The Canton Connection

IF YOU'VE got a big heart and are looking to do some good for others, Flossie Tonda of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' Clothing Bank would love to hear from you. Volunteers are needed for 2½ to five hours each week from 9:30 a.m. to noon Tuesday and/or Thursday. Workers will be asked to sort and size clothes, assist patrons and a variety of other tasks. If this sounds like an interesting proposition, call Helen Decker, 459-6577 or Tonda, 453-2534.

A STORY IN Thursday's Canton Observer about transferring responsibility for agenda preparation from the clerk to the supervisor included an inaccurate quote from Trustee Loren Bennett. The article said the clerk's office denied the finance department access to the agenda for Canton Board of Trustees' meetings. The story should have said the clerk failed to provide the finance department with board packets. The finance department since has been furnished with board packets. The Observer regrets the error.

"DRESSING THIN" tips will be given at the Canton Public Library by Tina Franco, a wardrobe consultant, who will demonstrate how to look your best. Residents are invited to attend the seminar 7-8:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19. Franco will show how to find figure assets and limitations, as well as demonstrate which clothing styles enhance which figures. Reservations are being accepted as of today — stop by the library or call 397-0999.

CHILD IDENTIFICATION fingerprinting at the Canton Township Police Department, 44508 Geddes Road, will be 7-9 p.m. today. The program, usually staged the first Monday of the month, was postponed due to last week's Labor Day holiday. For further information, call 397-3000.

Mill hike will follow forum for taxpayers

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Before the Canton Township Board of Trustees votes on a millage increase Tuesday, residents will be given time to voice their opinions about the tax hike.

A public hearing will begin at 7 p.m. at the Canton Township Administration Building, 1150 Canton Center Road. Due to recent board action, trustees have the option of raising the millage as much as 2.01 mills higher than what was levied last year, increasing the rates from 9.13 to 11.14. Board members have indicated they would avoid raising rates a full 2.01 mills.

"Keep in mind, historically, the board never goes to the maximum level," Trustee Stephen Larson said.

Because state shared revenue is allocated to townships based only on the size of their general fund — not their police and fire funds — trustees plan to juggle the figures in the three budgets. Mills in the general fund are listed at 5; police fund at 4.38 and fire at 1.76.

HOWEVER, THE GENERAL fund will have earmarked 1.5 mills for both the police and fire funds. Therefore, the actual 1985 millage allocation is proposed at 2.0 in the general fund, 3.26 for the fire fund and 5.88 for the police fund.

In 1984 the general millage was set at 2.0, fire fund at 3.06 and police fund at 4.07.

This represents a millage increase of 1.81 for the police fund and .20 for the fire fund. The general fund would be unchanged, according to the maximum proposed rates set by the board.

"The taxes will have to go up this year, if for nothing else than to start paying for the new police building, which we had to build this year," Larson said. "We were in about every violation of code by the state. The place (present police building) was a dump."

A new $2 million facility, built next to township hall on Canton Center Road, is slated to open Thursday. Construction costs are being covered by a public improvement fund, which is used for a variety of expensive projects in the township.

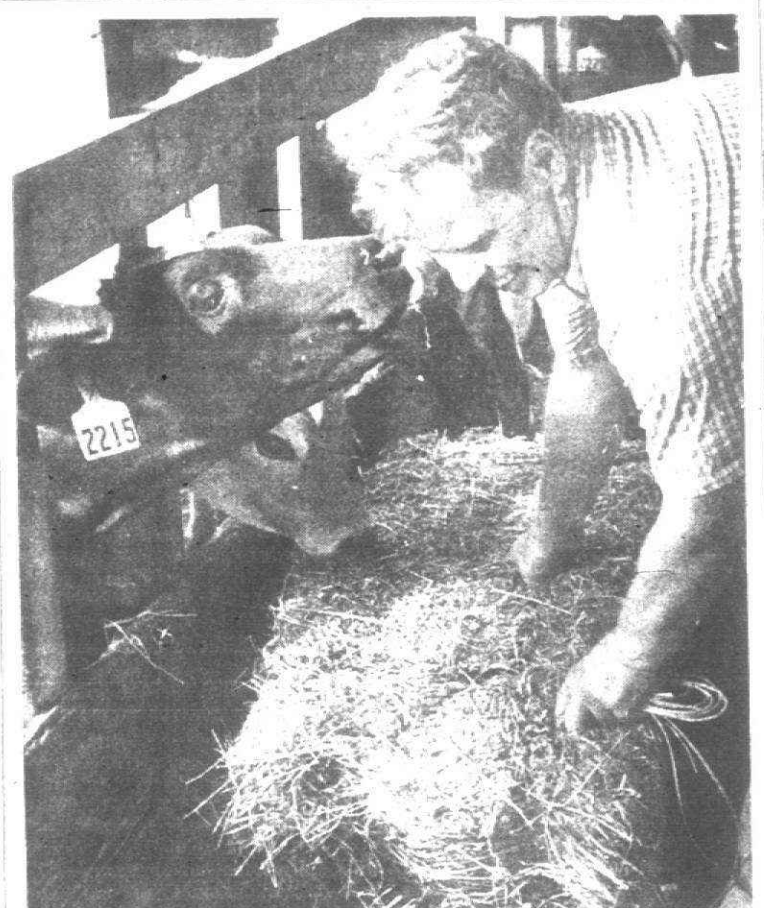

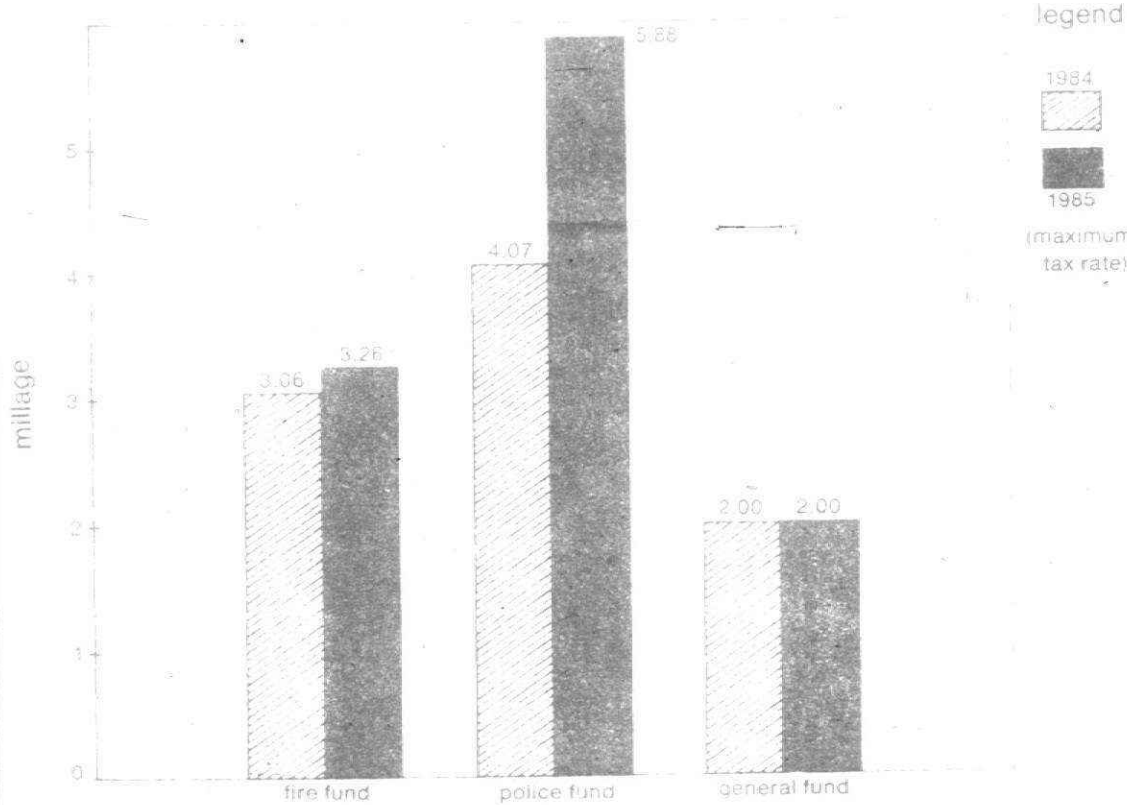

ONE MILL of the 1.81 total proposed for the police fund represents a five-year repayment plan to the public improvement fund, said John Spencer, Canton finance director. The remaining .81 mills reflects increased costs of adding police personnel, and an expected rise in operating costs at the new building.

A major portion of the millage increase Tuesday will depend on how fast the trustees decide to pay back the public improvement fund. It is expected the board will lengthen the payment plan and decrease the millage rate allotted for the police fund.

"We establish the fund for big ticket items, and if we pay it back quickly for the police department, we have to raise taxes higher," Larson said. "If we pay it back slowly the taxes don't have to go up as much, but then you don't have money in there to do other things."

Dust stirs Cemetery hoax unsettled

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A hoax staged by a Jackson woman who led deputies from two counties searching for the body of a 4-year-old boy in a Canton Township cemetery last month is still unresolved.

Brenda Underwood, who posted a $300 cash bond, faces a jury trial Wednesday, Sept. 18, in Pittsfield Township District Court on a charge of filing a false police report. The misdemeanor carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Underwood may pay more dearly for telling sheriffs from Washtenaw and Wayne counties a bizarre tale about a toddler who was murdered and buried.

With all the drama of a horror movie, Underwood's murder story featured a love triangle and hair-raising acts. She said the boy was killed by her estranged husband and his ex-girlfriend, who is the youngster's mother.

UNDERWOOD SAID her husband ate the boy's heart, and the woman dismembered his limbs before they buried the parts. After the youngster was found riding his bicycle outside his Howell home, Underwood admitted the story was a prank.

War declared on illiteracy

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Plymouth-Canton Community Education has declared war on illiteracy.

The school district has been placing posters on community bulletin boards saying, "Learn to Read Free," with a telephone number, 451-6555.

Elizabeth Barker, director of community education for the school district, said there is a variety of programs available in her department to provide non-readers with reading skills.

The programs are designed for the foreign-born, for non-high school graduates, for high school graduates, for all ages.

"This is the year of adult literacy," said Barker. "If anyone knows of a non-reader, he should call us."

TWENTY YEARS ago on Sept. 8, 1965, the World Congress of Ministers of Education on the Eradication of Illiteracy was convened.

UNESCO declared the day Internain the death of a Canton Township infant, continues to await trial in the Wayne County Jail. Wayne County Circuit Court Judge William Cahalan recently denied bail to the Livonia resident.

Leo Gilhool, Mackey's attorney, is expected to file a motion to have Mackey given mental competency tests. Cahalan is expected to approve the two tests, one to examine for Mackey's competency to stand trial, the other to examine if Mackey is mentally responsible for the crime.

"Before considering bond, we want to give her those tests to see whether she constitutes a danger to the community," said Prosecutors' Repeat Offender Bureau (PROBE) attorney Douglas Baker. "Then we'll set another bond hearing."

Baker said PROBE, which generally handles high visibility, especially shocking cases, is prosecuting the case to provide continuity for the mother of the dead child, Sandra Hubbard, 23, of Canton Township.

"WE'LL FOLLOW the case from beginning to end so that the mother, who is devastated, doesn't have to deal with new attorneys all the time," Baker said.

Mackey is expected to be arraigned before Cahalan today in circuit court on the second-degree murder charge.

Baker said the bond information bureau had recommended against setting bond for Mackey.

Mackey is accused of killing 14-

A peak at Fellows Creek

Eighty golfers — among them Hank Johnson, Charlie McIlhargey and Charley Waite — from as far away as Louisiana teed off at the 3rd Annual Canton Chamber of Commerce Golf Outing at Fellows Creek Golf Course Thursday. Sunny skies shone on Bob Dates, Mike Gouin, Tim McCurley and Barb Gigliotti, who won first-place honors and a trophy. Scott Lorenz clubbed the longest drive, while Deb O'Connor, Becky Haverstein-Coughlin, Connie Koers and Sandy Gillig earned the dubious distinction of chalking up the highest score — 101 — in the scrambles tourney. All golfers were treated to chances at door prizes and plates of barbecued chicken prepared by tournament director Bob Malek and Jack McGowan of Michigan National Bank.

Births are an everyday occurrence at the Gill dairy farm in Canton. Sometimes the occasion is less than happy, as was the case Thursday when this cow gave birth to a stillborn.

"We're over capacity, but everyone's got a bed," says Sarah Gill of the farm's 900 cows.

Mo Boffenbarger tests a cow's milk before using the automatic milking machine.

Silage is packed air-tight and covered with plastic for storage.

Gill Farms

Days off are just dreams but no one seems to mind

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

"Looking out at this every day is the next best thing to being in paradise," said a bright-eyed Sarah Gill, standing on her driveway gazing at the rolling cornfields on either side of Ridge Road. "We have beautiful sunsets and beautiful sunrises — if only it weren't for those darn wires."

Another day on the Gill dairy farm, whose 1,500 acres south of Cherry Hill crown the highest point in Canton, was winding down. Nearly 400 cows had been milked, and another 280 steers and 100 heifers fed and exercised by a work force that totals 15.

A pregnant cow, expected to deliver in six weeks, provided the day's excitement — and as it turned out, its tragedy. With much difficulty and plenty of help, the Holstein had just given birth to a stillborn calf.

"There's always something. Every day is memorable. Overall, it's pretty rewarding," said full-time farmer Tom Gill, who with his parents, Sarah and Stan, Uncle Don, Aunt Iris and cousins runs the dairy farm that straddles Wayne and Washtenaw counties and is the largest in either.

"It's (dairy farming) all I've ever done," said Stan, leaning against a Bobcat skid loader, taking five in a free stall. "But when I was in the Army, I didn't know how good I'd had it." Stan and Don Gill recently were recognized for 35 years membership in the Michigan Milk Producers Association — an organization their dad enrolled them in when they were teen-agers.

They'd earned it. Stan was 8 when he began milking cows by hand (a "good job to avoid" and operating his father's new automatic milking machine. Gordon Gill was a third generation farmer himself. Buried down the road in Cherry Hill Cemetery are his grandparents, Peter and Jenny, who emigrated from England in 1834 and farmed 323 acres in the heart of the present family farm, nestled in the township's historical district.

DESPITE CANTON'S ever-creeching urban sprawl, the Gills don't fear their demise as farmers.

"My father told us in 1947 we wouldn't be here in 20 years. He thought the Willow Run development would come down this way after World War II," said Stan. "He would be surprised if he'd lived to see the type of farming we're doing. If things change as much in 20 years as they have in the last 20, we may be here and have 2,000 cows."

"We don't have any choice but to stay. You just can't sell it (the farm) to anyone."

Ann Arbor-born Sarah Gill says "it's hard to believe" Meijer Thrifty Acres and K mart have been built just a few miles away from the Gills' 10 buildings and seven houses.

School district declares war on illiteracy

tional Literacy Day to bring attention to the fact that millions of people lack basic reading, writing and math skills. It's estimated that about one billion of the world's adults lack reading and writing skills. At least five million Canadians and 27 million U.S. residents cannot read or write. The Plymouth and Canton area is not immune. According to Barker, there were 8,600 Canton residents, 2,800 Plymouth Township residents and 1,600 city residents without high school diplomas, based on the 1980 census.

More meaningful, there were 4,600 Plymouth-Canton school district residents who used English as a second language, according to the census.

"In some pockets of the community, 50 percent of the residents are illiterate," said Barker.

THE DISTRICT is training volunteer reading instructors tomorrow, under the Laubach Method, whereby each student teaches other students.

"We have 19 volunteers," said Sharon Streen, assistant director of community education. "They spend 1 1/2 hours a week with a trainer in the Laubach Method and then go out and tutor non-readers. This is one-on-one tutoring. The students can be obtained from classes or they can call us for tutoring. If the instructor and student do not have a site, I can arrange one."

Streen said the district needs more tutors, especially male tutors. So far, most of the volunteer tutors have come from churches. Seven of them were affiliated with Geneva Presbyterian Church.

"We're really moving aggressively in this area," said Streen. "We're showing good growth, but many of the non-readers are hard to reach."

A $500 B. Dalton grant covers the cost of course materials. The instruction is free.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools has a population that speaks 26 languages, some in addition to English, but some in place of English.

To meet the problem, the district has a class, "English as a Second Language," designed for households where the primary language is not English.

In addition, the district's regular community education program has a "Reading Improvement" class and a range of classes for every reading and writing skill level.

These classes, and dozens of others, are available free to anyone without a high school diploma, with a GED but no diploma, and to high school graduates who have not reached age 20 by Sept. 1.

The 15-week classes, available to residents and non-residents, lead to free resume writing, job leads and interviewing skills.

The district provides a child-care center for 50 cents an hour for children 6 months and older from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Senior citizens, 62 and older, who are residents of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, can take the classes free, depending on enrollment.

In addition to the English as a Second Language class, the district offers "English I," designed for students who have difficulty with written English or have not had an English course for a long time. This can be followed up with "English II" and "Spelling and Vocabulary."

THE DISTRICT also has a class designed for people who are "math illiterate."

"Math I" reviews the basic fundamentals of math from addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of whole numbers through fractions, decimals and percents. The pace is adjusted for each student.

Another class prepared for persons with minimal reading skills is "Adult Basic Education," a basic skills program for adults that focuses on diagnosing students' needs and developing a self-paced, comfortable learning program for each student.

Students with learning disabilities, non-readers and low-level readers can benefit from the class, because all learning is individualized, based on personal needs. The class can be repeated without repetition of material.

A "Reading Improvement" class helps either non-readers or weak readers by improving reading comprehension, teaching phonics and improving vocabulary. The class description stresses that this class, and the other basic classes, are given in a "no-stress" environment.

But Plymouth-Canton adult education offers far more than the basics. At the other end of the spectrum are classes in biology, chemistry, computer programming, microcomputer-electronics and geometry.

Many classes emphasize the practical need to prepare to earn a living: EKG technician, medical lab assistant, veterinarian's assistant, cosmetology, manicure, speedwriting, typing, word processing, secretarial science, shorthand, dental secretary, legal secretary, medical secretary, drafting and blueprint reading, graphic arts, heating and air conditioning, machine shop, welding, security enforcement, auto servicing and auto body.

But there also are classes for the serious pursuit of leisure: photography, woodshop, sewing and tailoring, handcrafts, auto restoration, painting and physical fitness.

Classes are given either at Starkweather Center, 550 N. Holbrook, Plymouth, or at Plymouth Canton High School, 8415 Canton Center Road, Canton.

Hearing set on taxes

to an annual $60.30 rise in township taxes for a resident with a home valued at $50,000, and an assessed valuation of $30,000.

The trustees' strategy of juggling millage rates in the funds is a move to sidestep an expected loss of about $450,000 in state-shared revenues. It is expected to save Canton about $300,000 in state allocated funds that would have been lost if three mills in the general fund were listed in the police and fire.

Trustees are scheduled to adopt a township budget Oct. 1.

"They need to set the millages at this time so they can get the millage resolution to the county so the tax bills can be issued on time," Spencer said.

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano wasn't amused, and wants her to reimburse the county for costs of the search, which are estimated to be between $1,500 and $2,000.

"We are doing the final audit on this now," Ficano said Thursday. A list of the expenses will be sent to the Washtenaw County prosecutor's office, he added.

Costs were incurred by posting Wayne County sheriffs in front of the Memorial Park, 1229 Ridge Road, Canton for an entire evening and most of the following day while Wayne County road crews dug for the boy's body in an area of the cemetery away from gravesites.

At an arraignment last month, Underwood told Magistrate Nial Raen she "needed help" and she would not return home if released on bond.

Signs spark thoughts of elections gone by

As you drive leisurely through some of the nearby communities one can't help noticing the street corners almost flooded with election placards.

Candidate after candidate has used this method of letting the voters know that election day is at hand and hope that the signs will be remembered on election day.

This is especially true in Livonia and each time The Stroller sees the grouping of these multicolored signs he gets to wondering how much good they do and he has good reason to wonder.

MORE than a quarter of a century ago he was a warrior in the political battles. He entered into the fray when the drive was on to have Livonia Township become a city. The drive was for a good reason.

The race tracks had taken options on several farms for the erection of the stands and the track that would make the city a sports stronghold. More than that, according to state law, the city would receive $500,000 a year, as its share of the parimutuel betting.

Because he had once covered the running races for the papers he was named to the committee to try to "sell" the people on the plan to become a city.

It was an interesting battle. But we won and Livonia became a city and collected the money.

Up to his eyes in politics, The Stroller won a place on the charter commission. He travelled the state to get acquainted with the way things are done. Later, he was elected to the first Livonia city council, where he served for six years.

THEN CAME the big step up to the mayor's chair. It was a gamble, but he was assured of making a great run for the top job.

Round and round the city he went, preaching his gospel for a first-rate city.

Then came election day. It was 1956, and he was told that he would be a favorite of the folks who went to the polls.

Prior to that were the usual multicolored placards in all sections of the city, and he had been told that his campaign booklet was one of the best ever by some of the big city officials.

It was now election day. During the afternoon while visiting the polls he was told to go home and take it easy as he was a "shoo-in" for the mayor's chair.

Even the labor union officials called him to make a date for a meeting to discuss plans for the coming year. He did just that. He went home and rested. That night when the ballots were counted he finished in last place. Despite his multicolored posters he didn't win.

Ever since he has wondered how good the posters that clutter the intersections are.

To his knowledge there were only two successful mayors in the area who used placards with success.

The first of these was Mayor Orville Hubbard in Dearborn and Ed Jeffries in Detroit.

Hubbard placed his posters in downtown Detroit and explained that his working people from Dearborn would see them there and discuss them.

Jeffries stressed being a friend of the bowlers. He spent a lot of time at the lanes and his posters were aimed to get the attention of the bowlers. They elected him.

But posters no matter how fancy they may be, don't pay off with the voters on the way to the polls.

The Stroller found that out. And he has been a graduate of politics ever since.

Dairy farmers are oft rewarded, distressed, but 'never done'

Tom has a strategy in mind to ward off development, should it get too close for comfort.

"We'll just start raising hogs. It might be the only way to get rid of development," joked the personable part-time tour guide. Actually, the 27-year-old is partial to pigs, and often spends time with red-skinned 500-pound hogs big enough to ride. "My pigs are my release from dairy cows," he said.

A VISIT TO THE Gill herding-bone milking parlor, well, stimulates the senses. Electric machinery forces folks inside to shout, "Our Edison bills are $3,000 a month," laments Sarah. Inevitably, you step in, uh, stuff that later serves as a pungent souvenir of your visit. Anything-butty flies buzz around and dive-bomb flesh, be it cow or human.

Ushered in and washed are eight complacent-looking cows. Steve Hart, Maurice Boffenberger and Tom Gill, working in a cement pit, massage and "hand prep" each cow. Udders are dried off with paper toweling before milk is tested and automatic milkers are vacuum-attached. During the three minutes it takes to milk each cow, 101-degree milk is pumped through tubing into a strainer, cooled to 36 degrees, and piped into a vat. Every other morning, the Gills' shiny silver tanker departs for Kroger at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt on a 48,000-pound milk run.

A few yells and slaps move 'em out, and it's time for the next batch. The top producers — cows with "Group One" status — produce up to 100 pounds of milk per day.

"I've been farming since I was young, the busy, 17-year-old Hart was saying. "I want to do the rest of my life. You're out in the open and the fresh air — not being pressured by some boss in a factory."

MILKING is just one facet of farming — there's plenty of veterinary work, silage preparation (the Gills can store 450,000 tons of feed at a time), breeding, bookkeeping, feeding, machine repair and trips to livestock auctions.

"You have to like it," said Tom. "Sometimes we don't have as nice a schedule as we'd like, especially on holidays." (Work is something Gill never has shied away from. Once his family was called and questioned by a company attempting to verify whether Tom, then 17, had in fact been working for 13 years on the Gill farm, as his job application form stated. "The person was told, 'Yes, that's right. What else do you want to know?'" recalled Sarah.)

"There are rewards," Tom said. "Calves being born every day, seeing sick cows come back to health, and seeing crops grow. With each season, there's something different."

Even death becomes easier to accept. "It's a common occurrence. Death doesn't bother farmers like it does others. No one likes it, but it gets easier each time," said Sarah, who supplements her work at the farm and at home with a food service job in Ypsilanti, dollmaking and assembling grandfather clock kits. "People say, 'How can you feed those cows, knowing they're going to meet their demise?' We don't think about that."

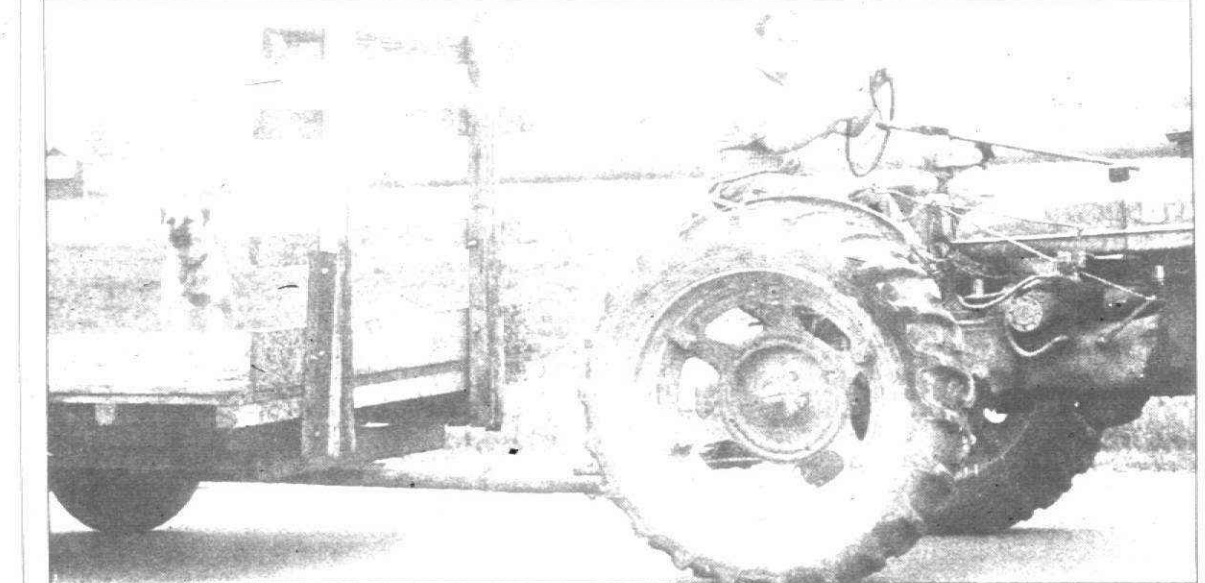

We treat each one as though it's special for as long as it's here. We're all here on borrowed time, aren't we?"

While the Gills sometimes wonder whether the return justifies the input — especially during lean times like last year's drought — they say they're doing all right. "Our situation isn't that bad, right now, anyway," said Tom.

The Gills — who call a five-hour work day an off day — have their own Casey Stengelism. "You're not done til you're done, and we're never done. We just go home," said Sarah, watching her husband, son and herdsman Rick Meyer helping a cow give birth from the side of the maternity pen.

Retirement? "Hell, never retire," she said of Stan, who refuses to let his arthritis slow him down. "I don't even know where we would go."

Stan Gill and Tasha ride together down Ridge Road.

REASONS FOR KNEE PAIN
When you knee hurts, you well may assume that the cause is arthritis. However, a number of structures in the knee, separate from the joint, can generate a similar pain.
For instance, there is a special cartilage in the knee known as the meniscus. From injury or unusual hard use, this meniscus may become frayed or cracked. The result is pain, particularly when you make a turning movement.
The knee also contains two ligaments positioned in the middle of the joint called the cruciate ligaments. Their job is to stabilize the knee so it will not shift forward or backward to excess. If these ligaments are torn, then you will feel pain on walking and intense pain when moving up or down stairs.
When there is pain in the knee, but the fault lies in a structure other than the bone, the condition is called: internal derangement of the knee.
My next column will discuss how physicians diagnose and treat this problem.

SPINAL DEGENERATION

WHEN YOUR SPINE IS INJURED IT BEGINS TO DEGENERATE.

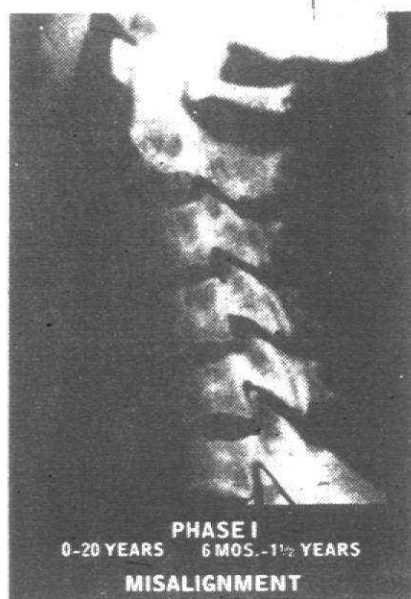

Almost everyone has had at one point in their lives some strain, pull, fall or injury that involves their spine.

These traumas cause your vertebrae to be altered from their normal position. This can happen without spinal pain. From that initial injury, your spine begins to degenerate as time passes.

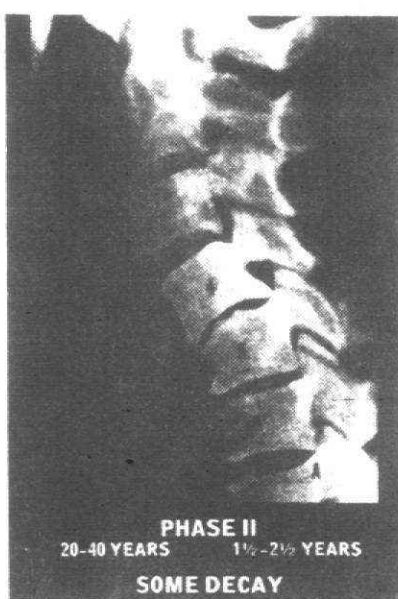

The spine goes through four phases of degeneration. These phases can be determined with x-ray and are pictured below.

NEAR NORMAL
NO SUBLUXATION
SMOOTH AND REGULAR

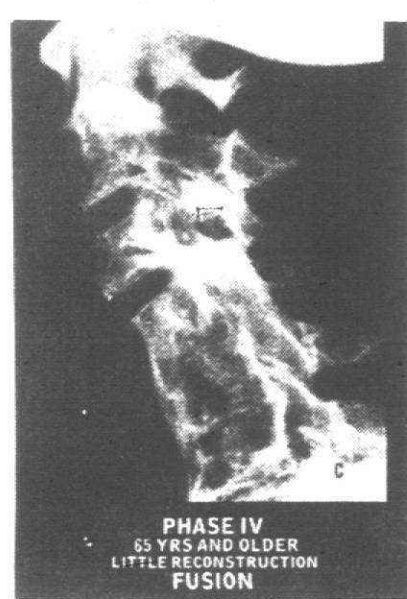

PHASE I
0-20 YEARS 6 MOS.-1½ YEARS
MISALIGNMENT

PHASE II
20-40 YEARS 1½-2½ YEARS
SOME DECAY

PHASE III
40-65 YEARS 2½-3½ YEARS
MUCH DECAY

PHASE IV
65 YRS AND OLDER
LITTLE RECONSTRUCTION
FUSION

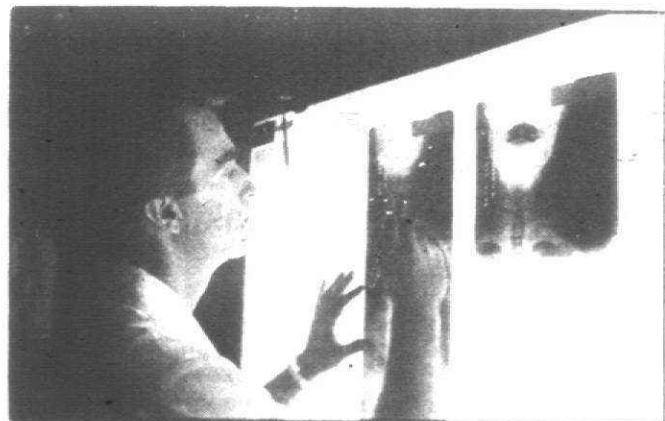

UNDER EACH PICTURE ARE THE LENGTH OF DEGENERATION & THE TIME REQUIRED FOR CORRECTION (EXAMPLE: PHASE II, 20-40 YEARS OF DEGENERATION, 1½ to 2½ YEARS TO CORRECT)

The only means of stopping the degeneration is to move the vertebrae back to their original position. This is done with chiropractic spinal adjustments.

If the degeneration progresses to the latter phases, it may not be correctable. A simple x-ray can detect degeneration and chiropractic adjustments can halt and many times reverse the process.

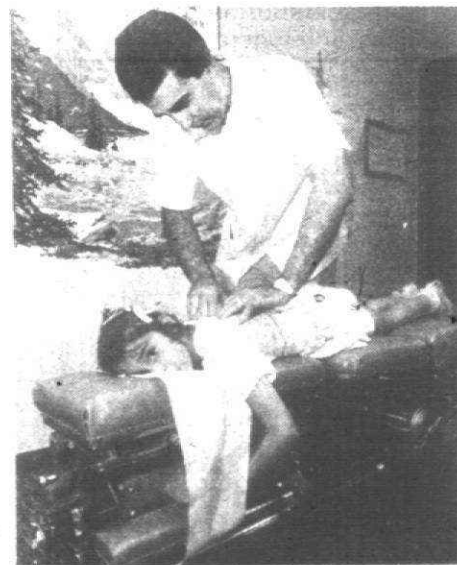

The adjustment technique Dr. Mashike uses is low force resulting in safe recovery without pain. Don't neglect your spine, it's your lifeline.

Next week we will discuss the effects of degeneration on the nervous system.

For Collegians:

A Breakfast Survival Guide

Is this the year—the breakaway semester when your son or daughter off at college has decided to live off campus? And you're just a little nervous at the prospect? It's not just the total independence of it. There is also that nagging question, what are they going to eat? He can't cook. She'll skip breakfast. He'll never eat and make his 8 o'clock classes.

Not to panic, there's help right here. If they can just get over the breakfast hurdle, get the day off to a healthier start, they'll be well on their way. Most nutritionists agree that a nourishing breakfast is important for young college students with active schedules. Here, a clip-and-save plan you can send to your collegian to help get him or her off on the right foot.

It's a three-way plan: 1) Give them suggestions for quick on-the-go breakfasts that use the kinds of things they like to eat—fruit, yogurt, cereal. 2) Help them out by preparing breakfast makings and sending them off in a "Breakfast Survival Package." One idea—a practical muffin mix you send with baking instructions and perhaps a new muffin pan as incentive. The other—easy Granola Bars, as welcome as the more traditional brownies. 3) Suggest an idea for a weekend build-it-yourself breakfast pizza that's not just good for them, but fun as well.

Flakes Muffins

This recipe comes in two parts: the mix part, which Mom (or Dad) makes at home, then sends on with the appropriate instructions, so the student can whip up a batch of muffins in a jiffy.

Flakes Muffin Mix

- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3 teaspoons salt
- 1-1/3 cups vegetable shortening
- 5 cups Fruit & Fibre cereal, any flavor*

*Or use raisin bran or Grape-Nuts flakes.

Mix flour with sugar, baking powder and salt in large bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or 2 knives. Stir in cereal. Store in covered jar in refrigerator for as long as 4 weeks. Makes 10 cups, enough for 4 batches of 10 to 12 muffins each.

What you do: Put mix in plastic container and seal tightly. Pack well and send off, accompanied by this recipe. (Note: When made with vegetable shortening, there is no problem about sending mix unrefrigerated.)

Flakes Muffins

To make 10 to 12 muffins:

- Place 2-1/2 cups Flakes Muffin Mix in a bowl.
- Combine 1 cup milk and 1 well-beaten egg; add to muffin mix. Mix only enough to dampen flour.
- Spoon into greased muffin pans, filling each about two-thirds full.
- Bake at 400° for about 25 minutes or until lightly browned.

Crunchy Granola Bars

- 3 cups Grape-Nuts Flakes
- 1 cup Grape-Nuts cereal*
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/2 cup raisins*
- 1/2 cup Angel Flake coconut
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
- 1/3 cup honey
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

*Or use raisin Grape-Nuts brand cereal and eliminate raisins.

Combine cereals and milk in bowl and let stand 5 minutes. Stir in raisins, coconut and cinnamon. Add butter, honey, eggs and vanilla; mix well. Press into ungreased 9-inch square pan. Bake at 350° for 30 to 35 minutes or until golden brown. Cool and cut into bars or squares. Makes about 12 bars.

For college breakfasts, a cereal pizza and easy muffins from a make-ahead mix.

CLIP AND SEND THIS BREAKFAST SURVIVAL GUIDE

Weekday Breakfast

When you're off to class and in a big hurry, here are quick and good-for-you ideas to go with your juice and milk and get you and your roommates off to a good start:

- Cereal Parfait: Just layer cereal with yogurt or cottage cheese and fruit.
- Fruity Pour-Ons: Whirl milk and fruit (berries, banana, peaches, pears) in a blender and pour over cereal in bowl.
- Sprinkle-Ons: For breakfast on the run, sprinkle crunchy nutlike cereal nuggets over fruit, cottage cheese or yogurt.
- Make-Ahead Muffins: (This needs a little help from Mom; all you add are egg and milk.) Make muffins the night before, then reheat the next morning. Spread with peanut butter.
- Grab-a-Granola-Bar: An easy make-ahead (by you or Mom) that's quick and satisfying with milk, fruit and a wedge of cheese.

Shopping Tactics

Breakfast is no problem if your breakfast pantry is up to par and your refrigerator's in good shape.

Check for these:

- Cereals, a variety to satisfy all tastes
- Protein-providing extras—whole, lowfat or skim milk; yogurt, cottage cheese, eggs
- Fresh fruit and fruit juice
- Bread for toast
- Pancake mix
- Toppings, such as pancake and waffle syrup, preserves
- Dried fruits, coconut
- Coffee, tea

On Weekends

When there's time for more leisurely breakfasts, and friends are likely to drop in, here's a super idea for a pizza pancake that bakes in the oven. Have ready an assortment of toppings so each can go creative with that slice of breakfast pizza.

Weekend Breakfast Pizza

- 1 egg, slightly beaten
  - 3/4 cup milk
  - 1/4 cup oil
  - 1 cup regular pancake and waffle mix
  - 1 cup Grape-Nuts flakes*
  - 2 tablespoons cinnamon-sugar**
- Toppings

*Or use raisin bran or Fruit & Fibre whole wheat and bran cereal, any flavor.

**Or use 2 tablespoons sugar mixed with 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon.

Combine egg, milk, oil and pancake mix in bowl; mix until well blended. Pour into greased 12-inch pizza pan or 13x9-inch pan. Sprinkle cereal and cinnamon-sugar evenly over batter. Bake at 425° for 10 to 12 minutes, or until top springs back when lightly pressed. Cut into wedges and serve at once with toppings. Makes 4 servings.

Toppings ideas: Pancake and waffle syrup, plain or fruited yogurt, fresh fruit, dried fruit, coconut, nuts, preserves.

Stuffed baked potatoes are easy to prepare

Meat and potatoes are the mainstay of good American cooking.

That's just one of the reasons the recent trend in eating potatoes stuffed with just about any food, including meat, has become so popular.

Many fast-food restaurants serve them stuffed with steamed broccoli and cheese or a Mexican-flavored tomato sauce. Some restaurants even offer a "Stuffed Potato Bar" where you can choose from the traditional sour cream, butter, chives and bacon bits or sliced tomatoes, green pepper, or grated cheese toppings. Just about any combination goes!

Not only do stuffed potatoes make a fun and unique meal, they're good for you. When making a meal out of a stuffed potato, it's probably best to select a large potato, which is a little over half a pound and contains about 190 calories. At the same time, it's an important source of fiber, complex carbohydrates, vitamin C and several of the B vitamins.

When a nutritious food is topped with other equally nutritious food, such as beef and a cheese sauce, it can practically become a meal by itself.

For example, one serving of Tasty Beef Stuffed Potatoes (which includes one potato, a three-ounce meat portion and a cheese sauce topping) has the following amounts of nutrients an adult needs every day: 110 percent vitamin C, 75 percent protein, 35 percent phosphorus, 35 percent niacin, 27 percent iron, 22 percent riboflavin, 19 percent calcium, and 19 percent thiamin.

Another advantage to serving a stuffed potato meal is that it is relatively easy to prepare. After scrubbing the potatoes gently, but thoroughly, prick them lightly with fork to allow steam to escape while cooking. Next, lightly oil the skins to soften them. (Omit this step if you cook the potatoes in the microwave oven.)

As the potatoes bake (about an hour in the oven or just under 15 minutes in the microwave oven) prepare the beef and cheese toppings.

For an economical dish, use fresh, boneless beef chuck top blade steaks. This steak is a tasty, but less expensive, piece of beef. You'll need to remove any excess connective tissue, and then cut the beef into thin strips which are quickly fried with green pepper and shallots.

Spoon a portion of this beef mixture on top of an opened baked potato, top with cheese sauce and serve piping hot.

TASTY BEEF-STUFFED POTATOES

Preparation time: 30 minutes

Cooking time: 30 to 60 minutes

1 lb. boneless beef chuck top blade steaks, cut 1/4 inch thick

4 large baking potatoes

Oil

1 small green pepper, coarsely chopped

2 Tbsp. butter

1/2 cup coarsely chopped shallots

Salt

Pepper

1/2 cup half and half

1 Tbsp. Dijon-style mustard

1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese

Scrub potatoes, prick each with a fork. Rub skins lightly with oil. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 to 60 minutes or until done. Meanwhile partially freeze steaks to firm. Divide each steak into 2 pieces, following natural seam and removing connective tissue between pieces. Cut each piece across the grain into thin strips. Cook green pepper and shallots in butter in large frying pan over medium-high heat 2 minutes. Add beef (1/2 at a time) and continue cooking 3 to 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper; keep warm.

Place half and half in small saucepan, stir in mustard and cheese and cook and stir over medium heat until cheese is melted. Cut potatoes lengthwise across top; gently push ends to open and break up pulp. Spoon an equal amount of beef mixture into each potato, top with an equal amount of cheese sauce. Serve immediately 4 servings.

MICROWAVE DIRECTIONS:

Preparation time: 30 minutes

You should know watts

Whenever you get ready to follow a new recipe it's important to know the wattage of your microwave oven and compare it to the wattage recommended in the recipe. They may be different. That's because there is currently no standardized power level for microwave ovens. Some subcompact microwave ovens are as low as 300 watts, compact ovens range from 450 to 550 watts, full-size ovens range from 650 to 750 watts and one oven is as high as 1,000 watts.

Many cookbooks and recipes base the cooking power instructions on the most commonly purchased full-size ovens with a full power output of approximately 650 watts. However, if your oven operates at a different wattage, cooking times should be adjusted accordingly. For example, 30 percent power on an oven operating at 750 watts is 225 watts, so cooking time, based on minutes per pound, may be slightly less. However, 30 percent power on an oven operating at 550 watts is 165 watts, so the number of minutes per pound should be increased.

TO FIND out the wattage of your oven check the microwave oven literature provided by the manufacturer or look on the oven's name plate for the wattage output. To get the exact time requirement for your oven, some "trial and error" experimentation may be required.

The following recommendations are for microwaving meat products in ovens which operate at 650 watts of cooking power:

HIGH (100 percent power, 650 watts): Ground meat, bacon, smoked and precooked sausage.

MEDIUM (50 percent power, 325 watts): "Fully-cooked" ham, Canadian-style bacon, ribs, roasts, pieces of meat in soups and stews.

MEDIUM-LOW (30 percent power, 200 watts): Roasts, chops, Corned beef, pieces of meat in soups and stews.

Cooking time: 15 minutes

Omit rubbing potato skins with oil. Bake potatoes in microwave oven at HIGH 12 to 14 minutes, rotating 1/4 turn after 6 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. Proceed with conventional directions: 4 servings.

MOMENTS OF wonder — it makes you feel good just to hear about them.

For Rita Leahy of Plymouth, Thursday evening had its moments of wonder when she saw a night-blooming cereus bloom.

Her friend, Genevieve Cossin, said her cereus was "ready" and Rita went over to watch the spectacular occurrence. She said the plant is a very thick vine, supported by a trellis. It is a house plant during the winter and is set outside each summer.

"It shoots out this gorgeous scent that fills the whole yard. The flower comes out of a leaf, like a trumpet. At first it looked like a huge ornament, a ball. It bloomed at 10:30 p.m. There were six white blooms 8 to 10 inches across — magnificent."

It took two hands to hold one flower. We put them in bowls of real cold water to preserve them," Rita said. She had one in her refrigerator the next morning and it was "holding up."

She opened the refrigerator door to check on it and said, "There's nothing like that exotic scent." Then she wondered aloud if her eggs and other food would smell like the cereus.

Rita was wondering if the bloom could be dried and the petals with their aroma preserved for a sachet. I suggested she call Betty Porter, my favorite authority on drying flowers. I don't know the outcome. But some day, I hope to see the night-blooming cereus bloom.

CAROL RODDY'S moment of wonder came when her husband, Tim, told her to get her passport and purchase tickets for a trip to Europe. That was in June.

"On Aug. 11, my dream came true. I was in London and on my way to Gothenberg, Sweden," Carol said.

"Dreams do come true — even if it takes 20 years. Recently God allowed me to complete a dream which began in 1965. At the age of 18, while living in New York, I met several young people who had traveled to Europe. I began to dream that I could go there one day."

Carol's dream was interrupted by marriage, an eight-year teaching career, two children and a transfer from Pennsylvania to Michigan. She said the old dream began to come alive in February, when her husband started to work on a project for a company in Sweden.

Carol says she has many people to thank for making the trip possible — neighbors, friends, her husband's company, her pastor. "Finally, to Sandy and Chris Stark of Plymouth, who met us in Sweden and made many of our fabulous arrangements. Thank you for sharing my dream. It was super."

NANCY Halmhuber, a Plymouth resident, has been promoted to interim assistant dean in the Graduate School by Eastern Michigan University's Board of Regents. She was administrative associate in the department of special education at EMU.

A member of the Michigan Association of School Psychologists, she was a school psychologist in the Plymouth School System and a teacher of emotionally impaired children before joining EMU as an administrative associate in 1979.

She earned her bachelor of science degree from Central Michigan University in 1972 and her specialist in arts degree in psychology from EMU in 1975.

MARY ELLEN Kenyon was top scorer at the Thursday afternoon party bridge games in the Plymouth Cultural Center for two weeks running. She had 7,050 points Aug. 29 with Pat Leuchtmann, 5,980, second.

Last Thursday Mary Ellen's score was 5,790. Boyd Shaffer was second with 5,380 points.

Judges made their choices in three categories: impact, artistic quality and authenticity. Lina's Imports, John Smith Clothing Company and Armbruster's Bootery had the top windows.

Fall Festival windows depict special memories

Judges awarded three first prizes for decorated shop windows during the 1985 Plymouth Fall Festival. "Special Memories" was the theme and judges Pat Carne, Joanne Delaney and Nancy Messerly based their decisions on impact, artistic quality and authenticity.

Lina's Imports in Westchester Mall, Forest Avenue received its blue ribbon for impact. Memories of weddings were depicted in the display with old wedding gowns and photographs.

John Smith Men's Wear window, Main Street, decorated by Stepping Stone School, won a blue ribbon for artistic value. Cattails, autumn leaves, queen anne's lace circled a pond that was complete with a mallard duck. Fishing line, straw hat, can of worms and even a snail on a stick completed the diorama.

Armbruster's Bootery, Main Street, was decorated by the Plymouth Symphony League. The setting of preparations for an evening musicale in a turn-of-the-century parlor won the authenticity award.

Second prize went to me and Mr. Jones, Main and Ann Arbor Trail. The Statice Shop on Penniman Avenue received third prize and honorable mentions went to Little Shop on the Park Antiques, Ann Arbor Trail; Hands on Leather, Forest Avenue; and Beautiful People, Westchester Mall, Forest Avenue.

Stated purpose of the club was to promote fellowship and community awareness. At their first service project, they did volunteer work with the Red Cross on swine flu inoculations.

Charter board members were Mary Koltys, president; Patsy Rollins, vice president; Helen Belser, treasurer; Joan Leary, recording secretary; Charlene Lundy, corresponding secretary; Marge LeBlond, interest groups; Lynn Lyon, membership; and Joann Donovan, social.

THROUGH the years, the Plymouth Ex-Newcomers provided interest groups and couples social events to its members.

In case any officer whose signature shall appear on the Bond shall cease to be such officer before the issuance or delivery of the Bond, such signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if he had remained in office until that time.

The Bond shall be payable solely from Net Revenues, and anything in this Bond Resolution, the Bond or the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, this Bond Resolution, the Bond and the Indenture shall not constitute a debt or a pledge of the full faith and credit of the Issuer. The Bond shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that the Bond is not a general obligation of the Issuer but is payable solely from the aforesaid source.

SECTION 6. Sale of the Bond. Sale of the Bond to the Bondholder at par is hereby approved, and it is hereby determined that the price and interest rate for the Bond and the manner of sale thereof, as provided in this Bond Resolution and in the Purchase Contract, are in the best interest of the Issuer and consistent with all legal requirements. The Township Supervisor and Township clerk are hereby authorized and directed to take all steps necessary to effect the due issuance, delivery and security of and for the Bond under the terms of this Bond Resolution, the Purchase Contract and the Indenture.

SECTION 7. Establishment and Use of Construction Fund. The Construction Fund shall be an account established with the Depository. The Construction Fund shall receive all proceeds from the sale of the Bond and shall receive insurance and condemnation proceeds as provided in the Lease Purchase Agreement. Moneys in the Construction Fund shall be expended and disbursed in accordance with the provisions of the Lease Purchase Agreement. The Depository shall keep and maintain adequate records pertaining to the Construction Fund and all receipts and disbursements pertaining thereto, and shall furnish periodic statements with respect thereto, to the Issuer and the Lessees. The records of the Depository with respect to all income and disbursements relating to the Construction Fund shall be made available by the Depository at its office during normal business hours to the Lessees and the Issuer.

SECTION 8. Establishment and Use of Bond Fund. The Bond Fund shall be an account established with the Depository. There shall be deposited in the Bond Fund all payments of rent under the Lease Purchase Agreement, and all other moneys received by the Depository which under the Lease Purchase Agreement are to be deposited in the Bond Fund.

Moneys in the Bond Fund shall be used for the payment of the interest on the Bond and for the payment of principal of the Bond upon maturity, or mandatory or optional prepayment, provided, however, that any amounts transferred from the Construction Fund to the Bond Fund following the Completion Date of the Project as defined and provided in the Lease Purchase Agreement may only be used to pay principal on the Bond. The Issuer hereby authorizes and directs the Depository to withdraw sufficient funds from the Bond Fund to pay the principal of and interest on the Bond as the same become due and payable. The Lease Purchase Agreement provides that certain moneys in the Bond Fund are available for use for the prepayment of the Bond. The Depository shall use such moneys to prepay the Bond subject to the restrictions on redemption, if any.

SECTION 9. Source of Payment. The Lessees are obligated to pay Rent under the Lease Purchase Agreement in an amount sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bond. Under the terms of the Lease Purchase Agreement, the Lessees additionally have agreed to assume and pay all reasonable expenses which the Issuer is required to incur for the Project.

The Issuer covenants and agrees that so long as the Bond is outstanding, it shall fully cooperate with the Bondholder in protecting the rights and security of the Bondholder and shall diligently and promptly proceed in good faith and use its best efforts so that at all times sufficient revenues and receipts will be derived from the Project to meet and pay principal of and interest on the Bond as the same become due and payable.

(d) Inspection of Project Books. The Issuer covenants and agrees that all books and documents in its possession relating to the Project and the Net Revenues shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by such accountants or other agents as the Bondholder may from time to time designate in writing to the Issuer.

(e) Rights under Lease Purchase Agreement. Reference is hereby made to the Lease Purchase Agreement which sets forth covenants and obligations of the Lessees, and the Issuer agrees that the Bondholder in its name or in the name of the Issuer may enforce all rights of the Issuer and all obligations of the Lessees under and pursuant to the Lease Purchase Agreement, whether or not the Issuer is in default of the enforcement of such rights and obligations.

SECTION 12. Redemption. The Bond may be called for redemption as set forth in the Bond.

SECTION 13. Conflicting Resolutions. All resolutions and parts of resolutions insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this resolution be and the same hereby are rescinded.

SECTION 14. Severability. Each section of this Resolution and each subdivision of any section thereof is hereby declared to be independent and the finding or holding of any section or subdivision thereof to be invalid or void shall not be deemed or held to affect the validity of any other section or subdivision of this Resolution.

SECTION 15. Declaration of Waiver. By adoption of this Bond Resolution and the authorization of the issuance and sale of the Bond, the Issuer hereby intends to waive the defense of usury if and to the extent such defense is or may be available or applicable.

The Bond is the single duly authorized Industrial Development Revenue Bond, issued for the purpose of acquiring the Project, as defined in the Lease Purchase Agreement of even date (the "Lease Purchase Agreement") by and between the Issuer and Kathleen Dul Aznavorian, Estelle C. Dul and Alexander S. Dul (the "Lessees") for lease and subsequent sale to the Lessees in order to promote the industrial and economic development of the Issuer in order to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment, to assist and retain local industry, to meet growing competition for new industries and to strengthen and revitalize the Issuer's economy in general.

This Bond is secured by the Indenture and Mortgage dated as of July 1, 1985 (the "Indenture") duly executed and delivered by the Issuer to the Bondholder and reference is hereby made to the Indenture and to all indentures supplemental thereto for the provisions, among others, with respect to the nature and extent of the security, the rights, duties and obligations of the Issuer, the Depository and the Bondholder and the terms and conditions upon which the Bond is issued, secured, subject to mandatory redemption and acceleration of payment.

The Bondholder by the acceptance hereof, assents to all the provisions of the Indenture and Lease Purchase Agreement.

This Bond may be assigned upon ten days prior notification to the Issuer and the Lessees by the registered holder in person or by his attorney in writing with a duly executed instrument or assignment in the form set forth below, which instrument sets forth the principal amount then outstanding on this Bond, the name of the assignee and an address of the assignee where confirmation of the principal amount hereof outstanding (and any subsequent notices required hereby or by the Indenture) can be sent, and any assignee shall take this Bond subject to these conditions. Such assignment shall be noted on the registration books of the Issuer kept by the Depository and no assignment of this Bond shall be valid unless made on said books.

This Bond is subject to optional redemption on any principal and interest payment date after August 1, 1987 in its entire remaining unpaid principal amount or in part in the amount of $45,000 or any multiple thereof to be applied against principal installments in the inverse order of maturity, at par plus accrued interest to the redemption date. Notice of any such optional redemption shall be given by the Lessees on behalf of the Issuer and with a copy to the Issuer at least ten days prior to the redemption date by mailing to the registered holder of this Bond a notice fixing such redemption date, and the amount of principal which shall be redeemed on or prior to such redemption date.

This Bond is also subject to mandatory redemption following the occurrence of any of the events set forth in Section 10.2 of the Lease Purchase Agreement, in which event this Bond shall be redeemed in whole on the first interest payment date following the occurrence of such event and consequent purchase of the Project by the Lessees under the Lease Purchase Agreement at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount hereof outstanding plus accrued interest to the redemption date.

This Bond is issued pursuant to the Constitution of the State of Michigan and to the laws of said State, particularly Act 62 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1963, as amended, and a Resolution of the Township Board of the Issuer adopted on July 23, 1985 (the "Resolution"). This Bond is a limited obligation of the Issuer, is payable as to principal, premium, if any, and interest solely out of Net Revenues as defined in the Resolution and is not otherwise an obligation of the Issuer. This Bond and the interest thereon shall never represent or constitute a debt or general obligation of the Issuer within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory provision or limitation and shall never constitute nor give rise to a charge against the general credit or taxing powers of the Issuer or general funds or assets of the Issuer, nor shall this Bond or the interest thereon constitute a pledge of the full faith and credit of the Issuer. Rental payments sufficient for the prompt payment when due of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on said Bond are required by the Lease Purchase Agreement to be paid by the Lessees. The Issuer, the members of its Board, its officers, employees and agents shall not be liable, directly or indirectly, for payment of principal or interest on this Bond or for any other pecuniary liability relating thereto, except from the security as described in the Indenture.

No provision of this Bond or the Indenture and no reference herein to the Indenture shall have the effect of incorporating into the terms of the Bond any provision which would alter or impair the obligation of the Issuer to pay, but solely from Net Revenues, the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on this Bond at the times and places and in the coin or currency provided herein or affect the right of the holder of this Bond to enforce payment hereof from Net Revenues.

AND IT IS HEREBY CERTIFIED that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done by the Issuer precedent to and in the issuing of the Bond in order to make it a legal, valid and binding special obligation of the Issuer in accordance with its terms, and in the execution and delivery of the Indenture and Lease Purchase Agreement, have been done and performed and have happened in regular and due form as required by law; that the Issuer has, on its behalf, received payment in full for the Bond; and that the Bond does not exceed or violate any constitutional or statutory limitation.

Rocks fumble home opener

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

It wasn't as if Plymouth Salem didn't have its chances to beat a big, rugged Trenton football team Friday night.

Sure, on paper it looks like Trenton's 21-7 victory was a one-sided romp. In the first half, Trenton ripped through Salem's defense as if it was paper. The Trojans amassed 171 yards on the half, 100 of it gained by 6-3, 210-pound full-back John Milligan.

The game totals read 310 yards for Trenton, 156 for Salem.

But:

"We're in the ballgame all the way if we don't fumble it away."

Salem coach Tom Moshimer's assessment was accurate.

AFTER TRENTON scored on its first possession — a methodical drive covering 73 yards in 15 running plays capped off by Milligan's 2-yard run — Salem marched from their 36 to Trenton's 26.

On a third-down-and-one play, Salem quarterback John Storm fumbled the snap and Trenton's Steve Voss fell on it.

Trenton promptly marched 73 yards again, this time in only five plays. Milligan carried it home from 41 yards out. Bill Cheplik converted the extra point and Trenton led 13-0 (the first extra point attempt was fumbled away by Trenton).

Salem's offense again began a nice march down field. With Storm guiding the wishbone offense and Ron Adams, Joe Jouppl, Jerry Sumner and Paul Makara carrying the ball, the Rocks marched down to the Trenton 20. But an offside penalty on a third and five play stalled that drive.

"FOURTH DOWN play and we blow a blocking assignment and we fumble the ball away — you just can't do those kinds of things and expect to beat a team like Trenton," Moshimer said.

The backbreaker for the Rocks came only minutes after their lone score.

Storm connected with Makara on a 40-yard pass play to set Salem up at the Trenton 10. Makara was bumped as the ball reached his hands but he managed to hang on.

Three plays later, on a fourth and goal from inside the 1, Storm again fumbled the snap from center. This time, an alert Adams fell on the ball in the end zone.

Brian Storm kicked the extra point and Salem was back in business, 13-7.

But, with just 2:46 left in the half Trenton marched 69 yards in 10 plays, capped by a pretty 9-yard pass from Bill Giffin to Chris Davis.

Russ Behm ran in the two-point conversion and Trenton took a 21-7 lead into halftime.

"THAT LATE touchdown really hurt us," Moshimer said. "We really shut them down in the second half. We knew what we wanted to do against them. They didn't do anything different. We just made too many mistakes."

Salem's defense limited Trenton to just 98 yards in the second half. But the offense, despite gaining 116 yards on the ground, couldn't score.

The Rocks had two scoring threats in the fourth quarter. The first was set up by Makara's 51-yard punt return which put Salem on Trenton's 43 just minutes into the final quarter.

But the Rock offense, plagued by a holding penalty and a sack, moved backwards.

The Rocks got the ball back with 7:09 left to play. They marched from their own 48 to Trenton's 16. Again, a fumble stopped the drive.

"I'm disappointed at the mistakes but I'm not at all disappointed in the intensity and desire to play our kids showed tonight," Moshimer said. "We keep playing like that, and if we stay healthy, then people are going to have to take us seriously this season."

Raiders 'D' KOs Canton

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

The way the North Farmington defense manhandled Plymouth Canton Saturday, you'd have thought it had studied the Chiefs' play book.

North Farmington, en route to a 23-0 win in their home opener, checked the Chiefs on negative 29 yards rushing and held them to 19 yards total offense — two first downs were all Canton could muster.

"We knew their slants offensively," said North defensive coordinator Mark Babcock. "They were bigger than us up front, so we didn't want to attack them straight on. We knew where the holes were in the line."

Indeed, Time and again North defenders bolted through the Canton line untouched. Canton quarterback Tony Aiken was knocked out of the game in the second quarter. He was sacked four times and pulled a leg muscle on the last one. He is expected to return next week.

"I WAS very disappointed in our offense today," said Canton coach Richard Barr. "We just weren't blocking. We have to get back to the basics. We have a lot of work to do offensively."

The game started poorly and got worse for the Chiefs. Aiken, on the first offensive play from scrimmage, fumbled the snap and North's Jay Sturtz fell on it at the Canton 20.

That led to a 22-yard field goal by Mike Rudin.

North added to its 3-0 lead in the second quarter when 215-pound full-back Steve Goss burst through the line and rambled 33 yards for the score.

Goss, who sat out half the game with a shoulder bruise, gained 54 yards in seven carries.

His backfield partner, speedy Marc

Brown, made the spectacular play of the day. His 19-yard TD run late in the second half brought the large North crowd to their feet. He dived, dodged his way through the Canton line then hurdled a linebacker before sprinting into the end zone.

Brown finished the day with 70 yards rushing.

THE NORTH defense closed out the scoring in the second half when Rudin picked off a Tony Boucher pass and ran it in from 18 yards out.

The game wasn't totally satisfying to North head coach Jim O'Leary.

"The defense did a great job and that was our big question mark coming into the season," the third-year coach said. "But offensively we made too many crucial mistakes. We moved the ball well enough but we'd break down. It cost us some points."

Part of the problem was Canton's defense which played a strong game.

"I thought our defense played a good game considering the poor field position we had all day and the mistakes that were made," Barr said.

Leading the defensive effort for Canton was junior Jeff Krolecki (five unassisted tackles and one fumble recovery) and Dan Olszewski.

THE DEFENSIVE stars for North? Everyone. Rudin was exceptional. He picked off two passes and covered the secondary like a blanket. Corky D'Ascenzo also picked off a pass for North. Derek Cribley and Brian Haack put constant pressure on the Canton line.

"Coach Babcock did a nice job preparing the defense for this game," O'Leary said. "You know, people always say Bob Sutter (Farmington Harrison assistant) is a great coach, and he is. But I think Mark does a great job, too."

The bizarre play of the day, and a tell-tale play for Canton, occurred in the final quarter. Olszewski blocked a North punt, but the ball deflected to Raider back Scott Selzer who advanced it for a first down.

The lone offensive highlight for Canton was a 37-yard pass from Boucher to Dan Haaraala. But, two incompletions a sack later, Canton was out of striking range.

It was that type of day for the Chiefs.

The chase was on Saturday: North was doing the chasing and, for the most part, Canton quarterback Tony Aiken was doing the running.

Ocelots earn MSU respect

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

It was hot. It was humid. And it was even.

The last fact impressed Schoolcraft College men's soccer coach Van Dimitriou the most. Few figured the Ocelots could stymie talented Michigan State University, but they did Friday night, battling the Spartans to a 1-1 tie at Livonia Stevenson.

And, although neither team had an advantage on the scoreboard, if there was a winner Friday it was Schoolcraft. A moral victory, then?

"Absolutely," agreed Dimitriou. "We played a very strong game."

INDEED THE OCELOTS did. The first half ended scoreless, with both teams showing the effects of the 80-plus temperature and humidity. But halftime is a chance to rejuvenate, and Schoolcraft did just that.

The Ocelots took control in the early moments of the second half behind the play of forward John Gelmsi and midfielder Rick Hamers. Still, two solid scoring opportunities slipped away, the first when a perfect centering pass from Hamers in the right corner was headed over the net by Joe Mase, the second when Hamers got off a clean shot that went right to MSU goalie Paul Zimmerman.

Persistence finally paid off for Schoolcraft — with a little help from Gelmsi. The former prep all-stater from Stevenson dribbled the ball through an MSU defender into the right corner, then fired a centering pass. A point-blank shot was deflected straight to Joe Novak, another Stevenson grad, who buried it to give the Ocelots a 1-0 lead with 29 minutes to play.

AS UPLIFTING as the goal might have been for Schoolcraft, it seemingly had a greater effect on MSU. The Spartans pressured relentlessly, and only a pair of diving stops by Ocelot goalkeeper Sam Matovski, from Livonia Churchill, kept them from scoring.

soccer

At least for awhile. Matovski's heroics weren't enough to halt Sherin Elwy's drive from 10 yards away, directly in front of the net, off a corner kick. The goal came with 24 minutes to go, and was one of Schoolcraft's few defensive lapses.

"That was the first time we've ever seen corner kicks like that," Dimitriou said. "They were hitting them low and hard, and then swarming to the ball."

Throughout the contest both teams failed to finish solid scoring chances. Gelmsi lofted one shot over an open net in the first half, then saw a bloop shot barely deflected away by Zimmerman in the second.

"We had some opportunities," admitted Dimitriou. "I think the kids felt the pressure early on."

BUT WHILE the offenses struggled, both defenses were sharp. Ocelot stopper Scott Steiner, from Plymouth Salem, "was our savior back there," said Dimitriou. "He plays that position like it's supposed to be played."

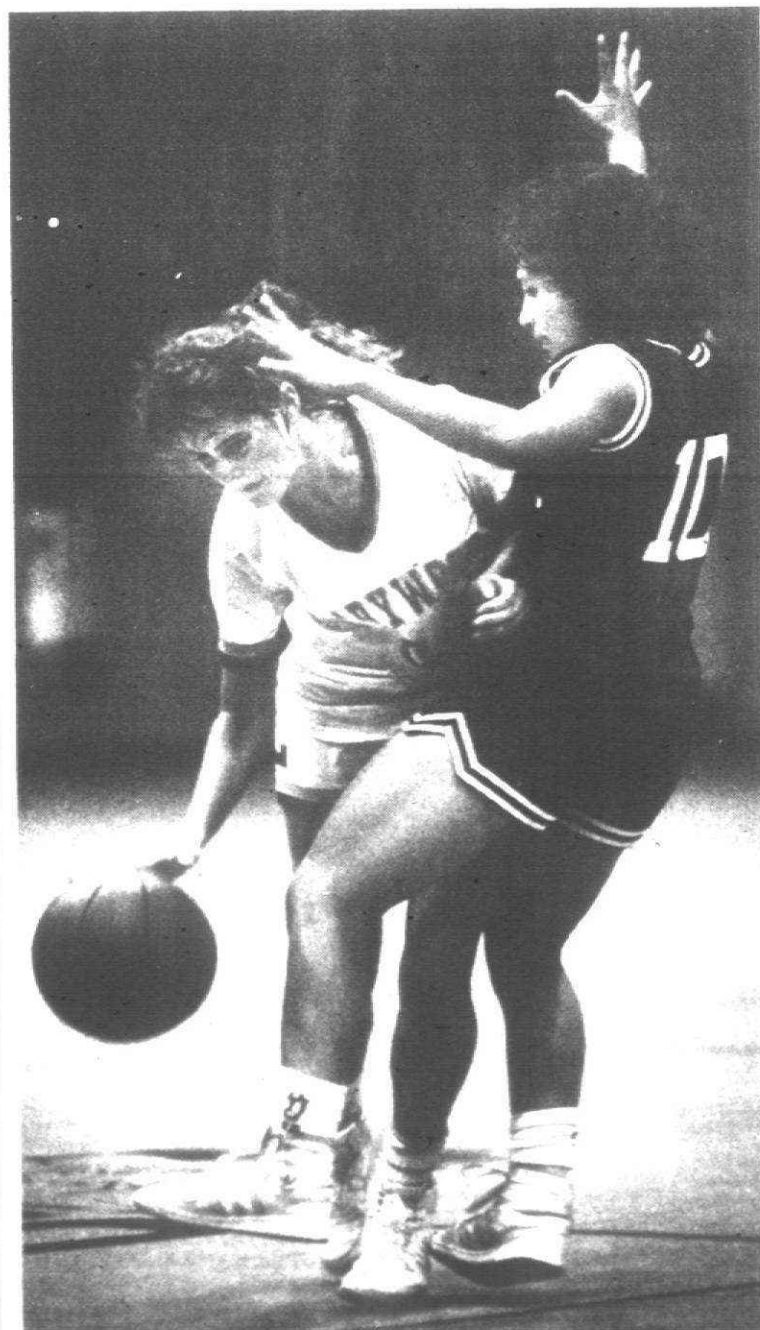

Schoolcraft also got solid defensive play from Abe and Anwar Yaffai, both Livonia Bentley grads, and Todd Ericson, from Stevenson. MSU's defense was anchored by Troy Athens grad Steve Smith.

As nice as a win would have been, Dimitriou was more than satisfied with the tie.

"We're getting there," he said, evaluating his team's progress. "I think we'll be ready for our league opener."

But that's Saturday at perennial powerhouse Macomb CC. Isn't that a pretty tough way for the Ocelots to start the defense of the Region 12 title?

"I wouldn't have it any other way," said Dimitriou, "than coming off a game like this."

Blazers' charge cools off Salem

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

For all its fancy defenses, its intricate offenses, its alley-oops and shake-and-bakes, basketball is a simple game: The team that puts the ball into the basket the most times wins.

Livonia Ladywood put the ball into the hoop much more consistently than Plymouth Salem Thursday night, and as a result carted away a convincing 61-41 victory in first round play of the Great Lakes Tip-Off Girls Basketball Tournament at U-M Dearborn.

In the other first round game, Dearborn Divine Child held off Detroit St. Martin DePorres 51-50. DC and Ladywood will play for the championship Saturday at 8 p.m. Salem and DePorres will precede that game at 6 p.m.

(Championship and consolation results will appear in Thursday's Observer sports sections).

WITH FOUR minutes remaining in the third quarter, Salem trailed Ladywood by only a basket, 37-35. But in the next nine minutes, the Rocks would miss 14 consecutive shots without grabbing an offensive rebound.

Ladywood, as a result, ran off a 16-1 spurt to put the game out of reach.

"I thought our press forced them to do what we wanted, that is to shoot quick," said Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh. "We felt that Salem was a set-up type team. If we pressed, we felt they would take wild shots."

The game got away from Salem in a matter of minutes. With the Blazers ahead 41-36 as the final seconds ticked off in the third quarter, Ladywood's Mary Joy Konczal followed up a pair of missed shots with bucket at the buzzer (43-36).

Then Cathy Schram, who played a solid game for the Blazers, opened the final period with a three-point play that sent the Rocks reeling.

"Salem made a nice run at us in the third quarter," Kavanaugh said. "But our kids held them off. I was very concerned at that point. Hey, Salem is a fine basketball team. We had to play pretty good to beat a team like that."

SENIOR CENTER Sue Laliberte led all scorers with 20 points (10 of 12 from the free throw line). Guard Jenny Nadeau scored 13 and Schram 12.

Salem coach Fred Thomann, though not pleased with the final score, was not totally displeased with his team's effort.

"We found out how to play this game tonight," Thomann said. "We're a young team with only one starter back from last year. They've never faced that type of pressure for 32 minutes. Ladywood is a very, very good team and so are we."

Of the frigid shooting, Thomann said, "We have been accused in the past of not shooting the ball enough. Tonight, we wanted to come out and shoot. We took a lot of first opportunity shots and that's OK. We want to find out if we can score."

The Rocks, who wound up hitting 17 of 63 shots (2 of 21 in the final quarter), got 10 points and 15 rebounds from sophomore Dena Head and another 10 points from Leslie Plichta.

CANTON 54, SOUTHEASTERN 23: Rob Neu's coaching debut at Plymouth Canton couldn't have been more pleasant.

"This was a good win because the girls stepped out and played hard, they executed, and we did what we had to do to win," the personable coach said.

The Chiefs stormed out to a 21-2 lead after one quarter against the undermanned visitors from Detroit Thursday. The score was 35-6 at the half.

Beth Frigge scored 15 points and made eight steals to trigger the win. Diana Knickerbocker scored 10 points and dished out five assists. Laura Darby contributed eight points and 10 rebounds.
