The Canton Connection

IF YOU know someone you'd like to nominate for Small Business Person of the Year, the Canton Chamber of Commerce would like to hear from you. The chamber is seeking nominees from financial, professional, retail and service branches of business. Nominees, not necessarily Canton residents, must be active in the community and manage or own a Canton business. Persons have until April 22 to contact Frank McMurray at 455-7272 or the chamber office at 453-4040. Applications also are available at Plymouth Construction Equipment and Michigan National Bank.

The winner will be named at the chamber's annual meeting Thursday, May 9, during Small Business Week. "Small Business America at Work" is the theme of this year's celebration, says Chamber President Catherine Foege, who's happy to report that area small business owners "have survived the higher taxes and inflation. We are starting to hire more people again."

"WASH AMERICA for the March of Dimes" is on tap for March 27-31 at the Lighthouse Car Wash, 41889 Ford Road west of I-275. Along with the International Car Wash Association/National Car Wash Council, Lighthouse is donating one dollar from the purchase of automatic "super washes," a dollar from the cost of each oil change, and 25 cents from the price of each self-serve wash to the charity. The Canton business recently began providing self-serve car washes and 10-minute oil changes.

Lighthouse is joining the effort to "show our concern for the community we serve and to help wipe out birth defects," said owner Michael Neubauer.

WANTED: YOUR opinion on how the $215 billion federal deficit should be trimmed. U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, is devoting most of his "21st annual constituents' questionnaire" to budget issues. "By asking voters to select priorities and make hard choices, I hope they will gain some insight into the budget process," Ford said. Options in the questionnaire set out military and domestic spending proposals with estimated savings for each. By using some mathematics, respondents can see how much they have "reduced" the deficit. Questionnaires can be obtained by calling the district office at 722-1411.

CANTON POET Lori Olenksi and five other Michigan poets were selected from a field of 80 to read at Schoolcraft College's poetry meeting, slated for 7:30 tonight in Room B200 of the school's Liberal Arts Building. "Excellence and contribution to a varied and entertaining program" were the main criteria used in the juried competition. Olenksi and her colleagues may have their works published this fall in "The MacGuffin," Schoolcraft's literary magazine.

SCHOLARSHIPS are being offered to Mercy, Bishop Borgess, Catholic Central and Ladywood High School seniors. Applications for Schoolcraft College Presidential Scholarships for the 1985-86 school year currently are being accepted. Winners will receive $500 their first year, with renewal the second year provided the full-time students complete 26 credit hours with a minimum 2.5 grade point average. Those interested in the new scholarship should see their counselors for applications and information or call the college's Financial Aid Office at 591-4400, Ext. 350.

$10 million can't erase their tragedy

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Rhonda and Michael Estes had plans to one day bundle their son into a back-pack and take a hiking trip through the Teton Mountains in Wyoming. Today, their 6-year-old son Vincent is unable to lift his head or complete even the simplest of tasks.

The extensive care Vincent needs shattered their hiking trip plans, along with hundreds of other dreams.

The Estes' future was forever altered after an automobile accident Aug. 14, 1979. Rhonda was driving to Toys 'R Us on Seven Mile Road near Middlebelt with her son, who was almost 8 months old. Vincent suffered a fractured skull causing brain damage that resulted in cerebral palsy and quadriplegia.

Now Vincent is unable to walk, talk or even laugh like other children his age. His eyesight also is limited.

A lawsuit filed by the Estes' attorneys, James F. Finn and Stanley T. Bartnicki, blamed Vincent's condition on a defective carseat. They said it had insufficient side head wings and not enough padding. The attorneys said the manufacturer was aware of test demonstrations which proved the carseat was defective.

A JURY in Wayne County Circuit Judge Michael J. Connor's courtroom agreed with the couple, and awarded a landmark $10 million to Vincent last week.

It's considered one of the largest personal injury verdicts in Michigan, said the attorneys. They were willing to settle the case for $900,000 before the trial, but the defendants refused.

The defendants, who are expected to appeal the decision, are: Collier-Keyworth Co., the manufacturer and distributor of the carseat; Bobby-Mac Co., the inventor and designer; and Meijer Thrifty Acres, which sold the carseat to the Estes.

"You'd think we'd be elated when it comes to a judgment like this, but as our attorney said, it's bittersweet," Rhonda said. "Of course the money will help, and Vincent will be taken care of for the rest of his life."

"Once we're gone, what's going to happen to him? Who's going to take care of him?" she said. "In the same light, all the money in the world wouldn't bring back Vincent as he used to be."

Rhonda, 33, who was uninjured in the accident, was awarded $500,000 for emotional stress.

"Sometimes you get so frustrated, you want to hang up your hat and go cry for a while," Rhonda said. "I didn't want to talk about it, because when you mention lawsuit people think the worst of you."

VISITORS, MOSTLY volunteers who help Rhonda with Vincent's therapy, come and go with regularity from the home. Vincent has two sisters, Julia, 4, and Meryl Kathleen, 1½.

The blond, blue-eyed boy is harnessed upright to a table as Rhonda and a neighbor help him play with a xylophone. The purpose of the "prone board" is to teach Vincent how to stand, to get the blood flowing in his legs and to help him grow, said Rhonda, who was a physical education teacher in Flushing, Mich. The couple moved to Canton less than a year before the accident.

"Anything you do with Vincent is almost therapy," Michael said. "When you watch TV, for example, you sit with him and hold his head up."

Rhonda lays Vincent face-down on a pad, and holds his wrists above his head as she rhythmically shuffles him a few feet to complete a therapeutic exercise called "patterning." This gets his arms and legs moving in rhythm, and it sends signals to his brain, Rhonda said.

Despite what doctors say, Rhonda and Michael, 35, insist that Vincent has shown some improvement.

"The doctor's predictions are totally dismal," said Michael, a financial analyst at Ford Motor Co. "Anything that he's already gained is more than they expected."

"A week or two after we started the patterning, he was actually responding to people touching him," Rhonda said.

IN 1981, Rhonda was unsure if Vincent could distinguish her from other people, "and that hurt a lot,

Cops, canines bear bad news for burglars

By Diane Gale
staff writer

When there's a burglary in Canton Township, who do you call?

The Burglar Busters: Rico, a five-year canine veteran with the Canton Township Police Department, and officer Ernie Sayre.

The German shepherd sleuth, with the help of Sayre, sniffed his way to the doorstep of a burglary suspect last week. The sure-shot detective work led to an arrest of a Canton man.

Canton police received a call that there was a burglary in progress at a residence in the Wagon Wheel Mobile Home Park, 5100 Mott, at about 4 a.m. March 20. The responding officers decided to call in Rico and Sayre to assist.

Police learned that a husband and wife were in the mobile home sleeping when a burglar entered and stole a $600 video cassette recorder. They were unharmed by the intruder, said

Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson.

RICO AND SAYRE showed undaunted persistence by following a scent for a one-and-a-half mile trek through open fields, a wooded area and even creek beds, Wilson said. Rico refused to quit until he led Canton officers to the back door of a Canton Township home on Geddes Road.

"From the preliminary investigation, discussion with the people at the residence, and based on the dog's ability to follow tracks (scents), we obtained the search warrant," Wilson said.

"The officer (Sayre) and dog did an outstanding job," Wilson said.

Canton police would have been without a suspect if Rico and Sayre had failed in their attempts, he said. The burglary victims were unable to give "real good descriptions of the burglar and there was no vehicle described."

Officers are investigating the possibility of links among a string of mobile home park burglaries that occurred between Feb. 10 and March 20.

The search warrant was signed by 35th District Court Judge James Garber. Police found the VCR in the house. They arrested Darrin Micheal Strashin, 19, of Canton.

HE WAS CHARGED with breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling at his arraignment March 20 before 35th District Court Judge John MacDonald.

Officers pinpoint ages of models in sex photos

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Police investigators have identified the ages of some of the models in allegedly pornographic photographs seized in a Canton Township home last week.

"We have positive identification of some ages of the (models)," said Michigan State Police Sgt. Ronald Mattioli, who declined to be specific about the ages of the girls.

More than 1,000 allegedly pornographic photographs of about 250 girls and women were seized from the home of a 38-year-old male suspect. The resident was in the house during the raid at about 1:30 a.m. March 19. The suspect is a former process server for a Wayne County court who recently moved from Westland to Canton Township.

Canton Township police officers are assisting in the investigation being conducted by the State Police. State Police were alerted about the case by the Livonia Police Department.

A Livonia officer received a call from an unidentified person who said she posed for the Canton resident. Livonia and Canton police assisted the State Police with seizing cameras, tapes and movie film along with the photos.

"We've attempted to identify (some of the models) in that investigation," said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson. He declined to comment further.

State Police have received between 12 and 15 calls from parents and girls "about children going to places and being photographed," Mattioli said.

"Some are connected (with the Canton case), but some haven't been confirmed yet," Mattioli said. "They (the callers) don't say too much about the photos on the phone."

ONE CALLER SAID she answered an October 1982 Observer & Eccentric classified employment advertisement for models. Mattioli said persons should be careful about answering advertisements for modeling jobs.

"This guy (the Canton suspect) hasn't been arrested, so he hasn't been found guilty, but there are a lot of other people out there," Mattioli said. "Don't let your guard down, and be very cautious about modeling propositions. Parents should go and check it out with their children. If you're going to answer an ad, be super cautious."

"If it (modeling) sounds too good to be true, it probably is," he said. Signs that parents should look for that may indicate that their child is involved with modeling for pornographic photos are a change in behavior, unexplained extra money, unexplained new clothes and talk about a modeling career, Mattioli said.

Persons who have additional information about the case are asked to call the State Police at 525-2560.

Man bound over in rape case

A Canton man charged with first-degree criminal sexual conduct is scheduled to appear in Wayne County Circuit Court April 19 for an arraignment on the information in connection with the rape of an 18-year-old woman.

David Cushman, 20, was bound over for trial at his preliminary examination March 18 in 35th District Court. At Cushman's arraignment March 11, District Judge John E. MacDonald entered a plea of not guilty for the suspect, who was released on 10 percent of $5,000 bond.

The victim, a Canton resident, told police she was forced at gunpoint into a car in the K mart parking lot at Ford and Sheldon Roads at about 8:30 p.m. March 9. Canton police apprehended Cushman at his residence within an hour after the alleged incident. The arrest came after the victim supplied police with information including the license plate number of a 1976 silver Oldsmobile Cutlass.

The victim, who lives near Joy and Sheldon Roads, told officers she was walking to her car when a man approached her and asked her if she wanted a ride.

When she refused, the man "got out and informed her he had a gun. He forced her to get into the vehicle and drove to the front of her residence, where she was sexually assaulted," said police.

The suspect and victim did not know each other.

Students compete in trouble shoot

As many as four students from Plymouth Canton High School will take a written exam at Schoolcraft College Tuesday, March 26, in the first phase of the Plymouth-AAA Trouble Shooting Contest.
 Michigan students from 65 high schools will compete in the written test, being given at the same time at nine sites across the state.
 The top scorers from each school will become a team, with the top 10 schools competing in a final round of competition May 16 in Dearborn.
 At the time of the testing, instructors will submit students' names.
 The contest is sponsored by Chrysler Plymouth and AAA Michigan. Similar contests are held in all 50 states with prizes and scholarships totaling $125,000.

Last year's state team from Centerline placed ninth in national competition in Arlington, Texas.
 In the state finals, each team works against the clock to correct problems on similarly "bugged" 1985 Plymouth K-cars. The winning team will advance to the nationals June 17 in Kansas City.
 The contest serves as a springboard for many mechanically talented students to become professionals in a specialized field, said Robert Cullen, contest coordinator for AAA Michigan.
 To date, more than two-thirds of all past participants (some 29,000 students) have taken full time or part-time jobs as auto service technicians, according to Gus Russo of the Chrysler/Plymouth Dealers Association.

Smith students put on one 'dream' of a show

THE SIXTH GRADE class at Smith Elementary School will perform Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" Thursday and Friday at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP).
 The play will begin at 7:30 both nights in the little theatre of Plymouth Canton High School on Canton Center just south of Joy.

Tickets are $1.50 each if purchased in advance at Smith School or at the Early American Shop on S. Main in Plymouth today through Wednesday. Tickets are $2 at the door; $1 for students.
 The production is a result of a Plymouth Community Arts Council grant awarded to Joan Davis, sixth-grade teacher at Smith.

The "Midsummer Night's Dream" performance is an adaptation by Albert Callum, K. Miller, Davis, and her students.
 Both of the sixth-grade language arts classes studied the play as part of a literature unit. Students who wanted to participate in any aspect of the production had to turn in a "commitment contract" signed by parents assuring responsibility for transportation to and from rehearsals which all have been held during lunch hours and after school.

More than 50 of Smith's 55 sixth graders will be involved in the play. The cast includes 35 pupils.
 An important factor in the production has been parental support, said Mrs. Davis. "Not only have they been cooperative in making sure students make it to rehearsals, but they have helped with costumes, scenery, construction, tickets, publicity, programs and make-up."

The PCAC gives grants annually to teachers in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. The teacher must write the proposal for a project which is innovative or exemplary.
 The aim of the Teacher Projects Assistance Program is to encourage teachers to devise arts activities for general curriculum development and to explore existing resources in the school and community.

Teachers also are to consider how funds might be developed to continue the project beyond the grant period.
 Cast members include: Jamie Solberg, Kristen Linderode, Mike Teller, Job Rutledge, John Cox, Damon Woods, Joanna Liller, Karen Sokolowsky, Jon Kramer, Billy Zachary, Geoff Eisenlord, Brent Best, Dawn Prater, Chris Koonitz, Jim Ramsey, Marisa Dersey, Nickie Phillips, Lisa Freeman, Julie Prince, Kara Hogan, Katie Boak, Sandy Fill, Michelle Mosley, Jenny Socha, Sara Sheehan, Jenny Wasalaski, Valerie Carpenter, Amy Biggs, Erik Richardson, Tom Fennelly, Robert Lockard, Esther Buzvis, Liddy Hoegler, Michelle Roberts and Becky Seel.

Turkey is featured land for Wednesday travelogue

"The Joys of Turkey" will be featured at Wednesday night's travelogue series sponsored by the Plymouth Kiwanis Foundation.
 Robin Williams will present the travel film on Turkey beginning at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High on Joy just west of Canton Center Road. Admission at the door is $5.50.
 The Kiwanis Foundation is the joint, tax-deductible, community service and fund-raising arm of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club and the Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth.

Williams is descended from a long line of Welsh sea captains.
 His grandfather lost his life on the Amazon River and his father wrote the best seller, "The World Is My Oyster."
 Born in London, England, Williams was raised in California. During his college years he became interested in acting. He began his travels while a student at Valley Verde School in Sedona, Ariz., when he took a one-month trek to Old Mexico.

 After attending the University of Arizona, Williams began organizing tours of Europe and chartered a yacht to Poole, England. For two summers, he escorted students across the English Channel to tour the French Canal System and to sail to many ports in the Mediterranean.
 Departing the travel tour field, he studied cinematography at the Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara. He now is a well-established film lecturer.

THE FILM, "The Joys of Turkey," includes these highlights:
 • Istanbul: the ancient city astride the Bosphorus straits which wind between the hills of Europe and Asia.

THE NEW HORIZON OF HEALTH CARE

IF YOU ARE HEALTHY AND WISH TO REMAIN SO YOU NEED A CHIROPRACTIC CHECK UP

Did you know Chiropractic is a proven scientific method of health care? In research laboratories around the world there is proof that pinched spinal nerves lead to poor body function and ill health. Chiropractors have known this for years, others are now agreeing.

You may have seen Dr. Mashike's advertisements, you have read testimonials by his patients. He has helped hundreds return to health and kept as many from being sick in his nine years of practice.

Dr. Mashike has a modern health maintenance plan where in your spine can be checked for potential pinched nerves and if found eliminated before they cause ill health.

Answer these:

- How much longer are you going to wait to be helped?
- Are you going to leave your health to chance?

"WHERE THE SICK GET WELL"

State, Washington deal 'low blow' to schools

By Sandra Armbruster
staff writer

When the full Wayne-Westland school board begins to grapple with the district's budget for next year, it will find some cuts have to be made.

"Washington has dealt us some very low blows, and the state has, too. But there's nothing we can do about it," said Kathleen Chorbagan, board president.

But she said the biggest shortfall is in not having as large a student count in the district's continuing education program as it had in the past. Student membership is used as a basis for state aid.

CHORBAGAN is one of three board members serving on a newly formed communications/finance committee that will study district finances. Other members are Fred Warmbler and Rex Wilhoite.

"No decisions were made (at the first meeting Monday). We're just getting started, deciding what we will do."

The budget cuts may not mean loss of programs, Chorbagan said, but some programs may be "moved around."

"There may even be layoffs at the bottom line. We knew that when we took over Cherry Hill. They may have too many custodians in one building, but that's how they ran it."

Woody London, has "intelligently gone through the budget, cutting out side educational programs first," she said.

"I can live with (the cuts). That doesn't mean I'm extremely happy with them. I for one would be opposed to going back into (employee) contracts (for concessions)."

THE STUDY committee will meet again after Easter, she said. By getting a look at the proposed budget and having a chance to do "much of the investigating, we can inform the board," Chorbagan continued.

The committee is one attempt at trying to involve the board "as much as possible at the beginning of the process," explained Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

"If there's one way to improve communication (with the board), this is the way to do it."

THE ENTIRE board will be receiving all the information about the budget, O'Neill said.

Before taking the budget to the board, however, district officials worked with employees to hear suggestions on cost-savings from their perspective. In addition, the problem of where to cut the budget was wrestled with by O'Neill's administrative cabinet for the last two months.

The compilation of all those recommendations is what the board committee heard, O'Neill said.

and I feel for them."

"I just want to thank all of the people who have been involved in Vincent's in-home therapy over the last five years, and the names are too numerous to mention, but we would hope they know who they are," Michael said.

"The school wanted him to go five days, but we're able to give him much more attention here at home, and I feel if we can give him so much here at home, he should be here," Rhonda said.

"I think we (the school and home programs) supplement each other."

Recently, Rhonda learned sign language in hopes that she could open a door for Vincent and give him a means to communicate.

Rhonda wrapped her fingers around Vincent's small hand and bobbed it up and down. She repeated over and over that the movement means "yes." In the fall of 1984 Vincent completed the sign when his mother asked a question.

Despite all the sacrifices they will make, the Estes said they would avoid placing Vincent in a nursing home or any other institution.

"Absolutely no, I wouldn't institutionalize him," Michael said. "Every one's situation is different, and maybe a day will come where we can't do this anymore."

Rhonda said, "I would never criticize someone who had, because it's very difficult. I know several different people who have had to place people in homes,

and I feel for them."

ing the age of the models, because it will have an impact on the severity of the possible charges. Investigators are refusing to specify what the charges could be leveled against the suspect.

A felony is committed when pornographic photos of models under 18 years old are produced or distributed for commercial purposes. The production charge carries up to a 20-year prison sentence and/or a $20,000 fine. Distribution is punishable by up to seven years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine.

SOME OF THE CONFISCATED photos show the suspect having sex with the subjects, according to investigators. Police are unconcerned about the suspect "skipping town" before the conclusion of the investigation, Mattioli said.

"He's got a business (serving subpoenas, writs, eviction notices and other legal paperwork) and family around here," he said.

A plea of not guilty was entered for Strasbin by Judge MacDonald.

Strasbin was released on a $3,000 personal bond. A preliminary examination in 35th District Court is scheduled for April 1 to determine if there is enough evidence to bind Strasbin over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

The maximum penalty for the crime is 10 years in prison.

Coaches acted rather selfishly

To the editor:
After attending last Monday's school board workshop, we, the undersigned, would like to elaborate on previously expressed ideas.

We feel that the coaches and parents that also attended last Monday's workshop acted rather selfishly. They seemed to be more concerned athletically as to which school their child attends with little emphasis on academics.

What is the difference between one school and the other, except that Canton's colors are red and white and Salem's colors are blue and white? A color is but a color.

They claim, according to Coach Gary Balconi, that they need to have this closeness with their children, rather than being placed on opposing sides of the creek. Well, the way we see it is that they will have to let go of their children sometime, and this would be an excellent opportunity for them to face the fact that they will not always get their own way.

We also feel that the parents/coaches/teachers would have a tendency to favor their children over others. They were talking as though they supported a rivalry between Canton and Salem which we do not feel promotes good sportsmanship.

We don't see why they cannot support both schools. Sure they do compete against each other, and may the better school win. But we feel both schools deserve a chance.

WE FEEL that Canton is second rate because they have never had the outstanding teams Salem has had.

We think that, to change the "random" selection process would demean the ideals of the system, as well as the board which represents the people, and make it appear that they are more concerned with athletics than a good education.

We feel that more people would be made unhappy if a change should occur than would be made happy. If you start making exceptions now, you will be obligated to make exceptions further down the line.

Perhaps for school secretaries, counselors, area coordinators and right on down to the custodians!

Perhaps a solution to the random selection process would be to consolidate the two schools into one. Then you wouldn't have to worry about making exceptions at all.

As far as costs are concerned, you would have money for athletic programs, coaches' pay, or anything else due to the decrease in demand for coaches. You would also be combining the talent from both schools to form even better athletic teams.

And as far as people being cut out, the school newspaper and the CEP Band have seemed to survive any problems in that area just fine. Besides, the students would have to work harder to be on the teams and only the people who were truly interested would want to stick it out.

There is one other problem that we would like to resolve between Coach Richard Menoch and Coach Arthur Wellman. Coach Wellman did not put us up to this at all. This is something that we feel strongly about and we took it upon ourselves to take action against. We strongly urge Coach Menoch to reconsider his false accusations against Coach Wellman and apologize.

Rewards can await those who honor the onion snow

There is a tradition down in the Pennsylvania Dutch country where the Stroller was born and raised — that regardless of the date winter isn't over until we have what they call the onion snow.

Folks will wait for days for this fall so they can start their vegetable gardens. The first thing on the list is to get the onions into the ground. Once this is done the rest of the gardens will follow — and it is quite a tradition.

It isn't a heavy snow — just enough to call it a snowfall. But the folks cheer when they see it coming. It is the one snow that is welcomed during the year.

And even with this tradition there is no set date when it falls. One year out here in Detroit it didn't fall until early in May and the Tigers had to postpone one of their games in what then was Navin Field.

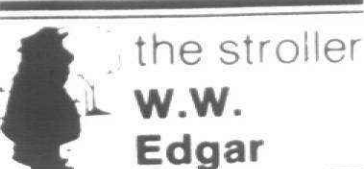

The memory of the onion snow came to mind the other day when we had a light fall — just enough to be seen on the black-topped driveway at our home. As one of the neighbors say it is called over the fence, "Is this the onion snow?"

IT WASN'T. So The Stroller claims our winter has not yet ended. We must have a regular snowfall and it can come at anytime now.

It always was a great sight back home when the onion snow fell just to see the neighbors — mostly women — race out into the garden plot to get the onion sets into the ground. They didn't want to miss a day for the garden onions are a great dish to the Pennsylvania Dutch.

After the onion sets were in the ground came the radishes and lettuce. And then the cucumbers. And all this was followed by the placing of the tomato guards and the planting with the hope that the birds and other animals which prowl the gardens wouldn't get them first.

There was another tradition which was carried out in our little frame house. That was to plant sweet peas (flowers) on the side of what we called the outhouse. You see in those days only the rich had indoor toilets. The rest of us had a building out in the garden area.

And mother used the south end as her flower garden. Innocently, she always said that the ground was more fertile there. And you couldn't question her for she was lucky enough to have a great yield of sweet peas.

GARDENING and flower growing were great times back there when The Stroller was young. And until he moved out to Livonia in what then was called "the country" he didn't have a garden. Once away from the city he was quick to have a garden, just like back home. And as luck would have it, he was successful in a most unusual way.

He planted cucumbers and then left on a short vacation. When he returned a neighbor called to ask about the cucumbers. When he looked out he picked one up and screamed, "Look at this!" He had raised a large cucumber. What's more he entered it in the Northville Fair and won first prize.

That's the kind of luck one can have if he follows the Dutch and waits for the onion snow.

CEP coaches and parents are 'selfish'

To the editor: After attending last Monday's school board workshop, we, the undersigned, would like to elaborate on previously expressed ideas.

We feel that the coaches and parents that also attended last Monday's workshop acted rather selfishly. They seemed to be more concerned athletically as to which school their child attends with little emphasis on academics.

What is the difference between one school and the other, except that Canton's colors are red and white and Salem's colors are blue and white? A color is but a color.

They claim, according to Coach Gary Balconi, that they need to have this closeness with their children, rather than being placed on opposing sides of the creek. Well, the way we see it is that they will have to let go of their children sometime, and this would be an excellent opportunity for them to face the fact that they will not always get their own way.

We also feel that the parents/coaches/teachers would have a tendency to favor their children over others. They were talking as though they supported a rivalry between Canton and Salem which we do not feel promotes good sportsmanship.

We don't see why they cannot support both schools. Sure they do compete against each other, and may the better school win. But we feel both schools deserve a chance.

WE FEEL that Canton is second rate because they have never had the outstanding teams Salem has had.

We think that the reason for the Salem coaches to be so much more concerned about the issue is because they probably have more to lose.

We think that, to change the "random" selection process would demean the ideals of the system, as well as the board which represents the people, and make it appear that they are more concerned with athletics than a good education.

We feel that more people would be made unhappy if a change should occur than would be made happy. If you start making exceptions now, you will be obligated to make exceptions further down the line.

Perhaps for school secretaries, counselors, area coordinators and right on down to the custodians!

Perhaps a solution to the random selection process would be to consolidate the two schools into one. Then you wouldn't have to worry about making exceptions at all.

As far as costs are concerned, you would have money for athletic programs, coaches' pay, or anything else due to the decrease in demand for coaches. You would also be combining the talent from both schools to form even better athletic teams.

And as far as people being cut out of the school newspaper and the CEP Band have seemed to survive any problems in that area just fine. Besides, the students would have to work harder to be on the teams and only the people who were truly interested would want to stick it out.

There is one other problem that we would like to resolve between Coach Richard Menoch and Coach Arthur Wellman. Coach Wellman did not put us up to this at all. This is something that we feel strongly about and we took it upon ourselves to take action against. We strongly urge Coach Menoch to reconsider his false accusations against Coach Wellman and apologize.

Taxpayer feels insulted

To the editor:

As one of the many residents who is directly affected by the scheduled paving of roads in Canton Township, I read with great interest the article which appeared in your March 11, 1985, edition concerning recent developments in that matter at the township level.

Unfortunately, my interest in this article was exceeded only by a renewed feeling of utter frustration toward the manner in which the township and county officials have dealt with this project since it now appears that there is a possibility (likelihood) that all of the roads may not be paved.

Having lived through approximately seven years of the inconvenience of traveling these roads as well as the costs incurred in the premature replacement of tie-rods, shock absorbers, tires, exhaust pipes and various other car parts, I was quite relieved to hear that plans had finally been made to pave these roads.

I think we should all be reminded that a number of residents such as myself were first apprised of this when, in early November 1984 (election time), a number of signs were posted along the side of the affected roads on which Supervisor Poole advised residents that "this road is scheduled for improvement in Spring of 1985."

Based on the apparent certainty of the completion of this project as stated by Supervisor Poole, I, along with countless other residents, was relieved that I would no longer have to put up with the costs and inconvenience of traveling these roads.

As the Spring of 1985 approached and after contacts were made with the county officials as well as with Supervisor Poole, I was advised that no timetable for this project had been completed.

Furthermore, not only had no bids been received or contractors selected, but additionally, the plans on which the bids would be based had yet to be completed.

With these facts in mind, it occurs to me that the posting of these signs promising completion may have been nothing more than a shallow effort by our elected officials to appease and give a false sense of hope to the residents who are affected by the often wretched conditions of these roads.

I find it curious that in November 1984, Supervisor Poole would be so certain that the project would be completed in the spring that he saw fit to, presumably at taxpayer expense, post signs advising the citizens of this good news.

Yet, as spring arrives, it now appears that many of must ponder the possibility of continuing to travel these roads. Perhaps, in the future, Supervisor Poole and other elected officials will be more forthright in making promises and less inclined to congratulate themselves by posting what amounts to nothing more than self-applaudatory signs.

Frankly, I find the handling of this entire matter to have been an insult to the intelligence of the taxpayers of this Township.

Paul Janbevlch,

There's still time to get involved with Country Fest

"Magical Eras — Days Gone By" is the theme for the 1985 Canton Country Festival. The annual celebration is scheduled to run for three days, June 14-16.

Fireworks at dusk will highlight Friday's opening-day festivities. Other daily activities will include rodeo performances, musical entertainment, arts and craft displays, carnival rides, concessions, donkey softball games, casino, community-sponsored dinners, and other special events.

All activities will be held at the Canton Recreational Complex behind Township Hall at the corner of Canton Center and Proctor roads.

The annual parade will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 15. Spectator viewing will be along Ford Road, between Canton Center and Sheldon roads.

Arts and craft space is still available. Items must be original artwork or creative crafts, not kits or commercial items. A $40 space fee will be charged, and all works will be juried prior to acceptance. Applications must be returned by May 1, 1985.

Any local organization interested in operating a food concession may call Larry Bowerman at 453-6610 or 459-0077.

Application forms for persons or groups interested in participating in the festival or parade are available at the Canton Public Library, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Serving on this year's Canton Country Festival Board of Directors are: Kay Baldrice, Bowerman, Jim Davison, James Gillie, David Gerzewski, Rebecca Havenstein-Coughlin, Lorraine Hayes and Denise Krauser.

THE ADVENTURE OF THE New American Cuisine

It is fashionably called the New American Cuisine, but the term means quite different things to different people. What is clear is that there is a revolution in American kitchens, and the consumer has many interesting choices to make.

Clearly New American Cuisine pays homage to America's Bounty by celebrating the quality and diversity of our food products. USA-grown garden-fresh fruits and vegetables take precedence over the most exotic imports; regional dishes are enjoying new prestige far from their natural habitat. In terms of style, on one hand we have a return to the most robust of foods such as muffins, stews and cobblers, while the minimalists, in the manner of Nouvelle Cuisine, opt for light sauces and smaller portions. The ambience — the presentation on the plate, the table setting, even fresh flowers — become focal and the food is treated almost reverently.

Also in the range of this new American Cuisine is the importance given to salads. Great emphasis is placed on fresh ingredients — raw and cooked vegetables, fresh fruits and unusual vinegars. The European custom of a salad as a separate course has caught on and the salad bar has been introduced into many popular-priced restaurants.

Ethnic cooking, with nostalgic recipes prepared exactly as in that far-off homeland, is coming into the mainstream of American cookery. New restaurants define themselves by menus devoted exclusively to the foods of a single country, and they have broadened the public's knowledge of seasonings, herbs and even cooking utensils. For example, the once exotic woks and bamboo steamers are now sold in department stores.

Another offshoot of the revolution is Down-Home Cooking, robust and satisfying with a country feeling. Chili from Texas, fish chowders from New England and Creole cooking from Louisiana are enjoyed in regions far from their birth.

No matter how the New American Cuisine is defined, the lesson is that the meal is no longer simply meat, two veggies and apple pie. What was once a side dish may serve as an entree. Foods are combined in new ways to tease the palate and offer contrasts in taste and texture. With a fresh look at some of our best basic foods, meals are more exciting.

Florida Sunshine Salad takes advantage of readily available fresh citrus from Florida and offers the unexpected piquancy of succulent, sunshine-sweet sections of fresh oranges and grapefruit to add zest to a variety of fresh vegetables and chicken. Each element is placed separately on the salad plate. The vegetables are crisp, the chicken tender and the citrus juicy and delightful.

Seafood Potato Topping brings the Idaho® potato front and center for a new approach. Famous for its texture and flavor, the world-famous spud with its "Grown in Idaho" seal combines with tender seafood and a delicate sauce for a perfect example of the meal of the future.

A brand new version of a beloved classic is Idaho Potatoes Au Chevre. Fresh goat cheese and garlic-scented butter are the only additions to slices of the earthy potato. The result is a light but satisfying dish.

Desserts, too, are being rewritten. Florida Orange-Rum Chiffon Cake has a sensual appeal — the delicate texture of the cake contrasts with the rum-laden finish and glazed orange slices. It's a fine example of a perfect marriage of flavor and texture.

FLORIDA SUNSHINE SALAD

- 1 2 pounds boned, skinned chicken breasts
- 1 onion, quartered
- 1 carrot, cut in pieces
- 1 celery stalk, cut in pieces
- 1 2 teaspoon salt
- 4 peppercorns
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 cup cooked, sliced beets
- 1 2 pound pea pods, blanched, drained
- 1 small head red chives, shredded
- 1 avocado, peeled, pitted, sliced
- 2 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
- 3 oranges, peeled and sectioned
- Lettuce

Combine chicken, onion, carrot, celery, salt, peppercorns and bay leaf in a deep saucepan. Add water to barely cover, bring to a slow boil. Reduce heat, cover. Simmer gently 15 to 20 minutes until chicken is tender. Remove chicken, cool. Cut chicken in strips. Arrange chicken and remaining ingredients on individual salad plates. Serve with Citrus Dressing. YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

*Citrus Dressing

- 1 2 cup orange juice
- 1 2 cup salad oil
- 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
- 2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard
- 1 teaspoon crushed fennel seeds
- 1 4 teaspoon salt
- 1 8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 egg yolk

In measuring cup combine orange juice, oil, vinegar, mustard, fennel, salt and pepper. In medium bowl beat egg yolk, gradually whisk in orange juice mixture. YIELD: 1-1 1/4 cups

FRESH SEAFOOD TOPPED POTATOES

- 4 Idaho® potatoes
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 2 teaspoon finely chopped, fresh ginger
- 1 2 pound bay scallops
- 1 2 pound raw shrimp, shelled, deveined
- 2 pounds fresh tomatoes, peeled, chopped (about 3 cups)
- 1 1/2 tablespoons chopped, fresh cilantro (coriander)
- 1 4 teaspoon salt
- 1 4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 small, red bell pepper, julienned (3/4 cup)

Scrub potatoes, dry and prick with a fork. Bake in a 425° F. oven 55 to 65 minutes, until soft. In large skillet heat butter and oil; add ginger, cook 1 minute. Add scallops and shrimp. Stir over medium heat until done, about 3 minutes. Remove scallops and shrimp. In same skillet add tomatoes, cilantro, salt and pepper. Cover. Simmer 8 minutes. Add red pepper. Simmer 2 minutes longer. Return scallops and shrimp, heat through. When potatoes are soft, cut an "X" in top with a fork. Push some of the potato up with slight pressure of the fingers on the side of the potato. Spoon topping over blossomed potatoes. YIELD: 4 servings.

IDAHO POTATOES AU CHEVRE

- 1 4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 2 pounds potatoes (4 medium potatoes)
- 1 2 pound goat cheese, sliced 1/8-inch thick
- 1 4 teaspoon salt, divided
- 1 4 teaspoon ground pepper, divided
- 1 4 cup chopped scallions, divided

In small saucepan melt butter, add garlic and cook until golden. Do not pare potatoes. Slice 1/8-inch thick. In shallow, 2-quart casserole arrange half the potato slices and half the cheese. Sprinkle with half the salt, pepper and 1/2 cup scallions. Pour over half the butter. Repeat layer, reserving remaining scallions. Cover. Bake in a 375° F. oven 30 minutes. Uncover. Bake 30 minutes longer or until potatoes are tender. About 5 minutes before removing from oven, sprinkle with remaining scallions. YIELD: 4 servings.

FLORIDA ORANGE-RUM CHIFFON CAKE

- 1 cup egg whites (6 or 7 large), at room temperature
- 1 2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 2 cups sugar, divided
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 2 teaspoon salt
- 1 2 cup salad oil
- 5 large egg yolks
- 3 4 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons grated orange peel
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 2 oranges, unpeeled, sliced as thinly as possible
- 3 4 cup light rum or coconut rum

In large bowl beat egg whites with cream of tartar until soft peaks form. Gradually add 1 4 cup sugar, beating until stiff. In another large bowl sift together flour, 1 cup sugar, baking powder and salt. Make well in center. Add oil, egg yolks, orange juice and peel; beat until smooth. Fold egg whites into batter. Turn into ungreased, 10-inch tube pan. Bake in a 350° F. oven 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Immediately invert pan over neck of tall bottle; let cake cool completely, about 1 1/2 hours. Meanwhile prepare rum syrup. In medium saucepan, combine remaining 3 4 cups sugar and water; stir until dissolved. Add sliced oranges. Boil mixture rapidly until liquid is reduced to 3/4 cup. Remove orange slices, reserve. Remove syrup from heat, add rum. With cake tester, make holes in cake in pan. Pour warm syrup over cake, 1 4 cup at a time. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour, or until all syrup is absorbed. Turn cake out of pan onto serving plate. Arrange cooked orange slices over top of cake. YIELD: 12 to 14 servings.

DON'T FORGET the birthday party 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in the art rental gallery on the second floor of Dunning Hough Library, Main Street next door to Plymouth City Hall. There will be cookies, beverages and prizes.

Everything in the gallery will be priced for sale except the permanent collection and those pictures that have not been in circulation for a year. Many Michigan artists are featured in the gallery and party guests may choose from original watercolors, oils, acrylics, collages and even fine reproductions. More than 100 framed works will be offered, priced from $7.50 and up.

Some unframed pieces are available and there will be a silent auction.

The annual birthday sale is an excellent time to shop for a gift, or an addition to your own collection. There's nothing like a new painting to inspire a swing into spring cleaning and decorating.

Theresa Gall, who chairs the gallery for the Plymouth Community Arts Council, suggests, "Come and bring a neighbor with bare walls."

BEING A SENIOR citizen has its good points.

While picking up a jacket from the cleaners the other day, the clerk said, "That will be $2.50."

As I fished three ones out of my purse, she asked, "Are you a senior citizen?" I said I was, although I didn't have a card. (I thought afterwards that my driver's license would have been proof.)

"Well," said she, "it's just $2." I thanked her and instead of 30 cents, I put a dollar in my pocket and felt good about it all the way home.

Now my friend Norma doesn't feel that way. Norma doesn't live here and you don't know her, so I can tell this story.

Norma walks uptown and if she buys a lot of groceries, she takes a taxi home. There are two taxi drivers. One is very polite and accommodating. He carries her groceries to the cab and then to her door. He takes her arm and helps her in and out of his cab and up her steps.

He gives her a senior citizen discount.

The other driver is a surly sort, who never gives her a hand with her packages. He lets her shift for herself and charges her full fare.

And she always gives him a tip.

"I never tip the other one. When he gives me the discount, it makes me feel as though I should save my money," she explains.

I know her and I know exactly why she tips the unpleasant cabbie. Probably the first Boy Scout that offers to help me across the street will get an automatic clip on the head with my purse.

Someday — we'll probably be grateful.

GREAT TURNOUT at last Thursday's party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center. There were 10 tables in play. Connie Kamm's 7,400 points gave her high score and Arlene Schroeder came in second with 5,400.

KAY BALDRICA, Suzanne Skubick, Teresa Solak, Gloria Weaver and Nancy Zimmerman of the Canton Business and Professional Women's Club attended the 52nd annual International BPW banquet in Windsor.

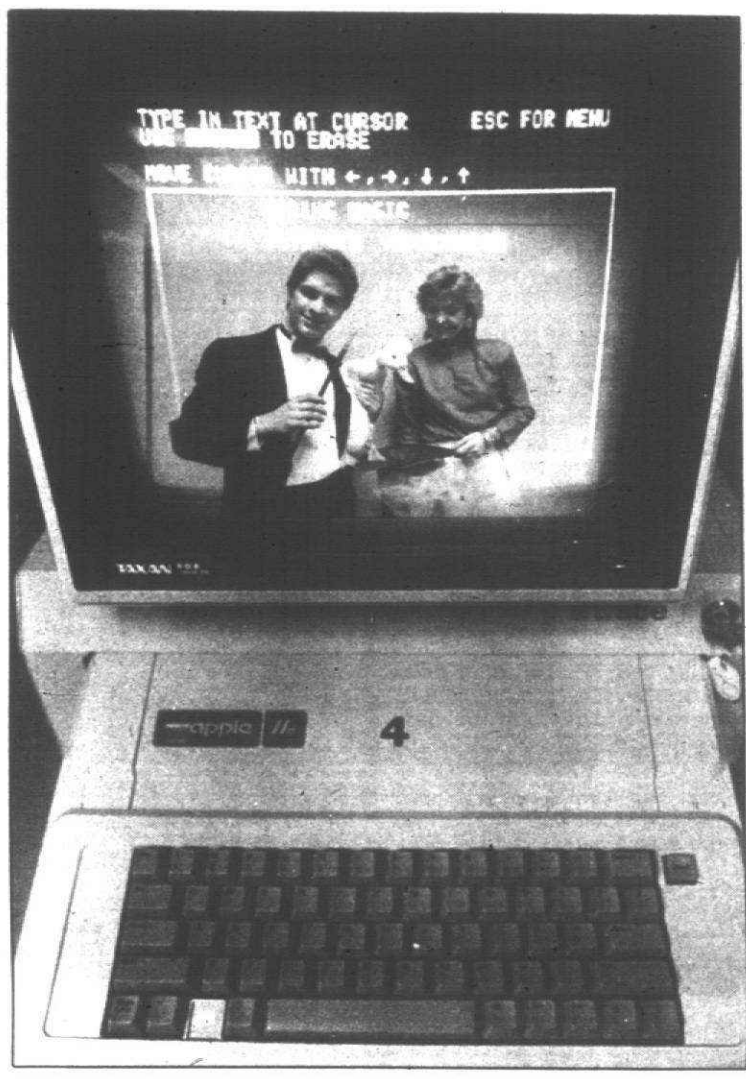

Each year, members from Windsor, Ohio and Michigan federations of BPW gather for a weekend in Windsor. The women had a baggage escort to the banquet in Cleary Memorial Convention Hall.

THE MICHIGAN State Rabbit Breeders Association had its 1985 convention show the other weekend at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

In the youth Royalty Contest, Jennifer Dixon, 8, of Plymouth earned the title of Lady (of the court), when her rabbit, Rocky, won first prize. Rocky is a Netherland Dwarf. The competition included a test that was half oral and half written. It was Jennifer's first win.

Her sister, Heather, won a first place prize on a Rex named T-bone, and fourth place for a Mini Lop named Beauty.

Plymouth Newcomers plan 'Spring Magic' benefit

"Spring Magic" is the theme of the Plymouth Newcomers Club benefit fashion show and luncheon April 18 in the Mayflower Meeting House. Observer staff photographer Bill Bresler used a little magic of his own to combine the computer, donated to Dunning Hough Library after last year's show, with principals in this year's show — Bill Heiney, magician, and Nancy Fruehntich, decorations chair.

The season's liveliest fashions will be on review at the Plymouth Newcomers Club annual benefit style show. The theme is "Spring Magic" with clothing for men, women, children and teens. Bridal, maternity and leisure wear will be included in the all-occasion fashion parade.

Entertainment will be provided by magician Bill Heiney, who promises to captivate his audience with his bag of tricks.

"Spring Magic" will begin at 11 a.m. Thursday, April 18 in the Mayflower Meeting House with hospitality and a cash bar. Lunch will be served at 11:30 — chicken terrine with wild mushrooms and garden vegetables, and a fruit and puff pastry dessert with caramel sauce.

Admission is $12.50 and tickets must be purchased in advance by calling 420-4022 or 455-0588. Reservations are required before April 15.

LANE SABOURIN will be commentator.

Serving on the planning committee are Marge Rourke, Alice Homan, Linda Hanratty, Rose Condit, Nancy Fruehntich, Deanna Miller and Michele Crammond.

Members of the club will model fashions from Armbruster Bootery, Before & After, Beginnings, Charlestown Square Jewellers, Chic Boutique, Del's Department Store, Ed's Sports, Enchante, Fitness Things, Her Closet 'n' Gifts, John Smith, Lina's, Little Angels, Judith Anne, Maggie and Me, Masons, me and mr. Jones, Milano's, Minerva's, Dunning's, Mountain Rags, Nawrot Pendleton, New Gal in Town, Sacks of Forest Avenue, Sandy's Fashions, The Willow Tree and Towne Classics.

MODELS' MAKEUP and hair fashions will be by Beautiful People, Salon International, Headlines, Coiffeurs by Joseph, Elite Hair Fashions, Scissors, Fashion and Sewing Seminar. Group will meet after the program at Ruth Turner's, 6630 Crane Road, Ypsilanti. All graduate home economists are welcome. For more information, call Sue Arnett, 483-5266.

GALLERY BIRTHDAY SALE

The art rental gallery on the second floor of Dunning Hough Library will have its annual birthday sale during library hours, Wednesday, March 27. Everything in the gallery will be priced for sale except the permanent collection. More than 100 framed works priced from $7.50 up and almost 40 works for less than $50. There will be refreshments, prizes and a silent auction. The arts council invites the public to the sale.

Benefit dinner aids SC's women's center

A LOT OF GOOD things will come together in Schoolcraft College's Waterman Center Thursday night.

That's when a goodly amount of friends will share a good dinner to help out a good friend and enjoy some good entertainment, all at the same time.

Other "goodies" are a number of door prizes that will be given away. The occasion is the spaghetti dinner benefiting Schoolcraft's Women Resource Center.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC, the event will begin with a before-glow at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner, prepared by the college's Culinary Arts Department.

Entertainment will feature the musical talents of Elizabeth Porter and Nick Beasant, members of a professional troupe known as TAP Inc. The theme will be "A Touch of Broadway." Accompanying them will be Rebecca Klier.

The trio recently were headliners at the historic Holly Hotel in Holly and currently are appearing at Burroughs Farms Roadhouse.

Tickets are $10. Reservations may be made by calling the resource center at 591-6400, Ext. 430.

UPSHOT OF THE evening is that a lot of good things will continue to happen in the resource center's ongoing agenda to help people in transition — most of them women, but not excluding males who might need help.

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

The sign says opportunity for growth, but Women's Resource Center Advisory Committee members Glenna Davis (left) and Burt Kelly want to add there's an opportunity for fun, too, at the spaghetti dinner benefiting the center for this Thursday night. The dinner will be held in the Waterman Campus Center.

Built on Integrity Backed by Results

Since 1979, Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers has helped thousands of Americans lose millions of pounds. We're a national organization with over 175 out-patient centers operating in 19 states.

We've aligned ourselves with your medical community, acting as a bona fide support service by treating the non-emergent, overweight patient. Under close medical supervision our patients lose a guaranteed 3 to 7 pounds each week.

Patients are taught how to plan nutritional, well-balanced meals consisting of grocery store foods.
Our Behavioral Guidance programs show the patient how to identify and then modify poor eating habits so that they can stay slim forever.

The real strength of our program lies in our dedicated and compassionate staff...physicians, nurses and staff counselors
...caring professionals who understand the frustration of coping with a weight problem.
They consider each of their patients' successes as personal victories.

We have restored trust in the weight loss industry. We invite you to come to our Open House

Catholic sharp-shooters trigger 1985 Observerland cage squad

By Brad Emons
staff writer

THERE'S A NEW kid on the block, and he's made quite an impact on this year's All-Area boys basketball team.

Wayne Memorial, which enjoyed as much success as any Observerland team this season with a 21-2 record, joined the coverage area in January.

The Wolverine A and district champions placed two players on the first team.

Garden City, which also won a district and Northwest Suburban League (NSL) crown, is represented by one player and one coach in the elite group.

This year's team also features two of the state's most prolific scorers, a prolific student and a talented underclassman.

There were many memorable moments this season.

Farmington Harrison shook its image of being just a football power by winning the Western Division title and the WLAA playoffs.

The season was also marked by North Farmington's upset of state-ranked Southfield for the district championship at West Bloomfield.

Two coaches announced they would not be back.

Livonia Stevenson's George Van Wagoner said goodbye after racking up 494 career victories, putting him in an elite group statewide. The other coach, RU's Lee Bjerke, was a victim of times. He wanted to teach and coach in the RU building, but could not get his wish.

Sixteen of 19 area coaches attended the selection meeting. Here are the results:

JOHN MCINTYRE, REDFORD CATHOLIC CENTRAL: The 6-foot-4 senior guard is a consensus all-stater with big-time credentials.

This season he averaged 29 points, 10 rebounds and 4 assists per game. He scored a season-high 46 points against Bishop Borgess.

In three years at CC, McIntyre tallied 1,553 points.

"John is an excellent blind-side passer, has keen basketball sense and has great anticipation on defense," said CC coach Bernie Holowicki. "He's the finest player I've ever coached."

The University of Detroit-bound cager was a marked man most of the season, often being double- or triple-teamed.

He recently finished sixth in the state's Mr. Basketball voting.

JOE GREGORY, REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS: The 5-8 senior point-guard is an offensive machine as evidenced by his 28.5 scoring average this season.

In the Catholic League, Gregory averaged 30.8 per game.

A unanimous all-Catholic pick, the easy-going Gregory pumped in a season-high 44 points against Royal Oak Shrine, including 20 of 20 free throws.

"Joe can do many things offensively," said Borgess coach Mike Fusco. "He can penetrate and score, or he can penetrate and dish off."

"He can shoot from the perimeter effectively — 21 feet and in. He can also shoot well off screens and is just as good of a shooter from the pass."

A Division I prospect, Gregory also can leap with the best. He scored many of his points on offensive tips.

POLLIS ROBERTSON, WAYNE MEMORIAL: The 6-6 senior center, bound for the University of Wisconsin, averaged 19.8 points and 13.3 rebounds per game this season.

He shot 51 percent from the floor and blocked 3.3 shots per game.

A two-time Wolverine A pick, Robertson was voted the conference's MVP.

Earlier this month he was nominated for the McDonald's All-American squad.

"Pollis is an excellent leader," said coach Chuck Henry. "He has a great attitude and is a tremendous worker."

"I feel that his best years are ahead of him and that he will have a fine college career."

Livonia heavyweight Craig Payne sent his opponent, Cleveland Ingram, to the canvas in the second round of his first pro fight Thursday.

Pudgy Payne punches way to sudden KO in pro debut

By C.J. Rieak
staff writer

The professional boxing debut of Craig Payne Thursday was not all it was hoped to be.

Payne did fight. And the Livonia heavyweight did win on a second-round knockout, thrilling a large local cheering section among the 3,359 Cobo Arena fans on hand for the 9-bout card.

Payne hammered Cleveland Ingram into submission in the corner with 10 straight body punches. Ingram, from Cleveland, sank to his knees as Payne kept punching away.

"My right hand to the body did it," Payne said afterwards. He kept up the attack even after Ingram went to his knees, he said, because "the ref's got to stop me. I'll keep hitting him until he stops me."

BUT THE FIGHT wasn't much of a test. Ingram was the third opponent lined up for Payne. Mike Evans of Chicago bowed out — "I don't know why," Payne said — and Ingram was a late substitution.

"I knew nothing about him," said

boxing

Payne of Ingram, who was also making his pro debut. "I knew he had been in an Ohio penitentiary, and that he had had about 5 amateur fights."

It wasn't so much a sparkling night for Livonia's boxers — junior middleweight Mike Darnell also fought and beat an opponent from Cleveland — as it was a pathetic one for Cleveland's.

Ingram took his 10-count while resting on one knee in the corner. He did not appear dazed, just tired. He shook his head and said "No more" as the referee counted him out.

DARNELL'S FIGHT was scheduled for 4 rounds against Larry "Flat Top" Petty. Darnell came out fast but Petty floored him with an overhand right in the first 15 seconds of the bout. Darnell bounced up unhurt, and by the end of the first round Petty was gasping for air through his mouthpiece.

Midway through the second round Petty was gassed. At one point he clung to Darnell's waist and the Livonia fighter pushed him to the floor. Petty nearly took the count then, but he managed to climb to his feet. Moments later he collapsed again from exhaustion and was counted out.

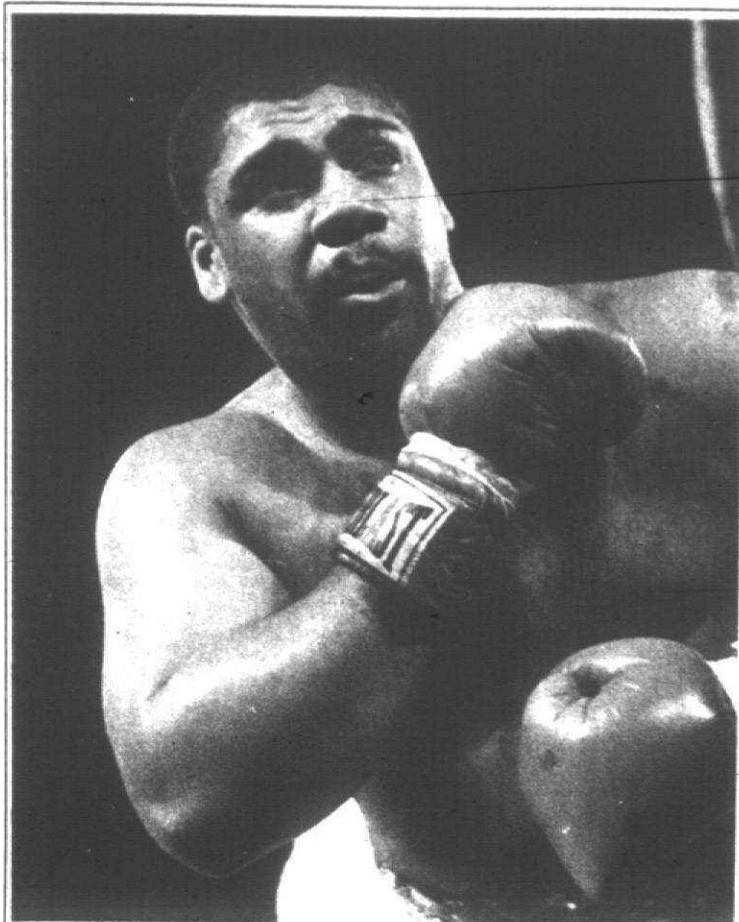

The knockout improved Darnell's record to 4-0-1.

PAYNE BOBBED into the ring garbed in a lavender robe and shoes. He did not resemble the fighter that beat Olympic medalist Tyrell Biggs last July or Cuban gold medalist Teofilo Stevenson.

Payne weighed 225 when he fought Biggs 8 months ago. He was announced at 235 Thursday — "I wish he was 235," said trainer Dick Quinton — but admitted afterward that his weight had ballooned to 255.

"My weight didn't bother me at all," said Payne. "I'm not in the best of shape. I've been out of boxing for 8 months."

Crane Payne, a heavy-duty heavyweight, laid some heavy lumber on Cleveland Ingram Thursday night at Cobo Arena.

Payne garners KO in pro debut

"But I guarantee I'm going to keep active now. I'm going to fight a tough opponent, a bigger opponent."

His next fight, Payne, could be as early as next month. He said, earlier last week he had a tentative fight date set for April 11 in Las Vegas.

PAYNE'S INACTIVITY since the Olympic Trials box-off last July was due partly to management conflicts. Payne said Thursday that "Paul Soucy and Dick Quinton will be in my corner, no matter what. They will be my managers."

Soucy added, "We're going to iron the problems out. We are going to stay together as a team. I think Craig will be contending for a title within a year."

Payne has been traveling between Las Vegas, where he has been working with Eddie Futch (who trains heavyweight champion Larry Holmes), and Livonia.

"The arrangement we have right now is that Eddie Futch is a consultant trainer," said Soucy. "We have a 5-year management contract (with Payne)."

"We have had a multitude of problems, some financial,"

Another problem is Payne, who has had weight problems throughout his career. While he moved well against Ingram (who weighed in at 194), a longer fight against a tougher opponent could drain a vastly overweight Payne.

HOWARD FLOWERS, WAYNE MONTANO: The 6-7 senior helped pack Wayne's 1-2 scoring punch this season. Playing forward, Flowers biggest asset was his outside shooting. He averaged 18.5 points per game on 54 percent shooting. Flowers also was the team's second leading rebounder and handed out a total of 63 assists this season.

"Howard is the best offensive player I've ever coached," Henry said. "He's an excellent perimeter shooter and plays extremely hard at both ends of the floor."

Flowers, a Wolverine A all-conference pick, scored a season-high 19 points in a regional loss to Detroit Southwestern.

Eastern Michigan University and Great Lakes schools have shown a great deal of interest in Flowers.

BOB SLUKA, LIVONIA STEVENSON: The 6-5 senior center was a three-year starter for a team that won the Lakes Division side of the Western Lakes Conference. During his career, Sluka played on two division champions, two district champions and one regional finalist team.

This season, Sluka averaged 17.6 points and 12.8 rebounds per game. He also blocked 49 shots this year en route to team MVP and all-conference honors.

"Bob always worked hard and never complained," said retiring Stevenson coach George Van Wagoner.

An all-A advanced placement student, Sluka has visited Columbia University and Miami of Florida. Several other schools have also shown interest.

RICK ANDERSON, NORTH FARMINGTON: The 6-5 junior is probably the area's premier shooter among post players or big men.

The all-NSL choice averaged double figures in both points (19) and rebounds (10) for the Raiders, who finished 15-8 overall.

On three occasions this season, Anderson scored 30 or more points. Although North did not win the NSL title, the Anderson-led Raiders beat WLLA champ Farmington Harrison and SMA champion Southfield en route to the district title at West Bloomfield.

Anderson, who is getting inquiries from a number of colleges already, also excels in the classroom with a 3.4 grade point average.

STEVE DUNNING, GARDEN CITY: The remarkable 6-2 senior forward had a nose for the basketball and made many clutch plays this season. He also made quite an improvement, going from a benchwarmer as a junior to the team's top scorer as a senior.

The all-league pick averaged 18.6 points per game, while shooting 52 percent this season. Dunning, whose shot was hard to block, went to the free-throw line 180 times and made 121. He was also second on the team in steals.

"Steve seemed to be at the end of a teammate's pass all year," said Garden City coach Bob Dropp. "He had the ability to get himself open."

"He's a blue collar worker on the inside."

Dunning also carries a 3.4 in the classroom.

Canton's Joel Mies, along with Plymouth Salem's LeSean Haygood, was selected to the third team All-Area squad. Salem's Mike White was named to the second team by area coaches.

Dropp coach of year

Let's make some noise for the quiet man.

Garden City coach Bob Dropp has earned a statewide reputation as a solid basketball coach. This past year he earned some stripes on the basketball court.

Dropp, perhaps the most sedate of any area coach along the sidelines, posted his most successful basketball season ever guiding the Cougars to a 20-4 record.

"I think the nicest thing we had this season, in terms of our record, was that we had no real star," said Dropp, a 20-year veteran of the coaching ranks. "The players coming back did not have the experience, but they grew together as a team throughout the season."

"THEY WERE intelligent, totally unselfish and worked extremely hard at what they did. We did it with no name-brand players."

"We'll have height to build around," said Dropp, who returns 6-5 sophomore starter Skip Barnett. "And the nice thing, too, is the people sitting on the bench now realize they can do the same thing."

"Our JV squad was 10-10, and we had a good freshman team that went 14-2."

Dropp didn't get much rest after his team lost in the regional final to Detroit Southwestern.

His basketball team has already begun spring training.

LIT keggers turn game into science

By Tom Panzenhagen staff writer

They say Ted Williams made a science of hitting a baseball. He didn't analyze the properties of cork and horsehide. But he knew how to make contact.

Two members of Lawrence Institute of Technology's bowling team, however, literally are making a science of rolling a bowling ball.

And the whole team knows how to make contact — with the pins.

The bowlers ranked among the top 10 college bowling teams in the nation — recently finished first in Michigan Intercollegiate Bowling Conference play, and they won the Midwest Collegiate Championship in tournament action last month in Milwaukee.

This weekend they will bowl against top teams from Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky in Young American Bowling Alliance sectional roll-offs in Richmond, Ind. The winner advances to the National Collegiate Bowling Championship — college bowling's equivalent of the NCAA basketball finals — May 3-4 in Milwaukee.

IF LIT BOWLERS have an advantage going into the roll-offs, it's the study team members Bill Wasserberger and Joe Montano are making of the game.

The two are working on a school project involving the properties of a bowling ball. They are, in fact, turning the game into a science.

Wasserberger explained: "The center of mass of the ball is not at the center of the sphere." Most bowlers use 16-pound bowling balls, he noted, but the "internal weight" of the ball may vary by three ounces.

"The relation between the center of mass and the axis of rotation affects the character of the arc as the ball goes down the lane. All this is known by (top bowlers), but it's never been studied scientifically."

"We're bringing scientific analysis to the study of bowling ball balance."

"The ideal delivery is one-third slide, one-third roll and one-third throw. You vary the internal weights of the ball in order to achieve the same slide-roll-throw under an infinite variety of lane conditions," Wasserberger said.

To knock down pins with the consistency of champions, however, you have to put theory to practice, and that's what the LIT bowlers have done this year.

Armed with averages near the 200 mark, the bowlers appear confident about the upcoming roll-offs.

bowling

"WE HAVE TO WIN, so I predict we're going to win," said Montano, a junior from Troy and a mechanical engineering major.

"We want to win," said junior team member and co-captain Wasserberger, who has two 300 games to his credit. Montano also has bowled two perfect games.

"Indiana State is the only team ranked higher than us (in the sectional roll-offs)," said senior co-captain George Sokolowsky of Detroit. "But we've beaten them. They were bowling right next to us (in the Association of College Unions International tournament Feb. 15-16 in East Lansing), and they saw our top four bowlers average about 250 in our last game, and they just cracked."

Indiana State beat LIT this year, too, in the Michigan Swiss Invitational. But LIT "got even," as junior Fred Page of Livonia put it, two weeks later in East Lansing.

"Our chances of winning are as good as anybody's," Page said. Montano added, "We have three guys bowling the best they've ever bowled and a couple not having the years they're capable of. We have peaked (recently), but we haven't played over our abilities."

Other team members are Jeff Briggs of Troy, Jon Putti of Birmingham and Rick Tepper of Birmingham. All are juniors and will return next year with Montano, Wasserberger and Page.

The coach is Dan Ottman.

LIT COMPETES in the Michigan Intercollegiate Bowling Conference, made up of teams from the University of Michigan, Saginaw Valley State College and Central Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State universities.

They practice at Plum Hollow Lanes in Southfield and Astro Lanes in Madison Heights.

"The school has treated us fantastically," Sokolowsky said, explaining that LIT pays for about two-thirds of the bowlers' expenses.

Sokolowsky, a mechanical engineering major, said he has no intention of turning pro when he graduates.

"I've got a job lined up and the people are solid. I'm not going to go right on the (pro bowlers) tour — that would be nuts," he said.

Maybe as nuts as making a science out of bowling.

college sports

● TUMBLING SUCCESS
Ingrid Racka of Farmington Hills finished fourth in the floor exercise with a 9.0 at the Mid-American Conference (MAC) championships March 16. Racka, a freshman at Western Michigan, finished with a 34.95 score in the all-around to place eighth.

Western scored 174.50 points to break the school record, set 2 weeks earlier. The Broncos placed second in the MAC and finished the season with a 12-3 dual meet mark.

● WENDT HONORED
University of Detroit junior Greg Wendt, a Redford Catholic Central grad and Livonia native, was named to the All-Midwestern City Conference's (MCC) second team.

Wendt, a 6-foot-6 forward, also was runner-up in the MCC's balloting for Newcomer of the Year and made the All-Midwest honorable mention list for Basketball Times and Basketball Weekly. Wendt was selected MCC Player of the Week Jan. 27.

Wendt led the Titans in rebounding (7.1 per game) and steals (4.5), finished second in scoring (15.8 per game) and field goal percentage (.522) and was third in assists (8.9) and free throw percentage (.714). U-D enjoyed its best season since 1980 with a 16-12 record, including an 8-6 MCC mark.

● IVY MENTION
Livonia Franklin graduate Anna Collins earned All-Ivy League honorable mention after leading Harvard's women's basketball team in rebounding and finishing as its No. 2 scorer.

The 6-1 junior forward, who will serve as co-captain next season, scored 9.8 points per game and grabbed 6.8 rebounds. She connected on 51.4 percent of her floor shots.

Harvard was 8-18 overall and 2-10 in the Ivy League.

● PERFECT START
Dave Slavin, a Plymouth Salem grad who's in his sophomore year at Missouri, had a forgettable freshman year for Missouri's baseball team because of injuries. But he's started this season perfectly.

The Tigers' first 8 games, all at home, ended in victories. Slavin, a back-up catcher, batted 4 times and collected 4 hits, scoring 4 runs and batting in 2.

CC's Steffes scores game-winning goal

Redford Catholic Central's Jeff Steffes scored at 10:08 of the third period to give the Blue team a 7-6 victory over the Red team last Sunday in the second Michigan High School All-State Hockey Game at Yost Arena in Ann Arbor.

More than 1,500 people turned out for the game, sponsored by Little Caesars and the Midwest Hockey Association.

The teams were comprised of prep all-stars from across the state. The Blue team, coached by Adam Mitchell, was made up of players from the Flint, Detroit and Ann Arbor areas. The Red team, coached by former Red Wing coach Bobby Kromm, was made up of

● USGF MEET
The inaugural Mid American Team Gymnastics Classic, a five-team meet, is set for Saturday, March 30 at the Farmington Gymnastics Center (24621 Crestview, off Grand River, in Farmington Hills).

A pair of teams from Illinois, one from Wisconsin, the Great Lakes Gymnastics team from Lansing and Farmington will be competing in the United States Gymnastics Federation-sanctioned meet.

Barry Muzbeck, the Wall Lake Western standout and the top high school gymnast in the state this season, and Plymouth's Chris Jeannotte are members of the Farmington team.

For more information, call 478-6130.

● FOOTBALL BOOSTERS
A meeting of the Plymouth Canton Football Boosters Club is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 2 in room 128 at Canton High School.

● ADULT SOFTBALL
The Canton Parks and Recreation Department is accepting registrations for all adult softball leagues, including men's, women's and 35-over.

Rec department offices are open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

● MENS RECREATION NIGHT
Canton recreation is sponsoring another 10-week session of mens recreation (mostly consisting of pick-up basketball). The program is offered to Canton residents only.

The program, housed at Eriksson Elementary School, begins Wednesday, March 27 and runs 6:45-9:45 each Wednesday for 10 weeks. The fee is $10. Call 397-1000 for more information.

● PCJBL SIGN-UP
The Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League will hold registration for the 1985 season from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, March 23 at the Canton High School cafeteria.

Boys and girls who will be 7 years old on or before July 31, 1985 and no older than 18 on or before that date are eligible to compete.

The PCJBL is offering a few new elements to the program this year. Included in the entry fee is a ticket to see the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds play a benefit game at Tiger Stadium.

Baseball clinic set

The second session of the Plymouth Canton Chiefs Baseball Clinic, sponsored by the Canton Parents Baseball Club, is slated for the weekend of March 29-30 at Canton High School.

For $15 dollars, players can learn the fundamentals of the game from two of the state's winningest and most respected high school coaches. Fred Crissey and Dave Racer.

The session runs over two days: 6-10 p.m. Friday, March 29, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, March 30.

Youngsters nine years of age and older are eligible to participate.

For more information call any of the following people after 6 p.m.: Tom Kenyon 453-5667, Gary Lyle 455-3444, or Matt Kocik 455-6122.

Cher is Rusty, a biker lady, whose boyfriend is played by Sam Elliott, in "Mask."

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Film's young stars have best moments in overdone 'Mask'

Cher claims she sat down and cried for 45 minutes after she read the script for "Mask." Unfortunately she cried maudlin tears of sentimentality, for her performance (as well as that by the rest of the adults in the cast) misses the whole point. The beauty — and best qualities — of the human spirit shine through the tears of adversity. Those tears, reflecting the joy of conflict and survival, are the ones she should have shed.

Fortunately, for the sake of the film and its audience, sensitive performances by Eric Stoltz and Laura Dern save "Mask" from totally maudlin melodrama and an overdose of stereotypes. Rocky Dennis (Eric Stoltz) is afflicted with a genetic abnormality which deposits excess calcium in his skull, distorting his face beyond human bounds. He doesn't need a mask on Halloween. Much to his credit, Stoltz communicates the strength of character Dennis needs to face the world so badly disfigured. Not only does Rocky face the world, he feels good about himself and is optimistic about life, his girlfriend and his long-planned motorcycle trip across Europe.

ROCKY'S GIRLFRIEND, Diana, is well-to-do, lovely, blonde and blind. She and Rocky meet at a summer camp for the blind where he is a counselor and she a camper. Naturally, their love is doomed by his health and her family, but they manage to experience the joys of love and communication. They express the eternal hope humanity has in the next generation.

Dern and Stoltz achieve this with their performances, avoiding the histrionics normally expected. Instead, with simplicity and restraint, they express hope, love and expectation, none of which one normally would expect under the circumstances.

Stoltz, in particular, with his central role, extensive screen time and cumbersome make-up mask, achieves an inspirational quality with calm, restraint and a positive view of life. The strength and serenity of Stoltz's portrayal defuses the revulsion expected of such deformity.

Besides the afflictions their characters possess, Stoltz and Dern are faced with a bunch of tiresome, stereotyped adults that deserve no sympathy and have no motivation. If Peter Bogdanovich, the director, wants our concern for these characters, he is obligated to develop some kind of justification. That they are deprived because they were deprived (of we know not what), just won't wash.

what's at the movies

AMADEUS (PG). Superb rendition of Mozart's life with Tom Hulce and F. Murray Abraham. Directed by Milos Forman.

BABY • SECRET OF THE LOST LEGEND (PG). Baby Brontosaurus is the object of another jungle-movie chase.

BROTHER FROM ANOTHER PLANET (Unrated but probably PG-13). Humorous and clever, as black extraterrestrial slave escapes and lands in Harlem. Marred by murky conclusion.

FANTASIA (G). Walt Disney's animated classic featuring a new digitally rerecorded Dolby stereophonic soundtrack.

FRIDAY THE 13TH — A NEW BEGINNING (R). To an old story.

HEAVEN HELP US (R). Rebellious students in strict Catholic High School, starring Kevin Dillon, Andrew McCarthy and Donald Sutherland.

THE KILLING FIELDS (R). Must-see, intense story of brotherhood amidst the horrors of war in Cambodia, based on Pulitzer-Prize-winning article by New York Times correspondent Sydney Schanberg.

THE LAST DRAGON (PG-13). Contemporary music and martial arts in New York City. Drag on home and miss it.

MASK (PG-13). Cher in true story of biker lady with genetically deformed child. Maudlin moments intermixed with uplifting performances by Eric Stoltz and Laura Dern.

MISCHIEF (R). Typical high-school story, well-produced but too explicit for young two-agers. Parents take the big rap for all that is bad.

MISSING IN ACTION II (No rating available). Chuck Norris still doesn't believe official reports about his son. Tune in next week.

1984 (R). Richard Burton's last film, a brilliant rendition of George Orwell's frightening vision of the future. Not to be missed.

A PASSAGE TO INDIA (PG). David Lean directed this story of love and class struggle in 1928 India. Based on E.M. Forster novel, with Judy Davis.

WineFest features auction

An auction of fine wines will highlight the Ann Arbor Art Association's third annual WineFest on Friday, April 12, at the Ann Arbor Inn. The event will benefit community art programs of the association.

Each ticket purchased will be accompanied by "auction dollars," redeemable for $10 on the purchase of a lot of wine. For ticket information contact the Ann Arbor Art Association at 994-8004.

Gary Andrus, winemaker at Pine Ridge Winery in Napa, Calif., is honorary chair, heading a committee of wine and food specialists who assist the auction committee. Andrus will open the auction evening with an address to the audience.

Andrus first became interested in wines when, as a member of the U.S. Ski Team, he stayed with a family in Australia who made wines. Pine Ridge Winery, founded in 1978, makes premium wines of four varieties: chardonnay, cabernet sauvignon, merlot and chenin blanc. Pine Ridge has won 42 medals for its wines.

Wines represent a range of prices and quality, to appeal to buyers ranging from collectors to recent converts.

A gourmet sampler of wines provided by Ann Arbor area restaurants and caterers will accompany the auction. Larry Manderville and Friends will perform classical jazz before and after the auction. Flowers provided by area florists will bedeck the ballroom, reception area and buffet rooms.

Winetasters greets Pat Paulsen

Actor and comedy star Pat Paulsen, who has launched a new winery, will speak before the Winetasters, 185 Wilton Road, Troy 48068.

Glen Oaks County Golf Course, 13 Mile between Middlebelt and Orchard Lake roads, in Farmington Hills.

The wine tasting is open to the public for $12 per person. For reservations, send a check to Winetasters, 185 Wilton Road, Troy 48068.

Several of Paulsen's wines will be poured, and he will discuss his wines reverently and not so. Snacks and munchies will be provided.

Paulsen is known for his Cherry County Playhouse, a summer theater in Traverse City, and also for his tongue-in-cheek campaign for the U.S. presidency.

'Top Girls' presented
A British drama, "Top Girls," continues through Sunday, April 21, at the Attic Theatre's New Center Location, Third at W. Grand Blvd., in Detroit.

The play by Caryl Churchill looks at women's roles at a "meeting of the minds" dinner party, where the audience eavesdrops on the conversation of the assorted female guests.

For ticket information, call 963-7789.
