The Canton Connection

A STRONG ODOR pervading Canton Township had the fire department fielding numerous phone calls Wednesday night. Fire officials learned the same gaslike smell was detected in several surrounding communities and that it lingered for several hours. Investigation revealed that "a spill of an agent used to put in natural gas" occurred in the downriver area, according to the Canton Fire Department.

THE GROUNDHOGS Day Classic Slow-pitch Softball Tournament is on tap, "bad weather permitting," in Canton's Griffin Park. Teams, which can compete for a $30 entrance fee, will battle the elements in an effort to hit a 16-inch orange softball. The game will be canceled only in the event of good weather, say Canton Parks and Recreation Department officials, who are sponsoring the tourney. Ballplayers interested in vying for the Groundhogs title while helping to celebrate Canton Township's Sesquicentennial (150th birthday) are asked to call 397-1000.

A CANTON restaurant also is imbued with the sesquicentennial spirit. McDonald's is offering township senior citizens a chance to have utility bills paid to a maximum of $150 in commemoration of Canton's 150th milestone. No purchase is necessary. However, they must visit the restaurant during January or February to be eligible.

SPEAKING OF seniors, Lillian Johnson, Marie Beattie and Ed Brickman have been approved as Senior Advisory Council members by the Canton Township Board. The three will serve terms expiring in 1986.

COOKIE AND BUZ Young of Canton were spotted alongside K.L.T.T., the Knight Rider car of television fame, at the 32nd Detroit Autorama at Detroit's Cobo Hall. Sponsored by the Michigan Hot Rod Association's Road Knights Auto Club (which counts Buz as a member), the show featured 500 custom cars, including K.L.T.T., drag boats and motorcycles.

YOUTH FLOOR hockey clinics and league play are being planned by the Canton Parks and Recreation Department and the Wayne-Westland YMCA. For boys and girls in first through sixth grade, three-week clinics begin Monday, Jan. 23, and four-week leagues start Saturday, Feb. 11. Held after school and on Saturdays, the clinics and league are open to children for a $16 fee. To register, call 397-1000.

"SESAME STREET Live," highlighted by Big Bird, Bert and Ernie, Cookie Monster and the muppets, is on tap for some lucky youngsters Saturday, Feb. 4. Children will leave the Township Administration Building, heading for Cobo Hall at 9 a.m. that day. The fee is $7 per child. Those ages 4 and older may attend. Space is limited. Interested persons may call 397-1000.

WINNERS of a bookmark design contest — all of them Canton residents — have been named by the Friends of the Canton Public Library. They included Jamie Benner, Jennifer Freese, Brian Dimoff, Stephanie Long and Stephanie Darmanin, Scott Rodgers, Shelly Rodgers, Amy Syria, MarieLina Esperanza, Joel Esperanza, and Debbie Agdanowski. "Get Into Books" was the theme of the contest commemorating Children's National Book Week.

CHAMBER OF Commerce member directories are available. Free copies may be picked up at the chamber office, 8130 Canton Center Road, the Township Hall and the Canton Public Library, both at 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

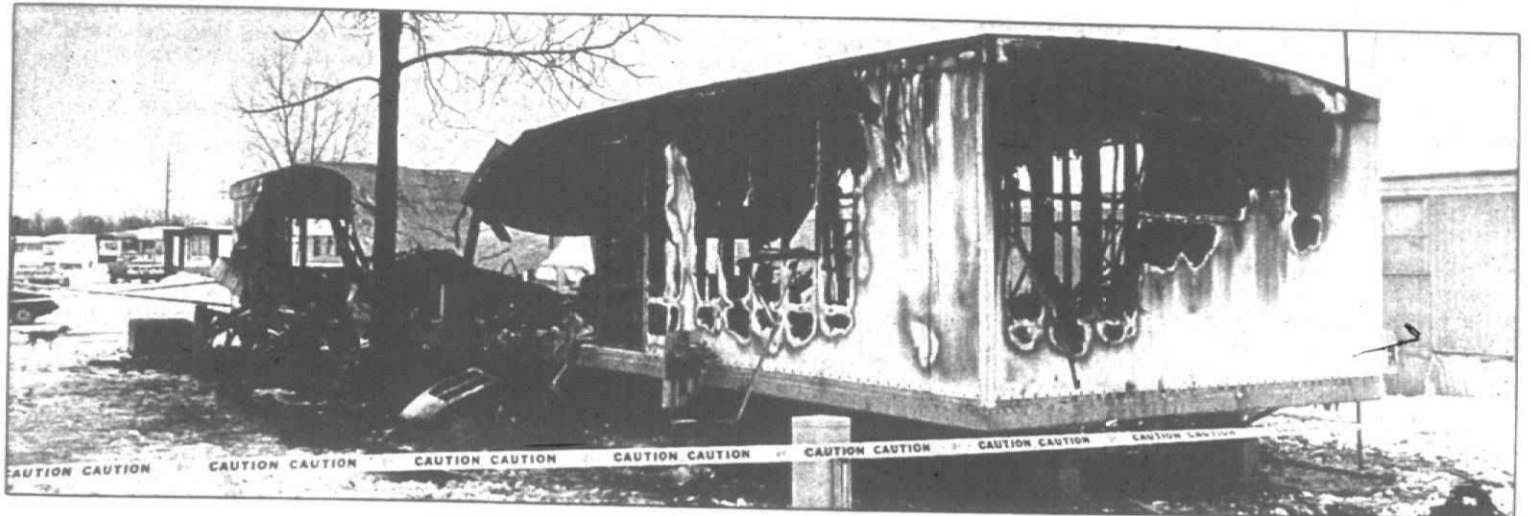

Blaze claims a life; guts trailer

By Sandra Armbruster and Arlene Funke staff writers

A 17-year-old former Westland woman died and her companion was injured in a fire which engulfed a mobile home in Canton Friday morning.

Lisa Horie died of smoke and soot inhalation, according to a Wayne County medical examiner's report. The blaze occurred in a unit at Sherwood Mobile Village near Michigan Avenue and Haggerty.

The victim, a former Westland resident, had been staying at the mobile home. Laura Tatum, 20, who also lived at the home, was in fair condition at Wayne County General Hospital Friday with first and second-degree burns to the face and hands, according to reports.

THE TWO WOMEN were alone in the mobile home when the fire was reported around 6:50 a.m., fire officials said. Preliminary investigation shows the blaze was caused by overheating and short-circuits from improperly wrapped heat tape on water pipes, said Canton Fire Chief Mel Paulun. "Firefighters found welding supplies inside," he said. "They could have exploded, causing injuries to neighbors. We're lucky it wasn't more serious."

The fire gutted the mobile home, as well as searing outer walls and breaking windows at the two adjacent mobile homes.

Tatum, who managed to flee the fire, told police she tried to go back and rescue her friend, but was unable to get past the flames and smoke. The young woman was found lying on the floor within five feet of the front door, apparently already dead, Paulun said.

Two neighbors, Rich Desta and Keith Nabozny, took Tatum to Nabozny's home to await the arrival of the fire department.

RECORDS INDICATE the victim had been enrolled in classes in the Wayne-Westland and Plymouth-Canton school districts.

Horie show she attended seventh and eighth grades at Stevenson Junior High School and ninth grade at Franklin Junior High in Westland.

She also was enrolled briefly at Wayne Memorial High School in 1981 and at John Glenn High in 1982.

Horie withdrew from regular classes in the Plymouth-Canton district last January, and recently had been studying for her general educational equivalent diploma in the district's community education program.

Wonders await Cantonites who take supervised tour

By M.B. Dillon Ward staff writer

Editor's note: Supervisor James Poole likes people who work with or for Canton to see first-hand what's between the township limits. "People are surprised at how big it is," he says. Recently it was this reporter's turn to take Poole's guided, motorized tour of Canton and sample some homespun hospitality.

When Canton Supervisor James Poole returned to his office after lunching with the Sesquicentennial Committee — which busily is organizing the township's now-under-way 150th birthday celebration — he found a new nameplate on his desk.

He already has several — one carved in the Philippines, a second that says "supervisor" (Poole drove a car identifying him as the "Canton Supervisor" til someone noted the error), and a third saying "Sunset Poole." (Recently, he explains, a few former township employees suggested in a letter that Poole don his cowboy hat, hop on his horse and gallop off into the sunset.)

His newest nameplate says "stupidvisor." Poole was withholding a reaction until he found out who the donor was.

In the meantime, he was excited about the Sesquicentennial Committee's freshest project. If it works out, Poole may be atop an elephant welcoming people to the Canton Country Festival in June.

"We're hoping to have a circus, with elephants, horses, and trapeze artists, come here from Florida the first or second week in June," he explained. "If we can get it the weekend of June 9-10, we can have elephants and horses in the (Country Festival) parade." Poole hopes a contract with the circus will be signed next week.

ANYONE WHO takes a spin with Poole is likely to be updated on police, fire, DPW and building department activities.

"1100S to Base 11: Is the (Fire) chief (Mel Paulun) around?" asks Poole via one of several radios.

"Affirmative," came the answer.

"I'd like him to brief me on the calls we got about the smells reported near Cherry Hill and Haggerty last night. And No. 2, I'd like to know if the cause of the Honeytree fire (in which a Canton apartment building burned Monday) has been determined."

"Base 11 to 1100S," said a voice a few moments later. "A number of communities had that odor. It was due to a

Weather hampers business at the hangars

By Tom Baer staff writer

As long as the weather is brisk, Janice and Marilyn Mancuso's business probably won't be.

The Farmington-reared Mancuso sisters operate Renaissance Air Inc., which provides services to light aircraft and the pilots who fly them out of Mettetal Airport in Canton Township.

And cold weather is death on business. "Bad weather definitely hurts the business," said Marilyn, who trains would-be pilots and sells aviation fuel for the more than 200 airplanes hangared at Mettetal.

"It's a little cold for flying," Marilyn said on a bitter-cold day last week. You have to pre-flight your aircraft, and it's kind of cold to stand outside and do that kind of thing.

"When it's cold, my training program doesn't go, and I can't sell fuel if people aren't flying. Those are our two basic sources of income."

Another, more glamorous, one is the Bell Ranger helicopter which rests in the Mancuso's hangar at Mettetal when it isn't rented out for $350 an hour, including the pilot and fuel.

The Mancuso's best customer for the helicopter is WXYZ-TV, which uses it to track down big news stories. Ashley Heimbaugh, the helicopter's pilot, is employed by Renaissance Air, as are the six airplane pilots who give flying lessons and the two full-time mechanics who perform the required maintenance on the aircraft.

RENAISSANCE AIR has turned into quite a success story for the Mancusos, who never dreamed they'd be running an aircraft-oriented business (and even flying the planes themselves) back when they were attending Farmington High school in the early 1960s.

"I never wanted to be anything but a housewife," said Janice, now 40. "In fact, I got married a few weeks after I graduated."

The Mancusos are sisters who married brothers, accounting for the same last name even after marriage. Janice married Ed; Marilyn married Dan. The brothers, like their wives, operate a business together — M & B Contracting in Novi. Ed and Janice live in Farmington. Dan and Marilyn call Novi home.

The sisters have juggled their business activities with raising their families. Janice and Ed have four children; Marilyn and Dan have three.

Janice and Marilyn have their husbands to thank for the business getting started — even though the men show little interest in flying. The Mancuso brothers purchased the helicopter several years ago, thinking it be would just the thing to carry them from job site to job site around the Detroit area.

"But their need for it just didn't keep up," Marilyn said, "and we wanted to do something else with it."

That something else turned out to be renting it to corporations, which use it for aerial photography and hauling executives, and Channel 7.

Meanwhile, the predecessor of Renaissance, Plymouth Aero, went out of business. The sisters jumped at the chance to fill the void. "It just sort of fell into our laps," Marilyn remembered.

THE BUSINESS, in existence for four years, has been at Mettetal for the past two.

"We're not making a million dollars, that's for sure," Janice said, "but business is good, and it's getting better all the time. I'm proud of the services we provide on the field. For years, they didn't even have fuel here. The old owners couldn't afford to keep it in the tanks."

Janice Mancuso has turned what many persons just dream about into a profitable business which is flying high.

Sky's no limit for sisters

Continued from Page 1 It's a challenge to make a success out of something like this, Janice said, especially with the hard times we've been having recently. Flying is a luxury like golf or tennis. Obviously, when people don't have a lot of money to spend, this is one of the first things they're going to cut.

They're up in years and can lift your spirits

On these cold winter mornings, when a fellow is tired of the slippery sidewalks and the piles of snow and needs a bit of inspiration, the last place you would expect him to look would be an old folks home.

ward to a visit during the holidays and when asked which was the best Christmas she ever enjoyed, she didn't hesitate to answer, "This one coming up."

The answer surprised The Stroller. He had expected to be told about a yuletide of her youth. But she didn't look back.

Monsignor Edward Hickey, who had just reached the age of 90 years. He was smiling over the fact that he had reached that mark in life.

said when asked how it felt to be 90 years old. "I am enjoying every minute," he said as he got into his auto to drive to the northern suburbs to pay a visit.

The meeting with the monsignor refreshed The Stroller's memory as they had served together on the late Mayor Al Cobo's Detroit Tomorrow Committee and had a hand in shaping the Detroit Civic Center.

Despite his age the monsignor rises every morning to celebrate the early Mass at St. Mary's of Redford on Grand River Ave.

Talk about inspiration, the monsignor can supply it in all quantities.

mark his birthday. When he was told it was planned to charge $50 a person, he spoke up. "Well, I won't be there. No one should be charged to celebrate my birthday." And so the charge was eliminated. With that kind of spunk any one could be inspired.

The real shocker came some time ago during a visit with Emma Lorenz, a kind lady of 95 years who now resides at the Hendry Convalescent Center.

From the moment you meet her you become impressed as she is much livelier than many folks much younger than she.

As a matter of fact one evening when her roommate had the misfortune to fall and couldn't get up, it was this 95-year-old who came to her aid and got her on her feet again.

Talk about inspiration. If you are in search of it don't forget the elderly. They would inspire anyone on these cold winter mornings when you are tired of the frigid weather and looking forward to Easter. They could inspire anyone, anytime.

Facing Orwell's year with resolve

With my usual flare for procrastination, I have finally gotten around to making my New Year's Resolution. Granted, this is a resolution that will be very, very difficult to live up to and I just may be taking on more of a challenge than I can actually handle.

Nevertheless, I, Nancy Walls Smith, resolve that in the year 1984 I am going to clean my oven.

Those who know me well may laugh in disbelief, but I truly feel that it's time that I faced up to this one responsibility in life that I have been avoiding for so long.

Nancy Walls Smith

checkbook was screaming. "Buy cheap! Buy cheap!" So, sadly, I missed my one chance in life, and I am now stuck with an oven that doesn't know how to clean itself any more than I know how to fly.

him that the cleaner fumes might damage the baby when our "babies" have so quickly turned into two strapping young men ages 9 and 7. I don't think he'd buy the story that I'm still recuperating from the delivery either.

SO THAT, unfortunately, leaves the job up to me. Sigh. The fact that we bought a new stove a few months ago helps — not alot, but it helps. Much to my regret, this purchase was not a planned one. It was more a case of "The stove just broke down! I've got to run out and buy a new one to make dinner by 5 p.m.!" In my heart I knew that I was one of those people who was literally born to own a self-cleaning oven. But alas, the family

I was going to clean it for the holidays, but then I figured that any guest who was nose enough to peek into my oven deserved to see it. The holidays have come and gone, and hard to believe, they were a complete success despite the state of my oven.

But now that I've made a public resolution I feel even more determined that I will actually clean my oven in the year 1984. As to which month, I'm not exactly sure yet.

Teachers unfairly blamed for recalls

To the editor: This is in response to your editorial in the Thursday, Jan. 5 edition of The Plymouth Observer. I suppose that it shouldn't surprise me that teachers are now getting blamed for, of all things, the recall campaigns that currently seem to be in vogue. Educators seem to get blamed for any and all educational problems confronting us today, in lieu of any other possible explanation.

It seems only logical that we take this mentality one step further, and blame teachers for all of society's ills. That is certainly easier than sharing the responsibility and finding real solutions to the real problems.

young people rests with all of us. When parents, administrators, and students share in this responsibility with teachers, public education works well. Without the full support of parents and administrators, and a willingness to learn on the part of the student, our educational system is doomed to failure.

Two careless attacks on the teaching profession was an insult to my intelligence, and a blatant example of the type of attitude that has contributed directly to the decline in the quality of our schools. Your article was irresponsible and destructive, and served only to aggravate further the serious problems facing education today.

Supervised tour a trip through time

"I'd like to try to make this a historical site. If I should run for office (in November), it would be one of my goals."

"Henry Ford built that plant to give farmers something to do in the winter," he said, referring to a structure on the southwest corner. "Next to it is the home he built for all the people who worked there."

"A guy built this big house (an imposing building on the southeast corner) thinking it would be on the old stage route. He missed it by a couple miles."

Heading south on Ridge Road and passing the graveyard, the tour guide noted, "this is one of several old cemeteries we own and plant people in."

Township Planner Jim Kosteva's idea for the area appeals to Poole.

"We'd like to put some little shops in, and a little road around the site, so you could walk through it," he said.

Poole was passing the Gill Brothers Farm, on Ridge south of Cherry Hill, "one of the largest dairy farms in Michigan," he said.

"They have 400 cattle and milk them in there round the clock. I stop in there once in awhile to take kids through. It's really something to see."

Poole proceeded along Ridge Road which follows the edge of an old glacial lake.

"I'VE RAISED blue, yellow and red ribbon cantaloupe, squash, and watermelon that you can hardly lift out there," said Poole, nodding under his Stetson toward a nine-acre farm at Geddes near Ridge.

On Mott Road, on the township's southern border, Poole reminisced about the old Mott homestead. "It was burnt down — it was probably 100 years old."

"It was rented out. When you rent, you lose. The people let it go down."

You'd be hard pressed to find a car with contents similar to those in Poole's automobile. A case of maccaroni and a ham sat in the back seat, a searchlight and flasher in the front. A sticker on the dash lists phone numbers of police and fire.

"We just passed a house that still has dirt floors," said Poole of a home near Michigan and Sheldon Roads.

"Welcome to hard times, John & Dude's Towing and Storage," read a sign on Sheldon Road a short ways from the township DPW building.

In reference to an object resembling a giant golf ball propped up on scaffolding off Michigan near Sheldon, Poole said, "that monitors planes, and tracks them all the way between here and Chicago."

"I'M JIM POOLE — supervisor of Canton Township," Poole yelled out the car window to the guard at Woodland Meadows Landfill.

They didn't recognize him at first. "We're just here to take a drive through," Poole said.

Rick exited the trailer, poked his head in the car window and offered to conduct the motor tour. Winding behind the wooded frontage, a concrete drive opened up into a vast, snow-covered expanse.

The brief trip completed, Poole turned around, drove back up the road, and up to the exit. His turn signal was blinking, and Rick spoke up. "Are you going to drop me off, or are you taking me with you?"

Imposter harassing women

A man passing himself off as a police detective has been making harassing phone calls to Canton women. According to Canton police Sgt. Alex Wilson, the phony "detective" identifies himself as an officer with a local police department. Using police terminology, he begins to discuss a specific "case," then starts talking about women's underclothing or other intimate subjects.

CANTON POLICE received three such complaints in late November and early December, and one last week. All the women live south of Ford and east of Morton-Taylor. Wilson said.

In most cases, the calls came during early morning, between 5:30-7:30 a.m. In one instance, the caller described the woman's bedroom to her, and "it was accurate," Wilson said. None of the women have received more than one call, according to Wilson. Poole didn't want to alarm people — just find out the identity of the caller.

"It's difficult to catch somebody like that because he doesn't form a pattern," Wilson said. "He doesn't call back." Any resident who receives a similar call should immediately call the police department. Anyone with information should also call the police at 397-3000, anytime.

PATIENTS WHO PRACTICE AVOIDANCE

It is common for a patient to say: "I've been putting off seeing you, not because of the money, but because I couldn't work up the nerve to come." What keeps them away?

One reason is apprehension. The person believes that he or she will learn something about their health they didn't want to know, such as "Stop smoking" or "Lose weight." Another cause is a misconception that a test the physician may perform, such as an X-ray, will adversely affect the person's health.

What seems to work the best to overcome this attitude of avoidance is having the patient talk over the matter with friends or family in a calm way. Repeatedly pointing out to the person that procrastination solves no problems eventually leads to their changing their mind. However, this dialogue needs to continue until the patient has made, and kept his or her doctor's appointment.

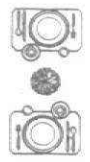

Thereafter, it is up to the doctor to provide sufficient motivation so that the patient will comply with appointments, tests and treatment.

Easy, Exciting Entrees for Two

Cooking for a mini-household can be a maxi-headache! Most readily available main-dish recipes are family-sized and not always easy to cut down. And, if your refrigerator or freezer space is minimal, leftovers can be a problem. Although more and more food manufacturers are recognizing the need for smaller packages, the selection currently on the market falls short of the variety available for bigger families.

So, how do you avoid the rut of more-expensive-than-you'd-like, but easy-to-make-for-two, entrees? Head for the dairy case! Eggs are conveniently packaged and wonderfully versatile. For starters, they can be fried, scrambled, cooked in the shell, poached and baked. And, if you're looking for a more exciting culinary adventure, eggs can be made into omelets, quiches, souffles, skillet scrambles, sandwiches and salads.

Not only are these dishes easy to make, but they can be varied endlessly because eggs go well with almost everything. Since a serving of two contains all the protein you need for a meal, round out the menu with cheese, milk and other dairy products and fresh fruits and vegetables that you can buy in just-what-you-want quantities. A number of vegetables are sold in small cans, too. And, the IQF (individually quick frozen) vegetables are especially handy since you can easily pour out part of the package and keep the rest frozen for later.

For carbohydrates, buy a small loaf of bread and save freezer space for the slices you can't use within a few days. Both rice and pasta are as easy to cook for two as they are for a larger family. Herbs and spices are terrific flavor enhancers, but they can be an expensive investment if you don't use them often. To preserve their aroma as long as possible, store them away from heat, light and moisture. Consider sharing them with a friend or neighbor. Put half a bottle's worth into a tightly sealed plastic bag for swapping.

Once you let your imagination soar, cooking for two can be an interesting challenge instead of a chore. Pick up a dozen eggs or two and start by trying the recipes here. Then, check the captions for ideas on how you can make each one an appetizing new dish the next time you're cooking for just the two of you.

HEARTY EGG SKILLET BAKE

2 servings

Designed for twosomes with big appetites, this "baked" egg dish cooks on top of the range. Next time you make it, eliminate the mushrooms and use a tablespoon or so of chopped green chiles and yellow onions in place of the celery and green onions. Spark with a dash of chili powder instead of caraway and top with Jack cheese for a south-of-the-border flavor.

- 1-1/3 cups sliced fresh mushrooms OR 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1/2 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup chopped green onions with tops
- 1/4 cup butter
- 3 cups (12 oz.) frozen Southern-style hash brown potatoes
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon caraway seed
- 4 eggs
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Gruyere or Swiss cheese

In 8-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium heat, cook mushrooms, celery and onions in butter until crisp-tender, about 4 minutes. Stir in potatoes, salt and caraway seed and continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until potatoes begin to brown, about 10 minutes.

With a spoon, make 4 indentations in potato mixture. Break and slip an egg into each indentation. Cover and continue cooking over low to medium heat until eggs are almost set, about 3 to 5 minutes. Uncover and sprinkle with cheese. Re-cover and continue cooking until eggs are desired degree of doneness, about 3 to 4 minutes.

QUICHE TARTS FOR TWO

2 servings

These tarts are elegant, but ever so easy, since toast cups replace the traditional pastry crust. The second time around, substitute pimiento and green pepper for the mushrooms and onions, and Cheddar cheese and crushed basil leaves for the Gouda and dill.

- 8 slices whole wheat bread
- 4 eggs, well beaten
- 2/3 cup sliced fresh mushrooms OR 1 can (2 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1/4 cup chopped green onions with tops
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Gouda or Swiss cheese
- 2/3 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon dill weed

Cut crusts from bread and discard or save for another use. With a rolling pin, roll bread until very flat. For each 2 slices, place 1 slice on top of another, turning 1/4 turn to make an 8-pointed figure. Roll again. Fit 2 rolled slices into each of 4 lightly greased 6-ounce custard cups, pressing to fit to cups. Brush with small amount of the beaten eggs. Bake in preheated 350°F. oven 5 minutes.

In small omelet pan or skillet over medium heat, cook mushrooms and onions in butter until tender but not brown, about 3 minutes. Spoon about 1-1/2 tablespoons of the mushroom mixture and 2 tablespoons of the cheese into each bread-lined cup. Beat together remaining eggs, sour cream, salt and dill weed. Pour about 1/3 cup of the egg mixture over mushrooms and cheese in each cup.

Bake in preheated 350°F. oven until knife inserted near center comes out clean, about 20 to 25 minutes.

FRITTATA FLORENTINE

2 servings

The filling cooks along with the eggs in this unfolded omelet variation. When fresh spinach isn't available, skip the bacon and try sauteed chopped onion and shredded zucchini. Add a pinch of crushed oregano leaves for zip.

- 4 slices bacon, diced
- 4 eggs
- 3-1/2 cups (about 6 to 7 oz.) chopped fresh spinach, cooked and drained
- 4 thin slices tomato
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese

In 6-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium heat, cook bacon until crisp. Remove from pan, drain and set aside. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon of bacon drippings. Beat together eggs and spinach. Stir in reserved bacon. Heat reserved bacon drippings in pan over medium heat until hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Cook over low to medium heat until eggs are almost set, 8 to 10 minutes. Arrange tomato slices on top. Sprinkle with cheese. Cover pan, remove from heat, and let stand until eggs are completely set, about 5 minutes.

BASQUE EGGS

2 servings

In the Basque area of southwestern France, a zestily flavored tomato mixture is scrambled right in with the eggs for a dish called Piperade. In this version, the "sauce" serves as a topper for your choice of fried, poached or scrambled eggs. When you're in a more fancy mood, use it as a filling or topper for omelets.

- 1 can (16 oz.) tomatoes, undrained
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 to 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 eggs
- 4 slices Italian or French bread, toasted

Place tomatoes, pepper, onion and garlic in small saucepan. Stir to break up tomatoes. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until liquid evaporates, about 20 minutes. Meanwhile, fry, poach or scramble eggs. For each serving, place either 2 fried or poached eggs or 1/2 of the scrambled eggs on 2 slices toast. Spoon tomato mixture over eggs.

CORN PUDDING SOUFFLES

2 servings

If you've never made a souffle, give this modern, streamlined recipe a whirl. And, if corn doesn't appeal to you, stir in about a cup of shredded, cooked and well-drained carrot and 1/4 teaspoon dill weed.

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1-1/2 teaspoons instant minced onion
- 1/8 teaspoon paprika
- Dash salt
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Cheddar or Colby cheese
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 can (7 to 8-3/4 oz.) whole kernel golden corn, drained

In small saucepan over medium-high heat, melt butter. Blend in flour, onion, paprika and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Stir in milk all at once. Cook and stir until mixture boils and is smooth and thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese until melted. Set aside.

In small mixing bowl, beat egg whites with cream of tartar at high speed until stiff but not dry, just until whites no longer slip when bowl is tilted. Thoroughly blend egg yolks into reserved sauce. Stir in corn. Gently, but thoroughly, fold yolk mixture into whites. Carefully pour into 2 (12 oz. each) souffle dishes or casseroles. For a "top hat", hold spoon upright and circle mixture to make ring about 1 inch from side of dish and 1 inch deep.

Bake in preheated 350°F. oven until puffy, delicately browned and souffles shake slightly when oven rack is gently moved back and forth, about 20 to 30 minutes. Serve immediately.

For soup nuts, a nutty choice

I'm a nut about soup so I re-created a favorite I had at a fancy restaurant in Mexico City. My wife agreed that the walnut soup tasted as good as the one served at the Hacienda de los Morales. She likes it hot, I prefer it chilled. I also tried a recipe for almond soup that I suspected would be on the sweet side. Anita didn't care for it, suggesting I eat it after the meal. It's the first time I've had soup for dessert.

ALMOND SOUP
1/2 cup finely chopped blanched almonds
3/4 cups milk
1 tsp. cornstarch
1/4 cups heavy cream
3 egg yolks
3 tsp. confectioners sugar

1/4 tsp. cinnamon
Bring 3 cups milk to boil with almonds, reduce heat to medium low and simmer several minutes. Blend cornstarch and 1/4 cup milk, pour in large pot, stir in hot milk and almonds with wooden spoon. In blender or food processor, blend cream, eggs, sugar and cinnamon and stir into milk. Serve hot or chill and serve cold. Serves 4-6.

WALNUT SOUP
1 cup walnuts
1 small onion, coarsely chopped
3 cup chicken broth
2 tbsp. butter
2 tsp. all-purpose flour
1 1/4 cups half and half
1 bay leaf
1/4 tsp. white pepper

1/4 tsp. salt
Parsley leaves or chives, for garnish
Cover walnuts with boiling water, let stand 5 minutes, drain and pull off loose dark skins. In blender or food processor, puree walnuts, onion and 1 cup broth. Melt butter in large saucepan, stir in flour, cook on medium low heat 1 minute, stirring, gradually stir in half and half and add bay leaf. Cook on medium heat, occasionally stirring, until mixture comes to boil and thickens. Add walnut mixture, remaining broth, pepper and salt and cook 30 minutes, frequently stirring until soup thickens slightly; turn down a notch if it bubbles. Remove bay leaf. Serve hot or chill and serve cold. Garnish with parsley or chives. Serves 4-6.

Oatmeal cookies are good for you

There's more than one way to bake an oatmeal cookie.

"Oatmeal cookies" can be much more than simple drop cookies with raisins or a hint of spice. There are literally hundreds of oatmeal cookie and bar recipes that we can "feel good about" serving to our families and friends. Cookies generally are considered "extra" foods not credited with providing important nutrients to the diet, but cookies and bars made with ingredients like oats provide an excellent source of fiber and contribute protein, iron and B-vitamins.

Butterscotch Chipper Bars are quick and easy and can be stirred together in minutes. Be creative - substitute chocolate pieces for butterscotch chips or add coconut, raisins or chopped nuts.

BUTTERSCOTCH CHIPPER BARS
2 cups 3-minute brand oats or 6 packets regular flavor instant oatmeal
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1/2 cup butterscotch chips
1/2 cup tap. salt
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 cup cooking oil
2 eggs, beaten
1 tap. vanilla

Stir together oats, flour, sugars, butterscotch chips, salt, and soda. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Pat into a greased and lightly floured 9x9x2-inch baking pan. Bake in a 325 degree oven for about 35 minutes. Cool; cut into bars. About 1 1/4 dozen bars.

Lean pork low in fat

Do you consider pork a food high in saturated fat? You may be surprised to learn that as little as one-third of the fat in pork is saturated. A three-ounce serving of cooked, lean pork contains only 77 milligrams of cholesterol, reports the National Live Stock and Meat Board. This compares to 86 mg. of cholesterol in a serving of turkey (dark meat), 82 mg. in a serving of herring, 76 mg. in a serving of chicken (roasted skin off) and 74 mg. in a serving of chicken (fried skin on).

St. John's Seminary to host mini-concert

The beautiful chapel of St. John's Seminary in Plymouth Township has been selected as the location for the second mini-concert of 1983-84 season presented by the Plymouth Symphony Society.

The concert will be at 4 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 22, in the seminary on Five Mile just east of Sheldon Road. A cheese and wine reception will follow the performance. Tickets at $5 per person are available in advance at Beitner Jewelry, 905 W. Ann Arbor Trail, or Hammell Music Inc., 331 N. Main, Plymouth. Tickets also may be purchased at the door, the day of the concert.

"An Afternoon of Chamber Music" for winds and piano will feature "Quintet for Piano and Winds" by Mozart, and "Trio for Oboe, Bassoon and Piano" by Poulenc.

The musicians are members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Treva Womble, oboe; Robert Williams, bassoon; Douglas Cornelsen, clarinet; and Corbin Wagner, french horn, will be joined by pianist Pauline Martin for the mini-concert. Treva Womble and Robert Williams, residents of Canton Township, are husband and wife. Pianist Martin lived in the Plymouth area until recently when she moved to Birmingham.

Merchants seeking stiffer shoplifting penalties

Police, city attorneys, judges, lawmakers — all should crack down on shoplifting, "the most expensive crime in the nation," according to a Pontiac-based drug store chain.

But at least one sheriff and some liberal state legislators are cool to a crackdown on a crime whose average loot is $14 in merchandise.

"Shoplifting has increased to where it now equals 6.6 percent of the national retail sales or $24 billion annually," according to William Krupka, a Detroit policeman for 25 years before becoming assistant vice president for corporate security of Perry Drug Stores Inc. His boss, company President Donald Fox, said drug chains nationally earn an average of 2 percent on sales, and his own firm is at 1 percent. Thus, shoplifting losses are triple the stores' earnings.

"WE GOTTA have jails to put 'em in," responded Oakland County Sheriff Johannes Spreen as store officials last week unveiled their proposals to a luncheon meeting of businessmen, police officials and the media.

"I'm being sued by inmates' lawyers, and they're winning. I'm under (federal) court order to get 'em out of jail," said Spreen, referring to an order to reduce jail overcrowding and improve conditions. "We've had to tell police not to arrest women."

A hero to merchants is state Rep. Joe Forbes, D-Oak Park, who introduced a legislative bill to stiffen penalties for shoplifting and broaden merchants' rights to apprehend suspects. "I couldn't get a hearing on it," Forbes said in a telephone interview. "Having

'Everyday Life in Russia' Plymouth Town Hall topic

Nila Magidoff says, "How life in the Soviet Union has changed." She has returned to her native Russia many times since she left alone at the outbreak of World War II.

But her energy, vivacity and irrepressible sense of humor, could not be suppressed by the iron-handed Soviets.

After the war and as a United States citizen she rejoined her husband in Moscow. They left Russia when he was expelled on charges of spying for the United States. The Magidoffs said these were "trumped up" charges.

Magidoff will be at the Penn Theater in Plymouth at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 1, the third speaker in the Town Hall Series. The topic of her talk will be "Everyday Life in the Soviet Union Today."

She is the wife of former NBC correspondent Robert Magidoff. While her husband was doing his radio broadcasts from Moscow during the war years, Nila Magidoff was speaking at War Bond rallies from Madison Square Gardens to the Rose Bowl. She became an enthusiastic and patriotic U.S. citizen.

Those who do not have season tickets may call Janet McKeivey, 453-8865, for reservations. Donation at the door is $7.50. A celebrity luncheon in the Mayflower Meeting House will be directly after the lecture. For information about the luncheon, call 453-8865. Reservations must be made in advance.

Burt Reynolds finds the ladies irresistible and develops a complex in "The Man Who Loved Women."

the movies
Dan Greenberg

It's a real turn-off seeing macho man cope with women

If you enjoy ego-tripping with Burt Reynolds, then "The Man Who Loved Women" is for you. The film is well photographed and attractively set in the slicker parts of Los Angeles and Houston. And it has lots of pretty girls.

But, are you ready for Reynolds as a sculptor so psychologically crippled that he can't enjoy artistic renown, and success with every beauty he approaches?

That's the story of "The Man Who Loved Women." Successful sculptor David Fowler (Reynolds) is so disabled with oedipal contortions because of his mother's loose morals (and no identifiable father) that he is compelled to seduce every good-looking woman he can. Supposedly he does it so well that they love him for it. Eventually he becomes psychologically paralyzed and unable to make decisions.

He seeks help from psychiatrist Marianna (Julie Andrews). The film is told in flashbacks from her couch. Those flashbacks, in turn, are derived from her voice-over reflections at his funeral, an elaborate occasion which opens the film with numerous lovely young girls debarking from black limousines.

AMONG HIS REFLECTIONS are several sequences with Louise (Kim Basinger), wife of Houston oilman Roy (Barry Corbin). She's devoted to kinky sex in dangerous situations. Basinger is lovely and energetic, tackling her role with considerable elan, but the crux of this film's problem is the embarrassed hesitancy with which Reynolds accepts her favors.

If this all sounds like a showcase for macho-man Reynolds, you're right, even though director Blake Edwards ("Breakfast at Tiffany's," "Days of Wine and Roses," "10" and "Victor/Victoria") notes it wasn't meant to be that way.

Edwards has said, "When I saw Truffaut's 'Man Who Loved Women' I was excited by the idea of exploring, in greater depth, that impossible question, 'What's the difference between truly loving women and merely making love to women? Who is the lover, who the womanizer?'"

A noble intention but it won't wash when you set Reynolds and his macho/comedy image in the slick and glitzy surroundings of Southern California and Houston oil palaces. All those people may be psychologically disturbed but the images are too polished to convey anything but material success.

No matter how many times Andrews' sensitive, clipped British voice-over reports how much David Fowler has given to women, and that's why they love him so, the audience never sees what he has given, only what he takes and then only enough of that to qualify as marginal titillation.

HIS ONLY TRULY GIVING act is to a prostitute, Nancy (Jennifer Edwards), who becomes his studio assistant and miraculously so artistically inclined as to strain our credulity.

The trouble with "The Man Who Loved Women" is credibility. It isn't possible to believe all the foolishness projected. Reynolds as a psychologically disabled lady-killer is tough enough. But his sudden cure because of a good view of his lady psychiatrist's thighs during an earthquake is beyond belief.

The fact that she won't marry him leads to a relapse, an auto accident and, just when the intensive care nurse tells him (and the audience) that he's going to recover, he falls out of bed and dies trying to get a better view of the nurse's body silhouetted in a thin uniform against the light.

Do you believe all that? It may be what happens on the screen but it isn't at all convincing. In fact, it is silly watching Burt Reynolds self-consciously ego-tripping with lots of sexy young girls.

Feminists, quite rightly, should be offended by this film as it exploits women, pure and simple. Everyone should be offended that an accomplished filmmaker like Edwards would star his talented wife Andrews in such nonsense.

Julie Andrews is the psychiatrist Reynolds visits when he discovers he is unable to make decisions.

Instrumental in Canton's 54-52 upset win over powerful Livonia Stevenson was senior guard Mark Bennett (pictured in an earlier game), who scored 14 fourth-quarter points to trigger a come-from-behind victory Friday night.

Upset city!

Chiefs stun Stevenson

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

It will go down as the greatest win in the history of Plymouth Canton basketball since Scott Adler, Dave Visser and company bested Plymouth Salem in the district championship back in 1980.

The Chiefs, trailing by as many as seven points in the third quarter, chipped and chipped until finally highly touted Livonia Stevenson crumbled, 54-52.

"No way is Canton a better basketball team than we are," said angry Stevenson coach George Van Wagoner. "We just played right into their hands."

It's hard to argue with him. Stevenson entered the game with a 7-1 record, having just beaten Livonia Bentley on Tuesday. The Chiefs (6-2) were coming off a disheartening loss to Livonia Churchill.

Then there was the size advantage. Everyone of the Spartan starters are as tall or taller than Canton's tallest man. Stevenson's starting front line went 6-8, 6-6 and 6-4. Canton's went 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

BUT FOR THIS one night, for this one snowy Friday night at Stevenson High School, Canton was the better team — for three reasons: Mark Bennett, Gary Thomas and Stevenson's inability, or unwillingness, to go inside.

"I don't care what anyone says," said Canton coach Dave Van Wagoner (nephew of the Stevenson coach), "I have the best pair of guards in the area. People don't know about Mark Bennett. I know (Bishop) Borgess has good guards and so does Salem, but my kid is the best."

It was Bennett who took charge in the fourth quarter, but it was Thomas who kept Canton in the game until then.

Thomas, a diminutive 140-pound sharp-shooting guard, missed his first four shots in the first quarter. Then he made six in a row, all from long range. He added six more points in the third quarter to help Canton chip the Spartans lead down to two, 39-37.

Thomas finished with 21 points, hitting eight of 18 shots.

BENNETT STOLE the show in the fourth quarter. With 6:10 left, he hit a bomb from beyond the top of the key to tie the score at 39. The score went back and forth seven times as Bennett traded hoops with Stevenson's Bob Sluka and Tom Dornako.

With 4:56 left in the game, Dornako, the 6-8 swingman, picked up his fourth foul. That, dictated Canton's strategy the rest of the way. Drive the middle, which Bennett did like a master.

In five straight possessions, Bennett punctured the mid section of the Spartan zone defense. The result: two layups, four free throws and a nifty feed to Thomas for two more points.

With 2:39 left, Canton led 51-48.

Canton seemed to have the game locked in the next series of possessions. Jim Schlicker, who held Dornako to just three free throws in the final 12 minutes of the game despite giving up eight inches in height, made an unbelievable steal and behind-the-back pass in the same motion, falling out of bounds. The pass went to Bennett who fed back to Schlicker. Schlicker was fouled, but missed both free throws.

STEVENSON dodged a bullet. They then dodged another. Stevenson missed two shots and with less than two minutes remaining, Canton was holding the ball and a three-point lead. That's when Rick Rozman intercepted an errant pass and converted two free throws to pull the Spartans within one.

Bennett, Thomas and Schlicker then put on a stall clinic for the next minute. With 46 seconds left, Kevin Hawkins was fouled. He missed the front end of a one-and-one, and Sluka was fouled on the rebound.

Chief grid coaches quit, cite 'personal' reasons

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Dave Thomann and George Przygodski, two top assistant football coaches at Plymouth Canton High School, have turned in their resignations to Plymouth Community School District athletic director John Sandmann.

"We resigned effective last week," said Thomann, a longtime Canton assistant. "We left for personal reasons. We'll just leave it at that — basic personal differences."

Sources affiliated with the school and the football team suggested that the resignations were the result of tensions between the coaches and Canton head football coach Richard Barr.

NEITHER THE coaches nor Barr would comment on the differences.

"They've decided to resign for personal reasons," said Barr Friday night. "They have their reasons. We sat down and talked about it. We accepted the resignations."

Barr said the district has already begun seeking replacements for Thomann and Przygodski.

"No, I'm not happy about it," Barr said. "You don't like to lose personnel. But, when it happens, it happens. There will be people that want to step into their positions."

Thomann said that four years of losing seasons at Canton had nothing to do with his decision to resign.

"The kids had nothing to do with it," he said. "I want to be emphatic about that. The kids had nothing to do with it."

Malsen rescues Chiefs

It came down to the heavyweight again, and Plymouth Canton's 270-pound Jim Malsen really came through.

The Canton wrestling team trailed the home team, Walled Lake Central, by two points last Thursday entering the final weight class — the heavyweights. Canton's Malsen and Central's Zane Forbes were left to decide the important Western Lakes dual meet.

Malsen trailed 2-0 late in the final period, but used his size advantage to roll his opponent over. There were nine seconds left in the match when Malsen got the pin.

"WE REALLY pulled together as a team," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko. "I'm really proud of the kids. We've got to have everybody pitch in to win — we had a couple slip-ups during the meet but the kids really held together."

The win keeps the Chiefs undefeated in league dual-meets, 5-0. They are 5-2 overall. The loss drops the Vikings to 5-2, 3-2 in the league.

The Chiefs raced to an early lead with three quick victories. Jeff Condit, at 100 pounds, defeated Central's Dave Zehnder 4-2. At 107, Heath Smith pinned Keith Kirk in 1:24, and at 114, Todd Gattoni bested Pat Harvey, 8-27.

Then the Vikings got hot. They took three straight falls from the Chiefs and assumed the lead going into the 140-pound class.

That's where the Viking streak ended. Canton's Tim Collins won his 99th career match pinning Scott Burke in 1:53. Collin's next victory will tie him with Steve Hamblin for most career wins at Canton. Collins is 23-2 this season.

After Larry Janiga decisioned Rich Barber 6-0 at 147, Central again ran off three straight wins. Entering the final two events, the Vikings led 27-21.

Enter Keith Keckes. In just his first year of wrestling, Keckes was called on to keep the Chiefs in contention. A loss at 198 would have put the meet out of reach. Keckes came through with convincing 16-6 pounding of Jeff Bettari.

"Keith's win really took a lot of pressure of Jimmy (Malsen)," said Chrenko. "He really picked us up."

The Chiefs competed in the North Farmington Invitational last weekend. Details of tourney will be in Thursday's Observer.

PLYMOUTH SALEM got lucky. At least that's how coach Ron Krueger viewed last Thursday's meet against Farmington.

"They are as tough as nails," Krueger said of the Falcons. But the Rocks survived 37-26, to improve their league record to 3-1.

The "luck" came late in the meet. Salem held a slim 28-26 lead with two events left to go. Farmington's 198-pound ace Dan Purilo came up injured prior to the match. Salem's Brian Johnson was awarded a win by default and Salem got six points to put the meet out of reach for Farmington.

Actually, the default became immaterial as Salem's heavyweight Marc Cygan whipped 300-pound Bill Kritcher 10-4 in the final event.

"We wrestled well," said Krueger. "We have to keep improving. If we lay back now and say 'hey, we beat Farmington,' we're going to end up getting beat by Canton and Walled Lake Central."

THE MEET was not a total victory for the Rocks. Co-captain John Jeannotte, in the process of pinning his opponent Rob Anglin in 4:48, injured his knee. Krueger said he would know the full extent of the injury by today. He was certain that Jeannotte would be unavailable for last weekend's North Farmington tourney. He is also doubtful for Thursday's showdown with Canton.

Dave Dameron got back on the winning track for the Rocks, outpointing Jason Forge 2-1 at 114 pounds. Rick Vershave did the same at 121 pounds besting John Gregory 12-4.

At 134 pounds, Keith Kwasny pinned the Falcons' Gary Blair in 1:34. Bruce Zak also earned a pin for Salem, falling Scott Martinuzzi in 55 seconds.

At 147, Andy Ward won a key 7-5 decision against Dave Cunningham.

"We have got to keep working hard," said Krueger. "As I see it, we don't have any more easy days ahead of us."

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Jon Cain of Plymouth Salem gained a pair of second-place finishes, both behind teammate Greg Wolff, in the Rocks' dual meet win over Canton.

Dunked

Rocks splash Canton

It won't go down in history as the white-knuckling, nail-bitingest Plymouth Canton-Plymouth Salem swim meet ever, but the Rocks will take it just the same.

The Rocks placed first in nine of the 11 events, two of the firsts won by Greg Wolff, to sink the Chiefs 109-63 last Thursday night.

"We swam fairly well," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "We hadn't been in water since the (Western Lakes) relays before Christmas. We had some nice practices — I was quite pleased."

Wolff won the 200-yard freestyle with a 1:56.3, then came back to win the 500-freestyle convincingly, swimming a 5:08.8. Wolff's teammate, Jon Cain, was second in both events.

SALEM'S ERIC Kleinsmith came within one-tenth of a second of qualifying for the state meet with his victorious 50.1 in the 100-free.

Canton's one-two diving punch of Andy Flower and Chris Jeannotte stole the show again. Flower won the event amassing 204.85 points, while Jeannotte was second with 169.55.

swimming

The Chiefs also dominated in the 100-breaststroke. Joe McBratnie swam a 1:07.3 to win, nipping teammate Jim Luce (1:08.1).

McBratnie missed winning the 200-individual medley by four-tenths of a second. Salem's Bill Mathews swam a 2:17.6 for the win.

The same four-tenths-of-a-second margin separated Salem's first-place Mike Harwood (1:03.5) and Canton's second-place Dean Roberts (1:03.9) in the 100-backstroke.

The Rocks also captured both relays. Their 200-medley team of Harwood, Dave Workman, Scott Anderson and Bob Bowling, won with a 1:48.0. Canton's team — Roberts, Luce, Matt Krawczak, McBratnie, was next in 1:51.2.

IN THE 400-free relay, Bowling, Anderson, Kleinsmith and Mathews blew everyone away with a 3:30.0. The closest to them were teammates Chuck Udy, Paul South, Rich Hornby, and Eric Gachenbach who combined for a 3:51.8.

In the 50-free Salem's Bowling nipped Krawczak with a 23.5. Krawczak swam a 24.3.

Krawczak's 1:02.5 placed second to the 59.4 posted by Salem's Anderson in the 100-butterfly.

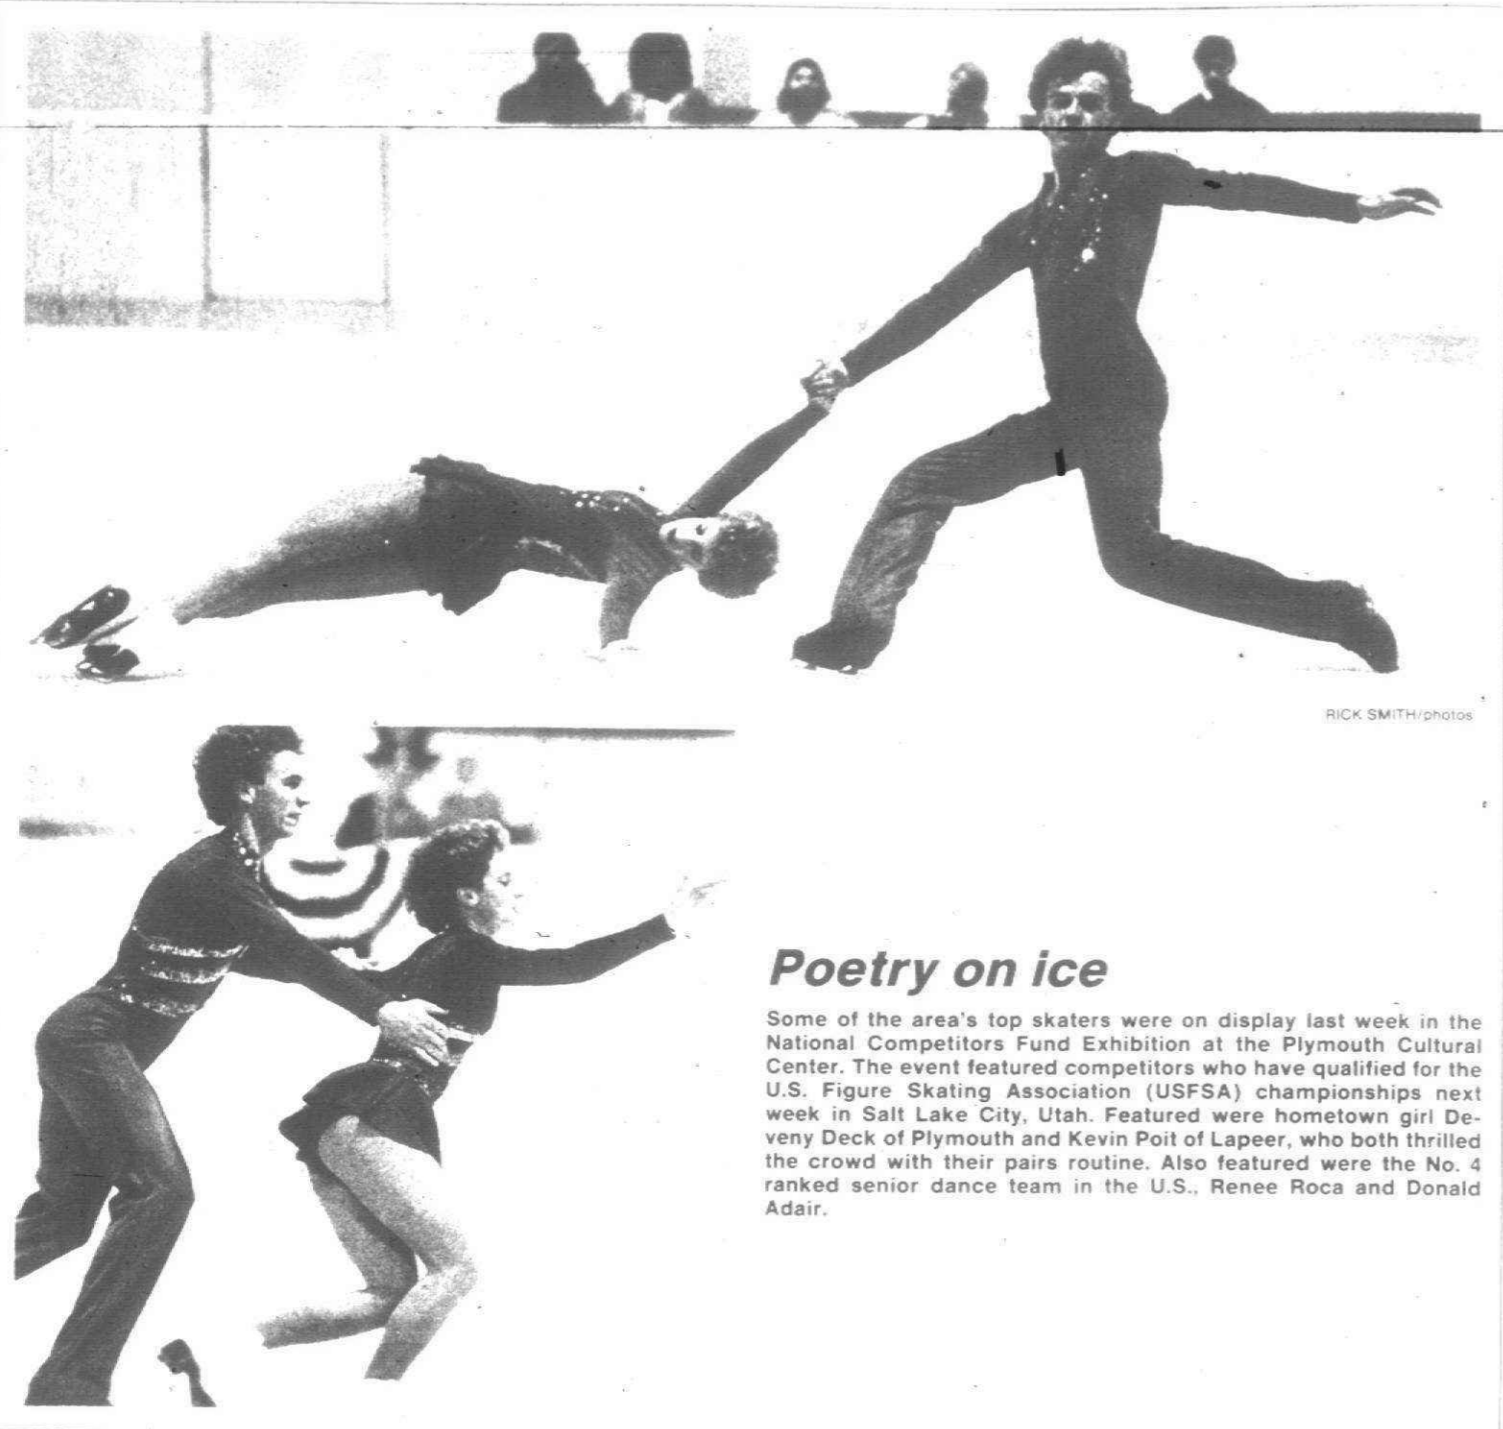

"Some of our younger swimmers took drops in their times," said Olson. "It was nice to see that. And the upperclassmen also had some drops."

The win improves the Rocks' dual-meet mark to 3-1, 2-0 in Western Lakes action. The Chiefs are now even at 2-2.

Tomorrow, the Rocks travel to Trenton and the Chiefs will host Belleville.

- SHARP SHOOTERS
Six area youngsters have earned the right to compete in the Elks Hoop Shoot district finals Saturday, Jan. 21, at Dearborn High School, by winning the Plymouth-Canton championships last month.
- Allison Brehny and Jeff Martin (8-9 age group), Brenda Carey and Mark Stanforth (10-11), and Janice Piwowar and Kevin Venticinque (12-13) bested a field of more than 1,000 competitors in the district competition at Plymouth Salem High School.
- More than 3 million youngsters are expected to participate in the Elks Hoop Shoot nationwide.
- REC SOCCER
It's time to sign up for the Plymouth Recreation Department's spring soccer season. More than 1,000 people participated in this program last year.
- The season includes a pre-season tournament and eight regular-season games. The season runs from April to early June.
- Registration will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Feb. 3 at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Anyone 6-18 years of age can participate. The $20 fee includes jersey and socks. Birth certificates are required for new registrants. Call 455-8620 for more information.
- MORE SOCCER NEWS
The Canton Soccer Club will stage an open registration for its spring season from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 21, and Saturday, Jan. 28. The registration will take place at the Canton Township Municipal Building.
- Boys and girls ages 5 to 18 and men and women over 30 are eligible. Birth certificates are required for new participants, adults excluded.
- Registration by phone is unacceptable.
- Fee is $15 per participant. The season begins in April.
- FOR GROUNDHOGS ONLY
OK softball fanatics, it's time to get your balls and bats out of the closet and into the snow.
- The Canton Parks and Recreation Department's fifth annual Groundhogs Day Classic slow-pitch softball tournament is set for Saturday, Jan. 28.
- Besides being played in the snow and ice, the Groundhog Classic features the use of a 16-inch orange-colored softball. Kind of a glow-in-the-dark model.
- Another added feature of this year's classic will be a sequencientennial theme to honor Canton's 150th birthday.
- Registration fee is $30. Teams can sign up at the Canton Parks and Recreation office, 1150 Canton Center Road, or call 397-1000.
- As Canton's Recreation Supervisor Bob Dates said, "This tournament will be canceled only by good weather."
- CROSS-COUNTRY SKI
Canton Parks and Recreation is again offering cross-country ski clinics, but this year the facilities will be much improved.
- Maybury State Park, (Eight Mile, west of Beek, just 10 minutes from Canton) will be the site of the clinics.
- Three clinics will be offered: Tuesday, Jan. 17, Wednesday, Feb. 1, and Thursday, Feb. 16. Each class runs from 7:30 to 9 p.m.
- The $6 fee, $4 if you have your own equipment, includes lessons by certified instructors from Sportventure, skis, boots, poles, a short lecture and plenty of ski time.
- You must register at least two days prior to the clinic. Call 397-1000 for registration details.
- CO-ED SPIKERS
Here are the standings for the Plymouth Recreation Department Co-ed Volleyball League as of Jan. 6:
- Diggers II 37pts.
Right Arms 26pts.
Rep. Airlines 14pts.
Doug's Std. 13pts.
Team 1 2pts.

Chiefs surprise

Sluka converted both free throws and Stevenson regained the lead, 52-51, with 44 seconds left.

Blowing the lead didn't phase the Chiefs. Bennett took the ball and drove through the Spartan defense again, and was fouled. With 34 seconds left, he calmly sank both free throws. Then he made a steal at the other end, but immediately lost the ball out of bounds.

The Spartans had another reprieve. They worked the ball around. With 10 seconds left Rozman missed a 10-foot jumper and Thomas grabbed the rebound. He was fouled.

Thomas made one of two free throws. Canton led 54-52. With five seconds left, Rozman raced virtually uncontested toward the basket. The buzzer sounded as his layup fell off the front of the rim. It would've counted and sent the game into overtime.

BENNETT FINISHED with 24 points and eight assists. He scored 14 points in the final quarter. Sluka had 16 to lead Stevenson. Domako had 14, only one in the fourth quarter, and Vic Nette scored 12.

"I've got two things to say," said George Van Wagoner. "They played and we didn't."

He was unhappy with his team's inability to go inside on the smaller Canton team.

"I've waited a long time to have them want to stay outside all but, if they aren't going to win, he said.

Canton's tenacious man-to-man defense seemed to frustrate the Spartans.

"We wanted to play defense on them so that they would have to hit the outside shot, and we knew we had to limit them to just one shot. I think we were able to do that for the most part," said Dave Van Wagoner.

Friday's game was the 50th of Dave Van Wagoner's coaching career at Canton. What a way to celebrate a golden anniversary.

M.J. Ewald:Canton's No.1 basketball hotshot

M.J. Ewald set a precedent Jan. 4 for all Canton Township hotshots.

Ewald, 13 years old, took first place in the 13-15 age bracket of the Pepsi/NBA-area basketball hotshot championships which took place at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Ewald has become the first Canton participant to advance to the Central Division Championships in Indianapolis, Ind. The Central Division championships will take place Feb. 25.

Ewald will be competing against hotshots from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky for the right to move on to the national finals.

Ewald amassed 111 points at the Silverdome to easily defeat second-place Arnold Brookens (78 points) from Saginaw.

It was almost a double triumph for the Ewald family. M.J.'s 10-year-old brother Tracey finished second at the Dome, just four points behind the winner.

Poetry on ice

Some of the area's top skaters were on display last week in the National Competitors Fund Exhibition at the Plymouth Cultural Center. The event featured competitors who have qualified for the U.S. Figure Skating Association (USFSA) championships next week in Salt Lake City, Utah. Featured were hometown girl Deveny Deck of Plymouth and Kevin Poir of Lapeer, who both thrilled the crowd with their pairs routine. Also featured were the No. 4 ranked senior dance team in the U.S., Renee Roca and Donald Adair.

Ocelots' 2nd-half surge upends Raiders

The Oakland Community College women's basketball team showed up for its game against Schoolcraft Community College Wednesday with just six players on its roster. By the game's end, they would have just four.

But O.C.C. battered by ineptly and injury gave the Ocelots all they could handle before falling in the final minutes 75-67.

In fact, the huffing and puffing ocelots were the badderger team at the end of the first half. The Raiders, using a confusing man-to-man defense and some strong inside play from Diane Kalbfleisch (14 first-half points) and Karen Kennedy (13 points), built up a 37-31 lead on the Ocelots.

The Ocelots appeared fatigued and frustrated. The Raider defense, which is man-to-man disguised as a 2-3 zone, forced Schoolcraft to shoot from long range, despite their obvious size advantage.

Lucky for the Ocelots, Redford Union graduate Henry hit more than a few of those long-range bombs. Henry kept Schoolcraft close with 16 first-half tallies. The rest of the squad was not so hot — Schoolcraft made just 14 of 40 shots in the first half.

"WE DON'T worry about size," said O.C.C. coach Larry Hojna. "We just go at it hard. We did everything we had planned to do, except win the game."

The rag-tag Ocelot crew that ended the first half, came out looking like champions in the second half.

"We talked a little bit about intensity at halftime," said Ocelot coach Ed Kavanaugh. "We just didn't have any in that first half and that surprised me because this was such an important game for us."

Schoolcraft sports

The game was important because both teams were 1-0 in the Eastern Conference and as Kavanaugh said, "We wanted to establish ourselves as contenders early on."

Several things happened in the second half that seemed to get the Ocelots going. The first thing, ironically enough, was Henry picking up her fourth foul early in the half. The Ocelots could no longer rely on Henry's outside shooting. They were forced to move the ball around — which they did very effectively.

The second thing was Ann Lukens.

Lukens, who scored seven first-half points, came to life in the second half. She directed the offense from her point guard position and tossed in 10 second-half points.

"ANN WAS a shooting guard in high school (Livonia Ladywood)," said Kavanaugh. "She's made the adjustment for us and has done a credible job."

Lukens and Karen Swersek (14) combined for 24 of Schoolcraft's 44 points in the second half.

A basket by former Plymouth Canton star Missy Aiken with 14:51 remaining tied things at 39. The lead seasawed for the next minutes. Then

The referees whistled 44 fouls in the game, 23 against Schoolcraft, 21 on O.C.C.

Despite the numerous whistles, the game featured several outstanding individual performances.

O.C.C.'s Rhonda Hofacer, a jackrabbit quick guard, punctured the Schoolcraft defense with her drives and passes. She scored 16 points and had six assists. Kennedy, a 5-foot-9 swing player, scored consistently inside, tallying 18 points.

For Schoolcraft, besides the aforementioned Hofacer and Henry (18), Jane Hart came off the bench when Henry went out and seemed to solidify the defense. She allowed Hofacer, who seemed unstoppable, just four points.

Swersek finished with 18 points for the Ocelots.

The win left Schoolcraft at 6-5, while the Raiders fell to 6-9.

Rock gymnasts notch 2nd win in history

It's not customary to celebrate excessively after the first contest of a celebration is warranted.

The Plymouth Salem gymnastics team opened its 1984 campaign with a 119.95-84.05 victory against Walled Lake Central last Wednesday.

So, what's so special? It was Salem's second win in its gymnastic history.

"I couldn't believe it," said Salem coach Kathi Kinsella. "I had to double check the scores. I knew we deserved it, but I wanted to make sure."

She didn't really have to double check. The victory was decisive.

Salem captured the top four places in three of the four events, and placed one-two-three in the fourth.

SOPHOMORE BETH Rafail took first in both the vault (8.4 points) and the floor exercise (8.4 points). She also placed second in the uneven parallel bars and tied for third in the balance beam.

Senior Suzanne Gibbons won the other two events. She scored 7.1 in the bars and 6.75 on the balance beam.

Freshman Jackie Huff and sophomore Sara Michalik each placed in the top three in three events. Huff was second in the vault (7.6), second in the floor exercise (7.55) and third in the bars (6.65).

Michalik took thirds in the vault (7.25), the beam (6.45) and the floor exercise (6.95).

Diedre Flynn captured second place in the beam with a 6.6. Senior Debbie Bahna also contributed with three fourth place finishes for the Rocks.

"I'm very optimistic about this team," said Kinsella. "But, we have a lot of work to do."

The Rocks had better get to work in a hurry, too. They travel to Farmington tonight to take on the Western Lakes powerhouse.

Rock workmen do job

Plymouth Salem passed another crucial test Friday night.

It defeated a tall and stubborn Northville team, 32-45, to remain unbeaten in seven contests (9-0 in the Western Lakes).

It was how they did it that impressed coach Fred Thomann. The Rocks played from behind until the final quarter and never lost their composure. And they played most of the game without starting swing player Barry Bell.

"Early in the game we were up 9-2 and Barry got popped in the nose pretty good. We couldn't get the breathing back right away so he sat out the rest of the way. With him out, we lose some of our offensive consistency and some defensive pressure," Thomann said.

Jeff Arnold, Rick Berberet and Scott Jurek picked up the slack for the Rocks, and LeSean Haygood hit some key fourth-quarter buckets.

Northville led 23-23 at the half. The Rocks had it deadlocked at 33 entering the fourth quarter, and walked away with a 19-12 surge.

"This was a real good, workman-like game for us tonight," Thomann said. "Nothing sensational, we just kind of gutted it out."

Arnold and Berberet each had 14 points to lead the Rocks. Berberet also dominated the boards with 14 rebounds. Jurek chipped in with 10, his best defensive performance of the season.

Steve Schrader led the Mustangs (4-4, 1-4 in league play) with 13 points.

BETHESDA 51, PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 49.

OT. Another tough defeat for the Eagles in the final of three minutes of regulation, and then missed some easy hoops down the stretch.

Detroit Bethesda (7-1, 4-1 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference), got 21 points from Rodney Mitchell and 16 from 6-foot-8 center Ben Hanneman.

The Eagles (2-6, 1-5 in the MIAAC) got 20 from sophomore Rod Windle and 14 from freshman Pat McCarthy.

The two will go at it again Tuesday.

Scott Jurek, shown here in an earlier game, put on his best output of the season, scoring 10 points in a win over Northville.
