The Canton Connection

CANTON POLICE officers will receive awards on a regular basis following a two-year dry spell. Lt. Larry Stewart, acting chief, has reinstated the policy of honoring officers in an effort to formally compliment and thank those who go above and beyond the call of duty. December 1981 marked the last time an officer was awarded by the department. Some of the recently bestowed awards were in recognition of four-year-old incidents, Stewart said.

HAS A LEAK SPRUNG from the Canton Fire Department? Township Clerk Linda Chuhnan has raised concerns about the township's policy of allowing residents to take water from fire pumps to augment their limited supplies. Without citing specific figures, Chuhnan said she thinks the cost incurred by the township is probably significant.

The township established the free-water policy as a service for those residents without adequate water about 20 years ago, said Trustee Loren Bennett. Bennett said he doesn't believe the cost to the township is excessive. Chuhnan said: "Maybe there should be a serious look at the piping down there (in the western half of the township). When this policy was set, there probably (were) only a few people involved, but now the township has grown to the point where this should be looked at."

TAKE A BOW. Corliss Hoffman, Canton salutes you as its "Dad of the Year." A Canton Country Festival committee headed by Trustee John Prencikzy selected you, based on the nomination submitted by Michelle Hoffman. Corliss, said his daughter, "is always lending a helping hand, even when he's low or not feeling good."

"He's passed my test, and I'm sure he would qualify or pass anyone else's test for a good dad." Canton's Dad of the Year will lead Saturday's Canton Country Festival parade, presiding as grand marshal. The Hoffmans will be treated Sunday (Fathers' Day) to a Chamber of Commerce chicken barbeque.

FOR KIDS WHO missed the Dad of the Year contest, there's another festival event that may be of interest: The "Canton Cabbage Patch Kid of 1985" contest. Slated for 2 p.m. Saturday, June 15, the extravaganza will feature competition in two categories — fashion and talent. Entrants must register by June 12 at the Canton Public Library or Lorraine's Dolls in Plymouth.

METTLE AND MUSCLE will be put to the test at 2 p.m. June 15 at the Canton Country Festival Tug-O-War. Persons interested in displaying their prowess may enter the event. There's a 1,000-pound limit per team. Metal and rubber spikes are prohibited. Winners will be awarded prizes and a trophy, and water will be provided for muddy losers. No entry fee is required. Just call 397-1000, Ext. 278 to register. Weigh-ins begin at 1:45 p.m. Saturday.

SPEAKING OF THE festival, the Canton parade route has been shortened. Entrants will proceed north on Sheldon from Saltz to Ford Road. They'll travel west to Canton Center Road and south to Saltz Road. (There'll be no parade viewing at Griffin Park.) The traditional route will be used after all, because of "participants' concerns about the added length of the parade," said Kay Baldrice, festival publicity chair.

GOLFERS are invited to get into the festival act as well. Canton's 5th Annual Scrambles Golf Tournament is slated for 11 a.m. Sunday, June 16, at Fellows Creek Golf Course. Entry fee per three-person team is $38. Golfers must register with Canton Parks and Recreation by Thursday. Call 397-1000 for more information.

A chagrined Richard Chadwick of Northville suffered only minor bruises and cuts when his Stitts airplane completed a landing last week in an upside down position at Mettetal Airport on Lilley and Joy roads. Airport employees helped Chadwick upright the experimental craft and tow it off the runway.

Upsy-daisy Craft made from kit crashes

An experimental airplane crashed at Mettetal Airport at 8:30 a.m. Thursday in Canton. The pilot, who was alone in the craft, was not seriously injured.

Richard Chadwick, 69, of Northville told Canton police his air speed dropped, causing the engine to stall and the craft to flip on its side, according to a Canton police report. The incident will be reviewed by the Federal Aviation Administration.

The experimental plane (a Stitts), commonly built from a home kit, came to a stop upside down. At the scene an hour after the crash, Chadwick, his forehead bandaged, seemed to be in relatively good spirits.

He was assisted by Mettetal employees in uprighting the 900-1,000-pound craft.

When asked if he was seriously injured, he said: "I'm walking aren't I?" Chadwick declined to comment further about what happened before the crash.

Canton police said "the pilot

Voters to fill school posts

Two persons will be elected today to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Between now and 8 p.m. Canton and Plymouth residents will be casting ballots to elect one trustee for a two-year term and another for a four-year term.

Running for the two-year spot are incumbent Dean Swartzwelder of Plymouth, George Johnson of Plymouth and Renee Vermeersch Casillas of Canton. Candidates for the four-year term are incumbent David Artley of Canton, Steve Harper of Plymouth and Richard Sumpter of Canton.

Also on the ballot will be the election of two candidates to six-year terms on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees. The candidates are incumbents Michael W. Burley of Canton and Sharon L. Sarris of Livonia and challenger Hussein Karzun of Garden City.

A small turnout of voters is expected as there is no millage or bond issue on the ballot.

Swartzwelder is seen as the favorite in the two-year race, having some experience as a trustee and the visibility that may bring. He was appointed to the board to fill the position caused by the resignation of Tom Yack of Canton.

A CLOSE race is expected between incumbent Artley and challenger Harper, a former school trustee. Artley has gained supporters during his two years on the board and Harper has kept in touch by serving on school committees since his last stint on the board about three years ago.

Harper had asked to be appointed to the board when Yack resigned, but Swartzwelder got the nod instead. When Nancy Quinn recently resigned from the board Harper decided to seek election to the board instead of being appointed. Marilyn Schwinn was named to replace Quinn.

Sumpter ran for the school board a year ago, as did Swartzwelder. Last June Les Walker and Quinn were elected to the board with Swartzwelder finishing in third place.

This is the first try for the school board for Casillas and Johnson.

Don't forget to vote.
Polls will be open until 8 p.m.

Artley is vice president of the school board and has been active as president of the Plymouth-Canton Band Boosters. He is chairman of the board's staff morale committee and has 15 years experience as a business manager, including experience in labor negotiations and contract administration.

Harper has been employed with Ford Motor Co. 18 years in financial analysis and control, business planning and strategy development. A 12-year resident of the school district, he served on the school board for four years 1977-81 and has been active with Growth Works.

Sumpter, a resident of the district for eight years, has been active with the Lions Club and Boy Scouts. His wife is an educational aide with Plymouth-Canton Community Schools; they have four children attending school in the district.

Gun seized at school

A gun was seized in the parking lot of Plymouth Salem High School from a 17-year-old senior last week.

A security guard spotted the .25-caliber automatic on the student as he was entering the parking lot area, according to school officials. The firearm was not discharged.

"He (the security guard) stopped him and asked for the gun, and it was turned over," said Dick Egli, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' community relations director.

THE STUDENT has been suspended indefinitely pending further investigation. The suspension was moot, however, as Wednesday was the last day of class for seniors.

"I've removed him from the (senior graduation) ceremonies, and I have removed him from all senior activities," said Bill Brown, Salem principal.

Action by Canton police may be forthcoming pending further investigation. The department has the option of charging him with carrying a concealed weapon, said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson.

"I don't think this (type of incident) will be repeated, because it was a unique situation that prompted the student to bring (the gun) to school," Egli said. "It was a specific situation involved here with the student and some students, and I don't think this will be repeated."

He declined to elaborate. The incident occurred at 11:55 a.m. Wednesday. A report was made to Canton police at approximately 8 a.m. Thursday. Police personnel have said they are concerned that too much time

Baby sitter is named in sex case

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A 19-year-old Canton man is charged with sexually assaulting two boys under 10 years old. The suspect was a live-in baby sitter for one of the youngsters.

Dennis Robert Prince of Carriage Hills Drive was arraigned Thursday in 35th District Court before Judge John MacDonald on two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct (CSC) and two counts of second degree CSC. A plea of not guilty was entered.

Initially, Prince was a suspect in a case involving a 9-year-old, which was reported June 3 to the Canton Township Police Department. The alleged incident occurred in a home on Alleghany Drive.

"On June 4 we (police) received another report from a second (alleged) victim's parents," said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson.

THE MOTHER of a 7-year-old Canton boy brought Prince to the police department when she filed the report. At that time, Canton officers obtained information about the alleged incidents from Prince, the boy's mother and a woman who said Prince admitted to her that he had engaged in at least one sexual act with one of the boys, according to a police report.

The parents of the children filed the reports after noticing a change of attitude in their sons and following discussions with them, Wilson said.

"Based on an investigation he (Prince) was taken into custody that night," Wilson said. "The (alleged) incidents happened over a two-week period of time."

A proposed fire and police dispatch faces extinction at board meeting

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton firefighters cited potentially delayed response times in an effort to convince township administrators to reject a proposed combined police and fire dispatch system.

The Canton Board of Trustees is expected to kill the central dispatch proposal at its meeting tomorrow night. The board also is scheduled to take action on separate dispatch options solely for the police department.

The central dispatch system has been favored by board members for the past few years as a means to control costs and free for road work officers and firefighters who work as dispatchers. Both departments have expressed a need for more people on the road.

Presently, firefighter cadets and police officers work on separate dispatch systems.

FIREFIGHTERS JIM DAVISON and Tom Battistone gave an elaborate presentation opposing central dispatch Wednesday at a special board meeting.

"Delays are going to happen all of the time, because of the (central dispatch) link in the communication," Battistone said.

They stressed the need for trained firefighters to answer emergency calls and dispatch fire department equipment. Another argument against central dispatch is that presently, firefighters are able to listen in on emergency calls, and thus are better able to prepare themselves for the run, Davison said.

"Unless you guys (firefighters) support central dispatch it will fail," said Trustee Robert Padgett. "With the attitude of the fire department with regards to keeping the existing system, I'm not really sure we ever could make the central dispatch work."

"It's not that they wouldn't work with it, because they said they would, but if they really don't support it it's doomed for failure," Padgett said after the meeting.

Battistone and Davison presented a five-page report listing the "pros and cons" of central dispatch. The study cited major snafus in central dispatch operations in other communities.

TRUSTEE STEPHEN LARSON said: "I personally think central dispatch can work, but certain ingredients have to be there, and one of those is the full-hearted support from the fire department."

"If you don't have that then you have risks, . . . and I think trying to go with central dispatch is not going to work here for a number of reasons."

Firefighters say new work order is all wet

A Canton firefighters' grievance concerning an administrative order to refrain from washing, waxing or repairing personal property (vehicles) on township grounds while on duty has been denied.

Canton Trustee Loren Bennett, who hears grievances filed against the township by union employees, signed a decision Friday denying the request filed by the Canton Firefighters Local 2289. The union has the option of accepting Bennett's ruling or taking the grievance to arbitration.

If arbitration is chosen, the union and township will pay a fee for the services. The process takes about a year just to begin, Bennett said.

THE ORDER AGAINST working on personal vehicles was issued by Canton Fire Chief Mel Paulun about two weeks ago. The order initiated with Supervisor James Poole.

"I don't want the taxpayers paying any fireman's worker's compensation because he was run over by his own boat while working on it at the township fire department," Poole said.

The union states the ruling is "a change in working conditions, and under our contract agreement we have a right to grieve," said Canton Firefighter Jim Davison, union president.

Canton collects long-awaited Supersewer reimbursement

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

After two years of squabbling, legal battles and negotiations, it boiled down to a question of who could hand over the checks.

Plymouth and Canton townships were expected to receive checks totaling more than $600,000 Friday as part of a settlement on their Supersewer lawsuit.

"We are attempting to expedite things and are trying to pick up the checks today," Plymouth Township Attorney Brian James said Friday.

"I guess the problem now is who in the county can physically hand me our check. I don't care if they want to take pictures or whatever, just as long as they give me the check."

The money, $141,888 for Plymouth Township and $476,219 for Canton, represents the amount both communities pumped into planning the ill-fated Supersewer project.

By paying the money to the townships, more than half of the defendants in the Supersewer litigation will be dropped.

IN THE summer of 1983 a governor's task force decided to split the project, which would have built a massive sewage line from northwestern Wayne County through the Downriver area to a treatment plant, with the recycled water emptying into the Detroit River.

The task force decided to let the southern communities proceed with a scaled-down version of Supersewer, while the northern communities were lumped together with Rouge Valley communities to form the NEV/RV I project (North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley Wastewater Control Project).

Following the split, the townships filed a lawsuit in Wayne Circuit Court to protect the decision and demanded repayment of their planning money because they weren't being allowed to take part in the project.

Included as defendants were all of the southern communities, Wayne County, the City of Detroit and State of Michigan. The lawsuit alleges, among other things, that the decision was the result of conspiracy and that the townships were forced to participate in the Supersewer planning against their will.

Last year the southern project was approved for 75 percent U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) funding, with the remaining 25 percent to come from the communities through a joint-obligation bond sale coordinated by the county.

Because of the pending litigation, the southern communities were forced to deal with the townships if they wanted to sell their bonds.

Plymouth and Canton townships subsequently agreed to drop the southern communities from the lawsuit if their planning money was repaid.

The bonds recently were sold for the southern project, with a portion of the proceeds going for the lawsuit settlement.

"WE HAVE had three settlement conferences and another one is scheduled for June 12," James said.

The conferences have been postponed to allow for the bond sale, so the southern communities could be dropped, he said.

"We have made a settlement offer to the county, state and city but we have not heard back from them."

If it is not resolved at the June 12 meeting, then we will get a court date as soon as possible and proceed with the trial," James said.

The remaining defendants — the city, county and state — have been asked to agree to several things. Among the points are:

• Agreeing that the two townships are not required to send all their wastewater (sewage) to the Detroit treatment plant.

• Agreeing that a state sewer tap ban will not be imposed on the two townships.

• Agreeing that an alternate sewage project (NEV/RV II) be developed with fairly divided local costs not to exceed 65 percent of the total cost.

Pickup demolished on 275; driver 'fair'

A semitruck rolled over a pickup truck "parked" in a traffic lane on I-275 in Canton early Saturday morning. The driver of the pickup was listed in fair condition by the afternoon.

James Levey, 34, of Inkster was in the 1981 Chevy pickup that was "parked" in the right traffic lane without its lights on, according to a Canton police accident report. The pickup was stopped south of Joy Road in a northbound lane on the highway at 3:05.

Robert Ritchey, 55, who was driving a Foodland Distributor 1977 GMC semitruck, was unable to stop in time and rolled over Levey's vehicle, according to a state police officer. Ritchey, who refused medical treatment, is not listed at fault on the accident report.

Levey's truck was smashed into an unrecognizable heap, according to a witness driving by the accident scene. Police blocked all north and south lanes on the highway. The northbound traffic was diverted to the right shoulder for passage, the witness said. A fire truck and at least five police cars responded to the scene.

Levey was taken to Westland Medical Center, then rushed by an emergency medical helicopter "Survival Flight" to the University of Michigan Hospitals in Ann Arbor. "Special X-rays were taken of him," according to a Westland Medical officer.

Levey was then returned to Westland Medical where he was listed in fair condition Saturday afternoon.

Remembering

State Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, was among 18 state legislators who lit candles at a commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the liberation of Jews from concentration camps during World War II. Kosteva said he attended the event at the Jewish Community Center's Holocaust Center in West Bloomfield because it's important "to remain sensitive to the reality that single individuals can motivate mass acclivities to do extremely destructive things. Hopefully, a little bit of awareness of our past will help us never to repeat those historical mistakes."

SERVICES IN THE COMMUNITY FOR PEOPLE WITH ARTHRITIS
If you have arthritis, you should be informed about a number of health related services in the community that you can purchase.
First are the home health service agencies. These organizations provide nurses to supervise medication, physical therapists to direct exercise programs, and aides to assist in meals and housekeeping. In many instances cost of these services will be borne by Medicare.
Second, a number of local stores carry products to assist you in daily activities such as bathing, dressing, meal preparation, and toilet care. We have catalogues that show these items and their cost. Unfortunately we do not have sufficient items and their cost. Unfortunately we do not have sufficient quantity for purchase or loan, but you are welcome to our office to review their contents.
Third are social workers in the community who can help you work through the problems of helping someone with arthritis to remain self sufficient in the home. The social worker will go to the individual's home, assess the person's needs, and arrange appropriate services.
These counselors charge a fee, but in my experience the help you receive more than offsets the cost involved.

Hoben: Middle school petitioners can beat their heads

By Gary M. Calles
staff writer

Circulators of a petition opposing the closing of Central Middle School likely will run head first into a brick wall Tuesday night.

Supporters of the historic school building, who have heard rumors that a closing is in the works, are gathering signatures and plan to approach the school board at tomorrow night's meeting.

"As far as I'm concerned they can come up and beat their heads. They can come up and it's going to be a waste of time," Superintendent John Hoben said Friday.

"There's been no discussion or intent by the board or administration to close Central — it's rather stupid when we're renting a building from Livonia. There's no foundation for it," Hoben said.

"There's nothing in the current plans of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools to use Central for anything other than a school."

"You can check with the board president, Roland Thomas, if you want but I am speaking for the board and administration when I say that."

"I'd be willing to bet most of us will be gone and buried and that building still will be used as a school," the superintendent said.

BUT RESIDENTS from the Adams Street area in Plymouth, behind the school, believe differently.

There are so many rumors floating around, we just want to get the facts — that's why we're going to the school board Tuesday night," Adams Street resident Roxanna Uhlmann said Friday.

"We feel we may be early jumping on the bandwagon but we want to be included in the decision-making process. They got rid of Starkweather Elementary before anyone knew what was happening," said Rena Przytulski, one of Uhlmann's neighbors.

The two women, along with two N. Harvey residents, are the impetus behind the petition drive. The group is circulating two petitions — one asking that Central be renovated instead of replaced, and the other asking that if the property is sold it go to the city for recreational purposes.

The whole issue of middle school housing has surfaced recently because of discussions on a proposed bond issue.

"There absolutely are no discussions or plans to close Central. The only discussion in regard to Central came up in the bond committee," Hoben said.

"It was talk of how much or how little will be asked for in the bond issue to go for renovating Central."

"If they build another middle school committee had and then Mayor David Pugh from the city made some grandiose statements about using it for apartments or senior housing or something," Hoben said.

"The bond committee discussed it because of the amount for renovation, they talked about the possibility of building. That would be nice but it is not possible."

Reportedly, the cost for Central's renovation ranges from $1.5 to $6 million.

lion opposed to $7 million to build a new combination middle elementary school. Ideally, a new building would be in Canton to avoid transportation costs to the current middle schools which all are in Plymouth (except for Lowell which is leased from Livonia).

"I DON'T want my tax dollars to go to build anymore new schools in this district," said Barb Pelkey of N. Harvey.

"I'd just as soon divide the school district if Canton needs more schools. We'll just put the high school back in Central," Pelkey said.

"If they build another middle school in Canton, that means our kids would be going to East and West and that would mean redistricting and all those problems," said Dorothy Crews, also of N. Harvey.

All of the women are concerned about two things — losing the school and losing the recreational facilities on the school grounds.

"That is our recreational facilities. If we don't have recreational facilities and we all go to Canton, their facilities are going to get a little crowded," Uhlmann said.

"My understanding is that the other middle schools don't have the recreational facilities that Central does and that the other middle schools come to Central. What will the other schools do if Central is sold?" Przytulski asked.

The women said their neighborhood doesn't have a park or playground and all the kids use the Central grounds.

"The OTHER factor they want stressed is the changing demographics of the community."

"Young couples are moving into Plymouth and there are more kids," Crews said.

"Plymouth is changing, so why take all our schools away?"

"There is pride in that school again," said Crews, who is involved with a parent patrol in the building.

"The kids aren't afraid to go to school there — it's a strict school."

The women claim they have tried to get answers about plans for Central.

"We are doing the petitions because we want the school board to know that it's more than just the people on Adams," said Przytulski. "The school board has been very closed-mouth."

When Wayne retired, I was no longer on the board, but my wife was. I remember how carefully the board pursued the process of helping the orchestra select its new conductor. The orchestra had the opportunity to work with several prospects over a period of time. When the orchestra members did select their new conductor, it was a decision reached after careful deliberation.

I think the music improved. And I thought the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra continued to be one of the best semi-professional orchestras in the Midwest.

Therefore, I must say that the board's recent unilateral action in dismissing Johan van der Merwe from the conductorship of the orchestra strikes me as insensitive and ill-considered.

The orchestra members were never consulted, almost as if to avoid their interference. Instead of working with the orchestra, the board has apparently chosen to ignore it. Where are the ethics here?

At Tuesday's meeting, the board is expected to vote on a plan to hire community service officers to operate the police dispatch system.

"We have to decide if we do need to put more officers on the street, and if we do, the least expensive would be the civilian dispatchers who would free up the officers," Padgett said.

posed to do?" asked Davison. "Just sit there and do nothing?"

Union officials met with Bennett and Dan Durack, township personnel director, Wednesday. A decision from Bennett was due within five days.

The conflict between the union and administration arises in the midst of contract negotiations. The firefighters' contract expires June 30.

Ebenezer Penniman founded school in 1840

Central Middle School, on Main at Church in Plymouth, is the oldest educational site in the district.

"On that site has existed the nucleus of the Plymouth school system since 1853," said Sam Hudson, a local historian.

In 1840 Ebenezer J. Penniman built a seminary in memory of his wife at the site. The seminary was built before the formation of public schools.

In 1853 Penniman agreed to donate the property and building to the school system if they would consolidate all the area schools into it," Hudson said.

The agreement was made and the seminary was repaired and used. Shortly after that, building was undertaken and the seminary-turned-school was doubled in size, according to Hudson.

At that time, schools went from first grade to eighth and all were housed in the one school building.

In 1887 the high school was added to the building and four years later the first high school class graduated from Plymouth — having gone through all the grades at the Central site.

"THE REASON we got a high school was that a state law was passed which allowed school districts to collect some taxes to build high schools," Hudson said.

Before public funding of schools, all students were required to pay tuition for public and private schools.

In 1916 the school building and neighboring Methodist Church burned. Classes were moved to various places throughout the city while the school was rebuilt and the new building opened in 1918.

After the arraignment Thursday, Prince was unable to post a $100,000 bond or 10 percent surety set by MacDonald. The bonds were set at $50,000 or 10 percent surety for each case.

Prince was to be held in the Wayne County Jail.

A preliminary examination to determine whether there is enough evidence to go to trial in Wayne County Circuit Court is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. July 13 in 35th District Court.

The maximum penalty for first degree CSC is life imprisonment, and 15 years imprisonment for second degree CSC.

GERALD BROWN, Canton treasurer, stressed if the board does grant the union's request to block central dispatch, similar consideration must be given by the union to the township.

Brown was referring to various lawsuits and union grievances filed by firefighters against Canton.

"If we are going to treat you professionally, then you're going to have to act professionally," Brown said.

Trustee Loren Bennett said the central system could work if the firefighters were in favor.

"There's no question it would work, but if it's approached from a point of either not wanting it or a standpoint of apathy it will either fail or wind up a mediocre system," Bennett said. "The exact same thing can be said about any project or any undertaking of any organization."

Orchestra was misused

To the editor:

My wife and I have been members of the Plymouth Symphony Society for about 25 years.

Many said the orchestra was one of the best semi-professional orchestras in the Midwest, and so I was honored when I was asked to serve on its board.

I had visions of sitting around the fire with other directors and Wayne Dunlap and helping select music to be played in upcoming concerts. I soon found that was not our charge as directors, as much as I would have enjoyed that idyllic pursuit.

In fact, I found the board's main task was to promote the orchestra and to do the many behind-the-scenes chores necessary to permit all those wonderful musicians to make all their wonderful music. We did everything we could to serve that orchestra. We encouraged and maintained a close liaison with the orchestra.

When Wayne retired, I was no longer on the board, but my wife was. I remember how carefully the board pursued the process of helping the orchestra select its new conductor. The orchestra had the opportunity to work with several prospects over a period of time. When the orchestra members did select their new conductor, it was a decision reached after careful deliberation.

Toast Dad with His Favorite Foods

All Dads may not agree on how they want to spend Father's Day or on what gifts they would like to receive. But many agree on one thing — their special day wouldn't be complete without a hearty and satisfying beef dinner.

Sure to make Dad feel like "king for a day" is the king of steaks — the T-Bone. These man-sized steaks, cut from the prestigious short loin section of beef, are always tender, juicy and oh, so delicious. When the steaks are cooked on the grill over glowing coals, they make a flavor treat that Dad and the whole family will savor with enthusiasm.

To satisfy Dad's sweet tooth, present him with Golden Apple Cake. This moist, spicy cake is wonderfully flavored with shredded Golden Delicious apples, crushed pineapple and chopped walnuts. It's topped off with a maple-flavored cream cheese frosting and an eye-catching pinwheel of fresh apple slices. Golden's are the preferred apple here because they resist darkening after being cut.

The perfect beverage to serve with this special meal? Iced tea, of course! Whether you choose to make this thirst-quenching favorite with loose tea, tea bags, instant tea or iced tea mix, you'll have delicious success every time when you follow the easy directions given here.

Broiled T-Bone Steaks

Beef T-Bone steaks, cut 1 to 2 inches thick
Salt and pepper

Place steaks on grill over ash-covered coals and broil at moderate temperature. Steaks cut 1 inch thick should be placed 2 to 3 inches from heat. Steaks cut 2 inches thick should be placed 3 to 5 inches from heat. When first sides are browned, turn and season with salt and pepper and finish cooking second sides. Turn and season. Steaks cut 1 inch thick require 15 to 20 minutes for rare, 20 to 25 minutes for medium. Steaks cut 2 inches thick require 30 minutes for rare and 35 minutes for medium.

Note: Steaks can be cooked on rack in broiler pan. Turn steaks after seasoning browned sides.

Golden Apple Cake

1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup oil
3 eggs
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons (1/2 baking soda, ground)
cinnamon and vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups shredded Golden Delicious apples*
3/4 cup chopped walnuts
Maple-Flavored Frosting
1 Golden Delicious apple, cored and sliced

Drain pineapple thoroughly, reserve 2 tablespoons syrup for frosting. Combine all ingredients except Maple-Flavored Frosting and sliced apples in mixer bowl; mix well. Pour into two greased and floured 9-inch round cake pans. Bake in preheated 350°F oven 35 minutes or until cake tests done when wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean. Cool in pan 5 minutes, turn out onto rack and cool completely. Frost between layers and on top with Maple-Flavored Frosting. Decorate top with apple slices before serving. Yield: one 9-inch round cake.

* Apples may be shredded by hand or food processor.

Maple-Flavored Frosting

Blend 1 package (3 ounces) softened cream cheese, 2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine and 1-1/2 cups confectioners sugar until fluffy. Add 2 tablespoons reserved pineapple syrup, 1/4 cup chopped walnuts, 1/4 teaspoon maple flavoring and dash salt; mix well. If necessary, add 1/4 to 1/2 cup additional powdered sugar to make frosting easy to spread. Yield: 1-1/3 cups.

More Dad-Pleasing Ideas

If it's roast beef that makes Dad all smiles, he'll be the happiest man in town when you honor him with Father's Day Beef Roast. He'll find the lean, flavorful beef eye round roast especially tantalizing for it is marinated in red wine flavored with onion, parsley and thyme. As a bonus, the marinade also acts as a tenderizer for the beef. Other tips for tenderness: slowly roast the beef only to rare and carve into thin slices.

For interesting color, texture and flavor contrasts, brighten the Father's Day menu with Delicious Apple Layered Salad, a fresh fruit version of the popular layered salad. Diced Red and/or Golden Delicious apples are layered with diced celery, orange pieces, grape halves and chopped pecans. All is crowned with a creamy blue cheese dressing and decorative apple wedges. It's a salad you can serve with confidence for Washington State Delicious apples are juicy, crisp and flavorful.

No matter what the weather this Father's Day, Dad will be cool and refreshed as he sips on Teaberry Punch. Iced tea, easily made with instant tea, is delightful flavored with cranberry juice cocktail and lemon juice. For an even easier version of the punch, lemon-flavored iced tea mix can be used.

Father's Day Beef Roast

3-1/2 to 4-pound beef eye round roast
1 cup red wine
2 tablespoons oil
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons snipped parsley
1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
Dash freshly ground black pepper

Combine wine, oil, onion, parsley, thyme and pepper. Place roast in plastic bag; add marinade, turn to coat. Tie bag securely and marinate in refrigerator 24 hours, turning occasionally. Pour off marinade. Pat roast dry with absorbent paper; place on rack in open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb is centered in the thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325°F) until thermometer registers 135°F. Allow 20 to 22 minutes per pound. Let roast "stand" 15 minutes. (Roasts will usually rise 5°F in temperature to reach 140°F for rare). Carve into thin slices.

Delicious Apple Layered Salad

3 cups cored, diced Red or Golden Delicious apples
1 tablespoon lime juice

Parsley brightens fridge and food

When I got out of my car at the neighborhood supermarket, I was surprised to find shopping carts in the parking lot.

Those waist-high bars had kept the carts in front of the store, leaving departing customers two options: Carry the bags of groceries to the car.

Pull the car up to the traffic-jammed entrance.

"We had too many complaints," said a bag boy, who was gathering up the carts.

"I was told you can't have an obstruction in front of the door," said the store manager. "It's a new county ordinance."

No matter the reason, it was a relief to wheel the groceries to the car, parked several rows away from the entrance, also cluttered with delivery trucks.

EACH TIME a cart disappears, the store is out $100, the manager told me. And you know who will be paying the tab, I thought to myself.

During this particular trip, I picked up a bunch of fresh parsley, which had proved another nemesis over the years. I often throw away more parsley than I use.

I've tried various methods to prevent the parsley from wilting: leaving it in a cellophane bag, placing it in a damp brown bag or sealing it in a plastic container.

When I got back home, I didn't give the parsley much thought. My wife put away the groceries.

The next day when I searched the refrigerator for the parsley, which I planned to use in an Italian pesto sauce, I didn't find it in the crisper — it was standing in a little water in a glass beer stein.

"I heard it was the best way to keep parsley," Anita explained. "You just change the water every day."

Four days later, the parsley was still fresh. It also makes for an unusual refrigerator plant.

FETTUCCINE PESTO
1/2 cup butter, softened

1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
1 large garlic clove, crushed
1 1/2 tsp. dried basil leaves
1/2 tsp. dried marjoram leaves
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 pkg. (12 oz.) fettuccine, cooked as directed

Cream butter in bowl, blend with cheese, parsley, garlic, basil and marjoram and gradually add oil, constantly beating. Add nuts and mix well. Yields 1 1/2 cups pesto sauce. Drain fettuccine, return to warm pot and toss with sauce until well coated. Serves 5-6.

1/2 cup chili sauce
1/4 cup red wine vinegar
2 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 clove garlic, minced

Place ham on rotisserie of grill. If desired, make a foil drip pan about 1 1/2 inches deep and extending about 3 inches on each side of ham; place under rotisserie. Insert meat thermometer in thickest part of ham, not touching fat or rotisserie rod. Close grill hood. Grill over slow coals for 2 1/2 to 3 hours or till meat thermometer registers 165°F.

For sauce, in a small bowl combine chili sauce, vinegar, lemon juice, mustard, and garlic; mix well. Brush ham frequently with sauce during the last hour of grilling time. Let ham stand at least 10 minutes before carving to allow juices to set. (Temperature will continue to rise to reach the recommended 170 degrees internal temperature.) Makes 12 to 15 servings.

Grill a fresh ham for dad's day

There is a lot of argument on what barbecue is supposed to be. Since the word itself is both a noun and a verb (it refers to a popular outdoor cooking procedure as well as a food by the same name), and since the product varies according to differences in regions, probably no other kind of cooking causes so much disagreement.

How barbecue is served (it can be sliced, chopped or served in chunks), whether the accompanying marinade or sauce is tomato-based or vinegar with spices, and whether the meat is pork, beef or chicken, are only a few of several touchy areas. If pork happens to be the favored meat, then the distinction must be made as to whether the whole pig is used or just certain parts of the animal, the shoulder and ham in particular.

Additionally, there is the subject of what to eat with barbecue. Coleslaw — either the mayonnaise or barbecue kind — is the traditional accompaniment. But baked beans hush puppies (cornbread-like nuggets fried in hot fat) and french fried potatoes may also be served. Again, it all depends on regional preferences.

A major force in the South, barbecue is famous in North Carolina and in cities such as Memphis, St. Louis and Kansas City. It generally takes two forms: chopped or sliced — but either way, the best way to eat barbecue is on a roll or bun as a sandwich.

Ribs are as commonplace as sandwiches in most barbecue establishments. And pork seems to win out as being the preferred rib meat. Barbecue is exceptionally tender as a result of long, slow cooking. For this, a rotisserie, a modern-day device on most home grills, is recommended. That way, the meat can be left unattended. It actually bastes itself while cooking. Sauces are not necessary, unlike most recipes where meats are basted frequently. For authentic barbecue, the sauce is applied either at the end of cooking by the cook, or by the diners themselves.

Drawing on recipes from across the country, Grilled Fresh Ham starts with a boneless pork leg, commonly known to consumers as ham, but that name is really a misnomer because the cut is not cured like ordinary hams.

Fresh ham or pork leg is of predictably high quality. And though it is not widely available in supermarkets, it can easily be ordered by a call to your meat department a day or two in advance.

There is no end to the number of ways fresh ham can be prepared. Cooked whole on the grill and served up as barbecue in a sandwich is but one way to enjoy it. Vinegar and lemon juice used in the following recipe leave a pleasing pungency typical of Southern-style barbecue. For those with an adventurous streak, a handful of herbs thrown on the fire can leave a lasting impression, too.

350 fancy cats coming to show

The cats are coming. Cats of all ages and breeds are coming to Plymouth this weekend for the Midwest Persian Tabby Fanciers 1985 Great Lakes Regional Show in the Plymouth Cultural Center. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. Admission will be $3 for adults, $2 for senior citizens, and $1 for children under 12.

Carefully groomed and manicured show cats of impeccable bloodlines from across the nation will compete for ribbons and glory. There are no cash prizes although entry fees run from $16 for regular, to $10 for the household pet category. Breeders can demand higher prices for offspring of their ribbon-winners.

Tom Bowling of Plymouth and Diane Crowe of Utica are co-managers of the show, which will be a first for Plymouth.

MIDWEST PERSIAN Tabby Fanciers Inc. is hosting the Great Lakes Regional show.

The Great Lakes Region includes 40 clubs encompassing all of Michigan and Ohio, parts of Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New York, and an area of Canada around Toronto. It is one of seven regions, or divisions, in Canada and United States, including Alaska.

Plans for the show have been a year in the making. Once the actual site of the show, the Plymouth Cultural Center, was reserved, accommodation suggestions for exhibitors had to be listed.

Banquet arrangements were made with the Mayflower Hotel for the Saturday evening of the show. The dinner menu of appetizer, salad, rice or potato, vegetable, stuffed boneless breast of chicken and dessert, was included in brochures. Gary Veach of New Hudson handled banquet reservations.

Rick and Lisa Floyd of Plymouth were named entry clerks.

JUDGES for the show had to be lined up with one coming from as far away as Oregon.

More than 350 felines have been registered for the show. They range in age from 4 months on up. Four to 8-month-old cats are shown in the kitten class. There is no age limit on the adults.

All cats and kittens should be inoculated in advance against Feline Enteritis, Rhinotracheitis and Calici Virus and tested for Feline Leukemia. Their claws should be clipped prior to benching. Household pet entries must be altered and must not be declawed.

There is no veterinary inspection at the show.

THE MAJORITY of the breeders transport their cats in Sky Kettles, the type available at airports.

The host club is responsible for providing the 22-by-22-by-22-inch cages used during the show. These are rented for the occasion from an area source.

The hosts also provide litter for the cages. Estimate for a two-day show is two pounds per cat. Lowe's of Kalamazoo is donating 1,000 pounds of litter for the event.

The brochure mailed to exhibitors noted that the show hall is climate controlled.

Set-up in the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street, Plymouth, will be done Friday night. Many of the out-of-state exhibitors and their cats and kittens are expected to arrive Friday.

One of the "Tabby Fanciers" said, "This is not an inexpensive hobby."

Those pure breed show cats lead pampered lives. But come show time, the household pet entries feel no class distinction — they have combined the art of being pampered while maintaining their sense of freedom.

Harrison follows script to state finals

By Tom Panzenhagen
staff writer

"They couldn't write a script like that," Farmington Harrison second baseman Ken George said.

If they did, no one would buy it. But it really happened. With two out in the seventh inning and Harrison trailing Livonia Stevenson — coached by Ken George's father, Jim — 2-1, the junior George doubled home three runs and the Hawks went on to win, 4-3.

Harrison then polished off Dearborn, 10-9, in Saturday's regional finals at Plymouth Canton High School. That win was no less dramatic as Harrison scored all its runs in one inning.

But it was their come-from-behind dramatics in game one that exemplified the spirit of these Cinderella Hawks, who finished seventh in league play but now have won 14 of their last 16 games. Overall they are 17-10.

STEVENSON twice was one strike away from clinching the opener. But in the seventh, with Brad Rounds on third, Vince Enright delivered a two-out, two-strike single off starter and losing pitcher Bob Ognian that narrowed the gap to 2-1.

Dan Murray then singled and Brian Smolinski walked, setting the stage for George, who took a ball and two strikes before bouncing one off the wall in left-center field.

"That's the most pressure you can have on a high school kid," Harrison coach John Herrington said of George's at bat.

Jim George — emotionally drained and near tears moments after the game ended — said, "I still don't believe it. I'm really proud of Ken, but I wish it wouldn't have come down to this. I didn't want him to strike out or embarrass himself. I wanted him to hit the ball right at somebody."

"I wish someone had hit one for us in the bottom of the seventh, then we would have won 5-4 and Ken would have done everything he could."

"But it wasn't in the script." Ken George — all smiles after the game — said, "That's the biggest thrill of my life." Asked whether his father said anything to him, he said, "Dad gave me a nice hug."

THE SECOND GAME featured another Harrison comeback.

Down 6-0, the Hawks sent 15 batters to the plate and tallied 10 runs on nine hits in the third inning.

Number nine hitter Murray started the rally with a single. Smolinski doubled him to third and both came home on the first of two John Miller RBI singles of the inning.

Mike Colovos then drove a high fast ball off losing pitcher Scott Mason over the center field fence, accounting for two more runs.

The next three hitters — Rounds, Shawn Brennan and Ken Rudberg — singled and Rounds scored on a wild pitch, tying the score. Enright then walked and Murray — batting for the second time in the inning — was hit by a pitch, forcing in the go-ahead run.

Murray was the 10th consecutive Hawk to reach base without an out.

The eighth run came home when Dearborn shortstop Brian Keating flagged down a George grounder up the

Two to go for Hawks

Harrison needs two more wins to claim the state Class A baseball championship.

With Saturday's wins over Livonia Stevenson and Dearborn, they advance to the state finals being hosted by Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

The Hawks will play Jenison High School — winners of the Lansing-Sexton regionals — at 3 p.m. Friday. The winner of that game plays for the championship at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Harrison's last appearance in the state tournament was as a Class B team in 1981. They lost in the semi-finals.

middle but couldn't make a play. Miller then delivered the last two runs of the inning with another single.

DEARBORN scored four in the first off starting pitcher Vince Enright, who faced only four batters and allowed three runs. Rudberg gave up the fourth run in the first, and two more runs in both the second and third innings.

Gary Schmidt took over for Rudberg in the third and finally settled things down, allowing only one run on one hit in 2½ innings of relief.

Mike Inch — who went the distance in game one, raising his record to 8-2 — collected the save, limiting Dearborn to one hit and no runs in the last 1½ innings.

Dearborn, which defeated Southgate Anderson, 6-0, earlier in the day to advance to the regional finals, finished the year 20-7.

For Livonia Stevenson in game one, Ognian pitched six strong innings — permitting no runs on four hits — before being roughed up by George and company in the seventh.

Spartan DH Joe Conway collected two RBIs on a sixth-inning double, and Chris Tancill hit a solo homer in the seventh.

Stevenson finished the year 15-11.

Hawk catcher Mike Colovos homers against Dearborn, driving in two runs during Harrison's 10-run third inning. The Hawks put the game away in the third when they sent 15 batters to the plate. John Miller also drove in four runs with two singles during the rally. Harrison now advances to the state baseball finals Friday in Kalamazoo.

Farmington Harrison first baseman Vince Enright celebrates as he scores from third on Ken George's game-winning double in semi-final regional baseball action Saturday. The Hawks, who defeated Livonia Stevenson 4-3, scored all of their runs in their last at bats. They also beat Dearborn later in the day to win the regional title.

THE 1985 Observerland girls track season was full of highlights.

It started with the Observerland meet, where sprinter Terri Ford led Farmington Hills Mercy to the title.

It was also a big year for all-purpose runner Karen Opp and Westland John Glenn. Carrying just 12 girls on its roster, Glenn still managed to win several titles, including the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) for the second consecutive year.

Redford Bishop Borgess, Plymouth Salem, Plymouth Canton, Livonia Franklin and Livonia

nia Ladywood also made strong showings during the course of the year.

Numerous school records were broken throughout the area.

Area coaches gathered recently to select the top individual performers and top relay squads. They also selected Opp as Observerland Trackwoman of the Year. Here are the final results of that meeting.

FIELD EVENTS

Anna Parish, shot put, Westland John Glenn: During the past two seasons Parish has led the area in both the discus and the shot put.

She took fifth in the shot put and was seventh in discus at the state meet.

Headed next year for Eastern Michigan University, the Glenn senior holds school records in the shot put (41 feet) and the discus (117-10).

"Anna is the hardest worker on the team — a great attitude," said Glenn coach Ernie Righetti.

Sue Naster, discus, Bishop Borgess: A junior, Naster ranked right behind Parish in both the shot put (37-¼) and discus (117-2).

She finished eighth in the state in the discus and was first in the Catholic League, regional and Operation-Friendship meets. Naster holds school records in both events.

"Not only does Sue do well in competition, but she's carrying a 3.6 GPA," said Borgess coach John McGreevy.

Sambia Shivers, high jump, Bishop Borgess: Shivers was the All-Area high jumper last year, competing for Farmington High.

After transferring to Borgess, Shivers enjoyed another big year with an area best leap of 5-5¼.

The senior standout won the Catholic League, regional, Operation-Friendship and set an Observerland meet record.

"Sambia is a friendly person who is a great ambassador for our team," McGreevy said. "She always leaves a track meet having made one or two friends from the opposition."

Amy Rozman, long jump, Livonia Stevenson: A senior, Rozman is making her first appearance on the All-Area team with a season-best leap of 17 feet.

She recorded best jumps at the regional, Western Lakes Conference and Observerland meets.

Rozman also ran the 200- and 400-meter events, as well as legs on the 400, 800, 1,600 relays. She is the Spartans' two-time MVP.

RUNNING EVENTS
Terri Ford, Farmington Mercy, 100 dash, just a junior, Ford was the Marine's most valuable runner, scoring a majority of their points in big meets.

She finished first at Overland and anchored two winning relay teams. Ford was first at the regional and first in the Catholic League. In the state meet she gained fourth.

The speedster clocked area bests in the 100 (11.9) and 200 (25.6). She also paced 5-2 to set a school record in the high jump.

"As well as winning the open sprint races, Terri also anchored our sprint relay teams," said Mercy coach Bob Kirkland. "On most occasions she would receive the baton with a deficit, but quickly turn it into a lead."

Angela Dugas, Livonia Ladywood, 200: A four-year varsity performer, Dugas recorded the area's second best time in the 200 dash (26.1).

She placed second in the Catholic League and was a state (Class B) qualifier in the long jump and 1,600 relay.

"Angela is the kind of runner you just love to sit back and watch run," said Ladywood coach Bob Zimmerman. "She has great straightaway speed and is able to run anything from the 100 up to the 400."

Dugas is considering EMU, according to Zimmerman.

Karen Opp, Westland John Glenn, 400: Area coaches paid this junior their highest compliment, voting her "Overland's Track-woman of the Year."

"Karen has great flexibility, running anything from the 100 to the two mile," said the Glenn coach. "She's a very hard worker."

Opp was underfitted during the regular season. In the 400 she posted an area best time of 58.2 and won titles at East Detroit, Monroe, the regional and Northwest Suburban League meets.

She was also a member of Glenn's potent 3,200 relay squad, which finished second in Class A.

Joan Arndt, Livonia Ladywood, 800: Just a sophomore, Arndt recorded one of the area's most impressive times, clocking 2:15.4 in the 800-meter run.

She captured Catholic League and regional titles. She capped a fine season by finishing fourth at the state meet, and anchored the Blazers to a second place finish in the 1,600 relay and Class B final.

"Joan is the best at chasing down a lead runner, or closing out a relay race," said the Ladywood coach. "She is strong enough to run back-to-back races like the 400 and 800 and still win both handily, and then come back to anchor the 1,600 relay."

Denise Durrer, Plymouth Salem, 1,600: A transfer from Redford Union, Durrer moved to Salem and enjoyed a banner season.

She posted the area's best time in the 1,600 run with a time of 5:18.7.

Durrer won the Overland meet's open mile and added titles in the 800 and 1,600 at the West Lakes Conference meet. She also won 800 at the regional and placed third in the 1,600.

"Denise is an outstanding competitor with a tremendous conditioning base," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "She loves the challenge of a big meet and is extremely coachable."

"Denise was the difference of Salem being an average track and field team to being one of the best in the area."

Karen Kantor, Livonia Churchill, 3,200: A freshman, Kantor recorded the area's best time in the 3,200 run (11:44.96) with a third-place finish at the regional meet.

In the Western Lakes Conference meet, Kantor finished first in the 3,200 and second in the 1,600. She has been clocked at 2:24.1 in the 1,600 and won titles at East Detroit, Monroe, the regional

"Karen has more ability as a freshman distance runner than any I have had the pleasure of coaching," said Churchill coach Audrey Kather.

HURDLES

Tracey Balog, Farmington Mercy, 100: Balog led the area in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 1:5.2.

She finished first in the Catholic League meet, took third at Operation-Friendship (Catholic League, Detroit Public Schools) meet and finished fourth in the regional. Balog holds school records in the 100 hurdles and 300 lows.

She also is the track team's top scholar-athlete, sporting a 3.92 GPA.

"Tracey was always very willing to help coach the younger hurdlers," Kirkland said. "That's not surprising since her father, Chuck, is the former coach at Southfield. It seems to run in the family."

Jamie Holcomb, Farmington Harrison, 300 lows: Holcomb's time of 48.9 in the 300 low hurdles was an area best by nearly one second.

The junior was league and regional runner-up, as well as fourth in the Oakland County meet. "I believe Jamie has yet to reach her full potential," said Harrison coach Mark Babcock. "If she continues to work hard, she may surprise a lot of people next year."

"She's very likeable and a personable young lady with a strong desire to improve. She's a team person."

Westland John Glenn, 3,200: Karen Opp, Michelle Sanchez, Pam Eldridge and Laura

RELAY EVENTS

Farmington Hills Mercy, 400: The team of Tonya Harbin, Michelle Smith, Tracey Balog and Terri Ford led the area with a time of 51.0.

They finished first at the Overland and Stafford Relay meets, along with seconds at the Catholic League and Operation-Friendship meets.

Farmington Hills Mercy, 800: Making up this winning quartet are Tonya Fason, Harbin, Balog and Ford.

Their time of 4:43.3 paced the area and reaped titles at the Catholic League meet, Stafford Relays and Overland Relays. This quartet finished second in the regional and went unchallenged in dual meets.

Livonia Ladywood, 1,600: This team — Sue Willey, Angela Dugas, Monica Gall and Joan Arndt — finished second in the state Class B meet with a time of 4:53.3, best in the area as well.

They recorded first-place finishes at the CMU Relays, RU Overland Relays, Catholic League, Chalmers Relays and regional.

"It was great comfort to a coach to know that the last event is one of the team's strongest," said Ladywood's Bob Zimmerman. "It took a state record performance to beat us at the state finals. Whenever a meet was on the line, that relay came through."

Westland John Glenn, 3,200: Karen Opp, Michelle Sanchez, Pam Eldridge and Laura Granilla broke the state record in the 3,200 relay with time of 9:35.1, but finished second time behind Deborah Edell Ford.

"They had a great week of training and they all worked very hard," said Glenn coach Ernie Rughetti. "They all were at a disadvantage because they had to run different events all year."

This standard quartet, made up of three seniors and one junior (Opp), won several titles this season.

Jeff B. Cohen is Chuck, one of a gang of neighborhood kids who gets caught up in danger, in "The Goonies."

Kids' treasure hunt is tiring to watch

Goonies are not cute little furry creatures that turn mean when fed late at night. Goonies are not monsters that come out of your toilet. Goonies are a bunch of noisy kids in Steven Spielberg's latest but not so great of the same named. If the kids weren't chattering all the way, we probably would enjoy their cute repartee more and have a better grip on the proceedings. Spielberg's stock-in-trade has always been clever or unusual plots, but this time he's produced a fairly true variation on the kids-and-the-treasure-map-out-to-save-the-old-homestead theme. The Goonies are neighborhood chums who have a tightly knit friendship. The crisis develops when their neighborhood is foreclosed by the local country club for an expanded golf course. Faced with dispossession, they search for the lake's long-remembered treasure, hidden years ago by the pirate, One-Eyed Ike.

THE VILLAINS of this piece, in addition to two incredibly ridiculous guys in raincoats with foreclosed papers, are the Fratelli Family, three bumbling gangsters: Mama (Anne Ramsey) and her two sons, Jake (Robert Davi) and Francis (Joe Pantoliano). Mama is an entertaining cross between Captain Hook and the Wicked Witch of the West, but her two boys bump along with little grace or humor. In many ways "The Goonies" turns out as "Indiana Jones" with kids. A number of images are reminiscent of the temple of doom, long portions of the movie involving seemingly endless treks through caves, a water slide much like the mine car ride in the "Temple of Doom," archeological discoveries, great treasure, and the obligatory traps set by ancient treasure-guardians now represented by skewed skeletons lying around. The three major problems with "The Goonies" are the plot, the pace and the generally dark scenes which make it difficult to understand what's going on. Quite correctly, cave scenes are not brightly lit, but that doesn't mean the audience needs to be confused about what's happening. Low lighting and overly fast cutting are responsible. Part of the problem relates to the noise level. The seven kids, the Goonies, all chatter at the same time. When they do shut up and talk one at a time, some clever dialogue appears, but too much gets lost in their prattle. Ke Huy Quan, who played Short Round in the "Temple of Doom," is the kid with all the gadgets who would be more appealing if the audience could see his Rubik's Goldberg inventions clearly.

ANOTHER POTENTIALLY clever sequence is blunted by lack of punch lines. Mrs. Walsh, Mary Ellen Trainor as mother to two of the Goonies, brings home a Hispanic maid to help her pack. The maid speaks no English so one of the Goonies translates. He inserts sado-masochistic statements with sexual overtones. Subtleties keep the audience informed but the sequence turns limp as the maid's reaction is limited to minor eye-rolling. The romantic interest in the film is restrained. The adolescent smooching is refreshing these explicit days, but antagonistic competition of a boy with a convertible is unnecessary and trite. Most of the kids are just there in a fairly undistinguished series of performances, although the fat kid, Chuck (Jeff Cohen), constantly on the lookout for food, is appealing except when he gets carried away and flails about in fear or hunger. He has the film's one significant human relationship with the gruesome third son, Mama Fratelli, Sloth (John Matuszak), who is usually kept chained to the basement wall by his brothers. Indiana Jones fans will probably enjoy "The Goonies" but I'm getting tired of the same old drama. It's time for some fresh crumbling skeletons.

Performances of "A Gentleman and a Scoundrel," comedy by Jack Sharkey, presented by Jimmy Launice Productions, continue Friday-Saturday through Aug. 24 at Somerset Dinner Theatre at Somers. Set in 18th-century New York, the play is a romantic comedy. For reservations call 649-1359.

In "A Gentleman and a Scoundrel," clothes not only make the man, they nearly prove his undoing. Current of fering by Jimmy Launice Productions at the Somerset Dinner Theatre, this comedy of double identity is amusing but very predictable. Mild-mannered, bespectacled and conservatively dressed Fred Dickson (Todd Hissong) is a small cog in a corporate wheel, struggling to exist on his meager salary. His attractive boss Jenny Correll (Mary Whiting) admits he's a no-nonsense Ms. one minute and a flirtatious Miss the next. In a supporting role, Jim Hughes is perfect as corporate snout Basil

Barbara Michals

Pronger, an almost-Dickensian villain. Director Harid Dana and his cast cannot be faulted, but they are working with weak material. Following the curtain call, the lights blink playfully to let the performers change before they come out to greet patrons at their tables. Why not let the cast come directly from the stage and skip the light show? Operating under a new format, Somerset Dinner Theatre now features a sit-down dinner catered by Cafe Jardin. The first course is a delicious salad of pasta and spring vegetables in a well-seasoned vinaigrette. The rest of the meal is undistinguished.

THE ENTRE of boneless breast of chicken in cheddar sauce served with rice and accompanied by broccoli, lettuce, served warm, are none too fresh when they cool. Dessert is a gingerbread square with lemon sauce. Though the waiters were constantly on the move on a recent Saturday night, there were lengthy delays between courses, with the entire arriving lukewarm. While the restaurant awaits its liquor license, the kitchen needs to work out some kinks.
