Victim's father slams suspect

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Former Canton resident Dr. Charles Fisher, charged with murdering his wife, feared she was having an affair with her cousin, and that their marriage would end if she visited the cousin as she had planned, according to testimony given by Manuel Mercado, the victim's father.

Mercado testified in 35th District Court last week in the continuing preliminary examination on the first-degree murder charge. He said that Fisher pleaded with him to intercede two times the day before Ella Marie Mercado-Fisher was bound with rope and her face was wrapped with duct tape on July 15. She died five days later from complications caused from lack of oxygen.

Mercado-Fisher kept a journal in which she "predicts in a psychic manner what would happen," Mercado said. The journal was presented in court by Timothy Kenny, Wayne County prosecutor, but it was not entered as evidence. Defense attorney Daniel Burruss said it could be considered hearsay because Mercado-Fisher couldn't verify the document.

IN A surprise move, Burruss declined to cross-examine Mercado, even though earlier in the hearing he said he expected to question him at length.

"This is a preliminary exam, and it's a time for the prosecutor to show cause to prosecute," Burruss said. "It's not time for me to try my case. He (Mercado) is a person who has just lost his daughter."

Mercado-Fisher planned to go to Germany July 17 to visit her cousin, Javier Hurtado.

"He (Fisher) told me to stop my daughter from going to Germany," Mercado said. "He told me that they had a romantic relationship — my daughter Ella Marie and Javier Hurtado. He (Fisher) mentioned the fact that he (Hurtado) was a bad influence on my daughter, because he was either a socialist or a communist."

Hurtado sent Mercado-Fisher books relating to politics from Central America, Mercado said. The victim's father said he promised Fisher he would call his daughter the next day (May 15) and try to convince her not to go to Germany.

"I supported him as a son-in-law," Mercado said. "I wanted him to be within the family. And, I supported him on an emotional basis in regards to my daughter. He said this would be the end of the marriage if she went."

Ready for St. Paddy's

Macomb, and Canada, also compete — and are likely to show why March 17 at parties and pubs. Livonia's Kitty Heinzman and her students (who include Italian attorneys, custodians, computer programmers, priests and Howell "housefraus") say their pursuit is an enjoyable way to keep Irish culture alive. What's more, they say, all a prospective dancer needs are "two legs, preferably with feet." See Thursday's entertainment section for stories on St. Patrick's Day doings, the dancers and their Irish-born instructor.

Murder witnesses receive threats

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton police are investigating death threats made to two Canton firefighters who testified in the preliminary examination of a first-degree murder charge against Dr. Charles Fisher.

Police said firefighter Jack Raker and Lt. Ken Witt were called on the telephone within one hour and 20 minutes of each other.

Raker told police the caller said: "You testified, you're dead."

Police Lt. Alex Wilson said, "We don't consider this a prank or a joke." Wilson said Fisher, who is in custody, is not permitted to make phone calls without an officer being present.

Police staffing levels studied by officers, trustees

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Administrators and police officers are trying to agree on staffing levels for the Canton Township Police Department.

The force presently has 31 officers. Inadequate staffing has previously been cited by officers as a major problem affecting all aspects of the department. Building a rapport between police officers and the township board of trustees is considered of major importance.

tance in effecting change. The force was cited as having major problems in a study conducted by the Bartell and Bartell consulting firm.

Police officers met with the Canton trustees Wednesday to clarify what the administrators believe are needed police services. A task force working on department staffing, comprised of officers volunteering their time, gave the board of trustees a questionnaire.

"We tried more or less to see what the township was looking for and what they wanted to provide," said Canton police officer Eddie Tanner, media liaison for the police committee.

It would be unrealistic for the task force to make recommendations to the board without first understanding what the board would consider, according to police personnel and township administrators.

TRUSTEES JOHN Preniczky, Loren Bennett, Stephen Larson and Robert Padgett as well as Clerk Linda Chuhnan and Treasurer Gerald Brown were present for the meeting. Supervisor

James Poole was absent.

"The board wants to provide good solid, basic services," Padgett said. "We have to look at what is the absolute minimum."

The questionnaire asks the trustees what their expectations are on issues like patrol frequency, case clearance rates and developing special units.

"With the results of the survey, we hope to put together several packaged options with reference to staffing," said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson.

The board answered the same questionnaire at the start of the meeting and again at the conclusion. The first effort showed what the trustees would ideally like, and the second showed a realistic view of what the department could provide considering budget restrictions, Tanner said. The task force is trying to set immediate and long-range staffing levels.

"What's great is they're (staffing task force) really doing a thorough job," Padgett said. "They're looking at how one police officer will affect the budget."

The police committee has developed four task forces to study staffing policies, transferring to the new police station, equipment needs and the department's command structure. The members meet to identify problems and determine what needs to be done to improve conditions.

However, before major changes such as increasing staff are made, the committee must receive approval from the board.

Bad warrant cited in drug charge

By Diane Gale
staff writer

An attorney representing Alfred Scicluna of Canton Township says drug charges against his client should be dropped because police seized evidence with an improper warrant.

Testimony during a preliminary examination last week on extortion charges against Scicluna in Redford Township's 17th District Court pointed to the improper warrant, according to James L. Feinberg, Scicluna's attorney.

Brian Rogers, 24, of Redford Township testified that he bought drugs from Scicluna, refused to pay, was threatened and later beat up by Eugene O'Sullivan of Redford Township.

"The original search warrant indicates Brian Rogers saw certain ledger books at Mr. Scicluna's business as well as his home," Feinberg said.

Scicluna owns the Belleville Florist, and was arrested last month at the business.

"Police got a search warrant to look for ledger books, but on Tuesday Mr. Rogers testified that he had seen only ledger books at his place of business," Feinberg said. "So the search warrant to go into the (Canton) home was based on false or mistaken evidence."

"We're going to have to have the police testify (about) what they did to get the warrant," said Varskin Baydarian, Wayne County assistant prosecutor.

"Our position is that whether he was lying or not," Rogers told police he saw the records at the business and the home, Baydarian said.

SCICLUNA, 36, was charged with extortion in 17th District Court. Judge Robert F. Brang bound him over for an April arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court.

In 35th District Court, Scicluna is charged with possession and intent to deliver (sell) cocaine of more than 50 grams, possession of a short-barrel shotgun and possession with intent to deliver (sell) marijuana.

Feinberg was granted an adjournment on the preliminary examination for the drug charges March 7 by 35th District Court Judge James Garber. At 11 a.m. March 28, 35th District Judge John MacDonald will decide whether to dismiss the drug charges or conduct a preliminary exam to determine if there is enough evidence to hold a trial.

On Feb. 11, Redford and Michigan State police obtained a search warrant to seize records allegedly used by Scicluna. When police entered Scicluna's home on Hartford Court they said they found a large cache of weapons and drugs. At this point police obtained a second warrant from 35th District Court to seize these items.

THE HOME WAS unoccupied when police confiscated a two-barrel shotgun, four ounces of cocaine, six pounds of marijuana, drug paraphernalia, a Colt rifle, a sawed-off rifle, a 22-caliber rifle, a smooth-bore muzzle rifle, a cattle prod, a hand grenade and more than $2,000 in cash and records of drug transactions, police said.

Scicluna is a gun collector, according to Feinberg.

On March 28 Feinberg will attempt to convince Judge MacDonald that the second warrant was improper.

Scicluna is free on a $5,000 bond on the extortion charges. Bond was set last month by 17th District Judge John M. Dillon. Scicluna pleaded not guilty to the charges. He also posted a $500 cash surety bond for the drug charges at his arraignment by Judge MacDonald.

O'Sullivan was charged with extortion in 17th District Court and is free on a $2,500 personal bond. He is to appear in Wayne County Circuit Court April 1.

The maximum sentence for the felony extortion charge is 20 years in prison. The drug charge carries a sentence of not less than 10 years in prison or life probation.

Roads will be paved after bumpy past

County Road Commission — now a county department — is blamed for past postponements of the work, which was to begin early Spring, Poole said.

"We made an agreement last October with people who no longer have control over the bids and specs," he said. "I told them some things that they didn't like to hear."

The resurfacing work could begin before June, but it also could be delayed again.

"I want to push that (resurfacing date) up as soon as we can," Poole said.

THE TOWNSHIP has $1.3 million to resurface Warren Road from Canton Center to Lilley; Lilley Road from Cherry Hill to Bishop; Warren Road from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad at the township's eastern border to Hannon; Palmer Road between Sheldon and Haggerty; and Sheldon Road between Palmer and Cherbourg.

If bids for the job exceed $1.3 million, the board of trustees will have to decide which roads will take priority.

Murder suspect jealous of wife's 'love affair,' father testifies

Maryland home again at 3 p.m. July 15 to ask him not to tell Mercado-Fisher about the first telephone call, because if she found out "she will leave me," Mercado recalled.

Mercado also read a letter from his son-in-law dated September 1983. "I resent him (Hurtado) in Ella Marie's life, and that he's trying to contaminate her mind and body." Along with the letter to his in-laws, Fisher enclosed a card from Hurtado to Mercado-Fisher, "because," wrote Fisher, "I just want you to see I'm not lying. From now on I will provide you with proof. I am sick of being doubted by Ella Marie when she has done these things."

The letter from Hurtado written in broken English included: "I got used to receiving your letters and by now I am missing it. I think under the shower I remember you."

Fisher's letter continued: "How sick that cousins would have a relationship like this. I was afraid it would happen as it has happened more and more."

Mercado said outside the courtroom that he believed his daughter "could have been infatuated with her cousin."

"But Javier already had a girlfriend when Ella Marie was to go to Germany in July," Mercado said. "He wrote her and said he and his girlfriend would show her the sites, but Mr. Fisher construed this in a different way."

FISHER TOLD his father-in-law Mercado-Fisher was having affairs on at least three other occasions, Mercado said.

Mercado-Fisher, who was living with Fisher in the Virgin Islands in July 1983, visited Bolivia with Mercado that year to visit her father's relatives, Mercado said. Fisher opposed the trip that was to last about five weeks.

About a week after Mercado and his daughter arrived in Bolivia, Fisher called inquiring about his wife.

"Fisher said, 'Where's Ella Marie?' I've been calling her all day," and I said, "She went out with her cousin Javier," Mercado said.

Mercado-Fisher ended the vacation after two weeks.

Mercado testified that the day after the attack Fisher called his father-in-law again and said "you won't believe this, but Ella Marie and I were attacked and robbed last night," Mercado said.

"I told him, 'Charles, I don't believe anything you are saying,'" Mercado said. "Your story is full of holes, and if the police believe what you are saying they are fools."

Fisher told Mercado he was hit on the head and kicked in the leg by the intruders. Fisher said they bound and gagged him and Mercado-Fisher and that someone speaking with a soft, soothing voice "as if drugged" asked for his money and the keys to his red pickup truck.

"I asked him to let me see his legs, because he had mentioned that he had been kicked," said Mercado, who traveled to Michigan after the incident.

"It was daylight, and he pulled his pants up, and I saw not a scratch."

Burress declined to cross-examine Mercado. The attorney's principal argument involved the large number of breaking and enterings last summer in the Thornwood neighborhood where the couple lived.

District Judge James Garber, hearing the exam, stressed that the court recognized there had been breaking and enterings in the area, but restricted Burress from going into detail.

Canton police Detective William Keppen, chief investigator in the case, also testified Friday. After Fisher and Mercado-Fisher were taken to the hospital the night of the attack, Keppen arrived at the Canton home. He said he noticed a stack of paper money — about an inch high — in the top dresser drawer of the master bedroom, which had not been disturbed. He also identified rope found in a corner of the garage as being the same type used on Mercado-Fisher and Fisher.

Don't be surprised if someday, film crews descend upon Centennial Educational Park to make a movie about a certain senior.

The opening scene probably would transport you to spring 1967. At 18 months old, an orphan with golden skin and deep brown, saucer-like eyes had stolen the heart of college student Bobbi McIvor. The Michigan State University freshman was working in an orphanage in Honduras, Central America, completing a Spanish project.

Before his young, poverty-stricken mother died, Marco Antonio was found tied to a bedpost in a tiny, bare home. Lucia Kalix, blinded from malnutrition, had no other way to mind her only child, who himself was legally blind. Marco Antonio's father died tragically, but little else is known about him.

SISTER MARIA Rosa, a nurse, later discovered the toddler in Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, in a hospital where she worked. A foundling whose own long-ago wanderings fortunately had led her to a convent where she was educated, Sister Maria "hid him and fed him because she knew no one could pay for his care," according to old newspaper accounts.

While caring for the little boy, the sister's "major inheritance" — the bitter memory of a childhood spent facing poverty alone, fear, hunger, and hopelessness — impelled her to follow her dream of starting an orphanage.

With grants and donations from businesses, she established "The City of Children." Marco Antonio was given her surname, "de la Rosa," and was the first of hundreds of Hispanic waifs to find a home with Sister Maria.

"I don't remember it, but from what I understand, a student who was working there (Bobbi McIvor) saw I had an eyesight problem," said an 18-year-old Honduran at Plymouth Canton High School Friday. "She took me out of the orphanage, and just took me home with her to Ann Arbor. She took me without knowing the consequences."

McIvor, then a minor, somehow flung a passport and visa for Marco Antonio, and left Honduras. Her hope was to have the youngster examined and treated at a University of Michigan vision clinic and to find a family to adopt him.

THE TRIP to Michigan was uneventful, with one exception. At home en route, Marco Antonio contentedly slept in bottom dresser drawers. But McIvor — now Mrs. Bobbi Ryder and director of southwest Michigan's migrant and rural community health association — confronted difficulty with U.S. Customs officials.

"(Bringing him into the country) was illegal, of course. I remember asking Bobbi what she did. She said she cried with, and sometimes sends drawings to, Honduras relatives, Bobbi Ryder, and Sister Maria, who admonishes him on orphanage stationery to "keep practicing your Spanish, my sweet boy."

Peg Gail, Davis' teacher consultant, and Anthony's mom have seen the young man make great strides.

Anthony has gone from being rather defensive and stubborn about his impairment to someone "who's honest about what he can and cannot do," said Gail. "At first, he tended to isolate himself in class. Now he talks with lots of students. He doesn't have anything to hide anymore."

"I still haven't figured out how he draws like that," said Anthony's mother, a teacher at Field Elementary.

"What he's done is remarkable," she added, "and his handicap makes his art even more remarkable."

Season of frustration ends quickly

'This was the first group of seniors that didn't play freshman basketball... When we got into game situations, the kids didn't react instinctively. They had to think about it. And that told a tale.'

—Bob Brodie
Salem coach

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

No, it was not a banner year for CEP basketball. After the magic of 1984 — Plymouth Canton winning the Western Lakes championship and Plymouth Salem making its patented run in the state tournament — this past season was indeed a letdown.

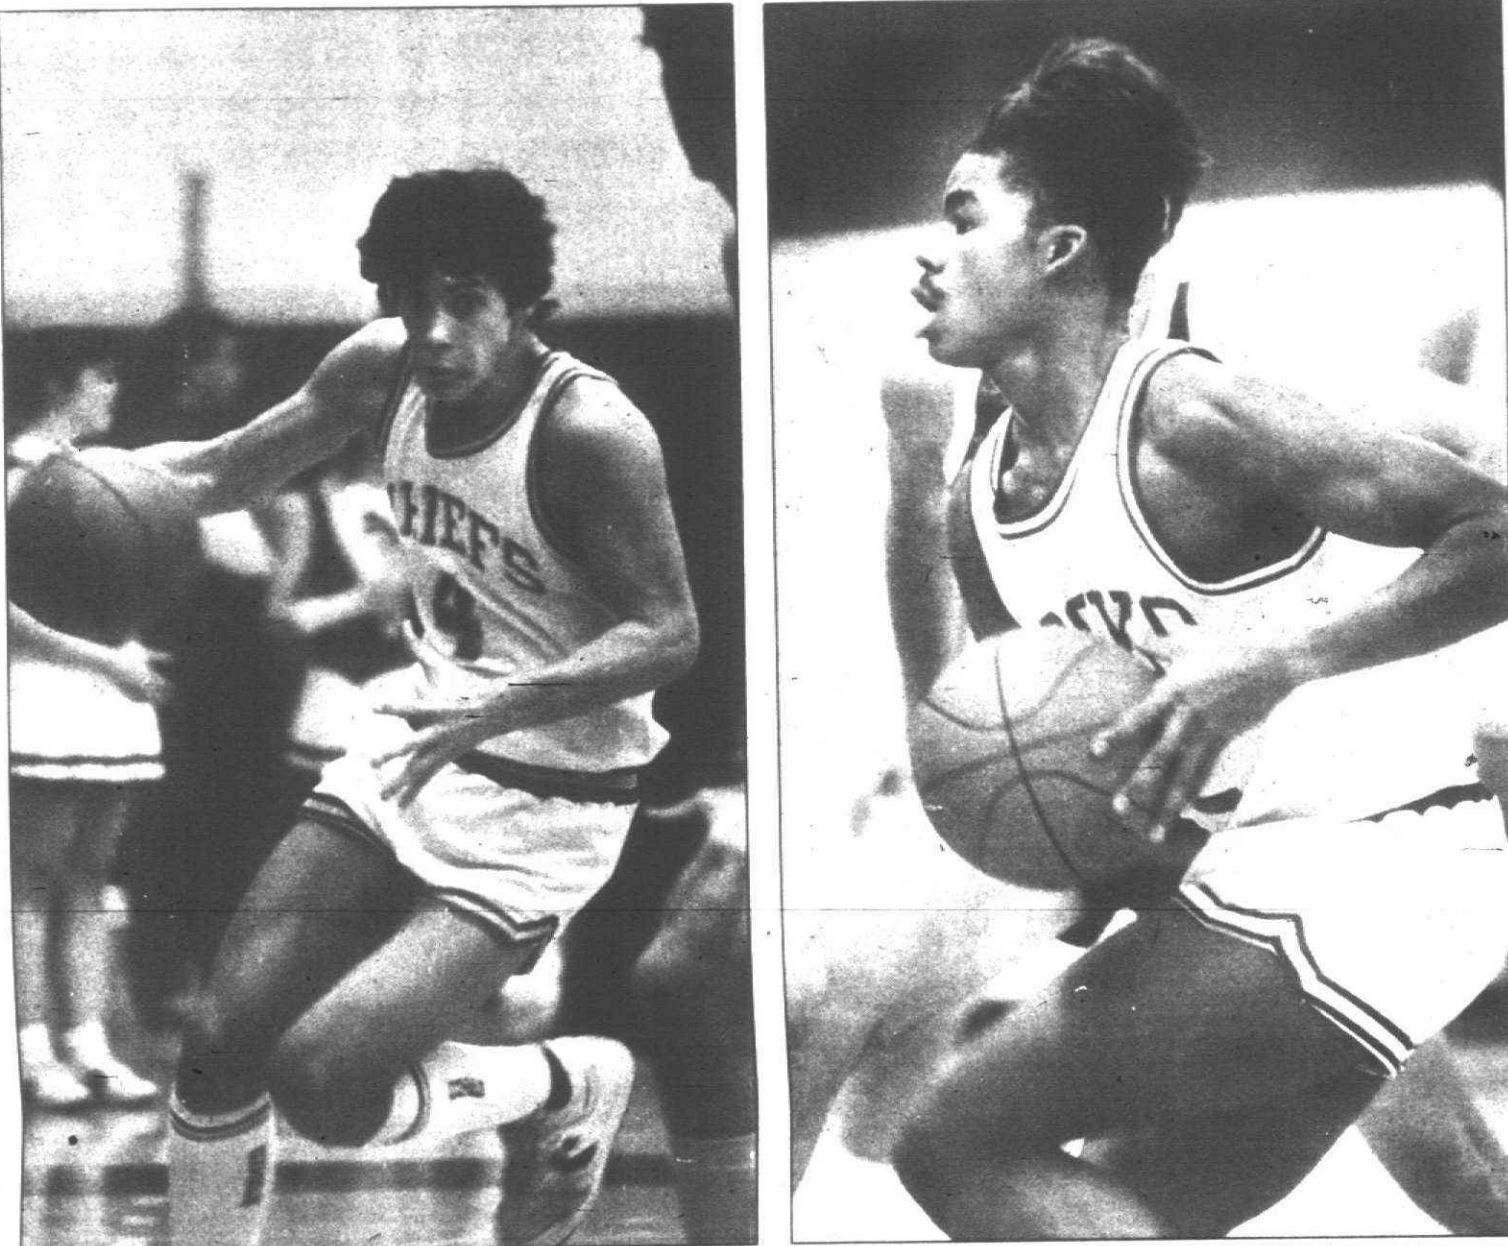

"We thought we would be over .500," said Canton coach Dave VanWagoner. "We were coming off a championship season and we had a good number of kids coming back — I felt the 1984 atmosphere would carry over."

"But, a lot of things caught up with us: our lack of height and our inability to shoot the ball (37 percent as a team). The kids played hard all year. There was no quit in them. We beat the teams we were supposed to beat. But we never could seem to beat the teams at our level or better. We didn't pull any upsets. I guess if there's disappointment, that's where it's at."

PLYMOUTH SALEM'S problems were more complex. The team had better talent than its 13-9 record indicates. And, at times, the Rocks played as good or better than the best teams in the area.

But something was missing. An intangible. It would perhaps be cruel, if not false, to say the Rocks lacked heart this season, especially after their true grit performance against Wayne Memorial Wednesday night. Yet something along that line appeared to be lacking.

Maybe individual on-the-floor leadership was missing. This is not an indictment of any Salem player. Not everyone is instilled with the qualities of such former Rock leaders as Scott Jurek, Jeff Arnold, Matt Etienne, Brian Wolcott or Rich Hewlett.

Mike White is a flashy player with outstanding abilities — in fact, he has as much pure basketball talent as any player to come through the Salem system. But Mike White is what coach Bob Brodie terms a "support player." LeSean Hagood, another extremely talented Rock, would also be termed a support player — both good solid players, but not floor leaders.

"Yes, I agree. You have to have that hard-nosed kid that's going to be willing to step in and take the charge, who's willing to get after the loose ball, who's willing to establish himself inside. We didn't have that type of kid this year," Brodie said.

THERE WAS another factor involved in the down CEP season, a factor that plagued both Salem and Canton.

"Look at our season," Brodie said. "We were very inconsistent. We were up and down all year. A lot of it had to do with experience. We had good players, but inexperienced players. This was the first group of seniors that didn't play freshman basketball. This is the first crew at both Salem and Canton that didn't have four years experience. When we got into game situations, the kids didn't react instinctively. They had to think about it. And that told a tale."

Both teams improved throughout the season, thus, both coaches are optimistic about the future.

"I think we're going to have a nice team at Canton next year," VanWagoner said. "We have Joel Mies (who averaged 11 points and 6 assists a game this season) coming back and some other promising juniors. I'm quite enthusiastic about it."

Said Brodie: "We had a strong junior varsity team and we've got some big kids coming up. The freshman program is back now, too. But again, the question mark is experience. I'm looking forward to a promising season, but who's going to be the person to take charge on the court?"

MIKE HALE, Bryan Waldron, Paul Makara, Bryan Keatts and Tom D'Angelo, players who saw significant time on the varsity floor this season, will no doubt apply for the job next year.

For the Chiefs, Mies, Danny Young and Dan Olaszewski will provide the nucleus for next season. Still, the nagging need at Canton will be size.

There was no magic on the park hoop scene this year. But, cheer up, the outlook for next year is positive and that more than can be said for many Observerland basketball programs.

Thornbladh fearful for CEP athletic future

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

HE LOOKS better now than he did during his playing days. In fact, he looks like he should still be playing.

"I'm lighter now than during my playing days," Bob Thornbladh was back in town Thursday night. He visited one of his old stomps, the Box Bar, speaking at a banquet for the Plymouth Mens Over-40 Halfcourt Basketball League.

"I've gotten tossed out of this place a few times," said the former Plymouth High School (class of 1970) all-state football star.

The wit, the charm, the handsomely studious face, the short-but-solid build — it's all still in place for Thornbladh. He is an extremely happy man of 32, living with his wife, the former Christine DeCorty, and three children in Ann Arbor.

UPON HIS graduation from the University of Michigan, where he starred for three years on Bo Schembechler's football team, Thornbladh played one season of professional football with the Kansas City Chiefs. He then returned as a grad assistant with Schembechler's program.

"I started out kind of on the bottom, you know, getting Bo his coffee," Thornbladh said. "I still get his coffee when he asks me."

Schembechler doesn't ask Thornbladh to get him coffee anymore. He sends him out after football players. As an assistant coach in charge of receivers the past six years, Thornbladh has been a major recruiter for the Wolverines. Recruiting primarily on the east coast and in Chicago, Thornbladh has brought such talent to Michigan as Jamie Morris, Bob Perryman, Butch Woolfolk and the Mallory brothers.

Bob Thornbladh is in love with the University of Michigan. Bo Schembechler and the Wolverine football program, as well he should be. He is a solid Ann Arbor citizen.

But there remains a special place in his heart for the Plymouth-Canton community.

"I WAS born in Cleveland and I came here in the eighth grade," Thornbladh said between bites of the first of two Box Bar steak sandwiches he would consume. "But, I'll always consider Plymouth my home town. I have nothing but wonderful memories of this town. Everyone here has been so supportive of me."

"I'm still very close to Tom Moehner," Thornbladh said of his Plymouth High football coach. "When I played for him, I always thought he was an outstanding coach and a great man. But now, after I've traveled across the country and I've seen so many other coaches, I'm positive he's a great coach. I have documentation of that fact, now."

BECAUSE OF his concern and love for his hometown and its athletic program, Thornbladh was more than a little troubled by some of the recent news he'd heard about the state of the high school athletic program.

"I hear you're not paying the coaches enough money," he said to the 40-plus members of the Plymouth Halfcourt League, a group made up mostly of community leaders such as Don Massey, John VanWagoner and numerous teachers.

"I also hear that you're cutting out seventh-, eighth- and ninth-grade athletic programs. You people can't let this happen. This really upsets me. I know what a profound impact athletics had on my life. I remember the tremendous support I got from you when I was growing up here. Without support, the athletic program will die. And you cannot tell me that there are not enough resources in this town to keep these programs alive. You can't tell me that with the tax base this district has that you people can't afford athletics."

Judging from the warm applause and the proud smiles on the faces of the audience, it was good to have young Bob Thornbladh back in town.

But, the theme of his talk was crystal clear: "Please, do everything you can to preserve the standard of excellence in Plymouth-Canton athletics."

Trio of Zebras bolster Observer mat team

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

LIVONIA BENTLEY High School is slated to close its doors after this season. That's a tough break for wrestling coach Bill Riddle who has kept the program together at Bentley for the last four years.

But Riddle and his team didn't go out with a whimper. Bentley, a team that won just three dual meets last season and finished sixth at the Western Lakes meet, had enough individual power to place seventh at last weekend's state Class A meet.

It was a triumphant conclusion to what has traditionally been a lackluster wrestling program at Bentley. For that effort, and because he has molded several outstanding individual wrestlers especially in the last two seasons, Bill Riddle has been chosen Observerland Wrestling Coach of the Year for 1985.

He headlines a solid group of All-Area matmen selected by Observerland wrestling coaches. The All-Area team has a new look this year, it should be mentioned. Wayne Memorial has been added to Observerland coverage and, as you'll see, the Zebras have made a definite impact on the wrestling team.

FIRST TEAM

Jim Maison, heavyweight, Canton: The 290-pound senior is making a repeat All-Area appearance. He has been the area's dominant big man the past two years, scoring a 37-12-1 record this year. He took fourth in the regional tournament and went on to win two matches at the state meet. Maison was a clutch dual-meet performer for Plymouth Canton, coming through five times to secure victories by winning his match.

Dennis Dameron, 98 pounds, Salem: To finish with a 34-9 record is a super accomplishment for any wrestler. But, when you are just a sophomore, the feat takes on added significance. Dameron, obviously, has a bright future in this sport. He was both the Western Lakes and district champion and he placed second at regionals. He went on to place in the top eight in the state. In two years at Plymouth Salem, he's compiled a 52-27 mark.

Salem Yaffai, 105, Bentley: There was nothing fluke about this junior's 42-3 record last year. When you pin everyone you face at a state district meet, you're for real. He was also the runner-up at both the regional and the state meet, losing both times to Bedford's Doug Harper, a two-time state champ and a young man who hasn't lost in 102 straight matches. Yaffai pinned 30 of his 42 foes last year and has a 100-15 career record.

Jason Wiebeck, 112, Catholic Central: Another talented sophomore illuminates the Observerland mats. Wiebeck compiled a 43-9 record and championships in both the Catholic League and district. He won one match before bowing out of state competition. He has amassed some impressive accomplishments in a short time: two Catholic League titles, three AAU national titles and three AAU state titles.

Dave Dameron, 119, Salem: This multi-talented junior will rewrite Ron Krueger's voluminous record books at Plymouth Salem before he's through. He was 43-4 last year placing first at the following invitational: John Glenn, Wayne, Salem, North Farmington, Monroe and Mount Clemens. He won the Western Lakes, the district, placed second in the regional and fifth in the state. He scored 305 team points this season with 21 pins. He's also a superb soccer player at Salem and maintains a 3.0 grade point average. He's a keeper.

all-area wrestling

Dan Gibson, 126, John Glenn: His only loss of the season came in the state finals, a heartbreaking 4-3 setback to Warren Lincoln's Sam Amine. He finished 31-1, placing first in the Northwest Suburban League, the districts and the regional. The senior is a three-time NSL champ, two-time district and regional champion. He placed third in the state last year and has compiled a 99-10 career record.

Ed Fowler, 132, Wayne: En route to his 47-6 record this year, Fowler won a district championship, a regional championship and placed fifth in the state meet. He's been a solid performer for the Zebras the past two seasons.

Tim Mitchell, 138, Wayne: Mitchell was a state runner-up this year and compiled a 45-10 record. He was denied a state title by Mount Pleasant's Pat Boyd who pinned Mitchell with just two seconds left in the match. Mitchell placed third at the district and second in the regional.

Dave Shareef, 145, Wayne: Shareef won 40 of his 49 matches for coach John Wood this season. He placed second at both the district and regional tournaments. He won one match at state but didn't gain a place.

Scott Lucas, 155, John Glenn: This talented senior was the victim of some bad luck this season, though he did compile an impressive 25-6 record. He was disqualified from the district tournament on a most controversial slam ruling, thus knocking him out of contention for the state meet. Still, there's no taking away his two NSL titles and his 87-19 career record.

Ab Hazen, 167, Farmington: Talk about an outstanding high school wrestling career. This senior will graduate with a 114-34 record. He was 39-2 this season, winning the Western Lakes, district and regional crowns. He lost the state championship to Brighton's Mike Baker on a close 7-4 decision in the finals. Thirty-five of Hazen's wins were via pins.

SECOND TEAM

THIRD TEAM

PCJBL SIGN-UP

The Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League will hold registration for the 1985 season from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturdays, March 16 and 23, at the Canton High School cafeteria.

Boys and girls who will be 7 years old on or before July 31, 1985 and no older than 18 on or before that date are eligible to compete.

The PCJBL is offering a few new elements to the program this year. Included in the entry fee is a ticket to see the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds play a benefit game at Tiger Stadium.

Also, the PCJBL is offering boys softball for the first time. All boys aged 13-18 can choose to play either baseball or softball.

The organization is in need of adult managers and umpires. The managing positions are volunteer; umpires are paid per game.

PCHA SIGN-UP

The Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association will have its annual early registration day from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, March 30, at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The registration is for the 1985-86 season. Participants should bring a birth certificate and $30 registration fee.

After March 30, the fee is $45.

Plymouth Christian saw a successful basketball season come to rapid and unsuccessful end Thursday night, losing to the state's No. 2-ranked team in Class D, Inter-City Baptist, 92-48, in the Class D district tournament at Taylor Baptist Park.

"We played with them in the first quarter," said Eagle coach Jeff Cook, whose team trailed by 7 after a quarter. "That was a real boost."

Pat McCarthy led Plymouth Christian with 13 points. Brad Soucie led all scorers for Inter-City (17-3) with 22.

The Eagles ended their year with a 13-8 record.

Wayne captures Salem district

By Brad Emone
staff writer

Chuck Henry says the pressure is off his Wayne High basketball team.

His players achieved their fourth and final goal of the season Friday night, wearing down Northville to win the Class A district title at Plymouth Salem, 63-40.

The Zebras, sporting a 21-1 record, face Public School League (PSL) champion Detroit Southwestern (20-2) in a first-round regional game Wednesday night at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Fieldhouse. (Game time is 8:30 p.m.)

"This is sweet," said Henry, who won his first district title ever as Wayne's coach. "We wanted to win our Christmas tournament, league title, city title and district title. We've achieved every goal we set."

"In the hearts of a lot of people, because of the way we lost to Ann Arbor Huron (77-55), nobody gives us a chance against Southwestern."

"I feel the pressure is on them. We'll play loose, play our hearts out and let the chips fall where they may."

AFTER ESCAPING Wednesday's double-overtime triumph over Plymouth Salem, a more relaxed Wayne team carried out its business against Northville.

The Mustangs put up a fight, but were simply no match for the determined Zebras.

"We fought them as hard as we could for 2 1/2 quarters," said Northville coach Omar Harrison, whose team finished 10-12 overall. "Then we made physical and mental mistakes. We just wore down. I thought we did an excellent job at handling their pressure and overall I'm pleased. But we don't have the strength coming off the bench."

Wayne, using as many as 10 players, exerted full-court pressure all night. Northville trailed 15-10 after one quarter and 32-23 at the half.

The Mustangs then pulled within six at the outset of the second half, 32-26, on John Storm's 3-point play, but never got any closer.

Wayne made things happen defensively, sparked by reserve guard David Reynolds, who had 8 points and 6 steals for the game.

"HE'S OUR best defensive player in understanding our scheme of things," Henry said. "You saw him strip the ball a number of times. Defense is his specialty."

Wayne's two main weapons offensively, 6-foot-6 Pollis Robertson and 6-2 forward Howard Flowers, shot a combined 14 of 24 from the field.

The Wisconsin-bound Robertson had 16 points and 4 blocked shots. It was his cradle-style slam dunk with 5:48 left in the game that gave the Zebras an insurmountable 53-32 lead.

Flowers, meanwhile, hit his first 4 shots to get Wayne off and rolling. He finished with 14 points.

Northville's beefy front-line of 6-6 John Storm and 6-4 Greg Wendel, made things difficult at times for Wayne.

Storm finished with 14, while Wendel and Don Norton each had 9.

"On offense we wanted to get ball to Pollis," Henry said. "But they were squeezing him, so we had to get the ball in the corner to Howard."

"They did a nice job in their zone."

THE TELLING STATISTIC for Northville was 21 offensive rebounds and only 4 field goal conversions.

"We did miss a lot inside," Harrison said. "I think that was the difference in the game."

This is Wayne's most successful season ever. A win Wednesday would be icing on the cake.

COUNTRY IRISH CHARM

Create the fresh charm of an Irish country cottage with delectable foods geared to that most Irish of holidays, St. Patrick's Day.

Building scene upon scene, feature a selection of tantalizing foods with a touch of the Irish. Shown here is a menu serving six that is based on foods that grow green naturally. All are harvested from the abundant fields of California, and all are in season right now.

St. Patrick's Buffet Salad takes a gentle cue from the traditional holiday fare. New potatoes, marinated in a sprightly vinaigrette dressing, are combined with tender slivers of California artichokes, and served up with crisp wedges of California iceberg lettuce. Rolls of thinly sliced corned beef complete this attractive main-dish salad.

A fragrant bread is the ideal accompaniment to the salad and California Pistachio Bread Twist is an especially appealing choice. A yeast dough rich with egg, this bread has a filling of California pistachios which add pleasant crunch, distinctive nutty flavor and holiday-festive color.

KiwiFruit Gelato puts the final polish on this classically simple holiday menu. Best of all, it is totally prepared in advance.

Each of the foods in this California-grown green foursome — artichokes, iceberg lettuce, pistachios and kiwiFruit — are "naturals" for menu usage throughout the spring months. Care in selection and preparation will help insure success with any recipe.

All sizes of artichokes in the marketplace are mature and ready to use whole, stuffed, halved, or sliced, as in the St. Patrick's Buffet Salad. Look for artichokes that are heavy for their size. Occasionally the artichokes in the marketplace will have bronze-tipped petals. These artichokes have been "winter-kissed" by frost which enhances their mellow flavor.

California iceberg lettuce adds crisp flavor to salads and sandwiches all-year long. Select heads that have a springy "give" for mild, sweet flavor. To core iceberg lettuce, whack the core against the edge of the counter, then simply twist the core out. Or, cut out core with a stainless steel knife. Wash and thoroughly drain the head of lettuce and place in a plastic bag or crisper in the refrigerator for storage.

California pistachios are available year-round and are marketed in natural or red-dyed shells, salted or unsalted. The shells of quality pistachios are large and slightly split at one end, making them easy to open and remove the nut meat.

Select kiwiFruit that yield slightly to gentle pressure. Firm kiwiFruit will ripen if left at room temperature a few days. California kiwiFruit, which are in season October into May, are high in vitamin C and are a delicious addition to salads and desserts.

ST. PATRICK'S BUFFET SALAD

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1-1/2 pounds small boiling potatoes         | 1/2 cup frozen peas, thawed and drained        |
| Salt  | 2 tablespoons minced parsley                   |
| Water                                       | 12 (1 oz. each) thin sliced cooked corned beef |
| Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing                | 6 California iceberg lettuce wedges            |
| 2 California artichokes, sliced and cooked* |  |

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water to cover; simmer about 25 minutes or until tender. Drain; cool slightly. Cut into 1/4-inch slices. Pour half of Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing over warm potatoes; refrigerate until cold. Gently combine artichoke slices, peas, parsley and potatoes. Roll up corned beef slices. Arrange on platter with potato mixture and lettuce wedges. Pass remaining Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing: Combine 1/2 cup oil, 1/3 cup white wine vinegar, 2 teaspoons Dijon mustard, 3/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon each pepper and sugar; mix well. Makes about 3/4 cup.

*To Prepare Artichokes: Bend back outer petals of artichoke until they snap off easily near base. Edible portion of petal should remain on artichoke heart. Continue to snap off and discard thick petals until central core of pale green petals is reached. Cut off top 2 inches of artichoke; discard. Cut off stem; reserve. Trim off outer dark green layer from artichoke bottom and stem; rub all surfaces with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Quarter artichokes lengthwise. Remove small prickly-tipped petals and fuzzy centers; rub again with lemon. Cut artichoke and stem into thin lengthwise slices. Add 2 tablespoons water and dash salt; cook, covered, over medium heat about 5 minutes or until water has evaporated and artichokes are tender.

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO BREAD TWIST

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1/4 cup finely chopped, shelled natural California pistachios              | 1/4 teaspoon medium-grind pepper            |
| 1/4 cup butter, softened   | 1 package (16 oz.) golden wheat yeast bread |
| 1 tablespoon each finely chopped shallots, chopped parsley and lemon juice | 1 egg, beaten                               |
| 1/2 teaspoon basil, crushed  | 1 tablespoon water                          |

Combine all ingredients except bread mix, egg and water; mix well. Prepare bread mix according to package directions. After first rising, punch down dough and divide into 3 equal portions. Roll each into 12x3-inch strips. Spread pistachio mixture down center the length of dough leaving about 1/2-inch border around edges. Pinch edges together along the length of dough to form 3 "ropes." Place on greased baking sheet; braid "ropes." Tuck ends under. Let rise, covered, as package directs. Combine egg and water; and brush on braid. Bake at 350°F. 30 to 40 minutes or until bread sounds hollow when tapped. Makes 1 loaf.

KIWI FRUIT GELATO

- |               |   |
|---------------|---|
| 2/3 cup sugar | 4 to 6 California kiwiFruit, pared and halved |
| 1 cup water   | 1/4 cup brandy                                |

Combine sugar and water. Bring to boil over high heat; boil 5 minutes. Cool. Process kiwiFruit in food processor or blender to equal 1-1/2 cups. Add sugar syrup and brandy to pulp. Pour into 8-inch square baking pan; freeze about 3 hours or until mixture begins to harden. Turn partially frozen mixture into chilled mixer bowl; beat until smooth, light and airy. Freeze about 2 hours longer or until firm enough to scoop. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

If your salute to the Irish is an appetizer party, California's green harvest of artichokes, kiwiFruit, pistachios and iceberg lettuce are equally at home. Here's a tangy spread spiked with green bits of pistachios, skewers of tender shrimp and emerald-hued kiwiFruit, savory chicken wrapped in crisp iceberg lettuce and whole artichokes to serve with Green Garden Dip. Top of the evening to you!

LETTUCE-WRAPPED CHICKEN

- |                               |  |
|-------------------------------|--|
| 3/4 cup julienne-sliced leek  | 1/8 teaspoon thyme, crushed                      |
| 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms      | Dash pepper                                      |
| 1 small clove garlic, minced  | 1 tablespoon cornstarch                          |
| 1 tablespoon oil              | 1 tablespoon water                               |
| 1 cup shredded cooked chicken | 1 tablespoon chopped parsley                     |
| 1/2 cup diced tomato          | 15 to 18 large California iceberg lettuce leaves |
| 2 tablespoons dry sherry      |  |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt             |  |

Saute leek, mushrooms and garlic in oil until barely tender. Add chicken, tomato, sherry and seasonings; heat thoroughly. Dissolve cornstarch in water; add to chicken mixture with parsley. Cook and stir until thickened. Serve chicken mixture with large lettuce leaves. Each appetizer is prepared at the table by wrapping about 2 tablespoons chicken mixture in each lettuce leaf. Makes about 16 appetizers.

SKEWERED KIWI FRUIT AND SHRIMP

- |                                      |                               |
|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 pound (about 32) raw medium shrimp | 3 lemon slices                |
| 2 cups water                         | 2 sprigs parsley              |
| 1 cup dry white wine                 | 10 peppercorns                |
| 1 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce  | 2 teaspoons salt              |
| 4 large cloves garlic, crushed       | 1 large bay leaf              |
|                                      | 4 California kiwiFruit, pared |

Shell shrimp; reserve shells. Bring reserved shells and all ingredients except shrimp and kiwiFruit to boil; simmer 15 minutes. Add shrimp; boil 1-1/2 to 2 minutes or until shrimp are barely cooked. Remove shrimp from liquid. Strain and reserve liquid; cool to room temperature. Return shrimp to cooled stock; refrigerate about 2 hours or until served. Cut each kiwiFruit into 16 chunks. Skewer 1 chunk kiwiFruit, 1 shrimp and another chunk kiwiFruit on each skewer. Makes about 32 appetizers. Recipe can be halved.

ARTICHOKES WITH GREEN GARDEN DIP

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1/2 cup each mayonnaise and dairy sour cream | 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard                        |
| 1/2 cup minced fresh spinach leaves          | 1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed                   |
| 1/4 cup minced parsley                       | Dash cayenne pepper or bottled hot pepper sauce |
| 1 tablespoon minced green onion              | 2 California artichokes*                        |
| 2 teaspoons lemon juice                      |   |

Combine all ingredients except artichokes; mix well. Remove and reserve outer petals of artichokes. Discard small inner petals and fuzzy centers. Cut bottoms into bite-sized pieces and arrange in center of serving plate; ring with reserved outer petals. Serve with mayonnaise-sour cream mixture. Makes about 1-1/3 cups dip.

*To Cook Artichokes: Pull off lower, outer petals of artichokes; snip off tips of remaining petals. Cut off top third of artichokes; discard. Cut stems to 1 inch or less. Stand prepared artichokes in pot with 3 inches of boiling salted water. If desired, oil, lemon juice and seasonings can be added to cooking water. Cover and boil gently, about 30 minutes or until petal near center pulls out easily. Drain.

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO SPREAD

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 1 package (8 oz.) Neufchatel or cream cheese, softened | Dash garlic powder   |
| 4 ounces Monterey Jack cheese, softened                | 1/8 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce                          |
| 3 tablespoons chopped green onion                      | 1/2 cup coarsely chopped shelled natural California pistachios |
| 1 tablespoon lemon juice                               |  |

Blend cheeses, green onion, lemon juice and garlic powder in blender or food processor until smooth. Fold in pistachios. Pack mixture into crock or serving bowl; cover and chill. Remove from refrigerator at least 30 minutes before serving. Makes about 1-2/3 cups.

Serving Tip: Serve with sliced French bread, crackers or fresh vegetables.

Lighten up St. Pat's Day dinner

St. Patrick's Day. A day given to honor the Irish patron saint, St. Patrick. In America, it's a day all Irish men and women remember their Irish heritage with parades, parties, and their favorite Irish foods, including corned beef and Irish soda bread.

You need not be Irish to enjoy traditional Irish fare. In "the old country," pickled or smoked meats were a favorite for Sunday dinners and other special occasions. That's probably part of the reason corned beef has come to be associated with St. Pat's Day. Corned beef is made by pickling, or curing beef cuts such as brisket or the round in a salt brine. The corned beef brisket, which comes from the beef's breast section, is the most popular cut.

When planning this year's St. Pat's Day dinner, take a healthy and light approach to the traditional meal. Serve Corned Beef Brisket with Herbed Vegetables. Select a 2 1/2- to 3 1/4-pound boneless corned beef brisket. Plan on getting around three, three-ounce servings per pound of corned beef after cooking. Tender and juicy corned beef is prepared by slowly simmering in liquid. One of the best ways to prepare vegetables is by steaming. Steamed vegetables are more flavorful and their color is brighter. Since the vegetables are cooked over a small amount of water, rather than immersed in it, fewer nutrients are lost. To prepare Herbed Vegetables, steam baby carrots, green beans and pearl onions for about 10 to 15 minutes, or until tender crisp. Flavor the vegetables with an herb mixture of mustard and thyme and tarragon leaves, which have been cooked in butter to release their flavors.

This meat and vegetable combination also provides a good sampling of many nutrients needed every day to maintain a healthy, balanced diet. For example, it contains 45 percent of a person's daily protein needs and 66 percent of his or her requirements for vitamin A. Yet a single serving of the corned beef and vegetables contains just 368 calories.

Round out this "light" corned beef dinner with the traditional Irish soda bread and a refreshing lime sherbet.

CORNEED BEEF BRISKET WITH HERBED VEGETABLES
Preparation time: 20 minutes
Cooking time: 2 hours 45 minutes to 3 hours 45 minutes
2 1/2 to 3 1/4 lb. corned beef brisket
Water
1/4 lb. baby carrots

Heat whipped topping over low heat, stirring just until melted. Blend in lemon rind. Serve immediately over cake or gingerbread.
4 cups
Variation: Substitute 1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind for lemon rind.

IRISH COFFEE
2 cups hot coffee
2 tsp. sugar
1/4 cup whiskey
Whipped topping, thawed
Combine coffee, sugar and whiskey, top with whipped topping, 2 servings.

'Thin' skin is first line of defense

Even if you're on the skinny side, your skin is your body's largest organ. The average human epidermis measures about 19 square feet and weighs more than 7 pounds. Your skin is a fortress which protects you against invading bacteria and viruses. It can do this because the outer layer is really made up of dead cells which don't become infected easily.

Below the top cells, which you slough off and replace by the millions each day, lie highly specialized cells which produce a substance called melanin. If you're a pale face, it's because you have less melanin, or pigment, in your skin than someone with a swarther complexion.

A portion of your skin no bigger than a postage stamp contains four yards of nerves and 25 nerve endings. In all, you have millions of these nerve endings fanning through your skin, or dermis, each specially constructed to deliver only one type of message — heat or cold, pain or pressure.

INSULATING and lubricating your skin are vital oil glands deep in the dermis. For some, these glands don't do as good a job as their person would prefer.

Consumer studies show that 11 out of 12 skin problems relate to dryness. This problem is expected to increase over the next few decades because of physiological and environmental factors — the population is aging and skin becomes drier as people get older.

Here's a final fact about your skin you may be glad to know: you're actually "skinner" in some places than in others.

1/4 lb. fresh green beans
16 pearl onions
2 tsp. butter
1/4 tsp. dried thyme leaves
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. dried tarragon leaves

Place corned beef brisket in Dutch oven; add water to cover. Cover tightly and simmer 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 hours or until meat is tender. Meanwhile steam carrots, green beans and onions 10 to 15 minutes or until tender crisp. Melt butter in small saucepan; add thyme, mustard and tarragon and drizzle over vegetables. Carve brisket diagonally across the grain into thin slices and serve with vegetables.

Ellie Graham

"CINDERELLA," the spring musical at Ladywood High School, has three Plymouth residents in leading roles. Kathi Lawrence, daughter of Tom and Patricia Lawrence, plays Cinderella. Gayle Bellaire, daughter of Gordon and Joanne Bellaire, is the Stepmother, and Anne Lucchetti, daughter of Robert and Janice Lucchetti, is the stepsister. Joy All three are seniors at Ladywood.

Terry Grytza of Canton Township is the Prince.

The cast has been in rehearsal for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical since early February. It will open at the school on Newburgh Road Friday, March 22. Curtain time will be 7:30 p.m. for all four performances - Saturday, March 23, and Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30. Reserved seating is $5 and may be requested in advance by calling 425-8513. Admission at the door is $4 for adults and $3 for senior citizens and students.

Kathi and Anne are graduates of Our Lady Of Good Counsel School and Gayle went from Central Middle School to Ladywood.

All three have previous drama experience. Kathi appeared in "Sound of Music" and had the role of Nancy in "Oliver" at Ladywood. Anne was Sr. Sophia in "Sound of Music" and Gertrude in "Cheaper by the Dozen." Gayle played Bel in "Oliver" and, in Catholic Central productions, was Peppermint Patti in "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," and Louisa in "The Fantasticks." Gayle and Kathi are in the Ladywood concert choir.

Kathleen Copland is their drama coach and they present a fall drama and a spring musical each year.

CONGRATULATIONS to Pat Arella, a senior at Plymouth Salem High School. Pat was awarded a full-year scholarship to Henry Ford Community College. He won it in a competition with 30 other students in a practical examination that consisted of three hours of concentrated art work in drawing and painting.

BABY GIRLS born in area hospitals this week will receive newborn undershirts with the logo "Future Girl Scout." Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts will present the shirts to the babies and their mothers at six of the 11 participating hospitals in the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council area.

It's all part of the annual celebration of Girl Scout Week, March 10-16.

Each baby girl will be given an invitation to join the Daisy Girl Scouts when she reaches her 5th birthday.

GIRL SCOUTS attended a special mass Sunday at St. John Neumann Church in Canton Township. Family of God and I Live My Faith awards were presented to those who had earned them.

Scouts were encouraged to wear their uniforms and display their troop flag. The girls were honored at a reception after the 12:30 p.m. Mass.

CHORAL EXPRESSION, the Plymouth Community Chorus small performing group, sang recently at Royalty House in Warren and at Geneva United Presbyterian Church in Canton. The group welcomes evening engagements throughout the year. Call 455-4080 for booking arrangements.

The revenue from these appearances helps buy music and fund scholarships.

Incidentally, deadline is Friday, March 15 for applications for the 1985 vocal scholarship awarded by the chorus. Forms are available at high school and middle school offices, and by calling 348-7131 or 455-4080.

These are worthwhile grants to students who wish to pursue studies in vocal music. A graduating high school senior will receive a $500 scholarship and two middle school school students will receive $250 scholarships.

The chorus is in rehearsal for its spring concert, "An Evening with Rodgers and Hammerstein" May 4 and 5 in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. Tickets already are available by mail, $4 for adults and $2 for senior citizens and children under 12. Write to: Plymouth Community Chorus, P.O. Box 217, Plymouth, Mich. 48170. Or call Norma Huettnerman, 397-1387.

Foreign service expert to discuss arms control

Plymouth Lions Club will open its March 21 dinner meeting to the public to share its prestigious guest speaker, Steven E. Steiner, of Washington, D.C., director of International Communications and Information National Security Council, will discuss, "Arms Control and the Strategic Defense Initiative."

Steiner received the Department of State's superior honor award in 1983. A career officer in the United States Foreign Service, Steiner has been a member of the National Security Council staff since November 1983. He is responsible for the public diplomacy dimension of key foreign policy issues, including East-West and arms control matters.

He represents the security council on various inter-agency public diplomacy committees dealing with arms control, European security and the Middle East.

He also is responsible for human rights and United Nations issues.

BEFORE JOINING the security council staff, Steiner served from 1981-83 as public affairs advisor in the Bureau of European Affairs of the U.S. Department of State.

In that position, he was responsible for the public dimension of issues involving the U.S. and Europe - defense, arms control, U.S.-Soviet relations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He also worked closely with NATO allies on information policy.

Steiner had served as deputy director of the Office of Theater Military Policy in the department's Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs. His duties covered defense and arms control issues, including Intermediate Range Nuclear Forces, conventional forces in Europe, chemical weapons and UN disarmament issues.

He was a member of numerous U.S. delegations for consultations at NATO headquarters and allied capitals.

STEINER WAS born in Pennsylvania in 1940. He received his bachelor of arts degree in political science from Yale University in 1963 and a master's degree in international affairs from Columbia University in 1966.

He entered the Foreign Service in June 1966 and has completed tours of duty at the American Consul General in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, and the American Embassy in Moscow. He served in the State Department's Bureau of European Affairs as a political officer for West German affairs.

HE RECEIVED two group superior honor awards, in 1973 as a member of the Consular Section of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, and in 1980 as part of the team of officials in the State Department's Politico-Military Bureau who participated in the development of the U.S. and NATO policy on intermediate range missiles.

Steiner and his wife, Merle, live in Chevy Chase. They have three children. Admission to the dinner and talk is $15 per person. Cocktail hour from 6-7 p.m. (cash bar) will precede dinner at 7 p.m. in the Mayflower Meeting House.

For reservations, call John B. Sassaman, 453-3333, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or 459-1115, after 5 p.m. Checks, made out to the Plymouth Lions Club, may be mailed to Sassaman, 278 Irvin, Plymouth, Mich. 48170.

Back Problems and Chiropractic

Three quarters of all Americans have some sort of back problems at one time or another during their life.

DO YOU SUFFER WITH BACK PROBLEMS? If you do, if you have tried other means to rid yourself of the pain and failed, try chiropractic.

Dr. Mashike is a spinal specialist. He has devoted all of his training and background to the spine. He is certified by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He has been certified by the American Disability Evaluation Research Institute and has qualified for membership in the National Association of Disability Evaluating Physicians. DR. MASHIKE HAS HELPED THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE JUST LIKE YOU, people who had given up, people who were told there was no hope, people who had suffered a lot and spent a lot.

At Dr. Mashike's office, you receive the very best of care and personal individual attention. Dr. Mashike would appreciate the opportunity to care for you.

"I Achieved the Impossible"

I found out about Chiropractic through a very dear friend of mine. She was a patient of Dr. Mashike's. I suffered with backaches for many years. I was hospitalized, put in traction, but nothing helped. My friend had gotten good results and she told me I should go. This problem certainly interfered with my daily routine. I felt useless. I was afraid to bend or anything. I never thought I was going to make it to the doctors office. I was so discouraged. Dr. Mashike told me he found some vertebrae out of alignment that were pinching nerves in my low back. Well in about three weeks I began noticing improvement. I noticed many changes in my health. I am no longer depressed. I am able to go for long walks. I now do exercises when I wake up. I feel like a new person. I have written this testimonial from my own experience with the hope that it will help others, so not to suffer needlessly, when you can seek chiropractic help.

Mary Casha

I regret very much that I didn't take my wife to see Dr. Mashike sooner. All that needless suffering could have been avoided. I was so pleased with Mary's results that I had Dr. Mashike examine my spine for a circulation problem. I also had a bad back but nothing like Mary's. After three months I feel much better and I feel the circulation is normal. Mary and I thank Dr. Mashike very much.

Joseph Casha

Tidball Family Health Improved

We first started with chiropractic care because of severe headaches I was having. My husband had pain between the shoulder blades which was a constant nag. Myself, I lived on aspirin (12-16 per day) for a long time without help until friends told us we should have chiropractic care. My husband and I progressed and in about a month we noticed a lot of improvement. I felt better in general. I also felt good because I wasn't taking any drugs, no side effects, sleepiness or a buzzy feeling that I got from the drugs. Our children also have their spines checked. We want them to grow up without health problems. We definitely recommend chiropractic. It's the way to go.

Pastor &amp; Mrs. Tidball &amp; Family

An Overall Improvement

I found out about chiropractic through a friend who was a patient of Dr. Mashike's. I was on vacation when I injured my lower back. By the time we got home, I could hardly walk and it was painful to sit or bend in any way. I didn't think I would ever be better. On my first visit I was in so much pain I could hardly lay on Dr. Mashike's adjusting table. It took several adjustments before I noticed a difference, but now I'm so much better. After 4 weeks I noticed an overall improvement not only with my low back, but with my total health. I can even rest better. I'm not completely better but thank God I feel much better. Dr. Mashike has helped me a lot. I am so glad I came to see him.

Captain Chris Baldry (Alan Bates) remembers his first love, Margaret (Glenda Jackson) in "Return of the Soldier."

the movies

Dan Greenberg

Homecoming is told exquisitely in English 'Return of the Soldier'

"Return of the Soldier" is a classy British film playing the Maple 3 in Bloomfield Township these days, and well worth your time.

For all their misanthropic attitudes toward the non-English, as "Passage to India" vividly demonstrates, the British have a certain way with expression, particularly theatrical and filmic eloquence.

It's well known that in times past, the British upper classes had a very poor attitude toward those beneath them in the social order. The issue of class is a major one in this film.

"Return of the Soldier" is a fine example of what the British do so well, masking the turmoil of heart and soul with surface elegance.

Based on the Rebecca West novel, the story tells of Captain Chris Baldry (Alan Bates) coming back from the front during World War I. Shell-shocked, he suffers amnesia. Though he returns to his charming country home and wife Kitty (Julie Christie), he does not recognize her. The last 20 years are blank.

HE DOES RECOGNIZE the servants, all old family retainers and admirably British (especially the butler). He also remembers his cousin, Jenny (Ann-Margaret), and his first love, Margaret (Glenda Jackson), who is of the lower classes and, therefore, deserving of Kitty's contempt. All these remnants of life 20 or more years ago, he remembers.

Enough of the plot line because a great deal of the film's attraction flows from the tension of discovery.

On the surface the film is polished, sophisticated, quite stunning to view — the best British tradition and everybody has a terribly stiff upper lip. Beneath that reserve, the psychodynamics of class and personal conflict are boiling.

The film's smooth exterior derives from magnificent settings and the photographic processes utilized to create soft, warm, visually pleasing, nostalgic images so appropriate to the past.

The acting and directing of "Return of the Soldier" are at the heart of the film's success, projecting the proper balance of jagged, psychological interiors contrasted with the exteriors.

The entire company, every bit part, each supporting role, has just the right impact on the superb performances of the four principals. Apparently Ann-Margaret wants to be known as a good actress and not just another pretty face.

SHE'S A BEAUTIFUL woman and a very accomplished actress in her pivotal role expressing a number of levels of love for her cousin and his wife. There's an added dimension to the film's tension as she portrays a beloved relative caught between the passion of an unrecognized wife and an ill husband.

Kitty Baldry matures, her understanding of the Captain's illness growing, and Julie Christie makes the role work, with the subtlest glances and gradual movement from pretentious upper-class woman to loving, accepting wife.

Alan Bates and Glenda Jackson give bravura performances as well. It is the dynamic quality — properly restrained, of course — of their roles, along with those of Ann-Margaret and Julie Christie, that make "Return of the Soldier" such a fine romance.

day at Joe Louis Arena downtown. Ice Capades will stay until Sunday, March 17.

A line skater with the show, she was asked if it was difficult to perform the precision routines. In other words, is it tough to be a member of "A Chorus Line" on ice?

PARKER REPORTS no problems there. The rough part is, "Coming from amateur status you've got to learn how to work with everybody. There are a lot of different personalities to adjust to, but you learn to adapt."

During 1981-82, she was awarded Gold Medals in local, state and the Ohio, Indiana and Michigan Tri-State competitions. Parker joined Ice Capades in August 1983, mainly because it offers "an opportunity to travel all over the United States and Canada. Actually, I just decided to try out for the fun of it."

She said two other Detroit-area skaters are in the show, Judy Gatlin of Rochester and another skater from Lapeer. The three get together to talk about home. "We know all the skaters (in the show) from the Midwest," Parker said.

This year's Ice Capades theme is a "Salute to Show Business," through a variety of production numbers. Parker appears in a European number, wearing a Spanish costume, to the music of Ravel's "Bolero." She also is a "flyer," lifted off the ice, during a skate waltz. Other numbers where she performs as one of the Ice Capettes are the opening, a show-business number, a kiddie number called "Snorks," and the precision-number finale.

DAUGHTER OF Marie and Ronald Parker of Franklin, she said, "My whole family used to skate." She has one brother and three sisters — two in college and two in high school. Parker graduated from Groves High School in 1981 and taught at an ice rink at the Berkley Figure Skating Club for a year following high school.

She's filling out college applications now, but of her work with Ice Capades she said, "The experience is great."

Skater mimics Lauper

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

Posing as Cindy Lauper, with green hair yet, will be one of the appearances Pam Parker of Franklin makes during the Ice Capades when the show "Hooray for Ice" comes to town next week.

During the production number "Chiller," "I skate as Cindy Lauper," the young performer said by phone from Philadelphia. "I wear sort of a poodle skirt. I'm in green polka dots, with lots of jewelry."

Parker said the show will return to Pittsburgh before coming to Detroit, where it will open Tues-

Bubbly brunch

Champagne Sunday Brunch is being served at the Michigan Inn in Southfield. Ice carvings and fountains grace the food tables, music is supplied by a violinist and seating is in the Red Parrot lounge or the Benchmark gourmet restaurant. Eggs Florentine or Benedict, steak salad vinaigrette, leg of lamb with tarragon mint sauce and whole poached salmon are just some of the entrees on the buffet, served from tables in the lobby and restaurant. Hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. For reservations at $11.95 for adults, $5.95 for children under 12 and $8.95 for senior citizens, call 559-6500.

Red Garter

Music to brunch by is an offering of Doug Jacobs and the Red Garter Band from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. the first Sunday of each month at the Sheraton Oaks in Novi. The band specializes in Dixieland music.

Spa Plan

The California Spa Plan continues to provide low-calorie, nourishing food at Bakers Garden at the Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn. Entrees designed at less than 450 calories include Oriental Seafood Pasta and Baked Flounder Moutarde in mustard sauce. Also available are a soup with tomato and tarragon, and a salad combining seafood and fruit.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN SAVE MONEY. AND MAYBE SAVE YOUR LIFE.

VISIT OUR PROJECT:
HEALTH-O-RAMA
HEALTH TESTING SITES
MARCH 13 - APRIL 4.

Again this year, PROJECT: HEALTH-O-RAMA gives you free health tests at over 90 locations throughout seven counties — tests that would otherwise cost you up to $150.00 dollars. For just $7.00 dollars you can get an important blood panel of tests that would have cost you up to $80.00 dollars.

It's your best health bargain around, and thanks to the efforts of over 7,000 volunteers, more people than ever now have this life-saving chance to discover and treat health conditions before they become medical problems.

For the locations nearest you and special tests available at selected sites, call the PROJECT: HEALTH-O-RAMA HOTLINE, 569-0400, Monday through Friday, 10 AM - 3 PM.

Only specially selected sites will test for conditions such as heart, kidney or liver disease, cancer, diabetes, glaucoma, sickle cell and others.
