Officials mute on Lilley Road fatal smash-up

Due to a pending lawsuit, county and township officials are reluctant to comment on an accident early Monday morning on Lilley Road in which a pregnant Southgate woman was killed.

Kelleigh Anne Brown, 22, was pronounced dead at the Westland Medical Center at 1:45 a.m. Monday after her car collided with an oncoming pick-up truck on Lilley Road south of Warren Road. The six-month-old fetus she was carrying could not be saved, police

According to police, Brown lost con-trol of her Renault Le Car at the point Lilley Road switches from four lanes to two shortly after midnight and was struck broadside by a pick-up truck.

Investigating Officer Bill Keppen of the Canton Township Police Department said icy, snowy road conditions were probably the biggest factor in the accident, although the maintenance condition of the road may have been a possibility for cause.

Keppen said "the shoulder is in somewhat poor condition and there are some pretty bad chuckholes."

HITTING ONE OF those holes would be "a possibility if one were to leave the road," Keppen said.

Police have "no evidence that she hit a hole," Keppen said, and "no indica-tion that it was the cause." Whether she did hit a hole on the shoulder never will be determined, Keppen said.

"All I can say is that she did lose control for whatever reason," Keppen said.

TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR James Poole would not comment on the accident - the second fatality to occur at that location in less than a year.

According to police reports, a 64year-old Canton man was killed in an accident at 6:11 p.m. Dec. 29, 1983 when his car was struck by an oncoming car which had crossed lanes. The roads were wet from snowy conditions at the time, police said.

A 58-year-old Canton woman was charged with negligent homicide in the accident, but was found not guilty in September in a criminal case in Wayne County Circuit Court.

A civil case, in which a woman injured in the accident is charging the road commission with improper road design and maintenance, has been scheduled for trial in April 1987.

Poole said his "no comment" on Monday's accident was because the township "will probably be a defendant - always a possibility

Township road, he said.

Townships do not have jurisdiction over the repair or maintenance of county and local township roads, Poole said. The Wayne County Road Commission has the authority and responsibility of maintaining the roads, he added.

WILLIAM OAKLEY, managing director of the Wayne County Road Commission, said Tuesday he had not been told of the latest fatality. He said his office is notified of an accident on county roads only if it involves road department vehicles or a lawsuit is filed as a result of an accident

Numerous calls to maintenance, engineering and public information divisions of the road commission, recently reorganized, renamed the road department and placed under the Wayne County Office of Public Service, resulted in referrals to other road department offices. No one would comment on the specific engineering or maintenance needs of the Lilley Road loca-

Police Lt. Alex Wilson said he talked to three people at the road commission Monday before reaching someone in the maintenance department who would take the information of "a possibility of a need for maintenance" at the accident site

Wilson said "it's not uncommon for us to call them once a day" with requests for repair or maintenance to roads or traffic equipment.

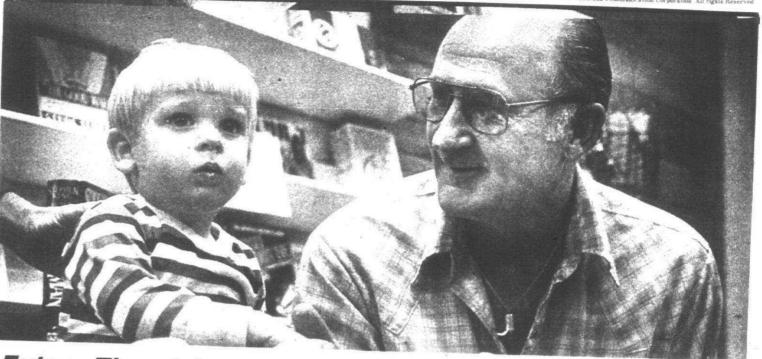

MIKE ROEMER, an area engineer with the county road department, said maintenance crews responded to the call by 4 p.m. Monday and "did some grading," filling in some of the holes with gravel and "dressing up the shoul-

Roemer said the rut between the road and the shoulder is "due to traffic passing on the right" to get around those who are making left turns onto Saratoga Road.

Following an accident, "we like to investigate to see if anything belongs to us," Roemer said. A check of the area revealed that "the approach signs ap-pear adequate" for the narrowing of the road, he said.

The traffic and safety division is responsible for investigating "the geometrics" of the road, Roemer said.

We're 10 years old this week!

By M.B. Dillon Ward

This week is kind of special here at the Canton Observer. We're celebrating our 10th anniversary!

When we realized this landmark was approaching, we naturally began rumi-nating our roots. We flipped through the microfilm frames of time, and at the bottom of our family tree discov ered our "grandpaper," the Plymouth Mail, 1887-1965

We're not so sure that the more things change, the more they stay the same. Take a look at this front page news, published Sept. 16, 1887, in the inaugural issue of the Plymouth Mail:

"A LOAD of Wayne people drove though here Sunday for Walled Lake. They were John Murphy Jr., E.F. Steers and his wife, Mrs. John Fitzgibbons, the Misses Gittery and Misses Delphine Blain and Mary Curtis. The latter remained at the lake, where she will teach school.

The Markham Manufacturing Co., of this place, are taxed to their utmost Canton Observer Eccentric

"Smith, the peach man, northwest of town, had about 140 bushels of peaches this season.

"At a meeting of the school board Monday evening, N.T. Sly was elected moderator, C.D. Durfee, director; R.C. Safford, assessor

The Mail became established as the community newspaper serving Canton, Plymouth, Livonia, and other western Wayne County municipalities for years.

A COLORFUL procession of newspaper publishers would enter and exit the newsroom doors. First to appear in the edit box was the name of J.H. Steers - founder, editor and proprietor of the Plymouth Mail. Along with abreast of Steers family happenings. A fall 1887 issue noted, for instance, that "Miss Jessie Steers visited at Wayne over Sunday."

The Samsens, and subsequently the Eaton family, later took control at the Mail. It's said the late Elton Eaton kept his eye on things even after retiring. The editor emeritus had the paper mailed to him in Florida - but not simply to survey advertising volume. Elton's son Sterling heard about it if too few "locals" appeared. News about people sells newspapers, contended the elder Eaton. (Other items did wend their way into the paper. A November 1957 issue reported: "An old statute still on the books in Canton, S.D., forbids nude bathing from 6 a.m. - 10 p.m. in rivers and streams within the city limits. Nothing is said about the other hours.")

PAUL CHANDLER, founder of the Livonia, Plymouth, Westland and Redford Observers, bought the Mail in the early 1960s. Sterling Eaton later regained ownership of the paper when fi-nancial hardships beset Chandler who was elected state senator just prior to his death.

Federal Mogul executive Russell Strickland was next to arrive on the Mail's doorstep. Owner of the Farmington Enterprise and Plymouth Mail, Strickland sold the papers in 1965 to Philip Power, currently owner and chairman of the board of Suburban Communications Corp. (SCC), and of the 12 Observer & Eccentric Newspapers - an SCC division.

Shortly before that, Power also had bought the Observer papers from Myra Chandler, Paul's widow Currently, aides who work five or more hours per day are offered a par tial health coverage plan under which the district pays $400 annually per aide in premiums. Under the optional arrangement, an aide who earns $5 hourly pays $53 per month. The district picks up $33 per month.

The cost of full-family Blue Cross yearly membership would be about $2,400 per aide, representing 63 per-cent of his or her yearly wage, says Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations

Duties of the district's 85-or-so aides include loading buses, lunch supervision and assisting in offices and locker rooms. Only seven of the 62 eligible aides are enrolled in the plan.

Meats are a staple food of most people in this country. In fact, for many of us it would seem like we hadn't eaten if we didn't have some meat with our nost people don't realize what is done to most commercially available meats. For example, in chickens and turkeys, the breasts are the most popular part of the animal, so they are bred nowadays to produce larger and larger breasts in relation to the other bodily parts. The animals are kept in small cages with nany others, and are injected with hormones to make them grow faster, and with larger breasts. They are usually fed chemically treated feed, including numerous antibiotics, and usually never see the light of day, let alone touch their feet to the ground. What this means is that any drug, hormone or other toxic agent will remain in the meat when we eat it. Because the animals never get any exercise, it necessarily means that the meat will be fatter and have a blander, if not altogether flavorless taste.

Naturally raised meats, on the other hand, are never injected with hormones or any other chemical substance to make them grow differently than nature intended them to. They are also free range animals, meaning that they graze and move about on the ground, producing a leaner, more flavorful

The Good Food Company has naturally raised fresh and frozen turkeys available this Thanksgiving and year round. Our fresh turkeys are free range and hormone free, with small amounts of antibiotics in the feed, while our frozen Shelton turkeys are naturally raised and organically fed. Both types are $1.69 lb., and should be ordered or picked up early.

The folks at Good Food Company wish you a healthy, Happy Thanksgiving.

GOOD FOOD CO. is the largest natural food store in Michigan offering a complete selection of minimally processed and chemical free foods at substantial discounts. We provide a deli, bulk foods, supplements, body care, organic produce, macrobiotics, distilled water, books, appliances and much more!

"Now that Sue's here at Harper, we all feel better."

"Sue's doctor came to Harper when he had cancer. I think that says a lot."

Some say there are no choices when it comes to cancer, fate deals all the cards. But that's not entirely true. Patients make choices every step of the way from prevention through recovery. Regular check-ups and frequent self-examinations are choices of prevention. Selection of a personal physician and electing timely treatment after diagnosis are recovery choices. And the correct choice regarding hospitalization may be a matter of life or death.

As a participating organization in America's program of twenty Comprehensive Cancer Centers, Harper Hospital provides scientific and clinical leadership in the organized fight against cancer. Cancer patients who choose to be treated at Harper are assured of receiving one of the most complete and scientifically aggressive cancer treatment programs available anywhere in the world. Knowing about Harper Hospital and its cancer program may be the most important thing in your life For immediate information about Harper Hospital and its cancer program ask your doctor or call 494-9564. Livonia woman waits for a liver transplant

Like most teen-agers, Suzanne Kleabir Portman and Glynda Kleabir Chamie used to fight over wearing each other's clothes. After a while the fighting became more good-natured with the older sister affectionately tagging Glynda "messy Bes-

Now, 30 years later, Portman is fighting for Glynda's life. "In March 1982 Glynda was in a terrible car accident, and she's been slowly debilitating ever since," said Portman of Comstock Street. "Last spring she went to the Mayo Clinic, and they told her she had two years. Then they found the disease is debilitating more rapidly. In September they cut it down to six months.

Chamie, 46, is quickly losing the use of her liver, requiring a lifesaving liver-transplant operation, her sister said. In the next couple of months, as soon as an organ becomes available, she is to charter a flight to Presbyterian University Hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa., and within two hours be ready for "The transplant will save her life. The disease will kill her," Portman said. In the meantime, she is racing against the clock trying to raise the estimated $150,000-$250,000 the operation will cost. 'Insurance companies don't cover transplants, they say that's experimental surgery. It's a cruel thing, but we're just up in the air without funds,

PORTMAN is hoping the community will help her raise the money for her sister's medical expenses. So far, she has set up an account in the fund's name at a local bank, and made initial inquiries with local institutions, businesses and politicians. One early supporter, Fantastic Sam's hair salon in the Mid-Seven Shopping Center, will donate $1 off each sale in December

It has been a long time since the sisters were teen-agers growing up in Livonia. They moved here with their parents in the 1950s and settled in one of bivonia's first subdivisions, at Five Mile and Merri-

Portman married and she and her husband, Don, raised four children in a colonial-style home on Comstock Street. Her sister - the "business person" by Portman's definition - went to college, briefly, married her husband, Omar, had two children, moved to a "farm" in Salem Township, and spent 23 years working her way up to office manager of an Automobile Club of Michigan branch in ann Arbor. She also worked as an area supervisor for the United Fund. At one time, her area included a part of Livonia.

Then 21/2 years ago their lives became as intertwined as family ties can bind. It happened while Chamie was driving home from work in Ann Arbor and was hit by a car that ran a stop sign. After that, her life became undone.

Her sister recalls the car was hit in the passenger and hit the ground in a crumpled pile of metal Chamie spent 45 minutes trapped under the steer

AT THE TIME of the accident, Chamie was liv ing in rural Salem Township with her husband and two teen-age sons, John, now 19, and Joe, now 17, and attending Churchill High.

Because she was so badly injured and needed constant attention, she first lived with her mother and then moved in with the Portman family in Livonia. She has been there ever since. Of the four ortman children, the youngest, Don, 15, still lives

"The accident kind of broke us apart in the beginning," said Chamie of her family. "Here I was the ulwark, the calm, cool, collected one in any family indition. They couldn't accept it.

In and out of hospitals during the past couple of ears, Chamie left Presbyterian University Hospial in Pittsburgh last week to wait for a liver back

State study silent on M-275, Northwestern

Anyone waiting for the Blanchard Administration to say stop or go to the M-275 and Northwestern freeway proj ects in Qakland County will have to wait a little longer

But James F. Pitz, director of the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT), did give one clue as he unveiled a 12-year projection of road, passenger and port needs in the state. "I was disappointed when the press felt it necessary the day after the election to publish exit polls showing she was a detriment," said Lyn Bankes, a Livonia Republican who won her first term to the state House from the 35th District.

Reporting the polling results wasn't the problem, but the interpretation of those

"One question never asked by the exit pollers was 'Would you have voted at all if Geraldine Ferraro was not on the ticket?" said Maxine Berman, a Southfield Democrat who won re-election to represent the 64th state House District.

THE POLLSTERS erroneously assumed going into the election that women might vote for or against Ferraro on the basis that she is not a man.

The company had been seriously damaged by a 172-day strike in 1980. At the same time, a recession was strangling this nation - especially small farmers, the backbone of IH customers. A business that had posted profits of $427 million in 1979 was drowning in red ink. It was time to begin negotiations on a new labor contract. Two men with suburban Detroit backgrounds played key roles

JACK RUTHERFORD, a former Troy resident, is now president and chief operating officer of IH. On Friday he described those negotiations to a group of executives at the Management Education

"We didn't know if the company was going to survive in 1982," Rutherford said. 'You could have flipped a coin. It could have gone either way.

Rutherford took the unusual step for a chief executive of sitting down at the table and working on the contract. It was the first time in the history of IH that anyone except a labor relations department executive negotiated. Rutherford asked for concessions worth

IT WOULD BE nice to report that in this new era of labor-management cooperation, IH's problems were over. It wasn't that simple.

For the first nine months of 1983 IH lost $401 million. That was reduced to a $63 million loss for the first nine months of

At the end of his speech, an executive asked Rutherford the obvious question: "I can understand how you can improve relations with a union when you are threatening bankruptcy. What's going to happen when you start making a profit? Will everything return to normal?

Rutherford's excellent reply: "We have to work every day to improve our relationship with the union. But it's not as hard as it sounds. Look into the mirror. What are the things you want in a job? I'll bet you want fair pay, security, recognition and a chance to participate. That's all hourly workers are seeking."

Kahan agreed. "During the last few years labor and management have gone through hell together. It's time they both realize it's in their own self interest to find areas of agreement. Jack Rutherford is an excellent proponent of this kind of management philosophy."

Too bad a company has to be on the brink before labor and management can learn to work together.

in oil prices, expert says

The United States can look forward to a continu decline in oil prices since OPEC has lost its grip on the world oil market, according to Mordechai Kreinin, professor of economics at Michigan State

Kreinin said the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries has lost its hold on the world oil market "due, in a large measure, to their own overy greedy behavior in forming policies during the 1973-80 years. He said OPEC overshot the mark in oil price inreases that led to · Conservation by the oil consuming nations.

To maintain the price, OPEC agreed to reduce output by 1.5 million barrels per day and to allocate the cut among the members. However, several OPEC members such as Niger ia, Indonesian and Venezuela have large populations and need the oil revenues and are likely to depress prices to keep up the output.

KREININ SAID the decline that has already occurred represents a reverse oil shock that was instrumental in spurring the non-inflationary recov

For 25 years, HAP has been changing the way people think about health care.

Because for 25 years, HAP has been able to offer the quality care, convenience, innovation, and of course savings that everybody looks for in health care coverage.

We did away with claim forms and deductibles nearly a quarter century ago for one simple reason: You and your doctor should concentrate on your good health, not your health insurance.

HAP makes quality care more convenient. This year alone, HAP introduced eight new medical centers in Plymouth, Livonia, Southfield, Royal Oak, St. Clair Shores, Roseville and Detroit. There are eight other centers in Detroit, Dearborn, West Bloomfield, Allen Park and Sterling Heights. So there's one right in your neighborhood. And, in an emergency, HAP provides emergency rooms, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. If you can't get to a HAP facility, you can use any hospital emergency room, anywhere.

When it comes to health care coverage that really cares about you, nothing else comes close to HAP.

• Livonia Center farmers want to know what the reason is for the big drop in the price of meat. Everything the farmer has to sell has gone way down in price. This is certainly a one-sided affair and they are wondering if it is caused by the financial affairs of the country or just the reason.

NOVEMBER 1932:

 The latest figures from the city manager is that 773 members of 173 families have been aided by welfare during the past few months because of lack of work. A huge woodpile has been accumulated and those who so desire may obtain part-time work by applying to the city.

The entertainment given by the Business and Professional Women's Club last Wednesday evening at the Mayflower Hotel for raising funds was a huge success.

Dancing, recitations, vocal solos and other entertainment furnished a most enjoyable evening.

• Mrs. Ernest Westfall of Six Mile road had a narrow brush with death Tuesday when the new Ford she was driving somehow left the Plymouth-Northville road near the Phoenix dam and plunged into the lake. Fortunately, the car landed in only four feet of water and passersby helped her get to the shore.

• Frank Learned of Plymouth was last week chosen by Chairman Debo of the Democratic State Central Committee as district committeeman. If any of you desire a job under the regime of President Roosevelt - you may as well save yourself the trouble of running to Washington and back again - and go and see Learned in the first place. That is where you will wind up anyway.

 Very successful hunters are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Strope who returned from Marquette, Mich. with two bucks.

NOVEMBER 1957 The busy crew that raised the water tower in Lakepointe Village has been matched by the equally busy telephone installers. Their cable and wire-laden trucks are a welcome sight to the residents, who at this point are out of touch with the outside world. Things are really shaping up. Mrs. William Coons of Shadywood Drive tells me that there are about 30 families in the village now. A big jump from the three last August! When they number 50, house-to-house mail delivery will start. But they haven't bought their mail boxes yet.

Old arts live on at workshops

Youngsters 5 to 12 years of age and adults, too, are invited to get into the holiday spirit by joining a Christmas crafts class sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

Children can make their own stenciled wrapping paper, cards, and ornaments. Classes are offered in old-English wheat weaving, Victorian perforated paper embroidery and felt tree and package ornaments. Adults can make a stenciled Christmas table runner or bell pull, a lamp shade with a holiday motif, and a Christmas basket for napkins, cookies or cards in the PCAC workshops. Fees and material costs vary for the different workshops. To register, or for more information, call the arts council office, 455-5260, between 9 a.m. and noon Monday through Friday.

CHILDREN'S workshop times, fees and instructors are:

• Stenciling for ages 9-12 will be 4:30-6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 27. Marilyn Kath will demonstrate how to make Christmas wrapping paper and cards with designs created by the class members. Fee is $3.50, kit $2.

· Christmas ornaments from felt for ages 7-12 will be 4:30-6:15 Tuesday. Dec. 4. Michelle Dorrington will teach the felt applique technique used for several Christmas designs. Children should take along their own scissors to cut felt and a glue stick. Registration is $4 and kit 50 cents.

• Stenciling for ages 5-8 will be 4:45-6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 5. Sharon Rucinski and Kathy Schmitz will have the youngsters making stenciled ornaments suitable for their own tree or for gifts. If there is time, they will make stenciled wrapping paper for the gifts. Registration is $4 and kit $1. Each child should have a paint shirt for protection.

 Perforated paper embroidery, a craft from Victorian times, for the 9-12age group will be 4:30-6:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6. Kim Murley will teach the class to make Christmas gifts. Students should take along their own scissors. Fee is $4, kit $2.25.

• Wheat weaving for ages 9-12 will be 4:30-6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 11. Kim Murley will teach the old country craft, originally from England, making Christmas ornaments. Fee is $4, kit $1.50. Members of the class provide their own scissors.

ADULTS AND children participating in the classes pay the registration fee to the arts council and the kit cost to the instructor.

There are three workshops for adults:

· Stenciling workshop taught by Marilyn Kath will be 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 29. They will make a table runner with fringed edges in a lovely Christmas design or a bell pull, in same design, that is finished at top and bottom with appropriate end pieces. Registration is $6, kit $5. Class members should provide their own sack lunch.

pierced lampshade workshops by Beth Kohmescher will be 6:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 29, and 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4. Class will make a shade with a Christmas motif and also receive all the basic information to make several popular paper shades. Registration is $6 and kit $2.50. Participants should take along an Xacto knife with No. 11 blades and a sheet of glass with taped edges, approximately 8x11 inches.

Basket class by Grace Kabel will be 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, Dec. 14. They will make an all-purpose Christ-mas basket suitable for napkins, cookies, cards, greens, or whatever. Registration is $3 and kit, $5. Weavers should provide their own sack lunch, dish pan, towel, ruler, pencil, scissors, awl or ice pick, and spring-type clothespins.

Jubilee Musicale Sunday

Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish will present Jubilee Musicale, the final celebration of the week marking the Rev. Kenneth McKinnon's 40 years as a priest. The concert, featuring organ with brass, timpani and harp, will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in the church, Penniman at Arthur.

It is free and open to the public. Bert Lord, minister of music for eight years at Our Lady of Good Counsel, will play the organ with Sally Freese, flutist, and with Clair V. Ross, harpist. Eight instrumental musicians will perform with Lord. Ross and Lord will present Handel's Concerto in B Flat for Harp and Organ.

A highlight of the musicale will be the Concerto for Organ and Brass with Freese on flute and Lord at the organ Lord says the concerto by Marius Monnikendam is a "fabulous work, full of rhythm and excitement."

Lord plays the organ and directs the choir at the church. He already is making plans for the celebration of the 65th anniversary of the OLGC parish in

The luncheon was at the home of Marilyn Orthner. They dined on one of those delicious taco salads and, by the way, I have the recipe if anybody wants it. Now, back to the party. Along with the salad they had rolls, wine, banana nut bread and poppy seed cake.

I guess the party served as a consolation prize for those staying home. Left behind on the mainland were Mary Thomas, Caro Pata, Mary Ellen Malgaldi, Judy Cirino, Mary Moore, Helen Wesner (she made the taco salad), Shannon Munro, Dodi Beckman, Jan Brawn, Bobbi Ryan and guest of honor, Sue Lawrence. Some of the regulars that missed the fun were Kathy Spen-Becki Ponti, Terry Cohen and Carol Shaw. Everyone pitched in on a lovely jewelry case, make-up case and blue nightgown to make that once-in-alifetime trip, extra special.

Upbeat approach to aging

Growing old with style is the focus of a new book written by Margaret Hess (above) in collaboration with her husband, Dr. Bartlett Hess, senior pastor of Ward Presbyterian Church, Livonia. Entitled "Never Say Old," the book offers a creative approach to aging — a game plan for the golden years which can begin even before you reach them. Author of several other books, Margaret Hess teaches about 700 people each week in Bible classes in Livonia on Tuesday mornings at Ward church and at Christ Church at Cranbrook in Birmingham on Thursday mornings. The book is now available in Christian bookstores for $4.95.

Windmills poor energy source for Michigan? Windmills are unlikely to make a significant con tribution to the energy supply in Michigan's Lower Peninsula. The wind speed is too low and too variable, reports a team of researchers from Michigan

They reported their findings at the recent annual meeting of the Michigan Electric Power Conference in Lansing. Results of a two-year study of wind performance in Michigan were presented by the principal inves-tigator, Gerald L. Park, professor of engineering esearch and electrical engineering.

WIND DATA were obtained at 20 sites in lower Michigan from 1982-1984, with windmills located at 16 of those sites. Park said most of the windmills were owned by private individuals who cooperated with MSU in the research project.

At most sites, the report said, winds are inadequate to produce energy at competitive costs unless sindmill installation costs are significantly reduced and windmill reliability increases. Most sites, according to the report, had yearly average wind speeds under 10 miles an hour in

The project tested the customer-owned windmills fed into electric utilities.

The researchers found that 10 "reasonably sited" windmills produced 51,246 kilowatt hours of power during 1983 - about the same as would be produced by a six-kilowatt diesel-powered generator

Park calculates that during the year the 10 windmills saved about 5,000 gallons of diesel fuel worth

THOSE WINDMILLS cost a total of about $150,000. This would be a poor investment, says Park, because the same amount of money invested would net about $15,000 per year.

"One can play with these numbers - add in maintenance, assume cheaper windmill production costs. But unless windmills cost much less and the wind speeds are much higher, the conclusion does not change much," Park said.

"Although some of these conclusions may seem discouraging to wind energy proponents, they form a basis for the realistic use of wind energy where it is appropriate and economic. evertheless, wind energy can still make a small contribution to Michigan's energy supply, especially at selected lake shore sites, he said. Vindmills in the research were located near Maybee, Howell, Hanover, Flint, Galdwin, Holland. Allendale, Traverse City, Twining, Edmore, Tustin and Muskegon. The project was supported by Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., National Rural Electric Cooperative Association and the Lansing Board of

OPEC weaker oil prices to drop

The United States can look forward sult of lower output and reduced prices to a continual decline in oil prices since OPEC has lost its grip on the world oil market, according to Mordechai Kreinin, professor of economics at Michigan State University

Kreinin said the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries has lost its hold on the world oil market "due, in a large measure, to their own overly greedy behavior in forming policies during the 1973-80 years.'

He said OPEC overshot the mark in oil price increases that led to:

- Conservation by the oil consuming
- nations. Development and use of substitutes for oil, such as coal, as an energy source.
- An increase of about 25 percent in production by the non-OPEC members. Development of new technologies of exploration and production.

THOSE DEVELOPMENTS have produced an oil glut, depressing the global price of oil to well below the $29 per barrel OPEC price, he said.

OPEC oil revenues declined by 50 percent from their peak years as a re-

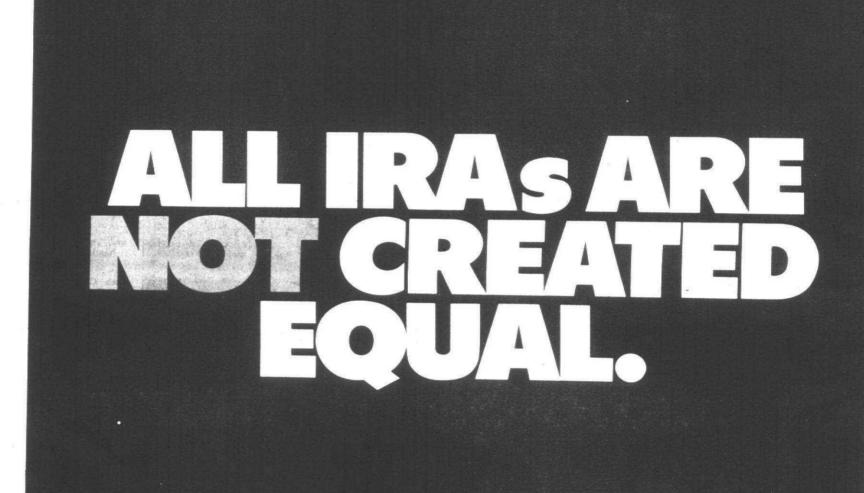

The MSU economist adds that, given the global glut of oil, the downward pressure on oil prices is likely to con-tinue. Much of that pressure, he explains, is coming from the output of non-OPEC members.

To maintain the price, OPEC agreed to reduce output by 1.5 million barrels per day and to allocate the cut among the members.

However, several OPEC members such as Nigeria, Indonesian and Venezuela have large populations and need the oil revenues and are likely to depress prices to keep up the output

KREININ SAID the decline that has already occurred represents a reverse oil shock that was instrumental in spurring the non-inflationary recovery in this country.

He said the shock of high oil prices contributed to stagflation of the mid-70s and the economic difficulties of 1980-81. In the same way, the reverse oil shock — lower prices — of 1982-84 spurred the non-inflationary recovery

Bulldogs chew up Rocks

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Salem's Kristen Hostynski looks for an opening in the Bentley defense Tuesday night. Unfortunately for the Rocks, few were available.

By Chris McCosky

There's something about the Western Lakes post-season basketball tournament that brings out the absolute best in Livonia Bentley.
The Bulldogs stumbled and bumbled their way through the final three weeks of the regular season, losing five straight games.

Along comes the Western Laes tournament and, presto, Bentley becomes unbeatable.

Tuesday night the Bulldogs did what nobody in their right mind thought they had a chance to. They came into the Plymouth Salem gym and stoned the Lakes Division champion and tournament-favorite Rocks, 34-26.

Salem, remember, trounced Bentley twice earlier this season.

"Bentley just wanted this game," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "They played a very, very aggressive, determined basketball game tonight."

THE KEY for Bentley was its quickness. The Bulldogs unveiled an overall team quickness that overwhelmed Salem both offensively and defensively.

On offense, Sheri Wolfe, Amy Weber and Lonnie Payne continually beat the defense to the basket.

"One of the things we stressed was to take the ball to the basket," said Bent-ley coach Tom Lang. "They (Bentley) have never really realized how simple our offense is. Whenever we get a oneon-one situation, we take the ball to the basket and make them play defense.

Wolfe was especially effective driv-ing to the basket. She wound up with 17 points to lead all scorers. She also canned a shot from half court at the end of the third period, but she let it fly after the buzzer sounded.

On defense — well, you might just ay, "Thank you, Payne, Weber."

Bentley deployed the same menac-ing, sagging zone it used to beat Plymouth Canton Thursday. This time, though, they not only sagged, but with the quickness of Payne and Weber, they were able to successfully harrass Sa lem's perimeter shooters

"THE KIDS played real hard defense tonight," Lang said. "We were not going let them beat us inside. Last time, Dena Head (Salem center) killed us inside. We weren't going to let that happen. If they were going to beat us, they were going to have to do it from the outside

On this night, Salem wasn't going to beat anybody from the outside. The Rocks shot with the touch of a mason. They hit on just 13 of 53 shots from the floor and many of the misses were air

girls basketball

A telling tale: Salem's leading scorers were Head, Reggie Rojeski and Mary Beth Weast, each with six points.

Another telling tale: Bentley went to the free throw line 21 times and made eight. Salem went to the line just three times and missed all three Bentley, with Kelly Kowalski, Chris Wall and Wolfe doing the work, con-trolled the boards. They more than offset the 14 rebounds pulled down by Head for Salem.

They were able to outrebound us, and it seemed like every loose ball, every tipped pass or blocked shot, they controlled," Thomann said. "And they controlled all four jumps."

PAYNE AND WOLFE combined for eight second quarter points to put Bent-ley up 18-10 at the half.

Neither team gained ground in a sloppily played third quarter.
The Rocks went for broke in the final quarter. They pressed, Head dominated the boards with six rebounds, and they got good shots. Still, the shots wouldn't fall. Salem hit just five of 20 in the final quarter.

Wolfe, meanwhile, kept the game out of reach with six points. She iced the game for good with a dazzling three-point play to put Bentley up 34-24 with just two minutes left. Bentley (11-7), the defending tournament champions, will travel to Walled Lake Western Friday to vye for the Salem (16-3) will host Livonia Stevenson in a consolation match.

Tuesday's game was the final chap-ter in one of the area's most fierce basketball rivalries. Livonia Bentley will close its doors after this school year. Both Salem and Bentley enjoyed big victories at each other's expens

Bentley, though, got the last laugh.

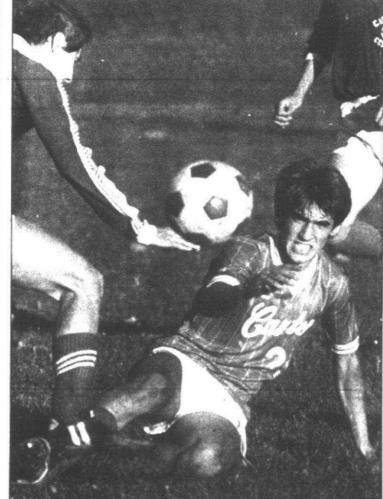

CANTON 31, NORTHVILLE 26, OT: Whenever Plymouth Canton and Northville get together on a basketball court, two things are certain. It'll be a close game and whoever makes their free throws will win.

Last time, Canton missed its free throws and lost in overtime.

Tuesday night, the Chiefs made five of six in overtime to pull out the win.

Laura Darby hit one, Lisa Russell and Kathy Ross hit two each as Canton outscored Northville 5-0 in the over-Spartans to run away with Western Lakes swim title?

The finals of the Western Lakes league swim meet won't take place until Friday at Plymouth Salem, but forget it. A winner has all but been declared. "Livonia Stevenson will run away with it," conceded Plymouth Canton coach Hooker Wellman. There's little doubt. Stevenson, No. 1 in both Observerland and the state coaches' poll, is seeded first in nine of the 11 events going into Wednesday's Stevenson coach Lois McDonald won't bother trying to hide her team's dominance - it would be pointless. "The kids have worked real hard. They deserve this," she said of being the overwhelming favorites. "We just happen to have an accumulation of excellent swimmers this year. But, we writers James Reed Faulkner and Elreta Dodds. It was created as a vehicle to present a positive image experience for inner-city children at Christmas, while also giving them an opportunity to view something created from and about their heritage. The story teaches that you don't necessarily need noney and material goods when it comes to giving because giving of yourself is most important. Organizations, businesses or individuals who wish to purchase tickets as a donation to an organization for needy children may call the AAST at 894-0611 or 869-0142 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays The production is supported by the Michigan

"The Gift," an original AAST production, was conceived by Washington and written by AAST

"The Rainmaker," an engaging Cinderella prairie romance, opens the Actors Alliance Theatre Company's season with honest sentiment and gentle laughter.

The acting in N. Richard Nash's 30year-old play ranges from fine to superb, thanks to skillful directing by Yolanda Fleischer, who revives older plays with uncommon skill. Last year's triumphant "Anne Frank" at Actors Alliance and "Awake and Sing" at the Attic cemented her reputation. Now she brings us "The Rainmaker" on the Actors Alliance's converted gymnasium stage at the Lycee International Close seating on three sides of the stage makes for intimate, compelling theater.

Charlatans have a way of convincing us they're swell guys, even while they're duping us and making off with our money. That's how it is in "The Rainmaker" when a fast-talking con man named Starbuck shows up at the Curry ranch one evening in the mid dle of a scorching drought. With razzma-tazz and a big bass drum, Starbuck promises rain for the parched prairie and the hope of love to Lizzie the plain, unmarried-and-worriedabout-it daughter played by Laurie

Johnson shows Lizzie's yearning and earnest seriousness to perfection but she doesn't let loose enough in the comedy scenes when Lizzie mimic and clowns with her brothers. The witty, funny girl inside the practical prairie spinster should win us with ber wit, as well as make us feel her

'Ultra-yachting'

A cruise on the Clipper is low-key but satisfying ruise ships, like cities, come in all sizes. Some are seafaring castles, stretching across the horizon, reaching from sea to sky like gleaming urban towers. Other ships are as snug and friendly as small owns. The Newport Clipper has no swimming pool, loor shows or blackjack tables. Christened a year ago by Clipper Cruise Lines of t. Louis, the nifty little vessel, 207-feet long by 37feet wide, calls herself, an "ultra-yacht" rather than a cruise ship. In the finest yachting tradition, she bypasses ports o'call favored by mammoth ocean liners for stops in Savannah, Charleston, Chesapeake Bay, the storied old whaling ports of New England, and the quiet crystal bays of the Virgin Islands.

Savannah and Charleston are highlights of the Colonial South Cruise" itinerary in October and November, and again in April. The itinerary includes historic Beaufort, S.C., the resort beaches of Hilton Head Island, S.C., and St. Simons Island, Ga.

In May and June, and again in late September, the Clipper's "Chesapeake Bay Cruise" heads out of Baltimore for Annapolis, St. Michaels, and St. Marys City, Md., and Yorktown, Va., to Colonial Wilamsburg and Washington D.C. "New England Cruises" are featured June shore tours and shopping excursions. GUEST CABINS are as large and comfortable as those on much larger ships. Each has two lower beds - some have a bunk for a third inhabitant -

With its barge-like flat bottom, and constant proximity to shorelines, there's little pitch and roll, and thus small concern for seasickness. However, since there are no elevators on which to traverse the five decks, the Clippers are not suggested for

ON A RECENT cruise through New England, the food was among the best we've experienced on a ship of any size. Talented young executive chef Larrie Collura delighted us everyday with an appetizing array of fresh seafoods, beef, chicken and pork entrees, complemented by deliciously seasoned soups, salads, vegetables and desserts at Our "Farewell Dinner" featured champagne and boiled Maine lobster. Fresh fruit, eggs, hot cakes and cereals got each day off to a substantial start. Because the entire staff is needed in the dining room at meal time, there's no room service. However, coffee and freshly baked pastries are available self-service in the lounge.

Cabins are cleaned and tidied only in the mornings. These minor inconveniences are more than atoned for by a merciful lack of masquerade parties with silly paper hats, and the typical waiters' parade of flaming Baked Alaska that seems like a law of the sea on many major liners.

THE YOUNG crew members might have been shanghaied from Walt Disney World instead of being carefully recruited from Midwestern college campuses. They're always cheerful and smiling, and by the end of the first day know every passen-

Capt. Warren Whitlock oversees his preppy flock like an irascible mother hen. "They're really great kids," he smiles over early morning coffee, "but ever once in a while I do have to chase out a boy friend or girl friend who's sneaked on board." Cruise director Coleman Wheeler, diligent as a scoutmaster, whets passenger interest in upcoming

SAILING OUT of Boston on the first day of the New England cruise, Nantucket Island appears on the late afternoon horizon as pretty as a movie set. Yachts preen in the harbor of Nantucket Town, which retains the shingled and cobblestoned ambience of the early 19th century when this small Massachusetts island, 30 miles adrift from Cape Cod, was the whaling capital of the world. New Bedford, on the Massachusetts mainland, eclipsed Nantucket in the mid-19th century, and its Whaling Museum is an enthralling chapter from one of America's most adventurous eras.

Plymouth, with its echoes of the Pilgrims and its famous Rock and replica of the Mayflower, recalls our nation's struggling infancy. Newport, Rhode Island, speaks of "The Gilded Age" at the end of the 19th century, when America's aristocracy lavished on palatial "cottages" opened for a summer season that lasted barely two months.

Martha's Vineyard Island, like its sister Nantucket, is a haven for summer sun-seekers, and celebrities like the Kennedys and Walter Cronkite. The graves of the late novelist Lillian Hellman and comedian John Belushi are among the Vineyard's newest landmarks.

Boston is such a treasure trove of American history and culture that most passengers on the New England Cruise reserve at least a day or two for its many attractions either at the beginning or the end. Art class

Coffee, criticism unite painters

The ladies and gentlemen of the class at Madonna College in Livonia regularly get together for some conversation, maybe a little lunch and a lot of painting.

They are in Sister Angeline's adult education art class. There are cookies and coffee on the counter, criticism and suggestions from Sister and each

"It's really a wonderful group," said Taylor resident Irene Harrington, who has been taking Sister Angeline's class since 1977. "Everybody enjoys everybody's company.

I just love it. I like the company. We all learn from one another.

PAINTINGS BY the class will be on exhibit through Nov. 27 in Gallery Hall, adjacent to the library, on the second floor of the college's new library wing. Its hours are 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Fridays, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Satur-days and 1-5 p.m. Sundays. This is the first time the adult education art classis having its own exhibit.

"They come in simply for enrichment and the enjoyment of painting." Sister Angeline said of her students, many of whom are in their 50s and 60s.

'They come in simply for enrichment and the enjoyment of painting. What's nice is, they come because they want to and not because they have to.'

 Sister Angeline art teacher

"What's nice is, they come because they want to and not because they have to."

Sister Angeline is modest, but students describe her as an excellent teacher and very creative person. A number of her students have been attending her class for more than five years. She works in silver, woodcarving, silkscreen and calligraphy.

Some of us have won awards since painting with her," Harrington said.

STUDENTS COMPLETE five paintings a semester. During a class, the sister shows slides of the students' work or art history for 15 to 20 minutes and may assign certain subjects for the students to paint. She offers suggestions for the works as they progress, and the

"I tell them they may use pictures for inspiration but never to copy," Sister Angeline said. "Inspiration, not imi-

"They have to be pleased with their work. I tell them, 'How can anybody else be pleased with it if you're not?

"We all work on the same subject, but everybody's work is so different, Plymouth resident Lucille McKenzie said. "She lets us go our own way. The feeling between us is very nice and friendly. There's a nice feeling there."

THE ADULT education art class meets Tuesdays and Thursdays for 10 weeks each semester. The good feel-ings generated by the class lasts longer than the scheduled two-hour period.

"I look forward to coming here," said Arline Scheuring, a Farmington Hills resident. "It's relaxing and I really enjoy it. It's much better than staying at

"We can stay the whole day if we want to," Harrington said. "We bring a

There are class members who belong to local artist groups in Redford, Gar-den City and Farmington, or who meet at someone's home and paint together. Some give their works away, sell them or display them at area shows.

SOME STUDENTS, such as Helene Zelenka of Northville, Mary Schall of Belleville and Florence Miklaski of Detroit, were interested in painting years ago but never had the chance to work on it until they took the class.

"I like the camaraderie," Miklaski said. "There isn't one (class member) that isn't pleasant."

"I've always been interested (in painting)," Harrington said. "I like everything but housework.

"It's more fun than housework, we all agree.'

Madonna College is located at Schoolcraft and Levan.

Painters work on their projects at the Madonna College adult art class. Members of the class enjoy the friendships they have made as well as the art instruction and criticism.

FLASH! Special bulletin to all artists interested in the Christmas card art contest as mentioned in last week's Artifacts.

Because I have had 10- and 11year-old kids kicking me in the shins all week I have found it necessary to change the age limits. So there will be two first-prize winners, 10-14 years old and 14 to adult. This boosts the total prizes offered to over $650

"Howdy son," the man said as he bounded in from the early winter weather

"What ya got in the way of easels?" he asked with a smile. "See my wife's gettin' into art these days so I thought I would buy her an easel for Christmas.

this one's a real hummer," he said as he pointed to the largest easel we carried.

"Yes sir," I chirped with a re-

tailer's grin and dollar signs for eyeballs. Then I followed with the question, "so your wife must be into oils or acrylics?

"Nope," he said. "Oh, let's see then, she must be doing pastels or charcoal?" I asked. 'No sir," he said "just waterco-

Disappointed, I said, "well sir I am afraid she wouldn't need that big easel for watercolors, but I do have a nice inexpensive watercolor

WHILE I showed him all the neat things this $30 easel would do he kept glancing back at the $130 easel. After a slight hesitation, he said with an authoritative note, "Well son. I'll take it "

As I picked up the watercolor easel, he said "Opps here, not that little thing. I want the big wood one, over there

No matter how I insisted he was bent on buying the one "he liked" over the one "she needed."

After he paid for the easel I handed him $19 in change. He stood there with the change in his hand and kind of lowered his voice and said, "Now do you have anything for about $20? See I was countin' on spending about $150 for her Christmas gift."

Finally he left without a penny in his hand. I should have been happy But, I really don't like sales like that because although they are handsome gifts they are not useful gifts.

It takes very little time, effort or trickery to find out what your artist friend or loved one need for Christmas. Since there are many fine art stores and craft stores in your city, it can get a little confusing when you are not sure of what is needed or wanted. So here's some hints of products and gifty things that the artist you know might need or just plain enjoy as a gift.

First of all Christmas is the best time of the year to buy big things, like drafting tables, craft tables and easels. Many stores mark down the big items and truly offer prices often overlooked ANOTHER item would be a taboret. If your artist has his or her paint box balancing on three phone books and a show box then perhaps a taboret would be a real hit Taborets are expensive and most artists, even part timers or craft people, would never consider the purchase even though they would love to have one. So look around for a sale. The four-drawer units start around $130.

Does your artist friend like to draw people? Try buying them a little wood manikin. These little wood posable men and women are excellent for developing a sketch or painting.

You talk about cheap? When I was in college I needed one and opted for a $2 GI Joe doll with rigor mortis because he didn't pose very well. Plus, the headache of explaining to everyone that came over why a college student had a G.I. Joe doll on his dresser.

Now, manikins run about $8 for the small and $18 for the large ones.

Earlier I mentioned watercolor easels. These are near and dear to my heart as watercolor has become my favorite medium. A watercolor easel can instantly adjust to any angle vertical or horizontal, to help those washes flow in the direction you want them to. The price of the watercolor easels vary of course but they start around $30

I think most artists are frugal (borderline cheap). So what they enjoy for gifts is the stuff they longingly look at all year long and finally overlook in lieu of things they must have for their next project.

Maybe it's that $14 watercolor brush or a $13 badger blender. Maybe a variety of fan blenders for oils or acrylics would bring a smile on Christmas morning. You know, even canvas can be a nice gift. Maybe the smooth portrait canvas would be a treat to your favorite painter.

IF SOMEONE you know seems to enjoy pastels than they would love a set of pure-pigment pastels, which are usually on sale around this time of year. Maybe something as simple as a new box for their oils would be needed or appreciated.

My wife has been taking a folk-art painting class and I couldn't help but notice that she has been into my acrylics. A couple of the tubes have oozed out paint and welded themselves to the bottom of my box. So if any of my family members happen to read this article maybe they could buy me .

All or most of the items I have mentioned are usually on sale sometime before Christmas. One item rarely on sale at anytime is an airbrush. An airbrush, however, is an excellent gift and they range from $26 to $200 depending on name, brand and style. Before you buy an airbrush, I would caution you to talk to a salesperson to help you decide what style is needed. Artists themselves rarely understand the vast array offered in the airbrush mar-

Christmas is a great time to restock an artist's box with paint and sundries. Maybe their chamois looks like an old sock or their pastels are so small that they have to use a pair of tweezers to draw. Perhaps their sketch pad is as dog-eared as a phone book in a pay phone booth.

Speaking of paper, look at the new acid-free portfolio papers offered by most paper companies. These pads of professional papers will never, never yellow.

Perhaps in this article I have bounded back and forth between talking to the artist and the one who might buy a gift for the artist. It is important, however, that you the artist help your loved ones by giving them an idea of your art needs and wants. If not, you may end up with an oil and acrylic easel when you into watercolors. You know what I mean?
