The Canton Connection

CANTON NEEDS YOU to serve on the Downtown Development Authority Board of Directors — if you have an interest in the project and are willing to work without compensation for an indefinite term. DDA directors will promote the development of the township's newly created "downtown" (a 100-acre parcel along Ford Road between Sheldon and Morton-Taylor roads.) Appointments made by Supervisor James Poole are subject to approval by the township board. Interested persons should submit a brief resume to Canton Economic Director David Nicholson.

HUNTER SAFETY programs have been scheduled for kids ages 12-16 by the Canton Police Department in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. The DNR requires young hunters to be certified before obtaining a license.

The first program will consist of three sessions: 6-9 p.m. Aug. 25; 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Aug. 26 and 4-7 p.m. Aug. 27. The second class is slated for 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sept. 9 with a wrap-up session from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sept. 16. Classes will be at Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road. Students should bring lunches. All other materials will be provided. To register, call the Canton Police Dept. at 397-3000.

CANTON JAYCEES have been screened and approved by the Canton Chamber of Commerce to seek donations door-to-door for Muscular Dystrophy through Aug. 29.

TIME CAPSULE items still are needed, say project organizers. In keeping with Canton's Sesquicentennial festivities, the Time Capsule Committee plans to dedicate and bury a waterproof vault containing historically interesting items Saturday, Sept. 8 at the Historical Museum. The capsule will be unearthed on Canton's 200th birthday in 2034. "More than anything we want the items to reflect 1984," said Gloria Hammonds, a committee member. See story on page 1A for complete listing of items needed or call 455-9009.

ROLLER SKATERS and non-skaters are invited to a Muscular Dystrophy Skate-a-Thon at the Skatin' Station, 8611 Ronda Drive in Canton. They'll roll out at 8 Saturday evening — skating, winning prizes and soaking up fun and music until 8 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 26. For registration information on the event, which will fund the MDA patient services and research, call 381-3838 or 459-8400.

SPEAKING OF Muscular Dystrophy, a "Breaking for M.D. Dance," sponsored by McDonalds of Canton, is slated for 7 p.m. to midnight Friday, Aug. 24 at the Canton Recreation Hall at Michigan Ave. and Sheldon. Tickets, $3, will be available at the door or at McDonalds. In addition to dance and moonwalk contests and live music, Boy George, Cindy Lauper and Michael Jackson look-a-like competitions will be featured. Refreshments and prizes will be provided.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON Lions Junior Football Association is recruiting 9- and 10-year-old boys to fill out this fall's roster. For more information, call Tom Reed, unit director, at 397-0597.

Good tidings for taxpayers ahead

By Margaret Neubacher

No hikes in offing; hearing Sept. 11

Here's something Canton taxpayers can smile about.

Tentative township taxes to be levied in 1985 will be the same as 1984.

The township board set the tentative millage for police, fire and general funds at 9.13 mills last week.

Although all department budget reviews are not yet complete, Supervisor James Poole recommended the millage remain the same.

In past years, trustees have set tentative millages higher than what was finally levied.

"We usually go higher as a safety precaution, but I don't think we need to do that this year," said Trustee Robert Padgett.

It is easy to lower tentative millages, but raising them requires a long process of public notices and hearings, according to Finance Director Mike Gorman.

The next step in setting the township's 1985 budget will arrive with the presentation of the supervisor's budget to members of the board.

Public budget hearings and the setting of the final millages are scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 11.

1985 budget estimates, not including the water and sewer fund, show expenditures totalling a little more than $10 million.

Next year's anticipated expenditures are as follows: general fund — $3,723,624; fire — $1,589,750; police — $2,061,385; golf course — $185,000; public improvements — $600,000; building authority — $69,000; federal revenue sharing — $804,142; capital projects funds — $886,087; and street lighting fund — $136,326.

BECAUSE total costs for Canton's share of the Supersewer project are unknown, the water and sewer funds have not yet been estimated.

By law the general fund millage cannot exceed five mills. Next year Canton will levy 2 general fund mills.

There is no limit on the amount of police and fire millage the township can levy. Canton taxpayers will be levied 3.06 mills for fire and 4.07 for police protection.

Because of new construction in Canton, 1985 will bring a 1.9 percent increase in tax revenues, or $75,000, according to Gorman.

Staffing changes tentatively planned for 1985 include: a half-time employee for the personnel, finance, grants and economic growth departments, and an additional planning department staffer.

Proposed for the police department is the addition of seven and a half employees — a dispatcher, patrolman, corporal, sergeant, lieutenant, deputy chief and staff services supervisor.

Four-and-a-half additional employees tentatively are planned for the fire department and two employees for the Department of Public Works.

1985 millage-revenue projections show that for every mill levied in the township, $510,197 is collected for the general fund and $482,650 is collected for the police and fire fund.

Pavillon preview

Construction of the Canton Historical Society's new pavilion was proceeding fast and furiously Friday. Plans called for its completion by the next day's Sesquicentennial Old Fashioned Ice Cream Social and Sweet Corn and Melon Sale. Things slowed down temporarily when a building inspector happened by. He noticed shingles being put down minus the required weatherproofing layer of tarred felt. Builders Dan Wampler and Doug Kennedy already had laid about a third of the shingles when bad news greeted them. The free-standing pavilion, just south of the museum on Canton Center Road, will house the Society's collection of antique tools and farm implements.

Canton to bury itself soon in waterproof time capsule

By Margaret Neubacher
staff writer

1984 isn't over yet, but Canton has plans to bury it soon.

A "time capsule" containing assorted items representative of Canton life in 1984 will be buried at the Historical Museum at 11 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 8.

The event is in keeping with Canton's Sesquicentennial festivities. Plans are to dig up the capsule 50 years from now, on the occasion of Canton's "Bi-centennial."

Speeches by Canton's consultant planner, James Kosetava and possibly Supervisor James Poole are planned for the burial ceremonies. Songs about time will be played by "Argosy," a

Police alert I-275 bikers

Police advise users of the I-275 bike path to be cautious in light of five recent attacks on women there.

The most recent attack involved a 27-year-old Canton woman who was sexually assaulted while jogging south on the path Aug. 7.

The subject ran up behind the woman, grabbed her by the arm and pulled her into a nearby wooded area where he sexually assaulted her, police said.

The victim described the subject as a white male, approximately 35 years old, 150 pounds, with short brown hair. A composite sketch of the subject closely matches an earlier drawing made after the summer's first three bike path attacks.

"We have two suspects' names and are trying to contact them. When we do we'll take their pictures for the victims to see," said Canton acting-Lt. Alex Wilson.

The police are getting a number of tips and are following up on leads, according to Wilson.

A second subject has been identified in one of the attacks. He is described as a white, in his mid-20's with light brown fuzzy hair, brown eyes and wire-rimmed glasses.

Police speculate that the second vic-

The bike path will remain open, but police surveillance has increased, Wilson said.

Hanging out Kellogg Park after dark

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Where do you go for fun on a warm summer night when you're between the ages of 13 and 20 and live in the Plymouth-Canton community?

You don't want to stay at home with mom and dad but you're not old enough to enjoy the adult night spots around town. So you head to Kellogg Park.

Night after night teen-agers gather at the downtown Plymouth park as they have in years past.

Like those who preceded them, today's "younger set" comes to the park by foot, on bikes and in cars. They gather to talk, have fun, and see each other.

WHAT IS DIFFERENT from years past is the feeling of mutual respect between the park-goers and the officers who police the park.

"It's a good, cheap place for them to congregate," said Plymouth Police Lt. Dan Carpenter. "As long as they can do it reasonably, that's great."

"In years past, we had a couple hundred kids out in the park and they really pushed things."

"This year the first thing our mid-night shift officers do is go out and close the park."

Carpenter said the teens police themselves. He said they know the police could get tough with them if they get out of line.

"We respect one another's position. In some cities the police tell kids to move and if they don't, they hit them with a club. That's not the way we do things out here," he said.

FOOT HEALTH TODAY
DR. JAMES SCHELBERG
PODIATRIST
WALKING YOUNG
QUESTION: My wife says I walk much older than my years. Does a person's walk change as he gets older?
ANSWER: It's often not a matter of age but a physical condition, including the condition of your feet. If your feet are causing you discomfort or pain, your gait may make you look older than your years. By the same token, even an older person, if his body and feet are in good condition, can seem much younger. Walking with a spring to your feet, with a jaunty rhythm and ease, is to walk young. It can also make you feel young. Almost all foot problems can be overcome. You may have a tendency toward hammer toes or bunions, for example, but that doesn't mean you have to live with them. Your podiatrist can treat you for these and other conditions.

Who's in the park after dark?

A RECENT visit to the park revealed that the teen-agers know the rules and know the police have a job to do when they enforce those rules.
"They're just doing their job," said one park-goer from Livonia. He said it's only a few at the park who create the problems.
The other night I was out here and some guy came running through and busted one of those globes on the lights. Me and my buddies were going to go after him, but we didn't want to start any trouble," he said.
Others shouted for some drivers on Pennington to slow down, while some else told a driver blowing his horn to "shut-up."
Most of the activity at the park centered on talking with friends, possibly smoking a cigarette and watching the cars pass on Pennington, or listening to music and playing Frisbee.
There was some alcohol, but no one appeared to be drinking excessively. Most of those approached were friendly and anxious to discuss the park.
"There's some alcohol around here, but the kids drinking it aren't out of control," another park-goer said. "You can look around and see that no one is laying around drunk or needing help."
OTHERS FOCUSED on the park as a social spot, saying they need someplace to go.
"I'll keep coming to the park until the police completely close it down."

Then I'll just have to find another place to go until they close that," a Plymouth teen-ager said.
"We use to make narcotics arrests in the park," Carpenter said. "The narcotics aren't out there now."
"We get an occasional open liquor violation. But out at the park it's mostly local kids just getting together."
Kellogg Park is a better place for teen-agers to go than other local spots, he said. An example is the field off Ridge Road in Plymouth Township.
Carpenter said the trails out in that field make it a very dangerous spot.
"There was a death out there last year," he said. "That's state land now and we go out there and patrol it. Anyone we find out there is trespassing and they are ticketed."
Another hot spot not encouraged is the Burroughs parking lot on Plymouth Road.
"On graduation night there were a lot of kids out there and one kid got hit in the head with a beer bottle," he said.
KEEPING KELLOGG Park under control didn't come without some grief, however.
Carpenter said the police have written quite a few tickets to enforce and establish the closing time. They also have done some plainclothes work.
A total of 18 tickets have been written thus far this month in the park and on adjacent Main Street. Eleven of the tickets were for consuming alcohol in the park, two for possession of alcohol by minors, and five for such items as drunk driving, playing music too loud, urinating in public, and open alcohol in a car.

Most of the tickets were written for Canton and Plymouth residents, with several for residents from Redford, Garden City, Livonia and Farmington Hills. Almost all the tickets were written after 11 p.m. — after police close the park.
"Kids being kids, we realize they get involved in some things up there. They smoke grass up there and we know it," Carpenter said. "If we see it, we do something about it. But the kids are not dumb — they hide it."
Yet Carpenter, also the department's youth officer, says the opportunities available to teen-agers in the park aren't any different than those they face elsewhere, including the schools.

"As parents we must teach them and guide them and hope they make good decisions in life."
"I wouldn't even consider the park a trouble spot. It's a place we watch, but we have a mutual understanding with the kids — we can control it," he said.
"At 11 p.m. they either head home or someplace out of Plymouth and Plymouth Township."

Staff photos by Bill Bresler

Part of the night (at right) is spent watching for friends "hanging" on Plymouth's Pennington Avenue. But many simply opt for (left) having a cigarette and talking with those you know at the park.

Many of those who regularly go to Kellogg Park in Plymouth view it as a way of "keeping kids off the streets." But not all, like the woman above, agree the park should close at 11 p.m.

for your information

Paving the way for industry

Final phase of Haggerty improvement project OK'd

By Margaret Neubacher, staff writer

The township board approved a $1.4-million paving contract submitted by lowest bidders for the final phase of the Haggerty Improvement Project last week.

Tony Angelo Concrete Construction Co. was awarded the $1,392,325 construction contract. Other bids submitted by B & V Construction, Inc. and Champagne-Webster Inc. came in at $1,392,000 and $1,392,000 higher than Angelo.

Canton Economic Development Director David Nicholson originally estimated the paving project would cost approximately $1.6 million. "I was most pleased with the bids," said Nicholson.

The Wayne County Road Commission approved to Angelo's paving contract last week. Because of a joint planning agreement between the WRC and Canton, the commission's approval was necessary.

Canton's initial payment for the project is 10 percent of the contract amount, plus $20,000. Payment is made upon approval of the construction contract.

Paving will begin on Haggerty near the end of this month with completion set for November.

Haggerty Road between Ford and Koppernick will be paved. In addition a broad sweeping curve will be put into Haggerty. Presently there is a break in Haggerty at Warren. That will be eliminated in the upcoming paving project, explained Nicholson.

Upon completion of the paving, plans for Phase 2 of the Haggerty Road Improvement Project will get under way.

Paving will extend from Koppernick north to Joy Road, but completion of the second phase is not expected until 1987. Nicholson anticipates some resistance to the second phase of the project.

Creation of a special assessment districts and right-of-way problems caused a variety of "irritations," or inconveniences for property owners, in the first phase, according to Nicholson. Those same concerns could plague the next phase, he says.

Drunk driving arrests drop during July

Canton drunk driving arrests dropped 60 percent in July from June totals, according to figures recently released by the Police Department.

Thirty-eight citations were issued for drunk driving in July. In June, 60 were written.

Reasons for the decrease are twofold, said Police Chief Jerry Cox.

"Right now seven people are off on sick leave or vacation and we ran out of grant money for the program," said Cox.

The State Office of Highway

Planning and Safety provides grant money for drunk driving arrest programs. Canton receives its share of the annual grant through Wayne County.

"The money is used for staff overtime, gas, and oil," said Canton Grants Coordinator Terry Carroll.

Canton should receive its 1985 grant shortly after the first of October, according to Carroll.

The way it was in '84 preserved in capsule

Canton band, and refreshments will be served.

A cement cake vault donated by the Detroit-Wilmette Vault Corp. will be used for the time capsule.

"They advertise their vaults as waterproof," said Gloria Hammonds, a member of Canton's Time Capsule Committee.

SEVERAL ITEMS still are needed for the 1984 memorabilia-filled capsule, according to the committee. "We want the capsule to reflect 1984 more than anything," said Hammonds.

Donations of best-selling books (fiction or non-fiction) any edition of Trivial Pursuit, Barbie and Ken dolls in 1984 clothes, G.I. Joe and other hero dolls for boys, best-selling records and tapes, a Cabbage Patch doll and a Care Bear are still needed.

The name of the donor will be put with the item donated, says Hammonds. "If people have other suggestions for the capsule we'd like to hear them."

The committee already has a variety of items for preservation.

At last week's township board meeting, Hammonds told trustees someone donated Michael Jackson's "Thriller" video.

"I KNOW MANY fathers who'd like to donate that tape," quipped Poole.

"I agree," said Trustee Stephen Larson, "but wonder what father would like to donate a Cabbage Patch doll."

Kidding aside, the committee is serious about preserving a bit of history in the capsule.

Three families, who are on the time capsule committee, are donating a month's worth of bills to the cause.

"They're paid (bills) of course," said Hammonds. "Each family lives in a different part of the township, in different ent kinds of houses and we thought it would be interesting to see how much it cost to live in Canton in 1984."

Interested persons may contact the committee at 455-9009.

'Lifeline' electric rates put on hold

By Penny Wright, special writer

A state effort to end so-called "Lifeline" electricity rates has been placed on hold, at least until fall, by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Attorney General Frank Kelley, the only intervenor in the PSC rate case, asked the delay in order to study a tentative rate agreement reached by the PSC staff and Detroit Edison Co.

Under Lifeline, electric customers are charged a lower kilowatt hour rate for basic household service. The plan is intended to promote energy conservation by charging higher user households higher rates.

"The attorney general contends that the proposed rate changes would promote more electric usage, not conservation," said Hugh Anderson, who represented Kelley's office in PSC hearings. "Detroit Edison is still dominated by engineer types whose work ethic is to build power plants."

THE HEARINGS began Aug. 8. They are scheduled to resume Sept. 11.

First adopted by Detroit Edison at the direction of the Michigan Legislature and PSC in September of 1981, Lifeline rates depart from the previous flat-rate structure. They based the amount paid for electricity on the number of permanent residents in a household and the amount of electricity used.

According to PSC staff member Jane Ashley, the proposed rate changes make possible a fairer distribution of costs related to providing electrical power to Detroit Edison's 1.5-million residential customers.

She said the final PSC decision will not result in higher total revenues for Edison, but more likely result in some customers paying more while others pay less.

ASHLEY DESCRIBED the proposed rate structure as including:

- A minimum service charge of 15 cents per day for basic costs of meter, billing and line service.
- A modified inverted rate structure which would charge a certain price for the first 510 kilowatt hours (kwh) per month. If more than 510 kwh are used, the price would go up a half-cent.
- Use of family size to determine rates would be discontinued. Critics charge the practice invades privacy.
- Senior citizens would have residential rate options for water, space heating and central air conditioning.

Ashley said the "inverted" rate — where larger users pay more per kwh — assesses a slight penalty for higher electrical consumption in contrast to Lifeline rates.

Asked if that would encourage conservation, the PSC staffer answered, "The strongest signal is what the total bill reads."

CURRENT LIFELINE rates, approved March 31, 1981 by the PSC, are broken into two categories. They are:

- Two residents or fewer — 6.56 cents for each of the first 12 kwh, 9.94 cents for each of the next nine kwh, and 13.35 cents for anything more than 21 kwh.
- Three or more residents — 6.56 cents for each of the first 17 kwh, 9.94 for each of the next 10 kwh, and 13.35 cent for anything over 27 kwh.

Major criticism of current rates comes from high users who complain that the "tail-block" — the highest consumption rate — is too steep.

DETROIT EDISON officials point out that the severe rise in rates at the tailblock is the steepest in the nation. Edison doesn't believe the structure has produced the intended effect.

"The original intent of Lifeline rate structure was to foster conservation and help low-income families," said Allan Pert, director of customer relations services at Detroit Edison.

"The structure did not recognize that there are valid reasons for large consumption for certain customers."

Pert cited a study of 600 welfare families which showed that public-assistance households used more than 604 kwh per month. In contrast, average non-welfare families used only 500 kwh per month.

Reasons for the difference: Welfare recipients usually live in poorly insulated homes and cannot afford to go out so often. "Lower-income people spend more time in the home and consume more electricity," Pert said.

THE MICHIGAN Legislature prompted the new look at Lifeline when it passed, on April 12, PA 159, a mandatory requirement that the PSC set a Lifeline rate structure.

Now the PSC can set any rate structure — even Lifeline — as long as that rate promotes energy conservation and is based on the cost of providing service.

Anderson of the attorney general's office said Detroit Edison doesn't have proof its proposed rate structure will promote conservation.

"Interestingly," Anderson said, "Edison in other rate cases has shown that significant conservation has been brought about by Lifeline rates. Now, are they trying to tell us that those studies are a fraud?"

CHOOSING CRUTCHES OR A WALKER

Previously I discussed the use of a cane in treating arthritic conditions. Today's column will consider when it is appropriate to employ crutches or a walker.

If you can't bear weight on a leg, or both legs are weak, then crutches may be in order. If you lack hand and arm strength or you have poor balance, then you would benefit from a walker.

There are two types of crutches: axillary and non-axillary. The axillary type are pressed against the side of your chest wall about two inches below the armpit. Non-axillary crutches use the forearm to distribute the weight of the body, and for many people, are more comfortable than axillary crutches. In both types you should have pads at the areas of contact between the crutch and the body.

In walkers, look for one that is light weight, adjustable in height, has a wide base, and can be folded for transport in a car.

If you have arthritis, wheelchairs should be avoided. Too often their use leads to knees that are frozen in the flexed position. As a result walking becomes impossible, and usual corrective surgical procedures are precluded.

Antics Olympic Committee pulled on Detroit

Like countless thousands of others who kept their eyes focused on the television screen while the Summer Olympics were in progress, each time the action turned to the Coliseum, The Stroller wondered how such an amphibater would fit into downtown Detroit.

Dreaming? No. It may not be remembered by the present generation but such an amphibater was headed for Detroit and would have been built for the summer games in 1968, if the executive committee of the United States Olympic Committee hadn't made one of its political moves and counted Detroit out after it had been named as the bidding city.

In 1967, the Detroit bid for the summer games was made and Detroit seemed assured that the Motor City would play host to the big event.

In fact all sorts of plans were made and the late Jerome P. Cavanagh, then mayor of Detroit, was leaving no stone unturned to make the big event a source of a rebuilding of the Detroit area.

In the plans was a huge stadium, somewhere in the neighborhood of Wayne State University. And had the Olympic committee kept its word the entire downtown area would have undergone a drastic change.

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

One of the most forceful of the Detroit Committee to get behind the games was Fred Matthei, then the president of the mythical Linsdale College. And to start the ball rolling, he presented the present fieldhouse to Wayne State.

Along with these plans, good use was found for the State Fairgrounds for the equestrian events and the Detroit River was only a few blocks away for the swimming and boating events.

Then came the jolt. Without a bit of warning Mayor Cavanagh was notified that the executive committee of the Olympic body had changed its action and instead of awarding the games to Detroit, bids were opened again.

THIS MEANT that forces inside were working against Detroit and Mayor Cavanagh made an earnest plea to have the latest action canceled to give Detroit the games.

In The Stroller's files, he found a copy of a letter Mayor Cavanagh sent to the Olympic Committee in which he stated that the latest action was unwarranted and unsportsmanlike and that it was based on information furnished by an unsportsmanlike competitor — the city of Los Angeles and the state of California. He added that Detroit and Michigan would carry out all commitments to act as host of the games. But his plea went unheeded.

Can you imagine what Detroit would be like if the plea had been honored? We would have a giant stadium in downtown Detroit. There would have been no need to build the Silverdome in Pontiac and all the Detroit teams — including the Lions and Pistons — would still be playing before the 'home' folks.

Nothing would have been the same once the games were held here.

But the Olympic Committee long has been noted for unusual decisions and the spurning of Detroit after it had been named the bid city is one of the worst in Olympic history.

Tallying debts a frightening prospect to consider

A friend of mine, who shall remain anonymous since most of my friends prefer it that way, has decided to consolidate her debts. An admirable undertaking to say the least.

In order to consolidate one's debts, I assume that you must first write them all down on a sheet of paper and tally the figures in order to see exactly how much of your life's blood rightfully belongs to others. This first step alone is much too frightening for me to give the prospect any further consideration. I would become so depressed I'd probably just walk around and cry a lot and not be able to speak for weeks. This would not be good.

As my friend explained the procedure to me, it's all very simple and really the intelligent thing to do. First we're planning to take out a loan to pay off our debts. The loan is at a much lower rate of interest than our credit cards, plus the loan payment is $400 less per month than the amount we are paying out now. Of course we have to destroy our credit cards.

"Say, what?" I shouted. "What exactly do you mean 'destroy' your credit cards?"

"Well," she calmly replied, "you know, we'll just cut them in half or something."

I ALMOST fainted at the mere thought of it. I know that if I were to cut one of my credit cards I would surely bleed! The thought of having them all taken from me in one fell swoop, well, there's just no doubt about it, I would have to check into a detoxification center for credit card withdrawal. The entire process could take months.

I tried to remain calm as I presented my friend with the option of "what if you need money for something?"

"Like what?" she replied.

"Oh, I don't know. The usual — $600 worth of repairs on your car. The refrigerator dies and has to be replaced. Stuff like that. How can you possibly come up with that kind of cash at a moment's notice without using credit?" I asked naively.

"But we'll have all that extra money each month," was her sensible answer. "I don't know. The whole thing still sounds pretty spooky to me. I know for a fact that my family could very easily order $400 worth of pizzas each month if we had the extra money lying around. When it came time for car repairs we'd have nothing but empty pizza boxes to show for our financial statement.

I wish my friend all the luck in the world, and I truly hope her decision to consolidate her debts proves to be a fruitful one. Meanwhile, like Linus with his blanket, I prefer to hold onto these wonderful cards. I may not be financially practical, but at least I still have a beautiful relationship with my Penney's catalog.

Board approves hiring of 2 DPW laborers

Two full-time laborers will be hired to beef up Canton's Department of Public Works staff, which currently is "spread too thin," according to DPW Director Jake Dingley.

"They will help keep up with daily work and catch up with other assignments the township has given high priority," said Dingley.

The township board unanimously approved hiring for the two positions last week. Support for Dingley's staffing request came from Personnel Director Dan Durack.

"The department has been running pretty short for a while now," said Durack. "Over the past two or three years, three full-time DPW employees have quit and not been replaced."

The laborers will earn $9.13 per hour and work a 40-hour week.

"We have tried to pick up the slack by hiring part-time personnel," Dingley said. "However, with the union contract only allowing 90-day positions it makes it impossible and not feasible to train part-time people."

By the time temporary employees are trained, they must leave and the hiring and training start all over again, says Durack.

"We've gone through three sets of temporaries just to maintain the parks this summer," said Dingley.

Functions of the DPW include water and sewer operations along with man-hole restorations, water taps, drain programs and garbage pickup. In addition, the DPW is given a variety of responsibilities from other departments, according to Dingley.

clarification

A story on the dedication of the "Welcome to Canton" corner at Joy and Sheldon roads should have said a $750 sign was purchased by the Beautification Committee from Value Signs by Design. Attending the ceremony were committee officers Gerald Brown and Pat Whalen, members Pamela Swiderek and Arlene Woods, and several scouts. Joining a host of Boy and Cub Scouts was Girl Scout Troop No. 860.

An item in a recent Canton Connection column should have said Constantine Kordis of Canton recently was honored in Lansing for his support of Child and Family Services of Michigan Inc.

Are ugly people bad? Why dodge them?

Those of us who were not fortunate enough to be born a perfect "10" are taught to take consolation in the old adage that "Beauty is only skin deep." It's a comforting thought — but do we really believe it?

Our attitudes when encountering people who are physically attractive and people who are physically deformed suggest that, deep down, we believe that outer appearance is a good indication of what the inner person is really like.

We have a tendency to assume that beautiful people are virtuous and competent, that deformed individuals are somehow defective and different.

RESEARCHERS from Gettysburg College recently studied the attitudes of 124 college students toward female rape victims. Students consistently indicated that the unattractive women were more responsible for the assault than were the attractive victims.

Students tended to judge the unattractive women's dress and behavior to be provocative. Research participants also were more inclined to see personality flaws in the unattractive victims than in their attractive counterparts.

Although male students were more biased than female students, both sexes displayed the general tendency to attribute innocence to the attractive victims.

In addition to demonstrating a subtle bias against the unattractive, this study also underscores some problems encountered in our legal system when a rape victim presses charges against her assailant.

It is possible that a jury tends to be less convinced about a rapist's guilt psychology

when the victim is unattractive? Will a jury tend to be more inclined to find a defendant guilty if the victim is attractive because, "how could this beautiful young woman possibly lie about something so hideous?"

HOW WOULD you react if a person with a permanent disfigurement of the face stood next to you at a bus stop? Would your reaction be any different if the person's disfigurement were obviously temporary, perhaps scars and bruises as the result of a recent accident?

Remember, now, beauty — or the lack of it — is only skin deep. Well, if you're similar to the 450 London pedestrians recently observed by British researchers, you probably would try to keep a distance from the disfigured person, especially if the person were permanently disfigured.

In the British study, pedestrians on a busy street were observed as they stood alongside one of three people: either a person with a birthmark under the right eye, a person with scarring and bruising under the right eye, or a person with no disfigurement.

The pedestrians stood an average of 39 inches from the person with the birthmark, 31 inches from the scarred and bruised person and 22 inches from the undisfigured person.

The pedestrians tended to stand on the left side of the disfigured persons (the normal side) more often than when standing next to the undisfigured person. Those pedestrians who did stand on the disfigured side maintained an even greater distance than the averages reported above.

I ASSUME that most of these London pedestrians did not fear that the deformity was contagious. "Nevertheless, they stood almost twice as far away from the permanently disfigured person as from the undisfigured person."

It appears that there was an unconscious assumption that something about these disfigured persons should be avoided.

Beauty may be only skin deep, but there exists within most of us a subtle prejudice favoring the attractive. This quick of human nature is unfortunate, for it may easily blind us to the true and lasting beauty that may exist within any person.

Dr. Sugrue, a clinical psychologist at Henry Ford Hospital, welcomes questions for future articles. Questions of general interest, and topics may be submitted in care of this newspaper.

Cable users get sesqui-buck in bill

Omnicom subscribers will find a special coupon included with next month's bill. The coupon is a "Sesqui-Buck" good for $1.50 off on any single bid for an item during the Canton 150 Fund Auction.

Omnicom is offering Sesqui-Bucks along with September's bills. Auction Chairwoman and Omnicom Program Director Suzanne Skubick said the company wanted to help promote the auction and make the watching and bidding a little more fun.

"We thought it would be a nice idea to give $1.50 off on one item bid per coupon to celebrate Canton's 150th Birthday. This extra incentive is available to our subscribers through their billing. However, if area residences don't subscribe to cable, but plan to watch the auction elsewhere, viewers may pick up Sesqui-Bucks at our office on Ronda Drive just by stopping by and asking for one, said Skubick.

Items to be auctioned include: A 20-minute plane ride for two from Single Touch; two hours of professional tutoring for a K-12 student from Innovative Educations Services Inc.; a stripogram from entertainer Jim Mouth; an hour of personal computing time from Paloran Software Enterprises; a painting from artist Marilyn Walsh.

A Write T' Me Membership from the same organization; a six-week membership from Aerobic Fitness Inc.; dinner for two at the Roman Forum; a deli party tray for 12 from the Deli on Peniman, and a blood pressure machine from Wiltse Pharmacy.

"The auction items are beginning to roll in," said Skubick. "Some of the above items were donated in multiples of 2s and 3s so we have already gathered about two dozen items.

"We need 30 items to sell each hour and we hope to go at least 10 hours during this auction, so we still need many more items," she added.

Anyone interested in donating a new item worth a minimum of $25 or a service of that value, call Skubick at 459-7306.

BAG YOUR LUNCH

If you packed a lunch today, you're not alone. Brown bagging has become a "hot" trend. In fact, statistics show that approximately nine million brown bag lunches are consumed in this country each year!

Given the current interest in nutrition and fitness, not to mention time and money, it's not hard to figure out why so many people—of all ages and lifestyles—are carrying brown bags. By packing their own lunches, people have much greater control over what they eat at the midday meal.

Nutrition experts recommend that we eat a wide variety of foods from each of the six major food groups each day. Adults need four servings each day from the CEREAL/BREAD group; two servings from the MEAT/POULTRY/FISH/EGGS/LEGUMES/NUTS group; two servings from the DAIRY PRODUCTS group; two servings from the VEGETABLES group; two servings from the FRUITS group; and one serving (one tablespoon) from the OILS/FATS/MARGARINES group. Keep in mind, however, that the recommended number of servings differs with age, lifestyle and physical activity.

Children, because they are growing, need more basic nutrients in relation to body weight than adults. The adolescent years often bring the demands of increased activity and rapidly-accelerated growth. Thus, sound eating habits are especially important during the teen years. Teenage girls, often preoccupied with weight control, may be deficient in iron, calcium and other nutrients. For the sake of future health, it is important that they consume a diet that meets their individual dietary needs.

Dieters need to choose wisely from the various food groups to be sure that the fewer calories they're eating still provide a wide assortment of essential nutrients in their diets. Busy working folk and active homemakers alike, pressured by demanding schedules, should pay particular heed to well-balanced diets to ensure the stamina they need to match their fast-paced lifestyles.

Since nutritionists recommend that lunch make up one-third of the daily nutritional quota, what goes into that brown bag is very important. It's easy to see why the time-honored sandwich is the basis of most carried lunches. It combines good-for-you, mixed-grain bread with meats or other protein foods, vegetables, fruits and cheeses or other dairy products needed for a well-balanced diet.

And the bread is more than just packaging. Mixed-grain bread contributes important nutrients to the diet, including complex carbohydrates, B-vitamins, protein, iron, phosphorus and calcium, as well as dietary fiber.

Each of the sandwich recipes and menus included here is unique, designed to meet the nutritional requirements and taste preferences of a specific age or lifestyle group. School kids, teenagers, dieters and busy execs—there's something here for almost everyone.

For a booklet of great sandwich recipes and brown bag tips, send a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to: Roman Meal Company, Department BC-2, P.O. Box 11126, Tacoma, WA 98411-0126.

SANDWICH KABOBS TO GO

Here's a sandwich "packaged" a little differently—just for small fry. That old favorite, the peanut butter and jelly sandwich is cut into bite-size sections and threaded onto skewers, along with fruit and vegetable pieces. Pack kabobs into a plastic container before putting into lunch bag—or wrap in plastic wrap or foil.

- 2 slices Bread
- 3 tablespoons peanut butter
- 1 tablespoon jelly or jam
- 1/2 apple, cut into chunks*
- Lemon juice
- 1 to 2 stalks celery, cut into six 1-inch pieces

Spread bread slices with peanut butter. Top with jelly and spread to edges. Close sandwich. Using sharp knife, cut sandwich into 6 or 9 pieces. Brush apple chunks with lemon juice. On three 6 or 8-inch wood or bamboo skewers, thread sandwich pieces alternately with apple and celery pieces. Makes 1 serving.

*If desired, seedless grapes may be substituted.

NOTE: Sandwich sections, fruit and celery may be wrapped separately, then threaded onto skewers at lunchtime.

TEEN'S DELI SPECIAL

Here's a sandwich for teenage appetites. Use the ingredients below—or add and subtract to suit individual tastes. We've included a few suggestions for starters. It's a good idea to pack the tomato slices separately, adding them to the sandwich at lunchtime.

- 2 slices Bread
- 1/2 teaspoon corn oil margarine
- 1 tablespoon cream cheese, softened
- 2 teaspoons Italian dressing*
- 2 thin slices (1-1/2 oz.) cooked turkey, ham or roast beef
- 1 slice (1 oz.) creamy havarti, Swiss or Monterey Jack cheese
- 2 to 3 thin slices Bermuda onion (optional)
- 2 to 3 thin slices tomato
- Lettuce leaves

Spread one bread slice with margarine. Spread cream cheese on remaining bread slice; drizzle with dressing. Layer with remaining ingredients. Close sandwich. Makes 1 sandwich.

*If desired, mayonnaise or creamy blue cheese dressing may be substituted.

TIP: Vary filling by adding sliced cucumber, mustard, sprouts, thinly-sliced lunch meat, crisp-cooked bacon strips, green pepper rings, sliced avocado, chopped celery or sliced radishes.

DIETER'S TUNA SALAD SANDWICH

Freshly flavored and crunchy in texture, this sensational sandwich is also low in calories. Lime or lemon juice zips up a creamy tuna filling. Waist-watching brown baggers will delight in this lunchtime treat.

- 8 slices Bread
- 2 tablespoons diet margarine
- 1 can (6-1/2 oz.) water-pack tuna, drained and flaked
- 1/4 cup plain non-fat yogurt*
- 1 to 2 teaspoons lime or lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon poppy seeds (optional)
- 1 tablespoon chopped green onion
- Dash EACH salt, pepper and garlic powder
- Lettuce leaves
- 1/2 cucumber (about 8-inch), peeled and thinly sliced

Spread bread slices with margarine. Combine tuna, yogurt, lime juice, poppy seeds, onion and seasonings.

Top four bread slices with half the lettuce leaves. Divide tuna mixture between lettuce-topped bread slices; spread to edges. Top with cucumber slices and remaining lettuce. Close with remaining bread slices. Makes 4 sandwiches.

*If desired, 1/4 cup low-calorie mayonnaise may be substituted.

CURRIED SALMON SANDWICHES

For the executive on the way up, here's a brown bag special that'll be the envy of the boardroom. A hint of curry and crunchy almonds dress up convenient canned salmon, while chutney adds that something extra.

- 8 slices Bread
- 4 teaspoons corn oil margarine
- 1 can (7-1/2 oz.) salmon, drained and flaked
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds, toasted
- Spinach leaves
- 1/4 cup chutney (optional)

Spread bread slices with margarine. Combine salmon, mayonnaise and curry powder. Divide salmon mixture between four bread slices; spread to edges. Top each with almonds and spinach leaves. Spread remaining bread slices with chutney and close sandwiches. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Bored with barbecue? Perk up with cold crab soup

If you consider hearty, rich soup a perfect and satisfying meal for the cold weather, you are absolutely right. But what about summer, and the glorious warm weather it brings?

Although stew and other hearty concoctions may be ideal for the winter months, they seem both unappealing and too heavy for the warm months of summer. But for a variation on a great idea, why not try chilled or iced soups that are both refreshing and innovative, and light enough for the warmest summer evening?

Soups, while nutritious and filling, also provide a creative culinary breather for the warm-weather cook who is probably already tired of the summer barbecue repertoire.

Most chilled soups require only minimal cooking time, and the advance preparations necessary to complete the recipes are swift.

The appealing combination of simple yet diversified recipes makes chilled soup a welcome newcomer to summer menu options. While adding something new, they are also a fresh outlet for luscious summer fruits and vegetables and different shellfish as well.

The recipe for Cold Crab Soup, reproduced from "The Star of Texas Cookbook" (Doubleday & Company Inc.) compiled by the Junior League of Houston, is by far one of the easiest of chilled soup recipes. This soup requires no cooking time, and the combination of crab meat and buttermilk with fresh dill makes it lusciously flavorful and a perfect first course for even the most elegant dinner party.

COLD CRAB SOUP

1 tbsp. dry mustard
1 quart buttermilk
1 cup. chopped fresh dill or
1/4 tsp. dried dill
1/4 tsp. salt
1 lb. fresh lump crab meat, drained and picked

1 cup shredded cucumber for garnish
Paprika for garnish

Mix mustard with a little buttermilk until blended. Add dill, salt, sugar, and remaining buttermilk. Add crab meat and mix in gently to retain lumps. Chill for several hours. Garnish with cucumber and sprinkle with paprika. Serves 6.

THE RECIPE below for Chilled Fresh Tomato Soup, reproduced from "Cooking with Bon Appetit: Soups and Salads" (Knapp Press), is a lighter version of a cool weather favorite. It is ideal to serve as a vegetarian dish for vegetable stock serves as the soup's base.

CHILLED FRESH TOMATO SOUP

2 tbs. olive oil
1 medium onion, sliced
1 medium carrot, sliced

1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
2 garlic cloves, mashed
4 large ripe tomatoes, peeled, cored and chopped
1 sprig fresh basil
1 tsp. salt
2 cups vegetable stock
Lemon or lime wedges

Heat oil in medium saucepan over medium-high heat. Add onion, carrot, parsley and garlic and saute until well softened. Transfer to food processor or blender with tomato, herbs and salt. Puree. Add vegetable stock and mix well. Cover and chill thoroughly. Serve with lemon or lime wedges.

Puree can be put through wire strainer for a soup with smoother consistency.

IF THE chilled soup recipe for which you are looking needs to be more filling, to serve as a main course for family or guests, there are many alternatives available.

According to Yvonne Young Tarr author of "New York Times Bread & Soup Cookbook," delicious soups can be made with 10 minutes of preparation.

Tarr offers her own secret for successful soups: substitution. She reminds readers to take advantage of all available food, pre-prepared, frozen or canned, anything you find and make use of, will add to your cooking. The importance of imagination is essential.

The following recipe, for Cold Guacamole Soup, reproduced from "The New York Times Bread & Soup Cookbook," makes use of her advice for using leftovers or whatever you have available to you.

COLD GUACAMOLE SOUP

2 large ripe avocados
5 cups chicken broth
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 cups heavy cream
1/4 cup ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded and coarsely chopped
1 tsp. chili powder
10 drops tabasco sauce
2 tsp. lemon juice

Peel, seed and chop avocados. Reserve 1/4 cup. Place pit and lemon juice in the cup and refrigerate. Place remaining chopped avocado in blender container with 1/4 cup chicken broth. Blend until smooth, stopping occasionally to push contents down against blades. Add the remaining chicken broth and mix thoroughly. Place in a glass or enamel pot and bring slowly to a boil. Lower flame immediately and simmer over very low flame for 5 minutes. Cool. Meanwhile, peel, seed and chop the tomatoes and add to the blender. Refrigerate. In a small bowl add the cream, a bit of salt, to the mayonnaise-cream mixture to the cooled avocado soup and mix well. Just prior to serving, stir in remaining ingredients including reserved chopped avocado with pit removed. Serve very cold, garnished with Lemon Ice Cubes.

ALSO FROM Tarr's books is this recipe for refreshing Strawberry, Lemon or Lime Ice Cubes.

STRAWBERRY, LEMON OR LIME ICE CUBES

Strawberry
Thin lemon slices
Thin lime slices
Water

Place water in ice cube trays. Tuck a strawberry or slice of fruit in each compartment. Freeze. Serve in Cold Soups.

ANOTHER APPEALING choice for chilled soups prompts a selection from fruit. While both naturally sweet and refreshing, they also allow you to take advantage of the fresh fruit crop whose availability is also at peak during the summer months.

A wonderful and almost dessert-like soup is the following recipe for Cold Strawberry Soup. Served elegantly in champagne "flute" glasses, it makes a wonderful appetizer or even a rich and creamy dessert. The recipe is from "Great American Cooking Schools Soups & Salads" (Irena Chalmers Cook books Inc.) by Sandi Cooper.

COLD STRAWBERRY SOUP

Sugar syrup made from 1/4 cup water and 1/4 cup sugar, heated until the sugar has completely dissolved
4 cups fresh, ripe, cold strawberries
2 cups Rhine wine, chilled
Grated zest of two lemons
2 tsp. Angostura bitters
Decorations:

1 cup plain yogurt
8 tiny rose geranium leaves or 8 fresh mint leaves

Prepare the sugar syrup and allow it to cool. Refrigerate. Puree the cold strawberries in a food processor or blender. Add the remaining ingredients to the processor and blend. Add the cold sugar syrup and blend again.

Serve this soup in the cold champagne "flute" with a tiny filip (1/4 tablespoon) of yogurt floating on top. Decorate the yogurt with the fresh leaves.

Once you add chilled soups to your summer menu as an appetizer, main course or even dessert, you will find their ease and refreshment essential elements in summer entertaining.

An old idea whose time has returned

Packaging produce for consumers has come full cycle.

When I was a youngster, you had to fend for yourself: scoop up the vegetables and pop them in a faithful brown bag. I do recall that at some grocery stores there was a produce person who did the weighing and marking up.

Not long ago some marketing genius decided loose was out and prepackaging was in. Enter cellophane and the Styrofoam container.

I have a hunch the bright grocery expert believed that prepackaged produce would keep ripe tomatoes and easily bruised fruit out of the hands of pawing, non-buying shoppers.

One of the supermarket chains I patronize has an old idea and even advertises it on shopping bags.

"U-PICK! Fruits & Vegetables. Garden fresh! Displayed loose! Pick what you want! Buy only what you need!"

Ah, progress!

Several friends take the loose produce concept one step beyond — they travel to you-pick-'em fields. One likes the roadside stand because she can pluck turnips and greens together without working up a sweat.

She has a good idea for reducing the bitterness of greens: get rid of most of the stems.

TURNIPS AND GREENS

1 lb. salt pork, diced
1 large bunch turnips with greens
Salt and crushed red pepper to taste

Boil salt pork in water 5 minutes, drain and place in large pot. Remove turnips from greens, peel, quarter and set aside. Rinse greens several times, leave wet, remove most of stems, place in pot, add a little water, add salt and pepper, cover and cook 30 minutes on medium heat. Add turnips, cover and cook another 30 minutes. Serves 5.

Put diced vegetables and broth in medium saucepan, cover with water, stir in 1/4 teaspoon salt, boil 5 minutes, cover and cook on medium heat 25 to 30 minutes. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in small saucepan on low heat and cook onion until tender. Drain vegetables, mash until smooth, stir in onion, add rest of salt and butter, sugar, pepper and beat until fluffy. Serves 4.

Pancakes make a delicious dessert

All the world loves a lover and pancakes. The French have their crepes, the Russians their blinis, the Chinese their egg rolls, the Italians their cannelloni. Here in our country they may be called griddle cakes or Johnnycakes, may be made with cornmeal or sourdough, may vary in size from silver dollars to dinner plates and be served with almost anything from apple sauce to Zabaglione.

In today's recipe the pancakes are made salad-plate size (about seven inches) and are piled up in a stack (four cakes high), then cut into wedges. They are served with an orange-walnut sauce and a dollop of sour cream. Pancakes are traditionally served on Shrove Tuesday, the day before the start of Lent but are good any day of the year.

To accompany the pancakes, brew up a pot of tea, using high quality tea and following these simple but essential rules: First, bring freshly drawn cold water to a full, rolling boil. Then, warm the teapot by filling it with hot water. After a couple of minutes, empty out the water and put one teacup or one teaspoon of loose tea into the pot. Pour the boiling water (about 5 1/2 ounces per serving) over the tea. Cover the teapot and let stand for three to five minutes.

PANCAKE DESSERT
(Makes 4 servings)

1 egg
1 cup milk
1 tsp. oil
2 tsp. butter or margarine, melted
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. grated orange rind
1/4 cups pancake mix
1/4 cups sour cream
*Orange Walnut Sauce
Orange sections for garnish

In medium bowl, beat egg and milk together with whisk or hand beater. Add fresh melted butter, vanilla, orange rind and pancake mix. Beat just until smooth. Allow to stand for 2 or 3 minutes for batter to thicken.

Use electric skillet heated to 375 degrees or heat griddle and test by letting a few drops of cold water fall on it. If the water bounces, the griddle is ready to use. Lightly grease skillet. Drop about 1/4 cup batter in the center to make a 7-inch pancake. Cook until bubbles appear on top and cake is light brown on bottom. Turn and bake until second side is done. Remove and place in single layer on baking sheet. Bake three more pancakes and place on baking sheet. Keep warm in 200 degree oven until ready to assemble. Batter makes 4 large pancakes.

To assemble on serving dish, place 1 pancake and spread with 2 tablespoons sour cream. Repeat with additional layers of pancakes and sour cream. Garnish top with a dollop of sour cream and orange sections. Cut wedges and serve with Orange Walnut Sauce.

*ORANGE WALNUT SAUCE
(Makes about 1 cup)

1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup orange juice
1/4 tsp. salt
2 tsp. cornstarch
1 tsp. cold water
2 tsp. butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped walnuts

In medium saucepan, bring brown sugar, orange juice, rind and salt to a boil. Mix cornstarch with cold water and stir into sugar mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and walnuts; keep warm.

FANNY BEAR says there is still time to sign up for 15-day bus tour to Texas. The trip is arranged by the local chapter of the American Association for Retired Persons. They leave here Saturday, Oct. 20 and return Sunday, Nov. 4.

She has the full itinerary, plus cost figures, and may be reached by calling 453-8262.

They will travel through the Ozarks, visit the World Trade Center in Dallas, go to San Antonio, visit the Lyndon B. Johnson ranch and library. They also will go south of the border into Mexico for a guided tour. Corpus Christi is one of their stops as they follow the coastline of the Gulf of Mexico.

SOO MEE KWON, a student at West Middle School, was awarded a scholarship to return to the summer piano program at Interlochen next year. The award was credited to her older sister, Soo Jin Kwon, in a release from arts academy.

"They always get us mixed up," said Soo Mee Kwon, who attended the summer music camp for the first time this year.

BLUE LAKES Fine Arts Camp north of Muskegon has attracted many area elementary and high school students this summer.

Some of the students are: Doug Campbell, art major, son of Dr. and Mrs. David Campbell of Plymouth; John Hill, jazz major, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Plymouth; Carol Wimmer, dance major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wimmer of Plymouth; Leanne Baker, art major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Becker of Plymouth; Brian Webb, band major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webb of Plymouth; Susanne Samariya, orchestra major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Samariya of Canton Township; Mary Christensen, piano major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Christensen of Plymouth; Polly MacIsaac, band major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacIsaac of Plymouth; Edward Bellaire, choir major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bellaire of Plymouth; and James Clark, band major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Clark of Canton Township.

KELLY LISBETH BROWN, a sophomore at Our Lady of Mercy High School, was a national winner in the United States Achievement Academy's art category. She was recommended by her art teachers. Kelly attended Hulsing Elementary School and is the daughter of Jim and Jane Brown of Ryegate in Canton Township.

MARILYN WALSH of Plymouth Township will have two paintings in the Michigan State Fair fine arts exhibit. The exhibition/competition is juried in two categories and Marilyn's works are in the professional division.

This was the first year she had entered the show and was pleased that both paintings were accepted. She'll have to wait until the private preview showing Wednesday evening to find out if she won a prize.

Marilyn is a landscape artist and a member of the Three Cities Art Club. Her two acrylics at the State Fair are "Nested Near Earth" (rocks and foliage) and "Sugar Loaf Mountain" (Marquette, Mich.). The fair runs Aug. 24 through Sept. 4.

THE PLYMOUTH Historical Museum has lined up 24 artisans to demonstrate their old-time crafts during the Plymouth Fall Festival. They'll be at the museum from noon until 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 8 and 9.

Among the old arts demonstrated in the building on the corner of Main and Church streets, will be scrimshaw carving, tin-smithing, silhouette cutting, enameling on copper, weaving cradles and baskets, thimble painting, net darning, making corn husk dolls, wood carving and painting in rose maling.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 25 cents for children. Guests may tour the street of shops and other exhibits on the two floors of the museum.

Sean Fitzgerald (left) has a Chinese Silky and brother Scott Fitzgerald has a Black Cochen bantam.

Four Seasons Horse group, ready for competition, are Brent Dominic with Fred; Rachel Wilson with Jubilee; Kathy Oldenburg with Prince; Kristi Trexler with Deserey; Sandy Howley; Dawn Oliver with Casahik; Wendy Trexler with Chawley; Kim Connery; Michelle Vucasevic with Lady Bug; Heidi Medgan with Sweet Serenity; and Cheryl Stratton with Sara.

There's a little bit of farmer in all 4-H's

Farm kids, city kids, township kids — the annual fair at Belleville is a time of reckoning for 4-H Club members. It's a time kids show how they can cope with the old skills of livestock raising, cooking, baking, gardening, working with their hands.

They are rewarded for their efforts with ribbons and trophies at the fair. Some day they will discover that the real rewards are what they learned in the process.

Financial rewards come the evening of the livestock auction. And when they figure out the cost of the feed and the hours of work as opposed to the selling price of their animal or poultry, they have a new appreciation for the farmers of the country.

Doug Campbell's grand champion pen lamb was sold for 85 cents a pound. His individual grand champion brought $2.

Scott Fitzgerald's two chickens went for $12.50 each and his turkey for $17.50. His reserve individual grand champion lamb was sold for $1.55 per pound. Top bid for Sean Fitzgerald's turkey was $10 and his lamb went for $1 per pound.

Joy Kirchgatter's two sheep were auctioned off at $1.25 per pound. Sister Jill Kirchgatter received top price, $3.25 per pound for one lamb and $1.45 for another.

Louise Konopa of Canton is surprised as the judge in the goat milking contest announces 4 1/2 pounds of milk from her goat, Fudge. Fudge (right) displays interest in the outcome of the contest.

On the road

Plan for safety when preparing for vacation

The car is loaded to the gills with everything but grandma's china, and you and your spouse are busy cross-examining each other about having enough money for the trip, whether the basement door was locked, and if the paperboy was given the word to stop delivery.

The kids are arguing over who gets to sit by a window and stepping on each other's toes to put the first scuff marks on their new sneakers. But eventually everything is as ready as it ever will be, and you back down the driveway and set a course for the vacation that seemed like it would never come. But in the excitement to get away from it all, some people forget that there are important differences between local driving and vacation driving. Trips around town are not the same as driving long distances on interstate highways in parts of the country that are not familiar to you, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration says.

Your vacation shouldn't begin until you have first prepared your car for the trip. Start your preparations at least a couple of weeks before you plan to leave. Preparing your car or van is as important as preparing yourself.

If your trip is to be a long one, make sure the engine is properly tuned. This initial expense can save you big dollars and hassles on the road. Vehicles in top running shape are not likely to break down in places where mechanics aren't nearby. A tuneup before you leave can also improve performance and fuel economy.

There's some extra equipment you might want to take along for emergencies. Included are a tool kit, flares, flashlight and extra batteries, an extra quart of motor oil, a five-gallon engine oil can, replacement drive belts and a container of fresh water for the radiator.

Test the brakes to see if they need adjusting. Change the oil and air filters if necessary. Radiators and coolant, drive belts, wiper blades, heating and air conditioning systems, as well as the exhaust system, should all be inspected and serviced as necessary.

Be sure to check the tires for tread and pressure. Badly worn tires are dangerous and should be replaced. With the family, plus luggage and other equipment, your car and tires may be loaded to capacity. Inflate your tires to the maximum inflation pressure recommended by the vehicle manufacturer.

You can find a tire inflation information placard or sticker on the car door post or inside the glove compartment door, or check your owner's manual. Don't forget to check the pressure of your spare tire in case you need it.

FOR THE TRIP ITSELF — wear your seat belts. They will also give you peace of mind knowing that you are giving yourself and your family the best protection available in the event of a crash or sudden high speed stop.

Small children should be properly buckled into a safety seat. Forty-six states now have laws requiring them for children under certain ages, and chances are that you will pass through one or more of these states.

Second, keep in mind that speed limits should be carefully observed for both highway and city driving.

Take time to plan the day's travel and repeat the process every night during the trip. Choose a set number of miles or hours to travel and plan to stop on schedule to prevent fatigue. Experts agree that six hours a day or 300 miles — whichever comes first — is a reasonable day's drive. After that, reflexes and alertness diminish significantly.

Plan to stop frequently to rest. You'll help prevent highway hypnosis, that drowsy feeling that most of us have experienced behind the wheel at one time or another. As mile turns into endless mile on a turnpike, your mind tends to go to sleep. It's difficult to fight off this lulling of your senses, and periodic stops are the best antidote.

Flat tires are a nuisance, but they happen to everyone sooner or later. If you have a puncture or a blowout, pull off the road completely to change it. The further off the road the better. At night, put flares out at least 100 feet behind your car and turn on your emergency flashers. If there is not enough room to park safely on the shoulder, drive slowly to the closest safe area out of traffic. This may ruin the flat tire, but your safety is worth the price.

A few other tips to cover special situations should be mentioned. Driving in

Have no reservations about airline services

The traveler who requires a salt-free diet, the musician who travels with an instrument and the wheelchair-bound person are some of the passengers who can receive special services from most airlines.

While many airlines provide extra services to make trips more enjoyable, passengers usually must request these services in advance, says Charles Lentz, Auto Club of Michigan travel sales and promotions manager.

Travelers can check with their travel agent or airline for arrangements regarding meals, seating and other special benefits. "Most major airlines serving food also offer a variety of special meals," Lentz adds.

Optional meals commonly available include salt-free, vegetarian, low-cholesterol and low-calorie foods and meals for diabetics. Special children's meals often are available.

Passengers wanting to arrange a special meal should order it when making flight reservations or purchasing tickets. They should confirm with their travel agent or airline 24 hours before take-off to be sure that the computer has logged the order.

IN ADDITION to arranging convenient seating for handicapped or elderly passengers, airlines will "pre-board" such passengers prior to others to ensure maximum comfort.

For someone needing a wheelchair, reservations personnel can order one at both the point of departure and the point of destination. A passenger's personal wheelchair will be checked free with luggage.

Seeing Eye dogs and guide dogs for the deaf are permitted on board with their owners free of charge.

Musicians can use an option offered by most major airlines. For example, a bass player may purchase the seat next to his own for his bass at half price. Large people sometimes buy the second seat at half price for more comfort.

AIRLINES MAKE special provisions for children unaccompanied by adults. Generally, children ages 5 through 7 years may travel on one carrier. Those 8 and older can be booked for travel involving transfers to more than one airline. Those planning a trip for a child should contact their travel agent or airline for specific information.

For a young traveler, an airline places in its computer the child's age, name, and telephone number of the party bringing him or her to the airport. The same information is entered for those meeting the child at his or her destination.

Flight attendants are instructed to turn any minor children traveling alone over to an airline representative at the destination point. That representative is responsible for seeing that the child is released only to the proper person.

Most airlines provide these services automatically for all children ages 5 to 11. Similar services are provided on request only for those 12 through 15.

AN ANIMAL can be checked as baggage if it is in an approved container. A limited number of household pets are allowed to accompany their owners in the passenger cabin.

Pets must be small enough to fit into a carry-on "pet liner" that can be placed under the seat in front of the owner. The pet must remain in the container throughout the flight.

Airlines will check two pieces of luggage, one large and one medium-sized, for each passenger. A third piece can be checked free or be carried on if it is small enough to fit under the seat.

AIRLINES ALSO handle golf clubs, bicycles, surfboards, skis, fishing rods and other types of sporting gear. Since charges vary by item and special boxes are available for certain items, passengers should check in advance for specific information about transporting equipment.

"Passengers should remember that a domestic airline's maximum liability for baggage is $750 per ticketed passenger," adds Lentz. "Excess valuation insurance can be purchased for an additional price."

Are coaches misbehaving?

By Rich Swenson
staff writer

Bad behavior by coaches is the biggest obstacle to good sportsmanship in athletic events, according to a recent survey of sports officials.

The survey, conducted by Miller Lite, was given to the 250 members of the National Association of Sports Officials that attended their national convention last month in Las Vegas.

According to the survey, more than 60 percent of the officials polled believe the demeanor of coaches is a major impediment to good sportsmanship. Another 50 percent were "personally disturbed" by the behavior of coaches and other bench personnel.

In fact, most of the officials said the disorderly conduct of coaches is far more negative than athletes fighting with themselves or with officials.

LOCAL COACHES were given a chance to respond to the officials' assessment.

"I hate to be looked at as a negative influence to the kids I work with," said Livonia Bentley girls basketball coach Tom Lang. "We spend many hours preparing our kids for a contest. At times, coaches step beyond their bounds, but so do officials."

Fred Thomann
Salem coach

"Most of the officials working our games are pretty good, but when they're not, we have to get on them. The only thing that really bothers me is when an official blows a call and won't admit it."

Rochester High's Mike VanDam coaches both baseball and basketball at the varsity level, so he's seen officials in action both on the gridiron and on the diamond.

"Some coaches are outlandish, intense and vocal," he said. "But coaching is more than just a hobby. Coaches and officials look at the game from different perspectives."

"THE GAME IS much more important to coaches. For officials, it's just another game — another two hours on the job."

"Officials can be intimidated by coach's actions if they allow themselves to. The poor official listens too much and doesn't watch enough."

Plymouth Salem's Fred Thomann has coached both boys and girls basketball. His major concern is the mental and physical conditioning of the referee.

"If officials did a better job of preparing themselves for games, there would be much less criticism from coaches," he said. "Sometimes, officials just don't get up for our contests."

"As a coach, I have to challenge officials to make the right calls. If they're not doing the job, you have to let them know."

THOMANN SAID that many basketball officials are out of shape and unable to position themselves properly to make the call. He believes many of them use the girls season to get themselves ready for the boys.

"It's their responsibility to be ready to work all games," he said.

West Bloomfield athletic director and football coach Dominic Livedoti used to officiate during his college days, but he agrees with Thomann.

"What is disruptive behavior? I never question the eyes of an official. When I do object to something, it's usually whether an official is in the right position."

Mack coach protests Flint district action

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Glenn Murdock, manager of Don Foss, Redford Union's entry in the summer Connie Mack baseball circuit, claims James Coburn and the American Amateur Baseball Congress (AABC) have a lot in common.

The RU manager was crying "In Like Flint," after last week's regional baseball production in Buick Town.

"It's getting so bad that I'm going to put a team in the Senior Babe Ruth next year," said Murdock. "I'm never going back to the AABC. You just can't go to Flint or Saginaw and win."

Murdock has requested an investigation into the way the draw was made by the Flint tournament committee for the double-elimination event.

An eight-team draw was set up by the committee, but two teams failed to show, according to tournament director Tom Cole, who is viewed sarcastically by the RU team as "Our Man Flint."

"Instead of redrawing the bracket, the committee chose to play the six remaining teams in an eight-team bracket," said Murdock, who fired a letter of complaint to Redford-Adray league director, Stu Rose. "This was a mistake that led to a very unfair situation."

MURDOCK'S beef is that four of the teams, all from Flint, received either first or second round byes, while Foss and a team from Macomb County were forced to play four games in less than 48 hours.

Foss, which qualified for the regional by finishing second in the Redford-Adray circuit, won its first two games on the opening day of play but lost the next two the following day, 9-3, to Flint Carpets, the eventual champion; and 14-8 to Flint Grossi's. (The winner advanced to the state AABC tournament in Marshall. The state champion goes to the Connie Mack national tournament in Farmington, N.M.)

"The two Flint teams were given byes in the first round and the two other Flint teams got byes in the second round," according to the letter Murdock wrote. "Neither my team nor

baseball

the Macomb team got a chance at getting a bye.

"When round three began, the four Flint teams had only played one game and the Macomb team and my team had already played two each."

MURDOCK said he made repeated efforts to have Cole redraw the tournament, but those attempts failed.

"I am convinced that Mr. Cole had absolutely no concern with being fair to all the teams in this tournament," said the RU manager.

But Cole offers a different story, saying he followed AABC rules.

"The one team called me at 4:30 p.m. the day before and said they wouldn't be able to come," he explained.

"Then the other team from the Little Caesars' League didn't show for game the next morning. They didn't have the courtesy to call."

"This is the first time since I can remember that a team didn't show for our tournament."

Cole said that AABC rules do not permit a redrawing.

"IF HE (Murdock) would have reviewed the rule book coming in he would have understood," Cole added. "Those were forfeits (victories) and not byes that the Flint teams got. It just happened that the our teams (from Flint) drew the teams that didn't show. You play the tourney by rounds."

Cole, however, admitted that he made a mistake in using the word "bye" in his discussions at the tournament site with Murdock.

"I never said forfeit, but I followed the rules and I talked with Joe Cooper (the state AABC president)," Cole said. "Check with him."

"I'm proud of the facilities we have and the way things have been run here."

Cooper, who resides in Marshall, could not be reached for comment.

MIAA loaded with local talent and tradition but bruised by lack of national recognition

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

RESPECT. Aretha Franklin sang about it in the mid 1970s. It has now become the battle cry of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association as it commences its 96th football season.

America's oldest collegiate conference, founded in 1888, has been looked upon as a weak sister by the nation's other Division III leagues. Only twice in the 11-year history of the NCAA Division III national championship has the MIAA football champion been invited to post-season play.

"This league is on a national level," Adrian College head football coach Ron Labadie said. "We are in by far the toughest region in the country."

Labadie's team won the MIAA last year and gained a berth in the post-season tournament. Though they lost, 22-21, to eventual Division III champs Augustana, Adrian's performance brought long overdue respect to the MIAA.

This year, the MIAA champ should easily win a playoff berth. The NCAA has extended the field from eight to 16 teams.

"There's no way this league will be left out now," Labadie said.

With that, spirits were high among the coaches at the MIAA's annual preseason media day Thursday at Olivet College. The coaches' consensus was that Hope would win the title, followed by Adrian, Albion, Alma, Olivet and Kalamazoo.

Here's a brief composite of the MIAA teams with special attention paid to the players from the Observer & Eccentric area.

HOPE COLLEGE: "I'm very surprised we were picked to win the conference," said 15-year head coach Ray Smith. "Some people obviously don't remember how bad we played last year."

Don't let his modesty fool you. With 18 returning senior starters, the Flying Dutchmen will be a tough club.

Hope is the only team in the MIAA without an O&E player on its roster.

ADRIAN COLLEGE: The defending champs will give Hope a serious run for the money. The Bulldogs lost nine starters last year, among them Paul Mooney from Plymouth Canton and All-MIAA center, but have plenty of talent returning.

Labadie has recruited the Plymouth area very well again. He brings in Jim Burczyk and Paul Fletcher from Plymouth Canton to join Matt Sintilli from Canton, Ron Calhoun from Plymouth Salem and Dan Collins from Plymouth and Catholic Central.

Other local players include Bruce Crosthwaite (Rochester), Dave Dixon (West Bloomfield),

football

Norm Dyer (Troy Athens), Bob Fallon (Brother Rice), Craig Foster (Garden City, Divine Child), Tim Luch (Livonia Churchill), Bob Smedley (Bishop Borgess) and Dan Thalacker (Farmington Hills and Howe Military Academy).

ALBION COLLEGE: Pete Schmidt seemed to turn the Albion program around in his first season as head coach last year. This year, the Britons are expected to battle down the wire with the two frontrunners.

The big battle again this year will be for the quarterback job. Ken Kish of Farmington Harrison and Rick Goodman of Midland shared the spot last year. They will do battle again this year.

Other O&E players are: Mike Burton (Livonia and Divine Child), Ed Ewald (Catholic Central), Pat Fitzpatrick (Farmington and Catholic Central), Jim Hall (West Bloomfield), Larry Korona (Bishop Borgess), Steve Mazur (Bloomfield Hills Andover), Bruce Yeager (Farmington Harrison), Rick Bone (Birmingham Seaholm), Tom Dempster (Rochester), Charlie Laurencelle (Brother Rice), Joe Pinkerton (Birmingham Seaholm), Dan Quint (Catholic Central), Dan Strehl (Westland John Glenn) and Charlie Waszczenki (Garden City).

ALMA COLLEGE: If there are to be any upsets this season in the MIAA, look for the Scots to be behind them. Veteran coach Phil Brooks has an improved team who learned last year what it takes to win. The Scots finished second in the MIAA.

The O&E contingent: Vince Consolo (Rochester), Tim Naughton (Westland John Glenn), Dean Ulrich (Rochester), Greg Zunker (Rochester), Steve Adkins (Rochester), Mike Bowen (North Farmington), Rob Smigelski (Farmington Harrison), Bob Foss (Birmingham), Jeff Anderson (Troy Athens), Dwight Spengler (Rochester), Jim Nelson (Farmington Harrison) and Jeff Childers (Rochester).

OLIVET COLLEGE: The Fighting Comets are fighting to rebuild their woeful program, but third-year coach Glen Stevenson seems to be going about it the right way — with patience, dedication and a good sense of humor.

"Basically, we are going into this season the way we always do — petrified," a sample of Stevenson's good-naturedness.

Garden City placekicker Jerry Lica is one of Olivet's top weapons. Last year, as a freshman, Lica hit four of seven field goals and 15 of 17 extra points.

Other O&E players: B.J. Miller (Bishop Borgess), Mike Rice (Garden City West), and Mike Zdebski (Garden City).

KALAMAZOO COLLEGE: The Hornets have a new coach and a new optimism this year. Bob Kent, longtime assistant at Kazoo, replaces Ed Baker. Kent will have to deal with the loss of 18 starters from a year ago, but has some good young talent waiting to step in.

Among those are Vince Dattilo from Redford Thurston who should help stabilize the offensive line, and Matt Broderick from Plymouth Salem and Chris Mack from Garden City will be mainstays in the defensive backfield.

Brothers Brad and Todd Jensen from Livonia Bentley are also expected to play key roles for the Hornets.

ments, enabling the Bulldogs to average 186 yards rushing per league game last year.

The big tackle was rewarded by making All-League.

"I'VE HAD pro scouts talk to me, but I'm going to play it by ear and say a lot of prayers," said Fallon. "It's a big dream for me to play."

Fallon will graduate in December with a degree in marketing and a minor in computer science. That will come just before the start of the United States Football League (USFL) season.

It was only four years ago Fallon came to Adrian. He was recruited for wrestling.

"I didn't get a lot of recognition for football in high school," he said. "I think I was honorable mention, All-Area."

Although he wrestled at Adrian for three years, it took awhile for the Southfield native to make his presence known on the gridiron.

"After my sophomore year I took a semester off and worked on my body," he said. "At the time I wasn't sure about school, but I knew I missed football a lot. I came back last year and I was able to bench press 320 pounds. That helped me."

"Over the last three years I've been living in the weight room. Now I like it a lot."

FALLON said last season was "best time of my life."

"It was my (graduating) class and I was very close to them (the players)," said Fallon. "With a little luck against Augustana, we could have gone all the way."

With a little luck, Adrian could go back to the NCAA Division III playoffs although the MIAA coaches pick Hope College to win the league title.

"It doesn't really matter," Fallon said. "We ended up being ranked sixth and Hope was seventh last year."

Fallon hopes to improve his pass blocking this season, although Adrian uses the run-oriented Wing-T attack.

"The Wing-T is a lot different because people say there's so much more to do," said the Rice grad. "But it's not really complicated. When you play it — it's simple. We've been throwing more and more each year anyway."

Look for Fallon to be throwing his weight around even more this year.

Large turnout expected for O&E tourney

Between 40 and 50 women golfers are expected to converge on Livonia's Whispering Willows Golf Course Wednesday for the 15th Annual Observer & Eccentric Womens Golf Tournament.

"We feel real good about the turnout, especially since we put a limit on the handicap," said tournament director and Livonia club pro Gary Whitener.

golf

Beginning this year, the 18-hole tournament is limited to women living in the Observer & Eccentric coverage area with maximum handicap of 40.

"We had to send back about six or so registrations," Whitener said. "We had some people giving false addresses."

Last year's tournament champ was Birmingham's Ann Lauer who shot 81

(gross). Betty Delano was the first-flight champ with an 86 and Ava Szudejko was the winner of the second flight.

Trophies are awarded to both gross and net score winners.

The first foursome will tee off at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

FALL BALL

The Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department will open its fall softball league Monday, Sept. 10.

Returning teams can sign up Aug. 27-31. New teams can sign up between Aug. 27 and 31.

The entry fee is $150, plus $11 per game for ump. A $40 forfeit fee will be required along with the entry fee — the fee will be returned after completion of the schedule. Leagues will be limited to 16 teams and play a 14-game schedule.

A fall cost league is also being sponsored. Fee structure and league structures are the same. Sign up period is now through Aug. 31.

Call 455-6620 for more information.

TOUCH FOOTBALL

Entry fees are now being accepted for the Plymouth Parks and Rec Touch Football League. Entries will be taken through Friday, Aug. 31.

There is no residency requirement in this league.

Entry fee is $225 and covers all expenses (refs, scorekeepers, lighting and trophies).

Teams will play a seven-game schedule on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Call 455-6620 for registration details.

FALL SOFTBALL

Canton Parks and Recreation's fall softball league will begin Tuesday, Sept. 11, with games being played Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The league will last five weeks, with each team playing a double-header once a week.

The cost is $90. Each team must pay the ump. prior to the game. Game balls will be provided. Each team will be allowed five non-Canton residents.

Register in person starting Monday, Aug. 27, at the Canton Parks and Recreation office, 1150 Canton Center Road.

NAME OMITTED

Ray Setlock was indeed a member of the Craiger baseball team that won the Plymouth-Canton Babe Ruth League title this summer. His name, regrettably, was omitted from last Thursday's story.

KICKERS SOUGHT

The Canton Soccer Club needs players in the following age divisions: Boys born in 1968-69 should call Jack Blumenshine at 455-7098; girls born 1973-1975 should call Roscoe Nash at 459-1975.

Area coaches refute 'poor sport' theory

He said there's a fine line between what is disruptive behavior by a coach and what he sees as necessary action to make sure an official is doing his job.

"It's my responsibility to make my opinion known," Livoid said. "I have to make sure the official is on the ball. I'm always looking out for the best interests of my kids."

FARMINGTON Harrison grid coach John Herrington has been satisfied with the officiating of his team's games over the years, but he's also disturbed with the findings of the survey.

"Most of the coaches I know are great gentlemen and show respect for officials," he said. "I think we should question them (officials), but we shouldn't berate them."

"Last year, we had a controversial call (offside) that cost us a victory, but it was a judgment call. You'll never see any of our kids (Harrison) arguing with an official. On the whole, the officiating has been pretty good."

The survey is a follow-up to the "Miller Life Report On American Attitudes Toward Sports," published last year. Of the 250 amateur and professional sports officials that attended the convention, 92 percent gave responses on questions regarding sportsmanship, officiating and other sports-related issues.

ONE OF THE more interesting topics concerned female athletes and their conduct during competition when compared with men.

By an overwhelming 3-1 margin, the officials believed women generally display better sportsmanship than men.

Only those who had officiated both were asked to respond.

Lang agreed. "It's probably true," he said. "Girls are unique. They're easier to coach, and they're more interested in learning. Some hotshot boys give their coaches a hard time."

When judging themselves, 24 percent of the officials said they were swayed "some" or "a great deal" by fan reaction. Seventy-four percent said they were influenced "little" or "not at all."

The officials conceded that they're all guilty of making bad calls in game situations. But only 22 percent believed that officials, after making their mistake, compensate by making an intentional offsetting judgment. The majority (78 percent) said they "seldom" or "almost never" try to make up for their mistake.

IN OTHER FINDINGS:

• A majority (54 percent) are convinced athletes have an obligation to be moral role models for the community.

• Eight of 10 officials firmly believe the use of drugs, to increase body weight or strength, should never be allowed.

• More than half (53 percent) don't think athletes should be tested for drugs before games. On the other hand, 38 percent felt they should.

• Ninety-three percent claimed that most fans don't understand the roles of officials and referees.

• Sixty-nine percent disagree that instant replays should be used as an officiating tool.

The coaches had a positive response to the officials' assessments on most of these issues.

Rzepecki-Sill drops big one

In the pocket by W.W. Edgar

Ever since she graduated from the Detroit all-star league to join the ladies pro tour last year Alita Rzepecki, (now Mrs. Sill of Florida) had one major desire.

She wanted to win one of the "big ones" before the home folks to show them how much she had improved.

The big chance came Thursday night when she reached the finals of the big event at Satellite Bowl — but Lady Luck frowned on her and she lost to Dana Miller in a most surprising way.

After averaging 212 for the qualifying rounds she fell to a 176 game in the final and lost by 100 pins.

Miller outclassed her in the big game. She started with nine strikes in a row while Sill was battling spares and there was no question about the winner.

Sill got one satisfaction, while she missed the $6000 first prize, her share of the prizes, well over $3000, put her far in the lead of the money winners for the season and with 10 more tournaments to go she is almost certain to establish an all time record by the time the tour ends.

AN OLD RIVALRY — Mary Molacsi, the seven time Detroit bowling queen, conquered an old time rival — Cora Flebig, in the finals of the Mid-western women bowlers tournament last week at Sylvan Lanes in Pontiac.

When they met in the step ladder finals Mary opened with five strikes.

Meanwhile Cora couldn't keep up that pace and Mary went on to win, 234 to 193 and took the $1500 purse.

Joe is coming from San Diego where he lives in retirement. About 40 other old timers will be on hand for the dinner and the one game event that is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Prince, 'Purple Rain' sing familiar refrain

the movies

Dan Greenberg

"Purple Rain" fits the age-old pattern of Hollywood show-biz musicals: The plot and acting are minimal and the song and dance is what it's all about. If you like the musical style at hand, you'll like the movie. If you don't, you won't. I'm in the latter category.

I don't like rock music (or, as a usually reliable source informs me, "funk" music) so I don't like "Purple Rain" even though it is well-done.

As with most Hollywood musicals, the plot, characters and acting are very limited. Any time there is the threat of character development or plot complications, they break into song and dance.

That's the accepted convention and the show must go on, with one contemporary addition. In addition to song and dance used to avoid the story line, occasionally the principals take off their clothes to avoid serious dramatic development.

In the case of the heroine, Apollonia (Apollonia Koteri), that's not all bad since neither her singing nor acting hold nearly as much promise as her physical attributes.

AS IS THE USUAL case, the heroine comes to the big city to "make it big in show biz," which these days is rock music. "I want to have a career."

Apollonia falls in love with another rising star, The Kid (Prince), who has numerous psychological problems because his father (Clarence Williams) beats his mother (Olga Karlatos) when they're not drinking and loving. Naturally, problems result from the father's failed musical career and faith in one another.

There's a lot of murky, dimstore Freud about their mixed marriage (he's black and she's Italian) to complete The Kid's troubled life.

Predictably, The Kid starts slapping Apollonia, because Hollywood learned from Freud: "Like father, like son." And so the story goes.

Fortunately, there's not much story and the nearly two-hour movie is filled with one well-filmed rock number after another. It's rather like watching MTV with the numbers linked by common performers and a continuous story line in one locale.

THE PRODUCTION is well designed and presents visual treats for those who enjoy the rock scene. Costumers Marie-France, Lewis & Vaughn, plus production designer Ward Preston ("Airplane" and "That Championship Season") and set decorator, Emmy winner Anne McCauley ("Eleanor and Franklin," "Star 80," "Nine to Five" and "Modern Problems") deserve credit.

Great care obviously was taken to costume and make-up rock concert audiences in a variety of rock, punk, funk and reggae get-ups that are interesting and visually attractive, even to these more traditional eyes.

Much to the film's credit, the production staff successfully met the challenge of cutting a film to rock music. Lighting designer Roy Bennett, who tours with Prince, and cinematographer Don Thorin worked closely with co-editor Ken Robinson and writer-director Albert Magnoli.

Properly, in this case, they disregarded conventional continuity of time and place in favor of the pace and rhythm of the rock music played.

Without concerning themselves about the logic of getting from point A to point B, they followed the flow and intensity of the music in their editing patterns. Rock music is loud and unconventional, and very close to its devotees. So, in "Purple Rain," the visuals are close-up and the images are intensely patterned.

That kind of reinforcement gives "Purple Rain" great impact.

None of this fine production design, cinematography or editing will mean much to you, however, if you don't like the music. Thus it always was with the Hollywood musical.

Apollonia Koteri co-stars with rock star Prince in "Purple Rain," the story of a mixed-up musician and a girl who comes to the big city in search of a career.
