Canton Officer Daniel Antieau escorts Anthony Paul Paonessa into 35th District Court for an arraignment on four felony charges stemming from an incident in which gunshots were fired at a proposed group home on Dionne Street.

Neighbor of Dionne home is arrested for vandalism

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A Canton Township father and son were arrested on multiple charges that include assaulting a police officer and the destruction of property at a group home construction site on Dionne Street April 14.

During the arrests of the residents, who live across the street from the proposed group home, police and the suspects reportedly received injuries.

At his arraignment Monday, Anthony Paul Paonessa, 23, pleaded innocent before 35th District Judge John MacDonald on four felony charges including malicious destruction of property valued at more than $100, possessing a firearm during the commission of a felony, causing about $600 worth of damage by kicking a police car door and resisting and obstructing an arrest. Since some of the sentences could be served concurrently, the charges carry a maximum jail sentence of six years.

A PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION to determine whether there is enough evidence to try Paonessa will be held at 10:30 a.m. April 25 in 35th District Court.

Lenawee County's circuit court probation department has issued a warrant for his arrest for breaking probation, according to Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson. Bond was set at $2,500. Paonessa failed to post bond by late Tuesday afternoon and was taken to Wayne County jail.

His father, Anthony Thomas Paonessa, 47, was charged with assault and battery of a Canton police officer, a misdemeanor. The father, who has publicly voiced his opposition to the group home, was released on a $100 cash bond set by 35th District Judge James Garber.

Canton police are also petitioning juvenile divisions of probate court to issue a felonious assault charge against a 13-year-old involved in the incident, Wilson said.

After the arrests, Canton police obtained a search warrant and confiscated "numerous firearms" from Paonessa's home, Wilson said.

At about 9:30 p.m., police were notified by a security guard at the group home that gun shots were fired at the home. Security guards, hired by the Department of Mental Health, have been on 24-hour watch of the group home because of a rash of vandalism at the site.

Canton Detective William Keppen said that while he was talking to a neighbor on the block, he heard gunshots and saw Anthony Paul shoot at the home from his garage across the street.

"I called for a backup, confronted the defendant and attempted an arrest," Keppen said. "Then everything went crazy."

"He (Anthony Paul) assaulted me, and as I swung around, the 13-year-old came up behind me and was about to hit me with a (18 inch) pipe wrench," Keppen said. "I pulled my revolver and said to drop it, and he did."

Keppen suffered an acute sprain to his left hand and contusions on various parts of his body from the struggle. The elder Paonessa, who appeared in court during his son's arraignment, used a walking stick and later said his back was injured by police. He told Judge Garber during the arraignment that his son was speaking in a low voice, because he "was choked by police" during the incident.

AS POLICE left the 35th District Court parking lot to transport Anthony Paul back to the Canton jail, his father said: "I'll sue the Canton Township Police Department for $1 million, so help me God."

The Dionne group home has been under constant attack by vandals since the onset of construction last summer. In February, about $22,000 worth of damage was caused by arsonists to the half-built home. In total more than $35,000 in destruction has been attributed to vandals.

Incumbents, newcomers to square off in school race

Incumbent trustee David Artley of Canton will be challenged by another Canton resident and a former school trustee for a four-year term on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Richard Sumpter of Canton returns to school board politics a year after last year's unsuccessful first run for the school board.

The third candidate is Steven Harper of Plymouth Township who served on the Plymouth-Canton board as trustee and board treasurer. He has a heavy background of involvement in school affairs and was a top vote-getter in years past.

Harper had applied for appointment to the school board when Tom Yack of Canton resigned, but the seat was given instead to Dean Swartzwelter of Plymouth Township.

Harper had considered applying for the seat now vacant because of the recent resignation of Nancy Quinn but decided to seek election to the board instead.

SWARTZWELTER, serving out the balance of Yack's term, is up for election in June 1985 and opted to run for the two-year position.

That decision will avoid a direct confrontation on the ballot between Swartzwelter and Harper, who have worked together in the past.

For the two-year post, Swartzwelter will be challenged by Renee Vermeersch Casillas and George Johnson. Casillas of Canton is a former special education teacher at Hawthorne Center and Lafayette Clinic. Johnson has been a Plymouth Township resident for the past nine years.

Harper first was elected to a four-year term on the board in 1977. He ran for re-election in 1981 but was defeated by William Decker who resigned from the board after serving for one year. Roland Thomas, now board president, was appointed to replace Decker.

Swartzwelter first ran for the school board three years ago but was unsuccessful. He ran again last June but was defeated by Quinn and Les Walker.

Both Swartzwelter and Harper have voted in all 10 school elections held since 1980. Johnson has never voted in a school election since registering to vote in May 1979, Artley has voted in five of the 10 since 1980, and Casillas has voted in four of the seven elections she was eligible to vote in since registering in 1981.

BESIDES THE two members elected to the board this June, a third member will be appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Quinn's resignation.

The school board made a decision that it would not consider anyone who was running as a candidate as an appointee.

The board has decided to appoint someone to fill the vacancy by May 6. Any resident interested in being named to the board should submit a written application by April 30 to: Board of Education Secretary, 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth MI 48170. The appointee will serve until June 1986.

The remaining members of the school board not up for election in June are Thomas of Plymouth, Elaine Kirchgatter of Canton, E.J. McClendon of Plymouth Township, and Walker of Plymouth.

2 garage fires total 6 cars: $60,000 damage

Police suspect arson, link ex-resident to incidents

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Arson is suspected in two Canton Township garage fires that occurred April 16 within 15 minutes of each other and together caused more than $60,000 worth of damage.

Investigators are linking the fires in the 44000 block of Tudor Court and the 44000 block of Westminister Way. The Tudor fire caused an estimated $35,000 in damage, and the blazes at Westminister caused about $30,000 in damage.

No one was injured as a result of the fires, although both residences were occupied at the time of the fires, according to Canton police and fire officials.

The houses are about two blocks apart. Fire units were called at 3:31 a.m. for the Tudor site and at 3:47 a.m. for Westminister.

Six cars, four at Tudor and two at Westminister, parked in the garages and driveways of the residences, were totaled, according to fire Chief Mel Paulun.

The fires were under control within 20 minutes of the call to the fire department.

BOTH FIRES were started the same way — with miscellaneous materials including rags later found in corners of both garages. The way the fires were started and other circumstances surrounding the incidents resemble a previous fire in Canton Township, officials said. Investigators suspect a man linked to that incident also started the garage fires, said Canton Lt. Alex Wilson. However, no arrest has been made.

The Canton resident who "recently moved" out of the community was suspected of starting a fire at his landlord's house a few months ago. The characteristics of that fire resembled these incidents, Wilson said.

"We find that most human beings are creatures of habit, and tend to do the same things over and over again," Wilson said.

Another indication that the man, said to be in his 20s, is involved in this case is that he has associated with family members who live at the Tudor and Westminister homes. Also, a Canton police officer saw the suspect with two other people in Canton the day of the fires, Wilson said.

"We'd like to talk to these two other individuals to obtain information as to

High-tech fair draws 150 exhibits

Almost 150 Michigan exhibitors will display the latest high-technology equipment and systems this weekend at the Michigan Technology Fair in Ann Arbor. The exhibit is geared for industrialists, students and teachers.

"The 1983 fair attracted more than 15,000 visitors. I expect the 1985 version to be bigger and better," said William J. Rauwerdink, fair chairman.

Sponsored by the Michigan Technology Council, the fair will be held in the University of Michigan's Track and Tennis Building, southwest of Hoover and State streets. Visitors arriving from the east on I-94 should take the S. State Street exit north.

AREA EXHIBITORS will include Source Data Systems Corp. of Southfield, Circuit Boards of America of Auburn Hills, Millipore/Continental of Bloomfield Hills, Rehabilitation Research Center of Rochester Hills and Perceptron Inc. of Farmington Hills.

Other exhibitors will include the major state universities, utility companies and high-tech companies from Ann Arbor and around the state.

A special exhibit will be a full-scale model of the a communications satellite built by Ford Aerospace and Communications Corp. for the International Telecommunications Satellite Organization.

Products will include computer-aided design, computer-aided manufacturing, robotics, machine vision, biotechnology and remote sensing.

Admission at the door is $3 general and $2 for students. Hours are 10-9 Saturday and 10-6 Sunday, April 20-21.

PURPOSES OF the Technology Fair, Rauwerdink said, are to promote awareness of Michigan technology, showcase research and development and demonstrate the relationship between technology and job formation.

"It will provide an opportunity for interaction among the community, companies, government and education institutions," he added. Direct selling is not the primary function.

The Michigan Technology Council has more than 400 members in industry, government and education.

Stretch before exercising

Most exercise injuries are to the muscles and joints.

They usually are caused by insufficient warm-up, exercising too hard or too long, or by trying to do too much too soon. If such injuries do occur, try switching to swimming, which is a non-weight-bearing activity.

If you have to skip exercise temporarily because of minor illness or injury, then wait until you have recovered before resuming workouts. Start at no more than two-thirds of your pre-injury exercise level and work yourself back into shape. If possible, continue exercising those parts of your body during recovery that are not injured.

The basic formula for treating an injury to the muscles or joints is rest, ice, compression and elevation — applied immediately after injury. In severe cases, and if pain and swelling persist, seek help from a physician.

EXERCISES, such as neck movements, are a good way to reduce tension. Move head forward, back and to each side, returning head to upright position after each movement. Avoid rotating your head in complete circles since this can damage the upper spine.

When exercising in cold weather, wear several layers of light clothing instead of two heavy layers. The extra layers help trap heat and are easy to remove if you become to warm.

In hot weather, light color garments, made of absorbent materials such as cotton, reflect the sun's rays and allow heat to escape.

Sagging abdominal muscles and lower back inflexibility often cause chronic lower back pain and stiffness. Lower back stretching exercises and abdominal strengthening exercises, such as bent-knee situps, should be performed on a regular basis.

WHEN DOING flexibility exercises — don't bounce. Stretch gently and slowly, for a count of 10, without feeling pain. Muscles that have been warmed up stetch easier and are less likely to be injured.

Many people tend to hold their breath while exercising, especially when lifting weights. This casuses blood pressure to rise, and makes exercise more difficult.

Avoid strenuous exercise for two hours after eating. Both digestion and exercise place heavy demands on the circulatory system, and the double-load can hurt your system.

Canton to kick off cleanup campaign

The Canton Beautification Committee will kick off a spring environmental improvement program with free seedling distribution Saturday, April 27, at the Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center.

Volunteers will be available from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. to distribute a variety of spruce, pine and dogwood seedlings to persons showing proof of residency. Mountain ash and red oak trees also will be given away. The seedlings were purchased with a $3,000 donation from the township.

The distribution program is part of a six-week cleanup campaign sanctioned by the township. It will culminate in Adopt-a-Tree Day June 8. According to plans set by Arlene Woods, beautification committee chairwoman, on that day individuals, families or groups may adopt a tree along Sheldon Road between Joy and Ford.

"Adopters" must agree to tend that tree during the growing season and will be provided with top soil, edging and a flat of marigolds to enhance it.

Committee member Pam Swiderek said the project will be submitted for consideration in Family Circle Magazine's "Make America Beautiful" contest.

During the intervening weeks of the campaign, special emphasis is being placed on various other beautification projects.

The week of May 4 has been designated as "Clean Up Week," May 11 as "Fix Up Week" and the three-week period beginning May 18 as "Plant Up Weeks."

DURING CLEAN Up Week, citizens and business owners will be asked to cooperate in cleaning their own residences and places of businesses as well as surrounding vacant property. Fix Up Week will focus on giving attention to fences, roofs and other areas which may have become eyesores.

During Plant Up Weeks, residents will be encouraged to "enhance the landscape with shrubs for year-round beauty, flowers for summer and fall beauty, and vegetables for good eating." In conjunction with the project, the Canton Historical Society will be selling flowers May 18 and 19 at its headquarters, on Canton Center Road just north of township hall.

A small group of volunteers has been working on the project for "nearly a year," according to Swiderek. While money is available for beautification work in the township, she said, "Until now no has come forward and volunteered to do the necessary work, to become the arms and legs needed. We need even more volunteers to make the project a success."

The group has the cooperation of the township's planning commission, as well as the parks and recreation department and various garden and service clubs. A $1,000 grant has been designated by the Sesquicentennial Committee to finance the Adopt-a-Tree Day.

Future projects planned include landscaping of the "Welcome to Canton" sign at Sheldon and Joy and the Michigan Avenue welcome signs, as well as plans for the Christmas holiday season.

Hot air balloon petition drive deflates

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

A balloon festival petition drive aimed at Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen was as short-lived as the decision to cancel this year's balloon event.

The petitions, which asked Breen to reconsider his position on the festival, were circulated shortly after promoters of the Mayflower Hotel Hot Air Balloon Festival announced they would no longer sponsor the event.

The decision to cancel was made following negotiations with Plymouth Township over use of a township park. Subsequently the promoters, Scott Lorenz and Gordon Boring, have announced the event will be held at the Centennial Education Park (CEP) in Canton Township.

"All the petitions were picked up when the balloon festival went to Canton," said Jeanine Street of the All By Hand shop in downtown Plymouth. Street reportedly was part of a group behind the unattributed petitions.

"It was done by a group of retailers from downtown Plymouth that got together one night and wrote it and got them copied," Street said.

Lorenz, general manager of the Mayflower Hotel, said he wasn't involved with the petition drive and didn't know who was.

"The point is almost moot right now anyways," Lorenz said Tuesday. "We are ironing out all the details with Canton and the schools and it looks good."

Although the petitions won't be presented to Breen, Street said they had collected "quite a few" signatures.

BREEN, WHO was aware of the petition drive, didn't know why he was singled out.

He believes those who wrote the petitions were uninformed and questions why no one will take responsibility for the drive.

The supervisor brought the balloon festival debate to light earlier this year when Lorenz and Boring appeared before the board of trustees to reserve the park.

Breen questioned the use of public funds for promoting a private event.

A three-member committee, not including Breen, was established to look into working out the problems.

After meeting several times with the promoters, the committee made several recommendations in regard to holding the event. Lorenz agreed with all the recommendations with the exception of one, which would require paying 10 percent of the earnings from concessions. The township would use the revenue to offset its costs.

The Township Board voted 6-1 to approve the committee report and anticipated scheduling the event. Treasurer Mary Brooks was the lone no vote.

"We certainly did not turn down the balloon festival," Breen said. "I think they should turn and look at Mr. Lorenz."

Lorenz didn't attend the board meeting when the committee report was made but announced his decision through the press.

BUT THE petition points the finger at Breen for canceling the event.

"Among other things, we would like to remind you what the title 'Supervisor of Plymouth Township' means.

"You were elected to your position by people who live and own businesses in the Plymouth community. 'Elected' implies that you serve the interests of those who elected you," the petition states.

"Let this letter be notice that driving the balloon festival away from the Plymouth community is not serving our interests.

"Any argument that tax dollars are being protected is a thin one. The value to our community of an event such as this far exceeds that of the furniture in Township Hall and the supervisor's office.

"We members of the Plymouth community, both township and city, have worked hard for many years to make Plymouth a community we could all be proud of. Events like the balloon festival are major symbols of this pride.

"Mr. Breen, it seems as if you have been unaware of the interests of your community in this matter. Please reconsider," it states.

the whereabouts of our suspect," Wilson said. "We don't know that they were involved in any way with it, but we're looking for material witnesses."

Fire Sgt. Don Adams said the fire and police departments are working jointly in investigating the case.

"We can't say that it was arson, because the evidence is going to the crime lab, but we are saying both are suspicious," Adams said. "All natural causes (for the fires) have been ruled out."

Weekend crime spree: General Cinema location and Fellows Creek Golf Course hit

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Fellows Creek Golf Course and the General Cinema construction site were hit by big-ticket thefts during the weekend.

More than $7,000 worth of tools and equipment were stolen from General Cinema, 43555 Ford Road, sometime between 6 p.m. April 11 and 8:15 a.m. April 12. The thieves broke a lock off an electrical storage room to gain access to the stolen property, according to a Canton police report.

The items included two communicators for ticket window use, $1,200; a tool box, $200; hacksaw, $60; power bender, $3,900; cable saw, $425; punch set, $585; hole saw, $131; power hammer drill, $525; tool pouch, $500; and drill bits, $153.

Police have no suspects.

IN ANOTHER INCIDENT, which occurred sometime between 11:30 p.m. April 13 and 6:30 a.m. April 14, two Westland youths admitted to cutting the cyclone fence around a maintenance barn at Fellows Creeks Golf Course on Lotz Road. They said they hot-wired five golf carts and planned to ride them through a park.

One cart was later found behind a building and two were driven into the golf course area. They were found by police in a creek behind the second hole. Two other golf carts were found in a nearby field.

Golf course employees followed tire tracks to the suspects, and detained them until Canton police arrivedd.

A third Westland youngster, who was with the suspects at the time of the arrest, convinced police that he was not involved in the incident. He was released without being charged.

The other two youngsters were issued appearance tickets at 35th District Court on charges of possession of stolen property and trespassing.

The two golf carts that were dumped in the creek are valued at $1,500. Police suspect that 12 6-volt batteries, valued at $500, were also damaged.

The youngsters, all of whom were under 18, were released to their parents.

These incidents contributed to a hectic weekend for Canton police officers responding to theft and destruction calls, said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson.

"I certainly hope last weekend is no indication of what this summer will be like," Wilson said.

Canton Country Festival

Dad-of-the-Year, parade entrants, arts and crafts, concessionaires in demand

By Carolyn DeMarco
staff writer

My dad's bigger than your dad — or smarter — or better, for whatever reason. If that's your claim and Dad happens to be a Canton resident, he's eligible for the Canton Dad of the Year Contest.

The contest is being sponsored in conjunction with the Canton Country Festival, June 14-16, according to committee member John Preniczky.

Preniczky stated that children of all ages are invited to submit brief essays to "convince the judges that your dad is the best." Hand written or typed entries of approximately 50 words should be returned to the Township administration office or library no later than June 1 for consideration. Young children especially are encouraged to nominate their fathers, Preniczky added.

The father selected as Dad of the Year by a panel of judges will be honored on Father's Day, which falls on June 16, the final day of the festival. Special recognition during the parade and festival will be given to the selected dad and his family, along with gifts including a free dinner.

APPLICATIONS FROM artisans wanting to display arts and crafts items at the festival are being accepted until May 1. Examples and photographs will be considered by a juried panel. Rebecca Havenstein-Coughlin at the Canton library has applications.

The Festival Board is still seeking food concessionaires. Among the concessions already booked are the Chamber of Commerce chicken barbecue on Sunday night, the Chamber of Commerce beer concession, Cherry Hill Methodist Church baked goods booth and Republican Club hot dogs and beverages booth. For more information, contact Larry Bowerman, 453-6610 or 459-0077.

"There's still plenty of room for more entries in the festival parade," according to Chairman Denise Knauser. Holding with the theme "Magical Eras — Days Gone By," the Canton DPW has entered a float. Also expected are marching bands, clowns, the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps and area politicians.

Entertainment will include a 9 p.m. Friday performance by the Detroit Bluegrass Band, accompanied by the Crosstown Cloggers.

Scheduled for Saturday are Calico, an award-winning banjo group 7-9 p.m. and Pat's People, an Irish musical trio with traditional Hibernian instruments.

The 1984 tug-of-war champion Chamber Chicks, an all-female entry from the Chamber of Commerce will return to defend their title against all challengers. Louise Spigarelli, tug-of-war chairman, is accepting applications from service clubs, fraternal organizations and other groups who want to participate. She can be reached at 397-1000, Ext. 278.

Among the other activities planned are a rodeo, presented for the third consecutive year by the Great Lakes Rodeo Series; a fireworks display; Cow Chip Fling; helicopter rides, casino and carnival. Children's events planned include face-painting, a watermelon-eating and a corn-eating contest, pet show, and doll beauty pageant. All activities will be held at the Canton Recreational Complex behind Township Hall at the corner of Canton Center and Proctor roads.

Big ideas can start small

Who hasn't gotten a brainstorm, at one time or another, how things could be improved around the offices, highways and stores in which he spends his time?

How many, however, possess the successful man's willingness to follow up on his "big idea?"

What would you have done, for instance, in James Hargreaves' place? Imagine yourself back in 1769. Though a few factores had sprung up, the machine age was far in the dim future; the housewife's spinning wheel still produced most of England's fabrics. In one of the rare moments when Mrs. Hargreaves' spinning wheel was idle, her two small sons upset it during their rough house play. The new angle of the wheel on the floor gave Hargreaves his big idea: a method of spinning eight threads at a time instead of one. He followed it up, and produced the spinning jenny.

● ART IN PARK
Art in the Park, held the past three years in conjunction with the Mayflower Hot Air Balloon Festival, is a juried show which will be held in Kellogg Park July 6, 7. For further information, or for an entry application, contact Show Director Diane Quinn at 453-0001 or the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce at 453-1540.

● FOURTH OF JULY
Plans are being made for the 1985 Fourth of July celebration in Plymouth featuring a parade and fireworks sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees. Last year, the parade attracted some 4,500 spectators and the fireworks some 25,500 persons, according to Fred Eagle, parade co-chairman. The parade will begin at 10 a.m. Thursday, July 4. Parade entry forms soon will be available at Plymouth City Hall or Plymouth Township Hall or by calling Eagle at 464-6797. The parade also needs donations from businesses to cover the expenses of the parade. Send donations to: Plymouth Jaycees, c/o 1985 Fourth of July Parade, 14728 Ronnie Lane, Livonia MI 48154.

● SCHOOLCRAFT SCHOLARS
Applications are being accepted for the 1985-86 Schoolcraft College Presidential Scholarships. Recipients receive $500 their first year at Schoolcraft, and the awards are renewed for the second year if the student completes 26 credit hours with a minimum of a 2.5 grade point average. For applications or information, call the Schoolcraft College Financial Aid Office at 591-6400, Ext. 350.

● CPR TRAINING
The Community Education Department of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will be conducting CPR Instructor Training classes for persons who have completed the full course in CPR and currently have a valid CPR card. The Community Education Department has provided free CPR classes for a number of years. To continue this, more CPR instructors are needed. For that reason, the department is seeking currently trained CPR personnel to ~~devote 12 more hours to receive their instructor's~~ card. Anyone interested in becoming a CPR instructor may call the department at 451-6660.

● VETERANS PROGRAM EXTENDED
Area Vietnam era and disabled veterans should be aware of recent changes affecting the Veterans Readjustment Appointments (VRA) program. VRA is a federal hiring program providing special, non-competitive hiring of these veterans. Originally scheduled to expire Sept. 30, 1984, the program has been extended through Sept. 30, 1986, through passage of the Veterans Benefits Improvement Act (PL 98-543). It is not expected that the VRA program will be extended beyond that date.
In addition to extending the program, PL 98-543 raised the entry grade level maximum from GS/WG-7 to GS/WG-9 and also provided limited appeal rights during the first year of appointment. A Vietnam era or disabled veteran who has completed no more than 14 years of education may qualify for a VRA. (This restriction may be waived for disabled veterans). For further information, interested veterans may call the local American Legion hotline at 453-9494 and leave a message regarding information desired.

● COMPUTERS IN LIBRARY
Four Apple IIe computers are available for public use in the Dunning-Hough Library, 223 S. Main, Plymouth. Children younger than age 14 will be required to attend a training workshop or pass a users test. Children younger than age 8 must be accompanied by a parent while using the computer. All patrons must have a library card and must sign a responsibility card also signed by a parent or guardian. Once the responsibility card is on file at the library, patrons may reserve computer time and software. Rules and instructions for using the computers, the responsibility card, and a list of software are available at the library. For more information, call 453-0750.

● MINOR HOME REPAIRS
The Conference of Western Wayne Minor Home Repair Program has been funded through Senior Alliance Inc., for fiscal year 1985. The program assists persons 60 and older and owning their home with minor home repair tasks. For information, call 525-8690.

● DIABETIC SUPPORT
A Diabetic Support Group will begin meeting 7-8 p.m. the third Monday of each month at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center at Warren and Canton Center Roads in Canton.

● ON-THE-JOB TRAINING
The employment program of the Wayne County Office on Aging is accepting applications for on-the-job training programs. The programs include on-the-job training with pay for a variety of positions in such fields as health care, sales, secretarial, clerical and maintenance. Assistance is provided for job search skills, resume writing, interview techniques, self-confidence building and goal setting. Eligibility criteria includes age 55 or older, low income, resident of Wayne County (excluding downriver and Detroit). For information, contact Herbert Alexander or Larry Gentile at 467-3454.

● BLOOD PRESSURE CHECKS
Free blood-pressure checks are offered by members of the Volunteer Guild of Oakwood Hospital Canton Center 6-8 p.m. each Tuesday in the main lobby of the hospital at Warren and Canton Center Roads in Canton.

Orchestra racks up honors at district festival

For three weeks in a row orchestras from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have earned first-division ratings at district and state music festivals.

The latest commended group is the Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Chamber Orchestra which earned a Division I rating at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA) Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Then chamber orchestra includes six violins, two violas, one cello, and one bass.

The group is part of the larger CEP Symphony Orchestra and rehearses on a regular after-school basis. The orchestra is directed by H. Michael Endres.

They performed "Allegro in C" from "String Quartet No. 4" by Mozart. "This was a very good musical performance with evidence of good individual playing," said Russell Reed, adjudicator.

ON PREVIOUS Saturdays both the Middle School Orchestra and the CEP Symphony Orchestra earned first-division ratings at district MSBOA festivals.

As a result, two orchestra students (senior violinist Sally Simmons and sophomore violinist Daniel Stacey) have been invited to participate in the State of Michigan Honors Band and Orchestra on May 11 at Western Michigan University as part of the Youth Arts Festival there.

"This is a particular honor for these two students," said Endres, "because only about 200 students throughout the state of Michigan qualify to be part of this honors group."

Several other students also earned first- or second-division ratings at the state solo and ensemble festival. They include: Mark Rakozy, junior, viola; Lily Pao, junior, piano, Ping Chou, senior, piano; Sally Simmons and Teresa Min, violin duet; Mark Rakozy and Daniel Stacey, violin-viola duet.

IN THE EARLIER performances, the CEP Symphony Orchestra earned an overall first-division rating at District 12 Orchestra Festival held recently in Saline.

The orchestra performed "Wedding Day at Troudhaugen" by Edvard Grieg, the first movement from "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" by Mozart, and the "Finale" from "Symphony No. 2" by Sibelius.

The orchestra performed original editions of the works instead of using standard school arrangements. The musicians also performed in the highest classification at the festival — AA, a classification based on enrollment, not the size of the orchestra.

The CEP Orchestra was one of the smallest high school orchestras to perform at the festival this school year due to the relatively small size of the string section. "We need to do something to increase string enrollment," said Endres, "or we may not be able to enter festivals in future years."

The Middle School Orchestra earlier had competed in Dearborn and received a Division I rating from the three concert judges and from the sight-seeing judge for an overall perfect score of straight Ones.

"I am extremely proud of these students," said Endres, "and their performance, and I feel this demonstrates the skill with which they are capable of performing."

City wants street dances cleaner

Plymouth City Commissioners approved a special event permit for summer street dances after voicing some concerns.

The special event permit request, along with several other items, was on the agenda for Monday night's commission meeting.

The dances, to be held every Friday night in June, July and August, are sponsored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce as a community promotion activity. The dances will be held on Penniman Avenue between Union and Harvey.

"There was some concern about the behavior of some of the participants last year," Mayor David Pugh said.

Most of the rowdy behavior, according to Pugh, centered around drinking — both by participants and those in Kellogg Park.

Commissioner Bud Martin asked if the city's new "park ordinance" will be enforced. The recently enacted ordinance prohibits possession of alcoholic beverages.

"The ordinance will be enforced," said Ron Lowe, city attorney. "After talking with Police Chief Myers there's no doubt in my mind that it will be enforced. He understands that it is a high priority."

Martin also expressed concern about the condition of the area following the dances, saying it was a "garbage pit."

"I think it would help if the Chamber takes some part of the responsibility for cleanup," Martin said.

Chamber director Linda Anderson agreed to provide people for cleanup.

IN OTHER action, the Commission approved the 1985 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) budget.

The $73,000 budget outlines the allocation of money which the city anticipates receiving through the federal program.

Among the items in the budget are the purchase of a hazardous materials unit for the fire department, a printing press for the Plymouth Cultural Center, a senior citizen transportation program and donations to other programs.

City Manager Henry Graper, responding to resident questions, said he had contacted several communities in regard to contributing toward the fire department purchase.

Resident Robert Jones asked if other communities would contribute since the unit would be available to them under the mutual aid program.

Graper said none of the communities he contacted were interested in sharing the cost.

Resident Jack Wilcox asked if Plymouth Township will split the cost of the printing press, as it is used for a senior citizen publication serving city and township residents.

Graper agreed to contact the township.

The commission also approved a request from the Plymouth Church of God to hold a walkathon on April 27. Money raised from the event will go toward the church's missionary program.

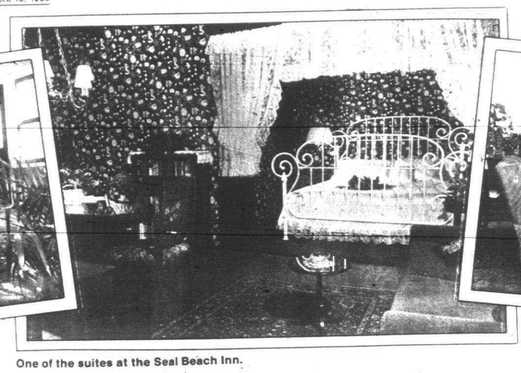
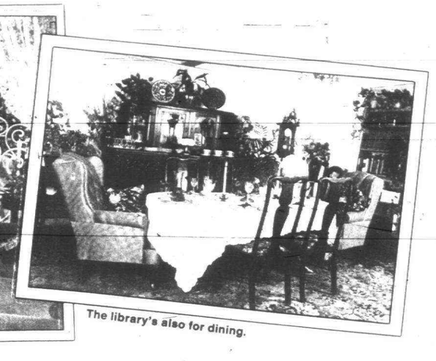
A room in the inn.



One of the suites at the Seal Beach Inn.



The library's also for dining.

Try old country inn for a pleasing bouquet

By Joy Schaleben Lewis
special writer

'Our goal is to give our inn an aura where there is aesthetic, material and spiritual enjoyment. . .'
—Majorie Bettenhausen
Seal Beach Inn proprietress

SEAL BEACH, California — With names like Fuchsia, Gardenia, Iris, Bougainvillea and Hibiscus, you just feel that each of the 23 lodgings at the Seal Beach Inn has got to have a character of its own. And they do. All rooms are as distinct as the flowers whose names they bear.

Built in 1924, the inn is the oldest country inn in California. Its general decor is old-world and ornate — ruffled eyelet curtains, lace tablecloths, rocking chairs, footstools, satin-draped end tables and couches smothered in pillows.

Add to this beds with wrought-iron headboards, burgundy, peach or rust comforters with dust ruffles, flowered wallpaper, candelabra wall lights and all sorts of pictures and art nouveau objects.

Furnishings are mainly French, English and American antiques. But the overall atmosphere of this quiet inn in Seal Beach, Calif., just 25 miles south of Los Angeles and one block from the ocean, is French Mediterranean.

THE RECEPTION area entrance is covered with a blue canopy with "concierge" inscribed on it. Nearby is a skinny kiosk that would be at home anywhere in southern France. Antique street lights are in the front courtyard which is bordered by an old Parisian iron fence whose design is repeated in the inn's wrought-iron balcony.

Greenery is everywhere. There are over 40 varieties of flowering plants, rare vines, evergreen pear trees and a great willowy tree, a maytensbora, that looks like a willow but stays green all year.

"Our goal is to give our inn an aura where there is aesthetic, material and spiritual enjoyment, so that people will sense that they are cared about," said Majorie Bettenhausen, proprietress of the inn.

Marjorie and her physician husband Jack bought the inn in 1977. The Bettenhausens — their name means innkeeper — spent five years restoring it. They traveled across the country and throughout France for antiques to create an atmosphere of an era when people relaxed in parlors, sipped tea and curled up in cushiony couches to chat by the fire or leisurely read a book.

SO, AFTER basking on the white sand of Seal Beach or taking a jaunt to Los Angeles and other nearby tourist attractions, guests can return to a homey, tranquil setting, away from the hustle of big-city business, foot-weary sightseeing or a day on the beach.

The inn's diversified accommodations range from four petite bedrooms to those of medium size, five bridal suites (or royal villas) and even one penthouse suite. Most have sitting rooms and kitchenettes. All have shelves of books, bowls of candy and green plants.

One room — Azalea — especially impresses ladies. It has John Barrymore's lace-canopied, four-poster bed, bought by the Bettenhausens at an estate sale in 1978. And, for the men, if they happen to stay in the room called Villa, they will sleep in the same bed Bo Derek slept in when she was a guest.

NEARBY, OR within easy access, are top tourist attractions such as Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Universal Studios, Farmers' Market, Six Flags Magic Mountain and Marineland. And just 10 minutes north, in Long Beach, there's the R.M.S. Queen Mary and Howard Hughes' giant wooden seaplane, the "Spruce Goose."

For one or two persons per day, cottages at the Seal Beach Inn are $72; rooms overlooking the garden courtyard, $85; carriage parlours, $95; and royal villas, $120. Additional guests pay $7 per day. There is no air-conditioning. The proprietors feel that ocean breezes take the place of air-conditioning, but fans are available.

Included is a continental buffet breakfast with freshly squeezed orange juice, fresh fruit, cheese, Viennese or French roast coffee and just-out-of-the-oven bakery. You eat in a bright, cozy tearoom or on a flower-laden patio next to the pool.

One of their specialties is beer bread by a doting cook, Meta Sloan, from the north of Germany. And then there are the apple and blueberry strudels, poppyseed and pineapple cakes, pumpkin bread, croissants, muffins, tarts and on and on. Each day something else tantalizes the senses.

In the late afternoon, there is complimentary sherry in the inn's library. The library resembles a large, old-fashioned parlor with its floor-to-ceiling bookcases, flowered sofas, floor lamps, buffet with antique dishware and copper kettles, and dining table covered with a crocheted spread. A bowl of fruit sits on the table for all to partake of. And no need to ask for decks of cards, puzzles, Scrabble or other games. They're there.

THE LIBRARY'S cream-painted ceiling has ornate, square panels made of tin which came from a Victorian mansion. The doors that open into the courtyard are from an English inn. In the courtyard is a red English phone booth.

The Seal Beach Inn's address is 212 Fifth Street, at the Central Avenue intersection. To get there from Los Angeles, take freeway 605 to freeway 405 south. Turn off at the Seal Beach Boulevard exit and turn left onto Seal Beach Boulevard and right onto Pacific Coast Highway. Then turn left on Fifth Street. For reservations, call (213) 493-2416. The Bettenhausens guarantee space but not a particular room.

At night, the inn is easy to spot. Twinkle lights adorn the trees snuggling against the two-story inn. The inn is in a residential section, but waterfront shopping and many restaurants are only a 10-minute walk away.

GENERALLY, THE wide and clean nearby beach is relatively unpeopled. At the south end is the Seal Beach Pier where the Bettenhausens often send their fishing enthusiasts. Surfers go to the north end, not far from an out-cropping of large, smooth rocks that form a natural "pier" with a good view of Long Beach harbor.

Seal Beach Village has had several names. The Spanish called it Rancho Los Alamitos; the early German settlers said they lived in Anaheim Landing; and in the 1920s, resort developers called it Bay City. Finally, to avoid anymore post office confusion, it was named Seal Beach in honor of the seals which come there.

Marjorie Bettenhausen says that many guests comment on how peaceful Seal Beach Village is and on the "love and warmth" they feel at the inn. "As the daughter of a missionary to China, I grew up serving people," she said. "I believe in showing love in a practical way. That means guests here are to feel special."

And they do.

U.S. public judges by double standard

Marilyn Fitchett

WHAT'S WRONG with the press?

Only federal government executives, television and Congress receive lower confidence ratings from the American public, according to the National Opinion Research Center.

The result of the poll is a sad commentary in itself. And an ironic one.

WITH THE exception of federal government executives over whom the public has little control, the public is in a position to greatly influence those institutions it claims to mistrust.

The fact is the public doesn't influence them. And the actions of the public might even hint that the public speaks from both sides of its statistical mouth.

Consider how many hours, day after day, the American public sits in a trance-like state in front of a television set. But television received a confidence rating of only 12.7 percent.

If the public so lacks confidence in television, why is it such a powerful force in our lives? Why do advertisers scurry to pay thousands of dollars for a 30-second spot during Dallas? Why is the video recorder the hottest sales item since the CB radio?

Congress received a 10.2 percent confidence rating. Significantly, the poll was taken during a period when no major scandal like Abscam or Watergate was in the news.

If the public is so mistrusting of its congressmen, why does it keep returning them to Washington? With a term of only two years in office for a representative, wouldn't you expect to see a tremendous turnover rate — thanks to the public's mistrust?

GETTING BACK to the press, the research center reported the public gave it an anemic rating of 13.7 percent. Why this lack of confidence?

A survey commissioned by the American Society of Newspaper Editors has some answers about what readers want — but again, the survey delivers a mixed message.

For example, the readers were critical of editors who are preoccupied with national and international news. Yet readers said they wanted more explanation, more information, more background and more maps concerning such news — but reported briefly.

Readers, the survey found, want more local news. But they always seem to have a perception that the other side of town gets more coverage than their side, that the other high school team in town gets more ink than their team.

Readers want crime stories — so long as the crimes reported did not happen in their neighborhoods. Graphic detail is OK in a story about a plane crash, but not in a murder story.

Readers complain that community calendars seem to favor some organizations and disregard others.

THERE'S NO doubt the press can do a better job than it does. But can it ever satisfy a public that applies double standards? How can a newspaper report crimes that occur in no one's neighborhood?

Maybe we want to believe that our neighborhood is crime-free, our congressman beyond reproach and our television selections of impeccable taste. Yet we all gain some ghoulish satisfaction reading about a judge on the take, a politician arrested on morals charges or a minister dipping into the church till.

So the next time I read a survey about the lack of public confidence in the press, I'll know you weren't talking about us.

We get the understudies

Tim Richard

IF THE Metropolitan Opera can do it, why can't Bill Lucas?

All year long, opera fans were subjected to lots of tantalizing publicity about how the Spanish tenor, Placido Domingo, made the great leap into the realm of Wagnerian opera with the title role in Wagner's "Lohengrin."

Well, the Met is coming to Detroit next month. But will Domingo be there opening night to sing "Lohengrin"? Nope.

Will James Levine, music director, conduct "Lohengrin" and Verdi's "Simone Boccanegra" as he did in New York and on the radio broadcasts? Nope again.

It seems to go like that every year. Critics on the Detroit papers have taken the Met to task for sending us the understudies.

The dailies tell us this year or next might be the last Detroit visit of the Met. Considering the esteem in which the New Yorkers hold us, we might as well patronize Michigan Opera Theatre or those splendid student productions (in English) in Ann Arbor.

WHAT DOES this have to do with the Wayne County executive?

In his first months in office in 1983, Lucas would attend meetings of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. That's where elected officials from seven counties put their heads together on long-range planning strategy and learn to respect one another.

Later, Lucas would send one of his chief assistants like David Plawecki and Frank Wilkerson. They were men with clout in their own right, though it would have been preferable to have Lucas himself.

Looking over the attendance roster at the last four SEMCOG meetings, we see that Lucas was represented twice by David C. Hart and twice by Vivian Allison. Who are they? It took Lucas' extensive press office a few minutes to look up their job titles.

Hart is a research assistant who reports to Jim Bowman, director of research. Allison is an executive assistant to Wilkerson and works in County Commission relations.

Shades of the Met.

OAKLAND COUNTY also has an executive, Dan Murphy by name. Murphy has been a faithful SEMCOG delegate. A Republican, he served two years as SEMCOG chairman, indicating the esteem in which the Democratic-leaning organization holds him.

At the last general assembly meeting when Lucas didn't show up, the featured speaker was supposed to be Gov. James J. Blanchard. For whatever reason, Blanchard couldn't make it.

So who was his pinch hitter? Murphy. And Murphy was forthright: He said SEMTA had to be reorganized with a smaller board, he backed Cobo Hall expansion, and he told them the downtown People Mover would be completed, period.

Lucas, as I have pointed out with weary repetition for several months, studiously avoids meetings where someone knowledgeable might challenge him. Rotary and Kiwanis clubs are easier to woo.

MEANWHILE, Lucas' office announced that his weekly television show — produced by his office, not by a political campaign committee — has added Grand Rapids, East Lansing, Kalamazoo and Southfield cable stations to its list of outlets.

Their bullfeathers alibi is that the exec wants to build respect for Wayne County. In truth, he's campaigning for higher office with Wayne County resources. Clearly, he is neglecting his contacts with, and knowledge of the problems of, the elected officials of the 100 members of SEMCOG.

If the Metropolitan Opera can get away with it, why can't Bill Lucas?

Pastimes of yesteryear lost to today's youngsters

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

Now that the snow has gone and the bright morning sun is helping to boost the grass in the lawn it is a sure sign that Spring is here. And when that season comes The Stroller can't help but sympathize with the young fellows of today.

They are missing what used to be the grandest times of the year when he was still a lad in knee pants.

Back in those days we enjoyed such things as playing marbles just as soon as the ground dried. But today the game of marbles is in the limbo of forgotten things. It is a great contrast to the days when a good marble shooter was hailed as one of the leaders in the community.

Sure it was a gamble and the stake was always the marbles in the ring and a good marble shooter had his own favorite marble to bring home the agates.

Then, as the marble season passed, along came the time for the big circus to reach our little town. This was a big time as we used to get up at daybreak and watch the circus unload, and one of our rewards was to get a ride on the elephant to the circus ground. What a thrill that was. But, like marbles, that is a forgotten thing now as the circus is held indoors in the city.

ONE OF our ambitions was to help with the work of raising the big tent and being rewarded with a free ticket to see the big show.

The circus usually remained in our little town about a week, and there was just as much fun helping to take down the tent as there was putting it up. And always one of the rewards was getting a ride on the elephant. Those rewards are denied the youth of today — and it is too bad because these circus days left many fond memories.

Another thing that is missing today is the old fashioned merry-go-round that usually stayed most of the summer and became the meeting place for the youth most every night of the week.

This merry-go-round was something to see. It had the finest looking wooden horses to ride, some of her animals like camels and at times even cattle.

But the big thrill came in attempting to pull the brass ring from the arm on a post at one of the curves. If you were successful you earned a free ride on the next round of the equipment.

MANY TIMES the brass ring was in the center of the long string of rings in this wooden arm. Other times it was the last. But it always was a thrill just trying to get it. It was a nightly contest and it was approved by the parents as they knew where their young folks were spending their time.

Another thing missing today is the nickolet. If that name doesn't seem familiar it was the name given to the first moving picture houses.

When The Stroller was a young fellow, moving pictures were just coming to town. First they came in tents but later in buildings especially designed for them.

And the price of admission was only a nickel. If we were lucky enough to be asked to do a little job around the place we were allowed to go inside and see the pictures.

And that was really a treat.

discover Michigan

As the state of Michigan grew from a territory to a modern state, so did its judicial system. The bulk of all criminal cases and civil suits are handled by circuit courts.

The history of circuit courts in Michigan dates back to 1824 when only three judges of the territorial Supreme Court held annual terms in the counties of Wayne, Monroe, Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair.

The county courts in all the counties of the territory east of Lake Michigan except Wayne were abolished in 1833 and replaced by the circuit court.

The state is now divided into 48 judicial circuits, each containing from one to four counties. Wayne County alone has 35 circuit judges and Oakland County 14.

One kind of TV gets better

Steve Barnaby

LIVING IN this so-called sophisticated society, we sometimes miss the excitement. Even when it's going on right in front of our faces.

Take television, for instance. Whoa! Slow down. You heard it right the first time — television. And let me tell you, folks, A real knock-down, drag-out fight is going on in that industry — right now.

Sure, I know, I know. Television just isn't cool. Nobody watches it anyway.

Of course, that's just hogwash. Television is an important part of your life.

MOST PEOPLE watch it more than they ever would admit. And most enjoy it — another small detail they often forget to mention.

Just think, if you watch television a half-hour a day, you've spent approximately 182 hours in a year viewing. That's about four work weeks worth — more than many spend on vacation. And most of us watch more than one-half hour a day.

In truth, so many folks have watched so often that the competition is getting tougher. This battle for your time has become a major preoccupation. And while you may be reluctant to admit it, television is better than ever before. It has more to offer to more varied interests than ever.

But it is a battle — especially for the folks at the public television station.

WHEN PUBLIC broadcasting came on the scene in metropolitan Detroit, the rules were simple. Competition was clear cut — three network stations, an upstart independent over at Channel 50. Then came a few other hybrids — Channels 20 and 62 and that strange aberration across the river — the CBC.

No problem. Public television had a different mission, said backers. It would offer the programs that would be untarnished by the ratings battle and untainted by advertising.

We all would be able to sit back and enjoy the classical concerts, operas, ballets. You name it, the classics would be safely ensconced on the public airways.

All sounded good at the time, except for one thing: Television is a lousy medium for the classics. Besides, what viewers said they wanted to watch and what they would watch were found to be two different things.

WELL, THE BROADCASTING waters have been muddied even more with the advent of cable television.

Some thought cable would spell the end of struggling public television. But luckily for the likes of Channel 56, cable is having its own problems.

And for those of us who believe that public television is an important element in the broadcasting industry, this is a week of celebration. Yet another auction week will be in full swing until Saturday. Viewers are responding, casting a vote for an ideal in broadcasting. Goal is $822,700.

Sure, the worn transmission facilities are something less than desired. The hoped-for alleviation of the annoying reception problems proved less than successful. That new antenna didn't make Channel 56 ghosts and goblins leave the screen.

But public television is still hanging in there. The local outlet even has spawned a national media celebrity of its own, Dennis Wholey.

And the programming is getting better. Public television gurus have learned that mass appeal isn't all bad, and the formats have been loosened up accordingly.

After all, public television is just for that — the public.

Can't wait until the next round.

Today's mail is mostly junk, pleas

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

FEW THINGS are more irksome these windy days than to go to the mailbox and find it jammed. No, it is not because a check you expected wasn't there, or that the letter you expected from a friend hasn't arrived.

It is because the box is filled with what has become known as "junk mail."

The more the wind blows, the more irked you become. This junk mail slips away, cluttering up the neighbor's yard and the street.

Aside from this junk mail, there usually are a few pleas from charitable organizations. At this season of the year, it seems there are more pleas from institutions you never heard of — and every one of them could have you in tears.

THE QUESTION arises, "How did they get my name?" These pleas come from all sections of the land, and the wonder is how they manage to hear about you.

Sure enough, it wasn't a friend who gave them your name. But the plea seems so personal that there is good cause to wonder.

Just the other morning, there were a half-dozen of these pleas, and each one seemed worthy. But the question keeps nagging you, "How did they hear about me?" And some even send thanks for a gift you never sent.

These pleas are puzzling enough, but the real upsetter is the amount of advertising pages and folders that pour in. Each day The Stroller becomes more irked when he notices that none of them have postage stamps or a note telling you who paid the bill for sending them.

Most folders come from business places that could well afford postage stamps. So, who pays for them — and how much?

IT MAKES The Stroller break into a smile, for he can't help recalling the days of his youth when he had designs of being a mail carrier back home in Pennsylvania.

It looked like an easy job then. You had a small bag over your shoulder, much like the shoulder purses women carry today. You walked up to the house and placed the mail in a box at the door. Prior to that, the resident had to go to the post office and ask for his mail.

Then came the use of a small cart, about half the size of a wheelbarrow. But now those carts are few and far between. Today the mail carrier is provided a wagon. And most of the time it is loaded — and most of that is junk, throwaway mail.

THAT TRAIN of thought makes The Stroller irritated again as his box is jammed with junk mail.

It's like going to the so-called supermarket, lining up in the express lane and finding most of the shoppers ahead of him have checks which need to be approved — or the prices aren't marked. He spends more time waiting in the express lane than he would in any other.

So, here's hoping that one of these days, junk mail will be outlawed, and the supermarket will have special lines where they will relegate customers who need to write checks.

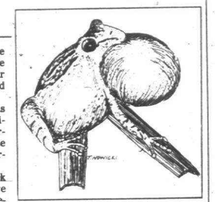
Sure sign of spring is tiny frog's love song

By Timothy Nowicki
special writer



AS MY students and I walked the trails of Maybury State Park a couple weeks ago, the cool, brisk wind in our faces made us wonder if spring had really arrived.

In the woods, the wind was not as chilling, but we saw lingering evidence of an early morning snow flurry. A few scattered patches of white contrasted with last year's brown carpet of leaves.

Even amidst a flurry of snow, brisk winds and cool temperatures, we found a sure sign of spring. From beneath its blanket of fall leaves, we uncovered the green leaves, stem and buds of an early spring wildflower — spring beauty. The preceding warm days of spring stimulated the growth of this perennial spring flower.

THOUGH WE had to search for this sign of spring, it did provide encouragement as we braced ourselves against the wind.

Our hike continued along the trail, and as we walked, the distant sound of a familar spring arrival grew louder. From a distance, the sound was diffused, but as we came closer we began to distinguish the individual songs.

The source of the sound was invisible, but I knew the rapid staccato we were hearing was the call of the northern chorus frog. It has always amazed me how an adult frog only 1½ inches long can produce such a loud call.

WHEN SEVERAL male frogs begin courting in spring ponds, the din can be deafening. Each male produces a call that sounds like someone running a finger lenthwise over the teeth of a stiff comb.

Calls are used to attract females to the pond so mating can begin. Young must develop in the ponds before they dry up, so courting is very intense this time of year.

Chorus frogs are only one species of amphibian that will begin calling and courting to announce the arrival of spring. Spring peepers and American toads will soon follow.

THE PLYMOUTH Historical Society has entered the space age. It happened Thursday evening at the society's regular monthly meeting, when Jim Vermeulen, president of the Plymouth Evening Kiwanis Club, presented an electronic typewriter to the Historical Museum.

Margaret Kidston, society president, accepted the gift on behalf of the society and jubilant volunteers at the museum. They had been using old manuals donated to the museum.

The new machine will speed up many chores around the place. It actually has several kinds of type face.

The Kiwanians would appreciate any of those yellow community credit slips given by Bill Knapp's restaurants. Anyone not saving them for themselves or another organization can give them to a club member or drop them off at the museum. It would be appreciated.

LOCAL ARTIST, Marilyn Walsh, will have her painting, "Nestled in White," Austria, in the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association's Michigan Fine Arts Competition. Juror for the competition was Richard Anuszkiewicz. The show runs April 20 through May 30.

Marilyn had two paintings accepted for the annual Spring Open Exhibition sponsored by the Lansing Art Guild. The exhibit at the Partner's Gallery in Okemos will continue until the end of April. Owen D. Brainard, professor in the Michigan State University Art Department, judged the show. Her paintings are titled "Beautiful Autumn" and "Reflections of the Past."

EASTER GUESTS of Don and Elaine Bain were charmed with the rural atmosphere of their hosts' Plymouth Township home. Where else could one watch a pair of mallard ducks swimming around at such close range?

As the rains poured tons of water on the rolling countryside, a swale in the Bains' yard became a puddle and then a small pond. They were unbelieving when the ducks landed and provided natural entertainment for the rain-weary household.

BILL BAXTER is the new president of the Plymouth Lions Club. Other club officers named in a recent election are: James McCarthy, first vice president; Phil Himebaugh, second vice president; James White, third vice president; Mark Stamper, secretary; Ken Siegner, treasurer; John Cumming, Lion Tamer; and John Roose, Tale Twister.

Directors serving two-year terms are Mike Carpenter, Mike Gubert, Jack Stoops and Roger Vaughn; for one-year terms, John Campbell, Robert Erdelyi, James Horen and Leon Piekarski.

The club will have its annual spring white cane tag sale Friday and Saturday. They'll have a kick-off breakfast at 8 a.m. Friday at the Mayflower before they hit the streets. Lou Morton is chairing the fund-raiser.

THE AMERICAN Cancer Society of Wayne County will have its annual seminar, Mastectomy Update '85, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, April 25 at Roffia's of Livonia, 27777 Schoolcraft Road.

The seminar will include a variety of activities for mastectomies such as prosthetic vendor displays and a discussion panel. The panel will answer questions from the audience. A buffet luncheon will be followed by a fashion show in the afternoon. Models will be Reach to Recovery volunteers, women who have had breast surgery and been trained by the American Cancer Society to visit women who have just had breast surgery, upon order of attending physician.

If you have had breast surgery and think you are alone, make a reservation and join the many women for a day of information, interests and fellowship. For more information or for reservations, call 425-6830.

DIANE FAVOT of Plymouth is the new secretary in student activities at Schoolcraft College. Diane is a part-time student in the general business program at the college.

First United Methodist Church of Plymouthwill welcome back two of its own at 4 p.m. Sunday, April 21 when violist Margaret LangVan-Lunen and soprano Holly Wagner perform in a one-hour concert. There will be a reception after the concert, which is free and open to the public.

Violist and soprano in Sunday concert

Two women artists are coming "home" to perform in a Sunday afternoon concert.

Violist Margaret Lang VanLunen and soprano Holly Wagner will be featured solists in an hour-long concert in First United Methodist Church of Plymouth, 4 p.m. Sunday, April 21. The performance is free and open to the public.

Margaret Lang Van Lunen, as a child, played with the Plymouth Junior Symphony Orchestra. She earned bachelor and master degrees in viola performance from the University of Michigan. As part of her training, she studied with distinguished teachers Francis Bundra, Eugene Bossart and Donald McInnes from U-M and Nathan Gordon from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

In addition to her many appearances as a soloist and recitalist, Van Lunen has been principal violist with the Ann Arbor Chamber orchestra, the Flint Symphony Orchestra and the Toledo Symphony Orchestra. She is a member of the Renaissance City Chamber Players.

She will perform works by Vivaldi, Amram and Hindemith in the Sunday concert.

HOLLY WAGNER lives in Washington, D.C., where she is director of state issues at Common Cause, a national citizens lobby in the Capital.

She is soloist for Dumbarton Methodist Church and has sung at Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center with the Choral Arts Society of Washington, D.C.

Born in Plymouth, Wagner graduated magna cum laude from Albion College and was elected Phi Beta Kappa.

In Michigan, she was a student of Jacqueline Maag, Priscilla De Stigter and Julianna Kan. She studies voice with Peter Elkus in New York City and coaches with Gillian Cookson in Washington.

Wagner will perform works by Bellini, Schubert and Faure on Sunday.

Both performers grew up in a musical environment. Holly's parents, Wilma Wagner and the late Oliver Wagner, each served as president of the Plymouth Symphony Society. Fran Lang, Margaret VanLunen's mother, was a long-time president of the society and an active member of the Plymouth Symphony League.

A reception will follow the concert. The church is at 4520 North Territorial just west of Sheldon. Baby sitting will be provided. For more information call 453-5280.

PTG caps season with Christie thriller

"Witness for the Prosecution," an Agatha Christie thriller, opens Friday in Central Middle School auditorium. The Plymouth Theatre Guild selected the mystery drama as its final production of the 1984-85 season. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. for the April 19, 20, 26 and 27 presentations.

Suspense builds in this tale of a young married man who spends many evenings with a rich old woman. When she is found murdered, he is the chief suspect. The testimony of his wife is expected to prove his innocence, but she turns out to be a shrew who damages his case and all but hangs him. Suspicion swings back and forth as the plot thickens culminating in a surprise ending.

Tom Hinks of Plymouth, a computer programmer for Burroughs Corp., is directing "Witness for the Prosecution." This will be his sixth production for PTG. He directed "All My Sons," "Portrait in Black" and "Sunshine Boys." He appeared in "Lion in Winter" and "Gentleman and a Scoundrel."

Hinks also is active in the Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford and Greenfield Village Players.

CHUCK MILLER, co-producer, lives in Canton Township with his wife, Carol, and two daughters. He works for Ford Motor Co.

Past credits include "The Bad Seed," "Chapter Two," "Love Rides the Rails" and "See How They Run." He has appeared in many Theater Guild of Livonia- Redford and Farmington Community Players productions.

Ann Schaffer is assistant director and co-producer. She became involved in theater at Alma College and after acting and helping with everything from costumes to set decoration and construction says she is most comfortable backstage.

Tobin Alan Hissong of Plymouth plays Leonard Vole, the young friend of the victim who has been charged with her murder.

He and his wife Holly, who were married last fall, are members of the Plymouth Theatre Guild. He works for Hydra-Matic Division of General Motors. He has appeared in many PTG productions in the past four years — "Romantic Comedy," "Forty Carats," "Wait Until Dark," "Bus Stop," and others. He also has had roles with the Spotlight Players and Players Guild of Dearborn.

BELINDA BIGGS of Redford Township plays Romaine, wife of the accused.

Biggs is a full-time student at Oakland Community College. Before graduating last June, she was active in Thurston High School's drama department, participating in six productions. Her involvement ranged from set crew and props to acting. She is employed as a student assistant at Wallace F. Smith Performing Arts Theater.

She appeared in Players Guild of Dearborn productions of "Match Maker," Life with Father," and in the Agatha Christie one-act, "Rats," as murderess Sandra Grey.

Manfred Heuser of Redford Township appears as Sir Wilfred Robarts, Q.C. Heuser is founder, artistic director and producer of the German Theater of Detroit, the only German Theater in the United States and Canada. He has directed 80 plays — both musicals and

How to give a party lady-of-the-manor style

You all know how handy I am around the house. So, it should come as no surprise that my turn to host a party — any kind of party — makes chills run up and down my spine into my brain. From there, they go straight to my stomach, where they become a tight ball of sheer panic.

How does one redo an entire home without throwing away any treasures? To put it frankly, you don't. So the problem now becomes where to hold the party. My sisters, Linda and Pam, who were co-hosting this party, live in Warren and Williamsburg, Ky. And as luck would have it, my subdivision is not graced with one of those handy little clubhouses in which to hold such a gathering. Also, I live in one of those homes not equipped with a live-in, or live-out, maid. What all this boiled down to is a frantic search for the perfect place to hold a bridal shower for our youngest sister, Gail.

I LOOKED high and low.

I called no fewer than 25 "perfect" places. Other than the deposit being a contract for my first-born son followed by small, monthly payments for an undisclosed length of time, the idea was brilliant.

Make no mistake, I gave fair chance to all. Some were vague, some outrageous, and some just put me on ignore and never came back to the phone. In case you're wondering, I did check with most of the establishments in this area accustomed to handling such matters. I also looked far and wide into other communities to secure the best deal possible, hoping to spare my son's life.

Now the good news. Guess where I found the most wonderful and cheerful service? Right here in Canton.

Let me make one thing perfectly clear. I will not mention those I didn't choose or why in this column. But I want to tell you about the treasure we have here, and how they changed a frightening experience into sheer joy.

You know when you're having a party or shower, and you make list after list and can never concentrate on anything else? It seems you're always shopping for something for the shower, or on the phone ordering something for the shower. You worry about "what if I forget to serve the whatever, or what if the blankety-blank burns or what if it never cooks all the way through?

WELL, FOLKS, those days are past.

I don't know how many of you have discovered this, but I am about to free the slaves-I love the hustle and bustle of a good party as much as anybody, but did you ever want to feel purely elegant, terribly sophisticated and maybe incredibly wealthy?

Well, try this. You simply call the Roman Forum and cheerfully book a date. They work with you ahead of time to insure the perfect meal. You simply for your guests list the three menu selections already arranged with the Forum. Although your cost is prearranged, you may select another entree if none is agreeable to a particular guest. Actually, all Linda and I had to do in preparation was to purchase the prizes, etc. — the frills if you will. There were no paper plates or napkins, table cloths, silverware, food to purchase or prepare or store. (This meant I didn't have to clean out the refrigerator.) No house to clean, children and husband to make disappear. No need to store the family pet in a closet.

It was like having a houseful of servants. You simply told them, "Staff, we shall be having 20, 30, 40 guests for dinner Sunday. Please see that everything is ready."

And they reply, "Yes, Madam." You slither away in your satin robe to dress to go shopping for the trinkets. Is that great? You bet it is!

I'll never have a shower in my home again. My family will think I moved away. I must admit it takes some getting used to. As the date approaches, you can't help feeling you've forgotten something and fear your little sister's shower is going to be a complete flop.

But it's that simple. You can add as much work as you wish — gathering favors, prizes, cake, corsage, whatever.

But when all is said and done, you simply say goodbye to your guests, pay your predetermined bill, and walk out. And get this, you leave the dishes on the table. It's truly the next best thing to having a houseful of servants.

Now, let me tell you about the shower.

My youngest sister, Gail Byrnes, is to be married this spring to Doug Selewski at St. John Neumann Church in Canton. Our gowns are on order at the Beginnings Bridal Shop in Plymouth. Our flowers will be from Heide's in Plymouth. So it only seemed fitting that our shower be at the Roman Forum in Canton to even things out.

Back to the shower. Gail wore a beautiful blue dress with rolling ruffles at the collar and down the bodice. With her curly blond hair and blue eyes there was no mistake that she was beautiful bride-to-be. She received a double orchid corsage. Her fiance's mother and the bride's mother received double carnations with sweetheart roses. Each guest received a small plant to take home and try to grow.

We started the games with a poem Linda and I wrote about Gail and Doug with clues to a later game cleverly hidden in the poem.

The plot thickens as we begin. You see at our showers, the games take on a little twist. Sister Linda is a school teacher, and what normally is referred to as a party game becomes a test. For instance, instead of the expected "OK, go ahead" or "you can start now," at our parties you'll hear "Ready? Begin." Do you see the difference? Our version of the usual "OK, time's up" is "Pencils down."

All in all, the day was wonderful. The weather was perfect. Our waitress, Donna, was cheeful, helpful, and seemed more like a friend than a waitress. Everything seemed to go so smoothly. My daughters and their friend, Kristen Karpinski, helped with prizes, cake, folding, wrapping paper and such duties. Everybody did a little and everthing went smoothly. Can you tell we had a great time? Well, we did.

And to Gail and Doug, we wish the very best. To the Roman Forum, Greg and Donna, thank you so much for the wonderful day. To everyone, take the elegant way out, for the price, the great food, the fantastic location, keep it in the township.

It's not easy to write about a party you gave, but I had to tell you in case you hadn't thought of it.

I remain, waiting for your phone call.

Wide variety of perennials at Botanical gardens sale

Area gardeners may add to their perennial and herb gardens at the Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens spring sale.

The annual fund-raiser will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28, in the auditorium of the gardens, 1800 N. Dixboro Road, Ann Arbor.

The selection and number of perennials has been increased for this year's sale.

There will be Achillea, several kinds of Ajuga, Ameria, several types of Artemesia, columbine, asters, astilbe, shasta daisies and delphinium, including the new Blue Fountain cultivar.

Also dianthus, bleeding heart, foxglove, baby's breath, candytuft, lupine, Oriental poppies, phlox, primula, sedum, statice, veronica, bostas, clematis, monarda, anemones and several ornamental grasses.

A WIDE SELECTION of herbs will be available — basil, oregano, chives, parsley, sage French tarragon, marjoram, rosemary, mints, thyme, lemon balm, lemon verbena, French sorrel, camomile, lavender, fennel and many others.

In many cases, several varieties or cultivars will be available of herbs such as sage, thyme, basil, rosemary, and so on.

Wildflower plants will include hardy native ferns, orchids, aquatic bog plants, native lilies, trilliums, bloodroot, hepatica, mayapples, and many other native wild flowers.

IN ADDITION, the Friends of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens will be selling potted tuberous begonias and caladiums in all colors. Those interested in rock gardens will find a selection of rock garden plants.

The sale is open to the public. Admission is free. Proceeds from the sale go to projects at the gardens.

Visitors are invited to tour the nature trailsand take in the special lobby exhibit. There is a fee to visit the conservatory. For more information, call the gardens, 764-1168.

Teen drinking needs more parental action

moral perspectives
Rev. David Strong

The Detroit Free Press has just released a study of the extent to which under age persons are able to purchase alcoholic beverages. The shocking results is that more than one out of every two stores and bars will serve underage customers. Those who attempted to purchase these beverages illegally were 20 years old. I am told that in our community it is easy for teen-agers to buy beer.

When I came to the suburb in which I now live, parents stated that beer and liquor are consumed by teens at all of their parties. "A party is only a party for high school kids if there is a lot of drinking," I was told by the youth. I did not want to believe that this was true. Now I believe that with a few exceptions it is the rule.

We treat teen-age drinking as though it is an individual problem. It is an individual problem, but it is primarily a social problem. It has become part of the fabric of teen life. Often parents, school officials, police and those who sell the beverages to under age persons look the other way.

Parents try to control their children but the social pressures are great. One of the most difficult parts for parents is that they often do not know the parents of their child's friends. If they do know them they do not know their attitude toward teen drinking.

THE AMAZING THING is that there seems to be no arena in which this issue is being considered and addressed by parents. When parents find that their children have been drinking, it is an embarrassment. Sometimes it is even risky to call the parents of another youth who has been involved. At this point, there is often only an atmosphere of accusation and defense. It seems better to many to keep quiet.

Some parents try to keep their youth from situations where drinking goes on among teens. This is almost impossible, and it has its costs. Other youth say that this does not prevent those with protective parents from drinking. "Their parents just don't know what their kids are doing," they say. Stiff penalties for drunk driving do not address the larger problem.

When I grew up, this was not as central a problem. The neighborhood was stable. People knew most of the other families around them. Cars were less available to youth. Alcoholic beverages could not be easily bought by youth. High school parties wer not so dominated by drinking. But the one greatest influence I felt was that the parents would most likely talk to each other if something out of line was discovered.

There is no substitute for parental involvement. This must again become the key to the containment of under age drinking.

THERE IS NO excuse for not tracking down the stores which sell to youth. Easy access to alcohol must be stopped. The Free Press study reveals a comradeship too often between those who sell alcoholic beverages and those underage persons who buy. The article tells of clerks who refused to sell beer to underage persons yet who advised the customers where they could buy it. Youth in our community say it is easy to buy beer. The Free Press study substantiates this.

Where does the answer lie? I believe that there is no substitute for the interaction of parents in this problem. Where they can find the arena to do this I cannot see. We will probably never again live in stable communities where most everyone knows the others who live around them.

Parents who knowingly or unknowingly have teen drinking parties on their property need to be penalized. Police need to have the authority to warn homeowners and motel owners of their responsibility in aiding the delinquency of minors. The extent and seriousness of the problem must be recognized.

Such changes must be addressed. Otherwise society must be willing to accept the cost of a large majority of our youth drinking alcoholic beverages.

Banner helps tell Easter story

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Marie Derrick of Livonia sits inside St. Valentine Catholic Church in Redford where the banner she made depicting the Resurrection now hangs until Ascension Thursday.

By Marie McGee
staff writer

Marie Derrick of Livonia went to great lengths to dramatically capture the story of Christ and the Resurrection for parishioners of St. Valentine Catholic Church in Redford Township where she and her family once attended.

At the bidding of a friend, Derrick created a banner 7 feet wide and 24 feet long that was hung directly behind the main altar.

Created from a polyester cotton material, the background is wine with the figure of Christ clad in shades of yellow and blue with flesh tones for the exposed part of the body. The banner will remain in the church until May 16, Ascension Thursday.

An art student at Madonna College, Derrick said it took her a month to do the sewing and admitted she had never done anything quite that large before.

SPECIALIZING IN applique and quilting, she has made several wall hangings, Derrick said. In fact, it was one she made for a friend, Laura Gantner, that led to the invitation by Gantner to make a banner for the church.

Comments from parishioners have been very positive, Derrick has learned.

Several of Derrick's other creations have been winners in State Fair competition, including a quilt that took a first-place in the original design category.

This year, however, she will forgo thoughts of entering State Fair competition. She's too busy just trying to fulfill art class requirements and taking care of of her husband Mark, and their three children, ages 19, 8 and 4.

Her banner year will be 1987. That's when she gets a degree in commercial art from Madonna.

A timing service may bring better returns

By Sid Mittra
and Mariola Kulikowski

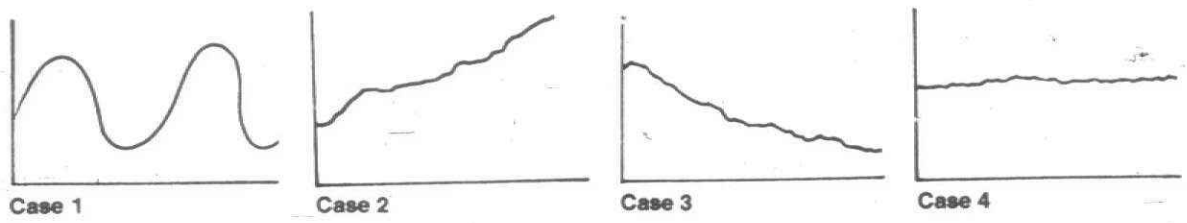
finances and you
Sid Mittra

It is commonplace that growth mutual funds, like the stock market, fluctuate on a day-to-day basis. Upon closer analysis we find that, over the long haul, a growth mutual fund can behave in one of the four ways demonstrated to the right.

Obviously, a Timing Service is helpless in Cases 3 and 4. Furthermore, you would "not" want Case 2 timed, because it would serve no useful purpose to go in and out of an upward-bound mutual fund.

Only Case 1 lends itself to a Timing Service treatment.



AN ILLUSTRATION

It should now be clear that the use of a Timing Service constitutes a long-term strategy. In order for a Timing Service to produce results superior to that which would be expected under Case 2, the market must experience several wide gyrations, so the Timing Service can get in and out of the market to take advantage of low prices prevailing at the respective market troughs.

Here is how it works. When the market approaches the peak, the Timing Service liquidates your mutual fund investment and parks it "temporarily" in the money market fund.

While your fund does earn short-term interest, the objective is to keep the money there until the market has reached a trough. The Timing Service then withdraws the money from the money market fund and fully invests in the mutual fund.

This step can result in a sizeable improvement in investment returns, as is demonstrated in the following hypothetical illustration:

ABC FUND

Jan. 1, 1983

Amount invested:	$10,000
Share Price:	$10/share
Total shares owned:	1,000

Sept. 10, 1984

Share price:	$20/share
Market reaches a peak
Liquidation value:	$20,000
Money parked in money market fund ($20 x 1,000 shares)

Feb. 5, 1984

Share price:	$5/share
Market reaches a trough
Share acquired:	4,000 shares
Money invested in ABC

Dec. 18, 1984

Share Price:	$10/share
Market reaches a peak
Liquidation value:	$40,000
Money parked in money market

In this case, the results are phenomenal. Over a two-year period, ABC mutual fund has stagnated, since the beginning and the ending price is exactly the same ($10). A buy-and-hold strategy would therefore be a complete failure.

A timing strategy, however, has paid off handsomely, since you have quadrupled the value of your investment. Although the numbers are purely hypothetical, and rarely does a Timing Service ever produce such dramatic results, this example does represent the concept of timing.

Thousands support a destroyed Hit Man

THOMAS HEARNS is a champion. Understand that first. But also understand that, outside the metro Detroit area, few would consider him so.

He didn't look it Monday night against Marvelous Marvin Hagler. Hagler put on a boxing display in driving Hearns into the canvas at 2:01 of the third round, thus insuring himself a position among the greatest middleweights in history.

Hagler did what he had to do to win. Hearns didn't. Hagler stalked his taller opponent from the opening bell, cutting off the ring and forcing Hearns into the ropes. Hagler's work to Hearns' midsection took its toll; by the third round Hearns was stumbling, his legs quivering like jelly.

HAGLER ABSORBED some terrific shots, but he delivered just as many. And Hearns proved again, to the ultimate chagrin of thousands of Detroiters, that just like against Sugar Ray Leonard 3½ years ago, he can throw a punch better than he can take one.

And yet, even with this dismal defeat in the biggest fight of his career, Hearns will remain to Detroiters as much a champion as ever.

I witnessed "The Fight" — as promoters labeled it — at Center Stage in Canton. Try to explain to a guy from another state, or perhaps from another part of this state, why a kid from Detroit would be such an attraction to thousands of suburbanites.

HE'D NEVER understand. As Monday's championship bout was about to start, I wondered why as the jampacked Center Stage crowd rose to its feet with a deafening cheer as Hearns was introduced.

Those cheers turned to equally boisterous boos whenever Hagler's countenance was flashed on the three giant-sized screens.

Thank God the fight didn't last any longer. I'm not certain this crowd could have withstood it. I'm just as sure the people that made the Mai Kai Theater in Livonia and the Americana Theater in Southfield sellouts were in the same frenzied state.

These closed-circuit boxing shows are never easy to digest. They require endurance. They require enormous amounts of patience. They require the ability to withstand seemingly endless hours of fight gab, predictions, assessments and reassessments.

THEY ALSO require $35.

The fight that everyone wanted to see didn't start until after 11 p.m. But if you wanted to get a good seat, you had to arrive early — about 7:15.

For nearly four hours, we were subjected to the likes of:

- Bonnie and the Working Girls, an all-women band which, as one female spectator kindly evaluated, "needs a lot of work."
- Pizza, hot dogs, popcorn and $7 pitchers of beer.
- And three dull preliminary bouts, of which the last will be best remembered for an unbelievable unanimous decision rendered by judges who must have been watching the Hollywood crowd entering the arena instead of the fight.

SITTING AT HOME and watching USFL Monday Night Football would be of greater interest than these preliminaries. And yet every seat on the long rows of tables jammed inside Center Stage was filled with Hearns fans willing to absorb any punishment to see their man in his biggest fight.

And these people had enough moxie left to cheer frantically for this native Detroiter transplanted in Southfield.

Tommy Hearns has an appeal that must make Coleman Young jealous. Then again, he's done far more for the city than the mayor has.

Hearns doesn't have an Isiah Thomas smile. He can't charm people with clever quips. His speaking ability — or lack thereof — is clearly evident in his TV commercials.

SO WHAT'S the attraction? Why is he so adulated?

Timing. Hearns' climb to prominence came at a low tide for the Detroit area. People were out of work and there was nothing to turn to for relief. The Tigers, Pistons and Lions toiled at the bottom of their leagues. The Red Wings still do.

We were starved for a winner, and Hearns gave us one. People from this area have an enduring quality: They remember success fondly and stick with their heroes even when times are hard.

We remembered Hearns' agonizing climb to the top. We identified with the ring politics he was mired in as he searched for a title fight, decking opponent after opponent. And we remembered the dozens of public appearances he made, like one at a Farmington night club five years ago to benefit a Kronk stablemate crippled in a car accident.

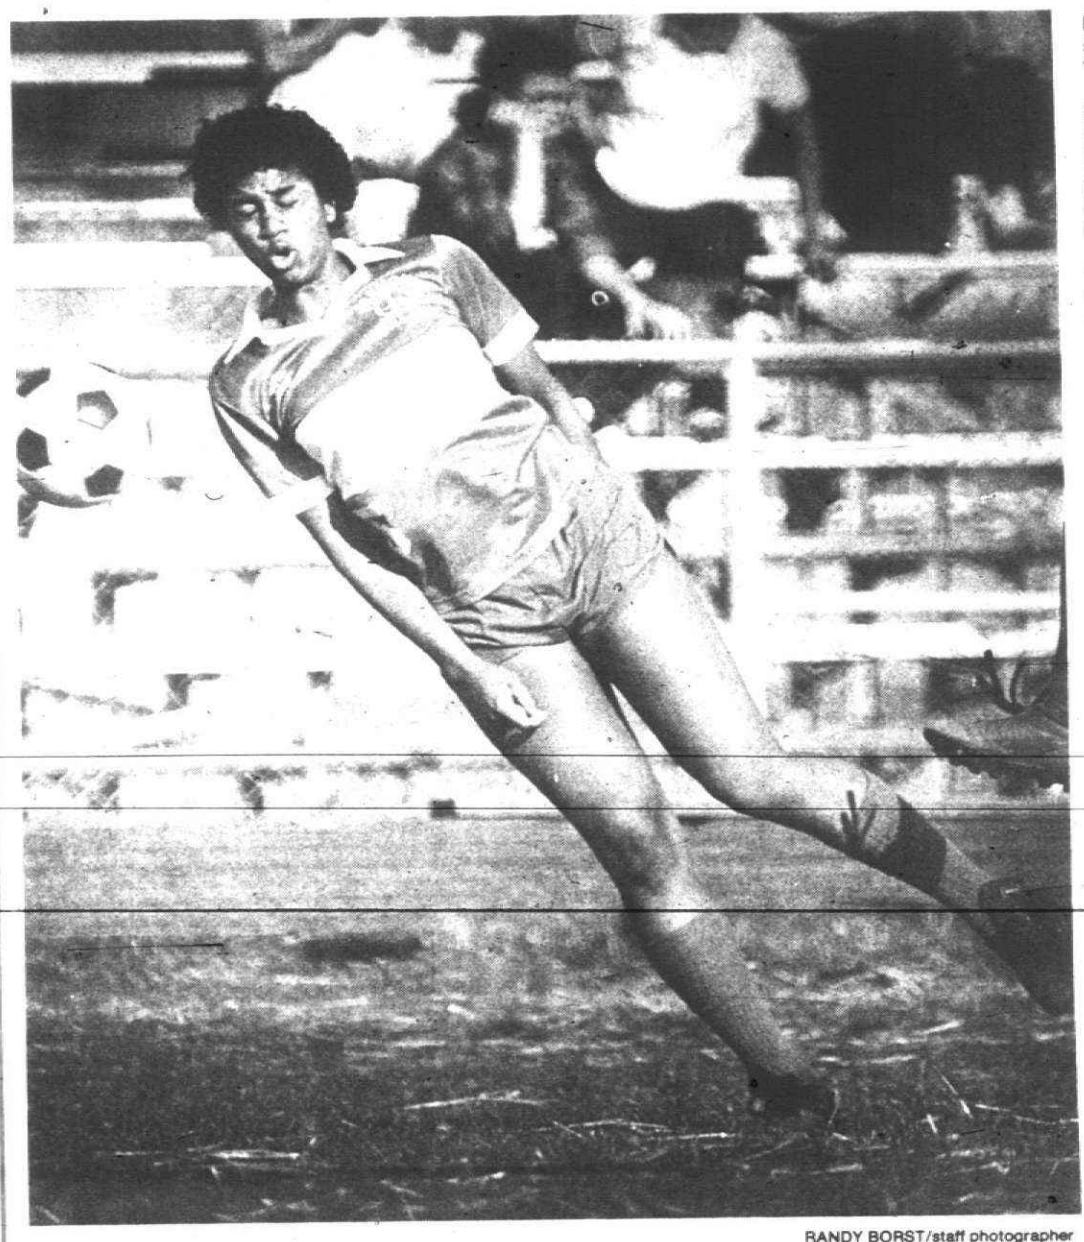
We have had other champions. Milton McCrory has claimed a boxing title. The Tigers won the World Series, and the Pistons are among the NBA's best.

We have others to lavish with our unbridled pride. But we won't forget Hearns. He was the first to defiantly flaunt his Detroit heritage.

Hearns was battered into senselessness Monday. But wait and see: He won't be forsaken. The crowds that packed dozens of Detroit-area theaters and arenas and cheered lustily for him guaranteed it.

Hearns will always be our champion.

Rock bid falls shy at S'craft



RANDY BORST/staff photographer

Salem freshman Dena Head has helped boost the Rocks to a lofty No. 2 ranking in the state. Head has scored 9 goals already this season including 4 against North Farmington Monday (story on Page 2C).

By Robert McElhaney
special writer

Livonia Churchill girls soccer coach Ed Dudek's strategy for his team's Schoolcraft College High School Invitational championship game with Plymouth Salem on Saturday was simple — keep the ball away from Salem's high-scoring forward Dena Head.

Dudek's plan was successful. Head, who scored 4 goals in a tournament quarterfinal match against Troy and another in a semifinal win against Northville, didn't score against Churchill. Charger midfielder Chris Paciero covered the rising Salem star like a blanket, limiting the freshman to two shots during the game.

Paciero's performance, along with a hard-working front line led by midfielder Jennifer Huegli and forward Julie Myers, helped Churchill to a 2-1 victory and their second consecutive Schoolcraft tournament title.

"Paciero did a super job of handling Head," said Dudek, who also is the womens soccer coach at Schoolcraft. "Preventing her from handling the ball was a big part of the game."

DUDEK also praised his offense for its contribution.

"Our forwards were out there hustling well," he said. "Myers and Huegli both had outstanding games."

Salem coach Ken Johnson also praised the winners.

"Churchill defended very well against us," he said. "They looked a little stronger."

Salem played the entire tournament without one of its top scorers, senior Fran Whittaker, who was in Florida.

After the Rocks applied early pressure, Churchill's attackers, led by Huegli, Myers, Jennifer Flowers, Kim Montgomery and Dawn Gabriel, took charge. Their efforts paid off handsomely before the end of the first half when Montgomery set up Huegli with a 20-yard shot, which traveled past Salem netminder Tracey DeGrazia, giving the Chargers a 1-0 lead.

Churchill continued to dominate play in the second half, making it 2-0 at the 8-minute mark on a 30-yard shot by Myers.

The Rocks finally managed to score with 5 minutes left in the match as forward Pam Mayer took a left-footed shot, beating Charger goalie Kolleen Allen.

One sour note for the Chargers was the loss of midfielder Denise Burkhart for a month with a badly sprained ankle injured early in the match.

CHURCHILL RECEIVED a scare in its semifinal game against Troy Athens, falling behind 2-1 before rallying for a 3-2 win.

Huegli gave the Chargers an early lead with a shot directly in front of the Red Hawk net, beating goalie Lynn Eckhout.

Two quick goals midway through the first half gave the Red Hawks a 1-goal advantage.

Their first tally came on a great individual effort by forward Cindy Wass, who stole the ball from a Churchill defender, took a shot off another defender, controlled her rebound, and fired it into the net.

Shelagh Brett scored 2 minutes later on an indirect free kick, the shot falling into the net just below the upper crossbar.

But the Chargers came back, tying the match with 5 minutes remaining in the first half on a goal by Myers after a mad scramble in front of the Athens' goal following a corner kick. Midway through the second half, Churchill pulled ahead for good on another goal by Huegli.

SALEM, on goals by Head and Julie Tortora, advanced to the finals with a 2-1 victory over Northville.

Six minutes into the match, Head received a long pass from Tortora, firing a shot that beat Mustang netminder Tricia Ducker. Salem's second goal was nearly identical to the first, with Head setting up Tortora for a goal at the 17-minute mark of the first half.

Northville, the defending state Class A champions, scored its only goal on a header by Kim Flading. The shot went into the net off a Rock defender. Kathy Korowin drew the assist.

Select team tryouts set

Open tryouts for 4 Michigan Select Soccer teams will take place at 6 p.m. Friday, April 19.

The 14-girls select team (for girls born on or after Jan. 1, 1971) will have tryouts at Birmingham Groves High School, 13 Mile and Evergreen roads.

The 13½-boys team (for boys born on or after Aug. 1, 1971) will have tryouts at Bi-Centennial Field No. 9 on 7 Mile Road (at Wayne Road) in Livonia.

The 15½-boys team (for boys born on or after Aug. 1, 1969) will have tryouts at Hartsig Field on 11½ Mile Road west of Ryan Road in Warren.

The 17½-boys team (for boys born on or after Aug. 1, 1967) will have tryouts at Drake Field, Drake Road and 12 Mile Road in Farmington.

There is a $5 fee will be required of those trying out.

Players on the Michigan Select Team should not attend these tryouts.

Record pace

Canton graduate Elijah Rogers is in the Eastern Michigan University track record books. Rogers, who made the team as a walk-on, teamed with Jeff Smith, Mike Calhoun and Olympic medalist Earl Jones to win the sprint medley at the Dogwood Relays in Knoxville, Tenn. The time, 3:15.8, was a meet record and the second fastest time in EMU history.

No offense, Chiefs tie

CANTON 1, FRANKLIN 1: The midfield area of the Plymouth Canton soccer field took a beating in this Western Lakes contest as neither team was able to mount much offense.

"Franklin was very fired up," Canton coach Mike Morgan said. "They really played a good game. They kept the ball in our end almost the entire game."

Freshman Lori Stoecklein scored the Chiefs' lone goal. Beth Frigge got the assist.

Each team could manage only 8 shots on goal.

"We had trouble getting untracked offensively," Morgan said. "Nobody really took control. Franklin's defense, especially their sweeper, did a real nice job."

The Chiefs are 2-2-1 on the season.

BENTLEY 8, FARMINGTON 0: It's not like the Farmington soccer team didn't have enough troubles.

Coming off a 5-11-2 record last year, the Falcons lost their best player, Sue Bartram, to graduation and three other would-be returning starters for various reasons.

To top it off, the Falcons had to open the season Monday against a state powerhouse.

Livonia Bentley, fresh from a 16-0 win over Flint Central and a 15-0 rout of Garden City, continued its shutout string with an 8-0 win over Farmington.

If the score doesn't tell the tale, the shots on goal will: Bentley outshot Farmington 20-1.

Head, Tortora spoil Raiders' opener

RANDY BORST/staff photographer

Suzie Balconi (No. 4) scored a goal and played solidly at midfield as Salem pummeled North Farmington 9-1 on Monday. North's Renee Terrault (No. 23) is trying to check Balconi.

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

You look upon the soccer match. You see the ball being bandied about at midfield. You blink.

The action is no longer at midfield. A blue-and-white blur has streaked past and is headed toward the goal. An instant later, the action stops.

The white ball is in the net. The gold-and-brown goalie looks shocked. The blue-and-white blur has scored. You stand there wishing for an instant replay.

Speed, like acid, burns. And the Plymouth Salem soccer team has enough speed to make Roadrunner jealous.

The Rocks rocketed past host North Farmington Monday afternoon 9-1. Six of the Rocks' goals were scored on breakaways.

"We're very fast," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "It's funny, we're playing the kind of ball I really like — long ball. Just get it down the side, and we have the skill to go by the defense or pull it back."

KEYING SALEM'S fast break are junior Julie Tortora and freshman Dena Head. The two combined for 7 of the Rocks' 9 goals. Head scored 4 and Tortora 3.

"Those 2 work together very well," Johnson said. "Dena, she can just disintegrate a team early."

Such was North's fate Monday. Head, in a scramble in front of North goalie Brooks Landback, shuffled a ball to Tortora, who kicked it home.

Five minutes later, Head took a pass near midfield from Tracy Greenhalge, blew past the North defense and beat a helpless Landback.

A few minutes later, Head made the play of the day. She took a pass from Tortora in a crowd of Raiders at midfield. She outran one defender, pulled up and dribbled around another, then put a move on Landback that left the senior goalie sprawled on the ground 5 feet to the side of the goal — the only thing left for Head to do was put the ball in the net, which she did.

Dena Head, with 9 goals already this season, is 14 years old.

Tortora finished off the first half with a pair of goals, one on a penalty kick (the penalty occuring on a Head breakaway) and the other on a pretty 50-yard breakaway run.

HEAD SCORED the first two goals of the 2nd half. Suzie Balconi and Pam Mayer finished the scoring for the Rocks.

One might think that it was an unfortunate way for North Farmington to open its season. Coach Cathy Cole thinks differently.

"I'm really glad we got the chance to play them," the second-year coach said. "I think it's good to start out with a great team like that. The girls found out what the league is all about."

Actually, Cole wasn't at all displeased with her team's effort. Salem just has the knack of making its opponents look worse than they are.

"All in all, our passing has really improved over last year," Cole said. "I'm not worried about the offense as much as I was last year. It'll be there. The girls just need to play together a bit and learn each others' moves."

Kristi McMinn and Jean Anzlovar played an inspired match for North. The 2 combined on the Raiders' lone score — McMinn scoring off a nice feed from Anzlovar. McMinn accounted for 5 of North's 11 shots on the Salem goal.

IT WAS a rough initiation for Landback. The converted softball player was making her first soccer start. She faced 26 Salem shots, most from close range. The senior goalie made several tough saves, one in particular against Head late in the game. Head broke in alone from the right side of the goal. She blistered a shot from about 5 yards out that Landback neatly kicked away.

Salem was able to dominate play because of an aggressive and strong-footed group of midfielders and defensemen. Freshman Rachael Thiet, Balconi, Greenhalge, and defenders Vikki Stojeba and Michelle Cygan refused to allow North any room to operate in its attacking zone.

Salem, now 4-1, is ranked No. 2 in the state by the Michigan Soccer Coaches Association poll behind Livonia Churchill. Monday's match was the Western Lakes season opener for both squads.

Mike White won three events Tuesday, the high jump, long jump and high hurdles, but Salem was defeated by Dearborn 78-59.

Salem falls short in opener

Mike White and Brian Neuhardt won three events apiece, but that couldn't prevent the Plymouth Salem boys track team from dropping its season opener to Dearborn Tuesday, 78-59.

"It was our first opponent," said Salem coach Gary Balconi. "We were excited, but we were also disappointed."

The excitement: Mike White won the high jump (6-0), long jump (22-2, he had a jump of 22-7 but he fouled on the takeoff) and the 120-yard hurdles (15.01).

Neuhardt, a sophomore, won the 100-yard dash (10.0, tying the school mark), the 220 (23.29) and the 440 (52.14).

The disappointment: Salem won just one other individual event and only one relay.

"It gave us a chance to see where we were at," Balconi said. "We need some work on our relays, but we'll improve."

boys track

John Keros won the two-mile (10:32.6) and Neuhardt, Brian Vlader, Craig Morton and White combined on a 3:38.09 to win the mile relay.

PLYMOUTH CANTON placed third in a triangular meet with Livonia Bentley and Redford Union on Tuesday. Bentley won the meet (60), RU finished with 57½ and Canton with 56⅛.

Tom Bowie won the long jump for Canton (19-5¼), Dave Houdek won the 120-yard hurdles (44.8), Steve Morell won the 100-yard dash (11.09) and Pat McGow won the 200 (24.95).

Canton also captured the 880 relay (1:41.7).

Miller sets record in Chiefs' 2nd win

It's one thing to have a lot of young and eager underclassmen on your track team. But when those underclassmen start winning races and setting school records, well then you've got something.

And the Plymouth Canton girls track team definitely has something in freshman Angie Miller. Miller led the Chiefs to their second straight win of the season Tuesday, a 78-50 decision at Walled Lake Central.

Miller set a new Canton high jump record with a 5-2 leap. That broke Linda Bigelow's 1979 mark of 5-½. Miller also won the 800-meter run (28.7) and anchored Canton's first-place 3,200 relay team (11:04.0).

"I'll tell you, our freshmen and sophomores, we are real heavy on that end of the age group. To see them coming through so early in the year is real encouraging," said Canton coach Bob Richardson.

ANOTHER CANTON record fell by the way Tuesday. Hollie Ivey broke her own shot put record with a 32-10 toss (the old mark set last year was 32-8¾). Ironically, her record-setting toss was good for just a second place in the meet.

Ivey won the discus with a 104-10.

Carolyn Nagy won the long jump (14-5) and the 400 dash (1:05.0).

Other Chief winners were Kim Bennett in the 200 dash (28.7), Marie Jarosz in the 1,600 (5:45.2) and Rachel Mann in the 3,200 (13:20.0).

Trisha Carney, Kim Davis, Sherry Figurski and Bennett teamed on a 54.8 to win the 400 relay. Carney, Lori Schauder, Nagy and Bennett won the 800 relay in 1:55.0.

The Chiefs also took the 3,200 relay with Jarosz, Jennifer Griffith, Karen Boluch and Miller (11:04.0).

"Last year we started out with three straight wins," Richardson said. "Then we kind of ran into a wall. I just hope that doesn't happen this year. But, our times are far ahead of where we were last year."

The Chiefs travel to Livonia Bentley today.

Garden City survives 9-inning duel with RU

A classic extra-inning pitching duel highlighted Tuesday's Northwest Suburban League (NSL) baseball opener between Garden City and Redford Union.

The game, which featured twin two-hitters by Cougar hurler Todd Webb and Panther ace Pat Miller, was finally won by the Cougars, 1-0, in the top of the ninth inning on Jeff Buglione's tie-breaking triple.

But it was the glowing performances by Webb and Miller that drew all the attention.

Webb fanned 14 batters to earn the victory. Miller also pitched an outstanding game, allowing just two hits while striking out five and walking two.

With two out in the top of the ninth inning, Garden City's Jeff Contreras reached base on an infield error — 1 of 3 committed by the Panthers in the game. Buglione then lifted a long fly ball over the left fielder's head to drive in the game's only run.

"It was by far the best (Webb) he's pitched in two years on the varsity," said Garden City coach Bob Dropp who's team is now 5-2 overall. "It was a tough game for either pitcher to lose. Both had command of the game."

"It was a good game," Panther coach Stu Rose added. "I was proud to be the RU coach today. We had only 10 eligible players and they all played their hearts out."

RU stranded seven runners on base.

JOHN GLENN 4, THURSTON 2

Westland John Glenn opened its NSL season on a high note Tuesday, scoring all its runs in the first two innings to dispose of Redford Thurston 4-2.

The visiting Rockets put three runs on the scoreboard in the opening inning, then went the rest of the way, whiffing nine batters to earn the victory.

Greg George was charged with the defeat for Thurston, which fell to 4-2 overall.

Glenn improved its record to 2-1 with the win. The Rockets opened its season Friday splitting a double-header with Wayne Memorial. Glenn took the first game, 10-1, before falling in the nightcap, 5-3.

FRANKLIN 3, N. FARMINGTON 1: Walks proved to be the difference in the Livonia Franklin's NSL win Tuesday at North Farmington.

The Patriots managed just two hits, but they worked Raiders' starter and loser Todd Shepard for seven walks, which led to all three runs.

baseball scored its final run in their next time at bat when winning pitcher Steve Irwin singled home Bill Barber. Glenn rapped out 10 hits in the game — including two hits apiece from Barber, Irwin, Cass Simpson, Dave Jensen and Mike Oaks.

Irwin came on in relief of starter Shawn Dunford in the third inning after the Eagles rallied for their only runs. He put out the

Salem hosts Elks meet

The Plymouth-Canton Centennial Educational Park track, the home of both Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem, is the site of the annual Elks Relays this Saturday.

The race, co-hosted by Salem and Dearborn, will commence with the field events at 11 a.m. The running events will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The 13-team field includes defending champion Bishop Borgess, Cass Tech, Catholic Central, Dearborn, Hazel Park, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Stevenson, Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Taylor Truman, Westland John Glenn, Woodhaven and Wyandotte.

The CEP track is located on Canton Center Road south of Joy. Admission is $1.

Pro men accept ladies challenge

The lady pro bowlers of the land have caused one of the biggest stirs the tenpin world ever has known by challenging the men pros to a $50,000 challenge match just to find out if the women are equal to the men in topping the pins.

According to the challenge the ladies will run a special tournament in Las Vegas to pick a team of five and have asked the pros to pick a team to settle the argument as to which is best — the women or the men.

This is interesting in the Observer area because the pro ladies who make the special team are prides of the Detroit All Star leagues. They are Aleta Rzepecki Sill, now living in Florida, and Cheryl Daniels, the current Bowling Queen of the Detroit area. The match, agreed upon, will be held in Las Vegas at the close of the season.

WONDERLAND: Ed Kort, bowling in the Fisher Body mixed league, got the first 700 series of his career when he linked games of 265, 232 and 201 for 703 and became a member of the 700 Club. Other 700 series were rolled by John McKeever with 707 and Jim Merrell with a closing 251 in 706. Both were bowled in the classic.

MERRI-BOWL: Jeff Morris missed a 700 series by seven pins in the municipal league when he had a 259 in 693. Other high totals were Leslie Szurick with 677 and Carl Hansen with 674.

WOODLAND: Bob Draganick rolled a 724 series for high score of the week. In the senior citizens league Walter Chevernoy was top man with 639 in the trio league Tom Beaugh had a 623 and Dorothy Paquette had a 592.

WESTLAND BOWL: Midge Pashkat finally reached her goal by leading the ladies league with a 212 middle game in 607. In the Monday men's league Jerry Griffin posted a 618 and Ernie Natzman a 611.

GARDEN: Bob Patterson earned membership in the 700 club when he posted a 279 game in a 733 series. In the morning women's league Marion Bell posted a 659, the highest of her career. In the St. Linus League Mike Rich was high with 651.

BEL-AIRE: Gary Sachau used a 290 game to bowl an even 700 in the top men's league, Ron Enders was right behind with 684.

SUPER BOWL: The annual Special Olympics are scheduled for Saturday and the field will take over for the entire day. It is always an interesting show. In the Classic, George Fineran was tops with a 289 for high game.

sports roundup

● REDFORD SOFTBALL

The annual Season Opener double-elimination men's softball tourney, sponsored by Little Bill's Trophies and Law Auto Sales, will be held Friday-Sunday, April 26-28, at Claude Allison Field and Jaycee Park in Redford Township.

The entry fee is $100 per team, or the cost can be defrayed by selling raffle tickets.

Class B, C and D teams are eligible to participate. The field will be limited to 32 teams.

For more information, call 722-5200 (days) or 981-2502 (evenings).

● SOPHA TO PENN

Rob Sopha, a second team All-Area football center from Redford Union, announced last week that he will attend the University of Pennsylvania.

The 6-foot-5, 235-pound Sopha, who was named All-Northwest Suburban League, sports a 3.5 grade-point average.

● CITY TENNIS TOURNEY

The annual Livonia Public Schools/Schoolcraft College tennis tourney will be held Saturday on the Livonia campus courts.

First round action begins at 9 a.m.

Livonia Stevenson will try to win its fifth straight crown. Bentley, Churchill and Franklin will also participate.

● E MAJOR TRYOUTS

Newton Furniture, a member of the Livonia E Major baseball league, will conduct tryouts for boys ages 15-16 (you cannot be 17 before Aug. 1) at noon Sunday, May 5, at Livonia Bicentennial Field No. 5.

For more information, call Bob Guzick at 478-0989.

● LIVONIA MANTLE TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the Livonia Mickey Mantle League baseball team (boys 16 and under) will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 4 at Churchill High School.

For more information, call manager Richard DeVries at 474-1111.

● SOCCER OPENINGS

The Livonia Youth Soccer Club has a few openings left for boys born in 1972-73. The deadline to register is Saturday.

For more information, call Joanne Carozzo (476-1848) or Ruth Dober (421-6773).

● REDFORD SKATERS

The Redford Figure Skating team recorded a trio of first-place finishes in the Livonia Open competition March 29 through 31 at Edgar Arena.

Gaining firsts were Amy Grassel, Delta Division; Dorota Miller, Freestyle I (7-8 years); and Jody Grassel, Freestyle I (11-12).

Among the second place finishers for Redford included Michelle Bicknell, Gamma; Tony Johnson, Freestyle III, Jennifer Piron, Freestyle V; and Chrissy Kozlowski, Freestyle VI.

Redford's Nicole Ogden took a third in Gamma and teammate Laura DeCoster was fifth in Alpha.

In the U.S. Figure Skating Association Garden City Open competition last month, Redford's Lisa Matras took second in the preliminary Ladies 10 and under Freestyle.

Times announced to report prep scores

Here we go again.

The spring sports season, the busiest season in all for prep sports, is upon us. What we're dealing with for the next 2½ months is 22 Observerland high schools competing in six sports — baseball, softball, soccer, girls track, boys track and tennis.

There will be, on the average, more than 100 sporting events happening throughout Observerland for the next eight weeks. And we intend to bring you each and every result.

That will be no easy feat. But with the cooperation of area coaches, we will pull it off.

Obviously, we cannot physically attend every game, match or meet. So, coaches, to get the results of your games in the paper all you have to do is call. The Observer sports desk can be reached by calling 591-2300 before 5:30 p.m. or 591-2312 after 5:30 p.m.

Here are the best times to call in results:

● Tuesday: To report results of weekend, Monday and Tuesday contests, call 591-2312 between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. or call 591-2300 2-5 p.m. Calling during these times will ensure the results get into Thursday's paper.

● Thursday and Friday: To report results of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday contests, call 591-2312 between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m., or 2-5 p.m., call 591-2300. Calling at these times will ensure the results get into Monday's paper.

● Monday: Calls will be taken up to 8 p.m.

● Wednesday: Do not call.

Results phoned in after 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays will not get into the next edition of the paper. Calls will be taken up to 10 p.m. on Thursdays.

Also coaches, please be patient. With such a large volume of calls coming in, the phones will most likely be busy on occasion. Please call back.

As always, we appreciate your cooperation.

Take his card, not his clubs

By Marty Budner
staff writer

Plymouth Salem graduate Jeff Roth is back on the right track after having his professional players card taken away last year.

JEFF ROTH is without a playing card.

But he still owns a set of golf clubs and is employed. He figures that's not all bad.

Roth, the newest member of the three-man professional staff at West Bloomfield's Tam O'Shanter Country Club, participated last summer on the Tournament Players Series (TPS) golf circuit.

Although he didn't fare well enough to regain his TPS playing card, Roth, a 27-year-old Farmington resident, doesn't consider the experience a failure.

"I certainly was disappointed I didn't regain my player's card just to see what I could do a second year," said Roth last week on a quiet April morning inside the Tam O'Shanter clubhouse. "But I don't feel like I failed.

"Having the kind of stroke average I did, being on the money list, finishing fourth in one tournament and reaching some personal goals, I feel I didn't fail at all. I just didn't play good enough to regain my card.

"I definitely played better than a high percentage of guys who are out there all the time," he said.

THE TPS IS a satellite series — a minor league, for sake of comparison — where golfers refine their game in hope of gaining glorification as a main-tour member alongside such stars as Jack Nicklaus, Tom Watson or Craig Stadler.

The series, co-sponsored by the PGA tour, the PGA Club Pros of America and local businesses, consisted of 9 events in 1984. Individually, Roth was sponsored by upper Michigan's Sugarloaf Resort and various friends.

Roth's best TPS showing was a fourth-place finish at the Everett Open in Seattle last August when he pocketed $7,300. For the series, the Plymouth Salem High School graduate had a 71.8 TPS stroke average, was 47th on the money list among more than 300 people and averaged a little over $1,000 per event.

"I thought I did pretty darn good considering I never played major pro golf before and that I played against some of the guys coming off the main tour like Dennis Watson, Peter Jacobson and Chi Chi Rodriguez," he said.

"I figured I played in some 45 tournaments last summer. I broke even on the TPS series, but it was playing in all the other tournaments to keep sharp that really hurt the pocketbook. If I had to do it again, I might not schedule as many events.

"I learned that when you're playing golf at that level it's the guy who has the best psychological game that does well," said Roth. "It's not the best physical game anymore because everybody can hit from tee to green. It's the guy with the best mental approach who can win the most."

ONLY THE TPS' leading money winner at year-end gains an automatic exemption to the main tour the following year. The others have two chances to requalify for the TPS.

Roth, who graduated from the University of Arizona in 1979 with a business degree in real estate, failed to requalify at regional championships held in Chatanooga and California.

Roth, who quit his job as assistant club pro at Wabeek Country Club to enter the TPS series when he originally qualified in the fall of 1983, was left without a job and without the tour card.

"I made a few phone calls around December, and I eventually was able to get the job out here. I kind of staggered through the holidays — I had some personal problems, too — but I wasn't really depressed about not making the tour. I was thinking about staying out in California, but (Michigan) is where I have a lot of friends."

Will Roth return to the TPS for another shot at the big time?

"You never say never, but the circumstances would have to be extraordinary. Right now, I'd have to say no," he said. "My No. 1 object is to get my own job. With my background, experience and playing knowledge, everything's kind of complete for me. But you have to be patient and wait for the right opportunity.

Kids, Would You Knowingly Let Your Best Friend Commit Suicide?

Of course not. But chances are one (or more) of your friends has been drinking and/or using drugs. They may have become preoccupied with drugs, talking, planning, wishing about the next time they get high. You may have noticed them guzzling alcohol or gulping pills. Perhaps you've noticed how they have lost interest in school, friends, family and other activities that used to be important in their lives.

Chemical dependency is a disease. It often begins in the teenage years or before. It will continue to get worse unless something is done.

Teenagers can help their friends recover from chemical dependency. The first step is to become aware of the presence of chemical dependency and learn what you as a friend can do to help.

Catherine McAuley Health Center provides free information on teenage drug and alcohol abuse. You can receive that information by calling 572-4300. Your call will be kept confidential.

Do your friend a favor. Call today.

upcoming things to do

● CIVIC THEATRE
The Garden City Civic Theatre production of "Fools" by Neil Simon will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday, April 19-20; 2:30 p.m. Sunday, April 21, and 8 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, April 25-27, at the O'Leary Auditorium at 6500 Middlebelt, next to Garden City High School. The story is about a 19th-century Russian village cursed by stupidity.

● COMMUNITY CHOIR
Schoolcraft College's Community Choir will celebrate George Handel's and J.S. Bach's 300th birthdays in a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, April 21, at First United Methodist Church, 22124 Garrison at Mason, in Dearborn. The choir from the Livonia college will perform works by Handel, Bach, Mozart and Schutz. The free concert is open to the public.

● SPOTLIGHT PLAYERS
The Spotlight Players production of Woody Allen's "God" will be presented at 8 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays, April 19-20 and 26-27, at the John Glenn Auditorium in Westland. Tickets are $4.50 for adults, $3.50 for students (under 18) and $3.50 for seniors (over 62). For further information, call 729-6453 or 595-6117.

● IN CONCERT
Violis Margaret Lang VanLunen and soprano Holly Wagner will be featured soloists in an hourlong concert at 4 p.m. Sunday, April 21, at the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth. VanLunen, a former Plymouth resident, is a member of the Renaissance City Chamber Players. She will perform works by Vivaldi, Amram and Hindemith. The free concert is open to the public.

● CONTESTANTS VIE
"The Game Show," giving shoppers a chance to be on a real game show with prizes, is coming Saturday, April 20, to Wonderland Center in Livonia. Show times will be at noon, 3 and 6 p.m. at Eaton Place. Free tickets are available at Wonderland stores beginning at 10 a.m. Friday, April 19. Tickets may be filled out and deposited in entry boxes on Saturday, April 20, 15 minutes prior to show time.

● ROCK GUITAR
Bo Diddley, rock 'n' roll guitarist, has been added to the lineup of stars who play Monday nights at Jamie's on 7 in Livonia. Diddley will be appearing May 6. Next attraction is the Coasters, of the record hit "Charlie Brown," appearing April 29.

● HUNTERS' RUN
Bess Bonnier on piano plays from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Friday-Saturday, April 19-20, as part of Larry Nozero & Friends at Hunters' Run in Livonia. Dan Jordan plays bass Friday, and Jaribu Shadid is on bass Saturday. Ray Ohls on piano, Ray Tini on bass and Tom Brown on drums join Nozero from 7:30-11:30 p.m. Sunday, April 21.

● 'SUGAR BABIES'
Mickey Rooney and Ann Miller return to Detroit with "Sugar Babies," Tuesday, April 23, through Sunday, May 5, at the Masonic Temple Theatre. The production played the Fisher Theatre in 1979, in a pre-Broadway run. It has been described as "the ultimate burlesque musical." Tickets are on sale at the box office, phone 832-2232, and all Ticket World outlets.

● THE PLACE
Shoo Bee Doo (Reginald Fields) opens Friday-Saturday, April 19-20, at the Place in Royal Oak. The jazz bassist and vocalist will be appearing there through Saturday, June 1. He got his nickname on the Oakland University campus where, as a student, he used to sing skat lyrics.

● 'GOD'S FAVORITE'
Several area residents are appearing in the Rosedale Community Players production of the comedy "God's Favorite," which Neil Simon based on the Book of Job. Cast members include Bobby Silberberg of Farmington Hills and Hal Bross and Mike Udvardi, both of Redford. Performances are Fridays-Saturdays, April 26-27, May 3-4, 10 and 11. Dinner will be served on April 27 and May 4 at a cost of $12.50. Remaining performances are presented cabaret-style, at a cost of $5. For ticket information call the Upstage Playhouse at 532-1010 anytime or Margaret Bross at 537-7716.

● PRE-TOUR CONCERTS
Musical Youth International will present the first of its pre-tour concerts at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Sunday, April 21, at Universal Mall in Warren. Conductors are Paul Barber, music coordinator for the Farmington Public Schools, and Kevin Cushman, choral director for Detroit Catholic Central.

Ann Miller and Mickey Rooney co-star in the musical "Sugar Babies," opening Tuesday, April 23, at the Masonic Temple Theatre.

Culinary awards go to area chefs

Area chefs and apprentices were among those who received special awards at the recent 12th annual Hospitality Industry Culinary Art Salon at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

A special award for Best Whole Buffet: Independent Restaurant Team went to Joseph Decker of the Golden Mushroom in Southfield, Brian Polcyn of the Lark in West Bloomfield, Edward Janos of the Money Tree in Detroit and William Wolf of Sparkey Herberts in Grosse Pointe, for An American Buffet.

John Adamski of the Golden Mushroom was honored as Apprentice Best of Show for his cold food platter, which also earned him an apprentice gold medal.

In the professional category, Jeffrey Murray of the Double Eagle in Troy received a silver medal for hot food displayed cold. Christopher Hessler of the Golden Mushroom in Southfield and Tim Coyne of the Round Table Club in Plymouth each got bronze medals for their individual cold food platters.

Taming the shrew:
Production brings out elements that would delight common folk

Performances of the Actors Alliance Theatre Company production of "The Taming of the Shrew" by William Shakespeare continue at 8:30 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays and 6:30 p.m. Sundays through May 12 at Lycee International in Southfield. For ticket information, call 642-1326.

Cathie Breidenbach

Director Jeff Nahan brings out the lusty, rollicking energy of "Taming of the Shrew" in the Actors Alliance Theatre Company's production of Shakespeare's comedy.

Nahan puts "Shrew" squarely where Shakespeare intended it — as a play to please the rowdy common folk and not just the more thoughtful upper classes. His direction of the fine Actors Alliance production clearly favors the robust preferences of ordinary people over intellectuals and would have set the earthy folk in the pits at the old Globe Theatre of Shakespeare's time to stomping their feet and roaring approval at the double entendre and the gymnastic energy of the cast.

Nahan's casting is inspired. Players represent the laughable gamut of humanity with masterly precision. The rotund Jonathon Round comes off well as the overwrought father of two daughters, demure sweety-pie Bianca, played excellently by Nicole Hakim, and "the shrew" of the title, a holy terror named Kate that Annette DePetris plays superbly.

Baptista refuses to allow Bianca to marry until her older daughter, the formidable Kate, is married off. Luckily Petruchio (Glen Allen Pruet) arrives in town and Bianca's other suitors convince him to woo Kate. Petruchio is a swashbuckling devil hungry for Kate's ample dowry and equal to the task of taming her to get it. With a leer in his eye and the astuteness of a grass-roots psychologist, Petruchio sets to the task.

TO THE DELIGHTED consternation of his friends and his father-in-law, he succeeds in making Kate bow to his authority.

Kate is no woman to be tamed by words alone, though they be those of Shakespeare the master, and the Actors Alliance production is no parade of words, but a veritable gymnastics event with abundant pratfalls, somersaults, and slinging of rebellious women over the shoulder cave-man style. The physicalness of the acting is a pleasure that is only occasionally overdone.

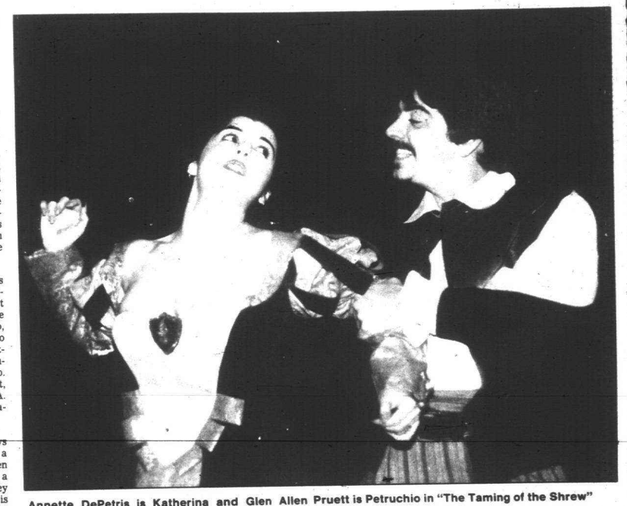
Modern playgoers relish arguing how Shakespeare intended us to interpret Kate's capitulation. There's the feminist version which says Kate is a tough survivor in a masculine world and she shrewdly learns to use docile obedience to get what she wants. The traditional (do I hear chauvinist?) view maintains that Kate comes to accept the wisdom that the husband must be master over his household just as the soverign must rule the realm or the captain command his ship if there is to be peace and prosperity.

Just how much tongue in cheek is in Kate's "Lord and Master" speech in Act V becomes the perennial question in "Taming of the Shrew."

No question that there's plenty of robust tongue-in-cheek in the abundant puns in Shakespeare's comedy and in Jeff Nahan's clever casting. In Shakespeare's time women's parts were played by young men. Nahan, in an intriguing reversal of this tradition, casts a woman, capable Irene Schweyer, in the male role of Petruchio's agile young servant, Grumio.

Nahan builds well on Shakespeare's balance of characters. Lucentio, a spacey, love-struck young aristocrat played by David Radford, needs the practical smarts of his servant, Tranio, to pull off an identity switch and woo Bianca. Wayne David Parker is a lighthearted and lightfooted pleasure as Lucentio's quick, agile servant, Tranio. Lucentio's other servant, the big lout, Biondello, well played by Charles A. Greenia, rounds out the characterizations.

JOHN MICHAEL Manfredi plays Hortensio who woos and weds a wealthy widow (Jeanne Taylor) when he sees he cannot have Bianca. He's a practical man content to marry money however it comes. The widow he gets is a big, boney, older woman, in comic contrast to the delicate Bianca.



Annette DePetris is Katherina and Glen Allen Pruett is Petruchio in "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Actors Alliance Theatre Company.

"The Wrath of God" (1972), 12:30 tonight on Ch. 7. Originally 111 minutes. TV time slot: 135 minutes.

"The Wrath of God" isn't a really good movie but it's full of action and full of itself. That is to say it makes no pretense for being anything but a shoot-'em-up western. Robert Mitchum — who seems to perform either very well of very poorly in most movies — is at his best here. Rita Hayworth, Frank Langella, Victor Buono and John Colicos co-star along with Paula Pritchett, a mesmerizing beauty who unfortunately dropped from sight soon after this film was made.

Rating: $2.90.

"The Long Goodbye" (1973), 1 Friday night on Ch. 50. Originally 112 minutes. TV time slot: unavailable.

If you like Robert Altman, you'll like "The Long Goodbye." If you like Raymond Chandler, you'll hate it. Director Altman brings his decidedly busy, inconstant style to "The Long Goodbye," adapted by veteran screenwriter Leigh Bracket from the novel by Chandler. You have to appreciate the movie's tone, which smacks of Chandler's own contempt for things phony. But Elliott Gould plays gumshoe Philip Marlow with a little too much malice in his heart, and the fringe characters are not nearly so well integrated into the film as they are the novel. A curious assemblage of co-stars includes Nina Van Pallandt, Sterling Hayden, Henry Gibson, Jim Bouton and Warren Berlinger.

Rating: $2.60.

"Husbands" (1970), 8 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 50. Originally 138 minutes. TV time slot: 150 minutes.

Talk about a movie that's full of itself, but in a pretentious, smothering way, and you've got "Husbands," directed by John Cassavetes and starring Cassavetes and his best buddies, Peter Falk and Ben Gazzara. Like most introspective films, this one comes off as self-indulgent. The acting is fair but it's hard to separate the good and bad performances because the script is so banal.

Rating: $2.

"Cat People" (1942), 1:15 Saturday night on Ch. 2. Originally 73 minutes. TV time slot: 80 minutes.

The more recent "Cat People" (1982), starring the hypnotizing Nastassia Kinski, wasn't bad, but the original is even better. Kinski and company managed to engage our curiosity and repulse our sensibilities as half-human/half-cat maneaters. Simone Simon does the same thing in the original, but with a lot less on-screen violence. Actually, that's an unfair critique of the more recent "Cat People," which stylishly blended violence and imagination to form a genuinely eerie film. But, on the other hand, doing more with less is always appreciated here, and the first "Cat People" manages the same eeriness with fewer special effects and even more imagination. Credit producer Val Lewton for that. Tom Conway and Jack Holt costar.

Rating: $3.15.

Viola soloist makes a difference

By Neil Galanter
special writer

review

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's last concert of the 39th season Sunday was a different type of symphony concert in two ways.

One, we heard a viola soloist, Paul Doktor, as opposed to the standard violin, piano or singer that we usually hear as soloists at an orchestral concert. Two, the solo viola piece was a concerto written by a very brilliant composer who has made his home in Plymouth and at Schoolcraft College for the last 16 years, Robert W. Jones.

Johan van der Merwe, Plymouth Symphony conductor and music director, began the afternoon with a reading of American composer Samuel Barber's Overture to "The School for Scandal." Van der Merwe led the orchestra through this work, in a performance which had an equal amount of ups and downs. Strong woodwind playing was evident throughout the entire overture. However, the strings seemed much too restrained and they seemed also to lack the showers of color which are highly necessary in this piece.

The woodwinds had that color but, unfortunately, the string section did not. Despite this problem, there were enough nice sections in the span of the work to make for an enjoyable listening experience.

THE BARBER presentation was followed by the highlight of the concert and that was violinist Paul Doktor's most listenable performance of Jones' concerto for viola and orchestra. Doktor made his viola move with spark and virtuosity, while producing a consistent, velvety rich tone quality.

He clearly showed how enthralling the viola can be as a solo instrument and that its place is not just merely as a harmony or orchestral instrument.

Jones helped cement this idea also, with the piece. He utilizes the viola in all good taste and he combines the mellowness of the solo instrument with a variety of effective orchestrations. One particularly enlightening aspect of the work is in the third movement. It's a scherzo and a quartet. After a rollicking scherzo, assisted by only some percussion and two harps, the viola then becomes the lead in an unaccompanied quartet made up of three other violas.

This is a unique and effective orchestration, to say the least. And the mixed bag of material that Jones hands out to the listener with this piece saves the viola from being the sadly neglected solo instrument that it is.

Van der Merwe and the orchestra provided good strong support for Doktor and Jones' concerto; as a result the concert bubbled to a joyous halt for intermission.

THEN, WHAT could be next but Tchaikovsky's heartwarming Symphony No. 6 in B Minor, better known as the "Pathetique." This is really a virtuoso work for orchestra, and the symphony had some trouble with a lot of the difficult passageworks and ensemble layout in the score.

The structure of the ensemble playing in the string section here just needs more direction because there were too many areas where things seemed to fall apart. One plague was a series of weak attacks in phrase areas and weak releases out of them.

Even though the Plymouth Symphony appeared to be wrestling, there were still some finely climaxed points in the reading and, you bet, once again, those faithful woodwinds came through for us.

Throughout my experiences at the Plymouth Symphony it has been evident that the winds are definitely the orchestra's strongest section. The percussion is commendable also and so are the strings, but these just need a touch more polish and for sure in time that will come.

Next season will be the orchestra's 40th anniversary season and I, as well as many other followers of the ensemble, look forward to hearing it again. The concerts always produce a certain homey atmosphere that stamps the day a special one.

Playhouse hosts cabaret night

The 4th Street Playhouse will host a "Cabaret Evening" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, April 21, at Mr. Christian's, 1812 N. Main at 12 Mile in Royal Oak.

Comedian Tim Allen, who has been featured around the country and performs regularly at Detroit's Comedy Castle, will headline the evening. Also featured will be singer and commercial actor Davis Gloff, magician Mike Thornton, comedian Wayne Brinston and performances of Detroit's Mime Street and the Paradigm Dance Theatre.

WHND "Honey" Radio D.J. Tim Nixon will be master of ceremonies for the Cabaret Evening.

The night will be a benefit for the 4th Street Playhouse theater renovation. Reservations are $30 per person or $50 per couple. For more information, call the theater office at 543-3666.

Theater presents tragicomedy

A sexual scandal and a mental breakdown are the basis of the tragicomedy hit "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little," opening at 8 p.m. Friday, April 19, at the State Fair Theatre in Detroit.

The drama is by Pulitzer-Prize-winning playwright Paul Zindel.

For further information, call MMB Productions at 961-7908.

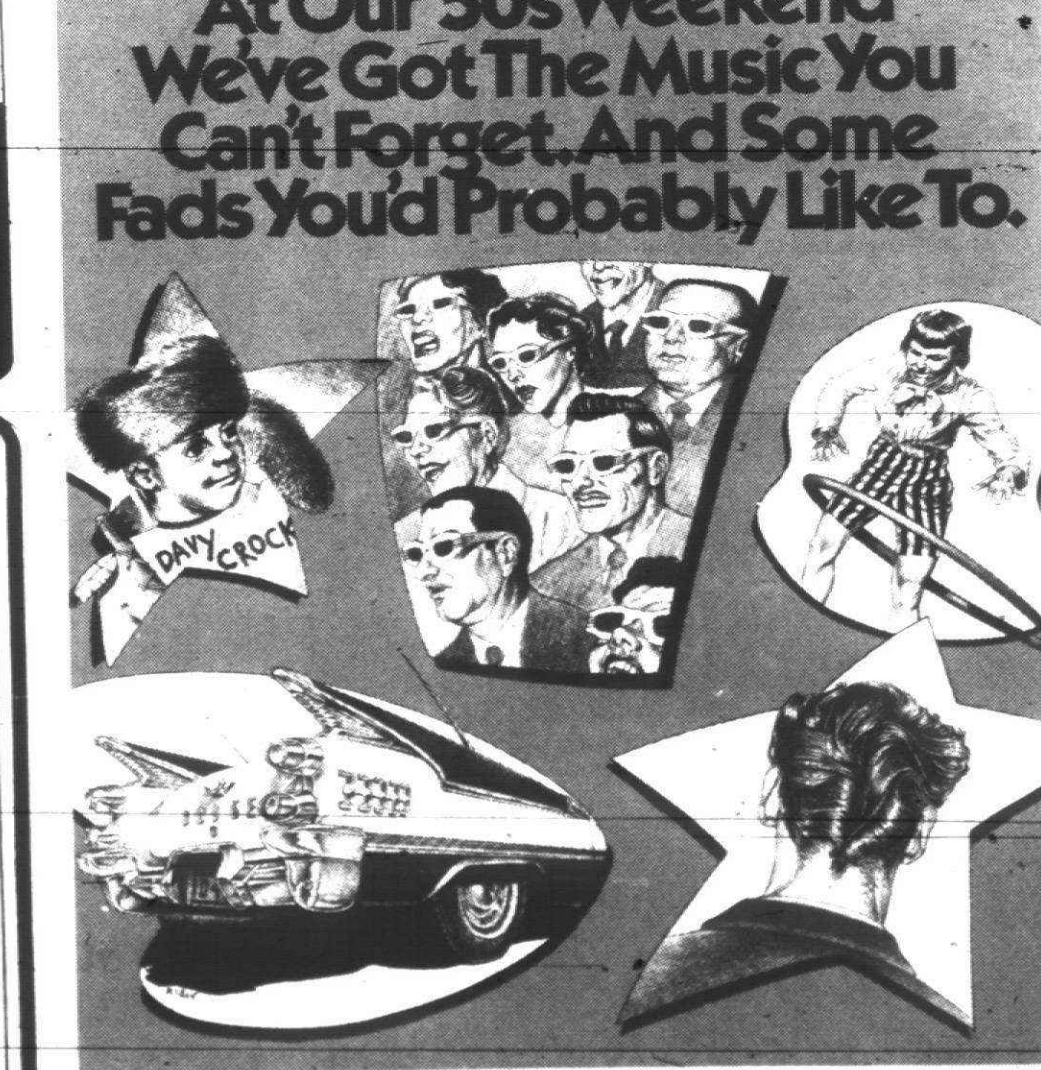
New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss
No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work
BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.
"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"
What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.
Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!
Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.
And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.
Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee
You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.
If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!
$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNA LABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-21) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. You really do deserve to be thin.

At Our '50s Weekend We've Got The Music You Can't Forget. And Some Fads You'd Probably Like To.



This weekend, along with live bands and a sock-hop, we have a lot of other really keen, neat-o attractions.
For instance, Graceland has graced us with Elvis' guitar and gold tuxedo. And from Harrah's Automobile Collection, we have James Dean's Mercury. And all of it in real live 3-D.
So call 271-1976 for more information. And then be-bop on out to the great American museum that's also great fun.

These owls seem ready to fly, but they are only made of carefully cut paper.

Hazel Owens spends hours cutting paper to create realistic, three-dimensional designs.

Paper cutting captures realism in 3-D

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

It looks as though Hazel Owens' hobby is for the birds.

The Garden City resident makes paper sculptures of owls and other feathered friends. The three-dimensional works, called "vue d'optique," almost look as though they could fly away at any time.

When Owens started her hobby, not many people were doing it.

"It's not something like crocheting," said Owens, who will have a display at the Craft Gallery show 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 5. The show will take place at Roma's of Garden City, on Cherry Hill between Merriman and Venoy.

IN OWENS' words, "you get a picture and start cutting" to make the paper works, which she calls pictures.

Each work is made of three to six layers of the same print. Owens cuts up each print and "feathers" the edges on a piece by making many very small cuts along them. She "sculpts" each piece by slightly folding it on a tolling tool and glues it onto another layer. The figure, lying on a background, is framed in a shadow box, enhancing the three-dimensional effect.

A picture may take 2½ days to 1½ weeks to complete. Owens has spent as much as eight or nine straight hours cutting the pieces. The pictures sell for around $25 to $250 each.

OWENS IS surprised by the reactions she has received about her work. Once a woman asked her if she wanted to buy some feathers for the craft, thinking Owens uses feathers in her hobby, she said.

"She had to get down and really look at them (to see the) scissor cuts," Owens said.

While Owens' biggest sellers are her owls, birds and ducks, her other subjects include animals (such as poodles and other dogs), landscapes and even people — "something for everybody," she says. On a picture of a woman reading a book, Owens cut the edges of the woman's frilly collar to give it a soft appearance.

Owens began the hobby 14 years ago, while she operated her own beauty shop. She received a plaque of flowers and decided to try to make her own. She never took lessons in the field but learned by herself.

"I just picked it up and started doing it," said Owens, who was a beautician for 16 years.

NOW OWENS and her husband, Donald, both retired, keep busy making and selling the pictures. Donald makes the shadow boxes and helps his wife take them to various craft shows around Michigan and in Tennessee, eight shows a year.

"We load the van up with pictures and go somewhere. It pays for your weekend," she said. "We have a lot of fun. (I'll continue) as long as my fingers hold out. I like doing it. It's fun. It keeps us young in spirit."

Owens enjoys the craft so much that once when she was hospitalized, she kept telling the doctor she had to get back to her pictures, she said. The doctor asked what she meant, so she had some pictures brought to the hospital. The result? Three pictures were sold while Owens was still in bed.

"You're constantly replacing what you already sold," she said.

"It disturbs me if the phone rings, or if I have to quit and go to the store or something. It's almost an obsession with you."

The ruffles of this woman's collar have been carefully cut to suggest a soft, feather-like material. The black-box setting adds to the three-dimensional effect.

Architects try to save 3 state landmarks

Since historic preservation has not only become acceptable but well-nigh popular, it seems appropiate to consider three unusual, historic structures in Michigan's UP — two lighthouses and a blast furnace.

One, the Point Iroquois Lightstation, was opened to the public last summer for the first time and will include a museum and sales area in the near future, largely through the efforts of the Brimley/Bay Mills Historical Society. The other two, the Point Peninsla Lightstation and the Bay Furnace Ruins can also be visited.

Metropolitan area architects, first William Kessler, Detroit, and more recently Louis Dean Kilgore of Birmingham have been involved in the restoration plans.

Kilgore said "The light houses, really called lightstations when the keeper lived there, were built as prototypes. They are not in use now, but they are recognized as landmarks."

The good news is that restoration work is progressing and people are gradually aligning themselves with the cause. The bad news is the restoration work, under the auspices of the U.S. Forestry Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, goes slowly because as Kilgore explained, "This type of government spending has a very low priority in the scheme of things (it may have the lowest) and operates on a 'funds available situation'."

POINT IROQUIS lightstation, which stands high above the waters of Lake Superior, was originally accessible by boat from Sault Ste. Marie, 15 miles east. Later it could be reached by a dirt road along the shore. Today Point Iroquis, better known as Bay Mills, is in the Hiawatha National Forest by the Bay Mills Indian Reservation. It is a popular picnic area.

The lightstation marked the narrow channel between the shallow sand beaches and shoals of Point Iroquois and the rocky reefs of Gros Cap on the Canadian side of Whitefish Bay.

Point Iroquois, named for the Iroquois warriors who were massacred there in 1662 by the Ojibway, was a landmark for French explorers, early fur traders and missionaries.

The Point Iroquois lightstation is still a complete unit. The 65 foot brick light tower and adjoining lightkeeper's residence were built in 1870. A woodshed and a two-story brick residence for the assistant lightkeeper were added in 1902.

POINT PENINSULA lightstation, built in 1865, is six miles across Little Bay de Noc from Escanada at Point au Bay.

Kessler wrote in his description of the area, "Point Peninsula points south and is at the head of a series of dangerous shoals including Eleven Foot and Minneapolis Shoals, which are the watery graves of many wooden-bottomed ships. As early as 1856, the need for a light at Point Peninsula had been recognized . . ."

The Kessler report continues saying the Point is known to have been a favored Indian campsite and noting the site of an Indian Buriel Ground to the east of the lightstation.

Three miles north of the lightstation is the village of Stonington and in the late '40s, the Stonington Grange made needed repairs when demolition was a threat.

The lighthouse, built in 1865, is a 40-foot tall brick tower. The original beacon was an oil lamp and reflectors. The lightkeeper and his family lived in a residence on the north side of the tower. As more lights were added along the reefs and shoals, the lightstation lost its importance. After 1922 when the oil lamp was replaced with an automatic acetylene light, there was no need for a keeper.

In 1959, fire destroyed everything but the brick tower, and as the area became a popular picnic/recreation area, vandalism caused further deterioration. It was listed with the National Register of Historic Places in 1975.

THE BAY FURNACE RUINS are just west of Munising on the south shore of Lake Superior at Christmas.

Kilgore wrote, "They are the ruins of a blast furnace for refining iron ore into steel. The Ruins are impressive and unexpected when one first comes upon them."

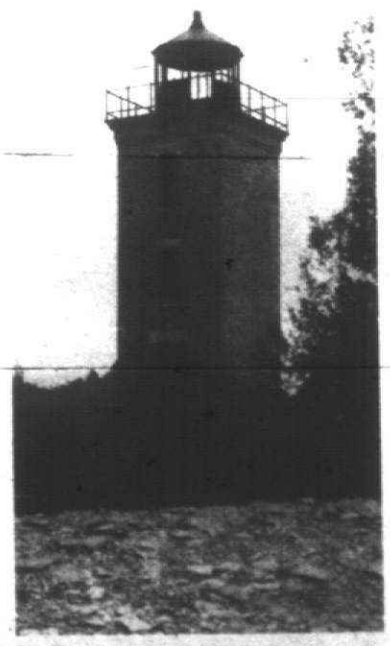
The furnace was operated 1870-1877 by the Bay Furnace Co. and supported the community of Onoto.

The furnace was strategically located between the ore mines to the west and the steel mills of the lower Great Lakes. Nearby were hardwood forests with an almost limitless fuel supply. Onoto and the company were destroyed by fire in 1877, and only the crumbling ruins of the furnace remain.

The pyramid shaped furnace is 35 feet square at the base. As recommended by the architect, a fence has been put around the furnace to keep sightseers away from the loose stones, some of which are 3 feet by 3 feet by 3 feet.

Some of the big stones have also been secured in place. A covering over the existing structure, to protect it from the elements, is still to come. There are broad picniking and camping areas near the furnace site.

Kilgore's interest in these projects is to motivate people to become concerned about the preservation of these unique monuments, to visit these places and to support the projects either by writing to the U.S. Forestry Division of the Department of Agriculture or by contributions.



Pt. Peninsula lightstation, near Escanba, was built in 1865.

Late afternoon backlighting gave Monte Nagler the opportunity to produce this dramatic photo of Saguaro cactus. Notice how the bright edge around each cactus gives the picture important "depth."

Backlighting adds drama

Monte Nagler

How many times have you been ready to take a picture only to find yourself inadvertently moving your position to get the sun blasting directly into the subject?

Unfortunately, many photographers are under the false impression that full, frontal lighting is a must and that they must take advantage of every light ray available.

The result is pictures of squinty-eyed people with harsh shadows in their faces. These unflattering shots frequently end up forgotten in the bottom of a drawer.

FULL FRONTAL lighting is, of course, not necessary. On the contrary, doing the reverse — a complete 180 degree reverse — and placing the sun behind the subject can give pleasing and often dramatic results.

Backlighting creates a bright edge or rim around the subject. It tends to separate it from the background. Backlighting, especially when shining through a soft mist or filtering through trees, will produce sparkling and translucent results.

Remember to shield the lens from the direct rays of the sun. If you don't, internal reflections and glare may be recorded on the film.

Using a lens hood or shading the lens with your hand will solve this potential problem.

When photographing people using backlighting, you must pay special attention to exposure. A bright background will tend to trick the camera's meter and you'll underexpose the picture, resulting in too dark a subject.

TO OVERCOME this, move in close to your subject and take a meter reading. Then, move back to your original position and use this reading to expose the shot.

Remember, too, that "fill-in" flash will add sparkle and life to your subject's face while maintaining all of the advantages of backlighting.

Proper exposure for using "fill-in" flash is easy to obtain. Double the guide number of your flash unit and divide this number by the pre-determined f-stop of the scene to be photographed (make sure the shutter speed is correct for flash synchronization).

The answer will be the number of feet you should place yourself from the subject to get a pleasing "fill-in" effect.

In my next column, I'll take backlighting one step further and tell you how you can easily obtain truly dramatic backlit photographs that will bring you acclaim from your family and friends.

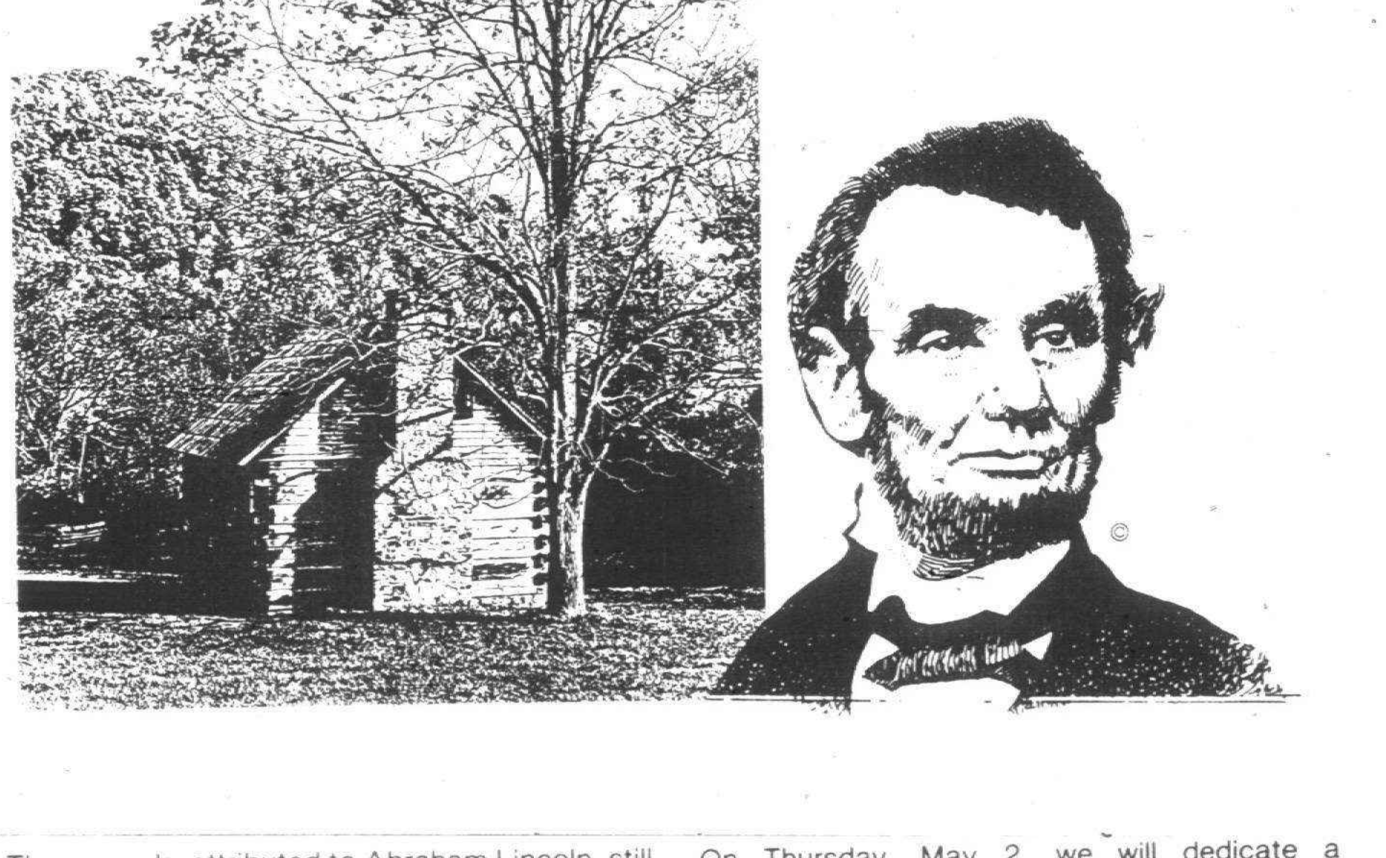
"The Strength of a Nation Lies in the Homes of Its People."
— Abraham Lincoln



These words, attributed to Abraham Lincoln, still confirm a basic American freedom--the right to own, use and transfer proprerty.

The National Association of Realtors has set aside the week of

April 28--May 4, 1985
PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK.

This weeklong observance reaffirms the rights that come with owning property. For most of us this means a home of our own. And as homeowners we tend to put down roots, to become involved in local government processes and to care about what takes place in our community and neighborhood.

On Thursday, May 2, we will dedicate a CREATIVE LIVING REAL ESTATE SECTION to Private Property Week. Look for this special edition filled with beautiful homes listed by area Realtors.

The right to home ownership is precious and must never be taken for granted. We think it is a right that should be perserved for future generations.
