The Canton Connection

KATHLEEN GOULD has been named 1983 "Winner of the Year" by the Township Board. The Canton resident was honored Tuesday "for her ability to overcome great personal hardship and contribute significantly to the betterment of life in Canton Township."

Gould, who's been active in Canton's Soccer Club, suffered severe injuries in an accident. She since has undergone months of hospitalization and therapy. Supervisor James Poole said that one by one, Gould has cast off a wheelchair, crutches and a cane — much to the amazement of her doctors.

Some time ago, Canton's Mary Dingeldey also was named Winner of the Year. Other obligations prevented Gould from receiving her award with her.

Poole is accepting nominations for 1984's Winner of the Year award, established to recognize outstanding Cantonites.

WORD OF Canton's courtroom mettle has reached Rock, Mich. in the Upper Peninsula. In a handwritten letter Clerk John Flodin is sure was penned at a kitchen table, Ewing Township Clerk Judy Hadel said, "Our board has requested I write a letter to obtain information on your suit against the county for dust control. We are a small township (162 population) in Upper Michigan in Marquette County. We have been required to pay for our dust control for several years. We have all gravel roads, and the dust is extremely bad in summer." Information on Canton's suit would be very much appreciated, added Hadel.

With other area townships, Canton recently sued the Wayne County Road Commission for failure to chlorinate roads. Supervisor James Poole said at Tuesday's board meeting he has received word that the Wayne County Road Commission will begin chlorinating next week. "I've been told unofficially they'll withdraw their lawsuit," added Poole. (A ray of hope concerning Canton's dusty roads recently glimmered when Wayne County Executive William Lucas said court-mandated administrative changes in the commission will make more chloride available for county roads.)

TRUSTEE STEVE Larson took some ribbing recently from the township board. Seems he won a night at Canton's Knights Inn — a prize given away at the Sesquicentennial Ball March 10.

"I thought that prize was supposed to go for the best costume," said Supervisor James Poole.

"It was just the luck of the draw," Larson said. "I'm still figuring out how to utilize it."

CANTON IS on its way to becoming a youth soccer capital. The 2nd Annual Canton Soccer Club Invitational — expected to draw 132 teams from Michigan, Ohio and Canada — is slated for Memorial Day weekend. The Township Board has granted the club $6,500 in "community promotion funds" to buy commemorative T-shirts as giveaways for the 2,500 people likely to visit Canton that weekend. Last year's tourney, a first for Canton, attracted 97 teams.

DR. DENNIS ORA of Canton is taking Dental Health Month to heart. Friday, he and his staff invited 26 youngsters from Children's World Nursery School to visit his office. After a tour of the clinic, children were given dental kits and learned about brushing, and good and bad eating habits.

HOW TO BUY stocks is the topic of a Canton Public Library seminar on tap for 7 p.m., Tuesday, March 27. Guest speaker will be an account executive with Prudential-Bache Securities. Registration begins at 10 a.m. today. Call 597-0995.

Bids sought on $2-million station

Canton officials will seek construction bids for a proposed, two-story police station to be built next to Township Hall.

The board of trustees recently gave approval to advertise for bids for construction costs.

"Once they get the bids back, they (board of trustees) have to make the decision whether to build (a new station) or not," said Police Chief Jerry Cox. "It appears the board recognizes the need."

Township officials determined several months ago that the current facility of 5,000 square feet on Geddes Road is inadequate for present and future needs. The station is cramped, and State Department of Corrections has cited the prisoner lockup for safety violations.

A committee made up of the police chief, finance director Mike Gorman and chief building official Aaron Machnik has been working with Southfield architects Coquillard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta on a new plan. The committee has recommended that a 23,000-square-foot facility be built next to Township Hall on Canton Center Road.

NEITHER A specific construction plan nor funding program has been approved by the township board. Construction costs are pegged at around $2 million, Gorman said.

Other public safety issues remain unresolved, pending a decision on the police station issue.

Surviving the drinking driver

Second in a series of articles on problems caused by drunk drivers. By Arlene Funke, staff writer

Janet Glover can hardly believe almost a year has passed since her happy, secure life was shattered by a lethal mixture of alcohol and gasoline.

Last May 27, Glover's husband Doug fell asleep at the wheel of his car after consuming several beers. He was killed after plowing head-on into a semi-truck on Lilley near Ann Arbor Road.

"The truck driver was not injured, and for that I'm grateful," Janet Glover said.

Pretty, petite Glover sits in her sunny, plant-filled Plymouth home and recalls a year of disbelief, grief and uncertainty following Doug's death. The walls are adorned with photographs of smiling family members.

Although she finds it painful to dredge up unpleasant memories, Janet believes talking about Doug's crash will make other people aware, so they may avoid a similar tragedy.

"It's a worthwhile cause," said Janet, formerly of Garden City and Canton. "It can happen to anybody. Don't drink and drive — it's that simple."

days, Janet often feels overwhelmed by feelings of loneliness and anxiety about her children. Both Janet and Angie have been undergoing therapy to help them cope. Janet, who admits to being "overly protective" of her two daughters, has found solace by reading passages in the Bible. She worries about her friends who drive after drinking.

Most of all, Janet Glover urges people to be a good friend by insisting that a drinker be driven home or go to sleep until the effect of the alcohol has worn off.

"When you drink you think you're invincible," she added. "That's why other people have to be stronger."

AT THE time of the crash, Doug and Janet were both 26 years old. Doug worked in the Spartan Stores warehouse on Haggerty Road, and studied data processing at Schoolcraft College.

Janet recently had quit her job at the Plymouth Hilton Hotel and was planning to stay home and be a full-time mom to daughters Angie, now 11, and Jill, 4. A Memorial Day camping trip was on the family's agenda.

Ironically, Doug's boss at Spartan was Tom Tharp — husband of Madonna Tharp. Madonna Tharp, 34, of Canton, had been killed by a drunken driver five months prior to Doug Glover's fatal crash.

As Janet recalls, Doug spent his last day working and attending classes. He stopped by to watch his fellow employees play softball at Massey Field. He drank several beers and later went out for a drink with a friend who was soon to marry.

Doug continued drinking later, alone at a bar prior to the accident, according to reports.

"He was always thinking of somebody else," Janet said. "Friends said he was out of character. Friends offered him a ride — more than once. He refused."

The incident has shaken family and friends. Janet is suing the bar which served alcoholic beverages to Doug just before he crashed his car.

"Servers in bars have to be more observant about who they are serving" (and should not serve a person who is intoxicated), she said.

ALTHOUGH THERE are fewer bad

Senior housing inches nearer

A federally subsidized senior-citizen-housing proposal has moved one step closer to reality. By a 5-1 margin, the Canton Township Board authorized a funding application to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Tuesday.

As required by HUD, a non-profit organization was selected to sponsor the project. National Church Residences won out over the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Korean Community Services Agency and St. George Syrian Orthodox Church.

All four are involved with Detroit-area senior-citizen residences and have experience working with HUD. Trustee Steve Larson, the lone dissenter, favored approval of a bid from the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Treasurer Maria Sterlini was absent.

To be built on four acres on the southwest corner of Ford and Sheldon Roads, the project will contain up to 131 apartments. Residents will be charged 30 percent of their income in rent. HUD will pay the difference between that amount and fair market value. The facility would follow equal housing opportunity guidelines, with no favoritism or discrimination toward potential occupants.

Paving the way for the application was the recent sale of the land to the township by First of America Bank of Kalamazoo. Canton paid $315,000 for the parcel — or fair market value, said Canton grants coordinator Terry Carroll. A $130,000 federal grant was applied to the purchase price, with the remainder coming from the township's general fund.

IF BUILT, the complex would be Canton's first senior-citizen apartment. Previous efforts to secure facilities have failed.

The board's approval pleased Canton Senior Citizen Advisory Council members, who visited facilities of all prospective sponsors and recommended National Church Residences.

"We believe National Church Residences has the best chance of being accepted by HUD. Secondly, (National Church Residences) has instituted a mechanism for local control and decision making," said Carroll.

HUD has established an April 30 deadline for applications to be submitted. A decision is expected in late June.

"Canton's chances are very good this time. The site rated very high with HUD," said Carroll. "It's close to full services — grocery stores, pharmacies and post office."

While no formal plan has been adopted, Carroll envisions an eight-story facility. The total number of units will depend on the funding available from HUD.

Construction cost is pegged at $5 million, according to Carroll.

Canton's involvement will be limited to the purchase of the land, an L-shaped piece that wraps around the Jim Mather Mr. Steak restaurant.

Wearin' o' the green Plymouth-Canton's Irish do Detroit St. Patrick's Day

Plymouth's Maureen O'Sullivan Hayes reigned during Irish Week as the United Irish Society's Maid of Erin.

Lads and lasses from all over County Wayne flocked to Detroit's St. Patrick's Day parade, Irish clubs and pubs in celebration of Irish Week — and among them was a healthy contingent of the Plymouth-Canton area's Irish community.

Maureen O'Sullivan Hayes of Plymouth reigned as the United Irish Society's 1984 Maid of Erin. On her court were former Plymouth resident Deirdre Holland, (now of Farmington Hills) first runner-up, and Colleen O'Connor, a student at Plymouth Salem High School and second runner-up. The three attended the parade, a special reception hosted by Gov. James Blanchard, and numerous private parties as well as interview sessions at television and radio stations.

Irish setter Clancy O'Donnell got a bird's-eye view of festivities at the St. Patrick's Day parade riding with the O'Donnell clan.

Staff photos by Bill Bresler.

Canton's Tim O'Hare, a two-time world step dance champion, was spotted with his students in the St. Patrick's Day Parade, among the Irish entertainers in Knights of Columbus Halls, and in Frankemuth's weeklong Irish Festival. O'Hare, a 23-year-old senior at Eastern Michigan University, teaches 75 students at studios in Plymouth and in Toledo.

As in years past, Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Corktown couldn't hold all the Irish on hand for the noon Mass St. Patrick's Day. Dubbed "Sharin' of the Green," the liturgy raises thousands of dollars for Detroit's indigent — many of whom seek food and shelter at Holy Trinity. While the majority of parishioners are Hispanic, Holy Trinity was built by Irish immigrants who settled in the area around the turn of the cen-

From the church on the corner of Sixth and Porter, St. Patrick's Day celebrants scattered to Irish pubs for pints of Harp and Guinness and dimmers of corned beef and cabbage. Area establishments patronized by folks with the gift of gab included the Lager House, Nemo's, Dooley's, the Tipperary Pub, the Dublin Inn, Dunleavy's, O'Sheehans, the Village Inn and Malarky's.

Students from Tim O'Hare's Irish Dancing School rode in a float down Woodward in Detroit's St. Patrick Day Parade. O'Hare, a Canton resident, teaches step dancing to 75 students from as far away as Cleveland, Ohio.

Former supervisor seeks district court seat

Attorney Robert Greenstein, former Canton Township supervisor, has announced his candidacy for 35th District Court Judge.

The seat will be vacated by District Judge Dunbar Davis of Plymouth, who retires this year.

A general practitioner with offices in Canton, Greenstein served as supervisor 1974-76 and as township trustee 1978-80. He was beaten by Noel Culbert in a second bid for supervisor in the Democratic 1980 primary.

Greenstein was Canton's municipal judge 1968-70, a stint that makes him "the youngest retired judge in Wayne County." Earlier, he worked as Livonia's chief probation officer. A graduate of Detroit's Criminal Justice Institute and a certified police officer, Greenstein was Canton's first police chief 1974-76.

"I have accomplished almost every position in the law enforcement and legal field, including the judgeship. There were different times in my life when it was appropriate to be involved with the law as a police officer, attorney, chief probation officer and as municipal judge," said Greenstein.

"My feeling today is that given my age, background and experience, the best possible position for me to be in would be district judge."

Greenstein says experience, particularly in criminal law, will be a plus for him.

"I probably have, by far, more legal, trial and public service and certainly judicial service than anyone else who would be running."

Being outspoken could work against him, he added.

"I may be my own worst enemy at times. I tend to take positions for the underdog that create hard feelings with people on the other side."

Greenstein said his work in the forefront of Canton's farmland preservation movement in the 1970s proved controversial.

"BETWEEN 1978-80 I was the director of farmland preservation for Canton. In our efforts to save farmland, we made enemies with developers and folks who owned real estate and wanted to sell it at high prices," said the father of daughters Wendy, 17, and Tammy, 15.

"There were a lot of commercial people who would have felt better if the whole township was developed en masse. Mine was an honesty held position, and I would do it again if I had to protect farmland."

Greenstein also has received negative response stemming from his involvement with First Step — a non-profit, Westland-based organization for the victims of spouse abuse.

"I have been on the board of First Step 'forever,'" he said. "Spouse abuse is an issue I've been outspoken on and rigid. It absolutely has to be stopped. I have taken that position very vocally, and perhaps created unfriendly response from certain quarters. That's too bad."

TWENTY-THREE years of active trial practice has shown Greenstein "what a judge should be."

"After all those years you get to know both from a lawyer's point of view and the public's point of view what a judge should be — what's critical, and what's not so critical."

Knowledge of the law isn't all that critical, he added.

"It seems that anyone who's practiced law over 15 or 20 years has enough knowledge to be an adequate judge. What you don't know you can study."

"But the projection of fairness, tolerance and caring is critical to me. If a judge can't project fairness, tolerance and caring, no matter what his or her verdict is, somebody is going to walk out of the courtroom feeling cheated."

"Not everyone has to feel like they've won, but they have to be treated fairly or, ultimately, the system goes down. My experience is that not all judges understand that," said Greenstein, who plans to file soon.

There's a touch of irony in Greenstein's candidacy.

In his prior (and only other) bid for district judge in 1970, Greenstein lost to none other than his "hero," Judge Davis.

Just 29 years of age at the time, Greenstein said he ran only because "Canton's city fathers" wanted very much to be represented in the local judicial system.

"Canton only had 6,000 residents, and Plymouth was the big town. I said loudly and publicly Dunbar Davis was the man I was going to vote for," Greenstein said.

"He was eminently more qualified than myself. I would never run myself if he wasn't retiring. He's my ideal of a judge. I love the guy. If I could be half as kind, half as tolerant and as fair as Dunbar Davis, I would consider myself a success."

No surprises: Mondale bypasses Hart attack

Campaigning in Michigan, Walter Mondale joked that he has been in the state so much that Gov. James Blanchard wants him to pay taxes.

"We're fellow Midwesterners," the former vice president told backers during a rally last week in Metro Airport as he sought the bulk of Michigan's 155 delegate votes to the Democratic National Convention.

"I know you and you know me."

"Mr. Mondale, you couldn't lose here if you tried!" shouted back a union supporter.

Walter Mondale and Gary Hart

Walter Mondale greeted enthusiastic supporters at a Metro Airport rally as a Secret Service agent watches the crowd.

THE PREDICTION held true Saturday, as Michigan Democratic caucuses gave the Minnesota 51,292 votes toward the presidential nomination.

Sen. Gary Hart of Colorado came in second with a total of 33,456 votes.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson earned 14,261 votes. Those uncommitted to any candidate cast 495 votes in that direction.

15th Congressional District (portion of Livonia, Northville and Northville Township); Mondale, 3,335 (33.43 percent); Hart, 4,967 (49.79 percent); Jackson, 1,555 (15.59 percent); uncommitted, 37 (3.62 percent).

17th Congressional District (Redford Township and a large portion of Oakland County); Mondale, 5,234 (29.99 percent); Hart, 3,690 (35.24 percent); Jackson, 1,465 (13.99 percent); uncommitted, 43 (4.1 percent).

Considered an important state, Michigan so far is one of the largest and most industrialized states to award its Democratic delegates. It was a make-or-buy state for Mondale, who relied heavily on organized labor support.

It was also a key state where the Rev. Jesse Jackson was testing whether blacks would follow the leadership of Mondale-backer Coleman Young or switch to him.

HERE IS how Wayne County suburban districts voted in Saturday's caucusing:

2nd Congressional District (portion of Livonia, Northville and Northville Township); Mondale, 3,335 (33.43 percent); Hart, 4,967 (49.79 percent); Jackson, 1,555 (15.59 percent); uncommitted, 37 (3.62 percent).

Drinking, driving claim a life, shatters others

While Janet Glover is still finding her way back, Lee and Sue Landes of Livonia have channeled their anger and frustration into fighting for laws and stringent enforcement to get drunk drivers off the road. Their 26-year-old son George was killed by a 20-year-old drunk driver who ran a red light at Ford Road and Telegraph Oct. 4, 1981.

Several months earlier, Lee Landes had taken early retirement from his job in research and engineering at Ford Motor Co. The couple planned to travel and do volunteer work.

When George was killed, and his fiancée Renee injured, the Landes were angry and upset. Against the advice of legal counsel, Sue Landes insisted on attending all court proceedings against the driver's killer, who eventually was ordered to spend six months in Detroit House of Corrections.

"This was the last contact I would have with my son's last moments," said

THE LANDES' put aside their previous retirement-plans and plunged into forming a local chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD), an organization started by Candy Lightner of California, whose daughter was killed by a drunk driver.

After two years, MADD has managed to garner public support and awareness of the deaths, injuries, property loss and grieving caused by drinking drivers. Lee Landes, now 59, serves on several state and national task forces on the drunk-driving problem.

MADD monitors court cases and argues for tough enforcement, stiff sentences for offenders and counseling and treatment for problem drinkers.

"You have to go on living," Sue Landes said. "You don't forget, but you have to come out and participate. I think that is the most therapeutic thing to do — something to further the cause of helping to get drunk drivers off the road."

The past two years have been hectic, but Lee Landes finds it deeply satisfying work.

"The people who have been saved will never know who they are," Landes said. "It helps because it means (George's death) was not in vain... so it can help other people."

THERE'S A TOUCH of irony in Greenstein's candidacy.

In his prior (and only other) bid for district judge in 1970, Greenstein lost to none other than his "hero," Judge Davis.

Just 29 years of age at the time, Greenstein said he ran only because "Canton's city fathers" wanted very much to be represented in the local judicial system.

"Canton only had 6,000 residents, and Plymouth was the big town. I said loudly and publicly Dunbar Davis was the man I was going to vote for," Greenstein said.

"He was eminently more qualified than myself. I would never run myself if he wasn't retiring. He's my ideal of a judge. I love the guy. If I could be half as kind, half as tolerant and as fair as Dunbar Davis, I would consider myself a success."

Bids on station sought

The current budget includes provisions for hiring up to nine civilians to operate a new, central joint dispatch system to handle both police and fire calls. Each unit now does its own dispatching, but officials believe a civilian dispatch is cheaper and would free up officers for other duties.

The new dispatch system was pegged to go into effect with the opening of the new police station. Originally, plans called for a new station to be finished by the end of this year. If a new building isn't constructed, major renovation will have to be done on the existing facility.

Supervisor James Poole wants another study to determine whether the township needs a much larger facility. The cost of such a study is estimated at $15,000.

WHILE LARSON said he believes senior-citizen housing is an issue local politicians "should stay out of, I had hoped to see the bid go to the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints." A facility run by that organization in Independence, Mo. "was one of the finest I've ever seen operated," he said.

Housing plan advances

Trustee Robert Padgett wanted to know Carroll's opinion of which sponsor was best able to promptly construct a facility on the property. Carroll's answer was National Church Residences.

The proposal is to be reviewed by the HUD staff in Detroit, Chicago, and Washington D.C. before a decision is announced, Carroll said.

Supervisor James Poole says 500 or more seniors will seek occupancy in the apartment.

THE PEOPLE who have been saved will never know who they are," Landes said. "It helps because it means (George's death) was not in vain... so it can help other people."

Blues say new program will cut costs

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan (BCBSM) says its new cost-containment program could help Chrysler Corp. save more than $2 million yearly by reducing unnecessary hospital stays.

The new program can accurately analyze at a faster rate than ever before the thousands of claims generated by BCBSM members at a major customer like Chrysler," said Robert H. Reveley, BCBSM vice president for health care affairs.

The new program is called ASSURE — A Selective Strategy for Utilization Review Effectiveness. Chrysler and the UAW, on behalf of its hourly employees, are the first to make use of it.

WALTER MAHER, director of employee benefits and health services for Chrysler, said: "This new program blends two important ingredients. It helps slow down the growth rate of health-care costs without sacrificing the quality of care."

Student can't stump the Stroller

"Of course," he said, "Plymouth, England is only about 600-years-old. Before that it was known as Sutton and that was a combination of South Town. And that's the history of that section of southwest England that has furnished us with our name here in Michigan."

There was a connection with the place when it was known as Sutton. For, here in Michigan, we have Sutton's Bay up in the area above Traverse City, and a likeable place that is, too.

But Starweather still had more to say later on. When plans were being made for the centennial in 1967, he took the trouble to find out that there were 17 cities in the United States named Plymouth and he personally invited each of them to spend the week in Michigan. None of them came, but we did have a visitor from Plymouth, New Zealand.

Well, that was the story of Plymouth and the young lad on the other end of the line seemed well pleased that he got the help he wanted. But really, it was Starweather's explanation that provided the answer.

As he answered the young lad's question, The Stroller got to thinking that he never heard another place with the name of his hometown of Catasauqua, Pa.

We were taught in school that Catasauqua is the Indian name for Clear water and we had a lot of it. There was the Lehigh River and the canal that carried coal from the mines to the Delaware River. And across the Lehigh River was Hokendauqua, which means running water.

The study of the small towns in America and how they got their names is most interesting and a good way to spend leisure time. The Stroller is indebted to the young voice over the phone who asked, "How did Plymouth get its name?"

Miraculous recoveries, discovery

Isn't it strange how a 9-year-old boy who's terribly sick with a dreaded head cold on Thursday and Friday can miraculously recover on Saturday morning?

If I were the suspicious type, I might be inclined to think that his cold was aided by a little dramatic embellishment in order to miss a couple of days of school. Granted, you can't fake a fever, and he did have a slight one, but he was feeling well enough during his first day of recovery to build a "fort" out of blankets that covered over half of the living room.

school early the next morning it seems he had suffered a relapse. He did a virtual cacophony of very loud sniffing and snoring along with an assortment of moans and groans to assure me of his suffering.

I let him stay home.

No, I'm not really that glibble — he still had a slight fever. Though I must confess that I didn't actually stay in the room with him while waiting for the thermometer to register. I wonder if he's ever heard of the old "lightbulb technique"?

That evening he and his brother had a great time destroying the fort and the living room. He was showing very definite signs of improvement — which is more than I can say for the living room.

Other than demands for more juice or Vernor's brought to him about every half hour, he was fairly sedate throughout the day. And his temperature was higher. I knew I had done right in keeping him home.

Saturday morning he was up, dressed and rarin' to go! "I'm well, Mom! I know it's hard to believe, but I'm really well! Can I go out now?"

But when I went to wake him for

JOINT INFLAMMATION

Joint inflammation begins when an irritant either enters or develops in the joint. The body reacts to this unwanted occupant with a series of counter-measures that are similar to what happens when a splinter lodges under your skin.

The pain you feel is the result of nerve endings in the joint being bathed by noxious substances that are generated in the inflammatory process. Additional pain occurs because the joint capsule is distended by extra fluid entering the irritated area. Your doctor can diagnose your problem as inflammation because the involved joints are red, hot, swollen, tender and have lost their usual capabilities to move.

Drugs that are labeled "anti-inflammatory" fit into a group of pharmaceutical products designed to stop the cascade of events that lead to joint pain and impairment. Aspirin is the best known and most widely used of these drugs. In fact one of the drug industry's most significant advances in anti-inflammatory therapy is its development of methods to give large amounts of aspirin in a safe and simple manner.

EASY, OLD-FASHIONED WINTER ENTERTAINING

Winter's cold days and even frostier nights offer the perfect occasion to invite family and good friends to your home for an old-fashioned, heartwarming dinner party.

Now is your chance to prepare several hearty dishes, all guaranteed to stir your guests' fondest childhood memories of great family dinners at their grandmother's home.

The key to a successful old-fashioned dinner party is simple: serve dishes you can prepare in advance, leaving you free to enjoy your guests before dinner and make them feel very much at home.

Here's a simple, yet elegant menu that will allow you that important pre-dinner time to catch-up on what's new in your guests' lives.

The Cornish Hens and Pilaf recipes given here are ideal: a very simple glaze — just DeKuyper Hazelnut Liqueur — is applied to the hens which are basted with pan juices during their short cooking time.

Cornish hens are excellent for company. They are portion perfect, elegant to look at and they take no more than 45 minutes to reach the table, making them especially desirable for mid-week affairs.

Just serve a tossed green salad with the hens and pilaf (a savory mixture of currants, herbs, celery, onions and rice).

Dessert can be luxurious, particularly when it can be prepared ahead of time like this superb Hazelnut Eggnog Cheesecake and Cafe Noisette. The Cheesecake is baked in a spring-form pan so the result will be as great to look at as it is delicious to eat. The Cafe Noisette is a sinful blend of DeKuyper Hazelnut Liqueur, DeKuyper Rare Brandy and heavy cream, and will be savored far more than plain coffee.

Other winter entertaining tips:

- * Use a rolling cart in serving. The bottom shelf can be used for dirty dishes while the top holds dessert and utensils.
- * Have a single, prepared drink on the cart when guests arrive. This limits bartending duties and allows you to prepare something really special for them.
- * Instead of tall tapers, use a mass of low votive candles on a lacquer tray for a centerpiece. Different and dramatic.

GLAZED CORNISH HENS WITH PILAF

- |                                    |  |
|------------------------------------|--|
| 4 Cornish hens, about 1 pound each | 2/3 cup DeKuyper hazelnut liqueur, divided |
| Salt and pepper                    | 1 to 2 cups chicken broth, divided         |
| 1 large onion, cut in pieces       | 1 tablespoon cornstarch                    |
| 4 small cloves garlic              |  |

Wash hens inside and out; pat dry. Sprinkle outside and cavity with salt and pepper. Stuff cavity of each hen with onion and garlic. Arrange hens in a shallow roasting pan; brush with 2 tablespoons hazelnut liqueur. Add 1/2 cup broth to roasting pan. Bake in a 350°F oven 45 minutes, or until tender. Baste often with 1/3 cup liqueur and pan drippings. Add 1/2 cup more broth if necessary. Remove hens to serving platter and keep warm. Add remaining 1 cup broth to roasting pan; bring to a boil scraping up brown bits in pan. Combine remaining liqueur (you should have about 1/4 cup) and cornstarch. Stir into mixture in roasting pan; bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Serve with Cornish hens and Pilaf.

YIELD: 4 servings

Spring's coming and so is chili cook-off season

In the spring a young cook's fancy turns to thoughts of cook-offs. For that matter, older cooks fancy cook-offs, too.

This old cook was highly honored by the Michigan Beef Industry Commission when Executive Vice President Patricia W. Scott wrote this year: "I certainly enjoyed your Pilot Light of Dec. 19 (in The Plymouth Observer) when we had an annual State Beef Cook-Off. The date has not been set, but it is usually in the spring. It is held at Michigan State University. We would be pleased if you could judge the entries."

Unfortunately, the particulars couldn't be worked out, but — as I wrote Pat — "I always will relish the invitation."

One cook-off deserves another. "Just finished reading your 'Chili Dilemma' article in the Westland Observer. I just couldn't get my typewriter out fast enough to write you," wrote Joseph Wnuk, coordinator of the Great White North Chili Cooking Team.

"Our goal is to cook our way to fame. We have developed one of the most exciting recipes. We have been cooking a (four-man) team for over a year. All team members have mastered the rules set up by the international Chili Society.

"This year's plans call for our entry in the Great Chili Cook-Off held in Saline, Mich. This event is the so-called big step towards the World Chili Cook-Off this coming fall in California.

"So, as you can see, we are serious about our chili, just as you are. Enclosed you will find a copy of the Le Chili recipe. Right now I am putting the giant cooking pot on the stove. Tonight, we are making your dish, Chili Surprise IV. I'm sure it's going to be a classic."

I don't see how any of my Chili Sur-

- 2 large jalapeno pepper, finely chopped
1 small serrano chili pepper, finely chopped
1 can (28 oz.) whole tomatoes
1 can (28 oz.) crushed tomatoes
1 can (1 lb.) tomato puree
1 can (4 oz.) tomato paste
1 can (32 oz.) tomato juice
1 can (12 oz.) Canadian beer
2 cups spring water
2 tbs. brown sugar
1 tsp. crushed red pepper
1 tsp. chili Pecking, crushed
1 tsp. red chili powder
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 small bay leaf, crushed
- 1 tsp. paprika
1 tsp. basil
3 tbs. cumin seed
2 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
1 tbs. Mexican oregano
1 tsp. black pepper
1 tsp. salt
- In large skillet, brown meat and sausage in peanut oil. In small skillet, fry bacon to golden crisp. Place all in large pot. Saute onion, celery, garlic and peppers in small skillet until tender and add to pot with rest of ingredients. Simmer 3 hours. Makes 6 quarts.

Use sauerkraut in these mini meatballs

This recipe combines some surprising ingredients with the standard ground beef and seasoning. For instance, there's sauerkraut. That tasty and economical food that often makes its appearance as a side dish at dinner. Smart cooks know that sauerkraut is not only delicious, but is also a good source of fiber and Vitamin C, important items in all our diets.

Try this meat ball recipe. It's likely to send friends begging for your "secret of success."

MINI MEAT BALLS
2 cups (16 oz. jar, can or polybag) sauerkraut
1 lb ground beef

1/4 cup diced onion
2 eggs
2 tbs. flour
3/4 cup mashed potatoes
2 tbs. chopped parsley
1 cup bread crumbs
Vegetable oil
Hot mustard sauce

Drain and chop the sauerkraut. Mix well with ground beef, diced onion, eggs, flour, mashed potatoes and parsley. Shape into small balls and roll in bread crumbs. Heat oil in skillet and brown meat balls on all sides. Serve in a chafing dish with mustard sauce for dipping. Makes 20-24 mini meat balls.

This soup is thick, creamy

Soups have long been an outstanding part of the world's cuisines. To a cook, soups can be one of the most versatile components in meal planning. Because of the wide range of ingredients, soups can add their own special flair to any occasion.

Many good cooks like to add the richness of evaporated milk to their creamy soups because it's twice as rich as bottle milk.

If you haven't used evaporated milk in cooking, you may not know that it's actually fresh cow's milk that has been concentrated by the evaporation of half the water.

One-half cup of evaporated milk is equal in nutrients and milk solids to one cup of Vitamin D-enriched milk. Since evaporated milk is concentrated, it may be substituted in recipes calling for light or heavy cream, with fewer calories. When diluted with an equal amount of water, it can replace milk in any recipe.

Try this recipe for a gourmet soup.

Single parents find support in numbers

Group activities fill needs of adults, kids

By Richard Lech
staff writer

Individuals going through a divorce sometimes feel as though they are on a sinking ship. But some single parents have found a "lifeboat" to carry them over the shock waves that follow their marriage's demise, a group called Parents Without Partners (PWP). In PWP, they find that talking to someone who's in the same boat can help.

"I reached a point where I couldn't get any more support from my family, friends and neighbors because they didn't understand what I was going through," said Chris Germain of Garden City, a member of the Livonia-Redford PWP Chapter No. 130.

"When you're raising a family, you can't stop and say, 'Leave me alone for awhile while I get my act together,'" For Germain and others like her, PWP has provided that chance to sort out their lives with people who understand because they're going through the same painful process. Through the group's social, support and educational activities, single parents can learn to cope, members said.

"Getting out and meeting people and realizing you're not alone, I think, is one of the main functions of Parents Without Partners," said Wendell Welper of Livonia, another member of the Livonia-Redford chapter.

PWP INC. is an international non-profit organization open to persons who are single parents, whether through divorce, separation or death.

Parents who never have been married also may join. Founded in 1956, the national organization has nearly a quarter of a million members nationwide.

The group's stated goal is to look after the welfare of single parents and their children, so the children "have the same prospects for normal adulthood as children who mature with their two parents together."

In this area, single parents interested in PWP may make contact with the Plymouth-Canton chapter of Parents Without Partners. The group will be having its next regular meeting at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Local 900 UAW Hall on Michigan Ave. just east of I-275 in Canton Township. After the meeting, there will be dancing until 1 a.m. All single parents are welcome. For information, phone 453-7187.

Two other chapters in the area are the Wayne-Westland No. 340 and Garden City-Dearborn Heights No. 1236.

Wayne-Westland meets at Westworld, Merriman north of Warren Road, Westland, on the first and third Tuesdays of the month. Call 453-3392 for information.

Garden City-Dearborn Heights meets at Roma's of Garden City, 32550 Cherry Hill, on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month. The phone number is 277-8229.

The Livonia-Redford chapter has 650 members from Livonia, Redford, Farmington, Southfield, Westland, Wayne, Garden City and Dearborn Heights. Divorced men and women make up most of the membership, newly elected chapter president Sharon

"You've joined PWP shortly after you've gone through a negative experience. You're using it as a resource tool. Maybe you're very skeptical about jumping into a permanent relationship."
— Sharon Jones

"They're very concerned people, and they care about other members of the chapter. They don't mind listening. It's not a chore."
— Chris Germain

"Getting out and meeting people and realizing you're not alone, I think, is one of the main functions of Parents Without Partners."
— Wendell Welper

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Jones of Detroit said.

The chapter offers a wide range of activities for parents with their kids as well as for parents alone and kids alone.

The list of activities includes speakers of interest to single parents, athletic activities such as bowling or softball, family dances, picnics, family educational trips to such places as Cranbrook or the Detroit Institute of Arts, and twice-a-week discussion groups in which single parents meet just to discuss their problems.

"They're very concerned people, and they care about other members of the chapter," Germain said of chapter members. "They don't mind listening. It's not a chore. They're here to help each other."

Welper urges prospective members to "shop around" before settling on a chapter.

"Each chapter is unique. Each almost has a personality of its own," Welper said.

Some chapters have generally an older membership, some a younger membership. Some are oriented toward sports. Livonia-Redford members said their chapter has quite a few outdoor activities, such as canoe and skiing trips.

PWP members find themselves doing things they never would have done with their families on their own — and even doing more things than they did when married.

"Sometimes the various activities make you comfortable because you can go places you'd never go on your own," Germain said. "My children and I would have never gone camping by ourselves or even gone to downtown Detroit for an event."

"One of the things the children enjoy so much is many of their friends in two-parent families don't seem to have the abundance of activities we have,"

Jones said. "There is much more than we had as family when I was married."

THE FAMILY activities allow children from single-family homes to see role models of both sexes.

"They see adults reacting in a more normal way, as opposed to the tension that might have existed before," Jones said.

PWP gives fathers something to do with their children when they have custody for the weekend. And, since PWP subsidizes some activities' costs — sometimes picking up anywhere from one-half to all of the ticket costs, for instance — divorced parents who might find themselves in a financial bind can afford to take their children out.

The chapter's teen club allows children from single-parent homes to meet kids their age with whom they have something in common.

"You've joined PWP shortly after you've gone through a negative experience," Jones said. "You're using it as a resource tool. Maybe you're very skeptical about jumping into a permanent relationship."

ANYONE INTERESTED in joining the Livonia-Redford PWP chapter may attend the next general meeting, Wednesday, March 28. The general meeting usually features a speaker, followed by a social hour.

The group meets the second and fourth Wednesday of every month at Bonnie Brook Country Club, Telegraph south of Eight Mile, Detroit.

People who do not wish to join at once may get a 21-day courtesy card that allows them to attend chapter activities.

Membership dues are $20 per year. For more information, call the chapter at 937-8147. Or call the PWP national hotline at 1-800-638-8078.

Learn to rely on self, says PWP president

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

Donnie Mallett, married twice, knows well one of the worst parts of being single. She felt the pain of it when her teen-age son died.

Mallett's voice generally crackles with take-charge assertiveness. But now, remembering her son and his accident, her voice grows soft and distant.

"I would have to say the worst part of being single is having nobody to share intimately life's experiences with," said Mallett, a Novi resident and the international president of Parents Without Partners Inc.

"I lost my son and I was a friendly enemy to the man who had shared in the elation of his birth. We did reach out during the funeral, but it was a momentary feeling. I had to go through the grief alone."

"Children play a complex part in your life and when the child is taken, you need to work the grief out with the person you shared the birth with. But my husband had remarried and it was difficult for me to handle."

So difficult, in fact, that Mallett began to feel singled out as a special recipient of life's disasters — two divorces and now a son's death. But from all her grief and soul searching came a woman who learned how to cope and survive on her own.

"I felt singled out, but now I know that they were all just incidents in living life — births, divorces, deaths are all profound events," she said. "Some people may go through them all. Eventually, we'll all wind up alone. It is unusual for two married people to die together. Divorce helps us to learn a lot about what life is going to be like. The earlier we learn how to handle it, the better."

"You can't lose enthusiasm and you can't wallow. When you get knocked on the floor, you look under the rug and find things there to build on. When you get thrown curves, you make them into opportunities."

CLIMBING UP the Parents Without Partners ladder locally and then becoming international president (she recently was re-elected to the position) have been opportunities tailor made for Mallett's resourceful, independent spirit. She now spends some 35-40 weekends each year talking to single parents all across the country. And she knows what's bugging them, what's keeping them from enjoying their single-ness.

All of her words of wisdom — and, as a ready talker, she has many — for successful singlehood can be boiled down into two key phrases: Learn to rely on your own resources. Be your own best friend.

Some adults, Mallett said, readily adapt to being single and living alone. Others look upon singlehood as simply a way station on the road to marriage.

She put many men and too few women in the first group. Her theory is that most men learn at an early age to be self-reliant, to rely on themselves. Boys grow up being told they are bright, capable and strong and, in the process, become confident.

Parents Without Partners' family activities allow children from single-parent homes to get to know each other. Working on a leathercraft project are Ken (left) and Christine Germain of Garden City, Thomas LeRoy of Dearborn Heights, Beth Jones of Detroit, and Carrie Germain of Garden City.

Rocks wilt under Prospector press

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Those who came to EMU's Bowen Fieldhouse Saturday night expecting a slaughter went away very surprised, if not disappointed.

No, Plymouth Salem did not upset Detroit Southwestern in the state Class A regional basketball championship. But the Rocks gave the mighty Prospectors all they wanted for the better part of 20 minutes.

Southwestern and the Rocks were tied at 31, two minutes into the third quarter. That's when the Prospector pressure, which was applied throughout the contest, finally got to the Rocks.

Southwestern reeled off 10 unanswered points in a two-minute span and went on to beat the Rocks, 67-56.

Southwestern led by as many as 24 points in the final quarter. Salem scored the last 13 points of the game, seven by Mike White, to make the final score respectable — as it deserved to be.

"I thought for 16-17 minutes we were right there," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "But they made that little run in the first couple minutes of the second half and really put us in a bind."

Southwestern (24-1) gave the Rocks trouble all night with a menacing full-court press. The press forced 29 Rock turnovers, 16 in the second half. Those second-half turnovers resulted in 19 Prospector points.

"I think it was just a matter of us wearing them down," said Southwestern coach Perry Watson. "We play more people than they do and the fatigue factor set in. Once that happens, you start making turnovers and missing shots."

There were no visible signs of Rock fatigue in the first half. Led by seniors Rick Berberet and Erich Hartnett, the Rocks played what may have been their best half of the season.

They trailed by two after a quarter, but LeSean Haygood threw down a monster dunk and converted the three-point play to put the Rocks ahead, 16-15.

After Berberet hit Hartnett with a dazzling behind-the-back pass, Salem led by three and the crowd of some 1,750 people was buzzing.

Southwestern rallied to take a 31-27 lead by the half, but the Rocks were very much in the ballgame.

"What we didn't want," Thomann said, "was to have people saying 'What are they doing here.' We wanted to have an opportunity to win the game, and if we couldn't do that, we wanted to keep playing and testing them. And I think we did that tonight."

Salem shot a torrid 61 percent from the floor in the first half, then cooled to a frosty 38 percent in the second half.

The crowning blow was dealt the Rocks with 45 seconds left in the third quarter. Hartnett, who had scored 11 points, fouled out. Without Hartnett, the Rocks had great difficulty getting the ball up court.

Another negative statistic: Southwestern outrebounded the Rocks 41-31.

Berberet, after a sub-par game last Thursday, played one of his best. He scored 12 points, grabbed six rebounds and dished out four assists.

Scott Jurek and Mike White added nine apiece. Haygood scored seven points and grabbed six rebounds.

Clarence Jones scored 26 points and grabbed 11 rebounds for the Prospectors. Chauncey Scott, Johnny Slater and Johnny Johnson each tallied 10 points for Southwestern.

The final analysis: Southwestern had too much speed and too many bodies for the Rocks to contend with. But when it was all said and done, the Rocks earned the praise of those who saw them play.

"Fred (Thomann) is one of the best coaches in the state," said Watson. "His kids came ready to play. They really got it up in that first half."

The Prospectors will take on Kalamazoo Central in the state quarterfinals. Salem's season comes to a close. The Rocks finish with a 20-4 record.

Arnold, Hartnett save Rocks

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Maybe it was the unfamiliar confines of Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Fieldhouse. Maybe it was the pressure of a state Class A regional basketball tournament.

Maybe it was because the winner knew it would have to play powerful Detroit Southwestern two days later.

Whatever, it seemed that neither Plymouth Salem nor Taylor Truman wanted to win the contest played Thursday night before a crowd of about 1,000 fans, most of whom were cheering for Truman.

Both teams played sluggish and sloppy. Both teams shot poorly.

Thanks to the play of seniors Erich Hartnett and Jeff Arnold, the Rocks were able to edge the Cougars 50-41 and advance into the regional championship game against Southwestern.

"I THOUGHT we were real sluggish tonight," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We did not deal with their pressure well at all. It took us a long, long time to get into our offensive flow. Even when we did beat their pressure, there wasn't much flow. It was a struggle to score for both teams."

The Rocks (20-3) trailed by one after a quarter, then went stone cold in the second quarter. They hit just three of 12 shots from the floor and committed four turnovers. At one stretch the Rocks went eight possessions, nearly six full minutes, without scoring a point. Miraculously enough, they trailed by just a point with 28 seconds left in the half.

Truman, however, scored four points in those final 28 seconds to take a 25-20 lead into the lockerroom. It may have been the worst quarter of basketball the Rocks had played and Thomann was not pleased.

State champ energizes All-Area team

By Rich Swenson
staff writer

THE 1984 All-Area swim team may be the most talented contingent Observerland has ever produced. The team even has a state champion.

Led by North Farmington junior Brian Goins, who was crowned state champion in the 100-yard butterfly, the area boasts an unusually strong group of swimmers this year, proving once again that it can compete with the best in the state.

After coming within .15 of a second of breaking the state record in the butterfly in his winning effort (51.43), Goins showed his versatility by taking a respectable ninth in the 100-backstroke (55.44).

He also anchored North Farmington's successful 400-freestyle relay team, which finished eighth in the state.

"Brian is a very hard worker," North Farmington coach Pat Duthie said. "He is an outstanding competitor with a burning desire to meet his goals."

Area coaches met recently to select this year's most talented swimmers. Swimmers are restricted to one event (with the exception of relays).

The coaches also chose five swimmers in an at-large category, honoring top performers for their versatility.

FIRST TEAM

Erik Kleinsmith, Plymouth Salem, 200 freestyle: The hard-working senior captained Salem to its second-straight Western Lakes Activities Conference championship, winning three events at the league meet.

Kleinsmith took first-place honors in the 100 and 200 freestyles and was a member of the winning 400-freestyle relay team. He posted a league record in the 100 free.

He set a team record in the 100 free this season and finished 10th in the state at that distance.

Kleinsmith and his teammates also set a school record in the 400-freestyle relay, placing a respectable 12th in the state.

"Erik has come on to be one of the most talented swimmers in the history of Plymouth Salem swimming," coach Chuck Olson said.

Alec Campbell, Farmington, 200 IM: The multi-talented senior finished his career at Farmington holding seven school, five pool and three league records.

Farmington's team captain, Campbell won two events in the league meet.

His outstanding times in the 100-butterfly (52.57), 200-IM (2:00.57) and 400-freestyle relay (3:19.91) set Western Lakes league records.

all-area swimming

"Alec is a very hard worker and a fantastic team leader," Farmington coach Greg Phill said. "I honestly believe Alec made my other swimmers faster."

Kurt Hein, Livonia Stevenson, 50 freestyle: The senior was 11th in the state in the 50 freestyle with a clocking of 22.4.

He bettered that mark in the Western Lakes league meet, winning with a time of 22.1 to set a league and school record.

He was also a member of the league's best 200-medley relay team, breaking the record with a time of 1:40.21.

Hein established a new school record in the 100 butterfly this season, posting a 52.9.

"I will miss Kurt a lot," Stevenson coach Doug Buckler said. "He has been one of the nicest guys I've ever coached. He's the guy you could always depend on."

Vic Valente, Livonia Churchill, diving: The junior standout finished 33rd at the state championships and fifth in the Class A regional.

The Western Lakes champ won 11 of 12 dual meets this season, setting a league record with 381.55 points on 11 dives in the league meet.

Valente also established a new varsity record at Churchill, accumulating 252.50 points in six dives.

Brian Goins, North Farmington, 100 butterfly: Added to his achievements at the state championships, Goins broke school records this season in both the 100 butterfly and 100 backstroke. He was the NSL's first-place finisher in both events.

Goins also won the 100 butterfly in the Oakland County Championships earlier this season, setting a new meet record with a time of 52.63.

He combined with his teammates in establishing a new school record in the 200 IM. The team also captured first place in the league meet.

Scott Sargent, Livonia Bentley, 100 freestyle: Sargent placed 11th at state in the 100 freestyle with a time of 48.78.

The senior co-captain just missed school records this season in the 100 freestyle and 100 butterfly this season.

He finished second in the Western Lakes in the 100 freestyle (49.02) and fifth in the 50 freestyle (22.76).

"He's a hard worker — highly motivated and a great leader," Bentley coach Dave Giandelletti said. "He only started swimming as a freshman. He's very aggressive and won't let anything get in his way."

Mike Tumey, North Farmington, 500 freestyle: Only a freshman, Tumey shattered the NSL league record in the 500 freestyle, capturing first place with a time of 4:52.1.

He was also victorious in the 200 freestyle, posting a time of 1:48.7, qualifying him for the state championships in both events.

"Mike is very talented," North Farmington coach Pat Duthie said. "He is an excellent racer and competitor."

Kevin Everhart, Livonia Stevenson, 100 backstroke: Everhart was last year's All-Area selection in the backstroke.

The junior has been even more impressive this season, setting league and school records in the 100 backstroke (57.5) and anchoring the 200-medley relay (1:40.21).

"Kevin has been our captain the last two years," coach Buckler said. "He's a great swimmer and a fine young man. He's a fine student also. I'm looking forward to coaching him next year."

Eric Hutchison, Livonia Churchill, 100 breaststroke: The junior placed first at the Western Lakes championships in the 100 breaststroke and placed 12th at state.

He was also a member of the Charger's record-setting medley-relay team.

During the season, Hutchison recorded a varsity record in the 100 breaststroke (1:01.92) and a Churchill pool record in the same event (1:02.9).

"Eric is a very hard worker who enjoys swimming," Churchill coach Manse Tian said. "He has the desire to achieve his goals."

AT-LARGE

Scott Anderson, Plymouth Salem: Team captain Anderson was instrumental in leading Salem to the Western Lakes Conference title this season.

He qualified for state in the 100freestyle (49.88) and was a member of the qualifying 400-freestyle-relay team in both 1983 and 1984.

The relay team placed 12th in the state in 1983.

"Scott made every effort necessary to win the conference championship and led Salem to its area ranking as the number one team," coach Olson said.

Bob Bowling, Plymouth Salem: The senior is Salem's record holder in the 50 freestyle (22.25). He finished 12th at state in the event and second in the Western Lakes championships. "Bob has proven on the state level that he's one of the finest sprinters in the area," coach Olson said.

Fred Courville, Farmington: The senior captain holds two school and two pool records. He placed in the top six in two events in the Western Lakes finals, and was a member of the winning 400-freestyle relay, which established a new league record.

His best times in the 50 and 100 freestyle were 22.5 and 50.25, respectively. "He's a very nice and coachable young man," coach Phill said. "He's a good team leader."

John Kovach, Redford Catholic Central: The talented freshman was a double winner in the Catholic League conference meet.

He qualified for three events at state, including the 100 (49.2) and 200 freestyles (1:49.8), and the 100 butterfly (55.3).

Kovach also had an impressive 4:59.7 clocking this season in the 500 freestyle.

"He's the greatest freshman swimmer I've ever had," CC coach De Loris Yager said.

Brian Pawlowicz, Westland John Glenn: Pawlowicz posted second-place finishes in both the 200 (1:49.1) and 500 freestyles (4:52.22) at the NSL league meet this year.

The senior holds the school record in the 100 butterfly (56.6) and is a member of the school's best medley-relay team ever (1:44.5). A candidate for the Air Force Academy upon graduation, Pawlowicz is a fine student as well as athlete.

"He's an outstanding kid in every way — in leadership, ability and coachability," Glenn coach Larry McConnell said.

RELAYS

Kevin Everhart, Kurt Hein, Steve Taormina, Dennis Ward, Livonia Stevenson, 200 medley: This speedy group is made up of two All-Area selections in Everhart and Hein and two solid performers in Taormina and Ward.

Taormina, who is just a freshman, took a fourth in the 100 and a fifth in the breaststroke at the Western Lakes finals.

"Steve is going to be a great swimmer," Buckler said. "He's a lot of fun to train, and I'm looking forward to training him in the next three years."

Ward, a sophomore, placed seventh in the 50 freestyle at the league meet and sixth in the 100 freestyle.

"This is his first year swimming, and he has great potential," Buckler said. "He works hard and is a team swimmer. We're looking for big things from him next year."

Mike Buatti, Craig Burland, Rob Lynch, Brian Goins, North Farmington, 400 freestyle: This talented foursome, comprised of two sophomores, a junior and a senior, placed eighth in the state with a clocking of 3:18.11.

"This also combined to break the school record, which had held fast for 11 years."

Rocks struggle but top Truman

"I was very angry," he said. "I was angry that we gave up that basket at the end of the half. We talked about that a little bit."

Thomann, apparently talked about a number of things at halftime because it was a much more intense Rock contingent that took the court in the third quarter.

ARNOLD was the catalyst. He drained two jumpers at the start of the quarter to pull Salem within a point. He scored seven of the Rocks' 14 third quarter points. Salem led 34-31 entering the final quarter.

Erich Hartnett (No.20) saved the day for the Rocks Thursday.

The final eight minutes belonged to Hartnett. With Highland Park Community College coach Glen Donahue and Schoolcraft coach Rocky Watkins watching with interest, the shifty 6-foot-2 guard poured in 10 points to help tie the win for Salem.

"He can play," said Vernon Carr, one of the stars on the Highland Park team. "Coach always asks my opinion of the people he scouts. If I don't like 'em, I won't go talk to 'em. I like Hartnett, he can play."

Said Watkins: "We'd love to have Hartnett."

Hartnett finished with a game-high 17 points and played outstanding defense on Truman's top scorer Derrick Glenn, holding him to just 10 points. Hartnett grabbed seven rebounds, tied with Scott Jurek for the team leadership, and made two steals.

ARNOLD scored 15 points and made three big fourth-quarter steals to thwart Truman's comeback bid.

Truman, which finished the season with a 12-8 record, got 10 points from Glenn, Robert Hunter and Todd Johnson.

As bad as it was, shooting just 34 percent and getting out rebounded by a smaller team, Thomann will take the win. It's a hump his teams have had trouble getting over. They have been ousted the past two seasons in regional openers.

Two years ago, Salem was ousted by Southwestern and Antoine Joubert in the regional opener. They have earned another shot.

"We wanted to be here. The players wanted to play in this type of game and we wanted to coach in it. We've got to be the right spot," Thomann said.
