The Canton Connection

SIGNS OF SPRING will be on display and for sale at the Canton Historical Museum flower sale, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., May 18-19 at Canton Center and Proctor roads. Bedding, plants, flats of flowers, pots and other gardening goods will be available.

A SPRING FESTIVAL will take place Friday, Saturday and Sunday at St. Thomas A'Becket Church, 555 S. Lilley Road. All-day ride tickets will be sold for $7. The event features Vegas Night, bingo, performers, crafts, an all-you-can-eat mostaccioli dinner on Saturday and an all-you-can-eat pancake breakfast Sunday. A '50s and '60s dance will be held Friday night.

CLEAN-UP WEEK is the theme for May 4-10. All residents are requested by the Canton Beautification Committee to clean up their own lots as well as adjacent public or private areas. "Think how really great your neighborhood will look, and a side benefit is that most people are reluctant to be the first to litter a trash-free area," said Beautification Committee members. The effort is part of a five-week environmental improvement project launched by the group.

42 BUSINESS PERSONS have been nominated for Canton Chamber of Commerce Small Business Person of the Year, one of whom will be named the winner at the chamber's annual dinner Thursday at the Mayflower Hotel Meeting House in Plymouth. For ticket information, interested persons may call 523-0668.

A GRAND OPENING celebration for Larson Express Package Service Wednesday was termed a success by Trustee Stephen Larson, co-owner of the new enterprise with his wife, Renie, as well as Larry and Sue Reed. The 7365 Lilley Road business in the Pilgrim Village Center opened its doors in November, but since it recently became a Canton Chamber member, owners decided to stage the event welcoming about 100 guests and accommodating customers at the same time, Larson said.

"MAY CLEANUP" also is being declared by the township. Canton residents may dispose of most items by bringing them to the township DPW yard at 4847 Sheldon Road, south of Michigan Avenue. Two large containers will be available all month, including the weekends. Twigs and branches will be accepted only during weekdays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Canton residency is required. For more information, call 397-1000, Ext. 344 or 345.

GIVE FROM THE HEART is the plea of the American Red Cross. It takes all types of blood to ensure a safe and adequate supply of blood for the community, say Red Cross officials. Donating will allow you to learn more about your blood and help save lives at the same time. Blood may be given by anyone in good health who weighs a minimum of 110 pounds and is between 17 and 65 years old. A "bloodmobile" will be located from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at Bushnell Congregational Church, 21355 Meadowbrook Road, Northville. For an appointment, call Jean Spang, 272-3550. Another bloodmobile will be located from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tuesday May 28 at University Convalescent Nursing Home. For an appointment, call Kay Kermod, 427-8270.

Trouble astir for home schools

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Dr. John Hoben, superintendent, is proposing that the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education consider going to court to resolve home teaching and non-approved school issues. School districts are losing students to both home and non-approved schools, and as a result, a "lot of kids are not getting a proper education," said Hoben at an April 22 school board meeting. A resolution Hoben drafted recently was passed by the Michigan Association of School Administrators (MASA) executive board. The action urges state legislators, the State Board of Education and other organizations to "discuss what steps could be taken to force the issue on this," said Hoben, an MASA executive board member. "For three years we've watched (non-approved and home schools) grow and grow. By law, it's parents' responsibility in this state to see that their kids have a proper education. We're just trying to see that that's enforced. "We're the ones pushing pretty hard on this," added Hoben. "I'd like to pursue it through the courts if necessary. Someone's got to stand up to them." NON-APPROVED, non-public schools, most of which are "affiliated with Christian fundamentalist churches supported politically by the religious right," have increased in number from four in 1978 to more than 250 in 1982, according to Plymouth-Canton school officials. Central Christian School (formerly Central Baptist Temple School), next door to Central Middle School on Church Street in Plymouth, is among them.

WHILE MANY area families are teaching children at home — several through the Home Based Education Program of Clonlara School in Ann Arbor — those contacted by the Observer were reluctant to be interviewed or photographed. Some fear they'll be sued by Plymouth-Canton schools. At least one family is engaged in a legal battle with the district. Others are afraid of being charged with child neglect, or that their children will be harassed.

One home teacher, who insisted her name not be used, said her son has prospered since leaving public school Jan. 1.

"From the day we told him he wasn't going back to public school, his whole outlook changed. The whole peer pressure thing involving drugs, drinking, clothes — it's like this big load was lifted," she said. "His grades were suffer-

Canton Beautification Committee member Tillie Schultz was among the volunteers giving away tree seedlings at township hall recently. "Little children as well as big children of all ages" lined up to receive dogwood, blue spruce, redwood and mountain ash seedlings, said Schultz, who worked from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. April 27. "We want to spruce up Canton and make it look pretty around here," she said. Thousands of saplings planted the same day at Canton's DPW yard will be donated to residents on future arbor days.

Residents' plea: crime-fighting efforts needed

By Diane Gale
staff writer

About five residents a week call the Canton Police Department regarding crime prevention, but the bureau designed to field the queries was eliminated, due to "lack of staff," late last year.

The Crime Prevention unit was dissolved in December. The unit is expected to be reinstated because trustees and police officers consider the bureau a high priority, according to comments made at recent meetings concerning the department.

A main project in crime prevention is the neighborhood watch program, which included approximately 30 residential groups as of late last year. Police supplied the neighborhood watch groups — often called the eyes and ears of the community — with breaking and entering data in their areas as well as hints on how to prevent burglaries.

"We talked about home security, and we gave suggestions," said Officer James Hanna. He worked in the unit in

Cops petition board for more clerical help

Canton trustees will decide the fate of clerical staffing in the police department at Tuesday's meeting.

The police steering committee, made up of police department employees, met Wednesday with police committee members Robert Padgett and Loren Bennett, trustees, to discuss position proposals.

For about a month, the steering committee has expressed a need for a full-time clerk/typist in the records bureau and a secretary for the patrol division.

At the close of the two-hour meeting, both committees agreed to request trustee authorization for the full-time clerk position and the hiring of temporary clerks "as needed to assist in catching up on the backlog of work," according to the proposal. The majority of the work to be done by the part-time people would be to clear away an accumulation of paperwork required by state statute, said Canton Lt. Alex Wilson.

THE REQUESTS are expected to receive approval by the board.

Creation of the secretarial position will be delayed until after a police

For the first time ever, Canton's Historical Society and Country Festival Committee are co-sponsoring a spring carnival.

Carnival collaborators hope for trustees' OK

By Diane Gale
staff writer

It's been a bumpy road, but preparations are under way for a carnival at the K mart parking lot next week.

The future of the carnival, slated to run May 14-19 at New Towne Plaza, rests on the expected approval from the board of trustees at Tuesday's meeting. A different twist this year is that the Historical Society, which usually sponsors the event alone, will have a co-sponsor — the Canton Country Festival Committee.

Also this year the W.G. Wade Carnival Show will be replaced by the Amusement Corp. of America. Ramco Gershenson, the owner of New Towne Plaza, is coordinating the details for the event.

"We made a change in the companies this year, because we decided to look for a different management style (from the Wade shows)," said Ron Sevold, Ramco director of management and public affairs.

"The reason it (the carnival) has become so popular is that it draws people and this is a community site with no effect on a residential area," Sevold said. "What we would like this (carnival) to develop into is a showcase for

The runners head for the finish line in the 50-yard dash for women at last week's special olympics track and field competition at Bentley High School.

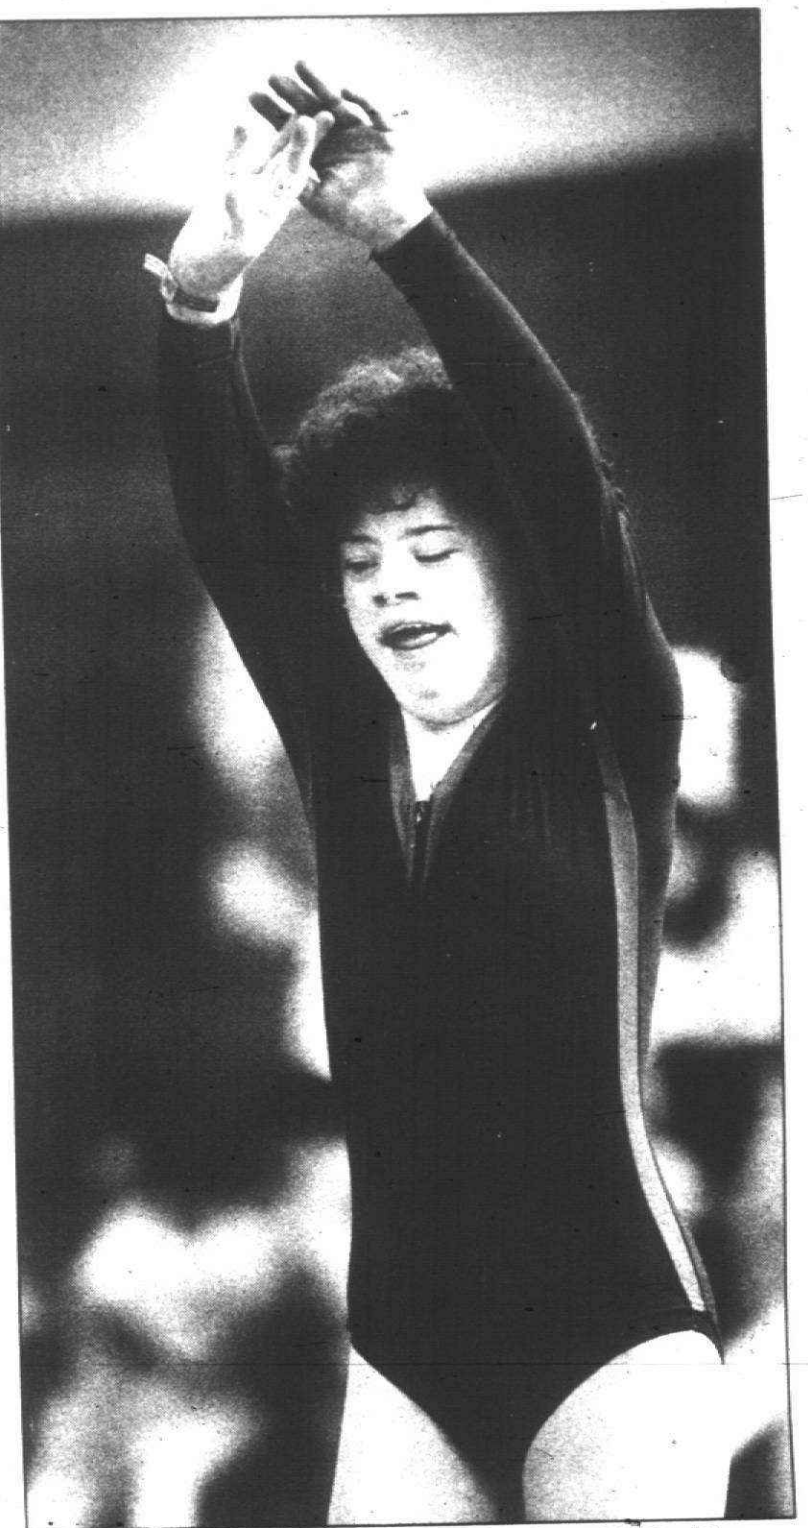

Special athletes go for the gold

Ann Reed of Plymouth celebrates after rolling a strike in the bowling competition held April 20 at the Super Bowl in Canton Township.

"Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."
 — Special Olympics motto

SOME OF THE more than 1,000 mentally impaired athletes walked away with medals in the recent Wayne County Special Olympics. As the organization promises in its promotional brochure, "No time was too slow, no distance too small to earn a handshake, a hug, or a pat on the back."
 And there was plenty of congratulating going on at the competitions which took place April 20 and April 26 in the Super Bowl in Canton Township and Bentley High School in Livonia.
 The Livonia CVTians played host to this year's games which were made possible through the efforts of some 125 volunteers from school districts, various civilian clubs throughout Wayne County, and other community organizations, according to Frank Sutton, games chairman.
 Events included bowling, gymnastics, swimming, and track and field.
 The games, which take eight months of preparation and cost about $30,000, featured athletes ranging in age from 8 to over 40 from throughout Wayne County.
 In addition to the athletic events, the games were highlighted by the traditional opening parade and torchlighting and medal awards ceremonies.
 Michigan Special Olympics provides year-round training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic sports. The program aims to give mentally impaired athletes confidence through successful experiences in sports.

Supt. Hoben threatens home schools with legal action

ing, and we figured there was more we could do at home."

A "MORATORIUM on enforcement" imposed by Attorney General Frank Kelley and state Supt. Phil Runkel in 1981 is thwarting efforts to close down non-complying programs, said Hoben. The moratorium will remain in effect until the Michigan Supreme Court decides a case involving non-approved Christian schools in Bay County, say school officials.
Hoben acknowledges that "if (the issue) is in litigation, maybe there's nothing we can do." Administrators are seeing "kind of a flagrant thumbing of the nose at us."
But, he said, local administrators are the ones saddled with enforcing the law. "It is very clear, children must attend school up to the age of 16."
State law also stipulates that alternative schools to Illinois' Christian Liberty Academy and other institutions "have never left the district. It's a guise," he said.

For legal reasons, Hoben chose not to discuss issues regarding Clonlara School, which assists home teachers and instructs 25-year-olds in "unstructured, ungraded" classes on its Ann Arbor campus.
Clonlara's director, Dr. Pat Montgomery, "would welcome seeing Hoben in court."

"We have always demanded that our parents follow state regulations. We feel very confident when approaching these issues, because we never have lost an issue," said Montgomery, whose school is non-denominational.
"We take a firm stand on that, and are in full compliance. The reason Dr. Hoben is upset with any home school is because it keeps money from public school institutions. Most school people view home schooling as a threat to the public school system, and consequently, move to shut down non-complying schools.

"We're not opposed to alternative educational systems. We are opposed to sub-standard educational systems. We hate to see youngsters punished by what essentially is the decision of parents to enroll them in one of these non-approved programs," said Waters, who is active in an educational organization trying to remedy the problem.
"Every so often we hear about kids who may be starting on a home study program. In most instances when we contact the family, the family decides to their own jobs. Cooperation is out of the question for them. Their line of thinking is, 'If one family does it, everyone will try it, where will that leave the schools?'" Montgomery said she is at a loss to determine what legal action could be brought against Clonlara.

"It boggles the mind. We're talking about people so involved in the education of their children that they're taking it on themselves. (Pursuing litigation) would be wasting money I didn't think Plymouth-Canton had, judging from the number of times it has cried poor mouth and sought millage increases," said Montgomery.
"Supt. Runkel and schools at the highest levels are trying to work with home schools, not make martyrs out of them,"

SHIRLEY WATERS, Plymouth-Canton schools' attendance supervisor, has long wrestled with the problem and thinks the attorney general should the community with community groups displaying arts and crafts and that sort of thing."

"We don't want to compete with the Country Festival," Vesvol said.
SINCE CARNIVALS in Canton must be sponsored by non-profit organizations, a small problem arose a few months ago when the Historical Society insisted on using the Wade shows and Ramco preferred having Amusement Corp. The other alternative was for the Historical Society to target another site for the fund-raising event and for ramco to find a different organization to sponsor the carnival.

The Historical Society was unsuccessful in finding a site despite aggressive attempts. For instance, the organization almost landed its carnival on the southwest corner of Ford and Lilley roads. The effort was rejected, however, by trustees who were inundated with complaints from property owners near the location concerned about noise and traffic problems expected to result from the carnival.

Neighborhood watch demise disturbing to Canton homeowners

The last officer in the spot was Sgt. Gary Griffiths. Officer Leonard Schemanske, who also worked in the unit, said the thrust was "target hardening" — to deter burglars from hitting on a residence in the neighborhood.
"Some of the methods included bicycle registration, security lighting, residential home security checks, alarm systems and other measures that could be taken to prevent the burglaries," he said.

SCHEMANSKE said he has received calls from homeowners in the neighborhood watch groups who are "frustrated" about the police department's disassociation with the program.
"The neighborhood watch makes us (police) more efficient in a number of ways," said Canton Lt. Larry Stewart, acting police chief.
"I got people involved with the reality of the situation — people were watching their neighbors' property," Stewart said. "And, it made us more effective in collecting information."
A number of officers in the department cite a lack of available personnel to devote specifically to crime prevention. However, each stated a need for the program.
Chris Stops, police chief secretary, says she answers about five calls a week from residents inquiring about crime prevention.

Guest conductors will be George Cavander, Ernie Joseph, Robert Burr, James R. Griffith, and Merle Evans. The emcee will be Carl Grapentine. Admission will be a donation of $5, or $3 for senior citizens.

Wildcats plan 3 workathons

The 33 members of the Plymouth Wildcats Pathfinder Club are pledging themselves to several community work projects on three Sundays in Plymouth-Canton as service to the community. The club plans to beautify some of the public and private property in the area, and make a general outdoor cleanup. The first cleanup was yesterday and the next two will be on Sundays, May 12 and 26. The Wildcats, a Scouting type group for ages 10-15, are raising funds for a camping trip this summer to the Smokey Mountains of Tennessee.

Beginning this week, Wildcats in uniform will be seeking sponsorship from businesses and individuals to sponsor them by the hour to work. If you would like to sponsor a club member or would like more information, call the following between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.: Royce Szymanski at 455-2776, Barbara Christner at 455-3676, or the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church at 455-3580. The Wildcats Pathfinder Club is sponsored by the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church at 4295 Napier, Plymouth.

TRIGGER POINTS AND THEIR TREATMENT

Trigger points are focal areas of sharp and radiating pain originating in muscles. Usual sites are at transitions where muscle inserts into bone, such as in the neck, shoulders, elbows, mid and low back, hips, below the knees and at the sides of the ankles. These sites may be single or present in a symmetrical fashion on both sides of the body.
Treatment centers on stopping the cycle of pain and irritation that originates from the trigger point. Drugs are of little value, heat may help, and there are advocates for the use of pressure, though this approach remains to be proven. The therapy with the most success is injection, in which local anesthetic and then steroid solution are injected into the center of the trigger point.
Such therapy does not always result in a cure, trigger points may recur and require further injection. Fortunately the problem does not continue indefinitely, as eventually the body's own reparative processes replace the inflamed area with normal tissue.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 15, 1985, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room of the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1985 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.084 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 1.77 mills be levied in 1985 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from an ad valorem property tax levies in 1985 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated five percent (5%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

Tasty 'messes' of dandelion missing in Michigan

Driving along the highways these days, it is a common sight to see open spaces filled with the golden blooms of the dandelion. It makes little difference how large the area. And it is a pleasant sight to see.

Each time The Stroller sees blocks of gold, he becomes puzzled. As he looks at them, he can't help wondering where the young boys with their arms filled with nature's food.

Not only are the boys missing, but there is no sight of dandelion in any of the markets. They show all kinds of salad leaves but no dandelion. That's puzzling because back home in the Dutch country, we always looked forward to the start of warm weather and the stroller

chance to go picking dandelion. It was not only for the dining table at home, and Mother prepared it often, but it was a chance to earn a bit of money. We used to pick it along the highways and even along the railroad tracks at the edge of town.

With every armful, we would start calling on the neighbors who do most of the home cooking and we'd always sell all of our lot. We called every armful a mess and collected 15 cents for each of them.

It was our way of getting spending money and we never had to bother Mother for some of her cash. She got a thrill out of that after she realized we were earning a business lesson.

BUT THE BIG satisfaction came when she set us down to dinner and we would have dandelion for our main course. She would have a special dressing for the dandelion and we would help ourselves to a large portion of them, along with mashed potatoes. We would then cover that mound with dandelion greens and the special dressing for them. And mother looked on with happiness.

As a matter of fact, the children in our home, including The Stroller, were raised on dandelion greens. During Sundays for most of the year, we would have chicken our grandmother raised. And at times we had meatloaf as the main went further in that style. And even in those days she would bring in her favorite mock duck.

That's why the scene today is so puzzling. The dandelion is there in great quantities, but you don't see any in the markets or on the dining tables. Yet for us, there was no meal more satisfying. Possibly this was because we picked it ourselves.

Aside from the nourishment we received, the sale of the dandelion in our neighborhood was our first lesson in business — the type we wouldn't get in school.

WHEN ALL these things are considered, a fellow has to wonder why the young folks of today aren't out on the open spaces to pick dandelion.

It isn't often that you can enjoy a good meal and take a lesson in business that may come in handy later in life.

So, when a fellow sees these wide open spaces filled with the dandelion flowers he really has good cause to wonder why the young fellows today aren't out there picking.

They don't know what they are missing.

Right now a good mess of dandelion would be a real treat, especially if we could still have some of Mother's tasty dressing for it.

Fishbowls of tears flow when goldfish face the end

Lately, I've been having a very intense relationship with several goldfish, and, frankly, I'm not very happy about it. Take it from me, don't get emotionally involved with a goldfish. They'll just up and die on you.

It all started innocently enough. For about a year now my two sons, Jason, 10, and Jim, 8, have each had a large Fancy Goldfish in their rooms in an aquarium. Each fish (one named Sam, the other not named) had been living a relatively simple and happy life. They were growing and prospering and all was well at the Smith house.

Unfortunately, about two weeks ago, the boys decided they would like to get more fish. The idea was not all that disconcerting since goldfish are relatively inexpensive and, going by Sam and what's-his-name, seemed to be a large lot.

The boys and I went to a local pet shop and purchased four more fish. They were ecstatic, and I was pleased at causing so much happiness with so little effort. It was downhill from there.

FIRST OF all, Spot, one of Jim's new acquisitions began to show signs of a disease of the scales. His father diagnosed the disease as fatal and Jim became one very depressed kid.

After many trips to the pet shop and many new fish acquired, each son ended up with five fish in his aquarium and I had a definite knot in my stomach.

My sons showed more concern for the health of these fickle fish than they have ever shown for anything in their entire lives. I only hope my own demise is met with an equal amount of wailing and mourning.

A dying fish was enough to ruin an entire week. And boy did they die! Yesterday even old what's-his-name passed away (even I was sad about that). And today Sam isn't looking too good.

Board to rule on police department staffing request

chief is named in a couple of months. The hiring postponement will give the new police chief an "opportunity to review and make recommendations regarding this matter," the proposal said.

Last week's meeting between the committees involved "a rap session to get everyone relaxed; and once that happened we really got a lot accomplished," Larson said.

"It was simply a matter of clearing the air and moving forward," he added.

Wilson, who previously has stated "frustration" about the progress made by the committees, said the results of last week's meeting were positive.

"I think the police committee came away with more respect for the police department, and I know the people in the police department came away with more respect for the people on the police committee," Wilson said.

"There are going to be high points and there are going to be low points in working with the committees," he said.

A fundamental difference between the two committees is the way each tends to operate. Officers are forced to make life and death decisions on a split second, Wilson said.

"On the other hand, politicians not only have to debate and study issues before making decisions, but they have to be certain that the decision they make is correct.

"So they delay making decisions to obtain as much information and data as possible."

The committees were formed a couple of months ago to address major problems cited in the department. Staffing questions are their first target area. The steering committee was successful last month in receiving approval for the hiring of three officers, who are expected to begin work this month.

Oakwood Canton Center salutes its many volunteers

Volunteers at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center were saluted during National Volunteer Week, April 21-27, along with hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country who contribute their time free-of-charge to non-profit organizations.

Schools, libraries, hospitals, museums, social service organizations, youth groups, charitable clubs and religious and cultural institutions all rely on volunteers to raise money and donate willing hands to help these institutions provide a high level of benefit for their patrons or patients.

"Our volunteers have been of immeasurable service to Oakwood throughout the years," said Christine McCuen, director of volunteer services. "They escort patients to their rooms and to X-ray, comfort anxious families in the emergency department, direct hospital visitors to their destinations, instruct CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) classes, and serve in countless other areas where they're able to make hospitalization a little more pleasant."

In addition to Oakwood Hospital Canton Center, the organization's members donate their time, energy and talent to Oakwood's Family Medical Center, Sumpter, the main campus in Dearborn, and the Adult Day and Child Care Centers, across from the hospital.

Last year the Oakwood Hospital Guild donated $125,000 to the hospital to be used for cardiology equipment, surgical instruments, the linear accelerator (cancer-fighting equipment) and audiovisual equipment for the Canton Center clinic.

Commitment is appreciated

To the editor:

The Community Substance Abuse Committee would like to acknowledge with gratitude the generosity of the Superbowl for their donation of bowling time for our recent Bowliathon.

Their willingness to participate in the communitywide effort to eliminate substance abuse provides obvious testimony of their commitment to their community.

In addition, we would like to thank all those bowlers who participated. Through their efforts, we raised several hundred dollars for a very important cause.

BACK, HIP and LEG PROBLEMS

Painful problems of the back, hip and legs most frequently are the result of faulty alignment of one or more of the spinal segments in the lower back. The nerves branching out from these vertebrae control the lower extremities. If one or more of these nerves become "pinched" or irritated, pain, swelling and loss of function may occur. An understanding of these problems can help you avoid suffering and loss.

ABRACADABRA ...presenting SNACKTIME MAGIC

Have you ever watched a magician and marveled at the astounding performance? Did you wish that you could create magic, too? Well, here are some amazingly delicious snacktime magic ideas guaranteed to baffle and please.

MOM, THE MAGNIFICENT!

To assure a dazzling performance, you must first create a mystical image for yourself. One way to do this is to conjure an enchanted name. For instance, now presenting... Mom, the Magnificent! You are a special person. Of course, you know that. What you now have to do is convince the kids. In fact, you want them to believe you have magical powers. And with instant pudding and cold fresh milk, that's easy. With instant pudding, the magic you create is neither trick nor illusion. Some tricks fool people because of special equipment. Illusions are things you think you see but which are really something else. Pulling a rabbit out of a hat is a trick. Making a coin disappear is an illusion. But don't worry too much about complicated props. A quick search around the kitchen probably will turn up just the "mystical" container you need.

THE FIRST RULE OF MAGIC

Since the time of the first sorcerer, there has been an unwritten code among magicians NEVER to tell their secrets. So, what's the mystery of conjuring great-tasting snacks and easy desserts instantly? Simply pour 2 cups cold milk into a 1-quart leakproof container, such as a glass jar or plastic freezer container. Add instant pudding and cover tightly. Shake vigorously for 45 seconds. Say the magic word... wait 5 minutes... and, presto! Stupendous after-school treats. Your biggest kick will be watching the kids delight as you perform this magical feat.

YOUR BAG OF TRICKS

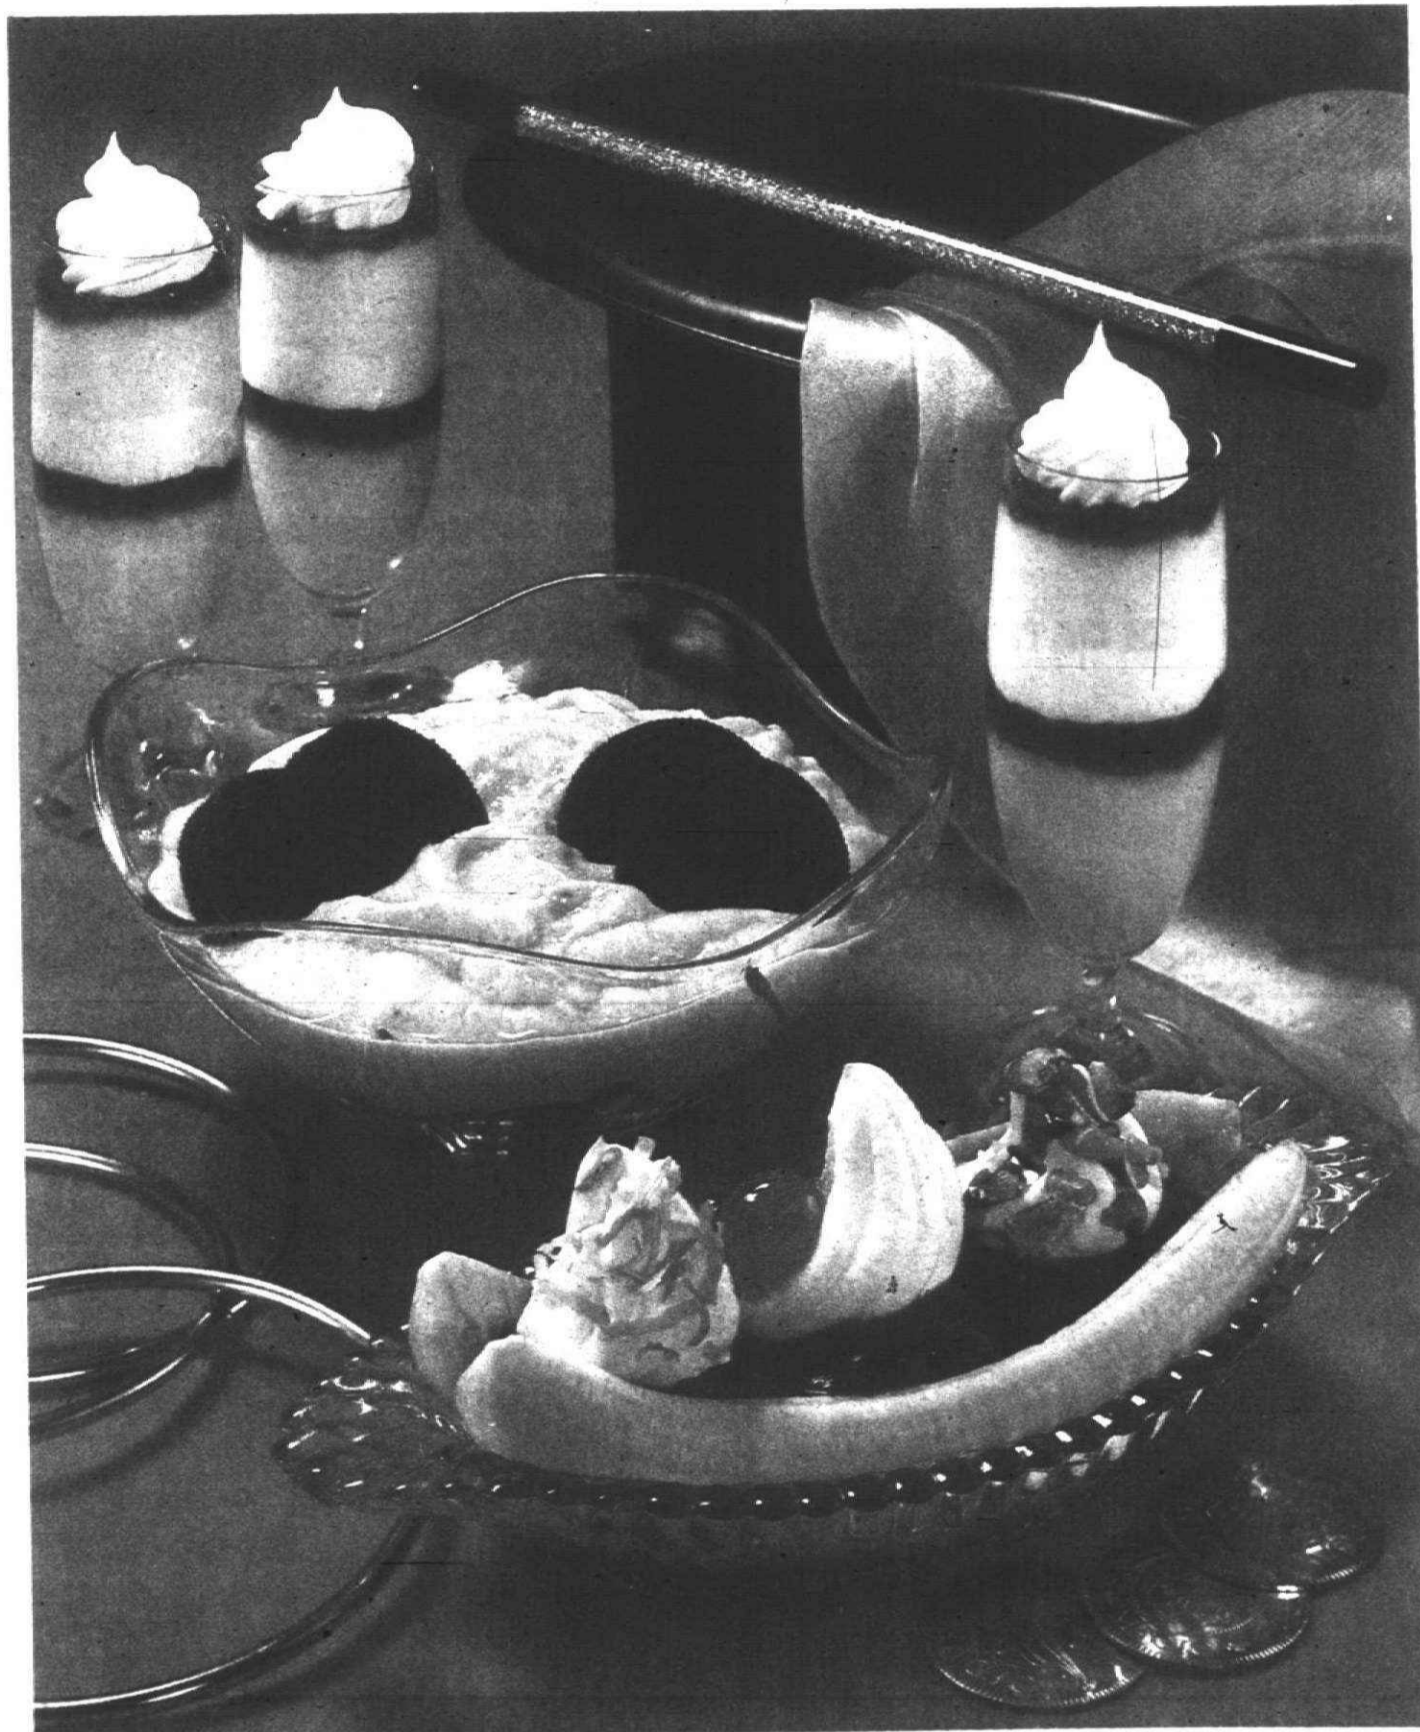

Every great wizard needs a bag of tricks. Harry Houdini, for example, was a master of illusion, and was best known for his escape tricks. He would be bound, locked in a trunk, and submerged in water—and always escape. The great Thurston had a spectacular act, pulling silver dollars out of the air one after another until he filled a bucket with them. Mom, the Magnificent, your greatest trick is the pudding vanishing act. And this is no illusion. Just shake it up—pour it out—let it set. Then, watch it go!

ON WITH THE SHOW

So now you know the secret to performing acts of snacktime magic instantly. In fact, these recipes are so simple, your young "assistants" might enjoy making them, too. And, just like the past masters, always keep your act entertaining and mysterious. Use sleight of hand to create your own special concoctions by adding fruit, nuts, cookie crumbs or even chocolate chips to the pudding in your mystical shaker container.

When the kids come in from play or school, this repertoire of incredible instant pudding tricks makes you a real wizard at turning out delicious snacks, without a lot of silken sorcery.

A snacktime showcase of easy-to-make treats that will amuse, amaze and mystify children of all ages. Magical Rings (top), Reappearing Cookies (center), Mystical Split (bottom).

Mystical Split

- 2 cups cold milk
- 1 package (4-serving size) chocolate, coconut cream or vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- 4 bananas, halved
- non-dairy whipped topping, thawed
- Chopped nuts
- Maraschino cherries
- Toasted coconut
- Chocolate syrup

Pour milk into 1-quart container with tight fitting cover. Add pudding mix. Cover tightly. Holding container on top and bottom, shake hard 45 seconds. Arrange bananas in 4 shallow oblong dessert dishes. Spoon pudding over bananas. Top with whipped topping, nuts, cherries, toasted coconut and chocolate syrup, as desired.

Reappearing Cookies

- 8 chocolate sandwich cookies
- 2 cups cold milk
- 1 package (4-serving size) pistachio flavor instant pudding and pie filling

Crumble 4 cookies into a 2-1/2-cup serving dish. Pour milk into 1-quart container with tight fitting cover. Add pudding mix; cover tightly. Holding container on top and bottom, shake hard 45 seconds. Pour at once into serving dish. Pudding will be soft-set and ready to eat in 5 minutes. Top with remaining whole cookies. Makes 4 servings.

Magical Rings

- 2 cups cold milk
- 1 package (4-serving size) lemon flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- 2 tablespoons raspberry jam
- 1 cup whipped topping, thawed

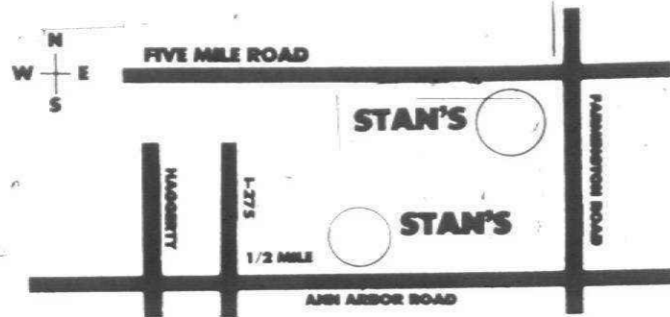

Pour milk into 1-quart container with tight fitting cover. Add pudding mix. Cover tightly. Holding container on top and bottom, shake hard 45 seconds. Pour half the pudding into 6 parfait glasses. Top with jam, whipped topping and remaining pudding mixture, spooning jam along edge of glass. Pudding will be soft-set and ready to eat in 5 minutes. Garnish with additional whipped topping and jam, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Have the reception at home, where you belong

Many young couples are opting for the wedding reception to take place at home. There are a number of reasons for this. The cost of an affair in a public place is a factor. It is said that the one-night party can sometimes equal a down payment on a house.

But there are other reasons. There is the intimacy that can never be found in a catering establishment. There is the love that went into the planning and execution of an at-home party. There is the simplicity that many of today's practical young people seem to want. There is the music revolution that offers the best of what the bride and groom prefer, on tape.

Then, of course, there are the many good ideas for the food and drinks that can be easily produced and served at a home reception. Anybody who has ever been in a kitchen can duplicate the South African rock lobster salad that is the elegant highlight of many wedding buffets held in public facilities. It's a beautiful and popular offering. This glazed ham is easy to prepare and is an excellent buffet offering. Serve it with either baked beans or beans with rice. The wedding cake can be made with prepared mixes, if desired, and tiered simply by baking the cake in graduated-size pans.

Many romanticists prefer ordering an elaborate cake from a local baker as the only "outside" concession to the home wedding.

Take these ideas as a start, and take them from there. One thing is certain. Most of the guests, as well as the bride and groom will feel at home at the reception. Because that's just where they are.

CHUTNEY CHEESE BALL

- 3 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cream cheese
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- 1 tsp. grated onion
- 1/4 tsp. ground orange rind
- 1/4 tsp. cup chopped chutney

In a bowl mash cream cheese until fluffy. Stir in curry, onion and orange rind. With hands, shape mixture into large round ball. Wrap in plastic wrap and chill until ready to serve. Place cheese ball on serving plate. Spoon chutney over top of ball and spread with spoon to coat entire ball. Surround ball with crisp crackers. Serve with a spreader.

DELECTABLE DIP

- Blend 1 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon Angostura aromatic bitters and 1/4 teaspoon garlic

All the recipes given here can be doubled or tripled according to need.

Drop frozen rock lobster tails into boiling salted water. When water re-boils, cook for 4 to 7 minutes depending on their size. Smaller tails need less cooking time. Drain immediately, drench with cold water and cut away underside membrane. Remove meat from shells. Chill. Boil potatoes, drain and peel. While still warm, cut in cubes in bottom of large bowl. Add onion, salt and pepper immediately. Mix mayonnaise with cream until smooth. Pour over potatoes and onions and leave in a thick top layer. Cool, then chill. At serving time, cut chilled rock lobster meat into bite-size pieces; add to potato bowl and toss together until all ingredients are well blended. Yield: 8 servings.

GLAZED HAM

- 1 canned ham, about 9 lbs.
- 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges
- 1 tsp. corn starch
- 1/4 cup orange marmalade
- 1 tsp. Angostura aromatic bitters
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 tsp. cider vinegar
- 1/2 tsp. ground cloves

Remove ham from can and put on rack in shallow roasting pan. Drain oranges and mix juice slowly into corn starch in a saucepan. Add orange marmalade, Angostura bitters, mustard, vinegar and ground cloves. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Score top of ham in a diamond pattern with a sharp knife. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 1 hour. At this time brush ham with Angostura glaze, both top and sides. Bake for an additional 30 minutes, brushing glaze over ham several times. Remove from oven, decorate top with orange sections and whole cloves. Spoon remaining glaze lightly over sections. Bake another 5 minutes. Yield: 12-15 servings.

BEANS WITH RICE

- 4 strips bacon, diced
- 1 small onion, diced
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 small green pepper, diced
- 2 cans (1 lb. each) kidney beans
- 4 tsp. tomato paste
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cup hot cooked rice

In saucepan, fry bacon until crisp. Remove from pan and saute onion in drippings until soft. Add garlic and green pepper and saute lightly. Stir in beans with their liquid, tomato paste and bacon bits. Simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Check during cooking and if sauce becomes too thick add small amount of water. Season with salt and pepper. To serve, stir in hot cooked rice, or serve beans over rice. Yield: 6 servings.

CHOCOLATE MOUSSE

- 1 pkg. (12 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 2 tsp. Angostura aromatic bitters
- 4 egg yolks
- 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

In a blender, combine chocolate pieces, boiling water, Angostura and egg yolks. Whirl until smooth and cool to room temperature. Beat egg whites in a bowl until stiff. Fold in chocolate mixture. Spoon mixture into serving dishes. Chill for several hours. Yield: 6 servings.

HOMEMADE WEDDING CAKE

- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) pitted dates, each cut into 4 pieces
- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) dried apricots, each cut into 4 pieces
- 2 cups drained whole maraschino cherries
- 1 can (3 1/2 oz.) flaked coconut
- 6 cups shelled whole pecans (1 1/2 lbs.)
- 1 1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. Angostura aromatic bitters
- 1/4 cup dark rum
- 6 eggs

Combine all ingredients in a large bowl or deep pot. Mix until well blended, stiff and sticky. Grease two 9x5x3-inch loaf pans with shortening, line with wax paper and grease again. Pack fruit cake mixture tightly into pans. Bake in a preheated slow oven (300 degrees) for 1 hour and 20 to 30 minutes or until firm to the touch in the center. Cool cakes in pans, then unmold.

Opulent recipes from opulent 'Gatsby' era

The plain white building with a slender silver canopy that leads from a curb on Arthur Godfrey Road to the front door betrays what awaits the diner inside.

The Miami Beach restaurant began as a forge, where the famous Dino Philipps created grills, grills, ornaments and torches for the wealthy of the Gatsby Era. In the 1930s, it was converted to a restaurant with a casino upstairs, and became a favorite dining and gambling spot for socialites and well-heeled snowbirds.

Today, The Forge may be the most opulent restaurant on the Gold Coast. It drips ostentation. It is elegance trimmed in gilt.

There is an abundance of art nouveau paintings, chandeliers that once graced the ceilings of a Viennese castle and President Madison's White House, sconces that adorned the administration building at Waterloo and a wall of bricks from the Old Absinth House in New Orleans.

Each dining room contains paintings, statuary, bronzes and other fine art objects, with stained-glass panels set into skylights, fanlights and ceilings. The restaurant is softly illuminated by indirect light, creating the uncanny feeling of being in another age.

Patrons who ask to see the wine cellar are treated to a brief tour of several ground-floor rooms that contain bottles worth four and five figures as well as those found in the corner liquor store. In the first narrow, long room lined with floor-to-ceiling racks is the only bottle of 1822 Chateau Lafite Rothschild in the United States. The last appraisal puts the Bordeaux's worth at $35,000.

The Forge also has a warehouse to store some of its $2-million-plus inventory. But the wine stewards will admit the average bottle sold runs between $40 and $300.

The featured attraction is the food, with the service almost equal. You may have your cigarettes lit or water glasses filled a half-dozen times during the evening.

The cuisine is a blend of international and American. Prices are expensive, but not excessive.

JAVA SAUCE
 1 cup regular barbecue sauce
 3 to 4 drops Tabasco sauce
 1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
 1 tbsp. soy sauce
 1/4 tsp. white pepper
 1 small onion, minced
 1/2 cup minced parsley
 1/2 cup wine vinegar
 1/2 cup prepared mustard
 1 tsp. celery salt

Combine all ingredients in medium saucepan and stir well. Bring to boil, stirring often to prevent sticking. Reduce heat to medium low and cook 15 minutes, constantly stirring. Serve warm or at room temperature. Yields 2 cups.

LONDON BROIL JAVA
 1 1/2 lbs. boneless beef chuck shoulder steak
 12 to 15 peppercorns
 1/2 cup Java sauce

Score meat diagonally across grain, stud both sides with peppercorns, brush all over with sauce and let stand at room temperature 1 hour. Broil about 6 inches from heat source 4 to 5 minutes on each side for medium rare. Slice meat across grain and spread on remaining sauce. Serves 3-4.

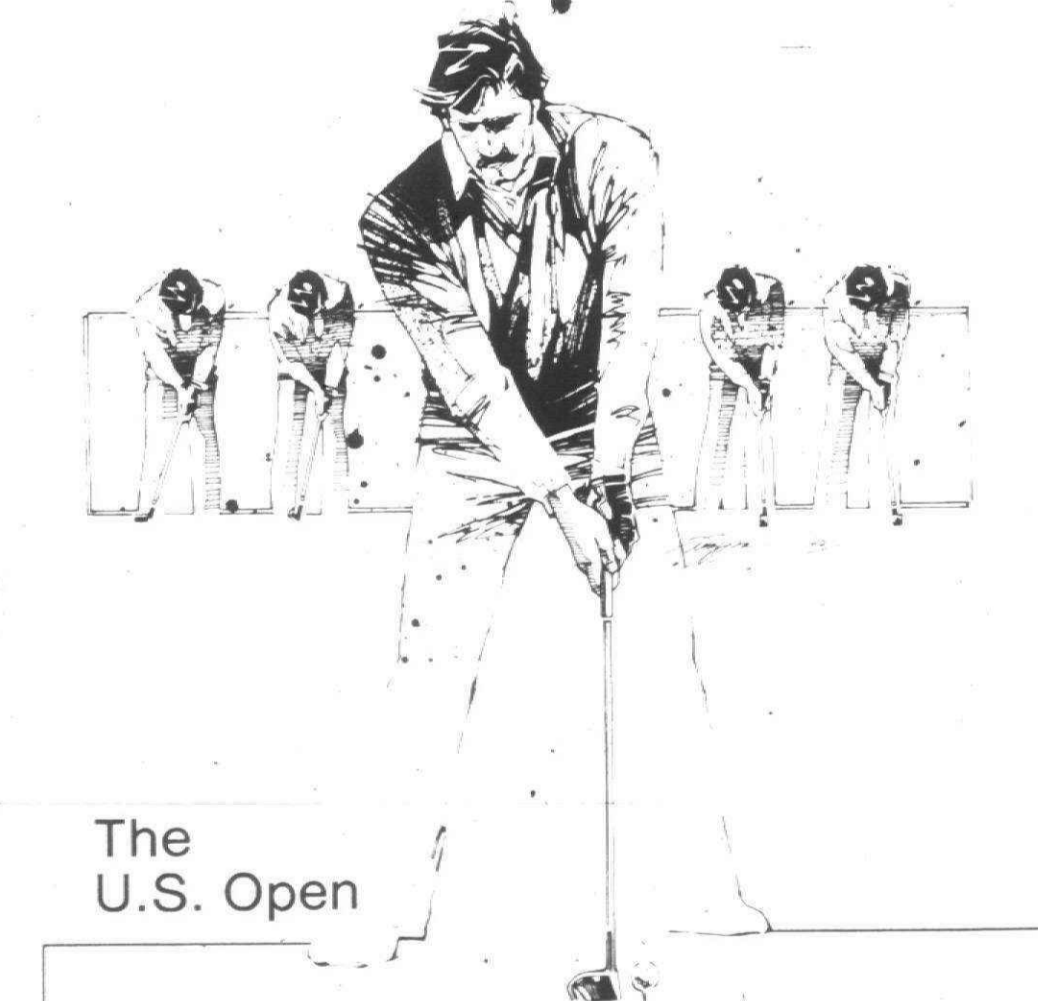

On diet? Don't give up everything

A nutritionist at Pennsylvania State University has an unusual recommendation for dieters: Don't give up your favorite high-calorie foods. "If you're on a diet, it's good to eat fatty or high-calorie foods less often," said Mary Rowan. "But there aren't many foods you'd want to eliminate altogether."

Foods which are high in fat — red meats, for example — are still a major source of nutrients. Variety is important to a healthy balanced diet, so it's not a good idea to eliminate a lot of foods from your diet entirely.

Rowan is a staff member at the Nutrition Information and Resource Center in Penn State's College of Human Development. She suggests that dieters can continue to eat many of their favorite foods by making recipe changes to reduce the number of calories.

For example, when making beef stroganoff, you can use low-fat yogurt instead of sour cream," she suggests. "The yogurt has only 140 calories per cup, while a cup of sour cream has 420 calories. Similarly, instead of using ricotta cheese in lasagna, try substituting low-fat cottage cheese, or tofu."

Space age good for shuttle

The Space Shuttle has opened an entirely new era in space flight — and that includes a new system of feeding the crew.

Shelf life, storage temperature, volume and weight have been primary considerations in developing the food system for the Shuttle. But so have nutrition, variety and palatability.

Even in orbit, it shouldn't be hard to take shrimp cocktail, beef steak, rice pilaf, broccoli au gratin and butterscotch pudding. They were on one of the dinner menus during Columbia's first flight.

A recent Journal of the American Dietetic Association reveals fascinating details of the Shuttle food system and the Shuttle Galley to be installed when Operations Mission begins.

Connie R. Stadler, a registered dietitian of Technology Inc., Houston, was team dietitian for the challenging job of providing a safe and nutritious food supply for Columbia that could be manipulated with ease in the null-gravity environment.

Although individual menus have been designed for each astronaut on all previous U.S. manned space missions, preassembled standard menus providing three meals and supplying 3,000 calories per person per day will be used on all Shuttle flights.

When Shuttle is fully operational there could be up to one flight per week. The logistics involved in processing, testing, packaging and stowing the food aboard the spacecraft make individualized menus impossible when turnaround time is so short. During all previous manned missions, crew members were required to make final menu selections from three to six months before launch.

To accommodate individual food preferences during flight when a standardized menu is used, a pantry selected and approved by the crew for each mission is provided to supplement the menu. The pantry's main purpose is to serve as a contingency nominal mission, pantry items may be exchanged for menu items if a crew member prefers.

the view

A COUPLE of things to watch for this week on television, both of local interest.

First, an interview with Tom Hulce, taped Sunday afternoon at the Meeting House, will be aired at 4 p.m. Monday on "Good Afternoon Detroit," Channel 7.

Second, Dian Smith will be the guest on Kay Micallef's "Come Craft With Me" on Cable Channel 8 at 7:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday. Dian will show some of her new wrap-around skirts. Dian is marketing the patterns for these skirts and is scheduling classes at her shop on Main Street, Plymouth. The skirts are scalloped at the hemlines and the scallops are appliqued watermelons, ducks, sail boats, tulips, even sheep. By the time she goes on the air, she may have some new ones. She also has designed matching tops with knitted sleeves. The applique is done by machine and by hand. Dian and the people in her shop are waiting for the time, if you want to see the real thing.

THREE OF THE nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Freiman will receive associate degrees Sunday at Schoolcraft College's 20th annual graduation ceremony.

All are graduates of Plymouth Canton High School.

Thomas K. Freiman, 29, will receive a degree in engineering. He will transfer to Lawrence Institute of Technology to prepare for a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.

Theresa Freiman, 28, has earned a degree in applied science. She will enter the Schoolcraft registered nursing program.

Patricia Freiman, 20, also will receive a degree in applied science. She will transfer to the University of Michigan School of Nursing. Congratulations to the graduates and their parents. An occasion like this is a reminder of what Schoolcraft College has meant to the communities it serves.

CIRCLE 8 P.M. Saturday, May 11 on your calendar. The Plymouth Community Band is celebrating its 25th anniversary with a concert at Plymouth Salem High School auditorium. All the band's conductors — regular and guest — are coming back for the concert. There'll be more about this in Thursday's paper. If you want to make sure of a ticket, they are on sale at Beitner's Jewelry on Ann Arbor Trail. Admission is $5.

P.S. To all you concert-in-the-park devotees: You won't need a lawn chair or a blanket for this one.

ANDREA DE ZELL, local artist and a member of the Three Cities Art Club, just completed her first one-artist show. The exhibit at the Goodrich-Gannett Center in Cleveland was such a success it will become an annual event.

Andrea has been a Michigan resident since 1969 and joined Three Cities in 1982. She is club historian.

JANINE BOLGNA, a senior at Plymouth Salem High School, won the local Little professor Book Center scholarship, presented by Little Professor on the Park. She is eligible to compete for the $1,000 regional and $5,000 national awards to be announced in mid-May.

In winning the award, Janine was judged on academic, community and literary achievements and skills.

RACHEL MASHIKE recently received the 1984 Loving Service Award presented by Ladies for Life. She has been an active member of the organization since 1976 and serves as corresponding secretary. She and her husband, Dr. Carl Mashike, chiropractor, have been in the Plymouth area for nine years. She works in their clinic as office manager.

She also is a member of WAICA (Women's Auxiliary to the International Chiropractors Association). The auxiliary provides scholarships to chiropractic college students and cash donations to the colleges.

Al Larson (left), owner of Frame Works, Martha Schryer, Claudia Snyder and Sue Callas arrange a display of Peter Rockwell's sculpture in the window of Frame Works on Penniman Avenue.

Visitors will take the shuttle from the shop to the show in the "Snowflake House" in Plymouth Township. Between trips, guests may watch a taped Rockwell show in the shop.

Rockwell show opens with benefit reception

Sculptor Peter Rockwell is coming to town this week for a one-man show. He'll spend Wednesday and Thursday arranging his bronze and marble works of art at the Frank Lloyd Wright "Snowflake House" in Plymouth Township. Everything will be in place for the opening night benefit, 7-10 p.m. Friday, May 10, when everyone will have an opportunity to meet Rockwell. Tickets for the benefit at $25 per person may be reserved by calling the Plymouth Community Arts Council office, 455-5260 between 9 a.m. and noon.

After May 11, the show will be open to the public free. Those interested in acquiring any of Rockwell's works will have an opportunity to do so while viewing the exhibit and the house.

BECAUSE PARKING space is unavailable at the Frank Lloyd Wright house, admission to the house and exhibit is available only through a shuttle bus service which will leave the Frame Works on Penniman Avenue every half hour.

Show hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday-Saturday, 7-9 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and 1-5 p.m. Sunday. Group tours may be arranged by calling the arts council, 455-5260.

The PCAC and Frame Works are sponsoring the exhibit with partial funding from the Michigan Council for the Arts. Helen Milliken is honorary chairwoman of the show.

PETER ROCKWELL is the son of artist Norman Rockwell. Because his mother and an elder brother also were artists, he said he was more interested in painting as his own form of expression.

After receiving a bachelor of arts degree in English literature from Haverford College in Pennsylvania, he studied sculpture at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia. He was awarded the J. Henry Schmitt traveling fellowship and went to Rome in the fall of 1961. He planned to stay there six months or a year.

"We never got around to leaving," he said. He stayed in Italy partly because of the bronze foundries in Rome, the marble quarries nearby, and "being able to look at carvings by people like Bernini, Donatelli and Michelangelo."

MEMBERS OF Plymouth arts council met Rockwell in Rome two summers ago and visited his studio and apartment. It was there the first inkling of a local show occurred.

Rockwell has had one-man shows of his sculpture in the United States almost yearly since 1968. He has shown in Bartholet Gallery, New York, Shore Galleries, Boston, Byck Gallery and Actors Theatre, Louisville; Newman Galleries, Philadelphia; Kingpitcher Gallery, Pittsburgh; and Mickelson Gallery, Washington, D.C.

His work is in collections of the National Portrait Gallery, Washington, D.C., the Bridgport Museum of American Art, Bridgport, Conn.; and the Corner House Museum in Stockbridge, Mass. He has executed monumental bas-reliefs, hanging pieces and fountains in bronze, polyester and stone. He also is represented in numerous private collections in the United States and Europe.

FOR MANY, the site of the Rockwell show is a major attraction.

Tom Monaghan, owner of the Detroit Tigers and Domino's Pizza, was a longtime admirer of Frank Lloyd Wright architecture when he bought the "Snowflake House" last spring.

The hexagonal structure has four levels and seven flat, sky-lighted roof lines to harmonize with the site. He used glass extensively to give the illusion of being outdoors. The building, with much of its furniture designed by Wright and its surrounding gardens are one with the land.

The bedroom wing, added later, was designed by Wright.

JANET CAMPBELL and Judy Morgan are co-chairing the show which has been in the planning for more than a year.

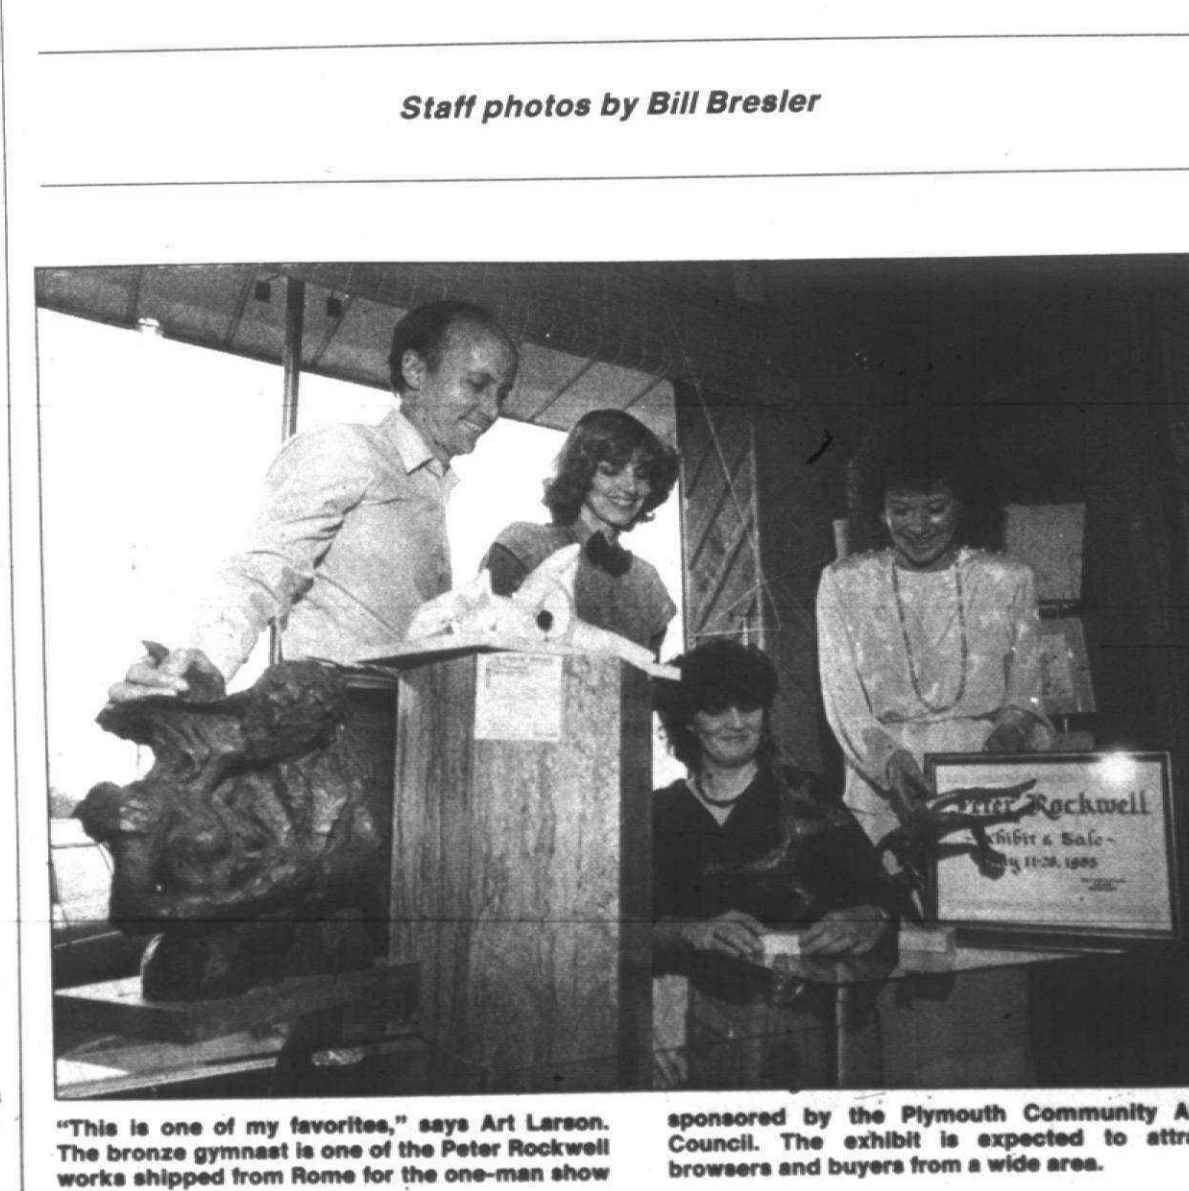

Working with them have been a host of arts council members in various committees. Nancy Sharp (chair) has Judy Lore, Fran Nistal, Nancy Rizzo and Joan Wehmer on the invitations committee.

The public relations group, chaired by Joanne Hulce, includes Gae McCord, Nan Cooper, Toni King, Betty Stremich, Carl Cederberg, Ruth Tomner, Maribel Carroll, Marian West and Tiv Balogh.

The Friday evening benefit reception is being co-chaired by Jo Ellen Odom and Sue Gallas. Mariene Cofani, Maret Garard, Michelle Dorrington, Claudia Snyder, Carolyn Simons and Beth Sturart serve on the committee.

Wilma Newton is in charge of finances and her husband, Richard Newton, is arranging transportation.

Judy Lewis and Mary Elizabeth Smith are heading the hostess department and Carolyn Simons is in charge of posters.

"This is one of my favorites," says Ari Larson. The bronze gymnast is one of the Peter Rockwell works shipped from Rome for the one-man show sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council. The exhibit is expected to attract browsers and buyers from a wide area.

FORD-UAW AND OTHER HOURLY EMPLOYEES:

CHOOSING A HEALTH PLAN THAT FITS IS EASY.

JUST MAKE YOUR CHOICE BLUE.

Health care choices can be confusing.

But not when they're all from the leader, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan.

We have used our 45 years of health care experience to bring Ford-UAW and other hourly workers all three of these options in health care. Each plan has excellent benefits. One plan, however, may better fit you and your family than the other two.

Study them all carefully. Then make your choice. Just make it Blue.

Traditional. Blue Cross and Blue Shield is good everywhere.

There are no geographical limitations to health care coverage with Traditional care. It's accepted in any town, county and state in the country. Here in Michigan more than 13,000 physicians and over 200 hospitals accept your I.D. card without question.

Blue Preferred Plan. A new PPO for Ford workers.

Here is a combination of the best of Traditional and HMO care. Blue Preferred Plan provides you with a panel of preferred providers of health care, including more than 5,000 physicians and 97 hospitals. When you use their services you will receive coverage for doctors' office visits, well-baby care, and childhood immunizations on certain shots for preschoolers.

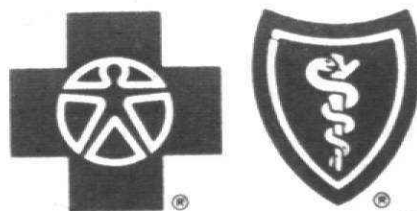

Health Care Network. Your local Blue HMO.

Choose the only local HMO whose I.D. card bears the emblem of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan. Health Care Network. It is part of the Blue statewide network of seven HMOs. You can get covered services from any of the other six when you travel in the state. No other HMO can offer that protection.

Carry one of our "caring" cards.

Churchill wins Observerland war

Salem a close 2nd as controversy taints Observerland meet

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Livonia Churchill, amidst a storm of controversy, won its fifth Observerland Track and Field Relays title in 15 years Saturday, nipping Plymouth Salem 75-72.

Defending champion Redford Bishop Borgess, competing without four front-line performers including Observerland's 1984 Track Man of the Year Fred Owens, placed third with 64 points. Plymouth Canton and Farmington tied for fourth with 42 points.

The meet was technically decided in the final event when Churchill's Gordon Babcock brought home the 1,600-meter relay ahead of Salem's Bryan Waldron. Churchill finished in second place in the relay (3:31.79), Salem fourth (3:34.40).

BUT SALEM would tell you the meet was decided in the shuttle medley relay. The Rocks placed second in the event and would have earned eight points. But meet officials ruled that Salem runner Mike White cut off a Churchill runner, thus disqualifying the Salem team.

Salem coach Gary Balconi argued long and hard that White was far ahead of the Churchill runner and couldn't possibly have cut him off. But meet director John MacKenzie upheld the official's ruling.

"In sports, sometimes things happen that you cannot control," Balconi said. "You have to learn to accept it."

Said Churchill coach Fred Price: "Our kids ran very well, we had many pleasant surprises. But the sad part is that our effort will be overshadowed by the controversy over the call. The way I look at it, the call was made and, right or wrong, you have to live with it. A lot of people haven't been on the other side. I have been. You learn to take the good with the bad."

THERE WERE other bizarre happenings at the 15th annual running of the Observerland meet that tended to upstage the actual competition.

Bishop Borgess coach Gene Grewe suspended Fred Owens, Marlon Montgomery, Marlon Cates and Charles Albright from competing in the meet because they missed Friday's practice.

An argument ensued prior to the running of the open 1,600 run. Churchill runner Doug Plachta didn't turn in his entry card prior to the race. The officials had disqualified him, but he was reinstated after an appeal. Plachta scored four points in the race.

Some coaches also argued that their competitors weren't given enough time between jumps in both the pole vault and high jump.

The Churchill track was hit with a power failure, leaving only 17 lights operating.

But, as always, the meet featured many superb athletic performances.

DAVE HOMANN of Garden City, the area's 1,600 king, set a meet record with a 4:18.63 clocking. That beat his own record of 4:28.8 set last year.

Catholic Central established a record in the 6,400 relay. Jim Fedewa, Jim Cauzillo, Chris Rito and Steve Shaver, pushed heavily by a strong Farmington team, ran an 18:09.25. The old mark, set by Churchill in 1977, was 18:11.4. Farmington ran an 18:09.38.

Churchill was bolstered by a strong showing in field events, winning the shot put (141-1/2) and the discus (423-10). In both events, Dave Mize placed first. He threw the shot 51-1/2 and the disc 154-8.

Churchill placed second to Farmington in the high jump with Mike Meehan taking individual honors with a 6-6 leap.

The Chargers scored 32 of their 75 points in the field.

PLYMOUTH SALEM had two big guns — Mike White and Brian Neuhardt. White led a Salem first in the long jump with a 21-6-1/2. He won the 110-high hurdles in 14.66 and anchored Salem's victorious shuttle hurdle team (59.56).

Neuhardt won the 100-meter dash in 11.42. Salem captured first in the pole vault, with Mike Harwood (12-0), Ron Piwko (12-0) and Rich Piwko (11-6).

Bishop Borgess captured four firsts. The Spartans won the 800 relay (1:30.88), the sprint medley (2:27.13), the 400 relay (44.04) and the 1,600 relay (3:29.38).

Frustration derailed, Canton kickers explode

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Canton's Michelle Lonigro (with ball) scored three goals in the Chiefs two victories last week.

It was bound to happen. You could almost sense it.

The Plymouth Canton soccer team had been gradually improving its game over the course of the last two weeks but weren't getting any victories for the effort.

Finally, the Chiefs burst. And winless Farmington Harrison bore the brunt of it.

Canton zipped the Hawks 10-0 on Wednesday.

"We were coming on each game,"

Canton coach Mike Morgan said. "Little bit of improvement each time. It was only a matter of time before we won."

Kendra Whiteley led the attack with three goals and an assist. Beth Frigge and Michelle Lonigro each scored twice, Frigge added a pair of assists.

Lisa Russell scored a goal and had two assists. Renee Rice and Brook Labine also scored. Jenny Thomas contributed a pair of assists.

Canton outshot the Hawks 31-4.

ON FRIDAY, the Chiefs posted another win and another shutout beating Livonia Franklin 3-0.

Michelle Lonigro, the daughter of former Canton coach Tony Lonigro, scored a pair of goals and Jenny Thomas added another. Frigge and Russell each drew assists.

Phillips earned her second consecutive shutout. She got help from midfielder Kellie Dally and fullbacks Cheryl Nippa and Kelly Murphy.

The victory avenges an earlier tie with Franklin.

Morgan, though excited by his team's turnaround, kept things in perspective.

"We've got Plymouth Salem, Northville, Churchill and Bentley coming up in our next four games. That's five tough games. We've got to keep getting better and maybe we'll surprise somebody," he said.

The Chiefs are 4-6-1 on the year, 2-4-1 in the Western Lakes.

Troubles continue for Salem

By Robert McElhanev
special writer

A soccer skill clinic was put on by Livonia Bentley's girls soccer squad Wednesday against Plymouth Salem as the Bulldogs blanked the Rocks 5-0.

Bentley's defenders, led by Sheri Wolfe and Kris Schultz, were consistently able to clear the ball from their territory.

Meanwhile, the attacking unit, led by Dana Dugan, Kim Paterson, Colleen McQueen and Amy Weber, played like they owned the ball — maneuvering with ease through Salem's backs and firing 26 shots at the Salem net.

Dugan scored three goals for the Bulldogs, giving her 11 on the season. Paterson and Weber each tallied once.

Bentley coach Paul Scieluna, was totally pleased with the outcome.

"We dictated the tone of the game from the beginning," he said. "Our execution as a team was the way soccer should be played. As for Dugan, she returned to her early season form. She can make things happen and possesses a lot of skill."

DUGAN TOOK charge early, scoring Bentley's first three goals. Her initial tally came at the 20-minute mark of the first half when a Rock defensive breakdown left her wide open in front of the net.

Dugan made it 2-0 six minutes later, firing in a rebound shot. Dugan completed the hat-trick early in the second half.

All three goals were scored off Rock goalie Tracy Greenhalge, who normally roams the midfield area for Salem.

"We were flat tonight and weren't really in the game," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. "Our goalkeepers got chopped up."

Karen Phillippi, Salem's front-line goalie, was shaken up early in the match after colliding with Paterson. She returned later in the game only to have her hand stepped on. She suffered some tendon damage to the hand and is expected to be out two games.

Backup goalie Tracy DeGrazia was out with bronchitis — thus, Greenhalge was pressed into duty.

Bulldog goalie Liz Monroe kicked away seven shots to record her sixth shutout of the season.

A bright note for Salem was the play of senior Fran Whitaker. She shook free of the Bentley defense to level some powerful shots at Monroe.

Bentley is 10-1 on the season.

N. FARMINGTON 1, SALEM 1: The Rocks' slide continued Friday.

Dena Head scored a goal early on for the Rocks, but it was the only one of 23 shots that got past North goalie Brooks Landback.

North tied the game with two minutes left when Mo O'Brien's throw-in was inadvertently deflected into the Salem goal. The Rocks are 6-3-3 on the year, North is 4-4-1.

State stars top Team China

By Brad Emmons
Staff writer

When the junior national basketball team from the People's Republic of China took the floor Wednesday night for their game with the Detroit AAU squad, nobody in the stands at Schoolcraft College really knew what to expect.

The Chinese players were certainly bigger (one player at 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches) and more mature looking (20- and 21-year-olds).

But the youthful Detroiters held their own, erasing a 15-point first half deficit to beat China's future Olympians, 89-85.

In the midst of a 10-city tour of the states, the Chinese came into Livonia a little haggard, according to coach Feng Yuwen.

"We have been very tired," he said through an interpreter. "We get up at five in the morning to travel and then we practice at noon."

And then we had a long ceremony (before the game)."

basketball

After the proclamations were read and mementos exchanged, the two teams got down to playing basketball.

The Chinese, who came into New York and Philadelphia, shot four consecutive airballs to start the game.

THE STATE CHAMPION Detroit AAU squad, led by 6-foot-10 Terry Mills of Romulus and 6-7 Glen Rice of Flint Northwestern, "Mr. Basketball," looked like they were going to wipe out the confused Chinese contingent.

But the AAU team's early lead was short-lived, however, as the visitors began to initiate their style of play.

China's main play offensively was for one player to penetrate the lane and dish off to a teammate for an open jump shot.

The tactics worked beautifully as the Detroit squad, which included Redford Catholic Central's John McIntyre, fell behind by as many as 15.

But the Detroit squad, using Mills, Rice, McIntyre, Terence Green (of Flint Central) and 6-junior Willie finished with a team-high 19 points. Rice and McIntyre added 14 and 12, respectively.

tennis

But the game's MVP and a man to remember in 1988 was 6-3 guard Cai Guangsheng, who poured in a game-high 27 points. Two other guards of similar stature, Wang Daon and Wang Fei, each added 18.

Maybe Stout should take a look across the Pacific more often.

"Their style of play was similar to the other teams on the tour," said the Chinese coach. "This (Detroit) team was a little faster, but individually their tactics were not so good. They made mistakes."

WHEN THE CHINESE pulled within two points during the final minute of play, Yuwen got off the bench for the first time and signaled official Ernie Winchester in sign language for not calling a foul.

"We respect the officials, but they refereed bad," Yuwen said. "They bad because they don't read the (rule) book on international game."

Green, despite being turnover prone.

Canton boosters plan golf outing at Fellows

Saturday, May 18, is the date set for the annual Plymouth Canton High School Athletic Boosters Club golf outing at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

All proceeds from this event will go toward the Canton athletic program.

The last two golf outings raised $7,000, club president Glenn Russell said. The money has paid for uniforms, equipment and tournament fees.

Mike Krasnowitz is chairing the event for the third straight year. Dick Scott Dodge will donate a new car to the winner of the hole-in-one contest, and other area businesses will chip in door prizes.

Any business that would like to donate gifts for door prizes may call the above numbers or Billie Whiteley at 453-7381.

Rain date will be Saturday, May 25.

Golf outing tickets can be bought for $25 from any booster club member or Canton coach. The fee includes an 18-hole round of golf, doughnuts and coffee, and lunch.

Teef-off times begin at 7 a.m. Information and tickets can be obtained by calling Russell at 455-1734 or Krasnowitz at 453-0794.

Any business that would like to donate gifts for door prizes may call the above numbers or Billie Whiteley at 453-7381.

Rain date will be Saturday, May 25.

Rocks win 1st, Chiefs roll

The Plymouth Salem boys track team won its first dual meet of the season Thursday, besting Livonia Stevenson 85-74-52-7.

Two Salem track records fell. Mike White, who won four events on the day, set a new 300-meter hurdle mark with a 39.5. The old mark was set in 1978 by Mike Neuhard (93.3).

Sophomore Brian Neuhard established a new 100-meter dash mark with a 10.8. The old mark, 10.9, was held jointly by Neuhard (1984) and Scott Bublin (1982).

Besides the low hurdles, White captured the 110 high hurdles (14.6), the high jump (5-10) and the long jump (21-5-4).

Another major bright spot for the Rocks was the return of junior Brian Waldron. Waldron, who joined the team just two weeks ago, won the 400 dash (53.5) and anchored the victorious 400 relay (46.4).

Mike Harwood captured the pole vault (12-0), Tony Pierce won the 200 (23.2), Brian Viadu won the 800 (2:09.4) and John Keros won the 3,200 (10:20.8).

The Rocks are 1-2.

Will Chiefs end Mangan skid?

If a Plymouth Canton track team is going to break its dry spell at the annual Mangan relays — well, this might just be the year.

The Plymouth Canton boys and girls track teams have won all eight previous Mangan Relays — the annual battle of Centennial Educational Park track and field teams held in the honor of former Salem student Jeff Mangan who died in 1977.

This Tuesday, all four teams will square off at the CEP track. The field events will begin at 4:30 p.m. with the track events starting at 6 p.m.

The Plymouth Canton girls track squad has the best chance of eclipsing Salem's eight-year win streak. The Chiefs are undefeated in dual meets and winners of the prestigious Belleville Tiger Relays so far this season. The Chiefs are ranked No. 3 in Observant and the Plymouth Salem girls team (also unbeaten in dual meets) is ranked No. 4. The girls meet promises to be a barn-burner.

On the boys side, Salem (No. 5 in the area) looks to be the favored team although Canton, 2-0-1 on the year, has proven to be much better than the area experts predicted at the outset of the season.

Thursday, the Chiefs, for the first time, defeated Walled Lake Western, 68-60.

The meet was decided in the final event, but Canton's mile relay team quickly eliminated the suspense. Marie Jarosz, Kim Bennett, Angie Miller and Carolyn Nagy combined on a 4:23.5, six seconds faster than Western's quartet.

Nagy also won the 440-yard dash (1:04.9), Miller the 880 (2:36.3) and

Spartan rally stops Chiefs

Pitching, defense keep Rocks atop division

A couple of pretty impressive streaks put together by the Plymouth Canton baseball program were suddenly snapped by Livonia Stevenson Wednesday.

With a five-run explosion in the top of the seventh inning, Stevenson defeated Canton 6-3, ending the Chiefs' three-year domination over the Spartans and stopping the Chiefs' eight-game winning streak.

"We haven't beaten them in three years," said a jubilant Spartan coach Jim George. "We feel real good. We beat a good program, but we have a good program over here, too. We've got us in our own terms, and we feel like this was our turn. We're going to enjoy this."

Canton senior Mike Clark was breezing along with a two-hitter and a 2-1 lead going into the seventh. Stevenson then unleashed six consecutive hits which led to five runs.

Chris Tancill, a junior catcher batting at 476 this year, led off the frame with a double. Mike LaFrance scored him with a double. Brian Cox singled, Frank Williams doubled in two runs, Ron Stephens singled and Brian Song doubled in the fifth run.

"Give credit to Chris Tancill," George said. "I think he's the best catcher in the area. He was really hurt, and I didn't know if he'd be able to play, but he did show a ton of leadership out there."

Dwayne Bennett carried the big bat for Canton. He had a double and a single. His single in the fifth put the Chiefs ahead 2-1.

Rob Ogian, a senior left-hander, scattered seven hits and fanned seven to get the win for Stevenson (3-4, 3-3 in the Western Lakes).

Canton got back on the winning track Friday defeating Farmington Harrison 7-3.

Bucky Blake got the victory, with relief help from Mark Coburn.

The Chiefs scored five times in the first, with the help of five walks. Dave Knapp banged out a home run, a single and three RBI.

With a five-run explosion in the top of the seventh inning, Stevenson defeated Canton 6-3, ending the Chiefs' three-year domination over the Spartans and stopping the Chiefs' eight-game winning streak.

"We haven't beaten them in three years," said a jubilant Spartan coach Jim George. "We feel real good. We beat a good program, but we have a good program over here, too. We've got us in our own terms, and we feel like this was our turn. We're going to enjoy this."

Canton senior Mike Clark was breezing along with a two-hitter and a 2-1 lead going into the seventh. Stevenson then unleashed six consecutive hits which led to five runs.

Chris Tancill, a junior catcher batting at 476 this year, led off the frame with a double. Mike LaFrance scored him with a double. Brian Cox singled, Frank Williams doubled in two runs, Ron Stephens singled and Brian Song doubled in the fifth run.

"Give credit to Chris Tancill," George said. "I think he's the best catcher in the area. He was really hurt, and I didn't know if he'd be able to play, but he did show a ton of leadership out there."

Dwayne Bennett carried the big bat for Canton. He had a double and a single. His single in the fifth put the Chiefs ahead 2-1.

Rob Ogian, a senior left-hander, scattered seven hits and fanned seven to get the win for Stevenson (3-4, 3-3 in the Western Lakes).

Chiefs rally for win; Salem hits cold spell

The Plymouth Canton softball team went through enough ups and downs last week to make a rollercoaster emulsion.

Up: The Chiefs rallied convincingly unhit Livonia Stevenson pitcher Lisa Bokovsky for four runs on Wednesday, including a long home run by Monika Benedict.

Down: The Chiefs played horrendous defense and lost to Stevenson 16-8.

Up: On Friday, the Chiefs appeared on their way to an easy victory against Farmington Harrison, rolling up a 4-0, then 5-2 lead after five innings.

Down: Harrison rallied for four runs in the top of the sixth to take a 6-5 lead. Up: Leslee Fridge came through with a clutch two-run single, and Canton won the game 8-6.

"We just weren't hitting today," Canton coach Max Sommerville said of Friday's game. "We hit a lot of fly balls. But we got the big hits when we needed it."

Benedict was the pitcher of record in both games for Canton.

Laura Darby had a pair of hits against Stevenson.

The Chiefs are now 3-1 in the Western Lakes and 6-2 overall.

BENTLEY 9, SALEM 8: Things just aren't going real well for Plymouth Salem at the moment.

Salem carried an 8-7 lead into the last of the seventh. Bentley, on three infield singles, loaded the bases with nobody out. Sue Carlson walked in the tying run. Bentley failed on two straight squeeze bunt attempts. With two out, Carlson walked Connie Allen with the winning run.

Kris Young went 4-for-4 and Denise Slamczekski 3-for-4 for Bentley.

The Rocks were aided by nine walks and five errors in Wednesday's victory against Northville. Vesnaugh and Patty Maslak each rapped a pair of hits.

Salem is 6-4 overall, 4-2 in the Western Lakes.
