The Canton Connection

GOLF LOVERS are invited to tee it up at the Canton Chamber of Commerce 3rd Annual Golf Outing at 10 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 5 at Fellows Creek Golf Course on Lotz Road between Palmer and Michigan Avenue in Canton. Forty-five dollars will buy you 18 holes of golf, a cart, dinner, refreshments, snacks and trophies and prizes. The late registration fee for sponsors of golf holes is $175. Golfers will pay tribute to Canton's late clerk, John Flodin, with a "Vegas hole." Proceeds will go to the John Flodin memorial fountain, to be built in Canton Township Hall. For reservations or more information, call 523-0668, 961-2314 or 981-1100.

IF YOU KNOW a member of the Canton Kitchen Band, you know a celebrity. The senior musicians — who performed at the State Fair over the weekend — are again making a free public appearance, this time at the Plymouth Fall Festival, at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 6.

CANTON RESIDENTS who've overcome great personal hardship and contributed to their community are encouraged to enter the running for the "Winner of the Year" contest. To compete, or to nominate someone else, call 397-1000, Ext. 212 by Thursday, Sept. 5.

CANTON POLICE records bureau will be closed to the public Sept. 12 and 13 due to the department's move to a new building adjacent to township hall on Canton Center Road. A steering committee of 12 officers volunteering their time continues to meet and address issues facing the department, including efficient ways to move equipment to the new police building and aspects of emergency preparedness. Officer Dan Antieau has taken the chairperson spot, replacing Lt. Alex Wilson who stepped down due to other commitments.

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY FALL FESTIVAL

SPECIAL SECTION IN TODAY'S ISSUE

Manager for Canton on horizon

By Diane Gale and M.B. Dillon Ward staff writers

Four Canton trustees have decided that the township ought to be run by a professional manager and plan to act in that direction tonight.

Trustees Loren Bennett, Steve Larson, Robert Padgett and John Prenickzy unveiled their proposal last week.

Cityhood pros, cons under microscope

By Diane Gale and M.B. Dillon Ward staff writers

Canton Township trustees are studying two proposals which, if adopted, will change the way in which the township is governed.

One proposal calls for hiring a professional manager to administer the township with the supervisor, clerk and treasurer positions reduced to part time. (See related story.)

The other proposal asks for the creation of a committee to study becoming a city. Canton is now a charter township.

Trustees John Prenickzy, Robert Padgett, Stephen Larson and Loren

Bennett, who propose hiring a manager, want both proposals reviewed together, because they affect each other.

THE BENEFITS OF becoming a city include removing the possibility of annexation by other communities, thus protecting an important commercial tax base; giving Canton's local government power to administer road service now provided by Wayne County; and giving Canton weight and gas tax money from the state.

Those who oppose the move say taxes will increase in Canton, and the local governmental body will grow unnecessarily and become further removed from the concerns of the people.

The proposal, voted down at board level twice since 1982, follows more than five years of personality conflicts — often centering around administrative tasks — among elected officials.

Supervisor James Poole, Clerk Linda Chuhuran and Treasurer Gerald Brown, the remaining trustees with voting power, expressed shock when notified of the plan last week.

Brown and Chuhuran were elected to their first terms of office in Canton in 1984; Poole was voted in as supervisor in 1980 and re-elected to a four-year term in 1984.

A revolutionary change in Canton Township government is being proposed by Trustees Robert Padgett, Stephen Larson and Loren Bennett.

Lack of school buildings for rent eyed

Future enrollment increases in Plymouth-Canton likely will not be absorbed by renting school buildings in neighboring districts.

That was the informal report given the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night from Superintendent Dr. John M. Hoben.

At the request of the district's bond study committee, Hoben talked with neighboring school districts about renting school buildings as an alternative to building a school within the district.

Washington Elementary in Livonia, near Lowell Middle School, is "non-touchable," said Hoben, explaining that Livonia Schools would not consider leasing it at all.

While Livonia might be willing to lease Garfield Elementary, the building is in such bad condition that plans call for it to be razed and so it really is of no use to Plymouth-Canton, added Hoben.

PLYMOUTH-CANTON IS interested in the Webster School on the east side of I-275 and north of I-96 three blocks from Merriman Webster, however, is used as a special education center by Livonia Schools which probably is unwilling to discuss leasing that building.

Plymouth-Canton also is interested in Wincrest Elementary in Northville near Tanger Elementary but Northville Schools will not consider letting that building go. The only school Northville has closed, added Dr. Hoben, is an elementary building downtown which is being partially used by high school students.

Hoben said he talked with Wayne-Westland Schools about Walker Elementary in Canton on Michigan Avenue east of I-275 but was told Walker has a stable attendance area and Wayne-Westland wouldn't consider leasing it.

The only building Wayne-Westland mentioned as a possibility was the Nankin Mills Learning Center on Cowan Road east of Wayne Road which Hoben felt was too far away.

The superintendent did say that Livonia is willing to continue leasing Lowell Middle School to Plymouth-Canton on a year-to-year basis for the next five years. Hoben said he felt Lowell would be needed until at least 1990.

So far Lowell is the only school Plymouth-Canton has been able to lease.

Illegal soliciting riling residents

By Diane Gale staff writer

The number of solicitors illegally knocking on homes in Canton Township to sell their wares is increasing, according to Canton Clerk Linda Chuhuran.

Residents began calling the clerk's office early this week to complain about the salespeople.

"Our concern is that some of these people may be legitimately canvassing, and some of these people may be casing out homes," Chuhuran said. "We keep a running list as to who has come in here and filled out an application, and what dates they are canvassing. We would like to get the reputation that people would give a second thought of coming into Canton without going through the correct channels, and the only way to do that is to make the residents aware."

Door-to-door peddlers, who have failed to pay for a permit and skipped by the screening process in the clerk's office, are violating township ordinance No. 50, Chuhuran said. They may be arrested and fined as much as $500 with a 90-day jail sentence, said Canton Lt. Larry Stewart, acting police chief. Residents this week have also called the police department to complain about the solicitors, Stewart said.

SCREENING INVOLVES checking the company's standing with the Better Business Bureau and a review of the applicant's criminal record. The applicant must be a U.S. citizen and sign an affidavit swearing they have truthfully answered a questionnaire regarding their business. If the permit is approved, two photos are sent to the police station so the solicitors can be identified on the street, Chuhuran said. A one-year soliciting permit is $100 and $20 for each assistant; a 30-day permit is $3 daily and $1.50 daily for each assistant; a six-month permit is $60 for the permit and $20 for each assistant. Senior citizens, non-profit char-

Suspect to undergo testing

James Stapley, charged with abducting a 4-year-old Plymouth girl, will undergo psychiatric evaluation to determine if he is capable of standing trial.

A preliminary examination in 35th District Court before Judge John MacDonald was cancelled Thursday when Jeffrey Perlman, Stapley's attorney, requested the testing.

Stapley, a 56-year-old Ann Arbor resident, is being held on a $50,000 cash bond, said Canton police Lt. Alex Wilson. If Stapley is found competent to stand trial, a preliminary examination will take place in 35th District Court. At his arraignment before Judge MacDonald two weeks ago, a plea of not guilty was entered for Stapley.

Wilson and Canton police Detective Rene LeBlanc arrested Stapley in connection with the abduction of a child from Canton's Meijer Thrifty Acres in July.

About three hours after police began a massive search, the girl was found walking on the side of a road in Leoni Township near Jackson. Police say there is no evidence that she was sexually assaulted during the incident.

Parade dies Money, manpower spell demise

By M.B. Dillon Ward staff writer

Not only did it rain on the Canton Country Festival Parade, it flooded. The township's highly touted summer parade is washed up. The decision came Wednesday at the annual public meeting of the Canton Country Festival Board.

In other action, former festival board member Larry Bowerman was elected president. The board, deciated by a flurry of recent resignations, is still two members short.

"We decided not to have the parade," said Bowerman, a Plymouth attorney. "The feeling was that this is a significant expense, and because of the location of the festival and location of the parade route, the parade really doesn't attract any people over to the festival grounds. The publicity of the parade really doesn't affect or cause an increase in attendance."

Staging the June parade costs the township about $2,000, Bowerman said.

"That $2,000 could be either saved or spent in a manner which would hopefully create greater attendance at the site itself. Our hope is that the festival could be totally self-supporting without having to request a loan from the township, and up to this point in time it has not been," added Bowerman.

Have a learning problem? There's help

By Tim Richard
staff writer

GOT A learning problem? Any learning problem. Maybe you're enrolling in college after raising kids for 15 years. Or you're fresh out of high school but having trouble with the college learning environment. You've hired an otherwise good worker who has trouble filling out forms.

You're a high school student with a learning problem or a high school student who wants to be well prepared to take a college entrance exam. We provide academic assistance to all students," beams Sirkka Gudan, coordinator of Schoolcraft College's Learning Assistance Center.

"We've expanded," she adds, nodding not only to her redecorated sun in Room 130 of the Liberal Arts Building at the north end of campus, but to the number of tasks her center is asked to perform.

INDEED THE Learning Assistance Center has expanded, according to academic Vice President Conway Jeffress.

"It's not just developmental (remedial) studies. It now covers all departments. It helps with basic English and at the highest level," Jeffress said.

"In 1978 it was established as the Learning Opportunities Center and was primarily counseling at that time. It grew slowly. It was in the Office of Student Services (along with counseling and admissions)."

"In 1982, shortly after I got here, we moved it to the Office of Instruction."

Schoolcraft felt two influences from the outside world. First, the North Central Association accrediting team in 1981 found Schoolcraft's various assistance efforts were fragmented and needed to be under a single office. Schoolcraft saw a need to make sure students didn't fall by the wayside because no one cared enough to give them an extra bit of help.

Second, last December the Governor's Commission on the Future of Higher Education in Michigan strongly recommended that four-year colleges get out of the remedial business and turn the job over to two-year community colleges.

"My philosophy is different," Jeffress added. "We should not solely concentrate on remedial work. Students need help at various times in their careers."

"Sirkka — bless her heart — took that and ran with it."

GUDAN JOINED the former Opportunity Center in 1980 and was promoted to coordinator of the Learning Assistance Center in August of 1981.

A native of Finland, she couldn't speak a word of English when she landed in a first-grade class in the Clarensville district at the age of 7.

After graduating from Wayne State, she taught in Detroit's Taft Junior High and Redford High schools in the '60s, then became a reading specialist in the Livonia District's Whitman Center. Currently she is a pre-doctoral candidate in educational psychology at the University of Michigan.

Her LAC staff has grown. In 1978,

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Sirkka Gudan, coordinator of Schoolcraft College's Learning Assistance Center, provides help for people with learning problems.

said Jeffress, there were two full-time persons, one part-time tutor and a part-time secretary. Today there are four full-time faculty (all with master's degrees in reading and study skills), five part-time lab coordinators and 125 paid student tutors.

One specialist, Judy Mack, is assigned to monitor all 130 athletes and work with those who need academic and psychological help. That program was started in 1984. This fall it has its own room in the PE Building.

"Sirkka is supplemented by 20 unpaid volunteers — some of them retired teachers. Has it worked?"

"We did studies," Jeffress answered. One was of students who had been academically dismissed after taking 30 credit hours and failing to achieve a 1.75 grade-point average.

"We tell them to drop down the number of courses and go through the Learning Assistance Center. Of those who went through, 88 percent increased their grade point averages."

THE NUMBER of things the LAC staff does is almost equal to the number of students who have come to it — 2,700 of the approximately 8,000 enrollment. Examples:

• All 2,500 incoming students receive orientation or "asset" testing from the LAC.

• The academically dismissed who seek to continue college are assigned there. "We have videotapes that focus on their specific problems. The biology department has made some excellent tapes," said Gudan.

• Students on probation can get not only academic help but aid in working out a schedule to juggle family, work and school responsibilities. "Many will overload themselves," Gudan said. "Many older adults are not familiar with how to be a student. An 18-year-old may know how to do it but won't do it — an attitude problem."

• Advanced students who need a refresher, or who don't understand a problem in advanced calculus, can get an explanation or a videotape of a lecture. LAC even sets up peer discussion group in academic areas — shades of Plato's dialogues in ancient Athens.

• Handicapped students can be helped with readers, note-takers and visual magnifiers. Gudan's office also advises the maintenance folks when electronic doors fail to work for those in wheelchairs. "We maintain as many as possible," she said.

• Study skills courses are offered for low credit: Listening & Note-taking (1 credit), Studying Textbooks (1), Lab coordinator Peggy Libsch and Westland resident Jim Dziurgot demonstrate the use of a computer used to review learning concepts. Dziurgot dropped by the lab last week to take a test for class placement, another service provided there.

Speed Reading (2). These concentrate not on academic subject but the learning process.

• High school students can get tutorial assistance when referred by their counselors. The interview is free, but there's a $40 charge for six hours of tutoring.

• Continuing Education courses are offered to the public — language improvement for the foreign born, classes for business.

• Businesses seek LAC help. The staff taught Ford Motor Co. supervisors how to train new employees.

Surviving tyranny is hidden message in 'Spider Woman'

Good movies are entertaining, stimulating, thoughtful and thought-provoking. They require intelligence, talent and creativity. "The Kiss of the Spider Woman" adds humor and sensitivity to those characteristics and is one of the better movies you'll ever see.

The entire production is pleasantly misleading from the very start. The Spider Woman is not some plastic Japanese monster who kisses her victims to death. Rather, the film is by turns a touching, amusing, frightening story of two men surviving inhuman imprisonment in a totalitarian regime.

Luis Molina (William Hurt) has been sentenced to an eight-year prison term for sexually corrupting a young boy. He survives, psychologically, by "telling" movies to his cellmate, Valentin Arruga (Raul Julia), a political prisoner who lives on anger at the repressive regime and on belief in the moral rightness of the resistance.

Ultimately, however, under torture, Valentin takes refuge in his memories of an upper-class girl, Marta (Sonia Braga), with whom he had an affair. He, too, survives in the dream world of illusions as irrelevant as Luis' movies to which Valentin objects.

"THE KISS OF THE SPIDER WOMAN" is set in South America, presenting a clear but simple statement about repressive dictatorships south of the border and the terrible methods used to achieve their ends.

But the film is not about Argentina or Chile or any other South American country any more than it is about a homosexual and a political activist. "The Kiss of the Spider Woman" is about tyranny and repression everywhere and the great courage some have to survive the worst tortures men can inflict. Those survivors become great symbols of human courage at its best because they value the humanity of their brethren while maintaining their own dignity.

Luis has reached a terrible crossroad. He wants to love and be loved, but he is imprisoned for freedom. The prison warden promises him freedom, to care for his ill mother, in return for gaining Valentin's confidence and, of course, underground secrets.

Luis overcomes Valentin's initial hostility and anger. Gradually they become such good comrades that Valentin requests that Luis continue "telling" his movie. It is a stupid Nazi propaganda film, vastly and humorously overplayed but, in Luis' words, "so romantic."

Sonia Braga stars in that movie, as well as taking the title role in another film Luis tells, "The Kiss of the Spider Woman." Her versatility in three diverse but essentially sappy "B" movie roles complements the broad range of emotion William Hurt projects. Raul Julia, as well, displays tremendous passion in his anger, fear, frustration and humanity. The entire cast, in fact, is a great credit to the production.

BY FAR, Hurt excels as the tortured homosexual who cannot find peace. The sensitivity of his portrayal and his range of acting skills prevent the film from degenerating into mawkish sentimentality.

Consider how many names there are that helped shape the California industry, while here in Michigan only Bronco Nerd of the Zug Island Wine stands out as the sole leader.

In the recent era there is yet another name of high merit that rarely appears, yet should. That is the other remarkable feature of "Spider Woman" is the sophisticated way in which the film deals with reality and illusion: an age-old question, what is real? The film constantly and delicately threads its way in and out of the film stories Luis "tells." In these "B" movie characters and characterizations he finds salvation for they are "so romantic" and his surroundings are anything but. A good deal of the smooth transition from reality to illusion and back develops as Valentin gradually accepts Luis' sensitivity and realizes that the silly film stories are not for pleasure alone. Their illusory setting is the only safe place in a tortured world. Although ultimately grim and pessimistic in its conclusions about our world, "The Kiss of the Spider Woman" celebrates man's courage and humanity in such a sensitive way that you will leave the theater with a heightened sense of human worth.

Strange creatures

Classic scary themes are dealt with in "Fright Night" (BELOW), where Roddy McDowall is a moviemaker who discovers there really are vampires, and "The Bride" co-starring Sting and Jennifer Beals as Dr. Frankenstein and his beautiful creation, Eva (ABOVE). Both films are playing at Detroit-area theaters.

Caymus Vineyards is noteworthy

When histories of the California wine industry are written, they usually focus heavily on two important intervals. First is the 1850-1870 period when names like Charles Krug, Beringer, Harazthy, Schramm and Niebaum stand out as pioneers in creating a new industry.

Following the initial pair of decades, then punctuated by the phylloxera louse toward the end of the century and Prohibition sometime later, the next important time interval begins in the late 1960s when the industry as we know it today had its beginnings.

This period is populated with names like Robert Mondavi, Sebastiani, Joe Heitz, Maycasmas, Joseph Swan, Fetzer, Ridge and Chalone — the list is a long one.

Between these two intervals there were a few other important names in history, of course. Martini, Beaulieu, Paredieu, Wente and perhaps Stony Hill. But there really are not very many when the extended time interval is taken into consideration.

(Consider how many names there are that helped shape the California industry, while here in Michigan only Bronco Nerd of the Zug Island Wine stands out as the sole leader.)

Charles Wagner, curmudgeon of Caymus Vineyards, in central Napa. He is the product of a farming family long in the Rutherford area that has grown a variety of crops on its land, most recently grapes.

HE CAN READILY recall the time when most of his wine was sold in bulk or blended with others for mass distribution. When winemaking was a losing proposition. He and his family endured those days, only to finally reap the benefits due them when wine became the national obsession it did in the early 1970s.

His first releases under his own label were in 1972 when a riesling (discontinued after 1973), cabernet and pinot noir were issued. The early prices were low, the wines excellent. Only a few short years later, with critics and public applauding his efforts highly, the prices went up, dramatically on some.

"People pay what I ask," is Wagner's response. Today his Special Selection wines usually pinot noir and cabernet, can command $40 a bottle and sell out quickly.

It is the pinot noir grape that is Caymus' finest, one that has regularly defeated many a winemaker. But Wagner has the skill to handle it well, turn it into the complex, soft, velvety wine that it can be at its best. These wines sing with the joy of greatness. If you can find any locally buy it, see what a California "burgundy" can be.

Caymus was also in the early movement that made a blush wine from a red grape. As early as 1973 Wagner was marketing a pinot noir blanc, the name changing to Oeil de Pedrix in 1978 ("Eye of the Partridge"), reflecting its delicate, salmon coloring.

ANY OF THIS extensive introduction is to announce that Caymus wines are now generally available in Michigan. True, they have been here before but were then represented by a less dependable distributor. They will now arrive in decent quantities and can be found at most premium wine stores.

We now have the 1984 Oeil de Pedrix, a 1981 Pinot Noir, a truly marvelous 1983 chardonnay (full of rich, buttery goodness), a 1983 sauvignon blanc and, soon, the 1981 pinot noir. Not to be missed, any of them.

You may want to think twice about buying the 1983 Special Selection Cabernet, the one that carries the $40 price tag. Wagner is sure, however, that if you don't buy it someone soon will. And there are only five cases of it in the state.

Exasperated board members propose big changes

POOLE SAID HE previously recommended the clerk and treasurer posts go part-time, but board members disagreed. He said he was surprised to hear about the proposal, but declined to comment in detail pending a press conference he said he would hold Wednesday.

Hiring a superintendent will add stability to township administration, which is subject to change after elections, Chubran said. However, she opposes downgrading the clerk and treasurer posts, because of what she said were time-consuming responsibilities.

"As an elected official, my boss is the people, and if the position is cut down that accountability will not be as strong," Chubran said. "I spend an average of 10 hours a day as a part of my job. If it's cut down to part time where does the elected official draw the line to what time is spent for the taxpayer?"

If Canton creates part-time clerk and treasurer posts, both offices will need full-time deputies, she said.

"I'd like to hear what the residents have to say about it," said Chubran, suggesting a public hearing on the issue.

Brown was unavailable for comment.

A NEED for experts to manage the day-to-day administrative tasks in a growing "metropolitan community of over 58,000 people," was cited by the trustees as a major reason for the switch.

"Our front-line supervisors are elected without a great regard to qualifications, and the only qualification is more than 50 percent of the vote," Larson said. "That's a dangerous situation for a governmental unit like Canton. We can't change that, but we can implement an infrastructure so that qualified people will take direction from the elect people."

The trustees, who delivered their seven-page resolution at a press conference Thursday at Canton's Mr. Steak restaurant, listed advantages of a manager form of government. They include:

- "Responsibility is pinpointed, and therefore, stronger accountability is achieved."
- "Department heads report to one boss rather than seven thus reducing inefficiencies, confusion, overlapping efforts and generally, cost."
- "Ordinances, policies, etc. are carried out as a matter of direction and commitment with less political involvement."

"Greater consistency between administrations is achieved."

"In general, the governmental unit becomes an effective, efficient professional organization reducing waste and cost."

Even if the jobs are cut to part time, the clerk and treasurer retain responsibilities specified by state law for charter townships.

If the new system is implemented, salaries for the supervisor, clerk and treasurer will be reduced. The board, however, cannot legally cut pay mid-term.

Earlier steps to implement the administrative change came at a time when former Treasurer Maria Sterlino, feud, especially at board meetings, with administrators and trustees.

Squabbles have most recently surfaced in the aftermath of a lawsuit filed by Chubran against Poole charging the supervisor with interfering in her ability to perform as clerk.

The board members, including Chubran, have aired their aggravation about communication problems. Trustees have vowed to improve the situation.

"THERE'S BEEN a great deal of frustration on the part of the trustees with the lack of communication and cooperation with the administrators for the last two township boards," Bennett said.

Peddlers hit Canton

itable organizations and farmers are among the groups exempt from paying permit fees, Chubran said. However, they are required to fill out forms about the proposed solicitation.

Identification badges are issued by the township for solicitors to wear and display in their cars. The township badges include a permit number, expiration date, clerk's signature, a synopsis of the ordinance and a disclaimer explaining that the township refrains from endorsing products sold door-to-door. The salesperson's name, address and company name are also listed on the badge.

"People sometimes call and ask if the product is any good," Chubran said. "The best that we can do is run the checks with the Better Business Bureau and the police department."

One way to curb the solicitors, Chubran said, is to start a network among clerks from other communities to draw attention to the trouble makers.

37633 FIVE MILE AT NEWBURGH
464-0003

"I personally resent being as busy as I am, and going to a township meeting and sitting there fighting about day-to-day operational matters that should never, ever come to the board. When I sit there on Tuesday night having my time wasted while people argue about non-policy issues, I resent it, and I will do anything I can to stop it."

The cost of hiring a manager — and possibly other personnel, like deputies in the clerk's and treasurer's offices who could be added to the staff after the plan's initiation — are impossible to predict, Padgett said.

He noted, however, that many managers are paid in the range of $40,000 annually.

"We're talking about a professional management system, which has to cause efficiencies and will offset the costs of the additional manager," Padgett said. He also noted money would be saved by cutting the three positions to part-time.

A committee of five will be created to review the proposal and study changes, ramifications and eventually, according to the preliminary resolution.

Those named to the committee are Robin Koebel, Canton Michigan National Bank manager who was chairperson for a 1983 committee examining the merits of hiring a superintendent; Phil LaJoy, Canton merit commissioner; Ed Porschell, township planning commissioner; Ira Bargon, a personnel supervisor at Great Lakes Steel; and Dan Durack, Canton personnel director.

"THIS 'IMPLEMENTATION COMMITTEE' will develop a plan, recommend salaries, define position descriptions and 'promote a smooth and effective transition,' the resolution said. Richard Lang, an attorney representing the Michigan Township Association, said the proposal is odd, because he is unaware of any other of Michigan's 1,242 townships employing a part-time clerk and treasurer.

"It's not unusual to have a township board hire a superintendent, but it is unusual to establish a part-time clerk or treasurer," Lang said. "The duties of the clerk and treasurer are not affected by the hiring of a superintendent's duties are the supervisor's."

Kenneth Ver Burg, professor of community development programs at Michigan State University, said under the superintendent form of government the supervisor "does not have a great number of duties. They primarily involve assessing and chairing meetings of the board, as well as assuming other duties the board would assign."

If a superintendent is hired, the clerk's office still has a "raak of duties," Ver Burg said. He added that the statutory responsibilities could be delegated to a deputy clerk, but must remain in the clerk's office.

Cityhood becoming real possibility

Canton, one of the most populated townships in Michigan, has already taken on many of the responsibilities otherwise provided by the county, such as paying for road maintenance and paving projects.

"It is a 100 percent legitimate study to weigh the pros and cons of cityhood vs. township, while the implementation committee to hire a manager proceeds," Padgett said. "We would be remiss if we didn't review closely the possibility of cityhood status at this time."

AMONG THOSE recommending cityhood is a University of Michigan professor, Bernard Klein. He was chairperson of Detroit's charter commission 1970-73.

"Personally I think it does make sense for Canton to become a city," Klein said. "Obviously the voters would decide the issue, but becoming a city provides for a better level of services. There's no question taxes probably would go up slightly, but so would the level of services provided."

Distinctions between townships and cities are minimal — much fewer than in the past, said Kenneth Ver Burg, Michigan State University professor in community development.

"It's appropriate for Canton to study the question of city status, but whether they should go to a city form of government is a function of what they want out of local government," Ver Burg said. "There was a time when there were great distinctions between them, and many have become blurred."

Before Canton could become a city the issue would have to be approved by voters, and a commission formed to write a charter.

Trustees will vote on the proposal tonight, which calls for the creation of a five-member committee to "conduct a comprehensive review of the pros and cons of city status" and report to the board before April 1986.

Committee members have not yet been chosen.

Downpour douses ill-fated Canton parade

The festival board, which received $7,000 in township seed money last year, currently has a balance of $5,900, said Bowerman. Those funds will be used to purchase a trailer to house festival equipment and "to do some of the less expensive things we've put off in the past," he said.

A lack of volunteer help also was a consideration in the decision to cancel the parade, which in past years has featured well-known pipe and drum corps, floats entered by local clubs and groups, school marching bands, the manure-spreader-riding Cow Chip Queen, baton twirlers, the Shriners and a plethora of politicians.

"Hosting a parade means there's one more committee member that you need. Organization of the parade requires people to be working on that, and, of course, when the parade is held you begin early in the morning, hours before the parade starts, with the line-up, and controlling the parade takes a lot of people. We have a problem in getting people to volunteer their services for setting up, working on activities throughout the entire weekend, tearing down and cleaning up. With a limited number of people you can only do a limited number of things. Some place you have to look to see what kind of a benefit you're getting from a particular activity, and it is of any value to the festival in comparison to other things."

Told of the parade decision Thursday, Supervisor James Poole expressed disappointment.

"It's nice to see a parade pass by, but it's kind of sad to see one pass," he said. "One of the reasons we've been so successful around the township is because of the volunteers we have at the soccer festival, balloon festival and historical society ice cream social."

Loss of Wilcox, Craig and the Gater hurt Bengals

You won't find the reason for the downfall of the Bengals from their role as world champions to far-back losses in the pennant race.

What caused the drop from what was termed a miracle team a year ago when as starter it won 35 of its first 50 games? It was something unheard of in all the years of the game.

But the great change has come as no great surprise to some of the officials who have watched them every day.

In fact the first sign that things possibly would not go well as the defending champions came on the opening day of the current season.

AS HAS BEEN his custom for years The Stroller visited some of the officials for lunch that day, and it was while visiting with Jimmy Campbell, the president of the club, he got a hint. During our conversation Campbell was asked about his feelings toward the fans in the bleachers and other so-called dyed-in-the-wool followers.

Without hesitating to answer, he said, "I hope they don't expect too much."

It was a surprising answer. But he wasn't asked to go into details. But it was surprising that he didn't give the usual answer that the team was strong enough to win again.

So what really happened?

FIRST OF ALL we must realize that the team this year is a far different team than the one that won the World Series.

The big change came in the departure of Roger Craig, the pitching coach, and Gates Brown, the batting coach.

When you lose two of your top coaches it is bound to have an effect on the team. That would be bad enough. But when injuries creep in and slow down some of the players, it is bound to show in the league standings.

If you look at the team now, you'll see that Milt Wilcox, one of the top pitchers, has been of little use. His loss has been felt.

Then take the case of Jack Morris, the top pitcher. He has been an in and out over a great part of the race so far. And Lance Parrish, the catcher has been bothered and even Kirk Gibson, who was one of the main factors

the stroller

year ago, is suffering from shin splints. His record this far looks good on paper, but he isn't the asset he was in last year's race.

Take all these things into consideration, and you'll see that the team as a whole is far from the 1984 combination.

NOW, ASIDE FROM all that, Sparky Anderson, the manager who won the series with the Cincinnati team in the National League, has had trouble filling what he termed weak spots.

For several years he has been on the hunt for a third baseman. He has Brooks on hand, but wanted someone else. He even went so far at the start of the season saying he was planning to shift Whitaker from second base to third. But at the last moment the player asked to keep his regular job off second base.

And there have been all sorts of changes around first base. Several have been tried. But until recently there has been no future. And there were some shifts in the outfield.

When these things happen, there is bound to be some uneasiness on the squad and it will show in their play.

In recent weeks the bullpen pitchers have been less than phenomenal. Lopez has seen his best days and the others miss the coaching of Roger Craig. And the hitters could use some tips from Gates Brown.

And above all these weaknesses the fighting spirit on the field, such as Mickey Cochran gave the team in 1984-85, is missing. The team has come to the point of playing very poor baseball at times.

So perhaps, Jimmy Campbell, the top executive, was giving his real feelings on Opening Day last April when he said, "I hope they (the fans) don't expect too much."

Thoughts of a once forgotten 'little people' caretaker

By Nancy Walls Smith
special writer

I miss the "little people."

This thought occurred to me recently while I was standing in line waiting for a table at Holly's Restaurant. I felt a strange pair of small arms wrap around my leg and a little body press up against me. I looked down into the surprised face of a darling 3-year-old girl who had accidentally grabbed onto the wrong mommy.

The whole experience was rather startling for her, but it sent me into a pleasant series of memories about my own children and what life was like when they were that young.

I don't know if anyone realizes this, but there exists among us a small seg-

I don't know if anyone realizes this, but there exists among us a small segment of the population that remains virtually isolated from the rest of us due mainly to the fact that they're spending 95 percent of their time catering to the whims of the preschool set.

ment of the population that remains virtually isolated from the rest of us due mainly to the fact that they are spending 95 percent of their time catering to the whims of the preschool set. These women work harder and put in longer hours than most corporate executives. Yet they are seldom recognized for their achievements.

No one realizes what a great job they're doing because the people they work for, their children, are too young to appreciate it. There is very little support from their peers as everyone in similar situations is just too busy. They barely have time to sit back and reflect on much more than what a blessing "Sesame Street" is (a child watching Big Bird is a quiet child).

Occasionally you can see these women standing on the sidewalk in pairs or in threes talking together while seemingly a dozen children under the age of 5 play around their feet, crawl between their legs, or try to climb up their backs. The women go on talking as if nothing unusual is happening, mainly because nothing unusual is. They're pulled, bumped and embraced. It all goes with the job.

But the strangest part of all, to me,

is that even though the job is lonely, tiring and the hours are ridiculous, most women look back on this time of their lives with some special pride.

You'd be amazed at how fast the time goes and the "little people" become more and more independent. They don't hang on to mom anymore. They leave her to go play with their friends and to go to school.

You find that even though there are new worries and duties concerning your kids, you at last have time to breathe and occasionally sit back and relax.

It's such a gradual thing that you don't even realize that it's happened until a little girl accidentally grabs your leg in a restaurant. Then, for a while, you miss the little people.

Fall Festival Fun, frolic, flea market, fish fry are featured at four-day fanfare

The Plymouth Fall Festival will be three decades old when the last barbecued chicken is sold Sunday night.

The festival, which started with a picnic with barbecued chicken by Plymouth Rotary in 1955, will officially end with the Rotary Chicken Barbecue Sunday night when the last of some 12,000 dinners are expected to be sold.

Besides that similarity, though, little in common remains with the original "festival" 30 years ago and the four-day community celebration of fall which opens Thursday.

A new feature this year is that all "main meals" will be prepared at The Gathering which will be screened-in, based on instructions of the Wayne County Health Department.

Most activities will be in the immediate area of Kellogg Park, although the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) Artist and Craftsman Show will be in Central Middle School and the Plymouth Symphony League's Antique Mart in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

THE MAIN MEAL will feature ham and potato salad served by the Plymouth Theatre Guild 4-8 p.m.

Throughout the day sloppy joes, meatballs, and pie will be sold. The Plymouth Jaycees will have their Spaghetti Dinner 4-8 p.m.

The Plymouth area firefighters will have its waterball contest and muster on Main Street from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The PCAC art show will be from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday at Central Middle School and continue on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Another Saturday feature will be the Pet Show from 9 a.m. to noon in Kellogg Park sponsored by the Plymouth Optimists in cooperation with the community education department of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The Three Cities Art Club will have its exhibit in Kellogg Park from noon to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Demonstrations will be held at the Plymouth Historical Museum, Church at Main, from noon to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

THE PLYMOUTH ROTARY chicken barbecue will be from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday at Kellogg Park with a carry-out station operated at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads.

An antique car display will be all day Sunday on Pennington Avenue west of Main Street, and the produce tent will be at the Wilcox House at Union and Pennington all day Sunday.

The R.E. Olds Museum of Lansing will be sending 17 cars vintage 1985 through 1914 through Plymouth from 3-4 p.m. Friday.

The Michigan Goldwing Association will have their motorcycles on display on Pennington Avenue Sunday.

A new booth this year will be the Plymouth Township Community Service Officers who will be fingerprinting children.

Commission may investigate Nystrom issue

By Teri Banes
staff writer

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners may be donning boxing gloves in preparation for a battle with the county executive William Lucas this week over Lucas' approval of a $28-million renovation project his chief of staff stood to benefit from.

The project — to renovate the 83-year-old Old County Building — was approved by Lucas last December. It became the subject of new controversy following the disclosure that Lucas' chief of staff, Dennis Nystrom, was a director of a construction firm picked by a group of investors planning to renovate the downtown Detroit structure.

The matter has riled local commissioners and has prompted Chairman John Hertel to suggest a conflict of interest in the executive office and question whether the legal bidding procedure was violated. He called a subcommittee of commissioners Milton Mack, D-Wayne; Arthur Carter, D-Detroit; and himself to determine whether a special prosecutor should be requested to investigate possible impropriety.

"It's (special prosecutor) has been a procedure followed at the state level, nationally and it should be followed here," Hertel said.

The bidding process must be protected and watched over carefully to insure the public gets the most for its tax dollars.

HERTEL SAID he would announce the committee results on Tuesday and then put the matter before the full commission on Thursday.

The issue drew criticism from two western Wayne County commissioners.

"If indeed it's true that Mr. Nystrom is the director of that company, then I think it is a great impropriety by Mr. Lucas," said Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster. "This is something that should be thoroughly and completely investigated. We need to know what the true facts are."

Besides questioning the impropriety, Beard called for Nystrom's resignation based on his Oakland County residency.

"He doesn't even live in Wayne County," he said. "In the first place, there's no such position (chief of staff) in the charter or Lucas' own reorganization plan."

"Lucas has not appointed a deputy CEO and the reason is because of Nystrom. So when Lucas is away, there's no one legally in charge. I think that's a very serious violation of the charter."

According to Beard, Nystrom has caused "great divisiveness between the commission and executive" by an "insulting and overbearing" manner in dealing with commissioners.

COMMISSIONER MARY Dumas, R-Livonia, agreed that the possible impropriety "definitely should be investigated." However, she said it would be unfortunate if the project was delayed because of a possible loss in income-tax credit exemptions for restoration.

Application for that consideration had been filed prior to a Dec. 31, 1984 change in tax law that sliced those benefits.

Dumas questioned, however, whether the commission had the authority to appoint a special prosecutor or whether the board should request the state attorney general to do so.

Both commissioners said they weren't surprised by the matter which had been rumored since last November.

THE $28-MILLION renovation project was launched last December and was scheduled to be completed by 1987. A group of investors purchased the building from Wayne County for $3 million under an agreement calling for the group to spend $25 million renovating the building and then leasing it back to the county. The office of the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation is slated to occupy the building. Work has not begun on the project due to delays in the move-out of the 36th District Court, however.

To perform the interior renovation, the investment group selected the Auburn Hills construction company of Uley-James Inc., of which Nystrom is reported to have been between 15-17 percent interest.

But the investors dropped Uley-James from consideration last week when Lucas told them of Nystrom's involvement. Among those working with the investors was Jerry Tannian, a longtime Lucas supporter and fundraiser, who was working as an attorney for the group.

Lucas press secretary Bill Johnson said Lucas "has nothing to hide. The attorneys for the investors group already advised Uley-James from any involvement in the project."

ASKED WHY Lucas didn't mention Nystrom's involvement sooner, such as last December when the investors were selected, he said: "Then he was interested in the restoration work, and the tax exempt benefits would no longer be available."

Nystrom was not available for comment late last week. In published reports, he denied it was a conflict of interest and was unaware of the details of Uley-James' bidding practices.

Even still, Lucas asked that corporate counsel John D. O'Hair investigate the matter and make a public report within the week, said Johnson.

Whatever results, it's certain that Lucas and his staff are concerned about political fall-out. Lucas is now engaged in an unannounced quest for Republican backing for a run at the governorship. As a newly-declared Republican, his working relationship with the primarily Democratic commission (Dumas is the sole Republican) is expected to become even more strained.

According to one commissioner, Hertel, himself, may be trying to "make hay" over the situation because of interest he may have in running to succeed Lucas as county executive.

Pursell taps Cates to replace press secretary

U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, announced today the appointment of Gary M. Cates as press secretary.

Cates, 25, most recently worked as a reporter for the Plymouth and Canton editions of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and also worked for the Livonia and Farmington Hills papers.

He replaces William S. Kerans who has accepted a position as public affairs manager with Bechtel Power Corp. in Ann Arbor.

During his work as a reporter, Gary has proven to be a hard working, effective writer," said Pursell, whose 2nd District includes Livonia, Plymouth, Washtenaw, Jackson, Hillsdale and Lenawee counties, and part of Branch County.

"His professionalism and communication skills will be of great benefit as he joins my staff," he added.

"For the past four years Gary has tackled some of the most complicated subjects in an informative and accurate manner. I am not the only one who has known Gary and admired his work. He is well thought of and respected by those in the district and by those in his chosen field."

A 1981 graduate of Michigan State University, Cates majored in journalism and began work for the Observer while completing his degree.

"I have enjoyed covering a portion of the 2nd District as a reporter and look forward to serving this area in my new capacity," said Cates.

The new press secretary and wife Debbie are in the process of moving to Washington, D.C.

"I'm always sad to have someone such as Bill Kerans leave but am reassured knowing Gary is coming on board," said Pursell.

"Besides being an energetic worker, Cates has shown outstanding commitment to serving the best interests of this area. His dedication to making sure each job is well done speaks well to the caliber of the employee he is."

"It's important that each and every one of my staff members provides the best of service to both the residents of this district and our country. I think this appointment is in keeping with that tradition."

Emory Daniels, editor of the Plymouth Observer, echoed Pursell's comments about Cates' energy, productivity, knowledge and thoroughness. "He regularly covered Plymouth Township, the police, fire and court beat, and very often the Plymouth City Commission.

"Cates also became an in-house expert on Super Sewer and covered such issues as DelCo and its best use, group homes, grey co, industrial and downtown development, and arson investigation to name just a few. We at the Observer will certainly miss Gary but wish him and Debbie the very best as they relocate and accept this challenge."

FEAR OF FALLING

Give-way weakness refers to a sudden loss of strength in the legs. When the individual is moving forward to take the next step, a leg buckles, and the person falls. No preceding pain or unsteadiness gives a warning.

What has occurred is that the body anticipates that the next step will cause pain, and refuses to allow that move to occur. In most instances the potentially painful area is the knee joint which goes into flexion, rather than taking its normal weight-bearing position of extension. The result is loss of balance and a fall.

Older people with knee arthritis are fearful of experiencing an episode of give-way weakness; falls can be severe and lead to a broken hip or leg. As a result of this concern, the elderly individual may curtail walking and visiting, two activities necessary for continued health.

Prevention of give-way weakness requires two approaches. First the individual's arthritis needs treatment to control underlying irritability and knee joint. Second, the person needs to be convinced of the need to walk with a cane, as it provides support when the leg cannot.

To walk bridge

Barbara Siemasz of Plymouth won a trip for two to participate in the annual Governor's Labor Day Mackinac Bridge Walk. Siemasz, a Detroit Edison employee, earned the prize after participating in the 1985 Walk Michigan program, sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan and the Michigan Recreation and Park Association. Siemasz, who is being handed a windbreaker from Chet Wisniewski of BC/BS civic affairs, walked in special events at Middle Rouge and Elizabeth parks in Wayne County. The prize includes walking with Gov. Blanchard, meals and lodging for two at Mackinaw City, spending money and the Walk Michigan windbreaker.

Response given Henry supporter

To the editor:
(An open letter to the Plymouth resident who wrote letter "Decision wasn't just" in Aug. 16 edition of the Plymouth Observer).

I'm going to skip "your opinion" of Tony Henry as I also know him!

The issue is you feel Tony Henry should not pay court costs and in "your opinion" he was wronged by the decision of the court.

You stated both yourself and Henry are patriots and believe in this great country. Well, the criminal and civil justice system is a very large part of this country and it's the best system around. Henry chose to file a lawsuit and have a trial by a jury of seven peers in federal court.

The jurors listened to testimony and weighed evidence presented in court. (Also, the witnesses testified in court that Tony Henry did, in fact, resist arrest. You should check your facts!) They found after hearing the testimony of two weeks that Tony Henry was not abused nor did he have his civil rights violated.

It is "your opinion" he was violated — not of the seven jurors, the court or myself. You also stated that Tony Henry was not disorderly. Why then did he himself plead guilty to that charge in the 35th District Court?

Furthermore, the four police officers (Ron Kaminski, Joe Kahanec, Wayne Carroll and Thomas Zedan) are fine officers as are the other city police officers. They chose not to settle this case but to try it in a courtroom as they knew they had not violated Henry in any way.

I think the officers should seek damages from Henry for this frivolous lawsuit. They were proven innocent of any and all charges! It's about time the taxpayers did not have to pick up the tab for such things! It was a victory for the city and as a resident I feel it's a victory. Next time someone decides to try and "get rich quick" they will think before they file an unsubstantiated lawsuit.

Our court system proved that the officers were not guilty in any way of Henry's charges. It's about time we, the taxpayers, did not have to pay for things such as this.

We also need to say we appreciate you men and are proud to have you serve and protect our community. I, for one, am proud of the Plymouth community and our police department.

I have chosen to sign my name because I also believe in freedom of speech without prejudice.

If you still believe in me, save me.

For nearly a hundred years, the Statue of Liberty has stood on the edge of the New World, America's most powerful symbol of freedom and hope. Today the ravages of almost a century of weather and pollution have left their marks. Corrosion has eaten away at the iron framework. New holes continue to appear in the copper sheets that form the exterior.

Less than a mile away, on Ellis Island where the ancestors of nearly half of all Americans first stepped onto American soil, the Great Hall of the Immigration Center is a hollow ruin. Rooms are vandalized, passageways overgrown with vegetation, walls crumbling in decay.

Inspiring plans have been developed to restore the Statue and to create at Ellis Island a living monument to the ethnic diversity of this country of immigrants. But unless restoration is begun now, ceremonies marking the hundredth anniversaries of these two landmarks in America's heritage could be held in commemoration of national treasures that no longer exist. Sections of the statue have already been declared unsafe and closed to visitors. The 230 million dollars needed to carry out the work is needed now.

All of the money must come from private donations; the federal government is not raising the funds. This is consistent with the origins of the Statue. The French people themselves paid for its creation. And thousands of American school children contributed to its construction and to the pedestal.

The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission appointed by President Reagan is asking every American business, every American citizen to join in raising these funds. The torch of liberty is everyone's to cherish. Could we hold up our heads as Americans if we allowed the time to come when she can no longer hold up hers?

One hundred years ago school children gave their pennies to put her up. Your dollars can keep her from falling down.

Chef Shares Secret for Favorite Summertime Desserts

Peter Piper may have "picked a peck of pickled peppers," but Chef Steven Mark Weiss can tell you how to pick the best fruits of summer and turn them into dessert favorites, from pies to parfaits.

A graduate of the Culinary Institute of America, Steve is a chef, food writer and food consultant who's not interested in telling people how to cook "gourmet," but rather in teaching them how to cook "good" every day of the week. With his wit, imagination and know-how, Steve can mix up some simple convenience products such as Jell-O brand gelatin and Cool Whip whipped topping, add some fresh fruit and create a dessert impressive enough to set before a king. You can, too.

Steve laments the fact that many people approach cooking with fear instead of fun. "Stop thinking that you need to serve an internship, have three apprentices and five electrical appliances to be creative in the kitchen." He believes, "A little culinary silliness is good for the soul." To prove his point, Steve has created two simple yet inspiring desserts. Yet all they require are some convenient ingredients and the great fresh fruits of summer.

Fresh Fruit Ice Cream Pie looks and tastes luscious, yet it's so easy that a novice in the kitchen won't be intimidated. "The hero of this pie is the fruit," Steve points out, along with the fact that it's quickly and simply put together in one bowl.

Fresh Fruit Mousse Parfait is light and luscious. Steve shares a chef's secret for turning out this special dessert. "The finest chefs use gelatin, whipping cream and egg whites when making a mousse." Household chefs can turn out "a truly fine mousse," he assures, with fruit flavor gelatin and frozen whipped topping. "You still need the egg whites for volume and lightness," Steve points out, "but you'll be pleased with the results." The key to its lusciousness is all the fresh fruit and care and patience when folding into egg whites.

So go ahead. Follow Chef Steven Mark Weiss's advice, "Have a ball in the kitchen." You can start this summer with two of Steve's summertime dessert recipes.

Fresh Fruit Mousse Parfait

- 1 package (4-serving size) gelatin or sugar free gelatin, any flavor*
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 pint fresh fruit*
- 2 egg whites
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1-3/4 cups thawed frozen whipped topping

Place gelatin, boiling water and sugar in blender container and blend at low speed for about one minute, until sugar and gelatin are completely dissolved. Add the fruit, a few pieces at a time, and blend at high speed until thoroughly pureed. Chill mixture until syrupy, about 2 hours. Beat egg whites, adding sugar gradually, until stiff peak stage. Fold in whipped topping, then fold in fruit mixture, working gently so as not to break down egg whites. Mound into stemmed glassware. Garnish with additional whipped topping and serve with cookies, if desired. Makes 6 cups or about 12 servings.

*Try these fruit and gelatin combinations:

Strawberries, hulled, with strawberry flavor gelatin
Peaches, pitted and quartered, with peach flavor gelatin
Plums, pitted and quartered, with lemon flavor gelatin
Pears, cored and quartered, with lime flavor gelatin

Fresh Fruit Ice Cream Pie

- 1 package (4-serving size) gelatin or sugar free gelatin, any flavor*
- 2/3 cup boiling water
- 1 cup vanilla ice cream
- 2 cups thawed frozen whipped topping
- 1 cup fresh fruit*
- 1 prebaked 9-inch chocolate crumb crust

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add ice cream by spoonfuls, stirring until melted and smooth. Blend in whipped topping and fruit. Chill, if necessary, until mixture will mound. Spoon into crust. Chill about 3 hours or freeze until firm. Garnish with chocolate curls, dollops of whipped topping and additional fruit, if desired.

*Try these fruit and gelatin combinations:

Raspberries with raspberry flavor gelatin
Strawberries, hulled and halved, with strawberry flavor gelatin
Peaches, pitted and sliced, with peach flavor gelatin

Note: Fruit may be mixed with 2 tablespoons each rum and sugar; set aside for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Diets don't have to be dull; liven yours Mexican-style

Gone are the days when a calorie-controlled meal meant a cup of bouillon, a mound of cottage cheese and all the celery you could eat.

Today's lighter eaters make the quest for more exciting culinary creations an ongoing effort.

In Texas and neighboring states, where Mexican flavors have long been woven into the lifestyle, lively, light versions of south-of-the-border favorites appear frequently on calorie counters' tables.

Bright, fresh-tasting salads always rate highly with the fitness-conscious set. Chicken Tostada Ensalada is a healthy, fresh, year 'round complete-meal salad with authentic south-of-the-border flavor flair.

Additional mild, medium or hot picante sauce dresses the salad in Tex-Mex style. Single-skillet meals can be a real plus for health-conscious, on-the-go cooks.

Speedy Southwest Skillet Supper combines delightfully uncomplicated preparation with satisfying fresh flavor.

Fast to fix, with calories kept in line, the chicken and vegetable combo is just right for today's lighter style of eating.

CHICKEN TOSTADA ENSALADA
2 cups shredded or finely chopped cooked chicken or turkey
1/2 cup picante sauce
1/2 cup green onion slices
1/2 cup ground cumin
1/2 cup oregano
6 cups shredded romaine lettuce
2 cups chopped tomato
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
Ripe olive slices (optional)
Combine chicken, picante sauce, onions, cumin and oregano in saucepan; simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Arrange 1 1/2 cups lettuce on each of 4 salad plates. Top each with 1/2 cup cheese and olives, if desired. Drizzle with additional picante sauce, as desired, and serve immediately. Makes 4 servings, 275 calories each.

SOUTHWEST SKILLET SUPPER
1 medium onion, cut into 1/2 inch wedges
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tbsp butter or margarine
2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
2 cups zucchini, cut into 1/2 inch cubes
1 medium red or green pepper, cut into 1 by 1/2 inch strips
1 tsp ground cumin
1/2 tsp salt
1/2 cup picante sauce
Cook onion and garlic in butter until onion is tender. Add chicken, zucchini and pepper; sprinkle with cumin and salt. Pour picante sauce over chicken mixture; mix well. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring frequently, until vegetables are crisp-tender and most of liquid has evaporated, about 3 to 4 minutes. Makes 4 servings, 178 calories each.

Beans taste good, hot or cold

Before I knew beans about beans, I was hot and cold on the subject. That's because when I was a kid, my dad made a soup with great northern beans, refrigerated it overnight, sprinkled on some black pepper and squeezed a little lemon over it. I really loved that soup.

When I was in the Army, I ate cold beans out of a can many times on maneuvers in West Germany, rain often dripping from my helmet. I hated that, and for many years wouldn't eat beans cold, soupy or not.

I didn't know what I was missing. Sure, I still love hot bean soup. But I have found my way back to the cold.

Since I'm older, I eat many things that are good for me that I once turned up my nose at. Beans are loaded with nutrition: calcium, iron, niacin, phosphorus, protein, thiamin and zinc.

MICHIGAN RAISES most of the crop produced in a dozen states, from the red kidney beans to the white navy beans. In fact, Michigan accounts for about 95 percent of the total navy bean crop.

All varieties of dried beans are among the most economical staples around. You can refrigerate bean soup about a week, but freeze it up to six months.

I prepared a large pot of navy bean soup and set aside half of it for the cold soup base. Four of us enjoyed the hot soup.

Then I went to work and prepared the cold soup base. It's simple. Just make sure the container is airtight. Place it in the freezer and forget about it.

HOT NAVY BEAN SOUP
2 cups dried navy beans, soaked overnight and drained
5 cups water
2 medium onions, coarsely chopped
2 carrots, diced
2 celery ribs with leaves, chopped
1 garlic clove, minced
1 bay leaf
1/4 lb. salt pork, diced
1 Tbsp. vegetable oil

Place beans in large pot, add rest of ingredients except oil, bring to boil, reduce heat to low, add oil, cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours. Reserve half of bean mixture, removing to saucepan with slotted spoon, and 1/4 cup cooking liquid for cold soup base. Serve remainder hot, adding salt and black pepper if desired. Serves 4.

COLD NAVY BEAN SOUP
Half of cooked navy bean mixture, cooled
1/4 cup cooking liquid
3 Tbsp. margarine, cut in bits
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1 1/4 cups chicken broth
1/4 cup light cream
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley
1/4 tsp. dried marjoram
1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg

Puree bean mixture in blender or food processor a little at a time, gradually adding cooking liquid. Stir in margarine, salt and pepper; place in airtight container and freeze. When ready to use, defrost and pour soup base into large bowl. Stir in broth, remaining ingredients and adjust salt and pepper seasoning to taste; cover and chill. Serves 4.

This barbecue is a real taste pleaser

Here's a barbecue idea which will appeal to men!

Let dad prepare a beef barbecue in the backyard for a wonderful and memorable meal. He will welcome the opportunity to share his culinary skills with the rest of the family.

A slow charcoal fire cooks beef to its most flavorful, tender and juicy best by cooking at low to moderate temperatures. Beef easily picks up the smoky barbecue flavor to enhance its own flavorful taste. Some like their beef unadorned, but other outdoor cooks add flavor variety with marinades, sauces, wood chips or chunks.

The whole family will enjoy the following recipe.

TERIYAKI STEAK WITH ONIONS
1 1/2 lb. beef flank steak
1/2 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup dry white wine
2 tsp. brown sugar
1 tsp. grated ginger root

2 cloves garlic, minced
1 large sweet onion, sliced
1 Tbsp. butter or margarine

Combine soy sauce, wine, brown sugar, ginger and garlic. Place steak in plastic bag. Add marinade, turning to coat. Tie bag securely and marinate in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours (or overnight), turning at least once. Drain marinade from steak; and reserve. Broil steak over medium coals 10 to 15 minutes, to doneness desired (rare or medium); turn once. Meanwhile, cook onion in butter in frying pan until soft. Stir in 1/4 cup reserved marinade; cook 4 to 5 minutes. Carve steak into thin slices. Serve with onion. 5 to 6 servings.

More creative cookout ideas can be found in a booklet called "American Beef Cookouts." For a copy, send your name and address and 75 cents to the Meat Board Test Kitchens & Beef Industry Council, 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Here's Jacqui!

The Workout Company is setting for aerobics champ

By Tom Baer
staff writer

THE COACHES at Farmington Mercy missed out on a good thing when Jacqui Chabot picked dancing over sports back in her high school days.

Watching Chabot, now 23 and seemingly as physically fit as a woman can be, lead the advanced aerobics class at The Workout Company, you get the idea that she would have excelled at basketball or gymnastics or swimming or softball or anything requiring stamina or physical skills.

But Chabot — raised in Garden City, educated at the all-girl parochial school in Farmington Hills and now employed at The Workout Company, a Bloomfield Township health spa — stuck with the ballet, tapp, jazz and modern dance which had been her life since age 10.

"I was busy dancing five nights a week," she remembered.

Now she's combined her dance background and her interest in physical fitness. The result: aerobic dancing.

Chabot and David McKay of Dearborn combined to win a mixed doubles regional championship last month in the Crystal Light National Aerobic Competition in Chicago.

By winning, the duo earned the right to represent the Midwest at the national competition in Los Angeles in October.

"They're trying to establish aerobics as a sport, a physical sport," Chabot said in a recent interview. "It's a three-minute routine that you do. You're judged on originality, and there's a series of compulsory exercises you must do."

AEROBICS, WHICH has become a national exercise fad, is "designed to increase your heart rate so that you burn off calories after you sustain it for 20 minutes or so," Chabot, who is majoring in exercise physiology at Wayne State University.

"Any type of exercise can become aerobic. Swimming is, jogging is, bike-riding is. You're getting your heart rate up. As your blood circulates, you're burning off calories and you're body is using more oxygen.

— Jacqui Chabot
aerobics instructor

"Aerobic essentially means with oxygen. It's basically a matter of getting your heart rate up so you can burn off calories and increase the capacity of your heart and circulatory system."

Aerobics (with "dance interpretations" in Chabot's words) is usually in a group to the beat of upscale, fast-paced music.

"That's what makes it different from jogging or swimming," she said. "That's what makes it fun."

"People like to move to music. It's a group situation. If you get the right teacher . . . well, the right teacher can get the group really revved up. People scream and yell."

Chabot considers herself to be "the right teacher" — and most of her students would agree.

"I decided to cross over to the fitness field because it seemed to offer a little more stability as a career," she said. "I chose this particular part of it so I could incorporate some of my dance background."

"I love working with people, and I love seeing improvements in people."

TEACHING AEROBICS, however, could get to be too much of a good thing for Chabot, who also teaches classes at the Dearborn Athletic Club.

"I really enjoy teaching and I think I'll always do it at least part of the time," she said. "But it's not something I want to continue for the rest of my life."

"Right now, I'm teaching about 15 to 20 classes a week, and no one can maintain that for very long, physically. That's an awful lot of exercise."

Chabot, a Detroit resident, found time to dance in three television commercials. One of them, which touted MTV (rock videos), appeared throughout the Midwest. The others were for Pontiac autos and radio station WLBS.

"I also had an exercise show on a local cable TV channel, but I quit," she said. "I just didn't have the time."

Her studies at WSU is one reason she couldn't find time for television.

"I'm a senior in status, but I changed my major just last year, so I have a couple of years to go," she said.

"I'll probably go right into a master's program. A bachelor's in the field doesn't get you anywhere. What I'd like to do is work as a consultant for firms which are trying to promote fitness."

"Either that or I'd like to get involved in the certification process for teachers. There are too many instructors around the country who really don't know what they're doing."

CHABOT AND McKay, a 24-year-old student of aerobics, are laying off practice for about a month "after rehearsing five to seven days a week before we left (for the Chicago competition)," she said.

"We had to let our bodies recover," she said. "In September we'll start again on that schedule — rehearsing and more rehearsing."

Chabot said she hopes a good showing in the Los Angeles tournament may help her future. If she and McKay win the nationals, which will be televised nationally, they'll be on the Crystal Light Aerobics Team.

"You travel around the country and promote their products," she said. "And also you perform and demonstrate and talk at press conferences and various industry conventions."

"That will allow us to meet people and open doors which we'd have to crawl into otherwise. They don't offer great monetary prizes, but they do offer massive exposure. That's what we want."

Jacqui Chabot's a holler gal during the aerobics sessions she leads in the mirrored studio of The Workout Company in Bloomfield Township.

Looking happy in her work, Jacqui Chabot puts an advanced aerobics class through the paces.

U.S. Savings Bonds.

Now Paying 9.49%.

In the 1800's, baseball was a child's sandlot game. Then came the curve ball, the slide, the crowds and the legends—like Babe Ruth. Baseball had become our national pastime.

Some things never change. But one great American tradition has changed—U.S. Savings Bonds. Now Savings Bonds pay higher variable interest rates like money market accounts. Currently, Bonds are paying 9.49%.

Just hold Savings Bonds for five years and you get the new variable interest rates. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. That means you can earn a lot more, but never less than 7.5%.

You can purchase Bonds at almost any financial institution, or easier yet, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Like baseball, they're another part of our proud heritage. For more information, call toll-free 1-800-US-BONDS.

Paying Better Than Ever

Variable rates apply to Bonds purchased on and after 12-1-82 and held at least five years. Bonds purchased before 12-1-82 earn variable rates when held beyond 10-31-87. Bonds held less than five years earn lower interest. A public service of this publication.

Chiefs may 'Blohm' in brand 'Neu' year

By Chris McCosky staff writer

The Plymouth Canton gym is quiet but for Rob Neu's soft voice. As he addresses an attentive band of girl basketball players, Bob Blohm strolls in. "Come on Bob, we've got to get to work. Let's go," said Neu.

"This guy's a slave-driver, isn't he," joked Blohm.

The irony is obvious. Most of what Rob Neu knows of the game of basketball was taught to him by Blohm and Fred Thomann, the two men he played for not too long ago at Plymouth Salem.

But now Neu is the head man at Canton and Blohm is his assistant.

You have an assistant that won more than 100 basketball games in five years as Salem's head girls coach and a 23-year-old head coach that has yet to coach a game at the varsity level.

An odd situation, to be sure. Maybe just odd enough to be successful. After all, having Blohm at his side should help reduce Neu's growing pains. Both have similar philosophies on how the game should be played.

"It's been a harmonious situation thus far. Heck, nobody thought Oscar Madison and Felix Unger could get along either."

"THE PLAYERS have been very responsive to us," Neu said. "I think they are very excited about this season. They've listened well and have worked very hard. I see nice desire, their work capacity is tremendous."

Canton returns an experienced and talented team that finished with a 12-10 record last year.

Three starters return from last year's team: Beth Frigge, Diana Knickerbocker and Laura Darby.

Frigge, an exciting player, has been touted as one of the area's top point guards. Only 5-2, she plays with reckless abandon on the court, challenging opposition with drives to the basket and a consistent outside jumper.

Diana Knickerbocker looks completely recovered from a knee injury that had slowed her the past two seasons.

Knickerbocker showed tremendous promise as sophomore two years ago until forced to the sidelines with a knee injury. Last year, her game was on and off.

"Knickerbocker has been a pleasant surprise this summer," Neu said. "She's really played well. She's going to surprise some people."

Darby was the Chiefs' top scorer last year. A solid 5-10, she can be a force inside scoring and rebounding.

TWO OTHER players returning that saw significant duty last season are Lori Schauder, a quick, explosive senior forward and Penny Pigott, a 6-foot junior who appears to have gained a good deal of strength over the summer. Neu is also high on 5-10 sophomore Karen Boluch.

"She's a good one. You're really going to like her," he said.

Vicki Ferko, a junior, is also returning. She was impressive her very limited time at the varsity level a year ago.

"I don't want to come out and say we are going to win a specific number of games," Neu said. "Let's just say we are going to be able to step in the gym and play. We are prepared to challenge for the league championship."

The cynics will snicker at that, but most area coaches agree. In fact, the general consensus is that the Western Division of the Western Lakes may come down to a Livonia Churchill-Plymouth Canton duel.

"The girls want to win. You can see that in the way they've been working," Neu said. "It's almost like they feel they have something to prove."

THE ONE concern that lingers in the Canton camp is a lack of preparation time. While most area teams were playing in summer camps, Canton was still looking for a head coach. When Neu was finally hired, there was only two months of summer left.

"Yes, we were a bit worried about that. We got a late start," Neu said. "We just had to work extra hard to make up for it. I'll never use that as an excuse. Some of the girls went to skills camps and we scratched around and got in a few games. We aren't looking to make excuses."

No need to. In all, there's reason for optimism in the Canton camp. The team has size, skilled players and senior leadership.

And it has about as dynamic and enthusiastic a coaching duo as there is in the area — and it is said that a team's character reflects that of its coaches.

By the way, you might want to circle the date Oct. 15 on your calendar. That's when Canton plays Salem. Make sure you wear non-flammable clothing. Sparks are going to fly.

With nearly all starters back, Pioneers shoot at national title

By C.J. Rieak staff writer

One of the trio expected to break into the starting lineup is forward Brian Fitzgerald, a sophomore in eligibility who transferred from Indiana-Purdue at Ft. Wayne. Fitzgerald played in high school at Southfield.

Another newcomer getting a long look is Ray Cerekas, a transfer from Macomb Community College where he was a two-time NJCAA all-American. Cerekas will play both forward and midfield. The third recruit challenging for a starting role is stopper John Stewart (Sarnia, Ontario).

"We only lost two players, (forward) Tag Graham and (back) Barry Vince," said Parsons. "We're already a lot further along than last year."

"I'd like to think we'll do much better at this level," he said, raising his hand to his shoulder. "We hope to take it from there and go higher. Whether we do or not is up to the coaches and players."

OU LOST its first-round match to Seattle-Pacific in a 1-0 shootout. In an effort to bolster the offense, Parsons, who signed just three new recruits, made two of them front-line.

"Realistically speaking," the OU coach said, "all of them are challenging for a starting position."

PARSONS is counting on the experience gained after a year of playing to objective: a national championship. With the team's top three scorers back and players with experience at every other position, that goal is within striking distance.

Back on the front line is Freeman, a senior left wing from Monrovia, Liberia, who netted 16 goals and 10 assists. Joining him are Marty Hagen, a junior from Troy (Athens) who finished with nine goals and 10 assists, and Mark Christian, a senior from St. John's, Antigua, who had 10 goals and four assists.

"With Hagen, Christian and Freeman and the two new additions, we have five good forwards," said Parsons. "Any three of the five could start. And I think there'll be some improvement in our cohesiveiveness, which should produce more goals."

Mike Vigh patrols center midfield for OU. The all-Midwest Region performer, the junior from Detroit had nine goals last season. Other midfielders are Haisel, a senior from Monrovia, Liberia (six goals, seven assists) and Gemmell (five goals).

Canton's drive for the Western Division title of the Western Lakes conference hinges upon the performance of flashy point guard Beth Frigge.

Help wanted: Jones needs lots to build Ocelot run program

By C.J. Rieak staff writer

What Tobin Jones needs as he starts his first season as Schoolcraft College's cross country coach is help.

For one, he could use some more bodies. Nine runners — five women and four men — crisscrossed nearly all hopes for team representation (a team must have five runners).

And secondly, Jones wouldn't mind some assistance in building a struggling program into something more solid.

"This is kind of like a second rebuilding year," said Jones, a 1978 Livonia Churchill graduate from Westland. Last year, he assisted Mike Krafchak at Schoolcraft. When Krafchak's job at Harper Grace Hospital demanded more attention, he was forced to resign and leave the program in Jones' hands.

Which makes Jones the fourth cross country coach at Schoolcraft in four years. And it also goes a long way toward explaining why Schoolcraft has had such a problem getting a team program established.

"IT'S DIFFERENT in high school," said Jones, who served as an assistant cross country and track coach at Redford Union in 1980-81. "You don't have to recruit, plus you have a girls' coach and a guys' coach. This is too much for one guy to handle."

"If I hadn't done anything other than just work with whoever showed up at school — we'd have one girl on the team, maybe."

That girl would be Janell Sheets from Brighton, the only returnee. Sheets was an NJCAA qualifier and earned all-Region XII honors last year.

Despite the lack of veterans, Jones called his current women's team "level of competition much better."

Joining Sheets are Pam Eldridge from Westland John Glenn; Colleen Murphy from Redford St. Agatha; Pam Reed from Dearborn Divine Child; and Jennifer Rutenbar from RU.

"They're all run under 21 minutes for five kilometers," said Jones, "and they're all capable of running right around 20 minutes. A couple should be down around 19."

IT'S NOT quite the same with the men's team. Only Todd Lilla, from John Glenn, has extensive experience. He is joined by Tom Anthony and Jeff Borton, from Garden City, and Dan Jenkins from Livonia Stevenson.

Jenkins may best illustrate the team's current status. He's never run cross country but wrestled at Stevenson. Jones described Jenkins as "real tough — he's only been running four months, but he'd run until he passed out if he had to."

Despite lacking the necessary numbers to compete as a team, Jones thinks there are goals to strive for. "I told them a few weeks ago that we're kind of skinny," he said. "But even though we're not a big team, we can accomplish some things."

"Try going to talk to them individually, and I hope whatever goals we set they'll work at intensely."

Any Schoolcraft students interested in running on the team should stop in or call the athletic office (591-6400, Ext. 480).

CC, Churchill tops in area?

Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem, among the best soccer teams in the Observerland area, will have plenty of competition in their quest for Western Lakes conference and state championships this season. Observer sportswriter Brad Emons takes a pre-season look at area's formidable foes for 1985.

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Pete Scerri, the highly successful boys soccer coach at Livonia Stevenson, admits his team is rebuilding.

That's good news for the rest of the state and especially the Spartans' rivals in the Western Lakes Soccer League.

With one Class A title (1982) and three consecutive trips to the state finals to its credit, Stevenson can't be counted out of the running.

But with Livonia Churchill returning a veteran team to go along with several Bentley High School transfers, and Plymouth Canton getting just about everybody back from a team which tied mighty Stevenson once last year, things could be interesting in 1985.

"This is our rebuilding team, but as usual, we'll work hard and we'll be competitive," Scerri said.

Churchill's John Neff said his team should be improved, but expects Stevenson and Canton to be strong forces in the area.

"STEVENSON is always strong and have such a good pool of talented players to pick from," said Neff, who guided Churchill to the 'A' final in 1982. "And Canton did not lose any key players to graduation, and they were an excellent team last year."

Another team to consider once the state tourney begins is Redford Catholic Central, despite the loss to graduation of state record goal scorer Andy Rama.

Coach Paul Scicluna has a veteran team back and picked up two important transfer students, including All-Area standout Kevin Tuite from Bentley.

Scicluna's team will try for its third straight Catholic League title, but must fend off challenges from Warren DeLaSalle, Harper Woods Notre Dame and Birmingham Brother Rice.

With players like All-Observer pick Rob Opatrny returning, Canton believes this is the year, and Scicluna rates them highly.

"Canton has good talent, good coaching and lots of experience coming back," said the CC coach. "Churchill has lots of balance and a good coach and Stevenson is strong because of their past performances."

AREA TEAMS such as Livonia Franklin (Western Lakes), Redford Bishop Borgess (Catholic League) and Garden City (Expressway League) will be hard-pressed to break through and challenge for its respective titles.

Garden City is in a most awkward position. The Cougars' first-year coach, George Vella, is in the midst of a three-week vacation to Malta and will miss the team's season opener Thursday, Sept. 4.

Joe Cavolan, the interim coach, admits his soccer background is limited.

It could be a fast learning experience for Cavolan, whose team opens with Livonia Stevenson.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL

- Head coach: John Neff, fifth season.
- Last year's overall record: 10-6-2.
- Notable losses to graduation: Ray Galasso, Dave Gluth, Sam Matovski (All-Area goalie), Mike Nardelli (All-Western Lakes) and Scott Zarembki.

- Promising newcomers: Bentley transfers Steve Maloney, senior fullback; Eric Scicluna, senior forward; Bob Nicholas, junior halfback; Keith Archambault, junior halfback; Tom Gnielaw, junior halfback; Brad Mase, junior forward.
- Neff's '85 outlook: "We're still a very young team with only six seniors on a 26-man squad. Most of my players have at least one year of experience now, so we should be a little stronger than last year."

"We'll be a good passing team, and I hope we can exert a lot of pressure on the other team."

REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS

- Head coach: Mike Crockford, first season.
- Last year's overall record: 2-10-1.
- Notable losses to graduation: 11 players.
- Leading returnees: Mike Sigler, senior midfielder; Chris Cadotte, senior defender; Steve Solano, junior midfielder.

Wendt, second team All-Area midfielder; junior Dave Niebrydoski, team's second leading scorer; Tom Goodwin, junior defender; Tony Signorelli, senior goalie; Jeff Kuzma, junior defender; Craig Thiel, junior midfielder; John Rehm, senior forward; and Brian Rafferty, senior midfielder.
- Promising newcomers: Senior Kevin Tuite, All-Area defender (transfer from Livonia Bentley); junior Jeff Brown, center-fullback (transfer from Livonia Stevenson); and freshman Troy Larson.
- Scicluna's '85 outlook: "We hope to be a little better than last year, hoping to be in the regional final."
- "The kind of game you can expect from us is the short pass, ball control game."

GARDEN CITY

- Head coach: George Vella, first season.
- Last year's overall record: 6-9-1.
- Notable losses to graduation: Eight starters including goalie Jeff Guido, Bill Hyde, the team's leading scorer and Ron Kasperik.
- Leading returnees: Senior All-Expressway League forward Bill Trombley, senior fullback Jason Bruce and senior fullback Tim Horvath.
- Promising newcomers: Eight sophomores including Tony Schmidt and Matt Bochia.
- Garden City's '85 outlook: "The Cougars, strong at the fullback position, will be defense-oriented. The goalie spot, however, is wide open."

Bentley home to Pats

Livonia Franklin athletic director George Lovich announced Tuesday that all varsity, JV and freshman football home games for the month of September have been rescheduled at old Bentley High School.

Lovich also said that all Franklin varsity home soccer matches will also be played at Bentley.

Times remain the same.

The varsity football games affected include Saturday, Sept. 7 (Dearborn Fordson), Saturday, Sept. 21 (Farmington Harrison) and Saturday, Sept. 28 (Walled Lake Western). Five soccer matches are also affected.

The changes are due to Franklin's rescheduling of its home football field.

Check the Observer sports section in coming weeks for The Week Ahead.

OU eyes national title

LEADING THE BACKS are junior sweeper Raul Delgado, from Sterling Heights; Nasello, a senior; O'Shea, a junior who prepped at Livonia Franklin; and Allan Schneck, a sophomore from Troy (Athens).

The pride of any defense rests in the goals-allowed column, and OU has plenty to be proud of. Senior Paul Larkin (Scarborough, Ontario), an all-Mideast selection and a three-year starter in goal, boasts a 0.70 goals-against average, with a school-record 29 shutouts.

He is backed up by senior Dave Marttila (Okemos), who has given up just one goal in 15 games. In all, OU has surrendered just 25 goals in its last 41 games.

Still, Parsons is searching for improvement. "I'd like us to be stingier on defense, as a team," he said. "We were a little loose in some areas. We did a good job keeping the ball out of the net, but we could play tighter."

THE PIONEERS face another tough schedule, with NCAA Division I powers Akron (home, Oct. 23) and Illinois State (away, Nov. 3) providing difficult tests. Games against Michigan State (home, Oct. 2), Gannon University (away, Oct. 19) and Wright State (home, Nov. 9) are also key confrontations.

But Parsons figures the second annual National Invitational Tournament, at OU Sept. 14-15, may provide the greatest challenge on the schedule "because they are all national-caliber teams."

In the Sept. 14 opening round, Bridgeport faces Davis and Elkins (1 p.m.) and OU meets East Stroudsburg (4 p.m.). The consolation game is at 1 p.m. Sept. 15, with the championship following at 3:30 p.m.

OU and Davis and Elkins were the Mideast Region qualifiers to the NCAA Division II tournament last year. "They have most of their team back, and they have a very strong program," said Parsons of Davis and Elkins. The tournament's championship game will be televised by Pro-Am Sports Systems.

Combined effort

If you've ever wondered why the Plymouth Fall Festival takes four days, read over the following list of major events (excluding the major meals) and organizations operating booths and you get some idea of the magnitude of the annual community-wide celebration.

Following are some of the major events:

• Antique Mart: The Plymouth Symphony League will sponsor its annual Antique Mart in the Plymouth Community Cultural Center, 525 Farmer at Theodore, on all four days. Proceeds are used to support the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. The evening of Thursday, Sept. 5, will be an invitation-only benefit showing of the antiques.

Following is a list of booths and activities by organizations in the Plymouth-Canton community:

• The Steppingstone Center for the Potentially Gifted will have a food booth which will offer fresh lemonade, submarine sandwiches, and some craft items. Proceeds will benefit educational materials for the center.

Plymouth Optimist members will be selling helium balloons and novelties. Proceeds will go towards Optimist projects such as the annual Fall Festival Pet Show, oratorical contests for middle school students, and other civic projects.

Under President Paul McLean the Plymouth-Canton Moose 1190 will sponsor a slush cone booth. Slushes will be sold for 50 cents each. The Moose goal is helping or orphaned children.

The Catherine McAuley Health Center will bring its health promotion van to Plymouth during the Fall Festival. The van is a 36-foot Titan Champion mobile home which will provide free health screening and information. The van became a reality in 1982 as a result of the Catherine McAuley Health Center Radio Auction. The van offers free health education and screening services to residents of Washtenaw and portions of Wayne and Oakland counties.

Various student groups from the two Plymouth-Canton high schools will be hosting food booths at the festival. The Plymouth Salem Rockettes will have a dunk tank, the Salem Senior Class will offer pizza, the National Honor Society will feature various flavors of Italian Ice, the CEP Executive Forum will have pretzels and lemonade, the Plymouth Canton Sen-

Plymouth event

The Plymouth Fall Festival will be three decades old in 1986.

The annual Fall Festival was started by the Rotary Club of Plymouth in 1956. At that time the Rotarians held a community picnic and served a chicken dinner to raise money for playground equipment for Hamilton Park in the City of Plymouth.

Since then the Plymouth Rotary Club "picnic" has grown from serving 500 dinners to an all-day chicken barbecue serving as many as 15,000.

The festival has grown from the one-day event for the Rotary Club to a four-day event which serves the needs of many local non-profit groups.

There now is a Fall Festival Board made up of several community volunteers who take time throughout the year to plan for this big event.

THE IDEA for the Rotary picnic in 1956 was suggested by Don Lightfoot, a member of the club's youth activities committee.

During the first picnic, Rotary President-elect Don Sutherland presented the playground equipment to then-mayor Russell Daane.

At that time the price of $2 for adults ior Class will sell hot dogs and root beer, and the Salem Junior Class will offer ice cold pop for sale.

The First Baptist Church of Plymouth will use the proceeds from the sale of books and tapes to assist needy families and individuals. The tapes will feature music from various Christian artists.

The Polish Centennial Dancers of Plymouth will have a foot booth which will offer kielbasa sandwiches, sauerkraut, and Polish pastry. This group sponsors performances and classes throughout the year and will be performing at this year's Fall Festival.

The United Assembly of God will have cider and doughnuts for sale during the four days of the festival while the Plymouth Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will sponsor its annual bake shop.

The Plymouth Business and Professional Women will again sponsor its "spin art" which involves persons spraying paint onto a moving turntable to create a piece of modern art.

The City of Plymouth Police Officers Association will have an informational booth at the festival. Officers will be on hand to pass out flyers on a variety of topics and are ready to discuss home security with residents. Officers also will have a crime prevention display and will be handing out children's badges.

In addition to performing at the festival, the Plymouth Community Chorus will be cooking up its famous tacos. The chorus has an 11-year history of serving the Plymouth-Canton community, having performed at many community events as well as presenting their two main concerts each year — one in the spring and one during the Christmas season. The chorus is directed by Mike Gross.

Henry Ford Hospital-Plymouth Center will have its building open on Main Street north of Penniman Avenue during the four days of the festival. They will offer health information and free health screening tests.

The Plymouth Community Family YMCA will again this year have its booth with submarine sandwiches, soup, pop, and YMCA sport bags for sale. The proceeds will help fund YMCA activities for the coming year.

Everybody wins at the New Morning School fish pond, one of the carnival games the school is sponsoring this year. Proceeds will help fund the school's operation. New Morning School is a state-certified, non-profit co-operative school in Plymouth Township.

Burger in pita bread is the specialty of the Plymouth Family Service booth. Hamburger and cheeseburgers in pitas is something everyone should try at least once. Plymouth Family Service provides individual, marital and family counseling with fees based on the ability to pay. Proceeds will reduce the amount of funding requested from the Plymouth Community Fund-United Way.

The Plymouth-Canton Civitans have two activities at the festival in 1985. The Civitans are famous for their photo buttons and Yaki Tori steak sandwiches.

The Plymouth Theatre Guild in addition to having the command performance of the ham dinner on Thursday night will once again be twirling the cotton candy and popping the popcorn on Main Street.

If you are into taco salad, stop by Plymouth Christian Academy's taco salad booth. Both 16-ounce and 24-ounce salads will be available.

The Plymouth Elks B.P.O.E. 1780 are noted for their scholarship programs for handicapped children and for youth programs. To support some of these projects, the Elks will sponsor a nachos booth at the Fall Festival. Also on sale will be French fries, pop, and patriotic novelties.

has a rich history

IN 1960 the first festival ran 12:30-6 p.m. with chicken being barbecued in the parking lot next to the Penn Theatre with tables set up in Kellogg Park. Some 2,800 dinners were served — twice as much as ever served before.

Participating in the first Fall Festival was the Three Cities Art Club, the Plymouth Theatre Guild which performed "The Mad Hatter's Tea Party," the Plymouth Historical Society and the Plymouth High School Band. Old-time comedies were shown at the Penn for 10 cents admission.

The year 1960 also marked the first appearance of Wilford Bunyea's popular steam engine, used to boil the corn.

In his book "The Story of Plymouth, Michigan: A Midwest Microcosm," Hudson notes that the 1975 Festival resulted in Rotary serving 16,000 chicken dinners, the Kiwanis 2,556 pancake dinners, the Jaycees 2,500 beef rib dinners, and the Lions 1,700 fish dinners in spite of a deluge of rain that Friday night. The arts and crafts show held by PCAC drew 8,000 people and the Plymouth Symphony's Antique Mart attracted 3,400.

Here's Fall Festival

Arbor Trail, and Church are all east-west streets, which cross Main. Fralick is an east-west street that intersects Main just north of the Plymouth City Hall.

At Church and Main are City Hall, Central Middle School, and the Plymouth Historical Museum.

Union Street runs north-south immediately to the east of Main. Near Union and Penniman is the Gathering Place (food pavilion), Masonic Temple, Grange Hall, and the Produce Tent. About one block east of Union at Ann Arbor Trail and Elizabeth is the Oddfellows Hall.

Penniman Avenue from Harvey to Union will be closed throughout the festival.

THE CULTURAL Center is at 525 Farmer and is most easily reached by out-of-towners by turning west on Theodore Street at the C&O railroad tracks at the north end of Main Street.

Convenient parking lots for festival goers are Central Parking Lot and East Central. Central, bounded by Main, Ann Arbor Trail, Harvey and Penniman, has a pedestrian-walkway access directly to Main Street from the second deck.

The entrance to Central is on Ann Arbor Trail. East Central is bounded by Main, Penniman, Union and Church and is in easy walking distance of The Gathering Place, Kellogg Park, Grange Hall, the Historical Museum, and Central Middle School.

Convenient routes to Plymouth for motorists include Ann Arbor Road from I-275, Plymouth Road (becomes Main Street), Sheldon off M-14, Lilley Road (becomes Mill), North Territorial (becomes Penniman Avenue), and Ann Arbor Trail.
