run out of big ones just bake twice as many smaller ones.

What this paean to the potato is leading up to is that you don't have to go out of state to find wholesome, quality products. A lot of people already know that and would happily buy Michigan produce if it were labeled as such. Michigan potatoes usually come in bags which say Michigan potatoes. Sometimes eggs are clearly labeled as being from Michigan and occasionally produce in season will be tagged as from Michigan.

But what about meat, dairy products and canned fruits and vegetables?

In response to a Michigan Department of Agriculture study which found that 51 percent of consumers in the state had difficulty identifying Michigan products and more than 75 percent of those would buy home-grown given a chance, a campaign has been launched to promote agriculture — Michigan's second largest industry.

Heading up the nationwide campaign is Michigan's first lady Paula Blanchard. She will promote a "Say Yes to the Best from Michigan Farms" campaign which includes a logo designed to help Michigan consumers identify home-grown produce.

CALLING THE effort "truly a 'win-win' situation," Mrs. Blanchard said the symbol is only the "focal point" of a program which will allow shoppers to support this local industry.

"There can be no losers when consumers, producers, workers and the economy of the entire state all benefit from simply saying 'yes' to Michigan's wide array of agricultural products," she said.

The "Say Yes to the Best from Michigan Farms" program was developed by the Michigan Department of Commerce, Michigan Department of Agriculture and 10 commodity groups.

According to the Department of Agriculture, Michigan leads the nation in the production of six crops: blueberries, cucumbers for pickling, Eastern Soft White Winter Wheat, navy beans, Plantation Christmas Trees and red tart cherries. The state ranks fifth or higher in the production of 26 other crops or products.

As a result, Michigan is second only to California for the production of the most and widest variety of agricultural products, the total value of which contributes more than $15.5 billion to the state's economy.

Food retailers are urged to promote the logo in their stores and may obtain information about it and how to use it by calling the state's products hot line at 1-800-MI-PRODS.

So here's a sampling of recipes in which you can use only Michigan products. If you're interested in using Michigan products and your food store isn't using the logo yet, urge the manager to do so.

PUMPKIN PIE

One 9-inch unbaked pie shell

Filling:

2 cups (1 pound can) pumpkin

$\frac{3}{4}$  cup firmly packed brown sugar

2 tsp cinnamon

$\frac{3}{4}$  tsp salt

$\frac{3}{4}$  tsp ginger

$\frac{1}{2}$  tsp nutmeg

$\frac{1}{4}$  tsp mace

$\frac{1}{8}$  tsp cloves

4 eggs, slightly beaten

$1\frac{1}{4}$  cups light cream or half and half

Whipped cream, if desired

Preheat oven to 400°. Combine pumpkin and brown sugar in a large mixing bowl. Beat until well blended. Stir in spices, blend thoroughly. Add eggs; gradually stir in cream. Pour into pie shell and bake 45 to 50 minutes, or until a knife inserted near center comes out clean. Cool on wire rack to room temperature. Serve garnished with whipped cream.

HOT BUTTERED CIDER

2 quarts sweet apple cider

3 sticks cinnamon

1 tsp whole cloves

1 tsp whole allspice

1 tsp chopped candied ginger

Butter balls

Sticks of cinnamon

Bring cider, 3 sticks cinnamon, cloves, allspice and ginger to a boil in sauce pan, simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Strain before serving. Garnish each serving with a butter ball and a stick of cinnamon.

Yield: 8 cups.

SPICED PLUM BREAD

1 egg

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup honey

$\frac{2}{3}$  cup sugar

1 tsp baking soda

1 lb. can Michigan kpurple plums, drained, pitted, cut into pieces*

2 cups all-purpose flour

1 cup walnuts, chopped

$\frac{1}{4}$  tsp cloves, ground

$\frac{1}{8}$  tsp cinnamon, ground

In a mixing bowl, cream egg with sugar, honey and vanilla. Add flour, soda and spices. Mix until blended. Stir in plum pieces and nuts. DO NOT overmix. Grease and flour one 9-inch-by-5-inch loaf pan. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake in preheated 350° oven 50-60 minutes or until done. If top becomes too brown, cover loosely with foil to prevent overbrowning. Remove from loaf pan and allow to cool on baking rack.

*Note: Plums can be cut easily with kitchen shears.

BLUE CHEESE APPLE PIE

Blue cheese pastry:

1 cup all-purpose flour

$\frac{1}{4}$  tsp salt

$\frac{1}{4}$  cup ( $\frac{1}{2}$  stick) butter

$\frac{1}{3}$  cup crumbled Blue cheese

3 to 4 tbsp water

Filling:

6 cups peeled sliced Golden Delicious apples

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup EACH: raisins, sugar

$\frac{1}{3}$  cup water

2 tsp EACH: cornstarch, water

Topping:

1 cup dairy sour cream

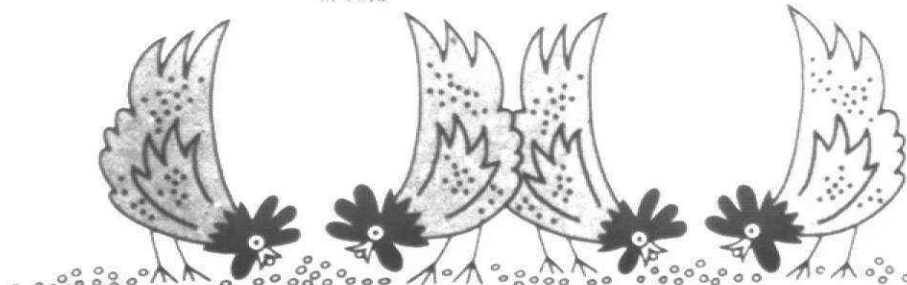

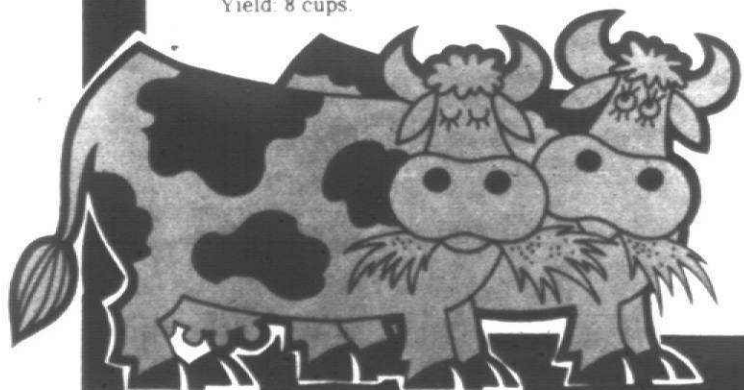

2 tsp EACH: fresh lemon juice, sugar

$\frac{1}{4}$  tsp cinnamon

For pastry, combine flour and salt. Cut in butter and Blue cheese until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in water, one tablespoon at a time, until dough just holds together. Wrap in waxed paper and chill 1 hour for ease in handling. Preheat oven to 425°. Roll dough on lightly floured surface to form a 13-inch circle. Fit pastry into a 9-inch pie plate, fold edges to form a standing rim. flute. Prick inside of crust with a fork. Bake 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool on wire rack.

Meanwhile, for filling, combine apples, raisins, sugar and  $\frac{1}{3}$  cup water in a 3-quart saucepan. Bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer until apples are tender. Combine cornstarch and 2 tablespoons water until smooth. Stir into hot mixture. Boil and stir 2 minutes. Spoon filling into baked pie shell.

For topping, gently combine all ingredients. Spoon over top of pie. Return to oven and bake 4 to 5 minutes, or until topping is just set. Serve warm or cold.

In German, it's sauerbraten

Sweet-sour pork is a real fall treat

To salute the arrival of fall, gather family and friends to enjoy the fabulous foods of a Porkfest celebration. This table festival pays tribute to the season's harvest with a bountiful spread of foods produced from the land.

Sweet-sour, that unique blend of contrasting flavors that tantalizes the palate so delightfully, is found in a variety of cuisines around the world. Surely among the masters of combining the sweet with the sour in just the right proportion are the Germans. Their most famous tribute to sweet and sour is sauerbraten or sauer roast.

While sauerbraten is traditionally made with a beef roast, its spicy wine and vinegar marinade also works flavor magic on pork. By giving sauerbraten treatment to a boneless pork shoulder roast, you'll find you are giving a meal an intriguing flavor boost and also helping to ease a strained food budget.

The boneless shoulder blade Boston roast called for in this recipe is one of the most economically priced pork roasts available. The blade bone has been removed to facilitate carving, and it is tied with string or placed inside a netting.

PORK SAUERBRATEN

4 to 6-pound boneless pork shoulder blade Boston roast
1/4 cup red wine
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1/4 cup water
1 large onion, sliced
2 tbsp brown sugar
1 1/2 tsp salt
6 peppercorns, crushed
6 whole cloves
1/4 tsp ground allspice
1 bay leaf
2 tsp cooking fat
1/2 cup crushed gingersnaps

Combine wine, vinegar, water, onion, brown sugar, salt, peppercorns, cloves, allspice and bay leaf in saucepan. Bring to boil and cook 10 minutes. Cool. Place meat in bowl or plastic bag, add marinade, turning pork to coat, and cover or tie securely. Marinate in refrigerator 18 to 24 hours, turning several times. Remove pork from marinade to absorbent paper and pat dry; brown in cooking fat in Dutch oven or large frying-pan. Pour off drippings. Add reserved marinade to meat, cover tightly and cook slowly 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 hours or until pork is well done. Remove pork to warm platter. Reserve 2 cups cooking liquid, return to pan; bring to a boil. Gradually add gingersnaps and cook, stirring to thicken. Serve gravy with pork.

Germans particularly enjoy sauerbraten with dumplings for they are so tasty with the spicy gravy. Buttered Brussels sprouts or steamed cabbage wedges will go nicely with the menu as will applesauce spiced with cinnamon. For a dessert that's as special as the meal, serve cherry cobbler.

A boneless pork roast is robustly flavored with a sweet-sour marinade that's thickened with gingersnaps for a delicious gravy.

Stuff pita bread at home with this delicious salad

"Eat a pita."
"A what?" asks the balding man with white hair.
"Eat a pita."
"Pardon?" says the attractive woman with long hair.

The television commercial by one of the top fast-food chains paints Joe and Jane Public as Mr. and Mrs. Stupid when it comes to pita bread.

In a follow-up commercial, where the singing is slightly off key, they come around to the company's way of thinking — and selling — but I suspect many people have been one step ahead all the time.

I've been stuffing pita with an assortment of salads and cold cuts for years.

A classic ancient Middle Eastern yeast bread, pita is flat and round. As the bread bakes, a natural pocket forms in the center.

Credit the Greek gyro — the sandwich filled with a mixture of lamb and beef, covered with a sour cream-yogurt sauce, some cucumber and a little feta cheese — with sparking pita's growing popularity.

My favorite stuffed pita contains Mediterranean salad with dressing. "Eat a pita" at home and pocket the savings.

2 cups shredded iceberg lettuce
1 small red onion, thinly sliced and separated in rings
1/2 cup canned pitted ripe olives, sliced
1/4 cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
6 radishes, sliced

In large container with lid, combine artichoke hearts, tuna, lettuce, onion, olives, cucumber and radishes. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use.

THE DRESSING
Marinate from jarred artichoke hearts
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. dried basil leaves
1/4 tsp. dried oregano leaves

Combine all ingredients in small container, cover and let stand at room temperature. Shake before using.

SALAD IN A POCKET
Salt and black pepper
4 pitas

Pour dressing over salad and mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cut breads in half and evenly spoon salad into pockets. Yields 8 servings.

Rocks on a roll

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Like a mountain avalanche, the Rocks are on a roll.

Plymouth Salem transformed four Livonia Bentley turnovers into touchdowns and went on to rout the Bulldogs, 35-7, before a late-arriving, and somewhat sparse home crowd.

The pattern of the game was set in Bentley's first possession. The Bulldogs sent two handoffs into the line both good for 8-yard gains. On the third play, quarterback Steve Gregor threw the ball right into the hands of Salem's Jeff Arnold who returned it 35 yards for Rock's first score.

"We just destroyed ourselves offensively," said Bentley coach Steve Naumcheff. "We were our own worst enemies out there. But, give (Salem coach Tom) Moshimer's kids credit, they played one heck of a football game."

MOSHIMER'S TEAM was a unit of walking wounded. Ken Harmon (knee), David Bunch (ankle), and Steve Huber (leg), were all on the sidelines, on crutches, prior to the game. They were soon joined by Randy Blaylock, who injured his ankle in the first half.

"We just have no depth at all," Moshimer said. But, his team overcame those injuries and played inspired football.

The Rocks rolled up 290 yards in total offense, 271 on the ground. The Rocks were led by quarterback Mark Tindall who rushed for 94 yards and completed two passes for 19 yards. Fullback Scott Jurek pounded out 88 yards in 19 carries.

Bentley was limited to 178 yards total offense, 136 yards came via the run. The Bulldogs made six turnovers.

"We got a lot of breaks," said Moshimer. "But, I'll tell you something, a lot of those breaks were the result of our good defense, and we jumped on every one of them and put the ball in the end zone."

AFTER ARNOLD'S interception, the teams traded possessions. On the final play of the first quarter, Chris Raymond punted the ball to the Bulldogs. The punt bounced on the ground and hit off a Bentley player. Chris Hymes, recently back into the Salem lineup after an injury, alertly pounced on the ball at the Bentley 13-yard line.

Five plays later, all handoffs to Jurek, the big power back scored from the 1. After Mark Dixon kicked his second point after of the night, Salem led 14-0.

After Bentley's next drive was stopped, the Rocks went 82 yards in six plays and scored on Jurek's 7-yard run. Tindall was the key to drive as he hit end Craig Morton on a 17-yard pass, then ran the left side for 32 yards and the right side for 10 in three successive plays.

The half ended with Salem up 20-0.

Bentley changed quarterbacks in the second half.

"I just wanted to shake up the chemistry a little bit," Naumcheff said of the switch. He added that the switch was not a permanent one.

Junior Pat Schneider got the call and immediately began to move the team. He completed his first two passes, and Bentley suddenly found itself on the Salem 25-yard line.

Then the same bad luck that befell the Bulldogs in the first half, struck again. Bentley back Erik Tower fumbled the ball and Salem's Mike Killingbeck recovered.

SALEM BEGAN another march downfield. On a fourth-and-2 play, with Salem in punt formation, Jurek scooped up a bad snap and rambled around left end for 18 yards and a first down. It was that kind of night for the Rocks.

Ten plays later, Tindall hit Mike Galliers for a 2-yard score and Jurek ran in the two-point conversion — Salem led 28-0.

Bentley came right back to score its only TD of the game — a brilliant 32-yard run by Gary Sutherland. Sutherland must like playing on the Plymouth-Canton field. In Bentley's first game of the year, at Canton, he gained more than 100 yards.

Chad Darke added the point after for Bentley.

ON BENTLEY'S next possession, Schneider was intercepted by Morton at the Bulldog 30. Morton raced into the end zone with Salem's final TD. After Dixon's kick, it was 35-7.

Schneider threw two more interceptions before it was over — one was picked off by Steve Sodditch and the other by John Nichols.

After the game, Moshimer huddled his team together at the 50-yard line. His team was chanting, "We want Central," referring to next week's showdown for the Lakes Division title.

"Hey," Moshimer yelled to his team. "Central is damn tough."

The Rocks grew silent and Moshimer scanned their faces. Then he said:

"But, we're tougher."

Rocks, Shamrocks fall out of state tournament

By Paul King
special writer

It was a rough week of soccer for Redford Catholic Central.

It started Thursday at Bell Creek Park as CC and Warren DeLaSalle battled to a 2-2 tie for the second time this season in a Central Division game played at Bell Creek Park.

The tie, however, kept the Shamrocks out of the Catholic League playoffs.

DeLaSalle and Harper Woods Notre Dame qualified with 8-0-2 and 7-2-1 records, respectively. CC, meanwhile, finished at 6-1-3. The Shamrocks and ND each finished with 15 points, but CC failed to reach the playoffs because of one less victory.

Joe Huck tallied both DeLaSalle goals, coming at 31 and 33 minutes of the first half.

Steve DeMattos scored CC's first goal. Andy Rama got the second, his 27th of the season on a 45-yard free kick, tying Joe Moreau's school record.

On Friday, CC was blasted by defending Class B champ Hamtramck, 7-1, behind Kanto Lulaj's five goals, giving him 45 for the season and 201 for his career.

CC, now 9-3-3 overall, scored 16:51 into the second half — Craig Thiel from Jim Kowalski.

NOTRE DAME 2, SALEM 1: The Rocks were ousted from state tourney play in double sudden death overtime, Friday at home.

George Blaz was the hero, scoring at the 99-minute mark.

Harper Woods Notre Dame, now 12-2-1, trailed 1-0 until three minutes to go in regulation play.

Salem standout Bob Bowling scored the first goal, 20 minutes into the second half on a 25-yard free kick.

The Rocks, 9-4-1 overall, outshot Notre Dame 16-8 and missed three penalty shots as goalie Gino Soave kept them off the board.

soccer

STEVENSON 4, SALEM 0: The Spartans defending Class A champs, put a lock on the Lakes Division crown Thursday at Plymouth Salem as four different players scored.

Stevenson, now 12-2-1 overall, won it without its two top scorers — John Gelmisi and Eric Pence — both out with injuries.

But Chris Wiegel, Dave Barnas, Jim Carney and Chris Gembis each scored once for the winners. Gembis and Jim Kimble also had two assists each.

Goalie Terry Harshfield, who was required to make only four saves, notched his seventh shutout of the season.

CHURCHILL 9, HARRISON 0: The Chargers, last year's 'A' runner-ups, got three goals each Thursday from Phil Lussier and Ken Varella to raise their overall season record to 6-3-3.

John Neff added two goals for the winners, while goalies Sam Matovski and Mike Helner combined for the shutout.

Harrison, meanwhile, dropped to 2-7-2.

NORTHVILLE 7, FRANKLIN 0: Dave Yarmuth and Joe Arwady scored two goals each Wednesday to lift Northville.

The Mustangs, who beat Franklin earlier in the week, 3-0, are now 10-3-3 overall.

Franklin dropped to 3-9-0 overall.

GARDEN CITY 5, BISHOP GALLAGHER 2: The Cougars raised their overall record to 12-1 with the pre-regional win Friday at Grosse Pointe North.

Paul Pummill scored three times to raise his season total to 27.

Bill Trombley and Bill Hyde added one goal and one assist each.

GC outshot the Lancers 18-12.

BENTLEY 8, EDSSEL FORD 0: Dennis Patchett scored in each half Friday night to lead the Bulldogs (8-2-4) to an easy home field win.

Other Bentley goal scorers included Bill Rowan, Jeff McLeod, Tony Pulice, Abe Yaffai, Brad Mahalak and Rich Gregor.

Torin Gniwek added three assists and goalie Jeff Wilkinson, who played 60 minutes, preserved the shutout.

Bentley outshot the Thunderbirds, 33-2.

FARMINGTON 8, CLARKSTON 0: The Falcons (6-6-2) advanced with the Class A prerogative win Wednesday behind senior Mario Said's two goals and one assist.

Greg Molcon scored twice for winless Clarkston to make it 2-2 in the first half, but the Falcons came roaring back as Chris Hackman, John Gregory, Ken Robstock, Doug Prince, Jim Misaros and Dave Fravenheim rounded out the scoring.

The Falcons, who outshot the hosts 30-11, also got outstanding play from Chris Nichols.

BETHESDA 4, PLY. CHRISTIAN 0: The Eagles fell to 2-8 Friday as John Domb's two goals proved to be the difference.

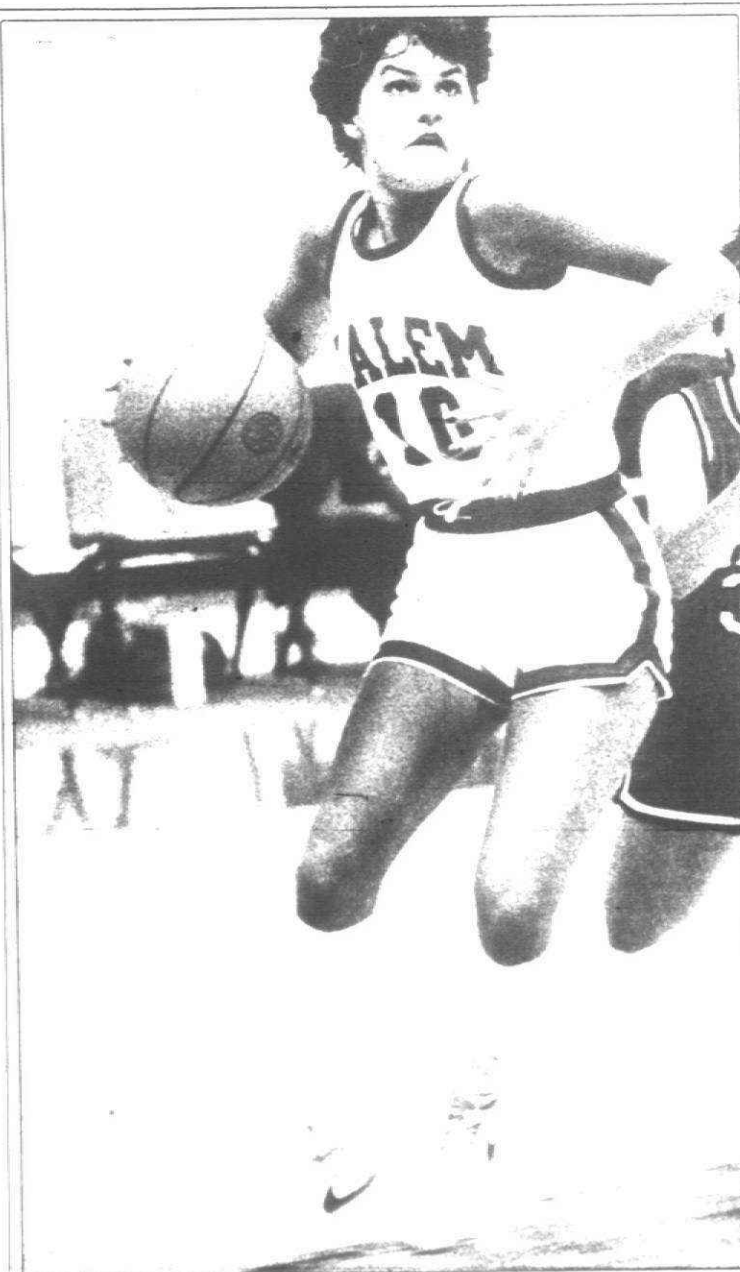

Greg Smith, a defensive player, was outstanding in defeat.

On Thursday, Christian took an 8-0 drubbing from host Ann Arbor Green Hills as John Ramirez scored three times.

Freshman goalie Todd Gentry, who made 10 saves, and senior left-halfback Lloyd Work stood out in defeat.

DeLaSALLE 3, BISHOP BORGESS 0: The Pilots clinched first place in the Central Division Wednesday behind Jamie Lorain's two goals and goalie Tom Jones' eighth shutout.

Borgess, meanwhile, dropped to 0-9-2.

Pam McBride has been carrying the hot hand for the Salem girls basketball team. Her 25 points subdued an unrelenting Stevenson attack Thursday night.

McBride nets 25 in Salem hoop win

Pam McBride came to the rescue Thursday, scoring 25 points to lift Plymouth Salem to a hard-fought 36-33 girls' basketball triumph over visiting Livonia Stevenson.

The senior forward made one free throw with two seconds remaining to provide the final margin of victory after hitting five key free throws down the stretch.

Salem led by as many as 10 points in the final quarter, but Stevenson rallied within two, but failed to convert the equalizer.

"The first quarter was very even," said Salem coach Fred Thomann, whose team trailed 9-8. "In the second quarter we got out on them (11-5) because we played good defensively and had good shot selection."

Only three other Salem players scored — Dawn Johnson, six; Fran Whittaker, four; and Michelle Dawson, one.

Lisa Bekovoy, a 5-foot-10 junior point guard, led Stevenson with 11 points.

"It's a great game for us because they're so much bigger at every position," Thomann said. "I'm just delighted with the way we played."

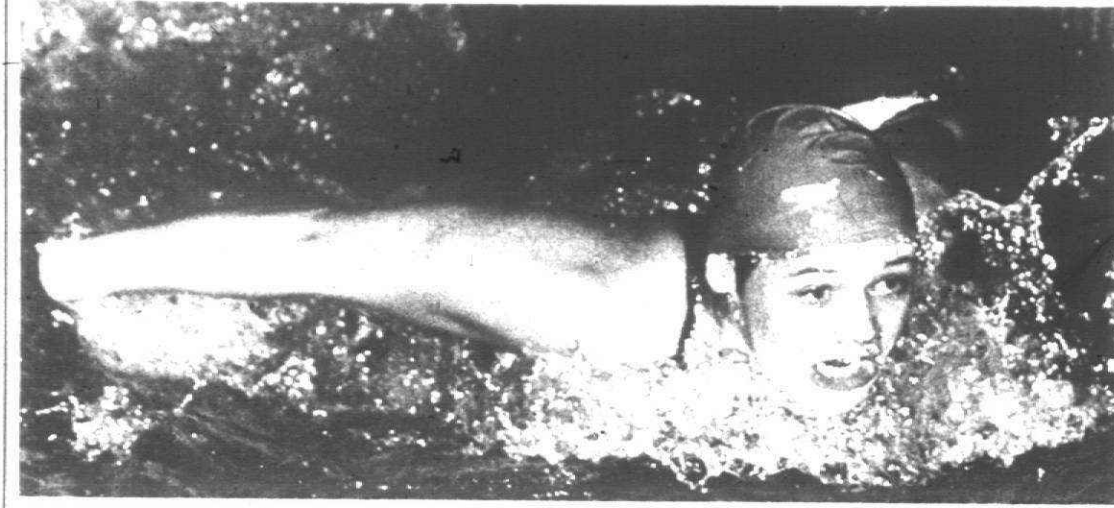

Salem is 9-3 overall while Stevenson slipped to 7-4.

CLARENCEVILLE 39, KINGSWOOD 26: The Trojans gained their second victory of the year Thursday behind sophomore center Kelly Watson's 14 points and junior Darlene Glaser's 12 points.

Brenda Montgomery scored 10 to lead Kingswood (2-5).

Clarenceville's JV squad won for the first time in two years, 37-25.

Salem's B.J. Bing shows her stuff in the 100-yard butterfly. Against Wayne, Bing swam a 1:09.0 to take first place.

Salem swimmers raise record with 2 wins

Two victories by the Plymouth Salem swim team last week pulled their season record up to the 500 mark, 4-4.

On Tuesday, the Rocks dunked Wayne Memorial, 101-71, as Kristal Taylor and Laura Shaffer were double-event winners.

Taylor won the 200-yard individual medley (2:35.8) and the 100-free (1:12.2), while Shaffer won both the 50-free (26.9) and the 100-backstroke (1:11.3).

Both Salem relay teams were victorious: the 200-medley relay team of Shaffer, Cindy Elliott, B.J. Bing, and Taylor swam a 2:06.7, while the 400-free relay team of Bing, Erin Boughton, Cheryl Truskowski, and Shellie Mullen swam a 4:13.0.

Elliott won the 100-breaststroke in 1:17.7, and Bing won the 100-butterfly in 1:09.0.

Salem swept two events clean from Wayne, with Shannon Murphy and Elliott finishing second and third behind Bing in the 100-fly, and Boughton and Mullen taking second and third behind Taylor in the 100-free. Cory Silver, in diving, and Renee Rudin, in the 500-free, earned key third place points for the Rocks.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL gave the Rocks a harder time on Thursday, but Salem prevailed, 96-78.

Shaffer, again, won the 200-IM with a time of 2:25.8. Taylor also got a first for Salem, swimming a 1:00.2 in the 100-free. Rudin swam a 6:09.8 which earned her a first in the 500-free.

The last Salem first was earned by the 400-free relay team of Shaffer, Bing, Taylor and Boughton. They swam a 4:02.4.

Salem next swims Tuesday at home against Walled Lake Central.

Chiefs lose to W.L. Western in OT

The sixth loss of the year may have been the toughest for Plymouth Canton Chiefs to swallow.

They lost an overtime thriller to Walled Lake Western, 14-7, last Friday night.

With 14 seconds left in the first half, Western quarterback Mickey Folsom ran a quarterback sneak for 60 yards and the first touchdown of the day.

Folsom went on to rush for more than 100 yards against the Chiefs and pass for 70 more.

football

CANTON CAME back in the third quarter, completing a long drive with a 2-yard TD pass from sophomore quarterback Tony Aiken to David Knapp. Gary Kaske added the point after and the game was tied.

It was a long night for Aiken. He completed four of 12 passes for 54 yards and was intercepted twice. The Canton offense managed just 188 total yards to Western's 312.

Neither team could score in the final quarter.

Western, however, scored on its first play of the overtime period. Folsom hit Quint Scannell on a 10-yard pass.

Canton had the ball but for one play in the overtime. Aiken, running the option, was hit and fumbled the ball. Western recovered and the game ended, 14-7.

Rock harriers win 2

As Ernie Harwell would say, "It was two for the price of one."

The Plymouth Salem boys' and girls' cross country teams defeated Walled Lake Central twice in the cold and rain last Thursday.

The girls extended their dual meet record to 7-1, with a 20-35 victory. Sara Van Govdaw captured first place for Central with a time of 20:50, but the next five spots were taken by the Rocks.

Shelly Simons (20:53) was second, Trish Donnelly (21:42) third, Heidi Dupret (21:51) fourth, Michelle Donnelly (22:27) fifth, and Amy Miyazaki (23:08) sixth.

THE ROCK BOYS' team upped its record to 6-2 with a 24-32 win. Like the girls, the boys also surrendered the first-place spot to Central. Salem's Scott Steiner was just one second behind first-place Don Chapin with a 16:59.

Eagle rally falls just short

Plymouth Christian's girls' eagles staged a late rally Friday against Southfield Christian, but the comeback fell just short, and the Eagles bowed 33-25.

The victory left Southfield Christian unbeaten in league play with a 6-0 mark. The Eagles record dropped to 3-3 in the conference and 5-5 overall. The teams will play each other again on Tuesday.
