bartender you'd like to nominate in a contest benefiting multiple sclerosis? That's U.G.L.Y. as in understanding, generous, lovable, and youthful — virtues that will bestow value "on a potentially tacky contest," according to the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Through April 15, participants may cast 25-cent votes for favorite mixologists. Top prize is a six-day trip for two to the Bahamas. Multiple sclerosis is an incurable disease that attacks young adults. For more information, call 1-800-292-5885 or 884-6699.

BIG-HEARTED men and women who "would like to accept the challenges and rewards of being a hospital volunteer" are needed by Henry Ford Hospital's Plymouth, Dearborn and Detroit outpatient locations. The hospital is sounding the call for nurses to do blood pressure screening, as well as for people "with all types of skills to help with patients or to perform clerical and other tasks."

Call 876-1876 weekdays for more information.

ARE YOU TAXED just thinking about completing forms for Uncle Sam? As guests of Canton Township's Community Outreach program, IRS specialists will assist residents for free at two sessions. Bring tax form booklets, W-2 earnings statements, records of interest, dividends, tip and unemployment income at 7 p.m. either Wednesday, Feb. 27, or Wednesday, March 13. If you itemize, bring records of medical expenses, contributions, interest expense, taxes, union dues and other deductible items. For further information on the two-hour workshops, call 397-1000.

SURVIVORS OF Suicide (SOS), an organization providing support to families who have lost a loved one to suicide, has a chapter that meets in Canton. The free, weekly meetings, led by two social workers, are held Monday nights. Call 224-7000 for further information on the program sponsored by Detroit's Neighborhood Service Organization.

NOAH ROBINSON of Canton became a beaming grandfather last month when a fifth-generation baby, Steven Jeffrey, was born to Redford's Debra and Jeffrey Robinson at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia. A hospital spokesman said that considering the age and health of Steven's two great-grandmothers, Cassie Dean of Midland, 85, and Effie Rippee, 93, of Arkansas, "chances are good" that Noah's great-grandson will live to be 100 or more.

IF MIDRIFF bulge is bugging you out and dieting alone doesn't seem to be helping, take heart. "Dynamic Aerobics" classes gear up Tuesday, March 5, at the Canton Township Administration Building, 1150 S. Canton Center Road. The seven-week classes, at a total of $35 per person, meet Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. for an hour. Baby-sitting is provided. For more information, call 397-1000.

Police task forces tackling top issues

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton Township police officers are gaining ground in their war against the disorganization and employee unrest that have riddled their department.

A recent study found the police department is beyond "the pre-crisis period, has just passed the point of tolerable levels of disorganization and is continuing to deteriorate at an increasing pace."

The steering committee — made up of 13 police department workers — met for the second time Thursday. At a session in township hall, the group established four task forces to tackle what they decided were top priority issues.

The task forces will discuss staffing policies, strategies for transferring to the new police department, equipment needs, and the command structure.

'We want to move as fast as possible. We want to make the department something we're proud of and the citizens are proud of. We don't want to just do the job, we want to go farther than that.'

— Eddie Tanner
Canton patrol officer

These topics were chosen from a long list of areas in need of study.

"Everyone seemed quite enthused we moved that far at the meeting, because we got the task forces — we felt we accomplished a lot," said Canton patrol officer Eddie Tanner, who was chosen by the group to serve as the press liaison.

"We want to move as fast as possible," Tanner said. "We want to make the department something we're proud of and the citizens are proud of. We don't want to just do the job, we want to go farther than that."

THE STEERING COMMITTEE — composed of police department employees volunteering their time — was organized Jan. 31. Its formation was suggested in a Canton Township Police Department study conducted by Bartell and Bartell, a Pennsylvania consulting firm.

Presently, the task forces are made up of persons in the steering committee, but other police department personnel also will be recruited to work on these subcommittees, said Tanner, a Canton Police Department officer since 1978.

The staffing task force will discuss levels and deployment policies. The "new building" subcommittee will examine efficient ways to move from the police station on Geddes west of Sheldon Road to the new, $2-million facility adjacent to township hall on Canton Center Road south of Cherry Hill. The new station is expected to open sometime between July and September 1985.

"The task force will look into how to

What makes people volunteer time to make their work environment better, and services to the community they work for more efficient?

To members of the recently formed police steering committee, the incentive to sit through three- and four-hour meetings was simple: to improve the Canton Township Police Department.

The group — comprised of 13 police department personnel from all ranks — organized Jan. 31. Its formation was suggested by Bartell and Bartell Ltd., a consulting firm which recently submitted a study citing a "crisis situation" in the department.

The committee will wrestle with other Bartell recommendations, additional departmental problems and officers' own suggestions for improvements. They will tackle the problems without any compensation or time off for their efforts.

The steering committee gives those police department workers — with en-

Canton hears doors closing on senior housing

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

If Canton isn't granted federal funds for senior housing in 1985, it may never get them.

President Reagan in his proposed 1986 budget has called for the elimination of "Section 202" Housing and Urban Development (HUD) money, which subsidizes handicapped and elderly housing projects.

Canton has no senior citizen housing. The township's 1,500-plus seniors are scattered in mobile homes and older residences along major roads.

"HUD has issued a notice of fund availability for 1985 — 225 units are available for the metropolitan Detroit office, and we'll be going after some of those," said township grants coordinator Terry Carroll, who hears "everyday" from people demanding senior housing in Canton.

"But we expected Reagan, even if there wasn't a slashing of domestic spending programs, to phase out 202 money anyway," he added.

"I think 202 is gone for sure."

Canton was shot down in last year's effort to obtain funding — despite yeoman efforts such as trips to Washington, and the securing of centrally located land at a tax revenue loss of $9,000 per year. Considered ideal for such a project, the L-shaped, 4.4-acre piece of property wraps around Jim Mather Mr. Steak restaurant on the southwest corner of Ford and Sheldon roads. It's near stores, pharmacies and a post office as well as eateries.

Defeat hasn't softened Carroll's determination, however.

"We're going to do it again. We just received proposals for another application. We'll be reviewing them internally and with the Senior Advisory Council and making a decision by the end of the month (before) making a recommendation to the township board," he said.

A non-profit organization must sponsor the proposed $5.5-million project, in accordance with HUD regulations. Possible sponsors include the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which has a "housing arm with a good track record," and National Church Residences, Carroll said.

CANTON'S CHANCES of gaining a share of federal dollars this time are good, he adds.

"I think that because of what happened last year — they had us on the initial funding list and over-committed the funds available to the Detroit office — that we stand a very good chance," Carroll said.

The township stands in good stead because of other HUD stipulations, among them senior citizen population, need for senior housing, proximity of the site to stores and businesses and solvency of potential sponsors, Canton Supervisor James Poole has said.

INITIALLY, plans called for an eight-story apartment building including efficiencies and one-bedrooms, kitchen facilities adjacent to large communal areas and a dining room. Rent in the proposed complex would be based solely on income. No medical services would be provided.

Whether the same type of project could be built and the number of units depends upon the amount of federal money received, Carroll said. Sewer and water lines already extend up to the property line, he added.

Carroll estimates that "for every one of the units, there will probably be 10 qualified applicants."

"There's zero senior citizen housing in terms of the elderly only, and the demand is very heavy," he said. "Everyday we have seniors calling, as well as their children in Canton who would like to have their parents living closer to home."

Reagan's rationale regarding housing for the elderly is clear to Carroll.

Flodin memorial

Friends, admirers and co-workers of the late Canton Clerk John Flodin are raising money to erect in his memory a waterfall and garden in Canton Township's administration building. Flodin, Canton's "father figure," an avid nature lover and sports fan, died last October.

His widow Bernice Flodin said of the tribute: "John dearly loved this township, and I guess it would be appropriate. It's a lovely idea."

The board of trustees unanimously approved the project Feb. 5. It will be paid for with a memorial fund. The fund already has $1,500 toward a $5,000 goal. An architect's rendering (at right) calls for a fountain and tropical plants (in the largest circle) bounded by brick walls and planters, an "honor roll" and memorial plaque, wooden bench, foliage and landscaping. A fund-raising campaign is on tap, according to Mike Guoin, Canton recreation director.

Rugged fleas survive on pets,

ONE BLESSING of a Michigan winter is the absence of insect pests. Cold weather frees our environment of such hated foes as the mosquito, fly and chigger.

The flea is an exception. Unless it's treated, an animal afflicted with fleas during summer will continue to host an active flea population in the winter. And if your pet comes indoors, you can be sure there are fleas all over your home.

"This is the time of the year when pet owners can effectively do something about fleas," said James Dalley, professor of veterinary medicine at Michigan State University. The advantage to a winter flea offensive is that no new fleas will be introduced from outside, said Dalley. Also, the development time of existing fleas is slowed by cooler temperatures.

THE FLEA, a tiny wingless insect, is a surface parasite that feeds on the blood of a host. Though partial to animals, the flea will also bite people, causing itchy red bumps to appear around lower leg areas.

Fleas are not generally considered a health problem for people. The insect is known to be an intermediate host to dog tapeworm eggs, and if your pet swallows an infected flea, an adult tapeworm could develop in the animal.

Ridding the environment of these unwelcome creatures isn't easy. Experts say the parasite spends roughly two hours per day on your animal. The rest of the time fleas hop around the floors with long powerful legs laying eggs under carpets, in furniture crevices and other dark warm places.

Any strategy for eliminating fleas must take account of the breeding characteristics of the insect. The flea lifecycle involves a complete metamorphosis from egg to larva to pupa to adult. The cycle usually takes 45 days to complete.

When conditions are optimal — warm weather and high humidity — a new generation of fleas will appear in 21 days.

Science fair

Students meet mark with entries

More than 400 persons visited the Plymouth-Canton School Science Fair, featuring displays, demonstrations and experiments devised by 94 students. The exhibits were chosen from among 700 at schools throughout the district and displayed Wednesday at Centennial Educational Park.

Fair-goers saw evidence of much ingenuity and work, including "worm cookie" displays, space stations, water treatment and rainbow disk projects and musical H2O demonstrations.

Sponsored by the department of Talented and Gifted for fourth-sixth graders, it was the first time a districtwide fair has been staged. TAG coordinator Cheryl Johnson called the event a "great success."

First-place winners were Charu Sinha, Sue Ratcliffe, Heather Robertson, David Perry, Jeff Zeleji, Sandy Miller, Mark Richardson, Amy Sullivan and Julie Huppenbauer.

Runners-up were Eric Schaurstein, Angela Zaetta, Candace Banners, Courtney Kissman, Steve Sedore, Mike Gold, Matthew Houser, Brett Meik, Andy Steingruehl and Amanda Lenski.

Capturing third-place honors were Valeria Adzima, Scott Lefurgy, Mark Brust, Mike Wolf, Amy Kodrik, Nicole Sequin, Vipul Parikh, Jenny Bagalis, Michele Clingenpeel, Kelly Graves, and Kim DeSempalere. Best of Show awards went to Amy Pollack, Eric Niezgoda and Mike Duffy.

Old County Bldg. to be restored

The old Wayne County Building east of Detroit's downtown will be restored for $30 million by a private partnership. County Executive William Lucas announced.

"This is a fine example of a public-private partnership working out a financial plan that works for the benefit of all," Lucas said in ceremonies last week.

Built in 1897, the courthouse stands at 600 Randolph. Currently it houses courtrooms which can't be fitted into the City-County Building and the Friend of the Court office.

THE TRANSACTION will work like this, according to Lucas:

County government will lease the land and sell the building to the Wayne County Economic Development Corp.

EDC's outgoing executive director, Robert FitzPatrick, inaugurated the project.

EDC will lease the land and sell the building to the developer.

Taking advantage of tax incentives for historic building preservation, the developer will restore the building. This involves cleaning, repair and replacement of stonework, repair and cleaning of statues, replacement of roofing, windows and frames, and landscaping.

Exterior light wells will be covered by skylights and transformed into atriums. Additions to the first and second floors, deemed "historically inappropriate," will be removed to restore daylight into the corridor and staircase areas.

All original surfaces will be uncovered, treated and repaired to restore their original character. Mechanical systems (heating, air conditioning) will be replaced and brought up to code.

The developer will lease the building back to the county.

THE DEVELOPER is a group called Old Wayne County Building Restoration Limited Partnership. Chairman is Jack Martin, treasurer is Louis Glazier.

Two architectural firms are involved. Smith, Hinchman & Grylls will be responsible for historic rehabilitation. Quinn Evans will handle historic restoration.

"While our overall goal is to construct the most efficient, modern and streamlined government possible in Wayne County," Lucas said, "we owe something to the past and future generations."

Lucas held his inaugural on the steps of the old county building Jan. 2, 1983, to symbolize links between the past and the county's home-rule charter.

MEANWHILE, LUCAS announced the County Commission has approved his appointments of 10 suburban mayors to the Wayne-Metropolitan Community Services Agency board.

Observer area mayors include Livonia's Edward McNamara and Westland's Charles Pickering.

The agency is the largest distributor of emergency food and shelter to low-income, elderly and handicapped persons. "We have had wonderful cooperation from cities and organizations all across the county from the very beginning," Lucas said.

Centerpiece of the system is the Food Center, a three-story building in Westland.

The agency distributed more than 1.8 million "units of service" (meals) to nearly 243,000 persons last year, according to Edna Jackson, president of the board.

Madonna offering health care classes

A seminar for educators, counselors and other professionals who work with young people in alcohol and drug use prevention has been scheduled by Madonna College, Livonia. Five day-long sessions are scheduled for Wednesdays beginning Feb. 27.

Topics will include: the disease of alcoholism and other chemical dependencies, societal attitudes, the dysfunctional family and intervention in the schools. Fee is $225 for credit or $195 for continuing education credits.

SPECIAL COURSES for health care professionals have been scheduled in February.

A basic EMT refresher course begins, Feb. 2, and will meet each Saturday for five weeks. Four units of continuing education credit are available.

Basic practice of EMT, for either college or continuing education credit, will be taught each Monday and Wednesday evening from Feb. 27.

27 through April 24. Professional staff development, including line relationships, will be covered in a weekend workshop, Friday evening and Saturday, Feb. 15 and 16.

LONG TERM care of the Pa-cemaker Patient and a basic understanding of the pacing system and related equipment will be among the topics covered in an all-day workshop on Saturday, Feb. 23.

Computers and Nursing will introduce nurses to applications of information to the nursing setting through the use of microcomputers. No experience with computers is required. The class will meet one day only, Wednesday, Feb. 27 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

For information about registration, fees and credit, contact the office of Continuing Education at Madonna College, 591-5188. Madonna College offers both bachelor's and master's degrees. It is located at 196 and Levan Road, just east of I-275.

Police staff rally to buoy department energy and perseverance — an opportunity to wield decision-making power in how the department will run. The committee members actually will take part in choosing the police chief candidate.

Since the department is young — it was established in 1978 — it is experiencing growing pains and needs guidance. These employees decided to accept an exciting challenge and a rare opportunity.

"These are people who are there to a large extent on their own time to do extra work, so that maybe the police department will be better. By God, that's exciting with that many people trying."

township trustee

The following are their explanations for becoming involved in the volunteer group:

CHRIS STOPA, police chief secretary, and a Canton police department employee since 1978: "I think I'm part of the committee because it's a feeling of pride in the place you work, and you want to make it the best place you can."

DAN ANTIEAU, patrol officer: "I work there, and I want to make it better. If I wanted things to remain status quo, I would just leave it alone."

WILLIAM LENAGHAN, corporal: "Basically this is my 22nd year in law enforcement, and I'd like to see some things done that I haven't seen. I think the committee can help get things aligned in the department. There's a lot of things that need to be accomplished."

LAURA GOLLES, sergeant: "The department is going through growing pains, and most of the officers are young. They want to be a part of the decisions to make the department a comfortable place to work. Pride has a lot to do with that. The officers who volunteered for the committee are dedicated, and they do want to make it work."

"They want to have a good image with the public, and the (Bartell) study shows that the public hasn't suffered with what's going on in the department. By donating their time, they want to keep it that way and make it better."

"I want to be on the ground level, and have a say in the way I think things should be done. These guys are interested in what's going to happen, and where the department is going. If things don't happen down the road with suggestions they make, some of them may say: Why am I putting in this time?"

ERNEST SAYRE, patrol officer: "I'm sure everyone involved had the same idea of wanting to improve the department."

EDDIE TANNER, patrol officer: "I feel I can follow through with the committee, and give some ideas. I'm more than willing to give my time. I'm concerned about the department, and I want to make it as efficient as possible. I pay taxes too."

ALEX WILSON, lieutenant: "I view everyone on that committee as having the same type of dedication to the department. One of the strong points in the Bartell study was that the people are considered to be eager. The bottom line is the officers in the department want to see change."

The Observer was unable to contact other committee members including Cpl. Roger Pearsall, Cpl. Robert Van Lath, Acting Chief Larry Stewart, Sgt. Gary Griffith, Sgt. Robin Cripe and Geraldine Svec.

Township Trustee Robert Padgett sums up their dedication: "These are people who are there to a large extent on their own time to do extra work, so that maybe the police department will be better. By God, that's exciting with that many people trying."

The steering committee has opted to come to a group consensus when making decisions, rather than voting on each issue.

Committee prioritizes its goals

made the move, and what will be required to set it up," Tanner said. "We want to do it (move to the new site) as soon as possible, and we don't want it to be of any disruption to the community."

THE EQUIPMENT subcommittee will determine what supplies are needed to "make things easier and more efficient," he said. The command structure task force will study the performance of high ranking officers.

"Since the (Bartell) study points to the command structure we will discuss it," Tanner said.

"And, now that the chief is gone, we want to look at the rest of the command structure and see how they operate," he said, referring to Police Chief Jerry Col's resignation last month.

The group also decided to hold its meetings, at least the initial ones, without the press present.

"Since a lot of people never dealt with the press before they are quite leery," Tanner said. "They feel if the press was present they wouldn't be able to talk as openly or frankly, and that would hamper getting anything done."

However, officers chose two members of the group to serve as liaisons. Tanner and alternate Ernest Sayre. They also named Cpl. Roger Pearsall as secretary for the group.

"Some people won't be able to attend all the meetings, because of their (work) duty, which comes first," Tanner said.

Board OKs $12,000 consulting proposal

By Diane Gale
staff writer

The Canton Township Board of Trustees approved proposals by a Pennsylvania consulting firm to help revamp the police department and assist in choosing a candidate for police chief.

Roderick Bartell of Bartell and Bartell made the sales pitch to the full board of trustees at a special meeting Tuesday.

The firm recently completed a $16,000 comprehensive study of the Canton Township Police Department citing a crisis situation. The study preceded the resignation of Police Chief Jerry Col.

Bartell's consulting services for departmental changes before a police chief is chosen will cost the township an estimated $9,332.

Both committees were formed to correct police department problems.

"We've discussed among ourselves (the need) to keep Bartell and Bartell as a resource, and draw on work (study information) that they've already done," said Officer Eddie Tanner, liaison for the steering committee.

THE POLICE COMMITTEE, composed of three township officials including Supervisor James Poole and trustees Loren Bennett and Bob Padgett, said it will call on Bartell for advice. A steering committee — made up of police personnel volunteering their time — also anticipates calling on him.

"We can use what applies to our department," Tanner said. "Since they've already done so many studies they can work in an advisory capacity."

Bartell is scheduled to meet Feb. 19 with police committee task forces. The full steering committee will meet with Bartell Feb. 21.

"We want to have a lot of communication between the people involved," Tanner said.

THE BOARD of trustees also approved using Bartell's services in choosing a police chief. Dan Durack, township personnel director, estimates Bartell's charge for this work will range from $3,000 to $5,000.

The agreement includes providing a description of the type of person needed for the position, reviewing resumes to help screen the best applicants, as well as coordinating and conducting on-site oral interviews.

The charge for this service includes $350 for each assessment, travel costs and $70 an hour for technical assistance.

Bartell presented proposals for police chief selection that ranged from the simple to the extravagant.

The trustees chose a midway plan. Other proposals included reviewing each candidate for $350, and conducting a 26-step plan at an estimated cost of $7,000.

Cops caution against donation-by-phone scheme

By Diane Gale

Canton police want residents to beware of donation requests from a police organization.

The Michigan Association of Police (MAP) is misrepresenting itself as being affiliated with the Canton Police Department, according to Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson.

"The group has been saying it represents the Canton Police Department and that's not true," he said. "Our citizens should be advised these organizations exist and are bilking the public of thousands of dollars to be used for their own purpose."

Approximately three residents during the past two months have called the Canton Police Department to inquire about the solicitation calls.

MAP is a police union and public service organization with an association motto of being "on guard not only for the rights of the policeman, but the general public," according to Dick Cole, MAP's public relations worker.

He said the organization is funded largely through telephone solicitation.

IF A MAP CALLER told residents the organization represents Canton police, that person was wrong, he added. Cole said he is unable to determine which workers have called Canton residents.

If he knew their names, Cole said, he would reprimand them for the mistake.

"Many of the people who do the calling are in high school, and they're not professional salespeople," Cole said. "They make mistakes."

"If one of the kids got a little more zealous than usual we want to cover it immediately, because we don't want any misrepresentation at all," Cole said.

A "fraud investigation," is being pursued by Wilson.

"The individuals who are making the calls are unidentified, so who do you charge?" he asked.

The most recently reported incident came from a Whittier resident who called Canton police after promising to donate money to MAP.

The organization sent the resident an invoice citing the pledge. When he realized the money was not going to Canton police, the invoice was submitted for the department's investigation.

"These people thought they were donating money to the Canton Police Department," Wilson said. "We appreciate their support, but it's not our intention to ever do anything like that."

HEADACHES

Nine Day Headache

For nine days straight I had a headache that wouldn't stop and nothing helped, not pills, not packs, nothing. Friends and relatives had gone to Dr. Mashike, and my daughter Dolores, took me in. I was examined, x-rays were taken, and adjustments started. I didn't think anything would help because the pain was so bad. At first nothing happened, but slowly after several adjustments the headaches disappeared and within a month I felt much better. It's been three months now and the headaches haven't returned. If you have headaches, try chiropractic before pills get you down. I did and I'm better. Anna Przybylo

Healthier Thru Chiropractic

We were referred to Dr. Mashike by a friend after we were involved in an auto accident. Peggy had injured her neck and was having headaches and I had severe neck pain. It was hard for us to perform our normal daily routines. After approximately 5 adjustments we noticed a healthier, stronger improvement and Peggy's headaches are gone too. She has not had her usual cold and sinus problems either. CHIROPRACTIC IS GREAT! It has helped us to have a better outlook on things. Dr. Mashike is more than a doctor who adjusts your back. His concern for his patients is extraordinary, his caring is reflected in his practice. Greg & Peggy Ludwig Headaches, their cause and correction. A Chiropractic Viewpoint.

So many times people will come to us as a last resort. They have gone through the gamut of tests and pills and sometimes even psychological therapy without results, or at best with only slight results. In short, they still have the problem. We look at the problem in a different way. Experience has shown us that most all headaches, whatever type they may be called, are usually caused by vertebrae out of alignment in the neck, which backs up pressure into the head. Depending how the vertebrae are out of alignment determines the area, type and duration of the headache. WITH THE PROPER REALIGNMENT OF THE VERTABRAE (WHICH IS NOT PAINFUL), 95 OUT OF 100 HEADACHE CASES ARE CORRECTED WITHIN THREE MONTHS, EVEN IF THE HEADACHES HAVE BEEN PRESENT FOR YEARS. Please... don't suffer any longer. Read the testimonials and then call for an appointment.

The Plymouth Post Office asks businesses and residents to help prevent slips, trips and falls by winter carriers due to the snow and ice by clearing and salting the pathways to mail receptacles. Carriers will make every effort to deliver the mail but if the approach to a letter box is obstructed by snow and ice, delivery may not be possible. The City of Plymouth reminds residents that they must remove the snow and ice from their sidewalks within 24 hours after a snowfall. Failure to do so may result in the DPW cleaning the walks at a cost of $40 per hour with a one-hour minimum.

Pursell appointed to ethics committee

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, who is serving his fifth term in the House of Representatives, moved another step up the leadership ladder recently when he was appointed to the Ethics Committee.

The appointment came as a surprise as Pursell already is a member of the appropriations committee and it is seldom that one member of Congress is named to two standing committees of similar importance.

The Ethics Committee is formally known as the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct. Members of both parties are equally represented on the committee.

The committee is responsible for investigating and recommending action on allegations of violations of the House Code of Official Conduct and relevant ethics laws.

Ethics Committee include the Abscam bribery case and vice presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro's financial disclosure case.

Before his appointment was announced House GOP leader Robert Michel of Illinois stated: "This appointment is indication of Carl's growing stature in the House Leadership and the fact that members of both parties recognize Carl as a very fair-minded person. I have always relied heavily on his advice and assistance and I consider him one of the finest members in the House."

Along with his other assignments, Rep. Pursell is vitaly interested in the need to bring the Soo locks up to date to help create more shipping and the possibility of building a new lock. The present locks are too narrow and it is feared that unless they are brought up to date the grain from the west will be shipped by rail to the Atlantic Coast.

Prior to being elected to Congress eight years ago, Pursell served on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners and in the state Senate where he was a leader.

He now is 12th out of 22 GOP members on the Ethics Committee.

Back Talk... Headache Cause May be Pinched Nerve

According to a report issued by the N.Y. Journal of Medicine, the cause of headaches in over 90% of 2,000 patients studied was a mechanical irritation of the nerves that exist between the bones of the neck. The report states that "direct injury to the neck may be caused by a blow or fall" that could easily irritate delicate spinal nerves.

American Weekly Magazine informed readers, "Headaches strike 19,000,000 Americans on a regular basis, 'teach day some 21 tons of aspirin are consumed in the attempt to gain relief'."

Modern chiropractic treatment seeks to eliminate this irritation of spinal nerves and produce effective relief of neck tension and headaches.

It'd shock Joe Louis to hear what Hearns earns

This is a very peculiar period we are going through in our lifespan and it may be well to save the newspapers for the coming generation to see how really surprising it was.

The peculiarity is noticeable in our cash dealings. Can you imagine a young fellow only several years out of college turning down a contract calling for $600,000 a year for working little more than a half day at a time?

Well, it sounds odd but that's what Kirk Gibson, the Tiger outfielder, did. He wanted $735,000 and a four-year contract. To counter that demand the Tigers offered him $600,000. He laughed at the offer.

Then the Tigers relented a bit and offered him $675,000 for a single year. He reluctantly signed, but let it be known that at the end of the coming season he would dick again for a long-term contract. Now the Tigers are wondering.

JUST IMAGINE that contract when the president of the United States gets only $200,000 a year and must bear the problems of an entire nation day and night.

Then we must look at the contract given Willie Hernandez, the relief pitcher. He wanted $4.5 million for a four-year contract that was to start in 1986. But he calmed down and signed without the delayed salary portion that was supposed to take him through 2010. But these demands paled when compared to the contract given Doug Flutie, the young Boston College quarterback, who signed for what was announced as $7,000,000 over four years. How unusual can it get when the sports teams are meeting most any demands?

If these things are unusual take a look at the fight game. Within a few weeks Tommy Hearns, the Detroit, will meet Marvin Hagler in Las Vegas and each fighter is guaranteed $1.5 million — even if the fight goes only one round. Aside from that unusual figure each fighter is guaranteed 35 percent of the television income.

How unusual is this? Well, Joe Louis,

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

considered one of the best fighters of all time, earned only $5,000,000 during his career and he defended the heavy-weight title 14 times.

THEN TO GET away from sports, General Motors announced during the past week that it had earned the largest profit in the entire history of the company and it ran into billions of dollars. And yet, with all that profit, there was no reduction in the prices of the cars. If anything the new models will bring higher prices because of the latest trimmings in the way of performance.

And let us look at the lowly hamburger that once sold for 10 cents. It is now more than $3 on the hotel menu and more than a dollar even at the fast food places.

Just imagine, if you can, a slice of apple pie in the hotel dining rooms costing more than $1. And the slice you get is not the usual one quarter of the full size.

Years ago all pie of this kind sold for a nickel a slice and it was one-fourth of the pie. In fact The Stroller's mother baked pies for the upper class in our little town, and we delivered them on Sunday mornings for only 25 cents a pie.

So, with all this happening now, one can imagine what the upcoming generation will think if they happen to get a copy of the present day newspapers.

They'll have a difficult time believing what they read.

Geake, Law to fight prison at appropriations level

By Gary M. Cates
Staff writer

Efforts aimed at blocking the placement of state inmates in the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) will focus on a supplemental appropriations bill making its way through the state Legislature.

State corrections officials have announced plans to lease the Plymouth Township facility on Five Mile as Detroit and Wayne County inmates are transferred to the new county jail.

"We are seeking to put language in the supplemental bill that would include the concerns addressed in the resolutions passed by Plymouth and Northville townships," said Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth Township.

The townships recently passed a joint resolution calling for a moratorium on institutions in their area, as well as a cap on the total number of prison beds. Added security provisions also are requested in the event DeHoCo is leased by the state.

"We also will be looking to remove language which we feel would not be advantageous to us," Law said.

Last week a joint corrections committee held its first meeting to address the state's prison situation. The joint committee will continue to hold hearings throughout the month and is expected to make a recommendation within 45 days.

ALTHOUGH THE joint committee will be discussing DeHoCo, Law and Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, believe the supplemental bill deserves more attention.

"Those joint committee hearings are informational what counts is whether or not you give people the authority to spend the money," Law said.

The supplemental bill includes appropriations for some $100 million, including federal matching dollars, for a variety of state departments.

Some $11.8 million of the supplemental funding is targeted for inmate housing, according to Geake, vice-chair of the influential senate appropriations committee and acting chair of the appropriation's corrections sub-committee.

"The department of corrections wants to use a portion of the money for leasing DeHoCo. When it comes to my subcommittee, we will be putting a hold on that," Geake said.

"We want the state to buy the facility and renovate it rather than rent it from the City of Detroit. We're very uncomfortable with leasing it," Geake said.

"The corrections people want the money in a lump sum but when I'm done with them it will be line-itemed. We've got an excellent chance at stopping it."

The supplemental bill should be up for a vote sometime this month.

ONE OF the questions which has surfaced during the recent prison push has been why DeHoCo was targeted in the first place, considering Geake's dislike of the facility. He said the area's institutional burden.

Next to DeHoCo is the Phoenix Correctional Facility, state-owned land formerly used for the Plymouth State Home facility, and the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital. A regional prison, the Scott Correctional Facility, also on Five Mile, is under construction.

The Plymouth State Home property, on Five Mile at Sheldon, is targeted for sale. Last year, the joint capital outlay committee approved the sale, but the proposal didn't clear the Legislature.

"THE AUTHORIZATION to sell the Plymouth Home site should be in the supplemental bill," Geake said.

Law introduced the measure last week and a hearing is scheduled this week in the state affairs committee, he said. The property has been appraised at $4.3 million.

"The only portion of the Plymouth Home property that won't be up for sale is the administration building on the east side of Sheldon," Law said.

"Hopefully we can get the sale through and we won't have any problems. It's not controversial," he said.

Northville Township Supervisor Susan Heintz said the property is in the process of being rezoned to industrial on the west side of Sheldon, and the small east side parcel, behind the ad-

Gerald Law
state representative

high position on the appropriations committee.

"It happened because Coleman Young went to Gov. Blanchard because he wanted to unload it and said, 'Hey, you need some space for prisons' and wanted the state to buy it," Geake said.

"This has been my number one priority since Jan. 1, I've been expending great amounts of energy on it and its starting to pay off," he said.

The DeHoCo land, situated on 1,000 acres in both townships, is considered a prime industrial parcel which local officials would like to see developed. Besides the tax advantages to developing the land, officials object to increasing the area's institutional burden.

There's no doubt it will be sold if it's zoned industrial on the west and multiple family on the east," Heintz said.

"The east side is ideal for multiple administration building, to multiple housing.

It's right across from the seminary and backs up to Hines Park," she said.

"There was no real opposition to selling it last time," Geake said. "I fully expected it to pass last time around but we ran into some snags."

"This administration believes that (subsidized housing) is not the best way to provide for the needs of the elderly. They suggest as an alternative relying on the old extended family system, and providing housing for elderly parents and grandparents as a tax credit.

"There's some data that would back them up," said Carroll.

"It is a very costly way to provide those types of services."

Learning to Live With Your Heart Condition — a series of classes on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. offered without charge at St. Mary Hospital, Livonia — is a five-part program held monthly for heart patients and their families.

A MARDI GRAS FEAST

Late in winter, New Orleans bursts into colorful activity for Mardi Gras, a celebration held the Tuesday before Lent. It's a time of exuberance, with parades, flamboyant costumes and delectable Cajun food.

As a last fling before Lent's privations, Mardi Gras dishes are traditionally robust and satisfying. Lenfant's Restaurant, home of authentic new-style New Orleans cuisine under Executive Chef Steven van Noppen, offers a menu that features some of the finest American regional cooking.

For a Mardi Gras feast, open the festivities with fresh Tomato, Spinach and Rice Soup. The perfectly cooked vegetables make a tasteful starter enhanced with the uniquely mellow yet piquant zest of Tabasco pepper sauce, the Louisiana condiment known the world over. Reserve a handful of the spinach leaves to add a few minutes before serving for a colorful accent in this clear, light-bodied first course.

Then, serve golden Crab Fingers Sunburst, a dramatic appetizer of quickly sauteed jumbo crab fingers on a bed of basic cooked rice, all kissed with the warm glow of saffron. Dazzling in appearance, it will please with the lively herbs and spices of Cajun cooking gentled by the satisfying plainness of rice.

Rice is a staple of Cajun cookery, sometimes eaten three times a day. Economical and versatile, with its ability to enhance many foods, it is a frequent accompaniment, as in Chicken Brochettes. Cooked here with a combination of red and green bell peppers in traditional Cajun fashion, the rice forms a nutritious base for the herb-fragrant chicken.

Another entree, Seafood Crepe, features crab meat and crawfish tails bathed in a shrimp sauce robust with flavor. A key seasoning is Tabasco pepper sauce. The premium liquid pepper sauce is used to bring out every ingredient's taste and heighten them with a freshness all its own. If crawfish tails are not available, substitute shrimp.

Close this fabulous repast with Pecan Baked Bananas, an elegant way to serve America's favorite fruit with the South's favorite nut meat.

To create an authentic festive atmosphere, use green, gold and purple linens, flowers or ribbons to surround your guests with the traditional Mardi Gras colors and watch them dine with the joy of carnival in their eyes.

TOMATO, SPINACH AND RICE SOUP

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1/4 cup olive oil | 1 teaspoon dried oregano, leaf, crushed |
| 1 large onion, chopped | 1 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce |
| 1/4 cup uncooked rice | 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper |
| 1 cup peeled, diced tomatoes | Salt to taste |
| 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) tomato puree | 1/2 cup minced chives or sliced green onion tops |
| 1 bag (10 ounces) fresh spinach, cleaned and washed well | |
| 1 quart chicken broth | |

Heat oil in stockpot. Add onion and cook over medium heat until soft but not brown. Add remaining ingredients except chives. Simmer 30 minutes, or until rice is tender. Stir in chives. Makes 6 servings.

CRAB FINGERS SUNBURST

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| 2 tablespoons olive oil | 1/4 teaspoon ground turmeric |
| 1 onion, minced | Pinch saffron or 1/2 teaspoon safflower (Azafran) |
| 1 clove garlic, minced | Salt to taste |
| 1 cup uncooked rice | 1 green bell pepper, cut in 1/2-inch squares |
| 2 cups chicken broth or water | 1 red bell pepper, cut in 1/2-inch squares |
| 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce | Crab fingers* |
| 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper | |

Heat oil in a 1-1/2 to 2-quart saucepan. Add onion and cook over medium heat until soft but not brown. Add garlic and rice and cook 1 minute. Stir in chicken broth and seasonings. Bring to a boil; stir once or twice. Lower heat, cover, and simmer 15 minutes (25 minutes for parboiled rice). Remove from heat. Stir in green and red peppers. Replace cover and let stand 10 minutes. Pack firmly into one 3 to 4 cup mold. Unmold onto serving dish. Arrange crab fingers and sauce around rice in a sunburst pattern.

*Crab Fingers

- | | |
|--|------------------------------------|
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine | 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper |
| 24 crab fingers (claws), largest available | Pinch saffron, optional |
| 1/4 cup dry white wine | Salt to taste |
| 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce | 1 tablespoon snipped fresh parsley |

In large skillet cook crab fingers in butter until slightly firm. Add wine and seasonings. Cook 5 minutes. Stir in parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If crab fingers are unavailable use peeled deveined raw shrimp.

Chef Steve van Noppen

- | |
|--|
| 1 pound skinned, boned chicken (breasts or thighs) |
| 12 fresh mushroom caps |
| 1 cup olive oil |
| 1/2 cup lemon juice |
| 2 cloves garlic, crushed |
| 1 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1 bay leaf |
| 1/8 teaspoon each thyme and rosemary leaves |
| 1/8 teaspoon each ground cumin and turmeric |
| Rice* |

Cut chicken into large cubes. Thread chicken pieces on 4 skewers, alternating with mushrooms. Place in shallow dish. Combine remaining ingredients except rice. Pour over brochettes. Refrigerate 3 to 4 hours, turning occasionally. Remove from marinade. Broil or grill 4 to 5 minutes. Turn, baste with marinade, and broil 4 to 5 more minutes. Serve over beds of fluffy rice. Makes 4 servings.

*Rice

- | |
|---|
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine |
| 1 1/2 cups uncooked rice |
| 3 cups chicken broth or water |
| Salt to taste |
| 1/2 cup each diced green and red bell peppers |

Melt butter in saucepan. Add rice and stir to coat with butter. Add broth and salt. Bring to a boil. Stir once or twice, lower heat, cover, and simmer 15 minutes (25 minutes for parboiled rice), or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Stir in peppers. Replace cover and let stand 10 minutes. Fluff with a fork.

Chef Steve van Noppen

SEAFOOD CREPES

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---|
| 1 pound raw shrimp | 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper |
| 2 tablespoons olive oil | 2 tablespoons butter or margarine |
| 1 small carrot, finely chopped | 1 pound peeled crawfish tails, optional |
| 1 rib celery, finely chopped | 1 pound fresh mushrooms, quartered |
| 1 onion, finely chopped | 1 bunch green onions, including tops, thinly sliced |
| 2 tablespoons dry sherry | 8 ounces lump crab meat |
| 1/2 cup tomato puree | 8 crepes, about 8 inches in diameter |
| 1 quart heavy cream | |
| Salt to taste | |
| 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce | |

Shell and devein shrimp. Rinse and refrigerate. Rinse and chop shells. Heat oil in saucepan. Add shells and cook over high heat until red. Add carrot, celery, and onion. Lower heat and cook 5 minutes. Stir in sherry, tomato puree and cream. Simmer, stirring often, until volume is reduced by half. Add salt, Tabasco sauce and pepper. Strain and reserve. Melt butter in saucepan. Add shrimp and cook over medium heat until slightly firm. Add crawfish (if used), mushrooms, and green onions. Cook on low heat 5 minutes. Stir in crab meat and half of cream mixture. To serve, heat oven to 375°. Pour a thin layer of sauce into a shallow baking dish. Spoon equal portions of the seafood mixture onto the unbrowned side of each crepe, using about half of mixture. Roll up. Place crepes, seam side down, in baking dish. Spoon remaining filling over crepes. Moisten with additional sauce, if desired. Bake, covered, 20 to 25 minutes or until heated through. Makes 4 servings.

Chef Steve van Noppen

- | | |
|---|----------------------------------|
| 8 ripe bananas (no bruises), unpeeled | 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed |
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine (preferably unsalted) | 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| 1/2 cup pecan halves | 1/4 cup rum |
| | Vanilla ice cream, optional |

Preheat oven to 350°. Place unpeeled bananas in a 13x9-inch baking dish. Bake 25 to 30 minutes, or until bananas are soft. Remove and allow to cool. Meanwhile, in small saucepan melt butter. Add pecans and cook over low heat 5 minutes. Remove pan from heat. Stir in brown sugar, cinnamon and rum. Return to heat and cook 5 minutes longer. Peel cooled bananas; place in baking dish. Spoon sauce over bananas. Bake at 350° until sauce is bubbly. Serve with ice cream, if desired. Makes 4 to 8 servings.

For your heart of hearts, a tart

French Silk Tart and Choco-Cherry Baked Alaska Pie are two impressive-looking valentines pies featuring chocolate in the filling. Although they appear complicated, they are easy to make since they begin with convenient refrigerated pie crusts.

Choco-Cherry Baked Alaska Pie is a simplified version of the showy dessert Baked Alaska. While the meringue is browning, the ice cream layers are insulated by the bottom pie shell, instead of the usual cake layer.

An advantage to this version is that the entire dessert, including the meringue, can be made hours or even days in advance.

FRENCH SILK TART
15-oz. pkg. all ready pie crusts
1 tsp. flour
Filling:
3-oz. (3 squares) unsweetened chocolate
1 1/4 cups sugar
4 eggs
1/4 tsp. almond extract
Whipping cream, whipped, if desired
Frozen raspberries, thawed and drained, if desired

Prepare pie crust according to package directions for unfilled 1-crust pie using ungreased 9-inch tart pan with removable bottom. Heat oven to 450 degrees. (Refrigerate remaining crust for later use.) Cool completely.

Spread chocolate ice cream in bottom of baked crust. Spoon fudge topping over ice cream; spread cherry ice cream over topping. Freeze until firm.

In medium bowl, beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks form. Gradually add marshmallow creme, beating until stiff peaks form. Spread meringue evenly over ice cream, completely covering ice cream and sealing to the crust. Bake at 450 degrees on lowest rack for 3 to 5 minutes or until delicately browned. Freeze several hours or overnight. Before serving, sprinkle with cashews. Let stand 3 to 5 minutes before cutting. 8 servings.

CHOCO-CHERRY BAKED ALASKA
1 pie (2 cups) chocolate ice cream, softened
1 cup fudge ice cream topping
1 pint (2 cups) cherry ice cream, softened
Meringue:
3 egg whites
Dash salt
1 cup marshmallow creme
1/2 cup cashews or peanuts, if desired

Prepare pie crust according to package directions for unfilled 1-crust pie. Heat oven to 450 degrees. (Refrigerate remaining crust for later use.) Cool completely.

Spread chocolate ice cream in bottom of baked crust. Spoon fudge topping over ice cream; spread cherry ice cream over topping. Freeze until firm.

Know what to expect when driving in winter

Taking the nightmares out of winter driving requires common sense approaches by all drivers — proper planning and vehicle maintenance today to head off tomorrow's dangers.

Douglas M. Ferguson, vice president for traffic, National Safety Council, has compiled a series of guidelines for more trouble free winter highway travel.

"Knowing what to expect and expecting the worst" is Ferguson's concept that includes trip planning, advance preparations and emergency precautions.

● Study your route in advance. Mentally, list road and highway conditions you're apt to encounter.

● Set up a reasonable driving schedule with ample provisions to get off the road and wait if winter throws deadly tricks your way, such as poor traction and reduced visibility.

● Plan for periodic rest stops — don't try to cover too much territory in one sitting. Frequent driver changes also combat fatigue if the trip is long.

● Check weather reports. The local weather bureau, motor club, highway patrol office and your car radio are good sources. Think twice before starting out in the face of a threatening storm.

● On the road, a CB radio can be especially helpful in getting reports from other drivers in the area.

● For the driver: Start each day refreshed after a good night's sleep.

● For your vehicle: A tune-up and thorough mechanical check including the complete electrical system, exhaust, brakes, heater, defroster and hoses.

● Make sure defrosters and windshield wiper blades can clean ice, slush and wet snow off your windshield. Replenish antifreeze fluid in windshield washers.

● Make sure your tires have good tread.

● Safety check your trunk. Emergency gear should include a glass scraper-brush, booster cables, flares or emergency lights, a shovel, sand, rock salt or traction mats, a tow chain or strap, extra windshield washer fluid, blankets and tire chains.

● Keep your gas tank reasonably full at all times.

● Anticipate situations that call for reduced speeds — intersections, bridges and overpasses, for example.

● Increase following distances when surfaces are slick. Use extra care in signaling other drivers following too closely who may be unable to stop in time.

● Sudden changes in speed or abrupt turns will throw your vehicle into a skid. If you do go into a skid, stay off the brakes, ease off the accelerator and steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go. If you want it to go right, turn right; if you want it to go left, turn left.

● To slow or stop on slippery pavements, squeeze your brakes with a slow, steady pressure until just before they lock. When you feel them start to lock, ease off until all wheels are rolling easily again, then squeeze again. Squeeze braking is the best technique for cars with either disc or drum brakes, or a combination of both.

● If your winter sport preference — such as snowmobiling — requires towing a trailer, even greater emergency precautions are needed. Anticipate all movements even further in advance, then accelerate, brake and steer smoothly and gradually. Increase following distances.

Ferguson concluded with this reminder: "Before starting out on a trip, this month, bear in mind that tire chains provide the ultimate stop and go traction for severe snow and ice conditions. Have them available for the worst that winter may have to offer."

Spartan duo tops Salem

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Chip Finneren, a reserve player on the Livonia Stevenson basketball team, came over and placed an arm around his coach, George Van Wagoner.

"Great job tonight coach," said Finneren, who never left the bench during Stevenson's 63-55 victory against Plymouth Salem Friday night. "It can't be easy coaching us."

The words nearly brought tears to Van Wagoner's eyes.

"You know, there's a kid who doesn't even play," he said. "It just makes you feel great."

Van Wagoner has had many outstanding teams during his long coaching career, but one doubts if he has enjoyed one more than this year's group.

Friday night's victory clinched the Western Lakes Division title for Stevenson. The Spartans are a perfect 10-0 in the conference. Salem, in second place, is 6-4 in the league with just three games left.

The Spartans played an intelligent basketball game against a Salem team that had won four straight games before Friday. The Spartans were able to exploit Salem's lack of height in the front court and effectively camouflaged their own weakness — the lack of quickness in the backcourt.

"THE KIDS did a nice job tonight," Van Wagoner said. "We've been playing a lot better. We like to run, but we have to run under control."

Against the Rocks, the Spartans were successful with their half-court offense, largely because of the rebounding and shooting prowess of seniors Matt Burdiss and Bob Sluka.

Talk about a 1-2 punch: Sluka scored 24 points and grabbed 10 rebounds. Burdiss scored 26 points and grabbed 15 rebounds. Twelve of the 50 points scored by the pair came off offensive rebounds.

"We wanted to take away their second and third shots, but we just didn't do a very good job," said Salem coach Bob Brodie. "Our intensity was terrible. We just weren't challenging them. Stevenson was hot from the perimeter and we could never close the gap."

Stevenson hit 27 of 57 shots from the floor, but the shots fell in bunches. The Spartans hit 6 shots in a row in the second quarter to pull out to a 26-18 lead. The last shot in that streak was a crowd-warming jam by Burdiss.

Salem pulled to within 4 points on three straight hoops by Eric Sovine in the third quarter, but Stevenson answered with 5 straight hoops.

Five points was as close as Salem could get in the final quarter.

"WE WENT back to our old one-shot jump-shot offense," Brodie said. "The same way we played against Harrison and Northville (both were Salem losses)."

Lost in the brilliance of Sluka and Burdiss were the performances of Stevenson's Vic Nettie and Jim Kimble.

"I thought Vic did a great job on LeSean Haygood (Salem's center)," Van Wagoner said. "He didn't score a lot of points or get many rebounds so his performance often gets overlooked."

Haygood was held to just 5 points. He did pull down 12 rebounds.

KIMBLE, A junior guard, did a solid job coming off the bench and handling the ball against Salem's pressure defense. He was one of the reasons Salem couldn't consistently take advantage of its quicker backcourt.

Stevenson's performance overshadowed the multi-dangerous game of Salem's Mike White. White, dashing through the Spartan defense or bombing from the perimeter, scored 17 points to lead Salem. Sovine chipped in 12.

The loss was a bitter one for Salem, yet Brodie is not about to throw in the towel on his rookie season.

"I told the kids before the game that, win or lose, this one is not for all marbles. Stevenson has got a comfortable lead. We have got to continue to play hard as we move toward the tournament. We have to learn from this and hopefully win our next three or four and go into the tournament with some momentum," he said.

Stevenson is 12-1 overall and Salem is 8-6.

Franzen resigns

Ray Franzen, a key component in the Plymouth Salem girls basketball program, has resigned as coach of the junior varsity team.

In a letter of resignation sent to head Salem girls basketball coach Fred Thomann, and forwarded to Salem principal Bill Brown, athletic director John Sandmann and superintendent of schools Dr. John Hoben, Franzen said, "I find a conflict in the timing of events involving my family and the time commitments required of the basketball program."

Also in the letter, Franzen stated three "concerns regarding the girls basketball program at Salem."

"ONE, THE coaching remuneration is not commensurate with surrounding school districts. Two, the lack of a ninth grade (basketball) program greatly hinders the development of the players. Three, having to fund raise to provide equipment to operate the program takes coaching time and energy away from helping the student-athletes reach their greatest potential."

Thomann resigned as head boys basketball coach last year stating similar concerns.

Franzen, considered one of the best junior varsity coaches in the area, led the JV Rocks to an undefeated season last fall.

He had been involved in the Salem girls basketball program the past six years.

Winter blahs invade Observerland sport scene

WONDER IF I could survive February without Sports Illustrated's bathing suit edition. Probably not.

That's not entirely a sexist comment. SI's bathing suit edition, like getting the 1985 Tiger schedule in the mail and reading about baseball fantasy camps, signals the coming of spring.

And, Lord knows, I need spring to arrive as soon as possible. This, by far, has been the winter of my ultimate discontent. Excuse me while I bleed for a while.

First of all, my car has cost me nearly $2,000 in repair bills, my pregnant wife has cost me (and my insurance company) a sum close to or exceeding that, and the winter sports scene around these parts, as glum as the winter weather, is costing me my sanity.

Boys basketball has been dismal. Let's face it, the talent level in Observerland has been on a steady decline. I felt this last year even though there were the Mark Bennetts, the Tom Domakos, the John McIntyres, the Joe Gregoris and a few others around.

DON'T GET ME wrong, there are still a handful of exciting players around. Mac and Gregory are still here. Mike White can do many things at Plymouth Salem; Bob Sluka is steady at Stevenson, and Pollis Robertson is wowing them at Wayne.

And, I have my own personal favorites: Bruce Kratt at Farmington, Ken George at Farmington Harrison, Rick Pennala, Bob Chwalik and Rick Anderson at North Farmington, Brent Stack at Canton, Eric Sovine at Salem.

But, be honest, how many bonafide Division I college talents do we have in this area? Not more than 2 or 3 players, from what I can see.

Trying to pick the top 5 teams in the area is embarrassingly tough. Wayne, our No. 1 team, finally gets into the state rankings only to get slaughtered at Ann Arbor Huron. Livonia Stevenson is having one of its banner seasons, but the Spartans are a very, very beatable team.

No. 3-ranked Catholic Central is basically a one-man unit. No. 4-ranked Garden City has some talent but is getting by largely on the intelligent coaching of Bob Dropp.

The No. 5 spot (actually No. 3 through No. 5) is always up for grabs. Farmington Harrison, North, Salem, even Livonia Bentley have either held the spot or were strongly considered for it.

PERHAPS THE winter blahs have crept into my judgment, but I'm just not all that excited about Observerland boys basketball this season.

Taking its place, and so far rescuing my mental health, has been volleyball. What an exciting sport this is. I wish everyone of you out there cursing me right now could have witnessed the Stevenson-North championship match last year at the Schoolcraft tournament or the North-Harrison match earlier this year.

The thing I like about volleyball, along with the incredibly fast-paced action and the fearless athletic ability of the players, is the coaches' attitude toward their game. North's Sandy Lubieniecki epitomizes this. She is somehow able to instill in her team a fierce competitiveness and a "have-a-good-time" attitude simultaneously.

Most of the coaches I deal with take this approach. Thus, the spirit of fun is never lost within the competitiveness of the sport. I don't think basketball in this area can make the same claim.

There is something that bothers me about volleyball, though. Some coaches don't seem to understand all the rules surrounding the win-loss record. Some coaches think that tournament games are not to be included on their win-loss record.

Not true.

IF YOU win two games or lose two games to the same team in a tournament — even though they may be two-game matches — it counts on your record. If you split the two games, then it does not count. This is the state rule, coaches. You should follow it.

Plymouth Salem has added a bit of sparkle to the gymnastics scene this season. It's always a good story when a team that has long been the dorm-mat of a particular area or league suddenly becomes one of the area's best. (The Farmington Harrison basketball team is in this boat, too.)

Congratulations extended to Salem's coach Kathi Kinsella. She works hard with her kids, and now that her team is on top, she's wisely keeping everything in perspective. There are no overly inflated egos on Kinsella's team.

Of course, with a powerhouse like North Farmington in the league, it's very easy to keep things in perspective.

Here's a thought: I see where the fight to keep Livonia Bentley from closing is heating up. It may even go to court. So, what happens to the new Western Lakes structure if Bentley does remain open? I hope the area athletic directors are considering this, because it could happen.

YOU KNOW, I have always rooted for the University of Michigan over Michigan State in football. With John Miller, Todd Krumm, Bob Wasczenski and so many other guys that I've watched develop in high school wearing the green and white, I just can't root against State anymore. Take 'em to Pasadena, guys.

Did you know that Jill Birsa will be the only female to earn 9 varsity letters at Farmington Harrison? She competes in tennis, gymnastics and track and has since her sophomore year.

Leave 'em laughing. Last summer I was golfing out at Whispering Willows. When I got up to the third hole, I noticed Farmington Hills Mercy basketball coach Larry Baker getting ready to hit off the women's tee.

"Hey, Larry," I said. "Don't you want to hit off the regulation tee?"

"Leave me alone," said he. "I'm on my third shot."

Not entirely a true story, but too good a joke to pass up.

Doug McKeon is Jonathan, a shy guy, who falls for the sexiest girl in town, Marilyn, played by Kelly Preston.

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Parents look foolish in bright 'Mischief'

OK, parents, line up and take your licks. It's all your fault. What is? Everything imaginable. The parents did it. These days, the butler is getting off scot-free.

As a parent, I object to the current state of movies ("Breakfast Club," "Heaven Help Us," "Mischief" and "Vision Quest") which in one way or another create adolescent worlds where all problems are created by the older generation.

Youth will be served but this is ridiculous! Life is not all fast times at the drive-in with a happy ending. The media does a great disservice telling the kids that parents are the root of all evil and everything will turn out well if you go for it.

"Mischief" is one of the more annoying examples of this genre, spreading that very message and doing a good job of it. It's all the more insidious because the film is technically well-produced, has an engaging and energetic young cast, good music, neat old cars — would you believe a green Studebaker from the mid-'50s — and it keeps moving at a good clip despite the usually thin Hollywood, high-school romance. Plot 1B.

NELSONVILLE'S HIGH's leading klutz, shy and innocent Jonathan (Doug McKeon, the tough little kid from "Golden Pond") dreams of Marilyn (Kelly Preston), the sexiest girl in school, town and most of the western world. Up to a point Hollywood romance is OK, but high school was never like this, not even close.

Into town, and over everybody's lawn, rides a dashing young dude on a motorcycle, Gene (Chris Nash). Nash is an appealing young man, reminiscent of, and in some ways more attractive than, John Travolta. No smug looks, just fresh and youthful energy.

Gene is from the big city of Chicago and very wise. He's also been in a lot of trouble, which turns out to be his father's fault. Dad, it seems, has had a tough time as a widower so he takes it out on Gene.

Gene, at any rate, knows the score and takes Jonathan under his wing to make a man of him, the crassest sense of the phrase. There is a great deal of discussion of sexual matters and, later, when Gene's lesson's take effect, some pretty explicit sexuality.

THE FILM DESERVES its R-rating. If the R-admission policies were enforced, it wouldn't be so bad but we all know how loose the ratings systems is. Hokey for R-rated movies for the teenyboppers, they're great at the box office.

Meanwhile, there are other attractive girls in town. Bunny (Catherine Mary Stewart) is practically "owned" by Kenny (D. W. Brown), son of the local department store owner. Kenny drives a slick red convertible, which gets banged up and repaired quite easily. As a matter of fact, so do all the cars. I wonder if they're cousins to the demon car Christine.

The lesson here is that it's no big deal if the kids bang up the car, folks, unless you want an excuse to bat them around, as Gene's dad does.

Bunny has eyes for Gene but has to sneak around to avoid Kenny who considers her his girl. Kenny has help from his buddies and from Bunny's parents, who drool every time Kenny comes by.

GENE LIKES BUNNY as well and doesn't mind sneaking around, at least not at first. So here we have another great lesson — be deceptive, be sneaky. A bit later Marilyn tells Jonathan she likes him because he doesn't look dangerous. Marilyn, by the way, also has eyes for Gene but settles for Jonathan so friend Bunny's true love can express itself.

Let's not forget Rosalie, hovering in the background and dropping french fries everywhere. She doesn't have a chance in the romantic sweepstakes, until she gets her braces off, then watch out.

All these complications, of course, work themselves out in a happy ending liberally spiced with smashed cars, unhappy parents and the unwavering commitment to do whatever feels good.

Films like "Mischief" represent the media at its most irresponsible moments.

Jonathan gets some tips on how to handle women from Chris Nash as the cool guy, Gene.

what's at the movies

AMADEUS (PG). Superb rendition of Mozart's life with Tom Hulce and F. Murray Abraham. Directed by Milos Forman.

BEVERLY HILLS COP (R). Eddie Murphy is funny, but Detroit comes off second best in this cop show.

BIZET'S CARMEN (PG). Lush, sensuous rendition of Bizet's opera. Stars Plácido Domingo and Julia Migenes-Johnson. Visually rewarding experience.

BROTHER FROM ANOTHER PLANET (Unrated but probably PG-13). Humorous and clever, as a black extraterrestrial slave escapes and lands in Harlem. Marred by murky conclusion.

CITY HEAT (PG). Clint Eastwood and Burt Reynolds combine forces as a cop and private eye in this free-wheeling film set in 1933 Kansas City.

THE COTTON CLUB (R). Splashy but disappointing epic about Harlem nightclub during Prohibition. Richard Gere, Diane Lane, Gregory Hines and good supporting cast. Directed by Francis Ford Coppola.

FANTASIA (G). Walt Disney's animated classic featuring a new digitally rerecorded Dolby stereophonic soundtrack.

FLAMINGO KID (PG-13). High school graduate's summer vacation before college. A very busy summer, with Matt Dillon, Richard Crenna and Jessica Walter.

THE GODS MUST BE CRAZY (PG). Nomadic tribesman discovers Coke bottle and believes it's a magic talisman. Comedy from South Africa.

HEAVEN HELP US (R). Rebellious students in strict Catholic High School. Starring Kevin Dillon, Andrew McCarthy and Donald Sutherland.

THE KILLING FIELD (R). Must-see, intense story of brotherhood amidst the horrors of war in Cambodia, based on Pulitzer-Prize-winning article by New York Times correspondent Sydney Schanberg.

MICKI AND MAUDE (PG-13). Dudley Moore winds up in trouble with Amy Irving and Ann Reinking. Directed by Blake Edwards.

MISCHIEF (R). Typical high school story, well-produced but too explicit for young teenagers. Parents take the big rap for all that is bad.
