Planner eyes state rep job

James Kosteva

By M.B. Dillon Ward staff write

Canton Township Planner James Kosteva, 32, has announced his candidacy for state representative in the 37th District, a seat being vacated by veteran State Rep. Edward Mahalak, D-Romulus, who is stepping down due to health concerns.

It's Kosteva's second bid for the office. In the Democratic primary two years ago he was runner-up with 2,100 votes behind Mahalak who tallied 2.900.

"Given the amount of effort that went into the last campaign by myself, family and workers, and given Mr. Mahalak's unfortunate illness and his decision not to run, we felt we had made an investment in the district and should pursue this again," said Kos-teva, a 1974 graduate of North Central College in Illinois.

'I work with the problems of western Wayne County every day. Roads, job retention, economic development, the establishment of new business. property assessments and taxes: to some extent. I've come into contact with these on a daily basis," said Kosteva

'The experience has prepared me well for trying to reduce government interference in people's lives, putting state government back into the role of being the provider of services and the protector of natural resources and the regulator of excesses

It's time to re-establish some faith and reliability in government at a time when trust in government is at a low ebb

An area resident for 28 years, Kosteva has served on the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee. working with Wayne County Commissioner Milt Mack to keep landfills out of western Wayne County. He also has taken part in agricultural, historicpreservation and economic-development projects. Kosteva is completing a master's degree in natural resources at the University of Michigan.

Kosteva's career objective "is to have an objective effect upon the builtin environment and to positively impact people's lives

"I'VE HAD real good experience at the local level, and I would like to take this local-government training and have some input into decisions which affect people's lives at a higher level of policy making.

'It is at the local level that people and problems come face to face; a legislator needs that perspective to effectively represent their views and ad-dress their problems," added Kosteva, who in 1982 bested Roger Cadaret of Romulus and Betty Joe Price of Van Buren in the primary

So far, Kosteva is unaware of any other candidates vying for Mahalak's seat.

Kosteva said he was rated "well-qualified" in 1982 by Civic Searchlight, a non-profit group that reviews and makes recommendations on candidates and issues. As before, the township planner will seek endorsements from the UAW and AFL-CIO. He plans to again "knock on 4,000 doors.

If elected, Kosteva pledges to concentrate on diverting what he called wasted funds into education, protecting the state's natural resources and developing retraining incentives to help diversify Michigan's industry and retain jobs.

Sleepy rapist caught

By Tom Henderson staff writer

A night of terror ended for a Detroit woman early Monday morning when Canton Township police arrested a Louisiana man who was later charged with kidnapping, first-degree rape, armed robbery and the possession of a firearm while committing a crime.

Canton police, acting upon a request by Detroit police, made the arrest at Room 3 of the Willow Arms Motel. The suspect, Jimmie Murray, 37, was then turned over to Detroit police and later arraigned before 36th District Court Judge Vesta Svenson.

The suspect was unable to post a cash bond of $25,000 and remains in jail pending a preliminary examination May 17 in the 36th district court.

According to Lt. Fred Williams of the Detroit police, the woman, who was not identified, was abducted about 2:30 p.m. from the parking lot of the Apollo supermarket at Seven Mile and Evergreen. Murray, who is on parole for armed robbery in Wisconsin, allegedly forced his way into her car at gunpoint, then drove around for several hours, traveling first one way on I-75 and then the other

Murray registered at the Willow Arms Motel in the evening, where, po-lice allege, he raped the victim, robbed her of $70, tied her up with the tele-phone cord and went to bed.

Police say that while Murray slept, the victim untied herself, escaped in her car, drove to her mother's house in Detroit and called Detroit police. Detroit police then called Canton, police. who nfade an immediate wake-up call on Murray

In most instances, a bond can be met by posting 10 percent of its face value. Because of the sevelity of the charges against Murray, Judge Svenson made it a cash bond, requiring payment of the full $25,000

Take off Board tentatively OKs new heliport by Mettetal

The Canton Township Board of Trustees Tuesday night tentatively approved the building of a private heliport adjacent to the Mettetal Airport* on Lilley Road.

Final site plans weren't ready for the meeting, but preliminary plans were discussed. Final approval hinges on four minor stipulations requested by township officials, including the installation of a fire hydrant.

The heliport complex, on a 600-foot-long strip of land on the west side of Rhonda Drive, 850 feet south of Joy, will be built by Harold Rosin of Dearborn Realty. It will be operated by Brian McMahon, who currently operates out of Mettetal but said he needs to expand his operations if he is to remain in Canton.

The heliport would be primarily for the shipping of industrial components for nearby light industry.

The heliport complex would consist of two buildings, one to serve as hangar and storage space for the heliport, the other to be leased out to small businesses. McMahon will operate the speculative building as well, with an option to buy

Final approval by the township depends on the Federal Aviation Administration, which must OK the heliport after it is built. The buildings can be built without final approval, but the township won't allow occupancy until FAA approval of the facility

Richard Wayne Daugherty, 49, was arraigned by Judge Glenn Valesco in 3rd Circuit Court in Wayne County on two felony counts in the shooting May 3 of Edward Morelli, 39. The second count was for allegedly using a firearm in the commission of a crime

According to Canton police, Morelli was in the parking lot of a shopping complex at N. Haggerty and Cherry Hill when he was approached by two individuals, one of whom he recognized.

Police say the two tried to force Morelli into a car at gunpoint. When he

Forget test pitch, our water's fine

Canton Township officials are worried that residents are being misled by company selling water purifiers door-to-door

Officials say the company is licensed by the township to vend its wares and is acting legally. They fear, though, that the company's sales tactics may mislead unwary residents.

The company, JNM Enterprises of Monroe, sells a combination water purifier and softener.

We've been getting calls from peo ple wanting to know how come their water is poisoned," said township Supervisor James Poole. "I don't care if they buy a purifier or not, I just don't want them to get panicked . Other than the (high) rate, the water is safe to drink."

"The main problem is that they're not identifying themselves as representatives of a water softener company," said Carol Quinn of the water department. "They state they are there to test the water and that sounds very official."

According to John Flodin, township clerk, the company is licensed to go door to door. Flodin said that its representatives must wear prominent badges of identification.

'Under the free enterprise system, you can't stop people going out door to door making a living. But you can keep control of them," said Flodin. "The township takes no position either for or against the product."

Flodin had in his possession a printed copy of what appears to be a study sheet for prospective purifier salesper sons. According to the sheet, the pitch begins, "Hi, my name is Mary . The reason I've stopped by is we'll be testing the water in your neighborhood over the next few days, checking for impurities of any kind in the water system. There will be no charge or obligation for the test.

Township officials say such a pitch is legal, but they stress that those giving the test have no connection with any government or health agency, and they stress that the water is safe to drink.

Wayne voters asked to abolish road panel

By Tim Richard staff writer

Wayne County commissioners have advanced their own proposal to abolish the Road Commission, but it differs markedly from a proposal by County Executive William Lucas.

The Commission's proposal would transfer only the administrative reponsibilities of the Road Commission o the executive. It would transfer the Road Commission's legislative powers ratifying appointments, approving contracts and setting the budget - to the County Commission

Lucas's proposal would give all Road sion powers to the executive. "The County Commission's proposal divides the powers according to the charter," said Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne. Commonly a supporter of Lucas, Mack backed his fellow mmissioners' proposal and opposes Lucas's

The Commission's proposal is similar to one advanced by Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy. But Murphy's would require a permissive law the Michigan Legislature because Oakland isn't a home-rule charter county.

WAYNE VOTERS will see the Commission version on their Aug. 7 primary ballot. They may see Lucas's version on the Nov. 6 general election ballot if the executive's political team can gather 100,000 petition signatures.

the three-member Road Commission which has operated semiautonomously since the 1930s. Both would place the to the executive.

A spokesman for Lucas said the executive's office is reviewing the commissioners' proposal. "At a glance, it doesn't appear to have any major conflict with the intention of his proposal. It appears compatible," said press sec-retary Bill Johnsop Lucas is pushing other proposals which would strengthen his hold on county government. One would limit the Commission's power to reject appointments. The other would remove the Commission's power to approve contracts.

Commissioners have refused to put any Lucas proposals on the ballot, charging Lucas is trying to upset the

One reason Michigan's Department f Natural Resources has money troubles is that young people are turning up their noses at hunting, fishing and trapping - and those license fees support many DNR activities

That observation came from Dr Ronald Skoog, the former Alaskan biol ogist who has been DNR director the ast eight months. Skoog was interviewed after a question-and-answer session with the Western Wayne County onservation Club

Artfest boycott will hurt pupils

TUDENT ARTFEST 84 apparently will not take place. And that's too bad.

It's too bad the community won't get a look at the talent of youngsters in the Plymouth-Canton schools. It's too bad students won't get to display their art work to someone beyond their teachers, parents, and fellow students. It's too bad a communitywide event which has been growing in popularity won't be repeated in 1984 It's too bad there still is the lingering of bad blood between teachers and adminis trators from last fall - perhaps another manifestation of the counterproductivity nurtured by the strike. And it's too bad the art festival in Kellogg Park is being discontinued primarily because of a disagreement between faculty members and central administration on support for the arts in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools

LAST FALL, in the midst of some rather heated relations between union and management on bargaining issues, district art faculty members let it be known they would not participate as volunteers in Student Artfest '84 unless the administration demonstrated a greater commitment to instruction in the arts. The desired response did not come. The majority of the music and visual arts instructors have declined to participate in Artfest '84.

The Observer believes it's wrong to deprive students of the opportunity to showcase their talents to the community because of a rift between faculty and administration.

We recognize that withholding of services is one of the few effective economic and political weapons teachers possess. Only recently, for instance, Fred Thomann has decided to withhold his services as boys basketball headcoach because of a rift between coaches and the administra-

BUT BOYCOTTING can backfire when the "penalty" is felt by the community and/or students, and not directly by the administration.

In the case of the arts faculty and the coaches, the problem is allocation of limited funds. The best solution to that is increased funds, and about the only way to do that is seek voter approval of additional property taxes. A request for 1.7 mills will be on the June 11 ballot.

It would have been wise for the art instructors and Thomann to wart for a ver dict from voters before withholding ser-

The school board has not asked for additional millage in recent years. Realistically, there is no way that voters would have approved a millage increase during the past two to three years, given the economic recession. Today it is not a foregone conclusion a tax request will bite the dust. We must wait and see. It's too bad, though, that some have chosen not to wait.

IT IS ALSO unfortunate that we have teachers and administrators who seem to work against each other so often.

It does not have to be that way. Curricula, textbooks, and learning programs can be built with input from teachers. The cancellation of the Artfest is a sterling example of why more cooperative efforts are so badly needed.

Recognizing the achievement of young people is a goal teachers and administrators share. It's too bad disagreement over the means has gotten in the way of both striving towards that goal.

IN THE CASE of the Student Artfest it's ironic that faculty members are pulling out because of a supposed lack of support for the arts from the administation

The leadership for the art fair came from members of the art faculty, not from the administration. Artfest was seen as a way to generate support from the community at-large for the arts - particularly for instruction in the arts. A com- guests Bring to a boil. munity cannot be enticed to lend more support to finance the arts curriculum in one or two years. The effort must be long-enough to generate such long-range support. For this reason, too, it's too bad some instructors have lost patience with the present and decided to bail out.

The arts are important. And we believe the community, if given time, will support the aggravations of loud noise and tire a solid program of arts instruction. A need to preserve purpose for letters

THE OBSERVER Newspapers of Yellow Pages for the Plymouth-Canton Plymouth and Canton have decided to adopt a new policy regarding letters to was a letter thanking a list of some 90 the editor, and we want to share the change and reasons for it with our read-

The Observer always has encouraged a free exchange of viewpoints from good purpose is not served because other readers with letters to the editor being a favorite means of sharing opinions. We have had some rather basic guidelines concerning letters, such as asking that they be typed or written legibly, limited to 300 words or less, be original copies, and contain the name and address of the senders.

In recent months, however, this newspaper has been deluged with a particular for public recognition. We also realize type of letter which has prompted us to that at most events, the names of donors take a look at how we do business and are listed on placards or are announced, consider a change.

We have been receiving, and publishing, letters from groups expressing their appreciation to individuals and businesses who have contributed gifts, time or money to their event - usually a fundraiser. We have appreciated the fact that merchants and others choose to support community events and have felt that public recognition of that participation was appropriate.

However, the practice has been abused and we feel compelled to take corrective action. A recent example is a group which wrote a letter to thank all the contributors, and then went on to list 144 donors - almost the equivalent of the a set of the set of the community. Another less extreme case individuals and merchants. Such letters take far too much space in our paper, at the expense of other pieces of information of interest to other readers. Thus a readers are harmed in an attempt to do a favor for a single group.

We believe that merchants and residents in Canton and Plymouth will continue to be public-spirited citizens, without getting public acknowledgement in print. We believe business persons and esidents offer their support because they are proud of their community, not or both.

Out of fairness to all our readers, the Observer will no longer print letters listing contributors. It might be fitting for a group to submit a letter to the editor thanking all supporters, without naming them individually. The Observer would be glad to publish such a letter. We do want to get back to the original purpose of letters to the editor - to promote an exchange of ideas and opinions. Please feel free to write us at any time; but please don't ask us to print lists of names in our letter columns. Thank you for understanding.

Public meeting in a home?

HERE IS a case where the cure might worse than the disease.

A few upper peninsula townships close down their town halls during the winter according to state Rep. Willis Bullard, R-Milford. So the township boards meet in private homes to conduct business.

The Open Meetings Act provides that "all meetings of a public body shall be open to the public and shall be held in a place available to the general public."

In Bullard's analysis, there are two alternative solutions to the rural townships' problem: 1) Either prohibit meetings in private residences 2) or allow them in private residences, but require the board to place a display advertisement (not an itsy-bitsy "legal notice") in the local rewspaper

Bullard's House Bill 4850 takes the second tack: allowing meetings in private homes following a display advertisement. It sailed through the House of Representatives and is now in a Senate committee.

ALTHOUGH POSSIBLY well-intended. the Bullard bill would almost certainly open a can of worms.

Instead of merely permitting a couple of unnamed UP rural townships to solve a winter-time problem, the bill would apply statewide - in areas where they have 300 inches of snow and in areas where there's arely more than a foot.

Instead of applying to a few rural governments, it would apply to all 83 county boards, 1,200 township boards, maybe 700 school boards, 29 community college boards, many dozens of cities and villages, and an uncountable number of parks boards, library boards, planning commissions and so on.

In other words, it would be an open invitation for public bodies to meet in private homes. It would have, to use lawyer's jargon, a "chilling effect" on public participation.

WHAT'S WRONG with permitting public boards to meet in private homes as long as they advertise it in the paper?

 Public buildings are mostly on main roads which are the first ones plowed in the winter. Residences may or may not be on main roads

Public buildings are usually marked with a sign and easy to find. Private residences are unmarked Public buildings have adequate parking; commonly the streets are lighted. Not so with private residences. Nowadays, most public buildings are accessible to the handicapped. Most private residences aren't.

At a public building, you can walk up to the door, open it, walk in and find yourself a seat inconspicuously. But you have to ring and ask admittance to a private residence. You may have to hunt around for a chair. You feel conspicuous and you probably are meant to feel that way

THERE IS an excellent chance for a board to abuse the open meetings requirement by meeting in private homes. It's easy

The board can simply conduct its most important meetings in a private residence where public participation is chilled There, with a minimum of prying eyes, it can undertake the evaluation of the school superintendent, the big builder's request for a waiver from the building code, the budget and other items of major interest. In my reporting experience, about onethird of local government officials have a bad attitude toward doing business in the public eye. They come up with dozens of excuses for closed meetings and manufacture loopholes where the law intended

Freedom can mean learning how to say no No. This simple word could use the services of a ng on a meal, we smile and nod to the affirmative good advertising firm to help spruce up it's image. Few words which can be spoken in public produce such a universally negative reaction. For example, when parents say no young children react with tears. When childen say no parents react with rage. When a politician says no to anything, it's a matter for headlines. When an employee says no it may be a matter for the unemployment lines

IT IS SO difficult to use the word no that people often use camouflage. We often are told: "We'll call you if something opens up, " or "we'll see," or "I have a headache tonight." Nevertheless, despite the camouflage, the bottom line is still no.

One reason for its bad image is that the word is often the vehicle to bear bad tidings. No is the word that has informed you that you did not get the new job or the pay raise, that your proposal of marriage was rejected, that your loan application was turned

Patterson starts drive for capital punishment

By Kathy Parrish staff writer

Five years ago, L. Brooks Patterson toured the state to kick off a petition drive to reinstate capital punishment for murder. The unsuccessful effort took three years and cost $22,000 - including $11,000 of his own money

Last week the Oakland County Prosecutor hit the same trail again. But this time he expects his efforts to be successful

His aim is to gather 400,000 signatures by June 1986 to get 304,001 valid names. Last time he needed 309,000 signatures but the Board of Canvassers ruled there were insufficient valid signatures. "I said I wouldn't do it again unless an angel came along. And it did," explained Patterson, who now has assured funding for the effort.

Friends of John Gray, a Bloomfield Township man urdered Feb. 9 in his home, have raised $5,000 for the effort. They have pledged $50,000 for the campaign, which Patterson expects to cost $30,000.

"THESE ARE successful businessmen who were close friends of Mr. Gray who are adamant in their position that his senseless death will not have been in

The two men accused of murdering Gray are scheduled to go to trial May 21 before Oakland Couny Circuit Court Judge Robert Anderson. Along with funding, Patterson also has 7,500 circulators already in a computer. "Last time, we had to build an organization from scratch," he explained during a press conference in his courthouse office.

As well as Pontiac, he kicked off drives in Lansing, Grand Rapids, Traverse City, Alpena and Flint. The prosecutor also sent out 10,000 letters asking for support.

'I feel confident support is increasing around the state," Patterson said UP FOR RE-ELECTION this year. Patterson said his capital-punishment drive is not timed as a campaign issue In fact, the prosecutor believes it will hurt him with some voters. "It's an emotional issue. I'll win some and lose some because of it," said Patterson, who sees it as an extension of his law-enforcement duties. "We don't put a premium on human life in this society," he said firmly. "Capital punishment is necessary to deter would-be killers. It is a just punishment; a punishment that fits the crime.'

Patterson believes failure by society to punish killers could result in citizens taking matters into their own hands. "I can't condone vigilante justice as a prosecutor and citizen."

"Harper has world famous eve surgery and neurosurgery departments.

Our story has been dramatized here, but the sorrow of blindness by accident, birth, disease and aging is very real. The work of treatment and cure is a journey of discovery into darkness; the joy of vision itself a miracle of infinite complexity. And hope springs from the research and clinical innovations of a few special facilities like the Kresge Eye Institute at Harper Hospital. Dedicated exclusively to the problems of vision, the Kresge Eye Institute treats thousands of patients each year. Its research programs develop new paths of understanding. Its clinical practice brings new technology to medicine and refines pioneering treatment techniques for others to follow. This important Medical Center resource gives present hope to millions with#impaired vision throughout the world and promises better vision for future generations.

WHO'S HOLDING DOWN HEALTH CARE COSTS? CHECK THE BOTTOM LINE.

No one does more to control costs than we do

No one.

We ask prudent questions before we pay. Each of the more than 60 million claims we process each year is computer-checked for accuracy before it is approved for payment by a system capable of 1600 different edits.

We're the only carrier that has cost-saving agreements with doctors and hospitals.

And it pays off. With these and more than a dozen other cost containment programs, the savings are enormous. Last year alone we saved more than one billion dollars. Money we didn't have to collect from our group customers.

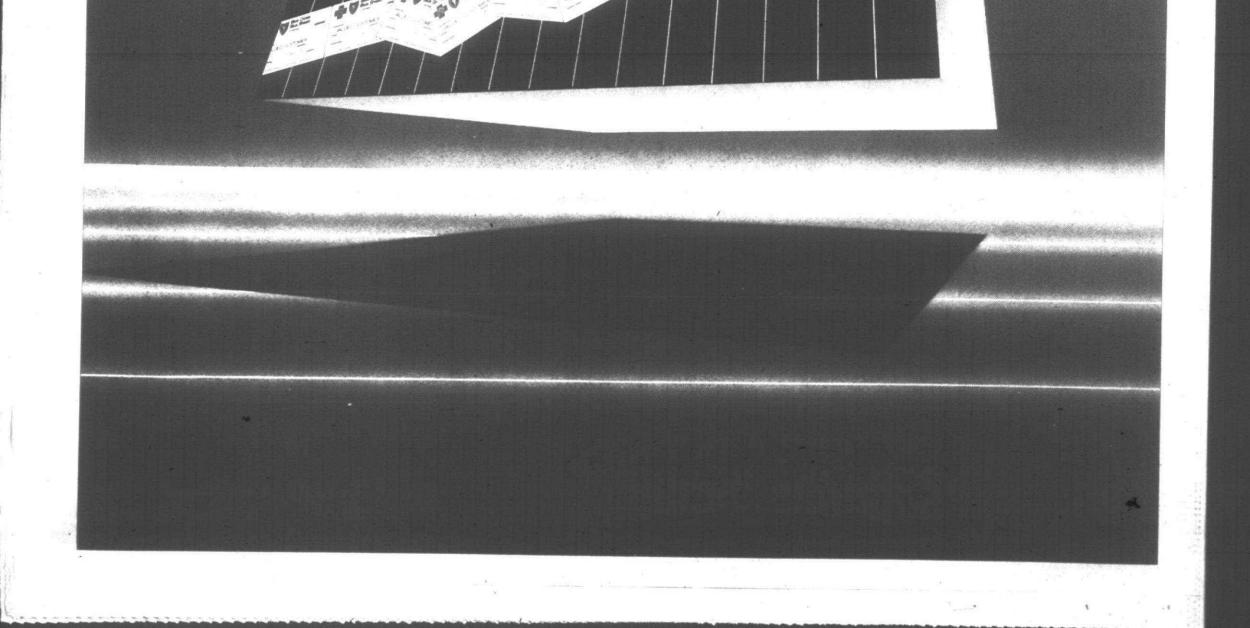

Can any of the more than 300 commercial insurance companies doing business in Michigan say the same?

When you want the most for your health care dollar, come to the people who understand your bottom line.

Walking on stilts isn't as easy as it looks. Steven Kwiatkowski tried out a pair when his class at Redford Township's Stuckey School visited Greenfield Village this week.

That's a typical exchange this week in Greenfield Village, where kids in jogging shoes and Michael Jackson Tshirts are meeting famous people from the past.

And it's easy to forget what decade you're in. While waiting to hear a speaker, more than one little voice asked meekly, "But. isn't he dead?" "Well, it's not really him" was the usual reply.

FOR ITS FIRST Tent Chautauqua, Edison Institute has turned time back to 1912 when the Titanic sank, women couldn't vote and Woodrow Wilson, William Howard Taft and Teddy Roosevelt were vying for president.

On hand for the weeklong event are some of those heroes, as well as a variety of others like lawyer Clarence Darrow, suffragist Jeannette Rankin, humanitarian Jane Addams, humorist Opie Read, dramatic reader Mrs. Stafford, and even Uncle Norman, the chalktalker. "It's nice that you're here and not in the factories like the children in New York," said Roosevelt, portrayed by WJR disc jockey Pat McElroy. tently to TR speak from the porch of Sarah Jordan Boardinghouse.

TO MARK ITS 10TH anniversary, Michigan Council for the Humanities this year revived the almost forgotten Chautauqua tradition.

In the early 20th century, traveling Chautauquas brought notable, important issues and unusual entertainment to small towns around the country. From late April through September several different circuits toured the U.S. with shows.

"Do you long for finer things?" asked the narrator of one Greenfield Village tent show this week. "Chautauqua quenches the thirst for ideas." In a large tent on the green, the village is presenting four different halflage is presenting four different halfhour shows, running them back to back from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Chautauqua continues through Sunday.

Other activities include a suffrage tent, elocution lessons in the Scotch Settlement School, a Chautauqua slide show and an exhibit of United States woods.

There is also a Junior Chautauqua, featuring turn-of-the-century games and activities. It's a chance for computer whizzes to try stilts, badminton and the challenge of bean bag and ring tossing.

let this half of the audience vote," she added, pointing out the "injustice of a society that shuts out half the people. "I want to vote, and I want to vote on more important issues than ice cream."

In the suffrage tent, visitors were asked to sign petitions calling for women's right to vote.

"I know when you go home your husband will take exception to this, but you be strong," a suffragette told one signer.

TEACHING ELOCUTION, which she describes as the "art of expressive speaking," schoolteacher Miss Patterson had pupils do head rolls, make "prune" faces and practice tongue twisters.

Together, students from Kenbrook School in Farmington Hills recited "A big black bug bit a big black bear and the big black bear bled blood."

"You like it?" asked the schoolmarm portrayed by Mary Halsted, lead interpreter for the Edison Building. "Excellent. I think you have it. You now have the basics and should be able to go out there and speak with effect." WHILE EDISON INSTITUTE has featured historical characters in programs since 1971, the weeklong Chautauqua called for more than ever. And employees and volunteers eagerly auditioned to portray their favorites. In preparation for the weeklong event, they researched their characters' positions on various issues and even their mannerisms.

"And you think school is tough," Redford teacher Bob Hanley kidded his Stuckey School students, listening inWOMEN'S RIGHTS and child labor were two popular topics, running through several speeches.

"Do you like ice cream?" suffragist Jeannette Rankin asked a weekday audience filled with school children. "I forgot to tell you that I'm not going to

But turning back the clock isn't easy. And there were occasional slips into the 1980s. "I see you're a women's libber oops, suffrage supporter," one turn-ofthe-century gentleman told a visitor sporting a yellow ribbon given her for signing the women's rights petition.

"This is something we've never done before, and that makes it very exciting," said theater department chairman Joseph French, who portrayed politician William Jennings Bryan. "We all wanted to be part of it."

Today's youth practiced yesterday's patriotic gestures.

Symphony India concert Sunday benefits Mother Teresa mission

The popular music of India and some of the traditional will be presented Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School. Some of the music was scored and arranged for the first time in history for this concert. Indian musicians from Chicago and Toronto will join the Westland John Glenn High School Symphony Orchestra for the event

Norman Logan, director of music at John Glenn, worked closely with Westland residents Alex Mapleton and his daughter, Shiny Mapleton, in planning the program. Mapleton will be a featured vocalist in the concert. He has recorded two albums, "Talk to Me," his latest, and "Dreams of My Life." Shiny is a violinist in the symphony orchestra and orchestra president. She started violin in fourth grade and also plays piano. Logan, as conductor of the symphony, and Mapleton have worked for months, converting the melodies to written form. Then Logan arranged the music for the orchestra. The 50-piece orchestra will be supplemented by 12 Indian musicians with instruments native to India.

TONY ERINJERI, chairman of the publicity committe Symphony India, said the sponsor, East West Music Inc., is a non-profit organization promoting popular music. He said popular music in India is music from the films. The movie industry is flourishing in India with Bombay the film capital.

School Symphony, directed by Norm Lo-

"The industry there is like it was here in the 30s. Everyone goes to the theater. They are the most popular form of entertainment. Films made in India and their theme music are popular as far west as the Eastern Medierranean countries. Mapleton and Erinjeri said both the federal and state governments in India encourage the film industry. There are two annual awards eremonies there. One, like the American Academy Awards, is arranged by the industry, and a second government ceremony has cash awards. The states gives loans to students to encourage both acting and technical careers in films They said India is a world leader in movie making

DR. YVAN SILVA, the singing doctor from Detroit who records albums and recently -appeared on the Merv Griffin Show, will perform in Sunday's concert. Other guest performers are Shyla Mathew, Steven Cyriac and Vidya Chandrasekhar. Syriac Thomas of Chicago will be associate music director of the concert

To make the musical numbers more meaningful and enjoyable, each will be preceded by an appropriate explanation and commentary.

The concert will be from 3-5:30 p.m. in the school on Joy Road west of Canton Center Road. Admission is $5 and $10 with part of the profits going to Mother Teresa's mission in Detroit and the Nargis Dutt Cancer Founda-

Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at Food and Flavors, Sheldon Road, and Indian Saree Palace, Ford Road in Canton Township, and Westland India Gifts. National anthems of United States and India will be sung. Devotional music will include both Christian and Hindu religions. manne

Smiths celebrate 50th

Thelbert and Mona Smith of Fry Road, Plymouth, were guests of honor recently at a reception planned by their family. More than 55 friends and relatives attended the party in the Plymouth Oddfellows Hall, celebrating the Smiths' golden wedding anniversary. Mona Dyer and Thelbert Smith were married Dec. 30, 1933. They moved to the Plymouth community in 1943. They have two sons, James and Jerry, bothof Plymouth, and 10 grandchildren. Mr. Smith, who will be 80 in December, retired in 1970 from Associated Spring, Plymouth. His wife retired in 1978 from the HydraMatic Division of General Motors, Ypsilanti. They are members of First Baptist Church of Plymouth.

PERHAPS TIME has come to change our thinking about this misunderstood word.

I don't know of a scientific study that has actually proven it, but I suspect hat people who can say no tend to live longer. I do know that many cardiac rehabilitation programs teach participants the simple art of saying no.

When we fail to say no because of our quest to appear kind and polite, we often feel resentment toward the person putting us in such a position and, toward ourselves for not taking a stand. Saying no allows us to be our own person and to avoid considerable stress

BEING ABLE to say no does not mean that we are excused from being kind, polite or even loving. We can indeed say no politely. When appropriate, we may wish to discuss our reasons for saying no not as an apology, but as a courtesy. Other times we may just simply say no confident that no explanation o apology is necessary because our own wishes are as valid as anyone else's. The nice thing about being able to say no is that it also makes us free to say yes. When a friend asks a difficult favor of me, and I say yes we both know that I said yes not because it was something I had to do, but because it was something I wanted to do.

Fund-raiser set for abused child

lay, May 10, 1984 O&E

Kay and Michael Eisbrenner, the Livonia couple who have championed the drive to aid abused children, are asking residents to open their hearts again on Saturday in memory of a 4-year-old girl who was tortured to death last year.

The latest fund-raiser in the couple's drive to help battered children happens noon to 7 p.m. in the Civic Center Park at Farmington and Five Mile. A daylong picnic is planned to end six days of fund-raising throughout the city. Proceeds will be turned over to the Rosalyn Bryant Memorial Fund. The fund, started by the Eisbrenners one year ago with $500 of their own money, was named for a young Detroit child who was tortured to death by her father and his live-in girlfriend last year

The day's highlights include a full-day of entertainment, activities, food and a raffle featuring 60 prizes donated by area merchants (prizes to be rafled include a trip for two to Toronto, a Panasonic video recorder, a stereo cassette player, T-shirts, beach towels, and an auto rustproofing package). The fund-raiser is being sponsored by the city of Livonia, along with various area schools, colleges, businesses and individual volunteers.

Eisbrenner said Wednesday that raffle ticket ales have been slow. "We hope to have a super turnout on Saturday to help that out," said Eisbrenner Raffle tickets may be purchased in the LOVE office, or from the Eisbrenners or at the picnic.

Eisbrenner thanked Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara and committee members for putting the fund-raiser together. "Thanks for becoming a part of our lives and more importantly the lives of so many helpless and hurting little ones," said Eisbrenner. Hygrade Food Products in Livonia is contribu ing $2,500 to the cause along with 5,000 hot dogs. Other local contributors include Awrey Bakery which will supply 500 packages of buns at cost. The Livonia Heart Fund will pay for the buns and Gags and Games is donating tickets at cost. Entertainment will be provided throughout the

From noon to 12:30 p.m. the Suburban Chorale will perform. Others who have donated their time and talent to the fund-raising effort include: Bill Ging, guitarist, 12:30-12:45 p.m.; baton twirlers from Janet Lesnek's School will perform 12:45-1 p.m.; Cynthia Evans, Miss Livonia, will perform 1-2

SC trustees squirm at proposed tuition hike

By Tim Richard staff writer

Schoolcraft College trustees are looking for a way around the $2.50-per-credit-hour tuition increase proposed for next fall by the administration

"How do you rationalize a 9.4-per cent tuition increase against an 8-per cent overall budget increase" asked trustee Harry Greenleaf. This makes me a little nervous said board vice-chair Rosina Raymond

Our other increases have been in the neighborhood of $1 to $1.50 a credit hour

"We need new revenues," replied esident Richard McDowell. "This President Richard McDowell. will be a financial necessity until new revenues come in.

THE PERCENTAGE increase is more for residents than for non-residents," Greenleaf protested.

The exchange came last week at the end of a two-hour special meeting in which McDowell, Vce resident W. Ken neth Lindner and comptroller A.H. (Butch) Raby presented a general fund operating budget of $17.75 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1. It represents an 8-percent increase over the current year

The budget will be the subject of two May 16 public hearings: a 7 p.m. "truth in taxation" hearing on the college's oposal to keep the operating tax rate DD of 1.77 mlls ($1.77 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) and an 8 p.m. hearing on the budget.

Trustees nodded as Raby outlined how the new budget would "leave the reactionary mode of the last 10 years and adopt an actionary mode of operation

They uttered no word of protest as Raby told how more staff and equip-ment would be put into math, data processing, electronics and instructional television

THE SHARP questions came when the administration proposed these tuition increases for the fall semester

 In-district: to $29 from the current $26.50, up $2.50 or 9.4 percent. • Out-of-district: to $39 from the current $36, up $3 or 8.3 percent.

 Out-of-state: to $57.50 from $54. up $3.50 or 6.5 percent.

About 76 percent of credit hours are generated by residents of the college district, 23 percent by out-of-district residents and less than 1 percent by non-Michiganians. If adopted, the Schoolcraft in-district rate of $29 would put the northwestern Wayne County community college on a par with Washtenaw and 50 cents behind Macomb, which is coonsidering a $29.50 rate.

Oakland Community College has voted to go to $24 from $23; Henry Ford expects to stay at $28; and Wayne stay at $26.

GREENLEAF asked if student fees for laboratories, gym lockers and the like - were being raised.

'We haven't proposed a fee increases because we don't want to do that in the same year as a tuition increase, McDowell said.

Administrators pointed out that Wayne State University charges freshmen and sophomores $56 per credit hour plus a $40 registration fee; University of Michigan charges freshmen and sophomores $165 for the first credit hour and $88 for each additional hour; and Eastern Michigan University charges $47 50 an hour plus a $20 registration fee.

WSU has announced it won't increase tuition for 1984-5; EMU anticipates an increase IN HIS state budget for fiscal 1984,

County Community College expects to Gov. James J. Blancahard offered colleges and universities a 10-percent hike in state aid if they would hold the line on tuitions. N

No similar offer was made to twoyear colleges like Schoolcraft, but college officials generally have felt the pressure to hold the line.

McDowll said the state aid bill for community colleges is in a joint legislative conference committee. Schoolcraft's increase has been estimated between 7.5 and 10 percent, the president said, but lately the state aid expectation has been "hovering" at 8.5 percent.

With that expectation, McDowell estimated total state aid for 1984-5 at $5.6 million, or 31.8 percent of the budget.

The high-water mark in state aid was reached in 1976-77, when Lansing contributed 42.5 percent of the college budget is out of touch IRST BRIAN GILLES. Then Tom Williams Now Fred Thomann.

Sure looks like the foundation of the athletic program within the Plymouth-Canton Community School District is crumbling.

But, you know, who cares?

Who cares what happens to the more than 1,100 students (almost 1/3 of the entire student body) who participate in sports at either Salem or Canton high school? Who cares about the statewide positive recognition the program has brought to the district? Who cares about the community pride and spirit that the program generates?

Who cares about the time and the effort the oaches put in to ensure that their student-athletes mature and grow both mentally and physically? Tell me, who the hell cares about the athletic department?

I'LL TELL you doesn't care. The board of educaion doesn't really care. Neither does the central administration. Oh, publicly they'll say, as board member Dr. E.J. McClendon said at a budget workshop Feb. 6, "It isn't because we don't care (about athletics). It's just a question of what do we take away from and that's a decision that we (the school board) have to make."

what decisions have this ultra-concerned board made over the past five years? Well, the athletic budget has been reduced from $230,000 to $166,000. It got as low as $128,000 in 1981-82.

After listening to the plight of the athletic department on Feb. 6, the board decided to give the department a lift. The athletic budget was upped 15 percent for the next school year - an amount that does little more than maintain a sad status quo for another year.

No, whenever a budget crisis is at hand, the decision of the board is to slash atheltics. And the members of the athletic department are bitter and fed up. These grossly underpaid men, these coaches, have sat back quietly while their board of education has gradually tore away at the foundation of a thriving, successful program.

THE SALARIES continued to slide lower and lower beneath the league norm. Still, the coaches were only a little bothered by that. Sure it was hu-miliating to be paid less than a coach from another district, one who puts in maybe a third of the time they did, but the satisfaction for the CEP coaches came in the success of their programs and in the young men and women they produced.

It was when the board started tampering with the programs and the progress of the kids themselves that the coaches began to stand up and say. enough is enough."

The board took away the middle-school interscholastic athletic program - a devastating blow to the total athletic program. Kids were now coming onto the high-school athletic scene one and two years behind in their development. The job before the coaches now was to teach the athletes fundamental skills they should have developed in seventh and eighth grades, plus get them ready to compete on a varsity level.

All that, plus having to do more fund raising than Jerry Lewis in order to buy equipment and uniforms - well, enough was enough. The c

Eight straight

The boys and girls track teams at Plymouth Salem continue their mastery of Plymouth Canton in the eighth annual track and field event honoring Jeff Mangan, a Salem student who died in 1977

The boys team won its half of the Mangan Relays 98-39, while the lady Rocks won 71-57. Despite unseasonably cool temperatures, the Relays featured close races, particularly in the girls meet. A Salem team has yet to lose a Mangan meet.

"The meet really fluctuated between the two teams," said Salem girls coach Fred Thomann. "It was a real nice meet."

The two teams came out of the field events tied at 18. Canton took three of the four firsts - Hollie Ivey won both the shot put (30-0) and the discus (94-3), while Carolyn Nagy took the high jump in 4-8. Kelly Bemiss won the long jump for Salem in 16-

The track events were just as close Salem held a slim 10-point lead going into the 2-mile run. The Rocks, however, erased all doubt by sweeping the event.

TRISH DONNELLY, who won the mile run in 5:52.08, took first in the 2mile with a 12.52.06. She was followed across the finish line by teammates Erica Bashar and Brenda Boyd, and the meet was the Rocks' again.

Canton, which is enjoying its best season, didn't quit. The Chiefs came back and gutted out a first in the mile relay (4:22.7).

With co-captains Bemiss, Dawn Johnson and Mary Beth Weast doing a ton of work, the Rocks won the other three relay events: the 440-yard relay (52.78), the 880 relay (1:52.39) and the 2-mile relay (10:44.42).

(P.C)1C

Other winners for the Rocks were: Kristen Hostinski in the 330 hurdles (52.78), Dawn Johnson in the 220 dash (27.75), and Weast in the 440 dash (1:05.14).

Winners for Canton were: Pat Brennan in the 110 hurdles (17.89). Kim Bennett in the 100 dash (12.22), and Ruthann Trout in the 880 run (2:38.33).

It was a bit of a different story in the boys meet. Though some of the races were close, the meet itself was a rout in the Rocks' favor.

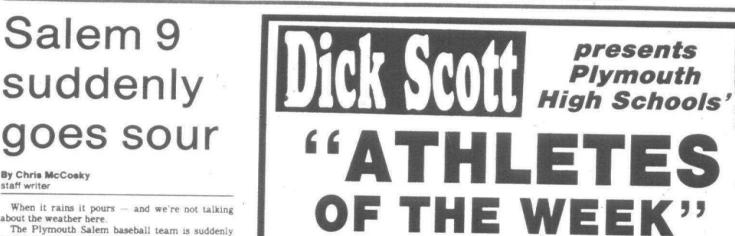

Part of the reason was Salem's dominance in the four relay events. The Rocks won all four: the 440 in 45.04, the 880 in 1:35.97, the mile in 3:38.81 and the 2-mile in 8:55.06.

"WE'RE ALWAYS happy to win." said Salem coach Gary Balconi. But the veteran coach didn't lose sight of the true spirit of the Mangan's. "The kids really get excited about this meet. There was a lot of genuine camaraderie out there tonight. The kids had a good feeling. You know, you train shoulder to shoulder with each other every afternoon, then one night you square off and go at it. It's real good competition.

Salem got a big lift from its underclassmen. Brian Waldron, a gifted sophomore, beat out teammate Mike White in the long jump, going 19-942. Freshman speedster Brian Neuhardt took the 220 dash in 23.51. White came back and won the 330 their families, they had sacrificed more than enough and had taken too much abuse from the board and administration - "Oh, don't worry about the coaches, they love what they're doing, they'll work for free." Several coaches quit.

GILLES WAS first. The hugely successful coach not only built up a powerful baseball program, he built up and maintained one of the most beautiful baseball complexes in the state. His efforts were appreciated only by the community, his players and by the prep baseball community statewide

Tom Williams was next. This man could do with his cross-country programs what very few crosscountry coaches can do. He got people out for the team. More than 50 bodies showed up for practice last fall - an amazing number and a tribute to the kindness and dedication of this man. Williams, dis gruntled by the board's lack of support, wanted to quit last November, but was talked out of it. He had hoped the board might change its ways after hear ing the coaches' presentation Feb. 6. No way. Three weeks ago, Williams resigned - for good.

Last Friday, it was Thomann. The man who won 227 games in 12 years at the helm of the Salem boys basketball team. He brought to the school nine conference titles, seven district titles and one regional title

All three of these men helped bring a positive athletic identity to the Plymouth-Canton community, one that was visible across the state.

Who will be next? Tom Moshimer, the Salem football coach? How about Fred Crissey, Canton's baseball coach? Ron Krueger, Salem wrestling coach? These people are also responsible for that positive identity

Ah, who cares. Not the board of education or the entral administration.

WHY DON'T THESE people care about the athetic program?

These people, these administrators and board embers, are out of touch with what is going on in their community. They don't know the value of ath-letics to the students, to the parents, to the community. All these people see are dollar signs.

concerned.

"I'm sweating bullets, you can believe "hat," he said.

The Rocks started fast this season, winning their first five games. Losses to Redford Union and Northville didn't seem too bad, since the Rocks came right back with a win against Livonia Bent-

But, last weekend, the team came unglued. Pitchers with good control couldn't find the plate. Redhot hitters slumped. Sure-handed fielders bobbled and booted.

The result, the Rocks lost a pair of non-league games to rival Plymouth Canton, 14-4, 16-11. The games, technically, were meaningless. But, judging by Salem's performance Monday against Walled Lake Central, the Canton double-header may have started an ugly trend.

THE ROCKS committed six errors and gave up eight walks in an embarrassing 13-2 loss to the Vikings. "I'm really worried. I don't know what it's going to take to break out of it. Clearly, we were the better team out there (Monday). But, it was like everyone was playing in slow motion. There was no intensity," Gravlin said.

Canton's Tim Collins started the twin killing Saturday when he popped Chris Mowers' pitch over the 300-foot left field fence for a three-run homer in the first inning of game one.

The Chiefs scored five more in the third, keyed by Jim Dillon's three-run homer, and six more in the fourth. Mark Bennett ripped a double to ignite that rally.

Canton shortstop John Longridge and Collins each had three hits to pace the nine-hit attack. Mike Clark was strong in his first outing of the year. He struck out five, walked one and scattered nine hits.

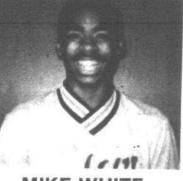

But five Salem errors enabled the Chiefs to run away with it.

Game two was worse - for both teams.

Canton pitchers walked 15 batters, Salem 13 in the Chiefs' eight-inning triumph. Salem made four more errors.

Salem scored three bizarre runs in the bottom of the seventh to tie the game. The Rocks took advantage of five Canton walks, three by Bennett, who

A PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FLASHBACK

One year ago this week, Plymouth Canton's softball team solidified their claim to the Western Lakes Activities Association overall championship by rallying for 11 runs in the 6th inning, erasing a 7-1 Livonia Churchill lead enroute to a 12-8 victory at Canton. Key hits for the Chiefs included a run scoring double by Missy Aiken, a two run single by Kathy Young, RBI singles by Sue Gerke and Marie Krashovetz and a two run double by Kris Harrison.

It's like Salem track coach Gary Balconi said "It's too bad, but we work in a situation where you just can't put a price tag on the value of a coach or his program. If you could, I think people would realize the importance of a person like Fred (Thomann) to this district and what a great loss he will Adminstrators rarely, if ever, attend an athletic event. One administrator attended a basketball game last season and left early. Superintendent of Schools Dr. John Hoben, an ex-coach at Plymouth High, is completely out of touch. To him, a coach still puts in an hour, maybe two, after school with the team and goes home. That's the way it was when he coached, you see. He sn't know how involved these o be. He doesn't know that a basketball coach, for example, works year around — not just during basketball season.

But then, Hoben never had good judgment in the area of athletics. Once as a coach he cut an aspiring place-kicker. He said carrying a kicking specialist on the team was a luxury he couldn't afford.

That kicker turned out to be Dale Livingston, who went on to star at Western Michigan Universiy and enjoy a career in the NFL.

Maybe Hoben thinks high-school athletics is a uxury the school district can't afford. If so, he's loing a good job of destroying it.

RENCH MIME Marcel Marceau and a French-American theme will highlight the first Ann Arbor Summer Festival, Saturday, June 30, through Tuesday, July 24, at the University of Michigan. Performances will be given at the Power Center for the Performing Arts, the Mendelssohn Theatre and the Rackam Auditorium.

The new performing arts festival will precede the ever-popular Ann Arbor Street Art Fair, which runs from Wednesday, July 25, through Saturday, July 28, on the U-M campus in Ann Ar-

"People are choosing four or five differents things from the 35 events," he said.

"THE FIRST 500 orders came from predominantly the Ann Arbor area. Now orders are coming from Toledo, Canada and the rest of Michigan."

Among these ticket orders are ones from the western and northern suburbs he Observer & Eccentric serves. "We have a comfortable lead in the initial sale," Rector said. "Something is purchased for everything. We have es of two different programs. The first 40,000 now in ticket sales. If someone Copland's "Appalachian Spring" is part of the opening program and, as a special feature, will be performed for the first time with slides of Appalachia projected on large screens.

The Festival Chorus will close the program with Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe."

"MARCEAU WILL be with Entremont at a special reception for people at the $100 benefit," Rector said. Of the $100, $25 goes for the ticket, $25 for food and $50 is tax-deductible, he said. Idea for the festival originated back

By Barbara Michata special writer

Despite its tongue-in-cheek assertions of carrying weighty messages about capitalism and labor relations. "The Pajama Game" is a good, old-fashioned, fun musical. The current production by the Farmington Players is a spirited rendering of this longtime favor-

In a small Midwestern town in the 1950s, the new superintendent at the Sleep Tite Pajama Factory falls in love with a member of the union grievance committee. When the workers eventually go on strike over a 7 2 cent hourly pay hike, the lovers are divided by heir loyalties.

Jim Austin is likeable as Sid, the superintendent whose strong sense of fair play leads him to investigate the company's profits He ends the strike by exposing the factory president's financial double dealings Though Austin falters on his first song. "A New Town Is a Blue

"own," he warms on numbers like the rousing "There Once Was a Man" and the haunting ballad "Hey There."

JULIE AUSTIN is well-cast as Babe, the spunky union member who won't back down on her principles, even for the man she loves. Her pleasant singing voice works well in the lively numbers, "I'm Not at All in Love" and "Seven and One-Half Cents," plus the duet There Once Was a Man" and the reprise of "Hey There."

Lou Emmert is masterfully funny as Hines, the company's efficiency expert. A former professional knife-thrower, Hines is a force to be reckoned with whenever his flirtatious girlfriend arouses his jealousy. Emmert's expressive face seems in perpetual motion, and his eyes convey so much they almost deserve separate billing.

Emmert's tremendous talent tuins "Ill Never Be Jealous Again" into a comic gem, as Hines tries to wrestle with his rampant emotions. In "Think of the Time I Save," he merrily pokes fun at his own penchant for efficiency and such time-savers as sleeping with his clothes on and shaving in bed.

As Gladys, the object of Hines' affections, Pam Clelland is delightfully saucy, belting out "Steam Heat" or enticing Sid to "Herando's Hideaway " Her comedic timing nicely complements Emmert's

Jack Grulke is appealing as the irrepressible womanizer Prez. the union president who generally forgets that he is a married man. What Grulke lacks in vocal ability he makes up for in spirit in the outrageously coy "Her Is" sung to various females he pur-sues and the "Seven and One-Half Cents" duet with Babe

LORI TUPPER is fine as Mabel, Sid's gossip-loving secretary. and she asserts a strong stage presence as she teases Hines in the duet "I'll Never Be Jealous Again."

As Hasler, president of the company, George Uridge is convincingly blustery. Musical director Phil Hadley has the lively chorus and threepiece orchestra sounding good. Director and choreographer Cynhia Doehler cannot be faulted. The show is well-paced, dance numbers seem effortlessly smooth, stage space is well utilized and most performances are nicely polished. Bob Batistoni's one-dimensional sets work surprisingly well, and costumes look true-to-period without going overboard into parody

As fate would have it, three of the originally scheduled singers canceled out, and among those, tenor Veriano performance, due to a cold, a phenomenon that is quite rampant these days.

The "Dies Irae" chorus, which is repeated several times during the work, is always noted for it's spectacular effects. But these effects persisted throughout the other portions of the composition, in varying shades and nuances. There were moments of ecstasy that don't lend themselves to verbal discriptions.

The performance was followed by a prolonged applause, swelling in intensity, and a standing ovation. It was the longest and most overwhelming response that one could recall here in the recent seasons.

South Pacific: islands of enchantment Cruise ship takes travelers to fabled world

By William Schemme special writer

HEN I WAS a schoolboy. bounding with buccaneers o'er the storybook seas of Robert Louis Stevenson, I of course, had no foreknowledge that some years later - on one of those turning-point birthdays - I would be huffing up a steaming jungle trail in Western Samoa to the mountaintop where the immortal storyteller lays at rest

His moving "Requiem," carved on a simple tomb, reads; Under the wide and starry sky, Dig the grave and let me lie Glad did I live and gladly die And I laid me down with a will

This is the verse you grave for me, Here he lies where he longed to be: Home is the sailor, home from the sea

And the hunter home from the hill

At the base of Mount Vaea spreads Vailima, the spacious bungalow where Stevenson spent his final five years. "Absolute balm for the weary," he pro claimed the lush volcanic Samoan Islands

With Treasure Island, Dr. Jekyll and Mr Hyde and other classics behind him, he wrote finish to his career with such works as The Beach of Falesa, A Footnote to History and The Ebb Tide

When he died at Vailima in 1894, of a brain hemorrhage while blending mayonnaise in his kitchen, grief-striken Samoans carried their beloved Tusitala (Teller of Tales) in solemn procession up the Road of Loving Hearts to the gravesite

From this peaceful aerie spreads not only a wide and starry sky, but a vast and majestic Pacific. At rest now, the Royal Viking Star, the vessel which brought us to this far-off corner, shimmers in the blinding early morning sun of Polynesia.

EHIND US lay fabled lands Tahiti, Moorea, Bora Bora, Pago Pago. Still ahead on this two-week voyage are Fiji, New Caledonia, New Hebrides and, finally Australia

Between ports o' call, the Star is welcome retreat, a cushy place to unwind, be shamelessly indulged and smugly ponder unfortunate friends laboring in stuffy offices thousands of miles away.

True to its reputation as one of the world's premier cruise lines, Royal Viking's food, service, accommodations and entertainment is first-class in all respects

For many a passenger, days at sea begin with a jog or a brisk walk around the decks just after dawn, followed by coffee, fresh fruit and Danishes. Next comes full breakfast in the dining room, then mid-morning bouillon, a splash in the salt water pool, early-bird cocktails, hamburgers and a mind-bog-

Early on a Monday morning it all comes to a bittersweet finale. Out of the ebony pre-dawn gleam a million pinpoints of light. The soaring skyline, Harbour Bridge and clam shell fantasy of the Opera House proclaim the Royal Viking Star's entry to Sydney and Australia and the end of the voyage.

For those disembarking, however, this is the beginning of a totally new adventure. We'll linger awhile, and taste the sophisticated pleasures of Sydney: lodge ourselves in the splendid new Regent Hotel, enjoy a night at the Opera, languid days on the beaches, then head for the fabled Outback, to "A Town Like Alice," Ayers Rock, dingoes, wallabies, 'roos, the aborginals, and all that lot. But that, as they say, is another story.

The heavy afternoon schedule calls for bridge, bingo, deck tennis, more time in the pool, and a deck chair snooze to store up energy for the evening's activities.

An elaborate American/continental dinner, with wines and champagnes, leads to floor shows, dancing, roulette and one-armed bandits in the casino, movies in the theater, or on closed-circuit in the privacy of one's own state-

At midnight, a tempting buffet appears, and the evening winds down with late-night drinks and a stroll around the open decks under the winking lights of the Southern Cross.

HILE A two-week cruise is usually ample for most of us, a surprising number make ships like the Royal Viking Star a virtual home away from home. At the end of this South Pacific cruise, for example, many stay aboard and sail on to Singapore, Bali, Japan, Hong Kong, China and back to Tahiti and Australia

For those accustomed to cruising the well-traveled waters of the Caribbean, the South Pacific is a refreshing new adventure. Because cruise ship calls are infrequent is these far-flung islands, Polynesians and Melanesians have not turned cynical and hostile a la the Bahamas and Virgin Islands. Visitors are treated with warmth and hospitality, and tipping violates most local traditions.

Physically, the islands are among the loveliest places anywhere on earth. Volcanic mountains jut emerald green and fantasy-like from waters of incredible blues Waterfalls cascade out of tropical rain forests. Lagoons and virgin beaches are rimmed by stands of leaning palms. Orchids and bougainvillaea run all. Early in the century oell la u Somerset Maugham took a ship from Honolulu for this exotic backwater of what's now American Samoa.

Also aboard was one Miss Sadie Thompson, whose yeasty repute had led to forcible expulsion from Hawaii. At Pago Pago, Maugham spun a tale called "Rain" around Miss Sadie, and she thus joined the immortals of her profession

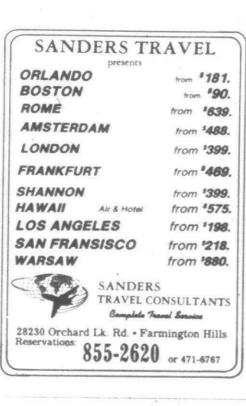

If you'd like to see the boardinghouse where this took place, look among the mangoes and colorful fabrics at what's now Max Haleck Store No. 3 on the main road. The Rainmaker Hotel honors this renowned lady with its Sadie Thompson Room.

Fiji takes the prize as the friendliest and most colorful of the South Pacific Islands. The handsome, easy-going na tive Fijians - "the gentle giants of the Pacific" - share their islands with Europeans, Chinese, and East Indians initially brought here by the British as indentured servants.

"Bula!" In the village, and on the crowded streets of Suva, the largest city and port o' call, this exuberant Fijian hello rings out time and again, always accompanied by a winning smile. Away from major towns, Fijians live much as their ancestors did, in a thatched-roofed bures, where the chief's word is life and death.

As the Star prepares to sail from Suva, the Royal Fiji Police Band as-sembles at dockside. Elegant in their long, saw-toothed white skirts and crisp blue jackets, they parade along the pier, stirring up waves of homesickness with an Elvis Presley medley, Broadway showtunes, and "Georgia On My Mind." Finally, as the ship pulls away, they pull out all the emotion stops with "Tsele," the stirring Fijian song of aloha.

Art show stars home talent

A surrealistic acrylic presentation of shapes, painted by a Warren artist, took first prize Sunday in the third Livonia Purchase Award Invitational Art Show

Carl Angevine, a painter for 30 years and an art teacher for the Detroit Public Schools adult education program, received a $1,000 check for his acrylic entited "Domain of the Basic Shapes" at an awards presentation attended by nearly 200 people on Sunday in Livonia City Hall.

Angevine, who recently adapted his style of painting from abstract to surrealism, said he is having so much fun with his new style that he plans to stick with it.

"It's a good idea to experiment with different ideas," said Angevine, who entered three paintings in the invitational. Two were accepted.

THE WARREN artist has been painting and exhibiting his work since he was 15. He graduated from the Cen-ter for Creative Studies and said his work is a credit to such teachers as Sarkis Sarkesian and Guy Pallazola.

Angevine's work will become part of the public art gallery (Gallery V) on the fifth-floor at Livonia City Hall. The invitational, entered by more than 200 Michigan artists, is sponsored by the Livonia Cultural League, a non-profit group comprised of members interest ed in promoting the arts, in conjunctior with the Livonia Arts Commission.

SOME 93 works of art were selected for the show which was judged by Haw kins Ferry and William Bostick both of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

In addition to Angevine's painting the arts selection committee also will purchase two works which received honorable mention - "Night Lights" by Edee Joppich of Farmington Hills and 'Just Sitting" by Mary Tomas of Troy.

Joppich is no stranger to area art circles. She teaches art classes for VAAL (Visual Arts Association of Livo nia) and is frequent lecturer and ar show judge. She has amassed a host o awards for her artwork and most re cently took first place honors in the Farmington Art Club's spring exhibit In 1978, she was named artist-in-resi dence by the Farmington Area Ar

"Night Lights" is a mixed media col lage which is part of a series of siz paintings Joppich completed for a one woman show earlier this year at Mon roe Community College.

Joppich says the collage is somewhat of a paradox. The tone is somber but a the same time the work expresses a high mood.

JOPPICH DOES much of her work these days in Northport on the Leelenau Penninsula where she paint: and works part-time in a family-owned gallery, Joppich's Bay Street Gallery

Tomas, a mother of two children received an honorable mention for her striking oil of a woman. Tomas, who earned a bachelor's degree in fine arts from Wayne State University in 1970 has been studying with Zubel Kacha-doorian in his Greektown studio for the last five years. A member of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association and Detroit Focus, Tomas enjoys using a lot of color and likes to work with the human figure as evidenced in the award-winning oil, "Just Sitting."

Tomas is a former art director at Campbell-Ewald, an advetising agency

OTHER ARTISTS receiving honor mention included Sherry Rhee Dexter for her mixed media "Brief Encounter in the Computer Room," David Aldrich of Traverse City for an oil Mare An Flander of Jackson for "Celestial Assemblage No. 2" a collage/watercolor with rice paper Phyllis H. By David Messing special writer

Did you ever notice how most men talk on the phone? There is quite a bit of "dead air" time, followed by short and to the point comments and then within minutes the phone is back on the hook.

I was on the phone for 10 minutes with my friend, Bob. My wife, noticing the time said, "Boy that's a pretty long conversation for you." She then began asking questions. "How are his girls "Did he get his pool installed doing? OK?

I said, "Gee. . I didn't ask." Sandy follows with, "How's his wife doing? Is she still working at the bank?" And I said "er. um. she's fine. I think and I don't know if she's still working." Somewhat puzzled, Sandy asked "Well what did you guys talk about?" By now wondering myself, I said "Just regular stuff.... What's the deal, I'm not takstuff. ing a test on this.

If you think I am a bit short on the phone you ought to see me write. After write each Artifacts column, my wife takes a pen and adds a whole bunch of "therefores" and "howevers." I 'ands' write about the way a student would take notes in a lecture class. But this article is right up my alley and that is, short questions and answers. Right to the point. Since I haven't been very regular about answering questions, I will from time to time, have one such as this to catch up.

Q: What is a good beginning color assortment?

A: THis is a very popular question usually asked with regards to oils, acrylics or watercolor. There are, as one representive told me, about 135 names for 75 basic colors. Each company feels they have rightly named the color regardless of the confusion it causes in the Art stores. The best way to start is to forget the names. Look at the tube colors and pick the truest red, yellow, blue, orange, green, brown and violet. Add to this a white and a black and it's paintin' time.

Q: Is it cheaper to stretch your own canvas?

A: I never really figured it out but if you only paint a dozen or so paintings a year, it would be better to buy canvas already stretched. I do know that unprimed canvas is more expensive than primed. So by the time you pay for the canvas stretcher strips and paint on a gesso prime coat, you are actually paying more than for the prestretched. Also in with the canvas, gesso and the stretcher strips you must figure the required tools, which are: hammer and tacks, pliers (that are made for stretching canvas), bandaids, gause, tetanus shot and asprins.

Q: What's the difference between oils and acrylics?

A: Briefly stated "oils" are pigment suspended in an oil base and "acrylics" are pigment suspended in a resin or plastic base. Oil thins with turpentine and acrylics thin with water. Oils dry very slowly and acrylics dry within 20 minutes. As far as ther finished product is concerned it is very difficult to distinguish between the two.

Q: Are children under 10 too young for art lessons? A: Not at all. The main concern is interest. It is purely a waste of time and money to take any kind of lessons if a childs' interest fades. One main goal for children under 10 is to learn to draw from photos or cartoons rather than drawing from their imagination

Children from 8 to middle teens have many interests and it is exciting to see which of those interests will develop into an ability. I remember one girl would come to art lessons straight from her violin lesson. She also had on leotards under her dress because right after art was her modern dance class.

I also remember her driver, I mean her Mother, who usually just sat out in the car looking a little tired and kind of slumped over the wheel, waiting. I think it is very important to not spread vourself too thin, even children.

That's why we have open end classes at the Art store. Especially needed for children. Their interests change so fast Students just pay when they come and if they want to take for four to eight weeks or two years it's totally up to them. I think most parents can tell if their child has an interest in art or not. But to answer your question, 10 is not too young

Q: How important is a portfolio?

A: A portfolio is everything. It is proof of what you can do. If you don't want to go to college, a good portfolic can land you a job. If you plan to attend college, decent grades and a good portfolio could earn you a scholarship. By the way, congratulations to Tom Gould and Lisa Rigstad, couple of our students at the Art Store, who won scholarships at Wayne State University.

> The best way to start is to forget the names. Look at the tube colors and pick the truest red, yellow, blue, orange, green, brown and violet. Add to this a white and a black, and it's paintin' time.

Q: What paint is best for clothing and tee shirt etc.?

Q: What is the difference between

A: Hot press and plate finish, mean a very smooth surface. Cold press, kid or

'hot press" and "cold press.

vellum means a rough surface.

A: Most paints sold for textiles ar acrylic paints in one form or another. Liquiter which is the pioneer of acrylic painting recommends to ensure permanance in textiles, add one teaspoon of gloss medium per three oz. of paint. Another brand name specifically formulated for textiles is Deka. This paint is opaque and thins beautifully for airbrushing.

Will, I have a half a dozen more questions to answer but I have to call Bob back and see how his girls are doin' and if his pool yet. etc. etc. is installed etc.

ound but Mitchell port s

By Avigdor Zaromp special writer

Renaissance Concerts series has been with us for several years, under the inspring leadership of it's founder/director, Misha Rachlevsky.

It was previously announced that Rachlevsky would be resigning his position with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to dedicate his full efforts to this venture, with a newly recruited permanent

The new group will be named "The Renaissance City Chamber Players." The schedule for next season under the new organization is being released. The series will consist of 20 concerts, each performed twice.

SUBSCRIBERS WILL have a choice of two full series options, four half series options and eight mini-series (five concerts), all performed at Orchestra Hall. The hall will be divided into three ections representng different prices.

Prices for Section III will be $65 for a full series. $35 for half a series and $22 for a mini-series, and prices for Section I will be about twice these mounts. There will be a liberal exchange policy. What can one expect to get for these prices' There will be a fair share of known compositions.

some as substantial as the piano quintets by Brahms and Schumann, a variety of works by Mozart, including two of his early piano concerti and Haydn's "Farewell" symphony, the concluding work on this series (but hopefully not suggesting the termination of it).

There will be some profound works that are lesser known, like the Chamber Symphony Op. 11 by Shostakovich and Concerto in D by Stravinsky and works by seldom performed composers like Michael Haydn, Tartini, Dorati (yes, that famous conductor) and more

THIS IS only a very partial list from a menu of more than 70 items, many of which are as significant as those mentioned

There is going to be a variety of guest artists, some local and some from the outside. In the latter category will be planist Ilse von Alpenheim, wife of Maestro Dorati, whose string quartet will also be performed on that program, pianist Boris Berman, cellist David Geringas and violinit Emanuel Borok. There will be several others who have appeared with the series, under it's old format, among those are Jonathan Shames, a finalist in the Tchaikovsky competition, Principal Detroit Symphony Orchestra oboist Donald Baker and, of course, Misha Rachlevsky. Other area musicians include pianists Pauline

Martin, Leszek Bartkievicz, Cameron Grant and one who has enriched many lives for the past 70 years - Mischa Kotler Again, this is only a partial list picked in random, and it should not be construed that those not mentioned here are less quali-

AMONG THE special programs in the series, one will feature Pergolesi's opera "La Serva Padrona." co-produced with Michigan Opera Theatre, a special program featuring women composers

(Clara Schumann, Fanny Mendelssohn, Alma Mahler and others,), an all-Vivaldi program and an almost all-Handel program on Handel's 300th birthday there will also be a special extra program dedicated to Bach's 300th birthday (that will be $3 extra in Section III) To illustrate how incomplete this description is

Beethoven is definitely represented even though not mentioned so far By all accounts, the number of leisurely hours not filled with musical events is dwindling very fast. The coming slower summer season could be our last opportunity to catch our breath.

Subscribers will have a choice of two full series options. four half series options and eight mini-series (five concerts), all performed at Orchestra Hall.
