Thefts take $3.25 million toll in 1983

By Arlene Funks staff writer

Thefts and burglaries took a $3.25 million bite from Canton residents and businesses last year, according to police projections.

Officials are almost finished compiling year-end crime figures. The figures must be submitted to the Michigan State Police by Friday. Although individual category totals are not completed, police provided the following general information:

· Larcenies, or thefts, account for most serious crimes. Included in this general grouping are home burglaries, shoplifting, car thefts and pilferage of items stored in garages.

Based on our projections, out-ofpocket property loss (in stolen goods) will be in excess of $3.25 million," said Canton police chief Jerry Cox. "B&Es (breaking-and-entering) are higher." · There was one murder, and from 12-15 robberies in Canton during 1983. In 1982, there were two homicides and able," and easily resold, Cox said. Cox credited the Neighborhood

Watch crime prevention program with nipping a rash of similar break-ins in late 1983. A thief or thieves broke into numerous homes and stole purses or wallets which had been left in plain view of windows.

Residents were urged to be aware of suspicious people and to keep lights on outside their homes to deter would-be burglars. The purse incidents stopped.

STAFFING is always a problem, according to Cox. The chief's goals for 1984 include expanding the crime prevention program to encompass some sort of witness or "crime stopper" program, as well as more public awareness and self-help campaigns. He also wants a traffic bureau to strengthen cent dip from the previous year. Cox attributes part of the decline to eliminating previously provided "luxury" services, such as checking vacationers homes or unlocking car doors.

While those services were provided in the past, "we don't have the man-power to do it (now)," Cox said. "Those services have been cut drastically.

Cox believes the police staff is spread thin, writing reports and an-swering calls, which leaves insufficient time for investigation and traffic work.

Departmental statistics show misdemeanor arrests are up 15 percent over 1982, while felony arrests are down by 17 percent.

According to figures compiled by Stewart, the department arrested 10.2 percent fewer drunk drivers in 1983, compared to '82.

"In 1980, we had a reputation of being hard in terms of drunk drivers (enforcement)," Cox said. "Over a period of time, the community's image, relative to the stringent enforcement of

Phone call to 'good listener' was big break in Faber case

watch the chilly carving competition. The bundled visitors strolled through the park watching the chefs and student chefs chip away at the large blocks of ice. They were treated to wintertime renditions of cartoon characters, ani-mals, people, buildings, and even a large dragon (a.k.a. Puff the Magic Dragon).

And while the carvers were letting the chips fall where they may, others wandered in and out of the lowntown stores and shops. City Manager Henry Graper said the business community reported an outstanding weekend.

'All the businesses that have contacted us said they were extremely happy," Graper said. Sunday reportedly was the largest day for the estival, with an estimated 40,000 people convergng on the ice spectacular. 'It was exactly what we hoped for. It was excelent for business," said Scott Lorenz, Mayflower Hotel general manager and event organizer. "If you had heat and square footage, people came into your store," he said.

HEAVY READERS: An intoxicated 40year-old Canton man was arrested for allegedly trying to shoplift $21 worth of magazines from the Canton Party Store on Michigan Avenue Jan. 8. A 35-year-old companion fled after exchanging blows with a store employee in the incident The employees told police the suspects hid the magazines under their coats, then transferred them to a car. The fight occurred when the clerk confronted the men, according to reports. During the dispute, another employee scared off the 35-year-old suspect with a shotgun.

SO LONG, SNOWMOBILE: Someone stole a $2,000 snowmobile from a Lotz Road garage Jan. 10. Police said they found tracks leading away from the home to the nearby Fellows Creek Golf Course SWIPED SNOWBLOWERS: Snowblowers are the hot item, as evidenced by a rash of thefts. Reports were filed by residents of Manton, Glouchester, and Scottsdale streets Jan. 6, 7 and 9. All were in the owners' garages when taken, and are valued at $200-$300 each. In a separate incident, somebody stole a highly disinctive electric snow shovel, to which the resident attached wheels. That theft was reported by a Claremont Street resident Jan. 8.

SHED SOME LIGHT: A vehicle's headlights shining into the window tipped off a Sheldon resident to a break-in nearby on Jan. 8. The resident saw somebody carrying articles from a neighbor's house. He checked the home and discovered a broken window. Rifles and jewelry

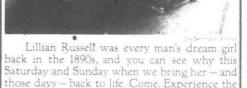

PIGGY BANK STOLEN: A silver piggy bank containing $50 in coins was the only item stolen in a Honeytree Apartments break-in Jan. 9. According to the report, a burglar kicked open STOLEN SAWS: Industrial tree-cutters have been plagued by a rash of tool thefts from a Canton parking lot. According to reports, chain saws and climbing belts worth hundreds of dollars were taken from trucks parked on a Canton Center Road lot. Two thefts were reported Jan. 6, and a third was reported Jan. 10.

Secret of why ice fest works

At this point, the city of Plymouth ought to be literally glowing from the immense success of our second annual Ice Spectacular. During the course of the event, Banbury Cross gave close to a thousand carriage rides, and was privy to countless positive comments about our lit-tle jewel of a city. We all ought to be proud of Plymouth, if what I heard form the many visitors was any indicator. Obviously, many kudos ought to be bestowed ipon Scott Lorenz, whose imagination, determination, and sheer gutsiness gave rise to this event in the first place. Plymouth is fortunate to have a youngish entrepreneur of his caliber to do the daring kinds of things that put Plymouth on the map and draw outsiders from all corners of the Great Lakes area.

However, there's another equally important element in this year's ice show's resounding success. They're a group of people who work, generally anonymously, without much credit and little glory for their gargantuan efforts. They also put in long and arduous hours to make other Plymouth happenings

e smooth achievements they always are. This other element? The Plymouth Department of Public Works crews who worked practically around-the-clock, installing platforms and scaffolding for the thousands of tons of ice sculptures viewed by the throngs of visitors during the the three-day event. ### City improving center's kitchen

Monday night agreed to borrow $44,500 to finance kitchen and food operations for the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The money will be borrowed from First of America-Plymouth bank and. be repaid over five years with expected ncreased revenue from parties and added income from the bar, City Manager Henry Graper told the Commission Recently the city obtained a liquor icense for the center and will begin operating a bar about May 1. The city also has arranged with three catering irms to be available to put on ban uets and parties there. Under that arrangement, the city will receive a "commission" of 8 percent for all catered events. Graper expects that fee will bring in added income of at least $8,000 a year and modernization chase of 300 chairs to replace the original chairs purchased in 1972. The old chairs will be auctioned for an expected price of $3 to $5 each.

Earlier, the city purchased new china and silver with funds borrowed rom the equipment reserve fund. That fund will be reimbursed with some of the money from the loan. Among the equipment is a walk-in cooler which the city already has acquired at a bankruptcy sale.

The improvements are part of a plan presented by Graper to put the cultural center on a self-sustaining basis. The ice arena always has paid for itself said Graper, but other operations have not been. The kitchen improvements are expected to put the entire opera-

New school chief must communicate

IMOTHY DYER'S tenure as superintendent of Wayne-Westland schools will be a tough act to follow. In his leading role, Dyer has brought the district acclaim in its programs, particularly in vocational education and lifelong learning.

Dver's success has come in two major areas: hiring competent staff to run the district and its programs, and lobbying to keep the district on top of funding and rule changes in Lansing.

But Dyer's act must be followed by a new player - and quickly - for the suerintendent, who officially departs May 1 for Phoenix, is leaving at a difficult time.

NEGOTIATIONS with teachers are going down to the wire, and the day after will find the district on a five-hour day, with 134 fewer teachers and no fine arts or physical education in the elementary schools. That could come as soon as Jan.

Once those negotiations are settled, the administration must reach accord — that line should read "contract concessions" with all other unions in the district except respite care workers

But the district must still find a way to perform despite another nearly $2 million in cuts needed beyond those anticipated concessions. The district budget is projected at a $3.6 million deficit, reportedly due to a large drop in adult and community education enrollment

Monday night's school board meeting was a good example of why the district needs a strong leader. The meeting room and hallways were filled with the largest overflow crowd since the district began using the new Dyer Center. Residents were there representing John Glenn Boosters Club, senior citizens, Wayne Memorial and adult education programs. the impending budget cuts.

BUT THE REAL problems in the district surfaced as the audience alternately applauded both sides in the 4-3 split decisions that followed discussions on everything from the search for Dyer's replacement to limiting board travel to in-state ence.

Dyer's lone failing was his inability to nunicate his vision to the taxpayers. Wayne-Westland sorely needs a leader who can, by the sheer force of his personality and persuasiveness, bring a consensus out of conflict.

No rising star can please an audience with every performance, but the school board would be wise to find out what its audience wants, then search for the person who possesses most of those qualities.

A resident suggested Monday night that a citizens' committee be formed to provide the board with an idea of what the community wants. That's a good idea.

When the board meets in a study session this Monday to outline procedures for the selection, the appointment of just such a committee ought to be part of the process. The committee will be meaningless, however, unless each board member is allowed to appoint a district resident to the committee. To understand the real needs of the community, the committee sincerely must tap the opinions of a wide selec-

The new superintendent must be a diplomat able to deal with people from legislators to taxpayers. That means the new leader should be visible and accessible. making visits to schools, attending functions and keeping pressure on the Legisla.

That person must take a strong role in leading the district out of its present chaos, understanding all sides of every issue. Equally important to the criteria is the selection process. District residents won't accept a new superintendent if there are back room negotiations leading to a selec-

The community must be kept informed They all took the stage to complain about on what the process is, how the search is going, who is being interviewed and when the target date is for a selection.

The residents' committee ought to be a vital part of the process. Since finalists must be interviewed in public, according to the Michigan Open Meetings Act, questions ought to be accepted from the audi-

Can tax cut aid McCollough?

GOV. JAMES Blanchard's decision to sanction a cut in October of the state personal income tax came after he said he would oppose any cut before January 1985. At that time, the rate is scheduled to drop from 6.1 to 5.35 percent.

Blanchard's most recent statement indicates that he is willing to have the rate cut to 5.35 percent Oct.1 rather than Jan.

BUT THE MOVE could have been calculated to give the governor some time and leverage in dealing with legislators who are intent on a pre-election tax cut.

But those who think McCollough might escape are counting on Democratic voters to support him. His district is much more Democratic leaning than those of the departed Philip Mastin and David Serotkin. Of course, this supposes Republicans a personal computer.

"What for?" she asked. "I have a fine electric typewriter, good calculator and a half-empty filing cabinet. And I hate video games." In her case, she is probably right. However, when microwave ovens were the rage a few years back. she bought one, even though she already had a standard range, popcorn maker and egg poacher. Something can be said for efficiency, accuracy and speed.

If you have a microwave and use it only for making popcorn and boiling water, perhaps you shouldn't buy a personal computer. On the other hand, if you have determined that a personal computer could help simplify your complex life, your next step is to buy one most suited to

THE SELECTION process can be easy if you remember the following acronym: C O M P U T E (Cost, Operation, Memory, Programs, User friendy, Technical support, Expandability).

Cost — First, determine the amount of money you are prepared to spend. Remember, a personal computer system can range in price from less than $300 to well over $2,000. Decide on a cost ceiling and see how well it matches what you want the computer to do. . Operation — Manuals of operation, adequate documentation and instructions are extremely important. Don't let salespeople overwhelm you with jargon. What you want is simple instruction on operating the personal computer. Ask to see user manuals, read a few pages to see if you understand the instructions. Try it out. You wouldn't buy a pair of shoes without first trying them on.

Memory — Computer memory can be confusing to the neophyte. ROM (read-only-memory) stores information the comupter needs, such as what the letter "a" looks like ROM is read as needed and cannot be added to. RAM (random-access-memory) is where you store the information you are working on. Both of these are measured in bytes. A computer with a minimum RAM of 48K (48,000 bytes) is popular and can run games, educational programs, financial and word processing programs and ac counting packages.

The availability of ready-to-use software (canned programs) is important. Many experts believe you should first decide on the sofware you want, then buy a computer that runs that soft-

True, you can write your own programs, but this will come much later. All personal computers run on BASIC, and some of the more expensive ones also use FORTRAN, COBOL, PASCAL and LOGO. Lastly, keep in mind, not all computers have the same quality and quantity of software.

User friendly — This is more than simple jargon.

A personal computer must be easy to use. The keyboard shoud be the same as a standard typewriter A monitor (TV-type screen), black and white or color, should be easy to read with no eyestrain. Peripheral equipment such as a disk drives, printers, moderns and joy sticks should be simple to hook up. use and trouble-shoot if necessary.

Technical support — We hate to think of repairs and service when we buy a computer, but we cannot afford to overlook service when buying a personal computer. Ask for information about the repair service available before you buy. Computer systems generally are reliable, but they can breakdown. Two important considerations are cost of service and time to repair. Some computers are more difficult to repair than others; thus, cost and time can be major factors. In addition, be sure to check on the warranty period and extended protection plans, if avail

Expandability - When you are choosing your computer, ask how it can be expanded or adapted to meet changing needs. A computer that can be expanded at a reasonable cost is a good value and worth the initial investment.

As your computer skills increase, you may want to buy more memory, add peripherals and expand programming language ability

Woman opens bakery on Penniman Avenue

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

From the days when she was a young girl in her home town in New Jersey Maureen Wegryn had a desire to be in business

"I didn't care what type of business it would be, she said, "so long as it was a business. I had no experience of any kind and I don't know what brought on the great desire. But I had it and now I have realized that ambition."

As she spoke Wegryn was standing behind the counter in the bakery she has opened on Penniman Avenue, across the street from Plymouth Post Office. And no one could be happier.

"I finally have what I wanted — a business — and while I have no experience in baking of this type, I have hired a baker who will handle the bulk of the work at the ovens. "I always have liked to cook, and being from the east, I was brought up where cooking is one of the key words in life. Now I finally have realized my dream and I am only hoping for the best. The wife of Richard Wegryn, a pathologist at Annapolis Hospital in the city of Wayne, she came to Plymouth to be close to her husband and they now

"We'll have the usual run of bread, cakes, doughnuts, layer cakes, and wedding cakes. We don't specialize on any one of these items, but will stress all of them.

With that she displayed a huge plate of doughnuts which were baked earlier in the day and vowed that the doughnuts would be as fine as any in the area.

The only special item will be wedding cakes because they usually are the wish of the bridal family and we will cater to the best of our ability to satisfy them. But we will have no special series of wedding

With a great desire to make the most of this opportunity, she plans to return to Schoolcraft College in February. Now that the choice has been made, and she is in business, she plans to take a business course and try to learn all she can to make a success of her gamble in opening a bakery.

WHAT IS A SLIPPED DISC?

Shakespeare wrote in one of his plays in 1608, "Thou cold location, cripple our senators that their limbs may half as lamely as heir manners." He obviously had knowledge — perhaps first hand, of the painful and disabling effects of the back disorder sciatica, assed by a slipped disc. Actually a disc neither slips nor is it properly speaking, a disc. What we called a slipped disc is really a complete breakdown of an intervertebral joint.

caused by a slipped disc.

Actually a disc neither slips nor is it properly speaking, a disc.

What we called a slipped disc is really a complete breakdown of an intervertebral joint.

The discs provide length and height to the spine. The average man would be only 4/8° tail if he had no discs and they make up 25% controlled movement between the vertebrae. The spine is capable of supple movement in almost every direction, yet for the small articular facets there is no sold bone to bone joints such as in the knee or hip. There are only the discs, and the discs acting as joints allow the movements of the spine to take place.

The shock absorbing role is another important function of the discs. The pulpy center behaves like hydraulic fluid. In other words, the shape of the pulpy core can be altered as a result of sudden impact or compression but it cannot be made to occupy a smaller space. On impact, the disc flattens out its tough capusule however, allows it to temporarily expand at the point opposite the point of impact so that the force is dissipated throughout the disc before it returns to its normal shape.

It is this pulpy core, which is liable to bulge against or squeeze out through a weak spot in the capsule's wall, that produces the athorimal condition known as a slipped disc.

Disc injury can result from a direct accident but the condition is ordinarily a progressive one it appears first as a mild aching discomfort in the lower back. At this point most sufferers tend to ignore it, classify it as just another twinge and perhaps settle for a bif of linament or an easy chair. Actually what's happening is the beginning of the end. A few small fibers have been stretched or pulled beyond their capacity and aided by the progressive weakening of the itssue that's been building up for years small missignment and fixation of the joint develops.

Things can go along for weeks months even years with bocasional back hydroges and ocuse it to eventually wear out Over 30% of ruptured discs and surgery could be prevented

Youth Symphony concert features Mozart, Piccini

Plymouth-Canton Youth Symphony begins its 14th season with a concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 24. Featured in the performance in the Little Theater of Plymouth Canton High School will be selections by Mozart and Piccini.

Michael Endres will direct the symphony this year, returning after an absence of seven years. Endres has been public school orchestra director for 20 years. He first conducted the youth symphony in 1969. He is orchestra director at the Centennial Educational Park and Lowell Middle School and has been the symphonic orchestra director at Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp for the past nine summers. A string bass player, he has performed in several community orchestras.

Endres earned undergraduate and master's degrees from the University Michigan. Janita Hauk continues as and conducts the beginning class. She has been a music educator for 16 years. is an instructor of violin at Madonna College and a string specialist at Ladywood High School in Livonia

HAUK HAS BEEN a first violinist with the Plymouth Symphony Orches-tra for the past 13 years and also is a member of the Plymouth String Trio. She holds degrees from Ohio Wesleyan and the University of Michigan. The goal of the Youth Symphony is to provide an opportunity for string, wind and percussion students from area middle and high schools to participate in a large symphonic ensemble. In addition, group lessons are offered for upper elementary beginning string play-

• MALE SELF-HELP GROUP

ROMP (recovery of male potency) is an educational self-help group to provide information and support for men who are candidates for or already have penile implants. The group is being coordinated by nurse Cindy Meredith of Plymouth, patient education instructor, and meets at 7:30 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month at Grace Hospital, 3990 John R, Detroit. The group feels many men are experiencing physical impotency but do not know where to turn for help. The sessions are free and open to all candidates, implant men, and their partners in the tri-county area

ANOREXIA & BULIMIA SUPPORT

An anorexia and bulimia support group meets 7:30-9:30 p.m. each Monday in Classroom 8 of the Education Center, St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. The purpose is to offer support, encouragement and information to both supporters and sufferers of anorexia and bulimia.

EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

An Employment Dynamics Program, sponsored by Growth Works Inc., is being planned for preemployment training and job placement assistance for persons age 16-21. Growth Works is enrolling people for the program. Applicants must meet income guidelines and live in western Wayne County Transportation will be provided to a limited number of enrollees. For information, call 455-4093.

FREE JOB HELP

All employers are welcome to use the free job placement service of Plymouth-Canton Community Education. Many current and former students with diverse skills and a desire to work have been carefully screened and are ready for referral for fulltime, part-time and temporary work. If you have a job order or need more information, call Sharon Strean at 459-1180.

• ISSHINRYU KARATE

Isshinryu Karate classes are 8 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays at the Canton Recreation Center on Michigan Ave. at Sheldon for ages 9 to 50. Fee is $30 per person for 10 weeks. Canton Parks and Recreation again is sponsoring karate lessons for all levels. Sam Santilli, 4th degree black belt, will instruct all ages. Register at the recreation center in person prior to classes on Wednesday or Thursday. Registration is continuous. For more information, call the recreation department at 397-1000 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL

Want to learn to speak more effectively, build self-confidence and become a better listener? The Motor City Speakeasy Toastmaster Club gives you the opportunity to do so. The club meets the second and fourth Monday of each month at 7 p.m. in the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth. For information, call Jim Rollinger at 422-7385.

 SPECIAL EDUCATION SERVICES

Preprimary special education services for children 6 and younger are available through Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. If you have a child who may be mentally or emotionally impaired, have a physical or visual disability, a hearing or speech impairment or learning disability, call the Infant and Preschool Special Education Program at Farrand Elementary School, 420-0363, for information.

PLUS PRESCHOOL SIGN-UP

Applications are being taken for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools PLUS program for 1983-84.
PLUS is a joint parent-child preschool program funded by the federal government, Chapter I/Headstart, and is located at Central Middle School in Plymouth. Children who are 4 years old on or before Dec. 1, 1983, and live in the attendance areas of Field, Eriksson, Starkweather and Gallimore elementary schools are eligible, according to Mary Fritz, director. In addition, 3- and 4-year-olds from all over the district may enroll in the Head Start component of the program, she added. Phone 453-8889 to register.

Alcohol series will be presented

A six-part series on alcohol and alcoholism will begin Thursday, Feb. 2, under the sponsorship of Plymouth Family Service.

Topics will include attitudes, physiological effects of alcohol, and the symptoms and phases of alcohol with special emphasis on alcohol and the

The family emphasis will stress what happens to family members who are caught up in an alcoholic family system and how to get help.

The series will use diagrams, films, discussions, and a lecture

Anyone who is or has been concerned or uncom fortable with their own drinking or that of a family member would benefit from attending the series, as well as anyone who grew up in a home where there was a problematic alcohol use, says David Breeden, executive director of Plymouth Family Service,

Cost of the series is $15 per person and $20 for a couple or per family. Anyone interested or wanting more information may contact the agency at 453-

Enrollment is limited.

Plymouth Family Service, besides offering the alcohol awareness series, also provides on-going individual, marital, and family counseling.

Stepping out of shadow

AVE VAN WAGONER would prefer I didn't write this column — at least not at this time.

You see, Dave is basically a humble man. He would prefer I write about Mark Bennett, Gary Thomas, Jim Schlicker and the rest of his Plymouth Canton basketball team.

Dave is also a very cautious man. When he speaks, he chooses his words ever so carefully, so afraid of uttering detrimental words. He is so careful about what he says that he is often rendered

Even after his Canton team defeated Livonia Stevenson last Friday night, easily the biggest win of his coaching career, the man couldn't let himself go. He briefly answered my questions. You could tell he was ready to burst with excitement, but he held back. His answers were stock coach's quotes: make them shoot from the outside them to one shot. . . kids played just an outstanding game, blah, blah, blah."

I FELT SAD about it, because I knew Dave had so much more to say. He had just experienced a coach's dream. He had devised the perfect game plan, worked his team until they had it down pat, then sat back and watched it all unfold. The result was a 54-52 victory against one of the league's power teams - the ultimate upset.

If that wasn't sweet enough, the defeated Stevenson coach was his uncle, George Van Wagoner, who with more than 400 career victories is the winningest high school coach in the area. Dave had never beaten his uncle.

Yes, Dave Van Wagoner had plenty to say after that game. He chose not to say much at all.

Dave Van Wagoner suffers an ailment normally indigenous to politicians - he suffers from PP paranoia of the press. A by-product of PP is BS. BS stands for half the truth and nothing but half the

Don't get me wrong, this is not a knock on Dave Van Wagoner. If he chose to, he could make like Steve Carlton and not say anything at all.

Besides, he is not the only coach that suffers from PP. Most of them do. They are afraid something they say will light a fire under an opposing team. Like, if Dave would have said something like, "I think we're ready for Salem now," (which he did not say) he would be pumping up the Rocks.

HERE'S MY theory on that: Never in the history of sports has a newspaper article or a quote ever cost a team a game, meet or match. Anyone who tries to blame a newspaper article for a loss is copping out for their own inability to prepare their team, or their players' inability to execute.

But, maybe Dave has good cause for his case of PP. And his affliction goes a bit deeper than than most cases.

His coaching achievements have always loomed in the shadows of others. The name Van Wagoner is associated with the Stevenson basketball program, not Canton's. In the Plymouth-Canton community, basetball success has long been the trademark of Fred Thomann's Plymouth Salem teams, not Dave Van Wagoner's Canton teams.

And Dave Van Wagoner is sensitive about that. He won't tell you he is, but he is. He was upset with preview of his team it wasn't as detailed as Salem's, it seemed derogatory, it left out some key players.

"There's more than one basketball team in Plymouth, you know," he said at the time.

HE HAS said over and over this year that his guards are the best in the league. He doesn't want their achievements to get lost in the same shadows

"I tell my kids to fight for everything they can on the court. I expect them to give everything they can. And I fight just as hard for my kids. I want to see them get as much publicity and recognition as they deserve," he said.

People are recognizing the talents of Canton's guards Mark Bennett and Gary Thomas. It is now time they recognize the talents of Dave Van

He is on the verge of turning the Canton program into a winner, and he's done it in just two-and-a-half

The Chiefs were 4-17 his first year. The next season the Chiefs were a more respectable 10-11. They are 6-2 this year and playing impressive basketball. "Last year, I felt, was the turnaround year. This year (again the caution), well, I think we have the possibility of bettering our production of last year." he said.

WHAT HE meant was, the program is close to being a bonafide winner.

"When your young kids on the junior varsity see the varsity winning, they want to do the same," he said. Winning breeds winning, and that's what he is trying to establish at Canton.

Van Wagoner's method is basic he teaches a Bobby Knight man-to-man defense, he teaches shooting techniques better than most coaches (most coaches feel its a waste of time to "teach" shooting), and he is an untiring worker

His team practiced nearly all summer long. His team, despite its phenomenal lack of size, is one of the better defensive teams in the area, and may be the best shooting team (they are currently shooting above 50 percent from the floor as a team).

"If somebody in the league works any harder than we do, I'd like to see it," he said. Dave Van Wagoner's Canton basketball program is on the verge of stepping out of the shadows. Hopefully, the humble coach is ready to step out with it.

Will Chiefs rule mat in '84?

By Chris McCosky

T ISN'T OFTEN that a Plymouth Canton team is favored over a Plymouth Salem team in any sport - with the exception of gymnastics and baseball.

Tonight, however, the favored team in the Salem-Canton wrestling match is Dan Chrenko's Chiefs.

The Chiefs have been riding an ever-rising high all season - a high that was elevated another couple notches last weekend with their decisive victory at the North Farmington Invitational. Canton is 5-0 in the Western Lakes conference

Chrenko is simultaneously thrilled and cautious about his team's success thus far. He has seen his team crumble in the late stages of a season before. He hopes his high-flying team hasn't reached its

"I hope we havn't reached our peak," Chrenko said. "We have a lot of important matches to go. I don't think we have reached our top yet. There's still a lot of improving to do."

SALEM, ON the other hand, is not having a typical Salem year. Though it is 3-1 in conference dual meets, the Rocks have not been overpowering Coach Ron Krueger admits his team is inexperienced. He has said from the start that this was to be a rebuilding year for his program.

To make matters worse for the Rocks, co-captain John Jeannotte is questionable for tonight's meet. He has an injured knee.

While Canton was walking away from the 10team field at North Farmington Saturday, Salem was struggling to hang on to sixth place. That says something about where the two teams are at at this stage of the season — or does it?

"In a tournament, the kids that are going well can carry you," said Chrenko. "At North we had four kids in the final four. That ended up giving us 51 points. That doesn't happen in a dual meet. In a dual meet, Chrenko said, it's often the lessheralded wrestlers who make the difference Be it a tournament or a dual meet, Krueger still sees his team as the underdog.

"I WOULD have to say we are definitely the underdog with Jeannotte out," he said. "They open up with three of the best little weights around and they

GIBBONS WON bars with a 7.35 qualifying her for the regionals. Huff qualified with her third-place score of 7.7 in the vault.

"In our first meet we scored 112 points. This time we got 111.90. From here, it looks like we are going to be pretty consistent," said Rock coach Kathi Kinsella. "I didn't want to say it until we had a couple meets. We did very well with five qualifying scores."

Katie MacIntosh finished second in all four events for the Falcons. She scored 8.0 in the vault, 7.15 in the bars, 7.0 in the beam, and 7.85 in the floor

The Chiefs placed nine wrestlers in the top four places of each weight class, and they produced three champions.

Meeting your health care needs through our Commitment to the future

Caring for the physical and mental health of the people of Washtenaw County and the surrounding area has been the mission of Catherine McAulev Health Center and its units, St. Joseph Mercy and Mercywood Hospitals for most of this century. Through Commitment '83-'84, we have made a new commitment to assure fulfillment of our community's health priorities in the years ahead. The problems confronting us are the result of a changing world with new facilities and programs needed to meet them. In particular there is an urgent need for, a new facility for treatment of mental health problems, a new residential chemical dependency facility and a high-technology fund for the acquisition of new medical equipment

New Mercywood Hospital

A new Mercywood Hospital will soon be built on the CMHC site on East Huron River Dr. It will replace the present outmoded building with facilities especially designed for individual and group psy chotherapy, family therapy, education, recreation and visiting In-patient stays will be made as short as possible shifting to less-intensive out-patient or partial hospitalization whenever that is appropriate

Residential Chemical Dependency Treatment

The treatment of alcohol and drug abuse is a top priority. A 40-bed residential treatment facility will treat persons of all ages dependent on alcohol or drugs. or both. Of these 20 beds will be reserved for adolescents.

It has been carefully planned in cooperation with local and state agencies to create an inviting, home-like therapeutic setting that will cost less than comparable treatment in an acute care hospital

High-Technology Fund New equipment that includes lasers technologies brings the promise of better medical care in the future The cost of keeping up with advancing technology is putting a strain on ever hospital's budget. Additional funding required to assure an ever-increasing evel of excellence in medical care a St Joseph Mercy Hospital

The answer will be a new High-Technology Fund created in par brough Commitment '83-'84 This fund will make money available as needed to supplement other sources. for the acquisition of new equipment.

Old Barns

Artist captures a fading beauty

staff writer

The old, rundown barns, sheds and similar structures that dot Michigan's countryside evoke different thoughts from different people.

To some, they may be relics of a time that has long passed. To others, they may be nothing more than eye-sores. But to Livonia resident John Small, they have an appealing beauty of their own, one that moves him to try to capture it on canvas.

"They're interesting, I guess," he

SMALL HAS BEEN painting dilapidated structures in tranquil landscapes for years now. Twenty-five of his works are on display now through Jan. 26 at the Livonia City Hall, 33000 Civic Center Drive, east of Farmington Small photographs the structures when he sees them and uses these pic-tures as models for his paintings. He works on his paintings in the basement of his home, usually spending "a couple hours each evening" on them.

"It's just really interesting," Small said. "It seems like every time I go (to a site), I always get a different angle.

"I take pictures because the next time I'm at that spot, the structure probably won't be there," he explained.
"I took a picture of a farm at Joy and

"I'M CONSTANTLY looking. My wife knows at any time while we're driving, I could pull off the road and back up. I've just invested in a zoom

'I take pictures because the next time I'm at that spot, the structure probably won't be there. I took a picture of a farm at Joy and Newburgh that is long gone. Another one was at Drake and 14 Mile Road. Right now it's a subdivision.

The artist may never run out of ideas. Friends have told him about structures he might like to paint. All of his photographs are kept neatly in albums, where they can be referred to again

"I have quite an album full of photos," he said. "I have all kinds of references to keep me busy

"I generally do this in the wintertime. In the summer, I like to be out-

"My wife is my biggest critic," Small adds with a smile. "She helped me name the pictures for the exhibit. I" never put names on my paintings, but when you have an exhibit, you're required to put names on the paintings."

By David Messing

My wife, believes that I am a living contradiction. She says, "He writes but doesn't read, he owns a store but never goes shopping.

The comment about me never reading is quite accurate. For me to sit, stand or lean with a book in hand means that within seconds I will fall asleep. Several pages of copy, even a long magazine article, to me is like taking knock out drops.

If and when I do go shopping it is for one specific thing. I walk right past blue light specials and go out of my way to miss the wrestling matches at the bargain tables. With purpose and daring, I walk into a department store to buy a screw driver and withing minutes, emerge toting only a screwdriver. When it comes to shopping. I have become emotionally scarred

For example: once, my wife sent me to the drug store to buy nylons, when I asked what size, she said "regular," when I asked what color she said "tan." Sounds easy, huh? Thinking I knew all there was to know, I confidently strolled into the drug store. There it was, the nylon display. I was shocked to see an enormous selection. Four six foot chrome displays with hundreds of little slots, all carefully labeled. There was seamed, textured, mesh, support, seamless, toeless, heeless, energized and sheer! There was along with the familiar small, medium, and large, terms I never considered, such as regular small, petite, regular, tall, short, teen, all size, regular queen and short queen. Finally with a pulsating red face, I asked a girl, about the same size as my wife, if she could find anything that was close to "tan" in a "regular" size. She said "sure, but when you say tan, do you mean coffee, sun tan, cinnamon, beige, buff or sand?" In ignorance, I slowly repeated "regular, tan," so with an understanding smile she handed me some kind of egg shape package and I left for home.

Artifacts

MANY PEOPLE when looking for art supplies, are as overwhe med as I was at the drug store picking out nylons. Many times customers will just grab whatever looks familiar and never ask about what is new or even question what has always been. So ! would like to mention some of the new items on the art market. Also I would like to bring your attention to items that you may have overlooked for years

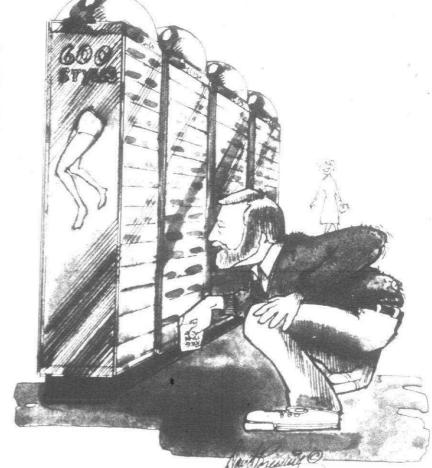

Were you ever unsatisfied with fine point felt tip markers because the ink was a bluish black? Well, Alvin Co. has developed the "pen stick," with india ink density. This ink is so black, you can use it right along with technical pen ink and india ink renderings. The three sizes of tips range from 0.3 eef, 0.4 ef to 0.6 f. I promise you will be delighted with the blackness of ink and clarity of line for under a dollar.

Another new item is the assortment of grays and earth tones available from Conte. I believe there are 12 sticks in each case at a cost of under $10. Everyone who ever took a drawing class has been asked to buy a white, black, brown and tan Conte crayon. Now you can increase your supply and enjoy the richness and quality the Conte line has always offered.

Prismacolor finally developed Prismacolor sticks. These sticks of pure color are about the size of Contes crayons. They are offered in the same assortment of colors as are their very famous color pencils.

PAASCHE AIRBRUSH has two new items. First is their Excel Airbrush Set. To celebrate their 80th anniversary Paasche developed the VLN No. 1 pol tapered needle This new taper allows a finer, concentrated line, the highly polished surface of the needle allows smooth lever action in a Teflon packing washer. This all comes in a beautiful wooden box for long lasting storage. The VL-XL 80 No. 1 costs $95 and the V-LX 80 No. 1 cost L$99 Paasche's other new item is a coiled 10 foot hose. This hose can also be purchased with or without a moisture trap. Oh, yes Paasche now distributes a beautiful new book on air brushing by Radu Vero. It is all new, informative and beautifully illustrated for a cost of $24.95.

With all the metallic felt tip pens flooding the market it is surprising it took this long for one company to offer a chisel tip for calligraphy buffs. Well, the company is Sanford, the pen is fantastic and the cost is around

Of course there are too many new items to cover in one article, but I will introduce new items in future articles from time to time Please remember that when items are advertised in magazines. TV spots and promotional shows, it does take time to distribute the items to the art stores. One thing that bothers me is the line where advertisers say. 'at your better art stores everywhere." Since I own an art store, I try to acquire the new items from the distributers or manufactures. It turns out that the same people that say available at better art stores" don't even have the item in production yet. So when it comes to brand new items "hold your smocks

Now quickly let me mention some oldies but goodies that you may have never seen

Did you ever fumble through a fistful of French curves to only find that you can't match a needed curve. Then my friend you need a flexible curve. A flexible curve will bend to the shape of any "slow" curve and hold its shape until you need to change it. They range in price according to length but an 18 inch flexible curve is about $4.85

Along with the flex curve is another item which is called a parallel glider or "put-line. This is nothing more than a ruler with little rollers underneath it. The rollers help the straight edge of the ruler to glide along your page and always stay parallel to any previously drawn line. In college I couldn't even lay out a commercial assignment without a

Do you know what a water color easel looks like? Most people don't. A water color easel holds your pad or board at any angle horizontal or vertical. It is so nice to just sit there with your palette and to have your pad seemingly suspended in mid air. In seconds you can change the flow of color across you painting to any angle you desire. Water color easels look more like a tri-pod for a camera than an easel for artwork. With an increase in competition I be-

The shower's a coed affair

Couple's needs met with a little prior creativity

7 EDDING SHOWERS used to be ladies-only affairs where a bride-to-be received ladies-only gifts like linens and frilly negligees. Today, as more men are involving themselves in wedding preparations, showers should take the interests of both the bride and groom into

"Showers that have a particular theme are becoming increasingly popuar." says Barbara Tober, editor in chief of Bride's magazine. "They guide guests toward the kinds of gifts a couple will really appreciate and are a lot of fun. too." Tober has some suggestions for the friend or relative who wants to host an

- One idea is to ask guests to bring gifts for only one room in the house, say the kitchen or bathroom. Or plan a shower around the overall decorating tastes of the bride and groom. The invitation could read ... "Mark and Sharon are planning a home done in old-fashioned homespun way, so think country for this
- Showers that keep economy in mind are just as much fun as more lavish

- For a grocery staples shower, guests should bring non-perishable items such as flour, pasta, rice, sugar, canned soups and juices, and also some non-food essentials like detergent and other cleansers. If everyone brings just a few items you can stock a whole pantry for just a few dollars per guest.
- Still another economical way to shower a couple is through a group gift all guests chip in to buy a single special item. Consulting the wedding gift registry or talking with the bride's mother will usually reveal the gift, whether a food processor, a cocktail table or a television that is affordable when given by a

Whatever type of shower you give, Bride's adds these reminders:

- · The shower should take place before the wedding, sooner if it's a surprise so it doesn't interfere with the couple's other wedding plans.
- · Ask the bride's mother or best friend for help with the guest list. It's always polite to invite the wedding couple's parents to come along, at least for the gift opening and a drink, and members of the bridal party are traditional
- the couple really wants as gifts is to see what they have registered for. Their include plenty of variety. And, especially with a theme shower, the hostess should keep track of what each guest is planremarriage, need to know to select the flowers that will give just the right finishing touch to her bridal look?

The first step in choosing wedding flowers," says Millie Martini, associate editor of Bride's magazine, "is to find a good florist, one who has been recommended or whose window display you particularly admire." You should do this about three months before the wedding. Then, with his skilled help, you can work out answers to the following questions:

What is your budget? Your florist can tell you which flowers will be "in season" at the time of your wedding - that's when they're least expensive and most abundant. Some wedding favorites gladiolus, baby's breath, roses, mums, statice, carnations, cymbidium orchids are available year-round.

Your florist can help you sort out your priorities. For instance, if, for your bououet, you have your heart set on a long flowing cascade of orchids and lillies of the valley, you might have to cut costs in other areas. Remember, besides the bride's bouquet, you'll also need bouquets for your honor attendant and bridesmaids, boutonnieres for all the men, including the fathers, corsages for both mothers and flowers to decorate the ceremony and reception sites.

WHAT FLOWERS will best comple ment your wedding? Give your florist a description of your dress and your bridesmaids' dresses so he can suggest bouquets that harmonize in shape and style. There are many alternatives. Besides the classic nosegay or cascade, you could carry a single long-stemmed flower, a covered prayer book or a lush, loosely tied armful of blooms. As an additional accessory you could wear a wreath or hair comb entwined with orange blossoms or another light flower.

Also, bring along fabric swatches to give the florist an idea of your color scheme. There are so many different flowers, in every hue from dazzling pink to soft sea blue that you'll find the perfect ones to match or complement the dresses your attendants will wear

In spring, for example, your brides maids might wear pink and carry dog wood, lilacs or anemones. Yellow daf fodils, forsythia and tulips are also pretty with light blue or lavender dresses. Bridesmaids in a summer wedding might wear pale pink and carry blush-pink

For a fall wedding consider the richness of forest green dresses and russet chrysanthemums mixed with autumn leaves. And, finally, for the winter holiday season there's nothing prettier than a red and white color scheme using poinsettia, roses or holly

EING A BRIDESMAID is an onor and also a lot of fun but the job's not without its potential problems," says Helen Johnson, managing editor of Bride's magazine

You can make sure your bridesmaids have only fond memories of your wedding if you heed the following advice. based on a survey of bridesmaids.

While it's hard for the bride to please everyone, you can avoid major complaints about bridesmaids' dresses being the wrong style or color. At first, take only your maid or matron of honor with you shopping and narrow down the almost limitless choice to three or so

Make sure to use your judgment in picking styles that will flatter your attendants' varied figures. For instance. full skirts and blouson tops look good on almost anyone. You might try to include in your choices one two-piece or shorter style your bridesmaids will be able to wear again. Once you've made this preliminary selection you're ready to schedule a time when the rest of the women can go to the bridal shop to vote on the

REMEMBER that your attendants have to spend quite a bit of money for your wedding. They pay for their own outfits, including shoes, accessories and perhaps an extra dress for the rehearsal dinner; wedding and shower gifts; and transportation, lodging and meals if they're coming from out of town. Just a few of the many ways to help them out: See if friends and relatives could put your friends up, let them select their own shoes (or wear a pair they already have) and provide all meals...

BE SURE ALL your attendants know what they are supposed to do. For instance, many a bridesmaid is even more nervous than the bride because she hasn't had a chance to practice. So at the rehearsal give your bridesmaids plenty of time to walk through their parts including passing your bouquet and reading any special passages.

As for their duties before the wedding, simply ask them for help when you need - in choosing your dress, addressing invitations, welcoming out-of-town guests - but be sensitive to how busy their own lives are.

Don't forget your friends. Many bridesmaids complained that the bride was so involved in her plans and parties that she was in her own little world and not interested in them anymore. Again. sensitivity is the key. It's up to you to show your bridesmaids that you haven't changed as a person or as a friend just because you're getting married.

Foresight ensures easily modified legalities

We are in the process of discussing our future financial plans. As we are newly married, we would like to make certain we are going about this in the right way.

Do you have any suggestions as to how we can maximize our planning?

HERE ARE SEVERAL pitfalls that you can become a victim to if you do not approach financial planning properly. The very fact that you are taking the time to consider financial planning at this early stage is in your favor. It seems that not taking time is one of the worst mistakes' vou can make.

It has been said that personal financial planning should be as routine as a physical. You should also make certain that you know where all your important papers are located. If you have a will. insurance policies - they should all be kept in the same safe place, preferably one which is fireproof.

Don't do your financial planning on a piecemeal basis. Nothing could be worse than not coordinating all your planning - and the results can be worse than

Before you begin to plan, you should determine when you want to retire and the annual income you will need in order to retire at a comfortable rate. You should also determine if you can reach this goal realistically.

When you are making your plans you should take into account tax liabilities. and how you can avoid them or at least minimize them each year. If you do have money to take advantage of tax shelters. thoroughly investigate them before you make any purchase. There are many good ones, but a poor investment might be disastrous to you.

AS YOUR FAMILY size changes, so will the type of investments you will need to purchase. Don't lock yourself into only one kind of investment, or don't be afraid to change when your family status changes.

You must have a will and, again, anytime there is a change in your family status, that change should be reflected in your will. It is very important that you keep your will current, just as your estate plan. In that way you can take advantage of tax and probate law which is available to you.

MAKE LIFE INSURANCE part of your estate plan and buy it in terms of what you need, not what you can afford Especially if you have a family, if insurance is all you can afford, that should come first, before you commit other funds to outside investing.

One last item you should consider is the effect of inflation on your investments. Inflation will always be with us sad to say, but you should look at how your investments will be affected so that you are not losing potential income. Some investments are more inflationprone than others

If you take all these suggestions and use them, you should have a successful financial plan for your future.

Who doesn't like a midnight snack

both drive off with tin cans clanking while friends and relatives pelt your car with rice or birdseed for good luck. Alone at last.

Somehow the breakfast you both missed for pre-wedding litters and the reception dinner missed for all the dancing and excitement of the day begin to catch up with you. Now that the day's events have come to a close you find yourself hungry and relaxed for the first time all

Stopping at a restaurant would hardly seem magical, and even ordering room service at the hotel would be another unwanted interruption. Ah, but you find a gaily decorated basket hiding in the trunk of your getaway car when you arrive at the hotel. A note attached reads. "Food is love" and is signed by a thoughtful member of the wedding party who packed the surprise.

If you'd like to surprise a special couple with a "basket of love," here are some ideas.

Fill a basket with all the essential treats and sweets for two famished honeymooners. Luscious purple grapes on top give only a hint of what is inside A small loaf of french bread, sliced black forest ham, cold lemon chicken and a wedge of Camembert cheese can all be wrapped and covered with colorful napkins. Sparkling mineral water makes a perfect thirst quencher. Brightly wrapped chocolate truffles are tossed throughout the basket. The final ambrosia are two slices of wedding cake and a split of champagne.
