The Canton Connection

HOW DOES your garden grow? If it was among the nearly 250 gardens Canton residents planted annually in the community plot at Warren and Lilley roads, it may not grow at all this year. According to Canton Supervisor James Poole, the 18 acres of land farmed over the past eight years or so were donated for community use by the landowners. "But this year the owners have decided to build on the land," Poole said. "And we have no control over it." With plowing time just around the bend, Poole said he has contacted the Plymouth-Canton School District and Michigan State University about allowing vacant properties they own along Canton Center Road to be used for community gardens this year. No word from the educational bodies as yet.

FLAPPING in the breeze around Canton Township Hall these days is a new flag. State Senator Robert Geake recently presented the township with a State of Michigan flag. Geake credited the generosity of Lloyd Johnson of Whitehall Convalescent Home in Novi for making the gift of the flag possible.

VOLUNTEERS for the American Cancer Society will be knocking on Canton doors for about a month beginning April 28. As part of the society's annual crusade, volunteers will distribute "life-saving information" and collect donations for the society's research, education and patient-service programs.

CANDY IS dandy for putting into Easter baskets — especially when the candy is homemade. For those in need of a lesson in making candy, the Canton Public Library is sponsoring one 7-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 2, at the library, 1150 S. Canton Center Road. The class, open to adults only, will be taught by Iva Levangie, owner of the Cake Depot on Warren Road in Canton. She will instruct students in how to prepare molded and filled chocolates. Further information on the program may be obtained by calling 397-0999.

SPEAKING OF Easter, children up to 10 years old will want to be reminded about the Canton Parks and Recreation Department's annual Easter Egg Hunt, scheduled this year for 10 a.m. Saturday, April 21, at Griffin Park. Children will be divided into three age groups (4 and under, 5-7 and 8-10) and allowed to search the grounds for candy and special prize eggs. Parking is limited and carpooling is suggested. Further information may be obtained by calling 397-1000.

VISUALLY IMPAIRED consumers now are able to obtain brochures in large print from the Michigan Consumers Council. Included are "Michigan Consumer Protection Act," "How to Sue Someone in Small Claims Court," "What to Do When You Can't Pay Your Bills," "How to Complain," "How to Review and Appeal Your Property Tax Assessment," "Complaint Referral Guide" and "How to Buy a Used Car." The large-print brochures, as well as all other information materials, are available at no charge. They can be obtained by writing Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan, Lansing, MI 48933 or by calling 517-373-0947.

Landfill dispute finally settled

By Dan Vecchioni
staff writer

A longstanding dispute between Canton Township and the operators of a local landfill was resolved last week when the two sides agreed to a consent judgment that provides each with some concessions.

Under the agreement, Michigan Waste System will be permitted to continue operating the Woodland Meadows Landfill, which it opened in 1983 despite opposition from the township.

The township, meanwhile, will receive a $250,000 lump-sum payment from Waste System, assurance that the landfill will never be used for hazardous waste disposal, up to $15,000 in assistance in constructing a bicycle motor-cross (BMX) race course and eventual control of the historic Hasselbach homestead.

The consent judgment was reached last Tuesday and will take effect as soon as it is entered in the Michigan Court of Appeals, where the two parties have carried their dispute.

THE AGREEMENT was described as "very good for Canton" by both township attorney Dave Berry, who recommended the compromise, and the township's director of planning, James Kosteva.

"It was quite a satisfactory agreement from the township's point of view especially when you consider that our chances of closing the landfill were very slim," Kosteva said. "Our backs were to the wall. But we gained some compensation and hopefully reduced the potential for long-term environmental degradation."

He said that the township's case was hampered by the fact the landfill already was in operation, a circuit court judge had ruled against the township, and the state and county had usurped local control of landfill operations.

The 102-acre landfill, located south of the Conrail railroad tracks near Hannan Road in Canton's southeast corner, first came to the attention of the township in late 1981 when Waste System applied for a permit for it.

At the time, Kosteva said, Waste System operated a landfill north of the Conrail tracks that received both municipal and hazardous wastes. In their permit application, Waste System pro-

Culinary competition heats up

By Sandra Armbruster
staff writer

Are you hungry for some petits fours or petits gâteaux? Or could you go for an hors d'oeuvre, like maybe a galantine? Rather have something more substantial? Then try some Canton Farci.

If you're not sure whether to eat or wear those things, don't feel bad. But if you're the parent of a student in the culinary arts program at the William D. Ford Vocational Technical Center in Westland, you'll relish knowing that those items will be among the selections prepared for the annual Culinary Arts Salon sponsored by the Michigan Restaurant Association through Tuesday at Cobo Hall.

This year's salon will find 13 students with 15 entries in the competition from the Wayne-Westland program, which includes students from Canton Township.

Last year 13 out of 15 students won medals, and two students went on to compete in a national salon in Chicago. Competing against other high school and college students, Wayne-Westland brought back a bronze medal, one of the few high schools to bring back a medal.

Dirt-road spraying to resume

By Dan Vecchioni

The Wayne County Road Commission is expected to treat Canton Township's dirt and gravel roads with dust retardant this year.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas's office confirmed last week that a decision has been made and money appropriated for spreading dust palliative chloride on unpaved roads in 1984.

"Canton has been scheduled for chloride treatment this year," said Michael Conway, a spokesman in the county executive's office. "No date has been set yet (for the first application), but they will be chlorided when they get dusty."

The county, however, is not assuring that all 37 miles of unpaved Canton roads will be sprayed. According to Conroy, the county "will handle roads they've handled in the past. Some roads the county doesn't consider their responsibility. They'll try to reach an agreement with the township on them."

IN SPITE of the decision, Canton officials said they have yet to receive written notification from the county that the year-old dispute over who should maintain the unpaved roads has been resolved.

"I've heard the county will go back to chloriding the roads but I haven't got it in print yet," said township Clerk John Flodin. "I requested a letter (of confirmation) but I have not received it."

"I've been told the decision has been made and the roads will be chlorided at county expense," said Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack.

"As far as I'm concerned, the issue is settled. Now it's just a matter of following through. We should not experience the problem we had the last year or two."

Last year, unpaved roads in Canton and other townships in Wayne County were not maintained and nine county townships, including Canton, sued in an attempt to force the road commission to treat the roads.

THE COUNTY, which had been spraying the roads since 1951, tried to charge the townships for the chloride treatment. A Wayne County Circuit Court judge, however, ordered the county to continue maintaining the roads as it has done "historically."

While the road commission's appeal of the court ruling still is pending, the county's decision to resume the chloride program has been attributed to

Needle is found in bread loaf

A Canton Township woman discovered a needle in a loaf of bread while making sandwiches for her family last week.

The woman, who reported the incident to Canton police on March 25, said she had purchased the loaf of Wonder bread from Kroger supermarket on March 20 and had used up most of the loaf when she found the needle in one of the slices.

"We are unable to determine where the needle originated," Canton police Sgt. Alex Wilson said.

Wilson said the needle did not contain any scorch marks, indicating it probably was inserted sometime after the bread was baked. He also said the bread company told him it passes all of its baked goods through a metal detector.

"Right now it's an isolated incident," Wilson said. "There's nothing we can

Ex-supervisor wants job back

Harold Stein, Canton supervisor 1976-78, has announced his candidacy for Canton's top job.

Stein, 52, will run on the Democratic ticket in the August primary, and if successful, challenge a Republican in November's general election. Thus far, only one other office seeker has expressed interest in the supervisor's seat — John Barnette of John & Dude's Towing Service.

Republican Supervisor James Poole has said he is still undecided about running for re-election.

Stein's last bid for office came in 1978, when Noel Culbert bested the field in the supervisor's race.

A 20-year Canton resident and father of four, Stein has been employed in construction and engineering for most of his career. After working in the 1950s for Brender-Hamill, a Plymouth area consulting engineering firm, Stein went to work for general contractors and established his own contracting business in which he worked 1959-1975. He launched a retail business in Westland in 1968. Stein said he has gained bargaining experience representing both labor and management.

"I'VE GOT TO let people know I'm serious — that's my reason for coming forward now," said Stein.

"I would hope by being able to listen to each particular (faction) of the community, all sides could attempt to compromise. Among all departments, business and government there has to be some compromise to attain some goals."

The candidate's aims include:

- "Uniting residents, business, and government for a better community."
- Working to improve roads — "I'm hoping new changes in the Wayne County charter, and as (county executive) Mr. (William) Lucas has already promised, cooperation with municipalities, will allow some new criteria for design that will not be so restrictive on these communities," Stein said.

Tigers must come through to preserve pastime

In a few more hours the cry "play ball" will be heard across the nation. The cry will mean that the major leagues are swinging into action. The Tigers will be in Minnesota and the race will be on.

was at its peak. But none of that compared with baseball. In those days every little town and hamlet in the nation had a baseball team. And the small town rivalries were a thing to behold.

It was colorful all the way. But those parades now are only memories. To make those opening days all the more colorful the President of the United States used to throw out the first ball in the Washington D.C. stadium. That one pitch was the signal for a holiday that had few equals for those who liked sports.

AND WHEN the major leagues opened their season it was a national holiday. When the Tigers opened the parade out Michigan Avenue to Navin Field it was one of the biggest and most colorful parades of the year. Thousands lined Michigan Avenue and the teams — the Tigers and their rivals ing of the stars and stripes. Now they no longer parade. Bill Finzel's band is another memory. Instead they line up along the first and third base lines.

And the home town rivalries are gone, too. They became the victims of radio and television. Folks remained at home to listen or watch the game as it was brought into the living room. Attendance at the minor leagues fell off and they finally gave up. With home town rivalries gone and the minor leagues quitting the scene, baseball now is fighting to retain its claim of being the national pastime.

JUST LOOK at what the Tigers face. For the first time in years there are other high class teams taking the spotlight. The Pistons made the basketball playoffs. The Lions also got into the playoffs.

I find myself in the difficult position of having to put before the public the many facts which your recent article "Board OKs Copying Fee" failed to examine. I have found, most regretfully, that often your newspaper reports what someone says, taking little time to examine the validity or motivations of what is said and done.

umes (each volume containing several years worth of minutes). To access these documents, one needs only to pick up the volume and bring it to the desk. It should involve no searching whatsoever. The other request basically involved bids and contracts with current vendors in the township. It should simply be a matter of pulling these documents from an organized filing system, perhaps demanding 10 to 15 minutes of clerical time.

But this was evidently (according to Clerk John Flodin) not the case. Many of these documents which are required by law to be retained (with fine and/or imprisonment penalties if they are not) were simply "NOT AVAILABLE." Board minutes, from as recent as 1983, were missing. Often contracts were missing such vital information as dates of preparation and signing, almost none were original contracts, some contracts even lacked signatures. In fact I obtained a letter written and installed by the clerk that certain documents had been destroyed, in spite of the fact that they are required to be kept permanently under the Record Retention Act of this state. (Now you imagine what search fees might be charged to an unknowing citizen who requests a document which has been destroyed?)

Aerospace forms 2 groups

Ford Aerospace and Communications Corp. President Henry E. Hockeimer announced an organizational realignment and several new appointments.

Two new organizations have been formed — the Defense Group and the Space Missions Group. "These changes will consolidate our considerable strengths in these areas and streamline our organization to effectively pursue the enormous opportunities in our major businesses over the next few years," Hockeimer said.

EFFECTIVE immediately, the Ford Aerospace Defense Group has been established, incorporating the existing Aeronautic and DIVAD Divisions.

Louis F. Heilig, formerly vice president and general manager, Aeronautic Division, has been named vice president, Defense Group.

Robert O. Case Jr. has been appointed to succeed him as vice president and general manager, Aeronautic Division.

Delbert W. Parsons continues as vice president and general manager, DIVAD Division.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, the Ford Aerospace Space Missions Group has been established to consolidate the corporation's extensive space operations and engineering services activities.

Donn A. Starry, formerly vice president, Missions Analysis and Technical Affairs, has been named vice president and general manager, Space Missions Group.

Included in the Space Missions Group are Ford Aerospace activities that support NASA's space flight centers in Houston and Maryland, the Air Force's satellite tracking network around the world; the North American Air Defense Command's Cheyenne Mountain Complex in Colorado, and various U.S. military ranges.

Students enter mechanics contest

Up to four students from Plymouth Canton High School will take a written examination at Schoolcraft College in the first phase of the Plymouth-AAA Trouble Shooting Contest.

Students from 74 Michigan high schools will compete in the written test, given at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Schoolcraft. The test will be given at the same time at 10 sites across the state.

The two highest scorers from each school will become a team, with the top 10 schools competing in a final hands-on competition May 17 in Dearborn.

Instructors will submit students' names at the time of the testing.

The contest is being held locally this year by Chrysler/Plymouth and the Automobile Club of Michigan.

In the state finals, each team works against the clock to correct problems on similarly "bugged" 1984 Plymouth Turismos. The winning team will advance to the national championship in June in Arlington Stadium near Dallas, Texas.

More than two-thirds of all past participants, or about 28,000 students, have taken full- or part-time jobs as auto service technicians, according to Robert Brent of the Chrysler/Plymouth Dealership Association.

The state contest committee is chaired by Mel-France of the Michigan Department of Education.

SLIMMING Pastabilities AMERICAN-STYLE

Pasta goes American in specialties prepared with domestic pasta and other of our native foods. Right in tune with the emerging American cuisine are pasta favorites that are good to eat, good for you and can be enjoyed with no concern about calories. Surprised there is no worry about calories? If so, it means you are among many who still think of pasta as a fattening food. Let's clear up the misconception! There are only 210 calories in a five ounce portion of cooked pasta... an average-entree serving. It's what you add to the pasta that makes the difference. Skip the usual oil, butter, cream and other calorie-laden add-ons. Concentrate on go with like light sauces (and do sauce lightly), vegetables, poultry, seafood and other foods that keep calories in line.

For example, here are our pasta selections for year round enjoyment. Succulent chicken fricassee with egg noodles appears with a calorie tally of only 400 a serving. A version of beef stew with noodles can be savored with a mere 270 calories per portion. Macaroni and Cheese is one of America's greatest pasta dishes. Waistline watchers will love our recipe which allows you to indulge at only 290 calories. Or make a pasta-vegetable stew. Calories on this one... 340.

When buying pasta, select American-made products processed from durum and/or other high-quality hard wheat. Healthful pasta is an excellent source of complex carbohydrates and offers B vitamins, protein and iron. It is low in fat and sodium.

As you plan slimming menus, choose tea as the appropriate beverage. Dating back to Colonial days, the clean fresh taste of tea is as welcome now as it has been throughout our culinary history. Tea has the happy quality of giving a gentle lift without a later letdown. Especially if you use a good quality tea—a brand you're familiar with rather than a no-name generic. And do brew the tea properly following the simple rules below to make sure you make the best tasting beverage that refreshes and relaxes at the same time.

Take a look at some of our typical Yankee Doodle tea variations. You can travel from Cape Cod to Hawaii in your tea service! How about the Johnny Appleseed version colorfully garnished with a fresh apple wedge... great with the Chicken Fricassee!

CHICKEN FRICASSEE, U.S.A.

(Makes 6 servings)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 broiler fr., cut up
(about 2 3/4 pounds) | 1 cup sliced fresh carrots |
| 1 tablespoon vegetable oil | 1 cup sliced celery |
| 1-1/2 cups chicken stock or broth | 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms |
| 1 cup water | 1/2 cup chopped onion |
| 1 teaspoon salt, optional | 1/2 cup milk |
| 1 teaspoon thyme leaves,
crushed | 8 ounces medium egg noodles
(about 4 cups) |
| 1-8 teaspoon pepper | 1 tablespoon salt, optional |
| 1-1/4 cups cut fresh green beans | 3 quarts boiling water |

Rinse and pat chicken dry; set aside. In large sauce pot, heat oil. Add chicken and cook, turning occasionally, until browned on all sides, 10 to 12 minutes. Pour off drippings. To the pot, add chicken stock, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, thyme and pepper. Cover and heat to boiling. Reduce heat; simmer 20 minutes. Add beans, carrots, celery, mushrooms and onion. Cook about 15 minutes or until chicken and vegetables are tender. With slotted spoon, remove to bowl; cover and keep hot.

Drain off excess fat from drippings in pot. Boil remaining liquid until it is reduced to about 1-1/2 cups. Add milk. Heat to simmering. Remove from heat; keep hot.

While chicken and vegetables are cooking, gradually add noodles and 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Turn noodles onto heated serving platter. Spoon chicken and vegetables on top. Serve with sauce.

THE WOMEN'S Resource Center at Schoolcraft College had its first fundraiser, and it turned out to be something of a Plymouth production.

The dinner-theater benefit in the Waterman Center at Schoolcraft featured a wine glow, a spaghetti dinner, seats of prizes and a one-act play.

The place was packed with a sizable contingent from the Plymouth area on hand. Among the sponsors were Ken and Esther Hulsing, Maurice and Mary Breen, Mary Perna, Virginia Larkin, Mac and Lynn Pierce, Jean Wagner, Richard and Mary Rose Hausman and Beautiful People Hair Forum. Glenn Merrill of Plymouth designed the program and won the grand prize, a microwave oven.

The majority of the prizes were donated by Plymouth merchants. The culinary arts department prepared the dinner: spaghetti, garlic bread, tossed salad, with a wonderful torte for dessert.

The play, "The Chinese Restaurant Syndrome," was presented by the Fourth Street Players, Royal Oak. Cyndy Zeitz, a 1976 graduate of the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park drama department productions, had a lead role in the one-act. Cyndy does publicity for the Birmingham Theater and has been involved in Reader's Theater at the Fourth Street Playhouse.

Players revive 1925 musical 'No, No, Nanette.'

All the glitz, glitter and fun of the musicals of the 1920s will come to the stage of Plymouth Salem High School this weekend when "No, No, Nanette" opens Thursday night for a three-day run.

"Nanette" is a colorful, tap-dancing, romantic romp from New York City to Atlantic City, the playgrounds of the rich. Probably the most familiar song in the show is "Tea for Two." But the audience will be tapping their toes to the other great tunes in the production, "I Want to be Happy," "When the Sea is Calling Me," "The Where Has My Hubby Gone Blues" and "Take a Little One Step."

There are three full sets utilizing art deco to beach towels and more than 300 costumes.

"The last number alone is worth the price of admission. The entire company is in silver lame fringe and black tuxedos," said Gloria Logan, director and producer of the all-school musical. She added that the "tuxedos are the generous service of Valente's Formal Wear of Livonia and Doug Montgomery."

CURTAIN TIME will be 8 p.m. April 5, 6 and 7. The box office opens at 6:15 p.m. show nights. Reserved seats may be available by calling the theater office.

Nanette (Jacqueline Eastman) is leaving town with $200. Her boyfriend Tom (Eric Holland) believes no decent woman has $200. Nanette has had it with everyone always saying, "No, No, Nanette."

DIANA ROSINSKI of Plymouth was one of the winners at the recent State 4-H Youth Rabbit and Cavy Show at Michigan State University. Her entry received best of breed placing in the Polish class. The show, held in conjunction with the Michigan State Rabbit Breeders' Association convention and exhibition, offered competition in more than 169 breed classes, as well as an educational exhibit contest.

"SUGAR AND SPICE and Other Things Nice," Plymouth Canton Panhellenic's luncheon and card party, was a successful scholarship fundraiser. Now Panbel is looking for candidates for the scholarship.

College women interested in applying for these scholarships must be residents of the Plymouth-Canton community or graduates of Plymouth Salem or Plymouth Canton high schools. They must be pledge or active members of a national social sorority on their college or university campus. Those interested in receiving application forms should contact Maret Garard, 453-0998. All applications must be in by May 1.

Elise Mirto, as Lucille Early, tells Jeff Wilson, as husband Billy Early, to go to Atlantic City and have a good time, but don't forget to come back.

Junior juices up All-Observer team

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

THE PROBLEM WITH selecting All-Area teams is that good and perhaps deserving players always get left off. If you scan our second and third teams, and even our honorable mention listing, you will find talented basketball players — players who arguably could have made the first team.

But, if everyone were named to the first team, All-Observerland honors would mean little.

To make second and third team All-Observer is in itself an achievement. To make the first seven, well, it means you are the best around.

The 1984 All-Area team is led by a junior. That seems unusual until you see who that junior is — Catholic Central's John McIntyre. McIntyre was the only unanimous choice to make this team. Not only that, but the intelligent and awesomely skilled young man was a consensus all-stater as well.

Plymouth Salem, Observerland's No. 1 team this past season, is doubly represented on the team with seniors Rick Berberet and Erich Hartnett, co-MVP's for the Rocks this year.

Combined, each player on the first team averaged 18 points and 10 rebounds per game. Those numbers become more impressive when you figure three players are primarily guards and two, Hartnett and Mark Bennett (Plymouth Canton), were their teams' playmakers.

There is no talent shortage on this team.

John McIntyre, junior, Redford Catholic Central: About the best way to describe this 6-3½" guard, without gushing, is to simply say, "He is a player."

CC coach Bernie Holowicki has had some outstanding players come through his program — players like Tom LaGarde, Barry Spencer, Frank Tanana and Tom Zaligarias. Holowicki isn't afraid to say that when McIntyre is done at CC, he will top that list.

"He is one of the most outstanding players ever to wear the blue and white of the Shamrocks. John is an artistic blind-side passer and an excellent long-range shooter — he is also a strong and smart rebounder," Holowicki said.

McIntyre had to do it all for the unusually short-of-talent Shamrocks. He was, truly, a one-man arsenal. He averaged 31 points, 11 rebounds and nine assists game.

If he continues to improve his game, McIntyre will be a strong contender for Michigan's Mr. Basketball honors next year. What higher praise is there?

Tom Domako, senior, Livonia Stevenson: This 6-8 forward would probably just as soon forget his senior season. Not because his stats were bad. He averaged 19.8 points and nine rebounds per game — fine individual numbers. But his ball club, picked to be one of the area's best, struggled.

Domako's future, though, seems bright. He is headed to Montana State, where he is projected to play swing forward as a freshman. Domako said he hopes to be moved into the shooting

Canton's Dave Van Wagoner Observerland's coach of year

The announcement was first made over a public address system at a trendy Milwaukee night spot named Major Goolsby's — located across the street from the MECCA Arena.

"May we have your attention, please. Can we have a round of applause for the 1984 Observer Newspaper's basketball coach of the year — Mr. Dave Van Wagoner of Plymouth Canton High School."

Van Wagoner, his family and some friends were in Milwaukee to watch the NCAA Mid-East Regional tournament.

The announcement drew a moderate round of applause from the unknowing Milwaukee crowd, but it has drawn a standing ovation from the Canton community and from the area's prep basketball community as well.

VAN WAGONER, you see, has breathed life into a stagnant basketball program. And, in so doing, has brought life to the Canton community. Van Wagoner has taken a team with a history of losing and molded them into winners in just three seasons.

This year, after 4-17 and 10-11 seasons, the Chiefs compiled a 16-6 record and brought home Western Lakes conference and Western Division championships.

"I've just tried to build the program on teamwork, togetherness and a lot of communication and hard work. I'm very proud of the things we've accomplished in three years. I hope we will continue to do as well in the future," Van Wagoner said.

Van Wagoner gives the credit for the Chiefs' success in 1984 to his players. "These guys have made me a good coach," he said at his team's banquet last Thursday night.

But his players, young men like Mark Bennett, Gary Thomas, Mike

—Dave Van Wagoner
coach of year

Jennings and Elijah Rogers, say they are better players because of Van Wagoner.

Both the players and the coach are correct.

FOUR YEARS ago, when an evaluation was made as to which school (Canton or Salem) got the best basketball players from the Plymouth-Canton district's middle schools — it was said that Salem got 18 of the 20 best players.

Through the players' hard work, and through Van Wagoner's tireless efforts, the four aforementioned players blossomed into outstanding ballplayers — far exceeding anyone's expectations.

They are self-made players, all of them. They accepted the challenge that was placed before them, they worked hard during the summer months, and they made themselves better players," Van Wagoner said.

Van Wagoner has a knack for getting young men to believe in themselves.

This season his team was expected to be an also-ran in a tough Western Lakes conference. The Chiefs were small. Their tallest player was 6-foot-1. They lacked depth. They lacked in many areas.

But what they didn't lack was intelligence, intensity, and confidence. And as the season wore on, the Chiefs grew harder and harder to beat. After they stunned Livonia Stevenson in the Spartans' own gym, the basketball community knew Plymouth Canton was a force to be reckoned with — a fact that Dave Van Wagoner had instilled in his players long before the season began.

The Observer Newspapers salutes Dave Van Wagoner — 1984 Coach of the Year.

Pay The IRS Or... Pay Your IRA Why?

If you are the type of individual who is seriously interested in saving money, it makes sense to establish an IRA for a number of reasons.

- $2,000 comes right off the top of your gross income. $4,000 for a qualified couple.
- The capital accumulation compounds tax sheltered.
- $2000 per year compounded at just 10% over a 20 year period grows to be worth $126,000 and $361,000 in 30 years.

Without an IRA in a 30% tax bracket, you would accumulate only $61,000 in 20 years and $141,000 in 30 years.

Where?

First of Michigan Corporation offers a variety of savings and investment programs that qualify for IRA treatment.

- Money Market Funds
- Government Bonds
- Annuities
- Corporate Bonds
- Corporate Income Funds
- Convertible Bonds
- Common & Preferred Stocks
- Mutual Funds
- Covered Call Options
- Real Estate
- Oil & Gas Properties
- And More!!

These many choices enable you to tailor a plan that best suits your investment needs. And you can change your investments any time your goals change or new opportunities arise. This unique flexibility is the reason you should select First of Michigan for your retirement account.
